Reference was made to the passing of Mr. James George, a vice-president of the Guild. In doing so, Mr. Frank E. Haynes said that although Mr. George had lived away from Birmingham for the last few years of his life, he had been closely associated for many years with most of the older members of the Guild and had been a very fine heavy bell ringer. The chairman asked all to stand for a moment as a last tribute of respect.

Miss Freda Morton (Handsworth), Mr. Douglas Harrison (Hatton) and Mr. Harry Dickens (Sutton Coldfield) were elected full ringing members and the tower elections of the following life members were duly ratified:—Mrs. T. Francis (Camden) and Messrs. Roydon Davies, Frank E. Darby, E. W. Razzell (Croydon), Noel J. Diserens (Reading), Thomas J. Southam (St. Albans), Eric Edmondson (Hatfield) and Hubert E. Ashley (Bulkington).

The problem of meeting the cost of recording peals was introduced by Mr. John Pinfold, who considered that, in view of the increase in the number of peals rung, the time had come when peal ringers should bear a portion of the cost of writing up the peal book. It was unanimously decided to institute a peal booking fee of sixpence per ringer for each peal, the conductor to be responsible for its collection. In this connection the chairman mentioned that the Guild had been the recipient of a new peal book, beautifully bound, the very generous gift of Mr. J. Frank Smallwood, and he asked the secretary to record the gift in the minutes.

A letter from the manager of the Imperial Hotel was read, stating that the Connaught Room was in great demand for 1952 and that the only suitable date that could be offered to the Guild for the Henry Johnson Dinner was March 15th. The chairman regretted the necessity of departing from the custom of holding the function on the first Saturday in March, but there seemed no alternative, and he hoped that everyone would make a note of the date.

The chairman referred to the proposed summer meeting of the Ancient Society of College Youths which would be held in Birmingham on June 9th and he hoped to see a good attendance from members of the Guild particularly those who were also College Youths.

It was decided that the next meeting of the Guild be held at Yardley Parish Church on July 7th, subject to the approval of the Vicar.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. H. J. Fitter, to the Vicar for conducting the service, and to the ringers of Aston for organising the tea.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL

When the Bristol Rural Branch met at Olveston on March 31st, Mr. C. R. Harding, who was voted to the chair, as the Association's Master (Mr. J. G. Jefferies) declined the honour, commented on the branch's strong official position. He pointed out that Mr. F. Skidmore was again hon. secretary and Mr. J. G. Jefferies Master of the Association.

John Pitt (Tytherington) and Donald Meredith (Olveston) were elected members and the forthcoming meetings suggested were Warmley (6), April 28th, and Tytherington (5), May 26th.

Dr. Lowe (Vicar) conducted the Association's new form of service assisted by the Rev. Allan (chairman of Wotton-under-Edge Branch). Ringing to satisfy all tastes was provided

THE GUILDFORD

New Form of Service: Other Associations Invited to Co-operate

HOPES that special ringing in every tower would mark the opening of the Festival of Britain were expressed in the annual report presented to the Guildford Diocesan Guild at its annual meeting at Guildford on April 7th.

Previous to the meeting there was ringing on the Cathedral and S. Nicolas' bells and the Guild service was held in the Saxon church of St. Mary, where the six bells are shortly expected back from the foundry after retuning. Canon R. G. Clitherow conducted the service and gave the address. Tea was served in S. Nicolas' Hall, arrangements being made by Miss W. Oliver assisted by other helpers.

The Master (Mr. A. Harman) presided at the business meeting, supported by the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. G. L. Grover), the assistant secretary (Miss W. Oliver) and the hon. auditor (Mr. Leslie Hunter). The officers were re-elected and a ballot resulted in Messrs. G. Grover, A. Harman, A. C. Hazelden and A. H. Pulling being returned as representatives of the Guild on the Central Council.

The Executive Committee's report, presented by Mr. G. L. Grover, gave a total membership of 577 (ringing 465, honorary 112). Restorations reported were the augmentation of Esher ring from six to eight, recasting of Ash bells, work on Ockley bells, Capel's and Frensham's in the hands of the bell founders, and St. Mary's, Guildford, bells shortly to be rehung.

Losses by death included Mr. Jonathan Corbett (Guild treasurer and chairman of the committee that promoted the foundation of the Guild in 1927), Messrs. C. Edwards and T. Upshall (Farnham), W. Holden (Cobham), G. W. Steere (one-time member of the band at Guildford Cathedral).

There was a marked decrease in peal ringing activity. Only 34 peals were rung as against 42 in the previous year. The Guild's first peal on 12 was achieved by the way of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin-in-the-Fields as an 'In Memoriam' peal to George Steere. The fresh methods added were Banstead Surprise Major (by the local band at Banstead) and Aldenham Surprise Major rung at Ewhurst. There were 17 conductors.

The accounts presented by Mr. L. C. W. Hunter showed balances of £86 9s. 1d. (against £40 5s. 5d.) on the Guild account, £110 15s. 7d. in the Benevolent Fund and £58 5s. 4d. in the Cathedral Bell Fund.

Seventeen new members and two compound-member members, Mrs. B. C. Castle and Mrs. A. J. N. Rance, were elected.

DIOCESAN GUILD

The main business was the revision of rules which were accepted with an amendment that live ringing membership should be abolished and honorary ringers' life subscriptions be one guinea. A new rule was added on the proposition of Mr. T. W. White that all moneys in the possession of the Guild and District should be banked in the name of the Guild and Districts respectively.

Mr. G. S. Joyce reported on the revision of the Guild's form of service and that the draft form was acceptable to the Norwich Diocesan Association, some very good suggestions having been made by the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow. Other Guilds were invited to join in and costs would be appreciably reduced if the initial printing order was substantial.

On the proposition of Mr. A. J. Lindley, the Executive Committee was authorised to spend up to £15 on printing the form of service when authorised by the Bishop.

RELATIONSHIP WITH SURREY ASSOCIATION

A discussion was initiated by Mr. W. Simmonds with a view to the Executive Committee meeting the Surrey Association and defining boundaries so as to prevent overlapping.

Mr. T. W. White pointed out that the Central Council were concerned over this matter.

Mr. A. H. Pulling commented that the matter had been in dispute since he was a boy.

Mr. Dan Cooper expressed the view that there was no solution to the problem.

Mr. R. Whittington thought a lot more harm than good would be done by re-opening the discussion. It generated bad feeling and had been talked about 40 years ago, when Guildford was part of the Winchester Diocesan Guild.

On the proposition of Mr. H. V. Young it was agreed to approach the Surrey Association with a view to the two executives meeting and seeing if some plan could be formulated.

Another discussion ensued on the question of whether or not the Guild should make official appointments of instructors. Mr. Simmonds, who advocated this step, said progress would not be made until they tackled the question from the bottom—in the towers themselves.

The hon. secretary pointed out that Districts were empowered to spend 2s. 6d. a time on instruction.

Mr. Young proposed that, if possible, those wishing to be instructors in the Guild should have that recognition. The matter was left to the Executive to make any such appointments.

Guildford was selected for the next annual meeting and it was decided to hold the Guild Dinner on October 20th.

CUMBERLAND AND NORTH WESTMORLAND ASSOCIATION

RINGERS in Cumberland and North Westmorland made their way in a snowstorm to St. Bees on Easter Monday for their annual general meeting and were joined by ringers and their ladies from Barrow.

Ringing up to Double Norwich preceded the meeting, which was presided over by the president, the Rev. C. E. Last (Vicar of St. Bees). On the motion of the secretary, those present stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mr. G. W. Tembey, a staunch supporter of change ringing in Cumberland for 50 years.

The secretary, in his report, stated that the activities of the Association had been good especially in the Western Branch, but the Eastern Branch had great travelling difficulties which was the reason for Penrith and Kirkby Stephan having withdrawn from the Association. This also accounted for the slight decrease in subscriptions in the treasurer's financial report which, however, showed an increase of just over £2 in the balance as compared with 1949, although expenses had occurred which would not happen again for some years.

The ringing secretary reported that several peal attempts had been made without success but the prospects for 1951 were much better. The ringing at meetings had been good and the number of methods rung had been increased, but he stressed the need for more care in the striking.

Before the election of officers, the retiring president was thanked for his very keen interest in the Association, he having been to every meeting during his year of office. The Rev. G. D. Jackson, Keswick, was elected as president for the ensuing year, and the following were re-elected:—Hon. general secretary, J. W. Brownrigg, Keswick; hon. treasurer, R. F. Grisdale, Keswick; ringing secretary, S. Richardson, Hensingham.

A long discussion followed on the motion that the proposed first annual report of the Association should be printed and the amendment that owing to the cost it should be typed and duplicated; it was eventually decided to print the report.

The service which followed was conducted by the Rev. C. E. Last who, in his address, thanked the ringers for the fine work they were doing, but not to forget, in their enthusiasm for ringing, that it was work for the Church, and if there was no Church there would be no ringing.

An excellent tea was provided by the ladies of St. Bees ringers and the day finished with some more ringing on this rather moderate-going but lovely-toned night.

ST. IVE, CORNWALL, REOPENING

On Easter Monday, despite the inclement weather and the fact that the county football cup finals were in progress, a good number of ringers gathered at St. Ive to attend the opening of the six bells.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. R. G. Martin, who also gave the address. Tea was served in the schoolroom, where the Rector thanked the ladies for providing the tea.

The visiting ringers were from Liskeard, Callington, Linkinghorne, Crantock, Kea, Kenwyn and Truro Cathedral. All were thanked by the captain, Mr. G. Hoskins, for helping to make the gathering a success.

After tea the ringers returned to the tower where the ringing was held up for a time to allow ringers to inspect the work done by the local bellhangers. Numbers 2, 3, 4 and 5 have been fitted with new headstocks and ball bearings. The tenor is also on ball bearings. The whole frame has been strengthened and some parts renewed. The work has been carried out by R. H. Libby and Son.

SOME SPRING OUTINGS

BEDFORD AND NORTHANTS

Leaving St. Peter's, Bedford, at 6.30 a.m., Bedford and Northants ringers visited four 12-bell towers and two 10's on April 7th. Ringing took place at West Bromwich, Coalbrookdale (where is the grave of the late ringing captain with an unusual stone showing ten bells complete with ropes and sallies) St. Chad's and St. Mary's, Shrewsbury, St. Matthew's, Walsall, and St. Peter's, Wolverhampton.

At tea, at Shrewsbury, Mr. W. A. Farmer and Mr. Russell (formerly St. Paul's, Bedford) were welcome guests. After tea, Mr. Ernest Whitmore expressed appreciation to Pat Chapman for arranging such an ambitious programme.

The writer left the coach at Kettering at about 1.15 on Sunday morning and some of the other had still 40 miles to go. P.I.C.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

The Guildsborough and Daventry Branches had a full but rainy day on Easter Monday leaving Long Buckby at 8 a.m. Ringing took place in the towers at Welford-on-Avon (6), Norton (8), Bretforton (8), Broadway (6) and Mickleton (8).

THAKEHAM

Seven six-bell towers in Surrey were visited by Thakeham (Sussex) ringers on Easter Monday. The party included guests from Washington, Storrington, Itchingfield and Horsham.

The towers were Ockley (newly rehung but care required on the back two bells), Newdigate (a light six in a 15th century wooden tower), Charlwood (a grand six in a Norman central tower), Leigh (ringing here under difficult conditions, as ringing chamber is on the ground floor under a west gallery), Buckland (a light six in a wooden turret), Merstham (where one rope broke and another cast wheel), Burstow (good ringing here, although the treble proved difficult to hear). The thanks of the party are due to the captain of the Thakeham band for his excellent arrangements.

The Oxford Society will be broadcasting on Thursday between 9 and 10.15 p.m. Bells to be heard are Carfax (6), Magdalen College (10), Merton College (8) and Christ Church (12).

VETERANS WHO RANG IN THE LAST CENTURY

We have this week some interesting names to add to our record of veterans who rang in the last century.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards, of Kington Magna, Dorset, writes that he thinks his first peal was of Bob Major on handbells at Cambridge on December 1st, 1896. On May 2nd, 1897, he rang 9-10 at Cambridge in the first handbell peal of Bob Royal ever recorded in the College Youths' peal book. Both these were conducted by Mr. G. F. Woodhouse.

'My few tower bell peals,' he adds, 'include Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples and Cinques. One of Grandsire Triples was at Colerne, Wilts, the first rung by Royal Arch Masons.

'Recollections of a personal interest to me are that I rang at St. Saviour's, Southwark (as it then was) for Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee; at Westminster Abbey for Queen Alexandra's funeral; at St. Margaret's for King George V.'s Jubilee visit to Westminster Palace and at St. Paul's Cathedral for the Christopher Wren Tercentenary. I have rung or chimed church bells in eleven different countries.'

SURREY FIRST PEALERS

Mr. A. H. Winch, of Leatherhead, has supplied us with the following list of Mid-Surrey ringers who rang their first peal in the 1890's:—

David Anscombe, Ashted, 1894; John H. White, S. Nicolas', Guildford, 1894; Alfred A. Dobinson, Dorking, 1894; Thomas Newnham, Ashted, 1897; Arthur C. Otway, Ashted, 1898; John Hoyle, Christ Church, Epsom, 1898.

William R. Crockford took part in a peal at Leatherhead in 1896 but Mr. Winch is not certain whether it was his first. In addition John Crawford and Alfred Mann rang in several peals at Christ Church, Epsom, in the late '90's.

Mr. Alfred E. Reeves, of Totterdown, Bristol, 3, rang his first peal on October 6th, 1896, at St. Giles', Reading, and by the end of 1899 he had rung 77 peals.

ESSEX 'OLD TIMERS'

Mr. Harry Allen, of Chelmsford, and Mr. George Green, of Great Baddow, rang their first peal together at Widford, Essex, on February 14th, 1890. The method, Grandsire Triples (Penning's one part), was conducted by the late Arthur Edwards. Now, at the age of 81 years, Mr. Harry Allen still takes an active part in ringing at the Cathedral Church of St. Mary, Chelmsford.

Mr. George Green is Master of the band at St. Mary's, Great Baddow, where for the past 63 years he has taken his place to ring the bells on all occasions. At 79 years of age Mr. Green still has a very keen ear and when they are well and truly rung a smile is a sure sign that George is satisfied.

Mr. T. East, of Gidea Park, Essex, who rang several peals with the Rev. F. E. Robinson and Mr. J. W. Washbrook, rang his first peal at St. Andrew's, East Hagbourne, Berks, on St. Andrew's Day, 1892.

Mr. Arthur Saunders, of Greenstead Green, near Halstead, Essex, rang a peal in seven minor methods at Stisted, Essex, on January 16th, 1898. Mr. Walter Burst, of The Green, Earls Colne, also took part in this peal.

MACCLESFIELD VETERANS

There are three Macclesfield veterans of the last century—Mr. William Gayes (leader of Christ Church) Mr. Wilfred Matthews (leader of the Parish Church) and Mr. John Minshall (who still rings occasionally). Mr. Gayes' first peal was Grandsire Triples, on January 10th, 1893, and he rang in Mr. Wilfred Matthews' first peal (Grandsire Triples), on February 7th, 1893. Mr. John Minshall scored his first peal on May 16th, 1893 (Grandsire Caters). All the peals were rung at St. Michael's, Macclesfield.

THREE LADY RINGERS

Mr. W. T. Tucker, of Eastleigh, writes calling attention to the omission from the list of veterans of the last century of the Misses Dora and Alice White. He had the pleasure of ringing his first touch of Bob Major with them in 1899 conducted by their father, Mr. Henry White.

THE MISSES ALICE AND DORA WHITE
From a photograph taken in the last century.

Miss Alice White was the first lady to ring a peal on tower bells. This took place at St. Michael's, Basingstoke, on February 12th, 1896, when, at the age of 15, she rang the treble to Holt's ten part of Grandsire Triples. She rang in many peals and is now Mrs. Y. C. Sullivan, Box 457, Georgetown, Ontario.

Mrs. E. D. Mack (née Dora White) of Keswick, London Road, Basingstoke, has sent us details of her first peal, rung at the age of 13, at St. Michael's, Basingstoke, on July 17th, 1897, the method being Grandsire Triples. She writes: 'My sister and I rang our first peal of Stedman Triples together in 1902 with the late Rev. F. E. Robinson. I was made a performing member of the Winchester Guild at 11 years of age and rang a tower bell at nine years. When I was a school girl my father had a very small set of handbells made that he could put in his coat pockets when he took us away ringing. We (father and myself) rang four each. He taught me to ring a plain course of Treble Bob Major four-handed. We also did a good deal of tune ringing. My sister and I still both love tower and hand bells.'

There was a third lady who rang a peal with them in the last century—Miss Frances Whyley, daughter of the Rev. F. Whyley, Vicar of Alton. She rang her first peal at Basingstoke (Grandsire Triples) on December 8th, 1898. Our correspondent does not know whether she is still alive.

BOLTON'S FIRST PEAL

The first peal for the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association was Grandsire Triples on December 16th, 1895, at St. George's, Bolton. It was the first peal for all the band except the tenor man. There are three survivors, viz., Messrs. Henry Moss (conductor), William Tebay and Alfred Rushton.

Mr. Frederick J. Lambert, of Horsmonden, Kent, rang six peals in the last century, his first being Grandsire Triples, on April 15th, 1893.

GLOUCESTER'S VETERAN

Mr. Sidney E. Romans, vice-president and Past Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, who is now in his 83rd year, is still a regular service ringer at Gloucester Cathedral. He joined the Association in 1885, and rang his first peal of Grandsire Triples in 1887. During the last century he rang just over 100 peals.

Mr. H. Miles, of Carbis Bay, writes that his elder brother and himself both rang peals of Stedman Triples with the Rev. F. E. Robinson in the 19th century, the first having been rung in the autumn of 1899. His brother still rings in an Oxfordshire village. Mr. Miles is the last survivor of the band that rang in the Rev. F. E. Robinson's 1,000th peal.

Mr. George Halksworth (aged 84), of Scarborough, and formerly of Doncaster, rang his first peal on February 13th, 1897 (Holt's 10 part, Grandsire Triples) for the Doncaster Society of Change Ringers. He is now the only survivor of the band. Mr. Halksworth has rung about 100 peals and but for a bad knee which prevents him climbing the belfry steps would still be an active ringer.

From Los Angeles, California, Mr. Ernest Weatherby writes that he learnt to ring with the late Mr. W. H. Shuker at Market Drayton in 1887 and rang his first peal in that tower in 1895. Mr. John Gibson, of Whitchurch, who is now 96, walked 14 miles to take part in the peal.

A BRIGHTON TRIO

Three members of St. Nicholas', Brighton, rang peals in the last century, viz., G. Ades, 1890; H. Stalham, 1896; and F. Bennett on March 2nd, 1899. All were Grandsire Triples.

Mr. Harry Warnett, of Lewisham, took part in 72 peals during the last century, his first being on February 28th, 1891.

Mr. George Daynes, of Greenwich, rang his first peal on April 18th, 1891.

Mr. Henry G. Miles, of 31, Aldensley Road, London, W.6, took part in three peals during the 19th century, all at St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington, and conducted by Mr. W. E. Garrard. 'The first,' he writes, 'was in November, 1899, the others in 1900, one being in May for the relief of Mafeking. I cannot understand why some people think that the year 1900 was in this century; a cricketer out for 99 has not scored a century.'

IRISH ASSOCIATION

Northern District

Over 100 members attended the District's annual meeting at Coleraine on Easter Monday when Mr. W. Pratt (president of the Association) presented the Attendance Shield to St. Donard's Society, who won it in the first year of their existence.

Officers re-elected were:—Messrs. W. Rogan (Belfast) vice-president of the Association and chairman; J. T. Dunwoody (Holywood) hon. secretary; J. Dixon (Coleraine) hon. treasurer; H. Brown (Holywood) Ringing Master; J. J. Fielding (Londonderry) assistant hon. secretary.

The Festival of Britain programme was outlined by the hon. secretary; it includes ringing in all towers on May 3rd from 7—9 p.m.; peal attempts in all towers by best ringers; special peal attempts at St. Donard's on June 1st and at Hillsborough on June 2nd for the visit of H.M. the King to the Northern Ireland Festival Exhibition. The B.B.C. are co-operating with the District for broadcasts on April 10th, the bells of St. Colmba's, Londonderry, will probably be heard on May 3rd as well as the bells of Enniskillen.

Placings in the competition for good striking which followed lunch were:—1. St. Donard's (Belfast). 2. St. Thomas' (Belfast), 3. St. Patrick's (Ballymena).

OBITUARIES OF THE WEEK

MR. CHARLES DEAN

Mr. Charles Dean, of Croydon, whose regretted death on April 9th, at the age of 79, was reported a fortnight ago, was one of the oldest members of the Central Council, which he joined in 1898. He served to 1911 as representative of the Surrey Association and again from 1914-1932. He became an honorary member in 1933 and served until 12 months ago. For many years he was convener of the Peals Analysis Committee and evidence of his thoroughness was the tabulated tables that have appeared annually in 'The Ringing World,' which give such an accurate picture of peal ringing.

Born at Highworth, Wilts, on April 25th, 1871, he started ringing at Benhilton in 1891. He rang his first peal, Grandsire Triples, at Christ Church, Epsom, on June 23rd, 1894, and had rung approximately 120 peals. He conducted one peal—Stedman Caters.

His work for the Surrey Association was outstanding. From 1897-1911 and again from 1922-25 he was secretary of the Association. He had also held the posts of treasurer and auditor. From 1912-1938 he rang at St. Peter's, Croydon, and afterwards at St. John's, Croydon.

Mr. Dean was managing director of the Anglo-American Pharmaceutical Co., where two of his sons are employed. Previously he was accountant at Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's. He was also a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

The funeral service at Croydon Parish Church on April 12th was conducted by the Rev. A. C. F. Davies, a ringing colleague. In a brief address he spoke of Mr. Dean's services to the Church as a ringer, and added, 'It is a long record of distinction, and the Church has much to be grateful to him for in this wealth of voluntary service, which he gave so willingly, so quietly and so unassumingly.' Interment was at Green Road Cemetery.

Among the ringers present were:—Mrs. C. F. Johnston, Messrs. B. Newson, H. M. Howard and —, Stephenson (Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd.), J. F. Smallwood, A. B. Peck and W. Passmore (Ancient Society of College Youths), H. Langdon (St. Paul's), J. Chapman (St. Leonard's, Streatham), A. Lancaster (Borough), W. J. Rawlings (Beckenham), I. Blow (St. Peter's, Croydon), Mr. and Mrs. R. Lathbury (Walton-on-Thames), Messrs. D. D. Cooper, F. E. Collins, R. Abbott, G. Lodge, G. H. Humphries, W. F. Oatway, C. Parks, R. Davies and Mesdames D. Cooper and H. E. Oatway (Croydon Parish).

At the graveside a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells was rung by H. Langdon 1-2, D. D. Cooper 3-4, J. F. Smallwood 5-6, R. Davies 7-8.

The tower bells were also rung half-muffled before and after the service.

MR. WALTER GORTON

Bolton, Lancashire has lost an old stalwart by the death of Mr. Walter Gorton. He joined The Saviour's band, Bolton, when the bells were installed in 1885, and rang in the first peal on the bells. Mr. Gorton rang his first peal in 1883 and his last at the age of 85. He would have been 90 next June and was eagerly looking forward to hearing a peal rung for that occasion.

The funeral took place at Bolton Cemetery on April 11th, where handbells were rung by A. E. Sandiford 1-2, E. B. Webster 3-4, Peter Crook, sen., 5-6 and J. Frederick Hilton 7-8.

A muffled peal was rung at The Saviour's on April 18th.

TO OLIVER SIPPETTS

And there we leave him. Beneath the chancel window, with his feet towards the dawn, where the sound of his beloved bells float over his grave. So ring them well, you Crawley ringers, and keep the standard of striking that he set you.

A. B. P.

MR. GEORGE HOLMES

It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. George Holmes which took place at Blackpool on March 29th in his 90th year.

Born at Dronfield, he lived in Sheffield from the age of four, and for many years worked as an edged tool forger. He came from a bellringing family and joined the old Parish Church company (now the Cathedral) in 1879 and his membership of the Yorkshire Association dated from the same year. For the Association he rang 58 peals and conducted four of them. He was a member of the old Midland Counties Association and one of the oldest members of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

His peal ringing career extended from the end of the Franco-Prussian War in 1871 up to VE Day, 1945, and he took part in the ringing for the coronations and deaths of all the sovereigns since Queen Victoria.

Mr. Holmes was a staunch Sunday service ringer and although afflicted with approaching blindness in his latter years, he was able to attend fairly regularly up to the time of his death. He possessed a remarkably easy style when ringing and his handling of heavy bells was an example that others admired.

Being of a musical turn of mind he taught many the art of handbell tune ringing and was for many years conductor of the Sheffield Hallamshire Handbell Ringers. For a time he was a member of the St. Marie's (R.C.) Company.

A widower, he had only just gone to live with his married daughter at Blackpool when he had a stroke and passed peacefully away.

S. F. P.

MR. C. CHILDS

A bellringer since his boyhood days, Mr. Charles Childs, of Queen Street, Godalming, died on April 16th at St. Luke's Hospital, Guildford, aged 77. For more than 50 years he had been associated with Godalming tower and he took part in a peal at Godalming to mark Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. For a long period he had been captain of the tower.

The bells of Godalming Parish Church were rung half-muffled previous to the funeral service on April 19th. The Vicar (the Rev. A. C. G. Oldham) who officiated, spoke of Mr. Childs' devoted and faithful service to the church, to which he was attached not only as a ringer but as a worshipper.

Ringers attending were:—Messrs. A. H. Pulling and A. C. Hazelden (Guildford Diocesan Guild) W. Balchin, C. Steele, H. G. Steere, G. Savage, A. J. Booker, A. Edwards, C. E. Smith, C. J. Pugsley, V. H. Smith and Miss S. Steere (Godalming), Messrs. A. J. Bartlett (Chiddingfold) and E. Stenning (Dunsfold).

Wreaths included those from Godalming ringers, Guildford Guild and Dunsfold ringers.

MAYOR'S VISIT RECORDED

A plaque was unveiled in the tower of Dagenham Parish Church on April 12th recording the first visit to the belfry of a Mayor of Dagenham.

This unusual ceremony was preceded by a course of Grandsire Triples by the local band, rung in the presence of the Mayor (Mrs. A. E. Prendergast) and her chaplain, who is the Vicar (the Rev. H. Siviter).

Before unveiling the plaque, Mr. Chalk (Master of the S.W. Division, Essex Association) expressed his pleasure at the Mayor's interest in ringing matters and of acceptance of life honorary membership. He gave the Mayor a comprehensive account of ringing societies and mentioned the spirit of friendship prevailing throughout the Exercise.

The Mayor, in reply, said she considered herself to be not a visitor but a great friend of the ringers.

The ringers afterwards entertained their distinguished visitor in the Parish Hall with handbell ringing followed by refreshments.

THE SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION

Sixteen New Members Elected

The 19th annual meeting of the Scottish Association of Change Ringers was held at St. James' Church, Paisley, on April 7th when there was a good attendance of ringers. The bells were rung to rounds, call changes, Grandsire, Stedman, Erin, Plain Bob and Kent during the course of the afternoon and evening.

A short service was held in the church and conducted by the minister, the Rev. Sydney Still. After the service the ringers sat down to a sumptuous tea which had been kindly supplied by the St. James' ringers.

At the business meeting the Master reported on the ringing activities of the past year, which included the scoring of two peals (the only other time this has been done by residents was in 1932, the year of the founding of the Association) and seven quarter peals. In both peals there were several firsts.

The secretary reported that at the end of the year they had an active ringing membership of 60 which was drawn from five of the eight towers where bells were rung at present in Scotland and a life ringing membership of 33. There had been a fair amount of publicity given to ringing in the local papers and particularly a half-page article in the 'Scottish Daily Mail'; and the Editor of the Year Book of the Scottish Episcopal Church had readily agreed to give space to the Association in the Year Book, and it was only because the Church of Scotland had gone to press somewhat earlier than usual that they had missed being in it too. The treasurer reported that the funds had increased from 13s. 6d. to £4 10s., largely due to the fact that the expense of teas and peal writing had not been taken from the funds this year.

The names of 16 new ringers were put forward for membership and were unanimously approved. Of these, eight came from St. Paul's Cathedral, Dundee, and several from St. James', Leith, both of which towers wished to rejoin the Association, thus leaving now only one ringing tower not affiliated.

Both the president and Ringing Master had given notice that they did not wish to be re-elected and they were thanked by Mr. Pickett for all the work they had done for the Association in their several ways during the tenure of their respective offices. Mr. W. H. Pickett was elected Master in place of Prof. R. O. Street and Mr. C. R. Raine Ringing Master in place of Mr. John Marshall. Mr. Beardsall, of East Relford, was elected as Central Council representative for the next three years. It was also agreed that the Bishop of Glasgow (the Right Rev. J. C. H. How) and Dr. W. White Anderson, of St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh, be asked to become patrons in place of the late Duke of Argyll.

The next meetings are to be held at Alloa in October and at St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh, next April.

Several of the Paisley and Glasgow ringers entertained the ringers to tunes on handbells before a return to the belfry.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

South-Western District

The first quarterly meeting of the year was held at Rayleigh on April 7th when about 50 members enjoyed ringing on this musical night.

The Association's form of service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. S. Carver), who extended a cordial welcome to all the ringers. Among the large number of new members elected was the Rector, who consented to become an honorary member. He mentioned that his interest in bells went back a long way and that he was a founder member of the Guildford Guild.

Ringing was in charge of the Master, Mr. J. Chalk, who saw that everybody was well catered for from rounds upwards, all the standard Surprise methods being brought round.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH Winchester District

Freakish weather, consisting of sun, rain hail and snow, marked the Winchester District's quarterly meeting at Hursley on April 7th. The Vicar (the Rev. C. L. Holt-house) preached at the service.

The business meeting followed tea and was attended by a company of 50. The District chairman (the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth) congratulated Mr. W. C. Lampard on completing 60 years as a ringer at Winchester Cathedral. Mr. C. McCuddeon was elected District auditor.

Ten new ringing members were elected, namely:—Mr. Peter N. Bond and Miss R. Phillips, of St. Maurice's, Winchester, Messrs. A. F. Fry, H. Street and L. Horne, of Kingsworthy, Mr. E. Long, of Preston Candover, the Misses A. Halford and D. Wild and Mr. C. Eades, of Hursley, and Miss P. Pittaway, of Winchester Cathedral. In addition, the Rev. K. C. Davis, of Hawley, and Mr. R. C. Spittle, of West Ewell, were elected compounding members, and 14 honorary members were also elected.

The meeting agreed to Mr. J. A. C. King's proposal to hold a monthly practice meeting between quarterly meetings. These meetings are to take the form of general practices during the afternoon and a specialised practice of an advanced method in the evening. The first two meetings will be held at Wonston and Twyford.

A letter was then read from Mr. W. Linter thanking the District towers for their contributions to the George Williams Memorial Fund, amounting to £12 15s. 6d.

MR. G. E. PIPE'S 100 PEALS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LARGEST TOWN WITHOUT BELLS

Dear Sir,—Re the above, Clacton-on-Sea ('Ringing World,' April 13th, page 235) is suggested by Mr. F. Farrant. This is not correct as there is an unringable ring of five with a tenor (cracked) of approximately 8 cwt. at the Church of St. John, Great Clacton.

Great Clacton and Clacton-in-Sea are amalgamated under Clacton U.D.C., but for official purposes all is in the parish of Great Clacton. The population is about 24,000 to 25,000, so the claim does not stand that there is not a ring of bells in Clacton.—Yours faithfully,

U. W. WILDNEY.

Kirby-le-Soken, Essex.

ST. MARY REDCLIFFE

Dear Sir,—I was interested in Mr. Clift's description of Redcliffe bells but think he is in error about No. 10; this is not of 1622 like the 11th, but by T. Bilbie, and dated 1763. Being interested in Bilbie's bells wherever they are, I should like it known that the foundry is represented by one of the heavy bells in so famous a ring as Redcliffe.

Mr. Price, of Yatton, will find a pre-Reformation bell (undated) at the neighbouring tower of Cheddar. It has the letter M five times repeated. It is the fifth of the ring and weighs 10 cwt. 2 qr. 9 lb. When the cannons were removed for rehanging, they were retained and may be seen in the ringing chamber. They weigh exactly 56 lb.—Yours faithfully,

R. ALSOP.

Ebbw Vale, Mon.

METHOD NAMES

Dear Sir,—Some of the names given to methods in recent years call for comment. Change ringing has many times been spoken of as essentially an English art. I doubt if it is practised in Albania—a country which is not only hostile to Britain but, like all other Communist countries, is noted for its suppression of the Christian religion; why then 'Albanian Surprise'?

Another ridiculously-sounding name is 'Princess Marina Surprise,' rung a few years ago. And to many outside ringing circles, 'Double Norwich Court Bob Major' sounds equally a mouthful and raises many a query. The names of St. Anthony and St. Paulinus have many times been acclaimed as connected with bells and one would have thought by now someone would have chosen these for preference to some of the absurd names decided upon. After all we have St. Dunstan, St. Simon, St. Peter, St. Matthew, St. Mark, St. Giles, St. Miles, St. Blaise, St. Martin, St. Columba, St. Vedast and others in use. What's wrong with St. Anthony and St. Paulinus? In addition there is St. Alphege, who followed St. Dunstan as Archbishop of Canterbury, a student and friend of the latter whose martyrdom deserves to be commemorated in this country probably more than it is.

There is a tendency to dedicate some of our modern churches to our early English saints (we have one in Northampton, built in 1937, dedicated to St. Alban) and it might be a good thing to have ringers and composers of new methods thinking on the same lines.

Weston Favell, Northants.

P. AMOS.

FINDING A SECRETARY

ONE of the characteristics of the Exercise generally is the long service of men and women in key positions. When good officers are found the rank and file are not prone to change. Thus is established a wealth of experience and precedent and the Exercise generally is fortunate in having this measure of stability. Some might deplore such circumstances and visualise that continuity wears a groove and creates officials not susceptible to change and the assimilation of new ideas. But with an art such as change ringing, built upon a centuries old tradition, it is only those immersed in the subject and with long practical experience who can give the lead. As ringers cannot be created in a few months (although many an incumbent thinks he has only to install a ring of bells and get eight or ten volunteers and, hey presto, his Sunday service ringing is accomplished!), so a secretary cannot be found as a result of six or twelve months' training at a secretarial college.

For 20 years Mr. G. W. Fletcher has held one of the key positions of the Exercise as secretary and treasurer of the Central Council. When he accepted the office he was a young man, but even in those days he had a solid background of not only practical ringing, but of experience in the administrative side of the Exercise, being one of the products of the Middlesex County Association which has given to English ringing such a wealth of talented exponents of our art. He and Mrs. Fletcher have formed a wonderful team. The orderliness about Central Council meetings has been an example to every Guild and Association, and whoever is selected by the Council to succeed him will have before him an example of perfect organisation.

It is not only in the purely secretarial side that Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher have revealed their ability. Mr. Fletcher's business acumen has been prominent in the difficulties surrounding 'The Ringing World.' His statements to the Council have been models in clearness and grasp of the subject matter, and those who have at first differed from him have invariably changed their viewpoint after his logical presentation of the case. There is no denying the fact that some of the problems that have confronted him have called for firmness and most men would have taken an easier or laissez-faire course. The passing of time has given the answer, and in surrendering the reins of office the Council can look back with gratitude on 20 years of faithful service.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher have been handicapped by their residence in Norfolk. This has necessitated a heavy correspondence, and personal contact with the main body of the Council, so very valuable to a secretary, has thus in the main been denied them except on the occasion of the annual conference. The choice of a successor will not be easy, but we feel that geographical considerations will have to be reviewed. The secretary appointed should live within easy access of London, Birmingham and Leicester. It might with advantage ease the duties if the treasurership of the Council was separated from the secretarial responsibilities and that 'The Ringing World' Committee and treasurership be a separate entity.

Would it be in the interest of the Exercise and the Council that the Standing Committee should meet between Council meetings? Even if only a majority of the members could be present we think it would be a definite advantage and we would suggest that a meeting should be held in London on the afternoon of the College Youths' dinner, a function invariably attended by many members of the Council. If another meeting was desired the afternoon of the Henry Johnson Dinner at Birmingham would be a convenient centre. The Methods Committee recently found it advisable to meet in London and discuss their problems, and one of the members informed us that they accomplished more at that meeting than could be achieved by six months of correspondence.

We are confident that a successor to Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher will be found. No one who accepts the office will have an easy task, but the real pleasures of life are invariably experienced by travelling along the hard course and the surmounting of these obstacles brings its own reward. The office calls for a big sacrifice, and if the new secretary has at his disposal assistance in his own home or office the burden is lightened. At Chester there will be an opportunity of saying 'Thank you' to Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher for their services. While in no sense desiring to anticipate those sentiments, we feel sure that we are expressing the general wish of all ringers when we acknowledge with gratitude their long and distinguished service over the past 20 years. We are not losing them; they will still be members of the Council and endeavour from the floor of the House to help forward the advancement of our art coupled with the peculiar service it is able to render to the Church in this and other lands.

EDWIN H. LEWIS, M.A. (President of Council).

GEORGE W. FLETCHER (Hon. Secretary and Treasurer of Council), The White House,
Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

A. A. HUGHES, J.P. (Hon. Treasurer of 'The Ringing World'), 34, Whitechapel Road, E.1.

MRS. E. K. FLETCHER.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

We are pleased to announce that Mr. Harold
G. Cashmore was successful in ringing the first peal in 12 Surprise methods on handbells on April 25th at the residence of Mr. C. W.
Woolley. The umpire, Mr. W. Wenban, checked every lead end throughout the peal.
This is a new record in handbell ringing.

His many ringing friends will regret to hear of the tinued illness of Mr. Sam Hector, of Trowbridge. Sam is still interested in ringing and recently two friends visited him and rang touches of Grandsire Doubles on handbells with him. In honour of his 70th birthday a peal of Royal was rung on the bells of Tonbridge Parish Church, the installation of which was due largely to Mr. Hector's work and enthusiasm. All best wishes go to him for a speedy and complete recovery.

Mr. Jack Kerry, Winchester District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, has rung his first peal at the 13th attempt. This was at Brockenhurst on April 21st, where the bells are believed to be the second lightest in the world.

Mr. E. W. Tipler, of Rugby, thanks all those who sent him messages of goodwill during his stay in hospital. He is now at home for a few weeks before going back for a minor operation.

Mr. Cuthbert W. Powell has completed the circle of Bradpole tower, Dorset, and Mr. E.
E. Davey has four times 'circled' Kirby-le-Soken tower, Essex.

By a peal of Superlative at Maresfield, Sussex, on April 21st, Mr. F. Bennett, of Brighton, has rung a peal in each eight-bell tower in the county.

Morpeth bells, Northumberland, have arrived back from Messrs. John Taylor and Co. It is hoped that they will be ringing for the carnival week in June.

Evercreech bells will be heard on the West of England Home Service next Tuesday in the programme 'The Faith in the West,' between 7.20 and 7.45 p.m. Would interested listeners write to The Director of Programmes, B.B.C., Bristol 8, if they like the programme, and to Mr.
J. T. Dyke or to Mr. H. J. Sanger, Evercreech, Shepton Mallet, Somerset, if they have any criticisms or helpful suggestions.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Midland Counties Guild Festival of Britain programme on May 5th includes a 60-mile tour, free to members, leaving Burton at 12.45. Short touches will be rung at Rolleston, Repton, Ticknall, Ashby, Measham, Appleby, Netherseale, Lullington, Winshall, All Saints and the Parish Church.

Sibbertoft Church, Northants, heard its bells rung for the first time in 15 years on April 21st.

The last false course end to St. Giles Surprise Major (see page 224) is 54263, not 54236 as published.

A correspondent informs us that Bluntisham, Hunts, bells are hung dead. The eight bells in a five-bell frame are clapper-chimed as the tower and spire are considered unsafe. The tenor is about 11 cwt. 1 qr.

To commemorate the long peal of 10,304
Plain Bob Major rung at Leiston, Suffolk, on April 21st, 1888, a quarter peal was rung on the bells on this year's anniversary. Richard Stannard, of Barking, and Frederick J. Tillet, of Ipswich, who rang in the former, are still alive.

At the meeting of the Lewisham District of Kent County Association, on April 21st, it was reported that during the ringing that afternoon a fire had been ignited at the foot of the belfry staircase at one of the towers. Whether this was an act of irresponsible hooliganism or something more sinister was not clear.

April 17th may be regarded as a Kent Treble
Bob date, for reference to the 'Ringer's Diary' shows that on this date in 1820 the first peal of Maximus was rung at Birmingham. On the same date in 1911 the 12,240 of Maximus was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne, and five members of the Leicester Cathedral band, with the assistance of Terry Thornber and Alfred Ballard, rang the first peal of Kent Treble Bob on 14 handbells on April 17th this year. A good show by the youngsters, Derek Goodman, 16 years, Terry Thornber, 17 years, and Harry Poyner, 19 years.

BELLS OF ALL NATIONS

MOST IMPORTANT ADDITION TO RINGING LITERATURE SINCE THE WAR

PROBABLY the most important addition to ringing literature since the war is the 'Bells of All Nations' (Robert Hale, 21s.) which Mr. Ernest Morris has compiled after many years of research. It is a book with a wide appeal; to practising members of our art it is of great value as the interest of most change ringers to-day is not confined to ringing. Bells in all forms evoke their curiosity and it is in this respect they will enjoy Mr. Morris's book and at the same time broaden their knowledge of the subject.

The author traces the development of the bell from that first reference in Exodus xxviii, 33-4, in the adornment of the Ephod of Aaron, through Greek and Roman times where the hour of bathing was, according to Pliny, announced on bells. The association of bells with the Christian Church dates from Paulinus, Bishop of Nola, in Campania, Italy, in the year 400 and probably reached this country about 680, the Venerable Bede recalling in his writings of bringing a bell from Italy, which he placed in the Abbey at Wearmouth.

Mr. Morris has taken advantage of researches by the late Dr. A. H. Nichols, of Boston, U.S.A., in compiling his list of old dated bells, the first being at Ingensbach, Lower Bavaria, 1144, followed by the 20 cwt. bell at Fez, Morocco, 1219. The first bell in this country, St. Chad's, Cloughton, Lancashire, is No. 27, and is dated 1290, followed by Cold Ashby, Northants, of which a special reference was made in a recent issue of 'The Ringing World' (No. 1296). No mention is made in the list of the Caversfield bell of an earlier period, the date of which Mr. Frederick Sharpe authentically established by considerable research.

SIGNAL FOR MASSACRES

Customs and usages of bells to which Mr. Morris devotes an entertaining chapter have been the subject of special articles from his pen in 'The Ringing World.' The massacre of the French in Sicily commenced with the ringing of the Vesper bells in 1282 and three centuries later the slaughter of the Huguenots in Paris was signalled by the tolling of the bell. We as ringers, like, however, to think of our bells being associated with the services of the Church, as is inscribed on a bell at Banbury, Oxon:—

'I ring to sermon with a lusty bome,

That all may come, and none stay at home'

Perhaps even more striking is the inscription on Halsowen tenor (1707):—

'When sound of bell doth pearce your ear,

O com to the Church, God's word to heare.'

The curfew bell, so familiar for centuries in this country, is also to be found in other countries. In South America it is called the Stay bell, being rung at ten o'clock, after which the use of the streets was forbidden the inhabitants of Quito. There were two curfews at Charles-town in 1851—one for young children to say goodnight and another when the watch for the night was set.

Chimes date back to the earliest times and St. Dunstan, who died in 988, is said to have made a set of chimes for Canterbury. The large barrel or cylinder mechanism is being superseded by the electro-pneumatic apparatus. The largest chime barrel in the world is that of Bruges, the reputed weight of which is over eight tons. It is made of gunmetal and is pierced with 30,500 holes into which the studs or catches are fixed. Another chapter deals with carillons and the development of this art.

GREAT BELLS

Of the great bells of the world, the author gives a comprehensive list headed as follows:—

Moscow, 'Kolokol'	1733	193 tons
Troitzkoi, Russia	1746	171 "
Moscow	1817	110 "
Mandalay, Burma	1780	87 "
Chion-in Japan	—	74 "
Moscow (Wspenski)	1760	63 "

THE AUTHOR

Mr. Ernest Morris

In Western Europe, Cologne Cathedral 'Kaiserglock,' cast in 1874 (25 tons), is the heaviest bell. It was destroyed, however, during the 1914-18 war to make munitions but replaced in 1925. Lisbon Cathedral has a bell of 21 tons, and at Montmartre, Paris, there is another of 20 tons. The heaviest in America is at the Riverside Drive Church, New York, weighing 18 tons 6 cwt.

Ships' bells have found their way into many churches. The five churches in the Scilly Islands have each a ship's bell and there is even one in a Japanese temple and dated 1577. The story of the bell of the German cruiser Emden which on November 9th, 1914, was destroyed by the Australian cruiser Sydney, had a somewhat chequered history. It disappeared in 1932 from the naval depot at Sydney and later was found buried in Hyde Park, Sydney. It was then placed in a museum, again to be stolen. Finally it was restored to the German people.

Mr. Morris devotes a chapter to the Ancient Bells of Celtic Saints, a number of which are still preserved in private collections and museums in Wales. The most famous of the Irish bells is that called 'Clog-an-Eadhacta-Phtraic,' or 'Bell of St. Patrick's Well.' This bell is formed of two plates of sheet iron fastened together by iron rivets and bronzed. Some 40 examples of these early Irish bells are in the National Museum of Ireland at Dublin.

A considerable portion of the book is devoted to the English style of ringing. The chapter dealing with the Continental style is new to most of our readers. 'Sallies' and 'stays,' however, are largely unknown on the Continent, although at Ostend bells are rung up and down again in peal. Belgium is, however, famed for its carillons and some 60 are listed.

In France bells are generally rung with ropes often from the ground floor. The bells are more highly decorated than English and American bells. In many towers the 'Angelus Electro-Automatique' apparatus has been introduced and against this Mr. Morris registers his protest, writing: 'This seems all wrong, and the bare idea of a machine calling men to divine worship is abhorrent.' The largest bell in France is 'La Savoyarde,' being at the Church of Sacre Cœur, Paris, and weighs 19 tons 8 cwt.

Switzerland abounds in fine, deep-toned bells which are chiefly rung by means of ropes attached to levers. The large bell at Fribourg Cathedral is rung by three or four men working treadles. At Zurich the bells of all churches are rung on Saturdays at 7 p.m. to herald the approach of the Lord's Day.

ST. MARK'S, VENICE

Of Italy the wonderful campanile of St. Mark's, Venice, which fell down in 1902 after standing for 1,000 years, is specially mentioned. It was rebuilt in 1912. Out of the five historic bells, four were destroyed but the fifth was undamaged. Each of the five bells had a special function. The carpenter's bell at dawn and sunset, 'Nona,' the second, at noon, the third, which announced meetings of the Senate, the fourth to summon the nobles to the Grand Council and the fifth (Maleficio) sounded when a prisoner was put to death.

Apart from carillons and chimes, bells in Germany are swung frame high. The bells are not tuned in consecutive notes in the scale but chosen to form as many chords as possible.

Of the German bells, probably that which was best known was the Emperor Bell of Cologne, which was cast from French guns captured during the Franco-Prussian War and previously referred to.

Special mention is made of the ringers in the Girada Tower at Seville being carried by the ropes outside the tower. The Rev. L. Edwards is quoted regarding his visit to Burgos Cathedral, where he once heard the only bit of change ringing on the Continent to find, on investigation, a man and woman standing on the frame and controlling the bells by treadles.

Holland's contribution to the art of bell founding by the Hemony brothers is familiar to most of our readers. An idea of the place of bells in that country may be gained from the fact that 6,500 church bells were surrendered in Holland by the end of 1943 under German requisition orders and 4,500 of them, totalling 1,700 tons, were sent to Germany.

Russia is given due prominence in the book as a country of great bells. Their heavy bells are fixed to beams and their tongues are slung by means of leather bands and are moved by ropes drawn in such a manner as to cause the blows to fall upon the surface at irregular points. All this is far distant from the English method of change ringing.

Probably the nearest approach to English enthusiasm for change ringing is to be found in Australia. The author gives special attention to Australian bells and also gives details of the visit of the Australian tourists of 1934. The towers in Africa are listed and the only peal rung in that continent, at Woodstock, on December 15th, 1904, of Grandsire Triples, recorded.

THE LIBERTY BELL

To the citizen of the United States the Liberty Bell is a national relic. The original bell was cast in London and reached Philadelphia in 1752. Within a month it was cracked and recast by Pass and Stow, of Philadelphia. It is still suspended from its old yoke or headstock and its inscription is: 'Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof. Lev. xxv., v. 10.' While change ringing has not made the progress in the States that English ringers would desire there are in a number of towers bells hung for ringing. The first peal rung in America was at Christ Church, Philadelphia, on June 9th, 1850, by the following, who comprised a hand-bell band touring the States with Barnum's

'Greatest Show on Earth':—Thos Le-Saye 1, Charles Rahill 2, Frederick Wade 3, Henry W. Haley 4, James Hewett 5, William Lobb 6, E. W. Sawyer 7, Richard Dodd and John Davey tenor. The peal was Holt's ten part of Grand-sire Triples.

The development of carillons in the States has been remarkable and the services of the English founders have been in great demand. The largest is in the Riverside Church, New York, where there are 72 bells, the largest of which weighs 365 cwt. 1 qr. 18 lb.

Canada is also famed for its bells but most are hung dead for chimes. British Columbia is, however, a bright spot as far as the art of change ringing is concerned. The first peal in Canada was rung at Vancouver on July 1st, 1911, being Holt's Original, conducted by George W. Foster. The largest bell in Canada is that of Notre Dame Cathedral, Montreal, which weighs 24,780 lb. It is ornamented by images of the Blessed Virgin Mary and St. John-the-Baptist, together with the emblems of agriculture, commerce and industry.

The concluding chapter deals with bells of the Far East.

'Bells of All Nations' is illustrated with 65 full-page plates. The book is specially commended by the Lord Bishop of Liverpool, who writes: 'Here is a book which deals with every kind of bell from the tiny tinkler on a sheep to the mighty Bourdon Cathedral and Temple Bell. It is a mine of information and shows that the author has given much time to the preparation of the work.'

We feel certain that the Exercise will be pleased with this work and to those who cannot afford to purchase a copy for themselves we would suggest that they approach their Public Library. It is an encyclopedic book that every ringer will desire to possess. Copies may be obtained from the author, Verger's Lodge, St. Margeret's, Leicester, price 21s. (postage 9d.).

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION*Canterbury District at Dover

The quarterly meeting of the Canterbury District was held at Dover on April 21st. Fine, if somewhat cold, weather attracted some 80 people to the town. 21 towers in the district being represented.

Ringing took place during the afternoon and the service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Stanley Cooper). In the course of his address, the Vicar paid tribute to the late Mr. Charles Turner, mentioning his many years' service to St. Mary's. He had grown up in the parish and had given 50 years' service to the Church. He had served on the Parochial Church Council and was a valued member of the Old Boys' Association. But it was his love of the bells for which he would be best remembered. At the close of the address, a plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung, while the congregation stood. A fitting tribute to his memory.

At the business meeting one new member was elected. From a nap hand of towers nominated, Margate was chosen as the place for the next quarterly meeting and Ash for a previous by-meeting.

The usual votes of thanks were expressed to all those who had helped. The chairman, Mr. J. A. Russell, mentioned the fact that the Ladies' Guild were holding a meeting at Birchington in the near future.

More ringing took place during the evening though this was somewhat curtailed through the breaking of a clapper. As a result of the visit of Mr. J. Willis there were quite a few of the new ringers' badges to be seen later in the evening.

Sixth extent home. All combinations of 4, 5 and 6 in 5-6.

Rung at Ewell by the Surrey Association on November 12th, 1949, conducted by the composer.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Donald G. Clift has now rung peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus. The sequence was completed with a peal of Minor at Westoning, Beds, on April 12th.

Two ladies (some years ago) hearing Charing (Kent) bells caused one to remark that the ringing was 'a little rough.' 'Oh,' said the other, 'I thought it proper that there should be dotted notes and quavers.' From 'The Belfry.'

A part of the peal rung in honour of the Festival of Britain at Holywood, Northern Ireland, will be broadcast on the Northern Ireland and North of England Home Service (261 metres) next Tuesday between 10.15 and 10.45 p.m.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at Long Ashton on April 21st. Ringing on the heavy octave (tenor 30 cwt. 3 qr. 23 lb.) preceded the Association service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. Knapman), who gave a few words of welcome. Mr. D. G. Yeo was at the organ.

At the business meeting which followed tea, one new member from Bristol was elected. Subject to permission, the next quarterly meeting will be held on the recently-restored ring at Yatton in July, with practices at Weston-in-Gordano and Tickenham in May and June respectively. The bi-annual Corporate Communion will be held at Clapton-in-Gordano on July 22nd.

Arrangements for the Festival of Britain were discussed at some length and a committee consisting of Messrs. L. Derrick, H. Knight and E. Shearn was set up to arrange one or more 'Deanery peals' to be rung during the period. It was pointed out that these peals were in no way connected with any arrangements that individual towers may have made for the Festival but were essentially Deanery 'efforts.'

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and the ladies who helped with the tea concluded the meeting. Ringing in a wide variety of methods was under the direction of the Master, Mr. H. W. Knight. M. J. H.

Bath Deanery

The quarterly meeting of the Bath Deanery was held on April 14th at All Saints', Weston, Bath. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and concluded at 4.30 p.m. with a touch of Stedman Doubles for the service. The chairman of the Branch (the Rev. Beaumont Russell) officiated, helped by Mr. Davis, a lay reader of the parish, and Mr. Sealy S. Woodburn, the secretary, read the lesson. A vice-chairman, the Rev. Henley, gave an excellent address and the Rev. Rowe delivered the Blessing. The choral service was noteworthy for the excellent rendering of the Magnificat in D (Brewer) and 'O Taste and See' (Sir J. Goss).

Over 130 sat down to an excellent tea in the Church Room. At the conclusion of the meeting the ringers returned to the tower and ringing ranged from rounds and queens to an attempt of London Surprise Minor.

The meeting was thought by many to be the most successful ever remembered in the Bath District. T. J. H.

MR. CHARLES TURNER

Mr. Charles E. J. Norris, of Chatham, writes:—

It is with regret that I read of the passing of Mr. Charles Turner, of St. Mary's, Dover. By his death I believe I am the only one left of eight Kent men who rang a 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major to a 'Charles' peal at St. Nicholas', Linton, Kent, on October 16th, 1926, composed by C. H. Hattersley and conducted by the late Mr. C. H. Sone.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SPliced PEALS AND UMPIRES

Dear Sir,—I read Mr. John Freeman's letter regarding umpires with much interest and great respect.

To my mind, any check upon a conductor's honesty is entirely repugnant. The chief satisfaction in ringing a peal as such is to those who take part and there will always be the tiny majority of unscrupulous conductors who are not above 'cooking' a peal if occasion demands. Such 'cooking' is a possibility in almost any peal and not in any way limited to 'Spliced'.

However, all questions of honesty apart. I do feel that there is a genuine risk of an error by the conductor in the class of peals Mr. Freeman has in mind. The conductor could call the wrong method or combination of methods without ever being aware of having done so.

In the case of four spliced with all the work, the alternative method arrangements are comparatively few, but in calling five spliced with all the work, I found that the additional possible method arrangements demanded greater care. Later, in an attempt for six spliced with all the work, I had to set up about half way, having realised that I had called the wrong methods with the right bobs. Incidentally, from memory I think seven ways are used by Mr. A. J. Pitman in getting from the Home to the Middle, and again from the Wrong to the Home in this particular peal.

Mr. James C. E. Simpson is the only conductor to have called six spliced with all the work successfully and his opinion as to the risk of a conductor calling the wrong methods inadvertently would be of great interest.

The fact that all peals with all the work so far rung have been without an umpire is no argument at all. What guarantee is there that the peals in question were true other than the conductor's possibly fallible memory? It should be remembered that so far only some half-dozen or so conductors have called peals of the type in question and the more the number of conductors increases, the greater the risk that men with less accurate memories will make genuine errors.

I consider that this is a question which the Exercise should approach with an open mind as it has no relation to the now out-dated notions regarding umpires for handbell peals.

May I make it quite clear that I am not in any way suggesting that the 'all the work' peals so far rung were incorrectly called. I have every confidence that all were correctly called, but I was considering the widening of the field of conductors that one hopes will take place in the future.

Much the same arguments apply to multi-method peals and I wonder if the Exercise has not already let the matter rest too long.

I hope the opinion of other conductors may be forthcoming.—Yours truly,

P. A. CORBY.

Forest Hill, S.E.23.

FORMULA WANTED

Dear Sir,—In 'Variation and Transposition' by the late J. Armiger Trollope, it is stated that by the means of a short formula it is possible to write out hundreds of methods.

Is this formula simple or does it involve a complex series? If simple, or otherwise, would it not be possible for one of the mathematical geniuses of the Exercise to publish this formula?

I have tried several times to derive a formula but I have always finished up with some horrible complex series, out of which I could see no conceivable method of abstracting rows of changes.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN E. COOK.

Branston, near Lincoln.

USE OF BELLS FOR BROADCASTING

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of April 6th, I notice that the Master of the Bath and Wells Association requests no peal ringing in Lent, but surely he has drawn the line in the wrong place. If it is not in keeping with the season of Lent to ring 5,000 changes then it is not to ring 500 changes. Does he disapprove of a meeting on a Saturday when very often, from the start of the ringing to the end, a matter of five or six hours has passed?

As broadcasting and recording was brought to the fore, I would like to draw your attention to the 'Office for the Dedication of Bells':—'By virtue of our sacred office, we do solemnly set apart and separate from all profane and unhallowed uses these Bells, now dedicated to the glory of God for the benefit of His Holy Church.'

'Receive these bells as a sacred trust committed unto you as the appointed minister of Christ in this Church and Parish and take heed that they be ever and only used on God's service and for His Glory.'

We, as ringers, are under the same solemn obligation as the incumbent in the use of bells and however we twist the meaning of the above, one thing is certain, that it does not allow the use of church bells in the Church of England to be used for broadcasting or recording. It was for this reason I said a few weeks ago, 'Had our bells been used for a broadcast I should have been absent.'

If the B.B.C. wants bell records for their intervals, etc., those records of bells that are not hung in churches could be used for the purpose.—Yours faithfully,

B. T. JEANES.

Bridgwater, Somerset.

NOTE.—We were under the impression that the view complained of was that of the Suffolk County Association report and not that of the Editor.—Ed.

SS. PETER AND PAUL, TONBRIDGE

Dear Sir,—With reference to the appeal in 'The Ringing World' of April 13th by Canon Russell B. White, for donations towards the restoration of the bells of SS. Peter and Paul, Tonbridge, Kent, ringers in the district of which Tonbridge is the centre were hoping for a first-class job to be made but are at a loss to understand why it is intended to recast the treble, second and third bells and leave the old wooden frame in the tower. Surely it would have been better to have rehung the existing bells in a new frame.

I may add the second bell has been hung on ball bearings for a number of years but has never been a success. When restorations are contemplated, let us not forget those who built the towers which hold the bells we ring. 'They started with sound foundations'—Yours faithfully,

ERNEST J. LADD.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL, N.Y.

Dear Sir,—Some time ago someone wrote to your paper saying he had heard a broadcast of change ringing on the bells of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

I was very doubtful of the accuracy of that observation and wrote to St. Patrick's Cathedral and received the enclosed answer.

Will you please inform your correspondent, as I have now lost his name.—Yours sincerely,

MARGARET H. SHURCLIFF.

Boston, Mass.

Dear Mrs. Shurcliff,

In answer to your letter of January 21st, let me first say that I do not know of any program here which could have been broadcast.

Secondly, we have 19 bells ranging in weight from 173 pounds to 6,600 pounds. However, we do not have any change ringers now, nor do I know of any time in the history of the Cathedral when we had them.—Sincerely yours,

JOSEPH F. FLANNELLY, D.D.,

Administrator.

ST. IVES AND ST. IVE

Dear Sir,—I was interested in your list of inaccuracies in Mr. Dove's 'Bellringer's Guide' published in 'The Ringing World' of March 30th. You might add these:—

At St. Simon's, Rockley Road, W.14, off Shepherd's Bush, there are eight bells in the steeple hung for chiming, tenor, I should say, 9 cwt.

On page 96 St. Ives and St. Ive are mixed up. St. Ives, a town on the north coast of Cornwall, population about 8,000, has a church with a very fine tower, but it only contains two bells, one about 8 cwt. and the other about 18 cwt. They are hung on bearings and have wheels, but are sounded by means of ropes tied to the clappers.

St. Ive, pronounced St. Evc, is a village four miles east of Liskeard, on the Callington road. The church has a roomy tower with three pinnacles at each corner. It contains six bells, tenor reputed to be 19 cwt. Dove, in his guide, says it is 13½, if it is St. Ive he means. St. Ive bells have just been renovated and their going is now excellent.

I think this last correction should be made, as ringers might quite likely turn up at St. Ives, hoping to ring in a six that does not exist.—Yours faithfully,

W. H. R. TREWHELLA
Secretary of Truro
Diocesan Guild.

THANK YOU, B.B.C.

Sir,—I think at last the B.B.C. realise the average Englishman likes bells. We had the pleasure of eight minutes' half-muffled ringing from Westminster Abbey on Tuesday, 24th April, in memory of Ernest Bevin.—Yours truly,

FRANK HOPGOOD.

P.S.—Thank you, ringers and B.B.C.

THE FESTIVAL AT OXFORD

Dear Sir,—On Saturday, May 5th (the eve of the official opening of the Festival in Oxford), the Oxford Society is arranging for all the bells of the city to be rung simultaneously between 5 and 6 p.m. To achieve this it has been necessary to arrange for ringers to come into Oxford from East Hagbourne, Appleton, Wicken, Alderbury and Radley. We are, of course, very grateful for their assistance on this occasion. The total number of bells to be rung is 129.

After the ringing there is to be an informal gathering which is being held at the 'Greyhound,' and we hope that as many as possible of those taking part in the ringing will meet there.—Yours faithfully,

P. WALKER, Hon. Sec.,
Oxford Society of Change Ringers.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD HISTORY

Dear Sir,—As it is now several years since copies of the Guild History were available, it has been suggested that we should publish a second edition, being a re-issue of Mr. Tyrwhitt Drake's volume, together with additional chapters covering the years since our golden jubilee in 1929.

Because the cost of printing even a limited edition is considerably in excess of the funds which the Guild has available, it is proposed to publish the history by subscription and, if members wish, to append a list of subscribers after the title page. We are planning to publish the book with the same plates as the first edition bound in light blue cloth. Provided sufficient support is forthcoming, the cost will be between 5s. and 7s. 6d. a copy.

Any suggestions, comments on these proposals or offers of help will be very welcome and any subscribers who would like to supply material which might be incorporated in the text are asked to send it to E. J. Lindley, 74, Hookfield, Epsom, to whom also all replies to this letter should be addressed.—Yours faithfully,

A. C. BLYTH, President.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

THE Lancashire Association held its annual meeting at Blackpool on April 21st. The day opened for those enthusiastic enough to arrive in Blackpool by 10 a.m. with the bells of the Parish Church, St. John's, The Sacred Heart R.C. and Holy Trinity, South Shore, and ringing continued throughout the day in a variety of methods ranging from Plain Bob to Bristol and London Surprise. The day was extremely pleasant and old acquaintanceships were renewed in the brilliant sunshine with ringers from as far afield as Ulverston and Barrow to Manchester. Our good old stalwart, Mr. G. R. Newton, was in great demand, receiving best wishes from both young and old.

The service was held in the Parish Church of St. John and was conducted by Canon W. Yates, M.A., assisted by the president, the Rev. F. F. Rigby, Dr. Wood, organist, and the choir boys. Canon Yates had the happy knack of making everyone feel at home and in a short but extremely pleasing sermon, thanked the ringers for their services to the Church. After the service about 130 sat down in the Parish Hall to an excellent tea.

It was pleasing to note that the widely-scattered branches and towers were mixing at the tables and one could see a Liverpudlian in animated conversation with a Manchurian and members from Barrow and Ulverston mixing with members from Blackburn and Bacup, which shows that the roots of our fraternity go deeper than purely change ringing, for friendships which were made many years ago are renewed at these annual gatherings. After tea Canon Yates expressed to the ladies, who had given up their afternoon to look after our wants, the company's sincere thanks and he extended a welcome to any member present to come to visit St. John's, Blackpool, at any time.

The business meeting was opened by the president, the Rev. F. F. Rigby, who expressed deep sorrow at the loss of the general secretary, Mr. William H. Shuker, who for 40 years had served the Association with all the vigour at his command. He said that in Mr. Shuker one had an excellent organiser who, had he had in his younger days the opportunities which were available to-day, would have attained great heights in organisation. He asked the meeting to stand in silence as a token of respect.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The president read out the result of the ballot for president, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith being elected. Mr. G. R. Newton, the unsuccessful candidate, wished the new president success and a happy term of office. The new president took the chair from the Rev. F. F. Rigby and suitably thanked the meeting for their confidence in him.

Mr. F. Dunkerley was elected general secretary, unopposed. The following were elected for three years as Central Council representatives:—F. Dunkerley (Rochdale branch), L. J. Williams (Blackburn branch), J. Ridyard (Wigan branch) and C. Sharples (Fylde branch).

COMMITTEE'S REPORT

The annual report to the members this year should be a document which is up-to-date as most branch secretaries have assisted by securing any information which has been asked for. We have lost by death 20 members including the Rev. T. W. Wareham, M.A., and the Rev. F. Bonner and a very old committee member, Mr. F. G. Bradley. The Association membership is 1,491, made up as follows:—Hon. life members 66 (4 new), non-resident members 440, ringing members 985 (78 new).

The ringing members are divided among the branches as follows:—Blackburn 110, Bolton 101, Furness 88, Fylde 64, Lancaster 52, Liverpool 124, Manchester 98, Preston 105, Rochdale 99, Rossendale 53, Wigan 91. There is a possibility that the ring at Liverpool Cathedral will be rung for the Festival of Britain and this, of course, will be a great day for the Association.

132 PEALS

The ringing secretary's report stated that during the year 132 peals were rung which is 30 less than in 1949. Whilst the number of peals is less the quality of the peals is superior. We record first peals for the Association of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus, Pudsey, Painswick, Rutland, New Cambridge and Wembley Surprise Major and a peal of Spliced Surprise in four methods. This is truly a record year in method advancement in the history of the Association and we trust it will be an incentive to further advancement of our art. The committee is pleased to record its congratulations to the band who rang the record peal of 21,600 changes Bristol Surprise Major at St. Chad's, Over, on November 4th, in which the ringing secretary, Mr. Fred Dunkerley, rang the 7th. This peal was conducted by Mr. John Worth, Macclesfield, who deserves high praise for the brilliancy of his conducting.

Forty-three members rang their first peal; 170 their first on 10 or 12 bells or in some particular method: 14 their first on an 'inside' bell; two their first as conductor and 13 their first in the method as conductor.

Mr. A. Tomlinson rang his 450th peal for the Association. Mr. P. Crook his 300th, Mr. T. W. Hammond his 250th, Mr. S. L. Parry his 150th and Messrs. T. W. Hesketh, I. Kay, C. W. Blakey and A. Mawdesley their 100th. Messrs. C. Clegg, J. Clegg, F. J. Gower, A. Greenhalgh, J. E. Burles, S. Flint and D. Vincent rang their 50th peal for the Association.

SPECIAL PEALS

Peals were rung to celebrate the birthdays of H.M. The King, H.M. Queen Mary and H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth. A complimentary peal was rung to Mr. E. Burrows, age 93, a ringer at St. James', Birch-in-Rusholme, for over 50 years. Complimentary peals were also rung at West-houghton to commemorate the 41st anniversary of the Ordination of the Vicar, and at Newchurch to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Ordination of the Rector. Birthday peals were also rung for Canon Peter Green on his 80th birthday and to the late Mr. W. H. Shuker on his 80th birthday.

A half-muffled peal was rung in memory of Mr. James Taylor, over 50 years a member of Christ Church, Aughton, and a memorial peal rung at Southport to Dr. David, a former Bishop of Liverpool. Centenary celebration peals were rung at St. Paul's, Painswick, St. Bartholomew and St. George, Whitworth, and at Christ Church, Healey. Peals were also rung at a dedication service of the War Memorial Chapel at St. John's, Farnworth. A Masonic peal of Plain Bob Maximus was rung at the Town Hall, Manchester.

LEADING CONDUCTORS

Turning now to performances, Mr. A. Tomlinson again heads the list with 30 peals, Mr. T. W. Hesketh with 20 peals and Mr. J. Ridyard and Mr. F. Dunkerley with 19 peals each.

Forty-one members are responsible for conducting the peals, Mr. A. Tomlinson and Mr. J. Ridyard having conducted 17 each and Mr. F. Dunkerley 9.

The ringing secretary would be grateful if the small minority of conductors would send in their peal booking fees without delay, together with particulars of the peal and ringers' full names. This prevents a time lag of approximately three weeks in the final compilation of the report. Once again the ringing secretary must place on record his thanks for the assistance given by Mr. S. L. Parry and Miss E. H. Bastow, whose services are invaluable to the Association.

ALTERATION OF RULES

Rule 3 of the Association was altered to make entry into the Association easier for country bands where change ringing is taught under great difficulties. After a long discussion and a very close ballot the rule was adopted.

Rule 7a, to allow auditors to serve on the committee, was passed on a show of hands.

Rule 7b was adopted on a show of hands with a very substantial majority. This rule reverts back to previous arrangements whereby officers of the Association are eligible for re-election after serving their term of office.

Rule 7c was altered on a show of hands to allow a ballot vote to take place and the result announced before December 31st of the Central Council representatives.

Rule 11 was altered to allow rules of the Association to be altered or added to at an extraordinary general meeting.

A resolution from the Liverpool branch criticising the committee was defeated on an amendment by a large majority.

ANY OTHER BUSINESS

The Rossendale branch were invited to arrange the next annual meeting.

A donation list was opened to assist the Association's finances. Advertising matter in the annual report was also discussed.

Votes of thanks were given to the ringing secretary from the body of the meeting and the president thanked the Fylde branch, and in particular Mr. J. H. Foster, for making such excellent arrangements for the annual meeting. It is most noteworthy that on each of the annual meetings the local band of ringers rise to the occasion magnificently and make arrangements that are worthy of the Association.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman who, in responding, said he would do his best to further the interests of the Association and the art of change ringing.

After the meeting, ringing was continued until 9 p.m. when the company dispersed at the conclusion of a very enjoyable day. F. D.

LETTERS—Continued

BLISTERS

Dear Sir.—Although I have rung in nearly 200 peals, I suffer badly from blistered hands, especially in hot weather. When I read of men ringing big bells to peals week after week I think their skin must be of a different texture to mine and I know I could not emulate them, but I wonder if anyone who blistered easily and then found a remedy, would kindly write to you so that some of us could ring a peal in comparative comfort. Some time ago Mr. R. F. Deal suggested glycerine in lieu of another liquid—what effect would glycerine have on soft skins? Beneficial, or otherwise?—Yours faithfully, BLISTERED.

'SUFFOLK PUNCHES'

Dear Sir.—In connection with your leading article of last week's issue, because of the very fact that it has come to be regarded as a sane and impartial review, I must express regret that you have, probably unwittingly, chosen to present a report which is not representative of the Suffolk Guild. In company with many others of the Guild, I wish to dissociate myself from the view that so-called 'highest-class strikers' should be permitted to ring for a broadcast, to the exclusion of the local band. In addition to this, the whole tenor of the report—one of talking down to the wayward Guild—does not help to give ringers in other parts of the country that respect for Suffolk to which you refer in the first paragraph of your article.

I appreciate that you have a difficult task in selecting material for the leader of 'The Ringing World,' and that I have not made your task easier by criticism, but I feel I must speak in this instance.—Yours sincerely,

PETER G. PARROTT.

Ipswich.

OBITUARY

MR. WALTER CLAYDON

His many friends in ringing circles will learn with deep regret of the death of Walter Claydon, of Reigate, on April 14th. He had been ill for about six months and took to his bed a fortnight previous to his passing. The end came rather suddenly.

Born at Stebbing, in Essex, in 1885, 'Walt' Claydon, as he was popularly known, came to Reigate about 1907 when he joined the police force there and from which he retired in 1933. During this time he was an enthusiastic ringer, joining the local company in 1908. Following his retirement from the police he maintained his keen interest in ringing, acting as secretary of the Southern District of the Surrey Association and subsequently as Master of the District, and Central Council representative.

A good ringer of the standard methods, he called peals in several methods from six bells to ten and was one of the keenest Surprise ringers in the District where he was the first resident member to call a peal of Cambridge Major. He rang 81 peals for the Surrey Association and conducted 15. He was always willing to assist in the teaching of learners, as the towers of Reigate and Redhill well know.

Not only was he a member of the Surrey Association but belonged also to the College Youths, the Police Guild and the Sussex Association. His membership in the last-named extended over many years, during which time he rang a number of peals and was a regular attendant at Crawley practices. It is a coincidence that his friend and fellow-ringer for many years, Oliver Sippetts, should predecease him by only a fortnight.

He was buried on April 18th in Reigate Churchyard under the sound of the bells he loved so well. A number of his friends came at midday to pay their last respects to an old comrade, the funeral service being conducted by the Vicar of Reigate. After the interment a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on hand-bells at the graveside by the following:—A. B. Peck 1-2, G. F. Hoad 3-4, C. H. Kippin 5-6, D. D. Cooper 7-8.

The following ringers attended the funeral:—Miss F. Wyman, Messrs. A. Bull, L. Tidy, L. Stillwell, A. Willett, C. Parks, A. B. Peck, F. Jeal, C. H. Kippin, F. T. Hoad, G. F. Hoad, G. Olliver, E. G. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. D. Cooper.

To his memory a quarter peal of Grandsire Caters, 1,259 changes, was rung at Reigate Parish Church in the evening by the following—Miss B. Myers 1, G. F. Hoad (conductor) 2, F. Jeal 3, Miss V. Look 4, F. T. Hoad 5, J. Crouch 6, A. P. Cannon 7, A. B. Peck 8, A. Shelton 9, H. Hoad 10.

A man of genial disposition, Walt Claydon was good 'ringing company' and although one of the old school was not averse to mixing with the younger generation for the purpose of helping the learner or of advancing his own knowledge and proficiency in ringing. His name will for long be connected with Reigate and, not least, probably, for the reputation of his teas which became almost a byword in the Surrey Association. Many also will remember the convivial gatherings which were held at Chartfield Road and which often followed a peal or committee meeting.

A half muffled peal of Kent Major was attempted at St. John's Redhill, on April 24th in his memory. Unfortunately the effort was not successful but it is hoped that a second attempt to be undertaken shortly will achieve its object.

MR. F. W. WOODWARD

The Oxford Diocesan Guild has lost a faithful member by the death, on April 18th, of Mr. F. W. Woodward, of Chalgrove.

For 21 years he was secretary of the South Oxfordshire Branch and retired in 1926 when he was succeeded by Mr. H. Badger.

Mr. Woodward, who was about 75 years of age, was a competent instructor.

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

Festival of Britain Arrangements

Winhill, situated in the southern part of the Diocese of Derby but within the Borough of Burton-on-Trent, was the venue for the Guild meeting on April 7th when over 30 ringers were present.

The Vicar, the Rev. E. C. Redfern, conducted a service and in a short address said the exacting art of ringing was one which certainly ought to be encouraged in a world where so many people were prepared to accept in a passive manner ready-made recreation and entertainment.

Following tea in the Church Hall, the usual business was held and the chairman outlined the committee's recommendations for the Guild's observances of the Festival of Britain. Following some discussion it was decided to accept the recommendations, which include a peal attempt on the opening day, May 4th, to be followed on Saturday, May 5th, with a bus tour to ring an opening Festival touch in every parish covered by the activities of the Guild.

The next meeting will be held at Measham on May 19th and will be a joint meeting with the Loughborough District of the Leicester Guild.

Thanks were expressed for the hospitality of Winhill to which the Vicar suitably replied. Methods rung during the visit ranged from rounds to London Surprise Minor.

EAST GRINSTEAD GUILD

On Saturday, April 14th, the Guild visited Buxted, at the Rector's invitation, to ring for the dedication of the new belfry screen, the gift of Mr. Basil Ionides, of Buxted Park, in which the church is pleasantly situated.

Ringing commenced just after two o'clock with Plain and St. Clement's Bob Minor and with more arrivals, Triples and Major were brought round.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. D. P. Hall, while the dedication was performed, and the address given, by the Archdeacon of Lewes, the Ven. J. H. L. Morrell, and it was rather nice to see several of the local band in the choir.

After more ringing, up to Double Norwich and Superlative, the company of 38 made their way to the nearby schools, where they were entertained to tea by the Rector, who afterwards took the chair for the business meeting. Mr. E. J. Ladd asked the company to stand in silence for a few moments as a token of respect to Mr. Oliver Sippetts, who was the Guild's first chairman.

Two new members were elected—Messrs. G. Billenness, of Hawkhurst, and Douglas MacIntosh, of Wadhurst. Reigate was chosen for the June meeting.

The collection for the local tower realised £1, which was gratefully received by the local captain.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

The ancient church at Winterbourne St. Martin, with its six bells, was selected by the Dorchester Branch for its meeting on April 14th. The Vicar (the Rev. C. Hughes) conducted the service and Canon A. Wilkinson Markby (branch chairman) gave the address.

Following tea, served in the school by ladies of the church, Canon Markby presided at the business meeting. Mr. R. Fitch and Miss J. Croft (Puddlehinton) were elected ringing members and Mr. D. W. A. Jeffery (Ewell) non-resident life member. Arrangements were made for members to attend the Guild Festival at Wimborne Minster including ringing at various towers on the way. Bere Regis was suggested for the next quarterly meeting.

The chairman thanked all who had helped to make the meeting such a success and a programme of ringing followed, under the direction of Mr. F. Precey. St. Peter's, Dorchester, bells were also available during the evening.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Meeting at Totnes

The Mid-Devon Branch held a quarterly meeting at Totnes on April 21st, when the fine ring of bells was kept going throughout the afternoon to touches of Plain Bob Minor, Grandsire Doubles and Triples and Stedman Triples as well as rounds for the less experienced.

A short service was conducted by the new Vicar of Totnes (the Rev. G. H. Samuel), who gave an excellent address.

After tea in the Central Hotel, the usual business meeting followed with Mr. J. E. Lilley in the chair. An apology for absence was received from the president (the Rev. Preb. E. V. Cox); one honorary member and one associate member were unanimously elected. The secretary reported that a joint meeting with the South-West Branch would be held at Diptford on June 23rd and that the next quarterly meeting would be held at Dartmouth on July 21st, both subject to the necessary permission.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar of Totnes by the chairman, who mentioned that the first peal of Grandsire Triples for the Guild was rung at Totnes on December 28th, 1901, which was conducted by his father, the late Mr. C. R. Lilley.

Ringing took place at Littlehempston Parish Church in the evening.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The annual meeting of the South Oxon and Mid-Bucks Branch took place at Benson on April 14th.

Members and visitors to the number of nearly 60 were present including the Rev. C. E. Wigg (Master of the Guild), Captain A. R. Poyntz (Deputy Master), Mr. W. Hibbert (general secretary), Miss Cross (librarian), Mr. Lock (secretary of the North Berks Branch) and Mr. Kinch (secretary of the Bicester Branch).

The address at the service was given by the Rev. G. Palmer, branch chairman, and, afterwards, tea was partaken of at the spacious Riverside Cafe.

At the meeting the secretary (Mr. H. Badger) reported an increased membership for the year 1950 and also a slightly increased balance. The increase in membership was due to the tower of Bledlow which had now 14 members.

The secretary congratulated Bledlow ringers on the progress they had made and said that generally there was more enthusiasm and less apathy in the branch.

After the meeting, ringing was resumed at Benson while others went to Dorchester Abbey, Ewelme, Berrick Salome and Warborough.

CHESTER

THE selection for the Central Council meeting on Whit Tuesday is a happy choice. Chester holds a unique place among the Cathedral cities of our land, as there are few which retain so many of the trappings of an ancient county town. Its walls are intact with its four gateways, although they were reconstructed during the 18th century. The Cathedral is within the city walls and contains a range of styles from Norman to late Perpendicular, all built of local red sandstone.

Last December we recalled salient features of the Cathedral bells, when we reviewed the booklet the Master of the Guild (Mr. J. W. Clarke) had written on the bells of the City of Chester. The bells were overhauled by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in 1927, and ten years later, to mark the jubilee of the Chester Diocesan Guild, two more bells were added to make the present ring of ten, which has a tenor of 29 cwt. in C.

With such an atmosphere as Chester possesses we feel sure that the Council meeting will be enjoyable. But it is an important one in the life of the Council, as in a sense it marks the end of one chapter and the start of another by the retirement of the hon. secretary, Mr. G. W. Fletcher. Last year the rules were revised and an important addition was the creation of a new class of membership—in life membership. This is probably the highest honour the Council can confer and it was designed for past and present holders of the office of president, hon. secretary and hon. librarian, and those who by merit have deserved this distinction. By the adoption of this rule Messrs. E. H. Lewis, G. W. Fletcher, W. H. J. Hooton and E. Alex. Young are automatically life members. It would indeed be a fitting compliment to Mrs. Fletcher, who has been so closely associated with Mr. Fletcher, if this privilege was conferred upon her. It is true that Mrs. Fletcher is an elected member of the Council as representative of the Ladies' Guild; nevertheless, she is well qualified as one 'by reason of their services to the art of ringing merit the conferment on them of the honour.'

Those who have followed the annual meetings of Guilds and Associations will have noted a number of changes in their representation. There are ten vacancies for honorary members, and the members of the Council when it comes to a ballot would be wise to pay particular heed to this question. It is not a matter of what a man has done for the Exercise, but what is the contribution he can make towards its furtherance. If his past services have been meritorious, then life membership is the appropriate reward. But what we want to emphasise is that honorary membership is not just a comfortable arm chair to enable one to 'hob-nob' with fellow-members, but an appointment that calls forth a willingness and ability to work for the Council in one particular sphere or another. We feel certain that with the many prominent men in the Exercise a ballot will be necessary.

It is somewhat singular that although the Central Council has appointed committees to deal with practically every problem within their purview, only once during the year with most of them do they come alive. Their reports are invariably interesting when presented, but, unfortunately, with perhaps two exceptions, they create the impression among the rank and file of the Exercise that they are moribund. With some committees, such as Peal Analysis and Records, their work is largely statistical and interim reports are out of the question. The Editor feels, however, that it would be of advantage if convenors of these committees would take advantage of the columns of 'The Ringing World' and indicate not only what they are doing, but be prepared to comment on matters within their province.

Critics of the Central Council, perhaps with a degree of uncharitableness, have deplored that while the Central Council meetings invariably convey a sense of vitality, the interval between sessions conveys an impression that nothing is taking place. We know this is not true and that there are members who are weekly engaged on direct business of the Council. The remedy as we see it is more publicity, either directly or indirectly, as our president has done by the medium of after-dinner speeches. With travel costs so high it is impossible for the Council to hold more than one session a year. We do, however, emphasise the point we made last week of the desirability of a second meeting of the Standing Committee a year. Constant publicity is the life-blood of any organisation.

LATE NEWS

The Cumberland's peal attempt for the Festival of Britain at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, on Saturday, was stopped by the police after ten minutes' ringing. There was a May Day celebration in Trafalgar Square proceeding at the same time and police feared the sound of bells would make speeches inaudible and make the crowd restless.

Congratulations to the Copt Oak, Leicestershire, band on a new record of a peal of Minor in 105 methods. The band desire to express their thanks to Messrs. J. Bray, G. E. Feirn and C. K. Lewis for figures and advice and to Mr. Ernest Bowley and Mr. A. E. Rowley, who have so often made up the band when short for practices.

Among the 500 guests at the Lord Mayor of Birmingham's Ball were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fearn.

A Sunday service band to score the first peal of Minor in their own tower is that of Tucknall, Derbyshire.

A footnote intended for the letter 'Suffolk Punches' was, in our last issue, placed under the letter 'Use of Bells for Broadcasting.' The error is regretted.

A quarter peal has been rung at Little Bad-dow, Essex, the average age of the band being 15 years 2 months. The band would be pleased to hear of a quarter scored by a younger band.

We do not know what St. Paul's Cathedral ringers think of the description in the 'Daily Telegraph' on their ringing at the Festival of Britain service. 'Jangling beauty' is hardly applicable.

The peal at Newton-le-Willows, Lancashire, is believed to be the first peal on the bells by the Sunday service band. They enquire whether anyone with memories of past generations knows of a previous peal here by such a band.

Guildford Cathedral band visited Olney, Bucks, on April 21st, the birthplace of one of their esteemed members and tower-keeper, Mr. W. J. Robinson. A peal of Stedman Triples was satisfactorily brought round. The band was afterwards entertained to tea by Mr. Robinson.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. George Billenness is the new secretary of the Hawkhurst and District Guild. He started ringing at Rye, Sussex, in 1899 and has about 100 peals to his credit, most of which he conducted. Mr. Billenness was out of ringing for some years but returned to the art in 1949.

Mr. C. E. Brown has 'circled' Blankney, (Lincolnshire) tower and Mr. J. K. Wagstaff, St. Peter's, Nottingham.

After a lapse of over 40 years, another peal has been rung at Brandeston, Suffolk. Mr. W. Wightman, who took part in the former peal, was, owing to indisposition, unable to stand in this time. The band all wish him a speedy recovery.

Bath ringers were impressed by the way in which 12-years-old James Fitzgerald rang the treble to his first quarter peal, Grandsire Triples, at St. Michael's, while in Bath for a cycling week-end with his cousin, both from Newport, Mon.

We are pleased to state that the paragraph that appeared in our issue of April 27th, that Mr. Albert Gilbert of Royston, Herts, is suffering from heart trouble, is incorrect. Mr. Gilbert, who has been ringing since 1904, is still a service ringer and on March 26th participated in a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples.

Princess Elizabeth visited Chester on April 27th in connection with the passing-out parade at the Officers' Cadet School at Eaton Hall and in the afternoon visited the Cathedral. After ringing to welcome her, the ringers assembled in the Chapter House, where the Princess spoke to Mr. Percy Swindley, the captain of the band, and asked him questions concerning the ringing of the bells. The bells were again rung on her departure. Fifteen ringers, including five ladies, were present. It will be remembered that the ringers at the Cathedral met Their Majesties the King and Queen in 1946.

HEMEL HEMPSTEAD BELLS RESTORED

WEDNESDAY afternoon, April 11th, saw the fulfilment and the consummation of the 800th anniversary of the beautiful Norman church of St. Mary's, Hemel Hempstead, when the restored bells were rededicated by the Lord Bishop of St. Albans.

The service began with the professional entrance, via the West door, of the Bishop of St. Albans, together with the Bishop of Bedford (the Rt. Rev. C. T. T. Wood), the clergy from the various churches in the district and the choir. Clergy attended from Berkhamsted, Northchurch, Apsley, Great Gaddesden, Bovingdon, Bourne End, Boxmoor, St. Paul's, with the local Congregational and Methodist ministers. The Mayor and Town Clerk were also present.

The Lord Chancellor was represented by Brigadier Watkins and the bellfounders (Messrs. Gillett and Johnston) by Mr. M. Howard and Mr. Stephenson.

At the rededication the rope, representing the proper ropes, was handed to Mr. H. Gates, the local captain. The immediate rounds were rung by:—W. C. Hughes, Joyce Lewis, A. W. Dix, Anne Stockdale, L. Baines, P. Holness, D. Latchford and W. Ayre. Following the dedication, the Bishop took as the text for his sermon, 'O praise God in His Holiness,' words in Latin and English on two of the bells, one of which is pre-Reformation.

At the close of the service 84 Grandsire Triples were rung by the same band except for H. Gates instead of Anne Stockdale. Other touches were rung before the tea which followed in St. Mary's Hall, when the Bishop commented on the beauty of the church and hoped that the people would continue to do their utmost for its maintenance.

Councillor Selden (chairman of the Restoration Committee) explained that the restoration had not been only of the bells, but that the fabric of the tower had been saved from further damage by restorative work.

The bells, a ring of eight (tenor 194 cwt.), dating from 1400(?) to 1767, have been eighth turned, tuned and completely rehung in an iron frame on massive steel girders concreted into the walls, thus making a sound contribution to the preservation of this ancient building.

The 'go' is excellent, the tone has been improved, the sound in the ringing chamber is much more balanced and there is a better circle. The bells themselves have been moved round one, the tenor now being where the seventh was.

After the tea and speeches, the ringers returned to the tower to enjoy further ringing from rounds to London Surprise. Towers represented, in addition to Hemel Hempstead, were:—Apsley, Berkhamsted, Tring, Stoke Poges, Linslade, Kings Langley, Abbots Langley, St. Albans, Watford, Luton, Sawston, London, St. Ives, St. Neots and others. Everyone expressed satisfaction at the work which had been done.

SOCIETY OF ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS

A very successful meeting was held at Reading on April 21st. Some 40 members and friends attended and ringing took place at St. Mary's during the afternoon, methods up to London being successfully brought round. After service, and an address by the Vicar, tea was provided at the Church Hall.

The Master, Mr. G. H. Cross, presided at the short business meeting. Five new members were elected—Mrs. V. Lathbury (Walton-on-Thames), Eric Hotine (Rickmansworth), Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Castle (Winnersh) and R. F. Diserens (Reading).

Guildford was confirmed as the venue of the next meeting on July 14th.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the incumbents and tower captains for the use of the bells and to all who had helped to make the meeting a success, not forgetting the choirboys.

A NON-ASSOCIATION PEAL

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to say that the peal of Grandsire Triples at Thurcaston, Leicester, on Saturday, March 17th, which I conducted, is to be withdrawn from the Midland Counties Guild, and should be non-Association.—Yours faithfully, G. ARMSTRONG.

Barwell. Leics.

A GOLDEN GOLDEN WEDDING

ON Saint George's Day, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Golden, of Northrepps, Norfolk, celebrated their golden wedding. Members of the Norwich Diocesan Association rang a peal in seven methods, the first of its kind on the bells, in honour of the event, conducted by his nephew, Nolan Golden.

Although no ringer, Mr. Golden has been connected with the Church all his life and has a lively interest in bells. He recalls many stories of the village ringers of his youth, of whom his elder brother was one. His speciality was collecting the key of the tower from the clerk's house, raising the bells, lowering them, returning the key and to work all in the space of ten minutes, a feat which was rewarded with two gallons of beer.

When the treble stock of the old five was broken in 1924, when Mr. Cyril Pooley was teaching one of the numerous young bands at the tower, Mr. Golden rehung the bell, complete with all new fittings, and the practices continued. Then, when the 17th century oak frame was replaced by a new steel one, the wood found a resting place in his builder's yard, but not for long, for Mrs. Golden suggested that a table should be made of it and presented to the Church. This has been done and our photograph shows Mr. Golden, at the age of 80, finishing the table, whose legs are shaped like bells with an inscription on the 'sound-bows.'

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN REPORT

We have received from Mr. E. H. Lewis president of the Central Council, the following statement regarding the report of the Festival of Britain Committee:—

The Standing Committee agree generally with the report of the Festival Committee and the recommendations with the following exceptions:—

They are doubtful whether, at the present times, it would be possible to instal a memorial ring of bells and in any case are not willing that the Council should undertake any financial responsibility.

They do not favour the proposal to select and name a special method for the Festival.

VETERANS WHO RANG PEALS IN THE LAST CENTURY

Mr. Charles Ball (85), of 16, Lambridge Street, Bath, rang his first peal (Grandsire Triples) at Twerton, Bath, in 1888, for the Bath and Keynsham Association. On his birthday, April 28th, 1892, he conducted a peal of Bob Triples which was one of the first peals for the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. A peal he remembers with affection was a 'Charles' peal of Grandsire Triples which he conducted at St. Stephen's, Bristol, in 1895.

With reference to 'Surrey First Pealers,' that appeared on page 267, Mr. Newnham, of Alresford, writes that Mr. William R. Crockford rang his first peal, Grandsire Triples, at Ashted, on September 28th, 1895. Mr. Newnham's first peal was Union Triples at Ashted on April 2nd, 1895. Both these peals were conducted by George Chantler.

ST. ALBANS, HERTS. — On April 22nd, 1,259 Grandsire Caters: B. C. Johnson 1, Miss O. Martin 2, A. Dale 3, C. F. Sayer 4, H. G. Mason 5, D. G. Clift 6, R. W. Darvill 7, W. J. Southam 8, G. W. Debenham 9, F. J. Bailey 10.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD

At the annual meeting of Cambridge University Guild held on April 25th at the Dean's Room, Clare, the following officers were elected for the coming year:—

President, the Rev. A. C. Blyth; Master, Mr. W. J. Ridgman; secretary, Mr. R. D. Edge; treasurer, the Rev. C. F. D. Moule; auditor, Mr. M. R. D. Harford; librarian, Mr. A. R. Guy.

Mr. E. J. Lindley was authorised to act as treasurer for the fund for printing the revised 'Guild History.'

THE LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

THE BUSIEST RINGING GUILD' — COPT OAK'S FINE ACHIEVEMENT — 42 METHODS AT A DISTRICT MEETING

A LARGE company attended the Leicester Diocesan Guild's annual meeting on April 28th and made good use of the bells of Belgrave (6), Cathedral and St. Margaret's (12) and All Saints' (6). The service at St. George's was attended by a large congregation; the Vicar conducted the service and the sermon was preached by the Provost of Leicester. Mr. E. C. Turner, one of the Guild's vice-presidents, read the lesson and the choir was augmented by members of the Guild. The usual collection was taken for the Bell Repair Fund.

Tea in the nearby St. George's Hall having been suitably dealt with, the Provost was thanked by the president Mr. H. J. Poole, for his continued interest in the Guild.

The chair was taken by the president and he was supported by Archdeacon Lyons, of Loughborough, the Vicar and organist of St. George's, the Guild hon. treasurer and secretary, the vice-presidents and members of the general committee.

In his opening remarks the president thanked the Archdeacon for his great interest and help in Guild matters. Thanks were also accorded the Vicar and organist of St. George's.

COPT OAK'S PROGRESS

Continuing, the president very heartily congratulated the Copt Oak band who, he announced, had succeeded in ringing a peal in 105 Minor methods. This was a very great achievement when, two years ago, no peal in seven Surprise Minor methods had been rung for the Guild. The result was only accomplished after very hard work by the band, who had met for practice as many as four times a week. The multi-method peals had progressed from nine methods by stages until success with 105 methods was the result. The band intended to extend further the number of methods rung in one peal.

Mr. Beniston, the conductor of the peal, in replying, assured the meeting that a high standard of ringing was obtained throughout the peal. The peal was one of the finest Minor peals in which he had taken part.

Archdeacon Lyons, who brought with him the good wishes of the Bishop, said as a result of his experiences while living in Loughborough he was developing a keenness and enthusiasm for bells and he hoped that during the Festival of Britain the sound of bells would be heard throughout the country and that they would be ringing for St. George and Merry England.

The president having welcomed the visitors, Mrs. Beamish and party from the Coventry Diocesan Guild, Miss Thompson (Ladies' Guild), Mr. Freebrey (Derby Association) and others, the lengthy agenda was tackled.

FORTY-TWO CONDUCTORS

The hon. peal secretary, Mr. Shirley Burton, gave his report for 1950. The peals rung, though less in number, had maintained a high standard on all numbers from Doubles to Maximus. A healthy sign was the number of young composers and conductors. There had been 24 first peals and there had been 42 different conductors. The total number of peals rung during 1950 was 193, of which 55 were on handbells. This number was 74 less than the previous year. Loughborough district peals of Spliced Minor had, in 1950, been increased in number of methods rung and had reached 80 in one peal. The Cathedral band, conducted by the president, had, for the first time, rung four peals of Surprise Maximus, namely, Rutland, Bristol and Spliced Maximus in three and four methods. On handbells Spliced Plain Maximus in four methods and Yorkshire Royal had been rung.

Among individual performances, A. Cattell had again rung two tower bells to a peal while Miss M. J. Whitehead had, at the age of seven years, rung her first peal; 268 had rung their first in the method, 10 conductors called their first peal and 26 called their first in the method. Among personal 'milestones' passed were:—1,250th peal, E. Morris; 500th, A. Ballard; 300th, S. Burton; 200th, Jill Poole and P. J. Staniforth; 150th, H. B. Bowley and W. A. Wood; 100th, J. R. Smith; while eight had reached 50.

Mr. H. J. Jenny, as one of the auditors, certified the accounts as being correct and satisfactory.

The hon. treasurer, Mr. A. E. Rowley, then presented his report. The total income of the Guild was, excluding the Bell Repair Fund, £130 7s. 6d. This amount, with £6 9s. 5d. transferred from reserve, balanced the expenditure of £136 16s. 11d., which sum included printing the 1948-49 report.

The Bell Repair Fund had, from collections and donations, been augmented by £28 15s. 1d. during the year. Grants during 1950 had been made to Saxby, South Wigston, Thurnby, Waltham and Sapcote; 45 guineas had been granted to these towers. Despite these grants which, with previous grants in other years, totalled 100 guineas, the fund now had a balance of £147 8s. 11d. The cash at bank and in hand was, at the end of 1950, £273 4s. 10d. The adoption of the report was proposed by Mr. H. Over and seconded by Mr. H. Broughton. The hon. treasurer was thanked for his work and the hon. secretary was congratulated on keeping his expenses so low.

Whitwick, on July 21st, was selected as the place for the next general quarterly meeting.

STEADY PROGRESS IN ALL DISTRICTS

The hon. general secretary, Mr. W. A. Wood, in giving his report for 1950, said all districts reported steady progress during 1950. The usual number of meetings had been held and a higher average attendance indicated that interest was being maintained. In one of the smaller districts, the average attendance at the monthly meeting was slightly higher than 50 per cent of the membership; this was in a somewhat sparsely populated part of the county.

Several joint meetings were held, with good results. Outings were becoming a regular feature and the social side of the Guild was being developed with happy results. A large variety of methods were being rung at monthly district meetings, the record being held by the Loughborough district, with 42 methods being rung at one meeting.

The Festival dinner was again held at the Bull's Head at Shelthorpe, near Loughborough. It was well attended and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

A successful Youth Rally, well supported by the younger members, had been held during the autumn. One of its results should be to encourage team spirit among those members who attended.

The general committee had spent much time during the year in the work of rule revision. This revision was necessary before a new edition of the rules could be printed. The cost of printing the report increased yearly and a single copy will cost—within a few pence—the whole of one adult subscription. It is vitally necessary that all members should pay up regularly. Means must be found to reduce the number of arrears.

During 1950, 67 new resident and 23 non-resident members had been elected. These additions had been cancelled out by lapsed memberships. The present membership was nearly 800 resident members and the number of non-residents brought the total to 1,350. The ringing members equalled almost exactly the number of bells in the towers used for meetings and if the total of 1,000 ringing members was to be reached, this proportion must be improved.

Sales of certificates were increasing and many more new members were asking for them.

The election of 41 new ringing members, from 20 towers, and two honorary members, together with three non-resident members was confirmed.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

There being no other nominations, all general officers were re-elected. They are:—President, Mr. H. J. Poole; vice presidents, Mr. P. L. Taylor and Mr. E. C. Turner; hon. general secretary, Mr. W. A. Wood; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. E. Rowley; hon. peal secretary, Mr. Shirley Burton.

