Reg Woodyatt and George Large rang their 200th peal together in their own tower of Claines, Worcs, when a peal of Stedman Triples was rung there on August 11th. It was also the latter's 50th peal on the bells. In contrast, Harvey Homans, another local ringer, rang his first peal by ringing the tenor.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Rector of Kington Magna, Dorset, is asking his parishioners to lend him mouse traps owing to an infestation of mice. 'People willing to loan traps need not bother about cheese,' he adds. 'I shall be prepared to use my ration.' We wish our veteran member of the Central Council good hunting!

Enterprise was shown by the band in a peal attempts of Superlative at All Saints', Maidstone, in honour of the wedding of Mr. Walter H. Dobbie and Miss Sheila M. Hole. After 45 minutes the attempt 'went west.' Another attempt at All Saints' was out of the question owing to a service. The band decided to take a chance and go to Leeds. There was nobody in at the Rectory but the Rector's wife was found in the churchyard and she readily gave consent. The peal was successful.

KENT RINGERS' TOUR IN SOUTH SOMERSET

AN ENJOYABLE WEEK AMONGST FINE TOWERS AND FINE BELLS

TO most ringers, the county of Somerset conjures up in one's mind four things—magnificent towers, fine bells, strong cider and an efficient general secretary. From a ringing point of view it can be divided into two parts—North and South. The North has the monopoly of heavy 'eights,' but the South has a goodly number of heavy 'sixes.' After our Devonshire tour last year, it was originally decided to visit North Somerset, but as the Universities Association had 'beaten us to it,' we compromised with South Somerset, with headquarters at Yeovil from July 28th to August 5th.

Our party, which numbered 28 including non-ringers, was gathered together by Tom Sone, and all other ringing arrangements and towers were planned by Pat Cannon, with preliminary advice from Messrs. J. T. Dyke, general secretary of the Bath and Wells Association, and T. J. Setter, captain of Yeovil band. Twelve ringers came from Kent, two from Lincs, two from Northants, one from Berks and one from Surrey. A 31-seater coach was hired for the week, with proprietor Ernest Lush again in command, and left Paddock Wood, Kent, at 8 a.m., Saturday, July 28th, picking up en route.

TRAFFIC DIFFICULTIES

The organiser, who had just finished a week in Cornwall, was due to meet the party for lunch at Andover, Hants, at 12 mid-day. But as Andover was experiencing a really bad traffic hold up, it taking over an hour to pass through the narrow streets, he was not unduly surprised when they turned up at 1.30 p.m.! So it was 'bells before lunch,' and Messrs. J. A. Hill and N. V. Andrews were waiting to greet our party for ringing at the first tower (eight, 17 cwt.).

Many visitors to Andover have felt scared at the unusual entry to the belfry but no one commented this time, and there are plenty much worse in other places.

Owing to the traffic jam we were one hour late everywhere for the rest of the day and when we arrived at Shaftesbury St. James', we learnt that someone had waited nearly an hour, and then gone home, so we carried on to Henstridge, Somerset (six, 19½ cwt.), where we were joined by 'Joe' Dyke. The bells are a fine ring, though somewhat noisy in the ringing chamber. Our last call for Saturday was Milborne Port (eight, 28½ cwt.). These are a really grand old eight but the third required so much pulling to keep it up that eventually the rope broke, so we finished up with 120 Grandsire Doubles on the back five! Yeovil was reached at 8.45 p.m. and we soon settled into our 'digs' and enjoyed a well-earned sleep.

On Sunday morning Messrs. T. J. Setter and T. Marks were waiting to welcome us to St. John's, Yeovil (ten, 40½ cwt.), and we enjoyed Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Plain Bob and Treble Ten on the fine ring. After ringing, everyone attended service. The programme for the afternoon was a visit to two 'sixes' and two 'fives.' The first tower was Montacute (six, 24 cwt.), and Mr. V. Farthing and the Vicar met us. These bells are considered locally as something of a problem ring as the sway of the tower tends to upset good striking. However, a good course of Cambridge brought forth praise from Mr. Farthing and the writer has ambitions for 'first peal on the bells' sometime, though it will be hard work. Tintinhull (five, 13 cwt.) go well and 'Tom' Setter joined us for a new tower. We returned to Montacute for tea at the famous Elizabethan mansion and enjoyed a stroll through the beautiful grounds.

For Evensong, we were privileged to ring at Stoke-sub-Hamdon (six, 18 cwt.). The Vicar, the Rev. D. Ballard, Mrs. E. S. Powell, Mr. Jack Drew and the local band were waiting to welcome us. All of them joined in with us for Cambridge, Kent, Plain Bob and Grandsire on a splendid ring with a very nicely-kept ringing chamber. Once again we all stayed to service. Our last tower was Odcombe (five, 13 cwt.). The Vicar and five of the local band met us. The bells hang in a central tower, with a short draught, and require striking.

PEAL RINGING COMMENCES

On Monday we started our peal operations. The first attempt was to be at Winsham (eight, 14 cwt.), and we were met by Mr. Pym, local captain, and 'Joe' Dyke, who was anxious to score a peal in a new Somerset tower. The bells were cast in 1894 from a heavy ring of five by Mears and Stainbank, and the ropes hang in the centre of the church. As the choir sing among the bell ropes, the local band have to carry four heavy seats into the chancel every time they ring, which is twice every Sunday, at least.

Three peals were rung for the opening ceremony in December, 1894, Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich, and as far as the writer knows, none have been rung since though there have been many attempts recently. A start was made for Double Norwich Court Bob but after 2 hours and 30 minutes' good ringing, a shift course necessitated 'Stand' being called. This was a big disappointment to all concerned, as most of the bells required much pulling and perspiration flowed profusely! The ringers were F. Macey 1, C. A. Bassett 2, E. G. Orland 3, M. S. Cloke 4, R. W. Rex 5, G. Kenward 6, J. T. Dyke 7, A.P. Cannon (conductor) 8. The conductor is looking forward to finishing off that one in the cooler weather!

Those not ringing went over to Thorncombe (five, 20 cwt.), where the Vicar, the Rev. G. Groves, stood everyone a drink in the 'local,' and Hawkchurch (six, 11 cwt.), where the bells 'go' well, though noisy.

After a good lunch at Gills Cafe, Chard, we walked to Chard (eight, 23 cwt.), where Mr. Ralph J. Gillard, who had been most helpful in local arrangements, was waiting to meet us. The bells are a good eight, rung from the ground floor and, until our visit, only two peals of Major had been rung on the bells, of which the writer rang the tenor to the first in June, 1937. Superlative was duly brought round in 3 hours and 16 minutes, and our two Lincolnshire friends were very pleased to score their first peal of Surprise.

Meanwhile the remainder of our party, accompanied by Ralph Gillard and Joe Dyke, visited three towers well off the beaten track. It is possible that the change-ringing on two of them, at least, was the first on the bells. At Combe St. Nicholas' (six 16 cwt.), the Vicar, the Rev. W. T. Taylor, gave us a hearty welcome and Cambridge, London, Double Court, Plain Bob and Grandsire were rung. Next came Whitestaunton (five, 12 cwt.), rung from the ground floor, and where the writer recalled lashing a bell, while learning, in 1929! And lastly, down very narrow lanes, Wambrook (five, 9 cwt.), where the fourth was thought to be loose on the stock and ringing was limited to two leads of Grandsire!

After tea with the peal band we made for Chaffcombe (five, 13 cwt.), where the writer was very pleased to meet the Rector, the Rev. P. D. Preston, brother of an old school friend of his at Chard, 1928-1930. For those who really enjoy visits to fresh towers, it is always good fun to visit five-bell towers, and the local ringers are pleased too. Perhaps sometimes the 'go' of the bells is not all that could be desired, but it is a good thing for those whose own bells are a modern ring, to find out under just what sort of conditions hundreds of local ringers have to perform Sunday by Sunday. A quick run back to Yeovil, with the addition of Kilby Holtom, who had arrived at Chaffcombe, enabled several to take part in Stedman Caters at the local practice.

THE FIRST 'DOUBLE'

Tuesday morning was booked for two peals, and tower-hunting in the afternoon. Punctually (for a change!) the coach arrived at Martock (eight, 25 cwt.) and Mr. F. Strickland, deputy for Mr. Fred Farrant, who had made all arrangements and was away on holiday, was waiting to open the belfry. The interior of the church was much admired; this, in the writer's opinion, must be one of the finest perpendicular interiors in the country. The bells are a pleasant eight, and Cambridge was brought round in 3 hours and 15 minutes, Geoffrey Waters performing well again for his second heavy tenor of the week.

While this was in progress the remainder went over to South Petherton (eight, 24 cwt.) to tackle the 'first peal of Major on the bells.' The local captain, Mr. W. Harwood, and the Vicar met us and wished us good luck. The bells hang in an octagonal central tower and the tenor, cast by Bilbie, 1721, is a particularly fine bell. A really excellent peal of Plain Bob was scored with not undue effort and Mr. Jack Drew congratulated us on our striking. Incidentally, the belfry is large, well lit and has a good circle of ropes.

We all met together for lunch at the Railway Hotel, Martock, before starting a tour of five towers in the afternoon and evening. First on the list was Kingsbury Episcopi's (six, 19 cwt) fine tower and bells, and then came Huish Episcopi (six, 16 cwt.), with an even better tenor, one of the best in the county. Next on the list was Somerton (six, 20 cwt.), with another octagonal tower. We were told by the verger, Mr. Rolls, that there are two practice nights, for ladies and gents! Our visit coincided with the ladies' night and some of us thought of staying but, of course, only to see how ladies handled a ring of six with a 20 cwt. tenor!

However, we were behind schedule, and, after tea, continued to Charlton Mackrell (six, 14 cwt.), where Mr. E. C. Eades was awaiting us.

These bells, hung in a central tower, were rung to Double Oxford, Single Oxford and Double Court as well as Plain Bob, but the tenor was certainly a handful! The last ring of the day was Ilchester (five, 11½ cwt.), with another octagonal tower. The town is of Roman origin and is situated on the Fosse Way. The bells, rung in 1938 by Gillett and Johnston, go really well. Before departing, a well-known heavy bell-ringer won 1s. by drinking straight off, with no pause, two pints of cider, much to the surprise of some of the locals!

A DAY IN DORSET

To please our non-ringers, an opportunity to smell the sea air was given on Wednesday. An earlier start was made and Weymouth reached by 9.20 a.m. We soon found Wyke Regis (eight, 16½ cwt) and Mr. E. J. Ladd, of Tunbridge Wells, and Mr. Stedman, local captain, greeted us. The belfry, with a door leading out on to the roof of the church, contains a pleasant ring, rung before the last war by Mears and Stainbank. Double Norwich was duly completed, this being the 200th tenor which the writer has 'turned in' to a peal. Those not ringing enjoyed a trip to Portland Bill and a view of several battleships.

Our first tower of the afternoon was Upwey (six, 9½ cwt.). The Vicar, the Rev. A. S. Bryant, was delighted to meet Kent ringers, enquiring if anyone came from Marden. Geoffrey Waters, captain of Marden, and Tom Sone, of the next village, were duly introduced to him. This is a very pretty village, with a famous wishing well and it was regretted that longer time could not be spent there. A ten-mile run over undulating country with magnificent views brought us to the prettily-situated church of

Litton Cheney (eight, 16 cwt.) The bells are an old six, with two trebles added in 1950. Unfortunately, the old bells have not been retuned and the result is a very strange mixture of music! The entry into the belfry is on to a gallery and then down some steps. The local ringers obviously look after their ringing chamber, as there are several clusters of red roses around the walls. The Rector, the Rev. S. Daniel, very kindly telephoned to Bridport to fix tea for us, a gesture which was much appreciated, and while this was being done, a fair course of Bristol was rung, the only one of the week.

Continuing to Bridport (eight, 21½ cwt.), we rang Special Cambridge and Superlative on a really good octave and, after tea, visited Netherbury (six, 20 cwt.), a fine old six, the heaviest in the county, where two local ringers welcomed us for Cambridge and Double Oxford. The last tower to be visited was the very fine one of Beaminster (eight, 24 cwt.), and the equally fine bells were rung to Yorkshire and Double Norwich as well as Stedman and Grandsire. Mr. E. P. Bailey welcomed us and joined us in Double Norwich Court Bob. Also, listening outside, was Mr. Joe Barrett.

ANOTHER 'DOUBLE'

One of the pleasures of a ringing tour is the warm welcome one usually receives at the various churches. Mr. G. H. Pike, captain of Crewkerne (eight, 22 cwt.), was unable to meet us on Thursday, owing to business, so Mrs. Pike was there to greet us and unlock the tower. We should like to thank both of them for their excellent arrangements for lunch at the 'George,' which was much appreciated by everyone. Joe Dyke was waiting for us, and the peal of Double Norwich which followed gave him a new tower in Somerset for a peal, his 98th in the county. The bells are a handy ring and can certainly travel! J. T. D. asked the band to 'make the pace a bit brisker' They certainly did, and gave Joe a wet shirt, but a good peal was rung.

After lunch it had been the original intention to attempt a peal at Ilminster. However, owing to the bad state of the bell frame, permission was cancelled, so Mr. J. T. Locke very kindly got permission for Drayton (eight, 19 cwt.) The bells, rung from the ground floor, are a fine lot and Plain Bob was rung to enable one of our lady ringers to score her second peal. The composition by the writer and also the 5.024 rung at South Petherton by Tom Sone were both rung as compliments, and with many thanks, to the organisers.

During the day six 'extra' towers were visited. In the morning the first one was Haselbury Plucknett (six, 6 cwt.), rung from the ground floor, and the Vicar, who has a keen sense of humour, gave us a happy welcome. Next we went over to Hinton St. George (six, 14 cwt.) with another central tower and some very fine monuments to the Poulett family. While the Drayton peal was in progress, we visited Shepton Beauchamp (eight, 12½ cwt.) and Barrington (six, 15 cwt.). At the former tower Mr. Reg Beale had been waiting patiently for us and joined us in Stedman Triples. We also rang a good course of Yorkshire, but although the bells are light, they certainly require ringing, owing to tower vibration. At Barrington, the local captain, Mr. A. Bond, proved that, given regular attention, a 15 cwt. tenor can 'go' like a bell of three cwt. and this after no bell-ringer has touched it for 50 years. The writer has seldom rung a bell, in plain bearings, requiring less effort.

Joining up with the successful peal band we still had two more towers to visit. At Kingstone (six, 11 cwt.) the bells are rung from the chancel steps, and Mr. T. Hill joined us in Plain Bob and Grandsire. Unfortunately at Seavinton St. Mary (six, 7 cwt.) we rather disgraced ourselves! The front bells are somewhat light, and an experienced ringer broke a stay! How it happened, we are not sure, but the local ringer who met us seemed rather disgusted! 'Suppose you're used to heavier bells,' and 'We never break any stays, only with learners,' were two of his comments!! However, names and addresses were left with the Vicar, and any expense incurred will be duly settled!

A GRAND PEAL

We knew we were due for an enjoyable morning at Ditchat (eight, 24 cwt.). The writer had told everyone 'Taylor's best, 1921—equal to anything in the country for their weight.' And the peal of Yorkshire which resulted gave great pleasure to those taking part and also to those listening to these magnificent bells. The central tower ringing chamber allows the bells to be heard in the ideal volume for peal ringing. Mr. Albert Lintern let us in, locked us up, and let us out when we'd finished. Mr. H. C. Lintern had very kindly fixed us up for another splendid lunch at the 'Green Tree' Inn, and Joe Dyke again joined us. Those not ringing in the peal had an interesting morning at Castle Cary (eight, 15 cwt.), where they were met by Mr. E. F. Creed, and West Lydford (six, 14 cwt.), where the Vicar gave his permission at short notice.

The treat in store for the afternoon was a ring on the grand new Taylor ten at Evercreech (tenor 21 cwt.), but before this we slipped over to try the very fine six at Bruton (tenor 25 cwt.). Mrs. White, wife of the captain, opened the tower for us, and we enjoyed Cambridge and Double Oxford. Back to Evercreech to meet Harry Sanger, and we regretted that, owing to local conditions, permission could not be given this time for a peal attempt. However, we enjoyed Grandsire and Stedman Caters and an attempt for Cambridge Royal. The tower, over 120 feet high, is one of the best in Somerset.

As we were behind in our schedule, tea was given a miss, and we continued to Wincanton (eight, 15 cwt.), where Mr. J. Chilcott had been waiting some time, and joined us for Grandsire and Stedman on the new ring, fairly recently augmented, and rung from the ground floor. When we arrived at North Cheriton (five, 9 cwt.), we found a choir practice in progress and most of us joined in the singing. In fact, it was quite a job to find enough to ring! Perhaps it was because of the attractive lady organist! We also met an old gentleman who had been a ringer at this church for 67 years, which must be nearly a record. Our last tower for Friday was Charlton Horethorne (eight, 16½ cwt.), with a well-kept ringing chamber but a rather 'dead' tenor. Incidentally, this was the writer's 1,376th tower.

KENT MEN'S TRIUMPH AT SHERBORNE

Our last day was the heaviest of the week. We started for Treble Bob at East Coker (eight, 13 cwt.), but too many late nights caused the conductor to miss a bob! Those not ringing went over to West Coker (eight, 12 cwt.), a lively little ring. After lunch in Yeovil, our party divided into two, some meeting at Yeovil for Bob Royal, and others going to Sherborne Abbey (eight, 46 cwt.) for Bob Major. As all the band for Sherborne were resident (or nearly resident!) members of the Kent County Association and none were members of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, it was decided to ring the peal for the Kent County Association after getting the O.K. from Mr. W. H. Pope and Mr. W. P. Lambert, both local ringers.

It was a great personal triumph for Geoffrey Waters, who, at 22, is the youngest to ring this tenor to a peal. And with Malcolm Cloke, aged 18, on the 7th, the combination for 7-8 averaged 20 years of age, a record for this weight of metal. Everyone enjoyed the peal, and by all accounts it was well struck and no blisters at the finish either! Geoffrey has a big future ahead of him, as in his style and build he has the makings of a really fine heavy-bell man.

At Yeovil, Tom Setter achieved his ambition to 'turn in' the tenor, and was very ably assisted (Continued in next column)

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD

Rearrangements of Districts

There was an attendance of 60 members and friends at the quarterly meeting of the Coventry Diocesan Guild held at Southam on July 28th. The bells of the church were rung in rounds and various methods to suit all tastes for an hour in the afternoon until the service at 4.30, conducted by the Vicar of Ryton-on-Dunsmore, the Rev. J. West (a former curate of Chilvers Coton), in the absence of the Rector.

Tea was partaken of at the Craven Arms and the business meeting followed, the Master (Mr. F. W. Perrens) taking the chair. Following the minutes, apologies were read from the President, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hinde, J. White, J. Thompson and J. Lloyd.

The report of the committee meeting held in Coventry on June 13th was read and the recommendations put to the vote and carried, the chief items being the retention of the three districts, Nuneaton, Coventry with Rugby, and Warwick with Stratford and the rearrangement of those districts. Nuneaton district is to be allotted Exhall, Bedworth, Shilton and Brinklow in addition to those already held and Southam is to be attached to the Warwick and Stratford District, thus providing more ringers for that district and more scope for the ringers from Southam.

The secretaries for the Coventry and Nuneaton Districts agreed to continue in their positions and Mr. R. J. Edden and Miss M. Middlemiss were elected as joint secretaries of the Warwick and Stratford District.

The suggestion that each district should appoint a Ringing Master to relieve the secretary of all work connected with the actual ringing at the meetings was approved, the election to take place at the next meeting of each district.

New members elected were A. J. Barrett and S. T. Hauley, of Harbury, and the election of B. G. Warwick was ratified. Stratford was selected as the meeting place for October.

Votes of thanks were accorded to all who had helped in any way to make the meeting the success it undoubtedly was, and the business ended.

sisted by the two other back-end men, Messrs. Ron Marlow and Reg Rex. In the writer's opinion the only thing that spoils this majestic ring is the harshness of the 9th. The evening finished with press photographs, a game of skittles at the Pall Hotel and a general 'chin-wag' on the week's adventures.

THE WAY BACK

Sunday morning, August 5th, arrived all too quickly, and we had a steady ride (with 'short cuts'!) to Gillingham (eight, 25 cwt.) where Mr. Jim Ralph was waiting, with other local ringers, to welcome us. We had just rung a nice touch of Stedman, and were beginning Grandsire for a visitor from Reading, when a loud crash and a 'silent drum' showed us that the tenor clapper had snapped in half! So we confined our efforts to Cambridge and Oxford Treble Bob Minor, leaving out the treble, until service time.

Before lunch at Salisbury, Mr. Fred Macey thanked the organiser for another very enjoyable week in a lovely part of England. The organiser would like to repeat again that it was a great pleasure for him, and everyone co-operated magnificently. Next year we hope to visit Shropshire, subject, of course, to local permission and conditions. The date will be Saturday, August 9th to Saturday, August 16th.

We should like to thank all the incumbents, local ringers and others, who did so much for our comfort and really did give us a splendid welcome in every tower we visited. So if you want a good time, good bells and good company, 'go down to Zummerzet'—you'll not be disappointed.

Analysis of Handbell Peals rung during 1950

* Includes 3 peals in 12 methods, 2 peals in 17 methods, and 1 peal each in 21, 22, 26, 27, 31 and 36 methods.

S. NICOLAS', GUILDFORD

Sound control has been introduced into the tower of S. Nicolas', Guildford. This includes an octagonal hole in the roof, 14 feet across, covered with a great lantern of hardwood surfaced with copper. Thus the sound of the bells will be diffused upwards and outwards. The windows are to be bricked up completely behind the louvres.

With these improvements it is hoped that there will be a cessation of complaints which have restricted local ringing activities.

NOT UNORTHODOX

Dear Sir,—Not having joined the ranks of 'unorthodox' ringers, and to avoid any misunderstanding, may I draw your attention to the peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Croft on July 19th. ('Ringing World,' page 501.).

The calling I used was the standard 10 calls, repeated four times, with the addition of two six-scores only, and the peal report should read 5,040 instead of 5,060 as printed.—Yours faithfully, Croft, Leics.

WILLIAM A. WOOD.

HOLT'S ORIGINAL

(See Page 507)

Mr. T. E. Sone points out two misprints in his letter dealing with the calling of Holt's Original. The first is that he has called the peal five times round the circle (not eight) and at the end of the figures the last line should read

3S — —
The errors are regretted.

40 YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of August 25th, 1911

HANDBELL PEAL AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE

On the occasion of 'Ringers' Day' at the Crystal Palace, on July 15th last, organised by 'The Ringing World,' it was suggested that a peal rung in the Crystal Palace would be a novelty. . . . To get a suitable place in the Palace is rather a difficult task owing to the fact that . . . there is always a premium upon the accommodation. A room was, however, secured . . . and on August 16th, five members of the All Saints' Society, Fulham, started for the first peal . . . . When, at 9.33, 'That's all,' was called, a peal was finished which anyone could be justly proud of.

[The method was Grandsire Caters, rung by W. A. Woodrow 1-2, A. F. Shepherd 3-4, W. Shepherd (conductor) 5-6, L. Attwater 7-8, F. G. Woodiss 9-10.]

SITUATIONS WANTED AND VACANT

Preference to Bellringer.—Wanted, strong young man of 24, unmarried, as second of four in garden; must be used to stove, plant-house, propagating; Church of England and total abstainer; take turns Sunday duty, fires, etc. wages 18s. . . .

LEISURE TIME ACTIVITIES

A Popular Oldham Experiment

Recently the Oldham Education Committee held a Festival Exhibition of Leisure Time Activities. It was with some uncertainty that the writer answered the original advertisement for exhibitors, not knowing exactly what would be entailed; but after a preliminary meeting of representatives of the various societies and organisations, it was decided that the St. Mark's bell-tower, Glodwick, would make an individual effort to put before the public the 'mysteries of bell-ringing.' The next point to arise was 'What can we put on show?'

Many ideas were tried, and many ideas rejected, until the following items were finally decided upon:—Handbells, standard diagrams, Association publications, model of bell mechanism, photographs, bellropes, etc.

The exhibition was officially opened by the Mayor of Oldham, with the Director of Education acting as chairman to the committee, and from that moment 'the show was on'! Each evening of the week and Saturday afternoon and evening we were kept very busy answering questions and explaining all that we could to a never-ceasing stream of visitors to our stand.

It had not been the intention to include 'The Nine Tailors' on the stand, but so many people quoted the book, or some extract from the book, that we had to keep it handy for reference! Whilst some of the questions were ridiculous owing to ignorance of bell-ringing, the majority of interrogations were of a serious and thoughtful type, and from all ages of visitors. The explanations and demonstrations given were keenly appreciated by a very critical audience, particularly when a little change-ringing was done on the handbells a few times each evening.

At a final meeting of the representatives, the writer expressed thanks for this exhibition which allowed us such a golden opportunity to 'put over' to the public the cause of church bell-ringing. If we only managed to impress 500 out of the thousands who came through the hall, we will be satisfied.

NOTE.—The stall, according to the photographs submitted, was most attractive. In bold lettering it was headed 'Lancashire Association of Change-ringers, Rochdale Branch, St. Mark's, Glodwick.' Two bellropes decorated the sides and a semi-circle of 20 handbells looked most effective among the various exhibits.—ED.

REDEDICATION

CAPEL, SURREY

After a silence of over 22 years, the bells of St. John-the-Divine's, Capel, Surrey, rang out again on Sunday, August 5th, after being rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who had recast the second and fifth, which were cracked.

The dedication prayer was said by the Bishop of Guildford at the end of Matins and the bells were rung by members of the local band, while the procession receded to the sanctuary for the final Blessing. It is worthy of note that among those who rang was Mr. George Steadman, now 85, who rang in what was then a record performance, a peal of Treble Bob Minor consisting of fourteen 720's in different methods (10,080 changes) in 1888.

As the large congregation left the church six members of the Leatherhead band, by invitation, rang a 360 of Cambridge Minor followed by a 240 of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob. The two bands were entertained to lunch at the King's Arms by the Vicar and churchwardens.

From 3 until 6.30, with a break for tea, the bells were open to visitors and were made full use of by ringers from Wycombe, Walton, Hawley and Horsham to a variety of methods from Stedman Doubles to London Surprise Minor and, to fit the occasion, a course of Capel Treble Bob.

And so, at the end of 21 years of office, the secretary of the Leatherhead District was able to complete his ring on the towers in his district.

A. H. S.

A DAY IN NORTH DEVON

On August 8th a party of change-ringers, including Preb. E. V. Cox, the Rev. Mr. Andrews, the Rev. W. H. Smale, Messrs. Myers and other members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, met at Burrington. After ringing Grandsire and Stedman Doubles on the interesting six they proceeded to Roborough, a six by Messrs. Taylor in 1823. The Rector, the Rev. W. J. Williams, met the party.

Yarnscombe was the next stop and after all had joined in touches of Doubles we ran on to Atherington, a fine six by Pennington, dated 1786. Here many of the villagers crowded round the belfry to watch the lady ringers—Miss Gilbert, Miss Boyle and Mrs. Miles—joining in a touch of Bob Minor with Tom Myers conducting. Much interest was shown by the local ringers in this as well as in Stedman and Grandsire Doubles.

The Rev. Mr. Andrews led the way to Bishop's Nympton where we found a perfect six recently recast and rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. Messrs. Myers and 'Father' (the Rev. W. H. Smale) would have tarried here but a peremptory call for tea at the 'Red Lion' by the organiser, Mr. F. C. Smale, ended the ringing. A real old-fashioned tea with cream and home-made cakes followed.

Rose Ash was the next halt. What a delightful place with a spacious green surrounded by tall oaks! It was here that a line of Southcombes officiated as Rectors for 300 years. The bells were a 'handful' but all our touches came round. Thence we proceeded to Knowstone, the route providing a panorama—with Exmoor to the North and Dartmoor to the South.

Thence over commons and moors to the pleasantly-situated Rackenford, where the Rector (the Rev. G. K. Elliot) welcomed us. The bells are an interesting six and much interest was shown in our touches of Stedman and Grandsire and the unusual picture of a lady competently turning in her bell. Then goodbye and a satisfied party of ringers made their ways North, South, East and West homewards. We were glad to have Messrs. Searle and Burrows with us.

WEDDING OF MISS F. M. POOLE

A well-known Somerset lady ringer, Miss Freda M. Poole, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Poole, of Hardington Mandeville, near Yeovil, was married at St. Mary's Church, Hardington Mandeville, on August 4th. The bridegroom was Mr. Geoffrey H. Patrick, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Patrick, 22, Stansfield Road, Stockwell, London. The Rev. Paul Greaves officiated, and Miss Jearum was organist.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a dress and train of white cloque, headdress of orange blossom and full-length veil. Her bouquet was of pink roses and white stephanotis, and her ornament, a gold locket and chain, was given her by the bridegroom.

Chief bridesmaid was Miss Louie Poole, sister of the bride, and the other attendants were Miss Margaret Yerbury, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss June Partridge, friend of the bride. Best man was Mr. W. H. Turner.

A reception was held at The Barn, Manor Farm, attended by 100 guests. The honeymoon was spent at Newquay.

The gifts included bed linen to the bride, from the postmaster and staff, Crewkerne, where she was employed; and an electric iron from the Rector, churchwardens and bellringers of St. Mary's Church, Hardington.

Owing to the church bells not being able to be rung, the bride joined in a touch of Grandsire Triples on handbells at the reception. The ringers were H. W. Pearce 1-2, W. H. Poole 3-4, W. E. Turner 5-6, the bride 7-8. In the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at West Coker by R. Guppy 1, H. W. Pearce 2, E. Atyeo 3, W. H. Poole (conductor) 4, T. Marks 5, A. Atyeo 6, W. E. Turner 7, S. White 8.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

East Norfolk Branch

A meeting of the East Norfolk Branch was held at Norton Subcourse on July 21st when 29 members attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. K. O. Morris (Vicar of Norton) and tea was provided in the Church School Room.

The Rev. K. O. Morris presided at the business meeting. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the branch secretary (Mr. J. Harwood) Mr. P. Newstead was asked to act as secretary. The following were elected members: Mr. Peter Devenish, Miss Beth Martins (transferred from probation to ringing member), both of Blofield tower, and Mr. Geoffrey Short (Halvergate).

The next meeting will be held at Halvergate on September 29th. Discussion on the printing of the annual report took place. Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and also to Mr. G. Walpole and helpers for providing an excellent tea. Ringing was resumed after the business meeting.

NOT WITH THE ASSOCIATION'S BLESSING

Dear Sir,—With reference to the item in Belfry Gossip of August 10th announcing the failure of an attempt to ring Holt's Original silent, I would like to point out that a false impression may be created by claiming it as an attempt by the Lancashire Association. By so doing, the attempt acquires an official air of the Association's blessing. To be strictly correct, the attempt was by a mixed band of the Lancashire Association Police Guild and Chester Diocesan Guild.—Yours truly,

THOS. H. HORRIDGE.

Liverpool 21.

NOTE.—We are sorry to give this false assumption in our note, but we assumed that, had the attempt been successful, the peal would have been recorded by the Lancashire Association. We trust that 'foreigners' of the Police Guild and Chester Diocesan Guild were not responsible for losing a very gallant attempt.—ED.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

METHOD EXTENSION

Dear Sir,—All those in the Exercise who are interested in the question of 'Extension' have now had two or three months in which to consider the Methods Committee's report on the subject. There have, so far, been no comments. In order that the matter may be finally dealt with at the next meeting of the Central Council, we now ask those who have any criticisms to offer to submit them to the Committee for its consideration. But may we make an earnest plea for constructive criticism? It is no help to us unless suggestions are backed by good reasons, but those that are will be carefully and sympathetically considered.

With regard to the query about Union Triples, I regret that the Committee has not yet been able to meet to discuss the matter. As soon as it has done so, its opinion will be published.—Yours faithfully,

K. W. H. FELSTEAD (Rev.).

(On behalf of the Methods Committee.)

St. Michael's Vicarage,
Southampton.

TWO PROMISING RINGERS

Dear Sir,—On the last day of the 'Kent' tour in Somerset and Dorset, peals were rung at Yeovil and Sherborne Abbey. As one of the other six, who were privileged to stand in the latter peal, I would like to record the truly great performance of Malcolm Cloke (aged 18) and Geoffrey Waters (aged 23).

Sherborne Abbey tenor is a real man's bell but young Geoff rang it with the practised ease of any well-known heavy-bell ringer and, after 4½ hours, finished up quite fresh and with only a few minor blisters.

After about three hours we thought he was tiring but he told us afterwards that the few dotted notes were caused by the bells swinging a little lower than he wished and after failing to raise her by steady pulling, he gave her a mighty heave that sent her over the balance and it took several more blows to place her correctly. From then on he rang the bell faultlessly to the end, and the happy grin on his face during the last quarter peal told us that all was well.

Malcolm, on the seventh, did not have so much weight to pull about, but the ability of this slender youth to ring the 29-cwt. bell and conduct the peal was never once in doubt. For at the slightest hesitation of any ringer, the latter was promptly told what he was doing and who he was coursing and only once was a bell allowed to hesitate long enough to cause a clash.

Malcolm rang steadily throughout, his face never betraying his feelings until the last change came up, then he literally danced on the box as he shouted, 'And that's the lot, the whole blooming lot,' but instead of calling 'Stand,' we had to finish the job properly with a good lower in peal.

Even if an expert hand is asked to help them, the youth of the Exercise will be hard put to it to equal the performance of these two coming men of the future, for it must be remembered that this peal came at the end of an intensive 'Canonised' week of 47 towers, and each had stood in four peals.

In the morning I had picked up a peacock's feather at East Coker and was told that it was very unlucky. When the peal at that tower failed, the wags shook their heads, but we defied superstition and took the feather to Sherborne. Here we began to wonder for twice, after five minutes' ringing, we had 'Stand,' but we put that down to stage fright.

On entering up the peal, I found that it was my 13th for the Kent County, and my 13th of Bob Major.

CHAS. A. BASSETT.

CALLING OF HOLTS' ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—I split the calling into eight parts. Every double or consecutive bob I memorise as 1, viz., 53454443131, etc.

My first peal that I conducted was the Original, on September 12th, 1887, double-handed, on handbells, at the 'Goose and Grid-iron,' St. Paul's Churchyard, being umpired by John Murray Hayes and G. T. McLaughlin; time, 2 hours 44 minutes. Band: G. W. Cartmel 1-2, E. P. Debenham 3-4, Challis Winney 5-6, W. H. L. Buckingham 7-8; conducted by G. W. Cartmel.

Umpires' remarks at finish: 'There was no need of an umpire.'

I was the first to call the Original on each pair of handbells.

G. W. CARTMEL.

St. Albans.

TIPS FOR HOLTS' ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—In learning the Original it is most important that the bells Before and at the Double be also learnt. Then, at your previous call, you can see at once if your next Before and Double is right.

One well-known pitfall is the calls 5, 7, 7 and, shortly after, 7, 5, 5. If you look at the first, the lead before the 5th is the 7th and in the second the lead before the 7th is the 5th.

Another tip is when in doubt, if your next call is a full course, remember the 2nd is never in the hunt. For a full course in the peal, the 6th also is never in the hunt five leads except in the last 7, 0, 0, and then twice. When one is calling it regularly, it is surprising how many hints one can learn, but there is one thing about the Original, it does not matter how many times one has called it, it has always got to be called. In other compositions one can wander, but not in the Original. The mind is on it all the time.

A. H. PULLING.

Guildford.

HOSPITALITY IN SCOTLAND

Dear Sir,—With regard to hospitality shown to ringers who visit Scotland, my own experience is of a happier nature than that of Mrs. Wall's.

While serving in the Royal Navy during the last war, I was stationed at Greenock from 1943-45, and was thus able to make the journey several times a week to Paisley or Glasgow. My first visit to St. James', Paisley, was about September, 1943, when I heard a bell tolling in St. James' tower. I made my way to the ringing chamber, and met Mr. N. Sharpe, who explained that the local ringers needed help. After attending church that evening I was invited home to meet Mr. Sharpe's family, and have remained friends ever since.

Following much spade work, we managed to ring several quarter peals at St. James'. Whenever I visited St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, I was always given a welcome. It was my privilege to ring with many old friends at both towers while on holiday last month in Scotland.

There are several ringers who served in the Forces during the last war who had the pleasure of ringing at both St. James', Paisley, and St. Mary's, Glasgow, who could not find words to express their thanks for the hospitality extended to them by all the ringers. Mr. and Mrs. N. Sharpe's home at Paisley was an ever-open door. I feel it only right to enlighten other ringers in England that there's a very warm welcome awaiting them at St. James' or St. Mary's.—Yours sincerely,

FRANCIS J. CHEAL.

Rainham, Kent.

WEMBDON, SOMERSET.—On Aug. 2nd, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: 1. Hillburn 1, Miss Sylvia Dean 2, W. Cavill 3, N. Stevens 4, F. Skinner (cond.) 5, E. Skinner 6.

OBITUARY

MR. T. WILFRED TAFFENDER

The many friends and acquaintances of Mr. Wilfred Taffender will learn with great regret of his untimely passing in Hill End Hospital, St. Albans, on the night of August 14th. Mr. Taffender was 44 years of age and leaves a widow and small four-year-old son.

The cause of his death was a tumoured growth in the head. The best specialists in the country, including Lord Horder, have been in attendance and are satisfied that nothing could be done to remove the growth which they knew must become fatal within a short space of time.

It was as recently as July 7th that Mr. Taffender conducted his last peal—one of Stedman Triples rung as a 'Festival of Britain Peal' at St. Mary's, Lambeth. He also conducted the first quarter peal at the Festival Church after its restoration—the first rung there for 15 years.

A funeral, which was held at Streatham Vale Crematorium on August 20th, a slowly-struck course of Triples was rung by: H. W. Rogers 1-2, T. H. Taffender 3-4, J. Bullock 5-6, W. D. Grainger 7-8.

Among the other ringers present were Messrs. E. Alex. Young, I. Emery, J. A. Prior, J. W. Ward, J. W. Chapman, J. Lott, R. H. Begrie, C. Dawson (also representing E. D. Smith) and H. W. Rogers (also representing Mrs. O. L. Rogers). A wreath from the London County Association was among the beautiful floral tributes.

The sympathy of the Exercise has been expressed by numerous friends from far and near, to that notable figure, Mr. T. H. Taffender, and also to the deceased's widow and mother.

WORK FOR LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Apart from being one of the most capable ringers and conductors in the country, Mr. T. W. Taffender will principally be remembered for his untiring work as a member and officer of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild. He was for many years general secretary of this Association and at the time of his death held the office of trustee.

His first peal was one of London Surprise Major at St. George-the-Martyr's, Southwark, in January, 1923, and his following four peals were Stedman Cinques at St. Mary-le-Bow, Kent Treble Bob Maximus at Southwark Cathedral, London Surprise Major at St. Mary's, Rotherhithe, and Stedman Caters 'in hand' at Camberwell. These first five peals were conducted by his father, Mr. T. H. Taffender, and Mr. James Bullock also took part in each.

His total peal list is 156, of which he conducted 50, and 148 have been for the London County Association. Mr. T. H. Taffender rang in 148 and conducted 76. A notable peal was one of Stedman Cinques at St. Leonard's, Shore-ditch, in which six fathers and sons took part and rang in the order of father and son.

In the words of one of Mr. T. W. Taffender's oldest ringing friends, it would take an entire book to write of all his work and achievements. It is possible that a memorial service with appropriate ringing for all his friends will be held at St. Mary's, Lambeth, on a Saturday afternoon about mid-September, in which case, notice will be given through the columns of this journal.

H. W. R.

GREAT PONTON AND DISTRICT

On August Bank Holiday ringers from Great Ponton, Grantham, Ancaster and Silk Willoughby, with their wives, visited Rutlandshire, the outing proving most enjoyable. Ringing took place at Market Overton, Cottesmore, Oakham (and also lunch at the George Hotel), Priston, Uppingham (also tea at the Falcon Hotel), Langham, Exton and Greatham. At Greatham a very pleasant conclusion was formed by the singing of Hymn 176 to the tune of Crimond, by the whole party and a few prayers conducted by the Rector.

Methods rung included Grandsire Doubles. Plain Bob Doubles. Minor and Major, Kent. Stedman and, of course, rounds.

OUTING

MELTON MOWBRAY

On August Bank Holiday the ringers of St. Mary's, Melton Mowbray, Leics, held their annual outing. Since one or two of our own members were unable to be present, several ringers from neighbouring villages came to swell the numbers and we were also accompanied by wives, children and friends.

Our first tower was SS. Peter and Paul's, Uppingham, where the eight bells were rung to Grandsire, Stedman and Kent. At Kettering several local ringers joined the party and we were thus able to ring Grandsire, Caters, Bob Royal, Double Norwich and Stedman Triples. After an excellent four-course lunch the heavy eight of Wellingborough proved rather a tough proposition, but, nevertheless, we enjoyed ringing Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob. A contrast was provided by the light eight at Burton Latimer, which met with immediate approval. Here again local ringers joined in a very pleasant hour's ringing, including a second attempt at Cambridge.

It was then time to return to Kettering and find a little light refreshment before going on to the fifth and last tower. Market Harborough. We were again welcomed by local ringers and made the most of our last opportunity for the day, ringing some excellent Stedman, Double Norwich, Plain Bob and Oxford. During this, two ringers 'dropped in' who were on their way home after ringing a peal of Yorkshire Maximus but they were still eager to ring again!

In spite of the fact that the rain poured on us each time we moved from church to bus, or vice versa, everyone enjoyed themselves immensely, especially about half a dozen learners.

Our grateful thanks are due to all who helped to arrange the outing and make it such a success.

BELLS AND NON-RINGERS

IT is often said that the public, in general, takes little or no notice of the ringing of church bells, and that only that small section of it which lives or works near a tower where bell ringing is frequent is apt to be more than subconsciously aware of it. It is said, equally as often, that non-ringers do listen objectively to the bells, and that they do criticise the ringing, and that they can distinguish good striking from bad. Curiously enough, both these statements are true, although apparently they are completely opposed. How does this seeming paradox arise?

Few people realise that, according to recent figures, 79 per cent. of the population of this country lives in cities and towns, while the remaining 21 per cent. lives in villages, hamlets, isolated farms and cottages. Only a very small fraction of townspeople consists of ringers, and a very great proportion never hears church bells from one year's end to another. The sound of bells never carries far in towns; and only those who live near a church, or who happen to pass while ringing is going on, are consciously affected by the sound. In the country, however, there is a very different state of affairs. The bells are part of the countryman's life. The striking of the hours means much to him. It tells him the progress of time when he is in field or quarry and has no other means of marking it. It often tells him about the weather to come. Great indeed are the complaints if the church clock fails to strike the hours. So the countryman is bell minded. He can become fiercely partisan regarding the bells of his own particular village. He stoutly maintains that the tenor bell is 5 cwt. or so more than by indisputable evidence it is. He is knowledgeably critical of striking, and readily recognises the fact that strangers are at the ropes. Frequently, his curiosity will send him towerwards to see who the visitors may be. He never fails to ask where the party comes from, if he has not previously found out. Generally, his opinion of the standard of ringing, measured by the yardstick of the standard of his own village band, is one worth hearing. Usually, he claims that the village band is better than most of the teams which visit the tower, but he is not slow to chaff his own band unmercifully if a visiting band is markedly superior.

What is the lesson of all this? Most ringing by visitors is done by bands who, in holiday mood, are on outings.

It would be to their own advantage, and ultimately could raise the standard of striking throughout the country, if visiting bands rang nothing but what they could do at least reasonably well. It would make for the harmony of the party, members of which are apt to get irritable when ringing is spoilt by the band, or individuals, attempting things beyond their scope. There is one band in the West Country which annually has an ideal outing. Programmes are prepared beforehand, the methods to be rung are decided upon weeks before, and the organising genius who does it makes sure that all the ringers get a fair share of the ringing. That band goes home happy and contented and leaves behind it a sense of friendship in all the towers it rings at. The members are never late, they are courteous to the local ringer or ringers, and leave the belfry as they find it. Is such a standard of behaviour too high to be reached by all parties? It should not be.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of September 1st, 1911

'THE FASCINATION OF FIGURES'

... every conductor ought to include in his process of self-education some attempt to acquire that knowledge of figures necessary for proving peals. If he did, there would be still fewer disappointments caused by ringing, occasionally, a false composition. . . . There are some in the ranks of the Exercise who are veritable wizards in the art of composing, and only a comparatively few can hope to reach the standard of men like Henry Dains, Charles Hattersley, John Carter, Gabriel Lindoff, and others whose names readily come to mind.

Such composers as these have left very little new ground to be broken in practically all the popular methods. . . . It is surprising that, instead of wasting their zeal upon those methods, the bones of which have been picked nearly clean, more attention is not turned to other methods which give a wider field. Researches into these . . . would probably encourage more ringers to practise methods that are out of the ordinary ruck.

[In one sense, ringers to-day are not so conservative as they used to be—although most new methods are in 'the ordinary ruck' of Surprise (magic word!). But the need for conductors to understand proof is as great as ever.]

GILLETT

JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

News of a ringer's wedding at St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, is contained in 'The Ringing Towers.' The bride was Miss Denise Vincent, daughter of Mr. P. Vincent, captain of the band, and the bridegroom Mr. George Cox.

After the unfortunate experiences on their last tour, the Society of Roving Ringers are thinking of organising first aid courses during the coming winter. Two hospital cases, minor spills, a plague of flies and a belfry trapeze act were some of their adventures this year!

The bells of the new Liverpool Cathedral have now been hung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. We have no information as to the dedication date.

The ringer of the treble in the peal at St.
Mary's, Lambeth, was Miss Jennifer Atkins.
This was the last peal sent to us by the late Mr. T. W. Taffender and was dictated when he was in bed stricken with his fatal illness.

'Please, Mr. Editor, don't let the B.B.C. pinch him for a script writer,' writes an Exeter reader in appreciation of F. E. H.'s 'Glimpse of the Future.' Unfortunately we cannot compete with the B.B.C. in the matter of salaries.

Ringers leaving England to settle in Australia can be sure of a warm welcome at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, and are invited to write to Miss Brenda L. Shepperd, 1, Nepean Street, Melbourne, S.E.6.

Reference was made in our issue of August 17th to the deplorable state of the bells of St.
Endellion's, North Cornwall. Last week a definite order was placed with Messrs. John Taylor and Co. for the recasting of the six bells to be rehung with new fittings in new framework.

Among the peals rung for the wedding of Mr. Walter H. Dobbie and Miss Sheila Mary Hole was one on the Sunday following the happy event at their own church, St. Michael's, Sittingbourne. Here peals are only allowed on a Sunday because the church is situated in a built-up area.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Wedding congratulations to two of the ringers who participated in the 5,040
Grandsire Triples at Exeter Cathedral—Mr. F.
L. Harris (the conductor) and Miss Jean M.
Brown. A congratulatory peal was rung at St.
Kea, Cornwall, on July 28th.

Mr. A. H. Pulling has resigned the conductor-ship of Holy Trinity Cathedral Society, Guild-ford. His successor is Mr. F. A. Munday.

As a farewell to Miss Veronica Hunwicke, who has been a regular ringer at Monken Hadley, Middlesex, for a number of years, and who is now residing at Gosforth, Cumberland (will Cumberland ringers please note), 1,080 Plain Bob Minor was rung on July 29th.

The Maidstone District of the Kent County Association honoured Princess Margaret's birthday with a peal of Maidstone Bob Major, rung appropriately at Aylesford, the nearest eight-bell tower to Maidstone. The peal was rung without practice and was the first in the method for seven of the band.

Included in the band which rang the peal of Plain Bob Royal at Worsley were two visitors from Kent, who were holidaying in the North-West. Sergeant-Major Philip Tocock, who had arranged for them to stand in, was himself unable to ring due to being under canvas in Wales with the T.A. The peal enabled Jim Carter, of Ashton, to complete peals of Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus.

It was recently stated in 'The Ringing World' that it still remains open to the peal ringing fraternity to ring the first recognised peal of Triples on the celebrated bells of Exeter Cathedral. An Exeter reader has written to say that peals of Triples have been already rung on the Thomas and Stafford eights by local bands and that only the Grandisson or back eight have yet to be completely conquered.

SOCIETY OF ROVING RINGERS IN EAST ANGLIA

ADVENTURES IN THE EIGHTH ANNUAL TOUR

AT the annual meeting of the Society held at Birmingham in February, it was agreed to make East Anglia the area for this year's tour. So on Saturday, July 28th, in hot sunshine, with promise of more to come, we met, short as usual, at Chelmsford. Owing to a slight alteration in the arrangements, time was found for a ring at Springfield before ringing at the Cathedral. Here our repertoire was somewhat small, owing to absentees, and although Grand-sire Cinques was rung, the majority of the ringing was on the back ten.

Sunday morning saw us at Purleigh to ring for matins and during the afternoon some went to Banbury at the invitation of the Rector, whilst others went to East Bergholt where the curious 'grounded' ring of five was inspected. Here a remark by one member about 'a so and so waste of good bell-metal' appeared to irritate the local guide who was endeavouring to sell guide books. Ringing in the evening was at St. Peter's, Colchester.

At the hostel that night an attempt by one member to explain our mad English ways to a foreign visitor proved amusing as he was of the opinion that clarity depended upon volume!

Hadleigh and St. Margaret's, Ipswich, followed next morning, St. Mary-le-Tower being used to the full in the afternoon. Here Stedman Cinques was rung and a half-course of Cambridge Maximus, after a struggle. The six at Sproughton were visited that evening on the way back to the hostel.

During the night a thunderstorm rattled over us but cleared up in time for Stowmarket to be gained in the morning, where Spliced in four methods was enjoyed. At Stonham-Aspal, the ten went well to Yorkshire, the speed of which nearly turned the tenor man's hair grey.

DRIED FRUIT NOT NEEDED

The eight at St. Mary Magdalene's, Debenham (of record length fame), went as well as we expected and, as we had had our lunch, dried fruit was not needed to ring two courses of Double Norwich! We were met at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Grundisburgh, by Cecil Pipe, who enjoyed listening to the Caters and Royal successfully brought round on this truly beautiful ten.

Next day the three towers in Sudbury, All Saints', St. Gregory's and St. Peter's, were visited and London, Rutland and Little Bob were touches worthy of mention. In the latter method the treble man was turning the tenor from behind before he was corrected and a fresh start had to be made.

The last tower of the day was Lavenham where a variety of methods were rung. Here the famous tenor was heard and the 'critics' enjoyed a long argument over tea on the subject.

After staying the night in the historic town of Bury St. Edmunds, we rang the ten of the detached tower of the Cathedral and the eight of SS. Mary and Peter's. It was at the former that we were interviewed by a female reporter of the local press and it was doubted if our secretary would wish to continue the tour!

THE MALE VOICE CHOIR

St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Diss, were, unfortunately out of action, so at short notice a ring was arranged at St. Peter's, Palgrave. The last tower of the day was SS. Peter and Paul's, Eye (21½ cwt.), where Spliced was rung successfully. That evening a 'local' was taken by storm and the other customers were treated to a recital given by the male voice choir of the Society.

The sun shone upon us as we walked across the square to the Church of St. Mary, Bungay, the following morning. These rather quiet bells were enjoyed by the company, in contrast to the previous evening's entertainment. 'Elvenses' were not in the programme but, nevertheless, well attended before cycling the six-odd miles to Loddon to ring on the pretty eight tower.

We shall always remember Beccles because after nearly a week of Miles Gray and his associates, this grand Taylor ring of ten was a very pleasant relief. It was said that one of the party stated that, in his opinion, Beccles tenor was far better than the one at . . .! But that, of course, couldn't be right; it would be sacrilege to even suggest it!

One of our members left us here to cycle to Leicester and I feel sure 'bloomin' peal grabber' was mentioned by somebody!

Our route, previously inland, now turned coastwards to Lowestoft where, at St. Margaret's, our second-week master took over and called for Yorkshire and Cambridge Major. On again to Yarmouth for hostel accommodation.

ANCIENTS AND TOFFEE APPLES

I think members of an ancient national association would have been very surprised to see some of its younger members eating toffee apples but, alas, this was so!

The weather and the fates had been very kind to us up to this time but on Saturday they appeared to lose all interest. The rain looked like lasting some hours when we set out for Norwich and on crossing some railway lines in the road four of us came to grief. Minor cuts and bruises were sustained but none thought them serious. At Norwich, however, after a ring at St. Giles', Dennis Airey had to be accompanied to hospital, was X-rayed and sent home; he had apparently bruised his knee far worse than was realised.

We were met by Mr. Nolan Golden who helped us during our stay in Norwich. The six-bell tower of St. George's, Colegate, was visited and touches of St. Clement's and Double Court were ably conducted by the Master. A few yards along the road stood St. Miles', where we were delayed half an hour by a wedding, but when eventually we climbed to the belfry we were astonished to count only seven ropes. After rummaging in the 'floor between', the lost rope was secured and at last threaded through its guides but the fates once more took a hand when the slider of the treble jumped out.

Tea was found very satisfying at that national tea room frequented, I believe, by Birmingham ringers waiting for them to open, and ringing in the evening was continued at St. Peter Mancroft (37 cwt.).

A 'DIZZY' EXPERIENCE

A hospital case and a broken stay were not sufficient. Three whole pulls of rounds on the twelve at St. Peter's and another very unfortunate occurrence took place when the stay of the second was broken and we all looked up to watch a trapeze act by one of our lady members. The height this lady reached was a matter of some disagreement and like the fisherman's tale, it became bigger and bigger. At any rate the tenor man on his lofty perch was prepared to swear that her feet were well above his head! Luckily, she was not hurt, only slightly 'dizzy'.

In the belfry was a set of handbells fully the size of fire buckets and though the members complained of blisters, the Plain Bob Royal on them was well struck. This evening, after another recital by the choir, we retired to our respective beds very pleased that the nearby cattle market was not inhabited.

On Sunday the weather had cleared and Wroxham was gained in hot sun. The six at St. Mary-the-Virgin's (9 cwt.) were set going well for service to Cambridge and Plain Bob. 'Elvenses' by the broads and hopes for swimming at Sheringham in the evening put us all in a good frame of mind. The bells of St.

Michael's, Aylsham, were well rung to Caters and Royal during the afternoon before continuing our journey to the hostel, and during that evening the antics of our soldier member demonstrating scaling the cliffs highly delighted us all.

AFTERNOON OFF—TOWER GRABBING

On Bank Holiday St. Peter and Paul's, Cromer, and St. Margaret's, Paston, were visited in the morning. A request for an 'afternoon off' by the sea was made by some members when the tour was planned so Monday afternoon was allocated for this purpose. The company, however, decided that it was a waste of time and leaving the secretary to take his afternoon off, went hunting for towers to snatch! It was at one of these towers that, as the bells were running down beautifully in peal, a small girl in the churchyard was heard to say to her companion, 'What an awful noise, but I suppose they must learn sometime.'

On the following day the weather had worsened so much with rain and a strong wind, naturally against us, that at the first tower in Wells-next-Sea, we were an hour late and had to call it off. Coffee and cakes set us on our way once more and SS. Peter and Paul's, Fakenham, bells rang out to Cambridge Major; Norfolk was tried but did not go.

The rain had cleared when we set off to King's Lynn, stopping on the way at the six-bell tower of St. Faith's, Gaywood. St. Nicholas', King's Lynn, was reached in time for a ring at 5.30. These bells had not been rung for over a year and were consequently very hard work. They were very tuneful but the effort needed and the dust thrown up by our exertions must have made us a spectacle to any outsiders.

FLY MENACE

The bells of the Norman church of St. Margaret (29 cwt.) were rung well to Caters and Royal in the morning. The weather had turned dull and sultry and the dykes and rivers of the Fen land contributed a great deal towards the numbers of flies that annoyed us. Upon arriving at SS. Peter and Paul's, Wisbech, it was necessary to 'de-louse' ourselves. Spliced Yorkshire and Cambridge Royal and well-struck Caters were rung.

The flies appeared to increase in number as we travelled south and at Downham Market the short-trousered members of the party certainly wished they had better protection. Insects crawling up one's back and neck whilst grappling with intricacies of Double Norwich was no joke but trying to suppress laughter at the antics of some of the band made matters distinctly worse!

However, once more a cup of tea acted as a reviver and set us again travelling. Littleport bells were soon going to Spliced Little and Plain Bob and, though the flies still troubled us, the sight of Ely Cathedral and the thought of a wash at the hostel cheered us on our way.

On Thursday the unfortunate plane crash in an Ely street, close by St. Mary's Church, prevented us from ringing but some twelve miles onward, at Mildenhall, St. Andrew's (16 cwt.), Cambridge Royal and three leads of Kent were enjoyed.

Back on to the main road and we were soon entering Newmarket, but at All Saints' a funeral service was taking place, thus denying us a ring.

South again to Cambridge where the twelve at St. Mary the Great (29 cwt.) were not as good as we had been led to believe but they were, however, set going to Cinques and Maximus. Phil Chalk, a member of the Society at the University, greeted us and had a pull.

ANOTHER HOSPITAL CASE

Two towers lost in one day, a stay broken at Norwich, one of our number sent home, a plane crash and funeral, we thought we'd had everything but there was yet more to come. During the evening in Cambridge, one of the members, eating his supper in a cafe, had the misfortune to injure the back of his throat and he also was accompanied to hospital. All were very relieved to find him back with us in the morning, the injury being slight.

Before leaving Cambridge on our last lap to Saffron Walden, we visited St. Benet's where it seemed fitting to ring Stedman in honour of the great Fabian. It was here that this famous ringer learnt to handle a rope and the restoration of the tower was a tribute of the Exercise to his memory. We also rang the noble eight at the Roman Catholic Church of Our Lady (31 cwt.) to some good Bristol and Double Norwich.

At Sawston, St. Mary-the-Virgin, another mishap prevented us from completing a course of Double Norwich when the fourth rope broke. This was repaired before moving on.

Our last tower, St. Mary-the-Virgin, Saffron Walden (23 cwt.), proved very enjoyable and satisfying. Our Cinques conductor, having had some bad luck during the past week, excelled himself when we rang a plain course of Stedman Cinques very well. Some said, 'He said, "Go, Stedman," missed the bob at one and let it run home again!'

On Saturday morning we broke up and set course for our various homes, having covered 550 miles and visited 49 towers. Methods were Cambridge and Kent from Minor to Maximus, Grandsire and Stedman from Doubles to Cinques, Plain Bob from Minor to Royal, Yorkshire Royal, and London, Bristol, Yorkshire, Superlative, Rutland and Lyme Surprise Major. Spliced Surprise in five methods was rung and all sorts of queer methods on six.

Our thanks are due to all incumbents and tower-keepers for putting us with us and to Messrs. John Chilcott and Tom Southam for acting as ringing masters and to the secretary for making his usual mess of things!

To ringers everywhere we would like to say there is only one Society of Roving Ringers; please beware of imitations! F. J. M.

NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA

St. Paul's Cathedral Society, Melbourne

The annual meeting of the above Society was held on August 8th in the tower. The Very Rev. Roscoe Wilson, Dean of Melbourne, presided, 16 members being present.

Since the last annual meeting, membership has steadily improved, six new members having been elected, including Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gray, on their arrival from England last April. Their knowledge and skill have been a valuable contribution to the life of the Society.

During August Mr. T. Richards will leave for England, and Mr. N. Williams has been called up for C.M.F. Our best wishes go with them on their new adventures.

There is an improvement in the standard and striking of our ringing. Two quarter peals have been rung this year and two of our members have scored their first quarter peal. Progress, if slow, is at least in the right direction.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—Captain, Mr. P. Gray; vice-captain, Mr. J. W. Spencer; treasurer, Mrs. J. Gray; secretary, Miss B. Sheppard.

It was decided to visit St. Peter's, Ballarat, in September.

Our aims for the coming year are to increase our members by making better contacts and encouraging young people to join our Society; also to try out Cinques and new methods.

After the meeting a short touch of Grandsire Triples was rung on the tower bells. B.L.S.

HOLT'S ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—As one who has called the Original on numerous occasions, including 'around the circle,' also silent on handbells, I have been most interested in the recent correspondence on this classic composition and heartily endorse the statement by Mr. T. E. Sone that 'I still have no short cut to memorising the composition.'

In his book, 'Among the Bells,' the late Rev. F. E. Robinson writes that on April 14th, 1885, I conducted for the first time Holt's Original peal of Grandsire Triples, having employed Loissette's method of artificial memory in getting up the calling. This is the only instance of which I have any knowledge of a ringer using a memory aid in learning the calling.

Having learned the calling when I was 16, and having no one on whom I could call for advice on the best way to learn it, I split the composition up into five parts, as shown, and reduced the calling as far as possible by adding the word Twice where a bell is called that number of times Before, or with a Double. My check on that being to know the bell entering the hunt at the last call. I also selected lead ends which I found easy to remember as a further check. This is certainly not a scientific method of conducting, but is one that has rarely let me down. Where I have shown the figure (5) in brackets there is an interval of five leads to the next call. In one of my early attempts to call the composition it proved somewhat misleading to find that when I had called 4D my next Before bell was already being called Before and I promptly 'stood' the bells.

Where I have bracketed three calls there is a two-lead interval between calls: these bells will therefore dodge in 4-5 at the plain lead thus giving an indication that your next bell Before is in its correct position. Finally the 6th is not called into the hunt for more than four leads until 500 changes from the end at which point it is called in twice for periods of five leads.

I understand from Mr. Harold Frost that all the old St. Albans ringers could call this composition, a number of them knowing the bells Before also the number of leads between each call. We certainly know that both Messrs. W. H. L. Buckingham and J. C. Mitchell were expert at calling it. It the correspondent whom you mention in Belfry Gossip is interested in knowing more about this composition and has access to back numbers of 'The Ringing World,' he will find in the issue for September 19th, 1930, page 602, a full-page article on 'How to Call the Peal,' and in the issue for September 26th, 1930, a further full-page on 'How Other People Learn It' (page 618). There are also interesting letters on this subject, among them one from the late C. F. Winney, in the issues for August and October, 1930.—Yours faithfully,

DONALD G. CLIFT.

RINGING IN NEW ZEALAND

An insight into ringing at Christchurch, New Zealand, is provided by a letter written by Mr. George H. Claydon, of 73, Ottawa Road, Wainoni, E.2., Christ Church, N.Z., to Mr. Ernest Morris.

He recalls ringing with Mr. Morris nearly 50 years ago at a meeting at Leicester on the day of the long peal of 18,027 Stedman Caters at Loughborough.

'I have rung for over 40 years at the Cathedral here. We have had good bands, nearly pealable, and then they vanish overnight. . . . At the moment we have the Rector of Birmingham here and we are going to try to ring a peal of welcome. J. S. (Stan) Mason, of Birmingham, is out here with the R.A.F. and is coming down from Wellington to take part, so that will be two old St. Martin's men. (While I rang at Sutton Coldfield I used to practise in the Bull Ring on Mondays.) Ray Idle, from Northampton, is stationed at Oamann, about 200 miles south of Christchurch, and he is coming up take part.

'I expect you know that the great ringer, Mr. J. S. Wilde, of Dunedin, is dead. He left us his set of lovely handbells, so now we have three sets. We have loaned one to one of our old members, S. H. Barnett (see 'The Great Adventure'), who lives close to Wellington.

WITHBURGA OR WITHIBURGA?

Dear Sir,—In the guide book to the Abbey Church of SS. Mary and Sexburga, Minster, Isle of Sheppey, there is a pedigree connecting Queen Bertha and Queen Sexburga in which the name of the youngest daughter of King Annas of East Anglia is spelt 'Withberga.' It is possible that the 'e' is a misprint as all the other names ending in 'burga' are spelt with a 'u'.

Sexburga, another daughter of Annas, married Ercombert, King of Kent, the grandson of King Ethelbert and Queen Bertha, who received St. Augustine in 597. After her husband's death, Sexburga founded a Benedictine nunnery for 77 nuns at Minster in 664 and became its first Abbess. However, about 670 she left Minster and retired to the nunnery at Ely, where her sister, Etheldreda, the foundress of Ely, was Abbess. On Etheldreda's death in 679, she became second Abbess of Ely and remained there for the rest of her life.—Yours faithfully,

STANLEY M. EVANS.

'A STANDARD OF PEAL PERFORMANCE'

Dear Sir,—The timely, provocative article by friend Joseph prompts the following, which may be of some general interest.

In the early 1920's one discussed, in 'The Ringing World,' the question of the invalidation of the truth of the performance by bad striking to a pronounced degree. Some years later a well-known composer and conductor, during a conversation on the subject of striking, recalled the article and provoked some further consideration which led to the following conclusions. They may be acceptable as a standard for performance assessment since they may be considered as not at variance with anything so far recommended by the Central Council; yet they are positive and definitive in effect when regarded as a whole.

(2). If the majority of the band disagree with the conductor as to a performance it is unlikely that he will persist in his view or intention.

(3). If a minority disagree with a conductor's decision or published report they may satisfy their consciences by excluding the performance from their personal records.

(4). All performances may be considered as falling, qualitatively, under one or other of three categories.—

(a) Perfect. (b) Passable. (c) False.
And quantitatively, respectively, as:—
(a) Few. (b) Majority. (c) Several.

(5). Only those in the first two categories should be allowed to be recorded, it being realised that the third includes 'corrected' performance, as explained below. And the consistent aim should be to surpass the second, of course. In other words the aim should be for tripless and even clipless ringing. But such aim needs definition.

(6). If by 'clipping' is generally understood the uneven spacing of bell-sounds until two strike together, then, while this spoils perfection and is, of course, to be deprecated, yet it is hardly to be regarded as invalidating the truth of a performance. Indeed, if this be due entirely to badly-going bells, then the ringers can hardly be blamed. So far we consider the striking to be not so bad as for two bells to strike in each other's positions, which we may include in the term—'trip.' How far then, may a trip be admitted, if at all, without risk of invalidating, i.e., 'falsifying,' a performance?

(7). The answer seems to lie in the more precise interpretation of the function of a conductor. This is often considered as being discharged solely by making the calls and correcting the coursing order till the touch or peal comes home. For specific performance there is, of course, more to it than that.

(8). While peal-ringing is essentially a team effort yet, except for non-conducted efforts, the conductor must be considered as ultimately responsible for the right and proper performance of the composition; that is to say he is who must be always and instantly aware of any departure from that due performance. In this lies the key to the whole problem. For if he is not instantly aware of a trip or shift-course then, unconsciously perhaps, erroneous change-rows are introduced into the performance and rung as 'regular,' until the error is spotted, at the course-end or the lead-end or even within the 'lead.' In all such cases of 'discovered error' the conductor who is completely honest is bound to recognise failure of true performance for that number of change-rows, and to terminate it. The performance comes, without doubt, into category (c), as above, i.e., it is FALSE, in both concept and effect.

(9). If, however, the conductor immediately spots a trip or shift in the actual moment of its commission and instantly gives directions which correct the trip, then it follows that the correct and regular production of change-rows appropriate to the composition only, though marred in execution, has not escaped from the mental direction of the one person ultimately responsible for the truth of the performance. This may then, in the absence of any greater error, be considered as 'passable.'

(10). In short 'keeping them from getting unconsciously wrong' may be considered as within passable peal standard, while 'finding them wrong and putting them right' may be considered as a false performance and below peal standard. This is not ideal, but it is admittedly a higher standard than that often found in practice. At best, it is merely a step in the direction of the ultimate aim.

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

NORTH CORNWALL EXPERIENCES

Dear Sir,—I was most interested to read W. H. R. T.'s account of an outing to the prize ringing area of North Cornwall. I don't suppose the fact that a stay was missing on one of the bells at St. Teath worried the local ringers much for I well remember when ringing at Tintagel some years ago, for some reason I cannot remember, we had occasion to set the bells, and one ringer was very loth to let go of his rope, at the same time saying, 'I suppose they will be all right if we leave them like this.' The usual 'touch' of course, consisting of rising, some call changes, then falling without any break.

I have just returned from Tintagel and the tourists may be interested to know that the new ropes arrived during my stay. By the way, Tintagel Church is dedicated to St. Materiana and not St. Arthur.—Yours truly,

R. G. BELL

ALL SAINTS', HASTINGS

Dear Sir,—In September and October, 1940, the ancient and beautiful church of All Saints, Hastings, was badly damaged by enemy action, and although the usual forms were completed and every effort has been made by the Parochial Church Council to get a satisfactory decision, the War Damage Commissioners have, after arbitration, finally turned down our claim.

Not only the main church roof but also the roof and windows of the bell-tower were damaged; we are faced with the necessity of raising something in the neighbourhood of £5,000 for repairs.

May I appeal to all those in the ringing world who have visited our tower to help us to the best of their ability.

I may add, at the risk of calling down on my head the wrath of our ringers, that a number of them have volunteered to carry out in person the work required for preliminary first aid repairs to prevent further damage from rain through the main roof, and indeed they have already done this in the case of the bell-tower.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN A. FOSTER,

45, Belmont Road, Hastings.

GREAT PAUL AT ST. ALBANS

Dear Sir,—Great Paul passed through St Albans on a Friday, staying in the London Road, near Alma Cut, for a short time, surrounded by a large crowd. To catch up with the lorry I hastened to London Colney, three miles distant, where I scribbled my name upon the bell.—Yours faithfully,

G. W. CARTMEL

St. Albans.

SOME POINTS FOR PURISTS

Dear Sir,—There is little doubt that the announcement in the issue of August 17th of the unacceptableness of certain peal claims will have resulted in widespread comment and probably draw a flood of correspondence. Although these decisions will be very unpopular in some quarters, we have to accept them as being rules agreed to by our own elected representatives.

Nevertheless, it does seem grossly unjust and inconsistent to rule out an excellent method like Woodbine Treble Bob and a peal of Grandsire Doubles with some added changes in excess of 5,040 while other undesirable practices are tolerated.

If only units of 120 changes may be added to peals of Doubles, why are quarter peals of Minor, for example, published, consisting of 720, 360 and 180 changes? As 720 is the extent, the remaining 540 changes must be repeated once; but I cannot see why separate 360's and 180's beginning from rounds should be allowed. Surely 1,260 changes of Minor should consist of one true 720 plus one true 540. To the argument that the Council's Decisions concern peals and not quarter peals, I say, 'If truth be the standard for published performances of peals, then nothing less should be accepted for publication as a quarter peal.' It appears anomalous to me that, when rows need only repeat once, double repetitions should be tolerated.

It is high time, too, that many of the (so-called) different Doubles methods were disallowed. In Grandsire and Stedman Triples, for example, ancient calls, once necessary to produce true peals, have now been superseded, as more modern composition has proved they can be dispensed with. Why then cannot a Doubles method have one recognised Bob and Single, and not pretend to be something different because it borrows a Bob from some other accepted method? What is sauce for the Triples goose should be for the Doubles gander.

In my next contention I know I am inviting a shower of brickbats but it would be interesting to find out whether any ringers share this view. I am going to be so bold as to declare that if the Methods Committee are such purists, then they should take steps to invalidate all methods on the 'Little' principle. The basic standard methods produce Double and Reverse variations. As the treble in 'Little' methods cannot reach the back, no Double or Reverse methods are possible. As I see it, therefore, a useful method like Woodbine, a good stepping stone to other Treble Bob methods, is far more in keeping with the spirit of change-ringing than a freak method like Little Bob, which has been accepted as it has that magic formula which produces Plain Bob lead-ends. If ever a group of methods warranted the term 'bastard methods' then it is this unnatural family. The added fact that, with clear proof scale, no extent is possible, should have disqualified them from birth.

I suppose the next horror will be a group of methods with the treble's work the reverse of that in Alliance methods. Yes, it is a great pity Little Bob won't reverse to splice with it, isn't it? Perhaps this will indicate the absurdity of 'Little' methods.—Yours faithfully,

W. BIRMINGHAM.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—22

Edited by ERNEST MORRIS

AT PAINSWICK

He went to Gloucester in January, 1890, and walked to Painswick, the roads being very dirty, wet and rough. 'Very pretty cancel—north aisle ugly. Had tea with Mr. William Hale, the sexton (married last August); his sister (six feet high) came up in tower and helped to raise bells. Gloucester ringers came at five o'clock. James [I fancy this would be later, the Rev. H. Law James?] tried to ring the tenor, but being a small and young beginner, did not do well and would not have finished. Bells got out and "Stand" called. King, a very old ringer, came up and we rang a touch of Caters on handbells. Went in a pub, formerly kept by one of the long peal band. The landlord said the house was marked with figures and changes all about each room. His uncle was the late G. Mansfield and his father was a ringer. Walked back to Gloucester, a long, foggy and miserable journey.'

MR. W. H. FUSSELL'S LAST PEAL AT SLOUGH

During his long stay at various centres in Herefordshire, Mr. Fussell called on many parsons, sextons, ringers and others, and his diary contains many 'side-lights' on the types and characters of the various people he met. Here is a sample: 'Rang at Chisbury 7.30 till 9.30—"Herbert Arms" till 10. The organist comes from Newtown and staid where I do—youth and fair player—Vicar and he came up in tower—small, chatty little man, bachelor, pleasant—false, harsh preacher.' . . . 'Rang at Clunbury 8 till 10, fair practice, seven present, showery evening—home at 12.30, moonlight. Heard of death of an old man, hanging himself (Morris) in an old shed near Clun. I suppose he was the man I spoke to about midnight, our last words "Good night" on my way home; see local paper.'

In all these journeyings to many towers over a wide area, Mr. Fussell gave advice on the bells, frames, fittings as well as drawing up rules for ringing, diagrams of methods, etc., and always, when any special effort was made he reported it to the 'Bell News,' 'Church Bells,' and local papers, to give encouragement to all concerned. He nearly always attended services for which he rang and often remarks on who preached and in what manner!

HOLT'S ORIGINAL

We have recently passed the 200th anniversary of the calling of this composition and seen many remarks concerning it. Here is what Mr. Fussell writes in his diary in July, 1890: 'Rode into Mon. (Monmouth) in morning; went up tower, windows covered with felting to deaden sound. Attempted peal—Grandsire Triples; met at 3, started at 20 to 4, and was unsuccessful. Holt's Original in 2 hours 56 minutes. Good peal and well rung. Two hitches, one at 30 minutes and another at beginning of last 720 changes. All very pleased (see "Bell News"). No one but a conductor of the same peal for the first time can tell the doubt and uncertainty at times as to calling a certain bell before or not, with a double or without, in and out at three or four leads. I was inclined to call "Stand" owing to the dread of having missed a bell before.'

Mr. Fussell went back to Slough in July and thenceforth his activities were mostly in and around that district and in London. He mentions his last peal of the year at Windsor, finishing at five minutes to midnight. The Rev. Hallett rang in it and at the conclusion said a prayer. As usual, Flaxman tolled the tenor at midnight and again the eight bells were rung—the quick "call changes" and smart striking in the last part made a contrast to the first peal which was slowly and badly rung. All the members parted quietly and subdued on leaving the tower.'

Then like most ringers, I presume (the present writer included!), after all this writing up of visits to new towers, meeting fresh companions, ringing new methods, etc., Mr. Fussell finds (like we all do) it got too much for him to carry on his diary and so he ends it thus: 'This completes a diary of the ten years' ringing and all I intend to write for the future' From this time onwards he distinguished himself by the number of ringing tours he arranged. These not only included the ordinary summer holiday peal tours but journeys far afield, and, during his career, he was the first man ever to have rung peals in every county in England and Wales. He came several times into Leicestershire and, on occasions, stayed with the present writer.

Mr. Fussell was born on September 16th, 1861, at Upton-cum-Chalvey, in South Bucks, a parish now incorporated in the borough of Slough. As this diary of his shows, he made his first acquaintance with the belfry while still a schoolboy, when chiming and call-changes were the only things practised. Later, when change-ringing began, he quickly aspired to the art and his first peal for the newly-formed West Middlesex Association was Holt's Original, at Christ Church, Ealing, called by William Baron, in which he rang the third. Mr. Joseph J. Parker, the well-known composer of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, rang the second and it was his first peal. He became a member of the Cumberland Youths in 1881 and was also an original member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. From those far-off days he became a prolific peal ringer and scored over 1,000, this

MR. R. CONGREVE-PRIDGEON

Mr. Robert Congreve-Pridgeon died suddenly at Steyning on St. James's Day (July 25th). His fascination for bells grew from an early age and when very young he would climb the belfry steps at St. Andrew's with his father, who was Vicar of the parish. He learnt to ring under the guidance of George Gatland, captain and verger at Steyning Church for 35 years and his first half-peal followed at the age of nine. We can believe that only parental counsel prevented a full peal at this early age. He conducted his first peal, Stedman Triples, in 1911, with Mr. Gatland ringing the tenor.

To his friends in Sussex it would appear that Southwark was the centre of his ringing affection for he would dwell at length on the merits of Kent Treble Bob on these bells, but we will remember his delight in calling Stedman Triples round 'at hand' in his native tower of Steyning, where the bells were rung half-muffled on Sunday, July 29th, to his memory. Ringers at Shoreham also paid tribute with a quarter peal of Stedman Triples rung half muffled. E. T.

MR. GEORGE WILSON

The death occurred on Thursday, August 16th, of Mr. George Wilson, of Goring-on-Thames, aged 84 years.

Mr. Wilson had been a ringer at Goring since 1881, being one of a band which taught itself Grandsire Doubles on the five bells existing then.

The then Vicar had promised that when the ringers could ring 120 Grandsire Doubles he would give them a new treble. This bell was cast in 1889, the year in which the band joined the Oxford Diocesan Guild. They then went on to Minor and rang several peals.

The late Mr. Wilson kept up ringing till the end of his life and on Sunday, August 12th, was ringing the 7th to Grandsire Triples. He was always a regular service ringer and a really wonderful striker. Altogether he served 70 years as a ringer at one church and was for 62 years a Guild member, a truly wonderful record.

The funeral was on Tuesday, August 21st, the bells being rung half-muffled after the service, and in the evening a half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by D. Taylor 1, J. Money 2, N. Tull 3, H. Tull 4, Miss P. Haines 5, J. Napper (conductor) 6, W. Irving 7, A. G. Strange 8.

latter number being reached the day before the famous Australian tour started. All the papers, letters to ship's companies, menus and photographs concerning this tour are now in the present writer's possession and they speak volumes as to Mr. Fussell's wonderful organising ability. In 1935 the book entitled 'A Great Adventure' was published by the late editor of 'The Ringing World,' which gives a full account of this greatest of all ringing tours. Mr. Fussell died on August 29th and was buried on September 1st, 1944, at Farnham Royal, when a large and representative gathering of well-known ringers assembled to pay their last tribute to this great ringer. The Vicar sums up his tribute by writing: 'William Herbert Fussell, a Grand Old Man of bell ringers, passed to his rest at the ripe age of 83. Known affectionately as "Old Bill" he had spent a lifetime among the bells and bell ringers.'

SOME AUGUST RINGERS' OUTINGS

CHILVERS COTON

The Peak District and passing the famous Cat and Fiddle Inn, reported to be the highest inn in England was included in the itinerary of Chilvers Coton, Nuneaton, ringers on their outing on August 6th.

A start was made at 7.15 a.m. and by 8.30 the party were having coffee at Derby previous to visiting Bakewell for an hour and a half's ringing. Here Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, London and Bristol were rung.

Lunch was served at Macclesfield followed by a visit to the 12 bells of St. Michael's, which were rung with great enjoyment. Rounds for those who had never rung on 12 before, Stedman Cinques (three ringing their first course), Bob Royal and Cambridge Royal completed the ringing here.

On to Leek where Stedman Caters, Kent Royal, Bristol, London and Plain Bob Major were rung before a good tea at the Swan Hotel. Uttometer was the next call, being reached in the rain which had conveniently held off until evening. Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Yorkshire and Spliced Cambridge, London, Bristol and Superlative were rung to the satisfaction of all.

Home was reached at 10.30, the earliest return on record. Grateful thanks are accorded to all who made the local arrangements and who met the travellers and gave them cordial welcomes.

SHEFFIELD CATHEDRAL

A visit to Burton-on-Trent, Loughborough and Nottingham was arranged by Sheffield Cathedral band and friends for their outing on Tuesday, August 7th. A start was made in pouring rain but after travelling a few miles, dull but fine weather was experienced.

The journey to Burton was through some of Derbyshire's choicest scenery and a short halt was made at Ashbourne.

After a sumptuous lunch at the Midland Hotel, Burton, the well-appointed belfry of St. Paul's was visited and ringing enjoyed. At Messrs. J. Taylor's foundry, Loughborough, Mr. C. Harrison welcomed the party and conducted them round the works explaining the various processes. A demonstration of bell-tuning proved most interesting. After a little practice, fair touches of Little Bob Major and Stedman Triples were rung on the foundry bells. The Parish Church of All Saints was the next tower and a poor start was followed by some good touches on the fine ten.

Everything was in readiness in the spacious belfry at St. Mary's, Nottingham, and the ten bells were raised in peal—quite a good raise. The hour's ringing here was probably the best of the day, methods rung including Plain, Little and Treble Bob Royal, Stedman Caters, Cambridge Major, and rounds, etc., for the junior members.

Our thanks to Mr. Colin Harrison for his assistance at Nottingham and to the friends at Burton and Nottingham who helped to make the day so enjoyable and to show that there is a real spirit of brotherhood among Britain's church bell ringers.

NANTWICH, CHESHIRE. — On Aug. 19th, 1.264 Plain Bob Major: A. Merrill (first quarter in method) 1, T. S. Astbury 2, J. Thomas (first quarter in method) 3, F. Ollier 4, E. J. Boffey 5, J. E. Warner, jun. 6, J. E. Warner, sen. 7, J. E. Brough (cond.) 8. Ring for the opening of Festival of Britain week.

STANFORD-LE-HOPE

Ringers from St. Margaret's, Stanford-le-Hope, visited five six-bell towers in the Brentwood area of Essex for their annual outing. They were accompanied by non ringing friends, and ringers from Hornchurch, Romford and Dagenham.

A different ringing master was chosen for each tower and at the first stop, Epping Upland, this duty fell to Joan Hills. These bells are rung infrequently and the 'back-enders' found them rather heavy going. The least said about the striking here the better!

Alex Hammond took over at North Weald, where we were joined by Mr. King and two of the local ringers. These pleasant six were made good use of, and the four standard methods were rung.

On to Bobbingworth, where Jim Fleetwood, our next master, thought we would try some Oxford—the bells and ringers seemed to think otherwise! These steady six are rung from the church porch, and once again we had the pleasure of meeting some of the local band.

Ringings at Fyfield was preceded by a really first-class tea at the Queen's Head, where we had the pleasure of the company of Mr. Blatch the local captain. The light six in this village have only recently been augmented from five, and here we had some of the best ringing of the day. Miss Chinnery took over as master, and under her direction we spent a very profitable hour. Oxford was successfully brought round, and all too soon we found that it was half past seven and time to go. In pouring rain we said goodbye to the local band and, with Mr. Blatch and his bicycle on board, the coach set out for our last tower of the day—High Ongar.

Here we were joined by Mr. A. A. Hilliar, of Bristol, and his daughter (now Mrs. Desmond Meyell). Bert Kenyon found rather disconcerting conditions for his term of duty here, for the gas had been turned off at the main and we had to ring by candle-light. In spite of this, Double Court was accomplished for the first time during the day and, fortified by the presence of Mrs. Meyell, we decided to attempt some Cambridge. No one would have been more surprised than ourselves if it had come round, but all agreed that, considering our chances of Surprise ringing are so rare, it was a good effort.

And so home, after a pleasant afternoon and evening enjoyed by ringers and non-ringers alike, despite the appalling weather. A word of congratulation to 13-year-old Wendy Cooper, of Stanford, and 15-year-old Lionel Woods, of Dagenham, neither of whom had handled a bell before this year, and both of whom rang Grandsire with a confidence and style which would have done credit to a more experienced ringer.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Lewisham District

All the pleasure promised by the happy conjunction of a charming village, brilliant weather, 70 keen ringers and their friends and a ring of bells, was fully realised when the Lewisham District held its quarterly meeting at Shoreham. Ringing during the afternoon afforded an opportunity to all to indulge in their taste or to improve it.

After tea the business meeting was held in the churchyard, Mr. E. A. Barnett (Crayford) supervising the expeditious handling of the agenda.

Six ringers were elected practising members of the Association and the election of two non-resident members was ratified: Chelsfield was welcomed to reunion with the Association.

An invitation from the Surrey Association to hold this year's combined meeting at Epsom on Saturday, October 6th, was gratefully accepted. Dartford was chosen as the place for the annual District meeting to be held on Saturday, October 27th.

The members voiced their congratulations to Mr. G. H. Daynes on his recent memorable achievement of conducting Holt's Original at Eltham on the eve of his 81st birthday. Cordial votes of thanks to the Vicar of Shoreham and to his band of ringers concluded the business.

Touches on a set of handbells at least 150 years old, kindly loaned by Mr. A. Bates, of Farningham, preceded a return to the belfry for further ringing. A few members visited Farningham on the way home from a very successful meeting.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

Northern District at Witham

The Northern District held a very successful meeting at Witham on August 18th. Sixty-three members were present from Braintree, Stebbing, Bocking, Bures, Sible Hedingham, Kelvedon, Boreham, Danbury, Newmarket, Black Notley, Goldhanger, Great Totham, Wansstead, Dagenham, Woodford, Portsea, Colchester and Isleworth.

A service was held in St. Nicholas' Church, conducted by the Rev. W. V. J. Naish, M.A., who gave an interesting talk, and Mr. Jack Osborne was at the organ. A splendid tea was laid at the Church House by the Witham ringers and their wives and friends.

Owing to the unavoidable absence, due to illness, of the District Master (Miss H. G. Snowden), Mr. J. Chalk presided over the business meeting. Three new members were elected and Rayne was chosen for the next meeting. It was reported that since the last meeting at Great Yeldham, the band was now learning to ring. An appeal was made for subscriptions towards the recasting and rehanging of the 21 cwt. tenor bell at Kelvedon which is badly cracked and cannot be rung. Votes of thanks to all who had made this meeting a success were passed and Mr. W. V. J. Naish and Mr. H. Richards, churchwarden, responded.

Ringings was then resumed on the Parish Church bells in a large variety of methods and the handbells were also rung.

REJECTED PEALS

In registering a protest against the exclusion by the Peal Analysis Committee of two peals of Doubles, Mr. L. J. Clark, of Chelmsford, writes: 'The two peals in question, for obvious "special reasons," consisted of an appropriate number of extents plus an additional touch, to make (1) 5,200 changes for a 200th peal, and (2) 5,060 to celebrate a 60th birthday.'

The Editor wishes to make it clear to correspondents that the publication of a peal in 'The Ringing World' does not mean that the same is acceptable to the Peal Analysis Committee or to the Central Council. A peal receives its final approval by the adoption of the report of the Peal Analysis Committee by the Central Council.

OUTING

HELLINGLY, SUSSEX

The Hellingly Ringers, accompanied by friends from Bexhill, Eastbourne, Hailsham and Mayfield, set off on August 11th on their fourth annual outing. Fortunately the Vicar of Hellingly and the people's warden were able to accompany them.

A start was made at 8 a.m. and, passing through the beautiful countryside of Sussex and Kent, Gravesend was reached at 10.15. Here, unfortunately, a coach was found to be missing. Eventually it arrived half an hour late and what a lot of explaining was needed from the occupants! The journey across the Thames to Tilbury was a novel experience and it was difficult to keep the younger members from ringing the ship's bell! Once on the hard road again we headed for Brentwood where Mr. Sitch was patiently awaiting us at St. Thomas's Church.

The bells, a lovely eight (tenor 19½ cwt. in E. flat), were soon set going to rounds. Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major. Leaving Brentwood at one o'clock we headed for Writtle. After a little delay in finding the key the eight bells (tenor 18 cwt. 2 qr. 2 lb.) were raised and set going to various methods including Oxford Treble Bob.

A move was then made to the highlight of the day—Chelmsford Cathedral. This noble twelve (tenor 34 cwt. 2 qr. 25 lb. in C) gave many of the younger members their first pull on twelve. A course of Bob Royal and Double Norwich on the back eight with the help of Mr. L. J. Clark, concluded the ringing here, which was not too impressive.

The last ring of the day was at Cudham which was reached amid a downpour of rain. This very light ten (tenor 10½ cwt.) proved a very handy weight for almost everybody. A course of Bob Doubles was rung on the front six with a tenor of 3½ cwt.! A fairly good course of Grandsire Caters concluded the ringing of the day. Home was reached (for the lucky ones) by 10.15 p.m. F. H. H.

Will all secretaries please note that the minimum rate for a notice is 2s. 6d. (still one penny a word).

RECRUITMENT

DURING the past 60 years or so the Exercise has witnessed the rise and decline of some famous companies of ringers, such as Burton, Brighton, Kidderminster, Ipswich, Caversham, etc. These bands made much ringing history in their day, and are now quiescent—certainly not the force they were in their heyday. Other bands have replaced them in prominence, such as Birmingham and Leicester. Is it possible that history will repeat itself and that these and other centres of high achievement will meet with the same fate as their predecessors?

Why is it that after having reached a high standard of excellence these old bands have gradually faded out of the picture? Almost everybody in the Exercise can supply the answer—failure to bring on young ringers to replace losses caused by advancing years and death. The difficulty is to make way for and train the novice when there is a first-class band. What is to be the position of the novice in regard to Sunday service ringing where there is an experienced band of long standing? His participation will lower the standard of ringing and the reputation of the tower; on the other hand, the young ringer will feel that the long probationary period of months, it might even be years, is not worth the candle. One famous tower meets the difficulty by the creation of two companies—the second twelve ring for morning service and the expert band for evensong. Where there is a reserve like this with promotion the future of the company seems reasonably assured, providing, of course, good fellowship is maintained in the tower.

It is regrettable that this is not universal; in many places a short term outlook prevails, and bands which have reached a good standard in striking and method ringing are unwilling to give the necessary tolerance to learners, failing to realise that unless sufficient encouragement and opportunity is given to capable youngsters, a decline will come to their company, as it has to others. We were all 'lame ducks' when we commenced ringing (some of us still are!).

It was very noticeable that the old bands spoken of above were very united and were jealous of their good name. There is a thought—unity. In many small towns there are towers with only a sprinkling of ringers—not sufficient to perform anything on a spectacular scale—but if these towers amalgamated and pooled their resources, progress could be made and results achieved.

Our methods of recruitment need overhauling. Too much is left to chance and often the wrong type of youth is allowed to join a band. In the Boy Scout movement and the Church Lads' Brigade there is a wealth of well-disciplined youth to draw from. Do we tap these sources? Have we any arrangement with the Boy Scouts' Association or the Church Lads' Brigade whereby we could draw recruits? Then there are choirboys who have reached that awkward age when their voices break and who are then at a loose end regarding church work. This is just the time when they should be attracted to the ringing room and made to feel they are really wanted.

Our methods of instruction are too haphazard—there does not appear to be sufficient uniformity. Youngsters to-day will not be bullied into efficiency; they must be encouraged with all the patience which can be extended. The writer would greatly like to see an official standard book of instruction produced—obviously a job for the Central Council. It may be said that this has already been done; possibly so—but has it been sufficiently thorough? Results show a deplorable lack of uniformity. The standard work on Change Ringing by Troyte has undoubtedly been the means by which many thousands of ringers have gained their first rudimentary knowledge—even though the wording is a trifle ambiguous—but what the writer has in mind is the production of a text book for an instructor, which will enable him to gain good results from his pupils in the shortest possible time. If the system of instruction could be made attractive and interesting we might be able to avoid the high percentage of waste which now takes place—it has been said that two out of every ten learners fail to maintain interest and are lost. If this is so, what a colossal waste of effort!

Young ringers who have received elementary instruction in village towers often migrate to the larger cities, and, given the necessary encouragement, soon make the grade. Does this exonerate the ringers in the larger centres from all responsibility for giving elementary instruction? Hardly so. They should do their share.

THAT EXTRA POSTAGE

Out of the 1,038 annual postal subscribers
399 have kindly sent the sum of 1s. 5d. or more to cover the increase in postage. Is your name amongst them?

The memorial service to Thomas Wilfred Taffender will be held at St. Mary's, Lambeth, on September 15th. It was at this church that Mr Taffender rang his last peal, immediately after which he had great difficulty with his sight.

A reader from Lancashire writes: 'What did the Lancashire Association secretaries think about the "cartwheel" at Mossley?'

When sending in a peal from Youlgreave.
Mr. Francis R. Lowe writes: 'I have enclosed a small donation of 5s. towards the publication of peals in "The Ringing World."' Thank you, Mr. Lowe

The peal of Minor at Paul, Cornwall ('Ringing World,' August 24th), was not his 'First of Minor' but 'First of Minor in four methods,' writes Mr. Gordon Walford, from Wellington, Somerset.

Owing to a typographical error in last week's 'Ringing World,' it was stated that the Roving Ringers' tour in East Anglia was the eighth of its kind. It was, in fact, the fifth.

To help forward the ringers of Hamilton Cathedral, New Zealand, Mr. A. White, of Auckland, their nearest bell-ringing neighbour, makes the journey of 80 miles once a month.

The ringer of the second bell in the peal of Stedman Triples at Caldicot, Mon., on August 25th, was Brynley J. Parry. He is only 12 years of age and rang his bell faultlessly. This youngster is to be commended for his outstanding performance.

A correspondent writes us that Mr. Frank
V. Sinkins is the second oldest ringer to ring a tower-bell peal. On August 22nd he took part in a peal at Burnham for Princess Margaret's birthday, his age being 86 years and 7 months. Mr. James Wilkins rang a peal one month after his 87th birthday.

BELFRY GOSSIP

A short account of the history of Evesham Bell Tower and its Bells will be broadcast in the Midland Home Service at 6.30 p.m. to-day (Friday, September 7th) in the programme 'Around and About.'

The conductor of the quarter peal of Stedman Triples rung at Ealing, Middlesex, on July 29th, was Mr. H. J. Gaylard.

Mr. E. Eade, of Buxted, Sussex, would like to know if there are any other churches with the same dedication as at Buxted, St. Margaret, Queen.

Prebendary E. V. Cox calls attention to one of the clues in 'The Times' crossword puzzle of August 23rd: 'Robert with a crown among the bells (3. 5).' The solution, 'Bob Major,' we feel certain is apparent to all our readers.

The peal of Doubles at Winford, Somerset, on August 21st, besides being a birthday compliment to Princess Margaret, was also in celebration of six silver weddings, viz.: Mr. and Mrs. B. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. A. Worle, Mr. and Mrs. R. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. F. Patch,
Mr. and Mrs. S. Stock and Mr. and Mrs.
E. Ball, all of Winford.

The Editorial Committee acknowledge with gratitude donations towards 'The Ringing five others in his county. Mr. F. White, of Ipton, in sending £1. any surplus to go towards the same object, says he is now debarred from ringing but retains his interest in the art and in this journal, having been a reader of the first issue.

THE UNIVERSITIES ASSOCIATION TOUR

BRISTOL WEEK, AUG. 3rd-11th — SMALL PARTY SHARE LARGE SURROUNDINGS WITH W.A.E.
SUMMER SCHOOL — C.C. PRESIDENT TRAVELS 1,424 MILES TO PARTICIPATE — RINGING IN WESTERN COUNTIES

BY invitation of the University Association, the 1951 U.A. ringing week was at Bristol, with headquarters at Wills Hall set in ideal surroundings on Durdham Downs. Opened in 1929, Wills combines the quadrangular form of the Oxford and Cambridge colleges with all the 'mod. cons.' of to-day: and though having acquired a ring of satellite dwellings to meet the demands of an expanding university, is still able to seat all its 250-odd students in the great dining hall. Our party was 'small fry' for the staff (in contrast with its overwhelming effect last year at the small hotel in Lincoln I), and it took just a little time for the large W.A.E. summer school to realise our presence ... but it did!

Early arrivals on Friday were served tea and the atmosphere of past 'weeks' was soon recaptured. But there were new faces to the summer gathering, and we were thrilled to have with us our president, Mr. Edwin H. Lewis, who had motored down from his Highland home. Evening ringing was at Emmanuel, Clifton, where we were met by Mr. H. S. Gregory, who before the war was with Stephen Wood at Clifton Parish Church. As we recalled, both Church and Stephen were the victims of air raids at Bristol. Our president quickly assumed keen interest in the raising and lowering of the bells, which he maintained throughout the week to the benefit of many of us. Later that evening a small group assembled in the secretary's room for committee duties (selecting Saturday peal bands this time) while the lucky majority indulged in freedom!

Except for peal attempts the whole week-end was spent in Bristol, which, despite the loss of bells by enemy action, still has rich fare to offer. On Saturday morning we visited the ancient city church of SS. Philip and Jacob, Old Market, and the modern Church of St. Ambrose, both of which are proud possessors of vigorous bands. Mr. Edwin J. Brown greeted us at the former, and the 'going' of the bells (eight, tenor 20 cwt.) left nothing to be desired. It was no 'surprise' to hear that the Sunday band ring a whole array of 'Surprise' methods and the air of leadership was very refreshing. For their weight (tenor 11½ cwt.) the eight bells of St. Ambrose's gave good account of themselves and a whisper about their 'pealability' was overheard all right.

The afternoon peal attempts were at Mangotsfield and Wrington. The band sent into Gloucestershire lost Superlative but better luck attended the efforts of those who went to the Somerset tower, for ever to be associated with the name of Maier Hesse. Stedman Caters in 3½ hours is a tribute to the perfect 'going' of the superb bells with their 37-cwt. tenor; and it was not spoilt by speed—or if so the president of the Central Council and Joe Dyke were parties to the crime! Non-pealers rang on the light octave at Holy Nativity, Knowle (church blitzed, tower intact), where William Cave instructed the band for the bells when installed; and also ascended the tall, slender tower of St. Stephen's to try the recently-rehung ring of ten. There was also opportunity for ringing at St. John's-on-the-Walls (six, 11 cwt.), and St. James', Horsefair (ten, 28½ cwt.), where the Bristol City Branch were meeting.

On Sunday we divided up into groups for service ringing and spread our resources to maximum extent. We were privileged to ring on the twelve bells at famous St. Mary Ratcliffe both morning and evening (where the Master, Mr. E. Hancock, warmly welcomed us), and twice also on the tens at St. Stephen's and St. James'; while once during the day we were at St. Matthew's, Kingsdown (eight, 22 cwt.), Emmanuel, Clifton, St. John's-on-the-Walls, Christchurch (still another ten) and at Stoke Bishop (six, 13½ cwt.).

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

At lunch we were privileged to receive as guests, Sir Philip Morris, vice-chancellor of the University, and Lady Morris; Colonel Kendall, warden of Wills Hall, and Mrs. Kendall; Professor S. H. Piper, president U.B.S.C.R.; and Professor R. J. Brocklehurst, captain of the ringers at Stoke Bishop. Demonstration handbell ringing preceded the group photograph which will long be treasured by all.

After supper U.A. again played hosts at Wills, this time to the ringers of Bristol from both City and Rural Branches of their Association, a happy, combined company of nearly 70. Our president spoke appreciatively of the great welcome being accorded us, and the Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, Mr. John G. Jefferies, of Mangotsfield, responded simply but effectively.

So came Monday and our first excursion, with the expected mixture of cars, motor-bikes, auto-cycle and humble pedallists. First stop was at Long Ashton, of Cedar Institute fame, where at the Church of All Saints, with its glorious 30-cwt. tenor octave, we were met by Mr. Yeo, a grand old man of the bells, and his Vicar. Thence to Wraxall (eight, tenor 23½ cwt.) and already the richness of Somerset towers had been sampled and appetites whetted for more. A course of Somerset Surprise suitably expressed our appreciation. It was a trifle difficult finding the old church at Nailsea and a rather frightened dog effectively kept us at bay until Leonard Derrick came to our aid. An adjoining 'Ring of Bells' was then visited and packed lunches kept good company with local cider as approval of our Somerset environment steadily (?) mounted. Before finally parting company with Nailsea and Leonard, Ronald Clouston had viewed grandfather clocks, and Joyce Lewis been presented with a fragment of Nailsea glass. Onwards to the Bristol Channel at Clevedon where St. Andrew's Church (eight, 14½ cwt) was our venue, and then to St. Peter's, Portishead, where the first ladies' peal was rung. By this time the Bank Holiday weather was fast deteriorating into a deluge which was experienced in good measure en route to Abbots Leigh, but fortunately the journey home over Clifton Suspension Bridge was short and hot baths and dinners proved excellent restoratives: so much so that most members endeavoured to visit two evening practices, at St. James's and Stoke Bishop, an enterprise which if anticipated would have benefited from a modicum of direction.

CORPORATE COMMUNION

On Tuesday morning a service of Corporate Communion was conducted by Canon Peacey in the beautiful Wills Hall Chapel. The day's peal efforts both came to grief, at Winford (six, 16 cwt.) a missed 'bob' preventing Joe Dyke from approaching one step nearer his century of Somerset towers: while at Banwell (eight, 23 cwt.), tower-sway helped to jeopardise a peal of Cambridge. Non-pealers had much better fare, first at Backwell and then on to the newly-restored bells at Yatton (eight, 24 cwt.), where a wonderful job has been done by the bell-founders to elevate this ring into the premier class. Here the overhead view of the bells recalled the unique set-up at Buckfast Abbey. Other towers visited this day were Congresbury, a rather heavy-going eight with tenor of 35 cwt., Winscombe (eight, 19 cwt.) and following a ringers' tea at the Bell Inn, Wrington, Barrow

Gurney (eight, 14½ cwt.), which was reached only after most of the transport had piled up in a cul-de-sac to provide a good U.A. tale for the future. In the evening there was a further opportunity of visiting Redcliffe when we joined with the St. Philip's ringers in their monthly practice.

A claim that Wednesday's tower itinerary provided a feast of ringing without equal would be difficult to refute. A 35-seater coach absorbed the whole party except for one car-load, and first call was at Chewton Mendin of wide renown; perhaps it was understandable that the touch of Spliced Surprise was not curtailed sufficiently to leave on schedule. Next, Wells Cathedral, the heaviest ten-bell tower, where half a course of Cambridge Royal fittingly ended our ringing, and then Evercreech, not long since augmented to ten, where we were glad to meet Henry Sanger whose youthful band is making such tremendous progress. At Queen Camel the stately tempo of the heaviest six was experienced with no little thrill, but Somerset just misses being able to claim the heaviest eight, for Sherborne lies over the border in Dorset. The Abbey Church, with its warm coloured stone striking a contrast with the greyness of Somerset towers, has a beauty of its own and the bells and Abbey, we felt were worthy of each other. The return journey was more devious than intended and we reached Ditchat 45 minutes late, but not too late to enjoy this further Somerset 'prima donna' among octaves (tenor 24 cwt., like Chewton Mendip and Yatton), or to hear a favourable comment on the perfect lower from Joe Dyke who had motored over for his final glimpse of us. Back at Wills full justice was done to a cold supper and about 10 p.m. we embarked on a general meeting of the Association.

Two peals were scored on Thursday morning. Double Norwich at Bitton and New Gloucester at Marshfield: non-pealers en route to Bath ringing at Keynsham and Newton St. Loe, and in Bath at St. Mark's, Lyncombe. After lunch we were made extremely welcome at All Saints', Weston, which church boasts a band of over 20 loyal and keen ringers, and then at Twerton. Unfortunately Bath Abbey bells were not available owing to a broken clapper so visits were made to the sixes at Bathaston and Bathampton. On our return journey to Bristol some brisk ringing was effected on the very light octave at Corston (tenor 9½ cwt.). At 9.30 p.m. the Order of Compline was sung unaccompanied at the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Stoke Bishop, this being taken by the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow.

THE LAST FULL DAY

Friday, our last full day, discovered a fully-mechanised fleet of seven cars and four motor-bikes heading north into Gloucestershire, a complete change from the Somerset days. Calling first at Henbury (eight, 20½ cwt.) where the stone tombstones to freed African slaves of over two centuries ago had recently been painted, the column advanced to Almondsbury, another octave ring, thence to Olveston. The cider here at lunch was more potent even than the Somerset products but perhaps it was the very receptive state of the crowd of happy but tiring ringers. In the afternoon we visited Thornbury a first-class eight (tenor 24 cwt.), the detached tower at Berkeley where three leads of Clifton Royal were rung and finally Stone with its midget six (tenor 7½ cwt.) in its midget tower.

So our farewell social evening had arrived. All week we had more than held our own with the summer school (indeed they displayed much more interest in us than we in them). Like us.

they too were due to make merry and far-sightedness on the Wills staff had transplanted us from our adjacent common room to the lounge and conservatory at Down House, one of the annexes. It was a warm August evening and while daylight lasted we lingered on terraces, seemingly relaxing for the first time since we arrived. Slowly we became drawn into the warmth and lightness indoors, slowly too our own spirits melted and vaporised into a spirit of jollity. Mr. Lewis told Scotch yarns, York-Bramble as well as mystifying us spun some excellent stories, certain members of U.B.S.C.R. rang tunes on handbells—results of secret and assiduous practice during the week—and we danced to Percy Cave's piano medleys. When we returned to Wills the summer school was already abed.

At breakfast on Saturday morning our president expressed appreciation to the University of Bristol Society for the wonderful time they had given us, mentioning particularly Jack Worrall, its secretary, who had undertaken the preliminary arrangements, and Ivor Trueman, its Master, who had taken over the main organisation and seen it successfully through. Tribute must also be paid to Marie Cross for her sustained efforts as Ringing Master, catering for the needs of every individual, no mean achievement by any standards, and hers were high. Except for final peal attempts, the week was over for another year. Of these, Bob Major was lost at Wotton-under-Edge, but Cornwall Surprise at Dursley succeeded. Regrettably the afternoon attempt of Cambridge Royal at St. Stephen's had to be abandoned on account of time limitation. It will be recalled from a recent note in Belfry Gossip that there was to have been an attempt at Redcliffe, but this naturally gave preference to Canon Swann's farewell peal.

Looking back on this Bristol Week with with deepening pleasure one is amazed at the wonderful harmony achieved among a party of all ages. Everyone pulled his or her full weight, everyone felt enriched in experience. This account may indeed fit fittingly close with a quotation from a letter from Mr. Lewis:—

'My mileage was 1,424. The journey to Bristol via Tring was 616 and back from Bristol via Dursley and Cheltenham 516, and I did 292 on ferry service. I rang in 38 towers of which 32 were new to me and I didn't count how many stairs I climbed. I shall certainly try and come to Nottingham, my native city, next year.'

For in 1952, from August 5th to 23rd, we shall again enjoy the hospitality of a University Hall of Residence, though on this occasion we shall not have an established Society to tend our needs but the opportunity of doing that missionary work for which the Universities Association was founded. ## OBITUARY

MR. W. J. SIMMONDS

Mr. W. J. ('Bill') Simmonds, of St. Chad's Cathedral, Birmingham, band passed away on August 31st, at the age of 46 years, after a brief illness.

An enthusiastic member of the Cathedral band and of St. Martin's Guild, he was always most punctual and reliable both for Sunday service and other ringing and his passing leaves a gap that will be hard to fill. His kindly and cheerful good nature coupled with his keenness for anything connected with bells and ringing made him always most pleasant and congenial company.

Beside his worth in connection with ringing Mr. Simmonds was prominently connected with many aspects of parochial work at St. Chad's and he held the office of a churchwarden at the time of his death. Two of his sons are also ringers and members of the Cathedral band and St. Martin's Guild. Requiescat in pace.

AROUND THE DISTRICT MEETINGS

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

Meeting at Hanbury

In these days of modern transport, a meeting at an isolated tower is always a doubtful venture but, thanks to the shuttle service of cars, the Guild was able to invade for the first time the Staffordshire village of Hanbury, on August 25th.

This village, situated rather off the beaten track in truly rural surroundings, will be remembered as the place of a great explosion, for on November 27th, 1944, the countryside for miles was shaken by the terrific explosion at a nearby ammunition store, resulting in heavy loss of life and considerable damage. A stained glass window was recently placed in the church as a memorial to those who lost their lives in such tragic circumstances.

The bells, recently overhauled, are a good octave of moderate weight, easy to handle but a little noisy.

Ringers were present from Burton St. Paul's, Repton, Ticknall, Rolleston, Ashby, Measham, Seales, Hoar Cross and Norton-in-the-Moors. Service in the church was conducted by Mr. Bennett (Lay Reader) in the absence of the Vicar.

Tea was served in the schoolroom and was preceded by a short business meeting with Mr. A. E. Greening in the chair. Four ringing members, including the Rev. F. Pickering, Vicar of All Saints', Burton, and four non-resident life members were elected.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar, Lay Reader, organist and lady helpers were proposed by the secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton.

The next meeting is to be held at Rolleston-on-Dove on September 29th.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Rochester District

Fine weather, a grand old church set on the North Downs overlooking the beautiful Stockbury Valley, and an attendance of over 70 ringers and friends from the Rochester, Maidstone and Lewisham Districts, combined to make this, the first District meeting held in Stockbury, a memorable occasion for all concerned.

After the rather steep ascent up the hill from the Maidstone road, the visitors were rewarded with a grand view of what must be one of the most lovely panoramas of the Kent countryside.

The ringers' service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. E. Edwards, and the lesson was read by Mr. A. Dunk, one of the local ringers. Mrs. Walker presided at the organ and the singing was led by the surplined choir. Opening his address the Vicar welcomed the ringers to Stockbury and said that, as he knew nothing about bells or bellringing, he had been warned not to talk about them, but although the address was based on a text from St. Luke's Gospel, a word dropped here and there left the impression that he knew more about the subject than he had been given credit for.

After the service a marvellous tea was provided by the local ringers and their wives and lady friends in the Village Hall. Needless to say full justice was done to this, and the District secretary thanked the Vicar and all the local friends for making the meeting so enjoyable.

Mr. A. Dunk said that he would like to thank the District Secretary for his help in teaching the local ringers during the past 12 months, and asked him to accept the gift of a cigarette lighter that the band had subscribed for as a token of their appreciation of his services. After this pleasing little ceremony a return was made to the tower and the five bells were kept going with some well-known methods, and also some that were not so well known. B. W.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY

New Zealand Visitors at Otley

The August meeting was held at Otley on the 25th. The bells were raised early and ringing was enjoyed throughout the time available. The business meeting was held in the schoolroom, immediately after tea. The president was absent owing to a broken wrist and Mr. F. Hutchinson (vice-president) occupied the chair. Members were present from Armley, Bradford Cathedral, Bramley, Burley, Calverley, Guiseley, Headingley St. Chad, Leeds Parish Church, Otley, Pudsey, Rothwell, Tadcaster, Boston Spa and Liversedge. The last-named tower was inadvertently omitted from the report of the July meeting; apologies are tendered to the members who made the long journey.

The usual business details were easily dealt with and one new member of the Otley tower, Miss Claire Mountain, was elected. A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company was proposed by Mr. F. Gibbard and seconded by Mr. S. Keighley. Mr. Appleyard acknowledged the thanks and hoped everyone had enjoyed their visit to Otley.

The next meeting is due to be held at East Ardsley on September 22nd to enable members to attend the Snowden commemorative dinner at York on September 29th.

During the evening ringing, Professor and Mrs. Soaper, of Otago, New Zealand, came into the tower and showed great interest in the ringing and the bells.

BARNESLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The August meeting was held at Thornhill, near Dewsbury, on a very wet day. A rather small but a very happy meeting was held and some good ringing was enjoyed on a really beautifully-toned ring of six bells in a variety of methods. Ringers were present from Cawthorne, Felkirk, Horbury, Sandal, Silkstone, Liversedge and Leeds Parish, with members of the local company.

Tea was served in the nearby schools. The business meeting followed, the chairman being the president (Mr. N. F. Moxon). An apology for absence from the Rector (Canon Coney), who was away on holiday was received. The business was soon disposed of and the following arrangements were agreed upon for the cup contest at Wath-on-Dearne on September 8th, the annual dinner at Barnsley on October 13th, and the next meeting at Horbury in November. The usual vote of thanks brought the meeting to a close.

Further ringing followed as far as time would allow, good use being made of the bells.

BEVERLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The August meeting of the Society was held at Bridlington on the 11th. Thirty-five members attended, with visitors from London, Luton, Batley and Thorne. The bells were rung in standard methods during the afternoon on the fine ring of eight (tenor 26½ cwt.).

A service was held in the Priory Church, conducted by anon J. W. Lamb, assisted by the Rev. G. Storer, of Hutton Cranswick. A few people on holiday in the town came and joined in the service, and three ladies, who said they had been 'charmed' by the form of service used and the inclusion of handbell ringing, asked to be allowed to take tea with the Society and listen to more handbell ringing, if possible, a request that was quickly granted.

