Dear Sir,—The recent correspondence regarding donations enclosed with peals and quarter peals has interested our ringers very much. You may be interested to know that it has become a local custom with our ringers on the completion of a successful quarter to make a small donation to "The Ringing World," more as a gesture of delight than a form of bribery, as some people have suggested, especially when I tell you that out of ten ringers, as far as I know, only two of us actually take "The Ringing World."

If it helps to keep the price of our paper stable then we hope more donations will be forwarded; anyway, you may count on ours.—Yours sincerely,

A. F. WALTERS.

ISLE OF MAN BELLS

Dear Sir,—Regarding Mr. Marchant's inquiry regarding Peel bells, Isle of Man, I looked over the bells about 1941. They were cast by Warners (diameter of tenor 42 inches). They could then have been rung by removing some hammers; the tower was clean and had a set of ropes. Bells 2, 3 and 4 had ropes, the remainder were in the tower. I think some trouble had been caused by visiting ringers.

If anyone wants to look over the bells the clock winder should be contacted. — Yours faithfully,

W. FARRIMOND.

Coppull, near Chorley.

ST. GEORGE'S CATHEDRAL, PERTH

Dear Sir,—In answer to Mr. G. A. Hall's letter in "The Ringing World" dated January 22nd, I would like to advise that, although Dr. Geiger was consulted by the University of Western Australia during its research into the structural safety of the Queen Victoria tower and bells at St. George's Cathedral, Perth, his suggestions were not acted upon.

Following discussion with Mr. F. Sharpe and Messrs. Taylor of Loughborough, the back four of the ring are to be "tucked up" and roller bearings and new wheels fitted throughout the octave. It is hoped this will be undertaken in 1966. The University has found that the sway in this 100ft. brick tower is well within acceptable limits, but minor structural alterations may be desirable.

I apologise to those concerned for the lateness of this reply.—Yours faithfully,

L. R. REYNOLDS.

WIVELISCOMBE (SOMERSET) TENOR

Dear Sir,—What a wonderful tenor that at Wiveliscombe must be—it grows and shrinks every few years.

Once its weight was stated in a peal report as 19½ cwt. About a couple of years later to another peal it had grown (without recasting) to 23 cwt.

Earlier this year I read where the bell-founders gave its weight as 16 cwt. with some odd quarters and pounds, no mention of it being recast to my recollection.

Since then, on going through "Dove," I notice it has grown again to 20 cwt. And, whilst quoting "Dove," I don't know whether he has actually been up and seen the five small bells (buried in rubbish as they are) at Swineshead, Beds. I have, and may I state that he is very wide of the mark in giving nine cwt. as this tenor's weight; 5½ cwt. is much nearer the true figure. The two trebles, in fact, you could lift out of their badly rotted frame with one hand almost, the last time I went up and saw them, which was about 1950.—Yours faithfully,

P. AMOS.

MASONIC RINGERS AT LINCOLN

The annual informal gathering of Masonic ringers was held this year at Lincoln on May 29th. The day opened with ringing at Caythorpe (8), and included Stedman, Kent and Little Bob. After lunch we moved on to Lincoln Cathedral, where Cambridge Royal and Stedman Caters were both well struck. On then to the very pleasant eight at St. Giles', where the best ringing was a touch of Double Norwich. Finally, Washingborough (8), where London met with success.

At Branston some 17 members enjoyed an excellent dinner, after which we retired to a private room. It was proposed and accepted that inquiries should be made into the possibility of holding next year's gathering at Derby. A further recommendation was that a register of ringing brethren be compiled and, to facilitate this, names and addresses should be sent to Mr. P. J. Stanforth, Wayside, 150, Narborough Road South, Leicester.

It would be most useful if this report were brought to the attention of brethren who do not subscribe to "The Ringing World." After the handbells had been put to good use, proceedings closed with a vote of thanks to Bro. Freeman, whose efforts had produced such an enjoyable day.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Tonbridge District

A quarterly meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Seal and Seal Chart on June 26th.

The ringers attended a service at Seal Chart conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. M. C. Parks. The address was given by the Vicar of Seal, the Rev. P. Lea, who spoke of the beauty and purpose of ringing and commended the enthusiasm of ringers generally. A collection was taken by Mr. G. F. Acott and Mr. E. Drawbridge, representatives of the two towers.

After service we were kindly entertained to tea by the Vicar and Mrs. Parks. The business meeting was held and handbells were rung in the pleasant surroundings of the Vicarage garden. One new junior member—Bernard Powell, of Seal Chart—was elected, and the Kent one-day school at Leeds was discussed.

Ringling was enjoyed at both towers during the afternoon and evening.

JOINT MEETING AT NORTH WINGFIELD

OVER 35 members and friends representing no fewer than 17 towers were present at North Wingfield on June 12th for the joint meeting of the Chesterfield District of the Derby Diocesan Association and the East Derbys and West Notts Association. During the afternoon a wide variety of methods, including the special one, Lincolnshire Surprise, was rung on the 19 cwt. octave until the company adjourned for cups of tea.

In the absence of the chairman, the Master of the East Derbys Association, Mr. B. Richards, took the chair at the short business meeting of the Chesterfield District. New members elected were: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Scholfield (Bradford), and Mr. N. Mallet (Exeter) as life members, and the Rector of North Wingfield (the Rev. N. Joyce) as a resident member.

Following the usual vote of thanks, further ringing took place in the evening despite the periods of excitement caused by first a rope starting to break during the ringing, and then a stay breaking after the bells had been set.

Next meetings: Both July 10th—Kirkby-in-Ashfield (E. Derbys); Old Whittington (C. District).

SOUTHWELL GUILD CRAWFORD CUP CONTEST

The Nottingham District round for the Crawford Cup Contest was rung at Trowell on June 19th. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. F. Bradley (Shelford) and the result was: Wollaton 55½; Ruddington 116½; and West Bridgford 128 faults.

St. George's (Colegate) Week-end in Bucks

CAUTIOUSLY sniffing the alien air, the St. George's ringers went further afield this year for their main outing. On Friday, June 18th, we set out for Buckinghamshire in two parties, which converged on St. Lawrence's, West Wycombe, in time to join their practice. Shades of the Hellfire Club were dispelled by oil lamps and candlelight and Grandsire and Bob Doubles were rung before returning to beer and sandwiches by courtesy of young George and the Dragon. Some were lulled to sleep by the roar of traffic on the A.40, while others roamed the corridors disguised as Chinese tenees, but all were up for breakfast in time to make the first tower of the day.

This was Hughenden and we got away to a good start with Plain Bob, Double Norwich and some fast, well struck Stedman. On to Beaconsfield and, enlivened with a skirmish with a lorry driver, we rang Grandsire, Double Norwich and Stedman. We enjoyed ringing the heavy eight at Denham. With warm sunshine in the churchyard and the scent of roses drifting through the open door, there seemed to be no better way of spending a morning. The tower will be remembered by our lady ringer for her first touch of Yorkshire and by somebody else for being left dangling on the tenor with both feet in the air after everyone else had pulled off!

Too idle to seek a proper lunch, we repaired to the Green Man for cider and sandwiches in the garden—fatal error! In the next three towers someone was continually "dropping off in a corner." We judged the eight at Farnham Royal just the right weight for after lunch and found that they went very well. We rang Erin Triples here among other things before going on to Burnham. These bells were unanimously elected as the nicest ring of the day and Superlative was probably the best touch of the whole week-end. Unfortunately we were called to a stand in Double Norwich due to a misunderstanding over times, and we made our way a trifle reluctantly to Slough. Having arrived, we had difficulty in gaining access to the tower and our programme only allowed us time for two plain courses of Erin Caters.

At Bray we encountered our heaviest ring of the day and we did not do very well. Plain Bob just about came round and one or two things were tried with little success. Suitably chastened, we went on to Cookham, where tea was taken in itinerant fashion between High Street and river. We rang Double Norwich, Grandsire Superlative and Stedman on the pleasant eight. Local enthusiasm provides a "method of the month" here on the notice board, complete with notes—an idea worth copying. Our last tower was Wooburn and although there was some talk of making it a quick grab, we rang some good Stedman with plenty of beat and pace together with courses of Kent and Cambridge.

After such a day it was a joy to sit down to a splendid supper provided by Mrs. Cornwall, to whom we are most grateful. Sunday morning completed our programme with ringing for service on the 12 at High Wycombe in company with the local band. This was a fine climax to the tour and we made our way home well content.

The week-end could never have been such a success without David Cornwall's invaluable assistance, together with Joyce and John, and we are most grateful. Thanks are due to all those who gave us permission to ring, and lastly to Peter Adcock. We hope that this is only the first of many St. George's tours.

EXPLORING CHESHIRE

MEMBERS of the band of All Saints', Ripley, Derbyshire, gathered in the market square at Ripley at 8 a.m. on July 3rd. Our mini-coach comfortably contained our small party and luggage and a two-hour journey through Staffordshire brought us to St. Mary's, Acton (near Nantwich). Here there is a fine hold Rudhall six in a very impressive tower, which is reminiscent of Somerset churches. Nevertheless our young band made good use of the bells, ringing Doubles and Minor methods.

Next tower was St. Chad's, Farndon, a tune-ful light eight. Unfortunately a false floor had been inserted, raising the level some two feet, and it appeared that the ropes had not been readjusted. This made ringing difficult and caused blisters. We continued along a devious network of "B" roads to Prestatyn, partaking of a prepacked lunch en route. At Prestatyn our Tower Master-cum-driver enjoyed a siesta whilst the others took advantage of the amenities provided.

The journey continued to Chester, where a good tea was "devoured." It had been our intention to ring on the six at Tarvin but unfortunately repair work had recently been started, so an effort was made to join the North Staffordshire Guild meeting at Cheddleton. However, in spite of making good time, ringing had finished when we arrived. We finally joined members of our Derbyshire Guild at the Grouse Inn, Darley Dale.

Everyone agreed that the 250-mile outing had been a success and our thanks are offered to incumbents, tower secretaries and captains. We also thank Mrs. Christine Taylor (a non-ringer), who carried out much of the organising and unselfishly suffered 13 hours of ringers' conversation.

LICHFIELD CATHEDRAL

Saturday, June 13th, was chosen for the full-day coach outing of the Lichfield Cathedral ringers. The borders of North Wales and Cheshire were visited, and ringing during the day was enjoyed at Farndon, Gresford, Buckley (an excellent eight and well kept ringing room), Northop, Flint (another good but very light ring), Eccleston (well known as one of the best eights in the country) and the fine Gillett and Johnston ring of ten at Crewe. Ringing ranged from call changes and Plain Bob to Bristol Surprise and Little Bob Royal. Sincere thanks to all who gave permission for ringing, to those who met us, and to Lucy Smith for her organisation.

KLEEWAY

BALDOCK GUILD VISIT COLCHESTER AREA

It was nearing 7.30 a.m. of June 19th when the Baldock Guild of Ringers and their guests gathered, somewhat appropriately, outside the brewery in Baldock, to board their coach, which was to take them for a most enjoyable day into some of Essex's most beautiful countryside, around Colchester.

Arriving earlier than expected at St. Peter ad Vincula, Coggeshall, the coach party disembarked in search of coffee, returning in time for some good ringing on this easy-going eight, housed in a rebuilt tower, the old one having suffered bomb damage. These bells provide excellent ringing, although the tone was a little sharp, and methods ranged from Plain Bob to Bristol.

On then to St. Peter's, Colchester, the ring that all the ringers had awaited. The eight, in their 200-year-old frame, were as delightful as ever—and justice was done to them, with some good ringing. Lunch was taken independently, some having a picnic in the beautiful grounds of the Castle.

It was a short trip to the somewhat odd-struck eight of St. Mary's, Ardleigh, and ringing here was quite reasonable. We found the tower at St. Mary's, Stoke-by-Nayland, in splints as restoration work was being done on the masonry and it was here that two youngish ringers, prompted by offers of free refreshments later in the day, scaled the tower in a somewhat unorthodox manner. For those, however, who were ascending the tower in the normal manner, many a stop was required as the stairs are both steep and numerous, and once in the ringing chamber one had to have regard for one's eardrums, as there appears to be little or nothing between the chamber and the bells—at least judging by the noise.

Onwards to Bures, where we stopped for an excellent ham and salad tea and afterwards proceeded to St. Mary's for ringing on these easy-to-handle eight bells. Here the tenors were odd-struck and this, coupled with a trifle too fast ringing, proved the downfall of a band that attempted Yorkshire at a fair pace. One thing at Bures cannot go unmentioned—the really spotless belfry, and credit must be given to those responsible for its well polished appearance.

Our last church of the day was St. Andrew's at Earls Colne; here the fine eight with their long draught were put to good use and the band was joined by a local ringer (only 84 years old) in a course of London—well done, sir! As we left St. Andrew's the sun was beginning to set but we could not grumble—it had been shining all day without exception. Although weary, the ringers managed to rally enough to pause awhile at Bishop's Stortford to sample the local ale, and we eventually arrived back at Baldock at 11.15.

All participants in the outing would like to thank Mr. Buck for his excellent organisation, and the incumbents for the use of the bells.

STEDMAN TRIPLES—Its Construction and Calling

By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD

TO the beginner, the calling of Stedman Triples presents difficulties not met with in the Treble-dominated methods. Believing that a clear understanding of certain elemental principles is the beginning of wisdom and provides the correct and most enlightening approach, we have prepared these notes on the construction, pricking, calling and proof of this elusive principle. So vast a study cannot, of course, be comprehended in so short an essay as this; but we hope that those desirous of calling touches will, by patience in reading and practice with pencil and paper, find not only pleasure in the ability to conduct the ringing but also the appetite for further study of this fascinating subject.

1. THE ANATOMY OF THE METHOD

The general plan of the method is simply expressed. As Fabian Stedman first produced it on five bells the front three bells were required to ring the extent of six changes while the other two dodged behind. After six rows one of the bells behind moved into the front and one of the front three moved out to join the dodging behind.

It is well known, however, that there are two ways in which three bells work their six changes:

321	321
A 231	312 B
312	231
123	123

Either of these two ways may be used to construct something on Stedman's plan, but the results obtained will be very different. By using Plan A, a course may be obtained in which 1 and 2 never leave the front; the bell's come from the back simply hunt to lead and out again, and the whole thing is very dull and limited.

A	B
12345	12345
21435	21435
24153	12453
42135	12435
41253	41253
14235	42135
12453	24153
21543	42513
25134	24531
52143	25413
51234	52431

The use of plan B provides a much more interesting course. It runs to five sections and allows each bell to do the same work. It is, as many will readily recognise, what we now call Erin, and although six-scores of it are not easily obtained, on the higher number of bells it provides peals of Triples, Caters and Cinques.

For his Principle, however, Stedman was a little more subtle. He decided to use both A and B and to use them alternately; and an examination of a course of Stedman, whether Doubles, Triples, Caters or Cinques, shows this unvarying succession. The number of sixes in a course is twice the number of bells engaged, and the work of each bell is far more extensive than is shown in the two primitive plans we started with.

A section of a course on Stedman's Principle is set out here, starting with a full six from 12345. The first six is on Plan B, and is called a Slow Six because the bell going into the front (No. 4 in this case) will stay there a long time and will do what is called the Slow Work.

The second six is on Plan A and is called a quick six because the bell going into the front (No. 5 in this case) will go straight to lead and straight out again doing what is called the Quick Work.

24153	So the sixes alternate, Quick, Slow, Quick, Slow, until after 10 sixes the bells come round.
42513	The course of Stedman Doubles shown to us in the text books differs in appearance from the example given here, but there is no real difference. Stedman decided to start his course in the middle of a Quick Six, and so the beginning, as usually presented, is as follows:
25413
24531
42351
24315
23451
32415
34251
43215
21354	Last two rows of a Quick Six
23145
32145	Beginning of a Slow Six
etc.

It is customary to begin Stedman in this fashion, but there is no reason at all why it should not be started with a full Slow Six, or a full Quick Six, or in several other ways. In peals of Caters and Cinques it is not at all uncommon for the composition to start with a Slow Six, and for ringers of Stedman Doubles it provides an interesting variation.

We have used the course of Stedman Doubles to illustrate the construction of the Principle, but we must now get on to our main task, that of examining Stedman Triples, its touches and its callings.

2. PRICKING THE METHOD

It must be emphasised at the very beginning that no intelligent approach can be made to this matter, or any sound progress achieved, unless the student is prepared to use pencil and paper.

1234567	1234567
2135476	2143657
2314567	1246375
	1423657
3241657	4126375
2346175	4213657
2431657	2416375
4236175
4321657	4261735
3426175	4627153
	6421735
4362715	6247153
4637251	2641735
6432715	2467153
6347251
3642715	etc.

First he must be able to write out the plain course of the method by pricking the sixes alternately Quick and Slow without reference to the printed course; and in this exercise it is valuable to write out a course starting from 1234567 as well as from the conventional 2314567.

The beginnings of each plan are shown here, and the setting out and studying of them should include careful note of what happens at "the parting of the sixes," the place where a new bell comes into the front.

Secondly, the would-be conductor must be able to prick out the method by the six-ends. Unlike most other methods, Stedman cannot be expressed by the Treble leads because there are no Treble leads to mark the ends of sections. In Stedman, the unit is the "Six," and the end of each six marks the end of a section of the course. But to complicate matters there are two kinds of six and consequently two kinds of six-end.

If we start from 1234567 and ring a Slow Six we get the six-end 2416375.

If we start from 1234567 and ring a Quick Six we get the six-end 1246375.

These two things may conveniently be set out thus:

Effect of a Slow Six 1234567	Effect of a Quick Six 1234567

2416375 1246375

We here venture to elaborate this explanation, hoping that in doing so we do not make the matter more obscure. If the reader is thoroughly conversant with this form of transposition he will not need what immediately follows. If it is strange to him perhaps the fuller exposition will help.

EFFECT OF A SLOW SIX (see above)

The bell that was in Firsts place has moved to 3rds place.

The bell that was in Seconds place has moved to first place.

The bell that was in Thirds place has moved to fifths place.

The bell that was in Fourths place has moved to 2nds place.

The bell that was in Fifths place has moved to 7ths place.

The bell that was in Sixths place has moved to 4ths place.

The bell that was in Sevens place has moved to 6ths place.

A study of the effect of the Quick Six will show that the bells in Firsts place and Seconds place remain in the same position, while the bell in Fourths place ends up in 3rds place. The remaining bells position themselves just as in a Slow Six.

It must now be realised and thoroughly understood that whatever six-end we start from, a Slow Six or Quick Six will move the bells in accordance with the above plans.

The Plain Course, therefore, can be set out by the six-ends, and a portion of the course is given here. Notice that the first six-end shown is 2314567. That is because the conventional start is in the middle of a Quick Six, and the first six-end is therefore 2314567.

3426175 S	the six-ends is not so easy as
3467251 Q	the writing out of other
4735612 S	methods by the Treble leads.
4751326 Q	At first it is a rather laborious
7142563 S	procedure and one in which
7126435 Q	it is easy to make a mistake
1673254 S	that will throw all the bells
1635742 Q	wrong. But the would-be conductor is strongly urged to master the process, and to extend his skill to the pricking of bobbed and singled sixes, a matter we shall deal with presently.

For first practice the beginner is recommended to write out numerous plain courses, starting from any row and going on until the starting row reappears after 14 sixes. If the original row does not appear after 14 sixes have been pricked, then it is clear that a mistake has been made.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Tom Locke would like the use of a portable tape recorder for Great Adventure II.

The peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major rung at Burton Latimer (see page 471) consisted of 5,152 changes.

The peal rung at Kirby-le-Soken on June 19th was a compliment to Miss Rachel Orman, ringer of the second, on being chosen Colchester Carnival Princess.

The peal rung at Lydd, Kent, on June 12th
(see page 436) was an engagement compliment to John Warner and Lynn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Taylor, of Danehill, Sussex.

There were five first pealers in a peal at Denby, Derbyshire, on June 24th. Congratulations to conductor Trevor Taylor and all the band.

We have good news concerning Mr. Reuben Sanders, suffering from a blood infection at St. James' Hospital, S.W.12 (Ward 5). He is now recovering quickly but expects to be in hospital for another week.

Rewards offered for selected peal attempts are not confined to Newport. Mon. writes a Stafford correspondent. A duck dinner awaits a certain Stafford area conductor in return for the successful conclusion of a peal of Erin Triples.

Eleven-year-old Stephen B. Thompson impressed those who rang with him in the peal of eight Doubles methods at Blaby on June 26th by his competence on the treble. "A magnificent performance," writes the conductor, Brian C. Law.

THE EDITOR'S THANKS

The Editor expresses his regrets at the inconvenience he caused at the Oxford Guild Festival through a sudden attack of sickness and thanks the many friends who helped him, especially Miss Marie Cross. While the meeting was proceeding he was lying down at Radley and in the evening had recovered sufficiently to enjoy a visit to Dorchester Abbey at a time when the Groton boys were inspecting the door erected to the memory of Malcolm Strachen, priest, chaplain and teacher at Groton School, Groton, Mass., and a descendant of the Holcomes of Devonshire.

He thanks Mr. W. Coles for deputising for him in the speeches. Totally impromptu, the Editor was told that it was one of the best speeches of the afternoon. After mentioning the giants of the Oxford Guild—Rev. F. E. Robinson, Canon Coleridge and Rev. Cyril Jenkyn—Bill told of Appleton's record peal of 21,000 Stedman Caters and the record made at Christ Church of Stedman Cinques. "I was very happy," he went on, "to have a small association with that last record because one of the ringers learned to ring in the same tower as I did, at the same time—we were choirboys together."

The Editor is also very much indebted to Miss Y. Eloise, one time secretary of the Salisbury District, who took his notebook and pencils and produced a most comprehensive report of the annual meeting which has been forwarded to the hon. general secretary to amplify the minutes, besides forming the basis of the report on this issue.

A LOSS TO TONBRIDGE

On July 2nd the ringers at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Tonbridge, paid tribute to their vice-captain, Mr. Cyril W. Hancock, who is leaving Tonbridge to reside in Thurston, Bury St. Edmunds.

In the Vicar's garden the company was graced by the presence of the Bishop of Tonbridge, who is president of the Tonbridge Society of Ringers, and churchwardens, Mr. Hancock, who has been a member of the band for 16 years and vice-captain for 10 years, was thanked by the Bishop for his loyal, long and valuable service to ringing in Tonbridge and presented with a Victorian plate salver—the gift of the ringers and churchwardens. Mrs. Hancock was presented with a sheaf of flowers by Miss Sandra Greenhalgh, a young member of the band. The captain expressed the wish of all the band that Mr. and Mrs. Hancock would be very happy in their new surroundings.

On June 20th eight of the local band, including Mr. Hancock, met to ring a farewell peal, which was unfortunately lost due to a broken clapper, after ringing only four courses of Plain Bob Major. W. H. D.

BOOKS ON RINGING WANTED

Mr. Raith Reynolds, of St. George's Cathedral, Western Australia, writes that his Society is interested in obtaining books on the art and history of ringing, such as those by the late Ernest Morris, for the tower library, as "we are finding it almost impossible to obtain these in Perth. We would be grateful to any ringers able to help us in this matter."—R. Reynolds, c/o The Deanery, St. George's Terrace, Western Australia.

MARYBELLE'S FAREWELL

Captain Marybelle E. Wissley, who has been stationed at Alconbury, near Huntingdon, and who learned to ring at All Saints' Huntingdon, has been posted back to the States. It was a very full programme over the final two weeks in this country with ringing and parties. Two peals were lost, one at Huntingdon and the other at Eaton Socon, but a quarter peal was scored by the Sunday service band at Hemingford Abbots on the last Sunday.

After her last appearance at the All Saints' practice night, friends present adjourned to a local hostelry and a very pleasant evening was spent. Marybelle insisted that all present told how they became interested in bellringing and many amusing stories were heard.

As a reminder of her happy association with English ringing, the All Saints' band presented Marybelle with a bellringers' car badge; the tower had previously received from her a gift of a set of ringing mats. The evening concluded with tunes being played on the handbells by three members of the All Saints' band. It is a pity that her home station is miles away from any bells, but she has already paid a visit to Washington Cathedral.

GIFT TO GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL

The ringers at Capel, Surrey, where there is a light ring of six, followed up their generous contribution to the Guildford Guild's Cathedral Bells Fund by presenting a handsome electric wall clock for use in the ringing chamber, on July 2nd. The presentation was made by Mrs. H. Penfold and the gift was accepted by Canon A. C. G. Oldham on behalf of the Dean and Chapter. The Canon then handed the clock to Mr. Douglas May, Master of the Guild. Mrs. Penfold, the captain at Capel, had her band with her and they all had offered to them the privilege of ringing on the Cathedral bells. The Dean (Bishop George Clarkson) greeted the party at the foot of the tower and thanked them for their generous gift.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

A visit to Washington Cathedral and seeing the bells has fired the enthusiasm of Mr. Frank L. Eldridge, music master at Ithaca College, Ithaca, New York. He writes that through the auspices of Mr. John Fanfani, assistant clerk of the works, he obtained the use of one issue of "The Ringing World." From this he secured the Editor's name and a list of books he hopes to acquire. "The whole art of ringing has been suddenly opened up to me and hope to bend much of my energies towards influencing people to give a bell tower and ring of bells to Ithaca College. It's all very exciting." Mr. Eldridge has been enrolled as a reader of "The Ringing World."

A CORNISH REUNION

Quarter peals from Mabe Burnhouse, Cornwall, are infrequent, as method ringing is not too strong in this area. A quarter peal was, however, rung on June 29th for Austin T. Wingate, of Hereford Cathedral, and also to welcome home C. D. Linnington from Singapore, and Mrs. E. Langley from Rhodesia. A visit was afterwards paid to Bradoc, where W. Sanders called 240 Grandsire Doubles, which he had not done for nine years.

MR. AND MRS. JEATER IN THE NEWS

All our postal subscribers, we are sure, will desire to join us in extending our warmest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jeater, of Greystones, Cusgarne, Truro, who on July 17th celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Jeater's quiet, conscientious service to "The Ringing World" as its accountant is highly appreciated by the committee. Mr. and Mrs. Jeater propose on July 16th to fly to the Scilly Isles for a brief holiday and will return to Cusgarne on July 21st.

A TRIO DISPERSING

Accompanying a quarter peal of London Surprise Royal, rung at Haslemere on June 30th, is the following footnote: "The ringers of the 2nd, 3rd and 7th would like to thank the Kippins and Housdens for so gently leading them through the intricacies of quarter peals of Surprise at monthly intervals over the last year or so. They are sorry this was the last." The trio are three school-teachers who are leaving West Surrey shortly. They are the Misses Pamela Gough and Pat Laycock, of Holy Trinity, Guildford, and Elizabeth Stevinson, of Godalming. Miss Gough is going into Sussex to teach (her home tower is Aldington), Miss Patricia Laycock is going on exchange for one year to Edmonton, Alberta, and Miss Stevinson from Godalming to Oxford Technical College.

BISHOP RINGS THE TENOR

At a service of thanksgiving for the restoration of Leighton Bromswold parish church on Whit Sunday, members of the Ely Diocesan Association (Huntingdon District) rang the five bells before and after the service. Parts of the service were introduced on the B.B.C. Television Service on the Monday evening. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. N. Gordon-Kerr, and the preacher was the Lord Bishop of Ely. After the service the Bishop went to the belfry and joined in the ringing, ringing the 21 cwt. tenor to rounds, which were both seen and heard on TV.

BENDIGO AWAITS TOURISTS FOR FIRST PEAL

It looks as though the first peal on the bells of Bendigo, Victoria, will now go to the English tourists. An attempt for Parker's Six-Part Grandsire Triples there on June 20th was lost only ten leads from the end. Organised by Ron Russ, with a strong Adelaide contingent, the band included the present tower captain, Bill Robertson, making his first attempt for a peal. Also ringing was Warne Wilson, the former captain, now at Ballarat, who did so much towards the recent restoration of the bells. Apart from a first for Bill Robertson, the peal would have been a triumph for Bill Pitcher, of Adelaide, making his first attempt as conductor.

Despite general advancement in Australian ringing, peal attempts remain extra special occasions, being few because of the distances involved in assembling peal bands. Undue emphasis comes to be placed on the need to score to make the occasion worthwhile, and the disappointment at losing an attempt is correspondingly more bitter. Australia needs more peal ringers!

OBITUARY

MR. W. T. BEESON

West Surrey has lost an outstanding ringer who did much to encourage the advancement of the art, in the person of Mr. William T. Beeson, of Cranleigh, who died in the King George V. Hospital, Milford, on July 5th. He was 67 years of age. About last Whitsuntide "Bill" had two strokes and it was from the effects of these that he died.

He learned to ring at Godstone, Surrey, where his father was captain of the tower. As a member of the Surrey Constabulary, he was stationed at various centres and while at Guildford was in the Holy Trinity band with Mr. A. H. Pulling, with whom he rang many peals, his total being about 800. Much of his recent peal ringing had been in Sussex with various Surprise bands.

His years of retirement had been spent in Cranleigh, where he did much to stimulate interest in the art. "Bill" had a second great love—flowers and gardening. Skilled and knowledgeable, he thus helped to make the earth brighter and more beautiful.

To his widow and daughter the sympathy of hosts of friends is extended. The funeral took place on July 8th at Ewhurst and was attended by old comrades of the Surrey Constabulary, including Supt. R. J. C. Hagley, who served with him and rang in many of his peals.

MR. BERTIE CLARKE

A ringer at Market Bosworth (Leics) for over 50 years, Mr. Clarke passed away peacefully at the age of 82 on June 22nd. He re-joined the old M.C.A. in 1939 and was a regular service ringer until ill-health forced his retirement a few years ago. The bells were rung half-muffled to short touches after the interment.

MR. ARTHUR WHEELER

A churchwarden and ringer at Kirby Bellars (Leics) since the last war, Mr. Wheeler was widely known with the late Mr. Bailey as the "Kirby Twins," who entertained at many bell-ringers' socials. He died on July 3rd, aged 63.

With regret we report the passing of Mr. Fred Leggott, of Boston, on June 18th, aged 68 years.

Fred had been a ringer since the age of 15 years and he will be sadly missed in local ringing. First learning at Frampton, of late years he was a most regular attender at Boston Stump, where he rang every Sunday. He was laid to rest on June 22nd and a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Boston Stump that day. W. E. C.

MR. J. MARSH

The death occurred on June 8th of Mr. James Marsh, of Ormskirk, at the age of 87 years, after having been confined to hospital for the past two years.

A native of Aughton, near Ormskirk, he had been a ringer at Christ Church, Aughton, for over 70 years. He was baptised, confirmed and married at the church and had been a sidesman for nearly 60 years and Ringing Master for the last 40 years. A member of the Lancashire Association since 1894, he had rung over 100 peals. His favourite method was Stedman Triples, in which he was an expert conductor. His ringing record is unique as he rang a peal in celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria in 1897 and on her death in 1901 a peal at Aughton in the morning and at St. Peter's pro-Cathedral, Liverpool, in the afternoon. He was the last surviving member to ring a peal at St. Peter's pro-Cathedral before demolition, and was well known all over Lancashire, being a contemporary of the late G. R. Newton, T. Hammond, E. Caunce and A. Tomlinson; only the latter now survives.

"Jim," as he was known, loved his ringing and even when approaching four-score years was always willing to master a new Surprise method. He was laid to rest near to the tower in which he had had so much pleasure, many local ringers being present. Stedman Triples was rung half-muffled before and after the service. At the graveside a touch of Grandsire Doubles was rung by J. Ridyard 1-2, N. Heaps 3-4, R. Kenrick 5-6. It can be truly said of Jim Marsh—Well done, good and faithful servant. E. A.

MR. B. M. SPENCER

Ringers of the Melton District heard with regret of the death of Mr. Roger Malcolm Spencer at home in Melton on Friday, June 25th, after a long illness.

Born at Twyford, he was one who helped to augment the ring from three to six in 1946 and when a team was formed he was elected captain. He had not been able to take part in ringing for some time owing to illness.

The funeral was at Twyford on June 28th and a quarter peal of Bob Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled on July 3rd by District ringers. He was a member of the Leicester Guild. He had been churchwarden for a number of years. J. H. C.

THE RINGING WORLD

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS

REASONS FOR PEALS

Sermon preached by the Rev. F. F. Rigby, Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, in Christchurch Priory, on Saturday, July 4th, 1965, at the annual service of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

SOME years ago I rang in a peal which had been arranged, as peals usually are, several days beforehand. Quite by chance, it happened that the local football team had won the match in a cup final and were returning home at the time of the ringing. Next day, the local evening newspaper had a paragraph headed something like this: "Bells ring out to welcome victorious team." In fact, there was no connection whatever between the two events; it was the newspaper reporter who had linked them together.

But suppose there had been a connection; suppose the ringers had decided to ring the bells because the football team had won. Would it have been right, or wrong, to ring the church bells on such an occasion? Would it have been right to use the bells, sacred objects which had been dedicated to the glory of God, on such an occasion as this? This poses for ringers an important question; we are plunged right into the centre of a theological discussion which has been going on for a number of years. The question is this: should the Christian separate the sacred and the secular?

I was reminded of this theological discussion in May. The Welsh rugby team had won an international match. Now I live in an area near to the border of England and Wales, and many of the local Rectors and Vicars are Welshmen. When you speak about Wales, tears come into their eyes. When you speak about rugby they become quite lyrical. And when you speak about Wales and rugby together, you would think they had seen the Beatific Vision, especially if Wales happens to have won.

There is only one way I can make them speechless, and then only for a few moments. It is when I tell them that if they want to see rugby at its best they should watch a Rugby League match as played in the north and not the fifteen a side hugging mugger of Rugby Union. I know that the limit to the number of times I shall dare to say this is rapidly approaching and that one of these days I shall be tackled from all sides, for so intensely do they feel about their game. So I was not a bit surprised when I saw in "The Ringing World" that a peal had been rung simply because the Welsh rugby team had won a match. Now, was it right or wrong to ring this peal?

A ringer who lives in Twickenham, where rugby is a gentlemanly game, was greatly distressed about the whole episode. For all I know he may like rugby. But he objected in a letter to "The Ringing World" because the peal had been rung. Some of the points he made were good ones. But, in my judgment, he made a basic mistake. He tried to separate the sacred from the secular. He thought, for example, that the peal could have been excused if it had been rung on bells in a secular tower. He thought that no one would quarrel with a peal rung to mark a Saint's Day, and this notwithstanding the fact that some of us think there are a number of the Saints who ought to be de-Sainted. He thought there were plenty of what he called ecclesiastical events if a reason was needed for ringing a peal. This separation of sacred and secular is wrong.

Is it not the task of Christianity to make holy, to make sacred, that which we call secular? All the world is God's world and thirty rugby players are still in God's world, even though they are playing in Wales. It is because Christians believe that there ought not to be a separation between the sacred and the secular that we have Industrial Chaplains and University Chaplains. The task of Christianity is not to make Christians into members of a little closed shop but to help all people in God's world, in the whole of it. Jesus Christ spent nearly all His time in what we should call secular situations, amongst ordinary people doing ordinary jobs, and often illustrating what He wanted to say by secular illustrations.

In practice, what does all this mean for ringers? There is no reason at all why bells should not be rung for secular occasions and a good number of reasons why they should. But we need a sense of balance, a sense of proportion, for if we ring for all secular occasions of note, we shall be ringing for ever and the public would get tired of listening to us.

There is a partial analogy with an orchestra. Normally, an orchestra gives a concert because people like to hear it and I hope, too, because the members like playing. So ringing a peal need not always be for something, except that the ringers like doing what they are doing. They need not always be finding an excuse for ringing.

But the orchestra analogy breaks down. Those who want to listen to an orchestra buy tickets. They are prepared to pay for the pleasure of listening. Ringers, however, thrust their sounds on the multitudes, and the multitudes do not buy tickets to listen. So, if we are ringing a peal for a secular event, we should do well to make known the reason for our ringing beforehand. If we are ringing for our own pleasure, we should be prepared to say so. We must drop the habit of ringing a peal first, and then deciding what it was for afterwards.

That is what often happens. A peal is finished. Then someone remembers it is Aunt Jemima's birthday. So it appears in "The Ringing World": "Rung in honour of Aunt Jemima's birthday." Everybody knows it wasn't. Ring for secular events by all means, but as the public have to listen, let them know why the bells are being rung and, above all, let the events be worthwhile secular events.

Of course, there always remains the first reason for ringing, which is associated with church worship. But there are good reasons why bells should enter the lives of the people, just as they do at weddings and funerals. We need to examine the reasons for our ringing apart from service ringing. If the Church is to enter the lives of the people, I believe the bells have their part to play. If my own village team were to win an important football final, I see no reason why the bells should not ring for them. Sickness in the vicinity might decide otherwise, but we need not always think in terms of a peal where the ringing is prolonged. Ringing is not sacred and football secular; they both belong to God's world.

I see from my records that in 1935 I called a peal at St. Peter's, Bournemouth, when the Vicar left the parish. This was hardly a sacred event. We liked him, so we thought we would give him a good send-off. He and his wife knew what we were doing. The ringers knew what they were doing. So did many of the public. It was a proper occasion to ring a peal, an occasion which I would certainly not call an ecclesiastical event.

EAST RIDING VETERANS' TEA

The ninth annual gathering of veteran ringers of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association took place recently at the now regular venue of Eastrington, where there is a handy ground-floor ring.

Twenty-four people sat down to an excellent tea provided, as usual, by Mrs. J. J. Taylor, of Goole, but only three could claim the distinction of having over 50 years' membership, the unofficial qualification to attend this "do."

They were the Rodwell brothers, Harry, from Sutton-on-Hull, now in his 86th year, and Len, from Patrington, in his 84th year; Tom Goodwin, also in his 84th year, was the third of the trio and still very much a stalwart and regular Sunday service ringer at Sutton-on-Hull.

All three in fact still get in quite a bit of ringing despite advancing years. A party travelling to Withernsea to ring for a special service recently met one short and called on Len to complete their number. He quickly changed from Wellington boots, left his farm work and rang the treble. Not bad for someone turned 83 and just released from C.B. by the doctor!

The afternoon at Eastrington was filled with ringing of standard methods, a short but pleasant service conducted by the Vicar, followed by tea.

During the brief after-tea "business" a vote of thanks was proposed to Mrs. J. J. Taylor by Mr. K. Kirk for organising this event. He also thanked the principal guests for the ringing they had perpetuated and handed down since the turn of this century, saying it was to men of this calibre that we owe so much for what we enjoy today.

Other members qualified to attend are Mr. F. Atkinson, of York, and Mr. H. Morley, of Selby, both of whom were unable to attend due to either health or transport difficulties. Friends of Mr. Morley will be pleased to know that he is in good spirits and health, but his legs will not permit him much activity.

The day was rounded off with further ringing of standard methods up to Cambridge. A touch of Kent showed us that Len has not forgotten how to handle a tenor, this perhaps proving to be the best touch of the day.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Those who arrived early for the monthly meeting of the Biggleswade District at Silsoe on July 10th were entertained by a wedding. Once the wedding party had departed general ringing got under way under the direction of Mr. T. P. Harris, the local tower captain, and many of the plainer Minor methods were rung.

At the business meeting, which followed tea in the Village Hall, it was decided to send flowers to Miss Steel, who is unfortunately in hospital again. A service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Byen, at which Mr. Harris played the organ, and a wide range of methods, including the special methods, Double Bob and Kelso, were rung during the evening.

Next meeting: Potton, August 14th.

Ringers need to create a good public image. Before all else, our ringing must be worth listening to. As we thrust the sound of the bells upon the public, it is hardly possible to separate the sacred from the secular. Indeed we should not attempt to do so. It is bad theology to try to do it.

Here is something we need to think about very seriously. Why do we ring bells? On what occasions apart from service ringing are we to ring them? Perhaps, as the Twickenham ringer said, this is something for the Central Council to think about. To do this intelligently, they will need the help of modern theologians who are interested in the relationship between the sacred and the secular in theology. I hope the Central Council will do this, for it is by proper discussion that good often comes out of controversial issues.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 23

MISS JULIE A. V. CALIGARI
The Hereford Diocesan Guild

Like all Guilds and Associations today, Hereford has its fair quota of young members including, of course, those of the fair sex, one of whom has become No. 23 of this series.

WORTHIES OF CHARLES CHURCH

Dear Sir, — C. I. J., on page 464, reminds me of many keen Plymouth ringers I knew in the late '90's and in the early years of this century. Walter H. Marsh was very keen on a good rise in peal, and once hurt his ankle badly while strapping a tenor. His son, Ernest W. Marsh, was also a fine ringer who came from Plymouth to Hersham on March 27th, 1913, desiring a peal of Major with the Shepherd family. William Hiscott must have been a good craftsman by trade, for he made a fine gold bell pendant, which was presented to me nearly 50 years ago. Two other Plymouth worthies who are still remembered sincerely by me are Messrs. E. Taylor and G. H. Myers.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

South and West District

There are few churches now left in Middlesex encircled by open fields, but one such is to be found at Harefield, and it was in these pleasant surroundings that the South and West District held a successful meeting on July 3rd. Some 30 members and visitors attended at various times throughout the day, about 20 being present for tea and the business meeting.

Three new members—Mr. J. Walters and Mr. R. Summer (Heston) and Mr. A. E. Cokeley (Harefield)—were elected, and a discussion took place on the possibility of organising a series of weekend evening practices at various towers throughout the District. The secretary agreed to find out whether the idea was practicable and whether sufficient support was likely to be forthcoming.

The ringing ranged from call changes to London and Oswald, the standard of striking being on the whole quite good, with a few occasional scrunches to prevent us becoming over-complacent.

Thanks are due to the Rev. T. G. A. Connor for the use of the bells, to Mrs. Cokeley and Mrs. Butler for preparing the tea, and to Frank Corke for making the arrangements.

W. S. D.

Julie Carigari was born in Hereford on December 9th, 1947. She now attends Leominster Grammar School. Her success to date, at this school, includes nine G.C.E.'s at "O" level. She is now in the Lower Sixth studying French, biology and chemistry.

At the age of 14 Julie had her first ringing lessons. These took place at St. Margaret's, Wellington, her instructor being Mr. George T. Cousins. It was not long before she became a member of the St. Margaret's Sunday service band, which rings regularly each Sunday for Evensong. Steady progress was made, which gained for her her first peal at the first attempt. This was on March 31st, 1964, when she rang the treble to a peal of Bob Minor at Weston-under-Penyard, conducted by George Cousins.

By May of this year Julie's peal total had reached six. She takes advantage of District meetings and has already attended three weekend courses in Hereford, finding them most enjoyable, helpful and instructive.

NORVING.

OBITUARY

MR. DAVID FENN

With deep regret we record the passing of Mr. David Fenn, of Norton Subcourse, Norfolk, on June 15th. He was aged 88 years, and had been a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association for nearly 50 years.

David had lived in the district all his life. He started ringing at Raveningham at the age of 16 and eventually became Master of this company. He held the same position at Thurlton when he moved there and for 40 years he was a loyal and respected ringer at Norton Subcourse. An excellent striker, he did not take part in any peals but could be relied upon to ring many methods from Plain to Surprise for service and practice. David was also a keen churchgoer.

Norton bells were rung half-muffled prior to the funeral service on June 18th, and the whole pull and stand was rung as the cortege arrived at the church. Plain Bob Major was rung on handbells at the graveside following the committal service, and as a last tribute a half-muffled peal was rung in his memory on the following day.

David had been in poor health for the last few years of his life, during which time he lived with his daughter and son-in-law, who gave him every care and attention. H. W. B.

MRS. LE BLANC SMITH

For the past 30 years a member of the Southwold, Suffolk, band, Mrs. Le Blanc Smith died on July 9th, aged 84. In spite of her advanced years, she had been an active Sunday service ringer and apart from holidays and visits to her children had twice a Sunday climbed the 50 steps to the ringing chamber and taken part in all ringing.

It would be difficult to find a better example of sustained keenness and punctuality than was set by her. She showed that regularity and punctuality are the backbone of Sunday service ringing. Her loss is mourned but she has gone as she would wish, scoring her usual two attendances the Sunday before she died.

R. S. P.

MR. A. E. WHEELER

Mr. Arthur Edward Wheeler, of Kirby Belars, Leicestershire, passed away in the War Memorial Hospital, Melton Mowbray, on July 2nd. He was a churchwarden at St. Peter's Church and also a ringer. A member of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, he was well known in the District as a superintendent of the Special Constabulary and also as one of the famous "Kirby Twins," who were at one time in great demand at parties.

A large congregation attended the funeral service on July 6th, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. G. Frostick.

In the evening a half-muffled quarter peal of 1,260 Doubles was rung on the bells by J. H. Cook 1, A. E. Hinkman 2, H. T. Bonshor (conductor) 3, R. Looker 4, R. H. Cook 5.

Bristol University Society Summer Tour

IN spite of attempts during the year by the more radical members of the Society to substitute a barge holiday for a cycling tour, tradition triumphed and, as in previous years, the mode of transport was the bicycle in 1965. The arrangements had been made by Derek B. Williams, and he and C. Martin Foster were to be in charge of ringing throughout the ten days of the tour.

On June 19th, the first day, Derek's airy words "it never rains on the summer tour" were, so far at least, borne out as there was hardly a cloud in the sky, but the ringing at the first tower, Charlton Kings, is best left blanketed by thick cloud as the main body of the company did not arrive at this fine church. As in so many cases, the bells are spoilt inside by bad acoustics and are heard to their best advantage outside. Two more churches were visited on Saturday—Prestbury and Swindon Village; but at neither were bells or ringing outstanding—at the latter it sounded as if a Roman army were on the march when the bells were ringing.

At the end of the day the party, now 20 strong, was faced with a long hard slog to Cleeve Hill Youth Hostel, about 800 feet above sea level on Cleeve Hill (1,070 feet). However, the glorious views to be had from the summit of the hill partly mitigated the exhaustion induced by the climb. Since all our party, bar three, had now arrived, it was an appropriate time to examine the machines, which were to carry the party for the next ten days; they ranged from pre-war to the latest sports models; while pride of place had to be given to a very good looking tandem, rode, as might be expected, by an engaged couple, Martin Foster and Christine Snelling. Any hopes of a restful night were quickly dashed when it was discovered that a party of schoolboys was occupying the men's dormitory in the "care" of a gentleman named Wally.

GREAT HOSPITALITY

Sunday dawned an even hotter day than Saturday; but shorts were now much in evidence and so the heat was not felt. We rang for morning service on the pleasant eight at Bishop's Cleeve, a reasonable course of Cambridge Major being the service touch. We were also pleased to meet Miss Anna K. Sadowska, well known by a certain prominent member of the Society, who unfortunately had to miss the tour. Kenneth J. Darvill joined us here and his skill as a ringer and personal charm made him a welcome addition. After an enjoyable service we were entertained to sherry by the Vicar, who also showed us around his ancient house, parts of which date from the 13th century. This was only the first of several occasions when we met with great hospitality.

After lunch there was a leisurely ride to Toddington and as the day was clear, miles and miles of rolling countryside could be seen on all sides, which made one understand why Britain is sometimes called the most beautiful country in the world. The bells here are rung infrequently, a great pity, as they are a musical light six. Although one or two of the less experienced had difficulty, having been used to the rough bells at St. Michael's, Bristol, the more experienced enjoyed London. Before the long climb home the six bells at the part-Norman church at Alderton were rung for Evensong. After the mile-long one-in-four hill it was as well that the local hostelry was only two minutes away from the hostel: solace was found here.

We were disappointed at Tuesday's first tower, Winchcombe, where the father of one of the Society, Rosemary Appleton, is Vicar, for the bells can hardly be heard in the ringing room and are very difficult to ring. However, a generous meal on the Vicarage lawn more than made up for this. We were then faced with yet another long hill before reaching the next towers, Temple Guiting and Guiting Power. Keats' lines best demonstrate the feelings of some of us at this stage:

My heart aches and a drowsy numbness pains
My sense

O for a draught of vintage! that hath been Cool'd a long age in the deep delved earth
Tasting of Flora and the country green.

The first of the fives we visited is a rather light ring and is a bit of a handful; but the second (Guiting Power) are well-tuned bells. The day was finished on the fine heavy eight at Stow, where there was some good ringing, outstanding of which was a course of York shire. Owing to the selfishness of a peal band which took in all five hours to get a peal, no peals are now allowed here, a great shame.

The youth hostel at Stow, the base for the next three days, is literally sandwiched between public houses—to the great delight of certain members of the company.

RAIN, RAIN, RAIN

It was pouring next day and all arrived very wet at Bourton-on-the-Water; but the ringing was good including a course of London Major and several half-courses of Cambridge, in which three of our members rang their first Surprise Major. After lunch at Ken Darvill's there was a long wet ride to Windrush, which proved to be hardly worth the effort. A long time was spent later in the day in the American tourist's dream of Bourton; among the many picturesque attractions is a model of the charming village in which, appropriately, organ music issues from the Anglican church, congregational singing from the Baptist Chapel. In the evening at Stow, Anthony H. Smith joined the party, which meant we were now accompanied by two from London University, as Roger Powell, the Master, had met us earlier. Both ringing and social life were enlivened by their presence.

It was even wetter early on Wednesday than the previous day and so it was not a pleasant ride to Longborough, where the tower carries an average ring of six. After some fair all-round ringing we journeyed to Blockley, where lunch was eaten, appropriately enough, in the Bell Inn. Ringing was enjoyed here, London, Cambridge and Spliced Surprise all coming round in fine style—before we arrived at Bourton-on-Hill to ring on the odd, anticlockwise six which has, however, a fine tone. Moreton-in-Marsh has a ring of superlative quality; and so it was a pity that the ringing did not match the bells. The last night at Stow was celebrated in traditional style in the White Hart.

On Thursday morning we were sorry to have to say goodbye to two of the many pretty girls in the party—Rosemary Appleton and Mary Suthers; their lively presences were to be missed and it was noticeable that one gentleman in particular did not smile again for the rest of the tour! The ride to Chip-ping Campden proved most satisfying; first a three-mile gradual climb through country as fine as anywhere in Britain; and then a long plummet down to the valley where lies Chipping Campden, once the centre of a flourishing wool trade, but now removed from main industry. Of the many historic buildings which testify to its past prosperity the church is unquestionably the finest, and it has a grand old ring of eight.

ONLY ACCIDENT

It was next decided to visit Church Honeybourne, even though this has not been previously arranged, and on the way the only accident of the tour occurred, Sue Evans having an unpleasant fall; but after extensive medical treatment she was able to continue. The Vicar proved most agreeable but warned us that the last visitors left in a state of collapse. The bells in fact go quite well; but one of the clappers flew out after a short while. There had, however, been enough time to ring a perfect 120 of Reverse Canterbury. The base in the next three days was in the village of Broome, where the youth hostel is of "historic interest": the Broome Inn was also of especial interest to some; and two of the company were to spend each evening there, finding the country cider much to their liking.

It was again wet on Friday morning when we started for Norton (a light eight). By now the many learners on the tour had improved: thus touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob were quite reasonable. Evesham was the next tower with a ring that needs little introduction. Ringing here was good. So stiff were the bells at Church Lench that it is doubtful if they have been rung in the last six months. The evening was spent by nearly all round the hostel piano; Ben Walter and Tim Samuelson deserve a mention here for their singing and piano playing respectively.

The six at Cleeve Prior are a good ring and some spliced went rather well. The next two rings visited, Badsey and Bretforton, are pleasant inside but horribly loud outside—so many rings are ruined for outside listeners because of a lack of proper sound control. On the other hand, Salford Priors, the last of the day, sound even better outside than in.

THE EVENING OF THE TOUR

Sunday, June 27th, was one of the most enjoyable days. We first packed the tiny church at Broome for Matins, to the delight of the Vicar, and then moved on for coffee and lunch on the Vicarage lawn at Bidford, situated—delightfully—on the banks of the Avon. After ringing on the eight bells here, which included some eight spliced, Mr. Broome, the tower captain, showed us the ancient plate the church possesses, one chalice alone of which is worth £3,000. Mr. and Mrs. Broome also kindly gave us tea. The party then split, six going to ring a quarter of Cambridge on the excellent six at Welford: Sue Jenkins 1, A. H. Smith 2, M. G. R. Zobel 3, J. T. Parsons 4, R. Powell 5, N. W. H. Simon (conductor) 6; while the remainder travelled to Clifford Chambers. After supper a relaxing row was enjoyed on the Avon at Stratford. For many this was the evening of the tour.

The ladies had trouble next day before ringing at Stratford; a clergyman would not allow them into the building while they were wearing shorts on the grounds that they were indecently dressed (your correspondent makes no comment); so the girls had to hurriedly change into jeans and the like before they could ring. Stratford, Holy Trinity, has very good bells, and the perfect acoustics in the ringing chamber demonstrated just how bad they are in most belfries. Stedman Caters here.

Thanks are due to Derek Williams for ensuring excellent arrangements and to those who entertained us.

BELL CONSULTANTS BUSY IN DERBY DIOCESE

Although the attendance of 40 was far less than in recent years, no fewer than 14 towers were represented at the Association's summer quarterly meeting held at Darley Dale on July 3rd. Ringing during the afternoon took place on the eighties at Bakewell and Darley Dale prior to the service at Darley conducted by the Rev. W. J. Hill.

Following a short break for tea, the business meeting began with Mr. D. Cooper in the chair, apologies for absence being received from the Rector, the Rev. D. St. John Smith, who is still convalescing after his recent operation, and his daughter, Ann, who had to attend her school speech day.

Reporting on the Bell Repair Fund, the secretary (Mr. G. A. Halls) was pleased to state that with six new subscribers so far this year, almost 80 Parochial Church Councils were now affiliated and out of these only three were in arrears with their subscriptions. With recent visits to Staveley, Dronfield, Denby, Breadsall and Baslow the bell consultants had also been busy, advice having already been given to eight churches this year.

After congratulating Mr. J. Frank Smallwood on his election as an honorary life member of the Central Council, the meeting was reminded of the residential course for instructors which is to be held at Lea Green, Matlock, on November 12th to 14th. As only a very limited number could attend this course, members were urged to apply to Mr. D. J. Marshall, the Education Officer, as soon as possible.

A suggestion to mark the 50th anniversary of Sir A. P. Heywood's death in April next year by a ringing festival in and around Duffield met with unanimous approval. The meeting concluded with the general secretary, Mr. B. P. Morris, proposing the vote of thanks.

Further ringing took place on the six bells at Edensor in Chatsworth Park, home of the Duke of Devonshire.

Next quarterly meeting: Staveley, October 2nd.

RIPPINGALE

Friends from a wide area joined in the Rippingale outing on June 19th into Leicestershire. An early start was made and beautiful weather favoured the day. The following towers were visited: Skeffington, Great Glen, Misterton, South Wigston, Leire and Broughton Astley. A good variety of methods was rung including Spliced Minor, Cambridge and Primrose, London and Wells, Beverley and Surfleet, York and Durham (the Cambridge Six), Double Oxford, Single Oxford, Double Court, Single Court, St. Clement's, Plain Bob, Grandsire Doubles, Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob and Little Bob Major, Cambridge Major, Double Norwich.

A high standard of striking was maintained throughout the day and the lovely bells were appreciated by all.

A surprise awaited the 19 ladies of the company at Broughton Astley, where they were kindly entertained to refreshments at the home of Mr. Marsh's daughter, Janet, while the gentlemen "refuelled their tanks" for the homeward journey at the local.

Thanks are extended to the clergy and local ringers for their warm welcome and to Mr. W. R. Marsh for yet another excellent outing.

TOWER CAPTAINS MARRY

The wedding of Miss A. Frances Proctor and Mr. Howard Oglesby took place on June 19th at Hitcham, Buckinghamshire. The bride and bridegroom are captains of their respective towers, Amersham and Hitcham.

A peal was rung at Hitcham on the eve of the wedding and at Amersham on the morning of the ceremony.

The bride wore a full-length white classical gown and veil. She was attended by five bridesmaids. The best man was Mr. Dick Proctor, brother of the bride.

The reception for 130 guests was held at the bride's home, Orchard End, Amersham, and the honeymoon was spent touring the West Country.

CANFORD SCHOOL SOCIETY

On July 3rd Brian Pocock, of Canford School Campanology Society, organised a tour of South Dorset, just north of Blandford Forum. Leaving Canford at 1.45 p.m. in three cars, Dorchester was reached at 2.30, where some very nice touches of Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles were rung. Grandsire collapsed ten changes from the end, when Hugh Saville called inadvertently "That's all!"

The 15 cwt. six at Shillington were rung well after a shaky raise. The nine-call extent of Grandsire Doubles was successfully called by Brian Pocock. Here there was a half-hour intermission for tea, which was kindly provided by Mrs. Frewers.

At Okeford Fitzpaine, where we were met by the Rev. R. N. Longridge and Mr. Ridout, we did not do justice to the well-going, if loud, 11 cwt. six. The Rector and Mrs. Longridge kindly provided much appreciated refreshments.

After a slightly devious route to Shroton, the bells were rung to Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles. Our last tower was the newly rehung 12 cwt. six at Stourpaine, where two plain courses of Bob Minor were rung.

We would like to thank Dr. Brown and his two daughters and Mr. G. Elmes for their invaluable assistance on the Society's most ambitious afternoon's ringing yet. B. W. P.

OUTINGS

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT

The outing this year was the outcome of an invitation given two years ago by a Weldon ringer, Richard Webster, when on a visit to Barnsley. After a speedy dash down the A.1 our coach, with Richard as pathfinder, took us to Cottesmore in Rutland, where the six, rung from the ground floor, were much to our taste. The church is a gem, well cared for, a revelation to us all.

The midday break was at Oakham, surely a real example of Old England; our desire to linger over lunch was rudely disturbed when we were heaved from the festive board to ring at All Saints'. We surprised even ourselves by the opening course of Bob Major on the beautiful bells reminiscent of the eight at Skipton. We were joined here by Martin Thorley, an exile from South Yorkshire.

A short journey to Preston, with a good ground floor ring which adapted itself to strange methods such as Duke of York and Violet; here we found on the priest's desk copies of "The Ringing World" and learned that bats had deserted the belfry and invaded the nave! A light six rung between the nave and chancel was found at Glaston, where we rang our party piece, Vale Royal, and Christopher Groome, a native of these parts, joined us in Cambridge.

Tea was taken in Corby, a new town in great contrast to the villages previously visited, although there was an old-fashioned market which reminded some of the "Tykes" that vegetables would be needed for the Sunday dinner. St. Mary's, Weldon, a church with a lantern tower and six bells rehung by the Whites of Appleton, has a very fine ring. Deene, our final tower, stands in the grounds of Deene Hall, and we all felt that here we had met the best of the day's bells. The touch of Woodbine we heard from the edge of the park was a fitting climax to our fleeting visit.

We took our leave of Richard, who had made the ringing arrangements, and we owe him our gratitude and to the local incumbents and ringers who met us. Thanks are also due for the weeks of effort by our organising secretary, Christopher Moxon. N. F. M.

APPLETON

June 26th was again the date of the Appleton outing, and it only seems a very short while since the previous year. This time Frank White had planned a new route and at the end of the day it was voted as being a great success.

Our first tower had the very nice ten at Luton, and then on to the lovely noble Norman tower at Bury St. Edmunds, with another good ten. After the usual Appleton lunch of beer and bread and cheese we moved off to the glorious bells at St. Neots in Hunts and these were voted as being the best bells of the day. Then, after a good tea, on to Buckingham and another fine eight, followed by a visit to George Holland.

We had the usual Appleton evening, and after songs and handbell ringing the company was rather surprised at the brilliance of a pianoforte duet by the Hibberts. Appleton was reached at 2.45 a.m. on Sunday, and such was the happiness of the whole company the two hours on the roadside waiting for a refill of petrol passed in no time, with the usual "Songs of Praise."

Now we look forward to March 4th; in the meantime the writer will undoubtedly have a few week-ends at the Plough before that date.

STRIKING COMPETITIONS

Essex Association Final

FOR many years the ancient village of Orsett has remained quietly hidden from the madding crowds. The street past the church and the old timbered Post Office, once the Church House, is normally very quiet—until the afternoon of Saturday, July 3rd! One by one the cars swung into the street and parked opposite the church until they were bumper to bumper from the War Memorial to the bus stop.

Ringers were gathering from all over Essex to listen to, and take part in the striking competition. Six teams had battled through the preliminaries to the final, and this was the great day! The two judges, Peter Eves and Alf House, selected a sheltered spot under the trees at the bottom end of the churchyard. The local captain, Fred Blatch, had all in readiness and the draw for the order of ringing was soon arranged by the Deputy Master, Harry Turner, and the Master of Ceremonies, Mike Hallett.

The draw was made, and Urban Wildney's team from Kirby-le-Soken ascended the tower. After the few trial rounds to get the "feel" of the bells, the ringing to be judged was started and a good steady beat maintained. One slight trin was quickly corrected without too many faults being scored, and the judges, marking harshly as is necessary to determine an order of merit with teams of this calibre, recorded 66 faults.

Don Cobb's team, from Waltham Abbey, rang next with better rhythm, although it was noted that double faults were being recorded, where a slight gap in one change was invariably followed by an equally slight clip in the next. The team was marked with 61 faults.

Colchester's young team, under the capable leadership of Peter Pitt, delighted the listeners with a beautiful piece of ringing that would have been a credit to a much more experienced band. A good beat, just right for the bells, was soon under way, and if a small error in a change was made, the ringers, all alert, immediately compensated for this and the next change was perfect. They might have felt very pleased with only 43 faults.

Now the pace had been well set and the next team, Danbury "B," again a young team, led by Ivan Saunders, could be excused feeling slightly anxious as they set off. This anxiety may have been reflected in their ringing, for although their striking was of a high standard generally, one or two trips spoilt it and resulted in 71 faults.

Prittlewell (Bernard Sadler in charge) followed and in their trial rounds it was obvious that they were going to try a slower beat. The preceding teams had each rung Plain Bob Minor, but Prittlewell decided to ring Doubles, and perhaps for this they tried to ring too slowly, for their ringing was rather hesitant and did not hold together well. Nevertheless it was a good performance and their 65 faults were mainly for irregularities.

In the four previous years that the Essex Association has held a striking competition, Danbury "A" team, led by Dick Roast, have won on no less than three occasions, and this year, firm favourites, they were generally expected to complete a "hat-trick." All good, experienced ringers, they struck off with a fine beat, well maintained by forceful back-end ringing, and away into changes, steady, firm—these could win again! But then—inexplicably—a trip, quickly covered up, at least three faults, then, later, another, and then a double—something was amiss. Fine ringing though it was, it could not be as perfect as they had hoped, or the keen ears below had expected, and the judges, noting it all, made 54 faults.

After tea the M.C. announced the names of the teams and a proud Peter Pitt received the trophy from the hands of the Master of the Essex Association, Mr. Robert C. Heazel, and bore it back in triumph to the applause and congratulations of all. A wonderful performance by St. Leonard's Colchester, a comparatively unknown quantity, to enter and win.

This was not the end, however. Many changes were rung until late in the evening when the rain came. Old Fred, leaning over the churchyard fence, heard them all. "Come again," he said. Some lingered awhile, some drifted away, and gradually the village was silent again.

P. J. E.

Barnsley and District Society

Friezland, whose tower is familiar to thousands for the ringing on the record accompanying Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd's book, "The Sound of Bells," won the shield at the Barnsley and District Society's contest at Wentworth on July 10th. The test was 720 changes, which followed a 120 changes practice, and the judge (Mr. Harold Chant), with Miss Sheila Chinney as marker, gave them 49 faults. Others were Warsop 5 penalties, 86 faults = 91; Shelley 111 faults; Barnsley 150 faults, 5 penalties = 155. The shield was received by Mr. Joseph Burgess, and each member of the team was given a torch flash lamp.

The Rev. A. King presided at the business meeting, during which members stood in silence as a tribute to Mr. Andrew Hoyle, of Shelley, and Mr. Eric Burton, of Kirkburton, who collapsed while ringing at practice on June 15th and the fire brigade was summoned to carry him down the tower. He died the next day.

Nine new members from Roughtown and Felkirk were elected, and the next meeting, on August 14th, will be a joint one at Rotherham with the Southern District of the Yorkshire Association. It was reported that the outing was again successful and special thanks were accorded to Mr. Christopher Moxon, the organiser, and to the guide, Mr. Richard Webster, of Weldon. The vote of thanks to the ladies for the excellent tea, and the judge, was proposed by Mr. J. Burgess.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Devizes Branch

The quarterly meeting at Warminster on July 3rd was well attended. In the absence of the Vicar the Guild service was conducted by the Rev. A. Stott, Vicar of Longbridge Deverill, with Mr. P. Binns, the Minister organist, at the organ. The tea was the gift of the Warminster ringers.

The business meeting was presided over by the Branch chairman (Mr. N. G. Knee) and three new members were elected. Mr. C. Palmer and Mr. G. Davis were proposed from Holy Trinity, Bradford-on-Avon, and from Warminster the new member was William Davies, of East Grinstead, and who is at present a student at The Lord Weymouth School, Warminster. He is one of the many pupils trained by Mr. Brian D. Price.

From Devizes came notice of the possibility of a bellringing course sponsored by the local education authority, and the Branch Committee was requested to look into the matter with a view to assistance in instruction.

Ringing at the Minster continued until after 8 p.m. and ranged from Plain Bob to the Surprise methods. A goodly proportion of time was allotted to rounds, and the Ringing Master, Mr. Norris, did not hesitate to call on the advanced ringers to help in this important practice: it was gratifying to see how readily they responded.

Dorchester Branch

The Rector, the Rev. S. Hampton, gave a warm welcome to members of the Dorchester Branch at the quarterly meeting held at Piddihinton on July 3rd. Ringing preceded the Guild service and an excellent tea was served in the school by Mr. T. Jeanes and Mr. and Mrs. G. Lord.

The business meeting was conducted by the Branch chairman, the Rev. C. F. C. Brinkworth. Subject to the approval of incumbents, evening practices will take place at Frampton, July 31st; Litton Cheney, August 14th; Piddletrenthide, August 28th; Cattistock, September 11th; and Fordington, October 9th.

West Dorset Branch

Good weather and a nonular light ring of bells attracted several visitors to the Branch's quarterly meeting at Evershot on June 26th. They were made most welcome. During the afternoon and evening 13 methods (six Minor and seven Doubles) were tackled, the highlight being Carter's Doubles.

The Rector (the Rev. A. F. Andrews) conducted the Guild's service and also gave an address on bells through the ages. Local ringers and their wives prepared an excellent meal in the Village Hall.

In the unavoidable absence of the chairman, the Rector took the chair at the business meeting. Subject to confirmation, the following practice nights were announced: Broadwindsor, August 11th; Lyme Regis, August 19th; Bradpole, September 8th; Evershot, September 17th; Symondsburry, October 13th.

STEDMAN TRIPLES—Its Construction and Calling

We now come to the question of calls and their effect on the succession of the sixes. Bobs and singles are called at the fifth row of the six but the effect of the call is not completely revealed until the end of the following six.

The example given here shows a bob at the fifth row of a Slow Six. Note carefully that even if no bob had been called, the six-end 2416375 would still have been rung. It is at the parting of the sixes that the bob is made and the result is manifested at the end of the following six. So if six-end 2416375 had not been bobbed, the six-end 2467153 would have resulted. Seeing that a bob is called, the six-end 2463175 is produced. The impact of the bob (if we may use such a term) is, in this example, on a Quick Six, and we may therefore call this a specimen of a "Quick Bob-Six."

If the student will take the trouble to write out a similar example, calling his bob in a Quick Six and causing it to have effect in a Slow Six, he will have an example of a "Slow Bob-Six."

For pricking touches by the six-ends, therefore, we shall need these two scales in addition to the scales for pricking Plain Sixes; and, moreover, seeing that singles are extensively used, we shall also require the scales for "Quick Single-Six" and "Slow Single-Six." Here is the complete schedule of scales.

Effect of Quick	Effect of Slow	Effect of Quick
Bob-Six	Single-Six	Single-Six
1245367	2415376	1245376

We are now fully equipped for the pricking of touches of all kinds by the six-ends, and at this point we would again urge the would-be conductor to make himself thoroughly acquainted with this process and adept in its manipulation: for no intelligent conducting can be contemplated without a complete comprehension of the construction of touches and their expression in figures.

3. SIMPLE CALLINGS

Broadly speaking, there are two classes of touches. The one type is based on the principle of having an observation bell not affected by calls. The second type has, perhaps, fixed bells, but they are affected by calls. Touches of the first class provide, generally speaking, the easiest modes of calling: touches of the second class usually produce the best music.

First let us consider touches with an observation bell undisturbed by the calls, and for this purpose let us use the 7th as observation bell. Later on we shall perceive that what is done with the 7th may be done with any other bell.

An examination of the course given here will show that if the 7th is to ring plain courses, calls can be made only at the sixes marked 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

12 and 13. The bob (or single) at 3 is called where the 7th dodges in 4-5 down before going in slow. The calling position is therefore said to be "In slow": the call at 4 is put as the 7th is doing its First Whole Turn; the bob at 4, therefore, is designated "First Whole."

The calls at 12 and 13 are where the 7th goes In and Out Quick. The first of these is called as the 7th is dodging in 4-5 down, and the second one just as the 7th leaves the lead.

These calling positions are set out below with their "official" names attached to them, and the would-be conductor must be thoroughly familiar with their meaning and with the exact spot at which these calls must be put. He must know, for instance, that a bob at 7 is called when the observation bell is leading full at the fifth row of the six, and that a bob at 5 is called when the observation bell is making thirds before doing its First Half Turn.

The soundest and most satisfactory plan is to write out the full course of Stedman Triples (every row) and to mark the exact spot where each call will have to be made. "The Ringers' Diary," that mine of information, very kindly does this for us, but the beginner's study will be enriched if he takes the trouble to write out a course for himself.

Here, now, are the calling positions of the observation bell unaffected by calls. The 7th is used as observation bell.

Call at	Name	Called when
3.	In Slow	7th dodging in 4-5 down.
4.	First Whole Turn	7th leading a hand-stroke blow at fifth row of six.
5.	First Half Turn	7th making Thirds before leading one blow.
6.	Second Half Turn	7th in seconds place before leading one backstroke blow.
7.	Last Whole Turn	7th leading full at fifth row of six.
8.	Out Slow	7th making thirds before leaving front.
12.	In Quick	7th dodging in 4-5 down.
13.	Out Quick	7th just leaving the lead.

Here are two simple specimen touches made by the use of these callings. Both of them run to three full courses, that is, 252 changes, and both are easy exercises for the beginner.

3467251	3467251
4732651	4732651
4725316	4751326
7541263	7142563
7516432	7126435
5673124	1673254
5632741	1635742
6254317	6514327
6741533	6542173
2167455	5267431
2173654	5274631
1325746	2453716
1354267	2431567
Repeat	Repeat
twice	twice
5324167	2143567
2314567	2314567

The second touch is made by calling the 7th In Quick (bob at 12). This produces the course end 2431567, and if this is twice repeated we shall get back to rounds.

Incidentally, both these touches have some musical value. In No. 1, note how 4, 6 and 7 come into their rounds position at the end of each course. This means that the pleasant-sounding rows ending in 746 will occur in each part. In No. 2 note that 567 come home at each part end, which means that we shall have this musical "roll-up" in each of the three parts.

Now seeing that one solitary bob thus produces a course end that will repeat twice and give a touch of three courses, it will be clear that any isolated bob at 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 12 or 13, will do the same trick. By the very elementary use of the above callings, therefore, we have eight touches of 252 changes.

Moreover, if using the 7th in this manner will produce touches three courses in length, we are brought to discover that calling ANY BELL in this fashion will give us touches of three courses too. Here is an example of using the Treble as observation bell and calling it "In Quick." A course end 2317546 is produced, the course end now being, of course, where the Treble is in her rounds position. The repetition of this calling twice will bring first 2316574 and then 2314567, and a quite nice musical touch has resulted.

The student should note very carefully that any bell may be used as observation bell. It should, of course, be the aim of the young conductor to call from a non-observation bell, but the approach to that skill is not often a smooth one, and in the early stages he may have to rely on calling from the fixed bell. At this degree of competence it is useful to know that any bell may be made the observation bell and that the callings shown above may be applied equally well to whichever bell the conductor has to ring. S.E. Branch

About 50 members and friends assembled for the quarterly meeting of the S.E. Branch at Blaxhall, when under the watchful eye of Mr. Howard Egglestone, the Ringing Master, the bells were kept going constantly. The service was conducted by the Rev. E. S. Browne, with his wife as organist, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Shaw and helpers provided a good tea.

At the meeting, the chairman, Mr. G. R. Goodship, made three suggestions: (1) Younger members bring their problems to quarterly meetings, as they may be of interest to the Branch and Guild; (2) As a high dignitary of the Church at a recent gathering had seen fit to discredit ringers, that incumbents with rings of bells be entertained to a social evening during which it might be possible to convey that ringers in general are active church people and workers; (3) That sympathetic and active support be given to St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, Appeal.

A detailed report of the Central Council meeting was given by Mr. C. W. Pipe, who urged more support of "The Ringing World." Evening ringing was at Tunstal.

Next meeting: Coddensham, September 11th.

West Lindsey Outing

The main feature of the Branch's outing on June 26th was a visit to Messrs. John Taylor and Co.'s foundry at Loughborough, which was thoroughly enjoyed by ringers and friends. Mr. H. Marcon was an excellent guide, and there was ringing on the light ten.

A recital was arranged for us on the carillon in Queen's Park, and the younger members who climbed the tower were rewarded by splendid views from the balcony. Ringing during the afternoon was at St. Mary-in-the-Elms, Woodhouse and Quorn; we returned to Loughborough for a salad tea at the Boulevard Café.

On the return journey some of the party found difficulty in handling the long draught of the unguided ropes at Langar (5). The last tower visited contained the heavy melodious eight at Colston Bassett. Thanks for the Branch's most successful outing to date must be expressed to Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Mr. Marcon, incumbents and ringers of the churches visited. T. A.

As can be seen, this is nothing less than a lead of Normanton Special Alliance followed by a lead of Bastow Little Court. This, and Nottingham Single Bob, may well have been the inspiration of E. Banks James and others in formulating Alliance methods. One of a group of methods described as "Nottingham Peals."

NOTTINGHAM MIXT PEAL

"Campanologia," 1677. As Plain Bob except that "Singles" were used instead of plain leads.

NOTTINGHAM SINGLE BOB

x 16 x 16 x 14 x 14 x 16 x 16 x 16 x 14 (Bob) x 16 x 14 x 16 x. 2nds. "Campanologia," 1677. Although the path of the treble up to the Bob differs (in 5-6) from modern Alliance methods, the method after the Bob is pure Little Bob.

NOTTINGHAM TREBLES AND DOUBLES

See Single Court.

In the early attempts at change ringing, as can be seen from "Tintinnologia," 1688, and "Campanologia," 1677, methods were built up from "Single" changes (i.e. one pair of bells changed between consecutive rows). As the Art progressed, "Doubles," and finally "Trebles and Doubles" were employed. Recently there has been a partial reversion to "Single" changes.

A peal was lost at Leatherhead on July 10th when the clapper of the ninth broke after about an hour of very good ringing, writes Mr. John R. Ketteringham.

The ringers of St. Andrew's, Sutton, Cambs, appeared in a programme on the Fens, which replaced the feature "Tonight" on B.B.C. 1 on July 20th at 7 p.m.

Mr. Alan F. Scholfield, of Hyde, inquires as to particulars of the restored ring at Bradford-on-Tone, mentioned in the report of the annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Association.

Many Suffolk ringers will join us in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert R. Goodship on their golden wedding on July 9th. Mr. Goodship rang the tenor at Barking, Suffolk, to a peal in four Minor methods on the anniversary day.

Will the ringer who has asked for permission for a peal attempt at St. Andrew's, Hampton, Evesham, in the first or second week in August, get in touch with Mr. N. Mills, Ringing Master, 19, Highfield Road, Hampton, Evesham.

The Master and 11 past Masters of the Ancient Society of College Youths rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Giles', Cripplegate, on July 10th. The senior Master participating was Mr. E. P. Duffield (1934).

ANOTHER CLERIC RINGS HIS FIRST PEAL

By ringing a peal of Bob Major at St. Andrew's, Hampton, Evesham, on June 19th, the Rev. R. W. Thomas joins the ranks of peal ringing clergy. When he was appointed Rector of St. Florence, near Tenby, he found four bells in the tower and set about adding two trebles. The six were dedicated in December, 1964, and it was then that Mr. Thomas set about learning to handle a bell. To get the necessary practice to gain proficiency he had to travel long distances, and it was the writer, a friend of 15 years' standing, he asked if a peal attempt could be arranged in Evesham while on holiday.

Permission was given by the Vicar for an attempt on the delightful light eight at Hampton. As Mr. Thomas is a capable organist and good musician the writer considered he would have no difficulty with striking, and this opinion proved correct. A good peal was duly rung and the forecast is that this will be the first of many peals. G. J. H.

RINGERS' SUNDAY AT CHRISTCHURCH PRIORY

The first ever "Ringers' Sunday," held at Christchurch Priory took place on July 4th and proved to be most successful.

In the afternoon the belfry was open to visitors, who were able to see the ringers at work and also, through a window let into the ringing chamber door, to view the bells themselves in motion. Between touches, short explanatory talks were given to Mr. A. V. Davis to the non-ringing visitors, over 100 of whom availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the tower.

The Vicar of Christchurch, the Rev. Leslie H. Yorke, conducted Evensong, which was attended by a large congregation. The choir rendered the French carol "Ding Dong Merrily on High" as an Introit, and the anthem was Purcell's "Bell Anthem." The lessons were read by Mr. Gerald Scragg, Priory captain of bells, and Mr. William T. Godfrey, of Milford-on-Sea. Canon K. W. H. Felstead, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, was the preacher.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Mrs. A. V. Davis 1-2, A. A. Price 3-4, A. V. Davis 5-6, R. Kiddle 7-8 immediately after the Blessing.

Ringers from several towers in the Christchurch District and other visitors took part in the ringing during the day, and others from Ringwood, Milford, Hordle, Sopley and St. Peter's, Dorchester, attended the service with the Priory ringers. A. V. D.

MORE ABOUT STAVELEY PEAL

The recent peal of Boh Major at Staveley Derbyshire (page 435) was rung as a belated farewell compliment to the former Rector, the Rev. T. L. Weatherhead, who was inducted as Dean of Nassau in the Bahamas on May 30th.

In addition to it being her first peal at the first attempt, young Verena Simpson is to be congratulated on becoming the first ever female member of the local band to ring "inside" to a peal.

WITH THE LATE CAROLYN VIBERT IN MIND

From Here would I comfort you, and tell you of my bells on High,
You whom I loved, and too soon left;
Stand not inactive and bereft
As tho' for one quite lost! I gain the Tower of the Sky.

A ringing chamber having neither ceiling, walls nor floors,
Yet, mystically, so very near
To you, dear hearts, it does appear To me as if the belfry all divine is next to yours.

The Captain, whom I joy to see in our vast Holy Room,
Joins with the saintly ones of old
Music to make on bells of gold.
And I am there . . . to hear Heaven's Treble Light and Tenor boom.

At morn and eve, my ringing love-filled notes fall on your brow,
Like tinkling kisses from Above.
And yours come back to me, in love.
From cherished steeples known and shared on Earth . . . and thought on Now. E. M.

DAVENTRY'S NEW TEN

The first peal on the ring of ten bells at Daventry was rung on June 27th, three weeks after the dedication. It was not the first attempt, as on June 12th a Peterborough Guild band met short for Grandsire Caters, and on June 18th the same method was lost after 1½ hours' ringing. Several visiting bands have booked peal dates already, and it is hoped to attempt peals at fortnightly intervals.

The local band is settling down to teaching a group of 20 beginners, most of whom are 11-year-olds, and who will, it is hoped, form the future band at Daventry.

The bells have been very highly praised by all who have heard them, and it as been said by many that they are among the very best of the lighter rings of ten in the country. writes P. I. C.

RINGING FOR METHODIST CONFERENCE

The Methodist Conference was this year held in Plymouth, and on Sunday, July 4th, a united service was held at St. Andrew's Church, the preacher being the president of the Conference, the Rev. W. Walker Lee. The delegates numbered about 600, and they were joined by many clergy of the Church of England and members of other denominations. The bells were rung for this very historic service, the band being representative of the Branch. St. Andrew's ringers were joined by those from Tavistock, Whitchurch, Plymouth, Emmanuel (Plymouth) and a visitor from Blackpool, who is an unattached member of the S.W. Branch. History, too, was made on July 3rd, when the Roman Catholic Bishop of Plymouth, the Rt. Rev. Mervyn C. R. Restieaux, spoke at the Conference in the Guildhall: the Bishop was accompanied by the Anglican Bishop of Plymouth, the Rt. Rev. W. Guy Sanderson. This was the first time a Roman Catholic Bishop had ever attended a Methodist Conference.

ST. GEORGE'S BARKINGSIDE

Situated on the busy North Circular road east of London, and almost lost amongst the surrounding suburbia, lies the modern brick-built Church of St. George, Barkingside.

Built in 1932, the church owes its tower and bells to the industry and perseverance of the Vicar, who was personally responsible for raising the money for them. The bells, from Mears and Stainbank's foundry, were hung as and when the money became available, six before the war, the seventh in 1947, and finally the 10 cwt. tenor in 1954, and although cast and hung over a period of almost 20 years are a very good octave. Recently the pages have been closed on the first chapter in the history of the bells with the departure to West London of John Barrance, tower captain for the past 15 years. He will be greatly missed and we wish him luck in his new area.

During the construction of the tower insufficient money made it impossible to build it to its full height and as a result it has a small temporary "top hat" 20 feet below the designed height. The low height of the tower and the close proximity of the surrounding houses have presented problems owing to noise, and for night practices the bells have had to be tied or fully muffled. John, having been requested by the Vicar to form a band, started from scratch and with one or two visiting ringers taught a band up to the standard of Grandsire Triples and Stedman Doubles. This band has now broken up. John being the last to leave, and now we are starting again with a fully muffled practice and a keen band of youngsters.

At present we can only manage call changes and plain hunting. Any ringers will be very welcome on Tuesday evening practice sessions or for Sunday service ringing at 10.30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Touring bands are also welcome and should now contact me at the following address: D. Ellisdon, 161, Redbridge Lane East, Ilford, Essex.

NOW NINETY

The 90th birthday of Mr. Geo. E. Symonds was happily not allowed to pass unnoticed by members of the Suffolk Guild. On July 11th a quarter peal of Spliced Yorkshire, Cambridge and Superlative was rung at Framdsen. A peal had been intended but unfortunately the band assembled late.

MONUMENTAL BELL CONCERT

Seventy ringing bands and bell choirs attended the ninth national convention of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers held in Washington, D.C., on June 23rd-25th. Probably never before have so many bells been used at the same time as during the festival concert in the Cathedral, as 58 bell choirs (1,000 players) from 36 States and Canada participated. The contest was described as "a shimmering bombardment that bathed every corner of the church with golden echoes."

Mr. Frederick Sharpe was again invited but had to decline. Scott Parry, Wayne Dirksen, and girl tower ringers demonstrated the Cathedral bells on the day of the convention visit, and Ronald Barnes, the carillonneur, lectured. The film, "The Tower of Washington," was shown in the Resurrection Chapel.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Leatherhead District

A most successful and enjoyable meeting was held at Stoke D'Abernon and Cobham on July 3rd. Ringing was under the direction of Mr. David Herschell, and a variety of methods was rung on the light six at Stoke during the afternoon. The service was led by the Vicar, whose interesting address was on the history of the bells with particular reference to the inscriptions. The organ was played by Miss V. Martin, a Guild member from Seale.

Tea, which had been competently prepared by the local ringers, followed. At the business meeting, with the Master in the chair, four new members from Stoke were elected. Those present were reminded of the annual joint meeting with the Surrey Association at Leatherhead on August Bank Holiday (August 30th) and the next District meeting at Mew and Clandon on October 30th.

STRIKING COMPETITIONS

Archdeaconry of Stafford Society

A successful striking competition was held at the six-bell Church of St. Mary, Shreshill, near Wolverhampton, on July 3rd. Two minutes were allowed for practice after which each team had to set their bells and then ring the test piece of 120 changes of either Plain Bob Doubles or Minor. Towers entering the contest were Bilston, Cannock, Lichfield Cathedral, Little Aston (two teams), Penn. Rushall, Stafford and Willenhall. Messrs. A. Ballard (Hinckley), J. P. Fidler (Loughborough) and D. P. Jones (Church Gresley) were the judges. The first three winning teams were Little Aston "A" 26 faults; second, Lichfield Cathedral 36 faults; third, Rushall 61 faults. Rushall deserve special mention as they are a newly formed band and had never entered before.

Prior to the results, light refreshments were partaken of on the Vicarage lawn, and Mr. H. Butler and the Shreshill ladies are thanked for this kindly gesture. C. M. S.

Guildford Diocesan Guild

The Guildford District held its first striking competition on July 10th at Puttenham and five of the 16 towers sent teams. The judge, Mr. G. L. Grover, found it difficult to reach a decision between the first two. Shalford (conductor L. Hunter) had 20 faults, and Holy Trinity, Guildford (conductor D. Tubbs) 22, but the latter were awarded a bonus of three points for good leading and rhythm. Other placings were: Chiddingfold (J. Payton), Godalming (Miss E. Stevinson) and Stoke-next-Guildford (W. Savill). Mr. J. Payton (District Secretary) was organiser and Miss W. A. Oliver marker.

LOUGHBOROUGH, LEICS.—At the Bell Foundry Campanile, on July 8th, 1,280 Yorkshire Surprise Major: J. K. Smith 1, A. E. Rowley 2, E. Deakin (first touch in the method) 3, J. W. Cotton 4, R. Hughes (first of Surprise Major "inside") 5, R. J. Clifton 6, R. H. Cook 7, R. K. Mason (cond.) 8.

MILBORNE PORT, SOMERSET.—On July 1st, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: R. Field 1, Mrs. P. Cross 2, T. Cross 3, R. Fox 4, T. Setter 5, K. Prime (cond.) 6. An 80th birthday compliment to Mr. W. Mitchell, ringer at this church for 42 years and sidesman for 40 years.

SOME OF THE JULY OUTINGS

BURES HAVE A WEEK-END IN SURREY

Due to marriage and employment, the Bures (Suffolk) company were reduced from Surprise Major to Plain Minor, so it was with great satisfaction that after building the company up again the Ringing Master was able to announce that they were now good enough to take on tour. All the members travelled on Friday, July 9th, to Chertsey, which was to be the headquarters for the week-end.

On Saturday morning they were met at Old Woking by the Guild Ringing Master and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. R. May, who extended to them a very warm welcome. Other towers visited were Send, Merrow, Shalford, Bramley, Womersley, Albury, Shere and West Clandon. Methods rung ranged from Plain Bob Minor to Yorkshire at towers where one local was able to ring it.

Chobham and Egham were visited on Sunday morning to assist with service ringing, and during the afternoon an invitation to visit Sandgate Convent was accepted and a demonstration of change ringing on handbells was greatly enjoyed by the residents.

Evensong at Guildford Cathedral provided the opportunity for the younger members to ring their first rounds on ten bells, whilst the others enjoyed Grandsire and Stedman Caters.

HUNTINGDON DISTRICT IN NOTTS

The first Saturday in July again proved to be a very enjoyable day for the Huntingdon District of the Ely Diocesan Association and their friends.

This year's tour was around the outskirts of Nottingham, and after an early start (too early for some) Bingham was reached in good time. Perhaps we had not yet overcome the effects of early rising, but anyway we did not do justice to the musical eight. We were even less successful at Holme Pierrepont, where the short draught had some of our less experienced members in trouble.

After a first-class lunch at Radcliffe-on-Trent, however, we came into our own, and the magnificent eight here were put to good use. The stately six at Cotgrave were also much enjoyed and so was the excellent tea, so kindly laid on for us at Riddington by Sid Adams.

Difficulty in hearing the bells here led to some rather mediocre ringing, but at the last tower of the day, Barton-in-Fabis, the Minor ringers let themselves go, and a most enjoyable hour was spent on these bells.

Our thanks are due to the incumbents, those who met us, Paul for arranging the tour and Sid Adams for all his help.

LUTON

On July 3rd the ringers of Luton Parish Church, with visiting ringers from Harpenden and Totternhoe and a number of non-ringers, spent a happy day in East Anglia.

Bury St. Edmunds, rich in historic associations, was the first stop, and whilst the ringers enjoyed a pull on the ten bells in the famous Norman tower of the Cathedral, others were able to see some of the beauties of this ancient and interesting town. A run of 40 miles brought us to Norwich, where lunch was taken, after which the ringing enthusiasts visited East Dereham and found an excellent ring of eight, now, fortunately, no longer hung anti-clockwise. A splendid day put us all in good shape for the long homeward journey, a stop being made at Cambridge for a ring on the grand Taylor octave at the Church of Our Lady and the English Martyrs, and, of course, for refreshment. A very satisfying trip ended in a reasonably early arrival back in Luton, allowing those who lived in outlying places ample time to catch buses, etc.

This was a day of great enjoyment for ringers and non-ringers alike, and the thanks of the visitors were very gracefully expressed by Mr. O. H. Wagstaff, a churchwarden at Luton Parish Church.

Incumbents and friends both old and new who met us, and Basil Hulatt for his efficient arrangements, are sincerely thanked. A. E. R.

WRINGTON AT GUILDFORD

July the first was a red letter day for Wrington ringers and friends. Leaving Broad Street at 6 a.m., and travelling east through the Somerset Lakeland, a very scenic trip brought us to Andover and a call for coffee before ringing on the musical bells of the Parish Church. It may have been the 70 quaint steps leading to the ringing chamber which caused nerves, but certainly the striking did not do justice here.

Next came the tower of the day—Guildford Cathedral—where, through Mr. Herbert Knight's efforts in conjunction with other forces, permission had been granted for our visit even before the bells were in the tower, and it proved that we were the first visitors as a party. The long climb of 144 steps completed, all were longing to hear the music of this new ten. Led by Mr. Knight and nine others, a reasonably good "rise" and eight leads of Grandsire Caters was accomplished before setting the bells. It was agreed by all that the tone was unquestionably grand. Touches were also rung on the back eight. Two rather disappointing factors here were: (1) The straight line of the front bell ropes, and (2) the vast circle, which one would think unnecessary, but there may be reasonable answers to both. After a good "fall" in peal it was time to refuel the inner man.

Next on the list was Holy Trinity, to which we were able to walk. On looking at the visitors' book the writer found that he visited the tower on September 25th, 1938. Some good striking was heard here. After tea, Farnham bells were tried.

Methods rung during the day comprised Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Cambridge and Plain Bob Major, numerous methods of Triples and rounds. Wrington was reached at 12.30 a.m. Thanks are due to all who met us at the various towers having everything ready and to Mr. Herbert Knight for his enterprise in organising such a successful and pleasant outing. We were all very glad to meet Mrs. John Chilcott and Mr. Mark White and have them join us at Guildford Cathedral and at lunch.

CALVERLEY, YORKS

Calverley ringers and friends made an 8 a.m. start in their 49-seater coach on July 3rd for their outing. An hour's ringing took place at Holme-on-Spalding-Moor, after which all proceeded to Beverley for lunch, a company of 60 sitting down to an enjoyable meal.

Partington bells proved to be well worth the effort of having to crawl along a three feet high passage to reach the ringing chamber. At Withernsea there was some doubt as to whether we were at the right tower as according to "Dove's" the bells should have been at St. Mary's, but the only church to be found with bells was St. Nicholas'.

The final tower contained the melodious eight at Howden, where methods rung included Cambridge, Stedman, Double Norwich and Plain Bob.

THE REWARDS OF RINGING

IN June, 1940, the actions of an individual named Hitler, and the strong possibility of an invasion of this country by his forces, put a stop to ringing, or, more correctly, limited the sounding of church bells to a warning signal should that invasion take place. He could not have been aware of the dislocation this caused in an Oxfordshire village, where arrangements had been made by the ringers to mark the wedding of one of their number in an appropriate manner. The bridegroom had taught many of them to ring, and was associated with them also in the choir, as they were choirboys as well as ringers.

There was nothing for it but to postpone the attempt, and hope that nothing would interfere with plans to mark the silver wedding instead. In the thick of the evacuation from Dunkirk this was giving hostages to fortune with a vengeance, but a recent "Ringing World" contained a report of the quarter peal of Doubles duly rung in the Oxfordshire tower on the 25th anniversary, with four of the original "boys" taking part. Boys? Grown men with families, but still faithful to their church.

The bride and bridegroom had, in 1947, moved to South Wales, near a four-bell tower, and it was not long before these bells were being rung every week. Most ringers would agree that six bells are preferable to four, and, after three years, two trebles were dedicated and the old four rehung. Teaching continued and the tower has never been without a band, though it has had its ups and down. Good progress would be made, competent ringers would move from the area, and we were back where we started. When learners predominated, ringing was mainly call changes, though at the present time it is half-a-dozen Doubles methods and half-a-dozen Minor.

For the silver wedding anniversary the happy couple were touring Wales. On his return the bridegroom asked: "Did you have a good practice last week?" and was merely told "Yes." It transpired that instead of a practice six of the ringers had on the anniversary rung a quarter peal of Doubles in four methods, and all but one of the ringers had been taught from scratch in the South Wales tower. The other ringer, not to be outdone, had prepared a beautifully written scroll commemorating the occasion, and had decorated the borders with the diagrams of the methods rung. This was presented by the oldest ringer, who, at over 70, is still learning new methods.

Now this tale is not related in any way for self-glorification, but to point out one of the rewards of ringing. When you teach someone, you never know what you are starting; often it is a false start—learners get part of the way and for various reasons are seen no more. Occasionally you have put someone on the road to Surprise Maximus (it has happened here). Sometimes your recruit is proficient years afterwards only on the treble or drumming behind, but you know he will always be there, and it is your job as captain to try to blend the varying capabilities.

Above all, when you look back over the years and give thanks for 25 years of married happiness, it is an added joy to know that those you taught to ring so many years ago are still serving their church and that they in turn have taught the next generation. May it still be so if we are spared to see our golden wedding.

PAST MASTERS' PEAL AT CRIPPLEGATE

WHEN Jack Phillips came to the end of his year of office as Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths last November and made the number of surviving past Masters up to 18, he decided that the time was ripe for another "Past Masters' Peal." There were to be two differences from previous such peals; first, it was hoped that the band would be drawn entirely from past Masters (previous peals had included the present Master), and secondly, the method should be Cambridge Surprise Maximus instead of Stedman.

However, when it came to arranging the band for the original attempt on March 13th, it was found that only eleven past Masters were available, and so the present Master was included. The band duly met at Cripplegate on March 13th, but unfortunately the noise of pile-driving just outside the tower in connection with the Barbican redevelopment scheme was too distracting, and the attempt came to an end after about an hour. This was particularly unfortunate because the present Master, Rodney Meadows, had invited us to be his guests at an informal dinner that evening at the George, Southwark. We had the dinner, and enjoyed it very much, and we are very grateful to the Master for it, but it was not quite the same as if we had scored the peal. For that evening we were joined by two other past Masters—Ernest Fenn and Frank Smallwood—and by the senior and junior stewards.

It was soon decided that we were not going to accept defeat, so later in the evening diaries were produced, and it was found that we were all free on July 10th. So on that day the same band as before met again at Cripplegate, and this time, with no outside noises to distract us, we were successful. After the peal we refreshed ourselves on humbler fare than on the previous occasion, at the Bell, and no one objected when Ted Duffield announced that, as senior past Master present, he was going to buy the first round!

As far as I know, only two "Past Masters' Peals" had previously been rung by the College Youths—Stedman Caters at Stepney on April 14th, 1956, and Stedman Cinques at Croydon on July 12th, 1958. We also wonder whether any other Society has rung such a peal.

The band wishes to associate with the peal the name of J. Frank Smallwood (elected Master in 1950) as a compliment to him on being elected a life member of the Central Council.

Besides those who took part in the peal, other living past Masters of the College Youths are: James Bullock (elected 1928), Ernest Fenn (1938-45), George Cecil (1946-7), Thomas Fox (1949), Frank Smallwood (1950), Cyril Watts (1954) and Michael Moreton (1960).

Mrs. Jacqueline King New President of Ladies' Guild

THE annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at Eastbourne, Sussex, on July 3rd, and nearly every District was represented. Twelve towers were open during the day, and members, many of whom had travelled long distances to be present, made full use of the opportunity to "collect" a number of towers. In fact, it was a Ringing Master's dream meeting, with touch following touch in quick succession; one member of the "Supporters' Club" was heard to remark that one almost needed starting blocks in order to grab a rope!

The service was held at St. Mary's Church, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. March. We think we fulfilled the hopes he expressed in his opening remarks, the singing of the 90 or more ringers present proving to be of a high standard.

