SOUND CONTROL

By Norman Chaddock

AN article in that lively publication for Derbyshire ringers 'Belfry News' referred to the value of sound control in enabling adequate and regular practice to continue at towers where the bells were, perhaps, excessively noisy, or where the tower is situated close to business or other premises, whose occupants might be justifiably annoyed by frequent or prolonged bouts of bellringing.

People nowadays are subjected to such an increased amount of noise generally that the sound of bells is less noticeable than formerly was the case; in fact in many towns it is difficult to hear the bells above the noise of traffic, etc. Nevertheless some towers have a problem.

In carrying out sound control, a certain amount of trial and error and experiment is often advisable, perhaps carrying out the necessary measures piece-meal or stage by stage.

The effectiveness of the measures taken may thus be judged and the sound control not overdone.

Ideally the sound of the bells should go forth from the tower on Sundays and when required, but should be controlled for practices and peals rung just for practice. There is no point in installing expensive apparatus and then permanently bottling up the sound requiring so much skill to produce.

Efficient sound control which meets these requirements makes for good public relations whilst still enabling the bells to send out their message prior to services and on special occasions. Ringers can get their practice in plenty without annoyance to shops, educational institutions and various public gatherings.

When restoration work was in progress on my own tower recently, opportunity was taken to install sound control measures and the advice of Mr. Frederick Sharpe and the Diocesan architect was sought and followed, together with my own ideas and those of the contractors for the restoration work, and a description of the installation follows.

The eight belfry 'windows' (two in each wall) have been bricked up to the 'spring' of the arches, i.e., a rectangular piece of brickwork in each belfry 'window.' The louvre boards have been left in position so that the brickwork is invisible outside. Above the brickwork, wooden shutters have been fitted. These close on to a surrounding wooden framework so that when closed the belfry 'windows' are sealed. In our case adequate ventilation to the spire is available by openings higher up the spire.

Basically these eight robust shutters are made from one inch thick timber lined on the inside with insulation board, hinged at the bottom and tilted slightly inwards so as to open under gravity. To assist opening, a metal bracket with a weight on is fitted at the apex of each shutter.

A bronze pulley is fixed to the tower wall immediately above each shutter and a 3/16 in. steel cable, fixed to the top centre of each shutter, is led to a pulley system which operates all eight shutters by one cable from the ringers' room below.

A downward pull on this one cable in the ringers' room turns a double steel pulley or drum which is situated above the bells. Connected to this drum are two cables, each joined to four shutter cables by a yoke. When the drum is thus turned, all shutters close simultaneously. On releasing the cable in the ringers' room gently, the shutters open under gravity.

Although the system sounds complicated, it works well. It was of course necessary to provide fixing points for the pulleys. All brickwork is covered with insulation board.

Use of timber, asbestos or other sheeting would of course provide a cheaper installation than brickwork but would probably be less effective.

GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL BELLS CAST

Five of Guildford Cathedral's bells were cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank at their Whitechapel Foundry on December 17th in the presence of some of the donors. The procedure was explained to the visitors by Messrs. William and Douglas Hughes.

The veteran architect of the Cathedral, Sir Edward Maufe, who was selected by public competition about 1931, was present with Lady Maufe. Canon A. C. G. Oldham represented the Cathedral Chapter; Mr H. C. Margrett, organiser of the Cathedral appeal, and Mrs. Margrett. Mr. A. White, head verger, and Mr. W. A. Taft, Cathedral custodian, were also present.

The generosity of Brigadier and Mrs. Schreiber enabled the task of providing the bells to be accomplished much earlier than anticipated, and their names are inscribed on three of the bells—the sixth, ninth and tenor. The tenor also has the words 'In Love, in Faith, in Thanksgiving.' This bell is to be cast at a later date. The Brigadier and his daughter attended the ceremony.

The ringers' bell is the second, and its inscription reads: 'Laus Deo. The gift of the Guildford Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers 1964.' Three representatives of the Guild were present—Messrs. D. A. R. May (Master), H. N. Pittsow and T. W. White.

A novelty in inscriptions is on two of the bells, the gift of Mr. E. J. Grimwood. One reads, 'Honour thy father' and the other 'and thy mother.' Both of Mr. Grimwood's parents were present to see, in a sense, their own memorial.

The treble was the gift of Mr. Geollrey Sentance, of Farnham, and his sister, Mrs. Betty North.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD Leatherhead District

The meeting of the Leatherhead District held at Epsom Common on December 12th attracted members from a greater number of towers than many recent meetings and, due to the efforts of the enthusiastic local band, was successful. In the absence of the parochial clergy at the Diocesan Conference, Mr. George Cockman, ringer and ordination candidate, conducted the Guild's service and gave an inspiring address. Two other local ringers, Messrs. Stuart Warren and David Hershell, played the organ and read the lesson respectively.

The tea which followed in the Epsom Common Working Men's Club was ably arranged by Miss Adrienne Gibson, assisted by her lady ringing colleagues.

At the business meeting the election of three non-resident members—Ruth Foreman, Julia Fellows and Michael Frost—prior to a peal rung at Ashted was confirmed and two members of the Epsom Common band—Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Warren—were elected. The District Master, Mr. A. P. Cannon, announced that he was not seeking re-election and Mr. David Hershell was nominated District Master for 1965. Miss Adrienne Gibson and Mr. C. W. Munday were nominated for the post of District Secretary, and Mr. R. C. Soittle was nominated Auditor in place of Mr. A. S. Besant who intends to move to Somerset during the year.

Before and after the meeting the tower was crowded and a better than average standard of ringing was enjoyed by those present. Methods rung included London and Bristol Surprise and Spliced Grandsire and Stedman Triples.

70 YEARS IN ONE TOWER

Mr. Edwin Barnett has just completed seventy years' service as a ringer in Crayford tower.

Having taught himself to handle a bell as a boy when deputising for the Parish Clerk in chiming for the daily services, he was roped into the band during a transition period in January, 1895, with several other recruits.

He rang his first quarter peal for Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897, and has rung on every 'royal' occasion since.

They were not easy days for youngsters who often had to fight to advance in ringing and he succeeded in ringing his first peal at Crayford in 1899. Since then he has rung 266 peals on the bells. Two of these were rung for the relief of Ladysmith and Mafeking during the Boer War.

He succeeded his father in charge of the tower in 1932 and continued until 1956. During these years over 300 peals were rung on the bells without one ever being lost through a broken rope.

Seventeen of his peals at Crayford have been with three generations of his family. Between 1929 and 1932 16 of them were with his father the late Edwin Barnett, sen., and his son Edwin A., and the 17th, in 1961, was with his granddaughter Jean and her father.

Advancing years have made it rather difficult now to grasp the sally but he still attends on Sundays and practice nights and rings if required.

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD Southern District

A very successful A.G.M. of the Southern District was held at Sketty on December 5th and, although the weather was bad, over 40 attended. The ringing, under the guidance of the Ringing Master, Miss Kath Watkins, was of a fairly good standard. A delightful surprise was to have Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pitman with us again. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Garfield James, and the Rev. John Jenkins gave a short address.

Tea was provided by the local bellringers, and organised by Mrs. Whitworth, who were suitably thanked by Mr. Stan Edwards. The Vicar was also thanked.

The business meeting opened with the chairman expressing delight in seeing so many young people present. Apologies were read from Mr. G. I. Lewis and Mr. R. Skidmore. All officers were re-elected for another year and new members duly elected.

OXFORD GUILD LOOKS AHEAD

MEMBERS of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch were, at their third annual dinner held at the Thames Hotel, Windsor, given some advance information regarding the Guild's proposals for the maintenance of bellringing within its territory.

The dinner coincided with a meeting of the Guild's officers and Branch secretaries, and the Master (Canon C. Eliot Wigg), the general secretary (Miss M. R. Cross), and the treasurer (Mr. A. D. Barker) hurried from their deliberations at Radley, near Oxford, to be present at the dinner at Windsor. The chair was taken by Canon E. W. Perkins, Branch chairman. He was supported by Rev. L. Badham (Vicar of Windsor), Rev. S. W. Doran (Vicar of Bray), Rev. J. C. Vaughan-Wilkes (Vicar of Great Marlow), Miss Doreen Hague (Branch secretary) and Mr. S. M. Bailey (Branch Ringing Master), and over 100 ringers and their wives and friends. Apologies for absence were received from the Branch president (the Bishop of Buckingham), the Guild Deputy Master (Mr. F. Sharpe) and the Editor of 'The Ringing World.'

Following a splendid repast, the loyal toast was proposed by the chairman. The Master then proposed the toast of 'Our Church Bellringers,' pointing out that this embraced all bellringers in the Church wherever they might be, not in the Guild only, or in England only, but in the four corners of the Commonwealth. After paying tribute to their invaluable role in the Church's activities, he told a humorous tale of a father and son, faithful ringers at a church with but two bells, and how they tried to produce a little variation by following the son's advice to ring 'Bom, him' instead of 'Bim, bom.' The result didn't meet with the approval of the ears of the old man brought up in a long tradition of 'Bim, homming.' The Master didn't make the point, but it seemed to the writer that here was another case of a ringer who didn't like the music when the tenor was turned in!

Canon Wigg paid a warm tribute to Mr. Roland Biggs, of Hughenden, who always kept such a high standard of ringing in his tower, and now had crowned all his efforts by training a band which won the Branch's first striking contest, and then went on to win the laurel of winner of the Guild contest with some superb change ringing. He presented illuminated certificates for these two performances to Mr. David Cornwall, captain of this winning band, amidst very loud applause.

Mr. A. D. Barker replied to the toast. After some references to the fact that the Diocesan Guild grew out of the predecessor of the Branch, and to his early days in the Branch, he spoke of the discussions which had taken place earlier that day regarding future ringing courses. It was felt that if the Guild's aims were to be achieved there must be some attention given to the training of future potential heltry leaders. Branches would be asked to recommend suitable young people to be invited to attend a course on the work and responsibilities of tower captains and instructors.

One looks forward with interest and eager anticipation to a formal announcement of how this splendid conception is to be implemented, for it is worthy of generous support.

Mrs. Perkins, wife of the Branch chairman, presented a bouquet of flowers to Miss Hague, for all the work she had done to ensure that the evening was so enjoyable, a gesture which met with warm approval. The remainder of the evening was given up to dancing to the music of Reg Moors' band.

BARNSELY DISTRICT SOCIETY

When the Barnsley and District Society met at Hemsworth, near Pontefract, on Dec. 12th, they were accorded a warm welcome by the Vicar, the Rev. Frederick Adamson, who said they had plenty of young ones wanting to learn but not the older men to teach them. This was supported by Mr. Charlie Moxon, who is the only one left to instruct. Ten towers were represented and Horbury, near Wakefield, was selected for the next meeting on January 9th.

THE 600 PEALS OF CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD

By V. NUTTON

ON Saturday, December 5th, 1964, the Cambridge University Guild rang its 600th peal, and this would appear to be an opportune moment to survey its ringing achievements. A university society, with strict regulations for membership, it possessed at first few capable ringers and it was not until 1890, 11 years after its foundation that its first peal was rung. Plain Bob Triples in hand. This was followed by Bob Major and in 1891 by Double Norwich in hand, the first peal ever rung in hand in the method. The first tower-bell peal, Grandsire Triples, came in 1894, and the first undergraduate peal in 1903. Although only eleven peals were rung in the first 25 years of the Guild's history, they included Bob Royal and Maximus, the latter being also the first of Maximus in hand by the College Youths.

The century of peals was reached in 1919 and included the first peals of Little Bob Major and Royal and the first clerical peals of Major and Double Norwich. Sixty-nine of these were rung in hand in contrast with the last century in which only 23 were rung. The second century was dominated by W. H. J. Hooton who rang in 93 of them and came in only 7 years. First peals here included were those of Spliced Major and Royal in 2 and 3 methods. Single Norwich, Cambridge Court Bob, and the Cam, Granta and Gonville variations of Kent.

The departures of S. H. Wood, C. W. Woolley and F. E. Haynes and the more infrequent visits of Atkins and Hooton meant that the next century was not reached until after the war, the last pre-war peal being No. 278. The residents were not strong enough to attempt tower-bell peals, nor were they able to raise a handbell band without outside aid. After the war, the number of peals has increased, mainly because of the number of residents and the last three centuries have taken respectively eight, five and five years to complete, the penultimate being the fastest. The range of methods was extended although no new ones were discovered, the nearest being in 1964 when 7 residents rang in the first peal of Granthester.

SURPRISE PEALS

Although the first peal of Surprise Major was rung in 1912, Cambridge at Plymouth, the first by residents only came in 1953 and by undergraduates in 1963. The first peal of Surprise Royal came in 1957, of Maximus in 1959 and of Spliced Surprise in 1956. The first peal in hand of Surprise Minor was in 1932, the second in 1963, when were rung also the first peals in hand of Spliced Surprise Minor and Stedman Caters. The first tower-bell peal on twelve bells was in 1955, Stedman Cinques at Cambridge on tower bells and the first of Cinques in hand was Stedman in 1964. High Wycombe 1964 was the Guild's first silent peal, although one had been rung with no bobs called in 1956.

Since the war, there have been many variations in the methods rung: 39 peals of Treble Bob were rung before the war, only 6 after, the last being in 1954; 41 peals of Double Norwich pre-war, only two in the last ten years. On the other hand, only six peals of Surprise were rung before the war (5 of Cambridge, 1 of Superlative), and ten of Minor (three in the tower) while 46 have been rung in the last ten years (20 on tower bells). The increased number of undergraduates has meant a progression from the back six of St. Mary's to Sunday ringing on twelve. The 12-bell peals at Chelmsford and High Wycombe contained only one non-resident.

Colleges are now able to have peals rung by their alumni: Selwyn has had three major peals of St. Catherine's a peal of Minor. Of the older Colleges, only Christ's, Corpus, Downing, Peterhouse and Sidney have had no peals within their walls, and Glisson Road, Portugal Place and St. Anne's Terrace have all heard five peals.

Of the handbell centres, Trinity College has had the most peals, over 135, followed by Surfleet Vicarage, 17, and Selwyn, 13. Other 'towers' include Dartmoor, 2, Galway, and The Diocesan Retreat House, Pleshey. Of towers, Long Stanton has been the favourite (22) followed by Cambridge St. Andrew's, 16, and Harston, 12. Six peals have been rung at Great St. Mary's and one each at Our Lady and the English Martyrs and at St. Bene't's. In a footnote to a peal at Southwell in 1906 we read that this was the hottest day in Nottinghamshire for 31 years.

1,030 MEMBERS

Of the Guild's 1,030 members, 190 have rung a peal, 60 their first peal, 42 their first in hand and 37 their first peal as conductor. Of individual ringers, only four have passed a century, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughiey, 136, E. M. Atkins, 156, W. H. J. Hooton, 151, and C. W. Woolley, four of whose family have rung peals for the Guild. They are followed by F. E. Haynes, 97, Dr. C. M. P. Johnson, 92, W. J. Ridgman, 86, and the Revs. E. G. Benson, 80, E. B. James, 79, and H. S. T. Richardson, 75. A further 17 have rung over 40, including Major Freeborn, whose peals extend from 1912 to 1964. Only one lady, Susan Jackson, has completed 50 peals, her nearest rivals having only 26.

And what of the future? The active Guild peal ringer has in the past decade averaged 28 peals in his undergraduate career, contrasting with the days before the first world war when the average was two. With the expansion of the Guild, it is hoped to attempt at least one resident ten- or twelve-bell peal, in addition to the peals on the annual week, whose success has ranged from 8 in 1957 to none in 1962 and one in 1964. The Guild has still to ring Stedman Triples or Surprise Major in hand and Stedman Doubles in the tower. It is hoped too that, with the practice of regular Sunday ringing of Maximus, a peal of Yorkshire Maximus may be scored.

The C.U.G.C.R. has had in its 85 years' history a tradition of pealring which the present generation of undergraduates, increased in numbers if not in ability, will endeavour to continue, in the advancement of learners as much as in the performances of the experts.

SOMERSET CHURCH BADLY DAMAGED

Readers of 'The Ringing World' may have heard of the destruction by fire of the 14th century Church of St. Peter, Shepton Montague, in East Somerset, on November 27th. The chancel and nave were completely destroyed, but the tower, which is a south tower built over the south porch (the only entrance to the church) was untouched.

There are three bells (tenor 9½ cwt.), which are in good ringing order, having been rehung in a metal frame about 20 years ago by Taylors of Loughborough. They were rung regularly for service up till the time of the fire, rounds, plain hunt and 'Grandsire Singles' being commonly rung by the group of young ringers.

Although in good order the bells have not been rung since the fire due to possible weakening of the tower, but ringing (and Sunday services) continue at nearby St. Leonard's, Pitcombe, which also has three bells (tenor 8½ cwt.).

Non-Association Peals

Dear Sir,—As the conductor of the peal referred to by Mr. Mallet in his letter headed 'Non-Association Peals,' I feel I must reply, especially as he levels a charge of irresponsibility at me.

I, too, have thought for some time about the current practice of rigging almost all peals under the heading of an Association; but I have reached a conclusion virtually opposite to his.

My view, and I don't think I am entirely alone in holding it, is that there is no meaning in recording a peal for an Association unless all those taking part are members of that Association—and by members I do not mean non-resident life members, or whatever they may happen to be called. The most flagrant example of this nonsense is a touring band who, courteously observing the conventions, ring their peals on tour for the local Association, among these several first peals in the method for that Association. By so doing, of course, they render it impossible for truly local first peals in these methods to be rung for that Association. In many cases, all the members of such a band belong as residents to another Association; surely that is the proper Association for which to ring the peals? And if not, then why must a peal be rung for an Association at all?

This leads me on to a further suggestion—that the class of non-resident life membership (or whatever it may be called—the name varies) should be abolished, as being purely an administrative convenience to allow all peals to be classified neatly under Association headings. If there were none such, then peals rung as for an Association, in which all the ringers were resident members, would once again have some meaning; and Associations would save considerably more than the loss of fees by not having to print such large reports—or at least, some of them would have more space in their reports for matter of general interest.

Let I am accused of not knowing what I am talking about, I am a non-resident member of 22 territorial Associations, a member of four non-territorial Associations, and resident member, District secretary and peal secretary of the Association in whose territory I live. I have rung peals for all but one of these Associations, and non-Association peals. I must also say that the views expressed are my own, and in no way represent the official views of my Association.

The peal in question was not credited to an Association for the reasons outlined in my third paragraph, above, and after discussion with the band.

The matter of Mr. Mallet's third paragraph has been well ventilated in your columns and at meetings of the Central Council; and I am convinced that the committee are taking the correct course in keeping the price of 'The Ringing World' at an economic level, despite pressure from some quarters for subsidisation.—Yours faithfully

BRIAN D. THRELFALL.

Harston, Cambridge.

Northern Ireland Tour

Dear Sir,—I wish to apologise to my fellow tourists for the long delay in submitting for publication the report of our enjoyable tour last August, which delay has been due to extreme pressure of work since that time; the small hours of the morning, after an exacting day, are not the best time for composing readable literature!—Yours truly,

DEREK P. JONES.

Burton-on-Trent.

Peal Withdrawn

Dear Sir,—I wish to withdraw the peal of 5.100 Grandfire Doubles rung at Marbury on November 14th, 1964. At the time I did not know that an extra 60 would invalidate the performance.

My sincere apologies to all concerned.—Yours, etc., F. R. MORTON.

Wistaston, near Crewe.

The Extra Charge for the 'R.W.'

Dear Sir,—Is it too late to suggest an alternative to any further charge?

For a largish number of people who take in the 'R.W.' it is a case of trying to support the paper rather than for any general interest. I personally take in two copies for our band at a cost of £4; quite a lot considering that my own interest only runs to the front page and possibly one other article, and I doubt if many of my ringers get even that far.

So, quite frankly, £4 is already beyond my means, and it would seem more fair and probably more profitable to put the charge on those most interested. I would start with peals. To charge 2s. a head for each ringer couldn't possibly hurt anyone. Any peal ringers can quite easily afford 2s.

(2) Whilst peals come into the analysis and therefore have to be published, quarters do not. A quarter is simply an advertisement, and should be charged as such. So much a line.

(3) There is really very little of interest to outsiders in the average ringing meeting or tour. It is a more difficult problem because some are of general interest. But certainly a large percentage are not. In any case, again, anyone who can afford a tour can well afford a shilling or two for a report on it.

If something like this was done it would distribute the cost of the paper amongst those who have the greatest interest in it.—Yours truly,

CORNISHMAN.

Note.—The charge of 9d. a copy operates from this issue. Any alteration now can only be brought about by resolution at the Central Council meeting next Whit Tuesday.—Ed.

Three Fundamentals

Dear Sir,—I have read various letters in reply to that of 'O. A. M., Atheist,' and, while in substantial agreement with the critics, feel that O. A. M. is obviously desirous of pragmatic debate, and I would like to reply accordingly.

I believe that the fundamentals of our historic civilisation (found so often in the ancient university centres) consist of church, school and pub. They are complementary and essential to each other's existence as wholesome and agreeable units.

The pursuit of ringing contains, to a remarkable degree, a fusion of these three elements—method study, translated into action within an environment sanctified and separate, followed eventually by the refreshment of the body agreeably tired, and the mind sharpened to light-hearted debate and banter.

O. A. M. apparently regards this described ritual, in his cold, analytical way, as a tired anachronism! He is not impressed by the total acceptance of this formula over the past 300 years by a multitude of ringers, and I am obliged to speculate upon the kind of arrogance which seeks to eliminate one of the essential ingredients, namely the Church, from the whole concept of ringing.

In other words, he turns away from this delicious meal, and would prefer a dehydrated snack at the Civic Centre!

I agree that ringers often fall out, over trivial matters, and certainly the acrimony displayed in letters to 'The Ringing World' is startling, to say the least. But ringers are basically eccentrics, and an overdose of passion occasionally is to be expected. Nevertheless I am convinced that the Church continues to ennoble the art, and the ringers themselves, which no secular institution could possibly do in any circumstance.

Finally, I sincerely hope that O. A. M. will eventually outgrow his adolescent mood of scepticism, and discover the total pleasure in ringing enjoyed by mature ringers everywhere!—Yours, etc.,

HAROLD JUDD.

Christianity and Bellringing

Dear Sir,—Seldom (praise be) is one called on to read such an irrational letter as that of 'O. A. M., Atheist' published in 'The Ringing World' of November 27th. What does he mean when he asks: 'How many ringers regard ringing as a form of worship?' As far as I am aware, it never was, and was never intended to be so, any more than singing in a choir could be regarded as 'a form of worship.' Surely, an act of worship is to the greater Glory of God and not to the glory of man as A.O.M.'s letter would seem to imply. He must have been singularly unfortunate in the type of ringers with whom he has associated if as he states 'the majority of ringers regard campanology as a hobby just like philately or ornithology.' If he said a minority of ringers take this view merely to indulge in their own personal pleasure, I would agree with him. O. A. M. appears to lose sight of the fact that all church bells are dedicated to the glory of God, but if, knowing that fact, he merely rings for his own personal pleasure, and not to the glory of God, surely, he is guilty of dishonest intention. Like everything else used in her worship, when the Church blesses the bells her intention is to withdraw it from the order of common things and common use.

O. A. M. further asks: 'Why not build churches without towers and build separate places for bells to be rung?' Why not, indeed, but why stop at this? Why not carry it to its logical conclusion and build choir vestries away from the church in order that those who enjoy singing may sing at any time to their heart's content? Why not build separate chapels for Mass-saying priests, so that they can pop in whenever they like to say Mass? But don't let's stop there, let us build separate chapels away from the church where those who like to come to Holy Communion, and no other service, may have a place to themselves? If you stop to think about it, there's no end to this splendid idea, except, of course, nobody has mentioned where the cash is to be found to carry out these schemes. O. A. M. mentions 'People are always falling out.' They always have, they always will, simply because we are an imperfect people living in an imperfect world. Was there not the classic example in the New Testament where the disciples fell out over 'who should be the greatest'? And did not our Lord say 'Except ye become as a little child,' in other words, exercise humility. When ringers learn the meaning of humility there will be no going 'into seclusion for as long as six months.'

In answer to his final question: 'Does one necessarily have to be a Christian to be a campanologist?' Obviously the answer is no. But surely to ring in a Christian church, to call people to Christian worship, and knowing that the bells are in the tower for that very purpose, it smacks of hypocrisy in continuing to play a part in something in which we do not believe.—Yours faithfully, Launceston, Cornwall. A. J. CHUBB.

No True Atheist

Dear Sir,—My immediate reactions to 'Atheist's' letter was anger and resentment, but later on reflection I found no difficulty in finding some pity and sympathy for him. Within the rigging fraternity your correspondent must have had many Christian friends, and to sign his letter 'Atheist' required some courage. I have a feeling, however, that he felt ashamed to give his name in full because of his friends' reactions as I understand an atheist to be one who denounces God, the Church and everything connected with religion.

Your correspondent is no true atheist. Does he not use God's house. His equipment and enjoy the friendship of devout Christians when ringing? It is not possible to be half Christian, half atheist. It's all or nothing for both. I suggest that 'Atheist' has had a 'shift course' at some time or the other and has made no attempt to get back 'in.' Yes, he requires sympathy, pity and understanding, but also a sharp but friendly jolt to remind him of his responsibilities when using Christian ideas, ideals and friends for the furtherance of his recreational habits.—Yours faithfully,

REGINALD BEALE.

OBITUARY

MR. HARRY SEAR

The funeral service for Mr. Harry Sear, ringer and bellmaster for over 65 years at St. Mary's Church, Bletchley, Bucks, was held on December 17th in the church he had served so diligently and loved so well. His death occurred somewhat suddenly in his 86th year in Northampton General Hospital after a comparatively short illness. Many ringing friends were present at the service, which was preceded by half-muffled touches of Stedman Triples and the 'whole pull and stand'; the ringing being of a standard with which he would have been well satisfied.

He was born in Bletchley in 1878, and at the age of nine entered the choir. Shortly after this he was taught to handle a bell by his father, Valentine Sear, who was in charge of the ringing at that time. After leaving school he moved to London for a short period, and was fortunate enough to be taken under the wing of W. E. Garrard and very many years. Until advancing years this period that his interest in change ringing was fostered and developed, and he rang his first peal in 1898 at Epsom, with the above band.

In 1899 he returned to Bletchley and started to teach the local band the art of change ringing, and two years later he had the satisfaction of calling a peal of Grandsire Triples, in which his father and two brothers took part. The North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was formed in 1904, Harry Sear being one of the founder members. From its inception he was elected an instructor, a duty which he so faithfully discharged over very many years. Until advancing years curtailed his active participation in Guild and Branch affairs, he was always present at Guild meetings, and with his passing the Exercise has lost a personality full of individual character.

His marriage took place in 1908, the ceremony being performed by that great clerical ringer, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, with whom Harry had previously rung a number of peals.

By 1911 the ringers at Bletchley had advanced to the stage where he was able to conduct, for the first time, a peal of Grandsire Triples rung by the local band. In all he rang 180 peals from Cinques to Doubles, his last being in May, 1963, when he was 83 years old.

With his passing North Bucks, and Bletchley in particular, have lost a devoted churchman as well as a ringer, for in addition to his duties as bellmaster, over the years he fulfilled with dignity such offices as churchwarden, sidesman and vergers. A better example of dedicated service to the Church must surely be hard to find, for Harry Sear maintained the high standard set by his forbears. Determined that this should not be forgotten by future generations, the parishioners in 1959 caused a stained glass window to be placed in the porch, commemorating 111 years of unbroken service by this devoted family.

The death of Harry Sear will be felt in wider circles than that of his own tower, and we at Bletchley consider ourselves privileged to have known and rung with him for so long. We thank God for his example and pray that his soul may rest in peace.

RING OF BELLS IN THE BACKYARD

Mr. Arthur A. Jopp, his wife Doreen and elder son Andrew in the ringing chamber of the 'Stoulton Campanile.' In front of Andrew is a model bell, and also a copy of 'The Ringing World.' [By courtesy of 'Worcester Evening News and Times.'

FROM time to time mention has been made in our columns of the 'Stoulton Campanile,' Worcestershire, the creation of Mr. Arthur A. Jopp, captain of Stoulton Parish Church ringers.

Mr. Jopp took advantage of an old cottage in Church Lane, Stoulton, becoming vacant some 15 years ago, and proceeded among the rafters to create a bell chamber. He started by purchasing two bells from the old Rectory at Birlingham, which was being demolished. Another bell came from the Atlas Works, Pershore. Whenever he hears of an old bell for sale he promptly follows up with inquiries.

The six bells collected are a light ring, like Mr. Mack's at Exmouth. Mr. Jopp has a tenor of about one cwt. The bells are erected in a home-made frame, constructed from parts of an old bedstead. Bicycle wheels have been used to provide wheels for the bells. He has also introduced a chiming apparatus to play simple tunes.

With bells in the backyard, figuratively speaking, the Jopp family and friends can ring whenever they like. They have no fear of protest from neighbours as all the bells are muffled with rubber pads and cannot be heard clearly outside the bell chamber.

His wife Doreen and his eleven-year-old son Andrew share his enthusiasm and his other two children, Paul (6) and Susan (5), are being introduced to the art of handling a bell as the opportunity occurs. Now 43 years of age, Mr. Jopp has been ringing bells from the age of 16. He claims to have rung in about 700 churches; among them being Wells, Gloucester and Exeter Cathedrals, but his favourite bells are the 12 at Worcester Cathedral.

Mr. Jopp will shortly be heard on the B.B.C. Home Service programme—'Home in the Afternoon,' when he will talk about ringing and his own bells.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Eastern Branch

Despite winter conditions some 30 ringers attended the Eastern Branch meeting held at St. Margaret's, Lowestoft, on December 5th. The Rev. W. Westwood conducted the service, the lesson was read by Mr. D. Carr and Mr. S. Mitchell played the organ. A splendid tea was provided by Sister Riley and her staff.

Miss D. Lidbetter (Branch chairman) presided over the business meeting. Members stood in silent tribute for Mr. Clayton Parnell of Gorleston who had died since the last meeting at the age of 90. Mr. Ian Margetts (Beccles) and Mr. Barry Pickup (Lowestoft) were elected ringing members. Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar, organist and Sister Riley.

Future meetings: Practice meeting Norton Subcourse, January 9th, Branch annual Great Yarmouth, February 13th.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. XI, Advent, 1880 - Advent, 1881

WHAPLODE, LINCOLNSHIRE

'27 Feb., 1775.—10,080 changes or 84 Peals' by 5 ringers, 5 bells, 'Rais'd and settled the bells in 7 hrs, and 26 mins. Tenor 13 cwt. All by Henry Penn of Peterborough, 1718.'

THE SANITARY INFLUENCE OF BELL-RINGING AND ITS MELODIES

A correspondent, George Gregory, M.D., of Great Lever, Bolton, Lancs, wrote on 4 May, 1778, 'Under the above heading in "Church Bells" of 1876 (I quoted from this in extracts I submitted several years ago, C.R.) I gave theoretical reasons why bell-ringing had a most beneficial effect upon the health. I had then no facts to support these opinions, but have since gleaned some from "Leisure Hour." My object was, and is, to induce young men—especially those who engage in sedentary occupations—to become good ringers; considering as I then did, and still do, that such persons should esteem the opportunity of becoming experts in this art as a privilege—perhaps a duty—to be thankful for, rather than an office of pleasure or profit.

Then "Leisure Hour" is quoted as follows: 'In 1784 a peal of 14,480 changes of Bob Major was rung by eight men at Oldham in Lancashire. One of the performers was a man, Daniel Mills, who was always ready to take in any extraordinary feat of ringing. He died in 1851, aged 91. In 1793 a party of Birmingham ringers surpassed the Oldham peal by ringing one of 15,360 changes in 9 hrs. 31 mins. at Aston Church, where the tenor weighs 21 cwt. In this peal the age of the oldest ringer was 28 and the youngest 20, and as showing that this feat did not entail any injurious effects on them, the former of these men, who rang the heaviest bell died in his 68th year, while the latter, who rang the next heaviest bell, lived until he completed his 81st year.

There are ringers who have the great ambition to assist in long peals. At no place has there been such an enterprising band of ringers as, some time ago, existed in Painswick, in Gloucestershire. At that place, at different times, they had held the lead for long-length ringing in several different systems; and, indeed, the lengths rung in Grandsire Caters and Treble Bob Maximus in 1817 and 1833 respectively have not yet (i.e., May, 1878) been surpassed. A few remarks concerning the first of these performances may be of interest. In 1816 the Painswick men rang 10,278 changes of Grandsire Caters, which length a rival society at Bristol soon after 'cut' by ringing a peal a few changes longer. Unwilling to be thus beaten, the Painswick men, in 1817, accomplished a peal of 12,312 changes in 7 hrs. 44 mins, which remains to the present date the longest length rung in this method by ten men only. The tenor at Painswick weighs 27 cwt.

Records of long peals at Painswick date back to 1735 when change-ringing must have been quite in its infancy. The Painswick men who rang these peals may therefore be said to have been born ringers. Their fathers before them were mostly ringers, and they themselves devoted much of their leisure time in practising this art.

It has been shown that Barham's comrades could muster in such an advanced stage of life that eight of them, who were able to ring, averaged 72 years; and, in the same manner, the ages to which the Painswick men who rang in the peal just described may be cited in favour of the beneficial effects of ringing. The only survivor of this band is Giles Mansfield, who now, at the age of 85 is alive and hearty; the other nine men died at the respective ages of 89, 87, 78, 80, 84, 50, 71, 70 and 85 years. These numbers, with the age of Mansfield, make an average of nearly 78 years for each man; and, if the age of the ringer who died at 50 be excepted, the average of the remaining 9 will be 82 years. As a warning to bachelors, it may be mentioned that the ringer who died at 50 was the only unmarried man amongst the band!

These examples will show that ringing may be classed as one of the most beneficial of exercises and may fitly be concluded by adding that the oldest ringer in England is Jonathan Pavier, who was born at South Hincksey, near Oxford on 31 May, 1779. He rang his first 5,000 in 1807, and in 1815 rang a peal of 10,008 of Grandsire Caters at New College, Oxford. Although he has now been blind for many years, he is otherwise in full possession of his faculties. (Who is the oldest ringer alive in (a) England, (b) Britain today? C.R.)

IMMANUEL CHURCH, OSWALDTWISTLE, NEAR ACCRINGTON

Easter Day, 12 April, 1878, new ring of six dedicated, cast by Taylors. The first 720, Plain Bob, was rung by the Ribchester Parish Ringers, B. Walton Treble . . . B. Walton, jnr. Tenor 'being a son of the old man who rung the treble and conducted the peal.'

WEAR-GIFFORD, near BIDEFORD, DEVON

Easter Monday, 22 April, 1878. Bells reopened after augmentation to six and complete rehanging by Messrs. Abbott & Co., of Bideford.

HOLY TRINITY, PRIVETT, HANTS.

24 April 1878.—Eight members of Ancient Society of College Youths had the honour of opening a new ring of 8 by Mears and Stainbank—5,043 Grandsire Triples—with two doubles in the last four leads, 2 hrs. 59 mins.

REIGATE PARISH CHURCH

27 April, 1878.—Eight members of Royal Cumberland Youths (late London Scholars) rang 5,040 Grandsire Triples, 3 hrs. 12 mins. the first peal since rehanging of bells by Gillett and Bland, Croydon.

GUILD FUNDS AND PAYMENT OF RINGERS

Rev. R. H. D. Ackland Troyte, assistant Curate of Porlock, set out his suggestion for a scheme for the administration of the funds of Ringing Guilds. This brought a reply from Rev. Walter B. Money, Curate of Weybridge, Surrey, which included 'Rather more than three years ago (about 1875) we were presented with a ring of 8 bells, and we had to draw up rules for the bell-ringers among whom I am proud to number myself. Our ringers are nearly all working men. We decided that they should be 12 in number . . . steady character and regular attendants at church . . . All money, whether derived from weddings, or subscriptions, or fines, shall be paid into a fund to be held by the treasurer. At the yearly meeting (in August) any member may draw his share which must not exceed £2. Any surplus at the end of the year shall be put into a reserve fund to aid members of the Guild or their families in case of need . . .

'Liverpool College Youth' disagreed very strongly. He asks why ringers should not be paid as well as the organist, choir, sexton, vergier, and the woman cleaner. At his church, he says, exclusive of practice, ringers have to ring—

52 Sundays, 2 services	104
Queen's Birthday, 3 peals	3
Accession, 3 peals	9
Coronation, 3 peals	9
Prince of Wales' Birthday, 3 peals	3
Old Year out and New Year in	2
Total	188

'If a merchant, tradesman, etc., employs anyone, a salary is fixed with, perhaps a possible something at the year's end. By payment at a fixed rate you have control over those you employ . . . as to what ringers do with their salary, it does not concern anyone but themselves . . . If this idea of expecting gratuitous service goes on much longer, all ringing will soon cease and we shall no longer hear that "England is the ringing island."

The Editor put a footnote agreeing that ringers should be paid as well as other officials of the church and adds 'As for firing or clashing the bells as a token of rejoicing, we hold it to be a barbarous custom and should not be allowed.'

Rev. Ackland Troyte comes back later saying that he thinks that ringers should be paid at once from the Guild funds for time lost from their work . . . 2s. 6d. or 3s. or whatever they like to those who give up their day's work for ringing. He also reminds 'Liverpool College Youth' that most of the church officials (organist, choir and ringers) in country parishes are volunteers. 'We get for them what we can by offertories and contributions . . . but if it was found impossible to get any funds at all . . . I do not believe that even then the services would be without music or the iron tongues of the steeple silent.'

'Treble Bob' wrote, 'It is quite impossible to pay for the time spent in learning to ring properly. Fifty pounds a man would not be too much to repay every member of a company for the time necessarily given to become a fair change-ringer. I believe change-ringing is nearly always done by volunteers. In old-fashioned places the introduction of half-pull ringing is looked upon with disfavour because it gives the bells a new sound . . . The children in this village (name not mentioned, C.R.) say the bells go "Ding, Dong, Alarum, Boom." So they do, rung by the village ringers. The treble is high-pitched, the second rung wide and the tenor too deep for the others . . . The best way to pay ringers is by kindness, instruction and lose nothing by it—no immediate pay-work, and thus helping them to better thoughts and better things. To pay men worth having to ring is nearly impossible . . .

Rev. Money returns with ' . . . ringers such as gardeners, etc., can get away from work and lose nothing by it.—no immediate payment for them.

W. Wigram asks: 'Do cricketers get their ground, their pavilion, bats, stumps, etc., for nothing? Is a cricketer paid unless he be a professional and acting under the orders of those who do pay him? . . . There are some ringers who look for what is aptly called "encouragement" . . . If in money, let it come in lump sums, not in dribbles. I think the proposal to help a ringer in illness out of a bell fund is a mistake. That is the work of a benefit club . . .

'Treble Bob' returns—'The only days on which ringers should be ordered to ring are wedding days, and for these they expect to, and do, receive payment. For church festivals they should ring without pay . . . I do not call a man a ringer who slashes a bell about and then goes begging. The true ringer is a clever man and a volunteer.'

'A well known ringer' writes, ' . . . Where ringers get the best pay most of the evils that we deplore are most rampant, where there is no week-night practice and no attempt to teach young ringers.'

'A country ringer' asks, 'At how many churches would there be ringing on a Queen's Birthday if there was no pay? Is there one ringer in London who would leave his work for 1s. 6d. (the 1s. 6d.=½ day's pay at 18s. per week)? How is it that there are so few peals of 5,000 rung on that day? Every man, if he leave his work to ring at the request of others, ought to receive not less than 5s., no matter whether 6 or 12 bells. Ringers in the West of England never think of pay for Easter, Whitsun, Harvest thanksgiving and other days, but for days called "State Days" let them receive 5s. a bell and for weddings what is usually given.'

OTLEY, SUFFOLK

A new treble, the wedding gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woolmer, of Stoke-upon-Trent, has been added to the old ring of five, making a very musical six. The bell-opening took place 3 May, 1878. The new bell, by Warners, was hung by Days of Eye. It weighs 4 cwt. 2 qrs. 16 lbs. Tenor G sharp. 11½ cwt., cast by Stephen Tonne, Bury St. Edmund's, 1576. There is probably no village in the country which has more rings of bells round it than Otley . . . Surely this ought to be an inducement for the resident gentry and clergy to encourage the art of change-ringing as much as possible. . . .

We are indebted to Mr. Christopher Dalton for this photograph of St. John the Baptist Church, King's Norton-by-Gaulby, Leics. This church has been prominent in our correspondence columns. The first peal rung here was on May 28th, 1776. A reader comments: 'Peals rung on these glorious toned bells are earned; they are not kids' stuff.'

MR. LEONARD DERRICK'S

Mr. Leonard Derrick, the well known Nailsea ringer, has completed his 100 peals, his first being rung before the war at Barrow Gurney, Somerset. Of his 100, 76 were rung for the Bath and Wells Association, 15 the Gloucester and Bristol Association, six the Ancient Society of College Youths, two the Devon Guild and one Llandaff and Monmouth Associations. AN EVENING OF QUARTERS

Sixteen ringers set out from Luppitt on Dec. 1st to cross the Blackdown Hills and ring quarter peals simultaneously in three adjoining villages in the Vale of Taunton. It nearly succeeded. A second attempt was necessary at Pitminster, where ropes slipping wheels caused an early breakdown. The reverberation of the heavy six at West Buckland caused the conductor's downfall and again a second attempt was necessary. A shaky start was made at Angersleigh, but ringing improved. Mr. E. Broom of Curry Rivel joined the party. Details of quarters:—

Pitminster.—1,260 Grandsire Doubles: D. E. Thorne 1, A. W. Sage 2, Miss Barnard 3, E. W. Broom (cond.) 4, L. Marke 5, W. Broom 6. West Buckland.—1,260 Grandsire Doubles: P. Thorpe 1, I. Broom 2, A. Churchill 4, F. J. Sage (cond.) 5. First on five bells 1, 2 and 4.

LADIES' GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the Western District was held at Beckington, Somerset, on December 12th. A very warm welcome was extended by the Rector, the Rev. W. T. H. B. Davies, and by Mr. Fear, the local tower captain, while the warmth of the church on a rather raw and damp day was also very welcome.

The Rector conducted a short choral service, which was followed by a sumptuous tea in the Church Hall, prepared by Mrs. Randall and some of the youthful lady members of the Beckington band.

At the business meeting it was decided to try and hold the annual meeting at Stapleton and to hold a practice meeting in the Bath area during February.

Two new members were elected—Miss Margaret Taylor and Miss Margaret Hayns, both from St. James', Bristol.

Ringing during the afternoon and evening ranged from rounds and call changes to Cambridge Major. M. de J.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Miss Shelagh R. Collins has accepted an appointment at King's Lynn Technical College and will be leaving Kettering early in January.

A quarter peal was rung at Cuddesdon on December 12th as a farewell to four ordinands, one of whom is going to Kimberley, South Africa. Few theological colleges have closer links with its Diocesan Guild than Cuddesdon.

Mr. John E. Metcalfe, of Shepton Mallet, steered four newcomers to our columns through their first quarter peal at Wanstrow, Somerset. It is a long time since a quarter peal was rung on this six with a 10 cwt. tenor.

Congratulations to Miss Vanessa C. A. Rodrigues, one of the bright stars of the Wimbleton towers' quarter peal enthusiasts, who has been awarded the Belby Scholarship at Somerville College, Oxford. Vanessa is a student at St. Paul's Girls' School.

We are asked to make a correction in the quarter peal rung at Easthampstead, Berks, for Sir Winston Churchill's 90th birthday. Sir Winston and others interested should know that there were 36 more changes of Cambridge Surprise Minor (1,296) rung than published on page 851.

The Editor is awaiting an inquiry from a reader concerning a line block of a church with a square tower. No name accompanied the block, and while a watchful eye has been kept on copy, in an endeavour to find a clue, the Editor is still baffled. Is there a story to go with the block?—the church certainly looks interesting.

Mr. W. J. Beeching, of Ruckinge, Ashford, Kent, writes that the bells of Newchurch Parish Church, Romney Marsh, have recently been inspected by a tower adviser with a view to making the five ringable. Four of the bells were cast by John Welmer and dated 1637. The expert informed us that in all his work among church bells he had never before come across any cast by John Welmer. Can any reader give an indication of the extent of his work and where his foundry was established?

Three Half-Centuries From Frome

A peal of distinction was rung at Frome on December 12th to celebrate a total of 150 years of ringing service by the three senior members of the tower—Donald Flower, William Mills and Percy Bray (or Uncle Perce as he is affectionately called). Five of the local band participated in the peal but the whole band extend their heartfelt congratulations and thanks to the trio for their long period of faithful service and look forward to many more years of their company.

Survived Accident

The three are regular members of the Sunday service band and, although Don Flower has, only temporarily we hope, to avoid long legins owing to a back injury, both Bill Mills and Uncle Perce frequently ring in quarter peals on the rather heavy bells at Frome. It was feared at one time that Uncle Perce would have to retire from active ringing after a serious accident some years ago, which resulted in a broken hip bone. Despite his age, he made a marvellous recovery and is once again very active.

Never Too Late to Start

Mr. W. F. Gladinan, who learned to ring in 1910 at Studnam, has just rung his first peal—at Totternhoe, Bedfordshire. He owes his reintroduction to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sinfield. The peal was rung as a compliment to Mr. R. J. Scott, who has completed 40 years as a ringer at Totternhoe.

The Right Spirit

Comments one of our faithful subscribers in sending 10s. to meet the increase in price operative from January 1st: 'I hasten to forward the forthcoming increase in price and postage. I have said many times it is cheap at twice the price. Our meetings, peals and correspondence: one can say almost what one likes, providing it is not nasty.' What more could anyone want?

Kept the Bells Ringing in 1914

Mrs. Marie Cross writes recalling that her mother learned to ring 50 years ago during World War I. A list of those who came forward to 'man' the bells during the 1914-18 war and are still ringing would make an interesting record for the Ladies' Guild.

Whose Greeting and Blessing?

The Editor is accustomed to having to deal with omissions from peal reports. It was a new experience to receive a Christmas card portraying the shepherds and the Holy Babe from a design by Clare Dawson, without the name of the sender. At any rate, the blessing conveyed by the card is much valued.

A New Field After 1,000 Peals

With a well known Spliced Surprise ringer standing behind him, the Ringing Master of the Leatherhead District and a 1,000th pealer rang his first course of Bristol at the recent meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. Is 'Cannon' Surprise at last losing ground?

Personal Peal Totals for 1964

The individual peal totals for 1964 are to be of a more comprehensive character than hitherto and are being compiled by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taylor, of 15, Greenacre Road, Whitchurch, Bristol.

The following information relating to 1964 will be given:

- (a) Total number of peal ringers.
- (b) Number of composers whose compositions have been rung.
- (c) List of leading composers indicating the number of times their compositions have been rung.

- (d) List of leading peal ringers giving (1) Peals rung, (2) Peals conducted, (3) Tenors turned-in, (4) Handbell peals rung, (5) Tenors turned-in whilst conducting, (6) Handbell peals rung whilst conducting.

The list of leading ringers will be published separately for tower and handbells and not combined.

While Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have been meticulous about accuracy difficulties do arise when peals are withdrawn or duplicates are published, also when people allow their names to be published in non-standard forms, have duplicate names or change their names. They ask peal ringers to co-operate by sending totals of tower- and handbell peals rung to the above address.

In co-operation with the Editor, it has been agreed that only peals published by January 29th, 1965, will be included in the analysis.

In Quest of Duke's Award

A quarter peal in five months from scratch! Such is the promising start made by Sheila Gibbs, a young lady at Kingston-upon-Thames, who has 'trebled' a quarter of Bob Minor. Sheila, intent upon the comparatively difficult first hurdle of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award, is showing just as much initiative and competence in handbell ringing too. Already she is ringing an 'inside' pair to Bob Major with a skill that belies her short apprenticeship.

Have Readers a Lack of Interest?

We cannot subscribe to the view expressed by 'Cornishman' that, a largish number of people take 'The Ringing World' to support the paper rather than for any general interest. Our experience is that few journals are so carefully scrutinised, as 'The Ringing World.' It is true that technical articles have only a limited appeal, but then we are a technical paper and have responsibilities in that direction.

Greeting

My first is in chime but not in ring,
My second in chant but not in sing,
My third is in clapper but not in flight,
My fourth in rope but not in sight,
My fifth is in belfry but not in steeple,
My sixth in parson but not in people,
My seventh's in headstock but not in crown,
My eighth in lower and also in down,
My ninth is in foundry but not in cast,
My tenth in cover but not in last,
My eleventh's in peal but not in touch,
My twelfth in grab but not in clutch.
MY WHOLE IS A GREETING TO RICH AND POOR,
A THREE-WORDED MESSAGE (FIVE,
THREE, FOUR), S. R. C.

Leonard Derrick

The congratulations of a wide circle of friends will be extended to Mr. Leonard Derrick, who for many years has been in charge of Nailsea tower. He can truly be regarded as one of those constituting the salt of the Exercise—his enthusiasm inspires all and is infectious. One of his chief assets is his willingness to go anywhere and ring anything, and he is never happier than when joining in an outing amongst the fives and sixes of Somerset. His knowledge of the bells of his native county and the work of the various founders is most extensive.

Famous Tenors

His first peal was ringing the sixth to Holt's Original at Barrow Gurney, Somerset, conducted by Ernest Stitch. His pre-war peals include Stedman Caters at the blitzed Church of St. Nicholas, Bristol, and at SS. Philip and Jacob's for the 1937 Coronation. Both peals were conducted by Jack Brown, whose retirement as tower captain of SS. Philip and Jacob's was announced recently. When the ban was lifted after the war he took part in a number of peals—the first 12 bell peal for the Llandaff and Monmouth Association in 1948 and in ringing tenors at Wrington, St. Mary Redcliffe and Buckfast Abbey, and in sharing the job at Exeter and Wells Cathedral. Of his peals 76 have been rung for the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association and six for the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Indomitable Spirit

Leonard had a serious illness in 1959, but a miracle of surgery and his indomitable spirit allowed him to ring again. His 100th peal was rung at Chew Magna, conducted by the Rev. R. O. Fry, and was an in memoriam peal to Major John H. B. Hesse. His friends wish him all success in the future in his efforts towards the next 100. His list appears on another page.

Staunton Harold Bells

Mr. Christopher Dalton, of Leigh, near Reigate, inquires who has banned the ringing of Staunton Harold, Leics, bells. The chapel, he states, unlike the hall, is in the unusual position of belonging to the National Trust, which fully restored it some years ago.

Bells—A Museum Feature

In Brighton museum, this year's December exhibition is called 'Christmas Bells.' Designed to mark the 80th anniversary of the Sussex County Association, it will remain open until January 30th. By means of models, it shows a foundry and a tower installation; the theory and practice of ringing is described, and the story of the spread of the art is vividly illustrated by large scale maps of the World, the British Isles, and the County. Further cases portray the national and regional organisations, ringing newspapers, etc. Books on show cover many different facets of the subjects, and some cartoons are happily included to attract the casual visitor. The whole has been made possible by loans from members of the Sussex Association. Mr. Victor Sheppard would be pleased to learn if any aspects of ringing have been the subject of a museum display before.

THE RIGHT ATTITUDE

By T. A. BEVIS

SOMEONE once said, 'A clergyman rings the changes in oral fashion; but the ringer has the loudest voice.' This evangelistic merit is shared by the man who talks to an assembly and by the man who pulls a rope, both reminding those without and within the Church of their obedience to God. An incumbent voicing exhortations from a pulpit and bells ringing high above the aisles ought to be equally representative of harmony and well-being within the Church. It is to be expected that a majority of bellringing teams are on cordial terms with the clergy, yet it is a disturbing fact that there are instances where the two mediums of communication are poles apart.

Clergymen, of course, are able to influence their flock not merely with reasoning, but with appropriate deeds. Bells are partly traditional. Cold at heart they are nevertheless possessed with a mystical, vibratant appeal, able at distances to apply a finger to the conscience, to move to tears, to gladden hearts and to promote a sudden surge of memories. We are all aware how the spirit itself is affected by the music of bells. Of all the many arteries in the life of the Church the bell is the pace-maker and the voice of them all.

Recently a number of clergymen were confidentially invited to give their general feelings concerning Sunday service bellringing activities.