After the business meeting the ringers returned to the tower and kept the bells going to Treble Bob, Little Bob and Stedman.

LEICESTERSHIRE VETERANS 'GET TOGETHER'

A NOVEL GATHERING AT TWYFORD

UNIQUE in the history of ringing was the meeting arranged by Mr. Harold J. Poole, president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, on August 18th, at Twyford and Ashby Folville.

Although the Leicester Diocesan Guild is one of the babies of the Exercise, it has behind it the traditions of the Midland Counties Association, from which it originated, and within its boundaries are belfry stalwarts and church workers of many years' standing.

Twenty-six elderly ringers assembled from various parts of the diocese and during the afternoon many stories of former days were overheard, from which it was obvious to the listeners that the whole complexion of ringing in the Leicester District had completely changed during the past 50 years. For instance, we were reminded of the alternative exit from St. Margaret's belfry, Leicester, to the street, and the reason why the Vicar had it bricked up. Many other interesting stories were narrated during the reminiscing of the various little groups of colleagues of former days. To those who find pleasure and satisfaction in pleasing others there was the reflection of happiness on the faces of all present.

Ringing commenced at Twyford soon after three o'clock, and, but for the break for the taking of photographs, continued until 4.30 p.m. All then attended a very delightful service conducted by the Vicar of Twyford (the Rev. C. N. Daybell), and it was obvious that much thought had been given by him in the selection of hymns, psalms and lesson, which were most appropriate for the occasion. In his address he congratulated the ringers upon reaching their respective ages and thanked them for the many years of faithful service to the Church.

A splendid tea in keeping with the usual Twyford standard had been arranged by Mrs. R. Spencer and her helpers.

THE OTHER END OF THE LIFE LINE

After tea Mr. H. J. Poole said how pleased he was that so many of the elderly ringers had been able to attend. The idea first occurred to him following the 'Youth Rally' in the Leicester Diocese when no less than 70 young ringers (boys and girls) under 21 years of age met at Belgrave for a tea and social evening. He thought it would be pleasant to arrange an assembly of those ardent church workers at the other end of the life-line. Much thought had to be given to it and in order that no one should be missed, information was sought through each district secretary.

Twyford and Ashby Folville had been selected because both had easy-going bells, with ground-floor ringing chambers, and of course the name of Twyford had long been famous for the very fine ringers' teas. In expressing a very sincere welcome, he referred particularly to the very great pleasure of having with them Mr. John O. Lancashire, now 86 years of age, and the only surviving member of the band which rang the 'silent' peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells many years ago. He also made special mention of Mr. Josiah Morris (old Joe—the Rhythm King), who is still ringing handbell peals at the age of 84 years.

Mr. Lancashire replied and thanked Mr. Poole for all his trouble and kindness in arranging the meeting.

A move was then made to Ashby Folville for some ringing on the ring of eight. The highlight here was the ringing of some Grandsire Triples by a band of over 80's, whose aggregate ages totalled 659 years. They were John O. Lancashire, 86; W. Henson, 80; G. Thompson, 84; E. W. Cartwright, 81; J. E. Clarke, 82; W. Wills, 81; J. Morris, 84; and F. J. Sutton, 81.

At the conclusion of the ringing all were transported either to their homes or to some convenient public transport.

The meeting was a great success. Seldom do the older ringers have the chance of ringing together in such numbers and to the exclusion of others and appreciation for the opportunity was expressed on all sides.

BIOGRAPHIES

Their chance of coming into the present day limelight is remote and no apologies are needed for appending brief details of each as a ringer and church worker:—

LANCASHIRE, John O.—86 years. His grandfather, Edwin Dolby, managed Lord Wantage's estate and lived at Ardington, Berks. As a boy he accompanied his grandfather to ring one of two bells usually rung at 8 a.m. on Sundays to indicate that there would be a service later on that day. His grandfather gave him the love of bells as he had been a ringer at Sutton Bonington, Notts, where he also played the bass viol in the days before organs were in common use. John O. was a member of the Leicester band which rang the peals of 'silent' Stedman on handbells and is the only surviving member of the band which rang the 'silent' peal of Stedman Cinques. Also made a name as a composer and will be remembered for his 'odd bob' peal of Stedman Triples. He was for many years a regular member of the St. Martin's (now Cathedral) band at Leicester.

MORRIS, Josiah.—Commenced his ringing at St. Margaret's, Leicester, over 60 years ago. He is now 84 years old and, as will be seen in 'The Ringing World,' is still ringing in handbell peals. His peal total is nearly 400 and it is hoped that before long he will accomplish his 400th peal. For seven years he was tower keeper at St. Mark's, Leicester, where the bells have not been rung—owing to the bad condition—for 30 years. By his ability on handbells 'old Joe' is known locally as the 'Rhythm King.' He still rings for services at St. Margaret's and will be remembered as the verger there for many years.

THOMPSON, George.—84 years. Commenced ringing at the age of 15 years at Higham-on-the-Hill, Leicestershire. He still rings at Hinkley and joined that band in 1888.

CLARKE, John E.—82 years. Commenced ringing at Forthampton, Gloucestershire, about 1884, under the instruction of his father. He rings regularly at St. Thomas's Church, South Wigston, and has been a ringer there since the bells were put in in 1901. He has rung in 58 peals.

CARTWRIGHT, W. Ernest.—81 years. Commenced ringing in 1886. His first peal was one of Grandsire Caters in 1888 and was conducted by J. W. Taylor. For many years he was a member of All Saints', Loughborough, band, but in recent times has found the many steps to the belfry just that much too much for him.

SUTTON, Felix J.—81 years. Has been a ringer at Kegworth for 66 years and for the past 50 years has been captain of the band there. He has rung in ten peals.

WILLS, Walter.—81 years. Commenced ringing at Hinkley about 1888. For some years did not do any ringing, but upon the augmentation of Aylestone bells to eight, his love of bells was rekindled and he has rung regularly for services at Aylestone since then. He regularly goes out to Guild meetings and other ringing practices.

COLLINS, Tom.—81 years. Commenced ringing at Rothley, Leicestershire, in 1885 and remained there for 15 years. He has been a regular ringer at Mountsorrel for the past 51 years and has rung in six peals.

HENSON, William.—80 years. Was born at Market Bosworth and has been a ringer there for the past 60 years.

BEADSMOORE, Ernest W.—78 years. Has been a ringer at St. Helen's, Ashby-de-la-Zouch, for the past 61 years and has conducted peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples on the bells there. He has also rung in peals of Surprise Minor and Major and Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus.

READ, Stephen.—78 years. Started ringing at Easton, Hunts, in 1890. For the past 45 years has been a sidesman and regular ringer at Asfordby.

LITTLEWOOD, Evander L.—77 years. Regular ringer at Asfordby for 62 years. Was verger four years and sidesman 14 years. Has rung for five inductions at Asfordby.

LOMAS, E. E.—77 years. Has been a regular ringer at Asfordby for the past 53 years. He joined the Goscote Society for Ringers when 18 years old. He has been a sidesman at Asfordby for the past 25 years.

MANCHESTER, Thomas E.—77 years. Commenced to ring in 1907. He has been verger and sexton at Hose, near Melton Mowbray, since 1914.

WRIGHT, William John.—77 years. Commenced ringing in 1905 since when he has been a regular member of the band at Wymondham. He has rung in three peals of Doubles.

NEEDHAM, Joseph.—75 years. Commenced his ringing at Barwell and has been a ringer at St. Mary's Church for the past 66 years. He has been parish clerk for 43 years and was preceded in that office by his father and grandfather.

SHARPE, W.—74 years. Has been a ringer at St. Michael's Church, Hose, near Melton Mowbray, since 1902 and for the past 25 years has been a churchwarden there.

NORTON, Joe.—74 years. Joined the choir at Billesdon in 1887 and commenced to ring there in 1890. For the past 61 years has been a regular ringer and chorister at Billesdon.

GRUNDY, John H.—73 years. Rang his first peal in 1895 and for over 55 years has been a ringer at All Saints' Church, Loughborough. He is also verger at the church and has held that office for many years. He has rung in quite a number of peals, some quite recently.

CLARKE, William H.—72 years. Commenced ringing at Thurlby, Lincs, in 1894. He rang for Queen Victoria's Jubilee for which he was paid 5s. Was formerly a member of Knighton, St. Mary's, band, Leicester, and for the past 30 years has been ringing at St. John-the-Divine's, Leicester.

GRANT, John T.—71 years. Commenced to ring at Peatling Parva, Leicestershire, when he was ten years old and later rang at Gilmorton. He came to Leicester round about 1917 and rang regularly at St. Mary-de-Castro until the bells were condemned in 1919. For the past 20 years he has been a member of the Cathedral band, Leicester.

CADLE, Joseph.—71 years. First started ringing at Long Crendon, Bucks. He has been a ringer at Hugglescote since 1900 and for many years was conductor of the band there.

WALKER, George.—71 years. Has been a ringer at Hugglescote since 1900.

BOWLEY, E. H.—69 years. Commenced ringing at Copt Oak in 1900 since when he has been a regular ringer there. He is also a member of the choir which he joined in 1891. Although he has only one arm, he is a very able ringer and rings the treble for the multi-method Minor band at Copt Oak.

Leicestershire Veterans—Cont.

MARRIOTT, Ernest.—67 years. Learned to ring at St. Martin's, Stamford, in 1903 and in 1904 went to live at Hull. He joined the Holy Trinity band under the conductorship of Charles Jackson and one of his choicest memories is a peal of Treble Ten in which he rang, conducted by Gabriel Lindoff and in which were the following other well-known ringers:—T. H. Taffender, Sid Palmer, William Pearson, Charles Jackson, Clement Glenn and James George. At the age of 24 years a physical disability in which he lost one leg put a stop to much of his ringing, but his interest did not diminish, and he is seen regularly at many of the Leicester Diocesan Guild meetings. He has been a regular member of the Wymondham band since he went to live there.

SMITH, Edward E.—79 years. Started ringing at St. Margaret's Church, Leicester, and rang there for many years. He afterwards joined St. Martin's band, Leicester, and for some years rang there with George Cleal, Sam Cotton and other Leicester stalwarts. He took part in Queen Victoria's Jubilee peal at St. Martin's. He recalls being in London when Queen Victoria died and took part in a muffled quarter peal of Stedman Caters at St. Margaret's, Westminster. He now lives at Thurnby, near Leicester, and for some time has not been able to take an active part in ringing.

What a grand record of church work the above-named ringers have to their credit. Is it not on the foundation laid by them and of others who assisted them that the present advanced ringing has been built? Such years of faithful service to the church reflects just what the church meant and still means to them. Is it not right and proper to ask: 'Does it mean as much to us?' There is little doubt that many of the rings of bells upon which we have the privilege of ringing to-day were maintained and in some cases put in the church towers by and through the enthusiasm of these stalwarts of so many years' standing. Let us not forget what we owe to them and let us further see to it that they are not forgotten. H. J. P.

A DOUBLE SILVER WEDDING

The peal of Grandsire Doubles at St. Mellons, Cardiff, recorded elsewhere in this paper, was of special importance to the Sunday service band. It was rung to celebrate the double silver wedding of four of its members. Mr. and Mrs. L. Hulbert and Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams are all ringers, although ill-health has recently forced Mrs. Williams to give up. In addition, two other members of the Hulbert family, namely, the Misses Dyllis and Edna Hulbert, are both regular Sunday ringers at St. Mellons Church. Miss Dyllis Hulbert, who took part in the peal, is the first lady ringer to participate in a peal at St. Mellons.

Mr. George Monk, the treble ringer, will celebrate his 77th birthday in December, and he is one of the original band who started when the bells were installed in 1914. He taught the entire band to ring with the exception of Mr. Williams, who learnt at Rumney. Mrs. Williams was one of the ladies' band which was formed at Rumney during the 1914-18 war.

The tower captain, Mr. R. H. Addis, unfortunately had to withdraw from the band owing to a poisoned arm. Grandsire Doubles was chosen as being the method which the ringers knew best of all. The service band has, however, on its repertoire of methods (rung regularly for service, the following:—Stedman Doubles, Plain and Little Bob, and Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor. The peal was a great credit to the members of the band and they look forward to repeating the performance in celebration of a double golden wedding. J. R. W.

MORE AUGUST OUTINGS

IN SEARCH OF EXPERIENCE
From Wales to England

In contrast to the general movement of touring teams from the East to the West, Saturday, August 11th, saw an excursion in the opposite direction when the Sunday service band of Llanbadarn Fawr, near Aberystwyth, left that village at the early hour of 7.30 a.m. for a visit from Wales into England.

The scheduled time of arrival at Machynlleth, 18 miles distant, was 8.25 a.m. and dead on time the Rector, the Rev. L. Hughes, and Foreman Davies, as well as Mr. H. B. Fearn, were there to lead the visitors into church. After the opening prayer by the team's Vicar, the Rev. O. Geoffrey Rees, M.A., some Grandsire Triples and Doubles were enjoyed.

A quarter of an hour was gained on the schedule to Newtown by 10 a.m., despite the impediments of steep hills, narrow, sinuous roads and cattle on the highway. The Rector, the Rev. H. S. Willis, had already raised the bells, and, following the opening prayer by the Rev. E. E. T. Jones, curate of Llanbadarn Fawr, the band, joined by the Rector, indulged in a short session of Grandsire Doubles. They proceeded on their way only after accepting a kind and pressing invitation to Newtown again in the near future.

An unofficial break for refreshments cost the party 15 minutes' delay here but the time table was duly honoured to Welshpool, where the curate, the Rev. Albert Edwards, M.A., was thus able to renew his association with the Rev. O. G. Rees, and where Montgomeryshire ringers were assembled in force to welcome the West Walians. They joined in a touch of Triples conducted by their captain.

St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, was reached at 12.45 p.m. with a welcome from Messrs. Beddow, Owen, Brooks and Willcox. For the youngsters it was a unique experience to take part in the ringing of the twelve. These back bells, especially, leave one with memories of melodious resonance.

When lunch was completed, St. Michael's was the first on the programme but, unfortunately, it was not possible to do more than raise and lower the bells in this tower. There was compensation at St. Mary's where all ten bells beneath the 210 feet high steeple were manned by the tourists before Messrs. A. Owen and Ernie Willcox helped with some Grandsire. Of all the bells of Shrewsbury, these undoubtedly possess the best tone and cannot but delight every musical ear. The friendly quip of an affable constable on his beat outside, after the allotted half-hour's ringing, was 'You called a Bob in the wrong place.'

Condover, five miles distant, was the next rendezvous, the tower from which 'beautiful' ringing spreads itself across the hills and plains of southern Shropshire. Ringing from the floor of the church to the length of 60 feet ropes was certainly a novel experience for the adolescents. Towards the end of the half-hour, Mr. H. Lloyd, of Barrington, irresistibly called by the sound of the bells, arrived by motor-cycle, and he then acted as guide to the driver on the country lane journey to Berrington Church, approximately two miles distant.

This was the last tower to be visited and nothing that had happened in the course of the ringing tour surpassed the six-score of Grandsire Doubles rung by Messrs. A. Owen (St. Mary's, Shrewsbury) 1, E. Winstanley (Llanbadarn Fawr) 2, Ernest Cox (Berrington) 3, W. H. Lloyd (Berrington) 4, Ernie Willcox (St. Chad's, Shrewsbury) 5, and W. Ward (Llanbadarn Fawr) 6. This was conducted by Mr. Lloyd before the bells were dropped in peal in fitting climax to a delightful day's ringing.

There still remained the 80 miles' return journey along which everybody from time to time would note the comfortable coach, the good shopping at Shrewsbury, the improvement of the weather from three o'clock onwards, the relaxation and singing through Mid-Wales, and the heavy rain and mist which came on near the Plinlimmon Mountains as they slope down to Cardigan Bay.

There is already an eagerness to save modest weekly shillings for next year's event, when it is hoped that the six ringers unavoidably absent this time will be among the party. As the Vicar so aptly put it: Mae hwn in siwr o fod yn brofiad i'r clochdyddion o gyd. (This is sure to be an experience to all the ringers.)

STAPLETON, BRISTOL

On August 18th, the ringers of Holy Trinity Church, Stapleton, whose ringing of Stedman Doubles was such an outstanding incident (ahem!) in a recent edition of Ted Ray's 'Calling all Forces' programme, took another opportunity of practising rounds on four different six-bell towers in Gloucestershire.

We thought it at least good form not to set off without the ringing captain so the start was a little delayed while a phone call to his wife succeeded only in worrying her to death because he had left home in good time. However, a belated bus brought not only its own but also our 'conductor' and we were soon under way.

Four more stops to pick up the rest of our party and an uneventful ride brought us on time to Wickwar (tenor 12 cwt.), where a quick review of our capabilities showed that although we could form two distinct bands, each capable of ringing up to Bob Minor, we should have been unable to make even one Triples team.

However, a well-filled hour passed all too quickly and yet the enjoyment of it was soon surpassed by the beauties of the drive towards Woodchester, near Stroud. The weather was perfect and from the heights of the Cotswolds we could see across the Severn to Sugar Loaf Mountain and beyond to the Brecon Beacons in Wales—a truly memorable view.

We were sorry to drop down once more into Woodchester but the whole of our party was soon fully occupied by the two attractions of our visit—the bells (tenor 13 cwt.) for the ringers, and the Roman Villa, with its famous mosaic pavement, for the non-ringers.

The archaeologists scored over the campanologists who found the bells somewhat lacking in tone, 'go' and audibility—the two trebles are hung ten feet above the other four. Early in the proceedings, those less stalwart had faded away, ostensibly to 'hear what they sound like outside' (Belfrymanship for 'you can keep 'em'). We covered most of our repertoire and, with two of the local ringers, completed a successful 'fall'. Thank you, Woodchester!

Our non-ringers, on the other hand, were greatly impressed by the Roman excavations, which have attracted 40,000 visitors in the last six weeks and the proceeds of admission at 1s. per head go towards the upkeep of the church. £2,000 in six weeks! Start digging, you hard-up parishes—you never know!

To ensure a prompt get-away, tea was arranged at the next stop, Stonehouse. Everyone did justice to a good meal, and then what should have been an hour's ringing was extended by twenty minutes because of the qualities of the bells, and here we rang Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, St. Simon's and Erin Doubles and Bob Minor and Oxford Treble Bob.

Before leaving, we thanked Mr. Tom Price for all his help in arranging tea, parking facilities, ringing at Stonehouse and for many helpful hints for the day's programme.

Reluctantly we made for Stone, our final stop of the day, where, with gentle handling, the tuneful little six (tenor 7½ cwt.) gave us an enjoyable hour. The 'Berkeley Vale,' opposite the church, claimed its gradual toll and when those of us in the tower finally called 'Lower away' we had been beaten to it. R. G. B.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CHARGES FOR PEALS

Dear Sir,—I am in agreement with your correspondent who suggests a fee for the publication of peals. A charge of one penny per ringer, or say a standard charge of sixpence per peal would be no hardship and could be easily collected and sent by the person submitting the peal.

It would create little administrative work since publication of the peal would act as receipt of cash and evidence to 'The Ringing World's' auditor of so much income to be accounted for.

After all, a good proportion of our paper is devoted to peal ringing matters and it is only fair that we should help the paper during a difficult period.—Yours, etc.,

NORMAN CHADDOCK.

Rotherham.

NOTE.—Any donations that accompany peals or quarter peals are most acceptable.—Ed.

PATERNAL CONCERN!

Dear Sir,—I write to give you warning that I intend to promote a Bill in Parliament to have church bells destroyed and bellringers exterminated. I also propose to sue someone for damages.

Some time ago my son caught the disease, and started a band or team or whatever it is called. He now spends most of his time touring the country ringing. Result: although I own a car it is never available for my use. I have a typewriter which is becoming sadly worn through typing strings of figures which I am told are 'methods.' I used to have someone who could do my shopping for me—I must now do my own. I find myself dreaming of minors and majors and bobs and doubles. Worst of all, I get impatient if 'The Ringing World' does not arrive on time.

As I like to be fair I enclose a small contribution towards the cost of briefing Counsel for the Defence.—Yours sincerely,

ARTHUR M. MORRIS.

Childer Thornton, Cheshire.

AN UNWRITTEN RULE

Dear Sir,—In congratulating the bands who rang peals at Sherborne and Wyke Regis during the Kent ringers' tour, may I remind those responsible of an 'unwritten rule' of the West Country—that peals rung in an area covered by a Guild should be recorded for that Guild. It seems strange that peals rung in a neighbouring Association were rung for that Association, but when the touring bands were welcomed into the Salisbury Guild the two peals scored were recorded for the Kent County Association.

The explanation given in the report of the tour by A. P. C. does not cover the point.

I should hate to think it was through lack of courtesy or the fact that life ringing members' subscription had been increased from 2s. 6d. to 5s.

W. C. WEST, Hon. Sec.

Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AFTER

Dear Sir,—I am informed by Mr. C. W. Roberts that he has discovered falseness in a peal of 5.100 Stedman Caters, rung at Gosforth, Northumberland, on August 16th, 1930.

It is included in the 1929-1930 report of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, and I shall be pleased if ringers in possession of this report will mark the figures accordingly.—Yours faithfully,

W. J. DAVIDSON.

Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

EAST KENT'S FRIENDLINESS

Dear Sir,—Having just returned from a Kentish holiday I feel I would like to offer a word of thanks and appreciation to the ringers I met in the eight towers I visited.

I met with the utmost kindness and friendliness and would especially like to thank Mr. F. Cheal, of Rainham, who gave me such a grand welcome: also Mr. Knight and his band at Rochester Cathedral who helped me through my first attempt at Bob Royal 'inside': whilst at Canterbury Mr. Unwin and the Cathedral band enabled me, to ring my first attempt at Grandsire Cinques—with some measure of credit, I believe.

Greetings and thanks to Messrs. Mannering, Baker and Head, at Maidstone, also St. Dunstan's, Canterbury, as well as to Mr. Dobbie and his band at Sittingbourne, where I found a delightful ringing chamber, lovely bells, and a most helpful and friendly company. At Gillingham Parish Church I found a band of keen teen-agers who ring call changes quite well but are anxious to go ahead with chameranging if help can be obtained from one or two competent instructors, and it seems as if there is in this tower good material ready for development. At Rochester I received enquiries about Mr. W. Shute, of Ferndown, whilst Mr. J. T. Dyke's name is a household word at Canterbury.

So here's thanks once again to those likeable ringers of Kent who helped to make so pleasant and memorable the visit of an ordinary ringer of unknown quality.

J. B. P.

Dorset.

THE MUSIC OF THE BELLS

Dear Sir,—I thank the following peal composers who so kindly sent me musical touches containing Queen's, Tittums and Whittington changes:—Rev. J. Kingdon, Chester; Mr. J. T. Dyke, Bath; Mr. Wm. T. Slson, London. S.W.6; Mr. Wm. Shepherd, Addlestone, and an anonymous writer who sent me a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples with the whole three required changes, 30 calls, all bobs.

Now I want eight expert ringers to let the B.B.C. and musicians know what music can be had from a well-tapped touch. These musical touches ought to be published so that all ringers can perform them and give greater pleasure to the British public.—Yours faithfully,

J. M. TURNER.

Moulton, Northamptonshire

A DUPLICATE

Dear Sir,—I feel sure it would interest all those ringers who keep records to know that Nettleham Surprise rung at St. Giles', Lincoln, on June 23rd, 1951, had already been rung at Withyham on March 21st, 1948, and named Withyham Surprise. I have it noted as a method by E. W. Tipler.—Yours faithfully,

S. H. HOARE.

Watford.

KENT RINGERS' TOUR

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read in your issue of August 24th Mr. Cannon's account of the visit to Somerset and Dorset and especially that he had visited Coombe St. Nicholas', Whitestaunton and Wambrook. He stated: 'It is probable that the change ringing on two of them, at least, was the first on the bells.' I do not know to which two he refers but I am pleased to be able to say that I took a band of ringers to Whitestaunton and Wambrook in the spring of this year and change ringing was rung in both towers.

Incidentally, I was sorry to learn whilst on holiday in Cornwall that one evening I probably missed Mr. Cannon and his party by about eight miles.—Yours sincerely

E. T. P. FIELD

Buckland Newton, Dorset.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES

IN COMPETITION

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Turner's letter inquiring whether there are touches containing Whittington's change, I should like to submit a few musical touches of Grandsire Triples, resulting from a little private war between Mr. Tom Farr, of Windsor, and myself, before the war.

Among my touches I found a 322 containing Queen's, Tittums and Whittington's, which I called, and remarked to Mr. Farr that I thought it possible to produce such a musical touch in less changes. Mr. Farr next week presented me with a 308, to which I replied the following week with a 294. Mr. Farr, I thought, broke the rules in winding up the contest with a 252 containing Whittington's at handstroke—I had not even considered using a handstroke row!

The touches referred to above are:—

CAPTAINCY OF MARDEN RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I find in August 24th issue of 'The Ringing World' that Mr. Cannon has conferred upon me the captaincy of the Marden ringers. This is entirely untrue.

While Marden has such a keen and conscientious Sunday service ringing band, led by their very able Ringing Master, Mr. Fred W. Mitchell, they will have no need of my help in this direction.—Yours sincerely,

Marden, Kent.

OUTINGS—Cont.

NAILSEA, SOMERSET

Ringers from Holy Trinity, Nailsea, with friends from neighbouring towers, held their annual outing on August 11th. An early start was made at 8 a.m., and from the opulent comfort of a brand new luxury 41-seater coach, reputed to have cost more than a heavy ring of twelve, the tourists viewed with equanimity the almost continual rain which fell that day, the only apparent adverse effect being a modification of Clifford's sartorial style, the headgear he affected on this occasion having more of a continental motif instead of the Edwardian elegance to which he usually adheres; still, he remembered the gallon jar, so all was forgiven!

This year the tour eschewed foreign parts and kept within the confines of native Summerzet, to Leonard's evident satisfaction. The first stop was on Sedgemoor at Meare; originally an island surrounded by an intensive lake; it was one of the residences of the Abbots of Glastonbury, part of whose manor is incorporated in a farm adjoining the church. The heavyish ring of six here proved a bit odd-struck, but the ringing was quite up to standard. At Ashcott, a new augmentation and rehanging job from the Loughborough foundry made things much easier and it was with reluctance that the party left in order to keep to their schedule. Somerton was reached at 12 noon, and while waiting for the tower key, the magnificent roof was duly admired. After ringing came lunch, and a hurried look around this old town with its ancient town hall and 17th century market cross.

The heaviest rain fell on the trip to Barrington, where the ladies braved the downpour in order to visit the great house. Barrington Court, now the property of the National Trust, but they could only admire the outside as the house was not open that day. Here the ringers made good use of a noisy little ring of six, but unfortunately the church, like the manor, was locked, and the only glimpse available was through a squint in the ringing room. The greatest treat of the day came at Ilminster with its magnificent heavy ring of eight hanging in one of Somerset's finest central towers; the church here is well worth a prolonged inspection, with its memorials to the Wadham family, who founded one of the handsomest of the Oxford colleges. The tourists had tea at Ilminster, a fully satisfying meal and ringing was continued until after 7 p.m., the time of departure, as they were loath to leave those superb bells.

The last call—for ringing—was at Montacute which, in addition to a noble church, boasts of one of the most splendid Elizabethan houses in the whole of England. The tall central tower here is reputed to oscillate to a greater degree than any other, and it is quite believable, as those ringers sitting out swayed backwards and forwards on their stools in an alarming manner, and the weather-vane on top of the tower careered round drunkenly to the dismay of some of the ladies; still, the Vicar, who welcomed the visitors, said the founders who had recently rehung the bells assured him that it was all quite normal, and the locals had become accustomed to this excessive movement, but it made ringing rather difficult as the bells are inclined to drop unexpectedly and they are anything but light to handle.

A final pause was made at Wedmore for liquid fortification on the way home. Thanks are due to the various incumbents and steeple-keepers through whose co-operation the arrangements were made and to the coach driver who manipulated his huge conveyance through some of the narrowest unsignposted lanes in the county without once losing his way. Ringing ranged from Queen's to Cambridge.

E. G. C.

KEYMER, SUSSEX

Together with the Rector, and visitors from Twineham, Hurstpierpoint and Godshill, the ringers of Keymer, Sussex, and their wives and friends, held their third annual outing on August 11th.

The coach left Keymer at 7.30 a.m. and set out for Salisbury. The weather very quickly deteriorated and by 11 o'clock had settled down to a steady downpour—a downpour which continued all day. At Stockbridge the pleasant ring of six (tenor 7½ cwt.) was put to good use for about half an hour.

On leaving Stockbridge we made for Stonehenge but as it was still raining we did not stop and went on to Salisbury. Lunch was taken at Salisbury followed by ringing at St. Martin's. The eight bells (tenor 15 cwt.) were kept going for three-quarters of an hour before we made our way back to the coach and started for Romsey. After tea at Romsey, Mr. A. J. Backshall (captain) presented Mrs. Romney and Miss Clark with two brooches as a 'thank you' for organising whist drives throughout the year. (To anyone interested, these can prove quite profitable!)

Tea over, the local secretary was found and permission hurriedly obtained to ring the Abbey bells—a smart piece of tower-snatching described by the local paper with the words: 'had the unexpected pleasure of being invited to ring an eight-bell peal on the bells.' (We assumed that it was either the fastest peal on the bells or else some parts had been left out!) The last ring of the day was at Wickham (six, tenor 13 cwt.) and the methods included Cambridge (with the aid of four visitors!). Kent, Plain Bob, Canterbury Pleasure and Grandsire.

The homeward journey was made via Chichester and Amberley (where a stop was made for 'light refreshment'). We arrived home at about 11.30 p.m.—damp but 'appy'!

MID-DEVON BRANCH OUTING

The Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon Guild held its outing on Saturday, August 25th. The party were augmented by members of other branches and the Teign Valley was the venue, where there are a number of six-bell towers.

The first call was at Trusham, where there is a handy ring of six bells, and where the tourists were met by the Vicar. After three-quarters of an hour's ringing, the next objective was Ashton, with its long draught of rope. From here the journey was continued to Christow, where there is a fine ring, after which a halt was called at a wayside cafe for tea. The next venue was Dunsford with its long draught and springy ropes and where it seems the bells require some attention. The last calling place was Tedburn St. Mary, where the bells have only lately been restored after being silent for over half a century, and, incidentally, it was the best tower of the afternoon.

Despite the inclement weather the venture was quite successful and the methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World'

September 8th, 1911

ST. PETER'S, WOLVERHAMPTON

The bells of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter have done duty for more than two centuries. The bell frame being now in a dilapidated condition, the church authorities have decided to have the ten bells recast, with a tenor about 35 cwt., and to place a new steel and iron frame in the tower to carry twelve. The approximate cost of executing this work will be something like £700, and towards this amount about £550 has already been subscribed or promised.

THE RINGING OF DOUBLES

By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD

AMONG many members of the Exercise there is a feeling that Doubles should be rung on five bells without the assistance of a covering bell. The Central Council does not insist on this condition, nor does it lay down that peals of Doubles rung with a cover shall not be recognised. But in the regulations there is an undercurrent of suggestion that peals of Doubles shall be reserved for five bells. In view of the Council's fierce and uncompromising opposition to peals of Triples rung on seven bells the view taken over Doubles may seem strange and perhaps inconsistent. In each case there is a curious odd-bell rhythm, and in each case it might seem that a covering bell was necessary to supply what was lacking to the ear.

The cases of Doubles and Triples are not, however, on all fours. While the rhythm of seven bells all changing is strangely incomplete and unsatisfactory, the rhythm of five bells all changing is not only reasonably complete to the ear, but is also possessed of a charm of its own. The late J. A. Trollope held that the ringing of Doubles, struck slowly and carefully on five bells, was one of the best forms of change ringing to present to the general public either direct or through the broadcasting medium; and there is much to be said for this view. One thing is certain. To ring, let us say, Stedman Doubles accurately on five bells is a great test of a ringer's powers of striking, and, more than this, of his ability to maintain a high standard of striking over a long period. On ten or twelve bells occasional minor faults or misblows may escape notice; on five bells every defect will be startlingly apparent.

Whatever views we may hold on the question of covering bells there can be no doubt that the presence of a tenor behind in Doubles brings one advantage. In Doubles 54's at backstroke are pretty well equivalent to 65's in Minor; and it is a rather striking and interesting fact that while nobody will tolerate 65's at backstroke in Minor, yet in the ringing of Doubles the corresponding odd effect of 54 behind at backstroke causes no comment. As is well known, half the six-scores of Grandsire Doubles bring up reversed tenors at some point, and in other Doubles methods a great number of extents perforce incorporate the same feature. By the addition of a covering bell the effect of 54 at backstroke (considered in Minor to be a serious musical defect) is eliminated, and in this respect it may be argued that the cover justifies itself.

It is often urged that the desirability of ringing Doubles on five bells is based on the general principle that if there are six bells in the tower, then Minor should be rung and not Doubles. It is perhaps a negative argument and does not take into account the possibility of the ringers finding certain methods of Doubles more interesting than Bob Minor, or the desire of ringers to enjoy Doubles with a covering bell, whatever their proficiency. The argument also neglects entirely the question of handbell ringing, where any attempt to urge the ringing of Doubles on five bells only would inevitably land the Central Council in a labyrinth of controversy, involving, among other matters, single-handed handbell peals.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World,' September 15th, 1911

A LETTER FROM THE ANTIPODES

We have received an interesting and welcome letter from Mr. Arthur E. Bames, of Melbourne, who is well known by name to members of the Exercise in this country. Mr. Bames writes:—

'I am sorry to say that the noble art has not many devotees here. It never was in a prosperous condition. . . . In Melbourne we have three rings . . . and the interest is so lukewarm that a combined team cannot be relied on. It is over seven years since a peal was rung in Australia, and only once since then has a peal been near accomplishment, namely, two years ago in Sydney, when a combined band . . . attempted Holt's original and lost it eight leads from home owing to the tenor man failing.

'About four years ago . . . we started on handbells with Bob Major. . . . Later we went in for Grandsire Triples and have rung some long lengths, the most being 2,940 in 94 minutes.

'I can assure you the way of a change ringer in Australia is very hard. . . . The native-born youth is not a glutton for ringing, possibly because no one in authority helps it along. I am afraid that this country will be like America, never a centre of change ringing. . . .'

[It is gratifying that, at the present day, ringing in Australia is in a much healthier condition. This is largely due, we feel, to the efforts of the New South Wales Association's founder and secretary, Mr. W. M. Rowe.]

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

THAT EXTRA POSTAGE

Out of the 1,038 annual postal subscribers, 411 have kindly sent the sum of 1s. 5d. or more to cover the increase in postage. Is your name amongst them?

The Rev. F. L. Edwards tells the story of 'Those Church Mice' in the North Dorset Church Magazine. The very thought of a parson having to sacrifice part of his cheese ration seems to have evoked national consternation, he writes.

'The Rector has been receiving letters from all over the country recommending various expedients for getting rid of the mice without the use of cheese. Two or three correspondents sent gifts of poison, and one a toy mouse; two firms sent mousetraps, while a sympathetic 'Church Mouse' presented two traps and a piece of cheese!

'Meanwhile a representative of the Ministry of Agriculture has proffered his services and treated the chancel with a suitable compound, and we are hoping that we shall be free from visitations of vermin for some time to come.'

The new secretary of the Cambridge University Guild is Mr. C. M. P. Johnson, of Selwyn College.

In connection with the Kent ringers' tour there is a correction in the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Heavitree on July 21st. The composition rung was by Mr. J.
W. Pritchard and the number of changes 5,184.

Mr. Peter Longley, whose first peal is recorded this week, is the ninth post-war pupil of Mr. Norman Chaddock, whose first peal he has called. Mr. J. E. Turley, Mr. H. O.
Chaddock and Mr. G. C. Briggs have taken part in most of these nine separate peals of Bob Major.

The peal of Superlative at Lancaster Cathedral on September 1st was primarily arranged for Mr. Edwin Jennings, who is visiting friends and relations in Lancashire. The band record their appreciation of Mr. R. Rainford (the local tower-keeper) and his family for their kind hospitality offer the peal.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. D. T. Matkin, of Bournemouth, had a disappointing experience recently. He had been invited to take part in a peal of Stedman Cinques at Southwark and his train should have arrived in time to give him one and a half-hour's interval before the peal commenced—but it arrived three hours late and so Mr. Matkin journeyed up to London and had to return home immediately. Mr. J.
Bullock took the vacant rope and a good peal was rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. H.
Langdon and also to the Master.

The Rector of Stour Provost, Dorset, the Rev.
William Uphill, who is secretary of the North Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, writes in his parish notes: 'What is the proper bait for bats which refuse to keep themselves to
'the belfry?'

Mr. Graeme W. Heyes, of 216, Asiot Street South, Ballarat Victoria, Australia, is anxious to read 'The Great Adventure.' Unfortunately this book is out of print. Can any reader oblige?

The quarter peal at Eaton, Leicestershire, on August 30th, was rung by members of the Lincolnshire Constabulary with the exception of Sgt. Wray, who is stationed at Sleaford. The others are all from the Grantham Division. It is believed to be the first quarter peal ever rung by members of the Lincolnshire County Police.

The Rev. J. M. Turner begs to thank the many ringers for their touches giving the changes Tittums, Queen's and Whittington's.
Mr. E. J. Taylor, General Secretary of the Devon Guild, tells him they rang Mr. C.
Sharples' 461 on the melodious bells of Tiverton last Sunday evening in good style. Like the white lady on the white horse at Banbury, we may have music now wherever we go—bell-ringing.

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD PEAL WEEK

Ernest Morris' 1,300th Peal

THE annual week started on August 4th at the Church of St. Mary, Sileby, Leicestershire, with its massive west tower and fine ring of bells (tenor 22 cwt.)—one of the heaviest rings in the Diocese. A wedding delayed the start for the first peal—Yorkshire Surprise Major—which was successfully brought round in 3 hours 28 minutes with father (E. C. Gobey) on the treble and son (E. F. Gobey) on the tenor.

Sunday was a free day to enable us to join our respective bands.

Monday morning saw J. W. C. setting off by car to Coalville to pick up our Leicestershire friends, W. P. Whitehead, J. Underwood and Alan Cattell, the rest of the band travelling by bus or cycle to the Church of St. James, Barton-under-Needwood, Staffs. Barton possesses a fine octave with a large ringing room. On the north wall of the tower hangs a block pendulum which was made by the local blacksmith and has seen service for over 100 years. It was here that our first lady ringer of the week joined us, Mrs. S. H. Jones, wife of the Guild's Ringing Master. Alan Cattell sent us off into Plain Bob Major, being given the figures only ten minutes before going into changes, rounds coming up after 3 hours 3 minutes, this being the writer's 100th peal.

A second peal was on the programme that day at St. Wistan's, Repton. Repton has a fine eight (tenor 17½ cwt.) with a long draught of rope, the sixth bell dating from 1518.

A peal of Bristol was successfully completed in 3 hours 12 minutes, this being the first in the method on the bells, with Walter Patrick as conductor. A most welcome cup of tea was awaiting us at 24, Brook End, known to all peal ringers who visit Repton.

Tuesday found 'J. W. C.' and his old bus on the Derby main road. H. Taylor and M. Bailey were picked up in Derby, and at Dale Abbey the father of the band, Ted Gobey (who gave the Ilkston variation of Kent and Oxford to the Exercise, despite the remarks of a famous ringing parson, who said Kent sounded like a saw with the middle teeth missing).

Greasley was our first tower of the day. Sam Pinder safely delivering Uncle Ernest Morris and young Alan in his old bus from Nottingham bus station. The Church of St. Mary is situated in a grand open spot, a real ringers' paradise, and the local captain, who lives in the Church House, often has to fill the gap for peal attempts.

Whilst awaiting our second lady ringer of the week (Miss Dorothy Templeman) Alan did his usual tour of inspection. Off into Cambridge Major at the command from Alan: alas, after an hour and five minutes' ringing we came to grief. To while away the time we rang touches of Stedman Triples and Cambridge before lowering the bells in peal. The Church of St. Mary, Ilkston, was next visited. This edifice dominates the market place and has a lovely ring of eight (tenor 17 cwt.) dating from 1660.

Before the arrival of W. P. W. and old Sam, several of us took the opportunity of seeing Ted's new invention, a gadget fitted above the tenor whereby should the bell go up, with the clapper the wrong side, it can be righted by pulling a wire in the ringing chamber. Here we were joined by Mr. H. Myatt (Barrow-on-Soar), who has just completed an overhaul of the bells for Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough. Yorkshire was the method chosen, being successfully completed in 3 hours 2 minutes. Walter P. nobly turning in the tenor in great style.

Wednesday saw us at Kegworth, ancient 'Cogesworde', the church dedicated to St. Andrew, standing close to the main Leicester-Derby road, with a ring of eight bells, the two trebles being added in 1940. Here we were met by the local worthy, Mr. Felix Sutton (who was made a member of the local band of ringers in 1888), a saddler by trade, having been in business in the market place for 66 years. Off we went once more into Cambridge, but alas, it just would not go, so Plain Bob it was to be. Much to the astonishment of the band, our conductor called 'Stand' after 47 minutes. Bang went Ernest's 1,300th peal with our conductor full of apologies for his error.

On Thursday the old peal bus left once more on its mission to collect our Leicester friends, the rest of the band doing a bus ride and a spot of hiking to Netherseale. This picturesque village stands beside the River Mease which divides the counties of Derbyshire and Leicestershire and was the home of the Guild's late president (Mr. W. W. Worthington), also its present president (the Ven. H. E. Fitzherbert, Archdeacon of Derby). The church, dedicated to St. Peter, possesses a fine octave (tenor 11 cwt. 2 qr. 7 lb. in G). Miss Hemmings, our third lady ringer, joined us here. Alan once more sent the bells off into Stedman Triples, each one of us determined to get that elusive 1,300th for Ernest, and after 2 hours 46 minutes it was well and truly recorded, each one of us congratulating him in turn.

Measham was the next on the list as our afternoon tower. The Church of St. Lawrence has a handy eight (tenor 10 cwt.) and is a favourite tower of the Guild for peal ringing. For the second time that day Alan sent them off, New Cambridge being well and truly tapped out in 2 hours 45 minutes whilst a thunderstorm raged outside.

On Friday we travelled to the Church of St. Michael, Rocester, F. Wilshaw, R. Barlow and E. Edge, our North Staffs friends, meeting us there. The grand eight (tenor 13½ cwt.) are delightful for peal ringing. Superlative was the method chosen and was completed in 3 hours. During the last lead an alarm clock, which had been placed on a seat behind the ringer of the seventh, suddenly pealed forth, having been set for three hours, all except the culprit wondering what on earth was going on.

SYSTON RINGERS VISIT SIX TOWERS

Ringers from SS. Peter and Paul's, Syston, Leics. on a recent outing visited six towers. As this is believed to be the first tour by members of this tower the route itself was not ambitious and covered the area round Long Eaton and Nottingham.

The first stop was at Breaston where the light six were rung to several methods including Cambridge. At Sawley we found that a wedding was about to begin and amused ourselves in various ways—the ladies of the party attending the service. Afterwards we rang short touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob on the very easy-going eight.

Arriving at Long Eaton short touches of Triples and Major were rung. Some of our ringers found the small belfry rather disconcerting and were quite relieved when we adjourned for lunch. After this meal the first call was at Stapleford where we were unable to ring as another wedding was in progress. So on to Beeston.

Here we found the verger sweeping up confetti but the heaviest eight of the day were soon up and rung to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent and Plain Bob Major. The highlight here was an all-ladies band ringing a touch of Doubles.

The last eight of the day was at Lenton. The bride was just coming out of church so once again we rang for a wedding. We were joined by a young lady from Chester in a touch of Bob Major.

In Nottingham we split up in search of tea. The search seemed to be highly successful as

After the peal, we found the Vicar designate mowing the lawn and, leaving off, he explained that he and his family were spending a holiday camping out, getting things ship-shape, prior to moving in during September. The Vicar's wife and two sons collected all the drinking utensils they could find to enable us to have a most welcome cup of tea.

Saturday came along all too soon, Duffield being our first tower of the day. Duffield was the home of the late Sir. A. Percival Heywood, Bart., founder of the Central Council of Change Ringers and composer of several fine compositions well known to the Exercise. He lies buried within the shadow of the tower he loved so well, a real Englishman in the true sense. The church, dedicated to St. Alkmund, has a fine ring of ten bells (tenor 17 cwt.) with a ringing chamber decorated with numerous peal boards. Our Stoke friends arriving on time were soon met by five of our Derby friends, whilst Joe went to collect the grand old man of the Guild, Ernest Beadmoore. Little Bob Royal should have been the method, but to enable Ernest to complete the Plain Bob group from Minor to Maximus, we decided it would be Bob Royal. The peal was completed in 3 hours 7 minutes, ably conducted by Jack Bailey. To crown his success, Ernest took us along to the 'local' for beer and sandwiches where we discussed various items of interest that had taken place during the week. Having wished Ernest and our Derby friends 'good-day,' we left Duffield in torrential rain for our last tower of the week, West Hallam. Fred, Ted, Sam and Walter were awaiting us on arrival, and after explaining our morning's achievement, the bells were soon sent off into Double Norwich, but alas, it was not to be, as our conductor set them up after an hour's good ringing owing to a bob being missed.

Thus ended our peal ringing week with eight recorded and three failures. Some 20 ringers took part representing five Guilds. The organisers would like to express their thanks to G. Armstrong (Barwell), to tower secretaries and incumbents various members found it necessary to 'sleep it off' on the way to our last ring of the day at Messrs. J. Taylor's foundry, Loughborough. There was some speculation as to whether there would be a wedding in progress but on arrival we were welcomed by Mr. J. Fidler instead of a bridal party! Bob Royal was attempted when we had found how to handle these very light bells. Grandsire Triples was doomed but touches of Bob Minor and Kent Major were well struck.

Between towers, handbells were rung to a number of methods from Doubles to Major. In all, 18 methods were rung during the day. Arriving home, the general opinion was that although this was our first tour it certainly will not be the last.

Our thanks are due to incumbents for the use of the bells and to all those ringers who made us welcome in their towers. B. S. P.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

The Editorial Committee gratefully acknowledges the following contributions to meet the extra expenses of production of 'The Ringing World':—

- £1 2s. 5d.: Mr. Stafford H. Green.
- 5s.: Mr. Joseph Burgess, who writes: 'I enjoy "The Ringing World" very much.'
- 3s. 6d.: Mr. R. Collins, Sevenoaks (a penny for every peal he has rung).
- 3s.: Mr. C. J. Wood, Clitheroe.
- 2s. 6d.: Chippenham (Wilts) ringers; Mr. Peter N. Bond.
- 1s.: Mrs. Worrall.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH

It is 40 years since the last quarterly meeting was held at Radyr. On Saturday, September 1st, some 50 members assembled and received a warm welcome from the Rector (the Rev. W. S. Pontin, M.A.). Radyr's bells, owing to objection in the past from inhabitants living near the tower, have never been regularly rung, but it is hoped now to train a band for service ringing. The Rector took the service and gave an inspiring address on the message of the bells. The visitors were afterwards entertained to a bountiful tea by the local ladies for which they were duly thanked by Mr. J. W. Jones.

The business followed with the Rector taking the chair. The secretary read two notices of motion, one to revise and bring up-to-date the rules, the other to divide the Association into Districts. The secretary also reported a satisfactory piece of news—that the contract had been let out for the rehanging of Llandaff Cathedral bells. Six new members and two life members were elected. Progress at Newport All Saints' and Cheostow was reported.

It was decided to hold the next Glamorgan meeting at Pentre.

Methods rung during the day were Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent, Double Norwich and Oxford Bob Triples. The next meeting will be at Mathern.

A MEMORABLE DAY

The Ringers' Sunday held at Wormingford on August 19th will long be remembered by those who took part. A good congregation assembled for the service at the Parish Church, taken from the Essex Association form of service. The singing of the special hymns was much enjoyed, particularly by non-ringers.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. R. Sankey, and the address was given by Mr. Duncan Clark, the diocesan surveyor. The lesson was read by Mr. R. Duesbury, hon. secretary N.E. Division of the Essex Association. A feature of the proceedings was the demonstration of handbell ringing by Mr. S. H. Symonds and his colleagues from Lavenham.

The tea, given by ringers and friends, followed at the Vicarage, 25 being present, after which the Vicar thanked all those who had come to Wormingford that afternoon to encourage them. He hoped the practical result of the service would be an increased interest in bellringing in the parish.

The organisers wish to thank, through the medium of this journal, the secretaries who lent the Essex Association service sheets, Mr. S. H. Symonds, Mr. R. Duesbury and all ringers from far and near who made this Ringers' Sunday a success.

RODBOURNE CHENEY

Rodbourne Cheney ringers accompanied by friends from other towers visited the Oxford district for their annual outing. The first stop was Sunningwell where the floor of the ringing room is about eight feet below the entrance from the stairs. A well-known member of the Oxford Guild was seen dashing through the village riding a Corgi, or similar animal, but he had no eye for ringers on this occasion.

Mr. Holloway met the party outside of Oxford and piloted them to Cowley where the light six pleased everybody. Some delay was experienced on the way to Kidlington owing to bridge repairs and Mr. Bill Judge had passed away the time by pulling up some of the bells for us. We only had time for three touches and the bells sounded grand in Double Norwich but nobody suggested trying to emulate Messrs. Washbrook and Co.

After tea at the Sterling Cinema, a move was made to Bladon. Although the village has no regular band, the ringing room was very tidy and the bells went quite well. Eynsham was the last call of the day and two of the local ringers had a pull with the visitors. Methods rung during the day ranged from Bob Minor to Cambridge. W. B. K.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

METHOD EXTENSION

Dear Sir,—Replying to the invitation of the Convener of the Methods Committee, may I recall that the nature of the subject, though vital, is not inductive of much comment from the Exercise in general.

The reason should be clear. Extension is an aspect of the study of Method Structure, and the latter is a branch of ringing theory quite distinct from that of Composition. But it is to Composition that almost every ringing theoretician has devoted his attention; the simple fact remaining that very little indeed has been paid to the study of Method Structure, which, in the very nature of things, nevertheless calls for prior consideration and resolution.

Indefensible as this past neglect may be, however, the fact must be faced that because very little about it has been established, those ringers who are latterly becoming 'structure conscious'—and I know of three or four of such who are top-ranking conductors—seem justifiably reluctant to offer comment on a matter the issues of which have so long lain confused and unfaced.

After devoting close study to Method Structure for many more years than I care to remember, I was honoured, nearly three years ago, by an invitation 'from an official source' to start the ball rolling. An opportunity was then taken to raise the matter in the Universities Association, from which body a resolution was forwarded to the Central Council. The rest is history. It resulted in the Methods Committee's present job.

I have naturally followed developments with more than ordinary interest; and have tried, from time to time to assist; since one's own investigations appear to have covered rather wider ground. But the Methods Committee, working hard to 'put the house in order' at long last, may rest assured that there is a considerable measure of interest in these issues, as far as I have been able to ascertain. I have awaited the present indication, however, before offering my own comment.

These columns are hardly appropriate for comment of such extent and technical nature as seems to be called for, and this is therefore being submitted to the Committee direct. But it may be of some general interest to say that it includes:—

(a) Queries to elucidate several points in the report as it appeared in 'The Ringing World,' i.e., for the general reader.

(b) The question of technical terminology, essential for advancement in any serious study of the subject.

(c) The unmentioned but vital subject of 'Development Groups.'

(d) 'Essentials' versus 'Desiderata'—on which notes have been published in my previous articles.

(e) The recognition of certain axioms, e.g., the 'cyclic' of Position Sequence, and its reverse cyclic—Bell Sequence.

(f) Wider consideration of the nature and effects of pivots. For example the table in the report may be given more briefly and yet apply more widely, i.e., to ALL hunt-controlled methods, odd and even.

(g) Requirement of 'proof' of some denouncements, e.g., 'no extension of Superlative.' In fact the Maximus rung is theoretically and mathematically exact and 'correct.'

(h) Grid-pattern modifications in relation to 'front' and 'back' reflective paths of the blue line.

The above have direct bearing on the question of extension, which, in any given case, becomes more positive the more such considerations are properly applied.—Yours very truly.

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

KENT COUNTY PEALS IN DORSET

Dear Sir,—In reply to my good friend, Mr W. C. West, the main reason why the peals at Wyke Regis and Sherborne were rung for the Kent County Association and not the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was because there were only two members of the Salisbury Guild in our party. I believe it is only possible for life members to be elected immediately preceding a peal if there is a majority of members present. In these cases, this was an impossibility. I agree that it would have been wiser to have had some of our party elected previous to our visit, as was done with the Bath and Wells Diocesan Guild. That this was not done was due to an oversight on my part, for which I apologise.

It was certainly not intended as an act of discourtesy or because of the increased subscriptions. I have a strong affection for the Salisbury Guild and its ringers, and am looking forward to many more peals with the Guild to make up for the two omissions on our tour.—Yours sincerely,

A. PATRICK CANNON.

Betchworth.

CONCERNING THE 'ROVING RINGERS'

Dear Sir,—I read with very great interest the account of the 'Roving Ringers' tour, but the last paragraph rather shocked me.

I am led to believe almost that the insult in the last paragraph was hurled at us. Was this necessary? Have we done anything to deserve it?

For my own part I think it rather in bad taste for our Society is yet in its infancy, and such insults as that contained in that last paragraph will do much to damage our expansion.

I understood that the Roving Ringers have a waiting list, so their objection cannot be one of membership.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN E. COOK, Ringing Master.

Society of Rambling Ringers.

Branston, Lincs.

MUSIC FIRST CONSIDERATION

Dear Sir,—I hope that, as a comparative newcomer to the Exercise, I will not be considered impudent in making a few comments on peals and methods.

One is prompted to ask, which is more satisfying both to the ringers and those outside the tower—a shabbily-struck peal of 5,040 Grandsire Doubles or the same composition magnificently struck, with a touch of 20 extra changes at the end? The answer would seem self-evident, but the first would go on record with the best of peals, while the second would be condemned.

I can't help thinking that Mr. Birmingham (August 31st) is being very unkind to the 'Little' Methods in decrying them as 'unnatural' or 'freak' methods. What, for instance, is a 'natural' method? If it is one with a Plain or Treble Bob hunting treble, Stedman is ruled out. Surely the prime test of a method is whether it is musical or not, rather than whether it is 'natural' (whatever that may mean). And there is no doubt that Little Bob is musical. Furthermore, once a band has mastered Bob Major, Little Bob would seem an excellent method with which to continue.

I doubt whether many ringers, in ringing Little Bob Royal would shed any tears, when they recollect that they can only ring 1,451,520 changes in the method, whereas, if they were ringing Bob Royal they might ring 3,628,800 changes.—Yours faithfully,

PETER N. DEVENISH.

Thorpe, Norfolk.

A RINGER'S MOTHER'S STORY

Dear Sir,—Reading Mr. Arthur Morris's letter, in this week's 'Ringing World,' he is indeed fortunate.

During college vacs. this is what I get. Sunday being the only day in which I can stay in bed after 7 a.m. 'Mother, don't forget tomorrow morning.' This means he wants to leave the house not later than 9.15 a.m., to cycle to Cardiff in all winds and weathers (usually the latter) and a distance of between five and six miles, to be 'in the tower' before 10 a.m. to ring for service; home for lunch, and on many occasions back for special service in the afternoon. Tea must not be later than 4.15 p.m. as he must be in the tower by 5 p.m. for service.

During Festivals such as Easter and Christmas he must be in the tower by 6 a.m. By the time the service is over it is a rushed breakfast to carry out a normal programme. One memorable occasion, mistaking the clock by an hour, had him cooling his heels in the tower at 5 a.m. on a bitterly cold morning.

'Do you mind if I bring a pal for the weekend, we are ringing so-and-so.' Or 'I am bringing two or three pals for lunch; they won't have time to get home before the meeting; do you mind?'

Do I mind? Of course I don't. It is his hobby and interest, and surely there are many worse, and his father would have been pleased.—Yours sincerely, ANNIE WORRALL.

Cardiff.

SERMON BELL

Sir,—I was interested to read in your correspondent's account of the Leicestershire Veterans that one of them, Mr. John O. Lancashire, had first become interested in ringing from accompanying his grandfather to ring a bell 'at 8 a.m. on Sundays to indicate that there would be a service later on that day' at Ardington, Berks.

At Chittlehampton, in 1824, one of the sexton's duties was 'To Ring up the Tenor or Great Bell at half-past nine on Sunday Mornings to denote the Sermon.' He was also to toll the Prayer Bell at 10.30 and 2.30, and to cause the bells to be chimed when the minister appeared.

The 9.30 bell is still rung, the ringers taking it in turn to ascend the tower and ring the tenor up and down. No one is sure of the origin of the custom, and now that there is a bell before service at 8 a.m. each Sunday which serves to mark Sunday morning, it is a pleasant custom which we are glad to continue. This is the only tower known to me where the custom has survived the war. No doubt your readers will know of others. There used to be a bell at Charles, in North Devon, at 9, and, I am told, at Winsford, in Somerset, at 8.—Yours truly,

J. H. F. ANDREWS.

Chittlehampton Vicarage,
North Devon.

CLEMENT TOSIER

Dear Sir,—I recently paid a short visit to a museum in Salisbury and among the exhibits were several examples of work by Clement Tosier. On one, a bell, he spelt his name Tosier. Seeing this, I questioned the curator, who told me that he also spelt it Tosear. The only explanation he could give for these variations was that Tosier would often start a job and then leave it half done whilst he went and had a good time at the 'local' before resuming. This may have been so as the lettering on some of his work seems to have been affected by his condition: the letters slope to right and left, but they are never horizontal! —Yours faithfully,

L. BAILEY.

SUSSEX YOUNG RINGERS TOUR INTO SOUTH WALES

Fourteen Days Awheel

EARLIER this year the idea of organising a cycling and ringing holiday had entered the fertile brain of Norman Smith, one of Chichester's promising young ringers, and during the fortnight between August 12th and 26th this idea became an accomplished fact. Inspired by the grand example of the Roving Ringers, a party of ten gathered at Salisbury on Sunday, the 12th, for the great adventure. They came from the towers of Bosham, Chichester, Felpham, Storrington, Itchingfield and Aldershot, all being cyclists with the exception of the Bosham representative who, being aged and somewhat lazy this year travelled rather luxuriously on a motor-cycle!

The tour began with service ringing on Sunday evening at St. Paul's, Salisbury (tenor 12 cwt.), where we were met by the local ringers, Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Stedman Doubles filled in the time until 6.30, when we had to go in search of our billets at the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (the latter for the three young ladies in the party). After service a visit was paid to the eight-bell tower of St. Martin's, Salisbury, where we were again welcomed by the local captain, and some good Grandsire Doubles and Triples were rung on this rather difficult octave.

On Monday the first tower was the minor six at Wilton (tenor 8½ cwt.) which hang in an extremely slender tower which oscillates considerably. Our ringing of Stedman and Grandsire Doubles and Kent and Plain Bob Minor was, however, quite well struck, before a hilly run to Mere, where the cyclists were somewhat late in arriving. The grand eight at St. Michael's was put to good use in Bob Major and Grandsire Triples before going on to the magnificent tower and bells at Bruton. This ring (tenor 25 cwt.) was the heaviest six which we visited and the bells are grand. The early arrivals rang Grandsire Doubles with the three local ringers who were awaiting our arrival and when the remainder of the party had had their fill, we continued to Evercreech where we were again met (although we were late in arriving) by two local ringers, one being 'Ginger', aged 13 (and a good little ringer too). They welcomed us on behalf of Harry Sanger, who was unable to be there, and the grand Taylor ten (tenor 21½ cwt.) were soon set going to Grandsire Caters and Triples and Bob Major.

The next tower was the very fine but rather noisy Taylor six (tenor 18 cwt.), at Croscombe, where Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and a good course of Cambridge Minor were rung. At Croscombe we were joined by Sam Harding of Catherington, on holiday in his car and we were pleased to welcome him to our midst for a day. Dinder (six tenor 14 cwt.) with its awkward clockcase in the ringing chamber, came next, followed by a picnic tea, during which emergency repairs to the motor-cyclist's pannier bags were efficiently carried out by Sam Harding (many thanks, Sam!). Then came the run down into Wells, where ringing was enjoyed on the fine eight (tenor 28 cwt.) at St. Cuthbert's before supper and bed at a C.T.C. hostel.

CROSSING THE MENDIPS

Tuesday saw us en route for Wookey, where after some confusion due to some of the party going to the wrong church (at Wookey Hole, two miles away), the ring of six was put to good use in Cambridge and Bob Minor and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. Then came the long climb over the Mendips to the magnificent tower of Chewton Mendip. This ring of eight, in the writer's opinion, is the finest for its weight (tenor 24½ cwt.) in the country, with the possible exception of the twin ring at Ditchat, and Chewton bells are a credit to Taylors. We left these grand bells with regret, after ringing Bob Major, Grandsire and two good touches of Stedman Triples, and continued on to Publow where we found another very good heavy six (tenor 21½ cwt.), and a welcome from two local ringers. Plain Bob, Kent and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles were rung before the run into Bristol where the party, with the exception of the motor-cyclist, were accommodated in the Y.H.

It had been intended to ring at St. John's-on-the-Wall, but due to the Vicar's absence on holiday our letter did not reach him in time and we were unable to gain access to the tower. However, after a somewhat tedious search for the key, we obtained permission to ring at St. Matthew's, Kingsdown, opposite the hostel, in the morning, and this ring of eight was rung to various methods for half an hour on Wednesday morning before going on to Westbury-on-Trym, where we were met by the curate, the Rev. C. L. Sutch. This weighty six (tenor 23½ cwt.) proved to be really hard work, but our Bob Minor and Grandsire went quite well, considering the heavy 'go' of the bells. The nearby tower of Henbury with its ring of eight (tenor 22 cwt.) was next on the programme, and after ringing at this tower we unfortunately had to say 'au revoir' to Ernie Treagus, the Western Division secretary who had to return home at the call of duty—our efforts to persuade him to stay longer proved in vain! The party, now reduced to nine, then pressed on to the Severn Ferry and after a tiresome wait for the ferry boat, eventually arrived at Chepstow where Miss Jacqueline Evans had everything in readiness for us. Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung on this good old-style octave, after which the cyclists pedalled on up the Wye Valley to Tintern Abbey for a picnic tea, while the motor-cyclist had two punctures repaired! However, the party was reunited at St. Briavels and ringing took place on the light octave here in the evening with a large audience from the Y.H. in the Castle across the road, where the cyclists spent a pleasant, though somewhat 'spooky' night (why did the door keep opening?).

After ringing at St. Briavels in the evening we were very pleased to meet the curate who is a ringer and in charge of the nearby parish of Hewelsfield. We received an invitation to ring the five bells here in the morning, and all were at the tower promptly at 7.30 a.m. for a 'before-breakfast' ring. The bells are a good five, although the tenor (14 cwt.) is rather heavy-going, and are rung from the chancel. After ringing Grandsire, Stedman and St. Simon's, with Bob Minimus for the reverend gentleman, a welcome breakfast was enjoyed before the run to Newland, which proved a little difficult to find. We were met by the Vicar who very kindly said the Office for us in church before the ringing on the very fine six (tenor 16½ cwt.) in an equally fine tower. Then followed a downhill run to Monmouth, where Mr. Len Jones was waiting for us. These bells (tenor 20 cwt.) are quite a good old ring but are in need of rehanging, for which an appeal is about to be issued.

THE WRONG ROAD

With the choice of two roads to Abergavenny it appeared that we chose the wrong one and an extremely hilly twelve miles made the party rather late to the town; however, one of the local ringers was patiently waiting for us and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the ringing on this very fine new Taylor ten (tenor 25½ cwt.) very similar to the rings at Luton and Selby Abbey. The next tower on the programme was the six at Llanelly Hill (which does not appear in 'The Ringers' Guide'—Mr. Dove please note!), but the tower proved so elusive that only the motor-cyclist arrived! The remainder gave up the search and wended their way to Brecon Y.H. for the night—the hostel also proved elusive but this time the search was successful!

In the morning the party, refreshed and rejuvenated, had the privilege of ringing on the fine octave at St. Mary's, Brecon (tenor 17 cwt.), after a hasty search for the tower key; it appears that the verger thought we were coming in September instead of August! However, all's well that ends well, and after refreshments we crossed the river to Brecon's other ringable bells (the five at the Cathedral are apparently unringable due to the state of the tower), the very fine Taylor six (tenor 12½ cwt.) at St. David's. Here again the church key proved elusive but eventually the bells were raised and touches of Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles and a course of Cambridge were rung, the local ringer remarking that it was the first time he had ever heard Cambridge rung on the bells! Then came a long and rather hilly run to Llandovery, in the Towy Valley, which proved to be the highlight of the tour. The Vicar, Canon Rees, met us at his church with the news that our ringing was to be recorded! A gentleman from Swansea was on hand with a wire recording machine and a microphone installed on the tower roof, and after a short touch of Grandsire to try out this fine Taylor six (tenor 8 cwt.) we recorded 120 Grandsire, a course of Kent Minor and touch of Bob Minor and finally a good lower in peal. We were then escorted to the Church Hall, where a truly magnificent tea was ready for us. We did full justice to it and were entertained meanwhile by listening to our recordings being played back to us. Permanent prints of the recordings are to be taken which should prove excellent souvenirs of the trip! Thank you, Llandovery and Canon Rees, for a really wonderful welcome!

DODGING WITH THE PENDULUM

Setting out again, the six at Llandilo (tenor 12½ cwt.), further down the valley, came next. Ringing here was fair, probably partly due to the after effects of the tea and also the fact that the clock pendulum swings in the middle of the ringing room: one is apt to find oneself dodging in 3-4 with the pendulum! On again down the valley to Carmarthen where we spent the night in a C.T.C. hostel (the motor-cyclist having arrived first secured the best bed for once!). In the morning we rang at St. Peter's, Carmarthen, for a wedding, and staved to ring the happy couple out with rounds and attempted firing, before the 30-mile run, through completely 'bell-less' country, to Haverfordwest, the county town of Pembrokeshire. Despite a late arrival, the Master of the St. David's Guild, Mr. Harry Jenkins, and Mr. Gwyn Thomas, both from Tenby, were waiting for us. The striking on this anti-clockwise eight was only fair, partly due to the fact that most of the sallies were much too low for our party: ringing on a bare rone at handstroke is not conducive to good striking!

We set out on the '16 miles and 17 hills' between Haverfordwest and St. David's and when only half-way there the rain descended in torrents. It was a rather damp and bedraggled party of ringers that eventually reached the tiny village-city (I understand that the cyclists were even damped by the time they reached the St. David's Head Y.H.). In view of the weather we did not ring at the Cathedral that evening, but all were at the tower by 10.15 on Sunday morning to ring for service.

DEATH OF MR. WM. BRADFORD

The death occurred on Wednesday August 29th, of Mr. William (Willy) Bradford, of Stevenage aged 82 years.

Mr. Bradford had been a member of the Stevenage band for over 50 years. Whatever the weather he never missed a morning service at the Parish Church, and during the last few years, evensong at Holy Trinity Church, nearer his home.

The funeral was on Saturday, September 1st. The local band paid a tribute to the deceased by ringing handbells at the graveside and the church bells half-muffled afterwards. A. E. S.

OBITUARY

MR. HARRY WARNETT, SEN.

We deeply regret to report the death of Mr. Harry Warnett, sen., of St. Mary's, Lewisham, which occurred at his home on September 4th. He was well into his 89th year.

Mr. Warnett joined the Lewisham band in 1890 and became leader and tower-keeper in 1900, a post he held with zeal and efficiency until July, 1948, when owing to advanced age he handed over the reins of office to a younger man but still remained a member of the band, and rang for Sunday services and sometimes attending on practice nights. His last climb of the 67 steps to the belfry was on a Sunday in April of this year, but he continued to meet the band at the foot of the tower after the ringing on Sunday mornings until June, after which time his health gradually deteriorated. Thus he gave over 60 years of faithful and devoted service to the Church of St. Mary and the Kent County Association.

Mr. Warnett was a carpenter and joiner by trade and the last 43 years of his working life was with the firm of Thomas and Edge, retiring at the age of 84. Being an artificer in wood and generally handy with tools, it stood him in good stead for the many little repair jobs that fall to the lot of a steeple-keeper, of which he certainly was the ideal. As leader of the band he was one of the best, being of a happy and jovial disposition and most unselfish, always willing to share the calling with those of his band who inclined to that direction, and he always made visitors welcome to the tower.

In former years he was naturally to be found at the heavy end but owing to his age and a physical ailment his ringing of late was confined to a light bell. Mr. Warnett was not immune from trouble; one of his sons, a member of the band, was killed in action in World War I., on May 14th, 1918. A granddaughter who had lived and was brought up with him was also killed during an air raid on Lewisham in World War II. Previous to the last war he was twice knocked down by motor vehicles and taken, badly injured, into Lewisham Hospital. He became a widower in October, 1941. In spite of all this, he had a cheery word and smile for all.

A detailed list of Mr. Warnett's peals is not at the moment available but he had rung 291 and had conducted many of them, including all the standard methods of Triples and Major, and in his early years had also rung peals of Superlative, Cambridge and London, and a few on ten bells. He called Holt's Original many times, a composition of which he was a past master. The majority of his peals were rung for the Kent County Association.

Mr. Warnett's 100th peal, Holt's Original, at St. Mary's, which he conducted, was rung in September, 1905, this being the first by his son, Harry, jun., who is still a member of the band. His last, same method, at St. Mary's, and again called by him, was rung on April 20th, 1940, he being then in his 78th year.

The funeral service was on Sept. 8th at St. Mary's, and, in the absence of the Vicar, owing to the death of his mother, was conducted by the Rev. P. S. Lewis, M.A., curate, who paid touching tribute to the late Mr. Warnett as ringer and caretaker of the bells for so many years. The interment followed at Hither Green Cemetery. In addition to the family mourners, E. Mounter, I. Emery and G. Daynes attended to pay their last respects to their old friend, whilst the local band was represented by Jack Dafters (Mr. Warnett's successor as leader) and J. Bennett. Also in attendance were two representatives from the firm of Thomas and Edge. Among the many floral tributes was one in the shape of a bell from the local band. In the afternoon a half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples was rung to his memory. May he rest in peace. J. B.

MR. T. LAVER

Mr. Thomas Laver, of Heavitree, Exeter, whose death occurred on September 5th, aged 84, was for many years a devoted officer of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers. He was a son of a Bath builder but settled in Exeter (where he was connected with two business firms) in his early twenties.

His ringing career began in 1897 when Heavitree Parish Church was equipped by Messrs. Taylor and Co. with one of the finest octaves in the country. An enthusiastic company was formed and this rang not only twice on Sundays but practised twice a week. It went from strength to strength and made specialities of quarter peals and peals in various methods.

The office of general secretary of the Devonshire Guild was accepted by Mr. Laver about 1925 and he continued in it until 1940 when for eight or nine years he acted as hon. treasurer. He was one of the Guild's representatives on the Central Council for a few years. He assisted with the formation of restoration and instruction funds under the auspices of the Guild.

When, in 1915, Exeter Cathedral was linked with the Guild, he took on the hon. secretaryship and only relinquished it at the beginning of the present year. He was also an active member of Exeter Ringers' Cycling Club. About 50 peals including the first of Cinques by a Devon band on the Cathedral bells stood to his credit; he conducted some of them. Modesty and punctuality were his characteristics.

Exeter and district ringers paid their respects on Sept. 8th when the funeral took place at Heavitree, where the President of the Guild (Preb. E. V. Cox) assisted in the service. Knells were rung at Heavitree and the Cathedral.

MR. WILLIAM JOHN LEE

On Monday, August 27th, the death occurred of William John Lee, of 20, Stanley Road, Great Yarmouth, after a prolonged illness at the age of 82 years. A Colchester man by birth, he came to Yarmouth in 1911. He was a coachmith by trade retiring at the age of 70.

Mr. Lee was a life member of the London County and North Southwark Association, the Suffolk Guild and the Norwich Diocesan Association and a member of St. Nicholas' Bell-ringers, Great Yarmouth, and was secretary of East Norfolk Branch from 1929 to 1931 and chairman of East Norfolk Branch from 1935 to 1947. He was elected a vice-president of the Norwich Association in April this year. He had rung 36 peals for the Norwich Association.

The funeral took place on Saturday, September 1st. A service was held in St. John's Church, Great Yarmouth, and the interment in St. Nicholas' Churchyard. The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon L. J. Baggot, Vicar of Great Yarmouth. A course of Grand-sire Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside by Mrs. G. W. Fletcher 1-2, G. W. Fletcher 3-4, Nolan Golden 5-6, E. R. Goate 7-8. Among those attending were three branch secretaries, Mr. H. Tooke (North Norfolk), Mr. J. G. H. Harwood (East Norfolk), Mr. A. G. Harrison (South Norfolk), Mr. G. Walpole of Norton Subcourse (Branch representative of Standing Committee), Mr. G. Pipe, of Grun-disburgh, Mr. P. G. W. Newstead and Mr. A. Moy, Great Yarmouth, and Mr. A. W. Bird, Gorleston-on-Sea.

After the funeral the Yarmouth and Gorleston ringers rang the Gorleston Parish Church bells half-muffled as a tribute to Mr. Lee, who had been a regular ringer there and had rung in a quarter peal of Grand-sire Triples on his 80th birthday. Floral tributes were sent from the family and friends and the Rev. A. St. J. Heard (President of Norwich Diocesan Association), East Norfolk Branch and Yarmouth and Gorleston ringers. J. G. W. H.

BOLTON'S RINGING ACTIVITIES

For some time now youth has shown an interest in the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association and that interest is manifested in the activities of matters appertaining to ringing.

On Saturday, August 25th, the monthly meeting was held at Newchurch, Culcheth. Here youth represented the majority of the members attending. Ten methods were rung, with the striking and higher methods being the predominant factor. There was something for everyone—rounds to Surprise. The Parochial Church Council provided a sumptuous tea which was served by members of the Mothers' Union.

The Rector, the Rev. E. A. Lee (himself a ringer), presided over the business meeting. The secretary reminded the members that he was arranging an outing to Loughborough in 1952 and he hoped towers would make this their 'annual.' Thanks were passed to the Rector for the use of the bells, the Parochial Church Council, the Mothers' Union and all who had made the meeting such a success.

Amongst the visitors was Christopher Gudgeon, from North Wales, who resided in the district until business compelled him to leave. He was a keen peal ringer and a very reliable conductor.

Another activity in the Branch was a ringers' service, which was held at Westhoughton the previous Sunday. The Vicar, the Rev. — Dimmock (a ringers' friend), invited ringers and friends to a special service. There was a packed church, the preacher being the president of the Lancashire Association, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith. During the service handbell ringers from Walkden rendered Handel's Largo, accompanied by the organ and a vocalist as background. The handbells also accompanied the organ in two of the hymns. No doubt this service will be repeated next year.

Another aspect in the Branch is the number of incumbents and curates who are learning to ring; this is a good omen for the future.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD

The summer meeting of the Society was held at Trysull on August 25th. Trysull, on the Staffs-Salop border, has everything which goes towards the make-up of an ideal English village—a lovely old parish church, a manor house, a stream and mill, thatched cottages and well-kept gardens, a farm house and buildings in the village street and two old inns. In these days of building development it is surprising to find such an unspoilt village within seven miles of a large industrial town like Wolverhampton. It was probably even more surprising to many who attended the meeting to find that buses to Trysull are few and far between, thus making the village seem really remote.

The ring of six bells at Trysull Church is probably the best for its weight (tenor 11 cwt. 17 lb.) in Staffordshire, and good use was made of these grand bells. This was Mr. George Oliver's first meeting as Ringing Master of the Society and he saw to it that everyone had as much and as varied ringing as they wanted. An excellent tea, to which 53 sat down, was provided at the Bell Inn. The service took place after tea, and in his address the Vicar, the Rev. R. de B. Coussmaker, described interesting features of the fine old church. Mrs. Joyner, of Rugeley, very kindly officiated at the organ.

As the bus for Wolverhampton left at 7.50 and the next was not until 10.30, ringing finished at 7.45, and so a most enjoyable meeting came to a close. The next meeting of the Society will be the autumn one at Rugeley on October 6th.

LANE END, BUCKS.—On Aug. 26th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: C. Hagger (first quarter) 1, W. Woodward 2, K. Seymour 3, S. Smith 4, W. Avery (cond.) 5, R. Wright 6. Rung for the 21st birthday of the treble ringer.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

In these days of easy travel we often record peals by an individual ringer in a large number of towers. Mr. Herbert E. Audsley, of Erith, Kent, holds what must surely be a record of a different kind. He has scored a century of peals in each of three towers, all at adjoining places—Crayford, Erith and Dartford. Mr. Audsley completed the 'hat trick' by scoring his century peal at Dartford on August 20th.

In addition to the above remarkable feat, Mr. Audsley has rung over a hundred peals on the fifth bell at Crayford. It was to this bell that he rang his first peal and he has rung at Crayford no fewer than 222 peals. His present score at St. John-the-Baptist's, Erith, is 149.

He has high figures at several other churches in the neighbourhood including nearly 50 at Christ Church, Erith, and round about 40 each at Northfleet, Swanscombe and Gravesend.

Behind this remarkable record lies the story of ringing enterprise of the inter-war years in this part of Kent. Mr. Audsley commenced ringing after returning from Germany as a prisoner in the first world war. He is a native of Crayford and but for his war service has lived and worked in the district all his life. His ringing career has been largely in association with two stalwarts now passed on, Edwin Barnett, sen., and John H. Cheesman. The former was responsible for more 'first performances' for the Kent County Association than any one man and was renowned for his ability as a teacher of ringing. The latter was of that select company who have rung more than a thousand peals.

It is not perhaps surprising that Mr. Audsley has called comparatively few of his peals but he is a conductor of no mean ability and has in particular great skill as a conductor of Stedman Triples. As a ringer he is equally happy on a light or a heavy bell and, among other things, has 'circled' the tower at Southwark Cathedral—which is something that speaks for itself.

Of a retiring disposition, he will probably be not too pleased with the writer for having said so much about him, but it is on such men that the whole structure of the Exercise depends, and the writer can only hope to be forgiven in time to ring in Bert's 1,000th peal.

SHEFFIELD CUP CONTEST

The Sheffield and District Society held their annual silver cup contest at Beighton on Saturday, September 1st. Only four teams competed—Sheffield Cathedral, Rotherham Parish Church, Bolsover and Handsworth—and the test length was a 360 of any method. All the teams rang Bob Minor with the exception of Handsworth, who rang Cambridge. The two judges were Mr. H. Rooke and Mr. F. Flint, of Warsop. There were no breakdowns and each team rang smoothly into rounds in spite of the fact that the bells are very difficult to hear at this tower because of the noise of the ropes above. The judges announced that Bolsover had 114 faults, Rotherham 176, Handsworth 155 and Sheffield Cathedral 120 faults. Bolsover were therefore declared the winners. The cup was presented to Mr. A. B. Cooper, captain of the Bolsover band, by Miss Sylvia Thorpe, of Sheffield, amid applause.

Tea was served in the Church Hall under the supervision of Mr. W. E. Wyld, of the local company, and this was followed by a course of Bob Royal on handbells. At the business meeting the chair was taken by Mr. N. Chaddock, Ringing Master of the Society, in the absence of the Vicar, who was away on holiday. One new member was elected. Miss Betty Bates, of Handsworth. A vote of thanks proposed by Mr. T. C. Ryder, of Rotherham, brought the meeting to a close.

The next meeting is to be held at Sheffield Cathedral and St. Marie's on October 6th.

OXFORD RINGERS VISIT SUSSEX

Eighteen members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild from the towers of St. Peter's, Wolvercote, St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Ifley, St. Ebbe's, Oxford and St. Aldate's, Oxford, together with 12 non-ringing friends, spent a most enjoyable day in Sussex on August 18th.

Leaving Oxford at eight o'clock, the first stop was at Milland, where the visitors were greeted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. F. French, who gave an appropriate start to the day by conducting prayers. Milland has a grand ring of six bells which, it was learnt with regret, are not often rung despite their being situated in a picturesque woodland setting.

On to Arundel where lunch was served at the 'White Hart' and where the non-ringers left to visit the castle and park or the sea, a few miles away. Climbing the steep High Street to the ring of eight at St. Nicholas' found the remaining ringers somewhat out of condition, which was probably partly the reason for some 'not so good' striking, despite the beautifully-hung bells and the efforts of that grand old veteran, W. H. B. Wilkins (of St. Ebbe's), now in his 81st year.

Thence on to Wisborough Green, where a Festival fete was in progress, for a ring on the six there, and to Dragon's Green for tea at the 'George and Dragon.' Here opportunity was taken to thank Mr. E. Treagus, Western Division secretary of the Sussex Association, for so kindly making all the arrangements for ringing and lunch and tea.

The next stop was Shipley, where members of the local band very kindly hung their coats on the iron bar which runs across the tower just in front of the entrance at head height, in order to save the party losing some valuable members! Again the bells (6, with a 9½ cwt. tenor) were a joy to ring.

At the last tower, Thakeham, the bells had also been well chosen for beauty of tone and pleasure of ringing. The best ring of the day was obtained here by the more able ringers with a touch of Spliced Kent and Oxford.

Returning to Arundel to pick up the remainder of the party the journey home was made enlivened by singing, led by the members of choirs from the four churches.

A very enjoyable day with perhaps not the highest standard of ringing, but with all resolved to attain a greater degree of efficiency.

EASTINGTON RINGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING

Tuesday, July 31st, was the golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Powls, of Roseneath, Eastington, Yorks. They were married at Wressle Parish Church by the Rev. R. Kennedy. Bellringing has been the principal hobby of Mr. Powls since he was a boy. He started ringing on January 6th, 1893, and at the age of nine he rang the 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. bell at Howden Church, and on Shrove Tuesday rang the 11 a.m. apprentices' bell. When a boy he rang the minute bell at Howden on the death of the Duke of Clarence. Mr. Powls has been a member of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association of Change Ringers since 1922 and was at Eastington when the three ancient bells were recast into a ring of six in 1923. He was captain of the ringers until last year and for many years he devoted much time to the training of learners.

On Saturday, August 4th, he rang the treble bell to 720 changes of Bob Minor, the ringers being J. P. Powls 1, C. W. King 2, H. S. Morley 3, E. Philpot 4, J. J. Taylor 5, L. M. Woodhead 6.

A quarter peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor in honour of the occasion was rung at Eastington on August 4th by Mrs. J. J. Taylor 1, C. W. King 2, H. S. Morley 3, E. Philpot 4, J. J. Taylor 5, L. M. Woodhead 6. It is interesting to note that the ringer of the second bell celebrated 45 years of marriage on the same day.

FOUR GUILDS FESTIVAL

Basingstoke was the centre for the annual Festival held on Saturday, August 25th, when members from four Guilds—the Ladies' Guild (Southern District), Guildford Guild (Farnham District), Oxford Guild (Sonning Branch) and Winchester and Portsmouth Guild (Basingstoke District)—assembled. Eight towers in the surrounding district were open for ringing during the day. Good use was made of the opportunity to ring on the rather scattered bell-towers in the northern part of Hampshire and over 100 ringers attended including some from as far apart as Piddlehinton, Dorset, and Bebington, Cheshire.

A service was held in St. Michael's Church, Basingstoke, and was conducted by the Rev. A. R. Arnold, Priest-in-charge of Basingstoke, owing to the absence on holiday of the branch chairman, the Ven. A. W. Chuter, who apologised by letter and wished the meeting every success. The Rev. M. Sturtart-Kenny, Rector of Baughurst, Hants, gave an address appropriate to ringing.

An excellent tea arranged by Mrs. E. Austin was served in Church Cottage and thanks were very warmly given her and her helpers for their work. No time was lost after the meal was over and ringers made a move to the various towers where they were met and welcomed by the tower captains. Rain unfortunately upset the latter part of the day but the enthusiasts on bicycles were in no way put off and followed the more lucky ones in motor coaches and cars.

The towers open for ringing during the day were St. Michael's and All Saints', Basingstoke, Oakley, Deane, Overton, Upton-Grey, Odiham, Wootton St. Lawrence, Wolverton and Sherborne St. John. A pleasing feature was the number of young ringers attending the Festival.

TWELVE-BELL TOWERS

By ALBERT WALKER

THE dedication by the Lord Bishop of Worcester of the new twelve in the famous Bell Tower at Evesham, Worcestershire, on Saturday, September 8th, adds yet another to the growing list of twelve-bell towers, and it is well to be reminded that in the 'Clavis Campanologia' of 1788 there were only eight such rings, four of them being in London, while in Shipway's 1816 edition the number had increased to thirteen. A hundred years later there were 31 and they are gradually increasing until to-day the writer can count 56 twelve-bell towers in England and Wales. These include the new Liverpool Cathedral twelve now awaiting dedication, and at the time of writing there is an announcement in the public Press that these bells will be rung on September 25th when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh embark at Liverpool for their American and Canadian tour.

The 56 does not include those twelve-bell rings that were destroyed by enemy action, viz., at Great Yarmouth and the London twelves at Bow, Cheapside, St. Bride's and Cripplegate—all a very serious loss, though there is no doubt that in good time these rings will be restored. The authorities at Cripplegate have already taken steps to replace their twelve bells.

We may ask what is the ringing position at all these twelve-bell towers and have they each a twelve-bell band to ring them! In some centres there is good progress and peals of Cinques and Maximus are fairly frequent. In others little news is published, although the bells may be rung for services, etc. The absence of information suggests a lack of recruits. Greatest factors against a full complement of ringers are the counter attractions of to-day which did not exist in the earlier years and also the call-up of youth for National Service. With this in mind, wherever possible youth should be encouraged to take up the art of ringing—starting, of course, on the lesser numbers.

Twelve-bell ringing requires very correct handling by each to obtain good striking, and for those who have not the facilities for twelve-bell practice, it is a greater proposition than going from eight to ten bells. The writer, having had facilities for twelve-bell ringing with a good company of ringers throughout the years and also the pleasure of meeting many ringers, has noticed the tendency of some, while keeping a fair handstroke, to ring the back-stroke blow much too close with resultant uneven striking.

Again each ring of bells according to their weights have their own pace and the number of changes rung per minute must be varied accordingly, for there is nothing worse, in the writer's opinion, than listening to twelve bells being rung too quickly. Each bell, whether large or small, must be struck with great care to obtain the necessary good striking.

DOUBLES AND MINOR

By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD

THE question of Doubles and Minor has always been an interesting one. In the early days of ringing the word 'peal' referred to the extent in any method, and for this reason a six-score of Doubles or a 720 of Minor was designated a peal. The old text books show how to produce 'the whole peal' of Grandsire Doubles, and Jasper Snowdon in 'Ropesight' provides a variety of extents of Bob Minor with explanatory comments on each 'peal.' It is not unusual, too, to find in old records the account of 5,040 of Doubles made up of '42 peals,' or the mention of 'seven complete peals of Minor.'

With our modern conception of a peal it is not, of course, possible in the strictest sense to ring a peal of Doubles or Minor at all. The best we can do is to ring the extent so many times, the minimum being seven times in the case of Minor and forty-two times in the case of Doubles. Such a performance ranks as a peal, and rightly so, and is published in the same way as peals on higher numbers.

Less than sixty years ago, however, 5,000's of Minor and Doubles were not accorded the honour of a normal peal report. 'The Bell News' published such lengths in a special section under the heading 'Performances on Five and Six Bells,' and even then the Editor seemed not too well disposed towards peals on five and six bells. Frequently there were disparaging remarks, particularly about peals of Doubles, and on one occasion at least a highly meritorious performance on five bells was relegated to the column of touches with some caustic comments on the names of some of the methods. The Editor's action brought forth a protest from the Secretary of the Central Council.

At this time the clever six-bell ringers of the North were taken severely to task for their multi-method peals, in which they frequently rang 14 methods, performing a 360 of each method. A great battle raged over these performances, the more pedantic members of the Central Council arguing that only true 720's should be rung, and the six-bell men retorting that fourteen 360's in fourteen methods were worth far more than seven 720's of Bob Minor. The great champions of the Minor ringers were George Bolland and William Snowdon, and the struggle for recognition went on for several years. The Central Council never completely gave in on the matter, while Mr. Snowdon and Mr. Bolland never ceased to attack what they regarded as the unreasonable obstinacy of the ruling body of the Exercise. The matter found its rest only when the brothers Bankes James and Law James drew attention to the fact that it was possible to have two methods in a true 720. Light dawned slowly, but at last the six-bell men saw the possibilities revealed by this elementary splicing, and 360's ceased to be rung.

Since those days the splicing of Minor methods has advanced very far, but the ringers of Doubles have not yet perhaps realised the scope for splicing, nor has investigation gone very far into this interesting field.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

LATE NEWS

The new Liverpool Cathedral bells will be rung for the first time on Tuesday, September 25th, when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh drive round the city before sailing for Canada.

Mr. W. Fright, for 23 years secretary of the Hythe, Kent, band, died on September 11th, aged 89.

Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd has rung his 100th peal on 12 bells at the third attempt. At Wolverhampton on July 26th, the clapper of the 11th broke after three hours' ringing, and at St. Martin's on September 4th the clapper of the third came out after eight courses.

His first peal on 12 was in February, 1923, and included some old stalwarts such as James George, Sam Groves, John Neal, James Shepherd (whose fierce moustache rather alarmed his namesake), Albert Scriven, Tom Russam and, of course, Albert Walker, who took part in the 100th peal.

The peal finished at 9.50 p.m. and, writes Mr. Shepherd, 'I do not think I am mistaken in recalling that we scrambled down from the tower to find that a certain well-known gentleman (who has lately been Lord Mayor of a prominent British city) had, with great humanity and deep insight, prepared refreshment at a nearby hostelry. May such deeds always be counted as righteousness!'

Owing to the church being required for other purposes, the Sussex Association (Eastern Division) meeting arranged for Bexhill to-morrow has been transferred to Christ Church, Eastbourne.

The peal of Double Norwich Court Boh Major at Bradford Cathedral on August 21st was rung half-muffled for Bishop Stanton Jones, who, whilst Vicar of Bradford, was instrumental in the restoration of the bells.

On September 4th the Ebbw Vale ringers and friends visited Llanelly (Brec.) and rang touches in the four standard methods on the occasion of Mr. Sidney Rackham's 75th birthday. Mr. Rackham has in his day been an enthusiastic ringer, with many peals to his credit, but is now unfortunately confined to his home through ill-health.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

In connection with the commemoration dinner to Jasper Whitfield Snowdon, at York, the Minster bells will be available for three periods on September 29th, viz., 11 a.m.—12.30 p.m.; 2.30 p.m.—3.55 p.m., 4.45 p.m. (approx)—5.30 p.m. (approx.). The Silver Jubilee of the rededication of the Minster bells will be commemorated by choral evensong at 4 p.m. There will be a general meeting of the Yorkshire Association after evensong.

History was made on the bells of London-derry Cathedral, five of which were given by King Charles I. in 1638, by the peal of Plain Bob Doubles on September 8th. So far as is known this was the first peal on the bells by the local service ringers.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Syston on September 9th was, by a coincidence, rung on the wedding day of Derek Leonard Johnson, son of W. Len Johnson, a former St. Margaret's (Leicester) ringer. A similar peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Belgrave, Leics, on the day the bridegroom was born, 21 years ago—March 8th, 1930. Both peals were conducted by Ernest Morris.

A big query is placed by one reader against the suggestion that the first ladies' peal was rung at Portishead (see Universities Association Week). He submits that this was rung at Cubitt Town, but adds that Portishead may have been the first tower to have a ladies' band.

Miss Winifred Keys' 13th peal, at Milland, Sussex, had rather a tense finish. Towards the end of the sixth extent the fifth rope began to shed strands of hemp which came floating down through the holes in the ceiling. After an admonition from the ringer of the second that it would be better to forget the rope and ring Plain Bob, the peal came round satisfactorily. According to the Vicar, the peal was the first on the bells since well before the last war.

Early History of Bells Recalled

BARELY was the second tower complete when, in the early autumn of 1539, its architect, Clement Lichfield, the 55th and last lawful Abbot of the Great Abbey of Evesham, was bullied into abdication in favour of a traitor to the Order of St. Benedict, who would soon hand over its possessions to Thomas Cromwell.

Seven years later, when the old gentleman's body was brought from nearby Offenham and laid to rest beneath the High Altar of All Saints', the fate of his beloved tower was still in doubt.

The Abbey was quickly becoming a crumbling mass, ravaged and plundered by a people who had now become wholly Protestant, but the townspeople, with whose support the tower had been built, were able to save it intact and the building became the property of the borough. The cost of maintenance was not provided for and restoration was made a charge on the rates, but on one occasion only when, in 1644, six bells hung in the tower, two pre-Reformation, three by Henry Bagley of Chacombe, and the tenor by Oldfield, of Nottingham.

In 1741 the front five were recast, two added by Abel Rudhall and the Oldfield tenor retained. This eight was rung until 1821 when the tenor became cracked, and was recast by T. Mears, of London.

In 1910 further restoration was necessary and, augmented to ten, the bells were hung in an 'H' section frame by Barwells, of Birmingham.

In the late 1930's examination was made of the fabric and extensive restoration was found to be necessary. Although postponed through war and the costs having increased by thousands of pounds, the Bell Tower Restoration Committee was established in 1947, and a greater scheme involving the bells and clock was embarked upon.

RINGERS ACCEPT CHALLENGE

As time progressed and costs rose still further, an anonymous donor offered the cost of a new bell, if sufficient funds for a twelfth bell were promised before the year's end. This challenge was quickly accepted by the ringers.

After much discussion, it was decided to recast the ten and hang them in a new massive iron lowside frame, the work being entrusted to Messrs. John Taylor and Co. In addition, a new clock and carillon barrels were to be installed by Smiths, of Derby.

This work, together with the extensive repairs to the fabric, reached its climax on Saturday, September 8th, when, in ideal weather, the whole of the restoration was dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Worcester, the Right Rev. W. W. Cash.

The service was held in the open around the base of the tower which dominates the landscape of the Vale; it was attended by the Civic Body and was conducted by the Vicar of Evesham, Canon T. Charles Jones, Rural Dean.

After the Bishop had committed the bells to the custody of the Vicar and the Lord's Prayer said by all present, the bells rang out for the first thrilling moments in rounds by the local band, and the beauty of tone was absorbed by all listeners.

THE INSCRIPTIONS

The new ring, in the key of 'C' sharp, is tenored by a bell of 36 cwt., and provision is made for the addition of a flat sixth to provide a middle eight with a tenor of 14½ cwt. in 'C' sharp.

The new treble—the ringers' bell—bears the inscription: 'To the Glory of God and in grateful memory of James Hemming, J.P., Alderman of this Borough, Ringing Master in this Tower, who died June 23rd, 1947. Given by his fellow ringers and friends.'

'Oft as I sound,
In every round,
Praise God for him'

The new second:

'Give heed, ye folk, for as I chime
I wed eternity with time.'

The inscriptions of the old ten are preserved and small additions made as follows:

No. 3. 'We praise Thee, O God.' In memory of Ellen Ettwell, obit September 26th, 1907. Barwell Founder, 1910 Recast, 1951.

No. 4. 'May Jesus Christ be praised.' In memory of Alfred Espley, obit March 17th, 1907. This bell is given by his wife and daughter. Barwell Founder, 1910. Recast, 1951.

No. 11. 'Ye people all who hear us ring,
Be faithful to your God and King.'
Abel Rudhall Founder, 1741. Recast, 1951.

No. 12. Rev. Henry Portmore Cooper, Minister. W. L. Phelps, E. Rudge, J. Thomas and W. Battersby, Churchwardens. 1821.

'I, sweetly tolling, men do call
To taste on food that feeds the soul.'
T. Mears fecit. Recast 1951 and named CLEMENT LICHFIELD. 'The law of his God was in his heart.'

Ringers and friends attended from places as far apart as Cheshire, Yorkshire, Leicestershire, Middlesex and South Wales, and critics were agreed that the founders have surpassed their skill and have provided this beautiful Lichfield tower with the finest ring of twelve bells, for their weight, within a radius of many, many miles.

U.A. GESTURE OF GOODWILL

Behind the handbell peal at Enfield North, South Australia, recorded last week, there is quite a story.

Over a year ago, Mr. L. Cooper, of the Adelaide University Guild of Change Ringers, wrote to Dr. Hatcher about their affiliation to the Universities Association and remarked as an afterthought that their progress was somewhat hampered by lack of a set of handbells.

A few months later Dr. Hatcher wrote to say that he had been in touch with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank who were retuning and completely renovating a set of 15 handbells (size 15 in C).

'You can imagine how thrilled we were,' writes Mr. Cooper, 'but better was to come—not only had Dr. Hatcher found the bells for us, but had, with several other U.A. members, donated £12 towards the cost of them "as a gesture of goodwill to your Guild in recognition of your enthusiasm and enterprise in being the first University Guild outside Britain."

'This is surely another instance of the glorious spirit of unity and fellowship which exists throughout the whole Exercise . . . It means so much to us to have our own bells, and we are deeply appreciative of the fine help given us.'

BURTON DIAMOND WEDDING

Last week the Vicar of St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, the Rev N. Willis Price, and Mrs. Price celebrated their silver wedding and on September 8th Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Underhill, of Burton, celebrated the anniversary of their wedding at St. Paul's Church on Sept. 8th, 1891.

The latter forms a link with the famous band of the last century and early 1900's, in that Mr. Underhill, a signwriter, carried out the inscriptions on the boards in St. Paul's belfry, commemorating the illustrious Society's achievements.

Mrs. Underhill tells how she would go up to the belfry with her husband and watch him add new records from time to time.

To honour the two occasions, members of St. Paul's Society rang 1,260 Oxford Bob Triples after which the bells were 'fired'. After the ringing members of the Underhill family visited the belfry, bringing party cake, which was gratefully accepted by those taking part, who were:—L. Chamberlain 1, Noreen Brain 2, H. E. Harrison 3, P. Foster 4, B. G. Key 5, G. Harrison 6, G. L. Roden (conductor) 7, B. Deakin 8.

SOCIETY OF RAMBLING RINGERS

54 Towers Visited on the First Tour

THE Society of Rambling Ringers had their first tour from August 11th to August 18th. Rendezvous for the majority of the party was Grantham Parish Church on August 10th. The first excursion followed the evening meal when the party proceeded to 'grab' Harlaxton (6, 12 cwt.) and a very fine six they turned out to be.

The night was spent in the luxurious (?) Grantham Youth Hostel and the next morning, in fine spirits and damping rain, the party went to Great Ponton (5, 15 cwt.). These are peculiar sounding bells; then came the light five (tenor 6½ cwt.) at Skillington. About two miles of cart track had to be negotiated before reaching Wymondham (6, 19½ cwt.). At Market Overton (5, 15 cwt.), the band was welcomed by the Rector and the tower captain, Mr. Scott.

After a very late lunch at Oakham came the finest eight of the tour—Oakham Parish Church with its tenor of 22½ cwt. Other towers that afternoon were Langham (6, 17 cwt.) and Belton (6, 10 cwt.). On returning from Belton one member of the band attempted to plough up the road with disastrous results (not to the road!).

The rain had not abated on Sunday as we journeyed to Uppingham (8) where we rang and attended matins. Here the worst ringing of the tour was not enjoyed. Thence onward midst much rain and joking about the Ringing Master's headgear, to Weekley (6). Evening service ringing was carried out at Burton Latimer (8) and Kettering (10, 23 cwt.). At Burton Mrs. Cope kindly provided an excellent tea which was much appreciated by the drenched ringers. In the evening, after the ladies of the party with the aid of J. M. T. had provided supper, a kind of epilogue to the day was ringing from 9 p.m. to 9.40 p.m. at Pychley (5).

A WEIGHTY DAY

Monday was a somewhat weighty day with the fine-toned yet 'lumpy' eight (tenor 28½ cwt.) at Wellingborough and the two excellent-going eights at Higham Ferrers (tenor 22½ cwt.) and Raunds (tenor 22 cwt.). Thence onwards to Leighton (5, 21 cwt.), where these heavy bells could only be briefly sampled. At Spaldwick (6, 13½ cwt.), ringing was delayed until the key of the belfry could be found. Onward, then, at an average speed of 20 miles per hour to the anti-clockwise five (tenor 14 cwt.) at Brampton All Saints' (Huntingdon, 6, 8½ cwt.), Godmanchester (8, 21 cwt.), [Dove gives it as 14½ cwt. but the weight of the seventh is 15½ cwt.], and Houghton (5, 10 cwt.), with its unbelievably long draught without any guides, rounded off a good day.

Tuesday, apart from being the day on which the longest distance was covered, was uneventful. The towers visited were St. Neots (6, 14 cwt.), Bourn (8, 14½ cwt.), Haverhill (6, 12½ cwt.), Clare (8, 28 cwt.), and Castle Hedingham (6, 12 cwt.). The kindness shown by ladies at Bourn and Clare in providing refreshments is gratefully recorded.

Wednesday found us at Braintree (8, 11½ cwt.), where a well-known ringer listening outside told us that the lower was the best of the ringing. As to what this conveyed we were left in doubt!

The day's programme was the melodious eight (tenor 21½ cwt.) at Great Dunmow; Great Hallingbury (5), where much bucking and jumping of the frame, bells and headstocks and breaking of ropes was experienced; Standon (6), Braughing (8), Newport (6) and the fine twelve at Saffron Walden.

Sawston (8, 11½ cwt.) was the first tower visited on Thursday. This tower had previously been visited by the Roving Ringers, for whom we were mistaken by a rather irate gentleman! Then to Cambridge where good ringing was enjoyed at the R.C. Church (8), and not so good at Great St. Mary's (12). Stedman was, of course, rung at St. Benet's (6, 12 cwt.).

THE HEAVIEST FIVE

At Burwell a completely unsafe and almost unringable five (tenor 14 cwt.), was rung to a semblance of rounds while the frame waltzed, creaking and groaning, round the tower. On then to Fordham, with a moderate six. Then to Isleham (5, 25 cwt.), the heaviest five in the world. Here it took fully half an hour to pull the bells up, oddly taking two and sometimes three men to do so. Then, after a superhuman effort by both the ringers and the tower, the bells were rung to one plain course of Grandshire and 120 of Plain Bob Doubles. What a change the 'light eight' (tenor 18½ cwt.) at Ely made after the efforts on the heavy five. After a little argument with the R.S.M. at Ely Youth Hostel, the bells of Wilburton (6) were rung to close another eventful day.

The towers visited on Friday were the lumpy six (tenor 18½ cwt.) at Sutton, the easy-running six at Chatteris, the fine-toned six (tenor 15½ cwt.) at March, the deep-toned eight (tenor 26½ cwt.) at Peterborough and the minor five at Nassington. In the evening a call was made at King's Cliffe (6, 12½ cwt.), to the delight of the local band. The bells were the noisiest yet come across by any of the ringers.

Saturday found the band at All Saints', Stamford (6), where one of the band succeeded in setting fire to himself! Market Deeping's fine six (tenor 16½ cwt.) was then sampled. On then to Spalding and dinner, after which the bells were rung to the swaying accompaniment of the tower until a broken rope put paid to the proceedings! The twelve (tenor 12 cwt.) at Surfleet was very much enjoyed, the tone of the treble passing all expectations. Quadding (6, 10 cwt.) and Horbling (6, 9 cwt.) brought a very enjoyable tour to a regrettable close.

METHODS RUNG

The total distance covered in nine counties was 460 miles, during which 54 towers were visited.

Methods rung were:—

Royal.—Kent and Plain.

Major.—Cambridge, Superlative, Yorkshire, Kent, Double Norwich, Plain and Little Bob.

Triples.—Stedman and Grandsire.

Minor.—Cambridge, London, Primrose, Netherscale, Norwich, Bourne, Kent, London Scholars, Kingston, Sandal, College Exercise, Oswald, College Single, Original, Double Bob, Double Oxford, Double Court, Single Oxford, Single Court, St. Clement's and Plain and London Bob.

Doubles.—Grandsire, New, St. Simon's, Old and Stedman.

The first business meeting of the newly-formed Society took place after ringing at Horbling. Officers elected were:—Ringing Master, John E. Cook; general secretary, Margaret A. Swann; peals and tower secretary, John E. Cook. It was resolved that next year's tour be in the area of Oxford and be of two weeks' duration. The first week will be devoted to peal ringing and the second to tower 'grabbing.' The subscription was fixed at 2s. 6d., payable before April 1st, 1952. Any ringers interested in next year's tour should communicate with John E. Cook, Station Road, Branston, near Lincoln.

The party would like to express its thanks to the clergy and ringers who made this tour such a success.

J. E. C.

HIGHER WALTON, LANC'S. — On Aug. 26th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: J. Jenkinson 1, J. Taberner 2, J. B. Clarke 3, W. Mansley 4, J. E. Briggs 5, F. Stead (first quarter as cond.) 6. First quarter by all except conductor. A 21st birthday compliment to H.R.H. Princess Margaret.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY South and West District

The August meeting of the South and West District was held on the 25th at St. Andrew's, Hillingdon, when upwards of 50 ringers attended. The belfry was soon crowded and several methods were rung before the business meeting commenced in the Church Hall.

With the Master, Tony Price, in the chair, the following new members were elected:—Life members: Miss D. M. Walden (Piddlehinton), Mr. E. T. P. Field (Buckland Newton), Mr. H. J. Gaylard (Yeovil) and Mr. M. Hatchett (Chalfont St. Giles); resident members: Miss M. Hawksley and Mr. B. Graves. The meetings suggested for the next quarter were Heston and Hounslow for September 22nd, joint meeting with the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Hillingdon and Denham for October 20th, and Brentford and Ealing St. Mary's for November 24th.

After tea some ringers were lost to a meeting at Slough, but most stayed to tackle 'the best eight in Uxbridge,' as George Corke said, it being the only ring in Uxbridge. The bells and belfry are certainly beginning to show signs of neglect now that there is no team of ringers there, but despite this, after clearing a chime hammer from the treble, some quite good ringing was achieved, no doubt much to the annoyance of a dance being held across the road, on a level with the louvres. When all had had enough and the bells had been lowered, as if to make themselves even more popular, the ringers held up traffic on the narrow road as they emerged from the tower and had to be moved on by the 'arm of the Law'! Altogether, a good meeting.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION Western Division

The Western Division of the Yorkshire Association held their quarterly meeting at Hepstonstall on September 8th. The 35 or so members who ascended the 'bank' to this lofty village of about 1,000 feet were amply rewarded by ringing on exceptionally good bells and by the fine views afforded from this breezy place. The present Church of St. Thomas a Becket, which is almost 100 years old, stands near an older roofless church, the outer buildings of which only remain.

The vice-president (Mr. P. J. Johnson) presided at the business meeting. Mr. Alexander Marsh was appointed secretary in place of Mr. William Ambler. Members expressed the hope that Mr. Ambler would soon be restored to health and that the time would not be long when he would again be able to take his place at the meetings.

Methods rung included Bristol and Superlative Surprise and the bells being rung down at approximately 8 p.m. concluded a very enjoyable meeting. P. B.

HUDDERSFIELD DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

The meeting held in Ripponden on September 1st was reasonably well attended, this tower being on the outskirts of the district. Two dozen members sat down to tea. The short service was conducted by the president, the Rev. A. L. Minns.

The local company were heartily thanked for the excellent tea provided at such reasonable cost. We were pleased to see Mr. Jaine, sen., who had extended his holiday with his son, in order to attend this meeting.

It was learned with regret after the close of the business that Mr. H. Roberts, one of our members, had met with an accident: we wish him a speedy recovery.

The next meeting will be held at Kirkheaton on the first Saturday in November.

Methods rung on this recently-rehung light eight ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Treble Bob Major. Striking still leaves much to be desired, the best-struck touch being Treble Bob Minor at the close of the proceedings.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

METHODS EXTENSION

Dear Sir,—At the Central Council meeting last Whitsuntide the Methods Committee report on Methods Extension was allowed to lie on the table for 12 months before being adopted, in order to give the Exercise time to study and, if necessary, criticise their findings.

The Methods Committee have spent two years on this involved and controversial subject, and now, after about three months, the Exercise are being spurred to speak or forever after hold their peace.

Let it first be said that it is appreciated that the Methods Committee have given the rank and file of the Exercise an opportunity to air their views before the final adoption of the report.

With the first part of the report (1950) there is no disagreement and their recommendations should meet with universal approval.

Beyond this it is most difficult to lay down hard and fast rules. All methods are individuals, having their own characteristics and should be treated as such. This is most important. From the Methods Committee report it would appear that there can be some departure from this—out of consideration for the practical ringer.

The practical ringer is surely as much concerned with the truth of what he rings as the mathematician who may devise it for him.

The most controversial issue seems to be the lead ends, or the pivot bell sequence. The Methods Committee state that there are 3,465 sequences in all (from Minor to Maximus). Are these all sequences or are they all the possible permutations? At any rate they discard them all but eleven. Possibly they have left some out that might be included or included some that might be left out.

To support this argument the following method is submitted for examination with its extensions to ten and twelve bells:—

21436587	2143658709	2143658709TE
24135678	2413567890	2413567890ET
42315768	4231576980	4231576980ET
24351786	2435179608	2435179608T0
23457168	2345719068	2345719068T80
32547618	3254791086	3254791086T08
23456781	3527490168	3527490168T08
—	5372940618	5372940618T08
24365871	3527496081	57392E4T0168
—	—	7593E2T40618
12436587	3254769801	57392E4T6081
—	1352749608	197E5T302846
—	—	1795E3T20486

In examining this method and its extensions, particular attention should be paid to the coursing order of the bells, as they pass the treble, in addition to the places that are made in relation to it. Can it be said that they are not the same method? Yet the sequence of pivot bells is not one that is included in the Methods Committee table.

This method can be extended on all even numbers and forms an interesting study when carried beyond the Maximus. Changing lead ends result on each even number up to 18, and thereafter the lead end remains the same, 16 running out, and 18 running into the treble.

It may be said that this has no practical value, but it does show the individuality of the method as something that should not be ignored, or the extensions discarded because they do not fit into the straitjacket of the suggested restrictions. If ringing was a practical possibility on these higher numbers, then this method would, on 18 and above, conform to the suggested recommendations, and yet be unacceptable in its contractions.

The following chart of lead-end rows (hand stroke row) is also offered for consideration:—

8	1	8	7	6	5	4	3	2
10	1	8	0	6	9	4	7	2	5	3
12	1	8	0	6	T	4	1	1	2	9	3	7	5
14	1	8	0	6	T	4	1	4	2	13	3	11	5	9	7
16	1	8	0	6	T	4	1	4	2	16	3	15	5	13	7	11	9
18	1	8	0	6	T	4	1	4	2	16	3	18	5	17	15	9	13	11

A method having these lead end rows throughout its extensions would be acceptable to the Methods Committee if constructionally true otherwise.

Now if the plain method given as an example be further examined, it will be seen that the half lead rows (hand stroke of the treble be behind) are exactly the same as the lead end rows (given above) only reversed.

The Methods Committee proposals would permit the one and bar the other, and yet an extension is true or otherwise by the time the half lead end (hand-stroke row) is reached. At this point it is possible to see if the pivot place, as determined by the parent method, can be made or not.

If it can be determined that a method has TRUE extensions, is the resultant lead end to be considered as more important than the way it has been extended?

In these days when all around can be seen a general lowering of standards, it is vitally important that in ringing the highest standards be maintained. TRUTH can only be established as a whole, and not in parts.

Thus may it be suggested that if an extension can be established as a true one, then let it be accepted as a true extension, same lead end or no. Nothing else to be considered.—Yours faithfully,

K. A. ROE

Wigston Magna.

PEAL WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—I wish to withdraw the peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal rung 'in hand' at Stoke-on-Trent, Staffs, on July 25th, 1951.

The composition was a 5,120 by E. Timbrell, which is false at sight—if one happens to be looking for falseness—unfortunately, I was not!

I trust you, sir, and the members of the band will accept my sincere apologies.—Yours

F. W. GROCOTT.

Stoke-on-Trent.