Tea was held in the beautiful Tudor Hall of the Old Parsonage, linked to St. Mary's Church by a cloister, one of the finest halls in which our meeting has been held. The Vicar joined the members for tea, and also present were Mr. K. V. Johnson, the Master of the Sussex County Association, and the general secretary, Mr. R. W. Percy.

After an excellent meal prepared by Mrs. Percy, Miss R. Earl and members of the Sussex District, the Guild president, Mrs. O. Barnett, welcomed those present and expressed the thanks of the Guild to all who had worked so hard to make the meeting a success, the incumbents for the use of the bells, the Vicar of St. Mary's for taking the service, the organist and the officers and members of the Sussex District for making all the arrangements. The Rev. W. March thanked Mrs. Barnett for her kind remarks and welcomed the Guild to Eastbourne. Mr. Percy also welcomed the Guild on behalf of the Sussex County Association and hoped they would have a good meeting. The men then left the hall, some to ring at St. Mary's and some to the kitchen, where they kindly did all the washing-up so that the ladies could attend the business meeting.

FOUNDER MEMBER PRESENT

This was the largest meeting for several years, and present were one founder member (Mrs. Hairs) and two who had been members for over 50 years (Miss S. Thursfield and Mrs. E. Mitchell).

In her opening remarks the president mentioned three Districts in which peals had been rung since the last annual general meeting—South Wales, Sussex and Kent—and also congratulated the band which rang the first peal of Cinques for the Guild at Leicester.

After the reading of the minutes and apologies for absence, the members stood in silence in memory of six members who had died since the last annual general meeting—Miss Ffoulke, Mrs. Hazelden, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Rowley, Miss Nora Shorter and Mrs. Ada Wall.

The election of new members provided more interest than usual, in that two were elected from Northern Ireland, two from Scotland and two from England.

According to the rules of the Guild, Mrs. Barnett, who had served three years as president, could not be re-elected. Two nominations had been received, but one nominee asked for her name to be withdrawn, and Mrs. J. S. King, of the South Wales District, was duly elected president for the ensuing year. The remaining officers were re-elected.

MRS. JACQUELINE KING, the new President.

The treasurer, Miss Joan Beresford, reported an enviable position—an excess of income over expenditure to the extent of some £12. Needless to say her report was adopted, with the very grateful thanks of the Guild for the work she had done during the year.

The District concerned proposed that the annual general meeting next year should be held at Exeter on July 2nd, 1966. (Will all members who were not at Eastbourne please make a careful note of this.)

Members then dispersed for further ringing in Eastbourne or to find suitable camp sites for the night. We hope the two members who slept in the car in a lay-by on Friday night thoroughly enjoyed the accommodation so kindly offered them by another for Saturday night. The enthusiasm of those who founded the Guild is still shown today in the many and varied means they employ to get to the annual meeting.

OUTING

EMMANUEL, PLYMOUTH

For their 19th post-war annual outing Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, rang in four towers—Twerton, Dunster, Minehead and Huntsham. Lunch and tea were provided at Woods Cafe, Dulverton. Although the party numbered 31, including the Vicar (Preb. Young) and the curate, there were only 13 ringers due to a clash of holidays and one, Mr. F. R. Hocking, being in Canada. The ringing, however, was thoroughly enjoyed, and of a very high standard, and at Minehead Grandshire Caters was rung. The scenery was very fine, especially the many miles along the beautifully wooded and winding Exe Valley.

GEORGE H. CROSS MEMORIAL SERVICE

At the recent quarterly meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, held on July 10th at Greenwich and Lewisham, a memorial service to the late George Herbert Cross took place. The service, which was conducted jointly by the curate of St Alphege's, Greenwich, and the Rev. Peter N. Bond, was very well attended by members and a number of friends from other Societies.

In his address, the Rev. Peter Bond took as his theme "Victory and Thanksgiving," using 1 Corinthians, xv, 57 as his text: "Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." A personal reminiscence of his first meeting with George Cross emphasised the warm welcome which was always extended to visitors who attended practices where he was Master, and the standard of ringing he desired.

During the service a bob course of Stedman Caters was rung on handbells. It was a great pleasure to have Mrs. Marjorie Cross and her son and twin daughters present, and many old memories were revived. They also attended the tea, which was very well prepared by the ladies of the Society, and the meeting which followed, to which they were warmly welcomed.

At the beginning of the meeting, apologies were received from many old friends, who regretted being prevented from attending. The Master, Mr. Dennis Beresford, paid tribute to the ringing of George Cross for the Society. He was Master for 17 years with the exception of one year, and this included the whole period of the second World War. He represented the Society on the Central Council for the period 1935 to 1955. He rang 71 peals for the Society and conducted 54 of these, a number of them being first in the method for the Society. Among the notable performances, he took part in the first peal of Cambridge Maximus for the Society, and called the first peal of Stedman Cinques "in hand" for the Society. It was through his friendship during his period of office as Master that the Society has strong membership in various parts of the country. He had presented to the Society all his "Ringing Worlds" up to the time of his leaving London, and Mrs. Cross has most kindly given the subsequent "Ringing Worlds" and, a number of his books and papers to the Society.

The Master then read a number of tributes which had been received. The meeting stood in silent respect to his memory and the memory of other members who had died recently.

The question of a permanent memorial to George Cross was discussed at some length, and is referred to in more detail in a letter in this issue. The resolution of the meeting was that a memorial fund should be opened and that the secretary should write to "The Ringing World" giving details. The meeting then went on to consider the other business, which concluded with the usual omnibus vote of thanks.

University of London Society's Summer Tour

THE summer tour of the Society took place this year in the lovely counties of Devon and Cornwall. The weather during the week was fairly good, which was just as well, as all but two of the party stayed under canvas, the others preferring the comfort of bed and breakfast. The quality of the bells was very high, the choice of towers being largely due to the advice of Mr. W. A. Theobald, to whom we are very grateful. The quality of the ringing, however, fluctuated, but was on the whole better than one or two had anticipated.

The ringing on the first day proper of the tour was in the westernmost tip of Cornwall. Before lunch we rang at Penzance (6) and on the fine six at Paul. Lunch and the tour photographs were taken at Land's End, where we also rang handbells before a large audience of vociferous seagulls. Then on to Land's End Parish Church (Sennen), where we were shown around the church by the Rector. Zennor (6) gave most people a new letter in "Dove." We then went to Carbis Bay for the first peal attempt of the tour, but after 50 minutes of not very happy Grandsire Caters, a rope slipped wheel, and the bells were stood. The Rev. A. S. Roberts, who had met us, invited us to have another attempt in the evening, but due to time considerations we decided to go for Minor on the front six. Alan Frost, bewildered by the yards of rope on the tail-end of the treble, finally opened it out and stuffed it down his trouser leg! A very good peal was rung, the first of Minor on the front six.

Sunday saw us up early for an extra tower, Stithians, where we were staying, before the day's programme. Camborne was the first tower, and after Holy Communion there we drove to Marazion for lunch and a visit to St. Michael's Mount. Lunch consisted of Cornish pasties. As the week wore on our appetite for pasties seemed to increase, and one estimate was 120 pasties eaten during the week. Helston (8) and picturesque Landewednack (6) were visited in the afternoon, before Evensong at St. Keverne (8), where we rang call changes with the local band, who then donned robes and became the choir. Goonhilly Down satellite station was an attraction on the way home.

Monday's ringing started with the lovely six at Perran-ar-Worthal, where we were so impressed that we immediately arranged an extra peal attempt with the consent of the Vicar, who also rang with us. The eights at St. Kea and Probus, a fine ring in an equally fine tower, were visited before another pasty lunch, after which a peal of Plain Bob Major was rung at Kenwyn, Truro. In the evening we rang at Truro Cathedral, and were surprised to find that bells which sound so lovely outside could sound so dreadful inside. We were met at Truro Cathedral by Anthony Davidson and Alan Carveth (who had also given advice on the choice of towers).

St. Austell proved a difficult town in which to park, and consequently we were a quarter of an hour late at the Parish Church on Tuesday morning. On to the bells of dubious character at Lanlivery, and then to Cardynham, where Yvonne Edwards had the bad luck to slip and open a nasty wound on her shin while climbing the stairs. Between this and her cold she had a rather unfortunate week, but a visit to Bodmin Hospital soon had her ringing again. Meanwhile the rest were sampling the good bells at Bodmin, and a day of eights was completed at St. Columb Major. In the evening while a peal of Surprise Minor was being rung at Perran-ar-Worthal, the rest of the party went to the practice at Truro Cathedral.

Next morning we packed up to move to Devon, the first stop being for the pleasant six at Lostwithiel, where the local captain told us of the achievements of his call change band. After ringing at Liskeard, Jumbo proved his worth by sniffing out an excellent pub, where we had a snack lunch and played crib, dominoes, etc. Indeed, Jumbo's ability to find good pubs and restaurants was a feature of the week. Because of early closing in Liskeard, we moved on to Launceston to do our shopping and then to ring. Last was one of the best rings of the week, the superb eight at Tavistock. The rain had by now settled into a downpour, so instead of pitching camp, Jumbo's nose twitched in the direction of Newton Abbot, and he drove straight to a first-class Chinese restaurant. The rain abated, luckily, enabling us to pitch the tents, and we exchanged Derek Elderkin for Pauline Fennell in Exeter.

During the night the weather had changed again, and we travelled through some glorious countryside to Widecombe-in-the-Moor, only to be disappointed by the extent of the commercialisation. However, we were quite impressed by the good ring of six. Buckland-in-the-Moor was next, and there we fixed up yet another peal attempt. Lunch was taken in Ashburton at Jumbo's advice (right again), before our ring at Buckfast Abbey. Unfortunately, Father Paulinus could not meet us, and so we were not able to swing "Hosannah," though we did go up to look at the bells from above. Mr. Aubrey Bennett took us on to Buckfastleigh and invited us to ring at his tower, Dean Prior, if we lost our peal at Buckland. Our conductor for the peal (Double Norwich) must have been a tower grabber at heart, for somehow he worked out that the bells were hung 12354678, and stood the peal up because he thought 4 and 5 had got crossed over. So off we went to Dean Prior and to see Mr. Bennett's lovely colour photographs.

Ashburton bells proved difficult to ring on Friday morning but Plympton St. Mary's bells were excellent. We rang six-spliced Plain Major at Plympton St. Maurice's, before moving to the heavy ten at Plymouth, where Mr. Tom Myers made us welcome. These bells are hard to hear, but nevertheless a good four course touch of Stedman Caters was rung. Perhaps the worst ringing of the tour came at Emmanuel, Plymouth, probably due to tiredness from a day of heavy rings of bells. The last tower of the day was the strange ring at Ugborough, whose bells are certainly not a diatonic octave.

BEST BELLS, BEST RINGING

Saturday was partly a day of rest, there being only three towers, although they were all over a ton. Staverton bells made hard work, even for a 21 cwt. six, but the eight at Totnes were a complete contrast, for, although the heaviest octave of the week (28 cw.) we found them fairly easy to ring. The Shaw handbells in the tower were of excellent quality, and one must envy the Totnes ringers. In the afternoon we all managed to get to Broadclyst, which had possibly the best bells of the week. We also had some of the week's best ringing during the peal of Grandsire Triples rung there.

Sunday was a day looked forward to by both treble and tenor men. In the morning we rang first at Withycombe Raleigh, and then on Mr. Frank Mack's little ring. Although it took us about half an hour to learn to handle them, we were eventually able to ring the first touch of spliced Surprise Minor on the bells. Last tower of the tour was Exeter Cathedral, where, helped by the Cathedral band, we rang satisfactory rounds and Little Bob Maximus, but a touch of Stedman Cinques only just made it. Our tenor rings were out in force, naturally enough, but only one had the courage to remove the strap-rope, although the bells go quite well for their weight.

We all then split up to go our separate ways, a trifle tired, perhaps, but nevertheless happy after a very enjoyable week. We thank the incumbents and local ringers who made us feel very welcome, also our drivers, who stuck to their task soberly (while driving, anyway!) and, of course, Richard Humphries, who made all the arrangements. YORKSHIRE CAPTAIN IN HOSPITAL

Mr. C. Moxon, captain of Hemsworth bell-ringers, is in hospital at Pontefract. St. Giles' ringers were informed of this when they applied for Hemsworth bells for an evening outing. Mr. Moxon had a fall and broke his thigh bone; he has been in hospital for 22 weeks. A St. Giles' ringer visiting him found he had received a setback with foot trouble.

Letters to the Editor

A FAIRY TALE FOR MR. AMOS

Dear Sir,—Yes, the tenor at Wiveliscombe is a truly wonderful bell. In bringing it to the public notice, as any Westcountryman will tell you, Mr. Amos has revealed one of the unsolved mysteries of West Somerset. For this bell is not only known to grow and shrink between peals—it can change from week to week and even from hour to hour.

Now many West Country towers have "expanding" tenors; one is even known to have an expanding tenor box! But Wiveliscombe's must be the queen of them all. Many have attempted explanations of this phenomenon—some say it's the weather, others, more darkly, blame the devil. The scientifically minded used to blame the fumes from the old brewery or the geological structure of the surrounding hills. Personally I have never believed this—I know it's the local fairies.

I remember one New Year's Eve, some years ago now, when I was a member of the band, I pulled up the tenor when the bells were raised at 7 p.m. She went like a top at her 16 cwt. Afterwards we adjourned, as was the custom, to the Anchor for our jar of cider. At 11.30 p.m. that evening I rang that bell again and, believe me, she went like 23 cwt. As they said when we took the muffles off and chimed midnight, "She've growed tonight all right."

If Mr Amos does not believe me, let him try an evening at Wiveliscombe one New Year's Eve. Beware the local fairies though, they've a nasty habit of slipping gin in your cider. But I know they'd been in that bell chamber because the bell looked bigger, and anyway they'd left a large pink elephant in the corner!—Yours, etc., P. J. BIRD.

Kingswood, Bristol.

MINIMUS AT BISHOPTHORPE

Dear Sir,—I see that another peal of Minimus has been scored at Bishopthorpe, Yorkshire. Firstly, I should like to congratulate the band on scoring a peal on this heavy ring of four bells. Apart from the methods rung this time, this recent peal differed from the one rung on the bells about two years ago in that it was rung for the Yorkshire Association and not non-Association. Has the peal secretary of the Yorkshire Association "lowered" his standards since 1963, when he told the conductor of the first peal at Bishopthorpe that a peal of Minimus was not worthy of the Yorkshire Association, thus causing it to be a non-Association peal? Whilst not claiming myself that either of the peals was superior to the other is it that the recent peal is thought to be superior to the previous peal due to the difficulty of counting 210 identical extents, whereas 10 methods were rung in the previous peal to facilitate the counting? Perhaps the Yorkshire Association peal secretary can explain his inconsistency in the acceptable standards.—Yours faithfully Benhall, Suffolk.

CHRIS. K. COOPER.

KEY OF WOLVERHAMPTON TENOR

Dear Sir,—In "The Ringing World," No. 2,820, The Tyneside and Birmingham ringers, during their peal week, rang at St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, and stated that the tenor of 33 cwt. 21 lb. was in the key of C sharp. In the issue No. 2,791 the tenor is recorded as being in the key of D flat. I am convinced that the key of D flat is correct, as the peal was rung by the St. Peter's tower resident band. Perhaps the visiting band was misinformed.—Yours faithfully, JULIAN W. LITTEN.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO MR. G. H. CROSS

Dear Sir,—In my recent letter to you, I indicated that a memorial to the late George Herbert Cross would be discussed at the quarterly meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. A full discussion took place, and I would be grateful if you would allow me to announce in this letter the proposals which resulted.

It was suggested that the memorial should be in two parts. The first, it is felt, will appeal to all ringers who knew and respected George Cross, and will take the form of a fine oak table and bookcase for the belfry of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, where he was leader of the ringers for so many years.

The second will appeal particularly to members of the Society, and will take the form of a chain to replace the ribbon which at present supports the badge of office of the Master of the Society. This idea was suggested by Mrs. Cross as being something in which George Cross had taken a great interest himself. It would be particularly fitting in view of the length of time he served as Master.

It should be mentioned that the proposed memorial has the approval and encouragement of the Vicar of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, and Mrs. Cross has also indicated that she feels this would be a most suitable memorial.

It is hoped that ringers will respond generously to this appeal so that we may proceed to provide a fitting memorial to one who has done so much for ringing in general. I shall be pleased to receive contributions at the address given below and, unless otherwise stated, they will be applied on the basis of allocating contributions from members to the chain, and from others to the table and bookcase. All contributions will, of course, be gratefully acknowledged.—Yours faithfully,

D. E. SIBSON,

Hon. Secretary,

Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.

"PINK'S SINGLE"

Dear Sir,—I should be pleased if someone could give me clarification on a matter of some Doubles ringing.

I have records from "The Ringing World" of at least five peals having been rung within the last few months, with variations including: St. Cross, Freeland, Stanton, Longparish, St. Frideswide, Middleton, May Day and Royston. These variations, together with many others, employ what is known as a Park's Single, which according to my information is:

4 2 1 5 3
4 1 2 5 3
1 4 2 5 3
1 4 2 3 5
4 1 2 3 5
4 2 1 3 5
2 3 4 5 1

My understanding of "variations" is that a variation is made up of methods, i.e. the plain course is either that of a method or made up of leads which are the calls of methods; and the calls are either the plain leads or the calls of methods.

Taking a section of the preface to the Central Council's Doubles Methods Collection. I quote: (b) No bell shall strike more than four consecutive blows in any one place. If four blows are struck they shall only be allowed when the treble is leading or lying. Three blows may be allowed, however, at any position of the treble (actually these are always before and after the treble's leading or lying).

Thus the "Pink's Single" is not permissible in terms of a method and therefore neither is it a variation.

These arguments are quite apart from the ugliness of so many consecutive places within a lead, and it is for all these reasons that I suggest such "variations" should not be accepted or rung.—Yours faithfully,

ANDREW HARRISON.

Kirkby-in-Ashfield, Notts.

HURSTPIERPOINT, SUSSEX.—On June 6th, 1,440 Plain Bob Minor: H. W. Brown 1, D. M. Hunns 2, Catherine M. Powell 3, M. J. Bew 4, S. W. Brown 5, J. R. Norris (cond.) 6. A silver wedding compliment to the Rector and Mrs. R. A. Hook.

A PLYMOUTH GOLDEN WEDDING

The ringers of Emmanuel Church had a very special engagement on July 7th, when five of their members visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Collier, of 57, Higher Compton Road, Plymouth, to extend to them the very sincere congratulations of all their ringing friends at Emmanuel on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. Armed with Mr. George Goddard's set of handbells, they heralded their arrival by ringing in their garden; it was a complete surprise. Invited to partake of light refreshment, they found their little drawing room adorned by the many beautiful bouquets, including one from the Vicar, Prebendary Young, and Mrs. Young, 46 greeting cards and several telegrams. Some more ringing in the garden, after handing over a little gift, and we took our departure, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Collier smiling happily, and we trust they will be spared for many years to come to enjoy complete happiness.

Mr. Collier, "Bill," as he is affectionately known, after serving an apprenticeship as a carpenter and joiner, joined the Royal Navy. During the first World War he lost two ships, one in the Dardanelles and the other north of Ireland. He had retired before the outbreak of the second World War but was recalled to the colours, and in all spent about 28 years in uniform.

Bill started ringing at Blackawton, but a naval career prevented his entering fully into the art. It was just before the last war that Bill became a member of Emmanuel band, then he was off again, and after the war he felt it was too late to enter change ringing, but he rings an excellent tenor to Stedman or Grandsire, and if there is a rope to be spliced or a stay to be replaced, not only at Emmanuel, but also at Egg Buckland or Plymstock, where his son-in-law is a ringer, it is "Bill" who is called to the rescue. He possesses a wonderful cheerfulness, which he radiates to all. A very keen Freemason, he rarely misses a meeting of his Lodge, but here again a naval career prevented his taking the active part he would like to have done. H. H. T.

STEDMAN TRIPLES—Its Construction and Calling

By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD

4. CALLINGS IN COMBINATION

Some reference must now be made to the use of the above callings in combination, and this is best dealt with by looking at some actual examples. The following are all touches of two courses, 168 changes, and all start in the usual way and use the 7th as observation bell.

Calls at	Produce Course End
3, 8	4352167
3, 4	5364217
5, 6	3214657
7, 8	5413267
12, 13	2463517
3, 4 12, 13	5413267

Repeat once for rounds in each case.

Once again we remind ourselves that any bell may be taken as observation bell and the above callings used to produce touches of two courses. But in changing the observation bell Observation Bell, and the Treble is called precisely as the 7th in version I, but the calling has to start in a different place. Thus we must call the Treble:

Out Quick: In Slow, First Whole Turn: In Quick.

We cannot, therefore, label the touch 3, 4, 12, 13, although we are actually using these calling positions for the Treble instead of the 7th.

If for practice (and this is excellent practice) the touch is pricked out with other bells as observation, the student will learn a great deal. If the 6th is used as Observation, the calling will be found to run:

In Quick, Out Quick: In Slow: First Whole Turn, and the bobs will come at 2, 3 and 7, 8.

If the 4th is used as observation the calling will appear the same as for the 7th, but the bobs will be at 1, 2 and 10, 11.

It is perhaps worth while to give at this point the complete table of course ends produced by combinations of the twin-bob callings introduced above. This table appeared in C. D. P. Davies' "Stedman" early in this century, but this book, and the subsequent revision of it, are unfortunately out of print and this valuable schedule is thus no longer available in ready form for study purposes.

The first thing to note is that the Table gives its transpositions from 1234567 and not from 2314567; but this should present no difficulty if the student has mastered the principles of using a transposition table.

The second thing to note is that some numbers appear at the end of each line. These figures show how many courses will be produced by repeating the calling. Thus the calling 3, 4 may be repeated to give a touch of two courses; the calling 3, 4, 5, 6 may be repeated to produce a touch of five courses (420 changes).

It will thus be seen that the Table, as it stands, is capable of providing 15 different touches of varying length, all these with the 7th as observation bell. And seeing (as we have pointed out above) that any bell can be used as observation, clearly there is a great number of possible touches to be extracted from these figures.

The Tables may also, of course, be used for the composing of touches by the combining of one calling with another. Two examples of this are shown here, and the enterprising student may obtain much pleasure and profit from working with this table and trying to obtain touches with special qualities.

It is doubtful if he will secure anything original on this rather rigid framework for most of the possibilities have long been worked out. We must, however, still urge the importance, to the would-be conductor especially, of plenty of experimental work in pricking out touches both by six-ends and course ends. The greater the knowledge of the construction of a method and its touches the greater the confidence in the ringing of it and the more accurate the business of conducting it.

The above touches are all on what is called the twin-bob plan. There are, of course, other callings having an observation bell undisturbed by calls and having isolated bobs. Some specimens of these are given here, and attention is drawn to the following points. An examination of A and B will show both touches to be called in the same way, but the first has the 7th as Observation and the second has the 4th Observation. In both touches the Observation is called "In Slow," "Out Slow." And it should now be clear that any bell could be called thus to produce a touch of two courses.

2314567	2314567
4352167 3, 8	2514376 1, 6
2314567 3, 8	2314567 1, 6

2541367 7, 12	4312567 9, 14
2314567 7, 12	2314567 9, 14

C and D show a similar likeness. They are one and the same touch, the Observation being called "Last Whole Turn" and "In Quick." In C the 7th is the fixed bell, and in D the Treble is used. It will be noted, of course, that in these short touches certain other bells are undisturbed, and the student will find much profit in discovering how the touches could be called from these bells.

The touches with single bobs will, in the main, give more scope for musical progressions than can be secured by twin bobs; but both plans will provide plenty of short touches, and by varying the Observation bell a vast number of variations is ready at hand, so that there can be no excuse for the very limited number of touches conductors often seem to have at their disposal.

MR. B. CORBISHLEY'S 100 PEALS

Mr. Barry Corbishley, of Macclesfield, rang his first peal as far back as 1948 under the guidance of "Tab" Crawley, a well-known Cheshire "character" (now deceased). Since then a further 49 towers have been pealed, rung for six Associations or Guilds, in the company of 20 first-pealers. Analysed, they are as follows:

- Maximus.—Plain Bob 1, Kent T.B. 1.
- Royal.—Plain Bob 2, Oxford T.B. 1, Cambridge 2.
- Caters.—Grandsire 2.
- Surprise Major.—Cambridge 9, Yorkshire 9.
- Bristol 4, Aldenham 1, Sedburgh 1, Superlative 1, Rutland 3, Lincolnshire 2, Gainsborough 1.
- Pudsey 2, Belgrave 1, London 2, two-spliced 1, three-spliced 1.

HOW DEWSBURY TRAINED ITS NEW BAND

By Jeanne E. Bottomley

ON Sunday, April 5th, 1964, Vernon Bottomley, accompanied by his wife, Jeanne, gave a talk to the would-be ringers of Dewsbury Parish Church. During the talk he explained a little of the hard work involved and the resulting joy in bellringing. As Dewsbury bells at that time were at Taylor's foundry, it was decided to hold practices at Liversedge, the Vicar and the ringers there having already given their permission. It was agreed that the 14- to 17-year-old section should start on April 16th, whilst those ringers who had previously rung at Dewsbury Parish Church would wait and then join the new ringers when they had achieved good bell control.

The first practice took place as arranged, and all the early practices were with tied clappers, thus avoiding a disturbance to the local inhabitants. Seven learners arrived, and whilst Vernon gave them each in turn backstroke practice, he catching the sally each time. Jeanne tried to explain a little of the art of change ringing, mentioning, at this stage, course bells. Handbells were produced and whilst one at a time had tower bell practice the remaining six practised theory on one handbell each.

The second practice saw another new learner—making the number six boys and two girls. The original seven had, each in turn, handstroke practice and all started to ring plain hunting on six handbells, ringing one handbell each. Course bells were again mentioned and this subject was repeated for many months.

SETTING THE BELL PRACTICE

After four practices, four learners were handling alone and the next practice saw another two handling alone. The next practices were spent gaining some very good bell control and the learners tried to stand the bell both strokes without dropping the bell or touching the stay for as many consecutive pulls as possible. Some very encouraging results were beginning to show and consequently much time was spent correcting small faults in handling style. At the tenth practice rounds were attempted—still with tied clappers. We now had seven learners handling—one having given up en route.

On Monday, June 29th, four senior ringers started to learn. It quickly became evident, however, that bellringing was not for two of these and in due course the remaining two progressed and joined the Thursday night practice. Also that week, on July 2nd, two senior ringers, who had already done some ringing, joined the practice and much time was spent on silent rounds. July 16th saw the start of call changes and several weeks were spent polishing these. Meanwhile the handbells were now rung rarely and almost everyone was occupied ringing tower bells all evening. If anyone had to stand out there was, of course, much to be learned by watching the others.

During the next few weeks the band consolidated and learned how to raise and lower a bell. On September 10th we achieved plain hunting on six tower bells—this with Jeanne and Vernon in the band. The next week, however, six learners rang plain hunting on six of the bells. This was perhaps the greatest achievement so far and was due to enthusiasm and good attendance.

October 8th saw, or rather heard, the first practice with bells "open." It was indeed a great revelation to the band, as many of them had never consciously heard bells ringing before. At this stage we reverted to rounds only and made much ado about striking. Quick progress was made and we rang plain hunting on six bells within a month of first ringing "open."

FIRST SERVICE RINGING

On Sunday, October 25th, we rang Liversedge bells from 8.15 a.m. to 9 a.m. for the Holy Communion service—an arrangement which suited the Vicar and also the ringers,

CHURCH OF ALL SAINTS, DEWSBURY, YORKS

in spite of making Sunday mornings somewhat hectic. This arrangement continued every Sunday until Dewsbury bells were again ready for ringing. Since the practices had been "open" the Vicar of Liversedge had received a few complaints about noise and so the tower bell ringing was curtailed to one hour. Usually a short handbell practice was held to put into practice the theory which was still occupying "homework" time. On Sundays we rang rounds and concentrated on rhythm and striking, whilst on Thursdays rounds, call changes and plain hunting occupied our time.

We were now able to lower five bells in peal but did not as yet raise in peal. A couple of practices were held at Earlsheaton Parish Church and progress was maintained in spite of its being the first new tower for many and also their introduction to Yorkshire ends.

As Christmas, 1964, approached, excitement mounted. The bell-hanger had arrived at the beginning of December and worked wonders in very difficult conditions, but it was not until two or three days before Christmas that we knew we would be able to ring in Christmas at Dewsbury. The work on the tower was not yet finished and the ringing chamber was in a very dirty and incomplete condition. The bells had been tuned and rehung in a new steel frame and the ropes, of course, were new.

CHRISTMAS—OWN BELLS

The Devil's Knell was rung on the tenor and this started about 10.45 p.m. on Christmas Eve. Meanwhile the other bells had their clappers tied and the rest of the band practised on the silent bells to get the feel of their "new" bells and to take some of the stretch out of the ropes. At the midnight service the Vicar had arranged to give a short talk on the bells and during a pause at midnight the bells were to ring out for the first time. It seems that the timing worked perfectly and at midnight eight of the new ringers who had worked so hard and so well rang out the old message anew. Ringing continued until about 12.30 a.m. and many people expressed pleasure on hearing them. The bells sounded very sweet and "went" beautifully. A very good job by Taylors!

It had been arranged that the kind Vicar of Liversedge should not be left in the lurch on Christmas morning and so we rang at Liversedge from 8.15 to 9 a.m., as on Sundays. Then came the dash for breakfast and ringing again on our own bells of Dewsbury Parish Church from 9.45 to 10.30 a.m.

The bells were rung twice on Sunday, December 27th, as they will be every Sunday in future, to rounds and call changes on the eight bells. A special practice was held on December 28th and plain hunting on eight bells was tackled for the first time. The Old Year was rung out with the bells half-muffled late on New Year's Eve and, after some very quick work with the muffles by Vernon, the New Year was rung in with the bells "open."

On Sunday, January 24th, came the sad news of the death of Sir Winston Churchill, and as a mark of respect to this great man we rang that day with the bells half-muffled, ringing also for the memorial service in the Parish Church the following Sunday, for which the church was packed.

At the end of January we started to train four more young learners. As we are certain to lose at least two ringers in 18 months' time, to higher education, we must keep up the numbers for the band! These beginners should learn quite quickly, having the others to listen to and to watch.

On January 31st we rang plain hunting on eight bells for the first time on a Sunday, the main emphasis always being on striking for service ringing and practice on practice night.

THE REDEDICATION

The bells were rededicated on March 14th by the Ven. C. O. Ellison, B.Sc., Archdeacon of Leeds and president of the Yorkshire Association. The church was full for the service and everything went off well. The timing was perfect, thanks to the co-operation of Harold Fothergill, one of the band, who "spotted" for us. The band for the rededication was: Jeanne E. Bottomley 1, David Barraclough 2, Vernon Bottomley 3, Lesley Boothroyd 4, John Henderson 5, John Whiteman 6, Geoffrey Richardson 7, Douglas Carruthers 8. The bells were available for visiting ringers after the service and many of the congregation and ringers came to see the bells.

We rang for the Mothers' Day service on March 28th, making three times in all. When we arrived on April 1st for practice we found that the new floor had been put in. The ringing chamber was now complete and looked a picture. Three months in the dirt seemed a very long time. For the two weeks before Easter we had silent practices; the first because there was a play on in church and the second, of course, because it was Holy Week.

ON "PERMANENT LOAN"

At Easter the latest recruits rang for their first service. They were then put on the attendance sheet. We rang our first Bob Major on Thursday, April 29th, with the help of two visitors. One of these, Harry Marsden, though over 80 years of age, now comes regularly on Thursday and Sunday evenings, for which help we are most grateful. The Confirmation service on March 10th was preceded by three-quarter hour's ringing. The striking is now generally very good and progress is being made with Bob Minor.

When we arrived at practice on May 27th we were greeted by Hemingway Dransfield, of Earlsheaton, who presented us with two octaves of beautiful handbells by Shaw's, to be on "permanent loan." For these we were most grateful and we were pleased to have Hemingway with us, he having only been discharged from hospital some two or three weeks previously. He did, however, manage to have a pull and pronounced the bells very good.

During June we managed several courses of Bob Major with the help of one or two visitors and can now ring it with a local band. We have also tried touches of Bob Minor during this time and bobs and singles are beginning to penetrate. Perhaps it will not be long now to a 720 or quarter peal.

On Trinity Sunday we rang for the procession of witness. We were in the tower for over two hours in the afternoon and at one stage had one hour's unbroken ringing. The day was hot and it was the longest stretch of ringing for many of the band but the striking remained near perfect. The following is an extract from the July Parish Magazine, written by the Vicar:

THE BELLRINGERS

"Many remarks were passed on Sunday last about the joy it was to hear the bells as we left the church in procession and then returned to church along Church Street to the accompaniment of the bells. It is obvious now that such great improvement has been made by the team under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. V. Bottomley, for we can all hear the precision of the ringing. There is a sensation of life around the church as the bells are pealing and as the team advances into more and more difficult methods we shall have the benefit. The team is very keen, and this is largely due to the fact that they are expected to persevere and attempt harder things. Somehow I feel there is a lesson in this for all of us—if little is expected we often give little—if much is expected we rise to it."

BELFRY GOSSIP

A pleasurable achievement had Mr. Trevor Taylor in conducting five ringers through their first peal at Denby, Derbyshire, on June 24th.

An attempt to ring a peal of Minor at Florence, Pems, on July 10th failed. Not to be disappointed, the "Happy Band" rang two quarter peals.

The bells of Tolleshunt D'Afay, Essex, were due for removal to the foundry on July 25th for repairs. An announcement will be made when ringing can be resumed.

In the peal of New Cambridge Surprise Major rung at Old Swinford (see page 488) the tenor was rung by Clifford A. Barron and not as printed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Stenson, of Crewe, celebrate their golden wedding on July 31st. "Half the happiness," writes Frank, "has been 25 years in the ringing world."

A reader has kindly sent a quarter's subscription to "The Ringing World" to enable an old age pensioner to enjoy our journal. We should be glad to receive names of pensioners who cannot afford the subscription.

St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, is particularly fortunate in its new curate, the Rev. D. V. Cossar, who, while attending Chichester Theological College, helped out with the ringing at Bosham. A welcoming quarter peal was rung on June 20th.

As a birthday compliment to Mr. Leonard Parry, who has been connected with the bells at St. Peter's, Martley, for 50 years, a peal was rung in this church on July 17th. Mr. Parry participated by ringing the treble, and this was his first peal on the bells.

A literal in the report of the Oxford Guild Festival has caused amusement (page 478). In the election of C.C. representatives it states "a ballet took place with Messrs. Alec Gammon and Alan Pink as tellers." It should, of course, read "ballot."

JACK BRAY, "A GENTLEMAN," RETIRES

This is the appreciative title in "The Appleby-Frodingham steel works, Scunthorpe, recording the retirement of Mr. J. A. Bray on reaching his 65th birthday. On his birthday he received presentations, and no fewer than 14 speakers, before a large audience, paid tribute and extended good wishes to him.

Mr. J. L. Gaskell, director and chief engineer, made the presentations, and referred to Mr. Bray's gentlemanly conduct in all his activities and said that all the time he had known him that had been one of his outstanding qualities.

Mr. Bray came to the Appleby steelworks in 1919 and except for a period of three years in the early 1920's had been with the company ever since. He became an assistant engineer in 1947 to help with the first of the post-war developments, was made assistant electrical engineer at Frodingham in 1949 and then plant electrical engineer in 1956. Four years later he took over as plant electrical engineer at Appleby steelworks.

Mr. Gaskell presented Mr. Bray with his certificate of long service from the company and said some of Mr. Bray's colleagues had already presented him with a garden chair, and those who had contributed to his presentation felt it was appropriate that this should be made into a pair. He also asked him to accept a wallet of notes.

On page 454 we published a peal of Minor in three methods which Mr. Bray conducted and submitted without any comments. It now transpires that this peal was one of his greatest ambitions to celebrate the end of his working life and to be rung by employees of Appleby-Frodingham. Those participating with him in the peal were: Ron Chafer, order department; Robert Bridge, a technical apprentice; Michael Crowder, test house; Roger Lord, an electrician; Maurice Lings, a supervisor in the metallurgical department.

For the past five years Jack has been Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, having previously been secretary for 14 years. He has been a member of the Central Council for 30 years, and has been a churchwarden for 20 years. Another of Mr. Bray's interests is chess. He has been chairman of the works' chess club for three years and has played for Lincolnshire and acted as match captain.

We are certain the Exercise at large, and the Lincoln Guild in particular, will join with us in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bray many happy years of retirement.

"JACK THE RIPPER" STOPS JUBILEE PEAL ATTEMPT

To mark the 60th anniversary of the inaugural service of the Diocese of Southwark on Saturday, July 3rd, members of the London County Association's Sunday evening company met to attempt a peal of Stedman Cinques at Southwark Cathedral.

However, after about 65 minutes' ringing, violent buzzing of the belfry telephone brought a halt to the ringing. It transpired that the bells were competing with a howling Whitechapel mob taking part in the filming of "Jack the Ripper" in the Thameside yard adjoining the Cathedral.

GREAT ADVENTURE II TO INCLUDE NEW ZEALAND

We hear from Mr. Tom Lock that Great Adventure II is to be extended to include New Zealand and a return home via America. Departure is from London Airport on Sunday, September 5th, at 3 p.m., arriving at Perth about 2 a.m. on Tuesday, September 7th. The party leave Perth on the Thursday afternoon for Adelaide, where they stay until Sunday, September 12th. Melbourne will be headquarters from September 12th until September 23rd, but during that time there will be various visits—to Ballarat, to Bendigo and to Hobart (from Friday, September 17th, to Saturday, September 18th). A day will be spent in Canberra and Sydney reached on Friday, September 24th.

On September 30th there is a trip into Queensland, to Maryborough, where a night will be spent before returning to Sydney. The journey to New Zealand—some six hours—is on Tuesday, October 5th. Wellington, Christchurch, Hamilton and Auckland are to be visited. Departure from Auckland to America is on October 8th, and San Francisco reached on Friday, October 8th (having gained 24 hours by crossing the date line). A night is spent in San Francisco before crossing on Saturday morning for Boston, a 3½ hours' journey. The final flight across the Atlantic from Boston is on Sunday night, London being reached on Monday, October 11th, at 7.10 a.m.

Mr. "Jim" Pipe has already left to join the party in Australia, and Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Burton and Mr. Arthur Mason sail on August 6th.

MR. GEORGE SYMONDS

A brief reference was made in our last issue to Mr. George Symonds' 90th birthday. A fine picture of him appeared in "The East Anglian Daily Times" of July 17th with the news that he and his wife had been married 58 years that day. Their wedding took place at St. Peter's Church, Wangford, Suffolk.

Mr. Symonds has been singing in choirs for over 80 years, 45 of them at All Saints', Ipswich, and he has been a bellringer for nearly 79 years. He retired this year after 43 years as secretary of the tower ringers, and is the longest serving member of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

George has rung nearly 500 peals. In 1951, when he was visiting relatives in Canada he had the pleasure of ringing in Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, Vancouver Island.

After the peal at Thornham Magna in honour of his 90th birthday the band, including Mr. Symonds, was generously entertained to tea by Mr. F. Clover and Miss Abrey. Presiding at the tea was Mrs. O. Howlett, aged 92, who had spent her childhood days with George in the adjoining village of Thornham Parva.

An esteemed correspondent points out that the honour of being the "longest-serving member" of the Central Council should go to Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, who has been a member since 1915. This was overlooked by the writer of "The Working of Democracy" in the issue of July 16th.

FIRST PEAL ON GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL BELLS

The first peal on the bells of Guildford Cathedral was rung on Sunday, July 18th, in 3 hours and 33 minutes. Shortly after the dedication there was a peal attempt but this was lost after one and a half hours' ringing by the second and third bells "swopping over. The same method—Grandsire Caters—was rung on the second occasion and the ringers who participated in the first attempt took the same bells. All four Districts were represented and two ladies—Mrs. Jessie Kippen and Mrs. Jill May. Afterwards the Master expressed himself as well satisfied with the standard of ringing. The bells were rung quicker, an advantage, than when the first attempt took place.

MR. TOM SONE'S 70th BIRTHDAY

Mr. Thomas E. Sone, the well-known Kent ringer, conducted his 50th peal at Marden on July 16th to honour his 70th birthday. His first peal was rung at Marden on January 19th, 1911, and he writes that it is with a sense of gratitude to ring 50 peals in the tower where his father taught him to ring. He shared the birthday honour with Mrs. H. Baker and Mr. G. Kenward, whose names were associated with the peal. The peal enabled Mr. E. J. Ladd to complete "the circle" of this tower to peals—the 18th tower he has on his "circle" list. With so many personal compliments associated with the peal it was appropriate that the Vicar, the Rev. H. F. Biddell, and Mrs. Biddell should entertain the band after the peal. They are sincerely thanked for their hospitality.

SAME LEADERS FOR 19 ANNUAL TOURS

Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, held their 19th annual outing on the usual date, the second Saturday in July. By means of these outings they have visited 236 cathedrals and churches—12 a second time. All eight bell towers in Cornwall have been visited, and churches in Gloucestershire, Somerset, Dorset and, of course, Devon. All these trips have been supervised by the captain, Mr. J. P. Sims, whilst the hon. secretary for the whole period has been Mr. H. H. Thomas.

LADY RINGS IN 5 hr. 26 min. PEAL

Mr. Brian J. Woodruffe conducted a long length of 10,000 Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Llanfeigan, Breconshire, on July 3rd. This is the longest peal for the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association. The treble was rung by Miss Penelope J. Welch: there are few ladies who have rung in a peal longer than 5 hours 26 minutes, the time taken in this peal.

AND SILENT IT REMAINED

During a "silent" quarter peal of Doubles in four methods at Radley on July 18th, Miss R. Cross and her band were unexpectedly confronted by two visitors coming into the tower while they were ringing. One was a Dane and the other a visiting priest, who apparently came up to congratulate the band on the standard of ringing. Fortunately he knew enough about ringing not to say anything until the quarter was finished.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Eastern District Annual Meeting

THE annual meeting of the Eastern District was held at Goole on June 19th, with an extremely disappointing attendance, as only eight names were sent in for tea, although about 20 actually attended the business meeting presided over by the vice-president, Mr. H. Walker, of York.

Messrs. G. F. Terry (Hemingbrough) and T. H. Foster (Selby) were re-elected to the District Committee for a further period of three years. Mr. H. Morley, of Selby, having completed over 33 years as hon. District secretary, did not seek re-election, as for health reasons he had been unable to attend meetings as regularly as he would like, and felt it was time a younger person took over. Mr. R. Ducker, of Sutton-on-Hull, was proposed and unanimously elected. One new member was elected, Mr. D. R. Swan, of Selby.

There were no invitations for the place of the next meeting, but September 25th was proposed as the date, and it is hoped to visit Hutton Cranswick, subject to confirmation.

Mr. K. Kirk thought that the meeting should record the members' appreciation of the service given by Mr. Morley over so many years. Mr. H. Walker said that he intended to raise this matter at the Yorkshire general meeting to be held at Selby in September.

A hearty vote of thanks was made to the Vicar, and ladies for having served tea, by the vice-president, which concluded the business.

Further ringing in the standard methods took place up to 9 p.m., but the sparseness of ringers did not do anything to indicate that this was an annual meeting. R. D.

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION

Frome Branch

A cold showery day and a similar meeting in the next village probably contributed to the poor attendance at the summer meeting of the Frome Branch at Timsbury on July 10th.

After the service, conducted by the Rector, 30 members were put to the task of consuming a sumptuous tea laid originally for 60.

The business meeting followed with the Branch secretary, Mr. E. Chivers, reading various apologies and giving a word of welcome to visitors from Gloucester and Bristol and Chew Branch. Five new members were elected. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to a discussion on the proposed striking competition to be held next year.

Mr. Chivers, in proposing the vote of thanks, made special mention of Mr. Cottle for making the local arrangements. Ringing continued on handbells and in the tower until approximately 8.30 p.m.

Next meeting: East Harptree, October 9th. D. T. H. R.

EAST GRINSTEAD & DISTRICT GUILD

On June 12th the East Grinstead and District Guild met at Warnham, situated on the boundary of our area, which for many members was a new tower. We were welcomed by Mr. G. Francis and also, at the service, by the Vicar (the Rev. M. R. Newman). A picnic tea was enjoyed on the common and afterwards a game of cricket-cum-rounders was played by the more energetic members, ending with a lost ball.

The business meeting was held in the churchyard, during which time the chairman performed the very pleasant duty of presenting our treasurer, Mr. Cyril W. Hancock, with a five guinea book token, a card containing signatures of the members, and chocolates for Mrs. Hancock. Cyril has served the Guild for seven years in the capacity of treasurer, and we all hope that he and Mrs. Hancock will enjoy living in Bury St. Edmunds. In replying, Mr. Hancock said that he had found great friendship within the Guild and thanked everyone on his and Mrs. Hancock's behalf for the gifts. Returning to the tower and joined by more ringers we made the most of Warnham bells. M. A. L.

MARCH ST. WENDREDA

The Norfolk Broads were this year's venue for St. Wendreda's bellers on the occasion of their 17th annual outing; friends from Chatteris and Wilburton accompanied them.

Elvedon, Suffolk, was reached on time and the highly musical octave set ringing over the famous park with immense firs and pines. The memorial twin-towered church is as lovely as any of its kind built in our day, having been fashioned into something incredibly rich and strange—a masterpiece of an era which did so much injustice to mediaeval fanes. Cloisters and bell tower were built in 1922 in memory of Lady Iveagh. Nearly everything is enriched with excellent ornament. The vaulted roof of the tower frames an unforgettable picture of the hall and grounds, the former built last century by the Maharajah Duleep Singh, who lived here long enough to find England as much a home as his native land. He lies, as does the famous Admiral Augustus Keppel, in a tomb amidst all this impressive man-made and natural splendour.

St. Peter's, Thetford, was next on the programme, non-ringers displaying interest in the statue of its famous, or infamous son, Thomas Paine, who successfully and deliberately severed the American colonies from the mother country. A sumptuous lunch was enjoyed at Wymondham opposite the Priory, which seems to impose its very unusual Norman and mediaeval proportions in a sudden burst of glory. The magnificent tower at Blofield was soon echoing to fine touches on a heavy sonorous six. At Wroxham all boarded a commodious launch for the 1½ hour journey to Ranworth amid picturesque tranquil river scenery. A short walk was taken to Ranworth Church, "Queen of the Broads," the lofty flint tower affording an unsurpassed view of this well known aquatic region.

The leisurely journey back to Wroxham with its vision of a silver sheet of water fringed with reeds and the sails of yachts heeling over in the breeze brought the party to the last ring of the day. Excellent touches were enjoyed on six light bells. T. B.

TALGARTH (BRECON) RINGERS IN OXFORDSHIRE

AFTER leaving Talgarth at 8 a.m. on July 10th and picking up more people at Glasbury and Eardisley, we reached the first tower, Prestbury (8, tenor 13½ cwt.) shortly after 10.30. A few made a perilous ascent into the belfry by way of a rickety stepladder only to find that halfway up the tower was an external door with a stone staircase leading to the ground outside! Some good changes were rung on the easy-going eight, methods including Oxford Bob and Stedman.

Entering Oxfordshire, we proceeded along the Windrush valley to Witney. The bells of St. Mary's were quiet inside the belfry, though from outside the tone could really be appreciated. We rang Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major on the eight (tenor 16 cwt.); the Stedman was particularly good.

Owing to a late start after lunch, ringing had to be cut short at Bladon (6, tenor 6 cwt.). We had some difficulty getting into the church because it is now kept locked during the week for fear of tourists coming to see the grave of Sir Winston Churchill and taking away souvenirs. A groundsman let us in and a quarter of an hour later we were ringing the bells down. We left the well-kept churchyard by the "one-way system."

The other church is the parish is St. Mary Magdalene's, Woodstock, where the Vicar's daughter had just been married. So here we were ringing wedding bells with local ringers; again there was some very good Stedman. Many of the party visited Blenheim Palace, which is less than half a mile from the church. By six o'clock we were covering the 16 miles to the last tower of the day, Burford (8, tenor 17 cwt.). These bells were probably the finest of the day and the changes rung were worthy of such a fine ring. M. R. T.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

CLOSE on 70 members attended the Northern Branch striking competition held at Yaxham on June 12th by permission of the Rev. D. Moll. The president (Mr. F. N. Golden) and Messrs. A. Mitsem and R. Lester from Suffolk were the judges.

Seven teams competed, with the following results: 1 St. Peter Mancroft; 2 South Norfolk; 3 St. George's Colegate; 4 Dereham; 5 Gresham School. Aylsham and St. Giles' failed to complete.

After refreshments four teams competed in the handbell competition, with the following results: 1 Gresham School; 2 Aylsham; 3 Loddon; 4 Norwich. This was judged by Mr. D. House, who commented on the very good performance of the boys from Gresham School and the other teams.

The president played on tape the jingle, given in very broad Norfolk, by an anonymous local ringer of the "doings" of the Yaxham ringers of years ago.

The Branch chairman, Mr. G. Sayer, thanked the clergy for the use of their bells where ringing had taken place prior to the competition, to the judges and to the Association Ringing Master, Mr. F. C. Goodman, for the work he had put in arranging the competition. The president endorsed this and commented on the higher standard both in tower- and in handbell ringing. He also mentioned that Mr. W. Dunfield, of Buxton, had been admitted to the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital, and asked the secretary to send a letter of good wishes from the members. C. B.

THE ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

A QUARTERLY meeting of the Guild was held in the delightful village of Lapworth on July 3rd. The bells have recently been augmented to six by the addition of a new treble and the whole rehung in an iron frame, due to the interest and energy of the Rector of Lapworth, the Rev. E. H. Fenwick. The proposed striking competition was discussed, and some simple rules were formulated and agreed upon. It is hoped to hold the competition during the afternoon of the next quarterly meeting, on October 9th.

John Perry, of Perry Barr, and John Cranmer, of Lapworth, were elected resident members, and the following tower elections as life members were duly ratified: David J. Marshall (Daventry), M. Roger Ashmore (Worcester), Kenneth J. Darvill (St. Albans), Christopher H. Rogers (Isleworth) and Hadley (Hunter) (West London).

The Master, Mr. R. C. Ingram, referred to the record peal of 16,368 Cambridge Maximus which had been rung since the previous meeting, and extended congratulations, on behalf of the Guild, to the ringers who had taken part in this fine performance.

The members are indebted to the Rev. E. H. Fenwick for making all arrangements for this meeting, including the service, tea and raising the bells.

ARE OUR MEETINGS DEMOCRATIC ?

By WILLIAM BUTLER

IT has been said before that one of the strongest opponents of democracy is apathy. This is quite evident from the reports of many of our meetings.

Cast your mind back to the last general meeting of your Association. When the officers were re-elected, as no doubt at least ninety per cent. of them were, how many nominations were received for each post? Did anyone vote against the election of the officers? Did the chairman even ask if there were any votes against? Even if the candidate for the post was the best available in the eyes of the majority, surely out of a gathering of about a hundred people, all with widely differing tastes and opinions, someone did not agree.

The lack of time is always a drawback at most meetings, and one of the items on which as little time as possible is spent is on the election of officers. One procedure is to use the "en bloc" election for committees. A proposition is put forward that the committee be re-elected en bloc, and this is hastily seconded. A good secretary will read out the names of those on the committee, otherwise one of them might be dead for years before anyone noticed. (This actually happened once.) Each member of a committee should be proposed and seconded, so that those present can express their opinions on each individual.

Of those present, who has the right to vote? This is one point that is often not made clear. How can members and non-members be separated? Do non-resident life members and those resident members in arrears with their subscription have the right to vote?

Another "undemocratic" method by means of which a small number of determined individuals can impose their ideas upon others is by relying on the general apathy of the majority and "packing" a meeting, i.e. by gathering supporters for their particular motion and ensuring that they all turn up for the meeting.

"One man, one vote" is well established as a basic principle of democracy. One can imagine the uproar that would spread around the country if, for instance, bank managers, doctors, etc., were allowed two votes at a General Election. Yet we tolerate, indeed encourage, such a system in the election of our Central Council representatives. Let us take a hypothetical case: A woman graduate of London University, who joined the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths whilst at college, who on leaving took up a post with the Oxford City Police. She would then have seven votes, i.e. for the London University Association, the Universities Association, the Oxford Diocesan Guild, the Ladies' Guild, the Royal Society of Cumberland Youths, the Oxford Society and the Police Guild. This is obviously absurd, yet many ringers, up and down the country, do have two or even three votes. Such a system is patently unfair to the majority and thus is undemocratic.

What is the solution to these problems?

Taking the first point, if competition exists for posts, then members will have to think before voting. The method by which the Master of the College Youths is replaced in turn by his senior and junior steward is excellent, and one that could well be copied by other Associations. It does ensure that the official does not regard himself as the kingpin of the Association without whom it would collapse.

With reference to en bloc re-elections, these should never be permitted; each member should be proposed, seconded and elected as an individual.

The right to vote should be clearly laid down in the rules and standing orders, and should be made clear by the chairman before any voting takes place. Visitors and those not entitled to vote should sit at the back of the hall or somewhere separate from those taking part in the meeting.

To prevent packed meetings, agendas should be circulated to all members well before the meeting, and the chairman should not allow items of a controversial nature to be introduced under Any Other Business.

Regarding "one ringer, one vote," the only logical suggestion would be to restrict elections to territorial Associations. However, I feel that such a motion would not be well received at a Central Council meeting, as it would mean too many people would lose their seats.

WRATTEN'S WRINGERS 1965

WRATTEN'S WRINGERS, after the peal of Langley Surprise at Badsey, Wores. 8.11.65

14 Peals out of Six Attempts

CYRIL WRATTEN'S South Midlands Peal Week, once again based on Cheltenham and once again contributing unofficially to the Cheltenham Festival of Music, was held this year from July 10th to 17th. As usual, half the party stayed with Cyril and Margery, while the other half stayed in a hotel, this time The Fleece.

The party consisted of Brian Bladon, Peter Bridle, George Cousins, Vic Griffin, Mick Hobbs, John Hunt, Gill Hussey, Tony Kench, Chris Kippin, Ted Venn and Cyril Wratten.

A two-pronged attack was launched on the first Saturday, with the help of some occasionals, and while a peal of Zurich was scored at Deddington, an attempt at Doddrell was unfortunately miscalled. This was soon forgotten as the rendezvous at The Fleece got under way, and that evening was happily spent catching up on all the gossip and renewing acquaintance with the local Oriental restaurateurs.

After ringing at Cheltenham for morning service on Sunday, it was off to Kirtlington for a peal of Watford, where George Thoday, the Ron Clarke of the ringing world, knocked seven minutes off the previous fastest time, and then left the party with the traditional farewell of stones in his hubcaps.

Monday morning brought an early clash with the authorities over the disc parking system, but we eventually got away to Chipping Norton, where a leisurely peal of New Cambridge was rung. In the afternoon five-spliced went well on the best eight of the week, at Hook Norton; meanwhile, Deadeye Mick Hobbs and Mexican Pete Bridle, water pistol in hand, went off to shoot up that hive of activity, the cinema at Chipping Norton. In the evening the party divided into drinkers and stompers (the Peal Week without the festival hop would hardly be the same!); the stompers had perhaps the more interesting time, with one non-driver, who for the sake of his lady friend shall be nameless, receiving a driving lesson at 2 a.m. from an all-American college girl!

This had nothing to do with Chris Kippin miscalling Belgrave at Ledbury the next morning, his second unsuccessful attempt to call a peal there. The afternoon saw a singularly unenjoyable peal of York at Lydney.

By now the sound of billiard balls was regularly to be heard into the night at The Fleece, while back at the Wrattens' the only trouble seemed to be the delays caused by Ted Venn playing with his toy boats in the bath. Wednesday was the most enjoyable day of the week; the weather broke fine at last, and the long drive into the depths of Monmouthshire was rewarded with excellent peals of Northill at Caerleon and five-spliced at Usk, where Chris showed what a good lad he really is. Brian Bladon had some trouble with his trousers, but nobody let this upset the ringing.

THE LUSTY MALES

On Thursday morning it was Heythrop at Leckhampton, with the smallest tenor ringer in the world, Mick of the splay-footed action, contemptuously turning down offers to go slower. After lunch Ted Venn tenored a peal on the very peculiarly tuned bells at Norton, Glos, and then John engineered us a short ring at Sandhurst, which was Brian's last ringable eight in Gloucestershire. Thursday evening was highly entertaining; after the Cheltenham practice we met Hugh Evans, the well-known three-bell ringer, who, after a few drinks, told us all about Bob Minor, and explained how when he says "Go Plain Bob" they all laugh! We could not imagine why. To let George out of the car park, the lusty males of the party lifted somebody's Anglia 30 feet out of the way with the greatest of ease, and then it was stomping in the street for everybody.

Going north on Friday, Langley and four-spliced were scored at Badsey and Norton. Wores, respectively, with an excellent lunch for some at the Royal Oak, Evesham, in between. For the traditional last evening celebration, we all went to the Cheltenham pub christened the "grot-house," where you can sing any song you like and the barmaid will very likely join in. Chris afterwards walked the car park railings, but unfortunately took more steps than there were railings. It seemed a good idea at the time!

The best peal of the week was rung at Bishopstone the next morning; the villagers came flocking to listen, and vowed it was the best ringing there in living memory. One of them brought a gallon of beer after two hours, and was most disappointed to find the door locked! The afternoon saw the 11th different tenor ringer of the week at Stratton St. Margaret, and then, after the peal, Tony Peake, who we regret could not be with us for the whole week, insisted on showing us how he can ring two bells to Stedman Triples. Meanwhile guest conductor John Mayne was presiding over London Royal at Christ Church,

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

Cheltenham Branch

On June 26th the Cheltenham Branch held its half-yearly meeting at Blockley. There was some enjoyable ringing on the ring of eight before Evensong was sung in the choir of the church. Members then had tea at the Railway Inn; an unusual sight to see cups of tea being served from the bar of a pub! After the business there was more ringing at Ebrington, where a new member was elected—Christopher Povey, who showed great promise as a ringer. Finally the party made for the village of Stanway, where Patrick Newman was ready to receive us—it was the first time the Branch had ever visited this tower! Whatever the weight of the tenor might be, it certainly took a very long time to raise—as did the other three bells. However, with great skill and effort, the experts managed Bob Minimus on these dissonant bells, and our efforts were well rewarded afterwards with the Cotswold brew called "Stun 'em," i.e. plum wine. It was a meeting enjoyed by all.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Joint Meeting at Hackney

Three towers, quite closely and conveniently situated, in an eastern district of London, were chosen as the venue for the annual gathering between members of the London County Association and the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild. Service, tea and ringing took place at St. John-at-Hackney, whilst the bells at St. Matthew, Upper Clapton, and at St. John, South Hackney, were available during the afternoon.

The day, July 17th, was pleasant enough to attract a "stable" company of 40, but there were others who flew in and flew out. Among those who stayed were welcome visitors from Hatfield, Bexley, Lewisham, Plymouth and Worthing, who were able to enjoy ringing in a variety of methods on these three well cared for and easy going octaves. The meeting was successful and a very pleasant one (there being no business to discuss titles or change of titles!) and the gathering voiced its thanks to the incumbents and tower captains for the arrangements made. T. J. L.

Swindon, and then it was time for farewells in the Cross Keys.

Fourteen peals were rung out of 16 attempted, and it was the best Wratten Week yet, with a splendid harmonious spirit throughout. Our thanks to everyone who met us and allowed us to ring; thank you, Margery, for putting up with us again; and thank you, Cyril, for arranging such an excellent and enjoyable week. A. R. K.

Winchester & Portsmouth A.G.M.

Peal Fees a Matter of Conscience

AFTER two years' departure from tradition, the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild annual general meeting returned to the first Saturday in July for 1965. The venue was Christchurch, and although it had been stated that this was the first to be held there, George Pullinger, in his letter of apology for absence, proved quite correct when he said that the 1932 meeting was held at the Priory.

Ringling took place at some six towers in the morning, members converging on the Priory after lunch where, unfortunately, ringing on the 12 was curtailed by a wedding.

The business meeting was held in the Church Hall, where over 60 members, representing all Districts, were welcomed by the Master (Canon K. W. H. Felstead), who was supported by the general secretary (Mr. R. R. Savory) and the auditor (Mr. L. Bailey), who was deputising for the treasurer (Mrs. M. Chapman), the arrival of whose second child was imminent. The best wishes of the Guild were expressed by Canon Felstead. We were sorry that Mr. George Pullinger could not be with us; this was only the third meeting that he had missed since 1918.

After other apologies, the Master mentioned the absence of the Guild librarian, Mr. J. R. Faithfull, who had been seriously injured in a tragic road accident on Whit Monday, which had resulted in the death of another of our dearly loved and most promising young members, Miss Caroline Vibert. Canon Felstead said that he understood that Mr. Faithfull was making good progress in the South Hants Hospital, Southampton. The meeting then stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect for ten members who had died during the last 12 months.

The minutes of the 1964 annual general meeting were read by the general secretary. There were no matters arising. The treasurer's report, read by Mr. Bailey, showed the Guild finances to be in a sound state, although he pointed out that a triennial report was due next year and that this would consume a substantial proportion of the reserves. Mr. D. T. Matkin presented his usual very comprehensive report as peal recorder. This showed the Guild to have been quite active during 1964, 99 peals having been rung by 232 ringers in 57 towers. Thirty-seven had rung and three conducted their first peal. Mr. Geoffrey K. Dodd was both leading ringer and conductor.

PEAL FEES

Mr. Matkin said that he had had difficulty in collecting booking fees for three peals, two of which had been rung under the leadership of Mr. R. F. Diserens. Mr. Diserens had written expressing his objections to paying peal fees as a matter of principle. The Master asked the meeting how they felt about visiting bands ringing peals for other Associations or non-Associations. After some discussion, Mr. C. H. Kippin said that he would suggest that Mr. Matkin reply to Mr. Diserens to the effect that "he should follow the dictates of his own conscience, having regard to the etiquette of peal ringing." This was approved. Mr. Matkin was applauded for his report.

In the absence of the librarian, his report was read by the secretary; this indicated that the books and handbells were in good order. Mr. J. Hartless presented the report of the Central Council representatives, highlighting some of the features of the 1965 Central Council meeting.

There was a motion on the agenda in the names of Messrs. J. Hartless and M. J. Thomas "That a sub-committee be formed to look into the possible need for reorganisation of District boundaries." Mr. Hartless explained that in the Southampton District especially it was becoming somewhat embarrassing to have to keep going to the same towers for meetings. He thought that with modern transport facilities there was a case for larger Districts. After considerable discussion, the motion was carried and Messrs. Hartless, Thomas, Jackson and Chapman were appointed to form the sub-committee.

Referring to the 1965 striking competition, the Master stated that a competition would be held although the response to date had not been any better than in previous years. The contest would still be for either six- or eight-bell bands.

NEW GENERAL SECRETARY

For the election of officers, Canon Felstead left the chair, but quickly returned when he was unanimously re-elected. As indicated at the 1964 annual general meeting, Mr. Savory did not wish to stand for re-election; the Master paid tribute to his service over the past six years, and this was greeted by applause from the meeting. Mr. D. J. Forder was elected to the position of general secretary. All the other officers, treasurer Mrs. M. Chapman, peal recorder Mr. D. T. Matkin, auditor Mr. L. Bailey, librarian Mr. J. R. Faithfull and Central Council representatives Messrs. A. V. Davis, J. Hartless, R. R. Savory and Canon Felstead were all re-elected for a further three-year period.

The date of the next meeting was agreed as July 2nd, 1966, and the venue Alton.

The service, which followed in the Priory, was conducted by the Vicar of Christchurch, the Rev. Leslie H. Yorke; the preacher was the Rev. F. F. Rigby, Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, whose address has been published in "The Ringing World."

On returning to the Church Hall we were confronted by a magnificent tea which had been prepared by the ladies of the Christchurch District, at which we were joined by the Vicar and the Rev. F. F. Rigby.

After votes of thanks a film show, organised by Mr. Davis, was given in the Priory School. This included the Canadian "Ringers Required," a short film made by a local club, of ringing at Fordingbridge, featuring Ron Marlow in the star role, and "The Tower of Washington," a very well produced film which we would recommend as being well worth seeing by all ringers. D. J. F.

KING'S SCHOOL, WORCESTER

Ten members of the King's School Society had their annual outing on July 20th. Their first tower, Croome d'Abitot, added distinction to members' lists, as it is given as unringable in "Dove's." The six bells went fairly well and ringing ranged from Cambridge Minor to rounds. The six at Elington are unique in being the only complete ring cast by Sanders of Bromsgrove remaining. Other towers included Bredon's Norton, Beckford and Hinton-on-the-Green. At the last tower, with the arrival of Mr. Newman, Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. Paul Cattermole was the organiser. He, incumbents, tower captains and the coach driver are thanked. M. J. R.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Chesterfield District

Over 30 members and friends—representing 10 towers—were present at the July meeting of the Chesterfield District held at Old Whittington. Ringing in a wide variety of methods was followed by an excellent tea prepared by the wives and friends of the local company.

The business meeting began with a welcome from the Rector (the Rev. J. K. Robinson), who kindly agreed to act as chairman. Miss E. Coleman, of the local band, was elected a new member. The forthcoming District outing is now to be held a week later than expected—on September 18th—the venue being the Beverley district of Yorkshire.

In proposing the vote of thanks to the Rector and local company, Mr. F. A. Adams (a vice-president) spoke warmly of the welcome that was always extended to visitors at Old Whittington. The meeting ended with a 360 of Bob Minor rung "in hand" by G. Goodall 1-2, L. Goodall 3-4 and C. Hughes 5-6, after which further ringing was enjoyed following a short break for Compline.

Next meeting: August 14th (joint with Peak District). Special methods: Gainsborough Little Bob and Ashbourne College Bob.

DEVON GUILD OF RINGERS

Visitors from Melton Mowbray (Leics) and Chorlton (Lancs) were welcomed by Mrs. D. E. Hood, the chairman, at the meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch at Bovey Tracey on July 24th, when ringing consisted of touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Bob Major.

Messrs. R. H. Cook and Bernard Moss and Miss Pauline Taylor were elected non-resident members, Miss Edith Holman, of Boston, U.S.A., an honorary member, and Mrs. Dunn, of Teignmouth, a performing member. A certificate was presented to Mr. Martin Dodd, also of Teignmouth.

The Rev. D. E. Hood, of Teignmouth, conducted the service, with Mr. Weeks acting as organist.

Next meeting: Joint with South Devon Association at Torquay, September 4th, and Buckfast Abbey, September 18th (subject to usual arrangements).

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Northern Branch Discuss Division

At the meeting of the Northern Branch at Paston and Knapton on July 17th, the Rev. W. F. P. Kelly asked the meeting again to consider the division of the Branch into two parts. He contended that it would be beneficial if reorganised, as it was too big.

The president (Mr. N. P. Golden) explained that from 1877 to 1928 the Branch was in two parts, but was then reorganised into one after finding it did not work as two small units. After much discussion, voting was against a division being submitted to the Branch annual general meeting.

The Rev. W. F. P. Kelly said he would try to organise practice meetings in the District; he regarded them as essential if they were to get all towers, where it was possible, ringing for Sunday service. Mr. G. H. Pullin was elected a member.

The president thanked the Rev. H. A. A. Thur for the use of the bells, and Mr. Kelly for conducting the service. The collection for the Belfry Repair Fund amounted to £1 3s. 6d.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY?

Dear Sir,—It is very rare indeed that I am moved to comment on the administration of any Association other than my own, but the pompous hypocrisy of some of the statements in "The Ringing World" of July 16th relating to the workings of the Oxford Diocesan Guild have driven me to put pen to paper.

It appears that the general feeling at the Oxford Diocesan Guild annual meeting was that they had become tired of setting a good example to the rest of the Exercise and that they should stop making their annual donation of £40 to "The Ringing World" because no other Guild had followed suit.

The Oxford Diocesan Guild must be unique in the country in having close on £4,000 in its bank account. With interest rates at more than three per cent., the full extent of the sacrifice made by this Guild must be less than one-third of the money they earn in interest, i.e. it is no sacrifice at all (albeit that it is very welcome to "The Ringing World"). If my Association were to match this example on this basis our payment to "The Ringing World" would be 10s. But then my Association does not wring 10s. out of every non-resident member to swell its funds and subsidise the subscriptions of the residents, nor does it begrudge itself an annual report, neither does it have "secret sources of (unearned) income."

If the Oxford Diocesan Guild wishes to set an example to the rest of the Exercise as a philanthropic association, then let its members put their hands in their own pockets and not in those of non-residents, and not rely on money earned as interest.

I usually enjoy the articles written by W. G. W., but I completely fail to see the logic of the recent leading article. After extolling the democratic way the elections of the Oxford Diocesan Guild were carried out, in which Mr. A. D. Barker was unfortunate not to be re-elected a member of the Central Council, he goes on to suggest that the Central Council should nullify this democratic act by electing Mr. Barker an honorary member.

I earnestly hope that no Central Council member will follow this suggestion. The choice of embarrassing Mr. Barker by rejecting him yet again or, alternatively, of upsetting the 1,900 members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild who no longer want him as their representative, is best avoided.—Yours faithfully,
G. A. HALLS.

FIVE SATISFIED YEARS

Dear Sir,—With regard to the recent criticism of the delays and damage to "The Ringing World" when received through the post, I would just like to point out that since I became a postal subscriber some five years ago I have invariably received my copy on Thursday or at the latest Friday, and have never yet had one damaged. In fact this week, far from being late, my copy came by the second post on the Wednesday!

In view of this and both the increased profit and the Editor's assurance to replace free of charge any copies that may be damaged, is it not time we forsook the newsagents and wholeheartedly became postal subscribers?—Yours sincerely, MALCOLM PHIPPS.

SURPRISE OVER LAVENHAM TENOR

Dear Sir,—On Saturday, August 28th, at 2.30 p.m., a rededication takes place in one of the best known towers in England. Scarcely a ringer has not either visited or seen photographs of Lavenham, often described as one of our very finest churches.

Equally notable is the ring of eight hung in the impressive tower, and every care has been taken in this renovation to retain the character of these bells. They have been rehung with all new fittings in a metal frame, two of the bells slightly retuned and provision made for the addition of two or four trebles. The work has been done by John Taylor and Co.

Whilst at the foundry something quite remarkable was discovered. The tenor (1625) has always been known as 23 cwt., already an uncommonly light weight for the note of D flat—"she" is in fact only just over 21 cwt., some 12 to 15 cwt. lighter possibly than a D flat bell today.

The Suffolk Guild has looked forward to this dedication for many months now, and we hope that as great a number of ringers as possible from our own county and beyond will come to Lavenham on August 28th. A particular welcome is extended to visitors.—Yours truly,
GEORGE W. PIPE.

P.S.—Talking of 21 cwt. in D flat reminds me of a dictum that used to be made by one of our grand old Suffolk worthies, Garnham A. Blaxcell. He used to say "You can't get a big note out of a little bell—yer gotta hev the wayte!" Obviously the exceptional thinness of Lavenham tenor has contributed to this exception.—G. W. P.

FIRST OUTING AT GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL

Dear Sir,—Under the heading "Wrington at Guildford" in a recent issue, there is a statement which is not true for, on June 26th, the Apsley ringers had their outing and were privileged to ring on the Cathedral bells at Guildford, permission also having been given prior to the dedication.

Further, we rang the bells backwards for, as we were told, a recording to be made for the B.B.C. archives. I wonder if they will be used in times of disaster as were the bells of Sutton in the 1947 flood scenes during the B.B.C.1 broadcast on July 20th.

When the inside acoustics are properly dealt with, ringing at the Cathedral will be a delight.—Yours faithfully, Hemel Hempstead. WALTER AYRE.

WOLVERHAMPTON TENOR

Dear Sir,—With regard to Mr. Julian Litten's letter concerning Wolverhampton tenor (page 512) I would like to say that if Mr. Litten's musical knowledge extended far enough, he would know that a single bell does not have a key, only a note, it is the actual ring which has the "key." Also, the note of this tenor is given in "Dove" and also on the board in the belfry as C sharp. Also, I do not know whether Mr. Litten knew that D flat as a note is exactly the same as C sharp.

Another point. In the peal rung by "the St. Peter's tower resident band" only two of the people taking part were actual members of the St. Peter's band.

Perhaps Mr. Litten was misinformed.—Yours faithfully,
PHILIP R. JOHNSON.

Codsall, Staffs.

OBITUARY

MR. CYRIL NORMINGTON

The name of John Cyril Normington will mean little to the younger generation, as he had done no active ringing since about 1930, but his passing, on July 18th, merits more than a passing thought.

He was one of the band who gathered around J. T. White, of Felkirk, at the end of the second decade of this century when first attempts were made at change ringing, and was a member of the first local band ever to ring a 720.

Coincidentally we were only talking about him on the day he died, although we did not even know he was ill. How he gathered around him a bunch of boys and taught them how to handle both tower bells and handbells; tune ringing and change ringing; how he used to take his cassock and surplice into the belfry and dash down the steps to join the choir as it went up the aisle; how for many years he was organist at Archbishop Holgate Hospital; how he taught himself to play the 'cello and the violin; how he went into the woods at midnight with his 'cello to woo the nightingale into song; how we used to travel with him all over the countryside with a bag of handbells and a case of music; how he used to be at one time president of the Barnsley and District Society. What a character he was.

He introduced many ringers to the art, including Dan Smith, Arnold Cole, myself and many others. He was 75 when he died and was interred at Brierley in the Parish of Felkirk.

FORMER LORD ABBOT OF BUCKFAST

The death took place at Buckfast Abbey, Devon, on July 18th, of the Rev. Father Bruno Fehrenbacher, who was appointed Lord Abbot of Buckfast in 1939 and who resigned in 1956 owing to indifferent health. After his resignation he acted as assistant chaplain to the Benedictine Nuns at Stanbrook, near Worcester. He had a serious operation in a Birmingham hospital about 12 months ago but was able to return to Buckfast some time before Christmas last year.

The funeral took place at the Abbey on the morning of July 22nd and, prior to the service, the Community ringers, with Mr. A. L. Bennett on the treble, rang the minor eight half-muffled, as is their usual custom on the death of a member of the Community.

MR. GEORGE BALLS

In the passing of Mr. George Balls at the age of 85 in Notley Hospital, Wormingford Church has lost a true and faithful servant. His ringing began in 1919, when the three old bells were rehung and three new bells added. It was a red letter day for him when he took part in the first peal on the bells. George was for some years a member of the Essex Association, also a chorister and member of the Church Council for half a century.

In 1963 he was the recipient of the Queen's Maundy money in Chelmsford Cathedral and celebrated his diamond wedding last year. His body was laid to rest on July 23rd, when a quarter peal of Bob Doubles was rung half-muffled on the bells he loved, by D. Culham 1, B. Lord 2, J. Avis 3, M. Warren 4, E. Leggett (conductor) 5, R. Perkins 6.

Well done, thou good and faithful servant.

STEDMAN TRIPLES—Its Construction and Calling

By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD

5. OBSERVATION BELL AFFECTED BY CALLS EXTENDED TOUCHES

It remains to deal with touches in which an Observation bell is affected by calls, and of these there are two chief kinds. In one type the calling may be learned off for a particular bell: as, for instance, the excellent 252 which, called by the Treble, reads: "Call Treble Out Quick, Once Right (6-7 up). Once Wrong (6-7 down), Make the Bob after Slow." This course to be twice repeated. The Text Books and "The Ringers' Diary" give a number of touches that may be learned in this way.

fact that the bobbed pair of bells actually rings one six behind before the bob has to be made, and so the caller has plenty of warning.

Several good touches may be called by this plan and the student will find it valuable practice to write out one or two in full. Here is a good specimen:

"Two bobs on 67, two on 74, two on 46, repeated."

And here is one almost the same:

"Call the 4th to make the bob after slow. Two bobs on 74, two on 46, repeated."

Now these two touches may easily be com-

FINCHINGFIELD OUTING

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Finchingfield ringers as their coach party of 41 passed through the Dartford Tunnel into Kent for their annual outing on July 3rd. Are they the first to ring under the Thames or in the tunnel?

Ringling started on the good eight at Northfleet followed by the musical eight at Swanscombe. The ring of six at Cobham and the unique brasses in the chancel impressed all, but the Gillett and Johnston eight at Wrotham were the bells of the day; surely they are one of the best rings in the county. We had a short stay at Seal Chart (a ring of six) and after tea at Tonbridge tried the light eight at Shoreham. "Terrible," someone told us, but we rather liked them; we noticed that some of the bells were cast in 1635.

Our thanks to all who helped to make the outing a success.

bined to make a longer touch, as follows: "Two bobs on 67, two on 74, two on 46; call 4th to make the bob after slow; two bobs on 74, two on 46. Repeat the whole."

This will give a touch of 408, one well known to Stedman conductors, and one that produces music as good as may be obtained in this method.

The above is a good example of the splicing of two touches to make one, and this is a device often adopted when a conductor wishes to improvise a touch or lengthen one. The general principle is a simple one. Consider the calling shown here. It is a touch of two courses obtained by bobs at 3.4 repeated. In the second course the bells re-enter the Plain Course at the Point A. Being now in the Plain Course we are in exactly the same position as if we had started from rounds and called no bobs at all. We could therefore, if we wished, start, as it were, a new touch from this Plain Course. Suppose, for instance, that we now called bobs at 12.13 (7th in and out Quick), and repeated this; we should find that we had returned to the Plain Course again just as the 7th left the Quick, and the result would be that we had added a course to our original touch, making three courses instead of two.

again just as the 7th left the Quick, and the result would be that we had added a course to our original touch, making three courses instead of two.

Again, consider the short touch of 75 changes shown here. It is very simple to call, especially from the Treble. It runs thus:

Call Treble:

Once in 6-7 up.

Once in 6-7 up with a Single. (Treble lies in 7ths.)

The bells run round at handstroke the change after 2143657.

Now let us see how this touch can be extended. We know that if we call a bell In and Out Quick TWICE we shall return to where we started from. Having, therefore, called the first bob in this little touch, let us call the Treble In and Out Quick, repeated. We shall then be switched out of the original touch for a short time, but as soon as we call the Treble Out Quick for the second time we shall find ourselves back in the original touch at the row 5673124 (the point marked A), and from here we carry on to call the Single and to bring the bells round at hand. We have added a whole course to the touch making it 157 changes instead of 73.

The student should prick out the whole of this touch, for by doing so he will gain more knowledge than can be conveyed by many lines of print; and the really earnest seeker will find much amusement and profit in finding at what places other courses can be spliced into this useful little touch.

There is another useful touch of 117, shown here by the six-ends at which calls are made. The plan is simple. A single is called at 1 (the 7th making 7ths place); then the 7th is called once in 6-7 up. The bells run round at handstroke the row after 2143657. There are several ways in which this touch could be extended.

Suppose, after the bob has been called, that we call the 7th In Slow and First Whole Turn Repeated. We shall eventually return to the point B, having added a course to our touch. If we wish to add two courses we may call the 7th In Slow, twice repeated. This will also return us to our original touch the six before B, and from here the bells may run home.

Experiment with pencil and paper will show almost infinite possibilities in this matter of splicing one touch into another; and with practice the conductor will find it reasonably easy to improvise in the tower and to lengthen his touches to suit the time he has available.

Two points must however, be kept in mind. The first is that this process will not necessarily produce the most musical touches (though some experimental work will show how this important matter may receive consideration); the second is that we cannot always be sure of the truth of the changes. Truth is a traditional feature of change ringing, and it is desirable, especially in the composing of specific touches, that the composer should have some knowledge of the principles of proof.

(To be concluded)

Bell Ringing in Schools To-day: Points from Mr. King's Thesis

DEPOSITED with the Central Council library is a thesis of 15,000 words written by Mr. M. King, of Wentworth, during his final year at a teacher-training college at York on bellringing in the schools today. His first probe into the subject took place during the summer vacation of 1963 and the thesis was handed to his education tutor just before Easter, 1964. When returned, the comment was: "The only thing that was missing was a real bell!"

As a basis to work on Mr. King delved into back numbers of "The Ringing World" and had collected information about seven or eight schools, particularly Gnosall Primary School. The search proper began in September, 1963. First of all he wrote to the headmaster asking him to contact the master in charge of bellringers. To this member of the staff such questions were addressed as: "How old is your Society?" "Does it have regular tower bell practice?" "Do you ring tunes on your handbells?" A number of masters and scholars replied and some provided names of more schools. In this direction Mr. and Mrs. H. Poyner and Mr. J. L. Queen were most helpful.

A letter to "The Ringing World" in November, 1963, produced three replies. Mr. T. Ogden, of Shaw, Oldham, sent useful information about schools which he had visited during his sales travels and through this means contact was made with the Roman Catholic Abbey School at Ampleforth, near Helmsley, Yorks. Before the end of June, 1964, he had paid four visits to this school and also visited Robin Brown at Leeds and the youngsters of Bishopthorpe, near York.

Mr. King estimates that if every word submitted was written in the thesis it would have exceeded 35,000 words: in this respect Shebbear College Society, Devon, was most energetic. In the introduction he dealt with the history of bells—both tower bells and handbells—and their uses in schools. He stressed that bellringing was but a minor school activity and the percentage of young people who learn to ring tower bells to change ringing level was less than one per cent. of those under 18.

All types of school were written about from Primary to Public and two or more schools outside England and Wales where there are ringing societies. Three English towers were given as examples of where school age ringers "man" the bells, and without their perseverance these bells would be silent.

The thesis was typed by Mrs. Ron Plant, wife of the leader of the ringers at Bradfield, Yorks. Photographs and music sheets were in the file handed to the education tutor.

SCHOOLS COVERED—PRIMARY

1.—Bishopthorpe Primary, York. No shortage of volunteers; an odd set of 18 handbells; tunes rung from musical notation in combination with voice singing and other musical instruments. Mr. Clementson (headmaster, 1933) had a team which produced excellent results.

2.—Boxgrove Primary School, Abbey Wood Estate, London, S.E. School went "bell-mad" for quite a time.

3.—Gnosall Primary, Staffs. Mrs. Marion Key's use of handbells in the children's lessons have been most successful and the senior group has appeared on television. She has 17 bells, and with each child taking one bell they progress from tonic sol-fa to complicated musical notation harmony.

4.—Carr Hill Primary School, Retford, Notts. Mrs. Harry Poyner has been at a number of primary schools and always gets a team of youngsters ringing handbells. She hopes at Retford that her children will eventually progress to tower bell ringing. She has also been at Nettleham, Lincs: Syston, Leics: and Park College, Wellington, Somerset.

STARTING YOUNG. — Children aged between five and six years at Blackbird Leys Infants' School, Oxford, being taught handbell ringing by Mrs. Badger. There are two groups of six children learning and they are now capable of ringing call changes; it is to be hoped that they will soon be competent to learn change ringing. Are these children of the earliest age to start ringing on handbells? Inquires Mr. Harry Badger.

5.—All Saints' C. of E., Rochdale, Lancs. Mr. J. Taylor, caretaker of this school until it closed in August, 1963, took charge of a team of seniors and taught them tunes from his own notation system. His team no longer exists as Mr. Taylor is not at the new school and the three octaves he had were his own.

6.—C. of E. Junior, Shepshed, Leics. Only occasionally are handbells used at this school, usually at Christmas time.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS

1.—Abingdon Grammar, Berkshire. A school team rings the bells of St. Helen's, Abingdon (10), especially for school services.

2.—Ashton-under-Lyne Grammar, Lancashire. Mr. J. Partington's girls ring a set of 17 handbells from musical notation with sheets supplied by Mr. T. Ogden. Under his guidance his team is assured of a future, especially when their name spreads through ringing outside the boundaries of the school.

3.—The Humphrey Perkins School, Barrow-upon-Soar, Leics. The Society here is well established, being formed in 1951. Tower bell ringing and change ringing on handbells is their chief concern but sometimes the whole set of 28 bells comes in handy for tune ringing, in which the bells are rung four-in-hand. The Society under Mr. B. S. Payne's leadership was 29 strong in October, 1963.

4.—Bangor Street, Blackburn, Lancashire. From the brief reply, I gathered that here is a team of handbell ringers displaying a considerable range of talent.

5.—Queen Elizabeth's Grammar, Blackburn, Lancashire. Mr. J. Parsons has a small number of boys tower bell ringing at Blackburn Cathedral (10). They also ring changes and tunes on handbells from a set of up to 15 handbells. The Society can ring up to Erin Triples if constant practice is achieved.

6.—Bradfield Secondary Modern, Yorkshire. Members of the staff and parents, with scholars, help to ring at St. Nicholas', Bradfield, and organise the ringing for the now annual carol service.

7.—Pate's Girls' G.S., Cheltenham, Gloucs. As they only had a set of handbells "on loan" up to December, 1963, this team may now be defunct.

8.—Cirencester G.S., Gloucs. In past years this was a very active School Society, visiting neighbouring towers. There are hopes of a revival.

9.—Cowbridge G.S., Glamorgan, Wales. Mr. I. Davies is in charge of the dozen or so boys who are boarders and who ring at Cowbridge Parish Church on Sundays. They also visit other towers and are members of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association.

10.—Ecclesfield G.S., near Sheffield, Yorkshire. Begun in 1933, with staff helping, and using an old set which once belonged to the Ecclesfield village team, they carried on until 1954. Since 1953, partly under the influence of Michael Meadows, Paul Thompson and myself, the tune-ringing team got going again, with little staff assistance. Now a handbell team is a regular feature of school concerts, although outside functions haven't been kept up. Ten ringers handle about 70 bells. If there are enough tower bell ringers in the school they ring St. Mary's, Ecclesfield, bells before and after the school's two annual carol services.

11.—Edmonton County G.S., Middlesex. The school's magazines of 1962 and 1963 show a spirited company of school ringers who ring at Edmonton and Enfield Parish Churches as well as doing some change ringing on handbells.

12.—Hampton's G.S., Middlesex. Mr. P. A. Brand's team ring Hampton's bells as well as changes on handbells: some of them are able to ring quarter peals.

13.—Leeds Central High, Yorkshire. Mr. Robin Brown has six handbells which he uses for change ringing purposes only. In 1963 he and two other boys could ring up to a 180 of Plain Bob Minor.

14.—New Parks Secondary Modern, Leicester. Nine boys, ringing four-in-hand and tunes from a number system, can ring up to excerpts from Stravinsky's "Symphony of Psalms." Together with other schools, they have joined in with combined school handbell meetings. Tower bell ringers ring at Sileby (8).

15.—Wyggeston Boys' G.S., Leics. Founded back in 1946, a very strong Society flourished in the mid-fifties. "Silent" in 1961-62 school year, they have since got going again. Change ringing (quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles in 1962) was revived as well as four-in-hand tune-ringing on the school's set of 23 handbells.

16.—Kettering High School for Girls, Northants. Twenty-nine handbells keep the Society's members busy with tune ringing. Firmly based, the Society's future looks safe for some time to come with 26 recruits alone in 1963.

17.—Retford Boys' G.S., Notts. Mr. Harry Poyner started a change ringing team here. With 13 handbells, they set about ringing Bob Minor and in less than a year a full peal in the method had been scored by Mr. Poyner and two of the boys. With Mr. Poyner at the helm, this Society should have a worthwhile future.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Southern District

Ringers converged on Leigh, near Reigate, for the quarterly meeting of the Southern District on July 17th. This tuneful six were rung to a variety of methods including Plain Bob Doubles for the young ringers of Leigh.

The service was conducted by the Vicar,
Canon Crockford, and at his kind invitation tea was served in the Vicarage gardens. At the business meeting, under the chairmanship of the Association's Master, Mr. F. E.
Collins, one new member, Mr. D. Robinson
(Leigh), was elected. Topics under discussion included the holding of a combined young ringers' practice once a month at Reigate and the proposed joint meeting with the Kent County Association, possibly in early November, at either Edenbridge or Westerham.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar the young members of the Leigh band who provided the sumptuous tea, and to Mr. C.
Dalton, whose hard work had made Leigh bells a joy to ring. C. H. C.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

St. Albans District

The meeting on July 17th was held at Kimpton. Afternoon ringing ranged from rounds to Sliced Minor. Graham Sillis from South Mymms, played the organ during the service and a new member at the service was an extremely well-behaved dog!

The Rev. K. Martin took the chair for the meeting, which followed tea. It was announced that the Ladies' Guild had requested to join the meeting between the St. Albans District and the N. and E. Middlesex Association at North and South Mymms on August 21st. Names for the District outing to Guildford and Chessington on September 18th were required by the secretary by August 21st. The car rally had been arranged for October 2nd. After discussion, it was decided to continue the arrangements for the District dinner on December 4th. Members were reminded of the Kimpton Cup on September 25th.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. K.
Martin, to the local ladies for an enjoyable tea and to the organist. Evening ringing and handbells followed. J. A. F.

BELFRY GOSSIP

With the peal at Babworth, Notts, on July 24th, Geoffrey Pick became the first ringer trained at the tower to ring a peal.

Messrs. John Taylor and Co. have promised to have the 12 bells of St. Peter Mancroft ringing again by Christmas.

A welcome was extended to Mr. B. Gogle at the meeting of the Northern District of the Norwich Diocesan Association at being able to drive himself again after an operation on one of his eyes.

Mr. Richard Hough, a former Master of Cambridge University Society, has started teaching a band of ringers at St. Mary's, Huntingdon, where there has not been a band for 18 years.

The peal of Doubles for the Shropshire Association on Saturday, June 5th ("Ringing World," page 438) was the Association's 500th peal. It was also the most methods (15) to a peal for the Association.

Mr. Gerald Moorhouse, of Cheadle Hulme, Cheshire, made a welcome reappearance to peal ringing with a peal of Bob Major "in hand" at Marple. His last peal was Oxford Treble Bob Royal "in hand" almost 35 years ago.

It seems that the jinx referred to in the recent note in "Belfry Gossip" about the Bolsover outing was still present in the report itself, as the last tower was Cookley and not Castor, which is in Northants—nearly 100 miles away—and was in fact visited on last year's outing!

Southampton ringers rang a peal of Rutland Surprise Major on July 17th in honour of the silver wedding of Canon K. W. H.
Felstead and Mrs. Felstead. A wide circle of friends will extend congratulations, especially those who have benefited from the Canon's wide research into peals.

COMPLETES HIS 100 PEALS AT 16

With a peal of London Royal at Maidstone, on June 19th, Andrew J. Corby, of Sevenoaks, completed his 100 peals. Surely few ringers have, at the age of 16, been able to show such a varied and impressive list.

Having rung his first, Plain Bob Major, at Sevenoaks on June 3rd, 1961, at the age of 12, this 100 has taken just four years to complete.

With a peal total standing at only nine, an opportunity to ring the first of Maximus came in April, 1962, when a band met one short at Canterbury. Andrew was called upon to stand in at the last minute, ringing the treble to Yorkshire.

His first of Royal was Cambridge, rung at Cudham on July 21st, 1962, and of Spliced Surprise Major "inside," all the work four rung at Withyham on March 2nd, 1963, having now reached the mature age of 14.

Andrew's 50th peal was his first as conductor, calling Middleton's Cambridge from the fourth at Edenbridge on March 14th, 1964, with sister Judith ringing her first peal on the second. Hence brother and sister had rung their first peal together in the same tower as their parents did in 1945.

The best achievement to date was to come on May 14th of this year, with the calling of A. J. Pitman's peal of four spliced "all the work" from the seventh, at Fairwarp. Although there were other conductors in the band who have called this composition, the writer can vouch that they gave no assistance whatever to Andrew during that peal, who can justly claim to be the youngest ringer to call this composition.

"ALL HANDS ON DECK"

The party of ringers from Prittlewell, Brentwood and King's Langley who have just enjoyed an adventurous week cruising on the River Severn and the River Avon would like to thank Mike Hallett for arranging the week. All the 18 towers he planned were well worth a visit, particularly Pershore, Dursley, Bredon's Norton and All Saints', Worcester.

We would like to record that we bear him no malice for hiring the two oldest and leakiest boats available! Now we are all proficient at getting through locks, towing other boats, running aground, repairing engines and stopping leaks. Our only complaint is that we would have liked another week.

One serious note: If any other ringers are contemplating this sort of holiday on the River Severn, we are unable to recommend Bathurst's Yacht Co., Ltd., for hiring boats.

MADE RINGABLE

The four bells at Grove, near Retford, are now ringable, after a visit of the King Edward VI Grammar School Campanological Society. The Magna Carta holiday was chosen for the task. Twenty sacks full of twigs were thrown from the parapet. The bells are by J. Taylor, 1872, and the tenor has a diameter of 27 inches and an estimated weight of four cwt.

COWBRIDGE GRAMMAR SCHOOL SOCIETY

The Cowbridge Grammar School Society of Change Ringers, which was inaugurated in April, held its first annual general meeting at the school on July 5th.

A constitution was agreed on after careful discussion. Among its provisions are that membership is open to past and present members of the school who are also members, whether resident or non-resident, of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association; and that the Society's object is "to carry out and promote change ringing of good standard on Sundays and on other occasions, and in general to further the Exercise within the framework of school, tower and Association activities."

Christopher Ricketts was elected Ringing Master for 1965-66 in succession to Ellis N. Thomas. Mr. Iolo Davies remains hon. secretary-treasurer. Mr. W. J. Lewis Groom was elected an honorary member. He has taken part in several peals in the past with ringers from the school, including the "record number of methods for the Llandaff and Monmouth Association" peal of Doubles in 46 methods/variations at St. Bride's Major in 1964.

Two peals have been rung for the Society since the annual general meeting, one at St. Athan and one at the "home" tower of Llanblethian (originally St. Bleiddian, now St. John's). Each of these peals was only the second on the bells. At St. Athan, where 14 methods/variations of Doubles were rung in 2 hours 30 minutes, the previous peal was as far back as May 9th, 1925, being Grand sire Doubles, conducted by the late Robert E. Coles. At Llanblethian the previous peal, also of Grand sire Doubles, was rung in 1963, conducted by William T. Petty.

The last-mentioned peal was a farewell to Ellis Thomas, who leaves school with 27 peals in his book, including one of Cambridge Royal. He has done much for ringing in the school and district and will be greatly missed. Our loss will be the gain of the Cambridge University Guild: Ellis will join Gareth Jones at St. John's College next term. Our best wishes go with him

I. D.

ALL TENOR MEN

Wratten Wingers had a good bunch of tenor men in the party this year. There were ten males who participated in the full week of the tour and each of them turned in at least one tenor to a peal. Of the two peals lost out of 16 attempts, both arose from miscalls after over two hours' ringing.

OPEN NIGHTS AT DERBY

Open nights were held in Derby Cathedral belfry on July 18th and July 20th, when the general public were invited to see a demonstration of bellringing, which explained the various stages in training a ringer, from bell handling to change ringing. About 30 visitors attended on the Sunday and about 60 on the Tuesday, writes Mr. G. A. Halls.

A NEW LOOK FOR DORSET TOWER

The south and west sides of St. Peter's tower, Dorchester, are now encased in scaffolding ready for the final stages of the tower repairs to be carried out. The north and east sides have been repaired, including the rebuilding of the north-east buttress, a completely new roof to the tower and the rebuilding of some of the pinnacles, cleaning and replacing defective stone and completely repointing from top to bottom. This time on the south and west sides two pinnacles which are leaning slightly will be repositioned and the stonework from top to bottom will be cleaned and repointed. This will give the whole tower a completely "new look" although there is evidence of the lower part of the tower being built in Norman times.

It is regretted that while repairs are in progress ringing will be restricted and possibly stopped altogether for a week or two to allow the mortar to harden, but the whole job is estimated to take six to eight weeks.

Intending visiting ringers should inquire concerning ringing from the captain and tower keeper, Mr. R. H. Duke, 1, Came View Road, Dorchester. Tel. 158 or Dorchester 1628 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

FLASH BACK

Mr. P. Amos writes: The recent tropical thunderstorms on July 19th and 20th reminded me of two outstanding days in 1934. On April 28th of that year, Cottesmore, Rutland, felt the full force of a tropical storm. Strangely enough it began as the bells were being raised for a peal which lasted three hours and two minutes, and by coincidence the storm ceased as the bells were being lowered immediately afterwards. So fierce was the thunder and lightning that at times the bells could not be heard above the noise of the thunder, and the Vicarage had to be reached for tea afterwards by wading ankle-deep through water.

Then on September 15th that same year a similar storm broke over Northampton within an hour of the writer entering a convalescent hospital close by. Lightning struck the chimneys as well as several newly-built houses in the vicinity. And on that same evening came the news over the radio of the terrible colliery disaster at Gresford, near Wrexham, when 264 men lost their lives and were never got out. That storm, too, lasted all night and rain was like an Asiatic monsoon.