One, a Canon, wrote that the public on the whole liked the bells, but he felt that ringers should be part of Church life, not a group of people who use the tower for their own craft.

Another incumbent stated that the bells are appreciated on Sundays and tolerated on weekdays. He is pleased to have ringers of the right type and anxious that the bells be rung. Concluding, the Rector wrote: 'Recently I closed the tower for some weeks as it was obviously being used on weekdays for amusement and bells were rarely heard on Sundays. This policy had a good effect. Those who now ring—though less experienced—are all regular worshippers . . .

'It distresses me,' wrote another, 'to see one or two ringers leave the church just before the service begins. But I prefer to turn a blind eye to this. Young people are not easily recruited. One of our ringers is a sidesman and serves on the P.C.C., but the others show no interest in the church's commitments or its social activities.'

A Vicar wrote that he was unfortunate in having only one bell ' . . . but my father had a battle of wits over the departure of ringers before service time. He tried reasoning with them, but to no avail. Finally he had the exterior turret entrance bricked up hoping that the proper and expected manner. Alas, it had the reverse effect. The bells were silent for many years. It was a great lesson to him.'

'The old office of blessing bells gives us the best conception of the ideal to set before ringers,' quoted one gentleman, who added that the Reformation brought about a complete change of purpose for the bell. 'It lost its intimate appeal. It was no longer a member of the ordinary family who came to rely upon it as we rely upon our clocks. Indeed the belfry by and by ceased to become part of the church. Practice night became club night. It has been known for some ringers of long ago to invite their friends into the ringing chamber and indulge in smoking and drinking.

'That sort of thing does not happen now,' wrote the Vicar, 'but I do feel that a lot of ringers tend to be stand-offish . . . unwilling to enter more fully into the life of the Church.'

'Of course, few people appreciate that a great many ringers attend church on Sundays for a period of between two and four hours, depending on whether they stay at all services. The greater part of their service to God is carried out an hour before a service begins,' explained a Rector, who wrote that he preferred them to stay, yet he considered that attending one service and ringing for another is fair enough.

A happier note is sounded by the clergyman who feels that ringers are 'polite, orderly, pleasant, fairly regular churchgoers (some very regular). They enjoy a pleasant, entertaining craft. Life would be less interesting without them and their craft.'

Other questionnaires contained similar expressions, the chief complaint it would seem being the tendency of some ringers to 'ring and run away.' Whether this practice is right or wrong according to the circumstances, is one thing. But it should be remembered that a ringer leaving church while the singing of the first hymn is in progress can very easily leave a bad impression with church officers and congregations; an impression which may well tarnish the well-meaning intentions of the rest of the team. It is really a matter of the conscience which is often ruled by extenuating circumstances.

Generally the clergy are happy to let ringers pursue their craft without too much interference—a term loosely applied. Yet often this attitude, this apparent lack of interest, is misinterpreted by ringers as indifferent.

The old refrain still remains: 'The parson is more concerned with his choir!' That attitude is the first step towards converting a tower into a fortress. Without the valued influence of a sympathetic clergyman, the belfry is the only organisation which can be almost completely isolated from Church life—and still survive. It loses its

THE WORLD'S COLDEST RING OF BELLS

RINGERS in general seem particularly prone to claiming records of various types. We read regularly in these columns of record peals, of quickest peals, of peals rung on the highest eight, and the like. Christ Church, Calgary, Canada, has not yet entered these contests, but we feel we can definitely establish claim to having (at times) the coldest ring of bells in the world. On a recent Sunday morning, when we were ringing for morning service, the thermometer stood at 24° F., or 56° F. of frost (-36° C.). At temperatures like this, the bells are virtually unringable, the grease in the bearings having become so thick. On these occasions all we can manage are very ill-struck rounds. The writer found that 5 minutes on a 3½ cwt. treble to be far more exhausting than much longer spells in a bell of ten times the size.

On December 20th last it was most unfortunate that we should be afflicted by this sub-zero weather, since before morning service on that day, the Rector, Archdeacon G. H. Dowker, dedicated a bronze plaque in the church listing the bells. This was unveiled by His Honour Judge E. R. Tavender, captain of the ringers. We had a full complement of ringers present but the bells themselves did not co-operate, and it was not the most joyful sound that was emitted from the tower. It was suggested that we should claim that we had been firing the bells to mark the occasion, but we did not think we should deceive anyone for very long.

This event marked the climax to what had proved to be a most active year in this tower. Our visitors' book shows that we were favoured with more visitors in 1964 than in all the previous years put together since the book was started. This influx was started on Easter Sunday by Bill Court of Liverpool, who was on a year's sabbatical leave at the University of Saskatoon. Bill's visit enabled us to score what was believed to be the first quarter peal on the bells. Also during the summer we were joined at various times by Miss Lynne Holmes of London, Miss Susan Jackson of Vancouver, and also Miss Jennifer Murphy of Melbourne, Australia. We were very sorry to miss another young lady from London, who was here during August at a time when there was no ringing. If only we had known she was around we should have been delighted to have laid on something. Our final visitor of the year was Jeff White of Vancouver, who was here early in December. The year also saw a party of eight ringers from Vancouver in our tower.

The band here now numbers 10 regular attenders, plus two learners (twin sisters from Sydney, Australia). We are now making good headway unravelling the mysteries of Plain Bob, and are hoping for yet more visitors during 1965 to assist us in this task.

We have big plans for 1965. In particular a Ringing Festival, dare we call it a North American Ringing Festival, over May 22nd-23rd week-end. Would anybody interested please get in touch with the undersigned?—J. M. Simpson, 921, 18th Avenue, S.W., Calgary, Alta., Canada.

LAUNTON HANDBELL RINGERS

The Launton handbell ringers have had their usual pre-Christmas quota of engagements, with recitals almost every night for the past three weeks. Our photograph shows them playing carols in the Church of the American Air Force Base at Heyford, where a recital of traditional and popular carols, mediæval and foreign carols, and traditional Christmas hymns was much appreciated by a crowded congregation. Some of the carols were sung to the accompaniment of the bells.

The ringers were (left to right): Richard Lee, descant bells; Edward Evans, 1st trebles; Margaret Winning, 2nd trebles; Susan Dodds, 3rd trebles; Elizabeth Sharpe, 1st altos; Janet Blackman, descant bells; Mary Lee, 2nd altos; Patrick Steeples, tenor bells; Peter Allen, bass bells; Frederick Sharpe, Bourdon bells. The photograph was taken at the end of the first bar of the third line of the well known carol 'Good King Wenceslas.'

Seventy-six bells dating from circa 1680 to the present day were used in the recital, and a tape recording of it was flown to America the following day and played the same evening to an American audience.

Enthusiasm and Grit get Bells Ringing Again

THE six bells at St. Margaret's, Norton Subcourse, Norfolk, were rededicated on December 12th at an impressive service attended by a congregation of 200, including over 60 ringers from Norfolk, Suffolk, Wisbech (Cams), Spalding (Lincs) and London.

The bells have been quarter turned, retuned and hung in a steel frame, with completely new fittings, the contract having been carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., who have made a first class job. Building work included a strengthening concrete ring beam for the frame to rest on and a new floor under the bells. The ringers themselves decorated and replastered a section of the ringing chamber.

Under the leadership of Mr. Godfrey Walpole, Ringing Master, the ringers have been intensively raising money for the work since 1958. Funds have been raised in all sorts of ways: bingo sessions produced £211; collecting waste paper £127; handbell ringing £154. The estimated cost was £1,170, but another £300 is required to meet additional expenditure.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Alan Glendining, Rector of the Raveningham Group, and the lessons were read by Mr. Nolan Golden, president of the Norwich Diocesan Association, and Mr. James Forder, a ringer of Norton, the second. The dedication of the bells was performed by the Rural Dean, the Rev. K. M. Lewis, and the opening rounds were rung by the local company—Messrs. A. I. Walpole T. J. W. Forder 2, B. Barber 3, N. P. J. Cossey 4, G. G. Walpole 5, A. E. Long 6. Two ringers' hymns were included in the service, and also the ringers' collect.

After rededicating the bells, the Rural Dean dedicated two gifts to the church—a visitors' book for the use of ringers given by Mr. Norman P. J. Cossey, and an oak table for the book presented by Mr. David Fenn, who rang at Norton for half a century before retiring.

A DEDICATED HOBBY

In his address, the Rural Dean said ringers undertook a great work in the name of God and he exhorted them ever to regard it as such. Ringing might be a hobby, but it went beyond all that, for it was a dedicated hobby. Indeed, those taking part were ever seeking to prove and reach out for perfection.

In a reference to the two old bells, cast in 1620 and 1622 by William Brend, of Norwich, the Rural Dean said when these were cast men were nearer to God than today. Much of the work then was done to the glory of God. He hoped that the sound of Norton bells would not only call men to worship, as in the days gone by, but call them back to God.

After the service the bells were rung and tea served by the Mothers' Union. In a speech Mr. Albert Walpole referred to the £127 raised by the ringers by the sale of waste paper and said they were going to continue the drive to help to find the money still needed. For four years Mr. Douglas Lanham had been going round the district with his barrow collecting paper, and in appreciation Mr. Walpole presented him with vouchers for £7 for the purchase of premium bonds. Thanks were also accorded to Mr. L. Grice, of Raveningham, for giving new ladders for the tower.

The popular Friday night practices have now been resumed. Sunday ringing is from 6 to 6.30 p.m., when all visitors are most welcome.

RAYLEIGH, ESSEX.—On Dec. 20th, 1,250 Little Grandsire Triples: Ann Goddard 1, M. Hallett 2, T. Jones 3, F. May 4, M. Carter 5, D. Belcham 6, A House (cond.) 7, W. Ward 8. Rung for Evening-song, to mark the 8th anniversary of the induction of the Rector (Rev. G. W. Hatch).

A TOUCH OF OLD ENGLAND AND ITS CHURCH

PLUCKLEY, 1552-1964

By Nicholas J. Davies

THROUGHOUT many parts of our country—side the adventurous traveller may often come across quiet corners of long lost old England, and well may he delight if he roams among the wooded Kentish country between Ashford and Maidstone. He will be especially lucky if he happens to visit the little village of Pluckley—lucky because unless he has a good map he stands little chance of finding it (there are precious few signposts), and equally lucky because he will be rewarded by a charming place with a fascinating history, that has happily avoided the hands of modernisers and developers.

Lying as it does near an ancient Saxon track, a mere six miles from the busy centre of Ashford, the parish is well endowed with steep, wooded approaches, attractive paths and twisty lanes. The view of the 13th century lichen-covered church, snugly embowered among oaks, a few old houses and an inn, contrasting with the lush greens and browns of the rich countryside, provides one of those increasingly rare sights to satisfy the aesthetic mind.

Until as recently as 1928 the names Pluckley and Dering were synonymous in these parts. The Dering family, which claimed descent from Saxon days, held their seat at Pluckley for nearly 900 years, the last 500 of which were at Surrenden, a magnificent, mellowed manor house about a mile from the village. As may be expected, the little church, with its low west tower and shingled spire, owes much of its present beauty to the loving care bestowed on it by countless generations of Derings, and boasts an impressive gallery of family brasses dating from 1405 to 1607. It is thus strange that the early history of the bells of Pluckley lies largely shrouded within the realms of obscurity and conjecture.

The first definite mention of bells is in 1552, when an Inventory of Church Goods records the presence of five bells and a sanctus bell. This seems an unusually large number for a small church, but they may well have been the gift of one of the Derings (e.g., Richard, who in 1475 erected new rood screens and supervised other unspecified work in the church).

JOSEPH HATCH

There is no further definite mention of bell work for three centuries, but it would be reasonable to suppose that major or minor repairs were undertaken during this time. Thus in 1634 more unspecified church repairs were carried out, some of which may have concerned the bells. In such circumstances the work would almost certainly have been entrusted to Joseph Hatch, the celebrated local bellfounder, whose bells still ring out from nearly 40 Kentish steeples, and who cast rings for the nearby towers of Egerton (1602), Hothfield (1607), Charing (1608) and Boughton Malherbie (1624): Hatch's foundry at Ulcombe was barely five miles west of Pluckley. This was in the days of Sir Edward Dering, a great Man of Kent, but a man of both sides, wanting reform but not quite a Puritan, seeking peace with the King but not quite a Royalist. It was soon after he rebuilt Surrenden that the House of Commons burnt his speeches and sent him to the Tower, where at last, after much poverty and suffering, he died craving for the peace that never came. His body, however, was brought back to the church that he loved, and he now sleeps in the Dering chapel.

RECAST

Late in 1852 it was decided that a complete restoration of the tower should be carried out, and the five bells were sent to the Whitechapel foundry, at that time under the management of C. and G. Mears, where their weights were found to be: Treble 7-0-25, 2nd 8-1-13, 3rd 11-1-2, 4th 13-1-16, Tenor 14-2-3. The tenor was apparently too thin and light for the other bells, and it was decided to recast the whole ring into six. The new ring (tenor 13-3-21 in F) arrived back at the church in June, 1853, where they were rehung in new fittings in the old frame, which was repaired and modified to accommodate the augmented ring. The sum of £145 for this work was met by subscription and rate, the chief donor being Sir Edward C. Dering, whose name appeared on the new bells.

We have to wait nearly another century before any further work was done to the bells. In the meantime, they had never gained the reputation of being an easy ring, and the writer has found no evidence of a regular local band at this period. Indeed, the fact that no peal had been attempted here (whereas nearly all the local towers had been pealed by 1947) reflects the difficult conditions that were present. In 1947 it was again proposed to restore the bells, but the affluent dynasty of the Derings was over and it was a hard task for a small village, still recovering from the ravages of war, to raise money. However, some funds were forthcoming, but only enough to pay for new fittings to the bells and a long-overdue rope guide.

There is no doubt that the go and handling of the bells was improved and a local band was trained, which later joined the K.C.A.C.R. However, it was not long after the institution of regular ringing that the old frame, which had probably seen the best part of two or three centuries, began to show signs that it was coming to the end of its useful days; this appeared to be due to insufficient bracing and unsatisfactory anchorage of the frame in the tower.

UNMELODIOUS

The writer's first experience of the bells was in 1959, shortly before ringing was stopped. Many ringers will, perhaps, remember the bells as they were then, an unmelodious ground-floor ring, which were too noisy outside, and, with the exception of the 4th, rather too quiet inside the tower. To ring the tenor, one had to climb over a pile of boiler fuel, while the treble ringer was wedged under the belfry staircase. The poor go of the bells, which were hung anti-clockwise, was accentuated by the long rope-draught, and the frightening cacophony of rumblings and groanings from above that accompanied ringing. It was thus remarkable that, under these conditions, Mr. A. Waddington, of Egerton, called a quarter peal of Minor, the only quarter ever recorded on the bells.

Expert opinion was again called in, and an examination of the frame while the bells were being rung showed that the movement was now so great that it was having a battering-ram effect upon the tower walls, which were cracking and crumbling under the strain.

Thus once again the bells were silenced, and the parish was faced with raising £3,500 for complete restoration of tower and bells. The villagers, under the inspiration and zeal of the then Rector, Rev. Mr. Luckhurst, himself a ringer, made a tremendous effort by organising dances, sales and other activities. Gradually the funds increased, and an order was placed with the Whitechapel Foundry, who removed the bells in January of this year.

Meanwhile the tower was strengthened, the interior restored and a new ringing floor erected: the bells came back in October, when they were rehung in a new metal framework by Mr. Harry Parkes. Some of the fittings supplied in 1947 were found suitable for further use, and were accordingly re-employed, at a beneficial saving to the parish.

DEDICATION

The day for the rededication was finally fixed for November 12th, and, in the presence of a large congregation of villagers and ringers, this was carried out by Dr. Alfred Rose (retired Bishop of Dover), the service being conducted by the Rector, Rev. J. L. Pittock. Ringing for the service was carried out by the newly-trained local band, and everyone had an opportunity to sample the bells afterwards.

The character of the ringing has now been completely changed. Careful retuning has produced an unexpectedly rich tone from the bells (the tenor now weighs 12-3-25), the 'go' is excellent now that new framework has been installed and the rope draught is perfect from the new floor. The bells are quieter and well balanced outside the tower, but the acoustics inside, although good, are marred by the 2nd bell sounding muffled at handstroke. It is hoped, however, that this minor defect will be rectified when the remainder of the work inside the tower is completed.

FIRST PEAL

On December 5th six members of the K.C.A. were privileged to attempt the first peal on the bells. Appropriately, the band included Messrs. A. Waddington and C. T. Hillis, both of whom took part in the original quarter peal on the bells, and was conducted by the latter, who is District Secretary of the Ashford District of the Association. Seven methods were rung, and, after one or two initial uncertainties in the Cambridge, the band settled down and enjoyed some very good ringing. An amusing diversion was caused when an electrical heater behind the conductor suddenly switched itself on and got extremely hot. Its involuntary action was later attributed to the off peak electricity supply, so future peal bands, please note!

Thus, we come to the end of the past history of Pluckley bells, but the story of Pluckley will continue regardless of time. The bells which summoned countless generations of Derings and villagers will once again summon ringers and non-ringers alike up the straggling hill to this enchanting place, and the church will once again be put on the map. An Anarchist and His Peals

Dear Sir,—In reply to N. Mallet (page 848) may I say that during the year I have been pleased to witness the rising number of Non-Association peals and have been responsible for three, for reasons I hope to make clear.

These peals were rung at Whitsun—one in Essex and two in Cambridgeshire. In the first case there was but one member of the E.A. with us and he alone did not constitute the necessary number to 'vote in the remainder of the band previous to starting for the attempt' (as the usual phraseology has it). In the second case, three of us were members of the Hertford County Association, but did not feel like forking out tanners for the hooking fee, and being a long way out of Herts, and... anyway I don't want to read all my peals twice over. Finally, having already rung two N.-A. peals, we thought of following R. G. Leale's excellent (I.R.A.) precedent and forming a Cambridgeshire Guild or something of the sort; however, we decided to follow our own precedent of the previous day's and make all three N.-A.

When you come to think of it, we were kind to those Associations who do not levy a peal fee, since we were not filling up their reports for them, and if they don't, for some reasons, charge a fee who is Norman Mallet to demand they should? I am no enemy of any Guild or Association; on the contrary, at present I pay resident's subs to no less than five and am non-resident life in about a dozen others!

There are many good people in Associations and Guilds doing plenty of splendid work, and there are the others. This summer I wrote to a well known member of the C.C. and a high-up in 'his' Association asking (not very hopefully, I admit) for the use of 'his' bells for a peal attempt. The reply (I suppose I was fortunate to get even this) was in the form of my own letter returned with a line drawn through it and the following inscribed thereon: 'Not a hope—we need the bells rehanging,' and on the reverse, the legend: 'The local band is quite capable of ringing any peal required'—a fact of which I have no doubt, but does his eminence have to be downright ill-mannered? Such behaviour does not dispose of me favourably towards either the C.C. or the Association. However, it is lucky I have (still, I hope) many good friends in both who counter these ill-effects.

Here's to 1965 and a record number of N.-A. peals.—Yours, etc.,

ANARCHIST.

P.S.—I imagine Mr. Mallet means 'territorial' where he puts 'geographical'?—Anarchist.

Long Length Notice

Dear Sir,—I give notice of an attempt to ring 11,520 London Surprise Minor at Cadoxton-juxta-Neath, Glamorgan, on Saturday, January 16th, 1965, commencing at 2 p.m. The peal, if successful, will be credited to the Swansea and Brecon D.G.—Yours faithfully,

BRIAN J. WOODRUFFE.

Swansea, Glamorgan.

More about Mickleton

I was interested to see the note on Mickleton (Belfry Gossip, page 852). Mickleton is, in actual fact, listed in the current Gloucester Diocese Handbook, 1964-5, and is in the Rural Deanery of Campden, and so cannot be in the Coventry Diocese. The tower is in the area covered by the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, although, as your correspondent rightly says, affiliated to the Worcestershire and Districts Association.

Both the county and diocesan boundaries in this area are very confusing—the Cheltenham Branch extends as far as Clifford Chambers, which is literally on the doorstep of Stratford-on-Avon. Anyone can be forgiven for making a mistake.—Yours faithfully,

E. MARY BLISS.

Cheltenham.

Rules for Outings

Dear Sir,—As one connected with arranging one-day outings for nearly 30 years, I would like to reply to Mr. Maybrey's excellent letter.

(1.) This is very difficult when some towers are unknown and perhaps 60 miles away; local conditions often play havoc with well planned timetables.

I would add 4 and 5:—

(4.) If you arrive late at a tower be sure to leave on time.

(5.) A well planned outing can be spoiled by having more ringers than can be properly catered for. Ringing I mean.

As for a, b, c, d and e, I would like to point out that any ringer who has never heard of the C.C. can write for the use of bells and arrange outings at will; unfortunately however bad the ringing is they probably never wish to visit any tower again.

Next week the Wisbech District of the Ely Association will be arranging its 20th annual outing since the war, and except for augmentations and rehappings of nearly 150 towers visited, I only remember visiting one tower twice.

On an outing yesterday (Boxing Day), the weather did its best to make us break all the rules, meeting at the first church at the time we should have been leaving. However by shortening our ringing times we rang at all towers arranged.

We should have rung at Eye, in Suffolk, for 45 minutes. This was reduced to about 30 minutes. On descending the tower the Vicar was waiting at the foot of the stairs and was very disappointed we were leaving so soon. To quote his own words: 'Just when I get some experts to ring my bells you run away as we are enjoying them, and to think of all the bad ringing we have to put up with and can't get rid of them for an hour.'

I would like to take this opportunity to wish all ringers, known and unknown, a happy and prosperous New Year and good hunting.—Yours faithfully,

E. H. MASTIN.

Downham Market.

P.S.—By no means experts, our last touch was three leads of Kent Major at Eye, which sounded very nice, but what impressed the Vicar was the raise and fall in peal.—E. H. M.

Dear Sir,—I read with interest Mr. Maybrey's letter (R.W. Dec. 25th). Recently a party of ringers from Leeds asked at very short notice for permission to ring at Clapham Park. I waited 40 minutes and two ringers appeared. Since then I have not heard a word.

I write in the hope that those concerned may see this. I myself organise outings and if people behave in this manner there will soon be no towers open for ringing outings. Other bands of ringers visiting London are always most welcome—and the bells are very good. My address is 152, Brudenell Road, S.W.17.—Yours faithfully,

TONY CLAYTON.

A GREAT BADDOW 'FIRST'

As December 5th, according to the Ringers' Diary, appeared to have nothing to commemorate, it was decided to remedy this and arrange the first ever Great Baddow ringing afternoon.

The party consisted of the local band and ringers who regularly practise at the tower and was split up into four car loads, each to make its own way to the various towers.

Some very good ringing was enjoyed, together with some quite unusual compositions to Plain Bob and Grandsire. Tea was a source of some hilarity, the cause of which remained (we hope) blissfully unaware of her contribution.

Towers visited were Felstead, Great Dunmow, Great Easton, and Thaxted, and thanks are due to the incumbents and ringers.

Great Adventure II

Dear Sir,—The tour to Australia is now programmed so that the air-party will arrive in Perth in the early hours of either Tues., 7th, or Thurs., September 9th, 1965. After a stay for a few days, the next stop would be Adelaide. By the end of the first week the full complement would be in Melbourne. For part of the second week two days would be spent in Hobart, Tasmania, and on returning the tourists would join in a ringing day with the Victorian Branch of the A.N.Z.A.B. After visiting one or two 'local' or 'country' towers the party would proceed to Sydney, arriving mid-way through the third week.

A 'hop' to Maryborough and visits to the several towers on this eastern sea-board would fill in the time until Monday, October 4th—a public holiday in New South Wales—when the visitors may be afforded some 'additional' privileges. Over twenty towers could be visited and a larger number of peals attempted. After all this the party will have the following alternatives for the return journey—call at Melbourne, visit New Zealand, visit Groton, Mass., or home to England direct.

Our friends in Australia are doing everything possible to make the tour a success and they are eagerly awaiting our arrival. But it is regretted the party at the moment is smaller than hoped for and thus there is a shortage of talented, representative and experienced ringers. Full credit could not be given unless a more representative section of ringers from Great Britain made up the party. There is, however, an opportunity for everyone and every Society and Guild to take a share in this second Great Adventure.

Tangible appreciation must be shown by the party to its hosts and some memento offered to each tower visited, and this could be burdensome if left entirely to those who will be making the journey. Thus an appeal is made to ringing organisations and individuals to donate something in kind or in cash, to be used in accordance with donors' wishes, if stated. In many cases a few shillings or a few pounds would not be missed and it would mean such a lot to the Adventurers whose outlay will already be quite considerable. Please be as generous as possible, and if forwarded to the undersigned everything received will be acknowledged.—Yours sincerely,

T. J. LOCK.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD North Dorset Branch

The annual meeting of the North Dorset Branch at Gillingham on December 12th was attended by 34 ringers and full use was made of the fine rehung eight before and after the meeting. The Archdeacon of Dorset welcomed the Branch and in his address spoke of the place of bells and ringers in the worship of God. A touch of Plain Bob Minor was rung on handbells during the service.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Chairman, Rev. R. G. Chaffey Moore; Vice-Chairman, Rev. R. A. Wells; Hon. Sec. Rev. R. N. Longridge; Ringing Masters Messrs. W. C. Shute, Ben Ridout, A. Woods and Mrs. M. Godley; committee members, Mr. E. Chant and Miss H. M. Julius.

In his report the hon. sec. gave details of one peal and four quarters rung during the year in Branch towers and all by Guild members; membership, 112 paid up, was dropping compared with previous years; financially the Branch was in a satisfactory condition. Mention was made that the Guild Festival in 1965 will be received by this Branch at Sherborne.

Meetings next year were fixed for Stalbridge, Maiden Bradley, Child Okeford and Sherborne (subject to consents), and it was hoped to arrange a joint meeting with the Ilchester Branch of the Bath and Wells Association, possibly at Thornford. Finally an outing was suggested in the Hampshire direction on the first Saturday in September.

With a donation given in memory of the late S. J. Pound, a long-standing member of the Branch, it was decided to have a new attaché case to house the Branch records and papers.

ST. ALBANS DISTRICT DINNER

DECEMBER 5th was a day all in the St. Albans District had been looking forward to for some time though for different reasons and with different feelings. The Browns, of Wheatthampstead, expected their first child. He came on the 6th; congratulations. Some were going for a peal of Stedman Cinques. Hard luck. Most of us were going to the first St. Albans District dinner for some years.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock Miss Christine Rimmer, the dinner organiser, was agitatedly running round the 'Private Banqueting Room' at the Red Lion Hotel, St. Albans, wondering why so few people were having pre-banquet drinks and fearing that her fifty names had melted away at the last minute. She need not have worried, the saloon bar downstairs was full to overflowing.

Suddenly it was announced with a deafening roar that if the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Hertford County Association of Change Ringers would like to take their seats, dinner would be served. After many ducks and peach melbas had been consumed with the customary ceremonies, Mr. Leslie Coburn, the toastmaster, rose to propose the loyal toast. Those who, not being used to such functions were already wreathed in smoke, should have been covered in confusion but they hid behind their smoke screens.

Reg Darvill, an ex-District Ringing Master, proposed the toast of 'The Church'. He reminded us that the Church consisted of her members, including ringers, and that we were therefore technically about to drink a toast to ourselves. On the subject of Church unity, he said that no divisions existed between ringers of different denominations. This he felt was due to their common purpose and wondered if the rest of Christendom could take a hint accordingly.

The Very Rev. Noel Kennedy, Dean of St. Albans, and the guest of honour, having drunk the toast himself, then replied. He said that he felt that if they were drinking a toast to themselves, he might as well drink one to himself. While they had obviously meant the whole of the Anglican Church they should include everyone—the Pope, the Eastern patriarchs, nonconformists and in fact all who confess and call themselves Christians. The toast was their pledge of loyalty to the Church and to Christ.

'RESPECTABLE AND SUITABLE'

The Dean, his duty done, was now able to lean back and light a Churchillian cigar, while listening to Mr. Alf Rushton, president of the Bedfordshire Association. Alf said how respectable and suitable an occupation ringing was for young people compared with such modern occupations as singing to a guitar which did not require the practice and concentration of ringing and yet which was over-rewarded in a pecuniary sense while stimulating those feelings in the hearers which in normal people, at any rate, needed no stimulation. He waxed quite lyrical on the beauties of old church architecture compared with modern office buildings and finally, in raising his glass, wished prosperity on the Hertford County Association and the St. Albans District.

Bill Critchley, the Hertfordshire president, apologised in advance as he said most societies only asked him to speak once and he doubted if theirs would be an exception. He thanked Alf for his good wishes, which he said were much needed in some parts of the Association, though he was happy to be able to report a great improvement in the Watford District following a meeting at Rickmansworth. He said the St. Albans District, on the other hand, were most forward looking, and having listed all their extra-campanological activities, said they more deserved praise than needed good wishes.

John Cull, in welcoming the visitors, reminded us that 1964 was the eightieth anniversary of the founding of the Association when had come from as far afield as Great Hallingbury in Essex and without any motor transport either! He apologised for not being able to answer visitors' queries as to whether the paper bells decorating the room were Mears' or Taylor's.

The final speaker was Philip Mehew. He alarmed us by saying that when practising his speech he could not cut it down to less than three hours. After trying to define the word visitor with the help of a dictionary he told us the story of Molly McGuinness and so ended the formal part of the evening.

Martyn Jordan began a speech but found that he had brought the wrong card as this one only told him that his chest X-ray had been successful. As a penance he had to organise some of the entertainment which began with a mock hockey match between members and visitors. He then entertained quite brilliantly for a few minutes with jokes, songs and wisecracks. A guessing game followed and the evening was completed by tune ringing on handbells by Malcolm Pettitt, Trevor Hawkins and Fred Ellis. Thanks to all concerned for an unqualified success: may we have many more such evenings! J. D. C.

OBITUARY

MR. SIDNEY BRIGGS

The death took place, on December 12th, of Mr. Sidney Briggs, a former ringer at Kotherham Parish Church. Although he had not rung for some 12 years, he maintained his interest in ringing.

Born at Braotord 67 years ago, he soon moved to Rotherham, where for many years he practised as a master painter and for a number of years was in charge of the sign writing and decorating section at the technical college. Kotherham ringers' room has a well known handsome set of peal boards and Sidney himself recorded the more important peal performances covering a period of a century, including the first peal on the new ring of ten in 1925. This was a peal of Grandsire Caters, conducted by himself, a method which he maintained was the best music available on 10 bells.

He was taught to ring, and was greatly influenced by Clem Glenn prior to World War 1, in which he served. He was an excellent striker on both tower bells and handbells, and rang a number of peals. On Sunday, December 20th, the Parish Church bells were rung to a quarter peal of 1,277 Grandsire Caters in his memory. May he rest in peace. N. C.

MR. WALTER SPARROW

We regret to report the death of Mr. Walter Sparrow on December 17th at Feltham. The funeral was on December 23rd. Walter had had a spell of bad health recently, although he never lost his good spirits. He collapsed and died suddenly, without suffering.

His old friend, Bill Morris (who can remember seeing Wally in a belfry without Bill somewhere around?), who had known him for about 30 years, says Wally started his ringing at Great Fimborough and graduated to Stowmarket later. Urged on by his brothers, Tom and Shelley, he became a keen handbell ringer. After moving to London, he was a regular Sunday service ringer, being attached to Heston and Feltham, each for about five years, and from about 1946 until about two years ago to Kingston-on-Thames.

His peal record is not available, but he rang a good many for the Middlesex Association, and also for the Guildford and Suffolk Guilds and the Norwich Association ranging from Minor to Royal. His striking was of the best.

Like many of us who learned our ringing in the twenties, Wally travelled many miles on his bicycle in search of ringing. Always cheerful, his smiling face and twinkling eyes remain a happy memory for us, his friends. F. G.

ROTHERHAM'S HANDBELL TRADITION

Once again, handbell ringing featured prominently in Christmas festivities in Rotherham town centre. On Christmas Eve, a team of girls from Kimberworth Secondary School and ringers at the Parish Church joined forces to provide a 2½-hour programme of Christmas Carols on handbells. The ten ringers played 30 bells in four part harmony in the Parish churchyard and appreciative listeners responded by donating £20 to church funds. Over £200 has been raised in recent years in this way, and Christmas handbells have become a tradition in the town.

FARNBOROUGH SIX TO BE AUGMENTED

The illness of Mr. Sidney Joyce has necessitated two postponements of the dedication of the augmentation to eight of the six bells at St. Mary's, Farnborough, Hants. The ceremony is now fixed for Evensong on February 14th. All ringers are welcome, but they must notify in advance. The church, which holds over 500 people, is always full at both morning and evening services.

The two bells, which weigh 1½ and 1½ cwt., were cast on Oct. 23rd by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The Shell-B.P. Film Unit happened to be at the foundry that day and took a film of the event, and a special illustrated article is promised for the next issue of their House Journal.

The bells were delivered to the church complete with headstocks on Nov. 9th and dedication was planned for the following Sunday. Unfortunately Mr. Joyce was taken ill on the day the bells were delivered and was in hospital for over two weeks and underwent two operations. A new date was suggested—January 3rd, but as Mr. Joyce was still sick the ceremony was again postponed.

At the dedication the bells will be in a small frame which Mr. Joyce is making, and which will allow them to be struck at the altar. A ringers' hymn, composed by the Rector (Canon F. B. Hutchinson) will be sung at the service. The total cost is approximately £450; it would have been £40 more but for the fact that Mr. Joyce is taking leave for the hanging period, and assisting.

The treble bell is given by Mr. H. Holman and his family, in grateful thanks for the life of his father, and the second commemorates the silver wedding anniversary of the Rector and Mrs. Hutchinson and is their gift.

Other donations include Mr. D. M. Webster £210, Farnborough ringers £25, Mrs. I. M. Ratcliffe, in memory of her father, Mr. T. Joyce, for many years Rector's warden, £25, Anon. £20. The Church Guild has given a set of eight new ropes costing about £35.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION
Chesterfield District

Over 25 members and friends from some 10 towers braved the downpour to attend the District's annual meeting held at Bolsover on December 12th. After a short ring in the afternoon on the pleasant 14 cwt. octave, the company adjourned to the nearby Church Hall where the wives and friends of the local company had prepared an excellent tea.

In his opening remarks as Chairman, Mr. D. Cooper (tower captain, Bolsover) apologised on behalf of the Vicar, who had pulled a muscle in his leg.

The District secretary (Mr. M. Phipps), in his report on the year's activities, welcomed the continued good attendances at meetings held during 1964 and paid tribute to the wives and friends of the local companies who had provided such excellent meals.

Congratulations were extended to Old Whittington, Dronfield and Bolsover towers for doing so well in both the District's heat and the final of the Association's striking competition.

The following officers were elected for 1965: Chairman, Mr. D. Cooper (Bolsover); Committee, Mr. G. N. Goodall (Dronfield) and Mr. A. Keller (Bolsover); Ringing Master, Mr. C. J. Hughes (Old Whittington) and Secretary, Mr. M. Phipps (Chesterfield). New members elected were: T. Bargh (Chesterfield), S. Pembleton (Scarcliffe), R. Hutton, B. Maycock, C. North (North Wingfield), Linda Shaw (Bolsover) and Rosemary Mather (Staveley). Members were urged to obtain their tickets without delay for the annual dinner to be held at the Odeon, Chesterfield, on February 20th. Following the votes of thanks, the meeting ended with a selection of Christmas carols on handbells rung by the local company. The Rev. J. W. L. Newton (Curate) afterwards conducted a short service in the church. Further ringing was enjoyed until 9 p.m.

Next meeting: January 9th (Dronfield).

BELFRY GOSSIP

South Cerney, Gloucestershire, put on a novelty this Christmas by members of the choir ringing a quarter peal for the Carol Service.

The 1,000th copy of 'The Sound of Bells,' by Edgar C. Shepherd was sold on Christmas Eve. Congratulations to the author and all concerned.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by the Clowne (Chesterfield) ringers and their families at their annual dinner on December 19th. Through 'The Ringing World' they desire to express many thanks to Mrs. Stanton, and the organiser.

Guildford ringers send their congratulations to Stephen R. Munday, the son of Mr. Frederick A. Munday, who was at one time conductor at Holy Trinity, Guildford. Stephen's mother was for a time assistant to the Editor of this journal.

What is the origin of Mewslade—that gives its name to Mewslade Court Bob Minor? The first in the method on tower bells was rung at Limsfield Chart on December 19th, conducted by Christopher F. Mew. Was the suffix a compliment to a well known Kent ringer?

Ringling for Bradfield Secondary Modern School's carol service in St. Nicholas' Church, Bradfield, was provided by a member of the staff, three scholars, the school secretary's husband and a father of one of the pupils.

CORRECTIONS

Peal at Londonderry, August 7th (page 869): Roger S. Havard 7, Robert E. Hardy 8, and not as printed.

In the peal rung at Northchurch on December 5th for the Hertford County Association (page 870), the method was 5.184 Oxford T.B. Major and the ringer of 7th Antony R. Kench.

In regard to the peal of Kent T.B. Major at Finedon on November 28th (page 856), the ringer of the fourth was Edward C. Buckby, and not as printed.

Surprise Royal Band in Six Bell Tower

The six-bell tower at Farnborough can now claim to have the most advanced band in the Guildford Diocese. The ringers have a Surprise Royal band from their own members, and in 1964 rang all the Surprise Minor methods and many of the Double Surprise Minor methods. Apart from numerous quarters, they rang a peal of 14 Surprise Minor methods, believed to be the most rung to a peal in the South of England by a resident Sunday service band. (Sunday service ringing is a condition of membership.) The tower has several promising learners and they are given plenty of practice. The bells are to be augmented to eight and the new bells dedicated at Evensong on February 14th. We are asked to state that the first peal attempt on the eight will be by a Farnborough band, and all attempts for 1965 are already booked.

First Peal at 73

It was a case of age and youth intermingled with a difference of 60 years between them in the first pealers in a peal conducted by Mr. Crawford T. Hillis at Willesborough on December 19th. At the last minute 73-year-old Mr. Cecil Sharp kindly stood in to ring his first peal—the tenor to three Doubles methods. On the treble was James C. Hillis and on the second Philip R. Staples, who are both 13. Many listeners, both ringers and non-ringers, remarked on the excellence of the striking.

50 For Hereford Guild

Peals are not plentiful in the Hereford Diocesan Guild, although when Mr. Harry Poyner and his wife were resident it had many successes. This week we congratulate one of the country ringers, Mr. C. William ('Bill') Nutt on ringing his 50th for the Guild. These are spread over about 40 years. The failures are quite considerable, and so are the first pealers. Bill has called a number of Doubles peals. He has also rung peals for the Worcestershire and Districts Association.

Carollers Ditched

Wentworth (Yorks) handbell ringers raised £11 14s. in aid of Christian Aid and the Church's belfry fund, by carolling around the village. There was no lack of adventure. A handcart, used to carry the two card tables, bells and 'two drivers,' upturned into a ditch. This followed the drinking of sherry and cider, providing a moral—'Don't drink, drive and ring!' Fortunately it was not serious as no lives, bells or tables were lost.

Reconstruction at Riverside Church, New York

The Riverside Church belfry, New York, will be closed to visitors because of construction work involving girders and columns from after January 10th until February 20th. The carillon will be silent. From January 12th to January 31st Mr. James R. Lawson, the carillonneur, will play 12 concerts at the Bok Singing Tower carillon, at the Mountain Lake Sanctuary, Florida. During the reconstruction, tuning tests will be made on the upper 58 bells of the Riverside carillon by Arthur L. Bigelow, bell master, Princeton University.

Christmas Day Bells

A delightful tribute to the Christmas Day bells broadcast comes from R. H. Mansell, of Handsworth, Birmingham, who writes: 'I have no doubt that this year's Christmas bells were the best I have ever heard. Absolutely perfect striking from start to finish.

'What I would like to see and hear—and I think a good many more bellringers would—is Liverpool Cathedral bells from the massive tower overlooking the Mersey incorporated in Christmas bells, if this is at all possible for next year. Again expressing my delight and praise to the Christmas bellringers.'

Coming Back to the Fold

By ringing in the peal at Hornchurch on Christmas Eve, long absences from peal ringing were broken by John Stephenson—an interval of 12 years—and intervals of 11 years by Sid Penfold and Colin Wright. Their many friends will be pleased to know they all gave excellent performances and hope that such an interval from peal ringing will not reoccur.

Six Towers on Christmas Day

Ringers from Cam in Gloucestershire had a busy time over Christmas. As well as assisting at Dursley and Coaley for the mid-night services on Christmas Eve, they were aroused at 6.30 a.m. Christmas Day and transported to three more local towers in succession to assist the bands with service ringing, and finally returned to Cam to complete the morning's ringing. Thus of the 13 towers of the Wotton-under Edge Branch they helped to 'salute the happy morn' in six of them.

We Smirk

Renewing his subscription, Mr. S. E. Denby, of Mansfield, writes: 'Compared with other periodicals that come into my home, "The Motor," daily and Sunday papers which are 75 per cent advertising matter, I maintain "The Ringing World" is well worth its copy. It is absolutely full of reading matter.' A smirk from the Editor.

25 Years a Minister

Miss Ann M. Smith, 16-year-old daughter of the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, president of the Lancashire Association, had the pleasure of ringing in a complimentary quarter peal to commemorate her father's 25 years in the ministry. It was rung at Darley Dale, where he is Rector. Ann has rung in three quarter peals, all of them being Stedman Triples. Lancashire ringers will join in the congratulations from Derbyshire.

Canadian Bell Inscriptions

The following verses are inscribed on two bells at Christ Church, Elbow Park, Calgary, written by Mrs. Murry Hunter, a parishioner:

Bell No. 3.—In this foothill city
I peal my notes abroad,
That man may learn by listening,
To love this House of God.

Bell No. 5.—Here the prairies touch the mountains,
Here the Bow and Elbow meet.
For such beauty, Lord, we thank Thee,
Sung in bell notes clear and sweet.

Mr. E. Boumphrey Leaves Glasgow

At a meeting of the St. Mary's Cathedral (Glasgow) Society of Change Ringers on December 22nd the resignation was accepted with regret of Mr. E. Boumphrey, from the office of captain, caused by his retirement from business and return to England. Mr. Boumphrey joined the Society in 1938 and has held the office of captain since 1953. On behalf of the members, the Very Rev. Provost Laming presented Mr. Boumphrey with a card signed by all the members and a bellringers' car badge. Mr. T. Windram was then unanimously elected captain.

A Cathedral Completed

On December 20th, a thanksgiving service was held for the completion of the extensions of Salisbury Cathedral, Southern Rhodesia. The 10 bells were rung to rounds and call changes before and after the service. Although a Mashonaland Diocesan family gathering, the twin diocese of Matabeleland was represented by ringers from Que Que. The bell tower and hanging of the bells was completed in 1962. Now the nave has been completed and the Cathedral roofed throughout with copper.

Owing to the absence of several ringers, peal ringing was restricted to the first peal on the front six of these excellent ten from Whitechapel. The tower and bells are a fine piece of work, but the clock is a matter of concern.

A Derby Association Milestone

The more advanced method peal ringers in the Derby Diocesan Association have had the ambition for several years to ring a peal in the four standard Surprise methods with all resident members. Many attempts have failed. On December 12th this ambition was achieved and the band wish to thank and congratulate Gordon A. Halls, who, at short notice, had to learn and conduct the peal. This he did with competence and the achievement was one of which all the participants could feel proud both for accuracy of method ringing and for striking. D. R. C.

Veterans Honoured

In their Boxing Day quarter, Nailsea ringers paid a tribute to two veterans—Mr. E. J. Baker, a former captain of the tower who now resides at Congresbury, on reaching 70 years as a ringer, and Mr. H. Knight, who has completed 60 years as a member of the Bath and Wells Association. The quarter was also a silver wedding anniversary to an esteemed member of the tower—Mrs. D. Strong.

Delia of Vancouver

Among our New Year greetings for English ringers is one from Vancouver ringers sent by Miss Delia Barkworth, of 1480, Nelson Ave., West Vancouver. She tells of their ringers travelling 1,400 miles in one week-end to ring at Calgary. She adds that their thanks go to Pat and Mike Simpson for making both week-ends (Calgary also came to Westminster Abbey, Mission City and Vancouver in return) such a 'bash.' She hopes that any ringers passing through Vancouver will ring with them.

A TRANSCENDENT EXPERIENCE

By George Cockman

THERE is an element in ringing which I would term transcendent, and it's on that I want to dwell. This experience may be hid from some ringers, and if it is I'm sorry, for I would say that they have missed one of the greatest experiences in ringing.

The experience I speak of is not in fact unique to ringing. You could find it in the best music, orchestral or group; you could find it in a boat of eight good oars or in a line of three quarters moving across the Twickenham turf. But few of us can enjoy these from the inside, we can only enjoy them passively by listening or watching, whereas in ringing we can enter into the experience actively and in ringing we have perhaps the purest example of this experience.

I am referring to the experience we have when we hit a perfect rhythm with perfect striking in a course or a touch or a peal, and in some real sense we are lifted above ourselves. Consider the situation carefully: we are each dependent, absolutely dependent, upon each other; none of us is doing exactly the same thing at the same time and yet we are in complete harmony and perfect rhythm. Our differences in personality, in age and experience, in social standing, in profession and intelligence, all have disappeared. We have subjugated them for the sake of the corporate effort, they are unimportant now.

Now I call this a transcendent experience, because I believe it is in way of being a vision, a vision of what life could and should be, and in particular what the Church could and should be: a number of people with different personality, background, age, social standing and so on, joining together and, in the pursuit of a common objective, playing their part with responsibility and at the same time being absolutely reliant upon each other; no one doing exactly the same thing at the same time and yet remaining in perfect harmony and rhythm. We should all experience this in ringing and we could all experience this in being the Church.

Of course, the basic work has to be done. We've got to know how to handle the rope and we've got to know the method, any attempt without by even one member would throw the whole issue into confusion; remember we are all absolutely reliant upon each other. We have got to do some basic work on our lives before we can become useful members of society and this truth seems to be hidden from some members of the Church. But it is as true of the Church as it is of ringing — we are all dependent upon each other. One bolshie man who insists on being in 6/7 when he should be in the slow, or someone who thinks that striking doesn't matter, neither will be playing his part in a band that takes its ringing seriously.

Well then, how many are doing their basic work for the Church? I don't mean mowing lawns or cleaning vestries, they're important but I'm thinking of the Church in its real meaning—the Body of Christ, the community of God's people. How many are playing their part; doing the basic work of prayer and Bible study and reading, bearing one another's burdens? We know how one person in a band can spoil things by not treating the ringing seriously—just think of that in terms of the Church, which St. Paul described like this: 'Now you are Christ's body and each of you a limb or organ of it.'

It's no good hoping that a touch will go well, you've got to get down to it and work for it.

We do work for it in ringing, this perfection in striking, in rhythm and when we get it we know that it is infinitely worthwhile. Is it that we have lost the vision of it in the Church, have we given up all hope, given it up as a bad job? It's a sad business if we have for, as in ringing, it is infinitely worthwhile working for it.

Analogies are dangerous, and I believe they are, but I also believe that we ringers have something here in our experience which should lead us to a new vision of, and a new activity in, the Church. It's so worthwhile to get that rhythm in any course or touch or peal; let's have it in our ringing, let's have it in our minds, and let's have it in our Church.

From an address given to the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild at Epsom on December 12th, preached by an Ordination candidate.

Bishop Tries Out New Bells after Rededication

The Bishop of Chester (the Rt. Rev. Gerald Ellison) ringing after the dedication of the recast bells at Bowdon, Cheshire. By his side is the well known one-armed ringer, Mr. Basil Jones, of Hazel Grove.
[By courtesy of Warrington Guardian Series.]

IN the presence of a large congregation the Rt. Rev. Gerald Ellison, D.D., Lord Bishop of Chester, dedicated on December 12th the recast ring of eight bells at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Bowdon, Cheshire. After the Lessons (Numbers x, verses 1 to 10), the procession, consisting of the vergers, wardens, ringing master, the bellfounder's representative, the architect and the local ringers, proceeded to the chancel where the wardens asked the Bishop to accept the bells and to dedicate them. The procession then returned to the west end of the church where the Bishop and the ringers ascended to the newly-formed ringing balcony and the Bishop dedicated the bells. As the procession returned to its places the local band rang the dedicatory rounds.

The Bishop in his sermon, which was an excellent example of what should be done on such occasions, explained the origins and uses of bells in such a manner that the laymen in church were able to apprehend the significance of their use and of their attraction. That the Bishop was able to do this was undoubtedly due to the fact that he is a practical ringer and takes a real interest in the bells of the churches of the Diocese. Towards the end of his address he turned to the lessons which might be learned from the art of ringing.

He instanced the need for self discipline, persistence, study etc., and then said that these qualities were also those needed in all branches of church and national life. Then there was the need for co-operation with others and the cultivation of a team spirit. He told his listeners that the musical sounds based on mathematical patterns which came from the belfry depended upon every member of the band carrying out his part conscientiously and efficiently and urged them as laymen to listen to the ringing which would undoubtedly take place on the new bells and try to distinguish between the different types of methods and become informed listeners.

At the close of the service the procession of clergy, choir etc., moved to the west door to the sound of a course of Double Norwich rung by past and present members of Bowdon tower. Following that a course of Bristol Surprise Major was rung by a representative band and by this time the Lord Bishop had disrobed and came to the belfry where he took part in ringing rounds and spent some time in informal conversation with the large number of ringers who were present.

Tea was served in the Schools and after the customary short speeches on such occasions good use was made of the bells.

ORIGINAL BELLS CAST IN 1714

Originally the bells at Bowdon were a ring of six by Rudhall, cast in 1714, but in 1923 these were recast and augmented to eight by Gillett and Johnston. These eight left much to be desired and when the tower needed considerable repair two years ago the opportunity was seized to have the bells replaced by a more suitable ring. At the same time in order to reduce the movement in the tower the bells were brought down to where the ringing room was and a balcony, which was rarely used, was refurbished as the new ringing room, open to the church. The overall result has been excellent, the bells are clearly audible outside the tower and yet are not oppressive, and they can also be heard clearly inside. Being open to the church the ringing room is warmer though there is the disadvantage of the ringers being seen and heard in the church.

The new bells (tenor 18 cwt. 8 lb.) from the Loughborough Foundry are a first-class example of the founders' skill and craftsmanship and the new frame together with the lowering of the bells has effectively reduced the tower movement. All present at the dedication were very impressed and the authorities at Bowdon and the ringers are to be congratulated on possessing a fine new ring of bells which we are assured will be put to good use.

M.U.G.S. WEDDING

Yet another marriage has occurred between members of Manchester University Guild. On January 2nd, Miss Mary Browne, of Topsham, Devon, and Philip Jones, of Hampton, Middlesex, were married at St. Margaret's Church, Topsham. The bride is the present secretary of the Guild and the bridegroom an ex-steeplekeeper. Two Guild members were bridesmaids.

SWINDON, WILTS.—On Dec. 20th, 1,259 Grandsire Caters: M. Scowen 1, Miss J. Davidge 2, W. W. T. Daniell 3, Miss S. Little 4, P. Minchin 5, E. Sutton 6, M. Stanley 7, P. Spackman (first of Cater 'inside') 8, A. G. Wells (cond.) 9, L. Picknell 10. Rung prior to Nine Lessons service, and to celebrate the 90th birthday of Mrs. Wells, mother of the conductor.

M.U.G.S. WEEK-END AROUND INGLETON

It was with distinct feelings of uneasiness that members of the Manchester University Guild left Manchester on October 30th. The Dormobile we had hired was in such a bad state that we seriously considered showing it to the police. However we pressed on and thanks to the courageous handling of the driver we reached Lancaster intact, if a little late. However, we did not manage the heavy eight very well and the feelings of most were well summed up when the lights went out in the middle of the cease. Having toured Lancaster three times, we eventually found a fish and chip shop and then made for Ingleton, where we stayed the night.

Next morning, abandoning the vehicles, we walked to Lower Benthams, with the heaviest 6 in Yorkshire (by a short head from Kirk Ella). Lunching on route, we crossed into Lancashire and rang at Melling in the afternoon. A short bus journey took us to Kirkby Lonsdale's very nice six, which made the third county we had rung in that day.