HOSPITALITY IN CORNWALL

Dear Sir,—Having recently returned from a very enjoyable three weeks' holiday in Cornwall (the third year I have been there) I should like, through the courtesy of 'The Ringing World,' once again to express my appreciation of the welcome extended to me. Especially I would like to thank the bands of ringers, scientific and otherwise, who gladly gave me a chance to ring either for Sunday service or on practice night, to the Redruth and Camborne ringers for providing bands for tours, to the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella for his kindness in allowing me to join in his enjoyable outing on Bank Holiday and to all those incumbents who so readily gave permission for the use of their bells even at a couple of hours' notice.

In respect of getting permission to ring, the name of my host, Mr. P. R. C. Williams, of Redruth, appeared to be an 'open sesame,' and to him I extend my hearty thanks: also my sincere regrets that for most of my holiday he was away ill. My best wishes go to him for his speedy and full recovery.

Once again 'Thank you, Cornwall' and may I have the pleasure of enjoying your hospitality and your bells again in 1952.—Yours sincerely,

E. T. P. FIELD.

Buckland Newton, Dorset.

HOLT'S ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—The interest recently displayed in the Original prompts me to ask if the calling of the composition in one year by no less than 12 different conductors of one association is a record.

This was achieved by members of the Kent County Association in 1890, and several famous names are connected with it:—G. Lindoff, J. H. Cheesman (then only 18), Rev. F. J. O. Helmore E. Barnett who, with A. Moorcraft and A. Palmer, called the composition twice. W. J. Reeve, however, insisted on calling Penning's Original One Part—no mean achievement!

No reference is made to this in the Association's report, nor to the fact that two peals were rung on seven bells only; 'meeting one short for Treble Bob, this was rung instead,' and 'meeting one short, the second was left out,' the footnotes inform us.—Yours faithfully, Norwich.

NOLAN GOLDEN

Dear Sir,—When the late Mr. J. A. Trollope was writing 'Grandsire' in the Jasper Snowden Series, I suggested to him that a chapter on conducting Holt's Original would be useful, and as he had never called the peal, I agreed to write it for him and to explain the system I use. It appears from recent correspondence on the subject that most conductors learn which bells are called 'Before' and where the 'Doubles' occur. It is, however, far simpler to learn where the 'Doubles' do not occur, and those who have not yet learned the composition and who are interested are recommended to acquire a copy of 'Grandsire.' There is no doubt that there is much more satisfaction to be derived from conducting Holt's Original than almost any other composition.—Yours faithfully, Stanmore, Middlesex. E. C. S. TURNER.

WROCKWARDINE BELLS

Dear Sir,—Few ringers outside Shropshire will have heard of the bells of Wrockwardine Church and fewer still will have rung them as they have been silent for a number of years and in urgent need of repairs. But not many churches can boast, as Wrockwardine can, that the average age of its bells is about 380 years.

The treble, the youngest bell in this ring of six, was cast in 1828 and bears the inscription: 'Long as Old Wrekin on His Base Stands Good.'

So long may Orleton boast the name of Cludde.

Unfortunately, Orleton no longer boasts the name of Cludde, yet Old Wrekin stands as firm as ever on his base.

The second bell is dated 1650, the fourth 1678 and the fifth 1616. The two oldest bells are the third and tenor, which are believed to be early 14th century.

This ring is now being restored by John Taylor and Co. It was intended that the second bell should be recast, but a faculty for this was not granted on account of the age of the bell and so a new bell is being cast to take its place. It is estimated that the work will cost about £600, a heavy burden for a village parish such as this. So far, nearly £400 has been raised. If any ringer would like to help to preserve this ancient ring, contributions would be gratefully received by Mr. V. G. Leake, St. David's, The Crescent, Wellington, Shropshire, or by the undersigned.—Yours faithfully, Wellington, Salop.

THE MUSIC OF THE BELLS

Dear Sir,—I regret I am not entitled to the honour Mr. Turner confers on me by including my name under the heading of 'Peal Composers.' The touch I sent him was given to me by Mr. J. Minshall, of Macclesfield.

Another quarter peal (or touch of 630, if desired) will be found at No. 69 in Trollope's 'Grandsire,' which contains the three required changes.—Yours faithfully, Chester.

JOHN KINGDON.

SUSSEX YOUNG RINGERS TOUR INTO SOUTH WALES

The Second Week

ON Monday morning the hilly road to Haverfordwest was again safely negotiated, followed by a run to Neyland and the crossing of another ferry over to Pembroke, where the heavy-going eight (tenor 12 cwt.) were rung to various touches. These bells are tuned as the front eight of a ring of twelve and sound very strange! Ringing in the evening took place on the recently-rehung eight at Tenby (tenor 12½ cwt.), where again Harry Jenkins and Gwyn welcomed us to their tower.

A DAY OF DISASTER

Tuesday was a day of disaster. The cyclists arrived safely to ring on the pleasant light eight (tenor 11 cwt.) at Llanstephan, but after ringing found that the tide was too low for the ferry to be able to take them across to Kidwelly. This necessitated a 20-mile detour via Carmarthen, and then, as time was getting on and it was raining hard, they (let it be whispered!) hitched a lift on a lorry to the outskirts of Swansea and cycled out to Cilibion Y.H. in the Gower peninsula. This necessitated the cutting out of the ring of five at Burry Port and the six at Llanelli (the one which is in the book!), and we wish to tender our sincere apologies to Mr. Sage at Burry Port and the local captain at Llanelli for our failure to arrive. The motor-cyclist would also like to thank Mr. Sage for entertaining him to tea while he waited for nearly three hours at Burry Port!

However, once again, all's well, etc., and the following morning found the party only very slightly late at St. Paul's, Sketty, where Mr. Meredith welcomed us on behalf of Mr. Hoare, the local captain, who was unable to be present. Ringing on the recently-rehung octave (tenor 13 cwt.) here was much enjoyed, and afterwards Mr. Meredith entertained the party to refreshments in a local cafe, which was also much appreciated, before we left for Neath, where some good ringing took place on the fine six (tenor 9 cwt.) at St. Thomas's, and on the six (tenor 7 cwt.) at Cadoxton, where Mr. Lewis welcomed the party. The night was spent by the cyclists at the Y.H. at Ystradfellte ('How does one pronounce it?') and by the motor-cyclist at Aberdare.

Noon on Thursday found the party (early for once!) at Caerphilly, and Councillor Jones welcomed us to the belfry with its fine light Taylor octave (tenor 13 cwt.) at St. Martin's. Some good ringing was much enjoyed here before setting out on the next stage, to Newport, with a picnic lunch en route. One of the young Caerphilly ringers accompanied us as far as the next tower, Bassaleg, but unfortunately he departed without staying for a ring: not that he missed much, I'm afraid, as the six here (tenor 12 cwt.) are cast steel bells by Naylor Vickers, and about as bad as they could be!! A very little ringing sufficed here, but the grand twelve at St. Woolos' proved an excellent antidote to the Bassaleg 'tram rails'! These fine bells were soon set going to the tune of Grandsire Caters (with the aid of the two local ringers who welcomed us) Bob Major, and rounds on the twelve. Having lowered the bells we were invited by Don Clarke, who joined us at Bassaleg with one of his young band, to visit All Saints': the invitation was, needless to say, accepted with alacrity, and this very good ring (8, tenor 15 cwt.) was soon going merrily to the tune of Grandsire and Plain Bob. All too soon we had to push on, en route to Chenstow, calling to ring on the truly lovely little Taylor six at Penhow (tenor 7 cwt.), which are rung from the ground floor just inside the south porch. Even now the really keen tower-snatchers were not satisfied, for after supper at the Chepstow Y.H. permission was obtained for a short ring on the fine six (tenor 10 cwt.) at Mathern.

close by! Here we said goodbye to Don and Bryn, and also to George Francis, who had managed to be with us again for a few hours, and in the morning we crossed the Severn Ferry to Aust.

SHADES OF MERTON COLLEGE

The road to Bitton, the first tower of a very full day, necessitated a tour through the suburbs of Bristol which proved a little difficult to follow; however, everyone arrived safely! After a picnic lunch the bells were raised and rung for a short time to various touches. The organ was undergoing restoration here, and the trapdoor in the centre of the ringing chamber, having had a portion removed to accommodate sundry wires and chains connected with the work on the organ, the treble ringer had a pleasant view right down into the church (shades of Merton College and Southwell!). The next tower was informal, i.e., not on the programme, having been arranged for us by Roger Fry, who did so much to make this day a particular success for us. The ringing at Kelston (six, tenor 10 cwt.) was curtailed, as we were behind time, and while the cyclists followed a somewhat difficult short cut across the Avon to Saltford, the motor-cyclist hastened round via Bath and even then arrived at the six-bell tower of Newton St. Loe before them!

A ringing Vicar welcomed us to his tower and took part in 120 Grandsire, in the course of which Roger Fry arrived, having been looking for us at the towers at which we happened not to be when he got there! Unfortunately we were too late to ring at Corston, as the local ringer had given us up for lost, so we went on to Twerton, with its good light octave (tenor 13 cwt.) and very long draught without guides. However, striking was quite fair and the ringing concluded with a good lower in peal.

AT BATHAMPTON AND BATHEASTON

Following some welcome refreshments at a coffee stall in Bath, we were able, through Roger's good offices, to enjoy a short ring on the very fine light six (tenor 7½ cwt.) at Bathampton. Later in the evening we also visited the tower at Bathaston, with a heavy ring of six (tenor 18 cwt.) and a swaying tower, which fact, probably combined with the potency of local cider, caused the ringing to be not quite as good as it should have been! Following refreshments (more of the aforementioned cider!) in the local, the cyclists retired to the Bathaston Y.H., after saying 'au revoir' to Roger, and thanking him for doing so much to make our day in his neighbourhood a very full and enjoyable one.

We were off in good time on Saturday—we arrived at Chippenham with 1½ hours to spare—a fact which made the 'tower-grabbers' bemoan the waste of good 'snatching' time! However, the fine recently-rehung octave at St. Andrew's was raised just before midday and put to good use for the time available in Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob.

Then came a short run to Calne. Through the kindness of the local ringer who met us at the fine 17th century tower of St. Mary's, our ladies were able to sample some of their products for lunch! The fairly heavy octave here was put to good use before we set out on the road again. A call on Mr. Preston, at Yatesbury, gained permission for the use of this delightful five (tenor 9½ cwt.) for a short time and some good Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles were rung. What a grand little six these bells would make! On again to Marlborough, where, due to a late arrival, there was no one to meet us at St. Peter's, so, in view of the shortage of time, it was decided to 'scrub' ringing here—we wish to apologise to the local captain for not turning up on time. Two more of our party set out for home from here, and we said

'Cheerio' to Rex and Jean with regret—we were now reduced to six! As a result the ringing on the fine eight (tenor 13½ cwt.) at Hungerford was confined to Grandsire and Bob Minor on the back six! After supper in a cafe in Newbury, the cyclists arrived at Hannington Y.H. at 9.45, to find that supper had been kept hot for them, so they had to sit down and start all over again!

On Sunday the little party rang for service on the heavy six (tenor 18 cwt.) in the fine Norman tower at Kingsclere in the morning and on the heavy-going five (tenor 9 cwt.) at Newton Valence in the afternoon. This was the last official tower of the tour, and two more of our members left us at Liss on their way home to Itchingfield, while the Chichester and Bosham contingent finished the last day of the tour with service ringing on the fine little ring of four (tenor 8 cwt., approx.) at Trotton.

Thus ended a thoroughly enjoyable tour; all who took part wish to thank Norman for his hard work in arranging for towers and accommodation on the way. An alarm clock was presented to him by the party at Westbury-on-Trym as a token of their thanks. We would also like to thank most sincerely those who did so much to make the trip a success; the local ringers who met us at their towers; the numerous incumbents who so readily gave permission for the use of their bells; Roger Fry for guiding us round the towers in the Bath area; and lastly, but by no means least, Canon Rees and his lady helpers at Llandovery for their grand reception. Methods rung did not reach a very advanced level, but some good practice was had, particularly in Cambridge Minor and Grandsire Triples. At least one of our ladies, Winnie Keys, shows signs of developing into a good 'heavy bell man,' covering with many tenors in fine style; in fact the local ringers at Bruton and Kingsclere said it was the first time they had ever seen a lady ring their tenors! Thanks, Norman, for a very enjoyable fortnight, and we're all looking forward to the next time! P. N. B.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

South-West Division

The last quarterly meeting of the year was held at Fyfield on September 8th when 48 members enjoyed ringing on this augmented six.

Rural Essex was at its best and made the difficulties of getting to this isolated part of the district well worth while. Excellent arrangements had been made by Mr. F. Blatch, who has done yeoman work in this part of the county.

Seventeen new members were elected and there is every indication that the Division has maintained its very good progress during the past year.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL

Swindon Branch

The autumn quarterly meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at South Marston on September 8th and the attendance was adversely affected by harvesting operations. The Association form of service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon C. F. Harman) and tea was arranged by the local ringers in the village hall.

At the business meeting it was provisionally decided to hold meetings at Faringdon, Wanborough and Swindon during the next three months. Canon Harman welcomed the visitors and paid tribute to Mr. Tom Stone for his work in keeping the bells going. Methods rung ranged from Grandsire Doubles to London and York Surprise Minor.

OBITUARY

MR. E. BROOKS

A former president of the Barnsley and District Society, Mr. Ernest Brooks, of Hoylandswaine, Yorks, died rather suddenly on August 19th, aged 60. He is survived by his widow.

Mr. Brooks did much to encourage ringing at Hoylandswaine where he trained a band, single-handed, in 1930, and this band rang their first peal in 1931.

A good, safe ringer and a good striker, he rang 42 peals and conducted two. Most of his ringing was in Minor ranging from plain methods to Surprise. From 1940 to 1944 he was president of the Barnsley District and was vice-president at the time of his death. For nearly 30 years he served his church as a voluntary organist.

The funeral service was on August 22nd. He was buried near the tower of the bells he loved so well. Many ringers attended the service and ringers also acted as bearers. The bells were rung fully muffled before and after the service. The many wreaths included one from the Barnsley and District Society.

MR. CHARLES CRAPNELL

It is with regret that we record the passing, on August 27th, of Mr. Charles Crapnell, aged 87, of Ipswich. He had been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Crapnell learned to ring at Clopton and Burgh and came to Ipswich in 1885. He was first associated with the Church of St. Mary at Quay. He joined the Norwich Diocesan Association in 1909, and became a member of the St. Mary-le-Tower company.

In 1925 Mr. Crapnell moved to St. Margaret's Church, and was steeple-keeper there for some years. He had been a member of the Suffolk Guild since its inception, but his five peals were all rung for the Norwich Diocesan Association. He rang his last 720 in 1949 at St. Margaret's Church, in which his grandson, Dennis Crapnell, aged 14, participated.

The cremation took place at Ipswich on August 30th, the service being conducted by the curate of St. Margaret's, and in the evening the bells were rung half-muffled to his memory.

Mr. Charles Crapnell will long be remembered in Ipswich, where he was well known as a ringer. It was during the difficult time just after the ban was lifted that he was steeple-keeper at St. Margaret's, and his work there reflected his character as a faithful son of the church. E. C. E.

BARNSELY &amp; DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Hoylandswaine Cup contest was held at Wath-on-Dearne on September 8th. Four bands entered and the judges were Mr. H. Chant (Felkirk) and Mr. J. Buxton (Shelley). The result of the draw and the ringing was:—

No. 1: Cawthorne; 176 faults, 0 penalties, total 176.

No. 2: Sandal; 131 faults, 0 penalties, total 131.

No. 3: Shelley; 186 faults, 0 penalties, total 186.

No. 4: Silkstone; 88 faults, 0 penalties, total 88.

Silkstone were the winners and hold the cup for 12 months; they also received six pickle jars as individual prizes. Sandal were second and received six E.P.N.S. butter dishes. All except Cawthorne rang Oxford Treble Bob Minor. Cawthorne, who were the winners last year, having to ring a different method according to rule, rang Sandal Treble Bob. The test piece was 720 changes.

The Vicar, the Rev. E. V. Evans, presented the cup and prizes to the winning teams. The best thanks to the Vicar for allowing the contest to be held at Wath, also to the local company for all the arrangements made, brought to a close a very happy afternoon and evening.

POINTS OF INTEREST ON OUTINGS

EAST GRINSTEAD GUILD

The fifth annual outing was held on August 18th in perfect weather. After the usual tour collecting the company we proceeded, via Westterham and Biggin Hill aerodrome, to the first tower, Downe, a handy six that was put to good use. At West Wickham we were met by Mr. A. S. Richards, and after raising in peal, the first touch was rung by the band of one tower, Kent, Plain Bob and Double Oxford followed, then a good lower. Most of the company stopped to have a chat with Mr. Hugh Mackinder, who was unable to climb the steps into the tower. At Croydon Parish Church we were met by Mr. F. E. Collins, with whose help the Guild rang its first touch of Grandsire Cinques on this fine twelve. There were rounds on ten and twelve, Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal, finishing with some lovely music as 3, 4, 5, 8, 10 and 12 were lowered in peal.

At Banstead the party found a good Simpson-tuned octave, which was heard to perfection outside the tower, especially during a course of Yorkshire in which we did get those back strokes in. After most had sampled the local Woolworths' ice cream, a move was made to Windsor, via Hampton Court. As there was not time to ring before tea, a pleasant 20 minutes was spent by the Thames, while some rang handbells to an interested audience. At Old Windsor, we helped ourselves to the bells, a very quiet, easy-going octave which went well to Superlative, and provided the best lower of the day.

Arriving at West Clandon nearly an hour late, we found Mr. G. L. Grover patiently waiting. This noisy octave was soon raised and set going to Plain Bob, followed by the first Double Norwich of the day. By the time the bells were lowered there was a marked thinning of the ranks, as the wise ones knew that this was their only chance of getting something stronger than tea before the dash for home. Two had to be dropped at Horley instead of Godstone, to help make up time, but even so, as we arrived in East Grinstead we saw the last bus for Marsh Green disappearing. Two more were hastily ejected and the chase was on. The elusive bus was caught on the outskirts of the town and three more of the party were safe. By this time the Lamberhurst contingent knew the worst—they could not catch their last bus, but a collection among the rest realised a sum towards their taxi fare, so in the end all was well, and we heard the old, old story. 'We will get home earlier next year'! C. A. B.

SILEBY, LEICESTERSHIRE

Before leaving for their outing on August 18th, Sileby ringers had to open the local Festival Week by half an hour's ringing on the bells of St. Mary's, commencing at 7.15 a.m. Friends from Barrow, Mountsorrel, St. Peter's, Syston, St. Peter's, Belgrave, and Leicester Cathedral were picked up en route.

The first objective was King's Norton, via Coventry and Birmingham Ring Road. Here Mr. Goodman met the party and a delightful hour was spent on the bells. Another pleasant hour was spent at Selly Oak and Mr. Roper guided the visitors to Harborne for lunch and to the church. The rush of weddings caused ringing to be delayed for half an hour, during which the vocalists of the party assisted in the choral service. An hour's ringing preceded tea at the Vine Inn. At the conclusion of the meal Mr. W. Swan thanked Mr. W. W. Draper for his excellent arrangements and welcomed the visitors. Mr. Draper and Mr. G. Walker, president of the Syston District, replied. Mr. Draper mentioning the company's indebtedness to Mr. Roper and the Harborne ringers for their assistance.

The Barrow boys then adjourned to the bus to ring a quarter peal on handbells, while the rest of the company enjoyed themselves in various ways until 8.20 p.m. when a start for home was made.

ST. MELLONS

On Tuesday, August 28th, a party of 16 ringers from St. Mellons and district, with friends and relations making the party up to 37, set off for their annual outing. At Newport, Mr. J. W. Jones, who must certainly be one of the veteran ringers of the whole country, joined us and with the party now complete good progress was made to Abergavenny. In the back seat of the bus, the younger ringing element made their presence an audible as well as a visible feature by tune and method ringing on handbells. At Abergavenny, ringing took place on the majestic ten which are a great credit to Taylor's.

No one was unduly perturbed by the storms of rain which swept down from time to time, as the sun also shone for long periods. The next stop was at Hereford, where lunch had been arranged. It was not possible to ring at the Cathedral but many took the opportunity of visiting it.

Mr. Brookes, the local doyen met us at Lugwardine where ringing took place on the very nice eight. Here non-ringing members took the opportunity of visiting the ringing chamber, among them being two American friends. Thence to Leominster where an excellent salad tea was fully appreciated by all.

Ringling took place after tea at the Priory Church and a course of Kent Major on the back eight was the best of the day. Unhappily the rest of the ringing on this fine ring was very poor. On the way to Withington a very good course of Bob Major was lapped by those occupying the back seat. Two of our party—ringers, he it noted—were presented with a silver wedding card signed by all present, the outing falling on the anniversary. Mr. J. W. Jones, in making the presentation, wished the recipients, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hulbert, the greatest happiness.

Mr. Reg Addis, the captain of the St. Mellons ringers, was warmly thanked for his work in organising the outing so admirably, as he has been doing for a number of years.

J. R. W.

A CORNISH OUTING

Members of Wimborne Branch of the Salisbury Guild, under the supervision of Mr. W. Shute, spent a very interesting and enjoyable week-end tour in Cornwall.

The success of this was in no small way attributed to the hospitality and brotherly way all were welcomed at the village towers visited, especially at Lanteglos.

This tour commenced from Hampreston at 6.30 p.m. on August 24th, cars being the mode of transport. The party camped at Honiton on the first night, under canvas, and on the following night stayed in Lanteglos Church Barn because of inclement weather. Saturday was spent visiting and ringing at Launceston, Callington, Lewannick, Davidstow and Lanteglos. Before returning home the tourists paid a visit to the coast.

40 YEARS AGO

(From 'The Ringing World' of Sept. 22nd, 1911)

Brading, Isle of Wight. The Cambridge University Guild. On Friday, September 8th, 1911, in three hours and five minutes, at the Church of St. Mary, a peal of Little Bob Major, 5,040 changes (tenor 104 cwt.): Rev. A. H. F. Boughey treble, E. M. Atkins 2, Rev. H. L. James 3, Rev. A. G. Langdon 4, R. O. Street 5, W. D. James 6, Rev. E. B. James 7, Rev. H. S. T. Richardson tenor. Composed by W. Rolve. Conducted by Rev. E. B. James.

[This was the first time a peal in a 'Little' method had been rung. One might have expected some protests at the idea of the treble not going beyond fourths, but none appear to have been forthcoming.]

DOWN REDCLIFFE WAY

THE Church of St. Mary Redcliffe is undoubtedly well known to most ringers, standing as it does in its most majestic form near the centre of Bristol. Queen Elizabeth once said of this church, 'The fairest, goodliest and most famous parish church in England.' We at Redcliffe feel that she was correct in her statement. That was in the year 1574 and I think it is safe to assume that the six bells then hanging in the tower were rung in honour of the visit. It is stated that the number of ringers then were numbered as 12 to 16, and except for a record of a society being in existence in the year 1835, it seems that a regular band of ringers has never existed at this tower.

What of the present day? The tower now has a fine ring of twelve bells with a tenor of 50 cwt. 2 qr. 21 lb; these are well known to a large number of ringers, both old and young.

During the war the bells were lying on the floor of the church and were replaced in the year 1945 by Messrs. Taylor and Co. It was then that ringing activities really began, Mr. D. G. Clift taking charge with the object of Sunday service ringing in view. Regular Sunday ringing was unknown before at Redcliffe, and with the assistance and co-operation of other bands in Bristol it was achieved.

It was in 1950 that it was made obvious to me that we still did not have a guild of our own. A ringer from a far distant tower came to join us for ringing on one Sunday evening, and he remarked what a good thing it was that Redcliffe now had a band of ringers of their own. It was the beginning of the laying the foundation for the formation of such a guild, and on February 15th, 1950, the St. Mary Redcliffe Guild of Ringers was formed.

It is always easy to start something new, but a far different thing to keep it going. The ringers who formed the Guild did not belong to any tower as members, but all joined together so that their ringing should be for the benefit of the Guild.

What do we do to keep the interest alive? First and foremost we ring our bells every Sunday evening and welcome all other ringers who care to visit us when not ringing in their own towers. We take an interest in the welfare of our fellow-ringers; after all, the family spirit is as necessary as the team spirit.

We have rules which have to be adhered to; these were drawn up by the members themselves. We elect our officers at the annual meeting and at this and other meetings, held when necessary, criticism of the way things are done is not withheld.

The social side of the Guild's activities is of great importance; outings are arranged, usually preceded by some weeks' hard practice, together with evening trips when possible. The winter programme will no doubt see further gatherings for handbell ringing practice; this includes tune ringing at functions associated with the church.

Now that is all very well, but have we forgotten anything? The probationers—oh, yes, we have some, and these, I trust, will become the mainstay of the Guild in the future. These lads are keen and play their part in the Guild's activities as the members do. They have to pass a test in order to become members, and three have succeeded in the past year.

None of this would have been possible but for the support of the Vicar, Canon S. E. Swann, and the Church Council. The interest taken has been abundant and was made evident in the support given to installing the new 'flat sixth.' This was undoubtedly one of the finest acts of appreciation the Guild could have received. I trust we shall ever be worthy of it.

On Saturday, August 18th, a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung as a farewell to our Vicar, at our third attempt. The notable thing about the peal was that the first probationer to become a member rang his first peal at the first attempt. His age is 15 years.

A ringer, paying his first visit to Redcliffe whilst here on holiday, was invited to ring. He remarked how surprised he was that he had been asked to ring, as he had been informed that he would not get a ring at St. Mary's. I wonder how many more ringers pass our tower with the same thing in mind. No, we welcome all visitors to Bristol to come and visit us and to join in ringing with us. We expect all ringers to give of their best, whatever method may be rung.

Above all, we remember that we are in the House of God and that nothing but the best is worth while. This means discipline; but as long as we obey the conductor in understanding and love we cannot go far wrong.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

Quarterly subscriptions, 6s., are now due. Please send this week-end, without fail, to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent. New subscribers welcomed.

During the ringing of a peal in a certain Northants parish, a Mrs. Quick rang up the parson with the request, 'Couldn't he do something to stop those — bells?' Two days later a furious Mr. and Mrs. Quick met the belfry captain, who promptly told them 'to be slow to anger and quick to move to another district if they didn't like the bells.' Needless to say, Mr. and Mrs. Quick quickly walked away.

Lesson in geography for the Editor of 'The Ringing World' and also Dove's 'Ringers' Guide.' St. Mellons is in Monmouthshire.

In the in memoriam peal to Mr. T. Jull at Bobbing, Kent, on September 12th, just after the conductor, Mr. G. A. Naylor, called 'Stand,' the rope of the third bell broke.

Mr. Charles E. Borrett points out that the first peal on the ten at King's Lynn was one of Kent Treble Bob Royal on August 6th, 1900, and not as stated in the recent footnote.

The work of putting the twelve bells of the Parish Church, Cheltenham, on ball bearings is now practically completed, and it is hoped to have them in use again for morning service on September 30th.

Stansted, Herts, has two octogenarians — Messrs. Walter Prior (83) and W. T. Prior (80). As a compliment to them a quarter peal was rung by W. T. Prior 1, H. M. White 2, R. Hayden 3, N. R. Turner 4, H. Bird 5, W. Wheeler 6, F. Bird (cond.) 7, W. Bird 8.

The ringers at Sparsholt, Winchester, hope to visit Messrs. Mears and Stainbank's foundry on Oct. 3rd to see the recasting of their tenor. Mr. T. R. West, of Sparsholt, acknowledges the sum of £32 received from ringing friends and would be pleased to receive other contributions towards the £30 outstanding.

Will 'Pessimistic Campanologist' please note that letters cannot be considered for publication without the name and address of the sender being sent to the Editor.

A new edition of 'Change Ringing on Handbells,' the only official book on the subject, is now available from the hon. librarian of the Central Council. A valuable addition to the publication is an index.

One of the last public duties of the late Bishop Neville Lovett, former Bishop of Salisbury, was the dedication in April, 1950, of the restored and augmented ring at Piddlehinton, Dorset. On September 9th the bells of St. Mary's, Piddlehinton, were rung half-muffled both before and after evensong, the ringing including the 'whole pull and stand' 82 times.

Two peals arranged in the Lewisham district during the week-end September 7th-8th had to be rung half-muffled. The first, a peal of Stedman Triples at St. John's, Erith, on Sept. 7th, was to have been a peal of London. It was the 500th peal by Mr. Fred Cullum, one of the leading conductors of the Kent County Association. It was rung half-muffled and the method changed accordingly as a mark of respect to Mr. T. L. Wilkie, churchwarden.

A peal of Ealing was to have been attempted at Lewisham on September 8th, but the method was changed to Stedman and the bells half-muffled as an appropriate valediction to the veteran Harry Warnett, whose death has already been reported in 'The Ringing World.' The day before the peal the Vicar of Lewisham was bereaved by the death of his aged mother. The original intention of the peal was to mark the appointment of the Vicar as an honorary canon of Southwark Cathedral.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD RINGING WEEK

At the Rival City

THE University cities during vacation are favourite venues for conferences and meetings of many kinds, and this year has been no exception. The ancient city of Oxford, for instance, during the last week of August, housed not only the National Coal Board and the Methodist Ecumenical Mission, but also the Cambridge University Guild of Change Ringers, who this year chose to make the rival city their centre for the annual ringing week.

Headquarters were at one of the hostels attached to St. Ann's Society, on the Banbury road, where most of the 19 members who were present for the whole or part of the week were splendidly looked after by the warden (Mrs. Haworth) and her staff. As we were the only residents in the house at the time, handbell ringing and discussion—both learned and unlearned—could continue in the spacious dining room until a late hour without let or hindrance. On the Tuesday evening, also, a well-struck handbell peal was rung in one of the upper bedrooms.

The ringing of peals has, of course, never been the primary object of these annual reunions. They are intended rather to provide an opportunity for members of all ages, irrespective of their capabilities as ringers, to make or renew acquaintance with each other, to visit fresh churches and their bells (preferably amid pleasant surroundings), to practise new methods and to improve their striking—in short, a first-class ringing holiday.

PEAL ATTEMPTS

Nevertheless, it is usual to attempt a few peals, although most of us are always a little surprised if more than half are successful. This year five tower-bell attempts were made as follows: Double Norwich at Kirtlington on August 27th, rung in three hours and two minutes; Kent at Bicester, lost after two hours forty minutes with only one course to go; Grandsire Caters at Abingdon on Wednesday, lost after about an hour because of a superfluous 'correction' of the coursing order by the conductor; Cambridge at Buckland on Thursday, a good peal; and London at Harwell on Saturday, lost after an hour owing to a 'shift.' This breakdown at Bicester was particularly annoying as it would have been the first in the method for one of the two ladies present, who only last year at Bourn was carefully shepherded through a false peal of the same method.

Transport, so often a problem on ringing weeks, was available in abundance, as no fewer than nine cars and two motor-cycles were at the disposal of the company. Although no one viewing the vehicles as a collection could possibly have imagined himself to be judging a 'concours d'elegance,' such was the reliability of the machines and the efficiency of their pilots that punctuality was a noticeable feature of the tour.

The peal at Kirtlington accomplished, we made our way to No. 27 and after supper enjoyed several touches on the fine ring of six at the University Church of St. Mary. It was noticed that quite a crowd of onlookers assembled on the opposite side of the 'High,' but whether they were attracted by the excellence of our ringing on these rather weighty bells or by the beauty of the floodlit spire was never ascertained. Several other ecclesiastical and University buildings at Oxford have also been floodlit this summer, providing a really beautiful and genuinely 'festival' picture in the late evening.

QUALIS

On Tuesday, while the unfortunate Kentish adventure was in progress at Bicester, the remainder rang on the fine eight at Kidlington, on the sixes at Rousham and Lower Heyford, and finally at Deddington, where the number of the bells is equalled by the number of the weather-vanes on top of the tower, all eight of which at the time of our visit were pointing in the same direction! After an excellent cold lunch at the Unicorn in this village the whole party adjourned to Adderbury for about an hour's ringing on this splendid ring of eight, generally acknowledged to be one of the best in Oxfordshire. Then on to Aynho, just over the Northamptonshire border, where a second attempt to ring a touch of Qualis—a mixture of Major and Triples invented by the Rev. E. B. James, which the organiser had printed in full on the back of the programme—mysteriously came to grief, and thence to Souldern Rectory, peacefully situated in green pastures a hundred yards from the road, where the Rev. Hugh Benson kindly provided refreshments. There followed ringing of Doubles and Minor, first at Souldern and then at Somerton, while in the evening those not ringing handbells visited St. Thomas-the-Martyr's for still more six-bell effort.

Wednesday began with a corporate Communion service, conducted by the president, the Rev. A. C. Blyth, and held in the private chapel of Springfield St. Mary. Then breakfast and away to the attractive old town of Abingdon to try the light six at St. Nicholas', where ringing is still carried on from the old minstrel gallery in the first storey of the tower. Next to the lively eight at Drayton, for ever to be associated with the famous Rev. F. E. Robinson. Alongside the tablet for Mr. Robinson's thousandth peal is a longer tablet giving details of the first occasion (in 1886) when three peals were rung in one day, a remarkable feature that caused some comment being that each peal apparently occupied exactly the same time, two hours and forty minutes.

At Sutton Courtenay, the beauty of the village and the interesting church were ample compensation for our disappointment at finding only six bells instead of eight as our programme had led us to expect. The bells, with a tenor of about 18 cwt., are hung anti-clockwise. One would like to listen to them from the quiet backwater on whose bank Mr. Asquith made his home, or from the side of the famous 'Sutton pool,' only a short distance away.

We then returned to Abingdon and after lunch attempted Grandsire Caters at the ancient Church of St. Helen, where the five gabled aisles of the nave make the width of the building greater than its length. Failure here made it possible for the band to join the rest of the party, who had meanwhile visited Witney, in time to share in ringing on the handy eight at South Leigh. The evening was pleasantly spent in the company of Walter Judge and others of the Oxford ringers, first at All Saints' and afterwards elsewhere.

Thursday proved to be a most enjoyable day despite the violent storms that must have ruined it for all ordinary holiday-makers. While the second tower-bell success was being achieved at Buckland, the remainder, with the welcome addition of Miss Cross and two of her young ringers from Radley who had also assisted the previous afternoon, visited Cumnor, Stanton Harcourt and Standlake. At Cumnor the bells, tuneful and again fairly heavy, are now rung from the ground floor, but the massive spiral oak staircase giving access to the upper storeys remains. Here London Minor was rung with doubtful success. The church contains a Jacobean pulpit with a reader's pew.

Having crossed the river at Bablock Hythe, probably in record time thanks to the assistance given the ferryman by some of the more energetic passengers, we came to Stanton Harcourt. After inspecting the family memorials and the impressive pedigree of the Harcourts recorded in the transept, we were pleasantly surprised by the spaciousness of the central ringing chamber, where several good touches were rung, among them an integer of spiced Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. At Standlake the six bells, in three tiers, are housed in a narrow chimney-like structure which causes the sound to pour down on the ringers below as though in a vain effort to escape. At least so it seems to the visitor; probably the regulars find the conditions quite tolerable.

APPLETON MEMORIES

Lunch at Appleton followed, specially arranged for us at the Thatched Tavern, thatched (alas!) no longer, but still very definitely a ringers' house, with photographs of bands who rang the record lengths. Cambridge Royal and Caters at this famous tower began the afternoon, our admiration for the long-peal veterans being increased by our impression of the 'go' of the back bells. The remainder of the day's ringing took place in Oxford itself, at Christ Church, Merton and Magdalen. Not all the party made the ascent at Merton, but those who did found conditions not so difficult as expected; among other items a well-struck course of Bristol rewarded them. At the business meeting in the evening thanks were expressed to the organiser, Paul Williamson, and it was agreed that, if possible, the week in 1952 should be held in Hertfordshire.

On Friday there was no peal attempt, but we all spent the day in the Cotswold country, our first stop being at the beautiful village of Great Tew. Those whose first visit it was were thrilled to find the lovely surroundings and exterior of the church matched by the splendid bells, generally voted the finest octave of the tour. Tempted though we were to prolong our stay, we dutifully pressed on to Chipping Norton, where more good ringing took place. The absence of ropes at Stow-on-the-Wold effectively prevented any disturbance of the after-lunch peace there, so while some sought consolation on the five at Broadwell the rest went direct to Bourton-on-the-Water. The chancel roof here is very attractively decorated with various painted crests, but the bells can fairly lay claim only to mediocrity in all respects. The departure of one or two of our cars hence caused some amusement to onlookers as somebody chose to indulge his liking for producing noises mechanically by trying a tin can to an exhaust. At Burford, with a first-class modern ring of eight, our stay was curtailed owing to some difficulty in obtaining the key, and after two or three short touches we went on to Bampton, permission to ring being obtained by telephone. On this heavy eight, in its way very fine and satisfying in tone, some good Double Norwich brought the end of a splendid day for all except eight, who added another tower to their list with half an hour's ringing at St. Ebbe's.

The lost London at Harwell concluded the week. But long after the failures, and perhaps the peals too are forgotten, other memories will linger: the quaint peal boards telling of integers of Doubles at Stanton Harcourt and of doges and singels at Bourton; a squirrel daintily and unconcernedly consuming an apple in a quiet garden; a small child playing with a huge dog in the grounds of the Rose Revived by the riverside at Newbridge; the many photographs of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, a famous member of the Guild, especially the splendid one at Burford that seems to extend a genial welcome to all as they mount the final step into the ringing chamber. F. E. H.

A THOUSAND MILES THROUGH YORKSHIRE

Pipe's Pilgrims Go North

THE early arrivals for this year's tour met at Grundisburgh on Saturday, July 21st, and received a warm welcome from Mr. and Mrs. Pipe. After tea the visitors enjoyed an hour's ringing on the grand little ten at the Parish Church and then walked over the fields for a pull on the six bells at Burgh.

Sunday morning, at 5.15, found Bill beating Sylvia by a short head to an early cup of tea and the party were soon up and preparing for another great adventure. The programme said, 'Leave Grundisburgh Green 8 a.m.,' and with the arrival of the Ufford party and introductions over, the coach moved off as the church clock struck the hour. A few miles short of Cambridge, we were pulled up by the arm of the law in the person of a road patrol policeman and firmly warned that coaches are restricted to a speed of 30 miles per hour. Getting away with a caution, and after appointing a look-out against further trailers, good time was made to Godmanchester. Lunch was at Stamford, where we were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of Nuneaton, after which we journeyed on to Newark-on-Trent for ringing on the fine ten at the Parish Church. The next stop was at East Retford, where after doing justice to a really fine tea, we enjoyed an hour's ringing on the musical ten, tenor 24 cwt., at St. Swithun's Parish Church. Headquarters for the week, the Londesborough Arms Hotel, Selby, was reached on time, we having covered 185 miles on our outward journey.

MONDAY

We left Selby in pouring rain, which completely blotted out the scenery on the long ride to Bridlington, which we reached at 10.15. The fine ring of eight at the Priory Church, with a powerful tenor of 26 cwt., soon made us forget the weather, and ringing from rounds to London Surprise was accomplished, only one touch failing to reach its proper ending.

We then set off for an eagerly looked for treat, ringing on the grand ten at Beverley Minster. The needs of the inner man were first satisfied at the Beverley Arms Hotel, and tracks then made to explore the wonders of that glorious church, both architectural and campanological. 'O, Yorkshire, what glories you possess.' Cambridge Royal was not a good choice of methods to open up our ringing here, for our mixed band could not settle down. Treble Ten, Stedman Caters, Cambridge Major, Bob Triples and call changes were then well rung. Visits to the other tower were made by most of the party and the 7 ton bourdon was heard several times adding her wondrous tones to the music of the ten in peal. Ringing visitors to Beverley should ring at St. Mary's first, for it seemed difficult to do justice to another grand ring of ten bells after coming straight from the Minster.

Back on the coach we made our way to Hull, where the fine ten at Holy Trinity Parish Church were at our disposal. Rounds. Grand-sire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Yorkshire Major, Treble Ten and Cambridge Royal were all successfully rung. While the brass hats were busy on the ten, the youngsters of the party had found another tower not officially on the programme, at St. Mary's, Lowgate (six bells). A local ringer gave the weight of the tenor here as 17 cwt. 'Church Bells of Britain' (R. H. Dove) gives 10 cwt. 2 qr. 7 lb. To settle the argument a piece of string took the diameter of the bell, which proved to be 35½ inches—quite a lot of metal here for the diameter.

After dinner, at Selby, we had the privilege of meeting the clergy, organist and choirmen from St. Giles', Pontefract, and joining them in a social hour. Songs were, of course, forthcoming from the choir, and to show that ringers could also do their bit, Jim opened his own 'pipe' and gave a real Suffolk song which our Yorkshire friends thoroughly enjoyed. Handbell solos by Bill were also given. The clergy were intrigued by the idea of ringers on tour and suggested that the choir might follow their example, tour Suffolk and sing at all the churches they could visit. We covered 106 miles during the day.

TUESDAY

Our first tower on Tuesday was that of the Minster of St. Peter, Howden. Everything in the tower at Howden is perfect—bells, hanging, sound control—a model of what can be done with the right planning. The grand ring of eight (22 cwt. in E flat), which set the Suffolk men talking of Debenham, were rung in methods from Plain Bob to Bristol Surprise. Our ringing here was as it should be, for if you can't ring and strike at Howden, you cannot anywhere.

We then made our way to Doncaster and the Parish Church of St. George, where the 135 steps to the ringing chamber caused a few legs to feel shaky. The usual methods were rung on this fine eight (30 cwt. in C sharp), following which a good lunch was enjoyed. Three of the party failed to reach the coach and we were finally an hour late before all were aboard and on our way to Ossett.

The Church of the Holy and Undivided Trinity at Ossett was not easily found, and the apologies of the tourists are tendered to those local ringers who had waited an hour for our arrival. The fact that we were due at York Minster at 6 p.m. with no hope of an extension after 7 p.m. meant that we literally snatched a ring in Ossett tower. The journey to York that took us through Leeds is worth recounting. The centre of Leeds was a jam of traffic, and Jim enquired through the open door the way to York. A true son of Yorkshire, George by name, answered, 'I'm going that way; I'll pilot you through,' and he jumped aboard. In three minutes George had us clear of the jam and heading for the York road. His final tit-bit was when we passed close to Leeds Parish Church. Looking at the tower, Bill remarked, 'Leeds, 12 I presume.' George, evidently a post office worker, replied, 'No, Leeds, 9.'

We reached York at 6.15 and made all speed up the tower. The bells were quickly raised and the grand twelve were set ringing to rounds for the youngsters. Three leads of Treble Twelve followed, and if the writer's memory has not failed, it was Roddy Pipe, our youngest ringer, who called the bobs. Rounds again and we just had enough time left for a half course of Cambridge Royal before we reluctantly lowered the bells.

We travelled 112 miles.

WEDNESDAY

Starting sharp on time at 8.30 a.m., our journey over the moors to Whitby was most enjoyable. The climb up to St. Mary's Church, Whitby, was certainly a test for coach and driver, but it saved our legs from a stiff climb. The new ring of ten (18½ cwt. in E) was a joy. Bob Royal and Treble Ten came safely home, but Cambridge Royal again proved elusive. Two courses of Stedman Caters and one of Stedman Triples with Bill ringing a pair ended our ringing on these lovely bells. From Whitby to Saltburn by the coast road can be both a pleasure and a nightmare. The coastal views are superb, but the three hills our coach negotiated of 1 in 5 gradients with hair-pin bends as extra hazards put all our previous descents in the shade. The ring of eight at St. Emanuel's, Saltburn, have one drawback. Noise, both in and outside the tower, spoil the pleasure of ringing on these fine bells. A very short journey brought us to Skelton-in-Cleveland, where on another fine ring of eight at All Saints' Church we rang methods up to Bristol Surprise.

Ripon Cathedral was reached after a delightful ride of some 30 miles by the valley road skirting the Cleveland Hills; and, being well up to time, we were able to enjoy the beauty of the Cathedral bells to the full. The grand ring of ten (23 cwt. in E flat) is equal to any bells we had previously rung on, and although our ringing here was generally good, we again had to count Cambridge Royal a failure. On the journey home the rear seat of the coach had now become a rendezvous for man and a maid, and the Rev. Leslie had been heard to remark that a wedding might take place in the near future.

We travelled 176 miles.

THURSDAY

The Parish Church of St. Peter, Leeds, was the first stop of the day, and we opened up our ringing on these lovely bells with a course of Bob Maximus. Donald Mills, age 12, and Mrs. Mills rang their first course on twelve bells, and Roddy Pipe, age 11, was conductor. We thought our ringing was quite good even if the variety of methods was unusual for a ring of twelve bells. After Stedman Caters had come safely round we followed on with Cambridge and London Major, then three leads of Treble Bob Major and finished with three leads of Treble Bob Minor on the musical six. We were pleased that Mr. R. H. Dove found time to give us a look in for a short while, and his services in piloting us out on to the Bradford road were much appreciated. The grand ring of ten we found at Bradford Cathedral amply repaid us for that dreary ride. The opening rounds nearly brought disaster, for young Stewart finished off a shaky stay on the fourth bell and went the full distance up to the ceiling. Fortunately he only suffered a shaking. Lunch at the Talbot Hotel was up to the usual high standard, and we were soon on the road again with the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Mirfield, as our objective. We received a warm welcome from one of the clergy, supported by several locals and a reporter. Yorkshire tufted tail ends gave us quite a handful as we rang the bells through Bob Royal, Treble Bob Royal and Kent Major.

Our next call, St. Bartholomew's, Marsden-on-the-Moor, can claim to be one of the best of the tour. A beautiful church, spotlessly kept, belfry to match and a really lovely ring of eight (26½ cwt. in D flat). Back at Huddersfield we were served with a sumptuous tea, and we had something to remember Huddersfield for, as we missed the bells in favour of returning to ring at Selby Abbey.

Dinner over, the party adjourned to the ballroom for a social hour, during which Mr. Charles Fisher presented Jim Pipe with a leather wallet on behalf of the party for his work in organising the tour, and to Reg. Jessup, our driver, a cigarette case.

We covered 104 miles.

FRIDAY

Officially Friday was ladies' day and our destination was Kendal and Lake Windermere. We had a glorious trip via Ilkley and Settle, but arrived at Kendal to find it pouring with rain. The fine old ring of ten at Holy Trinity Church was at our disposal and we were glad to get to the tower out of the rain.

Lunch over, about half of the party made the journey to Windermere. We found a local ringer among the boats at Bowness Pier and regretted we were unable to accept an invitation to ring at Windermere owing to shortage of time. The other half of the party who had stayed at Kendal had a good time with the bells and rang methods from Kent Minor to Cambridge Royal.

We covered 228 miles.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LITTLE METHODS

Dear Sir,—Regarding Mr. Birmingham's letter of August 31st, in my opinion the peal of 5,060 Doubles should go down as a peal of 5,040 Doubles, for surely the band rang a true peal of 5,040 changes, beginning and ending in rounds.

With regard to Woodbine, the method itself has not been banned. If a band wishes to ring a peal in the method the C.C. cannot stop them. It is true that they will not record it, but they will print it in their journal.

I agree with him about quarters of Minor containing 720, 360 and 180 changes. At the same time, why are quarters consisting of 1,216 changes printed, i.e., Tempsford, August 15th, 1,216 Kent Treble Bob Minor? This is even less than a quarter of 5,000.

Regarding Doubles methods, until the C.C. publish 42 distinct methods, each with its own plain course, methods such as April Day should be permitted. After this publication they should, in my opinion, be recorded as variations.

He has, however, dropped a brick with regard to Little methods. It is possible to reverse Little Bob, i.e., have, say in Minor, the 3rd as the dominating bell, hunting between 3rds and 6ths. It is not a rule that the treble shall dominate methods. If you wish, the 4th could dominate Little Bob Minor.

Methods having the treble doing the work opposite that of an Alliance method can be spliced with Reverse Little methods, for surely the lead of a reverse method begins when the dominating bell is lying behind, i.e., to splice Reverse Little Bob with Reverse Harmondsworth Alliance, start with part of the 480 of Reverse Harmondsworth, bobs being made when treble lies behind, by moving 5ths to 3rds, then call a single, made in 345; ring 240 Reverse Little Bob, call a single, then finish your Reverse Harmondsworth Alliance. You should also remember that the first lead of Little Bob Minor, 23456, is false against the lead 65432.

Finally, if anyone wishes to ring something that the C.C. will not recognise, do so. For surely we are ringing for the glory of God, not to get your name on paper, or are we?—Yours faithfully,

F. T. BLAGROVE.

W. Bedfont, near Staines.

PEALS OF DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—Re the correspondence on the number of changes to be rung to a peal of Doubles, there is, I think, a simple solution to the matter.

To combat what seems to me to be a dictatorial attitude by the Central Council, it would be quite simple for the conductor of a band which had rung, say, 5,220 changes of Grand-sire Doubles for a special occasion to submit to 'The Ringing World' for publication the first 5,040 changes only. The members of the band could enter it in their own personal records as being 5,220, and then, everyone being satisfied, the record of the peal rung would not be lost to the Exercise.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN H. HUNT.

Titchfield, Hants.

COMRADESHIP IN RINGING

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the Bures and District company who were on a visit to Kent on September 15th, we wish to express our thanks to all the visiting ringers to Bromley who offered us their places in the front of the queue when they discovered we had a 3½ hours' journey home.

As was remarked by one of our non-ringing members, 'If that's the comradeship you get in ringing, then it's truly an example to the rest of the world.'—Yours very sincerely,

LESLIE D. MILLS.

Bures, Suffolk.

IN DEFENCE OF ROVING RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I feel compelled to write in answer to Mr. John E. Cook's letter in this week's 'Ringing World' concerning the Society of Roving Ringers. It is quite beyond me to understand why Mr. Cook should think that the highly amusing remark in F. J. M.'s account of the tour is aimed at his society; has he no sense of humour at all? I myself have had the pleasure of going on two of the Roving Ringers' annual tours and would probably have been with them this year had circumstances not made it impossible; however, I was able to go on another tour with a party of young ringers from this district to South Wales, and a fine time we had.

When the organiser of this tour (a young man with great talent for arranging ringing trips) and myself saw the account of the R.R. tour, we chuckled at the last paragraph and enjoyed the joke which was obviously intended; the officers of the S.R.R. would, I know, be the last people to frown at young people who get together and organise cycling ringing trips on similar lines to those of the Roving Ringers.

The objects of the R.R. tours are to enjoy a good cycling holiday in good company, to ring in new towers and to make new friends at these towers, and, probably most important of all, to get practice in good striking in the more advanced methods; and, over and above all this, to promote the spirit of the brotherhood of the belfry, particularly among the younger generation.

No, Mr. Cook, I'm afraid you are on the wrong tack, to use a yachting expression; take a joke and have a good laugh at it, as I am sure most readers did on seeing the account of the R.R. tour.—Yours sincerely,

PETER N. BOND.

Bosham, Chichester.

A DISAPPOINTMENT

Dear Sir,—The Yorkshire Association recently held a meeting at Heptonstall, and I presumed that one of its general objects was to help and encourage learners. Under that presumption I hopefully attended the meeting in the evening. Alas for my hopes; I found myself in a desert of Bristol and London, among a company that was as frigid and unfriendly as the North Pole. I was given no chance to ring, and if there was a ringing master present then his was not a practical presence. It was a most disappointing experience.—Yours, etc.,

H. R.

Brighouse, Yorks.

KELVEDON BELLS

Dear Sir,—Until a few weeks ago the bells of St. Mary's, Kelvedon, rang out regularly on Tuesday evenings and for Sunday services. Visitors have always found a ready welcome here and gone away having enjoyed their ring on the heavy ring of six bells.

Now these bells are strangely silent. The grand old tenor of 21 cwt, cast by Miles Graye in 1608 is badly cracked and unsafe to ring. It is to be recast by Mears and Stainbank. This does not sound a large order but there are several repairs to the church which need doing also. Therefore I am appealing to all ringers to help us meet the cost of the recasting so that once more 'The bells of St. Mary's shall ring out.'

All donations, however small, will be gratefully received at the above address, and duly acknowledged.—Yours sincerely,

J. ELLIOTT.

Kelvedon, near Colchester.

WINGERWORTH, DERBYS.—On Sept. 10th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: 1. H. Sargent 1. E. Blythe (cond.) 2. T. Dowsett 3. B. Maltby 4. A. Hopkinson 5. Rung as a compliment to the Rev. F. L. Sargent on his 25th ordination as priest.

HEREFORDSHIRE CONDITIONS

Dear Sir,—I should like to express my appreciation of Mr. Ernest Morris' work in his editing of William Fussell's diary. The stories about Herefordshire are especially interesting to us, and I am glad to say that conditions have greatly changed.—Yours faithfully, WILFRID F. MORETON.

Hereford.

HOLT'S ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—In 1890 the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore used to call the Original from the rhyme of 'Jack and Jill went up to the hill to get a pail of water.'

At that time Edward Pope, of Staplehurst, also called the Original, and his brother, Walter Pope, called it when he was 17 years of age, at Headcorn in 1891.

Staplehurst in 1890 had a band of all Pops.

R. EDWARDS.

Tenterden, Kent.

UNIVERSITIES ASSOCIATION'S WEEK

Dear Sir,—One intriguing exhibit in the Lion and Unicorn Pavilion at South Bank is the scrawled original of a 'Times' 'fourth leader' which, without the intervention of any regimented typescript, immediately preceded the printer's proof. Actually the typing out of 'copy' is a sobering process, as well as a sieve for errors and an eliminator of ineligibility, but time does not always allow this luxury; then are enhanced the chances of faults greeting the reader and certainly shouting at the author. Hence this correction 'postscript' to the account of the Universities Association visit to Bristol.

It was Mr. Edwin Barnett, of Crayford, who kindly reminded me that the first ladies' peal was rung, not at Portishead, but at Christ Church, Cubitt Town, on July 20th, 1912. The Portishead peal on January 30th, 1915, also Grandsire Triples, was, in fact, the first ladies' peal by a local band.

Then the institute at Long Ashton is concerned with cider, not cedar; the captain of ringers at Evercreech is Mr. Harry Sanger, not Henry; the summer school in residence at Wills, W.E.A., not W.A.E.; and the ring of twelve at famous St. Mary Redcliffe, not Ratcliffe! Finally, the U.A. tour at Nottingham in 1952 is not to be extended by 10 days, but will be in progress only from August 15th–23rd.

If these errors are now forgiven (which, incidentally, were not in the nature of deliberate mistakes after the manner of Ronny Waldman), I would comment briefly on the 'unwritten rule' that peals should be recorded for the Guild in whose area they are rung. Mr. Cannon has already acknowledged to Mr. West the desirability of adhering to this custom and explained why it was perforce not observed in the case of the two peals rung in Dorset, the territory of the Salisbury Guild. There is also the case of non-territorial guilds, such as the Universities Association and the Ladies' Guild, which have no towers of their own and must, therefore, continually enjoy hospitality wherever, and whenever, they ring, scoring all peals in territory not their own. Such wide hospitality must be returned in different form, and largely through the loyal service to their home guilds of a membership drawn from all parts of the country.

We of the Universities Association are very conscious of our debt to local towers, and to the territorial guilds, for since U.A. was founded nearly nine years ago we have experienced the warmth of real welcome in many many counties of Britain.

Our appreciation is indeed unbounded.—Yours sincerely,

E. S. JOHN HATCHER,
Hon. Sec., U.A.C.R.

40 YEARS AGO

(From 'The Ringing World,' Sept. 29th, 1911)

LADIES IN THE BELFRY—CORRESPONDENCE

Sir,—Having read 'E. J. B.'s' letter on 'Lady Ringers,' I think that the Vicar is in the right . . . because a woman has no right in a tower that is not really part of the church. . . .

What the ringing world wants is a better class of men to learn to ring, viz., the middle classes, then things would go better. My objections to lady ringers are these:—

1. They will do men out of their hobby.
  2. They will be given all the privileges, while the gentlemen ringers will have to 'take a back seat' and look on.
  3. They will . . . 'cause all the trouble.'
- [E. J. B. had complained of a clergyman's ruling that 'the belfry is not a fit and proper place for any female.' Correspondents rushed to the female's aid, and a leading article declared that 'in the perfectly decorous atmosphere of the belfry, there is nothing that is unfit for a lady.']

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

By-Meeting in the Torbay Area

The Mid-Devon branch held a by-meeting in the Torbay area on September 15th, and the event was particularly well attended. The first calling place was at St. Saviour's, Torre, where the bells were well utilised in methods to suit all tastes. From here a move was made across Torquay's main thoroughfare to St. Mary Magdalene's, Upton, where an hour's ringing was much enjoyed.

After an excellent tea, Mr. J. E. Lilley, the branch chairman, expressed his pleasure at seeing the visitors, including the president.

A move was then made through by-lanes to Abbotskerswell, where a pleasant hour was spent, and as the result of the efforts of one enterprising member a hurried visit was afterwards made to Denbury, where permission had been given to ring at a moment's notice. The visitors greatly appreciated this gesture on the part of the Rector.

OLD TOM, OF ARELEY KING'S

Mr. T. Elcox, of Areley King's, who rang a quarter peal for his 87th birthday, must have strong claims to be the Worcestershire Association's oldest performing member. He has been connected with Areley King's Church for over 70 years. A proud moment for Old Tom came on September 2nd, when he rang for the broadcast service from Areley King's.

RINGERS' NOTEBOOK AND DIARY, 1952

Preparatory work in production of the 1952 Ringers' Notebook and Diary is well in hand, and publication date (about mid-November) will be announced in due course.

Will association secretaries wishing the dates of annual meetings, special functions, etc., inserted in the Diary section please forward particulars to reach me by October 8th?

W. H. VIGGERS.

1,000 MILES THROUGH YORKSHIRE

SATURDAY

Our first good-byes were said to Messrs. Holland and Bond as we left Selby at 9 a.m. on our return trip to Suffolk. Mr. Rhodes left us at Newark and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson at Grantham. Our numbers got steadily less as we said further good-byes at Stowmarket, Higham and Ipswich, and the coach finally reached Grundisburgh at 7 p.m. To those ringers of Yorkshire who had done so much for us, in making arrangements months before the tour began, in meeting us at the towers, may we say 'Thank you' for the joys we experienced in travelling a thousand miles through Yorkshire?

'TOURIST.'

WHEN THE LADIES VISITED

Southern District Outing

The coach trip organised by Mrs. D. Howard on behalf of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild took 20 people—ringers, would-be ringers and non-ringers—for a circular trip to five towers in Hants and Sussex on September 8th.

Starting with Ezbourn, we went on to that little gem of Sussex scenery, Bozzum (Easebourne and Bosham to the uninitiated); thence to Westbourne, Hambledon and finally Catherington.

Disaster overtook us immediately at Easebourne in the shape of a broken stay and it was the sheerest good fortune that we had with us a gentleman who could (and would) ring the bell without it. After a short stop, and many profound apologies, we hurried away, wondering if the ancient curse of the Prioress had had anything to do with the matter. At Bosham we had the privilege of being received by Mr. Peter Bond, and those of us who could not manage the somewhat difficult bells, regaled ourselves with an inspection of the famous motor-bike! After lunch at the Grange Hotel, we offered the non-ringers the opportunity of staying in the village while the ringers and 'we others' repaired to Westbourne; but the tide was out so they decided to come with us and we went on our way again.

At Westbourne we were welcomed by pretty Miss Betty Peak, a charming and vivacious young member of the local band. She had raised all eight bells for us and felt she had earned the right to sit back and watch somebody else do the work! But Westbourne bells were a different proposition from Bosham and ringing them was certainly not hard work. They went like a dream—but alas, so did our time there and we were all too soon on the road again. Our next objective was Hambledon, a very enjoyable ring, and the final call of the evening was Catherington, with a delightful little ring of six, deserving of better than we were unfortunately able to give it, either in ringing or atmosphere. It was here that it became all too apparent that two years of painful fibrositis had left its mark on the temper, if not on the voice, of one of our gentleman visitors, who seems to have passed right out of the ranks of those elect addressed by St. Paul in II. Corinthians, 2, xix. However, he says he enjoyed himself, so—per ardua, etc.!

RINGERS' SUNDAY AT KEYMER

A very successful Ringers' Sunday was held at Keymer on September 9th, when ringers from 16 parishes took part. The tower was open from 2 p.m., and, apart from interruption by a photographer from a local paper, ringing continued until 4.15 p.m., finishing with a service touch of Stedman Doubles.

Over sixty people (both ringers and the 'uninitiated') attended the service, which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. E. Davis-Winstone. Before his address the Rector extended a very warm welcome to all the visitors.

After the service tea was served in the Church Hall, when Mr. S. E. Armstrong (secretary of the Sussex Association) thanked the local ringers on behalf of the visitors. Further ringing took place before and after the evening service.

Visiting ringers attended from Southover, Hurstpierpoint, Balcombe, Ringmer, Twineham, Godshill, Henfield, Aldrington, Chichester, Bosham, West Grinstead, Wivelsfield and the three Brighton churches—the Good Shepherd, St. Peter's and St. Nicholas.

Methods rung included Canterbury Pleasure, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Plain Bob, Cambridge Surprise and London Surprise Minor.

REDEDICATION

ST. LEONARD'S, DEAL

Great pleasure has been given to Deal residents to hear the bells of St. Leonard's again. The six (tenor 9 cwt.) have been rehung on ball bearings and the pulleys renewed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank at a cost of just under £200.

The bells were rededicated by the Rector (the Rev. Raymond Clarke) and afterwards a quarter peal of Doubles (780 Grandsire and 480 Plain Bob) was rung by R. Mantle 1, P. Rye 2, Miss J. Wells (cond.) 3, T. Wickens 4, G. Ruck 5, M. Milner 6. This is believed to be the first quarter on the bells to be conducted by a lady.

The Rector thanked the participants and informed them that he intended to have a plaque placed in the tower to commemorate the occasion. All ringers agreed that a very excellent job had been done. Ringing continued during the evening, with visitors from Walmer, Mongeham and Ringwould.

SWANSEA &amp; BRECON GUILD

Southern District

Although it was an umbrella day for the quarterly meeting at Gorseilla on August 25th, it did not prevent a good attendance, which included visitors from Kent, Pontypool and Rugby. St. Catherine's eight bells were rung to various methods until the service at 3.30 p.m., which was conducted by the curate, Mr. Hopkins, in the absence of the Vicar, who was indisposed.

At the business meeting which followed, the District secretary expressed the members' regret at the indisposition of the Vicar, who was unable to be with them. The same committee members were asked to draw up a programme for next year's annual Festival at Knighton, which was being combined with the District's annual outing.

Thanks were accorded the ladies for the excellent tea provided and Mr. Hopkins for conducting the service and presiding at the business meeting—not forgetting the organist and Mr. W. Dobbins, who helped to make the meeting such a success.

The next meeting will be held at Aberavon in December.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

West Dorset Branch

The pretty village of Netherbury, nestling among the Dorset hills and dominated by its fine church tower, drew some 25 ringers on September 15th for the quarterly meeting of the branch.

The Vicar (the Rev. J. G. McAnally) conducted the Guild Office in church, the lesson being read by the Master (Canon C. Carew Cox). Canon W. J. T. Pascoe, Vicar of Broad Windsor, in a very helpful address, urged his listeners to uphold their ministry as ringers.

After tea in the Parish Room the chairman presided over the business meeting. The annual meeting was fixed for December 1st at Bridport, provided catering arrangements could be made. Failing that an invitation to Lodgers was approved with Bradpole as an additional tower. The following new members were elected: Dr. Taylor and Miss Barbara Morris (Lyme Regis), Michael Arcsott (Whitchurch), Edward Pannell, Donald Ireland and Colin Gibbs (Beaminster) and William Godfrey (Powerstock).

A comprehensive vote of thanks was moved by the chairman to the Vicar and his ringers for their good welcome, to Canon Pascoe for his address; also to the organist (Mr. B. Elsworth) and to the ladies responsible for providing tea.

The six nice bells were in good use during the afternoon and evening, and some enthusiasts also visited Beaminster and accomplished a quarter peal of Stedman Triples.

IN NORTH-WEST DEVON

Visitors Join Locals in Tour

On September 1st a very pleasant afternoon and evening tour was arranged in the Hols-worthy district of Devon by ringers from four counties, represented by Launceston and Marhamchurch (Cornwall), Wellington (Somerset), Piddhinton (Dorset) and two 'scientific exiles' living near Bradford (Devon), who made all the local arrangements.

At Bradford (6, 10 cwt.) we found a handy little ring, although the treble lacked a stay and there was a rather overpowering scent attributable, we were told, to bats.

We were met by a member of the local band at Shebbear, where the bells (6, 10 cwt.) were a job to ring and the time allotted to us passed far too quickly.

Buckland Filleigh ring (5, 7½ cwt.) has a local 'reputation' and here we expected anything, particularly on the information that the bells had not been rung for a year. However, after squeezing behind the organ and raising the bells, all with single-ended ropes of almost wire-like texture, the 'go' was found to be reasonably good. The greatest difficulty was to avoid the numerous jam jars and vases which were parked everywhere on the floor and a few of which suffered casualties from boots and ropes.

At Petersmarland (6, 8 cwt.) was another good ring, also at Petrockstowe (6, 8 cwt.) where we were joined by the Rector and his son, both scientific ringers.

Judging by the 'go' and the noise of what appeared to be a floating frame, the bells (6, 12 cwt.) of Sheepwash are long overdue for a visit from the bell-hangers. The hard work necessary, however, was more than compensated for by the welcome extended by the local band, the captain of whom took a keen interest in what, so he said, was the first 'scientific' on the bells.

Like the wine in the parable, the best was kept to last and at Black Torrington we found a really lovely 'six' with a tenor of 8½ cwt. but sounding twice the weight and here we were joined by another 'exile,' a lady this time. Time all too quickly passed and at 8.45 p.m., after 'goodbyes' and thanks to the two organisers, the party went their various ways home, those from Dorset having a journey of nearly 120 miles via Wellington.

Methods rung during the outing were Plain Bob Minor, Grandsire, Plain Bob and Reverse Canterbury Doubles.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

About 40 members attended the quarterly meeting on September 8th at the Church of St. Elli, Llanelly. It was very encouraging to meet such a stalwart of the Exercise, Mr. Cheeseman, of Surrey, and our seafaring ringer, Mr. George Corners.

Very much credit is due to the Rev. T. J. Evans, who officiated at the service. Afterwards the ringers were entertained to a very nice tea at the Parish Hall, given by the lady members of the Parish Church.

The Rev. T. J. Evans presided at the business meeting, at which Mr. Cheeseman was made a life ringing member and two ringing members were elected. The next quarterly meeting in December will be at Tenby. Hearty thanks were accorded the Rev. T. J. Evans and the kind ladies who provided the tea.

WHY NOT A RINGERS' COURSE?

Facilities are offered to Ringing Associations to hold weekly or fortnightly courses at Dillington House, the residential centre for further education of the Somerset Education Committee. Dillington House is one mile from Ilminster and has accommodation for 40 people (men and women). The basic fee for board and accommodation is 12s. a day. For full details apply to the Warden.

THE PURSUIT OF AN IDEAL

By W. Bottrill

Perfection is the indescribable something for which humanity strives but never attains. It is well that it should be so, for if perfection in all things was common further effort would be unnecessary and the world would become stagnant. In music, art, literature, science, morals, sports and pastimes, and in nature itself, it is this striving for the unattainable which whets the interest and makes life worth while. It is a seed planted by nature—truly in some men more than others—which engenders a desire to excel.

Criticism is the goad which spurs to renewed and more intensive effort. All our exhibitions of the arts and crafts of man, of music, architecture, literature and science are really the exposure of our prowess to criticism. Nine-tenths of our daily reading is devoted to criticism. If man resents criticism he will make no progress. It is the spotlight by which man discovers his own faults and if wise, endeavours to correct them. Criticism should be direct, constructive and designed to improve rather than retard. Self-criticism is the most important of all.

We seem to have entered an era in our art of ringing where criticism is actively resented and taken as a personal affront. How often is one denied access to a tower because he has criticised?

It is a peculiarity of our art that a poor striker seldom knows his failing; once he did so I am sure he would endeavour to correct it. I have met many who, had they been told earlier of their faults, would not to-day be the despair of their associates because of their striking. This is particularly so of some of our more educated ringers, taught by social inferiors with a reluctance to correct faults.

Gone are the days when the tyro must sit humbly in the belfry for months before being asked if he would like to learn to ring. The forcible and pungent criticism of the Leicester Sergt.-Major is almost extinct, but we have before us the result of that care in selection and of his biting comment. The urge to-day is to recruit ringers and never to criticise or correct them lest they fly away.

I am quite sure most clergy and church laity and many ringers are oblivious to the fact that the bells can be heard outside the tower. The ringers look upon the bells as instruments provided for their exercise and enjoyment and the clergy do not care how the bells are rung so long as they are rung.

With regard to declining standards. The fault lies with the Associations:—(1) In their lack of a co-ordinated system of instruction by competent men; (2) In their clamour for members regardless of their suitability and without a period of probation; (3) In allowing the appellation—changeringer—with badge to be used by anyone who can pull a bellrope without actually hanging himself.

Howsoever, none of our old ringers were perfect—I have in mind a famous cleric prolific in peals of Stedman Triples—but they did at least set a standard which we should endeavour to maintain.

OBITUARY

MR. W. FRIGHT

On September 11th, the death occurred of Mr. William Fright, aged 89 years, after a prolonged illness, at his home in Saltwood, near Hythe, Kent.

Mr. Fright was well known throughout the county as a keen and active bellringer. He filled the post of secretary and treasurer to the Hythe band of ringers for 23 consecutive years, up to the middle of 1950, and devoted much of his time to the instruction of beginners.

At the funeral service muffled touches were rung on the Saltwood bells by members of the Hythe band, assisted by some of Mr. Fright's ringing colleagues of the Ashford district.

After 75 years of ringing, Mr. Fright's passing leaves a gap not too readily filled these days, and his exemplary record of punctuality and regular devotion to the service ringing in particular sets a high standard for younger members to attain.

MR. EDWARD BLAGDEN

In the shadow of the tower of Holy Trinity, Lenton, Nottingham, where he had been a ringer and steeplekeeper for over 60 years, Mr. Edward Blagden was laid to rest on September 6th.

Ted Blagden, as he was known by his friends, was not a man of many peals, but he was a very regular service ringer and hard worker in the tower, until ill-health recently prevented him from ascending the tower.

His death came unexpectedly, and the secretary, because of holidays, found only three of the Lenton band available. Nevertheless, at the service 14 ringers were in the belfry ready to help in paying their last respects to an old servant of the tower. The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. J. R. Skipper). Grandsire Triples were rung at the graveside by F. S. Price 1-2, Clement Glenn 3-4, A. H. Ward 5-6, F. R. Bradley 7-8.

Mr. Blagden was a member of the 'Half Century' Club of Raleigh, Ltd., and in his younger days was a trial rider for the firm. He also played football for Nottingham Forest.

MR. THOMAS JULL

Mr. Thomas Jull, of Bobbing, Kent, who died on Sept. 8th at the advanced age of 78, was a member of the Kent County Association for over 60 years. He was a member of the Tunstall band at the time it was the premier six-bell band in the county, and with them rang the first peal in seven Surprise Minor methods for the Kent County Association at Tunstall on October 3rd, 1905. Most of his 119 peals were rung at six-bell towers. He had been associated with Bobbing Church for the last 16 years, ever since Newington bells were unsafe to ring.

The funeral was at Bobbing on September 12th, and many of his fellow-ringers attended. The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service, and during the service the Ringers' Hymn and another hymn from the Association's Service Book were sung.

A half-muffled peal of 5,040 changes in four methods was rung in the evening as a tribute to his memory.

MR. HARRY WARNETT

As it was impossible to ring on the day of the funeral of Mr. Harry Warnett, captain and tower captain of Lewisham, a half-muffled quarter peal was rung at Eltham on September 9th, conducted by his oldest ringing friend, Mr. G. H. Daynes. The representative band consisted of R. Laming, P. J. Spice, G. Ashdown, F. W. Richardson, F. J. Hurrell, H. W. Clark, G. H. Daynes and J. Hurrell.

POINTS OF INTEREST ON OUTINGS

ANSTEY, LEICESTERSHIRE

Two coach loads of ringers from Anstey with friends from Thurstaston and Groby had a day's outing in the Worcester district on September 1st.

After ringing on the pleasant six at Beoley and the light ten at Claines, the journey was through the beautiful Worcestershire countryside to Pershore Abbey. Several of the ladies were contemplating the climb to the ringing 'cage,' but their fears were soon dispelled, as, unfortunately, they could not ring owing to a funeral.

At Worcester an excellent tea and ringing at St. John's are remembered. The best ringing of the day was on the fine ten at Warwick. Thanks are extended to Mr. R. F. Elkington for his excellent organisation and to the tower-keepers for meeting and welcoming the party.

SLIMBRIDGE, GLOS.

Grand and rugged scenery was enjoyed by Slimbridge, Glos., ringers on their outing on August 25th.

The first tower was Newland, 'the Cathedral of the Forest of Dean,' then along the River Usk to Raglan, with a stop at a welcome hostelry and on to Abergavenny.

After feasting on the rugged scenery leading to the Black Mountains, the party arrived at Brecon to enjoy an hour's ringing at St. David's Church.

The return journey was via Delwyn, where the bells soon gave out their music, to Leominster, where around the tea table Canon Thomas thanked the organisers. The best ringing of the day was at St. Nicholas', Hereford. To all friends for this, one of the best outings, thanks are extended.

A DAY IN ROMNEY MARSH

The ringers of St. Mary's, Chatham, augmented by ringers from Frindsbury, Rainham, Upchurch, Bobbing and Sittingbourne, together with their wives and friends, enjoyed a very successful day in the Romney Marsh area on August 25th.

Towers visited were St. Mary's, Dover, Hythe, New Romney, Brookland and Cranbrook. Rounds, Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Double Norwich constituted the general course of the ringing during the day. Ringing was very pleasurable at all the towers but Hythe was voted the 'pick of the bunch.' The peculiarly tuned ring of five at Brookland in its equally peculiar structure in the churchyard did not prove so difficult a problem as anticipated. The stentorian voice of William A. J. Knight was an asset in this noisy tower—is it the noisiest in the country?—but conductors with weaker voices managed to screech a few calls through the din. Perhaps their success was due to good lip reading on the part of the other ringers.

Cranbrook's ring was the heaviest of the day and the most heavy going. In spite of this the only course of Cambridge in the day's ringing was attempted here and proved successful.

Lunch at Hythe and tea at Cranbrook were very successful items in the day's programme and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Having to miss the sixth tower owing to illness near the church, a social half-hour was spent at the Windmill Inn before leaving Cranbrook, when the handbells were brought out, much to the enjoyment of an interested audience.

The thanks of the party are accorded to the incumbents of the respective churches for the use of the bells, and the tower keepers for their assistance in making the day's outing so enjoyable. The writer also wishes to thank Mr. John Willis, of Folkestone, who gave him some most valuable information in the early stages of preparation, which made the job of organising the tour so much easier.

V. A. J.

FAREHAM AND DISTRICT

An enjoyable day was spent on September 8th by Fareham and district ringers in visiting seven eight-bell towers in the New Forest area.

The itinerary included Lymington, Milford-on-Sea, Ringwood, Fordingbridge, Downton, St. Paul's, Salisbury, and Romsey Abbey.

At Downton a couple of mishaps occurred—'Kathleen' missed the sally and 'Young Fred,' who was calling Stedman, had the misfortune to get the seventh rope caught under his foot. Only by letting go of the rope quickly did he avoid being thrown heavily.

HETHERSETT, NORFOLK

Accompanied by friends from St. Peter Mancroft and Wymondham, St. Remigius' company, Hethersett, had their first all-day outing on September 8th.

Ringing took place at Sudbury, Bures, Earls Colne, Halstead, Bocking, Braintree and Sible Hedingham.

The organiser, Mr. R. G. Lofty, accords his special thanks to Mr. B. W. Pettitt and Miss H. G. Snowden for their assistance.

Surrey Association Records

Dear Sir,—May I point out that the peal of Pudgey Surprise Royal rung at Beddington on September 1st for the Surrey Association, and quoted as the first by the same, is not so. A peal of this was rung at St. Martin's, Epsom, on June 6th, 1931, for the above Association and conducted by—Yours truly,

W. H. HEWETT.

Camberwell.

[Mr. R. F. B. Speed, the conductor, sends his apologies to those concerned.—Ed.]

WHEN IS A PEAL NOT A PEAL?

A WRITER in this column has drawn attention to the declining standards in peal ringing. Thoughtful ringers will have pondered his words as his initials command respect and entitle him to speak with authority. His article may have prompted some readers to consider the reasons for this regrettable decline.

In the first case, let us put it bluntly, conductors as distinct from bob-callers are a mixed blessing. One has heard of famous bands of the past, and possibly some still exist, capable of ringing peals in advanced methods without as much as a nod or a word. The conductor would call the bobs, one hopes audibly, and would check the positions of the bells at infrequent intervals during the peal, and the ringing would sail on course after course without a missed dodge or a bad blow. No one would go wrong because all would realise that the first serious mistake would mean the end of the peal. One such band rang the first peals of dozens of new Surprise Major methods in pre-war days. The peals were of a high order—they had to be.

In these days, technical knowledge of conducting is spreading to an incredible degree. Even the average conductor has come to realise that there is no need to learn like a parrot one or two easily recognised 'milestones' in the peal and for the rest hope for the best. The art of transposition is becoming widely understood and practised. The result is that many conductors are now able to pick up trips that a few years ago would have meant the breakdown of the peal.

Increased knowledge in any sphere brings with it new responsibilities. One has only to contemplate the perils of this atom age to appreciate the force of this. Thus with the spread of the knowledge of conducting must go a new sense of the responsibility that such knowledge entails. Conductors must surely learn that there are occasions when the peal, although it could be saved, must be allowed to go. The decision not to put a trip right is sometimes a difficult one. The conductor may, with all due modesty, be aware that the band regards him as capable of putting a particular trip right, but despite this he must be prepared to risk the displeasure that his omission to put it right may bring.

It may be that one of the band has not learned the method properly, or has taken it too lightly. The conductor may feel prompted to keep the shaky member of the band going for a course or two to give him an opportunity to become familiar with the method, but a definite time limit should be imposed upon such assistance. Once it becomes clear that the ringer concerned will have to be piloted all through the peal it is better to let one of his trips become fatal and try again another day.

The ever-present snag in putting a trip right is that once it has been done the action is, for practical purposes, irrevocable. If the conductor fails to stop when the trip is taking place or immediately afterwards, the band expect, quite rightly, that he will carry on to the end of the peal. They do not expect him to indulge in half an hour's quiet thought and then call 'Stand.' Whatever action is taken must be at the time of the incident.

What of a member of the band who feels that the conductor has failed in his duty to stop? There are those who advocate that, with a lordly gesture, he should put his bell up at backstroke and leave it where it can do no further harm. Others may favour gentler methods, and such would seem to commend themselves. A mild remonstrance with the conductor at the time of the incident will probably have the desired effect. He was probably in two minds about whether to stop anyway. Failing this the only thing is to carry on to the end and try and persuade the company not to publish the performance as a peal. If, in spite of all protests, the peal is published, nothing can force a dissenting party to place it in his private record, so he has the last word after all.

It may be thought that undue emphasis has been placed on the position of the conductor in these matters. However, there is much to commend the view that conductors are, for the most part, self-appointed. Bands place themselves voluntarily under the conductor's leadership, and if he accepts the task he must be prepared to accept the kicks if he wants the ha'pence. The attitude of the conductor can do much to improve the standard of the ringing.

What of ringing generally in these days? Surely the time is ripe for a fresh emphasis on the simpler methods. It is all very well to say 'So-and-so rang London for his first peal.' There are exceptional learners who are capable of this kind of thing, but it is far safer to assume that your learner is not exceptional. Assume he is just ordinary and let him ring Plain Bob or Treble Bob so he can learn to strike a bell. If he really is exceptional he will have plenty of opportunities to prove it later on. Perfect ringing can be like the music of Heaven itself, but perfection only comes once or twice in a ringer's career and then only in brief snatches.

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

This is the first issue of the new quarter and quarterly subscribers are asked to remit 6s.
without fail to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent. New postal subscribers are asked to enrol forthwith.

The bells and ringers at Leeds Parish Church will appear in the television programme from the new transmitter at Holm Moss on Sunday, October 14th, when evensong at 6.30 will be televised. Ringing on the 12 bells as well as the bells in action will be shown in a descriptive film five minutes before the service and the sound of the bells, which will be actual service ringing, is expected to be on the air from 6.30 to approximately 6.33 p.m.

Mr. Thomas E. Sone has 'completed the circle' in 12 towers. His latest is Rotherfield, Sussex, by a peal on September 18th.

Mr. George Wood celebrated his 80th birthday by ringing the tenor to a peal at Tunstall, Kent, on September 20th.

Four mothers rang a peal with their sons at Feltham, Middlesex, on September 22nd. This is the first time this sign of maternal affection has been demonstrated.

Mr. R. E. Coles has 'completed the circle' at Bonvilston, Glam., by a peal on September 21st. It was the first married couples' peal of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Price.

The oldest member of Bromley Youths, 86-year-old Mr. George Huxley, was among those who attended the rededication of Bromley bells on September 15th. He retired from ringing ten years ago but came along to watch the youngsters who had taken his place.

The quarter peal of London Surprise at St.
Andrew's, Derby, on September 24th, was a farewell to Mr. John Wilkinson, who is joining the Royal Air Force. It was rung by a resident company and is the longest length to be rung in Derby for about 25 years, Mr. G. Freebrey (the conductor) being the last member of the old company still ringing at St. Andrew's.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Burnham-on-Sea, Somerset, was the scene of a disappointment on September 22nd, when after three hours and three minutes a peal of Double Norwich was lost with one course to go. This was due to the sexton attempting to chime the third bell by means of the hammer rope for a service, but whether it was by force of habit or because he thought the bells had ceased, is not clear. Anyway, the bell on contacting the hammer a second time was brought right down and that was that; the moral being—hitch your hammer rope to something or pull it up out of reach! The peal attempt had been arranged by Mr. George Prescott, Ringing Master of the Axbridge Deanery branch, as a 21st birthday compliment to his daughter, Mary.

The meeting of the Essex Association at Bocking, arranged for to-day, has been cancelled.

Through unforeseen circumstances Yorktown tower is not available for the meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild to-morrow and the meeting has been cancelled.

Miss Joan M. Webster is the first lady to ring a peal of Spliced Surprise Minor for the Chester Diocesan Guild. She accomplished this in faultless style at Birkenhead on September 13th.

Commiserations and wishes for a speedy recovery to Mr. Leslie Evans, Master of the Hereford Guild, who broke a bone above his ankle in a motor-cycle accident just before a peal attempt.

Query in the August issue of 'Ringing Towers' (N.S.W. Association of Change Ringers' monthly): 'Can you please tell me how, when ringing, to overcome the difficulty of dry hands and a wet nose?'

Coming-of-Age Celebration Dinner

THE National Guild of Police Ringers once again visited Birmingham for the occasion of the annual meeting on September 15th. Members began to arrive soon after 10 a.m. from Grantham, Manchester, Yorkshire, London, Kent, Northants, Bristol, Leicester and other places. They were met on the steps of Steelhouse Lane Police Headquarters by that veteran police ringer, ex-Sgt. W. Dowding, and Chief Insp. A. Clements.

After the usual preliminaries and some light refreshments the parties mingled together on their way to Bishop Ryder's Church and St. Chad's R.C. Cathedral, where touches of Bristol, Cambridge, Stedman and Grandsire were rung, but not without incident, for a Manchester ringer, his bell minus the stay, completed the revolution, leaving him without a rope and thereby satisfying his desire to go aloft; the rope retrieved, ringing continued without further incident.

The company, having grown to a hundred, sat down to a hot lunch at the City Police Social Club. After a loyal toast, the president of the Guild, Chief Insp. H. J. Poole, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Chief Constable of Birmingham, Mr. E. J. Dodd, C.B.E., for so generously putting the facilities of the Police Headquarters at their disposal for the day. Mr. Dodd, in welcoming the Guild to Birmingham, humorously referred to Birmingham as having bigger bells and better bells than anywhere else.

Guests and visitors included the Deputy Mayor and Mayoress of Birmingham, Ald. A. Paddon-Smith, Master of St. Martin's Guild, and Mrs. Donald Paddon-Smith, Mr. O. J. B. Cole, C.B.E., Chief Constable of Leicester, and Mrs. Cole, Mr. G. E. Fearn, Mr. Albert Walker, Mr. W. J. Jones and Mr. John Worth.

VALUE OF NON-TERRITORIAL GUILDS

Ex-Chief Insp. Bottrill, in extending a hearty welcome to the guests, referred to his long association with ringing and remarked that non-territorial guilds like the Police Guild and the Ladies' Guild had often been regarded as unnecessary, but thought they were often a positive influence to people in official circles.

Ald. A. Paddon-Smith, in reply, referred to the low strength of the Police Service and humorously suggested to Mr. Dodd that ringing might be regarded as a condition of service, which might help recruitment and certainly would assist the Police Guild.

The Chief Constable of Leicester spoke of his long association with the Guild and said that in spite of all advice he had received he was still mystified by change ringing on bells.

Mr. W. J. Jones, of Newport, gave his first recollections of the police, and, having attained the age of 86, said it was still his greatest pleasure to come among them.

Lunch concluded, members made their way to St. Martin's and St. Philip's Cathedral, where some good twelve-bell ringing was enjoyed by the more proficient members of the company. The afternoon's ringing was concluded with a well-struck touch of Stedman Cinques on St. Philip's bells to welcome the new Provost of Birmingham, who was reported to be arriving that afternoon at 4.45.

Back at Police Headquarters, 98 partook of an excellent tea. The business meeting followed. Whilst this was taking place a number of the visitors enjoyed some good ringing on the 12 bells of Aston Church.

MEMBERSHIP 98

The secretary reported a regrettable decline in membership, which now stood at 98, and hoped that as members moved into retirement they would forward their new addresses so that membership could be maintained. The year ended with a balance of £13 15s. 11d. After some discussion it was decided the rules be amended to admit members of the newly-formed Police Cadets as members of the Guild whilst serving in the service. Ex-Chief Insp. Bottrill referred to the death during the year of ex-P.C. Walter Clayden. The meeting stood in silence as a tribute to his memory. Ex-Chief Insp. Bottrill read the report of the Central Council delegate, Insp. T. R. Butler, who was unfortunately unable to be present at the meeting.

The president reminded the meeting that 1952 was the 21st anniversary of the forming of the Guild. After some discussion it was proposed by St.-Sgt. Prior, of the Metropolitan Police Force, that a celebration dinner be held in Leicester on Saturday, January 26th, 1952, to mark the occasion.

It was decided to accept the invitation to visit Liverpool for the annual meeting on Saturday, September 20th, 1952.

An excellent social evening had been arranged by Chief Insp. A. Clements with the Birmingham Police Orchestra, supported by Joyce Jeffs, Stan Blower, Archie Constable, S.C. Cheadle, Fred Hughes and Professor Gazeka. Handbell ringing was provided between the items by members of the Leicester party.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Chief Insp. Clements and ex-Sgt. Dowding for the successful arrangements which made the meeting one to be remembered. Thanks are also due and are tendered to the various incumbents of the churches where ringing took place and to all who assisted in making the day so successful.

RINGING WAS HIS CURE Brought Phil B. Clift Back to First-Class Cricket

Behind the wedding peal for Mr. Phil B. Clift lies an interesting story of how the physical exercises of ringing can play a great part in helping to restore health after a serious illness and operation.

Phil Clift learned to handle a bell some years before the last war, but the call of the cricket field was too great, and he was soon lost to the belfry. During the winter of 1949-50 he was appointed cricket coach to Selbourne College, East London, South Africa. On returning from South Africa in March, 1950, he contracted a serious illness, which necessitated a very serious surgical operation, and from which he made a very remarkable recovery.

It was feared, however, that he would never play first-class cricket again, as the operation had left the muscles of shoulder and back so stiff that only with difficulty could he swing a bat. He, therefore, decided to take up ringing again, and within three months he had mastered Grandsire Triples, and had been completely cured of his muscle stiffness, with the result that in the season just closed he scored over 1,000 runs with one century against Middlesex and was in the first six fieldsmen of the country with 36 catches.

In the near future he hopes to ring his first peal in his own tower at Usk, and it is evident from his conversation on ringing matters that he has returned to the Exercise for good.

On Monday, September 17th, at Rumney Parish Church, he married Staff Nurse Eiddwen Davies, of the Sully Hospital, the lady who nursed him back to health. Following the wedding the bells of Rumney Church were rung by members of the Llandaff Association under the leadership of Mr. Jack Worrall.

1,000 More Readers Wanted!

The Editorial Committee invite the help of all who have the welfare of 'The Ringing World' at heart to obtain at least another thousand Postal subscribers.

If the costs of the production of the paper could be spread over this increased number of readers it might be possible to avoid an increase in the price of the paper.

Every possible economy is being made, and advertisers are paying more for their space, but the recent increase in the cost of paper (£27/10/0 per ton) puts an additional strain on our resources.

Here is a chance for every ringer who wishes to help to do something practical. Talk about the paper at your meetings, and help us to rope in at least another 1,000 Postal subscribers. It can be done with your help. What about making a present of a quarterly, half-yearly or yearly subscription to someone whom you know does not take 'The Ringing World'? Fill in the form below and send to J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

To the Editorial Committee, 'The Ringing World.'

Please post 'The Ringing World' to me for one quarter (6/-), half-year (11/8), one year (£12/6) (Cross out words not applicable.)

BROMLEY BELLS REDEDICATED

A Proud Moment for Mr. Isaac Emery

WHEN the old Parish Church of Bromley was destroyed by enemy action in 1941, one of the most poignant moments of the whole tragedy was that when the bells came crashing down the fire-gripped tower. Bromley's ring of eight bells was nearly 200 years old, having been cast by Thomas Janaway in 1773.

For eight years the church had stood derelict, while the congregation worshipped in a hall kindly loaned by the Methodists: then on a joyous afternoon of October, 1949, the foundation stone of the new Parish Church was laid by H.R.H. the Princess Elizabeth.

One of the first tasks of the builders was to try and save the 14th century tower—the only part of the church which had survived the bombing—this tower was split twice from top to bottom, and one face had been sucked out 6 inches by the blast, so it was a not inconsiderable engineering feat when the task was accomplished by the builders, Messrs. Dove Bros., of Islington.

Next came the matter of the bells! Their recasting was placed in the hands of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd., of Croydon: all the old bell metal was used and the quantity required to complete the ring was added.

On Saturday, September 15th, despite heavy rain, the precincts of the partly-built church were crowded for the service of rededication of the bells. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. W. H. Murray Walton) and the late Bishop of Manchester.

It was a proud moment for Mr. Isaac Emery, the veteran Master of the Bromley Youths, when he handed a rope to the Bishop and requested him to 'dedicate this ring to the glory of God and the service of His Church.'

The Bishop grasped a bell rope which was attached to all the other ropes, saying as he did: 'In the faith of Jesus Christ and to the glory of God, we hallow this work of restoration and rededicate this ring of bells in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.'

Immediately after came the opening rounds by P. J. Spice, Janet Farmer (age 14), W. J. Rawlings, Jill Farmer (16), Malcolm Powell, Gerald Kirby, E. Mounter and E. Horton.

At the conclusion of the service the first touch, 168 Stedman Triples, was rung by W. H. Hewitt, J. Lyddiard, J. Dafters, W. J. Rawlings.

G. H. Spice, P. J. Spice, I. Emery (conductor) and E. Mounter.

Representatives of no fewer than 25 churches attended the service, ranging from Suffolk in the East to Monmouth in the West. Tea and a reception were held in the Church Institute and ringing continued throughout the evening. A company on tour in Surrey from Suffolk, making Bromley their last call, rang the last touch.

THE INSCRIPTIONS

The opinion was unanimous that the bell founders had cast a ring of singular beauty. The following is the list of the bells, together with their inscriptions:—

Treble.—T. Janaway Fecit, 1773. Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, goodwill towards men. Recast 1950 by Gillett and Johnston, Founders, Croydon. 5 cwt. 24 lb.

No. 2.—Thomas Janaway Fecit, 1773. Prosperity to the Parish of Bromley. (Thence as on No. 1.) 5 cwt. 1 qr. 4 lb.

No. 3.—Thos. Janaway Fecit, 1773. Musica est mentis medicina*. (Thence as on No. 1.) 5 cwt. 2 qr. 25 lb.

No. 4.—T. Janaway Fecit, 1773. Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise. (Thence as on No. 1.) 6 cwt. 1 qr. 8 lb.

No. 5.—Thos. Janaway Fecit, 1773. When from the earth our notes abound, The hills and valleys echo round. (Thence as on No. 1.) 7 cwt. 2 qr. 25 lb.

No. 6.—Thomas Janaway Fecit, 1773. He and he only aims aright, Who joins his toil with his delight. (Thence as on No. 1.) 9 cwt. 17 lb.

No. 7.—Thomas Janaway Fecit, 1773. In bello ferocissimo dirutus, In pace incerta sed de suprema fide resurrectus sum†. (Thence as on No. 1.) 12 cwt. 3 qr. 19 lb.

Tenor.—Note F. Thomas Janaway Fecit, 1773. Recast 1950. W. H. Murray Walton, Vicar. A. Cowdry, S. E. Sandle, Churchwardens. Gillett and Johnston, Founders, Croydon. 16 cwt. 2 qr. 8 lb.

Clock bell.—F. Thomas Janaway Fecit, 1777. My times are in Thy Hand. (Thence as on No. 1.) 3 cwt. 24 lb.

* 'Music is the medicine of the mind.'

† 'Destroyed in the fiercest war, in uncertain peace, but with a supreme faith I have been raised again.'

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN

Handbell Ringing

The London County Association have just completed a somewhat unusual undertaking. In the early part of this year they were approached by the committee organising Sunday afternoon church services in the Amphitheatre of the Festival Gardens at Battersea Park and asked to arrange suitable handbell ringing, prior to the services, which was to be disseminated over loud speakers. This was done on no less than 14 occasions by members of the Association from St. Luke's, Chelsea, All Saints', Isleworth, and St. Lawrence's, Brentford, together with ringing friends associated with members of those towers.

The 15th occasion was spoilt by torrential rain but to their everlasting credit a very bedraggled team from Chelsea arrived dead on time, only to seek shelter for the next two hours. On three other dates within the period the committee did not require handbells to be rung.

There was, in the early stages, a period of trial and error in getting bells and microphone correctly placed to balance the sound as between trebles and tenors but the interest shown by the Amphitheatre staff very quickly overcame the technical difficulties and results, on the whole, have been extremely satisfactory. Time allotted for ringing was always comparatively short and did not allow of anything spectacular but the courses of methods rung always fitted in well with the needs of the organisers.

The thanks of the Association are due to those who so consistently supported the effort from start to finish and to the authorities for their close co-operation, which did so much to make the undertaking the success it undoubtedly was. This success was in no small measure due to the efforts of Mr. J. H. Lott, who was in attendance on all but two occasions and carried out the work of liaison with the technical staff of the Amphitheatre. It was found that the best broadcast result was obtained by the use of one microphone having the ringers around it in the general form of a semi-circle, but with the tenors positioned on a long radius and each smaller pair on a decreasing radius. Nevertheless, each individual pair of handbells in each set used had to receive special attention to ensure correct positioning.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Loughborough District

The September meeting of the Loughborough District was held at Breedon-on-the-Hill on the 15th, this being the first meeting ever held at the church, as the old four bells have recently been augmented to six by John Taylor and Co.

Breedon is a delightful spot on an afternoon such as was enjoyed and the church, like a solitary sentinel, stands high above the village, affording a magnificent view.

The Vicar conducted a short service and in his few words of welcome gave a brief history of the church with its Saxon carvings reputed to be the finest in the country. The collection was devoted to the ringing chamber restoration fund.

Tea and a short business meeting were held in the local cafe, with the Guild vice-president and district chairman, Mr. P. L. Taylor, in the chair. Shephed was confirmed as the place of the next meeting on October 13th. Mr. A. E. Rowley, in proposing the vote of thanks, expressed the hope of the Guild that Breedon would soon have a band of ringers and that the bells would be rung regularly for Sunday services.

Some 50 ringers and friends were present during the course of the afternoon and evening. For one member of the gathering Breedon was his 1,396th tower.

BARNSELY DISTRICT SOCIETY

A Day in the East Riding

Barnsley District Society held their second outing this year on September 15th when about 30 members and friends had an enjoyable tour in the East Riding of Yorkshire.

Breakfast was served in the Church Room at Howden, being arranged by the local company, followed by an hour's ringing on the fine eight. Then came North Cave, a six with a ground floor ring, and Hessele, with a hot lunch awaiting the Society at the Guest House. Hessele bells were not available, as three weddings had been arranged after consent had been given. Not to disappoint the visitors, Mr. Lister (the local secretary) arranged for the octave at Hedon to be available, and thanks to Mr. Everingham, these bells were set ready when the Barnsley contingent arrived.

The gem of the day, the beautiful church at Patrington, with its intriguing entry to the ringing chamber, through a tunnel in the roof timbers, followed. The novel entry was fully justified by the good ringing provided. Another good meal, arranged by Mr. D. Fewster, fortified the visitors for the hour spent at Withernsea and the homeward journey.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The September meeting was rearranged and held at East Ardsley on September 22nd, one week earlier than usual to enable the members to attend the Snowdon Commemoration Dinner at York on September 29th.

The business meeting was held in the Church Hall. Mr. F. Hutchinson presided and members were present from Armley, Batley, East Ardsley, Guiseley, Headingley St. Chad, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Rothwell and Woodlesford. Later arrivals were from Bradford Cathedral, Drighlington and Thorne. One new member, Mr. Douglas Drane (East Ardsley), was elected.

The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company was proposed by Mr. H. Lofthouse and seconded by Mr. J. Gibson.

The Vicar, in acknowledgment, said thanks should also be given to the Society for ringing and teaching the local ringers. He would have been a ringer but he thought ringing was hard work. He was promptly told that the hard work could be eliminated by having the East Ardsley bells rehung.

The next meeting is due to be held at Burley on October 27th.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INSTRUCTION OF LEARNERS

Dear Sir,—Returning to the Exercise recently, after some years, and still being very much of a novice, your editorial on 'Recruitment' in the issue of September 7th interested me a great deal.

First of all, I think ringers of all classes, whether spliced method experts or of the less spectacular (though none the less essential) group, will agree that the initial stages in change ringing leave the learner very confused by reason of his lack of ropesight, and that patience and encouragement are particularly necessary if he is to retain and deepen his interest.

Secondly, whilst there is no substitute for practical instruction on the bells themselves, much can be learned from the text books in current circulation, providing the learner is informed where they may be obtained, or at least given a loan of the appropriate book.

Thirdly, I fully endorse your call for a Central Council standard instruction book, giving the fullest possible information to the complete novice. However, until such a book can be compiled (and I admit it is no light task!), may I plead, on behalf of all novices, for a little space in 'The Ringing World' to be devoted to their very real needs; I do appreciate that your space is extremely limited, but surely a 'Learner's Column' would, in a very short time, pay good dividends to the Exercise as a whole.

Lastly, may I also appeal to all tower captains to encourage their probationers to take the paper and so become conversant with developments in the art.—Yours very truly,

R. E. SWANN.

Royston, Herts.

SURPRISE AT CHUDLEIGH

Dear Sir,—Whilst congratulating the Cheshire and Yorkshire band on their very successful tour in Cornwall and Devon, I would like to mention that the peal of Yorkshire at Chudleigh was not the first peal of Surprise on the bells. This was accomplished on Saturday, August 12th, 1950, and the method rung was Cambridge, the conductor being myself.—Yours sincerely,

A. P. CANNON.

Betchworth, Surrey.

BOLSOVER BELLS

Dear Sir,—Through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' I wish to advise all our friends that work has now commenced on the rehanging and general overhaul of the bells at Bolsover, and Messrs. John Taylor and Co. indicate that it will be four to five months before ringing will again be possible.

I shall arrange to give adequate notice of the re-opening date and we shall then look forward to meeting again many of the friends who visit Bolsover from time to time.

We have so far raised slightly more than £200 towards the cost of the work and whilst several efforts are being organised to collect the balance, if any ringing friends would still like to associate themselves with the undertaking, subscriptions will be gratefully acknowledged by the Vicar or the undersigned.—Yours faithfully,

A. B. COOPER.

Wickstead, Rectory Road.

Duckmanton, Chesterfield.

CROSSWORD CLUE

Sir,—The solution of the clue in the 'Times' crossword puzzle, 'Robert with a crown among the bells (3, 5)', is by no means obvious. At least one ringer, no doubt too clever by half, wrote down 'Bob Royal'.—Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM MORLAND.

Lamberhurst, Tunbridge Wells.

EAST GRINSTEAD GUILD OUTING

Dear Sir,—The following extract from the account of the above outing ('The Ringing World,' September 21st) is true, but annoying and discourteous:—'At Old Windsor we helped ourselves to the bells.'

Mr. Bassett's letter to me, dated April 16th, requested the bells for Saturday, August 18th, his party arriving between 4 and 4.30 p.m. Permission was granted. I received no further communication and at a few minutes before four o'clock on the above date 'posted' myself at the church, to welcome the party.

At six o'clock, as no party had arrived, I gave them up and went home, somewhat late for tea. The next morning (Sunday) the Vicar inquired of me: 'Why were the bells ringing at seven o'clock last evening?' This was news to me, my home being some distance from the church, I did not hear them; ringing is from the ground floor and access gained through the unlocked church.

We do not neglect visitors to Old Windsor; such callous behaviour is no credit to any organiser, whether Guild secretary or just tower captain; it causes inconvenience and fosters disappointment and bad fellowship.

W. WELLING.

Old Windsor.

THE POOR SECRETARY

Dear Sir,—For the benefit of the infinitesimal minority in the Exercise who aspire to become branch, district, divisional or general secretaries, the following 'Lament' can be taken (as one pleases) either as invaluable assistance or sound advice:—

If the secretary writes a letter, it is too long.

If he writes a postcard, it is too short.

If he issues a bulletin, he's a spendthrift.

If he attends a committee meeting, he is butting in.

If he stays away, he's a shirker

If he offers a suggestion, he's a 'Know-all.'

If he says nothing, he is useless.

If attendances are slack, he should have called the members up.

If he does call them up, he's a pest.

If he asks a member for his subscription, he is insulting.

If he does not, he is not doing his job.

If a meeting is a great success, the chairman gets the praise.

If it's a failure, the secretary is to blame.

If he asks for advice, he is incompetent.

If he does not, he is swollen-headed.

If the Chain of Office is missing, it is the secretary's fault.

If he awaits the president's arrival, he is officious.

Ashes to ashes—dust to dust.

If others won't do it, the secretary must.

Yours faithfully

P. H. R.

Eastbourne.

ST. COLUMB MAJOR'S TENOR

Dear Sir,—St. Columb Major's tenor is given in the peal columns as 15 cwt. The correct weight is 12 cwt. 2 qr. 4 lb., note F, and we can be sure of this as the bells only returned from Loughborough last October. This bell was not recast, although four others of the ring were, and had always previously been claimed locally to be 16 cwt. The error may even be an oversight on my part, although I thought I had mentioned the weight of this tenor. Future visitors to St. Columb will now know.—Yours faithfully,

A. S. ROBERTS.

TWELVE-BELL TOWERS

Dear Sir,—It may be of interest that the first ring of twelve was erected at York Minster in 1655 by taking four bells from the north-west tower and putting them to the eight in the south-west tower. These were recast in 1681, rehung on one level in 1733, recast as ten in 1765 (tenor 53 cwt.), destroyed by fire 1840, replaced by a twelve in 1844 (tenor 54 cwt.) and recast 1926 (tenor 60 cwt.). (See 'History and Art,' E. Morris, pp. 300-301.)

The history of the twelve formerly at Christ Church, Spitalfields, was published by the late Mr. J. A. Trollope in a series of articles in 'The Ringing World' some years ago. They were destroyed by a fire on February 17th, 1836, said to have been caused by some youths who were using the belfry as a club room. There is a tale that they had made a fire in a brazier to keep themselves warm, and on hearing the approach of someone in authority coming up the stairs, had hidden the brazier under the tenor box and departed.

The tenor of this ring weighed 44 cwt. in C and many long peals were rung by the London companies in rivalry at this church. The bells were replaced by a ring of eight with a tenor of 34 cwt.—now unringable, I believe.

Mr. J. A. Snowdon published a list of twelves with details and dates of openings, peals and condition, etc., in 'Church Bells,' 1876, p. 271, and gives 24 towers. Number 22 in the list was St. Peter's, St. Albans (tenor 23 cwt. in D). With the exception of Quex Park, they were the lightest twelve in the country at that time. This ring was augmented from ten in 1868 by Warners and reduced to ten in 1883 by Taylors; the reason being that in 1881 the eleventh was cracked by the clapper coming in contact with the frame and a subscription was raised to recast the bell. On removal the tenth was also found to be cracked and so the two trebles were handed over in payment for its recasting.

No peals were rung on the twelve bells but one would have been recorded by John Cox's band if Henry Haley had not been listening to the ringing!—Yours faithfully,

H. V. FROST.

St. Albans, Herts.

40 YEARS AGO

(From 'The Ringing World' of October 6th, 1911)

Edmonton. The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. On Saturday, September 30th, 1911, in three hours and ten minutes, at the Church of All Saints, a peal of London Surprise Major, 5,088 changes (tenor 17½ cwt.): Henry Dains treble, *Miss Edith K. Parker 2, George Radley 3, John H. Benstead 4, John T. Kentish 5, Wilby J. Hazell 6, James Parker 7, George A. Card tenor. Composed by F. Dench. Conducted by Miss E. K. Parker.

* First peal in the method as conductor.

[This was the first occasion on which a lady had conducted a peal of London. Mrs. Fletcher has repeated this performance on many occasions but if memory serves, only one other lady has so far accomplished it.]

SOUTHAMPTON, HANTS.—At St. Mary's, on Sept. 16th. 1,260 Grand sire Triples: D. Cecil Williams 1, W. Glasspool 2, Miss J. Cox 3, J. W. Faithfull (cond.) 4, R. Brown 5, M. J. Butler 6, O. N. Curtis 7, E. Brown 8. With half-muffled clappers previous to a memorial service to the late Bishop Lovett.

YOUNG BEDFORDSHIRE'S RINGING TOUR

Ringling in Six Counties

LATE last year twelve young adventurers of Bedfordshire decided on a cycling tour in the Cotswolds, and on Saturday, August 18th, we turned our wheels towards Oxfordshire on the first stage of our tour.

Because of the miles between us and Little Milton, our first call, four went by train to Oxford. Next, we pushed on to Warborough, a little Oxfordshire village, where we were met by the Vicar and a Press photographer. A very welcome tea was waiting for us, too. The six bells of the Church of St. Lawrence were rung to Cambridge, Kent and St. Lawrence Little Bob. Dorchester Abbey was reached after a needless detour; a fine ring of eight, we thought, set in a fine tower. In the evening at Oxford we became tourists, and did some sightseeing before we returned to the Youth Hostel there.

Next morning we left the overcrowded hostel and made our way by a tortuous route to the ringing chamber of Christ Church Cathedral. For some of us this was our first introduction to twelve-bell ringing, but combining with some of the regular ringers we managed two courses of Grandsire Cinques. At ten o'clock we divided ourselves up between St. Giles' and All Saints', two eights, that Oxford might the better be aware of our presence; and, again with assistance, we enlivened the city with many methods.

After that it was Westward Ho! across a corner of Berkshire and a lot of Oxfordshire, stopping at Bampton for lunch, at Fairford to see the famous stained glass in the church, and at Down Ampney for tea. After crossing the Wiltshire border for the fifth time we reached Ashton Keynes hostel and the church. We rang on the tower bells before, and on the handbells after, the service, and spent the rest of the evening getting lost in the Wiltshire lanes.

We started the next day in Gloucestershire, at South Cerney, where occurred a dramatic interruption by a local ringer, who was worried about the stay on the second bell. We found it a tight squeeze in the tower at Siddington, and the bells were noisy; it was here that we first rang our Bedford Delight. From one extreme to another, the spaciousness and the easy going of the bells at Watermoor made a remarkable contrast with Siddington.

Next we made our way to the 162 ft. high tower of Cirencester Church. Here the oldest twelve in the country is accompanied by a flat sixth, originally the fire bell; the rope circle is very large. Shop-gazing and sightseeing occupied the next half-hour before we followed the road by the River Churn to North Cerney. The tower has an unusual gabled roof and the ringing chamber was brilliant with sunshine shining in our eyes. The road to Duntisbourne Abbots Youth Hostel was very rough and hilly and infested with flies.

More rough roads and a precipitous hill were experienced on the way to Chalford next day, and brakes had to be adjusted before we could get to work on the ring of six steel bells. Although unusual, the tone was not at all unpleasant, but we wished they were easier going. Next, along a fold in the hills to Stroud. In this town of steep hillsides the church is the crowning landmark. We rang St. Clement's Caters and Cambridge and Kent Royal on the marvellous ring of ten. After lunch at Painswick we visited the famous tower with its peal-board-studded ringing gallery. It was a great pleasure ringing these bells, too.

Finished with ringing for the day, we swept down through the rain into the Severn valley to Gloucester Cathedral, where we stayed to listen to evensong. Then there were the long miles to Cheltenham and the 700 ft. climb up to the hostel at Cleeve Hill.

At nine o'clock next day we wasted all those 700 ft. on the sharp drop to Bishop's Cleeve, with its ring of eight, and then continued across the flat valley to Tewkesbury Abbey. The ringing chamber and belfry occupy only a fraction of the interior of the massive tower. The hour after leaving the church was spent in having lunch and camera-clicking. In the sunshine now we turned back towards the ever visible skyline of the Cotswolds, to Charlton Kings and Leckhampton; these octaves are in direct contrast and we definitely preferred the latter. We had supper in Cheltenham and, due to a delay at Prestbury, reached the Cleeve Hill Hostel at 10 o'clock.

Next day, Thursday, we rang at five towers. In the morning we visited Winchcombe with its long draught of rope, and Taddington; we had lunch at Evesham and saw the bells being hoisted in the tower there, and in the afternoon we visited Hinton-on-the-Green, Norton and Salford Priors—we had thus rung in three counties in one day. At Broom, after supper at the hostel, we had a gay and convivial evening together as a farewell to one of our party who was leaving us next morning.

So at Bidford-on-Avon on Friday morning we were reduced to eleven. At Alcester we rang several methods, and Bedford Surprise for the first time, on this delightful ring of eight. Of course, we could not miss Stratford-on-Avon, and we didn't. Our visit encouraged some passing ringers from Yorkshire to join us, and together we rang both tower and handbells. By the time we rang the bells down it was threatening to rain outside, and we had to postpone our river trip till the evening, when some of us did go out in a punt on the river.

Next day we visited five places, some of them rather strange. Kineton came first, and then Burton Dassett (hard to get at, but a grand view when one does) in the morning; Farnborough with its light five, and Cropredy with its Commonwealth associations constituted the afternoon's choice of towers. At Hanwell we signed in at the hostel before ringing at the church, where we were introduced to Shepherds Aye (sic), and finished off the evening in the hostel in lively mood.

We arrived at Banbury next morning in time for the 9.30 a.m. service and rang for the 10.45 a.m. one. The tower and almost everything else is round, including the table. Grandsire Caters and Kent Royal were brought round too. The freshening wind and some sharp showers drove us homewards like autumn leaves; we stopped only at Calverton, Bucks, to ring on the pretty ring of six, and, of course, for a fine tea waiting for us at Kempston, Beds.

Having cycled through eight counties and rung in six of them, we had returned to Bedfordshire, looking forward to next year's tour (in Devon?). We had rung several methods, special methods being Carter Doubles, St. James' Youths' Exercise, St. Lawrence Little Bob, Burton and Cotswold Treble Bob and Bedford Delight Minor, St. Clement's Triples and Caters, Bedford Surprise Major and Cambridge Royal.

Lastly, we should like to thank all those who, besides our leader, Michael Stephens (and the Clerk of the Weather), helped to make our tour a success.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

After approximately ten years' inactivity, the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association has been re-formed. An article on the Association appeared in 'The Ringing World' during July, prior to the first meeting, which was held at St. Hilda's, Middlesbrough, on July 21st. Among those present was Mr. E. Hudson, hon. secretary of the Northern Area of the Yorkshire Association, whose advice during the meeting proved invaluable.