THE WRONG VOWEL

The peal rung at Huphenden reported on page 503 was for the Oxford Diocesan Guild and the Society of Raving Ringers. We regret that this was credited to the Roving Ringers. The bride and bridegroom and also Anthony D. Smith and Susan E. Burt are all Raving Ringers, Mr. Howard Oglesby being a former Master.

THE FARMER OBLIGED

Meeting short for a peal attempt of Plain Bob Minor at the remote village of Nemponett Thruwell, Somerset, a frantic search was made for a ringer to complete the band. To the delight of the company, Mr. Stuart Ford, a local farmer, left his work in the fields to come along and ring a very steady tenor to a quarter of Doubles. This was his first ringing for about two years.

UP AND AROUND THE POLDEN HILLS

WHEN the perpetrators of a tour (Mr. J.
C. Sawtell and Mr. K. C. Jones) on July 10th arrived at St. Dunstan's, Baltonsborough, the first tower of the day, the heavy six were already ringing. This was left to the enthusiasts from Dorset, who were quick to assure the latecomers there that before their arrival there had been some good ringing.

However, they were made to pay heavily for their sins by being required to assist in raising the rather difficult 19 cwt. six at But-leigh, where the story of the man who pulled the wheel off a bell was nearly capped when the strenuous efforts of the gentleman raising the four almost caused the tower to be burnt down. The rope was apparently bearing on a beam, resulting in clouds of smoke and a strong smell of scorched hemp filling the tower. He was persuaded to cease the attempted felony, the rope released and the bell raised without further trouble.

In Walston's unusual little tower, west of Street, it was found that the boiler seemingly takes precedence over ringing—some might add that its musical qualities may also be superior to those of the bells! Mr Prime greeted us at Ashcott (a splendid ring on which some London was performed) and where we chatted over the churchyard wall with the driver of a milk lorry, who proved to be none other than the captain of Cossington tower.

Shapwick has another Prime tower: here he is with true missionary zeal teaching a young band, and yet gallantly bore with us for another 30 minutes' ringing before we ascended the Polden Hills—all 200 feet of them—to eat our sandwiches in a hayfield overlooking Kingsedgemoor, which, in 1685, although none perhaps realised it, was the scene of the last battle on English soil.

Woolavington tower has recently become embarrassed by the lack of a floor—at least, a secure one—in its ringing chamber, and the Rector of Cossington kindly offered, us the use of his bells for an hour, and thus we returned the favour by ringing for his church fete. John Hall and Gillian Webb joined us here, incidentally providing transport for Graham Nabb of this tower, who put the tour to good use.

Despite the occasional explosions from the nearby Ordnance factory, the bells of Puriton appear unharmed and provided some pleasant ringing. The five of St. John's, Pawlett, lay across the A.38 and while it did not prove necessary to use our emergency plan of crossing on foot, the vehicular crossing was a little prolonged. Retracing our steps over this holiday artery we came to the four at Bawdrip, with its cathedral-like approach above the nave. Now south of the Poldens, whose extremities had been followed all day, we arrived at Chedzoy, pronounced, the Rector assured us, as he explained the village's ancient candle auction. Chedzee. After a brief tea break we climbed to the 18 cwt. six of Moorlinch, where Ross and Judith Robertson were able to renew acquaintance with the Rector, late of Kingswood, Surrey. Once again we welcomed Mr. Prime, now joined by his wife, who could not resist joining the party for this and the final tower.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

In the absence on holiday of both the chairman of the Marlborough Branch (Mr. G.
Newman) and the Ringing Master (the Rev.
R. Keeley), the conduct of the affairs at the Ogbournes on July 24th was in the capable hands of Mr. T. A. Palmer (hon. secretary).
The mellow five at Ogbourne St. Andrew were rung in the afternoon before the Guild service conducted by the Rev. H. Dunn. A splendid tea was served at Ogbourne St.
George and good use was made of the heavy five with its short draught in the tower by those not lured away by the church fete and flower show. Visitors were welcomed from Reading, Blackwell (Som.), Liss, Alton, Ham-bledon (Hants) and South Cerney. W. A. E.

SQUARE ONE REVISITED

TODAY, London Royal; tomorrow, Bob Minor, was the apt way in which a friend of mine pinpointed accurately the change of fortune which will inevitably befall any tower which does not pay due regard to its learners. It may be a nuisance to forgo that course of Bristol to plough through what you know will be indifferent Grandsire Triples but, having done so, let us pause for a few minutes to view the Exercise through the eyes of the young ringer whose interest is awakening, and consider his impressions and reactions as he cautiously tries to make progress at this critical period in his ringing career.

None of us can say for certain how many would-be ringers are lost in these early stages, for the Exercise is a hard taskmaster, and the hurdles at times seem insurmountable. As in most things, chance plays a big part in advancement, and certain conditions are necessary if the tender plant is not to wither away at the start. Encouragement and interest are the two most obvious requirements, but if these are lacking in the tower, or in the general organisation of the Branch, the chances are that unless our recruit possesses more than his fair share of grit and determination, his enthusiasm will soon flag, and if he does not give up altogether, he remains at best a modest ringer at his own tower with no further ambition in mind.

It follows that responsibility for help and guidance lies heaviest on two men—the local captain and the Branch Ringing Master, and the impressions they create at their differing stages play a decisive part in any ringer's future activities.

At the outset, and for some time after, he will take his home tower's standard of ringing as his yardstick, both for practice and on Sundays, and these first impressions are vital. A tower captain must have and must maintain a sense of purpose which communicates itself to the rest of the band, otherwise standards will soon start to fall. If bad handling and bad striking are passively condoned without comment, their correction at a later date can be a chastening experience. Whilst we all had our weaknesses at the outset, these are usually ironed out by practice when other towers are visited, and the differing standards encountered enable a ringer to place his own tower's performance in perspective. It also leads, on occasions, to awkward questions being asked, and the seemingly innocent inquiry whether the rest of the band go to meetings produces the defensive retort that "they aren't brasshats, and any rate they keep the bells ringing on Sundays, don't they?" Well, yes, they do, bless them, but with no criterion to measure their standards at what point does it fall below the level required for service ringing to that which is a bad advertisement for the Exercise generally?

And how does our friend fare at the Branch meeting? He is hoping on this occasion to ring a course of Grandsire Triples, which he has been studying of late, but several touches are rung before his patience is rewarded and the method is called for. He is surprised to find at least four others like himself in the band, all looking if anything a little self-conscious and apprehensive on bells they are not used to, but somewhat reassured by the old and venerable tenorman, whose eyes remain stolidly fixed on the 7th's sally. The touch is in trouble from the start. The treble is uncertain, and the tenor out in the fields, and despite three attempts it is a dismal failure. The disappointment of the learners is not helped by the clinking course of London that follows, but then they were not to know they were members of a peal band who had just called in for a ring on their homeward journey.

It is the impression on a youngster that counts. At this stage he can so easily lose interest if he does not get our help, and if he is not lost to ringing entirely he will make no attempt to advance further, especially when one remembers the counter attractions of these days. Through no fault of his own his future as a ringer is cast, and the Exercise generally is the poorer for it.

It is easy to find fault with the way meetings are run, but if Ringing Masters can't be all things to all men it poses the question whether the best use is always made of the ringers available. Most of us see touches ruined because the wrong people catch hold, or because it is felt impolite to remind individuals about their striking. A meeting is, after all, rather like a school, where all the pupils are placed in one form, and then presented with a set of questions to answer with no regard to the level they may have reached. There is a need in the Exercise today for more thought in our meetings, and a little more benevolent dictatorship from Ringing Masters to ensure potential is used to the best advantage instead of leaving it a "free for all." This is easier said than done, but it is quite practicable if ordinary tower members who attend meetings and know the capabilities of a ringer make sure that touches in which he takes part are stiffened to give him a fair chance. Two learners in a touch on eight are quite enough; to allow more is a waste of everybody's time and achieves nothing.

Bell Ringing in Schools To-day—by M. King

18.—King Edward VII Boys' G.S., Stourbridge, Worcs. The Society here began in 1960 and are mainly interested in change ringing. They use both tower- and handbells and have rung a peal on tower bells. Mr. J. R. Niblett is in charge.

19.—Tupsley Secondary Modern, Herefordshire. Space is limited to go into the details of Mr. Bryan Thomas' lengthy account of his change ringing on handbells. His enthusiasm has spread to a nearby Junior School and there his team have rung before that school's morning assemblies. After a year of silence whilst Mr. Thomas was on a one-year course, the Society is now once again pursuing its activities.

20.—Wallingford Boys' G.S., Berkshire. Although first records go back to 1922, the Society has just regained an active level under the leadership of Mr. G. McIlhone. They have rung peals at nearby towers and tower bell ringing is their chief concern.

21.—King Alfred's School, Wantage, Berkshire. Although with only eight handbells, Mr. J. Wilson tackles tune ringing rather than chattering. He hopes to be able to obtain a cheap 16-bell secondhand set in order to widen his scope and keep the interest of his pupils.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

1. Ampleforth R.C. Abbey School, Yorkshire. Thirty-one handbells from their fellow Benedictine brothers at Buckfast Abbey, Devon, given in September, 1961, and advice from Mr. T. Ogden, set the only Roman Catholic set of schoolringers on their way to forming a tune ringing Society. The handbell ringers have seen the ringers at Helmsley and York Minster. Perhaps one day a ring of up to 12 bells will accompany the 92 cwt. Bourdon in the Abbey's squat central tower.

2.—Bristol Cathedral School. The boys here form the main part of the band that ring at Bristol Cathedral. With their new set of 16 handbells they ring tunes. Full co-operation from school staff, Cathedral staff and the Press indicates a happy future for the Society.

3.—King's School, Canterbury, Kent. This Society has recently restored the then unused bells of St. Alphege's, Canterbury (6). They also use a set of 12 handbells.

4.—Benenden Girls' Residential School, Cranbrook, Kent.

Perhaps one day members of this Society may influence Princess Anne to join them! As well as ringing at Benenden (8), they ring handbells at local garden parties. They sent a donation for the English ringers who went to open the bells at Washington Cathedral.

5.—Hereford Cathedral School. First begun in 1943 and recently revived, here is now a flourishing Society which helps to ring the Cathedral's bells (10) every Sunday of term. They ring up to Erin Triples and Cambridge Minor. They receive outside help and thus, with this interest, they are able to progress and flourish. Mr. W. F. Moreton (Wakefield) and his brother, Michael, were founder members in 1943.

6.—Llandovery College, Carmarthenshire Wales. The church authorities of St. Dungad's, Llandovery (6) asked the College in 1953 to train ringers to ring its silent bells. Although the bells were silent in October, 1963, owing to tower repairs, they continued their activities by turning to a set of 12 handbells.

ECCLESFIELD GRAMMAR SCHOOL HANDBELL RINGERS, October, 1960.—Included in this picture are David J. Baddeley, Norman Parker, W. C. Gregory, G. Ibbotson, Booth, Michael Meadows, Paul Thompson and M. King. Handbell ringing has been practised at this school since 1933.

7.—Radley College, Abingdon, Berkshire. Practising weekly on the light six at Radley, they can reach up to Cambridge Minor. On July 3rd, 1964, four of the Radley ringers and two boys from Groton, U.S.A., rang a quarter peal, the first ever by school Societies in different countries.

8.—Rendcombe College, near Cirencester, Gloucestershire. Plenty of recruits here keep the Society going although the standard isn't very high. They ring at Radley (6) and hold weekly practices during term time.

9.—Shebbear College, Devon. Mr. J. L. Queen has under him perhaps the most highly organised school ringing Society in the country. In 1963 he had 30 ringers (with a waiting list) and each has his own practice according to ability. They are split up on Sundays in order to assist neighbouring towers. From 1959 to 1963 they visited 70 towers, including the Cathedrals at Exeter (12), Lichfield (10) and Truro (10). Now they are helping in an appeal to rehang Shebbear's six bells.

10.—Taunton, Somerset. Mr. N. J. Maggs keeps only a small group of tower bell ringers, who ring tower bells in Taunton.

11.—Blundell's School, Tiverton, Devon. Combining with the local team at Tiverton (8), Mr. J. R. C. Dawson-Bowley believes that the Society can be used to help the boys' future University Societies.

12.—Truro School, Cornwall. After a difficult start, the eight members (November, 1963) are now accepted by the bands at Truro Cathedral (10) and Kenwyn (8). In school they use handbells for change ringing purposes only.

13.—The College, Winchester, Hampshire. This is the only school in England to possess its own ring of bells. There are six bells in the College Chapel. The bells are rung on Sundays and also on Saturdays (practice days). They can ring up to London Surprise Minor. Some members help at the Cathedral (12).

And there are other schools which I covered but are now redundant, or operate on only a limited basis or are weak in numbers. These are at Cirencester G.S., Gloucestershire; St. Helena's Girls' School, Chesterfield, Derbyshire; Christ's Hospital Girls' High School, Lincoln; St. Olave's G.S. for Boys, Tower Bridge, London, S.E.1; Loughborough College School, Leics; Lady Hawkins G.S., Kington, Herefordshire; Maidstone Grammar Schools, Kent; Rawlins Grammar School, Quorn, Leics; Mr. N. Chaddock's schools in Rotherham: High Storrs Girls' G.S., Sheffield, Yorkshire; The Priory Boys' School, Shrewsbury, Shropshire; The High School for Girls, Tottenham, N.W.; The Watford G. Schools, Herts; and Queen Margaret's School for Girls, Epswick, near York.

SCHOOL RINGERS

There are hundreds of school-age ringers who do not belong to a school Society. Section 3 is about them. I started off by using cuttings from "The Ringing World" on "Up and Coming Youngsters." Then I took the towers of St. James', Accrington, Lancashire (8), St. Peter's, Burnley, Lancashire (8), and the Parish Church, North Somercotes, Lincolnshire (3) as examples of where the bells are, on the whole, manned by youngsters. Mention is made of junior R.N. ratings repairing East Kennet's ring of five in Wiltshire. Then a word on the ring at Kilifi, Kenya. Mr. N. Chaddock for his advice, interest and help, Mr. T. Ogden for a similar reason, Mr. E. F. J. Wall for his information on the Burnley and District Schools Society, and Mrs. J. M. Gillatt of Ecclesfield G.S. for a typical summing-up statement each get a section of their own.

CONCLUSION

Are these school ringing Societies really worth this trouble? Yes, in fact, for about 3,000 of our 5,000 ringing towers are only kept going because in their ranks are school-age youngsters. We can't afford to forget the debt ringers owe to those below 18 years of age. Many of them don't persevere but even so, whilst active, they do help to keep our bells going. School Societies will persevere and will grow in numbers.

The thesis is probably out of date because it contains dates. There is nothing in it about the Irish Girls' Grammar School, who I believe ring Drogheda's bells every week of their term, or of Holt Grammar School, Norfolk, who ring the two bells at Holt as well as at other towers and also ring handbells. St. Wulfram's Secondary, Grantham, does not get a mention. These, and probably others, did not respond to my appeal for extra information.

Note.—The thesis will be on a short-term loan of about five years to the Central Council Library.

Note.—If any of the information in this summary is incorrect or could be improved on, don't hesitate to let "The Ringing World" know.

Yates' Northants Party in Yorkshire

ON July 15th, 17 ringers from the South Northants area met at Doncaster for Mr. W. A. Yates' annual week-end, four of the party having arrived early to join in a successful peal of Yorkshire at Conisbrough.

Pontefract's handy eight were the first ring on Friday morning. The central tower and a small aisle adjoining it are practically all that is left of the ruined church. After Stedman, London had to be talked round and Cambridge piled up. Throughout the ringing the choking stench of a bonemeal factory nearby filled the ringing chamber. Nothing daunted, however, some brisk six-spliced was well rung and the bells lowered.

Turning off the Wakefield road we climbed a hill to the good 15 cwt. six at Crofton, which thrived on Stedman, London and seven-spliced. We arrived early at Rothwell (a tuneful 15 cwt. octave), where most of the company had their first encounter with "Yorkshire tail ends." Regrettably, their adverse comments dare not be printed here! After the customary good rise in peal, some good Stedman, Yorkshire and three-spliced preceded a fine course of Bristol.

A short journey to Wakefield for lunch set us in good heart for the difficult eight at East Ardsley. It took about half a course before the ringing settled into a beat, and some London and Double Norwich were quite reasonable.

MEMORIES OF SOMERSET

There was real quality in the eight at Birstall. Stedman at the second attempt was good after the "Yorkshire tail ends" had been conquered and courses of Bristol and Yorkshire brought back memories of some of Somerset's fine-toned eights. After tea, the impressive sonorous 27 cwt. ten at Ossett were soon churning out Stedman and Grandsire Caters and a good half-course of Cambridge Royal.

The ride back to Wakefield in the evening sunshine was typical of the day. The smoky haze from belching chimneys enveloped the rolling hillsides, which are covered with a sea of houses characteristic of industrial Yorkshire. After parking the cars in the precincts of the Cathedral we all enjoyed the new experience on the 12 bells. Two courses of Grandsire Cinques and Stedman went remarkably well considering our inexperience on higher numbers. A 14th bell is to be added in order to have a light ten. Pontefract, where we were based for the last two nights, was reached at 9 p.m.

Thorne was the first tower on Saturday. The "morning after the night before feeling" may have caused the mistakes in London and Stedman but the ringing brightened up with Cambridge.

BEVERLEY MINSTER

We saw Beverley Minster miles away as we travelled on the edge of the Wolds, its twin towers a sentinel in the sky. Justly is this magnificent building regarded as one of the finest Gothic churches in Europe. Good Grandsire Caters echoed from the 41 cwt. ten. Stedman was rung and Bob Royal settled down well. With a pleasing musical effect the ten bells were lowered in peal, the tenors chiming to the end. And oh, the note of the seven-ton Bourdon Great John, which we were allowed to swing in the adjacent tower!

Lunch and shopping and four miles to Walkington for our best-kept churchyard and a delightful little six. Among the better ringing here was Cambridge, silent Stedman and six-spliced.

The Minster's 22 cwt. eight at Howden must surely rank among the country's best half-dozen octaves in their weight class; a good rise here and first-class ringing in Stedman, Yorkshire, Superlative and Bristol, which was undoubtedly the best of the tour.

Just over Boothtarry Bridge spanning the Humber was Gooze, where after Stedman, London stopped abruptly with a broken rope. A replacement was handy; the dust of an industrial port on the bells made its fitting a dirty job. Kent was enjoyed before the lower in peal.

We grabbed a "pie and pint" tea on the way to Escrick (an easy octave). Stedman, Cambridge, some six-spliced, Double Norwich and Bristol were rung before departing to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Roper, Gateforth, where we had been kindly invited. A most enjoyable evening was spent over food galore, reminiscing. (Has anyone ever seen so many sausages?)

On Sunday we joined in morning service ringing at Doncaster (another good heavy eight), where Stedman, Grandsire, Bristol, Yorkshire and six-spliced featured.

After morning coffee we pointed the five cars homeward, the end of a tour the success of which was in no small measure due to the efforts of Wilf Moreton, who chose the towers and arranged the schedule so efficiently. Our thanks are due to him, Bill Yates and those who gave us permission to ring.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD

At the quarterly meeting held at Shedfield on July 17th four new members were elected—the Misses D. Burbidge and S. Pryor (Portsea) and Mrs. S. Moon and Mr. J. May (Hambleton). The service was conducted by the new Vicar of Shedfield, the Rev. M. L. S. Thomas, and a fine tea was served by the ladies.

Next practice meeting, Saturday, September 28th (2.30 till 5.30). Next quarterly, Saturday, October 23rd.

TRURO DIOCESAN FESTIVAL

The Truro Diocesan Guild was very fortunate in having a gloriously sunny day for its annual festival on July 17th at Manaccan Church in the pleasant countryside near the Helford river. Over 100 ringers attended, including the Ringing Master, Mr. Douglas Burnett, and the other Guild officials. Besides the six at Manaccan, the eights at Helston, St. Keverne and St. Anthony and the six at St. Mawgan were rung to the standard methods up to Cambridge Major. At one time the Guild's oldest ringer, Mr. W. Wood, of Gulval, at 92 was ringing in the same touch as Master D. Blampied, of Manaccan, who at 10 must be one of the youngest.

The Guild Office was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. H. Dixon) and the lesson read by Mr. Anthony Davidson, the general secretary. At tea, the ringers were the guests of Lt.-Col. C. F. Jerram, a Manaccan ringer and a vice-president of the Guild, as the festival coincided with the 60th anniversary of his joining the Guild.

The president, Mr. Alan Carveth, thanked the Vicar and all who had helped to make the day a success and suggested a collection for the Manaccan Bell Repair Fund. He also thanked Col. Jerram for his gift of several text books on change ringing and the history of ringing, which would be kept in the Cathedral belfry library.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The Bingham District meeting at St. Mary's, Lowdham, on July 10th was few in number but the quality of the ringing was good, despite the long draught of the bells. The Vicar, the Rev. W. S. Shires, welcomed us to his church and conducted a simple service. Tea was in the Church School.

Wharton was confirmed for the August meeting and all attending are urgently requested to book teas.

A few more ardent ringers joined in the ringing after tea.

PINK'S SINGLE

Dear Sir,—In his letter in "The Ringing World" for July 30th, Mr. E. A. Harrison raises an interesting point as to what is allowable for a Doubles "variation."

The preface to the C.C. Collection does indeed state that a bell shall only strike four consecutive blows in one place when the treble is leading or lying (strictly, this is, of course, nonsensical, since the treble is leading or lying for two blows). Therefore, the Pink's Single is not allowable as a regular method or variation. However, if Mr. Harrison examines the regulations concerning peals in the Central Council Handbook he will probably be as amazed as I was to find that methods rung to peals (less than 6,720) need not be regular! Although this is admittedly a somewhat ludicrous state of affairs, I therefore see no reason why we should not continue to ring irregular methods until, if or when the Council sees fit, the regulations are altered.

As a matter of interest, there are 24 different blocks of work above the treble which are symmetrical about the lead, and the same 24, reversed, below the treble. Combining these blocks, if we include two- and three-lead plain course methods, gives 576 different symmetrical methods; confining ourselves to the rules in the Collection leaves 72 methods.

I agree that many consecutive blows in one place are ugly, but personally I find the asymmetric blocks of work sometimes used for bobs even uglier, and I suggest that it is this sort of variation which should not be rung.—Yours sincerely,

S. HUMPHREY.

Wollaton, Nottingham.

Dear Sir,—Once again it would appear a newcomer to the Doubles field thinks himself qualified to sit in judgment on the rest of us and say what should and what should not be rung in Doubles variation peals.

With more peals of Doubles being rung including these variations in anything up to 60 methods weekly, why should Mr. Harrison take it upon himself to condemn the Pink's Single because of, as he puts it, "the ugliness of so many consecutive places in a lead," when it is the same changes that are produced as at a Grandsire Single only in a different order?

When first I started ringing methods such as St. Dunstan's, Reading and London were not officially recognised by the Central Council, but this did not deter Mr. Pink from including them in his 42 Doubles variations peal, which I think I am correct in assuming was the first peal in 42 Doubles methods, so constituting a record at the time. They have been rung many times since in different areas.

Plain Bob Triples and Grandsire Minor were also rung to peals before the rules sanctioning such peals were altered; both methods are now commonplace, as are those being rung with the Pink's Single. It is hoped that a further list of these variations will be published shortly.

So, Mr. Harrison, carry on with your good work at Kirby, ring as many quarters as you like, but don't try to interfere in what others are doing; as long as the variations run true it does not matter where the places are.—Yours faithfully,

G. K. DODD.

PRICKING STEDMAN TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Edgar Shepherd's excellent first article on Stedman Triples, I would like to suggest that the beginner would find it far easier in pricking the method to write out the first as well as the last changes of each six, in this manner:

2 3 1 4 5 6 7

3 2 4 1 6 5 7

3 4 2 6 1 7 5 S

4 3 6 2 7 1 5

3 4 6 2 5 1 Q etc., etc.

This entails only a simple triple change between the rows, with places at 7ths across the six-ends, and within the sixes firsts for a slow six and thirds for a quick six. This will then be found to be easier than pricking the lead ends of Plain Bob, and far less open to error than when six-ends only are pricked. The effects of bobs and singles can be very easily seen in this way. Altogether I have found it to be well worth the extra writing required.—Yours sincerely, C. H. ROGERS.

Isleworth, Middlesex.

WOLVERHAMPTON TENOR

Dear Sir,—With reference to Julian Litten's letter concerning Wolverhampton tenor, the belfry board of particulars states that the bell is in the key of C sharp. D flat is the same note, but since the ring is tuned to a sharp scale it should have been given as C sharp by the person who sent in the peal of Plain Bob Royal. ("The Ringing World" 2,791, September 26th, 1964.)

Also, of the band who rang in that peal, only Frank Brotherton and myself are resident ringers at St. Peter's. The other ringers came mainly from Birmingham, Bilston and Stourbridge.—Yours faithfully, Wolverhampton. ELISABETH TIMMINS.

Dear Sir,—In "The Ringing World" No. 2,832 there seemed to be a query re the key of Wolverhampton tenor. This bell is in the key of C sharp and its weight is 33 cwt. 21 lb. I have rung her to 12 peals, the majority of which were conducted by the late Mr. H. Knight, who always gave the above information in his peal reports. There is also information for each bell at the tower.—Yours faithfully,

H. BOSWELL.

Finally, the value of standing behind someone to watch a method through is a great help and should be used more. If a learner can be encouraged to do this before we in turn stand behind him as a guide in his first "solo" attempt in a new method, it bridges that gap which prevents his catching hold for fear of going wrong, and being unable to correct himself.

It may be said that all this is basic stuff. It is, but it is also stuff we tend to forget as our own talents flourish. There are three things worth remembering about helping new ringers into the arena. We are doing our best to cement the foundation of the next generation; we are giving the help and confidence needed at a vital time; and, what is most important, we are ensuring that by giving gladly of our experience the Exercise will get the material it requires to uphold and strengthen its present standards.

From the pleasure we receive from our own ringing, isn't this a debt we should all gladly make the effort to discharge?

COUNTRYMAN.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION ACCEPTED MINIMUS PEAL

Dear Sir,—With reference to the peal of Minimus mentioned on page 512 of your July 30th issue, and at risk of being unpopular with Mr. Cooper, I should like to point out a few relevant facts concerning his rather unfair attack on the peal secretary of the Yorkshire Association.

Not at any time was the peal refused by the peal secretary, rather it was left to the discretion of Mr. Cooper who, after correspondence with the peal secretary, agreed to print the peal in non-Association form. Mr. Cooper will remember, no doubt, that I saw the appropriate correspondence at the time and also that the onus was placed entirely on himself; had he sent up the peal for the Yorkshire Association it would most certainly have been accepted as such.

To complete the picture for Mr. Cooper, if he cares to look up this year's Yorkshire report he will find the peal printed as rung for the said Association.

Finally, I see with regret that there is some doubt in Mr. Cooper's mind about the standards imposed on the Yorkshire Association by its peal secretary. A high standard never fluctuates and at worst can hardly be called inconsistent!—Yours faithfully,

JAMES A. D. WOOLFORD.

Tattershall.

ELY DISTRICT STRIKING CONTEST

The largest gathering of District ringers that has been seen for many years took place at Stretham on July 3rd, where the Ely District held a striking competition, believed to be the first since 1905. Six teams entered and the test piece was 240 changes.

A shield had been presented and this was won by Fordham, ringing Plain Bob Minor, with 44 faults, followed by Wilburton (Bob Doubles) 46 faults; Ely (Grandsire Doubles) 100 faults; Stretham (call changes) 101 faults; Chatteris (Plain Bob Minor) 149 faults. Over, ringing Plain Bob Minor, broke down and were eliminated.

The judges were Mr. W. W. Cousins, of Terrington St. John, and Mr. E. G. Hibbins, of Cambridge. The Vicar opened proceedings with a short service and welcomed the teams. Tea was served by local ladies in the Church Hall.

MUSIC AT MENDLESHAM

On May 8th a new five cwt. treble bell, supplied and installed by Taylors of Loughborough, was dedicated at a well attended service at St. Mary's Church, Mendlesham.

At tea, served in the Village Hall by Mrs. A. Godfree and her helpers, Mr. A. Godfree was thanked for his work in raising funds for the new bell, and all concerned were congratulated upon the success of the operation, which has given Mendlesham one of the finest rings of six bells in Suffolk.

The quarterly meeting of the Central District of the Suffolk Guild on July 24th gave ringers a further opportunity to enjoy this fine ring. The Rev. J. B. Jolly welcomed the ringers and paid high tribute to their special function in calling people to worship and in publicising the message of the Gospel.

Tea was served in the Village Hall by Mrs. A. Godfree and Miss Syrett, and a short business meeting was followed by further ringing at Mendlesham and Wetheringsett, where the unique tuning of this ring of five bells, which hangs in its original frame, aroused considerable interest.

STEDMAN TRIPLES—Its Construction and Calling

6. PROOF

The proof of Stedman differs very widely from the proof of methods with a fixed Treble. There are no Treble leads; there are only the sixes; and considerations of proof must start with these sixes. The whole system of proof in the method has been dealt with very thoroughly in the Stedman books of 1903 and 1938, both of which are now unfortunately out of print. The following outlines the general principles, and will, it is hoped, enable the experimenter to prove his touches. For a fuller and more enlightening exposition the student must try to secure a copy of one of the standard books.

The proof of Stedman has to be carried out by an examination of the bells dodging in 4-5 and 6-7, and much depends on whether the touch has bobs only or is a mixture of bobs and singles.

The four bells that appear in the dodging at the six end are called the Characteristic of the six. To represent this word shortly it is customary to use the letter K. Thus 4567 is the K of the six ending in 2314567; 6175 is the K of the six ending in 3426175; 7251 is the K of the six ending in 3467251. If the touch contains bobs only, provided all the K's are different then the composition is true. The bells on the front must be ignored.

Stedman Triples is produced by continuous triple changes, and so, until a single is called, all the handstrokes are Negative rows and all the backstrokes are Positive rows. Thus there is no need to trouble about the handstrokes of the K's; the truth of the backstrokes is sufficient. As soon as a single is called each pair of bells in the K must be reversed, and 5476 must be read instead of 4567, 1657 instead of 6175, and so on until another single appears. Two fragments of touches are given here, and alongside we see the K's as they must be examined.

2314567	K's	2314567	K's
3426175	6175	3426175	6175
3467251	7251	3467251	7251
— 4732651	2651	4735612	5612
— 4726351	6351	S 4756321	3612
7645213	5213	7642513	5231
7651432	1432	7621435	4153
— 6174532	4532	6173254	2345
6143725	3725	S 6132745	2745
etc.		1264357	4357
		etc.

A deeper study of this matter would reveal ways in which this work of proof may sometimes be shortened, and, indeed, in Caters and Cinques the task is, owing to the fixed bells, nothing like so laborious as it is in Triples. These are developments of the theme that the student must try to pursue for himself. For the proof of short touches of Stedman Triples the above process is necessary and will be found sufficient.

We have referred above to the two Stedman books that are now out of print, and students may wish to make inquiry for them at their Guild or Association libraries. The two works are:

Stedman: Rev. C. D. P. Davies (1903). A complete exposition of the method on 5, 7, 9 and 11 bells, historically and technically, including, as an appendix, the masterly essay on composition in Stedman Triples by Sir Arthur Heywood.

Stedman: J. A. Trollope (1938). A revision and up-to-date presentation of the matter of the 1903 book, with a collection of peals of Caters and Cinques somewhat better adapted for more modern tastes.

CONCLUSION

It will be noted that very little has been said here about the use of singles. That they may be used for the construction and extension of touches will be obvious, and it will be readily perceived that with the introduction of this call another vast field of callings is exposed. We must leave the curious to investigate this as his enterprise directs, remarking only that the study of touches in which singles are used will provide many useful hints.

Nothing has been said here about the conducting of peals, a matter requiring a skill that can come only by long practice and experience, but one that may indeed be the outcome of a study and persistence arising from these beginnings.

N.W. SUFFOLK MEETING AT MILDENHALL

The quarterly meeting was held on July 17th at Mildenhall, and despite the number of visitors from other Guilds there were not sufficient to make full use of the ten bells at any time. Most of the ringing was Major or Triples. Touches of Double Norwich Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob were called by J. Paul (Elveden), T. Davey (Little Clacton) and Roger Palmer (Fordham). Mr. R. Rose (Ringing Master) and Maurice Rose also conducted several touches. Ringers from Southend, King's Lynn, Terrington, Barking (Suffolk), Diss, Fordham, St. Albans and Little Clacton joined the N.W. Suffolk folk.

The Rector conducted a short service and tea followed at the Bell Hotel. For the quarterly meeting, held in the Church Room, Mr. Wright took the chair. Arrangements were made for the August evening meeting at Euston on August 14th and the September evening meeting at Horringer on September 18th. The annual meeting is to be held at West Stow on October 9th, and the Suffolk striking competition at Cavendish on September 25th. Thanks were proposed to the Rector and ringing was resumed until 8.45. G. R.

OUTINGS

RUSHDEN AND DISTRICT

A sunny day was chosen for the Rushden and district outing to the Hereford district on July 17th.

Seven o'clock proved too early for some motor bikes but the party started safely with all aboard. Chipping Norton was No. 1, where ringing went well. Some wondered why, on such a fine eight, all the peal boards were of Grandsire Triples. Stow-on-the-Wold tenor was well "turned in" to Kent Major, but was just a little too heavy for some members.

After a packed lunch, the two "twelves" at Cheltenham and Tewkesbury were sampled. Although not used to such large numbers of bells, some decent striking was managed, but unfortunately not to changes. The eight at Lugwardine were rung for one hour to Stedman.

Hereford Cathedral was the last tower of the day. The wide ringing circle and "obscuring posts" were two of the three reasons why we could not ring this lovely ten as well as we would have wished. The third reason was disclosed when someone said "Om famished." This was rectified by dinner at the Imperial Hotel. A few members felt that they were sufficiently epicurean to order Sauterne. Thanks were, and are, given to the organisers and to all the tower captains and incumbents.

A stop on the journey home enabled us to replenish, but the writer is assured that vodkas and tomato juice and long journeys on coach back seats definitely do not mix!

FRAMSDEN, SUFFOLK

Framsdens and neighbourhood ringers had an enjoyable outing recently into Northants and Rutland. The first bells visited were at Irchester and then on to Irthlingborough, where lunch had been kindly laid on by Mr. Arthur Bingley. The afternoon's ringing was at Finedon and Tichmarsh, with tea at Oundle, arranged by Mr. P. Clarke. The "circle" at Oundle proved too much for us; however, Bob Major went fairly well. Our many thanks for those who met us and those who helped in the organising. L. G. B.

GRESHAM'S SCHOOL

Frequently in our news and peal columns is Gresham's School, Holt, Norfolk. Their outing on July 22nd had an unlucky start: visits to ten towers west of Norwich were planned but, through a breakdown in transport arrangements, a start was not possible until 1 p.m. instead of 8.30 a.m. Quite a feat for the Society was ringing Cambridge at Saham Toney. Best tower of the day was Caston, where the front three bells are rung from a platform two feet higher than the back three. At Rockland the original ropes of 1890 are still in use. Not surprising, the treble rope broke on the third change of Plain Bob: it was quickly spliced. The last tower was the eight at Higham, where courses of Major were tried without much success. We are grateful to Frank H. King (an Old Greshamian) and Michael Hawe for coming from Cambridge to ring with us. P. S. R.-J.

At one time both 6ths and 2nds place methods had 4th place Bob (as today), but a 4th place method usually had a 6th place Bob unless this caused a bell to lie four blows behind, in which case it had a 2nds place Bob. Sometimes different names were given to the 2nd and 6th place Bob variations, as in the present case. A. Gill writes "(Somerset)" after Priston, probably to emphasise that the name was not a clerical error.

PURLEIGH SURPRISE

BELFRY GOSSIP

We understand that an attempt is to be made for a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Liverpool Cathedral tomorrow.

Current issue of "The Belfry News," journal of the Derby Diocesan Association, has a useful history of bells written by the Rev. T. L. Weatherhead, Rector of Staveley.

The conductor of the peal of Londinium Surprise Maximus rung at Birmingham Cathedral on June 10th this year was Frederick Shallcross and not as published.

A reader suggests that those who have purchased the Central Council's "Collection of Surprise" should examine their copies, as he found a section of the book omitted and another duplicated.

The ladies of the Wimborne Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild have blossomed out with a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor at Lytchett Matravers on August 2nd. This is the Branch's first ladies' quarter.

By taking part in a quarter peal at Canterbury Cathedral on July 27th, Mr. E. Rochester, of Sawbridgeworth, Herts, was the second Hertfordshire ringer to make up for a quarter peal at the Cathedral this year. The other was Mr. A. Lawrence, of Hatfield, on Whit Sunday.

Denby Church bells are to be fitted by Messrs. John Taylor with new steel gudgeons, new ball bearings and bell securing bolts. The dismantling of the bells and removal of headstocks to the foundry is to be done by local labour supervised by Mr. Gordon Halls.

This year the six bells at St. Mary's, Hanley Castle, Worcs, were rung by boys of the Grammar School for their annual "Founder's Day" service of commemoration. This was the first time in the school's ancient history. (Founded in 1326.)

A CHURCHILL BELL FOR BRIXHAM

Two new bells have been cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for St. Mary's Church, Brixham, Devon. The larger is inscribed to the memory of Sir Winston Churchill. It is hoped the bells will be installed in the tower in the early autumn. To raise money for the augmentation the church bellringers propose to hold their "Ten Bell Fair" at Church Farm, Higher Brixham, on Saturday, August 14th.

ALL 11 PEALS SUCCESSFUL

Earlier this year Mr. Gerald C. Hemming, of Evesham, arranged a peal tour for July visiting six counties and involving 12 attempts. Unfortunately they met two short for the sixth county (Mickleton, Glos. for the Saturday afternoon of July 31st), which reduced the attempts to 11 in five counties. All were successful. The conducting was shared between Michael J. Fellows (four peals), Gerald C. Hemming (four), Martin D. Fellows (two) and John C. Eisel (one).

AN AUSPICIOUS START

Thirteen-year-old Miss Katherine Maundrell has made a most promising start in peal ringing by ringing the second to a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at East Tytherley, Hants. Comments Mr. W. A. Theobald (the conductor): "Her performance would have given great credit to a much more experienced performer."

On the subject of youth, we note that at Frittenden, Kent, a peal of four-spliced Surprise Major was rung on July 28th by a band with an average age of 17 years five months, all being resident members of the Kent County Association. This is believed to be the youngest band to put up such a performance.

SATISFIED

"While I am writing, may I thank you for much information and help which I have gained by just reading 'The Ringing World' since taking up the art about 18 months ago. Despite the recent criticism over the price, I think that it is excellent value for money and would continue to support it should an increase be necessary."—David Chiles.

FOUR MORE BELLS FOR LIVERPOOL

Four large bells, weighing over six tons and costing £13,000, were blessed and dedicated on Sunday, July 25th, on the roof of the Metropolitan Cathedral crypt at Liverpool. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Andrew Beck in the presence of 1,000 people, and the bells were named Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

The bells were cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank and were transported from London by road. At Liverpool they were hoisted on a wooden platform around the Cathedral, which is now 230 feet high. When in their final position, they will be some 80 feet up in an open air turret. People entering the Cathedral will be able to see directly above them the bells, with headstock and clappers revolving. They will be swung and tolled electrically and are an extended common chord in A flat.

Individual details are: Matthew (the tenor) 92 cwt., 6½ feet diameter; Mark, 25 cwt.; Luke 10½ cwt.; and John 6½ cwt. Before placing the contract, the Roman Catholic authorities heard a similar chord on the bells of the Anglican Cathedral.

Archbishop Beck recalled that it was 33 years since the foundation stone was laid and the Cathedral will be officially opened in May, 1967.

BELLS AND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES

Among the Free Churches with rings of bells, none are credited to the Congregational Church. This does not mean that Congregationalists are averse to bells. According to "The Shropshire Journal," Wollerton Congregationalists call their peal on a record of Thatcham Parish Church, Berks. bells. There is also a single minute bell rung just before the service is due to begin.

The minister, the Rev. Ernest Pritchard, states the bells have proved popular with local people. When the record was first played Wollerton Bowling Club members were quite surprised. They thought they were Hodnet bells.

The next step is to have the real thing and install a modern belfry, which is about the cost of a small house.

SAID FAREWELL WITH HOLT'S

Mr. Cyril W. Hancock is now settled in Suffolk but friends in the East Grinstead and District Guild, of which he was the popular hon. treasurer, were determined that he should not leave without peal honours. Holt's Original was rung at Coleman's Hatch on July 24th after a previous attempt three weeks earlier at Edenbridge had been lost after 2½ hours' good ringing.

We regret that the peal of Doubles rung at Denby (page 517) is a duplicate.

A peal of 18 Spliced Surprise Major was rung at Longney, Glos. on July 31st, conducted by Anthony R. Peake. This is the greatest number of Major methods to a peal for the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

SAN FRANCISCO 'CARILLON

Mr. Anthony K. Fortin, of Amersham, in a recent trip round the world has heard bells in various places. Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, the third largest in U.S.A., contains a carillon by Gilletts of 43 bells. The Cathedral reflects the varied Gothic styles of early European churches and is built of reinforced concrete for its earthquake-resisting properties. In 1940 the Coulson tower, which with the bells was the gift of Dr. Nathaniel Coulson, of Penzance, Cornwall, was built, and the other tower three years later.

The verger took him up to see the bells by an elevator in the new tower, from where they walked to the Coulson tower and up into the bell chamber, which has large sound openings without louvres. The bells are hung dead in about eight tiers, except the six-ton bass bell, which was swung by means of an electric motor. He was allowed to try the organ consol operating the carillon. The verger told him that a lady wanted to give a ring of bells for the other tower but the amount of money was inadequate.

While at Honolulu he heard some bells which sounded very nice from the Waikiki beach. On investigation he found the music was coming out of loud speakers. Another experience was being awakened by the sound of bells in Hong Kong from another carillon. Later he asked his host where the bells were and he replied: "Oh, those — things: they wake us up every Sunday morning."

TO LIVE IN ABERDEEN

The wedding of Miss Marion Bean to Dr. David Turnock on July 24th at Haslingfield Church, Cambridgeshire, where she has been ringing for the past 12 months, after gaining wide experience over a number of years, is likely to be a loss to the Exercise as she will be living in Aberdeen. Nevertheless, Haslingfield ringers hope to see her on her occasional visits. Following the practice on the previous Thursday, the ringers gave her, with their best wishes, an electric clock.

MR. F. E. DUKES RESIGNING EDITORSHIP

"The Irish Bell News" announces in its summer issue that Mr. F. E. Dukes, the editor since its inception over 13 years ago, has found it necessary to hand over the reins of office to someone with more time and ability than he has. In the event of nobody coming forward the production will be suspended at the conclusion of the current volume at the end of 1966.

The position was discussed at a meeting of the Executive Council of the Irish Association. A suggestion was made that the Editorial and Production Departments should function separately. "The successor to the Editor should be a person who is familiar with every aspect of ringing in Ireland, who should have his ear to the ground, be one who can produce articles to keep alive and to edit material sent forward for publication." We wish Editor Dukes a well-earned rest. His facile pen and ready wit has made the "Irish Bell News" a truly worthy quarterly ringing paper that is always a joy to read.

COLLEGE OF CAMPANOLOGY

(Founded 1956 as a voluntary, non-profit organisation—supporting the work of the Central Council—for the benefit of the Exercise.)

PATRON: The Right Rev. The Lord Bishop of Portsmouth, J. H. L. Phillips, D.D.
PUBLICATIONS: The 2nd (revised) edition of Part I of the "RINGERS' MANUAL OF REFERENCE" is ALMOST SOLD OUT. Last opportunity to secure a copy of this still unique work—"BELL HANDLING & CONTROL IN THE ELEMENTS OF CHANGE RINGING." 5/- a copy, post free. The script of Part II of the Manual—"METHOD STRUCTURE IN CHANGE RINGING—AN INTRODUCTION TO ITS TECHNOLOGY AND THEORY" is now completed, and negotiations for its issue have begun. Probable cost 15/- to £1 per copy. Advance reservation of your copy would assist publication plans, for what will be a limited first edition. Its issue will mark the 10th year of the life of the College.

The Script of Part III of the Manual—"PRACTICAL METHOD RINGING" is under way, and its issue is planned for 1966.
NOTICE TO MEMBERS: Now that the 3 types of Ringing Course initiated by the College are becoming more generally organised locally, or in conjunction with L.E.A., the modified policy proposed two years ago is being put into practice, and the function of the College in this respect remains chiefly advisory. Its other objectives, as laid down in its "Constitution," are being pursued as hitherto, especially the raising and maintaining of the standard of ringing training, and of "Service" ringing, through the work of its individual officers and members and of its affiliated Schools of Ringing. A short list of College Officers appears in the "Ringers' Diary." The College Office remains at 40, Parkstone Avenue, Southsea, Hants. Tel.: Portsmouth 31974. New members are welcome.
RETURNS OF ACTIVITY: The Administrative Committee, on behalf of the College Governors, have decided that the information supplied through previous annual returns has been sufficient to show that the results of the work of the College as a whole, in Britain and overseas, are worthwhile; and accordingly Returns of Activity may be suspended for the time being, to reduce "paper work" all round; in the belief that Officers and Members of the College will continue with their loyal support of the work. While the briefer notices will be continued through the columns of the "Ringing World" future bulletins, etc., will still be posted, but only to Active Officers and Members.

JOINT MEETING AT LEA

The North Notts and West Lindsey Branches of the Southwell and Lincoln Guilds enjoyed their meeting at Lea, a village south of Gainsborough, on July 17th. The Church of St. Helen is a gem among village churches, with its finely carved woodwork, a knight in armour in his canopied tomb, memorial tablets and lovely stained glass windows.

Ringers were few in number before the service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. Knight), nevertheless some Surprise methods were rung including Norwich, the special method for the meeting. A sumptuous tea had been prepared in the Women's Institute by Mrs. Lunn, wife of the secretary of the West Lindsey Branch.

As both Branch chairmen were unavoidably absent, Mr. H. Poyner proposed that Mr. Gilbert should take the chair for the two meetings, as he is a member of both Guilds. At the North Notts meeting a discussion took place on arranging a ringers' supper and draw to raise funds for bell repairs. At the West Lindsey meeting the secretary said that Broughton bells were not available for the September meeting; Messingham was accordingly selected. Mr. J. Blaikie concluded business matters with the usual votes of thanks,

The large number of visitors turning up for a ring after tea certainly made up for what we were lacking in numbers before tea.

GUILD OF MEDICAL RINGERS

MEMBERS and their friends who attended the Guild meeting in Hampshire on July 31st will remember it as one of the happiest occasions in the Guild's ten years' history. One of the most notable features in this "summer" of 1965 was that the sun shone almost continuously and gilded a countryside which would be beautiful even in mid-winter. This arrangement of the weather was one of the many things for which we were grateful to the organisers and hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Frewen Moor. Their garden at East Meon provided a charming base for the whole operation, where we ate a picnic lunch and later were regaled with a tea which defeated even the boys present.

Ringing began at St. Mary's, Liss, just before midday. Here the early arrivals were met, as elsewhere later, by the tower captain, and welcomed by the Vicar, the Rev. Norman Bennett, who led us in prayer. Only part of the membership was able to be at this first tower, so those present had to work hard, for which they were more than repaid by the pleasure, and by which they developed a healthy hunger—and thirst—for luncheon.

Resuming after lunch at St. John's, West Meon, the gathering was considerably augmented by the arrival of two senior officers and their parties. It was possible therefore not only to enjoy ringing on this octave, and later on the heavier eight at All Saints', East Meon, but to take a spell to see something of these two fine churches, and to sit in the sunshine and listen to the ringing—as usual of the quality of the curate's egg, parts of it being excellent.

After the tea beforementioned we drove to Petersfield, now free of the holiday traffic, and rang for an hour at St. Peter's whilst the stallholders packed up their wares in the square below. We noted with interest from a Victorian peal board that at least one doctor had preceded us. Methods rung here included not only Cambridge Surprise but the customary magisterial touch of Grand-sire Major—a ritual which now sets the seal on all meetings.

Dinner was enjoyed, literally, at the "West Meon Hut" by a company of two dozen. Having been displaced by the needs of others equally hungry, the concluding touches "in hand" were conducted in the car park. The sun still shone, but it was not then warm enough to tempt anyone to even a quarter.

The Guild's thanks to all the incumbents and ringers of four parishes and to Dr. and Mrs. Moor were voiced by the president. We left in all directions, looking forward to the metropolitan meeting arranged for November 20th. D. L. G.

A CORNISH DIAMOND JUBILEE

By the Rev. A. S. ROBERTS

IT is doubtful whether a series of quinquennial inspections would have brought about more eight bell restorations in any Diocese as were carried out in Cornwall during the early years of this century, and which only came to a halt with the outbreak of World War I. Augmentations, complete rehangers and recastings and new rings were installed as follows: St. Mary's, Launceston (1901), St. Austell and Liskeard (1902), St. Kea (1904), Helston and Kenwyn (1905), St. Keverne Eglosayle (1907), St. Stephen-in-Brannell and Fowey (1909), Truro Cathedral (10) and Bodmin (1910), Roche and Stratton (1911), St. Germans and Gulval (1913) and Stokeclimsland (1914).

Since these undertakings several have received further treatment, e.g. Truro and Stratton put on ball bearings, St. Mary's, Launceston, Bodmin and Gulval completely recast, Helston treble discarded and a heavier tenor added. Thus in these immediate years diamond jubilee celebrations can be quite common. Amongst these, Kenwyn, on the outskirts of Truro is the most recent, for on July 20th, 1905, a completely new ring was dedicated, and despite constant and regular use has received no attention from a bellhanger since which adds lustre to quite a remarkable story.

At the beginning of this century Kenwyn had a mixed ring of eight. Treble, J. Rudhall, 1825; 2, Thos. Lester, 1747; 3, J. Warner and Sons, 1851; 4, J. Warner and Sons, 1852; 5, J. Pennington, C. Pennington, 1788; 6, Gillett and Co., 1889; 7, J. Warner and Sons, 1852; tenor, J. Rudhall, 1825. During 142 years five founders had done something in Kenwyn tower, and after an inspection Mr. John Taylor reported from Loughborough on December 8th, 1904, as follows:

"With respect to Kenwyn bells, I find that they are much out of tune, both individually and as a peal. In your tenor and treble bells the only two notes which are octaves are the two upper notes in each bell. Consequently these bells cannot sound in tune, because the other notes are not true with each other. All the bells are more or less out of tune, so much so that it would be impossible to make a satisfactory peal of them without recasting."

The Vicar of Kenwyn at that time was Archdeacon J. R. Cornish, who at once sought a benefactor to restore the bells, and his success was reported in "The Royal Cornwall Gazette" as follows: "At a meeting of Kenwyn Church Council on April 11th, 1905, Archdeacon Cornish submitted a letter from Sir Robert Harvey, Dundridge, Devon, offering to defray the cost of the recasting of the eight bells in the Parish Church, and to give a contribution towards the restoration of the belfry as a memorial to his late parents, the late Lady Harvey and other members of his family. The munificent offer was accepted with expressions of deep gratitude, and it was decided that the work of recasting be immediately entrusted to Messrs. John Taylor and Co, Bell Founders, Loughborough. Sir Robert Harvey's family have worshipped at Kenwyn for generations."

In less than a month, on May 4th, Kenwyn bells were lowered from the tower by Mr. Bentley and two assistants, taken to Truro Station on a wagon drawn by two horses and dispatched by rail to Loughborough, and on May 13th the back six were recast. This was something of a special occasion for we read: "On May 13th, 1905, Mr. W. W. Starmer, A.R.A.M., A.R.C.O., of the London Section I.S.M., gave his lecture on "Bells and Bell Tones." Messrs. Taylor and Sons had kindly placed their works at the disposal of the Society. In addition to this, there was a large gathering of musicians and friends who had come to witness the casting of six bells out of the peal of eight, intended for the Parish Church of Kenwyn. This particular item was watched with great interest and curiosity by all present, as the two and a half tons of molten metal (an alloy of copper and tin) poured forth from the furnace, and was transferred from the huge ladle to the moulds. Messrs. Taylor personally superintended the casting." From the day of lowering the bells in the tower to the day of dedication on July 20th of the recast bells with new frames and fittings was exactly 11 weeks. The old tenor had weighed about 13 cwt; the new tenor weighs 15 cwt. 3 qr. 20 lb.

No peal was rung on the old ring and only one attempt is known. In 1897 the late Rev. F. E. Robinson took a touring party to Cornwall and made the attempt. In his book "Among the Bells" he records: "At Fowey the bad go of the bells made even call changes impossible; at Kenwyn, Superlative Surprise failed after two hours by two ropes getting entangled through the long draught." The first peal on the new bells was rung in 1907 and again the visitors were the Rev. F. E. Robinson and party—but it was at the second attempt. The idea of these early tours was to give local help and encouragement and to educate Cornish ringers in method ringing. A new ring of eight had been hung at St. Kea only a year before Kenwyn through the generosity of the late Squire J. C. Daubuz, an enthusiast for bells and the Truro Guild's first representative on the Central Council. It had been arranged for four local ringers to attempt their first peal with four of the visitors, but owing to the serious illness of the Vicar of St. Kea the attempt was transferred to Kenwyn. A newspaper reporter said: "A start was made at 5.20 p.m. for a peal of Grandsire Triples, Holt's ten-part, this method being chosen to enable some of the ringers from St. Kea to stand in their first attempt for a long peal. All went smoothly until eight out of the ten parts had been almost accomplished when, through a mistake in the calling of the peal, the bells had to be stopped." This band recalls revered names: Treble, G. Williams (conductor), 2 J. W. Taylor, 3 J. T. Dunstan (Kea), 4 C. R. Lilley, 5 P. Harfoot (Kea), 6 J. Thomas (Kea), 7 W. Sandercock (Kea), tenor A. H. Pulling.

Mr. J. C. Daubuz gave the visitors hospitality for the night and the next morning the first peal for the Truro Guild to be rung in Cornwall was brought round in 3 hours and 23 minutes, and to quote again: "The method chosen was that of Superlative Surprise, which sounded especially well on this melodious ring." This time there are added more revered names: Treble W. W. Gifford, 2 Rev. G. F. Coleridge, 3 J. W. Taylor, 4 E. W. Munday, 5 G. N. Price, 6 G. Williams, 7 C. R. Lilley, tenor A. H. Pulling. Number of changes, 5,056. Composer, C. Hattersley. Conductor, G. Williams. After being entertained to lunch the visitors caught the 2.18 train to Camborne, where the first peal of Stedman Triples was rung for the Guild—"The conductor was the Rev. F. E. Robinson, who, though he has attained the age of 75, still is able to ring sometimes as many as six of these peals in one week."

These peals were rung in October, 1907, but having got to know of this proposed tour the Plymouth ringers, all life members of the Truro Guild, rang the first peal for the Guild at Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, on August 21st, 1907. This was Holt's ten-part, conducted by the late G. Harry Myers. The jubilee of this peal was properly observed when his son, Tom, conducted the same peal in the same tower on August 21st, 1957.

Kenwyn became one of the most progressive towers in Cornish ringing, the tradition of method ringing became firmly established, and the bells have always been a really live part of the parish life. Regular Sunday service ringing with bells at 6 a.m. and after Evensong on the great festivals are established customs. The two World Wars left their marks, but tradition and dedicated individual ringers kept the flag flying. Of these some names appear on a board recording three peals rung in 1910 and 1911, viz: F. Cawser, E. C. Freund, H. M. Smeath, W. P. Trestrain, A. F. Knight, W. H. Sleeman, C. H. Sleeman, F. Mitchell and J. T. Gully. Amongst ringers there are always the more able and those who are "characters" one remembers. E. C. Freund was a most able ringer who

Recent Compositions and Like Matters

PERHAPS the greatest step forward of late has been the introduction of singles into Treble Bob methods. Starting a few years ago as an expedient in joining odd leads into long peals (of Cambridge, Superlative and Rutland) and to get Maximus round in 94 courses, their application has gradually grown—turning 6 into 5ths in a lead in Maximus, getting the presumed extent of Lincolnshire and obtaining all but perfection in the music of London.

However, it was not until the publication of a peal of Yorkshire at Husbome Crawley with the somewhat alarming footnote "containing all the —56 and —65 courses" that the full potentialities of singles were realised and brought to the attention of the Exercise. Surprisingly the footnote elucidated little response in the way of demands for explanations—perhaps everyone else thought it a misprint too! The publication of the figures a few weeks later demonstrated the truth of the footnote. Getting right away from tradition, Michael Bruce increased the number of roll-ups in a peal of Yorkshire from a usual 60-odd to nearly 100! Presumably this is also applicable to other methods with the same f.c.h. and work above the treble.

The selection of courses used by Bruce is not a happy one for part-composition and the following selection produced by E. Shuttleworth exhibits a 6-part symmetry; all the even courses OOOXY, OXOOY, XOOOY, YOOOX and OOOYO and the odd courses obtained from these by interchanging 5, 6 (O=2, 3, 4; X=5; Y=6). These 30 courses may be pinned down in a 6-part peal, viz:

M	W	H
2	S	5x repeated

By the simple alteration of reducing the number of singles to two and reducing 3M and 3W to MBW in each of the resulting two parts and finally omitting 3M in one part, a two-part peal is obtained having 14 combination courses (92 roll-ups) and a slightly better distribution of music than Bruce's peal in 5,184 changes.

It is evident that the price paid for the increase of five combinations is to incur a few courses of 82's and 83's—but perhaps the good music so obtained will seem better in contrast with the bad!

PITSTOW'S YORKSHIRE POPULAR

Whilst on the subject of Yorkshire, it is amazing to see the number of times Pitstow's is still rung. In its usual form it produces six combination courses, having 48 roll-ups (compared with 60 in Craven's). By starting at the second course-end 59 roll-ups are produced—at the price of 74 courses of 83's (which are not so bad really), the resulting composition has 2 and 5 fixed at the part-ends. The enormous number of peals of Yorkshire still being turned out leaves one to wonder just what some of their individual merits are—E. W. Tipler's B66 for instance is a 5,152 with 36 bobs and a mere 44 roll-ups; whatever merit it may possess entirely escapes me. I suppose there will always be conductors to call anything—Baker's Rutland and even Annable's Bob Major manage to hobble into the peal columns from time to time. One might note, too, in passing, that the 10,080 rung at Accrington is hardly an original production—it is only Reeves' 27-course block with an IOF and an extended 3V's in each part, which material may be seen to be true from Ivin's 14,560. ("Ringing World," 1957/641.)

To turn to consider other standard methods, C. J. Sedgley's No. 4 of Pudsey ("Ringing World," 1964/692) would seem to lose all the available music, however nice the course-ends look there are only 33 roll-ups and 60 bobs! An average composition of Yorkshire rung to Pudsey would do better than this.

To compare two recent compositions of Ealing (a method having no music save in the first and last leads, though the middle leads have a certain amount on the front) by S. Jenner and P. J. Wyherley, which are similar in many respects, both having 78 roll-ups (all but nine of which are in the last lead of the courses) but the former has an extra Before and thus one lead less per part.

PEAL QUALITIES

Another matter, touched on in the Pudsey, is the reporting of a peal's qualities—particularly with reference to the number of combination courses, very often the loose claim "all combinations" or the like is made, which proves to be spurious in examination of the material used between the course-ends. An example of this type of thing is the peal by L. Goodall ("Ringing World," 1964/740), a 5,104 with only 96 roll-ups and several 82's between B and M. The best qualities for Plain Bob would seem to be the 36 Combination Courses in full with the remaining nine courses either made up of 468's or if it is desired to keep the tenors together some of the 0605078 and 0050678 courses which give 6857's and 5768's at the M and W, examples of this type of thing are to be found, and there is still room for experiment—a good example in parts is "Ringing World" 1965/57 by A. R. Kench.

To consider higher numbers for a moment, it is very gratifying to see some fairly original work in Stedman by A. Hudson; the peals with "quarters" of Backstroke, Tittums, Inverted Tittums and Handstroke are very fine indeed. Similar excursions in music are possible in Bob Royal by turning 9,0 over from the plain course position or (infinitely preferable!) 7,8 from the Tittums to give an 8079 course end. Even though we are often told that there is nothing more to be done in Plain Bob (which dictum applies equally well to "ordinary" peals of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Cinques) it is evident that with careful thought unusual and novel properties may be obtained even in these, the simplest fields of composition.

Another field of composition which is enhanced by the use of singles is Cambridge Royal. Roger Baldwin has investigated this and finds 14 true combination courses; however the greatest number yet got into a peal is 11 (or 10 in a 2-part). A very simple peal having eight combinations is to be had by calling 3M 3W 3H, turning 5, 6 over with a single at W or M and repeating.

As a final note might one ask why it is necessary for some compositions to be published two and three times while other stuff is waiting to go in? Good though they are, the compositions of Yorkshire ("Ringing World" 1964/465, 1964/844, 1965/176) or Bristol ("Ringing World" 1964/508, 1965/176) by J. R. Ketteringham hardly merit repeated publication. In any case the latter is hardly original—at best it is an improvement on one by S. J. Ivin ("Ringing World" 1962/552); the first nine courses are identical and the last four are altered to avoid the 82's present in the older version.

Perhaps one of our more penetrative composers might care to investigate the possibilities of getting a new peal of Cambridge Major with singles, and the chances of giving a face-lift to Lincolnshire.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Visiting ringers from Loughborough and Doncaster were among those who attended the Mansfield District meeting on July 24th. In a grand setting for a summer venue, the five bells at Teversall were put to good use by approximately 24 ringers during the afternoon, and this figure was augmented during the evening when the meeting moved to the pleasant ring of eight at Sutton-in-Ashfield. Miss G. Dickens, of Sutton-in-Ashfield, was elected a Guild member, and the next meeting was confirmed as being at Greasley on September 25th.

Unfortunately faded from regular ringing when he entered Truro Cathedral choir as a tenor. W. H. Sleeman, familiarly known as "Billy," was one who rendered much service in the tower. He had learned to ring at Advent, a five-bell tower in North Cornwall, but his trade as a saddler brought him to Truro and he mastered method ringing to the extent that he successfully trained a young band between the wars. At his work bench in a little room above a shop in Bridge Street, Truro, there have been many talks on ringing and plans made for an attempt to be made for something. He rode his bicycle many miles, called a few peals of Doubles, and rang in the only peal of Major at Truro Cathedral. He was a familiar figure, too, walking in the country with his faithful whippet dog. "Billy" died during the last war, when no bells could commemorate his passing.

One who learned to ring at the end of the last war to save a desperate situation was Mr. P. L. N. Carveth, whose son, Alan, was then a member of the Youth Club. An appeal for help got to the ears of these young people, who in course of time graduated to the belfry with a success that can never be questioned. Unfortunately marriage has claimed some, and they have departed. It can truly be said that the process brought much help for such names as Cyril Wratten and Bob Southwood are connected with Kenwyn tower in this way. As a link with the past, Mr. Arthur Matthews is the captain, a position once held by his father-in-law, a ringer at the time of the recasting of the bells, the late Mr. J. L. Brewer. Mr. Alan Carveth is vice-captain, and with this position he combines the Ringing Mastership of Truro Cathedral and is president of the Truro Diocesan Guild. The present Vicar, the Rev. A. J. Vincent, has only recently relinquished the post of secretary of the Diocesan Guild and is himself a ringer. With such a tradition from the past and the present set-up such a tower must surely add much to its encouraging history.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Monmouth Branch

Although July 10th proved a wet, windy day, a very warm welcome awaited the 50 ringers who attended the Branch meeting held at the mountain-top Church of St. Sannan, Bedwelly. The tower captain, Mr. Allen Williams, together with his band, were early in the church to welcome visitors, amongst them Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Price, now of Bristol, who had come "back home" especially for the meeting.

Ringing on the eight bells continued under the able direction of the Branch Master, Mr. Lionel Jones, until the service, which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. C. M. Griffiths, who, being a capable historian, gave a most interesting address about the church and its bells.

An excellent tea awaited members in the "daughter church" hall and Mr. Reuben Clench sincerely thanked the ladies who had prepared this.

Miss Jane Griffiths, daughter of the Rector, was elected a new member with Allan Thomas, Hugh Haigue and Brian Williams, all of Lower-Machen.

Mr. Allen Williams mentioned that it was hoped to have Bedwelly bells quarter-turned by John Taylor's at a cost of £350.

Mr. Ryan Price spoke of the progress which the Bedwelly ringers had made and said this was due to the efforts of the Ebbw Vale band, and expressed thanks to them.

Next meeting: Blaenavon, October 9th.

Southampton University Summer Tour

OR TRIGG'S TRIPPERS

A DULL and miserable morning greeted members of Southampton University as they waited for the Students' Union minibus to take them to Tiverton for their annual summer tour on July 9th. Complete with beard and Panama hat, Mick Trigg spent an hour driving around Southampton collecting ringers and their luggage and by 10 a.m. all 12 plus Chris Kippin (who had thumbed a lift to ring a peal at South Molton) were safely on board.

Turning off the A.303 into a narrow Devon lane, we stopped at the local at Dunkeswell for lunch, exhausting the food stocks and washing it down with draughts of the local brew. Whether it was due to the amount of food consumed was not clear, but the driver had frequently to use bottom gear for the rest of the journey to South Molton. Here we said "Goodbye" to Chris and best of luck for his peal, and "au revoir" to John Taylor, who was also in the peal but was rejoining us later in the week. Retracing our steps to Tiverton, we settled into the Half Moon Hotel before an early night.

After ringing on the glorious eight at Tiverton for Sunday service, we set off for Ladam Bay for a day of rest on the beach, where Alan Harrison joined us.

We were all up bright and early on Monday morning ready for the first tower at Witheridge. The 24 cwt. eight was enjoyed by all until the rope broke on the fifth. Two light sixes at Romansleigh and Marionsleigh were pleasant, although everyone was certain that the minibus was wider than the roads which led to them! The 25 cwt. eight at South Molton lived up to their reputation of being a superb ring, while Swymbridge (a 12 cwt. six) will be remembered for its beautiful screen in the church. At Landkey (a 13 cwt. six) we rang a good course of Norwich.

Difficulties were experienced at Barnstaple—first to find the church and then to ring the bells. We were unable to do justice to the fine 25 cwt. ring of eight at Pilton, as some of the party had great difficulty in ringing the front bells, not being used to the long tail-ends. Derek Jewell, of Combe Martin, and two of the local ringers introduced us to the Devon style call changes on the back six, at the end of which the two ringers on the fifth and tenor were sweating profusely with the speed of the ringing. This was quickly corrected by an enjoyable pint.

"OOH, LOOK"

Tuesday's weather was again disappointing but did not interfere with a well struck course of Grandsire Caters on the 19 cwt. ten at Cullompton. The heavy sixes at Broadhembury and Awliscombe were the next towers on the list. At Awliscombe we parked the minibus opposite a junior school, and when one of the party who (due to finances?) had not had his hair cut this term, alighted from the bus, there were loud shouts of "Ooh, look, it's Mick Jagger!" while two others walked up to the church holding hands to the cries of "Ooh, look, lovers!" A pleasant surprise awaited us after ringing, for the headmistress of the school came out in the pouring rain to thank us for ringing.

On to Honiton St. Paul (a 13½ cwt. eight), where we rang Yorkshire, but at Honiton Old Church the door was locked. The next towers had the reputation of being two of the finest eights in Devon—Ottery St. Mary and Broadclyst. Some good ringing was had at Ottery St. Mary, including Yorkshire, Cambridge and Stedman. Good Stedman was rung at Broadclyst.

At Bradninch (8, 25 cwt.) we were joined by Mr. Pargeter, a vice-president of the Guild, and we joined Tiverton practice in the evening. After the practice a handbell session was held at Mr. Pargeter's beautiful cottage. We reached the grand heights of Bob Royal and Stedman Triples. We are most grateful to Mrs. Pargeter for supplying a tremendously large supper.

Wednesday proved to be slightly easier on the hands, being mainly light rings in the Exmouth area. Clyst St. George (6, 10 cwt.) was not really enjoyed, due more to an overdose of underdone eggs for breakfast plus diesel fumes from the minibus than lack of enthusiasm. The eight at Woodbury (23 cwt.) were followed by the six at Colaton Raleigh.

After lunch, East Budleigh provided a surprise; we expected a six but found that they had been augmented recently to eight. The clock chime apparatus presented difficulty at Lymstone (6, 12 cwt.) but having overcome it we rang Norwich Surprise. Frank Mack met us at Withycombe Raleigh, where we had some of the most enjoyable ringing of the week. In the evening we had the pleasure of ringing at his campanile in Bampton Lane.

We had to leave one of our party in Tiverton on Thursday, as Judith Fitzgeorge was feeling under the weather. Our first tower was Harberton (6, 17 cwt.), where unfortunately we rang the bells rather too fast for their weight. Sampford Peverell was a last-minute substitution after some confusion as to which Appledore in Devon contained a ring of bells.

INTO SOMERSET

Sampford Arundel (6, 8 cwt.) was our first Somerset tower and here we were joined by Derek Elderkin for the rest of the week. Another light six followed at Wellington (Rockwell Green). North Petherton proved real hard work for the 21 cwt. six are extremely odd-struck and further difficulty was found with the long draught at Bridgwater (8, 25 cwt.). Westmonkton (6, 19 cwt.) had the finest heavy six that we visited. A very slow course of Cambridge was rung and on the calculation of one of the band who timed it, a peal would have taken 4½ hours. The Vicar and tower captain greeted us and later took us to the top of the tower to see the bells and admire the wonderful view of Somerset. In the evening we joined the practice at Wellington (8, 19 cwt.). Earlier in the evening a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor "in hand" was rung in a car park in Taunton in honour of the silver wedding anniversary of Canon K. W. H. Felstead, the president of the Guild. The band was: John M. Taylor 1-2, Peter J. Joyce 3-4, Michael D. Trigg (conductor) 5-6.

Friday was spent in the Exe Valley, a beautiful part of the country. Stoodleigh (6, 9 cwt.) was the first tower visited, followed by Brushford (6, 6 cwt.). On the eight at Dulverton (13 cwt.) we had some enjoyable Yorkshire. The six-bell towers of Winsford and Wootton Courtney then followed. We visited the ten on the hill outside Minehead (20 cwt.) and rang Grandsire Caters, Barsham Caters and call changes. (Overheard from a local "They're a bit young to go and ring those heavy bells"!) From Minehead we proceeded to the beautiful six at Carhampton (14 cwt.), where we rang London, Cambridge and 8-Spiced Minor. The evening was spent at Mr. Pargeter's ringing handbells. A glorious supper was provided for us to complete an enjoyable day.

The last day of the tour started with three light sixes—Washford Pyne (7 cwt.), East Worlington (9 cwt.) and West Worlington (7 cwt.). At Chulmleigh (8, 22 cwt.) a course of Quedgley came to an undignified and sudden end, otherwise the ringing here was quite good. At Dolton (13 cwt.) we said "goodbye" to Frank Mack. Great Torrington (8, 15 cwt.) will be remembered for call changes called by the local tower captain. The last tower on the tour was Little Torrington. These were disappointing bells, almost inaudible in the ringing chamber. The day finished with a meal in Barnstaple before returning to the hotel for an evening of darts, ale and bar billiards.

We again rang for Sunday morning service at Tiverton, after which a small presentation was made to Mick Trigg, who was responsible for the tour arrangements, assisted by Rosemary Kemp. Particular thanks must be given to the ringers at Tiverton, who made us specially welcome. The non-Guild members—Alan Ellesmore, Jeff Bruntford and José Harris—we thank and hope they join us again.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Cary Branch

The summer quarterly meeting was held at West Lydtord on July 24th with the Rector (the Rev. R. Gregory) conducting the service, assisted by the Branch chairman (the Rev. G. S. Robinson). Mrs. Pratten was organist, and a collection taken for the Association Bell Fund amounted to £2 1s. 6d.

Tea was served in the Church Room, and at the business meeting the Rev. R. Gregory was elected an associate member of the Association. New members elected were two from Barton St. David, three from Castle Cary and one from Pitcombe.

Sympathy was expressed to the ringers and people of Pitcombe in the recent death of their Rector, who had recently invited the Branch to his church for their Corporate Communion. It was announced, however, that the Communion would still be held at Pitcombe in October, the Vicar of Bruton celebrating.

The vote of thanks included Mr. G. Culling (the local captain) and the ladies who had provided tea.

Methods rung were Plain Bob, Grandsire, Stedman and St. Simon Doubles, Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

Chew Branch

Regret was expressed at the quarterly meeting of the Chew Branch at Ubley on July 17th that the tower captain, Mr. B. Parker, who had made all the arrangements for the meeting, including the tea, was in hospital awaiting an operation. The Rector, the Rev. R. N. Bathgate, a former chairman of the Ilchester Branch, conducted the Association service. No charge was made for tea in the Village Hall, but contributions were invited towards the Church Restoration Fund. Two new members from Publow were elected.

SUPERSONIC BELLRINGING?

Dear Sir,—From time to time one reads in "The Ringing World" of ringing being curtailed at some towers due to complaints about bells. It is interesting to speculate on the possible reasons for complaints about bells in the light of the recent "Oklahoma noise" tests carried out by the U.S. Government.

In order to assess the "community response" to the problem of sonic bangs from supersonic aircraft such as the Concorde, the U.S. Government has been carrying out tests over the town of Oklahoma. Each day aircraft have been directing sonic bangs at the town.

The results of the tests are quite interesting and are quite at variance with preconceived opinions.

I have no wish to compare the sound of bells with sonic bangs, but the results of a "community response" investigation conducted on bells might likewise provide some very surprising facts. Surely some student contemplating doing research at a university would find it an interesting project.

In my "preconceived" opinion, ringers who have anything to say about sound control for bells fall into one of two extremes. There are those who say "Let the public have a bellyful; it does them good," and there are those who say "Brick the louvres up and silence the bells completely."

Those who complain do not always do so because they have a genuine grievance—some do it to attract attention, some to label the church as inconsiderate, and others because they work themselves up over the "selfish attitude" of bellringers. (This type often go indoors and turn up the radio full blast to drown the sound.)

I hold my opinions quite strongly, so do the extremists. Some scientifically obtained facts and figures might resolve our differences and get us all singing the same tune.—Yours faithfully,

GORDON A. HALLS.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL

Dear Sir,—From time to time the question of naming various versions of London Surprise Royal appears in the columns of "The Ringing World," but nothing seems to be done to clarify the position once and for all.

Although it is a fact that there is no true extension from Major to Royal, nevertheless it is fairly obvious, from the number of peals rung in the "Beddington" (or "No. 3") version, that this is the method that is unofficially recognised by the Exercise at large as London Surprise Royal.

Could not the Methods Committee now accept this version officially as London and rename the other versions that have been rung to peals, possibly calling them after some of the old London boroughs?—Yours faithfully,

JOHN H. HUNT.

ORGANISATION BASED ON TRUST

Dear Sir,—In the recent leading article by Mr. Butler we seem to have a mixture of words of wisdom and nonsensical suggestions. As he says, lack of time is always a drawback and is the enemy of us all; that is why as we get older we hesitate to waste time looking for a new face in office when there is already a good servant doing well, and doing it for nothing. Ringing organisation must of necessity be based on a certain amount of trust; how else is it possible to stop someone voting on an issue who is not qualified?

A good chairman is, I suppose, the answer; he can make sure that justice is "seen to be done." Packing a meeting is not "undemocratic"; it is a dishonest method of obtaining something which cannot be acquired by fair means. If two able people, one from the Ladies' Guild and one from the Cumberlands, are elected to assist on our Central Council, and a member of both Societies has a vote for their election, it may be unusual, or undemocratic, but does not matter two hoots. The comparison with bank managers and doctors is nonsense, we must snuff out quickly anything which savours of politics.

I have reread the last four paragraphs of Bill Butler's article, and think that he and his supporters should "found" a new Association with a model set of rules which it would be impossible to "get round" and, providing there were enough sub-sections to Rule 8, paragraph 5 (b) which did not invalidate anything contained in Rule 6, paragraph 3 (a), the elections would be fair. Subscriptions would, of course, be high enough to cover accountancy and legal charges! —Yours faithfully,

BILL COLES.

YORKSHIRE WITH SINGLES

Dear Sir,—Readers interested in composing peals of Yorkshire with singles may find the following composition useful. It contains 30 mutually true whole courses which may be joined in a great number of ways, to produce compositions of almost any lesser length. It also includes the maximum of 14 "combination courses." The composition is:

MORE 100 PEALS

Mr. Ernest Pimlott, of Withington, Macclesfield, completed his 100 peals with the same peal at Chelford, Cheshire, as Mr. Brian Schofield achieved his.

Mr. Pimlott.—Doubles 40 (conducted 36), Minor 47 (4), Major 9 (2 Spliced Plain and Little Bob), Royal 3, Cinques 1. Total 100 (conducted 40).

Mr. Schofield.—Doubles 19 (conducted 1), Minor 57, Triples 2, Major 12, Surprise Major 9, Caters 1. Total 100 (conducted 1).

GNOSALL HANDBELL RINGING

Dear Sir,—With reference to the article on page 530 of "The Ringing World," an extract from Mr. King's thesis states that pupils of St. Lawrence's Primary School, Gnosall, ring 17 bells, using one bell each.

This information is now quite out of date, as the number of bells in use has now risen to 50, and the children ring two, three and four bells each, which means reading more than one note of harmony at the same time—no mean achievement. They also do simple change ringing on eight bells, and one or two of the older ones are progressing to tower bell ringing.

The children are so keen on their handbell ringing that they meet for an hour on most Saturday mornings, while those who have left to go to grammar and secondary schools still meet out of school hours to keep their team together.

The A.T.V. (Midland Television) Film Unit visited the school recently to film the bellringers, and the recorded feature will be shown in the A.T.V. programme "Today," one evening at 6.15 p.m., in the very near future.—Yours sincerely,

E. M. KEY (Mrs.).

Gnosall.

HEREFORD CATHEDRAL SCHOOL SOCIETY

Only two of the Society's ten quarter peal attempts in their end-of-term ringing week, from July 7th to 14th, came to grief, the first through a broken wheel at Little Dewchurch, which deteriorated alarmingly while ringing, and the second—Plain Bob Triples at Hereford Cathedral for the school commemoration service, which was stopped after 1,000 changes through lack of time. Highlights of the successful quarter peals included a well-struck quarter of Plain Bob Minor at St. Nicholas', Hereford (where the Rev. H. C. Sell acted as umpire so that permission could be obtained to ring), and Marcus Sherwood's Spliced Doubles quarter peals, the second of which was rung at short notice after meeting one short for Kent Treble Bob.

At the end of term, Peter D. Sell was elected Master, M. C. W. Sherwood Deputy Master, and Ralph C. Godsall secretary, for the forthcoming year, which will, we trust, be as successful as the last.

SKETTY VISIT PEMBROKESHIRE

An 8 a.m. start was made by Sketty ringers on July 17th for their outing into Cardigan-shire and Pembrokeshire. The route was through the beautiful Gwyli and Teifi Valleys and, as the weather was exceptionally good, the landscape was seen at its best. Cardigan was reached at noon and Mr. Arthur Walters met us at the church, where various methods were rung until 1 p.m.

A picnic lunch preceded a drive along the beautiful Pembrokeshire coast to St. David's. The bells were already up in the campanile of the Cathedral, and after getting used to the heavy bells touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung. A guitar enlivened the homeward journey and Sketty was reached at 10 p.m. Thanks are accorded incumbents and those who arranged the outing. J. A. H.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATIONFairwarp in the Forest

Contrary to expectations, the quarterly meeting of the Northern Division at Fairwarp was well attended.

The service was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. E. S. Besant-Matthews), and the proposed new form of service for the Association met with general approval. For "economical reasons" (!) the "local" could not cater for tea, so it had to be a picnic affair, some on the open common and others in their cars (just in case of gnats).

At the business meeting the Master presided, and the question of the monthly practice meetings was discussed at some length. The Central Council representative (Mrs. E. L. Hairs) gave an account of the Northampton meeting. A vote of thanks was proposed by the Master to the Vicar, and to Mrs. P. Parkyns for accompanying the hymns.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATIONSouthern Branch's First Visit to Scole

On July 31st the Southern Branch visited Scole for the first time and ringing on this delightful new six (tenor 44 cwt.) was enjoyed by some 60 members and friends, including visitors from Cambridgeshire, Lincolnshire, London and Warwickshire.

All were much impressed by this church, beautifully restored in modern style after being destroyed by fire, and the Rector (the Rev. H. Clements) and parishioners are to be congratulated on their effort.

The service was conducted by the Rector, who warmly welcomed us to his tower and also arranged the teas.

Later, at the business meeting, presided over by Dr. P. Jonason, the Rector and two of the local band were elected members of the Association.

Next meeting: Diss, October 30th.

Chertsey District

On one of the few fine Saturdays of the summer, July 31st, the Chertsey District gathered at Chertsey. In the absence of the District Ringing Master (Mr. C. Webb, on his honeymoon) ringing was under the direction of the Assistant Ringing Master (Mr. D. G. Blows). Methods up to Cambridge Major were rung before the service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. S. Archibald).

Following tea, served by the Mothers' Union, the Master (Mr. D. A. R. May) took the chair for the brief meeting. He warmly welcomed several visitors, including two stalwarts, Len Stillwell of Worthing and John Euston of Streatham. The secretary outlined plans for the striking competition at Send on September 18th.

Further ringing up to Superlative was enjoyed until 8.30 p.m.

KIRKBY-IN-ASHFIELD QUARTER PEAL TOUR

Despite an early start from Kirkby on July 24th we arrived late at our first tower, Barrowby. There we were met by the Ringing Master (Mr. T. Relf) who, after our quarter peal, gave us coffee to freshen us for the day. We then visited the heavy ring at Denton, followed by the easily struck bells at Barkston.

After lunch at Grantham we were surprised to find the bells at Honington without ropes! Hough-on-the-Hill provided a very smooth ring and was a sharp contrast to the almost unringable bells at Claypole, where we did not attempt a quarter peal.

Picnic tea at Barnby-in-the-Willows was followed by the first attempt of Carter breaking down after three extents of very good striking. Though dispirited by this, we then rang an extremely fast quarter of Candlesby S.C. Our last tower of the day was Balderton, where we joined for the quarter by Mr. Brian Hough.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION
Rochester District

Owing to the absence of the Vicar and the Village Hall booked for a wedding, there was no service or tea for the Rochester District meeting at Borden on July 17th, and only 25 members were present for the afternoon ringing. Ringing Master's duties were shared between Mr. C. Osenton and Mr. P. Wilkinson.

Mr. E. Beer, Gravesend, was elected chairman for the business meeting, and Mr. T. Barton acted as secretary. Five new members were elected—three from Eastchurch and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Finch, who have moved into Kent and now live at Rainham, and were specially welcomed. Matters discussed were the annual Easter meeting of the Association and the District's striking competition for Sunday service bands at Tunstall.

Ringing improved in the evening with the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Corby and friends, and a chat and a drink at the Maypole ended another happy evening. F. C.

OUTINGSNORTH HANTS RINGERS' OUTING

Ringers from four towers in North Hants. in company with Christopher Dalton, of Leigh, Surrey, had an enjoyable outing into Dorset on July 11th, when 11 towers were visited.

The anti-clockwise five at Spettisbury were first on the list, followed by the good-toned four at Winterbourne Zelstone and the unusual six at Lytchett Minster, where the fifth is rung from halfway up the staircase.

A picnic lunch at Lytchett Matravers preceded ringing the modern six in this village and then followed another good six at Corfe Mullen, where we rang a bridal couple from the church.

At Tarrant Keynsham (not listed in "Dove's") we were privileged to meet Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Robertson, who joined us in ringing Kent Minimus, and also at Shapwick, where Stedman Double Bob and Reverse Bob Minimus were rung in fine fashion on the good-toned fours.

The six at Sturminster Marshall were the best of the day and also the heaviest, with an 18 cwt. tenor, and these were followed by three towers where the bells are seldom rung, at Gussage All Saints, Long Crichel and another anti-clockwise six at Gussage St. Michael. Ringing on these bells was only possible through the energies of Christopher Dalton, who spent ten hours working on them and changing the ropes. At Long Crichel a load of rubbish had to be removed by him before the bells could be raised: for all his work we are most grateful.

This was an outing to be remembered, and to all incumbents and tower captains who met us, our grateful thanks. G. K. D.

FARNHAM DISTRICT

Some 45 ringers and friends of Farnham District participated in the annual outing on July 31st to Southsea, on one of the finest days of the summer.

Arranged by the District secretary (Mr. D. Elsmore) a call was made at Catherington, a small village tucked in the folds of the South Downs, where good use was made of the six bells. The beautiful eight at St. Mary's, Portsmouth, next attracted attention, a wide variety of methods being rung, with a brief interval for the wedding of a coloured bride.

The afternoon was free but we reassembled at 5 p.m. to ring on the ten at Portsmouth Cathedral. Some of the less competent found the number and weight rather formidable and only about half were able to enjoy Caters and Royal to the full.

Homeward, through the Meon Valley, we stopped at that birthplace of cricket, Hambledon, a delightful church and village but a difficult "go" to the six bells.

The last and inevitable call was the Pig and Whistle at Privett. Altogether a most enjoyable day. R. B.

BELFRY GOSSIP

A ringer for 57 years at Chirton, near Devizes, Mr. Bert Smith, has just rung his first peal.

The services of the Ecclesfield Handbell Ringers (170 bells) have been secured for the Snowdon Dinner at Rotherham on October 16th.

We hear that the sixth Grantley Hall course was again full and very enjoyable. The next course will be from Friday, November 11th, to Sunday, November 13th, 1966.

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus at Reading (page 535) was not David P. Hilling's first of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus but his 50th with Frederick R. Scott. It was in fact the first of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus for Frank W. Lewis, who rang the 10th.

Fourteen-year-old Richard Grant rang his first peal at the first attempt at Kirby Hill, Yorks. He had only four hours' notice before the peal, and his longest previous touch was 360 changes, writes the conductor, Mr. Ronald R. Warford.

Our holiday postbag this week contained a fine picture postcard from Jerusalem, of the Christmas Bell at Bethlehem. The sender was the well known Southwell Guild ringer Miss A. Henson, who so far has not secured permission to ring the Bethlehem Bell, but was allowed by a nun to ring the Sanctus Bell on the Via Dolorosa.

The church authorities at Hooton Pagnell, near Doncaster, are paying £270 to restore their musical clock. When it broke down there was a jumbled selection of "Home, Sweet Home," "Hark the Lark" and "Abide With Me." "Tourists travel miles just to hear it," said the Vicar, the Rev. Herbert Wilson, "and there were some long faces when it went wrong. It had given 60 years of faithful service, playing a tune every three hours."

ANOTHER PEAL AT GUERNSEY

A round trip of about 400 miles, with only two towers scheduled for a visit, was undertaken by a group of Worcestershire ringers led by John Whittall. The visit was to Guernsey on July 28th, crossing by the British Rail ship "Casaria." The town church of St. Peter's Port was visited on the Wednesday morning but the bells are not allowed to be rung as there are fears for the safety of the central tower. The Rector, the Rev. W. R. F. Hares, once Rector of Beccles, Suffolk, is himself a ringer and had rung with our correspondent (Mr. Paul Cattermole) in 1956 at Barsham, Suffolk.

On Wednesday afternoon came the object of the journey—a peal attempt at St. Michael-du-Valle, the only ringable six in Guernsey. The tower is a massive granite structure with very odd pinnacles and a spire. The bells were cast by Warners in 1891 with a tenor of 7½ cwt. They go very well but are exceptionally noisy and sound shrill in the ringing room. Two local ringers enjoyed the rise in peal and waited to see the start. Two hours and 43 minutes later, a very hoarse conductor called "This is all" to a peal of Minor in three methods and a triumphant band lowered the bells in peal, and well-struck Queens concluded the effort.

A quarter peal was rung at the Church of Sainte Marguerite de la Forêt in Southern Guernsey on Sunday evening. The tower, built of Guernsey granite, is a curious tapered structure with four small pinnacles and a spire. The ringers perform among the pews, which have folding seats. Two of the bells were cast in 1685 by Paul Bourdon, a French bellfounder, and the whole ring forms a delightful 7 cwt. four. Shortly before Evening-song a local ringer, Mr. Bienvenue, who had not rung for two years, rang the tenor behind for some singles.

The band left the island with many happy memories—the peal at St. Michael's, the sound of St. Saviour's tenor, the magnificent tone of St. Pierre du Bois' three bells, the Lammas service at Ste Marguerite's and, lastly, the friendliness we received from the Guernsey people. The organisation and planning of John Whittall ensured that the tour ran without a hitch.

Full details of the bells of Guernsey are contained in Mr. Frederick Sharpe's book advertised in this issue.

KIRBY-LE-SOKEN CENTURY

The 100th peal at St. Michael's, Kirby-le-Soken, Essex, was rung on August 7th. Taking part in it were Walter Arnold and Edward E. Davey, who took part in the first peal (Superlative, the same method as the 100th) on August 2nd, 1926. Urban W. Wildney, the conductor, was ringing his 400th, of which 80 have been rung in this tower.

"NOISY BELLS HALT WORK"

A strong protest was contained in a report in "The Sheffield Telegraph" of August 3rd against a four-hour peal at Goole by a touring party of the Yorkshire Association the previous day. Office workers complained of "driving to distraction" and some stopped work altogether. Goole's dock engineer, Mr. David Hunter, whose office overlooks the church, went home.

BISHOP GETS "KNOW HOW" THROUGH M.U. LINK

Through an alliance between the Linton Mothers' Union, Kent, and the branch of the Union at Gordon, North Queensland, Mr. Percy M. Town, of Linton, has received a letter from the Rt. Rev. F. O. Hulme-Moir, Dean of Sydney and Bishop Coadjutor stating that he had heard from the wife of the Vicar at Gordon that Mr. Town was very interested in bells. The Dean continues: "I would value very much any advice you could give me as to the organisation and administration of a bellringers' team for the ring of ten bells now being placed in position in the tower of our Cathedral. I am entirely ignorant and want to see the best done by the good folk who will offer for this work and the church which will gladly accept their services."

Mr. Town discussed the matter with Mr. E. A. Barnett, the secretary to the Central Council, and has replied giving what help he can, and sent the Central Council's handbook for beginners together with copies of "The Ringing World" with articles concerning Australian ringing.

The Dean might also find exceedingly valuable a copy of "Ringing Towers," the journal of the Australian and New Zealand Associations of Bellringers.

BELL STOLEN

Parishioners of Ulley, near Sheffield, decided to restore two bells for the visit of the Bishop of Sheffield, the Rt. Rev. F. Taylor, for the institution of the new Vicar, the Rev. G. Kirk. Since the bell fell while ringing in the New Year two years ago, it has stood next to the font. "When we looked for the bell," stated the new Vicar, "it had disappeared. Someone must have taken it from the church, possibly a passing scrap merchant or someone who wanted to make a pound or two selling the bell as scrap. It must have been taken at night, because the church is in the middle of the village and it would be difficult taking the bell in broad daylight."

However, one bell remained for the Vicar to toll and to signify that he had taken possession of the living.

RIVALRY IN DERBY ASSOCIATION

The action of Mr. Trevor Taylor to conduct a band of first peelers through Plain Bob Doubles has stirred the spirit of rivalry in the heart of Mr. Gordon A. Halls. He produces a peal of Minor rung at West Hallam which contained five first peelers; he feels he has gone one better.

HOLIDAY RINGING

Nine ringers of the Southwell Diocesan Guild, writes Mr. W. L. Exton, met whilst on holiday in Cornwall and held a short ringing outing. Towers visited included Kea, Helston, Sennen, Zennor and Carbis Bay. Thanks are extended to all who gave permission to ring and those who so kindly met the party at their towers, and especially the Rev. A. S. Roberts for all his help.

DR. R. J. BROCKLEHURST

Anyone who has done much ringing in Bristol since the war will certainly have experienced the quiet generalship of Dr. R. J. Brocklehurst, who has just retired and gone to live in South Devon. Whether as inspirer of Stoke Bishop tower, president of the University Society or as chairman of the City Branch, Dr. Brocklehurst's influence on Bristol ringing was greater than perhaps even he realised. For long periods he was churchwarden at Stoke Bishop, chairman of the Bristol Diocesan Board of Finance and Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at the University as well as Professor of Physiology, to name only a few of the many appointments he held. It is inconceivable that South Devon will not benefit in some ways from his presence there but we hope he will now resist the temptation to fill his famous pocket book so full of engagements as has been his habit in the past.

As a mark of gratitude to Dr. and Mrs. Brocklehurst for the way they have served them over all these years, Stoke Bishop ringers and the City ringers gave them a cheese and wine party on June 30th, and Stoke Bishop ringers rang a quarter peal on their last Sunday.

LIPREADING PEALS AT LAPLEY

The 11th century Church of All Saints, Lapley, Staffs, situated a few miles north of the busy A.5 and whose massive tower may be seen soon after passing the Gailey roundabout, was the scene of a well earned peal specially arranged to wish godspeed to the departing Vicar, the Rev. H. Perrins.

Some years ago his predecessor was responsible for having the ringing chamber ceiling removed, leaving only a thin board floor below the bells, and extending the flight of the ropes considerably. In consequence the noise in the ringing chamber is such that oral sound is virtually incomprehensible when the bells are being rung. One has to "see" the calls "mouthed" and a mistake is invariably fatal.

Due to the excessive noise, the local ringers who began tuition under the guidance of Mr. Jack Dyke, of Gnosall, nine months ago, are seriously handicapped in advancing to change ringing. So it was at the request of the Lapley ringers that an attempt was arranged. After the successful conclusion, the ringers were congratulated by the ringers and other local residents and were entertained at the nearby hostelry by Mr. G. Markwick, it being his birthday.

"ALMOST PERFECT" AT REIGATE PRACTICE

Following discussion at their July meeting, Surrey ringers met at Reigate on August 4th for a combined District practice. Ringers came from Charlwood, Dorking, Horley, Leigh, Merstham and Reigate, and methods rung were plain but for the most part well struck. The last was an almost perfect touch of Grandsire Triples. A well-known 1,000 pealer was heard to remark afterwards that he had not heard striking like it for three years in his home tower!

GREAT ADVENTURE II

MONTHS of planning by Mr. T. J. Lock, assisted on the financial side by Miss Ruth Foreman, will culminate on Sunday week, when Great Adventure II leaves London Airport for Australia and New Zealand and returns home to Britain via U.S.A., with a visit to Groton School. In the space of five weeks thousands of miles will be travelled to convey the goodwill and friendship of English ringers in the same way as Bill Fussell, John S. Goldsmith and Rupert Richardson did in 1934. And of that party of 31 years ago there are just two left—Mrs. Annie Richardson, of Surfleet, and her daughter, Enid.

The spirit of adventure of that first party is not dead. Last time there was a leisurely approach to the ringing ahead by a long sea voyage; this time, for the nine who constitute the main party, it is just 32 hours by air, the route being via Moscow, Delhi, Bombay, Madras, Singapore to Perth. It is an elderly party; the senior, Mr. Shirley Burton, of Leicester, who has gone by sea, is 77. With him is Mrs. Burton, and they plan to visit their daughter in New Zealand. Closely behind him is one whose name constantly appears in the peal columns—Mr. Leonard Stilwell, now 76. Travelling by sea with Mr. Burton is Mr. A. G. Mason, of Kent, whose most noteworthy peal was one of Bristol in 1922 at Westminster Abbey, the first of Major on the bells. Another in the 70's is Mr. T. W. White, the editor of "The Ringing World." His introduction to ringing came about through Great Adventure I. Mr. Goldsmith, the founder editor of "The Ringing World," approached the Woodbridge Press and Mr. White was permitted to undertake the editorial work with the exception of the front page articles that were written by Mr. J. A. Trollope. Within a few weeks he became a learner in Holy Trinity, Guildford, belfry, and for 25 years served as secretary of that tower.

The 50 to 60 group has the strongest section, including the leader, Mr. T. J. Lock (54), who has not spared himself in his difficult role. He has had to face many disappointments; the withdrawals of a number of good ringers and the postponement of the adventure for a year. Originally it was planned to coincide with the rededication of the 12 at Melbourne—the only 12 outside of Great Britain, and also the 30th anniversary of Great Adventure II. At the time planned the bells were in this country. There are likely, however, to be "occasions," with the dedication of the new ring at St. Andrew's (Anglican) Cathedral, Sydney, and a service in connection with St. Jude's, Randwick, which has one of the few rings of steel bells in the world.