Mr. H. J. Poole, in returning thanks, said he had had the very great honour of being president for five years of the most enthusiastic Guild in the country and, although he appreciated the support he had had and the confidence shown in him, he thought the office of president should, next year, be passed on.

Mr. P. L. Taylor returned thanks for himself and for Mr. E. C. Turner. Mr. Taylor said he had travelled much but he had found the Leicester Diocesan to be the busiest ringing Guild.

A proposal from the Hinckley District that the Guild annual meeting should be changed from the first Saturday in May to Easter Monday was, after some discussion, rejected by the meeting, the voting against the proposal being overwhelming.

The re-drafted rules, after a long discussion, were finally approved and it was agreed that they be printed.

It was announced that the Festival dinner and social for 1951 would be held at Market Harborough on October 27th. It is hoped that all districts will organise bus parties to make the occasion one to remember.

The president, having read a letter from the Central Council on the subject of Festival of Britain ringing, asked all to make a special effort and pointed out that the meeting to-day had been arranged specially to avoid May 5th, the Festival of Britain peal-ringing day.

The grant of 20 guineas to St. Mary de Castro, Leicester, and 10 guineas to Swepstone, for their respective bell repairs, was announced.

A social evening followed.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Lewisham District

Forty-five ringers and friends, representatives of eleven towers, attended the quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District, held at Eltham, on April 21st.

A short ringing session in the afternoon preceded the service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. D. A. Hodges, who extended a warm welcome to Eltham as a prelude to a very interesting address. The presence of the organist, Mr. A. C. Osman, was much appreciated. A short touch on handbells, contributed by Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barnett, was substituted for one of the customary hymns.

After a tasty and substantial meal, prepared and served by wives and friends of the local band, the business meeting was held, with the Vicar presiding. Six members were elected and one tower election was ratified.

Mr. A. S. Richards (West Wickham) read a report of proceedings at the Easter committee meeting. Arising from this report, the wish was expressed that the Association badge, now available in response to reiterated requests, would meet a ready sale. Questions and replies concerning the suggested rearrangement of Districts of the Association led to deprecation of the proposals as they affected the Lewisham District—it was even now too small rather than too large. Shoreham was chosen for the summer meeting to be held on July 28th. A warm welcome back to the District was extended to Mr. A. Purdom, of Bromley.

Votes of thanks were cordially accorded the Vicar of Eltham, the organist, the caterers and the local ringers.

CLERICAL GUILD RINGING WEEK

An Excursion Into Somerset

WELLS had been chosen as the centre for the Clerical Guild's ringing week this year and the members looked forward to visiting more of the magnificent Somerset churches in a district not covered two years ago when Taunton was the venue. Ringing was commenced without delay on Monday afternoon, by which time more than half the party had arrived. Such is our enthusiasm that the Liverpool member had started his journey before midnight—Norwich, please note. The six-bell towers of Dinder and Croscombe were first visited to 'get our eye in' somewhat. At the latter place, we were very kindly entertained to tea by the Rector, and it was there that one of the youngest members was heard to ask one of the oldest (a renowned bachelor) if he were a family man (collapse of oldest member). We returned for dinner, at which meal some ate so heartily that they had difficulty in negotiating the steps up to St. Cuthbert's belfry where ringing took place afterwards on the very fine eight. And so ended a good first day with the party now complete (Norwich arriving during dinner).

The annual Corporate Communion was held in the Cathedral on the Tuesday morning and, after a hasty breakfast, we left in cars for the first eight-bell tower, Wedmore, one member being, I fear, unshaven, because of the failure of his much advertised electric razor—a part being missing. Thence to Cheddar, where valiant attempts were made to get the tenor up right, but without success. Rumour had it that on only two occasions since the bells were recast in 1914 had it gone up properly.

One car afterwards played truant and took the opportunity to slip up the Gorge before going on to the next tower—Churchill. Apart from the beautiful scenery, this had the added advantage of arriving at Churchill to find the bells already raised. A picnic lunch was eaten and advantage taken of trying the 'rough' cider at the local but it didn't come up to expectations. We were told that it would make us get the tenor of Wrington up in one pull—that is if we could stagger as far. Unfortunately, it still took three of us to do this, but the ringing on this glorious ten was certainly the high spot of the day's proceedings. The only thing that marred the opening touch of Grand-sire Caters was that one member of the band was ringing Stedman—it didn't seem to work that way. Thence to Blagdon where one of our members was born. We all wondered whether he dare face the populace again, but they seemed to have forgiven him. We had the pleasure of meeting his mother and also the niece of another member. We were again very kindly entertained to tea by the Rector after ringing.

At Ubley (6) London Minor just wouldn't go. Perhaps it was the thought of the excellent dinner which awaited us when we'd finished at this tower. At least, after the meal, at Westbury a good course was accomplished. But then, listening to the Budget on a car radio, removed all thoughts of ringing from some of the hearers when it was announced that petrol would go up to 3s. 6d a gallon. Thus ended the second day—a day amongst the lovely Mendip hills with a glorious run over the top from Ubley to Wells.

BELLS FOR WIFE'S HOMECOMING

All were shaven next morning, thanks to a Heath Robinson affair which enabled the much vaunted razor to be used. Our first call was at Shepton Mallet (8) where our ringing was kept well in order by the sight of the Ten Commandments on the wall facing the back bells. At the next tower, Leigh-on-Mendip, we found that the bells could be rung on special occasions, which included bringing one's wife home. Perhaps it was the thought of this that caused the ringing to be rather poor! However, this was made up for by our Norwich member cleaning the gutters by removing the grass he found growing there! At Kilmersdon (6) we learned that one of the inscriptions on the bells ran:

'I shall be here if I am treated just
When they are mouldering in the dust.'

—a solemn thought. This did not prevent two members enlivening the proceedings with a duet on the piano at the Jolliffe Arms where our sandwiches were eaten. We then had the pleasure of ringing for an important local wedding at Mells (8). The importance of the occasion, combined with the excellent 'go' of the bells produced one of the best touches of Stedman rung during the week. Superlative was also accomplished for the first time here. The ringing at this tower was thoroughly enjoyed.

Thence back to Kilmersdon for tea at the Vicarage, again very kindly provided by the incumbent. Our disappointment at not meeting Mr. J. Dyke at Chilcompton after tea was partially mitigated by the excellent singing (!) of the Norwich and Southampton members who found a copy of a setting of the evening canticles. True, the treble and alto were missing, but the tenor and bass sounded fine. We also rang from the ground floor for about the first time here, which proved very popular after having climbed thousands of stairs (or so it seemed) that day.

CHEWTON MENDIP

Our last tower before returning to Wells was Chewton Mendip—a beautiful church with wonderful bells (the finest eight in England, according to one member). Ringing here was a great treat. We returned safely to dinner despite the driver of the smallest car causing fear and trembling in the hearts of his party by what they regarded as excessive speed down Wells hill, but it was nothing of the sort, of course. By the kindness of the Vicar, the annual meeting, after dinner, took place at St. Cuthbert's Vicarage. The chief points of interest were the election of the officers, as follows:—President, Canon C. C. Cox, vice-president, Canon R. F. Wilkinson, secretary, Prebendary E. V. Cox; committee, K. W. H. Felstead and A. G. G. Thurlow. It was decided to try to have next year's week in Suffolk.

On the last day we actually had a spare hour before commencing ringing for the day at the Cathedral. Perhaps it was awe at the thought of ringing on the heaviest ten in England which caused our efforts here to be not so good. From ten, to six at Pilton where, after ringing, we ate our sandwiches at the Vicarage and a very large teapot was kept replenished for us by the Vicar's wife, to whom we were very grateful. We left for West Pennard (6) where it was noted that one member still kept his tongue out as an aid to concentration when ringing. We had excerpts on a new Compton electronic organ here.

On our way to Street, the next tower, we passed through Glastonbury and again a car (the same one) played truant so that its occupants could climb the Tor. What a wonderful view from the top! Again we found the advantage of this, for the bells were ringing merrily when we arrived, and since we were asked to leave them up, this tower was very popular. Also very popular were the two Glastonbury towers, where we rang after tea, since the bells were already up there, thanks to the Bristol University ringers who had visited them an hour previously and who had learned that we were coming. Then back once more to Wells for dinner and so to our last tower—Wookey. The most important events here were an almost perfect course of London Minor and the president's loss of his sally through it lodging on a beam which ran across the belfry—the bell 'stood' of its own accord!

On the morrow all departed on their respective ways after a most enjoyable gathering. Our thanks are due to all the incumbents for the use of their bells and for their kind hospitality throughout the tour.

DEDICATION

BURES, SUFFOLK

One of the largest gatherings of ringers witnessed in the Eastern Counties assembled on April 28th for the dedication of the two new trebles added to the grand old six at St. Mary's Parish Church, Bures, Suffolk.

Besides over 150 ringers who were present at the service and tea, many others paid a visit in the evening.

The new bells are installed as a memorial to Dr. Thomas Wood, of Bures, who died recently, soon after having given support to the project.

A Bachelor of Music and a much-travelled man, Dr. Wood was in much demand at the B.B.C. and was widely-known and liked in Australia. Those gathered to honour his memorial came from many walks of life, with Mr. Maurice Brown, representing the B.B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt, of Australia House, and many others from various musical productions, etc., with which he had been connected.

The service opened with the hymn, 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' followed by specially chosen prayers. The Rev. C. P. Newell, of Ipswich, clerical secretary of Suffolk Guild, read the lesson from Ephesians iv., vv. 1—16. Then was sung Psalm No. 150.

The eight ringers then led the procession to the ringing chamber where Archdeacon Norton, taking the ropes from Mr. Michael Howard, dedicated the new bells. The opening band, who rang rounds, were:—C. Bower 1, A. A. Fitch 2, D. Mills 3, C. W. Pipe 4, Mrs. L. Mills 5, A. Cansdale 6, L. D. Mills 7, E. P. Duffield 8.

The choir rendered the carol, 'Ding, Dong, Merrily on High,' followed by the address from the Archdeacon, and then a closing hymn, 'Hark, on high, the joyful music.' A selected band rang an excellent touch of Stedman as the congregation left the church.

Over 350 ringers, friends and parishioners sat down to tea, a most bountiful spread provided by the local company and friends. Mr. Cecil Pipe, in a short speech, mentioned the work of Leslie Mills, by dint of whose hard work the project had been envisaged and carried out. Mr. E. P. Duffield paid tribute to the late Dr. Thomas Wood and to the local ringers for providing such a good tea free of charge for so vast a number of people.

Mr. Michael Howard, representing the founders (Messrs. Gillett and Johnston) thanked one and all for the compliments paid to their work and Mr. Leslie Mills, in his customary manner, added his thanks to everyone.

Praise was loud for the excellent splicing and 'go'; afterwards Mr. Mills did a fine job in ensuring that everyone desirous was able to have a ring.

The new trebles are an excellent example of the founders' art and weight 5 cwt. 1 qr. and 5 cwt. 2 qr. 26 lb., respectively.

They are inscribed as follows:—Treble: 'I ring well: to bring good cheer: in Festival Year: Thomas Wood's bell.' 2nd: 'To the memory of Thomas Wood, of Parsonage Hall, who was friend to one and all.'

Mr. Leslie D. Mills writes expressing the thanks of Bures' ringers to the bell-founders and bell-hangers and to those who sent their good wishes and helped in any way to make the dedication the success it was.

BODLEY'S BELL

We have received from Mr. Frederick Sharpe a booklet he has written regarding Bodley's Bell, which was provided in 1604 for announcing the opening and closing of the famous Oxford Library.

The bell was cast by William Yare in 1609 and is very thin and much chipped at the lip. The strike note is approximately F sharp and its hum note is almost a flat seventh below the strike note, a style of tuning known to campanologists as 'Old Standard.'

Mr. Sharpe comments that the bell is a 'maiden' casting, although a poor specimen of such. The approximate weight is two cwt.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BLISTERS

Dear Sir,—The question of blisters arose when I was Vicar of Moulton, 1926-1937. My churchwarden and his wife used to spend their holidays hiking; I used to do the same. I asked them 'What about blisters?' They replied: 'Methylated spirits does the trick. Rub the feet with the spirit, it toughens the skin.' I would suggest 'Blisters' tries this, but advise him to put his pipe out while anointing his hands.

My own remedy was two pairs of socks, which suggests help for 'Blisters.' When I was training my lady handbell ringers, the strenuous rehearsals raised blisters on their hands. Their remedy was a thin pair of gloves which gave them great comfort. I would suggest to 'Blisters' a thin pair of gloves. Possibly he might get laughed at but that is a mere detail. I have heard of a man who was laughed at and lived to be over 80.

Try methylated or thin gloves. He then may ring 200 more peals in comparative comfort.—Yours sincerely J. M. TURNER.

Moulton, Northampton

NAMING OF PEALS

Dear Sir,—Whilst agreeing in the main with Mr. Amos that a little more discretion might be employed in the naming of new methods, I do think the difficulty of finding titles should be borne in mind.

I believe, some time ago, there were generally strong feelings that methods should be named geographically, in other words, to link them in some way with the districts in which they were first rung rather than an association of personalities or (doubtful) qualities. Duke of Norfolk Treble Bob Premier and Superlative.

To-day, now that place names are established, the influx of peal ringing in new methods has made it increasingly difficult to carry out this idea and many districts have been almost too well combed for names. In fact, many hamlets that cannot boast a bell between them have been honoured in an effort to make the method 'local.' In some cases overlapping has ensued.

This doubling-up on place names is well illustrated in the case of Albanian Surprise, named after St. Albans, Hertfordshire, and not, as some suppose, the Slav country. It was first rung by the Abbey Society, Dennis Bayles, the composer, being at that time a member and a 'local.'

Unfortunately, the naming was made unusually difficult, for this city has already sponsored three other methods. The old St. Albans Delight, the rather newer St. Albans Surprise (I think I'm right) and Verulam Surprise after the Roman town. Incidentally, the district overcomes the national flavour of the later method by pronouncing it Orlbanian:—Albanian, a citizen of St. Albans.

I regret I can offer no solution to these problems. Saints' names, as suggested by Mr. Amos, are certainly an idea, but after they are exhausted—what next? Perhaps H. G. Cashmore, Op. 100.—Yours sincerely, PATRICIA HOLMES.

Northwood, Middlesex.

LARGEST TOWN WITHOUT BELLS

Dear Sir,—Annapos the statement on page 235 of 'The Ringing World' re largest town without a ring of bells. According to figures published by the Automobile Association, Bognor has 25,330 and Clacton 22,230. If this list were not confined to England only, the following might be of interest:—

Aberdeen 187,751, Airdrie 30,248, Ayr 44,018, Cambuslang 26,478, Clydebank 36,010, Dumbarston 24,259 (Bognor larger), Dumfries 26,563, Dunfermline 44,904, Greenock 79,377, Kilmarnock 42,281, Kirkcaldy 47,897, Motherwell 69,940, Perth 39,478, Rutherglen 25,836, Stirling 28,691—14 all larger than Bognor!

R. St. C. WILSON

Portobello, Midlothian.

SPICED SURPRISE

Peal Withdrawn.

Dear Sir,—I would like to withdraw the peal of three Spiced Surprise Major rung at Colman's Hatch, Sussex, on Saturday, March 31st, 1951. Also I tender my sincere apologies to the rest of the band.

This is a great disappointment for a struggling band after having rung a good peal to find out the composition, supplied by a ringer of repute, to be false.

In my opinion, Spiced Surprise Major is a doubtful quantity and should be brought to the notice of the Central Council and some hard and fast rules made. It makes me wonder how many peals of Spiced Surprise have been rung false and not withdrawn.

After all it is still possible for a conductor of the highest integrity to ring a composition which has been proved true, to still ring a false peal and, in my opinion, this is not a very satisfactory state of affairs. This will probably stir up a hornet's nest, but it will give people a chance to air their views and perhaps some satisfactory result will be obtained.—Yours sincerely,

Rotherfield

W. ROGERS.

THE STORY OF A BROADCAST

On Sunday, April 29th, at 7.45 p.m., a service was broadcast from Christ Church, Ebbw Vale. We were told that we should be broadcasting the ringing for approximately one minute at the start and, after great discussion, we decided to ring three plain courses of Grandsire Triples in succession, ending in rounds. As we estimated that we should come into rounds at 7.46 p.m. we timed our courses carefully—they took exactly three minutes two seconds each—and we arranged to 'go next' at 7.46.54 seconds.

The B.B.C. apparatus was in the vestry almost under the tower. Strangely enough, the microphone which picked up the ringing was in the recording van on the front seat, the van being under the tower. We rigged up an electric bell in the ringing chamber with the bellpush by the engineer's apparatus, and it was my job to see that the bell was rung just before 7.46.54 so that 'go next' could be called.

At about 7.30 p.m. the engineer rang up the B.B.C. and adjusted his stopwatch so that we had the exact time and I told him about the bellpush before the panic really started. He told me to ring it myself. Nervously I saw the seconds had pass 7.46 (was it really 7.46 ??) and saw it glide round the dial. Then before I could stop him, the engineer pressed the button at 7.46.30, thinking I had forgotten! The bells left rounds 24 seconds early and as I stood and watched the engineers checking and testing, the bells fairly whipped through those three courses. 'Here is the Welsh Home Service . . . we are taking you over to Ebbw Vale . . . came through the portable set as the back change rolled up in the last lead. The bells came over the air in the first whole pull of rounds.

The engineer of course knew he had made a mistake, but did not appreciate the enormity of it until we explained to him after. He seemed rather bewildered by the extreme complexity of our art. Incidentally he stated he had not broadcast bells before a service since the opening of our bells was broadcast in 1937. (He is from the Cardiff branch of the B.B.C.)

So, dear reader, if you think we can only ring rounds at Ebbw Vale, now you know better!

AN 85th BIRTHDAY

Mr. Walter H. L. Buckingham, of Lancaster Road, St. Albans, celebrated his 85th birthday on April 22nd and was paid a surprise visit by Messrs. H. V. Frost, T. J. Southam and W. Ayre, who rang handbells with him, including touches of Grandsire from the Original and a course of Plain Bob. Mr. Buckingham can still recite the calling of a peal but has difficulty in hearing the bells. Quarter peals in his honour were arranged at the Abbey and St. Peter's.

LORD MAYOR RINGS PEAL

A handbell peal in a Lord Mayor's Parlour with the Lord Mayor himself taking part, is an event of more than passing interest. On Sunday afternoon, April 22nd, members of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, by kind invitation of the Lord Mayor, Alderman A. Paddon Smith, J.P., Master of the Guild, met in the Parlour and rang 5,019 Stedman Cinques in three hours and six minutes.

After the peal, light refreshments were provided by the Lord Mayor, who was in his usual happy reminiscent mood. It was an historic occasion and a notable event in the long history of the Guild, and everyone present was delighted to feel that the Lord Mayor should be able to take part in this peal during his very busy and exacting term of office. He is as keenly interested as ever in ringing, especially in good Stedman Cinques, and the band at the Bull Ring is awaiting with pleasurable anticipation his return to Sunday service ringing, a duty he has performed for 50 years.

It is just 30 years since Alderman Paddon Smith rang his last handbell peal, and the band on that occasion was Percy O. Laffin (conductor) 1-2, George F. Swann 3-4, James E. Groves 5-6, J. Frank Smallwood 7-8, A. Paddon Smith 9-10, Morris J. Morris 11-12. The strength of the handbell band at that time was such that the umpiring of peals was taken in rotation, and the umpires for the 1921 peal were Albert Walker and Thomas Russam.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

East Norfolk Branch

Thirty-nine members attended the East Norfolk branch meeting at Loddon on April 21st. Visitors included Mr. J. Parker, father of Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, who, despite his 85 years, rang a course of Superlative.

The Vicar (the Rev. J. N. Stevens) conducted the service and presided at the business meeting which followed tea. New members elected were:—Mr. Maurice G. Ling (Great Yarmouth) and ratification of heltry elections of Robert W. Marjoram and Michael J. Gould (South Walsham). The next meeting will be held at Ranworth on June 2nd.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and organist and to Mr. H. H. Berrett and the ladies who organised the tea. Touches in various methods were rung including one by an all-ladies' band.

DEDICATION

ST. MARK'S, EXETER

Exeter has now another ring of eight at the Church of St. Mark's, the bells being dedicated and blessed by the Bishop of Crediton (the Rt. Rev. W. F. Surtees) on April 28th.

St. Mark's is a comparatively new parish, the church being dedicated in 1937 and had a ring of six taken from the disused St. John's Church in Fore Street Hill. These six bells have been recast into five by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Another bell was the gift of the late Mrs. Vincent Thomson and two trebles donated by Miss M. L. Symonds.

The work of recasting and rehangs has cost £1,700 and the bells are of a pleasantly mellow and tuneful tone.

At the service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. J. Poulton) the Bishop of Crediton dedicated and blessed the new peal. The churchwardens first presented the ropes to the Bishop who, on giving his charge as to their sacred use, handed them to the Vicar. Rounds were then rung by the St. Mark's ringers, who had been practicing in various towers in the city and neighbourhood. Clergy present included Preb. E. V. Cox (president, Guild of Devonshire Ringers).

The Rev. C. J. Poulton presided at the public tea, when congratulatory speeches were made by the Bishop of Crediton and Preb. Cox.

St. Mark's hand rang after the service and later bands from the city and county rang short touches on the new bells.

OBITUARY

MR. THOMAS BUTLER

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. Thomas Butler, sen., of Ellesmere, Shropshire, who passed peacefully away at the Wrekin Hospital, Wellington, on April 12th, aged 71, after 13 weeks' illness.

Mr. Butler, who was a member of the Shropshire Association, Chester Guild and other guilds and associations, learned to ring at St. Mary's, Ellesmere, over 50 years ago. This tower then possessed a 'stoney' Sunday service band but, after he returned from serving with the R.G.A. in France and Belgium during the First War, Mr. Butler was ultimately successful in introducing change-ringing in spite of the formidable and continuous opposition from some of the members of this well-established local band. Needless to say, success by his self-taught band was not gained without considerable 'spade-work,' many sacrifices and disappointments and Mr. Butler, therefore, was very proud when on June 20th, 1925, an entirely local band rang, at the third attempt, a peal of Stedman Triples on the bells, this being the first peal there by a local band since 1730. Even for several years after this change-ringing for Sunday services was not allowed, but he was always a regular service ringer.

A joiner by trade, he was one of the finest craftsmen in the district. He was also, to the end, a keen card and draughts player and had taken part in many international games of the latter by correspondence with American and other experts.

His last peal was one of his favourite method, Stedman Triples, at Ormskirk, Lancashire, on October 7th, 1944, and was rung for the birth of his only grandson. Shortly after this, Mr. Butler, who had previously enjoyed good health, was compelled to give up peal-ringing on account of heart trouble. He still climbed regularly to his beloved belfry, however and worked hard with beginners. On December 1st last, he took part in some tower-bell ringing there, also a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles 'in hand' specially arranged on the eve of and for his birthday, while on January 9th, a few days before he succumbed to the 'flu' and became seriously ill, he attended the annual bell-ringers' and choristers' supper and took part in some handbell ringing.

He leaves a widow, son, daughter, three grandchildren and many other relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

On April 16th his remains were conveyed to the Parish Church he had served so well and there the funeral service was conducted by the Rev. G. Stanley Lloyd. One of his favourite hymns, 'The day Thou gavest,' was sung and, as the cortege left the church for Ellesmere Cemetery, 'I know that my Redeemer liveth' was played by the organist, Mr. Hobbs. Four fellow ringers acted as bearers, viz., Messrs. A. Haynes, J. Howard, A. Whitehead and W. Sleigh. Among the many mourners was Mr. W. Higginson, sen. A plain course of Grandsire Doubles was rung on handbells over the open grave by A. Haynes 1-2, T. R. Butler 3-4, J. Howard 5-6 the same handbells being used as when Mr. Butler took part in his 'birthday' quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles last December. The funeral arrangements were carried out by his former employers, Messrs. Griffiths. One of the many floral tributes was a wreath in the shape of a bell from the Parish Church ringers. In the evening and on the following Sunday morning the bells were rung half-muffled.

His 50th peal, rung at Chester in April, 1937, was the 100th for his son, Mr. T. R. Butler, of Liverpool, who also took part in each of his 53 peals, the list of which is as follows:—Grandsire Doubles 1, Stedman Doubles 2, Doubles (3 methods) 1, Minor (3 methods) 1, Grandsire Triples 4, Stedman Triples 38 (conducted 4), Plain Bob Major 2, Kent Treble Bob Major 4, Total 53 (conducted 4). The four peals he conducted were different compositions of Stedman Triples, all rung at Pulford, Cheshire.

THICKY WAY IN DEVON

Ringers on Tour

A temporary improvement in the weather marked the commencement of a motor coach tour of South Devon made by about 30 ringers and friends in Exeter and East Devon districts. The ringers included round and call change men as well as 'scientifikers,' a description often applied in country places to members of the Devon Guild. There was also an enthusiast from Dorset who drove his own car.

Stoke-in-Teignhead (6 bells, tenor 12 cwt.) was reached after negotiating the intricacies of narrow and winding lanes. The church, most of which dates from the 14th century, has a fine oak chancel screen, well restored and an outstanding feature. The parish is proud of its association with the Graeme family of soldiers, whose records go back to the 5th century. Three Graemes were heroes in the wars of the present century. Part of an inscription on a memorial tells how, in the past,

'One by one they fell around
As the archers laid them low,
Grimly dying, still unconquered,
With their faces to the foe.'

The second stop was at Combe-in-Teignhead (6, 10 cwt.), where the church has a Norman font, 15th century screen and a captivating series of ancient and modern bench ends. Among the carvings on these are representations of a fox carrying off a goose, a dog chasing a fox, and numerous saints with their emblems. One figure, rarely seen, is, apparently St. Genes, or St. Genest, wearing a jester's cap and top boots and carrying a bauble. He was an actor and, according to tradition, was taking part in a burlesque of Christianity before the Roman Emperor Diocletian, when he suddenly proclaimed himself to be a Christian. He was ordered to go on acting in another play but resolutely declined and was beheaded. One of the ringers had rung here and at Stoke-in-Teignhead half a century ago; at all the subsequent towers in 1910.

Denbury (5, 8 cwt.) the next call (after a brief appearance at the annual meeting of the Devon Guild in Newton Abbot), ranks as one of the oldest settlements in Devon. The church dates from the 14th century but there was probably an older structure. It had, until about 100 years ago, a 16th century chancel screen.

Henceforth the weather worsened and the natural beauties for which the route taken is famous were shrouded in mist. However,

MR. WILLIAM PYATT

The Surrey Association have lost a promising young ringer by the death of Mr. Victor Pyatt (20), who rang at Horley and Barstow, until his illness about 12 months ago. He retained his interest in ringing and the Horley and Barstow ringers often took handbells to the hospital when he was well enough. He died on April 20th at Horley Hospital.

MR. CHARLES FREDERICK GOOD

The Kent County Association has lost a staunch supporter, and Charing a faithful captain, by the death of Charles Frederick Good. Born at Charing in 1891. Fred learned to ring on the village bells about 1908. He became an enthusiastic member and when his work took him to Rickmansworth he joined the local company. In 1913 he emigrated to Canada, returning from there in 1915 with the Canadian Engineers.

In 1919 he was back in Charing where, ever since, he worked hard to maintain a Sunday service band. Fred had no inclination for peal-ringing—he rang but nine peals—but he recorded many quarter peals and 720's rung for Sunday services and special occasions. He taught many boys and girls to ring and by sheer hard work and push a band has been maintained at Charing, where Fred will be sadly missed.

Broadhempston was reached through a maze of by-ways and the church (6, 13 cwt.) approached by a pathway arched by part of a public house. Most of the church originated in the 15th century. There is a chancel screen with notable tracery, a font is 600 years old and the bench ends have good modern carving.

The party nearly went astray during the next few miles to Staverton (6, 23 cwt.), but 'thicky' way was defined by natives with great courtesy and amazing wealth of dialect. The church proved, despite some restoration flaws, to be the most impressive visited during the tour. It is larger than any of the others, has a scratch dial one side of the doorway, a magnificent 50 feet wide chancel screen with gallery (which so many other screen do not now possess), two small side screens and two or three interesting memorials.

ROAD TO ZOO

The party had tea at Totnes and all rose from the tables in the evident belief that, despite the old adage, they could have gratefully eaten a bit more. However, 'Forward' was the order and none too soon for darkness had set in and that is not a desirable accompaniment for travelling by road. Faulty map-reading caused the road to Paignton and its Zoo to be taken but, after a couple of miles, a veteran Devonian, who really knows the topography of the county, spotted a fork leading to Berry Pomeroy and the coach was halted and reversed, to go through Totnes again for the correct route on the other side of the Dart. The destination was Cornworthy (6, 12 cwt.) passing Ashprington (5, now unringable) and having an appalling number of narrow, crooked lanes to negotiate with, at some places, a tributary of the Dart running alongside in considerable flood.

Cornworthy has a Norman font, 15th century chancel screen and a gorgeous tomb for members of the Harris family—Sir Thomas (a distinguished lawyer in Shakespeare's time) and Elizabeth, his wife. The church itself is mediæval and has box pews, curious metal pilasters, an ornate brass chandelier, seats in window recesses and a fine canopy crowned by a trumpeting angel. Formerly the canopy was over the pulpit, but the latter has been moved to a position near the screen and its old place is filled by a heating stove. The parish had one Vicar for the remarkable period of 71 years. He was Charles Barter, who died in 1846.

S. EARLE.

He was cremated at the Kent County Crematorium at Charing, his ashes being scattered in the lovely gardens where, as head gardener, he had laboured to make those gardens beautiful.

THE SERVICE

AN integral part of most ringers' meetings is the service. It is a subject which in the past has received much attention from the clerical members of the Exercise and there have been various attempts to devise a service that is equally applicable to any body of ringers, whether they be urban or rural, Low or High Church.

Probably the most comprehensive attempt to achieve uniformity was in the publication of 'A Manual for Ringers,' drawn up for the Oxford Diocesan Guild about May, 1914, and published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge. A feature was the wide measure of approval this form of service received, and it is still in use by some branches of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. Among those who approved were the Revs. C. D. P. Davies (then secretary of the Central Council), A. H. F. Boughey, A. T. Beeson, H. A. Cockey, C. C. Cox, E. V. Cox, F. J. O. Helmore, H. Law James, T. Lewis Jones, Maitland Kelly, C. E. Matthews and H. E. Tilney Basset. Between them they represented some eleven Guilds, but there never seems to have been a universal acceptance of the manual, although many Guilds have extracted appropriate portions to incorporate in their own services.

It seems evident that the compiler of the manual was not only a ringer but a peal ringer. Before attempting a peal was suggested the following prayer: 'O God, Who hast given unto men the power to glorify Thy Holy Name; bless, we pray Thee, this our endeavour, and, if it be Thy will, grant to us good success; for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord.' If the peal was successful the manual prescribes: Let all raise their hands in an attitude of praise, and say, 'All glory be to God most high,' followed by the conductor saying, 'The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ. . . .' Some of our members might regard this act as having been copied from another body. A rather appropriate collect had been selected for the conductor to say if the peal proved unsuccessful: 'O God, forasmuch as without Thee we are not able to please Thee; Mercifully grant that Thy Holy Spirit may in all things direct and rule our hearts; through Jesus Christ our Lord.'

At the present time a number of Guilds and Associations have under review their form of service. A liaison has been established by Mr. G. Sidney Joyce, of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, hon. secretary of the Norwich Diocesan Association, to devise a common form of service that would be acceptable to both Guilds and both Bishops. Already a large measure of agreement has been reached and an invitation is extended to other Guilds who may desire to join in. Such an action is prompted by economic necessity, as the cost of new service papers can be more than halved if a number of Guilds are willing to join forces. The idea has our strong commendation with the prevailing cost of printing.

We have had the privilege of examining the proposal forms of service and feel that it is outside the province of a layman to express an opinion. This we do emphasise—that most people do not like to change their form of service; men or women invariably have a strong affection for the religion of their youth. Critics will immediately chide us with a lack of appreciation of the circumstances of the present age, its thoughts and aspirations—and perhaps even its theology. A point frequently overlooked is that with the many added powers given to the laity by the Church Enabling Act and the formation of Parochial Church Councils no power is vested in them as to the form of services to be employed. The incumbent might seek the opinion of his Parochial Church Council or listen to any representations they might make, but the onus of responsibility is his, subject to innovations meeting the approval of his Bishop. Thus we feel that in the preparation of any form of service which is likely to be extensively employed, its acceptability rests not with the laity but with the clerical members who have to perform the office.

This last week the Editor was reading some words written by his own Rector—the Provost of Guildford. The latter wrote: 'We must make our churches human places, homes, where people can laugh as well as weep, be glad as well as sad, become strong, as well as knowing their own weakness.' To the ringer a church is probably more of a human place than to most members of the congregation, and those who have been associated with the belfries over many years have seen youth and maid develop physically and mentally through the exercise they receive. We like to think that the whole of their development has not been in a physical sense; perhaps even the ringers' service has had its influence upon them in moulding their lives to find a real and living Christ.

Mr. F. E. Dukes writes expressing his thanks for the information concerning the bells of St.
Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. He thinks what he heard was a broadcast of the bells of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, relayed over a foreign station.

The response to ring for the Festival of Britain was amazing. We have made a valiant attempt to give in this issue an indication of the ringing. Only a few of the peals are published and some of the quarters received before May 7th.

The Bishop of Guildford will dedicate the restored bells of St Mary's, Guildford, next Sunday evening.

Will those who submit peals and quarter peals please observe the style employed in 'The Ringing World'? Each item should be written on a separate sheet of paper.

The Central Council has purchased the stock of 'Village Bells.' Copies can be obtained from Mr. W. H. J. Hooton, Osmington School, Tring, price 9d., three copies 2s., post free.

Mr. S. H. Dearden 'completed the circle' of Milnrow (Lancs) tower with a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major on April 28th. This was the 25th peal together by Messrs. Charles and Jack Clegg, Vernon Sykes and S. H. Dearden.

Her friends in the Middlesex Association send their congratulations to Miss Edna Bedford on the occasion of her marriage on April 21st, at St. Peter's Church, Staple Fitzpaine, Taunton, to Mr. Andrew Knox, of Staple Fitz-paine.

From the 'Hull Daily Mail,' May 3rd, 1901—
50 years ago: 'At the last meeting of Hull Markets Committee, a member complained of the ringing of Holy Trinity Church bells on Saturday, and the inconvenience caused to the stallholders. A representative of the Town Clerk to-day reported that the bells had been rung by order of the churchwardens on the Saturday to give some gentlemen from a distance an opportunity of exercising their skill on bells. An undertaking had been given that this would not occur again.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

Commenting on the broadcast of the bells of Oxford, a Middlesbrough correspondent writes: 'At last a programme of ringing that is well-informed and contains good ringing. I must not say too much lest I be accused of undue partisanship by members of the educational establishment in East Anglia.'

The Irish Association propose to publish a quarterly magazine with Mr. F. E. Dukes as editor.

Mr. Albert Walker's 75th birthday was celebrated by three 12-bell peals. A small dinner party in his honour was held on Saturday, May 5th. Mr. F. J. Smallwood made the journey to Birmingham specially for the peal at Aston and for the evening celebration.

Practically all the quarter peals rung on May 3rd were not only for the Festival of Britain but also for the great Church Festival that coincided with the service at St. Paul's, Ascension Day. In order to condense reports this additional line has been omitted. We trust that this acknowledgment will suffice because we yield to no one in our faithfulness to the Church.

Mr. B. W. May, Rochester District secretary,
Kent County Association, has received a letter from Mr. C. Millard, of 2,820, Heath Drive, Victoria, B.C., enquiring whether he is still a non-resident member of the Kent County Association. Mr. Millard rang 13 peals before he left England in 1924 and now rings at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria. Here the company ring Grandsire and Stedman Triples. He sends his greetings to (if still alive) W. J. Walker (Rainham), G. Mabbs and W. Kitchingham
(Hartlip), the Spice family, C. Bishop and E.
Boaks (Upchurch), E. and S. Dobbie (Sitting-bourne), G. Kenward (Milstead), W. Nye (Teynham), W. H. B. Wilkins (Sheerness, who rang in his first peal, April 26th, 1913) and T. Jull (Newington).

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN RINGING SURVEYED

CAMBRIDGE FROM MINOR TO MAXIMUS RUNG IN A DAY — A QUARTER IN EVERY TOWER ATTEMPTED — YOUNGEST AND OLDEST RINGERS

MOST spectacular ringing for the Festival of Britain took place in Leicestershire where Cambridge from Minor to Maximus was rung by six of the band on May 5th. Those taking part in the four peals were:—John R. Smith (Leicester Cathedral), Terence A. Thornber (St. John-the-Divine, Leicester), Alfred Ballard (St. Mary's, Hinckley), Herrick B. Bowley (Leicester Cathedral), William J. Root (Leicester Cathedral) and Harold J. Poole (Leicester Cathedral). They rang in that order for Minor and in the same order on the back six bells in each of the other peals.

Reveille was at 5.30 a.m. for the 'B' twins, Ballard and Bowley. Promptly at 7 a.m. the peal of Cambridge Minor was started at Groby and the peal was brought round in 2 hours 21 minutes.

The journey to Thurcaston was without incident. The bells were all ready and so was Gus Warwick and Tony Jesson who made up the band for Major. The peal took 2 hours and 31 minutes. Mr. Bindley made arrangements for the peal and the party was joined by Peter J. Staniforth, Shirley Burton and Ernest Rawson. Tony Jesson left with best wishes for Stedman Caters at St. Margaret's, Leicester, and Winifred Burton was taken to Loughborough to join the All Saints' band who were also attempting Stedman Caters.

Promptly on schedule the foundry ten were set off in Cambridge Royal and, without incident, the bells ran into rounds 2 hours and 35 minutes later.

A very welcome tea had been arranged near Leicester Cathedral. The extra ringers included Mrs. H. J. Poole, Dorothy Udale and Kathleen Tilley. Cambridge Maximus was completed in 3 hours 31 minutes, making the aggregate ringing time for the day 10 hours 58 minutes and thus, for the Leicester Diocesan Guild, was achieved the success of Cambridge Surprise Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus, to be rung for the first time in one day.

Peter J. Staniforth and Shirley Burton rang in a peal of Cambridge Major at Welford during the morning and in taking part in the Royal and Maximus, rang in three peals in the method during the same day.

It was with great regret that the party learnt that the two attempts of Stedman Caters at St. Margaret's and All Saints' were not successful and they tender to both bands best wishes for success in the next attempt.

QUARTER PEAL ATTEMPTED IN EACH TOWER

The next 'mass' attack we learn of was in the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, where on May 5th an attempt was made to ring a quarter peal in each tower in the District. There are 13 towers possessing a ring of bells in the Farnham District but in one case, at Frensham, the bells were away at the founders undergoing a complete overhaul.

An attempt was made in each one of the 12 towers, starting at 9.30 at Ash. Aldershot, Farnborough and Farnham, followed at 11.15 at Worplesdon. After lunch, at 2.15 p.m., Bentley, Bagshot, Grayshott and Pirbright joined in with Hawley and Crondall at 4.15 p.m.: Yorktown at 7 p.m. and finally Seale at 7.45 p.m. Quarter peals were rung in every tower except Worplesdon, where a trip occurred after about 30 minutes' ringing and the bells were called round.

The bands were composed of local ringers as far as possible and 61 of the District's membership of 149 took part in the ringing during the day. Twelve members rang their first quarter and, in addition, there were eight firsts in the method or on the number of bells. The methods rung were Grandsire Triples, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Reverse

St. Bartholomew, the aim being to produce the best possible striking rather than a show of advanced methods.

ELECTRICITY CUT

A Festival of Britain peal which was attempted at Goring-by-Sea, Sussex, on May 3rd, came to grief after 2 hours and 25 minutes owing to an electricity cut. Only three six-scores of a peal of Doubles remained to be rung when the lights went out. The superstitious regarded Norman J. Smith as the Jonah of the band, as he was attempting his 13th peal.

Miss Joan Beresford celebrated her 19th birthday by calling the Festival of Britain peal at Lichfield Cathedral. It was her first peal as conductor on ten bells.

From Wembdon, Somerset, we hear that the local band rang their first peal in seven methods for the Festival.

YOUNGEST AND OLDEST

The youngest ringer to ring a peal for the Festival was probably John Thorsley, aged ten, who rang the treble to a peal of Minor in three methods at Carlton-juxta-Snaith, Yorkshire. John is thought to be the youngest ringer to ring a peal for the Yorkshire Association.

Probably the oldest ringer to participate in a peal for the Festival was 83-year-old Frank Blondell, who rang the treble to Stedman Caters at Kingston, Surrey. The peal was a second attempt, the first being lost after 45 minutes. Frank, therefore, rang 4 hours and 5 minutes.

We feel certain that Mr. F. V. H. Sinkins, of Slough, was the oldest to ring a quarter. He is 86 and rang for a service attended by the Mayor.

The band that rang the Festival peal at St. Thomas', Exeter, and St. Peter's, Derby, were the regular Sunday service bands.

Mr. Robert Collins 'completed the circle' of St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells, by his Festival peal.

A DISAPPOINTING START

For the past ten months the bells of All Saints', Benhilton, Surrey, have been silent whilst war damage to the church and tower has been made good. To celebrate the resumption of ringing and the Festival, a quarter peal was planned for May 3rd. This was not to be. After 20 minutes of ringing a loud crash in the bell chamber was followed in silence from the tenor. Investigation showed that the clapper had snapped in two. The company hope for better luck next time.

Mr. Thomas S. Brown rang his first peal for 50 years at Angmering, Sussex.

The peal at Clare, Suffolk, was the first peal on the bells by a Sunday service band. Miss Rosemary Seabrook, who participated, is the first lady to ring a peal on the bells.

Conducted by Mr. John A. Underwood a peal in 51 Minor methods was rung at Markfield, Leicestershire, for the Festival.

The Festival peal at Hornchurch, Essex, was the first on the bells for 17 years by an entirely local band.

At Corston, near Bath, the Festival quarter was rung by the regular band, the first occasion since the bells were hung in 1917.

FROM IRELAND

Northern Ireland is numbering its peals during 1951 as Festival of Britain series. The sixth peal in the series was rung on May 5th at Hollywood, Co. Down. It was also a birthday compliment to one of the Central Council representatives, Mr. John Dunwoody, and to his baby son, Mervyn. In Eire, a peal was rung 'in hand' in honour of the Festival at Drogheda on May 4th, conducted by another of their Central Council representatives, Mr. F. E. Dukes.

The Thorley family rang a quarter peal of Minor (720 St. Clement's, 540 Plain Bob) for the Festival on May 3rd, at Thorne, Yorks. They were:—John 1, David 2, James 3, Ernest 4, J. Martin 5, Charles (conductor) 6.

THREE PEALS IN A DAY

Three members of the Essex Association rang three peals on May 5th. They were Messrs. F. B. Lufkin, Victor W. Grimwade and Donald Coombes. The towers visited were Great Wakering, Leigh-on-Sea and Thorpe Bay.

Between the second and third peal a tea party was held at Leigh, where 17 sat down, including the Rector, his assistant curate and churchwarden. It was a very happy occasion with Prittlewell and Leigh ringers together. Host of the party was Mr. William Perry, of Leigh, who has been a regular rmger at Prittlewell for 25 years.

SIXTY YEARS A COLLEGE YOUTH

On May 2nd a band of College Youths met at St. Luke's Church, Bromley Common, at the invitation of Mr. Isaac Emery, an old and respected member of the Ancient Society, to ring a peal with him in honour of his attaining 60 years of membership.

The peal band included the Master, secretary, treasurer and steward of the Society and the conducting was done by Mr. Herbert Langdon, of St. Paul's Cathedral, in his usual capable style.

Isaac Emery, or better known to his ringing friends as 'Ike,' was elected a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths prior to ringing a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Nicholas', Chislehurst, on May 2nd, 1891, and for the past 60 years has been one of its staunch and loyal supporters.

The methods chosen for the 60th anniversary peal was again Stedman Triples and 'Ike' proved to the rest of the band that, in spite of his 80 years of age he was still as conversant with Stedman as ever.

At the conclusion of the peal Mr. Emery entertained the band and everyone wished him many more happy years of membership and good ringing.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION Market Weighton New Bells Tested

The Spring meeting of the Eastern District was held at Market Weighton on April 28th and was attended by about 36 ringers representing 18 towers. The recently recast ring of six bells were rung during the afternoon and evening in various methods, ranging from Cambridge Surprise to Plain Bob.

The service in church was conducted by the Vicar (Canon Marsh) who welcomed the Association to Market Weighton. Mr. Fox was the organist and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells.

An excellent tea was served in the Londesborough Arms Hotel and was followed by the business meeting, presided over by the vice-president, Mr. A. H. Fox, who asked the meeting to stand in memory of the late Mr. Dan Meadley, of Hull. Three new members were elected:—Messrs. F. Darbourne, of York, F. E. Darby, of Croydon, and D. J. Cox, of High Wycombe, the last two out-county life members. An invitation to hold the next meeting at Patrington, in June, was extended by Mr. L. Rodwell and was unanimously accepted.

The usual votes of thanks followed and further ringing took place, all agreeing that Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. had made a splendid job in rehanging and recasting the bells.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Earl of Shaftesbury's Welcome

THE annual meeting of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild at Wimborne on April 28th was well attended. The meeting took place in the Church Hall with the Master, Canon C. C. Cox, presiding. The Earl of Shaftesbury, president of the Guild, opened the meeting with a welcome to the company, saying how pleased he was to see such a large gathering in Wimborne. He also said he would like to thank all those concerned with the peal which was rung at Southwark to commemorate the passing of his 80th milestone. He was sorry to say that age now debarrd him from handling a rope.

The Bishop of Salisbury sent a message of greeting and good wishes and Mr. L. J. Lockyer, chairman of the Wimborne Branch, welcomed the visitors and thanked all who had helped with the arrangements.

The Master, in reply, thanked Mr. Lockyer for his welcome and for the effort he had made on behalf of the Festival. He congratulated Camborne and Litton Cheney on the restoration of their bells. 'Looking round the Diocese,' the Master continued, 'we can say that the Guild is very much alive and I hope we can take it for granted that all towers will do something to mark the Festival of Britain.'

The statement of accounts was presented and adopted. To help offset a drop in the Guild's credit balance and to help with the rising cost of printing the annual report, it was decided to introduce a small peal booking fee of 6d. per ringer, this to be sent to the assistant secretary.

The following officers were re-elected:—Lord Shaftesbury, president; Canon C. C. Cox, Master; Mr. W. C. West, secretary and treasurer; Mr. F. Slatford, assistant secretary; the Guild Committee and the representatives on the Central Council were also re-elected.

Two honorary life members were elected—Mr. Brown, 50 years, and Mr. G. Swaffield, 36 years—as ringers. Both have been members of the Guild for 26 years.

Unfortunately, the Guild reported the loss by death of several members, including Mr. W. Hart, of Westbury, late chairman of the Devizes Branch, and probably the oldest ringer of the Guild, aged 91; Mr. Jimmy George, aged 97; Mr. G. T. White, of Dorchester, a ringer for over 50 years; Mr. L. Harris, of Salisbury, vice-chairman and Ringing Master of that branch.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. T. W. Page-Phillips, in the Minster, the Lesson being read by Canon Cox. During the service a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by the Lyme Regis band.

Ringing continued throughout the evening.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Five branches of the Guild were represented when the Crewe branch held their monthly meeting at Goostrey on May 5th. In spite of many Festival peal attempts in Cheshire, 45 ringers from 16 towers enjoyed ringing, from rounds to London Surprise, on the six bells. The Vicar, who conducted the Guild service, gave a very interesting address, his subject being 'The Bells and their Inscriptions.'

A feature of the meeting was that there were almost as many ladies present as gentlemen.

Special mention must be made of the band of schoolboys and girls from Wrenbury, who were present with their teacher, Mr. H. Overton.

GIRL GUIDES AS BELFRY

RECRUITS

AN interesting incident was staged at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, recently, when a Girl Guide underwent her test for the 'Bell-ringer Badge Test,' syllabus of which is as follows: (1) Be able to ring rounds correctly. (2) Be able to raise and lower a bell, preferably in peal. (3) Be able to ring two standard methods: (a) Grandsire or (b) either Plain Bob Doubles or Plain Bob Minor preferred. (4) Be able to explain the technical terms used in ringing in her own tower. (5) Describe the parts of a bell and how it is hung. (6) Demonstrate ability to splice a rope and show how she understands the importance of rope maintenance.

The test, which took place at St. Mary Redcliffe, was the Change Ringing Test, in which she rang a six score of Grandsire Doubles and

108 changes of Plain Bob Minor, without a hitch and well struck.

The name of this Girl Guide is Miss Edith Brocklehurst, aged 14 years, who was taught to ring at the Gloucester and Bristol School for Ringers, at St. Johns-on-the-Wall, Bristol, and the mastery of the bell and her rope action leaves nothing to be desired, which reflects great credit on the instructors at the School, who put in a lot of hard work, and have turned out some recruits who are a credit to the Exercise.

Miss Brocklehurst is one of three in a family who have all been taught ringing at the school and are now regular Sunday service ringers at St. Mary's, Stoke Bishop, Bristol. This young lady has the ability and should go far; and I commend this way of instruction to other associations who have the opportunity to get a central place where they can carry on their instruction.

F. S.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

On April 28th the South and West District held a successful meeting at Feltham, Hounslow being unobtainable temporarily. Many methods were rung, ranging from rounds up to Spliced Surprise. It is a curious fact that striking always seems better, the harder the method.

In the evening, the lovely old 'church of the two peacocks,' Bedfont, was opened and the light and noisy six were set going to many Minor methods. After this, those still not satisfied went on to Stanwell, a heavier and slightly tougher six. Upwards of 25 ringers were present.

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD

Mr. F. W. Perrens the New Master

THE annual meeting of the Coventry Diocesan Guild took place at Warwick on April 21st, 80 members and friends taking tea at the Warwick Restaurant. Ringing on the fine ten at St. Mary's occupied the afternoon and part of the evening while a number took advantage of the chance to visit Sherbourne to ring on the pleasing six there amid rural surroundings.

The president (the Rev. R. R. P. Rigby, Vicar of Chilvers Coton) took the chair at the business meeting. The general hon. secretary's report gave the number of resident members as 173, non-resident 215, with 30 new members having been elected during the year. Twenty-eight peals were rung with two ringing their first peal and 37 their first in the method. 'Firsts' for the Guild were Bob Royal on handbells on June 23rd and Spliced Surprise in four methods on tower bells on December 9th. Worthy of mention were the peals of London and Superlative Surprise at Chilvers Coton and of Bob Major at Bulkington, both by respective Sunday service bands. The funds of the Guild benefited by £9 9s. 6d. as a result of the social held at Coton. Losses through death during the year were those of Mrs. L. Lewis (mother of the hon. secretary), an honorary member, and Mr. H. Price, of Stratford, an active ringing member. The balance sheet showed a balance of £8 16s. 9d., the low figure being accounted for by the fact that there had been heavy expenditure on the reports and also on the badges, although half the badges bought were in stock for sale to future members. The Bell Repair Fund stood at £15 9s. 8d.

The officers were re-elected en bloc with the exception of the Master, Mr. F. W. Perrens being elected in place of Mr. A. H. Beamish. The next meeting was fixed for Salford Priors on July 14th.

New members elected were: Mr. and Mrs. D. Carpenter (Allesley), Mrs. M. Middlemiss and F. Smith (Southam), E. Smith, H. Wagstaffe, R. Morris, A. Abbott and B. Abbott (Exhall).

A discussion arose regarding the division of the Diocese into districts. There were three diverse opinions—those who wished the area to remain in three districts, those who wished to divide into three independent branches with ringing masters and hon. secretaries, and those who wished to dispense with districts and revert to the former method of administration under the Master of the Guild and general hon. secretary. It was left with the General Committee to discuss the matter and report at the July quarterly meeting.

Sympathy was expressed to Mr. A. Roberts, of Coventry, a life member and former Master, on the loss of his wife, who had always taken the keenest interest in the affairs of the Guild.

A VETERAN OF LAST CENTURY

Mr. Thomas Groombridge, sen., rang his first peal at St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells, on December 24th, 1891, and his 96th on December 1st, 1900. On his 80th birthday, October 9th, 1947, he rang his 800th peal at St. Peter's, Notting-ham.

Mention has already been made in this series of his fourth peal which he conducted on April 15th, 1893, at Tonbridge, and which Mr. Lambert claimed as his first. Mr. Groombridge reminds his friend that they rang a peal together previously at Staplehurst on August 13th, 1892.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BLISTERS

Dear Sir,—With regard to the correspondent who wants to know how to ring peals without getting blisters, tell him not to grab the rope so tightly.—Yours sincerely, F. E. COLLINS.
Thornton Heath.

CONSULT A DOCTOR

Dear Sir,—May I suggest to your correspondent, 'Blistered,' that the effect of glycerine on soft skins is to keep them soft. To prevent blistering it would be more reasonable for him to try and harden the skin of his hands by the application of a surgical spirit or its better-known brother, methylated. I should add that if your correspondent's hands continue to blister easily, he would be well advised to consult his doctor and so ensure ensure that no skin disease or sensitivity is present.—Yours faithfully, Chelsea. J. HARVARD.

TEETH AND BLISTERS

Dear Sir,—I was interested in the letter in last week's 'Ringing World' from someone who signs himself 'Blistered.'

Three years ago I was in the same plight, my hands blistered even in a quarter peal. I tried glycerine, resin and everything that might help, without effect.

After going on a ringing tour in Devon, in 1948, in which I was only able to take part in five peals, I came home feeling really ill and went to my local doctor, who was quite at a loss to diagnose the cause. He suggested that I went to my dentist in case it was something to do with my teeth. Although my teeth were quite good outwardly, and I had not had toothache, the dentist found, after X-raying them, that they were poisoning my system. I had them taken out and I have not had a blister since. Perhaps this may be a help to 'Blistered,' but if he has already had his teeth out, the only other thing to try is a length of chamois leather to fit over the end of a bell rope.—Yours sincerely, W. ROGERS Rotherfield, Sussex.

RINGS OF BELLS IN BATH

Dear Sir,—I notice that the peal rung at Lyncombe, Bath, is published in 'The Ringing World' as Lyncombe, Somerset. Dove's 'Guide to the Church Bells of Britain' is rather misleading as, under the heading of Bath, there appears only 'The Abbey, 10' and 'St. Michael, 8.'

The other rings in the city come under—Bathwick, St. Mary's, 8; Lyncombe, St. Mark's, 6; Walcot, St. Saviour's, 8; Walcot, Christ Church, 8 (unringable); Widcombe, St. Matthew's, 6. These places are parishes in Bath and would not be found on any, other than a very large-scale, map. Two other rings should come under the Bath heading, Twerton-on-Avon (8) and Weston (6), both being in the city boundary, but are separate postal districts, so not-quite as confusing.

Apart from this, I think the 'Guide' is a marvellous piece of work.—Yours sincerely, Bath. GEORGE J. HAWKINS.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION

Dear Sir,—Mr. J. E. Cook has obviously misunderstood some of the statements made in 'Variation and Transposition' by J. A. Trollope. Mr. Trollope states that it is possible to determine the total number of methods, of a particular type, possible on a given number of bells. The two independent variables in the formula would be: (a) number of bells, (b) number of rows per lead.

In a given case all the possible methods could be written out, but the selection of those suitable for change ringing is principally a matter of trial and error. With a few exceptions the number of rows per lead would be twice or four times the number of bells.—Yours faithfully, Bicester. PETER N. WHITE.

ST. IVES AND ST. IVE

Dear Sir,—If Father Trehwella will look at the list of corrections to the 'Ringer's Guide,' he will find that I had already corrected the unfortunate mistake concerning the above—a mistake which I discovered when I fell into my own trap!

Concerning the weight of the tenor at St. Ives—the weight published, 13½ cwt., was calculated from the measurements of the bell and it is more likely to be reliable than local repute which is, as a rule, notoriously exaggerated.

During the compilation of the 'Guide,' I collect only one instance, Cudham (Kent), where local repute under-estimated the weight of the tenor, but cases of over-estimation were legion.—Yours faithfully, R. H. DOVE.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT

Despite the inclement weather there was a good gathering to try the stately ten, with tenor 30 cwt., at Mirfield St. Mary's on May 5th.

The bells were kept going from 2 till 9 p.m. with breaks for the service conducted by the president (the Rev. A. L. Minns), the tea, and business meeting. Methods included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain and Little Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Treble Bob Royal. There were also Minor and rounds. Although the striking was far from good on these difficult bells, the best touches were rung in the evening.

At the business meeting 14 new members were elected. Brighouse was selected for the meeting on June 30th and the local company were thanked for their co-operation. Handbell ringing in five methods followed. Good experience was gained by the younger members at this meeting. A. W. B.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

Secretary Completes 28th Year in Office

The Society held its 60th annual meeting at Leeds Parish Church on April 28th. Owing to various activities in the church the bells were not available before 5 p.m.; the waiting members soon had the bells (light eight only) going in fine style.

The business meeting was held in the tower at 7 p.m. Mr. F. W. Hutchinson presided and members were present from Armley, Batley, Burley, Drighlington, East Ardsley, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's), Huddersfield, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Ossett, Otley, Pudsey, Queensbury, Rothwell and also visitors from Snaith (Mr. G. Pickering), Hereford (Mr. Rock) and Mr. E. Theobald, of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. One new member, Mr. Geoffrey H. Sandham, of Idle, was elected.

Officers elected were:—President, Mr. J. W. Benten; vice-presidents, Messrs. S. Barron, F. Hutchinson and T. W. Strangeway; Ringing Master, Mr. W. Dixon; secretary and treasurer, Mr. H. Lofthouse.

The secretary's report and balance sheet were read and approved. The main items in the report were membership 221, compiled as follows: paid-up 135, honorary 17, Forces 3 and 66 in arrears. The secretary voiced an old slogan, 'Those who are not with us are against us,' and further stated there was no half way; if members were not attending the meetings they were letting the Society down. The life of the Society depended on each member. The financial side showed a slight improvement; the gross worth of the Society being £22 10s. 8d., which must be considered satisfactory in view of the fact that the subscription was maintained at the original price of 6d. per annum.

The secretary drew attention to a number of peals which had been rung in the Leeds District with non-members taking part, thereby losing the peal to the Society. He appealed to conveners to make sure that the visitors were made members; the year's subscription, he added, would not add seriously to the cost of living.

The next meeting was due to be held at Batley on May 26th.

IRISH ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Irish Association was held in Dublin on April 28th, with the president (Mr. William Pratt) in the chair.

Officers elected were as follows:—President, Mr. William Pratt; vice-presidents, Messrs. William Rogan, Samuel J. Evans and J. Ernest Harris; Ringing Master, Mr. Robert S. F. Murphy; general secretary, Mr. Fred E. Dukes, 26, William Street, Drogheda; librarian, Mr. R. S. F. Murphy; auditors, Messrs. W. D. Graham and W. Bovinizer.

The annual report recorded the restoration of the bells at St. Comgall's, Bangor, rehanging of Kilbroney bells, Rostrevor, and the major overhaul at Christ Church, Bray.

Ten handbell and eleven tower bell peals had been rung and three ringers rang their first peal. The membership of the Guild was: Practising 244, life 10, honorary 7, N.R.L.M. 97. The attention of all towers was directed to the insurance of ringers. For general guidance, the Church of Ireland has a scheme whereby all ringers between 16 and 65 are covered.

It was decided to publish a magazine quarterly which would contain items of interest and instructions on bell-ringing and methods. Mr. F. E. Dukes was appointed editor.

The question of printing the annual report was referred to the three district secretaries to ascertain what levy could be imposed upon the members in view of the high cost of production.

A proposal that towers should be inspected and advice given, provided that necessary expenses were paid, was passed unanimously.

The president, in his address, paid a high tribute to the work of the general and district secretaries. He also thanked the various representatives for their co-operation and attendances at meetings.

Two new life members were elected, for services rendered to ringing in Ireland, viz.—Mr. R. F. Hewson, Adare, Co. Limerick, who paid for the restoration of the Limerick Cathedral bells and also presented a daily service bell; Mr. J. A. Hayden, Limerick, who for many years has been a ringer at the Cathedral.

After the meeting the competition for the Murphy Cup took place at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. The three teams, the finalists from each District, were: St. Saviour's, Arklow (Eastern), St. Donard's, Belfast (Northern) and St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick (Southern), holders. The judges were Messrs. J. T. Dunwoody and F. E. Dukes. The long draught of rope, viz., 75 feet, told on all teams, especially the 'babes,' St. Donard's, who 'packed in' after seven minutes. St. Saviour's, Arklow, also had great difficulty and finished with 626 faults. The greater experience of the holders, Limerick, stood the test and they were declared the winners with 424 faults.

OBITUARY

MR. C. F. GOOD—AN APPRECIATION

All who have the welfare of village bands of ringers at heart will share with Charing, Kent, the great loss of Fred Good, the late leader of that tower. He was captain for the last nine years, succeeding his father in that office and in his 45 years of ringing taught well over a hundred ringers. The effects of his teaching were far reaching and invaluable. He was 'father' to the band at Egerton, having started them on their change ringing course in 1926.

Although capable of ringing higher methods he had little opportunity to practise them. He rang few peals but took part in a large number of quarter peals and 720's for Sunday service ringing, in the practice of which he resolutely disowned discouragement and kept the bells going.

In his devotion to the church and tower and in his loyalty to the Association, he was a model for us all. We shall ever be grateful for his quiet patience and brave cheerfulness and will try to live up to his example and help others as he would wish. A. W.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—14

Edited by ERNEST MORRIS

ABOUT this time (1886) Mr. Fussell's attendances at practices, meetings and peal attempts were very prolific and almost daily he records these events, sometimes by just plain statements, sometimes sarcastically, many times amusingly. Most of his time was spent between Slough, Reading and London districts. A typical entry is in January that year, thus:— 'Walked to Windsor, rang quarter peal at St. John's, and a short touch to let Patch have a pull, he being the only one there besides the band, which was all Slough men, and two young boys learning. Left at 9 p.m. and went to the "Horse and Groom" and rang several times on handbells till 10.15 p.m.. The landlord brought us two good pots of best ale. We all rode home by train, ringing tunes while riding.' At an entertainment he records hearing a good song by the name 'The Bells of Rochester Steeple' which went:—

'Gaily rang the bells of Rochester Steeple, As we sailed down the Medway with the flow of the tide;
And O! my heart was sad when I heard the town's people Declare Polly Jones was the name of the bride.'

A CHANGE AS GOOD AS A REST

In February he went to Wooburn, reached the church at 3 p.m. and looked over the bells, etc. Started for a peal 3.40 and rang 1 hour 27 minutes when 'Alf' missed his sally and broke the stay—the bell going over. They went up and drew the third rope right again, regreased the tenor's bearings and started again. After ten minutes the treble slipped wheel. A third attempt proved successful with Holt's Original in 3 hours 7 minutes. He goes on to say: 'It was after nine o'clock when we finished—altogether we were in the tower nearly 5½ hours before completing the peal Band:—Newson 1, A. Fussell 2, W. H. Fussell 3, A. Greenaway 4, W. Wilde 5, J. Barry 6, W. George 7, J. Woolford 8. I rang third without a stay. After ringing about 1 hour 20 minutes Woolford let Perryman take the tenor from him as he was done up. Perryman continued to ring it throughout the peal and put her along at a good pace. Towards the end of the peal the 5-6-7 began to tell on the men after so much pulling all the evening—Wilder got quite exhausted ringing the fifth, which was worse than the others, and had to jack up. I knew Woolford could ring the treble or tenor so told Newson to let him take the treble; then Newson at once took the fifth off Wilder and we finished the last five leads of the peal with good striking. We were fortunate in having two tenor men and again in the fact that Woolford was able to ring treble, or we would have lost the peal.

'After the second breakdown, we knew we should be unable to catch the 8.45 train home—the last. On setting the bells we went over the road to the pub where Newson, Wilder, my brother and his little girl, whom he brought with him, slept the night. Greenaway and Woolford walked to Maidenhead and Perryman and I walked home to Slough, leaving Wooburn about 10 p.m. and got to Slough ten past midnight. The night was very dark—Hedsor Hill seemed very long and tedious—a lot of loose gravel had just been put down to make up the road—it was rough travelling. Perryman had borrowed a stick at Wooburn which helped him a great deal and, for an old man turned 60 years, after getting up at 6 a.m., going to work, this eight-mile walk home after the ringing, I must say he is a good old brick, and he walked remarkably well.

To show Mr. Fussell's enthusiasm for bells is to quote how the next day, Sunday afternoon, on the way to Ruislip, he heard them clanging at Ickenham, as he was going over the fields. So he hurried on and arrived in time to chime three bells for afternoon service—the tenor of the three being about 4½ cwt. Then on to Ruislip where, after the service, he rang the tenor for the first time to a peal in 2 hours 58 minutes. He says: 'After going to Wooburn and Ruislip so many times for a peal at each tower, it was very satisfactory that I made my way home—two peals rung that had been a great deal of trouble and expense for a long time.'

A few days later he went to London and met a band of Cumberlands at Rochester Row. Newson same late—he had met Penning at Hampstead. They rang a peal of 6,048 Kent Treble Bob Major. After it, 'went to a pub opposite which had a "right-of-way" right through the bar, in lieu of an old passage.... Good fortune seems to follow peal ringing by fits and starts. I have now rung five peals right off, each on a peal of bells I had not rung on before.'

He next went to Reading St. Mary. 'H. White, from Basingstoke, met me and we called at Newell's. Egby and Newman and the Rev. Robinson were in the tower. C. Hounslow and Washbrook came up and we rang a well-struck peal of Stedman Triples..... Washbrook called the peal in a most steady manner. The Rev. Coleridge found the seventh drop a deal and heavy work at the end of the peal. He invited the band to Caversham to dine.'

Mr. Fussell kept up his walking exercises and in March he walked from Slough to Reading (St. Laurence's), starting at 1 p.m. and arriving at 5 p.m., then, after tea, went and rang in a peal of Bob Major in 3 hours 19 minutes. A day or so after he walked to Chertsey, via Datchet, Staines, etc., and, on arrival, had some bread, cheese and ale in company with a mole-catcher, a rag-and-bone dealer, an old tailor and a young man out of work. Left here at 3.30 and walked back by Thorpe Church and on to Egham, over the meads to the Bells of Ousley and through Old Windsor and Datchet, getting home to Slough at 6.15 p.m.—a distance of 22 miles—and had the honour of seeing Her Highness Princess Beatrice and the Countess of Erroll.'

THE COLD SHOULDER!

On one occasion after walking to Windsor with Newson and Jacob they went to see the Vicar of St. John's, but he would not allow them to ring, as strangers, 'in a very rude, ungentlemanly way, closing the door in an unchristian spirit, to our displeasure. However, some of us chimed the eight bells for 11 o'clock service. Then walked back to Slough, arriving back just as the congregation were coming out, and in time to ring two courses of Kent Treble Bob Major, this being the first touch on the eight bells (after augmentation). After dinner we all walked to Datchet, took two boats and pulled down to Old Windsor. Rang at St. Peter's, 720 Kent Treble Bob Major, the Vicar giving permission, for evening service. The behaviour of the Rev. Harwood being a favourable change after the surly and gross manner of that evil-disposed looking Dr. Gee.'

In July he went to the annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Abindon and had a good time in the company of such well-known men as Haworth, Proctor, the Rev. Robinson, Field, Hounslow, Betteridge, Vincent and others. Rang at St. Helen's and St. Nicholas', then drove to Drayton for a peal of Stedman. He says: 'The ringing room is on the ground floor open to the church aisle, crowded with neat little peal boards made by the Vicar, and written in black and gold. The ropes are small and good, the bells well in tune and a splendid peal for the weight of metal, in fact one of the best ringing places to be found.'

CHESTER

MEMORIES of the Central Council meeting at Chester are likely to remain for a long time in the minds of the members who attended. It was a record Council in many respects. The number of members attending (131), which had never been surpassed, the length of time occupied by the Council meeting, which did not finish until nearly 8 p.m., the fact that the Standing Committee were unable to complete the agenda on Monday evening and had an early meeting before the Council meeting on Tuesday, all combined to make this 54th annual meeting of the Council out of the ordinary. There was another significant pointer: 76 members attended the Communion service in the Choir of the Cathedral on Tuesday morning. As one member said to the Editor, it is the highlight of a meeting when a great body of men and women seek inspiration and guidance from the true font of love.

As to the Council meeting itself, business unfolded itself in an unforeseen manner. Probably the most important was the willingness of Mr. G. W. Fletcher to continue in office for another year as hon. secretary and treasurer to the Council to enable the committee of officers to make a recommendation to the Standing Committee and from them to the next Council at Lincoln. This generous gesture on Mr. Fletcher's part was received by the Council with a sense of relief. Such an appointment cannot be settled in the midst of a very long agenda during an evening sitting. It requires care and thought, as so much hinges on a wise choice. From what the Editor heard in conversation with members there were men at Chester who were willing to accept nomination—men who were conscious of the heavy responsibility. What was equally gratifying was that Mr. E. H. Lewis consented to remain as president during the next three years. There was evidence of real affection as the members received his nomination. And while for a time he will be sojourning in Scotland, the love of bells and ringers is so firmly implanted in his make-up that we feel certain that his permanent residence will eventually be in this country and with his ringing friends.

Probably the biggest surprise to the ordinary members of the Council and to the Editor was the state of 'Ringing World' finances. A profit of £1 12s. 11d. was achieved only after Mr. Fletcher had concluded negotiations with the publishers. The spiral of inflation has hit us severely and unfortunately it has not finished. Before long, when existing stocks of paper are exhausted, added charges will have to be met, wage increases faced and high postage (an item that will cost £81 this year) paid. It is obvious that the paper is now being run at a loss. There was an unfortunate mistake when subscription reminders were sent out last year, as some old forms were mixed with the new. Some 40 subscribers have not replied to Mrs. Fletcher's request to send the additional 3s. We trust they will do so without delay. A new Editorial Committee has been appointed to wrestle with the problem of rising costs and they are seeking an almost impossible solution to maintain the journal at its present standard without increasing the selling price. It is evident that new revenue has to be found. Every additional notice and new postal subscriber reduces the gap. Something like £250 is needed. Unexpected things do happen in life; perhaps it will be forthcoming in the next week or two.

Among the work accomplished by the Council was the revision of Decisions of the Council, a particularly useful and essential piece of work that will clarify the position in regard to peals. These will be published in a new Central Council handbook, the last being produced in 1927. This handbook is wanted and will be a very valuable guide not only to members of the Council, but the Exercise at large. A determined stand was taken against prize ringing in connection with the offer of Mr. Butlin, and there are matters still outstanding in connection with the Festival of Britain, but more anon.

We will end this editorial on a happier note. Nothing could exceed the cordiality of the welcome the Chester Diocesan Guild gave to the visitors. The Master (Mr. F. W. Clarke) was a host in himself, and those who were privileged to be conducted around the Cathedral by him and by the Rev. J. Kingdon had a delightful experience which revealed how an early abbey and monastery had been developed and enriched by succeeding generations to become one of the great cathedrals of the land. The graciousness of the Bishop and the Dean who received the Council and the hospitality of the Chester Diocesan Guild who provided tea in the midst of the long agenda were much appreciated. Lastly, Mr. Ralph G. Edwards, who did his utmost to provide peal attempts for the many visitors, should not be forgotten. For both peal ringers and tower 'snatchers' there was a wide choice.

The Official Journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

EDITORIAL OFFICE: c/o Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: 12 months, £1; 6 months, 10s. 6d.; 3 months, 5s. 6d. Send remittance to Mrs. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:—

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD (convener).

FRANK I. HAIRS.

JOSEPH T. DYKE.

HAROLD J. POOLE.

Pending the new committee meeting all communications should be addressed to the retiring secretary of the committee, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

The bells of Ecclesfield Parish Church, near Sheffield (8, tenor 15 cwt.) are being rehung with new frame and fittings. The contract has been placed with Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd.

The bells of Carhampton Church, Somerset, have been overhauled and new fittings supplied where necessary. The work is the gift of Major H. J. Cann in memory of his uncle, Canon G. F. Coleridge. A special service of thanksgiving for this and for the restoration and enlargement of the organ (the gift of a former parishioner in memory of her parents) will be held on Monday, May 28th, at 7 p.m. The Lord Bishop of Bath and Wells will preach.

Willesborough, Kent, ringers aim at a quarter or 720 for every Sunday service and to date they have rung 18 quarters and 16 720's in eight methods.

Burnham, Bucks, had hard luck in their Festival peal attempt of Treble Bob which was lost in the last half course after 2 hours 50 minutes' good ringing.

The ringers of the sixth in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung at Edmonton on April 26th was Charles E. Willmington, and not as printed.

Our attention has been drawn to the Editorial on May 4th entitled 'Finding a Secretary.' The views expressed were entirely those of the Editor and they do not coincide with the opinion of the late Editorial Committee.

Mr. Frank Blondell informs us that he is only 81 and not 83 as was submitted in a report. It is therefore obvious that Mr. Frank Bennett, of Brighton, who has rung more peals than any man living, has the honour of being the oldest ringer to score a peal for the Festival.

Following the investiture of the King of Denmark as a Knight Companion of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, a peal was rung on the bells of the Curfew Tower, Windsor Castle. The peal was also to mark the Festival of Britain.

BELFRY GOSSIP

A noted 'tower-snatcher' and a member of the Central Council visited Christleton while at Chester only to find the belfry door shut. As no local ringers were about, he went to the Vicarage to ask for the key. The Vicar was unable to oblige but produced a large assortment of old rusty keys in the hope that one would turn the lock. Each proved to be of no use. Then someone had the bright idea of trying the door. It had been purposely left unlocked for the benefit of visitors.

The Festival peals at Newcastle-under-Lyme and Stapleton, Nottingham, were rung by the Sunday service band.

Mr. F. Kevon Thompson informs us that the peal of Doubles rung at Barrow-on-Soar on April 14th was one in eight methods and April Day had been omitted from the report submitted. Mary Carpenter is the first lady to ring a peal on the bells.

We have received, in connection with the Festival of Britain and Whitsun, 146 quarter peals. Many of our contributors will, owing to the limitation of space, be disappointed. Will they please accept our regrets if they are unlucky?

We regret to announce the passing of Mr. T. H. Reeves, late secretary of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, on May 18th. An appreciation of his services to the Guild and the advancement of ringing in the Birmingham area will appear in our next issue.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have received the contract for recasting and rehangng, with new frames and fittings, the ring of 13 bells at Halifax Parish Church, with tenor approximately 27½ cwt. There will be a semitone between Nos. 6 and 7 to give a light eight. The total weight of the recast bells will probably be just over 132 cwt. The installation is expected to be completed by Christmas.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL AT CHESTER

RECORD ATTENDANCE TACKLES LONGEST AGENDA — THE SECRETARYSHIP: MR. G. W. FLETCHER TO CONTINUE FOR ANOTHER YEAR — 'RINGING WORLD' FINANCES CAUSE CONCERN — METHOD EXTENSION: AN IMPORTANT NOTE

CHESTER Diocesan Guild left no stone unturned to make the 26th Council (54th annual meeting) of the Central Council memorable. The Refectory Hall, within the precincts of the Cathedral, with its priceless ceiling, a wonderful example of the craftsmanship of the present age, made an appropriate meeting place for the members of the Council on Whitsun Tuesday.

Mr. Edwin H. Lewis, the president of the Council, presided, supported by the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. G. W. Fletcher), the hon. librarian (Mr. W. H. J. Hooton) and Mrs. Fletcher received the Bishop of Chester (the Right Rev. D. H. Crick) and the Dean (Bishop Norman Tubbs), who was accompanied by the Master of the Chester Diocesan Guild (Mr. J. W. Clarke) and the clerical secretary (the Rev. J. Kingdon).

The Bishop of Chester, in welcoming the conference to Chester, said that their presence there was the result of the Festival of Britain because they would have been meeting in London but for the tremendous pressure on accommodation caused by the Festival.

As they knew, the Central Council had considerable ties in Chester. Their founder, Sir Arthur Percival Haywood, had a son, young Percival Haywood, who was a friend of his from his boyhood days. When he died, last year, it was a tremendous loss to the public life of Staffordshire and not least to its educational work because he was for years the efficient chairman of the County Education Committee. He had two sons, one of whom was Rector of Tarporley.

Personally, he knew very little about change ringing but he had read Dorothy Sayers' classical thriller, 'The Nine Tailors,' and here they had another link with the Chester Diocese; one of his priests was leaving to become Rector of March in the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich and this was the old church mentioned by Dorothy Sayers in her novel.

The Dean added his welcome and said he was enormously impressed by the attendance at the Holy Communion service in the Cathedral that morning attended by 76 of their members. There was an old tradition that bellringers never attended a service but that was all out of date now. They would never let the community down if they held together in that way.

Thanking the Bishop for his welcome, the president said it was a very great privilege for him, personally, to come back to the ancient city of Chester, because for eight years he was a resident in the diocese and he had rung more peals for the Chester Diocesan Guild than any other Guild. Archdeacon Barber was then Master and Mr. Beeston the secretary.

The Bishop had mentioned 'The Nine Tailors.' Some years ago Miss Dorothy Sayers wrote to him and asked if he would explain something about change ringing to a Swedish lady who was to translate her work into Swedish. He took her to St. Paul's and to the tower at Brasted. The first Christmas of the war he received a copy of 'The Nine Tailors' in Swedish. He thanked the Dean for his hospitality in placing the hall at their disposal.

The Bishop, in thanking Mr. Lewis, said it was now 26 years since the Council visited Chester, and the beautiful ceiling of the Refectory was not then in being. The Bishop then opened the Council meeting with prayer.

ROLL OF THE COUNCIL

The Secretary reported that the number of Associations affiliated to the Council was now 53, being one less than last year, due to the Barnsley and District Society resigning. The membership of the Council was as follows:—

24 Associations with four members..	96
6 " " three " ..	18
11 " " two " ..	22
12 " " one " ..	12
53 Associations with a membership of 148

The Surrey Association had elected three representatives in place of two and there were 17 life and honorary members, giving a total membership of 163. All affiliation fees had been paid.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

Application had been received from the Sheffield and District Society for membership. This Society was established in the year 1890 and operates within a radius of twenty miles of Sheffield and covers some of the territory of the Yorkshire Association. The Standing Committee recommended that the Sheffield and District Society be affiliated as a non-territorial Association.

The proposition was moved by the hon. secretary and seconded by Mr. Leslie Morris, and carried.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

PRESIDENT

The hon. secretary moved on behalf of the Standing Committee that Mr. E. H. Lewis be elected president for the triennial period 1951-1954.

The resolution was carried with acclamation. Returning thanks, Mr. Lewis said he felt in many ways in the last few years he had rather let the side down. He had not been able to do all the work he should have done or ought to have done owing to pressure of business. In six weeks' time he would have at least between 50 and 60 hours per week more leisure.

HON. SECRETARY AND TREASURER

The President: You will see on the agenda that Mr. Fletcher retires and does not seek re-election. That statement was a great shock to us all, though perhaps not altogether unexpected, in view of the great pressure of business that has come to Mr. Fletcher in the last few years. Many of us gave a good deal of thought to the problem of a possible successor and it is not easy to think of one. This was discussed at length by the Standing Committee and Mr. Fletcher made a generous offer that he would carry on for another 12 months on two conditions. One was that the extra work in connection with 'The Ringing World' be divorced from the duties of secretary and that during the next 12 months members of the Council and the Standing Committee think very hard as to what is to happen in the future.

The position of secretary is not easy to fill: we require somebody who is not too old and not too young to be irresponsible. We want somebody in the happy medium and, unfortunately, people of that age are rather scarce owing to the great loss in the 1914-18 War, and of course, we as ringers are affected by that war because during that time there were very few recruits coming forward. That is something to think over. I hope the meeting will accept with real gratitude the generous offer of Mr. Fletcher to carry on for 12 months to give us time to think.

I propose that we re-elect Mr. Fletcher as our hon. secretary and treasurer bearing in mind his desire on those two points. In doing that I cannot fail to pay tribute to our unofficial assistant secretary, Mrs. Fletcher, and when we do our thinking during the next twelve months we have to consider whether in future the job be made permanently double-handed.

There were cries of 'All' when the president asked for a seconder and the resolution was carried with acclamation.

Mr. Fletcher: I should like to express my appreciation for the way in which you have received this particular appointment. It is perfectly true that I need a rest, more particularly to-day because of business activities. As I have told the Standing Committee, my average business day is from nine to eight at night.

The Secretary: The Standing Committee recommend that a small committee be appointed to consist of the present officers of the Council, with power to co-opt, to consider the recommendation to the Standing Committee of a secretary.

HON. LIBRARIAN

Mr. Harold Poole proposed the re-election of Mr. W. H. J. Hooton, seconded by Mr. A. Walker.

Mr. Hooton, in reply, said he would try to carry on and do what he could. He hoped the Council would realise that libraries did not get any less in weight or numbers with the increase in publications. This might make it necessary to duplicate the office of librarian and appoint someone to assist him. He thought they might divide the actual library from the publications for sale.

HON. MEMBERS

The Secretary: Under a new rule the president, secretary, librarian and past secretary become life members. They were previously honorary members. Mr. C. Dean was now deceased and Mr. Smallwood was now the representative of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

The Standing Committee recommended that the Earl of Shaftesbury, Mrs. L. K. Marshall, Messrs. E. A. Barnett, G. E. Debenham, T. Groombridge, A. A. Hughes, F. Sharpe, W. H. Viggers and A. Walker, retiring members, be re-elected and Mr. E. Shepherd, Mr. M. Howard, Mr. P. L. Taylor, Dr. Hatcher, Mr. D. Hughes, Mr. B. Price and Mr. G. R. Newton be elected members. That would leave four vacancies which should be left for emergencies.

The secretary moved and Mr. P. J. Johnson seconded.

Mr. C. H. Kippin moved and Mr. G. Pullinger seconded, that Mr. J. P. Fidler be elected an honorary member.

The meeting elected as hon. members the names submitted by the Standing Committee with the addition of Mr. Fidler.

NOTICE OF MOTION

The secretary, on behalf of the Standing Committee gave notice of a motion for next year's meeting that Mrs. Fletcher be elected a life member. (Applause.)

HON. AUDITORS

The secretary said that Mr. A. A. Hughes, the present auditor, was eligible for re-election and they wanted a second auditor. The Standing Committee recommended the re-election of Mr. Hughes and that Mr. F. Perrens be elected a second auditor.

This was proposed by the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead and seconded by Mr. H. Miles and carried unanimously.

LOSS OF MEMBERS THROUGH DEATH

The members stood while the president read out the list of the following members of the Council who had died during the past year: Messrs. W. H. Barber (Durham and Newcastle) 1924-1950; W. Pickworth (Middlesex County) 1909-1911, 1930-1935; H. R. Newton (Ancient Society of College Youths) 1891-1893, 1897-1899, 1924-1950; W. Short (Worcestershire and Districts) 1915-1926; Rev. R. F. R. Routh (Hertford County) 1936-1939; Messrs. C. Tyler (Sussex County) 1891-1893; W. H. Shaker (Lancashire Association) 1927-1950; J. George (honorary member) 1918-1932; O. Sippetts (Sussex County) 1939-1951; C. Dean (Surrey Association, honorary member) 1897-1932, 1933-1950; W. Clayton (Surrey Association) 1936-1939; J. G. Wall (Hereford Diocesan Guild) 1891-1897; Rev. G. D. Scott (Irish Association) 1920-1929.

Tributes to the memory of Mr. Barber were paid by Mr. R. S. Anderson (who was taught ringing by the deceased) and by Mr. Albert Walker, who mentioned that on June 9th a party of College Youths were coming from London to Birmingham to hold a meeting and they were making a special pilgrimage to Mr. Barber's grave.

Mr. F. Dunkerley spoke of the great loss to the Lancashire Association by the death of Mr. W. Shaker, who was for 40 years the secretary of the Association.

Mr. A. C. Hazelden called attention to the death a few years ago of Mr. J. G. Wall, a member from 1891-97, who died on April 28th, 1941. His passing had only just reached the Biographies Committee.

Mr. F. E. Dukes mentioned the passing of Canon G. D. Scott, for 50 years a member of the Irish Association and a practical ringer.

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING

The secretary reported that the minutes of the last meeting were published on pages 252 and 253 of 'The Ringing World.' The Standing Committee recommended that they be taken as read and approved. This was proposed by Mr. F. Hairs and seconded by Mr. Leslie Morris.

REPORTS

THE HON. LIBRARIAN'S

The report of the hon. librarian stated that in October last the new book of Major Compositions was ready and a steady stream of orders began. The demand for the 'Doubles and Minor Collection' continued while 'Hints' and the Handbell book remain popular. For the last-named book demand is very steady and a reprint should be considered. Other publications now available are the revised 'Card of Instructions on the Care of Bells' and the new edition of 'Model Rules.' Recently an approach was made to the Council by Mr. J. B. Howes and Miss Howes with regard to the disposal of the stock, blocks and copyright of 'Village Bells,' a popular instruction book. It was decided to purchase this.

During the year there have been several loans from the library and some enquiries for information from the older ringing papers have been answered. He regretted that he had not been able to make much progress with the distribution of duplicate volumes of the books bequeathed by the late J. H. Shepherd.

He hoped that the Council approved the decision to send out such books on permanent loan. They would thus remain the property of the Council and, in the event of accident to a library book, the duplicate could be reclaimed. Each book thus sent out would contain a Council book plate.

The following presentations were gratefully acknowledged:—'Church Bells of Renfrewshire and Dumbartonshire' (R. W. M. Clouston) by the author; Papers belonging to William Taylor, of Penwortham, by A. Tomlinson; 'Church Bells of Ayrshire' (R. W. M. Clouston), by the author; 'The Tower and Bells of Spilhill Church' (Shepherd), by E. H. Lewis; 'Ringers' Guide to the Church Bells of Devon' (Charles Pearson), by G. Edwards; 'Church Bells of Oxfordshire,' Vol. II. (Sharpe), by the author; 'Ringers' Guide to the Church Bells of Britain' (Dove) (two copies, one a finely-bound presentation copy), by W. Viggers and the author.

The following books have been purchased:—'Art and Science of Handbell Ringing' (Turner); 'The Reliquary' (19 parts) containing articles on the bells of Cornwall, Derbyshire and Notts (Dunkin and Jewitt).

The accounts of the library showed that 1,752 books or pamphlets had been sold during the year for £109 14s. 2d.

Mr. Hooton, in moving the adoption of the report called attention to the purchase of the stock of 'Village Bells,' about 600 copies.

Mr. F. E. Dukes seconded and the report was adopted.

THE ACCOUNTS

The Income and Expenditure Account of the General Funds of the Council for the year ending December 31st, showed income: Affiliation fees for 1950, £37 5s.; subscriptions, honorary members, 5s.; balances (profits): 'Ringing World,' £1 12s. 11d.; publications, £9 8s. 5d. Expenditure:—Printing and blocks, £2,575 9s. 10d.; editorial office: rent, £13; editor's fees and expenses, £288 9s. 11d.; clerical assistance, £116 12s. 9d.; postage, £8 17s. 6d.; stationery and sundries, £1 1s. 8d. Postal subscribers: Despatch of copies, £107 2s. 9d.; postage and wrappers, £303 14s. 6d. Accounts Department: Clerical assistance, £52; postage and telephone, £21 17s. 8d.; stationery and sundries, £12 7s. 6d. Excess of income over expenditure for the year, £1 12s. 11d.

The hon. secretary and treasurer, in presenting the accounts, said under the new regulations of the Council which were adopted last year, the accounts were made up to December 31st, 1950, and in future they would be made up to December 31st in each year.

Commenting on 'The Ringing World' account, Mr. Fletcher said the excess of income over expenditure was very small, in fact if it had not been for the sale of the 'History of the College Youths,' there would have been a loss. To give the members some idea he had separated the expenditure under various headings and by doing that they got the items of the three departments.

Turning to the balance sheet, Mr. Fletcher said the item goodwill and blocks of the 'Ringing World' was placed at £200, and last year a member proposed that it should be written off. The Standing Committee suggested it be left there. He had put the library at £10, but he wanted to see if he could pick up any idea of what it cost. Debtors, included in that figure of £814 8s. 4d., was 'The Ringing World' account. They had to carry three months of the Rolls Publishing Account. They had some difficulty in persuading them to give them extra. Creditors of £379 15s. 2d. was made up of £387 in postal subscribers and £19 deposit in notices. There was an item, bequest J. H. Shepherd £10 17s. 3d., which was to ensure that his collection of ringing books did not go astray. The books had been received and were being sorted. The balance on the General Fund was £1,926 9s. 6d.

The Standing Committee recommended that the library's value be placed at £10: that this value be retained during the year and additions during the year be written off; that the value of the goodwill and blocks of 'The Ringing World' remain at £200; that the bequest of J. H. Shepherd be placed in the General Fund.

There was, continued Mr. Fletcher, one other point that had been engaging them for some time and that was the question of income tax liability. It was a question of serious concern if it went against them. The Standing Committee recommended that the account be passed over to a professional firm and Mr. Hughes had kindly offered for his own particular firm to undertake this job.

Mr. A. A. Hughes seconded the adoption of the accounts. They were very involved and it was a further instance of what they owed to Mr. Fletcher for the vast amount of work on them. He did congratulate him on what he had done.

Mr. Anderson suggested that the Shepherd bequest should be used as some permanent record. The Biographies Committee were proposing to have a loose leaf cover as a memorial.

Mr. E. C. S. Turner seconded the proposition that the Shepherd bequest be used by the Biographies Committee for binding records. This was agreed to and the accounts were adopted.

CARTER RINGING MACHINE

Mr. A. A. Hughes (convener) stated that he had not submitted a written report. The machine was now in first-class order and it was hoped that, before it went back to South Kensington Museum, Mr. Albert Walker would test it by calling a peal of Stedman Cinques.

Mr. A. Walker, in seconding, brought to the attention of the Council the work on the machine by Mr. Douglas Hughes and Mr. Brian Price. The last time he saw it it functioned perfectly.

The hon. secretary said the 1950 report called attention to the necessity of providing a suitable electric motor for the machine. He had not had that account and when he mentioned the matter to Mr. Hughes he said there would be no account. They ought to place on record their grateful thanks to the person who had footed the bill. (Applause.)

METHODS COMMITTEE

The Methods Committee continued its work on the subjects mentioned in last year's report. Although the new Plain Major book was then said to be nearly finished, the settling of many final details proved a longer business than was expected and two actual meetings of the Committee had to be arranged to finish the work. However, we are pleased to report that the book is now complete and we hope the revision will be found useful by the Exercise.

As instructed by last year's Council, we examined the manuscript of the Surprise Methods Book prepared by the last Committee and in our opinion, although it is a monumental work which, as it were, crowned the efforts of that Committee, we fear we cannot recommend its publication at present for the following reasons:—

(a) The cost of printing would be enormous to-day (we agreed it was a great pity that it was not published when first produced).

(b) Much of its contents have been given to the Exercise in publications since it was written.

We therefore recommend that it be placed in the library, for even though it remains unpublished, it will always be a reminder of the genius of the late Mr. J. A. Trollope to those who come after.

We have commenced our investigations of Doubles Methods and we are agreed in the first place that methods with one hunt should have a four lead course even though the Plain Bob lead head rule is relaxed. Secondly, we recommend that the type of Bob be fixed for these methods and, thirdly, that no 'mixing' of methods be entertained (e.g., in the past, methods could have identical leads but were named differently as distinct methods simply because they used different kinds of bobs and singles). So far we find that there are about 20 methods possible, observing the above rules and also having either two or four blows at the back or at the lead when the treble is leading or lying behind respectively. There are also about a dozen methods having either two hunts or based on a principle (like Stedman). We are now engaged on working out a further sufficient number of methods to complete 42 different ones to enable peals to be rung. As was said last year, the Council can rest assured that any departures from the usual practice of ringing on higher numbers of bells will be kept to the minimum but it is obvious that some relaxations will have to be made if 42 different methods are to be produced.

We have concluded our investigation of the principles of Method Extension and a separate note is submitted for the Council's consideration to complete the work of which the first part was accepted last time. It seems important to stress most emphatically that we have submitted a report on what we consider desirable in extension and not what is possible. We have interpreted this as meaning that we should think of the practical ringer—not so much the mathematician. Further work is proceeding on how the recommendations affect methods which have been put forward as extensions of the Major in Mr. Corrigan's book—that was the reason for the note of warning in 'The Ringing World.'

NOTE ON METHOD EXTENSION

In the report which we presented to the Council last year we dealt with all the points except lead-ends. Lead-ends are themselves dependent on the pivot bells, a given sequence of pivots from Minor to Maximus producing two alternative sequences of lead-ends, one produced by a 2nds place and the other by an ultimate place. Investigation has shown that any sequence of pivot bells, from Minor to Maximus (3,465 in all), is theoretically correct. This means that a parent method having its lead-ends in a given order may correctly extend to a method having its lead-ends in any order, e.g., a method extended from Minor to Maximus may have its first lead-ends as follows:—

35264	4263857	907856342	57392E4T608

Although this sequence seems absurd, it is, nevertheless, possible. This can be proved mathematically. But since our task has been to determine what is desirable and not what is possible we have formulated the following recommendation:—

'That the pivot bell shall be the same treble or the same tenor throughout the series of extensions except when the pivot bell in the parent is equally a treble and a tenor when it may be treated as either.'

The trebles (ignoring the treble proper) are those bells nearest to the front in rounds and the tenors those nearest to the back. Thus in Minor (23456) the 2nd and 3rd are the first and second trebles and the 6th and 5th the first and second tenors respectively. The 4th is both the 3rd treble and the third tenor may be treated as either. Similarly the 5th in Major is both the fourth treble and the fourth tenor. The following table shows the sequences of pivots which would be permitted by the recommendation—the sequence to be read vertically downwards:—

	Trebles					Tenors
Minor	2	3	4				4	5	6
Major	2	3	4	5			5	6	7	8
Royal	2	3	4	5	6		6	7	8	9
Maximus	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	0	E T

Investigation has shown that these are the only sequences which do not produce absurdities.

If this recommendation, together with those presented last year, is adopted by the Council, no alleged extension so far published of London, Bristol or Superlative Major can be regarded as acceptable.

The Rev. W. H. K. Felstead moved and Mr. C. K. Lewis seconded the adoption of the report.

Mr. Harold Poole said with regard to method extension it occurred to him that it was something that they ought not to jump to a conclusion. It would have a far-reaching effect on many people on the Council and he was going to suggest that the method extension so far as it concerned lead-ends be published as suggested and finally ratified at the next meeting. 'We are more concerned with what is true extension and not what is not.'

Mr. Felstead: The majority of the Committee are agreed to that course.

Mr. C. K. Lewis: We hope that people who object to the proposal will produce evidence to support their views.

Mr. Poole said one of the things that wanted clearing up was the extension of Lincolnshire and Yorkshire.

Mr. Felstead: Mr. Kippin has done a lot of work on extension and he came to the conclusion that there were 18 possible ways to extend from Major to Royal.

It was agreed that the note on extension be left for final discussion next year.

The members of the Methods Committee, the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, Messrs. E. A. Barnett, H. G. Cashmore, C. K. Lewis and F. Nollan Golden, were re-elected and the Rev. Felstead elected convener.

EXETER AND THE FESTIVAL

350 Ringers Attend Rally

It was among the ringers of St. Thomas' Church, Exeter, that the idea of a Festival of Britain Ringers' Rally originated and it was, therefore, most appropriate that a band drawn from the regular Sunday service ringers there should have scored a peal on the evening of May 4th. During that same evening the bells of the great majority of towers in the country were ringing out in honour of the Festival and it is safe to say that nothing of the kind would have been attempted had not the invitation to do so been sent out in the joint names of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers and the Devon Association of Ringers. Incidentally, the proposal for this simultaneous ringing came from the Rev. Fitzwilliam Carter, a vice-president of the Guild.

The small committee, drawn from both organisations, which arranged the rally in Exeter on the following day estimated the probable number at around 150 but the chance of a ring at the Cathedral was a bigger 'draw' than they realised, and as a consequence nearly 350 were present. The Diocesan Sunday School teachers were also meeting in Exeter during the afternoon with the result that at the service at the Cathedral the nave was filled to capacity. The second lesson was read by the Guild president, Prebendary E. V. Cox, and the address was given by the Dean, the Very Rev. A. R. Wallace. He compared the teachers and ringers to two auxiliary corps in the army of God, the ringers being the Signals, proclaiming far and wide the Church's existence.

Owing to the large number present two halls had been booked for tea. At the Legion Hall the chair was taken by Prebendary E. V. Cox, who said how delighted he was to see such a happy gathering of method and call change ringers. 'This is a unique event,' he went on. 'Never before have any two organisations combined in this way. Long may this union between the Devon Association and the Guild last and don't let us have to wait for another Festival of Britain for another reunion.'

Ringling began at the Cathedral and at St. Thomas' at 1.30 p.m., continued at the Cathedral until 8 p.m. and at the five city churches until 9 and in some cases 10 p.m. The great attraction, especially as far as the call change men were concerned, was the Cathedral, as never before had the tower been thrown open to them. Owing to the large number wishing to ring, the time allowed for each band had to be cut down to about three or four minutes.

Without advising anyone of their intentions, the B.B.C. sent a recording car to the Cathedral. In reply to an enquiry, they stated that the recording was for possible inclusion in one of their Festival programmes, but no decision had been taken as to whether the recording would be used.

NORWICH DIOCESAN

South Norfolk Branch

Fifty-six ringers and friends attended the South Norfolk Branch meeting at Pulham St. Mary on May 5th: included were Mr. and Mrs. Seager from Leeds (Yorks) and Mr. D. A. Chapman from Doncaster. The Rector, the Rev. C. G. Kerslake, conducted the service afterwards and tea was served by Mrs. Whiting and ladies of the Parish in the Reading Room.

The Rector took the chair at the meeting supported by the president, the Rev. A. St. J. Heard. Mr. W. L. Duffield (Branch chairman), Mr. E. Whiting (Ringing Master), Mr. A. G. Harrison (Branch secretary) and Messrs. F. C. Roper, W. A. Lock and C. W. F. Phillippo (committee) and ringers from 25 different parishes. James Morley, of Diss, was elected a ringing member and it was decided to visit Kenninghall for the next meeting on July 28th.

The bells of Pulham Market Church were also rung during the evening.

THE SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Memorial Dedicated to Mr. Keith Hart

AFTER the afternoon's ringing at St. Peter's, Brighton, the first part of the business at the annual meeting of the Sussex Association on May 5th was the dedication and unveiling of the memorial to Mr. Keith Hart.

The memorial takes the form of a bell-metal tablet, 18 in. by 12 in., with a raised border and raised Roman lettering. The inscription reads: 'In memory of Keith Hart, leader in this tower from 1908 to 1947.' It is erected immediately above the marble tablet which records the ringing in 1927 of the first peal of London Surprise Royal, accomplished by a local band under Keith Hart's conductorship.

In a brief appreciation, the Master, Mr. G. W. Cecil, mentioned the fitness of placing the memorial in the tower which had such close connections with the career of Mr. Hart. It was here that he had served the Church for more than 50 years and had been leader for almost 40. The Master also recalled Mr. Hart's character as a first-class ringer and his willingness to give from his wealth of experience, help and encouragement to the less expert. By his loss, the Exercise in general, and Sussex ringers in particular, had lost a good friend. After the tablet had been unveiled by Mr. W. C. Hart, the Vicar of Brighton said dedicatory prayers and at the Association service which followed spoke words of appreciation referring to Keith Hart's character and force of example.