Following his explanation of the formation during recent years of other societies in Yorkshire, it was decided to re-form the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association as a non-territorial association. It was reluctantly agreed that, in view of the time the Association had been dormant, the difficulties of finding the present whereabouts of all old members were too great. A new membership list would therefore be started. Those old members of the Association wishing to rejoin should contact the hon. secretary and will be re-elected in the normal way.

The chair at the meeting was taken by Mr. J. C. Pollard (Middlesbrough), who had been president before the war. Unfortunately, he is unable to take a very active part in ringing at present and therefore announced that he did not wish to be reconsidered for the office. Mr. T. M. Cox (Middlesbrough), the grandson of Thomas Metcalfe, who was for many years secretary and Ringing Master of the Association, was then elected president, and took the chair.

The vice-presidents elected were Messrs. J. W. and R. Addison (Thornaby), J. Hall (Middlesbrough), J. C. Pollard (Middlesbrough) and C. Robinson (Skelton); Messrs. P. W. B. Semmens (Middlesbrough) and G. A. Robinson (Skelton) were elected secretary and treasurer respectively. The election of a Ringing Master was not thought necessary.

It was agreed that the secretary should submit some draft rules and a proposed rota for meetings, at the next meeting of the Association (which has now been held, on September 15th, at Carlton-in-Cleveland, by kind permission of the Rev. R. Robson). The only items in the rules as adopted that are of general interest concern meetings and subscriptions. It is intended to hold meetings of the Association on the third Saturday of every month, with the exception of August. Unless unusual circumstances cause it to be decided to the contrary, the meetings are to be held at the following towers:—January, Stockton (when rehanging is complete); February, Guisborough; March, Middlesbrough (annual general meeting); April, Carlton; May, somewhere away from Tees-side, possibly a joint meeting; June, Whitby; July, Whorlton (if available) or Stokesley; September, Saltburn; October, Ormesby; November, Thornaby; December, Skelton. In every case it is intended to announce the final details of the meetings in 'The Ringing World' shortly beforehand.

For members residing within 15 miles of St. Hilda's, Middlesbrough, the annual subscription has been fixed at 2s. 6d. Any member residing beyond this distance may become a life member on the payment of 5s. For the information of those who may wish to ring peals for the Association, members may be elected prior to a peal attempt in the usual way.

It is hoped that the ringing in the area will be generally improved now that the Society has been re-formed. Already ringing for evening service at St. Hilda's, Middlesbrough, has been restarted on one Sunday a month, which although perhaps not much in itself, represents a considerable increase in interest for what is, after all, the prime purpose of ringing.

Owing to changes of incumbents, it is hoped to hold the next meeting of the Association at Thornaby in October, with Ormesby being the place of the November meeting.

Members of the Association are always delighted to see any visiting ringers who may care to ring with them while they are in the area. The Secretary, Mr. P. W. B. Semmens, Rhodron House, 52, Belle View Grove, Middlesbrough, will be pleased to supply fuller information.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

Summer Tour, August 18th-26th

THE Society's sixth summer tour was held in the parts of Cambridgeshire, Lincolnshire and Norfolk near King's Lynn. Fifteen members took part, nine staying in King's Lynn and the remainder staying about four miles away, at Tottenhill.

The party assembled for lunch on Saturday, August 18th, and then rang on the sixes at Shouldham, Marham and Watlington. In the evening some went to a dance at Shouldham, but the hour of their return was not disclosed.

On Sunday morning it had been intended to ring a quarter peal of Bob Royal with some local help at St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, but the band met one short, and Bob Major was rung instead. In the afternoon a peal was attempted—and lost—at Terrington St. John. This, however, gave the band time to have tea before ringing for evensong at Gaywood.

Clenchworth (5), Terrington St. Clement (8), and Tilney All Saints were visited on Monday morning. The very fine six at the last church were much admired. After lunch the excellent six at Terrington St. John were revisited for the benefit of those not in the peal attempt the previous afternoon. The two Walpoles—St. Peter and St. Andrew—completed the day's ringing.

As if seven premeditated towers were not enough, a 'snatch' at Upwell was organised before starting on Tuesday's official programme. This included one five, five sixes, and the fine ten at Wisbech, where the local practice was invaded with prior notice and kind permission. The last tower in the afternoon was Tydd St. Mary, of which church Nicholas Breakspear, the only Englishman ever to become Pope, was once Rector. The present Rector very kindly entertained the party to tea. At most of the towers we had the pleasure of the company of Fred Wigmore.

Wednesday was started with half an hour at St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, before 'snatching' the six at Grimston. After lunch in Swaffham, three more sixes at Neston, Holme-Hale and Scarning were visited en route for East Dereham. Here the party fortified themselves with poached eggs and Welsh rarebit before tackling the eight bells. Swaffham was the last call, for a late evening ring, and the lovely angel roof proved a strong counter-attraction to the bells.

On Thursday the Society went West (!)—to Long Sutton. After ringing for an hour on these lovely bells, the next visit was Lutton, where a fund has just been opened to augment the delightful little ring of five bells to six. Of interest also were the iron hooks in the walls to which the rope ends can be fastened during intervals in the ringing on stayless days. Gedney was the last call in the morning. Holbeach—a very pleasant eight—Whaplode, Moulton and Fleet completed the day.

The party went even further West, to Fulney and Spalding, on Friday, before turning northwards to Pinchbeck, Surfleet and Gosberton. At Surfleet the 'experts' rang a 120 of St. Simon's Doubles on the front five by popular request. The resultant music was declared to be very similar to that of a musical box. With the help of Mrs. Richardson and two most welcome 'gate-crashers' a course of Grandsire Cinques was also achieved. On the return journey both the cars and one of the motor-cycles took a 'short cut' to the seaside, and the details of this episode are perhaps best left covered by the darkness in which the trip was made.

At Crimbleham on Saturday morning there was a little trouble with a stay held in by a bent nail. By means of a little more bending, the nail was eventually persuaded to do its job, and the Society went through its repertoire (and more) on the five bells. Most welcome refreshments were afterwards kindly provided by the Vicar. The six at Denver and the eight at Downham Market were also visited before lunch. In the afternoon another unsuccessful peal attempt occupied the 'experts' while the learners enjoyed themselves (without magisterial supervision) at Shouldham. On Sunday morning the party—by now only twelve—rang at Mundford for service on the way home.

If the tour can be summed up in one word, that word must surely be 'splendid.' Many of the churches visited were indeed so, but the epithet was so frequently applied to various objects and circumstances encountered by one member (who owned an Austin 7 somewhat older than himself) that it was difficult to avoid the conclusion that magnificence—like beauty—lies in the eye of the beholder. It may seem to some of those who remember earlier tours by bicycle and foot that the Society is becoming too sybaritic, but anyone who saw the conditions under which the passengers were accommodated in the motorised transport would realise such fears were groundless.

The Society thanks the various incumbents for permission to ring and the many ringers who came to welcome it at their towers, and especially Dick Price for his splendid organisation.

ST. MARY'S, EALING

On September 8th, the ringers of the above church with their wives and friends were joined by friends from other churches for an afternoon's trip through Berkshire.

Proceeding, by way of the Great West Road, to Wargrave, an hour's ringing in various methods was enjoyed. At Twyford, which was the next tower, Double Norwich was successful, beside other methods. One of the party, being unable to join in the ringing, looked up one of his ringing companions of his earlier days, not having seen each other for 45 years.

A splendid tea was provided at the Castle Inn, Hurst, where the party was met by Mr. Bernard Castle, to whom thanks are expressed for his great help to Tom Davis in arranging the tea and towers. After tea, ringing commenced and a course of Cambridge was successful. Warfield was the last tower. After an hour's ringing the homeward journey was made, Ealing being reached about 10.30.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

The Editorial Committee acknowledges with gratitude the following contributions received towards meeting the greatly increased cost of paper in the publication of 'The Ringing World':—

- £1.: Cirencester ringers.
- 10s.: E. R. Allaway, Birmingham; Alec E. Richardson.
- 6s. 8d.: 'Old Bill.'
- 5s.: Miss C. C. Roberts; Anon., Taunton.
- 2s. 6d.: Peal donation, Usk; F. Farrant, Marcton; J. E. Allen, Spalding.
- 2s.: Quarter peal donation, Charlwood.
- 1s. 5d.: Eric Edmondson; J. Martin Page; G. Dodds.

In regard to meeting the cost of extra postage (1s. 5d.) to 'The Ringing World' subscribers, we have received remittances from 481. There are, however, another 557 postal subscribers who have not sent the extra halfpenny postage imposed by H.M. Government.

OBITUARY

MR. HAROLD PAILING

We regret to learn of the tragic death of Mr. Harold Pailing, of Nottingham, who was trapped in the bell chamber of St. Paul's Church, Daybrook, on Friday.

It appears from newspaper reports that a rope broke during the practice and Mr. Pailing ascended into the ringing chamber to investigate.

Ringers below heard the fifth bell sound and then there was a scream. Mr. Pailing was found dead wedged against the side of the tower by the descending bell.

Firemen were called and worked two hours to remove the body.

Mr. Pailing was 42 years of age and was a schoolmaster by profession. He leaves a widow and two sons.

We hope to publish a memoir in our next issue.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO MR. T. W. TAFFENDER

Over 60 ringers were among the congregation of between 90 and 100 attending the service of thanksgiving for the life and work of Mr. Thomas Wilfred Taffender. The service was held at St. Mary's, Lambeth, and conducted by the Rector, the Rev. H. Hedley. Hymns sung were the highly-appropriate ringers' hymn 'Unchanging God, who livest' and 'Abide with me.' Mr. Craig was present to represent deceased's Company. At the grand piano, used in place of the organ which is out of commission, was Mr. A. St. John Boyack, the Northern District secretary of the London County Association.

Well-struck half-muffled ringing in methods from Grandsire Triples to Yorkshire Surprise Major took place from 4.30 to 6 p.m. and also for a short time in the evening. Immediately after the service the whole pull and stand was rung by T. H. Taffender 1, C. A. Hughes 2, F. W. Housden 3, H. W. Rogers 4, C. W. Otley 5, W. D. Grainger 6, E. D. Smith 7, J. Bullock 8. Both the general ringing, in which over 50 ringers took part, and the whole pull and stand was supervised by the General Master of the London County Association, Mr. T. H. Taffender.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION

South and West District

The South and West District meeting on September 22nd was another 'two towers' day, when ringing took place at St. Paul's, Hounslow West, and at Heston. By the large number of visiting ringers, Hounslow was a 'snatch' for many, as meetings there are few and far between. This is quite understandable on hearing their tone and feeling the 'go,' besides which, the proximity of houses has curtailed ringing of recent years. After tea the ringers moved on to Heston. It is always a pleasure to ring here on the pleasant light octave. The ringing was in a wide variety of methods, up to Spliced Surprise in four methods. For the less energetic it was very pleasant to sit in the shadow of the old lych-gate as the evening closed in, the sound of the bells forming a very pleasant background. Then, in the darkness, the bells ceased, the light from the belfry went out and soon only the usual group of ringers remained, talking over the day's ringing and congratulating some of the team who had just completed an unusual 'mothers and sons' peal at Feltham.

STANFORD-LE-HOPE, ESSEX.—On Sept. 16th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Joan Hills (first quarter as cond.) 1, H. Kenvon (first of Doubles) 2, A. Reeve 3, Constance Chinnery 4, A. Hammond 5, Violet Farrow (first of Doubles) 6. A compliment to Dulcie Fleetwood, of Dagenham, and Colin Wright, of Hornchurch, on their engagement.

LADIES' GUILD

Presentation to Miss N. G. Williams

A quarterly meeting was held at Chew Magna, Somerset, on September 8th, and although attendance was not as good as usual, good ringing, ranging from Grandsire to Cambridge, was enjoyed throughout the afternoon and evening. Unfortunately, no service was possible due to the absence of the Rector, but an excellent tea was prepared through the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Babb.

After tea, Mrs. Knight, vice-president, presented a gift token to Miss N. G. Williams, on behalf of all the members, in appreciation and thanks for her 26 years' service as hon. secretary. Miss Williams replied, saying that the gift was a complete surprise, but she would like to thank all members for this expression of their thanks.

WEDDING OF MR. ERIC DODDS

On Saturday, September 22nd, the wedding of Miss Mary E. Weller, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Weller, of Wembley, and Mr. Eric Dodds, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dodds, of Isleworth, was solemnised at Alperton Baptist Church, the Minister, the Rev. A. T. Peck officiating. The bridegroom is a long-established ringer at All Saints', Isleworth.

The bride looked charming in white and was attended by three bridesmaids. Geoffrey Dodds, brother of the bridegroom and also a ringer, was best man.

As the couple left the church, handbells were rung by a team from Isleworth and Brentford. The reception was held in the Church Hall, and the honeymoon spent in the New Forest. Although a peal was unsuccessful on the day, an excellent quarter peal was rung at Isleworth on the following day in their honour.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION

Despite heavy rain, 34 members and friends attended the South Norfolk Branch meeting at Bunwell on September 15th. The service was held in the Parish Church conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. P. Herbert) assisted by the president (the Rev. A. St. J. Heard). Tea was arranged and given by the local ringers and friends in the Village Hall.

At the business meeting five new members were elected, viz., the Rev. J. P. Herbert, honorary member; Miss Betty Syrett, Mr. J. Barber and Mr. G. J. Filby, of Winfield, and Mr. W. Gibbons, of North Lopham, ringing members. It was decided to visit East Harling for the next meeting.

Special votes of thanks were accorded to Mr. Frank Philippo and the local ringers and friends who so generously gave the tea.

PUTNEY RINGERS' OUTING

A tour into Sussex on September 8th, which was once again arranged by Mr. W. Elson (who is in his 85th year), of St. Mary's Church, Putney, gave much pleasure to the ringers of Putney and the many old friends who had been invited to take part.

Ringing took place at East Grinstead, Turners Hill, Cuckfield, Bolney, Crawley and Slaugham (pronounced Slaffam). Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge were all rung successfully. A course of London came to grief at Crawley after some very good striking. Lunch was enjoyed at Cuckfield and tea at Crawley.

In honour of Mrs. H. W. Orringe becoming a centenarian, Market Harborough ringers rang 1,260 Grandsire Triples on September 15th. The band was C. A. Johnson 1, W. J. Wallington 2, C. G. Windrain 3, F. E. Wallington 4, E. J. Sharpe 5, E. W. Measures 6, G. A. Hollock (conductor) 7, T. W. Measures 8.

METHOD EXTENSION

PERHAPS no subject which has been discussed over the period of years in the columns of 'The Ringing World' has caused so much controversy—and with such little effect—as that dealing with 'Method Extension.'

With a view to clarifying the matter, a motion was submitted to the Council at its meeting some two and a half years ago which, in short, asked it to define an acceptable extension of a method. Such a definition, with Council backing, would show what extensions should receive official recognition, and at the same time give a line to composers, contemporary and those of the future.

At the Council's request, the Methods Committee submitted a report. All its recommendations have not been considered, and members will have an opportunity of discussing the final report at Lincoln next year.

The committee's findings, which might be described more aptly as 'generalisations,' can be summarised thus: 'An extension should bear the same characteristics as the parent, with the inclusion of extra places or an odd dodge "here and there." No contiguous places may be used. Relative pivot bells are regarded as "desirable" and are therefore made "essential" for recognition. London, Superlative and Bristol do not comply with all these requirements and would not be acceptable.'

The Exercise has also been warned by the committee, through 'The Ringing World,' that many extensions in Corrigan's 'Surprise Royal and Maximus' book do not meet with the required standards, and advise ringers before attempting any fresh extensions to refer their figures in the first instance to it, in order to avoid the risk of rejection at a later date.

Let us consider the position in the light of what has been disclosed. London, Superlative and Bristol extensions are not to be recognised, yet methods 'modified' similarly, such as Wembley, Aldenham, Rutland and Painswick—methods which have all been rung to peals—appear to gain a further reprieve. Two versions of Rutland Royal have been rung to peals, although the Exercise is not generally aware of this because it has never been disclosed in 'The Ringing World.'

There are methods in existence which prompt the following questions because the recommendations throw no light on them:—

- (a) Whether or not the pivot bell of an extension must be relative to that of the parent, is it not essential that the place position of the pivot bell be correct at the half-lead?
- (b) Are not relative place positions at each treble cross section essential in the extension?
- (c) Would it not be possible to introduce new work into an extension and yet retain the same characteristics of the parent? Conversely the constructional relationship of Cambridge Minor with Pudsey Major, Corrigan's No. 622 (Royal) and No. 867 (Maximus) could hardly be challenged, but who would regard them as one and the same method?
- (d) How can a method be extended without contiguous places, when contiguous places are the characteristic of the parent?
- (e) If an extension is limited to an 'odd dodge here and there,' what would be the position of Double Oxford Bob Maximus in relation to its parent the Minor?
- (f) What would be the position of Oxford Bob Major, Royal and Maximus in regard to the Minor, if the committee's proposed table of relative pivot bells is adopted? And would the Caters and Cinques escape scot free?
- (g) The recommendations appear to be confined to even-bell ringing with a leaning towards 'Surprise.' How are these to be converted to odd-bell ringing, which the original motion meant to include?

The committee has already invited new extensions upon which to pronounce judgment, so presumably it is working to some logical formula. If not, a later Methods Committee with a completely new personnel might rule the opposite way to its predecessors.

The Council has recently clarified the position in regard to the acceptance of performances as peals and have placed their resolutions on the 'statute book.' The members should insist on the committee carrying out the terms of the resolution as it was requested to do, so that the Council, if it accepts their findings, may record its decision in the same way.

In conclusion, this article is not an attempt to influence the committee as to what type of method should be accepted, but to stress that generalisations can only produce anomalies. And the eradication of anomalies was one of the reasons that prompted the proposer to move his resolution.

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

This is the second issue of the new quarter and quarterly subscribers are asked to remit 6s. without fail to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent. New postal subscribers are asked to enrol forthwith.

Miss Valerie Willard, hon. secretary of the Luton District of the Bedfordshire Association, is leaving next month for a three-years tour of duty at Melbourne, Australia. The good wishes of her many friends will accompany her and she is looking forward to joining Philip and Joan Gray at Melbourne Cathedral.

Mr. Albert Relfe and Mr. Charles Bassett 'completed the circle' of Wadhurst (Sussex) tower together on September 22nd.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at St. Stephen's, Ealing, on September 28th, was the tenth anniversary peal of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rogers, and an eighth birthday compliment to their son, Christopher.

The band which rang the peal of Yorkshire Surprise at Tunstall on October 3rd, for the wedding of Miss Betty Spice and the Rev. Peter T. Robbins, who are both members of the Oxford University Society, contained six Oxford University ringers.

Mr. Harry Buckingham, a young ringer at Winchester Cathedral, rang for the consecration of the Bishop of Southampton at the Cathedral and afterwards stood in at the last minute in the peal in honour of the occasion at St. Mary's, Southampton. His action was much appreciated by the conductor and we expect Harry was equally delighted in scoring his first peal on ten bells.

A correspondent writes that on September 30th he listened to four rings of bells being broadcast before service on the wireless. In two cases rounds were being rung, call changes in another and Grandsire Triples in the fourth. 'Considering that it was not a major Church festival, I think the B.B.C. must surely be paying attention to our cries for more bells,' he concludes.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Some years ago a peal was rung by a band of ringers all over 70. We now give notice that a peal attempt will be made on the bells of St. John's, Deptford, on Saturday afternoon, October 20th, by eight ringers all over 80 years of age. The method will be Bob Major, and the conductor the young and ever-green Frank Bennett. Our best wishes are extended to the band.

Mr. George Peers, sen., of Tamworth, rang at Overseal on September 26th in a peal of Stedman Triples. He rang his last peal 20 years ago.

No fewer than 197 compositions are contained in the report of the Leicester Diocesan Guild for 1950. In these days of heavy printing costs this is a fine achievement, and we feel certain that many conductors will desire to obtain a copy.

In reply to the query from Mr. Eade, Buxted, re another church dedicated to St. Margaret the Queen, Miss Winifred Bettridge informs us that there is a church of the same dedication in Barcombe Avenue, Streatham, S.W.2. There is no ring of bells in this church.

It is anticipated that there will be many members of the craft in London early in November. Mr. A. D. Barker will have a tower at his disposal for an hour on Tuesday evening, November 6th, and members interested are asked to communicate with him at Cambridge, Wexham, Slough, Bucks.

A novel series of advertisements are appearing in various international magazines and newspapers in South Africa, Canada, New Zealand and Australia dealing with legends of the bells. The material for the series has been provided by Mr. Ernest Morris. Overseas ringers will find the series amusing and entertaining. The association of bells with whisky is an unusual combination.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS DESCRIBED

Cathedral Authorities' Restrictions

THE cancellation of the arrangements for the visit to Liverpool, on their outward journey to Canada, of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, provided the Exercise with a great disappointment.

During the past half-century we have watched the steady materialisation of this mighty Cathedral (interrupted by two world wars), and waited eagerly for the day when the great new ring would be heard for the first time. The bells were cast in 1938-39, but owing to the delay in the completion of the tower and the shortage and restriction of materials, they could not be hung until this year.

When it became known that it was intended to ring them in honour of the Royal visit, a great surge of enthusiasm and expectation took place throughout the whole Exercise. The disappointment is not lessened by the news which reaches us from different sources. It would appear that the Cathedral authorities have somewhat unusual views on the use of church bells and for the present this great ring will only be heard on special festive occasions. We can only hope that suitable representations will be made by the Lancashire Association to prevail on the authorities to allow this, the greatest ringing installation of all time, to be heard more often.

Here are the particulars of the tower, bells and inscriptions.

The tower rises to a height of 331 feet above the floor of the nave, which is 16 feet above the street level in St. James' Road. The first trap-way in the tower is 175 feet above the floor (only eight feet short of Nelson's column). The maximum width of the tower is 96 feet.

The belfry is 219 feet above the nave floor, spans 72 feet inside and is approximately 90 feet high.

These few brief details are sufficient to convey the immensity of Liverpool Cathedral and it will be appreciated that the problem involved in hanging the heaviest ringing peal in the world at such a great height called for original design in belfry construction. Mr. Burnard Geen, the consulting engineer, solved it in the following way.

At approximately the level of the first trap-way a reinforced concrete girdle encircles the tower. This is 6 feet thick, 6 feet 14 inches high, and weighs 600 tons. Set diagonally across the corners are massive plate girders upon which two pairs of lattice girders, 82 feet long and 22 feet high, span the tower diagonally, resting at their extremities on roller bearings to allow for expansion and contraction during changes in temperature. The ringing chamber floor is carried in the lower booms of these girders. A 20 feet square space is formed in the centre by the intersection of the girders and it is here that the ringers stand on a raised circular platform.

Above the 22 feet high ringing chamber is a sound-deadening chamber of 10 feet constructed in reinforced concrete, the ceiling of which forms the belfry floor.

At the suggestion of Mr. A. A. Hughes, the bell-frame was constructed in reinforced concrete and is circular in design, being based on a true rope circle of 17 feet 9 inches diameter. The following simple plan gives a clear indication of the form the frame takes. The base ring is 2 feet thick and 42 feet in diameter. The concrete arrow-shaped piers on which the bells swing are 6 feet 6 inches high, and with the exception of the piers either side of the tenor, the 'tails' slope down to the level of the base ring.

The entire frame is insulated from the floor by one-inch felt and the three floors, belfry, sound-deadening chamber and ringing chamber, are independent of the walls and insulated from them by 3-inch cork sheets. This ensures that the sound vibrations from the bells do not carry down through all the mass of steel and concrete, and the scheme has proved very effective. Over 2,000 tons of reinforced concrete and steel work has gone into this construction, and as may be expected when the maximum forces are being exerted by the swinging bells, there is not the least indication of any movement whatever.

Access to the ringing chamber will eventually be by electric lift, but at present this only goes to the height of the nave roof.

DETAILS OF THE BELLS

Tenor.—82 cwt. 11 lb. A flat. Inscription: Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ. ## 40 YEARS AGO

RINGING NEWS FROM VANCOUVER

Extract from 'The Ringing World' dated October 13th, 1911

[A letter from Mr. Alan R. MacDonald, later a well-known bellringer.]

'When I first arrived in this city, I made enquiries as to where the Roman Catholic Cathedral was, and soon located it, as it is the only church in the whole city with a stone steeple capable of holding a ringing peal, as nearly nine out of ten of the churches and houses are built of wood. I made enquiries as to who were the ringers, and when the bells were rung, but could get no information except that the ringers were all from the Old Country, and sometimes rang on Wednesday evenings. . . . I heard the back five strike up to the old familiar tune of Grandsire Doubles. You can bet it was not long before I found my way up into the ringing chamber and introduced myself. Another new ringer to Vancouver, a son of Mr. Judd, of Prittlewell, followed me up the stairs and . . . the Vancouver band got two recruits at once, which enabled them to talk of ringing Stedman Triples. Anyway, that first Sunday evening, we changed the tune from Doubles to Triples. I had put my copy of "The Ringing World" in my pocket, so was able to show them the first official account of their own peal (rung in the July).

'We have quite a decent band here now and I am pleased to say I called the first touch of Stedman Triples last Sunday evening. It was the first in Canada, if not on the American Continent. . . . We have, when all turn up, a band capable of ringing Grandsire and Stedman Triples. Bob Major and Kent and Oxford Minor, and are living in hopes of recording the first peal of Stedman Triples on this side, if luck is kind, at no very distant date. . . .

[Unfortunately, luck was not kind and the first peal of Stedman in Canada has yet to be rung.]

IRISH ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Eastern District was held in Dublin on September 22nd. The meeting was originally arranged in the hopes of meeting Fred Dunkerley's peal-ringing band, who unfortunately had to postpone their visit until a later date. Forty ringers from Arklow, Drogheda and Dublin attended.

The ten bells of the Augustinian Church of St. John-the-Baptist were made available during the afternoon. The belfry of this church was said to have been built without thought of how to reach the bells. It was, therefore, necessary to erect a ladder to the organ, a platform over it, and then a fireman's iron circular steel staircase up to the roof inside the lofty nave. It is a nerve-racking ascent for those making their first journey. The tenor weighs 24 cwt, and the bells were recently placed on roller bearings. Some of the ringers were given an opportunity of ringing Plain Bob with the 'experts' while others had their first 'go' on strange bells.

Tea was kindly arranged by the local ringers in St. George's Hall. This was followed by a short business meeting presided over by the chairman of the District, Mr. Fred Henly, who for just 50 years has been one of the most active ringers at Drogheda.

Mr. Henly, in his address, extended a cordial welcome to Dr. Stanley Darmon and his wife (Jean Southerst) to Dublin. They were subsequently duly elected members of the Association and presented with certificates.

LIVERPOOL BELLS—Continued

Cyril Robinson, Mus.Bac., F.R.C.O., named me David.

Treble.—9 cwt, 1 qr, 25 lb. E flat. Thou art my God, and I will thank Thee; Thou art my God and I will praise Thee. The Senior Verger, Joseph Henry Harrod, named me Bede.

TRAGIC DEATH OF MR. HAROLD PAILING

Trapped By a Bell

AS briefly reported in our last issue, Mr. Harold Pailing met a tragic death at St. Paul's Church, Daybrook, Nottingham, on September 28th. The rope of the 5th bell having broken during practice, he went up into the bell chamber to investigate and almost immediately uttered a cry for help. He was found trapped between the lip of the 5th bell and the frame. It would appear that he slipped in the dark, and grasping to save himself, caught hold of the wheel, pulling the bell off. A doctor was called, who arrived within a very few minutes, but Mr. Pailing was dead. He could only have lived a few moments after the bell struck him. The cause of death was shock from multiple fracture of the ribs and sternum.

As it was impossible to extricate Mr. Pailing without proper tackle, the fire brigade was summoned and the working of the bell explained to them. The firemen said afterwards that it was one of the most difficult and delicate tasks they had experienced.

THE INQUEST

The theory that Mr. Harold Pailing slipped in the darkness of the belfry when he went to investigate a rope slipping the wheel was advanced by Mr. Frederick Salter, Ringing Master of St. Peter's, Nottingham, at the inquest at Arnold on October 2nd. 'He put his hand out and caught the No. 5 bell which swung over and trapped him,' surmised Mr. Salter.

The Nottingham District Coroner (Mr. C. A. Mack), who conducted the proceedings, was shown a model of the bell and this was used by the doctor to demonstrate how Mr. Pailing was trapped. He said that Mr. Pailing died from multiple fractures of the chest. His verdict was 'Accidental death.'

Mr. Frederick Salter, of Noel Street, Nottingham, said that on the previous Friday evening he went to take part in the ringing practice at Daybrook. They had been ringing for about 15 minutes when the rope of No. 5 bell came off.

'I went into the bell chamber, intending to replace this rope, but it was dark and, as there was no light up there, I decided against it,' said Mr. Salter.

'I had never been any further than the ringing chamber in the church and did not feel justified in going among the bells as it was so dark.'

As he stepped down from the bell chamber, and was removing his overalls, Mr. Pailing arrived and asked what was the matter. As he was familiar with the place, he said he would go and replace the rope.

'He went alone without a light. We got some candles and prepared to go up and assist him. Almost at once we heard him call for help and we went up.'

'We found him trapped beneath the bell frame and the mouth of No. 5 bell. We tried to get the bell off him, but it was impossible.'

'I should say he had got below the beam and was feeling with his foot for a step and then he slipped, putting his hands out and catching the wheel of the bell.'

Police-Sgt. Thomas Love: 'Is it not a rule among ringers that when a bell is "on set" no one enters the chamber?'

Witness: 'No. If a man feels competent and knows the place, he would go up.'

'But not without a light?'—'I could go over my own bell frame without a light if the circumstances arose. Sometimes it is a necessity.'

Dr. Philip Lionel Nicolle, of Church Crescent, Daybrook, said he found Mr. Pailing pinned to a beam by the bell, which had swung over, trapping him across the chest. The doctor used the model to show the position to the Coroner.

With another ringer he attempted to lift the bell, but they could not move it.

The Vicar the Rev. F. N. Keen, and Mr. Sidney Wilce Fossey, of Patterson Place, Mansfield, himself a Ringing Master, thanked the doctor, police and fire brigade for their help.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place on Wednesday last, the first part of the service being held in St. Paul's Church, and conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Norman Keen, the other clergy present being Canon R. F. Wilkinson, Rector of West Bridgford and chairman of the Southwell Diocesan Guild the Rev. G. R. D. McLean, Rector of East Bridgford, and the Rev. W. H. Williams, curate at Daybrook.

Prior to the service the bells were rung half-muffled in very slow time, the effect being most solemn and impressive. The church was filled to capacity with parishioners and ringing friends. After the commitment in Redhill Cemetery, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by A. Barratt, F. A. Salter, C. Glenn and P. Preston.

A VALUED CHURCH WORKER

Mr. Pailing, who was 43 years of age, learned to ring at East Bridgford, where his father still rings. He came to Daybrook as a school teacher prior to the war and joined the local company, being elected leader in 1945. He was active as chorister, member of the Parochial Church Council, and served on various church committees. He was chairman of the Nottingham Branch of the Southwell Diocesan Guild. He was a sound ringer and good striker. Not a prolific peal ringer, he had rung 30 in a good variety of methods up to Caters and Royal.

The sympathy of all ringers will be extended to his widow, who is also a ringer at Daybrook Church, and his two sons, the eldest of whom is learning to ring there.

Many practical expressions of sympathy with Mrs. Pailing and family by unsolicited gifts having been received by local ringers, it has been decided that the Guild shall issue a general appeal to members. An official announcement on this matter will appear later.

MR. A. MARSHALL

Mr. Andrew Marshall, of Lamberhurst, Kent, who had been in failing health for several years, died on September 28th, aged 68 years. About three months ago he had to enter hospital for treatment, and it was found necessary to amputate one of his legs. He left hospital on September 18th and went to Brighton. He was coming home on September 29th, but had a heart attack and died suddenly the day before.

Mr. Marshall had been a ringer at Lamberhurst for nearly 50 years and had rung nearly 100 peals. He was one of the band that rang the first peal of Major on Tenterden bells in 1912, and had rung in peals of Minor up to 32 methods. He was always ready to hand his rope to a younger man and to stand behind him if he was not quite sure of the method.

The funeral was at Lamberhurst Church on October 2nd, interment being in the same grave, as his only son who was killed in the late war. The local ringers rang a course of Grandsire on the handbells at the graveside, and in the evening some of his old ringing pals from the surrounding parishes came and helped the local ringers in ringing the tower bells half-muffled.

MR. ALFRED E. PARKER

Grantham has lost another old ringer by the death of Mr. Alfred E. Parker, at the age of 72 years. Deceased had been a member of St. Wulfram's band for upwards of 50 years.

His interment took place at Grantham Cemetery on October 2nd and in the evening the bells of St. Wulfram's were hung half-muffled, as a token of respect.

He was of a quiet disposition, and had been in ill-health for several years, but visited the belfry until recently. He was a good, sound ringer, and had conducted a few quarter peals.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL OF THE SNOWDON DINNER

A Memorable Day at York

MICHAELMAS DAY, 1951, will long be remembered by ringing visitors to York for its beautiful weather, ample opportunities for ringing on the magnificent bells of the Minster, a general meeting of the Yorkshire Association, Evensong sung in the choir of the Minster and finally a revival of the Snowdon Dinner. Associated with the arrangements was the Silver Jubilee of the rededication of the Minster bells. The programme of events was a long one and was carried through to everyone's satisfaction.

There was a good beginning when, shortly after 11 o'clock, the middle octave was rung up in splendid style in spite of many of the band being unaccustomed to the long draught of rope. After the odd bells had been raised a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung on the middle octave to give the visitors confidence. Then followed Stedman Caters and other methods until a halt was called at 12.30.

The afternoon session started at 2.30 and county members rang Stedman and Cambridge Surprise on the middle octave and Grandsire, Stedman and Little Bob on the back ten.

At 3.55 the county members retired to the general meeting and the freedom of the belfry was bestowed on the out-county 'brasshats.' Three courses of Stedman Caters were followed by a touch of Spliced Surprise on the back eight (the first on the bells). A well-struck bob course of Stedman Cinques concluded the method ringing. Then the front eight were rung down followed by the four tenors to enable Albert, of Birmingham, to listen to the tune 'Get up them stairs.'

THE GENERAL MEETING

The general meeting was held in the Parish Hall of St. Michael-le-Belfry, the scene of the Central Council meeting in 1903. A wisecrack of one member that the hall had not been redecorated since that meeting was allowed to pass for lack of evidence to the contrary.

The chair was taken by the president, the Ven. C. O. Ellison, Archdeacon of Leeds, who was supported by Mr. S. F. Palmer, hon. treasurer, and Mr. L. W. G. Morris, hon. general secretary.

Several new members were elected and a letter from a firm of bellfounders inviting nomination of a contributor to a house magazine was allowed to lie on the table, the opinion being expressed that 'The Ringing World' was the usual means of publication of items of ringing interest.

As no invitation had been received for the next meeting it was decided to visit Sheffield, in January, provided suitable arrangements could be made.

A vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for allowing generous use of the Minster bells was carried with acclamation as was also a vote of thanks to the York Minster Society for making arrangements for the meeting and the Snowdon Dinner. Mr. Harold Walker, president of the Minster Society, said his colleagues were very glad to welcome the Association to York and to organise the Dinner; if necessary the Association would be welcome to visit York again for the dinner next year.

A goodly number of ringers attended Evensong in the Minster when the beautiful singing of the choir was much appreciated. The first lesson was read by the president, and prayers were said for the work of the Association.

The Bellfounders' Window in the Minster was a focal point of interest for many visitors. It was interesting to note that this window was restored to its place in 1948, after the Second World War, at the expense of the 5th Division 1939-45 in memory of its fallen.

THE DINNER

A company of 90 sat down to a satisfactory dinner in the Co-operative Cafe. The president, wearing his badge of office, took the chair, and among those present were: Canon G. W. O. Addleshaw, treasurer of York Minster; Canon F. Harrison, chancellor of York Minster; Mr. P. J. Johnson, vice-president, and Mrs. Johnson; Mr. A. F. Sellars, vice-president, and Mrs. Sellars; Mr. F. S. Palmer, hon. treasurer; Mr. L. W. G. Morris, hon. general secretary; Mr. W. E. Critchley, peal secretary; Mr. W. Barton, trustee; Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dowding, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. C. McGuinness, Lincoln; Mr., Mrs. and Miss Worth, Macclesfield; Mr. F. Dunkerley, hon. general secretary, Lancashire Association; Mr. W. Allman, Runcorn; Mr. J. Bibby, Frodsham; Mr. H. O. Baker, Chester.

After the loyal toast had been honoured, and a brief interval, the chairman welcomed the visitors and said apologies of absence had been received from the Dean of York; the Archdeacon of York; Mr. Edwin H. Lewis, president of the Central Council; Mrs. E. Dorice Kelly, Yorkshire Branch secretary of the Ladies' Guild; Mr. T. F. Earnshaw (a ringer at York Minster for 63 years, who is now living in Birmingham) and Mr. T. W. White, editor of 'The Ringing World'.

The chairman then read a letter from Miss Margaret E. Snowdon, daughter of William Snowdon, second president of the Association:—"I wonder—should a fitting opportunity occur—if you would convey my good wishes to the gathering. My pride is to keep the "Snowdon Series" of ringing books at a reasonable price: a veritable job these days. With special greeting of goodwill to those who practise the grand old English art."

The toast 'The Church and State' was proposed by Mr. P. J. Johnson, who enlarged on 'the problems connected with the spread of population. New districts were springing up where new churches were required, and old churches were left unused amongst the warehouses in the big towns and cities. It would be a good thing if bells from the old churches were transferred to the new ones where they could be used to better advantage. Theological college students should be encouraged in the art of ringing so that when they took up their work in the parishes they could take an active part in the ringing of their bells.'

Canon Harrison replied and said ours was the only religious State left in the world and it was a record that the relationship between Church and State, which had existed since A.D. 597, had lasted so long. Speaking of the bells, Chancellor Harrison said if ever the Church lost its bells it would be well on the way to losing everything.

JASPER WHITFIELD SNOWDON

The toast 'The late Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and Past Officers of the Yorkshire Association' was proposed by Mr. Albert Walker, who said the name of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon was not likely to be forgotten in the change ringers' world. The book 'Ropesight' might be called the change ringers' bible. He was also the author of the books 'Treble Bob,' 'Double Norwich Court Bob Major' and 'Standard Methods' and he was the originator of the 'blue line.' Snowdon was born in 1844 and became founder and first president of the Yorkshire Association in 1875, which position he retained until his untimely death in 1885. Jasper was followed by his brother William, who held office for 25 years. The late Canon C. C. Marshall was then president for 35 years. William Horner Howard, who was first vice-president, was a ringer in York Minster for 68 years and was well respected in his day. He recalled the names of Charles Henry Hattersley and his brother Tom; George Bolland; James Cotterill; and James and Tom Lockwood, each of whom had served the Association well. There were numerous others, each of whom had left his mark on the work of the Association.

'Visitors and Kindred Ringing Societies' was proposed by Mr. L. W. G. Morris, who said he was glad to welcome to that gathering the chancellor and the treasurer of York Minster. The treasurer had the important task of supervising the Minster appeal for £250,000 to preserve the fabric and he was glad there had been such a ready response to the appeal. Kindred Ringing Societies were represented by Mr. Albert Walker of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham; Mr. Fred Dunkerley, hon. general secretary of the Lancashire Association; Mr. Walter Allman and his colleagues of the Chester Diocesan Guild; and Mr. Charles McGuinness of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. Incidentally, Mr. McGuinness was taking up an appointment in Newcastle and he was sure the loss to the Lincoln Guild would be a welcome gain to the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Guild.

In a humorous reply for 'The Visitors,' Canon Addleshaw said how amused he was when reading old churchwardens' accounts he continually came across the item 'Ale for the ringers.' He also told of how he was once arrested as an escaped convict disguised as a clergyman and was only released after he had produced some letters and asked what connection there was between Lambeth Palace and Durham Gaol.

Replying for 'The Kindred Societies,' Mr. F. Dunkerley said he felt honoured at being asked to respond to the toast. Such gatherings as this did much to foster friendship between Societies. He regretted the action of the Editorial Committee in putting a ban on the Editor visiting such gatherings and thought it was the wrong thing to do. What could be done to help was for everyone to become postal subscribers to 'The Ringing World.' That would cut out distributors and newsgagents' fees and prove a useful source of revenue to the Committee.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Mr. Charles McGuinness proposed the toast 'Continued Prosperity of the Yorkshire Association.' He said the Association was fortunate in having a good bank balance, a good membership, wide territory and splendid officers. Prosperity meant yielding good fruit. The Association had always been noted for its high performance and future prosperity would depend on the encouragement of learners to attain the same high standard. The Association had many national ringers in its ranks and Yorkshire was well represented in the councils of the 'Exercise.' He had heard Yorkshire opinion expressed very forcibly at Central Council meetings.

Mr. S. F. Palmer replied for the Association and said that although the finances were satisfactory they had a shaking up during the past few years. The membership stood at 1,575 and he was glad the prosperity of the Association was controlled by an able body of officers.

'The Chairman' was proposed by Mr. Harold Walker, who said the Association was fortunate in having Archdeacon Ellison as its president. They were all thankful to him for carrying out his duties so well. Thanks were also due to the artistes who had given their services freely to entertain the company. On behalf of the York Minster Society he welcomed the visitors and thanked them for their support in making the dinner a success. The very first ring of twelve bells ever to be assembled was hung in the south-west tower of the Minster and now they had the finest heavy ring of twelve bells in the country—that included Liverpool where, he understood, special ringing and meetings were not to be permitted.

AVOID BICKERING

Rising to reply, the chairman said the toast should have been the other way round for he was deeply grateful to the Minster Society for the work put in to make the meeting and dinner a success. He also thanked the artistes. If he could be allowed to give advice, he said it would be to foster fellowship among themselves as ringers and then in the outside world. He deprecated the constant bickering which appeared to go on in the correspondence columns of 'The Ringing World.' He thought the first paragraph in that week's 'Belfry Gossip' was in very bad taste. To make a pun of a person's name was bad enough but to tell that person if he didn't like the bells he should live elsewhere was something that should not be done. A more conciliatory attitude was desirable. If there were complaints, then something should be done to abate them. In his own tower he had covered the louvres with sound-deadening material.

The toasts were interspersed with songs by Miss D. Roberts, Mr. S. H. Steel, Mr. F. Horner, Mr. L. Wright and Mr. J. Norfolk. Mr. K. Wishart was the accompanist.

Was the revival a success? If a few shillings deficit in the dinner accounts can be taken seriously, then it was a failure. On the credit side, there were many expressions of satisfaction that all had enjoyed the visit to York. There was plenty of good ringing, a good dinner and tons of good fellowship; so it must be concluded the function was a huge success. 'Here's to the next time.'

Sunday was another beautiful day and those privileged to stay overnight enjoyed a splendid four courses of Stedman Cinques before morning service. H. W.

BEVERLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

Forty members with friends and visitors from North Lincolnshire, Leicester and Hadley attended the meeting at Barton-on-Humber on September 8th. The bells of St. Mary's Church were raised and rung in standard methods till the time for the service.

The service was a combined form of Evensong and Ringers' Service to meet the requirements of the general congregation and the ringers. This was a change from the usual service for the Society, but the introduction of the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis was enjoyed by a number of the members, who thought it could be repeated at frequent intervals.

Tea was taken in the Assembly Rooms, followed by the business meeting. The president extended a welcome to the Vicar, the Rev. G. Sylvester, to the new curate, the Rev. D. T. Russell, and Dr. H. Burtwhistle, a churchwarden. The Vicar gave a welcome to the Society and an invitation to come again, knowing how popular the rings of bells in his churches were with ringers in the district.

St. Mary's bells were rung again to Cambridge and Double Norwich to give visitors a chance to try them for the first time and then the bells of St. Peter's Church were raised and rung for the remainder of the evening.

MR. G. W. CARTMEL

Mr. George W. Cartmel celebrated his 86th birthday on September 29th and as a compliment to him the St. Peter's Society, St. Albans, rang the first quarter from Holt's Original for evening service on the following Sunday. Mr. Cartmel's association with ringing goes back as far as 1883. He held the office of general secretary of the Herts County Association for 41 years and was assistant secretary for 14 years. Those taking part in the quarter peal were: M. Webb (first from tenor) 1, H. V. Frost (conductor) 2, Miss A. Bailey 3, R. W. Darvill 4, A. Dale 5, W. J. Southam 6, T. J. Southam 7, F. J. Bailey 8.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Association was held at Durham on September 29th. About 40 members attended the meeting, many taking the opportunity of hearing Evensong sung in the ancient and beautiful Cathedral. The Cathedral bells were available after Evensong, and ringers who were not on committee business made good use of them.

At 7 p.m. the company sat down to dinner at Luke's Cafe, the annual general meeting being held immediately after the meal. Canon Stephenson (president) occupied the chair for the first half of the meeting, but had to leave as he had other business to attend to in connection with his parish. Mr. W. N. Park, immediate past president, was elected to the chair to conduct the latter half of the meeting, which involved a discussion regarding changes in certain rules.

Canon Stephenson was unanimously re-elected president; although not a ringer, he has been keenly interested in the art for over 50 years. He is a most regular attendee at meetings of the Association and in nearly every instance he is the only representative of the clergy who visits the ringers.

The honorary secretary, Mr. J. A. Brown, and the hon. editorial secretary, Miss M. Fidell, informed the meeting that they did not wish to stand for re-election, and Mr. D. A. Bayles and Mr. W. J. Davidson were elected to fill the respective vacancies.

The Association is suffering very much from present-day conditions and rising prices continue to play havoc with finances, but Mr. F. Ainsley, the honorary treasurer, is to be congratulated on his balance sheet.

Meetings arranged for the ensuing year are: J. W. Parker Commemoration Meeting at Sunderland on March 15th; the summer meeting at Gateshead on June 14th; and the annual meeting at Newcastle-on-Tyne on September 27th, 1952.

Lancashire Ringer's Silver Wedding

On September 22nd about 60 relatives and friends and the local ringers and their wives were invited to a tea to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker. Mr. Walker has been a ringer at St. George's, Mossley, for over 20 years.

Congratulations were extended to them by several guests with wishes for health and happiness in the coming years. Mr. and Mrs. Walker suitably replied and thanked all the company for the good wishes and presents they had received.

Previous to the tea a successful peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung by the local ringers. Congratulations were extended to the conductor, Mr. R. Taylor, who celebrated his golden wedding a few months ago, on having successfully conducted the peal at the age of 77 years.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

The Editorial Committee acknowledges with gratitude the following contributions received towards meeting the greatly increased cost of paper in the publication of 'The Ringing World.'

£1.—Miss M. E. Snowdon, Cartmel, Lancs; 'A Burbage Ringer.'

5s.—J. Hill, Leicester.

4s.—F. Slocombe, Wellington, Somerset.

2s. 6d.—J. Worrall, Cardiff; Peal donation, Old Hill, Staffs; Quarter peal donation, Tiverton, Devon; Benhillton, Surrey.

2s.—T. W. Hesketh, Liverpool; Quarter peal donations, Belgrave, Leicester; Ditcheat, Somerset; W. Poston, Bridstow.

1s. 6d.—Donation peal at Hughenden; J. W. Raithby, Newark.

1s. 5d.—Rev. A. Melville; H. C. Lintern.

1s.—Quarter peal, Bedwellty, Monmouth.

WEDDING OF MISS BETTY SPICE

Bride and Bridegroom's Peal of Spliced Surprise

The Rev. Peter T. Robbins, curate of St. Paul's, Bury, and Miss Betty Spice, of Tunstall, Kent, both members of the Oxford University Society, were married at Tunstall on Tuesday, October 2nd.

The Rev. K. M. Carey, Principal of Westcott House, Cambridge, conducted the wedding, and the Rector of Tunstall, the Rev. G. H. L. Graham, celebrated the Holy Communion. The organist was Mr. Michael Slaney, of the Oxford University Society.

The bride was attired in a dress of deep cream brocade and was attended by Miss Elisabeth Lewis, of Powick, Worcs, and two children, Rosemary Twyman (cousin) and Christopher Trafford (godson). The best man was Mr. Brian Robbins, brother of the bridegroom.

Among the large congregation were members of the Oxford University Society, the Cambridge University Guild, the Worcestershire and Districts Association and the Kent County Association. Ringing after the service was provided by the Tunstall band, and a peal was attempted later in the tower by visiting ringers.

The bride and bridegroom were happily able to ring for their own wedding by joining in a short touch of Grandsire Triples, called by the bride, just before leaving for their honeymoon. This was spent at Oxford and Church Stretton.

At Oxford on the day following the wedding, the couple rang their first peal as husband and wife, a peal of Spliced Surprise in six methods, conducted by Walter F. Judge.

REDEDICATION

CHELTHENHAM PARISH CHURCH

As intimated in an earlier issue under 'Belfry Gossip,' the Cheltenham Parish Church bells were rung for the first time at the Harvest Festival service on Sunday, September 30th, after the rehanging on ball bearings. The Ringing Master, Mr. W. Dyer, expressed thanks to the Rector (Canon J. B. Goodliffe) and to others who had assembled at 10 a.m. in the belfry and who had made it possible for the work to be carried out.

The Rector conducted a short service of rededication after which very short touches of Grandsire and Stedman Cinques were rung in order to give the large number of ringers present a chance to try out the bells in the short time available before service at 11 a.m.

The Parish Church ringers wish to thank the ringers at Gloucester, Painswick, Upton St. Leonards, Bishops Cleeve and Hinton-on-the-Green for allowing them to ring their bells for Sunday services and to those at Prestbury and Charlton Kings for the use of their bells for practices. This has greatly helped to keep the band together during the period of rehanging and is much appreciated.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR BELLRINGERS

Many teams of bellringers are insured under the special policies issued by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., 11, Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C.2. Particulars will be supplied on application. Those with old policies are recommended to consider increasing the scale of benefits provided.

The Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., was founded in 1887 to conserve for the Church of England profits arising from Church insurances. The Office undertakes all kinds of parochial insurance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

METHOD EXTENSION

Dear Sir,—Mr. Roe's excellent letter about method extension hits the nail on the head. The method cited gives an undoubtedly correct extension to all numbers.

I would like to raise a further point, and a controversial one at that. The major method is Double Coslany Court, and it was the composer of Bristol Surprise, Bankes-James, who said that Double Coslany was 'Bristol square-rooted.' The changes in each lead of Double Coslany are identical with half the changes in the corresponding lead of Bristol. This property extends, the changes in a lead of Roe's extensions being contained in Arthur Craven's extensions of Bristol, and the lead ends are the same. Curiously, Bankes-James denied Arthur Craven's extensions as being true.

The Bristol rows which make up Double Coslany are always the rows 1, 2, 7, 8 of the lead, followed by the first and last rows of each treble dodge, until the last two dodges of the treble, when the rows pair off again (as the methods are double). There is, to me, no doubt that both are logical extensions, particularly as in Craven's Bristol (including the Beddington version of Royal) on higher numbers there is an orderly pattern of backward single dodging in advance of the treble above it and behind the treble below it. There may be other logical extensions of Bristol, but to say that there are none is absurd.

A nostalgia for 'nice work' grips many ringers. In Double Coslany Major it is nice to snap seconds and lead for 14 changes, but this turns out to be a happy accident and does not apply to any of the extensions. Similarly, although Bristol Major has a pleasant segregation of the bells in 'boxes' back and front. Why should one scrap any extension which has not the feature of Major?

I would suggest that accepted extensions belong to a sequence of extensions on all numbers, each to be judged individually, and to retain the same coursing order pattern. No approximations should be tolerated. Naturally, one cannot aspire to ring Bristol on 194 bells, but the knowledge that one is ringing a method which does extend 'to infinity' gives one a deep satisfaction like that of the astronomer who looks with awe into the depths of space. London Major is a freak with no vista.

It would be interesting for us to know the reasons which led the Methods Committee to propose such a narrow choice of pivot bells.

BRIAN D. PRICE.

Brynmarw.

PROGRESS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Dear Sir,—The publication of a second quarter peal to be rung within a week at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, British Columbia, bears testimony to the excellent work which is being done for ringing by Mr. E. W. Izard and his company.

I am sure that ringers from the Old Country who are fortunate enough to visit the tower will not only be agreeably surprised at the excellence of the ringing, but will also be given a very warm welcome.—Yours faithfully,

MALCOLM NEVILLE.

Sleaford, Lincs.

HAND OF FRIENDSHIP

Dear Sir—May I write to apologise for my poor sense of humour as so forcibly pointed out by Mr. Bond? I also hope that my not 'seeing the joke' will not result in any ill-feeling between our societies.

Well, Rovine Ringers, you had me up a gum tree, and I only think it best that I now climb down from it.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN E. COOK.

Ringers Master, Rambling Ringers.
Branston, Lincs

RECRUITMENT

Dear Sir,—In your leading article you suggest contacting the voluntary youth organisations. For the past three years I have been trying to interest the National Association of Boys' Clubs in bell-ringing. Unfortunately, they have been unable to decide whether it should count towards their Fitness Trophy, or be included in their Arts Festivals.

Seriously though, I wonder if we are right in trying to 'catch 'em young.' I believe if one were to take a census of those who have retained an enduring interest in bell-ringing one would find that they took it up while in the early twenties. In attempting to get the young 'bitten by the bug' we may well be inoculating them against it. If bell-ringing is really child's play, when they come to man's estate they will, in the words of St. Paul, put away childish things.—Yours faithfully, Tunbridge Wells. WILLIAM MORLAND.

LYME REGIS BELLS

Dear Sir,—A scheme for the complete recasting and rehanging of Lyme Regis bells has been approved by the Church Council and an appeal is being launched at once for raising something over £1,000 for this restoration.

The eight bells are a light and rather toneless set with old-fashioned fittings, and bearings which are badly worn. The space available is very limited so that a tenor of about 11 cwt. is the most that can be hoped for; but we should certainly be assured of a far more musical ring.

We have had the pleasure during many years past of welcoming ringers here from all over the country and, though Lyme Regis may seem a remote corner of Dorset, many can bear witness that from a ringing point of view it is distinctly on the map.

I venture to ask your kind indulgence to allow this appeal to be extended to the Exercise generally in the hope that some of our friends, especially those who have made happy holiday in Lyme Regis, may be inclined to help our ringers, in however small a way, in achieving a long-held ambition to have bells more worthy of the name to handle.

Needless to say, we have a big task in front of us, but we mean to see it through with all speed.

Contributions will be most gratefully acknowledged by our captain, Mr. George Stedman Morris, 16, Sherborne Lane, Lyme Regis, or by me.—Yours very truly,

The Vicarage, C. CAREW COX.
Lyme Regis, Dorset.

MORE ABOUT THE FALSE PEAL OF TREBLE TEN

Sir,—This composition was rung at Preston on April 7th, 1947, and published in 'The Ringing World' some three weeks later. The falseness was pointed out at once by Mr. C. W. Roberts and others. It is regretted that the figures were copied and the corrections not seen. We rang a peal at Preston on December 26th, 1947, to replace the false one, which was clearly stated in the footnote. Mr. F. Nolan Golden wrote privately to me saying that Mr. Timbrell had made an unfortunate slip and this sums up the whole matter.—Yours faithfully, Preston.

E. R. MARTIN.

SOCIETY OF RAMBLING RINGERS

Dear Sir,—On reading the report of the above ringers' tour in 'The Ringing World' (September 21st, 1951), I noticed that St. Neots is referred to as having six with a tenor of 14 cwt. I should like to point out that St. Neots has an eight-bell tower with a tenor of almost 20 cwt., in D.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN W. C. BLYTHE.
Southwold, Suffolk.

'RINGER'S GUIDE'

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read of the Sussex young ringer's discovery of a ring of six at Llanelly missed from the 'Ringer's Guide,' to which omission Peter Bond refers with understandable glee.

In compiling the work my two main objectives were (a) to include all towers with rings of bells, and (b) to record accurate information. Neither was easy to achieve, because in the first place the number of rings has never been known, and in the second place ringing records in general are not by any means accurate.

Dealing with objective (a), I have just been through the wonderful records kept by the late Mr. J. H. Shepherd, who, over a period of 60 years rang on more than 3,000 rings of bells, and measured the tenors of the majority of them. A careful check has revealed only two omissions from the 'Guide.' One is a six-bell tower at St. David's, Llanelly (doubtless the tower to which Peter Bond refers), and the other is a five-bell tower at Churchstoke in Montgomeryshire. This means that altogether nine towers were missed. (Details of seven have already been published.)

If, therefore, no ringers anywhere can now find any further omissions, it may reasonably be assumed that objective (a) has been achieved and the list is complete—complete, that is, up to the end of last year.

Some of the weights of tenors published have, unfortunately, proved to be wrong; for instance, Godmanchester, Hunts, referred to by the Society of Rambling Ringers last week, and several towers have since had to be deleted through being included in error or duplicated.

In your issue of September 28th 'Tourist' questioned my weight for the tenor of St. Mary's, Hull. The weight I show was supplied by the bellhangers who rehung the bells shortly before the last war, and is authentic. Incidentally, the Yorkshire Association report gives 16 cwt.

I have read the 'lesson in geography' in 'Belfry Gossip' this week. According to Crockford, St. Mellons is in Glamorgan but in the diocese of Monmouth. As the same authority gives Newmarket as 'Cambridgeshire,' possibly it is also wrong about St. Mellons.

I am very grateful to all those who have helped me with information and corrections for the 'Ringer's Guide,' and take this opportunity or thanking them.—Yours faithfully,

R. H. DOVE.

NOTE.—The Editor fell into the same pitfall regarding St. Mellons by checking it with Crockford.—Ed.

WOMAN DOUBLES RINGER'S PROTEST

Dear Sir,—The Central Council evidently think they can play cat-and-mouse with five-bell ringers. It is up to all Doubles ringers not to let them and to continue to ring what has already been accepted in the past. I can think of no better form of protest.

How can the Central Council logically say they will accept a method one time and not another? By doing so they have got to the stage of making themselves ridiculously inconsistent.

MISS G. A.

Northampton.

WESTON-IN-GORDANO PEAL

Dear Sir,—The peal of Minor in four methods rung at Weston-in-Gordano, Somerset, on September 15th, which was 'believed to be the first peal on the bells,' must now be claimed as 'the first peal of Minor on the bells.'

I find that Mr. Herbert W. Knight beat me to the first peal by a mere 45 years, having rung a peal of Grandisle Doubles on the old five (the present back five) on July 23rd, 1906.

My sincere apologies are due to Mr. Knight, and to you, sir, for trespassing on your columns.—Yours sincerely, Bath.

ROGER O. FRY.

OUTINGS

MELKSHAM, WILTSHIRE

Melksham ringers, together with wives and friends from surrounding towers, held their annual outing on September 22nd, the weather being at its best.

The first tower, Andover, was unfortunately reached half an hour late, and ringing there had to be accordingly curtailed. Having safely negotiated the wooden spiral staircase, which seemed to have no visible means of support and creaked alarmingly, the eight bells were raised in peal, a good touch of Stedman Triples was rung, and after some rounds the bells were lowered. The tower is a high one, which has a considerable movement while ringing is in progress, but the bells 'go' very well.

After a pretty run through undulating Hampshire countryside, Whitchurch was reached on time and the octave was soon set ringing. The tower is a low squat one with an oak shingled spire and the bells 'go' well although they are rather difficult to hear in the ringing chamber.

An excellent lunch at Basingstoke was kindly arranged by Mr. Gilbert, and ringing followed at St. Michael's Church. The bells were rehung and several recast in 1938 and were a joy to ring. The next tower was Alton, a fine octave hung in a low Norman central tower.

At Farnham the party was greeted with the words 'You must be an exceptional band of ringers because you're early!' The Church of St. Andrew is a very big one with a tower to match and contains a heavy ring of eight bells, restored in 1929. Tea, arranged for the party by Mr. Denyer, then followed, and afterwards came the final run to Guildford.

The ring of eight bells at Holy Trinity, Guildford, the heaviest of the day, left nothing to be desired, an unusual feature being that all the bells are rung from boxes, thus giving even the humble treble man an opportunity to demonstrate his prowess from an elevated position!

Thanks are due to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, the people who met and welcomed the party at the towers, and last, but not least, to Miss M. Kennelly for making the arrangements.

M. J. H.

BURES AND DISTRICT

Leaving Bures at an early hour on September 15th, 40 local ringers and friends toured Surrey. The party included friends from Arleigh, Mistley and Colchester.

Dorking was reached dead on time and at the tower the Rev. K. Evans was waiting to welcome the party. Upon raising the bells it was discovered that the stay of the seventh was missing, so the strong men of the party took turns to hold the bell on the balance to Rounds, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Grandsire.

At Reigate, Mr. Hoad greeted the visitors and it was very pleasant to ring these ten. After lunch at Redhill, ringing took place on the ground floor eight at Bletchingley and Godstone where young Stuart Hame called a touch of 'Stoney.' Tea was served at Westerham to be followed by a ring on the heavy eight, the titbit of the day. The evening's programme included Bromley Common and the rededicated bells that afternoon of Bromley Parish Church, where, in spite of the crowded belfry, Mr. Isaac Emery fitted all in for a pull. Bures was reached just before midnight.

Thanks are due to Mr. Leslie Mills, the Bures captain, for making the arrangements, and local ringers for their kind co-operation.

H. J. M.

The peal at Abergavenny, on September 15th, was the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal in the county of Monmouth and for the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association and not of Cambridge Surprise as printed last week.

PRESTBURY, GLOS.

Instead of a day's outing two half-day trips were held; the first was in June, when cars borrowed from friends enabled us to visit Elmore, Longney, Frampton-on-Severn, Moreton Valence, Hardwicke and Quedgley. We had an excellent tea at Moreton Valence, where birds' nests had to be moved before we were able to get the bells up. At another tower all our efforts failed to get the second to speak; investigation showed that the clapper was rigidly set in the middle of the bell when up.

The second trip was in September when a coach was hired. This time the lovely Cotswold villages of Northleach, Bibury, Coln St. Aldwin, Fairford and Watermoor were visited and all the bells came up to our expectations. Tea was at Bibury where half an hour was spent watching the trout in the Coln. Methods rung included Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent and Little Bob. A feature of the day was that at each tower a different member was in charge.

UNORTHODOX PERFORMANCES

FIFTY years ago this title could scarcely have been used, for, although the Central Council had been formed, it was some ten years before it made an attempt to bring order out of the chaos in which ringing found itself. A list of requirements for regular methods was drawn up and two of the main points were that all methods should have the bells in the same coursing order at every lead-end of the plain course and that methods in which fifths place under any bell but the treble were forbidden.

The first requirement was rather revolutionary and no doubt caused an uproar and dire forebodings. To us of later generations it seems strange that our forefathers should have tolerated almost any method so long as the lead-end produced a five lead course (in Minor). Modern conductors would look askance at a method in which each lead of the plain course had a different coursing order, but our forbears had six groups of lead-ends in Minor, only one of which, A, retained the same coursing order throughout:—

A.	B.	C.	D.	E.	F.
23456	23456	23456	23456	23456	23456
42635	52364	42563	62345	62534	52643
64523	65243	54632	56234	46325	45362
56342	46532	65324	45623	54263	64235
35264	34625	36245	34562	35642	36524

The second requirement, I imagine, met with rather less opposition due to the advocacy by that great ringer, Jasper W. Snowdon, of methods which produce extents with all the 5-6's at backstroke.

The advantages which have accrued from the first requirement are that regularity has been introduced into the field of method construction and emphasis given to the usefulness of coursing order on which all modern conductors depend to a greater or lesser degree. In fact, it might be said that the high standard of conducting to-day is owed indirectly to that decision of forty years ago.

Many of the old irregular methods were interesting to ring, and an examination of a collection of them made by the late Rev. A. T. Beeston and preserved in the Beeston

Library of the Chester Guild shows that many of our modern methods have features which were incorporated in these old friends. Many other methods were modernised by changing the place made at mid-lead, e.g. :—

Old Method.	Alteration.	New Method.	Cn. No.
Duke of York.	Thirds instead of firsts. Bob lead for plain lead.	Clarence Delight	(4D. 24)
Woodbine.	Fifths instead of firsts.	Neasden Delight	(4D. 16)
New London.	Thirds instead of firsts.	Nelson T.B.	(T.B. 9)

Those ringers who remember these old methods and are apt to feel that good and useful methods have been sacrificed on the altar of 'Bob Minor lead-ends' might consider how their favourite irregular method has been modernised in the Collection and instead of lamenting its demise try to popularise it in its new modernised form.

The names of some of the irregular methods are picturesque: Noah's Ark, Echo of Tong, Yorkshire Glory, Navigation Delight, Tanner's Pleasure, Queen Bess, Red Rose, Steeple Delight, Symphony, Tinker's Delight, etc. There is even one with a topical note, King's Recovery. These names would not now be approved by the Exercise, but many a pleasant half-hour can be spent in speculating how the methods received such singular names.

To the ringers of unorthodox methods we would suggest a study of the Collection of Minor Methods and the Four Way Table. They will be surprised to find how easy some of the modernised methods are to ring and delighted to find that thirteen are based upon our old friend Woodbine, whose inclusion in a peal has led to the writing of this article.

Warning should be given that the Collection contains two irregular methods, Reverse Canterbury Pleasure and Reverse College.

Although the major portion of this article has been devoted to Minor, it must be remembered that a similar state of affairs existed in Major, etc., but irregular methods did not have such a vogue on the higher numbers except perhaps Canterbury Pleasure. The development of Major ringing has occurred in the last thirty years.

The Council has no desire to dictate to the ringers what they should ring, but it is felt that it is illogical for it to admit performances to its records which do not conform with its decisions. How such unorthodox performances should be recorded in 'The Ringing World' is a matter for the Editorial Committee to decide. C. K. L.

The Official Journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

EDITORIAL OFFICE: c/o Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Six months, 11s. 8d.; three months, 6s. Send remittances to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

PRESIDENT: E. H. LEWIS, M.A.

HON. SECRETARY AND TREASURER: G. W. FLETCHER, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:—

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD (convener), 122, Lee Road, Blackheath, London, S.E.3.

FRANK I. HAIRS.

JOSEPH T. DYKE.

HAROLD J. POOLE.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

'My patience is exhausted,' said a well-known statesman on a memorable occasion. Ours is not exhausted but economic necessity prevents us from sending 'Ringing Worlds' to the postal subscribers who have not forwarded their quarterly subscriptions (6s.) to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent. Last week we had 12 new postal subscribers. Why not help the 'Ringing World' by joining them?

Ringing took place last Saturday at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, in connection with the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths' annual dinner. It is interesting to recall that 19 years ago that Saturday on these bells, Mrs. G. H. Cross, the wife of the Master, rang her first peal of Stedman Cinques on these bells. Those present at the dinner included two others who stood in the peal—Mr. G. H. Cross, the conductor, and Dr. E. L. Taylor, who joined the Cumberlands in 1902.

Mr. R. H. McDonald, at one time captain of St. Mary's Basilica Society, Sydney, who has recently turned 95, still enjoys a touch of Triples on handbells.

The famous Spliced Surprise handbell band from Bushey hope to demonstrate their skill at the social evening at Hillingdon to-morrow (Saturday).

Mr. H. Miles writes re the touch of Stedman Triples on page 656 that the six opposite the word Whittington's should be plain, not bobbed as printed.

The New South Wales Association of Change Ringers are asking, through 'Ringing Towers,' other ringers in Australia their opinion of forming a federation of Change Ringers in Australia.

Mr. Patrick I. Chapman informs us that the weight of St. Neots tenor is 29 cwt, 2 qr, 14 lb. in D. This was not the tower visited by the Society of Rambling Ringers; the six-bell tower with a 14 cwt. tenor was Eynesbury, Hunts, a tower situated within a stone's throw of the magnificent tower and bells of St. Neots. Mr. John W. Blythe adds a correction to his letter last week stating that St. Neots tenor is 30 cwt. in D. and not 20 cwt. as printed. 'I expect it was due to my bad writing,' he adds.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Good progress with Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples, is the welcome news to hand this week from St. Mary's, Woodstock, Cape Town, where Mr. C. R. H. Stickley has joined the band. Two quarter peals are recorded this week. Unfortunately a peal attempt on September 29th came to grief owing to the fifth rope coming off the wheel after 80 minutes' ringing. A word of praise is due to Mr. J. Wood, who has kept ringing alive here for 40 years. Unfortunately he was on sick leave when the two quarter peals were rung. Woodstock is the only tower in South Africa where change ringing is exercised twice on a Sunday and also on Tuesday evenings.

Mr. Eric Naylor, of Rainham, Kent, has rung a peal in 25 different towers this year.

Mr. Harry Dobell rang his first quarter peal for 18 years at Marden, Kent, on October 5th.

Mr. W. Cope, at one time secretary of the Guildford District, has returned to this country after seven years in Australia. A welcome-home quarter peal, in which he participated, was rung at St. Mary's Church, Lichfield, on October 7th. Mr. Cope is to make his home at Bath.

In the first peal on the augmented ten of St. Peter's R.C. Cathedral, Lancaster, on October 7th, were three brothers, all first-pealers. Also a father and son and an uncle and nephew, all of them regular Sunday service ringers at the Cathedral.

Eighty-three year old Mr. Herbert Rowley had a birthday compliment paid him by a peal on Horbury (near Wakefield) bells. For 63 years he has been a regular ringer at this tower where he does almost all the conducting. He is a veteran of the last century, having rung his first peal—one of Minor in seven methods—on January 7th, 1894. His last peal was rung on September 13th, 1932.

Winterton, the Rev. T. C. Kerne (who is temporarily attached to St. Martin's before returning to Australia) and Mr. J. Frank Smallwood (Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths).

The company present included Dr. E. L. Taylor, Dr. S. Poole, Dr. W. Leese, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deal, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bevan, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ling, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Page, Mr. and Mrs. H. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lathbury, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hawthorne, Mr. and Mrs. M. Halsey, Mr. and Mrs. R. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. B. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hill, Mesdames J. D. Matthews, E. E. Davis, Kitchen, Colgate and A. Diserens.

The Misses M. F. Jackson, J. Smales, L. Porter, M. Barker, H. Harley, M. Salt, N. Shorter, P. Kitchen, Steel, D. Colgate, M. Prosser, J. Green, K. Reade, E. Watson, M. Skeetan, P. Steere and Golding.

Messrs. F. J. Matthews, R. Glover, H. Sandon, H. Paul, J. Hawkins, J. Millhouse, T. Clarke, A. Mason, C. Hughes, P. N. Bond, J. A. C. King, H. D. Buckingham, R. Currie, V. S. Harrington, F. W. Vernon, J. W. Raithby, R. J. Clarke, L. H. Bywater, R. Newman, N. J. Diserens, F. and E. W. Russell, D. Layton, G. F. Carter, A. Sinfield, C. H. Harding, R. Sharpe, A. E. Chilton, W. S. Chandler, E. C. Thrale, E. Palmer, A. Patten, J. Hill and T. W. White.

DUTY TO THE CHURCH

After the Master had proposed the loyal toast, Mr. W. R. Winterton, F.R.C.S., submitted 'The Church.' As ringers, they were dependent, he said, on the Church and the goodwill of the Church to provide them with their bells. Years ago the Church was a wealthy concern: things were different to-day and he admired the way the Church succeeded in providing new rings, rehanging bells and augmenting rings from six to eight. It was, therefore, up to them to see that the bells were rung regularly Sunday by Sunday and ringing not confined to wandering bands of peal ringers. In welcoming the Rev. Meredith Davies, Dr. Winterton said Mr. Davies' first job was as a curate to his father-in-law.

The Rev. Meredith Davies gave a witty reply interspersed with anecdotes associated with his long life as a prison chaplain. He admitted his interest in bell-ringing and said when he was a chaplain at Wakefield Prison, the Governor had the idea of having a party of handbell ringers early on Christmas morning. As they played 'Christians Awake,' there were cries from the cells, 'I am not a Christian and I don't want to be awakened.' (Laughter.)

He was so pleased that the Society was taking an interest in Shoreditch Church. It was a tough job and the narsen needed all the help he could get from the laity.

The Rev. T. C. Kerne also responded and said for 15 years he used to ring at Marborough, Queensland, where they had nine bells with a tenor weighing 21 cwt. It was the only ring in Queensland. There were bells at Brisbane but they were waiting for the western tower of the Cathedral to be built.

There was one thing that struck him very forcibly in England. It was that either the laity were afraid of the clergy or the clergy of the laity. He suggested that they form a friendship league with their clergy.

The toast of 'The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths' was given by Mr. F. E. Hawthorne who said he did not propose to go back to the distant past but to speak about things in living memory of most of those present and of the future. Many of the older members would remember Mr. Harry Dains, who died in 1916, and was a composer of some note. He did much to carry the Society along the path it had gone. They had another industrious Master in Mr. J. D. Matthews, who came along at a period when the Society was at rather a low ebb. It was largely due to his forethought and help—he was Master from 1912 to 1933—that the Society matured to what it was to-day. Then came their present Master—Mr. George Cross—who was a Master in whom they could all be proud.

LIKE HIS GRANDFATHER

The future of the Society was in the hands of the younger members and it was a pleasure to see so many of them present that night. A great deal of organising of that dinner was the work of one of their younger members (Mr. F. J. Matthews). He was, indeed, following in the steps of his grandfather, in putting the best of his spare time at the disposal of the Society.

Replying, the Master congratulated Mr. Frank Matthews on the excellent arrangements for the dinner and said he was sure his grandmother must be very proud of him. Since the beginning of the year the Society had rung peals of Cambridge Major, Bob Major, Yorkshire Reval, Yorkshire Major, Double Norwich, Bristol and Stedman Triples. Two of these had been farewell peals to Leonard Baybutt and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gray.

Meetings had been held at Reading, Guildford and Barnet. The meeting at Reading was first class but at Guildford they did not have many people. Since the last dinner they had suffered losses by death of George Steere, George Radley, Charles Tyler, William Dye, Harry Kilby and Harry Warnett. Charles Tyler had a great work at Henfield raising a band to ring Surprise. An enterprising band from London, however, rang the first peal of Superlative on the bells, the first Surprise peal on the bells, which caused the band to lose interest.

He would like to refer to non-conducted peals, especially those rung in Leicestershire. He had always understood that a non-conducted peal was a silent peal. In these Leicestershire peals everybody was allowed to say something except 'Bob.' This was not his interpretation of a non-conducted peal and he thought the matter should be brought up at the Central Council meeting. In his opinion a non-conducted peal should be a silent peal.

TRANSPPOSITIONS DURING PEAL

The leading article of 'The Ringing World' of the week before stated that 'the art of transposition is becoming widely understood and practised. The result is that many conductors are now able to pick up trips that a few years ago would have meant the breakdown of the peal.' He hoped that such peals would not be published in 'The Ringing World.' The space could be better used by publishing articles of value to the Exercise.

Mr. F. J. Matthews, who proposed 'Visitors and Kindred Societies,' confessed that this was his first after-dinner speech. They welcomed visitors to their ringing at St. Martin's and Shoreditch that day. They were particularly pleased to have with them Mr. Raithby, of Newark. The Vicar of St. Martin's came from there and he was afraid Newark people always thought they had 'pinched' him. They were also pleased to have with them Miss Steel, who had been a member of the Society since 1912. They also accorded a very warm welcome to their friends of the College Youths because whether they were Cumberlands of College Youths they were all ringers and were 'pulling together' towards the unity of the Exercise. In coupling the name of Mr. F. J. Smallwood, the Master of the College Youths, with the toast, Mr. Matthews recalled that he rang a handbell peal with his grandfather at Leamington.

Mr. Smallwood, in response, congratulated Mr. Matthews on his great promise as an after-dinner speaker. As he was speaking, his mind went back over 40 years and he could see his grandfather standing there. He had the same colour of hair and the same features. He well remembered ringing handbells with Jack Matthews and what an enthusiast he was!

On behalf of the visitors he thanked them for their kind hospitality and especially on behalf of the College Youths. Years ago the rivalry between the two Metropolitan Societies was very great and very acute and it was rivalry to almost jealousy and hatred. Then it became friendly rivalry and now it was real friendship. He had rung peals with their Master for the Kent County Association.

He would like to say how pleased he was that Shoreditch bells were now available, and it was a pleasure for him to ring on them that afternoon—the only ring of twelve in London he had not rung on. He hoped that with more use they would 'go' better and that steps would be taken to make them a little less noisy in the street below.

The concluding toast of 'The Press' was given by Mr. C. J. Matthews, who recalled that the peal attempt on the first Saturday in May was stopped after ten minutes by the Vicar because it was feared that the bells might drown the speeches at the May Day demonstration in Trafalgar Square. One of the papers reported the incident as the bells of St. Martin's giving the demonstration a ten minutes' welcome. He wished 'The Ringing World' every success in its effort to get 1,000 new subscribers.

'RINGING WORLD' BATTLE AGAINST COSTS

Mr. T. W. White, in reply, referred to the circumstances that led up to the present campaign for obtaining another 1,000 postal subscribers. Last year the accounts of the 'Ringing World' just balanced. The new Editorial Committee, led by Mr. J. Frank Smallwood, were determined, if at all possible, to keep 'The Ringing World' at fourpence. When they assumed office they found that the journal was being run at a loss of approximately £5 a week, due to the increased cost of paper, and there was a wage increase also to be met. All items of expenditure were examined with a tooth comb and a saving of £3 a week effected on the editorial side. Sources of revenue were examined in relation to cost. The cost of paper alone in a half-page advertisement in 'The Ringing World' was now 18s. 6d. an issue, and the advantage to the production accruing from advertisements of this character was microscopic. The committee had succeeded in convincing advertisers that a higher price was inevitable. Troubles of cost did not end there. From the issue of November 22nd, paper costs would increase by another £5 a week. The only way this could be met was by more postal subscribers. From a postal subscriber's copy 'The Ringing World' received 34d. net towards its cost of production and from a copy purchased from a newsagent, 2d. It was this difference of 14d. which was absolutely vital and 1,000 more 14d. would give them the additional £7 a week to meet their charges and enable the journal to remain solvent. He asked all present to do their utmost to enable the campaign to succeed. In the meantime the committee were very grateful to those who had sent donations and made contributions towards the publication of

MIDDLESEX MEETS MIDLANDS

A very happy and successful week-end was spent by Miss E. K. Fulton, Messrs. A. W. Coles and H. G. Hart of the Middlesex County Association on their visit to the Midlands. Last summer J. W. Cotton and friends visited Harrow Weald and Pinner, ringing two good peals.

This return visit was arranged by their very able secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton. The trio travelled to Ashby-de-la-Zouch on Friday evening to be ready for a full day on Saturday. It was arranged that a 9 a.m. start should be made from Ashby for a peal at Loughborough Bell Foundry. Unfortunately a thick mist had developed overnight making driving difficult. However, a start was made from Ashby at 9.15 and on the way we were able to do our good deed for the day by giving a lift to a wedding party whose car had overturned in the ditch.

On arrival at the foundry we found that three of the band expected had not yet arrived and so an interesting half-hour was spent looking round Messrs. John Taylor's Foundry. Just in time, the three latecomers, E. Morris, W. P. Whitehead and J. W. F. Trotman (held up by the thick mist), arrived and a good peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major resulted.

After a well-earned and much-enjoyed lunch the band split up—the visitors, together with Mr. J. W. Cotton and Mr. S. H. Jones made their way to Rolleston-on-Dove, where the Midland Counties Guild monthly meeting was being held. The journey back to Ashby was broken by a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cotton and family, where a very pleasant evening was spent.

However, Sunday morning found us again at Overseal—this time in the tower—and a good quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for Harvest Festival, conducted by Mr. A. W. Coles. Thanks are accorded to all those who made this visit possible. H. G. H.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

Branch Meetings

The Penzance Branch autumn meeting was held at Paul on September 29th and was attended by about 50 members including Miss Eileen Symons, president of the Guild, and branch chairman, Lt.-Col. C. F. Jerram, C.M.G., D.S.O., a Past Master, and the Rev. H. H. Dixon (Manaccan). Paul bells are a fine six (tenor 14½ cwt.), and were dedicated last year. The Vicar, the Rev. W. V. Wagner, conducted the service and welcomed the members by expressing his pleasure that a meeting had been arranged there so soon after the installation of the bells.

At the business meeting Miss Symons was again elected chairman, the Rev. A. S. Roberts branch secretary, and Mr. W. Wood (Gulval) auditor. It was agreed to hold the spring meeting at Crowan, with Mawgan-in-Meneage as an alternative.

The South East Cornwall Branch gathering was held the same day some 70 miles distant from Paul at Menheniot, where the Vicar, the Rev. E. M. Thomas, has awakened interest in the Guild and affiliated his tower. The Vicar this year rang his first peal, and has become one of the latest members of the Clerical Guild. Mr. H. J. Clark is the secretary of this branch and had the support of Mr. W. H. Southeast (Master of the Guild) and the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella (secretary) as well as some 60 members, which was a most encouraging number for this part of Cornwall.

peals and quarter peals. It was a very real help in bridging the gap until the price of paper decreased.

A feature of the evening was the musical programme, especially the singing of the special choir of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. Miss Doreen Drake sang two soprano solos and there were two handbell touches—Stedman Caters and Plain Bob Major.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

The Editorial Committee acknowledge the following contributions to meet the added cost of production of 'The Ringing World':—

£1.—Mr. H. D. Buckingham, Winchester; Anon., Lyme Regis.

8s.—Peal and Quarter Peal Donation, Holloway, London.

4s.—Anthony Owen.

3s. 7d.—A. Davis, Hereford.

3s.—Peal Donation, Bedwellty, Mon.

2s. 6d.—Quarter Peal Donation, Fylingdales, Yorks.

2s.—W. Butler, Windsor; Miss R. Buchthal, London; Peal Donation, Bath.

1s. 6d.—R. H. Stickley, Africa.

1s. 5d.—A. C. Dobbs, Aylesbury.

1s.—Quarter Peal Donation, Sutton Courtenay, Bucks.

OLD BEDFORDIANS' PROPOSED PEAL ATTEMPT

Dear Sir,—On behalf of two other Old Bedfordians, I would like to announce that we propose to attempt a tower-bell peal early next year in the vicinity of Bedford, providing that a band composed of past and present members of Bedford School can be found. The peal would be rung in connection with the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the granting of a charter to the school.

I should be very glad to hear from any Old Bedfordians who are ringers, especially those willing to take part in this peal.—Yours sincerely,

J. MICHAEL STEPHENS (1940-45).

24, Durler Avenue, Bedford.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Canterbury District

As usual, the Canterbury District turned up in force for the annual meeting at Canterbury recently. An attendance of 130 was recorded representing 23 towers in the District. Seven other towers of the Association were also represented, visitors including Mr. J. Willis, a trustee, and Mr. B. May, hon. secretary of the Rochester District.

Ringing was held during the afternoon and the service took place at St. Stephen's, this being conducted by the Rector, the Rev. A. R. Barnes. A pleasing feature of the service was the singing, which was led by St. Stephen's choir, who at all times are good, but this time they seemed to surpass themselves. The beauty of the recessional to the metrical version of Psalm 23 to the tune 'Crimond,' was most impressive. Mrs. D. Ratcliffe was the organist and a collection taken for the Benevolent Fund realised £2 5s. 4d.

Tea, taken buffet style in the Parish Room, being disposed of, the annual business meeting was proceeded with. The report showed a small decrease in membership, this being due to subscriptions not yet paid. An increase in hon. members was reported, the total at that date being 44, an increase of six over previous figures. Meetings had been well attended.

The chairman, Mr. J. A. Russell, Birchington, was re-elected by nomination, as was also the secretary, Mr. B. J. Luck; by ballot, Mr. H. R. French and Mr. S. Walter were chosen from four candidates as district representatives on the Central Committee, and Mr. R. G. French was re-elected Ringing Master.

Chilham was voted as the place of the next meeting, and notice was given of the District's social to be held on December 8th.

1,000 More Readers Wanted!

The Editorial Committee invite the help of all who have the welfare of 'The Ringing World' at heart to obtain at least another thousand Postal subscribers.

If the costs of the production of the paper could be spread over this increased number of readers it might be possible to avoid an increase in the price of the paper.

Every possible economy is being made, and advertisers are paying more for their space, but the recent increase in the cost of paper (£27/10/0 per ton) puts an additional strain on our resources.

Here is a chance for every ringer who wishes to help to do something practical. Talk about the paper at your meetings, and help us to rope in at least another 1,000 Postal subscribers. It can be done with your help. What about making a present of a quarterly, half-yearly or yearly subscription to someone whom you know does not take 'The Ringing World'? Fill in the form below and send to J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

To the Editorial Committee, 'The Ringing World.'

A PEAL TOUR OF DEVON AND CORNWALL

Twenty-One Surprise Peals In a Week

THE West Country has always appealed to touring parties, both to motorists and ringers. This year 19 ringers met to enjoy both these pleasures amidst some of England's finest scenery. It had been intended to spend most of the week in Devon with a couple of days in Cornwall but as accommodation for such a large party was difficult to obtain most of the week was spent in Cornwall, and as only one or two of the tourists had visited Cornwall before, the situation was accepted with pleasure.

We assembled overnight on Friday, August 24th, ten spending the night very comfortably at Cullompton and the other eight at Wiveliscombe. The latter party scored a good peal of London the following day at Milverton, the only peal to be attempted in Somerset on this tour, and after enjoying their ringing at this tower, were entertained to lunch by Mr. Claude Tarr at his home. This kind gesture was much appreciated.

The Cullompton party found no difficulty in settling down to Cambridge Royal at St. Andrew's Church and a very good peal was scored on this pleasant light ring of ten—a mixed lot—but beautifully 'Taylorised.' After lunch it rained heavily but not enough to damp the spirits of those who were to ring at Tiverton—one of the prides of Devon. Here Bristol was scored without incident but one or two of the band thought the ringing was a little too fast for such a grand ring. These bells are probably heard to greater advantage outside. Uffculme also possesses a fine ring of eight, and here the other party enjoyed a good peal of London. It might be recorded at this point to friends of the conductor that the composition rung was the last 5,024 in the little red book. After a very enjoyable and successful day we all met at the Rougemont Hotel, Exeter, in time for dinner and light refreshments.

TO MANCHESTER IN AN HOUR

On Sunday morning we again made up two parties for service ringing at Heavitree and Broadclyst. Only seven turned up at Broadclyst, the absentee being the writer, who found himself a new occupation that morning—that of assisting Mr. Fred Dunkerley to push his plane out of a hanger at Exeter Airfield. We said 'Cheerio' to Fred here for about 36 hours whilst he flew to Manchester in just over the hour to return by road the following day. The afternoon peal attempts were at Exminster and Littleham but it is sad to say that the former party literally threw away a peal of London after about two hours' very nice ringing and on an equally nice ring of bells. This loss was put down to 'just one of Charlie Duke's lapses.' The Littleham party scored a very fast peal of Bristol on a light eight but only after a false start and only just ran round in time for the evening service. Four members of the party, not having had enough, rang a peal of Bob Major 'in hand' later in the evening.

Monday proved a successful and eventful day for four peals were attempted, and all successfully, after which the long journey over Dartmoor in semi-darkness had to be done in order to reach our headquarters at Bodmin, where we were to remain for the remainder of the week. The morning peals were rung at Bovey Tracey and Chudleigh, only about four miles apart and this gave the writer the pleasure of listening to parts of both peals. At Chudleigh, the Vicar, the Rev. H. L. Stevens, walked into the belfry about 20 minutes from the end of the peal and calmly timed the number of changes per minute. Mr. Aubrey Bennett, who had done so much to assist us in arranging the Devon ringing, met us here and stopped for lunch.

Afternoon ringing was very much enjoyed on the modern Taylor eight at Wollborough, rung from a gallery very much like the belfries so common to Suffolk towers. In spite of the lady cleaner banging her broom against the pews, causing some very loud bangs from time to time, we succeeded in scoring a decent peal of Superlative. There was no one to meet the party that went to Buckleigh-in-the-Moor, but everything was in readiness and Rutland came home nicely with the same 'back end' that rang at Chudleigh in the morning. After a really good 'tuck in' at the Golden Lion at Ashburton, the Prefect and the old Morris eight tackled the hills and bends of Dartmoor and both arrived at Bodmin before midnight. We were all pleased to see Fred Dunkerley arrive at Bodmin shortly after our arrival, he having motored down from Rochdale in under nine hours.

DISAPPOINTMENT AT PLYMOUTH

Tuesday was to have been the big day of the week but unfortunately after scoring a peal of Pudsey at the delightful old Cathedral Church at St. German's, Yorkshire Royal was lost at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, after 20 minutes, owing to the clapper of the eighth breaking. This was a great disappointment to us all as we had established a very nice beat before going off into changes and the first course had been rung without any scratching about, and our tenor man (all 18 stone of him) had really 'gone to town' on this job. We were very pleased to meet Mr. Tom Myers here and are indebted to him in obtaining permission for us to ring on that fine eight at Emmanuel Church at very short notice. Our 'second team' also had their misfortunes this day for they lost a peal at Lanhydrock after about an hour. This church is set in a park amidst beautiful surroundings and the party were pointed out items of interest by the Vicar, who kindly took them through the gallery at the mansion. After lunch this band made no mistake at Bodmin, scoring a peal of Lincolnshire.

Although most of us kept rather late hours each night we were all of us up very early on Wednesday morning for the journey to Penzance, one band going to Gulval and the other to Madron. A peal of Bristol was scored at Gulval but only at a third attempt and a change of conductor, with the result that our friend 'Charlie Dukes' very nearly had his quart pot taken from him. At Madron we are happy to say that it was a very different story, for a very nice peal was tapped out on the recently-augmented ring of eight, and a very delightful ring of eight, too. Both parties lunched together in Penzance before setting off for St. Columb. At St. Columb Minor the Yorkshiresmen plus H. O. B. rang a peal of Dublin on the very light eight with an exceptionally long draught of rope, whilst those at St. Columb Major scored London on that beautiful ring of eight—another of the many fine examples of Taylors' work that has been carried out in this county. We were told here that one of the local ringers had passed his 92nd birthday and was still ringing on Sundays.

THURSDAY THE DARK DAY

Thursday proved as usual on these tours, the dark day of the week. The strain of two peals a day was beginning to tell its tale and the writer suggests that in future we should leave Thursday afternoon free for sight-seeing rather than try to ring a peal feeling very jaded. The 'first team,' however, managed to bring a peal of Eastcote round, but not without incident, at the delightful Church of St. Denys situated high up on the top of a hill, but the second string lost Pitman's four spliced at Lanivet after an hour owing to a miscall, but at least we had the satisfaction of being congratulated by one of the local ringers. We were very sorry to lose this peal as it had gone so well.

We all lunched together in Bodmin before setting out, as usual, in two parties, one to St. Austell and the other to St. Stephen. Owing to the very long draught of rope at St. Austell, it was decided to go for Cambridge and this went very well indeed for over three hours when unfortunately one ringer took ill and had to give up. The writer had the pleasure of listening to most of this attempt and thought these bells to be one of the finest rings for the weight in the country—quite up to Heptonstall standard! What a great pity they are rung from the ground floor. It would be a much more comfortable job ringing from the floor above. To make the black Thursday more complete an attempt for Wembley came to grief on the pleasant ring of eight at St. Stephen. Even some of those who only last year 'rang the clock round,' were feeling a little under the weather by now.

As our 'first team' were to attempt twelve spliced at Kenwyn on Friday morning and the remainder had the prospect of some good ringing at Probus, all were in bed before midnight and the extra sleep certainly did us a power of good, for the twelve spliced, after one false start, was tapped off in good style, to which one impartial critic said he had not heard such good Major ringing for many years. Of course, he would have said the same about the ringing at Probus had he heard it, and we were all delighted with the tone and 'go' of these beautiful bells—an old, heavy six with two Taylor trebles added recently. A magnificent tower, perhaps the finest in Cornwall, and the ringing chamber directly below the bells with, of course, a soundproof floor. But what tail-ends to the ropes! We had become used to the normal Cornish tail-end which consists of one small loop which will allow you to ring any bell sitting down but one or two at Probus hadn't even a loop, and George Fearn, much to his sorrow, rang the seventh on a single rope without even a knot in it to help. However, we enjoyed our visit to Probus.

We all met for lunch in Truro and then split up again, one party to St. Enoder and the other party to Kea where, unfortunately, Yorkshire was lost after some indifferent ringing. Mr. Bernard Ditcher, of Yorkshire, who was staying a few days in the district, was in this attempt, and also Mr. A. S. Roberts, and for their benefit the tourists would have liked to have done better. Cambridge was rattled off at St. Enoder in double quick time with John Bibby making one of his few appearances on the tenor just to show how very overrated this tenor ringing really is. This ring of eight at St. Enoder is quite good except for perhaps the sixth and seventh, which sound like old bells with modern ones all round them, showing them up to some disadvantage. What a pity to spoil a nice peal like that. This peal had its incidents. One of the lady cleaners thought that the bellringers might amuse her baby so she brought the pram round to the belfry gates but alas, when we started ringing the child just screamed: so much so, nothing much was heard of the first two courses. The child now having been taken away, we got down to business and scored easily the fastest peal of the week, and our tenor man stood drinks all round afterwards, having 'completed the circle' during the week.

We all met at Truro in the evening for an hour's ringing at the Cathedral which was enjoyed by all; more especially by those who went outside to listen to this really glorious ten. Owing to a very long draught of rope these bells are scarcely audible inside the belfry but outside they are truly magnificent and surely must rank as one of the finest tens anywhere. We were pleased to have the company of Mr. Walter Ayre on this occasion and he joined in with us in courses of Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal. Mr. Paul Taylor, holidaying with his family in Cornwall, popped into our hotel and spent an hour or so with us.

We paid our hotel bills on Friday night (one member just made it) and were on the road early on Saturday morning. Three car loads travelled right through to Exeter for a peal on the majestic ring of eight at Heavitree and the other two set off for Buckfastleigh, where the start was delayed some two hours owing to weddings. We are sorry to say that we did not do justice to the lovely ring of eight and it can be safely said that it was purely a conductor's peal. 'Charlie' rang the tenor and he, too, 'completed the circle' during the week. Bristol, at Heavitree, went off very well—just the method for those bells—and all concerned were very pleased. We could hardly leave Devon without having a ring on the heavy twelve at Exeter. By this time we were reduced in numbers but we managed half a course of Cambridge Royal, three leads of Treble Twelve and a course of Stedman Cinques before dropping the minor ten in peal. These bells are certainly worth looking at.

And so ended our fifth tour since the war with, of course, some happy memories. Our thanks to all who helped us, mentioning particularly the Rev. A. S. Roberts, who arranged all the Cornish towers, and Mr. Aubrey Bennett, for the Devon arrangements, and we would particularly like to thank our very good friend Fred Dunkerley, who kindly put two cars on the road for our use. One car clocked over 1,400 miles and no doubt the other four cars did similar mileage.

It is hoped to tour Oxfordshire and its adjoining counties next year.

40 YEARS AGO

Extract from 'The Ringing World' dated October 20th, 1911
'ODD CHANGES'

A preacher at a recent ringers' service described Great Paul as weighing 37,000 tons. It would require several William Pyes to ring a tenor of this weight.

We have had the most remarkable summer on record this year, so far as weather is concerned. But it has its drawbacks, even from the ringer's point of view. In many a tower it has played havoc with the bell frames, and we have heard of several where the bell-hanger will be required before the bells are again comfortably pealable.

It is always a pleasure to see fresh bands swelling the ranks of those who reach the top of the ladder by ringing London Surprise; it is additionally pleasing when the ringers are all members of a local company. This week we record the first peal in the method by the Kettering band. We are expecting to see another company following close upon their heels with a local peal of London—the St. Andrew's Society, Rugby.

A clerical peal of Stedman Cinques is to be attempted next Wednesday morning, when 12 clergy will meet at High Wycombe for the purpose. Success to the band.

[Unfortunately, success was not forthcoming.]

10,368 LONDON SURPRISE MAJOR

A peal of 10,368 London Surprise Major was rung at the Bell Foundry Campanile, Loughborough, on October 6th, in 5 hours and 26 minutes. It was conducted by Mr. F. W. Grocott. For details, see next week's issue.

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

Successful Meeting at Rolleston

A most enjoyable meeting of the Midland Counties Guild was held at Rolleston-on-Dove on October 6th. Rolleston, former home of the Mosley family, is always a popular venue for a meeting and again lived up to its reputation. Upwards of 40 members and friends from 17 towers were present. A welcome visitor was Mr. A. W. Coles, vice-president of the Middlesex County Association.

Towers represented were Burton (St. Modwen's and St. Paul's), Ashby, Measham, Repton, Ticknall, Seales, Lullington, Newchurch, Duffield, Derby, Rolleston, Kingsbury, Cheadle, Harrow Weald and North Myms.

Ringing continued until tea time when the members were entertained in the Church Hall to another 'Rolleston Special.' At the conclusion of tea the Guild's chairman (Mr. W. H. Curson) announced an apology from the Rector (the Rev. F. Abbott) who was unavoidably absent, and extended a very warm welcome to the distinguished visitors from Middlesex. On behalf of all present he cordially thanked the Rolleston members for entertaining the members to tea.

The next meeting will be held at Ticknall on November 10th. A collection taken on behalf of the Guild's Bell Repair Fund amounted to £1 6s. 9d.

A return was made to the tower and further ringing enjoyed until 7.15 p.m.

Many young members were again present and these were looked after by Mr. S. H. Jones, Ringing Master. Methods were practised going as far as Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise Major.

SOCIETY FOR ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD

First Visit to Rugeley

Rugeley, pleasantly situated on the North East edge of Cannock Chase, was the venue for the autumn meeting of the Society on October 6th. It was a lovely early October day and as one approached Rugeley the views over the Chase were enhanced by the autumn sunshine. Rugeley retains its country town atmosphere and the Church of St. Augustine stands in an attractive setting on the outskirts of the town.

Early arrivals at the meeting had the opportunity of seeing a fashionable wedding which was taking place at St. Augustine's, and at the same time listening to the performance of the local band as it rang at the conclusion of the ceremony. The critical audience of visiting ringers gave the locals full credit for some good ringing. The wedding over, Mr. George Oliver, Ringing Master, took charge of the ringing which continued until the time for service and then again in the evening. The wedding party must have imagined that the ringers were giving the bride and bridegroom an extra special send-off.

The service was conducted by the Rev. C. K. Thacker, and it was very nice to have the choir boys leading the singing. Mrs. J. H. Joyner was organist. As the Harvest Festival was taking place the following day, the interior of the church was beautifully decorated with a wealth of autumn flowers.

Tea was served in the Old Grammar School and the 51 who sat down enjoyed the good fare provided. It was mentioned that this was the first occasion in living memory that the members of the Society had visited Rugeley, and the wish was expressed by all present that it would not be too long before a return visit took place. Mr. Fred Bennett, lay secretary, thanked Mr. J. M. Joyner, of Rugeley, for the assistance he had given in helping to make the meeting so enjoyable.

The next meeting of the Society will be at St. Matthew's, Walsall, on January 26th.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Dorchester Branch

Over 40 ringers and friends attended the Dorchester Branch quarterly meeting at St. George's, Fordington, on September 9th, this being the first Guild meeting since the rehanging of the six bells by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who have certainly lived up to their reputation.

The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. O. A. Jessop, who, after welcoming the ringers, gave an interesting address on what the spires and towers of England should mean to them. Churches, usually the most conspicuous buildings, should serve to remind them that God was still in their lives, and the sound of the bells from those spires and towers ought to bring home the necessity of coming to the church to join in worship and praise to Him.

Tea was served at the Moule Institute by the ladies connected with the church, and was much appreciated.

The business meeting followed the chair being taken by the Rev. G. L. O. Jessop, but upon the arrival of the branch chairman, Canon A. W. Markby, Mr. Jessop vacated the chair in his favour.

Following the adoption of the minutes of the last meeting, the hon. secretary, Mr. J. H. Hayne, said he was sorry to inform the meeting that one of the younger members of the branch Mr. A. (Tony) Tyers, was in hospital with a broken leg. Canon Markby promised to convey to Mr. Tyers the best wishes of the branch.

Seven new members were elected as follows: Miss Beryl Whalley (11), Fordington. Messrs. G. Boulwood, S. R. Shelton, G. Reiss, M. Adams, P. Millward and C. P. Bengtsson (St. Peter's, Dorchester).

The secretary was instructed to enquire if it was possible to hold a by-meeting at Cattistock early in November, and also to endeavour to make arrangements for a branch practice at Maiden Newton.

The chairman, who had just returned from Salisbury, where he had attended the memorial service to the late Bishop Lovett, gave a brief résumé of the life and work of their late patron, and the assistant hon. secretary, Mr. R. H. Duke, mentioned that the bells of St. Peter's, Dorchester and of Piddlehinton were rung half-muffled to the Bishop's memory.

Mr. E. T. P. Field said that the ringing at Piddlehinton included the 'whole pull and stand' 82 times, corresponding to the age of the Bishop.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Jessop and all who had helped to make the meeting such a success was proposed by Mr. Hayne and carried unanimously with acclamation.

The ringers then returned to St. George's tower and St. Peter's eight bells being available, ringing was carried on until nine o'clock.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR BELLRINGERS

Many teams of bellringers are insured under the special policies issued by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., 11, Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C.2. Particulars will be supplied on application. Those with old policies are recommended to consider increasing the scale of benefits provided.

The Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., was founded in 1887 to conserve for the Church of England profits arising from Church insurances. The Office undertakes all kinds of parochial insurance.

DEVON RINGERS IN SOMERSET

Ringers from Sidmouth, Woodbury, Broadclyst, Littleham, Exeter, Ottery St. Mary and Honiton had a half-day trip into Somerset on September 29th.

On crossing the border we were met by Mrs. Powell and the convoy of cars proceeded to Ditchat, where the fine ring of eight was rung to Grandshire, Stedman, Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob. Saying 'Cheerio' to Mr. Lintern, we arrived at Evercreech, where several good touches of Grandshire Caters were brought home. Stedman Caters was not very successful. Mr. Sanger joined us in one of the touches, also one of the 12-year-old ringers, the latter handling his bell very well, especially in the lowering of the ten.

The spacious belfry of South Petherton was next on the list, and here good touches in various methods were rung on this heavy eight. Shepton Beauchamp, the last tower, was arrived at in the dark and ringing on this pleasant eight was much enjoyed.

Torrential rain had made the roads like rivers and we thought ourselves fortunate to drive out of the village. The water was rushing down the roads, several inches deep. All arrived home safely with the exception of one car which ran into a flooded patch, with unpleasant results, near Ilminster. The engine refused to oblige. Fortunately we managed to secure a tow into Honiton, where Mr. Owen Griffin was 'knocked up' at 12.15 a.m. He kindly towed us to within three miles of home, when the car started and we arrived at 1.30 a.m.

Our thanks are due to the incumbents for the use of the bells and to the tower masters who opened the towers for our pleasure.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH*Winchester District

In a welcome change of sunshine members and friends assembled at Ropley on October 6th for the third quarterly meeting of the year. These light and easy-going bells were soon being rung to a variety of standard and not-so-standard methods until the service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. P. Were.

Tea in the Vicarage was kindly provided by Miss D. Were. At the meeting the chairman welcomed the several visitors present and expressed the members' appreciation of the Rev. P. Were's and Miss D. Were's kindness and hospitality.

Arising from the minutes, the secretary reported that repair work was being carried out in the belfry of Cheriton Church and it was expected that these bells would be heard again next year. He also reported that Guild certificates were available. One new ringing, two honorary and two compounding members were elected.

It was decided that the November practice meeting should be held at Preston Candover with, if possible, one or two adjacent towers of the Basingstoke District, and the December meeting at New Alresford. Members then adjourned to the belfries of Ropley and Bishop's Sutton for further ringing.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

A meeting held on September 22nd at Walton-on-Thames was well attended, ten Surrey towers being represented, besides various visitors. A short service was held by the Vicar (the Rev. J. C. Melville). Some 35 ringers sat down to tea, provided by the local ringers' wives, and were joined by the Vicar and other church officials.

Mr. F. A. Collins opened the meeting and announced with regret the death of Mr. R. Pethybridge.

One ringing member, two honorary members and three non-resident members were elected.

Further ringing was enjoyed at St. Mary's, Oatlands Park, till 8 p.m.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD*Memorial Service to Harold Pailing

At the meeting at St. Peter's Church, Nottingham, on October 6th, a service was held in memory of the late vice-chairman of the Guild, Mr. Harold Pailing. This was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. A. Inglis, and the address was given by the Guild's chairman, Canon Wilkinson.

In his address Canon Wilkinson laid stress on the unselfish life of service of Mr. Pailing, particularly how he gave his life in an effort to avoid disappointment among those who had come to practise that evening. Special prayers were said for Mrs. Pailing and her sons.

At the meeting which followed, letters were read concerning the opening of a fund to assist Mrs. Pailing. This was agreed upon.

Anyone wishing to subscribe may send a donation to one of the following:—

NORWICH ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the East Norfolk Branch was held at Halvergate on September 29th and fine weather brought an attendance of 41 members. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. W. Wibrow, Vicar of Halvergate, and tea was served in the Church Room.

At the business meeting the Vicar, invited by Mr. E. R. Goate, presided. A silent tribute was paid to the late Mr. W. J. Lee.

The following members were elected:—Rev. H. P. Smith, Michael Devenish, W. Long, James King, Basil Brindley (Blofield) probationers; Mrs. Lena Donnelly (Forncett), Mrs. H. W. Barrett (Loddon), Mr. H. Porter, Mr. J. Cable (Norton Subcourse) honorary members; ratification of belfry election prior to peal of Miss D. R. Fletcher and Miss E. Fletcher (Beaconsfield).

The next meeting will be at Catfield on November 10th. Mr. E. R. Goate proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist and Mr. W. de Volle for arranging the tea. Ringing was resumed after the meeting in methods to suit all.

THE KEMPSTON RINGERS

It was our 'At Home' day on September 29th and in view of it being a departure from the normal routine of local Association meetings we must confess that we were rather nervous about it.

The day's activities began with two quarter peals rung at neighbouring churches; these were arranged for visiting ringers wishing to make a complete day of it.

Ringling at our tower on the eight bells (tenor 17½ cwt., cast by Hugh Wates in 1603) started at 2.30, and our leader, Pearl Inskip, was able to find a band to meet most people's requirements—an exception was Bristol Surprise, when it was discovered that 'one more was wanted inside.' After two hours' ringing a service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. John.

Kempston has a reputation for good teas and obviously the meal provided was not the exception that proves the rule. We must thank our wives and mothers for the remarkable variety of sandwiches and cakes that they provided for the 50 hungry ringers.

Another short session in the belfry was followed by the great experiment—a social evening. The first part consisted of games and a ringers' Brains Trust, this latter event producing great hilarity at the answers to 'The ideal belfry and ringing chamber,' and 'What does the "old hand" think of the coming generation?' After refreshments the company was entertained by the younger ringers who performed two sketches and gave a musical interlude on handbells.

OUTING

READING AND NEWBURY

Saturday, September 29th—the feast of Michaelmas—was favoured with the finest weather since July, a real bright spot at the end of an extremely wet and dull week, and following a particularly damp Friday.

In spite of early meanderings, Petersfield was reached five minutes ahead of schedule and the bells were raised in peal and, after everyone had had a pull, lowered in peal.

St. Mary's, Portsea, was then visited and the bells were soon set going to Stedman, Grand-sire and Cambridge. The top of this fine tower proved a formidable rival to ringing and after the ringing had degenerated almost to Triples without a tenor, a clarion call was sent up to bring down enough members to ring a course of London, 'Provide your own lunch' being the order of the day, members then dispersed, re-assembling at 1.15 p.m. to take the coach for Portsmouth Cathedral. These grand bells were unanimously voted the best ring of the day.

Fareham was then visited, and after the ringing a sumptuous tea was taken at a nearby cafe. The next stop was Curdridge, a fine old eight, although rather noisy in the ringing room. They then proceeded to North Stoneham, the last tower of the day. An attempt was made to raise this light ring of ten (tenor 9 cwt.) in peal. The back three bells were manned by the same three doughty lads who had previously raised the back three at Curdridge (tenor 26 cwt.). One or two hefty pulls, and lo! up went the eighth rope, and the ringer nearly emulated the performance of his sister at Norwich. However, upon inspection it was found that the slider block falling out of place had saved the stay, and after raising the bells—this time in a more careful manner (singly), the bells were rung to Stedman Caters, Grandsire and Cambridge Royal.

THE CHARM OF STEDMAN

SOME years ago I was asked by a ringing friend, 'Why on earth do you ring so much Stedman? Surely you must be bored to tears half the time.' Since then Spliced Surprise has come more and more into favour, but Stedman still retains pride of place with me, certainly on twelve and ten, possibly even on eight bells. Comparatively simple though the method may be, it is only after years of acquaintance with it that all its beauties and advantages over other methods can be appreciated. The taste for Stedman, like the taste for peal ringing, increases the more it is indulged, and all who ring enough of it will eventually realise the truth of the statement that Stedman Cinques is the finest music possible on church bells.

To realise this, however, one must become so familiar with the method that the bell can be left almost to ring itself; then the ringer can listen with enjoyment to the course-ends with the big bells together at the back, to them next coursing down to the front, then alternately parting company to work with the little bells, then gradually coming together again and coursing up to the back to produce the climax of the next course-end. And when the course-end is perfectly produced surely all but the deaf must feel a thrill that no other ringing can give.

In the middle of the course also, especially in the tittums, there is some excellent music. The 'six' with 8 and 9 dodging together in 8/9 with the fourths-place bell in 10-11 with the eleventh sounds very fine (strangely enough its effect is increased if the eighth 'clips' the ninth slightly at back stroke and the fourth also holds up just a little, although breaking the rules!), followed by 8 and 11 together up behind. Sometimes, too, after ringing for some time the back bells will seem to fade into the distance, and the small bells will stand out prominently with charming effect as they course each other. The 'hand-stroke home' position is not so pleasing in the middle of the course, but the development of the course-end, the run round at hand in the following six, and then 8 and 10 dodging together in 10/11 bring ample compensation.

The music of Stedman Caters is produced in similar fashion, but naturally on a somewhat diminished scale. By putting the sixth into seconds-place the middle of the course is improved, but the course-ends are disappointing.

Whether Stedman Caters are superior, equal or inferior to Grandsire Caters musically is a question that is often debated. In Grandsire the big bells retain their coursing throughout; in Stedman each change, be it one of the more or one of the less musical, is produced three times in close succession by the method's very nature. This effect can also be achieved in Grandsire by ringing short courses with calls at three successive lead-ends (four in Cinques).

Musical touches of Stedman Triples can, of course, be obtained of almost any length desired, favourites being those with 7 & 4 and 4 & 6 dodging in 6/7. This quality, shared also by Caters and Cinques, makes the method ideal for Sunday service ringing. The regular blow of the covering tenor, too, gives a finish or polish to the changes that renders the ringing more attractive to the non-ringing congregation than even-bell methods, however well struck.

Part of the appeal of change ringing, as hinted above, is undoubtedly psychological. In this respect no other method can equal Stedman. As the end of the course approaches there should be a growing sense of anticipation, coupled with even greater care to maintain the rhythm. Then there is a feeling of satisfaction and achievement. And if, as may sometimes happen, some silly ass spoils it, there is disappointment and perhaps irritation, rapidly succeeded by the thought, 'He'll get it right next time.'

IRISH ENTERPRISE

MOST members of the Central Council have met Mr. F. E. Dukes, who for a number of years has been one of the representatives of the Irish Association, and they will wish him well in his new honorary post as editor of 'The Irish Bell News,' the journal of the Irish Association of Change Ringers. This typescript journal made its first appearance this week and is to be published quarterly for the present at 2s. 6d. per annum (apply Mr. F. E. Dukes, 26, William Street, Drogheda).

'Irish Bell News' is essentially a news sheet—some 21 towers have sent in details of their activities—and there is a strong personal touch throughout its pages. Northern Ireland's fine work in connection with the Festival of Britain has been referred to in our pages, and it is pleasing to note that Mr. and Mrs. Rogan and Mr. J. T. Dunwoody attended the Royal Garden Party at Stormont,

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

SPARE A DIME!

The Editorial Committee are grateful to those bands who, when they ring a peal or quarter peal, make a contribution towards production costs. They would prefer this 'Brother, Spare a Dime' policy than to making any charge for quarter peals. Thank you.

We commend the action of the Surrey Association in placing on their agenda at the District annual meeting, "The Ringing World" finances, and trust that all other Societies and Associations will follow their example.
We are confident that if the necessary drive is forthcoming we shall start 1952 with the 1,000 new postal subscribers.