Sunday dawned a fine day which made our walk round Ingleton falls even more pleasurable. The Ringing Master was pleased that it was warm for another reason. While he was standing on a stone in the river, a small boulder just happened to fall immediately behind him, soaking him completely. After lunching in a transport cafe we travelled to Hornby to ring on the light eight.

The last tower of the day was at Whittington, a tricky six because of the long draught. Staying to the service, we received the shortest sermon known—three minutes flat. As there was fog about we were glad to get on our way as soon as possible and Manchester was reached in good time for last buses.

It was very pleasing to see so many Guild members supporting the week-end—eighteen in all—and thereby making it all the more successful. Thanks must also go to the drivers and to the incumbents. D. J. B.

SUFFOLK CHRISTMAS SOCIAL

Howard and Margaret Egglestone, their young band of ringers and some very generous and hardworking ladies provided the S.E. District of the Suffolk Guild with a really splendid social at Henley on December 19th. This was something of an experiment and was purposely not made a whole Guild affair. However, amongst the 70 or so present were friends from other Districts and even, some 'furriners' from Essex! The whole evening had an air of relaxation and thorough enjoyment at being able to get together to eat, drink and be merry. And the cosy village hall, gaily decorated, small bar at one end and informal chairs and tables provided just the right atmosphere for the entertainment.

The Offton handbell ringers gave eight carols and this was followed by George Pipe's colour slides of Washington and Groton. Tall, fair, debonaire Stanley Bloomfield sang some good owd songs and we were treated to very fine tune ringing by Andrew Hudson, Jeremy Branden and Howard Egglestone.

It's always good to have a laugh at oneself and there was plenty of opportunity this evening. Alice Lester and Lawrence Pizzey took the part of editor and secretary of 'The Ringing World' in a humorous sketch dealing with local problems and the company rocked with mirth at the silhouette taking off various people's handling. The evening concluded with a song by the Henley ringers—one of those carefully calculated to bring in controversial towers, much to the delight of the listeners!

Altogether, a social that put us in good spirit for the Christmas season and something that we all hope will be a permanent date in Suffolk. Well done, Henley!

JONATHAN PAVIER AND HIS SON-IN-LAW

Dear Sir.—Mr. Claude Rush, delving into 'Church Bells,' has brought back to our minds many interesting facts from the past, and his latest article, page 7, Vol. LVI, has recalled an event in which I had a personal interest.

I quote, 'The oldest ringer in England is Jonathan Pavier, who was born at South Hinksey, near Oxford, on May 31st, 1779.' In the autumn of 1932, by an amazing coincidence, I had a conversation with Jonathan Pavier's son-in-law. In that year these two men had already bridged a span of 153 years.

I believe there is now only one ringer besides myself who also met Pavier's son-in-law in that year, namely, Mr. W. G. E. Collett, of Oxford, and as such I think that the events leading up to the meeting are worth recording.

Early in 1932 the verger of St. Martin and All Saints' Church, Oxford (where I was then captain of ringers), handed to me some records of early Oxford peals, which he stated were found on the font cover with a note addressed 'To the Ringers.' These records were beautifully written in pen and ink on parchment paper in the manner of peal tablets including drawings of the tower concerned and figures of the compositions. I handed these records over to the Oxford Society who had them framed and hung in the Society's meeting room.

In Sept. 1392, W. H. Fussell, of Slough, organised one of his peal tours in the Oxford area and on the 8th of that month I had the privilege of ringing the treble at St. Martin and All Saints' to a peal of Superlative S. Major in the distinguished company of George Martin, George Pye and Gabriel Lindoff, etc.

After the peal I took the band to the Oxford Society's meeting room where they inspected these old records and took part in double handed ringing on the Society's handbells.

On leaving the meeting room and while walking down Broad Street the conversation turned to the old records, and Fussell said to me: 'What a pity you cannot find out who left them in the church.' At that precise moment a very old man, whom we were slowly overtaking, turned to us and said, 'I left them there, gentlemen.' A few hurried questions proved that the old man was the son-in-law of Jonathan Pavier, an Oxford ringer in the early 1800's.

I took the old man's name and address with a promise to visit him as soon as I could contact the President, Mr. Collett, and the Society's secretary Vic Bennett. If I remember correctly, Mr. Collett with Mr. Bennett and myself visited the old man, whose name I have now forgotten, very soon after, when we learnt that he had many other papers and note books that belonged to Jonathan Pavier.

We were also shown during the visit the title deeds to a very ancient estate in Berkshire which the old man said should rightly be his by inheritance but to which he had been unable to prove his descent. Those deeds carried the seal in wax of either King Charles I or II.

There is no doubt that the old man, then nearing his 90th birthday, was a man of high breeding and education but being reduced to poor circumstances, was eking out a living by guiding visitors round the Cathedral and colleges of Oxford. He was a familiar figure to me at that time as I often saw him trying to attach himself to visiting parties in the hope of earning a few shillings as a guide.

Jonathan Pavier was employed for many years at Pembroke College, Oxford, where I believed he worked in the College Library.

SINE NOMINE IN DEVON

Millborne Port, Somerset, last stop on 1964 Sine Nomine tour.

The 1964 tour was held in South Devon, with headquarters at Totnes. About 45 churches were visited. Highlights of the tour were the octaves at Tiverton, Plympton St. Maurice, Tavistock, St. Saviour, Dartmouth, Broadclyst, Buckfastleigh, and Ottery St. Mary, Dartington proved to have a delightful six. Ringing was on Devon's two tens and two twelves—Cullompton and Plymouth and Exeter and Buckfast, being very impressed with the latter. Strangest towers were St. Petrock, Exeter, jammed in between shops—St. Petrox, Dartmouth, almost in the sea at the mouth of the Dart—and above all Brent Tor perched on a lovely rock outcrop. Thanks go to everybody who made this tour possible.

His name also appears, if my memory serves me rightly, on peal boards in St. Ebbe's tower, Oxford, in peals of Major rung on the ring of 8 bells which were then in this tower. (The trebles of the ring were later sold and these places in the tower are now occupied by the 'Washbrook Memorial' bells.)

I have not had the pleasure of meeting my old friends of the Oxford Society in their meeting room since 1934, and as I left Oxford as a resident in 1933 I would be keenly interested to know if other records of Jonathan Pavier eventually found a home in the Society's keeping.—Yours, etc.

WILLIAM SIMMONDS.

BALDOCK RINGERS' DINNER

The traditional dinner of the Baldock Guild of Ringers and their friends was enjoyed at Norton, on December 12th. Mr. G. W. Critchley, this year's President of the County Association, proposed the health of the Guild, and said that he was very impressed by the ringing at Baldock, which was a tremendous contribution to the Northern District, and congratulated the Guild on their peal that afternoon. Cambridge Surprise Major was rung in 3 hours 17 minutes, and there were some very sore hands to prove it.

Mr. E. G. Buck replied and reported that, of 17 quarters rung in the District, 12 had been at Baldock, and reminded all that the outing would be on June 19th. Mr. H. S. Bonnett welcomed the ladies, and recalled the dinners which had been held after the war in the Three Horseshoes. Mrs. J. Orme made the shortest and sweetest reply possible. The sounds of bells were heard from both record player and handbells to finish a very pleasant evening. J.S.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION St. Albans District

The youngest member present at the St. Albans District meeting at Harpenden on the Saturday before Christmas was Simon Brown, whom everybody wanted to meet. He was not quite two weeks old!

Mr. Walter Ayre, who presided, and Mr. Gerald Penny both expressed their pleasure at seeing Mr. Arthur Day, of Harpenden, ringing again after his recent illness. Mr. Desmond Painter, an ex-District Ringing Master, was re-elected a member after a stay of nearly four years in Rhodesia. An intended hockey match between the girls of the St. Albans and Western Districts was mentioned, and also a football match between the men. No District outing is to be held in March.

The Rector conducted Evensong, and local ringers and wives served tea on tables decorated with candles and holly.

Letters to the Editor

Campanalogia, 1702

Dear Sir.—In reply to Mr. Roger Savory's interesting article on Campanalogia—1702, I can offer some definite information.

J. D. and C. M. were members of the Society of London Scholars, and the full title of the book is:

'Campanalogia improved, or the art of ringing made easier by plain and methodical rules.'

It was printed in London for George Sawbridge in 1702, and seems to be a substantial revision of an earlier book by one W.S.: 'Campanalogia, or the art of ringing improved with plain and easie rules to guide the practitioner in the ringing of all kinds of changes. To which is added, great variety of New Peals.' This was printed in London by W. Godbid for W.S. in 1677 and, though similar in height, contained eight preliminary pages and 231 of text, whereas the book by J.D. and C.M. had 14 preliminaries and 189 text pages, with advertisements to page 192.

This was very popular as five editions were produced, dated 1705, 1733, 1753 and 1766. This fifth edition was corrected by J. Monk. All were printed in London. In 1887 Hervey Reeves reprinted it in a larger format, and with appropriate Victorian ornaments and type face.

I am compiling a detailed bibliography of books on bells and campanology, and am indebted to those who have already allowed me to work with their collections, as mine is not yet as comprehensive as I would like.—Yours sincerely,

J. SANDERSON (Miss).

Melbourn, Cambs.

A Horrible Suggestion

Dear Sir.—On what grounds, I wonder, does Mr. Maybrey suppose that if there should be an increase in the number of outings, as the result of publication of a Tower Grabbers' List (which I doubt), the learner-organisers will necessarily generate ill-feeling and bring about the closure of towers to others?

The procedure he outlines is only bare courtesy such as any outing organiser would follow as a matter of course without any prompting either from Mr. Maybrey or from the Central Council. His suggestion that all organisers of outings should be registered is surely the most fantastic idea ever put forward in your columns.

The payment of a deposit, levy, protection money or blackmail, call it what you will, is as objectionable as the idea of a disciplinary board which would be involved and, of course, the whole plan is quite unworkable.

I may, with good cause, be no great admirer of the Council, but in fairness even I am certain that with all its faults, it would not sink so low as to try that one on.—Yours, etc.,

R. H. DOVE.

Leeds.

Staunton Harold Bells

Dear Sir.—The architect to the National Trust has condemned the frame at Staunton Harold Church as unsafe for the bells to be rung. When the church was restored the bells were not included although I believe an estimate was obtained. These are the only eight in the county on which I have not rung although I have been up and had a look at them.—Yours, etc.,

MICHAEL E. BROWN.

Sapcote, Leics.

Christianity and Ringing

Dear Sir.—Further to my letter on Christianity and Ringing in R.W., page 848, I wish to correct a statement which is either due to a misprint or my muddle-headedness.

The fourth sentence in the third paragraph should read, 'I feel that our atheist brother is NOT correct in making such a general statement as he does, re bickering and defaulting in the belfry.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID L. CAWLEY.

Whitstable.

Non-Association Peals

Dear Sir.—I found the letter from Mr. Threlfall most encouraging as the views therein are similar to those which I have expressed on the subject of peal records. He states valid objections to Mr. Mallett's suggestion that peals should be rung by non-territorial societies for territorial ones and it is up to Mr. Mallett to put forward arguments, other than outworn tradition, in support of his suggestion.

I feel that the terms 'Association' and 'Non-Association' often may seem to be almost equivalent to 'U' and 'Non-U.' This is clearly not so for no one would suggest that the Stedman Caters at Washington was a 'Non-U' peal because it had no society label attached to it. I would renew my plea that 'Non-Association' should be omitted from the reports of peals without a society label.

1964 saw a step forward with the decision of the Washington peal band and I applaud the courage and commonsense of that decision. Will 1965 see a touring band with sufficient courage and commonsense to follow this lead?—Yours sincerely,

Chester-le-Street, DENIS A. BAYLES.
Co. Durham.

All News to Reader Buck

Dear Sir.—I feel some reply is warranted to the letter by Cornishman of Jan. 1st.

I disagree that our paper is of little interest to the average ringer. I class myself as such, and find all of it of interest whether it be peals, quarter peals, outings or District meetings, not to mention such articles that come from the pen of Edgar Shepherd.

Peals and quarter peals are news and give some idea of what our friends are doing; thus I see no reason why those ringers should be asked to pay for such.

As the paper has for many years been helped by the donations from peals and quarter peals. I enclose our band's contribution for quarters rung during 1964.—Yours sincerely, Baldock, Herts.

EDWIN G. BUCK.

Reading and Newbury Doubles

Dear Sir.—I am in the process of checking some Doubles methods. Two of these methods appear to be Reading and Newbury. These methods, I understand, were published in or about 1939 in a collection entitled 'A collection of Doubles and Minor Methods.'

I would appreciate if any ringer, knowing the composition of these methods, would contact me, or if anyone has a copy of the above collection would kindly lend it to me.—Yours sincerely,

ROY H. JONES.

118 Oxford Road,
Marston, Oxford.

Newchurch Bells

Dear Sir.—With reference to the bells of Newchurch, Kent (R.W., Jan. 1st, p. 7), Stahlschmidt's 'Church Bells of Kent' states that they were cast by John Wilnar (not Welmer). His foundry was at Borden in Kent, and Stahlschmidt states that he was buried there in 1640. I would refer Mr. Beeching to the above book, p. 82, which gives a full account of the foundry. H. B. Walters' 'Church Bells of England' calls him Wilner and says that he was founding between 1618-39. He was followed by Henry Wilner. It seems to have been a flourishing foundry.—Yours sincerely, JAY CLAYTON.

London, S.W.

Hunslet and Itchen

Dear Sir.—Unless I have overlooked it, the figures of Itchen Court Bob Royal have not been published. Also, there was something wrong with either the notation or the lead-end row of Hunslet Bob Major. I shall be glad of these details for the record.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN R. MAYNE.

Cambridge U.G. Memories

Dear Sir.—I was very interested in V. Nutton's article on Cambridge University Guild's 600 peals.

In September, 1914, the Guild's ringing week came to Surfleet Vicarage, I being then a page-boy to the Rev. H. Law James. I will remember those handbell peals sometimes going well into the night and occasionally coming to grief, with E.B.J. and H.L.J. (brothers) storming at each other as to who was at fault.

The band at that time addressed each other by their initials, with the exception of the president, the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey. They included E. M. Atkins, C. P. Woolley, H. S. T. Richardson, J. B. Williamson and the James brothers. In appreciation of their visit they presented the Vicar with an altar book suitably signed by the president (Rev. A. H. F. Boughey). Incidentally, I found that the book was still in use by the Vicar.

But more interesting still is that I have a small silver medal with the Guild's crest on one side and the dates of those first peals on the other side. It was not until I read the article in 'The Ringing World' that I found out what they were about.

Finally it is with great pleasure to remember that I was able to ring and attend church on the Sunday morning following with such a great band of 50 years ago.—Yours faithfully,

C. RAWDING.

Wilnar of Borden

Dear Sir.—Apropos of the inquiry from Mr. W. J. Beeching concerning Newchurch bells, Stahlschmidt's 'Church Bells of Kent,' 1st Edition 1887, pages 81-82, gives the founder's name as Wilnar, of Borden, Kent.

Apparently, the foundry was established about 1618 by John Wilnar, who ran it until 1639 and was buried at Borden, May 5th, 1640. There were, in Stahlschmidt's time, 72 bells of his extant in Kent.

He was succeeded by Henry Wilnar, who was, himself, buried at Borden, January 30th, 1644. Only two bells in Kent and two in Sussex were extant of his work.

It could well be that Newchurch bells were, originally, a Wilnar five as the-treble has, or had, the words '...recast mdcccxlvi' in the inscription.—Yours sincerely,

W. E. BOX.

Stoulton's Bells

Dear Sir.—Whilst appreciating your correspondent's article regarding our small ring of bells at Stoulton, I would like to remark on a few points that may be a little misleading.

Firstly, the comparison with Frank Mack's miniature peal. I understand Frank's tenor to be 1 lb. 10½ ozs. and his total weight to be 7 lbs. 6 ozs, whereas our tenor is 107 lbs. and total weight 268 lbs.

Secondly, the frame is made from angle iron, a small portion of which was the angle of a bedstead. Lastly, with regard to the wheels the soles are formed from Endrick type rims but the rest is woodwork to conventional pattern.—Yours sincerely,

A. A. JOPP.

Stoulton, Worcs.

Peal Questioned

Dear Sir.—In connection with the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor rung at Limpsfield Chart on Dec. 19th, and duly published in 'The Ringing World' on January 8th (page 27) I want to say that I don't want my name associated with the peal, and for the following reason. During one extent, two bells changed course, and before they were changed back to their true positions rounds had occurred. To my mind therefore, this extent—and the peal—is not of a true nature.

I apologise to all those concerned for taking this action, but I feel that it is the right thing to do.—Yours faithfully,

RICHARD C. STEVENS.

OBITUARY

MR. GEOFFREY EVERETT

Mr. Geoffrey Everett, an unassuming ringer of Coggeshall, Essex, died suddenly, at his home on December 10th, aged 50.

Mr. Ron Suckling, District Ringing Master, writes:

I had known Geoffrey since 1938 when I had the pleasure of calling his first peal at Stisted. He was one of our band of young ringers who were ringing a large number of peals in this part of Essex prior to the War. Quiet and well-liked, he contributed to our many happy afternoon and evening outings.

He seemed to be lost to ringing for a time after the War, but when the church at Coggeshall was restored and the bells rehung he returned, and was making very good progress in Surprise Major methods (he had been a Minor ringer before the War) and I had rung with him only a fortnight before his death. We shall miss him for a long time among our ringing circles. May he rest in peace.

MR. H. W. HAYNES

It is with regret that we have to report the death on December 27th, of Mr. Henry William Haynes, captain of St. Mary's, Charlton-on-Otmoor, Oxon, for many years, at the early age of 54. He was one of whom it could be said that he was always ready to give a helping hand to any who needed it, and one who was always cheerful and had a ready welcome for his friends.

The following quarter peals were rung half-muffled as a token of our respect:

Piddington, Oxon.—On Jan. 1st, 1,260 Doubles (five methods): Mrs. E. G. Jones 1, E. G. Jones (cond.) 2, C. East 3, L. Busby 4, J. Eustace 5.

Charlton-on-Otmoor, Oxon.—On Jan. 2nd, 1,260 Doubles (five methods): J. Eustace 1, C. H. Kinch (cond.) 2, C. East 3, L. Busby 4, E. G. Jones 5. C. H. K.

MR. W. G. HISCOTT

Older members of the S.W. Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers regret the passing on December 30th of Mr. William G. Hiscott, aged 83, at Liskeard, where he went to reside in 1941 after being 'bombed' out of his own home at Plymouth. He was by profession an engraver.

From a young man he had been a very keen ringer and had rung in about 52 peals for the Devonshire Guild and also for the Truro Diocesan Guild. Owing to failing health, he had been unable to ring for several years; when he went to Liskeard he was a very welcome addition to the local band. His last ringing outing was to attend the dedication of two bells at Carbis Bay, although he did not ring. The writer had a long talk with 'Bill' on that occasion, and know how much he enjoyed meeting so many old friends. We mourn the passing of this grand old campanologist, one who always had a ready smile and cheerful word. H.H.T.

CROPWELL, BISHOP, NOTTS.—On Dec. 29th, 1,920 Antelope Doubles: Miss E. J. Foster 1, Miss S. Popleston 2, R. A. G. Inglis 3, G. A. Dawson (cond.) 4, S. Humphrey 5. A peal attempt called round. First in method by all.

MR. ERNEST MANN

The death on December 21st, at the age of 72, of Mr. Ernest Mann removes one who for a brief spell achieved some prominence in the world of change ringing, at a time when young ringers did not receive much encouragement.

Ernest Mann, when 18, was the conductor on Whit Monday, June 5th, 1911, of Irollope's 13,440 Bob Major, the extent with the tenors together, in 7 hrs. and 7 mins. He rang 5—6, Frederick Jones 3—4, Ernest Hoyle the tenors and Frederick Thorpe, then 16, the trebles. They were self-taught and had already rung two peals of Bob Major. Their triumph was short lived, however, for in the following June the Guildford men, with Alfred Pulling as conductor, rang 14,031 Stedman Caters and wrested the record from them.

Had Ernest Mann continued in ringing he would undoubtedly have made a name for himself in ringing circles but he had a passion for music which he retained throughout his life and when he was appointed organist and choirmaster at St. Matthew's Church, Holbeck, Leeds, ringing had to be put aside. Nevertheless, even it at the early age of 20 he rang his last peal which, incidentally, he composed and conducted, he did not lose interest in change-ringing. Until he joined the army in the First World War he was president of the Leeds and District Society, and a very able president too, but, after the war, his visits to the tower were few. Church music was his main interest and, in the last two years of his life, he was deputy organist at Pudsey Parish Church, the church where he learned to ring and where he had been a choirboy before he started to ring. His last visit to the tower was some ten or twelve years ago when he helped to ring in the New Year. W.B.

SOUTH MIMMS GUILD

On December 17th the Bishop of Willesden (the Rt. Rev. Graham Leonard) and Mrs. Leonard were the guests of honour at the second annual dinner of the St. Giles', South Mimms, Guild of Ringers, at the Wagon and Horses public house, South Mimms.

The visitors were welcomed by Mr. G. W. Sillis, secretary of the Guild, and the Bishop then replied with details of his own ringing career, which was abruptly ended at the rounds stage, by the sight of an experienced ringer, of his local band, landing in the church font.

The Bishop proposed the toast to the ringers, in the George I silver tankard, in accordance with the wishes of the late Mr. Bruce Robinson, that a toast should be drunk and passed round the assembled company.

Mr. R. Owen, tower captain, replied and thanked the Bishop for coming.

After a most acceptable meal of roast goose, vegetables and fruit and ice cream, our instructors from St. Albans, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dodds and Miss B. Goodspeed, rang touches of Grandville Doubles and Plain Bob Minor on handbells, coupled with Christmas carols from the local band. G. W. S.

PEALS OF CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY

Mr. Vivian Nutton desires to make the following corrections and additions to his article on the peals of Cambridge University: High Wycombe, 1964, was the Guild's first silent tower bell peal, but not the first silent peal. Having only the duplicate peal books in my possession, I must be careful about the difference between silent and non-conducted, but the facts appear to be as follows: First silent peal No. 301, 1946, 5,040 Plain Bob Major, comp. by E. M. Atkins, rung by K. F. B. Speed, K. S. B. Croft, S. E. Darmon and E. J. Lindley.

Non-conducted peals were: No. 225, 1929, 5,040 P.B. Royal 'in hand'; No. 433, 1956, 5,040 P.B. Major at Long Stanton; No. 502, 1959, 5,040 P.B. Royal 'in hand'.

The total for the Surprise methods includes peals or Spiced Surprise, but the list does not. However, the total is as follows: Spiced Surprise.—two methods 1, four methods 5, six methods 1, seven methods 1, eight methods 3, ten methods 1=12.

Total Surprise peals 85.

The Plain Bob peal total is 156 (107 'in hand') and the Plain Major total 225.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Great Glenn handbell ringers collected £130 for charity by ringing Christmas selections.

The quarter at Bradpole, Dorset, on December 13th (page 13) was 1,260 Grandsire Triples.

Who is the champion rope breaker in the Bingham District and who left the 4th at Cropwell Bishop ropeless?

The time for the peal at Grundisburgh on December 9th should read 2 hours and 55 minutes, and not as printed in issue of December 25th.

Mr. Robin H. Rogers, of Bury St. Edmunds, is concerned about the weight of Oakham tenor, given as 24 cwt. 2 qr. 9 lb. in 'The Ringing World,' but by Mr. Dove as 22 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb.

With reference to Mr. A. W. Froggatt's 'Carols on handbells' (page 848) the manuscript of tunes written out in this style may be borrowed from the Editor. Send stamped addressed envelope.

Mr. Barnabas G. Key recalls with the peal he rang for the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford at Sedgley on Boxing Day that he rang his first peal in this tower for 'the Staffords' on Boxing Day, 1934.

Mr. K. Paul Olliver, of Higham-on-the-Hill, sends a correction to the weight of the tenor at Swanmore, Hants, in a peal published on page 873. He states the weight is 8½ cwt. and not 12 cwt.

Readers may be interested to know that the Gnosall St. Lawrence junior handbell ringers appeared on the Midland Programme of the BBC on three nights, culminating on Christmas Eve, playing carols. The children, accompanied by Mrs. E. M. Key, had visited the television studios at Birmingham to be recorded.

The band who rang in the peal at Holywell on December 28th would like to thank David Papworth for standing in at 10 minutes' notice. He took the place of a North Herts ringer: when the conductor went to call for him he was told that he was still asleep.

Doctorate for Alan J. Collins

Plymouth ringers extend their sincere and hearty congratulations to Dr. Alan J. Collins, on being awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the Department of Chemistry at Birmingham University. He is continuing his research in medical bio-chemistry and pharmacology at Birmingham University, where he is a research fellow. Dr. Collins started ringing at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, at the age of 16, and was for a time honorary secretary of the Birmingham University Guild, and is still an active ringer. This Christmas holiday he took part in a quarter of Grandsire Caters at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, on December 22nd, which was for him a first performance.

Handbell Carolling

The Dulwich Handbell Ringers have again exceeded their record of last year by raising the sum of £338 on behalf of 'The Greater London Fund for the Blind' by ringing carols in the streets of Dulwich for the 18 evenings prior to Christmas. Their contributions by this means now total over £3,400 in the past 18 years, writes Arthur H. Coombs, the leader, of 210, Barry Road, East Dulwich, S.E.

St. Peter's, Staines, New Boy

St. Peter's, Staines, had a surprise on Christmas morning, when Mr. A. F. Petre presented himself for ringing and this was the first time he had rung for 21 years. He enjoyed it so much that he offered to stand in a quarter on Boxing Day. He rang the sixth to Grandsire Triples—his last quarter was 30 years ago.

Tough at 80

Congratulations to Jim Marriott, of Launton, on ringing a 720 half muffled and a 720 open on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, after recovering from a serious operation at the age of 80, and on climbing Launton's outside iron ladder just before midnight on this occasion.

Award Candidate's Progress

From Kingston-upon-Thames recently came news of Duke of Edinburgh Award candidate Miss Sheila Gibbs' first quarter peal (Bob Minor) after only five months' ringing. Now Sheila has passed the first stage of the award and has launched herself on the second leg by 'trebling' a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples. Congratulations, Sheila!

Childwall for Ringing

'Liverpool Weekly News' carried for their December 30th issue a good story concerning Childwall bells and its ringers, who range in age from 10 to 22 years. The Master is Michael E. Dodd, and his deputy R. Fraser Mack, a university student, whose home is in Leeds. Four of the ringers have devoted much time to redecoration and improvements to the ringing room and belfry. Childwall has enjoyed a good reputation over the centuries, an old rhyme reading:

Prescot, Huyton and Merry Childow,
Three parish churches all in a row,
Prescot for poverty, Huyton for pride,
And Childwall for ringing and singing beside.

A Devon Accident

Having rung the old year out at her own tower, Lympstone, Miss Valerie Mellish, a Roving Ringer, assisted in removing the muffles from the bells. As the clock was striking midnight Valerie slipped from the bell-frame and badly sprained her right ankle. The injury was at first thought to be of a more serious nature, but examination at the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital revealed otherwise. Nevertheless, Valerie is now 'thumping' around with her leg in plaster and her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Mellish expresses her sincere thanks to all who assisted in getting her to hospital, especially those who carried her down the spiral tower stairs, step by step, before the ambulance arrived.

Vicar's Outspoken Defence

The Rev. M. Ware, Vicar of All Saints', Maidenhead, gives this reply to an anonymous letter he received after a recent peal of Double Norwich on the bells. We quote from his parish magazine: 'At infrequent intervals our bellringers or visiting ringers celebrate events in the national life by ringing peals from our tower. Whenever such efforts are made to do this, it is a usual occurrence for the Vicar to receive abusive letters from anonymous correspondents. These are, of course, treated with the contempt that all anonymous letters deserve. Nevertheless, it is a disquieting feature in modern life that amidst the contigual blare of radio sets, transistors and others, TV sets, traffic noises both on the roads and in the air, certain individuals complain when bells are rung. Needless to say, such complaints invariably emanate from non-churchgoers! All Saints' is the only church in Maidenhead with a ring of bells and the Vicar can assure the grumblers that these bells will continue to ring out joyfully while a faithful band of ringers is available to carry out their labour of love.'

A Royal Marine Remembers

Among the many congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norris, of Chatham, on the occasion of their golden wedding, was one he particularly treasures from Lt.-Col. C. F. Jerram, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Pengswedham, Helford, Cornwall. Mr. Norris first met the Colonel in 1914, when the latter was commissioned to H.M.S. Euraylus, as Captain, R.M. He then rang with Mr. Norris at Chatham and again in 1921, when he came to collect the R.M. detachment for H.M.S. Raleigh. This ship was wrecked off Labrador the same year and became a total loss. Mr. Norris concludes: 'He had a fine service record, and, although 85, is still teaching youngsters to ring rounds and call changes.' A service-ringing friendship of 50 years makes fine reading.

'Church Bells'

The extract of 'Church Bells' published on page 6 is from Yol. xiii, Advent 1877 to Advent 1878.

Mr. Claude Rush, our esteemed contributor, asks for a correction on page 6, column 3, line 32. This should read: 'The best way to pay ringers is by kindness, instruction and love, by the parson joining them in their work and thus helping them to better thoughts and better things.'

A Suffolk Tower's Record

St. Mary's, Rougham, have had another successful year in Minor ringing as their bells have been rung for all Sunday services—occasionally with the help of friends. Their eight quarter peals include one for Sir Winston's 90th birthday, which was acknowledged by a telegram expressing Sir Winston's grateful thanks and best wishes.

There have also been rung fifty 720's mainly for Sunday service in no less than 24 different methods, viz.: Cambridge, Ipswich, Norwich, Netherseal and Hull Surprise, Oxford and Kent T.B., Double Oxford, Double Court, Spliced St. Clement's and Plain B., Plain B., Grandsire Minor, Oxford B., St. Clement's, College Exercise, Single Court, Woodbine T.B., London Bob, Hereward Bob, Reverse Canterbury Pleasure, College Single Reverse, and Grandsire Doubles and Plain Bob Doubles. In addition, the extent of Little Bob was rung which has only 480 changes.

This, writes Mr. L. Wright, the tower secretary, is, we feel, a record for Suffolk as so many bells are now silent owing to the lack of young people taking up campanology.

Kemerton's Young Ringers

The young handbell ringers of St. Nicholas', Kemerton, Glos, formed during Christmas, 1963, when they raised £15 in support of the 'Save the Children Fund', have been most successful this year, collecting over £36 in aid of the blind. Their progress has been most marked and their rendering of carols at the Evesham Council of Youth Festival gained for them warm congratulations. They have been greeted with much interest and hospitality wherever they ring.

A Double Loss

On the morning of December 5th, the village of Saxlingham Nethergate, Norfolk, suffered the tragic loss of its Rector, Rev. C. M. T. Hearn. Within 24 hours, his senior housekeeper, Miss Maud Rose, also died in hospital after an illness.

A double funeral followed on December 9th, conducted by the Bishop of Thetford, and after this a half-muffled peal of Plain Bob Major was attempted. However, this came to an abrupt halt owing to one of the ringers suffering from an attack of vertigo, which caused him to fall to the floor letting go of his rope. Fortunately neither he nor anyone else in the belfry was injured.

Saxlingham Nethergate has got a full local company once again and the band were pleased to ring out the old year and welcome the new for the first time for many years.

Bath Abbey Bells and the Old Year

Bath Spa Committee at their meeting on January 4th deplored the fact that the old year was not rung out on the Abbey bells. When told that many of the ringers lived some distance from the Abbey, the chairman (Ald. A. Hopkins) suggested a free taxi fare and another member a 'canned' New Year. 'Let's be up to date and have a recording,' he said. The committee finally agreed to write to the Rector (Preb. G. Lester) suggesting a Corporation contribution to the New Year peals. Only a few weeks ago the Abbey ringers were asked to forgo their practice as it was interfering with a function.

RESIDENTS AND ALIENS

A personal view

RECENT comments in 'The Ringing World' suggest that there are some in the Exercise who are keenly interested in the functions of peal and Sunday service ringing. I am led to express an opinion, for as a beginner I was undoubtedly fortunate, living halfway between two branches of a Guild. One of them possessed half a dozen dedicated good ringers who went nightly from tower to tower implanting the fundamentals of method ringing for Sunday service. The other started me on peals almost as soon as I could hunt. The combination of these two built up our Sunday band.

The peal ringing must, however, be good. Bad peals are the worst enemy of the art for, apart from the anti-pathetic feelings induced in the public, a bad long length produces in the participants a satisfaction with poor work and a contentment with second-best. Such sentiments are not good for their ringing and will lead ultimately to personal conflict.

Many ringers differentiate between the acceptable qualities of ringing for public and private records, and it is a rare person who can truthfully say that the peals he has rung are devoid of parts which he would prefer to forget. I have lost count of my peals, but at least this saves my deciding doubtful ones, such as the 'peal' I rang with no calls in the last three courses and a couple of which one could only say that they started and finished with rounds and were of the right length.

Such performances are rung for a Guild or Association affiliated to the Central Council and, failing enlivened letters to 'The Ringing World,' are accepted as true achievements. The Association, however, sometimes knows little about them or the ringers taking part. I have been in attempts where ringers were proposed as non-Resident Life Members of the local Guild on a 'No peal, no membership' basis. This is as hypocritical as protest peals against booking fees. I have heard ringing (subsequently published for another Guild) which, had it been for my Association, I should have contested with all my power. What if I had not heard it and we had later been asked to ratify the election of most of the band and to accept their 'peal'?

Why, in any case, should it be held that all peals in a territory ought to be for the local Association? Is it not better to have a peal rung by full members for 'The Trollope Diocesan Guild and The Barsetshire Association'?

Is not any other course just as misguided as the wedding compliment (discovered in 'The Ringing World' a month later) to persons unknown or the boast of being 'the first to turn the Tsar Kolokol in to Tovaritch Imperial Bob'?' How can peals rung in Barset by the Ranting Ringers on their summer tour possibly be to the credit of the Trollope Diocesan Guild, which elects them non-Resident Life Members, never sees or thinks of them again, and does not in fact know whether they are still alive six months later? What nonsense it is to judge the health of a Guild solely by its peals!

It is difficult to accept the proposal that full membership of one Guild should extend automatically to a member of another, even if both are affiliated to the Central Council. Yet non-Resident Life Membership, as currently practised, is bad for ringing and should be abolished. Peals for a Guild should be rung only by its ringing members who pay annual subscriptions, and affiliated (not non-Association) peals by ringing members of two or more Guilds should be welcomed.

I can visualise the hands raised in horror that this might rob an Association of peals and income. The former might give an incentive to Ringing Masters. As for the latter, it is important that members of an Association should be full and active, and if a Guild is relying on casual subscriptions to keep it solvent it is on its last legs and must reorganise to avoid death. It must go out to teach and to advance and encourage the art. It must aim at the best possible ringing in its own churches and by its own ringers. This means a continual willingness to teach all who wish to learn and a continual seeking of new blood. For its good ringers, it means long and regular journeys to Association meetings so that learners who go there will find competent people to help them. It means touches of the most advanced method possible with the available ringers and it means mundane methods so that the learners may have the opportunity and joy of ringing with a good band. It means catching hold for rounds as well as for London. It means unselfishness and hard work.

The inescapable point, of course, is that most of us are ringing primarily for the Church—it is not for nothing that the Central Council has that word in its title. Sunday service ringing and peal ringing are separable but are both so much better for being used as complements. For both of them ringers are always welcomed, be they young, old, resident, alien, yellow, brown, or pinko-grey.

What scope there is for fruitful discussion at Whitsuntide!

LATITUDE IN DUKE OF EDINBURGH'S AWARD

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of November 13th you published a request from me for comments on the remarks made by an instructor that the standard set in the syllabus for the Duke of Edinburgh's Award was too high and placed at a disadvantage people in areas where ringing was not of a very advanced standard.

To this I have had six replies, three from instructors and one from a candidate supporting this view. I am grateful to them for writing, although no one offered any positive suggestions for amendment. But from the letters generally I think some misunderstanding exists on the subject, possibly because those concerned may not be in possession of the Handbook issued by the Award Office. I have before me the 1963 Edition, in para 1 of the Introduction to which is the following reference to the various syllabuses for approved subjects:

'These should be regarded solely as guidance to tutors and assessors; they must NOT be regarded as set standards.'

Further on occur these two paragraphs:

(16) The particular feature of this section is that the candidate is assessed on interest, progress and genuine sustained effort shown during the stipulated minimum period, and not on the attainment of any fixed standard. This sets a premium on the candidate's ability: it also enables the late starter and the less gifted to be assessed on level terms with those who have already progressed in a leisure pursuit, or who are quicker or more skilful than himself.

(17) Thus, a good deal of latitude is necessarily given to Operating Authorities in evaluating the effort devoted by the candidate. In practice, the onus must mainly lie with the adult tutor in the particular subject, who should be closely in touch with the candidate throughout the stipulated period. In many cases it will be appropriate for the tutor to act as assessor.

And the Introduction ends with:

'The basic principle of assessment is genuine maintained effort.'

From the foregoing it is, I think, clear that local circumstances need not affect a candidate's chances of qualifying for any of the stages of the Award, so long as he shows the necessary enthusiasm and application over the required period. I hope this will be of encouragement to those who were good enough to write.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT,
Honorary Secretary.

RAVING RINGERS' REUNION 1965

The 1965 reunion saw the Ravers in Hertfordshire, and on the evening of January 1st members were due to assemble at 28, Jennings Road, St. Albans. Those who reached the rendezvous early had a ring at North Mymps.

The sharp frost on Saturday morning did not deter proceedings. Codicote was followed by Stevenage, where some good ringing took place, including Stedman, four Spliced Surprise Major and Plain Bob. At Baldock the Master and his fiancée were presented by the Wotton Wonder with a church pamphlet on marriage! Hitchin was visited before lunch, but, alas! in a touch of Norwich the fifth rope broke.

Some good towers were arranged for the afternoon, including Luton (10), where Stedman, Grandsire, Cambridge and Little Bob were rung. At Redbourn the Ravers were united with their 'tenor king' and his wife, who are now living in Ireland. The reunion supper, as usual, was very lively, the highlight being a taped message from Past Master Ron Russ, who is now in Australia.

Ringing on Sunday morning was on the 10 and 12 in St. Albans. In the afternoon everybody was delighted with the light six at Radlett, to be followed by South Mymps and Wheathamstead, where goodbyes were said. Our special thanks are due to Ken Darvill, Mr. and Mrs. Darvill and Clare. The reunion was one of the best we have had. B. J. D.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 19

DAVID J. HERSCHELL,
The Guildford Diocesan Guild.

At the present time the Guildford Diocesan Guild is enjoying good fortune for, as well as a new Cathedral and handsome gifts of money enabling it to install a ring of ten bells early this year, it has a number of 'Up and Coming Youngsters' who, it is hoped, will continue to maintain the Guild's excellent standard of ringing and Guild administration created by such well known members, past and present, as John S. Goldsmith, A. H. Pulling, William Melville, Robert Whittington, Charles N. Burdock, Charles Hazelden, William J. Robinson, Frederick Bennett, William Day, George L. Grover, William Beeson, Charles Denyer and a host of others.

One such youngster, presented to the Exercise by the Guild's Ringing Master, Mr. Douglas A. R. May, is David J. Herschell.

David was born at North Finchley, London, on October 26th, 1944, and has lived at Epsom, Surrey, since 1952. He passed the 13-plus exam to Kingston Technical School, leaving at the age of sixteen having obtained his G.C.E. For a career he has chosen banking and is at present employed by the Trustee Savings Bank at the Sutton Branch as cashier, having previously served in the branches at Morden and Kingston. Whilst at Kingston he was able to take part in the ringing at the Parish Church for the Tuesday lunch-time services. He shortly leaves the Trustee Bank to take up an appointment at the Westminster Bank Ltd.

David started ringing at the age of fourteen and so became the second Herschell to join the Guildford Guild. The first was the Rev. Sir John C. W. Herschel (spelt with one 'l'), ringing parson and astronomer, and Rector of West Clandon from 1919 to 1934.

David was taught to ring at Christ Church, Epsom Common, by Mr. William Parrott and the late Mr. Frank Oakshott. His first peal was when he rang the fifth to Bob Mignor at the Church of St. Mary, Buckland, Surrey, and was conducted by Mr. Nick Webb. His total of some sixteen peals range from Minor to Caters, and includes his first as conductor. This was Plain Bob Minor consisting of seven different extents rung at Christ Church, Mitcham, on August 25th, 1962. It is not surprising that this youngster's chief ambition as a ringer is to become an efficient conductor. His keen interest in the Guild's administration has gained for him a place on the Executive Committee. David pays tribute to that widely known ringer—thousand pealer and tenor king—Pat Cannon, who has helped him with his ringing during the last two years, and with whom he has rung his best peals.

Other ringing Associations with which he is connected are the Surrey Association and Ancient Society of College Youths, and he has other interests in the Church besides ringing. He is a server at Christ Church, Epsom, and a short time ago became a member of the Guild of the Servants of the Sanctuary.

Well done, David! The Guildford Guild should be proud of you. NORVING.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD Chertsey District

There was a good turn out for the Chertsey District A.G.M. at Hersham on January 9th, when ringing was under the direction of Mr. F. E. Hawthorne and included Double Norwich. The Guild office was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. F. Hargroves, who gave the District a hearty welcome.

Following an excellent tea, the Guild Master, Mr. D. A. R. May, took the chair for the business meeting. The following officers were elected for 1965: District Master, Mr. C. Webb (Hersham); Assistant District Master, Mr. D. G. Blows; District secretary, Mr. R. Collins. Mr. May thanked the retiring officers for their hard work, and congratulated David Leach on his recent marriage.

The secretary reported an increase in membership and an average of 40 at the meetings held the previous year, which compared well with 1963. All towers were manned on Sundays except Weybridge, where a special effort was needed to get the bells going again.

Mr. Hawthorne stressed the need for better striking at all times, especially for those who aspired to ring on the new Cathedral bells.

Ten new junior and four new ringers were elected from Horsell, Chertsey, East Molesey and Thames Ditton.

Guild officers nominated were: Master, D. A. R. May; general secretary, C. W. Munday; treasurer, C. Kippin; auditor, P. Sherwood. Sixty ringers attended the meeting. Further ringing up to Cambridge Major completed the day. R. C.

A FULL DAY IN LONDON

In order to have the maximum benefit of their day's ringing in London, six Worcestershire ringers and one from Somerset arrived on Friday, January 8th.

The programme started with the light eight at St. Olave's, Hart Street, followed by St. Lawrence Jewry, where a slight accident occurred. After the seventh was raised, a slider was found to have 'jumped' out. This did not prevent an excellent ring, St. George's, Borough, and lunch near London Bridge station followed.

The highlight of the day was Southwark Cathedral and ringing of Stedman Cinques and Plain Bob Maximus. Other churches in the afternoon were St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, and the R.C. Church at Clapham Common. Two excellent rings came after tea—St. Stephen's, Clapham Park, and Holy Trinity, Wandsworth. Visits were also paid to All Saints', Wandsworth, and St. Mary's, Putney.

Methods rung were Plain Bob Maximus, Stedman Cinques, Grandsire Caters, London Surprise Major, Putney Surprise, Cambridge Surprise, Double Norwich, Single Oxford and Plain Bob Major. Stedman Triples and Grandsire Triples. A very good standard of ringing was maintained throughout the day.

Our thanks are accorded to Mr. M. J. Uphill for arranging the tour, Ann Horsford, Tony Clayton and Mrs. Uphill for finding accommodation for the night, John Maybrey and John Weaver for coping with the transport, and all incumbents, tower secretaries and tower masters, who made the tour possible. J. E. W.

UNIVERSITIES ASSOCIATION'S WEEK-END AT BRISTOL

ON January 2nd Bristol produced blue skies and sunshine to welcome the Universities Association, making its first visit there for its annual dinner.

Bells available for ringing were Holy Nativity, Knowle, St. Mary Redcliffe, the Cathedral and Christ Church. St. James' was omitted, as it lacked one clapper, and it was unfortunate that not enough ringers turned up at Redcliffe to ring the 12. Some members were able to make up for this when they joined the service band on Sunday morning. At Christ Church it was once again demonstrated that these bells repay good striking even more than most.

After the service at Christ Church, the party dispersed to prepare for dinner at the Grosvenor. This was preceded by one of the Association's two annual meetings (the other always being held on the summer tour). The U.A. is fortunately blessed with very able officers, and the president, Mr. Paul Taylor, dealt with all business with great expedition. The arrangements for the 1965 tour at Lumley Castle, Chester-le-Street (including, it is hoped, a raid over the border to Edinburgh), and and for next year's dinner, at Nottingham, received unanimous approval. The auditor could find no fault with the accounts, this being one of the years when he had seen them!

Just over 40 people sat down to dinner. Speeches were kept to a minimum—an old U.A. tradition—and therefore were more appreciated, especially the toast of 'The Church' by our member from Pudsey. A fairly recently joined member was sent to bed happy in the knowledge that once he had paid a subscription of 1s, he was a member for life—another of the U.A.'s little peculiarities.

Some of the keener members rang at four towers for service on Sunday morning, which is a tribute to the staggered hours of church services in Bristol. (Contrary to widespread belief, service times are not fixed by the local ringers.)

Thanks for organising the ringing and dinner are due to our efficient secretary Don Excell, who also gave the necessary information to enable motorists to venture into this city of parking meters without falling foul of the law. (At least, so far as is known.)

Members left Bristol promising to meet again either 'on tour' or 'at the next dinner,' feeling once again that this is a useful Association, which through its hundreds of members is a link between the different University Associations, many of which it helped to create. J.G.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

A very successful year was reviewed at the annual meeting of the Archdeaconry of Halifax Guild, held at Ripponden Parish Church on January 9th. Comments of officers were: Honorary secretary: Warm thanks to incumbents, tower captains and members for general help; honorary treasurer: Best financial year during his periods of office; Ringing Master: Improved quality of ringing at meetings.

Officers elected were: Chairman, Mr. P. Birkett; Ringing Master, Mr. R. Senior; secretary, Miss W. Mortimer; treasurer, Mr. A. W. Bond; auditor, Mr. A. Rogers; committee, Messrs. W. Holroyd, H. Quarmby and D. Smith.

In thanking the local company, Mr. A. Armitage mentioned the excellent arrangements, tea and well-cared for bells. Ringing was enjoyed to 9 o'clock.

Next meeting: Shelley. Special method: London Surprise Minor.

A NEW TECHNIQUE FOR TOWERS

Dear Sir.—I was interested in your article on tower design in the issue of October 23rd as this was a subject which came up after a meeting and I am further prompted by Mr. Chaddock's article on sound control.

Just as modern architecture has broken away from traditional building methods by virtue of new techniques, so should the concept of a church tower be liberated from stone and mortar. A 'tower' as such is no longer a necessity. The basic problem is to support a bell frame adequately at a suitable height from the ground, to provide somewhere from which to handle the ropes, and to enclose the bells so that the sound can be suitably directed, and preferably also shut in at will. This is an engineering rather than an architectural problem though of course there is no reason why the architect should not concern himself with the appearance of the resulting structure and its integration into the whole building. I enclose a sketch of one possible form which a bell 'tower' may take.

The main supports could be steel or reinforced concrete, set at an angle to withstand the lateral stresses of the bells without being unduly massive, which become one unit with the bell frame. The bells are enclosed in a light metal or wooden box, lined with insulating material or perhaps a double glass sphere would be more interesting for spectators, and variable openings are provided to let out the sound, preferably from near the top, for Sunday ringing or on other suitable occasions. Suspended from the frame is the ringing chamber which can take any form at all. There are no lateral stresses on this except for wind (or unruly ringers).

The whole thing could be free-standing if added to an existing church or it could stand over a low church building with the ringing chamber being provided on the roof of the church. Alternatively the supporting girders could be within the structure of the church either concealed or visible. Wells cathedral provides a good Gothic precedent for the latter if any is needed. What about a metal spire on top? The possibilities are legion provided that it is 'always borne in mind that the supported bell frame is the one central reason for the existence of the whole structure.'

Perhaps those better qualified than I would comment on such matters as cost and practical limitations. I am sure that the provision of new belfries with new churches is an important matter if the art of bell-ringing is to remain a part of living Christianity.—Yours truly,

GEORGE FUTERS

Letters to the Editor

No Peal, but you can come to our Practice

Dear Sir,—Having in mind the notorious Penn controversy, it is perhaps not surprising that Giles B. Thompson should sign his letter on page 20 as 'Anarchist.'

I am flattered that he finds me to be a well known member of the C.C. and a high-up in 'my' Association. My manners I know to be deplorable, but in making his complaint about my discourtesy, he might perhaps have advised your readers that he wrote direct to the Rector of Sevenoaks for a peal attempt on a Monday—the day of the local weekly practice. He did not send a stamped, addressed envelope for reply and he was, therefore, indeed fortunate to receive my somewhat terse (and admittedly ill-tempered) reply.

It has subsequently become apparent that he was arranging a peal tour in the district and whereas, as an anarchist, he is under no compulsion to observe the courtesies, others making arrangements of this kind quite frequently make a point of seeking assistance and information from local ringers. I am sure they often have no need of the assistance they receive, but it does promote a nice friendly feeling, whether the locals be 'high-ups' or 'low-ups.'

Except for peal attempts there is not, and during recent years has not been, any bar at Sevenoaks or any 'strings' to permission for visiting ringers who make their requests in a reasonable way. We have a very keen and competent local band and we ring the bells regularly. We would love to ring peals on our own bells and for others to do so, but as a matter of policy we have refrained from peal attempts for several years as we wanted to persuade the Church Council to have the bells rehung in a new frame. Our patience has been rewarded and an order placed for the work. I may add that we made a particular exception and rang a peal in December as a courtesy to our Rector, of whom we are very fond, on a special personal occasion.

I write as captain of the Sevenoaks ringers rather than as general secretary of the Kent County Association, but I am, of course, aware that 'my' Association has received sufficient financial benefit from Mr. Thompson's tour to solve our money problems for years to come. In addition of course we are suitably uplifted and encouraged that Mr. Thompson was able to ring various peals on 'our' bells, thereby suitably reducing our opportunities for our amateurish and stumbling performances.

Now that Mr. Thompson knows we ring at Sevenoaks on Monday evenings we shall be very pleased to see him at any time provided he is tough enough to withstand the hectoring and bullying methods we adopt in asserting our authority over those who have the temerity to ring 'our' bells.—Yours faithfully,

P. A. CORBY.

Sevenoaks.

Previous Museum Exhibitions

Dear Sir.—Mr. Victor Sheppard may like to know that at the 1926 meeting of the Central Council the Hon. Secretary, Mr. E. Alexander Young, reported on behalf of the Science Museum Exhibit Committee that 'they had now in the National Science Museum a small section illustrating their Art and that it included the famous ringing machine invented by Mr. John Carter.'

I seem to remember that this was still on display in the early 1930s (certainly the machine itself was) but that it wasn't very comprehensive — nothing like the one Mr. Sheppard's enthusiasm has produced at Brighton. But I suppose it was quite an achievement to be recognised at 'South Ken'.—Yours faithfully,

F. A. BARNETT.

Outings—good and bad points

Dear Sir,—I read Mr. Maybrey's letter on the subject of ringing outings with interest and I heartily agree with most of what he says. Whilst I do not claim to be any authority on ringing outings there are a few points which I feel should be added.

Let me start with three questions:

(1) Would Mr. Maybrey's idea of a Central Council committee really be a workable proposition?

(2) Would such a committee, if formed, really serve a useful purpose? and

(3) Is it really best that procedure should be standardised at all, let alone to the degree suggested?

Many visiting bands already perform the valuable service of "keeping the bells going" in towers with no bands of their own. Such towers in a county like, say, Dorset are all too numerous—well over half the total I would say—and it would be good if we were all to give such towers much more of our attention. How many ringers contribute to the towers that they visit, either financially or by doing a little elementary 'steeple-keeping' where it is obviously needed? Whilst I am all in favour of the C.C. giving guidance to those inexperienced in arranging outings, I think the responsibility must and should rest with the individual.