Probably the conducting will be shared between Wilfred Williams (around the 60 mark), Tom Lock and A. P. Cannon. And for those who claim to be tenor ringers there are bells to test capabilities of a "tenor king," particularly the two at Adelaide. Wilfred, apart from being a superb tenor ringer and safe conductor, had tribute paid to his ability when he was elected Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Pat Cannon, now 52, passed the 1,000 peal mark last year. He has represented the Surrey Association on the Central Council and held office in both the Surrey Association and Guildford Diocesan Guild. Another member with very sound experience is Mr. C. W. Pipe, Central Councillor and for many years hon. secretary of the Suffolk Guild. "Jim" Pipe will go to Australia with the added lustre of being George Pipe's father. The seven years George spent in Australia resulted in a ringing uplift in Melbourne and indeed the whole continent. His younger brother, Roderick, promises to be his equal and his services to ringing at Birmingham and his many good compositions have already earned for him a special niche.

Probably the most travelled member of the party is the Rev. Malcolm C. C. Melville (52), who since his youth has been an ardent bellringer but because of his sojourning abroad has been deprived of ringing facilities. Of his peals, not yet 300, about 100 have been rung in the last two years. He is the only member of the party who was present at the Washington dedication last year, although not one of the official ten. Cambridge University Guild will be represented by Mr. R. M. Damerell, of Herts, the youngest member. The only lady ringer in the party is Miss Ann Horsford, of the Middlesex County Association, who is fulfilling an ambition to visit Australia and New Zealand.

A recording of the voice of the President of the Central Council (Canon Gilbert Thurlow) is being taken by Mr. Lock. This is not an official visit sponsored by the Central Council; it could have been had the spirit been willing at Northampton, as the visit is creating widespread interest. Australia loves informality about ringing. The visit came about through a private approach to Mr. Lock, who has had years of experience in promoting peal tours, to repeat the Great Adventure. And this is the outcome. An appeal was made in "The Ringing World" for contributions to a fund to provide towers visited with mementos of the occasion. The Middlesex County Association and some nine individuals had contributed to this fund, apart from members of the party. The fund is not closed.

The tourists hope that in some of the peals rung they will have the privilege of Australian ringers being included. Australia has today ringers of repute who would grace any peal band. This year's president of the Australian and New Zealand Association of Ringing Societies is Miss Enid Lloyd Roberts, a former Master of Bristol University Society. Her Australian experience started at Adelaide; now she is at Sydney and is a member of Tom Goodyer's band at St. Mary's Basilica (R.C.) Church. The sense of unity with change ringers the world over has been fostered very largely by private individuals. The work of Philip Gray, George Pipe and Mark Lancefield is remembered in Australia; in Britain we have a warm affection for Brian Cox and Nelson Sloan, from New Zealand, who spent some months in this country. The Great Adventure of 1934 was unquestionably the forerunner of many links being forged; friendships thus established have been abiding.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District

Over 40 people were present for the service and tea at the meeting of the Ashford District on a fine afternoon at Wittersham on July 31st.

The Association service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. C. Lucy, Mr. L. I. Sweatman read the lesson, and Miss Martin was the organist. Afterwards tea was enjoyed in the Memorial Hall.

At the business meeting Lady Mallett said that she would like to see the bells, which are odd-struck and difficult (tenor 16 cwt.), rehung, and the offertory of £2 5s was given to start a fund for this purpose. Two new members were elected to the Association.

Mr. J. Willis thanked Mrs. Anne Denne and Lady Mallett for making all the arrangements.

In spite of the awkward "go" of the bells the standard of striking showed an improvement. It is to be hoped this improvement will be maintained, as the next meeting, September 11th, is at Bethersden, home tower of the dreaded "firing-at-meetings" correspondent. C. T. H.

Those who read "Ringing Towers," the Australian quarterly, cannot fail to perceive the strong social spirit engendered and how members cheerfully travel hundreds of miles to ensure those inter-State get-togethers. To emulate that example and to follow the precedent of 1934, Tom Lock's party embark hopefully, knowing full well that any contribution they can make towards the comity of friendship will be doubly reciprocated by ringers in Australia and New Zealand, for such is their open-heartedness.

MR. T. J. LOCK

EMINENTLY fitted to lead Great Adventure II to Australia and New Zealand is Mr. Tom Lock, of North Mymms, Herts. Since 1951 he has been organising peal tours which maintain a high standard. His membership of the Central Council dates back to 1946 and he is the present convener of the Biographies Committee.

A native of Woolton Hill, Hants, and educated at Newbury Grammar School, he went to London in 1927 and rang his first peal at Willesden that year. Last year he rang his 850th and his list includes over 100 different Surprise Major methods. Tom has given long service to the Middlesex County Association. After 20 years as a District secretary he was elected general secretary of the Association in 1957, an office he still holds.

By profession a chartered quantity surveyor, Tom married in 1938 and his wife is a past president of the Ladies' Guild. They have two sons.

A meeting of those members flying from London Airport on September 5th at 3 p.m. was held recently in London, when a recording was taken for the B.B.C. Home Service. Interviewed were Tom Lock, the Rev. Malcolm Melville and Miss Ann Horsford, and it is hoped that this recording by Barry Wilson will be heard in the South East Home Service programme of Thursday, September 2nd, at 6.10 p.m.

Mr. George Pipe attended the meeting and gave a number of helpful travel tips and a general talk on Australian ringing. The tourists learned that Maryborough tenor is out of order. There are nine bells in this tower, and it is possible to ring a peal on the middle six.

Mr. W. Cartwright, the hon. solicitor to the Central Council, hopes to meet the party at Perth on his homeward journey. He has been attending a legal conference in Australia.

A cine camera is being taken by the Rev. Malcolm Melville and it is hoped that a coloured film of the tour will eventually be available.

St. Peter's, Ballarat, bells are now at the Whitechapel foundry. The eight are to be retuned, provided with new fittings and a new frame. It is hoped to have them back in Ballarat in time for Christmas.

Mendlesham — A New Suffolk Six

MENDLESHAM is one of the most charming of the many pleasant Suffolk villages still remaining. Its character as a village of mediæval times is still with us, while its many farms and homesteads are well abreast of modern times and form the most pleasant of environs. The fine Parish Church, dedicated to St. Mary, occupies a prominent position at the eastern end of the village street. One of the most historical items of interest is the village armoury, which has been housed in the chamber over the north porch since 1593. The lofty western tower is a good example of the East Anglian Perpendicular period and a notable landmark.

THE BELLS

The inventory of 1553 records that the tower then contained four bells. Presumably this number remained the same until 1612, when a treble was added by William Brend, of Norwich. In 1897 George Day and Son, of Eye, rehung the bells with entirely new fittings and adapted and extended the frame to provide for a sixth bell. At the same time the treble of 1612 and the fourth by John Darbie, of Ipswich, of 1669, were recast by John Warner and Sons, of London. Through the exertions of the local ringers under the enthusiastic conjuration of A. ("Gunner") Godfree, the new treble completing the ring of six has been added. The details of the bells are now as follows:

Treble.—John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, 1965. 4 cwt. 3 qr. 24 lb. C sharp.

Second.—Recast by John Warner and Sons, London, 1897. 6 cwt. (approx.). B.

Third.—Dulcis—Sifto—Melis—Campā Vochor Michis. (Box of sweet honey, I am called Michael's bell.) 7 cwt. 1 lb. (approx.). A. By Braysers, of Norwich, 1424-1513.

Fourth.—Petrus ad Eterne—Ducat nos Pascua Vite. (May Peter lead us to the joys of eternal life.) 8 cwt. 1 lb. (approx.). G sharp. By Braysers, of Norwich, 1424-1513.

Fifth.—Recast by John Warner and Sons, Ltd., London, 1897, in memory of Victoria's record reign of 60 years. 10 cwt. 3 lbs. (approx.). F sharp.

Tenor — De-BVRI—Santi—Edmondi—Stefanus Tonni—Me Fecit. (Bury St. Edmunds, Stephen Tonni made me.) 15 cwt. 2 lb. (approx.). E.

On May 8th, 1965, in the presence of a large gathering of ringers, the new treble bell was dedicated by the Archdeacon of Ipswich (the Ven. C. G. Hooper). The service, which took the form of a shortened Evensong, was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. B. Jolley) with an address by the Archdeacon. Immediately after the service an opening "touch" was rung by the local band. A splendid buffet tea, which had been prepared in the Village Hall, was next enjoyed. During the tea "Gunner" rose and thanked all those who had supported him in his efforts to raise the necessary money to provide the new bell and said that the required amount had been almost completely raised.

The secretary of the Suffolk Guild (Andrew T. Beckwith) said how delighted we must be to possess another fine six and presented "Gunner" with a cheque from the Suffolk Guild Bell Restoration Fund. During the evening the many ringers present were able to try the bells to a wide selection of methods and all agreed that an excellent "splice" had been made between the new treble and the old five.

The local band practise on Fridays and hope to reach a sufficiently high standard to attempt the first peal of Minor in the near future. A. T. B.

OBITUARY

MR. PETER JARVIS

Fatal injuries were received by Mr. Peter Jarvis, of Bethersden, on August 12th, when the ladder on which he was working broke. His death at the age of 42 robs Bethersden of a keen, capable and conscientious ringer, whose attendance on Sundays and practice nights was exemplary.

A single man, Peter lived with his father. Mr. Harry Jarvis, with whom he worked in partnership as a builder and decorator. He learned to ring as a boy at Great Chart, where he and his father did good work in helping to bring about the restoration of the bells in 1959, and where Peter stood in the first peal on the restored bells and helped train a new band.

A quiet, friendly man, Peter was well liked by everybody and could always be relied on to give a helping hand. His untimely death is a big loss to the Bethersden band.

To his father, a widower, we extend our deepest sympathy. C. T. H.

MRS. MARY HAGUE

Mrs. Mary Hague, widow of Arthur Hague, of Blackpool, formerly of Rotherham, died on August 7th after a long illness patiently borne. She had done a little ringing in her younger days, but will be remembered by many ringing members of the Forces stationed at Blackpool during the war, as she and Arthur always made them welcome at East Topping Street. R. I. P.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Biggleswade District's evening meeting at Potton on August 14th attracted a fair number.

The meeting also provided an opportunity to give some help and encouragement to the young local band and to interest them in District activities.

IN AND AROUND WORCESTER-SHIRE

It has been argued that prolific peal ringing within an Association is not a true indication of its strength. Be that as it may, few ringers would deny that peal ringing provides an outlet for the exuberance of the more lively members! Indeed, were it not for the peals that were rung, the life of many Associations would be extremely demure and even possibly stagnant. Thus it was with these thoughts in mind that the following ringers embarked upon a "local" peal tour on Monday, July 26th.

The party, all of which except two were resident members of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, comprised John Eisel, Gerald Hemming, Geoff Hemming, Arthur Berry, Ian Lloyd, Jimmy Attwood junior, Richard Bateman, Ann Collett, Roger Ashmore, the Rev. Tony Clayton, Ted Colley, Michael Fellows and Martin Fellows.

The first tower on Monday was Hampton. Evesham, where a good peal of Evesham Surprise Major was scored upon the delightful Taylor eight. A visit to The Cider Mill in Hampton counteracted the effects of dehydration and set us in stead for an attempt of Warwickshire Surprise Major at Salford Priors in the afternoon. This peal was duly rung, it being the first in the method for seven of the band.

Tuesday morning saw the party at Norton (near Evesham), where a peal of Worcester-shire Surprise Major was rung before setting off for the village of Kingham upon the Cotswolds. It was here that the writer recollects being informed at least five or six times by a certain Evesham worthy that Kingham bells were "the first ball bearing job" he ever rang on! The correct note of the tenor bell having been ascertained by the same worthy, with the aid of his tuning forks, eight of the party then rang a good peal of Rutland Surprise Major on the excellent Taylor eight.

Wednesday was to be a "day out" in the Black Country, the first tower being Old Hill. However, as the key of this tower had not arrived by 10.15 a.m., a quick telephone call to the Vicar of Netherton enabled the party to change the venue. At Netherton an excellent peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major was brought round in 2 hours and 45 minutes. The party moved on to Kingswinford for the afternoon peal. Yorkshire was rung on these pleasant bells.

Thursday was spent in mid-Worcestershire, Superlative being rung at Stoke Prior and Cambridge at Hanbury. The bells at the latter village must surely be one of Taylor's finest light eights, the only possible criticism being levelled against the frame, which was not replaced when the bells were recast.

Upon-upon-Severn was the tower for all the band. It was at this tower that "his reverence the treble ringer" complained of not being able to hear each individual bell, as the many and varied sounds produced seemed to cumulate into "one great roar." Colwall, with its overpowering tenor, set the scene for the afternoon's attempt, and here Pudsey would just not go. The method was changed to New Cambridge and a peal scored.

Only one attempt was possible on Saturday as ringers were now becoming scarce (weddings and attempts for peals of London Royal being the main causes). Nevertheless a peal

Learning and Teaching Elementary Change Ringing

Synopsis of a Lecture given by Mr. Norman Chaddock at Buxton Manor College

THERE are three aspects to learning elementary change ringing: (1) Theoretical, (2) Practical, (3) Acquiring ropesight.

THEORETICAL

Plain Bob is often chosen as the most suitable basic method for a number of reasons. It is easily developed from the plain hunting course, it can be adapted to odd or even numbers of bells, it extends easily to higher numbers and illustrates important features of change ringing such as course bell, after bell, etc.

The pupil must be acquainted with the basic rules of change ringing such as maximum number of pairs of bells changing, no jumping places and the aim to extend the number or changes without repetition. He must learn precisely what he is to do and why and where he fits in with the others.

It is advisable to teach the structure of change ringing whilst bell control is being mastered. This creates an interesting variation and facilitates rapid progress when bell control has reached a competent stage. It also enables the tutor to find out whether the pupil is prepared to learn a method. If he is not, there is less point in devoting valuable time on him.

Quite likely after a preliminary excursion through plain hunting, changes on three, four and five bells, showing how the possible sequences increase in number, it may be thought appropriate to base change ringing theory on Plain Bob Minor. Starting from rounds the pupil should be shown how the plain hunt on six is produced by first changing all three pairs, then the inside two pairs of bells, repeating this pattern until rounds re-occur after 12 changes. The pupil can then practise this on handbells.

The pupil is then shown how Plain Bob Minor is produced by 2nds place being made when the treble is at lead and how the whole of the method is contained and can be extracted from the first lead. He can then be encouraged to produce on paper the full plain course by inserting each bell in turn, by which time he will almost know the course from memory.

The treble and one bell should then be lined in, in different colours, and the lead heads underlined. The strip of paper should then be bent round in the form of a loop and the rounds (123456) at the end pasted over the top of the commencing row (123456). The pupil thus sees that there is really no start or finish to the course, rounds just being chosen for convenience. He also sees that by turning the loop through his fingers to suitable points he can see, from the path of the one bell lined in, where all the others will start their courses from rounds. The pupil will quickly acquire the ability to ring one handbell to a plain course of Bob Minor by listening and counting (two vital mental processes in tower bell ringing) and at first may be encouraged to count aloud.

A further detailed study of the plain course should now be made, relating the place in which the treble is met hunting up, with the subsequent dodge, and the latter with the place in which treble is struck over when hunting down. This can be memorised in table form, with obvious advantages towards finding one's way and keeping right when ringing on tower bells.

When ringing with other ringers and bands the learner will have various technical terms thrust upon him, so it is as well to have a little knowledge of ringing vocabulary, including such terms as hunting up (or out), hunting down (or in), leading (right and wrong), place making, open lead, turn from lead or behind, etc.

The coursing order should be studied and also the relative position of course bell and after bell and the uses to which it is possible to put this knowledge. As an aid to learning, various analogies, such as going up and down steps, counting each step, may be used. Small diagrams illustrating the cyclical nature of change ringing may be used.

All this goes along whilst the pupil is polishing up his bell control, and a personal approach between tutor and pupil with informal question and answer helps to consolidate his basic knowledge. Pupils do not learn soundly just by being told things; keep them alert and make them think. It is a good idea at this stage to encourage them to keep a notebook in which all their new knowledge is recorded in diagrams and statements. If it is a well-kept notebook they will take a pride in it and be prepared to do a little "homework" in it. This book may eventually record their knowledge and progress from plain hunt to Surprise Major or Stedman Caters or beyond.

THE PRACTICAL ASPECTS

The most important, of course, is complete bell control, which is a subject in its own right. Perfect bell control is only finally achieved after some change ringing experience. Nevertheless there are a multitude of exercises that can be practised on silent bells, to make more easy and "pain free" the absorption of learners into open change ringing on tower bells. These include practising a series of quick strokes and slow strokes, six-eight or ten-bell rhythm, dodging right and dodging wrong, raising and falling at varying speeds. It is advantageous to have a small group of about four learners and they will obtain quite a little fun out of these bell control exercises, and can practise together with the tutor on handbells. It is also of great help to have one or two reasonably competent ringers to help the tutor at this stage, with these exercises leading to change ringing on tower bells.

The pupil must be trained to count his place religiously, and to listen to the whole rhythm whilst ringing open, emphasising his own bell's note in his mind.

(To be concluded next week.)

Letters to the Editor

"PEAL FEES"

Dear Sir,—I may have been somewhat pre-occupied at the Winchester and Portsmouth annual general meeting on July 31st, but I do not think it is the intention of the members to allow the observance of their Rule 18 "Peals" to be left to the dictates of a conductor's conscience," as suggested by the sub-title of the report of the meeting which appeared in "The Ringing World." The rule itself, as published in the 1960/61/62 Triennial Report of the Guild is quite clear on the subject.

Mr. R. F. Diserens, in a letter to the peal recorder, states that he objects to paying peal fees as a "matter of principle." This latter is a high-sounding phrase and often has the desired effect of ending an argument if it is not challenged. I would like to ask Mr. Diserens to be more explicit and explain exactly what principle he thinks is involved in this case.

I think Mr. Kippin will agree with me that the voice of conscience should be heard before the peal is "fait accompli," i.e. when it is proposed to record the peal, if successful, for a Guild, thus to ensure that no rules of that Guild will be infringed.

"When in Rome . . . etc." may be considered to be a "square" saying nowadays (I believe the latest term is "switched off"), nevertheless, if put into practice it makes for harmonious relations, especially between the different Guilds of our Exercise.

The Wintonians and Portcastrians have decided, in their wisdom, that there shall be a peal fee in operation for peals recorded for their Guild. It would be courteous for the visiting conductor to respect their wishes without any ado—indeed the rule requires that he shall do so.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR V. DAVIS.

Southbourne, Hants.

CARTER TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—About two months ago under the heading "Query Corner," you printed a request for information about Carter Triples. As no reply has been published, may I submit the following:

Carter Triples is a variation of Stedman Triples, and is derived in the same way as Carter Doubles from Stedman Doubles. Consider Stedman Triples as seven similar symmetrical blocks of 12 rows each. The place made at the parting of the 12's is firsts—that is, the whole pull lead of the quick bell. In Carter Triples 7ths place is substituted at this point. This leaves the slow sixes complete, but splits the quick sixes. The resulting principle retains the features of the blue line of Carter Doubles, and is correspondingly more difficult than Stedman Triples to ring.

If calls are made as in Stedman, both at the beginning and end of the slow sixes, the two calls are quite different in their effect and this would be unacceptable for practical ringing. So I suggest that calls be made at their theoretical place, the parting of the 12's, where they can be similar to those used for Stedman, affecting the bells in 5-6-7.

While this variation will be found lively and interesting to ring, its great attraction will, I think, lie in its challenge to composers, and the purpose of this letter is to draw their attention to it.—Yours faithfully,

T. G. HAWKINS.

Westminster.

LADY WHO RANG LONGEST PEAL

Dear Sir,—In your "Belfry Gossip" columns of July 30th mention is made of Mrs. Welch ringing for 5 hours and 26 minutes in a peal.

A peal board in West Deeping tower records a peal of 10,080 changes, one extent each of 14 different Minor methods, rung on August 13th, 1927, in 6 hours and 19 minutes. Miss Kathleen Jutson rang the second, and the peal was conducted by the late H. M. Day.—Yours faithfully,

CHARLES E. BLACK.

West Deeping, Peterborough.

PINK'S SINGLE

Dear Sir,—I was surprised to see the name of Mr. Dodd directly beneath a statement that the music of any ringing does not matter. I would be the first to admit that very little Doubles ringing has the same beauty and musical symphony as much of higher number ringing, but the call in question is the only lead so far used which becomes unpleasant to listen to. To quote and base an argument on the fact that "it produces the same changes as a Grandsire single but in a different order," is as thoughtless as saying any method of changing the bells to produce the extent is acceptable.

With regard to Mr. S. Humphrey's reply, I thank him for supplying the information which I required. It did amaze me as much as it did him that the rulings take no control over peals of the ordinary length, but the mere act of accepting the single's ugliness should deter ringers from using it, by their personal discretion.—Yours sincerely,

ANDREW HARRISON.

Kirkby-in-Ashfield, Notts.

BARSHAM, SUFFOLK, BELLS

Dear Sir,—Some weeks ago I was touring in Suffolk and stopped to look at the lovely village church of Barsham, near Beccles.

A notice pinned to the door leading into the ground-floor ringing room stated that the bells had been inspected and had been declared to be unsafe for ringing. I climbed to the belfry and found that this was complete and utter nonsense. A letter to the Vicar, as is usual in the case of mysteriously unringable bells, did not provoke the courtesy of a reply. Perhaps one of your readers in the district or Mr. W. M. Clouston could enlighten me as to why and by whom these bells are condemned.—Sincerely yours,

PROFESSIONAL.

WOLVERHAMPTON TENOR

Dear Sir,—With regard to Mr. Philip Johnson's letter concerning Wolverhampton tenor (page 538), if Mr. Johnson's musical knowledge extended far enough he would realise that C sharp and D flat are not the same note. The frequency of these notes differs by a ratio called the enharmonic diesis. Only the keyboard instruments have "tempered" scales where errors are distributed over the scale. With the human voice and string instruments etc., intermediate notes can be obtained. I do not know how accurate the bellfounders are when they publish the key of a new ring.—Yours faithfully,

ALAN F. SCHOLFIELD.

Hyde, Cheshire.

ST. WULFRAM'S SECONDARY SCHOOL, GRANTHAM

Dear Sir,—I must apologise to Mr. King for not supplying him with details of St. Wulfram's Secondary School, Grantham, handbell ringers.

The original team learned to ring Christmas carols in chords in one week on a borrowed ring of 12 handbells and performed in the school's Christmas concert in 1963. This was expected to be the first and last performance but handbell ringing proved to be a popular pastime and requests to perform at local garden fetes and charity concerts brought about the need for new tunes and a continuation of ringing.

The end of this activity almost came about when the owners of the bells wanted them returned, but a second ring, this time 15 bells, was kindly loaned to the school and handbell ringing still forms part of school life.

One further point of interest: King's School, Grantham (Boys' Grammar School) have a thriving ringing society, led by Mr. J. R. Holmes, which practises each Wednesday on the bells of St. Wulfram's Church, Grantham, during term time. Past and present members of this Society are also members of the St. Wulfram's band of change ringers.—Yours sincerely, VAUGHAN P. EVANS.

Grantham.

LUSITANIA SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—The f.c.e.'s of Lusitania are 24365, 32546 and 46253, and not as printed on page 551 of "The Ringing World" for August 13th. This correction does not, of course, affect the truth of the peal rung at the Loughborough Foundry on July 27th, since Middleton's composition was used.—Yours faithfully, CYRIL A. WRATTEN.

Cheltenham, Glos.

INVITATION TO HANDBELL RINGERS

Dear Sir,—For the June meeting of the Stroud Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, held at a four-bell tower, three handbell teams, in response to an invitation, came to give what proved to be a startling insight into the realms of handbell music, and in so doing learned much from each other in style and arrangement.

At this time of interest, currently shown by "The Ringing World," in school handbell groups, I would like to extend the invitation for next year to any handbell ringers within "striking" distance, and ask all who would be willing to come to this delightful hillside village of Randwick, close to Stroud, to contact me.—Yours sincerely,

EDWARD CRIBLEY,

Branch Secretary.

WALSINGHAM SHRINE

Dear Sir,—Whilst on a recent visit to the Shrine of Our Lady, Walsingham, I was lucky enough to be taken to see the bells in the bell tower. There are ten bells in use, nine by Gillett and Johnston, and the smallest cast by John Taylor. Two more bells from the Loughborough foundry are waiting to be hung. The bells are of very good tone. According to a local informant it is hoped eventually to have 20. A keyboard for 20 has been installed and now all that is needed is more money.—Yours sincerely,

Chislehurst, Kent.

ALPHABETICAL INDEX OF MINOR METHODS

REPTON DELIGHT

REVERSE METHODS

Few Minor methods will "double" but all will "reverse." Although all calls are now made with the treble at the front, in some Double methods (e.g. Double Bob), calls were, on occasions in the past, made with the treble at both back and front (frequently in pairs). Similarly, in reverse methods, calls were sometimes made with the treble behind. Although some reverse methods were described simply as the reverse of the original (e.g. Reversed Kent, Reversed Woodbine, etc.), others had individual names (e.g. Navigation Bob, Treeton Surprise, etc.). Although there are few reverse methods now rung, apart from Reverse Bob, I have included those that I think are worthy of special mention.

REVERSE (PLAIN) BOB

LADIES' GUILD

A lovely summer afternoon contributed to the enjoyment of the 29 members and friends who attended a meeting of the Ladies' Guild (Kent Branch) at Burmash on August 7th. Ringing during the afternoon on the six bells ranged from rounds to Cambridge Minor.

After the service, which was conducted by the curate, we were given a superb tea by the ladies of Burmash. The business meeting followed, the chair being taken by Mrs. E. Mitchell, a founder member (incorrectly reported in the account of the Ladies' Guild annual general meeting at Eastbourne in "The Ringing World" No. 2,832, page 510). Five new members were elected and the venue for the next meeting was discussed.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to all concerned, and ringing continued during the evening. I. M. P.

DUNKERTON'S VETERANS NOW CHANGE RINGERS

The peal we record at Dunkerton is of interest as it includes three local ringers, the most who have attempted a peal together, as this was at one time a call change tower. Mr. Stanley Francis, who is 61 years old, made his first peal attempt. Although rung slowly for these bells, the peal was very well struck. It was a 70th birthday compliment to the verger, Mr. Albert F. Butt, who rang the tenor. He has been ringing here for 50 years.

OUTINGS

BRADPOLE, DORSET

Ringers and friends set out from Bradpole, Dorset, on August 7th, for an ambitious tour of Devon around the Exeter area. En route visits were paid to the mellow six at Payhembury and the magnificent bells at Cul-lompton, which was the first time over half the band had rung on ten bells.

After lunch at Exeter, shoppers were agape as we rang at St. Petrock's, Exeter—"Aye, it must be a wedding," was a comment heard. Tea was at Exmouth, with a ring at Lymptstone. Justice was not done at Seaton as an organist tried to drown the ringing. M. J. H.

WARMINSTER-FROME SURPRISE PRACTICE BAND

The third annual trip of this Surprise practice band on July 17th was a journey through Somerset and Devon. Reaching Martock 15 minutes early, the keys were obtained from the sexton, who was shaving preparatory to meeting us. Yorkshire and Bristol were rung but the Rutland band were not awake. As traffic was building up, we decided to deviate with the help of the "person who knows the way," and "took to the hills" in no uncertain fashion, the resultant countryside and narrow roads having to be seen to be believed. Cullompton was reached on time, but the ringing was not of a high order.

Having moved easily across Exeter, the bells of St. Michael's, Heavitree, were admired for tone but not for "go." However, Cambridge and Superlative were accomplished before moving to the Chevalier Tavern for a very nice lunch. The lovely eight at Uffculme were set going to Stedman, but ringing was curtailed owing to the opening of a fete. We then became entangled in slow-moving traffic, nevertheless we were only slightly late at Milverton, where Yorkshire, London and Bristol were rung.

After saying farewell to Mr. Claude Tarr, we headed for Taunton, and soon Cambridge Major and Rutland sounded forth from the lofty tower of St. James'. The day's ringing was completed at Huish Episcopi with Yorkshire, London and three-spliced. Skirting Sedgemoor and admiring the wonderful view of the sun-kissed Mendip Hills, we trundled into Burton, where farewells were said in the approved manner at the Blue Bowl. Our thanks—to incumbents and those who met us—must include the weather man, who provided "one out of the bag" for us. K.

EASTERN BRANCH'S OUTING TO LADIES' A.G.M.

A group of members and friends travelled once again to the annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild. Staying the Friday night at Mayfield, we rang at Southover, Laughton, Hailsham and Willingdon before actually entering and ringing in Eastbourne.

Saturday night was again spent at Mayfield, where we rang for Sung Eucharist the following morning before starting on the return journey. Two stops were made on the way home, the first to ring at Tonbridge and the other at Crayford, where we rang prior to Evensong.

Our grateful thanks once again to Alice Lester for organising a most enjoyable weekend. L.

WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL FILM

Mrs. Winthrop P. Cartv. Executive Secretary to Washington Cathedral, has written to Mr. Norman Chaddock expressing her pleasure at the wide distribution in England of the Washington Cathedral film. She adds: "I only hope that it will be met with the enthusiastic response that the Coventry film received here."

Mr. Chaddock issues a warning to those who obtain a loan of the film to return it promptly. Any delay disturbs the rota of bookings.

Copies of the special issue supplement (June 12th, 1964) are still available, price 9d. post free.

A WEEK IN FOUR COUNTIES

A MANCHESTER and Stockport trio left Manchester on Friday, July 30th and, collecting en route, Sunday's ringing was at Stratford, and for Evensong at Bidford, where they spent the next two nights.

Monday brought rain and an attempt for Yorkshire at Salford Priors. Perhaps it was the overwhelming amount of music—all the 56's and all the 65's and all the king's horses and all the king's men could not get rid of the 82's or get our ringing to really settle down. Reducing the number of singles from two to one, we went to Hampton for B. D. Price's Cambridge on the Tuesday, afterwards meeting Mr. Hemming sen., who commented favourably on the way in which we ex-tricated ourselves from a few bars of crunchie towards the end.

On Wednesday we changed our status from that of "cyclist" to that of "walker" and went in the cars to Hinton, where we failed to raise in peal and scored indifferent Lincolnshire, then went to Evesham to listen to the peal of Maximus being rung by six locals and six from Leicester. Back to Stow for the evening; don't bother to grab the tower, though we nearly had the bells for a peal—thanks to the activities of an anti-social, ill-mannered and greedy band of several years ago, who brashed around for five hours in order to score a peal.

Downhill to Bourton-on-the-Water on Thursday morning. Sky blue as writing paper and landscape by Rowland Hilder. Aldenham on the fine new eight, but the sallies were too low to push the handstrokes in, and anyway "who closed the windows?" Then out into the tourists and sunshine, dinner and a long uphill ride up the wrong road for Kingham and the proposed afternoon attempt. It was hot, and as we ambled over the lazy hills "There was no bird, only a singing, Up in the glory, climbing and ringing."

Arriving late at Kingham we grabbed the tower, located ice-creams and draught sherry at 4s. 9d. a pint and lolled in the sunshine, and along the lanes of the best country in England, the grass ablaze with the fire of poppies and trees in the cornfield, sky by John Piper and the Wychwood, Windrush and Evenlode country to Charlbury "and overhead the larks ran screaming, as though the sky were tearing apart."

Having been strong on method ringing and not so hot on striking it was agreed that we would go for spliced Plain and Cambridge at Churchill—the final peal of the tour. And into the sun and the Chequers to look back over the week's success—five out of five for four, and four for the other five, if you see what I mean, but the sherry at this place and learning this game and the pictures in my head Our thanks to all the incumbents and those who met us. G. B.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The name of the treble ringer in the peal at Yoxford on page 553 is Nuala Toone and not as printed.

The peal of Caters at Kendal, Westmorland, on August 7th, was the first of Caters on the bells since 1898.

During a recent Wednesday practice at East Grinstead three leads of Bristol were rung by a band all of whom (bar one) have learned their ringing at that tower. They are regular Sunday service ringers.

Peal weeks are prolific this year. Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton sends us 18 peals rung during a Yorkshire Peal Week, and Mr. J. Martin Thorley seven from his Rutland Area Peal Week.

The 700th anniversary of the Battle of Evesham, on August 4th, was commemorated by a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, rung by six members of the Worcestershire and Districts Association and six members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild.

Miss Jeannie Armstrong, of Morpeth, had a mention of her tune-ringing activities at the Morpeth Watch Tower in "The Sunday Post" of August 8th. Her father's collection of eight bell tunes was published in "The Ringing World" on December 5th and 12th, 1958.

On August 10th, 1960, Richard and Elisabeth Bowden, of Bristol, each rang their 100th peal, at Henbury, Bristol. On August 18th, 1965, more by luck than judgment, they each rang their 200th peal, Belgrave Surprise Major, at St. George's, Bristol. Their total together is now in the 80's.

His ringing friends will congratulate Mr. Harry Stacey, of Stratton, on ringing a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Bridgerule on August 3rd. The only Surprise ringing Harry has ever done has been a rare touch of Cambridge Minor. For the first course of Surprise Major he has ever rung he made a splendid job ringing in the peal.

CHURCHILL BELL AT CHINNOR, OXON

Recently the tiny Sanctus bell of St. Andrew's, Chinnor, was recast with two cwt. of extra metal to form a new memorial bell to the late Sir Winston Churchill.

The new bell weighs 3½ cwt. and bears the following inscriptions:

(Top of Crown) W. S. C. (Monogram.)

CHURCHILL

(Back of Waist) In War—Resolution In Defeat—Defiance
In Victory—Magnanimity
In Peace—Goodwill

Permission for the inscriptions was graciously given by the Baroness Spencer-Churchill, who expressed her pride that her late husband's memory should be thus honoured. The motto is one which Sir Winston referred to as his "moral" and placed at the beginning of his "War Histories of the Second World War." The new bell is a personal tribute to his memory by two ringers of the parish.

The ring of six bells (tenor 10 cwt in G) at this church has been silenced since Easter, 1963—they have broken that silence only once, when the writer tolled the "Nine Tailors" for Sir Winston's death. Although the order for the complete restoration of the ring (by John Taylor and Co.) was given early in 1963, the money allocated for the job was spent on other parish purposes, so when the new bell will be hung by its founders is uncertain.

The Churchill Bell was dedicated on July 18th and received its name, but now rests on the floor of the church.

The new bell is almost unique; it is one of two memorial bells to Sir Winston, each cast simultaneously by the two surviving bellfounders (the other is at Brixham).

During Sir Winston's lifetime only one bell appears to have borne his name, that is in the Peace Tower at Ottawa, Canada, and bears the names of the main Allied leaders.

When hung, the new bell will join a ring which has the unusual distinction of possessing bells cast under four successive British monarchs, viz. Elizabeth I, James I, Charles I, Charles II—may they soon all be sounding forth!

"SOUNDS OF LEATHER ON WILLOW"

Ropes were exchanged for bats and calls of "bob" for "ow's zat!" when Grantham Campanologists and Spalding Tintinabulators played their annual cricket match at Irnham, Lincs, on August 14th.

The Campanologists were first to bat and scored 23 runs all out in one hour. (Rate of one run every 1.8 minutes of slow striking.)

The Tintinabulators who are used to a quick rate of ringing, completed their 33 runs in 20 minutes with the loss of two wickets. As there were still 30 minutes to tea a "bob" was called and further runs were added, with "that's all" being called around 60 runs.

The bails being "stood" it was time for tea in the local hostelry, which was followed by ringing on the five at Irnham and the eight at Edenham.

60th ANNIVERSARY OF REV. F. E. ROBINSON'S 1,000th PEAL

On August 9th, 1905, the Rev. F. E. Robinson rang his 1,000th peal at Drayton, Berkshire. The 60th anniversary of that peal was fittingly marked by ringing a peal of Stedman Triples at Drayton by a band which included Harry Miles, the only survivor of the 1,000th peal band.

This was arranged with the following band: Frederick Sharpe, F.S.A., Deputy Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild and ex-president of the Central Council; Arthur D. Barker, treasurer of the Oxford Diocesan Guild; Walter F. Judge, conductor of the record peal of Stedman Cinques, rung at Christ Church, Oxford, in 1946; Frank White, bellhanger, of Appleton, whose forbears had much to do with the Rev. F. E. Robinson; Brian White, of Appleton, another member of the White family (quite young); John Hibbert, from East Ilsley, Berks, whose forbears rang a great deal with Mr. Robinson (he is quite young, too); John Seymour (captain of Drayton ringers); Harry Miles, a member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild for 68 years, served for many years on the committee of that Guild, ex-Master of the Oxford University Society and of the Oxford (City) Society, and rang a number of peals with Mr. Robinson in Queen Victoria's reign and that of King Edward VII. Mr. Robinson took part in peals for all three of these Associations.

The two youngsters were invited to ring in the peal in the hope that they might be able to ring for the centenary.

Canon C. E. Wigg, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, was invited to take a rope but had to decline as he would be abroad at the time. Miss M. E. Cross, general secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, also had to decline owing to a previous commitment.

The Vicar of Drayton, the Rev. F. C. T. Lancaster, met the ringers as they arrived, with warm and friendly greetings, and the band were generously entertained with refreshments at the Vicarage after a successful peal.

ST. ANN'S, TOTTENHAM

A belated report has been received of the celebrations to mark the centenary of St. Ann's bells, Tottenham, on July 3rd, which started with members of the Ancient Society of College Youths ringing a 720 Plain Bob Minor at 8 a.m. after prayers by the Vicar (the Rev. F. J. Finch).

The main event was Festal Evensong, followed by a high tea in the day school. After the meal Miss Claire Finch presented bouquets to Mrs. F. Hughes, wife of Mr. W. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, and to Mesdames F. J. Finch, E. J. Rowe, E. M. Palmer, E. Paton and Miss A. Perrin, a member of the ladies' team of bellringers during the 1914-18 war.

The Vicar introduced the members of the College Youths, the Middlesex Association and the St. Ann's teams. Mr. W. A. Hughes replied to the Vicar's speech on the 100 years' association of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank with St. Ann's and Mr. R. B. Meadows, Master, on behalf of the College Youths. Mr. E. J. Rowe told the story of St. Ann's bells since the end of World War II, and Mr. W. T. Potts gave a talk on "St. Ann's and its Bells," illustrated by coloured transparencies.

AROUND PORTISHEAD

No fewer than 27 people participated in the "Around Portishead" Peal Week, during which time 22 peals were rung. Full peal conducting was shared by eight of the party and there was also a peal of Stedman Doubles in which each ringer conducted seven extents. Nineteen of the peals were Surprise and there were also peals of Double Norwich and Stedman Caters. Seven of the party rang ten or more peals during the week, viz: Tudor P. Edwards (conducted seven), Kenneth J. Hesketh, Richard S. Starkie, Philip J. Rothera, Jeffrey J. Fox, Peter S. Bennett and C. Martin Press. The Rev. Roger O. Fry is Rector of Portishead; he had a modest total of seven peals, of which he conducted one.

CELEBRATIONS AT COOKHAM

A happy event at Cookham (Berks) recently nearly did not come off. It was thanks to David Hilling, who substituted at one hour's notice although he had another peal arranged for later in the day, that a peal of Bob Major could go ahead as planned to welcome the new Vicar of Cookham, the Rev. John Grover.

Mr. Grover's hospitality afterwards, with ale and home-made savouries in the sun-drenched Vicarage garden, was much appreciated, and was turned to good account to celebrate two other occasions—the "circling" of the tower by Cookham's captain, Ernie Eldridge, and the 100th peal of the conductor, Bill Jackson, an ex-Cookham ringer now at Kingston-upon-Thames

A HERSHAM WEDDING

The bell ropes were lowered into the porch for the wedding of Mr. Christopher Webb, Assistant Ringing Master of Chertsey District, and Miss Genebeth Mooring at Hersham Parish Church on July 24th, and local ringers rang before and after the service. The bells were also rung at the same time at Honiton, where the bridegroom's father is captain.

Unfortunately a peal attempt after the wedding was unsuccessful. The honeymoon was spent in North Wales.

A RINGING FAMILY

The Anscotts are again in the news with a quarter peal at Selworthy, Somerset, on August 8th. In which three generations were represented. B. S. C. Anscott is the son of C. H. J. Anscott. He in turn had two brothers, R. L. and L. H. Anscott, in the quarter peal, as well as their father, H. L. Anscott, and his brother, L. C. Anscott.

EXPLORING ATLAS MOUNTAINS

David Struckett, a member of the St. Mary's, Sunbury-on-Thames, band will be out of circulation for a few weeks because of an adventurous visit to North Africa. He is taking part in an expedition mounted by the Nansen Society, and will be climbing a section of the Atlas Mountains. In addition to his very keen interest in ringing, David interests himself in Scouting and other open-air pursuits.

JOINT MEETING

On Saturday, August 14th, the Yorkshire Association (Southern District) and the Barnsley and District Society held a joint meeting in and around Rotherham. Mr. Frank Brunt's youngsters welcomed the visitors at Thryburgh, and Mr. Fred Fisher had St. Stephen's, Eastwood, ready. Despite a wedding and a broken rope there, ringing was enjoyed before adjourning for tea. After tea Mr. Norman Chaddock took the chair. Six non-resident life members were elected, these being Messrs. John A. Harrison, Dennis Latham, Alan A. Paul, Graham C. Paul, Roger W. Smith and Charles E. Truman. It was decided that the next meeting was to be at Thorne, where the Southern District had not been for about ten years. Mr. John Gilbert spoke of the Snowdon Dinner to be held in Rotherham on October 16th, and pointed out that the Ecclesfield Village Handbell Ringers would be performing. Little else was discussed and ringing continued at the Parish Church, where ringing included rounds and call changes, closed-lead Minor, London Major and Stedman Caters. M. K.

HEYWOOD'S YOUNGEST PEAL RINGER

By ringing the treble to a peal of Plain Bob Minor at Deane, Bolton, on August 11th, Peter McDonagh became the third member of his family to do so, following in the footsteps of his older sisters, Lorraine and Pauline. In spite of the excessive heat—it was one of the warmest days this year, and the belfry is small—Peter rang this, his first peal, very well. A keen Heywood ringer, he is the youngest Heywood ringer ever to ring a peal.

PEAL CARDS and QUARTER PEAL CARDS, minimum 12 in set, price 7s. 6d. Receipt only with stamped addressed envelope. For quarter peal cards, second copy written out in style of a peal is essential. — "Ringing World" Office, c/o Woodbridge Press, Guildford.

HOW GREAT ADVENTURE II ORIGINATED

By T. J. Lock

IT was in 1961, when George W. Pipe returned to this country on leave from his business in Australia, and mentioned the possibility of another, the second, visit of a party of English ringers to that great Continent "down under." George was full of it and he wished it to take place before his tour of duty was completed. Whilst I was not the first person to whom he raised the matter of organising the programme from this country, there is no doubt I was the last, for George went back a happy man at having hooked somebody.

By July, 1962, following the exchange of one or two letters, a "purely tentative" programme was sent to me with all the available towers listed, and with times for ringing, sightseeing and travelling, and including a calculation of all probable expenses. With this information a circular was prepared and sent to twenty ringers whom I hoped would form a nucleus at least. Even if they had all replied accepting the invitation we could have taken more, as provision was even made for "doubling back" for a second visit to certain places.

The correspondence continued between us until in a letter dated February, 1963, George very reluctantly had to write "We're going to miss it," and explain that his stay in Australia was being terminated because he was required to return to Ipswich. What a blow and what a disappointment! But there was no retracting, for Jack Roper, of Victoria, and Bill Pitcher, of Adelaide, were found willing to take over. George, however, would not take over at this end! It was decided that Bill would correspond with me and whilst we are still at the stage of being pen-friends, our letters have been going to and fro in a manner which, so to speak, only ringers could do. We have been hampered by distance, by lack of personal contact, and by indecision or reluctance to decide—and this latter was not on our part, as we were endeavouring to formulate a definite programme for a definite number of people. I have had at least fifty postal inquiries about taking part in this "chance of a lifetime" and many verbal inquiries.

The visit was first planned to have taken place in 1964 but you may remember that a doubt existed as to whether Melbourne Cathedral bells would be ready for use in time, after being retuned and rehung in a new frame. As these bells form the only ring of twelve outside the British Isles no chances had to be taken and so the visit was delayed by twelve months. This decision has revealed its compensations, although I do regret it caused one member, Miss B. Daysh, of Waltham Chase, to drop out.

Not only will Australia be visited but the itinerary includes going to New Zealand and America, through the good offices of Nelson Sloan and Russell Young respectively, so for those who take part in the whole tour it will definitely be a round-the-world trip. An invitation from Michael Simpson to ring in Canada could, very reluctantly, not be accepted.

All available tourists have had a "get together" in a room kindly offered to us by the landlord of the Rising Sun, Carter Lane, E.C.4, and our forthcoming adventure will be the subject of a report in the South-East programme of the radio during one evening of the week prior to our departure.

So the preliminaries have been completed and plans have been made for ringing in twenty-six towers, with meetings and gatherings fitting in between a great amount of travelling by air and by road.

Four of the party are already on their way but the remainder will be leaving London Airport at 1500 hours on Sunday, September 5th, and will be due to return on Monday, October 11th. We are, without any doubt, going out to take part in a wonderful experience and in our turn we shall sincerely hope and endeavour to give pleasure and joy to others.

August 18th, 1965.

The tourists will be looked after by each State Branch as the party, moving from west to east, passes into their territory and if the usual run of inter-State visits is anything to go by, our visitors are promised a very good time indeed. From Sydney they go to New Zealand, though we know very little of their plans there except that peals are hoped for at Hamilton and Christchurch. We feel sure that this will turn out to be the most splendid of all ringing tours (Washington not excepted!) It is up to us to make sure that it will.

BISHOP'S STORTFORD GOLDEN WEDDING

It was hoped to mark the golden wedding of Mr. "Freddie" Bird, of Bishop's Stortford, Herts, on August 11th by a peal of Stedman Caters. Unfortunately, after 2½ hours' ringing two bells crossed over and brought the attempt to an end. Although he has rung one or two peals in recent years, "Freddie" did not join in the attempt, but listened to much of the ringing and arranged a welcome tea for the ringers afterwards.

"Freddie" has been ringing at St. Michael's, Bishop's Stortford for 57 years and was Master for 35 years, resigning in 1963 on account of his age. Now 76, his activities are curtailed because of his age and a war disability. He is also a member of St. James', Thorley, and was the prime mover with the late Canon John E. I. Procter, Rector, in augmenting the bells from three to six in 1937. He collected a keen band of learners, who by 1939, when war broke up the band, had learned eight methods, from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge. As a recognition of his services the ringers presented him with a bureau.

OBITUARY

MR. F. A. BARKER

Bellringer and Good Belfryman

A lifetime of service to bellringing at the same church has ended with the passing of Frederick A. Barker, of Finchley. He died in Barnet Hospital on August 16th. Fred Barker came to Finchley as a lad and, living near the church, soon found an interest in the bells and ringing. He was taught by the local ringers and eventually asked to join the band in 1905.

He remained a member of the band until his death, ringing only a few weeks before his end—a lifetime of service to St. Mary's belfry of 60 years. He had the distinction of serving six Rectors during that time and was captain from 1929 to 1954. I believe that all peals rung by the six-bell band of those days were conducted by him.

I made my way into the belfry in late 1925 to find a mature band who did not want to be disturbed by the presence of a stoney ringer. Had it not been for the encouragement of Fred I certainly would not have become a change ringer. He used to jog around a bit in those days, and as a rule took me along and into the St. Mary's band. He had a way of smoothing out the rough patches in running a band, quietly and tactfully, clearly making himself understood without getting worked up about it. Looking back over the years, the working of the band and the social occasions, whether good or not so good, all seemed to be a bit better because Fred was there.

His passing will leave a void extending far beyond the space he occupied under a bell rope. For years he organised the outings and social events, in which his wife, Mary, joined to make all Fred's ringers welcome. Her picnic lunches in the early days are quite a legend and the suppers at their home will be talked about as long as we older ones last.

The funeral service took place at St. Mary's on Thursday, August 19th, and the bells were rung half-muffled as the cortege entered and left the church. In the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire was rung to his memory. Ringers assisting the local band included Messrs. D. Newman, J. Nash, J. Euston, A. Coles, T. Bevan, G. Parsons, A. Butler and G. Hart. A wreath was sent by the Middlesex Association, of which Fred was a founder member.

We all send our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Barker and her family. Their loss is far greater than ours.

A. F. W.

MR. C. A. DRAKE

A member of Winchester and Portsmouth Guild of Ringers for 40 years and tower captain at Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight, for many years, Mr. Charles Arthur Drake died on August 16th.

The ringers attending the funeral at Carisbrooke Cemetery were Mrs. A. M. Guy, Messrs. W. Upton, H. James, S. Moody, F. Attrill, W. Scott, F. Taylor and F. Chiverton. The bells were rung half muffled in the evening as a token of respect. Great sympathy is felt for his widow and daughter.

TWO CAPEL WORTHIES

Two Capel, Surrey, ringers have died recently, both in their late 70's, who did much ringing together in their early ringing days. They were Horace Edwards, who was at one time captain at Charlwood, and John (Jack) Ruff. Because of health reasons neither had rung for a considerable time.

A HORLEY GOLDEN WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. A. J. BULL

By courtesy "Surrey Mirror"

Surrey and Sussex ringers will join us in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bull, of 22, Queen's Road, Horley, on their golden wedding anniversary on August 14th, their wedding taking place during World War I at Cranleigh.

Mr. Bull was born at Horley in 1892. As a lad he sang in the church choir and later became a bass soloist. He started ringing with the Horley band in 1919 and was fortunate to come in contact with the late Mr. Oliver Sippetts and had additional training at Crawley. It was Oliver who conducted his first peal—Worcester Treble Bob Major on October 3rd 1920—and over a long period they were peal ringing together. It was a case of cycling everywhere, sometimes going 19 or 20 miles straight from work for a peal.

Among Mr. Bull's remarkable associations with Oliver was a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at St. Saviour's, Eastbourne, on November 9th, 1946, which was the first peal of Major on the bells for 56 years. Another was an attempt for a record peal of London Surprise Major at Warnham, Sussex, with Oliver conducting. The attempt unfortunately failed when within sight of victory through the indisposition of one of the band. Mr. Bull's 54 peals range from Doubles to Surprise Royal and include London and Four Spliced.

Since Horley tower was pronounced unsafe ten years ago he has spent some time training a young band at Burstow to ring for Sunday service. He also keeps up his practice and Sunday service ringing at Redhill, Reigate and Mersham. A College Youth of long standing. Mr. Bull is a member of the Winchester, Surrey, Sussex and Kent Associations and was for six years secretary to the Southern District of the Surrey Association.

At a reception arranged by their three daughters in honour of their 50 years of married life, old members of the Horley band brought handbells and rang a selection of songs. Over 40 cards, telegrams and messages were received, many from ringing friends.

Plans are now afoot for the restoration of Horley tower, but it may be some time before the bells are in action again.

PEALS IN RELATION TO TOWERS

BY CANON K. W. H. FELSTEAD

THE inevitable result of there being such a long lapse of time since my previous article on this subject is that much of what is written is old news. But the many people who asked when the next article would appear at the Central Council meeting in June encourages me to think it may still not be too late. I hope not.

The information in this article covers almost the whole of 1964. Notes are made at the time of recording the peals, but these then have to wait until the time is found to put them into a suitable form for publication. That is where the delay comes, I fear.

Last year, peals were rung in five churches which had not had such for 50 years or more, i.e. since before the first world war. The most notable of these was, of course, the peal at York Minster, which was the first peal this century. The last one there was Grandsire Caters in 1892. Great Linford's last peal was in 1911 and there had also been one there in 1908. Fivehead's only previous peal was one of Grandsire Doubles in 1912. I confirm that the only other peal rung at Sheffield-on-Loddon before the one last year was in 1913. The claim that the peal at Sampford Brett was the first since 1913 was not quite correct. It should have been 1914, for seven peals were rung in this tower between 1906 and that year.

As usual, we find several towers last mentioned amongst the peals between the two world wars. Taking them in order of length of silence, we find Bobbingworth comes first—last peal in 1921. There had been one previous to that in 1904. There was a slightly inaccurate claim about Knighton. The last peal had been in 1922, not 1921. Actually there had been four peals here in the years 1920–22. Henley-in-Arden was last heard in 1923, when two peals were rung there. The only one before that was in 1911. The claim about Wolverley was correct—first peal since 1925. I have recorded 12 peals before that date—1891, 1897, eight from 1903 to 1914, and one each in 1916 and 1919. Okeford Fitzpaine's only previous peal was in 1927. Loughton last appeared in the peal lists in 1928 (two before that, both in 1909). Two towers were last pealed in 1931—All Cannings (the only previous peal) and Chigwell, where peals had also been rung in 1914 and six between 1922 and 1931. The claims for both Stone-in-Oxney and Eldersfield were correct—first peals since 1932. At the former, five peals were rung from 1911 to 1915 and five from 1920 to 1932. At the latter, the first peal was in 1891, a second was rung in 1914 and four more from 1924 to 1932.

Llangollen used to have peals much more frequently. Although last year's peal was the first since 1934, there had been 22 there up to then. Sixteen were rung between 1887 and 1911 and the remainder from 1923 to 1934. A peal was rung at Ladock last in 1934 also (a former one here, in 1926). Richmond (Surrey) has a history of peals going back to 1740, but peals have not been frequent. In fact, I have only recorded 27 in all. Only seven had been rung this century before the one last year—the last of these was in 1935. Roche had its last peal before the 1964 one in 1936—there were two before that, in 1931 and 1934. St. Stephen-in-Brannel likewise had two peals in 1931 and 1934 before the one in 1937—the last before the recent one. Not many eight-bell towers have fewer peals than this. Rugby (8) also had its last peal in 1937 (I confirm this claim); 12 peals were rung here from 1899 to 1937. The claim that the peal at Bisley was the first since 1920 was a long way out. Fourteen peals were rung in the 1920's and 1930's, the last of them being in 1938. Finally three towers last had a peal in 1939—Patshull (peals also in 1936 and 1938), St. Mewan (the only previous one) and Exton (Rutland). The last tower also had peals in 1896, 1900, 1910 and six between 1935 and 1939).

CORRECTIONS

Now for a few claims which, I fear, were wrong. One or two have already been noted, but I mention them again. The peals at Bassaleg and Ludgershall were not the first on the bells. One had been rung in 1933 at the former and in 1947 at the latter. The peal at Hobart, Holy Trinity, was not the first for 30 years. Grandsire Doubles was rung there in 1944. The peal of London was not the first in the method at Westhoughton—one was rung there in 1937. The peal at Harrold was not the 56th. I have recorded 60.

I confirm that the peal at Sprotborough was the first on the eight. There was only one before augmentation—in 1946. I confirm also that the peal of Surprise Maximus at Cirencester was the first such. Actually only two peals of Maximus have previously been rung there—both in 1897. I confirm first peal on the bells at the following towers: East Kennett, Harkstead, Northleigh, Heather, Pendoylan, Preston (Rutland), St. Florence, Walkington, Caddington, Scalby, Birlingham, Wheatley, Churston Ferrars, Skeffington (not, therefore, unringable as has been supposed), Calstock, Constantine and Ilton. Also the peal at Wilford appears to have been the first although not claimed as such.

Finally, landmarks in a tower's history. Pride of place this time must go to Birmingham Cathedral, which has become the third church tower to reach the 500 peal mark (Crayford was first in 1952 and then Erith in 1955). Only 49 of these had been rung prior to the last war, so the 450-odd rung since makes it by far the most prolific peal tower of the last 20 years, the Loughborough Bell Foundry excepted. So congratulations to the ringers of St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham. It would appear that yet another tower will reach the 500 mark in 1965—Willesden. I make the total to the last published (July 8th) 494. I shall say more about Birmingham Cathedral in the next article.

On February 29th last year Beddington reached the 350 mark, but after that we have to go a long way to the next milestones. No tower reached 300, 250 or 200. Two reached the 150—Bradford Cathedral and Cardiff, which rightly claimed the fact. There were several centuries to record—Higham Ferrers on March 21st, Edenham on June 1st, Wistaston (a six-bell tower, the eighth, I think, to do so) on June 26th, and Sittingbourne on August 23rd. The following have had 50 peals published since 1881 (some had a few earlier ones): Batley, Chelford, Hartlebury, Radcliffe, Battle (as claimed), Penn, Lawton, Heckington, Banbury, Helmsore, Melksham, Belgrave and Highclere. Bristol Cathedral has already had 50 peals since the bells were hung there from Temple Church in 1959, so it will be catching up with the leaders at this rate.

A note to end on—I see that a peal has been rung at Long Stratton on Christmas Eve every year since 1955. Only two other peals have been rung at other times in the year. I hope there will be success this next Christmas Eve also.

Letters to the Editor

RECORD IN FIRSTS

Dear Sir,—One wonders to what extent some people will go to see their names repeatedly in print. "Supersonic Bellringing" indeed. As for the reference to two peals with "firsts" in them, I would inform our friend from Littleover that in the belfry at Old Whittington there is a board recording a peal of Grandsire Doubles, rung for the silver jubilee of His Majesty King George V and Queen Mary in May, 1935.

This surely contained "the extent in firsts"—first peal at this church, first on the bells, first by each member of the band, first as conductor, first attempt by all, and if anyone can think of any more "firsts," they also will apply.

This was in the days when we used to turn our faces to the wall and ring Stedman by ear (perfectly struck, or we heard severely from Walter Allwood), forwards, backwards and reversed, and then we would ring down in peal to Grandsire Doubles plain course several times, finishing in rounds. — Yours faithfully,

SAM SCATTERGOOD.

THE ONLY NOISE TO THE GLORY OF GOD

Dear Sir,—Mr. Halls, in his letter on page 560 of "The Ringing World," holds his opinions quite strongly, but he does not say just what they are.

By way of reply to Mr. Hall's sixth paragraph, most grievances about the noise of church bells are genuine. It is about time a lot of ringers woke up to the fact that they make a nuisance of themselves every time they touch a rope. There are very few arguments in favour of the Exercise in such light. The only one I can think of is one which has appeared in the pages of "The Ringing World" many times but which seems to arouse little attention, viz: that in a noisy world, church bellringing is the only loud noise made to the glory of God.

Too much ringing is done to satisfy the "selfish attitude" of bellringers. — Yours faithfully,

C. T. BILLINGE.

CORRECT DATA FOR MR. F. HICKS' PARTY

Dear Sir,—May I point out to Mr. Frank Hicks' party from East Grinstead, who rang a quarter peal of Surprise at Sandhurst, Kent, on July 24th, that Sandhurst is in Kent and not in Sussex.

Also their quarter at Bodiam on the same day was neither the first of Minor on the bells nor the longest length on the bells since augmentation, as stated in the footnote.

Previous performances on the bells since augmentation are as follows: September 10th, 1962, 1,260 Grandsire and Plain Bob Minor. September 10th, 1962, 1,260 Reverse Canterbury Pleasure Bob Minor. April 4th, 1963, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles. June 27th, 1963, 1,272 Oxford Treble Bob Minor.—Yours sincerely, IAN V. J. SMITH.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL

Dear Sir,—Mr. John H. Hunt's recent letter advocating the acceptance of only one version of London Surprise Royal may well receive support. However, his choice of the "Beddington" (or "No. 3") version is quite unacceptable.

As Mr. Hunt himself reminds us, there is no true extension of London from Major to Royal, and it might therefore be better if all versions were renamed. If, however, any version is to be accepted it should be that first rung to a peal, in accordance with the long established tradition of the Exercise in allowing the conductor of the first peal in a new method the privilege of naming it. The first peal of London Royal was rung in the "Brighton" version at St. Peter's, Brighton, on February 11th, 1926. This was accepted by the Exercise at the time and should therefore be recognised as the true version.

Whatever merits other versions may possess, they are not London Royal. The fact that the Beddington version is the most frequently rung, due perhaps to its relative simplicity, is immaterial. Quantity and Quality are not necessarily synonymous.—Yours faithfully,

BRIGHTON BELLE,
No. 2 Version.

NOT "PUSH-BUTTON" BELLS

Dear Sir,—With reference to R. B.'s note on the Farnham District outing in "The Ringing World," we are surprised by his comment "a difficult 'go' to the six bells" at Hambledon. It seems a pity that he should have made what we consider an unfair criticism public, since none of the ringers voiced it to me on the occasion of their visit.

Admittedly our bells are not on ball bearings and it may be that some ringers used to "push-button" operations are not inclined to exert a rather stronger pull. Nevertheless most of our many visitors compliment us on the easy "go" of the bells and this tower is noted in the district for its good striking. — Yours faithfully,

C. H. TURNER,
Captain of Ringers.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION'S 500th PEAL

Dear Sir,—I write to clear confusion as to the 500th peal for the Shropshire Association—it was the Doubles at High Offley on June 5th.

The High Offley band and the one which rang the Londinium at St. Chad's on July 3rd are both to be congratulated. One might add also to the recorded footnotes that the High Offley peal had the largest number of (official) conductors and that the St. Chad's peal contained the largest number of non-resident life members to a peal for the Association (the whole band!).—Yours sincerely,

ROGER P. MORRIS,
Ringing Master and Peal Secretary.

SYLVIA'S STEDMAN CINQOPATORS

It was my fault that we were three-quarters of an hour late leaving Brentwood to take part in Sylvia's annual burn-up. Four car loads set off on August 7th, one each from Prittlewell, Downham, South Weald and Brentwood. We poured through the new pipe to Dartford and wheeled into Kent, then the cars became separated. Only three cars arrived at the first tower, Old Heathfield (8), the Downham party leaving there without ringing before the second car, from South Weald, arrived. The Brentwood car was a close third, arriving just over an hour late. One of the traditional ladies always to be seen polishing churches on Saturdays kindly led us to the ground-floor ringing chamber, and our four-bell rise hailed the South Weald ringers from the nearby committee rooms. We rang a course of Bob Minor on the front six, then downed bells and hastened away.

The Prittlewell party started their day's ringing at the second tower, East Hoathly (6) and their additional potential gave us a fine touch of St. Clement's and a course of Cambridge. Ripe bells are lovely and the ladies admired the yellow and blue sallies at St. Saviour's, Eastbourne. The ringing room contained complete bound volumes of "Church Bells" commencing with Volume I, No. 1, of New Year's Eve, 1870, protected under the eye of a little stuffed alligator sitting on the bookcase. Willing Pete, from Prittlewell, pulled the 25 cwt. tenor in to Bob Major but was eager to exchange it with another for Double Norwich.

We pondered a few moments at Eastbourne in nostalgia to watch passing trains, then ate the sandwiches on the beach in Pevensey Bay. The Brentwood ringers, except the writer, who had to look after engagement rings, etc., had a little swim. The task of raising the six bells at Westham was left to the others, who crashed around with Cambridge and Stedman until Sylvia's return influenced some striking Double Oxford and Spliced Kent and Oxford before the bells were lowered.

At Bexhill (8) we rang a touch of Grandsire with two local ringers. Here the hum note of the seventh seems to be a major-third above the hum note of the recently recast tenor. Our last ring was on the mellow seventy-odd-year-old Taylor eight at Blacklands, Hastings. Aided by Mr. Downing, we rang hundreds of changes of Stedman Triples and Bob Major to guide the Prittlewell and South Weald parties to the church; they had been adrift somewhere in Hastings. Fortunately they arrived and then rang three leads of Kent and a touch of Little Bob.

Diana and David Belcham had to return quickly to Downham, but the rest of us decided to extend our Hastings stay with Oriental roast chicken and pineapples.

Our thanks are sent to the clergy and resident ringers and to Sylvia, what is she? For organising ringing outings, all her swains commend her. D.A.B.

BELL ROPES

Learning and Teaching Elementary Change Ringing

Synopsis of a Lecture Given by Norman Chaddock

Common faults to be avoided in the early stages are—late at backstroke when hunting down, wide in 2nds place when hunting up, too close when making the 2nd blow last, wide on the first of the hunting down blows (5ths in Minor) and closed handstroke leads and wide backstroke leads. The remedies for these errors in rhythm and pull should be explained and eliminated.

ACQUIRING ROPESIGHT

The figures of plain hunting or Plain Bob should be studied, and rules for hunting up and hunting down deduced, i.e. when hunting up "follow the bell which followed you on the previous stroke and count your place." Hunting down is more difficult to do and more difficult to define in a simple statement. There are several methods which may be combined until success at hunting down by pure ropesight is achieved. One is to use coursing order, i.e. follow the bells in the same order as when hunting out. Another is to use your course-bell, i.e. follow the bell that follows your course-bell except that you strike over your course-bell for your blow in seconds before leading. Theoretically one can hunt down by careful listening and rhythm alone, but this is too much for most learners. Ultimately the following system is best (say, on six bells). Having struck one blow last, have another blow last at backstroke over whichever bell is last to pull off. Note this bell and disregard it, following the last of the other four bells on the succeeding handstroke. This puts you in 5ths. Now disregard this bell and the previous one to be ignored and follow the last of the other three bells at backstroke. This puts you in 4ths place. Then follow the last of the remaining two bells, putting you in 3rds place at handstroke. Only one bell now remains below you. Follow this one at backstroke in 2nds then lead at almost the same steady pace at handstroke and backstroke. Later the pupil must be taught to lead accurately by vision and rhythm.

It is thus seen that each and every other bell is struck once and once only when hunting up, and once when hunting down, and that ropesight is partly a process of visual elimination and partly being able to see which ropes have pulled off before you and which are being pulled off after you. When hunting up, look only at those being pulled off after you; when hunting down, look only at those being pulled off before you. In practice you get used to seeing only those being pulled off most nearly (in time) to your own bell.

It is most valuable at this stage for a competent tutor to stand with the pupil whilst others are ringing and point out this process.

For the treble in Grandsire Doubles, the coursing order is extremely easy, being 2345 up and down in the first lead, 2534 in the second, and 2453 in the last lead, with tenor to lead off, and the pupil has had ample leading practice on silenced bells. A pupil's very first introduction to ringing treble might well be to Grandsire Doubles, quickly progressing to Plain Bob Minor.

Before going on to the full course of Plain Bob it is worth while ringing the plain hunt until the pupil has the ability to adjust his rhythm to that required for hunting up and hunting down. There is no harm, indeed there is an advantage in the use of coursing order to get the pupil through his first few courses on the treble, providing this technique is not prolonged. In Minor, the next stage is for the conductor to call "Before and Home," producing the coursing order 65432, a most useful one for teaching hunting down. When the 6th turns treble from behind, for the treble it is "last of 65432, last of 5432, last of 432, last of 32, then 2, then lead." So easy to point out to the beginner on treble. As the pupils gain in confidence, touches should be graded, such as Before and Home (single) repeated. Three Homes, six Homes, etc., gradually progressing to complete mixing up of all the bells. On Major, the touch "Sixth to make three bobs. Three Homes. Wrong and Home twice are useful stages for a beginner on the treble. The beginner should quickly, however, be moved on to an inside bell and not be allowed to continue indefinitely in the "non-dodging" habit of ringing treble.

Common faults when acquiring ropesight include—failure to lead due to not counting place religiously, hesitation or almost setting the bell when the pupil has missed which bell to follow, staring too long at the same bell instead of looking for the next one once the downward stroke is under way, and failure to lead smartly at backstroke because of the preoccupation of looking for the next rope to follow.

MISCELLANEOUS POINTS

The pupil should be encouraged to obtain and study some suitable text books on ringing.

There should be an exchange of question and answer between pupil and tutor, who can test by random questions how much useful knowledge, besides essential basic knowledge, the pupil is assimilating, e.g.: At what stroke are all the blows in even places made when hunting down? At what stroke do you next strike over treble after 5-6 down, and in what place? Scores of such questions can be devised about Plain Bob Minor, designed to make the pupil think. A specimen questionnaire is given at the end of this article.

It is often not possible to carry through an ideal course of instruction because of the needs and difficulties in which a tutor and a band find themselves, and a compromise has to be made. Where there is a fairly good band a balance between good and unavoidably indifferent ringing has to be maintained. Only those who lack foresight or are selfish will fail to appreciate the need for constant recruitment and training. A good deal of advice on recruitment and running a band of ringers will be found in the Central Council booklet "Ringing for Service."

For individual or group success and interest, progress must be maintained or boredom sets in. Once Plain Bob is mastered, Stedman is an easy next step with many valuable qualities. Short touches are interesting and can be musical. The pupil learns to snap, to lead "wrong" and make "wrong" places and do varied dodges. He usually finds it interesting and satisfying and good for ropesight. Other methods soon follow.

This article may appropriately be concluded with a reference from the writings of Jasper Snowden.

"The bell is controlled by the body and its muscles. The eye places the bell in its correct place by watching the other ropes, whilst the ear criticises the work of body, hand and eye. The brain is ever alert and concentrating on the method being rung."

QUESTIONNAIRE ON ELEMENTARY CHANGE RINGING

- 1.—Write a sentence explaining what you understand by Plain Hunting.
- 2.—When starting Plain Hunt on six bells which direction (up or down) do the odd bells move?
- 3.—Write a short rule for hunting down.
- 4.—At what stroke (Hand or Back) are all the blows in odd places struck when hunting up?
- 5.—At what stroke do you lie in 6ths place behind?
- 6a.—What is meant by the term "dodge"?
- 6b.—At what stroke is it made in Plain Bob?
- 6c.—What causes the dodge?
- 7.—What dodge puts you into 3rds place at the actual dodge (Plain Bob)?
- 8.—What dodge puts you into 6ths place in Plain Bob and when and at what stroke (hunting down) will you strike over treble?
- 9.—At what stroke and in what place do you strike over treble just after 3-4 down?
- 10.—State in words what bell you strike over when dodging back to 3rds in 3-4 up dodge?
- 11.—What is treble doing when the actual dodge takes place?
- 12.—Say what dodge you do when you have struck treble in 4ths place hunting up. When will you next meet treble when you hunt up next time?
- 13.—In what places and at what stroke do you strike over your (1) Course bell. (2) After bell?
- 14.—What is the coursing order for No. 3 in a plain course of Bob Minor (omitting treble)? Who courses 5?

ALDERSHOT'S SUNDAY AT CATHEDRAL

Evensong at Guildford Cathedral on Sunday, August 22nd, was provided by St. Michael's Church, Aldershot. Their ringers rang Grandsire and Stedman Caters, conducted by Mr. Tom Page, and their choir sang in place of the Cathedral choir, who were on holiday. The majority of the congregation also came from Aldershot.

SINGLES IN CAMBRIDGE

MAXIMUS

By A. S. HUDSON

Since the Single is now gaining recognition as a legitimate call in Surprise ringing, I submit the following five peals of Cambridge Maximus.

In this method it is not possible to obtain a peal without having the 2, 3 or 4 in sixths place at some point, especially if it is desired to obtain the full three courses each with 56 in 56 and 65. The use of singles may overcome this defect to provide peals with only the 5 and 6 in sixths.

Of the peals given below, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 contain "all the 6's and 56's," while Nos. 4 and 5 are given for interest. No. 2 is of particular interest for its simplicity and the fact that it is true irrespective of Incidence, and No. 1 has one extra 56 roll-up, and as far as I can see this must be the maximum number obtainable in 5,280 changes.

I should like to claim authorship of these peals if they have not been previously rung or published.

Rounds at W in tenth course.

WENTWORTH RINGERS IN EAST RIDING

Thirty ringers and friends from Wentworth and Bradfield Rawmarsh and Wath-on-Dearne held their annual tour on August 7th. An hour on the excellent ring at Howden (8.22 cwt.) was followed by two country ground-floor sixes at Eastrington (10 cwt.) and Wakington (7 cwt.), which enabled the non-ringers to watch the ringing.

Dinner was taken in Beverley, but despite delay in leaving the city, the ring-road round Hull provided a short cut to Hedon. Geoff's Grandsire Triples on the 17 cwt. eight in this massive tower did not quite go, nor did Edwin's Bob Major but the visit was still enjoyed. Patrington's triangular tunnel entrance caused more sore knees than sore tempers before we reached Withernsea.

After tea we rang on the 13 cwt. six at St. Nicholas' Church, which would go without any trouble if the ropes were renewed. The final tower was at Burstwick (6) and home was reached by 11 p.m. after an enjoyable day.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Leonard Stilwell, of Worthing, gave a good interview to the B.B.C. South-Eastern News on his forthcoming Australian and New Zealand trip. Its broadcast on August 25th created much interest.

The older members of the band at East Woodhay, Hants, on August 11th, were most impressed by the way that 10-year-old Peter Furness rang the second bell to his first peal. At his present rate of progress it will not be long before he rings one of Major.

Mr. Joseph T. Dyke, of Chilcompton, who for the past eight years has been housebound, has entered Paulton Hospital, near Bristol, for treatment, and expects to be there for three weeks. He sends his good wishes to all his ringing friends.

The quarter peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Solihull on August 15th was a compliment to Robert Hutchings, brother of Richard and Merryn, who rang on the occasion of his marriage to Miss Elizabeth Vickers at St. Peter's Church, Anlaby, Hull, the previous day.

Lustre was added to the 93rd birthday of Mr. John Pugsby, of Minehead, by the presence of the Rev. H. F. Warren, Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, to ring in the congratulatory quarter peal at Minehead. Mr. Pugsby is past captain of this tower and Ringing Master of the Bath and Wells Association.

SHEFFIELD SIX RING AGAIN AFTER 60 YEARS

In 1895 John Taylor's placed in the Victorian tower of St. Mary's, Walkley, Sheffield, a ring of six bells with a tenor of 13 cwt. Seemingly the introduction of a clock and overlarge clockcase, plus the possibility of complaints, as the church was, and still is, in a built-up area, resulted in the then local band breaking up after only about ten years.

Except for a somewhat irregular use of an Ellacombe apparatus, the tower and the bells were neglected until 1960. Then the church architect recommended that the pigeon dirt in the bell chamber be removed and all the windows in the tower and spire be covered with strong netting. The dirt was removed, the netting was added and under further advice from Taylors the Ellacombe ropes were renewed and the Vicar (the Rev. H. E. George) set up a definite system for chiming the bells.

To ringers in South Yorkshire none of this was known and it was thought that the bells were totally unringable. However, the writer, heartened by restoration experiences in the York region, visited Walkley in February, 1965, and in a short inspection discovered that comparatively minor work was needed to get the bells to ring again. They are hung in two tiers, with the three trebles on the upper layer. Messrs. John Gilbert and John Seagar next inspected the bells and work began, with Sheffield University help, in removing the rusted slider stops (run on a metal bar) and also four rope pulley blocks. Geoff Pilkington, of Rawmarsh, came next with renewed pulley blocks, and three youngsters from Bradfield helped in clearing nearly one and a half sacks of dirt. The fifth visit saw bells 1 to 4 fitted with borrowed ropes and finally with easy-going sliders they were raised on August 9th. A week later, on August 16th, all the bells were raised singly. Rounds, a 180 of Bob Minor, call changes and an excellent lower in peal broke the 60 years of "idleness."

Getting these bells to ring again has involved quite a number of ringers in the Sheffield area and all are to be congratulated on the result, for despite the noisiness of the bells, the cramped ringing space and the odd angles that some of the ropes have to fall, the striking achieved was highly satisfactory, as was the "go."

Until a further announcement, will tower "grabbers" not ask for these bells, as the Vicar hopes to have a local band trained, and efforts to get a local band must take priority over "secular" ringing. However, a quarter peal is to be attempted prior to the church's harvest festival on October 7th.

FIRST PEAL SOUVENIR

Graham K. Austin has a very good souvenir of his first peal attempt, which was on the tenor to Stedman Triples at Emmanuel Church, Everton, on August 14th. He managed to arrange for a tape recording to be taken of the beginning and a large part of the peal. At the same time Robert E. J. Dennis rang his first of Stedman. Grandfather Thomas R. Butler thinks very highly of these two young men. The peal was in honour of the conductor's first grandchild.

WELCOME, GREAT ADVENTURERS!

The new president of the Australian and New Zealand Association of Bellringers is Mr. Henry Bagot, in succession to Miss Enid Lloyd Roberts. In the August issue of "The Ringing Towers" he writes: "Those of us who attended the A.N.Z.A.B. annual meeting and rang in Melbourne in June can hardly have failed to take away an impression of the vitality and improved standard of bellringing in Australia."

"... I think it is true to say that ringing in Australia and New Zealand has 'grown up' in the past 20 years. The enthusiasm of many, guided by the energetic direction of several English ringers very well known to us all, has brought us to the stage now where we shall be able to greet our new Great Adventurers in September not so much as exemplars but as equals, and it is certain that they and all those supporting their venture will be delighted that this is so."

"I know I express the expectations of the whole Association when I say that Great Adventure II will be a memorable event indeed, and I am sure that every tower and every ringer will be ready to make the occasion eminently worthwhile for all concerned."

"Welcome, Great Adventurers!"

MORE PEAL TOURS

A very successful peal week was held in Yorkshire from July 31st to August 7th, during which 18 peals were scored. No fewer than seven of the party of 22 shared in the conducting. These were W. Eric Critchley (six), Richard E. Price, W. F. Moreton and J. H. Fielden (three each), Michael W. Crowder, Ronald Ducker and J. A. D. Woolford (one each). A new method—Skelton Surprise—was rung during the tour.

Mr. J. Martin Thorley had his week's tour in Rutland area from August 9th to August 14th and scored seven peals. Some 12 ringers participated and the conducting was shared by J. M. Thorley (two), R. H. Cook (two), R. D. Bailey, A. G. Payne and D. J. Jones (one each).

ALAS! SO NEAR

Miss Janet Walker, who is shortly leaving Scarborough for Pinner, Middlesex, rang her longest length when she stood in a farewell peal attempt at St. Mary's, Scarborough, on August 19th. Alas! it was not a peal. While in the seventh extent of a peal of Plain Bob Minor there was a miscall after 2 hours 35 minutes' ringing. The band was A. King 1, Janet Walker 2, M. King 3, W. Hudson 4, S. Wright 5, E. P. King (conductor) 6. Despite not achieving a peal, the conductor congratulates Janet on her ringing and assures her that she will be missed.

MR. CECIL W. PIPE IN WASHINGTON

Mr. Rick Dirksen, bellmaster, Washington Cathedral, writes that at their practice on July 21st they were both pleased and honoured to have as their guest Mr. Cecil W. Pipe, of Grundisburgh and father of their old friend, Mr. George Pipe, who was one of the ten ringers present at the dedication of the bells.

"Mr. Pipe was good enough to conduct a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor, which we rang in 57 minutes on the light six with the bells yoked but struck by small 'ting-tangers' attached to the yoke. Mr. Pipe commented that it was a fine quarter and would have sounded very well on open bells, but our neighbourhood would not stand for such a thing at 8 p.m. on a summer evening."

While Mr. Pipe was ringing he was sketched by Miss Edith Irwin, sister of Sarah (one of the band). "A very good likeness," said Mr. Pipe. "Won't my son Roddy be envious to hear that I not only rang a quarter there, but had my picture drawn while doing so."

Mr. Dirksen concludes: "We look forward to welcoming any ringers who appear in our tower. Practices during the remainder of the summer are on Wednesdays at 7.30 p.m. and on Saturdays at 10 a.m. If they can plan to be at Washington on the Saturdays, we shall be able to ring the bells open for them."

RINGERS WITH IDENTICAL NAMES MARRIED

Two bellringers with identical surnames—Miss Jill Felgate, of Dovercourt, and Mr. John Francis Felgate, of Parkeston, were married at St. Nicholas' Church, Harwich, on August 14th. They are gold medallists in ballroom dancing. The choral service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. N. Thomas).

The bride, given away by her father, wore a white figured brocade empire line dress. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Cansdale, and Miss Dawn Whycraft, cousin of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. David Felgate, brother of the bridegroom. The reception was held at Parkeston Railway Club and the honeymoon spent in the Channel Islands.

Fellow ringers of the happy couple attempted a peal of Plain Bob Major on Harwich bells but unfortunately this was lost after 2 hours 25 minutes.

BRIDES LIKE BELLS

From the lips of the Rector of Weston Favell one recent Sunday morning came the words (not once but 15 times)—I publish the banns of marriage between . . . bachelor. and . . . spinster, nine being for the third time of asking, four for the second and two for the first. All except four want bells! Is there another church anywhere which can beat Weston Favell's wedding bells records? If no others are forthcoming, with those on hand they will have rung for 32 this year. Every Saturday up to October is booked for at least one wedding—three requests for bells are for Saturday, August 21st. Weston Favell has only five bells and are a minor five at that. Unfortunately there is no room for a sixth.

A GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT

SOME men, unknowingly, exert a great influence upon their fellows and it may be that although they recede from the current scene, some of those who still move across it recognise the debt they owe to an almost forgotten figure of the past.

Cyril Normington, of Felkirk, who died on July 18th, probably obtained more space in the obituary column than would be occupied by the collective reports in "The Ringing World" of his ringing activities. He never rang or composed a peal, made any epoch-making theoretical discoveries, wrote stirring letters or articles or engaged in blood-boiling arguments.

Why then do we remember him? As much, I should say, for what he was as for what he did.

After the first world war, efforts were made to start a change ringing team at Felkirk, something that, so far as is known, had never existed before. Cyril was one of those who gathered round J. T. White to receive tuition from Frank Atkinson, then of Wragby, and William A. Wooler, that epitome of taciturnity, from Wortley. In 1921, when Cyril was president of the Barnsley and District Society, the first 720 ever to be rung by a local band was accomplished with Cyril on the fifth. Shortly afterwards the bells were condemned as unsafe and remained silent for twelve months or more. After rehanging, the foundation was laid for what was to prove later probably the greatest Minor method ringing band of that time.

From this bare recital of facts we learn little of Cyril Normington. What sort of man was he? He was unique. Nothing ever upset his equilibrium; neither threats nor curses, jibes nor sarcasm would move him. A colliery fitter by trade, he was the despair of all his superiors from the shop foreman to the general manager. He had a passion for arranging bits of metal, cups and saucers, oil drums or whatever was to hand, in diatonic series and tapping out times or changes. The chief engineer on one occasion rated him solidly for ten minutes, without the repetition of a single expletive, on some point in connection with his work. Cyril waited quietly until he had finished, then, with a disarming smile, picked up a six-inch bolt and said, "Listen, Barnsley St. Mary's"! then ran down a line of wagon wheels he had previously arranged, tapping out a descending scale.

He had a roving commission and would turn up in the most unexpected places. "What are you doing here?" demanded the storekeeper one day when he returned from an errand and found Cyril calmly helping himself to some spare parts he required to repair a lathe. "You ought to have been with us last Saturday," was the unexpected and inconsequential reply. "We went to the bell foundry. There were a chap there turning bells and he were as deaf as a doorpost. Felt the vibrations with his fingers, and he could tell if it were out of tune!" All spoken with a deadly serious innocence.

The handbells, which he taught us to ring, were housed in a large carpet bag which we carried in turns. Each handbell was carefully wrapped in old lace curtaining, and was polished till it shone like a headlamp on a dark night. We rang in all the hospitals within ten or twelve miles radius of Felkirk. He needed no appointment even in those days, but would simply turn up with his troupe, and no matron, however adamant, was immune from his charm. We would be ringing and singing in the wards before she realised what was happening.

We were frequent visitors at what was at that time called the "Workhouse," whilst Hodroyd Holy Rood Priory and Archbishop Holgate's Almshouses offered an ever-open door. There was not a chapel or schoolroom in the area in which we had not performed.

He had a fine tenor voice and was not afraid to use it, and was also a moderate performer on the 'cello. He used to intersperse his ringing and playing with songs, which were always about ringers and bells.

"Oh we be the ringers of the church of St. Peter's,
And ready to ring you whatever you require."

His taunt that:

"Young Tom is bowlegged and William ain't handsome,
But the same don't apply to your humble, that's me" always brought the house down.

Space is too limited to give anything but a brief outline of his many-sided character, but I think his greatest work was that of holding the band together when the bells were silent, and having on hand several more young potential ringers when ringing restarted.

In the 1926 strike the Felkirk team visited on bicycles or on foot various local towers in order to gain experience and to pass the time, of which there was enough and to spare.

Lavenham's Great Day—Rededication Ceremony

"ITS weight, its shape, its size alike admired,
And tone wherewith each ringer is inspired,
The merry eight with music fill the ear,
Enterpe, too, invites from far and near.
And though in floating all sounds slowly die,
They're quick revived by echo's sweet reply.
Heard through the woods, their soft melodious ring

Inspires the feathered tribe to sing, Nestling 'mid leaves or skimming o'er the plain,

Distinct to hail each harmonising strain."

Thus wrote Rebecca Ribbans in 1821—ten years after the six at Lavenham were made up to eight—concerning the tenor bell in particular and the ring in general. Six had been there since 1702; earlier there were five, and the wooden frame, dating from early in the 16th century and made to take five bells, had been altered and strengthened through the years to take more bells as they came along, so serving until decay brought an end to its life in 1964, when a thorough general overhaul of the whole installation was begun by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, culminating in the rededication service on August 28th.

THAT TENOR

Much has been written in the past about the tenor bell, cast 1625, and "considered by some to be the finest-toned bell in England." Raven, in his "Bells of England" (1906) refers to Miles Graye, of Colchester, as "the prince of founders" and to Lavenham's tenor as Graye's "chef-d'œuvre." Raven goes on: "The ringing pilgrim, John Carr, when he first heard her, said: 'She came in with such a noble sound that she vibrated a perfect octave' and he is not the only one who has observed the absence of overtones. I have been told that she varies with the weather. So far as I can conclude, the peculiarity seems thinness, especially at the crown."

White's "Suffolk," of 1883, records: "Tradition says that at the time of casting of this bell some rich woolstaplers there and other gentlemen in the neighbourhood contributed great quantities of silver and even gold to the usual metal, which may, perhaps, account for the vast superiority of its tone"; but I do not think that anyone who knows anything about the quality of bells and their tone would agree with this, although the precious metal may well have gone into the pot!

Various publications gave her weight as 23 cwt. and some her note as D or D flat. Raven, in his "Church Bells of Suffolk" (1890), gave it as C.

It is well known that the reputed weight of a bell, a tenor especially, is usually in excess of its actual weight. A fairly recent example was another Miles Graye tenor, only 15 years younger than Lavenham's—that at Eye, Suffolk. This was said to be 21 cwt., some said 22 and even 24 cwt. At the foundry it was found to be 18½ cwt., a thin bell with note nearly down to D. Now its recast is 19½ cwt. and its note, in fact, D. Similarly, Graye's masterpiece at Lavenham has been found to be 21 cwt. 0 qr. 7 lb. and its note C sharp.

For years the clapper ball has been fitted with rubber buffers to its striking surfaces. At first its new clapper was minus these, as they were, and still are, considered by some to be unnecessary, but Lavenham ringers felt that the "hum" was absent and a request for buffers once more has been successfully made. This bell retains its canons and argent but all other bells have been shorn of theirs.

COMPLETE OVERHAUL

All the bells have been turned—3/16 inch wear was in evidence on the tenor and two trebles—and most headstocks had been attacked by beetle. The foundation of the new metal frame has been designed in the form of a steel grillage and the load is distributed over all four walls of the tower. The second and fifth bells have been slightly retuned but no recasting has been necessary. Until the overhaul the ring was anti-clockwise, now it is the other way about, and the design of the frame is such that two trebles could be easily added—space has been left for them.

COST £2,500

The cost of the work is about £2,500, and as rededication day arrived this sum had nearly been reached. The day closed fully triumphantly financially; the collection at the service came to £118, and with other moneys received during the day (£25 from the Suffolk Guild Restoration Fund) some £160 was added.

Ringers from far and near attended the rededication service. Mr. Ranald W. M. Clouston, whose wife is the daughter of a former Rector of Lavenham, was present. The lesson was read by Mr. George Pipe, Ringing Master of the Suffolk Guild.

For the rededication, the choir, the churchwardens (Messrs. A. E. Baker and J. N. Peyton), visiting clergy, Mr. Paul Taylor (master bellfounder), the Rev. Rex A. Bird (Rector) and the Bishop of Dunwich walked to the foot of the tower, where the Bishop performed the ceremony. This over, a touch of Grandsire and Plain Bob was rung.

In his address the Bishop congratulated all who had played any part in the undertaking. He praised the Suffolk Guild for all the work they had done, were doing and would do.

Concluding, the Bishop said: "So, let the bells ring out!"; and after the service Stedman Symonds, now 77, his son Maurice, who is tower correspondent, and their brother ringers complied.

They can muster about a dozen ringers at Lavenham today. It has been a place for ringing for generations and there are sets of handbells in many houses. Visitors to the Swan Hotel can see the set of 13 hanging on a beam in the bar.

I am sure that all Lavenham people and ringers everywhere are appreciative of the hard work and enthusiasm of Captain G. A. D. Cooper, R.N. (ret'd.), of Lavenham, who had the money-raising task in his charge and completed it successfully. His 16-page booklet on Lavenham's bells and ringers, produced specially for the rededication, shows his interest.

Ringers, visiting or resident, were pleased with the overhaul and, when everything has bedded down and settled, no doubt it will be better still. As for myself, walking and listening from all angles, I wondered whether the bells sounded quite as mellow, generally, as I have noticed them to be in the past. I cannot quite make up my mind.

CLAUDE RUSH.

If Cyril was present there was no need to worry about food. He would disappear early from the belfry, and when ringing was finished we would go down and he would be waiting to lead us to the Vicarage or a nearby farmhouse, where sandwiches and cups of tea would be waiting. After tea out would come the handbells, or he would seat himself at the harmonium (he loved the harmonium) and everybody would join in hymns or snatches from cantatas or oratorios. And after two hours, when everybody was exhausted, he would say, "Come on, all together, let's have the 'Old Hundredth'!"

Somebody has remarked that when he gets to heaven he will be teaching the angels how to ring handbells! I should not be at all surprised; as I said before, he was unique.

KEMERTON GOLDEN WEDDING

Celebrating their golden wedding on August 24th were Mr. and Mrs. Stedman Devereux, of Kemerton, Glos. Mr. Devereux has been associated with ringing at the Parish Church of St. Nicholas for some 60 years. For much of this time he was Tower Master, such office being coupled with the duties of stoking the church boiler and mowing the churchyard grass at an hour in the morning unknown to most people. Although no longer able to pull a rope, Mr. Devereux still maintains an interest in ringing and is a staunch supporter of Branch outings. After the quarter peal in honour of the occasion the ringers were kindly entertained.

"A SHORT, fresh-faced Yorkshireman with blue eyes and sandy shorts rested the tenor bell at the Abbey and told me he was responsible for the ringing." This was the discovery made by the reporter of "The Bath and Wilts Evening Chronicle" when he went to investigate the activities of the East Riding ringers. The reporter was rather amazed to find a heap of bicycles outside the entrance to the tower of Bath Abbey and an unusual assortment of people in the belfry ringing the bells on a Tuesday afternoon.

By this time the sixth annual tour, which started on August 14th, was well under way. The main party of 26 cyclists with their 24 bicycles, including two tandems, had travelled to Cirencester from East Yorkshire in a furniture van, which once again proved to be an efficient and economical method of transporting a large number of youthful campanologists between two faraway places. The cyclists were joined by ten other ringers using other means of transport during the course of the tour.

The first ringing was on the old 12 of Cirencester Parish Church, and included Stedman Caters and Little Bob Royal. It soon became apparent that the organisation of the ringing at each tower would be a difficult job. Although the party contained several Surprise ringers there were also some Minor rounds ringers, so the organisation necessary to enable over 30 ringers of such differing ability to have a good ring at each tower in the allotted time was not easy. The more experienced ringers undertook the job of Ringing Master in turn.

Headquarters for the first two nights were at Ashton Keynes Youth Hostel, an establishment which proved to be painfully overcrowded. However, the local Vicar warmly welcomed us to his parish at Matins on Sunday, when we were able to supply an organist and a band of ringers for the five bells. The rest of the party split up to ring for service at several local churches, one of which was Purton. Here there is a magnificent six (tenor 20 cwt. in C sharp, total weight of bells 84 cwt.). On Sunday afternoon we visited South Cerney, but our ringing here did not do justice to this pleasant ring of six.

Monday's ringing included visiting the detached tower at Malmesbury and the excellent eight at Chippenham, the night being spent at Bath Youth Hostel. Bristol was the centre for Tuesday's activities and it was a real privilege to ring at St. Mary Redcliffe and St. Stephen's (best ringing here) and the Lord Mayor's Chapel. Quarters that night were Bristol Youth Hostel, which is adjacent to St. Matthew's Church. These bells were enjoyed on Wednesday morning, the day being spent around Bath.

Trowbridge and Westbury were included in Thursday's ringing and the road seemed to bristle with huge raindrops as we cycled back to Bath. Friday dawned brightly. Laycock was a most attractive unspoilt village; the Victorian eight at Chippenham was followed by the old-style octave at Calne, and the evening spent at Ashton Keynes, where ringers' songs were sung.

Good company, a splendid selection of towers and favourable weather combined to make this an enjoyable and memorable tour efficiently organised by Ian Goldthorpe. Incumbents and local bands are thanked for their co-operation. J.S.

GOOD WISHES TO AUSTRALIAN TOURISTS

Dear Sir, — My wife and I would like, through "The Ringing World," to extend our sincere good wishes to Mr. Tom Lock and his party on the eve of their Great Adventure, and we trust that their tour will be completely successful.

Good luck and good peal ringing to you all, and I am certain that all ringers in the British Isles will be watching with interest all your movements, and would wish to join me in asking you to convey to all ringers in Australia and New Zealand greetings and good wishes from us all.—Yours sincerely,

NORMAN V. HARDING.

King's Lynn.

THE CONSCIENCE QUESTION

Dear Sir,—Mr. Arthur Davis is, of course, quite correct in his letter ("Ringing World," August 27th), when he says that the payment of fees for peals rung for the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild is not a matter for the conductor's conscience. Indeed, under Rule 18, no peal would be accepted unless the fees were paid.

What was at issue was not whether or not fees should be paid for peals rung for the Guild, but rather whether or not members felt strongly about the ringing of peals either non-Association or for another Association within the Guild area. It was on this point that Mr. Kippin suggested that Mr. Diserens should consult his conscience.

Perhaps I did not make this too clear in the report of the proceedings, but in defence I feel that any confusion that has arisen is due to the paragraph headings for which our worthy editor is responsible.—Yours faithfully,

DAVID J. FORDER,

Hon. Gen. Sec.,

Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

WOLVERHAMPTON TENOR

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. A. F. Scholfield's letter in "The Ringing World" of August 27th I would like to point out that my musical knowledge extends far enough to know that, in music, not only the notes of C sharp and D flat are the same, but also every note of the scales are the same, the only difference being that some of them have different names.

However, as far as bell-notes are concerned (to digress from Mr. Litten's original letter), out of the five tones, I believe that only two of them are the same for each key. But since these are two of the principal tones, I doubt very much whether Mr. Scholfield or Mr. Litten could tell the difference between a C sharp bell or a D flat bell if they heard one strike. I certainly could not.

However, all this is getting away from the original subject, which was that Wolverhampton bells are tuned to a flat scale, which would then make the tenor in D flat. I think from the amount of correspondence which has appeared about this that it has spoken for itself.

Q sharp it is, and a very fine bell, too. — Yours, etc.,

PHILIP R. JOHNSON.

Godsall, Staffs.

BARSHAM, SUFFOLK, BELLS

Dear Sir,—In reply to the query of "Professional" on page 576 re Barsham bells, I understand that the opinion of a professional bellhanger (who was working in the district at the time) given to the churchwardens is the reason for the closure of this tower.

This was about eight years ago, and I do not intend to discuss in the Press the happenings that led up to this closure, but if "Professional" cares to publish his name and address (or write to me) I will give him some facts of the case.

I am rather intrigued by your writer's nom-de-plume; are we now in the era of "professional bellringers"? — Yours faithfully, Becles, Suffolk.

EDWIN R. GOATE.

RUTLAND RINGERS MARRY

The newly rehung bells of Uppingham Parish Church were put to good use on August 4th for the wedding of two well-known Rutland ringers—John Woolley and Margaret Woodward. Margaret is the only daughter of the Rector of Uppingham (Canon S. C. Woodward) and Mrs. Woodward, and she is a ringer at Uppingham Church. John is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Woolley, of Gretton, where he was formerly Ringing Master. More recently he has rung at Uppingham, where he is now choirmaster.

The bridegroom and best man (Christopher Groome, from Huntingdon, near York) took part in the ringing before the service, which began at 11.30 a.m. The bride wore a full-length white lace dress with a short bouffant veil and carried a bouquet of red roses and white heather. She was attended by three bridesmaids. As Canon Woodward took the service himself, assisted by the bride's uncle, the Rev. M. H. Wells, of Godmanchester, her brother, David Woodward, gave her away. John and Robert Woodward, two more brothers and both ringers, were ushers. The bride and bridegroom took Communion immediately after their marriage.

After the service the bells were rung by the local band. The reception was held in the Rectory garden, where guests heard a specially recorded message from Peter Woodward, the bride's second brother, who is a missionary in Madagascar. Peter, too, was a ringer before he left England.