By ringing the third to a peal of Minor at Bobbing on September 12th, E. Naylor 'completed the circle.'

The dedication of Ash Priors, Somerset, is Holy Trinity, and not as stated in the peal report on page 645.

It was Mrs. A. S. Roberts and not 'Mr.' who stood in the unsuccessful peal at Kea during the recent Cornish tour, as reported in the story last week.

Earl Shilton ringers and ringers from Barwell and Stoney Stanton recently accepted an invitation from the Tamworth (Staffs) ringers and spent an enjoyable evening in their company. The bells were rung to various methods before retiring to a local hall where a concert by vocalists and handbell ringers had been arranged. Mr. G. Newton thanked the local captain, Mr. G. Peers, jun., for the warm hospitality afforded them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stockbridge, of Canterbury, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on October 11th, in a true ringers' fashion. There was a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor on St.
Dunstan's bells by Mrs. E. Philpott 1, Mrs. G.
Stockbridge 2, J. Stockbridge 3, A. Butler 4,
Mrs. B. Chatfield (conductor) 5, B. Luck 6.
The band was afterwards entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Stockbridge at their home. Thanks are due to Mrs. B. Luck, who stepped in at a few minutes' notice, owing to the indisposition of one of the intended band.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Just one Irish story from the 'Irish Bell News':
Two Gardai sent to keep a midnight watch on the belfry at Crooke, Co.
Waterford, Catholic Church, where for the past few weeks the bell had been ringing mysteriously about 2 a.m., 'arrested' the culprit, which turned out to be a pet monkey that had escaped from a travelling show which had been in the area recently!

A correspondent writes: In the obituary notice of the late Mr. Marshall, of Lamberhurst, it states that he took part in the first peal of Major on Tenterden bells in 1912. James Barham rang the first peal of Major on these bells in 1771 and the 1912 peal is recorded in the Kent County Association report as the first peal of Major on them since that date.

Mr. J. E. Cawser writes: The footnote to the peal of Yorkshire at Chudleigh should be 'First peal in the method on the bells,' and not as sent in. The error was mine and I apologise to Mr. Cannon. I believe there is a record of the peal of Cambridge in the tower, but in any case I knew one had been rung there and had failed to notice the error when checking over the details.

Mr. I. Emery wishes to thank all who kindly assisted him in getting together a band of octogenarians to attempt a peal last Saturday, which was unfortunately lost after one hour's ringing. But having again obtained permission, it is hoped to make another attempt early next year.

A reader who missed her usual Sunday evening ringing on account of indisposition has expressed to us her pleasure the television broadcast of the ringing at Leeds Parish Church on October 13th gave her. The reception in the south was very good.

JOHN S. GOLDSMITH COMMEMORATION DINNER

FOUNDER OF 'RINGING WORLD'S' GREAT SERVICE—LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS: APPEAL FOR UNDERSTANDING—INSURANCE OF RINGERS—URGE FOR 1,000 NEW POSTAL SUBSCRIBERS—ST. MARY'S, GUILDFORD: 50 YEARS ON

THE Guildford Diocesan Guild dinner commemorating the name of John Sparkes Goldsmith, founder of 'The Ringing World' and first secretary of the Guild, on Saturday, was one of the most successful functions in the history of the Guild.

Previous to the dinner there was ringing on the Cathedral bells and also St. Mary's, Guildford, and in the Crypt Chapel at the new Cathedral, a short service commemorating the life of Mr. Goldsmith was held. This was conducted by the Rev. W. F. Doe, the lessons being read by Mr. A. C. Hazelden. The only bell at the new Cathedral was given by the ringers of the Diocese as a memorial to Mr. Goldsmith. Touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob Major were rung on handbells by Colin A. Hopper 1-2, A. H. Pulling 3-4, F. A. Munday 5-6, T. M. White 7-8.

The dinner at the Lion Hotel was attended by a company numbering 119. The tables were profusely decorated with chrysanthemums, the gifts of the Master (Mr. A. Harman) and Mr. Cheeseman.

Canon R. G. Clitherow presided and Mr. C. W. Denyer, who was M.C. for the evening, and with Mr. W. Viggers, Mr. D. Mills and Mr. G. S. Joyce was responsible for organising the event, read apologies from the Bishop of Guildford, the Vicar of Aldershot, Mr. G. S. Joyce (who was in Paris on business), Mr. W. Shepherd (Addlestone), Mr. C. E. Smith and Mr. H. A. May (Ringing Master of the Guildford District).

The loyal toast was followed by that of 'The memory of John S. Goldsmith and the continued prosperity of the Guildford Guild.' It was entrusted to an old friend of Mr. Goldsmith, Mr. W. J. Paice, who recalled his earliest meeting with Mr. Goldsmith well over 40 years ago, before 'The Ringing World' was started. Mr. Goldsmith had the happy knack of knowing not only what was a good thing for ringers but also had the knowledge and ability in making those ideas suitable to the times.

It was along with Mr. Grover that he first met him at a ringing meeting which Mr. Goldsmith had organised with great thoroughness. As a ringing journalist Mr. Goldsmith used his talents in founding 'The Ringing World' and still one could not read the journal without thinking about the founder. He ventured to hope that the Guild would take no unworthy part in bringing about the increased revenue needed by the journal to-day.

PIONEER, GUIDE AND COUNSELLOR

They also thought about Mr. Goldsmith in the formation of the Guildford Guild. It was no easy task after the division of the Winchester Diocese to form the Guildford Guild and they were exceedingly fortunate in having a man like Jack Goldsmith to be its organiser and first secretary. He was pioneer, guide and counsellor to the new Guild. 'I am glad and proud to propose such a toast,' concluded Mr. Paice.

The Master (Mr. A. Harman) acknowledged the toast on behalf of the Guild, and expressed the hope that the company would have an enjoyable evening.

The toast of 'The Church and the Ringing Exercise' was submitted by Mr. T. W. White. We were living, he said, in an age of substitutes when people imagined that by 'turning on a knob' there was a substitute for corporate worship. With the majority the only time the Church entered into the lives of individuals was on those three momentous occasions in life—baptism, marriage and death—with perhaps an odd Christmas Day, Harvest Thanksgiving or Remembrance Day thrown in. The fundamental purpose of the Ringing Exercise was to give a constant reminder to the community at large, and particularly to the millions who had been admitted to His Church by baptism, of the call to worship. In that direction, they as a Guild rejoiced that since the last dinner the bells of the old Saxon Church of St. Mary, of which their chairman was in charge, had been rung, and Sunday by Sunday gave their message to the people of Guildford, not with the full-throatedness of the eight in the Cathedral, but with the mellowness of old bells telling of a glorious heritage of the continuity of worship to Almighty God for more than 900 years.

QUESTIONS OF THE MOMENT

Regarding the second part of the toast, the Ringing Exercise, there were three questions of immediate concern. The first was that the new ring of twelve at Liverpool Cathedral, the finest addition to the Exercise since the war, was only to be rung for special occasions. To imagine that that vast agglomeration of metal could be handled without constant practice passed human comprehension. These bells had been given to the glory of God; that their voice should only be heard on State occasions did not reflect to the credit of the Dean and Cathedral Chapter. If any individual was asked from that representative assembly to find a band who, without practice, could ring Stedman Cinques on those bells he would have to admit the impossibility. The decision indicated a complete lack of understanding of the principles and purposes of ringing and it was to be hoped that those responsible would be enlightened and reverse the present decision.

The second point made by Mr. White was the tragedy at Daybrook and the widespread sympathy with the bereaved family. From the Church's point of view there was an obligation to make certain that their ringers were insured. He hoped that the Guild would look into the question and make certain that every Parochial Church Council had fulfilled its obligations in that respect.

Lastly the speaker referred to the finances of 'The Ringing World.' 'Costs,' he said, 'have been heavily weighted against us this summer. By economies and increased revenue from advertisements, the new committee has adjusted a £7 a week increase in paper and production costs that became operative this summer. The committee are now faced with another rise in the cost of paper of £5 a week. It can be met by recruiting another 1,000 postal subscribers. About one quarter of our readers are postal subscribers. From them we received 3½d. to meet our production costs. From those who buy through the newsagents we receive 2d. If there was a transfer of 1,000 from one to the other there would be an increased revenue of £7 a week. Will you all help in this direction and keep "The Ringing World" at 4d.?'

Canon R. G. Clitherow in thanking the company for the honour of being asked to preside, said he felt he was like the Bishop pawn. On his shelves there was 'The Ringer's Handbook' and he found it contained this advice under the heading of position: 'A man who moves his feet about is never so safe as a man who stands quietly all the time.' If they could see what was going on under the table they would understand his position. (Laughter.)

'I was a little surprised and a little hurt at the decision of the Dean and Chapter of Liverpool. As one who married the only good thing that came out of Liverpool, it might be understandable. It seems that there is another Very

Reverend who is destined for the 'high jump.' (Laughter.)

50 YEARS ON

It was also a great privilege for him to be there because he had recently become closely associated with a tower in Guildford which was already famous. It was a matter of great rejoicing to him when St. Mary's bells rang again because when those bells were rung for the last time in was in 1901, as the tower was then declared unsafe. Two of those who rang them then, Mr. Pulling and Mr. Hutton, were there to ring them when they were re-opened and they were there with them that night (applause.) There was an example of faithful and loyal service that had bridged the passage of time. They must have been championing and chafing (if ringers did that) during those 50 years waiting for the Church to do something. But 50 years was a short time in the life of St. Mary's Church, which had been standing for nearly 1,000 years. He wanted them to take away this thought: what they were doing was part of God's tireless work in the world. It was something that had been going on for centuries and would continue for many, many years to come. They in their generation were privileged to carry on that tradition and hand it on. In ringing, he trusted they would never forget their own dependence on God and their duty towards God.

'These are anxious and critical times and I want you to feel that God is at work in this world and you and I are privileged to take part in His work. The forces of evil are strong and the challenge of materialism is strong. Keep on ringing and fight against evil and continue your work for His glory and the happiness of man.'

LADIES AND THE REVIVAL IN RINGING

The toast of 'The Visitors and Ladies' was honoured on the call of Major E. J. Bragg. He welcomed in particular Canon Clitherow, the Rev. and Mrs. Doe and Mr. Tom Page and friends from the Winchester Guild.

They were living in a democratic age when women had many organisations, including a Ladies' Guild. The revival of ringing since the war was very largely due to the ladies. The ladies were persevering, they were regular in attendance, and, at church, much more regular than men, and as a body they were very good servants of the Church. He noticed in 'The Ringing World' recently that a band of ladies rang a peal. It was difficult to realise eight ladies locked in a church for three hours and not allowed to speak. They had famous lady ringers years ago, but he thought the ladies of this generation were their equal. He also thought the time had come when the editor should consider introducing a ladies' page to 'The Ringing World'—it would be a refreshing change to read their reactions.

Miss Myrtle Cass, who replied, said she came from a bell-ringing family and her grandfather was a ringer in Kent. She spoke enthusiastically of ringing as an exercise in which one never stopped learning. She felt very proud to be asked to reply as she came from the black spot of the Farnham District where the ringing was often confined to rounds or the 'old familiar' (Grandsire).

The Rev. W. F. Doe also replied expressing the thanks of 'The Visitors' for the hospitality extended to them.

'The Artistes' were honoured on the call of Mr. C. W. Denyer and the Master expressed the thanks of the gathering to the chairman and Messrs. Viggers, Denyer and Dick Mills in organising the dinner so successfully.

Williamson, Miss B. Wood and Mr. A. Wren.

STUDYING IN AMERICA

Ringers in North West Kent, South Lancashire and around Ipswich will be interested to learn that Peter G. Parrott has been granted an award under the Economic Co-operation Administration. This provides for a year's advanced technical training in the United States. He left for New York by sea early in September and continued his journey by air to California. He is an electrical engineer by profession and is now probably very busy at the Pasadena Technical Institute. Peter is an enthusiastic and conscientious ringer, and his cheerful company will be missed at home. A better ambassador for the youth of the Exercise would be hard to find. We wish him every success and look forward to his return.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR BELLRINGERS

Many teams of bellringers are insured under the special policies issued by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., 11, Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C.2. Particulars will be supplied on application. Those with old policies are recommended to consider increasing the scale of benefits provided.

The Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., was founded in 1887 to conserve for the Church of England profits arising from Church insurances. The Office undertakes all kinds of parochial insurance. 9625

DECISIONS OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

As Amended at Chester, 1951

The following Decisions and Recommendations of the Council have been issued from time to time, for the guidance of the Exercise, and with a view to bringing about uniformity of practice.

PRACTICAL RINGING

CONDITIONS REQUIRED FOR PEALS

On all numbers of bells a true peal shall in all cases start from and end with rounds.

The use of visible aids to memory in conducting or ringing peals is not permissible.

Each bell or bells shall be rung throughout by the same person or persons.

Any objection which may be taken to a peal shall be raised at the earliest date and in any case within three months after publication, unless in respect of the truth of the composition.

With the object of emphasising the foregoing rules, and at the same time of giving a complete exposition of its views on the subject of peals in general, the Council in 1902 issued the following code, applying both to ordinary peals and also to peals rung to surpass previous achievements:—

(1). That any shift or error in ringing be immediately corrected.

(2). That no call be made, or having been made, be altered or withdrawn later than during the change at which a call would properly take effect.

(3). That no other person than those ringing in the peal shall take part in the calling or in rectifying an error.

(4). That if more than one person shall ring any bell, the fact be stated in publishing and booking the peal.

That in the case of a peal rung to surpass previous peals of 6,000 changes and upwards compliance with these further conditions is necessary:—

(i). That not less than seven days' notice shall be given in the columns of 'The Ringing World' stating the tower, day and hour at which the attempt is to be made, and the number of changes proposed to be rung.

(ii). That similar notice shall be sent to the secretary of the Guild or Association under whose title the peal (which it is proposed to surpass) was rung.

(iii). That the composition of the proposed peal shall be submitted to at least one competent person, other than the composer or conductor, for proof, and the figures shall be published in 'The Ringing World.' These figures shall be strictly adhered to unless it becomes necessary for the conductor to call the bells round before the full length is completed, owing to an unforeseen contingency. Any alteration made in the published figures for this purpose shall be published with the report of the performance and also submitted to those who proved the composition, previous to publication.

(iv). That all the ringing shall be heard by a competent, unbiased person who may give, if he thinks fit, and the performers so desire, a written certificate that the peal has been correctly rung. Any objections to the performance must be made to the conductor taking part in the peal, or umpire, immediately the ringing has finished, and any controversy arising shall be referred to the Central Council, whose decision on the matter shall be final.

In the case of record peals on handbells, every facility should be given to those interested to hear the ringing and a notice requesting 'Silence' could be displayed to protect performers from distraction.

PEALS OF DOUBLES

1. Peals of Doubles shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in:—

(a). True and complete six-scores without interval between any two six-scores and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.

(b). Round blocks consisting of two or more six-scores, provided that each of the six-scores which comprise the round block shall be itself a true and complete round block.

(c). Twelve-scores known as Morris's and Pitman's.

(d). Combinations of (a), (b), (c) or any two of them.

2. Peals of Doubles may be rung with or without a covering bell.

PEALS OF MINOR

1. Peals of Minor shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in:—

(a). True and complete 720's without interval between any two 720's and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.

(b). Round blocks consisting of two or more 720's, provided that each of the 720's which comprise the round block shall be itself a true and complete round block.

(c). Any combination of (a) or (b).

2. No covering bells are allowed.

PEALS OF TRIPLES

A peal of Triples shall consist of not fewer than 5,040 changes rung without interval and shall be always rung with one covering bell only, this bell in all cases to be the tenor.

PEALS OF CATERS AND CINQUES

Peals of Caters and Cinques shall comprise not fewer than 5,000 changes rung without interval and with one covering bell, this bell in all cases to be the tenor.

PEALS OF MAJOR, ROYAL AND MAXIMUS

Peals of Major, Royal or Maximus shall comprise not fewer than 5,000 changes rung without interval and without a covering bell.

SPICED PEALS

Peals which contain more than one method shall be called 'Spiced,' provided that methods are so joined that the fundamental units of which they are constructed (i.e., the 'leads' in treble-dominated methods, the 'sixes' in the case of Stedman, Duffield and similar methods) remain intact. Reports of all spiced peals shall state the number of methods rung and the number of changes from one method to another during the peal. Variations of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob where the method is changed when the treble passes through 3-4 down, cannot be described as spiced peals.

CALLS

Calls are not part of any method, but are only means of passing from one course to another, and their form and placing can be capable of considerable variation.

A bob can affect any number of working bells, and its effect should be to alter the coursing order of three of them. A single can also affect any number of working bells, and its effect should be to alter the coursing order of two of them.

Calls may be made at any place within the lead, but the traditional practice of making them at the lead end should be adhered to, and is recommended.

Only one type of bob and single should be used in any one composition.

Singles in Treble Bob methods should only be used when a desired result cannot be obtained by bobs.

Under no circumstances may bells lie still on going off into changes or returning to rounds, unless it is a part of the method.

ERDINGTON, BIRMINGHAM.—At the Abbey Church of SS. Thomas and Edmund, on Oct. 12th, 1,260 Grandire Doubles: A. Bailey 1. J. McDonald 2. P. J. Morton 3. M. G. Morton 4. W. G. Anker (cond.) 5. G. Williams 6. First quarter for 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LENGTH OF PEALS, ETC.

Dear Sir,—What I am about to write may arouse much criticism—some considered and balanced, much, no doubt, hasty and superficial, even hostile—but, nevertheless I feel sure the time has come when our highest court of appeal must tackle the question of length of peals. Two conductors of repute have said all that need be as to quality.

It was reported recently that the incumbent of a certain church, famous throughout touring circles for the bells in it, was the recipient of complaints by telephone during the performance and no doubt subsequently, of a peal by a visiting party. The reputed time the bells were going was altogether nearly five hours and the striking almost as perfect as any party could make it and beyond the capabilities of most hands, but raising and lowering in peal was ignored and this in a county where that is a sine qua non.

This incident is mentioned only as being indicative of many complaints based upon the performances of mediocre and evil strikers who should not attempt three-hour peals in any tower, much less in a part of the country where striking is appreciated.

I have myself rung several peals—really good, not so good and otherwise—and have come to realise more and more that, with the continual congestion of the communities, the Exercise must make some radical changes if we are to survive the growing storm of protest against continuous ringing for 3–4 hours or more.

Is there something sacrosanct about the traditional 5,000 minimum? True, in our forefathers' days, when seven best methods were those generally chosen for peals, 5,040 true changes had the undoubted advantage of being the total possible, but those days are long past and that length has lost its special significance. Moreover, the fact that there was a covering bell to round off each change and relate it to the next made the whole more easy for the human ear to comprehend both as to sound and perhaps, much more important, rhythm, as the last quality will so often cover up weak, untuneful and otherwise poor old bells. Modern bellhanging has reduced to almost nothing the mighty physical triumph of our great and honoured predecessors.

With the tenor turned in the cream of a peal on eight is probably 12 courses in Treble Bob methods and 24 courses in Plain methods and I would submit that a peal of 2,500–3,000 rows is sufficient in which to concentrate the best of the music.

Manners have been discussed before, but I do not think the wear and tear of ropes and bearings has been sufficiently considered, and the payment of the steepleage fee by each participant should not be any more resented or neglected than 2s. or 3s., would be to a visit to the pictures or a football match.

Since I have lived in a county where good striking is the rule, not the exception, and where raising and lowering in peal are a sine qua non, I can better appreciate why conversions to method ringing makes slow, almost no, progress: the close hand-stroke lead does not appeal but the repetition of rows has much to commend it, and to raise methods such as Stedman and Erin very much in esteem for Sunday service ringing. A good touch of Double Norwich, Treble Bob or Superlative commands much more favourable attention than other even-bell methods but as a rule 'tenor in' ringing is unpopular and completely lost on the listening public. The country village populations have, however, an inborn love and pride in their bells and can always be relied upon for subscriptions when maintenance of their heritage has to be faced. This is worthy of our support.—Yours faithfully,

S. H. G.

HE RANG ON OPENING DAY

Dear Sir,—On Sunday, September 30th, I had the pleasure of meeting John Boutland, one of the two Chester ringers who went to Australia, as reported on page 522 of the issue of August 17th.

Parramatta bells had just been rehung, having been silent since June, and as three of us were waiting for the others to arrive for the opening ringing, a young chap came up and asked if he was at All Saints' Church with a ring of bells. Thus John spent a most enjoyable time for his first ringing day in Australia.

To get to Parramatta, John pushed his bicycle about 15 miles and it was not a cool day. He told me that he had been in this country a fortnight and thought it was time he did some more ringing before he lost touch with it.

In our tower we ring monthly Doubles but now, with John and his knowledge, I am sure we will be able to go ahead with more Minor methods.

I hope you will let his friends from Chester know about this and if there are any more bellringers coming to this country, to let us here in Australia know. Ringing is carried out in five of the six States so surely they will be able to settle near a tower in at least one of the States.—Yours faithfully,

R. FERRIS.

Capt., All Saints', Parramatta.

P.S.—I came across another ringer from Chester by the name of Ernest Barlow, but he is not in the best of health at present and is not carrying on with his ringing.—R. F.

Appropos the re-opening of the bells of All Saints', Parramatta, N.S.W., Mr. A. R. Botting writes that the six are now fitted with steel headstocks and ball bearings and the 'go' is all that can be desired. The work was carried out by Bruce Dunbar and George Williamson ably assisted by the captain, Mr. R. Ferris, to whom great credit is due.

The re-opening took place on Sunday, September 30th, when members of other towers were invited. Ringing included Doubles and Plain Bob Minor. Eighteen ringers sat down to tea in the Parish Room, and afterwards touches of Kent Treble Bob and Doubles were rung. 'We have bright hopes for the future,' concludes our correspondent.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS

Dear Sir,—An interesting point about the inscriptions on Liverpool Cathedral bells may not be widely known. They are all passages from the Psalms, and the initial letter of each passage, reading from the tenor upwards, spells out 'Thomas Bartlett,' the name of the donor. The 14 letters needed are obtained from 13 bells by the treble having the inscription:—

'Thou art my God and I will thank Thee; Thou art my God and I will praise Thee.'

Is it too much to ask that when this mighty ring is fully completed, its sound may literally 'go out into all lands' through the medium of broadcasting? Perhaps the Central Council could make the necessary representations?—Yours faithfully,

L. J. MALINGS.

Rhoose, Glam.

ST. MARY'S, HULL

Dear Sir,—May I assure Mr. Dove that I do not question his weight re the bell at St. Mary's, Hull. That he received the weight from the bellhangers I already knew. The emphasis in my report is on my remark 'a lot of metal here for the diameter.' I think he will agree with me.—Yours faithfully, TOURIST.

Hersham.

METHOD EXTENSION

Dear Sir,—C. H. K.'s comment (or complaint) that extensions of London, amongst other methods, would not be acceptable if the Methods Committee's report is accepted, brings to mind a suggestion recently made by Mr. Maurice Hodgson, that some enterprising person should splice into one peal all the different versions of 'London' Royal, and then look for a name for the result. Would it be 'Spliced London Surprise Royal,' or 'Spiced London, London, London . . . etc.'? Similarly, we could have 'Spliced Superlative and Superlative' and, evidently, 'Spliced Rutland and Rutland.'

Perhaps reflection on the absurdity of this would bring home to C. H. K. and others the unsatisfactory nature of the present situation, whereby with nothing to guide them, two or more people can produce 'extensions' of a Major method, find some gullible company to accept, ring and name them, and subsequently discover that the versions are entirely different.

Incidentally, C. H. K. does the Committee less than justice when he states that the recommendations throw no light on how a method can be extended without contiguous places, when these are a characteristic of the parent. The recommendations on this subject are clear enough:—

- (a). No contiguous places in the parent shall be omitted from an extension.
- (b). No contiguous places which have no counterpart in the parent shall be included in an extension.

Yours faithfully,

B.

MORE GEOGRAPHY!

Dear Sir,—The statement of the Slimbridge ringers (see September 28th issue) that they travelled along the River Usk to Raglan could not possibly be right.

If they went through Monmouth to Raglan they were alongside the River Trothy, which joins the Wye near Monmouth.—Yours faithfully,

L. H. JONES.

Monmouth.

THANK YOU, BOURNEMOUTH!

Dear Sir,—May I trespass upon your space in order to thank the ringers of the Bournemouth area who made me so welcome to their respective towers during my stay there recently.

It gave me real pleasure to ring with that grand old veteran, Mr. George Preston, of Christchurch, and I am sure that ringers generally will be glad to know that he is still able to climb the stairs and, to use present-day jargon, do his stuff.—Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM T. GRICE.

Maidstone.

THREE 720's OF BOB MINOR

These 720's are curious in that they are variations of the well-known 720 with 15 calls (the minimum) only although 5-6 are not the fixed bells, there are no 6-5's at back stroke. It would be interesting to know if they have been composed before.

40 YEARS AGO

Extract from 'The Ringing World,'

October 27th, 1911

EIGHT BROTHERS RING A PEAL

A remarkable performance, unique in the annals of ringing, was accomplished at St. Margaret's Church, Leiston, Suffolk, on Saturday (October 21st), when eight brothers Bailey rang a peal of Bob Major. There are eleven boys in this wonderful family, but it is no less extraordinary that so many of them should have taken up the art. They are excellent ringers and strikers and we may expect to see further Bailey peals before long. In the peal of Bob Major the treble was rung by Allen, the youngest of the eight brothers, and the rest stood in order of their ages.

Allen F. Bailey was born on April 30th, 1896, and commenced ringing only last year. This was his first peal.

Frederick W. Bailey, born April 19th, 1894, commenced ringing in 1909. This was his ninth peal.

Leonard P. Bailey was born April 5th, 1892. He also began ringing in 1909 and has rung 14 peals.

James M. Bailey, born January 30th, 1890, learned to pull a bell in 1906, and this was his 69th peal.

Norman R. Bailey was born September 30th, 1887, began ringing in 1903, and this was his 97th peal.

Ernest S. Bailey, who was born January 13th, 1882, learned to ring in 1900, and has rung 106 peals.

Charles F. Bailey was born December 28th, 1879. He began ringing in 1896, and has been the conductor of the family, having called 87 of the 113 peals he has rung.

Edgar H. Bailey was born November 26th, 1877, and learned to ring in 1895, having now rung 106 peals.

[This was the first of many peals by the Bailey brothers, one other of whom joined the ranks of peal ringers. They formed the backbone for many years of the famous Leiston band, who broke new ground in Surprise ringing in the 1920's. James M. and Ernest S. are still members of the company.]

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD

Southern District

About 35 ringers attended a very successful meeting at Butlers Marston on October 6th. Towers represented were Warwick, Leamington Spa, Southam, Ladbroke, Harbury, Bishops Itchington, Harborne, Byfield and Betchworth (Surrey). Ringing included rounds and call changes and methods up to Cambridge Surprise. A very nice service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Glyn Lewis). This was followed by a tea supplied by the Women's Guild of the village—one which would have done justice to any wedding feast. No one could have been made more welcome to the village. Kington was visited in the evening.

HOW NOT TO GET PEALS

The 'Leicester Daily Mercury,' after commenting on a certain charity bequeathed to the town, mentions Mr. Ernest Morris as the well-known local historian, vergar and vestry clerk of St. Margaret's—then goes on to say 'Mr. Morris is an author of many books and articles on campanology and he has rung 3,000 peals on every possible bell in Leicestershire.'

Thus overnight he gets 1,700 peals credited to him—but that is not all!! The same day he received the Leicester Diocesan Guild report for 1950 and here again he gets 100 peals credited to him 'free, gratis and for nothing.' This is much cheaper than Mr. Albert Walker's half-crown peals!

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD
Welcome to Student Ringers

A quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild was held at Perry Barr on October 6th, Mr. Albert Walker (vice-president) being in the chair.

Before proceeding with the ordinary business, the chairman referred to the death of William J. Simmonds, a ringer at St. Chad's Roman Catholic Cathedral, who, although his membership of the Guild was of short duration, had shown a keen interest in ringing, and his sudden death, following an operation, came as a great shock to those who had met him in the city practically every Sunday. The members stood in silence for a moment as a tribute of respect to his memory.

The tower election of the following new members were duly ratified: Miss Claudia A. Harding (Harborne), Miss Winifred M. Burton (Leicester), the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur S. Roberts (Carbis Bay), and Messrs. John R. Mayne, Billesley, Brian G. Warwick (Leicester), J. Martin (Thorley), Thorne (Doncaster) Wilfrid F. Moreton (Hereford), and Victor G. Hemus (Malmesbury, Wilts).

It was decided to hold the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner on March 15th, 1952, and that the arrangements be left in the hands of the officers of the Guild.

The next meeting, being the annual, will, according to custom be held in the city on the first Saturday in January, 1952. Mr. William C. Dowding expressed his appreciation of the help given by the officers of the Guild upon the occasion of the annual meeting of the National Police Guild, which was held in Birmingham on September 15th last and which was highly successful.

The chairman gave a hearty welcome to several young ringers who had recently arrived in Birmingham for a period of study and hoped that their stay in Birmingham would be a happy one. He assured them that they would be well received in any of the towers they cared to visit.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of Perry Barr (the Rev. D. McLean) for conducting the Guild service, for the use of the bells and for accommodating the members of the Guild at the Vicarage for the tea and meeting. Mrs. Ingram and her lady helpers provided an excellent tea and a vote of thanks to them was carried with acclamation.

DEDICATION

SENNEN (THE LAND'S END)

Much interest was taken in the rededication of the bells of the First and Last Church in England at Sennen, Cornwall, on October 6th, when Canon C. H. S. Buckley, Vicar of Gulval, and Rural Dean, performed the ceremony, and dedicated a new treble bell. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. D. Wynne, and the lesson was read by the Rev. A. S. Roberts.

The church was filled to capacity and included members of the Parish Council and more than 50 ringers, including Messrs. T. G. and F. Myers (Plymouth) and E. T. P. Field (Dorset). The rounds at the service was rung by a band representative of the Diocesan Guild:—Mrs. A. S. Roberts 1, W. Wood (vice-president) 2, Miss E. Symons (president) 3, G. W. Taysom 4, R. G. Clemens (Truro Branch secretary) 5, W. H. Southeard (Master) 6. This band rang two 120's of Grandsire Doubles at the end of the service. It was appropriate that they should be followed by the Landewednack band who possess the most southerly ring in England, and were thus the first parochial band to ring on the most westerly ring.

Ringing continued during the afternoon and evening with rounds, call changes, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor and a course of Cambridge Minor. All present appreciated the generosity of the Church Council in that tea was provided free for all—and a splendid tea it was.

Details of the bells are as follows:—Treble, 2 cwt. 2 qr. 9 lb.; Second (1762, recast 1951), 3 cwt. 23 lb.; Third (1810), 3 cwt. 1 qr. 27 lb.; Fourth (1810), 3 cwt. 3 qr. 15 lb.; Fifth (1889), 4 cwt. 1 qr. 17 lb.; Tenor (1889, recast 1951), 5 cwt. 3 qr. 22 lb. The work of restoration has been carried out by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. with their usual efficiency, and all were agreed that at the Land's End there is a light ring which is most pleasant to listen to both inside and outside the tower, the louvers having been partially bricked.

Sennen bells are now ringing again after a silence of about 25 years, and this restoration (for the sake of those who keep their directory correct) decreases the rings of five in Cornwall to seven—Little Petherick and St. Juliot having recently become sixes also—and increases the sixes to 94.

THREE PEALS IN A DAY

A MILESTONE in the history of the Sheffield and District Society was passed on October 12th when three members of the Society set off for Leicester to attempt three peals of Surprise Major in one day. It is probably the first time since the Society was founded in 1890 that such an expedition has been attempted and the ambition of one on the trio was to ring the tenor in each peal.

Leicester was reached at 5.30 p.m. and Mr. N. Chaddock proceeded to the Bell Foundry at Loughborough for a peal of Bristol. The other two, Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert and Mr. J. C. Turley, made for the practice at St. Margaret's to satisfy the burning desire of 'J. E.' to try the tenor; a course of Cambridge Royal and three leads of Treble Twelve proved satisfactory.

Early next morning all was bustle, and a record-breaking sprint by the 'Three Musketeers' enabled them to catch the bus to the residence of Mr. H. J. Poole, who had organised this feat of endurance. After greetings had been exchanged the party started for the scene of the first effort by shooting brake and car, and by nine o'clock Superlative was under way at Stoney Stanton; it proved to be a fast peal and under the conductorship of Mr. Poole ran smoothly into rounds about 11.40 a.m.

After the return of the tenor man from a big house just down the road it was all aboard for Earl Shilton where a magnificent lunch was enjoyed by all. By one o'clock the ropes were fully manned for Yorkshire, the conductor being John Gilbert, and a beautifully-struck peal was brought round in 2 hours and 36 minutes. A short drive in convoy brought the party to the home of Mr. A. Ballard, where tea and a television programme were much appreciated.

By 5.30 p.m. all were assembled at the last port of call, Claybrooke, a truly noble eight, and a few minutes later Peter Staniforth was doing his best to see that Cambridge came to a successful conclusion. A beautiful beat had been established when suddenly a man dashed up the ladder, threw open the trapdoor just behind the tenor man, and started to climb to the bells. Mr. Poole immediately enquired his business and it appeared that the man was a local. However, the incident had startled more than one ringer and it was not until Mr. Poole had assured everyone that all was well that the peal settled down again to eventually run round.

The final highlight of the evening was supper in Leicester at a Chinese restaurant, arranged by Mr. Poole, and much to the delight of one of the Sheffield men. All the ringers were at the station to give the 'heroes' a good send-off and the Yorkshiremen would like to express their sincere thanks to Mr. Poole for his making the whole thing possible.

CYCLING IN FOUR COUNTIES

Hills, Rain and Good Fellowship

SATURDAY, August 11th, happened to be a very wet day—not the day to assemble at Chepstow Youth Hostel for a ringing week—but, nevertheless, eleven people arrived in time for supper. Six of us—Mary Kennelly, Heather Tesson, Alan Cave, Frank Mack (the organiser), Lance Watson and myself—arrived from Bristol; Beryl and Bernice Strange, Brian Bladon and Tony Peake from Swindon; and Stanley Weekes from the Wimborne area. The handbells were brought out and the first touch of the tour, 120 Bob Minor, came round, much to the interest of other hostellers.

Sunday offered no energetic programme but 10 a.m. saw us joining the local band at Chepstow. St. Mary's possesses an anti-clockwise ring of eight (tenor 21 cwt.) and a very keen band of ringers, mostly young people. The bells were rung to various methods up to Double Norwich in our three rings and at evensong and also for a short while on Monday morning. Stanley Day, from the Reading area, joined us first thing on Sunday morning, and A. Rex Agg, from Wolverhampton, in the evening, when we also met Mr. Harding, from Portsmouth, who came with us as far as Tidenham on Monday.

During our ringing at Chepstow on Monday morning our motor-cyclists—A. Doreen Edwards and Mary Drew—joined us. Farewells and good wishes were expressed to the Chepstow ringers and we moved on to St. Peter's, Tidenham, in Gloucestershire. This ring of six (tenor 11 cwt.) cast in 1710 and rehung in 1886, go remarkably well. They were such a contrast to our next tower, St. Andrew's, Alvington (5.9 cwt.). On the way we had our first cycling spill, so by the time we arrived others were 'having a go.'

THE WORST TOWER

It was without regret that we said farewell to the worst tower of the tour, but we wish the Vicar and his ringers the best of luck in any attempt to get the bells put in order.

Lunch was the first concern as we reached Lydney but we all managed to assemble at St. Mary's. This quite pleasant Rudhall and Taylor eight (tenor 14½ cwt.) could 'go' a little better.

It was time now to leave the coastal plain and make our way inland to St. Briavel's and encounter those hills which were to become so familiar in the next few days. We found the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin right opposite our Youth Hostel, St. Briavel's Castle. The pleasant eight bells (tenor 11 cwt.) were soon set ringing and, of course, brought up a crowd of interested fellow-hostellers. The curate welcomed us and invited us over to the neighbouring parish of St. Mary Magdalene, Hewelsfield. After supper we accepted his invitation and cycled the two miles or so to find a fair-going five (tenor 14 cwt.), rung from the centre of the church, which, incidentally, was my 300th tower.

Newland, the 'Cathedral of the Forest of Dean,' was the first tower visited on Tuesday, and here the Vicar conducted a short service for us. These pleasant six (tenor 16½ cwt.) are a mixed bag but include some Rudhall's. At All Saints', Staunton (6, 10 cwt.), we had many interested spectators including three Australians who watched us ring in another belfry-in-the-church-stalls. The eight at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Monmouth (tenor 20 cwt.), certainly need re-ringing. They are quite a pleasant eight otherwise—Rudhall's bells—and their 'go' seems the only thing wrong with them. Crossing the border into Herefordshire we arrived at Goodrich (St. Giles', Abbot and Confessor: tenor 13 cwt.), a good, light eight, and here we said farewell to Miss Drew. The night was spent at Bicknor Youth Hostel.

The fine eight at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Ross-on-Wye (tenor 24½ cwt.), was our first stop on Wednesday and we thoroughly enjoyed this eight. Then came Upton Bishop (6, 10 cwt.), a nice Rudhall six, and while ringing we were joined by Miss Doris Sheppard, Mr. Leslie Barry and Mr. William Richings, who stayed with us for the rest of the day. At St. Mary-the-Blessed-Virgin's, Dymock (6, 18 cwt.) our ringing entered into competition with the local Women's Institute gramophone concert and a local garden party. The bells are heavy-going, however, and so a promise to curtail the ringing was not regretted.

St. Bartholomew's, Much Marcle, has a ring of six (tenor 13 cwt.) by J. and A. Rudhall, which seemed to be out of tune. Here we lost A. P. C. (not the one of 'raisin' fame), who joined our motorised section to 'snatch' another tower and consequently nearly lost his supper.

AN UPHILL RIDE

Rushall was our hostel for the night. The view across to the Malverns was enchanting but we realised we had to cross them the next day. Before we partook of that 'pleasure' we listed up three more towers—St. John-the-Baptist's, Mathon (6, 9 cwt.), Taylors, in 1949, rehung Rudhall's bells, the result being excellent; St. James, Apostle and Martyr, Cradley (6, 13 cwt.), with its short, spacious tower containing Rudhall and Taylor bells, whose 'go' was fair; and the eight at St. James the Great, Colwall (11½ cwt.). This tower was mortuary-cum-hospital for bees, hundreds of dead or dying bees filling the window ledges, etc. Then the 'hike' started; up and up it went until at last we were through Wych Cutting into Worcestershire, and what a glorious view it is from the top of the Malverns! Great Malvern, the Priory Church of St. Mary, St. Michael and All Angels, was our next stop. A very enjoyable eight (tenor 22 cwt.) by A. Rudhall (1706).

The Youth Hostel was not far away. One cyclist was looking at the scenery—that is what he says—and forgot the pavement—spill number two. He missed the after-supper 'snatch' (through going to have his wounds dressed) at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Madresfield (6, 14 cwt.).

Friday morning started with pouring rain but by 10.30 it began to clear. St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Hanley Castle (6, 14 cwt.), was our first call. Rudhall's (1699) and Taylor's bells in a metal frame went very well. Two gentlemen who calmly walked into the belfry, measure in hand, took dimensions of the belfry amidst dancing ropes, said nothing, nearly upset the Cambridge but beyond that there was nothing outstanding. SS. Peter and Paul's, Upton-on-Severn, has a nice ring of eight (tenor 16 cwt.). St. Mary's, Longdon (6, 12 cwt.) gave us another tower where the bells are 'clocked.' Some members took too long over lunch (?) and by the time all the ropes had been detached from the clappers we were running a bit behind schedule, so a short ring was the order. Over into Gloucestershire again to the pleasant five in the wooden tower at St. John-the-Baptist's, Tredington (tenor 9 cwt.). Our ladies attempted a touch, but I feel the conductor was overcome by the occasion and lost count of the plain leads between the bobs!

FAREWELLS COMMENCE

The recent augmentation at Bishops Cleeve (St. Michael and All Angels', tenor 19½ cwt.) is a grand job. It has made a fine eight and again we were sorry to leave. A long climb to Cleeve Hill Youth Hostel finished the day and here we said farewell to Beryl and Bernice Strange.

St. Mary's, Prestbury (8, 13½ cwt.), where

Mr. Charles Rouse met us, St. Mary-de-Crypt's, Gloucester, a fine Rudhall eight (tenor 14 cwt.), St. Andrew's, Churcham (6, 14 cwt.), which now need new bearings, were in the programme.

A splendid tea awaited us at the Vicarage and we thanked those responsible for it, but Frank would not let us stay very long and it was onwards to St. John-the-Baptist's, Huntley (6, 9 cwt.), a fair six with the third going very badly and the fourth reputedly the oldest bell in the country. All Saints', Longhope (6, 12 cwt.), went somewhat better.

Now the party began to split up. Alan Cave left for the first stage to his journey to Liverpool and Frank Mack returned to Churcham. It was also farewell to Doreen Edwards.

Micheldean was our Youth Hostel for the night—its warden's late husband was a ringer so she appreciated our handbell ringing.

On Sunday morning we said farewell to Lance Watson while the rest of us went off to join the ringers at SS. Peter and Paul's, Westbury-on-Severn (6, 21½ cwt.). A cup of coffee then into Gloucester, where all roads meet, and singly and in pairs we all went homewards.

Our thanks are due to Frank Mack for undertaking the organisation. The party, although on the youthful side, did justice to the bells met with. The methods rung were Grand-sire, Plain Bob, Stedman, St. Simon's, Erin, and New Doubles: Plain Bob, Little Bob, St. Clement's, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Spliced Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford Cambridge Surprise, London Surprise and York Surprise Minor, with Grand-sire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob, Little Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Court Bob Major. I. H. T.

CARTER RINGING MACHINE

I have seen this machine under all sorts of conditions. Forty years or so ago, I visited John Carter's house in Birmingham, where John was still experimenting with this wonderful piece of engineering. Such was his enthusiasm that he had a gas engine specially installed in his garden to provide the necessary power. On this first visit the machine was simply operating the levers and printing the diagram of Stedman Cinques.

The next visit found the machine coupled up to the keyboard of a piano and it tapped off a course of London. On yet another visit John had it attached to a set of handbells and I heard some perfect Stedman Cinques. For some reason which John Carter never explained, he would always stop the machine on the last change before rounds.

When John died, the machine was placed in the Science Museum at South Kensington, where it gradually fell into a state of disrepair.

Recently it was taken out of the Museum for overhaul by Mr. D. Hughes and the machine is now what John Carter would have desired it to be. A tremendous amount of patient work has been done, and it was a remarkable experience to hear a few days ago, this machine tapping off Stedman Triples on a light ring of eight church bells at the rate of about 34 changes a minute. The perfection of the rhythm was much higher than could be obtained by human agency, and I felt that if John Carter could have heard what I did, he would have felt very proud of his machine.

As a piece of mechanism it is unique, and if useful for no other purpose, it could be used as an example of what to aim at in striking, and we must also remember it was the diagrams which this machine printed that gave the idea by which multi-method ringers could get the 'blue line' into a very small space.

The thanks of the whole Exercise were expressed to Mr. Douglas Hughes by the Central Council at Chester, and he has well and truly earned them. J. F. S.

MARRIAGE

Mr. T. G. Fox—Miss A. Bowers

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, October 13th, at the Church of St. Mary, Goring-by-Sea, when two well-known ringers, Miss Ansley Bowers, of Goring-by-Sea, and Mr. Thomas G. Fox, of Forest Gate, London, were married.

The Vicar (the Rev. W. W. S. March) officiated at the service which was choral, Mr. Basil White, secretary of the Southern Division of the Sussex County Association, played the organ, and the local band rang the bells before and after the wedding.

The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. G. Bowers, wore a wedding gown of white net and lace trimmed with mother-of-pearl sequins, with a headdress of natural cream rosebuds and carried a bouquet of carnations, gardenias and stephanotis. She was attended by four bridesmaids, two adults and two children, who were dressed in turquoise green taffeta with headdresses of natural yellow rosebuds and carried bouquets of the same flower. The best man was Mr. L. J. Fox.

Among the many guests present at the reception, held in St. Mary's Church Hall, were Messrs. G. W. Cecil, Master of the Sussex County Association, Len Stilwell, Master of the North Division, Ernest Treagus, secretary of the Western Division and R. P. Wood, Master of the Western Division.

Before departing on their honeymoon, the bride and bridegroom, assisted by L. J. Fox and G. W. Cecil, rang a very good course of Grandsire Triples on handbells. This surprise item, arranged at short notice by Len Stilwell, who gave a pair of handbells to each performer and then left them to get on with it, brought the house down.

In the evening a peal was attempted at St. Mary's by the Sussex Association. Among other peals attempted were those at Romsey Abbey, Holloway and Leytonstone.

The bride is a member of the local band, the Sussex County Association and the University of London Change Ringers' Society, whilst the bridegroom is the immediate Past Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, captain of the band at Stepney and a member of many guilds and associations up and down the country.

L. J. F.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

The Editorial Committee acknowledge the following contributions to meet the added cost of production of 'The Ringing World':—

5s.—Cheshire Fan.; Peal Donation, Stokesay; W. T. Poston, Ross-on-Wye; Anon. Donation, Cheshire.

3s.—B. Ridout, Blandford; Quarter Peal Donation, Simpson, Bucks.

2s. 6d.—Quarter Peal Donations, Thames Ditton, Surrey, Rotherfield, Sussex; W. C. Dowding, Birmingham; D. R. Carlisle, Risley; J. Plombe, King's Langley; J. T. Tyers, Dorchester.

2s.—A. Armstrong, Newport Pagnell.

1s.—Peal Donation, Downe, Kent.

HIS FIRST WAS A LONGEST LENGTH

This week we give details of a peal of 10,368 London Surprise Major at the Loughborough Bell Foundry which is the longest length in the method to be rung in the Diocese of Leicester. The peal went through without a hitch and bears out beliefs of some of the band of the 'myth' of this so-called Surprise method. Congratulations will be extended to W. Harry Duncombe, whose performance must rank unique, this being his first peal of London Surprise.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Rochdale Branch

The monthly meeting of the Rochdale Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at Oldham Parish Church on October 13th. Combined with this was an unveiling and dedication ceremony of a peal tablet recording the peal of Plain Bob Royal rung for the Centenary of the County Borough of Oldham in June, 1949.

Previous to the ceremony the beautifully mellow sounding bells of St. Mary's were rung in short touches of various methods from 3 p.m. At 4 p.m. all ringers filed into church for a short service conducted by the Venerable Archdeacon Stephenson. The address was given by the President of the Lancashire Association, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, whose theme was the close connection in the civic and ecclesiastical life of our towns.

After the service the unveiling of the tablet was performed by Alderman A. Marshall, who was Mayor of Oldham in the Centenary year. Archdeacon Stephenson then dedicated the tablet and an appropriate acknowledgment was given by Mr. F. Dunkerley, general secretary of the Association.

After the tea break and business meeting, the bells were once again set going by Branch members and visitors until almost 9 o'clock.

OUTINGS

WELLINGTON, SOMERSET

Punctually at midnight on Sunday, October 14th, Wellington ringers and their friends from other towers began the long journey to Messrs. J. Taylor and Co.'s Bell Foundry at Loughborough.

After travelling all night in dense fog the party was met by Mr. J. Fidler, of Taylor's, at the Loughborough Hotel. By the kindness of Mr. F. Harris, the hotel was made their headquarters for the day.

Following a hearty breakfast the party went to the Bell Foundry where Mr. P. Taylor and Mr. Fidler conducted them through the various departments and answered numerous questions. The next attraction was the bell tower on the Foundry roof, which contains a ring of ten bells (tenor 6½ cwt.). Here the unusually light weight of the smaller bells had many at a disadvantage, but after settling down, touches of Doubles, Major, Triples and Caters were brought round; also rounds for those who wished to 'get the feel' of the bells first.

A move was then made to the Parish Church where there is a ring of ten (tenor 30½ cwt.). Ringing here ranged from rounds to one of the highlights of the day, a really good course of Bob Royal. These bells were voted by the 'tower snatchers' to be among the best they had ever rung.

Lunch was next on the programme, so a general move was made towards headquarters, where first the local brew was sampled to the accompaniment of Grandsire Caters on handbells. After lunch the short journey was made to Shepshed, a large church with a small tower containing a ring of eight (tenor 15 cwt.) Rounds to Kent Major were rung on these lovely bells. Many found the noise in the ringing room rather disconcerting, but the music heard outside was first class.

Another seven miles and the coach dropped the party at Melbourne, in Derbyshire, famous for giving its name to the town in Australia. Here they found another ring of eight (tenor 15½ cwt.) hung in a central tower, the ropes falling through guides to a circle in the chancel. Ringing here was curtailed as the fog was again becoming evident, and was very thick on the run back to headquarters for tea.

After ham and salad, Mr. E. Barrington was asked to express the thanks of the party to Mr. Fidler, for his arrangements at the Loughborough end, and to Mr. D. North for his arrangements at Wellington. This he did in his usual genial manner, and a hurried departure was made in a real 'pea-souper.' The fog became really serious on the way home and resulted in the loss of about 1½ hours to the schedule. The outing will long be remembered

ST. MATTHEW'S, CLAPTON

Six towers were visited by the St. Matthew's Society, Clapton, on their second outing on October 6th. These were Bushey, King's Langley, Hemel Hempstead, Berkhamstead, Tring, and Beaconsfield. At the last-named tower a fire in a nearby public house kept the few non-ringers of the party of 23 interested while ringing took place.

A feature of the outing was that at all the churches (except the first and last) harvest festival preparations were in full swing. This made one realise what ample opportunities exist in these country churches for such a festival. They all looked very lovely. Clapton was reached at 10.30 after a very enjoyable day. Through the medium of 'The Ringing World' the party would like to thank all those who were waiting to welcome them, and also the incumbents.

WINTERTON, NORFOLK.—On Oct. 7th. 1.260 Minor (720 Plain Bob, 540 Oxford Bob): G. E. Larner 1, G. Powles 2, D. W. Green 3, R. G. Larner 4, J. R. Powles 5, R. E. Woodhouse (cond.) 6. For harvest festival.

FOR THE RANK AND FILE

(From one of them)

THE Editor at the Royal Cumberlands' annual dinner gave some facts about the efforts made to enable 'The Ringing World' to keep its head above water. It may do no harm to take a brief look at the position as it affects ringers generally.

'It is not too much to say that if 'The Ringing World' were to cease publication the loss to the Exercise would be a disaster of the first magnitude. It would be as though an almost impenetrable blind were drawn over towers and guilds and all ringing functions. The bells might continue to ring, but a deadly, unprogressive silence would envelop learners, experts, historians, tourists and all.

Imagine for a moment what it would mean for ringers to be without a periodical; without a medium for advertising meetings; for recording performances; for disseminating information about events all over the country; for the discussion of problems and the interchange of opinions; or for anything instructive. Without, too, a medium for gaining news of ringing friends at home and abroad; for reports of important gatherings, such as those of the Central Council; without the means of publicity for new methods or compositions and, therefore, with no avenue for a check upon achievements.

One is prepared to say without risk of contradiction that the existence of a ringing paper—particularly 'The Ringing World' since its foundation—has proved of incalculable benefit to the Exercise, mingled with which has been a weekly expectation, and even a thrill, to ringers far and near. More than that, it has been the means of linking guilds and individual ringers together in ways that would otherwise have been impossible.

Again, the development of modern means of transport has given many ringers increased opportunities for travelling to all parts of the country and, to such, the doings of their fellows have become full of interest; friendships have been formed, all kinds of encouragement have been absorbed, inferiority complexes have been broken down, and, through their journal, ringers can be said to have been cemented into a fraternity of far more than local significance. Is it not also true that the easier penetration of ringers into the most remote towers has made for a wider knowledge of change ringing and for a better understanding of the conditions which the guilds seek to promote?

Most of this was fully realised by the late Mr. Goldsmith, who with no little self-sacrifice laboured to build up an organ of communication for the Exercise. 'The Ringing World' is his monument. That cannot be allowed to collapse. Let all ringers rally to the cause of maintaining it! Aside from all criticisms which may be levelled at some of its contents from time to time, who will deny its usefulness; its necessity as the official journal of the Exercise; or its value as an aid to the encouragement of the highest standards among the ringers of the land?

These are but a few of the considerations which rise to the surface. Let ringers everywhere THINK ON THESE THINGS.

We ringers are, as it were, the scaffolding on which the Editorial Committee stand to build for our benefit. Shall we let them down by indifference, by meanness, or even by over-confidence? This is OUR paper and, however times may change, no one would wish this journal to be one of 'our little systems which have their day . . . and cease to be.'

'The Ringing World' has stood up to the test of 40 years against all menaces to its existence. We can do without many things, perhaps, but certainly not without this handmaid to the age-long art and science of bell-ringing.

WORCESTERSHIRE'S EXAMPLE

WHEN the Bishop of London held his Mission it was our pleasure to record the measure of co-operation that existed in many parts of his diocese by ringers in proclaiming the message of the bells—'Come to church, ye people.' This week the ringers of the Worcestershire and Districts Association have given a wonderful example and public demonstration of their service as church workers. On the opening day of the Bishop of Worcester's Mission, October 13th, a request was made that there should be a good ring in every tower on that afternoon. The event was well planned beforehand. The subject was ventilated at the annual meeting, and at the request of the Chaplain (the Rev. H. Hartley) a reminder was sent by the general secretary (Mr. J. D. Johnson) to each tower that wherever possible a peal be attempted, or where local conditions did not allow of this, at least a quarter peal. No fewer than eight peals were rung and a large number of quarters. We feel certain that other Associations and Guilds as opportunities arise would like to give similar demonstrations. Officers of Guilds should watch for circumstances of this character as they arise and not hesitate to approach diocesan authorities with suggestions.

WHICH HALF ARE YOU IN?

When the Government increased, last June, the postage on 'The Ringing World,' we appealed to postal subscribers to forward the extra 1s. 5d. to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent. So far, 515 subscribers have responded to this request, but there are 523 who have not. There is still time to be regarded as a member of the better half.

The Society of Roving Ringers' attempt for a peal of Stedman Cinques at Exeter Cathedral last Saturday was lost after an hour's good ringing. Unbeknown to the rest of the band, one of the ringers was not physically fit. Had this been known beforehand alternative arrangements would have been made.

Mr. R. F. B. Speed rang his 50th peal this year at Erith, on October 5th.

Miss Edna Sills, of Wrotham, Kent, has accepted an appointment at Radley College and has already been introduced into Oxford ringing circles.

The Yorkshire Association, at its meeting at Sherburn-in-Elmet on October 20th, extended congratulations to Mr. F. W. Dale, of Hessle, on having celebrated his golden wedding.

Congratulations to Mr. George Gilbert on ringing his 500th peal. His list includes 154 peals of Minor, 61 of Grandsire Triples and 57 of Plain Bob Major, due in a big measure to first-pealers, of which he is justly proud.

Although Plympton (Devon) bells were recast in 1936, a peal had not been rung on them until October 20th. The band were afterwards entertained to tea at the residence of Mr. W. G. Lavers, captain of the St. Maurice's ringers.

The ringers of Bedwellty, Mon., where the first peal for 18 years on the bells was recorded recently, are determined to get an eight-bell band of change ringers and at the moment, with a number of young learners, the prospect looks good. Last year at this time a 'peal' was rung with more than one cover bell which the Central Council could not recognise as a peal. Writes the tower's correspondent: 'We decided to abide by the rules and not call it a peal, but rather a "practice" peal.'

BELFRY

GOSSIP

The annual report of the Kent County Association has made a welcome re-appearance. Apart from surveying the activities of the past year in a comprehensive fashion, the report contains a list of towers in union with the Association, details of first performances of peals and compositions of first performances during the year. A guide of tower secretaries and practice nights will be of value to the many thousands of visitors to 'The Garden of England.'

The dedication of Ash Priors, Somerset, Church is Holy Trinity and not as stated on page 645.

The carillon at All Saints', Maidstone, which has been silent since 1945, is now functioning again. It can be heard at three-hourly intervals daily between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. except Sundays.

Previous to the peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Wednesbury on October 20th, only one peal in the method had been rung for the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford. This was at Walsall on November 29th, 1913. Mr. C. Wallater took part in both peals.

The Rector of Snodland, Kent, the Rev. A. E. Speers, has written some verses entitled 'The Old Church Bells' which he has dedicated to his ringers in grateful appreciation of their faithful service. The Rector is a ringer and the verses were sung at the service of the Maidstone District recently.

Eight members of the National Police Guild travelled a total distance of 840 miles to Hanbury, Worcestershire, to ring the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise for the Guild. The band would like to take this opportunity of expressing sincere thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Birch for their kind hospitality after the peal.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD DINNER

A Memorable Year Recalled

THE annual dinner of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at the Bars Hotel, Chester, on Saturday, October 13th. The Archdeacon of Chester presided and the chief guest of the evening was the Rev. E. V. Dawson, Vicar of Over, who kindly allowed the use of his bells for the record peal of 21,600 Bristol Surprise Major last year. Though the attendance was not so large as last year, the assembled company, drawn from five of the seven branches of the Guild, spent a very enjoyable evening.

Dinner over and the loyal toast having been given by the Master (Mr. J. W. Clarke), the Archdeacon proposed the toast of 'The Guild.' He recalled that he himself, in his younger days, had learned to handle a bell and to hunt the treble in 120 Doubles, but that his last effort was in celebration of the conclusion of the Boer War in 1902. He went on to say that it was one of his predecessors in office who founded the Guild—Archdeacon Barber—and who was Rector of the same parish of which the present secretary was incumbent.

In his reply, the Master thanked the Archdeacon and spoke of the prominent position the Guild now held in the Exercise, as evidenced by its recent achievements in scoring the record peal at Over and the silent peal of Spliced Surprise Major at Frodsham. He went on to speak of the meeting of the Central Council last May and of the appreciation expressed by delegates at the welcome accorded them at the Cathedral and the ample facilities for ringing in local towers (thanks to the efforts of Ralph Edwards). He then offered a hearty welcome to two veterans present—Sam Jones, sen., of Eccleston, and Robert Snerring, of St. Mary's-within-the-Walls. The latter, he said, had been closely associated with Archdeacon Barber. He ended by saying that the Guild must not relax its efforts to bring all towers in the diocese into union.

The toast of 'The Ladies' was entrusted to Mr. Walter Allman. In a racy and dramatic speech he explained that many ringers had dealings with bells in the tower and belles at home, and that in both cases they could be classified as heavy and light. He then proceeded to dilate on the former variety, giving concrete examples, not without some embarrassment to one or two of the ladies present.

Miss Frances Edgar replied, saying that in the Oxford University Guild the ladies had frequently found themselves in the majority and the toast was then 'The Gentlemen.' She had responded to the toast of 'The Ladies' on many occasions, but had never before responded to it when proposed in so dramatic a manner.

QUALITIES OF A CLERGYMAN

Mr. Kenneth C. Lewis undertook the toast of 'The Clergy' and gave an interesting outline of what, in his view, the qualities of a clergyman should be. He devised a somewhat original 'text' for his discourse:—A Bench of Bishops, a Deliberation of Deans, an Argument of Archdeacons, a Conscientiousness of Canons, a Record of Rectors, a Visitation of Vicars, and a Committee of Curates.

Under each heading he had something relevant to say, with suitable personal references, and no doubt the clergy present left the hotel equipped with a deeper knowledge of the commitments of their sacred calling and a firm determination to carry them out more faithfully, and encouraged by his kindly words not to fail their fellow workers in the belfry.

The Rev. E. V. Dawson, in his reply, said but for the kindness of Walter Allman, who had just offered to take him home, he would have had to leave earlier and the toast of 'The Ladies' would have been deferred till after his departure. This would have been a major disaster as he would have missed Walter's speech, which had given him an insight into the home life of ringers of which he, a bachelor, would never otherwise have been aware. He added that he was proud to have had the world's record peal rung in his own tower.

The Master next gave the toast of 'The Ringers of the Record Peal,' six of whom were present, to which Mr. John Worth, the conductor, suitably replied. The secretary (the Rev. J. Kingdon) said a brief word of welcome to the visitors and reported apologies from the Bishops of Chester, Stockport and Liverpool, and the Dean, and read a letter of greeting from the secretary of the Lancashire Association (Mr. Fred Dunckerley), who was unfortunately unable to be present. He also expressed the pleasure of all present at having with them a veteran ringer from across the Mersey—Mr. George R. Newton, who for years had been closely associated with the Chester Guild.

The speeches were interspersed with handbells and songs. John Worth had arranged the former, and together with John E. Bibby, Ralph G. Edwards, Peter Laffin and C. Kenneth Lewis, rang courses of Grandire Caters, Bob Royal, Little Bob Royal, Oxford Treble Bob Royal and Spliced Plain and Little Bob, the last being particularly good. There was no professional entertainer this time. His place was taken by an Eccleston ringer, Harry Thomas, whose comic songs afforded much pleasure and amusement, especially 'The Village Pump,' in the chorus of which all joined heartily, some just vocally, some with appropriate action.

Before closing, the Master thanked the handbell ringers and Mr. Thomas for their contribution to the enjoyment of the evening, and the secretary for his work in organising the dinner.

ST. AMBROSE, BRISTOL

St. Ambrose Ringing Guild held its first Ringers' Sunday on October 21st, and judging by comments from various people it was very much appreciated and is likely to be a regular feature in the Guild's activity.

Fifteen members and three visitors communicated at 8 a.m., which was preceded by ringing. Breakfast followed in the Parish Hall, and ringing for morning and evening services.

About 40 ringers and friends attended the evening service which included an anthem by the choir, handbell ringing (a course of Bob Major, well struck) by the Guild, and ringers' hymns. The address was given by the Rev. Vincent C. Castle, Vicar of Coalpit Heath, who is himself a ringer in the learner stage, but, judging by his sermon, the theme of which was striking, it will not be long before he becomes an accomplished ringer.

Amongst those present were Mr. W. Lansdowne, first captain of the Guild; Mr. A. T. Maggs, captain for 17 years; and the present captain, Mr. G. C. Baker; also Mr. John G. Jefferies, Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association; and Mr. C. R. Harding, vice-president and chairman of the Bristol Rural Branch, and Mrs. Harding. The offertory for the whole day, which amounted to over £6, was devoted to the Guild fund for new bellropes, etc.

THE OCTOGENARIANS 'Better Luck Next Time'

A peal by octogenarian ringers has yet to be rung. The attempt on Saturday, October 20th, at St. John's Church, Deptford, failed.

The attempt created widespread interest not only in the Exercise but with the general public. Before the start, the Vicar (the Rev. W. G. Lee) came into the well-appointed ringing chamber and was introduced to each ringer. He gave them a few words of encouragement, and other ringers present, who included Mr. W. H. Hewett and Mr. F. W. Richardson, wished them luck. Doors were bolted and a start was made at 4.10 p.m. for Plain Major. The first try lasted 30 minutes and the second about one hour.

The band stood as follows:—A. E. Reeves (Westminster) 1, I. Emery (Bromley) 2, F. Bennett (conductor, Brighton) 3, W. H. B. Wilkins (Oxford) 4, R. Stannard (Barking) 5, W. J. Nudds (Edgware) 6, F. Blondell (Twickenham) 7, G. H. Daynes (Greenwich) 8.

At the conclusion of the ringing, the veterans with a few friends, were entertained in the adjoining Church Hall by the churchwardens, right royally.

After justice had been done to the good things provided, the Vicar voiced his own disappointment with the veterans, and most kindly gave permission for the bells to be used at some future date, should another attempt be made.

Then the handbells came out, and touches of Grandire and Stedman were rung, everyone agreeing that St. John's handbells were a nice-toned lot. Well, all good things come to an end, and it was time to say 'Goodnight,' with better luck next time. F. W. R.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION New Subscription Carried

A general meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held on October 20th in St. Clement's Hall, Norwich. This was preceded by ringing at St. George Colegate, and a service conducted by the general secretary (the Rev. A. G. Thurlow) in this church. Forty-six members were present from King's Lynn, Kettering, Burton Latimer, Snettisham, Norwich, Caister-on-Sea, Beccles, Buxton, New Buckenham, Diss, Bunwell, Hethersett, Mulbarton, Great Yarmouth, Wymondham, Fornett St. Peter, Doncaster, Loughborough, Pakefield, Northrepps, Pulham, North Creak, Caston, Bergh Apton, Fakenham and Blo' Norton. After a nice tea, the president (the Rev. A. St. J. Heard) took the chair, and the important business which had called the meeting together was discussed.

The general secretary said he had submitted the proposed new Service Book prepared by the Guildford Guild, to the Bishop of Norwich, who had approved of it.

The difficulty of producing the annual report at present prices was discussed. It was stated that it was being found possible to produce the 1950 report in 40 pages instead of 72 which should reduce the cost by about two-thirds. The Report Sub-Committee was empowered to carry on, on these lines, and to reconsider the format of the report when the financial position is known at the end of the year.

In accordance with the notice of motion at the previous general meeting, it was proposed to raise the annual subscription to 5s. (keeping to 2s. 6d. for those under 16). The North, East and South Norfolk Branches were stated to have unanimously supported this at their Branch meetings, though West Norfolk had not been unanimous. The general meeting carried this, with two dissentients. The general secretary made a fervent appeal for more subscribers to 'The Ringing World.'

Ringing took place afterwards at St. George Colegate and at Mancroft, whose Vicar had been made an honorary canon at Cathedral evensong that day.

OBITUARY

MR. GEORGE BARKUS

The death occurred on October 13th at the age of 77 years of Mr. George Barkus, for over 50 years a ringer at Slough (Bucks) Parish Church. A native of Goring, Oxon, Mr. Barkus joined the Great Western Railway and became an engine driver. He was transferred to South Wales and after a few years' service there, moved to Slough, where he spent the rest of his life, retiring just before the war.

For many years a 'tenor man,' Mr. Barkus ultimately took up change ringing and mastered the standard methods, ringing peals of Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob. He was a genial, retiring countryman, beloved by all, and when his railway duties permitted, was always present for Sunday ringing and the weekly practice. His last peal was rung on Boxing Day, 1937, at his own tower.

Although he had not rung for several months on account of dizziness when ascending the belfry stairs, he frequently visited the tower to chat with the ringers, and it was only two or three weeks before his death that he last came. He entered Upton Hospital, Slough, about a fortnight before his death.

Slough bells were rung half-muffled the following day, and a quarter peal of Grandsire Caters on the evening of his funeral unfortunately came to grief towards the end. The wreaths included one from his fellow-ringers, among whom the following represented the Oxford Diocesan Guild at his funeral: W. W. Wolstencroft, F. G. Groombridge (Slough), E. E. Gosling (Maidenhead).

MR. M. F. R. HIBBERT

Mr. Maurice F. R. Hibbert, of Bushey, Herts., died on October 22nd, aged 63, as a result of cerebral hæmorrhage which occurred while asleep.

He learned to ring at Bushey in 1902 and became a member of the Hertford County Association in 1903. Up to the time of writing it has not been convenient to have access to his carefully-kept records, but it is known he rang approximately 300 peals including many new and spliced methods. He was a first-class ringer, keen on good striking and at home on any number of bells, yet he was always ready to help a learner. He was a conductor of no mean order with an unrivalled memory and he delighted in all sorts of complicated peals in various methods.

Bushey bells were rung half-muffled the night before the funeral, which took place at Golders Green Crematorium on October 26th. Messrs. J. E. Rootes, H. Hodgetts, C. Evans, S. H. Hoare and A. W. Coles attended to pay tribute and last respects, representing respectively the local band, the District members and the Middlesex County Association. S. H. H.

THE REV. D. G. SMITH

Although not himself a great method ringer, the Rev. Douglas Gerard Smith, who passed away in the Victoria Hospital, Burnley, on October 24th, after an illness of some four months, had a life-time's interest in bells and ringers.

Starting to ring as a boy at Sandiacre, Derbyshire, where his father, the late Daniel Smith, was Rector, he never lost his interest in ringing. As a curate at Ripley he rang his only peal, Grandsire Triples, in 1908, and subsequently as Rector of Yardley Hastings (1928-33) and Vicar of Heanor (1933-46), he lent active support to the Peterborough Diocesan Guild and the Midland Counties Association. On his retirement he went to live at Crawshawbooth, Lancashire, in 1949, in the parish where his son, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, President of the Lancashire Association, is Vicar.

The funeral service took place in the Parish Church at Heanor, on October 26th, and was followed by cremation at Wilford Hill, Nottingham.

SUNDERLAND PARISH CHURCH

Rededication Ceremony

In the old part of Sunderland, towards the docks, an area which has seen much slum clearance but where much old property remains, is Sunderland Parish Church. The surroundings could hardly be called attractive but these seemed to fade from the picture as one looked for the first time on Wednesday, October 17th, through the west door into that church with its lights ablaze, the plate set out on the altar and the whole building with a spick and span appearance after its repairs and redecoration.

The large congregation, including civic dignitaries, had come that evening for the service of thanksgiving and rededication for the restoration of the church and bells. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. S. Troop, and the Lord Bishop of Jarrow, the Right Rev. John A. Ramsbotham, M.A., preached and conducted the rededication.

The Bishop began his service by congratulating the parish upon the beauty of its newly-restored church and said that it might feel justly proud of the outcome of its efforts. He felt that the care of our parish churches was something that mattered a great deal in our national religious life, for if we neglected these wonderful buildings then it would not be long before we started to neglect our religion itself.

It was to the bells that he devoted the greatest part of his address. He recalled memories of church bells at various stages throughout his life. The first was associated with the bells of the parish church where he lived as a boy. The next when he lived for many years near St. Paul's Cathedral, and he recalled many State occasions in which the bells had played their part. Then he came within the sound of another famous ring, at Wells Cathedral, and he told of how the Angelus had been rung there, maintaining an unbroken tradition over centuries. Two parishes where he served after this had bells. In the first, he followed a keen ringer who had rather neglected the religious life of the parish in favour of ringing. (He understood that his predecessor's Confirmation classes were held principally in the belfry!) In the second, he recalled how the bells had unwittingly been left up during 'the ban,' and how the accumulation of foreign matter had been disgorged during the ringing after Alamein, much to the discomfiture of the ringers. Now he lived close

MR. W. W. CHAMBERS

The death occurred recently at St. Mary's Hospital, Newport, Isle of Wight, of Mr. William Wilfred Chambers, aged 76. He was a native of the Island and a ringer of 60 years standing at Carisbrooke during the early part of the century and latterly at Newport.

The funeral took place at St. Paul's Church, where members of the local band rang courses of Grandsire Triples on handbells round the grave.

DEATH OF MR. TOM GROOMBRIDGE

We regret to announce the death on Monday of Mr. Tom Groombridge, a former Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, aged 84 years.

Mr. Groombridge had been living with his son Fred at Slough. The funeral will take place at the Church of the Annunciation Chislehurst, on Friday at 2.15 p.m.

to Durham Cathedral and regularly heard its bells.

In his concluding remarks he reminded his hearers of the difficulties and dangers that beset them and the great need for Christianity in the world to-day.

The Bishop conducted the dedication from the pulpit and the service concluded with a processional hymn, the Te Deum and the Blessing.

After the service, touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung by members of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, stationed as follows:—W. F. Sheraton treble, K. Pickering 2, Miss M. Fidell 3, R. Bell 4, J. A. Brown 5, D. A. Bayles 6, F. Ainsley 7, W. Armour tenor.

The church itself has been repaired after its war damage, principally plastering and repairing of windows, and redecorated throughout. One of the architects responsible for the work was Miss Margaret Fidell, Bachelor of Architecture, who is well known in ringing circles.

The bells and their weights, as given in the special form of service, are as follows:—

Treble	F	4 cwt.	2 qr.	10 lb.
2	E	4 cwt.	3 qr.	3 lb.
3	D	5 cwt.	2 qr.	21 lb.
4	C	6 cwt.	2 qr.	0 lb.
5	B fl	7 cwt.	0 qr.	7 lb.
6	A	8 cwt.	2 qr.	7 lb.
7	G	9 cwt.	3 qr.	21 lb.
Tenor	F	13 cwt.	2 qr.	14 lb.

The bells were cast in 1829 by Thomas Mears, of Whitechapel Bell Foundry, the treble and No. 2 being given by the Rev. Robert Gray, Rector of Sunderland. In 1900 the bells were quarter turned and rehung with completely new fittings and oak framework, a new floor being laid on the old beams.

The present restoration has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, Whitechapel Bell Foundry. The treble and No. 2 have been recast and the remaining six bells cleaned by sandblast and then retuned. New staples have been fitted and the bells rehung and provided with self-aligning ball bearings and other necessary new parts.

The total cost of the work will be about £650, towards which approximately £500 has been received to date. Donations will be gratefully received by the Rector and churchwardens.

It is hoped to arrange for an Association meeting to be held at this church in early December to give ringers an opportunity to try out the bells for themselves.

40 YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of November 3rd, 1911

SIX HANDBELL PEALS IN SIX DAYS

Unique Performance at Guildford

The handbell men at Guildford have loomed large this year in the eye of the Exercise but last week they eclipsed all their previous performances by ringing six handbell peals of Stedman Caters on six consecutive evenings. They began on Monday and finished on Saturday and 'bagged' a peal every night. It was all sixes; six days, six peals, six composers, six different lengths, rung in six different places on six different sets of handbells and after, curiously enough, six false starts. On the Monday night . . . there was not a hitch. On Tuesday a bob at five crept in a course too soon and a second start had to be made. On each of the next three nights, to ensure perfectly clean peals, a second start was made with the going-off course, and the last peal of all was rung at the third attempt. The result was six excellent peals, verified by four umpires. At the conclusion the band congratulated Mr. A. H. Pulling on the skilful way he conducted the week's ringing.

RINGING TRIPS IN DEVON

There is a side to ringing which does not perhaps appeal to 'peal' ringers or tower 'snatchers,' yet it is a type of tower 'grabbing.'

During the past summer our 'family party' of about 20 ringers and friends has visited 40 towers and has rung the bells of as many village churches. We have enjoyed the countryside and we have dipped into the historic past.

We have admired such churches as Abbotsham, a gem of early English architecture, where its early English tower contains a bell (tenor) with the unusual inscription 'yemosjinary' reversed and repeated nine times, Bratton Clovelly, a relic of the artistry of the Decorated period, and Hartland, with its tallest tower in Devon (128 feet) and beautiful Perpendicular period church containing probably the noblest rood screen in the county.

On the old Taylor six we rang probably the last six-score ever on the bells, because they are now in the foundry, and we trust a noble eight will soon peal from the magnificent tower. We have admired the bells at Ilstington, the handy sixes at North Bovey, Manaton, Lustleigh and Widdecombe, all near the heart of Dartmoor. We have been to Bishopsnympton, Knowstone and Rackenford, near the foothills of Exmoor. We have rung on Pennington sixes at Atherington, Drewsteignton and Black Torrington, where we wondered at the deep note of the 8 cwt. 3 qr. 9 lb. tenor; we admired the lovely Gillett and Johnston bells at Bishopsnympton and Sandford as well as the Taylor rings at Roborough and Marystowe.

We appreciate the kindly interest shown us by the villagers wherever we met them nor shall we forget the curiosity when three of our lady members (Mrs. Miles, Miss Gilbert and Miss Boyle) stood in for Minor and rang with ease the bells which the local ladies had thought hard work for their strong men.

Round ringers understand rising and falling: they like the tenor as a big drum. So it is that good striking, raising and falling have been the order, and when Prebendary E. V. Cox, the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews and Messrs. Myers are ringing, we do not disappoint the villagers. Some, even Superlative ringers, have been told off. Though touches of Plain Bob, Kent and Cambridge were rung, Doubles and Triples were mostly in the programme. We have read in 'The Ringing World' that certain round ringers had never before heard change ringing. The answer is that all five-, six- and eight-bell towers in Devon have been visited more than once by change ringing bands. Prebendary E. V. Cox, Messrs. Myers and the writer of these notes have visited well over 200 of the 250 six-bell towers and all but a very few of the eight-bell towers. Mr. A. W. Searle has visited them all.

We hope that a fine summer will favour us next year when we hope to be able to say that most of our 'family party' have visited all the six- and eight-bells towers of our glorious county.

ARCHDEACON DEDICATES PEAL BOARD

A peal board was dedicated in the belfry of the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Dallington, Northampton, on October 21st, by the Archdeacon of Northampton. The board was unveiled by Mr. Eric Nobles, the captain of the tower.

The peals included one of Doubles, the first rung with a Sunday service band and contained four first peals. This performance was on March 10th, 1951.

At the dedication festival of Dallington Church, on October 14th, the ringers rang for every service, starting with half-an-hour before the 8 a.m. Holy Communion, at which the entire band communicated. Ringing was resumed at 8.35 for the 9 a.m. Holy Eucharist and at 10.30 for matins at 11 a.m. For evensong a quarter peal was rung and, according to custom at Dallington for all festivals, after evensong.

MAIDSTONE DISTRICT REVIEW PAST YEAR

The company of 50 which assembled at All Saints', Maidstone, on October 13th, for the annual District meeting included ringers from 14 District towers with visitors from nine more in other parts of the county and beyond. We were especially glad to welcome among us Mr. F. M. Mitchell, our general treasurer. Ringing during the day was varied, inevitably, with younger ringers gaining experience of ten bells on a difficult ring. But encouraged, they persevered and improved. The course of Superlative preceding tea was the best effort, though Little Bob Royal and Cambridge Royal were among other methods rung capably.

Tea was served by a group of wives in the College Room, our hosts being the Vicar and ringers of All Saints'. While tables were cleared the October issue of 'The Belfry' was distributed and then business was embarked upon under the expert guidance of Canon Sampson.

After the minutes, the election of Mr. Peter Border, Mr. Rodney B. Meadows and Miss Elizabeth Roe to non-resident life membership was ratified; all members of the Oxford University Society, they had come to ring peals for the recent wedding of Miss Betty Spice, daughter of our general secretary, Mr. G. H. Spice.

The secretary then gave his report. A total membership of 180 showed little change from 1950; deaths, lapses and departures from the District being balanced by the influx of new young blood. The passing of four old and loyal members was recalled: Mr. C. H. Sone, of Linton, Mr. C. F. Good, of Charing, Mr. A. E. Gasson, of All Saints', and Mr. A. Coleman, of Hollingbourne. There was no change in tower affiliation but there were encouraging happenings now going on at Harrietsham and Lenham.

District activities during Festival year were then reviewed. Attendances at meetings had improved over 1950, and at the May, July and September meetings the public were invited by tastefully-executed posters. The District Festival peal of Maidstone Bob at Aylesford was rung for the 21st birthday of Princess Margaret.

After the presentation of a financial statement the meeting passed to the election of officers for 1952. Dr. E. S. J. Hatcher was re-elected District Secretary, and Mr. A. Waddington as District Representative on the Central Committee. Mr. G. F. Cantrill did not seek re-election, however, and Mr. W. R. Manser, of Barming, was elected a representative in his place.

The programme of meetings for 1952 was then approved without modification and a new cover design for the District Magazine adopted. Finally came consideration of a suggestion that touches exceeding 700 changes rung for services should be briefly recorded in the printed annual report of the Association. It was unanimously resolved that the District representatives should put forward this proposal at the November general committee meeting.

After giving expression of their appreciation of the hospitality and welcome given them that day, the company reassembled for evensong in the choir of All Saints'. The service was beautiful throughout, handbells and special hymns and prayers stamping it with the mark of ringers. For the first time was sung some verses written for 'The Belfry' by the Rev. A. E. Speers, Rector of Snodland, and dedicated to his own ringers in gratitude of their faithful service.

So back again to the ringing chamber until 9 p.m.

E. S. J. H.

1,000 More Readers Wanted!

The Editorial Committee invite the help of all who have the welfare of 'The Ringing World' at heart to obtain at least another thousand Postal subscribers.

If the costs of the production of the paper could be spread over this increased number of readers it might be possible to avoid an increase in the price of the paper.

Every possible economy is being made, and advertisers are paying more for their space, but the recent increase in the cost of paper (£27/10/0 per ton) puts an additional strain on our resources.

Here is a chance for every ringer who wishes to help to do something practical. Talk about the paper at your meetings, and help us to rope in at least another 1,000 Postal subscribers. It can be done with your help. What about making a present of a quarterly, half-yearly or yearly subscription to someone whom you know does not take 'The Ringing World'? Fill in the form below and send to J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

To the Editorial Committee, 'The Ringing World.'

ANOTHER AUSTRALIAN RINGING TOUR

Adelaide Ringers at Ballarat and Melbourne

FOLLOWING the example of the St. Jude's, Randwick (N.S.W.), team, which made the first inter-State ringing tour just over a year ago, a group of eight ringers from Adelaide (South Australia) visited Ballarat and Melbourne, in Victoria, over the long week-end beginning on October 6th.

At 6.40 p.m. on Friday, October 5th, the eight ringers left Adelaide in the 'Melbourne Express'. The team consisted of five members from the St. Andrew's Guild of Ringers, namely, Hervey Bagot, Philip Cooper, Jonathan Eggleton, Richard Lamphree and Fred Staude; to these were added Ron Nogare (a University ringer), Fred Smeaton (formerly from Bexhill-on-Sea, Sussex) and Albert Lancefield, who is at present touring Australia.

We arrived at our first destination, Ballarat, at 7 a.m. on Saturday, after nearly 12 hours' train travelling. After breakfast we were met by Mr. G. Waldron, captain of the St. Peter's Bellringers' Society, and other Ballarat ringers. As we were not due to ring until 9.30 a.m., we spent the next hour looking over the city, which is celebrating its centenary. This city was the centre of the 1850 gold rush, and many of the mines can still be seen, as well as the Eureka Stockade, where fighting took place between miners and Government troops in 1854. The party went to see Christ Church Cathedral, where Jon. Eggleton's father had been Vicar before coming to St. Andrew's, our own parish in Adelaide. After this we strolled leisurely towards the City Hall, where we were met by members of the Ballarat Bellringers' Club, who summon the city's worshippers to church every Sunday morning.

Firstly we climbed to the top of the tower up a dark, spiral staircase, which took abrupt and unexpected right-angled turns—too frequently for some of our party's liking. Eventually, however, we reached the top and saw below us the whole of Ballarat. It was a wonderful view. Learning from our experience in ascending the stairs, we went down them again with greater care, breaking our journey to see the bells themselves. These are a fine ring of eight by Mears and Stainbank (tenor 22 cwt. 3 qr 21 lb. in E flat).

By ten a.m. we were ready to raise the bells; it went well, and we tried them out with a course of Bob Triples. The tone of the bells was very good and we all felt that our intended quarter peal of Bob Triples would be a real success. At 10.30 a.m. four ringers from Melbourne arrived. They were Philip and Joan Gray, Brenda Sheppard (from Mangotsfield, Bristol) and Mr. Alan Bennett. It was suggested that we try some Grandsire Triples, and so we did, once again the striking being fairly good. Just before we began our quarter peal we rang a course of Bob Major, and this went so well that we decided to ring this method for our quarter—and so, as our last ringing on these bells, we rang a quarter peal of Bob Major; the first for four of the Adelaide ringers. Bob Minor, Major and Royal were also rung 'in hand.'

MAYORAL WELCOME

By this time it was just midday and the Mayor of Ballarat, who had arrived before the quarter finished, welcomed us, saying that it was the first time he had really seen ringers at work. We felt rather honoured that the Mayor remained in the tower throughout the quarter. A plentiful supply of cool drinks and sandwiches was provided for us by the Ballarat Bellringers' Club and, after thanking them for their kind hospitality, the team left the City Hall and went to St. Peter's Church, about one mile further on in the main street.

The ringers at St. Peter's have only recently begun to learn change ringing and, like most Australian towers, are so isolated that progress is very difficult. One of the main ideas behind this trip was to give these young enthusiasts as much practice in hunting as we could. The bells, also by Mears and Stainbank, are a ring of six with two lighter bells hung dead. For nearly 36 years the bells have been chimed but now change ringing is beginning. We soon found that there was far too much noise in the ringing chamber; conductors had to yell very loudly to make themselves heard. The ropes, purchased for £1 from another tower not now ringing, were rather a mixture of thick, thin, soft and coarse ropes. A quarter peal was quite out of the question and so we gave most of the time to helping the local people, whom we put on the treble while we rang Bob and Grandsire Doubles. A bit of Bob Minor was rung, and the highlight of our ringing here was a course of Cambridge Surprise Minor, the first by an Australian band.

At 4 p.m. the Mayor appeared once more and, still showing interest in our art, thanked us for coming and said that our visit had aroused considerable interest in the city. As our train left at 4.45 p.m. for Melbourne, we soon had to say goodbye to these enthusiastic pioneers and wished them the best of luck in their future progress. It should not be long before they can ring simple Doubles methods. The Mayor somehow managed to fit the eight of us into his car and drove us to the station in time for our train.

Having been kept at our task since ten in the morning till four in the afternoon, we were feeling very tired as the train took us the extra 70 miles to Melbourne. We arrived there at 7 p.m. and soon found our lodgings, which were very near to St. Paul's Cathedral, our rendezvous for Sunday.

On the Sunday morning, we woke up, quite unintentionally, at 6 o'clock and, having nothing better to do, we decided to get washed and dressed. About 7 p.m. we began touring the city, first of all looking at the stately Cathedral of St. Paul. We went to an early Communion service at St. Peter's Church, Eastern Hill, just opposite St. Patrick's R.C. Cathedral. After the service we went back to the Y.M.C.A. for breakfast, and then on to St. Paul's at 10 o'clock. These bells are also by Mears and Stainbank and are easily the best-toned bells in Australia. They are a ring of 13 with a 31½ cwt. tenor. After meeting the St. Paul's ringers and being welcomed by the Dean of Melbourne, we had our first experience of ringing on 12 bells, even though it was only rounds. Then followed a course of Grandsire Caters (the first for most of the Adelaide ringers), a touch of Grandsire Triples and some Doubles. This was all in preparation for a quarter peal attempt in the evening. After the ringing the visiting team split up into various groups, some to see friends, some sight-seeing and some remained talking to the ringers at the Cathedral.

FIRST PEAL FOR U.A. IN AUSTRALIA

In the afternoon some of us met again in the belfry for an attempt for a peal of Bob Major 'in hand.' After a few false starts we eventually won through and rang the first such peal ever to be rung in Australia; it was also the first peal for the Universities Association in Australia. The peal finished about 5 p.m. and we were whisked off to Philip Gray's home for a quick tea before our quarter peal attempt.

Arriving back at the Cathedral we found the rest of the band there, and off we went for a quarter of Grandsire Triples with five of the Adelaide ringers in. It was a glorious quarter with almost perfect striking and was the best ringing in the whole trip. This finished, the ringers sat around in the large belfry and had a good chat about all sorts of things. Soon, however, the handbell enthusiasts were at it again, this time ringing Bob Major on a huge set of handbells, the tenor being at least nine inches in diameter. It was almost as strenuous as tower bell ringing.

On Monday our official programme consisted only of a visit to St. Patrick's R.C. Cathedral. This is a really glorious Cathedral architecturally, and it is a great pity that its eight bells cannot be referred to likewise. We reached the Cathedral about 10 a.m. and found our way into a dimly-lit ringing chamber. Never before had any of us seen such peculiar belfropes. Most of the sallies were three or four inches thick and completely unwieldy. We were almost glad that we didn't ring the bells, which were cast by Murphy, of Dublin. The bells are in a very bad state, hung anti-clockwise, and no changering is done on them, although they are rung in a desultory fashion on Sundays. The more courageous travellers ventured to climb up to the top of the spire, about 150 feet above the ground.

After this the party once more split up into small groups. Four ringers went on a bus trip to the nearby Dandenong Ranges in the afternoon, while 'the intellectuals' visited the University, the Public Library and the Art Gallery (where three original Rembrandts and a Van Eyck were seen). The musical members found their way to music shops and then on to St. Peter's Church again to 'have a go' at the organ there.

We all met again at 6 p.m. for a quick dinner and then to the railway station to catch the 7 p.m. train back to Adelaide. Another 12 hours' train travelling was before us and we were well equipped with apples, oranges, cool drinks and still the inevitable supply of humour from our men-of-the-world.

And so, for us, a great adventure had finished. For many of us it was the first time we had rung Major or Triples and this experience will urge us on to the same of our own accord.

A special vote of thanks is due to Philip Gray, whose able (and even humorous) conducting enabled so many of us to benefit greatly from the trip. We also thank the captains and steeplekeepers of the City Hall and St. Peter's Church, Ballarat, as well as those of St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne. To Hervey Bagot we owe our successful accommodation, and to the whole team I express my gratitude for its whole-hearted co-operation throughout the entire trip in which we covered well over 1,000 miles.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Bicester Deanery Branch

The quarterly meeting of the Bicester Deanery Branch was held at Stratton Audley on October 20th. The five bells of the Parish Church were rung from 2.30 p.m. to Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles.

The Branch service was conducted by the Rev. G. S. Addison, the lesson read by the Guild's Deputy Master, Mr. F. Sharpe, and the Rev. Hugh Benson (vice-president) preached an excellent sermon.

After a splendid tea, which was provided by the wives of the local ringers and served in the Rectory, the business meeting was presided over by the Branch president, the Rev. C. Cowland Cooper.

It was decided to make a donation to the General Guild Funds and the appeal from 'The Ringing World' was put to the members.

Some 28 members and friends attended the meeting representing the following towers:—Shirley and Hadley Heath (Birmingham), Bicester, Launton, Piddington, Stratton Audley, Islip, Middleton Storey and Souldern.

The bells of Bicester were rung in the evening to Grandsire Doubles and Triples.

South Oxon Branch

Fourteen new members, including seven from the historic village of Chalgrove, were elected at the meeting of the South Oxfordshire Branch on October 13th.

Capt. Poyntz, late Deputy Master, was present, and also Mr. Alan B. Pink. The latter made an appeal to the clergy to try and meet the ringers 'half-way' in respect to ringers attending divine service after ringing. He pointed out that even now comparatively few clergy were seen in the belfries, while ringers, on the other hand, generally attended divine worship now far more than a few years ago.

THE SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION

There was a good turnout of ringers including two young men from Swindon, at present stationed at Rosyth with the Royal Navy, at the half-yearly meeting of the Scottish Association which was held on October 13th at St. John's Church, Alloa.

This ring, with a tenor of 13 cwt., is the lightest in Scotland and it is therefore a great change from the other towers ranging from one to two tons. The opportunity was taken by most ringers of trying methods unfamiliar to themselves, and because of this the striking was not always of the best. Apart from rounds, the methods rung included Grandsire, Stedman and Erin Triples, Plain Bob and Kent, and eventually, after much perseverance, a course of Cambridge came round.

During the afternoon the Rector, Canon G. K. Sturrock Clarke, showed the ringers over the beautiful church and pointed out many of the interesting features, especially the carving in the chancel and the metal sanctuary screen by Sir Robert Lorimer.

The next meeting is to be held in Edinburgh on April 26th.

SILENT PEALS

Sir,—No doubt others besides myself expected a letter, in last week's issue, of denial or explanation from Leicester, after the Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths' comment at their dinner that everyone was allowed to talk in their so-called silent peals. Personally, I cannot see the reason for claiming them as silent. In our Exercise we are free to please ourselves and if a band wish to ring a no-call peal, they are quite at liberty to do so but not to call it silent. They should say 'No Bobs called.' I sincerely hope the band will withdraw the claim as, after the Master's statement, the value of those four silent Surprise peals has gone.

A. H. PULLING.

Guildford.

THE HESSE MEMORIAL

WEEK-END

Ringers from several parts of the country gathered together at Wrington on October 19th and 20th for the annual week-end in commemoration of the late Major J. H. B. Hesse, who did so much for Wrington and its bells.

Activities commenced with a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Wells on Friday evening, conducted by Mr. J. T. Dyke, and on Saturday afternoon a good peal of Stedman Caters was rung in 3 hours 21 minutes on Wrington's noble ten, this being conducted by Mr. J. T. Thomas.

At the conclusion of the peal Mrs. Hesse entertained the party to tea at the Red Lion Hotel, when Mr. E. J. Taylor made a short speech thanking her for her hospitality, and Mrs. Hesse suitably replied. This concluded the proceedings, although several of the party stayed on at Wrington to ring for Sunday morning service.

The company included Mesdames Knight and Thomas and Messrs. E. Chivers, R. Beck, L. Derrick, J. T. Dyke, S. Green, H. W. Knight, A. Reeves, H. Sanger, E. J. Taylor, J. Thomas and A. Tyler.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

Test Ringing at Gorran

A meeting of the Mid-Cornwall Branch of the Guild was held at Gorran on October 20th when about 60 members attended. The gathering was well supported by clergy, those present being Canon F. F. Gilbert (St. Stephen-in-Brannel), Branch Secretary, Canon J. M. Simcock (St. Gluvias), who preached the sermon, the Rev. J. R. Jose (Vicar of Gorran), who conducted the service, and the Revs. W. H. R. Trewhella (Diocesan secretary), A. S. Roberts (Carbis Bay), R. R. Jenkin (St. Mewan) and S. J. Rust (St. Ewe).

The six bells at Gorran and St. Ewe were rung until service time, tea followed, and at approximately 6.15 p.m. the test ringing commenced. This continued during the evening, the judge being Mr. C. E. Lanxon, who should have been assisted by Mr. W. H. Southeard (Diocesan Ringing Master), but he was unavoidably absent through illness. The test ringing, which places the various bands in first, second or third class, consisted of rising and falling, ringing rounds from the set position, and certain 'touches' of call changes, and is not competitive.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

A combined meeting of the North-West District with the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association and the Ladies' Guild (Central District), at Epsom on September 22nd, again proved a great success. Visitors arrived in glorious sunshine at Christ Church, Epsom Common, and ringing continued here until 4.45. Over 50 ringers sat down to tea at the Granada. Mr. F. E. Collins, in a few words, welcomed the visitors and Mr. P. Corby, in reply, thanked the District for the welcome and arrangements made. Ringing followed at St. Martin's.

OUTING

ISLE OF WIGHT DISTRICT

Members and friends of the Isle of Wight District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild recently held their first annual outing for many years and the experiment proved so popular that the next one is eagerly anticipated.

The party crossed to Lymington by the first boat in the morning and there commenced a tour of the New Forest; ringing being enjoyed at Brockenhurst, Lyndhurst, Romsey, where there was a break for lunch, Ringwood, where it was time for tea, and Hordle. The ringing everywhere was of a very high standard, and, having been blessed by a lovely autumn day, the party returned, completely happy and satisfied, to the Island.

IRREGULAR METHODS

Dear Sir,—The list of all irregular methods contained in your leading article of October 19th is very picturesque; I almost expected to find among them Morning Exercise, London Nightingale, Evening Delight, Imperial Bob, Wild Goose Chase and A Cure for Melancholy. These methods were mentioned by H. Rhodes as being rung in London during the 17th century in his book 'The Sport of Gentlemen.'

I wonder if 'A Cure for Melancholy' was effective. I give the first lead here:—

SPLICING OF TRIPLES METHODS

By JOHN SEGAR

THE quarter peal below of 1,260 changes has the seventh called eighteen times Before and once Wrong. There are eleven Triples methods with a bell in the hunt. These figures will take any number of methods from two to eleven, but cannot be used for one method only. Two scales are used for bobs at 5 either 532746 or 532467. Five methods (Grandsire, Double Grandsire and Reverse Grandsire) (St. Clement's and College) require the scale of 532746. These can be called the Grandsire group, which has two sub-groups bracketed. Six methods (Oxford Bob, Court) (Hereward Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford Bob, London Bob) require the scale of 532467. These can be called the Oxford group, which has two sub-groups bracketed.

Referring to the quarter peal, you will see the scale 532746 is used when 4 and 5 are in the hunt so that between 576234 and 275463 any one of the five Grandsire group methods could be rung without disturbing the bob lead 275463. Which method is it to be? This depends, of course, on how many methods you can ring and also on a rule to keep the composition true. When the changes in a course of one method are the same as the changes in the course of another method the substitution of one for the other cannot affect the truth. A peal may be headed Grandsire Triples, but it can be a peal in three methods, if there are any bobs at 5, because courses of Double Grandsire and Reverse Grandsire can be substituted. That is why they are bracketed with Grandsire above. In the Oxford group there are four interchangeable methods so that a peal of Double Oxford could have the other three methods added.

RULE.—Select a method for a hunt bell, keep to that method or one of its bracketed substitutes. Returning again to the quarter peal in its simplest form of two methods only, it could be Grandsire for hunt bells 4 and 5 and Oxford Bob for the remainder. Gradually increasing the methods, it could be St. Clement's for hunt bell 4, Grandsire hunt bell 5 and Oxford remainder. Proceeding, it could be St. Clement's for 4 the first time and College when 4 comes in again, leaving 5 for Grandsire and its substitutes. Similarly with the Oxford group one works up to the eleven methods. There are many shorter touches which can be had by writing to me at 71, London Road, Retford, Notts. There are also many very old compositions of peals which will take any required number of methods. While these will always remain the property of the original composers, some would have a shock seeing what has been done to their compositions.

Another way of splicing touches or peals is to call a bob every lead and change methods every lead. A peal on this plan has 360 consecutive bobs and no plain leads. In one respect it has a simplicity which will appeal to those who ring non-conducted, but it is worthy of the attention of those who ring Surprise Major. Any applicants?

AUSTRALIA CALLING

THE page we devoted in our last issue to the Australian ringing tour, in which a party of Adelaide ringers visited Ballarat and then went on to Melbourne, demonstrates the enthusiasm prevailing 'down under' for the Exercise. With Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gray at Melbourne there is likely to be rapid progress on this fine twelve. An advance, however, would be far more rapid if they could be joined by a few more ringers who have received their groundwork in English ringing circles.

The friendliness which is such a characteristic of English ringing is also a prominent feature among Australian ringers, and there is an 'open sesame' to any young ringer either in Melbourne, Adelaide or Sydney. Those contemplating starting a new life in this great continent are advised to write in advance to one of the different centres for general guidance.

In New South Wales, Mr. C. Rowe has federated a number of towers into the New South Wales Ringing Association with their own monthly publication, 'Ringing Towers,' and a regular programme of activities are fostered. There is also talk of a federation of Australian ringing societies like a miniature Central Council.

Life in Australia is not easy; the secret of progress is hard work, but there are compensations, and perhaps one of the greatest is the knowledge of the individual's advancement of the progress of mankind. It is a great continent of boundless opportunity.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

JUST BALANCING

When the Government increased, last June, the postage on 'The Ringing World,' we appealed to postal subscribers to forward the extra 1s. 5d. to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent. So far, 519 subscribers have responded to this request, but there are 519 who have not. There is still time to be regarded as a member of the better half.

Liverpool Cathedral bells will be opened on November 17th about 10.30 a.m. when they will be rung as a welcome to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip upon their return from Canada. They will be rededicated at a special service later in the day.

Mr. Ronald W. Steward has 'completed the circle' at Sproughton, Suffolk.

At his first attempt to ring Bob Major, Ivan Saunders (13), of Danbury, Essex, rang a quarter peal from the treble.

The advantage of ten-bell ringing is that it 'Caters' for everybody.—A Leicestershire punster.

With his peal of Enniskillen on October 27th, Mr John T. Dunwoody has rung a peal in every tower in Northern Ireland available for peal ringing.

With the peal of Caters on the restored ten at St. Stephen-the-Martyr's, Bristol, on October 24th, Mr. Jack R. Worrall has rung peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

The Rev. M. C. C. Melville has been getting a little handbell practice in at the well-known Bournemouth centre. The peal he rang on October 19th was his first 'in hand' since 1948.

In the Ely Diocesan Association things are looking up. At the ringing meeting held at Longstanton, Bristol, Cambridge, Superlative, London, Yorkshire and Lincolnshire Surprise were rung—a record?

Will the conductor of the peal of Doubles at Willey, Shropshire, on October 20th, please forward his name in order that the peal can be published? We would repeat that all peals must be accompanied by the name and address of sender in order that queries can be answered.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Elliott family have been ringers at the Kelvedon (Essex) Parish Church for 150 years without a break and during the whole of that period an Elliott has been captain of the band. At present there are five Elliotts connected with the ringing at this church and the present captain, Mr. J. Elliott, hopes some day to have a peal with all Elliotts in it. 'I think this must be about a record,' writes 'Interested.'

In connection with the Major J. H. B. Hesse memorial gathering, published on page 702, the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major was rung at Mells, not Wells, as published.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gray, writing from Australia, state: 'We shall shortly be moving into a one-room hut that we have built ourselves and shall live there until we can get a proper house put up. The house has been started so the next 12 months should see us really settled.'

Mr. F. E. Dukes is the first to ring 100 peals for the Irish Association. To do so he travelled 15,800 miles, an average of 158 miles per peal. On one occasion he cycled 110 miles to call a peal at Arklow and on another occasion returned home by a cattle special train arriving at 3 a.m.. His first peal was rung at St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick, on August 1st, 1938, and his 100th on October 27th, 1951, at St. Macartan's Cathedral, Enniskillen. He is the first to ring 100 peals in Ireland.

A memoir of Mr. Tom Groombridge, whose death was reported in our last issue, will be published next week. There was a representative gathering of ringers at the funeral service last Friday at the Church of the Annunciation, Chislehurst, and after the service four courses of Stedman Triples were rung by J. F. Smallwood (conductor) 1, T. H. Taffender 2, E. Barnett 3, A. A. Hughes 4, I. Emery 5, W. J. Rawlings 6, A. B. Peck 7, A. C. Hazelden 8.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS*Television Prospect

Dear Sir,—Mr. L. J. Malings and others may like to know that an approach will be made—possibly it may already have been made—to the authorities for permission to televise Liverpool Cathedral bells.

By a coincidence the tragedy at Daybrook, which was the second point made by the editor at the Guildford Diocesan Guild dinner, was the factor which led to the suggestion.

Some weeks ago the bells at Leeds Parish Church were filmed by the B.B.C. television unit for use before the televised service on October 14th. After taking the film the engineers were in a hurry to remove their lamps which had been hung above the bells and one of the technicians climbed across the top bracings of the 'H' frame, rather like a tight-rope walker, while all the bells were 'up.' After he had regained the safety of the platform above the bells, I forbade him to attempt the same feat again on the other side of the tower until sufficient bells had been lowered for him to clamber over them in safety. I felt that he did not appreciate the danger so that when the television staff visited the church some weeks later for the 'live' broadcast, I took the opportunity to show them the report in 'The Ringing World' of the Daybrook tragedy. The same issue contained the plan of the Liverpool bell frame and interested the producer who announced his intention to approach the Cathedral authorities. Representations by the Central Council may therefore be unnecessary.

There has been much criticism in the past of the treatment of bells before broadcast services by the B.B.C. This does not, however, apply to the Television Department which gave the bells—and the ringers—at Leeds Parish Church the utmost care, which augurs well for any further televised services from churches where there are bells.—Yours faithfully,

R. H. DOVE.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

Annual General Meeting

On October 20th members and friends of the University of London Society met at Feltham and Sunbury for ringing and the ensuing annual general meeting. Most members enjoyed a ring at St. Catherine's, Feltham, and proceeded to St. Mary's, Sunbury, by the Society's traditional mobile methods. After varied ringing and exciting adventures on the wooden staircase, a short service was conducted by the Rev. B. Kirk.

The somewhat enlarged gathering dispersed and sought the Keystone Cafe independently and it is believed that everyone arrived who wished to do so. An excellent tea awaited us, and the annual general meeting was held in the adjoining sitting room, where members sat around the fire in true collegiate fashion.

The Master's report and the secretary and treasurer's reports were accepted, and eleven new members were ratified, bringing the Society's membership to 86. The following officers were appointed for the coming session:—President, James C. E. Simpson; Master, Denis N. Layton; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mary Martin; hon. auditor, Peter R. Layton.

Various arrangements were made for the coming session, including the Whitsun and summer tours, and the annual dinner on February 23rd. A vote of thanks was accorded to our host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Ingham, for a most comfortable evening; to the Rev. B. Kirk for conducting the service; and to all those who had made the arrangements for the ringing and meeting. The remainder of the evening proceeded and concluded in the usual style of the Society. M. M.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION*The Hillingdon Social

A very pleasant, sunny day was chosen for the annual joint meeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild and the Middlesex Association at Denham and Hillingdon on October 20th. It was almost as much a pleasure to walk through the lovely village as to ring on the bells at Denham. The trees in all their autumn finery blended beautifully with ancient and half-timbered houses as one approached the church.

The main, west door was wide open, showing the ringers in action on the ground floor. It was a pity that more ringers could not get there to do justice to the heavyish ring of eight, but, supposedly, many thought it was off the beaten track. Of those who did manage it, many beginners found they had very useful practice. At 3.45 p.m., ringing here stopped and the ringers found their way to Hillingdon.

It appeared that a stronger team had been active at Hillingdon during the afternoon, and it was a pity that three leads of Kent Royal were not more successful for the service. We could not have asked for a better service, with a full choir and an excellent sermon by the Vicar. After a fine tea and appropriate speeches in the Church Hall, more ringing took place on the ten, until 7.30 p.m., 'rounds on ten' being quite well rung by an all-ladies team.

Then followed the well-known and popular social which has become such a feature of these meetings held in the Church Hall. At least 70 ringers were present and many games, dances and musical items were enjoyed. After some very good violin playing, the mood was rapidly changed by the Vicar, who entertained us with a memorable song entitled 'My hat, it has three corners'! The real highlight of the evening came when the well-known team of handbell ringers from Bushey gave an exhibition touch of thirteen Spiced Surprise Major! The team in this remarkable performance was C. W. Woolley 1-2, E. C. S. Turner 3-4, H. G. Cashmore (conductor) 5-6, F. W. Brinklow 7-8, and the methods rung, lead by lead, were Eastbury, Superlative, London, Ashtead, Radlett and Berkshire; Ealing, Yorkshire, Rutland and Bristol; Wembley, Cambridge, Watford and Bristol. They could have added Pudsey but for the fact that a longer touch would have been required.

The splendid organisation of the social was due to the Hillingdon team and especially to Fred Goodfellow. All those who enjoyed it this year are certain not to miss next year's meeting.

G. D.

WHAT IS YOUR TARGET?

An Association secretary writes that, as 1,000 new postal subscribers are required, each of the approximately 50 Associations should set itself a target of 25 postal subscribers by the end of the year.

We shall be pleased to hear of Guilds and Associations who have definite objectives in this direction.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION*Tonbridge District

The annual meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Tunbridge Wells on October 6th, as Tonbridge bells are under repair. Ringing began at 3 p.m. and a number of enjoyable touches were rung.

At the business meeting, the existing officers were re-elected as follows:—Secretary, Mr. R. A. Whitehead; District representatives, Miss D. Colgate and Mr. E. J. Ladd; Ringing Master, Mr. R. Collins.

New members elected were Miss L. Rose and Messrs. V. Rose, A. Skinner and J. Harden, all of Hadlow, and Miss M. Ladd and Miss V. Ross, of Tunbridge Wells.

Visitors were entertained to tea by the local band and friends.

WEDDINGS*MR. G. B. ANDREWS—MISS PAMELA PECK

Two well-known members of the Essex Association, Mr. Geoffrey B. Andrews, of Thorington, and Miss Pamela Mary Agnes Peck, of Harwich, were married at St. Nicholas', Harwich, on October 20th. The Vicar (the Rev. J. S. Hole) officiated at the choral service.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a gown of white taffeta, with veil and headdress of orange blossom. She was attended by three bridesmaids, the Misses Rita and Margaret Andrews (sisters of the bridegroom) and Miss Jean Constance (a friend of the bride).

The bride and bridegroom left the church under an archway of handbells. Before the service, and afterwards, the bells were rung. Handbell ringing, in which the bride and bridegroom participated, took place at the reception. A farewell touch of Grandsire Triples was rung at the railway station as they left for their honeymoon in London. The bride and bridegroom are making their home in Chelmsford and hope to join the Cathedral band.

MR. F. H. HICKS—MISS E. M. CAPON

Mr. Frank H. Hicks, the well-known Sussex ringers who has 336 peals to his credit, and Miss Evelyn M. Capon, who was taught by him to ring, and has four tower-bell peals and two handbell peals to her credit, were married at SS. Peter and Paul's, Hellingly, Sussex, on October 27th.

It was a true ringers' wedding; the six bells rang out as the bride arrived and also as the happy couple left through an archway of handbells.

The service, which was conducted by the Rev. R. W. Shaw, was fully choral. The bride wore a dress of white taffeta and her veil was trimmed with orange blossom. Her two young bridesmaids wore green silk, and Mr. Norman V. Harding was the best man.

The reception, attended by 120 guests and friends, was held in the Village Hall; the bride, bridegroom and best man rang a 120 of Bob Doubles on handbells and later, with the help of other ringers, rang courses of Grandsire Caters and Triples, much to the delight of those present.

In a short speech, the Rev. R. W. Shaw remarked that he was sure their offspring would cut their teeth on a set of handbells. Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom left for their honeymoon, which is being spent at Lelant, Carbis Bay, Cornwall, and they paused a moment before getting into the car to listen to a peal which was in progress at the local church in their honour, which was being conducted by the best man.

When they return they will make their home at East Grinstead, Sussex, and the band of St. Swithin's will be lucky to have the help of two such experienced ringers.

LLANDILO RINGER'S SILVER WEDDING

On October 27th ringers from various towers in the West assembled in the 12th century tower of St. Teilo's Parish Church, Llandilo, to attempt a peal on the occasion of the silver wedding anniversary of the local captain, Mr. Ralph E. Scudamore.

A peal of Grandsire Doubles, the first peal on the bells, proved to be successful and home was reached after 3 hours and 4 minutes. Mr. Scudamore has been a ringer at this tower for 28 years and for many years, in the office of captain, has devoted much of his time to the instruction of learners in the art of change ringing.

Later the ringers accepted the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Scudamore to tea, when the congratulations of all present were extended to them with wishes for health and happiness in the coming years. W. F. S.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DECISIONS OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

Dear Sir,—The publication in your issue of October 26th of the Council's Decisions, and the interesting article by 'C. K. L.' in your number of October 19th, prompt me to write on the subject of the Decisions, particularly those relating to peals of Doubles and Minor.

The article of October 19th warns us that certain methods are irregular and cannot be admitted by the Council to its peal records. The Decisions printed on October 26th, however, do not seem to prohibit any particular method, stating merely that peals of Minor shall consist of true 720's, the few added conditions making no mention of irregular lead ends.

The rules for Doubles contain (unless I am mistaken) a new provision, namely that touches of less than 120 may not be added to a 5,040 in order to provide some special length. If this is so may we take it that the summary printed on October 26th is the first official intimation of the new ruling, and that irregular lengths rung before this date may still be recorded by the Council? I raise this point, not for the sake of quibbling, but because although 'The Ringing World' quoted a wrong version of the ruling (June 1st), and was corrected by Mr. C. K. Lewis a week or two later, it was nevertheless stated that the Decisions would be published later; and from this one might reasonably infer that the new ruling was not yet in force.

This leads me to add a comment or two on the rulings, for I feel that all the time we are working to improve ringing we must beware of becoming too pedantic. No man had a greater desire to raise the standard of ringing and to 'tidy up' as it were, the laws governing composition and method construction than Arthur Heywood, the founder of the Central Council; and yet he himself was careful to point out that much discretion must be used, and confessed himself 'patiently amused at the efforts being made to shackle composition into conformity with arbitrary and wholly questionably axiomatic rules.' This mild protest offered by Heywood to the clever, enthusiastic, and perhaps somewhat hot-headed reformers of his day need not, I hasten to say, be presented to our present leaders in theoretical or practical policy, but it can do us no harm to reflect on it whenever we suspect ourselves of becoming a little too exacting.

There can surely be no fear of irregular methods being rung often enough to endanger the standards we have set up. Five years ago Mr. George Symonds called a peal of Bob Caters and told us how much it was enjoyed by all who rang in it. Not so long ago (unless my memory deceives me) the same distinguished veteran called a peal of Plain Bob Cinques. Surely we cannot decry these performances; and yet, by not admitting them to our records, we do, in some measure, cast a slur on them. Of recent years we have rung on handbells at Solihull, peals of Reverse Canterbury Minor and Grandsire Minor. The latter was good fun and provided excellent practice. These peals were not rung in order to defy any regulations or wilfully to depart from any ethical standards, but merely because we wanted to ring them and because we thought that the experience would do us good.