I don't know if this is the general attitude, but at Leigh we always welcome all visitors who care to come (now that the bells are in reasonable condition). While most people, including our local residents, find it a pleasure to listen to first-class ringing, we don't always expect to hear such from the bands that visit Leigh. Most of these are Sunday service bands, from other churches, whose standards of ringing naturally depend upon circumstances at home. The standard of our own band isn't very high as we started from scratch less than two years ago.

Damage can easily be done in more sensitive towers by bands such as the one which recently sought permission to ring between 4.30 and 5.15 on Saturday afternoon. They eventually turned up after 5.20, without giving any reason for the delay, and proceeded to fire the bells for ten minutes!

What would really strengthen the Exercise, surely, would be the elimination of "tower grabbing" purely for the sake of scoring: something which the publication of lists in the R.W. is bound to encourage. Let the aim of those ringers who like to visit different towers instead be:—

(1) To try to choose for their outings those towers where the bells need ringing

(2) To support service ringing and practices in the many towers where outside help is really needed and

(3) To strive to improve the standard of their own ringing.

For those who belong to struggling bands, or whose towers have no band at all, visiting other towers is of course the only way of progressing. Here I speak from personal experience and I should like to say how kind and helpful I have found so many ringers and how grateful I am to them.

May I make a final plea that we stop using the horrid term 'the use of your bells'? Bells are rung, not used and this seems to strike at the heart of the matter.—Yours faithfully,

CHRISTOPHER DUTTON.

Leigh, Surrey.

Campanologia, 1702

Dear Sir,—If Mr. Savory is ever in this area I shall be happy to show him my copy of Campanologia Improved (1702), which was the subject of a letter to 'The Ringing World' about Whitson, 1952.

Photostat copies of pages to complete his copy are probably available from the Cambridge University Library, which supplied a couple for the Cambridge University Guild in 1954.—Yours faithfully,

ROGER B. MORRIS.

Oswestry, Salop.

'A Delightful Tribute'

Dear Sir,—R.W. p. 24 Belfry Gossip repeats part of a letter by R. H. Mansell, of Birmingham, describing the Christmas Day bells as 'absolutely perfect striking from start to finish,' but I trust that he doesn't really mean this. It is indeed a 'delightful tribute'—but it isn't true, and whilst it is appreciated that Christmas is the time for goodwill we mustn't let our superlatives run away with us.

Some of the striking was very good, some of it was nearly perfect but none of it was absolutely perfect. Listen again to the recording of the bells of Drumo, N.I., and Alloa, Mr. Mansell, and if you still think that this striking is even good, then I will be most surprised—especially as you come from Birmingham, where I am given to understand they do a little fairly good ringing from time to time.

Perfection, in all walks of life, is a difficult thing to obtain. There are no degrees thereof: it is either perfect or it is not, and if we use the word where it is not justified there is always the danger that standards will fall. So let's have it right shall we, and amend Mr. Mansell's remarks to read 'the striking, for the most part, was very good'—and that is still a 'delightful tribute'.—Yours faithfully, Chilcompton, Bath.

M. HEYMANN.

Friesland's View

Dear Sir,—As soon as I knew that 'The Sound of Bells' by Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd was affirmed and acknowledged I had hoped that the message of the bells and in respect to him, that Christmas Day would have been just it.

Anyhow I do hope that the authority who holds the broadcasting will some day put in an effort towards such a day.—Yours fraternally,

JOSEPH BURGESS.

Friesland.

First Quarter at Pluckley

Dear Sir,—With reference to the interesting article by Mr. N. J. Davis re Pluckley, Kent, and the claim to a quarter peal of Minor rung in 1959 being the first recorded on the bells I would like to mention that I had the pleasure of calling a quarter peal of Doubles there on May 18th, 1935. This was rung on the back 5 and rung after meeting short for the peal attempt, caused through putting the wrong post town on a letter, thereby causing it to be delayed in the post.—Yours sincerely, Dorking.

A. PAT CANNON.

'Cowardly and poor spirited'

Dear Sir,—I am prompted to write after the publication of the letter from 'Anarchist' (page 20), whoever he may be.

It is particularly nauseating to read the letters every week in the 'R.W.' only to find that the writer does not possess the manliness and courtesy to sign his own name, but has to use a nom-de-plume to avoid recognition. In my opinion it is thoroughly deplorable, and shows the writer to be very cowardly and poor-spirited. He certainly cannot be a popular member of society if he is so chicken-hearted that he dare not let everyone know that it is he who holds a particular opinion. So, Mr. Anarchist, don't have cold feet, but pluck up courage and let us all know who you are.

Finally, I would like to suggest to 'Anarchist' that, when he next writes a letter, he should keep to the point and not pass on to trivialities about when he applies to towers for peals. What connection that has with Norman Mallett's question of non-Association peals is anybody's guess: I suppose he wanted to save the 3d. stamp!—Yours faithfully,

M. F. LOCK.

Exeter, Devon.

The Origin of 'Mewslade'

Dear Sir,—'Mewslade,' the name given to Court Bob Minor, first rung on handbells on October 10th, 1964, originates from one of the bays in Gower, named Mewslade.—Yours faithfully,

J. ARTHUR HOAR.

108 Stedman Triples

Dear Sir.—With reference to the 108 of Stedman Triples. I would say that such a length is unobtainable. My reasoning is as follows:—

If rounds is to occur after 108 changes the row 2314567 must occur after 110 changes, assuming the touch is allowed to continue. So row 2314567, the second change of the touch, must occur exactly 18 sixes later for there to be a touch of 108 changes.

Define a 'block' to be a Slow six and the following Quick six. Then the 18 sixes form 9 blocks. Let us take note of the last rows of the blocks only. Also, for simplicity, instead of 2314567 (the last row of the first block) let us begin with 1234567 and endeavour to produce row 1234567 nine blocks later.

From 1234567 there are nine possibilities for the row of the next block, seven of which are different (B.S. produces the same row as S.B. and S.S. the same row as B.B.). These seven rows are:

2463175 2453167
2463157 2453176

Two important points to note are:—

(I) that 4ths place bell always becomes 2nds place bell, 2nds place bell becomes 1st place bell and 1st place bell becomes 5ths place bell. One deduction is that the bell in 4ths place of a block will always be in 5ths place three blocks later.

(II) 5ths place bell cannot be 4ths place bell of the next block.

On a large piece of paper draw a rectangle, seven squares along by ten squares down. In the first and tenth rows enter 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. Each row will represent the end change of a block. Fill in the definite entries as shown.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

This follows because of I. Now, starting with row two, write in all the possibilities for each square. For example, bells in 5ths or 6ths place could move to 3rds place in the next row. So in row 2, col. 3 write 5, 6; in row 2, col. 4 write 3, 6, 7, etc. Do the same for row 3. In col. 4 bells 3, 5, 6, 7 should appear. The 5th can be crossed out since, by I, it will appear in row 6, col. 5. This is impossible since we've already fixed the 5th in row 7, col. 4 (see II).

Continue the process for row 4. Bells 1, 3, 5, 6, 7 should occupy col. 4. Using I and II notice that 1, 5 can be crossed out. This leaves bells 3, 6, 7 only, in columns 1, 2, 4. Therefore these bells must share these columns (in row 4) between them. And, as a result 3, 6, 7 can be crossed out in col. 3 (the only other place they occur in row 4).

In row 5 you'll be pleased to read that we need only consider col. 4. This position can only be occupied by bells 1, 2, 5. Using I and II we see that this is incompatible with the positions already fixed; therefore there is no solution.—Yours sincerely,

R. BLACKLER.

Tower Vibrations

Dear Sir.—In the November 6th issue of 'The Engineer,' there appears an article dealing with the vibration of buildings, written by Dr. Josef Geiger, a German consulting engineer from Augsburg. Much of Dr. Geiger's article is devoted to church steeples which he claims can vibrate dangerously due to the ringing of the bells.

After describing simple methods for measuring the oscillations of towers and discussing the forces which create them, Dr. Geiger goes on to discuss possible methods for eliminating the vibrations.

His favourite treatment, among others, is to attach a weight to the headstock of the bell with the object of lowering its frequency of swing by a small amount and so avoid resonance.

My own view on this treatment is that it may very well work admirably for continental bells which are rung by mechanical means, but certainly not for English bells which are rung to changes. The frequency of swing of bells rung to changes is continuously altering; thus the avoidance of the resonance condition is not so necessary and moreover is almost impossible. Also imagine what the ringer's reaction would be if he arrived one Sunday to find that Dr. Geiger had made his bell abominably slow at both backstroke and handstroke.

Dr. Geiger writes of an experience at St. George's Cathedral, Perth, New South Wales, and the implication that he eliminated vibrations by treating two bells; he also implies he has operated in England. Does anyone know more details of his activities and what was the result from the ringers' point of view? —Yours sincerely,

G. A. HALLS.

Tape Recordings

Dear Sir.—I feel that out of 55,000 odd ringers in the British Isles some must own a tape recorder, a few might even use it to record bells. If so I should be very pleased to contact them.

My recorder will accept all size spools up to 7" two or four track, and at speeds from 15/16 i.p.s. to 7½ i.p.s.

If space in your paper and enough people are interested we might even have a tapespondence column.—Yours sincerely,

G. R. ASHCROFT.

The Marbury Peal

Dear Sir.—I find other ringers, like myself, are somewhat puzzled by Mr. F. R. Morton's withdrawal of the peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Marbury on November 14th.

If, as is presumably the case, rounds was clearly struck at the 5,040th row, surely this must be rated as true a peal as one where the bells are immediately 'stood' or dropped (a frequent practice which I, personally, deplore), unless of course there is some rule governing the number of rounds to be rung at the end of a peal?

I am under the impression—one which, however, is open to correction—that in the past I have seen one or two isolated reports of peals of Doubles in excess of 42 six-scores at, for instance, the fifteen possible six-scores of Stedman Doubles each called thrice (5,040 changes).—Yours sincerely,

T. R. BUTLER.

Liverpool.

Aggrieved

Dear Sir.—Whilst we have come to accept the misreporting in the lay press of technical terms used in ringing, a recent article in the London 'Evening Standard' which quoted my name contained such ludicrous inaccuracies that I must seek the courtesy of your columns to deny responsibility for the gross misrepresentation of the simple facts of ringing which were explained to the reporter, who arrived without notice during service ringing.

Bizarre phrases such as '1,260 changes of tone and chord' are possibly the reporter's revenge for my refusal to give the right answers to his many leading questions: I can only ask those who wasted their time reading the article to treat it with the hilarity it deserved.—Yours faithfully,

A. BOYACK.

Clocks by J. G. H. Hoch

Dear Sir.—I have recently written the story of the Danesfield Clock at the Officers' Mess, Royal Air Force, Danesfield, Medmenham, Marlow, Bucks, made in 1900 by John George Henry Hoch (1836-1918), of 311, Brixton Road, London.

I know of two further clocks made by him, but I believe there are others and if any of your readers know of any such clocks I should be glad if they would let me know.—Yours faithfully,

H. B. JEFFERIES,

Squadron Leader (Retd.).

H. and M. Incidence of Falseness

Dear Sir.—As from last week I am discontinuing the advertisement for Vol. II of H. & M. As I have only some dozen copies left it is no longer economic to advertise, and I shall therefore be very pleased to receive any further orders as soon as possible.—Yours faithfully,

A. S. HUDSON.

EAST GRINSTEAD & DISTRICT GUILD DINNER

As usual the Guild Dinner proved very popular and the 60 tickets available were all well and truly booked by the end of 1964.

On January 9th we met in high spirits at the Castle Hotel, Tunbridge Wells, even though two peals had been lost earlier in the day. Once again we were honoured with the presence of our President, Rev. J. R. Missen. There were two toasts apart from 'The Queen': the first 'The Church' proposed by Mr. L. Fox with our President replying and keeping us in 'stitches' with his funny jokes.

Mr. E. J. Ladd proposed 'The East Grinstead and District Guild' and gave some facts for the benefit of our many young members, on the beginning of the Guild and its aims. He finished by congratulating the two couples who had recently become engaged. Mr. B. E. Jeffrey replied and said how pleased he was with the enthusiastic attendance and hoped members would attend forthcoming meetings. The President thanked Mr. E. J. Ladd and his daughter for making the dinner arrangements. A course of Stedman Triples was rung on handbells by Margaret A. Ladd, Mrs. F. I. Hairs, F. I. Hairs and E. J. Ladd.

Tables were then removed and we sat back for the raffle and entertainment provided by members of the Guild ranging from songs by R. A. Large, impersonation by C. Osborn, short sketches and the Edenbridge Echoes. The evening was voted by many to be 'the best.'

PRESENTATION TO MISS C. L. MASON

During an interval between touches of ringing for Evensong on her last Sunday as vice-captain of the Chilvers Coton, Warwickshire, ringers, 18-year-old Christine Lesley Mason was presented with a copy of Mr. E. C. Shepherd's 'The Sound of Bells' as a parting gift from her fellow ringers. Mr. A. H. Beamish in making the presentation said that the good wishes of all the ringers went with her together with thanks for her loyalty and friendship. He wished her Godspeed in her new sphere of activities and assured her a warm welcome whenever she visited us. She had forged a valuable link between the over forties and the under twenties and welded them into a complete band.

In accepting the gift Christine thanked all who had helped her to reach the standard she had attained and hoped that her successor as vice-captain would be selected from the younger age group.

STILETTO HEELS BARRED

No major decorating work has taken place for over 30 years in the ringing chamber of St. John's, Leicester. Consequently, last September the ringers set about the gigantic task of renovation, devoting one evening a week for this purpose.

Many weeks of preparation passed before any visible signs of progress became apparent: a considerable amount of repair work was necessary on the walls, making good damaged plaster and restoring perished surfaces to a suitable condition for receiving the 'new look.' Apart from one or two minor items, the work was completed just before Christmas with the laying of new floor covering.

The colour scheme is of pleasing shades of pale lemon and silver grey on the walls, the two sections of colour being separated by a black rail. Entrance door and cupboard are ice blue. A pleasant contrast is in the warm red floor covering.

The ringers have installed new lighting (one is an electrician by trade). Two large opal spheres have been fitted, each carrying a 150 watt lamp.

With regret, it has been found necessary to strictly prohibit the wearing of stiletto or any kind of sharp heeled footwear in the ringing chamber as it has been discovered that this will cause serious damage to the floor covering. Visitors accordingly are respectfully reminded of this as the ringers do not wish to disappoint anyone visiting their tower.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Some 30 ringers were present from 10 towers when the Association's winter quarterly meeting was held at Heanor on January 2nd. After a short ring in the afternoon on the medium 15 cwt. octave, the company gratefully adjourned to the warmth and comfort of the Church Hall, where the wives and friends of the local company had prepared an excellent meal.

The start of the business meeting, with Dr. G. Futers in the chair, was marked by a moment's silence for Provost H. Ham, a former Association president, who died on December 2nd, aged 95.

Following the re-election of Mrs. G. Halls and Mrs. D. Carlisle as auditors for the current year, the general secretary, Mr. B. P. Morris, announced that the new Association badges—in the shape of a bell and headstock—would shortly be available. He also gave preliminary notice of the A.G.M. in Derby on April 24th.

Although more tickets than ever are available for the annual dinner—to be held at the Odeon, Chesterfield, on February 20th—members were urged to obtain theirs without delay as they were likely to be in great demand. Both the Derby and Ilkeston Districts are hoping to arrange coaches, starting from Derby and Sawley respectively.

New members elected were Mr. J. Frear (Heanor), Mr. and Mrs. C. Thrower (Derby) and Mr. J. C. Bradshaw (unattached). A special welcome was paid to the Rev. St. John Smith, Rector of Darley Dale and president of the Lancashire Association. In reply the Rector said he had very deep roots in Derbyshire as not only was he born in Ripley but his father had been Rector of Heanor for 13 years, and his grandfather Rector of Sandiacre for 30 years.

A collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised nearly £3. The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector, the local company and the ladies for providing tea. Further ringing was then enjoyed.

MR. DOVE WAS RIGHT

Concerning Oakham tenor, Mr. T. G. Briggs, of Melton Mowbray, writes: 'To put Mr. Rogers' mind at rest, its weight is as quoted by Mr. Dove, as witness the peal reported in "The Ringing World" on page 41. The bells "go" well and I have enjoyed several quarters there.'

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Ashford District

About 45 members were present at the Ashford District annual meeting at Wye on January 9th. The service was conducted by the Rev. P. T. Robbins, and tea in the new Village Hall was kindly provided and served by the Wye ringers.

The honorary District secretary's report and balance sheet for 1964 showed a successful year. Membership had increased by 48 practising members to 225 (192 adults and 33 juniors). Honorary members numbered 32, an increase of 10. Thirty-five towers showed subscribers. Average attendance at the eight meetings was 36. Service ringing was on the whole well maintained. Biddenden, Lympe and Willesborough had rung for every service. Thirty-two peals had been rung, and these included 12 resident first pealers. Notable among the peals were one at Cheriton by ladies from Folkestone and Lympe, and the first on the bells at Pluckley. Ashford and Mersham are now undergoing restoration.

Among the distinguished visitors was Mr. Bert May, honorary treasurer of the Association, who congratulated the District on a successful year, during which they had received over £63 to him.

Pluckley was announced to be the next place of meeting on February 20th. Eight new members joined the Association.

The thanks of the visitors was expressed by Mr. Alan Berry (Ringing Master) to the Rev. P. T. Robbins for taking the service and acting as chairman, and Mr. Eric Weston (captain of the Wye band) and his ringers, for their hospitality.

C. T. H.

Tonbridge District

It was a pleasure for members of the Tonbridge District to visit Leigh, on the occasion of their first meeting of the New Year on January 2nd. As usual, Mr. B. Pankhurst had kindly made the arrangements, and for many of the members it was their first ascent into the belfry by means of the new iron staircase replacing the old wooden ladder.

The six bells were rung before the service, which was conducted by Rev. J. H. Bounds who welcomed the members and said he was pleased that Leigh had been chosen when it had been found that Hadlow bells were not available.

Tea was enjoyed at 'The Fleur de Lis' before the District meeting, with Mr. P. A. Corby in the chair. After the meeting members were able to ring at Leigh, and also at Shipbourne.

M. A. L.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Forty-two members and friends attended the Biggleswade District A.G.M. held at Biggleswade on January 9th.

The Rev. J. H. Dominey conducted a short and most fitting service, which was followed by tea in the Memorial Hall, kindly prepared by the local ladies. The meeting elected the following officers: chairman, Mr. P. Mehew; secretary, Mr. K. Fleming; committee, Miss S. Percival, Mr. R. J. Sharp, Mr. M. J. Lockey and Mr. D. Saunderson; organist, Mr. M. J. Lockey; press secretary, Miss A. Alexander.

Ringing during the afternoon and evening ranged from rounds for the learners to Surprise Major for the more experienced.

Next meeting: Clifton (8), February 13th.

A.R.A.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD

Andover District

Most encouraging reports were presented by the secretary and treasurer at the annual meeting of the Andover District, at Whitechurch on January 9th, with Mr. A. W. Alliston in the chair. Membership was up on the previous year and good attendances were forthcoming for the 12 monthly practices and at the quarterly meetings.

Canon K. W. H. Felstead, Master of the Guild, congratulated the District on its successful year and again emphasised the need to strike well, whatever methods were attempted.

Further ringing followed after tea at Whitechurch and Laverstoke in methods ranging from Grandfire to Cambridge Surprise Major.

OBITUARY

MR. R. N. ELLIOTT

Finchampstead, Berks, has lost its tower foreman by the death on January 6th of Mr. Robert N. Elliott, at his Eversley home. He was 59.

'Bob,' who learned to ring in the Bradfield district, was not a peal ringer, but his infectious smile and quiet manner endeared him to all who knew him.

Local ringers and a Ringing Master of the Sonning Branch of the Oxford Guild attended the funeral service at Eversley Church on Saturday, January 9th. W. J. H. P.

MR. CHARLES J. BALL

The Bedfordshire Association deeply regret the passing of Mr. Charles J. Ball on December 23rd, in his 79th year.

He learned to ring at Tempsford just before the 1914 war. On moving to Sandy in 1919 he joined the Association. In 1922 he was elected as Secretary to the Biggleswade District and carried this office from strength to strength, with his forceful personality, until retiring in 1952. He continued ringing until four years ago but attended the meetings at Sandy until his death.

The bells were rung half-muffled, by members of the Biggleswade District, both before and after the funeral service on December 29th at St. Swithin's, Sandy. A peal of Bristol rung at Maulden and a quarter peal at Sandy by local District ringers were attributed in memoriam. A.S.

MR. R. V. EVANS

With the passing of Mr. Robert Victor Evans on January 5th, at the age of 68, Hughenden has lost its oldest ringer, the last of the old band. He was a nephew of the late John Evans, who is renowned, having conducted the first peal of London in the Oxford Diocesan Guild in 1892, and with other Hughenden ringers rang a number of peals with J. W. Washbrook and the Rev. F. E. Robinson. Vic was an ardent churchman, having served his church as churchwarden and sidesman over a number of years. He was elected a member of the Oxford Guild in 1914. His ringing was confined mostly to the tenor behind, as he could always be relied upon to maintain an excellent beat. He rang in only 40 peals, all but three at Hughenden.

The interment was at Hughenden on January 9th and the large congregation paid their last respects. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the open grave by A. Newton 1-2, D. A. Cornwall 3-4, R. Biggs 5-6, P. Newton 7-8. This was followed by half-muffled ringing on the tower bells. In the evening an in memoriam peal of Grandsire Triples was rung half-muffled. May he rest in peace. R. B.

MR. GEORGE MONK

It is with regret that we have to report the death of Mr. George Monk on January 1st, who on December 29th, 1964, celebrated his 90th birthday.

He had up to two years ago been a regular Sunday service ringer at St. Mellons Parish Church, Cardiff, from 1914. The ringers of St. Mellons rang a quarter peal for evening service on Sunday, December 27th, to celebrate his birthday.

He was buried in St. Mellons churchyard on January 5th. After the service the St. Mellons bellringers rang the bells half-muffled as a token of respect to a long and faithful ringer. R. H. A.

MR. HARRY SEAR

AN APPRECIATION

Mr. G. S. Valentine, of Duston, Northants, writes:

I would like to pay a tribute to my old friend, Mr. Harry Sear, of Blechley. A very warm welcome always awaited me when I visited that way. He was a fine ringer and loved good ringing, but anyone who tried his best was very welcome where Harry was. I have many happy memories of times spent in his company. All North Bucks ringers leave a gap when they pass on to higher service, particularly with us older ringers.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

North Notts District

The District A.G.M. was held at Retford on January 9th, East and West Retford and Babworth towers being open, but Ordsall, unfortunately, was not available because of weddings. The service, tea and business meeting were held at West Retford, 21 District members attending.

Mr. H. Denman, the retiring secretary and new chairman, reported that membership had dropped, and attendances at meetings were poor, though the Babworth meeting in December was well attended by District members. We had acquired three new Vicars during the course of the year and two of them seemed to be the sort we like.

In reply to a question, he said he had been secretary for 20 years, since 1945, when the old North Notts Association merged with the newly-formed Southwell Guild. The meeting expressed its sincere thanks for his services over this long period. Replying, Mr. Denman said he expected another twenty years would see him in his box!

Other officers elected: H. Poyner (secretary), J. Gow (Ringing Master), D. Whetton (committee). New members elected were: Christine Wright (East Retford) and Susan Hart (Babworth).

After the usual votes of thanks, further ringing took place. H. P.

SUFFOLK GUILD

Wisbech Visitors at Elveden

A well attended quarterly meeting of the N.W. District was held at Elveden on January 9th when a contingent of ringers from the Wisbech District, Ely Diocese, joined the Suffolk ringers. Many methods were enjoyed including Cambridge, Stedman, St. Clement's, Little Bob, Oxford, Double Bob, Norwich Kent, Plain Bob, Grandsire and rounds for two youngsters. Conductors were Messrs. J. Paul, E. Mastin, R. Rose, M. Rose, H. Fuller and A. Balham.

The service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. Newton Gates) and tea was served in the Village Hall by Mrs. Paul, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Fuller. A short meeting followed when Mr. Wright, the Chairman, thanked the friends from 'over the border' for making this such a good meeting. Mr. Boker, of Newmarket, was elected a new member.

It was proposed that the February evening meeting be held at Brandon, the March evening meeting at Lakenheath, the April quarterly at Newmarket, the July quarterly at Mildenhall and the annual in October at West Stow. Miss G. Reeve proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector, to Mr. Paul for arranging the tea and to Mesdames Paul, Rose and Fuller for providing such an excellent meal.

Ringing was then resumed in the tower until 9 o'clock. G.R.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Northern District

An extremely successful A.G.M. of the Northern District was held at Hitchin on January 2nd. The meeting was preceded by ringing at St. Mary's under the guidance of the Ringing Master (Mr. C. A. S. Harwood), methods ranging from rounds to Cambridge.

The service was conducted by the Rev. R. E. Meredith, who also gave a short but appropriate address. An excellent tea was prepared by Mrs. Agg and several willing helpers.

At the business meeting the following District officers were elected: Secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. G. Buck; Ringing Master, Mr. C. A. S. Harwood; Press representative, Mrs. J. K. Orme; General Committee, Messrs. J. R. Castledine and G. W. Critchley; District Committee, Mrs. A. G. Agg, Messrs. A. R. Agg, T. Hatchett, D. Taplin, C. Worboys.

The finances of the Association were closely scrutinised, and several excellent suggestions were put forward for improving the same, and for further discussion at the County's A.G.M.

Ringing afterwards included two extremely good courses—one Bristol and the other Yorkshire—and was followed by an harmonious lowering of the eight bells, in peal of course! J. K. O.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Bath Branch

The annual meeting of the Bath Branch was held on January 2nd at St. Michael's (Broad Street), with the Abbey bells being available in the evening. The service was conducted by the Rector of Freshford, the Rev. Francis Pollard, and the lesson read by the Master of the Association, the Rev. Henry Warren.

The meeting, at which 72 ringers were present, was held after the usual good tea and was under the chairmanship of the Rev. F. Pollard. The secretary (Mr. A. Lee), in his report, stated that the year had been one of average progress. Monthly Surprise practices had been promising, peals in the Branch numbered twelve (four less than 1963), but several members had rung their first peals which was encouraging. A fund has been started for the restoration of St. Matthew's, Widcombe, where the bells have been rough going for a few years. Also he wished to thank three officers who were not seeking re-election, viz.: Chairman, the Rev. L. A. B. White, now Rector of Shepton Mallet; vice-chairman, the Rev. E. Sargent; and the treasurer, Mr. T. Milsom, who reported a Branch membership of 147.

Officers elected for 1965 were: Chairman, The Rev. F. Pollard (Freshford); vice-chairmen, Rev. E. Rowe (Weston) and Mr. L. R. G. Taylor (Corston); secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. F. Lee (Twerton); Ringing Masters, Mr. J. Owen (Keynsham) and Mr. H. Parfrey (Corston).

It was hoped to arrange meetings at Bathford, Priston and Keynsham for 1965. Seven new members were elected. Dunkerton and Weston have appealed for help with beginners in change ringing so the Branch instructors look in for a busy year. A. F. L.

Bridgwater Branch

The annual meeting of the Bridgwater Branch was held on the heavy but fine toned six at Cannington, on January 2nd. A celebration of Holy Communion was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. R. Moss) who, in his address, spoke of the recent broadcast from Cannington, and of the hundreds of letters he later received from people who had found delight in the sound of the bells. This had impressed him immensely. He also mentioned his hope of completing the octave at Cannington in the future with the addition of two more bells.

A company of about 50 later sat down to tea and at the business meeting Mr. G. Duckham and Mr. K. Prime were elected again as chairman and secretary respectively. Mr. F. Sweet, of Wembdon, was elected Ringing Master. Some discussion took place on the form Holy Communion should take as a corporate service, the view being expressed in some instances that that this should take place on a Sunday and not at the normal quarterly meeting. A new venture this year will be a Branch outing to be held in the summer.

The report of the 'Silent Towers' Committee was received from Mr. G. Marchant, who said that all the incumbents circulated as to whether they had sufficient ringers for their bells had welcomed the offer of assistance to ring their bells over Christmas with the exception of one who had misread the letter. In fact all the silent towers were visited and the bells rung at least once over Christmas. This had started hope of reviving the bands in at least three towers and in one other case the Ringing Master had been asked to lecture to the village youth fellowship.

After the meeting the bells were kept going until 9 p.m.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Devizes Branch Entertained

The annual meeting of the Devizes Branch was held on January 2nd and the town of Devizes was full of the 'sound of bells' as nearly 70 members manned the towers of the three churches. The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. W. C. Williams in St. John's Church. Afterwards members were the guests at tea of Mr. A. Weeks, who is celebrating his 50th year as a ringer at St. James', Devizes. He was congratulated by the Master of the Guild (the Rev. R. Longridge) and by the chairman of the Branch (Mr. M. Knepe).

At the meeting which followed, the honorary secretary (Mr. A. Knight) reported that the membership of the Branch stood at 240, 15 peals had been rung in the Branch and 38 quarter peals, in 20 different towers. The accounts showed a good balance in the bank.

All the retiring officers were re-elected, with the addition of Mr. D. Bailey, who was appointed assistant secretary, with an eye to improving the liaison between outlying towers and the Branch officers. Any tower requiring help in teaching learners or in raising a band for special ringing is asked to get in touch with Mr. Bailey. The meeting concluded with votes of thanks and the chairman congratulating the young members who had rung a peal that morning at North Bradley.

Ring continued in all three towers during the evening. A. K.

DEVON GUILD OF RINGERS

Mid-Devon Branch Annual

The Mid-Devon Branch held its annual meeting at Totnes on January 9th, when it was well attended. Afternoon ringing preceded the service, conducted by the Rev. G. H. Samuel, Vicar of Totnes, the lesson being read by Preb J. H. B. Andrews, President of the Guild.

After tea at the Corner House Cafe, the meeting was held in the schoolroom at which Mrs. D. E. Hood, Branch chairman, presided. At the outset members stood in silence as a token of respect to the late Rev. Father Anthony de Guingand, of Buckfast Abbey, who recently met his death tragically. The Branch account and the Secretary's report were adopted. The latter gave a very comprehensive review of events during the past year. This referred to a drop in membership of eight, a tribute to the late Mr. E. M. Atkins, and the beautiful service at Buckfast Abbey last autumn, as well as the tragic death of Father Anthony.

Officers for the ensuing year were appointed as follows: Chairman, Mrs. D. E. Hood; secretary and treasurer, Mr. B. Shingler (in place of Mr. D. J. Rozerts now general secretary); ringing master, Mr. W. Simmonds; general committee, Miss M. Russell and Messrs. B. E. Bartlett and A. C. Goss.

Certificates were presented to Miss B. Keland (Dartmouth) and Messrs. M. and R. Whittingham (Blackawton) whilst the following new members were elected: Mrs. B. Shingler (Teignmouth), Miss P. Johnson (Babbacombe), Messrs. S. French (Totnes), A. Peel (Dartmouth) and C. Wheeler (Torre), Mr. G. Langworthy, of Paignton, was also elected an honorary life member.

It was recommended that on Thursday, January 21st, peals or quarter peals should be rung in various towers, this being the anniversary of the first six score of Grandsire Doubles rung in Devon many years ago. Evening ringing took place at Dartington.

Next meeting Blackawton, with Dittisham as alternative, May 1st (subject to permission).

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

The annual meeting of the Central Branch was held at Lincoln St. Giles on January 9th. The bells were kept ringing during the afternoon and evening to a variety of methods ranging from rounds to Spliced Surprise Major.

The secretary (Mr. S. Chambers), in his report for 1964, hoped for a better attendance at meetings for the coming year. Donations to towers in the Branch had been made for the purchase of new bell ropes, also a contribution to the Cathedral Restoration Fund. Officers elected included Mr. J. Walden, president; Mr. J. Freeman, chairman, Mr. J. Millhouse, Ringing Master; Mr. S. A. Chambers, secretary.

Tribute was paid to Mr. J. Walden, for his work as a ringer in the Lincoln Guild over a good many years. Members felt he deserved the honour of being elected their president.

The annual meeting for 1965 was arranged for Sleaford.

Ring continued in the tower to around 8.30 p.m. S. C.

MORE BELFRY GOSSIP

A Bristol correspondent writes: 'The first peal of London Royal in the city of Bristol was rung on January 11th at Christ Church with St. Ewen, by an all resident Bristol band at the first attempt. Watch out Williams! Wales, here we come.'

The band which rang the peal at Dereham on January 9th were very grateful to Rosemary Kemp, who stood in at the last minute when they met one short. This was her first peal of Major, but she struck her bell perfectly all the way through and made no more than two slips at the most. A truly commendable effort!—T.P.

The Rev. W. A. Peel, Rector of Tortworth, Glos., has accepted the living of Adbaston, in the Diocese of Lichfield, and will be instituted there on January 23rd. Mr. Peel has been at Tortworth for 33 years, is a vice-president of the Gloucester and Bristol Association and was for some year chairman of its Wotton Branch.

First rung at Hugglescote, Leics, on October 20th, 1964, conducted by Brian G. Warwick.

SUPERLATIVE MAXIMUS

Superlative Surprise Maximus is one of the infrequent Maximus peals. St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, have rung two of these peals in seven days. In the first of these attempts at St. Philip's Cathedral, only Mr. George E. Fearn had rung it before. The peal was Norman J. Goodman's 500th.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. VIII, Advent, 1877 - Advent, 1878

RUNCORN PARISH CHURCH, CHESHIRE

4 May, 1878. Chester Cathedral Society of change ringers rang 4,200 Grandsire Triples in 2 hrs. 24 mins. Tenor 14½ cwt. in F. 'It may appear strange to ringers why 5,040 was not obtained, but owing to darkness intervening, which made it impossible to see the ropes, the bells had to be set . . .'

NEW CATHEDRAL AND BELLS AT GRAHAMSTOWN, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

The tower and spire 200 ft. high. The Roman Catholic Bishop provately subscribed £5. 'A ring of 8 bells is earnestly coveted. When secured it will be the only ring in South Africa. About £700 would be required to complete the bells. . . ' Subscriptions asked for.

RUISLIP, near UXBRIDGE

Sunday, 12 May, 1878.—New ring of 8 opened.

MOTTRAM PARISH CHURCH, CHESHIRE

15 May, 1878.—Ringers of the parish church rang 5,120 Kent T.B. Major, 3 hours 2 minutes. Tenor 14 cwt. 'Seven of the ringers had never tried to ring a full peal before.'

ST. MARY'S, ASHFORD, KENT

Bells reopened 20 May, 1878.—At 5 o'clock about thirty dined at the Saracen's Head Hotel. During the evening several tunes were rung upon the handbells and fairly bells. . . (What are 'fairly bells'?—C.R.)

FRAMLAND DEANERY, LEICESTERSHIRE

Annual meeting at Buckminster, 31 May, 1878.—Ringing began at 10 a.m. 'At 1 o'clock the Vicar's electric bell fixed on the roof of his house sounded the invitation to dinner which was provided in a tent in the vicarage grounds. When dinner was over the men had the pleasure of listening to Mr. J. Truman, of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, the veteran ringer of England. . . he spoke to the men of their training, their duties and their privileges. At 5 o'clock a business meeting was held and the men had tea . . . ringing till 8 . . . supper . . . and 'all left for their distant homes at 9.30 p.m.'

DURHAM ASSOCIATION—BARNARD CASTLE

General meeting, Whit Monday, 10 June, 1878.—The ring consists of eight bells in good order, tenor 17 cwt. A dinner will be provided at 1s. per head, members only, at the Turk's Head. . .

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Annual meeting, Exeter, June, 1878.—The president, Major C. A. W. Trovte, present part of the time. The report included, 'The science of change ringing has at present made very little progress in Cornwall while so-called prize ringing is rife. . . The committee believe that a Guild might be formed in Cornwall which would do much to promote scientific ringing. . .'

Mr. Aggett, of Chagford, had repaired the cage of the four at Gidleigh, had added two new trebles (cast by Taylors) to the six at Chagford and rehung the third at Woodland. Messrs. Hooper and Stokes of Woodbury have hung the new eight at St. Mary's Church and rehung the six at St. Petrock's, Exeter, and the five at Feniton, added two trebles to the six at Aveston Gifford and executed repairs at St. Thomas the Apostle and Rockbeare. Messrs. Taylor, Loughborough, have cast a treble, recast the fourth and sixth and hung the six at Loddiswell. Warners have cast a treble for Buckland and completely rehung the six at Staverton.

GORTON, LANCASHIRE

15 June, 1878.—A peal of Holt's ten-part in 3 hours 9 minutes, conducted by W. H. Albinson, 'who is only 16 years of age and, so far as is known, the youngest person that ever conducted a peal.' J. Holt rang the treble.

LAVENHAM, SUFFOLK

The anniversary of these eight bells took place 21 June, 1878. . . Dinner was served in a marquee close by the church. Squire Proctor wrote, '...from the excellence of the ringing it makes the meeting to be poted as the best ever known at Lavenham or ever before in the County of Suffolk. The Bennington Change Ringing Society rang 4,240 of Double Norwich C.B. Major, Superlative and Stedman; and the next day, at Bury St. Edmunds, 2,298 of Superlative Surprise Major, and Stedman Triples and Caters.

NOTICE.—The Editor would be glad to receive the names of clergymen who are able to ring and the methods in which they can take part, that their names and residences may appear in 'Church Bells,' so that, possibly, enough may be found within easy reach of each other to take part in a clerical peal, or that new rings might occasionally be opened by clergymen who had already taken part in the service.

LLANDAFF CATHEDRAL—NEW RING

'It has been decided to place a ring of bells in Llandaff Cathedral, to take the form of a memorial to the late Dean, and to which £823 is already (July, 1878) subscribed. . . Messrs. Mears and Stainbark entrusted with the casting. . .'

A TREATISE ON TREBLE BOB

Jasper W. Snowdon, Old Bank Chambers, Leeds, reports (13 July, 1878) that Part I of his book is now ready. He will supply copies 1s. 1½d. each post free.

NOTICE—TO YOUNG COMPOSERS

We shall always be glad to answer any questions or to render any assistance in our power in connection with the art of composition. Those young members of the Exercise who may not possess the advantage of having friendly advice near at hand, we shall always be ready, as far as we are able, to assist in obtaining some degree of proficiency in the theoretical part of the science. All correspondence in this direction must be legibly written, and each question plainly put. When necessary and convenient we will send replies direct, but it may take time.

SOME REFLECTIONS BY 'PEEPING TOM'

On the 1878 anniversary of Queen Victoria's Coronation he walked from Fleet Street to Fulham—bells and bunting everywhere.

'At St. Martin-in-the-Fields the bells were ringing grandly and when, some time after, I got into the vicinity of Westminster, the bells of the Abbey of St. Peter were holding forth. But what a falling-off was there. After hearing ten or twelve bells ring in peal, six bells produced anything but a lively impression. Why should not the ancient pile of Westminster boast of a good ring of bells? The present ring of six must evidently be in had order to judge from the striking. . . From what I heard I could not help sympathizing with the ringer of the 5th bell, who seemed to be powerless to keep her in her place long together. . . After a time the ring of ten at St. Margaret's, close at hand, struck out in a charming manner. It was hardly possible to believe that some of those who were ringing at this church had just been performing at the Abbey. . . and it was amid the rounds of firing that I made my way up the river. . .'

ST. ANDREWS, PLYMOUTH, DEVON

This church has been furnished with a set of carillon bells and new Westminster chimes by Gillett and Bland, of Croydon, the gift of Mr. C. Norrington, as a memorial to his son, who was a member of the Devonshire Guild and the College Youths. . . total cost, some £400. An opening service was held 6 June, 1878. These carillons are the only ones in Devon and Cornwall, with the exception of Holworthy. There are 10 bells, on which are played 14 tunes, one each day every four hours. At midnight a self-shifting apparatus changes the tune. The old tenor bell weights 25 cwt. 14 lb. Similar mechanism has been erected at Sligo and Worcester Cathedrals and at Rochdale and Bradford Town Halls, and elsewhere.

PERSHORE, WORCESTERSHIRE

'Treble Bell,' of Bromsgrove, writes, 'Why has not Worcestershire its association of change ringers? The county boasts of some of the finest rings in the land (some authorities give the palm to Pershore as the finest), while its ringers are equal to any.'

HASKETON, SUFFOLK

4 July, 1878.—Bells opened after rehanging by Bowell, of Ipswich, reflecting great credit on him. Several good touches on handbells at the Turk's Head during the evening. 'We hear it is the intention of Mr. Newson, Churchwarden, to increase the ring to 6. . .'

'Peeping Tom' suggests to Mr. Newson that this would be a fitting memento of the period when he filled the office of churchwarden, 'and if he could induce a couple of his wealthy neighbours to perform a similar action, thus securing a ring of eight, he would earn the gratitude of posterity.' (I think they still have six at Hasketon—either Mr. Newson could not find any co-operators or did not try to—or the small tower would not conveniently hold eight!—C.R.)

NEW RING OF SIX AT ST. MICHAEL'S, COWESBY, THIRSK, YORKSHIRE

4 July, 1878.—Bells given by Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Lloyd, cast by Warners, hung by T. Mallaby. Tenor B flat about 9 cwt.

MARSHAM, NORFOLK

13 July, 1844.—10,080 Plain Bob Major.
13 July, 1878.—Six of the seven survivors of that company met in the same tower and rang a peal of Oxford T.B. Minor. 'The above is thought to be a fair proof that ringing is conducive to health and longevity.'

ST. NICHOLAS', NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE

Easter Sunday, 27 March, 1842.—5,040 Grandsire Triples, 2 hours 59 minutes. Tenor 36 cwt. 'The harmony produced by the skill and talent employed on this occasion displayed to the science unequalled specimen of the sublime, beautiful and intricate art of change ringing.'

ANNUAL MEETING OF RINGERS

'Peeping Tom' writes, 'A young man from the country' advocates an annual meeting (congress, he calls it) of ringers from all parts of England in order to afford an opportunity of interchange of ideas upon ringing matters, on something of the same plan as now adopted by various scientific and learned bodies, friendly societies, etc., and he prophesies that incalculable benefits and advantages would accrue to the Exercise at large by holding of these yearly assemblies.

'I submit this proposition to the savants of the ringing world.'

CHURCH BELL WANTED

Rev. Francis Knowles of All Saints', Gladstone, New Zealand, wrote August, 1878, saying that his church had many pressing needs, including a bell, but they were then unable to purchase. 'A very small one would be of little use, the population being scattered. If any church in the mother country has a spare or disused bell, say from 18 inches upwards, it would be a great boon to us in this distant cure. Our Bishop now in England would, I am certain, readily take charge of it. . .'

TUNSTEAD, NORFOLK

These bells have been augmented from six to eight by Rev. G. H. Harris. Opened 30 July, 1878. Ringing took place till 1 p.m. when 90 guests of the Vicar dined in a tent in the vicarage grounds. The church service was at 3 p.m. New bells cast by Warners and hung by Mr. Skinner, of Norwich.

PEAL TABLET DEFACED

'Godiva' writes, 'The tablet recording the performance of the 12,000 at Shoreditch has been much defaced: an endeavour has evidently been made to obliterate the name of the conductor and other of the prominent writing concerning the peal. Again, the brass tablet recording the peal of Stedman Caters rung at St. Clement's has received something on its face and just where the composer and conductor's names appear, placed there with an intention, it seems, of obliterating his name therefrom. . .'

HINTON PARISH CHURCH, near TEWKESBURY

'The ring of five bells at this picturesque spot, after being silent for fifteen years, have recently (i.e. to Aug., 1878) been reopened. They have been rehung at a cost of £100 by Mr. White, of Besselsleigh, Abingdon. W. Laslett, Esq., formerly M.P. for the city of Worcester, generously gave £50 towards this object, the remainder being supplied by local and other subscribers. In celebration of the reopening a luncheon was given by the Rector (Rev. R. J. Baker) on the Rectory lawn to subscribers and friends who interested themselves in the movement.'

'Church Bells' adds a note as follows: 'We should like to hear more frequently of an increase of power to those rings which are weak numerically. A ring of five seems a kind of hybrid—and it is to be deplored that the authorities at Hinton did not entertain the idea... of augmenting their bells to six at least.'

THE GENTRY RING

'Huntsham, near Bampton, N. Devon.' On 15 Aug., 1878, a party of gentlemen assembled at Huntsham Court, the seat of Charles A. W. Troyte, Esq., and during the following week rang on the rings of eight at Oakford, Dunster, Taunton, Tiverton and St. Sidwell's. Exeter, and also amongst other performances, at All Saints', Huntsham. Tenor 13 cwt., on 21 Aug., 1878, 1876 Grandsire Triples in 1 hour 2½ minutes—G. H. Phillott, Esq. (Staunton-on-Wye, Herefordshire) 1; Rev. R. H. D. Ackland-Troyte (Porlock, Somersetshire) 2; L. Proctor, Esq. (Bennington, Hertfordshire) 3; C. D. P. Davies, Esq. (Cheltenham) 4; Rev. A. Du B. Hill (St. Winnow, Cornwall) 5; W. B. Fulford, Esq. (Exeter) 6; C. A. W. Troyte, Esq. (Huntsham) 7; J. W. Snowdon, Esq. (Leeds, Yorks) 8. The touch was composed by W. Gordon, of Stockport, and conducted by C. D. P. Davies, Esq.

'Church Bells' adds, 'From a rough "score" kept by one of the ringers, we gather that more than 50,000 changes were rung during the week... this would prove that the ringers' hearts were in their work, their hands were hard and their heads clear. We wish them every success...'

LANE END, BUCKS

The church has been entirely rebuilt and was consecrated by the Bishop of Oxford 1 Aug., 1878. It is furnished with a new ring of six bells, tenor 8 cwt., by Mears, at the sole expense of H. W. Cripps, Esq., Q.C.

THE ROYAL HANDBELL RINGERS

The Royal Handbell Ringers (Poland Street, London)—Messrs. Duncan S. Miller (conductor), H. Havart, W. J. Havart, J. H. Williams and A. G. Pritchard—were honoured by command of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales to give a campanological and musical entertainment on board the Royal Yacht 'Osborne' lying in Cowes Roads, Isle of Wight, on 19 Aug., 1878. The company included their majesties the King and Queen of Denmark and the Princess Thyra, with their suite, T.R.H. the Prince and Princess of Wales and suite, Prince Albert Victor and Prince George of Wales, the Princess Victoria of Hesse, etc., who, with guests from other yachts, made a numerous and distinguished audience. By means of awnings the bridge and quarter deck of the magnificent steamer were converted into an apartment excellently adapted for the purpose of a concert... the whole vessel was brilliantly lighted by lamps and lanterns. The audience was located on the bridge while the just beneath, on the quarter deck... By special desire of the Prince the whole crew (120 hands) were permitted to be present... The entertainment commenced at 10.30 and continued until midnight, the programme including renderings on the bells of compositions by Handel, Weber, Costa, Strauss, Godfrey Lecca, etc., and selections of old English glees of a humorous character which were much appreciated. The pianoforte accompaniments of the vocal performances were by Messrs. Pritchard and Williams. The Prince sent for Mr. Miller and requested him to explain to the King and Queen of Denmark the peculiarities of the bells... The night was beautifully calm and moonlit. It was remarked by the Prince that, on this occasion, the tones of the bells appeared peculiarly sweet and mellow, attributable to the surrounding water. The Danish and English national anthems were played... This is the ninth occasion on which the Poland Street handbell ringers have been honoured with Royal command.

DURHAM CATHEDRAL

26 Aug., 1878.—First annual meeting of the Durham Diocesan Association of Ringers at Durham. The condition of the Cathedral bells is such that it is extremely difficult to ring changes on them, the seventh and tenor each requiring two men. The St. Oswald bells are also in very bad going order.

BOW BELLS, LONDON

'The Big Bell of Bow' puts in a letter which includes 'I and my colleagues, on whose behalf I now speak, are historical traditions in the annals of England... Our glory has, for some years, been on the wane. The behaviour of our old friends, the ringers, is not what it was... we are out of order... we want rehanging. At an estimated expense of £5,000 the sanctuary with which we are connected is to be rehabilitated, restored and reorganised. Could not they spare a few hundred pounds to reorganise us—the mightiest ring of ten bells in the whole metropolis? Do what you can for us, Mr. Editor...'

HEDDINGTON, WILTS

5 Oct., 1878. Harvest Thanksgiving and reopening of 5 bells, rehung by Mr. Alfred Yorke of Bristol. Three clergymen were among the first ringers.

ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST, WILTON ROAD

2 Oct., 1878. Ring dedicated by Bishop Piers Claughton. 'Immediately after the blessing a peal of silvery music burst forth under the experienced hands of eight members of the Ancient Society of College Youths.' Bells cast by Warners, Tenor 10½ cwt. 'The Rev. Wharton Smith, to whose exertions the work of raising the bells from first to last is due, sets a good example which others of the clergy might well follow, by taking a bell himself, and so drawing priest and ringers together. "Pulling together" in all things is one of the mottoes of this parish. Its newest illustration is from the belfry.'

HOLY TRINITY, HULL, YORKS

12 Oct., 1878. Annual General Meeting of the Yorkshire Association. The bells have been undergoing repairs. A reopening service was held. At the meeting in Hunter Street Schoolroom the President Jasper W. Snowdon Esq., took the chair.

KAFFRARIA

11 and 22 March, 1878. St. Mark's suffered severe gales. St. Andrew's Chapel unroofed and the Archdeacon's own church grievously damaged. 'It carried away the bell-tower and cracked the bell... it could be heard distinctly for 6 miles around. It was by Warners, B flat, and weighed 224 lbs. A larger one is to be ordered.'

ST. MARY'S, HITCHIN, HERTS.

4 Oct., 1878. Ringing by Squire Procter and his company from Bennington. Bells recently put in order by Warners. Tenor 28 cwt.

CASSINGTON, OXON

4 Oct., 1878. The Appleton Society of Change ringers visited the tower under Mr. F. White 'who has lately rehung these bells, tenor 13 cwt.'

CHRIST CHURCH, AUGHTON, YORKSHIRE

5 Oct., 1878. First peal on new bells by Warners—5,040 Grandsire Triples, 2 hrs. 41 min. Tenor 16 cwt.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Chiddingfold, Surrey, ringers went handbell carolling at Christmas and raised £13 for Dr. Barnardo's Homes.

The time taken in the peal at Ash, Surrey (page 42), was 2 hours 35 minutes and not as printed.

The quarter peal at Jesmond, Newcastle upon Tyne, on January 10th was the first quarter on eight bells by an all local band since 1893.

The peal on the steel bells at Bootle on January 2nd was the first for over five years. These bells are now very odd struck, and the 'go' is not all it might be.

The band that attempted a peal at Cropwell Bishop, Notts, on December 29th would like to thank Mr. H. Shelton for entertaining them afterwards.

Mr. A. P. Cannon writes that the last peal of Minor on the bells at Limsfield, Surrey, was rung on September 12th, 1953. This is certainly not 34 years as claimed in the footnote.

Hughenden, Bucks, has lost a very faithful ringer by the death of Mr. R. Victor Evans, who had been a member of the tower for 51 years. To his memory his fellow members rang a half muffled peal on January 9th.

Wiveliscombe, Somerset, bells are being removed on January 25th by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for retuning at the White-chapel Foundry. A farewell quarter was rung on January 11th. This was also a golden wedding anniversary compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norris, of Chatham.

In the band that rang a peal as a welcome to the new curate at Stoke Bishop, Bristol, was the former curate, Rev. David Sansum, who is now Vicar of Stechford, Birmingham. He was visiting Bristol for the Universities Association annual dinner.

The band for the Swindon peal was to have been made up of members of the Swindon Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association but unfortunately Mr. W. B. Kynaston went down with a cold. Mr. Brian Hall, of Great Barrington, kindly stood in at short notice.

3,500 Peal Ringers

Peal ringers in 1964 exceeded 3,500. Mr. James R. Taylor, of 15, Greenacre Road, Whitechurch, Bristol, who with his wife is relieving the Editor of the personal analysis, asks for those who desire to check their figures to send details to them without delay. 'It is no use being critical afterwards if advantage is not taken of the facilities provided,' is Jim's special message.