THE BUSINESS MEETING

The business meeting followed tea in St. Peter's Memorial Hall attended by 120 members and ringing friends. The Master's report and balance sheet were accepted, Mr. R. G. Blackman being thanked for stepping into the work of treasurer at short notice. New members were elected from Cuckfield—Miss G. A. Apps and Mr. A. M. Rowland. The peal secretary reported the ringing of 86 peals during the year, being 80 on tower bells and six 'in hand' with 30 conductors.

A discussion took place, following a motion from the Eastern Division, that printing expenses should be reduced by not printing peal reports in full but by substituting a peal analysis in the annual report. The question of preserving the records arose and it was decided to accept with thanks Miss E. Lonnen's offer of typewriting the peal record. Copies of this are to be held by officers of the Association in separate places for safety. It was further decided to proceed with a manuscript peal book, and the offer of Mr. Donald Smith, of West Tarring, to do this work was gratefully accepted. Miss F. Wyman also was sincerely thanked for her offer of presenting the peal book in memory of the late treasurer, Mr. O. Sippetts.

The question of the amounts levied on the Divisional Funds for the expenses of the Central Fund led to a long discussion. Owing to difficulties encountered by the Eastern Division, which had collected many outstanding subscriptions in a year when the levy was high, the acting treasurer had devised a scheme whereby an equal balance could be left in each Division. This had been recommended by the Committee but it met with opposition from many members, some of whom were members of the Eastern Division. As the scheme proposed was definitely against the rule governing the levy, which must be applied in proportion to income, it was finally decided that the full levy must stand but that there was nothing to prevent any other Division making a grant to the Eastern as a gesture of goodwill and friendship if it so desired.

Under the election of officers, the president and vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc; other officers were elected as follows:—Master, Mr. G. W. Cecil; treasurer, Mr. R. G. Blackman; general secretary, Mr. S. E. Armstrong; peal secretary, Mr. J. Dearlove; Central Council delegates, Messrs. F. Bennett, R. G. Blackman, L. Stilwell and F. Dallaway; Central Fund auditors, Messrs. A. W. Bond and R. Overy; hon. trustees of funds, Messrs. C. B. Tompkins, H. R. Butcher and F. Dallaway.

In conclusion the Master paid a tribute to the memory of Mr. Oliver Sippetts, who died in office after being treasurer for eight years. Mr. W. C. Hart and Miss Wyman also added their appreciation of Mr. Sippetts' work and character.

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

FESTIVAL TOUR

The Festival of Britain celebrations programme arranged for the opening week of the Festival by the Midland Counties Guild of Church Bellringers began on Friday, May 4th, at Netherseal, when eight officers of the Guild rang a peal of Grandsire Triples.

On Saturday, May 5th, activities began at the Church of Holy Angels, Hoar Cross, with a quarter peal (1,260 changes) of Plain Bob Minor, rung by six officers of the Guild. The afternoon programme consisted of a 60-mile bus tour, when 30 members visited each parish covered by the activities of the Guild, and rang for 20 minutes in the following towers:—Rolleston-on-Dove, Repton, Ticknall, Ashby, Measham, Appleby Magna, Netherseal, Lullington, Winhill, Burton All Saints' and Burton Parish Church.

Methods rung during the tour included Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor, Plain Bob, St. Clement's and Reverse Canterbury Minor, Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles. The highlight of the tour was the 120 changes of Grandsire Doubles rung at Lullington by six lady members of the Guild.

On Sunday eight members assembled at the Church of St. Matthew, Overseal, for a peal attempt of Stedman Triples (5,040 changes).

The programme was successfully concluded on Monday at St. John's Church, Newhall, with a peal of Minor in four methods.

'IT GETS IN YOUR BLOOD'

Dear Sir,—How can ringers explain to non-ringers why they find the art of campanology intriguing and wonderful? I think that there is a mysterious answer which evades non-ringers. So long as there is the sound of bells (being well struck), is there not a cascade of beautiful music which only ringers can appreciate to the full extent; for it is only when one is learning to play the piano that one can appreciate and wonder at the intricacies of style and the different ways in which musical composers express themselves.

While a ringer is performing or listening to a tinnabulation, he may be in an ephemeral ecstasy, for as soon as the bells cease he cannot retain that beautiful echo; consequently he wants to go on, to ring again, to learn more methods in order to be able to express himself in different ways. A ringer, being an officer of the Church, must surely never forget his purpose of ringing—to honour God—not for his own self-satisfaction. Perhaps it is this fact which inspires campanologists.

However oddly non-ringers may regard us, I can say, personally, that there are no half measures about ringing: 'it gets into your blood.' Once it captures one it does so completely. Perhaps this is because a ringer has the privilege of continuing and handing down one of Britain's heritages in arts. Who knows why each individual ringer cannot withstand the irresistible call of bells? The bells call ringers as the sea calls sailors, and from all walks of life they fulfil that vocation.—Yours faithfully, Yate, Bristol. JEAN SHELLARD.

OBITUARY

THE REV. A. R. GODFREY

We regret to announce the death of the Rev. A. R. Godfrey, of Ichtingfield, Sussex, who passed away after an illness of six months. He was responsible for building up a keen band of young ringers and although he could not often find time to attend Association meetings and therefore was not widely known, he will be missed by those who knew him.

KILLED IN IRAQ

Involved in a transport accident at Habbanya, Iraq, on May 1st, Aircraftman Leslie John Keep, a Bedford National Service man, and a regular member of the St. Paul's band of ringers, was killed. He was an accomplished pianist and since an early age had been a member of the choir at the above church.

It was exactly a year ago since he was conscripted, going overseas two months later. An only child, he was 20 years of age and lived with his parents at 225, Castle Road, Bedford. C. E. J.

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

Pilgrimage to W. H. Barber's Grave

Continuing the policy of holding at least one meeting per year in the provinces, the Society is this year holding its meeting in Birmingham on June 9th.

London members will travel in strength from Paddington by the train leaving at 9.10 a.m. and will be met on arrival by Mr. Albert Walker and other members from the Midlands.

Transport has been arranged by Mr. Walker and the party will proceed to Sutton Coldfield to visit the grave of W. H. Barber, where a belated ringers' tribute will be paid to his memory.

The party will return to Birmingham for lunch at 1.30 at Ye Olde Royal Hotel, Temple Row. This will be followed by ringing at the Cathedral, and afterwards at St. Martin's, and a business meeting at St. Martin's Parish Hall, Dean Street.

A social hour at the Tamworth Arms will complete the day and it is expected that Midland members of the Society will be present in large numbers to meet the London members.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Visiting an Outpost

'Once in six years we have this: the Ringers' Festival and the Confirmation following each other!' So said the Rector of Semley when the Salisbury Branch held their quarterly meeting here on May 5th. The coincidence, however, was accidental and if Semley were more easily accessible the ringers would probably have visited it more often.

The bells, a fairly heavy, musical ring of six, were kept going in rounds and standard methods until tea in the Infants' Schoolroom next to the church. A short business meeting followed at which the Guild annual meeting was discussed and a donation voted towards the very heavy cost of producing it for this year. Arrangements were also outlined for a competition to members of the branch at the next meeting, this being a new experiment.

The Rector, the Rev. J. W. N. Nind, conducted the Guild service in church and gave an address, quoting from Ephesians 4: 'And he gave some evangelists . . . and St. Paul might have added . . . and some bellringers!' Mr. H. A. Roles, the branch chairman, was at the organ. Ringing was kept going for some time, one party going on to sample the fine entry at Gillingham before returning to Salisbury.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Rochester District

A very happy and enjoyable quarterly meeting was held at Milton-next-Gravesend on April 21st. Over 60 members and friends took advantage of a fine day to meeting at the Parish Church of SS. Peter and Paul.

The ringers' service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. F. Johnson) assisted by the curate (the Rev. K. C. Stuart). Features of the service were the inspiring address by the Rector and the very hearty singing.

For many years, whenever the District has visited Milton, that great stalwart of the County Association, Mr. Fred Mitchell, together with his wife, have always invited the ringers to tea, and this meeting was no exception. Upon entering the schoolroom, adjoining the church, a grand sight of rows of heavily-laden tables met the eye and full justice was done to the sumptuous tea.

Before the start of the business part of the meeting, members stood in silence in remembrance of Mrs. C. Belsey, of Rainham, and Mr. W. Collishaw, of Frindsbury, two old members who had died since the last meeting.

The chairman (the Rector) paid tribute to the oldest member of the Milton band, Mr. G. Morrad (86) and said that although he had now been forced to give up ringing he had insisted upon being present that afternoon and, with the aid of a bathchair, this was successfully accomplished.

Eight non-resident life members, one honorary member and seven ringing members were elected.

Mr. G. H. Spice, the general secretary of the Association, asked that a very special effort should be made by all hands to ring their bells for the opening of the Festival of Britain on Ascension Day, and later, in proposing a vote of thanks to all who had helped in any way to make the meeting so enjoyable, he spoke of the very great debt of gratitude all members owed to Mr. Mitchell, who had for over 40 years been an officer in the Association.

A BRISTOL WEDDING

The wedding of Mary, only child of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bennett, and John, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Davey, took place on May 5th at St. Thomas-the-Martyr, Bristol.

The bride wore a white dress and veil and carried a sheaf of red roses. She was given away by her father and the bridesmaid was Miss Moira Davey, sister of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom who is a regular soldier, was in uniform and the best man was Mr. J. Tillin. The service was conducted by the priest-in-charge, the Rev. J. Ragg, and was attended by a large congregation. During the signing of the register the choirboys rendered the anthem 'Let the bright seraphim.'

The bride and groom are both ringers at the above church and the best man a former ringer. The bride's father is the present secretary and former chairman of the Bristol City Branch and her mother is a well-known member of the Bristol Rural Branch and Ladies' Guild.

Many ringing friends of the bridal couple and the bride's parents were present at the ceremony and the eight bells in the tower were ringing merrily as the happy pair emerged from the church.

A short honeymoon was spent in South Wales.

YOUNGEST QUARTER PEAL BAND

Dear Sir.—With reference to the query from Little Baddow, Essex, in Belfry Gossip of May 11th, may I point out that a quarter peal of Minor was rung at Carlton-juxta-Snaith, Yorks, on June 27th, 1949, by six boys whose ages ranged from 11 to 13 years. For report and photograph, see 'Ringing World' issue dated July 22nd, 1949. With best wishes to all young ringers everywhere.—Yours sincerely, Thorne, Doncaster. JAMES THORLEY.

Yorks.

THE COVERING BELLS

THROUGHOUT the Central Council meeting at Chester there was a strong measure of sympathy with the inexperienced band, particularly in relation to cover bells. It should be clearly understood that while the Central Council legislate, and rightly so, as to what constitutes a peal, it does not in any sense say that for service or practice ringing the use of cover bells is forbidden. In their own belfry a band can ring just what it likes, and we know full well that there are many immature bands in eight-bell towers ringing Doubles with three cover bells. They argue that with the ability of the ringers at their disposal this is the limit of their performance and that it would be better to ring eight bells than six. So extensive is this practice that on special occasions these companies essay a peal attempt: 5,040 Doubles are rung with three cover bells and it is a disappointment to them when the Editor points out that their performance is not acceptable in the peal columns of 'The Ringing World.' The crux of the matter is that the Decisions of the Council are not fully known, the old copies are out of print, and the bands are not conversant with the position.

One of the important things accomplished at Chester was the revision of the Decisions of the Council. They were debated thoroughly and they will be published in full in 'The Ringing World' when the various amendments have been checked. Later they will be incorporated in the Central Council handbook. The two significant rules of much concern to these inexperienced companies relate to Doubles and Minor. The accepted rule for Doubles reads:—

A peal of Doubles shall consist of either 42 extents of 120 changes, rung without interval, or any arrangement of changes in which each change occurs as many times as 120 is divisible into the total length, or any combination of these. Extra 120's or arrangements fulfilling the above conditions may be added to lengthen the peal, and if any shorter touch is added to obtain a special number of changes, it must be added at the conclusion of the completed extent.

Although the ideal way is to ring Doubles on five bells only, one covering bell may be used if desired. This bell, in all cases, to be the tenor.

The same principle applies to Minor, reading 720 for 120 and seven for 42 extents. Here it is expressly stated that six bells only shall be used.

Technically speaking, the same principle that applies to a peal should apply to a quarter peal, and some readers might question why, for example, we published quarter peals in our last issue from Carlisle, Hanbury, Longbridge Deverell, Ludlow, Marden and Wye, which in each case introduced cover bells. Of course, anyone ringing the second or third cover bell cannot claim the performance as a quarter peal, as they are just ringing rounds for the 1,260 changes. Our reason for publication was for the encouragement of the band in the hope that at an early date there will be the accomplishment of a true quarter. We feel that this is in accord with the wishes of some members of the Central Council, who were desirous that such miscellaneous performances should receive acknowledgment. We might say that they have been published to the exclusion of other genuine quarter peals. The number rung for the Festival and also for Whitsun has far exceeded the space we are able to allot, and care has been taken to ensure that during the last three weeks the same tower has not appeared twice. Some towers we know make a practice of ringing a quarter regularly each Sunday, and we feel sure they will accept the exclusion with good grace in our endeavour to make the page as representative as possible and to give the maximum amount of encouragement.

We know that there are readers who question our wisdom in devoting, as we have done in the last three issues, a page to quarter peals to the exclusion of other reading matter. It must be remembered that in many towers the privilege of ringing a peal is barred or permitted on rare occasions. There are also a very large number of ringers who for various reasons cannot ring peals. We feel that they should have some recognition in our journal and that their friends should know that their tower is alive and making a contribution to change ringing generally. 'The Ringing World' is not only the journal of the peal ringers, although they number among our staunchest supporters, but of the great body of change ringers, who through their Guilds or Associations are affiliated to the Central Council.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

Featured in the journal that in Sweden corresponds to our 'Radio Times' was a descriptive illustrated article on Chichester, with special reference to the training of ringers by Mr. R.
G. Blackman, and of the bells in the Cathedral Campanile.

When the Archbishop of Canterbury visited the roof-less church of St. Lawrence, Hawkhurst, he commented: 'I thought I was to see another ruin. But then the bells rang out from the undamaged tower and I knew the church was alive.' So impressed was the Archbishop that he climbed the tower and spoke to the ringers, telling them of his high regard for bellringers and their very real contribution to the life of the Church. Every Sunday the bells of St. Lawrence's call people to worship at the newer church of All Saints, half a mile away.

Joy Whitehead, of Leicester, has rung her first Minor peal at the tender age of eight. The light six at Loughborough Bell Foundry proved 'just right' weight for her and she rang the little treble perfectly throughout the peal.

The band at Carlton-juxta-Snaith, Yorks, which started from scratch about two years ago, have just rung their first 720 Plain Bob Minor.
They are Margaret Graves 1, Mrs. M. Graves
2, Mrs. S. Smith 3, D. Smith 4, E. Smith 5,
W. Graves (conductor) 6.

Mr. Albert J. Lancefield writes a cheery letter from Hobart, Tasmania, where he has been training a number of lads in the rudiments of change ringing on the five Simpson-tuned eight at St. David's Cathedral. He hopes that before he is due to leave the area in July, he will manage to encourage the 'head boy' to shoulder the task of administration.

The peal at St. John-the-Baptist, Worcester, on May 9th, was rung on the 82nd birthday of Mr. W. Ranford, Suckley, who rang the treble.
'Father,' as he is known to his colleagues, has over 50 years' unbroken membership of the Worcestershire Association and at the Easter annual meeting was made a Freeman. He finished the peal as fresh as those 40 years his junior.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Albert Walker asks us to state that there is no accommodation in the coach for Midland members of the College
Youths attending the pilgrimage to Mr. W. H.
Barber's grave on June 9th, or for the luncheon.
They are advised to make their own arrangements for transport by Midland Red Bus No.
107 from New Street to Sutton Coldfield Parade. To make adequate arrangements for ringing at the meeting, will Midland members and friends notify him early, by post, at 86, Scribers Lane, Hall Green, Birmingham, 28.

The peal at Bidston, Cheshire, on May 10th, was the first peal of Spliced Surprise Minor on the bells and was rung by members of the Sunday service band, all of whom have learnt to ring since the lifting of 'the ban.'

Will Mr. P. C. Wright, of Bury St. Edmunds, please send his full postal address to Ernest Morris, The Verger's Lodge, St. Margaret's, Leicester.

The peal of Grandsire Caters rung at Berkeley, Glos. on May 5th, should read 'in 3 hours and 22 minutes' and not as submitted,
'2 hours and 22 minutes.'

Mr. Fred Dunkerley, secretary of the Lancashire Association, flying a Miles Mercury, won the fourth annual Goodyear Trophy air race at Wolverhampton on Saturday at an average speed of 160 miles per hour.

A Tunbridge Wells reader writes that the reception of the Evercreech and Swindon broadcasts on May 8th and 22nd was perfect in his locality and the programme was well worth listening to. He much enjoyed the ringing.

Extending his congratulations to the band that rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob 14 at Leicester and especially to the three youths on the back end, Mr. L. Turner, of Kempston, Beds, wonders if rings of 14 and 16 bells will be installed in towers of the future.

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN: POSITION OF ST. JOHN'S, WATERLOO ROAD — RECORDS COMMITTEE'S BUSY YEAR — WIDER INTEREST IN RINGING — 'RINGING WORLD' DISCUSSION

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN REPORT

THE hon. secretary said the Festival of Britain Sub-Committee's report had been published and the Standing Committee recommended that the Sub-Committee be given powers to continue their actions.

The President: It would be better to leave it to Dr. Hatcher and Mr. Spice to act. The Korean war has cooled down the ardour of some of us but they have done some very good work. I propose the Standing Committee's recommendations—that they should be asked to carry on.

Mr. Spice: Exactly what is required of this committee?

The President: In the first place when we discussed this we felt it desirable to clear up the mess at the Festival Church and the working out of a plan for handbells in the Festival Gardens.

Mr. Harold W. Rogers: May we know briefly what this committee has done? You mention handbell ringing in the Festival Gardens and arrangements are already made. May we know what information has been given to the Exercise at St. John's, Waterloo Road, because we don't believe what was published in 'The Ringing World' on April 27th has taken place. The person in charge of the ringing there has no knowledge of the information published and certainly no peal was envisaged on May 3rd as it was categorically stated. If that information is wrong, can it be withdrawn? And, finally, can we know why no London ringer has been invited to handle the ringing in London? Why is it being done from Maidstone?

Mr. F. I. Hairs: Can we leave all these questions to the Sub-Committee?

The President: I think I might clear up one point. I think it was in January that Dr. Hatcher and I met the Vicar of St. John's, Waterloo Road, together with the Director of Religious Services and one of the officials of the Festival. We were told by the Vicar of St. John's that there would be two peals—one by his own men on May 3rd and another possibly at the termination of the Festival. He also stated that it might be possible for ringers from the churches sending choirs to sing in the Festival Church to ring, but apparently the whole of that arrangement has broken down and that is the point we are trying to clear up. It will require very delicate handling and the least we say the better. With regard to handbell ringing, if they have been made we are very pleased.

The report was adopted.

ROLL OF HONOUR

Mr. H. Miles said two years ago he had the honour of being asked to compile the Roll of Honour of ringers who fell in the last war. The closing date was September 30th when the total was 221. Since then he had other names and the total was now 289. The Council had to decide whether the Roll should be incorporated with the previous one or bound up separately. He had taken advice both in London and Oxford. At London he consulted the librarian of St. Paul's Cathedral, Mr. Ball, and he advised against it being bound up with the present Roll of Honour of the 1914-18 war. He asked what the cost of writing and binding would be and was told that to write the names on vellum would be £75. He then consulted Mr. Clarke, of the Oxford University Press. His estimate for printing on hand-made paper and binding in morocco was £60.

Upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee it was decided to accept the latter estimate.

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE

The report stated: During 1950 a total of 2,724 peals has been recorded in 'The Ringing World'.

These comprise 2,362 on tower bells and 362 on handbells. The tower peals are made up as follows:—Maximus—31 in 11 methods with peals of Spliced Surprise in four, three and two methods; Cinques—50; Royal—86 in 18 methods; Caters—89; Surprise Major—490, with 52 different methods, and Spliced Surprise up to 22 methods; Other Major—448; Triples—298; Minor and Doubles—870.

The outstanding performances were undoubtedly the 21,600 of Bristol Surprise, the 8,032 Spliced Surprise in eight methods (both by the Chester Guild) and the peal in 22 Spliced Surprise Major by the Oxford Guild.

On handbells, the Lincoln Guild have broken records with Spliced Major peals of 27 and 36 methods; the Leicester Guild have achieved the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal to be rung on handbells: the Hertford County Association have accomplished the first peal of eight Spliced Surprise Major 'in hand,' and the Middlesex County Association nine Spliced Surprise Major methods.

To the conductors and bands concerned we offer our congratulations.

Will those who send up peal reports please ensure the facts are correct? If a non-Association peal, please say so; do not leave it to the Committee to guess what Association, if any, the peal was rung for. Would conductors of multi-method peals please say how many methods they rang—we are bad counters!!!

Mr. W. Ayre moved and Mr. P. Johnson seconded the adoption of the report.

The Committee—Messrs. W. Ayre, G. L. Grover and H. Miles—were re-elected and Mr. W. Ayre was appointed convener.

RECORDS COMMITTEE

The report was proposed by Mrs. Fletcher and seconded by Mrs. Marshall. They were both re-elected to the Committee, with Mrs. Fletcher as convener.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES

The President reported that the Committee during the year had given advice in 40 cases, of which Mr. Sharpe had been responsible for the majority (25). Mr. Osborne 9 and he had dealt with six. There was nothing out of the ordinary except perhaps a specification for two bells to be rung in the English manner in New York. One of his cases was Handley, the best example of a tower vertically split from top to bottom in the east and west walls. The tower was going to be tied together with concrete and all the bells were to swing east and west.

Mr. F. Sharpe, who seconded, said his cases ranged from Cumberland to Hampshire and from Norfolk to Carmarthen. Most of them were ordinary cases of rebanging, two were acoustics, and another oscillation. In two cases old bells were preserved.

Mr. W. Osborn said some towers were over-doing louvre blocking. They made expensive bells and then complained if they made a noise.

The report was adopted and Messrs. E. H. Lewis, W. Osborn and F. Sharpe were re-elected as members.

LITERATURE, PRESS AND BROADCASTING COMMITTEE

The report of the Committee stated: The subject of bellringing has figured prominently in the press during the past 12 months. Parish magazines, which find their way into many thousands of homes all over the country, generally contain an inset supplied by one of the London firms of publishers. Of such insets two of the most widely used are 'Home Words' and 'The Sign.' In June and July each of these publications contained well-written articles on the art of ringing, with good illustrations. On May 31st, 1950, 'Punch' most unexpectedly blossomed out with a two-page article on 'Tintinnabulation.' Later in the year the casting of the Freedom Bell and other operations at the Croydon Foundry figured conspicuously in the 'Illustrated London News' as well as in 'John Bull.' Another journal drawing attention to the art of ringing is the 'Children's Newspaper,' which produced a most interesting article.

The attempt at a record length at Debenham and the subsequent achievement of breaking all record with a peal of 21,600 changes at Over naturally received mention in 'The Times' and other national newspapers. It was only to be expected that in such instances journalists would be tempted to give free exercise to their imagination, but while effusions and comments of an amusing character did make their appearance, a number of journals gave the actual facts quite correctly.

For obvious reasons it is in the provincial press that the activities of ringers find the most frequent mention. The East Anglian journals devote considerable space to such activities at centres like Norwich, Ipswich, Lavenham and, more recently, Grundisburgh. The Midland newspapers have published many reports and articles of this nature. As Lord Mayor of Birmingham, a member of this committee has naturally attracted the close attention of local journalists and his associations with the belfry have brought the ringers' art prominently before the public. The 'Shropshire Magazine' has been publishing a notable series of splendidly-illustrated articles on 'Shropshire Bells and their Ringers.' Last September the 'Leicester Evening Mail' allocated two columns to an article by Mr. Ernest Morris on 'The Message of the Bells.'

The Irish press gives marked prominence to news connected with bells. 'Church Bells of Dublin' was the title of an article in the 'Evening Mail.' In one case a picture of handbell ringing featured in an advertisement. Further afield, a Vancouver magazine published an article of outstanding interest under the—to us—familiar title of 'Ringing World.' In Australia, 'The Ringing Towers' continues to stimulate interest throughout the Dominion. Its August number contains a spirited criticism of the authorities responsible for the carillon at Canberra. Mention may well be made here of a similar publication in England. 'The Belfry' makes its quarterly appearance with interesting news of the Maidstone District.

With regard to the B.B.C. there have been a fair number of broadcasts of ringing before Sunday services. In some cases well-struck changes have been duly brought into rounds, but there is a marked tendency to cut short even the one and a half minutes normally allowed for ringing. Bells from various towers were broadcast both at Christmas and Easter, but much of the ringing on Christmas Day was quite unworthy of its purpose. Really good ringing at Easter stood out in refreshing contrast. Those responsible for arranging such broadcasts need to take competent advice in order to ensure that the towers selected have capable band of ringers. On one Sunday the 'Country Magazine' broadcast included a very interesting account both of ringing and bellfounding. Handbells have at times been introduced in Children's Hour and elsewhere: a delightful rendering of 'Linden Lea' on handbells came over from Puddletown in Dorset. Television has brought the public into close contact with the operations of the Whitechapel Foundry, where lucid and practical demonstrations were given of the tuning, sound and motion of bells.

Just as this report is being completed, there comes to hand a copy of Mr. Ernest Morris' new book 'Bells of All Nations,' a veritable microcosm of bell lore, with fine illustrations. Ringers the world over will find it a work of absorbing interest.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards, in moving the adoption of the report, said just before the meeting there was put into his hand an interesting paper from Sweden giving an account in Swedish of the ringing of Chichester Cathedral bells with photographs of the ringers.

In regard to broadcasting just after the report had been completed the B.B.C. gave a splendid broadcast of Oxford bells and there was also a recording of the bells of St. Thomas', Salisbury. In the Western Region a series of seven programmes had been initiated at about fortnightly intervals regarding ringing from various towers. The voices of two well-known members of the Council had already been heard in the series. They cordially congratulated Mr. Morris on his great contribution to ringing literature and thanked the Lord Mayor of Birmingham, who during the past 12 months had made good use of opportunities to give publicity to their art.

Mr. J. Frank Smallwood seconded and the report was adopted.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards, Mr. A. Walker and Alderman A. Paddon Smith were re-elected with the Rev. Edwards as convener.

PEAL BOARDS

A verbal report of the Peal Boards Committee was presented by Mr. Walter Ayre, who said that approximately 160 records had been typed and filed and there remained another 150 to be dealt with. This would take some time. They felt sure that there were many old peal boards which had not been recorded. He appealed to local and district secretaries to forward any they came across giving the exact wording and the condition of the boards. He expressed thanks to Mr. W. G. Wilson for typing out and sorting the particulars.

Mr. Harold Poole asked if the Council could be told the date of an old board.

Mr. Walter Ayre: Up to and including 1825. I can think of ten that have not been sent in.

The committee elected was Mr. J. E. Clarke, Mr. W. Ayre and Mr. J. D. Fidler with Mr. Clarke as convener.

THE BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

The report stated: The work of the Biographies Committee during this year has gone steadily forward. In previous reports we have explained that for a very good reason we give particular attention to the collection of biographic information concerning those who were members of the first two or three Councils, many of whom have long since passed to their rest. There are some successes but there are still eleven names of members of the first (1891) Council of whom we know nothing.

We have now 130 complete records of past members and the stage has been reached when we consider that our results should be presented to the Council in tangible form. Last year we showed the Council a layout for a loose-leaf biography sheet and permission was granted to print a supply. This has been done and we have written out three specimen sheets for your inspection.

Your Committee thought that while the sheets might be purchased by the Council, a suitable loose-leaf cover could serve as a memorial to some prominent ringer. The cost would be about £25 for a really good leather cover suitably gold blocked, which could form a fitting and lasting memorial. If any Guild or Association would like more details we will be glad to furnish them.

Mr. A. Hazelden, in moving the adoption of the report, said there were eleven names of the 1891 Council of whom the Committee knew nothing. They were F. E. Paul, J. C. Buchanan, A. H. Cox (author of 'The Bells of Buckingham'), T. W. Pressy, B. T. Copley (Bolton), the Rev. Pitt Aidken, the Rev. C. W. H. Griffin, E. A. Nunn (Kent County), H. Reeves (possibly Editor of 'The Bell News'), Canon Latham, and N. E. Snow (who began his career in Lincolnshire and was ringing a good deal at Newark).

Mr. W. H. Viggers seconded and the report was adopted.

The new committee consists of Messrs. A. C. Hazelden, W. H. Viggers and E. A. Barnett, with Mr. Hazelden as convener.

'RINGING WORLD' COMMITTEE

The President: 'The Ringing World' Committee's report really consists of the accounts you have already adopted. You will see, if you look at those accounts, that we did not quite break even on the year as costs were rising during the year. It means that there must have been a profit in the first half of the year and a loss at the end of the year. There is to be an increase quite shortly in the price of paper and production. The postage rate is going up from 1d. to 1½d. and we feel very strongly we have not come to the top of the spiral. The retiring Committee feel that the new Committee should go very seriously into prices and in discussion last night the Standing Committee recommended the election of a committee of two members who have practical experience of the printing business and journalism. The names we suggest are Messrs. J. F. Smallwood, F. I. Hairs, J. T. Dyke and Harold Poole, with the idea that they should go into the question of this increase of cost and give them powers to act in any necessary increase in price to cover our rising costs. I put that recommendation forward.

Mr. H. Miles seconded.

Mr. P. A. Corby: Does that mean that all the existing officers are resigning from the Committee?

The President: Yes.

Mr. Corby: I don't know how you are placed and if you could continue.

The President: I feel I will not be of much use as for a long time I shall not be accessible. In my house in Scotland I am nine miles from the telephone, 60 from the railway station and 21 from the nearest steamer, so it would be much better if we turned it over to a new committee.

Mr. Fletcher: The other members of the Committee are not seeking election. My wife and I ask to be excused. That does not mean we have lost interest. We shall place our experience at the disposal of the Committee and give them every possible help we can.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Harold Poole: Before you go any further, I am not so sure it is a very enviable job you have given us. You have heard we have got to put up the price.

The President: Two of the members have experience in printing and they may be able to put forward suggestions, and two have broad shoulders to take some of the raps when they come.

Mr. F. E. Haines: Is the Committee limited to four? Mr. Edgar Shepherd, of Solihull, is interested in 'The Ringing World' and he would be quite pleased to take an interest in it. He is an accomplished writer and if there is room I should like to nominate him.

The President: This new committee have power to co-opt.

Mr. W. Ayre: Before we go any further I should like to propose a very hearty vote of thanks to the Committee for negotiating 'The Ringing World' so successfully through its very difficult birth stages.

Mr. A. D. Barker seconded and the report was adopted. Mr. J. F. Smallwood was elected convener for the Committee.

THE STANDING COMMITTEE

The President announced that the officers and conveners of committees were ex officio members of the Standing Committee. The retiring members were Messrs. G. E. Debenham, J. T. Dyke, F. I. Hairs, P. J. Johnson, H. W. Poole, A. H. Pulling, A. Paddon Smith, the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow and Mr. A. Walker, with three vacancies.

Mr. Fletcher moved that these nine members be elected members of the Committee.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead seconded and this was agreed to.

For the three vacancies the following were nominated: Messrs. J. Bray, R. S. Anderson, John Freeman, John Worth, E. C. S. Turner, Nolan Golden, C. H. Kippin and C. K. Lewis. A ballot was taken which resulted in the election of Messrs. E. C. S. Turner, C. K. Lewis and R. S. Anderson.

GEORGE WILLIAMS COMMEMORATION DINNER

Thoughts on a Wessex Association

THE Lord Bishop of Winchester presided at the fifth ringers' rally and George Williams commemoration dinner held at the Wick Ferry Restaurant, Christchurch, on May 5th. A company of 75 ringers and friends was present. The Bishop was supported by the Mayor of Christchurch, the Rural Dean of Bournemouth (the Rev. A. L. E. Williams) and Mrs. Williams, Canon R. P. Price (Christchurch), Mr. G. Pullinger (Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild), Mr. L. J. Lockyer (chairman, Wimborne Branch, Salisbury Diocesan Guild) and the churchwardens of Christchurch.

After an excellent meal, and the loyal toast had been honoured, the Bishop called upon Mr. G. Pullinger to speak to the memory of the late Mr. George Williams. Mr. Pullinger recalled that Mr. Williams was born in Droxford. He felt it very appropriate that the late Master of the Guild should have been born in what is now the Diocese of Portsmouth and finally laid to rest in the Diocese of Winchester, for he did so much to hold Hampshire ringers together.

When the old Diocese was divided in the early twenties, Guildford decided to form their own Guild but Mr. Williams used all his influence to keep the Dioceses of Winchester and Portsmouth united as far as ringing was concerned. There was some discussion at the time of forming a 'Wessex Association' but when the proposals were closely examined, it was found that Hampshire only formed a part of the old Kingdom of Wessex.

Mr. Pullinger said he knew Mr. George Williams for over 40 years but there were those who knew him longer, such as Mr. George Preston who was present with them that evening.

IMPORTANCE OF INSTRUCTION

Bournemouth, continued Mr. Pullinger, had a large number of ringing instructors at work in the district. Mr. Williams was a great teacher and his work in the Bournemouth area had been followed up by the sterling service of such men as Mr. George Preston and Mr. Frederick Townsend. The best way he thought to commemorate the life and work of Mr. Williams was to see that instruction was carried on without ceasing in the belfries of the Guild.

The Mayor of Christchurch in a happy speech proposed the toast of 'Bells and Bellringers' and Mr. L. J. Lockyer, of Wimborne, responded. As he looked round the company, Mr. Lockyer felt he had missed many happy years by not taking up ringing earlier in his life. He had been a ringer for nearly 25 years and did not quite know how he first took an interest in the art which was so typical of this country. He seemed to think it was in connection with ringing the curfew at Wimborne that he first entered a belfry; afterwards he became associated with Mr. Martin Stewart and Mr. George Preston, who did much to help him progress in the art of change ringing.

He had had the privilege of ringing some 20 peals with the late Mr. George Williams. He did not wish to start a further controversy in 'The Ringing World' upon the question of 'which century,' the fact remained that he was born on May 5th, 1901, and could think of no better company in which to celebrate the anniversary.

In the ringing paper they occasionally heard of ringers being asked to serve the Church as choristers, servers, church councillors and the like, sometimes ringers even became churchwardens. Mr. Lockyer felt that this should not be an exception but that it should become more of a rule. (Note: Mr. Lockyer is a churchwarden of Wimborne Minster and there are ringers as wardens at Christchurch and at Poole.)

Canon R. B. Price then welcomed the visitors to Christchurch saying that Christchurch was a very lively community over which the Mayor presided with charm and dignity. They were glad to welcome ringers from so far away as Birmingham, Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Kent to lovely Christchurch; he hoped they would all take away happy memories and resolve to come again. He coupled the name of the Lord Bishop with his toast.

BISHOP'S BELFRY IMPRESSION

The Bishop of Winchester, who replied, spoke of the special pleasure it gave him to be with them that evening. For the last five years he had been coming to their Festival dinner but always there had been something to prevent him. Many times he had felt he would like to meet the ringers. When he had arrived at a church unusually early he had felt it right to try and see them, but when he put his head through the outside curtains he found they were ringing and from the look on their faces he had not dared to intrude, knowing that such intrusion would seem like sacrilege to them—like the interruption of divine worship—so he gave them a fatuous smile and retired to the vestry. He hoped they would take his effort at trying to see more of them as having been done, for after the service they had either gone home or embarked upon another three hours' ringing, when he was usually at home.

Ringing, concluded the Bishop, was very much a part of their English heritage. Often when driving at night to a church and not being sure of the direction he had stopped and listened and heard the bells ringing and had known which way to go.

During the evening there were songs by the Rev. R. Thickness and some amusing sketches by Mr. John Neale and Miss Gillian Edmunds, of Christchurch, also a course of Grandsire Caters and a touch of Spliced Major on handbells. A peal attempt at Bournemouth failed during the afternoon but some good ringing took place at the Priory and at St. John's, Surrey Road.

The company present included Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown, Miss Barnes, the Rev. and Mrs. S. Culverwall, Mr. A. P. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright, Miss P. Cartwright, Mr. W. Cheater, Miss Chick, Miss Childs, Miss Crofts, Mrs. A. V. Davis, the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, Miss Fletcher, Mr. R. Rex, Mr. D. Reed, Miss Sparshott, Mr. Albert Ward, Sqdn.-Leader A. York-Bramble, Mr. W. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Goodman, Mr. W. Glasspool, Mrs. Horne, Mr. Hartless, Mr. and Mrs. Laker, Miss J. Gibbon, Mr. and Mrs. D. Matkin, Mr. Marlow and Mrs. Marshall.

The organising committee consisted of the Revs. C. A. Phillips and R. P. Price, Mrs. Marshall, Messrs. A. F. Martin Stewart, J. M. Turner, H. A. Mitchell, W. G. Young and A. V. Davis (hon. secretary).

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Easter Bristol Tour

THE 1951 tour began on April 5th, when about 15 members of the Oxford University Society assembled at an hotel in Bristol for what proved to be a very enjoyable week. The numbers increased considerably over the week-end and altogether about 23 members attended.

Three peals were scored:—Seven Minor methods at Radstock on April 5th, rung by six members who were cycling to Bristol: Plain Bob Major 'in hand' on Sunday, 8th, and Rutland Surprise Major at Twerton the following Tuesday. An attempt for Bristol Surprise Major unfortunately had to be abandoned after 2 hours 50 minutes and also another for Plain Bob Major 'in hand.' Besides the standard methods, Little Bob Major, Cambridge, Yorkshire, Rutland and Ashted Surprise Major were rung and also Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal.

Our first ringing was at the City practice at SS. Philip and Jacob's on Thursday evening when we had our first experience of the warm hospitality extended to us throughout the tour by the Bristol City ringers.

The first day was marked by extremely bad weather. By the time we arrived at the second tower even the veterans equipped with cycling capes and sou'westers were fairly wet—the rest were quite saturated. But we had some pleasant ringing at seven towers West of Bristol and especially enjoyed the fine eight at Wraxall.

On Saturday ringing took place at towers in and near Bristol. The weather again was doubtful so the men travelled by bus—and the women by cycle. The latter were badly caught, but they arrived first at every tower and rang the bells up; and then, owing to the infrequency of the bus service, were invariably left to ring them down again. The heavy six at Westbury and the eight at Henbury certainly 'sorted them out.'

On Sunday there was ringing at various towers in Bristol, of which the outstanding one was St. Mary Redcliffe. To those who had previously never rung there, this was an unforgettable experience. In the afternoon the handbell peal and peal attempt took place in two separate rooms at Peter Robbins' home, and here we must acknowledge with special gratitude the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins who not only provided facilities for the handbell ringing at this time and later in the week, but had entertained the whole party on a lavish scale the previous evening and provided tea for the handbell ringers of the sort to which the Oxford University Society always does full justice.

The next day we were joined on our coach trip by several of the Bristol City and University ringers and visited six fine towers of which the most notable were Wells Cathedral, Queen Camel and Yeovil. Those whose tastes ran to architecture as well as bells, found rich delight in Wells Cathedral and, be it added, at many other churches visited during the week.

Ringing the next day centred on Bath. Those not ringing in the peal spent a pleasant hour at Corston and the party then split up to explore some of the sights of Bath, meeting again for ringing at Weston and Bathampton. Later we rang the fine heavy ten at Bath Abbey and returned to Bristol for the practice at St. Mary Redcliffe where we managed to muster an all Oxford University Society band for Cinques.

Our route on Wednesday lay north-west; towers visited included the heavy six at Yate and the pleasant eight at Thornbury, where a touch of Spliced Surprise Major in seven methods was successfully brought round.

The last day we travelled south. It was marked by several accidents and if one member had hurt himself as much as he hurt his bicycle, few people would have recognised him on his return to Oxford. We visited some delightful small churches, and even continuous rain during the afternoon and evening could not spoil our enjoyment of the ten at Wrington and the glorious eight at Long Ashton—our last tower and one we shall always remember. And, after all, we were used to the rain by then.

Our thanks are due to all clergy who gave us permission to ring; to the many local ringers who came to lend us a hand; to the Bristol ringers who made us so welcome; to the Master of the Society, Gwyn Thomas, who coped with the organisation of ringing and had, perforce, to deal with the intricacies of the census; and above all to Betty Spice and Peter Robbins, whose careful preparations ensured our comfort and whose choice of towers proved so admirable.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ST. JOHN'S, WATERLOO ROAD

Dear Sir,—I wish to correct a statement claimed in a footnote to a quarter peal rung at the Festival Church of St. John-the-Evangelist, Waterloo Road, on April 29th, published on page 320.

These bells were rung to changes at a special service attended by the Mayor and Mayoress of Lambeth one Sunday a few weeks prior to the ban on ringing in 1940.

The belfry was visited by the Mayor and Mayoress while ringing was in progress.—Yours faithfully,

ELLEN E. DAVIS

COPT OAK'S PROGRESS

Dear Sir.—My attention has been drawn to a portion of the account of the Leicester Diocesan Guild's annual meeting that is rather misleading. The report is on page 298 in the issue dated May 11th and the particular passage is in the part dealing with Copt Oak's progress.

The report states: 'The result was only accomplished after very hard work by the band who had met for practice as many as four times per week.' The facts are as follows:—The band did not normally practise more than once per week. Some weeks, due to members of the band being unable to attend, no practice was held. Four attempts were, however, made in one week for the 105 method peal.

I apologise for the error in reporting and the band would be obliged if you would please make the necessary correction.—Yours faithfully,

W. A. WOOD, Hon. Gen. Sec.,
Leicester Diocesan Guild.

STEDMAN DOUBLES

Dear Sir.—I wonder if any of your readers could tell me of any objections to the practice of making the single in Stedman Doubles in the fourth and fifth changes of a six instead of the usual third and fourth changes?

We practise the single quite a lot at St. Maurice's, Winchester, although we have not rung a peal with this type of single. I have examined a 120 of Stedman Doubles closely, using these singles, and can confidently state that the 120 is true in so far that no changes repeat. Unfortunately, I am not sufficiently well acquainted with the rules and decisions of the Central Council to know whether this is unrecognised.

Such a single gives the advantage that a call may be made immediately after the go off as is common in Stedman on higher numbers of bells.—Yours faithfully,

J. A. C. KING.

Winchester.

SPliced RINGING

Dear Sir.—On behalf of those of us who struggled hard to put 'spliced' ringing on the map 30 years ago, I send hearty congratulations to the band which successfully rang the peal of Minor in 105 methods at Copt Oak. Mr. Roland Beniston's achievement as the conductor cannot be allowed to pass without notice and he deserves every praise for his successful effort.

When we rang the 35 method peal at Norbury on December 4th, 1923, we thought we had achieved something and though we knew that a greater number of methods could be rung in 5,040, we never dreamed of 105. So much for something that was once considered 'freak stuff'!

May I take this opportunity of thanking those who have written to me or approached me personally re the book 'Method Splicing,' and to inform those who intend writing that the book is out of print.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN P. FIDLER

Loughborough.

YOUNGEST PEAL BAND

Dear Sir,—Re the query in Belfry Gossip concerning the youngest band to ring a quarter, a complete peal was rung here on April 21st, 1934, in which the average age of the band was 15 years and 2 weeks. If, however, it is thought that a peal isn't the same as a quarter, the same band, on February 10th of that year, did ring a quarter after losing a peal. The average age then would have been 14 years 10 months. This was not, of course, a local band, but it is not clear whether this enters into it.—Yours sincerely,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

ROYAL AIR FORCE GUILD.

Dear Sir,—Can any reader of 'The Ringing World' tell me whether the Royal Air Force Guild of Ringers is still in existence?

The reason for my asking this is that I propose to arrange a peal attempt by R.A.F. personnel, and if the Guild is alive, I feel that the peal should be associated with it.

Would anyone interested please communicate with me, giving full details of their ringing abilities?

The attempt would, of course, be arranged to take place at a tower most convenient to the majority of the band.—Yours sincerely,

PATRICK I. CHAPMAN, A.C.I.
C.D.O., S.H.Q. R.A.F., Cardington, Bedford

PRISTON (SOMERSET) BOY RINGERS

Dear Sir,—Having read Mr. H. Sanger's letter re 'Evercreech's Example' in your issue of March 23rd, I feel he should be congratulated upon his success in training such a young band of ringers in his tower.

I know the spade work he has had before him as I have experienced the same in my tower at Priston. As we are rather an isolated village, with no buses or railways, we rarely see visiting ringers on practice nights unless I run my car to and fro. Nevertheless, I have trained a band of six young boys to ring, their ages varying from 9 to 13 years. The striking of the bells is very good and they have learnt, so far plain courses of Grandsire Doubles.

I am very proud of my young band; they are very keen and have rung in several other towers. Other ringers have envied them and remarked how much they would like them in their own particular tower, and have congratulated them upon their ringing and striking. How many towers can boast of such a young band, which may be the youngest in the country?

These young boys, although sometimes a 'bundle of mischief,' are the right material to instruct in the art of change ringing and to carry on when older ringers retire.

The spade work I have put in I shall never regret; it has been worth it, and in the near future I am hoping to arrange for my young ringers and Harry Sanger's young band to meet in the Priston and Evercreech towers.—Yours sincerely,

E. F. CONNOCK, Ringing Master,
St. Luke's, Priston.

Camerton, Bath.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION

Dear Sir.—There is no such thing as a formula for producing 'methods by the bushel,' as stated by J. A. Trollope in 'Ringing World' on June 6th, 1924 and substantiated by the Rev. E. S. Powell a week or so later.

The two gentlemen mentioned 'climbed down' at the Central Council meeting on June 26th, 1931, as reported in 'The Ringing World' of that time and why Trollope should again have reiterated the statement made in June, 1924, in the booklet on 'Variation and Transposition,' published in 1936, passes my comprehension.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE BAKER

MARRIAGE OF MISS MARY P. HILLIAR

Well-Known Bristol Ringer

The marriage took place on May 19th, at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, of Miss Mary Patricia Hilliar, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hilliar, of Bristol, to Mr. Desmond Guy Mayell, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Mayell, of Brentwood, Essex. The bride, attired in a richly embroidered gown, attended by three bridesmaids, was given away by her father, the best man being Mr. Bert Goddard, of Bentley, Brentwood, a fellow ringer and a friend of the bridegroom.

The service, which was choral, was conducted by the Vicar, Canon S. E. Swann. A large gathering of ringers and friends attended the service.

The reception was held at Redcliffe Hall, where 75 persons were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hilliar. The bride and bridegroom were the recipients of 27 congratulatory telegrams, which were read by the bride's brother, Mr. Arthur Hilliar.

After the usual toasts were honoured, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Mr. E. F. Hancock 1-2, the bridegroom 3-4, the bride 5-6, the bride's father 7-8. Canon Swann remarked that he had heard of many wedding bells but had never before known the bride and bridegroom to ring their own wedding bells. A toast was honoured to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hilliar, whose wedding took place 28 years ago that day.

Mr. Hancock, captain of St. Mary Redcliffe ringers, spoke in appreciative terms of Miss Hilliar's capabilities as a ringer and was glad she was marrying another ringer and hoped they would have lots of good ringing together.

Mr. Harding (chairman, Bristol Rural Branch), also spoke of the excellent work put in by Miss Hilliar, whilst secretary for three years of the Bristol Rural Branch, as by her splendid organising ability she was largely instrumental in placing the Bristol Rural Branch in the position it held in the Association.

The bells of St. Mary Redcliffe were rung at the ceremony by the Bristol ringers. The honeymoon was spent at Swanage, Dorset, after which the happy couple returned to Brentwood to take up residence, and we wish them every happiness in their future life, and may they have lots of good ringing together.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

North Berks Branch

For the first time since 1947, the annual meeting of the North Berks branch was held at Abingdon, May 19th. Ringing took place at St. Helen's (10) and St. Nicholas' (6) prior to the service which was held at St. Nicholas' Church and conducted by Dr. A. M. Farrer, assisted by the Rev. C. F. Cross, Vicar of Aston Tirrold.

A business meeting in the Roysse Rooms followed tea. Owing to the death of Canon Evans and the absence of the vice-chairman, the chair was taken by the Master of the Guild, the Rev. C. E. Wigg, until the election of the Rev. C. F. Cross as the new chairman of the Branch. There were present the general secretary, Mr. W. Hibbert; the librarian, Miss M. R. Cross; and the Revs. J. V. Pixell, F. C. Coles, W. B. Goodchild, N. Hope, G. E. Bussell and a company numbering 110.

After the election of officers, at which the Rev. G. E. Bussell was appointed vice-chairman, 37 new members were nominated, a record for the Branch.

The secretary, Mr. A. E. Lock, reported that the Branch was now the second largest in the Guild with a membership of upwards of 280, embracing 26 affiliated towers.

In the evening local towers of Culham, Drayton, Steventon, Radley, Sunningwell and Sutton Courtenay were open for ringing.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN NEAL

We regret to record the death of Mr. John Neal, a valued member of St. Martin's Guild, who passed away in a Birmingham hospital on April 11th, in his 86th year.

He commenced ringing at Moseley Parish Church in 1883 and later joined John Carter's band at St. Philip's Church (now the Cathedral). In 1888 he left Birmingham for Skipton, Yorks, where he rang his first tower bell peal and returned to Birmingham in 1899, rejoining St. Philip's band.

In July, 1903, he became a member of St. Martin's Guild and was a regular member of St. Martin's Sunday service band until 1935, when failing health compelled him to give up ringing for the following eight years and finally, in 1948, he had to cease ringing altogether.

John Neal was a man of fine physique and very pleasing personality. He was a very good heavy bell ringer, having rung the tenor in Guild peals at Southwark and Hereford Cathedrals. At Exeter Cathedral, on July 5th, 1924, he rang the tenor with the late James H. Shepherd as strapper to a peal of Stedman Cinques, being the first peal on the augmented twelve bells.

He rang approximately 350 peals on tower- and handbells, about 100 of these at his beloved St. Martin's, he having 'circled' the old twelve and the first eleven of the recast twelve. He succeeded the late Frank Banks as tower-keeper at St. Martin's; also at St. John's, Deritend (now demolished), he did good work in teaching others to handle a bell. His peals range from Minor to Cambridge Maximus; he also conducted one peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Chad's R.C. Cathedral. On handbells he rang the tenors to several peals of Stedman Caters and Cinques and was always very willing to give his services and help to others. His last peal was Bob Major at Edgbaston Old Church in 1935.

He leaves a widow, now in her 85th year and, unfortunately, since his death in the same hospital; and to her and his four sons the deep sympathy of his many friends has been conveyed. St. Martin's loses a very old and valued friend.

MR. A. H. HAYWARD

Ringling in North Devon has sustained a great loss by the death of Mr. A. H. Hayward, after a very short illness, on May 12th. The Combe Martin bells were rung muffled for services on Sunday, May 13th, and after the funeral on May 16th.

Mr. Hayward had been chairman of the North Devon Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers since February, 1949, to which office he was appointed when he retired from the office of secretary and treasurer after 26 years of enthusiastic service.

The Combe Martin band have lost a fine leader, friend and instructor, no less than four of the present band having been amongst the ringers originally instructed by him in the art in 1921. They mourn the loss of a good companion who was the core of all their ringing. His high standard of craftsmanship had maintained the bells in excellent order since 1923 when, largely owing to his efforts, they were recast as a ring of eight. He also beautified the ringing room with panelling and, with a small bell hung from the wall, in full working order, the frame and wheel of which were of his own making.

Before coming to Combe Martin, Mr. Hayward had been an active ringer in the Taunton area, especially at Wilton, where he learnt to ring nearly 60 years ago, and at Wiveliscombe. He took part in a number of peals, often as conductor, including Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Triples and Treble Bob Major.

MR. A. ADAMS

The death occurred on May 12th of Mr. A. Adams, of Walsall, of the age of 61 years. He had been a member of the St. Matthew's band for 42 years and the Staffordshire Society since 1910.

His death came after a long and painful illness and after undergoing a serious operation from which he never fully recovered. Not a great peal ringer—his total was 23—he rang in the first peal of Stedman Cinques at Walsall by an entirely local band.

The funeral service was held at St. Matthew's prior to cremation. The ringers present were Messrs. Smith, Walker, Higgins and Eastwood.

A half-muffled quarter peal of Stedman Caters was rung on May 17th as a token of respect.

RINGERS' ROLL OF HONOUR

The following names are added to the Ringers' Roll of Honour of those who fell in the 1939-45 war:—

RICHARDSON, J., Middleton.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Meeting and Diocesan Festival

In accordance with the revised rules the annual business meeting and diocesan festival were combined and held on May 5th this year at Liskeard, with the neighbouring towers at St. Cleer, St. Ive, St. Keyne, Menheniot and St. Neot. The new plan was quite successful, although several of the older members preferred the old order of things, one reason being that now there is little time for ringing.

The service was held in Liskeard Church, with its fine but hard-going ring of eight, and conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. H. Parsons, and the Guild secretary, the Rev. W. H. R. Trewella. In the course of his sermon the Vicar confessed that he had never learnt to ring although he was brought up in Oxford, a city that contained more rings of bells than any in England.

At the meeting Miss E. Symons, the president, who took the chair, handed the Rev. A. S. Roberts, of Carbis Bay, a large photograph of the Dr. Symons' memorial bell now hanging in Madron tower, in appreciation of all he had done in raising money to provide the bell. Mr. Roberts, thanking Miss Symons, said this came as a pleasant surprise and suggested that an annual ringing day might be held at Madron to keep green the memory of the Doctor.

The officers were all re-elected and Messrs. J. Northey and R. Trestain, both unattached members, were added to the general committee.

The treasurer, Mr. S. Robinson, reported a balance of £27 6s. 4d.

The peal secretary, Mr. C. Lanxon, said that 15 peals had been rung for the Guild in 1950 and that the number of peals now rung for the Guild was over 200.

Canon Peeke sent a form of certificate which he suggested might be awarded to ringers who had done long service. The number of years of service required and the exact form of the certificate were not decided. When the diocesan secretary has put in the number of years required, he will do what some ladies over 70 do about their extra tea, not take it.

It was decided to hold the next general meeting festival at Truro on Saturday, May 7th, 1952, and to ask the new Bishop to give the address at the service.

NORTH CREEKE, NORFOLK.—On May 3rd, 1,260 Bob Minor: J. Couzens 1, R. Allcock 2, F. Beals 3, A. Leet 4, R. Owen 5, R. Owen (cond.) 6.

HISTORIC CHURCHES AND BELLS

THE Church of England is faced to-day with many problems and among them is the preservation of its churches. Some prominence has been given in the Press recently to the dire need of many of the ancient churches, which, apart from the fact that they are in each parish the House of God and the place of worship, are also part of the nation's heritage. The Pilgrim Trust, which in the past has done so much for the preservation of particular churches, has indicated that it is not prepared to continue making grants for such purposes until the Church has found some general policy for grappling with this problem. While there is no lack of evidence that churchpeople have subscribed generously for the maintenance and repair of their ancient churches—a practical example is Chester Cathedral—the position to-day is that there are many great buildings crying out for restoration, which it is entirely beyond the capacity of the inhabitants to meet. Probably the most striking examples are to be found in East Anglia, where great buildings serve tiny and somewhat impoverished populations.

One of these examples from another part of the country reached the Editor this week from the Rev. A. S. Midgley, Vicar of King's Sutton, near Banbury. His parish has a population of 1,500 and he has to find a total of £9,000 for a new church roof, a sum of £6 per head of population. So dangerous is the present structure that the bells have been silenced and no more ringing can take place until the existing roof has been demolished. King's Sutton has one of the few rings of eight bells in South Northamptonshire and it has a keen young band of method ringers. As things are to-day, the only hope for King's Sutton people is outside assistance, and if any of our readers are desirous of helping, their contributions should be sent to The Secretary, Church Restoration Fund, c/o The Vicarage, King's Sutton, Banbury, Oxon.

The Church Commissioners are in the process of trying to collect the necessary information in order to see what the existing needs of the country are. In the Guildford Diocese a questionnaire has been sent to incumbents, and we hope that in making their returns they will state whether their bells are silent because of lack of repair. 'The Ringing World' feels that bells should be included in this nationwide survey. The purport of this return is that the central authorities of the Church should know what has to be faced in order that they may consider whether the time has come to ask the State to take a share in the upkeep of these buildings, which are, in some degree at least, the property of the nation and not merely the possession of the inhabitants of the parish who belong to the Anglican Communion.

We are reminded that a church building that remains in use as such can never become an 'ancient monument.' That was established in 1913, when the first Ancient Monuments Bill was before Parliament. But the law from which the churches were excluded still did a great deal to encourage the preservation of the English parish church; for when Archbishop Davidson succeeded in having the churches taken out of the Bill, he promised that their own machinery should be set up to see that maintenance and repair should not be neglected or carried out on the wrong lines. It is unlikely that the State will come to the rescue of church buildings unless they come within the provision of the Ancient Monuments Bill and the existing law is amended. On the other hand, unless State assistance is forthcoming, there seems little prospect of saving many of the country's priceless heritages. There is no lack of expert advice on the work that is necessary. The Central Council for the Care of Churches has just issued its eleventh report, and while the Council is not directly able to assist dilapidated churches with funds they need for repairs, it can at least ensure through its statutory relations with the diocesan authorities that, as building and repairs become possible, the worst of the old mistakes that were once too common shall be avoided.

It is important that we as ringers should watch the trend of events. Every Guild and Association should periodically make a survey of the bells in its territory and present to the diocesan authorities a statement showing the exact state of bells in its area. The information, if collated, would be very valuable. The report should be as comprehensive as possible, and where rings of bells are defective, the main reasons should be given. We have cases similar to King's Sutton of good bells in unsafe towers. These should be duly noted. Where recent surveys have been made, as in the case of Oxfordshire by Mr. Frederick Sharpe, the information is readily available, but there are many areas where information is somewhat scanty. Mr. R. H. Dove, in his 'Bellringer's Guide to the Church Bells of Britain,' gives a certain amount of information, but it is important that this should be brought up to date.

House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:—

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD (convener).

FRANK I. HAIRS.

JOSEPH T. DYKE.

HAROLD J. POOLE.

Pending the new committee meeting all communications except notices, reports and letters for publication in 'The Ringing World,' should be addressed to the retiring secretary of the committee, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

Last year we recorded that the ringers of All Saints', Parramatta, N.S.W., had rehung their tenor on ball bearings, with a steel headstock. On April 24th a fracture was discovered in the axle of the treble and the company decided to rehang the remaining five with ball bearings and steel headstocks at their own expense. The steel, with difficulty, has been obtained. The work is being carried out by Bruce Dunbar and George Williamson with Bobby Ferris as labourer.

Mr. W. A. Breckon, of Whitby, Yorks, rang his 70th peal on his 70th birthday (May 17th) and 'completed the circle' of the tower.

Mr. J. Swindley, one of the oldest members of the Chester Diocesan Guild and for many years captain of the Cathedral band, died on May 25th, aged 78. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

Mr. Leslie Evans, of Eardisland, is the new Master of the Hereford Diocesan Guild. A report of the successful annual festival at Leominster on Whit Monday will appear in our next issue.

There was a scene after a combined practice at Wonston, Hants, recently, when a well-known Bosham and Winchester ringer found that the 'apple of his eye,' his brand-new motor-bicycle, had disappeared. Practical jokes have their limit!

The peals rung at Radstock and Binegar (Somerset) on Whit Monday were the result of an attempt to ring three peals during the day; the first, at Chilcompton, being unsuccessful. Last August Bank Holiday, the first peal was scored and the other two were unsuccessful.
However, third time lucky!

BELFRY GOSSIP

In recognition of his services to the Essex Association, Mr. G. L. Joyce has been made a life vice-president of the Association. A report of the Association's very successful annual meeting will appear next week.

Having passed her Girl Guide Bellringing
Badge test some weeks ago, Miss Jill Vernon, of Stoney Stanton, Leics, rang her first peal in her local tower on May 19th and received the congratulations of the band for the way she rang her bell throughout the peal.

The birth of twins to Mrs. Percy, the wife of Mr. R. W. Percy, was commemorated by a peal at Christ Church, Eastbourne, on May 19th.
The peal was rung at the second attempt, the first lasting over one hour. A wit of the party suggested an attempt for the peal for each of the twins.

Mr. E. Percy Thomas, whose gifts to his parish church of Claines, Worcester, include five new bells and an electric clock, had a 78th birthday compliment paid to him in the form of a peal of Stedman Caters rung there on May 18th. His interest in bells and ringers is well known in Worcestershire and elsewhere, and when the Cathedral bells were recast in 1928, he played a large part in the scheme.

Admired at the social evening that followed the Central Council meeting at Chester was the case of tankards that accompanies the Chester Diocesan Guild special company when they attempt new records or go for special peals.
Each ringer has his own tankard with his record engraved on it. One member has five such peals recorded. We could get no satisfactory explanation why Mr. Walter Allman's was of quart size and the others just modest pints.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S HANDBOOK — INVITATION TO LINCOLN ACCEPTED — BARRON BELL TRUST — BUTLIN'S RINGING COMPETITION NOT ACCEPTABLE

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S HANDBOOK

A progress report on the preparation of a Central Council handbook was submitted by Dr. E. S. J. Hatcher. The price of the 1927 edition was 1s. 3d., so allowing for a rather larger book, a present-day price of 5s. would not be excessive.

Proposals for the handbook were:—

1. Title: Handbook of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, 1951. Naming present officers on title page (possibly with frontispiece photograph of Canon G. F. Coleridge).

2. Preface. If Mr. E. Alexander Young were invited to contribute a short preface, this would provide continuity with the 1927 edition. It would be countersigned by the present president and secretary.

3. The Council—its history, aims and procedure. This section to be re-written, and could be divided into sub-sections dealing with the three main aspects mentioned. This account should include mention of the more important actions of the Council in the past.

4. Rules of the Council—as adopted 1950.

5. Decisions of the Council—as to be adopted 1951.

6. Members of the 21st Council (1951-1954).

(i) Honorary and life members—alphabetical order.

(ii) Representative—classified under affiliated associations and guilds.

It would be a great asset if addresses could be given. Old and new members should be signified.

7. Active committees of the Council. Each member to be described, with names of convenor and other members.

8. Publications of the Council. This should include guiding notes where appropriate.

9. The Council's Library. The Librarian to be invited to prepare an account.

10. The Council's Journal. A concise history, with details appertaining to the policy and production of 'The Ringing World.'

The above would form the main body of the handbook and following this would be a group of factual appendices.

APPENDICES

(a) Annual meetings of the Council since its foundation.

(b) Past and present officers of the Council.

(c) List of members of the Council, 1891—1950.

This would be an alphabetical list covering Council 1—20 but excluding the current Council. Having been compiled, this list need not further be revised (except to indicate subsequent deaths) but a new list should be commenced covering Councils 21 onwards which would first appear in the next edition.

Each name in the list would occupy one line of print only, giving the following details:—

Name, initials and title, year of birth (and death, where applicable), period(s) of membership of the Council, symbol or abbreviation to indicate guild or society represented or if honorary, finally an indication of continuing service in the 21st Council.

The total number of names would possibly be of the order of 750, which, at 50 to a page, would require 15 pages of text, not unduly heavy in demand on available space, and a most worthy record.

The Biographies Committee would doubtless have this information readily available.

TRIENNIAL SUPPLEMENT

At the beginning of each new Council, i.e., every three years, a supplement would be published giving the names and addresses of members of the new Council, and any alterations in work or constitution of the committees.

The secretary reported that the Standing Committee recommended that the Committee be authorised to go ahead with the production of a handbook on the lines suggested.

This was agreed to.

ROLL OF HONOUR

Will readers please substitute the following report for that which appeared on page 345 under this heading.

Mr. H. Miles said two years ago he had the honour of being asked to compile the Roll of Honour of ringers who fell in the last war. The closing date was September 30th when the total number of names was 221. Since then he had had other names and the total was now 289. The Council had to decide whether the Roll should be incorporated in the previous one or bound up separately. He had taken advice both in London and Oxford. At London he consulted the librarian at St. Paul's Cathedral (Mr. Gerald W. Henderson) and he advised against it being bound up with the present Roll of Honour of the 1914-18 war. He put him in touch with Mr. Ball, and his estimate for writing 280 odd names on vellum, and binding was £75. He then consulted Mr. Charles Batey, printer to the University Press at Oxford, and his estimate for printing the Roll on hand-made paper, and binding in morocco was £60.

The secretary reported that the Standing Committee considered this question and the estimates given by Mr. Ball and the Oxford University Press and certain advice given by Mr. J. W. Clarke (Master of the Chester Diocesan Guild) and they recommended that Mr. Clarke be co-opted to this committee with a view to making further enquiries and in obtaining estimates in other directions.

Mr. P. J. Johnson moved this recommendation which was accepted by the Council.

NEXT MEETING

The secretary announced that the Council had been invited to visit Lincoln next year and an invitation to Newcastle had been received for the following year. The Standing Committee recommended that the invitation to Lincoln be accepted. This was agreed to.

Mr. J. A. Freeman, Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, said: 'It is 29 years since the Council were last in Lincoln and we are very pleased to hear that they have voted in our favour. We shall do our best to give you a hearty welcome.'

BARRON BELL TRUST

Mr. C. W. Pipe said at the annual meeting of the Suffolk Guild he was instructed to seek information concerning the Barron Bell Trust. He should like to know how an application was made and whether it was likely to be successful.

Mr. Clarke: I have had occasion to write to the Barron Bell Trust three or four times and each time there has been no answer.

Mr. W. Pullinger: That is the position. The present trustee is Mr. Hopkins, whose last address was at Christchurch. A number of applications have been made and the letters are unanswered. I wonder if the proper thing is not to take the matter up with the Charity Commissioners so as to ascertain the position. I believe the Charity must be registered.

Mr. G. Harding said a tower in the Swindon branch recently had a very substantial grant. Another tower made an application but had no reply. He had a word with the person from the successful church and it appeared that Mr. Hopkins took no notice of any correspondence or circulars from begging bellringers but if the person in search of the grant met Mr. Hopkins personally he might be successful. It was no use writing.

Mr. J. W. Jones: I know of several cases of persons writing and receiving no reply.

The President: I think the answer is that for any one to be successful he should go to Christchurch and meet Mr. Hopkins. If Mr. Hopkins did not like the church or the vicar's face then there was no grant.

BUTLIN'S CAMP RINGING

The President: There is a question I want to raise concerning a ringing competition in connection with Butlin's Camps. Mr. Pugh, who is head chaplain of Butlin's Camps, got into touch with me and, with Mr. Hughes, I interviewed Mr. Pugh. Mr. Pugh had already communicated with the Diocesan Bishops and told me that Mr. Butlin was willing to give a prize to be rung for in a national competition with finals at Skegness. He (Mr. Butlin) understood that ringing was a dying art and he wished to do something to revive it. Mr. Pugh is a very energetic man who has done a good deal to improve the religious life in the camps. Except in very few districts we cannot say that ringing is a dying art or there is a lack of young ringers.

With one or two exceptions, the Bishops seemed to be in favour of the national competition. For that reason we could not turn the thing down stone cold although that was my first inclination. I asked Mr. Fletcher to circulate a letter to the Standing Committee and about a dozen members replied and in practically every case they were against the competition.

After all the Associations have done in the last 70 years to get rid of prize-ringing we thought it was a very retrograde step. I propose to write within the next day or two to Mr. Pugh pointing out that we very much appreciate Mr. Butlin's generous offer but the whole idea is based on a false conception of the fact that we do not consider that there is a dearth of young ringers or that ringing is a dying art and that the idea of a competition is repugnant to all the Societies affiliated to the Central Council. At the same time there are certain ways Mr. Butlin can help ringers going to camps. One is that a set of handbells be provided in each camp and a notice displayed inviting ringers to get in touch with the chaplain who would try and get facilities for ringing. I am also suggesting that the chaplain get in touch with the Diocesan or County Association and meet the local secretary and ascertain times of Sunday ringing in the locality and practice nights, so that any stray ringer should get some ringing.

Another thing, which is more important. We should send a copy to all Diocesan Bishops pointing out the reasons for turning it down because I feel it is a good opportunity to educate the Bishops. I feel certain they do not realise the feeling of ringers with regard to prize-ringing.

Mr. A. A. Hughes: I propose we ask our president to write that letter.

Mr. H. Miles seconded.

The action was approved.

RINGERS' SERVICE BOOK

The Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow said he had been in correspondence with the Guildford Guild during the last few weeks about the production of a new service book. They wanted to print a new service book and had rather shelved the idea because they wanted a better selection of ringing hymns and an intelligent service. Norwich was interested and he was wondering how much further they could induce the Central Council to let this book be a nation-wide service book for ringers. He hesitated to suggest that it should be the service book to be used all over the country as Elizabeth Tudor found to her cost. At any rate it might be convenient to a considerable number of Guilds.

They had duplicated advance copies which were available for anyone interested. It might be that the Central Council could persuade the S.P.C.K. to produce a new manual for ringers.

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCES

Mr. T. Butler submitted a plea that the 'Ringing World' should publish all true extents of 5,000 with two or three cover bells, to be given under the heading of miscellaneous or unauthorised performances.

Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis sympathised with Mr. Butler and thought that such performances should be published.

Mr. C. Kippin: I am going to support that. A peal of Doubles with a cover was put in 'The Ringing World' under the heading 'A New Band's Encouraging Start.' I thought it was the title of a cynic!

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead: I recommend the Committee of 'The Ringing World' should consider this point in their deliberations.

Mr. T. Butler: Does it mean that you will lose 12 months?

The President promised that the Committee would take note of the point.

Mr. Atkins said a peal of Doubles was rung in Essex with covers and the band did not know any better. It upset all their members that it was not published. He suggested that such performances be published.

THE ATTENDANCE

The Secretary reported that 33 associations were fully represented at the meeting, 17 associations partly represented and four not represented. There were 118 representative members, four life members and nine honorary members present, making a total of 131 with 35 absent. This was a record attendance.

VOTES OF THANKS

The President: It is usual for me to propose an omnibus vote of thanks. I want to include the Bishop of Chester for giving us the welcome he has; the Dean for all arrangements in connection with the Cathedral and for arranging the service this morning; the Chester Diocesan Guild, particularly mentioning the master and the secretary, who had done a great deal of work; Mr. Edwards for arranging peals; and the incumbents for the use of the bells.

Mr. A. D. Barker seconded and the resolution was carried.

Mr. F. E. Dukes proposed a vote of thanks to the president, to Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher for the way they had carried out the business of secretary, to Mr. Hooton and Mr. Hughes and also to Mr. White, editor of 'The Ringing World.'

The vote was carried with acclamation.

A report of the revision of the decisions of the Council will be published when the various amendments have been checked by the convener of the Sub-Committee.

The representatives were most hospitably entertained to tea by the Chester Diocesan Guild. The thanks of the company were expressed by the president and acknowledged by Mr. J. W. Clarke, the Master of the Guild.

A social evening followed at the Blossoms Hotel, when some very good handbell ringing was demonstrated by bands from Lincolnshire and Leicester.

JOINT MEETING AT MEASHAM

About 40 ringers and friends attended a joint meeting of the Midland Counties Guild and the Loughborough District of the Leicester Diocesan Guild at Measham on May 19th.

During the afternoon and evening this light, handy ring of eight was kept going to a variety of methods up to Cambridge Surprise.

An excellent tea was served in the school-room; this was very kindly prepared by the local ringers and friends.

There was no business meeting, but Mr. J. W. Cotton and Mr. A. E. Rowley, the two respective Central Council representatives, made a short report on the recent meeting at Chester. J. A. U.

YORKSHIRE ROYAL AT INVERARAY

Peal Saved by Presence of Mind

THE origin of this peal began with a chance remark that several of the band had rung a peal on the first and third rings of ten in order of weight of tenor and was followed by the suggestion that the trio should be completed. It was decided that the opening of the Festival of Britain would be an admirable opportunity and by the beginning of the year permission had been obtained and a band briefed. It was, of course, necessary to take ropes and each man was asked to be responsible for finding a suitable rope. The band arranged to travel in two parties, one of seven to leave early on Friday and the second of three on Friday afternoon.

The first party left their rendezvous at Saddleworth early on Friday, May 4th, and proceeded via Bradford, where they picked up the three Yorkshire members, to Carlisle for lunch. After lunch, the journey continued through Glasgow, at rush hour, via Loch Lomond to the shores of Loch Fyne and the town of Inveraray. Here, after an excellent dinner, handbell ringing was indulged until bedtime. Meanwhile the rear party was on its way with an additional member, who came to listen, and proceeded via Kendal where the fell-walking enthusiast was picked up, to Carlisle for dinner. From there they had a windy journey to Lanark where they spent the night. Early next morning they were on the way again by the bonnie banks of Loch Lomond to Inveraray, arriving just in time for lunch.

While they had been travelling, the advance party had not been idle, for they had thoroughly examined the bells and fittings and, ably led by Ralph Edwards and Walter Allman, had seen to it that the bells were all properly greased, ropes fitted, pulley blocks in order and all the hundred and one items necessary to ensure success. In this they were greatly helped by the kindness of Messrs. John Taylor and Co. in sending a tin of suitable grease and a grease gun by post, to await them.

The bells were raised before lunch and several minor adjustments made so that everything should go smoothly in the afternoon. A very cheerful party sat down to a substantial meal and afterwards wandered in the direction of the tower, not many yards distant. This tower is a fine structure and was built specially to house the bells and at the same time it was intended to build the church on to the tower but it seems that interest in this project has now died with the death of the Duke. The bells themselves are an excellent ring of ten with a tenor of 41 cwt. 2 qr. 8 lb. and the frame is one of the best the band had ever seen. In view of the absence of ringers there, the condition of the frame and fittings is adequate testimony to British workmanship.

Soon after 2.30 the band assembled in the tower made the last few final adjustments and at 2.40 the conductor called 'Go.' For the first few minutes the noise in the ringing room proved a little troublesome, particularly to the light end, but soon everyone was comfortably settled down and some excellent ringing resulted. After about 55 minutes' ringing a loud crack was heard as something hit the floor. The thoughts of the band at that moment showed in their faces. Was something coming apart? Was someone outside throwing stones at the boarding on the west side of the tower? Had some irate Scot taken out his shotgun and was taking pot shots at the tower?

PRESENCE OF MIND

All speculation was silenced ten minutes later when the iron ceiling boss on the ninth slid swiftly down the rope and gave the ringer (Mr. Ralph G. Edwards) a smart crack on the knuckles. Fortunately it occurred as he pulled off at backstroke so, letting go the end, he allowed the boss to slide off the rope as he caught the sally. His presence of mind undoubtedly saved the situation and, apart from a badly-cut knuckle and three of four bad blows, the whole incident passed off without upset. Needless to say, for the rest of the peal many an anxious eye was cast ceilingwards by the other members of the band. In fact the ringer of the ninth afterwards remarked he was glad it was his boss which had come adrift for he did at least know where it was.

The peal proceeded to an uneventful end except for perhaps a little troublesome sunshine during the last hour or so which affected the third and fourth mainly. The ringing throughout was of an excellent character and when, at 6.42, the bells ran into rounds the band had the justifiable feeling that their efforts had not been in vain. Reports from our outside observer confirmed the inside impression and a visit from some of the local people who said how much they had enjoyed it confirmed our perhaps biased opinion. It is, however, only fair to record that the waiter at the hotel, who had been told to listen to the Sassenachs said with emphasis that he could have done better on the bagpipes! All attempts to get him to try proved unavailing, nevertheless.

THE CHRISTENING

At dinner that evening, at which the guest was the Rector, a happy party pursued its way through a somewhat lengthy menu, for Englishmen at any rate, but which appeared to be the usual thing for the Scots. We can recommend Scottish meals. Handbell ringing in the lounge provoked many questions from interested guests and the high spot of the evening was the 'christening' of certain drinking utensils of which more will be heard on future occasions. One member found his so limited in capacity that he had to replenish it five times before he thought the ceremony concluded.

At a late hour a tired but happy band of ringers retired to rest having accomplished another self-imposed task. Next morning an early start was made and at 9.30 the return journey was commenced and the two cars set off for Lockerbie where lunch had been arranged for one o'clock and, needless to say, they arrived there with ten minutes to spare. From Lockerbie the convoy continued to Kendal where the two cars parted company, one to go into Yorkshire and the other to Lancashire and Cheshire.

The peal could not have been accomplished without the fullest co-operation of all concerned and thanks are due to the Rector for his kindness in allowing the attempt. Taylors for their help, to Ralph Edwards for his hard work on the bells, to Walter Allman for his organisation and the car drivers and owners for the transport. Things we would like to know are:—

(1). What 'Beautiful Thought' did some of the party harbour?

(2). Who was the driver who changed his 'political' label as he grew more accustomed to a strange car? From 'conservative' through 'liberalised' to 'socialised'.

(3). Who was it who, at two o'clock on Monday morning, decided he had ridden far enough and decided to walk the rest of the way (3—4 miles) home. (Moral—look at the petrol gauge next time.)

BEVERLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

A beautiful day on Whit Saturday and a fine ring of bells made the Society's meeting at North Cave very enjoyable. The Rev. C. M. Oswell met the visitors, gave them a hearty welcome and later conducted the service. A feast of home-cooked dainties was provided by local ladies for the tea in the Temperance Hall.

At the business meeting, Hutton Cranswick was selected for the annual meeting in July. In the evening some good touches of St. Clement's, Little Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob were brought round.

OBITUARY OF THE WEEK

MR. HARRY KILBY

The death of Mr. Harry Kilby, at the age of 72, on May 23rd, removes from Middlesex one of the most respected of ringers. Throughout his ringing career he was associated with the Willesden tower. His first peal was one in four Minor methods in 1898 at Willesden and was rung for the Society of Cumberland Youths. There was for many years a flourishing six-bell band at Willesden and before the bells were augmented to eight in 1915 they succeeded in ringing extents in all the known Minor methods.

Mr. Kilby was an accomplished ringer and enjoyed nothing better than ringing the seventh to a peal in a Major method. It was most unusual for him to make a mistake in a peal and he took pride in the way he struck his bell. In all he rang 235 peals, ten of which he conducted. Of this total 164 were rung at Willesden. He took part in the first peals of Spliced Surprise Major in five to twelve methods, conducted by the late William Pye, and also in a number of other methods rung for the first time at Willesden.

He was tower secretary of St. Mary's, Willesden from 1914, when the band joined the Middlesex County Association, until he retired from active ringing a few years ago. During that time many ringers received from him encouragement and opportunities for ringing in the more advanced methods. In 1939 he was elected Master of the Middlesex County Association and held that office for the following five years.

He was interred in Willesden Churchyard on May 28th. Those present included Mrs. H. Kilby (widow), Mr. E. H. Kilby (son), Mr. G. M. Kilby (brother), Mr. R. G. Kilby (nephew), Messrs. A. Cutler, A. W. Coles, H. C. Collier, H. G. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lock, Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. E. C. S. Turner and Mrs. L. Bowler. There were many wreaths and in addition to those from the members of his family, there were others from the Willesden ringers, the Middlesex County Association, the staff of the Royal Academy of Music, where he was employed for many years, and the Almora Cricket Club.

A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the grave by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lock, Messrs. A. W. Coles and H. G. Hart. The tower bells could not be rung as the tower is under repair but a half-muffled quarter peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung in the evening at Harrow Weald.

E. C. S. T.

An Appreciation

Mr. Harry Kilby, captain of the band at St. Mary's, Willesden, for a number of years, was a gentleman whose unsaid motto was 'I serve.' He was a ringer whose conduct and ability was of a very high order and would have been more well known but for his retiring nature and desire to remain behind the scenes.

Mr. Kilby set an example of punctuality and perseverance and was as happy in helping someone not so far advanced as in performing himself.

Many will attribute their progress and success in eight-bell ringing to Mr. Kilby's unfailing interest, deeply regretting the loss of a true friend, but confident that God will welcome him with 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

T. J. L.
K. M. L.

MR. G. N. IVES

We regret to record the death of Mr. George N. Ives, aged 40, of Rayne Road, Braintree, Essex, who died in hospital on May 19th.

The funeral service was held at St. Michael's Church, Braintree. In the evening the bells were rung half-muffled. At Cavendish, Suffolk, his native village, where he learnt to ring, the bells were rung half-muffled in the afternoon.

MR. THOMAS H. REEVES

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. Thomas Henry Reeves, suddenly, at his home, 136, Newton Road, Sparkhill, Birmingham, on May 18th, aged 67.

He had been in failing health following a seizure while on business in Sheffield and, after leaving hospital there, was able to return to his home with fairly high hopes that he would eventually recover. Only a week before his death, he had been to his office in the city and had intended going again on the day he died but was persuaded not to by his wife, who had so carefully nursed him. Now his family mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father, and the St. Martin's Guild a vice-president and a good and faithful servant. He served as hon. secretary and treasurer of the Guild for 20 years and ably maintained the high tradition of service handed down to him by his immediate predecessor, Alderman A. Paddon Smith, who served in the same office, also for 20 years.

MR. T. H. REEVES

As many know, the duties involve the arranging of the annual 'Johnson Dinner,' and these he successfully carried out to the satisfaction and comfort of all who attended and his familiar figure and cheery voice will be missed by his many friends not only in Birmingham, but throughout the ringing Exercise and they, with we of St. Martin's Guild, mourn the loss of a very dear friend.

Tom, as he was familiarly called, was the son of a famous ringing father, the late Samuel Reeves, a past Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths and for many years parish clerk at Christ Church, West Bromwich, where he was also in charge of the 12 bells. Here he taught his son to handle a bell and later conducted his first peal, Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original) at Hartlebury in 1903. A few years later Tom conducted the same composition at Christ Church. He, with his father, took part in the silent, non-conducted peal of Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original) at Christ Church on November 20th, 1909, no mean performance for one so young. His peals totalled 283 and were in a variety of methods on six to twelve bells. He was also an excellent conductor, having called peals on eight, ten and twelve bells. Tom was also a prominent Freemason and in the Craft had attained high provincial rank. He had rung in several Masonic peals.

The first part of the funeral service took place at St. John's Church, Sparkhill, where he and his family had attended for many years, and was conducted by the Vicar, Canon Tetley. A good number of Freemasons were present and the St. Martin's Guild was well represented. The Vicar, in his address, paid a very high tribute of his services to the Church and as a bellringer at St. Martin's and as an excellent husband and father. A Masonic tribute followed, after which a course of Triples was rung on handbells by J. F. Harvey, A. Walker, E. C. Shepherd and G. E. Fearn. The cortege then proceeded to Perry Barr Crematorium, and in the evening a half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques was rung to his memory at St. Martin's, where he had been a Sunday service ringer for many years.

Truly it can be said of Tom Reeves: 'Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might.'

MR. V. R. HITCHMAN

We regret to record the death of Mr. V. R. Hitchman at the Radcliffe Infirmary, Oxford, on May 13th, aged 76.

He was a member of a Harwell family and in recent years lived at a small village in the Chipping Norton Branch of the Oxford Guild. His last pull was at Great Tew about three years ago, where he had rung for the last 12 years.

Mr. Hitchman was a good striker and Stedman was his favourite method. He had not rung many peals, but he rang a peal of Stedman Triples with the Rev. F. E. Robinson at Wantage on April 26th, 1900.

The funeral was at Harwell on May 16th. A quarter peal of Grandsire Triples, half-muffled, was lost in the last five minutes, through a rope breaking, at Great Tew. It was attempted as a token of respect to a grand old gentleman.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

Chew Deanery Branch

The monthly practice meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at Weston-in-Gordano (six bells, tenor 12 cwt.) on May 19th.

The tower is situated on the south side of the church, which is very unusual in this part of Somerset. The porch contains the remains of a gallery, where the choirboys used to sing on Church Festivals, and a pre-Reformation Sanctus bell hangs in a turret where the chancel and nave meet, this being rung from the Rector's stall.

Ringers were present from Abbots Leigh, Clapton-in-Gordano, Long Ashton, Nailsea, Portishead, Publow, Winford and Wrington. A wide variety of methods up to Cambridge Minor were rung. Ringing was under the direction of the Master, Mr. H. W. Knight.

THE CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Festival at Stockport

THE Chester Diocesan Guild held its annual festival on May 19th at the church of St. George, Stockport, when some 140 members and friends were present at the service. The service was conducted by the hon. secretary of the Guild, the Rev. J. Kingdon, and the address was given by the Rev. Wilfrid Garlick, Vicar of St. George's, perhaps more widely known as 'the parson who calls.'

In his opening remarks the Vicar said he was rather ignorant of the details of their art but that was not the fault of his band of ringers: they had tried many times to get him into the belfry but the many demands upon his time at the hours when the ringing took place made it impossible for him to take an active part in it himself. He referred to the need for a Ringing Master in the tower to direct the efforts of the rest, and said that if men and nations were to live together in peace and amity we must have a Master and a plan.

Referring to the different tones of the bell which he said must all be in harmony if the sound of the bell was to be perfect, and also to the different kinds of metals needed to make a perfect bell, Mr. Garlick went on to say that many people were under the impression that only one note need be correct and only one kind of metal need be used to obtain the perfect bell. But just as we know this was not correct for bells, so we must realise that it was not true of the perfect 'Bell of life.' There was a need of a correct proportion of 'tones' and 'metals' in the Christian life. God had shown them that they were body, mind and spirit, each part serving neither more nor less than the others. He thought that there was no theoretical formula for the perfect bell but that it was an accident into which the skill of the founder entered. In life, just as in bells they must have the overtones blended and sometimes they thought that the overtones were overpowerful.

Turning to the ringer himself he said he considered the parable of the sower most applicable to ringers. The ringer must have the same qualities as those required for the Kingdom of God. An ability to make a mistake and check and correct it, a most important thing in being a Christian. He reminded the congregation of the Roman Catholic bishop who said: 'The saints are the sinners who keep on trying.' The sound of the bells, he felt, reminded people of the voice of God, calling them back to Him, and in this way the ringers were taking their part in the redemption of mankind, and the clergy and people were glad to have them as colleagues.

A feature of the service was the use of handbells, rung by the Norbury Handbell Ringers.

for all the hymns and as voluntaries. The impressive array of some hundred or so handbells on tables at the foot of the chancel steps was equalled by the excellence of the playing of the dozen members of the band.

Tea in the nearby Parish Hall followed the service and some inconvenience was caused by the large number of people who had failed to send word for tea. However, the difficulties were overcome by the expedient of two sittings, the caterers fortunately having sufficient food to cover the needs of the increased numbers.

After tea the annual meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Master, Mr. J. W. Clarke, supported by the Rev. W. Garlick. The statement of accounts and annual report were adopted as printed in the report, and he said this would require effort by all.

A report on the proceedings at the Central Council meeting was given by Mr. D. Smith, and the Master made special reference to certain items, in particular the Butlin scheme.

It was decided to hold the annual dinner in Chester on October 13th, the place to be arranged by the Master and general secretary. The meeting showed its appreciation of and confidence in its officials by electing them for another year and also expressed its thanks to the Vicar and wardens of St. George's for their ready and able assistance, to the handbell ringers and the local band for their work. It also thanked the Rev. J. Kingdon for his special efforts to make the Central Council meeting a success and Mr. R. G. Edwards for his efforts to arrange peals for those visiting ringers who wanted them, a most unenviable task.

It was decided to place on record the Guild's appreciation of the performances of 21,600 Bristol, and also the peal of silent Spliced Surprise, records of which the Guild was proud. On the proposition of Mr. C. K. Lewis it was decided to send a letter of congratulation to Leicestershire band who have just rung the maximum, so far as is known, number of methods which can be spliced into seven extents of Minor. The thanks of the meeting were also extended to the printer of the annual report for the production of the report in a new form in time for the Festival. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. J. P. Fidler and Mr. John Worth.

During the afternoon and evening ringing was enjoyed on the bells of Cheadle, Norbury, Stockport St. Mary and Bredbury churches as well as St. George's.

The annual festival for 1952 will be held at Bromborough on the Wirral peninsula when it is hoped a large gathering will be able to hear of the further achievements of the Chester Guild.

DEDICATION

SNAITH, near Goole

The Church of St. Lawrence, Snaith, Yorkshire, belonged, in the 12th century, to a Benedictine Monastery. It is a large and elegant structure 172 feet in length, chiefly in the Early English and Perpendicular styles.

The bells, six in number, cast in 1778 by Pack and Chapman, of London, have now been augmented by the addition of two new treble bells recently completed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, London, the gift by the late Mrs. Jane Shearburn in memory of her husband, the late Roderic Bryant Shearburn. In addition a chiming apparatus has been installed.

The dedication service took place on May 19th. A large congregation assembled in the church to a service conducted by the Archdeacon of Doncaster, assisted by the Rev. B. A. Ramsker, Vicar of Carlton and Snaith, and the Rev. C. Norton, Vicar of Cowick, and other clergy.

The bells and chiming apparatus were dedicated by the Archdeacon of Doncaster, the ropes being handed to the Archdeacon by Messrs. L. Holmes and E. McClure (executors). Immediately following, the bells were rung in rounds by Master D. Smith 1, Mrs. B. A. Ramsker 2, Mrs. W. Graves 3, Mrs. E. Smith 4, G. Pickering 5, W. Graves 6, L. M. Woodhead 7, R. Coldwell 8.

A very instructive and interesting address was given by the Archdeacon, who emphasised the necessity of team work being applicable not only in bellringing but in the Church at large. He also drew attention to the difference between chiming and ringing the bells.

At the conclusion of the service the first touch on the bells, Kent Treble Bob Major, was rung by L. M. Woodhead 1, H. Drake 2, C. W. King 3, W. A. Hudson (conductor) 4, J. Martin Thorley 5, F. Terry 6, J. Waud 7, R. Coldwell 8. Ringers were in attendance from Selby Abbey, Goole, Thorne, Leeds Parish Church, Ledsham, Rawmarsh, Hemingbrough, Carlton and Snaith.

Tea was provided by the women members of Snaith Church. The bells were again rung until 8 p.m., all those participating were pleased with the excellent manner in which the bell-founders had completed their work.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

Biennial Tower List Recommended

The new list of visits to towers was started with a meeting at Batley on May 26th. This tower is a very popular one with members as the bells are easy to handle and hear, the ringing room is on the ground floor and only requires two steps to be negotiated.

Ringing was enjoyed during the afternoon and tea was served in the Church House, where over 20 members sat down to enjoy one of the best meals arranged at a ringing meeting for some time.

At the business meeting, held in the adjoining schools, the new president (Mr. J. W. Ben-ton) presided. The usual business details were effectively cleared and one new member (Mr. E. Lofthouse, of Armley) was elected.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was very ably proposed by Mr. J. Gibson, who included the Vicar of Batley, churchwardens, local company and the ladies for service at the tea-tables: this was seconded by Mr. A. Cole. Mr. Senior acknowledged the thanks and in his reply said he hoped all present had enjoyed their visit to Batley and, if so, he was amply repaid.

The next meeting is due to be held at Kippax on June 30th, 1951.

Under the heading of any other business the date of the September meeting was discussed and it was decided that it should be the 22nd to avoid clashing with the Snowden Dinner at York, on September 29th.

Methods rung were Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Superlative, Stedman Triples, Little Bob Major, Cambridge, London and Duffield.

CENTRAL COUNCIL LIBRARY

To all Secretaries of Associations, Guilds and Ringing Societies

Sir,—In the course of the Chester meeting, it became clear that some Associations still hold copies of Central Council publications on a 'sale or return' basis.

Many years ago an attempt was made to ascertain how much stock had been distributed in this way, there being no official record owing to loss of some papers after the death of the librarian: but two replies only were received then.

I should be grateful if secretaries or other officials responsible would either return all Central Council publications on 'sale or return' or send me a complete list of those held.—Yours sincerely,

W. H. J. HOOTON, Hon. Librarian.

ANNIVERSARY REMEMBERED

To commemorate the opening of the bells at St. Nicholas Church, Wickham, Hants, in May, 1768, 720 Plain Bob Major was rung recently by J. Partridge 1, W. Linter 2, H. W. Merritt 3, E. Whiteman 4, G. E. Chappell (conductor) 5, R. W. Handley 6.

The following extract taken from the 'Salisbury Journal,' dated May 2nd, 1768, is of interest:—

'A new peal of six bells, cast by Mr. Robert Wells, of Albourne, Wilts, for the Parish Church of Wickham, Hants, was opened a few days ago by a set of ringers from Bishops Waltham with a Grandsire, which they performed with great judgment and dexterity. Afterwards another set of ringers from Portsea rang the favourite peal of Plain Bob. The bells are very harmonious and so exactly in tune and gave great pleasure to the inhabitants.'

Four of these bells remain to-day. The present treble was hung in 1887 and the fourth, which had become cracked, was recast early in the present century.

RINGERS' OUTINGS IN BRIEF

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE SOCIETY

Twenty-four members and friends had an enjoyable outing to Shrewsbury on May 19th. Ringing took place en route at St. Luke's, Newcastle-under-Lyme (8), St. Mary's, Market Drayton (8), and St. Luke's, Hodnet (8). At Shrewsbury both St. Mary's (10) and St. Chad's (12) were rung and everyone praised these fine bells.

WYE, SUSSEX

A day's tour, covering 145 miles in Sussex was held by a party of 15 ringers from Wye town and college on April 28th. Towers visited were Cuckfield (lately rehung on ball bearings), Lindfield (the deep-set bells making rather heavy work), Burwash (with its low-roofed ringing chamber), Brightling (bells a joy to ring), Appledore (as good as any bells met on the tour). Methods rung were Grandsire Doubles and Triples and Plain Bob Doubles.

It was a pleasure to have the captain, Mr. C. Head, with the party, after his illness, and to have Fred Huckstepp as the driver of the coach. The outing would have been incomplete without the Vicar, who has the welfare of the bells and ringers so much at heart.

HALESWORTH DISTRICT

On Whit Monday the Halesworth District of the Suffolk Guild held its annual outing, when a party of local ringers with Mr. Alfred Watson, of Badingham, visited five towers in Norfolk. Ringing was arranged to suit all members, methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise.

The towers visited were Ditchingham, St. George Colegate, Norwich, St. Michael's at Coslany, Norwich, St. Mary's, Wroxham, and St. Helen's, Ranworth. Tea was served at the Broads Hotel Restaurant, Wroxham, and was much needed after an energetic afternoon.

At Wroxham the visitors were particularly glad to ring with Mr. George Bailey, the local captain.

CIRENCESTER

Cirencester ringers had their annual outing on Whit Monday, three Somerset towers—Chewton Mendip, Chew Magna and Yatton—being visited. At the first-named tower, Mr. H. W. Knight met the party and piloted them through very beautiful scenery. Tea was served at Clevedon. The best thanks of the company are due to Mr. Knight, who made all the arrangements.

ST. ALBANS DISTRICT

Accompanied by the president of the Hertford County Association, the St. Albans District had an enjoyable outing in Surrey on May 19th. Towers visited were Worplesdon, Holy Trinity Cathedral, Guildford, Shalford, Cranleigh, Ranmore, Dorking and St. John's, Redhill. Lunch was taken at Guildford and tea on Ranmore Common with its commanding view of the countryside.

ANDOVER

Andover ringers and friends from Winchester and Alresford had their annual outing on Whit Monday. Ringing took place at Easebourne, Petworth, Warnham (the ringing here was poor, probably on account of lunch at Horsham), Farnham (remembered by 'Ginger' Hill's lecture on bad striking) and Alton (some good ringing). A sing-song at the local hostelry followed with Jack King at the piano.

ON CYCLE IN LEICESTERSHIRE

Leaving Anstey at 8 a.m. on May 15th, 14 Leicester Diocesan Guild ringers had a 73 mile cycling ringing tour. Ringing took place at Bingham (8), Bottesford (where the eight were the highlight of the day), Eaton (6), Twyford (6). Methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Minor.

SELBY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The fifth annual ringers' outing was held on Whit Monday, the route chosen being North Yorkshire. The party, consisting of ringers and friends, commenced at Barnby-Don, picking up at Stainforth, Thorne, Goole, Howden, East-riding, Hemmingbrough, Fishlake, Snaith, Carlton, assembling at Selby.

An early start was made, three buses being utilised, proceeding from Selby via York to Malton, where the first call was made. The eight bells (Gillett and Johnston) at St. Leonard's Church were rung, the party being welcomed by Mr. H. Long. The second tower visited was St. Peter's, Norton. At Malton, the eight bells (Taylor) had been raised in readiness by Mr. H. Rowsley.

After an enjoyable hour at SS. Peter and Paul's, Pickering, the party crossed the Yorkshire moors, the buses safely negotiating the notable 'Blue Bank' Hill. At Whitby the party dispersed to enjoy the various attractions, the ringers proceeding to St. Mary's, Whitby, where Mr. S. R. Elwick accorded them a welcome. The ten bells, recently recast by Taylor and Co., were enjoyed by all who rang on them.

High tea was provided at the Royal Hotel, West Cliff, Whitby, and the party proceeded to Fylingdales, Robin Hood's Bay, where the eight bells (Gillett and Johnston) at St. Stephen's were rung, a hearty welcome being extended by Mr. Alexander. The party arrived home around midnight. L. M. W.

LINCOLNSHIRE CYCLE TOUR

Approximately 100 miles were covered by six ringers of the Lincoln area in a cycling tour of North Lincolnshire on Whit Monday.

Ringing took place at Messingham (6). Broughton (6), Brigg (6), Bigby (where a ringer of 60 years' standing welcomed the party), Caistor (6), Claxby (6) and Market Rasen (regarded by the visitors as one of the worst going eights in the country).

Methods rung were Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, Single Court, Double Court, St. Clement's, Double Oxford, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, St. Simon's, Stedman, Grandsire, Cambridge and London. J. E. C.

PIDDLEHINTON, DORSET

A round trip of 275 miles, which included a visit to the Hereford Guild at their annual festival at Leominster, was successfully accomplished by the Piddlehinton band on Whit Monday. A start took place at 6 a.m. and home was reached at 2.20 a.m. The journey was made in two cars, the party being joined en route by M. H. J. Gaylard, W. Panter (Pinhoe) and Miss P. Willmington (Sowton).

Ringing took place at Slymbridge, Hardwicke, Newent, Dymock, Leominster, Wellington, Moreton-on-Lugg (where dust, bits of nest and egg shells descended whilst the bells were in motion), Holmer (with its detached tower) and Fownhope. At Castle Cary the Austin broke a back spring necessitating temporary repairs.

Lancashire Ringer's Golden Wedding

Mr. Ralph Taylor, conductor at Mossley, Lancs, where he has been a ringer for 60 years, and Mrs. Taylor celebrated their golden wedding on May 21st. The occasion was marked by their entertaining local ringers and friends. Congratulations were extended to them by Mr. H. Pickles (secretary of the local company), Mr. H. Jackson and Mr. Fred Dunkerley (general secretary of the Lancashire Association). Mr. and Mrs. Taylor both replied.

Previous to the tea, an attempt was made for a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, which failed after 2½ hours' ringing. The following evening a second attempt took place which was successful. Mr. V. Sykes deputised for Mr. F. Dunkerley in the successful attempt, the peal being conducted by Mr. A. Tomlinson.

OLIO

THE English language has the happy knack of borrowing any word from another country and fitting it to the circumstances of the moment. 'Olio,' the Spanish word for a mixed dish or hotchpotch, has through the centuries been introduced into the English tongue to represent a medley or miscellany, and it is a discursive article that the Editor submits to his readers this week.