Later in the afternoon, when John and Margaret had set off for their honeymoon in Cornwall, a good peal of Plain Bob Major was rung on the bells, a fine finish to a very happy day.

John and Margaret plan to live in Wellingborough, where Margaret teaches. John lectures at Kettering Technical College. They both intend to keep up their links with Uppingham.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

A well-attended meeting for the Bingham District at Whatton on August 14th produced good ringing in various methods. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. H. Miles, and a good tea enjoyed in Aslockton Church Room.

Colston Barsett was confirmed for the September 11th meeting with Melton District, and Granby proposed for October 9th. Ringing till 8.30 concluded a very happy meeting.

HOSTILITY TO ST. PHILIP'S, BIRMINGHAM, BELLS

Complaints that St. Philip's Cathedral bells, Birmingham, "nearly drove her stark staring bonkers" while in Birmingham Eye Hospital, appeared in a letter in "The Redditch Indicator." Forwarding the newspaper cutting to us, Mr. Michael V. White, of Studley, Worcestershire, writes: "One never knows though, perhaps there is some small element of truth in the accusation when one considers the number of peals rung at the Cathedral! However, I have been told that the bells are very quiet outside the Cathedral. As I have yet to ring at the Cathedral, I feel I am not competent to write a reply to 'The Indicator' in defence of ringers."

A pungent reply was forthcoming in "The Indicator" the following week from B. D. A. Woolley, of Wythall, who submitted that the remarks of the correspondent were rather exaggerated. He adds:

For some years now the louvres, through which the sound leaves the tower, have been completely bricked up on three sides. The only side left partly open is that which faces Temple Row, and away from the Eye Hospital. It is also worthy of note that over the years not one complaint has been received from the Eye Hospital or any other establishment in the vicinity. If Mr. Hewitt would care to take the trouble to walk around St. Philip's Churchyard any Thursday night, he will observe that the bells are scarcely audible above the noise of traffic. I would assure him that every effort has been made to ensure this is so.

The greater proportion of bellringers are not unreasonable or selfish people and if the proper approach is made to their leader they are always prepared to give a sympathetic hearing to anyone with a justifiable complaint, particularly where there is sickness in the neighbourhood.

Finally, although we do not all share the same interests and hobbies, and it would be a poor world if we did, we have not the right to suggest that other people's are peculiar. I am not interested in killing wild animals or birds or in the collecting of postage stamps but I like to feel that I can show tolerance towards those who do. Perhaps Mr. Hewitt should do the same.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

The monthly meeting of the Marlborough Branch was held at Pewsey on August 28th. Not quite so well attended as usual, it was nevertheless a very pleasant gathering, a good contingent of young people from the Marlborough tower of St. Mary's, mostly taught the ancient art by the Rev. Roger Keeley, adding to the interest of the occasion.

Members were present from Aldbourne, Collingbourne Ducis, Everleigh and St. Mary's, Marlborough, and visitors from Urchfont. The bells were raised at 3 p.m. and the Guild service at 4.30 p.m. was conducted by the Rev. C. Woodford, with Mr. Allan Keen, of Aldbourne, at the organ. Owing to catering difficulties, no organised tea was possible, sandwiches and flasks being the order of the day. Ringing was continued until 7.30 p.m. in various methods, with rounds and call changes for beginners.

OBITUARY

THE REV. I. G. JONES

Wisbech Branch members of the Ely Diocesan Association much regretted the news of the sudden death on August 20th of the Rev. I. G. Jones, of Denver, Norfolk, at the early age of 52. He had been Rector of Denver for nearly 16 years and was a ringing member of the Ely Diocesan Association, always giving a welcome to ringers and entertaining them for their meetings.

Mr. Jones played an active part in local affairs. He was chairman of Downham Grammar School Governors and vice-chairman of Downham Secondary School Governors, chairman and chaplain of Downham British Legion and Naval Association and a member of Downham Rural District Council.

The Bishop of Ely gave the address at the funeral service on August 24th. Half-muffled bells were rung before and after the service and in the evening an in memoriam peal, also half-muffled. We can ill afford to lose such an incumbent and offer our deepest sympathy to his widow and four children. E. H. M.

ARTHUR GEORGE ROSE

Arthur Rose, for nearly 50 years a regular Sunday service ringer, enjoyed a very occasional peal attempt, but was always ready to stand in for a "quarter" in the standard methods. He learned to handle a bell in his early youth at St. James', Poole, and between the two wars was a member of the excellent young band there under the leadership of the late Mr. Frederick Townsend. Since the break-up of the Poole band during the war, Arthur rang regularly with the St. John's, Surrey Road, Bournemouth ringers, besides giving occasional help at Wareham, Wimborne Minster and other nearby towers.

An accountant by profession, he was for many years in the office of the Haven Hotel, Sandbanks, where he carried out his duties in the same quiet, unassuming manner in which he enjoyed his bellringing. His sudden death on August 21st came as a great shock to many friends, who extend their deepest sympathy to his son and daughter. Mr. Rose had been a widower for many years.

The funeral service took place at St. John's Church, Parkstone, on August 27th, and was attended by a large congregation, including many of Mr. Rose's colleagues in the Independent Order of Foresters. Ringers present represented both the Salisbury and the Winchester and Portsmouth Guilds. They included Mr. L. J. Lockyer (chairman, Wimborne Branch), Mr. E. Bishop (Wimborne Minster), Mrs. Vacher (Canford Magna), Mr. W. C. Shute (Ringing Master, Salisbury Diocesan Guild), Mr. A. V. Davis (chairman, Christchurch District), Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mitchell (St. John's, Surrey Road) and Mr. F. Price. A. V. D.

ALL SAINTS', PITSFORD

A service of thanksgiving for the restoration of the tower and the dedication of an additional treble, weighing approximately 4 cwt., will be held at All Saints', Pitsford, on Sunday, September 18th, at 4 p.m.

The original treble, now the second, was cast by Henry Bagley, of Ecton, in 1698, and the four largest bells by James Keen, of Woodstock, in 1632. These five bells were rehung in 1930 by John Taylor and Co., who cast and hung the new treble.

The total cost of the work done is in the region of £3,000. E. L.

OLD RINGER DIES AT 95

Mr. Alfred Arnold, who for some 30 years was a member of the band at St. Mary's, Beddington, died at Wandale Valley Hospital on August 24th, aged 95.

A native of Northampton, he moved to South Croydon, where during the first world war he was a member of St. Peter's band. On moving to Wallington he joined St. Mary's and was most regular until old age and infirmity prevented him climbing the staircase.

The funeral was at Bundon Hill Cemetery on August 31st.

OUTINGS

EASTCHURCH, SHEPPEY

Surrey was chosen by the Eastchurch ringers for a day's tour on August 28th. Seal, Kent (6) made a most enjoyable start with a well-rung touch of Oxford Treble Bob.

Oxted (6), with the sound of the bells directly above the ringing chamber made conducting difficult but a course of Cambridge was achieved. Bletchingley (8) were found difficult to strike accurately although courses of Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman were successful. Younger members of the band however, were seen to leave the ground at backstroke!

After lunch at Redhill, 1,500 Doubles was rung on handbells in the back of the coach by Miss Joan Hayward, Nicholas Chesson and Peter Beal.

Our arrival at Kingswood (6) coincided with that of wedding guests. In the ten minutes before the bride's arrival everyone managed to have a quick pull, and the bride, Miss Audry Dawson, was rung in with a touch of Stedman. After the wedding, Kent Treble Bob was rung for the bride and her bridegroom, Mr. Michael Thrussell.

At St. Martin's, Dorking (8), we were met by Mr. Patrick Cannon, who joined us in a course of Cambridge Major, which was brought to a halt when the rope of the seventh snapped. Quick splicing enabled ringing to continue.

After an excellent tea in Dorking we visited Nutfield (6) and touches of Cambridge and Double Court were enjoyed. Methods at Godstone (8) were Grandsire, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples, and at Limsfield (6) College Single Reverse and St. Clement's with a touch of Plain Bob Minor to conclude the day's ringing.

Tower captains and incumbents are thanked and also those from other towers who joined the outing. H. G., Miss J. A. H.

BATTLE ABBEY

Some beautiful country was traversed by Battle Abbey ringers for their outing. Ringing started at Henfield, followed by Amberley, where a suitable hostelry was found at which to munch sandwiches. During the afternoon we rang at Hambledon (the birthplace of cricket), Warnford, where the church is reached by a drive through the park, and St. John's, West Meon.

A fine tea was then taken at the Queen's Hotel Buttery, Selborne, in the midst of the countryside of Gilbert White, the famous naturalist. On our return journey we rang at St. Mary's, Liss, and at Midhurst.

Unfortunately, we then ran into a spot of trouble. The coach's dynamo had not been working all day and we were left with practically no lights. However, we managed to reach the Red Lion Inn at Cowfold before our driver decided to send back for another coach. This meant a two and a half hour stop at this most opportune spot, although we did eventually get back in time to ring the bells for Matins on Sunday morning. I. V. J. S.

A 16 YEARS' GAP

The peal at Horbling, Lincs, on August 18th, was a happy reunion for the conductor, Mr. J. H. Musson, and Mr. John H. Hunt, of Fareham. They first met in the Isle of Wight in 1949, when they rang a peal together, and not again until Mr. Hunt called on Mr. Musson when recently on business in Lincolnshire. The peal, a happy one, was also for the conductor's birthday.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Washington Cathedral bookshop took 100 copies of Edgar C. Shepherd's book "Sound of Bells." This week the order has been repeated for another 100 copies.In the peal report (page 534) the ringer of the eighth in the peal of London Surprise Royal (No. 3) at Macclesfield on May 1st should have read Alan A. Potts, and not William H. Dowse.Mr. E. H. Mastin sends his congratulations to 11-year-old David Gagen, of Magdalen,
Norfolk, on ringing his first peal at Luton, Lincs. David has already rung the treble to six quarters of Bob Minor and one of Bob Triples and several touches of Bob Major.Coming to a silent tower—Hascombe, Surrey—six months ago, Mr. Alan Hoare has rung his first four quarters and taught four people to ring. His farewell quarter was on August 29th. We wish him every success at Preston Candover.Guildford bellringers congratulate Mr. Harold
A. May, a former conductor of Holy Trinity, Guildford, on his promotion to be Police Sergeant at Haslemere in the Surrey Constabulary.
For 15 years he has been in the Constabulary and for most of that period on traffic control.In the peal of Spliced Surprise Major at Southampton (page 585) Mr. Robert C. Kippin is credited with ringing the sixth and the tenor. He denies any claim to fame and asks us to correct the copy submitted. The ringer of the sixth was Noel J. Diserens, and not as stated.During the absence of the Editor in Australia, the editorial side of "The Ringing World" will be in the charge of Mr. H. C.
Aldhous, a colleague of long standing of Mr.
White. Mr. Aldhous will be assisted by members of the Editorial Committee on technical matters.

FRIENDSHIP AND RINGING

Some two years ago the writer applied for the bells at St. Mary, Redcliffe, for a College Youths' peal and this culminated on August 21st. All went well with the arrangements until Thursday, 19th, when John Chilcott rang me to say that, while playing with some nieces and nephews, he fell down and strained his arm badly and would be unable to call the peal. Where friendship comes in, he said he would still call for the writer at Basingstoke and drive him to Bristol. This he did, and listened to quite a reasonable peal (so he says). Part of this friendship in ringing is also the fact that we had to give Albert Tyler very little notice to look up the peal and take John's place, but Albert did this with pleasure and without a grumble.

The third part of friendship and ringing is a very happy week-end two or three of us spent with Reg Hooper and Bryn Shackleton, and it was with great pleasure to all of us that Cyril Hibbert was able to ring a quarter peal on Sunday morning, the first long length since he went down with arthritis some two years ago. For this quarter peal we are indebted to Dick and Liz Bowden, and the ringers of that quarter peal of Stedman Triples at St. Philip's were Patricia Hibbert 1, Cyril Hibbert 2, Liz Bowden 3, Bill Hibbert 4, Derek Jewell 5, John Hibbert 6, Bryn Shackleton 7, Reg Hooper 8. C.H.

LAVENHAM TENOR

This week we feature the rededication of Lavenham bells. While at the Loughborough foundry the bells were weighed. The correct weight of the Miles Graye tenor of 1625 is 21 cwt. 7 lb. Another unusual feature is that the treble weighing 6 cwt. 3 qr. and cast by Dobson, of Downham, in 1811, is heavier than the second or third.

Mr. Claude Rush calls attention to the Sanctus bell in the spirelet at the junction of the nave and chancel. Just under 2 cwt., it was cast about 1350 and came from Buxhall, Suffolk. It passed through the hands of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston and Mr. Ranald Clouston to Mr. Charles Matkin, who gave it to Lavenham Church in memory of his wife.

STARTING YOUNG

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jopp, who have their own campanile at Stoulton, Worcestershire, rang in an interesting quarter of Plain Bob Doubles on August 28th. It was the first quarter of their son Paul, who is their second son to ring a quarter peal while still only seven! It was his mother's first quarter as conductor.

100 PEALS OF STEDMAN

With the ringing of the peal at St. Ives, Hunts., on August 26th, Mr. J. Howard Freeborn has brought his total of Stedman to 100. The first was on October 27th, 1906, at his birthplace, Kidlington, conducted by the legendary Rev. F. E. Robinson.

He has visited 41 towers to ring these peals, which comprise 48 of Triples, 30 of Caters and 22 of Cinques. He did not conduct any of them, but once rang the treble to an attempt for a silent peal of Stedman Triples, which foundered in the 17th part.

FROM PICCOLO TO CHURCH BELLS

Captain Marybelle Nissly not only learned to ring while stationed with the American Forces at Alconbury, but made hosts of friends among ringers, as she visited more than 50 towers. Her life story now appears in the U.S. Service newspaper "The Stars and Stripes," which describes her as "a Piccolo-Playing W.A.F. Captain with lots of pull."

Marybelle was a high school music teacher in her own town, Lancaster, Pa., and also played the piccolo and flute in the local symphony orchestra. She replied to an advertisement for an experienced piccolo player for the Women's Army Corps. A photograph of her introduction into the Forces with right hand raised became a national picture captioned in one New York paper: "Now the Army can go back to war. . . The W.A.C. have found a piccolo player."

Five months later she was a warrant officer conducting the W.A.C. Band, which during the war greeted more than one million G.I.'s on the piers of New York and San Francisco. War over, she returned to teaching at Lancaster and formed a bellringing band and ordered 20 English handbells from Whitechapel. She rejoined the Air Force in 1952 and was commissioned a captain to organise a W.A.F. band. Her 20 handbells were augmented to 50. It was when she was assigned to Alconbury that she decided to master the art of change ringing, and was coached at Huntingdon by Harold Peacock.

Back in America her ambition is to ring at Washington Cathedral and "stimulate American interest in the age-old English custom." She is now at Little Rock A.F.B., Ark.

RINGING CLASSES AT EVENING INSTITUTE

The prospectus for the forthcoming winter classes at the Willerby (East Yorks) Evening Institute includes a new activity in Campanology. The course "is intended primarily for the beginner, and will include instruction in both tune ringing and change ringing on handbells, and an introduction to tower bells."

The class will be taken by Mr. R. Gibson, of St. Mary's Church, Cottingham. Practical sessions on tower bells will be at St. Andrew's Church, Kirk Ella.

SAPCOTE TOWER AND SPIRE RESTORATION

The tower and spire of All Saints', Sapcote, Leics., is undergoing restoration. All stonework is being repointed and, where necessary, replaced. Work started at the beginning of August and it is hoped will be completed by mid-September. The cost will be £1,250, which has been raised in just over two years. The work has not interfered with ringing.

THE RETURN OF THE NATIVE

From Derbyshire we learn that Bill Barwell, who has been an itinerant railwayman for 40 years, has retired and rejoined the band at Sawley, where he learned to ring. Although he had not rung during that time, he carried on from where he left off. The quarter peal published this week was his first of Triples.

A TELEVISION BROADCAST

Mr. T. J. Lock and some of the Adventurers were televised at St. Lawrence Jewry Church on September 2nd. The leader was interviewed and gave an indication of the extent of their journeying and also recalled the first Great Adventure of 1934. Grandsire Triples was rung and close-up films taken of members ringing. These included Miss Anne Horsford, the Rev. M. C. C. Melville, Messrs. L. Stillwell, A. P. Cannon and R. M. Damerell. Also with the party were Messrs. H. A. Pitstow, W. H. Coles, Jack Phillips and T. W. White.

A younger brother of the Rev. Malcolm Melville, Mr. Gordon Melville, was closely associated with the Great Adventure, 1934. He was serving as a cadet on the S.S. "Barra-bool," which conveyed the party to Australia, and a letter from him giving his impressions was contained in Mr. Goldsmith's book. Gordon learned to ring as a boy at Exhall, where his father was Vicar. He served in the R.N.R. as a Lieut.-Commander throughout the last war. He now lives in the Birmingham area.

ALL ANTIPODEAN TENORS READY, PAT!

Writing to Mr. John Chilcott, Messrs. Peter G. Richards and Hervey Bagot send their fraternal greetings to all ringers in the United Kingdom, and especially to the members of the A.S.C.Y.

"We would also like to assure all Adventurers of a very warm welcome on their arrival 'Down Under.' We were delighted to learn from the last issue of 'The Ringing Towers' that our campanological comrade and fellow Youth, Pat Cannon, is to be one of the 'Adventurers,' and we ask you to kindly pass on the following: 'All antipodean tenors (all that are ringable, that is) are oiled, ready and waiting.'"

LATEST FROM PERTH, W.A.

St. George's Cathedral, Perth, have had a misfortune. Brian Laws has cut his thumb rather badly and will not be able to ring during Tom Lock's tourists' visit. Another ringer has been on teaching practice in the country and a third has had her tonsils out. An extra practice had been introduced and the band were concentrating on Bob Triples.

WILLIAM SNOWDON

SEPTEMBER 17th brings the fiftieth anniversary of the death of William Snowdon, and with it a fresh reminder of the life, work and influence of one of the most important figures in the ringing history of Yorkshire. He was the third son of John Snowdon, M.A. Cantab., who was Vicar of Ilkley for more than twenty-five years. The mother, a Miss Whitfield (from whom Jasper Whitfield Snowdon took his second name) died when the family was still quite young, and the father was left with the problem of bringing up the children. William's destiny was decided almost by accident. In one of her letters his daughter Margaret has described what happened. We may perhaps be permitted to let her speak.

"On a memorable afternoon, Grandfather was taking Jasper and William (my father-to-be) for a walk—when a gentleman meeting them came up and said, 'I cannot pass you, Mr. Snowdon, without expressing my sympathy. I am staying at the Wells House for a complete rest, but we don't know one another.' The stranger then declared himself. His name was Edmund Beckett Denison (the barrister), who curiously was known as the greatest authority on clocks and bells in the country, one who became the first Lord Grimthorpe and restored St. Albans Cathedral. After a chat about the boys' education he said 'It would give me such pleasure to educate one of them. I am a Governor of Christ's Hospital—what about one of these?'"

Jasper, it seems, was too old to be entered and so William was chosen, and (says Miss Snowdon) "one morning my father went off with his father in the coach to Leeds, well labelled like a parcel, 'Snowdon, passenger to Horsham,' which was the Junior School at that time." Jasper went to Rossall School.

The friendship with Lord Grimthorpe continued and had considerable influence on the character and development of the young William; and in these things the kindness and graciousness of Lady Grimthorpe played a big part.

Both Jasper and William later went through the shops at Kitson's Locomotive Works at Leeds and learned to be engineers. Finally they went into business together and were partners until Jasper's untimely death in 1885. For ten years William was engaged to Miss Laura Archer, and in 1883 they were married and took their honeymoon at Keswick. "My mother," says Margaret, "was Laura Archer—such a pet, who lived to be nearly 91." There are those to-day who knew Laura Snowdon very intimately and who would testify gratefully to the loving kindness and grace of William's wife; but could anyone express their affection so felicitously as the daughter has done in that one simple sentence?

William Snowdon was a good practical ringer, a writer of great clarity and with power to express his very strong convictions in terms that carried weight but could never give offence. To read his letters and speeches in support and defence of Yorkshire Minor ringing is to find revealed a character that stood firm for what he considered right, refused (in true Yorkshire fashion) to admit defeat, yet never lost the fitting dignity of debate nor destroyed his case by overstatement. For twenty years he represented the Yorkshire Association on the Central Council, and remained their President until his death in 1915.

He was keenly interested in the theory of change ringing, and that at a time when the first great efforts were being made to explore the matter scientifically, and among his writings is a considerable essay on the Surprise methods of his day. But his greatest contribution to change ringing was the continuing and extension of the historical and instructional work begun by his brother, Jasper. To him we owe the issue of the books on Grandsire, Stedman and the Surprise methods (all written by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies) and the complete revision of "Standard Methods." These tasks alone would be enough to place him in the front rank of those who have provided the Exercise with indispensable material.

The devotion and self-sacrifice he displayed in all he did were lovingly reinforced by his wife and passed from thence to his daughter, Margaret; for it is to these gracious ladies that we owe the continuance of the Snowdon books. For them it was a labour of love, for they loved as mother and daughter very dearly. Let the final tribute to this fine Yorkshireman come from the wife, again through Margaret.

"My mother's eldest sister, Kate, said to her, 'You know, Laura, I don't think you are interested enough in who the Archers are. We are the bowmen who came over with the Conqueror.' My mother answered, 'I don't care a scrap about that—all I know is that I have been the wife (and am now, alas, the widow) of the nicest man that ever lived.'" E. C. S.

THE START OF "GREAT ADVENTURE II"

Nine members of a party of bell-ringers left London Airport for a tour of the Far East, Australasia and the United States. The party, who came from organisations throughout the United Kingdom, was led by Mr. Lock (extreme right), Secretary of the Bell-Ringers Society. They are seen here boarding an Air-India Boeing on the first part of their flight to Perth, Western Australia: Mr. T. J. Lock (leader), the Rev. M. C. C. Melville, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. White, Miss Anne Horsford, Messrs. A. P. Cannon, R. M. Damerell, L. Stilwell and W. Williams.

It was fine and sunny at London Airport on the afternoon of Sunday, September 5th, as the tourists assembled for the start of their long, but swift, journey to Perth, Australia. An impressive crowd of relatives and friends, both ringing and non-ringing, came to see them off and wish them God-speed.

After taking photographs of those willing and available, the farewelling party conducted the tourists to the Customs barrier and said their good-byes. We caught last glimpses of Tom Locke efficiently shepherding his flock. Wilfred Williams with his tightly-rolled umbrella, Tom White looking as cool as ever. Pat Cannon muttering about the Great Bell of Moscow (the first stop), and Malcolm Melville nattily dressed in tropical suiting.

All our good wishes go with them, and we look forward to hearing the tales from Down-Under.

BEST WISHES FROM W. AUSTRALIA

In a letter dated August 29th to the Editor, wishing him a safe and pleasant journey, Basil Potts, of Mount Lawley, Western Australia, writes:

"'Great Adventure II' has already begun! Jim Pipe arrived in Perth on Thursday morning, and within hours he had seen the bells and had lunch with two local ringers at King's Park... Today we rang for Matins, achieved a quarter of Bob Minor in the afternoon, and rang for an hour for Evensong. Jim Pipe wants you to ask, through the columns of 'The Ringing World,' who was the English ringer who rushed out of a Perth cafe, roundly defeated by a juke box? This occurred as we were having tea between the quarter and service ringing..."

Having mentioned that Jim was not the only English ringer in Perth at that moment, Basil Potts adds: "I have heard from Shirley Burton their ship has been delayed, but is now due on Wednesday. We shall certainly be worked up to fever pitch by the time the main party arrives."

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

Northern District

Thirty members attended a meeting held at Shalford on September 4th. After ringing on the five bells members attended a service conducted by the Vicar (Rev H. C. Tre grove). Tea was served in the Village Hall and at the business meeting which followed several items of interest were discussed, including the striking competition, a joint meeting with the Suffolk Guild, and a social evening to be held during the winter. The meeting was concluded with votes of thanks to the Vicar and all who had helped with the arrangements. During the evening Wetherfield bells were also available. Next meeting: Great Easton, provisional date, November 6th.

A SHORT HISTORY OF WITNEY RINGING SOCIETY, 1868-1918

THE high-handed uncompromising stand taken by the Rector of Witney in dismissing all the ringers at St. Mary's was called a number of unprintable things. The ringers were furious, but could do nothing. There was all the talk, too, about each one having to sign their agreement to a set of rules! They just wouldn't come to this meeting of his, they said, and the bells could be silent of a Sunday, and how would he like that?

Time passed and tempers cooled. The Rector had his way and the meeting was held. The bells rang again as they had rung for years untold: "The loudest sound made to the glory of God," and all was well.

A year or so later, Rector Cunningham, looking back to that January meeting in 1868, penned his account of it all in the Parish Diary. I have assumed the row, but the rest is plain enough.

Jan. 2. The ringing of Church bells and all matters connected with the Belfry reduced to order. Hitherto the men had kept the key and had placed themselves in all things. Beer and tobacco prevailed in the Belfry, and order there was none. The men were all dismissed, but re-admitted on signing the new rules. A Ringing Society was formed. . . . An annual supper on the 1st Monday in each year was promised."

I had known of this reference to the origin of the Witney Ringing Society for some years, and knew that a minute book had been preserved somewhere, but only now that the book has been found is it possible to study the Society's early days.

A printed copy of Cunningham's rules is stuck inside the minute book. They said that there were to be eight "Stated Ringers" (Salary of £1 per annum) and eight "Probationary Ringers" (Salary 3s. per annum). A committee was formed. The frequency and manner of service ringing was laid down and also the practice nights for Stated Ringers and Probationers. The Leader was to keep an attendance register and "prevent all irreverence (such as drinking, smoking, all unseemly conduct or language, etc.) in the Belfry or Churchyard." There were fines for lateness and absence, and finally the belfry keys were to be kept in the Rectory.

The procedure at the annual supper followed a general plan. After a good meal in the Rectory kitchen they got down to the business meeting. First the officers were elected: president, secretary and treasurer, leader, committee, fine keeper, belfry keeper. Next the Stated Ringers. Then any new Probationers. After this the fines of the past year were added up and divided equally among the ringers. The money collected round the town at Christmas likewise. The leader and belfry keeper got more than the others.

The suppers and elections were held regularly in the first few years after the formation of the Society, and minor alterations made to the rules. The committee met to unravel knotty points: e.g. what should be done if a ringer (W. Gould) asked leave of absence because he was to be away, didn't go, and still didn't come to practice? "Resolved to remit the fine, though his conduct was considered irregular." They met to discuss money matters, elect new ringers and settle disputes. But as one reads on there still seems to be an undercurrent of unruliness. "The ownership of the Handbells was discussed, and it was understood that until the sum paid by the Rector was cleared off, they were to be considered his property." "It was resolved that T. Haley, who had collected Christmas boxes unauthorised should . . . refund the money and be fined 6d." "H. Ball, Stated Ringer, having been reported for his conduct, it was decided that upon the next offence (this not being the first), he should be expelled from the Society." "That the money given at Weddings be equally divided amongst those who rang before any portion was spent." "Complaint having been made as to the non-attendance of the Ringers at Church . . ."

By 1881, only Charles Nobes, then Leader, was left of the original band, and in this year a man was elected who was to be Stated Ringer or Leader for 46 years. He was John Monk, and it was his character and enthusiasm that laid the foundations for the high peak of performance the Society showed at the turn of the century. It is unlikely, however, that this could have come about without two significant things. The first is that about this time a more friendly tone comes into the minutes. In 1881 after the supper and business meeting "A vote of thanks to the Rector . . . closed a very pleasant evening." In 1884 "the usual songs were sung and a touch tried upon the handbells. At 11 p.m. Mr. Miller rose to propose a vote of thanks . . ." The other factor, and the two are closely linked, was the formation in 1881 of the Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers.

One of the objects of the new Guild, besides the sort of belfry reform Cunningham had brought in, was the fostering of "Change Ringing." Anyone listening to the old "Call Changes" "would hear the bells sounding in the same order over and over again ("until the dead rise and fling their headstones through the belfry window").

Change ringing is more difficult. The bells' order of sounding changes after each bell has spoken once, giving an effect (e.g. on 4) like this: 12341234, 21432413, 42314321 and so on until the method being rung brings the bells "round" to 1234 again. The subject of the Guild was raised in 1883, and although Witney tower was not affiliated until 1886, Change Ringing was in the air, as is proved by the phrase "a touch tried upon the handbells" quoted above.

In November, 1886, two practice nights are recorded: Probationers on Mondays and Change Ringing on Thursdays. In the same year six Guild members are shown, and the account of the supper becomes quite gay: "After the dinner the following toasts were drunk: (i) Queen (three cheers), (ii) Bishop of Oxford and Bishops of other Dioceses, (iii) Rector and Family, (iv) Witney B. Ringing Society. Moses Fowler responded to the last toast: also the President. Songs were sung, pipes and tobacco in request. Rev. Hiley proposed the health of the Revd. W. Newman and family. Broke up at 11 p.m."

Eighteen months later things were coming on well. The men were keen, and eager to learn more. At a committee meeting "it was proposed by Rev. R. Buller to form a side for regular instruction in Change Ringing once a week under the direction of the Guild Instructor (J. Washbrook)." The accounts show that Washbrook, who was 24 at the time, paid five visits that year. On January 1st, 1889, "the excellent and substantial supper having been carefully disposed of—some capital songs were sung, and in an atmosphere of tobacco smoke the accounts were submitted, annual payments made and . . . John Monk was unanimously elected Leader . . ." Washbrook came another seven times that year, and there is a pencilled note of five names headed "passed 120 changes." In July, 1890, the president and seven Stated Ringers went to Buckingham for the Guild Festival, and on March 30th, 1891, John Monk called his first peal. It was of Grandsire Doubles, 5,040 changes, and the first peal for the other five ringers.

Nothing could halt progress now. In 1892 three peals of Grandsire Triples were rung. Washbrook called them all, and the first, Holt's Original, on August 30th, is described as "The first peal of all except the Conductor, and the first in which the local men have taken part for 65 years." (N.B.—This evidently refers to the 1827 peal of Grandsire Triples—see board in the belfry.) I cannot reconcile these two claims of first peals, unless it is because no peals of Doubles are recorded in the first Guild Collection.

The Witney ringers were now established as one of the best bands for miles around. Although they were occasionally given little lectures on church attendance by the president, they were loyal, well instructed and well led. The bells were needing attention (two men on the tenor for a peal in 1896, and seven bells rehung in 1898), but the local paper has little notes about "the improved quality of ringing" and reports odd lengths such as "720 Grandsire Minor." Various peals were rung, culminating in November, 1899, with a peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted by John Monk. The peal tablet which was put up afterwards hails this, in a lavish spread of gold leaf, as the first peal on the bells by a band resident in Witney.

One of the men who stood in that peal was the Rev. Cyril W. O. Jenkyn. A very good ringer, he had come to Witney as a curate and became a member of the Society at once, remaining the secretary for 12 years. Another, Francis P. Powell, was assistant master at the Grammar School. These two very able men must have been the greatest help to the local band, and both called a number of peals, introducing Stedman, Plain Bob Major and the Kent Treble Bob. In the Guild Report for 1900 the Master says: "Praise is due to the Witney men for their progress in Stedman; we hope they will soon ring a peal in that method without any extraneous assistance." Francis Powell, especially, seems to have been partial to Kent, as is shown in this rather awful verse, delivered by John Monk at the dinner in 1902:

"For a gentleman of ringing fame,
F.P. Powell from Yorkshire came,
To ring Kent Treble Bob was his delight,
Though he'd ring Stedman with all his might,
And in the musical Grandsire I declare Struck his bell as well as you could wish to hear."

The band that reopened the Clanfield bells in 1905, and Bampton bells in 1906, consisted mostly of Witney men. They went out and helped the villages; John Monk was appointed A Guild instructor. In 1908 Harry Brooks conducted his first peal—Stedman Triples. In 1910 the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn was elected Master of the Guild. These were great years in the history of the Society. They were followed, inevitably, by a decline as old members left the town and the Rev. Mr. Jenkyn became Vicar of Caversham. Then came the War.

During the dreadful war years Herbert Long, Albert Brooks and . . . were killed. The Rev. Mr. Jenkyn won the Military Cross. Ringing went on steadily, but few of the old band carried on afterwards, and newcomers began to take their places. At some time the annual dinner lapsed and was not revived.

In 1918, Leslie T. Oliffe was elected a member. He is our direct link with those earlier days and with his election I think it fitting to end this narrative. As I write (1964) he has completed 46 years as a most regular ringer, 28 of them as Foreman or Ringing Master. The present Master is Mr. B. John Cogans, and under his guidance the numerous activities of the Society flourish. Long may they do so.

Letters to the Editor

BARSHAM, SUFFOLK, BELLS

Dear Sir,—My name is mentioned by your correspondent in his letter appearing on page 576, but I fear I have little information to add.

Before 1893 there was a single pre-Reformation Norwich bell here, and in that year four new bells were cast by Mears to make a ring of five, tenor 7 cwt., with the old bell as the fourth. A new timber frame and fittings, including plain bearings, were then supplied, and though the tower is round in plan it is of some size and the bells are on one level. I rang them in changes on August 27th, 1956, and found that they went quite well, though there was a noise emanating from the tenor which suggested worn or loose gudgeon pins.

I understand that in 1957 they were inspected by another firm of bell-founders who were worried about the gudgeon pin wear, and are said to have advised that the bells be not rung in full circles. I have no note of ever having seen this report.

I am making an antiquarian/engineering inspection of all the 500 sets of bells in the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, and so far I have completed 289 inspections. Many of the bells have not been seen by bell hangers for very many years, and I have been concentrating on these first, as in many cases the parishes have never been told what state their bells are in. The main area I have not so far covered is N.E. Suffolk, which includes Barsham, and I hope to make an inspection of the ring there before too long.

The present incumbent, who was inducted in 1960, is well aware that the bells need attention, but it must be appreciated that a parish with a total population of 213 and an electoral roll of 57 has great difficulty meeting the costs of keeping the main fabric in order let alone rehanging the bells.—Yours faithfully,

RANALD W. M. CLOUSTON.

Lavenham, 1, Canons Close, Radlett, Herts.

Dear Sir,—In reply to "Professional's" letter (page 576) concerning the bells at Holy Trinity Church, Barsham, Suffolk. Having done much of my early ringing at the church in 1955/56 I was particularly sorry when I heard that some unknown person had declared the bells unringable. In the hope that it will give some indication to your correspondent I have pleasure in sending you as much as I know about the situation at Barsham.

In early 1955 Trevor Bailey and I, then learning to ring at Beccles, went over to Barsham several times to oil and generally attend to the bells, which had not been rung regularly for some years. We taught a team of youngsters there under the keen encouragement of the then Rector, Dr. Geoffrey Soden, and the bells were rung regularly on Sundays to call changes.

When Dr. Soden left the village in August, 1956, a peal was rung on the bells (Trevor's and my first peal), conducted by Mr. H. W. Barrett, of Loddon, and recorded on a board in the tower. Regular ringing continued, including two quarter peals, until about April or May, 1957. At this time I lost touch with the area, having moved away.

When I next returned, I found that a new Rector had been appointed and that the bells were not allowed to be rung. I remember visiting the Rector and inquiring about this, to be told that he had had the bells inspected and that they were unsafe.

As far as I remember the bells were an easy going five (they must have been for two very inexperienced 14 year olds to teach a band there). The bearings rumbled slightly, but no more than at many other towers. Mr R. Clouston looked at the bells in 1956 and said that they were in quite good condition.

Perhaps, when this myth of unringability is nailed, the bells will be rung again. Although only a light five they are very tuneful and well worth ringing.—Yours sincerely,

PAUL CATTERMOLE.

Worcester.

THANKS FOR GOOD WISHES

Dear Sir,—May I point out an error in the very nice write-up you gave me in last week's "Ringing World."

Of the peals I've rung numbering over 300, 54 were of London Surprise Major.

My wife and I send our thanks to you and all our ringing friends for the congratulations and good wishes we received. We have not forgotten the many friends who came to our house after ringing peals at Horley Church.

It is true that after being silent for 12 years Horley Church bells will ring out again; but, alas! not our own lovely peal. The Parochial Church Council have decided that they should be recast and a peal of eight with the tenor weighing six and a half cwt. be installed and lowered 15ft., to the bitter disappointment of our ringers.

A. J. BULL.

LUNCH-TIME RINGING

Dear Sir,—Last year, about six ringers from the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association started ringing for the lunch-time service at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, W.C.2. Since then we have managed to ring nearly every first Thursday in the month.

Owing to some of us having left the district ringing is becoming a little difficult. If there are any ringers who work in the West End, they would be very welcome to come along.

We ring on the first Thursday in the month, from 12.55 to 1.25 p.m. The next ring will be on Thursday, October 7th.—Yours sincerely, TONY LEWIS.

Chislehurst, Kent.

Dear Sir,—I would like to draw your readers attention to ringing at Kingston-upon-Thames for a lunchtime service on Tuesdays. Starting on Tuesday, October 5th, we will be ringing at 1 p.m. for a service at 1.30 p.m. Last year we were able to ring nearly every Tuesday, but as some of our regulars will not be able to come any more, new volunteers will be most welcome. I would be pleased to give more information to anyone either at my address below, or during office hours on TFD-dington Lock 3222, Ext. 51. Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL BANGHAM.

15, Poplar Grove, New Malden, Surrey.

COMPOSITIONS REQUIRED

Dear Sir,—May I through your columns, ask the conductor of the peal at Breadsall, Derbyshire, on July 31st. if he would publish the callings of Quantum, Xerxes, Yttrium and Zeus.—Yours, etc.,

PAUL CATTERMOLE.

Worcester.

OBITUARY

JOHN B. YOUNG

It is with regret that we report the sudden death on August 10th of John B. Young, of Frampton, Lincs. He was at work until 8 p.m. and soon after retiring for the night he collapsed and passed away suddenly.

A ringer at Frampton for many years for service ringing, also a sound peal ringer and an expert on Spliced Minor ringing. Since the sudden death of his brother some years ago he lost some interest in ringing. He was laid to rest on August 13th in the presence of several ringers and friends.

The bells of Frampton were rung half-muffled in the evening. W. E. C.

CHARLES CLARKE

We are very sorry to record the passing of Mr. Charles Clarke, of Grundisburgh, Suffolk, whose death took place on August 29th, at the age of 81 years. As a builder he constructed almost a new street which is named after him as Charles Avenue. Before his business occupied most of his time, he was an adjunct to St. Mary-le-Tower Society with whom he rang peals of Stedman Cinques, and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge, Superlative, also Rochester, all Maximus. He also rang a peal of Bob Major with his father Frederic and son's (only peal) and three generations of Tillett, the band made up with G. E. Symonds (cond.) and his son.

A large congregation attended the funeral on Thursday, September 2nd. Afterwards a muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on Grundisburgh bells by some of his old ringing friends whose average age was nearly 70 years—A. Munnings 1, C. J. Sedgley 2, Jim Bennett 3, R. J. Munnings 4, G. E. Symonds (cond.) 5, P. May 6, J. F. Tillett 7, F. Crapnell 8.

DOUBLES METHODS

Dear Sir,—May I point out to Doubles ringers that the compositions of Carlton, St. Cleer, Wexford and others may be found in my letter on page 648 of the "R.W." dated September 25th, 1964, please?

In his peal ("R.W.", August 13th), Mr. Harrison has renamed two methods. Rev. Canterbury—Shipway's Bob is St. Philebert not Quantum. Shipway's Place with a Plain Bob Pl. is St. Cyril not Yttrium.

I would be obliged if anyone would inform me of the Bobs and Singles for Spondon, Breaston Breadsall and Alfreton.

Spondon	Breaston	Breadsall	Alfreton
12345	12345	12345	12345
21354	21354	21435	21435
23154	23145	24153	24153
32514	32415	42513	24513

15234	14235	13452	13425
12534	12453	14352	14352

These methods are Grandsire or New Grandsire in "structure," therefore may have Grandsire-like calls.

Yours sincerely,

ROY H. JONES.

A WEST COUNTRY TOUR

MR. A. BISHOP'S RINGERS AT WESTON ZOYLAND.

On Saturday, August 14th, the West Country was once again invaded by Tony Bishop's ringing party. This year Porlock was to have the unenviable duty of accommodating us for the week. Sunday always being a quiet day on these occasions, we only rang at four towers. However, we started well with good ringing on the ten at Minehead, including a touch of Stedman Caters, conducted by David Hilling, who joined us for most of the day.

The majority of the party then adjourned to the beach at Porlock Weir and either rang handbells or swam. After lunch five of the party walked to Luccombe (6), where they were glad to be able to rejoin the minibus. After ringing here we drove to Selworthy, another six, where we were welcomed by the first of the many Arscotts. We returned to Porlock to ring for evening service and met two more Arscotts. Here we rang Norwich, the first of the methods we had been ordered to learn by Tony.

On Monday we ventured up Porlock Hill, disdaining the toll road, and all arrived safely at Lynton, where we rang a good course of Ipswich before proceeding to Kentisbury and lunch. The first tower in the afternoon was Arlington, a very pleasant six, where we attempted Beverley. Teatime was reached after two sixes, Berrynarbor and West Down, and finally the eight at Braunton, where some of us acquired an appetite by listening to Double Norwich whilst paddling in the stream. We then rang at Heanton Punchardon (6) and Bishop's Tawton (6), where possibly the best ringing of the day was some "Devonshire Surprise," rung half way through the rise.

On Tuesday we started on the fine eight at Dunster, having first been shown round the famous dovecote by the Vicar. At Carhampton (6) we did full justice to these lovely bells with, among other things, a good course of Cambridge. To get to the next tower, St Decuman's, we had to pass through Watchet and a large traffic jam. In the evening we met at Stogursey, a fine 24 cwt. six in a beautiful and partly pre-Norman church. Ringing at Over Stowey (6) was not as good and the heavy eight at Bishop's Lydeard did not help, particularly as the tenor is very deep set.

On Wednesday morning it was well worth passing through a ford and over a cattle grid in order to ring at Exford, where we were pleased to ring with the Rev. H. Warren, who allowed us an extra, and very welcome, quarter of an hour on this lovely six. We arrived early at Exton (6), where we were pleased to meet our old friend Brig. Young, who accompanied us for the rest of the day. After lunch we rang a good half course of Cambridge on the fine eight at Dulverton. The afternoon's towers were all sixes, Morebath, Chipstable and Huish Champflower. Brig. Young had kindly arranged an evening meal and also entertained us at home before taking us to ring at Wiveliscombe. Here we satisfied Tony by ringing an excellent course of Rutland.

On Thursday morning, therefore, we were reduced to twelve for ringing at Norton Fitzwarren, Halse and Ash Priors, all sixes. Tony had prepared us for a difficult afternoon on the three heavy sixes. Cotelstone at first defeated us, but we were pleased to achieve three leads of Plain Bob. The bells at Enmore proved to be a fine ring, as did those at West Bagborough. At the latter tower we rang Quantock and Hull.

In the evening five of the party went to Taunton to join the local practice, but we all met again to celebrate Deborah's birthday.

On Friday morning we left for home and travelled as far as Weston Zoyland for our first ring on this pleasant six. After lunch in Langport we rang the lovely eight at Huish Episcopi. Here we were joined by Chris Marshall and Trevor Cross, who remained with us for the last few towers. So we came at last to Queen Camel where, once we had rung the bells up, we acquitted ourselves very creditably with a course of Cambridge and a good drop in peal. Concentration relaxed after this and ringing at Bruton was disappointing. Having found Stourton, despite the signposts, we redeemed ourselves before coming to the last tower of the week. We finished off with some reasonable ringing, including Bristol, on the eight at Mere before making our separate and sleepy ways home.

We would like to thank Tony and Deborah for organising the holiday so well, the three drivers, all incumbents and those who met us.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

Bells were raised at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, September 4th, for a meeting of the Guild at St. Mary's Church, Elland. After Evensong, conducted by the Rector (Rev J. R. Howarth), the members joined a missionary garden party for an ample tea. The belfry was adapted for the business meeting. Mr. Scargill, of Thornhill, was elected a member. It was noted with pleasure that we had, as ringing members, three generations of one family—Mr. Charles Byram, his daughter Mary, her husband (Mr. Joseph Greenwood) and their children, Dennis and Susan. A very enjoyable evening's ringing ended at 9 p.m. W. M.

SOUTH WALES RINGERS' WEDDING

On August 10th the wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Whitchurch, Cardiff, between the Rev. Ronald Charles Lucas and Miss Christine Margaret Glastonbury.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. John Glastonbury, wore a full-length gown of white brocade and short veil, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her niece, Miss Judith Glastonbury. The best man was Mr. Robert Jones, a friend of the bridegroom.

The choral service was conducted by the Vicar of Whitchurch, the Rev. Emrys Rees, and the Vicar of Rumney, Canon C. K. Smith, celebrated nuptial mass.

The bridegroom, who is Curate of Rumney, Cardiff, and a member of the local band, was before his ordination vice-captain of the same tower. He has been an honorary auditor of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association for many years.

Miss Glastonbury is a former member of the Whitchurch band, and for some years was captain of that same tower. She successfully conducted the first South Wales Ladies' Guild peal of Plain Bob Minor at Rumney in February of this year.

The bride and bridegroom are active members of the Association and frequently attend practice nights at towers in and around Cardiff: both have rung in peals for the Association.

The bells of St. Mary's were rung by members of the Association before and after the wedding. A peal of Minor in seven methods was rung on the eve of the wedding at Rumney by members of the Association.

The happy couple spent their honeymoon in Jersey.

BELFRY GOSSIP

In a recent tour of Cornwall, Eddie Rapley, of Horsham, rang his 500th peal, and Leslie Weller, of Billingshurst, Sussex, his 200th.

The band of All Saints' Church, Nottingham, welcomed back for a quarter peal on August 29th, Mr. F. A. Salter, following his serious illness last year.

A quarter peal on August 21st at St. Leonard's Church, Eynsham, Oxfordshire, was rung as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. G. Russell, of Eynsham, on their diamond wedding.

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung at Dursley, Glos., during the "Around Portishead" peal week was for the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, and not for the Bath and Wells.

The band in the peal at Salehurst on September 4th all belong to Hawkhurst, and the peal was rung at Salehurst as Hawkhurst bells are under repair by Mears and Stainbank (re-hanging on ball-bearings, etc.).

Miss Gillian Anderson, a Queen's Guide, and one of seven young lady bellringers at March St. Wendreda's Church, rang her first quarter peal recently. Gillian has been ringing only a few months and rang the treble very well indeed.

The band who were to have rung the long peal of London Surprise Royal at Macclesfield on September 4th met one short, and so the attempt for a long peal never took place. However, Mr. Harold Lonyon kindly stood in at very short notice and a "normal length" peal was rung in 3 hours and 8 minutes.

HUNTINGTON (YORK) LOSING STALWARTS

Since David Pearson and Christopher Groomer restarted the band at Huntington (York) three years ago, progress has been quite rapid. The bells were rehung in 1963 and there is now an enthusiastic young band.

In 1962 the band could just manage rounds and call changes. So far in 1965 nine members have rung peals, including four peals of Doubles by the local band. Since the first of these peals (All Saints' Doubles on November 1st, 1964) the band has worked towards a peal of Minor. An attempt on August 17th came to an end after three extents, when two bells were crossed.

Another attempt was arranged for the following Tuesday, August 24th. This time British Rail intervened and David was an hour late getting back from work. It was too late for a peal, but a half-peal was attempted and this was very successful.

There seems little chance of another attempt in the near future. David has married and left the parish. Christopher is going to Canada. Susan Thompson is going to College in Sheffield and Colin Banton, the present Ringing Master, is going to Derby. These departures are most untimely as some local rivalry is at stake, as Huntington have been hoping to ring a peal of Minor before the band at Walkington!

VETERAN RINGER WILL CELEBRATE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard, of 1, Flint Cottages, Church End, Barley, near Royston, Herts, will celebrate their golden wedding on Saturday, September 25th. Now aged 74, Mr. Howard since a serious illness a few years ago has been unable to ring for long periods, but he occasionally gives a hand.

In his younger days he rang in the Long Peal of Bob Major at St. Peter's Church, Benington, Herts, on Whit Monday, June 5th, 1933, being 18.144 changes, which took ten hours 52 minutes. He also rang and conducted four peals of Surprise Minor in seven methods in one day, and on another occasion rang and conducted three peals in a day. Old friends as well as present-day ringers deeply appreciate Mr. Howard's services to the fraternity.

TO SURPRISE IN TEN MONTHS

The ringers in the peal at Eastrington, East Yorks, wish to congratulate 14-year-old Robert C. Hawtree on his first peal. He rang an inside bell to seven Minor methods and is also ringing Surprise Minor and Major. It is only ten months since he started ringing and he is a credit to his instructor, the Rev. F. Ross. There are several more young ringers out of the same stable at Hessle, who we shall be reading about during the next few months. The peal was also a welcome to Norman V. Harding, who was in the East Riding for the week-end.

SALISBURY, RHODESIA

Latest arrivals in Salisbury are David Brown, from Suffolk, and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Reid, from Lincolnshire. David and Russ are on a nine-month P.C.E. course at U.C.R.N. before returning to teach in Zambia.

Welcome visitors have been Michael Carter, formerly of St. Nicholas', Liverpool, but now living in Blantyre, Malawi, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White, from Penzance, and M. G. Humphreys, from Esher.

THE NEW TREBLE

The tall trees hide St. Paul's small spire,
The five bells ring till the ringers tire,
Across meadows and woods the music sounds
As Grandsire and Stedman come home in rounds.

The ringers dream of the day to come,
When the harvest of their toil is won,
And the sixth bell rings above the five.
Then at Treble Bob Minor they will strive.

There's sales of rummage and sales of work
And lots of tasks that none may shirk,
Then they hang the bell all bright and new
And straight away the account comes through.

All we need is one hundred more,
Which means sales of work and rummage galore,
Although we really enjoy the task
And friends offer help before we ask.

In October we've fixed the date,
When to the glory of God we dedicate
Our bell; whose voice will sound upon the breeze
Over Bentley Common amid the trees.

B. FISHER.

Miss Fisher, of Hatch Road, Brentwood, Essex, who sends us this poem, writes that for several years they have been working to raise £475 to hang a new treble bell to the existing five at Bentley Common, Brentwood. The bell has now been installed by Mears and Stainbank, and will be dedicated on October 17th. "We are still in need of a further £100, and we hope to raise a good proportion of this by a rummage sale and sale of work this autumn."

RINGING IN SCHOOLS

Mr. Alfred Froggatt writes from Lincoln: "I regret that I did not respond previously to the request regarding ringing connected with schools, but maybe the following is relevant:

"Ian Marshall and Stephen Etccl are both pupils at the Sincil Bank Secondary Modern School, Lincoln, and John Clarke was also a pupil there until leaving at Easter this year. Three others from the same school also commenced to learn at St. Mary's but seem to have fallen away for one reason or another, although I have hopes of two of them carrying on if circumstances change. John Clarke was the first to learn and it is he who has brought the others in, partly through running a tuning-ringing class on handbells (8) during term-time (after school hours) last year, assisted by one of the masters who, though not a ringer, is interested."

ALMOST CHASED UP TOWER!

Cirencester ringers, meeting early for a quarter peal before Sunday Evensong, and hearing from the verger that a ringer passing through the town was waiting about in the hope of joining in service ringing, kindly rang a few rounds, and paused. "Summoned by bells," and almost chased up the tower by the friendly verger, the visitor arrived short of breath and full of gratitude, and had the privilege of a short ring before the quarter peal.

CHELSEFIELD RINGERS' WEDDING

The marriage took place on August 14th at St. Martin of Tours' Church, Chelsfield, Kent, of Mr. Robert W. Hinde and Miss Hilary F. Martin.

Bob Hinde, a native of Christleton, near Chester, has worked in the London area for some six or seven years, living first at Mitcham and more recently at Chelsfield. Hilary Martin, whose brother Nicholas is also well known as a ringer, learned to ring at Chelsfield, and she and Bob have been much in evidence as peal ringers in Kent and elsewhere.

The organist, Mr. Barley, rendered Fantasia in G (Bach) as a prelude to the exquisitely-chosen music that was to follow so fittingly for the wedding of a bride who is an accomplished musician. The bride, escorted by her father, Mr. Frank Martin, was attended by Miss Jennifer Wright and Miss Lynda Pullen and a child bridesmaid, Anne Hathaway, in turquoise green princess-line long dresses with puff sleeves. The bride's long dress was close-fitting in heavy white satin with a full-length veil. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Leslie King and Mr. Alan Farndell was best man.

During the signing of the register Miss Jennifer Wright sang as a solo Handel's "He shall feed his flock." The bride and bridegroom emerged from the vestry to the strains of Toccata in F, by Widor. At this point the six bells, manned by the local band, under the leadership of their captain, Mr. David Manger, went into well-struck call-changes. Other touches of changes and call-changes followed. A reception followed at High Woods, Oxenden Wood Road, the home of the bride and her parents.

There were several ringing friends present, mainly from Kent and Surrey but also including Mr. Frank Poston from Christleton. Peals were rung in the evening at Chelsfield and Westerham, and during the day at Gravesend and elsewhere. The honeymoon was spent in Guernsey and the bride and bridegroom hope shortly to move into a new house at Meopham.

BOWLS v. BELLS

A most agreeable evening was spent by ringers from Wymondham, St. George's College (Norwich) and Mulbarton recently when they combined to field a team to compete against the Tradesman's Arms Bowls Club, Mulbarton, at Mulbarton. Experience told against the visitors, and the local club won comfortably. Leaving the green to rising dew and gathering gloom, the evening was rounded off in a reserved room at the Tradesman's Arms. Peter Adcock arranged this enjoyable and successful diversion.

FAMILY QUARTERS BY EASTHAMPTON RINGERS

In a quarter peal at Finchampstead, Berks, on August 23rd, a mother and father (Mr. and Mrs. A. J. N. Rance) rang as a 21st birthday compliment to Susan, their eldest daughter. At Binfield, Berks, on September 2nd, Mrs. R. Murrell rang in a quarter peal for the engagement of her son, Graham, to Linda Parkhouse. Both mother and son are ringers at Warfield. The two quarters were manned by the Easthampstead band (with one exception in each), whose bells are out of use for some months.

RINGING AND TRAINING

THE training of ringers must always be taking place, and this applies from beginning with a stranger to the art being taught how to handle a bell to the one who has really been bitten by the bug and desires to progress through the stages of bob calling, conducting and composing. Without this incessant teaching ringing would perish in next to no time. In fact, when the present generation passed along the art of ringing would also be gone.

Unfortunately ringing has partly died in some areas, hence our silent towers. In reverse, one hears the happy news that a tower long silent has recruited a new band together, and once more the bells are ringing, even if only to rounds and call-changes for the present.

There are many reasons why towers have become silent. I have heard it said in years gone by that ringing contests (better known today as striking competitions) created the situation that once having got together a good band at a tower there was no time for teaching anyone else lest the quality of striking be lowered, and future contests be lost. I never fell for that one. I have known instances where the tower leader, or conductor, had not the ability to progress along with the band who were desirous of advancing, with the result that finally the band drifted away one by one, and so another silent tower. There is also the situation wherein the leader of a tower moves away from the district, leaving the band as helpless as a ship without rudder.

The motor age has of course altered our whole lives, and this may account for the actions of some ringers in deserting the tower where someone spent many hours in teaching them to ring.

But to return to this question of teaching. We are not all born tutors, and unfortunately many people who may be quite capable of performing a task themselves in an excellent manner do not have the ability to pass on to others the "know-how"—and how apparent this is in ringing circles.

In "The Ringing World" for July 30th last there was an article by Jeanne A. Bottomley on the teaching of a band for Dewsbury bells. I have paid visits to this tower, and on my first visit since the new band commenced I was very pleased to see that, although the teaching of change-ringing was in its embryo stage, the standard that was being set by Vernon Bottomley and his wife was indeed high, and one that I am sure will pay. So best wishes, Vernon and Jeanne, for future success; and, still remembering the good work Vernon did at another Yorkshire tower a few years ago, I feel sure your efforts will not be in vain.

It is amazing when one stops to think how much habit plays a part in our lives. We rise out of bed after sleep and go through the process of getting dressed; but if you ask a man whether he first puts his left or right leg into his trousers, does he button his waistcoat up or down, does he first put his left or right arm into his coat sleeve, he would have the greatest difficulty in telling you, because this is habitual.

I may be wrong, but when I see what I consider bad habits in ringers I usually blame their teacher. The difference between good and bad is many times a question of opinion, but untidy or incorrect handling of a bell rope is often criticised even by people who I consider are bad handlers themselves; but again we are all blind to our own faults.

I recently saw a new recruit ringing rounds with a stance like a Western cowboy getting ready to shoot it out. Many of us have seen experienced ringers leaping up in the air in order to, as they rightly or wrongly pretend, get the bell down at backstroke, and yet all ringers were up in arms when a similar thing was depicted in the national press supporting a margarine advert.

So it behoves us all of the present generation to provide for the future and set a high standard, even if this is not achieved. If we are tower leaders let us encourage the rest of the band to progress, whether it be in learning new methods, or conducting. If there is no desire on their part to do any of these things—well, at least you tried.

In order to keep any organisation healthy there must be a regular intake of new members, and so it is with ringing. If you have the task of being tutor to any new entrants try to teach them good ringing habits, or maybe when these pupils venture out into the ringing world, and others see their bad habits, the comment may be passed: "What can you expect, so-and-so taught them." One-day schools serve a useful purpose, but it is impossible to correct in one day what is allowed to go on unchecked the rest of the year.

Finally, however proficient you are you only get out of ringing what you put into it; and although some people may be natural ringers they still lead ringing lives with a large percentage of habit in them, so let me end with an old saying: "Man, know thyself." It is most difficult.

F. AITCH.

GOSPORT BELLS RING AGAIN

Many are the tales handed down by older members of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild about the bells of Holy Trinity, Gosport, which hang at the top of a tall brick tower, completely detached from the main structure of the church.

Only a few ringers are left who had rung on the light eight (tenor 9 cwt.), last rung before the war in 1938. A peal board in the tower recalls a peal of Bob Major, with such well known names as Frederick W. Burnett, his father, Frederick A. Burnett, Frederick Bayley, Tower Taylor, Reg Reed, Ernest Munday and the late Fred Rogers, who conducted; the peal being rung because of the determination of the band to stick it out.

However, since this time the bells had fallen into a rapid state of decay; bearings and framework were still in good order, but a number of the wheels were rimless, and the only two remaining ropes were rotten.

After much correspondence with the incumbent, we found a good ally in the verger, and an inspection of the bells on August 20th revealed that with some work they could be put into good order, but ringing them from the proper belfry ropes of 60 ft. length would be required. A phone call to the verger later in the week gave us the o.k. for August Monday morning, and a working party of three from Highclere and David Hughes (Liss) set to work freeing pulley of pigeons' dung, fixing short ropes and repairing wheels. The three hours' work that morning resulted in the back six being rung to rounds only from round the clock case, a blind course of Bob Minimus being the only changes rung that day.

However, on September 11th, the big day, a reception committee from the P.C.C., the churchwardens and other interested listeners were there to greet us, all wishing to hear the bells ringing once again. A welcome sight was John Faithfull and his daughter, both determined to have a ring when the set of long ropes was fitted.

Charles Bassett (Petersfield), Phil Murduck (Kingsclere) and our Highclere contingent had all managed to find ropes long enough and we set to work fitting them, giving the bells a final oiling and trying them all individually.

At 5.30 all was ready and the first rounds on the eight bells since 1938 were rung. The oscillation of this tall tower must be one of the worst in the world and this makes the bells tricky to handle.

A touch of 168 Grandsire Triples was rung on them and some quite nice tapping resulted, and we completed the day's proceedings with a course of Kent Treble Bob Minor.

Plans are now under way for an open day in October, and it is hoped neighbouring towers will also make their bells available for the large crowd of ringers expected. A word of warning: these bells are not for beginners, the tower sees to that, but all experienced ringers who wish to try them will be welcome when the open day is arranged.

Interest is already high to form a local team to ring the bells and it is hoped that they will then be rung regularly once again.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD Farnham District

Twice postponed, due to repairs to the tower, a meeting was held at Pirbright on September 11th. Afternoon ringing was conducted in part in opposition to a violent thunderstorm, but this did not deter a fair number turning up, 28 being present for the service. In the absence of the Vicar the service was conducted by a chaplain from the Guards' Barracks, Rev. Mr. Darbyshire, with Mr. Busby at the organ.

Tea, provided by local ladies, was followed by a short business meeting, the principal item being the election of five non-resident and three new members from Ash. Evening ringing continued in a variety of methods, considerable amusement being caused by various conductors' attempts to call round touches of Original. Altogether a most enjoyable meeting.

DEPARTURE OF GREAT ADVENTURERS

Sunday, September 5th, was a warm and sunny day, and the departure on Great Adventure II to Australia was imminent. It was a slightly sad occasion, with the thought that the tourists were going to be so far away for five weeks. But amongst those at London Airport to say farewell to the party there was an air of expectancy and hope that the tour would be enjoyable and successful. At exactly 3 p.m. the huge Air India plane, its powerful engines creating a deafening noise, moved slowly and smoothly down the runway. Then, almost in a second, it was gathering speed, and our last farewell wave came almost too late as the aircraft soared up into the sky and away out of sight.

Those at the airport to wish the tourists good luck and bon voyage included Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coles, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. P. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. C. Smith, Mrs. T. J. Lock and Martin, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Damerell and Mr. A. H. Fulwell.

ADVENTURING "UP OVER"

A few days before the English bellringers went adventuring "down under," an Australian ringer arrived in England hoping to find employment, and opportunities to advance campanologically. He is Mr. Walter G. Knight, of St. James', Turramurra, New South Wales. His first ring in this country must have created a record. He is probably the only person who can claim that his first pull at a bell rope in Britain was at Windsor Castle.

On August Bank Holiday he joined an excursion into Rutland with the result that his Australian "bag" of towers gathered from miles of travelling was quickly superseded by his English tally. His first three weeks were spent at Slough, Bucks, during which time he stood in his first peal attempt, and scored an excellent peal of Plain Bob Major at Burnham, in which he rang the fourth bell in masterly style.

Walter has already made numerous friends in South Bucks, who hope that when he has settled into his job in London he will frequently renew the friendships established in the Windsor area.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN

The 1965 Summer Festival of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held in the Culworth Branch, 14 towers being available for ringing during the day. The Guild service was conducted by the President (Canon G. F. Turner) and the Master (Mr. J. H. Bluff) read the lesson, the Vicar of Culworth being the preacher.

After tea in Culworth Village Hall, the President took the chair at an extraordinary business meeting. The main items were the special finance committee's proposal of a scheme of voluntary affiliation to the Guild by parochial church councils, and a proposal from the Rutland Branch of a peal fee of sixpence per ringer. The affiliation scheme was carried unanimously and the peal fee was agreed by a large majority, there being only two votes against.

A vote of thanks to all concerned with the arrangements and success of the meeting was proposed by the Master (Mr. J. H. Bluff) and seconded by the Secretary of the Wellingborough Branch (Mr. R. J. Cowley). The next opportunity for a social get-together will be at Peterborough on October 16th, on the occasion of the Guild dinner.

BELLS AT RECEPTION

Miss Susan Chaddock, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Chaddock, of 17, Herringthorpe Grove, Rotherham, was married at Rotherham Parish Church on September 4th to Mr. Frederick Neil Johnson, of Sandbach, Cheshire. The Rev. Gerald Hollis officiated, the organist was Mr. W. Shepherd and Mr. A. Holroyd captained the bellringers.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a full-length gown of white satin with a short train, and a full-length veil held in place by a diamante coronet. The bride was attended by Miss Carole Brothwell (bride's cousin), Miss Jane Galway (bridegroom's cousin), Miss Judith Gilbert and the Misses Elizabeth and Rosemary Gilbert (twins).

Best man was Mr. Peter Salmon and groomsmen were Messrs. Graham and Christopher Galway (bridegroom's cousins).

The parish church bells were rung before and after the ceremony, and during the reception for 80 guests Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by the bride's father, uncle and brother, and by Mr. John Gilbert, father of three of the bridesmaids. The honeymoon was spent in Switzerland.

The couple will reside at Selly Oak, Birmingham, where both will continue post-graduate study and research at the University Medical Wing.

RINGERS WED

A wedding of interest to ringers took place at St. Peter's Church, Barton-on-Humber, on September 4th, when Mr. Michael W. Crowder was married to Miss Roseann Pilc. The bridegroom is Ringing Master of the North Lindsey Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, and the bride is also a ringer. The bridesmaids were the Misses Pauline and Aileen Pilc and Margaret Crowder. Mr. James Crowder was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Messrs. J. Hall and C. Potts. There were many ringers among the guests, and as the bridal party left the church several joined the local ringers in some Grandsire Triples at the neighbouring Church of St. Mary. Owing to repairs to the fabric it was not possible to ring at St. Peter's. A peal attempt at Barrow-on-Humber following the ceremony was unfortunately lost, but a good one was rung on Monday, September 6th.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

At the quarterly meeting on September 11th at Childe Okeford, attended by some 20 members, standard methods up to Cambridge were rung on the fine-sounding 17 cwt. six. At the Guild Office an address was given by the Rector (the Rev. Dr. R. M. Taylor), a former chairman of the branch (1947-52). At tea, members were the guests of Mrs. Cousins at Childe Okeford House, where a short business meeting was held. N. Lewis, of Okeford Fitzpaine, was elected a ringing member. Ringing later continued at Childe Okeford and Stourpaine. R. N. L.

TOURS AND OUTINGS

RIVER THAMES TOUR

"Wilb's" brilliant ideas usually come to nothing, but this time he came up trumps. The idea of holidaying on the Thames, by 10 St. Albans ringers, rowing and ringing, was finally crystallised on Saturday, August 14th. The weather was excellent, but the schedule was rather too tight for comfort, and some towers had to be missed because of insufficient time.

The tour started in Oxford on Saturday morning, where four towers were visited; including the delightful 4 cwt. eight at St. Ebbe's, where Yorkshire was rung. Later the boats were collected from the boatyard, while two peal grabbers returned home to ring a peal of Erin Triples at Bushey. They rejoined the tour at 7 the following morning after having walked for two hours along the Thames bank in the wrong direction!

Sunday started the tour proper when we made our way to Appleton to join the locals for some nice Grandsire and Stedman Triples before attempting the ten. The evening was enjoyed by everyone who rang at Kidlington, where Mr. Walter Judge made us feel at home and helped us ring some tolerably good Stedman and Yorkshire before trebling down. Monday afternoon saw us wending our way towards the ten at Abingdon, sucking lemon lollies. Some good simple ten bell ringing was achieved, despite the hot weather. Later, two touches of Original Minor were successfully rung, thus starting an almost feverish enthusiasm for the stuff which persisted all week. Sutton Courtenay was our mooring place that evening, ready for the lovely six bells the following morning. Appleford was visited next, where we were joined by Inspector Smith, who brought news of Wilb's lost coat complete with wallet.

Next day Benson started us off and it was here that half the band suddenly decided they did not know Stedman and promptly proceeded to prove it. On to Wallingford, where the lovely 21 cwt. ring was tried out first to Minor then to Major, a tolerably good performance after the dismal start to the day. Thursday's marathon started at 9 a.m. at Pangbourne, where Mr. Burt kindly met us and brought news of his daughter and son-in-law, Sue and Tony. On our return to the boats Gill very kindly fell in with a minimum of fuss before we pressed on, undaunted, to Whitechurch, where Primrose was unsuccessful. As this was to be a mere practice for the bob in Ebor Surprise we felt perhaps this method was best left alone. On to Mapledurham, where Mick decided to mutiny which resulted in his crew transferring to another boat leaving the luckless mutineer to "paddle his own canoe" to the next tower. That evening we rang at St. Laurence's, Reading, after unfortunately missing St. Mary's through lack of time. Mr. Albert Disersen joined us here and kindly complimented us on our ringing.

An attempted quarter of Stedman Triples next morning at Shiplake unfortunately came round with two bells over. The conductor expressed some little disappointment and two ringers looked a little pink round the edges after being questioned about a certain single. Next morning the boats had to be returned in inclement weather to the boatyard at Henley before ten shattered bodies bade final farewells and moved off in the direction of home. Our grateful thanks to our enthusiastic organiser, Andrew Wilby, all incumbents and people who met us. K. J. W.

DEVON RINGERS TOUR THE EXE VALLEY

Members of the Devon Guild of Ringers held another successful day tour in the Exe Valley area on September 11th. Mr. A. L. Bennett was again the organiser, and those accompanying him included Miss D. Johnson, Mr. D. J. Roberts and daughters, Messrs. G. J. Roberts, P. A. Lock, R. A. Caffry, K. E. Fursdon (all of Torquay), Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Myers and family, Messrs. T. G. Myers and D. F. Wheeler (Plymouth), and Mr. J. P. Coad, a visitor from Glasgow. Mr. and Mrs. N. Mallett and family, of Exeter, joined the company after lunch. Towers visited were Upton Pyne, Brampford Speke, Silverton (the only octave of the day), Cheriton Fitzpaine, Poughill, Cruwys Morchard, Washford Pyne, Morchard Bishop and Lapford. Methods rung throughout the day were Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Doubles and Triples, and Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor. Thanks were expressed to Mr. Bennett for the arrangements.

LOUGHBOROUGH RINGERS' OUTING

Ringers' outings are no new thing. It has long been the custom for bellringers to visit other churches for the privilege of ringing other people's bells, a tradition that is shared throughout the length and breadth of the country. One of the earliest records we have is in the Loughborough churchwardens' accounts for 1616: "It, spent on entertainment to the gentlemen strangers when they came to ringe xjs"; and Loughborough still is a "must" for many ringers.

Prior to the era of the internal combustion engine only a few churches could be visited and the distance covered was not great, yet in Morris's "The History and Art of Change-ringing" we read: "1733 May 24 Thursday—On Whitsunday last (May 13) came to Oxford on foot fifteen ringers from London, and the day before came on horseback, one Mr. Skelton." This is followed by a detailed account of the ringing they did in Oxford. It is more likely than not that the 15 ringers who walked would take the opportunity of ringing at several churches on the way.

Loughborough Parish Church bellringers held their annual outing on September 11th. Tamworth Parish Church was the first place of call, and soon the ten bells were raised and a course of Grandsire Caters rung. After further ringing on this grand ten, all were soon en route for Colehill Parish Church. Here everything was in readiness and various methods were rung on the eight bells.

By this time the weather had improved and it was pleasantly warm, hence the journey to Warwick was pleasant. Lunch had been arranged at The Pack Horse, and as we entered the town the bells of St. Mary's gave us a welcome—true they were ringing for a wedding; still it was nice to hear them. At lunch we were joined by Mr. and Mrs. L. Hall, formerly of Loughborough, now residing in Leamington, and Mr. J. Garner-Hayward, the Master of the Coventry Diocesan Guild of Bellringers and leader of the ringers at St. Nicholas' Church in the town. After lunch the Church of St. Nicholas was visited, and the grand ring of eight, installed a few years ago by John Taylor and Co., was thoroughly enjoyed.

Lillington, the next church on the list, was not far away, and ere long the bells were being rung to Stedman Triples. On completion of the ringing it was time for tea. Daventry, with its new ring of ten bells, was the last tower of the day, and full justice was done to this grand Taylor ten. The best ringing of the day was at Daventry, and the time for departure came all too soon.

Letters to the Editor

BELL FUND SUGGESTION

Dear Sir.—Having recently developed great interest in bell ringing I feel most depressed every time I hear of churches where the bells have been allowed to go into a state of "unringableness" through sheer neglect and lack of interest, or where the need for bell ringers has been replaced by the instalment of a mechanised device.

It seems to me unfair that parishioners who are not interested in, or may even dislike, the sound of bells should be expected to pay for their maintenance, but I feel that there should be a central fund contributed to entirely by people interested in ringing. This fund should be used to help the maintenance or restoration of any bells in any tower, where such help could mean the salvation of a ring of bells.—Yours truly,

MARY W. WHALLEY.

Hawkshead, Ambleside.

A NEW INTEREST

Dear Sir,—I wonder if people, like the latest, Mr. Chant, realise how very much pleasure and interest the methods being published give, and not only to peal ringers.

I, through age and odds and bits accompanying it, have had to stop ringing. I've never had any opportunity of getting beyond the plainest of plain methods and my peals total is six.

Now I've found a new interest. With lots of time, unable to read for long and hating wireless, I can get a bit of paper and pencil and write out some of these methods, which I shall never ring. My wonder is that anyone has! But it has opened up a new vision of ringing.

Once one knows what the hieroglyphics mean the rest is simple. And what stinkers some of them are! In a new method published the other day there are 84 places and dodges to make in the plain course. Two 4-bell methods linked by the treble crossings.

How many of us imagine that, except in Stedman and its allies, treble work is confined to Plain and Treble Bob? It seems that it can be almost as complicated as the method! Yet stuff one has learned in one plain method still comes in and it is of further interest to note down any obvious aids in each method. May I commend to any ringer of modest limitations, who should be so unfortunate to find himself in hospital, to take with him the current copies of "R.W.", pencil and plenty of paper. The staff will probably think he's mad, but it may help them to put up with bells!

Thank you, Mr. Chant, and others, for a new interest in life.—Yours, etc.,

X. R. M.

"...GAINED ON THE ROUNDABOUTS"

Dear Sir.—The composition referred to on page 558 was got out solely for that method: it will not go to Yorkshire although there are other methods to which it will. It interested me to get as many "Before's" into a normal length as possible. Its defects are obvious but one cannot have everything, and what is lost on the swings is gained on the roundabouts by having roughly 50 per cent more 7-8 courses—than in a composition of natural courses.—Yours sincerely,

CHAS. J. SEDGLEY.

Ipswich.

"A SIMPLE VARIATION"

Dear Sir.—Whilst working on material for the new Central Council collection of compositions for Major methods, I have realised, somewhat tardily, that the composition of Ealing Surprise by P. J. Wycheley, published on March 5th, 1965, and referred to in the article in August 20th, is a simple variation of one composed and conducted by me at Cross Stone, Todmorden, on August 24th, 1963. The second bob M in Mr. Wycheley's peal is unnecessary, and if omitted the format of my own peal is produced, as follows:

23456	M	B	W	H
43526	—	—	—	—
24536	—	—	—	3
53246	—	—	—	3

Twice repeated.

As the authors of the article referred to above point out, the composition produced by S. Jenner is an improvement on this, inasmuch that it is reduced from 5,280 to 5,184, with the same qualities. If anyone can produce a 5,088 three-part with 12 combination courses I should be interested to see it.

Finally, I should like to comment that I feel it is undesirable that the authors of the article mentioned should find it necessary to conceal their identities.

W. E. CRITCHLEY.

NEW DOUBLES METHODS

Dear Sir.—Reference the peal rung at Cliford, Herefordshire, on August 22nd (pages 609 and 619, "R.W."), I would like to inform Mr. Lewis that these methods have been rung before. They are included in a section of the supplement (yet to be published) which deals with methods with twenty changes to the plain course. These methods have Grandsire Bobs, Pink Bobs, Antelope Bobs and others as their plain course.

The plain course of St. Cynidr and the others is "Wallflower Bob" (Grandsire 3rds on the front and 5th 4ths 5th at the back). The 20 changes which can be obtained from this bob are called Cannon Doubles—Wallflower Bob—Pl Plain Bob—Grandsire Single.

I understand that methods with 20 changes to their plain course are not recognised by the C.C. If I have made a mistake and such methods are allowed, I would be obliged if someone would correct me.

If I have misinterpreted Mr. Lewis' note on these methods I would be obliged if he also would correct me.—Yours faithfully,

ROY H. JONES.

118, Oxford Road,
Marston, Oxford.

CORRECTION

Dear Sir.—Thanks for inserting my little note about "Friendship and Ringing," but the actual layout of the peal was incorrect in so far as Frederick E. Collins rang the 11th and not as printed. Also, it was John Hunt's 400th peal. Thanking you, and wishing you well while the Editor is in Australia.—Yours faithfully,

W. HIBBERT.

Basingstoke.

CRICKET MATCH

Ladies v. Gentlemen of the Essex Association

Sandon House School, Essex, was the scene of an enjoyable cricket match on July 22nd. The ladies batted first, with Mesdames Roast and Harrison opening against the pace attack of Brown and Cooper. With the score at 3 (all wides off Cooper), Saltmarsh struck the first blow by getting Mrs. Roast caught by Mr. Roast. A recovery was made by Miss Towler and Mrs. Harrison, but when the score had reached 6 Thoday claimed the second wicket, a third going to J. Towler. Miss Y. Murray then joined the former, and runs came fairly briskly against a varied attack of some seven or eight bowlers (Saltmarsh using his resources to the full).

After the innings had been in progress for 1½ hours wickets began to tumble. Miss Towler, having played well against the body-line bowling of her brother, was finally bowled by Thoday. A superb catch by Brown off the same bowler dismissed Miss Frith, who was soon followed by Miss C. Murray and Miss Edwards, the latter being run out, and the innings closed at 39.

Messrs. Edwards and Brown opened for the men, but Edwards was soon bowled by Mrs. Roast. Towler then joined Brown, and a useful stand of 20 resulted. The captain, Saltmarsh, then retired these two, Panton and Thoday taking over the attack. The latter was eventually out hit-wicket, although both umpires thought otherwise. Five other batsmen were retired before Messrs. Roast and Saltmarsh, at the unusual positions of 10 and 11, steered the score past 39.

There was some dispute over the apparent run-out of Roast, but amid the encircling gloom no one could be sure. Afterwards both teams retired to a nearby hostelry. Thanks are due to the organisers, and to the headmaster of Sandon House School for allowing the use of the ground.

OBITUARY

MR. H. A. T. PRICE

We regret to report the death of Mr. "Bert" Price, a well known West Country ringer and tower captain of St. Mary the Virgin, Yatton. He passed away on September 6th, aged 58, after a short illness.

He learned to ring when he was 14 years old at Kingston Seymour, and moved to Yatton in 1938. He was elected vice-captain in 1945, a post he held until 1961, when he became captain. A most regular and punctual service ringer, he enjoyed his hobby until a few weeks before his death. Bert will be remembered for his untiring efforts to train and keep a strong local band of ringers. He will also be remembered for his ability in organising outings to many parts of the country. Although not a true tower collector, he acquired enough friends and stories from these excursions to ensure that visitors were not strangers to him, and that "tower gossip" did not falter. He was greatly interested in his church, being a lay reader and member of the Parochial Church Council. He was also a member of the Special Constabulary.

Many towers were represented at the funeral service on Friday, September 10th, at Yatton, and representatives of Wrington rang handbells at the graveside at Kingston Seymour, where the interment took place.

Devon and Cornwall Visit

Saturday, August 14th, dawned bright as ringers from a wide area converged on Uffculme's very fine ring. Despite traffic jams, which some were able to by-pass, the late arrivals were in time for Cullompton. A change in the programme brought us to the very rewarding eight at Silverton, and thence to Crediton. Here we were joined by Pat Cannon; but alas, D.N.C.B.M. could not be brought round! Our headquarters for the week at Stratton was reached by 7.30.

Sunday morning saw a very slow start, but Poughill provided us with our awakening. The delightful six were soon put to good use, and several members of the party were initiated into the art of call-change ringing. However, the local band then showed us how it should be done. We joined in the ringing at Marhamchurch, for "Revel Sunday" Matins. The first "Knock-Knock" (used by kind permission of A.P.C.) came in Launcells, where we performed after Matins. The afternoon activities commenced with a ring at Kilkhampton, where the one and only peal board was of interest to our Surrey historian. A short journey to Morwenstow gave the engineers some work to do, in adjusting a rope guide. After a curtailed ring the navigators found us a short cut (although not in time) to Welcome. What a pity this road is not classified! Tea was taken at Hartland, and soon the majestic six (housed in the tallest tower in Devon) were booming out to Cambridge. Evening ringing was carried out at Clovelly, with call-changes proving a great success. Upon our return to Stratton our host for the week, Harry Stacey, was waiting to welcome us in the belfry. After a few touches he requested us to ring a quarter peal; this we did, it duly being recorded on tape. The result of our labours was broadcast over breakfast the next morning.

FIRST PEAL SINCE 1902

The very good eight at North Tawton saw the first peal of the week under way. The traditional composition of Double Norwich was called by Pat. It was the first peal on these bells since 1902, although a call-change peal was rung in 1914 of some four hours' duration. Meanwhile the second XI (or was it VI) were busy with a peal at Launcells. An excellent lunch was followed by ringing at Sampford Courtenay, Okehampton, Hatherleigh, Holsworthy and Bridgerule, during which the writer endeavoured to call touches of Stedman Triples, amongst other things. Later in the evening the party split up, with some attending a local dance at Marhamchurch; but despite the activities of Tamara Press we returned to Stratton in the early hours of the morning.

Tuesday took us southward into Cornwall, where a long length of Middleton's Cambridge was scored at St. Mabyn. Following a quick lunch in Wadebridge, Mawgan-in-Pyder bells were soon pealing out to Yorkshire. Fortunately the tenor rope lasted the peal, as it snapped on the way down. It is about time certain ringers knew their own strength! Difficulty was experienced at Lanteglos (6), where the long ropes proved a hazard. The last tower of the day was Tintagel, where the road to the church eluded the drivers for some time.

The longest trip of the week came on Wednesday, with the first stop at Georgeham (8) before going on to Ilfracombe Holy Trinity, for what was the first peal there since 1926. After lunch farewells were paid to Pat Cannon, who was leaving to return home, everyone wishing him well for the Australian tour. Following a short ring at SS. Philip and Jacob. Plain Bob was the order at Braunton, John calling one of his own compositions.

FIRST LOSS

The long trip of the previous day took its toll at Warrington, where two bells crossed over in Kent T.B. after 40 minutes' ringing. However, this was soon forgotten with a busy afternoon programme, the highlights being a touch of 8-Spiced Surprise at Stoke Climsland (8) and a plain course of Yorkshire on the magnificent eight at Tavistock. The day concluded at Launceston, where the familiar figure of Wilf Boucher greeted us at St. Mary's. The homeward journey was somewhat confusing as the thirsty members of the party did not know the difference between the licensing hours of Devon and Cornwall.

By the time Friday came, keeping to time was proving difficult, but Northam was eventually reached, followed by Appledore, where we were joined by Brian Mountjoy, of Bideford, who kindly arranged the day's programme. The afternoon peal band took full advantage of the mid-day sun, which resulted in a fine peal of Rutland being rung at Bideford. The attempt coincided with the centenary celebrations of the rebuilding and consecration of the church in 1865. After the usual refreshments, the undersigned left the party for the "Emerald Isle." Littleham and Parkham were visited on the return to Stratton.

Alas! the last day arrived, but the success of the previous days could not be maintained, the peal at Winkleigh being lost after some 40 minutes' ringing. An additional attempt at Curry Rivel suffered a similar fate.

In conclusion, our thanks are due to all those who made this week a success, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. Stacey for accommodating us, and to Wilf Boucher and Brian Mountjoy in assisting the organiser with the arrangements. Last, but not least, to all the incumbents and tower captains for granting the use of their bells.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Lewisham District

The quarterly meeting of the District at Bromley Common on July 24th was only moderately well attended. After a service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. R. Osborn), the tea and business meeting were held in the Church Hall.

The Vicar took the chair at the short-to-the-point meeting, in which a vote of thanks to him was passed. Thanks were also expressed to the organist, and to the ladies for an excellent tea. Ringing was resumed after the meeting until 8 o'clock, under the direction of the District Ringing Master, Tony Lewis. Ringing ranged from rounds to Bristol Surprise.

Unfortunately the meeting was not the success it could have been, due to some members putting it second-best to peals, etc.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATIONBiggleswade District

The September meeting of the Biggleswade District was held at Maulden on September 11th. Ringing in a variety of methods continued on the light eight throughout the afternoon, with Mr. R. J. Sharp as Ringing Master.

Mr. M. J. Lockey, the District organist, played the organ at a service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Mr. Oakley), who gave an address. One new member from Maulden was elected during the business meeting, which followed an enjoyable tea in the Village Hall. The secretary stated that there were still some subscriptions outstanding for this year. Ringing during the evening ranged from rounds and Plain Bob for the less proficient but none the less keen learners, to 4-spliced for the more experienced.

Next meeting: Stotfold, October 9th.

SELBY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The monthly meeting of the Selby and District Society was held at Huntington, near York, on September 4th. After two hours of ringing in a variety of methods there was a celebration of Holy Communion by the Vicar (the Rev. Geoffrey Lawn). The Epistle was read by the former tower captain, David Pearson, and the Gospel by the secretary of the Yorkshire Association, Wilfrid Moreton.

Nearly 60 people later enjoyed a buffet tea served in St. Andrew's Church Hall, where parishioners had the opportunity of meeting the bellringers.

At the business meeting, four new members from Huntington were elected: Shirley Bealand, Susan Mitchell, Lynn Clowe and Christopher Milner. Bert Foster proposed the vote of thanks. He thought that it was the first meeting of the Society at which there had been a celebration of Holy Communion and he knew of no other tower where the parishioners took such an active interest in the bells. There was further ringing in the evening.

SWANSEA AND BRECONDIOCESAN GUILD*Southern District

On Saturday, August 21st, 1965, a quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Gorseinon. The weather, although unsettled, should not have caused the disappointing attendance; but thanks to the visitors the ringing before and after the service was very satisfactory. The service, which was held in St. Catherine's Church, was conducted by the curate, and a short address was given by the Vicar, the Rev. Trevor Evans.

Tea was served in the Church Hall, and the appreciation of all, for the excellent meal and the voluntary service given, was fully expressed in the vote of thanks by Mr. Malcolm Johns.

At the business meeting the chair was taken by the Vicar, who welcomed the Guild to St. Catherine's, and especially the visitors. Apologies were read from Mr. L. Evans and Mr. W. Dobbins. Mr. Dobbins is now unable to leave his home.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and duly adopted as a true record. Arising out of the minutes, it was reported that the meeting at Eardisland was held on July 31st.

An invitation to Sketty for the Annual General (District) was accepted. A Notice of Motion by Mr. John Hughes was read, and will be included in the agenda at the Annual Festival, 1966.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding at the meeting, for the arrangements made, and for the use of the bells. The organist was also thanked for his kind services.

STRATTON, CORNWALL.—On Aug. 29th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: S. Stacey 1, A. Bisset 2, B. G. D. Vince 3, H. Heard 4, N. Mages 5, H. Stacey 6, E. J. Ladd (cond.) 7, J. Sangwin 8.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY

By kind invitation of the Gnosall ringers, a successful meeting was held at St. Lawrence's Church. The heavy ring of six bells, tuned in F minor, was rung prior to the service, which was fully choral and conducted by the Vicar.

The Gnosall ladies did the Society proud by providing a really excellent tea, after which it was announced that the annual reports were available. The next meeting would be at Enville, on Saturday, October 16th, usual arrangements, but members are warned that no tea will be provided. The annual dinner will be at the Black Horse, Wolverhampton, on Saturday, November 6th. An appeal was made to members who might have any books they would like to present to the Society towards the building of a library, to be run by the assistant secretary, Mr. Peter Barker, of Cannock.

It is hoped to organise a series of evening instruction courses for anyone interested in the teaching of ringers. The six-bell striking competition will continue, but in addition it is hoped to arrange one for eight bell bands if support is forthcoming. The following new resident members were elected: A. Marson (Lichfield St. Michael), and J. D. Chamberlain (Lichfield Cathedral). After the Society's thanks had been given to all who had worked so hard towards this extra meeting, further ringing was enjoyed on Gnosall's 17 cwt. six.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

"Sunny Rhyl" did not live up to its reputation for the half-yearly meeting held on September 4th, but in spite of the rather inclement weather about forty members and visitors attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. J. Lloyd, Vicar of Llanferris, who deputised for the president (Chancellor D. E. M. Glynne-Jones).

Canon J. Knighton Jones, Vicar of Rhyl, presided over the tea and business meeting, supported by Mr. F. R. Evans (Ringing Master). A feature was a proposal by Mr. A. Bailey that two of the Association's oldest members be elected honorary life members, viz.: Mrs. J. Clutton (Wrexham) and Mr. O. Evans (Abergele); both have been staunch members for over 60 years—Mr. Evans having joined the Association when it was formed in 1903. New members elected were: Gareth Jones (Buckley), Kenneth Evans and Phyllis Davies (Llandudno), and Mr. J. Roberts (Chirk).

The Ringing Master said that during his visits to towers during the last twelve months he was pleased to see that progress was being maintained, and meetings well attended by young ringers. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding, to the Rev. H. J. Lloyd for his excellent address at the service, to the organist and to Miss Wallis and her band of helpers for the excellent tea provided.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

The third annual outing of the branch on September 4th was in the Hampshire area and included six towers. At Damerham—a lovely church in its wooded setting and with lovely bells, too—we were welcomed by the Vicar (the Rev. G. W. H. Moule), himself a ringer, as was his father before him, and in the same tower.

Fordingbridge's much-rung eight provided the first Triples of the day and a course or two of Plain Bob. Here we were met by R. Marlow, a welcome prop to our mainly 6-bell ringers. Hordle (noisy but well-going) raised the standard to London Surprise Minor, and the conjunction of another touring company meant continuous ringing and no lack of catching hold. Lymington, and more Triples to speed a newly-married couple on their way, and Milford-on-Sea, with its very delightful and musical octave and the pleasure of ringing with some of the local band. Tea at Milford's Bay Trees Restaurant fortified the inner man for the finale at Ringwood. Again, welcomed and joined by the local captain, Mr. Cheater, Stedman Triples rounded off a pleasant day of good bells, good ringing and good company.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Distinctly heard in a recent peal—"Ice-cream"—derivation of "extreme."

We regret to learn that Mrs. Edith Fletcher has been admitted to Northgate Hospital, Great Yarmouth. She is seriously ill as a result of strokes and the blood circulation of the brain has been severely damaged.

Ron Tipper, 12-year-old son of the captain of Petersfield tower, rang his first quarter on Sunday, September 12th. He started ringing last Easter. Well done, Ron; how about a peal soon?

Will Mr. G. Arnold Moore, of North Staffs, kindly send his address to the "Ringing World" office so that the peal cards may be forwarded to him when ready.

Members of the band which rang the peal of Rutland at Rotherfield would like to congratulate Ray Large and Margaret Ladd on their recent engagement. It was unfortunate that circumstances prevented the peal being rung in honour of the engagement.

The attempt for 10,080 Grandsire Triples at Edenham, Lincs, on September 4th, failed after two hours, due to a too-late call.

The reason the band met short for the long peal of London Royal at Macclesfield was due to a misunderstanding with regard to dates. (The original arrangements were for September 11th.) For all future attempts with our band, we will announce the venue and time in the "R.W." at least two issues prior to the attempt. Sincere apologies are offered to all concerned.—R. B. Smith.

BARNSELY DISTRICT CONTEST

The Barnsley District Society held a cup contest at Hoylandswaine on September 11th. Two teams entered, and eight towers were represented. Mr. Hilton Sykes was judge, and Mr. Noel Moxon marker.

This was a rise and fall, with 360 changes as the test piece, the result being: No. 1, Shelley, fall 2, rise 4, faults for test 20; No. 2, Meltham, fall 14, rise 22, faults for test 15. Meltham were declared the winners of the test piece, and Shelley winners of the rise and fall. The cup was presented by Mr. Noel F. Moxon, and received by Mr. Charlie Byram on behalf of the Meltham team, in which three generations were represented: Denis Greenwood, with his mother and father, and Mr. Byram grandfather.

Susan Greenwood was elected a member. Mr. Edward Earnshaw (Meltham) offered the usual vote of thanks, and had special praise for the ladies. Although the contest was disappointing, ringing afterwards was enjoyable.

RINGERS TO THE RESCUE!

During the period 1951-1964 the bells of St. Luke's, Bedminster, Bristol, were not rung. However, local volunteers have carried out such minor repairs (mainly to the wheels and a general tightening-up) as were necessary to get the bells ringing again. Only two peals—both Bob Minor—had been rung on the bells, one in 1901, the other in 1903. This long spell was broken on September 6th when a peal of four Minor methods was rung. Although the "go" of the bells is not entirely satisfactory it is hoped that arrangements can be made in the near future to teach a local band. The six bells were cast and hung by Messrs. Llewelyn and James, Bristol.

AN ACT OF WORSHIP

The Rev. John Freeman, Vicar of Warmminster, addressing a gathering at Corsley, Wiltshire, said that service ringing was an act of worship. "It was, therefore, right that we should ring for the joy of exercising our art. Equally, it was important that the ringing should be good. No member of a band should allow himself, through carelessness or indifference, to mar the offering the belfry was trying to make."

RINGING IN PUBLIC

At the Brighton and Hove Archaeologists' meeting at Alfriston on September 11th, a mediaeval superstition was demonstrated to be still effective (vide "R.W." January 4th, 1963, page 2). Two talks were given, the first on the architecture of this Cathedral of the Downs and the second on the ringers' art. This was immediately followed by a quarter peal of Doubles performed by ringers from Aldington, Brighton, Burgess Hill and Hurstpierpoint. During the whole of the ringing the audience of over 60 sat attentively as bells and thunderstorm met in conflict, and at the end they almost, but not quite, burst into applause—the storm had fled, and the evening sun smiled all the way home.

YORK OFFICIAL RETIRES FROM RAILWAY

Mr. Harold Walker, of Clifton, Yorkshire, vice-president of the Yorkshire Association of Change Ringers and president of the York Minster Society of Change Ringers, has retired from the railway after 50 years service. For 10 years until July, 1964, Mr. Walker was assistant carriage and wagon works manager York.

Now 65, he began ringing at Doncaster Parish Church at the age of 18, and has since rung in about 500 towers up and down the country.

Last October he was a member of the York Minster team which rang 5,016 changes in 3 hours 49 minutes, the first time this had been accomplished at the Minster since 1892.

RETURNING FROM JAMAICA

Mr. Hugh Falkner, writing from the College of Technology, Kingston, Jamaica, says it may interest Croydon and Cirencester readers to know that his six years in Jamaica are now being completed, and that he will be returning to the Old Country—not, however, directly, but by way of New Zealand and Australia. He hopes to get some ringing there and to be in the U.K. for Easter, 1966. "St. Thomas" in Salisbury (Wilts) might also be warned. They promised me a quarter peal on my return!"

RECORD BY ELIZABETH?

Sending details of a long length peal rung at Babworth, Notts, the conductor, Mr. Martin Kirk, of Bishop Otter College, Chichester, offers his thanks and congratulations to the rest of the band, and especially to Elizabeth Foster who, he says, at the age of 17 is believed to be the youngest lady ringer to ring such length—certainly in the north Midlands if not the country. The peal was rung in 4 hours 39 minutes, and slips were very few.

KIRKBY RINGERS' OUTING

The sun had just broken through when a team of eight ringers left Kirkby for their annual outing, which this year was concentrated on villages situated on either side of the River Trent, between Newark and Gainsborough. They managed to ring at five towers before lunch, including Eagle, where they were met by two local ringers, Mr. F. Butler and Mr. G. A. Smith (the latter has rung for over 61 years), who joined the band for touches of Plain Bob Minor as well as Grandsire.

After a picnic lunch the band went on to Stow, where the tower captain, Mr. A. L. Denton, joined them for Original. After tea the party called at Rampton, where a ringing contest had been held before tea. Here, joined by contestants, some of the Kirkby band rang in well-struck Cambridge Minor.

It was already dark by the time the party reached the last tower at Ossington, but unfortunately they were unable to stay long as the rope on the second bell broke and descended upon its ringer!

Mr. William Wagstaff, of Ickwell Green, celebrated his 85th birthday on August 30th. He has been a ringer for 65 years, and fellow members of the Bedfordshire Association rang a quarter peal of Bob Doubles in his honour at his home tower.

NO "COLD FEET" THIS TIME!

A three year old ambition was fulfilled for the University of Bristol Society at Leicester on September 11th, when a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus was rung. This was the Society's first attempt at Maximus, having previous met short at Tewkesbury and getting "cold feet" at Birmingham. It is notable that there were seven "firsts" in the band, and one bearded ringer declared afterwards that he had "never struck a blow in the method before." The band was representative, comprising three resident members, six Past Masters, a past secretary and tower secretary, these "eleven other yobs" all being kept in order by a past honorary head gardener and resident grandfather!

U.B.S.C.R. TOUR

The University of Bristol Society enjoyed a pleasant Thames-side tour on August Bank Holiday week-end. Meeting at Caversham on the Saturday, they found several pleasant spots westwards, ringing at Mapledurham (with the Rev. E. Woods), Benson, Dorchester, Wallingford and Pangbourne, the last named being an enjoyable six.