First Two Peals on the Same Day

Congratulations to Peter Mackley and Richard Bower, both boys of Gresham's School, Holt, on scoring their first two peals. On the morning of December 29th they rang 1—2 and 5—6 respectively to a peal of Bob Doubles on handbells, in the Church of St. Peter, Parmentergate, Norwich, where J. Armiger Trollope did some of his early ringing and, in fact, rang in the last peal at the church in 1893. In the afternoon they rang their first tower bell peal on the five at All Saints' Church, Intwood. Again the method was Bob Doubles. Also ringing was 14 years old Andrew Harrison, of Wroxham, who scored his first peal. Has any other ringer rung his first 'in hand' and on tower bells on the same day?

Gresham School's Bell Hangers

After rehanging the tenor bell at Bale, Norfolk, last March, the Gresham's School ringers rang regularly on the bells during the summer term. At the beginning of the autumn term, however, the clapper of the 15th century No. 4 bell, 'Gabriel,' fell out, breaking the crown staple. The term was spent in fitting a new crown staple and repairing the clapper. They should be able to start ringing on the five again this spring term, and look forward to the first tower bell quarter by the Society.

Tyneside Restorations

An appeal has been made for the restoration of the tower and bells of St. Andrew's Church, Newcastle. These bells, now silent, were rung in defiance in 1644 to keep the Scots out, and an attempt was made at this spot to breach the city wall. Another restoration is at Winlaton, where the Rector and Church Council are having the bells rehung, quarter turned and retuned. A good start towards the £800 or more needed was £500 from a sale of work opened by the chairman of Blaydon U.D.C.

Highclere's 50th Peal

The peal of Putney Surprise was not only the 50th peal on the bells of St. Michael and All Angels, Highclere, but also the 50th peal for the ringer of the treble (Philip Murduck). The first peal, Cambridge Surprise Major, was rung in 1929 conducted by George Williams: since then there have been ten different Surprise methods, five different Major methods and a number of peals of Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Triples. With the present rate of peal ringing Geoffrey Dodd does not expect it to be 36 years before the century is reached.

Watch Night at the Watch Tower

The ringers of the peal at Morpeth on New Year's Eve claim one of the last peals in 1964. When they finished at 11.50 p.m. they received the Mayor and Mayoress in the belfry who were very enthusiastic about the ringing and said how much it had been appreciated by everyone and the hundreds outside.

After a toast, followed by twelve blows of the tenor, Stedman Triples was rung to welcome in the New Year.

Christchurch Priory

The repair of the floor of Christchurch Priory ringing chamber has proved to be a much bigger job than was at first anticipated. The Priory architect, Mr. Ian Jessop, discovered serious deterioration, through wood worm and dry rot, to the floor and to the timber work beneath.

The 18 ft. oak beams supporting the whole floor were found to be in a very bad condition and it has been decided to remove the whole of the woodwork to the floor. This will be replaced with specially treated timber and the vaulting beneath the floor repaired at an estimated cost of £1,000. The work, necessitating the suspension of ringing at the Priory, will take from eight to ten weeks to complete from January 11th.

A Devizes Captaincy

Mr. Harry Sturgess, a ringer at St. John's, Devizes, for 40 years, and captain of the tower for 20 years, found that in the new church diary he had been replaced as captain by Mr. W. Davison. According to the columns about the incident in the local press, Mr. Sturgess, who is 67, has left St. John's tower and joined St. James' team under Mr. Alec Weeks.

Mr. Davison said it was Harry who first approached him and asked him if he would like to be captain when he retired. Mr. Davison agreed. The Rector (the Rev. W. C. Williams) stated that at the last annual meeting in February it was decided that Harry would continue for another year and would be followed by Mr. Davison. The appointment of a captain, he maintained, was the incumbent's responsibility. A different view is taken by Mr. C. Barber, deputy surveyor to Devizes Borough Council, who is a ringer at St. John's. 'In my opinion,' he is quoted as saying, 'the captain of bellringers is chosen by the ringers and not the Rector.'

Secretary Retires

We should like to add a tribute to Mr. H. Denman, of Rockley, Retford, who has been secretary of the North Notts District for the past 20 years when the North Notts Association merged with the new Southwell Guild. A friendship develops over the years between the Editor and the District Secretaries, many of whom he has never met, but familiarity of their names, with reports and notices, provides a link which we do not like to see broken. Mr. Denman is not retiring—it is a case of 'Friend, go up higher.' As chairman he will be able to advise his secretary of local eccentricities as Southwell might do things differently than Shropshire!

A Memory of 40 Years

Mr. C. W. Denyer, the Immediate Past Master of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples at Aldershot on New Year's Eve, to mark the 40th anniversary of his first peal, which was rung from the same position (treble) and in the same tower in 1924. Charlie was then a lad of 13, and his father had promised him all sorts of good things if he should succeed—there had been other attempts. Of the band of 40 years ago, there are three other survivors—Miss Hilda Mills, Miss Fisher and his sister, Mrs. Whitford. Four of those taking part in the anniversary peal were his pupils. The peal concluded, Charlie motored over to ring out 1964 in his own tower, Farnham.

30 Years Secretary

The peal of Cambridge S. Royal rung at Stroud, Glos. was arranged specially as a compliment to Mr. S. T. Price, of Stonehouse, who for 30 years was secretary of the Stroud Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, but has now retired. The tower captain made a request to the band to add a further footnote—a farewell to Rev. Clive C. Cooper, Rector, who left Stroud on the previous Thursday to become Rector of Woodmansterne, Surrey.

A Bell From Nazareth

On returning from a visit over Christmas to the Holy Land, a young member of the Harpenden band very thoughtfully brought a bell from Nazareth and presented it to the tower. The very charming gesture is very much appreciated by the band who say 'Thank you very much' to Nina Thomas for this happy thought.

His Golden Jubilee

Mr. Alec Weeks, of St. James', Devizes, marked his 50 years as a bell-ringer by entertaining the Devizes Branch to tea on the occasion of their recent meeting at Devizes. Nearly 60 ringers were present. The service was held at St. John's Church and all three Devizes towers were open.

Great-Grandad's Ambition

On Nov. 7th, Mr. William Rogers, of The Lodge, Mountains, Hildenborough, Tonbridge, Kent, became a great-grandfather. He inquires if there are sufficient regular ringers, who are great-grandfathers, interested enough to attempt a great-grandfathers' peal? His inquiries so far have not been encouraging, but he asks those qualified and able to get in touch with him and so fulfil this ambition.

'Sounding the Bell for Tea'

Quoted from 'Home and Country' (the W.I. magazine) for January:

When Ufford (E. Suffolk) provided tea for visiting bell ringers, the news must have been rung out, as many more thirsty ringers arrived than were expected.

Further, the rumour in the Bingham District that the next meeting notice will read, 'Don't bother to send your name for tea, we can make a better guess,' is not true.

BADSWORTH BELLS

By F. ATKINSON

THE four ancient bells in this fine Yorkshire village church are hung in its well-proportioned and strongly built tower. They are in a metal frame constructed to hold two treble bells for a future ring of six, and are tuned A sharp, G sharp, F sharp and E, which weigh 13 cwt. 24 lb. The melody of these bells is beautiful. Their inscriptions are:

Treble.—PERSONET HEC CELIS DULCISIMA VOX GABRIELIS. Probably cast by Richard Mellour, 1488-1539, and Henry Oldfield, 1539-1589, of Nottingham.

Second.—GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO. 1675. S. S. EBOR. I. H. H. H. H. W., CHURCHWARDENS.

Third.—I SWEETLY TOLING MEN DO CALL TO TASTE ON MEATS THAT FEEDS THE SOULE. 1669. Hugh Oldfield.

Fourth.—GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO. ANNO DNI 1582. Cast by Godfrey Heathcote, of Chesterfield, 1577-1643.

Not long ago Mr. Michael King wrote an article in the 'R.W.' on four bell towers, and this ring evidently puzzled him. In August last these bells were examined by Messrs. John Sykes and John Weaver, and they, too, would like to know more of their history, but this will never be known.

There are two very similar legends concerning bells being taken from All Saints' Church, Pontefract, to Badsworth. One account says that Col. Bright took eleven bells away, leaving. The other account says that, after the last siege of Pontefract, 1648-9, Col. Bright, of Badsworth, obtained a grant of some of the bells for his own church. The question might be asked what did he do with them, or were there ever twelve bells at Pontefract? No. There may have been five and he took four of them.

At the Inventory of Church Goods, 1552, Badsworth Church had four bells. I shall always hold the view that Col. Bright took four bells away to Badsworth, leaving one at Pontefract. The present treble and tenor could easily have been two of them, and the other two recast later. It would seem that the Colonel changed the bells, pleased with their fine tone, and probably erected a new oak frame to hold them.

Seeing there is now a frame in the tower for a ring of six bells, some ringers wonder how the present four can be increased. W. Palmer, of Badsworth, says the treble would have to be recast, no; retune it, no; replace it, yes, decidedly, but do not place it on the church floor as a relic; use it.

The melody of these bells is too precious to lose, and my friend Fred Terry, of Hemingbrough, who has known them a long time, thinks there are none like them. A little while ago he took a band over and rang them, and also taped them. I have known Badsworth bells for 70 years, rung on them and heard them four miles away.

The most sensible way to augment these bells is by three new treble bells, relaying the replaced bell to swing, or rigid, and a new Ellacombe chime rack for seven bells; the ancient melody would then be retained and the Badsworth bells would be unique.

The late Mr. T. W. Tew, who wrote an exhaustive account of All Saints' Church and who collected his facts from four accounts previously published, namely Fox's History, Boothroyd's History, a paper by Sir Gilbert Scott, and a sketch by Mr. Richard Holmes stationer and printer, of Pontefract, has the following in his very interesting 'Miscellaneous Papers':

It is said that there were originally twelve bells in All Saints' Church, and that Col. Bright took all but one away to Badsworth. This solitary bell became suddenly cracked in 1863, where the Rev. Sir Thomas E. Blomefield, Bart., a late esteemed Vicar, held a bazaar for some urgent repairs of the church, and the old bell was sent to Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, that its metal might be cast towards a new ring of six, tenor 11 cwt., at the cost of £350. The Rev. W. C. Lukis, of Wath, procured plaster casts of the bell, its letters and devices, and the Rev. J. T. Fowler published some notes on this bell in the 'Yorkshire Archaeological Journal' for 1871.

The date inscription round the mouth of the bell was 1598, which supposing there to have been no mistake on the bell itself, or in the copies, shows that it was cast in the 41st year of Elizabeth—a reign in which great numbers of bells were cast. The arms of Nottingham were upon it, and a series of heraldic devices, most of them badges of the Royal House of Tudor. The tone of this bell was very rich, it was called by Fothergill, in 1707, 'a gallant, sweet bell.' The badges were a conventional castle, a pomegranate slipped (this occurs twice), a shield bearing a cross raguly between three crowns, a Tudor Rose, a Talbot Hound, a Portcullis. These badges would seem to show that the bell was given by one of the Talbots, and cast at the great Nottingham foundry, whose history has still to be written.

Col. Bright, afterwards Sir John Bright, Bart., lived at Badsworth, and died on September 13th, 1688; there is a tablet on the north wall of Badsworth Church to his memory. His eldest son, Mr. John Bright, born about 1650, was accidentally slain by discharging a cannon on the tower on November 5th, 1677. I remember the bells of All Saints', Pontefract, being augmented in 1905 by two trebles and the tenor, now 12 cwt. 1 qr. 7 lb. in G, recast.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

The introduction of several controversial items added considerable interest to the annual meeting of the St. Martin's Guild held in St. Martin's Church Vestry on January 2nd.

Before the business meeting, the chairman, Mr. Richard C. Ingram, referred to the loss to the Guild by the death of Charles Dale, of Solihull, and the members stood in silence as a token of respect to his memory.

A proposal was made that church councils be invited to subscribe an annual affiliation fee to the Guild. It was suggested that both church councils and incumbents might thereby become more interested in their bells and ringers. Considerable discussion ensued, but, as several arguments were put forward both in favour and against such a scheme, the meeting decided that the subject required more consideration before any definite action was taken.

A striking competition between towers within the Guild was also proposed. This proposition met with support, and a committee was formed to consider the necessary rules for entering and judging.

The balance sheet was presented by the secretary, who was pleased to report an increased balance over the previous year.

The name of Mr. Frank W. Perrens was added to the list of vice-presidents, in recognition of his interest in the Guild over many years. The remaining offices were filled as follows: Master, Mr. Richard C. Ingram; Ringing Master, Mr. Alan Ainsworth; trustees, Mr. S. O'C. Holloway and Mr. B. D. A. Woolley; auditors, Mr. H. H. Fearn and Mr. S. O'C. Holloway; librarian, Mr. David Ingram; honorary secretary and treasurer, Mr. G. E. Fearn.

It was decided to invite Mr. Frank E. Haynes to occupy the chair at the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner, which will be held at the Imperial Hotel, Temple Street, on March 6th.

Next business meeting: Bishop Latimer's Church, Handsworth New Road, on the first Saturday in April.

MEMOIRS OF 'SUSSEX BY THE SEA'

And Brighton in particular! My first visit to this famous resort (with two irresponsible youths) started with a ring at St. Peter's and finished with a night divided between walking the sea front and a few hours sleep on the beach. All due to the fact that precaution had not been taken to see that the necessary money was in our pockets before starting our 50 mile ride.

Our next visit (with a slightly different partner!) proved more enjoyable, for on that occasion we rang a peal of Cambridge Major on the old eight at St. Peter's just previous to the installation of the fine ring of ten provided by Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, who was a very good friend to the County Association and a perfect gentleman in the full sense of the word. It was here we had our first real meeting with that great mainstay of St. Peter's, Keith Hart. Little did we realise then that we should in later years come in closer contact with him.

A few years on and we joined a band from Brighton to ring a peal for Frank Bennett's silver wedding, this coming to a stop about half way, which was just as well perhaps, as we had to ring with the bells fully muffled! The 1914 war saw very little ringing in Brighton.

A few years after the war we again came in contact with K.H. and his band. And by frequently meeting K.H. one began to recognise his power of leadership. Perhaps he was not always as diplomatic as some would have liked, but being a perfect striker himself he looked for the same in others. Striking apart, he was no doubt the best heavy-bell man Sussex had produced, and the County still has a long way to go to approach his standard. How many conductors would call 'Stand' after half a course of Cambridge Royal and walk across the tower to tell one of the band to 'roll your sleeves up properly and then we can start the peal again'!

It seemed very curious that the rest of K.H.'s band were very docile! Perhaps Albert Stone (one time Gen. Sec.) would now and again express his opinion, but for the rest (Ted Merrett, C. Palmer, J. Capp, Bill Hart, J. Verralls, F. Bennett, G. Smart, J. Dearlove and A. Gravett), they were all content to ring and listen. After ringing on Sunday mornings there was no doubt who was the leader! Off would go K.H. at a brisk pace down past the Aquarium along the sea front towards Black Rock, and then about turn. Sometimes Volk's railway would be honoured on the return journey but not if by 'stepping it out' they could get to the 'King and Queen' on time. Should the weather prove unsuitable for a walk then two or three would drop in to see George Baker (who by this time was unable to leave his place of business owing to his partner's illness) and the merits or otherwise of this, that and the other were discussed.

1919 saw a mixed band from Brighton journey to Southover for a peal of Stedman Caters to celebrate the birth of a daughter to Mrs. F.I.H. The first peal of Spliced Surprise Royal was rung at St. Peter's in 1934. A year later the 50th Jubilee of the Association was celebrated by a dinner and concert at the Old Ship Hotel, at which Mrs. A. A. Hughes rendered some very good handbell music.

With the death of Keith Hart in 1947 the band at St. Peter's felt the loss to a great extent. At the funeral of Frank Bennett in 1958 there was a large gathering of ringers from all parts. Apart from being captain at St. Nicholas', Brighton, he was at one time Secretary of the Royal Cumberland Youths when resident in London. A peal of Stedman Caters was lost in the last course on the day of the funeral of Harry Stalham, who had taken over the captaincy after the death of F. Bennett. In memoriam to H. Stalham, a peal of his favourite method (Double Norwich Court Bob Major) was rung in 1964 on the anniversary of his birthday.

In 1950 we had the pleasure of seeing the Central Council meeting at Eastbourne, a meeting which was a great success, more so in view of the fact that for a few years no representative was sent to the Council, and for another few years only one was sent. Many pleasant visits have been paid to Brighton in later years, the last being on January 16th of this year for the anniversary dinner. We are looking forward to many more. How time flies.

Sussex 80th Anniversary a Memorable Night

THE 80th ANNIVERSARY dinner, held amid all the grandeur of the Royal Pavilion, Brighton, was an event that will live long in the memories of those attending. It was truly as the Master (Mr. R. V. Johnson) said, a wonderful evening. There was nothing to mar the proceedings, a well-cooked meal, an expeditious service and speeches fitting to the occasion. The organisation was near perfect and the hard-working dinner committee consisted of Messrs. Leslie Weller, B. C. Burrough, B. E. Matthews and W. A. Riddington. A company of 176 attended and they were indeed indebted to the Mayor of Brighton for permitting the function to be held in the Pavilion.

The Master was supported on the top table by the Mayor and Mayoress of Brighton (Councillor and Mrs. W. H. Clout), the Bishop of Lewes (the Rt. Rev. J. H. L. Morrell), the Archdeacon of Chichester (the Ven. L. Mason), the Vicar of Brighton (Canon Keeling) and Mrs. Keeling, the honorary secretary of the Association (Mr. R. W. R. Percy), the honorary secretary of the Central Council and Mrs. E. A. Barnett. Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Weller, Messrs. B. E. Matthews, B. C. Burrough and T. W. White.

Following the loyal toast, the Master proposed the toast of 'The Church.' 'It is right,' he said, 'that on such an occasion as this, we should pause to express our debt to "Mother Church," as she is often called, and mother church she is, indeed, to this Association, for to the Church bellringing owes its existence and its continuing purpose. And not just to the Church, but in a special way to the Church of England.

'Bellringing, or campanology, is practised in a number of countries overseas, including Australia, Canada and the United States, and it is a matter of satisfaction to all ringers in this country that a hand from England had an honoured and indeed vital part to play at the dedication of the bells of Washington Cathedral last year. But a tower with properly hung bells is exceptional anywhere outside England. The Exercise has not been a flourishing export, and campanology largely remains the special art of the Church of England.

CLOSE RELATIONSHIP

'For 80 years the relationship in Sussex between Church and ringers has been close, and it may be, as too often happens in such a situation, that on occasions we have tended to take each other a little for granted. Congregations grow accustomed to hearing the bells rung without stopping to ask themselves who does the ringing, and, dare I say it, now and then ringers have been known to become more regular in their attendance in the bellry than in the church.

'So it is right that we should remind ourselves tonight of the vital part the Church must play in our own lives if our ringing is to be as it should be, first and foremost an act of worship to God.

'And if the Church is vital to our well-being as ringers, perhaps we may also remind ourselves that we have an important service to offer the Church.

'We may sometimes think that the bells are taken for granted, but let us make no mistake, if they were once silenced there would be no shortage of parishioners to deplore their passing. England would not be England without the sound of the bells ringing over the fields to summon the faithful to worship. Let us also remember that for many—too many—the sound of the bells is the only part of the Church's message that they hear. They may cut themselves off from the word of God; they may never hear a hymn sung, a sermon preached, a prayer or scripture read, but they cannot escape the message of the bells.

'So let us continue with a good will in our witness to the Church on the bells. Who knows where or when their sound may stir a sleeping conscience and draw back to the church door some who might otherwise forget its very existence. And let us with thankful hearts honour the Church which calls us into being in this Association, and which, week by week in our Sunday ringing, it is our joy and privilege to serve.

The Bishop of Lewes (the Right Rev. J. H. L. Morrell), who replied, said he could recall with great clearness his first knowledge of the existence of bells. At the age of four at the country vicarage where he lived he heard the gardener bellowing a reference to the bells as those so and so clangers.

BRIGHTON'S SILENT TOWER

There was one silent tower in Brighton—St. Paul's, West Street, which once possessed an admirable ring, but they were disposed of because the structure would not support the bells—only the tenor remained. His grandmother told him she well remembered St. Paul's bells ringing out over Brighton. They were the gift of a Mr. Wagner, a notable builder of churches. Asked why he provided the bells, Mr. Wagner replied that he wanted as many people in Brighton as possible to find their vocation of service to the Church—not only in service but in something which was their joy and delight—such as bellringers and choristers. There were many who longed to be in church but were hindered by age or infirmity; the church was brought to them by the bells.

Concluding, the Bishop said: 'I thank you will all heart, on behalf of the parish priests in Sussex for all you do and the joy that comes out of your ringing, because this world is starving for joy. The message of the bells is joy and it is joy for which the world is starved.'

The toast of 'The Sussex County Association' was proposed by Mr. F. A. Barnett, honorary secretary of the Central Council. He recalled that his first visit to Sussex was to find a wife and it was at a time when there was a ban on ringing during the war.

THE FOUNDER REMEMBERED

Probably many of them knew that the Sussex County Association was formed in Brighton mainly through the efforts of Mr. George Attree, churchwarden at St. Peter's and a man of money and influence. He was able to bring a lot of influence to bear on what they referred to as the gentry and clergy of the town. The meeting was held in two parts—and at the first, the inaugural meeting, no fewer than 25 towers and 250 people joined the Association.

Among the things Mr. Attree did for ringing outside the county was to contribute to 'The Bell News' an analysis of peals rung by associations and guilds. Mr. Barnett thought he must have made sure that the Sussex County Association came top at the end of each year. He must have run round the towers and made sure they rang peals. Angmering and Warnham each rang a tremendous number of peals. Warnham rang one on Christmas Day, but it finished just after 7 a.m.; the next day they rang two peals and in that month 25 peals.

Mr. Attree built up an excellent band at Brighton, and up to the end of the century they were the outstanding band in the country. They held ringing weeks and rang in an enormous number of Surprise methods. These included the first peal of Bristol, Frank Bennett, who was one of them, was his grandfather-in-law. That band included such ringers as George Williams, George Baker and Keith Hart.

Later came the famous band under Oliver Sippetts which rang the first peal of four spliced. At Henfield there was another splendid band, that won distinction as a village band by ringing first peals of Surprise. On handbells they rang a peal of Stedman Cinques, the fourth of Stedman Cinques.

Looking at a report of the 10th annual meeting he noticed that the chairman gave a talk on the history of bells. He appealed to clergy present never to give the history of bells. He supposed, in a way, the most outstanding ringer Sussex had supplied to the Exercise was John Goldsmith, founder of 'The Ringing World.' He was first of all a fine practical ringer who was regarded as one of the coming men. 'The Bell News' commented: 'If everyone did as Mr. Goldsmith did and put the very best into ringing they would find it difficult not to ring well, but difficult to ring badly.'

Their first three Masters were Mr. George Attree, Mr. Tomkins and Mr. J. T. Rickman, who was responsible for the excellent tea they had today at St. Peter's, Brighton. For some years Mr. Rickman was their representative on the Central Council.

THE FUTURE

As to the future they would have noticed that the character of the church services was slowly changing. Evensong, which some of them had been accustomed to attend, and the service they attended in their youth, had rather lost its place in the order of services of the Church and in some parishes the emphasis was on the parish Communion instead of the old-fashioned Matins and Evensong. If the services were held at the usual time they presented no problems, but in his own church they had parish Communion starting at 9.15 a.m. The church was not going to change its services to allow the bells to be rung. They ought to consider whether they ought to alter their ways and find themselves ringing at times when normally it was not desirable. It was something they had to face and it would not do them any good not to think of it.

Another point was whether their system of monthly District meetings was right? He thought it was true of their Association, and also the Kent Association, that ever since it had been formed into Districts they had held monthly meetings. People could now get about much easier and the system of District meetings might not be the best.

Mr. R. W. R. Percy, secretary of the Association, said he would like to thank all those people who were responsible for the dinner. They had had a wonderful dinner and he did not think any association could have had a better room, and they were most grateful to the Mayor for providing it.

There had been a lot of suggestions and questions asked concerning how they stood today. The Sussex Association was now ably supported not only by its young ringers, but its lady ringers. If they looked at their report they would find many towers relied on lady ringers. They were very grateful to them.

As they knew from their rules their Association was having its problem, like the present government, on the financial side. It was difficult for them to produce the report they liked to produce, but this year's report would be better than the previous. He hoped that at their annual meeting in May they would be in a position of having many more individual members. With all of them as individual members they could pay their way.

CASSOCK AND SURPLICE

Mr. W. Leslie Weller, in a happy speech, proposed 'The Visitors.' He said he was of opinion that the relationship between the clergy and the ringers in their diocese was very good. The Exercise at times was accused of not stopping for services; this was in the main not true to day, although it might have been 50 years ago. Today one was more likely to rush to don cassock and surplice than to leave the church. They would not have enjoyed their 80th year celebration if it had not been for their guests and they were delighted to have them with them.

The Mayor of Brighton replied and said that when he was a young man he was taught to ring at Southover so he was not a stranger to the art they practised. He was rather surprised that after 80 years they were still an Association. It seemed to him that they ought to have established this as a Guild to perpetuate it. His Worship added that he had been a member of the Guild of Servants of the Sanctuary for 40 years and on behalf of all the guests he thanked the Association for such a wonderful dinner in such a wonderful atmosphere.

A well-struck course of Grandsire Caters followed rung by Mrs. Hairs 1-2, E. Rapley 3-4, F. I. Hairs 5-6, L. Weller 7-8, Geo. Francis 9-10.

Bringing the formal proceedings to a close, the Master asked the members to make a special note in their diaries on January 24th, 1985, when they would celebrate their centenary! They had had a wonderful evening and it would be a great mistake to let another 20 years or even 10 years pass before they met again. He thanked all those who had worked so hard for the success of the evening and, in particular, Mr. Arthur Riddington for his splendid services as master of ceremonies.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

THE winter general meeting of the Association was held at Halifax on January 16th. The larger than usual attendance justified the decision to have two towers available in the morning, when both Northowram and Elland bells were enjoyed. The belfry at All Souls', Haley Hill, was flooded out, but Mr. Henry Fielden had thoughtfully arranged for Queensbury bells to be used and a full belfry there rewarded his enterprise. The service was held at All Souls', in spite of the attendance of the fire engines to pump water from the belfry, and it was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. F. Walker.

Tea in the Crown Hotel was followed by the business meeting. Mr. Norman Chaddock invited the Association to hold its annual general meeting at Rotherham on May 1st, and Mr. John J. L. Gilbert reported that he was doing his best to arrange the Snowdon dinner in Sheffield on October 16th, 1965. Thanks were expressed to all who had helped in arranging the meeting, especially to Mr. Fielden, and to Mr. Harold Walker and the York Minster Society for the very enjoyable Snowdon dinner last October.

The steps taken by the committee, together with representatives of the nine District Societies in Yorkshire to form 'The Joint Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies' were reported and approved unanimously. All the District Societies had agreed to join this council and had elected two representatives each. The Yorkshire Association then elected Mr. E. Hudson and Mr. W. F. Moreton as its two representatives. The first meeting of the Joint Council will be at York on February 6th.

The aims of the Joint Council are:

1. To represent all ringers in Yorkshire;
2. To promote an annual festival;
3. To provide a forum for the discussion of common problems;
4. To exchange ideas for the education and training of young ringers;
5. To consider a unified annual report;
6. To co-ordinate efforts for the furtherance of our art.

The fine modern ring of twelve at the Parish Church was rung after the meeting under the direction of the Western District Ringing Master, Mr. Gordon Benfield, his order of the day being 'Twelve-bell ringing only.'

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH
DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Monmouth Branch took place at Chepstow on January 9th, when 60 were able to keep the ring of ten bells busy during the afternoon and evening.

The choral service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. Barrie-Evans; Mr. Austin Thomas was at the organ, and the lesson was read by Richard Owen, a Chepstow ringer. Tea was afterwards served in the Church Hall, and Mr. George Ward, of Abergavenny, thanked the Chepstow ringers who had given and prepared this.

Before the business meeting, members stood in silence to remember Mr. G. Monk, of St. Mellons, who had died on January 1st, aged 90. Amongst the many items of business was the election of Mr. Lionel Jones, tower leader at Usk, to the office of Branch Master. New members were elected from Usk, Abergavenny and Chepstow. Mention was made of a Branch member, Mr. William Horsington, who had been made a Freeman of Abergavenny in recognition of his great public service to the town.

Meeting places decided upon for the year were: Nash on May 8th, Bedwellty on July 10th and Bleanavon on October 9th. Ebbw Vale was chosen for the next annual Branch meeting.

WARMINSTER RINGERS' DINNER

The sixth annual dinner of the Minster Bell-ringers' Guild took place on January 9th when 31 members and friends sat down, under the chairmanship of the captain, Mr. N. G. Knee, to an excellent repast of turkey. Guests present included the Vicar and Mrs. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson (Haslemere), Mr. and Mrs. C. White (Corley), Mr. F. Slatford (North Bradley) and Mr. G. Grant (coach-driver for outings).

In a welcoming speech Mr. Knee thanked all present for the wonderful support which he receives each year from the ringers and their lady supporters, who help keep the Minster bells ringing twice on every Sunday for church services, which is the main function of the ringing band.

A varied and delightful entertainment followed: Messrs. Slatford, Knee, Shepherd and Norris (change ringing on handbells); Mr. and Mrs. Pearson and Catherine (songs, monologues, and tune ringing on handbells); and Mr. E. G. Shepherd a short introductory talk to the recording of bellringing, which sells with the book on ringing, which he has written. The record was played over by Mr. L. Hawkins to the delight of all. Other recorded music was provided as usual by Mr. Hawkins and arrangements for the event were once again in the capable hands of Mr. P. Roynon.

PORTSMOUTH CATHEDRAL

At the recently-held annual general meeting of the Ringers' Guild an interesting report was submitted by the Guild chairman. It included an account of his proposals for the formation of a Portsmouth Collegiate Ringers' Society, as a guest society of the Cathedral Guild, for the mutual benefit of both bodies. This has been approved by the Provost, carried into effect largely by students of the College of Technology, and is now functioning for Sunday Service ringing and practices at the Cathedral; with a weekly meeting for theory-study and silent-bell practice. The secretary is Mr. Ronald Bowron, c/o The College of Technology, Portsmouth.

Tower Guild officers for the ensuing year are: President, the Provost, the Very Rev. E. N. Porter Goff; Vice-president (life), A. Yorke-Bramble (chairman); Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. Jones; Tower Captain and Belfry Keeper, Alan Buswell; Auditor, R. M. Parker; Rest of committee members: F. Edwards, Mrs. C. Oliver, A. Dixon.

Another group of beginners is undergoing initial training.

Conductor's Views on Limpsfield Chart Peal

John Wilnar

Dear Sir,—As conductor of the peal to which Mr. Stevens refers in his letter (page 36), I must firstly refute his belief and state that rounds occurred only at the end of each extent. I am not aware of any factors which would invalidate the performance and I trust that the rest of the band share the same opinion.

I cannot, however, leave the matter at a plain rebuttal. I think there is already far too much back-biting between various factions of the Exercise through the columns of 'The Ringing World.' This accusation is yet another example of the damage which can be done by the 'finger-pointers' of the Exercise, for in truth the damage is already done. How easy it is to indict and how hard to vindicate. The reputations of those in the band will suffer not to mention that of their home towers and more important that of the parent Association. I believe that Mr. Stevens acted in good faith but must we take ringing so seriously that we should, in the name of 'the good of the Exercise,' destroy much of the goodwill and respect which exist?—Yours sincerely,

CHRISTOPHER F. MEW.

Heathen in our Midst

Dear Sir,—What a joy the correspondence of fellow-ringers has become, now that it has been turned into a guessing-game; and what an unexpectedly varied—nay, motley—crew we appear to be, Atheist, Anarchist—and what's this?—Cornishman, no less! Blessed indeed are we all, now that the bad old days of the no-pseudonym rule have vanished, leaving 'The Ringing World' more colourful (albeit more bewildering) publication.

Would it be possible to take this delightful evolution a stage further, and make it a rule that no letter will be published except under an imaginative pom-de-plume? Then none of us need be afraid to express the most startling and controversial views. We may even dispute the cost of 'The Ringing World' without fear of retribution, or ostracism.

There are, of course, one or two snags to this idea. (There always are.) For one thing, nobody will know what anyone else is really thinking. And take the cases before us, of Atheist and Anarchist—to the majority of us their identities will ever remain a mystery, thus balking us—good Christians as we all apparently purport to be—of the chance of converting the heathen in our midst. But perhaps this is what our unknown friends intended when they decided not to come out into the open with their convictions; I had thought at first that it must be because they lacked the necessary courage.

Many thanks again for the new game. Unfortunately, I have no imagination at all, and as 'Disgusted' has become rather hackneyed, must reluctantly sign myself—Yours faithfully,
D. A. BRAY.

Whitchurch, Tavistock.

Dear Sir.—Further to your article on the bells of SS. Peter and Paul's, Newchurch, Kent, perhaps I may answer the query about John Welmer (sic), on page 7.

Firstly, his name was in fact John Wilnar, not Welmer, and I am surprised that the expert in question has not met any of his bells before. During the years 1618 to 1639 he turned out a large number of bells for Kent steeples from his foundry at Borden. Borden lies about one mile off the A.2, near Sittingbourne in Kent. Wilnar died on May 5th, 1640, and was buried in Borden Church. He was succeeded by a relative, Henry Wilnar, who had a very short career, being buried at Borden after dying on January 30th, 1644, and there are only two bells of his left, the third at Eastray and the tenor at Challock (two of the four at Challock 'disappeared' about ten years ago, but the Wilnar bell probably remains). The Wilnars were not natives of Borden, and where they came from is not known. Nor are there any bells of theirs in Borden Church, although there may have been before the present eight were cast in 1802—the tenor records a former ring of six. Stahlschmidt, writing in 1887, states that with two exceptions (black letter) the lettering of Wilnar was in Roman capitals, the same as those of Stephen Swan, whom the worthy Stahlschmidt had unsuccessfully tried to prove as Wilnar's predecessor.

I have had the pleasure of ringing at Newchurch twice in the last five years. On the former occasion it was discovered that the split in the tenor headstock was active to such a degree as to preclude the setting of the bell. I was left swinging on the end of the rope, and at the tender age of 16 vowed I would not touch a bell again (a vow which was never kept). Last year, some 3½ years after the above incident, we rang the front four: the draught is very long, the frame shifts terribly—it is medieval. The four Wilnar bells were augmented in 1845 by a Mears treble, since when I doubt if the bells have been touched. The 'go' is not so bad as one might expect, but the tone leaves something to be desired.—Yours truly,

Whitstable, Kent. DAVID CAWLEY.

More about Staunton Harold

Dear Sir,—In reply to your readers who have asked who is responsible for ringing on the bells being banned at Staunton Harold, Leics, may I give the relevant details?

The wooden bell frame is in an advanced state of decay, and about two years ago the bell founders were consulted by the area secretary of the National Trust, Mr. J. Treanor. An estimate of £1,500 was submitted for the rehanging of the bells in a new frame, but the National Trust decided they could not set aside this amount for this purpose while other buildings in their charge were urgently in need of funds.—Yours faithfully,

THOMAS C. BELTON.
Birstall, Leics.

St. Andrew's, Newcastle on Tyne

Dear Sir,—I was most interested to read the reference to the bells of this church in last week's Belfry Gossip under the item 'Tyne-side Restorations.' I feel that further comment is called for, however, if only in the interests of factual reporting.

In the first place, the ring of six concerned could never have rung out in defiance of the Scots during the siege of Newcastle in 1644 as they were not in existence at that date. The bells were in fact cast by Richard Phelps at the Whitechapel Foundry in 1726, the tenor being about 16 cwt. (claimed in many early records as 19 cwt.).

Secondly, I consider that your correspondent is a trifle optimistic in implying a full restoration of the bells here. The bells are now very silent as they were lowered and removed to the Whitechapel Foundry in October of last year and work on tower repairs is continuing. I have been in touch with the Vicar on one or two occasions to obtain information about the future role of the bells and to offer advice and assistance with possible ringing, but he has always been most evasive in reply and claims that not enough money is yet to hand for the work. There is no tradition of ringing at this church as the bells have not been rung within living memory, and my own information is that the bells will probably be recast and rehung 'dead' for chiming only. I hope I may be proved wrong and the bells will be restored as a ring, but with the present attitude of the church authorities I cannot see any other prospect.—Yours sincerely,

K. ARTHUR.

Newcastle upon Tyne.

Outings or Tower Grabs?

Dear Sir,—Many thanks to Mr. Maybrey for his interesting letter on Ringing Outings. However, I feel that he is confusing 'Ringing Outings' with 'Tower Grabs,' and therefore much of what he says is off the point.

I define 'tower grabbing' as attempting to ring as many towers as possible in as little time as possible, and this, I think, is to be discouraged, on the grounds that (a) it gives no pleasure to those taking part, and (b) it gives even less pleasure to those forced to listen.

Nothing sounds worse than bells rung far too fast (this inevitably results in heavy bells failing to come away from lead or clipping at dodges) or bells rung in a dilatory manner owing to the party being too anxious to get on to the next tower too soon.

To his suggestion of a Central Council Committee I would say 'no,' because it seems fantastically unworkable, and also that if Ringing Masters are to be regarded as responsible people (as presumably their election as such shows), they should not need watchdogs.

It has already seemed to me that many towers are closed to visiting parties, not because of damage done by them, but because of the attitude shown by some visitors to this matter. Obviously stays and ropes do get broken occasionally and surely the answer is either to repair or pay for the damage.—Yours faithfully,
JOHN WEAVER.
Southgate.

Change of Officers in S.W. District

The departure of Frank Blagrove and his family for Southern Rhodesia at the end of last summer was a serious loss, even, as we hope, only a temporary one, for the South and West District where Frank had been a tower of strength and an enthusiastic district secretary since 1961. While members were trying to sort out their ideas of successor, the Association treasurer stepped into the breach then created and kept things going until the annual meeting which was held at Twickenham on January 16th.

To ease the way for the new secretary, the district committee had decided that the office should be relieved of the bulk of the financial side, including the collection of subscriptions—always one of the main tasks—by making the assistant secretary also treasurer for the district. On this basis, Mr. W. S. Deason, of Hampton, was elected secretary and Miss A. Horsforth, of All Hallows', Twickenham, assistant secretary and treasurer. The chairman, Mr. D. Fowles; the ringing master, Mr. J. Hill; and the auditor, Mr. J. B. Sansom, were all re-elected. Mr. P. A. Lawrence, of Hampton, was elected deputy ringing master in place of David Struckett, who would be going abroad later in the year. Also leaving the district is Michael Bartlett, of Staines, and his position on the central committee was filled by Peter Bevington, of St. Mary's, Twickenham.

The accounts showed a welcome increase in subscriptions over the previous year with the district membership at the end of the year at exactly 200, although 19 of these, mostly unattached members, had not paid their subscriptions for 1964.

The year's activities showed a quiet year, some towers with increased membership, others with less. Among the latter, it was noted with regret that the band at St. Stephen's, Ealing, no longer exists and that Bill Cook's travelling over long distances to keep things going has been of no avail. The striking competition at Harefield in September had to be abandoned through lack of support. The report was adopted after discussion.

Five ringing members were elected, viz: N. F. Evans, of All Hallows', Twickenham; Patricia Copas, David Price and Mrs. J. Sexton, of Hillingdon, and C. Reader, Hampton. Colin Stevenson, of Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia was elected a non resident life member.

Ringing took place on the bells of both towers at Twickenham with a variety of methods rung, as well as rounds and call changes for the inexperienced.

The Twickenham ladies, led by Mrs. Lovell and Mrs. Turner, put on their usual good tea which, together with their warm welcome, contributed so much to a successful and happy meeting.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Chesterfield District

In spite of the almost continuous rain and the attraction of neighbouring F.A. Cup ties some 25 members and friends braved the elements to attend the District's first meeting in the New Year at Dronfield on January 9th. Ringing on the pleasant octave was under the new Ringing Master, Mr. C. J. Hughes (Old Whittington).

Mr. D. Cooper (Bolsover) presided at the business meeting which followed tea at the Green Dragon. The question of attracting more members to meetings was fully discussed and it was decided to have two special meetings for practice at future meetings—one elementary and the other advanced. Despite leaks in the tower with rain dripping on ringers, of 1, 2 and 3 further ringing was enjoyed.

Next meeting: March 13th, Dove (8), provisional. Special methods, Double Bob and Bristol. M.P.P.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

Frome Branch

Ringers from a wide area gathered at Shepton Mallet for the Frome Branch A.G.M. on January 9th. Ringing ranged from rounds to London Major and ended with an excellent touch of Stedman Triples for service. The Rector, the Rev. L. A. B. White, conducted the service, attended by 70 members, with a local young ringer, Mr. John Rose, playing the organ.

After a sumptuous tea, the meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Rev. Mr. Durston. The Branch secretary, Mr. E. Chivers, in his report for 1964, said that there was increased activity but no overall increase in membership. He complimented Hemington and Wanstrow ringers on their excellent progress, and also stated that the average attendance for meetings during the year was 47.

The retiring officers were all re-elected and 16 new names were proposed for membership. A long discussion took place over a proposal by Mr. Heyman that a striking competition should be held, the decision being deferred until the spring meeting.

Mr. G. W. Massey, Association peal secretary, asked for the co-operation of all the members in making this a record year for peals as on May 31st, 1965, the Association is 75 years old. In the vote of thanks he made special mention of Mrs. Curtis and her helpers for an excellent tea.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Cambridge District A.D.M.

Though ringing at St. Benet's had been arranged for 3 p.m. all the ropes had to be found and fitted before it was possible to begin ringing on January 9th. St. Andrew-the-Great's ringing chamber was not as crowded as in some previous years but methods and call-changes were rung to suit all tastes.

Canon A. L. Woodard conducted the service there, at which Mr. T. R. Wheeler played the organ, and later nearly fifty sat down to 'a glorious tea,' followed by the business meeting.

The Secretary's report recorded that meetings had been held each month, visiting 16 out of the 30 towers, and regretted that ringing at Guilden Morden and Littleton had declined. However, teaching was in progress at Little Shelford and Stapleford, and there was renewed interest at Bottisham and Chesterton. There were 108 ringing members. The Belfry Repair Fund stood at £48 9s. 10d., no bell restoration withdrawals had taken place that year, though members were reminded that there was still quite a large number of unringable towers in the area.

Officers elected were: President, Canon A. L. Woodard; ringing master, S. Brown, secretary and treasurer, B. D. Threlfall; belfry repair fund secretary and treasurer, B. Pratt (Mr. T. Reginald Dennis wished to retire); district committee, W. Newman, H. F. Churchman, J. G. Gipson and E. W. Bullman. District representatives nominated were G. Pearson, E. W. Bullman and B. Horrell. Miss J. A. Ivy, of Trumpington, was elected a member, and five non-resident life members' elections were ratified.

February meeting: Swaffham Prior, ringing and service; Bottesham, tea, meeting and ringing. J.S.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

Despite the atrocious weather, a successful meeting of the Marlborough Branch was held at West Overton on January 16th and members noted the various improvements to the tower through the efforts of Capt. Mansfield-Robinson. These included the installation of electric lighting complete with emergency equipment, in case of a mains failure.

Ringing was supervised by the Rev. Roger Keeley, district ringing master, the service conducted by the Vicar (Rev. N. A. Scudding) and a bountiful tea served under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Mansfield-Robinson and helpers. They were thanked by Mr. G. Newman. Owing to the high wind and heavy rain the intended visit to East Kennett was reluctantly cancelled. W.A.E.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Southern District

THERE are bells on the hill outside Redhill, and when the Southern District of the Surrey Association held its annual meeting there on January 16th, the local inhabitants heard them ringing for a good part of the afternoon and evening.

The service was conducted by the Vicar of St. John's, the Rev. S. J. Dyer, who gave a spirited address on the message of the bells, calling Methodist, Presbyterian, and C. of E., each to his own particular place of worship. This he said was a magnificent example of church unity in these days of declining congregations.

Fifty ringers had tea in the Meadvale Village Hall before the start of the business meeting. Firstly, the Master, Mr. T. Bird, welcomed the towers of St. Martin's and Christ Church, Epsom, Ashted and Ranmore into the Southern District. There followed the election of five new members, Mrs. Dallison and Messrs. Brazier, Gocher, Stevens and Warren.

In his report the secretary said that 1964 had been a year to remember, being the year in which Mr. A. P. Cannon achieved his thousandth peal, and Mr. A. Bull his hundredth in one tower. The total of members had increased, and the average attendance at meetings had risen to thirty-one. The joint meeting with the Kent County Association at Oxted and Limpsfield had been a great success.

Nine peals had been rung in the District, including the first of Double Norwich by a resident band. The quarter peal total of twenty-eight was by no means complete as a number had not been published in 'The Ringing World,' and he therefore appealed to conductors to send all their quarters to the 'R.W.' for publication. After a six-sided election fight for the places on the committee, the resulting three names were the same as last year except for the addition of Mr. G. West to its ranks after his resignation as honorary secretary and treasurer, and the moving of Mr. K. Game into his place. The Master thanked Mr. West for his five years of service in what was the most demanding job in the District.

Mr. C. H. Cook was elected 'Ringing World' representative. Extensive discussion followed the Master's proposal for the formation of volunteer bands to assist struggling towers. As no definite decision was reached, the Master suggested that it be left to the committee to decide the best course of action.

Finally Mr. West read a letter he had received from Mr. Chesley, of Merstham, drawing members' attention to the fact that St. Katherine's bells were now ringing again after rehanging and augmenting to eight. Practices were being held on Wednesday nights and any help would be greatly appreciated in training a new band.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The January meeting of the Society was held at Sheffield Cathedral and St. Marie's. The afternoon's ringing took place at St. Marie's where a good standard was maintained.

Tea was arranged in St. Marie's Institute where the ringers received a cordial welcome from Canon Collins. During the business meeting the proposed Yorkshire Council of Ringers was discussed and the meeting elected two representatives to serve on it.

After tea ringing continued at the Cathedral, where methods from Bob Major to Yorkshire Royal and Stedman Cinques were rung.

Next meeting, Harthill and Killamarsh on February 6th. J.C.

BARNSELY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

It was decided at the meeting of the Society at Horbury, near Wakefield, on January 9th to submit to the A.G.M. at Barnsley on February 13th new rules for the control of contests. Nine towers were represented and the vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. W. Moreton.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. VIII, Advent, 1877 - Advent, 1878

ALL SAINTS', NEWCASTLE

11 Oct., — The bells of this church were opened by the Union Society of Newcastle Change Ringers with a peal of Holt's Grandsire Trebles, 5,040 changes in 3 hours 1 minute. Tenor 19 cwt., 'being that glorious day when Admiral Duncan gallantly defeated the Dutch fleet off Camperdown, on the coast of Holland, and captured nine ships of the line and two frigates.'

ST. JAMES', BARROW-IN-FURNESS

12 Oct., 1878, 'for the first time in the district,' half peal of Holt's ten-part Grandsire Triples, 2,520 changes in 1 hr. 28 mins. Tenor 15½ cwt. 'These bells were obtained by public subscription and dedicated on 25 July, 1877—St. James' Day. The bells were supplied and the work done by Mr. Mallaby of Masham.'

ST. MARY-LE-TOWER, IPSWICH

22 Oct. 1878, 5,021 Grandsire Caters, 3 hrs. 26 mins. Tenor 32 cwt. 'It is worthy of note that this is the first peal that has been rung in the present tower and it is upwards of twenty-eight years since one has been accomplished in Ipswich. Several attempts have been made but have proved unsuccessful.'

LAMERTON, DEVON

8 Oct., 1878, Church rebuilt after fire. Six old bells recast by Warners, Tenor 11 cwt. Now reopened.

MONKLEIGH, DEVON

5 Sep., 1878, Bells reopened, augmented to 6 and rehung by Hooper and Stokes of Woodbury.

APPLETON, BERKS.

9 Nov. 1878. The members of the Appleton Society of Change-ringers paid a last tribute of respect to the memory of the late Mr. G. White (the oldest member of the White family) by ringing on the muffled bells of the parish church 5,040 Grandsire Triples, 2 hrs. 58 mins. F. S. White on the treble and F. White, conductor, on 6th.

ST. ANDREW'S, STEYNING, SUSSEX

Rev. M. G. Vine, Curate, writes: 'Our 6 bells being found to be unsafe, have been entirely rehung with new wheels, stocks, stays, etc., by Mr. J. Dalby, builder of Steyning, under the direction and supervision of Messrs. Creed and Dalby, Architects and Surveyors, of 40, Gt. Marlborough St., London.' The writer went on to say how well the ringers behaved and attended church, that they were not paid fixed salaries, and were instructed in change-ringing by Mr. H. Burstow, of Horsham, through the kindness of Colonel Ingram of Steyning. The paper praises their efforts and concludes, 'it would have afforded additional pleasure to the ringing community had we been able to chronicle at the same time the increase of the ring to 8. Amid the wealth of the neighbourhood we imagine that a strenuous effort made in that direction would be crowned with success.'

MONKLEIGH, DEVON

'An apparatus known as the dumb-bell practice apparatus invented by Mr. E. Seage of Exeter to assist learners in acquiring the art of scientific change-ringing has recently been fixed by him in the church steeple. The appliance has been successfully tested by the ringers. The apparatus has now become prevalent in Devonshire and the locality, and has proved itself a boon to ringers.'

CHARING, KENT

'The dedication service of a ring of 6 bells (the gift of Bishop Tuffnell) was held 7 Nov., 1878. There was a numerous attendance. Bishop Tuffnell conducted the service after which a peal was rung by ringers from Mersham. Bells cast by Taylors and hung by Henry Bond of Burford, Oxford.

JONATHAN PAVIER.

aged at least 99,

Royal Cumberland Society.—'All hail to Jonathan Pavier, the ringer aged 100 years.' On Saturday, 1 June, 1878... at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, 5,024 Kent T.B. Major in 3 hours 5 minutes. 'This performance celebrated a double event, being the anniversary of the presentation of a handsome testimonial to the conductor (John Cox) by his friends and in commemoration of Jonathan Pavier reaching his 100th birthday on 30 May, 1878.' (There seems to be some discrepancy in reports as to exactly when Jonathan became 100. In a recent item in these extracts, under the sub-heading 'The Sanitary Influence of Bellringing and its Melodies,' his birthday is shown as 31 May, 1779. If that date is correct, the commemorative peal took place at the commencement of his 100th year—a remarkable and joyful occasion anyhow!—C.R.)

'He personally knew the celebrated John Noonan has been a Cumberland for nearly 70 years and is thought to be the first ringer who has lived to be a centenarian.' There was also a date touch of Stedman Triples at Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, in his honour.

ST. JAMES', BOLTON, NEAR BRADFORD

16 Nov., 1878, 10,176 Kent T.B. Major, 5 hrs. 59 mins. 'the longest peal ever rung by the Society.' Tenor 15 cwt. rung by J. W. Snowdon. The first peal ever on the bells, which were opened 30 Oct. 'and have been placed in the tower by the munificent liberality of Atkinson Jowett Esq., who also defrayed the entire cost of the erection of this Church. The bells... were cast and hung by Messrs. Shaw & Son, of Bradford, and are the first entire ring ever cast in that town. They are hung in two tiers.'

ST. MICHAEL'S, HEADINGLEY, LEEDS

2 Nov., 1878, 5,040 Treble Bob Minor, 3 hrs. 1 min. Tenor 12 cwt. 'the first peal of 5,000 ever rung on these bells.'

EVESHAM, WORCESTERSHIRE

A new clock and set of chimes at a cost of nearly £2,000 has just (No. 1878) been erected in the Abbey Tower. Messrs. Gillett and Bland, entrusted with the work, appear to have given satisfaction. The quarter chimes are the 'Westminster' and there are seven tunes 'pricked' upon the barrel, it being arranged that a change can be effected daily—that for Sunday being the old favourite 'Hanover.' The clock faces (East and West fronts) have been regilded by a local artist. 'To complete fully their task, we beg to suggest to the worthy Vicar and Churchwardens the advisability of rehanging the bells (8) and organising a new company of young ringers, who should be trained by an efficient person to ring at all times—decently and in order... Scientific half-pull ringing, in 1866, was unknown in the place... and no intelligence has yet reached us of any signs of a healthy movement being made in the direction of belfry reform...

The next issue of 'Church Bells' records that on 15 Nov., 1878, by invitation of the Vicar 'nine members of the Worcester Cathedral Society rang touches of Grandsire Triples on the Abbey bells, it being the formal opening of the new clock and chimes. The bells were rehung and fitted with new frame some time since... Tenor 30 cwt.'