The first point is from an Essex reader. Looking through his 'Ringing World,' he notices that there is a meeting in a neighbouring county—we leave our readers to guess where—and, accompanied by a friend, he decides to make the journey feeling certain that the welcome that is, we might almost say, 'universal' would be accorded him. 'Imagine our surprise,' he writes, 'when we spent half an hour in the tower and the one in charge absolutely ignored us. This is the first time in 26 years I have been in a tower and have not been asked to ring.'

Naturally, everybody sympathises with our Essex friend on making such a journey. We can quote other cases. A young ringer went 26 miles out of his way on a Sunday evening hoping to have the privilege of ringing at a provincial 12-bell tower. The company were ringing Doubles with cover bells and continued in this fashion for 20 minutes. At 6.20 when the time came to lower the bells he was asked if he was a ringer. On being assured that he was there was an expression of regret, but that it was too late now.

Another incident. A lady travelled some 120 miles to attend a meeting in one of Bristol's famous towers. When the Editor enquired whether she had enjoyed her visit he was told that she was ignored and did not have a ring. This we might add was not a recent occurrence and was not a meeting arranged by the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

Now the last thing the Editor desires in mentioning these three incidents is to start a general inquisition and various companies sorrowfully asking, 'Is it I?' The point that arises is how to make the stranger welcome. Some towers and areas take infinite pains to ensure that the visitor receives an opportunity to enjoy the bells and a friendly greeting is accorded the outsider. There are, of course, circumstances that make the reception not as cordial as would be desired. At a large meeting it is at times difficult to make certain that all visitors have been adequately catered for. Much, no doubt, depends on the visitor. We feel certain, however, that when that 'friendly keenness' is manifested in his face his wants, if possible, generally receive preferential treatment.

Regarding Sunday service ringing, one is tempted to ask how far should it be infringed to enable the casual visitor to have a pull. There are towers that pride themselves on their Sunday ringing. To them it is their best and constitutes for the ringers an act of worship. No choir-master would dream of asking a visiting singer to join his choir without knowing his qualifications and without a previous practice with its members. Ringing, like music, is very much a matter of team work. The perfect performance, or should we say the best possible, should always be the objective when made as an offering to Almighty God. It must be remembered that bells on such occasions are not rung just for the pleasure of the ringer. Their audible properties extend far and wide to the whole community. We hope that no towers treat Sunday ringing as another practice meeting, as an opportunity to try out new methods. These should only be introduced when the conductor is convinced that all the company have fully mastered the method. It is far better to ring Stedman perfectly for a service than to essay an excursion into a Surprise method with some of the company a little shaky.

Public performance is a difficult thing. A reader writes expressing his unhappiness at a handbell performance at one of those gatherings attended by hundreds of people. He felt that those who organised the ringing could have found in the locality better exponents. Probably this was a case of 'the sheep and the goats.' Ringing generally, like most organisations, is apt to get into too water-tight compartments. A good 'goat' will not mix with a good 'sheep.' Some might say, 'Why should they? I like my pals; why should I have to accept others because they are better performers than some of my friends?' The 'olio' is now embarking upon dangerous ground. However much we write on the subject no satisfactory solution will be found. There is something, however, in the principle of 'putting our best face to the world.' Big occasions, however, do create stage fright, and without attempting to solve the conundrum we implore all to exercise that greatest of all gifts—charity.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:—

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD (convener).

FRANK I. HAIRS.

JOSEPH T. DYKE.

HAROLD J. POOLE.

Pending the new committee meeting all communications except notices, reports and letters for publication in 'The Ringing World,' should be addressed to the retiring secretary of the committee, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

On his 75th birthday, Mr.
J. Doel rang his first quarter of Triples at Wincanton,
Somerset, on June 7th. It was 1,260 Grandsire
Triples, the band being J. Doel 1, G. T. Dyke
2, F. Symonds 3, Dorothy Lintern 4, S. J.
Pound 5, G. Chilcott 6, J. Lintern (conductor) 7,
R. Higgins 8.

The Editor, on behalf of the Editorial Committee, acknowledges with grateful thanks a donation of one guinea to help forward the finances of 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. H. L. Martin, district secretary of Ely
Diocesan Association, writes that Bottisham, Cambs. has five bells and not six as stated in the list of errors in the 'Guide to Church Bells of Britain,' published on page 205.

In an admirable review of 'Bells of All Nations,' Mr. Ernest Morris's latest book.
M.P. writes in 'John o' London' that 'it is a mine of information and delight, richly illustrated and with a good index.'

On the bicentenary of the first peal at St.
Mary's, Watford (Bob Triples, by the Eastern Youths on May 25th, 1751), a peal was rung in the tower by the Hertford County Association.
Participating in the anniversary peal was Mr.
F. W. Brinklow, of Oxhey, who is one of the few living people to have rung a peal on the original bells at Watford, which were recast in 1920: these being the bells on which the 1751 peal was rung.

June 6th was a great day for the band of young ringers at Shipbourne, near Sevenoaks, Kent, who are largely a self-taught band with no experienced ringer to help, except assistance from Sevenoaks. The following quarter was registered:—1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: Miss J.
French 1, Miss J. Vidler 2, Miss S. Jenner 3, Miss D. Colgate 4, R. Pankhurst (first as conductor) 5, R. Fairweather 6. First quarter 1, 2, 3 and 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The five bells of Malmesbury Abbey have been augmented to eight with the addition of three new trebles, and the original five retuned, the work having been carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The dedication ceremony will be held at an early date before the bells are hung in the steeple. The opening day is fixed for July 14th.

Mr. Ernest Morris, by ringing the peal at Grendon, Warwickshire, has now rung a tower-bell peal at 240 different churches.

By the peal at East Farndon, Northants. Mr.
E. G. Bennett has fulfilled his desire to ring a peal at the village of his schooldays and at the church where he served as a choirboy.

A point of special interest in the peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus, Granta Variation, rung at Newcastle-upon-Tyne on May 26th, is that the first peal of Granta Variation ever rung on twelve was conducted by W. H.
Barber on these bells on July 22nd, 1930. Mr.
John Anderson rang in both peals. Another member of the 1930 band was the late Mr. T.
H. Reeves, of Birmingham, who was a frequent visitor to Newcastle, and an honorary member of the Newcastle Cathedral band.

'We are all feeling very smug at having managed the first "all local" quarter,' writes Miss Joan Hills, of Grays, Essex. The event took place at Stanford-le-Hope, Essex, on June 3rd, and was a golden wedding compliment to Mr. and Mrs. T. Willis, Mr. Willis being former tower-keeper and verger. It was intended to get an outside ringer to call a quarter of Minor; he did not arrive and the Sunday service band decided to go for the quarter 'off our own bat.' Constance Chinnery, who had never called a quarter before, was the conductor and, in spite of the late start, all went 'swimmingly.'
The band was H. Kenyon (first quarter) 1, Joan Hills 2, A. Reeve 3, A. Howell 4, Constance Chinnery (conductor) 5, A. Hammond 6.

NEW BISHOP'S MESSAGE TO RINGERS — MEMBERSHIP AND PEAL INCREASE — MR. G. L. JOYCE
A LIFE VICE-PRESIDENT — CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. ERNEST MORRIS

THE annual meeting of the Essex Association, held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday, was attended by 150 ringers and friends.

The service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Precentor, the Rev. J. Morgan James, with Dr. W. Stanley Vann at the organ. The lesson was read by the Master, Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips, J.P., and the address given by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Chelmsford.

During the service the names of members who had passed on during 1950 were read. Ringing members—E. Bacon (Loughton), E. A. Bowhill (Earls Colne), I. Cavill (Stansted), H. Collins (Braintree), W. Honeywood (Mistley), G. Jay (unattached, of Chadwell Heath), T. Jordan (Stansted), G. Lindridge (Braintree), A. Rolph (Hornchurch), W. Spokes (Danbury), C. Steward (Rayleigh), W. D. Taylor (Prittlewell). Honorary members—F. Jacob (Felstead), the Rev. J. P. Sutherland (Nazeing). Non-resident ringing members—D. H. Elliott (Groton, Suffolk), C. F. Johnston (Croydon), W. Pickworth (Kingston), G. Radley (Broxbourne), J. H. Shepherd (Swindon), G. W. Steere (Sutton).

THE BISHOP'S MESSAGE

The recently-installed Bishop based his inspiring address on Zechariah xiv., v. 20:— In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, "Holy unto the Lord"; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar. Yea, every pot shall be Holy unto the Lord.'

The Prophet here is looking forward to the day when even upon the commonplace horses' bells—the bells were the normal ornament adorning the horses of those days—even upon the normal bowls before the altar there would be engraved some very special words 'Holy unto the Lord.' I say very special words because they were words that had a very great significance for the people of those days. They were the words engraved on a gold plate on the front of the High Priest's mitre.

I think it is true to say that the individual Christians are coming in a new way to see that the whole of life is God's gift and belongs to God, and must be offered to God, and, in fact, to be a Christian is to see the whole of life as God's, to live the whole of life for God, without drawing any line of distinction between the so-called secular and the so-called sacred, between our daily life and our Sunday worship. It seems to look back to the Victorian days when a well-known political leader was heard muttering to himself as he left a church on a Sunday having heard a sermon on religion and life: 'Things have come to a pretty pass when religion is allowed to interfere with one's private life.' None of us here this morning would endorse these words. Unless our religion transforms our private lives our religion might just as well be thrown on the dust heap.

If then the Christian ideal is that all our workaday life should be offered to God in worship, how much more so ought we to regard the ringing of the bells as something that we offer to God as an act of worship. When you ring the Church bells, not only are you offering to God, who is the source of all beauty, something very beautiful and very lovely, not only are you inviting men and women to come together as a family and worship in Church, you are doing something which in itself is, or should be, an act of worship, just as every act in your daily life is, or should be, an act of worship. Having worshipped God in the ringing of the bells, that act of worship is only complete as you join in the family of God, the family of God that you have invited to come together, and you offer your ringing, as all your daily work, to God himself, and you join the family of God in singing the praises of God and offering to God in true worship the ringing of the bells, and all your daily life and work.

May each one of us help to hasten the day when the Prophet's vision will be realised. In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses 'Holy unto the Lord.' The whole of life, however commonplace, set apart for the glory of God and offered in worship to God. In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses 'Holy unto the Lord', and if upon the bells of the horses, how much more so upon the beautiful bells of our parish churches, the bells of the house of God. In that day shall there be upon the bells of the churches 'Holy unto the Lord.'

A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £3 19s.

The Master presided at the business meeting held in the Chapter House supported by the Bishop, the Deputy Master, the Rev. Scott Little, M.A., and the officers of the Association. After the adoption of Standing Orders, the Master extended a hearty welcome to all visitors and friends, with a special welcome to the Bishop of Chelmsford. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. E. J. Butler (life vice-president), owing to his wife's illness, and from Messrs. H. J. Mansfield and F. V. Gant, members attending the Central Council meeting at Chester.

The minutes of the previous annual general meeting were taken as read. Mr. Barnard (Rayleigh) raised the question of the Association badges. The secretary reported on the steps that had been taken and he had hoped that the contractors, Messrs. Denton and Down, Ltd., would have delivered the badges in time for the annual general meeting.

AN EXCELLENT REPORT

The 72nd annual report of the Association again showed that it had been very active throughout the year. Ringing membership had reached 832, an increase of 36, and hon membership 120, an increase of 50 per cent.

The General Committee had given much time and thought to Association business, backed up wholeheartedly by the local bands, and particularly the District officers. A bookcase had been provided to house the Association's library and in time this should be one of the 'highlights' of the Association.

Dr. Henry Wilson, Bishop of the Diocese, retired last autumn and the Association sent congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy retirement, one so well deserved. Congratulations and greetings were also sent to the new Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Sherard Falkner Allison, M.A.

Restorations had taken place at Foxearth, Bobbingworth, Sandon, Thaxted and Leyton and an augmentation at Fyfield, grants having been made in most of the cases from the Bell Restoration Fund.

Excellent work had been done to build up bands for regular Sunday ringing, with a few 'black spots' still left. Very promising recruits had been enrolled at Stebbing, Witham, Danbury, Sandon, Wanstead and Woodford. Hornchurch merited congratulations for having rung their eight on every Sunday throughout the year: one blank Sunday in the last two years was a record to be proud of. Mr. J. H. Crampton had arranged monthly practices on the ten at Walthamstow and the twelve at Chelmsford and in time these practices should bear good fruit.

PEALS INCREASE

A total of 75 peals was rung as against 68 in 1949. About 180 took part, 55 rang their first in the method, 9 their first in the method as conductor, 16 rang their first peal and 3 conducted their first peal. Twenty-eight shared the conducting, Messrs. F. B. Lufkin, H. Turner and R. Suckling reaching double figures. Miss S. Barringer (Stebbing) and Miss B. Candler (Black Notley) scored their first peals at the age of 14. Miss W. M. Elliott added fame to a ringing family by being the first lady to ring a peal at Kelvedon, whilst Mr. H. J. Millatt's calling his first peal, viz., London Surprise Major, at Colchester, was indeed a great achievement. Mr. H. Turner (Shenfield) added to his laurels by successfully conducting a peal of Double Norwich at Hornchurch, his own composition.

The outstanding peals of the year were the 12,740 of Bob Royal and Albanian Surprise Royal at Prittlewell, both conducted by Mr. F. H. Lufkin; Stedman Cinques at Saffron Walden, conducted by Mr. H. N. Pitstow; London Surprise Major at Colchester, conducted by Mr. H. J. Millatt; and Bristol Surprise Major at Leytonstone, conducted by Mr. J. H. Crampton. Quarter peals, though not recorded in the report, showed a pleasing increase.

In moving the adoption of the report, Mr. J. Chalk (Wanstead) congratulated Mr. F. V. Gant (Hornchurch) on compiling such a comprehensive and illuminating report. He mentioned the good work done by the District secretaries. He thought more could be done to rope in honorary members: at least three per tower should be possible. Roydon, Wanstead and Witham had set the pace, the last-named's list including the name of Dorothy Sayers.

Mr. G. L. Joyce (Hornchurch), in seconding, called attention to the steadily expanding library and desired that more use should be made of it. Messrs. A. H. Everett (Boreham), H. Turner (Shenfield), L. W. Wiffen (Braintree) and the general secretary contributed to a discussion on the correct numbering of the reports.

Mr. G. L. Joyce then proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. F. V. Gant for all his work in connection with the report. The Master seconded and endorsed what had been said, the proposition being carried with much applause.

INCREASED INCOME

The treasurer presented the accounts as printed in the report. Mr. H. Turner, auditor, dealt with the figures in the General and Bell Restoration Accounts. The gross income from the districts totalled £105 13s. against £101 11s. 6d. in 1949; £97 11s. 7d. was paid into the General Account. Peal fees added a further £12 8s. The balance at the end of the year stood at £198 13s. 8d., an increase of £8 9s. 11d. £33 3s. 9d. had been contributed to the Bell Restoration Fund against £38 3s. 8d. Grants amounting to £45 had been made, leaving a balance of £217 18s. 9d.

Mr. H. Turner proposed that the accounts be adopted. Mr. J. H. Crampton, co-auditor, seconded. Carried unanimously.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Mr. J. H. Crampton proposed that Mr. G. L. Joyce be made a life vice-president, an honour he thoroughly deserved. Miss H. G. Snowden (Bocking) seconded. Carried with applause. Mr. Joyce thanked the members for the honour bestowed upon him and declared that a life vice-president had still a job of work to do, viz., to help the Association in all it undertook. He mentioned that the election of the honorary officers appeared to be cut and dried but this was not the case as it was open to the members to propose anyone for these offices, but in order to save time at the annual general meeting the nominations were made at the District annual meetings.

The following were declared elected:—Master, Dr P. T. Spencer-Phillips, J.P.; Deputy Master, the Rev. C. Scott Little; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. C. Heazel; auditors, Messrs H. Turner and J. H. Crampion; trustees, Messrs. G. Green, E. J. Runter and H. W. Shadrack; life members, Messrs. W. Butler (Witham), E. W. Palmer (Shenfield) and E. Wright (Clacton); hon. members, the Rev. Burton (Vicar of Romford), the Rev. G. M. M. Lessor (Rector of Shenfield), Messrs. M. S. and H. J. Crellin (Wanstead).

The Master thanked the members for their continued support and agreed to take office for another year. The hon. secretary and treasurer thanked all for again electing him to the office and then in turn thanked the Master for his advice and support, the Deputy Master for preparing the agendas and précis of the meetings, Mr. F. V. Gant for preparing the annual report and all those who had assisted during the past year.

Mr. H. W. Shadrack (Springfield) thanked the secretary and Mrs. Heazel for all they had done on behalf of the Essex Association.

A discussion followed on the printing of quarter peals in the annual report. It was decided that those rung should be included in the report in an abbreviated form, as a single line.

Mr. J. H. Crampion requested that the methods in which peals have been rung for the Essex Association be published in the report. Mr. R. Suckling, peals secretary, said that he had the work in hand.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. E. MORRIS

The secretary read a letter on the new book, 'Bells of All Nations,' by Mr. Ernest Morris, Dr. Spencer-Phillips proposed that the book be secured for the library. Mr. J. Chalk then offered an autographed copy of the book to the Association for inclusion in the library. His offer was accepted with thanks. He then spoke of the great work that Mr. Ernest Morris had done for ringing and bells in general, commenting on his previous books and press articles. He proposed: 'That the Essex Association congratulates Mr. Ernest Morris, of St. Margaret's, Leicester, on his recent production, "Bells of All Nations," and extends its thanks for all that he has done on behalf of the ringing fraternity.' The Master seconded the proposition which was carried with acclamation.

The Master, before closing the meeting, proposed that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded to the Lord Bishop of Chelmsford for his fine address; to the Rev. J. Morgan James, the Precentor, for the use of the Cathedral bells and the Chapter House and for conducting the service; to the organist, Dr. W. Stanley Vann; and to all who had helped to make the meeting a success. The Rev. Scott Little seconded the proposition was carried with much applause. The members adjourned to the Cathedral Hall, where lunch was served by the catering branch of the Chelmsford Rural District Council, the Bishop and the Precentor being the chief guests. A buffet tea was in operation from 4.30 p.m. to 6 p.m., an arrangement that was appreciated as the day wore on.

During the day the following towers were open for ringing:—Chelmsford Cathedral, Broomfield, Boreham, Danbury, Galleywood, Great Baddow, Little Baddow, Sandon, Springfield, Little Waltham, Widford and Writtle.

AN IRISH PEAL BOARD

On May 19th, the 60th anniversary of the installation of the bells at SS. Philip and James' Church, Holywood, Northern Ireland, a peal board recording five first and special peals was unveiled by Mr. W. Pratt, president of the Association. The peals recorded range from 1932 to January, 1951.

The dedication service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. S. Barber). The representative company was afterwards entertained to tea by members of the local band.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

AS has been customary for many years the annual festival and meeting of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was held on Whit Monday and this year it was at Leominster. The magnificent Priory Church has a pleasant old ring of ten and these bells were kept going from about 11 o'clock until the service at 3.30, and again after the meeting. Ringers arrived from all over the Diocese, which extends over half of Shropshire and the whole of Herefordshire. During the day parties visited the three six-bell towers in the neighbourhood—Eye, Kimbolton and Kingsland—and even the five bells of Stoke Prior.

Well over a hundred members and friends attended the Guild service in the Priory Church, which was conducted by the Rev. E. G. Benson, hon. secretary of the Guild. Mr. Benson also preached, taking his text from the verse of the Psalm: 'Their sound is gone out into all lands,' and spoke as a ringer to ringers.

After the service 115 ringers and friends sat down to tea at the Central Restaurant, filling it to overflowing. Following this the members of the Guild crowded into the largest room for their annual meeting at which Mr. A. T. Poulton, the retiring Master, at first presided. A message of welcome was sent by the Vicar of Leominster, who regretted that he was unable to be present owing to the Church Fete which was being held in the parish at the same time.

The first business was the election of the new Master, Mr. Leslie Evans of Eardisland, who at once took the chair. Mr. Evans also holds the office of peal recorder, which office the meeting was pleased to learn he was prepared to continue. The other officers were re-elected.

The hon. secretary and treasurer presented the accounts showing a balance in the General Fund of £87 15s. 2d., together with £16 5s. 6d. in the War Memorial Fund and £36 19s. 11d. in the Bell Restoration Fund.

The War Memorial tablet to be placed in All Saints' tower, Hereford, below the 1914-18 tablet was reported to be in hand and it would be ready for dedication about the end of July.

The report shows that there are 77 towers in union with the Guild and nearly 600 ringnig members. All Districts show satisfactory progress and 32 peals were rung during the year.

Amongst items discussed at the meeting was the question of a new supply of badges; and for the annual festival and meeting it was decided to go, if possible, to Coalbrookdale, in Shropshire, another ten-bell tower, but right on the border of the Diocese.

Altogether it was a very pleasant meeting and the members present and their ringing friends from away had an enjoyable day at the Priory and neighbouring towers.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Joint Meeting With Chester Guild

The annual joint meeting of the Chester Guild and the Shropshire Association was held at Market Drayton on May 26th, some 36 members from 13 towers being present, including Mr. F. W. Perrens and party from Coventry.

The service was conducted by the Curate, according to the rites of the Chester Guild. Tea was served in the Parish Hall and the usual lavish spread was in evidence.

During the meeting the secretary (Mr. E. J. Rowe) asked for a committee to be formed to discuss the southern half of the county. This was convened and the meeting will be held at St. Chad's, Salop.

The usual 'enthusiasts' special' left for Norton-in-Hales, where there was a welcome surprise—these supposedly bad-going bells were in good order. This surely is one of the smallest eight-bell ringing rooms in the country. On return to Market Drayton, methods up to London Surprise were rung but somehow Double Norwich 'wouldn't work.' Thanks are due to Mr. Langford, of the Chester Guild, and Mr. Fred Price, of the Market Drayton band, for the arrangements.

E. J. R.

DEDICATION

ST. MARY'S, GUILDFORD

GUILDFORD has another six-bell tower with the rededication on Trinity Sunday of the restored bells of St. Mary's, which have been silent for 50 years. The cracked fifth bell has been recast, the bells mounted on ball-bearings and the ancient wooden frame strengthened, the work being carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. It was also necessary to place a concrete girdle around the Saxon tower. The bells are a mellow old six in keeping with the church.

When the bells were last rung, 50 years ago, Messrs. A. H. Pulling and H. Hutton were members of the band. After the rededication by the Bishop of Guildford, they rang treble and second to the customary minute rounds that followed. Other ringers were Messrs. W. J. Robinson, F. J. Munday, G. L. Clode and T. Mark White.

Special reference was made to the service to Guildford ringing by these two veterans by Canon R. G. Clitherow, priest-in-charge, who conducted the service which was attended by the Mayor and members of the Corporation.

Taking as his text Our Lord's words to Peter, 'Lovest thou Me more than thee?' the Bishop said he would give a different interpretation to the words and address them first to bellringers and secondly to church workers. He would ask that question of those who rang Church bells. 'I am not saying anything to those responsible for the task in this place but we know from other experience that it is not always the case that the bellringer comes down from the tower where he has rung to join with his fellow Christians in the worship of Almighty God. He is too often seen, having finished his labours, walking in the other direction. Did they love the Lord Jesus Christ more than their work? Did these secondary things take the first place in their lives? He would ask those who in that place were entrusted with this useful work to say the six words 'Lovest thou Me more than thee?'

The opening touch after the service of 360 Plain Bob Minor was rung by the same band that rang for the dedication. Afterwards a number of visiting ringers tried the bells.

The bells of St. Mary's are being rung for morning service by the ringers of Holy Trinity Cathedral as part of their regular Sunday ringing. For the time being, until present recruits are sufficiently proficient there will be no Sunday evening ringing. Visitors are asked to apply at the Cathedral first and if possible a band will be formed.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD

The Spring meeting of the Society was held at Rolleston-on-Dove on May 19th. After three successive meetings in industrial towns it was pleasant to visit a country village, particularly at this time of year with the trees and hedgerows resplendent in their fresh green.

The members of the Society received a very hearty welcome on arrival at the beautiful old church from the Rector, the Rev. F. Abbott, and his address at the subsequent service will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to hear it.

An excellent tea, to which 40 sat down was served at the Spread Eagle Hotel, a typical English country hostelry on the banks of the Dove.

The Rector, who was present at tea, invited members to visit the Rectory garden which commanded a delightful view of the surrounding countryside, and the majority of the ringers and their wives availed themselves of this opportunity. The ringing during the afternoon and evening on the easy-going light ring of eight was greatly enjoyed. Altogether it was a most enjoyable meeting.

The next meeting of the Society will be the annual one at Lichfield on June 23rd.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

PEALS OF DOUBLES AND MINOR

Dear Sir,—I must draw attention to errors in your leading article of this week headed 'The Covering Bells.' The accepted rules adopted by the Council at Chester are as follows:—

PEALS OF DOUBLES

1. Peals of Doubles shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in:—

- True and complete Six-Scores, without interval between any two Six-Scores and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.
- Round blocks consisting of two or more Six-Scores, provided that each of the Six-Scores which comprise the round blocks shall be itself a true and complete round block.
- Twelve-Scores known as Morris' and Pitman's.

2. Peals of Doubles may be rung with or without a covering bell.

PEALS OF MINOR

A peal of Minor shall consist of seven or more blocks of 720 rows. Each block to be true and complete in itself. The peal to begin from and end in rounds. Six bells only shall be used.

Additional touches. It was agreed that there should be no odd lengths added at the end of peals and that peals of Doubles should be in multiples of 120 and peals of Minor in multiples of 720.

Unorthodox peals. The Council also agreed that these should be published. By unorthodox it is meant a peal which does not comply with the Rules and Decisions of the Council. This does not only refer to a multiplicity of cover bells but to methods which do not conform to the Council's requirements, for example, Woodbine Treble Bob, Violet, Duke of York, etc. Since the Council meeting I have been wondering whether Plain Bob on odd numbers does not come under this heading!

I should point out that the definition of a peal of Doubles is that which was accepted in 1937 and that the definition of a peal of Minor includes Bankes James' Cambridge.

I am sorry to take up so much space but as one who did much of his early ringing on six bells and who still enjoys six- and five-bell ringing, I feel the position should be made clear to those who, either from force of circumstances or from choice, ring five and six bells.—Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS.

Altrincham.

NOTE.—The Editor regrets that the quotation given was from the previous Decision of the Council. We hope to publish at an early date the Decisions of the Council at Chester, together with points from the discussion. The point he was making in his editorial was how cover bells invalidate peals and quarters. Other letters on this subject are gratefully acknowledged.

NORWICH CELEBRATIONS

Dear Sir,—The official celebrations at Norwich in connection with the Festival of Britain will last from June 17th to July 1st. Any ringers in the neighbourhood during that time will be most welcome to share in our ringing at the following places and times: Mancroft on the Sundays at 10.30 and 5.45, also Monday, June 18th, at 9.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m., and Tuesday, June 19th, at 7.30 p.m.; St. Giles' on Sundays at 10 a.m., also Tuesday, June 26th, at 7.30 p.m.; and St. George's, Colegate, on Sundays at 10.15 and 6.15, also Mondays at 7.30 p.m. For details of the Festival ringing meeting in Norwich on June 30th see the advertisement columns of 'The Ringing World.'—Yours faithfully,

GILBERT THURLOW.

SINGLE IN STEDMAN

Dear Sir,—In reply to J. A. C. King, the single in Stedman Doubles must be made in the third and fourth changes of the six. If made in the fifth and sixth change there will be a repeat in the six-score.—Yours,

E. V. WILLIAMS.

St. Columb, Cornwall.

METHOD SPECIFICATIONS

Dear Sir,—It is, perhaps, not surprising that Mr. J. E. Cook has received little information in these columns in response to his letter on page 283 of 'The Ringing World,' dated May 4th, 1951. A reason, both for this fact and for the cause of his query about the possibility of a sort of 'omnibus formula' for method-production, he may find satisfactorily given in a former series of articles entitled 'A Note on Method Structure,' in a paragraph headed 'N. Method Formulae,' on page 62 of the issue dated February 4th, 1949.

Mr. Peter White's reply to Mr. Cook (latest issue dated May 18th, page 315), will be found, if he will forgive my putting it this way, to imply only a very small part of the truth about this matter; although even what he says may be regarded as nearer the truth than some previous statements, which might be considered as rather extravagant. Mr. White's last sentence about the 'number of rows per lead' is restrictive, in so far as, put that way, it can apply only to methods of the hunt-controlled class. Indeed his phrase 'with few exceptions,' if it is to be considered as of general application, will be found to conflict with the facts.

Universal types of 'formulae' are hardly practicable in Method Structure; but a specification, mathematically deduced from the basic stage of any given method, will yield the theoretic extensions (and contractions, if any) for all its stages.

If Mr. Cook finds his problem unanswered by the article to which I have referred, and cares to write to me, I will endeavour to give an answer.—Yours very truly,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

Fountains Park.

Netley Abbey, Hampshire

Ringers Honour Crewe's Mayor

A peal of 5,067 changes of Stedman Caters was rung at Christ Church, Crewe, on June 2nd, as a compliment to the Mayor, Councillor John A. Madeley, J.P., M.B.E., himself an old Christ Church boy. The Mayor paid a surprise visit to the church and tower and was introduced to the ringers.

In the tower the Mayor saw, amongst others, two very interesting records; one, a tablet to commemorate the late James H. (Jim) Riding's ringing activities of 471 peals, three of record length, and a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Paul's Cathedral. The other, a unique peal board recording two peals, one a muffled peal for the Fallen of the first world war, 1914-18, and a victory peal in which appears the honoured name of the late C. J. Bowen-Cooke as a ringer, Mayor of Crewe, and President of the Chester Diocesan Guild. Another interesting exhibit was a fine specimen of 'a ringer's jug,' which holds 11 quarts, and which it is the privilege of any ringer achieving his first peal to fill.

The Mayor said that although he was educated at Christ Church Schools, he had never been into the tower; he would like on some future occasion to see the bells at work; he thanked the ringers for the thought that prompted them to include him in the compliment.

The ringers thanked the Mayor for looking in on them before the peal, and thought his good wish for the success of the peal was a lucky omen. They wished him a very happy and profitable term of office.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Whitsun Tour, 1951

Twenty-three members and friends spent the Whitsun week-end at St. Leonards and were joined at some towers by other members and friends living in the locality. The main party stayed in the only guest-house the organiser could find large enough to accommodate everyone. It must be admitted that there were some restrictions involved, but they were not too irksome, and could, on the whole, be fairly easily and enjoyably overcome. Some appropriate texts on the walls and singing round the piano helped to maintain morale.

After supper on Friday evening there was an hour's ringing at Christ Church, St. Leonards. Ringing on Saturday started at Hailsham, and continued at the three available Eastbourne towers—All Saints', Christ Church and St. Mary's. After this, the party disintegrated to some extent, and the interval before ringing on the very pleasant six at Pevensey was variously occupied by tea, bathing, waiting for buses or going to Westham by mistake. An enjoyable hour at Bexhill, after supper, back at the lodgings, completed the day's official programme.

On Sunday morning, those who had not arrived on Friday went to Christ Church, St. Leonards, for service ringing before joining the rest of the party at All Saints', Hastings. In the afternoon, St. Clement's, Hastings, was visited in order to try the steel bells there. The 'go' of the bells was not nearly so bad as we had been led to believe, but half-an-hour within earshot of this discordant collection of ironware was as much as even the most unmusical person could stand. Service ringing in the evening was at Rye—a charming town with a fine church.

Monday brought with it a cold, northerly wind, and the cyclists found the journey to Battle very hard work. Ringing at Battle was followed by another tiring journey to ring at Brightling before going on to Burwash for lunch and ringing on the bells of St. Bartholomew's. The next stop, Salehurst, will always be memorable for the fine ring of bells and the excellent tea at the 'New Eight Bells.' This was easily the best meal of the week-end. The grand eight at Hawkhurst were a fitting finale to the week-end's ringing, and we were interested to find that in the visitors' book there, the signature immediately preceding those of our party was 'Geoffrey Cantuar.'

Transport during the tour was by nearly every means in common use—car, motor-cycle, pedal-cycle, bus, train and Shanks's pony. This resulted in a delightful uncertainty about the exact composition of the party available for ringing at any given moment. As promised in the circular, details of the bus services were available from the organiser and the secretary, and the information supplied by these two officials agreed on several occasions. The Society thanks all those who helped to make the tour such a success, and particularly Peter Blackman for his organisation. D. N. L.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Tonbridge District

A highly successful bye-meeting was held jointly at Seal and Seal Chart, near Sevenoaks, on June 2nd, about 50 ringers and friends being present. The service was held at the church of SS. Peter and Paul, Seal, and was conducted by the Rev. A. E. Miller, in the absence of the Vicar of Seal, the lesson and address being given by the Rural Dean of Sevenoaks, the Rev. A. S. Harryman.

At the business meeting the Rev. A. S. Harryman presided and three new members were elected, viz., Miss W. Thomas, Mr. H. King and Mr. A. Hughes, all of Seal. Tunbridge Wells was chosen for the annual district meeting in October in lieu of Tonbridge, where the bells are to be repaired.

Mr. E. H. Lewis, a vice-president of the Kent Association and president of the Central Council, was also present.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—15

RETURN TO LONDON

In October, 1886, Mr. Russell records: 'Arranged to begin business at Great Russell Street. . . . On arriving at my apartments after unpacking and arranging matters, got to bed at 10 p.m. Although a Sunday, a good deal of noise was occasioned by traffic in streets close by which—after my quiet room at home where I have written my diary for so many months past—will take some time to get used to.' He at once began to visit many churches in the City and says: 'Saw many old friends who seemed pleased to hear of my being up again. The belfry of St. Clement Danes' has been repainted and whitewashed—not before being wanted. Met W. H. Judd and suggested peal by W. H.'s.' (In his diary is a long list of ringers with Christian names William H.)

ROYAL CUMBERLANDS REORGANISED

At this time he notes that: 'The new master, the early meet at St. Martin's, the more business-like style of carrying out the whole meeting, were objects of satisfaction to me as it was time that some change other than the old slipshod way of doing matters as formerly—a drawback to the Society removed in many ways. Also the brotherly good feeling between all the members now existing. Baron, Dains, Newson and Rogers hanging well together and all quite unanimous in their bearing to each other, instead of having anything unpleasant. We may expect to see something done this winter worth hearing.'

A 'TWO-SOCIETY' PEAL

A day or so later they met at St. Giles' (where F. Bennett was steepkeeper) for a peal with J. Smith, of Market Drayton, who was up in search of work. They rang 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major, composed by Dains, conducted by Newson, in 2 hours 56 minutes. 'Very good and quick.' All were members of the Norwich Diocesan Association except Titchener so they made him one and booked the peal for that Association and the Royal Cumberlands as well. 'Newson and Dains had a lot to say about the composition while ringing.' He met Mr. G. H. Phillott on one occasion 'at a sing-song' and heard him sing a local ringing song of Cheltenham. (The present writer had the pleasure of meeting and ringing with this gentleman, at Cheltenham, on several occasions.) Other artistes included Marriott, 'Shelling Green Peas,' and Newson. 'About the Cumberlands' 12,000 Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch.' Stackwood also sang, making them laugh and roar with his quaint sayings and doings.

While at a Waterloo Society dinner, 'Stack' and A. Hayward (a College Youth who is a good cricketer and engaged to play for clubs) arranged to play a single wicket with Newson as umpire, as Arthur had a lot to say about his abilities. This resulted in Hayward being bowled out second ball. Stack's innings also was soon over for the very first ball he sent out of bounds in one hit and not a sign of it could be found by anyone, much to Hayward's discomfort, and whenever they met Stack says the ball hasn't done going yet!

Mr. Fussell went to St. Mary's, Islington, for the first time and describes it as 'a large ringing room with several peal boards, bad ropes, good draught and circle. 'Went to their meeting house the other side of the churchyard called "The Mitre" where I found one of the best little rooms for a ringers' Society I ever saw—skylight in the centre of the ceiling, no windows and one door, cosy and comfortable. Here I stayed till 12.30, drinking and refreshing with the local gang who had a set of handbells out of tune and tone which were freely used during the evening. Much to the delight of the company, a visitor came in and stood pots of ale which were soon out of sight. There were five steepkeepers present: Loring, of St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate; Moore, of St. Bride's; Barry, of Vedast's, Foster Lane; Spicer, of Islington; Bennett, of St. Giles' Bloomsbury. Moore, Tingey (a big, stout man) Bennett and I walked home together.' . . . 'Horton, now living at Battersea, tells me he keeps a diary, also a list similar to mine. He also told me about the diary the late Jas. Barham used to keep.'

WHEN THINGS GO WRONG!

'At St. Martin's everything seemed right to go and ring a good peal.—Alas! the deceptiveness of all ringers. At 2 o'clock G. Harvey sends his boy to Newson with word that "he could not come to Southgate as he had knocked his leg." but rather than fail us, George Newson called on Chapman (out): H. Tyler (at a funeral); T. Gled (tipsy); Foskitt (must stay indoors, as his wife just confined); C. Deal (at work). He was compelled at last to come to Southgate one short, only to find two more were absent (pleasant!). However, Lewis, a cab proprietor, with cab stories kept us alive in good humour, with some difficulty, as our spirits were quite upset.'

TROUBLE WITH A FLAG POLE

'Jack Lewis, who is a Bath man, told me some of his ringing tales of that town which is a very loyal one and always on the Queen's birthday flag all the church towers. At one of these a long pole was raised and lowered inside the tower, vertically, by means of an old windlass. Jack was helping the sexton to lower it once when the old man's handle came off. Jack, being only a lad, could not hold the full weight of the pole by himself, so he let go and the heavy pole went down through each floor like a thunderbolt and smashed through the communion table of the church. Much ado was made about it and the steepkeeper much alarmed. Jack says the old windlass wheel "whissed round" for nearly half-an-hour after the pole had fallen.'

The next day Mr. Fussell went to St. Sepulchre's, Snow Hill, and says while ringing, Gifford, of Salisbury, came up and a lot of College Youths from St. Paul's—Hayes, Greenleaf, Joyce, French, who took part in a good touch of Caters. After finishing in time for service, 'a numerous meeting of ringing people grouped themselves at the corner opposite—Barry, Dains, Rumsey, Lovett, Taylor and others, besides those already mentioned.' For evening service at St. Clement Danes' they rang Triples and Caters and afterward a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples from Holt's Original on handbells by Fussell 1-2, Winney (conductor) 3-4, Gifford, of Salisbury, 5-6, McLaughlin 7-8; Banks and Goddard, witnesses.

During 1886 Fussell rang 14 peals (including 6,048 Kent Major and 5,104 Grandsire Cinques at St. Bride's, Fleet Street) and lost eight. He also rang 18 different 720's of Minor.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL

The half-yearly meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Bishopstone on June 9th with an attendance slightly below the average. The Association form of service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon Hatherley Jones) and Mr. H. W. Bishop presided over the business meeting in the unavoidable absence of the branch chairman.

The secretary gave a report on the proceedings at the Central Council meeting at Chester, calling special attention to rules governing peal ringing. It was proposed that meetings be held at Wroughton (evening), Castle Eaton and South Marston during the next three months. Ringing ranged from Grandsire Triples to Double Norwich and Oxford Treble Bob

MR. JAMES SWINDLEY

By the passing of Mr. James Swindley on May 28th, the Chester Diocesan Guild lost one of its foundation members and a familiar figure in local ringing circles. As captain of the Cathedral band and also of St. Mary's, Handbridge, he was well known to the many ringers who have visited the city. A native of Eccleston, he learned to ring there on the six at the old church which was demolished in 1899 to make way for the fine modern building which enriches the village to-day. In the early part of the century he moved to Handbridge and associated himself with the ringing at St. Mary's and later at the Cathedral.

To his great disappointment, his doctor advised him to give up ringing about a year ago but he hoped that this was only a temporary measure and looked forward to an early return to the belfry. During this time his ringers frequently visited him, especially after ringing, hearing his comments on the performance and discussing the latest events in the ringing world. These meetings did much to help him during this trying period.

'Jim' was a keen peal ringer. He had taken part in 249 peals in a great variety of methods and among his accomplishments was the record peal of 17,280 Kent Major at Over, Cheshire, in 1923, when he rang the sixth. He had also taken part in a number of ringing tours, a form of recreation which gave him much pleasure and satisfaction. Six-bell ringing had also an attraction for him and he had been a member of the band which, under the leadership of the late Mr. James Morgan, rang extents in all methods in the C.C. Collection.

He was one of Cheshire's foremost craftsmen in wrought ironwork and in this he followed his ancestors, who had carried on the craft through 300 years. Many examples of his work can be seen in churches, halls and mansions in all parts of the country. The account books, which cover almost two centuries, are interesting, not only as a record of work and places, but also for items concerning bells and ringing jotted in odd corners here and there.

For instance, it is noted that at the opening of the new ring at Eccleston in 1810 'Lord Grosvenor gave a sheep, and the wardens plenty of ale.' Another note records the fact that the same bells were rehung in 1895 at a cost of £5 15s.

It is, therefore, not only among the members of the Chester Guild, but in a much wider circle, that the passing of 'Jim,' ringer and craftsman, is lamented, and many assembled in the church to pay their last respects. Half-muffled bells sounded from the tower as he was carried in, and after the interment a quarter peal was rung on the bells which had held his interest for over half a century.

MR. JOHN GILSON

It is with regret we announce the death of Mr. John Gilson (70), a ringer at Erdington Parish Church, Birmingham, and a member of St. Martin's Guild for the past 16 years. He was ringing at Monday night's practice on May 28th, when he was taken ill. He managed to set his bell and was helped down the tower in a state of collapse and taken home by car. A doctor was fetched but Mr. Gilson never properly recovered and passed quietly away at 9 a.m. on May 29th.

The funeral service was at Erdington Parish Church on June 1st, prior to cremation. In the evening some muffled touches were rung to his memory. He was the mainstay of Sunday service ringing and his passing leaves a great gap in the Sunday band, for he could always be depended on and his place will take a long time to fill.

RINGERS' OUTINGS IN BRIEF

SOUTH-EAST SOMERSET

On May 26th a party of ringers from several towers in the S.E. corner of Somerset and a few from just over the Dorset border enjoyed a most successful afternoon outing at four towers west of Taunton.

This party was formed about three years ago with a view to encourage the use of more advanced methods. A practice meeting is arranged every fortnight throughout the year at one of the 14 towers within the ten mile radius and practice is confined to Stedman and Surprise Minor and Major methods. The results have been encouraging both in the ringing standard and the attendance at the practice which is almost always 100 per cent. The regular party consists of members drawn from Templecombe, Yeovil, Stalbridge, Yetminster, Queen Camel and Charlton Horethorne.

The outing started from Preston, near Yeovil, and at the first stop, Rockwell Green, a delightful six were soon going to a fine touch of Cambridge Surprise, followed later with London and Beverley. At Wiveliscombe, another hour's ringing was enjoyed on the eight, which goes well. Another party from Chew Magna followed, who continued the ringing, while a splendid tea at Barrington's Cafe was enjoyed. Here the Vicar of Wiveliscombe (the Rev. V. A. C. Allen) expressed his welcome to all.

A short run followed, to Milverton, where Claude Tarr met the party. After a fine rise of the bells, the company settled down to a long touch of Stedman Triples followed by Double Norwich, Plain Bob and Cambridge Major. The last tower was Norton Fitzwarren, where two of the local ringers awaited the visitors. This heavier six possesses a fine mellow tone and were kept going until 9 p.m. to Stedman, Plain Bob, Cambridge and London.

The long run back to Preston ended a most enjoyable afternoon.

ST. MARGARET'S, LEICESTER

On June 2nd, St. Margaret's (Leicester) ringers, with friends from the Cathedral, St. John's, All Saints' and Loughborough, set off in good time in beautiful weather. Jean found a dog that took such a liking to her that it wanted to come with us and nearly got run over by two buses in the process. No other exciting incident occurred except the 'back of the bus party' causing Betty to lose her shoes.

Arriving at Stratford-on-Avon, the new ten bells were set going to Grandsire, Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal. The bells here are grand, the conditions for ringing ideal and anyone who cannot ring when here could never ring anywhere.

After seeing the bridesmaids and bride arrive for a wedding, we set off for Tewkesbury Abbey, whose great and glorious tower was admired by all. The 12 bells were raised and good use made of them for an hour.

At Cheltenham several of the local company welcomed us and had the bells up ready. The 12 bells here go very well and were kept busy for an hour in several methods. Then off to Painswick for a final hour on this grand 12, which was thoroughly enjoyed. At each 12-bell tower, Cambridge Maximus, Stedman and Grandsire Cinques were rung. 'Ernest' was delighted to meet old Mr. Staite, of Painswick, who had stood by his side in 1919 to a peal of 6,335 Grandsire Cinques.

Tea was partaken of at the Falcon Hotel and Paul Taylor, not content with about six cups of tea, had one in his lap, thanks to Uncle Ernest.

A grand run home through the glorious countryside, with a brief stop at Worcester to view the Cathedral, etc., brought a happy outing to a close. Everything went according to plan and good time kept.

IN NORTH BEDFORDSHIRE

The five-bell festival this year was held on Whit Saturday in glorious weather—totally different from last year's festival held on St. Swithin's Day—and, as a result, the 28 people present had an enjoyable afternoon and evening visiting three interesting Bedfordshire churches.

Ringing began at Oakley where, in spite of the absence of a Sunday service band, the bells are kept in very good order by the verger, Mr. H. Stapleton.

At Stevington, a delightful village with grey-walled cottages and the possessor of a holy well and village cross, the bells were not very easy to handle and it was a great moment for the ladies when they succeeded in ringing a touch of Bob Doubles.

Mrs. Stalley, of the Red Lion, prepared a first-class tea.

Pavenham, the last tower of the day, had only four ropes, two of which were badly worn. Luckily, the organiser had been warned, and some spare ropes had been carried by the cyclists. On fitting the ropes it was found that they were not long enough to reach the ringing chamber, so, after some discussion, it was agreed to ring from an intermediate floor.

After half and hour's work, which included removing birds' nests from the bell frame, oiling the bearings and adjusting the ropes, the bells were declared open. The trap door to the belfry was missing, consequently the noise of the bells was terrific. The only way to spot the conductor of a touch was to look for the ringer with the reddest face. Methods rung here included Stedman and St. Simon's Doubles, and the bells were rung down in peal at half-past seven.

Visitors were present from Cambridge, Coventry, Hampstead, Linslade and Newmarket, and to these Bedfordshire ringers would like to say 'Come again next year.' M. S.

ST. PAUL'S, BURTON

Members of the St. Paul's (Burton-on-Trent) band held their annual outing on Saturday, June 2nd, with a tour of North Notts.

Towers visited during the day were Edwinstowe (6), East Retford (10), Sutton-on-Trent (8), Radcliffe (8) and St. Mary's, Nottingham (10). The best part of an hour was allowed at each tower, and in the course of the day the ringing ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Triples, Caters, Oxford Bob Triples and Plain Bob.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Tribute to Canon A. W. Markby

For many years past chairman of Dorchester Branch, Salisbury Diocesan Guild of Ringers, Canon A. Wilkinson Markby, Rector of St. Peter's, Dorchester, celebrated, on Trinity Sunday, the 50th anniversary of his Ordination. He has been at St. Peter's for 21 years.

The sermons on that day were preached by the Vicar's two sons, the Rev. C. E. C. Markby (Vicar of Highfield) and the Rev. A. C. Markby (Vicar of St. Mary's, Kilburn).

In honour of the event, 1,260 Grandsire Triples were rung for evening service by: J. Laws 1, Mrs. M. M. Godley 2, R. H. Duke 3, Hy. Steed 4, Hy. Pink 5, F. Precey (Ringing Master and conductor) 6, J. W. Smith 7, Miss B. Dyke (first quarter in the method) 8.

St. Peter's Institute was filled the following evening with parishioners when, preceded by a short touch on the bells a cheque for £110 10s. and a water-colour painting of High West Street, Dorchester, showing the tower of St. Peter's, were presented to Canon Markby by Mr. J. T. Godwin (Rector's warden and senior member of the tower) and Mr. S. R. Courtney (people's warden).

VETERANS OF LAST CENTURY

Mr. Tom Fowler, of Wilby, Northants, who is in his 82nd year, rang in a peal of Grandsire and Antelope Doubles at St. Mary's, Wilby, on Saturday, February 12th, 1898, and is, incidentally, the only survivor of the band.

Last December, following a fall, he became seriously ill and, by his doctor, was given not more than 48 hours to live. During that time his wife was taken ill and died, but, remarkably enough, 'Old Tom,' as he is affectionately known—recovered and is again a regular service ringer at St. Mary's.

Mr. F. P. Powell, of Southwold, Grahams-town, South Africa, who joined the College Youths in 1894, ten years later conducted the only peal as yet rung in Africa.

Mr. William Collison, of Tunbridge Wells, rang his first peal at St. John-the-Baptist, Crawley, Sussex, on July 5th, 1885. It was the first peal by a local band and the method was Grandsire Triples. The peal was rung for the first anniversary of the restoration of the church. Mr. Collison, now 87, is unable to get up to the belfry, but his interest in the art is undiminished and he still reads 'The Ringing World.'

ST. LAURENCE'S, READING

Thanks to George Fearn, 'Our Kid' and three or four well-known Birmingham ringers, the St. Laurence's ringers had another happy Whit Monday.

Leaving Reading at 6 a.m., the first call was at Kidderminster at 9.30, where Mr. Salter had everything ready. Here Stedman Cinques was rung. Then to Wolverhampton, where we had our greatest disappointment of the day, the eighth's clapper having broken on the previous evening when being rung for evensong. However, after refreshment, we set off for Walsall, where again we had some good Stedman Cinques.

Thanks to Mr. Eastwood, we had a splendid lunch, and then to Aston, where a good half course of Cambridge Maximus was successfully accomplished, as well as Stedman Cinques. At Birmingham Cathedral we had our only fiasco of the day; Stedman Cinques just wouldn't go on this lively 12.

The famous tower of St. Martin's followed and again we rang a good half course of Cambridge and quite good Cinques. Still quite fresh, we rang at St. Chad's and Bishop Ryder Churches, London and Cambridge Major and Stedman and Grandsire Triples.

We Reading people thank our Birmingham friends for the very happy day, and it again proves to the writer what a wonderful spirit abounds in the great ringing fraternity.

YORKSHIRE INSPIRED

THE compiler of the committee's annual report for the Yorkshire Association has invariably an interesting point to make which the Exercise would do well to ponder over. In calling attention to the ever-increasing variety of Surprise methods now being practised, he states: 'This trend shows a refreshing spirit of progress in the Association, but your committee hope that this does not mean that the simpler methods are being neglected, as these can and do provide a valuable source of training and encouragement to the less experienced members. In this connection it is interesting to compare the number of 13 peals of London Surprise Major as against nine tower-bell peals of Plain Bob Major and five of Kent Treble Bob Major.'

At one time there was a large intermediate school of ringers between Grandsire and Plain Bob Major and the Surprise methods. The trend of events to-day is, when once the young ringer has mastered two of the Plain Standard Methods, to plunge forward direct into the Surprise school. We have met ringers who, while capable of ringing three or four Surprise methods, have not enjoyed the beauties (we have heard it described as dreadful monotony) of Stedman and Double Norwich Court Bob Major. This haste to reach the front rank of ringing is, to our way of thinking, all wrong. Environmental conditions, we know, are frequently responsible. A young ringer comes into a tower where Surprise ringing is very much the mode and naturally he proceeds to master the methods being practised. Of course, it can be justly argued that, having made his mark in Surprise ringing circles, it is a relatively easy matter to go back and pick up the intermediate work.

The previous year the Yorkshire report issued a warning to younger members of the risk of allowing their ambitions to be ruled by impatience. The point then made was the importance of establishing a good standard of striking until it became second nature rather than to launch out in difficult method ringing in the hope that good striking would follow. The commentary continues: 'That rarely happens, and it should be borne in mind that while the listening public cannot distinguish a Surprise method from a Plain one, there are many people who can tell the difference between good and bad striking; they can be influenced, and often are, by what they hear.'

There is another inference that can be drawn from the ratio of 13 peals of London to nine of Plain Bob Major. Are the number of recruits to the ranks of peal ringers adequate to sustain the present wave of enthusiasm? Out of a membership of 1,575, Yorkshire had 19 members who were ringing their first peal. The proportion, to our way of thinking, seems low. It is somewhat singular that in the Southern District, where peal ringing is prominent, there are very few members that have not a peal to their credit. In the Northern District there were only 16 members who rang a peal last year and there are quite a number of towers without a ringer of peal ringing experience. Unquestionably there is a big field here awaiting the pioneer keen on getting ringers through their first peal. It would indeed be a gracious gesture, and, we believe, an encouragement to the art generally, if Associations were to award an annual medal to the conductor who shepherded the most recruits through their first peal. Opportunities to ring peals must be made available for young men and women with ambition, and even the not so young—our last issue recorded a first quarter at the age of 75 by a veteran at Wincanton.

One thing that Yorkshire can feel happy about is that there is no shortage of conductors within the Association. The calling of the 144 peals was shared last year by 50 conductors, and of these 10 were calling their first peal. The Kent County Association last year had also 50 conductors for their 165 peals. Some will perhaps remind us that there are conductors and 'bob callers,' relatively few of the former and many of the latter. We will not be drawn—but the evidence of both Yorkshire and Kent is significant as revealing an expanding interest in the higher flights of ringing. With 50 good conductors at its disposal an Association can make a very worthy contribution to the advancement of our art.

The year witnessed for the Yorkshire Association the two extremes of age in peal ringing. At Thrybergh on September 28th a band with an average age of 15 years 3 months rang a peal, and at the opposite end of the scale the 'veterans' peal at Chesterfield on December 10th was rung by a handbell team of average age 74 years 6 months. Three other peals are specially mentioned—at Haworth, Kildwick and Whitby—as being rung by the local band.

Finally we would like to commend the producers of this fine report, which contains no fewer than 51 compositions new to the Association. Such a report is of value to the whole Exercise.

'THE RINGING WORLD'

The Official Journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

EDITORIAL OFFICE: c/o Woodbridge Press,
Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: 12 months, £1; 6 months, 10s. 6d.; 3 months, 5s. 6d. Send remittance to Mrs. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:—

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD (convener).

FRANK I. HAIRS.

JOSEPH T. DYKE.

HAROLD J. POOLE.

Pending the new committee meeting all communications except notices, reports and letters for publication in 'The Ringing World,' should be addressed to the retiring secretary of the committee, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

Mr. Gordon Walford, of Wellington, Somerset, for his 21st birthday rang his 22nd peal. It was the first time he had ever conducted Kent or Oxford and he thanks all those who came along and made up such a good band.

Dr. C. A. Martin, Bishop of Liverpool, dedicated the Bourdon bell in Liverpool Cathedral on Sunday. 'Great George' is the name of the bell; it has the deepest note of any bell cast in the United Kingdom and weighs 14 tons 15 cwt. 'Great Paul,' at St. Paul's Cathedral, weighs 16 tons 14 cwt. 2 qr. 19 lb. 'Great George' was cast by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.

Mr. C. Ernest Smith has undergone an operation at St. Thomas's Hospital, Godalming. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Owing to illness, at the last moment Grandsire Triples had to be substituted for Caters in the peal at Christ Church, Swindon, on May 19th.

Mr. Douglas H. Rooke expresses regret that in the peal of Minor at Tibshelf on May 12th, the ringer of the treble was incorrectly reported. He was Mr. Philip Eastland.

Will Mr. Ernest Blake, whose letter is believed to have miscarried, please get in touch with Mrs. J. Barrett, c/o 101, Elborough Street, London, S.W.18. Urgent news awaits him.

Mr. A. W. Cusick has 'circled the tower' of St. Mary's, Birkenhead. It was completed by a peal of Spliced Surprise Minor in 21 methods. Watch the Wirral Peninsula for progressive ringing.

The grand old man of Sheffield ringing, Mr. John H. Brothwell, is still going strong. He rang the 5th in his 77th birthday peal—Yorkshire Surprise Major—at Handsworth, Sheffield, on June 2nd.

Mr. Stanley G. Ponting, headmaster of Ticehurst School, Sussex, who learnt to ring during the past winter, scored his first peal at Lamberhurst on May 26th. Previously he had never rung a touch of more than 240 changes.

BELFRY GOSSIP

According to the 'Tiverton Gazette,' St. Peter's Society of Change Ringers, Tiverton, for their annual outing rang peals at Chulmleigh, Winkleigh, Torrington, High Beckington, Tawstock, Braunton and South Molton, arrangements being made by Mr. E. J. Taylor, chairman of the North-East Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers. Leicester ringers must certainly look to their laurels.

Mr. Denis A. Bayles has conducted peals of Kent Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus.

Mr. C. E. Lanxon, peal secretary of the Truro Guild, has recently had an operation for appendicitis. His many friends will wish him a quick recovery to full health so that he can return to active ringing with his former vigour and enthusiasm.

We welcome to our peal columns Roderick W. Pipe, aged 11, a member of the well-known Grundisburgh, Suffolk, family. His first peal was Kent Treble Bob Major, and was rung at Grundisburgh on May 26th.

St. Chad's, Headingley, Leeds, is a tower known throughout the Exercise. We are pleased to obtain evidence of young life in the tower by 1,264 Plain Bob Major being rung by the following band: G. R. Johnson 1, Norma Bickerdyke 2, Patricia E. M. Barton 3, H. Pettingell 4, J. W. Gibson 5, A. I. Johnson 6, E. Johnson 7, R. A. Johnston (first as conductor on 8) 8. First quarter 1, 4, 6 and 7.

A clerical ringer reminds us that at Royal Ascot the New Stakes, on June 14th, was won by Bob Major. Ringers would like to know whether Lord Rosebery was inspired to name the horse through an interest in ringing. Mr. E. A. Barnett asks whether the appropriate committee of the Central Council would consider making representation to Lord Rosebery to change the horse's name to 'Plain Bob Major.'

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION AT DONCASTER

A Ringing Mayor Welcomes the Annual Meeting in His Town

THE annual general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at Doncaster on May 19th and was attended by a good muster representative of all the Districts. The fine ring of eight at St. George's, with its 30 cwt. tenor, was at the disposal of visitors from 2.30 p.m.

A brief service took place at 4.15 p.m., followed by tea, at which the Association were honoured by the company of the Mayor and Mayoress of Doncaster (Ald. and Mrs. H. Wilson) and the Vicar of Doncaster (Canon H. G. G. Herklots, M.A.). The president (the Ven. C. O. Ellison, B.Sc.) expressed the thanks of the Association to the Mayor and Mayoress for so kindly sparing some of their valuable time to welcome them to Doncaster, a gesture that they appreciated very much.

In reply, the Mayor said that the occasion was his last function in his capacity of Mayor, as he vacated office the following Monday. He was pleased indeed that the Association had elected to hold its meeting at Doncaster whilst he was still in office, as he himself learnt to ring at the Lincolnshire tower at Ewerby, and when his vocation brought him to Doncaster, he continued his ringing career at St. George's under the leadership of that grand old veteran, George Halksworth, until other engagements made it impossible for him to devote the time. It was a really grand art, and peculiarly English, and, during his tenure of the Mayoralty, he had visited the tower once again, and with the help of the enthusiastic local company, had managed to ring a touch of Stedman Triples.

Mr. P. J. Johnson moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and organist, which was carried with acclamation and suitably acknowledged by the Vicar of Doncaster.

THE BUSINESS MEETING

The president presided at the business meeting at which apologies for absence were received from Messrs. A. H. Fox, W. Ambler, J. W. Moxon and F. A. Staveley. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed on the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. H. Morley. A vote of thanks to the local company and ladies who had officiated at the tea tables was moved by Mr. A. Sellers, seconded by Mr. H. Lofthouse, and carried with applause. Mr. E. Dalingwater replied.

The president next presented the annual report and balance sheet, which was adopted on the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. W. Barton. Votes of thanks were accorded to the treasurer and hon. auditors.

The committee responsible for the report mentioned the great pleasure it was to present it on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee of the Association. 'We are glad to have reached the honourable age of 75 years in full vigour and full possession of our faculties, and to be able to report yet another year of steady progress.'

1,575 MEMBERS

'Our numerical strength shows an increase of two—small, but in the right direction. Beginning the year with 1,573 members, we have elected 83 new members during the year, whilst 57 have been lapsed and 24 have died, leaving a membership of 1,575.'

'Amongst those who have passed on we would especially mention four. Harry C. Walters, of Pontefract Parish Church, had been for many years a member of the General Committee; George Lewis, of Ecclesfield, was a former vice-president of the Southern District; John Thorpe, steepkeeper at Sheffield Cathedral, had been a member of the Association since 1901; Fred Cryer, of Selby Abbey, who died at the age of 91, was a former vice-president of the Eastern District. We salute these and other old stalwarts and gratefully acknowledge all that they did for the Exercise and in the service of the Association.'

The report recorded the 75th birthday celebrations at a meeting at Birstall, the birthplace of the Association, on November 4th, when the president preached at a special commemoration service.

PEAL REPORT

The year's total of 144 peals was only four less than the new record which was set up last year. Again the number had been considerably augmented by the activities of a touring band which had a very successful ten days in Yorkshire. Peals had been rung in 82 churches and three at handbell centres. There were 19 members who rang their first peal and 271 instances of members ringing their first peal in one particular method. Ten members had called their first peal and the calling of the 144 peals had been shared by 50 conductors.

The analysis of peals shows once more that an ever-increasing variety of Surprise methods was being practised. This trend showed a refreshing spirit of progress, but the committee hoped that this did not mean that the simpler methods were being neglected, as they provided a valuable source of training and encouragement to the less experienced members. In this connection it was interesting to compare the number of 13 peals of London Surprise Major as against nine tower-bell peals of Plain Bob Major and five of Kent Treble Bob Major.

The number of Surprise methods which were new to the Association must easily be a record for any one year. The methods were Rutland, Pontefract, London and Aldenham Royal and Wakefield, Runnymede, Leeds, Reverse Doubles, Bradford, Southgate, Double Dublin Major and Bourne Surprise Minor. Pontefract Royal and Wakefield and Bradford Major were rung to a peal for the first time.

Coming to individual performances, the new peal secretary (Mr. W. Eric Critchley) was the top peal scorer for the year with 45 peals to his credit, and Mr. Gibson Jackson second with 38. Mr. J. E. Cawser once again headed the list of conductors having called 28 peals during the year. Congratulations were due to two brothers (Messrs. H. O. and N. Chaddock) who had passed their first century during the year.

FINANCIAL POSITION

During the year all-round increases in subscriptions had been adopted, the full effect of which would not be felt until next year, but the cost of paper and printing continued to rise and it was by no means certain that the Association had turned the corner towards financial stability. There was a loss on the year's working of £13 18s. 4d.. On the capital account, the year ended with a balance of £235 5s. 5d., and on the yearly account of £53 7s. The Bell Repair Fund had a balance of £69 8s. 2d.

The next business was the election of president, and Mr. L. W. G. Morris moved the re-election of the Ven. C. O. Ellison, who, he said, filled the office with great distinction. Mr. E. Hudson seconded, and this was carried unanimously.

The president said he was moved by the unanimous manner in which the members had re-elected him to office and he would do his utmost to fulfil it in the best interests of the Association.

Mr. W. E. Critchley was unanimously re-elected hon. peal secretary on the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. P. Birkett.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the next meeting, due by Rule on the third Saturday in September. It was felt that as the Snowdon Dinner was to take place at York on September 29th, it would be unwise to hold the meeting the week previous, and eventually it was decided to hold the meeting at York on September 29th, if local arrangements could be made. (Word has since been received that it will be possible.)

A motion to amend Rule III., the substance of which was to give the trustees a seat on the General Committee by Rule was moved by Mr. P. J. Johnson and Mr. S. Steel seconded; the motion was carried.

The following new members were elected: S. A. Jaine, J. A. Grace, J. S. Whithead, F. Livesey, J. Whitehead, H. Clegg and G. Slocombe (all of Marsden), H. Wilson, B. Chambers, T. W. Mann, H. Mason, E. Houldsworth, A. E. Hoodless, J. Scott and Miss Pamela Wood.

The meeting terminated with a hearty vote of thanks to the president and principal officers, and an adjournment was made to the tower for further ringing.

A special article on the bells of St. George's, Doncaster, appears on page 394.

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

Pilgrimage to W. H. Barber's Grave

A large number of London members of the Society travelled by rail and road to Birmingham on June 9th and were met on arrival by Albert Walker and George Fearn. A coach conveyed them to Sutton Coldfield Cemetery, where handbells were rung in the traditional College Youths' style, consisting of the three times three, and course of Stedman Triples, by H. Langdon 1-2, A. Walker 3-4, J. F. Smallwood 5-6, A. B. Peck 7-8.

The Master gave a short address at the graveside and said they had met together to honour the memory of one of the finest ringers who had ever graced the Exercise. The tribute would have been paid by the Birmingham members a year ago, when he was buried, had it been possible. W. H. Barber was a gentle, lovable man and although a giant in ringing matters, was modest and unassuming. He was greatly loved by all who had the privilege of knowing and ringing with him.

He was a pioneer in advanced methods of ringing but was never boastful. Ever ready to assist younger ringers with practical advice, he set them a high example. They did well to honour his memory as they had done that day and would do well to resolve to follow the example he had set them. Might he rest in peace.

Returning to Birmingham, lunch was taken at Ye Olde Royal Hotel and ringing took place at the Cathedral and St. Martin's, followed by a business meeting at St. Martin's Parish Hall. There was a large attendance of Midland College Youths and the Master particularly welcomed Adolphus Roberts, who has 62 years' membership. Mr. Evans of Cheltenham, who took part in the first peal of Cambridge Maximus ever rung, and W. T. Elson, of Putney, now well over 80 years of age. They also had the pleasure of the company of Mr. E. Alex. Young, who, in spite of advancing years, had specially made the journey to take part in honouring the memory of W. H. Barber.

All present stood in silence as a mark of respect to T. H. Reeves, John Neal and H. Kilby, who had passed away recently.

Many new members were elected and Mr. A. A. Hughes proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Albert Walker and the Birmingham members who had made such splendid arrangements for the comfort and pleasure of the party. It was a memorable meeting and will be long remembered by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

BELLS OF ST. GEORGE'S, DONCASTER

In view of the recent visit of the Yorkshire Association to Doncaster for their annual meeting, the following article by Mr. Harold Walker is of special interest.

THIS church, of cathedral-like proportions, is a well-known landmark to all travellers on the East Coast route to the North. It is in the early Decorated style, of cruciform design, surmounted by a massive central tower 180 feet in height. The dedication took place in 1858; Sir Gilbert Scott was the architect and Mr. Edmund Beckett Denison (later Lord Grimthorpe) was a leading member of the building committee.

The old church which stood on this site was founded about 1200 and its Perpendicular tower was completed in 1430. The entire building was destroyed by fire in 1853. The principal dimensions of the old building were incorporated into the new.

In the old churchyard was a memorial of the two sons of one, Robert Smith, leader of the ringers. One of the lads, John, whilst ringing, was carried up by the rope and received fatal injuries.

'These two youths was by misfortune serounded

One died of his wounds and t'other was drowned.'

The bells of Doncaster have a long and chequered history. In the churchwardens' accounts for 1577 the item occurs 'brass for the gudgeon of the bell.' In 1579 the churchwardens reported that 'They have yet to gather the arrears from them that had not paid their assessment to the bells casting.' In the same year they agreed to pay £20 to Mr. Bellingham, bellfounder for new metal put into two new bells. In 1592 the 'Ladye Bell' was recast.

In 1720 the old bells were cast into a ring of five by Daniel Hedderly, of Bawtry, the whole weighing some four tons. One of the bells was inscribed:—

'Daniel Hedderly cast us five. A.D.1720.'

A year later these bells were sent back to Hedderly to be used in the casting of a new ring of eight with a tenor of 29 cwt. 1 qr. 20 lb. Robert Southey, in his book, 'The Doctor,' described Hedderly's bells thus:—

'That same St. George's Church has a peal of eight tunable bells in the key of E flat, the first weighing seven hundred, one quarter, fourteen pounds.

'They were not christened, because they were not Roman Catholic bells, for in Roman Catholic countries church bells are christened with the intention of causing them to be held in greater reverence. The bells of St. George's Church, Doncaster, I say, were not christened because they were Protestant bells: for distinction's sake, however, we will name them as the bells of that unfortunate cat whom Johnny Green threw into the well.'

But it will be better to exhibit their relative weights in figures, so that they can be seen synoptically. Thus, then:—

	cwt.	qr.	lb.
Bim the first .. .. .	7	1	14
Bim the second .. .. .	8	0	18
Bim the third .. .. .	8	2	6
Bim the fourth .. .. .	10	3	15
Bim the fifth .. .. .	13	1	0
Bim the sixth .. .. .	15	2	16
Bom .. .. .	22	1	0
Bell .. .. .	29	1	20

In 1749, James Harrison, of Barton-on-Humber, was employed to tune the tenor and five others and to rehang four. In 1791 the 7th was recast by Thomas Hilton, of Wath. The tenor was cracked by the clock hammer in 1834 and the whole ring, except the 7th, was recast by Thomas Mears.

Mears added new metal and when completed it was claimed the new ring was, with one exception, the heaviest ringing ring of eight in the kingdom. The dedication took place on July 29th, 1835. The dimensions of the bells were:—

Treble.—Note D; weight 7 cwt. 3 qr. 3 lb.; diameter 2 ft. 10 in.

2.—C sharp; 8 cwt. 3 qr. 6 lb.; 3 ft.

3.—B; 9 cwt. 1 qr.; 3 ft. 2 in.

4.—A; 12 cwt. 8 lb.; 3 ft. 6 in.

5.—G; 14 cwt. 2 qr.; 3 ft. 9 in.

6.—F sharp; 16 cwt. 23 lb.; 3 ft. 11 in.

7.—E; 22 cwt. 1 qr. 7 lb.; 4 ft. 4 in.

Tenor.—D; 31 cwt. 24 lb.; 4 ft. 10 in.

The cost of recasting was defrayed by public subscription, the Corporation of Doncaster giving £50 and the Archbishop of York £20. The opening was attended by ringers from Rotherham and Sheffield. These bells were destroyed in the fire of 1853.

After the fire, four tons of bell metal were recovered from the ruins and this was used in the casting of a new ring of eight by Messrs. Warner and Co., in 1858. Mr. Edmund Beckett Denison, Q.C., who received his early education at the school presided over by Dr. Sharpe at the old Vicarage near the church, took a great interest in the rebuilding of the church and took full responsibility of the whole casting and hanging of the bells. The three back bells were inscribed:—

'Designed by Edmund Beckett Denison, cast by J. Warner and Co., London, 1858.'

The dimensions of these bells were:—

Treble.—Note E flat; weight 6 cwt. 2 qr. 5 lb.; diameter 2 ft. 7 in.

2.—D; 7 cwt. 11 lb.; 2 ft. 8½ in.

3.—C; 8 cwt. 10 lb.; 2 ft. 10 in.

4.—B flat; 9 cwt.; 3 ft. 1 in.

5.—A flat; 13 cwt.; 3 ft. 5 in.

6.—G; 15 cwt. 1 qr. 10 lb.; 3 ft. 7½ in.

7.—F; 21 cwt. 24 lb.; 4 ft.

Tenor.—E flat; 30 cwt. 1 qr.; 4 ft. 6 in.

In the new ring, Denison closely imitated, both in weight and tone, Hedderly's bells which, he maintained, were superior to the ring of Mears. This was one of the first rings to be designed entirely by Denison and in the hanging of it he introduced several new features, chief of which became later known as the Doncaster canon. The four back bells were maidens. The bells hung in two rows and swung north and south; those on the north side being, east to west, 6, 5, 4, 3, and on the south side, 7, 8, 1, 2. By modern standards the tone was rather hard.

In 1939 a restoration scheme was undertaken when Messrs. Taylor recast and rehung the bells in ball bearings. The tenor now weighs 30 cwt. 17 lb. with a note of C sharp. All who have heard them agree they are now a very beautiful ring and one of the best in the North of England.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

The Rutland branch held, for the first time, a meeting at Market Overton on June 9th. Visiting ringers came from Empingham, Preston, Wymondham, Ancaster and Great Ponton. Touches of Bob Doubles, Grandsire Doubles and April Day were rung during the afternoon and evening.

A business meeting followed tea, provided by Mrs. T. Newman. The chair was taken by the president, Mr. Reginald Scott. Four new members were elected together with three non-resident life-members. This meeting staged a welcome revival of ringing in Rutland.

DEDICATION

Arreton, Isle of Wight

In the presence of a representative congregation at St. George's Church, Arreton, on June 5th, the Bishop of Portsmouth (the Rt. Rev. W. L. S. Fleming) dedicated a new treble bell, making a ring of six in the tower.

The bell is the gift of Mr. C. B. Yates, of Arreton Manor, who has also defrayed the cost of rehangng the five old bells on new ball bearings, the contract having been successfully carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

The old bells appear to have been cast at various dates, the earliest going back to 1559 and being inscribed 'In God is my trust.' Another, dated 1601, bears the names 'Oglander' and 'Henry Brett, Arreton,' and a third is inscribed 'Clement Tosier cut me,' with the date 1699. Though not hung, the sanctus bell is in the tower and is ascribed to the early 15th century. The inscription runs: 'Nicholas Serle and Alice, his wife, caused me to be made.' The new bell has the inscription 'To the glory of God,' and bears the name of the donor and the date 1951.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. F. Martyn) and the lessons were read by Mr. W. Upton (Master of the Isle of Wight District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild) and Mr. C. Allen (former churchwarden). Following the dedicatory prayers the new bell was rung, followed by the six bells, by Messrs. L. Orchard (capt.), A. Cook, J. Check, C. Gallop, P. Coombes and R. Draper.

Preaching from the text 'Hallowed by Thy Name,' the Bishop referred to the associations conjured up by the impact on the senses of particular sights, sounds and scents, and said that for most the sound of church bells had a very special meaning—the happy association of the wedding peal, the solemn sound of the muffled peal, the tolling of the tenor bell, the call to worship on Sundays, or the special occasions of national rejoicing.

When the bells were silenced during the war it was as if towns and villages had gone into mourning. Church bells were a part of the Christian heritage and their sound reminded the people of God's holiness. It had influence to soften the hard-hearted, gladden the sad, to be company for the sick, arouse the careless, warn the frivolous, and awaken all to the fact of God. With that message in mind, he had greatly valued the invitation to pay his first visit to Arreton Parish Church to dedicate the bell which Mr. Yates had given as a thank-offering to God for a church and village which he loved.

Ringng after the service was under the direction of Mr. Upton, visitors coming from Ventnor, East Cowes, Godshill, Freshwater and Newport. Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, of Hinton Green, were welcome visitors. The ringers were entertained at the White Lion Hotel and they afterwards visited Arreton Manor where they rang handbells.

SOUTHEND AND DISTRICT GUILD

The Guild meeting held at South Benfleet on May 26th and attended by 27 ringers from eight towers, proved to be a very cheerful and friendly affair.

The Master, Mr. Philip Sadler, was in charge of the ringing, and concentrated mainly on the needs of the many novice members who were present, occasionally providing a break by introducing short touches of the more advanced methods.

At evensong, which was attended by the entire company, the Vicar, the Rev. R. Henthorne, caused some amusement with the text chosen for his address, but asked those present not to take it as a reflection on the quality of their striking.

Tea was provided at a local cafe and ringing was then resumed, being eventually concluded with a well-struck 120 of Grandsire by the local company, who are making excellent progress under the leadership of Mr. C. L. Matson.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AUSTRALIA AND CANNED BELLS

Dear Sir,—We have been very interested in the articles and letters concerning 'Canned Ringing.'

Our church has no bells but an enthusiastic handbell society flourishes under Mr. E. L. Bennett, an old College Youth, who emigrated here from the Lake District some 25 years ago.

The Presbyterian Church opposite has an amplifying system connected to their tower and for some time played recordings before service. It must be pointed out that the town was very proud of these 'bells,' the nearest tower bells being 300 miles distant, and probably less than one per cent. of the district people had ever heard actual ringing.

On the invitation of the Minister, four members of our Society tried handbell ringing to see how they would sound over the amplifiers, and as results proved satisfactory, we now ring for service. This came to the ears of the Australian Broadcasting Commission and they took recordings of our handbell ringing—we were flattered.

We now have so many recruits that we have to hold two practice nights per week and, if we are ever able to afford a ring of tower bells (doubtful) we should have a fair team of beginners with some knowledge of the principles of elementary standard methods—Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob at present—on which to draw.—Yours faithfully,

T. S. HENSHALL

Sec., St. Margaret's C. of E.
Ringing Society.

FESTIVAL CHURCH AND RINGING

Dear Sir,—Some time ago 'The Ringing World' published a statement regarding ringing at St. John's, Waterloo Road, during the Festival of Britain; many ringers from the provinces must have noted these ringing times intending to get a pull whilst in town.

As one who made the journey in vain, might I ask that the position be clarified through these columns, to save others the annoyance and disappointment that I experienced.

ERNEST J. ROWE.

Sec., Shropshire Association, Broseley.

NOTE.—A report on the difficulties that have arisen appeared in the account of the proceedings of the Central Council.—Ed.

DOUBLES DECISION

Dear Sir,—In your report of the Central Council meeting at Chester ('Ringing World,' May 25th, 1951), it is stated the Methods Committee, in their investigations of Doubles methods, are agreed 'that methods with one hunt should have a four-lead course.'

While this would do away with such methods as St. Dunstan's, it would also rule out Itchingfield Slow Course, one of the few Doubles methods that complies with the rule that no bell shall lay more than two consecutive blows in one place.

I do feel that this fine method is much to be preferred to any that have 'four blows at the back or at the lead when the treble is leading or lying behind respectively.'—Yours truly,

J. DAVEY.

Northampton.

CLEMENT TOSIER

Dear Sir,—Could any of your readers provide any information on one, Clement Tosier. This man was responsible for the sanctus bell in our parish church (Godshill, I.W.) in 1703; also for the third at Arretton, I.W., in 1699. From a recent report in 'The Ringing World' this same man cast the tenor at Cranbourne, Dorset, in 1713.

I would be pleased to know where his foundry was situated or whether he was a travelling founder.—Yours faithfully, Godshill, I.W.

L. BAILEY.

ACCIDENT OR DESIGN?

Dear Sir,—In the report of the C.C. meeting at Eastbourne last year, one expected to read in the account of the activities of the Literature and Press Committee some reference to the 'Bellringer's Guide' by Mr. R. H. Dove.

The reason for the omission, as passed on to me secondhand, was that the Guide had been published too near the date of the Conference for it to be included, but that it would be mentioned 'next year,' i.e., at Chester. Having regard to the fact that the Guide was published approximately six weeks before the Eastbourne Conference, this did not appear to me to be a very convincing reason. If it was, in fact, given as the reason, it becomes even less convincing when:—

(a) No mention was made of the Guide at Chester, and

(b) Mr. Morris' book, which came out about the same time before the Chester Conference, yet manages to get quite a notable mention; see page 346, 'Ringing World.'

Why this difference of treatment?

Which of these books constitutes the greater contribution to ringing literature must remain a matter of individual opinion, and from the point of view of the treatment of the authors, makes no matter. If only on account of the difference in the price it is probable that the Guide will have a greater number of sales; and it will be studied assiduously by an even larger circle who are yet too mean to expend five shillings and possess their own copy.

The position remains—that here are two men, both of whom go to a prodigious amount of trouble and research (and probably expense) to produce two books, both of which are notable contributions to ringing literature, and yet one author is ignored and the other praised. Why this discrimination?

I have met neither Mr. Dove nor Mr. Morris, though I have had correspondence with both at various times, so this letter is not prompted by any personal feelings except that it would appear, on the evidence available, that a great injustice has been done to Mr. Dove. There must be many ringers like myself who are wondering just why there has been this very obvious discrimination.

A Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee clearly should carry out its work without partiality, favour or affection, but these virtues appear to be missing in this case. However, it is undoubtedly the fact that there is always something to be said on both sides, and we have not yet had an explanation from the Committee in question. I trust that the Committee will take a very early opportunity to explain, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' just why no mention was made by them, at either Eastbourne or Chester, of Mr. Dove's Guide.

If I were in Mr. Dove's shoes I should be feeling very aggrieved about this, whilst Mr. Morris, if he is the man I judge him to be, must be feeling not a little uncomfortable at the flattery he received in such striking contrast to the snub administered to Mr. Dove. Clearly, in the interests of equity, the matter cannot be allowed to rest as it is, so, Messrs. the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee, over to you for an explanation.—Yours faithfully,

T. V. LISTER.

Apperley House,
Apperley, Glos.

NOTE.—We feel certain that it was purely accidental on the part of the convener of the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee that reference to Mr. Dove's excellent book was omitted from the annual report of the Committee.—Ed.

TWYFORD, BERKS.—On June 10th, 1,260 Grand-sire Triples: Marion R. Young (first of Triples) 1. Janet D. Cuddy (first 'inside') 2. Patricia Holloway 3. L. Hall 4. Mrs. H. Smith 5. J. G. Day 6. H. Smith (cond.) 7. W. Hunt 8. A Festival of Britain quarter.

BLOCKING OF LOUVRES

Dear Sir,—Within the last three or four weeks mention has been made of two points on which I should like to make a brief comment.

(a). I was glad, at the Central Council meeting, to hear Mr. Osborn give a word of warning against blocking up louvres. There are undoubtedly cases in which such action has caused deterioration in the sound of the bells as heard from outside. In a very large number of towers, owing to the bells being hung too high in relation to the towers, their sound is too strident in the immediate vicinity of the church, but judging by practical experience, the best way to deal with this defect is to place a lining of felt on wooden frames inside the louvres. Incidentally, this has the further advantage of keeping birds out of the tower. By this means the sound of the bells is not in any way obstructed but simply rendered less harsh in tone.

(b). In publishing 'Peals and Touches rung for the Festival of Britain,' you state that most of the reports received coupled the Festival with the Feast of Ascension. Permit me to express the hope that the prominence given to Ascension Day this year will have the effect of inspiring the ringers of this country to make it their regular practice to honour that much-neglected Festival with a quarter peal or other special effort.—Yours sincerely,

F. LI. EDWARDS.

Junction Hotel,
Dorchester.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION

On May 26th a motor coach was standing outside Mancroft at 7.30 a.m. It was still there at 7.45. However, the quick and the late were eventually united and off we went, the crowd growing snowball-like at Wymondham, Attleborough, etc., until Baldock was reached about 10.30. The eight (tenor 26 cwt. in D) recently doctored for one or two small matters, were rung to Cambridge, etc.; then on to Luton, where the delightful ten (tenor 25 cwt. in D) gave much pleasure. After Stedman, Treble Ten, etc., off to Dunstable, where the grand Priory Church, with its splendid Norman doorway, arches, etc., was most impressive: Cambridge, etc., sounded well on the eight here.

It seemed more suitable to feed ourselves than to feed the lions at Whipsnade nearby, so on to Woburn for lunch, where Mr. Harris had interesting stories to tell of the 55 cwt. 'great bell' which—once hung in Woburn Church. After lunch it was a pleasure to greet several famous characters whose names have doubtless appeared in the peal columns since, as they were going for a peal as soon as we had warmed the bells up for them. We liked Woburn (eight, 24 cwt. 1 qr. 16 lb. in D) very much, for its bells, its park and for the interest of its Victorian Gothic church.

Then to Kempston (eight, 18½ cwt. in D) in a charming situation by a river, followed by a perhaps even more charmingly situated church at Bromham, surrounded by trees and meadows, and with a fine eight (tenor 23 cwt. in D). Our friends at Bedford had provided a grand tea in the Church Hall, after which the eight at St. Peter's, Bedford (tenor 12½ cwt. in F), proved good fun: ringing the 7th to Superlative there is as good exercise for the neck as watching a table tennis match. Then to the fine church of St. Paul, Bedford, whose grand ten (tenor 28½ cwt. in D) brought the ringing part of the day to a triumphant end, with Stedman Caters, etc.

After extended greetings in a certain place in Bedford, we arrived back in Norfolk in good time to ring for our various morning services. Hearty thanks to all clergy for permission to ring, to Nolan Golden, our brilliant organiser, and to all steeplekeepers and others who so kindly welcomed us; we look forward to doing the same for them any time they like to visit us.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION South and West District

In glorious sunshine, the first meeting at All Hallows', Twickenham, took place on June 2nd, when the ten here and the eight at St. Mary's were rung from rounds up to Surprise Major.

The ten were originally cast by the White-chapel foundry in 1726 for St. Dionis', Backchurch, Fenchurch Street. These were transferred to All Hallows', Lombard Street, in 1878, when St. Dionis' was demolished, the fifth having been recast in 1750. Many ringers will remember the bells before All Hallows' was demolished in 1939. Most of the fittings were transferred to the new church of All Hallows on the Great Chertsey Road, Twickenham, including the very fine recoros, Harris organ, some splendid Grinling Gibbons carving and the magnificent unbuttressed tower, hidden in Lombard Street, but now a landmark for miles around.

During the war the bells were stored at White-chapel, awaiting a new home. Largely due to the efforts of the Vicar, the Rev. J. H. A. Charles, himself an enthusiastic ringer, the bells were returned to their tower. They are hung one floor lower to minimise tower sway and to reduce sound in the immediate vicinity of the tower. They were re-opened at a special service, by the Bishop of Kensington, on Sunday, March 11th, when the first rounds and a touch of Stedman Caters were rung here by five College Youths and five Middlesex County ringers. The bells are a fine ten for their weight, tenor 19½ cwt., total weight 95½ cwt.

It was sometimes difficult to persuade enough ringers to remain inside to ring the ten, as many wanted to hear them out in the sunshine. Several of the keen, local band being taught by the Vicar were given their first rounds on ten. After the service, taken by the Vicar, a very good tea was generously provided in St. Mary's Hall by the Vicar, who also took the chair at the short, quarterly business meeting.

The Rev. J. H. A. Charles was elected a ringing member. The next meetings are to be held at Egham, Staines and Old Windsor on June 23rd, Hampton and Sunbury on July 27th, and Hillingdon and Uxbridge on August 24th. After deaf ears had been turned to an appeal for subscriptions, approval was given to the secretary's proposal to buy a new minute book, minutes having been kept on loose-leaf for some years. Following the customary votes of thanks to the Vicars and the tea organisers, the meeting adjourned to St. Mary's.

The tower had been closed for some weeks whilst the church interior was redecorated. By moving one or two planks, ringing was accomplished through a maze of scaffolding. The bells were kept going with hardly a rest in a wide variety of methods, until 8.45 p.m. Peter Bond will long remember this as the first tower where a hole was made for him to ring the tenor! A wooden platform over the porch steps, extending the floor level, was removed for him. G. D.

NORWICH DIOCESAN East Norfolk Branch

Thirty-eight members attended the branch meeting at Ranworth on June 2nd, when the service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. D. Everard) who also gave an interesting account of the history of the church.

Following tea in the Church Room, the Vicar presided at the business meeting, when Mr. M. J. Dack was elected a member, and Miss D. R. Ford and Mr. G. Ford life members of the Association.

Norton Subcourse was selected for the meeting on July 21st. After thanks to the Vicar and those who had arranged tea, ringing was resumed in methods to suit all present.

ST. THOMAS', BRISTOL A Lucky Escape in Superhuman Task

The bells of St. Thomas's, Bristol, have, as far as is known by ancient ringers of the city, never been rung to any length in a major method, and several attempts at a quarter have failed due to stamina on the part of the heavy enders (tenor reputed 28 cwt.).

On June 10th it was conceived that the right band had been picked, and at 8 p.m. away we went to Plain Bob, ably conducted by John Thomas. Very soon the strength of Truman was being tested on the 6th, whilst Fred Hancock kept the tenor going, although warming up after four courses.

At 8.33 p.m. Fred called 'stand,' and another attempt had failed. He made a remark: 'I'll come up and help anyone out to ring a quarter, the tenor is theirs.' The gentleman on the 7th, bubbling with energy, suggested that there was a weakness somewhere, and on being challenged took the tenor for a touch of Plain Bob.

The bells were once again put into rounds but the tenor was on its way to lead, and only by a superhuman effort was it brought back up to 8th's place, and only then for two places to be made before away it sailed and all the strength of a policeman failed to get it back, with the remark from him that 'The more I pull, the more rope I get.'

The bells were lowered, the tenor being the first down. With an amount of joking from the other seven, the tenor man sat down with a wet shirt, somewhat disgusted.

An examination of the bell in question revealed that the headstock bolts had snapped, the clapper bolt being the only means of keeping the bell to the headstock, hanging on like a loose tooth, and, fortunately, no other damage.

So the bells of St. Thomas's still defy the 'Quarter of Major men,' and they will have to wait until repairs have been effected before another attempt is made. 'PHEW.'

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD Ringing Progress in Wirral Branch

Another milestone has been passed in Wirral with the ringing of a peal of Spliced Surprise Minor in 21 methods. Previously a peal of Surprise Royal (although possessing only rings of six and eight bells), a peal of Spliced Surprise Major and peals of Spliced Surprise Minor in 14 and 18 methods had been rung by bands of ringers drawn from this Branch.

The peal in 21 methods was specially arranged for Mr. John Cooke, who has been the pioneer of Spliced Surprise Minor ringing in Wirral, and who conducted the first ever Spliced Surprise Minor peal for the Guild to be rung by a Sunday service band.

Mr. Cooke's name has for many years been associated with progress in Wirral, as all his ringing career has been spent in training ringers in this area, and he is possessed of the gift of being able to impart his knowledge to all who make a genuine effort to progress. Moreover, his considerable knowledge of conducting has been readily available and nothing has pleased him more than to see young ringers progressing in this sphere. Consequently most of the Wirral ringers who have become competent Surprise method ringers, at some time or another have come under his influence.

Recently, some of his post-war spade-work bore fruit when the Sunday service band at Bidston accomplished a peal of Spliced Surprise Minor in 14 methods.

It must, therefore, be gratifying to Mr. Cooke to be able to participate in this 21-methods peal with ringers all of whom he could claim to have taught. The conductor takes this opportunity of expressing to him his thanks for all the assistance he has so willingly given and also, on behalf of the band, wishes him many years of ringing happiness in his impending retirement.

OUTINGS ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Cambridge District

On June 9th a party of 21 members and friends of the Cambridge District of the Ely Diocesan Association had a day's ringing in Suffolk for their summer outing.

Leaving Cambridge at 8 a.m. and picking up en route, we arrived at Stoke-by-Clare in good time and a pleasant hour was spent ringing this delightful six. Then on to Foxearth, where great difficulty was experienced in handling the light eight, made more difficult by the clock-case in the centre of the circle. At Sudbury some very enjoyable ringing was had on the eight at All Saints'. Mr. A. Fitch of the local band met the party and after ringing, an adjournment was made to the Four Swans Hotel, where an excellent lunch was served.

Then on to Lavenham to spend a very enjoyable hour with Mr. Stedman Symonds and that grand ring of bells. Permission having been obtained by phone at lunch time (after an earlier refusal) to ring at Long Melford, we were met by Mr. V. Ambrose, and after ringing, adjourned to The Old House for tea.

The next ring was at Cavendish, a nice six, where local ringers awaited the company.

The last tower was Clare, with Mr. Sam Twitchett. An enjoyable ring followed on these rather difficult eight bells. Cambridge was reached after 11 p.m. H. L. M.

ST. AMBROSE GUILD, BRISTOL Visit to the Shakespeare Country

The St. Ambrose Guild of Ringers, Bristol, held their annual outing on June 9th, being a motor coach trip to the Cotswolds and Shakespeare country. An early start was made at 7.30 a.m., the first stop being at North-leach, an interesting place, nestling in the folds of the Cotswolds, its fine old church containing a lovely ring of eight, which was made good use of for one hour. After light refreshments a move was made into Warwickshire, where at Leamington Spa a ring on the nice eight was enjoyed. Everyone was then ready for lunch, which was disposed of with great relish.

A move was made to Stratford-on-Avon, through Warwick with its ancient castle. At Stratford we were met by two of the local ringers, and thoroughly enjoyed ringing on the beautiful ring of ten. Some of the party tried their skill at rowing on the river, without accident. After tea the journey was continued to Tanworth-in-Arden, with its recently-augmented ring of eight, which is very similar to our own bells and cast by the same foundries.

After an hour here, which was greatly enjoyed, and wishing goodbye to Mr. Jones, we turned our direction homewards, travelling through the lovely Vale of Evesham, Broadway and Winchcombe to Cleve Hill, where the panorama of the surrounding country was much admired. The last call was at Barnwood, Gloucestershire, where we were met by Mr. L. Barry and Mr. C. Larnier and were soon enjoying a very nice supper and a social evening to wind up a delightful day. Home was reached in safety by 11 p.m. with everyone thoroughly tired, but having enjoyed every minute of a splendid outing amidst glorious scenery. F. S.

OLDHAM, LANCs

On May 26th, Oldham Parish Church ringers, together with friends, spent an enjoyable half day among Cheshire towers.

The first stop was at Bowdon, where the ringing preceded a meeting. On then to Warburton, a heavy eight, equally comparable with the lovely surrounding country.

After a pleasant trip to Macclesfield and a superb tea at the Bull's Head Inn, the last tower of the day was at Christ Church, where the pleasant ten were a delight to all. Everyone had now satisfied his ringing thirst except the youngest member, who wanted yet another course on the treble.

OBITUARY

MR. C. L. SADLER

The death has recently taken place of Mr. C. L. Sadler, of Hereford, who was one of the oldest members of the Hereford Diocesan Guild. He was a native of Ross-on-Wye, where he first learned to ring about 60 years ago. He later lived at Newent, Glos., where he joined the local ringers. Later he kept a grocery business at Leintwardine, Salop, and encouraged the band there to make progress with Minor methods.

In the 1930's he went to live at Hereford, keeping a grocery business at Oxford Street and became attached to the tower of All Saints'. He organised a considerable number of peals in neighbouring counties for Ross and Hereford ringers and on these occasions was accustomed to entertain the company to an excellent tea from his car.

Mr. Sadler had rung about 150 peals for the Hereford Guild and there were few towers in the Diocese at which he had not rung.

MR. EVERED J. WALSON

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. E. J. Walsom, at the West Middlesex Hospital, Isleworth, on Tuesday, June 5th, at the age of 78, after a long and painful illness, patiently borne. 'Jimmy,' as he was known to his friends, was one of the old school of ringers, having started at a very early age.

He was the first secretary of the West Middlesex Association previous to its amalgamation into the Middlesex Association, and one of the last survivors of the old band at St. Mary's Church, Ealing, where he commenced his ringing career.

Mr. Walsom was an excellent striker and safe ringer. Sunday service ringing took first place with him, although he enjoyed taking part in a peal with his friends. He was widely known and held in great respect by all with whom he came in contact. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths and also the Middlesex, Kent and Oxford Associations. Another of his interests in life was bowls, he being a member of Middlesex Bowling Association for many years. He was a great philanthropist, having been a member of the local Philanthropic Society for 53 years. He was a past president, trustee and a life member for 20 years, his motto being 'Do unto others as you would they should do unto you.' His was a lovable nature.

The funeral service took place on June 9th at St. Mary's Parish Church, Ealing, conducted by the Vicar of Ealing, followed by cremation.

Unfortunately the bells were not available on the day of the funeral, but on June 11th a half-muffled quarter peal was rung as a token of respect and farewell to an English gentleman.

ST. MARY'S, WALTON-ON-THAMES

A very enjoyable outing was spent on Whit Monday by the ringers and their wives. The first stop was at Romsey Abbey, then to Bourne-mouth, with ringing at St. Peter's and St. John's. Ringing for the very good day concluded at Farnham on the way home.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—16

ON January 1st, 1887, Mr. Fussell records going to St. Bride's, Fleet Street, to ring and says: 'Barry made a good start by coming round quite tipsy and was unable to strike the tenor properly—the bell set itself once, much to Barry's surprise, who pulled it off again, after a rest of several rounds. He also fell off the box and made us all laugh. The ringing was bad as a choirman, an amateur at present, formed one of the band, the same person who made a mess of the "midnight firing," his bell being all over the place, although he tried to do well when the Vicar was present, who noticed his inability to ring properly. All adjourned to the pub close by and received the ringing fees. I got 4s. for St. Bride's and 2s. 8d. for St. Sepulchre's from Moore and Lovett, the respective steeplekeepers.' . . . He then went on to Croydon (St. John's) for a peal which was lost after two hours owing to the 7th man being unable to continue . . . he asked Carpenter to call the bells home after 181 leads. The peal was a one-part composed and conducted by Dr. A. B. Carpenter, the first calls S. B. B. S. the 4th called three times "before" only throughout.'

Next day he went to Romford where he met Perkins and Keeble. They clogged the bells and 'we heard some really good striking by James Nash 7-8, Perkins 6-5-4-3 and Keeble 1-2, who chimed a touch of 300 Grandsire Triples, plain course of Stedman and 3 leads Treble Bob. . . . Now this man (James Nash) chimed the methods well and yet has not rung 120 Grandsire Doubles simply for want of opportunity to try, there being no local band. Saw the Romford Ringers' Book, 1755, and other items of interest. A novelty Perkins showed me was a really good hearthrug made out of old bell sallies. He paid our rail fare, but we gave 2s. for the children, of which there are 7.' Mr. Fussell then says he just missed the train and had to wait, and 'contented ourselves looking round the town—Perkins pointing out various places where they received Christmas boxes, saying at intervals: 'get 2s. 6d. there . . . five bob at this shop . . . 2s. here' and so on.'

NEWSON AND ROMFORD

In additional notes on Romford, he says: 'Newson worked and lived at Romford some years ago. He lost a very good place through being too easy as foreman with the workmen. Very often some shavings with pencil figures on were found which he had evidently been writing on a board and had planed off, after doing a little pricking out or composing on the quiet. He often said if he had the chance he would go back again. It would be a bad job for the Cumberlands if he did.'

Early in this year (1887) Mr. Fussell had bad luck with many peal attempts, perhaps the most disappointing being at St. Giles'. Cripplegate, when a peal of Stedman Cinques was lost after 3½ hours and when only 12 changes more to go and 9—11 shifted during a series of bobs called to bring them round. The band was Newson, Rogers, Hannington, Titchener, Fussell, Dains, Jacob, Swain, Doran, Chapman, F. Pitstow and Smith. He says: 'I felt sorry for Pitstow, his being one of the bells wrong and him coming so far to ring in the peal.' Later he states: 'Dains had a lot of figures and diagrams of a new method. "Duffield" from Percival Heywood.'

He describes a visit to Willesden old church: 'a small, pretty little place, very neat and compact in appearance; belfry small, light bells, tenor 9 cwt. Awkward ladder to climb up to ringing room; a small peal board in tower records two 720's of Minor rung by College Youths in 1793 at opening of the six bells.

After a chat with Kilby, the captain, I went to an old house and had tea where Jack Sheppard had been to and supposed to have slept on several occasions.'

HOLT'S ORIGINAL NON-CONDUCTED 'IN HAND'

March 10th, he records among other items: 'At the Goose and Gridiron, Holt's one-part of G.T. was rung, non-conducted, by Winney, McLaughlin, Mitchell and Buckingham—a creditable job? Later he heard an attempt for Holt's 10-part, which was lost, and he adds: 'I heard a deal about the non-conducted peal and can judge that it was a really good performance and well done, the band, too, a young one. Winney is certainly a remarkable man at handbell ringing and is one that will have a peal rung true or else he will at once stop.'