Sunday was spent in Buckinghamshire. Bells at Burnham, Hitcham, Slough and Dorney were all very much enjoyed. Angela and Cliff Blundell not only arranged the day's ringing, but laid on a splendid lunch and tea on their lawn.

Monday, a brilliant day, started at Waltham St. Lawrence and picturesque Bray. Maidenhead (Boyne Hill) bells were enjoyable, and there was good ringing at Cookham. Henley had to be rushed because of holiday traffic. At Shiplake the party were greeted by old friends, Don and Sally Cobb (and son), and enjoyed the bells. Farewells were made at Wargrave after finishing with the by now traditional Stedman Triples.

Thanks are due to all incumbents and ringers who allowed the use of bells, and to Angela and Cliff for such splendid hospitality.

AMBITION REALISED

A peal of 5,040 Plain Bob Minor on September 11th at St. Michael's Church, Appleby Magna, Leicestershire, achieved a long cherished ambition by Charlie Eyre. He learnt to handle a bell at Appleby some 40 years ago and left the district without having a peal recorded there.

For over 20 years now Sunday service ringing has taken place and the infrequent visits of peal bands and tower grabbers have been insufficient to prevent seizure of the slider gear, and clogging of the bearings. And for some years now surrounding ringers had pronounced them unpealable and virtually unringable. However, a few weeks before the attempt Charles, ably assisted by young Gordon, went along with tools and large quantities of oil. The bell loft was cleaned, the sliders, bearings and pulleys freed and lubricated, and the band were able to score a good peal.

In the "local" afterwards the greeting was "Are you the blokes (and blokes) who have been ringing the bells all afternoon?" When the bashful affirmative had been given a local said, "It was really splendid; please come again!"

The band were entertained to a lavish repast at the home of Mrs. Eyre, senior, and sincere thanks are recorded to all who helped to make the attempt possible and the social hour so enjoyable.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY TOUR

The O.U.S., some 20 strong, arrived at Truro on April 17th. Sunday ringing was confined to Truro Cathedral and some local towers, and Monday heralded the first day of the tour proper. Harry Miles and Miss Lidger joined us, and our organiser, Colin Taylor, made the total up to 23. The day's ringing was in the Bodmin area.

Tuesday dawned bright and clear. The day's towers included the most southerly in the country, Landewednack. Wednesday enabled us to wash our feet in the foaming brine at Lelant after perilously traversing a golf course.
The best ringing of the day was London at Carbis Bay and Superlative at Penzance.
Thursday had several touches of the mythical Kilburn rung, although by now no one was too surprised when the one at St. Austell turned out to be Real Superlative. Lunch was taken at the beautiful town of Fowey, and at 2.30 we all somehow managed to cross the ferry to Polruan to rejoin our coach.

At the last eight of the tour, Liskeard, some good 10-spliced was rung. Lack of time prevented a farewell course of Cornwall. The last tower of all, Lostwithiel, is a home of call-change ringers. We were all on our best behaviour and it is hoped our scientific ringing did not compare too badly. After a long evening of jollification the party left on Friday morning. Most of us thought the tour to be over, but those still at college were joined in Oxford on Sunday night by all but two of the others, for further festivities.

The tour was a great success, due mainly to the calm organisation of the unflappable Colin Taylor, to whom we offer our thanks.

GREAT RECEPTION FOR ADVENTURERS AT PERTH

Publicity Induces Church Authorities to Approach Lord Mayor for New Bells

GREAT ADVENTURE II had a wonderful send-off at London Airport on Sunday, September 5th. Promptly at 3 p.m. the Boeing 707 set out on the journey to Moscow, which was not reached until it was dark.

The first drink on the plane was on the call of the leader, Mr. Tom Lock. "Success to the Adventure" was toasted in champagne. Supervision was stricter at Moscow than at any other airport. Passports were collected before we left to spend an hour in the spacious transit hall and drink coffee. The shops were not open, but the windows had a fine display, prices marked in dollars. Departure was delayed half an hour owing to a police investigation; happy to say no suspicion fell on our party.

It was a long hop to Delhi. A leisurely beautifully cooked dinner passed the time and most of the party dozed off. But dawn was at 2 a.m. G.M.T. The brilliant golden reflection of the sun over the mountains of white clouds was a sight few will forget. This was within half an hour of Delhi. None of us were ready for the overpowering heat as we left the plane for the transit hall, and the cup of tea was most refreshing. Returning to the plane, we had our first introduction to damp ice-cold cloths. We had a new crew. The Indian air hostesses had a perfect command of English, and their hands held together as if in prayer to welcome travellers entering the plane was impressive.

There was a two-hour break at Bombay. It was a short journey to Madras, again very warm as we left the plane. Leaving, we had a wonderful view of miles of the sandy Malabar coast. Night had fallen when we reached Singapore.

The final section to Perth was 2,514 miles, most of the journey being at a height of 36,000 feet. It was after 1.30 a.m. before we landed. Brian Potts, Laith Reynolds, Jim Carter and many other Perth ringers were waiting for us with Arthur Mason.

Perth ringers were delightful hosts and our party were entertained by the following: Mr. and Mrs. S. Burton with Basil Potts; Mark Damerell with Jacoba Hos; A. Patrick Cannon and L. Stilwell, Helen Whale; Anne Horsford, Mrs. Peterkin, T. J. Lock and A. Mason, Marilyn Chambers; Rev. Malcolm Melville, The Society of the Sacred Mission; Cecil E. Pipe, Margaret Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. White, Jim Carter; Wilfred Williams, Terry Slee.

It was a very tired party that assembled on Tuesday, and a number had stomach trouble, probably through heavy meals and lack of Exercise. Tuesday's ringing consisted of six touches at lunch time and eight in the evening. They included the first of Cambridge Major on the bells, the first of Plain Bob Major since 1934, and the first of Grandsire and Stedman Triples. Marilyn Chambers and John Watson rang their first of Major. Joining in the Tuesday's ringing was Mr. W. B. Cartwright, who had been attending the third Commonwealth and Empire Law Conference at Sydney, and also rang on the new ten at St. Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney, and a quarter of Bob Triples at St. Mary's R.C. Cathedral. After the practice, Tom Lock presented to the tower a copy of Edgar C. Shepherd's book, "The Sound of Bells." A social hour at the King Edward Hotel finished the day.

CRITICISM OF BELLS

There was a very full programme on Wednesday. The Rev. Malcolm Melville was the celebrant at a Corporate Communion at 10.30 a.m. At noon the party met the Archbishop of Perth (the Most Rev. George Appleton) and the Dean (the Very Rev. James Payne). Mr. Cecil Pipe had previously given a Press interview in which he criticised St. George's bells and the oscillation of the tower. This was followed by a Press cartoon headed "You see, I told you the bell tower was a bit shaky," with a sorrowful assembly of tower debris and broken bells. This focused attention on the needs of the belfry. What St. George's ringers wanted was an augmentation to ten with two new trebles, a reduction in the weight of the tenor and lowering the bells in the tower. The Archbishop and the Dean both discussed this matter and it was also mentioned on A.B.C. television and radio.

A reception was given by the Lord Mayor (Cclr. C. J. B. Veryard) in the magnificent new Council House.

A hasty lunch preceded ringing for the lunch-hour service, at which the Rev. M. Melville gave the address. Some of the party explored the glories of King's Park in the afternoon before settling down to two quarter peals, the idea of a peal being abandoned on account of the general condition of the tower and a number of the ringers being under the weather. An excellent start was made by a good quarter of Stedman Triples conducted by Wilfred Williams and completed in the very fast time of 38 minutes for a tenor of 22 cwt. The band was: W. Williams treble, A. G. Mason 2, C. E. Pipe 3, M. C. C. Melville 4, L. Stilwell 5, R. M. Damerell 6, A. P. Cannon 7, T. Lock tenor. The ringing gave great pleasure and a number of people gathered in the precinct of the Cathedral to listen. Later the band was to be seen in action on television.

Before the band left the belfry the Dean sent his congratulations and it was announced that in appreciation of the visit of the English ringers the Archbishop and Dean had decided to approach the Lord Mayor to issue a civic appeal for £4,000 for the restoration and augmentation of the bells.

Three local ringers were included in the second quarter attempt of Grandsire Triples. The band stood: Miss A. Horsford treble, S. Burton 2, A. P. Cannon (conductor) 3, M. Damerell 4, B. Potts 5, L. Reynolds 6, T. J. Lock 7, T. J. Gregory tenor. The last-named only arrived in Australia about a fortnight ago and formerly rang at St. John's, Crawley. The quarter was successfully brought round in 46 minutes.

Among those who were introduced to the ringers was Mr. Thomas Hodgkiss, now aged 80 and living at the War Veterans' Home, Mount Lawley. He was granted the privilege of pulling a rope and told the company that it was 40 years ago that he last rang a bell, when he was a member of the Woodchurch, Birkenhead, band. There was another social evening later. All the members of the band had been elected hon. members of the Australian and New Zealand Association of Bellringers. The Master again expressed his appreciation and thanks to Perth ringers for a wonderful introduction to Australian ringing, and this was further endorsed at the airport on Thursday, when we were entertained to lunch.

THE TOURISTS IN ADELAIDE

First Peal of Surprise at the Cathedral Town Hall Bells Too Big a Proposition

OUR stay in the beautiful city of Perth was all too short and on Thursday afternoon we were in the plane for Adelaide. Although it was showery, the morning was spent sight-seeing—the Editor and Mrs. White being taken to Freemantle by the Rev. John Williams and Mrs. Carter. Perth ringers had lunch with us at the airport.

Pent-up excitement was clearly visible among Adelaide ringers as we left the plane. Bill Pitcher, the Cathedral captain and editor of "Ringing Towers," had organised a full programme. With him were Brian Cox, David Bleby, Kaye Lynas and Ron Russ with cars to transport us to our hotel. Monica Collins gave Pat Cannon a warm embrace and also the Editor and Mrs. White, who both lived in her home town. Anne Horsford accompanied her to her flat. Pat Cannon and Len Stilwell stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Russ and the remainder at the Grosvenor Hotel.

CLAPPER ADJUSTED

That evening a practice was held at St. Peter's Cathedral, which has the second heaviest eight in the world with a tenor of 41 cwt. 1 qr. in C. The advantage of this ring is that the 7th of 27 cwt. and the 6th of 21 cwt. prevent the tenor from dominating and spoiling the real beauty of the ring. These bells were cast by Taylor's in 1946 and installed in 1947; they are truly a magnificent ring. Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge were rung. It was noted by Cecil Pipe that the tenor's clapper needed attention; assisted by Bill Pitcher and David Bleby the clapper was centralised by Cecil the following morning. After the practice a pleasant hour or so was spent at Toorak Gardens as the guests of Mrs. Lynas and her daughter Kaye, who is secretary of the tower.

That evening Len Stilwell met a former Sussex ringer, Fred Smeaton, formerly of St. Nicholas', Brighton, who had been in Australia since 1949 and is bursar of Poltney School, Adelaide. Fred took part in the bankers' peal at St. Olave's, Hart Street, called by Alan Pink.

Financial difficulties arose on Friday morning when the band presented themselves at the National Bank of New South Wales. Drafts on this bank had been sent to the branches at Adelaide and Sydney. The Adelaide draft had not been received; inquiries locally were unsuccessful; finally a call was put through to Sydney, who had received their portions. Payments were accordingly made of the Sydney credits and assurances were given that the Adelaide draft would be awaiting us at Sydney.

UNEXPECTED TAYLOR'S BELLS

The afternoon was spent at two beauty spots—on the seafont at Glenelg, where the English cricketers will stay during their sojourn at Adelaide, and at Mount Lofty, a peak in the range of hills overlooking Adelaide. Near the summit is St. Michael's House of the Society of the Sacred Mission from Kelham.

In the grounds, mounted on four steel struts is a 25 cwt. Taylor bell complete with wheel. This is rung for services and booms across the valley when a fire alarm is necessary. The bell came from the Community of the Ascension at Golburn, N.S.W. The Principal chatted with us and knew a number of friends associated with the Order, among them being the Rev. Alan Butler, who was a founder member of the Roving Ringers.

A Devonshire tea of cream and splits was served at the restaurant at the top of the mountain before we descended into Walkerville for a practice and peal attempt. St. Andrew's Church, Walkerville, was founded about 117 years ago—and the bells (a ring of six) were installed by Mears in 1886 and new bearings provided in 1950. Our peal—one in seven Minor methods—was successful and was the fourth on the bells. It was relatively "easy meat." Pat Cannon conducted and the bells came round with the seventh extent completed in 2 hours and 47 minutes. Len Stilwell, who rang the second, was photographed for "The Advertiser" with Anne Horsford, who was ringing her first of Minor, and the Rev. Malcolm Melville, who rang the third. In the interview Len admitted that he had been ringing for 62 years.

A happy band joined the rest of the party at St. David's, Burnside Rectory, where all were hospitably entertained by Archdeacon J. R. Bleby and Mrs. Bleby. The entertainment included Bill Pitcher showing his film on the production of "Ringing Towers," the quarterly journal of the Association. Bill seemed to combine most of the production duties in his job as editor.

AT THE TOWN HALL

On Saturday morning came the visit to the octave at the Town Hall (tenor 13 cwt. 2 qr. 13 lb.). Cast by Warners in 1865, they had not been touched for 54 years until Ron Russ and others started repairs. After preliminary rings the conclusion was that no peal could be rung.

A quarter peal of 1,344 Plain Bob Major was rung and a good standard maintained, the time taken being 46 minutes. The band con-

Brig. J. C. D. Veale (the town clerk) met some of the ringers and commented on how pleasant the bells sounded. He admitted that reconditioning was desirable. In the street below, a woman told the Editor that the bells took her memory back 50 years when they used to ring "Good people come to church on Sundays." She had not heard bells rung like that for many years.

WILD LIFE

The barbecue in the afternoon in the National Park was a new experience to the English ringers. Eight car loads went to a beautiful spot. Steaks and sausages were soon sizzling. The birds were a source of endless interest.

In the evening Australian ringers held their annual dinner, at which the English visitors were honoured guests. We were feeding for more than two hours and sampling Australian wines. Bill Pitcher, as Ringing Master at the Cathedral, presided. The Bishop of Adelaide (the Right Rev. Tom Reed) and Mrs. Reed entered fully into the informality of the proceedings. Here is some of the Bishop's verse:

Some diners from the far U.K.,
All being polite had little to say,
But the hosts we find were doing fine,
Chatting away in atrocious time,
And comforting their guests with lots of wine.
Mr. C. Hervey Bagot, president of the Australian and New Zealand Association, had come by coach the 600 miles to give the official speech of welcome and said he was particularly pleased that the opportunity occurred in the premier ringing State! (Hervey was one-time captain of Adelaide Cathedral band.)

Tom Lock appropriately replied and the recorded greeting of Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, was played. The Bishop, in his speech, expressed the hope that when he was next in London, in 1968, he would have the opportunity of drinking a glass of "Thames Water" with Tom Lock.

The first real test of the tourists' peal ringing ability came on Sunday afternoon immediately after the Sung Eucharist at the Cathedral. Hardly any of the party were fit for a big ordeal. Cambridge Surprise Major was chosen with Wilfred Williams as conductor, calling from the treble. A good peal of Middleton's was rung at a steady beat of 23-24 to the minute. The only blemish came within the last few minutes but the trip was righted at once. Widespread congratulations followed, completion being in 3 hours 42 minutes. These included a special message from the Bishop and Mrs. Reed. This was the fourth peal on the bells and the first of Surprise.

Pat Cannon, who has rung four peals on Sherborne tenor, declared that this bell was a harder proposition. The heavy bells were rung well—Tom Lock being on the seventh and Cecil Pipe on the sixth. Before starting, Cecil insisted that the clock face in the belfry be covered; he couldn't bear to see the 222 minutes slowly crawling round the clock face!

FAREWELL GIFTS

Ring the second was Hervey Bagot, who was captain of St. Peter's Cathedral band from 1957 to 1960. He had never rung a peal on the bells and this was his first peal of Surprise—and well rung, too! A cup of tea in the Bishop's Vicar's residence was most welcome to the band. Afterwards Tom Lock made presentations of Edgar Shepherd's book and an ash tray. The peal band also gave a donation of £5 towards the ringers' pew for the Cathedral in memory of the donor of the bells.

Cars took the party to the airport, which was not without incident—the Editor's case was missing. Fortunately it was found in the hall of the Vicarage and reached the party before they embarked on the Melbourne plane. And so ended three days of happy memories in which new friendships were created,

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD

On Their Own Ground

A SUB-TITLE such as the above does not, perhaps, give a very fair picture of this year's tour, which began on August 21st, as for most of the time we were well out of Cambridge, only returning there to dine, sleep and breakfast. We were comfortably accommodated on "B" staircase of Selwyn College, thanks to the good offices of the bursar, Dr. C. M. P. Johnson, and for dining and breakfasting the food was adequate, provided one remembered that most of the staff were on holiday. This opening paragraph seems a good place to mention that we were in Cambridge this year because we always have our tour in Cambridge every fifth year, and this was one of them.

During last year's tour the request was made that the place of the peal attempt which normally opens the week on the first Saturday afternoon should be published in the programme of the week, so that those who wanted to could go along and listen. This was duly done, and the first item on the programme read, "Saturday—Peal—Chelmsford." It therefore came as no surprise that the peal attempt was at King's Lynn. It appears that the bells here disliked either the ringers or the method (Stedman Caters) and decided to go badly, so the attempt was unsuccessful.

For those who had arrived by Sunday morning, there were no fewer than seven towers shown on the programme to choose from during the course of the day—you could even go to two of them twice. Personally, I didn't arrive in Cambridge until the evening—at the same time as the rain—so I did not ring anywhere.

On Monday a.m. a peal of Bristol was rung on the fine bells at Elveden, while the non-pealers visited Horringer and the extremely interesting six at Fornham St. Martin—a splendid ring of bells for those who are prepared to work hard. After lunch there was ringing at Ixworth, Stowmarket and the Norman tower at Bury St. Edmunds. In the evening some of us joined the Cambridge Youths at their practice at Great St. Mary's.

I doubt whether anyone who took part in the peal of Cambridge at Foxearth on Tuesday afternoon will ever forget that experience. Proceedings began with a key-hunt, during which we learned that people in the village liked to hear hymns being played on the bells. When we eventually got into the tower we duly obliged on the chiming apparatus. Then two stalwarts in the band took all the ropes up a foot or so on the wheel and applied a liberal dose of castor oil to the bearings, after which we could ring on this melodious anti-clockwise light eight, with a pendulum case in the middle of the rope circle, making rope-sight that little bit more interesting.

The saner part of the day consisted in ringing at Saffron Walden and All Saints', Sudbury, and, for the non-peal band, ringing at Long Melford, Clare and Haverhill.

In the evening we had our business meeting, which fortunately did not last very long. Members were reminded at this meeting that last year a member had requested that the words "This is all" should be used for a touch coming round at hand, "That's all" being reserved for touches coming round at back. As an alternative, "Here's all" and "There's all" were deemed, respectively, permissible.

Wednesday was mainly a Hertfordshire day. We called first at Ickleton, then visited Brent Pelham, Bishop's Stortford, Braughing and Norton. As a concession to this being our "Cambridge" week, the afternoon peal (London) was rung at Trumpington, while, after dinner, in case we had not had enough ringing during the day, the Master coerced us all into going to ring at Great Mary's.

We began Thursday with Corporate Communion in Selwyn College Chapel, the celebrant being Canon Thurlow, on his way home from foreign parts. We then journeyed through the fen country to ring at St. Andrew's, Whittlesey (if you open the trap door there you can hear the bells!), and at Peterborough (you can't help hearing the bells there!) After lunch, while some rang at St. Mary's, Huntingdon, St. Neots and Biggleswade, others rang a peal of Stedman at St. Ives. This was Major Freeborn's 100th peal of Stedman. In the evening we rang on the glorious bells of Cambridge Roman Catholic Church.

By Friday, various members had left, and as we had never been more than 20 strong, this meant that there were not enough of us left to have a peal band as well as a "tower-grabbing" band. So the peal attempt at Littleport was cancelled. We had a good day in the sunshine; first we went to Over, where Dr. J. B. Williamson rang the bell he had rung to his first peal in 1912. Then we had ringing at Haddenham, and after lunch we rang at Ely, following this with a journey through more fenland to Hilgay. Our last tower should have been Mildenhall, but as there was no key to be had we did not ring there.

The programme said: "Saturday—Disperse," and that is what we did. Besides the ringing, travelling, eating and sleeping already described, other activities during the week included handbell ringing, buying postcards, taking snapshots, playing darts (on one occasion we were offered six-inch nails for the purpose), playing cards, admiring church architecture, sneaking out of the tower when you hoped the Master was not looking, taking the wrong turning, getting rained on, and even (so I hear) adjourning to nearby hostleries. In short, a good time was had by all. Our thanks are due to all those who worked to make our "Guild Week" the success it always is. W. T. C.

BROMHAM OUTING

On Saturday, August 28th, the ringers of Bromham, Bedfordshire, had their second outing of the year, when a half-day trip was made to Oxfordshire.

At Great Tew the local secretary, Mr. C. Marley, was unable to meet us, but Mr. Clifton was waiting to conduct us to the ringing chamber at St. Michael's, where a very happy hour was spent on the fine ring of eight. Leaving this charming spot, we headed for Hook Norton, where, at St. Peter's Church, we were received by Mr. C. Sole, and the splendid ring of eight proved all that could be desired.

After tea at Deddington, SS, Peter and Paul's Church was visited, and Mr. W. Ivings welcomed us to the belfry.

A journey of about seven miles brought us to Lower Heyford and its beautiful church, St. Mary's, in a perfectly kept churchyard. Mrs. Adams led us to the belfry, and we hope the sound of the bells completed the picture of a typical English village. The last tower of the day was St. Mary's, Bloxham, where Mr. E. S. Hitchcox, who conducted us to this imposing church, expressed his approval of our handling of the excellent ring of bells. The last "pull" of the day was at Banbury and the sole performer was the barman at a well known hostelry! Sincere thanks to the incumbents, to all who contributed to our enjoyment, and especially to Mr. C. C. Clarke of Deddington, who not only helped by arranging tea but obtained a substitute tower at short notice and whose co-operation is warmly appreciated by Derek Hammond, our organiser. A. E. R.

Letters to the Editor

WITNEY BELLS

Dear Sir,—Your article on Witney bells interests me, as my family gravitated between the incumbencies of Witney and Chobham for about 100 years. From the article it is not quite clear as to exactly when it was that the Rector took hold. Was the Rev. Cunningham referring in 1868 to the past or present?

My grandfather left Witney about 1854 to return to Chobham, where my father was born in 1855. But my general impression is that things could either not have been in a very bad way at Witney in his time; or, alternatively, that he was the Rector responsible for putting things right, which would be in character.

My reasons are that my family always seems to have had an interest in ringers. My grandfather, certainly at Chobham and, I think, at Witney, always held a ringers' supper in the Vicarage, and, after his death, his daughters gave one of the present Chobham eight.

My parents, when we went to Talland, in Cornwall, in 1890, started a practice of the ringers' supper there, where I learned to ring on the old four.

A cousin, James (Jimmy) Jerram, was well known in Salisbury in his day.

None of this looks very much like trouble in the belfry up to about 1854. It seems, therefore, probable, to me, that the bad times were "got over" by my grandfather and that during the process he acquired a very friendly feeling for ringers, which endured over the succeeding generations. But I'd be interested to know more about those early years.—Yours truly,

C. F. JERRAM.

Helford, Helston, Cornwall.

WILLIAM SNOWDON

Dear Sir,—I am writing to correct a small error in the otherwise excellent leading article of September 17th marking the 50th anniversary of the death of William Snowdon. This refers to him being sent off to the Junior School of Christ's Hospital labelled "passenger to Horsham." No date is given for this journey but I assume it to have been about 1855.

The foundation stone of the school at Horsham was not laid, however, until 1899, and the transfer of the school from the site in Newgate Street, London (where the G.P.O. building now stands) did not take place until 1902. At the time William Snowdon became a Blue the Junior School was housed at Hertford, in buildings where the girls' school of Christ's Hospital now flourishes.

It must, therefore, have been to Hertford that he travelled from Leeds.—Your faithfully,

E. T. BEAUCHAMP.

Edmonton, N.

MOST METHODS TO A PEAL

Dear Sir,—The most methods to a peal for the Salisbury Guild are 50, rung at Mildenhall, Wilts, on June 23rd, 1963; the footnote to the peal rung at Holt on July 13th, 1965, is therefore not correct.—Yours faithfully,

ANTHONY R. PEAKE.

Swindon, Wilts.

RECENT COMPOSITIONS

Dear Sir,—Although I agree with G. B. T. that it is wasteful if compositions are published more than once, surely it is natural, after waiting six months for publication, to resubmit the composition assuming that it has been mislaid. It is not, I feel, unreasonable to expect compositions to be published as soon as possible after submission, e.g. Skelton Surprise Major published in the issue for September 3rd together with the peal report. I suggest that a section be reserved each week for the sole purpose of clearing the backlog of unpublished compositions, and that, in future, compositions should not be used merely as useful space-fillers.

I cannot accept G. B. T.'s comment on the unoriginality of the Bristol. It was seen by Stephen Ivlin prior to submission and, although it varies only slightly from his composition, there is only a 5,280 by E. A. Barnett in existence with these particular qualities.

Referring to the final paragraph of G. B. T.'s article it would appear inadvisable to use Singles in Lincolnshire, but I expect someone will attempt to prove me wrong!

Finally, would it not be possible, for the benefit of new recruits to the Exercise, for articles to be signed in full? I'm sure that not everyone will know that G. B. T. stands for Giles B. Thompson.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN R. KETTERINGHAM.

Note.—The occasional duplication of an item, be it a peal or a composition, is, we regret, probably inevitable if submitted twice. If with our readers' help we could double our circulation we should have both space to print contributions speedily and cash to afford the necessary staff for checking. So long as we are given his name, we accept that some of our contributors prefer publication over their initials only—they risk not being recognised.—Ed.

RINGERS' HOSPITALITY

Dear Sir,—Having just returned from a holiday in London, I would like, through the courtesy of "The Ringing World," to thank the ringers I met whose hospitality and fellowship made my holiday so enjoyable.

Thank you, ringers of Bushey, Isleworth and Putney, whose practices I attended, and Chelsea and Fulham, where I rang on Sunday.

I would add a special note of thanks to the tour party from Norwich and Southampton, who on Saturday afternoon so kindly allowed me to join their party and, with them, to "grab" five towers. This sort of fellowship is the stuff the Exercise is made of.—Yours sincerely,

TERENCE M. FITZGERALD.

Great Crosby, Liverpool.

VETERAN SECRETARY'S THANKS

Dear Sir,—May I be permitted to write and thank you very much for your many kindnesses to me during my 33 years as Eastern District secretary of the Yorkshire Association of Change Ringers in inserting notices of meetings, etc., in "The Ringing World" so promptly every time.

I have just retired from the position and have been very happy in my job; and you have been very good in helping me in my work. Many thanks.—Yours sincerely,

HORACE S. MORLEY.

Selby, Yorkshire.

We very much appreciate Mr. Morley's kind letter.—Ed.

DOUBLES—UNTRUE COMPOSITIONS

Dear Sir,—Recent rechecking of certain Doubles variations reveals that the methods named by us as Quantum, Xerxes and Yttrium have no true composition for a 120. As a result we are obliged to withdraw a quarter at Leighton Bromswold, May 31st ("Ringing World," page 419); a peal at Breadsall, July 31st ("Ringing World," page 550); two quarters at Kirkby-in-Ashfield, August 22nd and September 5th; and 10,080 at Babworth, September 9th. Our apologies to all concerned.

In answer to Roy Jones' letter ("Ringing World," page 624) I would point out that if, as he claims, he has rung two of these methods under other names, he would be advised to revise his peal lists also.

To Mr. Cattermole's letter on the same page, the reply is that the first three methods have no true composition, and the fourth uses a standard 3-bob calling, providing it does not end with a bob.

In view of the fact that these errors have gone unnoticed, in spite of considerable checking of similar methods, for nearly four months, and having heard of another Doubles ringers' efforts recently coming to grief, I would exhort those trying to expand the field of Doubles variations not only to take care in checking their work, but also constantly to revise their methods and principles of checking, to ensure that they are still valid for the methods being used.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN A. HARRISON,
E. ANDREW HARRISON,
MARTIN J. KIRK.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

About 35 attended the service and tea at the Ashford District meeting at Bethersden on September 11th. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. H. O. Albin, who, in his address, paid tribute to Mr. W. C. Marshall and Mr. Peter Jarvis (both of whom have died this year), for their loyal services to Bethersden ringing. Mr. J. Spree, secretary of the local band, was at the organ, and the lesson was read by Mr. L. Sweatman. The offertory amounted to £1 15s., and was allocated to Pluckley Bell Restoration Fund.

Tea was enjoyed in the Village Hall, and was followed by a short business meeting. On behalf of the visitors, Mr. A. Phelps thanked the Rector for permission to ring the bells and for conducting the service, and Mr. Spree for his invaluable services.

Ringing on this fine six (tenor 15 cwt.) ranged from rounds to Surprise Minor. The striking was, on the whole, good, everybody being inspired by the thought of retribution (in the shape of the dreaded "firing-at-meetings" correspondent) lurking within earshot. Mr. Ring did actually venture as far as the church, but on being recognised decided discretion was the better part of valour, and beat a hasty retreat! Expectant visitors were thus disappointed of receiving any practical (as opposed to literary) benefits from his advice.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARY BARKER

Mrs. Mary Barker, of Finchley, died on September 12th, within a month of the death of her husband, Fred, who was a Finchley ringer for 60 years. Although not a ringer herself, she will be remembered by many for her hospitality and friendship to ringers. A. F. W.

MR. G. FAIRALL

In the early hours of September 12th George Fairall passed away after a short illness. He started to ring at Portsmouth Cathedral in 1913 after learning at Ryde, Isle of Wight, while in his teens, under the guidance of Mr. Coombs. Always cheerful, he will be greatly missed by the Cathedral ringers, and his place in the belfry will never be filled.

At the age of 15 he joined the railway and retired after 50 years' service. The funeral was on September 15th at his local church. The Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled for an hour that evening. A. A. J. B.

MR. H. A. PRICE

In Memoriam

The untimely death of Bert Price, the well-known captain at Yatton, Somerset, came as a great shock to all those of us in the Chew Deanery who rang with him over the years and knew him as a man devoted to his church and to his tower.

What he did, he did well; whether as lay preacher, chorister or ringer, and similarly in his wider services to the community as parish clerk and special constable.

His pride in Yatton bells was evident to all who rang with him, and he was instrumental in the recasting and rehanging which produced the fine eight which we ring today.

Triples were his joy, and under his guidance Yatton could ring Oxford Bob, St. Clement's and Court Bob, often to the surprise of visitors from afar. If he could end the practice by conducting one of his special touches of Stedman, followed by a good lower, he was more than content.

Bert's peals were few, although he was particularly proud of a peal of Caters at Wells Cathedral in 1949, when he rang the tenor. His main pleasure, apart from the wonderful outings he organised, was to ring his own bells for services as often as possible, and in this he set us the example of what a good tower captain should be.

In extending our sympathy to his wife and family we can only endorse the words spoken by Prebendary Beechey, the previous Vicar of Yatton, at the funeral service: "His faith was simple and strong . . . he was friendly, always ready to help, and happy; he was always faithful to his church and his Vicar, and he is going to be very much missed."

MR. JOHN E. PRICE

The news of the death of Mr. John Price, of Putney, came as a great shock to us all. He died after being involved in a car accident on the Grantham By-pass on Sunday, September 5th. With him was his fiancée, Miss Gerda Baresel, who is at present recovering from an operation in the Harlow Wood Hospital, Mansfield, Notts.

John was a regular ringer at St. Mary's, Putney, and rang his first peal there on April 6th, 1963. He was a well-liked person and did invaluable service as a driver on our various outings.

The funeral was held at his home town of Knighton, Radnorshire, on Thursday, September 9th. Amongst those who attended the service were ringing friends and representatives of the Air Ministry, where he had been employed since 1960, including two years in the R.A.F. A half-muffled peal was rung at Putney on the same evening by those unable to attend the service. A further attempt for a peal on Saturday, 11th, by other friends came to grief.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to his relatives and fiancée; he will be greatly missed by us all. C. F. M.

MRS. B. M. SANFORD

The sympathy of many ringing friends is with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Last, of Hoxne, Suffolk, on the death of their only daughter, Mrs. Bertram M. Sanford, at the early age of 37. She passed away at Hartismere Hospital, Eye, on September 11th, leaving her husband and three children.

The funeral service and interment took place at Harkstead, Suffolk, on September 15th. Mr. A. G. Harrison, of Diss, represented the St. Mary's, Diss, ringers. Mr. Last, besides being a member of the Diss ringers and the Norwich Diocesan Association of Ringers, is the hon. secretary of the Central District of the Suffolk Guild of Ringers. A half-muffled quarter peal was rung on Diss bells the following evening. A. G. H.

TANFIELD, 1965

"There's nothing under Heaven so blue, That's fairly worth the travelling to."
(Robert Louis Stevenson).

CERTAINLY the members of the Durham and Newcastle Association, who gathered at Tanfield on Saturday, July 17th, for their annual cricket encounter, considered the journey worthwhile, as conditions for the occasion proved the best yet. In contrast with last year's downpour, the sun put his hat on and came out all day and we had the additional luxury of enjoying the facilities of the Stanley Urban Council's playing field. Good fortune also smiled on the president, Mr. E. P. Rock who in the last year of his triennial period of office was able to lead a team for the first time.

Wickets were pitched shortly after 2.30 p.m. and in consideration of the claims of the other attractions of the day—the tea table and the belfry—it was agreed to restrict play to 12 overs a side. Umpires Bill Tyson (Consett) and Fred Cooke (Darlington) took up their positions and the game was on. Winning the toss, the president elected to bat and in the presence of an expectant gathering of members, Messrs. Arthur and Harrison opened to some hostile bowling from the Lancashire and Whickham contingents. Some good hitting by Harrison soon brought runs, but with the departure of the openers the innings closed at 38 in the prescribed spell. Losing no time, the home side went to the wicket and, despite several bowling changes by the visitors, Harry Thompson and his men maintained a steady scoring rate and reached 35 in 11 overs for the loss of six wickets. With only four balls remaining, the winning "hit" was made with a 4 bye, and the honours were thus retained by Tanfield for another year.

As Tanfield parish is still without a church hall, the members of the Mothers' Union had requisitioned the sitting room of the Pack Horse for tea arrangements, and when all the perspiring players and spectators had been transported thence, a meal that gladdened all hearts was laid before us. The president offered congratulations on victory and proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, the Rev. A. J. Ellery, and the Tanfield protagonists.

Adjournment was made to the Church of St. Margaret, where a special form of Evensong was held. The Ringing Master read the lesson, and the Vicar in an address stressed that our ringing should be not only a call to others to worship but a continual rededication of ourselves to Christ and the work of His Church. The tower and bells now came into their own and members were able to enjoy many good touches and an abundance of traditional fellowship until 9 p.m. K. A.

HUGH MAKINS' TOUR

Young Ringers' Profitable Week

Organised by Hugh Makins as a learners' tour, and sponsored by the Warwickshire Education Committee, a party of young ringers from Warwick, Kenilworth and Southam set out on Sunday, August 22nd, for a week's ringing in Somerset and Dorset. The writer, who had agreed to act as the party's instructor, was surprised to find that five of them were already able to ring London Minor!

Transported by van to Frome, the party took to cycles and headed for Croscombe. In an unscheduled stop at Shepton Mallet, Mr. J. Rose, a local ringer, joined us in ringing for evensong on a fine-sounding eight. The six bells at Croscombe went well, and some good Spliced Minor was rung.

Next morning, a liberal allowance of time enabled us to ring at Binegar. Our first course of London was rung on the good light six, and the instructor introduced Original with Bobs and Singles. Chewton Mendip's famous octave lived up to its reputation. A sense of anticlimax was felt at Litton, and we moved on to Hinton Blewett, where we found a tuneful five. Compton Martin has an interesting Norman church with a pigeon loft over the fine vaulted chancel. A steady touch of six-spliced was enjoyed. At East Harptree we rang on a very long-rope six.

On Tuesday we rang first at Cheddar on the rather difficult octave before setting off for Axbridge, where a good quarter of Minor was rung on the 20 cwt. six. Later, cycling through the town, we were hailed from a stationary car and complimented on our ringing by its driver, himself a ringer.

From Weare we went to Compton Bishop, where some good ringing was enjoyed on an excellent 12 cwt. six. Rain setting in, a damp band reached Loxton, where the light ring of six is rung from the floor of the tower, which forms the south porch. The doors were shut to exclude the rain and the bells raised in almost total darkness. Later it was decided to reopen the doors as ringing in semi-darkness was found to be not very successful.

Going on to Bleadon, the six there—anticlockwise and with a long draught—were rather difficult. Mr. Toogood, the ringer who stopped us in Axbridge, joined us and invited us to ring at Uphill in the evening, offering to meet us by car at the Youth Hostel at Hutton. After supper we were transported to Uphill, where we spent an enjoyable time ringing in an unusual tower, the base of which is used for seating and is also the main entrance to the church. Ringing takes place among chairs and with visitors passing through the circle of ropes.

Miss M. Legg, the Locking tower secretary, offered to take us to ring at Weston-super-Mare, but there we found a silent tower, practice having been cancelled, so we were whisked off to Wick St. Lawrence, in the depths of the marshes, where we rang some good Doubles.

The captain at Brent Knoll let us ring the excellent 21 cwt. six, and at Mark we were joined by two local ringers in Bob Major and Grandsire Triples. Wedmore's 30 cwt. octave proved rather too much for us. At Meare, the sounds of Oswald Delight attracted the attention of Mr. W. Deason, of Hampton, Middlesex, who came in and rang with us. Miles of flat marshland brought us to Ashcott, obviously the home of a keen and enthusiastic local band. After ringing on the excellent six we stopped at Walton, where we found a pleasant 16 cwt. five, rung from an indescribably dark boiler-house. In the evening, at Street, we rang Triples, helped by two local ringers and Mr. Deason. On Friday, Somerset's 20 cwt. six went well to Original, and at Kingsdon some very slow London was rung with great dignity. West Camel provided a delightful 12 cwt. five, and we rang Orpheus Doubles. The ride to our next tower involved some complicated map reading and the discovery of a short cut to Milborne Port. The good old octave were rung before departing for Stalbridge, where some good Minor, including 12-spliced, was rung.

Our last full day's ringing began on the excellent six at Sturminster Newton, where Single Court on this fine ring of bells was the best ringing of the week. The old Mears' six rung from around the font at Child Okeford went to Grandsire Minor and Spliced Beverley and Cambridge. Shillingstone Church has an easy-going six. A local ringer at Okeford Fitzpaine joined us in Double Court. On Sunday morning we rang a quarter of Bob Minor for service at Hilton, and in the evening, some 130 miles away, joined the local band for evensong ringing at Droitwich, where each bell rope has a sally of different colour.

All seemed agreed that the tour was a useful experience in ringing on heavy sets of bells and long draughts of rope. Some 20 different Minor methods had been rung, including their first touches of Oswald, Worcester, Boatrace, Hereward, London, Single Court, College Bob and Original by most of the band. One of the party rang her first quarter—well-struck Bob Minor, at Hilton.

We are grateful for the kindness shown by local incumbents and ringers, and we would like particularly to thank Mr. Toogood, of Uphill, and Miss Legg (Locking) for arranging extra ringing for us and providing transport. Hugh Makins deserves congratulations on his selection of first-class rings of bells and his ready help in all emergencies. P. C.

BRISTOL CITY STRIKING CONTEST

The recent increase of activity and enthusiasm in the Bristol City Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association reached a climax on Saturday, September 11th, the occasion of a striking competition held at St. Mark's, the Lord Mayor's Chapel. It was the first time such an event had occurred in Bristol, and it was organised on a city basis rather than a branch one.

Eight teams took part, namely Kingsdown, Redcliffe, Cathedral, St. Philip's, St. Stephen's, Stoke Bishop A, Stoke Bishop B and an all-comers' team. Each band was allowed one minute of practice followed by the test piece: two minutes of rounds and 120 Grandsire Doubles. The judges, comfortably installed with paper and pencil in the nearby College of Commerce, were warned of the start of each test piece by two blows of the treble. Marshalling of the competitors and supervision in the tower were ably carried out by John Slater and Albert Tyler.

When all eight teams had performed in order as drawn by ballot, they assembled in the vestry of Christ Church-with St. Ewen's, where the Vicar had kindly arranged for a tea to be provided. Philip Gray, president of the branch, then introduced the two judges, Albert Diserens and Frank Smallwood, to the competitors, after saying that the effects of the striking competition had been noticeable in the city long before the day itself.

Mr. Diserens announced the results of the adjudication, pointing out that he and Mr. Smallwood were unanimous in their marking, and making a few remarks about each team's performance, expressing the hope that these criticisms would be taken as constructive comment.

Mr. Smallwood congratulated the officers on their enterprise in organising the event; encouraged the teams with poor marks to take heart and try again; and said he was impressed with present day ringing in Bristol. He gave full marks for cunning to the two teams who had used their one minute of practice ringing to best effect by ringing changes rather than rounds.

Handsome certificates were then presented to the conductors of the three placed teams: First, Cathedral (4 faults); second, St. Philip's (8 faults); third, Stoke Bishop A (13 faults). After tea and an informal discussion everyone climbed the stairs to the belfry for an hour's general ringing on the ten bells to round off the day. J. R. T.

BELFRY GOSSIP

In the peal of Spliced Surprise Major at Southampton on August 7th Robert C. Kippin rang the sixth and Noel J. Diserens the tenor. (See also "Belfry Gossip" page 611.)

A quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor rung half-muffled at Bethersden, Kent, on August 22nd, was in memory of Peter Jarvis, "whose faithfulness to the Bethersden band will be long remembered," writes Mr. John E. Spree.

The band that rang the peal of Minor at Peterston-super-Ely on Saturday, September 18th, would like to thank 14-year-old Gwen Bidgood for ringing at very short notice, she being asked at 7.45 a.m.; the peal started at 10 a.m.

Two peals rung on September 18th for the Llandaff Branch of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association brought the Branch's total of peals this year to 36—easily a record for any year. The number of peals rung for the Association this year is so far 43—only seven short of last year's total, which was a record.

It has been discovered that a peal of St. Clement's College Bob Minor has already been rung for the Southwell Diocesan Guild, and the claim is therefore retracted that the peal in this method rung at Barton-in-Fabis on Saturday, August 21st, was the first in the method for the Guild. (See "The Ringing World," page 616.)

PARTING GIFTS

For their latest meeting the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association met at Ospringe. Always a very happy place for meetings, this one had an air of sorrow. It was to be the last meeting for Wilf and Eileen Palin, of Faversham, who with their three young children, were shortly leaving for Western Australia. Always a popular couple with ringers wherever they went, they will be sorely missed by all. Wilf had been a Ringing Master for the District and had been responsible for getting many ringers to meetings by arranging coaches, and both he and Eileen had done much for the District. Ringing commenced early in the afternoon, there being a break for a wedding (the happy couple thus getting a free wedding ring!) A service was conducted by the Vicar, and the organist was Miss N. Taylor, an old friend of Eileen's.

Tea was served in the Parish Hall, the members being the guests of the Ospringe ringers. A short business meeting followed, at which two new members were elected, and the collection was voted towards the cost of repairing the tower of the church. A message was sent to Mrs. Eric Eades, who was unfortunately in hospital. Mrs. F. Farnsworth and her helpers were thanked for preparing the tea and seeing to everyone's needs. The highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a cheque to Wilf and Eileen, a slight token in recognition of all they had done for the District. To take with them they also have a set of handbells given them by another old friend, Mr. Harry Manuel, formerly a ringer at Throwley. Following tea the handbells were brought into use, and further ringing took place at the Parish Church.

Cheerio, Wilf and Eileen; you have all our good wishes for the future and our very grateful thanks for all you have done.

BRISTOL'S NEW LOOK

Certainly there is a new look in this famous city. Twenty-five years ago it was lying in ruins as a result of enemy action. To-day it is being rapidly rebuilt, and fine new buildings are rising phoenix-like from the ashes. Even St. Mary Redcliffe has been cleaned and is mothering the city, and looking more beautiful than ever.

Ringing has also taken on a new look. All the old misunderstandings, jealousies and quarrels are gone. There is now a very strong group of attractive and capable young people full of enthusiasm and energy who are determined to put Bristol amongst the leading centres of ringing in this country. Under the wise leadership of Philip Gray, J. Taylor and John Hunt they are forging ahead rapidly. Typical practices at the Cathedral disclosed them ringing various Surprise methods, concluding with a touch in eight Sliced Surprise Major methods. At Christ Church a recent practice saw them ringing Spiced Surprise Royal in four methods.

A striking competition (the first in Bristol) was organised with eight teams competing, and a rota system has also been arranged whereby four or more experienced ringers attend the practices in towers where help is needed. Truly Bristol has a new look and the best wishes of all worthy ringers will go out to those who are working so hard and enthusiastically.

JAFUS.

HARTEST, SUFFOLK, ON TELEVISION

The ringers of Hartest, Suffolk, were surprised on their practice night on September 15th by the arrival of a B.B.C. television camera team. Richard S. Seabrook, a local ringer and farmer, was being featured in a farming programme. Bellringing, being his main interest, aroused the producer's curiosity; the ringers were filmed, with close-up shots, whilst ringing a touch.

Bob Minor was recorded amongst difficult conditions with the small ringing chamber inundated with camera men and very bright lights. Anyone in East Anglia can see the B.B.C. programme, "Farming Club," on Sunday, October 3rd, at 1.45 p.m. There will be background sounds of the bells during interviews, shots of the church and recordings in the ringing chamber.

YOUTHFUL RINGERS AT PEMBROKE

Simon Rogers, of Pembroke, who has been ringing for two years, rang his first quarter on the treble six months ago. He then said it was his ambition to ring "inside" before his 12th birthday. This he managed to do, as he was 12 years old the following day. Miss Susan Stevens, also of Pembroke, has been a ringer for about 18 months, during which time she has regularly attended practices and been a Sunday service ringer. The band are very sorry to lose her and hope that she will continue ringing in Cardiff.

LADIES' GUILD Western District

A quarterly meeting of the Western District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Chewton Mendip on September 11th. A good number of members and friends gathered to enjoy these grand bells, and even the men were heard to pass favourable comments on the service "touch"—a well-struck course of Grandsire Triples by an all-ladies' band.

The service was conducted by the Rev. L. Wilson, Rector of Litton, in the unfortunate absence of the Rector of Chewton Mendip through indisposition. After the service in the church, beautifully decorated for harvest festival, members adjourned to a nearby guest house for tea, at the conclusion of which the president proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector and tower master of Chewton Mendip for their hospitality, to the Rector of Litton for taking the service and allowing members to ring at his tower in the evening, and to Mr. Battin, organist at Corston, who had kindly played for the service.

At the short business meeting a report was given on the annual meeting at Eastbourne, and one new member was elected, Miss J. Dodd, of Wrington. Attention of members was drawn to practice meetings at Wrington, Warmley, and St. Michael's, Bath, and to the next meeting (the annual) at Portishead.

After the meeting members went to Litton, where further ringing up to London Minor was enjoyed.

ST. DUNSTAN'S (CANTERBURY)

A consistently blue sky made the annual outing of the St. Dunstan's ringers one of the most enjoyable yet. For the first time a full day was selected and a goodly number of ringers and friends took advantage of this innovation. Our first stop was at St. Margaret's, Barming, where the light six (9 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb.) have fairly new ropes and the stretch in these was noticeable; the ringing was, however, tolerably good. At the elegant Palladian style Church of St. Lawrence, Mereworth, the 9½ cwt. six sound rather strangely in the fine tower. Methods up to Cambridge were rung.

We then proceeded to our only central tower, in the impressive Victorian Church of St. Giles, Shipbourne, where there is a rough ring of six (10½ cwt.) by T. Lewis, who, we are told, was an organist, and in order to obtain this maiden ring cast no less than 30 bells! An hour and a half break awaited us in Tonbridge, where some individuals partook of their first meal of the day! Then came the extremely pleasant six (8½ cwt.) at Hever, where Cambridge was achieved again but London fired up successively twice. Tea was taken in the appropriately named "Henry VIII," Grace being said by Canon A. L. Lawler, Vicar of St. Dunstan's, whose regular and cheerful presence is always much appreciated. Thanks were accorded to Mr. D. C. Chatfield, the organiser of the outing, by Mr. B. J. Luck. After spending more time in the grounds of Hever Castle, the party was on its way to the interesting tower of Cowden, which is entirely of wood resting upon massive wooden joists carried to the ground. The light six (8 cwt. 2 qr. in A) were soon ringing out, and more than one person noticed that, in spite of the good "go" of the bells, the tower sways visibly during ringing.

Our last call was at St. Mary the Virgin, Hartfield, Sussex, where a notice informed us that after the six bells (12½ cwt. in F sharp) had been hung by Chapman and Mears in 1782 the fifth changed its tone with the weather! It was found to be cracked, and recast in 1783; it is still noticeably out of tune. After a quick trip to the local it was homeward bound to the strains of several well-known songs.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A successful joint meeting of the Chew and Frome Branches of the Association was held at Chew Magna on September 18th. The bells were kept ringing in various methods and the service touch was rung by an all-Frome Branch band.

After the service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. M. Luxmoore-Ball), a company of nearly 60 enjoyed a buffet tea prepared by the ladies in the nearby Church Hall. The Vicar welcomed those present, and in reply Mr. E. J. Chivers, secretary of the Frome Branch, said he hoped to arrange a return visit next year. Further ringing took place at Chew Magna and Chew Stoke during the evening.

POINTS FROM PEALS

By REV. K. W. H. FELSTEAD.

This article deals with peals during the first seven months of this year, with one or two from last year which were published late. Thus, we shall then be up to date for once!

The number of unpealed towers gradually diminishes as time goes on. Thus now that Liverpool Cathedral and Guildford Cathedral have had peals, there would appear to be no unconquered 12's or 10's. I think 20 8's have still to have a peal, but nine of these are said to be unringable. I expect other reasons prevent the remainder from having a peal attempt on them. They are Irtton and Silloth in Cumberland; Barnstaple, Exeter, St. Mark, Ilfracombe, SS. Philip and James, Kingsbridge, in Devon; Barkingside in Essex; Alcester and Ullenhall in Warwickshire; Pocklington in Yorkshire; Denbigh in Denbighshire. Actually, this last period under review is unusual in having first peals on a 12, a 10 and an 8. The first two have already been mentioned—the 8 is Culmstock in Devon. There are still some hundreds of 6's and 5's which have not had a peal—mostly in Devon and Cornwall, so there is still plenty of opportunity for those who like to be the first in the field. The number is being reduced by about 20 to 30 a year, so I think there is a 30- to 40-year supply at that rate! This time I support the claim of the following towers to have had first on the bells (apart from the three above): Blyton, Kingskerswell, East Chinnock, Langport, Rowington, Cury, Kimbolton, Pluckley, Bale, South Benfleet, Chute Forest, Oulton, Clovelly, Combe St. Nicholas, Holford, Pitney, Scole and Morval. Also Haslingfield seems to have had its first peal although it was not claimed as such. In a slightly different way, Oxford, Carfax, has also had its first peal. I say that because there was one in 1945 which apparently proved to be false.

As for numbers of peals, Loughborough Bell Foundry has already passed its first 100 towards its second thousand. Apart from that, the only tower passing a milestone greater than 100 is North Stoneham which completed its 300th peal. Centuries were reached by Burton-on-Stather, Trowbridge, Bedford, St. Paul, Kirby-le-Soken (as claimed) and Wicken. I thought Milnrow was also amongst this list, but I find (through not looking up the old peals there) that it must have reached the century in 1963 and that I missed the occasion. The 50 mark was achieved by Stratton St. Margaret; Oakham; Neath; Skipton in Craven; Beckenham; Cambridge, St. Andrew; Sutterton; Retford; Bournemouth, St. Peter (as claimed); Bristol, St. Michael; Creswell; Penistone; Bottesford; North Elmham; West Deeping; Husborne Crawley; Rawmarsh.

In my last article I said I would mention Birmingham Cathedral this time. The reason for doing so is that the position at the top of the league table has changed, which doesn't happen very often. Crayford for a long time was top, after taking the lead from Erith, St. John, in 1944 at the 405 mark. It was the first tower to reach 500 peals in 1952, some six months before even the Loughborough Bell Foundry did so. It was in February, 1953, a year after the 500th peal, that the Bell Foundry overtook it and has held the lead ever since, of course! But Crayford remained the church with most peals until Erith caught up again in May, 1957, since when it has kept second place behind the Foundry. But now, after a very long time in the lead—at least 30 years at a guess—Erith and Crayford have been separated as far as peals on church bells are concerned, for Birmingham Cathedral has now passed the Crayford total and so becomes second to Erith. We don't see many peals at Crayford these days and it may be that one or two other towers will catch it up in the next few years. But even so, it will always go down to history as the first tower with 500 peals.

Whilst still on numbers of peals, there have been one or two occasions where I have not agreed with claims. Hornchurch I made 59 peals, not 50; Ashton-under-Lyne, St. Peter, I made 299 not 300; and Old Swinford I made 76 not 75.

Now the usual list of rare visitors to the peal columns. The peal at South Mymms was the first this century, as claimed. Only two peals had been rung here previously, both in 1899. Both Peterston-super-Ely and Winston had their only previous peal in 1905, 60 years ago. Two towers also were last heard in a peal in 1912—Radyr (which also had two peals in 1911) and Church Lench (as claimed). The only previous peal at Covehithe was in 1913 and at Floore in 1915 (as footnote). It is rather unusual for a tower to have had its only previous peal in the middle of the Great War. Most readers will have realised that the Imperial Institute, South Kensington, appears very rarely in the peal columns, so it was an event to see it again after a lapse of 40 years. Before the 1924 peal there had been three—one in each year 1902, 1903 and 1904. As stated in the footnote, the last (and only) peal at St. Athan previously was in 1925. Both Walton-on-Thames and Devizes, St. Mary, last had peals in 1927. Peals were not uncommon at the former before the 1914 war—ten were rung from 1885 to 1910, but the 1927 one was the only one between the wars. Only two other peals had been rung at Devizes—in 1908 and 1923. As mentioned at the time, Brighton, The Good Shepherd Church, had its last previous peal in 1929. There was also one in 1923. The claim at Leigh (Surrey) was also correct—last peal in 1931 (previous ones here in 1900 and 1905). Geddington likewise was last in the peal lists in 1931. Five peals were rung here from 1908 to 1914 and also one in 1926. Mallong and Llanbradach last appeared in 1932. The former has only had four peals in all now (1930, 1932 (two) and 1965), but the latter had 16 peals from 1911 to 1932—about one a year disregarding the war years. Peals are rare at Castle Bromwich and Haringworth—both heard last in 1933. Before that there had only been one at the first tower—in 1925, and two at the second—in 1913 and 1932. The only previous peal at Chirton was in 1935, but Worlingworth (last peal in 1936, as claimed) was a popular tower in the 1920's. Five peals were rung here when it was a 6-bell tower from 1891 to 1893. After augmentation, 27 peals were rung from 1908 to 1914 and no less than 44 in the eight years from 1919 to 1926 (12 of them in 1921). Then peal ringing suddenly dwindled—one peal in 1927, two in 1929 and one each in 1930, 1933 and 1936 (the last). So although the tower reached 50 peals in 1921, its total is still only 84 (I see a second peal has been rung recently, so perhaps we shall see the name more frequently again). Beeston has a similar history, its heyday being just before the first war. In the last century there were 15 peals from 1878 to 1898, then 20 from 1902 to 1914. Nine more were rung from 1919 to 1927 and then single peals in the years 1932, 1934 and 1937 (the last until now). The peal at Upwell on May 1st last was claimed as the first since 1896. I fear this was wrong. I have no record of a peal in 1896, to start with, and there have been two peals before this year—one in 1926 and the other in 1937. Also last heard in a peal in 1937 is Wanstrom. Before that year there had been five peals from 1919 to 1935. Finally, in this section, I confirm that the last peal at Aberdare was in 1938. The first peal was in 1911 and there were four rung from 1936 to 1938. All have been Triples (including this year's)—four Grandsire and two Stedman. So what about a peal of Major!

Finally, a few other items of interest. I confirm that the peal of Yorkshire Major was the first of Surprise Major at St. John's, Cardiff. There are several surprising points about this tower. The one just mentioned is since the peal total of the tower is 152. There has only been one peal of Surprise before—Cambridge Royal in 1952. There have only been 16 peals in even bell methods, viz. (apart from the two just mentioned), seven of Bob Royal, four of Bob Major and three Kent T.B. Royal. The remaining 136 peals are Grandsire Caters 76, Triples 36; Stedman Caters 19, Triples 4; Erin Caters 1. The peal at Plympton St. Maurice was not the first of Major. Double Norwich was rung there in 1895—first peal on the bells. I confirm the peal at Huntsham as the first of Surprise. The only Major previously has been Kent T.B. in 1875 and 1878. Grandsire Triples was rung in 1874. (1875) (two), 1877 (two), 1880, 1883, 1884, 1923 and 1946, and Stedman Triples in 1879. Total for the tower now, 14.

THE TRAVELLERS

THE summer season of ringing tours, if not over, draws to its close, and despite the indifferent weather of the last few months it is clear, from a look at our news columns and peal reports, that the number of outings and extended trips has in no way diminished. It would seem, indeed, that the number increases year by year.

Ringing tours are, of course, as old as the art of change ringing itself, and for 300 years bellringers have sought to travel to towns and villages far from their normal daily environment and to take pleasure in ringing on strange bells. Their modes of transport and the details of their travelling have varied greatly over the years, and it is to be regretted that we have so little account of the trials and difficulties met and overcome in those days of precarious journeying. In the 18th century the College Youths walked from London to Oxford, while their small advance guard went ahead on horseback. When the same Society visited France and rang handbells at Calais, they doubtless went to Dover by coach; and this is probably how the Birmingham men went to Liverpool for the opening of the bells at St. Nicholas' Church in 1819.

The spread of railway travel brought new and exciting possibilities, and the introduction of frequent excursions and the system of cheap fares provided the means and the incentive that led to a great increase in ringing tours towards the end of the 19th century. In those days the railway companies were prepared to compete with each other in providing frequent services and fares that brought remote parts of Britain within the reasonable horizon of the man of modest income. And for party travel it was no great or expensive matter to be supplied with a private coach attached to the rear of the train.

But even at that time road travel was not only popular but also necessary. Many parts of the country could be reached only by road, and for this there could be only the horse or the horse-drawn vehicle and, later, the bicycle. How many of us now remember the old horse-drawn brake with its "knife-board" top, where we sat back to back, and the iron tyres that rattled not unmusically to the steady clop-clop of the old horse's feet? No matter how the rain fell and the winds blew and beat upon the party, there was no shelter. Through cloud and sunshine the vehicle went on relentlessly to its appointed destiny.

The coming of the bicycle brought a new mode of cheap and efficient transport, and it was by this means that the young Armiger Trollope and his talented companions, Borrett and the two Burtons, toured so much of East Anglia in the "90's." To this day the bicycle holds its own, and among the enterprises recorded in "The Ringing World" we find not a few in which notable distances have been covered by pedal power. But it is, without doubt, the internal combustion engine that has opened up so vast a field for exploration for the ordinary man. It has placed within reach districts that cannot, for physical reasons, be touched by railway or, because of distance, are too remote for the cycle, and has brought these regions immeasurably nearer in time.

The use of the car has brought with it a great speeding up of all we do or attempt, and it might be argued that the feverish haste of today is less desirable and less pleasurable than the more leisurely approach of bygone years; but for all this, wider travel has provided opportunity for broader experience and a fuller knowledge of conditions in the remoter parts of the ringing Exercise. It may well be remembered, too, that the tourists are more than visitors; they are missionaries. And, provided their skill and their conduct are modelled and directed with this thought in mind, who can say what seeds may be sown, what hope and encouragement given, and what light shed in dark places?

So, back from ringing tours, some will look at their list of peals, some will mark off with satisfaction in their copy of "Dove" the new towers at which they have rung; some will recall with pleasure, and perhaps awe, the noble church towers that have been presented to their view, and many will dwell again on the beauty of the scenery our island presents in so many varied forms. Above all, there will be the remembrance of the great names in ringing inscribed on the tablets in the ringing chambers, records of great epochs in the local ringing history, and memorials of visits paid to remote regions by the giants of old. These were travellers like us, sojourners in these parts, even as we have been. They left their mark here, and they carried away with them something to add to their knowledge and experience. What have we left behind us, and what have we added to our store?

GOLDEN FRIENDSHIP MET AT BENDIGO — PROSPECT OF NEW BELLS AT MELBOURNE

[By courtesy of "The Herald," Melbourne.]

SHORTLY after 7.30 p.m. on Sunday, September 12th, we arrived at Essendon Airport, Melbourne, to receive a most cordial welcome from some 20 ringers headed by Jock Roper, captain of St. Paul's Cathedral company, and Graeme Heyes, secretary of A.N.Z.A.B. Cars were waiting for us and we were soon in the Victoria Palace Hotel. Melbourne ringers entertained us to supper; memories and, in some cases, common experiences were exchanged.

It was early rising on Monday, breakfast being served at 7.30, and we left by the 9.10 train from the modern Spencer Street Station for Ballarat, famed as the begonia city. Graeme Heyes accompanied us on the 24 hours' journey across the Melbourne Plain, the rich dark earth neatly furrowed, the many cattle and sheep all indicating the agricultural prosperity of the area.

Warne Wilson, president of the Victoria Branch, and Alex Herrman, in charge of the bells at the City Hall, greeted us warmly, dispelling the bitter cold that prevailed throughout our stay in this prosperous city. We registered at Craig's Hotel, adjoining the City Hall, where we were to spend the night.

Ballarat ringers generously entertained us to lunch, and at the conclusion of the meal a telegram was read from Graeme Waldon, captain of the St. Peter's ringers, who was in hospital, extending his good wishes for a successful tour. Later in the day a "get well" card, signed by all the English ringers, was sent to Graeme.

CITY HALL BELLS

The Mayor (Colr. W. E. Roff), who has been a member of the City Council for 23 years and is president of the Ballarat Ringing Society, received us at the City Hall. A ring of eight, cast by Mears, has been here since 1878. This was the time when Ballarat was exceedingly wealthy, following the discovery of gold about 20 years previously.

Many imposing buildings were then built.

Gold is no longer mined but the many light industries bring continued prosperity.

The Mayor's grandparents settled in Ballarat in 1852, and he had visited England on three occasions, the first visit being during World War I, when he served with the Australian Forces. At the Mayor's call, the toast of "The Queen" was honoured. Tom Lock, in his reply to a welcome, mentioned that this year was the 170th anniversary of the first bells being installed in Australia. He presented the Mayor with a bell ash tray as a memento of the visit. Pat Cannon showed the Mayor a letter he had received from Mr. A. H. Winch, of Leatherhead, stating that his grandfather took part in the gold rush to Ballarat, selling provisions to miners, and his father, Alfred G. Winch, was born there in 1856.

An exhibit in the City Hall was 16 bells from Mears, which the Mayor hoped would later be installed as a carillon. The bells in the City Hall are not easy to ring and some are apt to drop suddenly. A peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major (Knight's 5,056) was attempted, with Wilfred Williams conducting from the tenor. The early part of the peal was well struck, but following a general mix-up Wilfred called "Stand" after 1 hour 40 minutes. Probably tiredness was a factor in the failure; the band were frankly disappointed. Later the Editor met Arthur Mason and Jimi Pipe, who had found consolation in three dozen oysters each at 6/- a dozen! The band was A. F. Mason 1, S. Burton 2, C. W. Pipe 3, Rev. M. C. C. Melville 4, R. M. Damerell 5, T. J. Lock 6, A. P. Cannon 7, W. Williams 8.

The non-peal ringers had an afternoon of sightseeing, being motored around by Warne Wilson and Alex Herrman. The Lal Lal Waterfall, which cascades 110 feet down into a pool of solid basalt, had a scenic beauty, and Lake Wendouree, where rowing events of the Melbourne Olympic Games were contested, is claimed to be the finest rowing course in Australia.

The English visitors were entertained to tea and later to supper by Mr. and Mrs. Warne Wilson at their charming residence. Other Ballarat ringers joined them; handbells were produced; "The Sound of Bells" duly signed by all the visitors, was presented. During the evening four of the party—Tom Lock, Malcolm Melville, Cecil Pipe and Tom White—were summoned to the studio of Radio 3 B.A. and chatted with announcer Dennis Griffin about the tour.

AT MELBOURNE

The ground was white with hoar frost as we made our way to the railway station, having breakfasted on tea and toast at 6.30 a.m. Back in Melbourne, we were motored to St. Paul's Cathedral to be received by the Dean, the Very Rev. T. W. Thomas. Press representatives and television cameras were present. A good coverage was secured. "The Age" featured our oldest member, Shirley Burton (77), who worthily upheld the prestige of Leicester Cathedral. A group were televised with the bells at St. Paul's. Anne Horsford was booked for a radio interview for "Country Women" feature and "The Herald" had a fine picture. Before we departed from the Cathedral to the homes of our respective hosts, the Archbishop (the Most Rev. Frank Woods) came and chatted.

That evening there was a peal attempt at St. Patrick's (Roman Catholic) Cathedral, with its splendid spire 310 feet high a feature of the Melbourne landscape. It was in honour of the opening at Rome of the Ecumenical Council. The bells from Murphy's of Dublin are odd-struck, the tenor being 13 cwt. The method attempted was Stedman Triples and after about 15 minutes a bob was missed. A second attempt lasted some 20 minutes and any thoughts of a peal were abandoned. Touches of Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise Major were also rung. Standing in the attempt were: W. Williams (conductor) 1, T. J. Lock 2, Andrew Bolton 3, A. F. Mason 4, M. C. C. Melville 5, A. P. Cannon 6, C. W. Pipe 7, J. F. Roper 8.

That evening the Editor had a chat with Mr. Ernest Hughes, who from 1928 to 1956 was secretary of All Saints', Runcorn, tower. Now 66 years of age he has been since 1956 in Australia and, until his retirement, rang at St. Paul's. His son-in-law, daughter and three grandchildren are in Tasmania.

An all-day excursion was arranged for Wednesday (September 15th). The great attraction was the Healeville Nature Preserve. Excellent photographs were obtained of kangaroos, most of them being females with the baby poking its head out of the pouch. That evening the visitors joined the St. Paul's Society at their weekly practice; it was a happy gathering. By a unanimous vote, the best ringing was Bob Maximus by ten St. Paul's members and two visitors. Treble Bob Maximus and Stedman Cinques were attempted mainly by the visitors, but the ringing was not of the quality hoped for.

A corner of the ringing chamber is curtailed off and at the end of the practice Gwen Roper and helpers served tea and cakes.

A half-day trip touring Melbourne occupied Thursday morning. Captain Cook's cottage was visited. This was the home of his parents at Great Ayton, Yorks, which was brought to Australia in 1934, the year of Great Adventure I. Relics of Captain Cook were on view, among them a print of St. Margaret's, Barking, where he was married. This was the tower of the three brothers Fenn, and best wishes were extended to Ernest, the sole survivor.

A quiet afternoon was spent preparatory to the peal attempt of Treble Twelve at St. Paul's in the evening, in which two or three Melbourne ringers were participating.

COMMEMORATION DINNERS

THE season of Association annual dinners is again upon us, and various individuals and groups of ringers look forward to the opportunity they provide to meet old friends and make new ones in an atmosphere of relaxed conviviality. After enjoying a number of such functions, regular attendance at the Guild's annual dinner becomes a must for many members, no matter how much travel and expense is involved.

Many of these dinners are commemorative, originating in the desire to remember and pay tribute to revered former officers and personalities who have passed to the other side. One such function is the commemoration dinner to Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and past officers of the Yorkshire Association.

Can we go on indefinitely toasting such personalities and relating their achievements, attributes and eccentricities? Even though some of the old stories may slightly bore a few, it is well for newcomers to an Association to know something of its past history and of the unselfish example set by many past officers. This is especially true today when there are, outside the established ringing organisations, so many ringing activities which attract the energy of talented and keen young ringers. It is important to secure their interest in the work of Guilds and Associations and they can find in that work much satisfaction and establish many friendships.

Nevertheless, the character of annual dinners in many cases is changing. There is less desire to listen to long speeches and more enthusiasm for entertainment in an informal atmosphere, and an opportunity to move around and chat to old friends and make new acquaintances. True, the custom of honouring some person of note and esteem by inviting him to speak to the most important toast continues, as does the desire to secure the presence of some high ranking Church dignitary, and many of those attending like the opportunity to ring on the notable rings of bells in the area.

The organisers of the next Yorkshire Association dinner, to be held in Rotherham on October 16th, have made an effort to meet these modern trends without losing the traditional character of the function. The Lord Bishop of Sheffield and his wife have accepted an invitation to be present, and Mr. E. A. Barnett, secretary of the Central Council, will propose the main toast.

The services of the Ecclesfield handbell ringers, who gave such a scintillating performance six years ago, have been secured. A dozen or so ringers, using some eight score bells recently restored by the Whitechapel Foundry, will entertain the company. During the afternoon the fine bells of Sheffield Cathedral, Rotherham Parish Church and other churches will be available.

It is hoped that a record attendance of members and visitors will ensure the continuance of this function beyond 1975, when the Association will celebrate the centenary of its foundation. N. CHADDOCK.

OUTING ST. CRANTOCK

On September 25th, after raising their own bells, and prayers, ringers and friends from St. Crantock set out on their annual outing.

Towers visited were St. Columb Major, Padstow, St. Breocke, Week St. Mary, Marhamchurch, Stratton and St. Mary's, Launceston.

Thanks to Harry for his commentary on the various landmarks and scenery, and also to incumbents and ringers who met the party. J. R.

SOLIHULL VETERAN CELEBRATES

On Saturday September 25th, Mr. William Leeson, of the St. Alphege's band, Solihull, celebrated his 80th birthday, and the occasion brought together a number of friends old and new. Mr. George Fearn and his brother Henry came from Birmingham, Mr. Harry Bragg from Rowington, and Mr. E. C. Shepherd travelled up from Wiltshire.

In the early evening an excellent 1,295 Grandsire Caters was rung on the bells of the Parish Church by W. Leeson 1, R. Cann 2, Christine McClaren 3, Pamela Turner 4, V. W. Rigg 5, E. C. Shepherd (conductor) 6, C. W. Bragg 7, H. H. Fearn 8, G. E. Fearn 9, A. Crabtree 10.

Afterwards an augmented party adjourned to the Masons Arms for rest, refreshment and reminiscence. Here Mr. Leeson was presented with a token from his fellow ringers—a bottle of something which shall be nameless but which we are assured is soothing and comforting if taken in moderation. Mr. T. Warner spoke of William's service of 65 years as a ringer at Solihull Church and of his unswerving loyalty to the band. He rang at the death of Queen Victoria, accomplished his first peal on the occasion of the death of King Edward VII, and his first peal of Caters in 1912 was conducted by the late Rev. C. Carew Cox.

William was one of the founder members of the old Warwickshire Guild, and today he is the oldest active ringing member of St. Martin's Guild. Greatly troubled with arthritis, he has fought the complaint with indomitable spirit, and it speaks much for his determination that on this very Saturday he rang for four weddings before ringing the above quarter peal. Throughout his ringing career he has always been an excellent striker and has never failed to preach the importance of this quality in ringing. His age and infirmity have certainly not marred his ability in this direction.

In a few words by way of response, Mr. Leeson told of his great love for Grandsire Caters and expressed his determination to be "in at" many more quarter peals of it. The rest of his conversation turned on his recollections of the famous ringers he had known in the Midlands—Albert Walker, James E. Groves, that fine ringer Percy Lafin, the incomparable Harry Withers, and many more. This delightful saga of adventures and misadventures kept the company highly entertained and brought the end of the evening much too soon. E. C. S.

FIRST BRANCH STRIKING COMPETITION

The quarterly meeting of the Bowdon, Stockport and Mottram Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at Wilmslow on September 18th. Before the service, the first Branch striking competition was held, the judges being Mr. John Worth (Master of the Guild), Mr. Henry O. Baker (general secretary), and Mr. John E. Cooke, of Leicester. Five teams from the Branch competed and were placed in the following order: 1 Wilmslow, 2 Hyde, 3 Marple, 4 Bowdon, 5 Reddish. It is hoped that more towers will compete in the next competition—now that the ice has been broken.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Christopher J. Rees, curate of Wilmslow, and a member of the winning team! Some 50 people were entertained to tea in the Church Hall. The usual business meeting followed before ringing was resumed until approximately 9 p.m. R. B. S.

OBITUARY

MR. GORDON D. INGHAM

Although he had done little active ringing for about ten years, the untimely death of Gordon Ingham, at the early age of 36, should not go unnoticed.

He learned to ring at Sunbury soon after the war where he played an important part in both modernising the belfry and building up the change ringing band which was starting at that time. In the early 1950's he left Sunbury and became tower captain at Hampton, where his efforts laid the foundations for the Surprise band that existed in the tower in the late 50's. In about 1955 he left active ringing circles, but about two years ago he reappeared and helped to teach some of the newly-formed Hampton Grammar School Society. Occasionally, too, he rang at Sunbury, but it was suspected that he was not at all well.

He never rang a peal; in fact he never progressed very far in method ringing. His greatest attribute was infinite patience in teaching his learners to handle a bell really well, and it may safely be said that all those he taught started out with this vital asset. He also knew what ringing ought to sound like and his insistence on good striking made a lasting impression on all those who benefited from his tuition.

Although never a great ringer, he had the all too rare ability of being able to lay solid foundations and then encouraging one to build on them. I count myself fortunate to be one of those he taught.

We extend our sympathy to his mother.
W. S. D.

JOINT MEETING IN BORDER AREA

The first joint meeting for many years of the Wimborne Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild and the Christchurch District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was held on September 11th in the border area between the two dioceses. The afternoon ringing took place on the little used ten of St. James', Poole. A 3 p.m. start was timed to coincide with the appearance of a newly-married couple at the west entrance. Ringing under the guidance of the two Wimborne Branch Masters covered most of the standard methods. Not everyone, however, was enthusiastic as some of the bells required considerable pulling to keep them up.

Evensong was conducted by the Rector (Rev. B. Bell), before the company proceeded to St. Peter's Hall, Bournemouth, for tea. It was disappointing that a large proportion of the ringers absented themselves from the service, particularly in view of the time that the Rector must have spent in preparing a most worthwhile address. Tea, prepared by the St. Peter's ringers, was much enjoyed. Mr. A. V. Davis, chairman of the Christchurch District, welcomed everyone to the meeting, which he hoped would become a regular event, and thanked the two secretaries for their organisation. He regretted that his opposite number in the Wimborne Branch was unable to be with them owing to pressure of work.

The meeting concluded with ringing at St. Peter's Church under the able direction of Mr. W. Cheater, one of the Christchurch District Masters.

Letters to the Editor

A BELL "WRITES"—

Dear Sir,—My name is Herbert, and I'm a bell. The seventh, in fact, at a certain tower (although I daren't tell you where, in case the ringers see this letter and get me sold for scrap). I got so fed up by "The Ringing World" being full of what the ringers think and do that I decided it's about time the bells themselves had a say, so I'm going to tell you about the things that get right on my clapper most—and especially ringers!

For a start, there's Fred, our steeple-keeper. I don't know why they call him a "keeper," because he doesn't "keep" anything. In fact I haven't seen him for months. He expects us to ring twice on Sundays, once for practice night, not to mention weddings and peals—but he doesn't care about our gudgeons, bearings and clappers needing a drop of oil now and then—or the ropes shifting a little. They complain if I run dry, or my rope snaps during a peal, but it's not my fault, you know.

Next, peals. I'm fed up with them! I don't mind an odd quarter or two, but how would you like to spend three hours going round and round? We bells do all the work, but you lot get your name in "The Ringing World"! Anyway, there's nothing to shout about when there's so much clashing and banging, with me, Fred and Albert (they're my neighbours, you know) all trying to talk at the same time. Not like the peals in my grandfather's day.

Then, sometimes, they leave me up for days! How would they like to spend a week upside down? Besides, I'm always frightened those silly choirboys will come up and trip over me.

That's not all. The pigeons make a shocking mess in here, and all over my crown and lip. Nobody ever comes to give the place a bit of a sweep out. How would they like pigeon dirt all over their houses?

All in all, it's a rotten life for a poor bell like me, and I even wish sometimes I was hung "dead," or spent my life playing "Abide with me" on the clock chimes, like my Uncle Paul.—Yours truly,

HERBERT

P.S.—I have been a faithful fan of "The Ringing World" even since it came out, and there isn't a better buy for 9d., I think.—H

WEDDING RINGING FEES

Dear Sir,—I think it is high time that fees for ringing for weddings were increased. A number I know have remained constant for ten years, and I suspect ringers with longer memories could quote a still greater period. I know of none which have been increased in keeping with the general rise in wages, and can see no reason why they should continue to lag behind. I think incumbents (who I assume to be ultimately responsible) should be approached with a view to arranging a suitable increase.

This brings me to another point. What is done with the fees is entirely a matter for those who earn them but some ringers already forgo all or part of theirs in favour of their church's bell fund. With an increased rate, more might feel disposed to do this. Mr. Woolley's letter of June 4th and Mary Whalley's of September 24th prompt me to suggest that those fortunate towers where neither money nor restoration is a problem could add their share to an Association bell fund for the benefit of others less happily placed.—Yours faithfully,

MARGARET LEWIS.

Farnborough, Hants.

LEAVING FOR RHODESIA

Dear Sir,—I was interested to see in "Belfry Gossip" a fortnight ago an item about Salisbury, Rhodesia, and a ringer being at Blantyre, Malawi.

You in your turn may be interested to know that my wife, ten-year-old daughter and I are due to fly out from London on the evening of Monday, October 11th. We are going to Salisbury and will spend a day there before going on to Blantyre.

I have accepted a post offered to me by the Ministry of Overseas Development to go to Malawi for a year to help in the training of labour officers out there.

I ring at St Andrew's, Enfield, and am a member of the Middlesex County Association and the London County Association. (I wonder if I shall see any other Middlesex ringer when I am at London Airport on the 11th.)

I am a civil servant working for the Ministry of Labour, and not only does this trip show that a civil servant's life is not all dull routine, as I can also mention an enjoyable week when I acted as escort to four French trade unionists visiting London (none of them spoke English!). Then in December, 1961, I was a member of a bank party collecting money for Hackney Employment Exchange when we were attacked by bandits. I subsequently appeared as a witness at the Old Bailey and was presented with a wallet and £25 by the Minister of Labour (then Mr. John Hare).

We are leaving behind us our twin sons, aged 18. One is starting at the London School of Economics and the other is in the third year of the Sixth Form at Tottenham County School.—Yours faithfully, E. HOWSON Enfield, Middlesex.

WEDDING BELLS RECORD?

Dear Sir,—With reference to the article "Brides Like Bells" ("Ringing World," page 596), I have set out below a list of weddings for which the band of St. Mary's, Humberstone, Leicester, have rung since the beginning of 1961: 1961, 22; 1962, 23; 1963, 24; 1964, 34.

The final number of weddings rung for this year is still unknown, but the total up to the end of November will be 49, and it is hoped to be able to average one wedding per week before the year is out.

Is this a record, and can any church better the total of over 150 for the past five years?—Yours faithfully,

D. MANSHIP.

(Ex-Humberstone ringer.)

Burbage, Hinckley, Leics.

BARSHAM BELLS

Dear Sir,—In reply to the letter re Barsham bells, whilst having no knowledge of the condition of the bells, as an adviser on bells in our diocese I have some knowledge of the ringers who try to ring on bells in doubtful condition. I was present on one occasion when the founders were removing a ring which had just previously been rung for the first time in many years by a band of enthusiastic young ringers. The tenor gudgeon was broken right through.

Whilst not wishing to detract from the good work these youngsters do, surely when our reputable bellfounders have seen fit to condemn a ring of bells that should be final. Enthusiasm should then be diverted from raising the bells to raising the funds.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR A. JOPP.

Stoulton, Worcester.

"A SIMPLE VARIATION"

Dear Sir,—I would like to thank Mr. Critchley for his letter in your issue of September 24th. It is embarrassing to allow a composition to be published in one's name, only to discover later that it is not original. However, after showing the composition to persons of greater experience who might possibly recognise it, the only course of action remaining is to publish it and see what happens.

When I called my first peal, a few weeks ago, I would have published the composition had not Mr. C. K. Lewis kindly performed a little research for me and discovered that it was very similar to a previous work by C. W. Roberts.

But unless the Central Council is prepared to establish a committee to examine all compositions before they are published, then the publication of unoriginal works is likely frequently to recur, unfortunate though this is.

I would disagree with Mr. Critchley that the second bob M in my arrangement is "unnecessary." The bob is inserted in the third course and serves to vary the 6ths place bell. Without it there is, in my opinion, too long a gap in which 6 does not occupy this position.—Yours sincerely,

P. J. WYCHERLEY.

Timperley, Cheshire.

"RINGING AND TRAINING"

Dear Sir,—I read with interest the front page article on ringing and training in "The Ringing World" of September 24th, and I agree with much that was said.

However, as a matter of historical correctness, your contributor has got his facts mixed over the margarine advert. This advertisement was a photograph, taken at Hendon, of three ringers; two had their bells at backstroke and one at handstroke, and all three had their feet firmly on the ground.

I am open to correction here, but I believe that the photo of young ringers leaping in the air at the end of their ropes, which appeared some time ago in the national Press, was taken at Burnham. George Gilbert was, I understand, very strict with his young pupils during practice, but at the end when the bells were "down" he would allow them to let off steam in this way.—Yours faithfully,

RUTH FOREMAN.

Hendon, Middlesex.

WELL WORTH IT

Dear Sir,—Do you think that to ring at Buckfast Abbey is worth £6 2s.?

Last week-end I went to Devon, especially to ring at Buckfast during their meeting. The fare was as above. It was my first Abbey—and what better than Buckfast?—so it was well worth it to ring in a Bob Royal band; and some very good call changes at Paignton on Sunday morning.—Yours faithfully,

A. HENSON.

MISS SUSAN FUNNELL'S WEDDING

On September 11th the wedding took place at St. Nicholas' Church, King's Norton, Birmingham, of Mr Philip Rothera and Miss Susan Funnell.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a full-length gown of white shimmering satin with a full train, and a short bouffant veil, and carried a sheaf of orange and white gladioli and roses. She was attended by her sister, Mary, as matron of honour, and by the Misses Christine Rothera, the bridegroom's sister, and Mary Cross-thwaite, friend of the bride. Best man was Mr. Kenneth Hesketh, and the ushers were Mr. David Rothera (bridegroom's brother) and Messrs. Peter Bennett and Maurice Hughes, ringing friends of the couple.

The reception, held at the Country Club, Hopwood, was attended by well-known ringers from many parts of the country.

Some near-perfect ringing was heard before and after the service, the bells being rung by the local band and ringing guests.

The bride is a well-known peal ringer, having topped the list of lady tower bell ringers for the past two years. Besides ringing peals, Susan has been a very active tower captain at King's Norton for several years, and under her guidance the band has grown and improved. The bridegroom, formerly of Birmingham but now working in Essex, is also an ardent peal ringer.

In the evening a peal of London Surprise Royal was rung by some of the wedding guests at King's Norton. A peal of Spliced Surprise Major was unfortunately lost the following day at Packwood. The couple flew for a honeymoon in Guernsey and on their return will live near Chelmsford.

SHEFFIELD AREA TOUR

Recently received by "The Ringing World" was an account of the first full-day tour undertaken in the Sheffield area last June by ringers from Scarborough, Scalby, Bridlington and York. The original report, says the sender (C. J. E.), seems to have been lost in the post.

Some of the best ringing of the day was at the party's first tower, Sprotborough, although some of the less advanced members found the light eight a little too light for comfort. After ringing at Rawmarsh, at Wentworth several local ringers welcomed the visitors, who had lunch in the Vicarage garden. Thanks are due to Canon King for his kind invitation. At Bradfield, Bradfield Delight was duly—and shakily—rung.

The ground-floor ring at Bolsterstone was sampled and approved before tea, and the ringers were grateful to the Vicar, who invited them to stay for Evensong. The last stop of the day was at Penistone. Someone produced handbells on the coach on the homeward journey. Edwin King, the organiser, was thanked for the arrangements. The party are grateful to all incumbents and ringers who met them.

DEVON GUILD OF RINGERS

Branch Meeting at Buckfast Abbey

The Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon Guild of Ringers held its quarterly meeting at Buckfast Abbey, Buckfastleigh, on September 18th, when there was a large gathering of ringers, including visitors from Cornwall, Surrey and Kent.

Ringers throughout the afternoon consisted of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Stedman Cinques and Plain Bob Royal, with rounds on the twelve for the less experienced ringers.

A service was held in the Abbey Church conducted by the Rev. Father Paulinus Angold, O.S.B.; the Rev. Father Sebastian Wolff, O.S.B., was the organist.

After an excellent tea in the car park cafe, the business meeting took place in the Parish Hall, presided over by Mrs. D. E. Hood, who thanked those who had contributed to the success of the meeting. Tributes were paid to Mrs. Hood, who had been the Branch chairman for seven years, and who was leaving the district for East Devon. A presentation was made to her in appreciation of her services.

Two new members from Torre were elected. Subject to the usual permission being obtained, it was resolved to hold the annual Branch meeting at Dartmouth on Saturday, January 8th, 1966. Ringing afterwards took place at Dean Prior and Ashburton Parish Churches

Southern District

The September quarterly meeting was held at Epsom Common under the direction of the District Master, Mr. T. Bird. A number of methods were rung prior to the service, the final touch being Stedman. The service was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. R. E. Faulkner, and one of the ringers played the organ. Tea was served in the Working Men's Club.

The secretary announced at the business meeting that the joint meeting with the Kent County Association was to be held at Edenbridge on November 6th. A vote was taken on the principle of holding combined District practices once a month. It was decided that three practices would be held at Reigate on the first Wednesdays in October, November and December. The secretary agreed to write to tower captains advising them of the dates.

Four new non-resident life members were proposed for ratification by Mr. W. Parrott. The belfry repair fund realised more than £1. Those present expressed regret that their number was so small. Only 19 sat down to tea, and of these Northern District members formed a strong minority. It was hoped that individual tower captains would offer more support at future meetings.

Mr. T. Bird expressed thanks to the Vicar for taking the service and allowing use of the bells, and to Miss Marsh for providing the tea. Ringing continued at Christ Church until 7.30 p.m.

WILLESBOROUGH, KENT.—On Sept. 19th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: P. Staples 1, J. C. Hillis 2, Betty John 3, C. Wyld (first quarter) 4, M. S. Lancefield 5, C. T. Hillis (cond.) 6. For Evensong.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

St. Albans District

It was a case of men and boys first up the wooden ladder on September 18th at Sandridge, where the District meeting was held. Methods, including London and Westminster, were rung during the afternoon. A service was held, followed by tea in the Village Hall.

Mrs. T. Southam, of Harpenden, was transferred to full ringing membership. The ringing course is to go ahead on November 20th at Harpenden. Names for lunch are required by Mrs. Coburn by November 3rd at the latest. The lectures will be followed by an evening meeting.

On October 16th the District meeting will be held at Welwyn. The District dinner is now definitely to be held, the date still being December 4th. The District's best wishes went to Mr. J. D. Chamberlain on leaving us, with thanks for all his hard work. Thanks were expressed to the ladies for the excellent tea; to the Rev. C. Woodhead for taking the service in the absence of the Vicar of Sandridge; and to Bob Hardy for playing the organ. Evening ringing took place

NORWICH STRIKING CONTEST

A pleasant time was had by members of the Norwich Diocesan Association who, in conjunction with a flower festival at Stratton Strawless Church on September 25th, held an open striking competition. Five bands took part and were placed in the following order: 1 Mancroft, 2 Aylsham 1, 3 St. George's, Colegate 4 East Norfolk, Aylsham 2.

Ringing was judged by Messrs W. Couzens, W. C. Duffield and the president, Mr. F. N. Golden. Handbells were well and truly demonstrated to the many non-ringing visitors. The Vicar (the Rev. R. Atkins) welcomed the ringers and conducted a short service, with the president reading the lesson.

The wonderful candelabra was much admired. A hint that it was the one which years ago belonged to St. Peter Mancroft was soon denied!

Mr. F. C. Goodman (Ringing Master), who had arranged the competition, was, we were sorry to learn, unable to attend, as he had been ordered to bed by his doctor. We wish him a speedy return to health.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 24

CHRISTOPHER RICKETTS,

Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association.

Another brilliant youngster is discovered in South Wales. The discovery was made when the writer attended a recent Branch meeting at a small six bell tower near Neath. The belfry was packed with keen and enthusiastic youngsters—a most encouraging sight and a great credit to the older ringers of South Wales.

The second Welsh youngster to be included in this series is 14-year-old Christopher Ricketts, Ringing Master of the Cowbridge Grammar School Society. Christopher was born at Barry, Glam., on May 23rd, 1951. He attended primary school at Barry and Lisvane, and is now entering fourth year (pre-G.C.E. form) at Cowbridge Grammar School, where he is a boarding pupil. The school has 400 day boys, 50 boarders.

Christopher started ringing at 11 years old at Holy Cross Church, Cowbridge, Glam. He received his early ringing instructions from two senior pupils. Ellis N. Thomas taught him to handle a bell and Gareth N. Jones taught him the elements of change ringing. He became a member of the Cowbridge Sunday service band as soon as he could ring rounds, and now rings there twice each Sunday. An occasion not to be forgotten by him was when he rang his first touch for Sunday service at Llanblethian, where the Cowbridge School ringers have revived ringing after a silence of 30 years; and rings there every Sunday now.

At the age of 12 Christopher rang his first peal. He rang the treble to seven Doubles methods/variations at St. Bride's Major, Glam., on Tuesday, December 17th, 1963, in 2 hours 43 minutes, conducted by Ellis N. Thomas. This peal was a great occasion for all who took part, for not only was it Christopher's first, but the first school peal in Wales.

This brilliant youngster has now rung twelve peals to date, in a variety of Doubles and Minor methods. His eighth, a peal of seven Doubles methods/variations at Baglan, Glam., on February 17th, 1965, in 2 hours and 52 minutes was his first as conductor. On this occasion he rang the 4th.

Christopher's most amusing incident to date was the loss of a peal in the summer of 1964, due to the ringer of the tenor losing his trousers.

Chris sets himself a high standard in his ringing. He rings with intelligence and concentration, paying great attention to his striking, making him a reliable member in any touch or peal band. The reward he has won for his perseverance and painstaking is his ability to ring touches in various Surprise Major methods.

Christopher is very successful as a "missionary" and instructor, and is also very conscientious in carrying out his share of steeple upkeep duties. He is a boy of remarkable versatile talent. Well placed in his academic work, a good performer at rugby, cricket and athletics, and has taken prominent parts in school dramatic society productions. His top-most interest is ringing and his ambition in this direction is to ring at St. Paul's Cathedral. While there are boys like this around, the future of the Exercise is surely safe. Congratulations and good luck, Christopher. NORVING.

MARKFIELD'S OUTING

Some fifty ringers and friends from Markfield, Leics, spent a very enjoyable half-day's outing in Derbyshire. Four towers were chosen. Calling at Darley Dale (8) Miss Smith and Mr. Paulson met the party and the bells were soon going to rounds and some nice change ringing was enjoyed. On to Baslow (6), where the ringers were met by ringer Timothy Wylie. Ringing went well, being more in line with Markfield's. From ringing to tea at Strutts, Baslow. This was followed by ringing at Eyam (6) and was appreciated by spectators in the church. Dronfield (8) was the last tower. Many thanks to all who made the outing possible and to incumbents. J. W.

BURIED BELL LEGEND

The story of a legendary buried church bell at Slinfold, Sussex, related recently by Mr. Stephen Peacock (78), of Cranleigh, a retired Surrey farmer, has provided correspondence in "West Sussex Gazette," the newspaper which published an article about it. Writers of a number of letters confirm the account given by Mr. Peacock, who had the legend told to him by an old Sussex carter, Pete Greenfield, of Deddisham Farm.

The bell is supposed to be buried in a field which was once a bog at Roman Gate, on the Guildford-Horsham Road, at the junction of the road leading to Billingshurst and Bognor Regis. According to Mr. Peacock, in Saxon times there was a village or town at the spot, which is known as Alföld Dene (or Anfold Dean). The old tollhouse, below which is the reputed site of the buried bell, has been demolished. Roman paving and other remains have been unearthed near the spot.

The legend is that no one knew how to recover the bell from the bog until a witch advised that 12 white oxen should be taken to the field at midnight to drag it out, but that not a word must be spoken. The oxen were accordingly obtained a chain was hooked on to the bell, and the dragging operation started. Then, just as the bell reached the surface someone shouted, "We've got Alföld Dene gurt bell, in spite of all the devils in hell." Instantly the chain broke, the bell slipped back into the quagmire, never to be recovered!

Mr. G. N. Slyfield, of Horsham, wrote to "The West Sussex Gazette" stating he had long heard of the story of the buried church bell near Alföld Dean Bridge which carried the Roman Stane Street. His letter went on to say:

"In Henry Burstow's 'Reminiscences of Horsham' the chapter on bells and bellringing states that 90 church bells were made by Messrs. Eldridge in The Normandy, Horsham. There is in the Slinfold churchwardens' accounts for 1593 the following: 'Item for carridge of o'r bells to Horsham 3s. 4d. Item or charges 2 days at Horsham about the bells 4d.'

"There is also in 1611 and 1618: 'Imprimis for carrying the grete bell into Horsham 2s. 1d. It. the Castyng of the seyed bell 42s. 8d. It. for carrying the bell from Horsham 2s. 2d.' Why was the return journey more expensive?

"It is not difficult to visualise accident at this place, when the horse and cart ascended or descended from the Roman hard pavement into the river basin."

S.O.S. FOR BELL ROPES

There has been a sad lack of response to the appeal for secondhand bell ropes for St. Mary's, Chute Forest, Wiltshire, only two having been given so far by the Andover tower. If these bells are to continue in use ropes of 30 ft. length will be required. Has any tower a spare one to give? The present set are required elsewhere and will be removed.

Let us know if you have a spare one and we will arrange collection. It is hoped to organise a joint meeting here in spring, 1966, with the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. Correspondence to Mr. G. Dodd, 7, White City, Woolton Hill, Newbury, Berks.

CRAWFORD CUP CONTEST

This year the final of the Crawford Cup contest was held in the Newark district on September 18th. The bells chosen were the 6 cwt. six in the tiny church of Barnby-in-the-Willows, which, along with the equally tiny village, almost topples over the River Witham into Lincolnshire.

Into this peaceful setting swarmed a large number of cars, spilling out the members of the six teams competing, and other interested ringers. Small groups of people stood in the sunshine in and around the churchyard, listening to the efforts from within the church. Listening hardest of all were the judge, Mr. Jack Millhouse, and his marker, Mr. Peter Sharp, both of Lincoln, who must have been very ready for tea after so much concentration.

All the entrants rang Minor, and the set number of changes was 360. The standard of ringing was generally good, so it was with great interest that the assembled company heard that Warsop, representing the Mansfield District, had wrested the cup from the previous year's winner, Shelford, by a small margin. 54 faults to 64.

Watton-in-the-Vale and Wollaton both had 76 faults for striking errors, but Wollaton incurred a penalty of 10 faults because one bell set too soon, thus reducing them to fourth place. Sutton-on-Trent followed with 125 faults, and East Retford with 149.

Mr. Millhouse presented the cup to the only lady member of the Warsop band, Miss Catherine Rooke. Mr. J. W. Raithby had previously welcomed everyone to the Newark District, and to Barnby, and also formally introduced the judges. He said that great credit was due to the ladies who coped so capably with the large number for tea, approximately 60, especially considering the minuteness of the Church Hall. An enjoyable occasion was concluded with open ringing in the evening. B. N. R.

ESSEX AND SUFFOLK VISITED

During the last week of August a party of 19 ringers, drawn from six counties, toured North Essex and South Suffolk, ringing at most of the ringable towers in the area. At several towers the party regretted to hear of no local ringers, and at others those who met them joined in a touch with them and later remarked that it was the first time they had rung for some six weeks or more. There were, of course, other towers with thriving bands and well-kept belfries.

The party extend thanks to incumbents who allowed them to ring; to the local ringers who met them, and especially to two people who gave that bit of extra help to ensure that arrangements ran smoothly: Mr. Munnings, who assisted at most of the Ipswich churches, and the Suffolk Guild secretary, Andrew Beckwith, who advised on Suffolk towers, service ringing times and generally made the organiser's task easier.

The quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor rung by the ladies of Wimborne (Dorset) Branch at Lytchett Matravers on August 2nd ("R.W." page 546) was not the first by the ladies of the Branch, since they rang a quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles in April, 1964.

CHERTSEY DISTRICT STRIKING COMPETITION

The first striking competition to be held by the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild took place at Send on September 18th. Teams representing Chobham, Egham, Hersham, Chertsey, Horsell and Thames Ditton took part.

The judges were Major E. J. Bragg and Mr. C. W. Denyer, who listened to the ringing from Mr. Denyer's car parked nearby. A few faults were possibly missed because of the noise of jets using London Airport! The service was taken by a lay reader, Mr. A. C. Stewart, who also gave an address.

Following the usual good tea, provided by Mrs. Strudwick and her helpers, which 60 people enjoyed, the judges announced their verdicts. Mr. Denyer gave a general account of the methods used to assess faults and how the faults could be eliminated in future. Major Bragg commented on each team in particular, which caused some hiding of faces in hands. Egham were the team with least faults, with Hersham second.

The District Ringing Master, Mr. C. D. J. Webb, warmly thanked the judges for their valuable advice. The general feeling of the meeting was that the contest was something really worth doing. Further ringing took place during the evening R. C.

INTERESTING PEAL FEATURES

There were some interesting features associated with a peal of 5,040 Grandsire Triples rung at Sherburn-in-Elmet for the Yorkshire Association on September 11th. It was G. Fred Terry's 100th peal, and David Sheppard's first peal of Grandsire Triples "inside." Also, D. Margaret Hawley and Edward M. Bradley had not rung any recent peals and it was a welcome change to ring with these two well-known ringers. In addition, the conductor broke his left arm on March 3rd and was very gratified that it had healed sufficiently to enable a peal to be rung.

NORWICH RINGERS IN LONDON

St. George's, Colegate, Norwich, ringers were up betimes on September 4th to catch an early train for an excursion to London. Nine towers were visited—St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green; St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate; St. Vedast's, Foster Lane; St. Andrew's, Holborn; St. Clement Danes; St. Mary Abbot's; St. Giles-in-the-Fields; St. Giles', Cripplegate; and one in the East, where the new eight were rung for the first time. Ringers from Southampton, Watford and elsewhere joined the party at certain towers, nicely augmenting the numbers. There was rather more walking and less underground travelling than the organiser (Martin Cubitt), when announcing his plans, had indicated; but that only induced healthy appetites, assuaged at a restaurant near the last tower visited, and a pleasant drowsiness on the return journey to Norwich.

It has been decided to change the practice night at St. Mary's, Kingsclere, as a temporary measure only, from Thursday to Tuesday. This is because many of the band find themselves obliged to attend evening classes on Thursday and it is done in the interest of the quality of the Sunday ringing.

THE FIRST HALF

THE first half of Great Adventure II is over and it is possible to weigh up the value of this enterprise, which at Northampton failed to receive the recognition or benediction of the Central Council. While purely individual, and this has been a cause of surprise to our Australian friends, it has been regarded in this great Commonwealth as symbolic of the goodwill and friendship of the whole of British ringers.

We have been received as the representatives of a large body many thousands strong, who in their service to the Church ring the bells of cathedrals and churches Sunday by Sunday proclaiming the message of Glory to God in the Highest. The interest in the visit has not been limited to the few. Two archbishops—Perth and Melbourne—and the Bishop of Adelaide have amended their diaries to give us a welcome.

Equally interested have been the civic authorities. Two Lord Mayors and two Mayors have held receptions in our honour and have shown their appreciation of the dedicated art we practise. Bellringing is typically British and is recognised as such by those who have received us. Our ringing has brought pleasure to hundreds; we say this not in any sense to belittle the conscientious performances of members of the Australian and New Zealand Association; but in many areas our style of ringing, and the rhythm captured, brought to many from the Ringing Isles tears of nostalgic memories. "We have never heard our bells rung like this" was not a mere empty phrase. We heard it at Perth, Adelaide, outside the Town Hall, Ballarat, Bendigo and Yass.

And what can we say of those who were our hosts, planned the various programmes and entertained us so lavishly and selflessly? The welcome and kindness extended to us will never be forgotten. The next generation repeated to the full the generous hospitality of 1934. Most of the party had had experience of organising ringing functions; they knew the hours of hard work involved and were very conscious of what had been undertaken to care for a party, most of whom were elderly and at times travel-weary.

Already there are indications that the visit has produced tangible results. At Perth we emphasised that the bells were unpealable. Two members prepared a report on the bells and the Church Authorities will probably approach the Lord Mayor to issue a civic appeal. The other was at Melbourne. The bells at the Roman Catholic Cathedral have for years been notorious for bad-going. Now there is every promise that specifications for an eight and ten will be sought. Two worthy rings are likely to be operating in the city of Melbourne—not too many for a population of over two millions.

The standard of Australian belfries visited was high. Clean and fresh, most of them had a businesslike air and there was evidence of young life everywhere. The bell chambers were tidy and clean; the general opinion was that steeplekeepers should give a closer attention to the bells. However, the atmosphere of interest and enthusiasm encountered gave every prospect that the Australian and New Zealand Association would, with steady influx of ringers with English experience, be in a position equal to the average county Association.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

Cathedral Peal Attempt lasts 50 mins.

SUNDAY, September 19th, saw two peal successes. The four who flew to Adelaide rang Plain Bob Major on the Cathedral bells in 3 hours 35 minutes. Four Australians were included—Brian R. Cox, William B. Pitcher, Ronald K. Russ and David J. Bleby. Pat Cannon was more than satisfied with the peal, which he conducted, and trips were very rare. It was David Bleby's first "inside" and fourth peal, and Pat foretold a promising ringing career for David if he should come to England.

A service touch of 720 Plain Bob Minor was rung at St. Andrew's, Walkerville, by Paul L. Ewens 1. Anne Horsford 2, A. P. Cannon 3, D. J. Gambling 4, R. Mark Damerell 5, K. G. Stephenson (conductor) 6. This was the first 720 by the conductor.

The second peal—Plain Bob Major "in hand"—was rung on Sunday evening at St. Mary's Rectory, Caulfield, largely through the initiative of the Rev. M. C. C. Melville, to enable three of the St. Paul's Cathedral band to ring their first "in hand." They were Helen J. Henderson, Anne E. Cowling and Andrew C. Bolton. All were very pleased that the effort was crowned with success.

Monday morning was devoted to sight-seeing. Four of the party visited the Royal Melbourne Show and about 15 were enabled to spend three interesting hours at the Monash University. This was arranged by Peter Richards, a former Crayford ringer, who is engaged on research among Australian animals. The nature preserve, attached to the University, was a source of great interest, as many rare (some almost extinct) birds and mammals were seen.

WITHOUT LUSTRE

We lunched at the Students' Union. One student in a friendly manner inquired what faculty we were attending. A wit of our company replied: "The faculty of campanology at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne!"

The second peal attempt at the Cathedral that evening—one of Stedman Cinques—lasted 50 minutes. Wilfred Williams conducted; the performance did not add lustre to the tourists, most of whom were tired. Australians participating in the attempt were John Roper on the tenor, Hervey Bagot, Graeme Heyes and Andrew Bolton. The tourists, in addition to the conductor, were Tom Lock, Malcolm Melville, Mark Damerell, Shirley Burton, Arthur Mason, Patrick Cannon and Cecil Pipe.

BENDIGO

After a train journey lasting nearly three hours in very comfortable carriages, we arrived at Bendigo on the day of the weekly market, at which 21,000 sheep and lambs and 1,000 bullocks were penned.

We were housed in a motel, each unit having wireless and television and tea and coffee for making a drink. Once famed for its gold minings—a nugget worth £2,000 was picked up by a roadman three weeks before—Bendigo is now a big agricultural centre, with many fine buildings, and trams running down the wide main streets.

Our purpose was, however, to ring the first peal on the bells, and this was successfully accomplished in 2 hours 56 minutes. The peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major was the first outside the British Isles. About last Christmas a party of Adelaide ringers travelled 700 miles to Bendigo to join Melbourne ringers in a peal attempt. According to reports it was lost when there were only 40 changes to go! It was a fairly good peal apart from an odd slip or two. Local comments were most favourable. "We have never heard our bells rung like this before," said a prominent citizen.

Outside in the street the bells were very melodious, but inside the ringing chamber they were noisy, and in the opinion of one of the band not many people in England would go for a peal in the tower. The remedy is easy—extra covering of kapok, or a similar material, between the bells and the ringers. The bells, like those at Adelaide, are hung in two tiers. There was a frame weakness; it had been extended and the ends in places were not on firm girders. Particularly difficult was the sixth bell.

The peal over, the company united outside the Town Hall for a photograph, to be followed by a Mayoral reception. Bendigo ringers also attended. The Mayor (Cdr. R. F. Turner) in his welcome said he felt the 93-year-old bells at St. Paul's were part of Bendigo and they issued the challenge for the Christian way of life as they rang out each Sunday.

Supporting speeches were given by the Mayor of Eaglehawk (Cdr. F. C. Staub), the Huntley Shire President (Cdr. K. Shotton) and the Rector of St. Paul's (Canon D. I. M. Anthony), who met us at the station and was delighted that there was a Welshman in the party. Tom Lock replied, and then followed the signing individually in the Visitors' Book. With us was Pam Warren, who had motored some 70 miles to be with us and join in the evening ringing. Bill Malloy thanked the Mayor on behalf of Bendigo ringers.

A high tea was provided by the ladies of St. Paul's. Canon Anthony was a genial host and in the informal speech-making that followed Canon Anthony told of the misfortunes to Bendigo bells and how they were cracked in the Government Ordnance Factory while the canons were being removed. The only satisfactory method was a "boil-up" of the bells in England and recasting, which took place at the Whitechapel foundry. An acknowledgment of their responsibility was a cheque for £500 from the Government, but another appeal to the town was necessary to liquidate the debt.

The Bendigo Bellmaster, Mr. Bill Robertson, gave fraternal greetings, and Tom Lock presented a copy of "The Sound of Bells" and a bell ash tray to the tower.

In the evening ringing the visitors rang Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major and helped local ringers through Bob Doubles and Bob Triples. A hot supper concluded a happy three hours.

A 25th ANNIVERSARY

Wednesday was the 25th anniversary of Malcolm Melville's ordination and he was given permission to celebrate at the 10 a.m. Communion service. Many of us attended the service to join in congratulating our colleague on a quarter of a century service to the Church.

Pat Cannon was privileged to visit a large primary school, and Tom and Kathleen White, after the service, had tea with the President of Bendigo Inner Wheel, and Tom White received a banneret of the Bendigo Rotary Club for presentation to the Guildford Club.

With reluctance we left this beautiful city for Melbourne.

Our first function on reaching Melbourne was a reception given by the Dean (the Very Rev. Thomas W. Thomas) and Mrs. Thomas at the Deanery. Father Little, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, was also present and he expressed a sincere hope to have a much better ring of bells in the R.C. Cathedral. Expert opinion from England is to be sought and there might even be ten bells in the tower to ring out a challenge to St. Paul's. A suggestion of activity and an appeal were contained in the Roman Catholic weekly, "The Age." The article contained a photograph of Wilfred Williams. By the way, Wilf's style of belfrymanship made him very popular in St. Paul's Cathedral, and the trio of youthful beauty rose very early on the Thursday morning to pay due homage to the representative of St. Paul's, London.

We would like to place a veil over the third peal attempt at St. Paul's that Wednesday evening. Cambridge Surprise Royal was chosen. There were two false starts and then it only lasted 50 minutes. The mood to ring peals was lacking. Various touches in which local ringers participated continued until 9.15 p.m., when a farewell supper was served by Mrs. Roper and helpers. In his farewell speech and good wishes for the success of the tour, Jock Roper mentioned the work of Graeme Heyes for organising the Melbourne part of the tour, the members who provided transport, and the ladies who provided the food.

This vote of thanks was fully endorsed by Tom Lock, who said the tour was proving to be most enjoyable and memorable. "We are doing our best," he said. "We have had our failures as well as successes. We are enjoying ourselves and we hope the advice we have given will bear fruit. With the interest and enthusiasm of St. Paul's band there was a great potential for ringing in Melbourne." Presentations followed.

Breakfast was served at 6.30 at the Victoria Hotel, where the 13 spent the night. Nevertheless John Roper and others turned up to get the luggage to the air terminal for the flight to Canberra, another full and eventful day.

A successful meeting of the North and East District was held at St. Margaret's, Edgware, on September 18th. Ringing took place in various six-bell methods and every opportunity was afforded the local company, who are in the early stages of the art, to make progress in method ringing. In the absence of the Rector, the service was conducted by Philip Robinson, lay reader and a member of the local band, whilst Mr. C. H. Rigg accompanied at the organ. Tea followed in the Church Hall, ably prepared by the local ringers.

At the short business meeting two new ringing members were elected, the Rev. David Ritchie, Vicar of St. John the Baptist (Pinner) and Leslie White (Harrow Weald). On the proposition of Mr. T. G. Hawkins it was decided to send a message of goodwill and the best wishes of the meeting to Tom Lock and the tourists in Australia, and this Martin Lock, who was present, promised to do so. Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector of Edgware and all who had contributed to the success of the meeting.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD
Dorchester Branch

The quarterly meeting at Upwey on September 25th was the first to be held there since 1958. The Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. Leslie Jones), who also gave the address. A company of 30, including visiting ringers from St. Peter's, Nottingham, Wington (Somerset) and North Dorset enjoyed the excellent tea provided in the school by lady helpers.

The Branch Ringing Master (Mr. J. W. Rose) presided at the business meeting. During the afternoon and evening the six bells were rung to a variety of methods up to Cambridge Surprise Minor. Subject to the approval of incumbents, fortnightly practices were arranged for October 9th, Charminster; October 23rd, St. George's, Fordington; November 6th, Wyke Regis; November 20th, Wool; December 4th, St. Peter's, Dorchester; December 18th, Preston; January 1st, Bere Regis; January 29th, Abbotsbury.

LICHFIELD, STAFFS.—At the Cathedral, on Sept. 19th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Margaret Ellwood (first on eight) 1, P. C. Bowen 2, Ann Barr 3, B. J. Townsend 4, F. A. Sedgwick 5, C. W. Bowen 6, E. A. Malin (cond.) 7, C. M. Smith 8. First of Grandsire Triples "inside" 2 and 6. Rung prior to the ordination service.

Mr. Trevor Bailey's Irish Tour

THE tour really started for half of the members of the party on the night of Friday, August 20th. Those who sailed from Liverpool had the mortifying experience of listening to the practice at St. Nicholas', Pierhead, without being able to join it, being unable to leave the boat. Others sailed from Holyhead and the remainder flew from London Airport.

Our first ringing engagement was at St. George's, Dublin, where we were met by the local ringers who had rung the bells up for us. Indeed in most of the towers we visited we found the bells already raised. Unfortunately our ringing at St. George's suffered from our long journeys to get there, amongst other things, but we did manage some respectable Double Norwich and Stedman Triples.

On Sunday morning we picked up cars we had hired for the week and made our way to St. Patrick's Cathedral, where we were made very welcome. On this fine twelve we rang rounds and a service touch of Grandsire Caters. We then went to St. John's R.C. Church to ring after the last Mass. Sad to say, only one of our lady ringers dared venture up the famous open iron spiral staircase to ring on the anti-clockwise Murphy ten. Here we rang three leads of Oxford Treble Bob Royal and a course of Yorkshire, but ringing here is complicated by the fact that the ninth is fantastically odd-struck; it has to be pulled well before the eighth in rounds.

After ringing here we were glad to find a Chinese restaurant before setting off to Tipperary, 100 miles away, where we were to spend the night. On arrival at Tipperary we found a typical Irish festival in full swing and so for the rest of the evening we were able to enjoy the singing and dancing in national costume on the back of a lorry parked in the main street, and also the tug of war held in the cattle market, which ended in a series of free fights.

We were astir early the next morning to go to Limerick, where upon arrival at St. Mary's Cathedral we were welcomed by the Dean. Some local ringers joined us and we soon had the anti-clockwise Taylor eight going to Stedman, Grandsire, Yorkshire and some Devonshire call changes called by Ray Bould.

We were scheduled to ring a peal in the afternoon on the fine ten at the R.C. Church of Mount St. Alphonsus, so after a few call changes for the tower grabbers we settled down to ring a peal of Plain Bob Royal and enjoy the bells. The peal was successful and we retired back to the National Hotel to hear the appalling clock chimes from the tower across the road. At one point during the evening two gentlemen were persuaded to perform "The Bells of St. Mary's" on handbells in the square outside the hotel. As this was done just as the local bingo hall was emptying they soon had quite a respectable crowd round them listening to the ringing.

It was fortunate that Tuesday was a non-ringing day because after this excitement most of us stayed up until the small hours of the morning. However, we were all fit enough after breakfast to make our way leisurely to Killarney, where much to our horror we discovered that the hotel where we were to stay was unlicensed. We put this at the back of our minds and went to see the famous Gap of Dunloe, some on horseback and the more timid ones by pony and trap. It was noticeable afterwards how many people preferred to stand up rather than sit down!

On Wednesday we travelled from Killarney to Bandon to ring on the very nice, if rather noisy, six. Original Minor, London, Cambridge and Grandsire were rung here, and we were also joined by some of the local ringers in ringing call changes "Bandon-style." I think Bill Theobald was very surprised when the call changes came round!

After a sandwich lunch in Cork we went via Blarney Castle and the famous Blarney Stone to Doneraile, a very good light six in a country church. Here we rang the standard six-bell methods as well as one of Les Melton's special touches of Spliced. After having a group photograph taken below a suitable Guinness sign, we all went back to Cork for the night.

We rose early on Thursday to ring on the magnificent Rudhall eight at St. Fin Barre's Cathedral, Cork, where we were pleased to meet Mr. Fred Bogan, who was to help us a great deal. On these beautiful bells we rang Grandsire, Double Norwich and Superlative amongst other things before departing in haste for Wexford. We had to fix three ropes on the bells at this tower, no small task, as the H-frame made movement difficult, and the wheels were provided with remarkably small garter-holes. This being accomplished, we rang Stedman Caters, Bob Royal and three leads of Treble Bob on these lovely bells before lowering them, removing the ropes, giving our thanks to the local ringers, especially Mr. Willis, and going to the hotel.

The next day we were due to ring at Waterford, followed by a peal attempt at Kilkenny Cathedral. The bells at Waterford Cathedral were rung to Double Norwich, Yorkshire, Cambridge, Superlative and Stedman after a little initial difficulty with the second bell, which at first refused to strike. We then made our way to Kilkenny, where we were unfortunate in having a late start for the peal, and it was decided that the bells would not ring Yorkshire that day, so the attempt was abandoned and we adjourned to the "local." This was fortunate in one way because it gave us time before saying farewell to the Boulds and Bill Theobald, who were leaving for Belfast, to make a small presentation to Trevor as a token of our appreciation for his arrangement of the tour.

After following a complicated route we eventually arrived in Gorey for the evening, where contrary to gloomy prophecies from certain quarters we actually found draught beer. The evening was spent amongst Irish patriots at Courtown, who sang songs exhorting us to go to Dublin to join the I.R.A.

Saturday dawned a beautiful day and we journeyed to Arklow, where the third and last peal attempt was to be made. However, after ringing to the halfway position in Bob Major it was decided that the bells were running too dry for us to finish a peal in comfort, and Les Melton therefore called it round at that point. After lunch we travelled via the lovely vale of Avoca and Glendalough to ring at Bray. Here we were met by Mr. C. Reece and another Dublin ringer, and they joined us in ringing several touches on this fine eight.

After tea in Bray we went back to Dublin to ring at Christ Church Cathedral, where we were met by that genial G.O.M. of Irish ringing, Mr. Billy Lynch, who joined us in ringing Stedman Caters on the heavy ten cast by Murphy's of Dublin. After ringing here we were able to give the ropes we had on loan from St. Patrick's Cathedral back to Mr. Harry Brown, and we wish to thank him and the St. Patrick's ringers for their help in this respect.

Saturday night, being the final night of the tour, was spent in appropriate fashion and on the Sunday morning we met at St. Patrick's for our last ring in Ireland, the ringing including a course of Grandsire Cinques.

Final farewells were said on Sunday before the party went separate ways back to England. We wish to thank all the priests of the churches at which we rang for their permission, to the local ringers who so kindly met us, to Mr. Fred Bogan of Cork for his help, to Mr. Fred Dukes for his invaluable aid with the arrangements, to Les Melton, Ray Bould and Mike Medley for transporting us safely, and to Trevor Bailey for arranging the tour.

WORCESTER CATHEDRAL PEALS

Dear Sir,—I would be grateful if I may be allowed to publish the following information about peals at Worcester Cathedral for the benefit of those who have already booked peal attempts and any others who may be thinking of doing so.

Last year I published a notice to the effect that no more applications for peals should be made until after 1970. I have recently received further applications. Since it is some years since the Dean and Chapter made the ruling of one peal per year, we decided to ask them to review the matter and consider if more peals could be permitted. The Dean regrets that this is not possible because it is felt that more than one peal would give cause for complaint.

The position is therefore as it was. We still have six outside attempts booked and it will inevitably take some time to clear these, since if we decide to ring the annual peal ourselves it will put the visitors' attempts back another year. We shall be attempting a peal in December, and next year's peal will probably go to the next applicant on the list.—Yours, etc.,

DAVID BEACHAM,
Hon. Sec.,
Worcester Cathedral Guild.

CONGRATULATORY PEAL

Dear Sir,—Twenty-five years ago the Rev. D. G. Glanfield was ordained at the Michaelmas ordination. He came to St. Botolph's, Northfleet, as a curate on October 1st. During his stay of five years he learned to handle a bell and to hunt the treble. He then went into the Army as a chaplain. In 1952 he returned to Northfleet as Vicar of St. Botolph's, and although, being Vicar, his time was limited, he took an interest in the bells and ringing.

So what better way of congratulation than by attempting a peal? Stedman Triples was selected, as Mr. Glanfield loved listening to that particular method. A band was got together and a good peal was rung in 2 hours 48 minutes. The ringers were met as they emerged from the tower by the Vicar, who after thanking and congratulating them on a good peal, suggested they might all be thirsty. After quenching our thirsts we parted, knowing that another milestone had been celebrated.

G. J. B.

THE FIRST?

Dear Sir,—Breadsall All Saints' Church, Derbyshire, was gutted by fire in 1914, allegedly by the Suffragettes, and the bells fell from the tower. Church records were also destroyed.

The quarter peal of Doubles rung at the church on September 26th is believed to be the first rung by a resident Sunday service band. If, however, any know of change ringing by a resident band at Breadsall prior to this date, the writer will be pleased to hear from them.—Yours faithfully,

B. GREASLEY.

WITNEY BELLS

Dear Sir,—I would like to thank your correspondent, Mr. C. F. Jerram, for his letter, and amplify the detail in my article that he refers to.

It was in fact the Rev. Cunningham who instituted the reforms that got our Society on a regular footing, but this was only one thing amongst many that he did in the church. It was only some years later that he started to write it all down in the "Parish Diary."

This document and the Minute Book of the Society are the only sources of information known to me at present about ringing in Witney during the mid-19th century. If Mr. Jerram could add to anything I have written, we here would be very pleased indeed. The same holds good for any other historian who might have information.

My article was written originally for the Society, and some while ago at that. I do not know when I can write on other aspects of the Witney bells, as I have no time, but I have a lot of manuscript notes compiled over the years. I can thoroughly recommend anyone who feels like finding out a bit about their own ring to have a go. It is a fascinating thing to do.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID J. SMITH.

TREBLE BOB COURSE ENDS

Dear Sir,—The following peculiarity of Treble Bob Royal false course ends occurred to me the other day and might be of interest to some readers.

If a Surprise Treble Bob method has the false course end 32546 then that course is false against the plain course at some place. This course, however, differs from the plain course in that the coursing order of four bells has been reversed, 42356 instead of 53246. Naturally the coursing order 56423 giving a course end 46253 will be false against the plain course for the same reason and the f.c.e.'s 32546 and 46253 will always occur together on any number of bells.

If these two occur in a Royal method, then by the same argument the coursing order 532467908 in which the big bells are reversed must be false against the plain course. This gives a course end of 234568709 and one of the handstrokes of the treble's whole pull will be 243657890.

If the method is symmetrical, this course will contain the same changes rung in reverse order as the course in which 243657890 falls on the treble's backstroke lead.

This latter course must be false against the plain course and since it has the back bells together, 24365 would be used to represent it. Hence in Royal the f.c.e.'s 32546, 46253 and 24365 always occur together.

If these methods are applied to Major or Maximus methods the step of substituting a handstroke row for a backstroke one (and using the symmetry of the method to produce the same changes) will give us an out of course f.c.e. In fact if the principles used above are applied thoroughly all the out of course course ends of a Major or Maximus method can be obtained from a knowledge of all the in course ones, including those with parted tenors. In Royal nothing is learned of the out of course f.c.e.'s by this method but I thought the grouping of the three in course ones interesting.—Yours sincerely,

J. HENRY FIELDEN.

Halifax, Yorks.

GIRLS AND RINGING

Dear Sir,—I recently came across what I think must be the earliest suggestion that girls might learn to ring bells. Dr. Erasmus Darwin (grandfather of Charles Darwin), writing in 1798 a treatise entitled "A Plan for the Conduct of Female Education in Boarding Schools," says that girls' health frequently suffered from too much sedentary occupation. As a remedy he suggests among other things: "The ringing of a real bell hung as is done in churches . . . might be used with great advantage by young people." As far as I know, however, there is no record of girls being allowed to follow this advice for over 100 years.—Yours faithfully, GILLIAN A. WILLIAMSON.

Stoneleigh, Coventry.

WILLIAM SNOWDON

Dear Sir,—Mr. Beauchamp's letter in your issue of October 1st is interesting. In her letter of March 30th, 1960, Miss Snowdon wrote: "Labelled like a parcel 'Snowdon, passenger to HORSHAM,' the Junior School then," and she prints the name in capitals. It certainly looks as if Miss Snowdon, usually so accurate in her observations, has on this occasion had faulty recollection, unless, of course, there was a branch of the Junior School at Horsham even before the laying of the foundation stone mentioned by Mr. Beauchamp.—Yours sincerely, EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

INFORMATION REQUESTED

Dear Sir,—With reference to the Minor methods you are publishing, can a series of changes, which preclude the possibility of an extent, be called a method? I ask for information, not criticism.

One assumes that if one can get hold of the correct bobs or singles, most of them can be extended to 720. But, unless I've gone mad in my arithmetic, there are some which obviously cannot.

Examples appear to be the two St. Lawrence's, the figures for No. 1 given are $\times 34 \times 16 \times 14$ 4ths with a 6th place bob. No 2 is similar but simpler. The former's figures give as Treble work Dodge 1, 2—4ths, Dodge 1, 2, Leads. And as this does not permit the treble to go beyond 4ths, it is obviously impossible to get a full extent. Unless my arithmetic is at fault, there are 240 changes you can't get. Bobs at the course ends will give 23645—23564—23456. There may be ways of getting more.

If I am correct, and if a method only means a plain course, then the combinations seem endless, for if treble can only go to 4ths and back, it can equally go to 2, 3 or 5 and so I suppose could any other bell. And the discoveries on higher numbers should keep composers busy till the end of time.

It seems probable that Mr. Chant includes them, because he has found them in his research, and for the value they may be to multiple method ringers. But it would be interesting to know whether "methods" from which an extent cannot be got, by virtue of the method itself, really are methods.

Unless I return for another spell on this earth, I shall never ring any of them. But someone might, only to be told it's not a method.—Yours truly,

C. F. JERRAM.

GOLDEN WEDDING

It was a great day for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard, of Barley, Herts, when they celebrated their golden wedding on September 25th, 1965. The day commenced with beautiful cards of congratulations arriving from very many friends and relatives, including one from a granddaughter and her husband in Malaya and another from a daughter-in-law and two grandsons in America. As the day went on, numerous relatives and friends called with beautiful flowers and other gifts and to offer their congratulations. A gift of a tape recorder and recordings of bells and classical music from their children will, I am sure, give much pleasure to Bob and his wife. At 5.30 p.m. a party had been arranged in the old Town House. Before the party, however, Mr. Howard (Bob to those who know him) was surprised to see some of his old ringing friends making their way to the church, which is very near to Bob's home. The secret could not be kept any longer and we had to explain that we had met to attempt a quarter peal: so after a short discussion by the ringers about what method they should ring and deciding on a conductor we made our way to the ringing chamber (ground floor) to commence the quarter peal, knowing that Bob would be listening and that it was being recorded in Bob's home by his son, home from America for the occasion. The quarter peal started rather hurriedly but we soon got into a steady beat and 1,320 of Plain Bob Minor was rung in 40 minutes by the following: F. Harper 1, Miss K. Willers 2, H. F. Heathfield 3, A. E. Austin 4, S. Howard (younger brother) 5, F. E. Haynes (conductor) 6.

By 5.30 p.m. approximately 60 relatives and friends had assembled at the Town House to partake of a splendid meal which had been provided by Bob's children and other willing helpers.

The toast of the day to "Mum and Dad" was proposed by the eldest son, who said how nice it was to see so many relatives and friends who had come to pay tribute to his father and mother. Speaking with love and gratitude of his parents, he said he had missed many family celebrations in past years but this was one he had made sure not to miss.

In replying, Mr. Howard said it gave him and his wife much pleasure to have their children, grandchildren and great-grandchild and so many other relatives and friends with them that day and thanked all for coming and for the congratulations they had received, and special thanks to his old ringing friends for coming over to ring the quarter peal. On proposing a toast to absent friends, Mr. S. Howard said there were many who were prevented from coming, either by sickness or long distance, mentioning especially the granddaughter and husband in Malaya, the daughter-in-law and grandsons in America and sisters who were sick. We were thinking of these and he felt sure they would be with us in spirit that day.

Part of the quarter peal rung in the afternoon was heard on the recorder during the evening, and a song by a daughter-in-law and another favourite by Bob were much enjoyed.

RINGERS WED

The bells of Barton Parish Church, Bedfordshire, were rung at the wedding of two members of the ringers' team who were married at the church. They were Mr. Peter John Ashby, first son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ashby, of 14, Church End, Barton, and Miss Marjorie Fithel Day, first daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Day, of Essex.

Both are members of the Bedfordshire Bell-ringers' Association. The bride, known as "Sister Marge," is a qualified Church worker, and holds the Bishop of St. Albans licence to work in the diocese. Mr. Ashby is a sidesman at the church.

The service was conducted by Canon A. Cleaver, former Rector of Barton, and the celebrant at Holy Communion was the present Rector, the Rev. E. A. Wild.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Arthur Quinlan, wore a silver and white ballerina-length dress, with a short veil, and headdress of organza and silver flowers. She carried a bouquet of red roses. The bridesmaid was her niece, Miss Angela Quinlan, who received a silver-embossed bangle from the bridegroom. Mr. R. J. Ashby was best man. A reception was held in the garden of Barton Rectory.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Four hands took part in the striking contest held by Rochester District at Tunstall on September 4th. Each hand was required to ring 240 changes in either a Minor or Doubles method. The contest was judged by Mr. Herbert Audsley. After tea Mr. Audsley gave his verdict and comments on the ringing. The bands who had entered—Halling, Northfleet, Rainham and Tunstall—had put up a very good standard, he said, and there was not much between them but he felt that the Tunstall band had rung the best. The Rector (the Rev. Vernon Allen) presented a magnificent bowl to the band's captain, Mr. Terry Barton. The trophy was given by Mr. Ted Beer, a ringer in the Rochester District, to be competed for annually.

KIMPTON CUP COMPETITION

THE typical Hertfordshire flint and stone Parish Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Kimpton, was again the venue for the seventh annual striking competition for the Kimpton Cup held on September 25th. There was a good entry of nine teams and the test piece, as in previous years, was 360 Minor or Doubles. For teams waiting to ring and for those which had got through the "ordeal," the neighbouring tower of St. Paul's, Walden, was open and good use was made of this pleasant anti-clockwise six.

Some 60 ringers sat down to an excellent tea served by ladies of the Kimpton band in the Village Hall. The Vicar (the Rev. K. G. Martin), who takes a keen interest in ringing and in the competition, was unfortunately not able to be present and the president of the Hertford County Association, Mr. B. M. Barker, took the chair for proceedings after tea. Mr. J. G. Cull introduced the judges, Miss Nelia Leahy (Southampton) and Mr. C. H. Kippin (Farnborough), who announced the results and commented on the ringing. There was a tendency for several teams to ring too fast, the tenor and the big bells forcing the pace. The fifth was found a difficult bell to strike by some and in other cases marks were lost for trips.

The general standard, however, was good and the placing of the first three teams was close. Towers with methods rung and faults were: 1 Kimpton (Bob Doubles) 181; 2 King's Langley (Bob Minor) 192; 3 Wheathampstead (Cambridge) 197; 4 North Mymms (last year's winner (Cambridge) 248; 5 Hemel Hempstead (Cambridge) 254; 6 St. Stephen's, St. Albans (Doubles, three methods) 285; 7 Baldock B (Bob Doubles.) 286; 8 Baldock A (Cambridge) 308; 9 Harpenden (Bob Minor) 357.

The cup was presented by Mr. Barker to Mr. J. G. Cull, Kimpton Ringing Master, who said how pleased the band were to hold the trophy in their own tower, where the competition was inaugurated in 1959. Mr. Cull congratulated especially the treble ringer, Ian Desborough, who at 14 was the youngest taking part. An innovation was the presentation of certificates to the first three teams as a record of their success. The judges were thanked by Mr. D. C. Price and each was presented with a box of chocolates by Miss M. Lander, one of the local band, as a token of appreciation.

During the evening Codicote bells were open for general ringing and the judges were able to enjoy a very good touch of Cambridge Minor. The day was rounded off with refreshment and a sing-song at the "local"; some stalwarts had still not had enough and went on to ten-pin bowling, where it is reported that one well-known ringer had difficulty in finding a ball large enough to fit his hand!

The date of the next competition will be September 24th, 1966, and the committee are Messrs. B. M. Barker, E. G. Buck, J. G. Cull, A. R. Kench, D. C. Price and T. J. Southam.

MR. PHILLIP W. GAY'S TOUR OF NORTH SOMERSET

SATURDAY, August 7th, saw the gathering of a young band of ten ringers in the previously calm vales of North Somerset, now to re-echo the ringing of bells, the roar of cars and the reports of croquet mallets. The ringers met at the farmhouse home of the tour's organiser, Phillip Gay, and his sister, Ruth. First samples of Somerset bells and Bristol bellfounders were made that evening at East Harptree (6) and Hinton Blewitt (5), before retiring to another "Ring o' Bells" for welcome refreshment.

Sunday morning was greeted with enthusiasm, the farm cockerel awakening at 5.30 those in the outhouse, who quickly retaliated with Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples "in hand." For Sunday morning service the six bells at Litton were rung to St. Clement's and London. After dinner the party travelled to Wells Cathedral, where the local band welcomed us to ring with them for Evensong. The evening saw the party on the glorious octave at Chewton Mendip.

Monday, another fine day, started at Bur- rington (6) with Cambridge, Stedman and St. Clement's. Butcombe (6) followed, and then to Ubley (6), where the tenor had that depth of tone normally reserved for heavy octaves, the tenor booming through touches of Plain, St. Clement's and Stedman. Another heavy six, at Compton Martin, followed, rung to London and Kent. In the afternoon a quarter of Plain Bob Minor was rung at Nempnett Thrubwell. In the evening, ringing was with the Ladies' Guild at their practice meeting at Corston (8).

Dinder was Tuesday's first tower and despite a disappearing act by the tenor man behind the clock case, ringing up to Surfleet was attempted on the Llewellyn and James six. A good raise at Croscombe (6, 17 cwt.) preceded well-struck Cambridge and Stedman. Next to Binegar, before ringing in the afternoon at Ashwick, where a peal attempt was called round after a miscall in the third extent. Blagdon was the evening tower and ringing here included Stedman, Grandsire and Cambridge Major.

Wednesday started at Winford (6, 16 cwt.), followed by Nailsea, in Coates' country, where a bob course of London was rung. Next to Clevedon for Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman and Cambridge on the excellent eight. In the afternoon a peal of Bob Triples was attempted at Barrow Gurney, a ground-floor ring. Evening ringing was firstly on the heavy eight at Wraxall, where the writer was left swinging on the tail end, having misheard someone say that it was necessary to bounce the deep-set tenor up to the balance. A good course of Cambridge was rung here. Later we joined Farnborough ringers practising on their Taylor-tuned Silbie six.

Loxton tower was Thursday's first, followed by Wear, where despite the "go" of the bells and the alarming tower-sway, Wells and other methods were rung. Morning coffee was graciously provided by an aunt of Ruth and Phillip in a cottage close to the church. The week's finest six, at Axbridge, were next and these were rung to steady and rhythmic Oxford, Cambridge, Plain Bob and Stedman. Afternoon ringing was at Rowberrow, where extents of Plain Bob and Cambridge were rung. An extra tower was managed next, at Shipham, where a fast touch of mixed Kent and Oxford was rung. In the evening the heavy-going eight at Winscombe were rung to Stedman, Grandsire and call changes.

On Friday, Hemington (6, 16 cwt.) was the first tower, followed by the heaviest six of the tour at Kilmerston. Next to the uniquely-tuned six at Dunkerton, where the front four are practically identical in weight. In the afternoon long touches of Plain Bob and Grandsire were rung at Bitton, Gloucestershire, before going into Bristol. Half the party stayed in Bristol and, after admiring the graceful elegance of St. Mary Redcliffe, joined Bristol Cathedral ringers on their practice night for some very good ringing, which

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION Eastern District

The quarterly District meeting was held at Hutton Cranswick on September 25th. The six bells were kept going to a variety of methods till 9 p.m. with a break for a service conducted by the new Vicar (the Rev. L. D'Aguiar), who warmly welcomed the Association.

An excellent tea was provided by local ladies, who refused to make any charge—a gesture particularly noteworthy because the church has one of the "silent" towers in the District. A collection taken afterwards, however, realised £6, and the Vicar said that he felt a little embarrassed, having held a collection in church and a further collection being taken for the Association's Bell Repair Fund, which amounted to 16s 7d.

At the business meeting three new members were elected—Miss E. Rimer and Mr. C. Mun- day, of Cottingham, and Miss S. Chapman, of St. John's College, York. Mr. A. Sheppard (Sherburn-in-Elmet) was elected to the District Committee in place of Mr. C. Groome, who resigned, having gone to Canada. Miss J. Gray (Walkington) was also elected to the District Committee to succeed Mr. K. B. Sissons, who has left the district. The December meeting was fixed for the 11th, when it is hoped to hold a joint meeting with the Beverley and District Society at Cottingham.

OUTING

ROTHERHAM RINGERS VISIT LONDON

For their outing this year Rotherham Parish Church ringers visited London on September 18th. Two ringing friends from Sheffield Cathedral joined the party. Mr. Douglas Hughes arranged towers for ringing and guided the party through the reconstructed area to Cripplegate, where the ringing included Stedman Caters, and Grandsire Cinques. Jack Phillips, who was host at St. Giles', led the visitors to St. Lawrence Jewry, near the Guildhall, where everyone enjoyed the lovely bells, and methods including Bristol were rung.

After lunch, the new six at St. Vedast's, Foster Lane, proved a joy to ring and hear, and methods from Plain Bob to London went well.

Later the party assembled at St. Clement Danes', where several watched an interesting wedding and listened to some well-struck changes by those appointed to ring for the ceremony—mostly London ringers of the fair sex. This band gracefully made way for the visiting party, who found St. Clement's bells to go almost too easily. Here again the Ringing Master catered for all grades and abilities and the best touch was probably a course of Yorkshire S.M. After lowering the bells, everyone rushed outside to hear the "Orange and Lemons" chime. Following tea, a walk through the West End and an hour in the London Bar, it was a tired party that arrived home about 2 a.m. The party thank all who did so much to make their day so fruitful and enjoyable.

included standard Surprise, six-spliced Surprise, Stedman and Spliced Bristol and Little Bob!

On Friday evening, back at the farm, bread, cheese and cider was the rule of the night, and later in the evening it was decided to conclude an excellent tour with a peal of Doubles at Marksbury on the Saturday morning. This was duly rung, with Mandy on the tenor, and Susan, ringing her first peal, on the treble, in the fast time of 2 hours 28 minutes.

Our thanks for the tour go to Phillip Gay for his unflustered organisation, to his family for catering for us, to the drivers of the cars, to all incumbents for the use of bells, and to those ringers who made us welcome. R. J. T.

OBITUARY

MR. C. BOWERS

By the death of Mr. Chris Bowers (74), the Hereford Diocesan Guild, and the Ledbury District in particular, has lost one of its oldest members. He was a ringer at Mathon for 50 years and had rung 50 peals for the Hereford Guild and conducted some. He also had rung a number of peals for the Worcester Association. Chris was Ringing Master for the Ledbury District for six years. He was buried at Bishops Frome Church, fellow members of the Ledbury District acting as bearers. The bells at Mathon were rung half-muffled on the night of the funeral, a fitting tribute to his memory. A peal with the bells half-muffled was rung later.

MRS. EDITH FLETCHER

A wide circle of friends regret the passing of Mrs. Edith Fletcher in Northgate Hospital, Great Yarmouth, after a short illness. She founded the Ladies' Guild in 1912 and was its first secretary, rendering invaluable service. Canon Gilbert Thurlow conducted the funeral service at Horsham St. Faith Crematorium on October 4th.

MR. HARRY PARTINGTON

It is with regret that we report the sudden death of Mr. Harry Partington, of Heywood, Lancs, whose grandfather was one of the original Heywood ringers when the bells were installed in 1863. Harry also followed in the footsteps of his father and uncles by learning to ring in the 1920's. This was a lean period for ringing in Lancashire and consequently he never learned method ringing. However, he was a most conscientious Sunday service ringer for 40 years, and by his regular attendance Sunday by Sunday set an example second to none.

Harry was a former churchwarden and at the time of his death he had been a member of the Parochial Church Council and a sidesman for over 30 years and was the church treasurer. He leaves a widow and two sons, Godfrey and John, the latter being the present ringing secretary of the Lancashire Association.

MR. A. S. WILLIAMS

With regret we announce the sudden death of Arthur S. Williams (60), of Penn, Staffs, in a Wolverhampton hospital on September 22nd. His passing came as a shock to his ringing friends at Penn. Arthur originally joined the Society for the Stafford Archdeaconry in 1923 when a member of St. Luke's Cannock. He moved to Wolverhampton about 1947, when he joined St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, and later joined St. Bartholomew's, Penn, about 1957. He was not a prolific peal ringer, only recording some 21 peals for the Society, but he always enjoyed his Sunday service ringing and an occasional quarter peal for special services. The funeral was at St. Luke's, Cannock, on September 27th. The Penn band rang a peal as a tribute on the previous evening.

MR. C. WILLEY

After an illness lasting some months, Clifford Willey, for many years captain of the ringers of St. Michael's Church, Helston, died in Penzance Hospital on September 28th, aged 60. He bore his illness with great fortitude and made a determined effort to be in the tower at the induction of the new incumbent, the Rev. J. Woollan, on September 4th. Prior to the cremation at Truro, a service was held at St. Michael's and among the large congregation were representatives from many towers in the area. The bells were rung half-muffled as a token of respect before the services on the following Sunday.

Clifford, though not conversant with method ringing, had very few equals as a call change ringer. Besides being a loyal ringer he was a good churchman, a member of the Church Council and a sidesman. The Penzance Branch of the T.D.G.R. will sadly miss him, and extend heartfelt sympathy to his widow and family.

Mr. Wilfred Williams' Peal Tour

Alarming Incident at Bray

A PEAL-RINGING tour of England, covering towers as far apart as Carlisle, Bristol and Cambridge, would cause some raised eyebrows, but the comparison gives some indication of the distances covered during the tour of Ireland which started on August 21st and finished on August 30th.

The touring party met at the International Hotel, Belfast. On the Saturday there were two peals on the programme, first at Holywood, where some of the local ringers gave us the first of what was to be a pattern of warm Irish greeting and hospitality. Here, Yorkshire Major was rung on the bells, where singles in the composition by Michael Bruce produced some excellent music, and no complaints from the Other Conductor on the tenor. The afternoon peal was Pudsey Royal on the delightful light ring of ten at St. Mark's, Dundela, where again we were greeted by a number of the local ringers.

After another night spent in Belfast, the party prepared to move off the next morning, first joining in the Sunday service ringing on the fine Mears' six at St. Donard's, Belfast. On then to cross the border at Newry, and lunch in Dundalk. Here there is a fine Roman Catholic Cathedral, which is modelled on King's College Chapel, Cambridge. During the afternoon we were met at Drogheda by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dukes, and a brisk peal of Bristol Major was rung on the bells before we recrossed the border to stay the night at Enniskillen.

This was probably the most exacting day of the tour. First, we had to go over 60 miles to Londonderry, where there is a splendid Gillett ring with a 32 cwt. tenor. The method chosen was Cambridge Royal and a good peal was rung. Throughout the ringing, the door in the ringing chamber opened from time to time to admit either an interested spectator or else workmen who were engaged on some work above the ringing chamber, and who had to come in to go through a trap door in the chamber roof. The last man to leave left the trap door open, and we had the full force of these lovely bells for the last three courses. After a warm welcome from the Dean and another clergyman we set off for Enniskillen. All was ready for us on arrival, and here again we found work in progress on the tower above the bells. However, having been assured that the workmen could get down on the outside of the tower quite happily, we locked ourselves in and soon the music of Stedman Caters was rolling out across this fair city. The tenor rope has a habit of coming down awkwardly at backstroke, and George Thoday deserves credit for the way in which he placed this bell. After the peal, a quick snack before darkness fell, and then the journey of 85 miles to Navan.

Tuesday was a black day for the tour. The first peal attempt was to be London Major on the fine eight at Bray, but after an hour and a half of good ringing, those outside heard a tremendous crash inside the tower, followed by two more, and the sound of bells lowering themselves. White-faced listeners eventually got in to similarly-affected ringers, to find that the tenor clapper had broken off and in falling had smashed a two-inch plank, which in turn fell with the clapper on to the floor above the ringers, most of whom had leapt to safety into the window-sills in the ringing chamber. The conductor had remained on the tenor-box, wondering whether or not to call "Stand," but decided against it, since there was no one left to comply.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' ANNIVERSARY

Having got over our fright, we set off for Arklow, a tower ever to be associated with the late James W. Washbrook, and surely one of the foremost in anyone's list of top-class bells. However, after an hour and a half of excellent Rutland, which lulled us into a false sense of security, someone unknown held up and we all fell into the resulting hole.

The Rector was very sympathetic, and readily granted us permission to make the attempt again the following morning; this time the peal was successfully rung. The tower for the afternoon was Waterford.

The method chosen, and rung for the College Youths, was London Major, to mark the 60th anniversary of the first peal of London rung outside England, rung by the same Society in this tower in 1905.

Thursday dawned bright and sunny, and the party split into two groups of six for peal attempts at Bandon, where Stedman Doubles ground its way to a halt, and at Doneraile, where London Minor was duly rung. At the Cathedral of St. Fin Barre, Cork, there is a fine ring of eight, retuned and rehung by Messrs. Taylor, with a sixth bell by Warner's, and two magnificent tenors from the Rudhall foundry. Here a good peal of Yorkshire Major was rung.

Setting off for Limerick the following morning, we found ourselves mixed up on the broad highway with what appeared to be the starting place of the Monte Carlo rally. The Ford Corsair, entered and driven by Mr. Williams, soon outpaced all comers, after a dazzling 6-5-6 operation which must have left the paint on the accommodating car as warm as the passengers in the winner! On to Mount St. Alphonsus, Limerick, a fine church. A good peal of Yorkshire Royal was rung on this outstanding ring of ten by Taylor's. The afternoon attempt was on the eight at St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick, where the tenor is 24 cwt. in F, an unusual note for so heavy a ring. Lincolnshire Major was the method, and unfortunately a mix-up after nearly three hours' ringing brought us our third loss of the week.

The next morning we said goodbye to Margaret Bould, who was returning to England for another tour, and then set off for Dublin, to attempt Cambridge Maximus at St. Patrick's Cathedral. The ringing chamber there is well set out and a pleasant place to ring in, and Ralph Edwards mounted the execution block to give a masterly display of heavy-bell ringing on the tenor. The rope on the ninth was a new one and very stretchy, and John Fielden deserved the congratulations of the band for the way in which he coped.

Sunday ringing the following morning started at Christ Church Cathedral, on the ten by Murphy of Dublin, and Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal were rung. Then to the Church of SS. Augustine and John, in company with the Manchester University Ringers, who were just starting their week's tour. During the afternoon Lincolnshire Major was rung at St. George's, Dublin, and the band were kindly entertained to tea afterwards by Mr. Charles Reed and two members of the local band.

Over the border once more to Belfast for the last two nights of the tour, and on Monday morning a peal of Cambridge Major on the light eight at Carrickfergus. Mercifully for local shopkeepers it was August Bank Holiday, as these bells are deafening outside in the shopping centre. The bells used to hang in a tower, which became unsafe and was demolished, and they now hang in a modern tower built over the entrance to the churchyard. Irish weather took its last savage blow at us, and in torrential rain we arrived at Hillsborough for the last peal of the tour, Bristol Major.

The party were now preparing to split up for the return home, but first we had a gathering to express our gratitude to Wilfred for all the painstaking care with which he arranges these tours, and which ensure that they always go off smoothly and happily. A presentation was made on behalf of the band, of items which we hoped he would find useful on the tour "down under."

Fourteen hundred miles, 14 peals and many happy memories of warm Irish welcomes and hospitality, and new-found friends to whom we wish to express our thanks for "Ireland, 1965."

Letters enclosing notices are still arriving too late for insertion in "The Ringing World" in the week in which they are received.

It would be interesting if the compositions of Spliced by Norman Smith in up to 24 methods, which have not appeared, could be published.

The band who rang the peal at Bristol Cathedral on September 24th wish to add their greetings and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert, of Long Ashton, on the birth, on September 22nd, of Joanna. A peal of Glasgow was rung at Long Ashton the following day, September 25th.

A peal of London Surprise Royal at Llandaff Cathedral on September 28th was rung by ringers from various parts of Britain on their first organised tour of South Wales. Of the party of ten, two were Welshmen, Mr. Donald Clift, a ringer for 40 years, and Mr. Nicholas Simon (19). Son of the Bishop of Llandaff, Mr. Simon was interviewed on the radio in a regional programme on bellringing.

EIGHT SET UP RINGING RECORD

Eight members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, one of them a woman, set up a new marathon church bellringing record for the south-west on October 2nd. In 5½ hours they rang 10,240 changes of Plain Bob Major at Buckland-in-the-Moor Church, Dartmoor. The church was chosen for the marathon effort because it is so isolated that the long peal was unlikely to annoy anybody. It set up a new record for the Guild and for the south-west as the longest peal by any method rung in the area.

The team, the youngest 22 and the oldest 35, locked themselves in the tower so that they should not be disturbed. Most of them had blistered hands by the time they finished, but that did not stop them going off for a spot of handbell ringing after a meal at the local inn.

The peal was conducted by Mr. Norman Mallett (Exeter). He said afterwards that it had been a tough test and it would be some time before they tackled their next objective—15,000 changes. Other members of the team were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bould (Tavistock), Mr. Clive Bryant (Exeter), Mr. Frank Mack (Exmouth), Mr. Derek Jewell (Combe Martin), Mr. Robert Southwood (Plymouth) and Mr. Colin Reeves (York), a student at Exeter University.

HUNTINGTON GUILD RE-FORMED

A meeting of ringers, their parents, the Vicar and the churchwardens—Leslie Aldridge and Alec Plummer—was held at All Saints' Church, Huntington, York, on September 29th, at which it was agreed to re-form the Huntington Guild, founded in 1927. Revised rules were adopted and the following officers elected: President, the Vicar (the Rev. Geoffrey Lawn); Joint Guild Masters, Mary Hildred and Jennifer Pearce; hon. treasurer, John Kendall, hon. secretary, Gordon Pearce.

The Vicar read a letter from the Rev. R. M. Kelly, founder member and past president of the Guild, expressing regret at not being able to be present and sending best wishes for the Guild's future. George Rank, also a founder member and past hon. secretary, honoured this meeting with his presence, and joined with Mr. Kelly in his good wishes. At a meeting of the committee it was agreed to elect A. Colin Banton, Christopher Groome, the Rev. R. M. Kelly, David Pearson, George Rank and Susan Thompson as life members of the Guild in recognition of their outstanding services to ringing in the parish.

BISHOP RESIGNING

The Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, Dr. A. H. Morris, announced recently that he will resign as from December 31st owing to ill-health. Dr. Morris, who is 67, suffered a stroke last November. He was appointed in April, 1954, and among the projects for which he was responsible have been extensions to the Cathedral and the raising of about £320,000 in this connection. At the jubilee of the diocese last year, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York laid foundation stones of the new building.

CONGRATULATIONS

James Andrews (13), ringer of the second in a Major peal at Farnworth-with-Kearsley, Lancs, is congratulated by the rest of the band on a very good peal at the first attempt. Congratulations, too, on a welcome back to peal ringing of the treble ringer, the local tower captain and Branch secretary, after an enforced rest caused by a fractured leg. The peal was a wedding compliment to Peter Richard Crook, grandson of Bolton's "Grand Old Man."

RINGING AT 87

Mr. J. G. Briggs, of Highfields, Somerby, Melton Mowbray, writes expressing his pleasure at having been able and allowed to take part in a recent quarter peal of Grandsire Triples on the lovely eight at Oakham. "You will understand more when I reveal that I shall be 88 next March, and that I took part in another big event—the Boer War." Congratulations, Mr. Briggs!

CONTEST AT STANDLAKE

The ringing competition of the Witney and Woodstock Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Standlake and was adjudicated by Mr. Philip Walker, of Oxford. Ringing was preceded by a service. An excellent tea was prepared in the Youth Club. The contest resulted: Eynsham 42 points; Northleigh 82; Harborough 106; Bampton 110. Eynsham now go on to represent the Branch in the Guild competition.

BELLS WELCOME NEW VICAR

July saw the retirement of Canon C. M. S. Clarke after many years' faithful service as Vicar of St. Mary's, Melton Mowbray. To mark the occasion the ringers presented Canon and Mrs. Clarke with a dinner gong in the form of a bell (cast by J. Taylor of Loughborough) mounted on a wooden base with an inscribed plaque. The presentation took place on August 12th at Dickinson and Morris's cafe in Nottingham Street, Melton, by courtesy of the people's churchwarden, Mr. G. L. Young. After the presentation the retiring Vicar and ringers were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Young.

On September 23rd the new Vicar, the Rev. G. H. Codrington, was instituted and inducted to the benefice of Melton Mowbray-with-Thorpe Arnold by the Bishop of Leicester and the Archdeacon of Leicester respectively. Until this year the Rev. G. H. Codrington was an Archdeacon in Melbourne, Australia.

To welcome the new Vicar, the following members of St. Mary's Society of Bellringers rang a quarter peal of 1,260 changes of Plain Bob Triples immediately prior to the induction: J. H. Cook treble, Mrs. D. A. Day 2, W. Clamp 3, R. Looker 4, H. Clayton 5, J. Day 6, R. Manton (conductor) 7, O. Home-wood tenor. This was the first quarter in the method by all the band. Thanks are extended to Mr. J. H. Cook, vice-president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, who filled a vacancy at the last minute, and to Mr. J. Day, who carried on in spite of injuries he received to his head, arm and back when he fell off a lorry the previous day.

To accommodate ringers who were not included in the quarter peal band, the bells were rung after the service until 9 p.m.

KENT RINGER ORDAINED

Mr. Peter Newing, whose home is at Littlebourne, Kent, was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Gloucester in Gloucester Cathedral on Sunday, September 19th. He is to serve in the parish of Blockley, near Moreton-in-the-Marsh, Gloucestershire.

After leaving school in Canterbury, Peter did much of his national service at Ruislip, Middlesex, serving in the R.A.F. There followed a two-year course at Worcester Training College, after which came teaching posts at Toddington and Woburn Sands, Bedfordshire. It was during his stay at Woburn that he became a lay reader. In 1960 he began studies at St. John's College, Durham, to obtain a degree followed by a final two years in Cranmer Hall, Durham, for theological training.

His many friends, scattered over much of the country, will offer Peter their best wishes upon his ordination, also for his wedding on November 20th to Miss Angela Grainger, of Brighton.

GOLDEN WEDDING TRIBUTE

In a peal of Grandsire Caters at Lancaster on September 25th for "Dick" Rainford's golden wedding the ringers came from far and wide in the north-west—the treble ringer from Cleator, Cumberland, Nos. 2 and 3 from Barrow-in-Furness, Nos. 4 and 6 from Kirkby-in-Furness, and No. 5 and the tenor from Dalton-in-Furness, whilst the conductor hails from Ambleside, and No. 8 from Scorton, near Preston. The Furness Branch secretary also took part; he is from Flookburgh.

A SALISBURY GUILD OUTING

With the possible exception of a heavy snowfall, the weather could hardly have been worse on September 25th, for the annual outing of the Marlborough Branch. Heavy rain persisted throughout the day. Organised by the Ringing Master (the Rev. Roger Keeley), the venue was the South Bucks district. A stay of half an hour was made at Hambledon and ringing enjoyed on a nice six. At Lane End the party were welcomed by the tower captain, and all enjoyed a short touch in turn until departure for High Wycombe for what was euphemistically called a "picnic" lunch.

Some of the best ringing of the day took place at Penn in the afternoon, ending with an excellent touch of Stedman. After an enjoyable stay at Amersham it was time for tea at Beaconsfield. Mr. Keeley thanked all for their support, mentioning in particular Miss D. Fletcher and Mrs. D. Hague (Branch secretary for South Bucks) for their assistance. A move was made to Beaconsfield Church and its eight bells were kept going until 7 o'clock, when a start was made for home. Thanks are due to incumbents and tower captains who gave permission to ring. W.A.E.

A JOINT MEETING

Bingham and Melton joint meeting was held at Colston Bassett on September 11th. Over 40 members attended. Tea was in the Village Institute. Eleven towers were represented from Bingham District. Mrs. R. Marsh (Holme Pierrepont) was elected a member. Granby was confirmed for October 9th and Holme Pierrepont for the November meeting. A short service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. Hunt). Ringing continued until 8.30, when the party were joined by more members.

OUTINGS

BARCOMBE AND DISTRICT

Saturday, September 25th, saw an outing combining—we think—representatives of ten towers, who embarked on a tour of the more remote rings of North-East Sussex and Kent. A late start was made at Barcombe, much to the chagrin of many of our party, who, dutifully waiting at various points along the route, were obliged to spend 20 minutes in the rain. However, thanks to the speed of our coach, we arrived at Beckley only five minutes late.

Here, owing to the enthusiasm of one ringer in raising the treble, we were able to give an inimitable demonstration of raising five bells in peal. At Northiam a Cambridge band materialised from a wealth of Plain Bob and Grandsire ringers, only to convert itself to Kent until the next tower. Following a hurried tea at Hawkhurst, we sped (once again behind time) to ring the fine anti-clockwise six at Sandhurst. Previous experience in failing to find the tower now stood us in good stead, and we were able to make our way direct.

Kildown, a village unknown to all including the driver, was also found without mishap and, now on time, we made our way through the rain to the tower. The prospect of clambering up a vertical ladder to the ringing chamber deterred only a few, but all agreed it was worthwhile, for some good ringing was achieved. The Cambridge addicts came to the fore again, only to be disappointed when one of their number—so she said—“stopped thinking” in the middle of the course. It should be added that this is not a frequent occurrence.

Goudhurst, our next stop, heralded a series of minor setbacks. Our stalwart, and by now somewhat drenched, ringers alighted at the church to find it locked from the inside (this happens once every year, and is now accepted, like the weather, as inevitable). Having made our way to the cavernous ringing chamber, we were naturally surprised to find that the eight-bell tower only possessed seven ropes—as luck would have it one of the ropes was broken, but was soon replaced, thanks to the presence of the local ringers, and we were able to tackle the heavy eight. Emerging from the church, with the rain now pouring down, we dashed to the coach to find one of our number missing. A rapid search, involving sprinting round the churchyard fast enough to lap him, proved fruitful, and we proceeded to Ticehurst. Here the springiness of the ropes provoked some interest, but some tolerable ringing was achieved before the day was brought to a close. Our grateful thanks to all involved. D. R. M.

TWERTON-ON-AVON

The annual outing was held on September 25th and we were joined by ringing friends from Corston, Kelston, Dunkerton, Batheaston and St. Michael's, Bath. It turned out to be the wettest day we have experienced, but the quality of the seven Dorset rings more than made up for the weather.

Stalbridge (6): Slow turning, mellow ring restored by Mears and Stainbank in 1926. Mr. Bollen welcomed us. Lyddinch (5): A very good majestic sounding ring; Rector made us welcome. Fortune and Dedworth Doubles added variety to the methods rung. Sturminster Newton (6): Excellent ground-floor ring; renovated with the aid of the Barron Bell Fund in 1933. Kent and Cambridge went well. Shillingstone (6): Another good ground-floor ring, where St. Clement's was successfully rung. Poole (10): A good-toned ring that is seldom rung except by visitors; one or two of the back bells need pulling hard but we enjoyed some Caters and a good fall in peal with Queen's at the bottom. Bere Regis (6): Slow majestic ring restored by Mears and Stainbank in 1920; very pleasant ring to listen to outside the tower, but are slightly loud inside. Charminster (8): Standard methods were rung on this octave (1961, Taylor and Co.); ground-floor ring open to the church, which happened to be the lightest ring of the day (15 cwt.).

We thank the incumbents for permission to ring these lovely bells, and also our usual coach driver, who is always so co-operative. A. F. L.

IN MEMORIAM: MRS. E. K. FLETCHER

Her Gifts as Ringer, Conductor and Administrator

By the death of Mrs. Edith Fletcher six weeks before her 74th birthday, the Exercise has lost probably the greatest lady ringer it has so far known. Her all-round record as a practical ringer, gifted conductor and skilled administrator would have been remarkable at any time, but when one remembers that she learned to ring when only a handful of ladies were to be found in our ranks, yet within a very few years her achievements had excelled even those of the vast majority of men, the magnitude of them can better be appreciated.

Edith Parker was born at Crawley, Sussex, on November 12th, 1891. Her father, James Parker, was conductor of the famous band there at the time, and when he moved to Edmonton he built up another band scarcely less skilful. It was there that he taught his daughter to ring in or about 1908 and where she rang her first peal—Superlative Major, the first time a lady had taken part in a Surprise peal—in May, 1909, when she was 17½. London Major followed in the December and in June, 1910, her first as conductor was Stedman Triples from a non-observation bell. By the time an account of her career thus far appeared in the second issue of this journal, March 31st, 1911, she had rung 17 peals, conducting eight. Perhaps the greatest tribute to her ability was the mention in that article that she had taken part in a touch of Stedman Cinques at St. Paul's Cathedral for Sunday service—this at the age of 20, as a Cumberland herself, of which Society, having been elected in 1908, she was one of the oldest members and daughter of a past Master of the Society at a time when its relations with the College Youths were not always cordial, to say the least, and among a band of men who, whatever their faults, must have achieved a standard of ringing as near perfection as is humanly possible—that at least was the impression it was to make on me when hearing a touch by many of the same band some 23 years later.

Before Miss Parker was 21 she had called a peal of Stedman Cinques at Birmingham and the first ladies' peal, Grandsire Triples, at Cubitt Town. The latter led to her suggesting the formation of the Ladies' Guild, which took place later in the same year, and she was the obvious choice for the post of secretary, an office she was to hold for 36 years, afterwards becoming president until 1956. Between the wars she conducted for the Guild its first peals of Stedman Triples and Caters, Double Norwich Major and Cambridge Superlative and London Surprise Major. It is fair to say that no one else had the necessary ability as a conductor to have brought these peals to a successful conclusion.

Her coming of age in 1912 was celebrated by a week of ringing, in which peals of Bristol, Norfolk, Superlative, London, New Cambridge and Gloucester Surprise Major were brought round, the last four of which she conducted, all from the second bell. In later years she was to add much to these achievements, among them a peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells conducted from 3-4; the first peal of Cambridge Maximus conducted by a lady; and the first peal of London Major on handbells in which a lady had taken part, but her services to ringing in other ways were also extensive. She represented the Ladies' Guild on the Central Council from 1915 until being made a life member of the Council in 1953. For a long period she was convener of the Records Committee, for which she typed details of all the early and many later compositions. As a member of the Peals Collection Committee she typed a huge collection of peals of Treble Bob, now in the Council's records. In 1927 she was married to George W. Fletcher, of the Edmonton band, and formerly of Southgate, and during his 21 years from 1931 as secretary and treasurer of the Council she was, in the late J. S. Goldsmith's words, "the unofficial but highly efficient assistant secretary." When the Council took over "The Ringing World" in 1942 she served on the Editorial Committee until 1951, keeping the books in addition for the first few years.

After she and her husband left London for Great Yarmouth in 1942 Mrs. Fletcher's peal ringing career virtually ended, her total being about 350 in all. Increasing deafness marred her later years but her interest in the art never waned. Apart from ringing she was a keen gardener and skilled needlewoman—my wife and I treasure a beautifully embroidered set of table mats given to us as a wedding present—and she was always ready to talk about cricket in general and the fortunes (or misfortunes) of the Sussex County side in particular. (When the Cumberlands last played the College Youths at cricket, on Mitcham Green in 1914, she was the scorer.) The sympathy of all will be offered to George at this time.

The funeral took place at Horsham St. Faith Crematorium on October 4th, the service being taken by Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council. Among those present were Messrs. J. Freeman (vice-president of the Council), F. W. Perrens (librarian) and Mrs. Perrens, Mrs. O. S. Barnett (past president, Ladies' Guild, also representing the secretary and treasurer of the Council), Mr. N. Golden (president of the Norwich Diocesan Association) and Mrs. Golden, Miss D. E. Colgate (secretary, Ladies' Guild), Mrs. A. Richardson (former Council representative, Ladies' Guild) and Mrs. E. M. Wayman, Mr. F. I. Hairs (representing the Editorial Committee) and Mrs. Hairs (past president, Ladies' Guild), Mr. P. G. W. Newstead (Great Yarmouth) and Mrs. Newstead, Mr. E. R. Goate (Beccles) and Mrs. Goate, and Mr. A. J. Moy (Norwich). During the service a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Mr. and Mrs. Hairs, Messrs. Perrens and Freeman, and in the evening a quarter peal in the same method was rung half-muffled at St. Nicholas', Great Yarmouth, in 57 minutes by Olive D. Barnett 1, A. J. Moy 2, A. G. Wigmore 3, E. R. Goate (conductor) 4, W. B. Duncan 5, P. G. W. Newstead 6, F. I. Hairs 7, F. J. Broomfield 8.

A TRIBUTE

It was with a great shock I read the news of the passing of Edith K. Fletcher; I had known her since schooldays. She taught me to ring in 1917 and I went with her to many towers. She will be greatly missed by the Ladies' Guild. I was ringing with her in the first peal of Stedman Triples, also first of Caters, rung by all ladies.

I think all the ladies of the Guild will join with me in sending her husband, Mr. George Fletcher, our sincere condolences in his great loss. May she rest in peace. I think the last time she met us all was at the rededication of the ladies' peal board in St. Clement's tower in 1961.

PHOEBE A. TOMLINSON.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

Racing the Clock for Peal at Hobart

First Peal of Maximus Outside the British Isles

THE disappointing performances at the Wednesday practice and the loss of the peal at Ballarat created an air of uncertainty over the attempt of Treble Bob Maximus on Thursday evening. Tom Lock asked for the inclusion of four Australian ringers. Robin Turner was a natural choice with his wide experience, including turning in Sherborne tenor, and his steadiness was a big factor in the success. Andrew Bolton was another choice; incidentally, he is Australian born but came to England when three years old. A member of the Universities Association, he has not been a year in Melbourne, being on the staff of Reynolds, the big electrical engineers of Newcastle upon Tyne.

Selected to ring the fifth was Graeme Heyes, who learned to ring at St. Peter's, Ballarat. His previous best performance on 12 bells was a quarter peal of Bob Maximus, but he had rung two peals of Major. Graeme fitted in well. Originally it was hoped that Hervey Bagot would be in the team, but he asked to be excused as he was feeling none too well. Helen Henderson (21), whose ringing at the practice had impressed the visitors, was selected. The previous evening she rang her first of Maximus, a touch of Plain Bob. By a coincidence, she rang the fourth, the same bell that Frey Shimmin rang in the peal of Grandsire Cinques in the 1934 Great Adventure. Helen did not let the side down, and although she felt the strain of the last hour she won through and at the end received many congratulations. Australian-born, Helen is a school teacher, having a degree in music. Petite and fair, she was taught to ring by George Pipe. She is a handbell enthusiast, and had rung three tower bell peals on eight bells previously.

Tom Lock conducted. The band soon settled down to a good beat and three-quarters of an hour went by without a word being spoken. It was a good peal, accomplished in 3 hours and 29 minutes; but it was not free from trips. An atmosphere of tension was created towards the end when one of the veterans missed his sally. From the square below the Cathedral the peal was being followed by ringers and others, and telephone messages were sent out to tell of progress. Afterwards the well-earned drink was enjoyed at Ken Minchington's.

MET THE LORD MAYOR

Friday morning had a memorable engagement—to be received by the Lord Mayor at the City Hall. Cclr. Ian Beaurepaire and his wife, the Lady Mayoress, chatted with all the guests. The toast of "The Queen" was honoured and the Lord Mayor in his welcome said: "Peals are not something you get automatically every time. It is something like cricket; if you make a mistake you're out." Tom Lock in reply wished the Lord Mayor a happy term of office. (He had only been installed during the past fortnight.)

Lunch was taken at the airport and we flew to Hobart in a Viscount—a pleasant journey except for a bump or two just before landing. Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Smith and their son John were waiting, but they also brought the news that the peal attempt at Holy Trinity Church, Hobart, must finish before 7 p.m. because of a wedding. Assurances were given that it could be completed, and the peal band, which included Jock Roper, of Melbourne, set off in fast cars to cover the seven miles. Pat Cannon called a good peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, which was completed in 3 hours 42 minutes. This was five minutes before the bride was due to arrive.

Holy Trinity, Hobart, bells were cast by Mears and Stainbank in 1847. The second and third peals in Australia were rung here in 1890, within three days of each other, by a Melbourne band. Our peal was the first of Double Norwich for Anne Horsford, and the tenors had not been rung since the A.N.Z.A.B. meeting of 1964. The walls of the ringing chamber are covered with photographs of noted ringers, including one of the Pye brothers before their peal of London on handbells in 1904.

The next morning a peal of Yorkshire Surprise was rung at St. David's Cathedral. These bells, cast by John Taylor in 1936, go very well. The two tenors were pulled up the wrong way and they were in this state throughout the peal! Outside, the bells sound very fine but there is a hum in the ringing chamber. It was felt that this acoustic problem could be dealt with, as it arises from the concrete floor beneath the bells. The peal was rung in three hours even and was the first of Yorkshire Surprise outside the British Isles.

After the peal the band were entertained to lunch by Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Smith. With the exception of Mr. and Mrs. White, who stayed with Mary Atkinson and her mother, they had spent the night at Hollydene Private Hotel. Mary Atkinson kindly motored two of the party up the Derwent River on Saturday and they were impressed by the beauty of the surroundings. It was with real regret that the party left Hobart after barely 24 hours' stay. The town is most attractive and a concrete bridge of graceful proportions spans the Derwent.

BACK TO ADELAIDE

Upon arrival at Melbourne four of the party—Anne Horsford, Pat Cannon, Mark Damerell and Len Stilwell—left by air for Adelaide to take part in a peal of Bob Major with four Australians. The 1,000-pealer somewhat regretfully commented about paying £20 for a peal of Bob Major! The rest of the party thought it was very sporty of the four to volunteer for the second air journey that day. Encouraging good wishes were extended to them.

A very happy social evening was held that Saturday in the home of Ken Minchington. The table "groaned" with Australian delicacies. Our appreciative thanks were expressed by Tom Lock to Mr. and Mrs. Minchington and Ken.

Sunday was spent in service ringing at St. Paul's Cathedral. During the morning Tom Lock presented £5 to Jack Roper, subscribed by the peal band, towards the Cathedral Restoration Fund. These repairs were on an extensive scale and much of the stonework is being renewed. About five hours were spent in the belfry during the afternoon, ringing embracing Maximus, Cinques, Caters and Major. Pam Warren motored in some 90 miles to join in the ringing and to hear the latest news from Guildford. Tea was served to a company of 30. Two members of the Young Farmers' Association visiting the Melbourne Show introduced themselves to the belfry. They were David J. Jones, of Westbury, and Monica Elkington, from Lois Weedon, Nottinghamshire.

SUFFOLK GUILD STRIKING COMPETITION

The Suffolk Guild's striking competition again proved what a popular event it has become when about 70 members and friends met at Cavendish on September 26th. The bells of the Parish Church are a pleasant 12 cwt, six by Mears, dated 1779, with the exception of the tenor, which is by John Warner and Sons and dated 1869. Rehanging in ball-bearings by Taylors of Loughborough about 30 years ago has made them a very easy-going ring, ideally suited for a striking competition. The walls of the ringing chamber record peals of about 80 years ago in several Minor methods, although it is regretted that today there is no local band, as the village apparently lacks a competent and willing instructor.

All five Districts were represented and it was pleasing to see the band from the Beccles area, representing the North-East District, they having had to travel 70 miles or so to attend. Although a recent meeting of the Suffolk Guild Committee had decided that the choice of method should be left open, all the teams rang Bob Minor and completed their "touch" of 240 changes.

A shortened Evensong was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. Storrs-Fox) and the lesson was read by the Guild secretary.

After tea at the Elizabeth Tea Rooms, Frank Lufkin (Essex Association) gave his comments on the ringing of each team and those of his co-judges, Harold Peacock (Ely Association) and Harold Foster (Great St. Mary's, Cambridge). The placing was: Henley (S.E. District) 14 faults; representative team from the N.E. District 16; representative team from the Central District 25; Rougham (N.W. District) 26; Bramford (S.E. District) 29; Offton (S.E. District) 29; Bures (S.W. District) 31; representative team from the S.E. District 39.

Harold Egglestone received the shield from the Rector of Cavendish and said how pleased Henley were to have it in their possession, especially as his band included one 14-year-old and one 16-year-old, both of whom had learned to ring within the last three years. Guild Ringing Master George Pipe thanked the judges and all participants for their support. Members afterwards enjoyed further ringing at Clare and Long Melford. A. T. B.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

A warm welcome was extended to members of the West Lindsey Branch and visitors from other branches by the friendly folk of Messingham on September 18th. The special method for this six-bell tower was Hull Surprise. The Vicar, the Rev. J. Owen, conducted the service.

The vice-president, Mr. C. H. Baker, presided over the short business meeting. Mr. G. E. Feirn proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar, the ladies who had prepared the tea, and the local ringers. T. A. G.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

The first meeting of the Syston District to be held at Wanlip attracted over 50 ringers and friends to this six-bell tower, delightfully situated in Wanlip Park. The Rector conducted the service and expressed surprise and pleasure in finding a robed choir drawn from members present. The tea was given by the Wanlip ringers, and a collection for the new heating system realised £3 in addition to £2 offertory for the District Bell Fund.

Ringling continued after the business meeting until 8 p.m., when a very successful meeting came to a close. T. C. B.

PIPE'S PILGRIMS, 1965

I SUPPOSE I could be called a novice (not that I haven't been called far worse in my time) for I had not previously been on "Pipe's Pilgrimage." In fact I didn't even know how the title was derived—for the benefit of others as ill-informed as I, it appears that on an early "week" a number of ringers seen climbing the famous Glastonbury Tor were supposed to be pilgrims—but why pick on me to write up this year's tour? However, I am commanded and must needs obey.

On the first Sunday in July the majority of pilgrims assembled outside St. Paul's Cathedral to make the journey not, however, on foot but in comfort by coach to Somerset, although the Suffolk contingent had left Grundisburgh at first light and one started out the night before and endured several uncomfortable hours on Gloucester station, trying to sleep on upholstery which felt like concrete, in order to ring at the Cathedral in the morning. The long haired young gentlemen from Swansea who were stranded there looked pityingly on me, said something in a strange tongue and exchanged significant glances which clearly indicated what they thought of me, and as the hours crawled by (and not in a peal when I feared I was going to lose my trousers did the time seem to drag so much) I heartily agreed with them.

By evening we had all gathered at the Cliffe Hotel, Clevedon, for a get-together, the renewal of old friendships and making new ones.

In a part of the country noted for its wealth of bells, the organiser's problem must have been not so much what towers to visit but which to leave out and since, to quote his own words, Jim Pipe "skims the cream" space permits mention of only a few of the towers visited, and in any case readers will not wish to be bored with a catalogue of towers.

Amongst the foremost comes St. Mary Redcliffe, where the touch of "Churchyard Cinques" was considered the best ringing of the week, while the twelve at High Wycombe, the last tower of the tour, merit special mention.

AMONGST TAYLOR'S BEST

Widely acclaimed as amongst Taylor's best, and I even heard them spoken well of at the Croydon Bell Foundry, which was like hearing a Derby built locomotive praised at Crewe, the eight at Chewton Mendip justify their reputation, although contrary to popular opinion I consider Bridlington Priory even superior, or perhaps it is prejudice on my part and if confronted with a recording of both rings I might not, as the saying goes, be able to tell 't'other from which.

If one may be in any way disappointed if bells do not quite come up to expectation—and I remember my disappointment on first hearing Fulham bells after the glowing reports by old London ringers—conversely if one hears uncomplimentary things about any bells, a pleasant surprise can result when, as for instance at Wells Cathedral, they prove to be not so bad as made out to be.

Perhaps the bell hangers might have made them "go" rather better without unduly straining themselves, not that I had cause for complaint since I discreetly kept off the heavy end so I am only repeating what I heard, and I could be excused from thinking how much better our 42 cwt. tenor at Leeds would sound despite the disparity in weight.

Bristol Cathedral proves that even a rush job can still be a good one, for the former Temple Church bells both sound and "go" beautifully.

We were not at all impressed with Cheddar bells, apart from their sound, and the Vicar's restriction to half an hour was a blessing in disguise for the poor "go" of these comparatively recently rehung bells resulted in the only equally poor ringing of the week. Small wonder that when later on that day we learned that Congresbury intended to put their 35 cwt. eight on ball bearings we told them to think again and save their money.

St. Andrew's, Clevedon, took a great deal of finding which was not helped by the back seat navigator, who thought it advisable to observe a discreet silence afterwards, directing the coach up a narrow lane with a gradient of one in four and he scarcely deserved the two Clevedon fives which Mr. Ernest Caple had obligingly had put at our disposal.

Set high on Dundry Hill 500 years ago by the Merchant Adventurers of Bristol so as to be seen out in the Atlantic, the noble tower of Dundry had been tantalising us all week and permission to join the locals at their Wednesday practice was readily forthcoming, but here again we very nearly didn't make it, for seeking to go one better than the previous evening's navigational acrobatics another pilot, this time apparently mistaking our coach for a bulldozer, led us up an even narrower lane, overgrown with trees, and before long our sorely tried driver, Bob, found his driving mirrors caught in the foliage on each side of the road and extrication called for the utmost ingenuity.

Nor was that the only sensation for Irvin Slack, aided and abetted by two who knew no better and three other ringers whom he led astray, rang some "cartwheel" Minor and on a heavy Somerset six this borders on the profane. "They aren't making any leads," gasped a local ringer who had obviously never heard any closed lead stuff before.

Thursday was spent mostly in Wiltshire and the successive towers of Urchfont and Melksham afforded an interesting contrast between ancient and modern, while the welcome by the Rector of Chippenham was much appreciated—I always feel envious when I see an incumbent taking an interest in his bellry.

We were not unduly concerned when, at our last tower of the day, Colerne, we saw grave-diggers at work and even when we who were outside listening for the "first eleven" to strike up with a course of Lincolnshire heard the bells half-muffled we were not greatly surprised. "Perhaps some local worthy has died," we thought, and then someone suggested that as there was an airfield down the road and as there had been an air disaster earlier in the week, perhaps it had something to do with that.

POIGNANT MUFFLED RINGING

It certainly "had something to do with it" for the crew of the Hastings transport plane which crashed on a training flight with the loss of 41 lives and no survivors had trained at Colerne and we had come at a time when preparations for their mass funeral were in hand—the Station Commander was in fact discussing the arrangements with the Vicar when we arrived.

The sight of the six open graves side by side, and learning such personal details as how many children had been left fatherless in that one parish, and the thought that we had touched only on the fringe of the tragedy, brought home to me, and I feel sure to others, what no newspaper report, however harrowing, could convey.

Had we not been allowed to ring nobody could have complained, but rather than disappoint us the tower captain had thoughtfully had the bells muffled and so gave us the chance to express our thoughts in the only way open to us. It was the most realistic and the most poignant muffled ringing I can recall in my 40 years ringing.

The grave-diggers had unearthed what was supposed to be a relic of the work of an itinerant bellfounder in what certainly looked like the runner from the mould of a bell, thought to have been cast in the churchyard, but the find lost any sense of importance in the shadow of current happenings.

Friday, the last full day, came all too quickly and was spent mainly in the Bath area with two "extras," Holy Trinity, Bradford, and Portishead, thrown in for good measure.

It is uncanny how a learner is attracted towards any particular bell which may have a doubtful stay or be more tricky to handle than its fellows, and so it was at Christ Church,

Bradford-on-Avon, we had our first mishap, although the locals appear to have expected it—for a new stay lay on the floor in readiness. Later the broken stay, autographed by the whole company with full rank such as "Tenor King," "Deputy Tenor King," etc., was ceremonially presented to the culprit (victim?) as a souvenir or, as we suggested, a pilgrim's staff.

At the customary social evening on our last night, the organiser was thanked for yet another enjoyable week and, in anticipation of his departure for the U.S.A. a week later, his presentation took the form of a handsome travelling case which he said had saved him from setting out with a case held together by bootlaces.

Mrs. Arthur Barker read the traditional citation and various artistes contributed a variety of entertainment and whilst the attention of the company was thus occupied certain people slipped out unobtrusively to make adjustments to other folks' night attire and beds of a kind which no chambermaid would have thought up.

St. Helen's, Abingdon, stands in picturesque surroundings, literally on the banks of the Thames, and our dwindling party made good use of the excellent ten as well as the nearby six at St. Nicholas', which were available at short notice.

It had been intended to ring three leads of Treble Twelve at High Wycombe to mark the 90th birthday, next day, of that G.O.M. George Symonds, who would have to take the thought for the deed, for after about one lead the clapper of the eleventh came adrift and ringing thereafter was restricted to the light eight.

That concluded the official ringing of the week during which forty-two towers altogether were visited, just sufficient to enable justice to be done to the bells for such was our number that at least five touches were required to give everybody a ring.

A high standard of ringing was maintained throughout the week—even now a couple of months later I can still hear that course of Pudsey "tapping round" at Henbury—and what with "Tenor King" Ernie Pye's tales of his exploits, past and future, and his deputy, Ernie Pearce's reminiscences of his constabulary days and his views on the penal code which were propounded when the escape of the train robber became known there was never a dull moment.

It would be invidious to single out any particular pilgrim apart, of course, from Jim Pipe, but thanks must be accorded to John Brain for his advice on the choice of hotel, to Bert Kynaston, who acted as guide all week, not forgetting Paddy Pipe, whose help was so valuable during the time he was with us.

So the 1965 pilgrimage becomes a memory. We hope for an encore. R. H. D.

THE RAILWAYMEN'S GUILD

THE autumn meeting of the Guild was held at Swansea on September 25th. The programme really commenced on Friday evening, the 24th, with a visit to St. Mary's, Aberavon, where the bells were made available until 9 p.m. The first tower visited on Saturday was St. Thomas', Neath, and St. Catherine's, Baglan, was the next. The party arrived at St. Mary's, Swansea, after lunch at Mumbles. Tea, served in the Church Hall, was followed by a short business meeting. The guests were the Vicar of Sketty (Canon Garfield James), Mr. Michael R. Thomas (Master, Swansea and Brecon Guild) and Mr. Jack Pryor (hon. secretary, Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association).

The regions represented were London, Midland, Western, Southern and Eastern. The Master, Mr. C. Bassett, presided, and two new members were elected. The band which rang the peal of Plain Bob Royal at Aston were congratulated. May 7th next was proposed as the date of the annual general meeting. Mr. Bassett thanked those responsible for the arrangements, not forgetting the tea provided by Mrs. Whitworth and her helpers. A visit to St. Paul's Church, Sketty, concluded the ringing for the day. Letters to the Editor

LURKING AROUND KENT

Dear Sir,—In response to Crawford T. Hillis' report on the K.C.A. meeting at Bethersden ("Ringing World," page 656), I agree with him that the standard of ringing has much improved, which just goes to prove that a "lurker within earshot" has his uses sometimes!

Actually, I think C.T.H. must have paid some good ringers to come and perform on that day in a vain attempt to re-establish the good name of the Ashford District—this could be termed as cheating, my dear Crawford! He has no reason (yet) to crow about the better ringing, as Bethersden was just a fluke. This was proved by the performance when the Kent County ringers were let loose on Folkestone bells: the ringing on the whole was extremely grim, the Cambridge Major shocking, and the bells had to be heard to be believed!

There is bound to be a certain amount of bad ringing at meetings and this just has to be tolerated, but a good Ringing Master should do his best to see that the bad ringing is kept to a minimum and to offset it if possible with some good stuff in between the bad bits.

The "grapevine" tells me that the chairman at Folkestone (Mr. John Willis) described me as a stirrer—a very accurate description, sir, thank you! I take it that he (Mr Willis) is in favour of this noise making.

If this is so he should have stood outside Canterbury Cathedral on Easter Monday last, when once again the K.C.A. ringers were to be heard performing their noble art (I'm sure art is not quite the word for it); he would have heard one and a half hours of pure rubbish from 6 to 7.30 p.m. before they had the decency to retire. To add insult to injury, some of the "ringers" filtered away to nearby St. Alphege's to continue the massacre; fortunately some of the latter's efforts were completely drowned by the mighty row from the Cathedral, which was by way of a blessing, I suppose.

The noise making is by no means confined to the K.C.A. I had the misfortune to be present (in my lurking capacity, of course) at a Ladies' Guild peal attempt at Cheriton, Kent, about two months ago—the striking (if it could be called striking) was shocking and the conductor should have called "Stand" in the first 20 minutes, but no, on and on they went to the bitter end, and if rounds had occurred at the end they would have claimed a peal—it seems there was a shift and the bells failed to come round so no peal was claimed (one of the ladies remarking at the time, "We won't do a Pat Cannon"! I would like to point out to the lady concerned that Pat Cannon is a very fine ringer indeed, much better than she can ever hope to be! (and he does not claim peals that do not come round).

Are conductors thinking of a peal at any cost or are they just afraid to call "Stand" for fear of hurting someone's feelings? Both attitudes are wrong—if the ringing is bad then "Stand" must be called and the attempt abandoned until another day when everyone is feeling more like it or a stronger band is available. The same applies to bad ringing at meetings (or practices, for that matter), the conductor has only to call "Stand" and the racket stops straight away. The Ringing Master can then instruct or request the ringers to tackle something simpler or he can put a different band on, or he can strengthen the band that was performing in the first place. Quite

Now I must take up my cloak and get on with some more lurking, so beware, Ashford District (and C.T.H.) your tower may be next on my list!—

WILFRED W. RING.
(Professional Lurker.)

WEDDING BELLS

Dear Sir,—With reference to Weston Favell's 32 weddings rung for this year, at Dagenham the ringers have rung for 75 weddings to October 2nd—two more than last year's total, Dagenham has eight bells, the tenor being 14½ cwt. in F sharp. — Yours faithfully, GRAHAM C. KING.

Dagenham, Essex.

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. D. Man-ship's letter (page 672), whilst I am not claiming a record for St. Dunstan and All Saints', Stepney, I append the total of weddings for which we have rung since 1960, viz: 1961, 32; 1962, 34; 1963, 40; 1964, 60; 1965 (to date), 62, with five or six to come.

Although we have increased the fees recently, the numbers still continue to rise. It isn't always convenient to give up a Saturday afternoon, and one wonders whether the fees should be increased still further.

No doubt that I shall be reminded that it is a privilege to be able to ring for weddings. But I am beginning to wilt under the strain!

Incidentally, we make no charge to members of the congregation, and we do purchase, from the portion given up, hymn books, prayer books, kneelers, etc.—Yours faithfully,

L. J. FOX.

Captain of the Ringers.

Dear Sir,—It is with great interest and much amusement that we read the article "Brides Like Bells" in "The Ringing World" of September 3rd, and in particular the Weston Favell wedding bells record.

We are pleased to report that there is another church which can beat this record, namely, St. Margaret's Church at Apsley, Nottingham. This year, on our ring of six bells, we have rung for 43 weddings to date, with still more for the autumn and into December. This number is actually well below average, as last year there were 70 weddings with bells, sometimes six or eight on any one Saturday. We rang for 45 weddings in 1963.

Can anyone beat this?—Yours faithfully,

St. Margaret's Guild of Bellringers,
Apsley, Notts.

FALSE COMPOSITION IN DIARY

Dear Sir,—I would like to draw attention to a false composition in the 1965 "Ringers' Diary." This is the second 1,280 of Lincolnshire, at the foot of the middle column on page 79.

Perhaps the most conclusive way to demonstrate the falseness is to indicate a change which is repeated. In the course commencing 13624578 will be found the change 83627541. This change also occurs in the last lead of the plain course.

The same composition appeared in the 1956 "Ringers' Diary" and apparently escaped detection.

Oddly enough, the composition is true to Cambridge, Yorkshire, Superlative and Pudsey. In fact, it was when proving it to these methods that I noticed its falseness to Lincolnshire.—Yours sincerely,

TOM GOODYER.

Roseville, N.S.W.

AN AUSTRALIAN VISITOR

Dear Sir,—I have intended to write to you ever since I arrived in England in late August but I can only plead that English hours must be shorter than Australian ones!

However, I have a couple of observations which may be of general interest to ringers here and overseas. On my way here from Sydney I called at Durban and Capetown, and was fortunate enough at the former city to "grab" my first foreign towers, at St. Paul's (8) and St. Mary's, Greyville (10). These two fine Taylor rings are maintained in excellent condition, and there is a small but intensely enthusiastic band in Durban. Grand-sire Doubles is the principal method rung. Cyril Chambers, whose address is 1, Lucas House, 30, Commercial Road, Durban, would be very pleased to welcome any visitors, as there are very few experienced change ringers there.

The same may be said for Capetown, where a shortage of ringers precluded my third "grab" in South Africa—St. Mary's, Woodstock. The contact for visitors is Mr. W. J. Smith, P.O. Box 486, Capetown.

The Mears and Stainbank ring of ten for St. George's Cathedral seems destined to remain lying in the open in the Cathedral grounds for some considerable time (the seventh is aptly inscribed "My name is Patience"! as there is no tower, but Bill Smith is endeavouring to get a steel ringing frame erected).

I must say the welcome I've had from all English ringers so far has been stupendous. It is a wonderful feeling after nearly 13 years' ringing to ring one's first peal, too.

At the same time as I am having such a delightfully busy time here ringing, I am avidly reading the accounts in "The Ringing World" of the progress of Great Adventure II at home, and it certainly seems that this visit will be of great benefit to change ringing in Australia. What with a prospective appeal for £4,000 in Perth imminent, anything can happen!

Such as, I understand the ringing chamber at St. James, Turramurra, was specially painted for the visitors. Wonders will never cease!

I shall shortly marshal my thoughts and send you a short note of an Aussie's impression of ringing in England.—Yours faithfully,

WALTER KNIGHT.

AUSTRALIAN MEMORIES

Dear Sir,—It is with interest and some envy that I have read the first accounts of "Great Adventure II." During my stay in Australia in 1952-54 I had the pleasure and privilege of ringing on every ring of bells then available, with the exception of Bendigo. In company with Margaret Winter (now Mrs. Tom Goodyer) I travelled to Maryborough, the most northerly ring in the country, and also helped to chime the eight (hung in a wooden structure rather like a sailless windmill) at Brisbane.

Margaret and I both enjoyed the boundless Australian hospitality now being shown to our English tourists. I note with interest that Walter Knight, of Turramurra, is now in England, and I wonder if he will recall that we met and rang together at St. James'. May I wish Walter good ringing in England, and I wonder if he would like to get in touch with me. I have many happy memories of the late Mr. Will Smith's visit to us in 1962.—Yours sincerely, (MISS) JOAN HILLS.

CHESTER GUILD DINNER

Guarantee of £1,000 for Cathedral Bells

THE annual dinner and dance of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at the Mollington Banastre Hotel, Chester, on October 9th. The event was graced with the presence of the Bishop of Chester, the Rt. Rev. G. A. Ellison, and his wife.

The Master of the Guild, Mr. John Worth, of Macclesfield, and his wife were supported on the top table by the Bishop and Mrs Ellison, the Rev. P. J. Pasterfield, Vicar of Oxtun, and members of the Guild Committee and their wives. A well-served turkey dinner was enjoyed by a company of about 120. After the Master had proposed the loyal toast (the National Anthem being played on the handbells), a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by officials of the Guild.

In his toast of "The Guild," the Bishop paid Master, Mr. J. W. Clarke, who was Master for 19 years (1946-1965). He also said that Mr. Clark had a most able successor in Mr. John Worth, who had a national reputation for being a first-class ringer.

SILENT CATHEDRAL BELLS

The Bishop said that it was a great sorrow to him that the bells of the Cathedral were now silent, particularly on occasions such as ordination services. He mentioned that although the Cathedral bells could not be rung on November 7th, when the Archbishop of York would be coming to Chester, perhaps the bells throughout the Diocese could be rung to mark the occasion, when the Diocese would be receiving two new Bishops. The Bishop then proposed the toast to the Guild, which he said he knew was in a very healthy state.

Mr. John Worth, in replying to the Bishop's toast, pointed out that not only was he the president of the Guild, but that as a "Ringing Bishop" he had probably rung at more towers in the Diocese than any other ringer! He then continued with a short resumé of the Guild's activities during the past year.

The toast of "Church and State" was proposed by Mr. R. G. H. Sibley, of Chester. Mr. Sibley commented on the fact that the word Church came first and the word State second, which was as he thought it should be; he thought, however, that this was not the case with the majority of the population at present. We should and could, he thought, make church life more attractive to those outside the church by living the Christian life every day of the week and not just on Sundays.

The Rev. P. J. Pasterfield, Vicar of Oxtun and president of the Wirral Branch, suitably replied. He also said that it was news to him that he was buying the next round of drinks!

Members of the Wirral Branch then rang a selection of tunes, which were well received.

Mr. Henry O. Baker, the general secretary of the Guild, presented the Guild's report on the Cathedral bells. The Guild is guaranteeing the first £1,000 towards having the bells put in good order and augmented to a ring of 12. The Guild will also be responsible for raising the remainder of the money, but the exact sum is not yet known. Mr. Baker appealed for everybody's co-operation.

DEVON GUILD'S RECORD LENGTH

Eight members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers on October 2nd rang a peal of 10,240 changes of Plain Bob Major at the remote Dartmoor church of Buckland-in-the-Moor, Devon. The peal was rung in five hours 14 minutes and is now the longest length rung for the Guild and in the county.

(Exeter), Mrs. M. A. Bould (Tavistock), R. A. Southwood (Plympton), D. R. Bould (Tavistock), F. D. Mack (Exmouth). Front row—D. Jewell (Combe Martin), C. Bryant (Exeter), N. Mallett (Exeter, conductor). The peal was rung in memory of E. Maurice Atkins, who had arranged the composition and was the late general secretary of the Guild.

After Mr. Baker's report Mr. C. W. Lawton spoke of the work that Mr. J. W. Clarke had done for the Guild in his 19 years as Master. Mrs. Ellison then presented Mr. Clarke with a gift from the Guild to mark his retirement as Master.

The toast of "The Visitors" was proposed by Mr. C. K. Lewis. This was to have been replied to by Mr. Fred Dunkerley, former general secretary of the Lancashire Association, but unfortunately he was indisposed. The Rev. A. Stout, of Sutton, at very short notice deputised. A vote of thanks to the organisers was submitted by Mr. Robert B. Smith and the proceedings concluded with a course of Plain Bob Major on handbells.

Mr. Alex Martin was toastmaster, and also M.C. for the dancing until 11.50 p.m.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

The autumn meeting of the Truro Branch was held at St. Mawgan-in-Pydar on September 18th. The bells were rung before and after the service, which was conducted by the Rev. E. S. Barnett. Tea was followed by a business meeting, at which the Rev. J. R. Jose (chairman), Mr. A. Burley (treasurer) and Miss B. J. Duck (Branch secretary) were re-elected.