ALL SAINTS, SHERBURN, YORKS.

Two of the ring of six have been recast and the others returned, all rehung in a new massive oak cage by Mr. Mallaby of Masham. The bells were opened on All Saints' Day, 1878—tenor 15 cwt. Services were held at 8 a.m., 10 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. Many clergy from the neighbourhood were present and took part in the services.'

FIRST TOUR OF THE YEAR

A TOUR in 1965 could hardly have been held before the first Saturday in the year and accordingly on January 2nd, six ringers brave the icy conditions to arrive at noon outside St. Mary's Church, Stoke Abbott, Dorset. This is a 14 cwt. five and we congratulate ourselves on having a spare ringer. At Broadwindsor, a touch of Grandsire started, then 'Let's have a quarter' cries John Cornelius and promptly calls one. While ringing two more members arrive and with eight, confidence—as if it was ever lacking—returns.

Off to Devon, only just, Hawkchurch, where the gentleman appointed to greet us has the key he also has a sense of humour and watches with glee, from the shadows, as our representative knocks on the door of a house. We find the bells very musical and during our short stay we have a ring with their second in command.

Uplyme and Dorset again, Charmouth St. Andrew's, a Mears and Stainbank three of 1836, now running on Messrs Taylor's ball bearings and surely not the 15 cwt. alleged. The bells down we prepare to leave, but hold. Our band grows, this three is irresistible, the bells are raised again and all are satisfied.

The fine eight of Whitchurch Canonorum follow, home of another Arcscott, one is already with us to watch the striking, and then down to the five at Chideock where Miss Atkey and Mrs. Pannell from Beaminster join us, Symondsburry, Bradpole and Lodders fall, for some, in quick succession, at the latter we fill the cold, clear evening air with some spirited carol singing as we wend our way down the church path.

Northwards to Netherbury, whose captain and his lady, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, had joined us earlier, before the eight of Beaminster bring the proceedings to a close.

It may be fairly added that the day's ringing was much enjoyed and our thanks are due to Melvyn Hillier who contributed much invaluable spawework. J.C.S./K.C.J.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

West Lindsey Branch

As in former years the annual meeting of the West Lindsey Branch was held at All Saints', Gainsborough. The ringing on this melodious octave on January 16th included the special methods selected for this meeting—Bob Triples and Gainsborough Little Bob. The Vicar, Canon J. E. Roberts, conducted a shortened form of Evensong and gave the address.

By 6.15 p.m. the ringers had worked up big appetites for the excellent tea prepared by the local ladies in the Church School Hall. At the business meeting, presided over by the Vicar, the Branch secretary (Mr. Lunn) reported some well attended meetings during the year despite a drop in membership. The balance sheet was approved. The places and dates for Branch meetings were arranged, the next being Blyton on February 27th, and the outing this year is to Loughborough.

The president asked Mr. J. Bray, Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, to present the Sunday Service Ringing Cup to Mr. Denton, captain of the Stow ringers, who narrowly beat Saxilby, holders of the cup since it was given to the Branch.

Mr. G. E. Fairn concluded the meeting with votes of thanks to the Vicar, organist and, last but not least, the ladies who had prepared such a splendid tea.

Ringling was then resumed on the six bells at Lea. T. A. G.

ST. ANDREW'S, GARGRAVE, YORKSHIRE

18 May, 1878.—5,040 changes in seven Treble Bob methods, 3 hours 18 minutes. Tenor 16 cwt. 'Supposed to be the first true 5,000 ever accomplished in Craven.'

ST. MICHAEL'S, GARSTON, near LIVERPOOL

18 May, 1878.—5,088 Kent T.B. Major, 3 hours 22 minutes. Bells recently cast by Warners of London.

OBITUARY

MR. J. W. LAKE

With much regret we report the death of Mr. J. W. Lake, of 72, West Street, Bourne, Lincolnshire, on January 7th, at the age of 86.

Mr. Lake was born in Bourne Fen and lived the whole of his life in that area. He married in 1903, and came to reside in Bourne, following his trade as joiner wheelwright. As a ringer he was especially well known in South Lincs. An excellent striker and in his younger days as a six bell conductor, he was unsurpassed, and had called many multi-method Spliced Surprise Minor peals. He took part in the first known spliced peal in 14 methods, conducted by the late Rev. H. Law James in 1911 at Edenham. He was also an excellent ringer on eight- and ten bells. The number of peals to his credit is not known, but possibly pumber around 200. He is survived by his widow. Mr. and Mrs. Lake celebrated their diamond wedding in April, 1963, and received congratulations from the Queen.

The funeral service was held in Bourne Abbey Church on January 12th, and to his memory a half-muffled quarter peal was rung in the evening on the Abbey bells, where he had been leader and conductor for many years.

MR. W. G. HISCOTT
AN APPRECIATION

Mr. Tom G. Myers writes:

I would like to add my tribute, to that of H. H. T.'s, on the passing of our old friend 'Bill' Hiscott. I had known him since my earliest childhood and been on many ringing excursions and had the privilege of standing in some of his peals.

'Bill' joined the Guild of Devonshire Ringers in June, 1901, and rang his first peal on October 3rd, 1903 (Grandsire Triples on H.M. Dockyard bells), and on December 3rd (just two months after) he rang in his first peal on ten at Charles Church, Plymouth (Grandsire Caters). He rang a number of peals before World War I, and between the two wars was one of the pioneers of 'Surprise' ringing in Devon and rang in the first 720 of Surprise Minor (Cambridge) on December 27th, 1924, at Holbeton.

He was a first class striker and his peals total for the Guild was noted for quality rather than quantity.

He was the last of the band that rang in the peal of Grandsire Caters on Exeter Cathedral bells on January 14th, 1905; and also Grandsire Cinques on January 9th, 1926, the Caters being the first on the bells by a resident band, while the Cinques was the first twelve bell peal by resident members of the Guild.

MR. R. VEEVES

A well-known Petersfield resident and ringer at Buriton and Petersfield died on January 5th, aged 63. He was a founder member of the Petersfield Rotary Club and took a practical interest in the Scout movement. His younger son, Andrew, rings in London with the University ringers.

The funeral service was held at Buriton on January 11th when ringers from Warnford, Liss and Buriton rang full-muffled after the service. There was ringing again in the evening, but the quarter peal of Doubles was unsuccessful. The following Sunday evening he was remembered with gratitude in a quarter peal rung at Petersfield.

MR. EDWIN HUNT

For 39 years a ringer at St. Michael's, Yorktown, Camberley, Mr. Edwin Hunt died on January 13th, aged 73. At the funeral service on January 19th, attended by as many local ringers as could leave work, the Vicar described him as, 'a humble and unassuming Christian man, ready to do a good turn if possible.' An in memoriam quarter peal, with the bells half-muffled, was rung in the evening.

Ted, as he was known, was born in Wiltshire and taught himself to ring on the four at Christon, near Devizes. Never a change ringer, he was a good tenor man who loved good striking. He had a few peals to his credit. His last pull was on November 1st when he told us of his impending admission to hospital.

Correction.—In the peal at Wallington, Herts, No. 32 of C.C. collection of Cambridge Minor was also rung.

Don't forget your 1964 Index. Free to those who send the Editor a stamped addressed envelope. Other years also available.

Ringers on the move.—Last Monday our office staff cut 21 new stencils mainly for subscribers changing their addresses.

The quarter peal rung at Solihull on January 17th was the first as conductor for Graham Palmer, who celebrated his 21st birthday on that day. Graham is also a chorister at the Parish Church.

There is a change in the hon. secretary of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. Mr. Frank Matthews has resigned and his place is taken by Mr. D. E. Gibson. Dennis Beresford continues as master.

Friends of Mr. J. Frank Smallwood will be pleased to know that he is better and except for the limitations imposed by 80 plus there are no after effects. He has had to knock off ringing, even for service, but hopes it is only temporary.

The five bells at Coddington, Notts, are to be rehung and retuned and are due at the Loughborough foundry at the end of the month. Local ringers have already raised a considerable sum of the total cost and a frame for six bells is to be installed.

We regret to hear of the passing of Mr. Charles F. Sayer, a well loved ringer at St. Peter's, St. Albans, who was librarian to the Hertford County Association until ill-health necessitated his resignation. To his memory a handbell peal was rung on January 15th.

Mr. Frank C. W. Knight, of 16 Vale Square, Ramsgate, was admitted last Tuesday to the Broak Hospital, Woolwich, for an operation for a brain tumour. He expects to be there for 12 weeks. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery and pray that after this he will be fully restored to health.

Yorkshire Association to Have Joint Council

The chief item of interest at the general meeting of the Yorkshire Association last Saturday was the newly-formed 'Joint Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies,' which is to have its first meeting in York next month. It has come into being after three meetings of representatives of all the ringing Societies in the county.

While the Yorkshire Association 'covers' the whole county, the nine more local societies cater for the needs of the area around their name towns or districts. It has often been stated that the District Societies are more concerned with the learners, the Yorkshire Association with the more advanced ringers, and while there may be some truth in this, it is nowhere near the whole truth, and as a policy it is a bad one.

Because of the many organisations and seemingly different aims a certain lack of co-ordination has been felt, and it is really the purpose of the new Joint Council to get Yorkshire ringers together, literally to a certain extent, and metaphorically.

Mr. Tom Myers Remembered

Mr. T. J. Myers refutes the claim made by the band who rang at East Budleigh on November 30th (page 9) that it was the first of Parker's One Part for the Guild and in the county. Mr. Myers' first peal with a bob bell was this celebrated One Part rung on October 6th, 1923, at Emmanuel, Plymouth, conducted by the Rev. E. S. Powell, it being his first attempt to call a peal of Grandsire Triples. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Myers is now convalescent after his illness and is able to take short walks as the weather permits. With the return of health and strength he looks forward to being able to earn his living at the bench and resume his activities in the belfry.

Sussex Reflection

The 80th anniversary dinner of the Sussex County Association, held amid the glamour of the Royal Pavilion, Brighton, was no ordinary birthday. Excellently supported, both from within and outside the county, the hon. secretary of the Central Council had a most appropriate introduction to his speech when he said he first came to Sussex to find a wife! The Sussex Association of today has its galaxy of beautiful women and probably more than one male present that evening was wife-seeking. Many ringers think that a bell rope, properly handled, is one of the best ways of revealing a girl's grace and charm.

Liverpool Triumph

The first peal on the bells of Liverpool Cathedral was rung last Saturday in 4 hours 2 minutes. It was 5,037 Grandsire Cinques conducted by Joseph Ridvard who had Dennis Jones strapping for him on the eleventh. There were also two men on the tenor. The peal was rung for the Diamond Jubilee of the Cathedral and as a welcome to the new Dean, the Very Rev. Edward H. Patey.

Lightest of Bells Filmed

A B.B.C. TV film unit visited Mr. Frank D. Mack at Exmorell on January 16th with Michael Harman as interviewer. The film of these little bells will be broadcast at some future date on Spotlight South-West and possibly later on Points West. They also made a short recording for Sound Radio—News and Round-up for the South and West.

Wilmslow Veteran 84

Although no longer actively engaged in ringing, Mr. John Wheadon enjoys being visited by fellow members of the band at Wilmslow, Cheshire. They rang a peal at this church recently as a birthday compliment to him. Mr. Wheadon was 93 on January 4th. For the benefit of would-be correspondents, his address is 7, Gorsey Road, Wilmslow.

40 Years On

By ringing in the peal at Upton-on-Severn on January 9th, the brothers Frank and Joe Lawrence achieved the unique feat of ringing the same bells to Grandsire Triples which they rang 40 years ago to their first peal. Sadly, only two others of the original band are still living, but in these days they take no active part in ringing. An enjoyable evening, including a meal, was had by the band afterwards, and many were the tales told of experiences during the 40 years.

Bad Luck Broken

The Cowbridge, Glamorgan, Doubles peal band reunited in the University vacation to score a peal of Plain Bob at Bonvilston, called from the tenor by Lew Groom, his first as conductor. This broke an unwelcome run of bad luck for the band who had lost previous attempts due to inadequate trouser support, a jammed rope, and the disintegration of a tower joist respectively. The peal offers 86th birthday greetings to Mr. E. Thomas, a former ringer at Bonvilston and father-in-law of the late Mr. R. E. Coles, a leading ringer in the district.

Lines by a 'Norwich Scholar'

How oft mankind exert their utmost powers
To find amusement for their leisure hours;
While some in bowls or cricket will unite
And in such healthful exercise delight,
Others on chess or music fix their mind,
Requiring practice of no trifling kind;
Those who are gifted with a tuneful voice
In singing glees or such like strains rejoice;
While some to far less noble arts descend—
Their time thus wasted oft in ruin end.
Then why should ringing be set down as naught

By some who never give the science thought?
Its exercise amusement doth impart
To those who are proficient in the art;
In it our energies are all required—
Mental and physical, and zeal untired.
Its compositions intricate are found.
While in its changes harmony abound.
Then let those critics who our choice condemn Leave us to follow it—we grant the same to them.

Henry Hubbard, June, 1854.)

Practical Appreciation

To judge from the number of complaints one hears or reads about ringing (All Saints', Maidenhead, 'R.W.' January 15th, for instance) it might be thought that a large number of people do not like the sound of bells; however, I have never believed this to be so and the experience of a peal band at Caerphilly, Glamorgan, has strengthened my conviction that only a small minority dislike bell ringing.

After ringing the band was met outside the tower by a lady who said that she had liked the ringing so much that the ringers must be rewarded for their efforts; and with that she gave a very generous gift to be shared by the eight ringers. This took place on Boxing Day; so the band walked away with a most unexpected and welcome Christmas present.

Collapsed in Ringing Chamber

The peal in 21 Doubles methods rung at Warnford, Hampshire, was to have been attempted in November last by a band which included Miss Susan Smith of Fareham; the ropes were adjusted and the peal about to begin when she collapsed in the ringing chamber and within two days had a major internal operation. Miss Betty Daysh kindly stepped into the breach and the peal was successfully rung as a twenty-first birthday compliment to Miss Maureen White whose birthday was on January 14th; the band extend all good wishes to her. The peal contained the most methods rung in the Alton and Petersfield District of the Guild and by all the band. The ringers wish Miss Susan Smith a complete recovery to good health, and they also thank Mr. and Mrs. T. White for entertaining them after the peal.

Quex Park Peal Lost

A peal attempt was lost after 2 hours' good ringing, at Quex Park, Kent. The method was Plain Bob, and it was half-muffled for the late Mrs. Powell-Cotton, owner of the tower. Mrs. Powell-Cotton was a good friend to ringers and one of her ancestors, Mr. John Powell-Powell, built the famous tower and put in it the ring of twelve. The attempt was on the middle six (tenor 7 cwt.) by: P. Austin (first peal attempt) 1, F. C. W. Knight 2, D. L. Cawley 3, G. G. Firman 4, M. Ostler 5, K. J. Triplow (cond.) 6.

Kidderminster Active

Miss Freda Salter, who has been in the forefront of a venture which has resulted in the bells of Kidderminster Parish Church being rung regularly for service on Sundays since Easter Day last, is the new secretary of the band of ringers there. Her father, Mr. Keith Salter, is the present captain of the ringers, succeeding Mr. Ray Skinner, who led the band when ringing was resumed in November after a long break. Her grandfather, the late Mr. T. J. Salter, was also a captain of Kidderminster Parish Church ringers. Her address is 164, Marlpool Lane, Kidderminster.

MISCELLANEOUS

RINGERS' DIARY, 1965

We regret that one or two errors have crept into the new touches on page 79.

1. The lengths of the quarter peals of Triples in the last column shown as 1,280 should be 1,260.

2. In the second calling a 'H3' has been omitted from the second 'course.' The calling should be

23456	W	H
52436	—	3
52346	—	1	3
24356	2	3
26543	—	O
35426	F
23456	—	3

On the back end paper the method names Stansted and St. Edmundsbury College Triples should be transposed.

We have also been notified that the secretary of the Furness and Lake District of the Lancashire Association is Mr. T. F. Metcalfe, 49, Station Road, Flookburgh, Grange-over-Sands, and that the convener of the Records Committee of the Central Council (Mr. F. T. ENGLISH BELL RINGING AND MODERN CHURCHES

A NUMBER of interesting points have been raised by articles on this subject in recent issues of 'The Ringing World.' Much has been written and it seems likely that the latest letter will provoke yet more discussion. This is ever valuable, but whilst tower design and bell-frame innovations may be mooted for generations, we should not forget that a vast church-building programme is already under way, and that for words and ideas to be effective now they should be matched quickly by action.

Most architects are not naturally aware of the complexity of requirements for change ringing any more than they are naturally aware of the requirements of—say—a hospital operating theatre. In the latter example the architect will always be supplied with detailed information by his client, but I wonder how many parish councils include bells in their brief for a new church, giving their precise requirements?

A 'Brief' for a campanile from first principles could be as follows:

1. Number and weight of bells. These key decisions would heavily influence the design. A light ring of bells could be cast and hung for ringing for little over £1,000 and the cost of an efficient 'campanile' to hold them need only be a small fraction of the cost of most new churches.

2. Provision of adequate space for ringers, including bystanders (considerable numbers of whom accumulate during meetings). This space would preferably be at ground level as it allows the elevation of the bells to be low and the cost of supporting a heavy bell frame forms one of the major items of expense.

Access would be easy but lockable internally and externally. Adequate daylighting and multi-point artificial lighting at proper height would be required. Windows would not permit distracting viewing of or by ringers, who should not be set in silhouette one from another.

Heating and ventilation should be adequate and controllable (many new ringing rooms have insufficient ventilation).

The space should be designed and treated acoustically to eliminate all unwanted reverberation of sound from the bells. Regard must be paid to the shape of the space (v. Liverpool Cathedral, where the huge room causes multi-echoing) and to the nature of floor, wall and ceiling surfaces (v. St. Andrew's, Holborn—harsh sound reflection occurs off the concrete floor). The height of the ringing space would be determined by the draught of rope required (without guides) between ringers and ceiling.

3. Provision of a bell-chamber. Between this and the ringers' space there would be some sound insulating material. According to the weight of the bells, this may vary from a sound-deadening floor to a separate sound-reducing chamber. The former is acoustically more easy to manipulate, and also allows for the height of the bell frame to be kept low off the ground. Here, I would add, it is essential that the bell founders are called in at an early stage in the design. The bell frame which is eventually installed must produce a good rope circle for the ringers without (or with minimum) 'drawing' of any rope away from its free vertical fall from the pulley block.

The bell chamber would be provided with convenient access and floors at a convenient height for maintenance of the bells, also for entry of the latter.

Natural light here is desirable but not essential. Good artificial light and provision for a wandering lead is, however, required. Acoustically the bell chamber, like the ringing space, must be very carefully designed, both in shape and in the nature of its floor, wall and ceiling surfaces. It should not allow excessive resonance of other than the strike note of each bell, nor yet unduly deaden the overtones.

Emission of sound from the bell chamber generally should be directed upwards and outwards. Neighbouring high buildings may make it desirable to reduce or prevent sound being emitted in some directions. Always the sound emission should be controllable, to enable a larger volume for services and special occasions, and a minimum for practice nights.

Providing this kind of brief is adhered to, the architect is then afforded every opportunity of designing a campanile to his own architectural taste and to the requirements of his clients, the parochial church council.

This brief by no means answers all the queries, rather it deliberately raises many problems which have to be worked out and solved in each individual case.

The campanile could be a major feature of the design, or (like some South of England timber towers) it could be incorporated as just another item of equipment, at modest cost, within the overall body of the church.

With all due respect to the sketch which appeared in 'The Ringing World' of January 22nd, preconceived ideas of a non-architectural nature shown to an architect may well deter him from offering any solution, especially if he is led to believe he will only be asked to clothe some such engineered structure in appropriate architectural dress.

I feel that the greatest service ringers could do in the promotion of rings of bells for new churches would be to provide the church councils concerned—and thus the architects—with basic information like the above so that new designs for campaniles may be evolved.

APPLYING TRUTH TO PEAL RINGING—By Rev. F. Rigby

Straight Words at Bristol University Dinner

ON January 23rd eight towers in and around Bristol were open to welcome the 163 ringers and friends who attended the U.B.S.C.R. annual dinner. Ringing ranged throughout the morning and afternoon from rounds to London Royal and Cambridge Maximus. This was followed by the annual service in the Church of St. Michael-on-the-Mount-Without, where the Rector, the Rev. Mr. Vyvyan-Jones, welcomed the visitors and spoke of the problems caused by the expansion of the University. He nevertheless welcomed the change and challenged the members of the Universities not only to criticise the older generation within the church, but to take possession of the church so that the same criticisms might not be levelled at them by succeeding generations.

After the loyal toast, proposed by the president (Professor R. J. Brocklehurst), Mr. D. B. Williams (the secretary) proposed the toast of 'The Visitors.' He referred to the shadow under which the dinner was being held this year, the illness of Sir Winston Churchill, Chancellor of Bristol University. He asked those present to copy the example of his life, and especially to apply Sir Winston's vision of unity to ringing.

PURPOSE OF A UNIVERSITY

The reply to the toast to the visitors was made by the Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association (the Rev. F. Rigby).

Mr. Rigby said he believed the purpose of a university was to help members—first of all to discover the truth, and secondly, having found the truth, to pass it on to others. He found the discovery of the truth in anything exceedingly difficult. He read many articles in theological journals and had come to the conclusion that one half of the theologians did not know what the other half were writing about.

'The discovery of the truth in mathematics is a little easier, but even so, there are so many branches of mathematics that an expert in one field may well find another branch of mathematics almost incomprehensible. A few months ago curiosity prompted me to buy a copy of the "Scientific American," a number devoted to mathematics. It made me realise that though I knew a little mathematics, it was indeed a little. I know of some of the new mathematics, for example what is known as "group theory" simply because that is what my son does. But there is far more mathematics which I do not understand than mathematics which I do understand.'

'Quite simply, the whole of the truth is far greater than we realise or are prepared to admit. That, incidentally, is one reason why I believe in God; there must exist somebody who knows the whole of truth, God Himself. If that statement is philosophically unsound, I apologise to the philosophers present.'

TRUTH IN RINGING

'Now what has all this to do with change ringing? Quite a lot. University men and women must have a concern for the truth, not only in their own field of study, but in so far as it affects their art or science of ringing. I think, too, I would like to ally the truth with beauty, for without the beauty of ringing which is shown in good striking the truth of ringing may not emerge. Let me explain a little more clearly.'

'Those who are clever enough can check the truth of the composition of a peal in advance but this is no guarantee that the truth which exists on paper will result in a true peal being rung in the tower. The truth is only achieved in the tower by good, continuous, accurate striking of the whole of the peal; that is why truth must be allied to beauty in the ringing of a peal. Further, the truth of the composition must be known to the conductor and he must be able to translate the truth which appears on paper to be the calling of the truth in the tower. Truth and beauty together may result in a proper peal.'

'Now I suggest to you that not all peals published in "The Ringing World" are true peals even if they are based on paper truth. I once rang a peal which was supposed to be seven extents of Minor conducted by someone who has now rung more than a thousand peals. It duly appeared in "The Ringing World" but I did not put it in my own records. For this reason: If you are ringing at a certain speed you know that you cannot ring one of the 720's in several minutes less than the others. Something went wrong, as so often happens, and for some time there was a most ghastly row. The bells were called into a certain coursing order from the most awful mix-up and were eventually brought round, but all I am prepared to say about this particular extent was the length was (720-x). That which was recorded was not a peal.'

'Now I don't want to be pious about this sort of thing. The quickly corrected trip skillfully done we can all allow. But not all bad patches in peals are like this and many recorded peals are false peals and are known to be false.'

'So it amounts to this. The truth of a composition usually exists on paper. It also exists in the conductor's head and I would be the first to deny that he has a pretty difficult task. But the truth does not always emerge in the tower, yet often that which is printed in "The Ringing World" appears as if the truth had been rung. I like to think that God will have a sort of super-tape recorder with an infinity of tapes recording our peals so that we may continue our arguments about what went wrong and who went wrong in the next life. But this is a private fancy.'

'University men and women have a duty to seek the truth in all things; we should seek it in our ringing and help ringing generally by having high standards. All that glitters is not gold and neither are all peals which are recorded in "The Ringing World" true peals.'

The toast of 'The Society' was proposed by Mr. S. E. Watters, Master of the Cambridge University Guild, who made a highly amusing speech and ended by wishing the U.B.S.C.R. every success for future years.

The Master (Mr. C. M. Foster) replied, giving details of the Society's activities, ringing and otherwise, during the last year, and introduced the new system which is being developed in the Society for teaching learners.

Social activity continued after dinner until midnight, when many were heard to resolve that they would be there again next year. We certainly hope so and look forward to an even more successful dinner day in 1966.

HAPPENINGS IN SALISBURY GUILD

The Branch annual meeting was held at Dorchester on January 16th. St. Peter's bells being available from 2.30 p.m. and those at Fordington St. George in the evening.

The Guild service in St. Peter's Church was conducted by the Rector, Rev. K. W. Meiklejohn, the lesson being read by the Branch chairman (Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth, Rector of Cattistock) and the address given by the Rev. E. D. Ginever, Rector of Maiden Newton. Mr. Harvey Easton was organist.

Tea was served in the Wessex Restaurant to nearly 50 members including the Master of the Guild (Rev. R. N. Longridge) and visitors from Somerset, North Dorset and Wimborne.

At the business meeting which followed the following officers were elected: Chairman, Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth; vice-chairman, Canon E. B. Brooks; Ringing Master, Mr. J. W. Rose; Deputy Ringing Masters, Messrs. E. H. Amey and A. J. Slade; honorary secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. J. Slade; assistant honorary secretary, Miss B. Dyke; committee members, Miss P. Boalch and Mr. G. Goringe. Mr. Richard Duke, who had been assistant honorary secretary for nine years and secretary for the past seven years, did not seek re-election. The chairman expressed appreciation to Mr. Duke, for his valuable work for the Dorchester Branch.

The honorary secretary reported a slight increase in Branch membership, which now stood at 150. Quarter peals had been rung at Abbotsbury, Cattistock, Charminster, Fordington, Preston, Wool and Wyke Regis during the year. Congratulations were extended to Mr. F. Stedman, of Wyke Regis, who had celebrated his 90th birthday during 1964, and who still rings regularly on Sundays and practice nights. The financial statement showed a balance in hand of £17 18s. 1d.

Quarterly meetings during 1965 were provisionally agreed to at Maiden Newton (by invitation), April; Piddlehinton, July; Cattistock in September. Subject to consent fortnightly Branch practices will be held at Wool (January 30th), Wyke Regis (February 13th).

Upwey (February 27th), Litton Cheney (March 13th), Piddlehinton (March 27th) and Cattistock (April 10th).

Wimborne Branch

Sixty ringers from 15 towers energetically used the fine ring of 10 bells at Wimborne Minster on January 23rd on the occasion of the A.G.M. of the local Branch. The Guild Office was taken by the Vicar, Rev. S. M. Epps, who warmly welcomed all the ringers. An interesting sermon on the missionary work of bells in the 20th century was preached by the curate, Rev. J. Lewis, himself a ringer. Mr. G. Grant, a Minster ringer, played the organ. An excellent tea was provided by the Minster ringers and ably served by their wives.

At the lively business meeting, the Chairman, Mr. L. J. Lockyer, welcomed the visitors and in particular the Guild Master, Rev. R. N. Longridge, who agreed to take the chair for the meeting. Officers for 1965 were elected as follows: Chairman, Mr. L. J. Lockyer; Vice-chairman, Mr. C. E. Bishop; Secretary, Mrs. J. A. Robertson; Ringing Masters, Mr. R. G. W. Robertson and Mr. H. I. Pitman; Committee Members, Mr. C. Burt and Mr. M. J. Young.

Members stood in memory of Mr. A. MacDonald and Mr. C. Percy who died last March. Both were members of the old Poole band. The Secretary reported that there were 81 branch members and that meetings during the year had not always been well attended. However attendance had improved of late, 37 quarter peals were rung in the Branch ranging from obscure Doubles to Grandsire and Plain Bob Caters. The fortnightly Minor practices at Lytchett Matravers had been regular and good progress made. The Secretary also reported that four towers had a regular practice night and three more towers rang once on a Sunday. This was seven ringing towers out of a possible 16, a rather disturbing state for the Branch to be in.

Letters to the Editor

Fairy Bells

Dear Sir.—In answer to the query by Mr. Claude Rush (R.W.' 22.1.65) as to what fairy bells are my late father bought a set in London about 60 years ago which are now in the possession of my youngest brother.

The instrument consists of a sounding board over which the strings, 12 in number, are stretched. It is contained in a light wooden box-like apparatus, approximately 3ft. x 12ins. x 6ins., with a sliding front panel for tuning purposes, and a removable key as a dulcimer or zither. The strings are exposed at the top front for about six inches and the instrument is swung in a circular motion in front of the performer, the strings being plucked with the thumbs from the centre outwards. The effect is a most remarkable likeness to church bells, especially in rising and falling. Of course tunes are also played.

I recollect my father and his fairy bells being in great demand at concerts in the Knutsford, Cheshire, area 50 years ago.

In the Oxford Companion to Music, the bell harp appears to be the closest in description to the fairy bells.

I would like to thank Mr. Rush for his most interesting research into ringing and ringers of the early days.—Yours faithfully,

S. HOUGH.

Sevenoaks Application

Dear Sir.—May I be allowed space to comment on the replies of Messrs. P. A. Corby and M. F. Lock.

(i) I am not aware that Doris Colgate (to whom I wrote asking for the use of Sevenoaks bells) is the Rector of Sevenoaks, nor that Monday was the day of their practice; nor that the frame was in such poor state. For my ignorance I humbly apologise.

(ii) Mr. Lock can be forgiven his invective since he is naturally unaware of how I signed my letter; he can only see what the editor cares to put. In fact my signature was actually 'G.B.T. (Anarchist)' from which (had it been published fully) I think anyone interested could have easily identified me.

If only all the letters to the 'R.W.' were of the standard of Mr. Corby's—a delight to read, I shall put it in my scrap-book along with some of my peals!—Yours sincerely,

GILES B. THOMPSON.

Recordings at Standard Speed

Dear Sir.—If Mr. Ashcroft or any other ringer with a tape recorder would like a recording of St. Mary's or the R.C. Church, Cambridge, would they please send a suitable tape and stamps or postal order (to cover return postage) to address below.

I would suggest that all recordings are kept to a standard speed of $3\frac{1}{2}$ i.p.s. as many people have only this speed anyway.

I. QUINNEY.

Sound Control

Dear Sir.—Mr. Chaddock has written an excellent article on sound control and having myself examined at close quarters the equipment in use at Rotherham Parish Church I can vouch for it being fully effective. However, there is one point which I think has not been emphasised sufficiently and another completely overlooked in the article.

Firstly, when boarding or bricking up louvres practically all the louvre has to be covered before any effect whatsoever is noticeable. It is for this reason that bricking up the louvres to the spring of the arch is recommended. It has only a small effect but allows the movable part of the sound control to be made so much smaller.

The second point relates to that old chestnut—the damaging effect of bottling up sound in a tower. On at least two occasions I have approached vicars and tried to persuade them to install sound control. But for the fact that they had an unshakable belief in the damaging effect of the bottled up sound I think I would have succeeded. There is nothing about this topic in the C.C. handbook on preservation. Is it not about time the experts on the Towers and Belfries Committee pronounced authoritatively on it? Yours etc.—

Badsworth Bells

Dear Sir.—Mr. Atkinson expresses the view that the history will never be known, but I trust our historians will reveal some useful data. The treble is reputed to be a Richard Mellour bell, 1488-1539, and he will be pleased to know that this founder was traced and was in business at Nottingham (1488) as 'Alderman and Belyetter.' He was twice Mayor, 1499 and 1506. He died in 1508 or 1509, and was followed by his son Robert.

On the 2nd, the S. S. Ebor, 1675 denotes a Samuel Smith casting from the York foundry. This founder recast York Minster bells in 1681 but they were not in tune for a peal of 12. He cast the tenor at Hedon (Yorkshire) in 1687 with S. S. Ebor inscribed, and although recast by Taylor's in 1919 the inscription was copied. Regarding the Oldfield family, of Nottingham, they were noted for producing many fine bells with fine lettering and decoration.

I have no notes of Godfrey Heathcote, of Chesterfield, and it is a matter of regret to me that a book on 'Yorkshire Bells' cannot be produced with up-to-date information. The articles by J. E. Poppleton and Dr. Pauli seem to be the only writings on Yorkshire bells. Yours etc.,—

St. Andrew's, Newcastle on Tyne

Dear Sir.—Apropos the letter from Mr. K. Arthur about St. Andrew's, Newcastle on Tyne, might I point out that it is not surprising that the Vicar is evasive.

The bells have been broken up and there is no hope whatsoever of their restoration.—

Grabbing is here to stay

Sir,—One is much intrigued by the letter in 'The Ringing World' of January 22nd, from Mr. Christopher Dalton, published under the heading 'Outings—good and bad points.' Although, no doubt, the author's sole aim is improving his skill, and not with any intention of 'scoring,' he must have become one of the biggest tower grabbers of them all!

This is by the way, and I would not wish to fault this entirely worthy aim, but at the same time feel that the condemnation, somewhere at the lower end of his letter, of the publication of the grabbers list in your journal must not be allowed to pass unchallenged. His suggestion, that with their elimination the Exercise will be strengthened, is nothing short of arrant nonsense.

Tower grabbing and 'scoring' have been going on far longer than either Mr. Dalton or myself have been involved in the Exercise and with improving mobility it is bound to increase. Whether or not lists are published in this, or any other, journal, people will still try to gain high totals in the same manner that peal ringers amass large numbers of peals.

In their efforts to gain these figures, ringers are bound to choose for their outings bells that need ringing, bells that are little used and they will also have to support practice and service ringing. Few need encouragement to improve the standard of their own ringing, and one way to do this is by ringing over as wide a range of bell weights and hanging methods as possible. Sometimes too, before a tower can be gained some elementary steeple keeping is called for, and who can say what the resulting and unfamiliar sound of ringing bells may do for a village with a struggling, or no band at all.

Visiting on 'grabs' from tower to tower, Guild to Guild, and county to county is the life blood of the Exercise—your correspondent will, and indeed does, testify to this—let us have more of it, and let the people who are prepared to go on tours, to find out the rough and unwanted rings, be given the same recognition as their brethren whose efforts fill the peal columns.

Indeed, to add to the variety why not have the list divided into separate columns for the various numbers of bells, so that we may see at a glance who has the most 'fours' and who the most 'eights' or 'twelves' to his, or her, credit. Perhaps too we may look forward to the time when an enlightened Guild or Association will publish its own list in its report.

Grabbing, sir, despite its unfortunate title, is here to stay, and I might add that thirty minutes' ringing in a village where the bells are infrequently heard is far more welcome than three hours' ringing inflicted on unwilling and powerless listeners. I make this point with no intent to cross the peal ringing fraternity—there is I hope room for us all in the Exercise—but trusting that it will serve to show that grabbing and grabbers are not as black as they are painted.

In conclusion I would just say that if a bell is being rung then it is certainly being used—let's be practical—and tender apologies to Mr. Dalton in case it is after all Mr. Christopher Dutton's letter which is under consideration.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN C. SAWTELL.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Farnham District

The Farnham District held its annual meeting at Farnham on January 23rd, which was well attended. Ringing preceded the service, conducted by the Rector, Rev. Hedley R. Wilds, who took for his theme 'Unity and Loyalty.'

Following tea, the business meeting was held in the Queen of Hearts restaurant. The District Master (Mr. Tom Page), in his report, referred to his remarks made last year as shock treatment which had only temporary results, and went on to describe the district as being in deep coma. He issued a challenge in five questions: (1) Have I made any progress?; (2) Have I learnt any new methods?; (3) Have I studied at home?; (4) Have I pulled my weight?; (5) Are you proud of your achievements in 1964 or does your conscience smite you? Some members had made progress but the rate was disappointing. Advanced practices were disappointing.

Mr. Page said he would like to see many more peals rung in simpler methods, enabling more ringers to take part and not just a luxury for the few. This should lead to much better striking. He passed on to a review of the 15 towers in the district. Two were dead with little or no ringing. Most of the remaining ones were criticised for striking. Bentley received top marks. 'A good steady tower where striking is good and a pleasure to listen to.'

The strongest criticism was reserved for his home tower, Aldershot. It would appear prosperous on paper with 25 ringers. Until about 8.20 p.m. on practice nights the bells are kept going by visitors. Sunday ringing consists of five or six until ten minutes before service time. With a ring of bells he described as 'God's gift to bellringers' there could be no excuse for such very poor striking. He concluded with this motto: 'If a job is worth doing at all it's worth doing well. This is a job worth doing—if you put a lot into it you will get a lot out of it.'

Officers re-elected were: District Master, Mr. T. Page; Assistant Master, R. Clist; Secretary, D. P. Elsmore; Auditor, Mr. W. Viggers; Treasurer, Mr. K. Williamson, (vice Mr. R. Mills).

Mrs. J. Kippin raised the matter of ringers arriving for tea without previous notification. Forty names had been received; 62 were present. It was imperative that names be received not later than the Wednesday previous if catering was to be adequately performed.

Ringing then continued at St. Andrew's Church until 9 p.m.

Next practice meeting, at Bagshot, on February 27th, 6 to 9 p.m. R. B.

A HANDBOOK OF GRANDSIRE CATERS

By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

A SECOND edition of this splendid little book, first published in 1958, is now again available as a Central Council publication. There is little change in content, but having been printed in letterpress its format is neater and less bulky.

This is not a book for the student looking for a new collection of compositions. It contains only one 'on so easy a plan that we cannot but recommend it to all young bob-callers as it will not only suit their purpose but also some more proficient, who may not choose to burden their memory with a composition more curious and difficult to retain,' as the authors of the 'Clavis Campanalogia' described one of their productions.

But here, in the compass of 12 pages, is a group of 77 touches including seven musical quarter peals of merit which will satisfy most conductors who delight in the music of Grandsire Caters; here is a full list of the titum and inverted titum opening courses and turning courses from titum to handstroke home; here is a complete transposition table showing calls that leave the back three bells undisturbed; here are notes on the proof of the method and, new to this edition, a lucid description of the most baffling feature of Grandsire Caters—its notation. ARCHWAY OF ROPES AT HYTHE WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Myrtle J. Cook and Mr. Norman J. Butcher took place on Saturday, January 16th, at St. Leonard's Church, Hythe, Kent.

The bride wore a full-length white duchess satin dress and carried a bouquet of white freesia, the two bridesmaids wore short dresses of cornflower blue velvet and carried posies of pale lemon carnations.

In the morning a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung at St. Stephen's Church, Lympne, where the bride is vice-captain. In the afternoon a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung as the couple left the church, the riggers coming from six local towers.

An archway of bell ropes was formed by members from Lympne and Burmarsh.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Maidstone District

The first quarterly meeting of 1965 was held at St. Nicholas', Lynton, on January 9th. Ringing of a good standard was forthcoming both afternoon and evening.

Forty ringers attended the service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. L. Elliott) and supported by Mr. W. Mattingley (organist) and full choir.

After tea in the Village Hall, provided by local ringers and ladies, the Vicar took the chair for the business meeting.

Items discussed included the minutes of the October meeting; the District party on November 20th at St. Michael's, Maidstone; the annual general meeting at Canterbury on Easter Monday and a report on the committee's views on Mr. A. Fry's (Leeds captain) finance proposals.

The District secretary, Mr. M. Howe, requested an early payment of overdue subscriptions. Tentative inquiries were made by Mr. Howe as to the possibilities of hiring a coach to help ensure a full District representation at the annual general meeting.

Mr. P. Carter expressed the meeting's thanks for the new, heavily-bound and embossed attendance book made and produced by the District Secretary. Mr. A. Waddington proposed the votes of thanks.

Perusal of the tower visitors' book since the meeting revealed the presence of eight ringers from Essex during the evening, and I thank them for calling in and helping with the ringing. P. M. T.

GUILDFORD DISTRICT ANNUAL

The bells of Holy Trinity and St. Mary's churches, Guildford, were rung half-muffled at the A.G.M. of the Guildford District on January 30th, as a mark of respect to Sir Winston S. Churchill. The service in Holy Trinity Church was conducted by the Rev. Michael Hocking (Rector) and tea provided by Mrs. Ponting and ladies connected with Holy Trinity tower.

Mr. S. G. Ponting presided at the business meeting and the accounts showed that the District had raised £206 for the Cathedral bell fund. Miss E. Stevinson, the retiring hon. secretary, reported a membership of 127 and that 34 quarters had been rung during the year with 12 different conductors. Monthly beginners' practices were held.

New officers of the district are Mr. W. Savill (Stoke-next-Guildford) Ringing Master; Mr. S. G. Ponting (assistant Ringing Master); Mr. John Payton (Chiddingfold), hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. F. Housden (Shalford) hon. auditor.

It was decided to hold a striking competition at Puttenham, if permission is granted, in July.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. VIII, Advent, 1877 - Advent, 1878

CHURCHSTON, DEVON (apparently Churchstow).

1 May 1878, six bells reopened with two 720 Grandshire Doubles.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The Committee is desirous of finding some competent ringer to act as Instructor to the Guild. No salary, except when training bands, can be guaranteed, but every assistance will be given to such a person in obtaining employment in Exeter.

ST. MICHAEL'S, HEADINGLEY, LEEDS

10 April, 1878.—Bells reopened after overhaul and repair by Mr. T. Mallaby, of Masham.

SEDGEFIELD, DURHAM

16 Nov., 1878, five Stockton and Hurworth ringers rang Plain Bob and Grandshire Doubles; the first time change-ringing has ever been heard on these bells which are in a minor key. Tenor 15 cwt.

CREWE, CHESHIRE

16 Nov., 1878. Peal of Grandshire Triples, 3 hrs. 17 mins. Tenor 20 cwt. in E. 'This is the first peal rung on these bells.'

CATTISTOCK, DORSET

In 'Church Bells' there was much controversy about the frame, or cage, installed in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, for the twelve new bells there—that it touched the walls, etc. A correspondent in 'Church Bells' of 30 Nov. 1878, J. H. Langdon Fulford, M.A., of Woodbury, Devon (perhaps the Vicar there.—C.R.) 'where the cage for Cattistock is being constructed by Messrs. Hooper and Stokes, bell-hangers,' writes:—'I have seen the plan of the architect, which consisted of a frame nine feet high, standing upon set-offs specially constructed for it in the tower of which the timbers were to be not less than a foot square, and into this frame the bell-cage was to be bolted. Now, when it is remembered how quickly a cage carrying a ring of fair weight begins to "rake," does it seem probable that an erection of about three times the height will remain firm? I do not believe it any more than I believe many other foibles of architects who think themselves capable of preparing plans for bell-hangers.'

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

North-East District

A record number of 80 ringers attended the A.D.M. of the North-Eastern District at Colchester on January 23rd. Ringing took place at St. Leonard's-at-the-Hythe and on the new light six at All Saints', Shrub End. A service was held at St. Leonard's, where the choir, consisting mostly of ringers, rendered an anthem.

At the business meeting Mr. F. B. Lufkin was again elected Master. Mr. Peter Pitt was elected Deputy Master. Sixteen new members were elected, including six from All Saints', Shrub End.

The Hon. Secretary reported that 28 peals and 21 quarters had been rung in 1964. Six members had rung their first peal, including four from St. Leonard's. Sunday service ringing had been well maintained. In ten towers the bells were rung at least once on a Sunday, and at five towers the bells were rung less frequently on Sundays, perhaps once a month. There were five silent towers where there was no local band.

It is, he said, most encouraging to see so many young people taking their ringing seriously and improving so rapidly, especially at Kirby-le-Soken and at the Hythe. These two towers have established bands to teach them. It is also good to see signs of learner activity at some of the struggling towers where conditions make it more difficult to teach a band.

Thanks were expressed by the Master to Mr. F. Oliver and the Hythe ringers for coping so successfully with such a large attendance.

F.H.E.

SEMLEY, WILTS.

23 Nov., 1878—New ring of 6 by Mears and Stainbank opened. 'On this as on other similar occasions, there were not wanting persons to predict that the bells when replete from the founders' matrice would prove a failure: busybodies, who somehow felt a delight in meddling with a branch of scientific industry they could not in the least degree understand, were indefatigable in promulgating the idea that a ring of 6 bells of the calibre of those at Semley could never be rung by any body of men, and that an attempt to do so would prove disastrous to the fabric. These pedantic opinions, these lugubrious prophecies have, however, been effectively shattered by the results of last week. . . . Nearly 3,000 changes of Kent and Oxford were rung; and next day more 'half-pull' ringing, which was entirely new to the neighbourhood.'

Mr. Bennett-Stapford, Hon. Member for Shaftesbury, greatly assisted in the bell project. He and his lady . . . bravely ventured to the summit of the steeple while the ringing was in progress, which suggested to the minds of those below that the prognostications of the wise men (not from the East) who foretold the downfall of the tower when the ringing commenced were viewed with feelings of the most sublime indifference.'

Previously there were 4 bells, tenor about 11 cwt. and fractured, but about 1874 the rector had them taken down and instructed the founders to recast and augment to 6 with a 12 cwt. tenor in G. Later he determined to retain two of the old bells as treble and 2nd of a new ring, the old tenor recast to make the 3rd and add 3 new bells, 'the present grand ring of six, tenor 26 cwt., 12 lbs. in D is the result.' They are hung in two tiers. 'With very little difficulty two trebles could be added. If this is carried into effect, there will be few better rings of 8 in the country. The whole of the fittings are entirely new, the frame-work is of English oak.'

Opened 'by a select band of the Ancient Society of College Youths.' Mr. Vincent of the Whitechapel Foundry has bestowed the greatest care in the work entrusted to him.'

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Mainly the same officers are back in office as the result of the A.G.M. of the Northern District at Hethersett on January 16th. The re-elections were:—Mr. G. Sayer, Chairman; Mr. L. Bailey, Ringing Master; Mr. C. Bird, Secretary; Messrs. W. Clover and B. Willgress, Standing Committee. Mr. R. Lubbock was elected to the Branch Committee and Messrs. R. Duesbury, D. Pardon, R. W. Wiles and W. Hohl were re-elected. Belfry elections of Richard Bower and Peter Mackley, of Gresham School, were ratified and Mr. G. Sparks was re-elected.

The Association Ringing Master, Mr. F. C. Goodman, after the meeting had discussed the striking competition, said meetings would be arranged for the coming year. The President, Mr. F. N. Golden, hoped this would help improve ringing in general but this also would bring bands together and the social side in itself was a good thing.

Subject to permission, meetings were planned for April 24th, Mulbarton; July 17th, Paston and Knapton; October 23rd, Aylsham or Dereham; the A.B.M., January 15th, Wymondham.

Canon A. G. G. Thurlow, said the possibility of a builder in Holt in removing the bells prior to adding three more was being considered.

The Chairman thanked the Rev. D. J. Turner, for conducting the service, Mrs. Alborough, for playing the organ, and 'someone' for an excellent free tea. The President thanked all officers for the good work during the past year.

C. B.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION St. Albans District

The annual meeting of the St. Albans District was held in St. Albans on January 16th. The Cathedral bells were available in the afternoon, followed by a short service at St. Stephen's, the Vicar playing the organ. Tea was prepared by the ladies of St. Stephen's in the Cavalier Hall.

At the start of the meeting, presided over by the Association President, Mr. G. W. Critchley, Mr. G. W. Debenham referred to the passing of Mr. C. F. Sayer, late of St. Peter's and he was remembered in silence by the District.

There were nine probationary members and ten full members elected, and five transfers from probationary to full membership.

Mr. R. D. R. Brown, of 10, The Hill, Wheathampstead, was elected secretary. Mrs. Amy Coburn was sincerely thanked for all the work she had put into the District as Secretary, and a small token of appreciation was handed to her. Other officers elected were:—Ringing Master, Mr. G. Penney; 'Ringing World' Representative, Miss J. A. Fellows; District Committee, Mrs. Coburn, Misses C. M. Rimmer, J. A. Fellows, Messrs. G. Dodds, J. D. Chamberlain, G. Penney, K. Walpole; General Committee, Mrs. Coburn and G. Penney. Mr. John Cull was thanked for his services on both the District and General Committee, and Mr. J. D. Chamberlain was congratulated on his readable 'Ringing World' accounts.

It was decided that the following propositions would go forward from the District to the A.G.M.:—

That the annual subscriptions be raised to 5/-.

That the non-resident life membership subscription be raised to 7/6d.:

That peal booking fee should be 1/- a head.

After the news that Wheathampstead bells were available for the meeting on February 20th, the President drew the meeting to a close. The evening ringing was at St. Stephen's.

J.A.F.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Cary Branch

The annual meeting of the Cary Branch was held at Ditchet on January 23rd, when about 60 ringers attended the service which, due to the illness of the Rector (Preb. J. A. Ll. Armstrong), was conducted by the branch chairman Rev. G. S. Robinson. A collection for the Association Bell Fund amounted to £3 1s. 7d.

The Parish Room was filled to capacity for tea and the business meeting. Members stood in silence, in memory of the following members who had passed away during the past year:—Messrs. P. March, F. Reakes (aged 90) and O. J. Woodbourne, all of Evercreech, and S. J. Pound (Templecombe).

The secretary's report and balance sheet, which showed a slight drop in membership in spite of the election during the past year of 20 new members, was adopted. All the officers were re-elected, viz.:—Chairman, Rev. G. S. Robinson; Vice-chairman Preb. O. H. Skipwith; Ringing Master, Mr. D. M. C. Hill; and Secretary, Mr. L. McCreadie.

Eleven new members were elected from Charlton Mackrell, Bruton, North Cheriton, Queen Camel and Wincanton, and Association certificates were presented by the Chairman to six members from Ditchet.

Meetings were fixed (subject to permission), for Horethorne, West Lydford and Charlton Horethorne, with next year's annual at Evercreech and Branch practices at Castle Cary, Bruton, West Camel and Horsington. Preliminary plans were made for the Branch Corporate Communion, and for a day's outing to the Dunster Branch in the autumn.

An appeal from the peal secretary for peals and quarter peals, to mark the 75th anniversary of the Association (founded May, 1890), was announced.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector, organist and local captain, and to the ladies who had prepared and served tea, before a return to the tower. Ringing ranged from rounds to Kent Treble Bob Major.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Newark District

It is customary now to hold the annual meeting at Newark, and the one held on January 16th proved to be the best attended for several years, with over 50 people present for tea and the business meeting. There were members from all the other four Districts of the Guild, including the general secretary, Mr. W. L. Exton, and members of Nottingham University. The ringing also was some of the best heard at a meeting, and the methods rung included Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise Royal.

The Curate, Rev. J. P. Stone, conducted Evensong, and after tea in St. Mary's Rooms the District chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, presided over the business meeting. Members were asked to stand in silence to the memory of those who had died during the year.

Both from the statement of accounts and the Secretary's report for 1964, it was evident that new membership did not make up for losses, caused by several reasons, and the Secretary felt that recruiting members should be everyone's concern in the coming year. Four new members were elected at the meeting.

The Chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, and the Hon. Secretary, Mrs. C. W. Reed, were re-elected, with joint Ringing Masters, Messrs. A. E. Chilton and David Parsons, Committee member—Miss Margaret Chilton.

The main item of interest was that Coddington's five bells were being taken to the foundry for rehangng and retuning by the end of the month. The local ringers had already raised a considerable sum of the total cost and a frame for six bells was to be installed.

During the evening the Vicar, Rev. E. J. Kingsworth, paid a visit to the ringing room to apologise for his absence at tea, due to a previous commitment, and to welcome all present most warmly.

Bingham District

An encouraging year was reviewed by Miss R. Blackshaw in presenting the annual report of the Bingham District to its annual general meeting, at Bingham on January 9th. Membership now totals 104, a gain of 15 during 1964: 15 towers were visited with good attendances at 12, and fair at the other three. The chairman and secretary were re-elected, Messrs. B. Buswell and H. Hanson elected Ringing Masters and W. Harrison to the committee. Two new members from Bingham and one from East Bridgford were elected.