Again, there is a certain unorthodoxy, surely, in the clever and wholly admirable six-scores of Erin Doubles produced for us a few years ago by the ingenuity of Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis and Mr. T. B. Worsley. The latter, indeed, were admired by no less an authority than the late Rev. E. S. Powell. Far from wishing to rule these out, I should like very much to see a 5,040 of these Erin Doubles rung on handbells. It would be a very fine feat.

In conclusion I return to the matter of peals of Doubles. No reasons seem to have been given for the Decision on 'added lengths,' and there must be many who would like to know the line of argument leading to a ruling that appears on the face of it to be purely arbitrary. Either as members of the Council or as supporters of the Council we must abide by its Decisions, but we are not thereby committed to agreeing with them all, nor are we bound to refrain from trying to get them amended.—Yours sincerely, Solihull.

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

UNORTHODOX PERFORMANCES

Dear Sir,—Your leading article on unorthodox performances states that Reverse Canterbury Pleasure and Reverse College are irregular methods. Why, then, hasn't some member of the Methods Committee written up about the peals published some weeks ago containing these methods, as several have been rung since those containing Woodbine Treble Bob were denounced? It seems to me that the Central Council take a very illogical view on these matters.

Reverse Canterbury is usually rung to make up a seventh method in a peal, as its slight variation from Plain Bob makes it easy to ring. The fact that the coursing order is different from Plain Bob never seems to have made it difficult for the bands or for the conductors with whom I have rung it. Similarly with Woodbine. If a different coursing order every lead makes it more difficult for the conductor, maybe we will see some day noted conductors calling peals in some of these irregular methods rather than in all these different Surprise methods. The word 'surprise,' however, appears to be a password which seems to draw ringers on and on with little or no thought for the dozens of good plain methods. Still, that is 'progress' I expect.

I must also agree with Mr. Birmingham in his denunciation of Little methods. We might as well have methods with the treble going to fourths and back to lead, and the tenor going to fifths and then behind again. I expect no one has thought of those yet though.

Another illogical point of view is the one taken over the bobs in Kent Treble Bob. Why should a bell in this method be allowed to make four blows in one place while if this occurred in the interior of the lead it would be deemed irregular? Maybe Kent is too widely practised for the Central Council to stamp it out.

To save people the trouble of writing and telling me, may I say in conclusion that I know that I can ring what I like, no matter what the Central Council decides, and I shall certainly do so in any case.—Yours sincerely, Windsor.

W. BUTLER.

THE CARTER MACHINE

Dear Sir.—In expressing my appreciation of the kind way in which Mr. Frank Smallwood acknowledges the work I have been privileged to carry out on the Carter machine, may I mention that but for the assistance of Mr. Brian Price, my task would have been very much greater.

Mr. Price was first on the scene and diagnosed many of the faults before I arrived, and although his temporary residence in Breconshire precluded him from much of the active work, his guidance and counsel over many of the intricate problems have been invaluable.

Readers who have not had the good fortune to see the machine, but followed his excellent description of it in these pages, will have gathered that the combination of ingenuity and craftsmanship of the highest order brands John Carter as a genius, and I deem it an honour to have been partly responsible for restoring his machine to its former condition.—Yours faithfully,

DOUGLAS HUGHES.

Hayes.

Bromley, Kent.

PEALS AND 'THE RINGING WORLD'

Dear Sir,—It is now common knowledge that the financial position of 'The Ringing World' is in a very precarious state. It is certain that the loss of this publication would deal a fatal blow to the Exercise, and it therefore becomes imperative for all possible avenues of increased revenue to be examined without delay.

While I am not in a position to quote actual figures, I would hazard a guess that more than 50 per cent. of the costs of publication are on account of peal reports, peal compositions and letters and articles concerning the ringing of peals. All these, of course, are of great interest to peal-ringers and others, and it would be false economy to attempt to curtail or restrict them in any way. At the same time, it is hardly fair that this considerable financial burden should be borne equally by both peal ringers and non-peal ringers.

I would therefore suggest that a fixed charge of, say, 1s. be made for the publication of all peal reports.

This, of course, is not a new idea. Several Associations already levy a peal-booking fee to help to cover the cost of their annual reports, and I would suggest that the payments to the 'Ringing World' account be made from the various Associations in total at the end of each year.

The Lancashire Association, for example, levies a fee of sixpence per ringer for every peal rung, and this is paid to the Association at the same time as the peal report is sent in. If at the end of the year, when the Peals Analysis Committee have done their work, it is found that, say, 120 peals have been rung for the Lancashire Association—then they would transfer 120 shillings to 'The Ringing World.'

I am aware, of course, that it costs much more than one shilling to print the report of a peal, but I am not suggesting this as a scheme whereby all peal reports are fully paid for by the peal ringers—that would lead to all sorts of undesirable difficulties and arguments. All that my suggestion amounts to is that additional revenue would be forthcoming—not from the readers as a whole, but from that section of the readers who are helping to fill its pages.

If such a scheme had been in operation in 1950, 'The Ringing World' would have received an additional income of £136 4s.!

Such a scheme would have to be discussed by the Central Council and by each constituent Association before it could be adopted, but I cannot for one moment imagine a rank and file peal ringer such as myself raising any objection to paying, say 14d., to see his name included in some peal report of Major or Triples.

As far as the individual Associations are concerned they would have a choice of one of two courses. They could either meet the charge out of their existing incomes, or else they could institute a peal booking fee—or increase an existing fee—to cover their increased liability.—Yours faithfully,

C. CROSSTHWAITE.

Preston, Lancs.

NOTE.—Whilst 'The Ringing World' Committee were given full powers, when they were elected, they do not feel empowered to impose a levy on peals rung. That would be a matter for decision by the whole Council. There is, however, nothing to prevent peal ringers from putting a voluntary levy on themselves, and any financial help will be most acceptable.—Ed.

MINIMUM CALLS

Dear Sir.—B. D. P.'s statement on October 27th, that a well-known 720 of Plain Bob Minor contains the minimum number of calls, needs qualification. Fifteen calls are the fewest on the three-part plan, but an equally well-known two-part 720 employs only 14 calls, which are presumably the fewest possible in any extent in the method. The calling is S B S B at W, B S B at H.—Yours sincerely, MAURICE HODGSON.

Kenton, Middlesex.

PERMISSIVE

Dear Sir.—There is at least one error in the list of 'Decisions' published in your issue of October 26th. At Chester, Mr. F. W. Perrens, on behalf of the sub-committee, accepted an amendment of mine to substitute 'may' for 'should' in the clause relating to bobs and singles under the heading 'Calls,' so that it reads: 'Only one type of bob and single may be used in any one composition.'

It will be appreciated that the effect of this is to prohibit the use of more than one type. Merely to say people ought not to use more is quite useless. I believe I made a similar point with regard to singles in Treble Bob methods, but have not kept my notes as I assumed the sub-committee would know what they had agreed to.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

ORIGIN WANTED

Dear Sir.—Could any reader help me to find the origin of a verse I found in an old diary of mine. I can remember copying it down in a belfry somewhere but I cannot remember which church it was. It may be in Nottinghamshire somewhere as, when I was young, most of my holidays were spent in that county, or it may even be written up in a lot of belfries, as it seems to be a kind of bellringer's prayer:—

May good ringers flourish,
May bad ringers mend;
May change ringing last
Till the world's at an end.
When we meet, may we meet
In brotherly love;
And when we depart hence,
May we all meet in the Tower above.

Yours truly,

(MRS.) C. M. WATERSON.

Brandeston, Suffolk.

A HOLIDAY IN CANADA

Dear Sir.—Having just returned from a very pleasant five months in Canada, where my wife and I visited 56 relatives, I was delighted to see Vancouver twice mentioned in 'The Ringing World' of October 12th.

I made several enquiries at the Roman Catholic Church about the bells and ringers but was not successful in finding any, although I was told that the bells were usually rung at Christmas time.

Like Mr. Malcolm Neville, I received a very warm welcome from Mr. E. W. Izard and his band at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, B.C., on July 8th. Had he known I was coming, Mr. Izard said he would have 'whipped' up more ringers. We rang some good Bob Minor with tenors behind.

The following are the inscriptions on the bells:—

Treble.—In memoriam, John Robert Meredith Matson. Cantate Domine. 6 cwt. 33 lb.

2nd.—In memoriam, John Robert Meredith Matson. Jubilate Deo. 6 cwt. 41 lb.

3rd.—Our Lady St. Mary. Glory to God in the Highest. The Mothers' Union Bell 7 cwt. 46 lb.

4th.—Paul of London, England. Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel. 9 cwt. 48 lb.

5th.—Edward of Westminster. Praise the Almighty Father with the Sounding Bells. 12 cwt. 39 lb.

6th.—Charles Raymond. To the Glory of God and in loving remembrance of Charles Raymond Nutt, late Captain, R.F.A., died 12th June, 1914. Buried at Somenos, Vancouver Island. I summon all to pray. 15 cwt. 65 lb.

7th.—H. M. Queen Mary. God bless Queen Mary. I hail the Festal Day. 20 cwt. 102 lb.

Tenor.—H.M. King George V. God Save the King. Christ, Heaven's King, be pleased with our ring. 29 cwt. 47 lb.

Mears and Stainbank. 27th April. 1936.

Yours faithfully,

GEORGE E. SYMONDS.

Ipswich.

THE USE OF BELLS

Dear Sir.—In making a few remarks on S. H. G.'s letter in this week's 'Ringing World,' I feel, like him, I may become unpopular and raise a hornets' nest about my ears. He mentions making a small charge to visiting ringers for the use of the bells of churches for peal-ringing—and why not?

The clergy are generally most obliging to ringers when an application is made for the use of the bells. We pay 1s. 6d. to visit a first-class football match which lasts 90 minutes, or visit the picture house for a sum near about the same. Usually a peal, if scored, will last in the neighbourhood of three hours. But what do we pay for it? It is a pleasure, as peals are not really necessary, although they do advance the art of bellringing I believe.

There is yet another point which is overlooked probably through thoughtlessness: that is the wear and tear of the ropes, and there are occasions when the bells need 'looking over.' The ringers are never asked to meet the cost when any repairs are carried out, although I know the majority of ringers will gladly assist in any way they can. We get proof of that by occasional grants from Association funds for bell restorations. I am afraid we ringers are at times inclined to take things for granted, which really is not all to the good.—Yours faithfully,

R. NEWMAN.

Finsbury Park, N.4.

THE LATE MR. MARSHALL

Dear Sir.—Re the obituary notice of the late Mr. Marshall, of Lamberhurst.

In the notice I sent to you I said: 'He was one of the band that rang in the first peal of Major on Tenterden bells by one set of men.' As the last five words were omitted from the published report I was not surprised to see the paragraph in this week's Belfry Gossip.

I knew that James Barham had rung a peal there: I had the Kent report in front of me as I had to look up the year the peal was rung.

Mr. Marshall often told us that two peals were arranged for the day they went to Tenterden, but the late Mr. Philip Hodgkin was so pleased at being the first man to ring Tenterden tenor to a peal of Major that he would not go for the other peal.

I think there is a peal board in the belfry saying it was the first peal of Major on the bells by eight men.—Yours faithfully,

A. RELFE.

Lamberhurst, Kent.

OMISSIONS

Dear Sir.—Why are methods with adjacent places wrong in 5-6 at the treble's full lead omitted from the Minor Collection? There are three of these among the plain methods and presumably a group of others in Treble Bob methods. The three plain methods are:—

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7 (W)
(1)	5-6	4		3		3	(K)
(2)	5-6	4		3	1-4	5	(G)
(3)	5-6	4		3	1-2	3	(K)

Yours sincerely,

PHILIP R. CARTER.

Manchester 14.

TWO GREAT FIRSTS

Dear Sir.—Mr. Duncombe's performance in ringing for his first peal of London a length of over 10,000 changes recalls two remarkable achievements by the late Mr. Gabriel Lindoff. His first peal of Stedman Cinques was the then record, 11,111, at Birmingham in 1901, and his first of Cambridge Maximus the 15,312 at Ash-ton-under-Lyne in 1929. The latter might well be classed as the greatest 'first ever,' as Mr. Lindoff, although no stranger to record lengths, had at the time been resident in Dublin for over 30 years, and had no opportunity for practising other than the simplest methods (no disrespect to our Irish friends, of course).—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

40 YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of November 10th, 1911

THE FIRST DOUBLE-HANDED HANDBELL PEAL

CENTENARY CELEBRATED AT SHEFFIELD

'On Wednesday Evening, October 30th, 1811, was rung a peal of eight hand bells at the house of M. William Booth, Bailey Lane, Sheffield. A complete peal of Oxford treble bob major. 5,088 changes, 2 hours and 34 minutes, by the four following Artists, viz.—Treble and 2 Mr. William Hudson, 3 and 4 Mr. William Booth, 5 and 6 Mr. Henry Grayson, 7 and tenor Mr. George Hudson. The conductor of this peal Mr. George Hudson.'

(The spelling is in the original.)

The above is copied from an old manuscript book originally the property of Mr. William Booth, and now in possession of his grandson, Mr. C. H. Hattersley. This was the first handbell peal ever rung with bells retained 'in hand.' In order to carry out the similitude of the original performance as far as possible, enquiries were made with a view to the centenary peal being attempted within the same four walls, but . . . this was found to be impracticable. Mr. C. H. Hattersley therefore invited the band to ring at his residence, and it may be interesting to note that the grandfather clock which timed the original peal is in Mr. Hattersley's possession, and was utilised for the same purpose on the present occasion.

[The centenary peal, also a 5,088 of Oxford, was rung in 2 hours 28 minutes by John Thorpe 1-2, Clement Glenn (conductor) 3-4, George Lewis 5-6, Sidney F. Palmer 7-8. It was the first handbell peal in the method by all, and the first of Oxford T.B. Major on handbells in Sheffield since the original performance.]

A TRIP TO SEDBERGH, YORKS

Come with me on an imaginary trip to Sedburgh. Why such an isolated spot and what are its claims to our attention? There is a public school there and the village is now known to hundreds of trippers as a stopping-place for the Newcastle—Blackpool coaches. This will not interest ringers, but what is of interest is that it is the home of one of the Exercise's greatest mechanical geniuses, viz., Mr. G. F. Woodhouse, M.A. To have a look round his 'den' at Highfield is in itself a great experience. It is a miniature engineering shop with all kinds of tools necessary for his bobby. Grandfather clocks with home-made dials tick away the hours.

His latest ringing machine, along with earlier models, are there for your inspection. Will this machine ring what you want? It will ring a course in five different methods without any stopping, so that should satisfy you. It will also give you a blue-line diagram of the methods rung.

What of the man; will he welcome us? He will be delighted, and doubly so if you have enough for handbell ringing. This modest and cheerful ex-science master is 75 and still in possession of all his faculties except for deafness. It is to be hoped that some of the younger members of the Central Council have their eyes on these machines. They are a lasting monument to skill and patience and their safe custody for the rising generation should be duly noted.

Well, now to quit imagination and turn to reality. We are going to get out the old bus and head North. We are going to have a good peep at these machines and ask innumerable questions. Notification as to arrival is necessary and full postal address is given above. A cafe and hotel are in the village to meet the inner man's requirements, so here's wishing you a good trip.

M. P.

OBITUARY

MR. J. W. T. HOLGATE

His many friends will learn with regret of the death of Mr. J. W. T. Holgate, at Hunmanby Gap, near Scarborough, on October 15th, in his 91st year.

For many years Mr. Holgate was a member of the St. Peter's, Bramley, band. He joined the Yorkshire Association in 1890 and was past general secretary of the Association. He had also held the secretaryship of the Leeds and District Society. At one time Mr. Holgate was a member of the Leeds City Council. Of his 64 peals for the Yorkshire Association, one was particularly meritorious, consisting of a peal of 5,040 Minor in 20 methods, long before the days of spliced ringing.

The funeral took place at St. Peter's Churchyard, Bramley, on October 17th. Mr. P. J. Johnson represented the Yorkshire Association in the unavoidable absence of the president. Several other ringing friends also attended with representatives of other bodies with which Mr. Holgate had formerly been associated, to pay their last respects to an old and honoured friend.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Eastern District at Sherburn-in-Elmet

The autumn meeting of the Eastern District was held at Sherburn-in-Elmet on October 20th and was attended by about 25 members representing 15 towers, when the ring of eight was made good use of from 2.30 till 8.15 p.m.

A short service was conducted by the Vicar. Tea was served in the Church Hall and was followed by the business meeting presided over by the newly-elected vice-president, Mr. A. E. Sellers, who was welcomed to his position by the secretary. In his reply, Mr. Sellers said how pleased he was to be able to serve the Association in his new position.

A letter of apology for non-attendance was received from Mr. A. H. Fox, the former vice-president. Miss P. Reeves of the York Minster Company, was elected a new member.

An invitation to hold the next meeting at Beverley was accepted and it was hoped it would be a combined one with the Beverley and District Society. It was also decided to hold a meeting at Bridlington next summer.

The secretary was asked to write a letter of condolence to Mr. E. Braithwaite, of Beverley on the death of his wife. Mr. F. W. Dale, of Hessele, received the congratulations of the meeting on having celebrated his golden wedding.

The chairman appealed strongly to the members to support 'The Ringing World' by taking the paper regularly each week. A collection for the Association's Bell Repair Fund realised 14s.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Branch Meeting at Harburton

The Mid-Devon Branch held a successful quarterly meeting at Harburton, near Totnes, on October 27th when visitors attended from Broadclyst, Kenn, Teignmouth, Newton Abbot, Totnes, Dartington, Paignton, Dartmouth, Buckfastleigh and Plymouth.

The bells were kept going throughout the afternoon and a service was later held in church conducted by the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge, of Newton Abbot, a member of the Branch, who was assisted by the Rev. C. W. Bennett (priest-in-charge), and the Rev. L. G. Ketchley, Rector of Dartington, who gave a short address.

After an excellent tea in the Parish Hall, the usual business meeting followed with Mr. J. E. Lilley in the chair. Apologies for absence were received from the president (Preb. E. V. Cox) and Mr. F. Turner, of Ashburton. A letter was read from the editor of 'The Ringing World' inviting more subscribers to that newspaper, and after a discussion it was resolved to send a donation of 10s. 6d. from the Branch to 'The Ringing World' funds. It was also resolved to forward a suggestion to the general committee with a view to it being passed on to the Central Council.

A full performing membership certificate was presented by the chairman to Mr. G. Uglow, of Totnes.

The following programme for 1952 was adopted, subject to the necessary permission being obtained:—January 19th, annual meeting at St. Michael's, East Teignmouth; April 19th, quarterly meeting at Dittisham with Cornworthy; June 28th, joint meeting with the South-West Branch at Berry Pomeroy and Totnes; July 26th, quarterly meeting at Dawlish; August 23rd, Branch outing; October 18th, quarterly meeting at Stoke Gabriel; November 22nd, extra meeting at Brixham.

Votes of thanks were passed to those who contributed to the success of the meeting, and the visitors later returned to the tower for further ringing, and subsequently on to Rattery Parish Church. The ringing throughout the day included touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Society's October meeting was held at Burley on October 27th. This light ring of eight bells was soon raised and kept in continuous use until 5 p.m., when an adjournment was made to the Church Institute for tea.

The business meeting was held in the same room. Mr. J. W. Benton (president), recently recovered from a broken wrist, presided, and members were present from Armley, Bramley, Burley, East Ardsley, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Rothwell, Tadcaster and Thorner.

The president referred to the death of Mr. J. W. T. Holgate, for many years a stalwart member and officer of the Association, the members standing in silence as a tribute to his memory.

Two new members, the Misses Ann McKerrchar and Mildred Carr, of the Burley Company, were elected.

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Burley, also the local company and ladies for serving the tea, was proposed by Mr. J. Gibson and seconded by Miss M. Rhodes. Mr. Slack acknowledged the thanks and promised to pass on thanks to the Vicar.

The president, referring to the absence of Mr. Hutchinson owing to illness, said he was missed because of his most excellent record of attendances at District meetings and his ever-ready help to learners. The secretary was asked to send a letter of good wishes and hopes for an early recovery.

Mr. Strangeway said he hoped the Rothwell bells would be rededicated on December 8th.

The secretary read an appeal for more postal subscribers to 'The Ringing World.'

REDEDICATION

BODENHAM, HEREFORDSHIRE

The rededication of the six bells of Bodenham, Herefordshire, was arranged to coincide with the Harvest Festival Thanksgiving Service on Friday, October 26th. The ceremony was performed by Canon H. A. V. Moreton, Canon Residentiary of Hereford Cathedral, and the service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. C. Thursby-Pelham.

The spacious and magnificent church was packed with parishioners and visiting ringers, including Messrs. A. W. Davis, A. T. Wingate, W. H. Symonds (Hereford), L. Evans (Pembroke) and K. Holtom (Byfield, Northants). The rounds during the service were rung by the local band under the leadership of Mr. Rush-ton, and afterwards the visitors were able to join in with touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Oxford Bob Minor, and finishing with a good course of Cambridge Minor.

The work of restoration was carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and everyone expressed the opinion that a very fine job had been made of the installation, both tone and 'go' being excellent. The firm was represented by Mr. Michael Howard (director) and Mr. A. P. Cannon.

Details of the bells are as follows:—

Treble	(1897)	5 cwt.	0 qr.	1 lb.
Second	(1729)	5 cwt.	1 qr.	4 lb.
Third	(1665)	6 cwt.	1 qr.	1 lb.
Fourth	(1665)	7 cwt.	0 qr.	13 lb.
Fifth	(1665)	9 cwt.	2 qr.	4 lb.
Tenor	(1863)	12 cwt.	1 qr.	20 lb.

All recast and rehung in 1951, in new iron frame with ball bearings.

HORNCHURCH PEAL BOOK

At evensong on October 14th the Peal Book, presented to the St. Andrew's Guild, Hornchurch, Essex, by the relatives of the late Arthur Rolph, was dedicated by the Vicar, Canon A. Courthope. There was a large congregation including many ringers from neighbouring towers.

The book is a handsome volume bound in Moroccan hide, and the big task of writing up the peals in illuminated style was undertaken by Mr. D. C. MacAlister, of Ilford. An excellent job has been accomplished.

In all ways the service was very much a ringers' evensong, concluding with a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells.

To mark the occasion, a quarter peal of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob (Ilkeston Variation) had been rung at matins by D. Salisbury 1, A. H. Worboys 2, J. Carrott 3, S. Meadows 4, C. E. Wright 5, S. Penfold 6, T. East 7, F. V. Gant (conductor) 8.

The local band wish to thank all those who replied to the invitation to send in particulars of peals rung at Hornchurch. The book is a fitting tribute and memorial to Arthur Rolph, whose health forced him to give up ringing but who maintained interest to the end.

FREEWHEELERS' RINGING SOCIETY

First Eight-Day Tour

AFTER holding several successful outings, each lasting one day, at intervals throughout the year, the members of the above Society decided to launch out into the real thing and cut themselves loose from civilisation for eight days, starting on August 25th.

As usual, the mode of transport was to be cycles, and accommodation at Youth Hostels, and after much hard work, for which thanks are due mainly to the Misses Fleetwood and Messrs. Fleetwood and Armstrong, everything was booked. Owing to the unavoidable absence of two members, the party which assembled at Woolwich Ferry numbered only twelve, but we made the crossing without mishap and, landing in Kent, set off towards St. Mary Cray.

On arrival we were met by the Vicar, and proceeded to raise the bells only to find that the third had no stay, which necessitated nominating one stalwart to hold her on the balance. However, the ringing did not suffer by this misfortune. After lunch we found Cudham at the top of the hill and we were joined by two friends who happened to be in the neighbourhood, and some fair ringing was had on this light ten, although the tone was very disappointing. During the ringing, a young lady from St. Luke's, Chelsea, joined in a touch of Grandsire Triples. On leaving the village, some unfortunate map-reading resulted in two of the ladies being separated from the main party, but even so they arrived at Chaldon Youth Hostel before the others, whose map-reading proved to be even more unfortunate!

On Sunday morning we paid a short visit to Bletchingley where the fine eight were worthy of more time than we could give, but we produced some good striking for morning service. We found much cause for regret a few minutes later when the heavens opened above us and we had to cycle through rain until the afternoon, but good humour prevailed and we arrived at Bolney in high spirits to join the home band for service ringing. After a very enjoyable pull on the easy-going bells we finished the day with a very pleasant ride to Patcham, and a quick visit to Brighton in the evening.

PRESS INTERVIEWS

Monday brought a strong S.W. wind which made cycling very difficult, but we reached New Shoreham on time and after the long climb up the tower, we regained our breath while admiring the palatial ringing chamber. Here the first two touches were poorly struck, but the rest of the ringing was good and was brought to a close by three leads of Kent which did justice to the fine tone of the bells. On leaving the tower we were met by a local newspaper reporter, who was very interested to hear our plans for the week, and took copious notes some of which we afterwards learned found their way into the London 'Evening News.' After lunch we went on to Chichester, arriving in the late afternoon. Here we were joined by a member of the local band who showed us over the campanile and gave us an interesting account of its history. The ringing here was disappointing for reasons which still remain a mystery, but we consoled ourselves by inspecting the beautiful Cathedral. The night was spent at Stockheath Youth Hostel and we would advise any visitors to the neighbourhood to think twice about staying there.

Tuesday was to be a quiet day with only one tower: which was just as well, for a road marked on the map degenerated into a muddy cart track, which necessitated wheeling the cycles across very wet but not so muddy fields. Photographic evidence of this episode remains. This resulted in our reaching Hambledon ten minutes late, and this was the only occasion during the week on which we failed to arrive on time. A lady member of the home band was there to meet us and some good striking was produced on this delightful six in methods up to Cambridge Minor. On leaving the tower, some complimentary remarks regarding the ringing were addressed to our hostess and we modestly felt that we had earned our lunch. By easy cycling through lovely country we reached Winchester. The Youth Hostel proved to be a lovely old water mill where great fun was had by all, and great interest shown in the handbell ringing, both tunes and methods, which we produced.

Especially interested was a party of German Scouts, whose final request was met by the fastest and most perfect course of Grandsire Triples which the writer has ever had the pleasure of ringing, while the rest of the party stood by with fingers crossed in case a mistake—fatal at that speed—was made.

The first tower on Wednesday was to be St. Mary's, Andover, and as we arrived with 15 minutes to spare we were able to have a good look at the church. The approach to the ringing chamber proved to be far less terrifying than we had been led to believe and soon the bells were going well to the standard methods, the rather awkward position of the seventh rope proving the only difficulty.

COLLINGBOURNE DUCIS

After lunch we set off for Collingbourne Ducis and noticed the preponderance of thatched roofs on the way, all too rare a sight in our home district. The bells were a light six and there were no tucks in the tail ends of the ropes. Having due regard to our hands we 'tucked-up' where we could before starting and spent a delightful hour on these easy-going bells. Before leaving, the Vicar presented us with an enormous bag of apples. The hostel at which we were to spend the night was just outside Marlborough and on the way through the town we located St. Mary's Church, where we were to ring that evening. After supper we returned to the town and were greeted by one of the home band, who gave us all the necessary information and left us to it. We agreed that the ring was well worth the visit. The heavy six go like tops and have a fine melodious tone, which perhaps inspired us to greater things for the striking was of the highest order and we rounded the evening off with a course of Cambridge Minor.

A WET DAY

Thursday produced the worst weather of the week and the rain continued throughout the day, stopping just before we reached Inglesham Hostel in the evening. In the morning, at Broad Hinton, we were welcomed by the Vicar, and after wringing ourselves out, managed some respectable striking in the standard methods on this light six.

We intended to have lunch at Wootton Bassett, only to find that it was early-closing day, with the result that we made a meal of cold meat pies, bread and cheese and biscuits before repairing to the church, where we were met by the Master of the local band, who made us very welcome. The bells went very well but were inclined to be a little odd-struck so we did not become adventurous in the way of methods. After ringing for an hour we pressed on to the hostel, where we were able to dry out.

The weather improved on Friday and we cycled via Burford to Charlbury, where we had a quick pull before three of the party left for home (by courtesy of British Railways) while the remainder carried on to Oxford, where we spent the night.

Saturday morning saw us away smartly to reach St. Ebbe's, in Oxford, which we approached with mixed feelings, wondering just how flighty a ring with a four cwt. tenor could be. We need not have worried as the bells were delightfully easy to control. After lunch at a roadside cafe, we reached Thame. The ringing chamber here is very large and the bells go very well, so that we had little difficulty in striking the standard methods. We then made for High Wycombe, choosing the road with the smallest hills, and, after tea, turned off to West Wycombe, where we toiled up to the church in pouring rain. The unique building took our minds off the weather and we spent all too short an hour in the ringing chamber with three members of the home band, who afterwards directed us to Jordan's Youth Hostel. The hostel is surrounded by woods, delightful in the daylight but not quite so inspiring on a wet dark night when you are not sure of the road.

Sunday was our last day, with service ringing at Chalfont St. Peter, with its light six. Here we were met by one of the home band, and a member of the Chalfont St. Giles band, who afterwards invited us to ring at his home tower, so we split up enough for a quarter of Doubles and went to St. Giles' where, unfortunately, the treble was out of action. This attempt was unsuccessful. This brought our holiday to an end and we headed straight for home through London, chasing the lights along Oxford Street on the way.

Looking back, it all adds up to a lot of fun. We did not cram an enormous amount of ringing into the week, but we had more time to enjoy what we did. We did not try any new methods, believing that practices should be reserved for home towers and not other people's. We make no claim for originality; as far as we can see, people have been cycling to their ringing since cycles were first invented, and we number no octogenarians or nonagenarians among our members. We did, however, see other places and meet other people, and to all those who made our tour possible—the incumbents who gave permission, the steeplekeepers and members of the local bands who got the bells ready and met us—we offer our sincere thanks.

C. E. W.

BEVERLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY*Visit to Kirk Ella

Some 35 members attended the meeting at Kirk Ella on October 13th with a visitor from Rothwell, Yorks. The six bells (tenor 19½ cwt.) are a heavy-going ring and took a lot of handling, the ringing being consequently below standard.

The service was held in the ancient Church of St. Andrew, with its beautiful arcade of Early English windows in the south side of the chancel, and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. Foord. In his sermon the Vicar spoke of the use of leisure in present and recreation of past generations. In olden times all activities were centred round the church; ringing was one of the few that remained that gave an opportunity to ringers to attract young people to the ringing chamber and do a service to the community as well as the church. Ringing was a healthy and intelligent way of using time, hands and mind.

The meeting followed the excellent tea in the Memorial Hall when congratulations were offered to the Society's vice-president on his 50th wedding anniversary. A good reception was given to members of the newly-formed band from Rise on joining the Society. The meeting closed with thanks to the Vicar and local ringers for the efficient arrangements for the meeting, which had included a lot of chair-moving and floor sweeping the previous night.

The Vicar expressed his pleasure in meeting the ringers again and said that he would like to have the handbells introduced into a service to let his congregation see the ringers in action in a manner similar to the way they were used in the ringers' service.

Long distance travellers left early to get home before the heavy fog settled down for the night, the remainder went back to the tower to keep the bells going in standard methods and Cambridge.

INSTRUCTION

ONE of the commonest sights in the quieter streets of industrial towns and on country roads fifty years ago was a person learning to ride a bicycle. The instructor's job was to hang on to the back of the machine, and by main force keep it reasonably upright, until the learner found out for himself how to preserve the balance. The teacher very often could not ride a bicycle himself. Nor had he need to be able to do. But there is a very different tale to tell in regard to the teaching of ringing. Most ringers are willing to impart their knowledge to anyone who wants it, but in ringing, more than in anything else, does the veriest tyro take upon himself to teach others, and as one moves about the country one can see the results of it. One district may have fine rope handlers and strikers, although only a few miles away the ringing is sloppy and the striking bad. Probably those responsible for these two differing states of affairs are long since dead, but their work remains, good and bad. In the first case, the teacher was probably one who was a stickler for belfry discipline and the honouring of belfry usages. He may have been a bit of a martinet; he may have driven someone from the tower by his insistence on proper behaviour, keenness and wholehearted allegiance. The legacy he left behind was worth it all. The second instance very likely arose through a man of forceful personality, who resented criticism, and by his personality, aided perhaps by a little sharp practice, kept himself at the head of affairs in his district, so that his standard, however mediocre it might have been, was the standard of the district. Instead of doing his best for learners, and hoping that the pupil would surpass the master, he took very good care that nobody did surpass him. Fortunately, this sort of thing is dying out, but it does crop up from time to time.

So, then, it follows that learners should have the best instruction that is available. It is only fair to them. The teacher should not only know his job properly, but he should know the appropriate moment to make a forward step in the teaching. All good ringers know, and heartily dislike, those ringers who, in spite of well-meant advice, are always striving after something which is just a little beyond them. They are always 'passengers' in what they ring, and because they have to pay so much attention to the method, the striking suffers. Good striking is automatic, and is generally brought about by proper insistence on the striking of simple methods. There can be no such thing as perfect striking, but it can become so nearly perfect that few humans can detect the infinitely small variations in the intervals between individual notes. There are people who admit that they cannot hear their own bell once it is launched into changes. Some, indeed, apparently cannot hear it in rounds. It is a pity that they take up ringing. Cases of this sort are not hopeless, however, and it would be a grave mistake to do anything to drive such individuals from the tower. It needs a really skilled teacher to effect any improvement here, although it can be done.

Different teachers have different methods, although successful teachers find that their basic methods are alike or very similar. The instructor who 'stands behind' his pupil is usually doing him a disservice. First of all, there are comparatively very few people who CAN stand behind effectively. It is an art in itself to issue instructions the right amount of time before the pupil has to do the work. A mere simultaneous instruction is worse than no instruction at all, and merely serves to distract the attention of the learner from what he should be doing for himself. After the principle of hunting is grasped, there should be no need for 'standing behind.' If a pupil has been taught the right way, and has been allowed to proceed only at the rate which his natural aptitude will allow, he should with confidence be able to stand in for a method entirely new in practice to him, and know quite well before he starts that he can make a good job of it. Such confidence comes of right teaching and of, what is more important, right learning.

That great little man, Louis Wilson, asserted in these pages that in fifty years' teaching no pupil of his broke a stay. It doesn't sound much, but it argues a high standard of teaching, one that was born of sheer commonsense. Years ago, men learnt to ring their bells without stays. Might it not be a good idea, where practicable, to remove the slider before teaching a beginner? Probably, a few journeys up to the bell chamber to replace the rope would have more effect than many words. At any rate, it would prevent that nasty jar which is given to the bell and its fittings when a stay is broken, due to unskilful teaching.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

then £1 2s. 6d. for 1952.

Liverpool Cathedral bells
will ring a welcome to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip as they pass through the city tomorrow (Saturday) morning. The ringing will be followed by a short service of dedication.
In the afternoon there will be ringing. Three 12-bell bands from the Ancient Society of College Youths, Leicester and Birmingham, have, we understand, been invited to be present.
Afternoon ringing will be from about 3.30 p.m.
to 5 p.m.

Mr. Robert Edwards, of Tenterden, Kent, enjoyed listening to the peal rung on the local bells for his 86th birthday. He writes complimenting the ringers on excellent striking.

Mr. Harry H. Fern rang his 50th peal during 1951 at West Bromwich on October 27th.
Brother George E. is waiting till the end of the year before counting his.

Mrs. Rosemary Howard, of Godalming, Surrey, was taken to Farnham (Surrey) Hospital on October 27th with an acute attack of asthma.
She is now out of hospital and making steady progress.

Coincidence: Mr. Albert E. Jones, who took part in a peal at Bromfield, Shropshire, on Sunday, November 4th, rang his first peal on a Sunday, November 4th, conducted his first peal on a Sunday, November 4th, and has now rung his first peal on the treble on Sunday, November 4th. Mathematical students can work out the respective dates.

The Rochdale Branch of the Lancashire Association have a warm spot in their hearts for Mr. Herbert Barlow, who joined the Association in 1898. His birthday is not permitted to pass without peal honours and on October 27th Herbert participated in the peal of Stedman Triples at St Thomas's, Moorside, to mark his 74th milestone.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Congratulations to Roderick W. Pipe, who at the age of eleven has called his first peal, of Royal, at Grundisburgh. He is showing the same enthusiasm as his elder brother, George W., who has now rung 100 peals for the Suffolk Guild.

Stratford-on-Avon tower was strongly represented at the meeting of the Coventry Diocesan Guild at Butlers Marston. The omission in the report sent in is regretted by our correspondent.

By taking part in the peal at Kidderminster on November 3rd, Mr. George Morris, of Worcester, completed Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

The tenor bell at Sparsholt, near Winchester, has been recast by Messrs Mears and Stain-bank and will be dedicated by the Vicar (the Rev. W. D. Maundrell) at evensong on November 18th, at 6.30.

Writes Mr. W. A. J. Knight, of Gillingham:
Could you please state whether Canterbury Pleasure Major is now recognised by the Central Council as this method has not Plain Bob Major lead ends? We trust the appropriate committee of the Council will give a reply.

Six brawny ringers at Shebbear, Devon, on November 5th performed the yearly ritual of turning over the 'Devil's Boulder,' a massive rock weighing several hundredweights. Legend has it that the devil 'just before he died with cold at North Lew' dropped the rock and that unless it was turned over once a year on the night of November 5th the village would suffer some grave misfortune. The ceremony is preceded by sounding a wild jangle on the bells in order 'to exorcise the Devil,' and at the end the bells are rung in thanksgiving. Owing to bereavement there was no ringing this year.
The boulder was quickly toppled over by the skilled use of crowbars.

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

314th ANNIVERSARY DINNER—SAD PLIGHT OF LONDON BELLS—C.Y.s STANDARD BEARERS OF THE EXERCISE—'RINGING WORLD'S' GAME FIGHT—UNIQUE ASSOCIATION WITH QUEEN VICTORIA

THE 314th anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths, held at Pimms Restaurant, Bishopsgate London, on November 10th, was a great reunion and a most happy function. Mr. J. Frank Smallwood, the present Master, was in the chair, and the other officers supporting him were Messrs. A. A. Hughes (treasurer), A. B. Peck (secretary), H. G. Miles and W. H. Passmore (trustees), J. G. A. Prior (senior steward) and F. E. Collins (junior steward).

Among the guests were Canon Dr. Jocelyn Perkins of Westminster Abbey, the Rev. E. G. Turner (St. Giles', Cripplegate), and the Rev. C. P. Sherwood (Mapledurham, Berks). Mr. E. H. Lewis came down from Scotland for the gathering.

Those with long membership were honoured during the proceedings and the list included: R. Stannard 61 years, I. Emery and E. A. Young 60 years, W. T. Elson 59 years, G. R. Newton 57 years, W. H. Passmore 56 years, A. Walker and C. Fenn 55 years, G. N. Price and A. D. Cullum 54 years, E. S. Fenn 53 years, W. Shepherd 51 years, A. B. Peck and H. Hodgetts 50 years.

APOLOGIES

The hon. secretary read apologies from the Provost of Southwark, the Earl of Shaftesbury, the Rev. D. H. Booth, the Rev. F. L. Edwards, Messrs. J. W. Jones, Harry Miles (Kensington), F. Warrington, R. Fenn, W. C. Downing, E. Shepherd and G. W. Critchley. The Earl of Shaftesbury wrote thanking the Society for the great honour they conferred on him by ringing a peal for his 80th birthday.

The Master, in extending a welcome to those present, especially those members who had travelled a great distance, said he was happy to see such strong contingents from Birmingham and Lancashire. If those gentlemen were able to be present at the meetings of the Society in London they would be very surprised at the warmth with which they received new nominations from Lancashire.

Proposing the toast of 'The Church,' the Master said some years ago a relation of his, who happened to be a parson in Yorkshire, told him he had been invited to preach at a ringers' service and asked him for advice as to what he should speak about. He said 'Talk about anything but bells' (laughter). A little while ago he saw this relative again and told him he was proposing the toast of 'The Church,' and asked him for advice. He said 'Talk about anything but the Church' (renewed laughter).

We had all endured very patiently long addresses from well-meaning clergymen at ringers' services on information culled mainly from the 'Encyclopædia Britannica' about bells, and for that reason he was not proposing to deliver a long discourse about the Church. Suffice it to say they were all good churchmen and he did not think of all the people connected with the Church there was any body who had more enthusiasm than the ringers for their service for the Church. It was perfectly true that when they were at work in the tower more people heard what they were doing than the choir or organist. Therefore they must see that the message sent out was a good one.

LONDON BELLS

The bells in London suffered great losses as the result of the war. They knew as well as he did how many rings of bells they lost. Many of those bells were in sad need of some bellfounders' tonic and now those bells that were left were also in need of that tonic. It was up to London members to keep in mind the importance of bell restoration so that they might not lag behind in their restorations the splendid work being done in the provinces. They had not the facilities in London to practise the higher methods but that would come in due course. He was glad to know that the restoration of Cripplegate was under way, but they needed someone with £7,000 to come along before it could be completed. St. Magnus' might also soon be restored, Fulham had been restored and the old ring of All Hallows', Lombard Street, had been moved to Twickenham.

The Rev. E. G. Turner, Vicar of St. Giles', Cripplegate, who replied, recalled the last occasion he attended the dinner was the 300th anniversary of the Society, and looking at a photograph of that gathering at the White-chapel foundry he noticed that there were many more clergy there than on the previous occasion. Among the clergy were the present Bishop of Southwark and that grand old man, Canon G. F. Coleridge. The Canon was a very big Freemason and was always getting further honours and taking home new aprons. When he was made an honorary Canon of Christ Church his housekeeper said to him, 'I suppose this will mean another new apron?' The Canon replied, 'No, only a rosette.'

CRIPPLEGATE BELLS

Mr. Turner said he had always had a most happy relationship with ringers. They knew the nursery rhyme associated with St. Giles' bells of brickbats and tiles but he well remembered the magnificent peal that was rung on the bells for the Jubilee of King George V. They put up a board in honour of the event but it unfortunately perished in the fire. For their new bells they had to find £7,000. Eight bells survived the fire and four disappeared down the crack. Those eight bells were taken to the Whitechapel Foundry and they were melted down and used for other bells. As long as he was Vicar there would never be any idea of their bells coming from any other foundry than Whitechapel (applause). When he was an undergraduate the curate at his parish was the Rev. F. L. Edwards. He had in those days a deep baritone-bass voice and he used to delight the Temperance Society with his songs (laughter).

The Vicar concluded by saying that for various reasons he had never been a ringer although when staying at a Lincolnshire rectory he did have a lesson in handling a bell. The only time he had rung a bell was at the time of his induction. There was a superstition that the incumbent would remain in the benefice for as many years as the strokes he gave on the bell at that service. He always gave a good many pulls to the bell (laughter).

'PREMIER SOCIETY'

The toast of 'The Ancient Society of College Youths' was proposed by Mr. F. E. Haines. He said that one reason why he had been honoured by being asked to propose that toast was because their Master had in the past been connected with Birmingham. He was glancing through some old copies of 'The Ringing World' for the years 1929-1930 and was interested to read a letter which stated: 'How much longer is the Ancient Society of College Youths going to keep up the pretence of being the premier ringing society in the country?' The letter was signed 'Unknown.' He did not think the Ancient Society should claim to be the premier society in the country. It was right that each Guild or Society should aspire to be, but if it was so they should not say.

He felt now, more than ever, that the Ancient Society could claim a leading place among the ringing societies in the country.

Some of them might be familiar with Pistol in Shakespeare. He was also known as Ancient Pistol. Ancient was another word for standard bearer. To him the College Youths had always been an object of admiration; they had always been standard bearers for good company, good striking and dignified proceedings.

In Birmingham they were very pleased to see their old friend Mr. Smallwood as Master of the Society. For many years Frank had been wandering about the countryside but now he seemed to have found his spiritual home. The other name he associated with the toast was Mr. Peck, who had been secretary of the Society since the death of Mr. Cockerill, some 17 or 18 years.

Mr. A. B. Peck, who replied, said he would like to assure the Vicar of St. Giles' that about 20 hours ago he left the Rev. F. L. Edwards with a glass of Worthington and some bread and cheese (laughter).

The Society had had a very successful year. They had had 12 business meetings, all well attended, and 47 practices, and out-of-town meetings at Birmingham, Eltham and Croydon. The Birmingham meeting was exceptional: they went to Bill Barber's grave and the Birmingham ringers received them so well that he enjoyed it as much as any meeting he had attended. They had a good meeting at Eltham and a fortnight ago had a wonderful time at Croydon with a bountiful tea provided by Mr. Cooper and his lady friends.

62 NEW MEMBERS

At those 12 business meetings they elected 62 new members, which was a record for the time he had been secretary. The new members were L. Stilwell (Horsham), F. Oakshott (Epsom), H. J. Turner (Bournville), W. E. Thompsett (Birmingham), J. Taylor (Rochdale), J. G. Clay (Sevenoaks), B. W. White and E. Lish (Henfield), K. W. Mackintosh (Wistaston), A. Pritchard (Hadley), A. J. Adams (Woodmansterne), L. A. Reece (Carshalton), T. R. Hampton (Erdington), J. Scott (Great Budworth), E. Jenkins (Bradford), T. G. Southam (St. Albans), N. David Lane (Solihull), R. O. Fry (Bath), J. W. Southam (St. Albans), W. F. Slaughter (Horley), J. Hill (Ewell), F. H. Newman (Whittlesey), C. K. Lewis (Altrincham), A. Short (Erdington), H. Shutt (Fulham), W. F. Scudamore (Bristol), L. W. Penfold (Smallfield), F. J. Hurrell, P. K. Radlah, and T. J. I. White (Eltham), R. A. Laming (Woolwich), J. M. Ellwood (Slough), C. F. Sayer (St. Albans), M. Hatchett (Chalfont St. Giles), P. W. Weeks (Colerne), L. M. Callow (Coventry), G. E. Bagley (Coalbrookdale), H. O. Baker (Chester), P. J. Staniforth (Leicester), R. Tomlin (Carshalton), E. J. Smith (Bicester), E. Pearson (Banbury), R. G. Field (Yeovil), D. V. Gore (Queen Camel), J. Brackley (Woking), H. Milford (Plymouth), H. Poyner (Leicester), T. J. E. Hayward (Bath), T. A. Thornber and B. G. Warwick (Leicester), A. E. Jacques (Loughborough), N. Mallet (Axminster), J. E. Cannell (West Wickham), W. F. Butler (Windsor), A. D. Rivers (Slough), T. Barker (Croyley), J. T. Williams (Swansea), A. Cairns (Cheddar), R. A. E. Dunn (Chislehurst), T. E. Marks (Yeovil), F. R. L. Blewer (Cambrewell), D. Kingston (Hornsey) and F. W. Goodfellow (Ivor Heath).

The Society rang 28 peals during the year, all of which were of excellent quality.

COLLEGE YOUTHS—Cont.

THE SILENT TRIBUTE

The company stood in silence as Mr. Peck read the following names of those who had died during the year:—John H. Godfrey, Joseph Evans, Leonard Harris, John W. Wilkins, Charles Edwards, William J. Walker, William A. Clark, Harry Kilby, William H. Shuker, Thomas H. Reeves, James George, John Dixon, Albert Darnell, Alfred Miller, Oliver Sippetts, Charles Dean, George Holmes, John Neal, Walter Claydon, Edward G. Morrad, R. Congreve Pridgeon, Maurice F. R. Hibbert and Thomas Groombridge.

Mr. W. H. J. Hooton proposed the toast of 'Kindred Ringing Societies and Visitors.' He gave a special welcome to the Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. He was reminded that a good many years ago his presence would be not only unthinkable but he did not know what would have happened. Happily that was a thing of the past.

In the course of his duties as librarian to the Central Council he had an opportunity of seeing what progress was being made. It was very interesting to see where these books went. During October 220 publications were sold and those books were distributed among 28 counties in England and three in Wales. They extended from Northumberland to Cornwall and from Kent to Westmorland.

Somebody might tell him that the reading of books could not teach a person to ring. He did not propose to say anything about the decline in the standard of striking although something might be said on that subject, but he wanted to say something quite the opposite.

BELLS RUNG PROPERLY

The other day he was at a ringing meeting in Hertfordshire and a young keen ringer told him that he had recently been taking part in some ringing not far from London and he had never in his life heard bells rung properly before. He told him that he had got exactly the same impression many years ago and, curiously enough, in the same district. Such experiences did nothing but good and he hoped he would convey it to his friends.

Recently there had come to Aylesbury a ringer from Melbourne, Australia, named Richards. He had been very interested in his description of ringing in Australia. The arrival of two ringers from England, at Melbourne, had created a phenomenal advance in the quality of their ringing. If Mr. Richards could gain a sound knowledge of ringing while in England, he would be invaluable on his return, for at Melbourne the addition of one good ringer meant so much.

Mr. George Cross received a great ovation on rising to reply as Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. An equally cordial reception was accorded Mr. A. Tomlinson, of the Lancashire Association, who offered his Society's congratulations to the Master. Some of them remembered the time Mr. Smallwood spent in Lancashire, when they saw something of his ability. To the visitors it had been a wonderful day.

'THE RINGING WORLD'

The toast of 'The Press' was proposed by Mr. A. A. Hughes who mentioned that he was a member of the first committee connected with 'The Ringing World' and was still in touch with the present committee. They all knew what a good job the present committee was making and 'The Ringing World' was showing good signs of improving. They had read of the campaign for 1,000 new postal subscribers in order that the journal might pay its way: he hoped all members would give their fullest support to the committee. Nevertheless he felt, personally, that the committee would have been wiser to increase the price to sixpence.

Mr. T. W. White, the editor, in reply, in thanking Mr. Hughes and Mr. Smallwood for their support, said that the Master had this year not only the responsibilities of his high office but had thrust on his shoulders two big tasks by the Central Council—the shepherding through of the Rules and Decisions of the Council, a subject upon which snags were constantly occurring, and a greater task of placing 'The Ringing World' on a sound basis.

The decision to retain the price of the journal at fourpence was a bold one and the new committee knew it meant a hard fight. There was one characteristic of the British people—if they saw a man fighting gamely for a worthy object they would not stand aside. This was what was happening in the Ringing Exercise and, as editor, he had been greatly encouraged by the practical gestures of support and friendship.

There were three ways they could help: by doing their utmost to bring in the 1,000 new postal subscribers; by sending a voluntary contribution with peals and quarter peals to meet the added cost; by donations to tide over the period until the 1,000 new subscribers were forthcoming. He had very great hopes that they would succeed.

The concluding toast was that of 'The Fragrant Memory of the Masters of 300, 200 and 100 years ago' was again entrusted to Mr. E. Alex Young. He said that was the 14th occasion that he had the honour of being asked to propose the toast. The three names they had to honour were James Robert Haworth, Master in 1851; Francis Baker, 1751; and John Stace, 1651. For details of John Stace, who was a merchant of London, and Francis Baker, he must refer them to the admirable book by the late Mr. Trollope.

Haworth must have been known to a dozen men in that room. He knew him personally at the age of about 70 when he, the speaker, was a young man. Haworth was a compositor and he also contributed articles about ringing. 'I met him,' said Mr. Young 'in the scroff of St. Clement Danes and Westminster Abbey.' He was one of that remarkable band of young men who, as clever ringers, dominated change ringing in London for many years, viz., John Cox, Henry Haley, James Dwight, George Ferris, George Musckett and many others. He was born in 1821 and at the age of 18 joined the College Youths and appears on the roll as 'Robert Haworth of Fleet Street.' He was then a fully-fledged ringer, having been a member of the St. James' Society, whose founder, Thomas Tollady had joined the Society ten years before. Peals were infrequent, one or perhaps two, a year, and it was not until December, 1841, that he rang his first peal for the Society, one of Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Bermondsey. In the next four years, however, he rang in seven out of the eleven rung by the Society.

AN ASSOCIATION WITH QUEEN VICTORIA

When Haworth died in 1910 there was a special paragraph in the annual report of the Printers' Pension, Almshouse and Orphan Asylum Corporation. It mentioned that his last employment as a compositor was with Messrs. Virtue, when between 50 and 60 years of age. Much of his time after this was spent in travelling throughout the country taking part in opening ceremonies connected with bell-ringing. He was an official bell-ringer at Westminster Abbey at the Coronation of Queen Victoria and took part in the ringing on the celebration of every subsequent birthday of Her Majesty, also on the occasions of her Jubilee and Diamond Jubilee. Her Majesty caused her photograph to be sent to him, which he presented to the Ancient Society of College Youths. Every birthday of King Edward VII. saw Mr. Haworth in the belfry at the Abbey and when His Majesty, as Prince of Wales, presided at the Anniversary Festival of the Institution, he honoured Mr. Haworth by a separate audience and evinced a gracious interest in his career. He was also a very generous benefactor of the Institution.

A popular feature of the evening was the selections on handbells played by Mrs. A. A. Hughes. There was also a touch of Stedman Cinques 'in hand' in which the Master participated.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

Wellingborough Branch

The six bells of Rushden St. Mary's have not been rung since 1919. The top part of the fine spire is to be taken down and rebuilt and it has been decided to have the bells rehung at the same time. There is a fine team of lads chiming these bells, and its leader and another interested friend decided to approach the Guild for aid in teaching the band change ringing on handbells to keep them interested and attached until the tower bells are ready.

The secretary of the Wellingborough Branch, therefore, invited them to the quarterly meeting at Ecton, on October 20th. This visit resulted in the election of the two adults, Messrs. Charles F. Clifton and Hodekins as honorary members, with the promise of help from Branch members. The visitors were especially attracted by the fraternal feeling throughout the meeting. It was decided to hold the annual Branch meeting at Irthlingborough in January.

'The Ringing World' also figured on the agenda and the secretary distributed the leaflets to induce more postal subscribers.

The meeting also provided a surprise for the new Rector of Ecton, the Rev. Stuart W. Artless, and his wife. It was their first attendance at a ringers' meeting. The whole atmosphere, together with courses of Bob Major and Grand-sire Triples on the handbells, gave them much pleasure.

About 60 were present at the tea provided and served in the Church Rooms by the local ringers' wives.

This tower is interesting for its very old tablets and wall painting of the six ringers. The church contains the ancient font which, with another in the nearby village of Billing, is the oldest in Northamptonshire. There is also a Franklin memorial tablet, Rushden being the ancestral home of Benjamin Franklin. The bellfounder, Bagley, of Ecton, is commemorated by a large stone tablet in the central aisle.

Ringling during the afternoon and evening was not too good as the ring of six rather heavy bells needs practice to get good striking.

MITCHAM RINGERS' SERVICE

The bell-ringers' service which was held at Christ Church, Mitcham, at 6.30 p.m. on October 28th was well attended. Ringling started at 5.30 p.m. and 16 ringers participated in touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. S. Johnston, who preached on a text from Exodus: 'And the sound of the bells shall be heard when he goeth into the holy place before the Lord.' The Vicar pointed out that bells were only mentioned in the Bible in connection with religion. He thanked the bell-ringers for fitting themselves to ring the bells and also for their regular ringing before the church services. The ringing of the bells, he said, proclaimed to all who cared to listen that the House of God was open for the celebration of the Holy Communion and for other services of public worship. In the broadcasting of this message the ringers were performing a vital function in the life of the church.

The lessons were read by two ringers who were for many years members of Christ Church but have now left the parish. The choir sang a special anthem, 'Ding-dong Bell.'

Christ Church suffered badly by enemy action during the war and later by fire, and the ringing and service took place with scaffolding all round the tower and also inside the church. It is hoped that all the repairs and the decorations will be completed and that the church will soon be made beautiful once more.

After the service the bells pealed out again for about half an hour.

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD Quarterly Meeting

The quarterly meeting of the Coventry Diocesan Guild was held at Stratford-on-Avon on October 20th. There was a good attendance of members and friends and about 50 sat down to tea at the Royal Restaurant, the Vicar, Canon Prentice, joining the party. Evensong followed in the Church of Holy Trinity, conducted by the Vicar, who incorporated the Guild's prayer and suitable hymns applicable to the visiting ringers.

The business meeting took place in the south aisle of the church presided over by the Master, Mr. F. W. Perrens. Apologies were read from the president (the Rev. R. R. P. Rigby), Messrs. White and Huxley. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Chilvers Coton in January. New members elected were Messrs. H. Braunston and R. Bowyer (Bishop's Itchington), Mr. H. Reeves (Ladbroke), Miss D. Palmer (Southam), and Miss J. Maskell (Harborne). The ratification of the election of Miss M. Reay, of Northfield and Mr. B. G. Warwick, of Leicester, prior to peals, was duly made.

A short discussion followed the mention of reports for the years 1950 and 1951 and it was decided to form a small committee consisting of the Master and secretary and one representative from each of the Districts to go into every aspect of the matter and report at the next meeting.

The Master then urged the members to do all they could to increase the circulation of 'The Ringing World.' If each member could obtain only one or two new subscribers, particularly postal ones, then the Guild could be said to have done its best in promoting greater circulation. The Vicar was then thanked for the use of the bells and for the service specially altered to suit the ringers, and the local band received thanks for having everything in readiness.

The lovely ring of ten was made good use of during the afternoon and evening and everybody had a thoroughly happy time.

HUDDERSFIELD DISTRICT

A good meeting was held at Kirkheaton on November 3rd. The tricky six bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening to Doubles and Minor. Some of the spliced touches were very well struck which proved that these bells can be rung. In the absence of the president, the vice-president, the Rev. Mr. Spivey, conducted the short service and also presided at the business meeting.

About 20 members attended and one new member was elected. A vote of thanks to the local company for the arrangements, which included a warm room and cups of tea at no charge, was heartily endorsed.

The Rector hoped that our visit would encourage his own ringers to stick together. It is hoped to get a central tower for the annual meeting in January.

A suggestion that a collection be taken at the meetings was left over for later discussion, the secretary pointing out that we had ample funds for the current year. Two designs for a rubber stamp were submitted and the secretary was empowered to acquire the one chosen. Handbells and further tower bell ringing until nine o'clock completed a good meeting. A. W. B.

LONG BUCKBY PEAL TABLET

The ringing chamber of St. Lawrence's, Long Buckby, Northants, has been presented with a tablet to record the first peal rung on the bells. This was dedicated at evensong on October 28th by the Vicar.

These bells were a rather 'hard-going' five until March of last year when, having been 'Taylorised,' the 'First Peal on the Bells' was much enjoyed by all who took part.

The tablet is the gift of Mr. P. Amos, whose family has connections with the village dating back more than a century. E. G. O.

CALLED PEAL AT 11

Roderick W. Pipe, eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pipe, of Grundisburgh, Suffolk, has called his first peal, one of Kent Treble Bob Royal, which was his own composition.

Since the age of seven he has been handling a bell, but owing to his slender physique did not start ringing until the beginning of 1950. In May of that year he rang his first 720 on an 'inside' bell, to Bob Minor. He could also ring Cambridge Surprise Minor, Kent Treble Bob Minor, Plain Bob Triples and Major.

It was in June, 1950, that he called his first touch and in February, 1951, his first 720. Roddy attempted his first peal before his 11th birthday, but this could not be recorded owing to a miscall. His first peal—on an 'inside' bell to Kent Treble Bob Major—was rung on May 26th this year. The peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal, on November 3rd, was his first attempt at calling a peal.

An excellent striker, Roddy has, from the beginning, shown a great interest in figures. He has compiled his own collection of touches of Bob Triples and Major and can now ring up to Cambridge Surprise Royal. Recently he started handbell ringing.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

The first District meeting to be held at Barwell for two years took place on October 20th, when 27 members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild participated in ringing at St. Mary's Church. The service was conducted by the curate (the Rev. S. C. Kipling), and the Barwell Society's own hymns were sung. Mr. Alan Hough read the lesson.

Following an excellent tea, the business meeting was held. Visitors were present from Hinckley, Leicester and Loughborough Districts. The arrangements were made by Miss B. Colver, of the Barwell Society.

FRESTBURY, GLOS.—On Oct. 30th. 1,260 Doubles (480 Reverse Canterbury Pleasure, 480 Plain Bob and 300 Grandsire): B. Parkin (first in three methods) 1. R. Taylor 2. R. Dowdeswell 3. D. Surman 4. C. Rouse (cond.) 5. F. Pendry 6. Rung half-muffled as a token of respect for the late Reuben Hemmings, for many years captain at Charlton Kings.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World,' November 17th, 1911

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCES

Congleton, Cheshire.—On Saturday, October 21st, after meeting one short for a peal, 504 Stedman Triples:—G. Smith 1. J. W. Washbrook 2-3, Harry Washbrook 4, J. Darlington 5, W. R. Washbrook 6, J. W. Washbrook, jun. (conductor) 7, T. Shone 8. The ringers of the 4th, 6th and 7th rang blindfolded.

Tasburgh, Norwich.—On Sunday, October 22nd, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles:—J. F. Duffield 1, E. P. Duffield 2, G. H. Cross (cond.) 3, W. C. Duffield 4, F. R. Copeman 5. Also 1,260 Bob Doubles. The average age of these ringers is 14½ years. On handbells, 224 Bob Major and 120 Bob Minor: also two courses of Oxford Treble Bob Minor. These were conducted by G. H. Cross.

[Mr. G. H. Cross is now Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, and Mr. E. P. Duffield a past Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Mr. W. C. Duffield is one of the Norwich Diocesan Association's representatives on the Central Council.]

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD

The quarterly meeting of the Guild was held on September 29th at Cradley when over 50 members and friends accepted the invitation of the Vicar (the Rev. W. Yaxley, vice-president of the Guild) and the local ringers.

The Vicar conducted the service and gave an unusual and inspiring address.

The secretary reported that he had seen the Vicar of Dudley, the Rev. Mr. Keith Murray, who had consented to be their president. The Vicar of Dudley appealed to the Guild for help at St. Thomas's Church, Dudley, for his band of young ringers. The meeting suggested that the secretary should try and make arrangements to fix a practice night suitable for all concerned.

The secretary stated that it had come to his knowledge that Mr. John Goodman, late secretary and Ringing Master of the Guild, had passed away since the last meeting. This information was confirmed and the members stood in silence to his memory.

Suggestions for the next quarterly meeting were Rowley, Oldbury or Wood Green, Wenedbury, and arrangements were left to the secretary. The members wished the Vicar and Mrs. Yaxley god-speed on their departure to Edgbaston.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

The Northern District met at Rayne on October 27th. The afternoon's ringing was curtailed through the clapper of the third bell falling out: on investigation it was found that the cause was a locking nut which had come off. The clapper was taken to a local garage, repaired and refitted. Ringing then continued.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. A. Clifford), who also gave an interesting address. The collection for the Association's Bell Restoration Fund amounted to 18s. 6d.

Tea was served in the Old Schoolroom by members of the local Mothers' Union. At the business meeting which followed, the District Master, Miss H. G. Snowden, presided. Members stood in silence to the memory of Mr. D. Smith, J.P., of Witham, an honorary member of the District, who died on October 7th. Six new members were elected. The next meeting will be at Braintree on the third Saturday in January, if convenient.

After the meeting the bells were again rung in a variety of methods by members from Bocking, Stebbing, Finchingfield, Rayne, Black Notley, Braintree, Kelvedon, Dunmow, Witham, Dagenham, Great Easton, Wimbish, Great Bardfield, Woodford, Felsted, Danbury, Wickham St. Paul's, Castle Hedingham and Colchester.

DEATH OF MR. TOM GROOMBRIDGE

Former Master of the College Youths

Mr. Tom Groombridge, whose death on October 29th, at Slough, was reported in our issue of November 2nd, was one of the outstanding personalities in the Exercise. He was 84 years of age.

Born at Hurst Green, Sussex, on October 9th, 1867, Mr. Groombridge began ringing in April, 1891, at Tunbridge Wells. The towers to which he had been attached were St. Andrew's, Sevenoaks, 1896-1901; St. Nicholas', Chislehurst, 1901-1940; the Church of the Annunciation, Chislehurst, 1940-1945. Upon the death of his wife he made his home with his son, the late Mr. Tom Groombridge, jun., and rang at Daybrook, Notts. It was here he rang his 800th peal on his 80th birthday.

Mr. Groombridge rang his first peal at Tunbridge Wells on December 24th, 1891, and among his notable performances were the record peal of Stedman Cinques at Southwark, which afterwards proved to be false, 7,392 Cambridge Maximus and 6,048 Kent Treble Bob Maximus, both at Bow, Cheapside, and a father and son peal of Stedman Cinques at Shoreditch. He had handled the tenors of Bow, Southwark, Manchester Town Hall and Cornhill but was equally proud of managing Foots Cray treble of one cwt. plus a few pounds to a peal of Stedman Doubles.

To the Kent County Association he gave long and faithful service. From 1903 to 1924 he was hon. secretary of the Lewisham District and was afterwards District Ringing Master for 19 years. He served on the General Committee of the Kent County Association from 1924 to 1943, and from 1910 until 1938 he represented the Association on the Central Council. In 1938 he was elected an honorary member of the Council and held that office until the time of his death. He had a long association with the Ancient Society of College Youths and in 1926 was elected Master of that body.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place in the graveyard at the Church of the Annunciation, Chislehurst, and was attended by a representative gathering of ringers. The family mourners were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Groombridge (son and daughter-in-law) and a relative of the late Mr. and Mrs. Groombridge.

Owing to war damage the church could not be used and the service was conducted at the graveside by Canon R. S. Greaves (Vicar), the depressing circumstances of a wet day being relieved at the moment of burial by a brilliant gleam of sunshine. At the end of a course of Stedman Triples was rung by J. F. Smallwood (Ancient Society of College Youths) 1-2, T. H. Taffender (London County Association) 3-4, G. R. Cross (Society of Royal Cumberland Youths) 5-6, A. B. Peck (Ancient Society of College Youths) 7-8. Thus three Masters and a secretary of Societies represented gave the ringers' lovely farewell to their old colleague.

Among others present were Messrs. A. A. Hughes, E. A. Young and A. C. Hazelden (Central Council), E. Barnett, P. Spice, W. J. Rawlings and I. Emery (Kent County Association) and E. Mounter (local band).

Before the party dispersed permission was given by the Vicar for the church bells to be rung to four courses of Stedman Triples by F. J. Smallwood (cond.) 1, T. H. Taffender 2, E. Barnett 3, A. A. Hughes 4, I. Emery 5, W. J. Rawlings 6, A. B. Peck 7, A. C. Hazelden 8. Later a shorter touch of Stedman was rung by local ringers and Mr. F. G. Groombridge.

AN APPRECIATION

Those ringers of a younger generation, who only knew Tom Groombridge as an elderly man, can, I suppose, have but a vague idea of the almost fierce energy with which, as a young man, he pursued ringing and every other thing connected with it.

I had my first contact with him 55 years ago, in 1896. When he arrived at Sevenoaks I had just become interested in ringing at the nearby village of Sundridge, which place had a very decrepit ring of six. Sevenoaks Parish Church had a heavy-going eight with a cracked tenor. Both towers were served by ringers who rang set changes, and had no use for either the Kent County Association or for what they called 'scientific ringing.'

One of the ringers of Sundridge, who had taken an interest in me, was attempting to teach me the handling of a bell by allowing me to pull the back stroke while he controlled the sally. Sharing this kind of tuition was the late Mr. W. E. Pitman who, already an expert musician, wanted to add ringing to his accomplishments.

This was the set of circumstances into which Tom Groombridge projected himself. He must, however, have handled the situation with wisdom, as we all joined the Kent County Association early in 1897. At Sevenoaks the position was worse; there, the more or less polite hostility of the ringers was supported by that of the Rector, who had a private grudge against the Kent County Association.

But neither of them could either ignore or resist the enthusiasm of Mr. Tom Groombridge. A result of his representations was the recasting of the tenor bell and rehanging of the whole ring as a memorial of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria. Afterwards a change-ringing band of ringers was built up, which still exists.

A. C. HAZELDEN.

MR. J. H. CLARK

The district of Heckington, Lincs, has lost a very highly-respected old ringer by the death of Mr. J. H. Clark, aged 84 years. He had been captain of the tower of St. Andrew's, Heckington, for over 50 years and was also a member of the Church Council and a sidesman. 'The Ringing World,' which he had taken since it was founded, was always a source of great pleasure to him. His many and varied ringing touches can be considered unique.

His interment took place at Heckington Cemetery on October 13th and in the evening the bells of St. Andrew's were rung half-muffled as a token of respect.

A. D.

MR. MAURICE F. R. HIBBERT

Mr. Arthur Hibbert, Chapel-en-le-Frith, writes:—

It was with deep regret that I read of the passing of Mr. Maurice F. R. Hibbert.

Although I only had the pleasure of meeting him during a week's holiday at Bushey last summer, I feel that I have lost a real friend.

His genial disposition and friendliness towards my friend and I, both complete strangers to him, dispelled all our fears of joining in the ringing with such a notable character of the ringing fraternity and I am sure that his presence both for service ringing and for peal attempts will be sadly missed by his fellow-ringers.

MR. HIBBERT'S PEALS

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Cary Deanery Branch

The quarterly meeting of the Cary Branch was held at Maperton on October 27th. Fifty-three members attended the service conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. T. V. Langley, assisted by the Rev. D. Ballard, Vicar of Stoke-sub-Hamdon. Canon C. W. Wakeman, of South Cadbury, read the lesson and Miss E. M. Pound was organist. Mr. Langley welcomed the ringers to his church. Tea was partaken in the Village Institute, provided and served by Mrs. Langley and her helpers. The president, Canon Wakeman, presided at the business meeting when Mrs. Langley was elected a member of the Association.

A poem by Mr. P. Sparks (Assistant Ringing Master) relating to a swarm of bees taken by him at a previous quarterly meeting at Charlton Mackrell Churchyard, was read by Canon Wakeman. Copies were afterwards sold: the whole of the proceeds, £2 2s., was given to the Bell Restoration Fund at St. Thomas-a-Becket's Church, Pylle.

RINGER'S DIARY

As it has not been possible to write individually to thank all persons who replied to our request for information regarding annual meeting dates, etc., for the 'Diary,' we wonder whether we may thank them through the medium of 'The Ringing World.'

Receipt of the information is much appreciated and enables us to keep our 'service' up-to-date. Many thanks.

W. VIGGERS.
M. HODGSON.

DEDICATION

BALDERTON, NOTTS

St. Giles' Church, Balderton, was filled to capacity on October 31st to witness the dedication of the restored six bells, the new eight-bell frame and the ringing floor.

The illuminated cross high up in the tower acted as a beacon calling all men to worship and the newly-painted floodlit clock in some intangible way suggested the brightness and beauty of the church within.

In the absence of the Bishop of Southwell, the act of dedication was performed by Canon R. F. Wilkinson, chairman of the Southwell Diocesan Guild. The Vicar of Balderton (the Rev. W. Marshall) and the Vicar of Newark (the Rev. G. W. Clarkson) also took part in the service.

In his address Canon Wilkinson gave an historical survey of ringing and church bells throughout the centuries, which must have proved of particular interest to the lay mind. He said there was a verse in the Book of Exodus which came to his mind that evening, 'The sound thereof shall be heard when he goeth into the holy places before the Lord,' and if the congregation would have another passage of Holy Scripture, 'Their sound is gone out into all the earth.' The Canon emphasised the fact that the service was one of rejoicing and that it took a good deal to get English people to church on a week night.

Immediately after the act of dedication rounds were rung by a mixed band consisting of Miss Beryl N. White and Messrs. P. Holmes, A. E. Chilton, J. W. Raithby, F. W. Vernon and P. N. White, and the first 360 changes of Bob Minor after the service was rung by the same band.

A £1,000 SCHEME

St. Giles' Church has had a ring of six bells since the year 1900. The treble was originally hung above the others and, becoming unsafe, was taken down in 1930. The bells were previously extremely noisy in the ringing chamber and it was as much as one could do to make one's voice heard above the sound of the bells. It was impossible to correct a trip, and after calling a quarter peal the conductor was usually in a state of exhaustion as well as very hoarse. All that has been altered beyond recognition by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., who were represented at the ceremony by Messrs. J. Oldham and J. P. Fidler.

The bells have been lowered in the tower and a new ringing floor added. There is now no unsightly clock case in the ringing chamber and the bells can be heard distinctly but quietly.

Retuning has been carried out where necessary and the bells have been turned and hung in a new H frame with ball bearings and new fittings and with provision for two extra bells. The job is a credit to the founders and the bells are a joy to ring.

The whole scheme has cost approximately £1,000 including local contractors' work and about £950 has already been raised. The clock has also been overhauled by Messrs. Potts. The Vicar and churchwardens together with the parishioners are anxious to complete the octave as soon as practicable and there seems reasonable hope that this will be accomplished in the not too distant future.

The tenor bell is inscribed 'Jehovah Jireh,' and was cast by John Taylor in 1842. Its weight is 8 cwt. 24 lb and its note G sharp.

So far as is known the only peal rung on the bells in recent years is one of Minor by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild in 1911.

It is pleasing to record that there is an enthusiastic band of ringers in the village in various stages, and under the leadership of Mr. Peter N. White there is no fear that this now lovely ring of bells will be silent on the Sabbath. J. W. R.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Bolton Branch at Westhoughton

On October 27th Bolton Branch kept up its reputation of having a good meeting at Westhoughton. Here there is a handy ring of bells which are in first-class going order; a Vicar who loves bells and always extends a hearty welcome to all ringers; a ringing chamber which would be better described as a ringing parlour, with its polished linoleum and chairs, central rug, electric fire and decorated walls. The credit for this goes to the tower-keeper, Mr. William Smalley. The local members and their wives provided an excellent tea.

Youth was not quite as predominant, but a high order in striking was maintained. Ringing ranged from rounds to Surprise Major in nine different methods. Lowers represented were Bolton Parish, Holy Trinity, St. George's, St. Bartholomew's, Smithills, Farnworth, Walkden, Newchurch and Westhoughton, along with a number of visitors.

The Vicar, the Rev. J. Dimmock, presided at the business meeting and said he always enjoyed the ringing, whenever there was a meeting or a peal being rung.

The secretary distributed leaflets appertaining to the welfare of 'The Ringing World.' He urged more members to take the paper regularly and to have it delivered through the post. By doing so they would get it earlier, but a more important point was that the Editorial Committee would benefit financially by cutting out distribution charges. It is 'our' paper and ought to have all 'our' support.

The members were reminded of the 'Branch Picnic' to be held on May 17th, with Loughborough in view; more names were given in.

The secretary, after moving a vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the meeting a success, said it would be remiss if, on behalf of Branch members and other ringers and friends who attended, he did not voice thanks to the Vicar for arranging a ringers' service last August. It certainly was appreciated and a successful effort, and he would like another service next year.

The Vicar said the hard work had been done by his ringers, especially Mr. Smalley, and it would be a pleasure to arrange another. Sunday, August 17th, was fixed.

Next meeting at Leigh.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

N.E. Branch Meeting

The towers comprising the North-East Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers are few and widely separated, with Bampton perhaps the most isolated of them all. It is, therefore, very gratifying to report that the quarterly meeting held there on October 27th was one of the most successful the Branch has held for a long time.

The singing at the service was led by a full surpliced choir of men and boys, the Vicar, the Rev. R. C. Fraying, gave an address which it is no mere platitude to call inspiring, and as for the magnificent tea, which was provided free of charge by the Bampton ringers and their wives, the combined efforts of nearly 70 ringers, assisted by the choirboys, failed to dispose of it all. Even cut-rounds and cream remained uneaten at the end. A collection in aid of the Guild Bells Restoration Fund realised £2 1s. 2d.

In addition to Branch members, who turned up in greater numbers than usual, and the Guild president, Prebendary E. V. Cox, visitors were present from Exeter, Honiton, Clyst, Brampford Speke, Chipstable, Combe Martin, Taunton, Wellington, Milverton, Wiveliscombe, Dulverton, Dunster and Peterborough. Methods rung ranged from rounds to Cambridge Minor and included such oddities as Reverse Canterbury Pleasure Doubles and Grandire Minor.

The Branch annual meeting will be held at Tiverton on January 5th.

REBELLION

ONCE or twice recently correspondents have urged the readers of this journal to ignore the rulings of the Central Council on technical matters. Such advice emanates no doubt from an understandable and entirely British desire not to submit to dictation from any quarter. The fact that 'The Ringing World,' itself the official journal of the Council, is able, and indeed anxious, to publish such opinions illustrates in a small way the characteristically British attitude to criticism so baffling to foreigners but so vital to our conception of a free way of life. 'Sir, I disagree heartily with what you say, but I shall defend to the death your right to say it.'

However, it is not wise to dismiss too lightly the technical decisions of the Council. A little thought on the matter will probably convince all but the more intransigent critics that an infinitely preferable line of action is available. In short, if you do not like the Council's decisions, have them altered. Such a statement is bound to evoke the retort, 'How can this be done?'

First let us consider the relationship between the Council and the ordinary ringer—the man in the belfry. Somewhat stuffily we could say that the Council is the man in the belfry. The Council meets year by year at different centres throughout the country and is a body of men and women the majority of whom are the elected representatives of the various ringing associations. Those not directly elected by the associations are honorary members elected constitutionally by the remainder of the Council much as in local government aldermen are elected by councillors. The resulting body is a fair cross-section of the ringing Exercise.

For various reasons these people offer their services to the Exercise. Some regard it as a duty to tear themselves from their families for the whole of the Whitsun week-end, others dash to the appointed centre for the day of the meeting only, but each and every one has his part to play in making the Central Council meeting a success or even a possibility. Many, indeed most, of the members go to the meeting knowing that it is most unlikely that they will have an opportunity to speak: one might long with a deep longing to add to the debate just that cryptic phrase or put in that telling sentence and another tremble at the awful possibility that some word may be called for that he, and he alone, could contribute. But the primary function of every member is not to speak, not to vote, not to serve on a committee, not to submit a report, but, directly or indirectly, to represent that larger company of ringers who, Sunday by Sunday, in crowded city or remote hamlet, climb the belfry stairs to sound forth to the world at large the message of the bells.

Central Council membership is not a freehold and every third year each association has the opportunity to change its representatives. The members are unpaid servants who can be given the sack and there is an opportunity for every ringer who so desires to present himself for election to the Council, provided he has the time and the means to attend the meeting. Once on the Council the man with a grievance can frame a resolution and, provided he can secure a like-minded seconder, the matter will come up for discussion.

However, although by economic or other circumstances some ringers are denied the opportunity of a personal expression of their opinions before the assembled Council, all ringers, however humble, who claim membership of an association are able to make felt their desire to change an existing Council decision or to initiate a new one. This can be done by a two-fold action. Firstly, by writing a letter in reasonable terms for publication in 'The Ringing World,' remembering always that it is useless to criticise a thing unless you have something better to put in its place. Secondly, by placing before one's own association the resolution that one hopes will ultimately be adopted by the Central Council. Once the association has accepted the resolution its Central Council members can, by giving the proper notice, bring forward a motion for the agenda of the next Council meeting. Alternatively there is always the possibility of interesting two honorary members of the Council in one's pet theory so that they will bring forward the necessary motion for the Council agenda. Either course is distinctly better than just grumbling.

Whatever happens, the Ringing Exercise is, and must remain, democratic. The essence of true democracy is that the minority should voluntarily and with good grace accept the decision of the majority. It is useless to go to the expense and trouble of having a Central Council and for associations to have a rule that they will abide by its decisions if every aggrieved party is to ignore them. There is no dictatorship about this—just commonsense.

Obviously some of the Council decisions are silly. No one who has had experience of a Council meeting will wonder why. It is difficult to hear a proposed decision read or even to see it in print and then to hear first one proposed amendment and then another, some silly and some sensible, and afterwards to be certain just what has been agreed. Much of this sort of thing could be avoided if greater use were made of the columns of 'The Ringing World' beforehand. The technical committees of the Council appeal from time to time for opinions and guidance from ordinary ringers. The response is usually, to say the least, lukewarm.

Therefore, armchair critics, you get the Council and the decisions you deserve!

PROGRESS REPORT

The first 100 of the 1,000 new postal subscribers have been enrolled.

A small donation when forwarding a peal or quarter peal is most helpful towards maintaining 'The Ringing World' at 4d.

One probationer member of Guildford Cathedral band left Guildford by motor-cycle at 4 a.m. on Saturday with another Guildford ringer riding pillion, to be present at the historic ceremony at Liverpool. They reached home at 2 a.m. on Sunday after a journey of 452 miles over slippery roads and having, like others, been refused admission to the tower. The probationer was in the belfry at 9.30 a.m. on Sunday to take his part in the service ringing at Guildford Cathedral. Knowing what the weather was like on Saturday this was a commendable example of unswerving loyalty to his own tower.

The peal of Braunstone Surprise Major at Syston, Leicestershire, was the first peal of Major on the bells since 1933. The title of the peal was taken from a district of Leicester in which four of the band reside.

'There has been a ring of six at Bures, Suffolk for 125 years. We are very proud to forward our first local quarter peal,' writes Leslie D. Mills. We are equally proud to receive it.

Manchester University Guild is progressing in its handbell ringing. The Guild scored its first quarter of Minor 'in hand,' 1,264 Plain Bob, on October 22nd. The band was Derek Ogden 1-2, W. L. Robinson (conductor) 3-4, E. Nixon 5-6, B. Harris 7-8.

Eight members of the Middlesex County Association had an autumnal half-day outing in Bucks and Beds on November 3rd. Two quarter peals were rung, viz., Double Norwich at Newport Pagnall and Plain Bob at Woburn (conducted by Mr. D. Harris). At Bletchley a quarter of Cambridge Surprise Major was lost. The meeting of old friends—Mr. D. Harris, Mr. H. Sear, Mr. Cademy and Mr. J. Mark—gave great pleasure to the party.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The peal at Woburn on November 8th was rung by the light of the altar candles and a hurricane lamp, the reason being that contractors working in the church had cut off the supply of gas. In a dull, flickering light, with the ropes casting eerie shadows on the walls, a good peal was rung. The popular general secretary of the Bedfordshire Association, Mr. F. J. Plummer, will certainly remember his first peal of Surprise.

The ringer of 1-2 in the handbell peal at Redfield, Bristol, on October 21st, was Eric Sutton, and not as printed.

Prestbury (Glos) band gave its practical support to the local mission by ringing on nine evenings. A fine example of church service.

An interesting point about the peal of Minor in seven methods at Hornsey is that it was the first peal on the bells since 1914. In 1927 the nave was taken down; in consequence the movement of the tower was much increased.

The peal at Keele, Staffs, was arranged as a welcome to Miss June Henshaw to Keele Hall, the University College of North Staffordshire. Miss Henshaw is the first student from Keele to ring in a peal.

The Durham and Newcastle Association rang two peals as an 80th birthday compliment to their president, Canon H. S. Stephenson. At the ringing meeting at Gateshead to-morrow, it is hoped to have a little birthday party for the Canon.

Mr. Adolphus Roberts ('Old Bob') returned to his native home on November 3rd to ring a peal; his last peal in Gloucester being in 1896. On the following Sunday morning he was at the Cathedral at 9 a.m. to meet his old friend Sidney Romans, these two being the only original members of the St. Michael's Juniors.

LIVERPOOL'S GREAT WELCOME TO THE PRINCESS

LEARNER BAND BROADCASTS OPENING OF BELLS — THE DEDICATION CEREMONY — LEADING CINQUES COMPANIES TEST NEW BELLS

PRINCESS ELIZABETH and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived home on Saturday after one of the happiest of royal visits to Canada and the United States.

It had originally been intended that the bells of Liverpool Cathedral should have been heard for the first time when their Royal Highnesses sailed for Canada, but the deeply-regretted illness of H.M. The King necessitated a postponement of their departure and a journey by air.

To Liverpool people the news that Princess Elizabeth had graciously consented to receive a civic welcome from the city and to visit the Cathedral and hear the bells ring out for the first time on her return journey was deeply appreciated. No ring of bells since the war has created a wider sense of anticipation throughout the Ringing Exercise than these great bells of Liverpool, which embody many of the latest ideas in the art of bellfounding.

'May I express the hope that "The Ringing World" will do its utmost to persuade the B.B.C. to give a broadcast of the opening of the Liverpool Cathedral bells on November 17th and to make it long enough to be really worth while?' This was the message we received from a well-known church bell-ringer in Devonshire and there were other letters in a similar strain. The B.B.C. had previously made arrangements and the country listened in and heard . . . . .

The day before, 'The Ringing World' was informed for the first time what the welcome home arrangements were, with the following message:—

'Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be joyfully welcomed home by the Liverpool Cathedral bells rung by the boys of the Cathedral Cross Guild.'

'We in Liverpool earnestly hope that this welcome will represent the bell-ringing boys throughout the land and be an encouragement to them.—E. L. H.'

The Cathedral Cross Guild is composed of ex-Cathedral choristers and some 15 of them are being trained to ring at Woolton under the direction of Mr. Ernest L. Humphriss. The progress they had made in the short time at their disposal led Mr. Humphriss to write: 'If the Cathedral bells are as free from guile and tricks as are our bells at Woolton, the boys will give a lead on Saturday to satisfy the most destructive ever of the critics.'

Upon receipt of this letter, the Editor sent a message of good wishes to Mr. Humphriss and his band.

The members of the Cathedral Cross Guild fired the light eight bells upon receiving a signal sent by 'walkie-talkie' radio. This continued for a minute or two. The boys then stepped aside and their places were taken by Liverpool ringers who rang the twelve bells in rounds. The ringing was under the superintendence of Mr. G. R. Newton (Ringing Master) and Mr. Ernest L. Humphriss (Assistant Ringing Master and instructor). The Liverpool ringers were: F. S. Almond, E. F. Bennett, E. C. Birkett, T. R. Butler, P. W. Cave, J. Cooke, L. L. Gray, T. W. Hammond, G. H. Hesketh, T. W. Hesketh, T. S. Horridge, J. Ridyard, J. E. Spice and F. Varty.

A GREAT WELCOME

No greater welcome has ever greeted anyone who stepped ashore than that accorded Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh and they must have been deeply touched by its sincerity and warmth. Many civic dignitaries were presented to the royal couple, and of particular interest to ringers was the presentation of the Cathedral clergy, the chairman of the Building Committee, the architect (Sir Giles Scott), Mr.

and Mrs. Bartlett (Mr. Bartlett is the grandson of the donor of the bells) and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes, the bellfounders.

Princess Elizabeth graciously gave the signal for the Cathedral bells to be rung and the light eight were fired by the Cathedral Cross Guild ringers. This welcome to the royal couple was the first time the bells had been heard.

Then, at the Cathedral, the service of the Hallowing of the Bells commenced with the ancient carol:—

'Ding dong! merrily on high
In Heaven the bells are ringing;
Ding dong! verily the sky
Is riv'n with angels singing.
Even so, here below,
Let steeple bells by swungen.'

The Scripture was read by Col. A. C. Tod (chairman of the Building Executive), which was followed by the Te Deum. Then the Dean, addressing the Bishop, said: 'Right reverend Sir, we pray you seek a Blessing on the music of these bells, which we have heard for the first time, to the glory and praise of God.'

The Bishop then hallowed the bells with these words: 'In the name of God, whose glorious sound is in all the world, Hallowed be His name in the making of music with these bells. May they be hallowed in the soundings of His promise, "Because I live, ye shall live also, that my joy might remain in you and that your joy might be full." And may this Cathedral Church, hallowed by His glory in the power of His resurrection sound forth the comfort of His praise and the gladsome sound of the bells praise Him with their ringing.'

The bells were then blessed by the Bishop and at the conclusion of Beethoven's lovely 'Hallelujah Anthem,' the full ring of twelve was rung in rounds by the Liverpool ringers.

VISITING BANDS

For the ringing after the service of dedication, and in the afternoon, the Dean and Chapter had invited bands from the St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, Leicester Cathedral, Sheffield District and the Ancient Society of College Youths containing a number with long service in the scroff of St. Paul's. Noted Birmingham personalities, including Mr. Albert Walker, rang first. They took a little time to settle down. It must be remembered that at present there are no louvres in the tower and the cold driving wind at the top of the tower might have added to the difficulties of bell control and also the new ropes.

Mr. Harold Poole led the Leicester Cathedral band. Unfortunately, at the Dean's orders, the Leicester 12 were deprived of two of their experienced members—Mrs. H. Poole and Mrs. Jill Staniforth. The Dean had ordered that no woman should be allowed in the tower because of its unfinished state, the tower being still in the hands of the builders.

However, Mrs. Poole and Jill were among the many ringers listening. The Leicester men are accustomed to lighter bells, nevertheless they acquitted themselves well. Liverpool Cathedral bells, to get the best out of them and to hear their full glory, need to be rung slowly.

When it came to the College Youths' turn the lift was not working and they had the long climb to the tower. The St. Paul's men, under Mr. Herbert Langdon and Mr. J. P. Smallwood, were more at home on these bells than the other bands and their Stedman Cinques were well rung. Nevertheless they were cautious: the conductor called a Bob course and then went on to a longer one, thus occupying the allotted 20 minutes.

THE LUNCHEON

A company of about 100 representative ringers were the guests of the Dean at lunch served at the Adelphi Hotel. The Dean welcomed his guests and paid a high tribute to Mr. G. R. Newton, that grand pioneer of ringing. Mr. Newton, who received a great ovation on rising, expressed his thanks to the companies who had come that day to ring for the inauguration of those great bells, and referred in a very kindly manner to the members of the Cathedral Cross Guild, for whom he had obviously a very warm regard.

Handsomely-bound copies of the Service Paper were then presented to Mr. G. R. Newton and Mr. A. A. Hughes by Kevin Lavelle (who recently won a £25 prize in a public speaking contest), and both copies were autographed by everyone present.

The Master of the College Youths, in thanking the Dean for his hospitality, said how proud his Society was to be invited to take part in the inauguration of this, the heaviest ring of twelve in the world. The experience of ringing on them had been a great joy and they were most grateful to be able to share in the joy that must be in the hearts of all those associated with this great church.

Mr. Albert Walker also acknowledged the Dean's kindness and hospitality and recalled that in 1814 at the inauguration of the ring of twelve at St. Nicholas, Liverpool, the Birmingham men were invited to open them and were presented with a silver cup (since disappeared). He congratulated the Dean and Mr. Newton on the completion of the installation of this great ring and wished them every success.

Mr. H. J. Poole, of Leicester, and Mr. S. Palmer, of Sheffield, also gave thanks and then followed a course of Stedman Cinques on handbells rung by F. E. Haynes 1-2, J. E. Spice 3-4, H. J. Poole 5-6, J. F. Smallwood 7-8, E. C. Shepherd 9-10, A. Walker 11-12.

Mr. A. A. Hughes, of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who was warmly received, thanked those present for their congratulations and said that it was only on that day that they had been able to hear the bells rung openly. Certain modifications to the strength of the clapping of the back bells would be made in due course.

Ringing took place in the afternoon, the programme concluding with a Liverpool band ringing Grandsire Cinques and a perfect falling of the front eight.

THE BELLS

A full description of the bells, frame, weights and inscriptions was given in this paper recently. All that now remains is to try to describe the impressions left on the mind by this mighty ring—the heaviest in the world. Never before have we been able to hear bells so deep-toned or so beautifully mellow. They give a feeling of subdued power and there is no blatancy or harshness in their dignified tones. They should bring joy and comfort to all who hear and all who ring them.

Certainly Liverpool does things in a big way. Their Cathedral (not yet completed) will be the largest and most beautiful in the country and they now have the heaviest ring of balls in the world. Let us hope that the inauguration of this great ring will lead to the foundation of as great a future for Lancashire ringing.

Among the many to whom a special vote of thanks is due is Mr. P. W. Cave, who arranged the transport to and from the station of the College Youths band from London. This kindness enabled the band to ring twice. The ex-choristers' Guild of the Cathedral also did a great work in acting as guides to the parties ascending the tower.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'... THE WHOLE TRUTH ...'

Dear Sir,—There must be two classes of your readers who are heartsick of this continued futility of talk about Method Extension: (a) Those who know nothing of it and care less; (b) Those who think they 'have it all taped.'

But there's at least one other class—the few who do know something about it and who must continue to exercise almost unlimited patience, until there occurs official consideration, adoption and publication of the discovered principles, that, like a jig-saw puzzle, have been painstakingly extracted over the years and put together into what is at last beginning to make sense.

This statement is made with great respect to the report on Method Extension recently submitted to the Central Council; but this report may be considerably viewed as scarcely to have touched the fringe of the subject; and this claim may be substantiated with the results of much and protracted investigation; which results have always been, are, and will be at the disposal of any genuinely interested party.

An example of (b) above may be found in the letter on Method Extension signed 'B.' in the recent issue of our journal. That writer suggests that 'C. H. K. and others' should 'reflect' on the absurdity of the position in order to 'realise' the unsatisfactory situation. How ridiculous is this particular suggestion may be seen in relation to the facts.

Of the leading conductors of the day C. H. K. is one who has for some years, indeed, 'reflected,' and has more than 'realised' the absurdities 'B.' rightly indicts. He is, therefore, entitled to comment as he did in his leading article of the previous week's issue; and particularly by reason of his (C. H. K.'s) having made some study of, and employed, what is apparently still the only technology yet evolved for a penetrating investigation of the science of method structure. He is one of the very few of us who, by means of Grid Analysis, have been (and still are) working through published forms of extension, and categorising them. This implies, of course, our use for some sort of 'yard-stick,' based on a technical definition of what constitutes the process of 'extension.' Has official dictum given us either of these yet? Yet proposals of a mathematic nature are extant, and thoroughly workable, as we have found.

Let us take 'B's' example as illustrating the inadequacy of the report. He says the recommendations of the report on the subject of contiguous places are clear enough. Indeed they are! Only too clear in indicating, once again, that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. Only a tiny fraction of what may be known about 'places side-by-side' seems to have been apprehended, and the recommendation in such general terms is impracticable. This is largely due to the 'shear effect' of rows cut by the hunt-bell's path in expanding grids. But this is an involved technical aspect that cannot be dismissed in a couple of lines. Let it suffice to show that there are no less than four distinct types of contiguous places, having various effects on the ensuing grid-pattern, and particularly as it expands under the process of extension. Thus:—

The four types of contiguous places.

(Note '2' and '5')

536142	351624	351624	315264
351624	315264	315264	132546
315264	132546	132546	312564
132546	312564	312564	135246
153246	321654	321654	153246

'Over-
'crossed'
'Under-
'crossed'
'Double-
'crossed'

Only in one type of contiguous places could the recommendation apply unqualified, in two types with qualification and in one type not at all, necessarily. Here, then, is a clear example of decision reached without full investigation.

A few weeks ago, in response to the invitation to submit comment to the Methods Committee, one said that these columns could hardly accommodate the technical discussion necessarily arising from the points at issue, and that some of these with queries and suggestions were being offered to the committee direct. A memorandum summarising the chief results in the many years' work in this all-important technical branch of ringing has, in fact, been prepared for offer to the Central Council Library, and a copy has been sent to the committee together with a number of constructive suggestions and recommendations.

And lest 'B' or anyone else who has not devoted some considerable attention to the science of these things should think that contiguous places are a criterion, let it be said that if they be, then there are other and more important criteria (already investigated and duly resolved), including:—

- Constant and Variable Sectors of Grid-Pattern.
- Demarcation of the incremental areas of extended Grid-patterns.
- Employment of supplementary Stats. (Note.—'Stat' means all this:—Place-makings and their consequential 'far-side' dodgings in incremental areas.)
- The Three Classes of Extension.
- Development Groups of Methods. (XVIII. in all.)
- General Definition of, and particular Specification for, extension of a method.

Not one of these factors has found mention in official publication hitherto. Yet without their due consideration and application, no matter what 'jargon' be used to describe their concepts, all talk of extension is rather meaningless!

But while we may not yet have discovered the 'whole truth,' yet sufficient data are to-day available for the Central Council's consideration, to enable a positive settlement of all the more important of the outstanding questions in Method Structure and Extension.—Yours very sincerely,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

SPliced SURPRISE ROYAL

Dear Sir,—While peals of Spliced Surprise Major have, in many cases, reached a high standard of performance, almost all those of Royal so far rung have consisted of Yorkshire and Cambridge spliced in half-courses.

It may be of interest, therefore, to point out that, providing a Cambridge Royal composition is used, the two methods are freely interchangeable at all except the second and eighth leads of a course. The two leads are independent of one another, i.e., in the version of Middleton's peal given below, the sets of five 'compulsory' leads may each be in either method. I hope this will encourage someone with the necessary time to spare to pursue the matter further.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Four times repeated, adding 3H at * in the third and fifth parts.

The second leads of the second course of each part must all be in the same method.

The eighth leads of the first course of each part must all be in the same method.

All the remaining leads of the peal may be either Yorkshire or Cambridge.

Conducted by the Rev. H. Law James

This is the first time that seven true and complete 720's have been rung in sixteen methods.

[The Editor noted the peal of being 'of more than passing interest,' and added 'what is more remarkable is that one of the 720's was actually rung in four methods.']

Masons' Tribute To New Grand Master

On Tuesday evening, November 6th, ten members of the Craft, being church bell-ringers, met at the Parish Church of St. Luke, Chelsea, to celebrate the installation of the Most Worshipful the Grand Master, by ringing the bells, loyal and fraternal greetings having been previously sent.

During the short time available some 576 changes were rung, being 168 Stedman Triples and 408 Stedman Caters, by the following members of the Craft:—

W.Bro. Edwin J. Barnett, P.M., Gavelkind Lodge No. 4266; Bro. James Bennett, Per Mare Per Terram Lodge No. 3609; Bro. Arthur G. Mason, Rectitude Lodge No. 4727; W.Bro. Arthur D. Barker, P.M. (conductor), St. Clement Danes Lodge No. 1351; W.Bro. Frank Hansford, W.M., Lodge of Brotherly Love No. 329; W.Bro. Alfred B. Peck, Warrant Officers' Lodge No. 2346; W.Bro. J. Howard R. Freeborn, P.M., Chorley Wood Lodge No. 3247; Bro. William H. Coles, Hillingdon Lodge No. 3174; W.Bro. George W. Debenham, P.M., Old Albanian Lodge No. 4999; Bro. Philip A. Carter, St. Clement Danes Lodge No. 1351.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL DINNER

A Great Time At Market Harborough

LAST year the Leicester Diocesan Guild held a quarterly meeting at Market Harborough. During the meeting a suggestion was made that the town and the facilities available would make an ideal place in which to hold the Guild's annual Festival dinner and social. The suggestion was acted upon and on October 27th a large gathering enjoyed what was described as the most successful Festival dinner and social yet held.

Early in the afternoon members, friends and visitors began to assemble. Some rang on the eight bells at St. Dionysius', a noble church in the Decorated and Perpendicular style dating from 1340. Others inspected the town, a small industrial and fox-hunting centre. The town was the headquarters of Charles I. on the eve of the battle of Naseby (1645). Many were interested in the quaint 17th century old Grammar School standing upon its pillars in the square near the church.

Just over 130 sat down to a splendid dinner arranged by Mr. J. Rawson and other local ringers. After justice had been done to this most enjoyable meal the president, Mr. H. J. Poole, supported by Guild officials, called on the gathering to honour the loyal toast. He then called on Mr. E. C. Turner, vice-president, to give the toast of 'The Leicester Diocesan Guild.'

Mr. Turner said although the Guild was young it contained many experienced ringers and, since its formation, many young and able ringers had been attracted to it. It was very good to see such a considerable number of young ringers present and he was very glad to welcome them. This was the fourth, annual occasion on which they had gathered together and each occasion was better than the previous one. He thought the Guild had a better time socially than other Guilds. The Leicester district was, as it should be, the kingpin of the Guild: Loughborough District had shown what could be done in Minor method ringing, while the other Districts had, in their own way, done their share in the work and progress of the Guild.

The Guild was in the happy position of having nearly 800 ringing members, and non-ringing members brought the total to 1,350. Mr. Turner, speaking of the president as being a friend of many years' standing, said that in Mr. Poole the Guild had a president equalled by none in the country and the high standard attained by the Guild was due to his personality and to his skill in directing its affairs. 'We, and others, respect and look up to the Guild: it is part of our lives. Our lives should, and can be, lived without strife. At our meetings the outside world and its troubles can be forgotten,' concluded Mr. Turner.

GUESTS FROM WIDE AREA

Mr. P. L. Taylor, vice-president, gave the toast of 'The Visitors and Guests.' He mentioned Mr. George Morris, an old friend of his, without whom no occasion like that would be complete. He was pleased to see and welcome Mr. R. J. Sharpe and friends from the Bedford District and from the Peterborough country were Mr. R. Noon, Mr. G. Care, Mr. E. G. Orland and their friends. Mr. Taylor also welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Sone, from Kent County, Mr. N. Chaddock, from Rotherham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milner, from Southwell, Mr. S. G. Waters and Mrs. K. R. Holtom, all very good friends. He coupled with the toast the name of Mr. A. P. Cannon.

Mr. Cannon, replying, said this was his first visit to the Leicester Festival and he found it a very happy gathering. It was a good thing to hold these functions. He was impressed by the amount of hard work put in by local men in building up the ringing Guilds.

Laymen, Mr. Cannon continued, often wondered what went on in their belfries and meetings. He described his experiences when on ringing tours. The Leicester Diocesan Guild was, despite its youth, one of the leading Guilds in the country and the Guild was to be congratulated on its great good fortune in having Mr. H. J. Poole as president.

'RINGING WORLD' APPEAL

Mr. A. E. Rowley, hon. treasurer, gave the toast of 'The Ringing World.' They, as ringers, had in 'The Ringing World' as great an asset as ringers could have. It was indispensable; nothing could take its place. It was founded, as all knew, by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, and on his death, in 1942, the paper was taken over by the Central Council. It was now in the hands of a new Editorial Committee, one member of which was their president. Mr. Rowley drew attention to the appeal now being made for 1,000 extra readers and asked all ringers to do everything in their power to support the call for more readers.

Mr. Poole, replying to the toast, said that the best way to increase the income of 'The Ringing World' was to increase the number of postal subscribers. He suggested, as a New Year resolution, they take the paper, by post, for a quarter, or better still, for a year. Also to send a copy to their local clergy, who would thus get to know more of ringers and their work.

Mr. Poole spoke of the vast task undertaken by the new committee who were making every effort to avoid having to increase the price. If, by lack of support, the price had to be increased, ringers would find themselves to blame. He asked his listeners to think what ringing would be like without 'The Ringing World.' There would be no means of collecting and passing on information of what other ringers or Guilds were doing or what meetings were being held, there would be no knowledge of the progress being made month by month and there could be no competitive spirit between individual bands or districts. In short, if 'The Ringing World' failed, it would mean the end of organised ringing as they knew it to-day.

GUILD REPORT UNIQUE

The president then expressed thanks to Mr. J. Rawson and other Market Harborough ringers for the work they had done in preparation for this occasion. Mr. Rawson, in particular, had spent several days of his leave to complete the arrangements and a great debt was owed to him and his helpers for the smooth way in which everything had gone. It was grand to see on this, the first Festival to be held at Market Harborough, so many local ringers and their friends and it was gratifying to have had so much support for this dinner that it had been necessary to advertise in 'The Ringing World' that all tickets had been sold well before the closing date.

Regarding the Guild report just issued, Mr. Poole said a great deal of work had been involved. The composition figures published in the report should be a very great help to conductors and other interested ringers. The report was unique in so far that no other Guild report contained so many compositions.

The remainder of the evening, until a late hour, was spent in games and dancing. A well-stocked bar, specially installed for the occasion, added to the amenities and, of course, the 'Rise and Fall' together with some change ringing—all done Leicester style—must not be forgotten. Nor must the Bowley Triples, the plain course of which will not be found in the Standard Methods. The singing of 'Auld Lang Syne' ended what was generally felt to be definitely 'the best ever.'

1,000 More Readers Wanted!

The Editorial Committee invite the help of all who have the welfare of 'The Ringing World' at heart to obtain at least another thousand Postal subscribers.

If the costs of the production of the paper could be spread over this increased number of readers it might be possible to avoid an increase in the price of the paper.

Every possible economy is being made, and advertisers are paying more for their space, but the recent increase in the cost of paper (£27/10/0 per ton) puts an additional strain on our resources.

Here is a chance for every ringer who wishes to help to do something practical. Talk about the paper at your meetings, and help us to rope in at least another 1,000 Postal subscribers. It can be done with your help. What about making a present of a quarterly, half-yearly or yearly subscription to someone whom you know does not take 'The Ringing World'? Fill in the form below and send to J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

To the Editorial Committee, 'The Ringing World.'

Please post 'The Ringing World' to me for one quarter (6/-), half-year (11/8), one year (£12/6) (Cross out words not applicable.)

Dorchester Branch at Cattistock

Ringers from various parts of Dorset and Somerset, numbering about 60, made their way on November 10th to Cattistock, when the Dorchester Branch held a meeting at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul.

As is well known, this fine tower, with its ring of eight and carillon of 35 bells, was destroyed by fire during the late war and, incidentally, the cause of the fire has never been established.

At last, however, through the untiring efforts of the Rector, the Rev. A. V. Deane, his church officers and parishioners, the tower has been rebuilt—from the original plans of Sir Giles Gilbert Scott—and a fine ring of eight has been installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

These bells were available for ringing at 2.30 p.m. and were kept going until 4 o'clock, when the Rector conducted the Guild service. The lesson was read by Canon A. Wilkinson Markby, chairman of the branch.

In his address the Vicar told the story of that fateful day when the tower was destroyed and the bells reduced to scrap metal, of their efforts to procure the necessary licences to rebuild and finally of their joy and satisfaction on the completion of the work.

His story was interspersed with anecdotes which caused many a smile, but the climax of the address left no doubt as to his meaning—that although we may ring to show our skill, to meet our friends, or just because we like ringing, we are all giving of our best to God, as becomes all Christians.

Following the service the company was entertained to what was described by one very youthful visitor as a 'smashing tea' in the Saville Hall.

The business meeting was conducted by the chairman who called attention to a proposed memorial to the late Rev. C. A. Phillips, former hon. secretary of the Wimborne Branch.

The Rev. A. S. Godley suggested that individual ringers might prefer to make small donations personally, rather than to pool their subscriptions in the names of their towers, and Mr. Precey proposed, seconded by Mr. Field, that members should send their subscriptions to the hon. secretary, Mr. J. H. Hayne, to be forwarded in due course. This was carried unanimously. Apologies for non-attendance were received from the Ven. J. C. Chute, the Rev. C. C. Cox, Mr. W. C. West and Mr. and Mrs. Salter.

On the proposition of Mr. L. Williams, seconded by Mr. Precey, it was decided to hold the annual meeting at St. Peter's, Dorchester, on January 19th.

The hon. secretary proposed that the Cattistock tower be re-affiliated to the Guild, and the captain of the tower, Mr. T. Lippit, and four other members, Messrs. B. Toms, C. Croft, E. Leluan and G. Goringe, together with Mr. H. Warmez, of Abbotshbury, being seconded by Mr. Field, were unanimously elected. Mr. R. H. Duke, hon. assistant secretary, and Mr. H. Gaylard, of Yeovil, offered to help the Cattistock ringers in the matter of change ringing.

A vote of thanks to all concerned with the organisation of the meeting was proposed by the chairman, and Mr. Deane suitably replied.

Ringings continued until nearly 9 p.m. under the direction of the Ringing Master, Mr. F. Precey, assisted by his two deputies, Messrs. E. T. P. Field and F. Stedman.

Salisbury Branch at Downton

A quarterly meeting of the Salisbury Branch was held at St. Lawrence's, Downton, on October 20th, some 30 ringers being present from the Salisbury, Wimborne and North Dorset Branches, with visitors from Fordingbridge, Ringwood, Winchester, London, Cobham and Lichfield. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. H. Purcell Fox, who gave an address. Mrs. Churchill, the wife of a local ringer, with her helpers, prepared a bountiful tea in the schoolroom.

Mr. H. A. Roles, the Branch chairman, presided at the meeting which followed, and welcomed the visitors, in particular the vice-chairman and secretary of the Wimborne Branch. The chairman then mentioned the beautifully-tapped touch of Stedman which preceded the service and stressed the importance of aiming first at good striking in the Sunday ringing, however simple the method, or if call changes or even only rounds were rung. He was very anxious that it should be stated, as from the Guild, that their first endeavour for the furtherance of ringing should be good striking. His remarks were endorsed by Mr. G. K. Norton and others.

Mr. Ernest J. Rowe, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, was elected a life member.

Mention was made of a peal rung at Damerham for the Branch last August, which included a first peal and a first of Doubles. This mention of learning news of fellow-ringers led the secretary to speak of the drive for 1,000 new postal subscribers to 'The Ringing World,' and order forms were passed round.

Mr. A. R. Macdonald, of the Wimborne Branch, spoke of the memorial to the Rev. C. A. Phillips, for 48 years hon. secretary of that Branch, and invited subscriptions from those who knew and appreciated his work. A collection was taken at the meeting and £1 17s. 6d. handed to him as a donation from the Branch.

The bells of St. Lawrence's, Downton, are a musical ring increased to eight since the war. They were kept going from 2.30 till service time and again through the evening in rounds and call changes, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major, so that everyone was able to enjoy ringing and good fellowship.

THE NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Life Membership Conferred on Lady Member

The annual committee and ringing meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Bucknall on November 3rd, representatives attending from Audley, Brown Edge, Bucknall, Biddulph, Cheadle R.C., Draycott, Hanley, Kingsley, Longton, Leek, Norton, Newcastle and Stoke.

The secretary (Mr. W. Carnwell) reported that 12 meetings had been held during the year with an average attendance of 34, the lowest average during his term of office. Twelve resident and three non-resident life members had been elected.

With regret he reported the death of Mr. E. Steele, of Longton, who, during his 40 years' membership, held the office of secretary and assistant secretary and was appointed treasurer in 1943, a position he held at the time of his death.

Forty-five peals had been rung during the year and the conductors were Mr. F. W. Grocott 29, A. Peake 3, C. H. Page and F. E. Wilshaw 2 each, R. S. Anderson, R. Barlowe, W. P. Deane, W. Hazeldene, N. R. Holland, G. A. Moore, A. Pritchard, J. Stanway and J. Worth one each.

The statement of accounts showed a balance of £71 11s. 11½d. The report and accounts were approved.

Officers elected were:—Chairman, Mr. R. S. Anderson; vice-chairman, Mr. A. W. Hull; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. Carnwell; assistant hon. secretary, Mr. W. Edwards; auditor, Mr. A. W. Hall; Ringing Masters, Messrs. G. A. Moore and W. Hazeldene.

DEDICATION

BARKBY, LEICESTERSHIRE

A considerable amount of interest was evinced in and around the charmingly old-world village of Barkby, Leicestershire, when it became known that the ring of five bells in St. Mary's Church tower was to be augmented to six through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Shorthose Smith, of Roundhill Lodge, particularly amongst the ringers of the neighbourhood.

The new bell was dedicated at evensong on Sunday, November 4th, by the Archbishop of Leicester at a special service most impressively conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Herbert Ash.

The Archdeacon, who was at one time Vicar of the neighbouring parish of Hungarton, confessed at the outset of his address that he knew nothing about the history of bells but nevertheless proceeded to give a most delightful and inspiring discourse which held the closest attention of all who were privileged to be present.

Most unhappily Mrs. Shorthose Smith was unable to join her husband in the congregation owing to serious illness.

The shocking weather, which had been deplorable all day, undoubtedly kept many away who would otherwise have attended from surrounding districts. In spite of this several ringers from Leicester and Syston attended and joined with the local band, and some excellent touches were given on the bells which now form a most handy ring of six with tenor of 13 cwt. 2 qr. 27 lb.

The new treble, weighing 6 cwt. 1 qr. 27 lb., was installed by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, and the ringers and parishioners alike were most enthusiastic in their praise of the firm's work. On all sides it was agreed that the augmentation had achieved a perfectly balanced 'spice' which both acoustically and mechanically could not be improved. Mr. Fred C. W. Stevenson attended on behalf of the firm.

Meetings approved for 1952 were:—January, Longton; February, Audley; March, Brown Edge; April, Kingsley; May, Kidgrove; June, Leek; July, Biddulph; August, Dilhorne; September, Uttoxeter; October, Newcastle; November, Bucknall; December, Stoke.

Under the heading of any other business, the committee criticised members who devoted meeting days to peal ringing instead of supporting their own meetings.

After the committee meeting a short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. K. V. Pearce). Mr. R. S. Anderson read the lesson, and a pleasing feature at the service was the presence of the choir boys. Tea was provided in the usual Bucknall manner and the Vicar extended a hearty welcome to all members present.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and ringers of Bucknall was proposed by Mr. R. S. Anderson, seconded by Mr. A. W. Hall. Mr. G. Jones tendered thanks to the ladies who had kindly prepared such a beautiful tea.