A VISIT TO SQUIRE PROCTOR

The same month he went to Bennington—walking four miles from Knebworth Station. He says it is 'a very pretty, out-of-the-way village. After waiting for Pitstow and others, W. C. Baker, of Hertford, met us. We attempted a peal of Cambridge Surprise, but in a preliminary touch Newson broke the 2nd stay while I was listening to the bells. Starting for the peal I let the bell over. After getting it right again, we got no farther. Squire Proctor came in and rang some touches. Went to the 'Bell' till 10 p.m., this county hour of closing being much too early for us. Arranged to go for peal in the morning. Newson and I slept together and got up at 6 a.m. Had a good breakfast (4 eggs each!). Started for peal at 7 a.m. but failed, so touches of Superlative and Cambridge were rung till 8.30. Rang for morning service 10 a.m. I made several sketches. Dined comfortably at the 'Bell,' Chapman having brought a piece of mutton for us. Met again at 2 p.m. and attempted peal of Superlative but failed after 51 minutes. The Squire came and rang . . . invited us to his house and we were taken to his library in which was a large ring of handbells (about 50). Several pictures of large bells and a bookcase crammed with papers from which he produced several pictures of J. Miller, Haworth and himself and figured courses of Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise, each carefully mounted on cloth and labelled at the back. He gave us some apples and plenty of ale, and rang 3-4 in a course of Caters. He was highly pleased with a touch of Triples we rang and listened very attentively. We left in time to ring for evening service. . . . I heard that Leonard Proctor came into his estate in a very poor condition and a heavy mortgage to pay off. This accounts for the careful manner in which the house and property is maintained.'

WITHIN THE MAZE

'Easter Monday, got up at 10 a.m. and went to Cornhill to hear Stedman Cinques by College Youths, who had rung about 15 minutes when I arrived, but stopped after 1½ hours through a shift. The ringing was not up to their standard, several of the "front middle" bells striking unevenly with the big ones. Young band. Numerous ringers were about, listening in all the courts and passages which form a kind of "maze" about the Church of St. Michael. Most of them were, unfortunately, in a public house called "The Bell" just as the ringing ceased, the time being about 11 a.m., the general hour of morning refreshment! Most of the band came in and presented a very humble appearance. I never collectively saw such a band come into a house after a failure with more downcast appearance. The bad striking, the short attempt for such a long job, the shifting of two bells was, no doubt, disappointing to the older members who rang. Several members up from the country and arrangements soon made by various conductors to attempt a peal somewhere or other in the suburbs. I learned afterwards a band tried for treble-10 at Fulham; another for Grandsire Triples at Putney, this being the only successful peal of the day.' Stedman Triples was lost at Lambeth. The Cumberlands attempted Grandsire Caters at St. Bride's and lost it after 51 minutes, then they went to St. Clement Danes', hoping to try for one there but met short, and as a finale to the day, went to St. Andrew's, Wells Street, but arrived too late to see the steeple-keeper, so didn't get into the tower. 'Not at all a pleasant day; in the future I hope to go into the country for a day's ringing. In London too much refreshment is drunk to get good ringing. . . . if you don't get a peal when in the country, you have a good day's outing.'

Mr. Fussell seems to have struck a bad patch at this time for after a good many attempts and failures says: 'I have had a very unsuccessful run of failures—it makes me feel inclined not to trouble about ringing at all.' Then they met at St. Giles', Bloomsbury, and rang 3 hours 5 minutes in Cambridge Surprise when a trip shifted the bells and stand was called. 'Our disappointment was bitter, so much so that none of us spoke to each other for some time, our looks were sufficient. I shall never forget Newson's face and manner when he let the 3rd bell down in a very sudden and spiteful manner.'

HOLT'S 10-PART 'IN HAND' NON-CONDUCTED

April 20th, 1887. Mr. Fussell went and witnessed Mitchell, Buckingham, Winney and McLaughlin make a successful attempt for Holt's 10-part non-conducted, which they did in 2 hours 24½ minutes. 'No sound or intimation of correction was given by anyone at any time during the ringing. The room was very close. W. H. George heard a good deal of the last part outside. I was the only one present as a witness. The band was pleased to finish the peal as they had made several attempts.'

REDEDICATION

St. John the Baptist's, Coltishall, Norfolk

This charming village on the Bure, on the edge of Broadland, was the meeting place on June 9th of 50 or so ringers from Norfolk and beyond who had come to re-open the bells after their rehanging by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd. They now form a nice-going ring of six (tenor 10 cwt. 25 lb. in G), and as they have been hung lower in the tower the sound is nicely modulated outside and the general stability increased.

The service, at 3 p.m. was taken by the Rev. W. R. F. Addison, V.C., Rector of Coltishall; the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, president of the Norfolk Diocesan Association, read the lesson and the bells were rededicated to their task by the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow. Prayers followed for God's blessing on the bells, for the craftsmen who made and hung them, for all who should ring them, all who listen, and the faithful departed.

In his sermon, the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow said that the effort of rehanging Coltishall bells was only the local part of a great nation-wide effort which must be made soon if, after years of war and difficulty, the dearly-loved parishes of England were to be prevented from following the abbeys into ruin. We have lost so many lovely things from our land, he said: are we to lose our parish churches as well? Saying that all material things only find their true meaning in life, and in the way people make them live, he asked all to encourage the ringers and to consider ringing themselves.

Tea was kindly provided by the Mothers' Union, and afterwards the ringers adjourned to the tower for ringing from rounds to London; thus ended a most pleasant afternoon.

HE PLAYED A QUARTER

PROBABLY to most ringers' ears this will sound strange. For the 200th anniversary of the establishment of St. Michael's Church, Charleston, South Carolina, United States, on June 14th, a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was played on the electric console that works the bells by Mr. George W. Williams, historiographer of the church. It is claimed by Mr. Williams, who during the war visited this country as a sergeant in 377 Infantry, U.S.A.F., and became interested in the art of change ringing, that this was the first quarter peal to be accomplished in the South of the United States in over 150 years, perhaps the first ever. Is there any merit in the performance, bearing in mind the strong opposition of English change ringers to electronic and other mechanical contrivances to replace the art? We think perhaps there is, as it is an indication of what we regard in this country as the proper bell music.

St. Michael's, Charleston, bells have an important niche in the history of bells in the United States of America. The bells were cast by the Whitechapel Foundry in 1764, and, according to the research of Mr. Williams, very soon after their arrival they were rung regularly for the services of the church, for public festivities, and as the city fire alarm. During the Revolution they were seized as spoils of war and shipped back to England. After having been repaired at the original foundry, they were returned in 1783 and rehung in their old belfry.

In 1838 the two trebles were again recast in England, having been cracked in ringing an alarm for fire. In the Confederate War they were taken down and stored in Columbia. They were damaged in the fire of 1865 and shipped back to Charleston in a ruinous condition. The broken and melted bell metal was returned to England to the original founders and the bells were recast of the identical metal, and after the same pattern as had been used for their founding a century before. In 1881, while sounding a fire alarm, the tenor was cracked (we suspect clocking), shipped to England and again recast by the Whitechapel Foundry. On its return, the city, desiring to preserve the historic ring, built the present fire tower and relieved St. Michael's bells of the duty of sounding fire alarms. Thus in almost 200 years the bells have made five Atlantic crossings and three of them two additional trips.

In 1948, the old console in the belfry, from which the bells had been rung, was replaced by an up-to-date electric console beside the organ in the church. 'St. Michael's old bells still ring out,' comments Mr. Williams, 'but electricity rather than muscle pulls their clappers.' Oddly enough, this new apparatus has made possible a return to change ringing. Since June, 1947, changes have been heard regularly from these bells before service on Christmas, Easter and New Year's Day, as well as on other occasions.

MARLBOROUGH'S BELLS

MAIN news story this week deals with the loss of the Marlborough bells at the former Church of St. Helen, Worcester (now a Y.M.C.A.), and their sale to one of our leading bellfounders as scrap. It has not been for want of effort on the part of the Worcester-shire and Districts Association or of individual members that the bells have not been saved. The Worcester City Council did consider a scheme for saving them and for using them for civic purposes, but rejected the idea owing to the cost involved in recasting the tenor and rehanging the others. There are a number of civic authorities who possess rings of bells, and only this week the Editor received details of the first quarter peal rung on Morpeth, Northumberland, clock tower bells. To meet the cost Morpeth people held a festival week last year. What a small town like Morpeth can accomplish should have been within the compass of Worcester city, particularly having regard to the historical associations of St. Helen's bells.

Some Worcester ringers feel that an opportunity was missed last year when Mr. Winston Churchill received the freedom of the City of Worcester. Had there been an organising body of some influence, Mr. Churchill's attention could have been drawn to these bells commemorative of his illustrious ancestor, and at the same time a public appeal made at the moment of enthusiasm.

The importance of keeping an ever-watchful eye on rings of bells not in use was emphasised by us recently in our editorial of June 8th, when we implored Guilds and Associations to be on the alert and try to avert the loss of such treasures. We wonder if it would be possible to maintain the historic inscriptions on St. Helen's bells when the metal is re-employed in casting a new ring. Perhaps such an idea might appeal to the recipients of the metal in its later form.

Mr. Percy J. Spice writes, regarding the peal of Grandsire Triples at Eltham on May 28th, that it was an excellent peal, well struck throughout. 'I think the Exercise in general will agree that congratulations go out to the conductor, Mr. George H.
Daynes, aged 81, on the very able manner in which he called Holt's Original. I should be interested to hear if this performance has been accomplished in the past by a ringer of this age.
Also, praise is due to the two 'first pealers,' who, like myself, were very pleased to be included in the band on this occasion.'

The dedication of Malmesbury Abbey bells has been fixed for Saturday, July 14th, at 3 p.m.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Thame,
Oxon, on June 2nd, was the first peal of Triples together for over 30 years for Mr. Victor Holloway and Mr. Aubrey Seymour.

The ringer of the third bell in the peal at Ashbocking, Suffolk, on May 22nd, was William J. Button and not as published in 'The Ringing World.' The same ringer was also in the peal at Sutton.

The increased cost of paper has caused our Australian contemporary 'The Ringing Towers' to increase its annual subscription from 2s. to 5s. per annum. Editor W. M. Rowe produces a newsy monthly.

At a confirmation held recently at Windsor Parish Church (St. John's) the Bishop of Reading, during his address to the confirmees, referred to the great and glorious heritage we possessed as a nation and Church and specially mentioned campanology as one special phase of the Church's active life. 'No doubt,' writes
W. W. W., 'the good ringing which took place before the service must have impressed the Bishop. We much appreciate his kindly reference to those who are so often heard but not seen.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

The 200th anniversary of Holt's Original will be celebrated on July 7th.

We understand that a number of attempts will be made on that day and bands are asked to send the 'story' in with their peals.

The bells of Edgbaston Old Church, Birmingham, will be broadcast in the Midland
Home Service at 9.30 a.m. on Sunday, July 1st.

One of Surrey's most famous beauty spots is Frensham. The bells in the Parish Church will be rededicated on July 1st at 3 p.m.

Mr. Harold G. Cashmore and Mr. Frederick
W. Brinklow have rung 200 peals of Surprise together.

For the benefit of ringers visiting the Royal Show at Cambridge (July 2nd—9th), ringing is being arranged as follows:—St. Mary's, July 2nd, 5.30 p.m.; July 3rd, 7-9 p.m.; St. Andrew's, July 4th, 7.30-9 p.m.; R.C. Church, July 5th, 7-8.30 p.m.; St. Benet's, July 7th, 7.30-9 p.m. Anyone interested in a peal attempt should communicate with J. W. R.
Quinney, 164, Hills Road, Cambridge. Tel.
88391.)

The University of Bristol Society have elected the following officers for next session:—President, Professor S. H. Piper; Master, Mr. Jack
R. Worrall; secretary, Mr. Lance C. I. Watson, c/o Victoria Rooms, Clifton, Bristol, 8; treasurer, Miss B. Enid Ll. Edwards; tower secretary, Mr. Frank D. Mack; committee member, Miss Mary I. Kennelly.

The last notes of 'Jesu, priceless treasure,' sung by the Bath Bach Choir had just died away when, from Bath Abbey carillon came 'Jesus Christ is risen to-day.' The urbanity of the conductor, Cuthbert Bates, appeared to be shaken when a second verse of the hymn came resounding over the air just as he was about to begin the next motet—Brahms' 'Thy servant is downcast.'

MARLBOROUGH'S BELLS SOLD AS SCRAP

Farewell Peal at Worcester

The famous Marlborough bells of St. Helen's, Worcester (which church is now a Y.M.C.A. Club), have sung their 'Swan Song,' and are being dismantled and removed for scrap by a firm of bellfounders. These bells, cast in 1706 by Richard Sanders, commemorate the victories of John, Duke of Marlborough, during the reign of Queen Anne, with inscriptions on the waist of each bell as follows:—

Treble.—First is my note, and Blenheim is my name, For Blenheim's story will be first in fame

2nd.—Let me relate how Louis did bemoan his grandson's Phillip's flight from Barcelone. 3rd.—Deluged in blood, I. Ramilies, advance. Britannia's glory in the fall of France.

4th.—Let Menin on my side engraved be and Flanders freed from Gallic slavery.

5th.—When in harmonious peal I roundly go, Think of Turin and triumphs of the Po.

6th.—With joy I hear the illustrious Eugene's name, Fav'rite of Fortune and the boast of fame.

7th.—But I with pride the greater Marlborough bear, Terror of Tyrants and the soul of war.

Tenor.—T' immortal praises of Queen Anne I sound, With union blest and all these glories crowned.

No peal had been rung on them since 1930, and as soon afterwards the tenor became cracked, they have only been rung once, during the visit of Mr. Winston Churchill to Worcester in 1950, when the Freedom of the City was conferred on him

Efforts to have them installed in other towers failed and though Worcester City Council debated a scheme for having the tenor recast and the others overhauled, it was finally rejected owing to the cost. So this melodious and historic ring in its present form is lost for ever.

When it was known that the bells were to be removed, a group of enthusiasts spent the whole of one evening in attaching fresh ropes, tightening nuts, oiling and overhauling the fittings. Two days later a successful peal of Plain Bob Major was rung on them, as recorded in the peal columns, the first peal for 21 years, and, said to relate, the last.

The tenor, which has a slight crack on the sound bow, gives a defective note on that side of the bell as might be expected, which though pronounced inside the tower, is hardly noticed outside, especially when rung to Major.

The older generation of Worcestershire ringers have always admired their Marlborough bells and indeed some turned up to hear the final peal.

Many peals were rung on them prior to 1930 and it is with regret that we in Worcestershire watch them go as 'so much scrap' (albeit very valuable scrap to-day) to lose their identity and purpose for which they were cast and installed.

G. E. L.

CREWE RINGERS TRIBUTE

Five ringers of the Crewe Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild made a special journey to Northampton on June 9th to ring in a peal of 5,067 Stedman Caters as a compliment to Mr. William Dunning, former organist and choirmaster at Christ Church, Crewe, for 63 years, who is at present staying at Northampton. Mr. Dunning was 94 on June 13th, and after the peal, the Crewe contingent—Messrs. R. D. Langford (conductor), G. A. Packer, H. F. Holding and W. Frank Stenson—visited him to convey their birthday greetings. They found Mr. Dunning wonderfully fit and well.

The ringers associated with the peal a compliment to Dr. Howard English, former Crewe doctor, now living in retirement at Trearddar Bay, Anglesey, in recognition of his great services to Crewe.

NEW POSTAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

The Editorial Committee regret that owing to the present finances of 'The Ringing World' they are unable to meet the increased postal charges when subscribers renew their subscriptions.

The new rates, which become operative with subscriptions due on July 6th, are as follows:—

Quarterly Subscription, 6s.

Half-yearly Subscription, 11s. 8d.

To ensure continuity of delivery, subscriptions should be sent without delay to Mrs. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

Contributions from yearly subscribers to meet the extra 1s. 5d. postage on their copies for 1951 would be gratefully acknowledged by Mrs. Fletcher.

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD

Southern Section Outing

'Our George,' all smiles and ready for the day, was waiting with others of the party outside Sketty Church when the coach arrived at 8 a.m. on June 16th, to start the ringing tour to Hereford.

Other members were picked up en route from Morriston, Porthcawl, Skewen, Cowbridge, Neath and Cadoxton—and then on over the mountains to Ebbw Vale.

Mr. T. Stephens met us at the fine tower of Christ Church, with its fine eight, at 10.10 a.m. The bells were already up so that ringing started right away, and methods rung were Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Grandsire—'B.M.' was doing his bit directing and supervising the tea parties.

We were away by 11.10 a.m. and, after a beautiful run, arrived at St. Mary's, Abergavenny, at 11.55 a.m. We were met by Mr. Altwyn, the donor of the two trebles, Mr. J. W. Jones, the grand old man of Newport, and two young ringers from All Saints', Newport. The bells, a lovely ring of ten, were kept ringing to Grandsire Caters until 12.50 p.m., when 'B.M.' hustled all the party down to lunch.

It was a very enjoyable meal and a vote of thanks was given by Mr. D. G. Williams, secretary of the Guild, and a welcome to the visitors was proposed by 'B. M.' Mr. 'J. W.' was very pleased to be with us once again and thanked all for their kindness. (Shall we ever forget those bells of Abergavenny?)

On again to Hereford, and passed en route our two friends from Newport pedalling away in fine style. The coach pulled up at the Cathedral Square, where a few of the party left us. The remainder carried on to Burghill and the Church of St. Mary, where the eight (tenor 10½ cwt.) were kept going to Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob. Then back to the anti-clockwise six at St. Nicholas', in Hereford, to keep those bells going to Kent, Cambridge, Plain Bob and Grandsire.

By this time several of the party were making their own arrangements for tea, but nearly all turned up at the Cathedral at 5.30 p.m., where Mr. Davis met us at the north door.

'Our George' did climb those 180 steps to the belfry. The bells were rung up and kept going to Grandsire Caters and Triples. Truly said by 'J. W.' they are 'men's bells.' After bringing the bells down, we left the city at 7.30 p.m.

The coach then followed the River Wye and the beautiful valley to arrive at Brecon at 8.45 p.m., where we all had a quick cup of tea and chat over the day's ringing.

Our last lap, over the Beacons, seemed to wake up the playfulness in the two youngsters from Sketty.

The committee members who made all the arrangements were the Ringing Master, Mr. Trevor Roderick, 'Old Bill' (the hustler) and my humble self.

'GRAND OLD MAN' OF N.W. LANCASHIRE

There was a pleasing incident during the joint meeting of the Lancashire and Furness Branches of the Lancashire Association at the delightful village of Silverdale, Lancs, on June 2nd.

A presentation was made during the afternoon to Mr. John Holme, of the local band, 'the Grand Old Man' of the North-West, in the form of a wallet containing treasury notes, which had been subscribed to by friends from all parts of the county.

Mr. Holme completes 70 years of ringing this year and attains his 87th birthday. He commenced ringing at Brathay and Ambleside, in the Lake District, previous to coming to reside at Silverdale some 30 years ago.

He has rung approximately 50 peals including two of 10,080 changes of Minor at Brathay in 1908 and 1909. His reminiscences include many quaint and amusing stories of the early struggles of ringers in remote Westmorland dales to master the intricacies of the many Minor methods of which he is still such a capable exponent.

Another characteristic of Mr. Holme is worthy of admiration and imitation—'Be in the belfry at least five minutes before starting time.' May God preserve him to grace our meetings for at least a few more years.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN GUILD

An Appreciation of Rev. A. D. H. Allan

The annual report of the Gloucester and Bristol Association for 1945 listed a new tower, Cromhall, two bells (tenor 20 cwt.), affiliated with nine members. The Rector of the parish was chairman of the Wotton-under-Edge Branch. The next year there were 15 members, and a note 'Practice on other six-bell towers.' In 1947 a member of the band became secretary of the Branch and this year represented the Association at Chester. And WHY? All because of the unbounded energy and enthusiasm of their Rector, the Rev. A. D. H. Allan. He was at Cromhall 22 years and worked hard for the bells. The six were opened on November 13th, 1948, and the first peal rung on them ten months later.

Now he has retired and is going to Weston-super-Mare. Chairman of the Branch for five and a half years, the members presented him with a standard lamp at the last meeting, and on June 16th, after a peal had been rung to wish him a long and happy retirement, a cheque was presented by the people of Cromhall. He leaves the tower, but the bells of the village will still be rung, and their sound will be heard wherever those he helped will be ringing. We hope often to see him and ring with him, and wish him well in his new life.

REDEDICATION

Llangollen

A large congregation gathered for the rededication of the bells of Llangollen Parish Church on Friday evening, June 1st. The ring of eight bells, hung by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, in 1887, to commemorate Queen Victoria's Jubilee, had been thoroughly overhauled by the same firm, and rehung on ball bearings.

After the singing of a hymn, the Bishop of St. Asaph (the Right Rev. D. D. Bartlett, D.D.) gave an inspiring address dealing with the history of the bells and pointing out the important part played by church bells in the life of any community. Choosing as his text, 'And beneath, upon the hem of it, thou shalt make pomegranates of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet round about the hem thereof: and bells of gold between them round about: and it shall be upon Aaron to minister, and his sound shall be heard when he goeth in unto the holy place before the Lord,' he emphasised the use of bells in this respect as an emblem of the priest's office of worshipping and giving praise to the Most High. The ringing of the church bells, therefore, should be a reminder to the people that the priest was about to worship God, and to pray to Him for all people, a call to the members of the Church to join him in that worship and praise, and a consolation to the sick that they would not be forgotten in the prayers of both priest and congregation. Finally, he told the bellringers that the ringing of the bells should remind them of their duties and responsibilities, the ringing of the bells being an integral part of the worship offered to God.

During the singing of the next hymn, a procession of clergy, led by Dennis Jones (twelve-year-old choirboy and bellringer) as cross bearer, proceeded to the west porch, under the bell tower, where the ringers had assembled.

The Bishop then conducted a very impressive service of rededication, and as the clergy returned to the sanctuary a few rounds were rung on the bells. The service concluded with the singing of the Te Deum, followed by the Blessing by the Bishop.

After the service the Bishop met the ringers and chatted freely with them, and the evening ended with the Bishop, clergy and bellringers (past and present) partaking of light refreshments served by members of the Communicants Guild in the Armoury Centre.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Bolton Branch Entertained

On a request from the Vicar of Blackrod, the June meeting of the Bolton Branch was arranged to coincide with a garden party at the Vicarage. The 'go' and tone of the bells and the hospitality extended here made it one of the outstanding meetings of the year. The ringers were supplied (free of charge) with a sumptuous tea. Members attended from Bolton Parish Church, Holy Trinity, St. Bartholomew's, Smithills, Horwich, Walkden, Farnworth and Westhoughton.

A message was received from the Vicar of Westhoughton, the Rev. Dimmock (a ringers' friend), that he was arranging a ringers' service at his church during the afternoon of Sunday, August 19th, when the preacher would be the president of the Lancashire Association, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith. He extended a hearty invitation to all ringers and their friends to attend that service. A notice will appear in due course in 'The Ringing World' giving details, arrangements being in the hands of Mr. William Smalley, 15, Sunny Garth, Westhoughton.

The next meeting will be held at Horwich and not Smithills, as per calendar, on July 28th

MULTI-METHODS ON RINGING MACHINE

The accompanying block shows (original size) a diagram drawn last Easter by the electric change-ringing machine constructed a year ago by B. D. Price. Owing to private circumstances, the machine was not used for a whole year since its demonstration at a Sussex County Association meeting at West Tarring in April, 1950, but worked perfectly last Easter and drew the composite diagram which illustrates the versatility of the diagram-drawing mechanism.

The diagram was drawn in Indian ink by the Wypac stylus pen, but normally diagrams are in ordinary ink and the line is a little thinner. At A, the pen was lowered on to the moving paper. The machine was set to ring Cambridge Minor (the pen taking up the work of the 5th) and at B 'Go Next' was called. At C, just as the 5th was about to do its front work with the treble, 'Rounds' was called and the pen returned at the normal hunt speed to 5th's place. At D, the setting of the machine was altered to eight bells, which automatically moves the pen to 7th's place in eight, thus keeping the diagram central on the paper strip. The machine was stopped while the control panel was reset for Double Norwich, restarted, and 'Go Next' was called at E. At F 'Rounds' was called, then, at G, ten bells brought into operation (the limit of the machine) the pen taking up the 9th bell. Bristol Royal was set on the panel, 'Go Next' called at H, and the rest of the diagram shows the beginning of the course. 'Rounds' was called at J. The pen was not touched during the whole sequence. Bristol Royal pundits will be able to determine which particular version was set.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Mr. W. Ambler's Resignation

The quarterly meeting of the Western Division was held in St. Mary's Church, Tadcaster, on June 16th.

Arrangements were made to hold the next meeting at Heptonstall on September 8th.

Mr. William Ambler, the district secretary, regretfully tendered his resignation owing to present ill-health. This was received with much regret and various members spoke of the very conscientious way in which Mr. Ambler had carried out his duties during two periods of office. It was agreed that new nominations for this post should be sent to the retiring district secretary by August 31st.

About 40 members were present including a visitor from Ashford, Kent. Many methods were rung on the fine ring of bells of this very old and interesting church.

SINGLE IN STEDMAN DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—Mr. E. V. Williams appears to be mistaken in stating that if the single is made in the fifth and sixth changes there will be a repeat in the six-score. As far as I can see there is no repetition. The only effect is that, as compared with the usual singles, two pairs of rows are exchanged between the two sixes in which the singles are made.

The singles can also be made at the first and second changes of the sixes, with similar results.—Yours truly,

G. A. PECK.

Rugby.

CLEMENT TOSIER BELL FOUNDRY

Dear Sir,—There were three of this family founding at Salisbury, the first being Clement, who probably succeeded Richard Florey. He was founding from 1679-1717. He was succeeded by William, who was founding from 1717-1730. There was also John Tosier founding from 1684-1733, but very little is known of him.

Clement Tosier was responsible for recasting the seventh and tenor bells at Salisbury Cathedral in 1680, and they were heavy bells, supposed to weigh about 30-38 cwt.—Yours faithfully,

A. A. HUGHES.

SUPPLEMENTARY NOTES ON BELFRYMANSHIP

By RODNEY B. MEADOWS

The necessarily brief scope of a Belfrymanship article leaves certain points in need of amplification. While it may be true to say that you can satirise most of the people some of the time, suspicion has arisen that any resemblance to ringers, active or passive, was possibly quite intentional. Any Sunday morning sets the scene:—

'If I don't watch myself, I shall be turning up in the next Belfryman article.'

'Well, as a matter of fact, you were in the last one.'

Clearly the last word has not been said. In the Potter spirit, therefore, though with inadequate mastery of the Potter patter, these supplementary notes are offered.

The distinction between a belfryman and a conductor is not always clear. A genuine conductor has no need to be a belfryman, and few are. But circumstances, too, affect the issue. Kronecke's formula, embodying the most recent research, proves true for most values and may serve as a provisional guide: R being the ability of the person concerned to put the others right, T his tendency to go wrong himself, S the coefficient of friction among the ringers and N the number of bells on which changes are being rung (R, S and T being measured by a device known as the Inometer and expressed in Iso-spasms), where  $\frac{(S+T)^2-2R}{13-N}$  yields a result of 4.25 or more, we have a belfryman; where below 4.25, a conductor.

From this there emerges two interesting corollaries: (a) That a belfryman will be relatively more common on the higher number of bells; (b) That a conductor in one tower may deteriorate into a belfryman in another.

And now for a cardinal principle of Belfrymanship. Always get your word in first. Take a leaf out of Big John's book. Mark the crispness of approach:—

'You're in 4-5; here with me; no, slow bell now; come on, watch it . . . stand. You can't ring Stedman unless you get the leads right. Let's try it again and strike it this time.'

Big John's doctrine is, up to a point, sound; Stedman goes much better when the leads are right. It goes better still when Big John remembers his Last Whole Turn.

Sometimes in method ringing the situation will get out of control. A yawning chasm gapes beneath your feet. You are lost. Faced with this predicament, some belfrymen copy the eminent statesman and ring on, until they remember where they are. This is all very well with a light bell. Greater weight of metal calls for sterner measures.

PUT SOMEONE ELSE WRONG

The principles of this will be set out in a pamphlet at present being compiled by the Belfrymanship Research Centre, and entitled 'Wandering to Some Purpose,' (or How to be Lost in Good Company). These are, of course, emergency tactics. For upsetting others at your leisure, one pretty little move deserves mention here. This is the Additional Dodge Inducement. In Superlative, for example, on completing your five-pull in 7-8, you take up an attitude of expecting another dodge and then, with a deft flick, strike a perfect blow in 8ths, leaving your dodging partner floundering. (Try this.) Then, at a similar position in the next course, you rub it in by remarking: 'That's the last, now down to the front.' Of a well-known Midland ringer, though he has yet to acquire the title of Artful Dodger, one may well ask: 'Was this the face that launched a thousand trips?'

On the subject of good and bad striking one embarks carefully. Among indifferent ringers it is not hard to make broad distinctions. But the more accomplished the band, the further one is driven towards the doctrine of Mighty Willie, a prince of tenor men, if not a prolific peal ringer. Both the logic and the definition are simple. Good striking is the way I am ringing my bell, as opposed to the way the rest of the band are ringing theirs. As Mighty Willie also conducts a little, fascinating results follow. In a course of Cambridge Royal, Mighty Willie has been known to start 5-6 instead of 7-8 places and, at the delicate hint of a few sharp growls from the tenor box, the rest of the band has obediently reverted to the previous lead en masse. To a casual observer the transition is almost imperceptible, so perfect the standard of striking.

Belfrymanship revolves all the time around the subtle interplay of individual and group. The earlier article illustrated the One being welcomed by the Many. Some notes are now appended on the Many being welcomed by the One (known in some parts of the country as Yokelship or Counter-Coachtourship). The situation is easy to gauge: (a) They are in good time, have a lethargic after-lunch look, wives and children struggle in tow. Hustle them up the tower without any unction. Lock the door behind them as 'we can't be too careful about people wandering in.' Or (b) They are behind schedule, aglow with the tower-snatching fever, their nerves taut and friable, to be soothed only by the sound of still more bells and the bringing round of still more methods. I insist on showing them round the church in painstaking detail.

After this pleasant overture they can hardly avoid co-operating in making their stay unenjoyable. Someone is sure to want to pull the tenor up and a couple more will scamper to his aid when she proves difficult to chime. Let them sweat awhile as you slyly ignore their efforts and direct the attention of the others to the Visitors' Book, before remarking, innocently, 'We generally turn 'er when she's up.' Morale being suitably deflated, announce gaily, 'Well, make yourselves at home. Mind you' (going to the window), 'we have to be a bit careful here, local opinion being what it is. But' (looking out, as though expecting to see an irate mob assembling in the churchyard below) 'you are sure to be better than last week's lot, as tried to ring Double Norwich.' Those who had been nervously bracing themselves for a course or London are by now reluctantly deciding that it had better be Stedman—and good Stedman too—which, of course, it now has very little chance of being.

You are by this time esconced in your favourite seat and, if not actually stopping your ears, at any rate going through the motions of cerebral repression. 'Would you care to have a ring with us?' they enquire. No, you are inclined to think perhaps not. Though they may try to turn the tables on you. For instance, once in Somerset:—

Imposing Visiting Ringer: 'How about having a ring with us?'

Modest Local Ringer: 'No, you folks carry on.'

I.V.R.: 'Believe me, we're quite willing to fit in for anything you'd like. I don't suppose you get much of a band locally.'

M.L.R.: 'No thanks. I can always do a little homework.'

I.V.R.: 'Homework?'

M.L.R.: Yes. Next Saturday we're going for a non-conducted peal. Only Yorkshire, mind you, as it's just a local band. Besides, I don't want to tire myself out, do I?' (The implication that the visitors' striking is suspect effectively closes this jolly repartee.)

UNOBTUSIVE DEVICES

Reports are from time to time received from various parts of the country of simple and unobtrusive Belfrymanship devices. While Belfrymanship should not savour of the practical joke (being practical, but never a joke) it is thought fit at this juncture to offer a few appliances and hints to steeple keepers and tower captains.

(i). The Cynical Sally. Emits the sound 'tut-tut,' when passing through the ceiling, should the ringer fail to maintain a tight rope.

(ii). Gramophone record of 'The Storming of the Bastille,' to be played by amplifier (large) in the vicinity of the church, when a visit proves interminable or peal attempt falls below local standards of striking. When belfry funds are low, a police whistle can sometimes be made to do the trick. Alternatively, given powerful influence with the local council, a road drill may be pressed into service.

(iii). Large mirrors positioned around the ringing chamber. Dodging with self and two others is great fun for strangers.

(iv). Synthetic tower sway. (Application for patent now in hands of Board of Trade.)

(v). Beams set up at inconvenient places around the rope circle. They need not fulfil any obvious purpose and can be dismantled. (Incidentally, the Belfrymanship Research Centre wishes to dissociate itself from the recent scandal in Southern England where movable beams were transported by van from tower to tower ahead of a Saturday coach outing.)

(vi). Enormous diagram of unringable method on wall concealed behind a curtain, to be slyly unveiled while a difficult touch is in progress.

(vii). Stuffed birds in glass cases, if possible second-hand and decrepit. These successfully damp the spirit of the most enthusiastic visitor by creating the atmosphere of an indifferent Guild meeting.

And now it is time for a drink, and your finest hour. The company may not have an absorbing interest in theoretical questions. They must be lured imperceptibly down the sticky road. Proceed from the known to the unknown, or rather, start with something that they ought to know (and probably don't) and so involve them in something about which they neither know nor care. Let us take, for example, the False Course Heads in Cambridge:—

'There's a point I would like to put to you.' The company is politely attentive. 'I would value your opinion very much. You know, some of the chaps one comes across don't even understand the False Course Heads in Cambridge. You'd hardly credit it, would you?' The sickly silence that follows signifies uneasy assent. 'Well now, in this little composition of mine—here, I've got a second copy. There we are now. No, really, it's my turn to buy them. All right then; a brown ale.'

A few more minutes of this and all will be set fair for a jolly evening. Your hapless audience is soon forming a roster, taking turns to escape and prop up the bar counter for a few blissful moments, before returning to the inquisition.

That's what I like about being a ringer. It's not only the ringing itself, it's the comradeship.

VETERAN OF THE LAST CENTURY

Mr. Albert H. Ward, who has made a wonderful recovery after his serious illness at the end of last year, rang his first peal, at St. Andrew's, Derby, on December 26th, 1894, it being Bob Triples, conducted by the late C. E. Hart. On February 7th, 1896, he rang his first handbell peal, Grandsire Triples, which he conducted, and which was the first handbell peal in Derby. On November 6th, the same year, he conducted Darlaston Bob Triples on handbells. This was probably the first of this method 'in hand.'

Mr. Ward has rung about 600 peals, many of which he conducted but he has not kept a proper list.

SOUTH MARSTON, WILTS.—On June 11th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Miss Rhoda Chesely 1, M. Looker 2, L. Woodward (first 'inside') 3, E. Boardman 4, P. Anger (cond.) 5, R. Stocks 6. First quarter for 1, 2 and 6. For the feast of St. Barnabas.

TOWERS VISITED ON OUTINGS

HARDINGTON MANDEVILLE, SOMERSET

On June 16th, in glorious weather, a very enjoyable outing in the Isle of Wight was par-taken by the Hardington ringers with their wives, offspring and friends, together with ringers from West Coker and Piddihinton and the popular Mr. W. C. Shute.

Arriving at Lymington at 9.2 a.m., with only three minutes to spare, the ferry was hastily boarded and a smooth crossing brought the band to Yarmouth where a coach awaited them. Towers visited during the day were Caris-brooke (8), Arreton (6), Newchurch (6), Gods-hill (6), Whitwell (6), Ryde (8) and Newport (8). At Newchurch, where the tenor is sadly out of tune, one ringer ascended to try and find, with the aid of matches, the extra bells which he thought should have been there, but in vain.

At Whitwell, where the ropes were more suited to Sherborne tenor than to a ring with a nine cwt. tenor, the two youngest ringers, Doris (12) and Norman (13), tried valiantly to get their small hands round both rope's end and sally. All the other towers were either good or excellent.

Methods rung during the day were Grand-sire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles, Plain Bob, Double Oxford, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor, Stedman and Grand-sire Triples and Plain Bob Major. All voted that it was a grand outing and congratulated Mr. G. W. (Bert) Rendell on his organisation.
E. T. P. F.

PUBLOW

The S.E. corner of Somerset and Devon was selected by Publow ringers for their outing on June 16th. It was a beautiful drive. The first stop was at Cannington, a good six, on which were rung Plain Bob Minor and Cambridge.

Ringling was enjoyed at Holy Trinity, Ilfracombe, while most of the ladies had a walk round the town. A long run over the high hills followed, and, writes our correspondent, 'it looked at times that we would all leave this earth, but the driver got to the last place all right.'

Methods rung during the day were Grand-sire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent and Cambridge, and home was reached at midnight.

OVERSEALE, DERBYSHIRE

The annual outing of St. Matthew's, Overseale, was held on June 9th, when a party of 29 ringers and friends from Netherseale, Ashby and Ticknall undertook a round trip of 260 miles, visiting Harrow Weald and Windsor.

A start was made at 6.45 a.m., the route being via Dunstable and St. Albans. The party was met at Harrow Weald by Mr. H. G. Hart, Miss Fulton and Mr. J. R. Mayne. An hour's ringling was enjoyed on this very light ring of eight before the journey was continued via Hatch End, Uxbridge and Slough to Windsor.

Mr. A. J. Glass met the ringers at Windsor Parish Church at 2 p.m. for an hour's ringling, whilst the rest of the party—despite the showers—dispersed to enjoy the various attractions. Following the ringling, Mr. Glass accompanied the party around the Castle, pointing out historic features. The return journey was via Beaconsfield, High Wycombe (where the bells were pealing out merrily) and Banbury, home being reached at 11 p.m.

The outing was described by the majority as the 'best ever.' Methods rung were Stedman, Grandsire and Oxford Bob Triples, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major.

WITHAM, ESSEX

Witham, Essex, had an enjoyable outing into Suffolk on June 2nd, visiting six towers—Monks Eleigh, Sproughton, Henley, Framden, Ufford and Woodbridge. All were interesting towers, writes our correspondent, and most of them were situated in charming country. Perfect weather favoured the day.

ST. MATTHEW'S, WALSALL

The annual outing of Walsall ringers was held on June 9th when a visit was paid to our friends of the Midland Counties Guild.

Leaving Walsall at 1.30 p.m., the first call was at Measham. Arriving a little early, we were welcomed by the Vicar, resplendent in his gardening outfit, and were soon enjoying this handy ring of eight. Some amusement was caused here by the painting on the belfry wall of a complete course of Grandsire Doubles in large figures, evidently a relic of by-gone days. The time allotted went all too soon and so to the coach (in the rain, which had started to fall) en route to Ashby-de-la-Zouch and the fine old Church of St. Helen (which itself is well worth a visit) and to try our hand on the bells (which the 60 feet draught of rope). This needed getting used to but some good touches were brought round.

Again through the rain and on to Melbourne for a good tea and to try the fine ring of eight (a 70 feet draught of rope), hung in full view of the congregation. Here we had an enthusiastic welcome from the 69-years-old Vicar who, incidentally, learned to ring at 66 years of age. He saw to it that everything needed was at our disposal and some good ringling followed, the Vicar helping in lowering the bells.

Repton (five bells but a long draught) was next visited and here several touches were brought round. The coach moved off to the drums of the public school band. (We were unable to ascertain whether it was a fond farewell.)

St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, was the last tower visited and a good time was had here until 9.15 p.m. when a start was made for home, via Lichfield. Walsall was reached by 10.30 p.m., everybody agreeing that it had been a real good outing. Methods rung during the afternoon included Stedman, Kent, Grandsire, Erin, Plain Bob and Cambridge Minor.

BRAINTREE, ESSEX

Six Kentish towers were visited by Braintree ringers on the occasion of their annual outing on June 9th. Starting at 7.30 the first call was at Lewisham, where Mr. P. A. Corby, who helped in the arrangements, awaited the party.

Ringling took place before lunch, taken at Gravesend, at Lewisham, and on the light eight at Crayford. St. George's, Gravesend, a grand eight, followed.

The afternoon's programme included ringling at Wrotham, the heaviest bells of the day, for 45 minutes, Westerham, where ringling was enjoyed before and after an excellent tea.

The final tower was Bromley Common, where Mr. J. Bennett, an old friend of some of the party, was there to welcome them. Full use was made of these lovely-running bells for 45 minutes before starting the journey home and ending a very enjoyable day in which the standard methods from Plain Bob to London had been rung.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD North Dorset Branch

There was an attendance of 25 at the summer meeting of the North Dorset Branch held at Stalbridge on June 9th.

Opening touches, conducted by the secretary, preceded the service. The Rector (the Rev. E. R. Merriman) gave the address and the lesson was read by the Rev. R. G. Mortimer (Vicar of Okeford Fitzpaine).

Tea was served in the Schoolroom, arrangements being made by Mr. A. G. Bollen. The Rev. F. L. Edwards (vice-chairman) presided at the business meeting and announced details of the coming Dorset Ringing Festival at Blandford.

Ringling included touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise.

ISLE OF WIGHT TOUR

By Hertfordshire Ringers

On June 9th, ringers from Hertfordshire went south for a week's tour on the Isle of Wight. Godshill was the centre of operations and it was fitting that the first ringling of the week should be for the Sunday service on that very nice six. In the evening the party of nine was completed after several sorties 'to look for Jack.'

Carisbrooke provided us with our first eight-bell ringling, and thence to the six at Freshwater, returning home via the Needles, in heavy rain.

At Ryde we found the bells up ready for us, but we were rather nonplussed when we pulled off and found that all except the back three were still silenced for learners! This was soon remedied and some good ringling followed. The bells at Arreton were only recently augmented to six and the new treble makes a very nice ring. We were very pleased with two touches of four spliced.

Newport provided the most interesting belfry many of us had seen, with peal boards and records of the Union Youths dating back to 1771. Although the noise of the ropes makes it rather difficult to hear the bells in the belfry, they sound lovely outside and they 'go' well. Practice night at Godshill gave us the opportunity again to make the most of this six.

Unfortunately our late start the next morning cut short our ringling time at Chale and we could only have two touches on these very ringable bells. In the last six at Whitwell, we struck the worst-going ring of the tour, but we were justifiably pleased with the touch of London.

To Geoffrey Seaman must go the laurels for the excellent arrangements, which allowed for some sightseeing as well as plenty of ringling. We are indebted to everybody who met us at the various towers and to Lester Bailey, of Godshill, whose practical assistance was of great value.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—17

ABOUT this time (Whitsun, 1887). Mr. Fussell on Saturday went to St. Giles', Bloomsbury, at 4.30, 'had a walk round the churchyard till after 5, all the band turning up in good time except Pitstow and Taylor, who were late owing to train delay. Rang good peal Kent Treble Bob Major and finished by 9 p.m. We all went to The Horse Shoe till 11 o'clock. Peal 5.024 by Dains. Doran rang 5th a little uncertain in the places—the treble slipped once at backstroke and I was almost unable to get it down again.

'Whit Sunday, Met Jacob, Newson and Chapman at Liverpool Street—went to Chelmsford. Doran and Perkins joining us at Stratford and Romford. Rang a touch of Caters, the first on the bells, for service. Walked to Writtle, round by the road about two miles. Here we found a very nice Vicar (Rev. Papillon, secretary of the Association); a fine peal of eight, good rope circle and every encouragement for method ringing, but a dirty, untidy tower and in a dilapidated state. The Vicar gave us leave at once, with pleasure, to attempt a peal of Stedman Triples. Rang 50 minutes when, through Newson and Pitstow shouting out to Jacob and I when dodging behind, the bells in front went wrong. Rang a touch of Grandsire with the Vicar and two local men. Went to a pub till nine and walked back to Chelmsford via fields.

'Our night at the Dolphin I shall long remember—Jacobs and I having a rare game with the others. Newson and Perkins slept together (in one bed). Doran and Charman, and Jacobs and I, the last two double beds being in one room, a single bed also there. I don't know what the man in this thought of us—he had no sleep—scarcely anyone did, till we went out at 5 next morning.

'Went to church, adjusted ropes oiled bells, etc. Rang touches for early service, 7 a.m., which Papillon had arranged early for our peal. Had a good breakfast off a beautiful piece of boiled beef. Some Ipswich ringers came in and there was a good muster around when we went up soon after 8 a.m. Rang 1 hour 55 minutes, Kent Royal, composed and conducted by G. Newson . . . ringing good . . . Doran made a mistake and could not seem to get right and then the 3rd got half-pull out. The termination was very sudden and very disappointing . . . not many about when we came down as various bands had gone out to numerous towers round Chelmsford, the neighbourhood being well off for bells. The locals went up and rang for 11 o'clock service, to which Mr. Cole and I attended, the Bishop of Colchester preaching.

'Our band wandered about in various pubs till 1 p.m. Dined in school, rather a small place for the number present—a good dinner served . . . walked again to Writtle . . . Thought of ringing Treble Bob, but persuaded the Vicar to ring and got Holt's Original in 2 hours 59 minutes. . . . Not a good peal . . . My hands very sore as we had done much pulling since Saturday. We all went to the Vicarage and had ale, bread and cheese, and stayed ringing handbells in the library till 10.

'Our party then went to a fair which was held in the village, staying so long that we could not go up to London till the 2.30 a.m. mail train, so Newson, Jacob and I stayed at the fair, then came back round the roads, reaching the station at 1 a.m. We were in Writtle churchyard when the clock struck 12. We found Perkins and Chapman sleeping on chairs in the waiting room, covered with porters' greatcoats . . . We returned to London miserably cold and tired and thirsty. We were glad of the cushions on the railway seats to rest on. We all got in different compartments so as to have a seat apiece. Got to Liverpool Street at 4 a.m. After strolling about we reached the Cattle Market and had some coffee, etc. Got home 5.40, had an hour's sleep before going to work at 8.30. The day seemed long to me.

The next Sunday Mr. Fussell chimed the eight bells at St. Pancras for afternoon service—some changes and one or two hymns. (Tenor 27 cwt.) A very awkward place to go up; bells suspended for chiming only. The same evening they met for Grandsire Triples (Original) on handbells . . . rang nearly to the Queens when Winney stopped as the 6th made a few false blows. The next try resulted in a good peal in 2 hours 41 minutes. Mr. Fussell rang 1-2 'Stayed till 11.30 and got home 12.30 a.m.' (To be continued.)

THE ORIGINAL

THIS week is the 200th anniversary of the ringing of the first peal of Holt's Original—a composition that as long as change ringing is practised will hold an honoured position. The Original was composed some time before the middle of 1751, and on Sunday, July 7th, in that year, the Union Scholars rang it at St. Margaret's, Westminster. The board recording the peal hangs in the base of the tower and the ringers were James Davis, James Albion, Jacob Hall, Thomas Jackson, James Vickers, James Newby, John Lloyd and on the tenor George Fleury and Edward Davis. Holt, thinking it too great an undertaking to call the peal and ring at the same time, sat in the belfry and conducted from manuscript.

Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, to whom the Exercise is greatly indebted for his research into the life of John Holt, points out that the absence of this peal from the peal book of the Union Scholars has given rise to some conjecture. Osborn thought it was not entered because it was considered irregular for the conductor not to ring. Jasper Snowden expressed the view that it was because Annable did not approve of the composition. Neither reason is convincing, writes Mr. Trollope. The Union Scholars had rung the peal and they had recorded it on an expensive tablet. It is not likely they would have boggled at entering it in their book, or would have paid undue attention to the hostile criticism of a rival belonging to another company. The probability is that it was entered, and in after years, when the book became dilapidated, someone took it away to keep as an interesting curio.

Such an anniversary is an appropriate time to recall some salient features in John Holt's short life of 27 years, which was featured by a series of special articles in 'The Ringing World' of June, 1942. By searching the registers of Christ Church, Newgate Street, Mr. Trollope discovered an entry which places John's birth as March 11th, 1726, the son of Hugh and Mary Holt, who was baptised at Christ Church on March 31st. His family evidently were in very poor circumstances, and the 'Clavis' speaks of him as a 'poor, unlettered youth.' By trade he was a shoemaker and socially he was on a lower level than the average member of the leading Metropolitan societies.

Trollope imagines Holt as a man of rather frail physique and not over-strong. The heaviest bell he ever rang to a peal was the tenth at St. Bride's, which may have weighed some 15 cwt., but usually he was found at the light end.

His first peal with the Union Scholars was on October 27th, 1747, Bob Major at St. Margaret's, Westminster. Then in a period of five years until September, 1752, the company rang 22 peals, all of which, save one, Holt called. They consisted of Plain Bob Triples 4, Plain Bob Major 9, Double Bob Major 3, Grandsire Triples 1, Grandsire Caters 2, Grandsire Cinques 1, Oxford Treble Bob Major 1 and Court Bob Major 1.

The popular methods at this time were Bob Triples and Major and Grandsire Caters, and in all these Annable's peals held the field. Holt produced several peals of Bob Major and Grandsire Caters and one of Bob Triples without a single. Grandsire Triples had been introduced towards the close of the 17th century and was in Holt's day freely practised in London, but not used for peal ringing. Before 1751 only three peals of it are recorded—the Hick Triples by the Union Scholars in 1718, a peal by the Eastern Scholars in 1733, conducted by Mainwaring, and another by the Union Scholars in 1736, composed and conducted by John Denmead. Holt had to work on his composition of the Original by intuition and empirical methods.

Towards the latter years of his life John Holt joined the Society of College Youths. It was at the time of the opposition to Annable and the search for someone to supplant him as a conductor and leader. John Cundell invited Holt to join the College Youths, and, in return, promised to collect subscriptions to have his peals printed and published. Holt consented and with him came Samuel Killican. Cundell adhered to his word and the broadsheet duly appeared and 75 copies were sold by subscription at 5s. 3d. a copy. Before the broadsheet appeared Holt was dead. Summing up, Mr. Trollope writes: Exactly when he died and where he was buried I cannot say. So far, I have not traced his burial in any of the London parish registers. One thing is fairly certain. He was carried to the churchyard in the parish coffin that had served the same office for many others of his class, and he was buried in the common grave where his ashes mingled with many more like himself except for this thing, that while their names are utterly forgotten, his is still remembered and is likely to be so. . . . When Holt died he was only 27 years old and his ringing career had lasted but eight years. In that time, however, he had made a name which is scarcely second to any in the annals of change ringing. . . . The Original still maintains its supremacy, and Holt's name is never likely to drop out of the list of composers.

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

Please send your quarterly or half-yearly sub-

E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood,

An example of the 'New Deal' took place at the College Youths' Reunion at Birmingham recently. During an animated discussion one member took from his pocket an envelope and proceeded to turn it into confetti. To his surprise the envelope contained a 10s. note. The incident of reducing the fiduciary issue in this way caused much merriment. Birmingham friends, however, will be pleased to know that the 'jig saw' was completed upon returning to London and the pieces have been accepted as legal tender towards meeting the cost of the gas bill!

The treasurer of the University of Bristol Society of Change Ringers is Miss B. Enid I.J. Roberts and not as published last week.

Owing to the fire at South Newton the meeting of the Salisbury Branch on July 14th has been transferred to Wilton.

The peal of Stedman Caters at Christ Church, Crewe, on June 2nd, was a joint compliment to Mr. H. Milnes Walker, surgeon at Crewe Memorial Hospital, and also to the Mayor (as stated in the footnote on page 386).

The Editor acknowledges a contribution of 1s. towards 'The Ringing World' finances from the ringers in the peal at Church Kirk, Lancs, on June 23rd. Such gifts lighten the deficit on the production.

Godshill, I. of W., band met one short for a quarter and were commiserating with themselves when a hand appeared at the top of the belfry staircase. Five eager voices enquired, 'Are you a ringer?' 'Yes,' was the reply. 'Like a quarter peal?' was the next question. He agreed and it was not until it was finished that introductions took place. This was the visitor's first 'pull' in the island. The band extend their thanks to him and to his wife for her patience in 'sitting in.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. T. F. Earnshaw, the oldest member of York Minster Society, celebrated his 83rd birthday by ringing a peal at Easingwold, where he was born, baptised, confirmed, married and learned to ring. It is 25 years since he last rang a peal and he is the only survivor of the band which rang the last peal at York Minster in 1892. To round off an eventful day, Mr. Earnshaw took his place in the Minster belfry and took part in the ringing between 11 p.m. and midnight at the official conclusion of the York Festival of Arts. Is Mr. Earnshaw the oldest ringer to take part in a Festival peal?

A peal has been rung at Kenwyn Church, Truro, to welcome the new Bishop, the Rt. Rev. E. R. Morgan, whose palace adjoins the church. Immediately the peal was finished the Bishop went to the tower and thanked the ringers for the welcome. He mentioned that he knew enough about ringing not to intrude whilst the peal was in progress.

The Rev. H. G. Herrington, Vicar-designate of Nettleham, is the son-in-law of the Lincolnshire stalwart, Mr. F. W. Stokes, who is Ringing Master at Nettleham. A peal of Nettleham Surprise was rung at the neighbouring parish of St. Giles to welcome him.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Chesterfield's famous church with the crooked spire (which is undergoing repairs) marks the 30th anniversary of the first peal of Surprise Royal in the tower. One cannot quite say 'on the bells,' because these have been recast (and what a glorious ten, too). This former peal was also the first Surprise Royal by the Midland Counties Association and associated with it were Arthur Knights, Arthur Craven and Sam Thomas (who conducted). This trio rang the eighth, ninth and tenth respectively.

GREAT GEORGE OF LIVERPOOL DEDICATED

IN THE PRESENCE OF 2,500 PEOPLE AT JUBILEE SERVICE

GREAT GEORGE, the Bourdon bell of the new Liverpool Cathedral, was dedicated in the presence of a congregation of approximately 2,500 in Liverpool Cathedral on Sunday, June 17th. The ceremony, which was performed by the Bishop of Liverpool (Dr. Clifford A. Martin), took place at a service marked with dignity and impressiveness to celebrate the jubilee of the meeting in Liverpool Town Hall on June 17th, 1901, at which it was decided to build a cathedral.

It was at 11.41 a.m., states 'The Liverpool Daily Post,' that the deep bass voice of Great George reverberated over the tense congregation and was heard officially for the first time in the city.

And as the great bell sounded the voice of the Bishop was heard by the congregation—'In the name of God, whose glorious sound is in all the worlds, we dedicate the Bourdon Bell (Great George) to the sounding of His promise, who said unto His disciples, "Because I live, ye shall live also. Hallalujah."'

While the vast congregation remained standing, and Great George continued to chime, the Bishop went on, 'And may this Cathedral Church dedicated to His glory, in the power of His resurrection, sound forth the comfort of His praise.'

Long before the service was due to begin, hundreds of people, unable to obtain seating accommodation in the centre space of the Cathedral, were forced to remain standing in the side aisles, while others stood in the western transept at the rear.

Meanwhile a crowd of several hundred gathered in St. James' Road, particularly in the vicinity of the Rankin Porch, to await the arrival in state of the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress (Alderman Vere E. Cotton and Mrs. Cotton).

The dedication took place after the Collects and General Thanksgiving pronounced by the Dean 'for the high resolve of those who in 1901 set forward their purpose to build this Cathedral.'

The Bourdon Bell is inscribed: 'Make a joyful noise unto the Lord all ye lands. To the Glory of God in thankfulness for great mercies received and in affectionate remembrance of the City of Liverpool. William Baron Vestey, of Kingswood, and his wife, Evelyn, with Sir Edmund Hoyle Vestey, Baronet, and his wife, Ellen, gave me in the year 1937, and in memory of King George V. named me Great George.'

GREAT GEORGE.—The impressive size of Great George—it weighs 14 tons 15 cwt. 2 qr. 2lb.—can be gained by comparison with the head and shoulders of Mr. Paul L. Taylor on the right and Mr. John Oldham, manager of Messrs. John Taylor and Co., on the left. The diameter of the bell is 9ft. 6in. and its note C sharp. Great George is in memory of King George V. and it has the deepest note of any bell cast in the United Kingdom.

After the dedication of the bell the Bishop said the Grace, and the congregation, who had remained standing, joined in the singing of 'O God, our help in ages past.'

The sermon was preached by the Rev. W. M. F. Scott, Principal of St. Aidan's College, Birkenhead, from the text, 'Ascribe unto the Lord the honour due unto His name.'

He recalled the opposition to the building of the Cathedral and the view that the site should be left as a playing field for children. The criticism that saw the worship of God and the service of man as mutually exclusive alternatives was still with us. It had recently found expression in a play about the Cathedral entitled 'Living Silence,' which was broadcast by the B.B.C. earlier in the year. There the devil's advocate spoke of Liverpool Cathedral as 'this vast pink elephant with its high empty howdah of a tower. This, ladies and gentlemen, is one of the finest monuments to man's folly extant in the 20th century. One might have thought the money spent on this mausoleum would have been better spent on a clinic or a hospital.'

'The song of Liverpool to-day is "money matters, pleasure matters," and an occasional school joins in to say "knowledge matters." This Cathedral is put up not to make money or to provide pleasure or even to be a place of learning, but to be a visible witness for God, to sound forth the comfort of His praise.'

'It sings another song and as it towers above the city it says, "Before money, before pleasure, even before knowledge, God matters. God matters—ascibe unto the Lord the honour due unto His name."'

The service concluded with the Builders' Prayer, followed by the Blessing pronounced by the Bishop.

GREAT PAUL.—To enable readers to compare the respective size and shape of Great George with Great Paul of St. Paul's Cathedral, we are privileged through the permission of Mr. S. F. Markham to publish a picture of this famous bell taken on its journey from the foundry at Loughborough to London in 1882. Great Paul is the heaviest bell in the United Kingdom and weighs 16 tons 14 cwt. 2 qr. 19 lb. On its journey to London the trolley conveying it was stuck in the mud three days. Great George is the second heaviest bell in this country.

RESTORATION AT MORPETH

Watch Tower Bells Ring Out Again

After a silence lasting several months, the restored ring of bells rang out from the ancient Watch Tower at Morpeth on Sunday, June 17th, to mark the opening of the borough's Festival of Britain Week. As the hour of 3 p.m. drew near, a crowd of several hundred people assembled around the tower for the service of dedication, which was conducted by the Rector of Morpeth, Canon F. Baker, assisted by the Rev. J. M. Higgs and the Rev. J. H. Johnston. The restoration marked the completion of a scheme commenced last year, when it was felt by the citizens of Morpeth that something should be done to mark the Festival of Britain in a practical way, and so a fund was opened to raise money to enable this work to be carried out.

At the close of the service, the Mayor of Morpeth, Councillor W. Arthur Mitchell, J.P., addressed the gathering and said that Morpeth's Festival of Britain effort was the restoration of the tower and bells, which had been suffering from old age. It would have been a disgrace to let it crumble and recalled that among the many duties fulfilled by the tower were those of being a prison. It now stood as a famous landmark in Morpeth.

Continuing, he stated that six bells in the tower had been given by Major-General Main, M.P. for Morpeth in the year 1705. At a later date the bells were increased to eight. The Mayor thanked the ex-Mayor, Councillor Jobson, for his work in inaugurating the scheme: thanks were also extended to the Festival of Britain Committee and everyone who had given time and money to the fund.

As these proceedings ended, the Mayor came to the ringing room and chimed the fourth bell to announce to the assembled company that the bells were available for ringing, and straightway a course of Bob Major was rung by K. Arthur treble, F. Ainsley 2, T. W. Crowe 3, J. Anderson 4, Margaret Fidell 5, S. Hewitt 6, J. A. Brown 7, D. A. Bayles tenor.

The recast bells (tenor 10 cwt. 26 lb.) are a beautiful ring and John Taylor and Co. are to be congratulated on their excellent work.

Mention must also be made of the untiring efforts of Miss J. Armstrong, of Morpeth, who, in the beginning, was mainly responsible for creating the necessary enthusiasm to have this restoration made.

An open meeting was held on June 23rd when a representative gathering of members attended to ring the new bells. This meeting was held at the special invitation of the Mayor of Morpeth, as a fitting conclusion to the borough's Festival Week.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Dorchester Branch

A quarterly meeting of the Dorchester Branch was held on June 16th at Bere Regis. The bells were rung prior to the service which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. C. Herring). The lesson was read by the branch chairman (Canon A. W. Markby). The Vicar incorporated in his address a brief history of the church.

Following the service, tea was served in the W.I. Hut by a band of ladies.

Canon A. W. Markby presided at the business meeting and the assistant secretary, Mr. R. H. Duke, deputised for the secretary, who was unable to be present. Two new members were elected. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Milton Abbey in July. A vote of thanks to the Vicar and all who had helped to make the meeting a success was carried.

After tea, some members went on to ring at Milton Abbey. Towers represented were:—Abbotsbury, St. Peter's, Dorchester, Bere Regis, East Lulworth, Milton Abbey, Preston, Sydling, Upwey, Wool and Wyke Regis; also visitors from Amesbury, Salisbury, Ringwood and Shaftesbury.

NEW POSTAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

The Editorial Committee regret that owing to the present finances of 'The Ringing World' they are unable to meet the increased postal charges when subscribers renew their subscriptions.

The new rates, which become operative with subscriptions due on July 6th, are as follows:—

Quarterly Subscription, 6s.

Half-yearly Subscription, 11s. 8d.

To ensure continuity of delivery, subscriptions should be sent without delay to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Contributions from yearly subscribers to meet the extra 1s. 5d. postage on their copies for 1951 would be gratefully acknowledged by Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent, or by the Editor.

LADIES' GUILD

Wedding Gift to Secretary Jill

On June 16th the Midland District of the Ladies' Guild were joined by members from the West Midland, Lincoln and Northern Districts in a Festival of Britain meeting at St. Mary's Church, Nottingham.

With the help of gentlemen visitors at the heavy end the bells were soon pealing forth their message of goodwill. The service was conducted by Canon R. F. Wilkinson, who stressed the need for ringers to help one another and for missionary work in the less fortunate towers.

An excellent tea was served by Churchwarden and Mrs. Henson and friends in St. Mary's Institute, after which, contrary to custom, the gentlemen were invited to stay for the first part of the meeting.

The vice-president, Miss I. B. Thompson, expressed regret at the unavoidable absence of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Poole and Mr. and Mrs. C. Turner from this particular meeting, and then asked Miss Iris Rowley to present on behalf of the members of the Midland District, a canteen of cutlery to Mrs. P. J. Staniforth as a wedding present and a token of appreciation of her work as secretary since the District was formed. Mr. and Mrs. Staniforth suitably replied. At the business meeting the officers and committee were re-elected.

A social followed, with dancing and hand-bell ringing, a course of Grandsire Triples by the ladies and one of Stedman Caters with a lady in the band. The tune ringing on hand-bells by Mr., Mrs. and Miss Beamish was particularly enjoyed. Canon R. H. Hawkins, Vicar of St. Mary's who was unable to be present in the afternoon, looked in to give the visitors a welcome.

50th ANNIVERSARY OF GLASGOW CATHEDRAL BELLS

A special service was held in St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, on June 8th, to mark the 50th anniversary of the opening of the bells. The Very Rev. M. P. G. Leonard, Provost of the Cathedral, officiated, supported by the Cathedral clergy. 'Bells' was the theme throughout the service, the full choir rendering 'Ding-dong merrily' instead of the usual anthem. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung in the nave during the service.

As the ringers were leaving, a Mr. Redwood introduced himself as one of the original band who rang in 1901. They are looking forward to meeting him again in the near future.

On the following day, an attempt for a peal of Stedman Caters came to grief after two hours' good ringing. The band later adjourned for tea with the Provost as guest.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD

Youth Well Represented at Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Society was held at Lichfield on June 23rd and was very well attended, 102 members and friends sitting down to tea in St. Mary's Schoolroom. Two Press reporters who were present were impressed by the number of the younger generation who attended, and it was gratifying to read in the accounts which subsequently appeared in the local papers that the reporters were of opinion that the ancient art of change ringing is definitely on the up grade.

Mr. Herbert Knight, of St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, occupied the chair, and he was supported by the Rev. C. H. Barker, clerical secretary and treasurer, and Mr. F. Bennett, lay secretary. Ringers were present from as far afield as Hereford, Worcester and Derby.

In his annual report Mr. Bennett said an encouraging feature during the year had been the continued good attendance at meetings. As far as could be ascertained, Sunday service ringing had been regularly maintained and the majority of the towers in the Archdeaconry had fully carried out their obligations in this most important of all aspects of ringing. Peal ringing remained in a very healthy state, 61 peals having been rung during the year compared with 55 the previous year. Messrs. H. Howell, M. Turner, G. Oliver and B. G. Key were the leading conductors. Miss Joan Beresford, of Lichfield, deserves special mention for conducting a peal of Grandsire Caters at Lichfield Cathedral on the occasion of her 19th birthday.

Presenting the financial statement, the Rev. C. H. Barker reported a loss on the year of £8 11s. A discussion took place about the finances of the Society and it was resolved that a charge of 6d. a copy should be made for the annual report. At this stage the members were not in favour of increasing the amount of the annual subscription.

NEW RINGING MASTER

The officers of the Society were re-elected, with the exception that Mr. George Oliver was appointed Ringing Master in place of Mr. Eric Speake, whose resignation was accepted with regret. Appreciation of Mr. Speake's excellent services during his period of office was duly expressed.

Meetings for the next twelve months were provisionally arranged as follows:—August, Trysull; October, Rugeley; January, St. Matthew's, Walsall; March, Tamworth; May, Hanbury; and the annual meeting at Lichfield, as usual, in June.

A resolution was put to the meeting and carried unanimously, to the effect that the members of the Society deplored the prolonged criticism by outside ringers of the Christmas broadcast from Willenhall. While admitting that the ringing in question was not good, the members of the Society felt it was quite unnecessary for such criticism to be continued up to six months after the broadcast.

A new innovation at this year's annual meeting was for a service to be held at St. Mary's instead of members attending evensong at the Cathedral, as in former years. This year's service at St. Mary's was very well attended and the Vicar, the Rev. Harold Cresswell, gave an inspiring address.

Ringing during the afternoon and evening took place at the Cathedral, St. Mary's and St. Michael's.

READING, BERKS.—At St. Mary's on June 17th, 1,280 Cambridge Surprise Major: R. F. Diserens 1, J. Napper 2, A. Diserens (cond.) 3, Mrs. A. Diserens 4, W. Lewington 5, C. Pullen 6, R. W. Rex 7, N. J. Diserens 8.

ST. CRANTOCK, CORNWALL.—On June 14th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: J. Roberts (first quarter) 1, H. E. Seagrave 2, D. Docking 3, S. J. Robinson 4, A. H. Eplett (first as cond.) 5, D. G. Curtis (first quarter) 6. Ring to welcome the Bishop of Truro on the day of his enthronement.

BELLRINGERS' GUIDE

'A Perfectly Monumental Work'—
C.C. Committee

Dear Sir,—No doubt the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee will make its own reply to T. V. Lister, since R. H. Dove's 'Bellringers' Guide to the Church Bells of Britain' was definitely mentioned in the 1950 (Eastbourne) report. (I have my copy in front of me, in which it is referred to as a 'perfectly monumental work'.) Unfortunately, the complete text was not published in 'The Ringing World' report of proceedings so that anyone not on the Central Council might be under a misconception.

Quite apart from the ringing fraternity, the 'Bellringers' Guide' has, I believe, received wider publicity than has any other book on the subject of ringing. Reviews have appeared in the 'Evening News' (Talk of the Day), 'News Chronicle' (John Bouverie's Diary), 'The Times' Literary Supplement, 'The Church of England Newspaper', 'The Church Times' and 'The Guardian.' All comment has been congratulatory, ranging from light-hearted John Bouverie, who wrote that the inclusion of the weekly practice night 'serves the double purpose of enabling visiting campanologists in a strange town to attend, and those who don't like bells, to stay away,' to 'The Guardian,' who concludes its report with the words, 'We consider this a remarkable book.'

In addition to the above, a completely unsolicited testimonial came from one of England's foremost typographers, Mrs. Beatrice Warde, of the Monotype Corporation, who writes: "'The Bellringers' Guide' is an impressive witness to the strength of a custom or avocation which is peculiarly English. I feel so delighted that the typographical dress of the book is so worthy of the contents.'

Copies have been requested by most universities and leading libraries throughout the English speaking world, and West Region of the B.B.C. have asked for a copy for possible inclusion in a West Country Book Review. This morning came a postcard addressed merely 'W. H. Viggers, Aldershot, from Fratelli Bocca, Editor, of Milan, Italy, who publish the Rivista Musicale Italiana, which read: 'Have the goodness to forward us, free of charge, a copy of the "Bellringers' Guide," by R. H. Dove, that we may make it the subject of a review in one of our earliest numbers.' I am sending a copy but whether I shall ever sell any to Italian musicians is another matter. I still have copies available for British bellringers at 5s. each, plus postage.

UNION TRIPLES

Dear Sir.—A peal of Union Triples was recorded in your issue of June 1st and I should be interested to know the Method Committee's views on this method.

In his letter published in 'The Ringing World' of June 15th, Mr. C. K. Lewis stated that he was in doubt as to whether peals of Plain Bob on odd numbers should not come under the heading of Unorthodox Performances, and as the idea of attempting a peal of Union has been contemplated, I should be glad if the position could be clarified.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. GRIFFITHS

Upton-by-Chester.

FIRST OF TRIPLES AT CHOLSEY

Dear Sir.—Mr. R. B. Blond is a little late when he claims that the peal of Stedman rung on Saturday, May 26th, at Cholsey, was the first peal of Triples on the bells.

As recently as February 8th, 1947, a peal in the same method was rung there for the Ancient Society of College Youths.—Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM C. PORTER.

Littlemore, Oxon.

CLEMENT TOZIER

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Bailey's enquiry regarding Clement Tozier, this founder had a foundry at Salisbury from 1680 to 1717 but beyond the evidence found on bells over a wide range from Salisbury, practically nothing is known of him. John Wallis was the first Salisbury founder, after which we have bells by Nathaniel Bolter, John Lott and Francis Foster, all Salisbury founders. These were followed by the Toziers, of whom Clement was the first, and in his latter years he seems to have been assisted by William Tozier. The last member of the firm was John Tozier, and with him the founding of the bells at Salisbury appears to have terminated. I do not think that Clement Tozier ever became a travelling founder.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

SALISBURY AGREEMENT

Dear Sir.—Clement Tozier worked the Salisbury foundry from 1680 to 1717. In the early part of this period, at any rate, it was in conjunction with Elizabeth Flowery, who was probably the widow of the previous owner, one, R. Flowery.

Lukis, in his 'Church Bells,' published in 1857, gives a copy of a document found in the muniment room at Salisbury Cathedral, which is an agreement between the Dean and Chapter, and Clement Tozier and Elizabeth Flowery, regarding the recasting of the seventh and eighth bells at the Cathedral.

The tenor bell at Downton at this time was also cast by Tozier and Lukis says that the Toziers followed the Purdues in the character of their inscriptions.

Clement Tozier was followed by William and John Tozier and the foundry closed about the year 1731.—Yours sincerely,

H. J. SANGER.

Evercreech.

A CHEMIST'S MORTAR

Dear Sir.—I have been very interested in Clement Tozier as he recast our old tenor in 1713. Most of my information I have learnt about him I obtained from Mr. A. R. Macdonald, of Parkstone, from the book 'The Church Bells of Dorset.'

Tozier was one of the line of old Salisbury founders and his bells are scattered about Dorset, Isle of Wight, and very likely Wiltshire and Hants.

There is a large chemist's mortar cast by him in the Salisbury Museum. It seems he was not very good at spelling as sometimes his name is spelt Tosier and sometimes Tozier; also I read he spelt cast as 'cut' at Arretton, Isle of Wight, and on our old bell year is spelt 'yere.'

I think there were two Toziers at Salisbury, Clement, and later, William Tozier; one of his bells is at Martin (Hants) and one in the next village from here Edmondsham.

John Taylor and Co. have recently recast our ring of eight, but they have reproduced Tozier's inscription in a most remarkable way. It is exactly as it was on his old tenor and that was a bit crooked and not well spaced.

W. DAY.

Cranborne, Dorset.

P.S.—An item in the churchwardens' accounts for 1713 states: To C. Tosier, new casting the fourth bell, £11 6s. For the new brasses, 4s. 6d. The weight of the Tosier bell was 14 cwts.—W.D. We thank other contributors to this subject.

EDGECASTON, BIRMINGHAM. — On June 17th, 1,280 Double Norwich Court Bob Major: Enid M. Roberts 1, Jean A. Southerst 2, Evelyn M. Fletcher 3, Joan Beresford 4, S. O'C. Holloway 5, A. Jones 6, F. E. Haynes 7, W. C. Dowling (first in method as cond.) 8. First in method for 1, 3 and 4.

LORD ROSEBERY'S CHURCH

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of June 22nd, in Belfry Gossip, the question was asked if Lord Rosebery was interested in bellringing as his horse, named Bob Major, won a race at Ascot. At the little church standing in the grounds of Mentmore Mansion, Leighton Buzzard, there is a light ring of five, which has not been rung for 40 years; I had a ring on it nearly 50 years ago. I have been given to understand the frame is also in a bad way.

If his Lordship's win was worth anything, he would do the church a good turn to have the five bells rehung and add a new treble so that some of the old ringers could ring Bob Minor. He would then be able to name another horse after that method.—Yours truly,

F. VICKERS.

Linslade, Leighton Buzzard.

CORRECTION TO GRANDSIRE PEAL

Dear Sir.—I believe there is an error in the calling of B. D. Price's 5,040 Grandsire Triples on page 384 of the issue for June 15th. It should read:—

234567

A S 436527 2 (This is the 19th call)

274653 2

362574 1

S 473256 2 (not 1, as printed)

PL 345267 2

This alteration gives 5,040 changes. Formerly, with the loss of one lead in every part, only 4,928 were produced. The calling by observation bells is, of course, unaffected.—Yours sincerely,

ROGER B. MORRIS.

Capenhurst, Cheshire.

NOTE.—We have submitted Mr. Morris's letter to Mr. Brian D. Price, who regrets the error.

ST. WULFRAM, GRANTHAM

Dear Sir.—On a recent Sunday morning I was up at the top of my yard (which I have made a practice of doing for the last 45 years) to listen to the bells of St. Wulfram's, Grantham, and I was so struck with the raising, ringing and lowering of them that I wish to say that I have never heard such beautiful ringing in the whole 45 years I have lived under those bells. The effect was so perfect to my mind, that I wished they could have gone on a bit longer; a piano could not have done better.

I have done a bit of ringing myself in my younger days, and I am now 76. I rang the minute bell out for the Duke of Clarence when he died in January, 1892. So you see why I am interested in them; and I feel that I must express my appreciation of such talent.—Yours,

W. C. B. Le TALL.

Grantham.

Lavenham Ringing Anniversary

A large number of ringers from nine counties and representing 27 parishes were present at the 140th ringing anniversary at Lavenham. Among them were Mr. T. A. King (aged 82 years), of Bradford, Yorks, who was for many years conductor of the Lavenham band: Mr. Chalk, of Maldon, who first rang at Lavenham 52 years ago; and Master Donald Mills, of Bures, Essex, who at the age of 11 years shows great promise of future feats.

Methods rung during the day were Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Little Bob, Double Norwich, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge, Superlative, Yorkshire and London Surprise.

BY COACH AND CYCLE

Young Bedford Ringers' Week-end

A small party of some of the younger members of the Bedfordshire Association from the towers of Bedford, Biggleswade, Bromham, Henlow and Kempston spent an enjoyable week-end on a cycling-ringing tour in Beds/Bucks on June 16th and 17th.

In glorious sunshine five of us met at Ampt-hill cross roads, from there cycling on to Tils-worth where we were met by two more ringers. One from Totternhoe and one from Linslade, who spent the rest of the day with us. After ringing for a short while on this easy-going six, we were joined by the Vicar, the Rev. Dale, in a touch of Grandsire Doubles—he also told us of a fund they have for new bell ropes to which visitors are invited to contribute 6d. each (rather a good idea for hard-up belfries). A few more methods were rung before we rang down and proceeded to Eaton Bray, where, in this rather small belfry, amidst a shower of bird feathers, straw and dust, we rang some of the standard Minor methods. We were very pleased to welcome here another Bedfordshire (Sandy) lady ringer who had come from Birmingham to be with us for the week-end.

The next stop, for picnic lunch this time, was within sight of our next tower; we contentedly lazed in this meadow until we were reminded of the purpose of our tour by the sound of bells being rung up. Mr. Sayell and two other local ringers were waiting for us at Slapton. Although we agreed that these five bells are of rather nice tone, we found them on the heavy side. After ringing and looking at some old records in the church, we said our farewells and made our way to Cheddington where, although by now a little behind our original time-table, Mr. Boarder, of the local ringers, was still waiting, with the bells freshly oiled and in readiness for us. After an enjoyable hour's ringing on this fairly light six and after satisfying the wants of the would-be photographers amongst us, we set off once again—this time to Aston Clinton. Here we had some of the best ringing of the day, finishing with a good course of London Surprise.

After tea, for which, unfortunately, time had to be cut to the minimum, five of us went on ahead to Marsworth (6), where we found the latecomer of our party struggling to ring up the tenor. Two of the local ringers also joined us but the remainder of our own party mysteriously lost their way and had to take our word for it afterwards about the 'fun' they missed. Although we found this five rather difficult to handle (besides being a long draught, the sallies were the longest we had ever seen, and the ropes of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th bells are only about six inches from the wall, in fact we noticed one of the local ringers rang facing the wall), we did try some Doubles.

After supper at Ivinghoe Youth Hostel, we had our only disappointment. Owing to repairs to the tower we were unable to ring; we had been warned this probably would be so. However, we spent a most enjoyable hour, together with other hostellers, on a well-conducted tour round this very interesting old church, with the Vicar as our guide.

On Sunday morning, Wingrave was our first call. Met here by Mr. Tompkins, of the local ringers, we found the bells (6) rather heavy going but spent an enjoyable three-quarters of an hour ringing before morning service. Service ended, a quick look round the church, a chat with the Vicar, and off again—a short distance to the neighbouring village of Aston Abbots. The local ringer who met us warned us to be very careful as nine staves had been broken by visitors recently. After we had rung them up in peal and were in the first touch he left with the words 'Stay as long as you like,' and we certainly were reluctant to leave this glorious light six. (Sunday being St Alban's Day—Patron Saint of our Diocese—St. Albans Delight Minor was the method of the day, being the first time some of us had rung it.

Following a very pleasant and rather late lunch in a wayside meadow, we once again mounted our cycles, this time in the direction of Linslade where, with the help of the local ringers, we kept the eight bells going to a variety of methods for just over an hour. Tea on Leighton Buzzard Recreation Ground and then to the church where Mr. Plummer was waiting to welcome us, and we joined with the local ringers in ringing for the evening service—rounds, Bob Royal and Grandsire Caters.

The way home for the majority of us was through Woburn Park where the rhododendrons were out in their full glory making a splendid mass of colour, and herds of deer contentedly roamed in the evening sunshine. The opinion of all was—we most certainly must have another cycling-ringing week-end.

We should like to take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents and local ringers whose co-operation helped tremendously towards the success of the tour.

Methods rung during the week-end included Plain Bob (Doubles to Royal), Grandsire (Doubles to Caters), St. Simon's Doubles, St. Clement's Minor, St. Albans Delight Minor, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor, Stedman Triples, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor and Major.

GORING-BY-SEA, SUSSEX

Ringers of St. Mary's, Goring-by-Sea, were joined by ringers of St. Botolph's, Heene and St. Andrew's, West Tarring, for their annual outing on June 23rd, starting at 8 a.m.

After ringing at Alton Parish Church, the party proceeded to Amesbury, where Grandsire Triples was brought round before lunch at the Fairlawns Cafe. The afternoon's programme included ringing at Winterlow and Stockbridge.

Tea was enjoyed at Winchester and then the party visited the Cathedral and listened to the music of evensong. Wickham was the last tower visited. Handbell ringing in the coach was in charge of Mr. R. P. Wood and the arrangements for the outing were carried out by Mr. S. F. Haffenden, captain of the Goring-by-Sea ringers.

ST. JOHN'S, HILLINGDON

Ringers of St. John's, Hillingdon, recently toured Sussex for their annual outing, covering nearly 200 miles and ringing at five towers. The weather was perfect and Sussex was truly a 'green and pleasant land.' The musical ring at Withyham came first on the programme. Before departing, the meeting of the local beagles made a picturesque glimpse of country life, with the 'pub' in the background.

Uckfield, Lewes, St. Peter's, Brighton, where a local bride had an unexpected send-off, and Chichester Cathedral, provided the visitors with some pleasant ringing. Five members of the band acted in turn as Ringing Master at the several towers, whilst the secretary was constantly cracking his whip to keep the laggards to time.

The ringers were grateful for the co-operation of the local folk, and were happy to have in their party the Vicar of Hillingdon and Mrs. Tyler, as well as their oldest ringer, William Honor, within a week or so of his 84th birthday.

LEEDS PARISH CHURCH

The Leeds Parish Church ringers visited Northallerton, Whitby and Malton on their annual outing on June 16th. Undoubtedly the chief attraction of the day was the glorious new ten at Whitby, but beautiful weather, the delightful motor coach run over the moors, and, in particular, over the coast road with its gradient of 1 in 44 and its breath-taking 'hairpin' bends, an excellent lunch and an opportunity to visit new towers, all contributed to an enjoyable day.

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN MEETING AT NEWBURY

Some of the enthusiastic members of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Guild, assisted by friends from the Reading Branch, organised a Festival meeting at Newbury on June 16th.

The bells (10) were rung during the afternoon by branch members, and welcomed visiting ringers came from Oxford, Swindon, Reading and many surrounding towers. Another welcome visitor was the general secretary of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, Mr. Fred Rogers.

Methods rung during the afternoon and later in the evening were Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal, not forgetting rounds for beginners.

A service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Bertram Russell) and was followed by tea.

After tea a lecture and demonstration were arranged, to which the public were invited to attend. Mr. A. York Bramble very kindly came from Southampton and gave a very interesting and instructive lecture demonstrated by projector slides and handbells. This was greatly appreciated by all, from the raw recruit to the more experienced ringer.

The committee realised later that a wet evening would have been more suitable for the public instead of a lovely June evening with many outside attractions.

However, one gentleman non-ringer afterwards said that he had learnt something that evening of an art which he never knew existed.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Joint Meeting at Diptford

A joint meeting of the Mid-Devon and South-West Branches was held at Diptford, near South Brent, on June 23rd, when members and friends were present from Kenn, Teignmouth, Newton Abbot, Buckfastleigh, Totnes, Plympton and Plymouth. The president of the Guild (the Rev. Preb. E. V. Cox) also attended.

The delightful ring of six bells, which were rehung last year, were made good use of throughout the afternoon, the ringing including touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

A service was later held in the church, this being conducted by the Rector (the Rev. T. H. Mousley); a bountiful tea in the Church Hall followed.

There was no regular business meeting but Mr. J. E. Lilley, of Newton Abbot, proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector of Diptford for the use of his bells, for conducting the service, and to the ladies for the tea arrangements. An apology for absence was received from Mr. E. T. Paul Field, of Dorchester, whilst four non-resident members and one associate member were elected.

The visitors later returned to the tower after which a move was made to Ughorrough, where there is a beautiful church and where the bells were found very difficult to handle.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held at Kingswinford on June 16th in beautiful summer weather. Members of the local young and enthusiastic band gave a hearty welcome to all.

The Vicar, the Rev. J. F. Parker, conducted the Guild service, assisted by his organist and choir boys. Ringers' wives served a bountiful tea and the Vicar presided at the short meeting following. The secretary read a letter of thanks he had received from their late president (Canon Waring) thanking the Guild for the gift of flowers received at his home in Norwich.

Thirteen new members were elected and an invitation to Cradley on September 29th for the next quarterly meeting was accepted with thanks.

WINCHESTER MAYOR ENTERTAINS BELLRINGERS

On Wednesday evening, June 20th, following the normal weekly practice at Winchester Cathedral, the bellringers were invited round to the Abbey House, where they were the guests of the Mayor and Mayoress, Cclr. and Mrs. A. T. Edmonds. This was a return invitation from the Mayor, who three weeks previously, at the invitation of the ringers, had visited the Cathedral belfry, where he had seen both the bells and the ringers at work.

Also present at the Abbey House were the Mayor's two daughters (the younger one of whom showed a remarkable interest in bellringing, and we hope will shortly take it up), Canon and Mrs. Cowley and a Dr. Goid and his fiancée (visitors from Australia, who apparently knew several Australian ringers).

Refreshments were provided whilst the Mayor welcomed his guests. He said he thought this the first time that the ringers had been invited into the Abbey House, and he would like to take the opportunity of thanking them, on behalf of the city, for the way in which they rang the bells so beautifully and regularly each Sunday. He also mentioned that he had been present in the belfry recently when Mr. W. C. Lampard, the captain, had been presented with a wrist watch in commemoration of 60 years' service as a ringer at the Cathedral, and added that he was glad to see the captain still 'so full of beans.'

Mr. Lampard replied by thanking the Mayor on behalf of all the ringers for his worship's kind invitation, and confirmed that this was, indeed, the first time they had been invited to the Abbey House. He said that ringing the bells up in the belfry the ringers were often considered out of sight, therefore out of mind, but that was not the case. Mr. Lampard also took the opportunity of thanking Canon Cowley who, ever since his arrival in Winchester, had regularly each Sunday come up into the belfry during ringing and had been a constant source of help and encouragement to the ringers.

The Mayor and Mayoress bade their guests good-night, everyone agreeing that it had been a very pleasant evening.

BARNSELY & DISTRICT SOCIETY Silkstone Win Shield

The annual Shield Contest was held at Darfield on June 9th. The result of the draw and the order of the ringing was as follows:—

Friezland: Faults 117, Penalties 0, Total 117; Cawthorne: 154, 0, 154; Shelley: 233, 0, 233; Silkstone: 86, 0, 86; Lindley: 109, 0, 109.

Mr. A. Chant, Felkirk, and Mr. J. Buxton, Shelley, were the judges. Silkstone were the winners and will hold the shield for twelve months. The Rector presented the trophy to the conductor of the winning team.

Votes of thanks were given to the Rector for the use of the bells and the welcome given, also to the ladies for the splendid tea. A very happy afternoon was spent with some very good ringing.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO MR. J. J. PRATT

Ringling friends of the late Joseph J. Pratt, who for 50 years was a member of the band at St. John's, Hillingdon and for many years the captain, may like to have the opportunity of contributing towards the cost of providing a memorial in the ringing chamber of St. John's. It is hoped that this will take some practical form, such as a bookcase in which could be kept Mr. Pratt's ringing papers and other books of the local Guild. Contributions should be sent or given to Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, Seaford, Slough Road, Iver Heath, Bucks, before July 16th, when the fund will be definitely closed to enable the scheme to be brought to fruition in the very near future.

BIGGLESWADE DISTRICT

Saturday, June 16th, was the day chosen by the Biggleswade District of the Bedfordshire Association for their annual outing. A combination of pretty countryside, excellent rings of bells, a luxurious new coach and interesting old churches resulting in a most enjoyable and successful tour.

After the coach had made its rounds and the ringers of 13 towers were aboard, we set off, the music of handbells occasionally filling the coach, to arrive punctually at Bicester, where Mr. C. Kitch had the bells (tenor 15 cwt.) up and ready for us. Bob Major was the first method, followed by Grandsire Triples, Cambridge and Kent Treble Bob, the bells being rung straight down in peal after Stedman Triples.

Kidlington, with its slender spire, set amongst the stone cottages was our next stop. Yorkshire was the first touch on this eight (tenor 23½ cwt.), other methods being Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Cambridge. Unfortunately, we were about three hours too early to ring at the wedding of the daughter of the local ringer who met and had the bells set up for us.

Lunch was taken at Witney, then a walk across the green to the church (voted by some the best tower of the day), where the stragglers amongst us found guests arriving for a wedding and some of our own party ringing handbells on the green. Those of us who went in church to the wedding heard the bells (tenor 16 cwt. 3 qr. 11 lb.) ringing out merrily to Grandsire Triples both before and after the service; an extremely well-struck course of Stedman Triples followed, also Bob Major and Double Norwich.

The next tower was Burford, where once again we enjoyed some excellent ringing, including touches of Bristol, Grandsire and Stedman. Bob Major and Cambridge. We were joined here by a local ringer who had tea with us at the New Inn. After tea, several courses on handbells were rung outside before we proceeded to Bampton. Here the eight bells, heaviest of the day (tenor 25 cwt.) were rung up in peal and straight into a touch of Yorkshire. Grandsire, Bob Major and Superlative were the other methods rung.

Appleton, with its small church and tower containing ten bells (tenor 14½ cwt.) was our last call. Up and down the short ladder in turns for ringing of rounds, Bob Royal, course of Grandsire Caters, a touch of Stedman Caters, which unfortunately came to grief. The best ringing here was when two local ringers joined in a course of Stedman Caters.

The whole party extend their thanks to the organiser, Mr. Lewis Bywaters, for a well-planned tour with excellent choice of towers (proved by friendly arguments in the bus on the homeward journey, as to the best tower of the day). D. J. H.

THE LECTURE

MOST ringers in responsible positions are called upon at some time or another to speak on bells or change ringing. From time to time we get demands for copies of an appropriate lecture suitable for a youth organisation, a parish men's meeting or a Rotary Club, and invariably these requests come from ringers well versed in the many sides of ringing, but are really nonplussed as to what to give and what to leave out. We are publishing this week a precis of a lecture delivered by a well-known personality in the hope that it might prove to be a useful guide on which to base a lecture. Probably the whole of the matter is familiar to 90 per cent. of our readers; many will probably say they could do better, but we trust that the facts as presented will be helpful. It is the writer's experience that invariably when he is asked to speak the notice is extremely short—probably because he is treated as a stop gap in an emergency—and the possession of notes on a given theme is invaluable.

When delivering a lecture much depends on the audience; the lecture to be a success has to be prepared to suit the audience and not vice versa. Above all, do not be abstruse and avoid as far as possible technical terms which are peculiar to the Exercise. If, for example, the address is being given to boys of a Youth Club, the principles of how a bell works, its construction, the art of the foundry, both ancient and modern, should be given a prominent place. The introduction of a model bell is of great value in making clear the details. Youth at a certain age love facts and figures. Be ready with weights and details of the biggest bells in the country, but do not neglect the introduction of appropriate anecdotes and stories to brighten the talk. The old chestnuts to the ringing fraternity are lapped up with avidity by those who are unversed in the art. A professor in mathematics at one of the leading colleges once confided to the Editor that for 15 years he had been trotting out the same old jokes at appropriate stages in his course of lectures and to each succeeding group they never failed to make an appeal.

If possible in a lecture introduce a local touch. The public generally have little idea of their own bells and their history; there is an antiquarian streak in most people. In the writer's own belfry there is painted on the wall the record of a peal of Grandsire Triples rung in the 1750's and composed by the 'ingenious' Mr. Holt. Who was the 'ingenious' Mr. Holt enquired one of the non-ringing visitors. That question in itself was the material for talk of the shoemaker who died at the age of 27, but in his short life had bequeathed to the ringing fraternity a composition that has stood the test of 200 years. The origin of Queens and Whittingtons familiar to many ears can also be introduced.

Models of a bell and lantern slides are a natural asset to any talk. The musically minded are invariably interested in the tuning of a bell and the different notes in its construction. To introduce the principles of change ringing simply is far from easy. The most successful is either by slide diagrams or handbells. To the non-ringing audience everything must be of the simplest character and definitions avoided. Generally speaking, a few mathematical details showing the difference between peals of Doubles, Minor, Triples, Major, etc., are essential to any talk where change ringing is introduced. Similarly the constitution of a peal and its importance to the Exercise in setting a standard of achievement should be introduced.

If the gathering is associated with the Church, the strong views held by the Exercise generally and the Central Council in the ringer's vocation as a servant of the Church should be emphasised. The heritage of the last century that ringers were a dissolute body still holds the field, and the writer, probably in common with many others, has had to answer the question from parents steeped with the wrong conception of the type of person who rings bells as to whether it is a fit and proper hobby or exercise for his son or daughter to take up. Happily the question is one that can be easily answered. We think that most of our Sunday service bands have a strong sense of vocation, and even if church attendance after ringing is not 100 per cent., we can truthfully say that ringers are a body of God-fearing, Christian men and women.

Question time is the testing time of the lecturer. Of works of fiction about ringing none has captured public imagination more than 'Nine Tailors,' by Dorothy Sayers. A question on this novel invariably arises, and one is tempted to ask how many people were attracted to ringing through first reading this book. The Editor would certainly like to be enlightened on that point. 'What made you take up ringing?' is another personal poser. We doubt if anyone can give the answer of the Editor—'Through sub-editing "The Ringing World."' After all, it is a far better occupation on a Sunday than hitting a golf ball around a golf links and it is, above all, a service which all of us hold most dearly.

A good lecture on ringing is the most valuable form of propaganda. Guilds and Associations should never hesitate to tell their own story of the bells. We want the public to know our mysteries, to love the bells as we love them, and to be able to write in the same strain as Mr. Le Tall did in his letter in our last issue of going out regularly each Sunday morning for the last 45 years to listen to the bells of St. Wulfram's, Grantham. There is an example of real affection which is hard to beat.

What is believed to be the first 'three generations' peal in Wales, certainly for the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, was rung at Caerphilly, Glam., on June 30th. It was a praiseworthy performance on the part of the eldest Bailey, 'Joe,' who, at 79 years of age, rang faultlessly. Incidentally it is 27 years since Bert Weaver and Fred Bailey rang a peal together—Union Triples in which 'J. W. J.,' of Newport, now 85, took part.

Poole bells will be broadcast on the West Regional on July 17th at 6.30 p.m.

Mr. Arthur H. Beamish 'completed his circle' of Chilvers Coton tower on June 30th, Mr. Gibson Jackson that of Conesborough, Yorks, on June 28th, and Mr. Michael Brown, Whetstone, Leics., on June 27th.

Regarding the peal of Plain Bob Major at Cheadle on June 16th, the following corrections have been received: Geoffrey C. Beech treble (not Buck), W. Arthur Guant third (not Want). We regret we were unsuccessful in deciphering the writing in the original copy.

The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Chesterfield, Mr. B. A. Knights informs us, was on October 25th, 1913, being the first of Cambridge Royal for the Yorkshire Association. Both this peal and the one on January 29th, 1921, were called by Mr. Sam Thomas. The only survivor of the first peal is Mr. B. A. Knights, who rang the tenor.

Mr. T. J. Locke's party have concluded a successful peal-ringing week in Worcestershire with 14 peals out of 21 attempts. Special peals include a silent of Cambridge Surprise Major, Spliced Royal and Superlative at Lye (the lightest eight in England). Among the failures was an attempt for Holt's Original on the 200th anniversary day.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The 80th birthday of that grand old veteran, Mr. Isaac Emery, on June 25th, was celebrated by ringing 1,440 Kent Treble Bob Minor on the bells of St. Mary, Cray, Kent, where Mr. Emery rang his first 120 in 1887. The band was R. Ling 1, F. E. Collins 2, Mrs. F. E. Collins 3, W. J. Rawlings 4, P. J. Spice 5, I. Emery (conductor) 6. Mr. E. Alex. Young accompanied the party to listen to the ringing and took part in Stedman Doubles.

The Norwich Festival peal of Grandsire Cinques was secured at the second attempt; the following Sunday. The first attempt ended abruptly after 1 hour 25 minutes due to a broken rope.

Aldbourne (Wilts) ringers paid a visit to the neighbouring village of Rimsbury on July 1st for the purpose of ringing a quarter peal for evening service. After half an hour's ringing, the clapper of the tenor broke.

June was an unfortunate month for peal-ringing by Mr. F. Warrington. He participated in four attempts (three Surprise and one Double Norwich Court Bob Major) with good ringers and good bells and lost each attempt.

On Sunday, July 1st (his 84th birthday), Mr. Josiah Morris, Leicester's G.O.M., rang for morning service 640, and for evening 700 Grandsire Triples at St. Margaret's Church, where, for 30 years, he was verger. Both touches were conducted by his eldest son, Ernest, who has been verger there for 14 years.

For some years Godalming's seventh bell has been out of action. A contract has been placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for recasting this bell, and other repairs. It is hoped to begin work on the bells later this year. Mr. Victor Smith has been elected captain and secretary of the tower in succession to the late Mr. Charles Childs.

THE BRITISH ART OF BELL-RINGING

AN AID TO THOSE CALLED UPON TO LECTURE

MANY ringers are called upon from time to time to explain the art of bell-ringing to non-ringing audiences. For the guidance of those called upon to undertake this useful piece of propaganda, we give a summary of a lecture delivered by Mr. A. York-Bramble on 'The British Art of Bellringing' and delivered on June 16th at a meeting held under the auspices of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Newbury.

Those who are ringers are not infrequently asked: 'What do you find to interest you in this ringing business?' After a few brief words of explanation, it is our common experience to hear the surprised comment, 'Oh, I never guessed there was so much in it.' How much there is in this campanology, of both mental and physical recreation and enjoyment, we hope, in this talk, to show. Campanology may be defined as the science and art of what goes on in the campanile or bell tower (Latin—campana, a bell). The bell is an ancient instrument of sound, of world-wide and manifold uses; though until modern times not a very musical instrument.

In his book, 'Bells of All Nations,' Ernest Morris says: 'The origin of bells took place in those distant days when man began primitively and tentatively to work and to hammer metals. His early impressions would be that malleable copper beaten into a saucer-like shape had a resonance when struck, which intrigued his rudimentary feeling for music. In the Bronze Age, when the melting and mixing of copper and tin became prevalent, the increase in resonance and tonal power of the cast bronze instrument over the hammered copper one would become apparent, and we may consider that in the Bronze Age the bell began its career.'

'The saucer-shape was probably the earliest form of bell—but the spherical, hollow type is also ancient, small in size, with holes here and there, and having a little ball of metal rolling loose therein. These were called crotals—meaning rattle—and of this shape presumably were the golden bells which were commanded to be made for the adornment of the Ephod of Aaron.'

'Possibly the oldest bells in the world, of which there is any information, may be some Assyrian bells found by Layard in the Palace of Nimrod. An ancient bell, reputed by authorities to be at least 3,000 years old, was discovered in excavations in the Holy Land, and is now in a museum in Berlin. Those taken from tombs of the Peruvians, and some small bells brought by the trading canoes of Indians to Columbus, at Cape Honduras, show they were known in America before its discovery by Europeans. Thus we may say that the uses of bells or their substitutes are coeval with the earliest periods of which we have detailed records, and co-extensive with every race to which the human family has branched out.'

'The very earliest bells were probably made of plates rivetted together. Later, casting was adopted and by itinerant foundries travelling with their mobile foundry. Gradually the bell was cast longer in shape, and various curves with different thicknesses at its lip were essayed through the ages until in Europe, about the 12th and 13th centuries, a contour not very different from the modern conformation was reached, its outstanding feature being the 'sound bow' or thick part of the bell where the clapper strikes near the lip.'

'The first manner of sounding the hanging bell would be by striking it with a hammer or iron clapper, the bell remaining stationary. In the East, however, a wooden beam is frequently used for this purpose, and in the case of large bells the beam is slung on a rope or chain from a support nearby, and actuated something after the manner of that ancient weapon of attack, the battering ram, but without the iron head.'

'Later on, an inside, instead of an outside clapper would be fitted, which would be pulled to the side of the bell. This remains the usual custom of sounding the bells in Eastern Europe, those huge bells of Russia being nearly all chimed in this manner.'

'Later still, a headstock or yoke was fitted across the head of the bell, with gudgeons and bearings, and the bell was hung to this and swung. From its inception, this manner of using the bell was the favourite one in England.'