COWBRIDGE GRAMMAR SCHOOL BAND

Cowbridge Grammar School ringers have for the first time produced a Minor band. Although they had rung only one touch previously, they successfully scored a quarter peal of Plain Bob at Llanblethian on January 25th. This was rung half-muffled in memoriam Sir Winston S. Churchill.

Four of the band were ringing their 'first of Minor,' and one of them, Robert MacPherson (13) his first on a working bell. Treble ringer John Alexander is also 13. It was Ellis Thomas' first of Minor as conductor, and first of Minor on the bells.

The school band numbers ten boys and one master. All ring regularly for service at both Llanblethian and Cowbridge. One of the boys, David Barrington, writing under the pseudonym 'Ken Tenor' now contributes a regular weekly article under the headline 'Belfry Gossip' (acknowledgments to 'The Ringing World') to the school's weekly magazine, 'The Lion'. The following are extracts from the current issue:—

'The week's work for the C.G.S. Bellhangers Ltd. was to grease, or rather castor-oil, the Llanblethian bearings, adjust the ropes, and tallow the Cowbridge ropes.'

'Would any reader who has heard of a tower with exactly four bells in it, apart from Llanrcarfan, Llangyfelach, St. Mary's Church and Laleston, please contact me or Chris Ricketts, as we are doing a survey of bells in Glamorgan.'

Chris Ricketts himself is making great progress and recently rang in a peal of Double Oxford Bob Minor. Ellis Thomas has had a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor. These two and David Barrington hope soon to go for a peal of Minor 'in hand.' I.D.

PRESENTATION TO RINGING PARSON

At a monthly meeting of the Wotton-under-Edge Branch at Cromhall, Glos., on January 9th, a presentation was made by the ringers to the Rev. W. A. Peel on his leaving the district for the parish of Adbaston, in the diocese of Lichfield, Staffs.

Mr. Peel, who is himself a ringer, has been Vicar of Tortworth for 33 years and was chairman of the Wotton-under-Edge branch for more than ten years.

The presentation of the book 'The Sound of Bells,' and a cheque, was in appreciation of his services to bellringing in the branch, and it was suggested that he use the cheque to buy something for Mrs. Peel who has been tireless in support of his ringing and other activities.

After the presentation, the ringers listened to the record from 'The Sound of Bells' before resuming ringing at the church. During the afternoon a quarter peal was rung at Tortworth in honour of Mr. Peel's services to the Branch.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

Wellingborough Branch

The Wellingborough Branch at its A.G.M. at All Hallows' Church, Wellingborough, elected a new secretary in succession to Mr. A. R. Elliott, resigned. He is Mr. R. Cowley, of 45, Milner Road, Finedon. The other officers were re-elected.

All the towers of the Branch, except two, were represented at the meeting and visitors were present from Northampton, Kettering, Rugby and Bedford areas. A company of 60 sat down to an excellent tea prepared by Mrs. Murdin and friends.

The meeting stood in silence as an act of remembrance to the Rev. C. Ford, of Higham Ferrers, who was killed in a road accident.

A feature of the ringing was a band of ladies ringing these heavy bells to rounds, with Miss Jean Marlow on the tenor.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. C. Bird asks us to state that his address is 27, St. Andrew's Avenue, Thorpe, Norwich, and not as given in 'The Ringers' Diary.'

Mr. Roy H. Jones thanks those who sent him information concerning Reading and Newbury Doubles.

Mr. Leslie Hunter, of Shalford, is in the Royal Surrey County Hospital, Guildford, recovering from an operation for a duodenal ulcer.

Correction.—Our correspondent asks that the title of the peal rung at Ashton-under-Lyne, Lancs (page 82), should be altered from 5280 Lambeth Surprise Maximus as submitted, to 5040 Plain Bob Royal.

The peal at Wincanton on January 23rd is believed to be the first of London Surprise Major for the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association by a resident band, since before the war, according to Mr. Ronald G. Beck, who took part in the previous peals.

Mr. T. R. Butler, of Liverpool, writes making a correction to his letter on the Marbury peal. The letter should end: 'I have seen one or two isolated reports of peals of Doubles in excess of 42 six-scores as, for instance, the 15 possible six-scores of Stedman Doubles each called thrice (5,400 changes).'

The peal rung at Salford on January 16th (see page 82) was rung for the Manchester University Guild and not for the Lancashire Association. It was, in fact, the first peal rung by an all-resident band of the University for two years.

Lanchester, Co. Durham, rang their half-muffled quarter peal for Sir Winston Churchill from 12.05 to 12.55 p.m. on the day of his death. While they do not claim to be the first quarter rung on this sad occasion, they feel that they are very well up on the list.

Mr. David C. Brookes, of Putney, who states that he has been on two of Mr. Dove's outings, disagrees that the rules suggested by Mr. Maybrey in his letter (p. 864) were observed on these occasions. He concludes that as an outing organiser he tries to abide with the procedure suggested by John Maybrey.

43 Years in Office

At the annual meeting of St. Mary-le-Tower Society of Ringers, Ipswich, the resignations of Messrs. Charles J. Sedgley, treasurer, and George E. Symonds, secretary, were courteously received. Each had been in office for 43 years. (The following were elected for the ensuing year:—Messrs. Leslie N. Melton, Master; Percy May, Deputy Master; Neville Whittell, Steeplekeeper; R. John Munnings, Auditor, and Alan R. Bridges, Secretary and Treasurer.

Exmouth Ring Televised

The lightest ring of tower bells in the world, those hung in the garage of Mr. F. Mack, of Exmouth, Devon, were recently featured in a television programme on the West of England frequency. The ringers were televised ringing Grandsire Doubles and Mr. Mack was then interviewed. The band included Norman Mallett of Exeter, two young local ringers and Mr. and Mrs. G. Eyles from Wiltshire. A sound programme on the same bells followed the next day on 'Today.'

The Liverpool Triumph

'The Liverpool Echo' of January 25th gave prominence to the peal of 5,039 Grandsire Cinques rung at the Cathedral. According to the report the ringing started at 9.15 a.m. and finished at 1.20 p.m. One of the ringers, Mr. Jack Brown, in his 60's and a former well-known soccer referee, is quoted as saying: 'The bells are claimed to be the heaviest ring in the world. We are proud of the achievement which now constitutes a world record.' The peal was scored at the fifth attempt.

The Exercise, we are sure, will congratulate Mr. Joseph Ridyard, of Southport, and his band on a very fine achievement. It is certainly a highlight for the Lancashire Association.

1965 Peal Recorders

Mr. D. John Hunt, of Bristol, and his fiancée, Miss Gillian Hussey, have offered to prepare the list of leading peal ringers for 1965, and the Editor has accepted their offer with gratitude. It will not be quite so comprehensive as that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor have undertaken but will include the number of peals rung and conducted by everyone.

Mr. Hunt writes: 'It is up to all peal ringers to try to publish their names in the same manner each time if their totals are to be correct and also for female peal ringers to publicise their new name when they get married.' Mr. Hunt's address is 58, Gordon Avenue, Whitehall, Bristol 5.

Marlborough College Enthusiasts

The peal of Royal at Trowbridge was organised by Messrs. R. M. Garrett, R. A. G. Inglis and R. H. Green, of Marlborough College. They collected ringers from Swindon, Melksham and Warminster, to join them in the venture, and with Mr. Robert Quartley kindly standing in at the last minute a good peal was rung. The conductor would like to thank the organisers for giving him the privilege of 'directing the operation.'

Cup for Striking Contest

Mr. Frank C. W. Knight is now in ward T2, of Brook General Hospital, Woolwich, and would be pleased to hear from friends. He was recently elected Master of the Canterbury District of the K.C.A. and has given a cup as a perpetual trophy for a District striking contest. This will be held at Great Mongeham on May 8th. The gift of the challenge cup was received with great acclaim at the District A.G.M. on January 23rd, and a sincere vote of thanks was passed to the donor.

Dublin University Society

Current issue of 'Irish Bell News' tells of the enthusiasm of Dublin University Society of Change Ringers inspired by Mr. Colin Lewis of National University and individual ringers from Dublin District. A set programme is arranged whereby Plain Bob is rung at one tower, Grandsire at another and Stedman at a third. On Mondays at lunch hour, Cambridge Surprise is practised at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Those taking part feel it worth their while to do without lunch for this weekly occasion! The article quotes that two ringers who knew nothing about change ringing, and one of them could not handle a bell 18 months ago, can now ring Plain Bob, Grandsire, Kent Treble Bob, Stedman and Cambridge Surprise.

All Singles Bob Major

In view of the large number of peals of Bob Major now rung, Mr. Geoffrey K. Dodd suggests that one containing all singles would be of interest to the Exercise. He asks if any composer could oblige.

Promising New Peal Ringer

Congratulations to Andrew White on ringing his first peal, one of 13 methods of Doubles at Rewe, Devonshire. Our correspondent informs us that the band was 'really shaken' when they learned that it Andrew's first peal. If he continues to progress in this way—Andrew is only in his mid-teens—he will be an acquisition to peal ringing in the Devon Guild.

Marston Ringers' Social

Marston (Oxford) ringers' social on January 15th was a great success and some 50 ringers attended from neighbouring towers including Abingdon, Radley, Headington, N. Hinksey, Northleigh. About 80 per cent of those present were under 21 years of age, and the programme, arranged by Mr. Roy H. Jones, was planned for their enjoyment and included a cine show, games and 'twisting.' The support of Miss Marie Cross and Miss Daphne Pollard was much appreciated and it is hoped to make the social an annual event.

A Treasured Telegram

St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, ringers have a treasured telegram. Following their peal for Sir Winston Churchill's 90th birthday, Mr. Norman Harding received the following telegram: 'Captain of Bellringers, St. Margaret's Parish Church, King's Lynn — I am most grateful to you all and send you my warm good wishes.—Winston S. Churchill.'

Portrait of a Fen Church in America

One Sunday during last summer two American tourists visited St. Wendreda's Church, March, displaying considerable interest in the building, which is said to be featured in Dorothy Sayers 'Nine Tailors.' They were particularly interested in the tower and bells.

Recently a letter was received from one of the visitors requesting colour slides of the church with particular emphasis on the ringers and bells. Accordingly, arrangements were made and photographs taken on a recent practice night showing shots, etc., of bells and youthful boys and girls in action. It is understood that the slides are required for lecture purposes.

The lecturer writes to the effect that she visits schools and lectures to American boys and girls on the finer points concerning English churches. 'Our young people,' she writes, 'have no idea how English bells are rung, and cannot imagine a turret stairway. Slides illustrating English boys and girls indulging in the fascinating art of bell ringing will be much appreciated, and will help me immensely in my work.' Happy to oblige!

Turramurra Again

Turramurra is in the news for Australian quarter peals, having rung two within eight days. Because of other church activities, it is only on Sunday evenings in January that the band, writes Mr. Walter Knight (hon. sec.), is able to indulge in this form of midsummer madness.

The quarter we publish this week was conducted by Mr. Tom Goodyer, and was Christine James' first quarter. She has now started her training at Camperdown Children's Hospital which is close to St. Mary's Basilica. It was also Graeme Drew's first on a working bell.

Bury the Hatchets

Mr. F. Hodgson has forwarded to us a letter written by Arn Aitch Dee, bearing a Leeds postmark. We do not propose to publish it. Mr. Hodgson concludes: 'If any of my comments have been devoid of substance, a matter I will leave for others to decide. I tender my apologies to the wronged ones, but I would also suggest that hatchets be buried and once more let the Leeds tower and ringers take up a proper position in ringing circles.'

Young Band's Call-Change Tribute

The young band at St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney, although not yet skilled enough to ring a quarter peal, did, nevertheless, pay tribute to the late Sir Winston Churchill, in the afternoon of January 24th, when they rang, half-muffled, 200 call-changes in 45 minutes. All the skill which they have attained in their four months of ringing was put together in a concentrated effort to make this performance worthy of being their last token of respect.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Salisbury Branch

The Salisbury Branch held its annual meeting on January 23rd. The service in St. Paul's Church was conducted by the Rev. T. Dohson, and the Rev. Gordon Baverstock, a member of St. Paul's tower, gave the address. Tea followed at the Church Hall, kindly prepared by the wives of local ringers.

At the meeting, the secretary (Mr. G. A. Trimby) reported that membership of the Branch showed an increase of 38 over the previous year. Officers elected were Mr. H. A. Rolfs, chairman; Mr. R. C. Mundy, vice-chairman; Mr. G. A. Trimby, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. M. Edwards, auditor; Ringing Masters, A. Haines, C. Haines, R. Jones, L. Page, together with J. Baverstock and A. Newman on the committee.

Meetings arranged for the coming year are at South Newton, Codford, Hindon, Winter-slow, Durrington, Amesbury, Dinton, Damerham, Fittleton, Fovant and Barford St. Martin. Ringing continued afterwards at St. Paul's and St. Thomas' towers during the evening. G. A. T.

HOLY TRINITY, GUILDFORD

At the annual meeting and dinner of Holy Trinity and St. Mary's Guild of Change Ringers, on January 18th, the Rector (the Rev. Michael Hocking) congratulated the Society on the high standard of ringing and regretted that the Parochial Church Council was not in a position to meet the cost of £464 for the renovation of the bells and providing ball bearings because of the extensive repairs to St. Mary's Church roof—that would cost over four figures.

Mr. David Tubbs was elected Ringing Master and Miss Pamela Gough deputy Ringing Master. Mr. S. G. Ponting continues as hon. secretary and treasurer, and was thanked with the other officers for his work during the year.

AN INSPIRED TRIBUTE TO A GREAT LEADER

A SAYING attributed to Abraham Lincoln, 'A tree is best measured when it's down,' seems very applicable to Sir Winston S. Churchill, to whose memory this enlarged issue of 'The Ringing World' is devoted. Among the many attributes of Sir Winston—and few men have been more richly endowed, and fewer still knew how to make the maximum use of those gifts—was a love of bells. Those who are turned 30 years of age remember El Alamein and the order of the great British Premier to ring the bells on that Sunday in honour of that great victory. There was no begging or imploring to come and ring on that day. For nearly four years our art was only kept alive by handbell ringing or on silent bells, but 'The Ringing World' was still being published thanks to those deep wells of research J. Armiger Trollope had accumulated.

As the bells rang out from the churches of the land the people rejoiced. Never was bell music so sweet; it seemed as if the corner was turned. The blood, sweat, toil and tears had not been in vain, although there were long anxious years ahead. One recalls, as the fight for freedom was crowned with success, the liberation of Europe and how as each city was released from Nazi tyranny the bells were rung—in our particular case to quarter peals.

And now the greatest Englishman probably of all time is dead. He was full of years; but we had a foretaste of the country's appreciation of his great services on the occasion of his 90th birthday. Ringing then was widespread and in his honour two new Surprise methods—Churchill and Chartwell—were placed on the register after peals had been rung respectively at Westerham, the parish church to Chartwell, and at Harrow Weald.

Sir Winston's death was announced on the radio at 9 a.m. on January 24th. It was in time for half-muffled ringing for morning service at most churches and in the evening a large number of quarter peals were attempted. Our last issue contained a page of 57 performances received on the following Monday and Tuesday. Since then very heavy posts have prevailed. Although we are devoting four pages to quarter peals in this enlarged issue, it in no way exhausts the number, and it will be some weeks before the actual position can be ascertained.

The wonderful television coverage on the morning of his funeral resulted in a very subdued country. Busy shopping centres were almost lifeless; millions shared in the memorable service by sitting in front of a television set. The ringing as the cortege left St. Paul's Cathedral was superb. The grandeur of St. Paul's bells made a very deep if there is one thing that is foremost in the art of change ringing it is the development of intent and critical hearing. The ringing was by the regular St. Paul's band, and with one exception the same band assembled shortly before 5 p.m. to ring the peal of Cinques recorded in this issue. Again a good peal, that helped to raise the prestige of English ringing.

That afternoon and evening the bells of London were heard from a number of towers and peals have been reported from Isleworth, Hampton, Leyton, St. John-at-Hackney, Beddington and Holy Trinity, Wandsworth. The journey of the special train into the heart of Oxfordshire was marked by the ringing of bells. There were peals and quarter peals being rung at the same time—a typical observation we received was 'rung during the time the train passed through the county.'

The Oxford Diocesan Guild had a significant part to play in the proceedings at the funeral. That afternoon Great Tom at Christ Church was solemnly chimed by three ringers—Canon C. Elliot Wigg, the Master of the Guild, Mr. Frederick Sharpe, the deputy master, and Mr. Philip Walker, the principal ringer in Oxford and an officer of the Guild. Special facilities were granted to them to pass through the traffic to Bladon where officers of the Guild were invited to ring as soon as the grave was filled in. As the crowd of thousands passed the grave and viewed the huge masses of flowers conveying the sympathy of the world, the light but melodious ring gave their simple and almost mystic message.

The Cathedrals of the land were well represented in the ringing. Peals of Stedman Cinques were rung at Lincoln, Leicester and Birmingham Cathedrals. Bradford Cathedral and St. Albans Abbey both rang Grandsire Caters. Of all the ringing, an outstanding performance took place in the Royal Borough of Windsor, where Holt's Original was rung non-conducted.

From Sir Winston's old Parliamentary constituency a peal of Bob Major was rung on the bells of Woodford Parish Church. The University Ringing Societies rose to the occasion and there were peals from Bristol, where Sir Winston was chancellor, Oxford, Cambridge, London, Wales and Nottingham Universities, and also a peal from the Universities Association.

This tribute of the bells has not been surpassed since the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. Sir Winston was honoured, respected and held with a deep affection by all three political parties. He died full of years and has left to this nation and the world a rich legacy that through his indomitable courage freedom was wrested from tyranny. In the hour of crisis he never faltered; his record in Parliament was unrivalled; his writings are a heritage to posterity.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL'S FUNERAL

As Viewed from St. Paul's Cathedral

ON that grey Sunday morning of January 24th, most of the members of St. Paul's Cathedral band of ringers had heard already of the death of Sir Winston Churchill before they set out on their various journeys to reach the Cathedral to ring for the morning service. To those who had not yet heard the news, it was announced by the solemn sound of the tolling of Big Tom, the five-ton hour-bell, which hangs in the south-west tower of St. Paul's: this was being rung 90 times at intervals of half a minute by the Cathedral staff. We did not ring that morning, but the muffles were put on and in the afternoon we rang the usual three courses of Stedman Cinques for Evensong, with the bells half-muffled.

When the 14 full members of the band met together the following evening, they heard with mixed feelings of pride and humility that they had been asked to ring the bells half-muffled at the end of the funeral service to be held in St. Paul's Cathedral on Saturday, January 30th: pride at being able to take part in this way in the nation's last tribute to such a great man, humility because we knew it was partly a matter of luck that we, as individuals, not someone else, had the privilege of belonging to the band and thus being called on to ring for this service, which we knew would be the focal point of the world that morning.

BEFORE 10 a.m.

We had been told that we should have to be inside the Cathedral before ten o'clock on Saturday morning, as the Cathedral would be closed for general admission after that time. It was anticipated that there would be large crowds in the vicinity of St. Paul's, and so it was agreed that we should meet at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, at 9.30 a.m.

When Saturday, January 30th, came, the 14 members and one substitute all set out from home in good time, in case they should be held up by the crowds, and all assembled at half-past nine at Bow Church. Here, duty passes were issued to each one of us, and then we walked to St. Paul's Cathedral. The crowds were not as great as some had expected, and we had no difficulty in getting to the door of the belfry stairs. Outside, in the churchyard, three generators providing power for the television equipment made a steady throbbing sound.

So much was happening: the morning seemed to pass very quickly. First we could look out of the window of the ringing chamber and see the crowds packing either side of Ludgate Hill in the cold east wind, under a leaden sky that seemed appropriate for the occasion. We could see the various troops as they took up their positions lining the route: the knot of St. John Ambulance men; the Corporation workers sanding the road; the Press and television men taking up their vantage points on the roofs of nearby buildings. There was the arrival, in fleets of cars, of members of the Royal Family, of heads of State, many with the unfamiliar flags of newly-independent nations on the bonnets of their cars, of the Queen Mother and the Lord Mayor of London. The cars cleared and for a short time Ludgate Hill was again empty, until the head of the coffin procession came marching slowly up it.

UNDER DOME

While we watched, our voices became more and more hushed, as the spectacle outside grew in solemnity. Shortly after we had seen the Queen arriving, we moved from the ringing chamber, along a north gallery made strange by the presence of masses of television and broadcasting equipment, long snakes of cables, and monitor screens—a veritable studio in itself, with dozens of men quietly going about their respective jobs—into the gallery underneath the Dome, from which we had been granted the privilege of watching the service. Standing there in the heat of enormous projectors, beside a television camera mounted on a platform, we had an excellent view of the proceedings. The Cathedral was brilliantly lit, and very beautiful it looked in all that light. Soon the coffin came into view, draped with a spotless new Union Jack. Perhaps the main impression of the service itself was the colourfulness of it all—the white and red of the choir's surplices, the black and white copes of the officiating clergy, the various uniforms of soldiers, sailors and airmen, the heralds in their tabards, the glittering star and garter placed on the coffin.

SLOW RHYTHM

As the special prayers and the familiar words of the Church's funeral service, the thrilling music and the pealing trumpet calls drew to a close, we made our way back to the ringing chamber, stood to our bells and waited for the signal that the coffin had reached the west door. As soon as we got this signal, we pulled out, and soon settled down to the slow rhythm of half-muffled ringing of Stedman Cinques, everyone concentrating, perhaps particularly hard, conscious that the sound we were making was probably being broadcast all over the world, and anxious to give of our very best on this historic and solemn occasion. In this way we rang seven or eight courses in about three-quarters of an hour before receiving the signal to stop.

For most people that was the end of the proceedings, but for us the main job still lay ahead, as it had been requested that we should ring a full half-muffled peal in the evening, after Evensong. So those members of the band who could do so went home for a meal and an hour or two's rest, and then we met again at St. Paul's at half-past four, making our way through busy technicians working fast to dismantle all the broadcasting equipment which had been installed in the Cathedral.

The band for the peal was, with one exception the same as had rung in the morning. We went into changes just before five o'clock, and a good peal was rung in 3 hours and 53 minutes. As soon as the ringing had finished, three of us went upstairs to unmuffle the bells in the bitter cold of the belfry open to the four winds, for life does not stop, and the bells would have to be rung open the following morning for the Sunday service as usual. After this it was pleasant to go over to a nearby public house, there to meet several old friends who had been listening to some of the ringing, and to relax and refresh ourselves after what had been a memorable day in all our lives.

To conclude with a few facts and figures: As far as records show, the peal was the first one to be rung on the bells composed entirely of full members of the St. Paul's Cathedral Guild of Ringers. It was the second half-muffled peal on the bells, the first having been

SOCIETY OF ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS

The annual general meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths was held on January 16th in the Vestry Hall of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. The secretary's report showed the flourishing state of the Society with 17 peals being rung during the year, and the election of an increased number of new members.

The following officers were elected: Master, Mr. Dennis Beresford; secretary, Dr. D. E. Sibson (15, Garden Royal, Kersfield Road, Putney, S.W.15); treasurer, Mr. P. Beresford; senior steward, Mr. K. Newman; junior steward, Mr. A. J. Strathdee. The retiring secretary, Mr. F. J. Matthews, was thanked by the Master for all his work during his years in office.

The Rev. Meredith Davies was elected the first honorary member in recognition of his many years of helpful association with the Society.

The quarterly meetings were arranged for April 10th, July 10th and September 11th, and the joint meeting with Middlesex County Association on December 4th.

Earlier in the afternoon ringing had taken place at Shoreditch, St. Giles-in-the-Fields and St. Clement Danes'. D. E. S.

BELLS FOR A WORCESTERSHIRE CHURCH

A ring of eight bells is to be provided for the Parish Church of Amblecote, near Stourbridge, in accordance with the terms of the will of Miss Agnes Egan, a retired teacher of Wollaston, who died in September, aged 73.

The Vicar of Amblecote (the Rev. J. B. Hencher) informed the 'Birmingham Post' that the tower of the 120-year-old church was strong enough to support the weight of the bells, which will cost nearly £5,000.

The money will be provided from the £22,000 left by Miss Egan to the church. Another £500 will be spent on providing a stained-glass window at the church in memory of Miss Egan's mother, and the remainder of the bequest will be used to build bungalows for old people living at Amblecote.

Mr. Hencher said: 'Parts of the church tower will be insulated so that the bells do not cause any nuisance to patients at the neighbouring Corbett Hospital. The Worcestershire and Districts Change Ringers' Association will provide a team of bellringers for our Sunday services until we have our own trained ringers.'

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN

The annual meeting of the Axbridge Branch was held on January 23rd at Locking. Ringing preceded the service, which was conducted by the Rev. D. H. Tongue, with Mr. Clark at the organ. Mr. T. Bale (churchwarden) read the lesson.

Tea was served in the Church Hall to over 40 members and friends before the business meeting. The officers elected were: Mr. Walton, chairman; Mr. G. Prescott, vice chairman; Mr. H. Hooper, Ringing Master; Mr. G. Prescott, Deputy Ringing Master; Mr. M. Legg, secretary.

Subject to permission members decided to visit Cheddar for the quarterly meeting in April, with practices at Uphill in February and Ware in March. The Corporate Communion will be held at Worle in June and the annual outing in May to Herefordshire.

run in 1938 in memory of Mr. W. Cockerill. It was Mr. J. H. Crampton's 100th 12-bell peal. Mr. A. J. Frost, one of the official substitutes, took part in the ringing after the service in the morning. Two other substitutes, Mr. J. D. Rock and Dr. P. A. Chalk, were inside the Cathedral during the service, tickets having been allocated to the organisations connected with the Cathedral.

General Secretary,
Guildford Diocesan Guild.

Members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild heard with very deep regret of the sudden death on February 3rd of Mr. Stanley T. A. Russell, of Orchard Cottage, Ash Hill Road, Ash, aged 63. Mr. Russell, who from March, 1958, until his death, had been general secretary of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, died on his way to work at Guildford. He was to have rung that afternoon for a memorial service for Sir Winston Churchill at Holy Trinity Church.

Having learned to ring at the age of 17 at Rotherfield, in Sussex, he became well known in that county and also in the Seven-oaks and Tunbridge Wells area. In 1952 he moved to Ash and joined the excellent local band. He sang in the choir most of his life and was honorary verger at Rotherfield Parish Church. He was regular and prompt for practices and service ringing at Ash and will be sadly missed.

Stan worked in the insurance field, being employed by the Cornhill Insurance Company at Guildford at the time of his death. The Guildford Guild, which has had only three general secretaries in its 37 years' existence, has suffered a great loss.

The bells were rung half-muffled before the funeral service at Ash on Monday, after which he was interred at Rotherfield.

MR. ALBERT J. COOKE

In the passing of Mr. Albert J. Cooke, the ringers of St. John-the-Divine, Leicester, have lost one of their most loyal and faithful members, and the church a faithful churchwarden. It was a profound shock to learn that Albert had collapsed and died while on his way to work on January 29th.

He came to St. John's from Blaby in 1952, and was rarely absent from ringing both for Sunday or practice, and regularly attended meetings. Always willing to oblige, he never refused to give of his services to any branch of the church's work that was called upon him.

Albert was the 'handyman about the place.' During the recent belfry renovation he put in many extra nights of work on his own to assist in getting the job completed quickly, and was the electrician referred to in 'The Ringing World' on that subject.

The funeral service took place at St. John-the-Divine on February 2nd, prior to interment at Blaby.

In the evening a beautifully struck quarter peal of Grandsire Caters was rung half muffled in affectionate remembrance, conducted by Mr. R. H. Cook, of Asfordby.

Of Albert Cooke it can be truly said:

'Well done, thou good and faithful servant,
Enter now into the fullness of the Lord.'
S. H.

MR. G. J. FILBY

A veteran Suffolk ringer died on January 15th in the person of Mr. George John Filby, of Goulfers Farm, Wingfield, who had been village blacksmith for over 40 years until his retirement for health reasons about four years ago. He was 78, and served as a farrier in World War I with the Royal Artillery.

Throughout his life he had been a keen ringer and this love of ringing is shared by his two sons. On the day of his funeral, January 22nd, a half-muffled quarter peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung by G. M. Pearl (Stradbroke) 1, C. Brown (Wingfield) 2, W. Flatt (Oakley) 3, W. Cracknell (conductor, Stradbroke) 4, A. Lawes (Hoxne) 5 and A. Flatt (Oakley) 6.

SUGGESTED NEW TOWER TECHNIQUES

Dear Sir.—It was with great interest that I read Mr. Futers' letter in your issue of January 22nd. While I am in entire agreement with him on the importance of new churches incorporating some form of a belfry, I am not sure that a detached form of belfry will receive much support from Church authorities, mainly due to the cost.

It is, I think, generally considered that the expense on belfries and bells, although desirable, is a luxury and expenditure on such equipment will have to take a back seat when so much money is required for the Church overseas, the building of new British churches and the maintenance and repair of existing churches.

It should, of course, be possible to incorporate some space in the design of a new church for the installation of bells and the problem recently arose in my own village where the present Church of St. Philip, with a seating capacity for 90 people, is to be replaced by a new church to accommodate a congregation of approximately 250. The plans for the new building are almost in the approved stage and the architect, I am pleased to say, has been persuaded to make space for a future installation of bells.

In achieving this state of affairs the building committee has had the active support of its chairman, the Ven. C. Q. Ellison (Archdeacon of Leeds), and also the Rector (the Rev. Norman Butcher).

To illustrate the matter I enclose two rough sketches of the north-west corner of the proposed new church. Sketch 'A' shows the corner as it should look when the building is completed, and it will be seen that over the north doorway, which faces the road, is a canopy over which is space for one bell. The rope for this bell descends into a corner of the vestibule and it will be rung from the ground floor. It will be appreciated that present funds will not permit further work, but the walls surrounding the vestibule will be of sufficient strength to support a future bell installation.

Some time in the future, when funds permit, this corner can be extended upwards and will take the appearance as shown in sketch 'B.' This constructional extension should not be unduly expensive and will provide the necessary space for the bells. It will be possible to provide openings in the extension to act as louvres, and the intention is to leave the north side open or glaze it so that the bells would be visible. The ringing chamber will be over the vestibule.—Yours sincerely,

FRED L. FLEETWOOD.

'New' Minor Methods

Dear Sir,—During the past year Mr. Brian J. Woodruffe and his prolific handbell band have rung and named a number of plain Minor methods which, since they have so-called 'irregular' leadheads, were not included in the latest Central Council Minor Methods Collection. Several of these methods extend to Triples by the simple addition of an extra hunt bell, in the same way as do methods in the St. Clement's 'family.' They are:

Minor	Triples
Wenlock Court	Grandsire Court
Dynevor College	Stanstead College
Ullswater Bob	City Bob
Mewslade Court	Laughton's Pleasure
Ilston College	Lancashire College

It would be interesting to know whether Mr. Woodruffe has deliberately renamed the contractions of these old Triples methods, following the time-honoured precedent of Plain Bob Minor + hunt bell = Grandsire Triples. If he has not, there seems a good case for amending the names to bring them into line with their 7-bell 'parents.'

Should the band hesitate over renaming because of any special associations the new names may have, there are still eight unnamed 'pure' plain Minor methods left from the 55 possible for which they could be used. These are:

x 14 x 36.14.5	2nds 36245
x 16 x 36.14.5	2nds 65324
34.16 x 16 x 5	6ths 65243
34.16 x 16.34.5	6ths 65243
34.16 x 36.14.3	2nds 65324
36.14 x 16 x 5	2nds 42563
36.14 x 16.34.1	2nds 36245
36.14 x 16.34.5	2nds 42563

There is in addition the 6-bell contraction of St. Bride's Pleasure Triples, x 16 x 36 x 1 6ths 65243, and one 'single-change' irregular method — 34.16 x 123 x 1 6ths 52364. With the possible exception of the last of these, I should, incidentally, have thought any of the above a better method than the one actually rung on December 19th if the band wanted to use the name 'Nicholaston' so badly. 5ths and 6ths made when the treble is in 2—3, indeed!—Yours sincerely,

CYRIL A. WRATTEN.

Perth, Western Australia

Dear Sir,—I hope that when in his letter in the January 22nd issue Mr. G. A. Halls refers to St. George's Cathedral, Perth, New South Wales, he was copying a reference from Dr. Joseph Geiger's writings on tower vibration. For the record, Perth is the capital of Western Australia. When Mr. Tom Lock's party arrives in that city in September next at the beginning of Great Adventure II, the tourists will have a very long way to travel before they reach New South Wales—it is roughly some 2,100 miles from Perth to Sydney as the aircraft fly.

I will get in touch with my colleagues in Western Australia and see if they can throw any light on just what Dr. Geiger did there.—Yours etc.,

W. B. PITCHER.

The Marbury Peal

Dear Sir,—I withdrew the peal of 5,100 Grandsire Doubles rung at Marbury on November 14th, 1964, because of the 60 changes rung at the end.

After the peal had been published I was informed that peals of Doubles must be rung in multiples of 120's throughout, therefore a 60 invalidated the performance.

I hope this is a satisfactory answer to Mr. T. R. Butler's question.—Yours faithfully,

F. R. MORTON.

Wistaston, near Crewe.

Tapesponding

Dear Sir,—I was interested in Mr. G. R. Ashcroft's letter in 'The Ringing World,' of January 22nd last, asking if any ringers were interested in tapesponding. Some years ago I made a few ringing contacts by tape, but, partly through my own fault, these seem to have fallen apart.

I would be most pleased to contact them again, and particularly exchange ringing yarns and recordings with ringers in other parts of the world, notably Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, U.S.A. and Canada. As well as being a keen change ringer, I am keenly interested in change ringing and tune playing on handbells and carillon playing.

Lastly, if any reader has a tape recorder, but through ill health or other infirmity can no longer take an active interest in ringing, I would be pleased to hear from them. My machine will take most speeds and spool sizes and there is no need to write first.

If Mr. Ashcroft's idea is successful I feel this could do a lot to break the distances between 'The Ringing Isle' and the smaller change ringing areas, at the same time indirectly helping the Central Council Overseas Committee.—Yours sincerely,

CLIVE M. SMITH.

An Old Danish Bell

Dear Sir,—I have received an enquiry from a correspondent in Denmark concerning a bell now hanging in the church at Jordrup, near Kolding, in that country. The bell is 'bronze' and contains an inscription reading 'CAM-PANA ECCLIE (i.e. ecclesie) LONGSTOGH ANO DO (i.e. A.D.) MCDVII.' which can be translated: 'The bell of the Church of Longstogh, A.D. 1407.'

The transcription of the inscription is taken from Danmarks Hiddelalderlige Kirkeklokker (Copenhagen, 1906), which puts a question mark after 'Longstogh.' In the absence of a photograph of the bell, however, I must assume it to be correct.

My correspondent thinks the name is English, and would like to identify it. The only two places I can find which could fit the name are Longstock (Hants) and Long Stow (Cambs). I should be interested if any of the historians of the Exercise could find a connection between Denmark and one of these places at this date, or throw any light on the origins of the bell.

The church at Kolding, originally built about 1200 A.D., was rebuilt in 1884. The bell is about 20 inches in height.—Yours faithfully,

L. R. H. SMITH.

Easter Monday Peals

Dear Sir,—It has been arranged for two peal attempts to take place in Cambridge on Easter Monday. I would like to point out to those taking part that the Ely Diocesan Association is holding its annual meeting in and around Cambridge on Easter Monday.

There is already some ill-feeling about these attempts and I am sure none of those taking part would like the same thing to happen where and when their annual meeting is taking place.—Yours sincerely,

E. H. MASTIN.

St. Andrew's, Newcastle on Tyne

Dear Sir,—Apropos the letter from Mr. R. Arthur about St. Andrew's, Newcastle on Tyne, might I point out that it is not surprising that the Vicar is evasive.

The bells have been broken up and there is no hope whatsoever of their restoration.—Sincerely yours,

ROBERT H. BEGRIE.

Praise for St. Paul's Ringing

Dear Sir,—Having listened, as you must have done, to the TV and Broadcasting Committee at the Central Council meetings, explaining that you can't record good 12-bell ringing, I hope they heard St. Paul's bells at the funeral service for Sir Winston Churchill. It rather knocks their arrangements into a tin hat. It was some of the best 12-bell ringing I have heard.—Yours faithfully,

Washington Film in London

Sir—The National Cathedral Association, Washington, has kindly loaned an attractive sound and colour film of the building and dedication of the Gloria-in-Excelsis tower, which includes several shots of the bells, bell-ringing and the carillon.

In order that all those interested may have an opportunity of seeing this film, arrangements have been made, by kind permission of the Director, for a showing in the lecture theatre of the Science Museum, South Kensington, on Saturday, February 27th at 1.30 p.m. Since the film runs for 25 minutes only, Mr. Douglas Hughes has undertaken to follow with a demonstration of the Carter ringing machine.

The lecture theatre is located on the ground floor of the museum and, as it is available for only one hour, those attending are asked to arrive in good time. Under museum regulations, admittance to the theatre is by ticket only and these will be distributed upon application to the writer. A stamped and addressed envelope with each application, would be appreciated.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN CHILCOTT.

108 Stedman Triples

Dear Sir.—The proof that I gave of there being no touch of 108 Stedman Triples possible (page 53) is incomplete.

I considered only one starting position whereas there are 12. Actually the method of proof holds for any one of the 12 positions because the 108 changes can be thought of as a round block.

Assume a touch of 108 Stedman Triples does exist starting from any one of the 12 changes of the quick and slow sixes. Then the last change of the first quick six can be produced 108 changes later. In my previous letter I showed that this is impossible. Therefore, there is no solution from any starting position.—Yours sincerely,

R. BLACKLER.

Sussex County Association Dinner

Dear Sir.—Your necessarily abbreviated report of my remarks at the Sussex County Association dinner contains one or two small inaccuracies which I think ought to be put right. The 25 peals in one month were not all rung at Warnham, but divided between that tower (14) and Angmering (11). The reference to four Spliced should read that it was the first by a local band, not the first of any kind. The first members and towers joined at the second, not the first part of the inaugural meeting. And lastly (no doubt a printer's error) Mr. Rickman may well have provided many teas at Brighton but as readers of your front-page article will have realised, it was the ten he was responsible for at St. Peter's that I referred to.—Yours sincerely,

E. A. BARNETT.

Pseudonyms

Dear Sir.—As the proposer of the motion at the Central Council meeting in Newcastle on Tyne in 1954, whereby pseudonyms could be used in the correspondence columns of 'The Ringing World,' I feel that a few words in their favour would not be amiss.

Contrary to the view expressed by Mrs. Bray, pseudonyms are not necessarily a shield for hypocrisy. There is no need to know the real names of Atheist, Anarchist and Cornishman to dispute the issues or points which they raise. I regret the ever-increasing tendency of some correspondents to attack the author rather than the view he expresses.

Mrs. Bray indeed touches upon the most important aspect of the matter when she mentions fear of retribution or ostracism. Having suffered a certain amount of ostracism as a result of remarks made publicly at the above-mentioned Central Council meeting, I can assure her that such fears are well grounded. Secret ballot for parliamentary elections was, after all, introduced for this same reason.

A short while ago the price-increase of 'The Ringing World' was criticised in some quarters. Such criticism was, of course, rather pointless, since a cancellation of order would have been a much more effective argument. I, for one, will continue to purchase our paper, regardless of price. Since I am prevented by place of residence from active participation in ringing, I look forward more eagerly than ever to my weekly copy, and I find I am reading it much more carefully than when I was a regular peal-ringer.—Yours truly,

J. R. WORRALL.

B.F.P.O. 40.Bob Major, all Singles

Dear Sir.—In reply to Mr. Geoffrey K. Dodd ('Belfry Gossip,' page 96), there is a composition of Bob Major containing all singles, by W. E. Bason. It is:

23456	W	S/4	M
63425	S		S
34625	S	S/S	S
46325	S	S/S	S
63245		S/S	S
32645	S	S/S	S

Repeat 11 times, omitting S at W in 30th and 60th courses 5,184 changes.

This was rung at Handsworth, Sheffield, on December 8th, 1962, conducted by John E. Turley.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN WEAVER.

Doubles Variation

Dear Sir.—With reference to the extensive collection of Doubles variations by G. K. Dodd and R. H. Jones (p. 530 in 'The Ringing World,' 1964) I would like to make some corrections. Part of the table reads:—

Course	Bob	Single
Evening Star	St. Simon	Rev. Cant.
Saturn	St. Martin	Rev. Cant.
Mars	St. Nicholas	Plain Bob
Venus	Winchendon Place	Plain Bob
Morning Star	St. Simon	Plain Bob
Jupiter	St. Martin	Plain Bob
Pluto	St. Nicholas	Rev. Cant.
Neptune	Winchendon Place	Rev. Cant.

Clearly, the first four of these have no use for the single and are therefore merely St. Alban, St. Paul, St. Giles and St. Miles. The remaining four are simply the methods of their plain course names, but course-spliced, i.e., without affecting coursing order. A suitable calling is therefore SPBPx3.

Further extracts read:—

Course	Bob	Single
Plain Bob	Old Hudibras	London Ext.
Plain Bob	Ready Money	Thurlby Bob
Rev. Cant.	Old Hudibras	London Ext.
Rev. Cant.	Ready Money	Thurlby Bob

Callings given:—SBSP

The callings here give false extents (perhaps unnoticed with asymmetrical lead-ends), I have not found a true calling but would be pleased to hear from anyone who has succeeded. Perhaps a 240 is possible.—Yours faithfully,

E. ANDREW HARRISON.

IMPROVEMENTS AT EAST HAGBOURNE

Many improvements have been made in the ringing chamber of Hagbourne Parish Church 'in memory of Henry Keith White, ringer and chairman of the Hagbourne Ringing Society from 1916-1962,' as stated on a memorial plaque. Mr. White died three years ago. A service of thanksgiving and dedication was conducted by the Rural Dean of Wallingford (the Rev. M. F. Gibbs) on January 26th.

A peal record book, in which will be inscribed all the peals rung in the tower since it had eight bells in 1885, has been provided. These number about 130 and the book has been placed in a cabinet.

The one-time bleak chamber now has the appearance of a cosy room, with a new polythene-tile ceiling and waxed matchboard panelling with pink painted walls above it. The cost has been borne by the ringers and the P.C.C., assisted by contributions from Mr. White's family. His widow, son-in-law and daughter (Mr. and Mrs. D. Green), and grandson Christopher, were present at the dedication ceremony, and also ringers from Harwell, Appleton and East Ilsley.

A further gift is that of ringing mats by Mr. E. G. Sawyer, himself a ringer. The improvements were carried out by a local builder, Mr. A. H. Webb, who is foreman of the tower.

Another fund started at Christmas, by the handbell ringers, is for the provision of new bellropes.

UNIVERSITY OF MANCHESTER GUILDM.U.G.'s Day Outing

Early on Saturday, December 5th, over 20 members of the Manchester University Guild assembled at the Union on a typical wet morning for a day outing to towers in three neighbouring counties.

A convoy of six cars, wending its way through narrow Cheshire lanes, soon brought us to the pretty village of Barthomley and the first tower of the day, where we didn't really do justice to this fine sounding old octave. From here it was only a short journey to Audlem, a small market town with an interesting old church and light ring of six.

We then went over into Shropshire to Market Drayton, a pleasant little town, where the party split up into groups for lunch before sampling the excellent octave. Our stay here came to an end all too soon!

The remainder of our towers were in Staffordshire, the first of these being the light six at Keele where we had to take it in shifts ringing in the small belfry. At Newcastle we much enjoyed the pleasant ten situated in a very massive mediæval tower, all that remains of the original church. We had some difficulty in locating Kidsgrove, the last tower, where we found the recently augmented ring of eight most pleasing.

Despite more or less continuous rain throughout the day, it was a most enjoyable outing. We should like to thank the incumbents, the local ringers and the drivers, without whose help this tour would not have been possible.

The Graye Family and the Haddenham Bell Foundry

By TREVOR A. BEVIS

... he "whipped up" pewter pots and culinary vessels ...

MILES GRAYE, popularly known in his day as 'Colchester Graye,' was undoubtedly a craftsman of outstanding ability whose unerring workmanship earned him the coveted title 'Prince of Bellfounders.'

Over 300 years have passed and Colchester Foundry has vanished into the mists of time. Nevertheless, bells from that ancient enterprise continue to sound in the counties of Essex, Suffolk and Cambridgeshire, the latter-mentioned having received in the region of 50, the more notable being those at Fordham.

Followers of campanology are generally aware that it is for his so-called 'matchless' tenor bell at Lavenham by which Miles' skill is measured against that of present-day artisans. Weighing a little over one ton, that fine mellow bell celebrates its birthday in June of each year when the magnificent tower, which would have often been seen by the lady composer of 'Twinkle, twinkle little star,' sends out its message over the gently undulating Suffolk countryside through the efforts of diverse people, some of whom travel great distances on the day.

Lavenham's sonorous tenor has been likened to the appealing, vibrant notes of a mighty organ, and in that respect is particularly comparable from within the church. It would be unwise to say that this bell is the finest in all England, but it goes a long way to being just that.

CIVIL WAR DECLINE

The 'Prince' was heavily engaged in foundry work between 1610 and 1641, but his business, like many other professions, sadly declined due to the merciful rigours of Civil War. Indeed that undesirable strife between Englishmen wrote in capital letters 'finis' to Graye's formerly thriving enterprise. The Parliament assault on Colchester wrought much havoc to the founder's premises situated below Headgate, and fire brought a complete end to foundry activities.

It was an unfortunate episode which proved to be the beginning of the end for Graye. Weak in body and crazed with age but in perfect mind and memory, he died in the month of June, 1649.

Hostilities had deprived the family of many essential possessions, but nearly all that remained Miles left to his wife. His daughters, Ann Darbye and Mary Starlinge each received a shilling, and to James, one of three sons, went the remainder of leasehold property 'to him and his heyres for ever.' Christopher—the black sheep—received nothing at all.

The successor to the foundry business—what little remained of it—was Richard Bowler, who was probably assisted by Graye's foreman or helper, William Harbert, but Miles Graye the younger continued in practice as a bell founder, casting a few good bells including five for Stansfield in 1652.

In practice at the time of old Miles, Brend of Norwich seems to have experienced a good trade. He made a few good bells, but the majority of his ware is inferior to bells cast by his Colchester rival. It would appear that a commercial 'feud' existed between these two men, a struggle for topmanship which was continued by their respective offspring.

USED CITY ARMS

Brend employed a pretty device on his bells, this taking the form of the arms of Norwich city. Occasionally he used a monogram of himself and his wife, Alice. The site of this founder's activity was that established by the Brasers, but Brend eventually moved to another place. After his death in 1634 Brend's possessions were received by his wife and son, both of whom accepted at the signing of the will a silver spoon and hammer.

Brend the younger was an even greater contender for honour, and strove dutifully for recognition against that of the son of his father's rival, Miles the Younger. Miles supplied a treble for Thranderton in 1654 and also cast complete rings of five for Blaxhill and Yoxford. He tried to emulate the skill of his father and some of his work is creditable.

Brend II, on the other hand, was inclined to be a boisterous fellow, and was apt to run before he could walk. Whenever opportunity presented itself he could never resist a 'dig' at the Graye family—a sort of begrudging compliment to old Miles—but not so the son! Brend inscribed a bell, destined for Wickham Market:

The monument of Graie
Is past awaie;
In place thereof doth stand
The name of John Brend.

Christopher Graye, a degenerate son of Colchester Miles, was imbued with nomadic qualities. Unable to settle long, he spent a little time in Staffordshire, and plied his trade as a bellfounder in Bedfordshire, living in 1659 at Amptill.

The Isle of Ely seemed to hold some fascination for him, however. Turning his back on Bunyan's county, Graye made his way to the Fens, and established a foundry at the delightful village of Haddenham. His stay continued at this place for 15 years.

Evidently Christopher experienced reasonable business at Haddenham. The majority of bells cast by him are average; like his brother, he could never attain the same desirable standards of his famous father.

Graye eventually vacated the scene and Haddenham foundry passed into the hands of Charles Newman, who later handed the business to Thomas Newman (born at Haddenham in 1682), this founder finally removing the practice to King's Lynn.

Thomas Newman commenced his trade at Norwich at the age of 19. In his lifetime he cast a great many bells, several of which are known for their inability to sound in equal strength with their fellows. Newman cast Tunsted, Norfolk, bells in the churchyard with no remarkable success.

This founder, like Christopher Graye, appears to have been a rolling stone, having also practised at Cambridge as well as at Bury St. Edmunds. He did not excel in this work but had a reputation of sorts for quaint verse, an example being:

I tell all that doth me see:

That Newman of Brackindell did new cast me,

This one, I think, takes the biscuit:

Pull on brave boys: I am metal to the backbone

But will be hanged before I crack.

Harking back again to Haddenham, there is a remarkable story which I suppose to be true, concerning one of the founders, Thomas Newman. Passed down succeeding generations, the story reveals an amusing incident to the effect that on one memorable occasion when the operation of melting the metal had reached a critical stage it was found that there was a deficiency in the supply of materials.

One might imagine the founder, frantic with frustration, exploring every nook and cranny of his establishment, willing the appearance of suitable material, but finding none. A few moments more and the process would be endangered if not spoilt.

The founder, foiled at every angle of his fruitless search, spotted a solitary pewter pot, and was immediately motivated with sudden inspiration. Acting at once on the oft-used maxim 'the end justifies the means,' our traditional man-of-metal grabbed a sack, and pounded his way along the street to a nearby inn—the Rose and Crown—making a most unceremonious raid upon the building, whipping up pewter pots and measures as well as culinary vessels available, to the utter astonishment of landlord and patrons alike. The 'spoil' was quickly conveyed to the foundry and cast into the furnace in time, let us hope, to meet the exigencies of the case.

Thomas Newman cast four bells for Holy Trinity, Haddenham. Late last century while digging for foundations of a new tower, a cavity was discovered containing cinder ashes, portions of bell metal and mussel shells, from which circumstances it has been conjectured that the bells were, for convenience sake, cast on the spot over which they were destined to hang.

Time honours no man, least of all man-made habitations. Haddenham foundry and its colourful characters, like old Graye, 'is past away.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Essex Association peal at Great Bardfield, Essex, marked the 21st birthday of James L. Towler, who rang the tenor.

The peal at Beeston, where the Nottingham University Society paid their tribute to Sir Winston Churchill, was the first on the bells for 28 years.

We regret the duplication of the peal at Edith Weston which appears on pages 66 and 83. It was sent to our office from two different sources.

The quarter peal at Christ Church, Swindon, on January 24th, was rung on the 40th anniversary of the first ring of their new ten bells.

We are asked to state that Miss A. Horsford is the new assistant secretary and treasurer of the S. and W. District of the Midlex Association, and not as printed in recent announcements.

London University Society's tribute to Sir Winston Churchill at St. Olave's, Hart Street, enabled Timothy Petts to ring his 25th peal. It was also the first on eight bells as conductor for Richard Humphries.

Mr. P. J. Bird points out that the peal of Bristol at Yatton on January 23rd (page 97) was not the first on the bells. The method was rung there on January 25th, 1964, by the U.B.S.C.R., conducted by T. P. Edwards.

In Macclesfield's Churchill tribute—Plain Bob Royal on January 30th—also was remembered Mr. William Galkimore, an ex-churchwarden of Christ Church, who was one of the foremost workers when money was being raised for rehanging the bells in 1947.

The ladies connected with the Penn. Staffs, ringers would like it to be known that refreshments will be available for all who attend the Stafford Archdeaconry practice night at Penn on February 27th. The ladies think this will encourage the menfolk to bring along their wives and sweethearts.

Ringing at Bladon for Sir Winston's Funeral

As soon as the grave of Sir Winston Churchill had been filled in on Saturday six officers of the Oxford Diocesan Guild rang a peal of Plain Bob Minor on the light six at St. Martin's, with a tenor of 6½ cwt. Special passes had been provided for the ringers to get through the heavy traffic, as two of the band were chiming Great Tom at Oxford while the train carrying the great statesman passed through Oxfordshire.

On the previous Thursday there was a rehearsal and Mr. Frederick Sharpe spent the greater part of the day fixing ropes from Launton Church, oiling and tightening the nuts on the frame. The officers who rang were the Master, Deputy Master, honorary secretary, honorary treasurer, Ringing Master and Secretary of the Witney and Woodstock Branch.