It was decided to hold the spring meeting at St. Dennis on April 30th, 1966, and the next method ringing practice at Kenwyn on November 20th next. The meeting concluded with a recording of part of a peal of Grandsire Triples.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

The autumn meeting of the West Dorset Branch was held at Lyme Regis on September 27th, when six towers were represented and visitors made welcome. Unfortunately no Guild service could be held. An enjoyable tea was provided by local ringers and their wives.

At the business meeting the secretary expressed the members' best wishes and congratulations to our chairman (Mr. C. Powell) and Mrs. Powell on the occasion of their silver wedding, and Mrs. Davis presented them with a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Mr. Powell suitably replied. Standard methods were rung during the afternoon and evening.

Forthcoming meetings: Annual, Beaminster, November 27th. Practice meetings, Wetherbury, November 10th; Bradpole, November 17th; Bridport, December 8th.

OBITUARY

MR. W. H. SOUTHEARD

Noted Cornish Pioneer

With the passing on October 1st of William Henry Southeard, Cornwall lost one of its oldest ringing pioneers, and Truro Cathedral a most devoted servant. Henry Southeard was among the first who learned to ring on Truro Cathedral bells after their installation in 1910, having joined the band in 1912.

He served in the Army during the four years of the Great War and was spared to return from France and to help get the bells going again. He was devoted in his efforts in teaching many learners and in this he never gave up. It was through his persistence that a new band gradually came into being and progressed to peal ringing standard. He took part in about 25 peals, mostly Grand-sire from Doubles to Caters during the years 1927 to 1935, the years of revival of peal ringing in Cornwall, and in this he shared. It was not, however, in peal ringing that his main interest lay. These were the years, too, in which much was done to bring ringers whose tradition was competitive ringing into union with the Truro Diocesan Guild. Many hard and difficult meetings were held with those who viewed method ringing with some suspicion, and Henry Southeard poured much oil upon troubled waters by his gentle guidance and keen desire to see the Guild embracing towers outside its influence.

For many years he was Master of the Cathedral company and of the Diocesan Guild and so had many friends throughout Cornwall who held him in high esteem. He represented the Guild on the Central Council from 1927 to 1932. It was his special joy to see the Cathedral bells rehung last year and in this he had the full confidence of the Cathedral Chapter.

It was as a staunch churchman that his full personality revealed itself. He became warden of the Cathedral Guild of Lay Assistants—an office he held until last year and only relinquished through failing health. It seemed by a miracle that he recovered after a serious operation as long ago as 1952 to devote himself to all his duties with an even greater sincerity. After an operation earlier this year he became more frail, but he had taken his place in the Cathedral on the Sunday prior to his passing when he met the Archbishop of Canterbury, who was paying a visit to Cornwall and who was preaching that morning. He met His Grace as the Cathedral's oldest worker, and this may well have been the summit of his earthly joy.

The fact that Truro Cathedral was half filled for the funeral service on October 4th, and that the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. J. E. Fison), at one time Sub-Dean and Rector of Truro, travelled to Cornwall to give an address in which he spoke highly of the humility and loyalty of his former warden, are testimonies to the high regard in which he was held. Others taking part in the service were the Dean (the Very Rev. H. M. Lloyd), the Treasurer (Canon J. A. Simcock) and the Chancellor (Canon H. A. Blair). The singing was led by the Cathedral choir, and as the cortege was borne away from the chancel the members of the Cathedral Guild of Lay Assistants, with their staves of office, formed a guard of honour.

The Diocesan Guild of Ringers was represented by many ringers, including Mr. A. Carveth (president) and Mrs. Carveth, Mr. D. Burnett (Master), Mr. A. J. Davidson (secretary), Canons F. F. Gilbert and C. K. Peeke, the Revs. W. H. R. Trehwella and A. S. Roberts (vice-presidents), the Revs. J. Jose and A. J. Vincent. Mr. A. Matthews (Kenywyn) and Miss Mary Matthews. A half-muffled quarter peal was rung on the Cathedral bells the previous evening, and the service was preceded by the solemn tolling of the sonorous tenor bell, which Henry Southeard had rung to a peal of Grandsire Caters, conducted by the late Rev. E. S. Powell, in 1929.

The deceased leaves one married daughter, Margaret, and a sister-in-law, Miss May Penrose. A. S. R.

MR. JOSEPH T. DYKE

The funeral of Mr. Joseph T. Dyke was at Christ Church, Downside, Som., on Oct. 9th. The service was conducted by Preb. L. Greenway and the committal by the Rev. R. O. Fry, during which a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Messrs. H. W. Knight, W. H. Kingcott, R. G. Beck and E. C. Shepherd. After the service the bells of a number of towers in the Association were rung in tribute to his memory.

Officers of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association attending were the Rev. H. F. Warren (Master), G. Salmon (general secretary), the Rev. R. O. Fry (also representing the Rev. D. M. Hoare), E. Naylor (treasurer), H. J. Sanger (also representing G. H. Harding, Towers and Belfries), G. W. Massey (peal secretary). Branch secretaries: Miss M. Legg, Messrs. K. Prime, L. McCreadie, D. G. Yeo, E. J. Chivers, P. H. Hull, and T. J. Setter. Many other ringers were present, including representatives of other Associations.

MR. GEORGE F. SPERRING

Chester Diocesan Guild have lost a loyal and popular member by the death of Mr. George F. Sperring. Like his father, the redoubtable Robert Sperring, George was first a member of St. Mary-within-the-Walls tower before transferring to St. Mary's, Handbridge. The funeral took place at Hoole Church.

MR. THOMAS J. THURLEY

Always struggling against the difficulties of teaching beginners on a long draught of rope, Tom Thurley, of St. Nicholas', Chiswick, continued to persevere. He was captain of the band from the time he returned from the 1914-18 war, when he joined the Middlesex Association, until his death on September 30th at the age of 73. Until the Church Hall was demolished to make way for the London end to the M4 motorway, there was always a tea there for the Middlesex Association meetings arranged through Tom's efforts.

Many parishioners were at the funeral service on September 5th. The Middlesex Association was represented by the hon. treasurer. In the course of a tribute, the Vicar (Preb. G. A. Lewis Lloyd) said that Tom was baptised in the church in 1893 and had remained a member ever since. Of Tom's ringing service it was said his great love at St. Nicholas' was the belfry. When he returned from the war he took on the bells and nursed them and trained the ringers for nearly half a century. "Bellingring is not only an art; it is a passion with its devotees, of whom Tom Thurley was one, and he loved the music of the bells. As steeplekeeper, he has given to our bells a loving and watchful care that has left them in a splendid condition. As Ringing Master he has taught dozens of people, many of them young, to ring bells; and not only has he taught them how to ring, but he has taught them the joy of ringing. It is a fitting tribute to his service and devotion to the belfry that next Monday evening the University of London Ringers, who have rung in this church several times, will ring a peal in his memory."

Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Thurley and her daughter. F. W. G.

ACTIVITIES AT BURES

On Sunday, September 26th, Allen W. Cansdale returned to Bures with his baby daughter for her christening. A quarter peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung prior to the service, and participating were the baby's aunt on the third, her father on the fifth, an uncle on the sixth and her godfather on the tenor. The next Sunday Charles Bower and Edwin C. Hynard returned to take part in a quarter of Plain Bob Major, which was rung as a farewell to Janet M. Spurgin, who is shortly leaving for Canada.

On October 10th the Tower Master handed the bells over to a band he had taught and had the pleasure of listening to a quarter of Plain Bob Major rung for harvest festival.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The ringer of the treble in the peal of York Surprise Major at Bowdon (page 678) should be Ronald M. Edwards, not Reginald.

Prior to the induction of Canon J. R. Lewis as Rector of Downham, Essex, on September 14th, a quarter peal of 1,260 Plain Bob Minor was rung at St. Margaret's Church.

The footnote to the peal of Grandsire Triples rung for the East Grinstead Guild (page 678) should have read: Birthday compliment to Mrs. R. J. Osbon, not Mrs. Jean F. Woolford.

Mr. Eric Edgington is now back from the United States. He writes that he heard the Belgian Village carillon at midnight and also that of the Riverside Church, New York.

Latest postal record! "The Ringing World," stamped Guildford, Tuesday, September 7th, delivered Monday, September 13th, at High Legh, near Knutsford, Cheshire.

Mr. W. T. Cook writes regarding the report of the Cambridge University tour (page 655) that the bells of Foxearth should be described as "unmelodious" and not as printed.

Seven of the band who rang in a peal of Major at Weedon Bec to mark the induction of the Rev. Lionel James were members of the Sunday service band at St. John's, Kingsthorpe, where Mr. James was a former curate.

Having met one short for a peal of Minor at St. George Colegate, Norwich, on October 7th, a quarter peal of Doubles was rung instead "in respectful remembrance of the twelve at St. Peter Mancroft, last heard more than a year ago.

A memoir of Mr. Joseph T. Dyke will appear in our next issue.

CHANNEL ISLAND TRIP

The Highclere ringers' long-awaited trip to Guernsey was well supported, and they were joined by ringers from other towers. Arrangements were in the hand of Gerald Evans.

The first tower visited was St. Marguerite de la Forêt, where the four bells are rung from among the pews. Here Erin Minimus was rung for the first time by all in the party. At St. Michael du Valle the local captain and the Rector, previously of Andover, welcomed the ringers. The iron ladder on the outside of the tower was a novelty, with its wooden cat walk at the base of the spire before entering the belfry. Grandsire, Plain Bob Doubles and Bob Minor were rung on a good six before the departure back to St. Peter Port and a quick look round before boarding the boat for Weymouth. As far as we are aware, this was only the third visit to Guernsey by a party from the mainland. Ours was the first day trip to be undertaken and well worth the long journey for only two towers. It was a day to be remembered.

DISTRICT SECRETARY RETIRING

Despite the cold weather, enough ringers turned up to the Northern District of the Hertford County Association's quarterly meeting on October 2nd to provide a reasonable afternoon and evening's ringing on the eight bells of St. Nicholas', Stevenage. The local band (including one active ringer, 82 years of age) were very hospitable towards their visitors, and tea was taken in a cafe. A service was held in St. Nicholas' Church and members then adjourned to the ringing chamber for the business meeting. It was announced that Mr. Eddie Buck, who for many years has been District secretary, was retiring at the next annual meeting of the District because of ill-health. The news was heard with regret and the hope was expressed that he will have a speedy return to good health and his normal ringing practices. After the meeting, ringing recommenced.

MORE WORK AT WALKLEY, SHEFFIELD

The restoration of Sheffield's only ring of six bells has been carried to a successful conclusion. With the large cumbersome clock-case now out of the way, the water tank in a better position and the ropes readjusted, the ringing chamber has taken on a more purposeful look. Even so, the noise of the bells is still overpowering but this did not prevent a well-struck quarter peal being rung on October 7th to the delight of the Vicar and churchwardens. A "lecture" is to be given on October 31st to inspire hopes for a local band. Already an inquiry by a "tower grabber" has been turned down—these bells will not be for "tower grabbers" until a local team has been established, which will not be for at least a year.

PEAL AT TEYNHAM, KENT

There were some sore hands after the peal at Teynham. This was rung as a wedding compliment to Miss Josephine Hardy, popular young member of the St. Mary's, Ashford, band, but a peal could not be rung there as the fine bells were not rededicated until the following day. First-pealer Colin Wyld had too many blisters to stand in a quarter at Wilsborough next day, so he brought father along instead. Mr. E. Wyld thus rang his first quarter three weeks after his son.

MRS. BETTY ROBBINS' 300 PEALS

When Mrs. Betty Robbins, of Charing, Kent, rang her 300th peal at Throwley on September 25th, a milestone which seemed in sight in 1951 was at last reached. Formerly Miss Betty Spice, and a member of a celebrated Kent ringing family, she married in 1951 the Rev. Peter T. Robbins, wanting only ten more peals for her 300. However, the varied calls on her time as a parson's wife, and the cares of bringing four children into the world, have necessarily reduced opportunities for peal ringing very drastically. Now, once again, her name is beginning to appear in the peal columns more often, and this elusive 300th has finally been reached.

Betty Robbins rang her first peal "in hand" in 1941, when the ringing ban was in force. Her most prolific years were 1944 to 1948, during much of which time she was at Oxford, where she was the first lady Master of the University Society. Her peals have been rung for 18 Societies in all, principally the Oxford University Society (86), Kent County Association (70), Oxford Diocesan Guild (49) and Universities' Association (26). One hundred and sixteen of her peals were conducted by her brother, Dr. John E. Spice. Her 197 tower bell peals were rung in 104 different towers, including one in her present "home" tower, Charing, which by a pleasant coincidence is the place where her grandfather, the late William Spice, learned to ring.

Among Betty Robbins' notable performances are a handbell peal in 21 spliced Major methods, which in 1945 was the greatest number then rang to Major, and the first peal of Glasgow Surprise Major. She has also scored the first peal in several other plain Major methods on tower bells, "in hand" or both. She conducted the first peal by lady members of the Oxford University Society, and also a peal of Cambridge Major by lady Cumberlands. She has always been a good handler and striker of all types of bells, and one memory that gives her pleasure is of having rung the treble at Westbury to a peal of Cambridge one morning, and then going on to ring the tenor at Trowbridge in the afternoon to Stedman Cinques.

ST. PETER'S, BENINGTON

St. Peter's, Benington, is faced with the task of raising £2,000 towards necessary repairs and alterations to the church. It is hoped to find enough money to build a gallery from which the bells can be rung. Would any of your readers who have rung here like to help us?

It was at Benington that Squire Proctor and his band rang the first peal of Cambridge Major, and it was Benington that for many years held the record for the longest length of Bob Major. Contributions, however small, will be gratefully acknowledged by Brenda J. Harris, Buckhurst, Benington, Stevenage, Herts.

THE HOMECOMING

Fifteen tower bell peals and one on handbells were rung by the Great Adventure II party during their five weeks' tour. Nine of the party arrived at London Airport at 7.10 a.m. on Monday and were warmly welcomed. Four members were left in New Zealand—Miss Anne Horsford, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Burton and Mr. Cecil W. Pipe.

PROGRESS IN SUFFOLK TOWER

The peal at Huntlesham, Suffolk, on October 2nd, was the first peal by an all local Bramford band for a number of years. Called by the captain, Neville F. Whittell, the peal was a triumph, as the band contained four first peelers, who had only been ringing changes about a year. Special congratulations must go to 13-year-old Simon Christian, who rang the treble admirably. From small beginnings the band has gone from strength to strength and it is unfortunate that at the moment only the front five of the six are rung as the tenor is being repaired by welding in Denmark. It was because of this the peal was rung at Huntlesham and not at the local tower.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR A RING OF EIGHT AFTER A RESTORATION

By THOMAS HARDY

1. Thomas Tremble new-made me
Eighteen hundred and fifty-three;
Why he did I fail to see.
2. I was well-toned by William Brine,
Seventeen hundred and twenty-nine;
Now, recast, I weakly whine.
3. Fifteen hundred used to be My date, but since they melted me
'Tis only eighteen fifty-three.
4. Henry Hopkins got me made,
And I summon folk as bade;
Not to much purpose, I'm afraid.
5. I likewise, for I bang and bid
In commoner metal than I did,
Some of me being stolen and hid.
6. I, too, since in a mould they flung me,
Drained my silver and rehung me,
So that in tin-like tones I tongue me.
7. In nineteen hundred, so 'tis said,
They cut my canon off my head.
And made me look scalped, scraped and dead.
8. I'm the peal's tenor still, but rue it,
Once it took two to swing me through it
Now I'm rehung, one dolt can do it.

GOSPORT'S OPEN DAY

Ringers from a wide area are expected at Gosport's Open Day at Holy Trinity Church on Sunday, October 31st. The bells will be available at 2 p.m. for the thanksgiving service at 3.15, and again from 3.45 to 5.15 and finally for Evensong ringing from 6 to 6.30. Other local towers are asked to co-operate and make their bells available for one hour after the service.

Members of the band who first rang these bells on September 11th were invited to ring for the dedication service on September 26th, attended by the Mayor and Corporation. This also marked the centenary of the church's dedication. Previous to the service a quarter of Grandsire Triples was rung by: C. E. Bassett 1, R. C. Kippin 2, P. Murduck 3, D. Murduck 4, B. Luff 5, B. Murduck 6, G. K. Dodd (conductor) 7, G. Evans 8. This was the first quarter on the bells since 1938.

There is prospect of these bells being rung regularly, as ten people have offered to learn ringing. A set of new ropes has also been purchased.

LATE NEWS

We regret to record the death of Mr. Edward C. Gobey on October 2nd, aged 88. For nearly 60 years he rang at St. Mary's, Ilkeston, and for many years was Ringing Master and steeplekeeper.

OBITUARY

MR. SYDNEY BARRON

The funeral service for Mr. Sydney Barron took place at St. Paul's Church, Drighlington, Yorks. on October 9th and was attended by many ringers. The bells were rung fully muffled before and after the service, and the tenor at intervals during interment in the churchyard.

Sydney was a dedicated ringer, as the tablet in the belfry shows—"50 years a ringer at this church." During this time he was never late for either Sunday service or practice ringing. He had time and patience always for learners, as the writer is fully aware, having learned to ring at St. Paul's under him. He rang 45 peals for the Yorkshire Association.

He was always cordial to any Society, a well-used phrase of his being "You can come to Drighlington any time," which made it an ever open door to all. Peal ringers, too, were seldom refused, as the tower total of over 160 proves.

The Exercise in general is much the poorer for the loss, indeed, I am sorry to report the passing of one who did so much for me.

H. B. S.

CANON J. S. RIMMER

The death occurred at Ulverston, Lancashire, on October 1st, of Canon J. Stuart Rimmer, Rector here since 1916. Canon Rimmer had been an hon. life vice-president of the Lancashire Association since 1936. Although not a practical ringer, he was always interested in the Furness Branch and ever ready to entertain the members to tea at Ulverston meetings. The funeral took place at Ulverston on October 5th, and six members of the Association rang a half-muffled peal at Broughton-in-Furness in the evening. N. M. N.

BARNSELY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

Fifteen towers were represented when the Barnsley District Society held their monthly meeting at Wath-on-Dearne, near Rotherham, on October 9th. The Rev. J. H. Oxer was in the chair. It was agreed to accept an invitation to visit Holmfrith, near Huddersfield, on November 13th. The Vicar welcomed members, and ringing took place after the meeting.

THEORY OF CHANGE RINGING

An Introduction

PERHAPS the one thing for which future ringers will remember the early 1960's will be not the number and complexity of the peals that were rung at that time, but the introduction of one-day and week-end ringing courses. A number of these courses have now been held, and anyone who has been to one will attest to its interest and value. Instructors often put in a great deal of work in preparing their talks and demonstrations, and it is to be regretted that the results should in general reach only the limited circle of those attending the course, especially when the subject happens to be one that is not dealt with in any of the readily available ringing handbooks.

A good example of this is the basic theory of change ringing. Various books such as Snowdon's "Ropesight" have touched upon it, but in all of them the emphasis has been on the practical rather than the theoretical implications. Consequently a talk on the subject by Tony Cleaver during a course held at Hartpury, Glos. in September, 1950, covered ground that was new to many of those present. Mr. Cleaver's notes were subsequently expanded into a series of articles that appeared in "The Ringing World" during the spring of 1962, and these have now been published, slightly edited and with some additional matter, by the Press of John Hilton as "The Theory of Change Ringing—an Introduction" (32 pp., price 3/6 post free).

Starting from the fundamental "change," the author shows how methods are constructed and how they may be varied. Although this is already dealt with in several well-known books, Mr. Cleaver has not attempted to show the physical outcome in the belfry of this systematic juggling with figures. He has consequently been able to explain such things as the difference between Surprise, Delight and Treble Bob methods at a very early stage. Similarly, by explaining the principle of in- and out-of-course changes before dealing with calls he shows clearly just why bobs and singles are necessary, and why such methods as Grandire Doubles need both types of call while Bob Doubles can make do with only one. This is what the learner who enjoys writing out methods and touches long before he can ring them in the belfry will find invaluable.

But this book will also interest the rather more advanced, for the second half deals with the elementary proof of touches and peals. False course-heads are not mentioned, which is perhaps rather unfortunate, since the basic facts would have taken very little extra room.

As it is, a final section dealing with Q-Sets, although clear and interesting, seems a little out of place.

As the title reminds us, this book is only an introduction to a large and complex subject. But the fundamentals are all here for the student. He won't find how to ring Grandire or Treble Bob within its pages, but he will learn the principles involved in their construction and a lot more besides. Would that it have been available when the present writer was learning!

JOSEPH T. DYKE—A NAME SYNONYMOUS WITH PERFECTION

By H. J. Sanger

TO the younger generation of ringers the name of Joseph T. Dyke is no more than a legend, but to those who knew him well, who were privileged to ring with him and work with him in the interest of ringing, his name is synonymous with perfection. No effort was ever spared to get the very best out of all who performed with him, and his immaculate bell control was an inspiration to all. As a conductor he ranked among the finest, and many a young conductor came under his wing and prospered by his tuition. Particularly in the years between the wars he travelled thousands of miles assisting Sunday service bands up and down the country, raising the general standard of ringing to a very high order. The "Wednesday Band" which flourished in the thirties under his leadership set an example and standard of performance second to none, entirely due to his striving for perfection.

To those who accompanied him on his many journeys, for peals or meetings, or perhaps to attend the Central Council and the like, he was a splendid companion. There was never a dull moment; his knowledge of the countryside, of history and architecture, was immense, and many a detour was made to see some beauty spot or ancient edifice of which he could invariably talk with considerable authority. All this was interspersed with tales of bygone days as you travelled along. A great authority on village hostleries, he could well have written an extremely interesting book on the subject.

He was well instructed in the Anglo-Catholic faith, was a server at Burton-on-Trent and later at Midsomer Norton. Those who knew him well were aware of his deep faith, his knowledge of the Scriptures and Church Law. He was ever ready to admonish those who desecrated God's House or behaved in an unseemly fashion there.

His end came mercifully, after a very long period of ill-health, on October 6th, almost within minutes of the passing of Alfred Reeves, one of his great friends.

Joe Dyke, as he was known to all his friends, was born at Burton-on-Trent in 1892, was educated at Burton Grammar School and Cheltenham Training College, and matriculated at London University in 1910. He took up his first teaching post in Cheltenham but soon came to Somerset to teach at Midsomer Norton. From here he volunteered in October, 1914, and served in the Machine Gun Corps, attaining the rank of sergeant. He was taken prisoner in March, 1918, and returned to Midsomer Norton at the end of that year, following the Armistice. In 1920 he was appointed headmaster of Downside School, where he remained till his retirement in 1952.

Joe commenced ringing in 1908 and rang his first peal at Horninglow, St. John's, in 1909. His peals totalled approximately 700, 400 of which he conducted. He rang many peals with William Pye, including the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne and the first peal at Buckfast Abbey, when the bells were rung from the hair-raising gallery.

He took part in the first peal of Maximus at Exeter Cathedral, the first peals of Surprise Major and Stedman Triples in Rutland, called the first peals of Caters and Royal in Wiltshire and 10,032 Bob Major at Bradford-on-Avon. He rang in both Secretaries Peals and at Queen Camel rang the tenor to Plain Bob, Cambridge and Seven Surprise Minor, calling them all. He also rang St. Mary Redcliffe tenor to Major, Royal and Maximus, and was the only Somerset man to ring in the only peal of Maximus rung in the county, at Taunton.

As with all peal ringers, some of the best "got away," and among these were the ill-fated attempt for 22,000-odd Stedman Caters at Leeds, Kent, and the attempt for 14,000-odd London at Warnham, Sussex, when the whole thing, without apparent reason, fell to pieces after 11,000 changes. On several occasions he rang two peals of Maximus in a day.

On the administrative side he was elected general secretary and treasurer of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association in 1925 and held this office till 1952. He was a member of the Central Council from 1927, serving on the Standing Committee and "Ringing World" Committee, and was jointly responsible for the first Beginner's Handbook published by the Council. The Council's highest honour—life membership—was conferred on him.

His health began to give cause for anxiety some ten years ago and for the past seven years he had been confined to his house. During these years of confinement the visits of many old friends, particularly Ted Chivers and Ron Beck, who came fortnightly almost without fail throughout his illness, did much to cheer him, reliving old times, bringing the news from meetings and the like, or perhaps some tape recordings of a well-known ring or band which he never failed to judge with the keenness of old.

He was laid to rest at the little church at Downside on October 9th. It was Harvest Festival there—the Feast of St. Marrow and All Pumpkins, as Joe always called it—and Joe was called "Home" at the harvest.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

TOURISTS AT CANBERRA AND SYDNEY

THERE was barely time to serve breakfast on the flight from Melbourne to Canberra on September 3rd but the view was of great scenic beauty as the mountain range separating Victoria and New South Wales was crossed. We had come prepared for emergencies for a peal attempt at Yass, and Mark Damerell carried the ropes loaned by St. Paul's, Melbourne. Ivan Page and Mrs. Peggy Mantle were waiting at the airport to greet us and we were soon at the Civic Hotel.

The peal party lost no time and, with ropes, were soon en route by car to Yass, a distance of 38 miles. Versatile Mrs. Peggy Mantle took the others under her wing and features of Canberra were explained with the background of a bon raconteur. After lunch the panoramic views from Black Mountain provided a bird's-eye picture of the city.

TOM LOCK—THE HERO

The peal on the bells of St. Clement's, Yass, passed from rounds into changes as we arrived, but the attempt did not last long, as towards the end of the second extent Wilfred called "Stand" under the misapprehension that Len Stilwell was feeling the heat. A delicious tea was served by the ladies of Yass in the Church Hall. A quarter of an hour's break seemed to work wonders; the band was re-organised and, with Pat Cannon calling, a good peal in four methods was rung in 2 hours 31 minutes. The hero of the peal was Tom Lock, who gave a polished performance on the treble, a difficult bell as the rope is drawn over two sets of pulleys. This is a ground-floor ring; the back five being cast by William Blews of Birmingham in 1871, and the treble came from Loughborough in 1951. In some respects Yass Church seemed typical of village churches in Sussex.

While the peal was in progress motor rides were provided by Lt.-Col. J. R. Watch to the Burrurjock Dam, a spectacular journey for the last five miles through narrow, winding roads down a long valley, and by Mrs. Mantle around Yass. That evening we were most hospitably entertained to dinner by Canon Reynolds and the people of Yass. The Rector congratulated the peal band, and Tom Lock made the customary presentations to Richard Burden, captain of Yass ringers.

THE CHIMERS OF CANBERRA

Returning to Canberra, Lt.-Col. Watch, assisted by one of his band of 16 chimers, gave an interesting demonstration on the eight bells at St. John the Baptist Church, which was erected more than 140 years ago. Double Norwich, Superlative and Double Oxford were rung with rhythmic skill. These bells, by Taylors, were the gift of Viscount De L'Isle in memory of his wife, and were consecrated by the Primate of Australia on September 17th, 1964. The dexterity of the chimers surprised everyone. The Colonel spent the evening with us yarning about ringing and finally took Anne and Tom Lock to the top of the Black Mountain to see the glamour of Canberra by night.

Another sightseeing tour took place on Friday morning. We joined in the throng paying homage to Australian dead in two world wars and other activities at the National Shrine, spent an instructive half-hour in the Houses of Parliament and rested at Holy Trinity Church, which, believe it or not, was once a railway station at Sydney. On the way to the airport we stopped to photograph the heavily-blossomed Japanese trees and admired the beautiful homes of the ambassadors to Australia. Canberra is indeed a capital of unique distinction, broad avenues and a richly blue lake spanned by two long bridges. And as our thoughts turn to Canberra we shall always think of our new friends, Col. Watch, Mrs. Peggy Mantle and Ivan Page.

Sydney ringers turned out en masse to greet us at the airport. The cavalcade of cars came to a halt at the Oceanic Hotel, Queen Elizabeth Bay, and, sipping iced beer, we chatted to our new friends as we gazed at the many sailing craft and big ocean-going ships in Sydney Harbour. Most of the company had dinner at a Swedish restaurant before attending the practice at Turramurra Church, followed by handbells at Tom Goodyer's home.

FIRST SYDNEY ATTEMPT

The first Sydney tower to be visited for a peal attempt was St. Mark's, Darling Point, where there are pleasant sounding bells. Prominent in the ringing chamber is a notice:—

"To be seen you stand up,
To be heard you speak up,
To be appreciated you shut up."

Mr. J. McCartney, the captain, and Mr. Ralph Joyner remembered the visit of 1934. Mr. Joyner had had experience of English ringing at Erith between 1916 and 1918, when he was working on munitions.

A good start was made on the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major and the bells were tapping along merrily at 32 changes to the minute. To the dismay of those listening, and to the band, after an hour and five minutes there was a stop—except for a jingling treble telling the story of a broken rope. Ringing this bell was the conductor, Wilfred Williams. All Sydney knew about it that night as the broadcast was "English ringer breaks a rope at Darling Point." The Rector, the Rev. J. Wilde, who was at Wolverhampton before coming to Sydney ten years ago, was very sympathetic. Another morning was allocated to enable a second attempt. Miss Enid Roberts was ringing the second in this attempt.

Another misfortune that day was the losing of a peal of Plain Bob Royal "in hand" after two hours. The Rev. M. Melville was conducting from 3-4. Others in the band were T. J. Lock 1-2, W. Watson 5-6, Enid L. Roberts 7-8, T. W. Goodyer 9-10. That evening a successful barbecue was held at Lane Cove National Park. There was a big rally of Sydney ringers and proceedings went with a swing. Steaks and sausages and onions sizzled merrily.

Sunday was a day of intense activity and many new towers were visited. At St. Mary's (R.C.) Cathedral a quarter peal of Stedman Triples was rung after High Mass by Anne Horsford 1, Suzette Wright 2, S. Burton 3, L. Stilwell 4, A. Lancefield 5, J. Cummings 6, T. W. Goodyer (cond.) 7, R. Clark 8. First of Stedman Triples 1 and 2. This was the 18th quarter peal rung this year at St. Mary's Cathedral. We notice that participating in a recent quarter of 1,260 Court Bob Triples in this tower on August 29th was W. B. Cartwright, who rang the treble. Other ringers on that occasion were Miss E. Roberts 2, Miss H. Henderson 3, W. Watson 4, H. Bagot 5, L. Curran 6, T. W. Goodyer (cond.) 7, J. Sheehy 8. It was the first in the method for 2, 3 and 5.

Through the good services of W. H. Rowe, a number of us had lunch at the New South Wales Football League Club. While there, the news was conveyed to us that the attempt for a peal of Yorkshire at St. Jude's, Randwick, had failed through a shift after 1 hour and 20 minutes. That afternoon the temperature soared to 94 degrees, the highest September reading since 1917, so, for personal comfort, the halt was not unwelcome. Most of the company spent the afternoon on the sophisticated Bondi Beach watching the surf riders and the hundreds of sun bathers. Sydney has 34 beaches with the sand varying from white to bright gold.

Enid Roberts invited the company to her flat for a refreshing drink before an hour's service ringing on the excellent octave at Burwood, some of the best light bells we met. Stedman, Bristol, Yorkshire, four Spliced and Grandire were rung. A nocturnal sherry party with Pat Cannon and Wilf Williams as hosts at Elizabeth Bay ended a pleasant day.

A leisurely morning was spent on Monday (September 27th), when most of the party visited the bank. The objective of the day was a peal at St. James', Turramurra, situated some ten miles from Sydney. No little pride came to Pat Cannon and his band in scoring the first peal on the bells—a light six. There were few qualms about this seven Minor methods peal.

The evening was spent ringing at Sydney's two Cathedrals, St. Andrew's and St. Mary's. Bill Rowe arranged for a non-programme visit to St. Andrew's. There were loud praises for this new Taylor ten, which were only opened last month. Cecil Pipe expressed the opinion that the ten will rank among the best tens in the world. The practice at St. Mary's was very useful in view of the peal attempt later in the week. Handbells and drinks at Tom Goodyer's followed. Margaret had the full sympathy of the two mothers of the party, five small children, three overseas visitors and hordes of ringers suddenly descending, and always smiling, sympathetic and helpful, Wilf Williams and Pat Cannon felt that they were not yet ready for bed and took a stroll through King's Cross to see the night lights and glamour of early morning Sydney.

Tuesday will rank as one of the highlights of our stay at Sydney with a motor drive to the country town of Maitland, about 130 miles from Sydney. Tom Goodyer placed his Holden at the disposal of the party and this was driven by Tom Lock with Malcolm as navigator. Other cars were provided and driven by Jack Cousins and Willie Watson. The road was very picturesque and there were miles of sharp bends and views of rugged beauty. Much of the route was along the Pacific Highway.

COINCIDENCE

Maitland is one of the oldest settlements and St. Paul's Church celebrated its centenary in 1958. The tower was erected in 1888, replacing a wooden tower built in 1861. Six steel bells were placed in this tower. The bells were moved to the new tower and the first 720 rung here in 1898. St. Paul's Bell Ringing Association dates from 1895, and three generations of the Arkell family have served as ringers. The present captain is Mr. Sidney Hedges. Some five years ago a coloured film was sent to the Editor of the wedding of a Maitland girl ringer, showing the bridegroom carrying his bride down the steep outside stairs to the belfry. Among those who greeted the Editor was the bride of yesteryear with her children.

The bells are odd-struck and a peal of Minor in four methods was rung in 2 hours and 38 minutes conducted by A. Patrick Cannon. Six minutes from the end an elderly man came to the detached tower to register his protest in no uncertain terms. He was assured that permission had been given by the Rector, the police had not raised any objection, and publicity by Press and radio had also been given.

Television, radio and Press interviewed the party before the start. A cordial welcome, amid flashing cameras, was given by the Rector (Canon M. M. Redman, R.D.) and Mr. B. Parsons, the churchwarden, presented to each visitor copies of the church's centenary review. Tom Lock was in the happy position of being able to reciprocate with a copy of "Sound of Bells" and a bell pintray.

The non-peal ringers were motored by Mr. S. Hedges and Willie Watson to Newcastle, the coal mining and steel works centre, which has most attractive beaches and a town of wide streets. The Cathedral is a fine building, probably larger than those at Hobart and Perth. The tower is not yet completed, being only a few feet above the roof. For years there has been talk about provision of a ring.

That evening we were most hospitably entertained to an alfresco supper in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer. The ladies of Maitland were charming hostesses and all left well fortified for the long night drive back.

MR. GEORGE E. FEARN'S SOUTH WALES TOUR

ACCORDING to rumour, when this tour was planned, a prominent ringer from the Principality went on Great Adventure II to avoid witnessing such desecration of his native land. However, Saturday, September 23rd, saw most of the party, joined by local members, at Chepstow, where they rang the first peal of Cambridge Royal. Following this, we were met by our organiser, Mr. Donald Clift, who piloted us to our headquarters, The Cedars Hotel, Llanishen.

For Sunday morning service ringing we joined with St. John's, Cardiff, ringers and then moved north over the Brecon Heights. After lunch at Crickhowell, where we were guests of our organiser, we went on to St. Meugan's, Llanfagan, where Rutland was the method at this lonely church. Evensong ringing was on the fine eight at Brecon. Returning to our headquarters, the party was completed by the arrival of George Fearn and Alan Ainsworth.

The usual routine of these tours of London in the morning when All Saints', Newport, was the Monday morning tower. We saw in this tower of J. W. Jones fame the photograph of the tourists of this area in 1932. Bristol was the afternoon method at Caerleon.

A short drive over the Caerphilly mountains took us to the fine octave at St. Martin's for Tuesday morning's peal of London, then on to Llandaff Cathedral, where most of the party were thrilled with the Epstein Majestas. The pleasant ring of ten "Borderised" in under three hours to London Royal, which enabled Don Clift and Nick Simon to be the first Welshmen to ring this method in their homeland. Press interviewers and photographers invaded the belfry at the conclusion of this peal and, this ordeal over, we had tea with the Bishop of Llandaff.

TWO B.B.C. INTERVIEWS

Westward to Bridgend and Aberavon was the objective for Wednesday and London was followed by Albert Pitman's Spliced Five in his own tower. We were pleased to meet this great composer afterwards and enjoyed hearing how his fine composition came into being. During this time Mr. Fearn was being interviewed by B.B.C. Midland, and Nicholas Simon similarly for B.B.C. Wales. A quick return to Cardiff followed, where a magnificent dinner was awaiting us at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pryor and family. Up Rhondda was Thursday's venue and Pontypridd, the tower for London, was followed by Bristol at Pentre Rhondda. Tea at the home of Tudor Edwards was most welcome after these heavy bells.

It was a wet journey on Friday to Usk but the rain was soon forgotten as our London progressed on the fine eight in such a well-kept belfry. Moving north through Abergavenny to the "Garden City" of Ebbw Vale, where A. J. P. Spliced Four was rung, we were most delighted with this fine Taylor octave and if there is a better eight for weight none of us has ever found them. Here again we enjoyed Welsh hospitality at the home of Mr. Stephens and family and where a presentation was made to Don Clift.

Saturday came all too soon and our London was on the crisp eight of St. Mary's, Penarth. A quick move past Cardiff Arms Park, where international soccer crowds were converging, and on to St. Woolos Cathedral, Newport, where friends made up the number for the final peal—Cambridge Maximus.

So ended yet another of George's very good weeks and our memory of the Principality will live long. The arrangements made by Don Clift were perfect. M.

LIVERPOOL'S BOURDON BELL

The 92 cwt. Bourdon bell being hoisted into its turret over the entrance porch to the new Roman Catholic Cathedral, designed by Mr. Frederick Gibberd. There are four bells, notes A flat, E flat, A flat and C, weighing altogether nearly seven tons and each bell will be swung electrically in its own turret.

At the special request of the architect, no wheels are to be fitted to the headstocks, as is normal, so that all that will be visible will be the bells, headstocks, bearings and clappers. The drives to the bells will be totally concealed in the building. The bells and ringing gear are being supplied by Mears and Stainbank.

SUFFOLK GUILD

At the annual meeting of the N.W. District at West Stow on October 9th Mr. Leslie Wright, who presided, announced his intention of resigning the chairmanship. Officers elected for 1966 were: Chairman, Mr. Cyril Hancock (Thurston); secretary, Mr. A. Balham (West Stow); Ringing Master, Mr. L. Wright; Guild representatives, Mr. R. Rose and Mrs. Ivings; Press secretary, Miss G. Reeves.

Mr. Andrew Beckworth, Guild secretary, thanked the 1965 officers and also the Rev. W. G. Peck, who conducted the service. Miss Joan Ivings, the organist, and not least the hostesses.

Quarterly meetings for 1966: January, Elveden; April, Newmarket; July, Rougham; October, All Saints, Fornham. Evening meetings: November 13th, Whepstead, and December 11th, Ixworth.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Mansfield District

The Mansfield District meeting at Greasley on September 25th was held jointly with the East Derby and West Notts Association, and although numbers were small a variety of ringing was enjoyed by all. At the Mansfield District meeting Miss Helen Simpson, of Greasley, was elected a ringing member. The problem of dwindling attendances at meetings was discussed and it was decided to leave the matter in abeyance until the annual District meeting, when suggestions from towers would be placed on the agenda and considered.

Next meeting: Kirkby-in-Ashfield, November 27th.

TOM LOCK'S ENGLISH TOUR

IN spite of being so busy with the Australian Tour, Tom Lock still found time to arrange his usual peal week, which this year was based at Wisbech. As usual, two peals were arranged for the Saturday afternoon. One, Cambridge Minor, at St. Mary's, Wisbech, came to grief when two bells mysteriously crossed over; the other, Rutland, at St. Andrew's, Whittlesey, came round in 2 hours 50 minutes. Early evening at the White Lion Hotel at Wisbech found the usual groups of ringers greeting each other and reminiscing on the past year. However, empty stomachs called and those who could not afford the hotel prices for dinner soon found a Chinese restaurant.

On Sunday we rang three times at St. Peter's Wisbech, where we were given a very warm welcome by the local ringers. This was a rest day, and tourists went their various ways, one at least braving the chilly wind with a dip in the sea at Thornham. One group managed a grab at Newton in the afternoon, having rung at March in the morning, and were offered the chance of ringing at Leverington on the Tuesday evening. Six of them went back to investigate the possibilities of an evening peal at St. Mary's, Wisbech, but neither the Vicar nor the tower captain were to be found, so the idea was abandoned, in spite of having the "go-ahead" from a very friendly churchwarden, who gave the following poem:

"You rascally ringers—unmerciful foes—
Disturbers of those who seek to repose.
Oh for the joy and the peace of these lands
When you have round your necks what you hold in your hands."

On Monday there were four peal attempts laid on. At Long Stanton we rang the easy-going light eight far too fast and Bristol was lost, but Seven Surprise Minor was brought round in fine style at Gosberton. David Rothera joined us for the day at Swavesey and a good peal of Seven Minor was scored. At St. Mary's, Huntingdon, London Major on these somewhat odd-struck bells was halted after some very good ringing, which unexpectedly culminated in an equally good "fire-up." This seemed to set the pattern for the week, for Bristol and London just would not "go." However, Alick still managed to have his after-lunch nap on a back pew at St. Mary's. The "Cannon Fish Restaurant" provided very good fish and chips for 2/6, and who could resist with a name like that!

CURATOR PROTESTS

At Terrington St. Clement on Tuesday the peal band were privileged to see the beautiful font, with Flemish screens, set in a beautiful church. Our luck seemed to turn this day, for all three peal attempts resulted in good peals, concluding with Cambridge Royal at St. Peter's, Wisbech, in just over three hours; a very musical composition by Roger Baldwin, including two singles. Here the curator of the local museum protested strongly at the ringing, as he was immediately below the only louvres left open. We were sorry to say goodbye to Tom that morning, as he had to return home to prepare for his Australian Tour, but Martin Lock continued Tom's good work in a calm and capable way. Tom's absence was partly compensated for by the arrival of Fred Ross—we believe he was not quite the sober parson the hotel had expected. Tuesday was completed with the promised ring at Leverington, a lovely six with a ground-floor ring.

Only eight of the party had to have early breakfast on Wednesday as there was only one peal attempt arranged for the morning. It might have been the late nights, but at Long Sutton Bristol was again lost when 2-3 shifted after some good ringing. Before the afternoon attempts (both scored) Alick again had a nap in a pew, this time at Spalding.

Thursday saw two more peals scored in the morning—Minor at Denver and Lincolnshire at Downham Market, where Malcolm Melville joined us for this peal. At Downham Market we were interested to see a gravestone with the following inscription: "William Dobson—many years a bellfounder in this Place died in London July 11, 1842, in the 63 year of his age." In the ringing prior to the peal, Philip rang the tenor while on his knees, and although he struck it perfectly well as far as we could hear, this proved a little upsetting to other ringers. However, the peal itself was a good one in the fast time of 2 hours 33 minutes, and the Seven Surprise Minor at Denver was equally fast in 2 hours 23 minutes.

The afternoon attempts were somewhat delayed, at Hilgay by a service and at Littleport by the condition of the ropes, but here Bill proved his worth as he and Ian spliced and adjusted ropes at tremendous speed. In spite of their efforts, however, the peal was lost when there was a mix-up over a bob. Back at Wisbech in the evening some of the tourists joined the St. Peter's ringers at their practice and the tower handbells were lent to us for a handbell practice. Later all the ringers signed a card conveying their best wishes to Tom's Australian Tourists. Later still some of the men found it very funny when Marion discovered a spider, but when they saw the size of it it was left to Dennis to dispose of

THE HEAVENS OPENED

The weather during the week had been quite good, although cool, but on Friday the heavens opened and it poured for most of the day. We again lost London Major, this time at Sutterton, but at Donington a really good, if rather leisurely, peal of Yorkshire Major was scored on bells that are reputed to be rough going although we experienced little difficulty with them. We then went with some trepidation to Surfleet, where it had been decided to attempt Yorkshire Royal. To our surprise we quickly became accustomed to the strangely leaning tower and a creditable peal was scored.

For the social in the evening we were joined by two local ringers who brought their handbells with them. Presentations were made to Martin Lock and Ruth for their work in arranging the tour. The hilarity increased when an Indian appeared in the doorway offering a carpet for sale. This turned out to be Philip in his swishy dressing-gown, with his towel as a turban and his eiderdown rolled up under his arm. Margaret took flashlight photos of various groups, but she will probably find one or two ringers appearing in every photo. When Marion sat on the Rev. Fred's knee, Kenneth's quick question "Is that what you do at the Young Wives' Club?" brought the house down.

The next morning the ringers began to go their several ways. Another peal of Yorkshire was scored, at Pinchbeck, coming into rounds after three hours of very good ringing, one of the best peals of the week, and the last that was seen of six of the ringers was as the overburdened Volkswagen staggered off to a six-bell tower for the last (unscheduled) peal of the tour. Thank you, Tom and Martin, for another excellent tour—15 peals scored out of 21 attempts—and a lot of good fellowship besides.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD

Andover District's first meeting at St. Mary's, Kingsclere, since their transfer in 1963 from the Basingstoke District was held on October 2nd. Ringing took place on the eight bells before the service in church. Tea followed in a now disused school, thanks being expressed on behalf of members to the Kingsclere ringers and their ladies. Final arrangements were discussed for the District cup contest to be held on November 20th. Mr. G. Evans was nominated for the post of secretary, which becomes vacant in January. Ringing took place on the six bells at Sydmonton as well as at Kingsclere. Ringers were sorry to find that the ropes at Sydmonton were rotting because of rain entering the belfry, but these have now been removed.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District

Over 50 visitors were present for the service and tea at the annual general meeting of the Ashford District at Folkestone on October 9th.

The service was conducted by Canon F. W. Greenaway, and Miss Anne Barber, of the Folkestone band, was the organist. The offertory of £2 17s. 6d. was given to Brabourne Bell Restoration Fund. Afterwards an excellent tea was enjoyed in the Woodward Hall and was kindly given by the Folkestone ringers and friends.

The hon. secretary's report and balance sheet showed that 190 practising members and 17 honorary members had so far subscribed.

Officers re-elected for the ensuing year were: Mr. C. T. Hillis, hon. secretary, and the Rev. P. T. Robbins as District representative. The new Ringing Master is Mr. N. J. Davies in place of Mr. Alan Berry, who reappears as the other District representative. The chairman thanked them and Miss Violet Relf, the retiring District representative, for their past services.

A letter from the hon. general secretary, giving details of the production of the Association annual report and the difficulties of producing it by Easter, was then read. The resolution "That the annual report of the Kent C.A.C.R. be produced to members a month before the annual general meeting" was, however, confirmed nem con.

The Rev. Mr. Robbins voiced the thanks of the visitors to Canon Greenaway and the organist, to the Folkestone ringers for their hospitality, and to Mr. F. J. Whittaker, secretary of the Folkestone band, for making all the arrangements.

Tonbridge District

Tonbridge District held their annual meeting at Tonbridge on October 2nd. After ringing, a service was conducted by Canon T. F. C. Bewes, and members were entertained to tea in the Vicarage by the Tonbridge band. Mr. J. Willis took the chair at the business meeting, when the following were re-elected: Secretary-treasurer, Mr. W. H. Dobbie; District representatives, Miss D. Colgate and Mr. S. Jenner; Ringing Master, Mr. L. Pope; "Ringing World" correspondent, Miss M. A. Ladd. Reporting on activities during the past year, the secretary mentioned Mr. C. W. Hancock's departure to Suffolk and the engagement of Miss M. A. Ladd to Mr. R. A. Large. The Kent ringers' rally and annual dinner in 1966 were discussed, and towers for meetings were left to the secretary to arrange. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to Canon Bewes. Mrs. Bewes, the Tonbridge band for providing the tea, and Mr. Dent for playing the organ. Members returned to the tower for further ringing during the evening.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Newark District

A joint meeting with Lincolnshire Branch of the Ladies' Guild was held at St. Giles' Church, Balderton, on September 25th. The 8½ cwt. eight are perfect ladies' bells, but were nevertheless much enjoyed by the men, too, and a wide variety of Triples and Major methods was rung. Shortened Evensong was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. W. J. Springett), at which the lesson was read by the Newark District secretary, Mrs. Beryl Reed. Following tea in the Church Hall, each District held a business meeting. The Newark District secretary informed members that Mr. George Foster, of Southwell, a long-standing member, had moved to London to live with his daughter after his enforced retirement due to ill-health. It was agreed that a letter should be sent from the meeting with best wishes from his friends and associates for a happy retirement and improved health. Before the men departed for the tower, both Mr. F. W. Midwinter, the Newark District chairman, and Mrs. A. Richardson, Lincolnshire Branch secretary, thanked all who had contributed to the success of the meeting.

AUSTRALIA'S FIRST TEN-BELL RING DEDICATED

EARLY in May, 1964, the Chapter of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney, announced that a bequest had been made to the Cathedral to be used in the form of providing the Cathedral with a ring of bells. Almost immediately an order was placed with John Taylor and Co. of Loughborough for the casting of a ring of ten bells with a tenor of 294 cwt.

The ringers of Australia and, in particular, those of Sydney then heard little more until one day in June this year a Sydney morning newspaper announced the arrival of the bells with the usual inaccurate comments and a photo of the bells being unloaded in the Cathedral grounds.

In the meanwhile, however, the south-west tower of St. Andrew's Cathedral had been shrouded with scaffolding for quite a few months with stonemasons strengthening the pinnacles and generally repairing the 80-year-old tower.

After lying in the Cathedral grounds for a number of weeks, which conveniently enabled everyone to inspect the ring at close quarters, the bells finally disappeared into the building and were hung in H-style frames supplied by Taylors. Apart from the installation of an intermediate sound floor and a new roof on the tower, little structural alteration was necessary although the tower has been baffled to an extent due to the close proximity of the Sydney Town Hall and numerous cinemas.

The bells are hung in two layers, with the treble, second, fifth, ninth and tenor below, and the third, fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth above. This arrangement has produced a perfect rope circle of approximately 12 feet diameter with a direct rope drop from every bell.

RINGING CHAMBER—A SHOW PLACE

Access to the ringing chamber is via a narrow circular stone staircase from the south choir aisle and, upon completion of the "improvements," the ringing chamber would surely be the show place of Australia, with royal blue wall to wall carpet, leather-covered seats in the window recesses, electric fan, clock, washbasin and a telephone installed for the ringers' comfort and convenience.

Following the installation of the bells, closely watched by the Rev. Jim Glennon, of the Cathedral staff, and Mr. Bill Rowe, it was decided that the dedication and the first ringing would take place during the evening of August 23rd, being the occasion of the opening service of the New South Wales Provincial Synod. The Archbishop of Sydney and Primate of Australia, the Most Rev. H. R. Gough, was to dedicate the ring in memory of Ernest Samuel Trigg, and the only inscription cast on the bells is that on the tenor, which reads: "This peal of ten bells is given in memory of Ernest Samuel Trigg of Strathfield who died on 20th July, 1963, by his wife."

The Dean of St. Andrew's was in full agreement that the team to ring the bells for the dedication should comprise two ringers from each of the five change ringing towers of Sydney and thus the team nominated and who rang on that day were: John Rainsford (Turramurra) 1, Ken Stacey (Turramurra) 2, Ross Bampton (Burwood) 3, Laurie Bruce (Burwood) 4, Robert Ferris (Parramatta) 5, Enid Roberts (St. Mary's Cathedral) 6, Ralph Clark (Parramatta) 7, John Fryer (Randwick) 8, William Watson (Randwick) 9, Tom Goodyer (St. Mary's Cathedral) 10.

On the two Sundays prior to the dedication the team, with a number of "reserves," assembled at St. Andrew's and with tied bells rang for nearly an hour on both occasions. This enabled the ropes to be stretched and a few minor adjustments to be carried out, mainly increasing the hand stroke sets on a number of bells. Apart from these adjustments and the shortening of the stay on No. 3, which tended to foul the wall whilst ringing up, the ring was installed in first class condition.

The Sunday before the dedication, permission was granted for the bells to ring "open" for ten minutes for the benefit of the Australian Broadcasting Commission and the three commercial Television Channels to film and record the ringing. This, naturally, enabled the team to observe the noise level and hear the beautiful tone of the ring, and all present were extremely pleased with the result, although nothing more than rounds on the ten transpired on that occasion.

On August 23rd the dedication team assembled once again and just before 5 p.m. ascended to the ringing chamber and awaited the commencement of Evensong marking the opening of the twenty-fourth Provincial Synod.

Midst a large congregation the service progressed to the anthem and whilst the Cathedral choir sang "Prevent us O Lord in all our doings," the Archbishop, led by the Dean of Sydney and Mr. F. E. Trigg, proceeded to the south choir aisle immediately below the ringing chamber, where a new rope was hung for the dedication.

At the conclusion of the anthem the Archbishop unveiled a plaque commemorating the donor of the bells and then, following the dedication prayers, handed the bell rope to Mr. Ross Bampton, who received it as acting captain of the Saint Andrew's Cathedral tower and immediately ascended to the ringing chamber and gave the signal for the bells to ring officially for the first time. Then for three minutes the bells sounded to almost perfect rounds, thus producing a brave new sound in the heart of the city of Sydney.

Evensong then continued through to the final hymn "Praise, my Soul, the King of Heaven," and as the final notes of the organ voluntary faded into the lofty Cathedral the bells pealed out once again, this time to the familiar sounds of Grandsire Caters and Bob Major.

Apart from the dedication team a number of ringers from all Sydney towers were present and ringing continued almost non-stop for 50 minutes under the capable guidance of Mr. Tom Goodyer, who acted as conductor for the occasion. Had it not been for the Cathedral Choral Society rehearsing later in the evening, ringing would have continued to a much later hour. However, it did enable many of the band to "rush" to the nearest television receiver and view themselves on the A.B.C. news service that evening.

Thus, the first ten-bell ring in Australia was dedicated and, although a Cathedral band recruited from the congregation is at present learning the art, the bells have, in fact, been rung on several civic occasions by Sydney ringers at the request of the Cathedral authorities. At their opening service the Commonwealth Law Conference, only two days after the dedication, heard the bells rung before and after the service, and then more recently, the English ringers during "The Great Adventure," rang on several occasions, including the first quarter on the bells of Bob Royal.

It is the wish of the Dean and Chapter of St. Andrew's that the bells should not be rung regularly until the Cathedral's patronal festival, late in November, when on this occasion it is hoped all ringers throughout Australia will be invited to participate in the ringing, and thereafter the Cathedral band should be sufficiently trained to maintain regular Sunday service ringing.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

A very well attended and successful meeting of the Syston District took place at Wanlip on October 9th, when five of the six Districts of the Guild were represented. The Vicar of Birstall, the Rev. A. A. Lander, conducted Evensong and in his address pointed out that there was a need for some deep thinking on the subject of ringers' prayers, since many of those in use to-day were inadequate.

Tea was afterwards taken in the old coaching house, which at present is in the process of being modernised for the purpose of a church room. The Wanlip ringers, who provided tea at no charge, asked that contributions be made to the church boiler fund—a very reasonable request.

The eleven new members elected at the meeting of the Monmouth Branch of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association at Blaenavon were all ladies.

Mr. D. R. Carlisle is giving up with the next issue the editorship of "Belfry News," the journal of the Derby Diocesan Association. Regretting the decision, owing to pressure of work, Mr. J. F. Smallwood said it had always been witty, topical and full of interest.

DANEHILL, SUSSEX.—On Oct. 16th, 1,260 Doubles (three methods): W. J. Sale 1, Miss P. M. Butcher 2, Mrs. B. Baines 3, A. W. Fuller 4, D. Slater (cond.) 5, A. E. W. Baines (first in three methods) 6. As a first birthday compliment to Andrew, younger son of the conductor.

Letters to the Editor

AUSTRALIA'S NEED

Dear Sir,—Having now returned from the ringing trip which took us around the world in 36 days, it will soon be known that the party participated in a wonderful experience and gained many impressions. But the one impression I would like to mention here is the generally bad "go" of the bells resulting in unnecessary adverse conditions in which the ringers of Australia practise the art of change ringing. These conditions do not apply to all towers but they do to the majority of towers. Much joy and pleasure is denied the ringers and I feel that we in this country could and ought to offer our help.

Complete schemes of restoration would be desirable in a number of cases but where this is not possible much could be done at a reasonably small cost in the nature of sound control—particularly in the ringing chamber—a much restricted use of pulleys to guide the ropes, renewal of some bearings and fittings, and a tightening up of frames. Some Adventurers were able to make a noticeable improvement on a few bells in the short time available, but much more could and needs to be done.

A suggestion would be to arrange for one, or even two, ringers from this country, with experience in bell-hanging and bell maintenance, to visit the belfries of Australia and New Zealand for the purpose of (1) doing whatever would be possible within a few days, and (2) preparing a short but adequate report for a complete restoration scheme, if invited to do so.

There is reason to believe that the Australians themselves would be interested in such a project and that they would investigate the possibility of meeting expenses. For the sake of ringing it would be nice to see something of this nature put into effect, as we of the Adventurers' party admired the courage, perseverance and honest endeavour of our colleagues and friends who really cannot under present conditions participate in ringing which would give a full measure of satisfaction. Moreover, recruiting of new ringers would become an easier task.

We found that the clergy were interested in bells and bellringing and, within their limits, we feel sure consideration would be given to any scheme which would result in the improved conditions for ringing in the belfries of their churches.

I know that any one of us Adventurers would be most happy to assist as much as we could in this matter, and we feel likewise about many other members of the Exercise.—Yours faithfully,
T. J. LOCK.

WHAT IS S.W. ENGLAND?

Dear Sir,—In "Belfry Gossip," page 692, you published details of a peal of 10,240 Bob Major rung at Buckland-in-the-Moor and I should like to congratulate my fellow Devonians on their fine achievement.

Without, however, wishing to appear unduly pedantic, I would say that their claim that "this is the longest peal rung in any method in the South-West" can hardly be considered correct, as the longest peals rung in the area must surely be the 13,001 Grandsire Cinques at Painswick in 1920 and 15,227 Grandsire Caters at Cheltenham in 1889. The Buckland peal would, however, appear to be the longest peal of Major for the South-West . . . the only peal of comparable length which I can turn up is the 10,080 Bob Major rung at Longney a few years ago by the Bristol University Society.—Yours faithfully, R. J. BOWDEN.

LEARNERS AND MEETINGS

Dear Sir.—I think it is about time someone had the courage to back up a, by now, famous "striking at meetings" correspondent. Mr. W. W. Ring speaks with his tongue in his cheek, but there is a good deal of truth in his criticisms as was heard at the annual general meeting of the Ashford District of the Kent County Association at Folkestone on October 9th.

The meeting took the usual course until Mr. C. T. Hillis made some humorous remarks about Mr. Ring's "not rising to the bait," alluding to a recent attack on Mr. Ring in your columns. The remarks were then taken up by Chairman Willis and there followed a public denunciation of Mr. Ring with the words, "I think Mr. Ring ought to realise that all the time we have learners at meetings and odd-struck bells, striking will not improve." I would like to answer Mr. Willis and say:

(1). Learners should not be encouraged to ring at meetings unless they are repeatedly reminded of their obligation to strike well.

(2). Odd-struck bells can be struck well by competent hands.

(3). The Ringing Master should not allow a method to be rung unless the band can cope with it adequately.

Surely we are not content to leave the matter of striking in the hands of all and sundry. There must be some guidance from the top so that all ringers feel duty bound to maintain as high a standard of striking as they can.

The ringing after the meeting was a typical example of what I mean. We had Cambridge Surprise Major, one of the band having only rung the Minor version before, another still struggling with the method, and the treble ringer unable to keep right unaided! We then had Double Norwich hastily swotted up from "Diagrams"! Mr. Willis says that bad striking is inevitable; I say that if ringers attempted only methods within their grasp then striking could be improved. After all, meetings are not practice nights (or are they?).

Lowering the bells started badly when the ringer on the second failed even to get the bell striking properly to start with, let alone lower it. All was soon abandoned when several bells were hopelessly floundering and the ringers ordered "Get your bells down as quickly as possible"! Let Thomas Hicks have the last words, which very aptly sum up the way it all finished: Crash! Bang! Wallop!—Yours sincerely,
JOHN E. SPREE.

WEDDING BELLS

Dear Sir.—In reply to Mr. D. Manship, the Rector of St. John's, Loughton, has had requests for bells for 69 weddings during the period January 1st to October 30th, 1965.

Our only complaint is that we are not always able to ring for as long as we would like due to shortage of time between some weddings. On one Saturday bells were rung for six of the eight weddings that day. To ring our peal on October 2nd it was necessary to start at 9 a.m. in order to finish in time for a wedding.

About fees for ringing at weddings, I know of some towers that only ring after the service, others that do not ring all the bells available, but the £4 4s. charge at our church for ringing before and after the service gives us nearly a 50 per cent. request for bells.—Yours faithfully, F. W. TOMLIN.
Loughton, Essex.

MR. C. W. ROBERTS' CLAIM

Dear Sir.—I should like to point out that the composition of Ealing Surprise claimed by Messrs. S. Wycherley and W. E. Critchley ("Ringing World," page 640) was composed by me in 1950 and was rung to Rutland Surprise Major on August 2nd of that year at All Saints', Edmonton, conducted by A. J. House. Shortly afterwards I conducted this composition at St. Mary's Church, Willesden, also to Rutland, and on December 31st, 1952, it was rung to Ealing Surprise Major at St. John-the-Baptist, Leytonstone, conducted by John H. Crampson. The figures were published in the Essex Association Report for 1952, page 104, as follows:

I hope that this information will enable Messrs. Wycherley and Critchley to amend their records.—Yours sincerely,

PLAIN BOB EXTENTS

Dear Sir,—Those conductors who are obliged to ring Plain Bob Minor may be interested in the following extents, which I worked out from an idea given to me by Mr. E. Shuttleworth. The first contains the maximum number of singles (42) and the second contains the maximum number of calls (44). Note that the compositions are not set out in the conventional manner—for instance, 5 underneath 4ths means that five consecutive singles are called (4ths, H, W, 4ths, H).

4ths	3rds	W	2nds	H	23456
5	5				1 52346
4		5	5		1 25346
5	5
	2			4	23456

B 4ths W In H

E	A	C	B	A = BSBSB or SBBSB (in consecutive leads)
		A	—	B = BBSBB or SSSSS
B			D	C = BBSB
	E			D = SSSS
	C	A		E = BB

Yours faithfully,
S. HUMPHREY.

OLDEST RING OF SIX

Dear Sir.—I write to ask whether any of your correspondents know of an older ring of six, in total age, than that at St. Swithun's Church, Worcester. Nos. 3, 4 and 5 were cast in about 1420, and Nos. 1, 2 and 6 were added in 1654, thus making a total age of about 2,560 years, an average age for the ring of about 425 years.—Yours faithfully, Worcester. PAUL CATTERMOLLE.

WOLVERHAMPTON TENOR

Dear Sir.—Before everyone has forgotten the subject of the note of Wolverhampton tenor, I would like to make one of two comments. In the first place, the designations D flat and C sharp are meaningless unless they are referred to one of the numerous "standard" pitches. (I believe concert pitch is the highest?) Otherwise the only absolute indication is the frequency in cycles per second. Secondly, there is a place for both descriptions in designating the note of a bell, since it is quite possible for a bell to have a note which is flat of D, but not quite D flat or C sharp in the absolute sense. I would suggest in this case the description "D flat," while not technically correct, is the best approximation.

Thirdly, in reply to the "expert" who said that there is no difference between the scale of D flat and the scale of C sharp, whilst this may be true of piano tuning, it is not necessarily so of other instruments, particularly older ones, as the equal temperament system of tuning is a comparatively recent development. (Not a single organ in the Exhibition of 1851 was so tuned.) Anyone interested in this subject will find all the details in "Science and Music" by Sir James Jeans.—Yours faithfully,

STEPHEN IVIN.

GIRLS AND RINGING

Dear Sir.—Miss G. A. Williamson (page 688) states "there is no record of girls being allowed to follow this advice for over 100 years." In the "Bell News" during the early 1890's, two sisters at Basingstoke were reported ringing peals and doing Sunday service ringing. The eldest is still alive and recently celebrated her 83rd birthday in Canada. Prior to this the fair sex were not encouraged to take up church bell ringing.—Yours sincerely, WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

NAMING OF DOUBLES

Dear Sir.—I should like to thank Mr. Jones for his letter referring to the peal which I conducted at Clifford on August 22nd. If Mr. Jones or any other ringer is able to supply particulars of when the methods which I claimed were rung for the first time were rung before, then I should be quite prepared to withdraw the names my friends and I gave to them.

I also referred to the "methods" as methods, since this appears to have become conventional among Doubles ringers, even though they should, perhaps, be called variations. Whilst Mr. Jones is quite correct in stating that "methods with 20 changes to their plain course are not recognised by the C.C." I can find no ruling about variations. I should therefore like to apologise for my inaccurate use of the word "method." The introduction to the peal should now read "... A peal of Doubles in 42 methods and variations." Since I can find no falseness in either the methods or variations as rung, I believe I am correct in saying that the peal, with the above-mentioned correction to the introduction, still stands.—Yours sincerely,

COLIN A. LEWIS.

University College, Dublin.

S.O.S. FOR BELLROPE

Dear Sir.—I think it most improper that appeals of this nature should have to be made. It should not be necessary for any ringer from any tower to have to appeal for even secondhand ropes, if the incumbent and P.C.C. concerned take the necessary action to procure ropes.

The responsibility for providing ropes (and any other spare parts for bells) lies with the incumbent and P.C.C. and ropes, etc., should be paid for through the church accounts, so in view of this any appeal for secondhand ropes should be unnecessary.

The price of a good rope today is about £5 and if looked after properly has a reasonable life of ten years plus. I cannot think that many towers would be in a position to give away ropes in view of present day costs and the desire that they should obtain the maximum possible wear from them, even secondhand ones.

If Mr. Dodd really considers an appeal should be necessary and the P.C.C. concerned will not put up the money to purchase ropes then it would be far better to appeal for the necessary money to buy new ropes, which would last much longer, than be satisfied with secondhand ropes.

If the P.C.C. is not prepared to help themselves towards purchase of ropes then they should be thoroughly ashamed of themselves.

R. H. DUKE.

A SURPRISE

Dear Sir.—It was something of a surprise to see a composition which has been rung twice under my name and sent to John R. Ketteringham, published by him under his own name! He did derive it independently after myself, but it had already been published in my article in August.

Further, the comment under his letter with regard to repeated publication is fatuous in the extreme—repetition is hardly "occasional" and neither is entire omission—and I know of more than one eminent composer who has bemoaned this.

Finally, I apologise to J. R. K. for failing to clear his name re the alleged "unoriginality" of his Bristol—he did point this out to me when I first showed him the 5,184 Yorkshire.—Yours faithfully,

GILES B. THOMPSON.

P.S.—The composition was first rung at Salford Priors on August 2nd, and published (in words). I have just noticed that the composition is misprinted on page 668. It should read as follows, the course end being replaced:

GRANTLEY HALL, 1965

ONCE again the week-end course held at Grantley Hall was a great success, the weather was fairly good, the food and accommodation excellent and the company of 31 students varied and mostly youthful.

The lecturers were all experienced teachers and the available time was divided between classroom and practical work with visits to Ripon Cathedral (ten bells), Sharow (eight bells) Kirkby Malzeard (six bells) and Winksley (four bells). Aided by ingenious visual aids, duplicated handouts and tape recordings, Wilfrid Moreton, Norman Chaddock and Nolan Golden packed a great mass of concentrated knowledge into their lectures. Of great interest to all was the showing of the excellent "Washington" film.

Very little time was wasted between the assembly on Friday evening and the dispersal after tea on Sunday. Much of the success of the course can be attributed to the kindly efficiency of Dr. Strick and his co-operative staff, to whom we expressed our warmest thanks. The social atmosphere was congenial; a course on "The Life of the Countryside" ran parallel to our course and it was evident that our students knew more of natural life than our fellow students knew of the Exercise.

Nevertheless, considerable interest was shown in our strange activities, especially so when a band of 12 assorted ringers succeeded in ringing a course of Plain Bob Maximus on handbells of generous size and employing the system of standing in a very long row and changing physical positions before striking each row.

From a discussion on future plans it emerged that the lecturers would be greatly helped if students would make their specific needs known in advance. Another course at Grantley Hall is already booked—it will be in November, 1966.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Methods rung at the Devon Branch meeting at Launceston were Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob. Ringing took place at St. Thomas' Church during the afternoon, followed by a service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. C. Geikie). Tea was served in St. Mary's Church Hall.

Mrs. D. R. Bould (vice-president) presided over the business meeting and Teignmouth was proposed for the next meeting, with Bishops-teignton for evening ringing. Miss C. Boucher (Launceston) was elected as a new member.

Ringling took place on the eight bells of St. Mary's Church during the evening. Methods rung were Stedman, Grandsire, Plain Bob and call changes.

CHRIST'S HOSPITAL OLD BOYS

Dear Sir,—As a fellow Old Blue of Mr. Beauchamp, I can vouch for the accuracy of his statement that there was no part of Christ's Hospital at Horsham before 1904. Can we assume that Miss Snowdon took a further interest in the school and so remembered its present situation at Horsham?

While on this subject might I trespass further on your space to wonder if there are any other Old Blue bellringers?—Yours faithfully,

OBITUARY

MR. ALFRED E. REEVES

With great regret we record the passing of Mr. Alfred E. Reeves at his home in Totterdown, Bristol, on October 6th, the same day as his old friend, Joseph T. Dyke. He was 86.

"Alfie" was for many years the peal secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association and when he retired from office in 1956 he was made an honorary life member in recognition of his valued work. He was actively engaged in ringing until 1955, when at the age of 76 he felt that his powers of concentration were failing, so he decided to slip quietly out of ringing circles, leaving behind him an established reputation as the man who rarely made a mistake. A fellow octogenarian said of him: "He was a fine man and in his heyday was one of the best ringers in the country."

During his lifetime Alfred rang approximately 600 peals, including 99 at St. Stephen's, Bristol, where he was at one time steeple-keeper. It was appropriate that one of his last peals was in this tower . . . the occasion being the 1,000th peal of the late John Thomas. In his early days, before his work with the G.W.R. took him to Bristol, he rang many peals in Oxfordshire and Berkshire in the company of the Rev. F. E. Robinson and other famous ringers. He took part in several record performances, including 17,024 Double Norwich Major at Kidlington in 1899 and the 15,312 Cambridge Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne in 1929. Arrangements have been made to study his records so that a full list of his peals and a more complete appreciation of his services to ringing can be published in due course.

The funeral, which took place at Arnos Vale, Bristol, on October 11th, was conducted by the Rev. E. R. Smart and the Rev. Roger O. Fry. The Gloucester and Bristol Association was represented by Messrs. S. G. Riches, W. B. Kynaston, E. F. Hancock, F. E. Hansford, P. L. Pearce and R. J. Bowden. The Rev. R. O. Fry and Mr. F. Targett represented the Bath and Wells Association. The usual course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the open grave, and a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Caters was successfully attempted the following Saturday.

R. J. B.

MR. EDWARD C. GOBEY

After a long period of failing health, Ted Gobeby died on October 2nd at the advanced age of 88 years. He was a native of Bedfordshire and went to reside near Ilkeston as a young man. He learned bell control at a three-bell tower and then moved to the six-bell tower of Stanton-by-Dale. He later joined the eight-bell tower of St. Mary's, Ilkeston, where he was a most respected member for nearly 60 years, acting for a great part of the time as Ringing Master and steeplekeeper. The "go" of Ilkeston bells today is mainly due to the excellent and expert attention paid to them by Ted over a long period.

He was a keen peal ringer and composer, his best known work being the combined method of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, which is known as the Ilkeston variation. No full record of his peals is at hand, but it is known to be in the region of 340, a large number of which he conducted, and many composed.

The funeral service was at St. Mary's on October 6th, prior to cremation at Wilford, Nottingham. Before the service and afterwards the bells, which had given him so much pleasure, were rung half-muffled by members of the Derby Diocesan Association and the Southwell Guild. A peal attempt in the evening was unfortunately lost, but a very good quarter peal of the Ilkeston variation was rung.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

Tribute to Mr. J. T. Dyke at Frome Branch

The autumn meeting of the Frome Branch held at East Harptree on October 10th was overshadowed by the funeral of Mr. J. T. Dyke. The Vicar, the Rev. J. Ainger, took the service, during which he welcomed the Branch and mentioned that it was 1958 when the last meeting was held in his parish.

After a sumptuous ham salad tea the Association Master, the Rev. H. F. Warren, took the chair and called on Mr. E. C. Shepherd to say a few words about the late Mr. Dyke. Mr. Shepherd said that Joe Dyke was one of the giants of his day; to mention just one of his feats was the record length of Cambridge Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne. William Pye picked the best 12-bell band available and to make up the back end he had to come to Somerset to get Joe Dyke. Mr. Shepherd said he rang his first peal of Stedman Cinques with him, as did many others who Joe brought to Birmingham, including the late Sam Hector, for their first of Stedman Cinques. Mr. Dyke served on the Editorial Committee of "The Ringing World," a position that demanded a considerable amount of hard work; he had also written publications on striking, bell control and compositions.

Finally Mr. Shepherd appealed to members to observe, when entering a strange tower, the peal boards, as this was the best way of obtaining details of great feats of the past, with some of which Joe Dyke was associated. He sincerely hoped that someone would study this great ringer's career and publish details of it in book form.

The Master thanked Mr. Shepherd for his talk and then proceeded with the meeting. Eight new members were elected and various other small items discussed. Mr. G. W. Massey, in his vote of thanks, made special mention of Mr. G. Talbot, who made all the local arrangements, and thanked the Rev. J. Ainger for his part in making it a most successful meeting.

Cary Branch

The annual corporate Communion of Cary Branch was held at Pitcombe on Friday, October 8th. Owing to the death earlier this year of the Vicar, who had arranged the service, the celebrant was the Rural Dean, the Rev. J. T. Hayward, Vicar of Bruton.

The choral service was led by the Bruton Church choir and the Sexseys School choir, with Mrs. Mees at the organ. Mr. J. T. Dyke, who had passed away that week, was remembered in the prayers.

Refreshments, arranged by the Pitcombe ringers, were afterwards served at Pitcombe Farm by invitation of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Jennings.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The quarterly meeting of the South West Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers was held at Dodbrooke, Kingsbridge, on September 25th. Afternoon ringing was enjoyed at West Alvington, the home of a fine team of call change ringers, and at Dodbrooke. Ringing included rounds mainly for the many young learners, call changes, the four standard methods and Cambridge, and was directed by Mr. R. Bould, the Ringing Master. A service in Dodbrooke Parish Church was conducted by the Rector, Preb. Pedley, who said it was a great encouragement to see so many young ringers, and that it was wrong for ringers to be taken for granted, as they so often were.

Tea was enjoyed in the Church Hall, followed by a business meeting, presided over by Mr. H. M. Thomas. A minute's silence was observed in memory of Mr. Warren S. Hornbrook, a former Charles ringer, who died recently. New members elected were Mr. Peter Gilbert (Launceston) and Mrs. Elizabeth Wright (Galmpton). Mr. Coles was accepted as a non-resident member. It was decided to hold the annual meeting at Lifton on January 29th, and a practice meeting at Lamerton on November 20th next. Evening ringing took place at West Alvington and Thurlstone.

CAMPINGOLOGISTS, 1965

The Motorway And Davies, and fast, The rain in my face. And Husborne Crawley and a peal attempt miscalled. And Redbourn and a ringing meeting. And the "Hollybush" and a ringing tour. Tents pitched at Bovingdon and the "White Hart." And that was almost Saturday.

With ringing at Apsley and Watford, and cars to Kirtlington, a peal of four spliced. And the composition. And the conductor. The cars and the "White Hart," and tents and Sunday.

Woburn and Beaconsfield. Superlative and Double Norwich. And both peals lost. Rickmansworth, the water, the heat, and lying in the sun. The sky like washed-out Jap silk. Watford and the Chinese. Apsley and the ringing. And sitting next door. The tents. Monday.

Sun in my face. Smell of grass like new cider. Morning and Hatfield. Cambridge Royal and a peal. An the tenor ringer. Charles Dickens and Nancy and a bar. Watford, and trains to London and Hemel. Harrow Weald. Lincolnshire and a peal. The conductor. London, listen to the College Youths, beer almost not to drink. Hemel and walking. Sky ink black. And the night. Chooseday.

The new towns and Stevenage. And London the method. Not the peal. Greene King, and was he only King before he drank his beer? But the stout. And the food. And the countryside. Benington and Winchester. The peal, listen to the peal. Bovingdon, and the tenor turning in to Stedman Cinques. And the "White Hart" turning in to singing. And the band turning in to . . . the tents. Onesdays.

Now the method but not the conductor. The bells but not the ringers. The ringing but not the peal. West Wycombe and Aldenham the method. High Wycombe but only the food. And the stout, to taste the stout. And the bowling alley and the juke box, to listen to the juke box. Hughenden and Belgrave. The peal, and the tenor ringer. Sky full of clouds like old pillows, gone yellow. And the water, to swim in the water. Hemel and the Dinner and the "Olde King's Arms." (And his horses.) The bowling alley and the bowling. The tents and to plan the dreams. Thirstday.

Now the method and the conductor. The bells and the ringers. The ringing and the peal. Bicester and Rutland. And the finish. Food and the juke box, to listen. Sun coming out in the middle of June. And another Davies. Dart and the throwing. The hair and the eyes. And the victory. Company and the evening. Goodbyes and farewells. And only the campers left. The moon on the sky. And the motor-bike on Goodall. And the night screaming like wild bells. Freuday.

Bushey and the six. And the six plus two, if you see what I mean. And the peal I might add. Northchurch and the clapper without a bell. And the band without a peal. Luton and the conductor. The ringers and Yorkshire Royal. The bells and the peal. Luton and Hemel. More drinking and eating. Bovingdon and the tent. Satiateday.

The morning and I hide. Sun in my face. And the tent gone. And the burning straw. And the smoke in the wind. And goodbye. And the Motorway. And very fast.

Thanks, firstly to all those who made it possible for us to ring upon their bells. Secondly, to the Hertford County Association. Western District ringers for their welcome and excellent company. And thirdly to Tony Kench for his magnificent arrangements.

THE GREAT MINIMUS CONTEST

AROUND 60 competitors and spectators were attracted to Pamber Priory on October 10th, when the Great Minimus Contest took place by permission of the Rector, the Rev. D. Tackley. The Priory, of which only the part east of the tower remains, stands amidst woods with only a farmhouse for company and had probably not welcomed such a large gathering for many years.

The draw resulted in David Hughes' band from Liss having the unenviable task of opening the proceedings. The difficulties involved in ringing these bells, with their 50 feet of unguided rope and absence of stays, immediately became apparent, and the sympathy of the onlookers was with the band when they decided that discretion was the better part of valour and made way for the next entrants, who were Fred Ellis' band from Wheathampstead.

The Wheathampstead ringers have plenty of practice on a long draught at home; they raised the bells without much difficulty and even achieved half a lead of Bob Minimus before two ropes went sailing into the heights to bring their performance to a premature conclusion.

The next company was Geoff Dodd's country lads, who were suspected of having had weeks of secret practice on the bells and therefore started hot favourites. However, although the front three went up to the balance without mishap, the tenor went a bit further and brought yet another gallant attempt to an end.

Robin Leale's band, mainly from Slough, met a similar fate when a hitherto popular member turned the treble over before his companions had even had time to pull their bells up.

David Cornwall's party, mostly from Hughenden with the addition of a well-known Feltham ringer on the treble, were obviously determined to succeed. Having raised the bells with the utmost care and deliberation, they stopped for a breather before pulling off into rounds, only to gnash their teeth in rage after one whole pull when their treble ringer made a dismal failure of his first attempt to catch the sally.

Philip Stevens' combination from Bognor and Easthampstead were next to try their luck and rang some respectable rounds and a couple of changes before going the same way as the rest.

The only band now remaining was Chris Kippin's collection of experts from all corners of the South. Starting to raise the bells in peal, the back three went up beautifully but not so the treble in the hands of a well-known Farnborough ringer, whose gallant attempts to bring it under control in the next few minutes caused the company much merriment. Eventually, with the bell nearly up, someone else took over. "Go Plain Bob" was the call, and in a silence which grew tenser as it progressed to a triumphant and loudly applauded conclusion, the first and only course of Minimus on the bells was well and truly rung by: Tony Fortin treble, Brian Bladen 2, Malcolm Powell 3, Chris Kippin (conductor) tenor.

These heroes were therefore declared the winners; although some further attempts were made by bands already mentioned, none met with success. As the last of the company wandered away, the treble was still sounding as the two well-known and previously revered ringers from Feltham and Farnborough continued their efforts to pull it up.

"Keep it tight at backstroke, Charles!"
 "That's just what I'm trying to do, Tony."
 "You must pull it down straight, Charles!"

For all we know, they may be there still.

FRAMSDEN AND DISTRICT

Once again it was a mixed load for the half-day trip on October 9th into Bedfordshire with ringing at Bromham, Turvey and Kempston. Many thanks to the incumbents and those who met us.

Tea at the Laws Hotel, Turvey, can be highly recommended.

St. Katharine's Society visit Devon and Somerset

THE rendezvous for the Society's week in Devon and Somerset was Redhill Station on Saturday, September 4th at 8.45 a.m. Fifteen minutes later three cars with 12 occupants set off for Romsey Abbey, where they were joined by Julian for the afternoon. After unlash the clapper of the fourth, touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman and Cambridge were rung. Lunch at a pleasant pub in Wiltshire preceded ringing on the heavy six at Henstridge. Next came a highlight of the tour—Sherborne Abbey. Fortunately the bells were up, but the ringing was somewhat indifferent although a half-course of Cambridge did not go too badly. The rope of the fifth was broken by Tom during the lower. Another heavy ring followed at Yeovil, with Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples, and with the ringing appetite still unappeased we joined in after tea at a meeting at South Petherton. Digs for the night were at Taunton.

Needless to say, after such a heavy programme, the Stedman Cinques at St. Mary's, Taunton, failed miserably the next morning and we reverted to rounds on 12. The afternoon was spent finding Cullompton and our digs. Service ringing at Bradninch was followed by a look round Exeter Cathedral and then back to Cullompton and bed.

"GOOD STEADY TENNER"

There was a touch of humour about the first tower on Monday—Brampford Speke. Harold sat on the floor to ring the tenor and the rest rang either kneeling or sitting on benches. At Newton St. Cyres (a pleasant 13 cwt. eight) a very friendly local managed to talk continuously through Roger's recording of the bells. Lunch was at Crediton, where the ringing was indifferent. The Spliced Minor at Monchard would have been much better had Colin not let go of the rope end. A very cheery and well lubricated tower captain greeted us at Chawleigh and expounded on the virtues of "Mr. Taylor" when he rehung the third bell. He then persuaded a rather shy local to "com an' ring steady tenner be'ind, 'bout 22 to 36 changes a minnit."

Tuesday began with the delightful eight at Broadelyst. A good touch of Stedman went to pieces in the last 12 changes. At the beginning of the lower a great jangling thud was heard from above, and an agonised cry of "Me clapper's gone" came from Ian on the tenor. Lunch was at Sidmouth (bells difficult to strike) and the evening at Ottery St. Mary's, a splendid and unusual church with a memorial to Samuel Taylor Coleridge on the churchyard wall. On the very pleasant bells reasonable Stedman and Cambridge were rung.

THE ORANG-OTAN

Rain was really pouring down on Wednesday. Because of a death, Powderham was substituted for Kenton and ringing here was terrible. Harold, turning in the tenor, looked like an orang-utan on the warpath. At Chudleigh, with its fine sounding organ, a stay was broken, and at Bovey Tracey Roger broke a rope. The bells at Buckfast Abbey were worthy of the large and impressive building. Two Leicester ringers and one of the monks joined us in rounds on 12 and Grandsire Caters. Afterwards we were allowed to chime Hosannah, a really marvellous seven-ton bell. The eight at Totnes were rung after tea.

A heavy programme of 10 towers was planned for Thursday. Janette and Tom enjoyed a seesaw on a loose floorboard at Buckerell, which was raised to give a signal to the organist. Yorkshire was rung at St. Paul's, Honiton, and Axminster bells much enjoyed. Candles and an oil lamp provided the luminant in the old church belfry at Honiton, where the 22 cwt. six go very well for plain bearings.

Friday started with the glorious eight at Tiverton, and at Minehead we managed Stedman Caters, a Sussex ringer joining us. Dunster bells we found disappointing, the tenor being a quarter tone sharp, and at Wiveliscombe, just rehung by Harry Parkes and Arthur Lewry, some almost perfect Bob Major was achieved.

CULLOMPTON BETTER THAN EVERCREECH

Before leaving Cullompton on Saturday we had a final ring on the ten, which we agreed were better than Evercreech's. The latter we found quite easy to ring but a little difficult to strike on account of the ninth being odd-struck, and not being able to hear the treble. Shepton Mallet bells were found to be a little lumpy, and at Ditchat we apologised to the locals for our poor ringing. After finding our lodgings for the night at Wells and tea, Chewton Mendip was visited and some good ringing followed on these glorious bells. Sunday's ringing was at St. Cuthbert's, Wells, for morning service and at the Cathedral for Evensong, where Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal were rung with the help of locals.

Our thanks to Colin for his excellent arrangements: we look forward to just as successful a tour next year.

My article of January 10th, 1964, showed 60 courses arranged in five parts, with an explanation of how to prove peals by the numbers of the lines. Now I explain how a table of this kind can be used to compose, in a short time, peals which do not need to be proved. As before, the line numbers will be used, not the courses. Calling positions in Major can come up in six different orders. A Middle, for instance, can occur at any of the leads except the last but the effect of a bob at Middle is always the same. We leave 23456 and enter 43652, that is from 1 to 5. A few examples of three bobs in one place will show how to complete Table Q, which includes also five Befores.

A bob Before is unlike any of the others. It can shorten a course to two leads or lengthen it to twelve. A Before can be used to cut out falseness. To compose a peal, select a few letters to be bobbed. Each letter and the figures with it should be written on a cardboard strip, fourteen in all. Strips not selected to be bobbed should be put out of the way. My own kit for composing in this way has the strips in four colours and forty-eight separate figures in matching colours. Using them resembles a game of dominoes. Readers are invited to apply for these kits and anyone with a lucky pen may do so as

The three Thames-side towers of Shepperton, Sunbury and Hampton formed the venue for the meeting on October 2nd. The pleasant ring of five at Shepperton was kept going for most of the allotted hour to a variety of Doubles methods. From 3 p.m. attention centred on the ring of eight at Sunbury, and the usual array of standard methods up to Cambridge and Yorkshire was rung.

The tea and business meeting were held in the Parish Hall, Hampton. Several new members from Stanwell and East Bedford were elected. Reporting on the results of his survey into the possibility of holding weekday evening practice meetings, the secretary said that general opinion had been favourable and that the practices would be held in the third week of each month starting from November. Full details would be announced in "The Ringing World," but the intention was to hold the meeting on the practice night of the tower visited. The secretary would be pleased to hear from any tower captains who would welcome a visit of this form on their practice night. The meeting closed with votes of thanks to incumbents and to the Hampton ringers, in particular Hilary Essen, who did the organisation, for providing the tea.

Evening ringing followed at Hampton, where a variety of methods was again rung, rising to the dizzy heights of Glasgow.

SELBY ABBEY BELLS REHALLOWED

Before a large congregation which included about 90 ringers from all parts of Yorkshire, the ten bells of Selby Abbey were rehalloed after three months of silence on September 18th. Modern ball-bearing fittings have been installed.

The service, which took the form of choral Evensong, was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. A. P. Kent. Archdeacon Ellison, president of the Yorkshire Association, deputising for the Bishop of Selby, who had had to go into hospital, performed the rehalloving ceremony, which was carried out with great dignity.

The Archdeacon described the bells as the messengers of God and symbols of the glory of Christ which could in their message go far beyond the range of human speech. He urged ringers never to be satisfied with anything but the best and highest possible standard of ringing; mistakes or bad striking could not be hidden.

Lessons were read by the Rev. B. A. Ram-sker. Vicar of Snaith and Carlton, who is president of the Selby and District Society, and the Rev. P. M. Garnett, Rural Dean of Selby.

The theme of the service throughout was one of cheerful thanksgiving, which was reflected in hearty singing of the congregation.

Mr. J. P. Fidler attended on behalf of John Taylor and Co, and everyone ringing had high praise for the "go" of the bells.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The easy-going six at Stotfold were put to good use with Mr. P. Mehew as Ringing Master when the Biggleswade District met there on October 9th. Tea for the 26 members and friends present was provided in the school-room.

At the business meeting members were asked to inform the two District representatives on the committee, set up to revise the District boundaries, of their views on the subject before the committee meeting on October 23rd. Some good ringing in a variety of methods followed.

Next meeting: Northill, November 13th.

Bucks Ringers Tour Derbyshire

THE Temple Hotel, Matlock Bath, was the headquarters for a tour of Derbyshire by a party of ten Buckinghamshire ringers. On August 27th five set off from High Wycombe for Leicester to meet three more of the party and join the practice at St. Margaret's. After a pleasant hour's ringing we completed the journey to Derbyshire and were joined by the remainder of the party.

At Tideswell (8), our first tower on Saturday morning, ringing was delayed by the rope of the seventh breaking at the first pull. This was quickly remedied but the sally only appeared at a few inches from the ceiling. Another piece of rope was attached to the tail end and ringing continued. The very light six at Wormhill (tenor 1 cwt. 1 qr. 14 lb.) was our next tower. Two bells were without stays and the best method of ringing them was with one hand on each stroke. Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles were achieved with some difficulty. The Taylor ring at Fairfield (8) came as a welcome change. After lunch at Buxton we made our way to Castle-ton (8). Here we found the bells rather hard going although some reasonable ringing was obtained. After a fruitless search for the light at Hope (a ground-floor eight), we decided to ring without. Cambridge, Grandsire and St. Clement's went well on these delightful bells. At Bakewell (6) we were met by Malcolm Phipps, Chesterfield District secretary, who joined in some Kent Treble Bob and remained with us the rest of the day. Before tea at Chesterfield we were given a conducted tour of the Cathedral. Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal and Stedman Caters were rung on these musical bells before a slider fell off, our second disaster of the day. At North Wingfield (8) we resisted the temptation of the pub in the churchyard and sampled the pleasant bells instead. Ashover bells, in the last tower of the day, were voted the best eight and some good Stedman was one of the best touches.

Only six of the party arrived at St. Andrew's, Derby (10), in time for ringing on Sunday morning and all we could manage was Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples, with Tony Fortin ringing 1 and 2. We were all reunited in time to ring at St. Alkmund's, Derby. Here Bob Major, Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge were rung. On Sunday afternoon we rang at Heanor (8). Having time to spare, we managed to obtain permission from the Vicar of Greasley for an unscheduled ring and were pleased we had not missed this beautiful eight, but our ringing was not up to standard. For Evensong we rang at Derby Cathedral. Our attempts at Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal were unsuccessful but Stedman Caters, rung with the Sunday service band, was more successful.

On Monday morning we were late at Youlgreave (8). After tracking down the key there was only time for a touch of Stedman and half a course of Cambridge before a quick dash to Matlock. The beautiful ten at Duffield came next and we were joined by 75-year-old Mr. Stone, who rang with us. Our next tower was St. Peter's, Derby, where Erin Triples failed, but a variety of other methods went well. At Kegworth the treble and second were inaudible so the trapdoor was opened, but the conductor was then inaudible. On the way home we were lucky in gaining permission to ring at Hazel-beech. The bells there are definitely one of the best eights—a Gillett and Johnston ring.

The towers represented were Marlow, Hughenden, Quainton, Amersham, Aston Clinton and Lane End. THE TWO J's.

SUSSEX FAMILIES UNITED

THE ancient and spacious tower of St. Mary's, Eastbourne, fairly bulged with ringers on October 9th, when two well-known Sussex ringing families were united. Besides the local band, many county personalities were present, including the Master of the Association, Mr. R. V. Johnston, and the secretary, Mr. R. W. R. Percy. Joining in the Stedman and Grandsire before the ceremony was bridegroom Alan R. Baldock, Divisional Ringing Master and chairman of long standing. He was supported by brothers Leslie (best man) and Ted (usher), also ringers.

Traditionally two minutes late, Christine Fuller followed the choir to the altar on the arm of her father, Roy. Chris, whose family boasts three more ringers, was herself a ringer and choir member at Pevensey, before their recent move to Dorset. In a full-length white satin dress and train of her own making, and carrying a spray of freesias and carnations, she was attended by sisters Yvonne, Jean and Kathleen. The bridesmaids wore dresses of blue and also carried freesias.

The fully choral service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon W. W. S. March, who made reference in his talk to the "tower of strength" that each marriage partner ought to be to the other. Outside the west door after the Sacrament, a bright autumn sun shone on the couple through an arch of bell-ropes manned by representatives of Sussex bands who have reason to be grateful for the efforts of Chris and Alan.

Handbells at the reception included Triples in which bride, bridegroom and best man took part, and some natty tune ringing, four-in-hand, featuring the Master.

The couple will make their home at Westham, Sussex. H. R.

The Grainger Tour, 1965, in Wales

THIS year the tour started with a difference—no Grainger! Angela could not be with us, and Mike Bew had undertaken the mammoth task of arranging all the towers and accommodation, and evidence of his hard work was demonstrated by the smooth running of the ten days.

We met and rang first at Churchstoke, Montgomeryshire, on July 26th, with two cars from Bedford and four from Sussex. Moving on to Montgomery and Newtown afterwards, we particularly enjoyed the light six at the latter tower. One of the party also chimed the old bell in the derelict tower by the river, before we moved to our excellent hotel in Welshpool. Welshpool bells were not ringable the next day because the tower was unsafe, but this left us plenty of time to reach Leighton, and from there on to Forden and Berriew, with its ring of eight. We rang a good course of Cambridge here. The afternoon drive was to Llanfyllin, then over the Berwyn mountains to Corwen and on to Ruthin. The beautiful valleys shone in the sun, and we looked down over the countryside from high up on the side of the hills.

We stayed at a "moated" farmhouse for the next three nights, the moat in fact being a stream running round the back. The lucky four in the caravan enjoyed candlelight and the sweet music of the cockerel at 4.30 a.m.;

the rest of us enjoyed the lowing of the cows at 6.30 a.m.

Wednesday produced probably the best ringing and bells of the tour when we sampled Flint and Denbighshire. At Northop, a band stayed on to ring an immaculate touch of Grandsire Triples for the wedding of the Vicar's daughter. At Mold, the superb organ and the five bells were sampled after lunch before ringing at Buckley. Two more towers in the evening before reaching Gresford, where we had good ringing on these Rudhall bells.

The weather took a turn for the better on Thursday when we rang at the rest of the towers in Denbighshire, ending with the grand ring of ten at Wrexham. We enjoyed nearly two hours' ringing there, and were successful with a good touch of Grandsire Caters and another of Double Norwich. On Friday the sun shone all day as we made our way round the north coast to Llandudno, ending at Beaumaris and watching the sun set over the Menai Straits.

Saturday was a day of rest. Except for four of us, the whole party climbed Snowdon, in perfect weather. Grandsire Triples was rung on the summit. The four defaulters (writer included) went to Conway and Caernarvon Castles, and also played the magnificent organ at Bangor Cathedral. We stayed the

The film "Ringers Required" lasts 28 minutes and not 22, as was stated in our last issue.

Hughenden Society keep a record of peals rung in their tower. They are anxious that one rung on August 19th should be published. Two peals have been rung since then, one being the 350th on the bells.

Sussex newlyweds Christine and Alan Baldock spent the first week of their honeymoon visiting towers at which one, but not the other, had rung. Possibly their intention is to facilitate the use of one ringers' record book between them?

week-end at Bettws-y-coed, where the scenery was breathtaking, but the rain poured down.

On Sunday, after attending Matins at Llan-degai, most of the party travelled on the Ffestiniog railway in the afternoon (the sun shone all day), and gave us a superb view of the Maentwrog Valley. We rang for Evensong on the eight bells at Portmadoc.

It rained most of the day as we travelled south to Dolgellau on Monday, where we rang on the pleasant-toned bells, before reaching Machynlleth. Then it was a long drive in the rain along the Gwy Valley up to Llandinam before settling in at Rhayader for the last two nights. We had seven towers that day and rang at Presteigne (a fine eight). On to Old Radnor, where we rang a good touch of London on the beautiful bells and admired the carving of the oldest organ case in the country.

On Wednesday we travelled down the Wye Valley, ringing at Builth Wells, Glasbury and Clyro on the way, before saying goodbyes at lunchtime after a very happy ten days together, sampling some of the bells and most of the beautiful countryside in Wales.