The chairman then paid a tribute to Mrs. A. Bowen, a Bucknall ringer, who has had to resign as a regular Sunday service ringer for health reasons. Mrs. Bowen was one of the first lady ringers to take part in a peal for the North Staffordshire Association and the first lady to conduct one.

In appreciation of her services to Bucknall tower and the Association, she was elected an honorary life member of the North Staffordshire Association. Mrs. Bowen thanked the members for their kindness and said she should still attend the meetings for a ring whenever possible. Eight new resident ringing members and one non-resident life member were elected.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Lewisham District

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District, held at Holy Trinity, Dartford, attracted an attendance of 55 members and friends hailing from 14 home towers, with welcome visitors from Croydon, Watford, Bushey, Horsham, Chatham and Hull.

Ringling during the afternoon preceded a short, pleasant service conducted by the Vicar, Canon Elliott Mitchell, whose very succinct address embodied a cordial welcome to Dartford. The services of Mr. Stedman at the organ were much appreciated.

After the service the company were entertained at tea at Sutton's Hall by Mr. R. A. Jenkins, the popular secretary of the Dartford Ringers, who proved an excellent and munificent host.

The business meeting followed under the genial chairmanship of the Vicar. Ten ringers were elected practising members of the Association and the election of five other members was ratified.

The District secretary's report and review of the year's work was adopted and was accorded a kind reception. Mr. A. G. Hill (Erith) was elected to another year's service as District secretary. Mr. A. S. Richards (West Wickham) was reappointed District representative with Mr. J. Dafters (Lewisham) as his colleague. Mr. H. Hoverd (Dartford) was elected Ringing Master in succession to Mr. P. J. Spice (Bromley).

An invitation to visit SS. Peter and Paul's, Bromley, for the January meeting, was gratefully accepted; the date chosen was the 26th.

Cordial votes of thanks to the Vicar and curate of Holy Trinity, to Mr. R. A. Jenkins, to the organist and to the officers for their respective services, followed by responses from Mr. P. J. Spice, the curate and the Vicar, concluded a very successful and happy meeting.

The roomy ringing chamber was then revisited for further ringing. All present could find something to their liking, from plainly wholesome rounds to the exotic piquancy of Spiced Surprise.

MR. GEO. GILBERT'S 500 PEALS

Of Mr. George Gilbert's 500 peals he has conducted 296. These have been rung in 136 towers. Peals in which he takes a special pleasure are 11,008 Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 9,060 Double Dublin, George peals of London and Bristol and one of Kent Treble Bob Major with seven ladies.

Doubles.—1 to 4 methods 6 (cond. 5).

Minor.—1 to 14 methods 154 (136).

Triples.—Plain Bob 6 (6), Oxford Bob 4 (1), Stedman 37 (2), St. Clement's 1 (1), Grandsire 61 (49) (g).

Major.—Pleasure 1 (1), Double Norwich Court Bob Major 25 (2) (a), Little Bob 2 (1), Plain Bob 57 (41) (f), St. Clement's College 2 (1), Single Oxford 2 (2); Treble Bob—Kent 36 (24), Oxford 23 (21), Worcester Variations 1 (1).

Surprise.—Ashted 1, Belgrave 1, Belvedere 1, Berkshire 1, Boveney 1, Bristol 8 (d), Cambridge 8, Cassiobury 1, Chiltern 1, Double Dublin 1 (b), Guildford 1, Ipswich 1, London 16 (c), New Cambridge 2, Painswick 2, Padsey 1, Runnymede 1, Superlative 15 (2), Surrey 1, Windsor 1, Yorkshire 1.

Caters.—Stedman 9.

Royal.—Plain Bob 1, Kent Treble Bob 4 (1), Cambridge 1.

Cinques.—Stedman 1.

Total rung 500; total conducted 296; towers 136; counties 10.

(a) includes 11,008; (b) includes 9,600; (c) and (d) include George peals; (e) seven ladies; (f) Army and Navy peal; (g) seven ladies.

The preponderance of G.T. and B.M. is due in a big measure to first-peals, of which Mr. Gilbert is proud, also Doubles and Minor.

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD Southern District

Upwards of 30 members attended the Southern District meeting at Hatton, near Warwick, on November 3rd. Ringing took place on the six bells from 3 until 4.30 when the service was conducted by the Rev. A. S. Dodds (Vicar). Tea was served in the Village Hall, and a short business meeting followed. It was decided that the January meeting should be held at Snitterfield. Two new members were proposed, viz., Mr. A. C. Morris, of Wroxall, and Mr. D. Harrison, of Hatton.

The following towers were represented:—Ladbroke, Harbury, Southam, Warwick, Bishops Itchington, Long Itchington, Stratford-on-Avon, Allesley (Coventry), and Hatton. The next meeting will be held at Lillington on December 1st.

SAPCOTE RINGER'S COMING-OF-AGE

To celebrate the 21st birthday of Michael E. Brown, a handbell peal was arranged and rung at his home at Sapcote on November 6th. This proved to be a really good peal, Michael bringing the tenors in extremely well, considering it was his first 'in hand' of Triples.

During the peal Mrs. Brown and her daughter (not forgetting father) were very silent in the adjoining room and it was indeed a very pleasant surprise for the three visiting ringers, after two and a half hours' ringing, to be invited to partake of the splendid meal that had been prepared. The topic of conversation was easily arrived at during the party as both Mr. Brown and his daughter are also ringers at Sapcote. It is chiefly due to Michael's enthusiasm for ringing that Messrs. Taylor have been entrusted with the work of putting Sapcote bells on ball bearings.

A further birthday compliment was a peal of London Surprise at the Loughborough Foundry, when Michael rang his first peal in the method.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Axbridge Deanery Meeting

Great interest was created at the meeting of the Axbridge Deanery Branch at Congresbury on October 27th by one ringer arriving in a 1912 Rolls Royce. Ringers attended from the following towers:—Shipham, Wembdon, Cheddar, Weston-super-Mare, Badgworth, East Brent, Publow, Worle, Weston, Bath, Marks-bury, Keysham, Churchill, Banwell, Locking, Kingston Seymour, Yatton, Wrington, Yate (Glos), Kewstoke, Nailsea, Piddlinton (Dorset), and were welcomed by Mr. F. Gosling, captain, and Mr. A. E. Standen, hon. secretary.

Ringing commenced at 2.45 p.m. under the Ringing Master, Mr. G. Prescott, and continued until 4.30 p.m., when the Vicar, the Rev. A. S. Cran, welcomed those present to Congresbury and conducted the service from the Association Service Forms and gave a very interesting address. Mr. F. Tibbitt playing the organ. The party were entertained to tea by the local ringers at the White Hut.

As the president, Preb. Leslie Alford, was delayed, the Vicar presided at the meeting. The Rev. A. D. Allan was proposed as a performing member.

Preb. Leslie Alford proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the organist, also to the local ringers for their hospitality. The Vicar and Mr. Standen replied, the latter saying how pleased he was to see Mr. E. Fisher, of Cheddar, an old Congresbury ringer, who was there over 40 years ago when Mr. Standen started ringing.

The tower was again visited and ringing continued until 8 p.m.

VICTORIA'S FINE WELCOME To Princess Elizabeth

The bells of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, B.C., played a noble part in the welcome that was accorded their Royal Highnesses Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh upon their arrival at Victoria.

As the destroyer H.M.C.S. Crusader entered the harbour on October 21st the bells were fired and ringing continued from 4.45 to 7.30 p.m. during which a quarter peal of Grandsire was rung.

On October 22nd, at 10 a.m., when the Royal party left Government House on their tour of Victoria, the bells were again rung and continued ringing until 11.30 a.m. A special ring for one hour took place in the evening. The striking was excellent throughout and the firing in conjunction with Queens very well carried out and appreciated.

Mr. E. W. Izard, the conductor, has received the following letter of appreciation from the Bishop of British Columbia:—

My dear Mr. Izard,—A great number of the citizens, as well as myself, have been much impressed by the joyous and continuous welcome to the Princess and Prince Philip from the Cathedral belfry, and I write to express my grateful appreciation of the fine loyal service done by yourself and your associates. It made the welcome unique, for no Canadian city could have done it this way, and it must have been a familiar and welcome sound to our royal visitors. I have had little opportunity so far of hearing direct from them in the matter, but a large number of residents feel they are under a debt to you for your splendid job.

[NOTE.—Details of the quarter peal are published in our quarter peal columns.—ED.]

THE COST OF A PEAL

IT IS STRANGE that ringers generally so seldom discuss a matter that concerns all of us so closely as the cost of peal-ringing. Admittedly much of the cost is indirect, and some does not fall on the Exercise; but there is enough directly referable to individual peals to make harassed treasurers wonder if the three-thousand-a-year total now so close ahead apparently will be an occasion of congratulation.

Since rings of bells are much more apt to decay than wear out, it is certainly true that peal-ringing helps to keep bells in good condition, not only by adding to the total of use, but chiefly by keeping enthusiasm alive and adding to the number of skilled ringers.

So far most of us are agreed, but about ropes there is much argument. The question of how many peals a set of new ropes will stand was asked of many peal-ringers by the writer. There was a tendency among heavy-enders to consider twenty-five or thirty as the average, especially with heavy rings, but no one went above about sixty. The data on this important matter are available in many towers and should be collected. But it seems fair to assume a figure round about fifty, which means that the rope-money for a peal should be around a shilling a rope at to-day's costs. In 'The Ringing World' some time ago there were some adverse comments on a vicar who charged ten shillings a peal for rope-money. Was he so far wrong?

After a peal has been rung there are several direct costs to be faced. As we were reminded by Mr. Smallwood in the issue of August 3rd, the announcement of a successful attempt costs the Exercise something. At the present cost of roughly £3 a page of 'The Ringing World,' and twelve peals to a page in the present format, it is easy to see that it costs five shillings to print a peal notice. The more ringers there are in a peal the less each name costs. It is sixpence a name for Royal, fivepence for Maximus, ninepence for Major and over a shilling for handbell peals. This is because the heading, etc., for normal peals on all numbers is about the same depth.

If, as Mr. A. H. Pulling said without reported contradiction in the Central Council at York two years ago, peals are the chief news, then peal-ringers are the Editor's best friends. But there are peals and peals, and a very large number are decidedly not news.

The Associations' peal-books, being direct charges on their funds, are provided for in some Associations by direct contributions levied on the ringers of peals. One of these, which collects an increased levy of sixpence a rope, has a much smaller balance now on a larger number of peals than it had on a twopenny levy before the war. The explanation here again is the increased expense in every direction. The majority of peal books, however, are kept up out of general funds.

One further item of direct expense is the record of a peal in the annual report. Owing to the slavish adherence of the Exercise to the tablet form of notice (tombstone form one well-known ringer calls it), which is a survival from the long-defunct 'Bell News,' many of our Association reports print only three peals to a page, and as it is impossible nowadays to produce a report under £1 a page—indeed, there are few at that price—it is easy to see that a peal notice in the annual report is more expensive than in 'The Ringing World,' being about a penny a name more all round, without taking the compositions into account, which vary within very wide limits.

There are other stray items that figure among the costs of peal-ringing, but enough has been said to indicate that the most prominent members of the Exercise are not necessarily the treasurer's friends. Considering how many ropes they have worn out, they can scarcely be regarded as churchwardens' friends either!

On the other hand, the services rendered by ringers and the Exercise in general are not inconsiderable, and bell-ropes are used for other purposes besides the ringing of peals. Many bands—more perhaps than is usually realised—find their own ropes.

It would take a wise man to weigh up the pros and cons here, and a brave one to suggest anything that could be done about it.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

SIXPENCE A ROPE

'I propose charging sixpence a rope for "The Ringing World" in all peals which I conduct until your financial difficulties are over,' writes a well-known conductor. Five other conductors took the same view this week. Thank you!

The opening of Liverpool Cathedral bells was described in the 'South Wales Evening Post' as follows:—'Big crowds lined the streets to see them drive to the Town Hall, and then the Cathedral, where new bulls were rung for the first time.' We now know why the representatives from St. Martin's, Birmingham, were invited. Their familiarity with the Bull Ring undoubtedly gave them added competence for the task in hand.

The Franklin memorial tablet is in Ecton Church and not Rushden, as stated in the report of the Peterborough Guild on page 730.

The Society of the Royal Cumberland Youths were invited to send a band for the opening of Liverpool Cathedral bells. Their inability to accept was much regretted.

The average age of the ringers in the peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor at St. Donard's, Belfast, was 20. They believe they are the youngest band to ring a peal in Ireland.

After much striving in previous unsuccessful attempts, a peal of Duffield Royal has been rung at Derby. The band would like to know when the last peal of Royal in this method was rung.

At the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Dallington, on November 11th, a peal of Doubles came to grief at the 41st 120 owing to a rope breaking. It was a five-method peal rung by the Sunday service band and conducted by Mr. Eric Nobles.

Friends in the Chester Guild of John and David Boutland will be pleased to learn that they are happy in their new Australian home. Mr. W. Smith, formerly of Long Clavison, Leicestershire, and now at 21, Merrivale Road, Pymble, Sydney, sends us news of their ringing at Parramatta and Turramurra.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

Mr. W. H. Hewett has, with a peal on November 17th, rung Cambridge Major, Royal and Maximus on the bells of Waltham Abbey. This feat has also been shared by Mr. Reuben Sanders, now 77 years of age, who has rung the series from the 38½ cwt. tenor.

Mr. A. Waddington has written 'Beginner's Grandsire,' a handy booklet, for the Maidstone District.

The late Mr. Tom Groombridge was a member of the committee of the Kent County Association until his death. He attended at Rochester on April 10th, 1950, for the last time.

The peal at Macclesfield on November 5th published in our last issue, was Stedman Triples (Heywood's variation of Thurstans' Four-Part) and not Grandsire Triples. The error is regretted.

Mr. E. L. Humphriss, who trained the Liverpool Cathedral Cross ringers writes: 'My luck in never having a learner break or damage himself or a bell fitting of any sort still holds. I seem to have done nothing but teach people to ring since 1922.'

The attempt for a peal of Cambridge Major on the back eight at Wells Cathedral on November 17th was lost after 3½ hours with only four courses to ring. The ringers were:—Jack Mus-sell 1, Mrs. F. L. Harris 2, Frederick Savage 3, Reginald W. Rex 4, Roger O. Fry 5, Ronald N. Marlow 6, Frank L. Harris (conductor) 7, A. Patrick Cannon 8. (Tenor 56½ cwt.)

'Dumb-bell' in extending his congratulations to Mr. W. H. Duncombe on scoring his first peal of London Surprise in a record length for the Leicester Diocese, adds: 'I remember Mr. C. R. Belton, of Barwell, persevering with W. H. when more learned members of the world of ringing vowed that it was a waste of time. Another proof that patience is a virtue.'

THE LIVERPOOL BROADCAST

Descriptive Story of the First Sounding of the Bells

The following descriptive account which was published in the 'Liverpool Daily Echo' gives a vivid pen picture of what took place when the Cathedral bells were first rung by the Liverpool Cathedral Cross Guild.

'The older ringers, assembled by the Ringing Master (Mr. George R. Newton, who has himself been ringing for half a century), were all men with not less than 30 years' belfry experience and they watched the boys with expert but benevolent eyes.

'The signal from the royal dais was sent by "walkie-talkie" radio to Artillery N.C.O.'s with a receiver up in the ringing chamber, close to the boys at the ropes.

'At once the youths ran their hands high up the ropes and all gave a pull together, thus producing an effect known to bell-ringers as "firing," which produces a cascade of merry sound, which came to those in the ringing chamber as a joyful sound mellowed by its distance above their heads and the muffling of the great damper chamber.

'The continued for a minute or two and then the boys dropped the ropes, sprang aside, and their places were taken by the more matured team who were to take on duty in their place.

'The team of 15 ringers specially chosen by Mr. Newton to follow the lads included a University lecturer, two police officers, two company directors, a joiner, a gardener, a chemist and a commercial traveller.

'The Princess and the Duke listened to the bells for over two minutes. When the bells stopped they left the dais and returned to the royal car. As they slowly drove away the bells rang out again.'

The Liverpool Cathedral Cross Guild ringers who were responsible for the first, 'the Short Touch,' on the bells were Roy Brennan, David Craine, Kelvin Lavelle, Donald Gadsby, John Elsworth, Roland Eveleigh and Peter Smith.

Women and Liverpool Cathedral

Dear Sir,—In the account of the ringing of Liverpool Cathedral bells following the dedication ceremony on November 17th it is stated that 'the Dean had ordered that no woman should be allowed in the tower because of its unfinished state, the tower being still in the hands of the builders.'

It is difficult to understand the reason for this decision, which seems to imply that it is safe for men to enter the tower, but unsafe for women. I wonder how many readers have gained the impression that it is in fact due to a feeling of prejudice on the part of the Cathedral authorities against women joining in this service for the Church.

No listener outside a tower could tell whether the bells were rung by men or by women; he could recognise only the standard of ringing. That a certain standard of ability should be demanded by ringers of the Cathedral bells is understandable.

Would it not help to clear a certain amount of misunderstanding if a fuller explanation regarding the exclusion of women from the tower could be given? I cannot believe that the discrimination rests solely on prejudice, which would be contrary to the very spirit of Christian teaching.—Yours faithfully,

CECILY C. ROBERTS.

An Opinion From York Minster

Dear Sir,—For some reason unknown to me my Society was not invited to be represented at the rededication of Liverpool Cathedral bells. This was rather surprising seeing that at York we had the third heaviest ring of twelve in the country and a twelve-bell history dating back to 1665. However, a letter to the Dean of Liverpool brought back a very nice reply and a ticket for admittance to the ringing chamber.

Twenty-five years ago I travelled to York to be present at the dedication and remember what a thrill I got when the bells rang out for the first time. What a marvellous crescendo of sound it was with the tenors doing full justice to a grand ring of bells. I went to Liverpool with the full expectation of getting an even greater thrill, but after waiting outside the Cathedral with what patience I could muster came the anti-climax. The light eight were 'fired'! I was very disappointed as I imagine, were all ringers listening to the broadcast.

Then came rounds on the twelve. The front eight rang out loud and clear but the four tenors were so subdued as to be very difficult to hear. Again I was disappointed.

Up in the ringing chamber the sound of the bells was no better than outside but no doubt the founders will do something about the tenors in due course. The 'go' of the bells left nothing to be desired; I rang the eleventh (53 cwt. in B flat) and thought it went as well as York tenor.

Coming home by train I was joined in the compartment at Leeds by Monty Hind, the well-known broadcaster on Yorkshire dialect and railway subjects, and he told me he had heard the broadcast and thought the bells sounded very nice. Arriving home, my wife, who comes of Liverpool stock, greeted me with 'I hope you weren't ringing when the Liverpool bells were broadcast. It was an awful row.' This morning, waiting to go up to the tower, a lady who was coming from the early celebration asked if I had heard the broadcast, and remarked, 'The ringing was terrible.' So there you have three unsolicited opinions from non-ringers, and one wonders what their Royal Highnesses thought about it.

In conclusion, I wish the newly-formed Liverpool Cross Guild Ringers every success in their future activities and hope they are allowed to ring their bells every Sunday. If at any time they care to visit York and try their luck on the finest ring of twelve in the country I shall be only too happy to make the arrangements.—Yours sincerely,

HAROLD WALKER,

President, York Minster Society of Change Ringers.

NOTE.—Our report last week explained that the founders had no previous opportunity of hearing the tenors. Adjustments are to be made to enable their full glory to be heard.—ED.

QUEEN MEETS MANCHESTER CATHEDRAL RINGERS

November 17th will be long remembered by the ringers at Manchester Cathedral, when the Chapel of the Manchester Regiment was dedicated in the presence of Her Majesty the Queen.

After the service the bells were rung whilst Her Majesty inspected the progress of the restoration of the war-damaged Cathedral.

Descending from the tower and expecting to find the ceremony over, the ringers were surprised to learn that the Queen was still in the Cathedral. Her Majesty was then being escorted towards the door to her car. The Dean saw the ringers below the tower. He then, contrary to all their expectations, led the Queen towards them and said, 'And here, Your Majesty, are my bellringers.'

Her Majesty shook hands with Mr. A. Ridyard, the leader, and rather surprised the band by asking some interesting questions regarding bells and ringing.

Then came a most delightful surprise. The Dean said to the Queen, 'I would like to present my lady bellringer,' and asked Miss Mary Walshaw to come forward. Miss Walshaw is to be complimented on the way she curtsied and chatted to the Queen. Her Majesty was delighted to hear all about the Ladies' Guild. As the Queen left, she said the bells sounded beautiful and thanked the company for ringing.

'She is certainly a very gracious lady,' comments our Manchester correspondent.

WEDDING

MR. G. H. BOOKER—MISS A. ABRAHAM

Many ringers attended the wedding at St. Michael's, Aughton, Lancs, on November 10th, of Miss Annie Abraham, a ringer and member of the choir, to Mr. G. H. Booker, of York-shire.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a blue two-piece costume. A guard of honour was formed by members of the choir as the bride and bridegroom left the church, while the bells rang out merrily.

At the reception the bride took part in hand-bell ringing with Miss H. Winter and Mr. R. Larkey. The honeymoon is being spent in Scotland.

RINGER'S NOTEBOOK & DIARY

The happy inspiration of Mr. W. Viggers and Mr. M. Hodgson to produce the Ringer's Notebook and Diary, now in its third year of publication, has provided the Exercise with a dual purpose pocket book. It provides that mass of technical details which can be easily found and consulted on any of those emergency occasions that occur in a ringer's travels and also the means of compiling personal records.

The experience gained by previous publications has enabled the publishers to produce a really attractive issue for 1952 which, while following the basic lines of other Ringer's Notebooks and Diaries, has been brought up-to-date.

The Diary is now ready. It can be obtained in two qualities:—Waterproof rexine, 5s. 6d., and best quality leather, 7s., from W. H. Viggers, 37, Highfield Gardens, Aldershot.

RAILWAYMEN'S PEAL ?

Dear Sir,—During the last few months there has been quite a lot of letters in the Southern Region edition of 'The British Railways Magazine' about bellringing.

The outcome of this is that it is hoped that in the near future a peal can be attempted by a band of railwaymen. Anyone interested?—Yours faithfully,

CHAS. A. BASSETT.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INSTRUCTION

Dear Sir,—May I heartily endorse J. T. D.'s remarks in your 'leader' of Nov. 16th? Obviously he belongs to 'the old school' for he doesn't hesitate to hurt those who can be hurt, whilst leaving untouched those who by their self-complacent and self-righteous attitude can never be touched by mere words. If we are honest with ourselves and do a little bit of personal examination where J. T. D. suggests, i.e., our striking, our behaviour in respect of others in the belfry, we shall see that only good can come from such honest, sound and constructive criticism that is offered. Be sure of this: others see in us our behaviour, our striking, the type of person who taught us.

RICHARD V. FULLER.

Farnham, Surrey

PULLING UP THE TENOR

Dear Sir,—Our bells are usually left up; only the treble and tenor being lowered; the tenor weighs 25 cwt. 2 qr. 11 lb. When these two bells are raised on Sunday morning or practice night, the tenor is sometimes raised single-handed and sometimes 'doubled up.'

On a recent evening it was raised single-handed and, observing the gusto with which the raiser set about it, I counted the number of pulls. I did not count the number of pulls at handstroke which, of course, were optional and very few, but the number of pulls on the tail end of backstroke was 23. To be more explicit, the bell was raised and set single handed, clapping right, with only 23 swings in one direction and 22 in the other.

I think that was a good performance and probably near the verge of what is possible single handed. It would be nice to know what accomplished ringers think.

If someone will cut something off our friend's pulls, say raise a bell known to exceed 25 cwt with less than 20 pulls, he will be remembered for quite a long time, I feel sure of that.—Yours faithfully,

R. ALSOP

Ebbw Vale, Mon.

SENNEB BELLS

Dear Sir,—The statement in your issue of October 26th that Sennen bells have been silent for about 25 years is not strictly correct. In 1938 a band of holiday makers—Mr. and Mrs. W. Hibbert, Mr. S. C. Davis, my father and myself—visited the tower and rang some Grand-sire Doubles on the bells. Our efforts were very much appreciated by some of the villagers who were delighted to hear the sound of their bells.

I cannot now recall anything about their tone or 'go,' but I believe the tenor was cracked.—Yours faithfully,

E. J. TAYLOR.

Tiverton.

IN SOMERSET COUNTY LIBRARY

Dear Sir,—I beg to state that the following books are now in the Somerset County Library, Mount Street, Bridgwater:—

Ellacombe's 'Bells of Somerset': 'Church Bells of England' (Walters); 'Bells Through the Ages' (Nichols); 'Bells of the Isle' (Bob Major); 'Bellringer's Guide' (Dove); 'Ringer's Handbook' (Powell); 'Troyte's Handbook'; 'Ropesight', 1950; 'Grandsire', 1948; 'Stedman', 1938; 'Standard Methods'—Letterpress, 1949; Diagrams, 1947.

It was a difficult matter to get the above in the Library. Now they are there, I trust the ringers of Somerset will do their best to use them and by so doing we may get more ringing literature in the above Library.—Yours faithfully,

B. T. JEANES

Bridgwater

RECORD LENGTH ATTEMPT

15,480 Cambridge Surprise Royal

Dear Sir,—It is proposed to attempt 15,480 Cambridge Surprise Royal on Saturday, December 15th, 1951, at the Church of St. Mark, Worsley, Lancs. Following is the composition:

BELL ROPE REPLACEMENTS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Newman, in his letter, has put his finger on something which peal ringers in these days must face up to, viz., the wear and tear of ropes, and be prepared to make some contribution towards either their repair or renewal.

I am able to speak with authority on this subject, having been for 19 years in charge of a tower in which 240 peals have been rung over that period.

Until 1939 there was no anxiety about repairs or renewals because a memorial to my father provided us with £1 per annum, representing practically one new rope a year.

Not only was this sufficient for our own needs but I was able to help other towers in the vicinity with ropes which we discarded on the first sign of wear, but with ropes now costing nearly £4 each, and the quality not as good (this is no reflection on the manufacturers who cannot help themselves), this is no longer possible.

We are all allowed some 25 peal attempts in a year and take advantage of perhaps 20 of them, consequently, since the war, even with our £1 from the fund, rope maintenance has created a problem.

Some two years ago, on the suggestion of Mr. Corby, a contribution of threepence per head, after a successful peal, towards repair was instituted and, with one exception, has been loyally accepted.—Yours faithfully,

E. BARNETT.

Crayford.

SILENT PEALS

At the Cumberlands' annual dinner a speaker made mention of some silent peals as rung by Leicester ringers. Like Mr. A. H. Pulling, I have been waiting to hear or read something in reply by any member of those bands who took part in them but no reply has yet been received. What I wish to inform you is that no member of the Leicester Cathedral Society took part in this ringing, neither was the ringing rung on account of the Leicester Diocesan Guild. If any other Leicester ringers did take part, I do not remember.—Yours faithfully,

F. H. DEXTER.

Leicester.

BUXHALL BELLS

Dear Sir,—May I venture to bring before your readers some interesting historical facts and an appeal relating to the bells at Buxhall, Suffolk?

Bells have hung in our tower for at least four centuries and the oak frame placed there in 1550 is still in position. Our treble, 2 and 3, the work of the Thetford founder, John Draper, are dated 1632, 1632 and 1635 respectively, the treble and second both being made from a much more ancient bell of about 12 cwt. which was broken up for the purpose. The fourth was added in 1698, being cast by Charles Newman, at Blakeney, Norfolk, and our tenor was the work of the famous Sudbury founder, Thomas Gardiner, in 1739 (perhaps a recast). On the wall of our ringing chamber is scratched a section of a change-ringing chart. These scratchings dating as they do around 1700, are thought to be amongst the earliest evidence of change ringing in the country. It is a matter of historic interest that our bells are amongst the first on which change ringing was introduced.

A recent inspection by a firm of bellfounders has revealed that the tenor is badly cracked in three places, the frame is badly rotted and all the fittings are worn out. They warn us that to risk further ringing until a complete restoration has been effected may well involve very serious damage and even loss of life.

Unfortunately, a sum of £1,000 is involved in this work of restoration and our small village of 450 souls can hardly bear the burden alone. May we hope that some of your readers will be sufficiently interested in the preservation and restoration of our historic bells to send us what help they can?

Contributions will be most gratefully received and acknowledged by our Restoration Fund treasurer, Lt.-Col. J. E. B. Freeman, Buxhall Vale, Stowmarket.—Yours faithfully,

C. N. KENDALL.

Stowmarket.

A PEAL OF DOUBLES AT WOOLWICH

Dear Sir,—The peal of Doubles rung at Woolwich on October 27th is unique in several respects. It was intended to be rung as a peal of welcome to H.R.H. Princess Margaret, as she entered the Borough to open the Woolwich Festival Week and Exhibition on October 20th but owing to unforeseen circumstances and sickness this was not possible. However, it was rung as a thanksgiving and commemoration peal on the following Saturday, before the Festival Week closed, by the local Sunday service band.

The first peal rung in this tower, after the bells had been rehung in a new frame, was one of Grandsire Triples (Taylor's Bob and Single), which was conducted by the late W. G. Grove, in 1894.

It is assumed that the band which rang that peal was the local Sunday service band. There is no record of a 'local' peal since then. There are many, however, which have been rung with assistance from neighbouring towers and also peals rung by visiting bands with, and without, one or two local ringers, 'standing in.'

It would appear, therefore, that we can claim this peal of October 27th to be the first peal at Woolwich to be rung by the local Sunday service band for well over 50 years.

Mr. E. Barnett, of Crayford, has a long memory, and no doubt remembers the Woolwich band of the '90's and the turn of the century very well, so perhaps he can substantiate or deny this claim.

It is interesting to note also that there is no record of a peal of Doubles or Minor ever being rung on the bells.

Can we claim, also, this peal to be the first six-bell peal to be rung in this tower?—Yours sincerely,

A. GROVE SEN.

Abbey Road, S.E.2.

THREE DEDICATIONS

SPARSHOLT, HAMPSHIRE

Sunday, November 18th, was a red-letter day for the Vicar, parishioners and ringers of St. Stephen's Church, Sparsholt, Hampshire: in particular for the captain of the local band, Mr. T. R. West. At evensong the new tenor bell was rededicated by the Vicar, the Rev. W. D. Naundrell. After the second lesson the Vicar, churchwarden and choir went in procession to the belfry which is on the ground floor; here the prayers of dedication were said by the Vicar, and as the procession returned to the chancel the mellow tones of the new tenor were heard in the opening rounds rung by A. Golding 1. M. J. Brown 2. T. R. West 3. P. N. Bond 4. T. L. West 5.

In his address, the Vicar gave an interesting history of the 700-year-old church and its bells. In 1742 there were four bells in the tower; one of those cast in that year, the present second, is still in use. The third and fourth were recast in 1905, when a treble was added to complete, the present ring of five, and the prayers used at the dedication of the new tenor that evening were also used at the 1905 dedication. The Vicar stressed the point that money raised for the restoration of a church or for new bells was for the enrichment, to the greater glory of God, of a beautiful, old, material building, a great heritage for the parish; but that building was not merely a museum piece but the centre, in the parish, of the church, whose aim was to build a spiritual temple, not made with hands.

Besides a good muster of the local band, ringers from Winchester Cathedral and St. Maurice's were also present. After the service a quarter peal of Grandire Doubles was rung by four members of St. Maurice's band and one local ringer.

Lack of funds would not admit rehanging, but the frame has been tightened and strengthened by Mr. R. Smith, of Wonston, and the bells now 'go' like the proverbial tops. All agreed that Messrs. Mears and Stainbank had made a grand job of the new bell, which now weighs 7 cwt. 3 qr. 16 lb.

Of the £124 required for the work, about £100 has been raised by local effort; the local captain, Mr. T. R. West, made a grand contribution towards the fund by personal canvassing! Should any ringer wish to contribute towards the outstanding balance, Mr. West would be pleased to receive contributions at Crab Wood, Sparsholt, near Winchester, Hants. P. N. B.

HEMSWORTH, YORKS

When a new clock was installed in the tower of Hemsworth Church, near Pontefract, to commemorate the Silver Jubilee of 1935, provision was made for the subsequent addition of chimés as there were then only three bells in the tower. Sixteen years elapsed before the envisaged ring of bells could be installed, and on Sunday morning, October 28th, the Bishop of Pontefract visited this mining village in South Yorkshire to dedicate a number of gifts. These included a new organ, an altar frontal, a ring of eight bells and electrically-driven Westminster chimés.

Of the three old bells, the 18th century treble has been recast, the two 500-year-old bells tuned to become the new seventh and tenor, and five new bells added by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, who have produced a particularly handy and tuneful little eight with a tenor of only 7 cwt., rung from the ground floor. Hemsworth thus possesses the lightest ring of eight in Yorkshire, and the local company includes some promising youngsters of both sexes.

The opening ringing was carried out by local recruits who were joined by Mr. R. H. Dove (representing Messrs. Potts, of Leeds, the makers of the clock), while after evensong the company from St. Giles', Pontefract, rang a quarter peal of Bob Major.

HIGHWORTH, WILTS

The bells of St. Michael's Church, Highworth, Wilts, were rededicated by the Bishop of Malmesbury on November 17th. The second, third and tenor have been recast and the eight bells rehung in a new frame by John Taylor and Co., who were represented at the opening by Mr. John P. Fidler.

The Bishop, in his address, deprecated the modern tendency to replace bells with gramophone apparatus and hoped those in authority would take steps to prevent the easy way of avoiding the sacrifices and efforts necessary for the installation of real bells. A feature of the service was an anthem by the choir 'Ring Highworth bells, across the sky,' the words and music being composed by the organist, Mr. G. H. Harris.

The opening rounds following the dedication were rung by the local band and the bells were later open to visiting ringers, and various methods were rung by members of the Swindon and Vale of White Horse branches. The local ringers were also given a good drilling in round ringing.

The new tenor weighs 18 cwt. 2 lb. and Highworth now possesses a good eight in which old and new blend well to form a harmonious ring.

HAROLD PAILING MEMORIAL FUND

Dear Sir,—The response to the memorial fund sponsored by this Guild has been good and I append a list of subscribers to date.

The tragedy at Daybrook shocked the Exercise and much sympathy has been extended to the widow and two young sons.

Here is a chance for the fraternity to help the bereaved in a practical manner as the proceeds of the fund are to be handed to Mrs. Pailing.

There must be many ringers throughout the country who would like to contribute a little to this very worthy cause before the list is closed.

If anyone cares to make a donation to the fund, it can be sent to me as one of the joint treasurer.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. RAITHBY,

Hon. General Secretary,
Southwell Diocesan
Guild of Changeringers

205, London Road,

RINGERS' FORM OF SERVICE

Mr. G. Sidney Joyce informs us that the new form of service for use at ringers' meetings of the Guildford Guild and the Norwich Association will be 'tried out' at the Farnham District meeting at Aldershot on December 8th. (See Notice in this issue.)

All ringers are welcomed to the service and to the tea. A business meeting will follow at which the service will be discussed.

If general approval is forthcoming it is hoped to complete the printing order by the end of the year. This is being handled by Mr. W. Viggers on a non-profit basis.

Mr. G. S. Joyce, 130, Ship Lane, Farnborough, Hants, is prepared to send a draft copy of the service to any Guild interested, after the Aldershot meeting, upon receipt of S.A.E. (postage 3d.). The desirability of Guilds joining the Norwich and Guildford Guilds, so as to reduce printing costs, was mentioned by the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow at the last Central Council meeting, and is to be commended.

THE LADIES' GUILD Yorkshire District

The quarterly meeting of the Yorkshire District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Horbury, Wakefield, on November 10th. Lady ringers were present from Armley, Leeds Parish Church, Wakefield Cathedral, Crofton, East Ardsley, Sandal, Horbury and Handsworth, Sheffield.

Good use was made of the bells from 3 p.m. and an excellent tea was enjoyed, thanks to the arrangements of Mr. E. Atkinson. Two new members were elected to the Guild.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION*Western Division at Chichester

A record attendance of 70, representing 19 towers, was established at a quarterly meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association at Chichester on November 17th.

The campanile was opened for ringing at 2.30, and at 4.15 the Association's form of service was conducted by the Archdeacon of Chichester (the Ven. Lancelot Mason) in the Cathedral. Singing was led by a men's choir and a ladies' choir of Bishop Otter College students and included an anthem. Mr. G. R. H. Smith was at the organ.

Tea followed in the Y.W.C.A. Hall. The business meeting was presided over by the Master (Mr. G. W. Cecil), whose attendance was appreciated. The meeting welcomed the affiliation to the Association of the tower of Westbourne, where a youthful band is making steady progress, and 17 other ringers became members.

It was agreed to support a request from the East Grinstead and District Guild to change the meeting Saturday with the Southern Division and to seek the A.G.M.'s sanction.

A programme of meetings for 1952 was approved, to include a dinner at Arundel in February. Half a guinea was voted to 'The Ringing World' to help in its present difficulty, and in case any in the Division had overlooked to forward the additional postage—though not to excuse them from doing so now.

Thanks were returned to the many who had helped in making the meeting so successful, in particular the local band. Ringing was resumed until 8.15.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION*East Norfolk Branch

The first meeting of the Association to be held at Catfield was held on November 10th and the visit was much appreciated by the Rector and the local band, who have just started to learn to ring. It was an occasion for much photographing by the local Press.

The service was conducted by the Rev. H. Wake, and a company of 35 sat down to tea. Business transacted at the meeting included the selection of Gorleston, if possible, for the annual meeting on February 16th. A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector and to Mr. Peter Nicholson for arranging the tea with the help of the Mothers' Union. Handbell ringing by members of the Association, tune ringing by the Catfield band and more ringing at the tower concluded a most enjoyable meeting.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD*Launceston Branch

The autumn festival and annual meeting of the Launceston Branch was held at St. Stephen's, Launceston, on November 3rd, and was attended by 60 ringers representing seven towers. The town's bells—St. Stephen's (8), St. Mary's (8) and St. Thomas's (6)—were rung during the afternoon and evening. It was a delight to see 13 ringers arrive from the other end of the Diocese, including the president (Miss E. Symons), the Ringing Master (Mr. W. H. Southard), the secretary (the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella) and the treasurer (Mr. S. Robinson). The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. P. P. W. Gendall, who also gave the address. The lessons were read by the former Branch secretary, Mr. E. R. Ransom.

Tea was served in the Church Hall. A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and his helpers, including the hon. secretary, for making all the arrangements.

The business meeting followed. The statement of accounts showed a balance of £14 17s. 8d. All the returning officers were re-elected and thanks accorded for their past services, with best wishes for their success in the coming year.

It was agreed to donate £2 to the North Petherwyn Bell Fund. This small parish needs £1,000 to rehang the six bells and for work on the tower and any donations will be gratefully received by the Vicar, the Rev. S. T. Craddock, The Vicarage, North Petherwyn, Launceston.

Ringing, which included some well-struck Grandsire and call changes, was kept going until 9 p.m.

MEMORIES REVIVED AT PRESTON, SUFFOLK

The St. Mary's Ringers, Preston, spent an enjoyable evening on November 10th when they met at church for a special practice. Methods rung were Plain and Little Bob, Kent and Oxford, Reverse Bob, Cambridge and 'Little Kent'!

Afterwards the party adjourned to the 'Six Bells' inn and sat down to a sausage supper which was followed by musical items including several old airs by Mr. S. H. Symonds, of Lavenham, on his miniature bells, gramophone records of Lavenham bells, Plain Bob Minor on the piano and touches on the handbells.

Mr. F. Day, captain of St. Mary's ringers, thanked his company for their loyalty, and Mr. Symonds for all his past help.

In responding, the latter said that he and another hon. member present, Mr. T. Hollocks, could between them claim over 100 years' connection with St. Mary's. He also mentioned that five generations of the Symonds family (Jesse, Henry, Arthur, Stedman and Dennis) had helped to ring St. Mary's bells for well-nigh 130 years. 'Time, gents, please' then put paid to a very happy gathering.

MINIMUM CALLS

Dear Sir,—I noted with interest Mr. Hodgson's observation on B. D. Price's letter that 14 is the least number of calls in a 720 of Plain Bob Minor.

As I was reading an 1854 edition of Mr. H. Hubbard's 'Elements of Campanologia' I came across two such two-part 720's. The calling of one has already been supplied, the other I give below. According to Mr. Hubbard, they came from the collection of Mr. H. F. Wood, former secretary of the Ancient Society of College Youths.—Yours faithfully, MAX B. PAGE.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World,' December 1st, 1911
MR. E. PYE AND HIS 800 PEALS

A record of 800 peals is really a wonderful performance and members of the Exercise will join in congratulating Mr. Ernest Pye upon reaching a total which only three other ringers have equalled (the Rev. F. E. Robinson and Messrs. W. Pye and G. Williams). Singularly endowed with gifts as an exponent of our noble art, Mr. Pye comes of a ringing family whose fame is known throughout the Exercise. One has only to ring in peals with him to appreciate his great skill, both in the handling of a bell and in the ringing of a method, however complex. Indeed, even that is hardly necessary, for his list of peals is an eloquent tribute to his remarkable ability. As an all-round ringer and striker, Mr. Pye is the personification of perfection and is equally at home from treble to tenor on eight, ten or twelve bells. Of more than average height, he is blessed with abundant muscular strength, but he rings a bell without any apparent effort. He has a perfect style in handling a rope which is delightful to watch and which many of the present generation would do well to copy. One of the most memorable peals he ever took part in was the Stedman Caters at Exeter Cathedral, when he rang the ninth, and his brother William the tenor, single-handed. The previous day Ernest was so ill that he had to go to bed and was unable to take any food. Curiously enough, he has never taken calling very seriously, but he can always be depended upon to call a peal if required, while, in rectifying mistakes in any method on eight, ten or twelve bells, his equals could easily be counted on the fingers of one hand.

[Before his sudden death in December, 1915, at the age of 39, Ernest Pye had rung 1,007 peals. Some competent judges have expressed the view that he was, if anything, a more gifted all-round ringer than his famous brother William.]

HIS 129th LEICESTERSHIRE TOWER

After waiting well over 30 years, Mr. Ernest Morris, of St. Margaret's, Leicester, scored a peal at Prestwold, near Loughborough. This very fine little church is situate in the grounds of a private estate, and although shortly after the bells were increased to eight in 1891 several peals were rung there, for the last 40 years they have not been available for peals and only on most rare occasions for meetings.

However, on November 18th permission was granted and the Copt Oak 'multi-method' boys with Arthur Rowley and Ernest assembled for a peal of Spliced Major.

It was not without its incidents, for apart from transport, the tower is without lights of any kind. 'Bill' Hall met Ernest at Loughborough and after taking his hat off and doubling him up to the accompaniment of many grunts and groans, got him tucked away in his side-car, and with 'Sam' on the back, whisked them off in quick time. Passing through the Hall grounds carriageway, deeply embedded with autumn leaves, they arrived at the precise time that the rest of the band got there with a paraffin lamp and sundry storm lanterns to light the ringing room.

The bells are not ideal for hearing and the weird lights and shadows did not tend to make things easy. The treble rope had a permanent tuck in it so John was detailed, as the tallest member of the band, to ring it, and even so he had to stand on a straw kneeler. The third also had a tuck back right up to the sally and Ernest had that.

After an hour, 'Spliced' Major did not go. As time was limited it was decided to trot out the 'old faithful' and a good peal of Grandsire Triples resulted. Thus Ernest Morris scores his 129th tower in the Leicester Diocese and 128th tower in Leicestershire for peals of 5,000 and upwards.

SPLICING PLAIN & LITTLE BOB TO ADVANTAGE

By NORMAN CHADDOCK

THOUGH Treble Bob Major is a useful stepping stone to Surprise, it is often looked on with disfavour for service ringing because of its long courses, poor music when 7 or 8 is in slow, and the limited number of short touches available.

Little Bob Major has none of these faults and is more musical than Plain Bob because of the dodging hunt above 4ths and the short courses (56 changes).

Increased interest and good music can be obtained by splicing Plain Bob and Little Bob together, and any touch suitable for Plain Bob and Little Bob Major may be rung spliced. If such touches have bobs at W, M and H only, it is best to go off Plain Bob from rounds. change to Little Bob at the first lead end (wrong position) and back to Plain Bob at the following lead end (middle position) which brings the course-end up (home position) at the next lead end, thus giving three lead courses of 40 changes. The change of method is called immediately after the lead end.

When changing from Little Bob to Plain, it is only necessary to remember what dodge you have just done, and do the next Plain Bob dodge in the normal sequence or, alternatively, use treble as a guide.

When changing from Plain Bob to Little Bob the work is easily picked up. Remember that if you strike treble in 4ths on your way down you go straight in to lead; otherwise dodge 3-4 down.

Another advantage of splicing Plain and Little Bob is that touches designed to produce special musical qualities may be shortened by inserting leads of Little Bob to bring up more quickly the next position at which there is a call.

The following touch of Plain Bob Major containing Queen's and Whittington's may be shortened from 480 changes to 200 changes by ringing Little Bob where shown:—

480 PLAIN BOB MAJOR
23456	W	5ths	B	IN	M H
23564	—	—	—	—	—
2753468	—	—	—	—	—
35724	S	—	—	—	S
2345678	S	S	—	—	—

Same touch rung as Spliced Plain and Little Bob Major:—

200 SPLICED PLAIN AND LITTLE BOB MAJOR
23456	W	5ths	B	IN	M H
-----	—	—	—	—	—
2753468	—	—	—	—	—
3572	S	—	—	—	S
2345678	S	S	—	—	—

* The changes of method cut out this course end.

In detail, the above touch is as follows:—
Go Plain, call bob Wrong, change to Little. (two leads), call bob Before, change to Plain (one lead), change to Little, call bob 5ths; one more lead of Little brings up course end (2753468). Ring next course P.L.P. calling Singles W and H, brings up Queen's (3572468). Continue ringing Plain calling Singles W and 5ths, change to Little (two leads), call bob IN, change to Plain Bob calling bob Middle which puts bells in the Plain Course.

In Minor, changes of method may be arranged according to taste, but if the three lead course plan is used (32 changes per course), calls at W and H only are possible. Nevertheless several easy extents of 384 changes are possible.

Peals of Spliced Plain and Little Bob Major. Royal or Maximus are available and Major.

particularly, calls for no mean ability on the part of the conductor.

For those who may be unfamiliar with Little Bob, the method is Plain Bob below 4ths and Treble Bob above. Treble Plain hunts to 4ths and back and bobs are as Plain Bob. The Ringer's Note Book and Diary contains the method, and a variety of touches.

MR. F. E. DUKES' FIRST 100 IN IRELAND

To ring his first 100 peals for the Irish Association, Mr F. E. Dukes, secretary of the Irish Association, travelled 15,800 miles, an average of 158 miles per peal. On one occasion he cycled 110 miles to call a peal at Arklow and on another occasion returned home by a cattle special train arriving at 3 a.m.

His first peal was rung at St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick, on August 1st, 1938, and his 100th on October 27th, 1951 at St. Macartan's Cathedral, Enniskillen. He is the first to ring 100 peals in Ireland. His list is appended:—

1,000 More Readers Wanted!

The Editorial Committee invite the help of all who have the welfare of 'The Ringing World' at heart to obtain at least another thousand Postal subscribers.

If the costs of the production of the paper could be spread over this increased number of readers it might be possible to avoid an increase in the price of the paper.

Every possible economy is being made, and advertisers are paying more for their space, but the recent increase in the cost of paper (£27/10/0 per ton) puts an additional strain on our resources.

Here is a chance for every ringer who wishes to help to do something practical. Talk about the paper at your meetings, and help us to rope in at least another 1,000 Postal subscribers. It can be done with your help. What about making a present of a quarterly, half-yearly or yearly subscription to someone whom you know does not take 'The Ringing World'? Fill in the form below and send to J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

To the Editorial Committee, 'The Ringing World.'

Please post 'The Ringing World' to me for one quarter (6/-), half-year (11/8), one year (£1/2/6) (Cross out words not applicable.)

OBITUARY

MR. GEORGE BROADHEAD

Mr. George Broadhead, of Darton, near Barnsley, died at Pinderfield Hospital, Wakefield, on November 5th, following an accident at North Gawber Colliery where he had worked for 56 years. He was cleaning a locomotive when the ladder he was standing on slipped and threw him on the concrete floor below. He was 70 years of age.

For many years Mr. Broadhead rang at Darton Church and his strong point was good striking. He took part in many contests and even assisted neighbouring towers who were short of a ringer. He rang with Cawthorne in 1928 when they won the Hoylandswaine Cup and was recalled in 1944 to help them win the Barnsley Shield. He figured in the Shelley band which won the Barnsley Shield in 1932. On one occasion he officiated as judge in a contest.

Mr. Broadhead did much good work in assisting young ringers; he was always pleasant and ready to help when called upon. He rang but one peal, at Cawthorne.

Ringers from Barnsley, Cawthorne and Silkstone rang the bells of Darton Church at the funeral.

MR. MAURICE F. R. HIBBERT

An Appreciation

A mere list of the late Maurice F. R. Hibbert's peals does less than justice to a remarkable man. The list in itself is unique in that he had probably rung peals in more methods or combinations of methods than any other ringer but he was much more than just another peal ringer.

He had a bent for calling difficult compositions and it was enough for Maurice to be told that something was difficult to call, for him to want to call it. Ringers will remember his enquiries regarding Carter's Scientific Triples a year or two ago; no doubt he was hoping for an opportunity to call a peal in the method. Others will remember that it was he who called Dr. Slack's two-part peal of Stedman Triples about which so much controversy arose during the war years. One gathers that his system for such difficult compositions was to learn the calling and let the figures look after themselves except, perhaps, for once or twice during the peal. He was once asked what would happen if two bells shifted just after a milestone and he had to carry on a quarter peal or so before he knew that the bells were wrong. His reply was typical. In language much more picturesque than 'The Ringing World' could publish, he said it would serve the culprits right and teach them not to shift again.

He was a wonderful heavy-bell ringer. His rather cumbersome gait hardly suggested the artistry with a bell rope of which he was capable. No bell was too heavy for him or went too badly. If a bell represented an immovable object Maurice was just the irresistible force to ring it to a peal. It was enough to tell him that the bell was unpealable. One of his fine performances was to ring the eleventh at St. Paul's to a peal of Stedman Cinques which at least one ringer of very wide experience looks upon as a model of what Stedman Cinques can be. At that time Mr. Hibbert had never rung a bell as heavy in a peal.

He was an occasional contributor to the correspondence columns of 'The Ringing World.' A working man, and proud of it, he was denied the opportunities of education and background with which some are favoured, but he wrote with a pungency and force that is often desired but not always obtained. He had a gift for clear and lucid expression both in speech and in writing. His last contribution to 'The Ringing World,' if memory serves, was regarding the size of parish churches.

Many almost legendary stories are told of him. Perhaps one of the best was of an incident during the war at a church where he was well known. Someone tugged at a rope on an Ellacombe apparatus to stop the bells because of an air raid warning. Maurice was only concerned with the damage that might have resulted to the bell and burst down the stairs upon the hapless intruder. Maurice finished his words of wisdom triumphantly '... and in any case we have got the Rector's permission to ring.' A weak voice replied, 'I am the Rector.'

He was a delightful companion and a great ringer. I shall never think of him without a chuckle. Such men are the salt of the earth. C.

MR. GEORGE WILLSHIRE

On November 15th Birchington, Kent, lost one of its oldest inhabitants and its oldest ringer, George Willshire, aged 90 years.

'Old George,' as he was always known throughout the county, will best be remembered for his long association with Quex Park tower.

The interment took place on November 17th at the Parish Church, members of the local band being present. The bells were rung half-muffled at intervals throughout the afternoon.

To deceased's memory 1,260 Grandsire Triples were rung with the bells half-muffled at All Saints', Birchington, on November 18th by Miss Groves 1, Miss Reid 2, Miss Solly 3, T. Milsted 4, J. Russell (conductor) 5, H. Luck 6, L. Everest 7, T. Day 8. H. L.

AUSTRALIA'S WELCOME

Dear Sir,—'The Ringing World' of August 17th, just to hand, conveys, as an item of news, that two young ringers, John and David Boutland, of Chester, departed for Australia on August 8th. Your correspondent does not give the name of the ship or the port of destination, although he probably knew both.

You have published similar news items several times during the past five years. If ringers in Australia received this news early enough, they could contact the ship by letter at Fremantle and, if possible, meet the traveller when disembarking at one of the capital cities, with a friendly welcome.

Australia is a very big country. Perhaps your contributors do not realise that the distance from Perth to Sydney is roughly equal to London to Jerusalem or New York to San Francisco. The capital cities are large; the population of Sydney exceeds 1,250,000—which compares with Glasgow and Manchester.

W. SMITH,
Captain, St. James' Ringers.
Tarramurra.

SLOW PROGRESS

MOST readers of this journal will have noticed the announcement that the first hundred new postal subscribers have been enrolled. That is an indication that interest has been stimulated in the efforts of 'The Ringing World' Committee to keep the paper at its present price. Some readers are of opinion that we are fighting a losing battle and that we should follow the present trend and increase the price at once. If we thought it was a solution of our difficulties we should be wrong in delaying to do so—but is it? Let us look at the position squarely. Many readers think that the price is high enough already—and we have to remember that a large number are men in quite humble circumstances. Some of this number would, as a protest against increased price, cease to take the paper. Previous experience, when the price was raised to 4d., has proved this to be so. We have no reason to suppose that would not happen again if the price were increased to sixpence, and if it did we should be very little better off, financially, and worse off by the loss of these readers. That, at any rate, is the conclusion reached by the committee.

Alternatives have to be found to keep the paper solvent, and already the advertisers have been called upon to pay more for space. The results from this are gratifying, but still not sufficient to make up the weekly deficiency. An appeal for 1,000 more postal subscribers has been launched and the first hundred have been enrolled—we are hoping the remaining 900 will come in due course—but every week that goes by with that target not reached makes the deficiency greater. We need all the help from the rank and file to rope in these other 900 subscribers, and earnestly appeal to every reader to do his utmost to influence any waverers.

Many suggestions have reached us from well wishers as to how the difficulties of the present time can be overcome. One was that we should offer 5s. shares in the paper to anyone who cared to take them up. Another was to raise a loan free of interest. Scores of letters have been received from all quarters suggesting a levy of varying amounts on peals published, and we should like to say a word or two on this matter. As was mentioned in a footnote to a letter published recently, the committee, whilst possessing full powers to act, do not feel empowered to take such a step. It is possible that objectors to a levy would not send reports of their performances and the peals analysis would therefore be an incomplete record of peals achieved.

Some readers object to the idea of such a levy, on the ground that it is not usual for news contributors to pay for publication, whilst others think that as peal ringing is a kind of self-advertisement, those ringing them should help to defray the cost of printing.

The committee is of opinion that an imposed levy is impracticable, but they point out there is nothing to prevent well-disposed peal ringers from voluntarily levying themselves if they care to do so. All peal reports, whether accompanied by a donation or not, will be published, and the same applies to quarter peals, so far as space permits. It is not, and never has been, a condition that payment should be made to ensure insertion in this paper. Times have changed, however, and we now very gratefully accept donations which are sent in to help tide us over the weekly deficiency. The committee deeply appreciates the help accorded by those far-seeing readers who have sent donations, and now appeal to all who value the paper to make a united effort to increase the number of subscribers. That 900 more must be obtained, and we believe it is within the capabilities of the Exercise to get them.

We shall continue to make every effort to provide interesting articles and news, and hope in the near future to commence a series of articles of an elementary nature which will be specially intended for beginners. A very prominent ringer, who is one of the most accomplished conductors in the Exercise, has promised to contribute these and is already at work on them. We headed this article 'Slow Progress,' and we hope readers will agree that with the necessary effort all round progress could be speeded up.

Any suggestions or constructive criticisms will be carefully considered by your servants, the committee. Are we in too much of a hurry? Well, the debt is piling up and it's your help we want to get that other 900.

PRACTICAL ENCOURAGEMENT

With one in three of the quarter peals and one in five of the peals published in this issue, a donation was sent to meet the added cost of production. This is practical encouragement to 'The Ringing World' Committee.

As has been customary in past years, we are reserving a page in the issue of December 21st for Christmas greetings. The charge is 3s. for 30 words.

Errata:—The peal at Waltham Abbey on November 17th was Mr T. J. Lock's 150th peal for the Middlesex Association and not his 150th on the bells.

The six bells of St. Michael's, Tunstall, near Woodbridge, Suffolk, have been retuned and rehung in complete new fittings and will be dedicated on Sunday, December 9th, at 2.30 p.m.

Latest applicant for stuffed owls to keep bats out of his belfry is the Rev. Arnold Mallinson, Vicar of St. Frideswide's, Oxford, and the adjoining parish of St. Margaret, Bilsey. We were under the impression that bats were blind and gained their sense of direction by sound.
Such an application coming from the 'seat of learning' probably will cause us to amend our knowledge.

The Editor thanks Mr. T. Marshall, of Wrightington, near Wigan, for his letter. The organisation of the event was outside the jurisdiction of local ringers. There are hopes that by a process of education in the ways of the big fraternity of church bell-ringers a better understanding will be eventually established and when the building is completed opportunities for ringing will be available.

The peal of Double Norwich Court Bob
Major at Wolborough, Devon, on November 22nd, was of special interest to the county and the Guild of Devonshire ringers as it was only the second time that a peal in the method had been rung by resident members of the Guild.
The first time was on January 20th, 1937, at Buckfastleigh, and was conducted by Mr. C. R.
Lilley. Mr. E. J. Taylor and Mr. T. G. Myers rang in both peals.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

Our overseas mail this week contains a chatty letter from L.A.C. Weare,
B.A., who formerly rang in the Wells, Somerset, district, and whose address is now No. 395
M.U., R.A.T.G., Bulawayo, S. Rhodesia. He tells us the timing signal on Radio Rhodesia is the record of Grandsire Caters by St. Margaret's, Westminster. 'You can guess how much this record means to me and I listen to it at every chance I get,' he adds. He enquires when the record was made.

A peal attempt for Cambridge Surprise Major at Longstanton, Cambs, on November 24th, was brought to an abrupt end with only two and a half courses to ring. A man rushed into the belfry shouting we should be responsible if anyone got killed. It was found one of the band had left his car with no lights on. The band was as follows:—C. W. Cook 1, C. A. Hurst
2, G. Crisp 3, T. R. Dennis 4, R. Brooker 5,
J. G. Jipson 6, H. L. Martin 7, E. G. Hibbins (conductor) 8. It was a big disappointment for 2 and 7 as it was their first attempt for a peal of Surprise Major.

Mr. Edward ('Ted') Harding, of Fulmer,
South Bucks, celebrated his 84th birthday on Saturday, November 24th, in true ringer's style.
The bells were kept going from 3.30 p.m. until 8 p.m. excepting for the break for tea. This and handbell ringing were thoroughly enjoyed by 17 of his ringing friends, several of whom are members of Chalfont St. Peter's band and included Mr. G. Swift, their captain, and Mrs.
Swift. Mr. Harding did not achieve his ambition to score another quarter peal of Bob Minor, but consolation was forthcoming by a successful attempt at 720 Plain Bob, the ringers being Mrs. Swift 1, E. Harding 2, George Swift 3, Kenneth Vickers 4, W. W. Wolstencroft 5 and William Gutteridge (conductor) 6.

RECORD PEAL OF 21,600

BRISTOL

Anniversary Gathering

On Saturday, November 3rd, the record peal of 21,600 Bristol was commemorated by a peal of 5,408 Bristol, at Over, taken from the original peal, by the band standing in the same order.

After the peal had been rung, touches were rung by visitors and a short service held to dedicate a tablet recording the record peal. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. Victor Dawson), and the tablet was unveiled by its donor, Mr. Fred Dunkerley.

The Master of the Chester Guild, Mr. J. W. Clarke, and its secretary, the Rev. J. Kingdon, were present at the ceremony, as well as many other ringers and friends, including Mr. S. Jones, jun., of Chester, who took part in the 17,280 Kent Treble Bob rung at this church and conducted by Mr. R. Sperring.

Later in the evening a commemoration dinner was held in the Wheatshaf Hotel, Winsford, at which the Vicar, wardens and local ringers, the Master and secretary of the Guild, the peal band and their wives and friends were the guests of Mr. Dunkerley. After an excellent meal had been partaken of and the loyal toast honoured, the gathering became more informal.

The theme of the speeches was, of course, the achievement of the previous year, and in his speech the Vicar referred to the numerous letters he had received from all over the country expressing appreciation of his permission for the attempt and he felt that Winsford was now 'on the map.'

The churchwardens in their speeches also referred to the widespread interest in Over which the peal had caused and one of them referred to the fact that Over Church serves two parts of the township of Winsford, between which there is keen rivalry, but he was glad to say that the half which contained the Parish Church now had something which the other half could not surpass since they had no ring of bells.

During the evening handbells were rung but the real high spot of this part of the proceedings was the attempt to ring a course of Grand-sire Triples by the long-peal band. The system used was that seen at the Central Council meeting at Chester in which each member has one bell. The bells are struck in order from right to left in every change, the changes being produced by the ringers changing places. After a few practices the band succeeded in almost reaching the first lead end but as a bob was called there a trip followed which proved impossible to sort out.

Just to show, however, that they could ring Grand-sire Triples, four of the band rang a course double-handed. The gathering broke up at about 9.30 with expressions of thanks to Mr. Dunkerley and regrets that Mrs. Dunkerley had been prevented at the last moment by sudden indisposition from being present.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

DEDICATION

NEWTON ST. CYRES (DEVON) BELLS

The beautiful Church of Newton St. Cyres was filled to capacity on November 10th when the rededication of the eight bells by the Bishop of Crediton took place.

The Vicar (the Rev. D'Arcy Ward) conducted the service which was very impressive: Preb. E. V. Cox, president of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, was present.

Mr. Frank Weeks, captain of ringers, asked the Bishop to bless the bells. Mr. Weeks has completed over 50 years' ringing at this tower.

The Bishop gave a most delightful address which was much enjoyed by all present.

Newton St. Cyres had a ring of five bells, which were cast by William Evans, of Chepstow, in 1733, until 1908 when a new treble was added. During the past 30 years this grand ring of six has been rung most regularly twice a Sunday and every Tuesday evening. It was found necessary to have the bells rehung, the bearings having become worn; at the same time it was decided to complete the octave.

The new treble was given by Mrs. W. M. Pearce in memory of her daughter Helen; the new second was given by the ringers and the work entrusted to Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The great gathering of ringers from all over Devon was unanimous in the opinion that a perfect splice has been made and excellent workmanship in the rehanging given; Mr. Dyer attended on behalf of the firm.

Details of the bells are as follows:—

		wt.	qr.	lb.
Treble	F sharp	4	3	14
2	E sharp	5	0	0
3	D sharp	5	1	18
4	C sharp	5	2	8
5	B	6	1	4
6	A sharp	7	2	2
7	G sharp	9	0	14
8	F sharp	12	3	22

After the service at 2.30 the bells were kept going until 9 o'clock.

A splendid tea, served by the ringers' wives, was enjoyed by well over 100 visitors, and the event was followed by an entertainment in the Village Hall.

IMPRESSIONS OF LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS

By Mr. Albert Walker

As one of the visiting bands invited by the Dean and Chapter to take part in the ringing of the new Cathedral bells following the Hallowing of the Bells service, the St. Martin's Guild band arrived in Liverpool at 11.50 a.m. and no time was lost in getting to the Cathedral where we were due to ring at 12.20 p.m. for twenty minutes.

We were more fortunate than the College Youths, apart from the walk from and to the station, that we had the use of the tower lift to the first landing stage with still a long climb to the vast ringing chamber above, where we were welcomed by that famous Liverpool ringer, Mr. George R. Newton, and his band and a host of ringing friends, with orders to start the ringing.

Our effort was three courses of Stedman Cinques which, on completion, we were informed was the first touch on the bells. The band was as follows:—G. W. Critchley 1, A. Walker (conductor) 2, G. Shepherd 3, W. C. Dowling 4, T. H. Hampton 5, A. V. Pearson 6, S. O'C. Holloway 7, F. E. Haynes 8, H. H. Fearn 9, J. Pinfold 10, G. E. Fearn 11, W. F. Moreton and R. Edwards tenor. This was followed after lunch by two courses of Stedman Cinques with Wilfrid Moreton ringing the tenor single-handed.

HOW GOLDHANGER SAVED THE BELLS

'The very small village of Goldhanger (population less than 400) was faced with the task of raising the sum of £900 to restore its ring of six bells,' writes Mr. E. C. S. Johnson.

'A fund was launched on December 5th, 1950, and was given a good start by a local resident, R. Wakelin, who gave £100 on condition that five others would give £25 each. This was immediately forthcoming and with various concerts, whist drives, collections, etc., the sum of £635 had been raised by Saturday, December 1st, 1951.

'Then came our great effort in the form of a "Bells Fair" held in the Village Hall, Goldhanger, on December 1st. Never before in the history of the village has there been such a wonderful show. All the stalls were laden with good things made and given by local residents and their friends.

'The sale was given a great send-off by Miss Rachel Kempson, the well-known actress wife of Mr. Michael Redgrave, the actor, who declared the fair open. This wonderful display, not only of articles for sale, but also the great spirit of co-operation and goodwill, realised the sum of £278, a wonderful achievement for so small a village.

'I think that a special mention should be made of the bell-ringers' effort. Last Christmas they toured the district "carolling" with the handbells, raising no less than £50. Their part in the "Bells Fair" was very noteworthy. Under the supervision of Mr. Charlie Mann (father of ringers) the ringers set to work. With the aid of some pit saws nearly 100 years old, resurrected and skilfully sharpened by Mr. Mann, the ringers sawed up the huge oak beams (350 years old) of the old frame. Then other ringers, assisted by Mr. W. H. Mann and Mr. C. H. Briggs (son and son-in-law respectively of Mr. Mann, but not ringers), turned the pieces into standard and table lamps, trays, stools, candlesticks, etc., and sold them as souvenirs of their old frame; this effort raised £54.

'We now have a very nice ring of six bells hung in a good metal frame, which will be dedicated on December 15th by the Archdeacon of Southend.'

The acoustics in the ringing room at present are none too good as it is not easy, when ringing, to hear the bells individually.

The hanging of this mighty ring is perfect and the bells themselves go splendidly: a worthy tribute to those responsible for the design and support of the reinforced concrete frame and to the bellfounders. The writer would have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that the bells are at once pealable with two men on the tenor.

The effect outside when the twelve bells are being rung is that the four back bells are more subdued than the front bells and no doubt this will be corrected in due time; also it may be the vast Cathedral itself may prevent hearing all the bells clearly in the vicinity of the building.

However, it was a memorable day. The honour of being privileged to take part in the ringing as a band, a hearty welcome and meeting of many old and new friends, the excellent lunch at the Adelphi Hotel, kindly provided by the Dean of Liverpool, all was very worth while. After our second touch we had to dash to the station for the return train to Birmingham. The sound of these grand bells following, and it was very noticeable that approximately three-quarters of a mile away the bells came over the air much more clearly than in the immediate vicinity of the Cathedral.

Birmingham was reached at 9.30 p.m., just in time for a very welcome refresher!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'REBELLION'

Dear Sir,—After reading paragraph 4 of the leader in the issue of 'The Ringing World' dated November 23rd (several times), I was amazed to read 'Many, indeed most, of the members go to the Central Council meeting, knowing that it is most unlikely that they will have an opportunity to speak . . . . But the primary function of every member is not to speak, not to vote, not to serve on a committee, not to submit a report, but directly or indirectly, to represent the ringers in every belfry.'

Having not had the opportunity to be such a member, I would indeed like to know why a member of a Council is to keep silent, being his primary function.

If all members took up this attitude, we should have a most peculiar Council, all sitting up looking at one another and doing nothing.

Is it a fact that a member of the Council, attending the annual, has to refrain from voting?

If the contents of para 4 are as recorded, then it is high time that we had a Council of Church Bell Ringers who are permitted to voice the feelings of those they represent, with whom they do their Sunday duty and who are, after all, the people that really matter.

What a state of affairs!

CROMWELL.

NOTE.—The right of comment is open to any member of the Central Council providing the customary rules of debate are observed. We feel certain that P. A. C., who himself made useful contributions to the debate at Chester, never intended the paragraph to indicate a passive, non-voting Council, but to emphasise that the Council is truly representative of all the ringers of the land.—Ed.

THE CATTISTOCK CARILLON

Dear Sir,—The incumbent at Cattistock is reported in your journal as saying at a recent meeting of ringers that the task of reinstating the tower and bells has been completed. As there is yet no sign of the replacement of the carillon—the only one in an Anglican church—it is difficult to understand how the work can be regarded as finished; it was the expressed intention to recast the carillon. Has this project been abandoned?—Yours very truly,

FRANK P. PRICE.

HERTFORD BOB ROYAL

Dear Sir,—I have written to the Methods Committee in order to check the names of the methods here called Medium Bob Royal and Hertford Bob Royal but I have not yet received notice of their findings so I am submitting the report as it stands.

Medium Bob Royal is a plain seconds place method with the treble hunting to 6th place and back again. It has been rung by the Cambridge University Guild (and probably by others). Hertford Bob Royal, to the best of our knowledge, has never been rung before, so we have named it ourselves. A lead is given below:—

YORKSHIRE SURPRISE AT RATBY

Dear Sir,—The composition of the 5,088 Yorkshire Surprise Major which I called at Ratby on August 27th, 1951, is a transposition of a peal by Gabriel Lindoff.

Mr. Nolan Golden (over whose name the above peal was published) has discovered this since giving me the figures and has asked me to make it known, so that those concerned may make the necessary alteration in their records.

—Yours, etc., NORMAN CHADDOCK.
Broom, Rotherham.

A RINGERS' PRAYER

Sir,—May I make a suggestion that the following prayer be adopted as the 'Ringers' Prayer'? It has just been written by 86-year-old Alfred Worth, A.T.C.L., for many years a ringer and still an accomplished organist.—Yours faithfully, F. STUART WORTH.

A CALL TO WORSHIP

Go when the morning shineth
Go when the noon is bright,
Go when the day declineth,
Go in the hush of night;
Go with pure mind and feeling,
Cast earthly things away,
And in the chamber kneeling,
Do thou in secret pray.
Remember all who love thee,
And all that are loved by thee.
And pray for those that hate thee.
If any such there be;
Then for thyself in meekness,
A blessing humbly claim.
And link with each petition.
Thy Great Redeemer's name.

WARNHAM, SUSSEX.—On Oct. 28th, 1,260 Oxford Bob Triples: E. Rathborn J., Miss F. Wyman 2, Miss E. Lounen 3, E. R. Rapley 4, J. Branch 5, L. Stilwell 6, B. W. White (cond.) 7, C. Denyer 8. Rung to commemorate the 30th anniversary of Canon F. S. Farebrother as Vicar of this parish.

COUNCIL'S DECISIONS

Dear Sir,—With reference to the Decisions published on October 26th, may I make the following observations:—

Conditions required for peals: The figure of 6,000 for peals to surpass previous peals should be 6,720, i.e., the length of 30 courses in Major, and as agreed by the Committee at Chester.

In further condition (iii) the Committee agreed that the word conductor should be deleted.

Spliced Peals: A pedantic point here; for 'sixes' read 'divisions.'

I would also point out that the wording of the Decision on peals of Minor has been altered from that agreed upon but I have no quarrel with the alteration.

With regard to Mr. Barnett's letter in your issue of November 9th, according to my notes the Committee agreed to the following amendment: 'Singles in Treble Bob methods MAY only be used when the DESIRED result cannot be obtained by bobs.'

As all this took place towards the end of a lengthy session, I am not surprised the Committee have missed these small but important points.—Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS.

Altrincham, Cheshire.

FORTY YEARS ON

Dear Sir,—May I say how interesting I found 'Forty Years Ago' in your issue of November 16th? Mr. L. Duffield, who with his sons, took part in the peal at Tasburgh, Norwich, on Sunday, October 22nd, 1911, is still, happily, with us with an undiminished zeal for ringing our lovely church bells. His name and ringing reputation are well known to ringers throughout the diocese of Norwich. Sunday by Sunday, unless prevented by untoward circumstances, he is to be found in the ringing chamber of his parish church, Stratton St. Mary's, and his advice and guidance in the matter of the bells are freely given.

May I say, as a footnote, how much I enjoy 'The Ringing World,' to which I was introduced by Mr. Duffield, and I enclose a small donation to help with its continued existence.—Yours sincerely, (REV.) H. W. ST. LEGER-CHAMBERS.

Rural Dean of Depwade.

THE EXETER PEAL

Dear Sir,—My knowledge of the work of the Central Council and its members is very small but I do support the excellent leading article in 'The Ringing World' of November 23rd.

For brevity, I will take only one quotation: 'Firstly, by writing a letter in reasonable terms for publication in "The Ringing World," remembering always that it is useless to criticise a thing unless you have something better to put in its place.'

The Exeter peal of Grandsire Triples could not be published because the men engaged on the tenor did not comply with 'the Central Council rules, not that the peal was false in the ringing or composition.'

Some member of the Council in the days to come may want this ruling altered now that the service of dedication of Liverpool Cathedral bells has taken place.

In honour and fairness to every ringer who took part in the Exeter 'peal,' and all ringers in Devonshire and the West of England, I suggest that you publish this 'peal' on the back page of 'The Ringing World' with a footnote 'not to be included in the Peal Analysis report.' By this means you will win the esteem of the whole band, the ringers of the West Country and beyond; it may also help to achieve the extra 1,000 readers—who knows? Give encouragement, do not withhold it.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR PRINCE.

Gresford.

NOTE.—Details of the performance were published in 'The Ringing World.'—Ed.

DITCHED IN DORSET

Adventures of Bristol University Band

Friday, November 16th, witnessed the start of a week-end's ringing outing to Dorset for six Bristol University students—Heather J. Tesson (the organiser), Mary I. Kennelly, Frank D. Mack, Robert J. Stokes, Ivor H. Trueman and 'the scribe.' Our means of transport was a seven-foot-high ex-Metropolitan taxi of 1934 vintage, which caused much amusement to all and sundry throughout the week-end, and, despite our faith in it, it was due to disorganise the programme more than once.

Leaving Bristol late Friday evening, the party stopped en route at Radstock for a short ring on the easy-going six, but not before becoming involved in the Midsomer Norton Carnival when we were mistaken by some as the head of the procession! Thence on to Wimborne, our headquarters, the party being billeted at Heather's homestead.

An early start was arranged for Saturday morning when we joined forces with Brian Bladon and Tony Peake, from Swindon, and Winnie Cox and Stan Weekes, from Wimborne. But we had not reckoned on the taxi! To start with, 'the scribe' neatly reversed it into a ditch, entailing the services of a break-down lorry, and then the starter motor jammed! While these troubles were being rectified, Stan's car was sent on to the first tower, Lytchett Matravers, with a full complement on board and we joined them later on at Milton Abbas to ring the noisy octave. At Haselbury Bryan we rang the newly-retuned and rehung six which are to be rededicated next January. Many a favourable comment was passed on the new ringing gallery made of light oak (the bells were formerly rung from the ground floor).

After a hearty lunch at Sturminster Newton, the deep-toned Dobson six (tenor 16 cwt.) were soon echoing their sound across the countryside. A short trip, this time without speed wobbles, brought us to Okeford Fitzpaine, where the treble of the light six badly needs re-tuning. At Shillingstone we were welcomed by the Rector (6 feet 8 inches in height), who joined us in some rounds and Queens. Thence to tea at Blandford and afterwards a visit to the belfry of SS. Peter and Paul's. The 'go' of the eight (tenor 19 cwt.) was excellent; although the striking to Triples soon settled down, a regular 'beat' to Major was never attained (this in the opinion of 'the scribe' being the fault of the band, despite their vigorous denials!).

Once again the taxi comes into the picture. A puncture prevented a few unfortunates from visiting Sturminster Marshall while the others, not to be outdone by such a mishap, squeezed into Stan's car and left us to our fate. On the way to Corfe Mullen, where we once again joined forces, the taxi was stopped by a police patrol car on the pretext of a fused rear light but chiefly, I suspect, so that the young police officer could examine the 'wreck' at close quarters! Parting on amicable terms, Corfe Mullen was soon reached. The stiffness of the ropes caused some consternation at first—one member in particular was very nearly hanged by the rope of the next bell!

We rang at All Saints', Hampton, for Sunday morning service, a reasonable touch of Grandsire Doubles being rung by an all-ladies' band. The second bell, like the treble at Okeford Fitzpaine, is sadly out of tune. Arrangements had been made to ring at St. John's, Bournemouth, for Sunday evening service, but due to ignition and lighting trouble, the taxi contingent regretfully had to return to Bristol without that pleasure.

Thanks must be extended to all those who met us at the various towers and especially to Heather and Stan for providing the accommodation. Methods rung were Grandsire, Bob Doubles, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent, Oxford, Little Bob, Double Court and Cambridge.

L. C. I. W.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Society's November meeting was held at Ossett where the fine ring of ten was thoroughly enjoyed by the many visitors. The bells were rung up in peal at 3 p.m. and ringing continued until the break for tea, which had been arranged by Mr. Fred Bennett. After tea further ringing was enjoyed in this spacious belfry where the old peal boards, recording peals rung in 1866 and the years following, were easily readable.

The president presided at the business meeting and members were present from Armley, Batley, Drighlington, East Ardsley, Headingley, St. Michael's, Leeds Parish Church, Ossett, Pudsey, Rothwell and Thorner and friends from Horbury.

The usual business details were completed and one new member, Mr. L. Schofield, of Drighlington, was elected.

The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company, especially Mr. F. Bennett, was proposed by Mr. H. Lofthouse, who referred to the difficulty of fixing the meeting and the splendid way in which Mr. Bennett had given permission and arranged tea at very short notice. This was seconded by Mr. Parkinson. Mr. Bennett acknowledged the vote of thanks and said ringing had been somewhat restricted owing to illness, but when he approached the Vicar for permission his concurrence was forthcoming immediately and any other effort he made was amply repaid if the visitors had enjoyed coming to Ossett.

The next meeting is due to be held on January 26th—the tower will be announced in 'The Ringing World.'

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of December 8th, 1911

ODD CHANGES

Some little time ago inquiries were made as to the largest number of 720's rung for services on a Sunday. A correspondent now sends us a list of no fewer than eleven, rung at Bourne, Lincolnshire, on Easter Day, 1908. For 7 a.m. service 720 Kent, 11 a.m. 720 Plain Bob and 720 Reverse College Single, for evening service two 720's each of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob, and 720 each of Single Court and Reverse College Single. The ringers were: J. T. Woolley, J. Neal, A. S. Allen, A. E. Larkinson, J. W. Lake (conducted 9), J. Osborn and F. Blood, of the local band, and (three) visitors.

ASSOCIATION NOTES

Midland Counties

The many friends of St. Andrew's Society, Derby, will no doubt be glad to see the progress this band are now making. On Wednesday, November 29th, they rang their first peal of Superlative, this being the first Surprise peal by all except the conductor. . . . We hear from a good source that Cambridge Surprise is to be next on the agenda. It is fortunate for St. Andrew's that they possess one or two good 'reserves,' as there are some people who, we hear, are not 'altogether reliable.'

[Let us hope this does not apply to the present band, who also are making very good progress.]

REQUEST FOR LADIES' PAGE IN 'RINGING WORLD'

Southern District's Suggestion

To the historic and beautiful Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, at Guildford, the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild, on November 24th, called the first ringers' meeting to be held there since the bells, after keeping silent vigil in this ancient defence tower for more than fifty long years, were recently restored for ringing.

It was a gathering—in spite of torrential rain—to gladden the heart of any secretary. Forty-four members and friends crowded in to the church and belfry, and after ringing, ably arranged by Miss C. C. Roberts, all attended the simple but moving service conducted by Canon R. G. Clitherow who in the course of his address reminded us that it has been the women of this country who, for the last fifty years, have kept alive our Christian heritage; and as we listened to his impressive appeal to the women who 'manned' their ropes to use the occasion of their ringing to pray for the souls of their menfolk, we felt a renewal of that urge to service which has drawn so many of the women and girls of our land to an act of worship for many years barred to them. That, even now, the victory has not been fully won is evidenced by the recent decision of a worthy Dean in connection with the opening of a new and famous ring of twelve, but happily we women realise that such evils as this intolerance can best be fought by the very weapon Canon Clitherow adjured us to use.

With spirits heartened by the Canon's address and appetites sharpened by our exertions in the belfry, all forty-four of us (including among other eminent visitors the Editor of 'The Ringing World' and Mr. A. H. Pulling) sat down to a sumptuous tea at the Y.W.C.A. Club. When the secretary was arranging the tea, some days beforehand, the manageress of the club demurred at providing 20 sandwiches and cakes as well as sausage rolls! 'When they've had a sausage roll, a sandwich and a cake,' she said, 'most people have had enough!'

'We don't know our members,' she was told, and when she saw the food rapidly melting under the onslaughts of a hungry crowd of ringers she had to confess herself disillusioned.

After tea, St. Mary's tower was again open and Shalford bells also were very kindly made available. The men were dismissed to the towers while the ladies held a short business meeting at which, among other things, several new members were elected and arrangements were discussed for the next meeting. The threat made by the secretary at the tea table to discuss the suggestion that a ladies' page dealing with current hat fashions should be included in 'The Ringing World' was only partly carried out; the meeting was, however, definitely of the opinion that women should be catered for in some way, if only by the inclusion of half a column for 'Ladies Only.'

After the meeting some of the ladies went on to Shalford, where they had a very enjoyable evening, while the remainder rejoined the men at St. Mary's where various methods were rung, as well as rounds for the beginners, until just after 8 o'clock. The numbers then began to thin out, the ringing gradually dwindled, and at about 8.30 we dispersed into the pouring rain feeling happily conscious that the meeting had been yet another Ladies' Guild success.

W A O

NOTE.—We are always pleased to hear from lady members on subjects connected with ringing and would gladly allot a column weekly to the advancement of their views and news.—Ed.

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

At a well-attended meeting on November 23rd the following were elected officers for the next twelve months:—Master, Mr. J. G. A. Prior; secretary, Mr. A. B. Peck; treasurer, Mr. A. Hughes; senior steward, Mr. F. E. Collins; junior steward, Mr. J. E. Chilcott; trustees, Messrs. H. G. Miles and W. H. Pasmore.

A good start was made with fourteen new members.

UNORTHODOX PERFORMANCES

Dear Sir,—I am pleased that the article 'Unorthodox Performances' has aroused interest in this important subject. May I trespass on your space to make the following comments.

I gather that the second paragraph of the article has caused some doubt as to what is meant by the same coursing order throughout. It was intended to mean the same coursing order at each lead head and lead end of the plain course and not, as some construed it, the same coursing order in the interior of the lead.

The excellent letter of Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd in your issue of November 9th raises the question of whether methods with irregular lead heads are prohibited since the Decisions published in your issue of October 26th make no mention of them.

The revised Decisions published on October 26th are only a portion of the Decisions included in the booklet 'Rules and Decisions of the Council,' published in 1927 and now in the process of revision. On pages 21 and 22 is the Council's statement on the subject of Regular Methods and includes inter alia the following:—'The working bells shall be in the same coursing order at each lead head and lead end in the plain course.' This is, of course, a Decision of the Council no less than the others and should receive equal respect.

It will be remembered that it is only in the last year or two that peals with more than one cover bell and peals of Minor with a cover bell have been excluded from the peal columns of 'The Ringing World' because they do not conform to the Decisions of the Council. It follows, therefore, that any peal which fails to conform with any Decision of the Council must also be excluded.

I have no fear that irregular methods will be rung a great deal neither were peals with a multiplicity of cover bells or Minor with a cover bell frequently rung but we cannot admit the former and exclude the latter if we are to be logical and fair.

Added lengths. I feel this is in accord with the tradition of the Exercise. The length of a peal was fixed by the early ringers at that of the EXTENT on seven bells and I feel we should adhere to the principle of extents for peals on seven bells and under. I wonder whether Mr. Shepherd would agree to the addition of a B block at the end of a peal of Grandsire Triples for a special occasion? The principle seems to me to be the same as for Minor and Doubles. But this was not the reason which motivated Mr. J. Bray to propose the motion. His aim was to protect the Spliced Minor Records since by the addition of a plain course of Treble Bob Minor, four additional methods could be included for the extra 120 changes. The discerning would not be deceived but many others would. I supported the motion for the reason I have given.

Mr. Butler asks why the Methods Committee has not written about the peals in which Reverse Canterbury Pleasure appeared. This is the province of the Analysis Committee but I included the warning as I believe the Analysis Committee will exclude them. (May I make it clear at this juncture that any views I have expressed are not necessarily those of the Methods Committee, but my own.)

If Reverse Canterbury Pleasure or Woodbine is to be the seventh method in a peal I feel certain that a band could just as easily ring a regular method by using the knowledge they have of the other six and combining them as the following example will show:—After passing treble on the way up, ring Kent Treble Bob and after passing treble on the way in, ring Cambridge. The resultant method is Oswald Delight and the principle applies on all even numbers.

I cannot understand his dislike of little methods with the treble as hunt bell, for if used in conjunction with Alliance Methods they add variety to Minor ringing within the Council's Decisions. I share his abhorrence of little methods with the tenor or other bell as the hunt bell, but as the Council recommends that 'for practical purposes the parting of the leads should always be understood to be when the hunt is before' (Rules and Decisions, page 27), this would mean that rounds would be in the interior of a lead if a bell other than the treble was the hunt. In view of this, I feel we are not likely to be troubled by these monstrosities and this also applies to Very Little Court (by E. Bankes James) in which the treble makes 3rds and 4ths alternately, and which is very interesting theoretically for the multiplicity of splices which it allows. By its use, 110 methods could be spliced into seven extents but wild horses will not drag the figures out of me.

As regards the bob in Kent, I would point out that it is not part of the method and need not be made when the treble leads. ('Ringing World,' October 26th, Decisions Calls, para. 1.) The late A. G. Driver and I discussed this years ago and while we agreed that it was best as it was, we had many alternatives, notably making the bobs when the treble was lying its whole pull. Apart from Kent however, the Reverse Canterbury Pleasure bob, which Mr. Butler champions, offends in this manner, also the Grandsire Doubles single.

My sympathies are with those whose 'unorthodox performances,' whether it be a multiplicity of cover bells or irregular methods, are not published in the peal columns of 'The Ringing World,' and I would ask all members of the Council to consider whether it would not be better to publish them in the same type as the orthodox performances under a separate heading just as handbell peals are separated. The Council could instruct its Analysis Committee to exclude them from the Analysis and each Guild could decide how to record them among its performances. The matter is not insoluble with goodwill and a desire for the good of the Exercise at large, on both sides.—Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS.

MR. W. H. FUSSELL'S PEALS

WITH the completion of the series of articles by Mr. Ernest Morris culled from the diary of the late Mr. William H. Fussell's early ringing days it might be of interest to readers to publish his peal list which disappeared at the time of his death. Thanks to the perseverance of Mr. Leonard Stilwell, of Horsham, all Mr. Fussell's 1,151 peals have been traced and recorded.

Mr. Fussell's first peal was rung at Bicester, Oxfordshire, in 1882, and readers will recollect how he walked the 38 miles from Slough to Oxford one day and the other 15 miles or so to Bicester next morning for the attempt. When one remembers the enormous distances ringers travelled on foot in the 19th century for a practice or an attempt for a peal in a humble method, it amazes one to know that such a huge total could be amassed. It also should serve as an example to us to-day, who have change-ringing almost planted on our doorstep, or have no travelling problems to overcome.

It will be seen that Mr. Fussell was not an ardent conductor, even if a prolific peal ringer, as he conducted only 21 peals—one of Plain Bob Triples and 20 of Grandsire Triples. He was a first-class treble man and whatever else was happening during a peal the band could rest assured that the treble would be in its place and clearly struck. His list shows that he rang the treble to no less than 23 Surprise Major peals.

Although almost all his first 100 peals were of Grandsire Triples, ultimately his second greatest total was of Cambridge Major, 144 against Grandsire Triples 118, while Double Norwich headed the list with 152. He rang only seven handbell peals—four of Grandsire Triples and three of Plain Bob Major.

Mr. Fussell was probably the most travelled ringer of all time as his list of towers shows. He rang peals in 548 towers in all parts of the British Isles as well as in Australia and Tasmania. He was always proud to have been privileged to ring a peal on all three State rings of bells, viz., Curfew Tower, Windsor Castle; Imperial Institute, South Kensington; Devonport Dockyard Church. He participated in five 'William' peals—Grandsire Triples (St. Laurence's, Reading, 1885), Stedman Triples (Sunbury, 1913), London Surprise Major (St. Giles-in-the-Fields, London, 1924), Stedman Caters (Isleworth, 1935) and Cambridge Surprise Major (St. Mary's, Ealing, 1936). In 1936 Mr. Fussell rang a peal at Melbourne, Derbyshire, with a band all of whom rang a peal exactly two years previously at Melbourne, Australia.

Mr. Fussell's last peal in 1944 was published in the last instalment of Mr. Morris's series, but it might be of interest to single out three more of his peals for publication with his peal list—his 'First,' his 'Thousandth' and a peal he rang with a band who were all 'thousand-pealers.'

On Easter Monday, April 10th, 1882, in 3 hours and 13 minutes, a peal of Grandsire Triples (Holt's ten-part), at the Church of St. Edburg, Bicester: Job Howse 1, O. Thomas 2, W. H. Fussell 3, J. W. Washbrook 4, W. Baston 5, C. Boots 6, C. Hounslow (conductor) 7, D. Farncombe 8.

On Thursday, September 13th, 1934, on the evening before he sailed to Australia he invited seven of his dearest friends to participate in his thousandth peal in his own home tower of St. Mary's, Slough. Mr. George Martin, of Maidenhead, conducted Pitstow's peal of Superlative in 3 hours and ten minutes, the band being 1. Stilwell 1, Geo. R. Pye 2, Geo. Martin 3, W. H. Fussell 4, Frank Bennett 5, Wm. Welling 6, Harry Wingrove 7, Wm. Henley 8.

The peal in which all the band had rung 1,000 peals was rung at St. Olave's, Hart Street, in the City—Cambridge Major in 3 hours 16 minutes conducted by Geo. Williams. The band, with the number of peals they had rung to date was Jas. George (1,249) 1, Geo. R. Pye (1,708) 2, Wm. H. Fussell (1,055) 3, John H. Cheeseman (1,006) 4, Frank Bennett (1,350) 5, Jas. E. Davis (1,091) 6, Geo. Williams (1,397) 7, Alfred H. Pulling (1,122) 8.

Mr. Fussell's complete list of peals is as follows:—

Doubles.—Grandsire 1.
Minor.—Plain Bob 5, Kent Treble Bob 1, Cambridge Surprise 2, Two Methods 2, Three Methods 2, Four Methods 4, Five Methods 2, Seven Methods 3, Eight Methods 1.

Triples.—Grandsire 118 (including 4 on handbells), Stedman 134, Oxford Bob 7, Erin 1, Plain Bob 4, Darlaston 1.

Major.—Plain Bob 61 (including 3 on handbells), Oxford Bob 1, Double Norwich 152, Kent Treble Bob 79, Oxford Treble Bob 5, Cambridge Surprise 144, Superlative Surprise 124, London Surprise 48, Yorkshire Surprise 19, New Cambridge Surprise 9.

Treble to.—Ashted Surprise 2, Bristol Surprise 7, Pudsey Surprise 2, Painswick Surprise 2, Lincolnshire Surprise 2, Windsor Surprise 1, Belgrave Surprise 1, Rutland Surprise 1, Chiltern Surprise 1, Norfolk Surprise 2, Melbourne Surprise 1, Newcastle Surprise 1.

Caters.—Erin 1, Grandsire 20, Stedman 78, Royal.—Plain Bob 6, Kent Treble Bob 31, Cambridge Surprise 5.

Cinques.—Grandsire 5, Stedman 44, Maximus.—Kent Treble Bob 8.

Total 1,151 (conducted 21; on handbells 7) in 548 towers over a period of 62 years, with 161 conductors and four peals non-conducted.

360 ERIN TRIPLES

By JAMES TOPP

Dear Sir,—Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd in his letter on page 714 refers to Erin Doubles and says that a peal in this method would be a very fine feat. Perhaps Mr. Shepherd is unaware of the fact that it is possible to obtain a 5,040 in this method which has only ordinary (Stedman) Singles. On page 272 of 'The Ringing World' he will find such a composition. I am enclosing another five-part composition of Erin Doubles which he will, no doubt, find interesting.

Although I would very much like to see a peal of these Doubles rung, I should hardly think it would be classed as an unorthodox performance if one or other (or both) of the compositions produced by myself were used.

One of the Central Council's decisions at Chester this year was that a 5,040 of Doubles should contain complete 120's or multiples of the same.—Yours sincerely, JAMES TOPP.

Frome.

I'm open to correction, but the 266, although a trifle unorthodox (Whittingtons at hand) is, I believe, the shortest possible containing these qualities.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD Christchurch District

An interesting quarterly meeting was held at Sopley and Ringwood on November 17th. Sopley Church possesses five bells and the 20 odd members who turned up on a boisterous and wet afternoon enjoyed ringing them in various and unfamiliar Doubles methods. After tea in Ringwood Mr. David Reed presided at the business meeting in the belfry of Ringwood Church.

The annual meeting was fixed for Saturday, January 26th, at Christchurch, an arrangement which the Vicar of Christchurch, Canon R. P. Price, has been pleased to confirm. Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicars of Sopley and Ringwood for the use of the bells. Ringing at Ringwood continued until 8.30 p.m. in most standard methods and Surprise Major.

GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL ASSOCIATION Bristol Rural Branch

The last meeting of this year was held at the six-bell Church of St. Barnabas, Warmley, on November 24th where from 3 p.m. to 4.30 p.m. the bells were rung in various methods.

Preb. Francis, the new Vicar of Warmley, conducted the Association service and gave an interesting address.

The business meeting, which followed tea, commenced with Mr. C. R. Harding in the chair. He mentioned how impressed he was at an attendance of about 50 on such a wet, inclement day.

Details of the branch social—on January 19th, at Henbury—were announced to members, and Preb. and Mrs. Francis welcomed into the Association as honorary members. Appreciation was expressed to the Vicar, the organist Mr. Turner and the ladies for all the work put in.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING

WHAT is the condition of Sunday service ringing to-day? In some places no doubt a high standard is aimed at and sometimes achieved, but very often, one feels, we could do much better. We are certainly not without a good example in this matter. If the standard of service ringing in all places were as high as at St. Paul's Cathedral we would have little to worry about. In spite of post-war difficulties and the advance of anno domini the bells of St. Paul's ring out twice on a Sunday, not to some fantastic Maximus method, but to a carefully timed touch of Stedman Cinques. The ringing starts on time and finishes on time; the middle six are lowered in a dignified manner, not hurried or scrambled, and there is sufficient time left for the mighty tenor to be tolled in. The public and the congregation know what to expect and they are not disappointed.

In contrast to this one finds, too often, that Sunday ringing is regarded as just another practice. No thought is given to the possibility of a touch breaking down because the method is too ambitious for the band. Such touches must indeed be attempted—progress lies that way—but not on Sunday morning. Far better is it to ring a touch in a simple method, better still call changes if the ringers are not sufficiently advanced, than to run the risk of bad striking.

What practical suggestions can be made to improve Sunday service ringing? The first need, of course, is an awareness on the part of all ringers that by and large a deplorable situation exists and to inculcate a general desire to bring about an improvement. It would appear that most ringers are satisfied with the present state of affairs or improvement would be spontaneous.

Given the desire to improve, the next essential is better time-keeping. A definite time, preferably at least three-quarters of an hour before the service, should be arranged and known to all. When two services are held on Sunday morning with only a short interval between it is far better to ring for the first one than to scramble the bells up at the end of the first service and restrict the ringing for the second service. This may mean breaking a long-standing custom of the ringers, but the church also probably broke a long-standing custom when the earlier service was instituted, and in matters of service ringing it is for the ringers to consider the church and not vice versa.

Then comes the question of raising the bells. Skill in raising in peal varies in different parts of the country. This should only be attempted on Sundays when the band is fully capable of doing it properly, and in many instances it is better not attempted. If the bells are to be raised singly they should be raised in the right order—treble to tenor or tenor to treble. Given better time-keeping all the ringers would be present at the start and it would be known how many bells to raise—there is no need to raise eight bells for only six ringers.

The first touch should be something of which the less expert members of the band are capable—call changes if they cannot manage a method. If they cannot handle a bell properly they should not take part in the Sunday ringing at all except in the direst cases of lack of manpower. The first touch should always finish at exactly the same time so that local people learn to set their watches by it. The following interval also should be strictly timed and not a period varied to suit the length of the captain's reminiscences. The last touch should be the best that the band can possibly muster in a method well within the capabilities of the weakest ringer and again should finish strictly to time. The bells should be lowered in time for a proper toll-in—on the tenor for preference unless local custom decrees otherwise.

In a forty-five minute period in which the bells are to be raised and lowered and the tolling-in fittingly done there is only time for two decent touches, and it is a bad custom to fit in more touches for the benefit of latecomers who should not be considered anyway. Quarter peals on Sundays should only be rung at definite intervals or on special occasions, just as the choir would ring an anthem. A quarter peal on Sunday for anything not connected with the church is indefensible, and nothing could be more incongruous than 'Rung for Confirmation service and the tenor ringer's birthday.'

Many readers may regard this article as a trip to Utopia, but the writer owes much to a 'stoney' tower where, in its heyday, change ringers could have learned a great deal about the dignity of Sunday service ringing. P. A. C.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

A CHRISTMAS SUGGESTION

A year's subscription to 'The Ringing World'
($1 2s. 6d.) is an ideal present to your ringing friend. Send remittance to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Memories of the Australian tour of 1934 are still fresh. Mr. and Mrs. A.
Pedder, of New Town, Hobart, write enquiring the address of Mr. G. Martin, who was one of the tourists.

An extended appreciation of Mr. C. F. Bailey's services to ringing will appear in our next issue.

Our next issue will contain a Christmas message by the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, Vicar of St. Michael's, Southampton, and Kewsett's
Christmas Quiz.

Those interested in spliced ringing will be pleased to hear that Mr. J. P. Fidler, who took a prominent part in the development of this absorbing section of ringing, has written a special article on the history of spliced ringing.
This we hope to publish at an early date.

In reply to the comment on his front page article, 'Rebellion,' P. A. C. writes: 'It's a good job the Lord Protector is not on the Central Council. It would be very depressing to have to sit round in silence all day on Whit Tuesday looking at that awful wart on his nose!'

Mr. Peter G. Parrott, whose home tower is St. John's, Deptford, but who also spent two years at St. Helens and a year at Ipswich, is studying American Production technique at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, California. He is anxious to get hold of two gramophone records which do justice to English ringing. His address is 1571, Oakdale Street, Pasadena 4, California, U.S.A.

Liverpool is to have another ring of twelve.
A faculty has been granted for the recasting and re-hanging of the bells of Liverpool Parish Church, which was destroyed by enemy action in 1941. The new church is rapidly approaching completion and it is hoped the bells will be hung in time to be consecrated at the same time as the church.

BELFRY GOSSIP

All postal subscribers will this week receive a subscription reminder for 1952. Mr. Jeater has already received 300 renewals. We trust that those subscribers who have paid will accept our apology for receiving a reminder slip. To separate would entail much work.

Christmas Greetings will be featured in our next issue. The charge is 3s. for 30 words.

Farnham District of the Guildford Guild propose to start a class for training ringing masters.

The peal recorded in our last issue at Long Buckby was 5,040 Doubles and not 5,040 Grand-sire Doubles as printed.

The ringer of the sixth in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at St. Mary-within-the-Walls, Chester, on November 16th, was Mr.
Harry W. Howard.

The Oddfellows' peal at Bergh Apton, Norfolk, on November 18th, was arranged by Mr.
Lionel A. Lester. The band wish to thank him and Mrs. Lester for kindly entertaining them to tea.

Peals are rare at Denford, Northants, the last previous to the peal on November 15th being 24 years ago. Ringing the 2 cwt. treble, a very difficult bell, was Mr. Leslie Groom, whose last peal was one of Keht Treble Bob Major which he conducted from the 25½ cwt. Oundle tenor on April 7th, 1934.

Mr. W. B. Kynaston and other correspondents write that 'A Ringer's Prayer' that Mr.
Stuart Worth submitted to us was the hymn.
'Go, when the morning shineth,' that appears in 'The Church Hymnal for the Christian Year.' and according to the footnote, was written by Mrs. Jane C. Simpson and appeared in the 'Edinburgh Literary Journal,' 1831, and in
'Lyra Britannica' 1867.

WORCESTERSHIRE & DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION'S DINNER

Memories of Early Stalwarts

EACH year the annual dinner of the Worcestershire Association shows a steady increase in the numbers attending and on Saturday, October 27th, a company of 140 assembled at the Guildhall, Worcester, under the genial chairmanship of the president, the Very Rev. W. E. Beck, Dean of Worcester. Supporting him were the Right Rev. Bishop B. Lasbrey, Rector of All Saints', the Rev. H. Hartley (chaplain), the Rev. L. J. and Mrs. Birch, Mr. C. Skidmore (Master) and Mrs. Skidmore, Mr. J. D. Johnson (general secretary) and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Holt.

Among the visitors present were:—Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dowding (Birmingham), Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Tyler (Bristol), Mr. S. Jones (Newport), Messrs. F. C. Lyne and R. C. Chapman (Stratford-on-Avon). Apologies were received from The Mayor of Worcester, the Rev. J. M. Wayle, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newman, Mr. J. P. Fidler (Loughborough), Mr. L. Evans (Eardisland), Miss F. Raybould (Cradley), Mr. F. Greenhall and the Halesowen band, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wilson (Beoley), Mr. B. C. Ashford (Clent), Mr. R. Savory (Badsey) and Mr. G. J. Lewis (Powick).

Following an excellent dinner, the 'Loyal Toast' was honoured on the call of the chairman and Mr. J. D. Johnson proposed the toast of 'Church and State.' 'So many speakers,' he said, 'looked upon this toast as an opportunity to criticise the clergy, erroneously considering them as the Church, quite forgetting they were all part of that Church. He suggested that for a change they might look at themselves and consider how much more they could do towards solving the present problems of the Church. They, as ringers, had obligations which they did do their best to honour, but they also had tremendous privileges the like of which were not granted to any other body of Church workers, and he reminded them that these privileges were granted entirely by the goodwill of the clergy. He referred to a recent statement in 'The Ringing World' where a clergyman from abroad was reported as expressing the opinion that in this country either the clergy were afraid of the laity, or the laity of the clergy. He would have liked to invite that gentleman to Worcestershire where relations between the two were invariably of the happiest.

The Right Rev. Bishop B. Lasbrey, who for several years has so cordially welcomed the Association for its annual meeting service at All Saints', replied. Calling on his wide experience of life in Nigeria, he gave instances of the uses to which bells are put in Africa; their use as clocks, and, among the natives, as a summons to family prayer. The natives would save for years in order to buy a single bell for their church, and in the meantime various instruments such as drums and tom-toms were used as substitutes. But there was no country in the world to emulate the skill of British ringers. The ringers were the partners of the priest, and the Church owed a debt of gratitude to generations of ringers. He himself felt especially thankful that they had recently been able to rehang the bells at All Saints', and he was grateful to Mr. T. W. Lewis for his work in teaching a new band.

THE MISSION: CHURCH'S GRATITUDE

At this point the chaplain, the Rev. H. Hartley, who was also organising secretary of the recent Diocesan Mission, said he wished to say a word of real gratitude to the Association for the close co-operation with the Mission which resulted, among other ringing, in six peals and ten quarter peals being rung. It was a grand example of the co-operation of clergy and laity—the Church—a co-operation which would result in the extension of the Gospel outside.

Introducing Mr. A. Walker (Master of St. Martin's Guild), the chairman said it gave him particular pleasure and was very appropriate since the Rector of St. Martin's had been preaching at the Cathedral in connection with the Mission. In proposing the toast 'The Worcestershire Association,' Mr. Walker thanked the Dean for his kind remarks and said he also brought with him a message of kind regards and greetings from the Rector of St. Martin's. He had very happy memories of the early stalwarts of the Association—J. Barber, W. Barber, who had called his (the speaker's) first peal of Stedman Caters 53 years ago, W. Short, who had called the then record 11,111 Stedman Cinques. All these came from Clent and Worcester's loss had been Birmingham's gain. Then there were T. Salter, R. Matthews, A. E. Parsons, at whose home the first handbell peals of Stedman Caters and Cinques for the Association were rung. J. Hemming—how proud he would have been of the new ring of twelve at Evesham, which should be such a useful addition to the Association. All these had passed on but they still had with them J. R. Newman (a former general secretary) and W. Ranford (82 years young and still going strong); and coming to the present generation, the Master (C. Skidmore), whom he wished a successful term of office, their present secretary and Mr. S. T. Holt. It was to men of such calibre that the Association owed its prosperity.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD'S FRIENDSHIP

Mr. S. T. Holt, replying, said they must feel honoured by the glowing account of past and present members and the high esteem in which the Association was held. They were fortunate in having as near neighbours the St. Martin's Guild for there was one occasion in his own early ringing career which stood out in his memory above all others—that when he heard twelve bells rung for the first time and the bells were manned by the St. Martin's band. They were grateful too for the help of St. Martin's on their periodical Sunday evening visits to Worcester Cathedral. The Association was doing its best to keep the towers fully manned but more recruits for the belfries were always needed. He concluded by wishing success to the Bishop's Mission.

Proposing 'Kindred Associations,' Mr. C. Skidmore said it was both a privilege and pleasure to extend a welcome to their visitors that night. He trusted they would spend a happy evening and would come to look on the Worcestershire dinner as an annual event—and bring with them even more friends. It was part of their British heritage to make friends. Mr. Skidmore went on to give examples of the welcome he, personally, had received on his visits to Manchester and London to Police Guild meetings and wished to assure them that the Worcestershire welcome was equally cordial and sincere.

Replying for the visitors, Mr. A. M. Tyler thanked the Association and said he could perhaps claim some minor distinction in common with Mr. Walker. He recalled with pride that his own first peal—Stedman Cinques—had been rung with a Worcestershire band and conducted by their secretary and he believed eight of the band were in the room that evening. He was glad to be able to renew friendship with them after a lapse of some 15 years. He was always impressed by the welcome extended in every tower to visiting ringers and stressed that happy relations between Associations were essential to the art.

The toast list concluded with 'The Chairman' accompanied by musical honours rendered in no uncertain manner, and the singing of 'Auld Lang Syne.'

Following the innovation of recent years, the entertainment was kept as a separate programme with Messrs. D. H. Watson and T. W. Lewis as M.C.'s and Mr. L. Bedenham as accompanist. Selections of popular airs and their spectacular 'rise and fall' were provided by the Brierley Hill handbell band; songs, all well received, were given by Messrs. G. J. Hemming, W. C. Dowding and H. Homans; and a course of Stedman Caters 'in hand' by Mrs. J. Thomas 1-2, J. D. Johnson 3-4, A. Walker 5-6, A. M. Tyler 7-8 and J. Thomas 9-10.

It may be of interest to members and friends to know that, before leaving, the secretary booked the Guildhall for the next dinner for Saturday, October 25th, 1952!

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of December 15th, 1911

ODD CHANGES

The Middlesex Association have been in luck's way, so to speak. They had the use of a 12-bell tower in London on each of the last three successive Saturdays—and scored a peal of Stedman Cinques each time, at Southwark, Cripplegate and Cornhill.

The Ancient Society of College Youths made a good attempt for Cambridge Maximus last Saturday at St. Saviour's, Southwark, but the peal came to grief just after two hours' good ringing.

[This would have been the first peal of Cambridge 12 in London. It was successfully accomplished in Southwark in March 1912, conducted by the present secretary of the College Youths, Mr. Alfred B. Peck. Peals of Cambridge Maximus were few and far between in those days—and still are, so far as the London area is concerned.]

The first quarter peal on the Cathedral bells by the Truro Diocesan Guild was rung on Tuesday week. It was 1,260 of Grandsire Triples on the back eight and occupied 50 minutes. The tenor is 33½ cwt. E. Ham 1, F. Michell 2, H. C. Harris 3, W. P. Trestrain 4, J. Thomas 5, Dr. J. Symons (conductor) 6, W. H. Sheehan 7, E. Lindesay tenor.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Midland District

Despite unfavourable weather, a successful meeting of the Midland District was held at Burton-on-Trent on November 24th.

After attending a short service conducted by the Vicar, about 55 ringers and friends enjoyed a delightful tea.

Thanks were expressed by Miss Thompson, the vice-president, to the Vicar, for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, and in particular to Mr. B. G. Key, for making all the local arrangements to ensure a good meeting. Mr. Key suitably replied.

At the business meeting which followed, members were present from Anstey, Aylestone, Burton-on-Trent (St. Paul's), Castle Bromwich, Claverley, Cossington, Duffield, Ibstock, Leicester, Nottingham, Syston and Thurstaston.

It was proposed and seconded to hold the next meeting at St. Mary-de-Castro, Leicester, on February 23rd. One new member was elected.

It was unanimously agreed to accept an invitation extended by Mr. F. Bennett, of Wombourne, to visit Kingswinford early next year. A meeting will be held there on April 26th.

During the evening a plain course of Stedman Caters was brought round by a band of ladies.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IRREGULAR METHODS

Methods Committee's Views

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the Methods Committee, may I be allowed to answer one or two points which have been raised during the past few months?

Firstly, we are very grateful to those who answered our appeal for their views on our Extension of Methods Report. These are receiving full consideration.

Secondly, comments on other parts of our Central Council Report which have appeared in your columns (e.g., on Doubles Methods), have also been noted.

Thirdly, and in answer to those who have asked about Union Triples and Canterbury Pleasure Major, we feel we should state that this committee has no mandate to say what should or should not be rung, although we are always pleased to offer advice and give our opinion. The Rules and Decisions of the full Council are the ultimate authority and, according to these, both the above methods are irregular and if these rules are strictly adhered to, peals in these methods could not be recognised.—Yours sincerely, K. W. H. FELSTEAD.

St. Michael's Vicarage,
Southampton.

WELLS TENOR

Dear Sir,—May I send my hearty congratulations to Mr. A. P. Cannon on ringing Wells tenor for three and a half hours. I rang her in October, behind, and she sure is a lump, but a beautiful bell.

Better luck next time, Pat.—Yours sincerely,
FRANK HOPGOOD.

RAILWAYMEN'S GUILD SUGGESTED

Dear Sir,—I heartily endorse Mr. Bassett's letter re 'Railwaymen's Peal.' As a matter of fact a peal was rung at Exeter (St. Thomas's) on Saturday, December 22nd, 1928, comprising seven railwaymen—five from the Southern Railway and two from the Great Western Railway. It was to have been an 'all railwaymen's peal' but owing to one of the band having his duty altered practically at the last minute a substitute filled the vacancy. No doubt there has been a railwaymen's peal rung but I cannot remember seeing any account recorded in 'The Ringing World.' It would be very interesting to know how many railway ringers there are. In and around Exeter there are ten.

I would like to suggest a step further than a peal attempt. What about forming a British Railways Ringers' Guild?—Yours faithfully,

E. W. BIFFIN.

AUSTRALIAN VETERAN'S DEATH

Dear Sir,—In your issue of December 14th there is a letter from Arthur Barnes under the heading 'Forty Years Ago.' Mention is made of a peal attempt of Grandsire Triples calling Holt's Original which failed owing to the tenor man falling from his box. Recently Mr. R. H. McDonald, the only surviving member of the band, passed away, aged 95. He rang his only peal—Grandsire Triples—at St. Chad's, Birmingham, around 1880. With him goes the last link of the early part of the century.

Mr. Albert Lancefield has just arrived in Sydney and took part in the first course of Cambridge Minor rung by a local band for well over 40 years; he will be a member of the band who are attempting a peal of Bob Major at St. Jude's, Randwick, in memoriam to the late Mr. R. H. McDonald.—Yours faithfully,
W. M. ROWE.

MUSIC OF THE BELLS

Dear Sir,—May I, as an outsider, and an objective reader of 'The Ringing World,' solely through the courtesy of one who passes it on, express appreciation of the contribution by F. E. H. on page 673, and the letter by S. H. G. on page 683? It seems difficult to imagine the possibility of producing any finer music from bells than a touch of Cinques.