'By the year 750 church bells had become sufficiently common in England, for Egbert, Archbishop of York (732—766) to order that the priests should toll them at the appointed hours. St. Dunstan hung many bells in Britain in the 10th century.'

NEW POSTAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

The Editorial Committee regret that owing to the present finances of 'The Ringing World' they are unable to meet the increased postal charges when subscribers renew their subscriptions.

The new rates, which become operative with subscriptions due on July 6th, are as follows:—
Quarterly Subscription, 6s.
Half-yearly Subscription, 11s. 8d.

To ensure continuity of delivery, subscriptions should be sent without delay to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Contributions from yearly subscribers to meet the extra 1s. 5d. postage on their copies for 1951 would be gratefully acknowledged by Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent, or by the Editor.

THREE METHODS OF STRIKING A BELL

There are three ways of causing bells to sound, viz. (1) "Clocking," or striking the stationary bell with a hammer. Using large numbers of bells in this way is known as carillon playing, for which some continental campaniles are famous and compete with carillons in English-speaking countries. (2) Chiming or slightly swinging a bell mounted in bearings so that the clapper of the bell is made to bounce against its lip. (3) "Ringing" proper, which involves the complete swing of the bell on its bearings through 360 degrees. This, in fact, increases the number of points in space at which sound waves radiate from the vibrating bell and this, in turn, has the effect of increasing the resonance of the bell. Of course it follows that in the case of the large, heavy bells, some preliminary action must be taken to get the heavy mass of metal raised to the upside-down position. This is achieved by starting with the small degrees of swing and increasing the angle of swing in pull after pull (illustrate with handbell or model). Similarly, after ringing, if the bell is to be left in the position in which it began, it must be gradually "lowered." This is the reverse process to that of "raising" it.

The use of bells in chiming and ringing was originally employed without any particular attention to sequence or order of striking; but later, where several bells were hung together, it became the custom to strike them round on descending order of pitch. The unvaried ringing of 'rounds' tends to become monotonous and in course of time English ringers developed the knack of holding the bell upside down on the point of balance, while other bells 'cut,' as ringers say, into the place on which the held-up bell would normally have struck. In short, they developed a way of changing places of their bells, so that they were struck round in successively different orders or 'changes,' whilst yet maintaining the increased resonance and 'with the bell thus swinging, Englishmen found it possible gradually to evolve the intricate and wonderful art of change ringing which in England to-day has attained so high a degree of development.'

The bell-ringing we are to discuss more particularly then, is peculiar to English-speaking peoples; indeed it is a peculiarly British art calling forth a peculiarly British industry in bell construction and bell hanging. This form of bell-ringing consists in the production, on mathematical lines, of different orders, or arrangement of sounding, of the bells without repetition; and, in so doing, of swinging the great bells through a complete revolution of 360 degrees at each stroke. The ringers work out their positions in which to strike as the ringing proceeds: rather like playing chess or draughts with the bell ropes, and, when ringing a complete peal, as it is called, the process continues for about three hours unceasingly, while 5,000 or more of these 'changes,' as they are called, are sounded out.

The layman, not knowing of this, may never have paused to listen and thus to distinguish the British form of scientific change ringing, so different from the haphazard clash changing of foreign bell-ringing. At this juncture it may be useful to test ourselves on this very point of dissemination. How many of us, hearing church bells ringing, have listened with an appreciative ear and have thus been able to note even the simple fact of the number of bells being rung? (Tests are then made with handbells with rounds.)

The lecturer then introduced lantern slides from Messrs. John Taylor and Co. illustrating the casting and tuning of the bell, calling attention to the three notes.

DEVELOPMENT OF CHANGE RINGING

Change ringing seems to have evolved about the middle of the 17th century, although societies or guilds for ringing bells existed before that time. They comprised bands of mainly well-to-do young men, with time on their hands to indulge in what, in those earlier times, was coming to be regarded as a secular sport. In 1673, however, meeting to practise their ringing at the six-bell tower of St. Martin's, College Hill, London, there came into being the Ancient Society of College Youths, to which many of us to-day have the honour to belong.

Considerable physical strength and skill were required in those times to manipulate the bells to the degree of swing then becoming customary, with only the half- or three-quarter wheels as then fitted, and at the same time to make them strike or sound correctly in their proper sequence interval. As prowess developed ringers began to vary the monotony of 'rounds' by changing places with neighbours in the sound-sequence, one bell and one place at a time, by checking or widening the degree of swing. Then came a step which led to the great advance in the development of the art—the fitting of full-circle wheels to the headstock of the bells. Now that these could be swung right up on to the point of balance, poised mouth uppermost, any one bell could be held up more positively and thus allow another bell to strike with certainty into the sound-gap thus provided. This soon led to the introduction of what were called 'cross peals.' In these, the bells all moved together, some moving 'down' and the others moving 'up' with consequent simultaneity of place-exchanging, in pairs.

The result called for an additional skill—the mental one of concentration on the part of every ringer thus engaged. This diagram may help towards an understanding of the process and confining our attention to the card-like arrangement of squares, we see how the exchange of positions is most easily effected on four bells. From 'rounds' at the beginning (1, 2, 3, 4) we see how the first change-row is got from its original order by two pairs of bells exchanging positions. The next is seen to be got by one pair exchanging positions; the next, two pairs, the next, one pair, and so on until eventually rounds is reached again.

Put into general terms, we observe that in one case all bells exchange places throughout the row in pairs; and in the next case all except the two end bells do so; this continuing alternately, 'hunting,' as it is called, until the original order is reached. The total number of such changed orders on a given ring of bells may be got by multiplying together the number of the bells thus:—

- On 3 bells,  $3 \times 2 \times 1$ , or 6.
- On 4 bells,  $4 \times 3 \times 2 \times 1$ , or 24.
- On 5 bells, 120.
- On 6 bells, 720.
- On 7 bells, 5,040.
- On 8 bells, 40,320.

And on 12 bells the staggering total of 479,001,600. Of course, all these could never be rung straight off, but ringers attempt lengths of 5,000 and over, technically called 'peals,' working out their exchanging positions as the ringing proceeds, according to the particular method being rung.

The lecture concluded with a reference to the organisations of Guilds and Associations. 'The Exercise is ever ready to welcome new members to its brotherhood, for those who would seriously intend to acquire some degree of proficiency in its art. Advancement to the higher realms of complicated method-ringing is a matter of individual choice; but attainment of skilled bell control and good striking is essential; so that a place may be taken with confidence and just pride, in what is both a practical form of worship and the primary object of church bell-ringing, namely, the summons to Divine Service.

DEMONSTRATION DRILL OF CHANGE-PRODUCTION

Six performers, preferably of about the same height, each carrying a card about eight inches by six inches on chest, exhibiting a number. In right hand is a handbell. They line up off-stage in numerical order, '1' carrying the treble and so on down to '6' carrying the tenor. At a given cue they file on to the stage and line up with the treble to the right of the line and the tenor to the left. The numbers are now read in order from left to right by the audience.

Cue:—(Lecturer): A team of handbell ringers on the platform here, actually change places in a row, as they affect the changes in sound-sequence.

The general idea is that the six ring rounds while standing still, and the audience appreciate that there is no change of order either as heard or seen. The lecturer then gives the word: 'Go changes' and the ringers complete the whole pull, then begin to move their positions. The moving is done by two smart steps which bring the ringers into a new order. As soon as they step into this new order, the lead-bell starts the new 'change' and others follow in order. When the change is rung round completely, the whole row perform two more steps smartly together, and get into a new order. Then that change is rung round. The process is repeated five times, which gives the 12 change-rows of Original and brings them back to rounds position. There they ring one whole pull and cease. (Ringers move up behind and down in front.) The whole effect depends on very smart stepping together and then a neat ring along the row. Ringing only occurs when every ringer is standing rigid in the new position. The handbell is held still with the 'handstroke up' or 'backstroke down' position, whichever it may be, while all take the steps into the new position.

Bradfield Branch Seek Amalgamation

The annual meeting of the Bradfield Deanery Branch was held at Bradfield on June 23rd.

At the business meeting after tea the members passed the following resolution: 'That, in view of the lack of support from its members, this Branch applies for amalgamation with the Reading Branch, subject to the approval of the Reading Branch and the Guild, any towers wishing to make other arrangements being at liberty to do so; and that the £50 in 3½ per cent. war loan should be handed over to the General Guild in trust for ten years, the interest to be used by the General Guild. Should any tower wish to make other arrangements, the remaining cash in hand to be divided amongst the towers in proportion to their membership.'

SURREY ASSOCIATION

N.W. District

The meeting at Banstead on June 23rd was attended by 32 ringers. A short service was conducted by the curate, who gave a welcome to those present.

Before opening the meeting, the District Master, Mr. F. E. Collins, spoke in appreciation of the services rendered to the Association by the late Charles Dean, the members standing in silence.

The hon. secretary proposed nine new members, and three compounding members were proposed by Mr. W. Oatway. The general secretary asked that errors in the 1948 report should be notified to him direct.

Mr. R. Tomlin stated that ringing had commenced again at Benhilton. The sum of 16s. was subscribed to the general bell fund. A vote of thanks by Mr. Collins was passed to the curate and Mr. H. Pitstow for arranging the tea and meeting.

REDEDICATION

Frensham, Surrey

The ring of six at Frensham, Surrey, the oldest bell being dated 1627, have been restored and were rededicated by the Vicar (the Rev. L. J. Allen) on Sunday, July 1st.

The cost of restoring the bells was approximately £460. Towards this £500 had been raised. The bells had not previously been overhauled for 75 years, and were in a bad condition. The contract was placed with Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who recast the third bell and rehung the six on new wheels with cast-iron headstocks and ball bearings. The frame has been tightened and strengthened, and treated with preservative.

The ceremony was preceded by the unveiling of a peal board in memory of Mr. Alfred John Chuter, who was captain of the local tower for 20 years, and also served the church faithfully and well as churchwarden for many years.

The board, which was unveiled by Mr. C. W. Denyer, Ringing Master of the Farnham District, was made of English oak, and recorded two peals in which Mr. Chuter participated, viz., Grandsire Doubles on May 7th, 1935, which was the first peal at Frensham for 21 years; and a peal of Doubles in two methods (Grandsire and Plain Bob) on July 16th, 1939, to celebrate the 700th anniversary of the earliest record of the church.

The unveiling and dedication was preceded by a shortened form of evensong conducted by the Vicar. In an address the Vicar welcomed the ringers from other parishes, including Mr. C. W. Denyer, Ringing Master of the Farnham District, who had given help from the moment they decided that the task of restoring their bells must be faced, and had been a great source of help and strength in every way.

As they looked forward to hearing once again the familiar sound of the bells which were associated with so many memories and had marked occasions of joy and of solemnity in both local and national life, they remembered that the bells sent out a double sound. First of all a message of the risen Christ, sent out into the world to proclaim that He is the King of Glory. Secondly, they sent out an invitation, a challenge and a call to worship.

The Vicar, attended by the churchwardens, Mr. F. B. Stead and Mr. F. J. Hutchings, with the choir then moved in procession to the tower, where, at the invitation of the Vicar, Mr. C. W. Denyer unveiled the memorial. The dedication of the restored ring of bells followed. Then the Vicar passed the bell ropes to the captain of the ringers, saying, 'Let these bells ring out the message of the Risen Christ unto the world, proclaiming that He is the King of Glory.'

The bells were then rung in rounds by the following Frensham ringers: Miss D. Aslett treble, G. Ackerman 2, Miss Ann Butler 3, Eric Case 4, Dennis Shepperd 5, D. W. Dadson tenor. After the service 180 Plain Bob Minor was rung by Mrs. C. W. Denyer 1, G. S. Joyce (district secretary) 2, John P. Fidler (representing John Taylor and Co.) 3, W. J. Pierce 4, E. J. Bragg 5, C. W. Denyer (conductor) 6.

The service was attended by ringers from Aldershot, Farnham, Old Woking, Ash, Seale, Farnborough, Sandhurst, Hersham, Grimston (Norfolk) and Ottershaw.

IMBER BELLS TO RING AGAIN

Five bells from the 13th-century church in the 'dead' village of Imber, Wilts, have been presented by the Diocese of Salisbury to the modern church of St. Francis, Salisbury, so that they may again ring out across the Plain.

The villagers were compulsorily moved from Imber in 1943 to make way for a battle school, and the War Office has refused to give the area up. The bells, cast in 1635, are now in an Army hut at Warminster.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CONDUCTOR'S WIFE GIVES OTHER SIDE OF PEAL ATTEMPT

Dear Sir,—May I, as wife of the conductor of the peal in 22 methods 'in hand' at Cleatham on June 25th, be allowed to add a postscript? How this peal came to a successful end I'll never know!

The first attempt came to grief; then a discussion as to whether a further attempt would be advisable as it was then 7.40 p.m. The band were convinced they could make it before the light failed, so the wife of ringer 7-8 and myself retired to prepare two small hilarious daughters for bed—no mean feat, seeing that the 'ringing chamber' is directly below the bedroom. This was finally completed with threats of dire consequences should any disturbance be heard.

A little later the mobile fish saloon trundled along; ringer 7-8 momentarily lost concentration by thinking of his supper. Lady ringer confessed she was wondering what we were doing, and ringer 5-6 was trying to work out a peal of 5,000 changes that they might have rung in less time. I gathered later that by this time they could no longer see each other's bells or even the clock, and I guess, much to their own surprise and our relief, the bells came 'Home' just as it chimed ten. I've wondered since if the old adage, 'No peal, no supper,' spurred them on to this great effort.

The children greeted me in the morning, 'Had Daddy found Bob?' because they heard him calling Bob lots of times! Yes! a non-ringing wife certainly has her moments!—Yours sincerely, FRANCES FEIRN.

Cleatham, Lincs.

'BELFRYMANSHIP'

Dear Sir,—The best that can be said about Mr. Meadows' articles is that they are comprehensive, in so far that they include satirical references to most of us who try to work for the good of the Exercise.

I venture to suggest that after this young man has had, say, ten years' experience of tower captaincy, of holding an office in the Guild, of peal arrangement, of teaching beginners, of encouraging improvers, etc., he will wish to disclaim authorship of these articles.

We try to do our best, Mr. Editor. We make many mistakes, but we do look to 'The Ringing World' for encouragement and not for sarcasm.—Yours faithfully, ARTHUR A. DAVIS.

Bournemouth.

NOTE.—We hope that most of our readers treat the two Belfrymanship articles as a humorous rather than a factual exposition of possible ringing experience. The subtle wit has appealed to a great many of our readers, who have asked for more.—ED.

Beverley and District Society

The Society's June meeting was held at Hesse on June 9th, when 45 members attended. The bells, a pleasant six, were rung during the afternoon and evening to Standard Methods. Little Bob and Cambridge. Lady members of the Society turned out in force and formed two bands to ring changes.

The service in All Saints' Church was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. Day). In a short address the Vicar welcomed the ringers and spoke of his own experiences in the tower. He spoke on bells and ringers and their places in church and service.

Tea and business meeting were held in the Church Hall, followed by a short period of handbell ringing.

ACCIDENT OR DESIGN?

Dear Sir,—It was on a journey through France that I read Mr. Lister's letter in your issue of June 22nd. As I am at the moment in Spain, I am literally not in a position to get into contact with my colleagues of the Literature Committee, but for my own part I regret that none of us thought of including a mention of the 'Bellringers' Guide' in this year's report. It is a fact that, when this work came to my notice in 1950, the Literature report had already been sent in, but it would have been appropriate, as Mr. Lister rightly says, to have referred to it this year as a book already well known to ringers.

The inclusion of Mr. Morris's new book in this year's report is simply explained. Just as I was engaged on the concluding lines of the report, a copy of 'Bells of all Nations' reached me by post, so that there was just time to insert a brief reference to it in the report presented to the Central Council.

With pleasant recollections of Mr. Dove's visit to one of our Guild meetings in Dorset, and with sincere admiration for his enterprising and devoted work at Leeds, I should be extremely sorry if he imagined that we had been guilty of any conscious discourtesy in omitting to mention his comprehensive publication. Both authors concerned have devoted a prodigious degree of industry and research to the production of their respective books, and merit the highest commendation.—Yours sincerely,

F. LL. EDWARDS.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

By P. W. B. Semmens

It is proposed to restart the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, which has been dormant since the ban on ringing was imposed early in the war.

At one time the territory of the Association stretched from West Hartlepool in the north, through Darlington, Richmond, Ripon and Thirsk, to Scarborough in the south-east. However, it is not intended to set the boundaries of the reformed Association as wide as this, since it would be impossible for all members to attend every meeting owing to the geography of the area. The Cleveley hills and Yorkshire moors, stretching from Whatley to Northallerton, cut off the area around Tees-side from the remainder of Yorkshire. It is for this reason that the Yorkshire Association, within whose area the majority of the territory of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association has fallen since the war, has been unable to hold many meetings in the Cleveland area and similar difficulties prevent ringers from the Tees-side area attending Yorkshire Association meetings further away.

During the war several of the old and experienced ringers of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association died, including Thomas Metcalfe, of Middlesbrough, who for many years had held the offices of secretary and Ringing Master. Indeed, in and around Middlesbrough it is now necessary to hold the weekly ringing practices in rotation at three towers (Middlesbrough, Ormesby and Thornaby) in order to obtain sufficient members. The last-mentioned tower has, however, of recent months, been able to muster a band for service ringing on Sundays.

The Skelton band is probably the best in the area, being capable of quarter peals of Surprise Minor as well as Plain Major. At Saltburn, the band of seven is too few for their fine ring of eight. There are also two further towers in the area where ringing is regularly carried out. They are Guisborough and Stokesley, the bells of the latter being in urgent need of rehanging.

ON HOLIDAY AT LYME REGIS

William Yates, of Buckingham, and Ernest Morris, of Leicester, recently had a delightful week's holiday at Lyme Regis, Dorset. The weather was ideal and the beautiful setting of the resort and the splendid countryside made this 'break' one never to be forgotten.

The week started with a good peal of Superlative on the grand eight at Broad Clyst and a quick visit to Exeter to have a pull on the heavy twelve at the Cathedral.

Monday's practice at Yeovil was greatly enjoyed, and on Tuesday a good quarter peal of Lyme Surprise was rung at Axminster.

On Wednesday an attempt was made for a peal at Whitechurch Canonicorum. When only three courses to go, 'it just didn't,' much to the regret of all concerned. Thursday's practice at Lyme Regis produced many methods. On Friday visits were paid to Kilmington and Dalwood, towers with long-ended ropes as used by call change ringers. Nevertheless, the ropes were manipulated to London and Cambridge Surprise. On Saturday a really fine peal of Yorkshire Surprise was scored at Crewkerne.

A grand evening's practice was held on Monday at Seaton with the Lyme Regis band in force. Touches of London, Yorkshire, Bristol, Lyme, Superlative, Double Norwich, Stedman and Grand sire all came round! For both Sunday services Lyme bells went well to all the above methods.

We wish through this medium to thank the Vicar of Lyme, Rev. Canon Carew Cox, for his great welcome, to the ringers of Lyme and their friends, and to George Stedman Morris for so ably conducting this delightful week's outing.

It is intended, initially, that the reformed Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association should embrace the seven towers just mentioned with the addition of Carlton, in Cleveland, where at present there is no ringing. Since the war, monthly meetings have been held in these few towers, with occasional visits further afield. They have been purely informal, although some postal notifications are sent out each time to those who have been unable to attend the weekly practices immediately prior to the meeting.

By not advertising in 'The Ringing World,' there has been little opportunity for any ringers visiting the area to learn of these meetings, and consequently the benefit of their company and experience has been lost. The Cleveland and North Yorkshire funds, which have been kept in trust, are now available, and it is hoped to rectify this omission in future. It is also hoped that the formation of a local Society will increase the interest amongst the general public and possibly lead to an increased number of recruits for the Exercise.

Several attempts have been made during the last five years to reform the Association. These have come to nothing as no one has been prepared to take on the post of secretary, but it is now possible to fill this office.

The inaugural meeting of the reformed Association will be held in Middlesbrough on Saturday, July 21st, at 2.30 p.m. Ringing will take place at St. Hilda's Church from 2.30—4 p.m. and after tea. The Vicar, the Rev. M. C. Collis, has kindly consented to conduct a short service at 4 p.m., which will be followed by tea in the Church Hall, opposite, at 4.30 p.m. The meeting to elect officers and transact any other business will commence at approximately 5 p.m. It is hoped that as many old members of the Association as possible will be present, as well as other ringers from the neighbouring Associations, whose presidents were informed of the proposal to reform the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association some weeks ago, when the matter was first decided.

EXCURSIONS REVIEWED

CHILCOMPTON, SOMERSET

The Chilcompton ringers, together with wives and friends, held their outing on June 30th.

Following an early start and a somewhat misty drive across Sedgemoor and through Taunton, the first tower, Wiviliscombe, was reached. This church was rebuilt in 1827 and possesses a good ring of eight bells. Although the tower is square the interior of it is octagonal, a somewhat unusual feature.

The next step was Ash Pryors (just off the main Taunton-Minehead road), a delightful little six in a small church with a tiny tower. Then followed a beautiful drive right over the Quantock Hills to Bridgwater where lunch was taken at the White Hart Hotel.

Back across Sedgemoor to Middlezoy, a ring of six with a 14 cwt. tenor. Ringing here coincided with the local Festival Celebrations and several of the local ringers joined the visitors. The tower is a fine one with several canopied niches.

After a circular trip of some six miles (returning to Middlezoy) and a drive along the runway of a disused aerodrome, the fourth tower, Shapwick, was reached. Here is a big central tower and a perfect going ring of six bells (tenor 11 cwt. 1 qr. 8 lb.) which were a joy to ring. The church was extensively restored in 1861, although it is on 13th century foundations.

Tea at Ashcott followed and then ringing at Greinton, another six, with a 15½ cwt. tenor. The church is 15th century and the chancel is illuminated with fluorescent light tubes which give a very good effect. An old chest, which is dated 1730, and is now used as a vestry table, was noted with interest.

Methods rung during the day ranged from Grandshire and Stedman to Cambridge and London Minor.

There was the necessary stop for 'liquid refreshments' on the way home, when the 'ringers' team were beaten at darts by the 'locals', it being rumoured that this was only because the coach driver, who was scoring, had been bribed!

Thanks are due to the people who met and welcomed the party at the towers and also to Mr. R. G. Beck for making all the arrangements. M. J. H.

HUTTON, ESSEX

The struggling novices of All Saints', Hutton, Essex, were indeed honoured on June 23rd, when the churchwardens and another good friend placed their cars at the disposal of the party of twelve for the annual outing. The wardens themselves and one of the ringers acted as chauffeurs in the tour round mid-Essex.

Itinerary: (1) St. Mary's, Broomfield. An 800-year-old circular tower, containing a pleasing, steady ring of six melodious bells. The music we made thundered down on us.

(2) SS. Peter and Paul, Black Notley. A small, solid Norman church with massive baulks of oak supporting the bell-turret with its five flighty, musical bells.

(3) A welcomed tea, nicely served, at the Barn Restaurant on the Dunmow Road outside Braintree. On the way, one car joined the Festival carnival and almost won a prize.

(4) All Saints', Rayne. Though the church was opened, the fine, red-bricked Tudor tower was closed to us. Somebody had slipped.

(5) St. Nicholas', Fyfield. Its Norman central tower, massive and square, contains a most inviting ring of six bells, easy running and tuneful. The spacious ringing chamber, well lit, is a comfortable place for ardent aspirants of campanology.

We tender our sincere thanks to Herman J. Oliver, who arranged such an enjoyable and successful outing and all others who helped.

CHELTENHAM

The Cheltenham Parish Church ringers abandoned the usual bus means of transport for their outing on June 23rd and, instead, 'requisitioned' members' cars for the job. This was found to be more convenient and enabled Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas to be included in the party.

The first stop was Ludlow (phew, those steps, but the climb was well worth while). Lunch was arranged at Shrewsbury, and afterwards a walk to St. Chad's, and then on to Berrington to try out the two new trebles. After tea at Ironbridge the party went to Coalbrookdale, where ringing had to be curtailed owing to Mrs. 'J. T.' contriving to lose herself, together with a few other members, much to hubby's annoyance. The last tower was Kidderminster.

The social side of the outing finished at Worcester, after which the various cars made a bee-line for home. Methods included Stedman, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge.

HELMINGHAM, SUFFOLK

An early start at 5.45 a.m. was made by the Helmingham company on June 30th for a day in Surrey. A delay in the Blackwall Tunnel resulted in the coach reaching St. Mary's, Lewisham, 45 minutes late. Nevertheless, all had a pull, and a quick 'get-away' was made for Banstead, where wedding bells were rung.

After lunch at Epsom, ringing took place on the handy eight at Ashted. At Leatherhead the company heard the locals ringing for a wedding. The ten bells here proved too much for some of the company, but Treble Ten and Bob Royal was rung.

A glorious ride brought the party to Dorking, where 'Pat' was waiting to welcome the party. After tea, some decent ringing was enjoyed at the Parish Church. The last tower was the fine ten at Kingston, where everyone had a pull. Home was reached at 2 a.m. Thanks are accorded to all who helped to make this long tour a success.

VISIT TO THE TULIP FIELDS OF LINCOLNSHIRE

By Barnsley and District Society

A tour of the tulip fields of Lincolnshire was the objective planned by the Barnsley and District Society for their annual outing on May 26th. The party left Barnsley at 8 a.m. in two coaches.

Much of the route was through lovely wooded country. At Sleaford, Mrs. Wray, the local secretary, was waiting to greet the party, and she had arranged an early lunch at the White Hart Hotel. After the meal the church was visited and the bells raised in peal. The long draught of rope produced difficulties for the inexperienced, but when once this had been mastered a good touch of 'Cartwheel' Minor was rung.

The journey was continued to Crowland Abbey, where Mr. R. Strickland was awaiting the party and soon the ringers were gazing apprehensively at the 100ft. of rope which hung from the bells. Touches of Oxford Minor were rung, and when confidence had been gained a good course of Burton was mastered.

Leaving Crowland, the tour passed through the tulip fields and a halt was made whilst the ladies purchased large bunches of the lovely blooms.

At Spalding Church the Vicar welcomed the party, who proceeded to the ringing chamber, where Mr. Farr had prepared the bells, and the 'tykes' settled down to some enjoyable ringing. Tea was taken at the Railway Tavern, and a scout around the town for presents for 'Mum' held up the departure of the coaches.

At Boston everyone was impressed by the Stump, and although our ringing up to this

HOLY TRINITY, GUILDFORD

Four interesting towers were selected by the Holy Trinity Cathedral Society, Guildford, for their annual outing on June 30th. The first was the war-shattered Church of St. Mary's, Southampton, where the merits of this relatively new ten were tested in a variety of methods, and a welcome visitor to the tower was Mrs. Jessie Kippin, who for many years rang regularly with the elder members of the company at Guildford.

A drive through the New Forest, looking its best in the glorious sunshine, brought the company to Bournemouth. Lunch was followed by a visit to St. John's, Surrey Road, where Mr. Mitchell and Roving Ringer George Evenden accorded the company hearty greetings. The visit provided a bride with the unexpected pleasure of bells for her wedding. (We hope she will realise that the touch of Stedman was Guildford's good wishes to her).

Christchurch Priory was afterwards visited. Twelve-bell ringing was confined to rounds, but two touches of Caters were passable and brought out the beauty of the bells to those on holiday by the river. Guests at tea included Mr. George Preston and Mr. Daniel T. Matkin. At the conclusion of the meal, Mr. T. White voiced the thanks of the company to Mr. F. A. Munday for making the arrangements and looking after the comfort of the visitors. Mr. George Preston welcomed the company and Mr. A. H. Pulling expressed the hope that next year he would have the pleasure of bringing a band to attempt a peal on the Priory bells.

The last tower visited was Romsey Abbey, where the best ringing of the day took place, and to many of the company who had not heard the bells inside the Abbey it was a glorious experience. A variety of Surprise methods were rung and, of course, Rounds for the four probationers. Guildford was reached at 10.45 p.m., to enable two of the party going on a week's peal-ringing jaunt in Worcester-shire to have a good night's rest.

point had been accomplished without climbing stairs, we found at Boston we had to 'get climbing.' Of course, Mum had to follow Dad, and, when artificial respiration had been applied, a course of 'cartwheeling' was rung on the light six—an interesting experience. Further ringing on the heavier bells followed. Then we reluctantly left the lovely old church, and Mr. Parsons, who had made us feel very welcome.

We were all very much impressed by the help given ungrudgingly by the local clergy and ringers, and by the hearty welcome we received at all the towers we visited. Our especial thanks are due to Mr. Jack Bray, of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild for his assistance in locating the local secretaries.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION Bristol Rural Branch

A most successful quarterly meeting was held at the eight-bell tower of Marshfield, Wilts, on June 30th. The pleasant eight were raised and rung to Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich. After the Rev. Moss had ably conducted the service and give a most interesting talk on 'frozen' bells in a nearby tower, members went to 'The Catherine Wheel' where about 50 sat down to a most satisfying tea.

Mr. C. R. Harding took the chair at the business meeting which had an interesting agenda, including fixing July's meeting place (Staple-ton) and the possibility of a combined branches meeting with the Wootton-under-Edge Branch (tentatively at Thornbury on September 22nd). Mr. Corbett, of Marshfield, was proposed as a performing member.

The chairman thanked Mr. J. H. Beazer for his work and efforts to make the meeting such a success. Members then retired for further ringing from rounds upwards, in a manner as excellent as before the service, under Mr. Skidmore's supervision. All looked forward to the next branch meeting at Stapleton on July 28th.

ST. JOHN-THE-DIVINE, LEICESTER

Ringing has now recommenced after the demolition of the spire, and on Sunday, June 24th, the 49th anniversary of the opening of the original eight, 1,260 Stedman Triples was rung before evensong by: T. Thorner 1, Mrs. J. Staniforth 2, G. H. Hebborn 3, S. A. Jesson 4, S. Harrison 5, W. H. Clarke 6, P. J. Staniforth (conductor) 7, A. Cook 8.

Plans had been prepared for the provision of a sound lantern on the top of the tower that remained after the spire demolition, but the cost incurred was so heavy that the idea had to be shelved. An ordinary flat top has been provided instead.

The church, in consequence of this, has still to meet a heavy cost, somewhere in the region of £1,000, and appeals to each and everyone for their support in helping to clear the debt. Subscriptions should be sent to the Rev. R. G. Strutt, St. John-the-Divine Vicarage, Ashwell Street, Leicester, or Mr. S. Harrison, 73, Hopefield Road, Leicester.

A hearty welcome is extended to all ringers to join the Thursday evening practices.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Society's June meeting was transferred to Sherburn-in-Elmet owing to the bells of Kippax not being available on June 30th.

The attendance was like the bus service and left much to be desired. Ringing continued from the usual time until 5 p.m., when the visitors adjourned to the nearby Church Hall, where the local company had provided cups of tea. During this interval the 'Case of the missing Eclair' had to be solved. Apparently the 'ringer' failed to see it laying in a 'place' kept there by a 'single' young lady.

The business meeting was held in the same room. The general items were speedily dealt with. Four new members were elected, viz., Messrs. H. Pettingell, of St. Chad's, Headingly, and W. Scheerer, C. Hague and W. Hague, of Collingham. The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, local company and ladies was proposed by Mr. J. Gibson and seconded by Mr. C. Walsh. Mrs. C. Render acknowledged the thanks and hoped that on our next visit a proper tea would be arranged.

Further ringing took place after the business meeting until 8 p.m. Members were present from Armley, Batley, Bramley, East Ardsley, Guiseley, Headingly, St. Chad, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Rothwell and the local company.

The next meeting is due to be held at Kippax.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—18

STARTED PEAL AT 7.50 P.M.

As usual the diary is full of such accounts of practices, service ringing and peal attempts, which occurred almost daily. In July, 1887, he gives an account of a visit to Ingatstone. After being held up by train delays, etc., they got to the church after 7 p.m. 'Had some ale and a look round, then began ringing at 7.50 p.m. I did not think we were going for a peal as it would be so late, and the parson's son not having rung much Treble Bob, stood in to make the band up. After 3 hours 16 minutes a really well-struck peal of Oxford Treble Bob was brought round. All Cumberlands, except D'Lisle, who is a College Youth. First peal in the method by all except Smith and Newson, and by the Essex Association. The church is surrounded completely by a race course. Western tower opening to church, no door except to the belfry; ring on ground floor.

'On leaving the church, went and had refreshments. As no arrangements made for sleeping anywhere, we had to do the best we could on turning out of the pub at 12; we were all travellers (local ringers as well!), although they close here at 10, we were served plentifully and not the slightest notice being taken of our being in the house. Fred and Nathan Pitstow and Cole walked to Chelmsford and got a bed, after trying several houses, at the Saracen's Head at 1 o'clock in the morning. Newson, Jacob Smith and I slept in the South porch of Galleywood Church, preparing to pass the night on the door mat.

CALLED UP THE SEXTON

'I made my way as well as I could to Whittle; did not meet anyone on the way but was able to enquire the direction from some people not gone to bed, late as it was. . . . Whittle church clock was striking one as I got there. . . . walked all round trying to get a bed. I knocked on Mr. Fitch's door (the Sexton) and after some enquiries he came down and let me in—and thankful I was too! He made me comfortable with a blanket and pillow on his front-room hearth-rug. . . . About 7 o'clock, Newson and Jacob had a look in at me, much to my surprise, Fitch having seen them walking about. . . . They said they had passed an awful night in the porch and were up about 3 o'clock; John Smith snored so much they had to wake him. They saw the sun rise and robbed an orchard. They felt much better after a wash and breakfast at the "Cock and Bell." Went to the tower and rang 1,200 Treble Bob for morning service. Then walked to Chelmsford and rang Grandsire Caters after morning service.'

In the afternoon they went again to Whittle and attempted Grandsire Triples with five locals, but failed; then tried Double Norwich Court Bob which also 'went west.'

TREBLE TEN BEFORE 10 A.M.

Back to Chelmsford, where next morning—August Monday—they pulled the bells up and ready by 6.15 a.m. They had to start early on account of an Assize Court at 10 a.m. They got a peal before 9.40, remarking: 'It's not often a peal of Treble Ten is rung before 10 in the morning.'

Quite a houseful at the 'Dolphin' and two bands arranged—one for Oxford Treble Bob at Galleywood, the other for Grandsire Triples at Whittle. The former rang 1 hour 40 minutes 'when Pitstow fell off the tenor box, too ill to go on any longer. All thought he would not rally again. He gradually got better, however.' The Whittle attempt lasted 1 hour 25 minutes, when 3rd rope slipped wheel and could not get right again. All met at the 'Dolphin' where they stayed till 7.15 ringing handbells and playing ninepins in the back passage, having a lively evening to wind up their visit.

A THRILLING RESCUE

On Sunday, August 7th, Mr. Fussell records: 'I got up at six and went to bathe with a gang of old school mates at Victoria Bridge. L. Owen, after swimming across the river was nearly drowned. I was first to help him out from the end of a boathouse, which, happily was moored close by, or I doubt if he could have swum any further, being quite exhausted.'

Later, Mr. Fussell describes a walk with his brother-in-law to Hounslow and 'on the way home, called and had an hour or so with the local labouring men in an old public house. An old ring of handbells was there and I played a few tunes by tapping, much to the company's interest. A woman came in with some mackerel and I had some cooked at once and ate one! Howden also upset the table and all the mugs and pots on it; a row was also imminent. One or two "delicate ladies" came in and we persuaded one to sing—it was a nice evening altogether. Very few opportunities for a glass of ale were lost by either of us during the day.'

Mr. Fussell states: 'My diary this year—1887—is longer than any previous year and still I find none too much room for writing, the year fitting in very closely. I am afraid my writings will be found very loose and coarse at times, especially that wrote in town. At times I was on the point of letting it drop entirely as I had so much time occupied otherwise. This year I find the most unsuccessful, having met with so many failures of some length, with only 13 successful peals to record. For the future I intend to make notes only and discard writing a diary.' Mr. Fussell gives a tabulated list of 35 peals attempted and lost.

A RINGING TOUR IN NORTH WALES

By T. G. F.

THE Sussex ringers' tour in the first week in July would now appear to be a regular institution. The most enjoyable tour to date commenced on the morning of Sunday, July 1st. The weather was perfect when the coach left Crawley Station for Horsham to pick up more of the party. It then set off to its destination, the Welsh town of Llanfyllin, which was to be the headquarters for the week. The route lay through Reading, Oxford, Broadway, Evesham, Worcester and Shrewsbury; the beautiful countryside was seen at its best. At Llanfyllin the tourists were joined by Mr. and Mrs. T. Roderick, of Porthcawl.

The first tower on Monday morning was at St. Mary the Virgin's, Ellesmere, Salop, beautifully situated among the seven meres of the 'Shropshire lake district.' The party was met by the Vicar, Rev. G. S. Lloyd. Messrs. W. Slade and Joseph Edge, both local ringers, joined in ringing on the eight bells. The next step was to the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Wem, where a good octave hangs in a late 14th century tower, although the remainder of the church is only 150 years old.

After lunch to St. Giles', Wrexham, where the grand ten (tenor 25 cwt.) are in a noble tower. The local ringers assured us this tower was one of the seven wonders of Wales. The last ringing of the day took place in the spacious belfry of St. Oswald's, Oswestry, on a very good octave. Some of the peal boards are extremely old. The tower has obviously been a centre of ringing for hundreds of years.

On Tuesday the route was via Lake Vyrnwy and Lake Bala—the two largest lakes in Wales—to St. Mary's, Dolgelly, where an octave, 15½ cwt. tenor, is very seldom rung. After lunch the party were given a warm welcome at St. Peter's, Machynlleth, by the Rev. E. T. Roberts, Vice-President D. Williams, Deputy Foreman G. E. Venables, J. C. Price and other local ringers. The ringing was good and the local ringers, a very keen band, joined in ringing rounds on the eight bells, and Messrs. G. E. Venables and J. C. Price joined the tourists at tea.

In the evening, by kind permission of Canon Jenkins, the bells of Llanfyllin Church were rung and created quite a stir. Several residents of the town, including the Town Clerk, Mr. T. Jarvis, were in the belfry and many were outside the church. The bells, a good six, were last rung on VJ-Day.

On Wednesday morning the party were honoured at St. Peter's, Ruthin, with a welcome by the Mayor, Councillor R. B. Williams, the Rev. Cecil Jones (whose title is Warden instead of rector or vicar) and Mr. Thomas, the chief local ringer. The 17 cwt. octave was put to good use and best wishes were expressed to Mr. Thomas and his local band.

In the afternoon the tour continued with a journey to St. Margaret's Church, Bodelwyddan, the famous 'Marble Church' near Rhyl. The church seen standing in the trim green churchyard in bright sunlight made a beautiful picture and the wonderful interior was greatly admired. The eight bells (tenor 14 cwt.) were one of the best rings so far met during the tour. The last tower of the day was St. Matthew's, Buckley, where the party was met by the Vicar and local ringers. The local ringers joined in touches of Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise on the 14 cwt. octave. The church has connections with W. E. Gladstone, the famous Prime Minister. His son-in-law was vicar 1897-1904, and in that time the church was completely rebuilt. The chancel is a memorial to Gladstone, and Gladstone's daughter gave the eight bells.

Thursday's ringing began at St. Luke's, Hodnet. These eight excellent bells in an octagonal tower are rung from the ground floor. A passing motorist stopped long enough to ask the coach driver to convey his congratulations to the party on their ringing, regretting he had not sufficient time to meet them personally. At Market Drayton the eight bells of St. Mary's, 17 cwt. tenor, were set going to several methods, and Mr. W. Tyler, one of the local band, joined in the ringing. A visit to St. Nicholas', Newport, where trouble with a slider cut short the ringing time, and to All Saints', Wellington, completed the tower-bell ringing for the day. After the evening meal several members gave a handbell demonstration outside the hotel, including both change ringing and tune ringing, to an appreciative audience.

On Friday the coach left Llanfyllin for a sightseeing tour. The trip lay through Llangollen, Bettws-y-Coed, Capel-Curig, Pass of Llanberis in Snowdonia, Caernarvon, over Menai Bridge to Anglesey, and on return through Llandudno, Llanrwst and Corwen. The only ringing of the day took place at St. David's, Glanadda, Bangor. The bells are a good octave and go very well, but are somewhat difficult to hear inside the tower.

The relatively few peals of Holt's Original rung on the 200th anniversary of the first peal came as a surprise to many in view of the prevalence of peal ringing to-day. A conductor has suggested to us that it would be interesting to ascertain how others call this famous peal and what checks to memory are employed.

Mr. H. Wand, aged 74, rang his first peal for 30 years at Market Overton, Rutland, on June 29th.

Mr. Frederick E. Wilshaw has rung a peal in a different method on each bell in the Church of St. Peter-ad-Vincula, Stoke-on-Trent.

Mr. Fred Dukes, secretary of the Irish Association, has rung his first peal on the tenor in 137 peals.

Writes Mr. A. J. Corrigan: 'As I dare say that many of your subscribers will neglect to comply with your request for the extra 1s. 5d. to cover increase in postage, I send for two.' We trust that there will not be too many claimants for Mr. Corrigan's generosity.

Mr. W. Eric Critchley and Mr. Shirley Barton call our attention to the fact that the method published in the issue of July 13th under the name of Nettleham had already been rung as Withyham at the place of that name on March 21st, 1948, conducted by Philip A. Corby.

The sympathy of many friends will be extended to Mr. Jack L. Millhouse of the Lincoln Cathedral band, who was the victim of a nasty accident last Saturday. He had oiled the bells at Ewerby previous to a peal attempt when, on his way down, he slipped and fractured his kneecap. Through the kind services of a lady in the village, he was taken by car to a doctor at Heckington, who arranged for his removal to Lincoln County Hospital. Mr. Millhouse is in Robey Ward.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Copt Oak ringers have gained further laurels by a peal in 126 methods on June 30th, being the highest number of methods at present known to splice into nine extents.

The weight of the tenor at Marsden, Yorks, is 264 cwt and not 164 cwt. as recorded recently.

The Editor gratefully acknowledges on behalf of 'The Ringing World' Committee a donation of one guinea from an anonymous donor to meet the increased cost of production.

Mr. L. Bailey, of Godshill, Isle of Wight, thanks the many correspondents who wrote interesting replies to his enquiry re Clement Tosier.

The ringer of the third in the peal at St. John's, Bournemouth, was Miss Kathleen E. Fletcher and not Miss D. R. Fletcher, as inadvertently submitted to us.

Biggleswade District outing was on June 23rd and not June 16th, writes our correspondent. We do not question, after this, that the outing was a great success!

We have had a spate of 'completing the circle' of towers this week. The following are to hand:—Mr. G. W. Critchley, the R.C. Cathedral of St. Chad, Birmingham; Mr. John E. Brough, Marbury, Cheshire; Messrs. Gerald Frost and William S. May, Downham, Essex (being the first persons to do so); and Mr. Stanley Prestidge, Netherton, Worcestershire.

It took Mr. D. Vincent, of Hale, Cheshire, four days to reach Yarmouth for the Conference of the National Federation of Grocers and Provision Dealers' Associations. He rang Pudsey at Hugglecote, Yorkshire at Wilby (adjoining his native village of Stradbroke), Cambridge at Framsdon and Superlative at Pulham, where he last rang a peal 28 years ago, and renewed acquaintance with Mr. Ernest Whiting. He thanks all ringers and friends who made his visits so enjoyable.

COMMEMORATING THE 'ORIGINAL'

THE STORY OF PEALS AND FAILURES

THE 200th anniversary of the ringing of the Original by John Holt, on Saturday, July 7th, was commemorated by relatively few peals.

Perhaps the peal of most interest was that at St. Margaret's, Westminster, where John Holt, in 1751, sat and called his composition. This commemorative peal was called by Mr. Charles Roberts. He had with him a band of veterans—three above the age of 70 and two over 60, while the average age of the band was 61. Mr. W. H. Hewett, who participated in the peal, has been a ringer at St. Margaret's since 1905 and tower-keeper since 1916.

He writes: The tablet which records the original peal and hangs in the porch at the base of the tower is in perfect condition. Some 20 years ago it was thoroughly cleaned down and revarnished. It has two interesting features painted in the corners—the rose in one and the thistle in the other and four clasped hands in the centre. Of the bells, he adds that in Holt's day there were only eight bells, cast and hung by Samuel Knight, of Holborn, in 1739. The present ring of ten is hung in the same frame but were all rehung with new fittings, and six recast, in 1939. The third and fifth are original bells.

AT ST. GILES-IN-THE-FIELD

Mr. E. C. S. Turner, who conducted a peal of the Original at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, adds this interesting commentary:

There is a peal board in the tower which mentions that on October 23rd, 1791, there was rung 'The Original' peal of 5,040 Grandsire Triples as composed by Jno. Holt in one continued course with two Doubles in the last four leads, completed in three hours and seven minutes, called by James Bartlett, being the only person that ever rang and called this very difficult composition.

There were, however, at least two previous occasions when the conductor had taken part in the ringing. One was at Norwich and the other at Saffron Walden. It was undoubtedly its first performance in London.

A DOUBLE

Mr. Clem Glenn, of Nottingham, writes:—Noticing some time ago that I was nearing my 200th on handbells, I thought it would be nice to ring it on the 200th anniversary of the 'Original' and bring off a 'double,' so to speak, which was accomplished between 10.8 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. in the ringing chamber of St. Peter's, Nottingham. Although St. Peter's chimers were pulled off, the tenor persisted in making itself heard at 11 and 12: and this, together with Littlejohn's 10 tons 7 cwt. booming out nearby, is a little distracting. However, a good peal at a moderate speed and nothing serious to report.

Then to ring it on tower bells in the afternoon at Daybrook. Ringing chamber small, weather very close. Good raise, good peal, good cease, with 'echo' in Queens. Only three trips, all made by one who shall be nameless: said he was listening to the music. Pleasant surprise—up comes Mrs. Paling with refreshing cups of tea. Then, some homewards, some to repair for further refreshment. A jolly good day.

AT CHESTER-LE-STREET

From a Reporter on the spot
The selection of Chester-le-Street for any eight-bell attempt needs no explanation or justification and a band has just arrived to attempt to ring Holt's Original on the bi-centenary of its performance.

The band is drawn from two Newcastle towers and the local company with ages ranging from 15 to 71. The bells are raised, the ropes are adjusted and then there is a hitch while part of the floor is scrubbed! These preliminaries over, the ringing begins and continues very smoothly for almost 45 minutes until the bob caller reaches an impasse. This is not yet realised by anyone else but what heart searching is proceeding within the bob-caller.

He has committed to memory the bells 'before' and is positive that he must now call '7 before' with a double but alas 7 is 'in the hunt'! Even greater calamity is the grim realisation that he is ringing 7 himself!! If only it had been the veteran... or one of the youngsters... but fate has not even provided a scapegoat. The conductor has no option but to call 'Stand.'

But, wait. What is this 'Belfrymanship'? Surely it will be easy to slip out of the hunt and bludgeon someone else into it, continue with the calling and see that the bells come into rounds at the right time; for, after all, this is one's own tower: one knows how long Triples should take and there is a clock on the wall. Yes, that's it. If only Holt had known this technique he need never have resorted to calling from manuscript 200 years ago.

But then fears arise one by one. The clock might stop and the watch is tucked away in a pocket. Conscience casts doubts upon the ethics of the plan. Seven is still in the hunt and the band seems to know the method far too well and any attempt to abscond from the hunt—even a hesitation on the way to lead—would bring forth a concerted shout from the others to 'get down and take the treble off.' Finally, a memory of the awful fate that befell Jonathan Wild in the famous ringing match at Flixton after he had carried out a similar plan with another Holt composition.

Thus it is that instead of 'bob' he calls 'Stand.' He explains the difficulty that has arisen and weakly admits that he must have miscalled it.

The heat of the day causes some discussion as to whether a fresh attempt shall be made. But it is finally decided that the next centenary is a bit too far distant and a fresh start is made. (Incidentally, it is noticed that the clock had stopped just about the time that 'Stand' was called!).

This time all goes well, and after three hours and two minutes the bells reach rounds and it is to be claimed as conducted by D. A. B.

After the peal the owner of the vintage Bentley finds his hands badly blistered. A volunteer is forthcoming to 'swing her' but his efforts are of no avail and the owner has to tackle the job himself with the aid of a duster. Six of the band pile into the car and go off to tea. Thirst seems to exceed hunger and the writer sees, for the first time, food remaining on the table after the departure of the youths from Fenham; but one of them admits that he is not in peak condition on this occasion.

NEW POSTAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

The Editorial Committee regret that owing to the present finances of 'The Ringing World' they are unable to meet the increased postal charges when subscribers renew their subscriptions.

The new rates, which become operative with subscriptions due on July 6th, are as follows:—

Quarterly Subscription, 6s.

Half-yearly Subscription, 11s. 8d.

To ensure continuity of delivery, subscriptions should be sent without delay to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Contributions from yearly subscribers to meet the extra 1s. 5d. postage on their copies for 1951 would be gratefully acknowledged by Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent, or by the Editor.

And so to bed, for it is just about bedtime now that all this has been accomplished. The ringers depart, hoping for more peals but without a quarter-peal to warm up first of all.

AT FRITTENDEN

The 200th anniversary was also observed at Frittenden, Kent, where Mr. Louis Head called the Original.

He writes that the village folk thought it was being called from manuscript when seven of the band arrived at the church in a three-ton open lorry, whilst two men were clearing the path which led from the door to the belfry door.

A FAILURE

On July 7th, at St. Paul's Church, Wood Green, Wednesbury, Holt's Original peal of Grandsire Triples was attempted. Unfortunately, after 50 minutes' good ringing, the attempt came to grief, caused by the treble rope breaking. The band was stationed as follows: H. S. Shuck 1, E. Stith 2, C. Wallater 3, W. Davies 4, F. Brotherton 5, S. Birch 6, H. Howell 7, M. G. Turner (conductor) tenor.

FESTIVAL CHURCH RINGING

Arrangements For Visitors

The Festival of Britain Sub-Committee of the Central Council has been very glad to receive for publication in 'The Ringing World' the accompanying letter. It has been sent by the Rev. L. W. Harland, secretary of the Festival Church Committee, with whom negotiations have been conducted, and brings with it the assurance that visiting bands of ringers will enjoy the privilege of ringing the bells of St. John's. While there are no specific arrangements for individual ringers, Mr. Grainger will always be glad to hear in advance from such ringers, so that if possible they can be given the opportunity of standing in when they are visiting the Festival Church.

S. S. JOHN HATCHER, Convener.

Dear Sir,—In view of misunderstandings about ringing at the Festival Church, the Committee responsible have asked that, in future, bands wishing to ring should apply direct to the steeple-keeper, Mr. W. D. Grainger, of 36, Dulwich Village, S.E.21. Preference will be given to those churches whose choirs are singing at the Festival Church. Those bands which have already applied through the Central Council have now been allotted dates, and any others will be given dates as soon as possible after application.

It is regretted that permission cannot be given for peal ringing.—Yours sincerely,

L. W. Harland, Secretary.

British Council of Churches
Festival of Britain Committee.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT

The annual meeting and prize contest were held at Sandal, near Wakefield, on Saturday, July 7th.

Seven teams entered the contest which resulted as follows:—

Meltham .. ..	52 points
Lindley .. ..	66 "
Friezland .. ..	62 "
Silkstone .. ..	90 " (rang out)
Liversedge .. ..	32 "
Cawthorne .. ..	37 "

Liversedge won the Association's silver cup and a preserve dish for each man, and Cawthorne won a sugar bowl for each man.

A meeting was held at the close of the competitive ringing and everyone expressed satisfaction over the state of the Association's funds, which showed an increase of £2 17s. on the previous year's total.

All the officers were re-elected en bloc unanimously, and Liversedge offered their tower for the next contest.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD

A HEALTHY POSITION — THE GEORGE WILLIAMS MEMORIAL — ENQUIRIES FOR A GUILD BADGE — NEW PANEL TO CATHEDRAL WAR MEMORIAL PROPOSED

THE annual general meeting was held at Winchester on July 7th and was attended by over 80 ringers representing all districts of the Guild. Among the visitors present were Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart, of Wimborne, and ringers from Buckland Newton and Piddlington (Dorset) and Beaconsfield.

The business meeting was held in St. Maurice Hall, presided over by the Master (Mr. G. Pullinger), supported by the hon. general secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers), hon. treasurer (Mr. W. Linter) and hon. auditor and librarian (Mr. A. York-Bramble). Apologies for absence were received from Messrs. A. V. Davis (peals recorder), R. Marlow, W. Read, W. Upton, P. N. Bond and the Rev. C. E. Brinkworth.

The accounts and balance sheet were reviewed by the hon. treasurer, who, whilst congratulating the Guild on maintaining its financial stability, appealed to all districts to increase their efforts to secure more membership. This, he said, was the only practical way in which we could reasonably face our future commitments without calling on reserve funds.

Mr. York-Bramble, as auditor, explained the manner in which the new form of accounts were presented to conform to the spirit of the rules. The accounts were unanimously adopted and the treasurer and auditor thanked for their work.

The joint report of the Master, hon. general secretary and hon. treasurer stated that, as the district secretaries' report showed, the position was still a healthy one, both in matters of ringing and membership. Reports of bell restorations in many districts were very encouraging, work having been undertaken and completed in North Stoneham (10), Alverstoke (8) and Wolverton (6). Bramley bells were to be augmented from 6 to 8, Arreton from 5 to 6 (since completed) and Baughurst were now receiving attention. Although in one or two districts a decrease in membership was reported and was sincerely regretted, most of the others had shown an increase, especially in the influx of young ringers, which was most encouraging.

Compared with the previous year, membership showed a total of ringing members 677 (647), honorary members 84 (70) and unattached 7 (5). The year started with a balance in hand of £304 10s. 3d. and concluded with a balance of £331 18s. 5d.

The Guild was very fortunate in finding an efficient successor to Mr. G. Smith as auditor. Mr. York-Bramble, who consented to fill this office, had been very painstaking in this work and members would note the efficient manner in which the Guild accounts were presented in the report. As first librarian to the Guild, he had prepared an inventory of all their property.

The officers of the Guild were re-elected en bloc on the proposition of Mr. Smart (Andover) seconded by Mr. Tucker.

PEAL REPORT

Mr. Arthur V. Davis, the peal recorder, reported that there had been a slight drop in the number of peals recorded during 1950 as compared with the previous year, a total of 121 as against 143.

There were four less tower-bell peals (49) than in 1949. The peal of Bob Maximus, at Christchurch, was a creditable performance in every way, most of the band earning a 'first performance' star of some description. New ground was broken with London Royal at Southampton, and Spliced Surprise, in six methods, at Soberton. A band rang the first peal of Cambridge Surprise on the Isle of Wight. The peals were rung in 27 different towers: there were 12 'first-pealers,' four of whom qualified in a peal of Grandsire Triples at Bournemouth.

In the handbell section there were 72 peals recorded against 95 for 1949. In all, 25 ringers took part, 13 of whom were visitors to Bournemouth. First peals for the Guild were rung to Gainsborough Little Bob Major, Spliced Major in 10 methods, Spliced Royal in three and also four methods. Mr. D. T. Malkin conducted 61 of these peals and actually conducted more peals than anyone else in the county during 1950. In the tower-bell peals Mr. John H. Hunt led the way with 11, and in all there were 119 instances of first peals in the method.

The report of the Central Council meeting at Chester was given by Mr. C. H. Kippin, who explained the various decisions on methods and peals. He was heartily thanked for his presentation of the report on the proposition of Mr. Chesterman, seconded by Mrs. Marshallsay.

THE GEORGE WILLIAMS MEMORIAL

The Master said that although up to the present the response to the appeal was not yet what was expected, the Executive Committee now recommended that the work in connection with the proposed bookcase should be proceeded with. Mr. Lampard, of Winchester, kindly offered to produce a design in keeping with the Guild's desire to house the books left to the Guild by the late Master and also to allow for other books and future additions. It was agreed that tenders be asked for from several cabinet makers who had been recommended and the Guild officers were empowered to proceed with the work if these proved to be acceptable to them. This was agreed to on the proposition of the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, seconded by Mr. Haines.

THE GUILD WAR MEMORIAL

In view of the fact that the Guild had now decided to proceed with the George Williams Memorial, it was felt that, taking into account the financial position, all suggested schemes of bell restorations or augmentations should be dropped and that the panel in the belfry at Winchester Cathedral containing the names of members who had fallen in the 1914-1918 war, should be extended, or a new panel provided, to bear the names of those who had lost their lives in World War II. It was unanimously agreed that the Dean and Chapter be approached in order to obtain the necessary permission to do this. This was carried on the proposition of Mr. Garrett, seconded by Mr. Cheater (Ringwood). In connection with this, the Master appealed to the district secretaries to endeavour to obtain a complete list from the towers, which also was being sought by the committee of the Central Council compiling the 'Roll of Honour.'

ALTERATION TO RULES

During the year, a sub-committee consisting of the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead and Mr. A. York-Bramble had been appointed to go into the question of a re-draft of the rules, as many anomalies were apparent in the present ones. This committee had thoroughly investigated the rules and their proposals were placed before the general meeting for its discussion and, if desired, adoption. The proposed alterations had been printed in 'italics' in the current annual report so that comparisons could be made with the existing rules. On behalf of the Committee, Mr. York-Bramble explained that it had been found desirable to revise the rules for mainly three reasons:—(1) To ensure logical sequence in their order; (2) To omit many unnecessary prefaces; (3) Essential alterations to context, which were shown in 'italics.'

The alterations, dealt with rule by rule, were, with one or two minor alterations, unanimously adopted on the proposition of Mr. York-Bramble, seconded by the Rev. Felstead. One further alteration was made in the rule dealing with subscriptions, that a new paragraph be inserted that 'Juvenile members up to the age of 16 years shall subscribe 1s. 6d. annually. Such members shall enjoy the privileges of ringing members except that they shall have no vote on matters of finance.'

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Basingstoke on July 5th, 1952.

The hon. general secretary announced that a reprint of the Guild Certificate had been completed and it was decided to make a charge of 6d. each for these, excluding postage.

Mr. W. C. Lampard received the congratulations of the meeting on attaining 60 years' service as a ringer at the Cathedral. This had also been suitably rewarded by the local authorities in presenting him with a handsome wrist watch.

GUILD BADGE

The question of a Guild badge for ringers was raised and it was proposed by Mr. Mitchell (Bournemouth), seconded by Mr. Hunt (Portsmouth), that enquiries be made from suitable firms with a view to adopting one. It was decided that a grant of five guineas be given to Baughurst towards the restoration of their bells.

Mr. J. A. Hill (Andover) proposed that Messrs. G. Pullinger (Master), F. W. Rogers (hon. general secretary) and W. Linter (hon. treasurer) be elected honorary life members of the Guild in recognition of their long and loyal service. This was carried with acclamation and the officers suitably responded.

Votes of thanks, on the proposition of the Master, were accorded the Dean and Chapter for the use of the Cathedral bells, the clergy who had placed their bells at the Guild's disposal, and Mr. J. A. C. King (Winchester) for the untiring work he had put in in making all the local arrangements.

Tea was served in St. Maurice Hall, after which members attended the Cathedral evensong.

The bells of the Cathedral were rung at intervals during the day and many took advantage of visiting the variety of surrounding towers that were available.

DEATH OF MR. H. A. WRIGHT

N.E. Essex and the Essex Association have lost an old friend by the death of Mr. H. A. Wright, of Clacton, who died at the age of 74, on July 5th. He had been in failing health for some time, but his passing came as a surprise to many of his friends. The funeral was at Clacton Cemetery on July 10th. Representing local ringers and Essex Association were Mr. E. E. Davey and Mr. U. W. Wildney, and wreaths included one from Kirby and district ringers.

Mr. Wright, a native of Clopton, near Woodbridge, Suffolk, came to reside in Clacton upwards of 50 years ago, and was employed by Clacton Council until retiring towards the end of the late war. He was a ringer in the standard methods, having rung 51 peals, mainly for the Essex Association. He came forward to assist at Kirby-le-Soken when the bells were restored in 1923 and it was at this tower that many of his peals were rung, the last being as recently as Whit Monday. Mr. Wright was a life member of the Essex Association. He will be missed. May he rest in peace.

U. W. W.

PEAL WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—With regard to the peal of Stedman Caters rung at St. Giles', Northampton, on June 9th, and conducted by me, I shall be glad if you will withdraw the same as I consider it was a most unsatisfactory finish.—Yours truly, RICHARD D. LANGFORD.

CRICKET AND BELLS

Oxford Guild's & University Society's Diversion

Genius is a rare visitor. To one such stroke, whether Wednesday evening in the Mitre Tavern or Sunday afternoon over the tea cups claim the credit, belongs the idea of bringing the Oxford Diocesan Guild and the Oxford University Society of Change Ringers to Great Tew on the sunny afternoon of Sunday, June 3rd, to play a cricket match. The Guild drew its team from Oxford, Great Tew, Appleton, Bicester and the University fielded almost its full male change-ringing strength. In face of at least one big cricketing reputation in the Guild side, the University men were fortified by the reflection that Wright, of Kent, was playing for them. William Judge, who had bumped the tenor to a peal of Grandsire Caters on the previous day and so could be expected to maintain an impartial outlook, shared the umpiring with a local cricket club member.

Winning the toss for the University, McCrum elected to bat. Inspection of the pitch was superfluous, the sun being just past its zenith and ice cream on sale close by. The opening pair, Meadows and Homfray, took up their diffident stance. White and Pink began the bowling with a well-directed and vicious swing attack. This was patently much too good for the circumstances. The difficult ball that runs away from the bat was missing both wicket and bat. A Washbrook or a Hutton would surely have got a touch and swift dismissal, whereas the batsmen concerned prodded and elided the total to 22 before Homfray yielded Pink a well-deserved wicket. The bowlers then set to with a vengeance. In no long time the total had moved to 35 for 5. Niblett compiled six patient runs before being excellently stumped. A hurried single found McCrum more than half wicket, but definitely out of course. Pimm and Smith took over the bowling with but little less venom than their predecessors. In general, the progress of the less successful University batsmen to and from the wicket is aptly described by Stedman's term for less prolonged visits to the Front Work. One innings showed different ideas. Guy for two overs lulled spectators and opponents alike with the dearest of dead bats, before lashing out with herculean fury. 'Six, four, two,' marked all to brief a stay, a ball from Smith ending the gay episode, with the score at 48 for 6. This was soon to become 51 for 9. But a sagacious and unhurried last wicket stand delayed the end, Grayson and Thomas obviously having gone out to bat and not merely to make runs. So the innings closed for 60.

Over a tea, such as makes cricket a pleasure to play, non-playing enthusiasts were collecting a band to ring for Evensong. Wags meanwhile speculated that a muffled quarter peal should be attempted for the University bowling averages. In the event the bowling, regarded by expert opinion as tenuous, turned out quite formidable. Niblett and Guy soon found a length and had Cross and Morley wrong stroke quite early on. Pink, in partnership with White, sustained the innings until the score reached 21, when extra cover fetched a camera and photographed him at the wicket. Two balls later Niblett's faster one rattled his stumps (extra cover indignantly denies that this was a variation of the Gamesmanship play originated by Dr. W. G. Grace). Porter now judiciously helped the total on to 30, silencing speculation about possible Oxford Society use of the splice, before falling victim to the bowling of Wright, who had replaced Guy. Then, at 35, White's steady knock came to an end.

A crisis faced the Guild and the game was entering its most interesting phase. Furthermore, the bells of Great Tew, close by the ground, had been having their say. Seldom did ringing have a more discerning audience or cricket a more diverting accompaniment. For a hazardous half-hour, batsmen absentmindedly tickled balls outside the off stump, while checking lead-ends, and the slips conversed Stedman and Grandsire. What now decided the match was the arrival of Smith, who launched a tremendous and sustained onslaught on the University bowling. The score-book's '1, 1, 4, 2, 4, 4, 6, 4,' registers the havoc. And, with Wells quietly collecting runs at the other crease, the Guild were winners by five wickets. The rest of the innings, though relaxed in tension, was not farcical. Pimm was out on an excellent catch off a full-blooded hit to mid-wicket. Wilkins, undeterred by an encroaching ring of fielders (or field of ringers) proceeded to treat the bowling strictly on its merits. Chaundy looked good for a century, though perhaps not all in one day. Walter Judge took guard at the wicket with the kindly, but masterful air of a Beecham or a Boulton called in at short notice to conduct a cafe orchestra. It is just a question of concentration. 'Four not out' might have been the start of a big score, had not Wells' long innings ended with a catch in the gully. His 28 had been the sheet-anchor of the Guild's final total of 101.

Local advice on where the evening could best be spent was readily forthcoming. And the memories of a delightful day shade imperceptibly into the lengthening shadows of an inn garden at Dunst Tew.

RINGING TOUR IN N. WALES

The first tower on Saturday was St. Mary-of-the-Salutation, Welshpool. The party was met by some of the local band, C. Williams (capt.), G. Lamister and E. Goodwin, who rang in a touch of Grandsire. The next call was St. Lawrence's Church, Stretton, where eight bells hang in a central Norman tower. St. Andrew's, Condover, proved rather difficult to find, but eventually ringing took place in the ground floor belfry in the Church of St. Mary, Shrewsbury, where Mr. F. Owen, the local captain, and Mr. W. Parker, the tower-keeper, met the party and joined in the ringing. The local ringers are justly proud of the back eight bells of the ring of ten with its 22 cwt. tenor.

That evening, at the hotel, Mr. G. Cecil, the Master of the Sussex County Association, presented a small gift, on behalf of the tourists, to Miss F. Wyman, who had done so much hard work in the organising of the tour.

No ringing had been planned for Sunday, July 8th. A midday lunch had been arranged at Brewwood and owing to an early arrival several ringers went to explore the church of SS. Mary and Chad. The bells proved to be excellent, probably the best of the tour.

The previous arrangement of appointing a Ringing Master for every morning and afternoon was adhered to and these duties were shared by Messrs. G. W. Cecil, B. Harman, R. Overy, E. Rapley, K. Snelling and L. Stilwell. Seventeen methods were rung from Plain Bob Minor to Stedman Caters, including the four Standard Surprise Major methods as well as Yorkshire and Painswick Surprise, in all a total of 11,133 changes. The number of steps climbed was 692 and the total mileage covered was 1,209 on the round trip.

It would be impossible to omit from these notes a reference to two dear old friends who were with the party last year, Walter Claydon and especially Oliver Sippetts who had been the prime mover in the previous tours.

The tourists have been agreeably surprised at the interest taken in the trip by ringers and others in North Wales and districts. Mention has been made of the tour in various local papers, and Canon Jenkins, of Llanfyllin, in a letter of thanks to Miss Wyman, hopes the interest aroused may lead to the Llanfyllin bells being rung once more.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION AT PATRINGTON

The annual meeting of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association was held at Patrington on Saturday, June 30th, and was attended by 36 ringers from 14 towers. A short service in the church, very appropriately called the 'Queen of Holderness,' was conducted by the Rector the Rev. J. Janes, who gave an unusual and inspiring address. During the singing of the 150th Psalm a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells.

An excellent tea was served in the Church Hall, followed by the business meeting presided over by the vice-president, Mr. A. H. Fox. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. R. B. Smith, of Howden, and the District secretary, Mr. H. S. Morley, who was prevented from attending by a slight accident, but is by now quite recovered from the effects. Mr. T. H. Foster kindly deputised.

It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Sherburn-in-Elmet, subject to permission. Four new members were elected, viz., Messrs. J. W. Laws and T. K. Tilly (Hull), C. T. Barker (Beverley Minster) and an out-county member, Mr. G. C. Lunn, of Lea, Lincolnshire.

Mr. A. H. Fox, the retiring vice-president, did not seek re-election and Mr. A. C. Sellers, of Beverley Minster, was elected in his place.

Messrs. L. Rodmell, T. Southwick and L. M. Woodhead were elected to serve for three years on the District Committee, the first-named also to serve on the General Committee.

Mr. A. E. Sellers proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. A. H. Fox for the good work he had done during the eight years he had served as vice-president and this was carried with acclamation. In his reply Mr. Fox said he was happy to work for the Association and would be pleased to come and play the organ at the services as he had always done at the meetings. He felt the various posts should go round now and again. On the motion of Mr. L. M. Woodhead, seconded by Mr. F. Wilkinson, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells and his address at the service, and the local company for arrangements and ladies serving tea and the excellent welcome the Association had received, and this was carried with applause.

The Rector in his reply welcomed all to Patrington and extended an invitation to 'come again soon.' Messrs. L. Rodmell and Foster also replied.

A collection for the Association's Bell Repair Fund realised £1 ls.

The acting secretary was instructed to convey to the secretary, Mr. Morley, their concern at his accident and wishes for a speedy recovery.

Further ringing on tower- and handbells till nine o'clock concluded a happy meeting.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BROADCAST RINGING

Dear Sir.—The bells of Bolsover Parish Church were broadcast in the Northern Home Service of the B.B.C. before the evening service on Sunday, July 8th, 1951, and many messages of congratulation on the high standard of the ringing have been received by the joint Ringing Masters, Mr. S. Slaney and Mr. A. B. Cooper.

Extracts from two typical letters are as follows:—

'Congratulations to all concerned in the recent broadcast, a really fine display of good striking.'

'You have set a very good example to the fellow-ringers throughout the country who heard you.'

Several friends have made reference to the example set by the late Mr. John Flint and one correspondent said that as he listened he could almost imagine Mr. Flint standing in the ringing chamber encouraging the comparatively young band to give of their best.

The broadcast ringing was performed by the regular Sunday service band and the changes consisted of a course of Little Bob Major.—Yours faithfully,

A. B. COOPER.

Duckmanton, Chesterfield.

BELLRINGERS' GUIDE

Dear Sir,—Further to my letter published in 'The Ringing World' on June 22nd, I was very pleased to see the letter from W. H. Vigers in the current issue. The more so as on July 6th I received from another source what purports to be an extract from the report of the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee for 1950, and which reads as follows:—

'Lastly, the current year has witnessed the appearance of a perfectly monumental work in Mr. R. H. Dove's 'Bellringers' Guide to the Church Bells of Britain.' The incalculable degree of perseverance and industry required to ascertain and tabulate such a mass of detailed information about 5,439 peals of bells in Great Britain and Ireland is matched by the skill and ingenuity displayed in such a neat and attractive form of publication.'

Assuming that that is a true extract, it completely clears the Committee of any suspicion of unfair dealing and gives point to my observation that however black the evidence may look there are nearly always two sides to every question.—Yours faithfully,

T. V. LISTER

Apperley, Glos.

GREAT PAUL

Dear Sir.—The photograph of Great Paul, which appeared in a recent issue of 'The Ringing World' brought back many memories to the veteran foreman and ringer, Mr. E. Yates, of St. Giles' Church, Stony Stratford, Bucks, who has passed his 83rd year.

He well remembers the incident and names of most of the people collected round the bell, and was himself in the crowd but cannot actually be seen in the photograph.—Yours faithfully,

H. C. EDWARDS.

Stony Stratford.

NOTE.—We shall be pleased to hear of any other ringers who saw this bell on its famous journey.—Ed.

BELFRYMANSHIP

Dear Sir,—I should like to offer my thanks and congratulations to you and Rodney Meadows on the Belfrymanship articles, which have provided many laughs and much speculation about the identity of the 'Artful Dodger.' I think I had the pleasure of ringing with him recently.—Yours sincerely,

ROGER O FRY.

Bath.

A SUSSEX BLACK SPOT IS TURNING LIGHT GREY

Standing in the north-east corner of Sussex are the three six-bell towers of Frant, Wadhurst and Ticehurst, which in the years between the wars was the black spot of county ringing. Apart from the number of bells, the towers were alike in many other respects. None of them was affiliated, and no member belonged to any Guild or Association. There was not a peal board in any of the towers to record any past performances, and except for Wadhurst there is no record of there ever having been a change-ringing band. The bells were regularly rung in each tower, but off cards, and a ringing meeting was a rare occurrence.

At Frant the bells, in their wooden frame are well-looked after and go like tops, but the music is horrible. The treble (1777) and 5-6 (1776) are by Pack and Chapman, 3-4 (1633) are by John Wilmar, while the second (1715) is the only bell in Sussex by Matthew Bagly. John Wilmar's foundry was at Borden, in Kent, and the weight of the tenor is 8 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb.

Before the ban, Mr. W. Kitchenside, of Mayfield, tried to raise a band, and after the ban Mr. W. Rogers, of Rotherfield, had a try. Both attempts started off well but petered out, and the bells are now rung for both services on the first Sunday in the month, off cards.

Ticehurst, at the other end of the line, have one of the few complete rings by Thomas Jannaway (1771), tenor 154 cwt. They were put in a steel frame by Warners about 1900, but on the old foundation of beams, and, although they have recently been rehung on ball bearings, they do not run very well.

With the death of the old leader and the enthusiasm of the village schoolmaster, there are hopes of a method band here, for out of the nine ringers four have a good knowledge of plain hunting, while another can cover with the tenor. The schoolmaster (Mr. S. G. Ponting) recently made history by becoming the first Ticehurst man to ring a peal.

Wadhurst, in the centre, has the most musical ring of the three (tenor 13½ cwt. in F sharp). The third is by John Hodson, 1670, and the rest from Whitechapel at various dates from 1752 to 1764. The old oak frame, 1760, was drawn together by long tie rods in 1891, and strengthened with angle brackets in 1938, but it is nearly at the end of its useful life. Until 1911, the bells were rung from a gallery in the tower, but after this was burnt out they were rung from the ground.

Mr. M. W. Watts, who retired a few years ago after 56 years in Wadhurst tower, informed us that when he learnt to ring in 1889 there was a Doubles band who could occasionally ring Minor, and did ring a few quarters of both. About 1900 the band deteriorated to call changes, and although a band was maintained through the years, it was call-changes until 1939, when an attempt was made to ring methods.

Good progress was made, with the help of Mr. H. Stalham, of Brighton, and when the ban came, many hours were spent with hand-bells in his general foreman's office at the new Church School building. The military, however, requisitioned seven of the learners, and in 1943 another band was started, including several ladies.

This band got so far, then got stuck, so that the whole lot were taken to Lamberhurst where, with the help of Albert Relfe and his few stalwarts, they learnt to ring Bob Doubles. Then Len Giles joined the band, and they were soon ringing plain courses of Minor, and although learners keep coming and going a Minor band is maintained.

Apart from Mr. Watts, the only other Wadhurst ringer of note was the late Mr. S. T. Wallis, who also learnt to ring in 1889. Through the years he maintained his interest in change ringing, and it was his one grievance that he could get no one to join him. In December, 1922, the Lamberts, of Horsmonden, and Albert Edwards, met one short for a peal at Wadhurst, so they went and found Mr. Wallis, who, three hours later, was the first Wadhurst man to ring a peal, and was the only one until the writer rang his first peal in 1938.

Wadhurst has been affiliated to the county since 1938, and of late years several ringing meetings have been held there, and ringers' outings have found all three towers.

So the black spot of Sussex is now a light grey, and if anyone can correct me or give any further information about the three towers I would be most grateful.

C. A. BASSETT.

REDEDICATION AT ST. MARY-DE-CASTRO, LEICESTER

On Thursday, July 5th, a capacity congregation assembled in the ancient and noble church of St. Mary-de-Castro, Leicester, for the rededication of the bells by the Assistant Bishop of Oxford (Dr. Roscow Shedden).

The congregation included the Lord Mayor and other City Fathers and most of the principal organisations of the City were represented.

Whilst the congregation assembled in the church, the clergy and representatives of the various organisations gathered in the nearby Castle (now used as an Assize Court) and spirits of the past must have moved as they walked in procession across the old castle yard for the service in the Castle church, being possibly the first party to do so for several centuries.

A truly beautiful service followed. After the singing of the hymn 'All people that on earth do dwell,' the rededication prayer was said and immediately the bells rang out five whole pulls in rounds. The hymn 'Now thank we all our God' was then sung, followed by a short sermon and the final hymn 'Praise my soul, the King of Heaven.' After the Blessing, several short touches of Stedman Triples were rung.

The bells had been unpealable for over half a century and entirely silent for 32 years. The tenor bell was cast by Watts and bears the date 1631. It was the fourth of a ring of five that hung in the tower until 1830, when they were taken to the Whitechapel foundry, where the other four were broken up and seven new bells cast to complete the octave. All have now had the canons removed and been tuned, turned, fitted with new headstocks and ball bearings and now hang in a massive iron frame. The work was carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. of Loughborough, who have done a magnificent job.

There are at present no ringers at St. Mary's and the ringing on this occasion was done by representatives from the four central towers of the City: J. Bramley (St. Margaret's), A. Cattell (All Saints'), T. Thornber (St. John the Divine) and H. J. Poole, H. Broughton, S. Burton, J. Grant, D. Grant (Cathedral). The last five were previously ringers at St. Mary's.

The last peal on the bells—Bob Major—was rung in 1898 and Josiah Morris, now in his 85th year, is the only survivor of the band that rang it. Finally, hearty thanks and congratulations must be given to the Vicar, the Rev. J. Collins, for the manner in which he tackled the job of saving this church from decay. In the last 20 years he has raised over £25,000, a truly colossal task in a poor parish with a dwindling population—may his shadow never grow less!

ALLESLEY, COVENTRY

The annual outing of the Allesley Society of Ringers was held on June 30th and consisted of a motor coach tour into Northamptonshire and Bedfordshire. A start was made at 8.30 a.m. and the first call was at Weedon where there was some well-struck ringing on the recently augmented eight.

The next tower was Bromham and the slow speed of this fairly heavy ring of eight was unusual to the party but was mastered before proceeding to Bedford for lunch. At Cardington, the first tower after lunch, ringing was curtailed as the bells were required for a meeting. A very pleasant 45 minutes was spent on the light ring of eight at Maulden. The church stands on a hill and there is a wonderful view from the churchyard.

The unexpected happened at the next tower—Husborne Crawley, the door to the tower being locked. Efforts to obtain the key were unavailing, so, at the Vicar's suggestion, a ladder was used to climb from the baptistery over the railings into the ringing chamber. This unorthodox entry was justified by half-an-hour's good ringing.

After tea at Woburn, the church was visited and the Guild stayed twice as long as they intended. The ring of eight (tenor 24½ cwt.) was entirely in keeping with the beautiful church and tower. Woburn was left at 8.15 p.m. for the long drive home. During a pause for refreshments, entertainment was provided by handbell ringing, both changes and tunes.

Methods rung during the day were Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Cambridge, Superlative and London. Thanks are due to the organiser, Mr. J. W. Taylor, jun., for the success of the tour, D. A. C.

A TRIP INTO YORKSHIRE

The joint outing of Darlington (St. Cuthbert and Holy Trinity) ringers took place on June 30th as a motor coach tour into Yorkshire, and real summer weather was experienced. Leaving Darlington at 8.30 a.m., a stop was made at the Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Kirkby Wiske—a pretty little village lying off the beaten track in delightful rural surroundings. The Vicar met and welcomed the party and the handy ring of six (tenor 7 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb.), rung from the ground floor, was soon going to London and Cambridge. Before departing, handbells were rung in the churchyard.

The pleasant city of Ripon was the next stop for a visit to the Cathedral. This is one of our smallest cathedrals, but amongst the most beautiful. It contains some particularly fine carvings and its architecture varies from early Norman to late Perpendicular; the dedication is SS. Peter and Wilfred; it possesses an excellent ring of ten (tenor 23 cwt. 24 lb.) and good use was made of the bells—Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandsire being rung.

A run through the West Riding via Studley and Fountains Abbey was the next interlude, arriving at Harrogate for lunch. The Yorkshire spa was at its best and the whole afternoon was spent there. The gardens, floral displays and tree-lined open spaces were especially attractive, although the Harrogate shops exercised a strong influence on the ladies.

The short distance to Knaresborough was soon covered, where tea was taken. Unfortunately the bells here are unringable, but the evening was spent in boating on the River Nidd, with visits to the Castle, Mother Ship-ton's Cave and the Dropping Well being especially popular.

During the homeward run a halt was made at St. James' Church, Boroughbridge, which has a ring of six (tenor 14 cwt. 1 qr. 1 lb.). Spliced Surprise was rung and several of the local ringers joined in for Plain Bob. Home was reached at 10.30 after a most enjoyable day. W. N. P.

ST. MARY REDCLIFFE, BRISTOL

St. Mary Redcliffe Guild held their annual outing on June 30th this year, being earlier than usual so that we could have Canon Swann with us, as he will be leaving in July.

Leaving Redcliffe at 7.30 a.m. we proceeded by coach along the main Bridgwater Road where the early morning mist forecasted a fine and hot day. This is the County of Legends, so it appeared safe enough to assume that early morning dry mist would produce a fine day. This was borne out when we had passed through Bridgwater and reached the hills beyond, the sun shining in all its glory; cardigans were discarded.

We stopped at the Beambridge Hotel, known to many as the home of a very well-known ringer. He had left but we were made very welcome by the new proprietor and a lovely cup of coffee served with biscuits was enjoyed by all.

On again into glorious Devon and we were soon to understand the meaning of the word 'glorious.' The scenery was magnificent and with good visibility nothing in the world could have surpassed it. Our stop for lunch was at Ilington, where the lovely ring of six was set going to all kinds of methods. One member, being very thirsty, left the rest to it and proceeded up the hill towards the hotel whilst a course of Cambridge was being rung. Half way up the hill the echo was coming up a vale to his left and was remarkable inasmuch as it was exactly one whole pull behind the bells themselves. Beautifully struck, this was worth listening to and the band are to be congratulated upon their ringing.

The drink at the hotel was much appreciated after this climb but the lunch which followed was just what everyone had been waiting for. So good, in fact, that relaxation was sought by all and in the sweltering heat was much enjoyed. It was partly with regret that we boarded the coach to set off for our goal, Buckfast Abbey. Through magnificent country the tower of St. Mary's came into view. We had been informed that a choir would be giving a concert in the Abbey at 3 p.m. The singing was beautiful, the first part being heard by us in the nave and the last part in the gallery so well known to many ringers. This is about 70 feet above ground and with the choir immediately below us, it was awe-inspiring to look over and listen.

Up the stairs to the ringing chamber, a good rise on the middle eight and off into Stedman Cinques. This is truly a lovely ring of 12, it might have been this that upset the first touch but Grandsire went much better. Royal and more Cinques and a good fall on the back ten brought the ringing to an end. Off up the tower and on to the top where a truly fine view awaited us. We should like to record here our grateful thanks to the Lord Abbot for the wonderful welcome given us; nothing was too much trouble.

Arriving back at the hotel for tea we found a magnificent table awaiting us and with some real Devonshire cream available, a good time was had by all. Handbell ringing after tea and photographs on the lawn brought to an end a really wonderful afternoon.

Nearly an hour late, we set off for the Beambridge again. Roads packed with cars told us that others had also been out and enjoyed the lovely weather: we were glad to scramble out of the coach and spend an hour together in a room on our own. Tune ringing was much enjoyed, but it was obvious to most of us that we need more practice. A tired party arrived home at 11.20 p.m. after one of the most memorable outings the Guild have experienced.

Thanks to the people who helped to make this trip so enjoyable. E. F. H.

PORTSMOUTH AND DISTRICT

An outing of the Portsmouth and District ringers (with friends) was held on June 30th, starting and finishing at Fareham. To ensure a prompt start at 7.30 a.m., the peal conductor's old rule of announcing that the meeting time was a quarter-hour earlier than the correct one was successfully employed.

Picking up three more of the party at Wickham, we proceeded via Winchester and Whitechurch to Newbury (stopping for a cup of tea en route) where the last member joined us, complaining that he had had to forgo his breakfast in order to get from Woolton Hill in time! Hungerford was reached at 9.32 and the eight bells (tenor 13½ cwt.) were soon set going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major. Wantage (eight bells, tenor 21½ cwt.) was the next stopping place, and here we were joined by some of the local ringers, the same three methods as in the previous tower being rung.

Lunch at Goring-on-Thames was the next item on the programme, the lucky ones being those who took their own food for a picnic. The others were absolutely robbed! After lunch, ringing on the pleasant light eight bells at Goring (tenor 8½ cwt.) with some of the local ringers was much enjoyed, methods being Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Double Norwich.

At Great Marlow (eight bells, tenor 15 cwt.) we were joined by local ringers to ring Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major. An ingenious feature noted in this tower was the duckboard type flooring which is fitted in the summer months for ventilation purposes.

Due to a bridge being under repair at Marlow, about 20 extra miles were added to our journey to Slough, with the result that we were about an hour late in arriving. Mr. W. Birmingham joined us at the truly magnificent tea which he had most kindly arranged for us and the meal more than made up for disappointments over lunch.

The titbit of the day's ringing was on the beautiful ten bells (tenor 17½ cwt.) at Slough, and with the help of Mr. Birmingham and some of his band Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Plain Bob Royal were duly accomplished. All agreed that the outing would have been worth while if only to ring here, and regrets were expressed that a longer stop could not be made.

After bidding farewell to the Slough ringers, the route to the last tower of the day, Bagshot (eight bells, tenor 17½ cwt.), was through the historical country of Eton, Windsor and Ascot (we did not see Lord Rosebery's 'Bob Major' running round the course!) and owing to the fact that we were three-quarters of an hour behind schedule, our Grandsire and Stedman Triples only consisted of short touches, but were enjoyed, all the same.

OTTERSHAW, SURREY

The ringers of Ottershaw held their annual outing on July 7th accompanied by the Vicar and ringing friends from Horsell, Old Woking and Walton-on-Thames. The weather was all that could be desired. Ringing was enjoyed during the morning at Fittleworth, Arundel and Chichester Cathedral (where we were met by Mr. Falconer and Mr. Blackman). After lunch at Chichester, Rogate was the next stop, thence to Chawton, where ringing was curtailed owing to a late arrival.

Tea was partaken at Knight's Restaurant, Alton, where an excellent repast was very much enjoyed. Crondall was the last tower of the day, where we were glad to meet one of our old ringing friends now residing in the Farnham district.

Methods rung during the day were Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman, Single Oxford and rounds. A very enjoyable day ended by reaching Ottershaw at 10.15 p.m. R. J. A.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD

In Camp in Warwickshire

THE Cambridge University Guild junior tour was held this year in Warwickshire from June 22nd to June 29th. We camped at Wroxall, about five miles north-east of Warwick, and from there visited, on bicycle, about 25 towers in the area.

Unfortunately, some of our members were prevented from coming at the last moment, and so the party was not as large as had been expected. We were thus all the more pleased to welcome the three Oxford University ringers who had accepted the invitation we had sent to the Society. They gave invaluable assistance both in and out of the tower.

We are very grateful to Mr. A. W. T. Cleaver for making all ringing arrangements, which were excellent, if occasionally a little hectic, and also to all the vicars and local ringers we met, for the great welcome they gave us. We visited a good selection of towers, with rings of various sizes and weights. One member of the party also rang a great deal on the telephone, a bell which caused considerable alarms and excursions during the week.

E. W. Taylor made the camping arrangements, and, thanks to his efforts, we were very comfortable. Our site was a field behind the 'Shrewley Arms'. The landlord and his wife were extremely kind to us, and removed many of the inconveniences of camping.

It is difficult to pick out any particular highlight of the tour, but there are two things which come to mind immediately. Firstly, the visit to All Saints', Leamington, where we had a most gracious reception in the most handsome of ringing chambers, and, secondly, a 90-minute camp-fire story—The Bordeaux Diligence.

BOLSOVER VISIT SHREWSBURY

On June 30th the ringers of Bolsover Parish Church, together with friends from neighbouring towers, fully enjoyed the annual outing for which the destination was Shrewsbury. The party left Bolsover by luxury coach at approximately 7.30 a.m. and the first stop for ringing was at the really majestic church of St. Mary-the-Virgin and St. Chad at Brewood (Staffs.). The local inhabitants insisted that the name of the village should be pronounced 'Brood' and all that had been indicated by those who recommended the party to visit this fine church was fully realised when the bells were raised. The 'go' was really excellent and the bells are a great credit to the founders and those responsible for maintenance. Walter Allwood, in spite of advancing years, rang the 21½ cwt. tenor to Little Bob Major without the slightest appearance of exertion.

Lunch was taken at the Prince Rupert Hotel, Shrewsbury, and ringing followed at the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin. Some of the party had their first experience of ten bells and for a time the striking was not all that could be desired. A really good touch of Double Norwich Court Bob Major was rung on the back eight, Herbert Rooke handling the tenor in fine style.

The coach left Shrewsbury at 3.30 p.m. and a very welcome tea, beautifully prepared, was enjoyed at the Robin Hood Restaurant in Wellington. The bells of the church of All Saints', Wellington, proved rather difficult to handle but the experts in the party eventually rang them well to Cambridge Surprise Major and Stedman.

Some of the best ringing of the day was reserved for the last call, at the Church of All Saints, Alrewas. The ringing had to be curtailed for a service at 8.15 p.m., but really good touches of Superlative Surprise Major and Little Bob Major were enjoyed by all.

On the return journey the Vicar thanked Mr. A. B. Cooper for organising the outing.

THE RULES OF THE GAME

CHANGE ringing, as far as peals and methods are concerned, as other national pastimes, is governed by the rules of the game. As ringers we do not call them rules, like football, hockey, tennis and other sports, but Decisions, and these Decisions are arrived at after very full and careful consideration by the Central Council.

One of the Decisions approved by the Central Council last Whitsun at Chester was 'Each bell or bells shall be rung throughout by the same person or persons.' Although the wording has been amended, the principle is an old one and has received widespread acknowledgment by all peal ringers. In 1902 it appears: 'That each bell shall be rung throughout the peal by one and the same person.' The alteration was made to comply with difficulties arising from heavy tenors where a second ringer was essential or desirable.

We have quoted this rule because there has been submitted to us, for publication in our peal columns as a peal, a performance on the back eight of Exeter Cathedral of 5,040 changes of Grandsire Triples on July 7th. Unfortunately, after 2½ hours' ringing, one of the men on the tenor had to hand over to a third ringer, who completed the full extent. This action invalidates the performance as a peal if the Decisions of the Council are to be observed, and we feel certain our conclusion will not create a surprise as the ringer of the seventh on this occasion was at Chester as a member of the Central Council and heard the discussion relating to the revision of rules.

Attempts at peals on the bells of Exeter Cathedral with its tenor of 72 cwt. 2 qr. 2 lb. are always of great interest to ringers. Had it been a recognised peal, this attempt on July 7th would have been 'the heaviest peal' to be rung on eight bells. A peal of Triples has yet to be rung on these bells.

The attempt was planned by Mr. Frank L. Harris, of Britford, near Salisbury. 'The idea,' he writes, 'was conceived last summer and permission was granted for an attempt during last winter. This attempt could be described as a "magnificent failure," for after 3½ hours of excellent ringing—we were in the 11th part of Parker's 12-part—one of the tenor men had to give in.

'Having proved a peal was possible, we were very pleased to be given the opportunity of another go on July 7th. This time it was decided to have a spare man in the tower in case of trouble, and as it turned out this was a wise decision. Unfortunately, David Reed, who had rung the fifth so well in the first attempt, broke his collarbone a couple of weeks before the peal. So Miss Jean Brown, who had already proved her worth at Sherborne Abbey, stepped into the breach. No lady had previously rung a peal on Exeter Cathedral bells.

'July 7th was hardly the day for heavy bell ringing, the weather being warm and sultry. However, after the usual preparations, the bells went into changes at 4.20 p.m. About half-way the three back bells were given some more grease (which didn't seem to help at all), and after 2½ hours R. Marlow had to hand over his half of the tenor to G. Skinner, who carried on to the end.

'I think the last quarter peal taxed the endurance of the back-end ringers—especially the conductor, who found the "tenth" quite a handful—but it was stuck out and the bells came round after 4 hours 2 minutes of ringing. As the organiser and conductor of the peal, I should like to thank F. Wreford for making all local arrangements, and all the band for the way in which they contributed to its success.'

The ringers were Stafford H. Green treble, Jean M. Brown 2, Herbert H. Abrahams 3, Frederick Wreford 4, John Hartless 5, Frank L. Harris (conductor) 6, A. Patrick Cannon 7, Ronald N. Marlow, George Skinner, Jack Mussell tenor.

We feel certain that the Exercise will congratulate the band on their feat of endurance, and it is our regret that such a valiant performance cannot be classified as a peal. It still remains open to the peal ringing fraternity to ring the first recognised peal of Triples on the celebrated bells of Exeter Cathedral.

Finally, in the matter of peals there must be a strict adherence to the Decisions. The whole structure of peal ringing would collapse if this was not so. 'The Rules of the Game' must be observed, as any departure or exceptions would not only lower the standard, but create an intolerable position. We look to conductors to maintain these Decisions in an honorable manner. Only last week a conductor withdrew a peal because he felt the necessary standard was not reached. Such action is to be commended.

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

Gray from 461, St. Kilda
Road, Melbourne. They participated in a quarter of Grandsire Triples at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, which Mr. Gray believes is the first quarter rung by the regular Sunday service band there for some years.

Mr. William R. Parker and his son, Geoffrey, have now rung 25 peals together.

In a report of a wedding at Shillington, a Bedfordshire newspaper records: 'A double peal was rung on the bells'!

Mr. C. McGuinness, of Lincoln, has now rung peals from Doubles to Maximus in tower and 'in hand.'

The 12 bells of St. Mary's, Cheltenham, are being rehung on ball bearings by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Ringing is consequently in abeyance.

Mr. F. C. Arnold has now rung each bell to a peal at Bunwell, Norfolk. This feat was completed on July 7th and was his 25th peal. Mr.
F. Philippo has taken part in every one of his peals.

Two Shropshire towers are to be broadcast in the Midland Region programme. They are St. Leonard's, Bridgnorth, on August 5th, and Much Wenlock, on August 12th, both at 7.45 p.m.

Kent tourists leave to-morrow for a week's tour in Somerset, organised by Messrs. A. P.
Cannon and T. E. Sone. Peal attempts will be made in Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative and Yorkshire.

The ringer of the second in the peal of Plain Bob Major at St. Mary's-within-the Walls, Chester, on July 5th, was Mr. Albert J. Hughes and not A. Arthur Hughes, as submitted to us.
Mr. Hughes, who lives at Bangor, travels 62 miles to Chester for a practice, there being no local ringing at Bangor this year.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Breedon-on-the-Hill, near Derby, are having two new trebles and the fifth recast and all rehung on ball bearings by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. The fifth, writes Mr. Herbert
G. Fretwell, dates from about 1300 and is one of the old conventual bells. This ring of six should sound well from the Hill about 450 feet above sea level. Visitors will be welcome. The church is well above the village so no annoyance is caused to the inhabitants who, by the way, will be critical of the striking.

Mr. Peter Newing has 'circled the tower' of St. Alphege's, Canterbury.

The peal rung at Edenbridge, Kent, on July
14th, was in honour of Mr. Richard J. Jenner's 88th birthday. He has been in the choir for 80 years and a ringer for 68 years. The band were entertained to tea by Mr. Jenner after the peal.

On July 15th, Mr. W. H. Male, of Warwick, tapped on his chime of bells a peal of Grand-sire Triples (Holt's Original) in 2 hours 53 minutes without the aid of figures or any other means as a guide. This performance was witnessed by Mr. T. Male.

A shrimp tea was provided at the annual meeting of the Middlesex, Guildford and Oxford Guilds, held this year at Egham. About 60 ringers attended and ringing took place at St. Peter's, Staines, Egham and Old Windsor.
Anyone boating between Staines and Windsor at the time must have had their fill of the beauty of 'bells across the water.'

A foreword to the July issue of 'The Belfry', the Maidstone District quarterly magazine, is written by Mr. W. M. Rowe, editor of 'The Ringing Towers,' the Australian publication.
The issue is full of interest, a special feature being an article on St. George's, Wrotham, church and tower.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL

MR. F. SHARPE NEW DEPUTY MASTER — RISING COSTS PRESENT PROBLEMS — NON-RESIDENT LIFE MEMBERSHIP TO COST MORE — CANON COLERIDGE MEMORIAL: A DONATION OF £100

THE 1951 Festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild held at Oxford on July 21st proved to be another popular function. Proceedings started with the service in the Cathedral, at which, as in previous years, singing was led by a choir collected from ringers and their churches.

The Master (the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg) conducted the service and the address was given by Canon G. Dixon, chairman of the Central Bucks Branch. The Bishop of Dorchester pronounced the Benediction.

The Master presided over the business meeting, supported by the Deputy Master (Capt. A. R. Poyntz), the hon. treasurer (Mr. A. D. Barker), the general secretary (Mr. W. Hibbert) and the hon. librarian (Miss Marie R. Cross). The Master accorded a welcome to the representative gathering from all branches.

The Deputy Master announced that at the General Committee in March, when nominations were put forward, the only nomination was that of Mr. Wigg and he automatically remained as Master. (Applause.)

The Master, in his report, wrote that with regard to the general working of the Guild during 1950 he thought they could look back on a year of steady progress in many districts, of outstanding advance in others and in some at least a 'holding of our own.' He had been able to visit meetings at 12 out of the 15 branches and to attend dedications of Burford and Caversfield.

The secretary's report stated that the year went along much as other years with their triumphs and disappointments. Triumphs were in various forms: peal ringing, bands being found at towers where previously ringing had practically died out, restorations and many youngsters becoming members and showing signs of promise.

The treasurer's report stated that the general funds of the Guild amounted to £502 7s. 11d., of which £439 17s. 2d. was in the Restoration Fund. During the year £32 17s. 6d. was contributed by Parochial Church Councils.

NEW DEPUTY MASTER

The Master said he had a sad duty to perform to tell them that Capt. Poyntz, who had been Deputy Master for many years, was leaving the diocese in the autumn. He had found the proverbial sailor's home—a cottage by the sea—where he could keep a boat. He was not seeking re-election.

Capt. Poyntz thanked the members for their friendship and co-operation during the six years he had been Deputy Master. (Applause.)

Mr. Kinch proposed and Mr. A. R. Pink seconded the election of Mr. Frederick Sharpe as Deputy Master.—Carried unanimously.

Thanking the members for his election, Mr. Sharpe said he felt that the Deputy Mastership should be a training ground for the office of Master and that the Master should be in Holy Orders. He would be pleased to hold the office until a suitable young clerical ringer appeared in the Guild.

The other officers, Mr. A. D. Barker (hon. treasurer), Mr. W. Hibbert (gen. secretary) and Miss M. R. Cross (hon. librarian) were re-elected. Elected to the Committee were Miss D. Fletcher, Messrs. G. Cauldwell, H. Seer, J. T. Fowler, R. White, W. F. Judge, G. Holfield, W. Dixon, C. J. Hibbert, A. R. Pink and B. S. Nichols.

Reference was made by the Master to the passing of Mr. J. W. Wilkins whom he described as a Christian man, a loyal servant of the Church and one who had taught more beginners in the Guild than any other person. The company stood as a mark of respect.

Arising from the recommendations from the General Committee, Oxford was selected for the 1952 Festival and notice was given by the Rev. St. G. Edwards that at the next annual meeting Oxford be selected as the permanent meeting place of the Festival.

HUGHENDEN BELLS

A grant for the restoration of Hughenden bells was considered. The position was explained by Mr. F. D. Boreham who said that an estimate for the restoration of the bells was obtained amounting to £1,400. Mr. Sharpe was called in and it was felt that the three mediæval bells should not be disposed of. The tenor was to be preserved entirely. A new estimate was obtained which would provide for a heavier tenor and this amounted to £2,000. All the towers in the Guild had been circularised and a fortnight ago the ringers held a fete which raised over £200. About half the money had been raised. Hughenden tower was an ever-open door. The ringing was of a high standard and London was rung there by the band.

Proposing a grant of £50, Mr. Fowler said he looked on Hughenden as the finest school for bell-ringing in the Guild. Mr. F. Sharpe seconded and this was agreed to.