We are all liable to suffer from frayed nerves at times, but if only those who find themselves getting 'hot up' every time they hear bells 'going up' could for a few minutes in imagination shut themselves in the stone vault of Beethoven's deafness, with music that could never gratify hammering in the brain; or in the iron blackness of Helen Keller's prison of blindness, deafness and dumbness, yet with an intelligence that could pierce such barriers and communicate with fellow creatures, they might then be glad to drink in a good dose of a vigorous noise as a—shall I say it?—sort of drastic antidote to some of the infernal rows that accompany the increase of knowledge foretold by Daniel (ch. 12).

To my thinking, to hate all bells because one lives close to a ring is as unprofitable as it is dangerous for a herdsman to hate all bulls because through no fault of his own he was once savaged by one.—Yours faithfully,

'C'

PEALS OF MAJOR AT SYSTON

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' dated November 23rd there is a report that the peal of Braunstone Surprise was the first peal of Major at Syston, Leicestershire, since 1933. This is not correct. A peal of London Surprise Major, conducted by F. H. Dexter, was rung in June, 1935, and in November, 1949, there was a peal of Bristol Surprise Major, conducted by W. P. Whitehead. The peal of Braunstone is, however, the first peal of Major to be rung on these bells for the Leicester Diocesan Guild.—Yours faithfully,

B. STEDMAN PAYNE.

Syston.

'VILLAGE BELLS'

Dear Sir,—Members of the Exercise are asked to note that the excellent little book of instruction, 'Village Bells,' is now distributed by me on behalf of the Council. Orders should not be sent to Miss Howes.—Yours faithfully,

W. H. J. HOOTON,

Hon. Librarian.

RAISING THE TENOR

Dear Sir,—Having recently read Mr. R. Alsop's letter in 'The Ringing World' of November 30th re 'Pulling up the Tenor,' I feel it my duty to add a few remarks.

Most ringers are aware of the shortage of paper for printing purposes and we realise that the little space we have the pleasure of filling in 'The Ringing World' should be of useful and interesting correspondence. Who on earth is interested in how many pulls a tenor of 25 cwt. is raised in, in an attempt to create a record or surpass another individual? What satisfaction is gained?

No, my friend, it is not the aim of our art to test one's strength against someone else and such ideas should not be encouraged in ringing. Your time would be better spent in seeing how quickly you could get a learner through his first Plain Course and I, for one, should admire such a person.

A. A. R.

Crediton, Devon.

'SILENT PEALS'

Dear Sir,—We have had three references during the last few weeks to peals rung by the Midland Counties Guild in a peal-ringing tour which took place in the summer of 1950.

I am in no way connected with these peals but because of the distortion of facts in the references, and because I am a friend of all the ringers involved, I am moved to reply.

I quote from 'The Ringing World' report on the 1951 annual dinner of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths—'especially those rung in Leicestershire. He had always understood that a non-conducted peal was a silent peal. In these Leicestershire peals, everybody was allowed to say something except "Bob." In his opinion a non-conducted peal should be a silent peal.' This was from the speech of the Master, Mr. G. H. Cross, replying to the toast of 'The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.'

Mr. A. H. Pulling, in his letter commenting on the above speech, expected a reply of denial or explanation and appeared to understand from the speech that 'everyone was allowed to talk in their so-called silent peals' and he hoped the ringers involved would withdraw their claim of 'those four Silent Surprise Peals ...'

Mr. F. H. Dexter referred to the above comments and after stating that no Leicester Cathedral Society ringers took part in the ringing, wrote 'If any other Leicester ringers did take part, I do not remember.'

The reader who was not aware of the facts, or with a short memory like that of Mr. F. H. Dexter, would assume from the above that a band of ringers of doubtful integrity, but not of the Leicester Cathedral Society, had rung four Surprise peals in Leicestershire during which anything had been called except 'Bob' and these peals had been claimed as silent.

The facts were that three peals were rung non-conducted and an additional one was claimed to be 'silent.'

I will assist Mr. F. H. Dexter's memory by saying that at least one of the bands comprised four Leicestershire ringers, two Stoke ringers, one Repton ringer and one Nuneaton ringer, and also that one of the Leicestershire ringers must have been a great friend of Mr. Dexter as well as a friend of a large number of ringers all over the country.

No one would wish to deny Mr. Cross his opinion, but it is my contention that most ringers believe a non-conducted peal to be one in which no calls are made, but that the ringers may assist one another over mistakes in striking and method as in other ordinary peals. In a silent peal it is generally understood that no word is spoken, no sign made to assist any ringer and that an umpire is required if the claim of 'silent peal' is to be made. We have had several examples of the former in recent years and a very few examples of the latter.

Then, if my contention is true, the ringers involved made one mistake in ringing etiquette; they claimed one peal as silent without having an umpire. The peal may very well have been a near perfect example of a silent peal, and knowing the standard of the ringers in question, I am quite prepared to believe that was the case, because the other three peals were not claimed as 'silent.'

Is it fitting, then, that the respected Master of the Society of the Royal Cumberland Youths should, perhaps inadvertently, cast doubts on the integrity of these ringers? I know he has caused a great deal of distress to one of the kindest-hearted and best-respected men in the Exercise and it is for that reason I have written this letter.

I think the ringers showed restraint in keeping silent after Mr. Cross's allegations, but the two subsequent letters on the subject have made a reply necessary. It would have been better to have forgotten the matter as we have enough bitterness amongst ringers without deliberately trying to add to it.

DENIS R. CARLISLE.

Risley, Derbyshire.

DUFFIELD ROYAL

Dear Sir,—In reply to the query when the last peal of Duffield Royal was rung, an answer may be found in the old report of the then Midland Counties Association of 1888 edition. A peal in this method was rung at All Saints', Duffield, on Monday, March 19th, 1888, in 3 hours and 23 minutes, composed and conducted by (as then) A. Percival Heywood.

Also in the same report another peal was rung on Tuesday, April 3rd, 1888. The composition is by the same composer; both peal compositions are given in full.

Footnote under the first account says:—This peal, which has the sixth at home throughout, is the first ever rung in the method on ten bells.

It would be of interest to many ringers to see some of these forgotten methods printed in full in 'The Ringing World' once again with instructions to conducting and compositions. Then perhaps opinions would follow as to the quality of music obtained from those forgotten methods and the many new methods receiving new names of to-day.—Yours faithfully,

LESLIE W. STEVENS.

Loughborough.

P.S.—The old methods I refer to are Double Norwich Court Bob Caters and Royal, Canterbury Pleasure Caters, Darlaston Bob Caters and Forward Royal.—L. W. S.

SERVICE RINGING

Dear Sir,—Referring to reprint 'Forty Years Ago' in issue of 'The Ringing World' dated December 7th, 1951, re eleven 720's rung for Sunday service at Bourne in 1908, it may be interesting to know that on Easter Day, 1912, I myself assisted in ringing no less than 14 720's at Tunstall, Kent, as follows:—For 8 a.m. service, a peal of Minor, being 720 each of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Oxford, Oxford Single Bob, College Single, Canterbury Pleasure and Plain Bob. For 6.30 p.m. evensong the performance was repeated. There was also ringing for 11 a.m. service, but whether any 720's were rung I cannot now remember, as for that service I was ringing at my own neighbouring tower of Sittingbourne.

Perhaps our old friend, Mr. W. H. B. Wilkins, now of Oxford and formerly of Tunstall, who took part in the two peals, would remember if any 720's were rung for the 11 a.m. service.

Incidentally, before the following Sunday, we had the sadness to follow to his last resting place one of the ringers taking part in the above, Albert John Day, who passed away suddenly on the Tuesday following Easter Day.—Yours sincerely,

F. S. MACEY.

Sutton Valence, Kent.

BELLS IN CHURCHES

Dear Sir,—Which church has the largest number of bells? At Boston Stump eleven more bells have been added to the four quarter bells. On these, 15 bell tunes are played daily at every third hour from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.. These bells are in addition to the ring of ten. Has any other church tower 25 bells?—Yours faithfully,

W. E. CLARKE.

A Silent Peal at Leicester

Mr. W. T. Tucker, of Eastleigh, Hants, has been prompted by Mr. F. H. Dexter's letter re silent peals to forward us a copy of a handbell peal rung at the King and Crown Townhall, Leicester, for the Midland Counties Association, on Monday, October 8th, 1900. The peal was 5,010 Stedman Caters, rung in 2 hours and 49 minutes, the band consisting of John O. Lancashire 1-2, George Cleal 3-4, Samuel Cotton 5-6, William Willson 7-8, John Buttery 9-10; composed by Sir A. P. Heywood, Bart. A silent peal.

A footnote reads; This is the first non-conducted peal on ten bells ever rung either on handbells or tower bells. Umpires: C. H. Fowler—who called 'go'—J. W. Moorhouse and J. Morris, all of whom checked the figures throughout.

SUPERLATIVE SURPRISE MAJOR

An Attempt at 11,360 Changes

Mr. Frederick William Grocott, of Bucknall, Stoke-on-Trent, gives us notice that on Saturday, December 15th, at the Loughborough Foundry Campanile, a peal of 11,360 Superlative Surprise Major will be attempted.

Mr. A. J. Pitman's composition, which is given below, will be used.

The existing longest length is 11,232 changes rung at Bolton on January 29th, 1927.

THE SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD AT BRIDPORT

West Dorset Branch.

The West Dorset Branch held its annual meeting on December 1st at Bridport attended by nearly 40 members.

Canon G. C. Clare, the Rector, conducted the service and had to express his disappointment that the preacher who had promised to come had not arrived! However, he ably filled the gap himself, speaking of the ringers' relation to the Church of the Living God.

At the business meeting after tea, presided over by the chairman (Canon C. Carew Cox) all the officers were re-elected and the following new members were elected:—Messrs. W. Darby, A. Loving and W. Hill (Burton Bradstock), M. Bishop (Evershot) and Ian Godfrey (Powerstock).

The hon. secretary was requested to write a letter of sympathy from the Branch to Roger Keeley who was in hospital as the result of a bicycle accident and Mr. J. H. Hayne asked that the Dorchester Branch might be associated with this.

Quarterly meetings were arranged for Brad-pole in February, Chardstock in April, Broadwindsor in July and Whitchurch in September.

The suggestion was approved that one or two bye-meetings should be held to include South Perrott.

In the absence of complete returns from the affiliated towers the full statement of accounts was held over until the next quarterly meeting.

The chairman appealed for wider support for 'The Ringing World' emphasising the untold loss which would be felt by all ringers if they had no such publication and expressing the hope that the response would enable the Editorial Committee to avoid raising the price of the paper. The Rev. O. Willmott, vice-chairman, spoke of the appeal and suggested that all towers which had a Belfry Fund should provide one copy from it for the use of their members.

Thanks were accorded the Rector of Bridport for his kindly welcome and address; also to Mr. B. Elsworth, the Branch organist, and to Mr. C. H. Lathey (hon. secretary) for his admirable arrangements.

The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening in call changes and many methods up to Surprise Major.

THE GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

South-West Branch

The annual meeting of the South-West Branch was held at Emmanuel, Plymouth, on December 1st, members and friends being present from Bude, North Tamerton, Kelly, Plympton St. Maurice, Totnes, Buckfastleigh, Kenn, Broadclyst, 'a ringer in exile' from Beaworthy, Okehampton and Plymouth (St. Andrew's and Emmanuel).

The Guild form of service at 4.30 p.m. was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. N. B. Chapman). The lesson was read by Preb. E. V. Cox (president of the Guild), and the organist (Mr. F. W. Gilbert) accompanied the singing.

The Vicar gave a short address and based it on the inscriptions on Emmanuel Church bells. This was both interesting and informative to most of the ringers present.

Fifty enjoyed a splendid tea served in the Church Hall, provided by Mrs. Chapman and her band of lady helpers. The business meeting which followed was presided over by Mr. H. H. Thomas (Branch chairman), and supported by Preb. E. V. Cox (president of the Guild), the Rev. E. N. B. Chapman (Vicar of Emmanuel), Mr. G. H. Myers (vice-president), Mr. F. C. Smale (vice-president) and Mr. A. L. Bennett (general treasurer).

The chairman commenced the business by extending a warm welcome to all the visitors.

The president, in reply, said he always looked forward to the meetings of the South-West Branch where he had so many friends, and where good ringing was one of the chief attractions. He felt sure he was speaking on behalf of all the visitors present.

The secretary had received apologies for absence from the Rev. H. E. Bennett (Rector of Plympton St. Maurice), Messrs. W. G. Lavers, P. S., Worth J. Rich and E. J. Taylor (general secretary of the Guild). These were accepted with regret and the secretary was instructed to reply on behalf of the Branch to Messrs. F. S. Worth and W. G. Lavers.

The secretary, in his report on the year's work, stated that it had been a most difficult one. The outstanding event was the recent peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Plympton St. Maurice in celebration of the 500th anniversary of the present church. The regular service and practice ringing was again recorded for the two Plymouth towers. It was regretted the country members had been unable to support the meetings arranged during the year and the hope was expressed that this would be rectified in 1952.

The treasurer's financial statement, showing a balance of £11 4s. 10d. in the general fund and £3 6s. in the instruction account, was considered satisfactory.

The chairman called on the president (Preb. E. V. Cox) to present four Guild proficiency certificates to the following members of Emmanuel band: Mrs. W. J. Godard, Miss M. Stoneman, Mr. P. A. Oram and Mr. F. R. Hocking.

The election of officers resulted in the unanimous re-election of all the retiring officers, with thanks for past services.

The secretary's suggested programme for 1952—March 1st, Meavy; Easter Monday (annual meeting of the Guild) Combe Martin; June 28th (joint meeting with Mid-Devon Branch at Berry Pomeroy and Totnes; September 27th, Kelly; December 6th (branch annual meeting at Plymouth (St. Andrew's), all subject to necessary permission being obtained—was unanimously adopted.

Three new members were elected as associates, viz., Miss Pettit, of Bickleigh, and Messrs. R. G. Perkin and D. A. Baldry, Emmanuel.

The chairman proposed a sincere vote of thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. E. N. B. Chapman, Mr. F. W. Gilbert and Mr. J. P. Sims, the respected leader of the local band. This was carried with the usual round of applause.

Under the heading of unannounced business, the hon. secretary made a plea for more support for 'The Ringing World,' and went on to explain what all readers of our journal know only too well, the serious financial position the paper is in.

Two items of interest were on show at the meeting. One was a copy of the brochure issued in connection with the new bells of Liverpool Cathedral (a gift to the secretary by the Lord Bishop of Liverpool); the other was a very fine photograph of the assembled company of members of the Ancient Society of College Youths on the occasion of their 314th anniversary celebration dinner.

Methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Kent. As one of the visitors was heard to remark, 'Some of it was fit to broadcast.' T. G. M.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Chew Deanery Branch

The annual meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at All Saints', Wroxall, on December 1st. Ringing on the fine octave there (tenor 22 cwt. 3 qr. 1 lb.) preceded the Association form of service which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. H. S. Briggs, who gave a few words of welcome, and the choral parts were conducted by Mr. C. Kortright. A collection towards repairs to the north aisle realised the sum of 23s.

Tea was served at the Jubilee Inn, Flax Bourton, and was followed by the business meeting at which the Rector took the chair. All the existing officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, and two new members from Portishead, one from Winford, three from Kingston Seymour and one probationary member from Wroxall were elected.

It was decided that, subject to permission being given, the next quarterly meeting would be held at Barrow Gurney in April, with monthly practices at Tickenham, Chew Stoke and Clapton-in-Gordano for January, February and March respectively. The bi-annual Corporate Communion will be held at Easton-in-Gordano on April 27th. The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to all who had helped to make it a success.

There were 35 ringers at tea from Barrow Gurney, Brimington, Chew Magna, Clapton-in-Gordano, Keynsham, Kingston Seymour, Locking, Long Ashton, Melksham, Nailsea, Portishead, Publow, Winford, Wroxall, Wrington and Yatton, and about 20 more joined in ringing during the evening. M. J. H.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

President's 80th Birthday Honoured

On Saturday, November 24th, the Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association held a meeting at St. Mary's, Gateshead. This meeting for the most part followed the same lines as other District meetings. There was ringing to cater for all, a service conducted by the Rector and an excellent tea provided by the local ladies.

But this was not 'just another meeting,' for the Rector, Canon H. S. Stephenson, M.A., is president of the Association and has recently celebrated his 80th birthday. When the ringers adjourned for tea the table was found to bear a large cake. It was beautifully iced and the design incorporated a bell and expressed the Association's best wishes.

Before tea commenced the general secretary of the Association (Mr. Denis A. Bayles), in the absence of the District vice-president, made a short speech. He said that it was usual for the clergy to introduce their remarks to the laity with a suitable text. He retaliated on this occasion with Psalm 132, v. 16: 'Her priests also will I clothe with salvation; and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.' This text put in a nutshell the reason for and nature of the function. The only difficulty was that, so far as he knew, the Bible did not mention ringing and 'saints' had to be considered synonymous with 'ringers' on this occasion. This might well lead the Rector to reply with Psalm 19, v. 13: 'He hath put my brethren far from me; and mine acquaintance are wholly estranged from me.' He recalled how Canon Stephenson's membership dated back to 1907 and his long and active interest in bells and ringers and concluded by asking him to cut the cake.

While the cake was being cut, four members rang the appropriate number of changes (a bobbed course of Bob Major) on handbells.

The Rector replied thanking the donors for the cake and the members for their good wishes. He said that the ceremony had come as a complete surprise to him as no one had breathed a word. He went on to recall his long association with bells and ringers but added that his doctor had warned him in his early days against doing any ringing as it was likely to strain his heart. Looking back he thought he could have managed it.

Votes of thanks were passed for the use of the bells, to the donors of the cake and the ladies who had provided the tea.

Canon Stephenson was born on November 4th, 1871, in Bombay. He was educated at Sherborne School and did not come north until his ordination in 1895 but he has never desired to move away since. His first parish was Willington, Co. Durham, where there are five steel bells. In 1900 he moved to Allendale and remained there until 1909. While he was there the original six bells were installed in a frame that would hold eight. The 'folly' of providing two extra pits caused much shaking of heads but it proved to be foresight as the pits have been filled for many years now.

His first five years at Gateshead were spent at Christ Church, where he was without bells but since 1914 he has been Rector of Gateshead, with his eight bells at St. Mary's. During his incumbency these bells have twice been rehung, the last occasion being in 1939 when Messrs. Mears and Stainbank transferred them to a steel frame.

Canon Stephenson was made an honorary Canon of Durham Cathedral in 1922 and is now the senior by many years. He became a King's Chaplain in 1938 and a Freeman of Gateshead in 1946. His membership of the Durham and Newcastle Association dates back to 1907 and his election as president in 1950 was an expression of the high esteem in which the Association holds its staunchest supporter among the clergy.

Well-known North Staffs Ringer

The esteem in which Mr. John E. Wheeldon, of Norton, Staffs, was held was marked by the large congregation which assembled at the Cartmoundside Crematorium on Thursday, November 22nd, and which included representatives from a number of churches in the surrounding district as well as the officials of the North Staffordshire Association of which Mr. Wheeldon was one of the oldest members.

The Rector of Norton, the Rev. R. B. McKenzie, officiated at the service and members of the Norton helfry acted as bearers. In addition to the family mourners the following were present:—Mr. R. Anderson (chairman, North Staffordshire Association, of which Mr. Wheeldon (secretary of the Association), Messrs. R. Preston and W. Fradley (Bucknall), F. Wilshaw (St. Peter's, Stoke), A. Hall (Cheddle R.C.), J. Cottrell, W. Hazeldine and J. Stanway (Biddulph), H. Sutton and J. Martin (Cheddleton).

During the evening members of the Norton tower rang touches of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major and on Saturday, November 24th, met to ring a quarter peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major with the bells half-muffled. The ringers were H. Wolley, W. Corfield, F. Triner, J. W. Walker, O. Williams, C. S. Ryles (conductor), J. A. Jack and J. Walley.

Mr. Wheeldon's death occurred suddenly, although he had been in failing health for the past 12 months. He was 83 years of age. His active interest in ringing terminated some four years ago when, after serving for 46 years as leader of the St. Bartholomew's, Norton, band, he resigned. Although his active ringing had ceased, he continued to interest himself in the theory and also continued with one of his hobbies, the writing of method books, a work in which he took much pride. He was a beautiful calligrapher.

Mr. Wheeldon had an interesting career which commenced at Bucknall (St. Mary's). He was the last survivor of a Bucknall band which rang the first silent Surprise Minor peal ever to be rung in England. While not a prolific peal ringer, he had 129 peals to his credit, most of which were rung in North Staffordshire towers.

A keen member of the North Staffordshire Association he did much useful work in it and when he was in his heyday few meetings were complete without him.

In his own tower he was beloved not only for his abilities as a leader but as a man of great personal integrity. As a churchman he set an example to his ringers by his regular attendance at all services, a practice only discontinued by advancing years.

He travelled hundreds of miles in the interest of ringing and as recently as May accompanied his ringers to Worcester and Gloucester on their annual outing.

A list of Mr. Wheeldon's peals is as follows:—Minor 93, Triples 4, Major 25, Royal 2. Of these, 27 were rung in his own tower at Norton and 24 at Bucknall.

MR. H. R. LEACH

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Hilary Ronald Leach, of 80, Saunton Road, Rugby, who was killed when his motor-cycle left the road and crashed into the railway bridge at Church Lawford on Tuesday, November 27th. Mr. Leach, who was 38 years of age, received multiple injuries. His pillion passenger, Mr. Louis Jents, of 36, New Street, Rugby, had his skull fractured. Both Mr. Leach and his passenger were at the time on their way to work at the Coventry Tool and Gauge Company.

Mr. Leach was a ringer at St. Mark's, Bilton, and the account he wrote of the village of Bilton was featured in 'The Ringing World' of March 24th, 1950. His death is deeply regretted by his ringing friends and at St. Mark's, Bilton, where he was formerly assistant scoutmaster of the church troop, and at one time sidesman at the church. Mr. Leach was looking forward to his first peal at the end of the month.

A quarter peal to his memory appears in our quarter peal columns.

MR. C. F. BAILEY

The death occurred at Aldeburgh Cottage Hospital of Mr. Charles Bailey, of Leiston, Suffolk, on December 1st. He had been in indifferent health for the past five years and was first taken ill in London while on holiday, and taken to Central Middlesex Hospital. He joined the Norwich Association in 1897, and later the Suffolk Guild on its formation.

Charles was one of eleven brothers, nine of whom were ringers. He was conductor of the peal in 1911, Bob Major, by eight brothers. In 1914 he conducted his youngest brother's first peal and this also was rung by eight brothers.

A great friend of Gabriel Lindoff, nothing gave him greater pleasure than ringing new methods or compositions sent him by Mr. Lindoff. In his last peal of Bristol I rang with him: he rang the treble and called it. By this peal he had called a different Surprise method and composition from each bell at Leiston.

His many peals include: Bristol 93, Superlative 47, London 39, Cambridge 44, Double Norwich 39, Rochester 13, Guildford 0, Suffolk 5.

Mr. Bailey was a great lover of handbells and would always welcome a touch with visitors. Some few years ago he retired from active ringing and also from business, having worked 50 years with one firm. In retirement he led a quiet life but was still very interested in ringing and was always pleased to read of others and their achievements.

He was buried in Leiston Cemetery on Wednesday, December 5th. R. K.

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD

Southern District Annual at Aberavon

Although starting late owing to a funeral service at the church, a very successful meeting was held at St. Mary's, Aberavon, on December 1st, where over 40 members from a wide area really enjoyed themselves.

The service was conducted by the Archdeacon of Morgaun (the Ven Lawrance Thomas), who was assisted by the curate. An excellent tea followed which was provided by the ladies of the church and the young ringers of the local band did their best in helping them.

At the business meeting the chair was taken by the Archdeacon. The hon. District secretary and the hon. District auditor were both re-elected and thanks accorded for their past services. Particulars of the proposed trip to the festival at Knighton were read and it was unanimously agreed that the committee carry on with the arrangements.

A report was given by the Master of the Guild on the various towers and the work being done by the local bands. The bells will ring again at Devynock.

After a letter had been read from the Editor of 'The Ringing World' re ordering further copies, it was agreed to give a donation of 21s. towards the added cost of production.

The handing-over, by the hon. general secretary, of the 'Illuminated Address' for Mr. Ernie Stinch then took place.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Archdeacon for conducting the service and presiding at the meeting, also for the excellent tea. The Archdeacon, in his reply, remarked that the Guild had a very appropriate form of service.

On the return to the tower the bells were kept going to various methods including Cambridge, Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob Major and with our well-known friend, Mr. Jack Pitman, on the treble, the bells were brought to rest at 9 p.m. The next meeting will be held at Duffy, Neath, in March.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Wirral Branch's Annual Social

This very popular function was held this year at St. Saviour's Parish Hall, Oxtown, Birkenhead, on November 24th and attracted a gathering of over 200 ringers, relatives and friends. Ringers were present from Neston, West Kirby, Capenhurst, Upton, Bidston, Wallasey St. Hilary's, Wallasey St. Nicholas', Birkenhead St. Mary's, Oxtown, Port Sunlight, Bebington, Bromborough, Eastham and Chester.

The very pleasant hall was filled to capacity and coloured lights, balloons and beautiful floral decorations (kindly provided by Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton) added to the gaiety of the occasion.

A varied programme of games, dances and novelty items had been arranged and entered into with obvious enjoyment but, as usual, the time from 7 p.m. till midnight passed so quickly that the programme was never in any fear of being exhausted. Soloists were Messrs. Cyril Smith and Ian McDonald while the Vicar, the Rev. T. A. Rockley, delighted all with his rendering of two very fine bass songs.

Once again the refreshments proved one of the highlights of the evening, there being both quality and quantity to satisfy the needs of youth. The function ended at midnight and in view of the shocking weather conditions all were thankful that late transport was provided. The Social Committee are to be warmly congratulated on once again arranging such an enjoyable function and, as before, the question on everyone's lips is 'How can so much be provided at so little a charge?' The answer, as in all bellringing matters, is 'Co-operation.'

BELLS AROUND LIVERPOOL

With news of the dedication of Liverpool Cathedral bells, the following contribution from Mr. E. L. Humphriss regarding the bells of Childwall is apposite:—

The sound of church bells has been heard over Childwall Valley, now fast losing its rural characteristics, for over four centuries. Childwall, reference to which, incidentally, is made in the Domesday Book, purchased three bells cast by Rich. Selioc, of Nottingham, and installed them in the Church of All Saints in 1517. An ancient rhyme sings their praises thus:—

Prescot for poverty, Huyton for pride.
Three parish church all in a row,
Prescot for poverty, Huyton for pride,
Childwall for ringing and singing beside.

The smallest of Childwall's three bells, weighing 41 lb., is recorded as having been sold about the middle of the 16th century, and there are records concerning the remaining bells, weighing 417 lb. and 518 lb. respectively, having been cracked and recast on numerous occasions. By 1721 the ring had been augmented to four bells, and needing repair they were again recast and augmented to five by Rudhall, of Gloucester. An additional treble was added in 1751. The tower was rebuilt in 1810, but the six bells—all by Rudhall—remained until 1912 when John Warner, of Spitalfields, was entrusted with the work of recasting and re-hanging in a new steel frame.

On the rising ground across the valley stands the square-stoned battlemented and pinnacled tower of St. Michael's, worthy of Huyton's pride; its origin unknown, but with the date 1664 inscribed on the top. Huyton's first bells, a ring of four, were acquired from the King Majesty's Council in 1553, the accompanying record informing us that 'two only were paid for.' The reason for them being thus purchased was probably due to the cessation of the bell-founding industry on the Crown's acquisition of monastery bells during the Reformation. In 1846 Huyton's four bells were augmented to six, but the old tenor bell was of unsuitable tone and in 1850 was presented to Roby, where a new tower was built for it. Cast in 1512, most probably in the foundry from which Childwall's original bells came, it is reputed to be the oldest bell in the diocese. The present tenor at Huyton bears the date 1606.

The rhymester's 'Prescot for poverty' is certainly not applicable to the church, St. Mary-the-Virgin. It is the fourth church to be built on the site. On the installing of eight bells by Mears, in 1845, the previous ring of six (recast 1638) is believed locally to have been presented to a Rainhill chapel.

CHRISTMAS, 1951

By THE REV. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

SOON, in this year of grace 1951, the bells will be ringing to welcome the Babe of Bethlehem, the Saviour of the world, the Incarnate Son of God, on His birthday. Once again we shall hear the angels' wonderful message of hope and comfort, 'On earth peace, goodwill toward men.'

From east to west, from shore to shore,
Let every heart awake and sing
The holy Child whom Mary bore,
The Christ, the everlasting King.

What a wonderful privilege we ringers have in leading this 'singing' in honour of our Lord with the music of the bells. What joy we should have in our hearts at the knowledge that we have been thus called to greet Him on this happy morn. But how much more wonderful still if this leads us to the truth which perhaps we lose sight of too often, that this privilege and joy should not be true only of Christmas, but should be there on every Sunday and feast day of the year. On all these occasions we are ringing in honour of our Lord and, as Christians seeking to serve Him, how eager should we be to offer Him our art in humble praise of His glorious Name and in thanksgiving for our salvation. With this thought ever in mind, we shall be showing to the world around that principle which must be longed for by all at some time during this happy season—the wish that such peace and serenity could remain throughout the whole year. It must be a hard heart which doesn't feel that at some time or other. And it could remain if man truly worked for it. It is only man's fault which allows this happiness to leave him. True, it would mean effort and sacrifice, and perhaps that is what man is not prepared to give. Our ringing, if it is to give the lead in this, as one so much hopes, means effort and sacrifice. Nothing worth while can be accomplished without these in any part of life. As a nation, isn't it just the lack of these qualities at this time which has brought us to our present state? So many people seem to wish for, yes, and expect the necessities of life without giving in return. There is no surer or quicker way to bankruptcy of both material and spiritual things. And yet, isn't it so obvious that our joy and happiness at Christmas time comes more from our giving than from receiving? How blind we are not to realise that this will be true at all times too, and so to put it into practice.

There is a second way in which we ringers can give a lead to the world from this message of Christmas. When our Lord was born, kings and shepherds came to worship Him—the high and the low, rich and poor, far and near, for in the presence of the King of Kings all are equal in the homage due to Him. This equality is also apparent at the altar, when all sorts and conditions of men kneel together to receive the precious Food of His most holy Body and Blood—lord and lowly, master and servant, mistress and maid. That is the Christian teaching—the brotherhood of man and that every human soul has the same preciousness in His sight. Of course, this doesn't mean that we should expect or aim at all men being identical in life, for the Lord gave to one man five talents, to another two, and to another one, and these talents can be worldly possessions, mental powers or spiritual gifts. We are all endowed with some gifts, however small or however great, and what matters is how we use those gifts. As we take our places at the bells, we see again a reminder of the first Christmas with rich and poor, high and low, standing to worship the Lord in making the heavens ring with His praises. Some are gifted conductors of amazing mental power—let them not despise the weaker brethren, for those who find the learning difficult but yet attain proficiency through sheer hard work will have more merit in God's sight than the most accomplished ringer who finds the path to the heights easy, for they will have made the most of their 'talent.' No, all are not equal in talents, but all are brothers giving of their best to serve Him, and may this example of brotherhood be given to the world which so badly needs such a relationship between men.

This, then, is our Christmas message for 1951, and as we ring the glorious news may these thoughts and resolves be in our hearts. A happy and blessed Christmas to all ringers.

All glory for this blessed morn
To God the Father ever be;
All praise to Thee, O Virgin-born,
All praise, O Holy Ghost, to Thee.

Amen.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

A CHRISTMAS SUGGESTION

A year's subscription to 'The Ringing World'
(£1 2s. 6d.) is an ideal present to your ringing
friend. Send remittance to Mr. J. E. Jeater,
11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Runcorn, where the centenary of the installation of the bells was celebrated by the first peal of Cambridge on the bells, has eleven Sunday service ringers. These include a lay reader, verger, two choirmen two church councillors and two sidesmen. The band which rang the peal was local with one exception, Mr.
J. E. Bibby.

A correspondent enquires what carols can be played on eight handbells.

The peal of London at St. John's, Erith, on November 23rd, was the 100th together by Mr.
Herbert E. Audsley and Mr. Philip A. Corby.

Mr. F. Stuart Worth writes that he must have misunderstood his grandfather when he submitted 'A Ringer's Prayer.' He tenders his apologies.

The Universities Association Ringing week for 1952 will be held at Nottingham from Friday, August 15th, to Saturday, August 23rd.
Accommodation has been booked at Wortley
Hall, one of the University halls of residence.

The Stroud Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association probably have the first lady chairman in the Association's history, Miss Doris Sheppard, who was elected on Saturday.

The St. Mary's College, Cheltenham, handbell ringers, led by Miss E. Kingcote, entertained the Prestbury band with carols in the belfry and gave a very good performance which was much appreciated.

It was intended to commemorate the birthday of Mr. Walter Ayre with a peal at Apsley End. Unfortunately the death of Mr. William Shepherd, of Hemel Hempstead, necessitated a change to an in memoriam peal. Special congratulations were extended to Derek E. Latchford on his achievement in this 16 Surprise method peal so soon after returning from the Forces.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

Miss Helen Gorrings's coming-of-age peal at Hawkhurst, on December
1st, was a happy affair. Her father and godfather, Mr. J. G. Powell, participated in the peal, and the ringers and friends were afterwards entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. Gor-ringe. On Sunday Hawkhurst ringers presented Miss Gorrings with a cake basket, the 'Ringer's Diary,' and Mr. R. H. Dove's 'Bell-
ringers' Guide.'

Mr. George E. Fearn, the popular secretary of the St. Martin's Guild, rang his 800th peal on December 8th.

Golden wedding congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. I. Marston, of St. Bees, Cumberland.
Their years of married happiness coincided with Mr. Marston's years of service as a ringer at St. Bees Priory Church.

In the belfry at Wisbech, Cambs, there is a 'Ringing World' box into which the ringers and visitors can drop a coin. The quarter peal from Wisbech was financed from the box to the extent of 5s.

The peal of 5,088 Plain Bob Major at Boston, Lincs, on December 5th, was rung after an unsuccessful attempt on November 3rd in honour of the wedding of Mr. Frank H. Hicks and Miss Evelyn M. Capon, at Hellingly, Sussex. Although belated, the good wishes of the company are as equally sincere as those whose peals were successful on this happy occasion.

Congratulations to Lt.-Col. the Rev. R. J.
Morris, D.S.O., Vicar of Melbourne, Derbyshire, who, at the age of 69, has rung his first peal, one of Stedman Triples, from the tenor.
Lt.-Col. Morris started ringing three and a half years ago, and his keenness, spirit and determination surpass that of many ringers in their teens. He is one of the most active of the elderly ringers in the Derbyshire Association. Can any other clergyman claim to have rung his first peal at the age of 69?

A CHRISTMAS QUIZ FOR RINGERS

By KEWSETT

Kewsett again presents his popular Christmas Quiz. A book token is offered to the competitor sending the best solution by January 10th. Envelopes to be addressed: 'Christmas Quiz,' c/o The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford.

1. A. Pryme Phacter, in the middle of calling a peal of Bob Major in which the tenors were not parted, was amusing himself by working out in his head the factors of each change, when he came to one which is divisible by all the odd numbers up to 15. What was the change, and in which course?

2. How many of the changes on five-bells have no bell in its home position?

3. After ringing his first rounds on ten bells, young Alan asked the pretty girl on the treble for her name. She replied: 'You should 3214 a bit more 5264 when you 843, 76 you will 96421 your 8320, my 970.' What was her name?

4. In our tower the treble is one cwt. lighter than the second, the second two cwt. lighter than the third, and so on, the seventh being seven cwt. lighter than the tenor bell. In addition the heaviest four bells have a total weight of three times the lightest four. Four of the bells swing East-West, and the other four, including the treble, swing North-South. The total weights of these two sets are the same.

What is the weight of the tenor, and which way does it swing?

5. Why is a bad Stedman ringer like a man with toothache?

6. They had rung 5,025 Stedman Caters. John Parry said: 'That's curious, Mr. Stephens, if you divide the difference in the cubes of our ages by the difference in our ages you get 5,025.' How old were both?

7. The eight at Much Bashing are hung in the order of tittums, 15263748, and the locals always start touches by ringing them in the order of hanging. A visiting conductor wanted to call a touch to bring up Queens. What change must the touch contain if rung ordinarily?

8. Thirteen ringers decided to attempt thirteen handbell peals, four taking part in each attempt. How can the bands be arranged if no two ringers may be together in more than one attempt?

9. How many of the 40,320 changes on eight bells are divisible by 99?

10. What will be the date of issue of No. 5,040 of 'The Ringing World'?

11. Six bells toll in order, starting with the treble, at intervals of one second, the tenor bell tolling five seconds after the treble. If the treble continues tolling at intervals of 13 seconds from its first toll, the 2nd every 15 seconds, the 3rd every 17 seconds, and so on, the tenor tolling every 23 seconds, how long will it be before they all toll together?

12. The treble of the six at Orful Dynn is so flat, and the third so sharp, that the first three bells sound alike. How many different changes can be rung on the bells?

RINGERS HONOUR 86th BIRTHDAY OF MR. J. W. JONES

Members of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association visited the ancient but very beautiful church of St Cybi, Llangibby, to ring a peal in honour of the 86th birthday of that 'grand old ringer,' namely, Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport.

Mr. Jones himself still continues to ring at his church and was well enough to take part in a quarter peal of Stedman Triples on the eve of his birthday. He also journeyed to Llangibby to welcome the ringers before the peal and join them afterwards for a little refreshment.

Mr. Jones first began his ringing career at Caerleon in 1888, under the guidance of the late Mr. Evan Davies, who was one of the founders of the above Association. After having rung his first peal on Caerleon bells in January, 1889, Mr. Jones went on to ring more than 500 peals throughout the country, and has rung in well over 600 towers. Throughout his energetic life Mr. Jones has devoted endless time to the tuition of new ringers and has given much to the instruction of change ringing in most towers of Monmouthshire, and many elsewhere.

Mr. Jones also gave faithful service to the interests of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, of which he was secretary for nearly 50 years, and has also been Master on two occasions. The Association still has the benefit of his valued opinions, as he attends all the Association meetings, and is still one of the representatives on the Central Council.

When the bells were installed in his church, All Saints', Newport, in 1898, Mr. Jones took over the leadership of the All Saints' Guild of Ringers. The bells of All Saints' were first dedicated in May, 1902, and gave valued service to the church until they were returned and Ringers everywhere will be pleased to learn that Mr. Jones now enjoys improved health following his fall of several months ago and will join in the good wishes of his local ringers upon this, his 86th birthday, and the hope that they will have the pleasure in honouring a similar occasion next year.

ST. NICHOLAS' CHURCH, ABERDEEN

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd., of Croydon, have been informed by the City Architect of Aberdeen that the Town Council has agreed to place with them the contract for recasting the entire carillon of 37 bells and refitting them with modern fittings, new steel framework, clavier, electro-pneumatic tune-playing machine, etc.

The 37 recast bells will total approximately 249½ cwt. with a Bourdon of about 4½ tons, note G, and the latter will be hung with electro autoswinging mechanism.

The present carillon of Belgian bells, which was little known, was installed in the year of Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1887. It was never satisfactory and has rarely been used in consequence with the exception of the clock chimes. The carillon is the property of the City of Aberdeen although housed in St. Nicholas' Church tower. This will be the largest bell contract placed in the British Islands since the war.

CHATHAM ROAD TRAGEDY

At the request of the Dean of Rochester, the Very Rev. Thomas Crick, D.D., the bells of Rochester Cathedral were rung half-muffled to the memory of the Royal Marine cadets killed at Chatham. The funeral service was held on December 12th in the Cathedral, conducted by the Bishop of Rochester and assisted by the Dean.

A quarter peal of 1,259 Grandsire Caters was rung half-muffled by D. Norris 1, T. Beaumont 2, Miss G. Jarrett 3, W. A. J. Knight (conductor) 4, H. Springate 5, C. S. Jarrett 6, R. E. Norris 7, V. A. Jarrett 8, C. E. J. Norris 9, G. Davis 10. All are members of the Cathedral Society.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IRREGULAR PERFORMANCES

Dear Sir,—It is several years since I wrote to 'The Ringing World' as I have a mortal dread of adding myself to the list of people which I have mentally prepared, who perform a similar operation, writing occasionally varied types of campanological balderdash, in order to see their names in print.

However, the argument concerning regular and irregular lead ends in Minor ringing, which seems to have been resuscitated, is one in which I feel compelled to make some observations.

The letter by Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis in the current issue (December 7th) misses some interesting points, and it is obvious that he approaches his subject with an open mind.

I live in an area where there are a good many Minor ringers and the Barnsley and District Society, to which I belong, was founded for the express purpose of forwarding this branch of the art. We are close lead or 'cartwheel.' Minor ringers, and I think I may safely say that a fairly high standard of striking is observed.

But apart from a few isolated cases, multi-method ringing is not developed to any great extent. Methods like Woodbine, Violet, Duke of York, New London and Merchant's Return are rung and enjoyed in many towers, and will, I have no doubt, continue to be rung by many ringers to whom the 'Central Council' is, rightly or wrongly, but a name in 'The Ringing World.'

Many of them attend regularly every Sunday to ring for service, and go through life ringing perhaps one or two peals. These peals are matters of great moment to the ringers concerned and likely as not will contain one or more methods with irregular lead ends in order to ensure that the peal is rung in seven methods. Be it also remembered that only two methods, Oxford and Kent, possess a complete slow work and regular lead ends on the Treble Bob system.

It is insufficient to point out to them, as Mr. Lewis has done, that they 'could just as easily ring a regular method by using the knowledge they have of the other six and combining them.' I and several others have been advocating that for over 20 years! Also in many cases it just isn't true.

Why shouldn't they ring these irregular methods? Because the Central Council says so?

Irregular methods sound just the same outside the tower. In a small village where the ringers are known personally to all the inhabitants the ringing and striking of the parish bells is a far more intimate and communal affair than it can ever hope to be in a town, and arbitrary regulations by faraway and (to them) obscure councils, to use a modern idiom, 'cut no ice.' We might lead them but they won't be driven. I feel that this is true not only of this locality.

Here, with close leads, even 6, 5's at back-stroke don't matter, and by calling 'tenor without fifth' the fifth can be brought home at the part end even in an irregular method.

Personally, when ringing a peal in seven (or more) Minor methods, I have always avoided irregular methods wherever possible, but I see no reason why a less advanced ringer (method-ically speaking) shouldn't be allowed to choose the methods he knows and loves, when he attempts a Minor peal, providing, of course, that there is no falseness.

I think that the crux of the matter is that many of the rules formulated by the 'Central Council' in connection with Minor ringing are passed by 8-, 10- or 12-bell ringers, many of whom have but an academic interest in the subject.

The final paragraph of Mr. Lewis's letter contains a practical suggestion which shows his good sense. I would, however, go further than this. I would suggest that in regard to Minor, the whole question of irregular lead ends be reconsidered and the rules amended so as to include many of the old favourites. They will still be rung anyway. Why not ring them in peals?—Yours faithfully

H. CHANT.

Ryhill,
Wakefield, Yorks.

UNORTHODOX PERFORMANCES

Dear Sir,—Much is discussed, re above, but providing each extent is true the performers can please themselves. Perhaps I started reading too early records, but it is not true that the proficiency of a ringer was his ability to ring 5,000 changes of a given method? It appears that the principle of to-day, unfortunately, is to make rules to suit whatever may be offered by certain people. I am still waiting for a real, true and complete peal of 5,040 Bob Triples.

By the way Springfield is not new, I drew the line many seasons ago.—Yours truly, FRANK WARRINGTON.

BATS IN THE BELFRY

Dear Sir,—I was somewhat shocked at the ignorance of your applicant for stuffed owls to keep away bats and if it isn't a joke I hasten to ask you to let your readers know that the little Pipistrellus bat is the greatest friend of ancient buildings and should be encouraged. It does no harm whatever and preys on all insects including the death watch beetle. It is not blind but when blinded it has some power to avoid all obstacles in flight.

To kill and stuff an owl is another evil. This bird does nothing but good and is mostly engaged in killing small vermin and has been known to take rats. On the other hand I don't think the clever little bat would be scared away; they live too near the woods to be frightened by a stuffed owl.

Although this is not ringing news, I do hope that if any ringer encounters bats in belfries or churches they will let them go unharmed.—Yours faithfully,

W. A. OSBORN.

Galhampton, Yeovil.

CATTISTOCK CARILLON

Dear Sir,—May I be permitted to reply to the letter from Mr. Frank Price, carillonneur at the Peace Tower, Ottawa, on the subject of the Cattistock Carillon.

In my report I stated that the tower has been rebuilt and a fine ring of bells installed, and in a later paragraph dealing with the Rev. — Deane's address recorded his expression of satisfaction on the completion of the work.

These two statements were meant to convey (as I hope they did) a ringer's point of view, in so far as from that angle, viz, the rebuilding of the tower, and the hanging of the bells, the work is obviously complete, and it is well to remember that Mr. Deane was addressing a congregation composed of change ringers.

The Rector did tell us, however, that the money available for the restoration would not cover both ringing bells and carillon, and in these circumstances the people of Cattistock chose to install the ring of eight and, although as Mr. Price says, it is their intention to replace the carillon, there is no doubt that such a small community will require a great deal of financial assistance before their hopes can be realised.—Yours faithfully,

J. H. HAYNE.

Hon. Sec., Dorchester Branch,
Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS

Dear Sir,—As secretary of the Lancashire Association I regret having to write to you regarding the opening of Liverpool Cathedral bells.

Many ringers have written to me expressing dissatisfaction at the arrangements made, totally excluding any but named ringers from the belfry. It is regrettable also that ringers who had travelled long distances were unrewarded for their efforts.

In fairness to our Association, I must make it quite clear that so far as the Lancashire Association is concerned no official intimation was given to either the president or myself that the bells of Liverpool Cathedral were to be opened on that day. In fact, officially, the Association does not even know they are there.

Again I must say I very much regret having to write in this strain but feel it my duty to inform all ringers so that the Lancashire Association's prestige will not suffer.—Yours sincerely,

F. DUNKERLEY, Secretary,
The Lancashire Association of Change Ringers.

ST. MARGARET'S, WESTMINSTER.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the query of Mr. L. A. C. Weare, of Bulawayo, Rhodesia, the record of St. Margaret's, Westminster, bells was made in 1930 and is a 12-inch H.M.V.—No. C2098—a Plain Course of Stedman Caters on one side and on the other a Bob Course of Grandire Caters, with some rounds. A Plain Course of Grandire was too long to go on (132 changes).

Good luck to the Cambridge Royal record attempt. I was in the present record peal which was rung at St. Mary's, Walthamstow, on December 26th, 1923, which has stood for 28 years.—Yours truly,

W. H. HEWETT.

OXFORD BOB TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—The following touch of Oxford Bob Triples contains Tutlums, Queens and Whittingtons changes, with the use of ordinary Grandire Singles. Can any reader produce a shorter touch containing these changes?

'HERTFORD BOB ROYAL'

Dear Sir,—I have just received a reply from the Methods Committee saying that the method which was rung in the peal of Spiced Royal on November 9th and which was published in 'The Ringing World' December 7th, as 'Hertford Bob Royal,' is a true extension of Ashbourne College, and should therefore, of course, go by that name.—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL SLANEY

Jesus College, Oxford.

Mr. Charles A. Bassett has received replies from all over the country regarding a railway-men's peal. Unfortunately an embankment on his section of track has subsided, and for him life for the past three weeks has been just work, eat and sleep. As soon as things return to normal he will deal with his correspondence. He apologises for the delay.

DEDICATION

ST. PETER'S CHURCH, DROGHEDA

The eight bells in St. Peter's Church, Drogheda, Ireland, were cast by John Rudhall in 1791 and were hung in a native oak frame. Apart from the recasting of the tenor (22½ cwt.) by Taylor's in 1889, and minor repairs, the bells remained in the same fittings until last April.

For the past few years the bells were not in a safe condition to ring, so a fund known as the Bi-Centenary Fund was started with a target of £2,000 to redecorate the church and renovate the bells. The fund was opened in 1948 and is due to close next September on the bi-centenary of the church. There are only about 200 souls in the parish and they have contributed in subscriptions, sales, etc. up to the present, just over £1,000. Other efforts are pending which, it is expected, will bring in another £300. This will just cover the cost of renovating the bells and work associated therewith. The redecoration of the church, in consequence, must be deferred unless a fairy godmother turns up.

The Most Rev. J. A. F. Gregg, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland, attended at St. Peter's Church, Drogheda, on Sunday afternoon, December 3rd, to dedicate four churchwardens' staves which had been made and presented by the Bellringers' Guild, parts of which were made from the old bell frame. His Grace then rededicated the bells and subsequently preached an appropriate sermon on the history of Irish bells.

After the service the bells were rung by visiting ringers from Hillsborough, Holywood, Belfast, Dublin, Bray, as well as by the local company. Touches of Bob Triples, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung during the evening. All were very pleased with the excellent job carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

Amongst those present were Mr. William Pratt, president of the Irish Association, Mr. Paul L. Taylor, of the Bell Foundry, and Mrs. Taylor, and Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Darmon.

While the bells were in Loughborough the local bellringers were not idle. As well as making the churchwardens' staves they erected a wainscoting, new stairs, mirrors and a cupboard in the ringing room. They also redecorated it throughout in pleasing colours, all materials having been supplied by the ringers.

ANOTHER RING OF TWELVE FOR LIVERPOOL

WHEN Liverpool Parish Church (Our Lady and St. Nicholas) was burnt out as a result of enemy action in 1941, the tower and bells were undamaged. As a safety measure, the bells were then taken down and removed to the Bell Foundry at Loughborough, where they have been ever since. The foundation stone of the new church (incorporating the old tower, of course) was laid in May, 1949, and the building is now approaching completion.

A faculty has just been granted for the recasting and rehanging of the bells and Messrs. Taylor's have been entrusted with the work. The recast ring of twelve will have a tenor of 42 cwt. in C, and will be hung in a new iron frame. A flat sixth is to be added, to give a light eight for practice.

For various reasons the church has been re-oriented; that is, the tower will be at the geographical west end of the new church, but the liturgical east end. The doorway which used to lead from the base of the tower to the church will be filled in and the high altar will stand just in front of it; the base of the tower will form a chapel. At the other end of the church there is to be a low vestibule and over this a refectory and library. Access to the latter rooms will be by a spiral staircase in a kind of turret, and it is in this turret that it is proposed to hang the sanctus bell. It will then be possible to chime the latter from a position near the main entrance to the church, which will be much more convenient than if it were in the tower with the other bells.

Messrs. Taylor's have recently weighed the bells, and readers of 'The Ringing World' will be interested to know that the present tenor is actually three and a half cwt. lighter than it was supposed to be.

Treble: * Reputed weight 6 cwt. 3 qr. 15 lb., actual weight 6 cwt. 1 qr. 14 lb.; 2nd: 7 cwt. 4 lb., 6 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb.; 3rd: 7 cwt. 2 qr. 7 lb.; 7 cwt. 6 lb.; 4th: 8 cwt. 1 qr. 15 lb.; 7 cwt. 3 lb.; 5th: 8 cwt. 3 qr. 27 lb.; 8 cwt. 1 qr. 17 lb.; 6th: 8 cwt. 2 qr. 17 lb.; 8 cwt. 7 lb.; 7th: 11 cwt. 12 lb.; 10 cwt. 2 qr. 5 lb.; 8th: 15 cwt. 1 qr. 23 lb.; 14 cwt. 2 qr.; 9th: 19 cwt. 1 qr. 13 lb.; 18 cwt. 18 lb.; 10th: 20 cwt. 3 qr. 23 lb.; 19 cwt. 3 qr. 1 lb.; 11th: 29 cwt. 1 qr. 14 lb.; 27 cwt. 1 qr. 27 lb.; tenor: 39 cwt. 3 qr. 10 lb.; 36 cwt. 22 lb.; total weights: 183 cwt. 1 qr. 26 lb., 170 cwt. 1 qr. 22 lb.

At the present rate of progress, the new church will be finished some time next summer and it is hoped that the bells will be hung in time to be consecrated at the same time as the church.

* The weights of the front eleven bells are taken from Cheetham's book, 'The Bells of Lancashire,' while the weight of the tenor is that given by Warner's, who recast the bell in 1911.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

Tewkesbury Branch

The annual meeting of the Tewkesbury Branch was held at Kemerton on December 1st. Visitors were welcomed from Cheltenham, Gloucester, Stroud and Worcester. The Vicar of Kemerton, the Rev. W. J. Tooth, preached and took the service and was also host at the tea which was held in the Crown Inn, Kemerton.

At the business meeting which followed, Group Captain Lister was re-appointed chairman, Mr. J. Beech hon. secretary, and Mr. D. Beacham was elected representative on the Management Committee in place of Mr. E. T. Newbury, who retired.

An enjoyable time was spent by all, the following towers being represented: Tewkesbury Abbey, Kemerton, Deerhurst, Pinkney, Chaceley, Leigh, Beckford and Twynning.

Harlington Meeting a Great Success

The South and West District risked the weather by holding a country meeting on Saturday, November 24th, and the 30 or more ringers who attended had a most enjoyable time, despite the heavy rain in the evening. Harlington was the afternoon's choice, at a most attractive old church with a fine 12th-century doorway, 15th-century tower and a famous yew tree nearly a thousand years old. The old six were augmented since the war by two Meas trebles, into a pleasant, light eight (tenor 7 cwt. 3 qr. 16 lb.).

The bells were set going to a variety of standard methods, Cambridge and up to four Spliced Surprise Major, with quite a good standard of striking. There must have been a scarcity of peals being attempted in the London area, judging by the number of 'pealsters' present.

After an excellent tea, generously provided by the local ringers in the Church Hall, the quarterly meeting was held. Miss Joyce Lewis (Hemel Hempstead), Brian Taylor (Clewes) and Roy J. Diserens (Reading), were elected life members. After discussion it was agreed to hold the December meeting after Christmas, i.e., on January 5th, at Brentford and St. Mary's, Ealing, and the annual meeting early in February, at Acton, subject to the towers being available. It is hoped to avoid clashing with other annual meetings at about this time.

The secretary announced that a questionnaire is to be sent out to all bellfries in the District, requesting information on the bells, their condition, standards of ringing, ringing customs still surviving and membership of bands. From the scope of the questions, a suggestion was made that the colour of the captain's eyes should be included! Some of the information will be included in the annual report of the Association—not, it is hoped, only towers in the area which are considered to be in affiliation, but all the towers. Some will be for reference only, e.g., addresses, bell customs, etc. It is asked that the questionnaire will be returned by January 12th.

A shuttle service of cars was used to convey all those who wanted to get to Harmondsworth in the evening, the village otherwise being rather inaccessible. The church here has a beautifully-carved Norman door, 14th- and 15th-century hammerbeam roofs, 16th-century oak pews, 12th-century font, a beautifully-kept first edition of the Authorised Version of the Bible and a fine Tudor brick tower with six bells (tenor 16 cwt.).

Normally these bells are not considered to be easy-going, but thanks to the efforts of the tower captain, they were found quite easy to manage. Many methods were rung or attempted and it was very amusing to see well-known Spliced Major experts almost completely lost in four Spliced Surprise Minor! How much nicer it sounded when Tony Price surprised everyone by ringing 1-2 to Spliced London and Cambridge!

Mr. P. Newton, the tower captain, and his wife invited the ringers to their home afterwards, where an excellent supper awaited them. Handbells were brought out and some remarkable London, Cambridge, Double Norwich and Stedman were attempted. Then home, through the rain and the darkness.

So ended a very enjoyable meeting, thanks to the kindness and generosity of the incumbents, tower captains and ringers of Harlington and Harmondsworth, two villages which were threatened with extermination by their new neighbour, London Airport.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World, December 2nd, 1911

ONE THOUSAND PEALS

'The Exercise has never seen a greater ringer than William Pye, and . . . his thousand peals, completed last Saturday, set the seal, as it were, to a career which is unparalleled.

'Only once before has an individual reached four figures in his peal total. The late Rev. F. E. Robinson, in his long career as a ringer, passed a thousand, and everyone considered him a marvellous man. In very truth, he was, but . . . William Pye's 1,000 peals are a still greater accomplishment. When one considers the proportion conducted (752), the quality of the methods (more than 420 Surprise peals, to say nothing of 400 odd peals of Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques), the weight of metal often handled . . . William Pye's achievements mark him as our premier ringer—a position in which he is to-day unassailed and unassailable. . . . Mr. Pye has, during his career, helped over 50 ringers to ring their first peal of London Surprise, nearly 40 their first peal of Bristol, and over 60 their first of Stedman Cinques. . . . Nobody, probably, has done more for peal aspirants, and (he) has reached a point which will remain of historical interest to the Exercise.'

[William Pye was born on August 14th, 1870, and was thus 41 years of age. His brother Ernest completed 1,000 in 1915 at the age of 39, and these two remain the youngest to have reached this total. Before his death in 1935, William had taken part in only about 30 short of 2,000 peals. His first was not till he had been a ringer for eight years.]

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION Swindon Branch

The annual meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Christ Church, Swindon, on December 8th and in addition to branch members, visitors attended from Aldbourne, Fairford, Faringdon, Painswick, Shrivenham, Thame and Wootton Bassett.

The company was entertained to tea in the Church Hall by the local ringers and this was followed by the playing of some records of Christ Church bells. At the business meeting satisfaction was expressed of the work of the retiring officers and all were re-elected.

It was suggested that the next meetings be held at Highworth, St. Mark's, Swindon, and Malmesbury. Ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge Royal.

OBITUARY*MR. ERNEST DUMPER

After a long period of ill health nobly borne, Mr. Ernest Dumper died peacefully in his sleep on December 8th.

He had been a ringer at North Stoncham almost as long as there have been six or more bells in the tower, the bells having been augmented to six in 1892. Although not a prolific or regular peal ringer, he was always consistent in his attendance for Sunday service ringing, and for special occasions as they arose.

It is not only in the tower that he will be missed, either, for, in addition to his wonderful record there, he was also for many years a sidesman at St. Nicholas' and a member of the Parochial Church Council.

The burial service took place at St. Nicholas' on December 12th, and it was hoped to perpetuate his memory with a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples on the following Saturday.

R. A. R.

MR. G. RANDALL

Mr. George Randall, for many years captain of Higham Ferrers ringers, died at the Park Hospital, Wellingborough, on December 3rd, aged 88 years. Mr. Randall had not taken an active part in ringing for the past 14 years or so.

At the funeral service at Higham Ferrers on Thursday, December 6th, Mr. D. G. Deighton represented the local band and Mr. W. Perkins (Irthlingborough) the Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild.

An attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples, half-muffled, unfortunately failed after two attempts.

MR. R. H. McDONALD

Readers of 'The Ringing World' will be sorry to hear of the passing of Mr. R. H. McDonald on November 25th, at his home at Kensington, Sydney, in his 96th year.

Mr. McDonald learned his early change-ringing at Birmingham. He came to Australia as a young man and after looking around New South Wales and Queensland, finally made his home in Sydney, where he lived for some 50 years. He was a member of St. Mary's Cathedral ringers and was captain of the tower for approximately 40 years.

He did a great work for change-ringing and his many friends will keep him in affectionate remembrance.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD Halesworth District

The quarterly meeting which was held at Blythburgh on December 8th was attended by 22 members in spite of the bad weather. Methods rung ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor and the ringing also included set changes for beginners.

A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. D. Thompson), one of the ringers acting as organist. An excellent tea was served at the White Hart Hotel, where the business meeting was also held.

Yoxford was proposed for the next meeting on March 8th, if possible. The company stood in silence as a token of respect to the late Mr. C. F. Bailey, of Leiston. Two new members were elected and then more ringing followed until 9 p.m.

LATE NEWS*RECORD LENGTH OF ROYAL

The longest peal of Royal on record was rung at Worsley, Lancs, last Saturday. It was 15,480 Cambridge Surprise Royal and the feat was accomplished in 10 hours and 23 minutes. The peal was for the Lancashire Association and was conducted from the 24 cwt. tenor by Mr. John Worth.

GABRIEL LINDOFF & CHAS. F. BAILEY*Leiston's Contribution To Surprise Ringing

It was with deep regret that the many friends of Mr. Charles F. Bailey heard of his death (within a few days of his 72nd birthday) in Aldeburgh Cottage Hospital, on December 1st. He had been in indifferent health since 1946 when, whilst on holiday in London, he was first taken ill and immediately taken to the Central Middlesex Hospital.

Up to that time he had been leading a very active life. As his health gradually failed he had to curtail most of his activities, but his interest in ringing, both technical as well as practical, remained right to the end.

He served his apprenticeship as a shoing and general smith with the late Mr. Rowe (who for many years and up to 1914 had a flourishing business at the lower end of High Street, Leiston), having for some time as workmates the late Messrs. Hubert Smith and 'Cuckoo' Barber.

SPLENDID PHYSIQUE

As a craftsman his skill and ability were unequalled. His splendid physique, general adaptability and rugged appearance stamped him as an ideal, typical blacksmith, and after gaining further experience at Grundisburgh and Tunstall, he started work in the then extensive smithy of Leiston Works in 1903, under the late Mr. J. Cornforth, afterwards with the late Mr. A. Smith. During the time the works were under the control of the notorious A.G.E. combine he acted as foreman for a time, remaining at the works until his retirement in 1945.

It was during the second world war that his skilled craftsmanship found full outlet. One had only to explain what was wanted when the invariable answer, given in his own way, was, 'All right, leave it here, we'll see what we can do.' Needless to say, he always gave of his best: he was a 'schemer' in the highest sense of the word, saw to it that his work came through to a successful conclusion, to the unbounded admiration of all concerned.

He was a member of the old Volunteers and served in the 1914-18 war in the 1st Tank Corps and on demobilisation became a member of the then Old Comrades Association, afterwards the British Legion.

As a young man he played football for Leiston Town Reserves, playing centre-forward in 1905-6 when winning the Aldeburgh and District League, and could always be relied upon to play a good, sporting, vigorous game. He was also keenly interested in the steel quoits game. Later on in life, bowls claimed his attention. Being fond of billiards he was always happy to oblige anyone with a game, generally putting up a good show.

TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE

But it was at ringing that Charles F. was seen at his best: his energy and technical knowledge were prodigious.

Many years ago (about 1907-8) readers of the then 'Bell News' began to take notice of the ringing exploits of two or three of the Bailey brothers. The writer remembers in the peal notices of that time that weekly peals were being rung on the local bells. First there were two, then three, brothers taking part, a fourth coming in, and so on, until the year 1911, the 27th anniversary of the opening of the Leiston ring of eight bells, a peal of Bob Major containing 5,024 changes was rung in 2 hours 58 minutes by the eight brothers, the peal notice being surmounted by a photograph of the band, taken near the belfry door on the south side of the church.

This peal was conducted by Charles and was the 62nd in which he had taken part during the previous ten years. Later on another brother took up the art, the same conductor being in charge of this brother's first peal, making a band of nine ringing brothers, all members of St. Margaret's company.

Many peals had been rung since that date by the late Mr. Bailey; so far up to 500 have been accounted for (there may be a lot more), many on handbells. Of these handbell peals, one is worthy of more than passing interest, viz., that of Stedman Cinques.

The ringing activities of this remarkable man may be gauged from the fact that he took part in upwards of 264 Major Surprise peals in 18 different Surprise methods, conducting the greater part of them; a truly wonderful achievement. Another of his conducted peals, when he rang the tenor bell, was 11,040 changes of Double Norwich Bob Major in 6 hours 32 minutes in the year 1911, also on the Leiston bells.

LINDOFF AND LEISTON

A great friend of the celebrated Gabriel Lindoff (who once resided in Leiston), nothing gave him greater pleasure than ringing new methods or compositions sent him by Mr. Lindoff. The words 'Composed by Gabriel Lindoff'; 'This composition is now rung for the first time'; 'First peal in this method on the bells'; 'First peal in this method' became regular features of the peal notices of the times.

Much more could be written of this distinguished ringer and conductor if time and space permitted; not only did he receive a cordial welcome wherever he went ringing, but received many invitations to conduct the ringing when attending Guild meetings. He was a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association for many years and was largely responsible for the formation of the Suffolk Guild of Ringers when the new Suffolk Diocese was formed.

He always welcomed a ring with visitors and was delighted to help the younger ringers and beginners, especially of the Aldeburgh company with whom he rang the last four or five years. Here again he was a tower of strength.

Although of an outspoken and of independent nature, he was good-hearted and painstaking and, when one got to know and understand him, a true and good friend, as many can testify, applying himself wholeheartedly with a keen enthusiasm and determination to the object in view, whether work or play, and an inspiration to all who were privileged to know him, especially in ringing matters.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place at Leiston Cemetery on December 5th, the family mourners being:—Mr. and Mrs. Kersey (son-in-law and daughter); Messrs. N. R. and L. Bailey (brothers); Mr. R. Bailey (nephew); Mrs. G. Markwell, Messrs. A. and F. Markwell. Others included Mrs. G. Hammond, Mr. S. Kersey and Mr. H. Hemsall. The widow was unable to attend owing to prolonged illness.

The Richard Garrett Engineering Works were represented by Mr. A. D. Pipe (production superintendent) and Mr. A. Deal (foreman). The ringing fraternity was represented by Messrs. J. Pilgrim, Wm. Smith, P. Bedford (all of Aldeburgh) and G. Greenacre, of Leiston.

In the evening the bells of Aldeburgh Parish Church were rung half-muffled as a mark of respect, the ringing and those taking part being as follows:—720 Oxford Treble Bob; L. Woollard 1, R. Kersey 2, R. Peck 3, J. Pilgrim 4, O. Newson 5, N. R. Bailey (conductor) 6; and 720 Cambridge Surprise: R. Peck 1, A. Ling 2, J. Pilgrim 3, P. Bedford 4, Wm. Smith 5, N. R. Bailey (conductor) 6.

Whilst paying tribute to departed merit, much sympathy is extended to the widow (especially as she is so incapacitated), Mr. and Mrs. R. Kersey and the rest of the family.

MORE ABOUT STEDMAN

TO get the fullest possible enjoyment from Stedman, as indeed any method, it is essential that the striking should be accurate. The simpler the method the easier it should be to strike and, as Stedman is by modern standards a simple method, anyone who has been taught to handle his bell properly (and can therefore make it sound when he wants it to sound) and has a reasonably sensitive ear should be able to ring the method well after a few months' practice. Although it may be impossible to teach anyone to strike perfectly, certain advice derived from long experience can be given which may help to produce improvement if not perfection.

First of all, the key to all good ringing is accurate leading, and the higher the number of bells the more important this factor becomes, since the amount of time at one's disposal becomes increasingly less. It is fatal to hold up too long, even on the little bells, although there must be at least a suggestion of an open lead. Whether there should be what might be termed a 'unit' interval is open to question, especially in Cinques and Caters. To obtain the best results the bells should be pushed along slightly at hand and the intervals made very slightly wider at back, at any rate towards the end of the change. But the margin of difference is very small and it is only in the sixes around the course-end that it should be really noticeable. All may not approve of this practice, but most experienced Stedman ringers are agreed that the back-strokes at the course-end should be opened out.

The half-pulls at back-stroke and the back-stroke leads of the whole turns are also very important, and a keen ear should be kept on the tenor as well as on one's own bell so that correct leading can be achieved. The double-dodging 4/5, 6/7, etc., should present little difficulty once sufficient experience has given the necessary ropesight. Occasionally, although the ringer knows his position, he may not immediately see which bell he is to dodge with. In such a case the wise ringer will not wait and look round and round the tower in an effort to find his partner, but he will make the necessary adjustment to his 'pull' automatically and pull off as near as he can to his correct place. By that time he should either hear or see the other bell, or someone will tell him. In any case it is far better to cause a slight 'clip' rather than make a hiatus in the rhythm as a whole by holding up when in doubt.

Some ringers seem to find difficulty in knowing whether to go in slow or quick. While there are several popular methods of determining this if in doubt, such as remembering which way you went in before (not forgetting the effect of an odd bob) and acting accordingly, or watching your course bell and doing the opposite, or by watching the lead when you are in 5/4, none of them, the writer feels, is really satisfactory because a mistake on someone else's part can upset your calculations. It is far better, and not difficult, to learn which sixes of the course are slow and which quick from the position of the fixed bells; while at the end of the course the starts of various bells can be learnt as in Major, e.g., 3rds place—quick, 4ths place—slow, 6ths place—quick, etc. You will then be in a position to keep others right if necessary, which is far more satisfactory than having, as it were, to consult others yourself.

This last point will be touched upon again in a later article; enough must surely have already been said to show that the proper ringing of Stedman demands much more than knowing the initial rigmarole of 'double dodge up, lie, double dodge down, in slow, first whole turn,' etc.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

SINCERE THANKS

The Editor thanks the large number of readers who have sent messages of goodwill and appreciation this Christmastide. The year has been one of difficulty but progress. We have gained 250 new readers.

Bournemouth handbell ringers have essayed a new hurdle with a peal of Solicited Maximus in three methods 'in hand.'
They believe this is a new first for the Exercise.

Will those who have rung 40 or more peals during 1951 kindly send the following details on soon as possible: Number on tower bells, number conducted; on handbells ditto.

We are indebted to Mr. J. Michael Stephens, of Kempston, Bedford, for 'The Ringing World' Index, 1951, which we publish with this issue.

Mr. S. Jones, the veteran ringer of Eccles-ton, Cheshire, celebrated his 83rd birthday on December 13th by joining in a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples. The many ringers who have met Mr. Jones—some as recently as last Whitsuntide—will join with his friends locally in offering hearty congratulations and good wishes.

On the question of Duffield Royal, Mr. F.
Bennett, of Brighton, writes: I called a peal of Duffield Royal at St. Clement Danes' on January 19th, 1911. I don't know if this was the last one rung. The footnote reads: 'First peal of Duffield Royal by all the band, on the bells, by the Association and in the Metropolis.' It was a Kent County Association peal, and there are only four of us left.

In forwarding his subscription, Mr. F. S.
Wilson, of Lilliput, Dorset adds 10s. as a thankoffering for his partial return to better health after his long illness since December, 1950. Of his 107 peals, 64 were rung on handbells. Through our columns he desires to thank Mr. A. V. Davis, Mts. F. J. Marshall-say and Mr. D. T. Matkins for the peals they conducted in which he had the pleasure of taking part.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Among those who took part in the peal at Dersingham, Norfolk, in thankfulness for the King's recovery was Mr. Fred Rix, who works on the Royal Estate at Sandringham. A copy of the performance is being forwarded to the King by his Sandringham agent. A peal board is to be erected at Der-singham.

Mr. R. Roger Savory, who at the age of 21 is Ringing Master at Badsey, Worcs, would like to hear of other Ringing Masters younger than himself.

On December 15th eight members of the Midland Counties Guild rang three peals of London Surprise Major in three counties. All the peals were conducted by that brilliant young conductor from the Potteries—Mr.
Fredk. W. Grcott

The peal attempt of 11,360 Superlative Surprise Major has been postponed until December 29th on account of the seven days' notice not appearing in 'The Ringing World.'
Loughborough Foundry have kindly agreed to the change of date.

At the annual carol service of King Alfred's College, Winchester, on December 14th, touches of Grandsire Double 'in hand' were rung by three members of the St. Maurice's band. Can any Old Wintonian confirm that this is the first time handbells have been rung in the chapel for service?

Members of the Pride of Islington Lodge
M.U.I.O.O., London, N., wish to convey to

THE STORY OF SPLICED RINGING

By JOHN P. FIDLER

TO-DAY, when the ringing of 'spliced' peals is much more commonplace, it may be perhaps as well that the younger end be told something of the early teething troubles. Forty years ago such peals were rarer than four-leaved clover, and as far as the 'higher-ups' were concerned, not worth consideration.

When the first 'spliced' peal in fourteen methods was rung at Edenham, Lincolnshire, on Wednesday, February 15th, 1911, and conducted by the Rev. H. Law James, there was no publicity and no comments in the 'Bell News'—in those days there was no 'Ringing World,' the first issue appearing on March 24th, 1911. Possibly this was due to the attitude of the members of the Central Council of that period towards those low forms of humanity known as six-bell ringers.

The splicing of Minor methods was due to the efforts of the late Rev. H. Law James, who did not favour the ringing of multi-method peals in less than seven true 720's. It had long been the custom of the Yorkshire six-bell ringers to ring peals in fourteen 360's and they had fought a bitter struggle to keep this privilege.

At the Central Council meeting held in Leicester on Whitsun Tuesday, June 6th, 1911, the Rev. H. Law James moved:—

'That nothing shall be recognised as a peal of Minor unless it consists of at least seven true and complete seven hundred and twenties; but that the 5,040 may be extended by the addition of one touch of less than 720 changes, with or without extra 720's.'

On the motion of Mr. J. W. Parker, an amendment was agreed to, altering the first part of the motion to read 'that the Council recommend that peals of Minor shall consist of at least seven true and complete 720's etc.'

But in the report of that Council meeting there is no word of praise for the men who rang that first 'spliced' peal, yet it was the start of a new era in ringing history.

In the issue of the 'Bell News' dated June 17th, 1911, there is an unsigned article on the Central Council meeting and in it the writer goes on to say:—

'We had one breezy and characteristic speech from the Rev. H. Law James, the burden of which was that ten- and twelve-bell ringing was much overrated. He gave his reasons clearly enough, and his speech was quite clever enough to have convinced us if we hadn't known better.'

Then we come to the resolutions:—

'First Mr. James wanted to define a six-bell peal and, incidentally, to stop ringing fourteen 360's, a point which the Yorkshiremen were so sore about a few years ago. He would let you ring as many methods as you please, but you must ring whole 720's. The Council is never dull when Mr. James is speaking, but most of the members are eight-bell ringers and, apart from the speaker, the subject did not interest them very much.'

I have no doubt the young ringers of to-day will be surprised at such a confession: now one sees what six-bell ringers had to put up with.

'RINGING WORLD' RECOGNITION

At this point I wish to digress for a moment because the unknown writer goes on to say:—

'The last item on the agenda gave rise to a very considerable amount of unexpected heat. It was moved that the Council treat the new paper ("The Ringing World") in the same way that it does "The Bell News."'

Let us turn to 'The Ringing World' dated June 9th, 1911, wherein we find the following:—

In the absence of Mr. J. Parker (Royal Cumberland Youths), Mr. Trollope moved, and Mr. Dawe seconded:—

'That the Central Council give to "The Ringing World" recognition equal to that accorded to "The Bell News" for the publication of official reports and communications, and that any peals published exclusively in "The Ringing World" shall be counted in the Central Council analysis.'

'After a lengthy discussion, in the course of which opposition was actively led by the president, the previous question was carried by about twelve votes to six, in the meeting of sixty representatives, and the matter was therefore shelved.'

I make no apology for this digression but it will enable the younger ringers to learn something about the way the history of ringing develops and to those who get the chance I recommend that they read the first report of a Central Council meeting that appeared in 'The Ringing World.'

Now let us get back to our original subject. As could only be expected, the Rev. H. Law James wades in in the following issue of 'The Bell News' and the following is an extract from his article:—

'I turn next to the six-bell question, and the author states that "most of the members were eight-bell ringers, and apart from the speaker, the subject did not interest them much." This also is true; the average eight-, ten- and twelve-bell ringers take little or no interest in six-bell ringing and think that it is quite beneath their dignity, whilst the average six-bell ringers look with awe upon eight-, ten- and twelve-bell ringing, and think that it is far beyond their reach. Now this is just the point which I cannot agree with. A peal of Minor in seven methods, and, much more, a peal of Minor consisting of seven true 720's in fourteen methods is a much more difficult performance than the eight-, ten- and twelve-men think: whilst a peal of Maximus is a much simpler matter than the six-bell man imagines, and the sooner we get rid of these pernicious notions the better, and how are we to do so? There is but one way—try it and see.'

Later in his article, the Rev. H. Law James says:—

'Finally, a word to six-bell ringers. The Central Council collection of Legitimate Methods, Part I., contains all those Minor methods which are worth ringing, then why go on ringing worthless stuff like Woodbine and Violet?

FIRST INSTRUCTIONS IN SPLICING

'The book is not complete in itself. True, but in every Minor method the bob is always 4ths place. If the method has 2nds place made when the treble leads a whole pull, call the tenor W R W and you have a 720: if the method has 6ths place when the treble leads a whole pull, call the tenor I O I, and you have a 720: but in plain methods the callings have to be doubled, and two singles called to produce the 720: if there is 2nds at the plain lead, make 2nd, 3rd, 4ths at the single: if there is 6th at the plain lead, 4th, 5th and 6th at the single. This gives you a large variety of good methods, well worth ringing, and if you are not content with seven methods in a peal, then you can construct 720's in two plain methods by ringing 360 in one method and calling a S, and then 360 in the other, taking care that the two singles are alike, i.e., 2nd, 3rd and 4th in both methods or 3rd, 4th and 5th in both methods and that the rows in the courses are odd and even in the same way in each: and you can construct 720 in Treble Bob methods by substituting another plain course for the three plain courses which come up in every 720 with nine bobs, provided that the other plain course contains the same 120 as the plain course ones, for which it is substituted, for this gives true 720's in fourteen methods, which is surely better than fourteen 360's.'

And thus were the first instructions put forward for splicing Minor methods.

At the 1912 Central Council meeting held in London, there were more fireworks over the Rev. H. Law James proposal. Mr. George Bolland, that great Yorkshire six-bell ringer, wanted a peal of Minor to consist of at least one 720 and the remainder could consist of touches of not less than 240 in any method the performers desired to make up the 5,040. The reason why he stipulated for one 720 was because they got in it the whole of the working bells at a bob, whereas in half peals they did not, but got 'half-hunt' bells, as they were called. He thought Mr. James' resolution, if it were carried, would be a great blow to the six-bell ringers. They ought to be encouraged to ring as many methods as they could.

Poor old George! How wrong he was in thinking it would be a great blow to the six bell ringers; events have proved otherwise. Also Mr. James stated at that time that 31 methods spliced in a 5,040 was the limit. There was also a 'back room' boy working quietly but not saying much: I refer to Mr. E. H. Lewis, and in 'The Ringing World' of August 23rd, 1912, he gives some instructions on splicing Minor methods.

No doubt the Rev. H. Law James was putting something forward that was above the heads of the majority of six-bell ringers of that time but he had the courage of his convictions and pegged away. At first there were very few converts but he had the pleasure of seeing spliced ringing develop and progress.

REV. A. T. BEESTON'S ENTHUSIASM

Amongst the very few converts was the Rev. A. T. Beeston, secretary of the Chester Diocesan Guild, and it was from him that Spliced Minor got the greatest push, and as one who was in close contact with Mr. Beeston, I can say this without fear or favour. I do not propose to record the peals that resulted from his efforts but to note how they came to be accomplished. New Mills Parish Church had eight bells but the ringers were not a really progressive lot as a band while close at hand was Norbury with its six poor bells and a progressive band and the members of this band became the guinea pigs. Gradually A. T. B., as he was affectionately known, introduced the splicing of methods, but it was a slow, uphill struggle: the old, out-of-favour methods had to be discarded gradually, and the old fourteen 360 atmosphere killed. The setbacks were many but eventually, on July 12th, 1913, a peal in eighteen methods was rung at Norbury, conducted by the Rev. A. T. Beeston. This peal contained four hitherto unpublished legitimate methods, the work of Mr. E. H. Lewis. At first the target was 28 methods in seven complete 720's but ere they could reach this, the 1914 war broke out and that put paid to their efforts for a few years.

The year 1914 saw me as a novice having to spend more time watching the more experienced ringers struggling with their 'new-fangled' ideas, but the time was not wasted: it let one see that there was a lot more in ringing than one imagined, and to me and the other Norbury learners the efforts of the older ringers only whetted our appetites. Then came the end of the war, and when I was demobbed, in 1919, I returned home to find that Mr. James Fernley had lost no time in getting his band in reasonably good form. To those who knew Jim Fernley it is unnecessary for me to state what a stickler he was for good striking, and as a tutor few were his equal. The novices of 1914 had to be groomed and brought forward and within twelve months were capable of ringing a peal in seven methods. Meanwhile Mr. Beeston had been attending practices whenever his duties permitted and attending these practices entailed a walk of over seven miles. At that time three or four of us were out of work, which seemed to be a privilege of demobbed servicemen of that period. Whilst waiting for the Refresher Courses to commence at Manchester University, A. T. B. roped me in for some work wading through all the Minor methods to find out which would splice because he still had before him that target, which by now had increased to 35 methods to the 5,040.

By 1921 the practices at Norbury were practices. A. T. B. was down every Thursday night and on many occasions came down on other nights. At this juncture five of the band resided in Grove Street, Hazel Grove, and one was never surprised when a knock came on the door and the information given that Mr. Beeston was down and there would be a practice that night. It was fortunate that we had not to run all over the place to collect the band, and away we would go to tackle some new method. Our repertoire was increasing, and February 3rd, 1921, saw a peal in eighteen methods rung at Norbury; November 24th the same year, 23 methods. Such progress was stimulating and other ringers in the neighbourhood came in to swell the numbers, wishing to learn the new methods. Whilst this slowed down progress somewhat, it was strengthening the number of those who could ring spliced methods. By 1922 spliced practices at Denton and Disley were under way, so several of us had three practices a week in addition to Sun-day service ringing.

SOCIAL GATHERINGS

During the summer of 1922 Mr. Beeston started Saturday afternoon practices at different six-bell towers. At these our wives and sweethearts could attend; this killed two birds with one stone: it helped us to master the numerous methods we were ringing, and it stopped the grumbles from the lady folk, and, believe me, those grumbles were growing ominous and could have broken up the company. There was always a small social gathering afterwards and everyone was happy. Needless to say, such practices were beneficial. Mr. Beeston, being a bachelor, used to advise us youngsters, if ringing interfered with courting, to give up courting, so perhaps, as we did not take his advice, the Saturday practices were the outcome.

On Monday, January 2nd, 1922, a peal of Minor was arranged for Walter W. Wolstencroft, of Ashton, and George Hill, of Penistone, two converts to the new system. Incidentally, this was the last peal ever rung by Mr. Beeston, as he had to cease on his doctor's orders—soon after that he got married but that did not reduce his interest and, due to his plan of practices, those going in for spliced peals were not handicapped. Walter Wolstencroft made good progress for on January 21st, 1922, he rang his first peal in seventeen methods. Then again, although James Fernley was the main conductor, he did not keep the conducting to himself; Jack Hartley, his second in command, was quite capable. Jim's eldest son, William, too, could call, and the first peal I conducted was in fourteen methods.

PENALTY OF FAILURE

We started 1923 in grand style, a peal in 30 methods at Norbury on January 1st, and we closed the year with the famous 35-method peal on December 4th, but don't let the reader think we got it at the first attempt. I am glad to say that the Rev. A. T. Beeston heard the peal and was the first to congratulate us. During the previous months whenever we made an attempt for a peal, he was always informed and was

OXFORD RINGERS' OUTING

Encouraged by the success of their outing to Arundel and district in August, ringers attached to various towers in Oxford decided to try another outing. This time the Towcester district of Northamptonshire was selected, the date being Saturday, November 17th.

Again we were blessed with fair weather and again we were late leaving our assembling point due to the same offender. (I wonder of the notorious poor time-keeping of Oxford Bus Company is to blame!) However, we arrived at our first tower (Brackley) at the appointed time. After touches of Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles, Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob was rung; an attempt at Double Oxford just failed to 'make it.' On to Helmdon where we found the bells 'up' and our friend Bill Chester in charge. Bill has a keen ear for music and I don't think we disappointed him with our striking.

En route to Towcester we picked up another friend, Cyril Hinton, who, unfortunately, had sustained a hand injury and could not join in the ringing. After a splendid tea in a cafe near the church, the majority of the party spent one and a half hours in the tower of Towcester, four of the party, after enjoying '120,' going on by car to Paulerspury, and with two of the local band stayed long enough to ring 720 Plain Bob before rejoining us at Wicken, our last tower.

How proud the tower foreman is of the eight here, and rightly so, for they are delightful in tone and easy-ringing. After nearly two hours, during which touches of various Doubles, Plain Bob, London and Cambridge Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung, our veteran, Mr. Wilkins, 'let us down,' and except for a little inattention on the part of No. 2, when Queens was called, a delightful fall was enjoyed by all.

Returning to the local inn for refreshment, we were welcomed by a very brave invalid, who, with all the party, enjoyed some solo and community singing. Tempus fugit, so home to Oxford and, as one member remarked on leaving the coach, 'Book me for next year, D.V.'

Towers represented were Eynsham, Cassington, Taunton, Wolvercote, Ifley, St. Aldate's, St. Ebbe's. True democratic and Guild spirit contributed to another successful outing. N. C.

there from start to finish. Our punishment for a failure was we had to learn another method and it had to be tackled on and rung in the next attempt—well, was it punishment? Anyway, it was good practice. When all is said and done it is not a bad idea; set off for a seven-method peal, then if you break down tack on another method so that when you next meet it will be for an eight-method peal, and so on; all good practice.

As a result of the 35-method peal, 'Method Splicing' was produced, which gave assistance to many aspirants. Then came the last war to set ringing back slightly, but at the first opportunity lost time was made up and we have seen what Roland Beniston and his friends have done with the help of Kenneth Lewis—reached heights we never thought of. A pity those early advocates did not live to see these results. Mr. Lewis has been fortunate as he has been able to see the fruits of their labours. There are some who have lived to see it who scoffed at the idea—ringers are a funny crowd!

Such, in brief is the story of the growth of 'spliced' peals. No doubt I have missed some items but in an article covering the past forty years it is an easy thing to do. From my point of view it was great fun while it lasted. I was only too sorry that I was not able to continue with the 'spliced' Minor ringing in its advanced state but I had not the time to devote to it and it was left to others to carry on with the good work and a very satisfactory job they made of it.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World,'
December 29th, 1911

OUR ILLUSTRATION

Henry Burstow, a celebrated bell-ringer and song-singer

... Mr. Burstow joined the ringers in 1841. The (Horsham) ringers of that time were unable to ring changes at all, and every Saturday evening (he) walked to this village—eight miles. They used to ring from seven o'clock to ten, then adjourn to the Six Bells for a jollification, Mr. Burstow being in great demand on account of the large number of songs he knew, and after midnight he had to walk home. ... At his wedding, in 1855, he took part in a shoemakers' peal, which he conducted. In 1889, at Warnham, he took part in a peal of 13,440, and on his 65th birthday rang the seventh at Horsham to 6,720 Bob Major. His last peal was rung on June 9th, 1907, at Billingshurst, when he was 80 years of age.

'In song singing Mr. Burstow has won fame for many miles around his native town. He gives a list of 420 songs which he knew, and one can scarcely appreciate the delight which in his long life the old man must have given to rural audiences. Many of the songs have been preserved by the Folk Song Society in their publications.

ODD CHANGES

'A local gentleman has presented each of the fifteen ringers and probationers of St. Wulfram's Church, Grantham, with a goose, to mark his appreciation of the progress made in change-ringing during the past year. We have no doubt there are many other towers where similar treatment would not be discountenanced by the ringers should it come their way.'

THE BELLS OF EMMANUEL

A CAROL

Exodus XXVIII.

In vestments rare the Seer of old Evokes the 'Light of Light.'
His voice intoned with bells of gold
Seven Laws doth he recite.
As mystic fruit in measured line
Draw music from each bell,
Inspired, he sees a Child divine.
His name—'Emmanuel.'

Refrain

Ringers awake!—a myst'ry now reveal,
Soon dawn will break—enchanted by your peal.

Ring out the tidings, sound o'er hill and dell,
'It's Christmas Morn and Christ is born,
Christ is Emmanuel!'

Zechariah XIV.

The scene is changed. A caravan,
In torchlight, keeps the feast.
A HOLY NIGHT for every man,
Rest for each wond'ring beast.
Both mart and team from toil now freed
Enjoy rich gifts outpoured.
The Bells upon the horses read:—
'HO-LI-NESS to the Lord.'

Refrain: Ringers awake, etc.

Advent

Three Royal Sages, men of might,
Far in the Orient,
Observe a Star—exceeding bright,
And solve its great portent.
With Gold and Myrrh, and Incense sweet,
They seek where 'Light' and 'Bell'
By destiny will surely meet,
To find Emmanuel.

Refrain: Ringers awake, etc.

Christmas and Epiphany

The Star above a byre did stand,
Around the Angels sang.
A Shepherd lad, sheep-bells in hand,
A sweet 'Angelus' rang.
Lo—in a crib an Infant lays,
Born Prince of Israel.
Now worship they in songs of praise:—
NOEL—EMMANUEL.

Refrain: Ringers awake, etc.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RAILWAY CENTENARY PEAL

Dear Sir,—In response to Mr. E. W. Biffin, of Exeter, a peal (Kent Treble Bob Major) was rung by eight railwaymen on July 4th, 1925, at St. John's. Shildon, Co. Durham, by: W. Newton treble, A. Coates 2, W. D. Lister 3, G. W. Park 4, T. Clark 5, J. W. Newton 6, W. Broadley 7, R. B. Robinson tenor. The ringers of the treble and 6 were from Stockton, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7 from Darlington, and the tenor from Shildon. All were in the service of the L. and N.E.R. on the route of the old Stockton and Darlington Railway.

The peal was rung for the centenary of the S. and D.R., which was the world's first public passenger railway. The celebrations were attended by Their Majesties the King and Queen (then Duke and Duchess of York), and included a procession of locomotives and rolling stock from Stockton to Darlington. The procession was headed by the original Locomotion No. 1 (which is still preserved on the platform at Darlington station), and included various types of engines and rolling stock down to the latest modern giant. Afterwards all the vehicles were lined up for inspection by the public, and many locomotives, dining cars, sleeping cars and other rolling stock made by private firms for foreign and colonial railways were on view.

Various activities were organised in the towns most intimately connected with the S. and D.R. and culminated with thanksgiving services in various churches. Shildon was selected for the peal because it was very close to the church that the first train was put on the rails for its inaugural run, having perforce to be transported there by road. Tradition has it that when the fire in the boiler was laid, no means of ignition was to hand. Eventually a boy amongst the bystanders produced a magnifying glass, and with its aid the sun was induced to perform this most necessary function.

Four of the peal band still survive, but my father is the only one taking an active part in ringing. A board recording the peal hangs in the belfry at Shildon. It was presented by the works manager of Shildon L. and N.E.R. works.—Yours faithfully,

W. NORMAN PARK.

A RAILWAYMEN'S PEAL

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. E. W. Biffin's query, a Great Western Railwaymen's peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at the pro-Cathedral Church of St. Woolos, Newport, Mon., on May 27th, 1922. The following took part: A. Parnell, F. J. Bailey, sen., F. Viles, C. Greedy, H. West, Wm. Phillips, A. J. Pitman, J. W. Jones, F. Chamberlain (conductor), L. Wright.

With the exception of L. Wright, they all survive. 'J. W.' is 86 and still rings regularly for Sunday service.—Yours faithfully,

F. J. BAILEY, JUN.

Whitchurch, near Cardiff.

Dear Sir,—Replying to Mr. E. W. Biffin's query re railwaymen's peal, I called a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Philip's, Bristol, on October 6th, 1923, also a peal of Double Norwich at St. Andrew's, Chippenham, on April 24th, 1926. In each peal the entire band were employees of the G.W.R. Company. Both peals were rung for the Gloucester and Bristol D.A., and were published in 'The Ringing World' at the time.

Soon after these peals were rung, the late C. T. Coles, who was also a railwayman, wrote to me suggesting we should try and form a Railwaymen's Guild. I said we could certainly try, although at the time I only knew about twenty down this part. The next time I saw him he said he did not think there was much hope of forming it.—Yours faithfully,

A. E. REEVES.

Bristol.

CREWE PEALS

Dear Sir,—I was most interested in Mr. Biffin's letter re 'Railwaymen's Peal.' He will be interested to know that several have been rung—two in Crewe during 1919, both Grandsire Caters, the first one on May 14th, 1919, and the second on November 1st, 1919.

What about another one! Ringers could be drawn from all parts of British Railways.—Yours faithfully, RICHARD D. LANGFORD.

Crewe.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. E. W. Biffin's letter, a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at Newport, Mon., by all railwaymen on May 27th, 1922, and recorded in 'The Ringing World' on June 2nd, 1922. Conducted by Fred Chamberlain. Your humble rang the 8th.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. JONES.

Newport, Mon.

A PEAL OF ROYAL AT CREWE

Mr. Albert J. Hughes, of Bangor, forwards us a copy of a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal rung by L.M.S. railwaymen on March 8th, 1930, at Christ Church, Crewe. The ringers were E. Jenkins (conductor), H. F. Holding, R. D. Langford, J. H. Riding, A. J. Hughes, H. Overton, C. F. Page, R. T. Holding, J. W. Edge and A. E. Peglar.

NON-CONDUCTED OR SILENT PEALS

Dear Sir,—May I refer briefly to Mr. Dennis R. Carlisle's letter in a recent 'Ringing World' headed 'Silent Peals'? I am open to correction, but I do not believe there is any ruling by the Central Council on a non-conducted peal. I have the 1901 edition 'Glossary,' which states on page 46 that: 'Silent peal—a peal rung without a 'conductor,' i.e., one in which no 'calls' are given, the ringers effecting the operations required and represented by the 'calls' without any vocal warning.

I have always had the impression that a non-conducted peal should be rung without any word spoken or any sign that would assist any of the band, also that a witness must be present to verify the rules were carried out.

In 1930 we rang Holt's Original strictly to these rules, and we claimed the peal as non-conducted.—Yours faithfully,

T. E. SONE.

Paddock Wood, Kent.

SILENT PEALS

Sir,—Where is the distorting of facts Mr. Carlisle speaks of? In August, 1950, a band claimed to have rung three non-conducted and one silent peal. By Mr. Carlisle's own showing that was a misstatement: he admits the ringers picked up mistakes and that makes it at once conducted. It is obvious that some of the band could not have been satisfied and talked.

In October, 1951, twelve months after the peal, Mr. Cross (who is to be congratulated) brought it to the notice of the Exercise. Even then, if only one of the band had the courage to have written the next week and withdrew the claim and put it as 'No Bobs called,' no more would have been heard of the matter.

The majority of the Exercise, like myself, do not mind in the least whether peals are conducted, silent, or No Bobs, but we do want correct claims

A. H. PULLING.

Guildford.

A LOST PEAL

Dear Sir,—I have no desire to enter into the discussion re the Leicester peals but to mention points in Mr. Carlisle's letter.

Surely, a non-conducted peal must of necessity be silent also, since the correction of trips is obviously as much conducting as the calling of bobs.

If not, then ring such a peal opens up many evil ways, such as correcting a ringer who may have missed a bob, which is almost the same as calling it.

In my humble opinion a non-conducted peal should be rung in the presence of a competent umpire, who should not only start the peal off but check every course-end and have the authority to stop the peal for any reason which he feels necessary, such as bad striking or attempts to impart positions of bobs and the use of any spoken word or obvious sign.

When one rings a non-conducted peal one rings with a band of conductors. Therefore ringers reaching the stage necessary for this should obey the strictest of rules and be prepared to ring a peal or peals well above the average. I myself regard the correction of trips as conducting, and therefore consider all non-conducted peals must be also 'silent.'

In making such an attempt at Holloway earlier this year we adhered to this rule, and lost the peal through a trip that several spotted and could have been corrected within a few blows. We like to feel we were conscientious over it, and as a result lost the peal. We did, however, feel that we had achieved something and, as we had only a few courses to go, felt that had we been able to crown our efforts with success we should have rung something worth while with no elements of doubt whatever. I do feel that all non-conducted efforts should be like this, and if the spoken word is necessary then this should be as good a reason for losing a peal as a shift course, although there are some who do not even regard the latter as a good reason for loss.

I should be most interested to know if there is any official ruling on non-conducted peals.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM A. THEOBALD.

Holloway, N.7.

PERSONAL INTEGRITY

Dear Sir,—The wise words of Mr. Carlisle will appeal to all fair-minded ringers, coming, as they do, from one who neither took part in nor agitated against the notable performances of silent and non-conducted peals.

It is sad to know that the doubts cast upon the integrity of these highly-skilled and Sunday service ringers by your three correspondents have caused distress, and the restraint shown by those who rang is to be commended.

Were the same consideration given for the facts and a greater respect shown for these performances by Messrs. Cross, Pulling and Dexter, irrespective of which band of ringers take part, we should be nearer the realms of a ringers' world and not merely a ringing world.

Having rung with all ringers concerned, I am quite happy to accept their claims, as I am ready to accept the claims of the many conductors who are reported to have conducted peals correctly week by week in our journal.—Yours faithfully,

T. C. BELTON.

NOTE.—Questions are not cast upon the personal integrity of the ringers but on the definition of a silent peal.—Ed.

The peal at Hawkhurst in celebration of Miss H. Gorrings's 21st birthday was rung under the auspices of the Hawkhurst and District Guild and not the Kent County Association as published on page 803.

LETTERS—Continued

CARE OF ROPES

Dear Sir,—In a recent issue of 'The Ringing World' there was an article about some clergy making a charge to visiting, peal ringers of so much a rope for the use of the bells.

In these days, no doubt, the providing of a new set of ropes becomes a major item in church expenses, and I am afraid most ringers do not give a thought about the ropes and only hope they are good enough not to let them down in a peal.

In my humble opinion the wear of ropes in a peal is very small compared with teaching youngsters, as the strain is much greater than an expert would put on them, and I am sure if there is a belfry repair fund attached to the tower no ringers would abstain from putting in their mites.

Now for a few hints on the care of bells and ropes. I have been in charge of tower bells for 55 years and have had only two sets of ropes. My present set has been in use for 30 years and is in first-class order for peals at any time. There are very few towers where the ropes fall straight, and therefore there is friction at the holes through floors or guides, also in the garter holes of wheels and the dropping on the belfry floor. This is my remedy, i.e., wrap adhesive tape round the rope about a foot at the wheel and fix pulley on the floor, however small the rope is drawn. If it falls straight, grease well with Russian tallow the holes and guides; in fact, watch the ropes, and where there is friction use the tallow.

Re floor, a cork lino mat, polished with floor polish, prevents the rope butting out between the sally and end. The grease on the guides prevents the same above the sally.

In the case of iron frames where the ropes are closer together there is another point to remember: where the bell turns at backstroke the rope is thrown out of the wheel on to the iron frame, the edge of which is sharper than a wood frame. My remedy for this is a wood slat, 4in. wide and 3in. thick, fixed to the frame for the pulley wheel under the bells to 9in. above the frame. The rope then slides down the board without any friction. Therefore with a little self-sacrifice and attention on the part of anyone in charge of bells it would go a long way to prevent any grouching by the authorities re wear of their ropes.

I may say about 60 peals have been rung on the bells here, and 50 youngsters trained.—Yours faithfully,

LOUIS A. WILSON.

Wootton Bassett.

RAISING THE TENOR

Dear Sir,—A letter from A. A. R., Crediton, Devon, published in 'The Ringing World' of December 14th, did not give much praise to the modern bell foundry. He remarks, 'Who on earth is interested in how many pulls a tenor of 25 cwt. is raised in?'

When I read Mr. Alsop's account of the raising of the tenor that appeared in your issue of November 30th, I thought what a contrast to the old days when, as I have been given to understand, it would have taken two or three men to raise a bell of 25 cwt. with the same amount of pulls.

If A. A. R. looks around some of the towers in the West Country and notices the foot straps on the boxes that are now never used, he will no doubt appreciate what the modern engineer has done for the bellringer.—Yours truly,

R. E. HUDSON.

Cheddar, Somerset.

LIVERPOOL'S BELLS

Sir,—On page 799 the rhyme should read:—

Prescot, Huyton and merry Childow,
Three parish churches all in a row,
Prescot for poverty, Huyton for pride,
Childwall for ringing and singing beside.

Of interest with the Belfry Gossip note on Liverpool Parish Church bells: St. Nicholas' was built on a site adjoining the old Chapel of St. Mary del Quay about the middle of the 14th century, and until 1699 was a chapel to Walton. Nothing of this building, which from drawings appears to have possessed a west tower and spirelet, remains; a new stone spire replaced the spirelet in 1746, and six bells were hung. It is recorded in 1552 the tower had one great bell, and was first furnished with bells, a ring of four, from Drogheda in 1628.

In 1581 Liverpool contributed towards putting up three bells at Walton Church, and in 1736 three shillings for laying timber in the streets for the transport of bells to Walton.

Report that St. Nicholas' tower was in danger of falling down was given in 1788, and was ignored until some twenty odd years later. Then, during Sunday morning ringing, the ringers ran for it; one who returned for his coat and gold watch fell with the tower. The present tower was built in 1814, and on June 4th of that year Dobson's ring of twelve was opened. Mr. Albert Walker reminded us of the silver cup the Brummagem men won on that occasion and lost by entrusting it to a silver plater by name of Cooper. As a once well-known voice would have said, 'Well, chum, what would you have done?', or a well-known Dicky Sam, 'Fancy that.'

Liverpool's first peal is recorded rung at St. Peter's Church on November 9th, 1800, 5,040 Grandsire Triples, in three hours and seven minutes. St. Peter's ring of ten, now in St. Helens, was opened on Sunday, April 11th, 1830. The old eight were distributed locally. The rhyme, 'Ye rascally ringers, ye terrible foes,' etc., was sent to the Walton ringers nearly one hundred years ago, but was more than offset by one of Liverpool's by no means unknown sons, W. G. Herdman, writing in 1872:—

Sweet is the chime at Christmas time when Walton bells are ringing,
And village children simply rhyme in ancient carols singing,

The spirit flies o'er starry skies Heaven's raptures nearer bringing.

Peal on, sweet Walton bells, peal on, the listening soul is dreaming

Of unknown scenes when earth is gone and unknown glory beaming;

A starry light in the spirit's flight, and the bliss of heaven is gleaming.—Yours truly,
ERNEST L. HUMPHRISS.

Woolton, Liverpool.

THE FESTIVAL BELL

Dear Sir,—I should like to say how very grateful the ringers of St. Mary's, Kelvedon, Colchester, are to you for printing my letter regarding the recasting of our tenor, and the response to the appeal for £300 for the cost was very good. Now we are ringing once more, but in place of our old tenor we have the bell cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for the Festival of Britain, and it is a masterpiece of casting. It is not only beautiful to look at, but also to ring and hear, and blends in with the others perfectly.

No doubt several ringers saw this bell at the Festival Exhibition and heard it, as the hours were struck on it. She is 19 lb. heavier than our old bell, weighing 21 cwt. 13 lb., and we count ourselves honoured at having the Festival bell and very lucky that she was the right note, size and weight.—Yours sincerely,

J. ELLIOTT.

Kelvedon, Essex.

OBITUARY

MR. H. BIRD

We deeply regret to report the death of Mr. Henry Bird, of Broughton Astley, Leicester, on Sunday, December 9th, aged 65 years. He had been in failing health for some years and was not able to attend to his duties for the last twelve months as head ringer and sexton at St. Mary's Church.

Harry Bird, as we all knew him, was a faithful and devoted churchworker, a regular attendant at church services and for service ringing. He was secretary of the Parochial Church Council and sexton for some years. Harry was Hinckley District chairman 1943-46, during that difficult period when the Leicester Diocesan Guild was formed. It was to his great joy in 1945 that the restoration of the bells at Broughton Astley was decided upon. He was asked to be the appeal secretary. This task he carried out in his usual quiet, efficient way with success, and the ring is a tribute to his efforts.

Mr. Bird leaves a widow and one son. The funeral was on December 12th, the service being conducted by the Rector (Rev. C. A. Turner). All sections of the village life were represented at the service. The Hinckley District ringers paid their respects during the evening, when a peal of Bob Minor, half-muffled, was rung. May he rest in peace W. R. D.

MR. CHARLES F. BAILEY

AN APPRECIATION.

The death of Charles Bailey, of Leiston, marks the passing of one whose name between the two wars became almost legendary. Many knew of him but few, beyond his immediate circle, knew him personally, for he travelled but little beyond the confines of his native Suffolk. There was no need, for he and his talented brothers could get all the ringing they wanted at home. He attended the great Croydon meeting in 1932, unknown to most, and I had the pleasure of introducing him to many who desired to make his acquaintance.

The brothers made ringing history in 1911, when they rang a peal of Bob Major. This was followed by Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and Stedman Triples on tower bells, and by Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major to Maximus and Stedman Triples to Cinques on handbells, all under the conductorship of Charles F. Surely amazing performances for a band of brothers! Not in our time shall we see their like, and the chances are there will never be another band like theirs. His total of peals is about 400, of which he conducted all but a very few. Some excerpts from peal footnotes will illumine the exploits of this famous band:—

Leiston, December 11th, 1926: 50th consecutive Surprise peal on bells.

Leiston, December 12th, 1931: 10th different Surprise method in year.

Leiston, March 28th, 1932: In five months C. F. B. had conducted eight different Surprise peals from eight different bells.

Leiston, March 11th, 1933: 18th different Surprise method.

Leiston, January 6th, 1934: 100th peal on bells for Suffolk Guild, all conducted by C. F. B.

These will show what manner of man he was. He will be sadly missed by the many friends who appreciated his great abilities as a ringer and conductor. R.I.P. C. J. S.

TURRAMURRA, SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA.—On Nov. 25th, 1,260 Doubles in eight methods: B. Rainford 1, L. Butcher 2, J. Clark (cond.) 3, K. Stacey 4, W. Smith 5, J. Hordern 6. Rung as a tribute to Mr. R. H. McDonald, a former captain of St. Mary's, Sydney, who was 'called home' earlier in the day, in his 96th year.

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD

Southern District

The Southern District held a successful meeting at Lillington on December 1st, when about 25 members attended. The eight bells were kept going until the service, which was conducted by the Rev. J. A. Carter, Vicar. A very nice tea was served and much enjoyed. The bells were again busy after tea.

Towers represented: Allesley, Bishops Itchington, Harbury, Ladbroke, Lillington, Long Itchington, Leamington Spa, Southam, Stratford-on-Avon, Warwick and Wroxhall. The following were proposed new members: Messrs. Oakley and Wyatt (Leamington Spa) and Gordon Smith (Harbury).

The next meeting will be at Snitterfield on January 5th.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Exeter Branch

The annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers was held at St. David's, Exeter, on December 15th.

The service was conducted by the Rev. W. H. Major, Vicar, who gave the Branch a very warm welcome. Mention was made in the address of the important work the ringers performed in the service of the church and the real improvement it made to the size of the congregation when the bells were rung for the services; and to those who seldom went to church, the music of the bells reached them with the information that the church and her prayers were there for them also. Mr. Sayer again ably obliged at the organ.

About 55 members and friends then adjourned to the Institute for the tea and business meeting which followed. The chair was taken by Mr. T. G. Bartlett, supported by Preb. E. V. Cox, Guild president, the Very Rev. A. R. Wallace, Chancellor D. McLaren, and Mr. F. C. Smale, vice-presidents, the general secretary and the general treasurer. The visitors, who came from all parts of the county and beyond, were heartily welcomed. Apologies were accepted from the Vicar of St. David's and Mr. F. H. Gardner, life member, for their absence.

Reference to the sad loss to the Guild by the death of Mr. T. Laver, of Exeter, a past holder of many offices in the Guild and for 36 years the hon. secretary of the Cathedral band, and Mr. T. W. Oldridge, who had been a keen and regular ringer at Newton St. Cyres for the past 30 years, was made. A short service was observed as a token of respect to their memory.

Arising from the minutes, the question arose as to why the Branch was at St. David's and not at St. Mark's as proposed. The hon. secretary read the reply received from the Vicar of St. Mark's on application for permission, which stated St. Mark's already had a function arranged for December 15th, but invited the Branch to come on a future occasion. The secretary was instructed to write to St. Mark's Vicar with the thanks and understanding of the Branch.

Mr. J. G. M. Scott, shortly to be ordained into the ministry of the church, and being appointed to St. Thomas', Exeter, assistant clergy, was formally transferred to the Exeter Branch from the S.W. Sincere thanks were extended to the retiring chairman for his valuable services.

Mr. J. G. M. Scott was proposed as the new chairman, seconded by the Dean, who recommended him, as his old schoolmaster. As the ideal nomination for the appointment, Mr. Scott was duly elected. The remainder of the officers were elected to continue: Mr. F. Wrexford, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. F. Wills, assistant hon. secretary; Mr. E. W. Biffin, Ringing Master; Messrs. E. W. Biffin, H. J. Corry and H. Butt, representatives on the general committee.

The annual report for 1951 was read and adopted, the main points being progress at Heavitree, Thorverton and Tedburn, and the Ringers' Rally held at Exeter in connection with the Festival celebrations.

Arising out of the report, mention was made of the withdrawal of Okehampton band. It was decided that Mr. F. C. Smale negotiate with those concerned to try to keep them in the Guild.

Miss R. Buchthal, who was elected as unattached member, has come to reside in the district, and was accorded a warm welcome. It is hoped that she will take an active part in ringing in Exeter. Mr. R. Wilmington, recently incapacitated by the loss of a leg, was recommended to be put on the roll of life members.

Mr. E. J. Ryall's proposal that a ladies' branch be formed in the county did not receive support, so was rejected.

The Branch hopes to hold its next meeting at Newton St. Cyres on February 9th, subject to the usual permission being granted. Reference was made by the president to the usual annual general meeting to be held at Coombe Martin on Easter Monday, and he requested Branch members to keep this occasion in mind. A proposal that the secretary arrange a coach trip on that day was carried.

The new chairman referred to the financial problem being at present experienced by 'The Ringing World,' and urged all present to consider being subscribers.

The meeting was closed with the usual votes of thanks to those who contributed to the success of the meeting. St. David's and the Cathedral bells were utilised to the full until 8.30 p.m. Ringers then went their separate ways home after a little gossip over the inevitable well-earned refreshment. F. W.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

On December 8th a quarterly meeting of the Guild was held at the Church of St. Mary, Burry Port, and although the weather was very bad it did not prevent ringers coming from Tenby, Carmarthen, Llandilo, Llanelly and Sketty.

The bells were placed at the disposal of the ringers at 2.30 p.m. and after some ringing on the five bells for an hour, the ringers attended the service at 3.30 p.m. at which the Vicar, the Rev. T. J. Thomas, officiated. The lesson was read by Mr. Scaife, and Mr. Richards was at the organ.

After the service the ringers were entertained to a very nice and welcomed tea at the Church Hall, and they were made quite at home on this very cold and wet day.

The usual business meeting was held after the tea at which the Vicar kindly presided. The usual touch on the handbells by three members of the Guild started off the meeting.

Very hearty votes of thanks were extended to the ladies who provided the tea, and for making the members very comfortable, and to the Vicar, the Rev. T. J. Thomas, Mr. Scaife and Mr. Richards, all of whom are members of the Guild.

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION

North-Western District

Favoured with a fine day, the meeting held at Wimbledon on December 1st was well attended. A service was held at St. Mary's Church, and all admired the redecorated and effective lighting of the building. Over 42 ringers, representing 14 district towers, attended, besides a number of visitors.

All the 1951 officers were nominated for 1952. Further ringing took place at St. Mary's, Putney. The sum of 20s. 3d. was subscribed to the General Bell Fund. R. L.

THE ELY ASSOCIATION
Huntingdon Branch

A meeting of the above Branch was held at Great Staughton on December 14th. Although only 16 sat for tea, some 24 members attended. Surprise methods on St. Andrew's six were well up to standard, including London, Beverley, York, Wearmouth, Norwich and Cambridge. It was pleasing to note several younger ones in attendance. As is usual, 'The Ringing World' was discussed, and it is hoped more will be subscribers in the new year. The Guild's service was conducted by the Vicar, Mr. F. Warrington read the lesson. F. W.

THE BELLRINGERS

TO JEREMY AND MICHAEL.

Each Sunday morning off I run
To sing in the church choir.
But oh! to ring a bell as well.
My secret hopes aspire.

I'd love to pull a rope and hear
My bell clang through the tower.
But Daddy says I'm still too small.
My arms have not the power.

However, when I've grown a bit,
I'll climb the belfry high.
Though I may sing, the men who ring
Seem near Heaven than I!

Ulcombe Rectory, Kent. L. M. B.

Note.—Jeremy and Michael, the sons of a ringer, are looking forward to the day when they can join the belfry.—ED.