A LADY VICE-PRESIDENT

A recommendation from the General Committee that Miss Stella Davis should be made a vice-president was received with acclamation. Submitting the proposition, Mr. Hibbert said Miss Davis had been a loyal member of the Oxford Guild for 40 years. Mr. Cullum, seconding, said Miss Davis was one of the first lady members he remembered in the Diocese.

Miss Davis: Thank you very much for the honour of this high office.

COMPOUNDING MEMBERSHIP

Mr. A. D. Barker moved an alteration to Rule 7 for non-resident life-members raising the subscription from 5s. to 10s. He said the Guild was in a serious position financially and had not enough money to pay for the reports that had been printed and circulated. He felt that even with the increased subscription people would still join the Oxford Guild. The College Youths' subscription was 15s. (Mr. A. A. Hughes: And they are making more members than ever before.) In the general fund to-day there was only £10 7s. 8d. and from that he had to pay £96 for reports. £30 for the general secretary, the Deputy Master's expenses and the expenses of the four Central Council representatives. He had, however, received subscriptions from some of the branches.

Seconding, the Rev. C. P. Sherwood suggested that the report should be in a cheaper form and the peals deleted.

Capt. Poyntz supported this view stating that all peals were published in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. A. Diserens spoke against this resolution contending that if they charged outsiders 10s. for ringing one or two peals they would not only lose the services of a useful following, but would lose income.

Mr. Alan Pink held the same view. Peals in the Diocese he said would be rung for other Guilds and Associations.

Mr. A. D. Barker replied to criticism and said that when the Guild subscription was 1s. the life composition was 3s. 6d.; when the subscription was raised to 2s. 6d. it was raised to 5s. It cost more than that to print the peal in the report.

Mrs. Rance felt that the increase would fall very hard on the housewife who would have to meet the cost out of her housekeeping allowance.

Mr. Hibbert: The Oxford Guild is well worth 10s. to belong to.

The resolution was carried but there was a substantial measure of opposition.

PEAL BOOKING FEE

Another contentious resolution in the form of a new rule was submitted by the hon. treasurer: 'A fee of 6d. per ringer shall be paid by all members taking part in a peal for the Guild towards the cost of printing the annual report.'

He said the report was the only record of Guild peals. The charge of 6d. per ringer was made in other Guilds and would bring them in 18s. a page.

Mr. Alan Pink commented that the charge would affect him as much as any other ringer. He thought the charge for printing the Guild report was excessive: the report of the Oxford Diocesan Board of Finance cost only £64. He suggested that the peals should not be set out but tabulated. The peals printed in the report were not a full record because the footnotes were cut out. There were other economies that could be introduced in the Guild report. He did not think it was necessary to print the Guild Rules and Branch Rules each year. He felt that the report should be examined by the Committee and curtailed where necessary before asking peal ringers to meet this extra charge. A direct result would be the loss of members and quality of peals rung.

The Rev. C. P. Sherwood thought Mr. Pink had put forward some very enlightening proposals in order to help budget their accounts. He proposed that a small committee be formed, including Mr. Pink, to consider their finances.

The Rev. St. G. Edwards: That is also my proposal.

Miss Cross: I have been on three small committees to go into matters and in each one the recommendations have not been accepted. She suggested that a rider be added 'with power to act.'

Upon the Master's suggestion the meeting accepted that a sub-committee of the officers of the Guild and Mr. Pink be formed to meet as soon as possible and prepare a workable scheme to put the finances of the Guild on a sound basis and submit the same to the General Committee for approval.

CANON COLERIDGE MEMORIAL FUND

Mr. A. D. Barker reported that he had £34 9s. in hand for the Fund. He proposed that £100 be voted from the Restoration Fund to the Coleridge Memorial Fund. There was £50 promised from the Central Council. Even with the £100 they would not have enough in hand for the work.

M. A. E. Locke thought it was a dangerous precedent to take money from the Restoration Fund.

The Secretary: The Memorial is in the form of the Restoration of Bells.

The Rev. St. G. Edwards asked for a short report on what happened at the meeting on March 10th. He did not think the report in 'The Ringing World' was correct.

The secretary read out the minutes of the meeting and Mr. Edwards then asked if it was necessary to have two memorial tablets to Canon Coleridge.

The Master said it was proposed to place the second tablet in the ringing chamber indicating that the restoration of certain bells was a memorial to Canon Coleridge.

Mr. Barker gave an assurance that the £100 would be spent entirely on the restoration of the bells.

The resolution was then carried.

Mr. A. Pink called the attention of the meeting that the Diocesan Church Bell Ringers' Committee was empowered to consider and make grants for recasting and rehanging of bells.

The meeting confirmed the election of 192 new members during the year.

Mr. Diserens called attention to the dissolution of the Bradfield Branch. The meeting gave its approval to the dissolution.

Oxford Guild Festival—Cont.*THE LUNCHEON

The luncheon followed in Christ Church Dining hall, the Master presiding. After the loyal toast the Master proposed a vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for kindly allowing the service to be held in the Cathedral and to the governing body of Christ Church in allowing the luncheon to be held in the Dining Hall. He thanked Dr. Armstrong for kindly playing for the service and the choir drawn from several parishes which had been arranged by Mr. Sharpe and Mr. Nichols. He also felt most grateful to Canon Dixon for his address.

The vote of thanks was acknowledged by the Bishop of Dorchester who said they were delighted that they who came from all parts of their great diocese should share with them in their holy and material things.

Bishop Buxton, formerly Bishop of Gibraltar, proposed the toast of 'The Master of the Guild.' Replying, the Master said the Oxford Guild was a very fine brotherhood.

The toast of 'The Visitors' was submitted by the new Deputy Master (Mr. F. Sharpe). They had with them, he said, two of the leading bellfounders—Mr. Hughes and Mr. Michael Howard—sitting on either side of Mr. Richard White.

Mr. Hughes, in his reply, recalled visiting the Oxford Guild 48 years ago. He came down on the Friday night to Kidlington and started for a peal at 6 a.m. the following day, which was lost, and afterwards walked to Oxford for the Festival. The Oxford Festival was unique in the whole country with its wonderful service in the Cathedral and the joy and privilege of luncheon in that wonderful hall.

Mr. Michael Howard also replied.

Mr. W. Hibbert, proposing the toast of 'The Ringing World,' said without 'The Ringing World' as a link they could say goodbye to change ringing in the country.

Mr. T. W. White, in acknowledging the toast, said the Editorial Committee was making every endeavour to avoid increasing the cost of the paper and had introduced a number of economies. There would be no problem if every reader was a postal subscriber.

A PEAL WITH MEMORIES AT BERKELEY

The Barnetts, who have played such a prominent part in the history of the Kent County Association, originated from the West Country. The late Edwin Barnett, sen., was married at Berkeley Church, Gloucestershire. His son, the present Edwin Barnett, of Crayford, fulfilled a cherished ambition on July 11th, when he took part in a peal of Stedman Caters at Berkeley. This was the first opportunity to attempt a peal at this place of happy memories of his youth.

The arrangements for the peal were made by Mr. John Thomas who, with two Monmouthshire veterans, Mr. J. W. Jones and Mr. George Large, listened to the ringing. Incidentally, the two trebles at this church were added by the Gloucester and Bristol Association as a war memorial after the first war.

'THE NINE TAILORS'

In response to an Editorial query as to the number of ringers who owed their introduction to change-ringing to reading Miss Dorothy Sayers' book, 'The Nine Tailors,' Miss Cecily C. Roberts, of Bedales, Petersfield, Hants, claims such a distinction. She adds: 'This is sent, not as "a letter to the Editor," but in the hope that you may have an opportunity (if there are enough of us) to convey to Miss Sayers, on our behalf, very real gratitude.'

We are asked to state that correspondence relating to 'The Ringing World' intended for the Editorial Committee should be addressed to the Convener of the Committee, Mr. J. Frank Smallwood, 122, Lee Road, Blackheath, London, S.E.3, and not to Mr. G. W. Fletcher. All Editorial communications, reports, letters and notices should, as heretofore, be sent to the Editor.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD*Meeting at Yardley

Owing to the large number of weddings that were due to take place at the picturesque and ancient Parish Church of Yardley on July 7th, it was necessary to depart considerably from the usual style of the Guild's quarterly meetings. The church being fully occupied with weddings until 5 p.m., it was decided to hold the meeting in the afternoon, followed by tea, and then ringing for the rest of the evening. This change proved to be highly successful.

The 'Ring o' Bells' is a well-appointed, modern hotel, having a sign which is of special interest to ringers, depicting swinging bells, complete with wheels and stays, ropes and ringers.

Mr. Vice-President Albert Walker presided over the short business meeting. He referred to the passing of two members, which had occurred since the previous meeting—Thomas H. Reeves and John Gilson, of Erdington. They all realised, he said, the great loss that the Guild had sustained by the death of Tom Reeves. Not only was he hon. secretary of the Guild for 20 years, but he had been a good husband and father. Had he lived a little longer Tom would have been proud of the twin grandchildren that were born shortly after his death. John Gilson had been a member of the Guild for many years and, although only a tenor ringer, had conscientiously given his services Sunday by Sunday at Erdington Parish Church. The members stood in silence for a moment as a token of respect to the memory of the two ringers.

The following new members were elected:—Miss Enid Roberts, Kings Norton; Miss Joan Ashton, Edgbaston; Messrs. J. Chown, Yardley; Clive Smith and Derek Preece, Little Aston. The following tower elections (as life members) were duly ratified:—Messrs Ernest Rowe, Broseley; James Rich, Marhamchurch; Alick Cutler, Harlesden; Roger O. Fry, Bath; Philip W. Weeks, Colerne; John T. Dunwoody, Ireland; and L. Michael Callow, Meriden.

Perry Barr was chosen for the next meeting which will be held on October 6th.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Messrs. H. J. and A. H. Fitter, who had made such excellent arrangements for a splendid tea which, due to their efforts, was provided without charge.

Welcome visitors included eleven members of the Coventry Diocesan Guild who had met one short at Birmingham Cathedral for a peal during the afternoon.

Full use was made of the very fine octave, methods being rung to suit all tastes and capabilities, from rounds to Spliced Surprise, and a very good touch of Stedman Triples by a complete band of ladies.

NEW POSTAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES*SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

The Editorial Committee regret that owing to the present finances of 'The Ringing World' they are unable to meet the increased postal charges when subscribers renew their subscriptions.

The new rates, which became operative with subscriptions due on July 6th, are as follows:—

Quarterly Subscription, 6s.

Half-yearly Subscription, 11s. 8d.

To ensure continuity of delivery, subscriptions should be sent without delay to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Contributions from yearly subscribers to meet the extra 1s. 5d. postage on their copies for 1951 would be gratefully acknowledged by Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent, or by the Editor.

OBITUARY*MR. E. G. MORRAD

The Exercise has lost another old and faithful member by the death of Mr. Edward George Morrad, of Milton-next-Gravesend, Kent, which took place at All Saints' Hospital, Chatham, on July 12th, at the advanced age of 84 years. Had he lived a few more days Mr. and Mrs. Morrad would have celebrated the Diamond Jubilee of their wedding on July 26th.

The funeral service was held in Milton Parish Church, where George had been a member for the past 36 years, and was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. E. F. Johnson. In addition to his colleagues at Milton, ringers from Gravesend and Northfleet attended at the church and graveside at Gravesend Cemetery.

After the funeral the bells at Milton were rung half-muffled by his colleagues from Milton, Gravesend and Northfleet as a token of their respect.

Mr. Morrad began ringing at his birthplace at Shorne, Kent, at an early age, and also helped at Cobham, a neighbouring village. Early in the 1914-18 war he moved to Milton and joined the local tower where he had been ringing for 36 years, until a few months ago, when, owing to his infirmity, he was unable to ascend the tower. His last appearance among his fellow-ringers was at a Kent quarterly meeting at his home tower at Milton on April 21st.

He was a most reliable ringer and during his career at Milton was most regular in attendance. Altogether he rang nearly 100 peals ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Major, all of which were rung in Kent for that Association or for the Ancient Society of College Youths, of which he was a member.

Thus passes from our midst one who was respected and liked by all with whom he came in contact. F. M. M.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION
Rochester and District

After a lapse of just over 30 years the Rochester District held its quarterly meeting at Rodmersham on July 7th and 60 members and friends enjoyed a very fine afternoon and evening in the heart of the countryside.

Ringing commenced promptly at 3 p.m. and continued in various methods until 4.30 p.m., when all present attended the ringers' service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. C. R. Cassidy. The Lesson was read by Mr. G. H. Spice, general secretary of the Association, and the address was given by the Rev. V. F. Hall, Vicar of Bobbing. The collection taken for Association Funds was £1 11s. 6d. After the service a very nice tea was served in the Village Hall by the lady friends of the local ringers.

The chair at the business meeting was occupied by the Vicar who, in his opening remarks, welcomed the District ringers to Rodmersham and expressed a wish that they would not wait another 30 years before they came again. Five new members were elected.

At the close of the business meeting the chairman presented Mr. Walter H. Dobbie and Miss Sheila Mary Hole with a wedding present, subscribed for by most of the towers in the district, comprising a canteen of cutlery and a coffee percolator and teapot and a cheque for £2 10s.

Mr. Dobbie has been a District Representative on the General Committee of the Association for a number of years and has done a very great deal of work with the younger ringers in the District. He thanked all members for their very pleasing gift, and also for their expressions of goodwill. The marriage is to take place at St. Michael's Church, Southampton, on Saturday, August 11th, at 1 p.m.

A TOUR OF THE SHIRES

A SUCCESSFUL tour, organised by Mr. T. J. Lock, of the Middlesex Association, took place during the first week of July. Headquarters were at Worcester and peals were rung in Worcestershire, Staffordshire, Warwickshire and Gloucestershire. Local arrangements were made most ably by Messrs. T. W. Lewis and John Thomas with helpful co-operation by other ringers in the district. The party comprised ringers from many parts of the country, most of whom had met on tours of former years. Fifteen peals were rung out of 24 attempts.

The tragedy of the week was an attempt for Stedman Cinques at Kidderminster. All went well for half the peal when suddenly a face appeared in the doorway. This was the more disconcerting as all knew that George Fearn, with characteristic skill in such matters, had locked the bottom door and left the key in the lock. Alas, the face and the Stedman Cinques could not be reconciled and when the bells had been set up twelve violent ringers turned on a defenceless youth. Daniel in the lions' den could not have displayed greater composure and at last the lions' anger melted and the unfortunate young man, who turned out to be a local learner, was given an opportunity for a few rounds. Apparently he had wriggled George's key out of the lock and inserted his own. He had only desired to see what good-looking chaps we all were. He said he was joining the Forces the next day and it speaks well for the visiting ringers that all forbore from the obvious remark—at least, out loud!

Many incidents occur in a week of this kind that become indelible memories. One remembers Dudley with its large belfry windows open to the alternate odours of hons and fish and chips. The church stands on a hill and cars going by tend to backfire. One such incident sounded like a pistol shot and immediately afterwards two men went by carrying what looked like a coffin!

The visits to the Black Country were in the earlier part of the week and the party were particularly happy to record a good peal of Superlative at Lye. These light bells with a tenor of 3½ cwt. were a tricky proposition and high praise was due to Tom Lewis for his handling of the treble. Three of the band, Bill Beeson, Tom Cullingworth and Harry Parkes, have now rung peals on the heaviest and lightest eights. Tom Cullingworth and Harry Parkes rang 7-8 together at Sherborne last year and have now rung 7-8 together at Lye. It must be recorded that the experts who had not been in the peal at Lye made a shocking exhibition of themselves after the peal. They stepped forward boldly to ring three leads of Bristol in order to 'grab' the tower—they never even managed to ring rounds!

Careful consideration was given from time to time during the week to the matrimonial prospects of certain young male members of the party (two in number—let there be no guessing as to their identity). It must be said that for the most part they stood up well to the inquisition but at last the boastful spirit in one of them predominated and he was wont to hint darkly that he was a bit of a gay dog really, despite his earlier protests of innocence. The other one, of a more mathematical turn of mind, took refuge in an attempt to prove that there can be smoke without fire. The writer remains unconvinced.

Activities at the end of the week were in the southern part of the county and over the border into Gloucestershire. On Thursday a peal of Ashted was rung at Hinton-on-the-Green and the ladies of the party and the odd men out were kindly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. Thursday evening provided the thrill of the week as permission had been obtained for a short ring at Pershore Abbey. The visitors stood at what was once the crossing of this historic Abbey Church and gazed at the ringing cage high above. There may have been a certain amount of trepidation but at least all commenced the long ascent and all but the most portly arrived at the cage in due course. Most ringers will have heard of the Pershore cage which was provided in the last century by Sir Gilbert Scott to replace the ringing floor which he had removed to expose the beauties of the lantern. One could forgive the cage a lot if it were slightly larger. Several of the ropes fall in a straight line and are evidently intended for half-starved ringers as one has to press back on the open bars of the cage, there being about six inches between rope and cage. The bells, which are alleged to have been rehung in 1936, go like the proverbial houses. Some of the party were afterwards privileged to visit the bell-chamber. The frame, a massive wooden affair, would be far too big for the average church tower but seems lost in the midst of a vast space. The sixth is somewhat more than loose on its headstock. A light touch on the wheel and the bell flaps gently in the breeze. The bells are of beautiful tone, six of them being Rudhall bells, including the tenor, which emits a deep, soft, purring sound.

Gloucestershire on Friday provided two successes and two failures. The failures were both Bristol. This lovely method was completely wasted at one of the towers where one had the impression that at some time someone had taken any eight bells and put them in the tower. Any relationship to each other was entirely accidental. However, they went very well.

On Saturday it had been hoped to commemorate the Holt's Original bicentenary but alas, after 2½ hours' good ringing a shift occurred. As the peal reports show, the conducting was widely shared. The highlight in this respect was the peal of Cambridge rung silent and non-conducted in the presence of an umpire in accordance with the best traditions of the Exercise. One of the participants hoped this type of peal would not become too common as everyone looked so miserable. All adopted an expression of studied gloom so that the umpire could not accuse anyone of giving signals.

The party began to break up on Saturday and on Sunday morning several ringers called at Stratford-on-Avon Parish Church on their way back to London. The new and glorious ring of ten is a worthy addition to a fine church, eloquent of all that is best in the English tradition.

All are grateful to Mr. Lock for his hard work and agree that his job was well and truly done. It was also a great joy to meet local ringers and in some cases to take part in peals with them. We also think of the steeplekeepers, often at work and, therefore, unable to meet us, who left everything ready for us, and the incumbents who so readily gave permission for our ringing.

THE SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

SALISBURY BRANCH

A very good meeting was held at Wilton on July 14th, when some 40 ringers were present from the Salisbury Branch, North Dorset, Somerset and Hampshire. The Guild service was taken by the Rector, the Rev. W. E. Drury, who pointed out pillars and ancient glass which had been brought from far distant places to beautify the church, and showed how ringers, gathering together from far and wide, brought their varied gifts into the church, to the glory of God.

At the business meeting Mr. Frank Harris' resignation as Ringing Master was received with regret and the Branch recorded its thanks for the good work he had done, and its good wishes to him as he leaves to take up a new appointment. Mr. H. Abrahams, of Amesbury, was elected Ringing Master in his stead. The members were very glad to have amongst

CACOPHONOUS LIFE

St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, Outing

By GILBERT THURLOW

July 7th, a lovely day, a leisurely start at noon, a full motor coach which soon became a dining car, what could be more pleasant? Also the knowledge that we were going to add to other people's enjoyment by providing sweet music in the background.

Rarely, I think, has a ringers' outing added so much to other noises already going on—and this time without a word of complaint from the crowds so far as I know. At our first stop, Stowmarket, we found ourselves ringing Superlative, etc., on the fine eight (tenor 24 cwt.), in the middle of, instead of at the end of, a wedding. However, the happy couple expressed no concern, nor did anyone else.

So, on to Ipswich, where, at St. Margaret's (eight, tenor 14 cwt.), Cambridge, etc., added to the many other noises, good and bad, at a vast fete going on in Christ Church Park close by. What the band (brass) thought, I do not know; anyway we didn't make so sad a noise as the model aeroplanes (power driven) did.

Then to St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, where, lo and behold, massed choirs were rehearsing music for a choral festival. I really did wonder what difference the bells would make here, but the choirs stood it manfully; even when Stedman broke down in the middle of the treble solo in 'Blessed be the God and Father' (Wesley) it failed to break the determination of the boy-singing it. Again nobody seemed to mind in the least. Oh that the widely varying sounds which make the cacophonous life of this warlike world would all fit in so well together!

A good tea at Limmer and Pipe's, where Charlie Sedgley welcomed us in a charming speech. Waiting for the bus afterwards took longer than usual as some waited in one place, some in another, and the bus for a while in a third. However, this gave an opportunity for three pairs of thumbs to ring 96 Plain and Little Bob on a street corner.

Then on to Grundisburgh, where the Pipe family and others were awaiting us, and a very pleasant time was spent with the delightful ten there. Roderick Pipe (aged nine) called 2½ courses Bob Triples in expert fashion. By way of a change the writer explored, together with Cecil Pipe, the historic house called 'Basts' next the church. A very pleasant gentleman appeared, told us all about the colour problem in South Africa, and invited us to explore the outside of the house. He gave us his name in Zulu, and when we turned to go we asked: 'And what is your name in English?' 'Worthington,' he replied, 'you'll remember that if you're not teetotalers.' 'We are not teetotalers,' we replied in chorus. 'Oh,' said Mr. Worthington, 'goodbye, and glad to have met you.' On the way home we stopped at a place marked 'Buck's Head: Pull up for a Coffee'!

them again Mr. G. K. Norton, formerly captain of Salisbury St. Thomas', who was no longer able to take an active part in ringing owing to ill-health.

The bells at Wilton and at South Newton were kept going during the afternoon and evening to standard methods. During the evening teams from Wilton, Salisbury St. Thomas' and Tisbury went to Barford St. Martin for a competition comprising 120 Grandire Doubles. Wilton were judged winners with 18 marks out of 20, St. Thomas' a close second with 14 marks. Tisbury deserve special credit for their attempt as they included four who had been learning less than 18 months. These qualified for certificates of proficiency from the Guild. This competition was a new venture in the Branch and it is hoped it may become an annual feature and encourage learners in change-ringing.

RINGERS' OUTINGS IN MANY COUNTIES

DAVENTRY BRANCH

For their annual outing this year the members of the Daventry Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild visited the towers of Bourton-on-the-Water, Westbury-on-Severn, Glos. Welland and Upton-on-Severn on June 30th. An early start was made, the day was fine and warm, and the drive, enlivened by handbell ringing, was through beautiful countryside which included the Cotswolds, Forest of Dean and the Wye Valley. Lunch was served at Gloucester and members were able to visit the Cathedral during the short stay there.

At How Caple the party was royally entertained to tea by the members of the How Caple and Sollers Hope Mothers' Union, after which selections on handbells were given by Messrs. W. Collins, F. Hancock, G. Hancock, E. Orland and S. Osborne. Mr. L. Townsend played the piano for singing. The drive home was through the Vale of Evesham and Stratford-on-Avon and a successful day concluded at about 11.30 p.m.

Methods rung during the day were: Grand-sire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and St. Clement's Minor. Duke of Norfolk Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise. F. W. H.

HORNCHURCH, ESSEX

What is now the traditional course of Grand-sire on handbells in the Lych Gate set the Hornchurch ringers off to a grand day in the Thames Valley.

Due to the belated arrival of the coach, Maidenhead was reached slightly behind schedule, but Mr. George Martin was patiently waiting. Plain Bob, Stedman and Double Norwich were safely brought round on this musical eight. Coffee and light refreshments were served at the Crown Hotel.

Wallingford, Hagbourne, Blewbury, Goring and Old Windsor were all reached on time and ringing enjoyed very much at all these towers.

Better surroundings for lunch than Castle Priory at Wallingford cannot be imagined: while the light eight at Goring entertained the 'last coppers' for tea at the Swan, Streatley.

A most enjoyable day was brought to a close at Old Windsor when Grandsire Caters and 'Nellie Dean' made a very harmonious conclusion.

Thank you, everybody, we had a lovely day.

SPALDING

Ringers of Spalding Parish Church, joined by friends from neighbouring towers, visited Oxfordshire for their annual outing on July 14th.

The outing was, as usual, a very strenuous one. Departure time of 6 a.m. was adhered to and Aynhoe was reached at 9 a.m. Here the party was met by the Vicar, and the bells rung for the first time in many months. Adderbury, with its fine eight, was the next call, followed by Bloxham, where ringing on the heavy eight is permitted for ten minute periods only, owing to a crack in the tower wall. A diversion was caused here by the request to ring the third bell for a few minutes at noon as a dinner bell—a custom which has survived the centuries and which, incidentally, reminded the visitors of their early breakfast!

After lunch at Chipping Norton, ringing took place there and at Shipton-under-Wychwood, followed by tea at Witney and ringing on the beautiful eight there. Woodstock was the last tower and after a look at Blenheim Palace, and much-needed refreshment, the coach was turned homewards, Spalding being reached at one a.m.

Ringing which ranged from rounds to Superlative and Cambridge, was of quite a good standard. M. T. J. Newington organised the outing as usual, and Mr. A. D. Mills produced an attractive souvenir programme

BRENTWOOD, ESSEX

At 7.30 a.m. on Monday, July 2nd, a party of some 60 ringers and friends set out from Brentwood in two coaches for their 21st annual outing.

At 8.45 the party arrived at Braughing, Herts, where they were welcomed by the Rector. Soon the bells were going to Stedman Triples, followed by Double Norwich and Grandsire and finishing with a course of Cambridge.

St. Mary's, Baldock (tenor 26 cwt.), bells were rung to good touches including Superlative, but London was lost. At St. Neots, the visitors were received by the Rector, who conducted the non-ringers round the beautiful church. Ringing here included Kent, Stedman and Grandsire and a course of Yorkshire, after which we adjourned for lunch, which had been arranged near by.

St. Mary's, Huntingdon, provided the only hitch of the day; no one knew where to find the key of the belfry. The Master made some hurried visits to several houses, all in vain, until he found Mr. Measures, who very kindly came to our assistance.

After everyone had had a pull, we had a 16-mile run into Cambridge and at the Roman Catholic Church of St. Mary, Mr. Dennis met the party. There is a really grand eight here (tenor 32 cwt.) and everyone enjoyed ringing on them, the methods being Stedman Triples and Bob Major.

After tea we turned homewards, passing the site of the Royal Show, where final preparations were being made for the opening by H.M. The Queen on the following day, and arrived at Bishops Stortford, where Mr. Pound-Turner was waiting to receive us. Here we rang Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Kent Royal and were about to start for Cambridge Royal when a message arrived; the speakers at a meeting in progress in the hall just below the tower were finding difficulty in making themselves heard. Ringing was then confined to handbells.

Brentwood was reached something after 11 o'clock after a most enjoyable day. The best thanks of all are due to the Master, Mr. J. Stich, and the secretary, Mr. A. Pryke, and all others who helped in this successful outing.

HUNTS DISTRICT

A programme of visits to eight towers was arranged for the Hunts District on July 7th. The party left Huntingdon at 8.30 a.m. by motor coach and picked up other members at St. Neots and Great Staughton.

Raunds was reached 15 minutes before time but this fine eight was soon being rung in various methods. Ringstead (6) was the next stop followed by lunch at the Swan Hotel, Thrapston.

The first tower in the afternoon was just across the river at Islip, after which came Woodford and the musical six at Great Addington.

Tea was served at Kettering after which ringing took place at the Parish Church until 6.30. Towers visited in the evening were the delightful six at Isham and the heavy eight at Wellingborough. Huntingdon was reached at 10.30 p.m.

NORTON SUBCOURSE

On July 7th a party of 23 ringers and their friends held their annual outing to the Sudbury area. Towers visited were Clare, Cavendish, Monks Eleigh, Preston, Lavenham and All Saints' and St. Gregory's, Sudbury. The ringers thank all incumbents and all steeplekeepers for having everything ready. They also extend very hearty thanks to Mr. A. A. Fitch for his co-operation in making the day such a pleasant one. G. W. W.

FROM TAMWORTH TO LINCOLN

Warm, sunny weather favoured ringers from Tamworth and Lichfield Cathedral for their trip to Lincoln.

After calling at Barwell, where Mr. T. C. Belton completed the complement of ringers, the party made for Melton Mowbray, where Mr. William Smith, of the local band, welcomed the ringers to St. Mary's with its ring of ten.

Rounds, Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Bob Royal were rung for an hour prior to a most excellent meal served by 'Anne of Cleveleys'.

A charming ride through the Vale of Belvoir and on past Grantham's fine tower and spire, brought the towers of Lincoln Cathedral into view. A notoriously steep hill was anxiously negotiated before halting at the west end of the Cathedral, where Mr. John A. Freeman escorted the ringers through the Cathedral's own Ringers' Chapel up into the belfry. This fine, clear ring of 12 was soon put to good use and the visitors' book, presented by the Universities, Guild on the occasion of their Lincoln tour, was both admired and added to. The vista from the roof was an experience not easily forgotten.

An hour's ringing was terminated by evensong at which the writer had the joy of listening to the finest of English Cathedral music.

At 6 p.m. the homeward journey was started but the steep hills proved too much for the handbell enthusiasts when halfway through a course of Double Norwich.

One of Leicestershire's six-bells towers was the only evening belfry and at All Saints', Somerby, the handy ring of six, recently augmented, and rung from the entrance to the chancel of the 13th century church, was a contrast to the slow ringing on the 10 and 12. Touches of London and Cambridge Minor, Kent and Oxford, Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles, catered for everyone, including three members of the Somerby band.

During the later stages of the journey Mr. G. Oliver, of Lichfield, spoke on behalf of his ringers in appreciation of the success of the outing, and the Vicar of Tamworth expressed the hope that more of the united outings would be arranged especially in view of efficient arrangements carried out by Mr. G. Pears, of Tamworth, and the spirit of the party, which had made the event a happy one.

DARTFORD AND DISTRICT

Eastbourne was the objective for the annual outing of Dartford and District on July 7th. St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells, was the first call and here Mr. Collinson had the bells in readiness for the party. Before leaving, some of the party sampled the famous 'waters'.

After lunch at the Drive Hotel, Eastbourne, the non-ringing members left the party. At Christ Church Mr. Percy met the ringers who enjoyed ringing on this light Taylor eight and also had the privilege of ringing for a wedding. Then followed a visit to the fine old eight at St. Mary's. Tea was served at the Drive Hotel and press interviews and photographs taken—such is our notoriety!

An enjoyable break on the homeward journey was the ringing at Lamberhurst, with Mr. Relfe waiting to welcome the company. Wrotham provided a disappointment, the key being not available. However, one ringer who may have been in 'The Wrong', but being definitely 'At Home', made an unorthodox entry to the ringing platform. Only the young and agile were able to follow his example and their efforts were limited to rounds and call changes. Apart from this all who took part were unanimous in voting it a very good outing. Special thanks were due to Mr. Rollinson for arranging the ringing at Eastbourne K. G. R.

MONKEN HADLEY

About 32 members and friends of the Monken Hadley Guild of Bell Ringers went for their annual outing on July 7th. The venue was Eastbourne and an early start was made from Barnet on a beautiful morning. There was consternation when three of the members from Northaw failed to show up at the appointed time, and after waiting for some little time, it was reluctantly decided to start without them.

Arriving at East Grinstead at 10 a.m., the party made for St. Swithin's Church, where an excellent ring of eight were soon swinging, with touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and some rounds for the beginners. After a drive through the beautiful Ashdown Forest, Eastbourne was reached at 12.15 p.m., when it was joyfully discovered that the absentees had 'caught up on us,' their trouble had been that their bus from Northaw had broken down, but they had followed on by rail, and were found waiting in the car park for the coach. By this time everyone was ready for lunch and a walk along the sea front.

Non-ringing members disported themselves on the beach, while the ringers made for All Saints' Church. There was a little difficulty here as, owing to a garden fete, our visit seemed to have been overlooked, but a key was eventually located, and the fine ring of eight was rung to Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and rounds, and at 3 p.m. the bells were lowered in peal. The party then went to Christ Church—a delightful ring of eight, a little light, perhaps, but the 'go' left nothing to be desired. Probably the best ringing of the day was found here and everyone had a pull, the bells being lowered at 4.30 p.m.

After a very nice 'high tea,' a start back was made at 5.45 p.m.. Crawley was reached at 7.45 p.m. and the fine old church of St. John-the-Baptist visited. Ringing was enjoyed by all until 8.45 p.m., when the bells were lowered in peal.

Summing up, it can truly be said that 'a good time was had by all.' Special thanks are due to the organisers, Mr. T. Pink (tower secretary) and Mr. C. Ward (captain).

BRANSTON, LINCOLN

Branston ringers held their annual outing on July 7th. The first tower visited was Rippingale (6), tenor 12 cwt., the ringing being of a good standard with the exception of Spliced and Treble Bob, which would not go.

After the party had partaken of an excellent lunch at Bourne, the Parish Church (6), tenor 15 cwt., was visited. Ringing was limited owing to a wedding and also because Coventry ringers were shortly expected. Spliced ringing was also elusive at the next tower visited, Deeping St. Nicholas' (6), tenor 6½ cwt.

Some of the best ringing of the day occurred at Market Deeping (6), tenor 6 cwt.. Here a touch of Stedman was rung at the request of the Vicar, whose local band refused to ring 'the trash,' a sentiment echoed by the writer. A fish and chip supper was then disposed of.

The party then called at St. James', Deeping, where four blows were struck and the ringing was stopped by the Rector because a garden party was in progress.

At Crowland Abbey the ringing was enjoyed on this fine six (tenor 12 cwt.). The long draught of rope (92 feet) proved no embarrassment as the ringers were used to a long draught at their own tower. St. James', Deeping (6), tenor 19½ cwt., was then revisited and good ringing was enjoyed on this fine ring of bells, second only in Lincolnshire to Brant-Broughton (tenor 24 cwt.).

Then, after refuelling at the local, the party arrived home at 11 p.m. after a very enjoyable day. Methods rung were: Stedman Doubles, Sandal, Kingston, London Scholars, Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge, Ipswich Primrose, Hull, Bourne, Norfolk, London, York, Plain, Single Court, Double Court and Plain Bob Doubles.

HUDDERSFIELD DISTRICT

A better day could not have been chosen for the meeting held at Brighouse on June 30th. The service was ably conducted by the Rev. D. Moxon, recently inducted as Vicar. Some 36 members and friends sat down to an excellent tea. The Rev. J. Spivey took the chair at the business meeting in the absence of the president, who was on other urgent business. Ripponden was selected for the next meeting to be held on September 1st.

The local company which, although sadly depleted, made such excellent arrangements, were thanked. Nothing more ambitious than Stedman Triples was rung and the striking still leaves much to be desired. An encouraging feature was the number of young people present and the problem seems to be getting enough experienced men with the gift of teaching. However, the meetings held every two months are certainly well worth the effort put into them.

A. W. B.

LAVENHAM, SUFFOLK

Ringers of SS. Peter and Paul's, Lavenham, with their wives and friends, held their annual outing on July 7th, starting at 8 a.m. The following towers were visited: Saffron Walden, Essex; Baldock, Norton, Stevenage and Hitchin. Herts. Lunch was enjoyed at Letchworth and tea at Hitchin.

Handbells were brought into use at the evening's convivial at Haverhill. Methods rung during the day were Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge.

We wish to thank all the incumbents and local ringers for the help they gave towards making this outing a great and enjoyable success.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD

Tour of Derbyshire and North Staffs

This year the annual ringing trip of the Manchester University Guild was held in the Peak District. Setting out from Manchester on June 25th, the cycling party rang at 21 towers whilst even the slower walking party managed 12. Accommodation was provided by Youth Hostels.

The cyclists' first stop was at Macclesfield where, with the help of two local ringers, the eight at St. Peter's were rung to Minor and Triples. Next on the list was Burbage (one mile from Buxton) where they were joined by the 'walkers' (who had ridden the 25 miles from Manchester on Dunlopillo-cushioned seats!). Handbells, which had attracted the amused attention of passers-by as they dangled at the back of the cycles, were rung for a short while before the time scheduled for arrival. Once more with the help of two local ringers, the very nice, easy-going six bells were rung to Plain Bob, Sandal, Kingston, Cambridge, Kent and Oxford.

The next day on to Castleton, in the pouring rain, the walkers managing to get lost on the way. Here were rung Bob Minor and Triples. (The latter because the band found it easier to strike than Grandsire.)

On the following day, in fine weather, the whole party proceeded to Hope, a very nice eight. This was the walkers' only tower on that day, but the cyclists managed another two, ringing rounds and doubles at Hathersage (6) and turning in a very good light six at Eyam, the plague village.

On Thursday the programme consisted of two glorious eights at Bakewell and Yowlgreave (the heaviest ring met, tenor 26 cwt.). The cyclists again managed one ring more than the walkers, the very, very light six at Wormhill proving very difficult to handle as they would insist on revolving twice at every stroke!

On Friday the party had gained by the arrival of S. Richardson, from Cumberland. The cyclists, therefore, managed to find adequate bands at Ashover, Matlock (where yet another member joined the party) and Crich. The walkers had a lazy (?) day with no ringing at all, and only did 17-18 miles. That night still another addition was made to the party, a tiny shrew attaching itself very fondly to one of the members. This creature was only dislodged at bed time after having spent about an hour somewhere within the ringer's shirt.

Saturday saw the party at the Church of St. Mary, Wirksworth, the old Saxon and Norman building echoing with both Major and Triples (again with the help of two local ringers). Later we went on to Brassington (6) and the cyclists finished the day ringing at St. Oswald's, Ashbourne—well called the 'Pride of the Peak.'

On Sunday, at Ilam, only four of the five bells being ringable, the cyclists rang Bob Minimus for morning service. Just before lunch they were joined by the walkers and the rest of the day was spent in sunbathing—with dire results! Here one of the 13 members managed to drop a large stone upon his fingers and when next seen he was wearing a sling. The next day he departed homewards for an examination (not of the finger).

Only three days remained and these were spent in ringing at Leek, the only ten-bell tower on the trip, Kingsley, a lovely six. Cheadle, with its two churches, a six and an eight, and its fine welcome (thank you, Mr. Hall) and, finally, at Alton.

The Guild should have rung at Silverdale, but owing to the unfortunate non-arrival of the cyclists, the villagers were spared.

On the whole the trip was a success and the new Ringing Master, Mr. Parry, and the secretary, Miss Jackson, certainly found out many things to help them in their coming year of office.

Many thanks to everyone who helped to make the journey so enjoyable, especially to the incumbents and ringers of the parishes which we visited, and the wardens of the hostels, who not only fed us well, but put up with our handbells without a complaint.

WINCHESTER &amp; PORTSMOUTH

Singled out for congratulations at the Winchester District meeting at Stockbridge on July 14th was Miss B. Edmonds who, after about four hours' private tuition on a tied bell, demonstrated that she could satisfactorily ring her bell in rounds.

After the service, conducted by the Vicar of Stockbridge, tea was served in the garden of Grosvenor Cottage, by permission of Dr. and Mrs. Loveless.

The chairman (the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth) presided and thanked Stockbridge friends for their welcome and also introduced the Rev. K. C. Davis, of Hawley. Miss B. Edmonds and Mr. P. Corfield (St. Maurice's, Winchester) were elected ringing members and eight new honorary members were elected.

It was decided that the next two practice meetings should be held at King's Somborne and Cheriton, with Barton Stacey as an alternative should either of these towers be unavailable.

The secretary (Mr. J. A. C. King) called attention to the request made at the annual meeting of the Guild for the names of ringers killed by enemy action during the 1939-45 war to be forwarded to the general secretary, and also announced that Guild certificates would shortly be available.

Thanks to Mr. Loveless and the ladies were voiced by Mr. S. B. Canev, local captain, who recalled that it was 45 years ago that he learnt to ring.

The remaining few items on the agenda were quickly disposed of and after members had seen a local fisherman successfully catch a trout, the chairman declared the meeting closed. Ringing was continued at Stockbridge and Leckford.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SERVICE

Dear Sir,—Regarding your note, can anybody give the answer in taking up bell-ringing!

Some years ago a small body of youths in this parish formed a Rover Scouts Crew, the 'motto' being 'Service,' several services being undertaken and bell-ringing one of them. Hence my reason for still being a ringer to-day.

—Yours truly,

F. A. GREEN.

Freshwater, I.W.

'BELLRINGERS' GUIDE'

Dear Sir,—To avoid any more waste of space in your correspondence columns, I append an extract from the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee's report, as presented and passed at Eastbourne on Whit Tuesday, 1950:—

'Lastly, the current year has witnessed the appearance of a perfectly monumental work in Mr. R. H. Dove's "Bellringers' Guide to the Church Bells of Britain." The incalculable degree of perseverance and industry required to ascertain and tabulate such a mass of detailed information about 5,489 peals of bells in Great Britain and Ireland is matched by the skill and ingenuity displayed in such a neat and attractive form of publication.'—Youth faithfully,

GEORGE W. FLETCHER.

Hon. Sec., Central Council.

The White House,
Caister-on-Sea

'BELFRYMANSHIP'

Sir,—May I intrude upon your columns to express my surprise at and thorough disagreement with, the somewhat naive attitude taken by Mr. A. V. Davis toward the subtle wit and scintillating humour displayed in Mr. Rodney B. Meadows' articles on 'Belfrymanship.'

Although I have done some little writing for our local Press, had my effusions displayed one-tenth of the ability shown in 'Belfrymanship' by Rodney Meadows, it would take far more than the wrath of Mr. Davis or that of the most pompous, purple-faced Civic Nonentity to make me disclaim anything, either now or in ten years' time.

As one who has often played the role of the 'One meeting the many' as tower-keeper of a church with a very popular ring of bells, I found 'Counter Coachtourship' most instructive and now look forward to a lesson in 'Counter Pealgrabbership' or 'The Preservation of Peace in the "Green Man"' which could be sub-titled 'How to evade the shot gun threat.'

Congratulations, Rodney, and more, please.—Yours sincerely,

W. E. BOX.

Tower-keeper, St. Chad's, Birmingham.

THE BRIGHTER SIDE OF LIFE

Dear Sir,—With regard to 'Belfrymanship'—surely Mr. A. V. Davis lacks a sense of humour if he is unable to see the funny side of the two articles by Mr. Meadows which, by the way, must be based to some extent on fact!

Of course we all try to do our best but at the same time we must try to see the funny side of ourselves—even our great statesmen have to come under the hammer, as it were, when some funny gentleman climbs upon the stage and proceeds to take the 'mike' out of all and sundry.

To Mr. Davis I would say 'Try to look on the brighter side of life,' and to Mr. Meadows, 'Carry on with the good work and let's all have a good laugh.'—Sincerely yours,

WILFRED W. PING

Ashford, Kent.

'THE LECTURE'

Dear Sir,—Most ringers take especial interest in one particular aspect of our Art, and to those of us who are mainly concerned in its propagation your leading article in issue No. 2,102 of 'The Ringing World' comes as a great encouragement.

As one whose principal interest lies in the spreading of knowledge in—(a) the rudiments of its practice and (b) the theory of method structure, I would place the importance of lectures on a par with that of articles suitably written.

In view of the interest aroused by your publication of a summary of one of my recent lectures, and of certain queries apparently arising, may I be permitted to make note of the following:—

(1). The references quoted from that excellent work 'Bells of All Nations' are by kind permission of its author—our old friend Ernest Morris, and this is gratefully acknowledged.

(2). The full text of the lecture occupies about 75 minutes in delivery—including demonstrations with models, with handbell soundings off-stage, and the team demonstrations on-stage. A further 10 or 15 minutes may be allowed for questions, which should be encouraged.

(3). A piano and/or gramophone recordings of bells are useful for illustration. A cardboard model of a bell of size equivalent to one of about five cwt. with half-wheel in proportion, is handy and very useful to illustrate bell motion.

(4). The lecture referred to the three principal British bell-founder firms. (It is believed all will loan slides to illustrate talks.)

(5). The lecture as given included references to the origin and development of the art of bell-tuning. Your phrase (page 441, column 3, mid-way) 'calling attention to the three notes' should read 'calling attention to the five more readily distinguishable tones of a bell-sound.'

(6). Your reference (same column, at bottom) to a diagram, speaks of a 'card-like arrangement of squares.' This should read 'grid-like' etc. And the diagram is not the one given in your summary and showing Maximus, but one which illustrated Minimus, conforming with the descriptive matter accompanying.

(7). Your reference to listening tests (same column, third paragraph) says, 'Useful to test yourselves on this very point of dissemination.' The last word should be, of course, 'discrimination,' to give correct meaning.

(8). I included some slides showing grid-patterns of typical methods ranging from simple to complex, and these prove among the most interesting to the average audience.

(9). References are made also to the Central Council and its work, and to our journal, 'The Ringing World.'

(10). The importance of local references cannot be over-estimated. The number of bells in the rings of the principal and other churches with some idea of size and weights, and notes, may be given. Also, by way of contrast, a note or two on some of the largest bells ever cast, both Bourdons and ringing bells, always proves interesting.

A touch of humour here and there may be helpful, though this needs careful introduction in a subject of this calibre. One's experience in talks on ringing is that the layman finds the subject so surprisingly interesting that, with a bright, clear delivery, the subject 'carries itself.'—Yours very truly,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

Netley Abbey, Hants.

MANCHESTER.—At the Town Hall on July 7th. 1,277 Grandsire Caters: J. Mullin 1, F. Barracough 2, F. R. Williams 3, A. Cairns 4, W. Pye 5, J. Crawshaw 6, A. Ward (first quarter) 7, R. Longden (cond.) 8, R. Benson 9, S. Livesey 10.

CLERGY AND INITIALS

Dear Sir,—In these days, when we see complaints about the deterioration of courtesy in most branches of life, may I suggest one improvement that, judging by your columns, a large number of us might readily adopt. I refer to the growing use of the solecism 'Rev. Smith,' when referring to the clergy, instead of giving our clerical friends their more dignified and much more correct form of address 'Rev. John Smith' or, in the absence of their Christian names, 'Rev. M. Smith.' 'Reverend' itself is not a form of address as 'Canon,' 'Dr.' and many others are. It requires some such addition as I have indicated to make it conform to respectful usage and good manners. To omit the Christian name or 'Mr.' in such cases is the equivalent of adopting such erroneous forms as 'Right Honourable Churchill,' 'Venerable Jones' (which I have actually heard at a ringers' meeting), or that hoary standby of our humorous writers, 'Sir Robinson.'

I am far from suggesting that ringers are more prone to this solecism than other people. Due to American influence, it is extremely prevalent to-day, but not among churchpeople as a rule, and certainly it is rare in other Church literature—an example I, for one, should like to see our writers—and to hear our speakers—follow on all occasions.—Yours sincerely,

A. J. CORRIGAN.

Bitton, near Bristol.

STEDMAN CATERS AT NORTHAMPTON

Dear Sir,—The peal of Stedman Caters recorded as being rung at St. Giles', Northampton, on Saturday, June 9th, cannot be accepted by the Peterborough Diocesan Guild as it did not comply fully with the rules of the Guild. With apologies to all the band,—Yours sincerely, REGINALD C. NOON.

Hon. Secretary.

PLYMOUTH BELLS

Dear Sir,—May I, as the author of a book entitled 'The Rings of Church Bells in the City of Plymouth,' be granted a little of your space to make known to the ringing fraternity, the following.

The completed manuscript was sent to Mr. W. H. Viggers who very kindly scrutinised and corrected it for me. Owing to the present high cost of having such a work printed, and also to an illness which requires many months' treatment, it will not be possible, at least for the time being, to present this work in a permanent form.

However, in order that the research done by myself over a period of 12 months may not be wasted, I will supply, for the receipt of a stamped addressed envelope, any information such as weights, chronological and ordinary history, founders, inscriptions, etc., of the following rings in the city:—(1) St. Andrew's (10) 35 cwt.; (2) Emmanuel (8) 21 cwt.; (3) Stoke Damerel (6) 15 cwt.; (4) St. Budeaux (6) 12 cwt.; (5) St. Mary's, Tamerton Foliot (6) 11 cwt.; (6) St. Edward's, Egg Buckland (6) 9 cwt.

The three rings which were lost during the war were:—(1) Charles (10) 24 cwt.; (2) East Stonehouse (8) 12 cwt.; (3) H.M. Dockyard (8) 9 cwt.

Any information, with the exception of inscriptions, is available for these rings.—Yours sincerely,

F. STUART WORTH.

OUR PAPER

THE newly-appointed Editorial or 'Ringing World' Committee makes its bow to the Exercise under circumstances which could hardly be described as happy. To them, as to most readers, last year's 'Ringing World' balance sheet proved to be somewhat of a shock, and, as the figures disclosed, had it not been for the sale of copies of the 'History of the College Youths,' the balance would have been on the wrong side.

What promised to be a valuable asset now threatens to become a serious liability, the change having been brought about by the general rise in costs. Printing wages have been considerably increased, and paper, which at one time cost approximately £12 10s. per ton, is now £66 per ton. These heavy increases have added considerably to the cost of the production of the paper.

The new committee is, therefore, confronted with a tough problem, but it will tackle its job vigorously and fearlessly, and it may be that some of its actions may not prove to be too popular.

Certainly the Central Council would not be in a sufficiently strong financial position to subsidise the paper indefinitely. It must stand on its own feet and pay its way. It is not necessary that it should make a large profit, but it must be self-supporting.

The committee are exploring every avenue where economies might be effected, and it may well be that some of the traditional refinements may have to be cut—even a modified form of peal report, for instance. We are well aware that such a move would not be well received by the Exercise and this will not be resorted to unless it becomes absolutely necessary.

A small increase in the charges for advertising space seems to be inevitable, and we hope that if this course is adopted it will be received with sympathy and understanding.

We feel that until every possible economy has been effected we should not be justified in asking the Exercise to accept a smaller paper or an increase in the price. These possibilities, however, still hang over us and we note there is no abatement in the general trend of rising costs.

Under the able Editorship of Mr. T. White the circulation has risen substantially, and it may prove sufficient to save a reduction in size or increase in price if the circulation can be built up still further, so that the cost of the preparation of the paper can be spread over a greater number of copies. Of particular value is the postal subscriber. From each of these copies there is a net return of 3.7d., against 2.Id. received through the newsagents.

Mr. White has generously offered to accept a reduced salary for his services, and the committee are sincerely grateful to him and in return have promised to lighten his duties.

Prominent and well-known ringers will be invited to provide articles for the front page, which will give different viewpoints and provide a freshness of outlook. The views they will express will be their own and will not be an expression of the Central Council's opinion.

Finally, the committee appeals to all who realise the value of our paper to do everything possible to increase the circulation, and to explain the difficulties which are being encountered. We also appeal to all those postal subscribers who have not yet sent the difference covering the increase in postal rates to do so at once.

To those who have generously sent donations to help in the present difficulties the committee expresses its most grateful appreciation.

J. F. S.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL

A RATHER unusual, almost unique, compliment was paid to 'our journal' at a Crewe Branch meeting of the Chester Guild at Sandbach, and above all other places, in the Market Tavern, better known as 'The Ringer's Arms,' where the ringers were partaking of refreshment (liquid and licensed).

A lady waiting on the party mentioned the fact that years ago, I don't know how many, she was given a copy of 'The Ringing World,' and was so interested in it, especially the front page article, that she asked if and where she might be supplied with it; on being told where, the lady said she had taken it ever since.

Incidentally, she is not a ringer yet, but she has interested six more ladies and is trying to get another, after which they hope to get the local band to teach them.

There is invariably a moral to most stories. The moral to this is, 'Don't keep your "Ringing World" to yourself, pass it on.'

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

Please send your quarterly or half-yearly subscription this week-end, without fail, to Mr. J.
E. Jeater, 11, Frankswood Avenue, Petts Wood,

The Society of Roving Ringers are on tour this week and next in East Anglia. They are spending to-morrow (Saturday) at Norwich.

With a peal at Quex Park, Mr. F. P. Wright has rung peals from Minor to Maximus.

Two peals were rung at Quex Park on July 15th.

Wednesday practices at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, cancelled until further notice.

Mr. C. A. Bassett 'completed the circle' of Lamberhurst tower on May 26th.

Narrow escape! On Friday, July 20th, the Rev. F. Llewellyn Edwards was reading 'The Ringing World' under an ancient pine tree when an enormous branch, weighing several cwt., suddenly detached itself from the tree and fell within five feet of his head.

Mrs. Irene Park, who has eleven peals to her credit, rang her first peal in the British Isles on July 20th at Bournemouth. All her peals are 'in hand,' previous successful attempts being nine in Venezuela and two in the United States.

The Ringing Society of the Wyggeston Grammar School for Boys, Leicester, has had a successful week's ringing. Two of its members, Howard N. Gregory and Paul I. Alton, have scored their first peals and a peal of St. Simon's Doubles was also rung.

'Philip and Joan Gray are settling down well in Melbourne, Australia,' writes a correspondent, 'and ringing with the Cathedral band. They are also holding regular handbell practices. Among their new acquisitions is a motor-cycle with sidecar. They send their best wishes to all ringing friends.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Universities Association assemble at Wills Hall, Bristol, this evening for their annual ringing week. Forty-one members, representing ten universities, are attending. Sixteen peal attempts are in the programme, including St. Mary Redcliffe on the last day of the week.

We regret to hear that Mr. Tom Groom-bridge, sen., is in St. Mark's Hospital, Maidenhead.

We are asked to make a correction in the peal rung at Heydour, Lincs, on June 23rd.
The last 720 consisted of Oxford Bob and Plain Bob and not Spliced Single Court and Plain Bob.

Sturry, Kent, a village badly bombed during the war, held its Festival of Britain Day on July 14th. Among the attractions during the day was an open invitation to the villagers to see the belfry and the bells in action. Over 70 people paid a visit to the tower during the afternoon and evening.

The first peal of Loughborough Bob Major was rung for the Chester Diocesan Guild at St. Mary's, Liscard, on May 18th, 1929, conducted by Dr. J. C. E. Simpson. The conductor of the peal at Tarporley on July 7th withdrew the claim after we had gone to press last week.

Last week we indicated the difficulties of ringing in the cage at Pershore Abbey. This week we have received the report of a quarter on these bells—1,694 Grandsire Triples in 1 hour 16 minutes, by F. C. Lyne 1, F. G. Kin-chin 2, S. J. Woodcock 3, P. A. Lawrence 4, T.
H. Blunt 5, W. Butler (conductor) 6, F. C.
Price 7, F. T. Blagrove 8. 'It is a pity,' writes the conductor, 'that the pleasure obtained by listening to this fine old ring should be marred by the bad running of the bells.'

Concern Over Lack of Support

THE annual general meeting of the Guild was held at Loughborough on Saturday, July 14th. Forty-six members attended from the following districts:—Central, Lincoln, Midland, West Midland, Yorkshire, North Western and South Eastern.

The bells of the Parish Church and the Bell Foundry were available to visitors who made good use of them. A short service was conducted by the Rector, Archdeacon Lyon, who gave a warm welcome to the members.

After tea in Fearon Hall, at which 95 ringers were present, the president, Mrs. Fletcher, thanked the Rector for his kind welcome and use of the bells, and also Mr. P. Taylor, for making the Foundry available for inspection and for giving visitors an opportunity to try their skill on the 'light end' of the Foundry bells. She also thanked Mrs. Jill Staniforth for making all the arrangements for the meeting.

NEW HONORARY SECRETARY

At the business meeting which followed, with the president in the chair, one new member was elected. Mrs. E. K. Fletcher was re-elected president, and Miss D. Colgate, of Sevenoaks, Kent, was appointed hon. secretary and treasurer.

The president reported: In presenting this report I have to act in two capacities. First, in the position of president of the Guild, which I have had the honour to hold for the past three years, and secondly, as hon. secretary and treasurer, which I was compelled to take over owing to the resignation of Miss Snowden. As you all know, this office I held for 36 years, since the formation of the Guild in 1912.

At the end of the Second World War in 1945, I had great hopes that the Guild would soon get back into its stride, and that there would be increased membership, but in this I have been disappointed. Although new Districts have been formed, some of the older ones have ceased, or almost ceased, to function, and I regret to have to report that since 1948 the membership has decreased by about 100. I am taking this figure from the accounts and reckoning the membership by the number of subscriptions received to December 31st, 1950. This drop in membership is very serious and in view of the increasing number of women and girls who are taking up ringing, it would seem either that the Guild is not wanted any longer or that the members are not pulling their weight. It is so easy to pay one's annual subscription and then sit back quite satisfied and take no further interest in the work of the Guild. It should not be left to the Guild officers to do all the work. The least one can do is to support the meetings.

EXPERIENCE IN A SOUTHERN COUNTY

I should like to give you the experience of one of our original members. She took up residence in a southern county and endeavoured to form a District. After struggling for some time she got a very good number of members, but after one or two meetings she was told that the County Association furnished all their requirements and that they saw no good in the Guild and got nothing out of it. What would be the position of the ringing Exercise now if everyone in the past had thought like that? I have always been told that it's what you put into an organisation that counts—not what you get out of it.

The majority of the present members of the Guild know nothing of its early work. It was not an easy task to convince clergy and laymen alike that the presence of women in the belfry was desirable, and I think there are still a few diehards who have no time for us. A ringer recently remarked to one of our members 'There are few decent strikers among the ladies.'

40TH BIRTHDAY

The Guild has occupied an honoured position in the Exercise and has been represented on the Central Council for 37 years. Next year is the 40th anniversary of its formation. It has not reached this age without an enormous amount of hard work. Are we going to celebrate this birthday by a very special effort on everybody's part to increase our membership and attempt to revive our dormant Districts, or shall we say 'The Guild has served its purpose and should be given a decent burial.' If we say 'No' to the latter, then we have got to put our backs into it.

In conclusion I want to express our grateful thanks to all the District Secretaries for their hard work, which I am sure is greatly appreciated by the members who attend the meetings they arrange.

Several District secretaries reported on their work, some being satisfied with the interest shown by their members and others stressing the small attendance at meetings.

The accounts showed an excess of income over expenditure of £7 8s. 8½d., with a balance in hand of £75 15s. 7½d.

Regarding reports which should have been issued before the meeting, the president said that owing to the resignation of the secretary and the failure of some District secretaries to send their list of members, this had not been possible. However, the matter would now be dealt with and the report published before the end of the year.

LONDON THE NEXT MEETING PLACE

Three places were proposed for the next meeting, viz., Reading, Canterbury and London. In proposing London, Miss Steel said that as the Guild was formed in London in 1912, she considered that the 40th anniversary meeting should be held there. On being put to the vote, London was carried.

It was decided to obtain a new die for badges and have a supply made as soon as possible.

A suggestion was made that an anniversary dinner be held to celebrate the 40th birthday of the Guild, and after considerable discussion it was proposed to hold a dinner at Leicester on Saturday, October 25th, 1952.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of August 4th, 1911
THE CENTRAL COUNCIL AND 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

Dear Sir,—If reports of the Council meetings are to be officially recognised in 'The Bell News' . . . let us have them more up-to-date and more exact and then, perhaps, the old paper, which has served us a good purpose in the past, will continue to prosper. But at the same time I still adhere to the original motion, that the Central Council shall give equal recognition to 'The Ringing World,' which paper, I think, under the present management, would send a representative capable of supplying a report that would not require dissecting by the president. . . —Yours faithfully,

ROBERT J. DAWE.

Sussex County Association.

[At the Central Council meeting, Sir Arthur Heywood, the president, had said: 'I tell you frankly I don't care one atom . . . whether the report of this meeting goes in ('The Ringing World') or not, I am not going to do that work twice over. I have done it for 21 years and it takes a tremendous amount of time.']

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Canterbury District was held at Margate on July 14th. A chance of a day at the seaside brought many ringers and friends to the town, most of them being there nearly all day.

Ringing started early in the afternoon and continued until the service which was held in the church and conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. S. A. Odom, who also gave an interesting talk. Tea followed in the schoolroom, a company of 110 sitting down to an excellent meal prepared by the local ringers and their wives, the latter also waiting at table.

At the usual business meeting, six new practising members were elected, with one new honorary member. Herne was selected from three towers proposed for the next by-meeting. Further ringing was held after tea. Twenty-two towers in the District were represented. The thanks of all present to expressed to the Vicar, organist and the surliced choir. The ladies were also thanked for waiting on the members' needs at tea.

A JOINT MEETING AT LLANGOLLEN

N. Wales Association & Chester Guild

On Saturday, July 21st, members of the North Wales Association and Chester Guild (Chester Branch) met at Llangollen for a joint meeting. Some 30 members travelled from far and near to this attractive town situated in a lovely valley in the county of Denbighshire, celebrated for exquisite scenery around, with woods, streams, rocks, cliffs and gorse-clad mountains as described by George Borrow in 'Wild Wales,' and now also famous for its international Eistedfodd. We would also include a lovely 14th century bridge (reputed to be one of the Seven Wonders of Wales) and a beautiful ring of eight bells by Taylors, with a 17 cwt. tenor, which has recently been completely rehanging by the same firm.

Among those present were Mr. A. J. Hughes, Bangor, Mr. J. Evans, Rhyl, and Mr. G. Griffiths, Llandudno. Other towers represented were Buckley, Wrexham, Mold and St. Mary's, Handbridge, Chester. It was regretted that Miss M. Jones, Llandudno, was unable to attend owing to the serious illness of her father. The bells were set going at 2.30 p.m. and learners and experts alike were given the opportunity of showing their skill. Methods ranged from call-changes to Cambridge Surprise and Spliced Plain Bob and Little Bob. The 'go' was pronounced excellent and a credit to those responsible for the rehanging.

A short service was conducted by the Rev.

L. M. Daniel who, on behalf of the Vicar (Canon Alcuin Jones), cordially welcomed the members to St. Collen's, and said how much the efforts of bell-ringers were appreciated, the sound of which was sadly missed during the restoration. To the great crowds visiting this popular resort on a Sunday, the bells ringing must convey a message and a reminder of the Sabbath.

Tea was partaken at the 'Bull' and, greatly refreshed, the energetic ones returned to the tower for further ringing, while others strolled along the riverside, and also visited Plas Newydd, a black and white mansion, home (1779-1829) of the celebrated 'Ladies of Llangollen' (two eccentric Irish noblewomen who affected male attire and entertained contemporary celebrities, including Wellington, Wordsworth, De Quincey and Scott).

At 7 o'clock the bells were taken over by the Much Wenlock band, enjoying a day's outing, after calling at Gresford and Wrexham.

So came to an end a very enjoyable meeting, but due to the sultry atmosphere, ringing was inclined to make one feel uncomfortable and a well-known ringer was heard to remark that he had never felt so hot in his life. It is hoped that when he turns the 40cwt. tenor at Shrewsbury next Saturday to a peal of Maximus, it will be much cooler.

We are grateful to Mr. A. Bailey, the local captain, for having everything ready, and who is asked to convey our thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells.

MALMESBURY HAS NOW AN OCTAVE

Dedication Service

The ring of five at Malmesbury, Wiltshire, has been restored and augmented to eight and was dedicated by the Archdeacon of Swindon (the Ven. L. C. Cornwell) on July 14th. The bells are in a tower adjoining the Abbey churchyard, which was part of St. Paul's Church, the latter being demolished about 80 years ago. The old five are of various dates, the treble being the oldest, coming from the Bristol foundry about 1500. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston carried out the restoration and the three new bells blend very well with the old five.

The Mayor and Town Clerk of Malmesbury were present at the service of dedication, the first part of which was held in the Abbey. For the dedicatory prayers the congregation, headed by the choir, moved in procession to the foot of the tower. Immediately after the Blessing the bells rang out in rounds, Queens and a beautifully struck touch of Stedman Triples, the ringers being Miss M. R. Cross 1, W. B. Cartwright (conductor) 2, C. J. Gardner 3, W. H. Trueman 4, E. J. Berry 5, N. J. Goodman 6, J. Pinfold 7, W. B. Kynaston 8. The bells were then thrown open to visiting ringers and the writer did not hear any criticism either of the tone or 'go' of the bells; everybody seemed very pleased.

The inscriptions and weights of the bells are:—

Treble.—Malmesburienses Illustres. Aldhelmus—Sanctus. Episcopus. Abbas Athelstan—Rex Anglorum Gulielmus Malmesburiae—Historicus Thomas Hobbes—Philosophus. 1951. Gillett and Johnston, Croydon. 4 cwt. 1 qr. 18 lb.

Second.—Gloria Christi—Rex. Arthur Beaghen, Vicar, Charles Bradshaw, Major Clarence Ingram, churchwardens. Victor G. H. Hemus, Ringing Master. 1951. Gillett and Johnston, Croydon. 4 cwt. 1 qr. 26 lb.

Third.—Commemoratio Gratia. All who by gifts and willing service extended the peal to Tenor.—F sharp. Will Cor. John Harvey and Thos. Kaynes and Rob Huckings, churchwardens 1703. Gloria in Excelsis Deo. Recast A.D. 1910. Charles D. H. McMillan, M.A., Vicar, Richard Hungerford Pollen, Henry Farrent, churchwardens. Mears and Stainbank, Founders, London. 11 cwt. 0 qr. 8 lb.

Tea was provided in the Church Hall by the local ringers and after further ringing an informal gathering was held in the King's Arms with the Vicar (the Rev. A. Beaghen) presiding, supported by the Master (Mr. J. G. Jefferies) and secretary (Mr. F. Skidmore), of the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

The Vicar thanked all those who had helped in the big job of restoring the bells, especially the captain of the tower (Mr. V. G. Hemus). Mr. Jefferies presented the Vicar with a cheque for £10 from the Belfry Repair Fund and Mr. Michael Howard responded on behalf of the bellfounders.

Humorous interludes were provided by the 'Queen of Malmesbury' and the 'Bishop of Swindon.' In addition to ringers from Gloucestershire and Wiltshire there were visitors from Birmingham, Caerleon (Mon.), Duston (Northants), Great Malvern and Oxford.

'FLAT SIXTH' AT ST. MARY REDCLIFFE

On Sunday, July 1st, the new bell—a 'flat sixth'—recently installed, was dedicated during Evensong by the Vicar, Canon S. E. Swann. A large number of ringers were present including Mr. J. G. Jefferies, Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, and Mr. F. Skidmore, general secretary.

The dedication took place underneath the tower and was preceded by a few remarks by the Vicar on the purpose of the bell. He explained how this bell would complete a new ring of eight but above all it was installed in memory of one who devoted 43 years of his life to this church. Ralph Thompson Morgan was organist and choirmaster from 1906 to 1949 and his geniality and gentlemanly manner were things which will long be remembered. They thanked God for his life and for what he had taught them. The new bell would always be in use inasmuch as it was to be used for service call and sanctus.

The bell was then struck five times by the Vicar and pulled up immediately by the Ringing Master, Mr. Hansford. After the Blessing, while the congregation was still kneeling, the new bell was rung 43 times—one blow for each year of Mr. Morgan's life at Redcliffe—and after service in the new ring to a variety of methods.

Death of Mr. C. Holmes

Mr. Charles Holmes, of Barrow-on-Soar, Leicestershire, who died on July 20th, aged 80, had a long connection with Holy Trinity band, being a member for over 45 years. The last occasion on which he rang was in 1943 to celebrate the victory at El Alamein. The conductor at Barrow-on-Soar is his only grandson.

On July 23rd, 1,300 Grandsire Doubles, with the bells half-muffled, was rung to his memory by the following band: C. Lovett 1, G. J. Lowe 2, F. K. Thompson 3, R. G. W. Soars 4, K. E. Lovett (conductor) 5, J. Chambers 6.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at Yatton on July 21st, from 20 to 30 ringers attending. The church is a large one with a central tower and an unusual truncated spire which contains a fine ring of eight bells. The bells were restored during 1950 and have a tenor weighing 21 cwt. 4 lb.

Ringling preceded the Association's service which was conducted by the Vicar, Preb. G. A. Beechey, who gave a short talk and a few words of welcome.

Following an excellent tea, the business meeting was held, at which it was decided that, subject to permission being granted, the next quarterly meeting would be held at Backwell in October, with practice meetings at Winford and Easton-in-Gordano in August and September respectively. The Ringing Master thanked the organist for his services and the Vicar for taking the service and for the use of the bells.

A return was then made to the tower and a wide variety of methods ranging from Grand-sire Triples to Cambridge Major were rung.

CORPORATE COMMUNION

The bi-annual Corporate Communion was held at St. Michael's Church, Clapton-in-Gordano, on Sunday, July 22nd. The church boasts of some very old pews and also a 13th century tower screen which originally belonged to Clapton Court. The six bells (tenor 10 cwt.) were raised in peal soon after 7 a.m. and ringing continued until the service, the celebrant being the Rev. D. H. Tongue who afterwards entertained 18 ringers to breakfast at the Rectory.

Ringling under the direction of the Master, Mr. H. W. Knight, was continued until the morning service.

THE MOST WESTERLY EIGHT IN ENGLAND

Madron, Cornwall

The most westerly ring of eight in England is now at Madron, some two miles west of Penzance. The old six had done long service and the wooden frame had frequently been patched. When the Rev. H. M. W. Hocking was appointed to Madron after the war, during which he had served as a Naval Chaplain, he at once agreed that a restoration must take place.

The final scheme decided upon was completely to rehang the bells in a new frame and fittings and to increase the ring to eight. A new treble was offered by the White family in memory of their father, who had been organist of the church, and a new second by the Diocesan Guild of ringers in memory of the late Dr. J. Symons. The two old trebles (now Numbers 3 and 4) have been recast. Details of the two new bells are as follows:—

Treble.—3 cwt. 2 qr. 19 lb. 'In memory of John Kemp White, 1867-1947, Choirmaster and Organist. His Children's Gift.'

Second.—4 cwt. 'The Gift of the Truro Diocesan Guild of Ringers. In Memory of John Symons, M.R.C.S., A Past President and Master.'

The tenor weighs 9 cwt. 2 qr. 18 lb., in A, and was cast by Thomas Bayley, Bridgwater, 1761.

The work was dedicated recently by the Archdeacon of Cornwall (Ven. H. Boreham), and a big crowd gathered for the occasion. There were some 160 ringers present from all parts of Cornwall, as well as from Plymouth and all testified as to the excellence of the work as it had been carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., who spared no trouble to see that this rather awkward job should not be below their usual high standard of workmanship. Consideration has also been given to the tower and the louvres suitably bricked.

Mr. Arnold White, the local captain, has spared no pains to see to various details in connection with the ringing loft, and other matters which needed attention. Altogether nearly £1,000 was raised in a little over a year, apart from the gift of the two trebles, when the final scheme for tower and bells had been decided upon, and the Vicar and churchwardens (Messrs. J. W. Reed and C. E. Venning) are to be congratulated upon their enthusiasm in raising this large sum in the face of other parochial commitments.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Festival Meeting

A Festival meeting of the North Norfolk Branch was held in Norwich on June 30th. Some 60 members attended from all the branches of the Association, including Mr. G. Kilby, of Ruislip. The bells of St. John's, St. Giles', St. Miles' and St. George's were rung in the afternoon and evening with St. Peter's, Mancroft, from 7 to 9 p.m. The Stowmarket company was welcomed at St. Peter's in the evening.

The service was held in St. George's, conducted by the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, assisted by the Rev. E. W. Blyth, the branch chairman. Tea was served in St. Clement's Hall by the ladies of St. George's.

The next meeting will be held at Scottow on September 22nd.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CALLING THE ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—The following may be of some interest to those who want to call the 'Original.' I shall quote a little story of my own experience which happened in 1906, whilst at school. I became friendly with the late Mr. Harry Barton at a District meeting at Lyminge, who taught me the way to learn the calling of this peal. I went ahead and some time later we met again when he asked me if I knew it. I said 'Yes, Uncle Harry.' 'Then repeat it,' he said. Away I went in parrot fashion 5, 3, 4, 5, etc., when all of a sudden he said, 'Stop! Who killed Cock Robin?' 'I,' said the sparrow. I wondered whatever he meant at the moment, when, to my surprise, he said, 'Now, Louis, carry on where you left off. I could not, and Uncle said, 'Go home and learn it and then when you think you know it I will come and ring it with you.' I made three attempts before I did it. The gentleman was right. Learn it piecemeal and never have to think back to pick it up again if you lose the sequence.—Yours sincerely,

L. HEAD.

Maidstone.

SUNDAY RINGING IN SCOTLAND

Dear Sir,—Following my recent holiday in Scotland, I would like to help any other ringers on their first visit there to avoid the disappointment I experienced.

Having arrived in Edinburgh too late on a Saturday night to discover ringing times. I got to a tower shortly after ringing for Sunday morning service commenced. Following errors, the bells were twice called into rounds, but were not stood until service time. I was informed that the rule in Scotland is for ringing to be continuous for the whole period and even if the band meets short, they would not stop for anyone to make them up. At least two of the band favour an alteration in this method, but in the meantime it is advisable either to write in advance or arrive at the tower in good time before ringing commences.

I do not know if, in fact, these conditions do apply generally in Scottish towers, at the same evening I called at St. Mary's Cathedral, where the band had met short and although ringing had started, the bells were stood and I was invited to join in. This is how visitors are welcomed in my home tower, which is possibly why the different morning reception seemed so noticeable.—Yours faithfully, (Mrs.) N. WALL.

Doncaster, Yorks.

60 Years' Service at Sittingbourne

Mr. H. E. Simpson celebrated on July 20th his sixty years of service to the church and tower of St. Michael's, Sittingbourne. For many years he has been an official of the church and captain of the ringers and he marked the occasion by presenting to the church a new St. George's flag incorporating the Diocesan Arms.

In company with the Vicar, Mr. Simpson climbed to the top of the tower and hoisted the flag in the morning, and in the evening the local band, headed by Mr. Simpson, met, and touches of 630 and 210 Grandsire Triples were rung in good style.

After the ringing, the Vicar churchwardens, family friends and the ringers were entertained by the captain at his house. Following a very fine repast, the Vicar proposed a toast to 'Our Host,' thanked him for his generosity in entertaining the company and congratulated him on his long and faithful service to church and tower. Incorporated in the floral decoration of the table were the words: 'We thank our God.'

In reply, Mr. Simpson read extracts from his 'ringing book,' telling most of those present when they rang their first quarter peals, etc. Reminiscences and handbell ringing brought a grand day and memorable evening to a close.

CONGRATULATIONS TO COPT OAK

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the band who rang 125 methods in a peal at Bigby, Lincs, on July 25th, 1939, I should like to offer our hearty congratulations to the band who rang 126 methods at Copt Oak. It is a wonderful achievement. We have watched their progress with interest and know full well how much time and practice has to be put in.—Yours sincerely,

GEORGE E. FEARN.

Kirkton Lindsey, Lincs.

126 MINOR METHODS PEAL

Extent No. 3 in the peal of 126 Minor Methods rung at Copt Oak, Leicestershire, on June 30th, which had not previously been rung to a peal. The figures were supplied by Mr. J. Bray and Mr. G. Fearn.

In the extent were the following methods:—Kent Little Court, Bicker, Pinchbeck, Copt Oak, Wainfleet, Spilsby, Charnwood, Gedney, Gumby, Surfleet and Spalding.

STOKE GOLDINGTON, BUCKS

The task of removing the five bells and the old oak bell frame from the tower of Stoke Goldington Church has now been completed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The tenor became cracked again where it had been previously welded and is to be recast and made heavier than the now approximate 11½ cwt. A new treble is to be added making what should be a fine ring of six.

The present treble by Henry Penn, of Peterborough, was added in 1707 and is believed to be the only bell by him still being rung in Buckinghamshire. The other four bells were cast by Robert Atton, of Buckingham, in 1625. The wooden frame will be replaced by a cast iron one. A portion of the old frame with the date 1625 incised thereon is being preserved.

Before the bells are rehung there is some work to be done in the tower, such as making a new floor and repairing stonework. There is a good band of changers in the village and the bells have been rung regularly for services over a number of years.

The public responded splendidly to the appeal for funds and, although only a small village, the task of raising £800 was accomplished in less than two years. One or two grants have been promised which we hope will cover the complete cost of rehanging. Thanks must be extended to the Rector, church council and ringers for their efforts and to all donors.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Branch Meeting at Dartmouth

A quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Dartmouth on July 21st, when visitors attended from Clapham (London), Buckland Newton, Kenn, Newton Abbot, Totnes, Paignton, Buckfastleigh and Plymouth, as well as the president (the Rev. Preb. E. V. Cox).

The bells at St. Saviour's Church were utilised during the afternoon, the ringing including touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major, this being followed by a short service in church which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. T. G. D. Watkins).

After tea at the Criterion Restaurant, the business meeting followed, presided over by Mr. J. E. Lilley, of Newton Abbot (branch chairman).

Sixteen non-resident members were elected and it was reported that an extra meeting would be held at West Teignmouth in September, and that the next quarterly meeting would be held at Harberton on October 25th, both subject to the necessary permission being obtained. The question of an outing in August was left to the Branch Committee to arrange.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to those who had made arrangements for the meeting, and further ringing took place at St. Petrock's and St. Clement's Churches in the evening. Some of the visitors were impressed with the spacious belfry at St. Saviour's, there being always a vase of fresh flowers on a table in the centre of the belfry.

A LAVENHAM WEDDING

Miss Olive Blanche Lambert, who is finance secretary of the Lavenham company, and Mr. Frederick Day, conductor of the Preston St. Mary company, were married at SS. Peter and Paul's, Lavenham, on July 14th. The service was conducted by the Rector (Preb. M. Fountain Page), who conveyed to the bridal pair some well-spoken words of advice in very apt ringing terms.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Harry Lambert, was attired in blue crepe-de-chine with brown accessories. She was attended by a maid of honour, and Mr. Frederick Hunt, of Preston, a fellow-ringer of the bridegroom, was best man.

As the couple left the church the bells were rung and fired. The reception was held at the Corpus Christi Guildhall and the honeymoon spent at Bournemouth. Mr. and Mrs. F. Day are to live in Lavenham and their fellow-ringers wish them every happiness and lots of good pulling together.

EASTBOURNE RINGERS

Eastbourne Parish Church ringers, with their Vicar (Canon L. E. Meredith) and friends from other local towers, had a delightful outing to the Isle of Wight on July 14th.

Coaches departed at 7.30 a.m., non-stop for Portsmouth, where the party crowded on to the ferry. The sea was like a millpond so no casualties were sustained during what can be a hazardous crossing. Coaches were waiting at Ryde and proceeded direct to Newport, where the rather rough eight were rung for an hour.

An excellent lunch was taken at Week's Restaurant during which time a message was received that the next tower (Carisbrooke) was unobtainable owing to a funeral. Some quick thinking and the kind assistance of Mr. Upton, of Newport, enabled contact to be made with the churchwarden at Godshill and, permission was obtained to ring there. The party was quite thrilled with the bells and scenery of Godshill and after this unexpected pleasure the coaches moved off to Ryde, where the fine eight at All Saints' were rung, preceding a good tea, the ringing being cut short by a broken rope during a touch of Double Norwich!

On the return ferry, to the obvious pleasure of many fellow-passengers, handbells were rung, and it was here noticed that even bell-ringers can exhibit shyness at times! The Arundel eight were given good exercise and some very good ringing was produced, particularly a touch of Kent Treble Bob. After suitable refreshment the coaches departed for home; a short stop was called for at Falmer. P. H. R.

GRAPPENHALL BRANCH

A very full day was arranged for the Grappenhall Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild on July 15th for their annual outing which consisted of a motor tour in Staffordshire and Derbyshire.

Leaving Runcorn at 8.30 a.m. the first call was at the 12th century Church of St. James the Great, Audley. Then followed visits to St. Giles', Cheadle, and St. Oswald's, Ashbourne, where the visitors were surprised to find the ropes were hanging at the foot of the chancel steps.

After lunch the party visited the old Church of St. Mary, Wirksworth, Derbyshire, and then Matlock, with its steep climb to the Parish Church. Tea at the Central Cafe was most welcome.

Moving on to Chesterfield the coaches stopped at the church with the crooked spire where the ringers had their last touch of ringing. Time was called for the return home, which was reached at midnight. Everyone had enjoyed the outing and gave their thanks to Mr. Cecil Raddon, of Stockton Heath, for the way he arranged the tour.

WELLINGTON, SOMERSET

A visit to North-East Devon was the objective of the ringers of Wellington Parish Church for their annual outing on July 21st.

A start was made at 8 a.m. and the first stop was South Molton where Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob were rung on the noble bells of St. Mary Magdalene's. Then followed the delightful eight at Chittlehampton, Branton and then Ilfracombe. After a fine lunch, the light ring was sampled at Holy Trinity Parish Church and the rest of the afternoon was spent by the seaside. In the early evening a visit was paid to Ilfracombe's other ring of eight, SS. Philip and James'. Promptly at 6.15 the homeward journey was commenced and the last tower of the day, Combe Martin, was reached at 7 p.m. Here methods ranged from rounds to Kent Treble Bob Major. A somewhat tired but happy party reached Wellington at 11 p.m.

The ringers were very pleased to have the company of the Vicar (the Rev. J. H. D. Grinther) and tender thanks to the various incumbents for the use of their bells.

ST. LAWRENCE'S IPSWICH

On June 23rd, St. Lawrence's ringers, joined by those from St. Clement's, St. Margaret's and Rushmere, making up a party of 14, and accompanied by their wives and friends, had their annual outing which took the form of a half-day tour of the Suffolk and Essex borders.

Travelling via Stoke-by-Nayland through very pretty country, the first call was at Bures (8). Here the heavy ring was made good use of and many comments were made on the excellent state of the ringing chamber, one of the best met with for years. The bells, now recently augmented from a good ring of six, are well worth a visit.

After much twisting through very narrow roads, at times with both wheels touching the grass verges, and consulting maps, Halstead was reached a little late. However, some local ringers were there to meet the party and had the bells ready for use and also took part in some of the ringing. These are not a very musical eight, being of rather harsh quality.

Tea over, a short run brought the party to Greenstead Green Church. The 'go' of the bells is excellent but the order of ropes gives one much to consider at first. They hang in the order of 1-4-3-2-6 with the 5th hanging in one corner behind the clock case and can only be seen by 2 and 6. Also the noise is very great and would be just a good place for a band of deaf ringers to try a peal.

At Stisted (6), not far away, was found a very fair ring and ringing from below in the porch made a welcome change. The last call for ringing was at Bockley (8) where the visitors were met by the locals and some good ringing took place. Owing to the short time allowed at each tower only touches could be arranged but the ringing was of a very good standard for such mixed bands.

Leaving for home at 9 p.m., via Coggeshall, and Colchester, Ipswich was reached at 11 p.m.

LYME REGIS

In perfect summer weather Lyme Regis ringers and their friends spent a highly enjoyable day on July 21st touring some of the Somerset country, mounting many beautiful towers and handling fine-toned bells.

A 7.30 a.m. start brought the party to Queen Camel's famous six and the heavy metal was turned in to Cambridge Minor quite creditably.

Then on to Ditcheat where a well-struck course of London Major was rolled off as the final touch before 'elevenses' at the 'Green Tree.' Evercreech, the only ten-bell tower of the day provided some Caters and Royal, and Wells was reached in time for lunch—also other refreshment. Non-ringers found much of interest here while the heavy eight at St. Cuthbert's were being put in action. A good course of Cambridge was rung, but not without effort.

Leaving Wells about 3.30 p.m., Curry Rivell was next on the programme and the good-going eight were found most attractive, lending themselves to good striking. Then back to Langport for a greatly welcome and splendid tea at the Langport Arms Hotel.

Thus fortified, the time-table was adhered to and a very pleasant hour was spent at Drayton where a respectable course of Bristol came round. Martock was the last tower of the evening and the bells provided some good music. Here some of the party left the coach on their independent homeward journeys and a tired, but thoroughly satisfied, party reached Lyme Regis without incident about 10.30 p.m.

Thanks are expressed here to all the representatives of the various towers who helped so much with their welcome and preparations.

The methods rung during the day included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich. Cambridge, Yorkshire, Superlative, Lyme, London and Bristol Surprise Major.

WANSTEAD AND WOODFORD

On July 14th the ringers of Christ Church, Wanstead, and St. Mary's, Woodford, Essex, accompanied by their friends, a party of 75, toured the Chilterns, making calls at Tring, Wendover and Penn.

The Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Tring, well situated opposite an extensive park, provided much interest for both ringers and their friends. Short touches of Grandsire Triples and call changes for the learners were rung on the fine ring of eight (tenor 24 cwt.) which graces a massive 14th century tower. Worthy of note is an elaborate monument erected in the north wall to a former Lord Mayor of London, Sir William Gore (died 1707), and his wife.

The next stage of the journey was to the picturesque church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Wendover, passing through charming country. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Bob Minor were rung on a well-going six (tenor 14 cwt.). Inside the church are the Bradshaw Memorials, one very curious brass design to the memory of William Bradshaw (1537) and his wife.

Penn was reached via Great Missenden and Amersham. A hearty welcome was given to all by the Vicar and his wife, the Misses Margaret and Barbara Mathieson and members of the church, who had prepared the most appetising tea in the school room opposite the church. At the conclusion of the meal, Mr. J. Chalk, on behalf of the party, thanked all who had prepared and served such a fine tea and to all who had made it possible for such a successful outing, mentioning the Parochial Church Councils of Wanstead and Woodford, Mr. B. Petley (Wanstead) and Mr. Morss (Woodford). Messrs. Pritchard (Woodford) and Solley (Wanstead) added their thanks and appreciation. The Vicar of Penn expressed his delight in meeting so many ringers of all ages and their friends and the debt he owed to the Mathieson family, former Woodford residents.

During the evening touches of Grandsire Doubles, Bob Minor and Kent Treble Bob Minor were rung on a tuneless six in the ancient and interesting church of Holy Trinity.

In turn members of the party were conveyed to 'Penn Haven,' the residence of Mr. J. Mathieson and family, where the beauties of their garden were much enjoyed. Thanks are extended to those in the respective towers for willing co-operation.

RUSHMERE ST. ANDREW'S, IPSWICH

The ringers of the above, accompanied by ringing friends from St. Clement's, St. Margaret's and St. Matthew's Churches, had their annual outing on July 14th. They were also accompanied by the Vicar, treasurer and churchwarden. The party of 29 were picked up in town and Rushmere was left at 8 a.m.

The first call for ringing was at Blythburgh (6) which was reached well before time so that after ringing the photographers got busy with the group. Morning tea had been arranged here and proved very acceptable.

Our next stop was Lowestoft, the most easterly town in England. The Church of St. Margaret is well out of the town so the sea front could not be visited. The ring of eight was soon in use.

After dinner, Somerleyton (6) was visited but the bells are hardly in keeping with the beautiful surroundings, the church standing in a park. The next stop was Gorleston-on-Sea (8), where the non-ringing ladies were able to visit the shops.

Passing through Great Yarmouth (Southdown) we arrived at the remote church at Halvergate (6), where the bells were soon in use and proved a very good ring. The last stop was at Blofield with its heavy ring of six. A note in the belfry said the tenor is 19½ cwt. but is nearer 18 cwt. The ringing proved almost too much for the young ladies of 14 and 15 years and a lad pupil. The 'go' was not of the best.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—19

Edited by ERNEST MORRIS

In 1888 Mr. Fussell states that on March 21st he received a letter from the Rev. Custance re instructorship to Hereford Guild, and later records visiting him—describing the journey in detail. This was on Saturday (31st) and he 'staid at the Rectory till Tuesday morning (Colwall). On Easter Sunday rang some Grand-sire Doubles, 5.30 till 7 a.m. Staid to service. All the ringers had breakfast together at the Rectory. Rang again 11 a.m. and staid to service. After dinner walked to Great Malvern and saw the Priory Church—went up in the ringing room but bells only chimed.'

Next morning he walked to Great Malvern and then went by train to Worcester and attended a meeting of Worcester Association in Chapter House and was made a member. Rang course of Cinques at Cathedral and Stedman at All Saints—met S. Reeves, W. Rock, Small and others. Returning to Colwall he rang some Doubles and 'Saw the Rector and received his instructions re board, etc.' He was thence forth official instructor to the Hereford Guild and his diary is now given up to accounts of visits to almost every tower in the shire, where he gave advice and instruction in the Art. He first went to Bewdley where he met the Vicar and Mr. Palmer, local secretary, and gave the locals their first lesson (April 3rd). 'Eight bells, good tone, tenor 19 cwt.; go rather badly.' Next day he walked to Kidderminster and back, 'the road was very dark coming home. Rang St. Mary's eight bells, some bad Triples, and tried 120 Stedman Doubles on back six.'

It is not possible here to mention the names of places he visited, although many of the incidents that happened are most interesting. Thus in April he 'went to Chaddesley Corbett, 4½ miles out of Kidderminster, saw the curate, had tea with him, copied inscriptions off the bells, attempted Holt's 10-part, Groves calling, but he missed a bob after 1st part end; one of our band failed to come so a local stood in, a novice, who did not do well. Left at ten, after having some ale in a pub opposite and reached Kidderminster at 10.50 in an old cart drawn by a shaky horse. Walked to Bewdley and got to bed 11.40. Dull showery day.'

Two days later he went to Bromsgrove and 'rang a good peal of Stedman Caters in 3 hours 94 minutes. Went to a public house till 10 p.m. Morris (one of the band formerly, but dismissed) came in half drunk. Slept at W. James' house. Sunday morning, rang at St. John's, Bromsgrove, and after dinner walked to Hanbury, via Stoke, where we rang 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor on a light six. Hanbury Church stands on a hill and has a good eight. Rang two hours for Holt's Original but owing to my calling a bob late, broke down.' He stayed at Bromsgrove that night and walked back to Bewdley next day through Kidderminster (12 miles).

On one occasion he says 'lost my little dog, Jack, and had to hunt about for him; finding him in a pub with a man who would have kept him had I not called in accidentally with a ringer named Higgins to have a glass and Jack at once ran up to me.'

BRIDGNORTH

Among 'Notes on Bridgnorth' Mr. Fussell writes: 'The congregation at St. Mary's is gradually getting less each year owing to the Vicar being so high church: the choir, in procession, sing round the church and carry a banner, in fact, altar lighted up with numerous tapering candles. He spends much money on flowers and decorations, and yet the bells are allowed to be in a dangerous and almost un-ringable condition. He rings a little but knows nothing of change-ringing. Being vain, he would like to have a heavier peal of eight in his tower than that of St. Leonard's. An eccentric old parishioner (I hear from my landlady) who has no children, has made a provision in his will for new bells to be given to St. Mary's. Since my last visit a very large piece of metal has been broken out of the tenor lip through the clapper coming out.

'Overtown's blackbird, over two years old, is a novelty; he is able to whistle the eight notes down and generally ten notes up in imitation of Queen's change. When just fledged, one of the boys brought it home and it was reared. It learnt to mock the bells through hearing them so much.'

'BUSKING' WITH HANDBELLS

Later he went to Ross and district and on one occasion he writes about the old Ross ringers, of which Mr. Andrews was a member, 'before he enlisted 23 years ago. From what I heard (he writes) I found it was the custom in the winter, when work was scarce, to go out "busking" with their handbells. On the road to Hereford, near Holme Lacey, they called on Sir R. Cockburn, who at once rushed out at Osborne, of their band, and threatened to murder the villain with a large stick for having stolen one of his favourite white rabbits. Another party of handbell ringers, some time previous, had walked off with one of his favourite breed and he thought it was the same band again.'

'Just before starting on this tour from Osborne's house, his wife, who was upstairs, called out to her husband to put the sheep's head in the pot for dinner. He at once put it in as it came from the butcher's, with wool on, eyes in, and snout intact, much to the laughter of Humphrey, Bird, Andrews and Young. Ten years ago they "busked" along to where old Humphrey was sure of 5s. and some cider. After some tunes had been rung, the old man who resided at the place came to the door in a long, old-fashioned, queer-coloured cow gown which amused Andrews so much he could not conceal his laughter. They came away without the 5s. and old Humphrey very much put out.'

On one occasion at Ross Carnival, Mr. Fussell speaks of the illuminations, torchlight procession, etc., and says: 'I took the character of a Red Indian. After riding round the town on horseback without stirrups, I felt thoroughly stiff and tired in my thighs for days after.'

A DISAPPOINTMENT

On August 4th he left Ross by 6.50 train in full Volunteer uniform for Oxford, where he arrived at midday, met by Washbrook. With G. Hounslow they rode to Dorchester together on a tandem tricycle. Washbrook on his bicycle. Then Mr. Fussell goes on, 'here I expected to attempt a peal for which I had specially come, but the Rev. Robinson, finding enough there to ring Cambridge, at once made his own band stand in "for practice," as he said, for three peals to be attempted and which they rang on the Monday following. Although I ring Cambridge well and was unable to meet a band for a peal in that method, he very nearly allowed me to leave the tower while they started for a peal. After having a glass at the house opposite, Hounslow and I started back to Oxford, the sound of the bells ringing as we rode away not being at all agreeable to two disappointed men.'

'This fruitless journey was due to bad arrangements. While listening a band of Salvationists started singing and shouting service in the village, near the churchyard, making the ringing, mingled with their sounds, most discordant. We had a spill going down a little hill, getting pitched over. I was glad to find Hounslow unhurt; my trousers and pants about the seat were almost in rags, split and torn down the legs in a remarkable way; handle of the machine bent; wheel nearly doubled; five miles from Oxford—the rest of the journey was done slowly and we got home at 10.30.

'Sunday, laid in bed while the housekeeper at Hounslow's sewed up my trousers. Had dinner with Washbrook and wife, rang at Christ Church for 3 o'clock service, to which the Foresters' and Oddfellows' Clubs came in procession.' Mr. Fussell then went to camp for the week at Blenheim Park.

While at Hertford he reports one occasion he walked to Belmont and chimed a new ring of eight (tenor about 20 cwt.) at the Catholic Convent. 'Bells hung by Taylor and Co., dead stocks and extra semitone second. The priests who chimed relieved each other (3). Apparatus worked hard. Central tower, beautifully-finished church; very courteous men; staid to service.'

In all these visits to so many places, Mr. Fussell interviewed the various clergy, drew up rules for the ringers, gave out books and diagrams, besides staying for several days or even weeks at different centres, teaching new beginners or encouraging the older ones. A typical entry of one of these visits is: 'Fine day, up at nine, walked to Madley Church, a large and very handsome building; six bells, good tone, tenor about 18 cwt. Saw Vicar, a nice old chatty gentleman, very poor; saw Mr. Pritchard of "Red Lion"; got back at two; rang at Eaton Bishop 7 to 9 p.m.'

SALARY DIFFICULTIES

In all these 'comings and goings' Mr. Fussell writes: 'Providence has assisted me on several occasions, owing to my letters passing through various hands when applying for my salary. I often had to wait until the cheque came some time after being due. At Burwarton it so happened that I had not enough money to settle with my landlady, but the very night before, 5s. came to hand very unexpectedly at Ditton Priors. This enabled me to pay my way and left me with 2s. 2d. to get to Bridgnorth. At Hereford a similar bountiful providence enabled me to push along without inconvenience. The Vicar of Eaton Bishop very kindly paid my expenses while in his parish—this was unexpected. Fortunately, I never make a worry of these difficulties and up to the present time I am thankful to say God has given all I could wish for or reasonably expect.'

GILES MANSFIELD

Mr. Fussell writes: 'The privilege of having seen this veteran ringer is one I shall remember. This Easter he will have been in his bedroom four years; age about 96. He seemed to be in excellent health and spirits and chatted very intelligently on ringing matters. Mentioned Snowden and his visit to Stroud some years ago—also the Vicar of Stroud, who, in "Church Bells," asked for alms to assist Mansfield. Mansfield has now outlived both Snowden and the Vicar! He spoke of his peals at Painswick and Stroud. While I was ringing in a peal nearby at the latter part of the evening, I thought of the old chap lying on his bed and eagerly listening to the bells and very probably thinking of the days when he was young and strong and able to enjoy his pull. He told me he was quite prepared to go and he believed there would be better music in Heaven than that of bells—I wonder how many ringers in England, when the last "go" shall be called, will be prepared and ready to obey.'

At the end of his 1888 diary Mr. Fussell gives a list of 'Guild Instructions' and lessons given in each tower, number of bells, tenor weight, day of arrival and departure, number of lessons, captain's name, number of members present, adding: 'Engaged 38 weeks or 266 days; 28 disengaged evenings and 38 Sundays; 200 lessons given.'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Devizes Branch

The half-yearly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at North Bradley on July 7th. Ringing at the Church of St. Nicholas commenced at 3 p.m., and at 4.30 members assembled in the church for the Guild service, conducted by the Vicar. Afterwards the visitors, who were guests of the local ringers, and their friends, enjoyed an excellent tea.

The business meeting followed with the Branch Chairman, Mr. W. C. West, in the chair. He announced that the Branch was well represented at the Guild's annual festival and also mentioned the great loss the Branch had suffered in the death of Mr. Hart, of Westbury, who was the founder and first chairman of this Branch. A letter was received from Mr. Weeks stating that Bromham bells were now in working order and had been rung for the first time at the induction of the new Rector of Bromham.

The sum of £5 was voted to the Guild's General Fund to help with the cost of producing the annual report; a collection at tea was also given for this purpose.

The next three meetings were fixed for Upavon, Bromham and Westbury.

The meeting closed with votes of thanks: ringing then continued with methods up to Cambridge Major.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

Wellingborough Branch

After a lapse of 13 years, the Wellingborough Branch visited Castle Ashby for their quarterly meeting on July 14th.

The Guild service was attended by ringers and friends from Wellingborough, Irthlingborough, Higham Ferrers, Wilby, Easton Mauduit, Finedon, Cogenhoe, Kingsthorpe, Earls Barton, Rothwell, Ecton, Mears Ashby, Great Doddington, Bozeat, Irchester, Yardley Hastings, Northampton, Stanwick and Raunds.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. L. E. Brown). A collection for the Guild Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1 12s. Tea was arranged on the lawn of the Falcon Hotel.

At the business meeting the chair was taken by the Rector, supported by the branch secretary, Mr. A. Bigley. It was decided to visit Ecton for the October meeting. Four new ringing members were elected: Robin Turner (Wellingborough) and Tony Murton, John Wigglesworth and Robert Wykes, all of Wilby.

A vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist and caterers was proposed by Mr. W. G. Callis. Mr. A. Bigley, seconding, mentioned the work of Mr. C. W. Partridge (Wilby) and Mr. H. Wooding (Yardley Hastings) and thanked them.

Mr. Brown, replying, said he hoped it would not be long before the next meeting at Castle Ashby.

BARNESLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY

The July meeting was held at Hoylandswaine and members were present from Barnsley, Cawthorne, Crofton, Felkirk, Lindley, Sandal, Shelley and South Kirkby. Cups of tea were provided in the Parish Room.

The president, Mr. N. F. Moxon, was in the chair for the business meeting. The best thanks were given to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to Mr. E. Brookes for making the arrangements. It was agreed to hold the next meeting at Thornhill, Dewsbury, on August 11th.

Further ringing followed, good use being made of the bells.

PEAL RINGING IN 1950

THE statistically minded will find something to contemplate in the Peal Analysis table for 1950, which is published in this issue. Only once in the annals of peal ringing has the total of 2,723 peals been exceeded, and this was in 1949 when special rejoicings added materially to the total. And there is no diminution in the cult of peal ringing; this present year shows the zest for the pastime fully maintained. Comparative figures since the end of the war are as follows: 1945, 1,304; 1946, 1,795; 1947, 2,174; 1948, 2,639; 1949, 2,906; and 1950, 2,723.

Of the 2,361 peals on tower bells the following comparative figures are of interest:—

	1950	1949	1948
Maximus ... ..	31	47	17
Cinques ... ..	50	43	43
Royal ... ..	86	109	92
Caters ... ..	89	99	82
Major ... ..	938	1,052	957
Triples ... ..	297	335	346
Minor and Doubles ...	870	839	821

The most pronounced change is in five and six bell ringing. Perhaps the chances of success are higher, but, nevertheless, it is a branch of the Exercise with increased popularity.

Of Maximus ringing there are two main schools—at Leicester and Birmingham—and of the 31 peals rung during the year 24 were in Surprise methods. From both centres a spirit of enterprise is noted, and Leicester reached Spliced Surprise in four methods. The College Youths had three peals of Cambridge Maximus. There was an advance of seven in the number of peals of Cinques, with St. Martin's Guild scoring 17 and the Archdeacons of Stafford 8. No fewer than 22 Guilds or Associations scored twelve-bell peals, which in itself is an encouraging feature.

While ten-bell peals did not reach the heights of 1949, a record of 175 peals makes good reading. Thirty-four Associations scored peals, as against 32 in the previous year. The success of the Archdeacons of Stafford with 16 ten-bell peals will be noted; they outpaced Leicester. Peals of Surprise Royal were rung in 14 different methods and totalled 51. Cambridge (24) and Yorkshire (8) were the two most popular Surprise Royal methods.

More than half the peals of Major were in Surprise methods, the total being 499, against 561 in 1949. The order of popularity of Surprise methods with the comparative figures of last year were: Cambridge 101 (133), Yorkshire 82 (88), London 56 (53), Bristol 53 (62), Superlative 47 (69). The drop in Superlative is difficult to explain. In 1948 it was second to Cambridge and now it is fifth. The Oxford Diocesan Guild gained notoriety by their Spliced Surprise Major ringing, reaching by stages 22 methods. During the year there were 25 peals of Spliced Surprise Major against 38 in the previous year. These were distributed among 14 societies. In all, 52 different Surprise Major methods were rung. Double Norwich Court Bob Major still holds its popularity with 116 peals, of which 17 were rung for the Lancashire Association and 12 for the Kent County Association. Plain Bob Major had 185 and Kent Treble Bob 83. Nevertheless, these figures are a substantial drop on 1949, when Plain Bob had 197 peals, Double Norwich 133 and Kent Treble Bob 98.

While there was a decrease in the number of peals of Triples, Stedman with 120 was an increase on 110 in 1949. For the Oxford Diocesan Guild 15 peals were rung and 10 each for the Midland Counties and Southwell Diocesan Guild. Peals of Grandsire Triples numbered 157, an appreciable drop from 190 and 199 in 1948. Is it a sign of an advance or does it indicate a falling off of first peals on a working bell?

Minor and Doubles peals were more numerous than at any period in ringing history with a total of 870. Leading Guilds in five and six bell ringing were Lincoln Diocesan 80, Bath and Wells 55, Leicester Diocesan 54, Kent County 52, Chester Diocesan 46 and Peterborough Diocesan 41.

Handbell peals numbered 362, against 382 in 1949 and 274 in 1948. While Bournemouth and Leicester were the two main centres, peals were rung for 36 different Guilds and Associations, and the Midland Counties with 30 peals and the North Staffordshire Association with 23 peals are likely to be enthusiastic centres in the future.

Leicester Diocesan Guild for the second year in succession head the list as the most prolific Guild with 194 peals against 267 in the previous year. The order of the leading associations is as follows: 2 Kent County 165 (168); 3 Yorkshire 142 (150); 4 Chester Diocesan 141 (143); 5 Lincoln Diocesan 138 (126); 6 Lancashire 129 (161); 7 Winchester and Portsmouth 121 (148); 8 Oxford Diocesan 112 (94); 9 Bath and Wells 87 (73); 9 Sussex County 87 (87); 11 St. Martin's Guild 82 (62); 12 Norwich Diocesan 79 (94).

The Ancient Society of College Youths rang 20 peals, against six by the Royal Society of Cumberland Youths. Oxford University Society pipped Cambridge University with 14 peals to 11. For two years Cambridge has had the lead. In all 52 Associations or Guilds in affiliation with the Central Council rang peals.

The Exercise is indebted to the Peals Analysis Committee for their painstaking work. It is no light undertaking to maintain these records, year in and year out. Associated with the convener, Mr. Walter Ayre, is Mr. H. Miles and Mr. G. L. Grover.

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

There are still a few readers who have neglected to renew their subscriptions. They, and new subscribers, should write without delay to Mr. J. E. Jeater, 11, Frankwood Avenue, Petts Wood, Kent.

Among the disappointments in the attempt to commemorate the 200th anniversary of Holt's Original on July 7th was one at Ormskirk by the Lancashire Association. Their attempt was to ring the Original silent but it broke down about half way. The band, which hopes to try again shortly, consisted of Miss J. Preston 1, J. Spice 2, E. Humphriss 3, T. R. Butler 4, T. W. Hesketh 5, F. Varty 6, P. W. Cave 7, J. Guilbert 8.

Mr. H. T. Bonshor has 'circled' Great Dalby, Leicestershire, tower.

We regret to learn that Mr. Francis S. Wilson, of Canford Cliffs, Dorset, was admitted to Poole General Hospital last week suffering from a severe hæmorrhage. He had to be rushed to hospital for a blood transfusion.

Hereford Cathedral Society, now in its eighth year, is affiliated to the Hereford Diocesan Guild. Three of the members have rung peals for the Guild and the Society rings for Sunday services at the Cathedral and All Saints' Church.

At the age of 69 years, Mr. Walter Starr, of Swainwick, near Bath, revisited the village of his boyhood, Bitton, to ring his first peal of Major. The 'grandfather' of the band, Walter was quite prepared to carry on for another couple of hours, but his hot and thirsty colleagues were happy to adjourn to a cooler place for a sociable evening.

Only once before, in February, 1906, has a peal of Stedman Triples been rung on the bells of St. Saviour's, Oxtou. There are three survivors of the band, viz., Messrs. G. R. Newton (the conductor), E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council) and T. W. Hammond. It was the late H. W. Wilde's first peal of Stedman Triples.

BELFRY GOSSIP

At a Degree Ceremony held in the University of Manchester on July 13th, the degree of B.D. (Bachelor of Divinity) was conferred upon the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, M.A., president of the Lancashire Association.

Latest effect of the spiral of inflation is a proposal to the Norwich Diocesan Association to increase the annual subscription from 2s 6d. to 5s. for those over 16.

The peal at Snodland, Kent, on July 28th, by Rochester Cathedral band was rung for the Village Festival week of Britain. It was also a birthday peal for Mrs. V. A. Jarrett, wife of the treble ringer and mother of the 3rd and 4th ringers. Also for the wedding of the Bishop of Rochester's son at Rochester Cathedral that afternoon.

Many visitors to the N.W. Devon-N. Cornwall area will remember the church of Pancrasweek, with a hard-going ring of five, the subject of some comment in a leading article of this paper about two years ago. Despite intense heat and the ever-present fear of broken ropes (or worse!) the first quarter on the bells was rung on July 29th. It is to be hoped that the Birmingham friend who stood in at short notice is not under the impression that these bells are the best the district can offer!

Miss Bessie Carter, John W. Griffiths, A. Edward Reeves, Thomas Price, John F. Butler, Brian Harms, William A. Farmer, Frederick G. Beddow, John N. Linden and Percy Swindley all completed Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus with the peal at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, on July 28th. The conductor, Mr. W. A. Farmer, also completes the same as conductor. The tenorman, Percy Swindley, rang the second half with the rope untucked, but it did not make any difference to the capable way in which he struck the bell.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

5,040 GRANDSIRE TRIPLES AT EXETER CATHEDRAL

Dear Sir,—As the arranger and conductor of the peal at Exeter Cathedral on July 7th, I feel bound to protest against your editorial on the subject which appeared in the issue of July 27th.

Although I myself consider that a peal—and a good one—was rung, this letter is not a complaint or argument against Central Council rulings and I am, of course, willing to accept their decision on the matter.

In any case I prefer to leave such controversy to more experienced and knowledgeable persons on ringing matters.

My protest lies in the fact that your editorial implies that we did not behave in an honourable manner, that we did not 'play the game.' I resent, sir, such an implication as this.

Surely the very fact that an honest account of what occurred during the 'peal' was sent to you for publication for everyone to see is, in itself, ample proof of our integrity.

We commenced the peal with the intention of using an extra man if it was found to be necessary (this has, I believe, been done before), we did use him, and we published the fact when we claimed it as a peal.

I, personally, am not bemoaning the fact that our efforts have been rejected although it is, naturally, a great disappointment, but our actions, sir, do not deserve an editorial which refers to questions of honour.—Yours faithfully,
FRANK L. HARRIS.

Britford, Salisbury.

NOTE.—We have never questioned Mr. Harris's personal integrity; on the contrary, we admire the frank way he explained the details of the performance. If Mr. Harris did not know the Decisions governing a true peal there were other members of the band who did. It was the submission of the performance as a peal which was contrary to the 'Rules of the Game.' For the maintenance of the Decisions of the Council, the Exercise is mainly dependent on the conductors.—Ed.

BARRON BELL TRUST

Dear Sir.—Following comments at the Central Council meeting with reference to the Barron Bell Trust, the following information may be of interest to members.

Early this year I wrote the Charity Commissioners regarding the Trust and they informed me that the Trust was still in being and that Mr. C. M. Walsend, 53, Bridge Street, Eastcote, Pinner, Middlesex, is the secretary to the trustees. I have written that gentleman and he will pass to the trustees any correspondence.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN A. HILL

Andover, Hants.

SUPERLATIVE PEAL AT BROADCLYST

Dear Sir,—Upon rechecking the peal of Superlative rung at Broadclyst, Devon, on June 16th, composed by Nolan Golden and conducted by myself, it has been found that by the incorrect interpretation of a call, 448 extra changes were unintentionally rung. This makes the peal one of 5,568 changes instead of 5,120 as published.—Yours truly,

G. S. MORRIS

Lyme Regis, Dorset.

TEIGNMOUTH, DEVON.—On July 18th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: M. J. Bray 1, F. J. Pillar 2, A. L. Bennett 3, H. G. Lewis 4, C. F. Austin 5, E. M. Atkins (cond.) 6, J. E. Lilley 7, W. J. Harvey 8. First quarter 1, 2 and 8. A 74th birthday compliment to Mr. C. F. Austin, also a compliment to the conductor on the birth of a grandson.

TRANSIT OF GREAT PAUL

Dear Sir,—I understand the photograph of Great Paul reproduced in 'The Ringing World' was taken at Little Brickhill, Bucks. The bell also stayed for one or two nights near 'The Woodman', at the entrance to Highgate Woods, near London, and it was here that I saw it. I am nearly 77 and I well remember, as a small boy, being lifted up by my father so that I might touch the bell.—Yours faithfully,

W. J. NORTON.

Alderton, Towcester.

Dear Sir.—My father was gardener at St. James' House, Fulham. The house kept the altar linen, surplices, etc., in order, for many of the City churches, including St. Paul's. A van collected and delivered them and I was often perched up with the driver.

I well remember meeting 'Great Paul' as she was being worked round a corner near St. Paul's Cathedral and saw the heavy timber underneath the tower ready for her. I have often spoken of it.—Yours truly,

EDWARD H. ADAMS.

Warwick.

Dear Sir.—Whether it was merely by accident or by announcement in the Press, I cannot say, but a fair crowd had gathered in Verulam Road, St. Albans, opposite the then Head Post Office, midway between Dagnall Street and The George Tap to see the transit of Great Paul.

I, like many older people, put my little hand on the outer side of the bell. At that time I knew nothing about bells or ringing and was almost too young to appreciate anything but its mere size.

As far as my memory goes it was on a Friday and the local press held their issue back a trifle to give an acknowledgement of the safe passage of such a memorable bell.—Yours faithfully,

ALFRED BARNES.

Reddish, Stockport.

HOLT'S ORIGINAL

Dear Sir,—With reference to your paragraph in Belfry Gossip regarding the Original, I regret that we were unable to make an attempt on the 200th anniversary as we had a meeting that day. Having called the peal 42 times (eight times round the circle and once non-conducted), I still have no short cut to memorising the composition. On several occasions I have given my arrangement to would-be conductors and I know of two who used it and called the peal successfully.

I call this peal by arranging the bells before in this order:—

5345444	3D	3D	7D	4D
4	4D	5D	5D	7D
3	3D	7D
5	7D	7D	5D

D means doubles.

A shift is soon noticed by either the bell you want to call before being in the hunt or 2 or 6 coming before at a double.

Yours faithfully,

T. E. SONE.

Paddock Wood, Kent.

SWANSEA AND BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Festival at Sketty

The 23rd annual meeting of the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild was held at the Parish Church, Sketty, Swansea, on July 14th. The weather was excellent and the attendance was accordingly very good.

The annual service was held at St. Paul's, Sketty, and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. C. Williams. The Lord Bishop of the Diocese was also present at the service and gave the Blessing.

The company then adjourned to the Church Hall, where the good people of the Parish had prepared a very nice tea. The president (the Lord Bishop) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies who had worked to prepare the tea, and also to the Vicar and the good people of Sketty for the excellent meal provided. The general secretary seconded the vote of thanks.

At the annual meeting the Lord Bishop presided and the balance sheet was presented by the general secretary, in the absence of the treasurer, the Very Rev. Dean of Brecon. The accounts showed a balance in hand of £20, after paying £23 to clear the memorial account.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Mr. J. T. Williams, of Morriston, now a member of the Sketty tower, was elected Ringing Master. Mr. Gwyn Lewis, retiring Master, placed the Master's pendant on Mr. Williams. The new Master expressed his pride in the honour conferred upon him and expressed the hope that he would be able to carry the duties of Master with the same proficiency as Mr. Lewis had. Mr. J. T. Williams is also a past master of the St. David's Guild, and one of four brothers who are members of this Guild.

Other elections were: Hon. general secretary, Mr. D. G. Williams; hon. treasurer, the Very Rev. Dean of Brecon; hon. auditor, the Rev. H. M. Hughes (Minor Canon of Brecon).

The Committee were re-elected en bloc, Mr. Meredith, Sketty, being elected for Sketty in place of Ringing Master.

Knighton was selected for the annual festival and meeting in 1952.

Mr. Gwyn Lewis, Central Council delegate, gave a detailed report of the meeting of the Council held at Chester, and appealed to members to support 'The Ringing World' as it was the ringers' own paper and should be supported by all ringers. Mr. Lewis was thanked by the chairman for his excellent report.

Mr. Lewis was elected peal recorder for the Guild and the secretary was empowered to purchase a good book for the purpose.

Mr. A. J. Hoare spoke of the need of a bell restoration fund and this matter was referred to the committee for report to the next annual meeting.

The general secretary moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Lord Bishop for being present and taking the chair and stated that the Bishop was a very good friend to the Guild of Ringers. He also thanked the Vicar of Sketty for his excellent address at the service and the organist and choirboys for their assistance.

40 YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World,' August 11th, 1911
ATTEMPT FOR FOUR SURPRISE PEALS

The announcement . . . that four Surprise peals were to be attempted in one day on the same bells has been much discussed in all parts of the country and there was a good deal of speculation as to what enterprising band was going to start upon this formidable task and what ring of bells was available for such a performance. It was the Guildford band who undertook the task and Warnham, Sussex, where an attempt was once made for 20,000 of Canterbury Major, was the tower. Last Monday's attempt was not successful, but two peals were rung.

Naturally an early start was necessary. The bells went off into Bristol Surprise at 5.5 a.m. and came round at 8.10. After an interval of 50 minutes . . . Cambridge Surprise was started for at 9 a.m. The ringing . . . was a bit too fast, but, nevertheless, the peal was rung, the bells coming into rounds at 11.50. An interval of two hours was then taken, London Surprise being attempted after dinner. A second start had to be made but after an hour's ringing a shift course occurred and 'Stand' was called. As there was not then time to ring the four peals, no other was attempted. . .

[Four Surprise peals have been rung in one day on at least two subsequent occasions—but not on one ring of bells!]

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

Visit to Kippax

The Society's monthly meeting was held at Kippax on July 28th. It was a perfect day for a meeting and despite the counter attraction (Test Match in Leeds) the attendance was good. Bells were rung up at 2.30 p.m. as a final part of a wedding and, immediately following, the church choirboys were giving an open-air play at which the ringers were interested spectators. Ringing until tea-time was enjoyed in a variety of six-bell methods.

The business meeting was held in the Church Hall, following tea. Mr. J. W. Benten presided and members were present from Armley, Batley, Bramley, Burley, Calverley, Drighlington, Headingley St. Chad, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Rothwell, Woodlesford and the local ringers. Three new members from the Kippax tower were elected, viz., Miss J. Wilkinson and Messrs. W. Cowell and K. Woodcock.

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells and to the local company for the other arrangements was proposed by Mr. I. Slack and seconded by Mr. R. H. Dove. Mr. H. Lawn acknowledged the thanks and hoped that when the Society came next time the local ringers would be able to join in more of the ringing.

The next meeting is due to be held at Otley on August 25th. The venue of the September meeting was discussed and it was finally agreed to exchange the Rothwell tower with the East Ardsley tower.

Mr. I. Slack asked if members would act as missionaries and visit towers wanting assistance with learners. It was pointed out that certain members were visiting two and three towers each week giving their services in the cause of ringing. Learners were asked to visit other towers where a helping hand and a welcome was awaiting them.

A final suggestion was that a list of practice nights be printed; will all local secretaries accordingly notify the district secretary of their practice night and time.

ROMSEY, HANTS.—At the Abbey on July 8th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: C. Herbert 1, J. Page 2, M. Northway (first quarter Triples 'inside') 3, Miss H. Kebby 4, M. Aymes 5, K. Jacobs 6, C. T. Drew (first quarter Triples as cond.) 7, W. Bell 8. First quarter of Triples for 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 8. Believed to be the first quarter by a local band for over 35 years.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION

Talk of 5s. Subscription

A general meeting was held in St. Clement's Hall, Norwich, on July 28th, with the president in the chair and 36 members present from Wymondham, North Elmham, Fakenham, North Creake, Loddon, Norton Subcourse, Norwich, Caister-on-Sea, Beccles, Diss, Saxlingham, Mendham, Pulham St. Mary, Redenhall, St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Hethersett, Bunwell, Somerleyton, Cambridge St. Andrew and Mulbarton. Two important items brought the meeting together and were discussed at length.

The general secretary brought forward the excellent draft service form which the Guildford Guild had prepared. It was decided to communicate with the Guildford Guild saying that the Association was prepared to proceed with the scheme provided that various points involved could be settled to mutual happiness.

The annual report and finance were discussed. It was noted that an annual report of the same style as heretofore could not be produced without a great increase in price, which could not possibly be met with the present annual subscription. It was decided to empower a small committee consisting of Mr. Nolan Golden, Mr. Edwin Goate and the general secretary, to devise a report more economical in format yet as detailed as possible, and to print this.

Notice of motion was given that at another general meeting it would be proposed to raise the annual subscription from 2s. 6d. to 5s. for those over 16, and non-resident life members from 5s. to 10s. The general meeting at which this will be voted on will be at St. Clement's Hall, Norwich, on Saturday, October 20th, at 5.15.

The bells at Mancroft, St. Giles', St. George Colegate, St. Miles' and St. John de Sepulchre were open for ringing and a good tea was arranged by the ladies of St. George Colegate and St. Clement's.

Miss Dorothy Sayers' Popular Ringing Lecture

As part of Canterbury's Festival programme, Miss Dorothy Sayers, of 'Nine Tailors' fame, gave a lecture in the Chapter House of the Cathedral on ringing to an audience of over 500.

Miss Sayers traced the history of ringing from the earliest times down to the present day. She spoke of the history of some of the more famous societies, also the present day activities of ringers, their peals, meetings and outings.

She explained how the changes are rung, and as an example took the changes on three bells, gave their notes, divided the audience into three sections, each with its own note and got them singing. The audience seemed to enjoy this part very much. At the end of her lecture she was given an ovation and was afterwards besieged by autograph hunters, most of them with a copy of one or other of her books.

Miss Sayers was introduced by Miss Margaret Babington, O.B.E., who is hon. steward and treasurer of the Friends of Canterbury Cathedral.

OBITUARY

FLYING OFFICER K. G. CARLTON

A former ringer at Willesborough, Kent, Flying Officer Ken G. Carlton met his death when his plane crashed at Filey, Yorks. Ken was a regular service ringer from 1936 to 1941 when he joined the R.A.F. He had rung nine peals, his first being in April, 1936 at the age of 13. His last, in December, 1938, was a peal of Minor in seven methods.

To his memory and as a mark of respect 1,260 Plain Bob Minor was rung at Willesborough on July 23rd, by R. Newton 1, L. Smith 2, W. J. Lancefield 3, W. P. Garner 4, M. S. Lancefield 5, E. S. Ruck (conductor) 6.

MR. JOHN DUNKLEY

The Northampton Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild has lost a valued officer by the death on July 24th of Mr. John Dunkley in his 83rd year.

Mr. Dunkley was captain of Kingthorpe Parish Church, Northampton, for 50 years and had been deteriorating in health for about a year but, however, still rang up to his 80th birthday. Besides being a much respected ringer, Mr. Dunkley was very well known as a fine bowls player and cricketer. He was the oldest master builder in Northampton.

Mr. Dunkley had rung several peals, but this was not his keenest ringing interest; he set his ideals on loyal Church service ringing, good striking and dependability; he was a good churchman and rarely missed attendance at service.

All his ringing friends are so glad that, before he died, Kingthorpe bells were reinstalled and ringing again after being at the bell-foundry early in the year.

The wagon which took the bells away was halted outside his house so that he could see them with his keen eye.

After the funeral, at which a large number of ringing friends paid their tribute to a much respected ringer, a well-struck quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung half-muffled by the following: J. Payne 1, S. Earl 2, E. Frost 3, W. Hammons (conductor) 4, F. Benfield 5, D. Wright 6. S. E. N.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Reading Branch at Mortimer

The summer quarterly meeting of the Reading Branch was held at Mortimer, at the southern extremity of the Diocese, on July 28th, one of the sunniest Saturdays of the year.

About fifty members and friends attended the service at St. John's Church and the Vicar gave a very appropriate and interesting address. Tea was then taken on the lawn of the Vicarage garden by the kind invitation of the Vicar and Mrs. Whitmill, and so good was the meal, so warm the weather and so fine the scenery, that many felt they would have liked rather to spend the rest of the day reclining on the lawn and recounting past ringing experiences than to spend the evening ringing.

However, at long last, the gathering was sufficiently roused to hold a short business meeting at which five new members were elected. Ringing was then resumed at both towers where the bells were kept going in the standard methods up to Cambridge Surprise until nine o'clock. A. D.

RANG A PEAL IN THE LAST CENTURY

To the list of those who rang peals in the last century should be added the name of Mr. A. R. Ward, of Ryde, Isle of Wight. Despite his 79 years, Mr. Ward still climbs the stairway to ring the bells of All Saints', Ryde.

This grand old man rang his first peal in this tower in 1889, it being rung in honour of the daughter of the late Canon Poole. The Canon was mainly responsible for the building of All Saints', Ryde, with its lofty spire which can be easily seen from the mainland.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—20

Edited by ERNEST MORRIS

TALES OF DRINKING

At the end of his 1888 diary, Mr. Fussell devotes two or three pages with the above title. Thus: 'Mr. Turner, the present churchwarden of Lugwardine, rang, when a young man, in the tower there, when only five bells. Emery, an old man now working on a farm close by as a labourer, is still foreman of the old Lugwardine ringers. These two well remember the time, and speak of it now, when the old vicarage stood close by the tower, facing it; the old brick wall now left standing being the only parting between the churchyard and Rector's grounds. The late Rector was in office for many years and never interfered with his ringers and at last was too old to do so! On Christmas day and night and New Year's Eve and night it was not uncommon for the ringers to be ringing all night long on and off at intervals, and continued so till next day, and if some were not able to work through bad weather, ring on for several days together. A couple of large stone jars were in use and two pairs of men sent off with a jar alternately to the various farm houses round about for cider, which was always freely given by all the farmers for the ringers. These two jars were kept going so long as the people would give and the men able to stand—in some cases by leaning against the wall. The ropes would keep the men from falling as they rang.

FIRES IN THE TOWER

'Clay pipes and tobacco were, of course, much used—spitting about the tower and occasional bad language too, until the belfry was a perfect den. There was also a roaring fire constructed as follows: A couple of gravestones pulled up and placed in the corner of the tower, sticks and paper laid ready for lighting. When dark, one or two would stroll over a hopyard, at no great distance away and pick up a few hop-poles, which were placed with the tarred ends to the lit fire; the poles caught up and blazed away to the ceiling, sometimes 10 or 12 feet high. The old wooden shutters were, of course, seldom closed. On the wall, facing the tower a half hoghead of cider was once fixed at Christmas time—this was pulled at and emptied between then and New Year's Day. There used to be some bother if a bell was overthrown as there were no stays on them.

'At Withington a similar kind of going-on was carried but the ringing room then was where they have now put the clock, and only five bells. At Bosbury the walls and ceiling timbers show the blackened smoke stained effects of a fire which used to be in the corner on any ringing night. This belfry and bells is one of the most perfect specimens left of what ringing rooms and bell-ringing used to be 50 years ago. The only addition is wooden (and some iron) stays to the bells. Well worth a change-ringer's visit if anywhere near.

'At Peterchurch, Mr. C. Garrett's father was a farmer and a ringer. If he happened to be ploughing and heard the bells go up for a wedding or anything else, he would take in the horses, leave his plough, and at once go up and ring for the rest of the day and night. He it was who saw Peterchurch bells arrive in the village—six bells, all at once!

THE WAGON THAT BROUGHT THE BELLS

'Mr. Garrett's grandfather and his great-uncle were the two who arranged to get the bells home from Gloucester by road and provide horses and cart for the purpose. Up till within very recently parts of the old farm wagon which actually carried the bells could be seen laying about near the churchyard. The old villagers would often come with pride and point out to a friend or visitor "the wagon what brought our bells here." Cider drinking and smoking was carried on here and a fire lit somewhat after Lugwardine. The Vicar was not so particular and evidently one of the good old sort. He would come into the churchyard where a company of farmers from miles around would play at ball against the walls and caution a boy to see the shutters shut for fear of breaking a window and occasionally saying, "Well done" and "Good" when an exciting game was on. As soon as service time was up (his big watch was referred to) he would say: "Now, lads, let's get in and have it over—open the shutters, boy—tell the ringers to set up a bit."

'Peterchurch was a notorious place for fighting, then-a-days farmers would meet on Sundays at "The Crown" and if they quarrelled, generally arranged to fight it out "after dinner" or "after church." A village policeman was seldom seen and even if there, both parson and policeman would say: "Let 'em fight it out." As many as two or three stand-up fights have taken place in the field between the church and the river on the south side. "The Crown" is now occupied by a Dissenter named Lane, who is a teetotaler but sells ales and spirits, and yet professes strong temperance principles.

'At Woolhope cider was drunk to a great extent—the tower arch opening into the nave was closed up and the doorway (small) used for passing in and out. This door is now built up. Sellack once boasted of a good ringer named Gabriel Link—he it was who came to Hereford to teach All Saints' men Triples. Gabriel rang at Ross a good deal 20 years ago with the Bullocks and Drews in Triples. Some years ago John Davies, of All Saints', and a band of six, had five days' ringing; commencing at Sellack—Kings Capse—they went to Holme Lacey and Fomhope and Woolhope, across to Tarrington and Stoke Edith. Rang at Lugwardine and Wittington, back to Hampton Bishop and Kings Capse again: some went to Ross and rang. This band could ring six-scores of Grand-sire Doubles but most of the rings they visited went badly and they had to put up with 'thirties.' Plenty of drink was then given them—they had to beg what food was not given them—most of them being out of work at the time of this excursion.'

RAINHAM, KENT

For a tour of Kent and Sussex on July 14th, ringers of St. Margaret's, Rainham, were joined by friends from Bobbing, Borden and Chatham, a start being made at 7.30 a.m.

The first tower was Edenbridge, followed by Crawley, before having lunch at Horsham. The afternoon's programme was Cowfold, a handy six, Uckfield, and, after tea, at Leigh. The tour was about 160 miles and Rainham was reached at 11 p.m. Thanks are accorded to all who helped to make the outing a success.

ACCIDENT ON TOUR

Mr. Dennis Airey, of Darlington, while with the Roving Ringers on tour last Saturday, was injured in a road accident at Great Yarmouth. The accident necessitated his return home to the regret of his colleagues.

BROADCASTING

Mr. W. A. Farmer, of Shrewsbury, is speaking on 'Shropshire Bells and Ringers' in the Midland Region countryside programme next Sunday at 7.10 p.m.

'THE CATHEDRAL OF WEST LONDON'

An Amalgamation of Parishes at Ealing

For many years prior to the war, Ealing was noted for the possession of two exceptionally beautiful churches, Christ Church and the daughter Church of St. Saviour, which, although separate parishes, were only a few hundred yards apart. Both churches were famous for their elaborate and beautiful ritual, in the Anglo-Catholic tradition, and both attracted large congregations.

During the autumn of 1940, St. Saviour's was completely destroyed by incendiary bombs, and in the summer of 1944 Christ Church was so badly damaged by a flying bomb that it almost seemed that this too would become a total wreck. However, under the guidance of the late Father de Vere and his successor, Father Bell, a wonderful scheme of restoration has been carried out at Christ Church, including the rehanging of the bells and recasting some of them (St. Saviour's had no bells), and the church, often known as the Cathedral of West London, is now almost back to its pre-war condition.

St. Saviour's, too, had an imposing scheme of restoration in view, but were not permitted to proceed, and recently were informed by the Diocesan Authorities that their church was not to be rebuilt, and the two parishes were instructed to amalgamate, under the title of Christ the Saviour, to operate from Christ Church. This involved the resignation of the Vicar of Christ Church (Father Bell) to the deep regret of the congregation, and the taking over of the combined parish by the Vicar of St. Saviour's (Father Aglionby).

The inauguration of the combined parishes was recently carried out with great ceremonial by the Bishop of London and the two are now working happily together with a large congregation. The peal, recorded elsewhere, is therefore of historic importance to the parish, and was rung at the wish of the church authorities as the first under the new title. It was also rung as a compliment to Mr. H. J. Eldred on the birth of a grandchild, and was also the 25th peal together by Messrs. Squire Croft and H. W. Rogers.

KINGSTON RINGERS' OUTING

The annual outing of the Kingston Ringers was, this year, only the official title for a large family party. Coincidence of several local ringing functions produced a shortage of ringers: it was, therefore, happily possible to invite all Rabbit's friends and relations for July 14th, and a lively time was had by all.

The programme revolved round bells, scenery and food. It was for lunch at Banbury that the party sped through the Thames valley all morning, with hasty ringing at Burnham and Abingdon: while at Marlow certain members of the band were nearly left behind for too much idling on the river bank. The afternoon's ringing at Hook Norton, Bicester and High Wycombe was especially enjoyed. The family-picnic atmosphere was now at its height, the children vanished, ice cream abounded, and it is whispered that at Bicester the second tea relay scamped their ringing for fear the first would eat more than their share.

The day ended with what is now a curious but happy assortment of memories of cider, handbells and the 'processional outline' of Windsor Castle floodlit against the sky. Not to mention a detour through the remotest suburbs of Feltham at 11 p.m. to drop certain importunate at their very doors.

The secretary and all who co-operated are to be congratulated on the success of the whole day; and thanks are due to the incumbents for permission to ring and to the members of local bands who gave up their time. RABBIT.

VISITING OTHER TOWERS

BLAXHALL, SUFFOLK

A coach tour into Essex was planned by Blaxhall ringers for their outing on July 14th, the party including friends from Leiston, Wickham Market and Hasketon.

The towers selected provided much variety. Ringing was enjoyed on the six of St. Leonard's, Colchester; then came the quiet eight at Feering All Saints' and the heavy tenor of 21 cwt. at Kelvedon, where the long draught did not find much favour with some of the band. After a shaky start, ringing got going to some Cambridge Minor.

An excellent lunch at Witham was followed by a visit to St. Nicholas' and All Saints' (8), the small ringing chamber causing a queue on the belfry stairs. Some good ringing took place at Braintree but the best performances of the day were after tea at Halstead. Finally came Earls Colne where, after getting used to the springy ropes, ringing was enjoyed on this fine eight. Our thanks to the organiser and those in Essex who made this a most enjoyable day. A. S. P.

GREAT TEY

St. Barnabas', Great Tey, outing, on July 14th, numbered no fewer than 70 ringers and friends. Great Tey was left at 7.30 a.m. and the first halt was at SS. Peter and Paul's, Dagenham, where the Vicar met the visitors. The ringing was enjoyed.

Owing to a traffic jam it was decided to bypass St. Mary's, Chatham, and make straight for Maidstone. After lunch a visit was paid to the heavy ten at All Saints', where Mr. Mannering, who had helped arrange the outing, awaited the visitors. A good pull preceded a return to the New Inn Hotel for tea.

Ringling followed at St. Michael and All Angels', Marden, and Tunbridge Wells. Home was reached in the early hours of Sunday morning. Mr. J. W. Dyer, who was responsible for the arrangements, thanks steeplekeepers and others for their kind co-operation.

HEREFORD CATHEDRAL SCHOOL

The Hereford Cathedral School Society held its annual outing on July 25th and with the welcome help of several visitors spent the day touring out-of-the-way towers near Ross and Monmouth. (The Society was founded in 1943 and has held regular outings during the Summer Term since 1945.)

The convoy of two cars and two motor-cycles set out from Hereford at nine and soon afterwards Much Dewchurch's six were going, followed by Orcop's and Garway's fives. Here three vehicles lost the leader (somebody had to come time during the day!) and arrived a few minutes late. Here, also, the Master of the Hereford Guild managed to dislodge his pillion passenger over a bumpy piece of ground! After these diversions we found that the bells went much better than we had expected from previous warnings.

Skenfrith (6) was the next tower, and thence to Llantilio-Crossenny, where the Vicar was sorry to disappoint us as the bells were unringable, and spent twenty minutes giving us a history of the church. At Llangattock-vibon-Avel (6) the ropes were, on the average, eighteen inches too low, and the treble and tenor were more easily rung sitting down! An instruction 'Get closer, tenor', was promptly obeyed by the tenorman moving along the bench, and 'Stand' was called very literally! After all this we enjoyed some light refreshment kindly provided by the Vicar.

Staunton (6), near Monmouth, where the bells are rung from the chancel steps, was considered the best tower of the day; thence to Goodrich (6) and finally to the pleasant light eight at Bridstow. Here we were very kindly entertained to supper at the home of the Master of the Society.

Methods rung were Plain Bob, Grandsire, Stedman and Reverse Canterbury Pleasure.

MAIDSTONE DISTRICT

July 21st will be a day to remember for members of the Maidstone District of the Kent County Association, who held their annual coach trip to the surrounding wilds, the destination this year being Sussex. The day proved one of the warmest of the year and signs of this were apparent by the time the slow work amidst the traffic jams of Maidstone had been accomplished and the coach set forth on its hunting course to Buxted. This proved indeed of a Treble Bob variety and the beauties of the Kentish Weald were displayed from all possible angles before the coach made a belated arrival. Here the church lies in the middle of a deer park and is itself worthy of this gracious setting. The bells proved to be a pleasant octave and in the short time available they were employed on the standard methods.

The next tower was Maresfield, only one mile away. These bells proved to be an eight, recently augmented from six, and they went so well as to be difficult to ring to some members of the party. Here an attempt was made to ring Belgrave, but two or three leads were sufficient to decide the band that further study would be profitable. Rounds, Grandsire, Plain Bob and Double Norwich were rung in rather better style.

The next stop was at Ringmer for refreshment. A sandwich lunch was eaten in the landlord's garden. Once again attempts to catch up with the timetable were of no avail, and the party had, unfortunately, no time to spare on arrival at Lewes. The ten bells of St. John-the-Baptist's, Southover, were rung to rounds, Grandsire, and Stedman Caters, Plain Bob Royal and to finish, a course of Superlative on the back eight. Leaving just before a wedding, the next port of call was the historic and picturesque village of Alfriston. Here the six-bell ringers came into their own ready to provide the best ringing of the day. But all too soon a breaking rope prevented any further stay and the bus was on its way to the sea at Eastbourne. A few hectic minutes were snatched on the front by most of the party and a few were seen to venture into the sea. And so to tea!

After tea, ringing was had at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Rounds, Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Superlative were rung and the tone and 'go' of the bells much appreciated. All too soon a move was made to Rotherfield, but once at St. Denys' Church the fine timbre of the bells and friendly welcome extended by members of the local band ensured a pleasurable visit. At last most of a course of Belgrave was accomplished. The standard methods from rounds to Bristol were brought round and ringing went on until nine o'clock.

After a brief stop at Goudhurst the coach made its way back into the Maidstone area to begin its long round of the villages taking people home. It had been a long and tiring day but none the less enjoyable. The thanks of all the party are due to Dr. Hatcher for the organisation which, even if a little out of phase, never ceased functioning with scientific precision.

GRANTHAM AND DISTRICT VISIT SURFLEET

A party of ringers from Grantham, Ancaster and Great Ponton paid a visit to Surfleet on July 23rd.

The party arrived just after 7 p.m. and, having been welcomed by Mrs. Richardson, soon set this light ring of 12 bells in motion. A variety of methods from Grandsire Doubles upwards were rung but the full 12 were only heard in rounds.

After ringing, the visitors adjourned to the Church Room where excellent refreshments were provided by Mrs. Dobney, of Surfleet. Mr. J. M. Simpson expressed the thanks of the visitors to their hosts.

J. M. S.

EDGBASTON, BIRMINGHAM

The ringers of Edgbaston Old Church held their annual outing on July 14th and a party of 27 consisting of ringing and other friends left Selly Oak by motor coach at 8 a.m.

Our first stop was Hinton-on-the-Green in the Vale of Evesham, where we received a warm welcome from the Rector, the Rev. F. C. Chamption, and one can imagine our surprise when the first finger to greet us was Mr. Phil Corby, who, with his family, were staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas, both of whom later came and rang with us. Stedman, Grandsire and Double Norwich were rung and also a course of York-shire, assisted by Mr. Corby and his host and hostess, which enabled a fair member of the party to ring her first course in that method.

Through the glorious Cotswold country via Broadway and Stow-on-the-Wold, to Burford, where we were met by the local captain, Mr. W. J. Dixon, and for nearly an hour we greatly enjoyed the beauty of this splendid eight.

After a substantial lunch at Oxford, the party adjourned to All Saints' Church, where we received a welcome from Mr. Walter F. Judge. As we were about to leave we were delighted to see Mr. Rodney B. Meadows, of 'Belfryman-ship' fame.

Our next stop was at Banbury where a delightful tea was partaken of at a local cafe. Unfortunately, we could not have the use of the bells as they had been promised to other visitors. At the parking station the party was rather alarmed as the police were there enquiring for the writer. This, however, turned out to be nothing more serious than a message from Mr. V. B. Hunt, at Stratford-on-Avon, to the effect that we could not ring there until 8 p.m. instead of 6.30 on account of a musical programme at the local flower show.

Leaving Banbury we travelled via the historic Edge Hill to Stratford, where Mr. Hunt had kindly arranged for us to ring as we could not ring at Banbury. He and one of his colleagues were there to welcome us and some well-struck Grandsire and Stedman Caters were enjoyed; also Double Norwich on the back eight.

On arriving home, shortly after 10 p.m., everyone agreed that this was one of the most successful of Edgbaston outings, thanks to the organisation of Messrs. W. Mumford and T. Russell.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL

An ambitious programme was arranged by Winchester Cathedral ringers with a few friends from neighbouring towers, for their first outing in 47 years.

Ringling took place at St. Martin's and St. Paul's, Salisbury, and Westbury. At the last-named tower one of the youthful members found to his disgust that when trying to swing the tenor he only succeeded in lifting himself off the floor! Lunch followed at the White Horse Restaurant.

Owing to a late arrival ringing had to be curtailed on the heavy ten at Wells Cathedral (tenor 57 cwt.) and it was here that some of the party had to adjust their ideas on heavy belfrymanship!

At the tea-table at Trowbridge, Mr. Lampard thanked, on the members' behalf, Mr. J. A. C. King, the organiser of the outing, and welcomed visitors from Alresford, Sparsholt and St. Maurice's, Winchester. He gave a special welcome to Miss Betty Edmonds, daughter of the Mayor of Winchester, who has recently made a start in ringing. Trowbridge tower was visited and as the bells were set going in rounds it seemed that something was wrong. After a while it dawned that although twelve ropes were being pulled only ten bells could be heard. We discovered later that this was due to an oversight on the part of the Rector, who omitted to inform the captain of the visit and the latter had consequently tied two trebles the night before for beginners. The two towers at Devizes—St. John's and St. Mary's—were visited before starting on the homeward journey.

WHAT IS A TRUE PEAL?

QUITE a number of ringers admit the soft impeachment that they have rung one or two, only one or two of course, perfect peals. Can their statements bear strict analysis? Most peal ringers can recall ringing hour after hour without word or incident, but are they quite sure that there was no little trill, a partially missed dodge, hurriedly covered up? Are they quite sure that every bell struck cleanly in its place throughout the peal? It would indeed be a bold man who would make such an assertion. Standards and opinions differ regarding bell ringing to an extent probably unknown in any other kind of performance. The writer recently was asked his opinion of a recording of some ringing. The ringers themselves were apparently very proud of it, but it was quite easy to pick out some 60 faults in 42 rows. Not only were the individual blows unevenly spaced, but there were at least nine actual clips. To the purist, one clip would invalidate the truth of a peal. With this premise, is it not almost a certainty that no true peal has ever been rung? Confronted with this probable truth, one has to ask oneself to what extent can a conductor allow faults and at the same time put his name to the report sent to 'The Ringing World'? Standards differ widely, as has been said. Further, one must allow for the band. What might be accepted in a modest peal of Grandsire with novices ringing could not be tolerated in a band capable of better things.

We are told that any error in the ringing must be corrected at once. Obviously, liberal interpretations are made of 'at once.' The very best type of conductor does literally correct a trip at once, so that the trip does not develop into what is variously known as a bend or a heap. Less able conductors can correct the ringing at the lead head following a trip, but is this good enough? The bells may have been astray for a minute or more. Can this be interpreted as 'at once'? The temptation is great when, after some hours of magnificent ringing, a trip develops into something worse, and the conductor gets the bells into their right places again, to count the performance as a peal. He is inclined to argue with himself that the good ringing has erased the bad, and that first-class ringing marred by only one trip is more nearly a true peal than a tripless but badly struck peal. We have heard the famous story of the ringer of a peal who struck only one clean blow in it, and that was when he missed the sally. One feels that there is something in the argument, but, again, how far can it be justified? Surely it is the luck of the game and should be accepted as such. Some years ago a West Country band rang 36 courses of Double Norwich in magnificent style. It was tripless and clipless, but at that point the second ringer inadvertently made seconds at the treble lead. The course end should have been 32456, but 2-3 struck together in seconds place. The conductor immediately cried 'Stand.' Endless were the arguments—'The bells didn't run round'; 'If the course end had been 42356, and a similar thing had happened, you would have let it pass.' The conductor's reply to this was to say that a peal should start from and end with rounds, and you can't risk having a suspicion that rounds had occurred between.

How far can a pair of bells be allowed to proceed after having changed course? The conductor who keeps his eye on the coursing order can usually prevent such a thing happening. The conductor who checks the bells at the course end and then finds two bells over should stop at once. True, they may have only just turned over. On the other hand, they may have been wrong for nearly a course.

Those peals which were rung at Caversham in the heyday of the band were peals without doubt, for the first trip brought the word 'Stand' from the conductor. That is the standard to aim at. But, in their anxiety to get another peal or another tower, ringers are inclined to overlook more and more, and the standard of peal ringing is deteriorating. Conductors like Pulling and Dexter would not tolerate a bad trip. Now there seems to be a spirit abroad inclined to treat peal ringing as a sport, and to score a peal at any cost. How many peal ringers can look through their list of performances and be entirely content with them? Don't they feel inclined to run a red pencil through some of them?

THAT EXTRA POSTAGE

Out of the 1,038 annual postal subscribers 287 have kindly sent the sum of 1s. 5d. or more to cover the increase in postage.
Is YOUR name amongst them?

Seven of the ringers who were present at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J.

Crocker took part in a quarter peal in honour of their silver wedding at Chertsey, Surrey, on July 31st, when 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung by J. Hunt 1, Mrs. J. Crocker 2, Miss Joan Crocker 3, D. Sleet 4, E. Butler 5, J. B.
Hessey 6, J. Crocker 7, T. Warden 8.

The Editorial Committee acknowledge another donation of £1 to meet the added cost of production, from an anonymous well-wisher.

Mr. H. W. Howard, of Davenham, North-wich, Cheshire, while on holiday at Cramhall, Glos, rang three peals with local ringers.

Cardynham (Cornwall) bells (8, tenor 14½ cwt.) are being rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

Congratulations were offered by ringing friends to Mr. W. C. Parker, steeplekeeper for over 50 years at St. Peter's, Staines, on Thursday last, on reaching his 85th birthday.

In connection with the peal at Lambeth on July 7th, the ringer of the sixth was William D. Grainger, and not Charles W. Ottley, as printed.

Will the ringer who submitted his list of 251
peals, the first being rung at Woodford, Essex, kindly submit his name and address. We do not publish anonymous peal lists.

The ringer of the eighth in the peal of Maxi-mus at Shrewsbury on July 28th was Brian Harris and not as printed in our issue of August 10th.

The quarter peal at Hereford on July 24th was an 86th birthday compliment to Harry Symonds, who has been steeplekeeper at the Cathedral Church since 1906. It is due chiefly to his care that the bells go as well as they do.
He climbs the many steps to the belfry twice every Sunday. The Diocesan Guild recently honoured him by making him a Freeman.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Featured in 'The Crewe Chronicle' recently were two belfry illustrations of ringers at Christ Church, Crewe, and St. Mary's, Sandbach. Writing about the Sandbach meeting, the reporter wrote: 'I came from the service with the conviction that I had witnessed an art which had remained unscarred by the passing of centuries and which to-day is as fascinating as ever.'

Re the handbell peal of Treble Ten at Stoke-on-Trent, will Mr. F. W. Grocott please forward the figures of this peal to E. R. Martin, 86, Hartington Road, Preston, who now has possession of Mr. Timbrell's peal book.

On August 4th, the Humphrey Perkins School
Campanological Society held its annual meeting at Syston. Over 30 ringers were present and 15 methods were rung from Doubles to Treble Bob Major.

Mr. T. Tucker, of Eastleigh, Hants, writes, in reply to Mr. W. J. Norton, that the picture of Great Paul was taken outside the old Plough Inn at Stony Stratford, Bucks, and not at Little Brickill.

At least one person was delighted to hear that Alan Brown and family had chosen Suffolk for their camping holiday. A greetings telegram, in Suffolk dialect, awaited them at Debenham.

Mr. Edward W. Colley, of Worthen, Shropshire, who took part in the peal of Plain Bob Major at St. John-the-Baptist's, Worcester, on July 28th, celebrated the 20th anniversary of his christening at this church, which occurred on July 28th, 1931.

After one month in Addenbrook's Hospital,
Cambridge, Mr. F. Warrington, of St. Ives, Hunts, is home again and hopes to be back in the belfry some time in September. He thanks all those who made life in hospital just that little bit more pleasant.

SAD STORY OF 'RESTORATION'

By W. A. FARMER

(By permission of the 'Shropshire Magazine')
AFTER the last conquest of England, William the Conqueror gave to Roger de Montgomery, one of his chief companions in arms, a large tract of land, of which what is now Shropshire was part.

Roger de Montgomery, at the end of a life of hardship and bloodshed, forsook the fierce ways of war and the frequent but no less dangerous skirmishes with his Welsh neighbours, and founded Shrewsbury Abbey.

Three days after entering it he died, but the Abbey, dedicated to St. Peter and St. Paul, grew in size and importance until at the Dissolution in 1552 it was ranked 34th in England. It is not clear how the order of precedence was decided, but it was probably on value, as these Abbeys were immensely wealthy.

Shrewsbury Abbey was a complete range of buildings, covering several acres, on a site originally occupied by a small church. As it was also used as a parish church it fulfilled a dual purpose, and for this reason it escaped complete destruction at the Dissolution.

TWO TOWERS—TWO RINGS

The tower of the present church was built in 1377, but there was also another large tower further to the east and it is known that in 1552 there was a ring of five bells in each.

This was unusual, but not unique, and in speculation as to the reasons for this, it should be remembered that mediæval religion had much of superstition, and that bells were thought to ward off the devil, and also rough winds.

No record remains of the smaller ring which was in the tower which has long since disappeared, but we do know that the largest of those in the church tower was a very big bell indeed. It weighed 34 cwt. 23 lb. and was famed for its fine sound. It was known as St. Winifred's Bell, after a lady whose bones were returned to the Abbey with much ceremony in 1136.

It seems that it was much used, and one record says that in 1570 two men were killed when the clapper fell out. Another record says two men and two women, but in any event it required four or five men to ring it.

When a ring of eight bells was installed in 1673, it was kept as a separate or bourdon bell, as is the case at Tong to-day. It was finally broken in ringing for the safe return of Mr. Corbet Kynaston from France in 1730, and sold to the famous bellfounder, Mr. Rudhall, of Gloucester, for £143.

The ring of eight bells cast and hung by Oldfield, Nottingham, included the metal from the four other bells from the tower, and three from St. Giles'. All have since been recast, several more than once. It should be noted that the tenor or heaviest bell, weighing 21 cwt., is to-day the oldest church bell in Shrewsbury, which has six complete rings. The inscriptions are:—

Treble, T. Mears, of London, Fecit 1825.

Second, ditto.

Third, J. Taylor and Co., Loughborough, 1884.

Fourth, H. Burton (Vicar), R. Bratton and R. Betton, C.W. (Churchwardens), Briant Hertford, Fecit 1812.

Fifth, C. and G. Mears (Founders), London. Come when I call to serve God, all. Recast 1846, Samuel Smith, William Parker (Wardens).

Sixth, Prosperity to the Church of England, A.R. 1745.

Seventh, Cast by Warner and Sons, London. Victoria. Cast 1877.

Purchased by public subscription raised by David Davies in lieu of old bell 1673. P. Whitcombe, B.A. (Vicar), H. Wade, T. Wilkes (Churchwardens). Tenor (21 cwt.). Religion and loyalty do make true harmony, A.R. 1713.

BELL 'NEWS'

As has been noted in connection with Market Drayton in a previous article, eight bells were the minimum for change ringing, but we can see, from quotations taken from the very complete churchwarden's records, that these bells were a very real part of the life of the parishioners.

The church stood for all authority and learning, when few could read and services were in Latin. The ringing of the bell or the whole peal always meant something, of lesser or greater importance.

Four Shrewsbury churches announced the death of a parishioner until recent times with the death knell at 10 p.m.; three score and ten tolled on the tenor, followed by nine for a child, nine plus ten for a woman, and a further eleven for a man. This was repeated the night before the funeral, again giving information to all.

RINGING FOR ELIZABETH

Quoting from records: '1565, Payd to the Clerke for the ryngers at Easter xij pence,' is followed by a note of ringing for the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth and in 1584 'for mending the Stock of the Illj Bell and for nayles for yt against the coming of L. of Leycester.' This was the famous Robert Dudley.

In 1607, 'Item to the Ringers ye 5 of Nov. 2s. 6d.' One wonders how much small beer was purchased with this half-crown, and how much ringing was done, when we read in 1678 'Paid for the ringing of the Sermon Bell the whole year 2s. 6d.' and that the following year the 'King came to town' and 3s. was paid for ringing on that occasion.

The eight bells were rung in the approved manner until the end of the last century. Apparently the only full peal of more than 5,000 changes, the accepted standard for a special performance, was in 1783 when the Union Society of Shrewsbury rang 5,120 changes of Treble Bob Major in 3 hours 39 minutes.

This Society was formed in 1714 to practise change ringing, and several peals are recorded in various churches in the town and county.

The peal took a long time, by present standards, and 'Treble Bob' is the name of a group of methods, but we may be reasonably sure that it was the method known as Oxford Treble Bob.

The ringers were: 1 Rob Lloyd, 2 Edn. Stanier, 3 Thomas Groves, 4 Jn. Hanley, 5 Jn. Fradgley, 6 Edn. Blakeney, 7 Philip Heath, 8 Jn. Harsthor. It was conducted by Philip Heath.

There was a band of ringers who practised, and also rang, during the last century, but no outstanding performances are recorded.

The only member of this band that it has been possible to trace is Mr. Edward Griffiths, of 17, Holywell Street, now in his 84th year. In addition to being a ringer, he was a musician of some note, and played in the old Volunteer Band for many years. He was also a member of the Shrewsbury Handbell Ringers.

During his ringing at the Abbey, the bells were rung from a dark and extremely noisy chamber immediately under the bells but it seems certain that they were originally rung either from the ground floor, or from an intermediate floor across the very fine West window. It is sad to relate that during the tower repairs of 1906 to 1909 the tower arch was found to be cracked, and the bells, although recorded as being rehung, in fact had the wheels removed and can now only be chimed, by a system of levers and hammers operated by one man. They sound quite pleasant but cannot be heard at any distance. A handsome clock, made by Joyce, of Whitchurch, also strikes on these bells.

Until the reconstruction of the London to Holyhead road by Telford, there was a series of buildings to the south of the tower, and the removal of these probably weakened it so that it is unwise to swing the bells in ringing.

It is possible suitably to strengthen it, of course, but an enlargement proposal for the building as a whole includes a new central tower where these bells may one day be removed and again be rung as they were in centuries now passed.

A DAY IN NORTH CORNWALL

In Little-Known Towers

On August Bank Holiday eleven members of the Truro Diocesan Guild had a trip into the prize-ringing area of North Cornwall. They comprised ringers from Camborne, Crantock, Kea, Kenwyn, St. Breock and also a member of the Salisbury Guild.

The first stop was St. Minver, which has an easy-going and good-toned six (tenor 10 cwt.). These bells were quite a discovery and are almost unknown to the ringers of Cornwall. They hang in a steeple which looks as if it had been brought down from Worcestershire, and is certainly unsuitable to our windy climate, for it has been blown crooked at the top.

The next tower was Endellion, a collegiate church with four prebends. The bells are a five in a major key to which a tenor of uncertain note has been added: they have no stays and are altogether deplorable, yet the B.B.C. has chosen them for broadcast on several occasions, which is strange, when Cornwall has so many lovely rings. However, a fund is being raised to recast them.

At St. Kew, the next tower visited, there is a lovely ring of six, which would be more lovely still if they saw the oilcan more frequently. Thence on through Camelford to Lesnewth, which is a most fascinating place and gives its name to the Hundred of Lesnewth. The church has been very badly treated, but the vandals spared the tower, which has a good light six if only the ropes were not single-ended. Although there are only two houses in the vicinity, these bells are rung for the one service every Sunday.

Across the valley from Lesnewth we could see the tower of St. Juliot seemingly only a few fields away, but it was very different by road, steep hills, bends and a water splash. St. Juliot is the only Guild tower we rang at during the day and here we were met by the captain, Mr. Biddick. From St. Juliot to King Arthur's Cafe at Tintagel for tea, but we couldn't ring at St. Arthur's Church, its exposed position had played havoc with the ropes and the new ones had not arrived.

So on to St. Teath, where we found that the treble had no stay, and there the worst ringing of the day took place. From there across the valley to St. Tudy, where the tenor weighs 15 cwt., and the tower sways so that you can see it moving where it joins the church. The bells are difficult to ring, perhaps owing to the swaying of the tower; it taxed all the strength of the member from Kea to raise the tenor, but if the ringing was not too good the fall was magnificent.

Our last tower was Egloskale, the only eight of the day. Here was a box which rattled when moved, but it did not contain beer, but jam jars for Easter decorations. Here we rang several good touches of Grandsire Triples, one of the local ringers remarking, 'We do not ring that sort of thing.'

Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman, Reverse Canterbury and Bob Doubles and Bob Minor. W. H. R. T.

TO AUSTRALIA!

Chester has lost two of its young enthusiasts by the departure of John and David Boutland for Australia on August 8th. John (age 16) had just reached the 'Cambridge' stage and had rung 12 peals. David (age 11) had only just learned to handle a bell and was getting into rounds and call-changes. I am sure, writes a Chester correspondent, that the whole Exercise will join with us in Chester in wishing them all the very best and in hoping that they may be able to help in the advancement of the art in Australia.

PEAL FOR CENTENARIAN

The peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at St. John-the-Baptist's, Newton-Nottage (the parish church of Porthcawl, Glam.) was in honour of the 100th birthday of Mrs. Elisabeth Parfitt, a chorister for 42 years. A four-page article featuring Mrs. Parfitt appeared in the magazine 'Illustrated' last May. These bells are rung from the ground floor with about 40 feet of rope below the guide holes and unless care is taken at each backstroke, the sally comes down anywhere except where expected. This, together with local preference for ringing with the tenor covering, was why Grandsire was rung.

40 YEARS AGO

From 'The Ringing World' of August 18th, 1911

ODD CHANGES

Only one peal has ever been rung on the lonely island of Lundy and that was conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson. The island has a rugged history and the controller of its destinies for the last half-century has been Mr. Heaven, who has been both king and priest. Mr. Heaven built the church and in it used to minister to the spiritual needs of the islanders. Lundy Island is in the diocese of Exeter, but separated from the mainland by a particularly choppy part of the Bristol Channel, which caused a late Low Church Bishop, who went to hold a Confirmation on the islet, to perpetrate the worst pun of an otherwise well-spent life. After a rough passage, in which he had thrown up everything but his bishopric, the unhappy prelate was heard to moan: 'I now believe that we must all pass through Purgatory to reach Heaven.'

* * * * *

Mr. John Carter's machine for change-ringing is rapidly approaching, even if it has not reached, perfection, and presently when we want a peal rung it will merely be necessary to press a button. . . . Recently one gentleman . . . brought with him a lead of a new Treble Bob method, which no one but himself had seen. It was put into the machine, which rang a course perfectly. This sort of thing fairly takes one's breath away and we are looking forward . . . to inspecting Mr. Carter's wonderful invention.

RINGERS IN 1851

Festival in Yorkshire Village

When the village of Letwell, South Yorkshire, put the clock back to 1851 for her Festival celebrations on Saturday, July 28th, four members of the Sheffield and District Society of Change Ringers and six youngsters from Wickersley Modern School rang changes and tunes on handbells at various intervals during the afternoon and evening.

As the village church has only one bell, a large set of handbells was rung in the main street as Lady Scarbrough concluded her opening speech, and officially put the clock back to 1851. Whilst the conductor muttered exhortations to 'Strike 'em hard,' and one ringer almost broke his collarbone through over-pulling at the handstroke, an 1851-style coach and horses headed the procession through the village street, made prettier than ever by the colourful decorations.

Amongst the various following activities such as 'slashing the ham,' country dancing, etc., the highlights of the day were, without doubt, the 'elopement' of the Rector's daughter on horseback, (hotly pursued by an 'angry' father upon an ancient cycle), and the various items provided by the handbell ringers in the Rectory gardens, in the street and at tea.

All those taking part in the proceedings were attired in 1851 costume and as one ringer shrewdly remarked, 'There were some grand bits of stuff about in 1851.'

Needless to say one of the ringers soon found that the 'ale tent' was open at 5 p.m. and wisely kept the knowledge to himself until his eagerness to fetch 'pop' for the young ladies from 'a place up the road' aroused suspicion and the awful truth came to light!

The ringing provided a great deal of interest and enjoyment to hundreds who attended from surrounding villages and the performers were given hearty applause and finally thanked by the Rector who invited their assistance at the celebrations. One fellow-Yorkshireman did appear to think us a little 'batty' when he discovered it was all done for 'nowt' apart from the enjoyment derived.

UNORTHODOX PERFORMANCES

Dear Sir,—I notice among the peal columns of 'The Ringing World' of August 3rd, three performances which ought to be classed as unorthodox performances.

I refer to two peals of Grandsire Doubles rung at Nuneaton. In both cases the peal is not a multiple of 120, as decided by the Central Council at Chester, and the third instance is the peal of Minor rung at Halsall which contains an extent of Woodbine Treble Bob, a method with their irregular lead ends.

Since these performances do not comply with Central Council Decisions they should be dealt with in the same way as the recent performance at Exeter and be described as 'unorthodox performances.'—Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS.

Altrincham.

RULES AND DECISIONS

Dear Sir,—I regret the necessity of having to point out the fact that the following, published as peals, cannot be accepted as such by the Peals Analysis Committee:—

TOWER BELLS

Minor, at Great Easton, Essex, February 10th, 1951; 'Ringing World,' page 133.

Minor, at Halsall, Lancashire, March 6th, 1951; 'Ringing World,' page 182.

Minor, at Halsall, Lancashire, July 15th, 1951; 'Ringing World,' page 485.

Each containing Woodbine Treble Bob.

HANDBELLS

(a) Grandsire Doubles at Nuneaton, Warwickshire, May 30th, 1951; 'Ringing World,' page 486.

(b) Grandsire Doubles at Nuneaton, Warwickshire, June 13th, 1951; 'Ringing World,' page 486.

(a) Addition of touch of 40 changes.

(b) Addition of touch of 20 changes.

These are contrary to the Decisions of the Council, which are agreed to by the Associations concerned.

W. AYRE,

For the Peals Analysis Committee.

DOUBLES METHODS

Dear Sir,—I should like to support Mr. J. Davey in his protest, contained in a letter recently printed in 'The Ringing World,' against the decision of the Methods Committee that all methods with only one hunt should have a four-lead course. Such a rule would ban not only the methods mentioned by Mr. Davey, but also Reading, Raveningham Slow Course, Swanton, a new method by Mr. E. W. Tipler provisionally named Rugby, and probably others.

All these are separate and distinct methods and not merely well-known methods with different bobs and singles. They contain no objectionable features such as three consecutive blows in one place, and, if they are to be barred, the number of methods available to five-bell ringers, very limited in any case, will be still further restricted, and interest, correspondingly reduced.

Personally, I cannot see any real objection to such methods or any good reason for the decision in question.

Reading and St. Dunstan's are given in the Central Council's Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods and were, presumably, approved by the compilers of that collection, the late Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, Mr. E. C. S. Turner and the late Mr. S. H. Wood, men of the highest eminence in ringing matters in general and method construction in particular.

—Yours truly,

G. A. PECK.

Rugby.

RINGING IN SCOTLAND

Dear Sir,—I have been interested to read Mrs. Wall's letter of advice to visiting ringers and especially to those coming to Scotland. The advice seems to me to be simple, straightforward and obviously sound commonsense—surely the canons of good advice—and yet it is a pity that your correspondent did not follow it herself.

If a few more facts of her disappointment are known it might show whether she is one of the wise or foolish virgins. She is, on her own testimony, a Surprise ringer in preference to anything so mundane as Grandsire, so one may probably suppose that she has at least heard of Dove's 'Ringing Guide' and that she both reads as well as writes to 'The Ringing World,' which, from time to time, carries news of the activities of all the Scottish change-ringing towers.

Yet on the Sunday morning in question she went to ring at the High Kirke of St. Giles, whose claim to bell fame lies in the fact that from 1692-1890 there was a carillon of 23 local bells, sounding so hideous that the Corporation of the city were forced to sell them and stop the noise, and since then the tower has been devoid of ringing bells. By the time she had found out her mistake and gone elsewhere, twenty minutes of the ringing time had gone by and it was not unnaturally assumed that a person coming in time for service only could be none other than an interested visiting worshipper taking the opportunity of seeing ringing in action—a common occurrence here, as I understand that there were in the self-same tower on a recent Sunday, two visitors from the States and two from Manchester who had never seen 'ringing' before, and went away thrilled—and not so experienced a ringer as the lady in question turned out to be.

The citizens of Edinburgh and of Glasgow cannot be expected to have accurate information of ringing conditions in their cities when, for example, there are well over 200 churches in Edinburgh with a population of half a million.

My only reason for writing to you, sir, is to dispel any doubts that may have arisen in your readers' minds regarding the welcome they would receive in the North, and I can truthfully say, what I know will be borne out by other ringing visitors to Scotland, that the welcome in Scotland awaiting the visiting ringer is no less than in any part of England, Wales or Ireland.

Both the local tower secretaries and myself will be glad to give information and a warm personal welcome to any ringers who care to get in touch with us.—Yours faithfully,

ROGNVALD ST. C. WILSON, Sec.,
The Scottish Association of Change Ringers.

THE BROTHERS WARD

Dear Sir,—The footnote to the peal rung at Drighlington on Saturday, July 21st, and published in last week's issue of 'The Ringing World,' should read—In memoriam Harry Ward, of Pudsey, and not Samuel Ward.

Happily enough, Samuel Ward is still with us, although he has not taken any active part in ringing for some time now because of his inability to climb the tower steps and I would like you to make this known, as Sam was a very active and well-known ringer in the West Riding of Yorkshire. I am sure that many of his old friends will be distressed on reading this premature intimation of his death.

Harry and Sam were brothers, both were members of the original band of Surprise ringers taught at Pudsey by the late Mr. Pratt Cordingley; I think Mr. Morris must have been confused between the two when he sent the report of the peal for publication.—Yours faithfully,

W. BARTON.

Pudsey, Yorks.

ST. WITHBURGA OR ST. WITHIBURGA?

Dear Sir,—May I call your attention to a misprint which reappears amongst the peal columns whenever a peal is reported from St. Withburga's, Holkham, Norfolk.

Suspecting this to be the case, I made certain of the spelling when reporting the peal of Minor published in the issue of August 3rd, but once again it appear 'St. Withiburga'; the correct spelling has only one 'i.'

As a point of interest to readers, 'Withburga' was the youngest daughter of 'Annas,' King of East Anglia. She died A.D. 654 and was interred in the churchyard of Dereham Parish Church.

The Abbot and monks of Ely Cathedral stole her remains and they were re-interred near those of her royal sisters at Ely in A.D. 974. The ruins of her original tomb are still to be found at the west end of the churchyard at Dereham.—Yours sincerely, Beetley, Norfolk.

S. MARSHALL.

NOTE.—Crockford's Clerical Directory, the standard work, gives the dedication of the church as St. Withburga. Will readers with other evidence to the contrary please write.—Ed.

THE MUSIC OF THE BELLS

Dear Sir,—Re the book on 'Change Ringing' by Rev. C. A. W. Troyle (whose son was a near neighbour of mine when at Washfield, Devon, viz., Sir Gilbert Troyte, M.P. for Tiverton, and whom I often met at Huntsham), it is mentioned on page 93 that pretty music may be heard at particular changes, such as Tittums, Queen's, etc. (15263748—13572468). These are frequently mentioned in chapter viii., on Grandsire Triples. Could any of your peal composers tell us of any touch which brings out the Dick Whittington change 12753468? Such music would prevent much criticism if the bells are well struck and made to go like a dulcimer. The above change is almost obtained in touch 840, page 102.—Yours faithfully,

J. M. TURNER,

Late President of N.E. Devon Guild.
Moulton, Northants.

A BROADCAST IN A HURRY

Dear Sir,—Re Broadcast Ringing from St. Michael's, Bray-on-Thames, I would like to send thanks, through 'The Ringing World,' for the co-operation I had from the members of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Guild, as many of my ringers, including the Vicar, were away on holiday, and I had to send out an S.O.S. at short notice through Mr. E. Gosling.

Those taking part were:—H. Winsgrove (Beaconsfield) 1, G. Martin (Boyne Hill) 2, W. Judd (Boye Hill) 3, T. Goodchild (Boyne Hill) 4, T. J. Fowler (Cookham) 5, J. Eldridge (Boyne Hill) 6, F. J. Russell (Bray) 7, J. Norsworthy (Bray) 8. Again, many thanks.

F. J. RUSSELL.

Ringing Master, Bray-on-Thames.

PEAL WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—I wish to withdraw the peal of 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Combe Martin, Devonshire, on July 26th, 1950, as, unfortunately, I have discovered the composition to be false. May I express my apologies to all concerned.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM A. THEOBALD.

Holloway, N.7.

STOPPING TIME FOR RINGING

Dear Sir,—Could any ringer please tell me if there is any statute of this country which concerns the time of stoppage of bellringing on a practice night?—Yours sincerely,

B. PATTISON.

51, Winchester Road, Bedford.

A BIRTHDAY TOUCH

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of July 21st, last year, I mentioned a makeshift touch of Grandsire Triples which had been rung for the 72nd birthdays of two of our band, and asked if someone would supply a touch of 73 in some method for their birthdays this year.

Although I thought this hardly possible, Mr. Chambers, of Durban, kindly sent a very ingenious touch of Stedman Triples, which appeared in 'The Ringing World' on September 22nd, for which I was extremely grateful and wish to thank him.

The birthdays have come and gone and we rang the touch several times, both 73-year-olds taking part.

As the touch begins with a quick six and the bells go off with the first two changes of Plain Bob Triples, it struck me that if some knowledgeable ringer had been in the vicinity, and after noticing this, found that Stedman was being rung, he might have been puzzled.

We were not fortunate enough to have any such investigator.—Yours faithfully,

A. GROPER.

South Wales.

'BELLRINGERS' GUIDE'

Dear Sir,—Now that Mr. Fletcher's official quotation from the Literature Committee's report has put the matter beyond all doubt, it is due from me to apologise to you and to all concerned for my lapse of memory. I had completely forgotten that in 1950 we included in our report the notice of the 'Bellringers' Guide.'

On another point, Mr. Corrigan's letter on 'Clergy and Initials' calls timely attention to a solecism only too general among journalists to-day. At least one initial ought to appear before the surname.—Yours faithfully,

F. LL. EDWARDS.

Kington Magna Rectory.

INFLUENCED BY 'NINE TAILORS'

Capt. E. G. Dickens, R.A. (ret.), hon secretary and steeplekeeper of St. John's, Rammoor, Sheffield, informs us that two of his young ringers were stirred by the story of the 'Nine Tailors' to join the band. They are Sheila Maule (16) and Gillian Beddingfield (17). Capt. Dickens hopes that the influence of 'Nine Tailors' will attract other young ringers to his tower.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

War Memorial Dedicated

On Saturday, July 28th, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese (Dr. Tom Longworth) dedicated the Guild's War Memorial in the ringing chamber of All Saints', Hereford.

After the First World War the tenor bell was recast as a memorial to those who had died, and a board containing their names was hung in the tower. It was a right choice, therefore, that the memorial to those who gave their lives in the Second World War should be in the same place. The names carved on the new board have already appeared in 'The Ringing World' in connection with the Central Council's Roll of Honour.

Before the actual dedication the Guild Office was sung in church. The general secretary (the Rev. E. G. Benson) took the service, and the Vicar (Preb. S. G. Chance) assisted him. The dedication was made in the presence of the clergy, the Master of the Guild (Mr. Leslie Evans), the captain of the tower (Mr. Leslie Quartermain) and relatives of those who had fallen.

The bells at the Cathedral and St. Nicholas' Church were rung during the afternoon and those at All Saints' after the service.

CYCLING IN RUTLAND

A Leicester Excursion

On July 28th 16 members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild set out on a cycling tour through Rutland. In spite of the heavy downpour of rain during the first half of the morning, spirits were not dampened.

Our first tower was Somerby and here the delightful six bells, rung from the front of the chancel, were kept going for three-quarters of an hour. Six miles further on we rang at Langham (6) in pleasant surroundings of the Rutland countryside. We had lunch here and then cycled on to Oakham (8, tenor 24 cwt.). This tower appeared to be the highlight of the day, as we spent two hours ringing in the beautiful fifteenth century church.

Early evening ringing took place at Uppingham (8), which was a surprise to most of the party, as permission was gained from the Vicar en route. At Belton, our last tower, the bells were rung to a variety of methods for about an hour. After a little light refreshment, we continued our homeward journey. Arriving back at 10 p.m. we were somewhat tired, having covered approximately 60 miles, but everyone agreed it had been a most enjoyable day.

Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Triples, Plain Bob and Cambridge Minor and Major, Little Bob and Double Court Minor, Yorkshire and Double Norwich Major.

Our thanks are due to the incumbents for the use of the bells, and to the tower masters who opened the towers for our pleasure.

Rung at Hampton on July 5th.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Dorchester Branch

A by-meeting was held at Milton Abbey on Thursday, July 26th. Attendance was larger than at the by-meeting last year and towers represented were:—St. Peter's, Dorchester, East Lulworth, Milton Abbey, Wyke Regis, Wool and Yetminster. Visitors were present from Beaminster, Gloucester and Tunbridge Wells. The bells were rung prior to the service, which was held at 4 p.m. and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. C. J. Collis. The Lesson was read by the Rev. A. F. Godley.

Tea was served at the Dale Cafe and apologies for absence were received from the chairman, Canon A. W. Markby, and hon. secretary, Mr. J. H. Hayne. A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. F. Precey, seconded by the Rev. R. P. Farrer. Ringing was resumed until 8.30 p.m.

OBITUARY

Mr. JOHN I. HAIRS

The death took place on August 9th of Mr. John I. Hairs, of Morden, who was for many years a ringer at St. Mary's (R.C.), Clapham. Mr. Hairs, who was 90 in January last, was not himself a well-known ringer, but his son, Mr. Frank I. Hairs, is, of course, a prominent figure in the Exercise and a member of the Editorial Committee of this journal.

The funeral took place last Tuesday.

BEVERLEY &amp; DISTRICT SOCIETY

Mr. A. E. Sellers New President

The Society held its annual meeting at Huton Cranswick on July 14th. The attendance was below average, only 35 members being present.

The meeting coincided with the local Festival Week and the ringing had been advertised as the opening event. It was also the first anniversary of the dedication of the bells, the meeting making it a 'triple' event.

The ring of six (tenor 18½ cwt.) was rung in the standard methods Spliced Treble Bob, Little Bob and Cambridge.

The Rev. G. Storer, R.D., conducted the service and prefaced his address with a welcome to the ringers. In summing up the first year of ringing in his church, the Vicar thanked his learners and instructors for ringing for all services throughout the year, for perpetuating a very ancient art in the church, for not being too proud to admit, and learn from, mistakes. His only disappointment was that his health would not allow him to take a hand in the ringing.

Mr. F. Wilkinson read the Lesson.

The tea was held in the Church Room followed by the business meeting.

Three new members were elected from the local tower, the first of a newly-formed band.

At the election of officers, Mr. A. E. Sellers was elected president vice Mr. G. F. Williams. All other officers with the Committee were re-elected en bloc. In view of his past service to the Society, and in order to retain his vast knowledge of ringing for future use, Mr. Williams was asked to accept office as a vice-president.

The Rev. G. Storer and Mr. A. E. Sellers thanked Mr. Williams for his work in guiding the Society through the early years of its existence.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

South and West District

As if to prove that 'mad dogs and Englishmen work in the midday sun,' over 50 ringers came to the South and West District meeting on the hottest day of the year so far, July 28th. Many came from far afield to hear and ring on Sunbury and Hampton bells.

During the afternoon, the lovely-sounding bells of St. Mary's, Sunbury, were put to good use in various methods up to London. The striking was remarkably good considering the oven-like atmosphere in the ringing chamber.

After tea the newly retuned octave at Hampton was set going to many methods up to Spliced Surprise. A course of Bristol gave the best striking of the day. Between ringing, many ringers found it cooler by the riverside or out on the church roof.

The next meeting is to be at Hillingdon West and Uxbridge on August 25th, which, it is hoped, will be equally well attended. Visitors to London can easily reach Uxbridge by tube train.

WINCHESTER &amp; PORTSMOUTH

Combined Christchurch and Southampton Branch Meeting

The Christchurch and Southampton Branches of the Guild combined on August Monday with a meeting in the Lymington area. Ringing took place in the morning at Milford-on-Sea, in the afternoon at Lymington and in the evening at Lyndhurst. A few also visited the light six at Brockenhurst in the evening.

Despite the rain a fair number of ringers attended, the number for tea at Lymington being 25. Visitors present during the day included ringers from Leicester, Leamington, London and Betchworth. Methods ranged from Grandsire Triples to Yorkshire Surprise Major. Thanks for the use of their bells are due to the incumbents at the various churches where ringing took place.

A GLIMPSE OF THE FUTURE

F. E. H. IN LIGHTER VEIN

AS I dozed in the easy chair last Sunday afternoon, I seemed to see still before my eyes the front page of 'The Ringing World' which I had been reading a few minutes previously. But on closer inspection I noticed that the issue was dated July 26th, 1961, with the heading 'More Remarkable Performances.' I read on, as follows:—

This week we have pleasure in bringing to the notice of the Exercise two remarkable performances that will undoubtedly excite the admiration of all but those old-fashioned die-hards who still adhere to the out-of-date decisions of the Central Council of ten years ago. (Our readers may remember that in those days it was the rule for the bells to be rung by the same person or persons throughout a performance . . . or, as it was then styled, a peal. Two such 'peals' will be found in small type on the back page.)

'CIRCLED THE THEATRE'

The first performance we must mention is unique in that for the first time in history one man has rung every bell in one performance and has thus 'circled the theatre' at his first appearance at the tower concerned. It was at Upper Basham on Saturday, July 13th, 1961, that 5,004 Changes of Lazyman's Delight Minor were rung by the following:—

A. Ringer, R. E. Leaf, Treble;
Miss N. O. T. Strong, R. E. Leaf, 2;
S. T. Ringer, R. E. Leaf, 3;
A. Rester, R. E. Leaf, 4;
Y. Pullett, R. E. Leaf, 5;
H. A. D. Enough, R. E. Leaf, Tenor:

Conducted by H. A. D. Enough and R. E. Leaf. This performance occupied exactly three hours in all, and Mr. Leaf, as previously arranged, entered the ringing theatre with refreshments after an hour and a half. He then rang each of the front five bells in turn for approximately five minutes while the Ringer brothers, Messrs. Rester and Pullett and Miss Strong refreshed themselves. By this time, as Mr. H. A. D. Enough discovered after handing over the tenor, which, incidentally was not going particularly well that afternoon, the tea was cold, so he adjourned to the nearby cafe, leaving on the floor a copy of the last two '720's.' and Mr. Leaf on the tenor box to carry on as best he could. It says much for the endurance and resource of Mr. Leaf, who is somewhat short-sighted, that he was able to ring the tenor for the remaining hour or so and call the necessary bobs, not forgetting an occasional single at approximately the correct places.

EXETER SUPERSEDED

The second performance is even more remarkable; it not only supersedes the 'heaviest eight-bell' performance at Exeter in 1951, but also establishes a new record for the number of performers appearing at one performance! Moreover, as will be seen from the following account, other very exceptional circumstances are associated with it.

On Saturday July 20th, 1961, 5,040 changes of Grandsire Triples were rung on the back eight at Waterpool Cathedral in 4 hours 45 minutes:—

T. O. O. Clever, A. Helper, Treble (82 cwt.);
T. O. O. Clever?
Miss S. Ingle, T. Akeover, Mrs. Wedd, 3;
T. O. B. Wedd, L. Fndahand, 4;
B. Estman, A. S. Sistant, 5;
D. E. Cease (conductor) 6;
O. B. Quick, G. O. Slow 7;
Peter Gurney, Peter Davy, Jan Stewer, Billy Brewer, Tom Cobligh, Tenor.

For the following notes we are indebted to Mr. V. Erger, who was in the ringing theatre for the whole of the performance and was of great assistance in seeing that the 'changeovers' were made without confusion. Also, as is now customary where space allows, an audience witnessed the performance, on this occasion numbering about 30.

Mr. Clever thought he could ring 1-2 to this performance, but after 20 minutes missed the treble sally; whereupon Mr. Helper, who had been on the look-out for any such emergency, at once dashed over and successfully got the bell under control once more and completed the performance thereon. Mr. Clever thus had to be content to ring only the second for the remaining 4 hours and 25 minutes. Although such 'solo' performances are no longer regarded as being in quite the best taste, we feel sure that our readers will join with us in our congratulations to Mr. Clever as indeed they would have liked to do to the ringer of the sixth also. Unfortunately, this was not only the first, but positively the last, performance by Mr. Cease at this or any other ringing theatre in the country. We understand that he was so excited at the success of his performance that he fell down the steps on leaving the theatre receiving injuries from which he died on Sunday!

MARRIED DURING PEAL

Great praise also will be given to Miss Ingle and Mr. Wedd; they are the first performers to appear in one and the same performance first as an engaged couple and then as a married couple. At the end of one hour they were relieved on 3 and 4 by Messrs. Akeover and Endahand, returning to resume their places an hour later after being married at another church in the neighbourhood. They were, of course, accompanied by Mr. Estman. The latter, however, did not return to complete the performance, preferring, somewhat surprisingly, to take one of the bridesmaids to the pictures!

With the exception of Mr. Clever's misfortune, the whole performance went very smoothly, apart from one incident when a member of the audience in one of the fauteuils behind the tenor box said something in a loud voice to a friend whose name was Bob. Luckily the treble was in sixths place at the time and the only unfortunate result was a momentary hesitation on the part of the bell in the hunt, quickly rectified, however, by Mr. Clever's shout of 'No bob, and you at the back, keep quiet!' We need hardly say that this illustrates once more how important it is for spectators to remain silent until the end of the performance. Otherwise it might become necessary to revert to the anti-social practice of 'peal-ringing' days, when the performers locked themselves away and allowed nobody to approach until the ringing was completed.

We understand that the quality of the performance was first-class, apart from some variation of tempo at the beginning. This was probably due to the differing styles of the two men on the seventh, but it was not long before Mr. Quick realised that Mr. Slow (at the tail-end) was too strong for him and gracefully allowed the performance to proceed at the pace desired by the latter.

The band wish particularly to thank our friends from Widdicombe who shared the tenor after being selected by ballot from over 400 applications for the part. Incidentally, Mr. Clever appeared by arrangement with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Messrs. Brewer, Stewer, etc., by permission of Mr. Jack Hylton. Asked for a comment by the local press afterwards, Mr. Cobligh said of the tenor (the heaviest in the country): 'She went like a Cathedral; I believe three men could have rung her by themselves.'

STARTING CONDUCTING!

In response to a request from East Anglia, we reproduce the following article for beginners from the July issue of 'The Belfry,' the quarterly magazine of the Maidstone District of the Kent County Association.

In the last article for beginners, it was suggested that they should endeavour to conduct touches in the method which they can ring. It is hoped that the following will be of assistance to them.

Many touches, extents and even peals may be had in which one bell is either undisturbed or very little disturbed from its plain course work by any calls made. This bell, frequently called the observation bell, is the one which the beginner is advised to ring during the early attempts at conducting. This will give more time to concentrate on the calling and enable an eye to be kept on those bells affected by the call.

Start with short, simple touches of Doubles and Minor, then, when some experience has been gained, proceed to longer touches, afterwards going on to Triples and Major.

All six-scores of Grandsire Doubles use either the 3rd or 5th as observation, and the observation bell never dodges in 4-5 down, its work consisting of making thirds and double-dodging in 4-5 up with the bell leaving the hunt at the call. The call must be made when the treble is in 3rds place on the way down to lead, the observation bell then being in 4ths place hunting up. The simplest six-scores are those two parts consisting of two Bobs and one Single, repeated, a plain lead being between each call. If 5th is observation, the first lead will be plain, if 3rd, then a call must be made at the first lead.

In Minor methods many touches and 720's can be had using the tenor as observation, the tenor in these cases merely ringing the full work of a plain course throughout. For seconds place Minor methods (i.e., methods in which, in the plain course, 2nds place is made while the treble leads, such as Bob Minor), the tenor can be called Wrong, Right, Wrong and Right to give 120. These terms mean that the tenor is dodging.

Wrong — i.e., 5-6 up.
Right — i.e., 5-6 down, and the call is made a half-pull before the dodge.

It is excellent practice to write out short touches in full in the early stages, and examine the effect of the calls on the other bells. By these means, the graduation from a bob-caller to a conductor is assisted.

Having studied the touches and memorised the calling, get your tower captain to let you try them out on practice night. Do not worry if at first you miss a call, remember practice and patience are needed. Peals are sometimes lost by good conductors missing a call.

When you have mastered short touches ringing the observation bell, try them from another position. You will find this more difficult at first, as you must watch for the observation bell being in its correct position when you make the call, while your own work will vary with the call.

Now, in the words of a famous broadcaster, 'Have a Go!' There are not so many conductors that we cannot do with more in the Exercise. Never hesitate to ask questions of other conductors. You will find them ready to help at any time, and will be able to give you invaluable advice. G. F. C.

STORY OF A GREAT RINGING CAREER

DIARY OF THE LATE MR. W. H. FUSSELL—21

Edited by ERNEST MORRIS

Mr. Fussell went home to Slough for Christmas and New Year (1888-9) and records going to Isleworth for a peal (Grandsire Triples) which failed, this being his fourth visit there for this peal. At the same time he sent in his uniform and resignation to Sergt. Smith, of the Rifle Volunteers, as a member of the 5th Co., 1st Bucks, R.V. At the week-end he left for Colwall where he started again on his tours of instruction in Herefordshire.

He mentions many towers around where he mostly walked to, and where he distributed books on ringing, copies of the 'Bell News,' and gave help with handbells as well as tower bells. About this time he walked to Ledbury, 'thick, foggy, cold day,' and thence by train to Gloucester. After a look around the town he walked to Painswick—six miles out—and there attempted Hollis's 5-part peal Grandsire Triples but failed after 2 hours 22 minutes, Sevier missing a bob and setting up. 'Very cold wind and snow on the hills which are very bleak.'

At one church he visited he says: 'Called on Vicar [he did this always], an old man with a young wife, very mean and odd.' Here he rang with the 'old company of ringers, six-scores, very badly struck—young hands also came and an attempt to unite them did not seem to be approved of—about two dozen men in the tower, some friends of the old hands came sneaking in and spitting about.'

Mrs. Fussell worked very hard with local bands and a typical instance is recorded thus:—'Stayed at the "New Inn" all the week till Saturday morning. Rang at the church each night with local men, couldn't push them on very quick in the method.'

16 QUARTS A NIGHT

While at Bosbury he 'called on Mr. Jennings (age 83 next March) who was a ringer about 60 years ago when the local men only rang rounds but later managed the 30's. [This would be about 1830.] A stone jar which they used for refreshment held 16 quarts and was emptied on a night's ringing. He remembers the old wooden spire, two yards out of upright—pulled down for safety—it leaned towards "The Bell."

'Stayed at Wittington all the week, rang each night 7 to 9.30—good muster of men. Monday, saw bells and place where York, the bellhanger met his accident in 5th pit. John Edwards (82½ years old) buried. Not very good progress by these men—tried 60 with three bobs. A brother of Mrs. Haves staying in the same house, slightly "touched" and not worked for three years past; a heavy smoker. My landlord has been busy all week making a coffin for Mr. Edwards. Snow very deep till Wednesday night. Church cold to ring at. Wrote out three large sheets of rules, plain course and 120 for the ringers to study.' Such was the way Mr. Fussell spent months of his time at this period.

For New Year's Eve, 1889-1890, ringing, Mr. Fussell was at Mathon—the local men just arriving from summer provided by the Vicar—his two sons present and taking part in the ringing. He writes: 'The Mathon men too fond of talking when calling or ringing Minor and ring too quickly to strike well.' They left the belfry at 1.40 a.m. the bells fell in firing.

THE RECTORY CELLAR

'The Vicar's sons took us down the Rectory cellar and there a quantity of ale and a bottle of wine was drunk and some tales told till 3 a.m. On leaving, a rough dance all round was held in front of the lych gate of churchyard, Mr. King playing a concertina. Home at 4 a.m. Two friends coming sat up till 7, and at last I got to bed where I stayed till 12.30 the same morning. After dinner, packed up things and paid Mrs. King £2 and started for Codrington at 5.30—reached church at 7 a.m. and rang till 7.30. Stayed to service. Rang Doubles before and Bob Minor after a splendid 720 called by Jas. Thomas. Went to schoolroom and rang handbells till 10.30. Weather cold and frosty—walked to Coombe Hill, where I stayed at Mrs. Kendrick's.'

As usual, while here he went around the various villages teaching young hands and encouraging old hands in the art. His diary is full of accounts and many 'side-lights' too. Here is a typical entry: 'Went to Eastnor. Had a look round the Castle and grounds and the church. Rector old and partly blind; just buried his wife. Parish people nearly all temperance. Pretty church, inside and out; belfry very nice, light, good ring of six, and go well. Rang 6.30 till 9.' About this time he walked to Bosbury and joined in the ringers' supper at schools. 'Fourteen there and staid till 12.30; cards, dominoes, draughts, bagatelle games. Handbells, violin and accordion music—many friends and others came in and danced and played—a regular country style of happiness. Staid at Mr. Brown's, miller, very nice people who gave me bed and board (two daughters only).'

'A REET GRADELY DO'

Crewe Ringers in Lancashire

The ringers and wives of friends of Christ Church, Crewe, sampled a bit of ringing in Lancashire for their annual outing on August 4th. Mr. E. J. (Ted) Walker, Dover, who was stationed at Crewe, and rang there after the 'ban,' again joined the party. The motor-coach driver, George Porter (Wistaston), is also a member of the Crewe Branch.

The first tower of the day was St. Paul's, Walkden (8), where we were met by yet another member of the Crewe Branch, 'Joe' Bowyer (a Dabber, and proud of it); he is now residing and ringing at Walkden, is always smiling and it is infectious. The bells are quite a good ring and some good touches were rung, two of the local ladies joining in. After light refreshments, which were very acceptable, off we went to Leyland (St. Andrew's, 10). Coming from a ten-bell tower, it was like being at home and some good Caters and Royal were rung.

On leaving the church we spoke to an old gentleman sitting in his garden immediately under the tower and asked him if the ringing was ever a nuisance. He said it often depended on what kind of a humour one was in, but he had enjoyed the morning's ringing.

We journeyed on to Ormskirk (SS. Peter and Paul's, 8): up the cobbled street to the unusual sight of a massive squat tower with a spire adjoining, as if to keep the tower company. (I believe there are only two other examples in the country.) After a substantial lunch at Dorset's Cafe, Mr. Pilkinton, a stalwart of Lancashire ringing, took us up to the well-appointed belfry, with its trim green sallows, to a lovely ring. It was here the best ringing of the day took place: one felt one had to give of one's best. The last tower was in the beautiful Lancashire resort of Southport. Emmanuel (8) is a modern church possessing a good musical ring; the neighbours are not very appreciative. Mr. Norman Heaps met us and we were joined by two ringers from the Northwich Branch, where some of 'the intellectuals' had full fling. After a magnificent view from the top, we adjourned to the Queen's

MARHAMCHURCH, CORNWALL

The ringing year at Marhamchurch is calculated from August Bank Holiday to August Bank Holiday. The annual outing was again successfully held on Monday, August 6th. Is it popular? A few days before the trip one coach had to be cancelled and a larger one obtained to accommodate all friends who wished to join the party.

In his Sunday notices the Rector, who accompanied the party, announced the time of departure as 7.45 a.m. That probably explained why the party left according to schedule at eight o'clock. Devon and Cornwall are visited in alternate years and this year it was Devon's turn. Dartmoor was shrouded in early morning mist and low black cloud but this did not prevent a punctual arrival at Moretonhampstead (8) to the surprise of the local captain (with key) who did not meet us but had to be sought. Good ringing followed while friends enjoyed morning coffee.

The distance to Bovey Tracey is not great but the road is narrow and a coach driver needs to be an expert judge of width to cover the distance intact. Our next tower was at Wolborough, Newton Abbot (8). Here, unknown until arrival, we rang for a wedding. An usher who did not realise we were a touring band, but who appreciated our efforts, thrust a sum of money into our captain's hands, which he declined.

At Totnes (8) we again caused surprise by being on time. Asked if we were 'method' or 'call change' ringers we did not commit ourselves but rang both!

The afternoon was spent at Dartmouth. Ringing took place at St. Saviour's (8), where our numbers were depleted as some members decided to 'go down to the sea in rowing boats.' Tea at the Criterion Cafe was well served.

At one point on the journey to Plymouth we had to get out to help the coach over a bridge with a very sharp arch. The driver feared that the front of the coach would get over, the middle would pivot with the bridge as fulcrum and the back wheels would remain spinning in mid-air. However, the obstacle was overcome with nothing more than a slight grating noise as the bottom of the coach touched the 'summit' of the bridge.

Our final ringing took place at Yealmpton (6), where the learners were allowed to demonstrate their ability and, to their credit, it was difficult to distinguish between learner and 'old hand.' Here the tower walls were covered with certificates obtained in Devonshire Association competition ringing. The man who met us told us that it was the first time that he had heard 'scientific' on the bells—(though we don't claim this as a record).

A break at Plymouth, refreshment at Launceston and a pleasant ride (what a fine voice the Rector has in competition with a coach engine) brought us home to bed.

Ringling was of a high standard throughout the day. Wolborough was the 'pick of the bunch' for 'go' and Totnes for quality. We regret Mr. F. Sangwin was unable to be with us due to illness.

Thanks for arrangements must be accorded to R. J. Hicks (captain), A. Ham (vice-captain) and F. Fry (secretary). A. J. H.

Hotel and after a substantial dinner time from 7.30 was our own.

Leaving for home at 10.15 via Liverpool and the Mersey Tunnel, Crewe was reached after midnight. Our grateful thanks to all who helped to make the outing so enjoyable. Just two for special mention—'Bill' Edge and 'Dick' Langford—who did most of the work. J. F. S.

THE USEFUL BOB BLOCK

By Edgar C. Shepherd

AMONG the many terms and expressions used in change ringing there are some that seem at first sight to belong purely to the theoretical side of the art and to be of interest and value only to the composer and student of compositions. Among such expressions is the Bob Block, a term that brings to mind immediately the investigations of W. H. Thompson, C. D. P. Davies and a host of other writers on Grandsire Triples, and may incline us to dismiss it as belonging to the higher mathematical considerations of change ringing and of no importance to the ordinary ringer and conductor.

The Bob Block (or B. Block as it is so often called) is, nevertheless, of great interest and of great practical value to the conductor, particularly to the caller of short touches.

A B. Block, as is probably well known, is the touch produced in any method by calling a bob at every lead or division. In some methods, such as Grandsire and Plain Bob, the B. Block is short; in some, such as Stedman, it is long; and in others, like Double Norwich Caters, it is long and involved and of very little practical value at all. The touch varies in length, of course, according to the number of bells, and in Grandsire Doubles is composed of two leads, in Grandsire Triples of three leads, in Grandsire Caters of four leads. The case of Kent Treble Bob and its sister methods is peculiar, for here the B. Block is always three leads whatever the number of bells.

The value of the B. Block to the ordinary conductor lies in its adaptability in the construction and lengthening of touches, and in Sunday service ringing it is a most useful ally. Consider its application to Grandsire Triples. If we start from rounds and call a bob we produce 752634. If, likewise, we start from rounds and call Single, Bob, Bob, Single, we still arrive at 752634, but this time in four leads. We shall, as it were, have spliced in three leads, and these three leads, if separated from the touch, will be seen to consist of a B. Block complete in itself and made up of the rows 572634, 465372 and 234765.

The very simplest consideration of the above will show the practical usefulness of this device of splicing in leads. It tells us, in short, that in place of any bob we can substitute S.B.B.S., and so add three leads to our touch. Moreover, if this insertion or splicing takes place at a musical lead, then the music of the lead end will be repeated when the second single is called. The conductor of Grandsire will find a little experimental pricking and the insertion of B. Blocks very interesting and enlightening and perhaps a revelation of possibilities hitherto unsuspected.

To the Sunday service conductor, harassed by shortage of time, or wishful to extend his touch for a minute or two without previous preparation, the B. Block is a friendly and amenable companion.

THE MASTER TAPPER

OCCASIONALLY we publish details of enthusiasts who tap peals on handbells. But no enthusiast of this day and generation can equal the performance in that direction of Elijah Roberts, who, on March 23rd, 1837, tapped 19,440 Treble Bob Maximus at the Derby Arms, Whitechapel, Liverpool. The performance started at 4.19 a.m. and finished at 5.24 p.m. In an article on Elijah Roberts, the late William Snowdon wrote to the 'Ringing World' that at Birmingham in 1833 he tapped 5,016 Stedman Cinques. This peal he composed himself, but, doubtless to satisfy a great many ringers in an adjoining room, Henry Cooper, the well-known composer of early peals of Stedman Triples, acted as conductor. No less a ringer than Henry Johnson was present, and he heard every change, and was satisfied with the truth and accuracy of that unique performance.

In a letter to a friend on his performances, Roberts wrote: 'The first peal I rang was about 20 years ago (1807). . . . The number of changes was between 5,000 and 6,000 and was composed of nothing but Plain Courses, viz., Grandsire, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Triples; Grandsire, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Caters; Grandsire, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Royal; Grandsire, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Cinques; Grandsire, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Maximus. Also one and the last course was Treble Bob Sixteen, for which I don't know what other name to give it. Now this may not be considered of much note, but I assure you that to ring three different methods, and on different numbers of bell, and, as soon as one plain course is rung and the bells come round, to strike immediately into another from eight bells to sixteen is no joke.'

GILLETT AND JOHNSTON

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett and Johnston bells or tower clocks.

Gillett and Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service—as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

THAT EXTRA POSTAGE

Our reminder last week as to the 1s. 5d. extra postage due for the second half of last year produced 28 replies, which are gratefully acknowledged. There are still 717 subscribers who have not responded.

Enclosing a postal order value 4s. 3d. to cover extra postage, plus one penny for each peal he had rung so far this year, a Gloucester and Bristol Association ringer writes: 'I have calculated that if a penny was paid for each peal last year you would receive just over £73. I would suggest that the Editorial Committee consider charging a fee for publication of peals. It would still be the cheapest form of recreation or pleasure.'

A correspondent asks: Who was Hastings who gave his name to the Hastings stay?

The six bells of All Saints', Sapcote, Leics, are being rehung on ball bearings; Messrs. John Taylor and Co. have the work in hand.

The peal at Barcombe, Sussex, on July 28th, was conducted by Mr. C. John Piper and not by Mr. W. A. Kitchenside, as submitted to us.

Congratulations to that grand old Midland ringer, Mr. Adolphus Roberts, who has rung his first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at the age of 81.

In the peal of Grandsire Caters at Selby Abbey on July 28th, the ringer of the second was Mr. T. Herbert Foster and not Mr. T. Herbert Slater, as submitted to us.

Messrs. Leslie Barry and Charles Rouse have rung 25 peals together, viz.—Caters 2, Major 2, Triples 7, Minor 4 and Doubles 10. In these peals there have been at least 46 firsts.

The date of the handbell peal of Plain Bob Major at Kempston, published in our issue of August 3rd, should read Tuesday, July 17th, 1951, and not as submitted.

Two peals of Surprise Maximus were scored by the Ancient Society of College Youths during August Bank Holiday at Leicester.

The Sunday service band at Barthomley, Cheshire, rang a peal on August 11th in celebration of Arthur Allman's 50 years, John Brasington's 49 years and Eric B. Allman's 25 years as service ringers at the church.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Miss Pamela Steere, of St. John's, Croydon, has rung her first peal. It was at Paul, Cornwall, but none of the band knew this secret until after the peal, or that she had made some half-dozen attempts in her home district. The peal was a real Bank Holiday affair with ringers enough and to spare, and the band represented five counties.

Mr. R. F. B. Speed writes correcting the time of the peal of Yorkshire Royal at Twickenham, on July 14th to 3 hours and 40 minutes and not 2 hours and 40 minutes, as submitted.

A peal attempt of Stedman Cinques at South-wark Cathedral last Saturday failed in the last six sixes. It was being rung for the Surrey Association and conducted by Mr. C. H. Kippin.