Australia Observes

The passing of Sir Winston Churchill has been observed in most towers with special half-muffled ringing. To get their quarter peal at Turramurra, N.S.W., there was Churchillian determination. First they started with Kent Treble Bob Minor but this inexplicably failed in the last few changes of the 720. Then a start was made to ring a quarter peal of Doubles, but soon after the start the cord on one of the muffles tore through the leather. This was fixed and another start was made, but half way through, the same muffle snapped again. However, they continued and a quarter peal of Grandsire and Plain Bob was scored.

Other quarter peals were planned at All Saints', Parramatta, and St. Mary's (R.C.) Basilica.

Wife Called The Tune!

The memorial peal at Little Chart was unusual. The Rector rang a peal on his own bells, conducted by his wife. It was 14 years since Mrs. Betty Robbins called a peal. She hopes that as family ties get less, as three of her four children can ring in various stages, she will be able to do more peal ringing.

Accident at Norwich

Those who took part in the peal at St. Peter, Mancroft, Norwich, are grateful to Mr. John Knights, who accepted a rope at a moment's notice. He took the place of Mr. John Cox who, half a mile from the church, was involved in an accident. Fortunately, although his car is a 'write-off,' Mr. Cox sustained only slight injury.

The Bures Tribute

The two trebles at Bures, Suffolk, are a memorial to Dr. Thomas Wood, who journeyed to Australia during a vital period of the war to deputise for Sir Winston Churchill. This tower is in the Stour valley and quarter peals bring complaints, but it is interesting and a tribute that the peal rung as a memorial to Sir Winston, was at the request of a number of parishioners, some of whom afterwards thanked and congratulated the ringers.

Last Peal 35 Years Ago

The peal for the passing of Sir Winston at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Brighton, was the first on the bells since 1929 and it is unlikely that there will be another attempt for many years to come. The area around the church is very built up and there are always complaints from local residents about the noise of the bells. For this reason practices are restricted to fortnightly instead of weekly and ringing, other than on Sundays, is very limited. This is a great pity because the bells are a very pleasant eight. There were no complaints on this occasion.

Apocryphal the break of a peal silence on these bells for 35 years, Mr. S. E. Armstrong writes that the ring of eight was cast and hung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in 1927, and the first peal was rung by the St. Peter's band in that year. The second (and last) was rung in 1929, being Stedman Triples by mainly a band of visitors, but both peals were conducted by Keith Hart.

Two Churchills Conducted

Recounting memories of 4 a.m. duty with shotguns on the local common, members of the Luppitt (East Devon) Home Guard paid their tribute to a great and inspiring leader on the evening of January 30th, by ringing a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles on the half-muffled bells of St. Mary's.

The treble and tenor ringers turned up wearing well-preserved Home Guard great-coats, and the quarter was conducted by their own Mr. C. Churchill.

There was another Churchill among our conductors. At the Bedfordshire village of Hushorne Crawley, Robert R. Churchill conducted a peal of Plain Bob Major, which was his first as conductor.

Ringing at St. Mary's, Stafford

It was in 1946 that Sir Winston, then Mr. Winston Churchill, honoured Stafford by graciously accepting the Honorary Freedom of the Borough. Upon hearing of his death on the morning of January 24th, it was fitting that the bells of St. Mary's Church should ring out half-muffled for the services on this day. This ringing was commented upon in the B.B.C. Midland News on Monday morning. The bells were rung half-muffled for the Commission Day of the Assize on the 25th and for the Assize service on the 26th. On Sunday, the 31st, the Mayor and Corporation attended morning service in state, a service observed as one of thanksgiving for the life of Sir Winston Churchill. For this service, and as a last tribute to the memory of so great a man, statesman and freeman, 1,277 Grandsire Caters was rung with the bells half-muffled. The ringers were: Jennifer Beech 1, E. Fairbrother 2, R. J. Warrilow (cond.) 3, F. R. Wiggin 4, F. Eley 5, F. Beech 6, C. Hone 7, A. E. Garbett 8, R. K. Mowforth 9, R. Stanley 10. First of Caters 1 and 2. A. E. G.

A First Peal

The peal at Haslingfield, Cambs, was the first peal on the bells since they were rehung four years ago, when a new band commenced learning to ring under the direction of Mr. W. J. Ridgman. It is thought that it is probably the first peal ever to be rung here. The members of the band who rang it are all Sunday service ringers at this church.

A Disappointment

A peal of Stedman Triples was attempted on January 27th at Westerham, Kent, his parish church, in memory of Sir Winston Churchill. Unfortunately this was lost after an hour's very good ringing and due to other activities in the church there was no opportunity for another attempt during the week. It is hoped to attempt a commemorative peal on one of the great war anniversaries.

The first peal of Churchill Surprise Major was rung at Westerham on his 90th birthday, and those who took part in that peal and others who participated in the special ringing at Westerham at that time are now particularly proud as each received a personally signed message of thanks from Sir Winston.

Ladies' Peal of 50 Years Ago Recalled

The peal at St. Peter's, Portishead, on January 30th, was rung on the 50th anniversary of the first peal ever rung by a band of ladies from one tower. (Is it still the only one?) There was at Portishead in those days a very capable band of lady ringers under the leadership of Mr. William Gillingham. One of the band of that day, Mrs. M. Briggs, who, as Miss M. E. N. Jukes, rang the tenor to the 1915 peal, heard the muffled peal for Sir Winston Churchill, as she lives in Wraxall Lodge, immediately under the tower.

Youngest Band

Probably the youngest band to ring on this memorable occasion was at Cranfield, Beds, where the average age of those taking part was about 15 years. Pauline Hillson, the conductor, was celebrating her 15th birthday, the treble ringer (13) was ringing his first quarter, and David P. Manton, who rang the 14-cwt. fourth bell, is 12 years old.

To Herbert E. Audsley

Best wishes to Mr. Herbert E. Audsley, of Crayford, on his 65th birthday on January 31st. One of our thousand pealers, Bert probably holds the record for ringing his large number of peals in the smallest number of towers. At St. John's, Erith, where a great many of his peals have been rung, he was to have rung a peal for his birthday, but alas, this had to be postponed and Bert's services were used to conduct a half-muffled peal of Bristol Surprise Major in memory of Sir Winston Churchill.

Completed Circle in 33 Years

By ringing the second bell to a peal at his former home tower of Cheshunt, Herts, on January 30th, Mr. Alfred J. House, of Rayleigh, Essex, completed his 'circle' of the tower. A few unsuccessful attempts have lengthened the span of these peals to 33 years, but the recent peal made this more worthwhile as two local members were able to score a creditable first peal.

On the night of Sir Winston's death, the bells of St. John-the-Baptist, Hillingdon, were rung fully muffled with the tenor open at backstroke. On the day of his funeral they were rung to a quarter peal of Grandsire Caters, half-muffled.

SHERWOOD YOUTHS

The annual general meeting of the Society of Sherwood Youths was held at St. Mary's, Nottingham, on January 23rd, when ringing was enjoyed before and after the meeting and ranged from rounds to Surprise Royal.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Master, Mr. H. T. Rooke (Warsop); secretary, Mr. P. Nix (Hucknall); assistant secretary, Mr. R. A. G. Benfield (Wollaton); treasurer, Mr. W. Nicholls (St. Mary's, Nottingham); trustee, Mr. D. Stainsby (St. Peter's, Nottingham).

It was agreed that Mr. W. Nicholls and Mr. D. Stainsby, being trustees, should receive and take care of all old documents and records of the Society.

Eight new members were elected, making a total of 73 members for 1964.

The policy of holding some meetings away from Nottingham is to be continued, and meeting places were proposed on all sides of the area.

At the close of the meeting, members were informed that 1972 will be the tercentenary year for the Society. No plans were discussed, but members were asked to bear this in mind for the next annual general meeting, when the subject would be discussed.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

South Croydon is always a popular venue for a meeting, and January 23rd proved to be no exception when the Northern District held its annual meeting there. The service was conducted by the Vicar of St. Peter's, and the address was given by one of the Association's vice-presidents, the Bishop of Croydon.

Sixty-seven ringers, 51 of them members of the District, enjoyed an excellent tea prepared by the local ladies in the Church Hall. The business meeting followed, during which 18 new resident members were elected.

In the committee's report it was stated that the instructional courses were being continued and there was pleasing progress in the advancement of the young people attending them but more skilled help was required.

The membership of the District had shown an increase of two on the year to a total of 235. The average attendance at meetings was 42, which is one less than the previous year.

Twenty-nine peals, all on tower bells, were recorded during the year. Nine ringers rang their first peal. Miss J. Geiringer's first peal as conductor is believed to be the youngest ladies' peal, average age 16 years 10 months. Quarter peals totalled 164, two more than the record set up in 1963.

The following officers for 1965 were elected: Master, Mr. N. Bagworth; hon. secretary, Mr. N. Steere; assistant secretary, Mr. B. Bull; auditor, Mr. R. F. Layton; committee members, Rev. A. Clayton, Mr. C. Mew and Mr. W. Jackson. The retiring District Master, Mr. F. E. Collins, was thanked by Mr. N. Bagworth, and the General Master, Mr. A. P. Cannon, for his work for the Association.

After the usual votes of thanks further ringing concluded a successful day. N. G. T. S.

A SIDESMAN BELLHANGER

A SIDESMAN at Middleton Parish Church, Lancashire, Mr. Victor Tyreman, a 59-year-old toolmaker, has completed almost single-handed an 800-man-hour job of repairing and renovating the eight bells in the tower.

These bells were unsafe through lack of maintenance. The bronze bearings were worn, the clappers were loose and bolts corroded. Six were hung 250 years ago in 1714 and two more were added in 1791. The job took Mr. Tyreman nine months to complete and was mainly done on Saturdays and Sundays.

Telling his story to the 'Middleton Guardian,' to whom we are indebted, Mr. Tyreman mentioned that except for a few hours he was alone with the eight massive bells—St. Leonard's has a tenor of 12½ cwt. in G—60 feet up in the bell tower. It was eerie, almost frightening at times. Often, at about 11 p.m., because of a trick of the wind, the big wooden louvres which form the upper part of the tower walls would start rattling. 'I was scared to death the first time,' said Mr. Tyreman. Later, when the tapping started, he used to call out: 'Come in, if there's anybody there.'

What he decided to do was this: take out the old half-circular bronze bearings carrying the shafts and replace them with full ball-bearing races. This meant that he had to lift the bells, the lightest being 5 cwt. He devised his own screw-jack and lifted up each end of the shafts of the bells in turn. For the two biggest, his employers, Fairwood Engineering, of Middleton Junction, loaned blocks and tackle, and two men helped to haul the bells up. That was almost the only assistance he had.

With the shafts clear, he released the old bearings by clearing out corroded bolts. Then he used an electric drill to make new holes through nine-inch oak beams that were almost rock-hard. These were to locate the new ball races which had to be push-fit on the shafts. The long years of ringing had slowly worn the shafts out of true, and Mr. Tyreman spent scores of hours hand-filing the shafts to a true circle.

This he regarded as one of the hardest, muscle-aching jobs he had ever attempted. But, still alone, he carried on, using a micrometer to ensure accuracy within thousandths of an inch.

Another tricky operation was providing new bolts for the clappers of seven of the bells. This had to be undertaken with the bells raised, and Mr. Tyreman had to lean inside the bell to release the clapper—a job not without danger, as if it went off the balance he might well have been crushed against the massive oak frame.

One clapper was hanging loose, secured by only one bolt which had lost its lock-nut. If the bell had been rung the clapper might have flown off out through the louvres. The bell-wheels and other parts also needed repair.

When all was finished a Rochdale expert climbed over the bells, and after a thorough examination approved of the work. The 'go' of the bells is excellent and recently a quarter peal was rung—the first since pre-war days.

The praiseworthy service of Mr. Tyreman to his church has resulted in saving many hundreds of pounds; but we would add a word of caution to any amateurs who might feel inclined to emulate his example. It is 'don't.' Bell-hanging is a highly professional skill. It does not come within the ambit of the village blacksmith, still less that of the enthusiastic young ringers.

Cumberlands' Dinner now in the Ringing Calendar

BIG PROVINCIAL BACKING

THE star of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths is in the ascendancy. Their annual dinner on the first Saturday in February has a firm place in the ringing calendar, and the record attendance of 175 at the Church House Restaurant had a particularly happy evening. The Master, Mr. Dennis Beresford, was an admirable chairman, having the benefit of previous experiences and his light touch enabled the proceedings to go with a swing.

The principal guest was Mr. John Freeman, of Lincoln, vice-president of the Central Council. He brought with him his film of Washington Cathedral visit—and told the story entertainingly. Two other members of the gallant ten who flew across the Atlantic were present—Mr. Peter Staniforth and Mr. Harry Parkes. There was also handbell ringing—this time Stedman Caters rung with a good rhythm.

It is becoming a tradition for Mr. W. R. Winterton to propose the toast of 'The Church.' He is this year the Master of the Company of Drapers, and in an entertaining manner introduced his subject. He regretted the absence of the Vicar of St. Martin's (the Rev. Austin Williams) and the Rev. Meredith Davies, who had always been a good friend of the Society and was now in charge of prisons in the whole of the Home Counties. Welcoming the clergy present he said they had worked out a sort of partnership with the parsons, and it was nice to see them in unfamiliar surroundings. 'You don't have a tankard of beer with a friend you don't like,' he added.

COMPLEMENTARY

The Rev. Gordon Blacktop, Vicar of Thames Ditton, who replied, said the relationship between the Church and the ringers was like a marriage bond, as each was complementary to each other. The Church had the bells, but what would be the use of the bells to her without the ringers, or what would be the use of ringers without bells? To-day it was a very happy union, but there was a time when the relationship between the ringers and the Church was uneasy and there were times when it was a case of armed neutrality. His experience at Thames Ditton was that the situation was very different from that, and it was very different everywhere else. They had ringers who enjoyed their ringing and used their skill as part of their Christian exercise and were doing their ringing in their stewardship of time and talents.

The toast of 'The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths' was again submitted by Mr. E. A. Barnett, the hon. secretary of the Central Council of Church Bellringers. He said his thoughts went back to a speech he made a year or two ago, in which he referred to the question of membership of the Society and the desirability of increasing it. He then made special reference to the efforts of their Master in that direction. This year they could, perhaps, apply that congratulation to the officers generally.

As they saw, they were now under slightly new management—Dr. Sibson, he presumed—and no doubt somebody would pay tribute to the work of Mr. Frank Matthews as secretary over the past few years, during which time he had ably carried on the family tradition.

They might be interested to know that the handbells which would be used later were given by the Vicar of Henley, Suffolk, by the name of William Carter Pearson, who was the founder in 1879 of the Clare Society of Ringers which afterwards became the Cambridge University Guild and a very old member of the Society.

Referring to membership, Mr. Barnett said the most representative gathering that evening did show how the message of the Society had spread. Their friends at Ludgate Circus had a very efficient recruiting system: they had a number of unpaid recruiting officers, whose duty it was to shepherd into the College Youths those worthy of membership. He thought it was something they could imitate.

Mr. Barnett said he did not know if there were any College Youths present, but he had always been received by them with the utmost friendliness and courtesy.

FIRST IN LONDON

If they (the Cumberlands) had been too modest about their Society, it was not always the case. He was looking at a footnote to a peal of London rung by the Society at St. James', Clerkenwell, on May 18th, 1895, which read:—

'Very few if any other band have gone into practice of this intricate method in London, and certainly this is the first to achieve success. A tablet worthy of such a performance should adorn the walls of the belfry.'

Taking part in that peal was Albert Pittam, who also took part in the record length peal of Double Norwich. They might think from that footnote they were very simple men. Perhaps they were: but times had changed, and they now knew that the minimum qualification now to enter a belfry was three A levels, preferably physics, maths and chemistry.

The proposer quoted some verses by J. S. Goldsmith to conclude:—

Who is it from the old church tower
Sends forth the chimes at every hour
To keep the milk from turning sour?

The bellringer!

Who is it in the steeple high
Some strange new method oft will try
Until the nearby stream runs dry?

The bellringer.

Who is it tries on summer's night
To cheer us up with music bright,
But makes us shut our windows tight?

The bellringer.

Who finds an outlet for his skill
By ringing peals and peals until
The people cry out: 'Peace, be still'?

The bellringer.

Who sounds their bells while we're abed
On Sunday morn, with tired head,
Until we wish that he were dead?

The bellringer.

GREATEST ENCOURAGEMENT

The Master, who replied, said as Master the greatest encouragement one could have was a gathering like that. Their attendance was 175, compared with 134 last year. It was the greatest gathering the Society had had in one room. They had a larger gathering on the occasion of their bicentenary at 'The Bell,' but it was in two rooms.

In welcoming the visitors, the Master mentioned that they came from Lincolnshire, Birmingham, Nottinghamshire, Cheshire and a large contingent from Leicester. He hoped that the first Saturday in February would be a day they would always reserve. The past year had been very successful, and it was demonstrated by the large gathering that night. The interest that had been created in the Society and its achievements meant that members were pleased to travel and join them at their annual dinner.

They had a substantially higher number of peals with 17; it was not many by the standard of the territorial associations, but it reflected a great interest in the Society. They were pleased to have with them Jack Millhouse, and it was a tremendous encouragement to them to hear of the peals for the Cumberlands he had rung in the Lincoln area.

Five years ago the Society was undoubtedly in the doldrums; ten years ago the heading to their gathering was 'Apathy in the Society.' Now people came to London to ring and to their annual dinner, and he felt the Society had settled down to a period of expansion and successful achievement. Financially, they had done extremely well, and their bank balance had increased to a satisfactory extent.

'MASTER DONE IT'

It had been his privilege to lead the Society for the past few years, but he must pay due regard to the support he received from the officers, and the members had been extremely kind in accepting his authority. Looking through one of the Society's books he noticed that one name had been totally obliterated. There was a note by the side: 'Master done it,' and he thought of the fate of that man.

During the past three years they had been extremely fortunate in having Frank Matthews as their secretary. He had done a great deal to put the Society on its feet and also a great deal of research into their affairs. He was handing over the Society in a very well run condition. As Mr. Barnett had said, it was the tradition of the Matthews family to serve the Society. Just 50 years ago John Matthews, Frank's grandfather, was Master of the Society and his maternal grandfather and his mother were well-known members.

In a welcome to the College Youths present, the Master said one of the great things they had done was the building up of happy relations with that Society. Concluding, he said, 'The success of the Society was only as good as the Society made it. The Society now attracted members to come to London to ring with us because they like our standard and our fellowship, but there is a lot that could be done by our country members to initiate interest in the Society, and we would be grateful for any effort they can make.'

The speech was followed by a touch of Stedman Caters on handbells rung by E. A. Barnett 1-2, Miss Beresford 3-4, the Master 5-6, D. E. Sibson 7-8, Leslie Weller 9-10.

The toast of 'The Visitors' was proposed by Mr. Ian Oram with wit and polish.

Mr. John Freeman, vice-president of the Central Council and secretary of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, admitted that with many others there he was a College Youth. There was a saying, he said, 'If you have a Cumberland for a friend you don't need an enemy.' But that gathering had an atmosphere of harmony and goodwill.

CUMBERLANDS OF NOTE

That was the first occasion that he had attended a dinner of the Cumberlands, but he had been his good fortune to ring with many members of their Society. The first Cumberland he recalled was Alf Pulling, well known for his prowess as a ringer—he rang more than 1,000 peals—and for the long lengths of Stedman in hand which he rang. For a short time Peter Bond lived in Lincoln and was teaching in Lincolnshire, and the Education Committee had not yet recovered from the shock. Then there were Mr. and Mrs. Barnett, who were secretary and assistant secretary respectively to the Central Council. Another with them was Harry Parkes, who went to Washington with them at the special request of the Dean. Harry had previously hung the bells in the Cathedral and made a good job of it.

For many years there had been a strong link between the Cumberlands and Lincoln. Since the war they had rung at least one peal at the Cathedral, and in Jack Millhouse they had a veritable champion: he seemed to inveigle all the young ringers into the Cumberlands and added Mr. Freeman, 'I ring with a number of them each week.'

Concluding the speech-making, the Master thanked Mr. Jack Phillips for his tremendous help to the Society in allowing them the use of a number of towers that day—Jewry, Bow, Cripplegate and Cornhill. He also thanked the incumbents of those churches and Mr. Frank Matthews for the way he had organised the dinner.

THE COMPANY

The Master, accompanied by Mrs. D. Beresford, was supported on the top table by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barnett, the Rev. G. Blacktop, Mr. and Mrs. J. Freeman, Dr. P. A. F. Chalk, Mr. W. R. Winterton, the Rev. and Mrs. W. Rowett, Mr. I. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Sibson.

Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. J. King, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bowley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jelley, Mr. and Mrs. P. Staniforth, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. G. Roast, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Symonds, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. R. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. P. Eves, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. V. Green, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dobbie, Mr. and Mrs. R. ROVING RINGERS' REUNION

The Roving Ringers' Reunion was held during the week-end of February 6th and 7th. The first tower was St. Peter's, Derby, where a touch of Spiced Grandsire and Stedman Triples and a course of Yorkshire got us off to a good start. A high standard of striking was again attained at St. Luke's. After a rather hurried lunch (Chinese style), we drove out to Duffield, where Little Bob Royal and Kent were among the touches rung. For train spotters, the eighth provided an advantage point for watching British Railways at work. Burton-on-Trent was the last tower of the day, and the Stedman Caters and half-course of Cambridge Royal was a pleasure to listen to.

Back to the hotel and dinner, after which we held a short business meeting. The Master spoke of the good standard of striking which had been achieved during the day, which he hoped would be maintained on the tour. Suggestions for the tour included Norfolk and Suffolk, Sussex and Kent, and Warwick and Oxford. The last-named was chosen with the week-end in Oxford. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Frank Lewis, president (three years); George Even-den, Master; Don Cobb, secretary; Adrienne Gibson, tour secretary; Richard Fentiman, recorder.

Next year's reunion was discussed, bearing in mind that the tour had been moved to the end of August, to coincide with the Bank Holiday, and that there had always been six months between the reunion and the tour. It was decided to move the reunion to the last Saturday in February next year. After the meeting, with Michael at the piano, we sang into the early hours of the morning.

Sunday ringing included visits to St. Alkmund's, St. Andrew's, Derby Cathedral and Lichfield.

We should like to thank all incumbents and the Sunday service bands in Derby and Lichfield for allowing us such extensive use of the bells on Sunday.

50 YEARS A RINGER AT DUNSTER

THOSE who have visited the Somerset tower of Dunster will probably have met Mr. Arthur Tudball, who has just completed 50 years as a ringer in this tower. His fellow ringers would not let the occasion pass unnoticed, and our photograph shows Mr. H. W. Lloyd presenting him, as a mark of their high esteem, with a gold-plated table lighter.

Mr. Tudball was made a probationer in 1915 and a full member of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association in 1924. Although not a great peal ringer (he has rung eight), he has been a faithful Sunday ringer. For 30 years he has been tower steward and secretary of the Dunster branch of the Association since 1952.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The first meeting of the North and East District in 1965 was held at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Stanmore, on January 9th, where an average attendance of members and friends enjoyed ringing in a variety of methods.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. S. R. Skemp); Mr. E. J. Leversuch, the local captain, read the lesson, while Brian Burrough was the organist.

Following tea, a short business meeting was held at which the following were elected members of the Association: Miss A. Metcalfe and P. D. Dawson-Taylor (Edgware), Philip Taylor (Finchley), Martin Hickman (Pinner), Jane and John Emmett and Nigel West (Stanmore). The provisional elections of Christine McNair (Marple, Cheshire) and Jennifer M. Cook (Birmingham) as non-resident life members were ratified.

Before proposing a vote of thanks to the Rector and the Stanmore members, Mr. H. G. Hart (chairman) offered the best wishes and sincere congratulations of the meeting to Lorna and Clive Simpson, enthusiastic and popular members of the Harrow-on-the-Hill band notice of whose engagement had recently appeared in 'The Ringing World.'

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD North Lindsey Branch

The overshadowing event of this memorable and historic day was uppermost in everyone's mind at the annual meeting of the North Lindsey Branch held at Barrow-on-Humber on January 30th. The bells were half-muffled for the afternoon ringing as a token of respect to Sir Winston Churchill; and his trust in his fellow Englishmen formed the theme of the Rev. O. A. Comely's address.

The secretary reported a slight decline in membership and a corresponding loss on the year's working.

The Branch president, the Rev. J. E. Swaby, was re-elected, as was the secretary, Mr. C. A. Harrison. Mr. Moody, the retiring Branch Ringing Master, was thanked by several members for his past 20 years' work in office as secretary and Master, and the meeting warmly endorsed these thanks.

Mr. Michael Crowder was unanimously elected as the new Branch Ringing Master. The committee is composed of Messrs. R. Chafer, W. A. Crowder, G. Moody and S. Neave.

The further ringing that took place was a pointer to the youthful enthusiasm which is becoming more apparent, and augurs well for the Branch.

Letters to the Editor

Ernest Morris Window

Dear Sir,—At last a design has been received and approved for the 'Ernest Morris Memorial Window.' It depicts five ringers in action with a view of the bells, and also includes Ernest's other interests, fonts, door-knockers, horse brasses and a picture of St. Margaret's.

The work has been put in hand, and the artist says that if all goes well we should have the window in by the end of April. As it is costing a little more than we first estimated to allow more subject matter in the design we still need approximately £100.

Donations from those who are not yet associated with this memorial would be gratefully received by me.

The date of the dedication will be given in good time in 'The Ringing World.'—Yours sincerely,

GORDON A. OLLIFFE.

Mispronunciation in Calling

Dear Sir,—I am beginning to feel extremely sorry for anyone called 'Bob' who may be the friend of any ringer who aspires to conducting. The diction of most of our conductors is deplorable.

While visiting a London tower recently, a prominent member of the Exercise was conducting a touch. He distinctly called, 'Urp' each time he meant 'Bob,' and at the end of the touch 'saul' sounded much more like 'Bob' than had any of his previous calls. The utterance which everyone took to mean 'Stand' sounded much more like 'Ten' to me.

In my own tower we have one conductor who calls 'Pops,' another whose 'Bobs' sound rather like loud hiccoughs, and another who actually says 'Burp'!

Another word which is invariably mispronounced is 'Grandsire.' One often hears 'Gransia,' 'Granser' and occasionally 'Grantser,' but rarely is the 'd' or the end of the word heard. I always try to make a point of calling 'Go Grandsire,' but this causes some of the older ringers in particular to raise their eyebrows, and I'm sure that they consider me to be a 'square.'

Is this practice of gross mispronunciation an expression of individuality on the part of a conductor or should 'up and coming' conductors be taught to use correct English?

I should be interested to hear other ringers' comments and perhaps a further selection of 'Bobs,' 'Ups,' 'Baps,' etc.—Yours faithfully,

ANGELA GRAINGER.

Fairy Bells

Dear Sir,—After reading the article re Fairy Bells, I am prompted to write to say that I, too, possess an octave of them, which was made by an employee of the Taylor foundry who was at that time rehanging the recast bells of the Warsop Parish Church. While engaged on the work he lived with our family. After the completion and rededication on April 27th, 1913, he presented me with the above-mentioned set, which I greatly cherish, as it occurred on my 34th birthday. The length is 23 inches by 6½ inches wide, the wires are stretched on a slab of oak, two sides, end, and half top are composed of polished mahogany.

I have taken part with it in concerts, also on the local theatre stage: now through old age and infirmity, I can only amuse myself at home with it. Several years ago my son, who is a ringer, was presented with one, which has 12 strings. I have tuned mine to scale of D flat, which gives a most pleasing effect when imitating rise and fall.—Yours truly,

T. R. FLINT.

Early Ringing for Mr. Churchill

Dear Sir,—The whole country was shocked to hear of the death of Sir Winston S. Churchill, and I was no exception. However, I was equally shocked to read in the Belfry Gossip (page 95) where your correspondent states that he was one of the first to ring for the death of Sir Winston.

This subject has been brought up many times before, and each time letters have appeared deploring this 'competition' that goes on for such a sad occasion, yet people still write up and claim this doubtful privilege. Surely the idea of ringing on such an occasion is in memory of a well-known person, in this case one of the greatest Englishmen of our time, and not as a battle to see which band can get into their belfry first after the announcement.

No doubt your correspondent wrote in all good faith, but he plainly acknowledges that his band were among the first to grab their ropes, and under the circumstances I do not consider that this is in any way the correct procedure to pursue.

I hope your correspondent realised the gravity of the occasion for which he was ringing, and that this practice of grabbing ropes at such sad times will very soon develop into a serious heartfelt tribute to the person they are remembering. It seems to me that occasions such as this are becoming to some people just another excuse for ringing the bells.—Yours in disgust,

Codsall, Staffs. PHILIP R. JOHNSON.

Note.—We do not think the individual tower took any pride in the achievement of early ringing, but mentioned it as being in accordance with the responsibility of ringers indicating to the public as soon as possible a great national occasion. Before 10 a.m. that Sunday morning the Editor had rung in touches of Cambridge Minor and Plain Bob Major with the bells muffled. This was because the main service was at 10 a.m. The flag was flying half-mast from the tower at 9.10 a.m.

When is a Peal not a Peal?

Dear Sir,—I have often been puzzled by the point which is raised by the correspondence between Messrs. Morton and Butler. The question seems to be, when does a peal end? I have not any official rule-books with me, but I was under the impression that a peal consisted of so many true changes, or complete 720's, etc. (according to the number of bells) rung without intermission and beginning and ending with rounds.

It would appear that Mr. Morton and his band did ring 42 complete 120's beginning and ending with rounds: the fact that they followed it immediately with a touch of 60 is quite irrelevant. Usually one terminates a peal with a few extra rounds before calling 'Stand,' but these are not held to invalidate the peal; but what if instead of calling 'Stand' the conductor said 'Go again'?

Surely the peal proper ends as soon as rounds come up; what happens after that has nothing to do with it. This would mean, of course, that Mr. Morton is wrong in claiming a peal of 5,100, but I think it is quite unjust if he is not allowed to have rung a peal of 5,040, and if this is in fact so under the rules, then they should be amended—there would still be no point in ringing the odd 60, should a band wish to do so, but it should not be allowed to invalidate the peal which has been in fact correctly rung preceding it.

Of course 'peals' on less than seven bells are anomalous and bound to be subject to some sort of arbitrary restriction: for example, one would disallow the peal if the 60 were inserted so that rounds did not in fact come up at the 5,040th blow, and this is fair if it is felt that a peal on five or six bells must consist of exactly 5,040 changes, as on seven. But Mr. Morgan specifically tells us that the extra 60 came at the end, and I hope he will press his claim to have rung a proper 5,040 and get this anomaly cleared up.—Yours faithfully,

A. R. PARGETER.

Tiverton, Devon.

The Bells were Rung—Enough

Dear Sir,—When our late great statesman and leader died on January 24th I mentioned to one of my ringing friends that within a fortnight letters would appear in 'The Ringing World' claiming that the bells had been rung up and down the country within minutes of Sir Winston's death. Were we the first? Is this really necessary? Surely the fact that the bells were rung in his memory for this sad occasion is enough.

Peals and quarter peals were rung not so that our names appeared in print but because, as ringers, we had the skill and the initiative to show our appreciation for all that Sir Winston did for this country and the world, in this way. As a church organisation we should feel satisfied with our performances and never seek praise for what we have done, or make claims that we were quicker off the mark than some of our fellow members.

I was fortunate enough to ring a quarter peal myself at Smarden on the same date. My thanks are due to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to five of my ringing friends who rang with me, thus giving me the opportunity of showing my own appreciation. Please stop making all these uncalculated claims and, instead, praise those who were patient enough to teach you the art of change ringing in the first place.

Regarding the last entry in 'Belfry Gossip' (page 96), my sincere congratulations to the young band on their 200 call changes. I am sure you all did your very best. My best wishes to you all for your first quarter peal.—Yours sincerely,

J. F. RICHARDS.

OBITUARY

MR. EDWARD RUDKIN

With the passing on February 2nd of Mr. Edward Rudkin, at the age of 78 years, Weston Favell, Northampton, has lost a loyal ringer and worshipper—a true Christian to all who knew him.

He originated from Ridlington, Rutland, and in 1911 when the three bells there were augmented to four, Ted Rudkin learned to ring in this humble way. After World War I he moved to Northampton to take up work as a parks foreman for the town council. He was an authority on horticulture and often gave good advice to ringers on gardening matters.

He did not take up ringing again until 1951, when, at 65, he retired. One Sunday he introduced himself in Weston Favell tower, saying he would again like to try his hand on a bell after a lapse of over 30 years; this he did with success. He preferred ringing the treble, unless only four strong, when he would take a bell 'inside' to Minimus. He rang many quarter peals of Doubles. At the age of 72 he rang his one and only peal—the treble to Doubles at Boughton on October 11th, 1958. He last rang on January 31st.

The funeral was on February 6th and the minor five bells were rung as the cortege entered and left the church; a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung half-muffled as a last tribute by: H. Marlow 1, Miss G. H. Ashby 2, W. Allen 3, G. F. Roome (cond.) 4, P. Amos 5. P. A.

MR. STANLEY T. A. RUSSELL

Mr. P. G. Smart writes concerning Mr. Stanley T. A. Russell, general secretary of Guildford Diocesan Guild and vice-captain of Ash tower:

Stan started ringing in about 1916 at Rotherfield, Sussex, where he rang for many years before moving to Tunbridge Wells. It was not until 1952 that he moved to Ash, where he soon became an active member of the church. His kindness and friendly welcome to visiting ringers will be remembered by many, as will his many stories of ringing and ringers, and particularly of his beloved home at Rotherfield, where he was laid to rest.

The tower at Ash bears witness to the many hours he spent in it, splicing ropes, tending the bells and fittings, and doing all the odd jobs about the tower. Stan will be missed but not forgotten and in retrospect his life's motto may have been: 'Never absent, never late.'

MR. J. JEFFERIES

The Cathedral and St. John's companies of ringers in Worcester lost their oldest member by the death of John J. Jefferies on January 23rd. Jack Jefferies learned to ring in the Cirencester district before the First World War. He came to Worcester in 1919 and joined the Cathedral Guild of Ringers, of which he was later ringing master.

In his earlier days he taught bands of ringers at St. Nicholas', Worcester, Claines and Kempsey. For his services at Claines he was presented with a gold watch by the late Mr. E. P. Thomas, who had paid for the augmentation of the bells.

He had been unable to ring at the Cathedral in recent years owing to his age, but rang regularly at St. John's, where he last rang on the Sunday before he died—his 85th birthday.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION
Northern Division

This year the Northern Division visited the 'country' town of Crawley for its annual Divisional meeting, but the 'country' part of the town is sadly missing these days, now that the 'new' town has surrounded the lovely old church with cheap dolls' house like shops, which give an atmosphere of cheap-jacks behind a grid of concrete and glass, and street lamps towering upwards and casting a ghost-like light on all below. One wonders what Fred and Jack Rice, Jim Parker and Oliver Sippetts would think of Crawley now!

Despite this modern monstrosity, a very successful meeting was held. The Rector conducted a homely service in the famous old church, after which justice was done to the tea, ably supervised by Mr. and Mrs. George Jennings and helpers. The Master of the Association presided at the business meeting, and congratulated the Divisional secretary (Mrs. E. L. Hairs) on the businesslike manner of all her arrangements and for her hard work in building up the Northern Division. After the usual first item on the agenda, 22 new members were elected, a most gratifying sign. The officers were all re-elected, Mr. E. Knapp joining the committee in place of the member who had resigned. The Rev. Peter Scott (Rector of Withyham) reported progress on the new "Form of Service" book. The substantially-built tower stood up to the strain of the 60-odd ringers present.

It was decided to hold a striking competition in the summer. Northern Division members please note! E. L. H.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Mansfield District

The annual meeting of the Mansfield District was held at SS. Peter and Paul's, Mansfield, on Saturday, January 30th. As the arrangements for the meeting had been made in advance, the bells were rung half-muffled on this, the day when the whole nation paid tribute to Sir Winston Churchill. Those present at the service were reminded, too, of the strength and character of this great man during an inspiring address given by a fellow ringer, Church Army Captain Michael Amos.

Approximately 50 people attended at Grove House for tea, following which the chairman, Mr. S. W. Fossey, opened the business meeting. New members elected were Misses T. Walker, A. Walker and S. Potter, of Greasley; A. Daykin, B. Morran, P. Mellor, R. Spencer and Miss J. Booth, of Warsop.

Miss L. M. Jacques and Mrs. A. A. Rooke were elected hon. vice-presidents, and the following District officers were returned: Chairman, Mr. S. W. Fossey; secretary, Mr. D. J. Beach; Ringing Master, Mr. H. T. Rooke; Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. F. Adcock; committee member, Mr. D. H. Rooke.

It was reported that during 1964 the District had shown an increase both financially and in membership. Ringing afterwards included Superlative and Yorkshire Surprise as well as rounds and call changes.

Next meeting: Warsop, March 27th.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH
DIOCESAN GUILD

The 1965 annual general meeting of the Portsmouth District was held on February 6th at St. Mary's, Portsea, and was attended by 41 members and friends. A short service was conducted by the Rev. Glynn Jones, followed by a fine tea served by the ladies.

The Master of the Guild, Canon K. Felstead, sent his apologies for not being able to attend. Ringing members elected were: Mr. W. Tate (unattached), Mr. D. Luckett (Fareham), Mr. T. Hargreaves (Curdridge), Mr. D. Pike (Alverstoke) and Mr. G. Gammon (Portsmouth Cathedral). Ratification of tower elections of the following compounding members was made: Mr. A. Dixon, Miss Patricia M. Samuel, Mr. R. Ian Bowren and Mr. K. Paul Gulliver. One ringing member, Mr. A. Cope, transferred to compounding membership.

The secretary's annual report indicated that ringing throughout the District showed an improvement over 1963. New members elected during 1964 were: Ringing 12, Junior 9, Associate 1, Compounding 17. L. D. D.

THE LADIES' GUILD

South Wales District

The South Wales District of the Ladies' Guild held its annual District meeting at Newton Nottage, Porthcawl, on January 30th. Despite the bitterly cold weather and a bus strike, the meeting drew an attendance from a very wide area, and the bells were well used throughout the afternoon and evening. Mr. Trevor Roderick and the Rev. D. Ford were waiting to welcome the visitors.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon W. Roach, assisted by the Rev. D. Ford. Mr. Roderick read the lesson and Miss D. Packwood was at the organ. Tea was waiting in the Church Hall, prepared by the young people of 'Cynry'r-Groes.' Mr. Arthur Hoare thanked this active youth group.

At the business meeting six new members were elected. Mrs. Catherine Coles was re-elected vice-president, Mrs. J. S. King secretary, and committee members were Mrs. Whitworth, Mrs. Brutten, Miss D. Hulbert, Miss H. Way, Miss P. Welch and Miss C. Glastonbury.

It was decided to try to hold meetings on May 22nd and October 23rd at Llandall and Ebbw Vale.

SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY

In spite of competition from the Northern Universities' meeting in Sheffield and Rotherham area, a successful meeting of the above Society was held at Killamarsh on February 6th.

In addition to catering for less experienced ringers, a variety of Treble Bob and Surprise Minor methods was rung before and after tea.

Mr. F. Parr, captain of Killamarsh ringers, played the organ for the homely service prior to tea, which, as usual, was of a very high standard and at a very low price.

Instead of a business meeting, those present were entertained to Grandsire Caters and Little Bob Minor on handbells before returning to the tower.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Miss Margaret Eddy, a member of the Wollaton, Nottingham, tower, has left to live in Germany. Before leaving, she rang her first quarter peal (Plain Bob) 'inside.'

The peal rung by the University of London Society at St. Olave's, Hart Street, London, was to the memory of Sir Winston S. Churchill. It was inadvertently published on page 98 without the appropriate footnote.

Mr. G. K. Dodd desires to make a correction to the footnote to the peal of Bob Major rung at Overton on January 16th. It was the get together of Philip and Denby Murduck and the 30th together for Geoffrey Dodd and Denby Murduck and not as printed.

Among the many young people who rang their first peals on this national occasion was Miss Linda Illison, who took part in a peal at Stotfold. She has been learning hardly a year and responded to her first attempt extremely well, reports Mr. P. Mehew.

If Mr. Clark, of Harrogate, who sought information concerning his grandfather taking part in a millenary peal at Ripon would communicate with Mr. Edward Hudson, of Singleton Cottage, Sharow, Ripon, he will visit him and supply some information.

The peal at Knebworth on January 16th (page 82) was rung in 2 hours and 35 minutes and not 2 hours and 25 minutes, as reported. The 'untrained secretary' to the conductor desires to refute any responsibility for giving a wrong impression of undue speeding by the tenor ringer.

The many friends of Mr. Ernie Pearce (District secretary of the South East Suffolk Guild) will be sorry to learn he has returned to hospital for an operation and is now in Prettyman Ward, Foxhall Hospital, Ipswich. A letter or two will cheer things up enormously.

Things We Should Not Have Done

With the memory of a phrase used by Mr. E. A. Barnett in our ears: 'The brain will only absorb as much as the seat will endure,' we must acknowledge with regret the errors that occurred in our last issue. Although the Editor was at his desk until after 10 p.m. on two vital days before publication had his seat and brain held out these might not have happened.

The peal at St. Albans was not at the Abbey, but at St. Peter's, where we faltered on our front page.

Two pages inadvertently slipped into the eight pages of peals in honour of Mr. Churchill—at Burford on January 16th and at Putney on January 23rd.

St. Paul's Was His 100th

Mr. W. J. Rawlings, of Beckingham, Kent, a respected member of the St. Paul's Society, has just completed his 100 peals, which have been spread over 53 years. His first was rung in 1911, but 71 peals have been rung since 1945. They have been rung in 40 towers for nine societies with 312 ringers and 52 conductors. He regards his most memorable peal as that rung at St. Paul's on January 31st for the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill. Then his pupil, Roger Overington, who is only 20, rung the treble whilst he was privileged to 'strap' the tenor.

Actual details of the peals—all on tower bells—were Doubles 1, Triples and Major 60, Caters and Royal 31 (includes one spliced Grandsire and Stedman, also one spliced Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Treble Bob), Cinques and Maximus 8.

The Middlesex Tribute

The Oxford Diocesan Guild was not the only one to honour the passing of Sir Winston Churchill with an officers' peal. A similar tribute was arranged by the Master of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild (Mr. John R. Mayne). This included two officers from each district as well as the Master and general secretary. It was rung at Harrow Weald on January 26th, and the method selected was Wembley Surprise Major. As Sir Winston was the first honorary freeman of Harrow and attended the school on the hill, the choice of tower was appropriate.

Verena's First

Sixteen-year-old Verena Simpson is to be congratulated on the capable way in which she rang her first quarter peal recently in memory of Sir Winston Churchill. The quarter peal, Bob Major, as Staveley, Derbyshire, was quite an achievement for Verena, as only the week previous she had rung her first 120 of Bob Minor.

Lights Tampered With

Two 14-year-olds—Catherine M. Salter and Mary Eyres—had hard luck in their first peal attempt at Radley, on January 30th, as the funeral train of Sir Winston passed through the village. It was lost after 4,080 changes of Doubles in six methods had been rung, because someone tampered with the lights. Miss M. R. Cross, the conductor, reports that up to then no mistakes had been made by them. The seventh method had not then been introduced.

Leading Peal Ringers

We are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taylor for completing their titanic task of the personal peal analysis for 1964. It must approach the celebrated publication of 'Wisden's' for details. They write:

The results are interesting and, we feel, surprising in content.

The number of active peal ringers (3,663) exceeds all expectation, but nearly half of these took part in one performance only. A distribution curve of number of peals plotted against number of peal ringers takes the form of a decaying exponential, but there is a significant increase in the number of ringers at the magic figure of 25.

The list of composers reveals that contemporary workers are more than holding their own against those of earlier periods.

We have listed, separately from the main table, the leaders in various fields of attainment, so that the limelight may be dispersed more evenly. Of course an analysis of this type makes no attempt to distinguish between levels of achievement, and indeed recognises no difference between handbell peals in a single Minor method and handbell peals of multi-Spiced Surprise Major, for example.

The project involved 26,000 entries made on about 3,900 cards which were filed alphabetically. For all errors we must humbly apologise, and claim ambiguity of names and initials as the main source of trouble. In response to the Editor's requests, 78 peal ringers submitted check totals, out of which 14 had rung one peal less than our cards indicated. This amounts to an accuracy of about half of one per cent., but it seems to us that some peals may have been published twice without subsequent correction. In all cases where check totals have been sent, we have used them in the main table even when we disagreed.

The complete details will be published next week but the following are the leaders in the respective divisions:

Daventry's New Bells

Last week the Rector of Daventry and his warden, Mr. P. I. Chapman, visited the Loughborough bell foundry to witness the casting of the new treble for Daventry Parish Church. The moulds for the other new bells were in preparation, and these will be cast shortly.

The dedication of the ten bells has been fixed for the Saturday of Whitsun week-end at 12 noon, when it is hoped that the Bishop of Peterborough will officiate. A buffet luncheon will be served after the service, and all ringers will be most welcome, including of course those members of the Central Council arriving early at Northampton.

The bells will be available all day, so there will be plenty of time for everyone to ring. Final details will be announced later, but mark your diaries!

Proud of Being a Ringer

Mr. Jack R. Worrall, who is recuperating from a minor operation at the R.A.F. Hospital, Wegberg, Germany, writes: 'The half-muffled ringing from St. Paul's Cathedral as it came over the radio made me think of all other ringers who were likewise paying tribute to the G.O.M. I certainly felt proud of being a ringer.'

The Suffolk Guild of Ringers

A humble expression of gratitude came from the Suffolk Guild in connection with the passing of Sir Winston Churchill. This was a peal of Doubles on the five at Winston, a remote country village—the first peal on the bells for 60 years.

First Peal for 53 Years

The peal rung at Radyr on the morning of Sir Winston Churchill's funeral was the first rung at Radyr for 53 years, even though the bells are an excellent Taylor eight. This has been due to local complaints about noise which in the 30's was at times extremely violent. That no complaints were voiced this time would suggest the deep feelings felt locally at the passing of W.S.C.

Disappointments

Among the disappointments was the loss of a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles at St. David's, Exeter, on January 30th. After the failure the band rang the eight bells to call changes for half an hour, changes being made every third handstroke.

With 20 minutes to go, after 2 hours and 40 minutes of some really good striking, two bells crossed over and rounds came up prematurely in a peal attempt at Bob Triples at Soberton, Hants, on February 3rd. Had this tribute to Sir Winston succeeded, it would have been the first in the method for all the band and first of Triples for the conductor, Mr. Paul Gilliver.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Bridgnorth Branch

The annual meeting was held at Bridgnorth on February 6th. Ringing took place during the afternoon at St. Mary's, followed by the service, which was conducted by the Rector, Rev. G. Abel.

Tea was very kindly provided by the wives of St. Leonard's ringers and served in the Old Grammar School.

There was an attendance of 45 at the meeting. Miss V. Edge, secretary-treasurer, presented the accounts, which showed a slight increase in balance on the previous year. The attendance at the meeting, however, she said, left room for improvement.

There was a change of officers as both Mr. A. Bayley, Ringing Master, and Miss Edge wished to resign their positions. In their places Mr. A. Jones, of Bridgnorth, was elected Ringing Master and Mrs. Joan Bennett, of Claverley, became the new secretary-treasurer. Mr. A. Elsmore accepted the position of deputy Ringing Master.

Mr. Bayley and Miss Edge were thanked for the good work they have done for the branch during their years in office.

Provisional meetings arranged for the year were: May 1st, Madeley; September 4th, Alveley; November 6th, Worfield. There will be an evening practice at Much Wenlock on March 27th.

The bells of St. Leonard's, Bridgnorth, were available in the evening. J.B.

THE RINGING WORLD

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

No. 2810 Vol. LXI

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1965

Registered at the G.P.O. for transmission as a newspaper. 9d.

CONTESTS, OLD AND NEW

'RECENTLY,' said the Professor, 'I have had occasion to wade through Hoyle's "History of Barnsley." I think "wade" is the correct term. The task occupied several weeks and involved many visits to the public library. There are several references to bellringing in this massive tome, three of which allude to contests.'

'Indeed,' I said politely. Although contests are events upon which I consider myself an expert, I allowed him to continue in the hope that he would have something of moment to offer.

'In days gone by contests were contests,' he continued, 'and the case of one held at Darton, near Barnsley, in 1837, in which 12 sets of ringers took part, is typical of the era. Each team had to ring three 720's and the ringing, as was customary, extended overnight. We are informed that [consulting his notes]: "Much inconvenience was felt by the village not affording sufficient accommodation for the immense assemblage of people, many of whom had travelled a long distance. The inns were filled the whole of the night on account of the great number who could not procure beds."

'Wath, who in 1826 had challenged all England for a stake of £30 and had been defeated by Darton, could only manage to come third in this contest.

'Similar contests,' he went on, 'took place at intervals, and each one mentioned by Hoyle is described as a "Famous" contest, as, indeed it could well have been. One can imagine that when there was little else to capture the public imagination a contest such as the one held at Barnsley St. Mary's in 1842 would create quite a stir. Fifteen teams took part, each of which was required to ring "Three True Treble Peals," and although one or two "rang out" they must have consumed the best part of two days, especially as "The Barnsley team welcomed their brother ringers by three peals"!

'No half-measures there,' I observed. 'But were these all prize contests?'

'Yes indeed. In the last-mentioned contest there were four prizes of £6, £4, £2 and £1 respectively, representing in those days a tidy sum; in addition, ten shillings were given to each of the teams Mirfield and Meltham "who had come the furthest distance".'

'Was prize-ringing peculiar to Yorkshire?'

'Certainly not. In "Church Bells," 1881, a contest is reported at Drewsteignton in Devon in which there was "a wasteful expenditure of ten pounds" for prizes, the contest itself being attacked as a "prostitution of the goods of the Church." In the "Bell News" also an acrimonious correspondence developed concerning a prize contest at Credi-ton which, if I may so express myself, reflected Little Credenon either side!'

I snorted. His jokes are usually feeble; this one, I considered, was positively senile. He, however, was unperturbed.

'The local parson and an anonymous "Devonshire Clergyman," plus Charles D. P. Davies and several others, took part. The Devonians rang what is rather sarcastically described with editorial eloquence as "Ups and Downs, Rounds and Rounds".'

'As a boy,' I remarked, 'my grandfather took me to Belle Vue at Manchester to hear the handbell contests. There were, of course, tune-ringing contests in which Crossland Moor, I remember, on one occasion carried away the prize. I don't suppose there are any records of handbell change-ringing contests?'

'On the contrary, there are many. The Liversedge company, for example, in the '80's won many contests on handbells, both for change- and tune-ringing, whilst they were also able, from the same band, to have a team of men to ring changes on eight bells in the tower.

'Are you in agreement with prize-ringing on church bells, or do you consider it a sacrilegious act?'

'It may have been during the past, especially when over-keen competition led to rather doubtful practices, but contests nowadays are pretty innocuous. A biscuit barrel or a fruit bowl for each member of the winning team makes the contest more interesting, and the article can have pride of place on a sideboard as a reminder of the day the cup or shield was won.'

'Do you think that contest ringing is beneficial to the Exercise?'

'Undoubtedly. It gets ringers together (which is always a good thing) in greater numbers than monthly meetings, and I think there is little doubt that it tends to develop better striking. Mr. C. D. Potter, that G.O.M. of the Barnsley Society, maintained that the general standard of striking improved after the introduction of contest ringing into the Society in 1926, and this opinion was endorsed by the late J. R. Brearley who judged many contests.

'What about those ringers who are not actually taking part in the contest, the young and immature and the more advanced who are not in any team; might they not object on the grounds that they are being robbed of a certain amount of ringing?'

I don't think so. The older ones enjoy listening, criticising and assessing the ringing; the younger ones learn by listening, both to the ringing and the social intercourse, anecdotes and reminiscences of the older ringers. I've never heard complaints on that score. In any case, most contests nowadays are timed to be over round about tea time or just afterwards, giving opportunity for a ring after the business meeting.'

'Are you satisfied with the system of judging the contest—the fault-finding equipment?'

'Not entirely. It seems to be the best method of assessment yet devised; its very simplicity is a good thing—but I am not sure that it is entirely foolproof.'

'Neither am I: but can you suggest a better?'

'No. I understand though that there has been a reversal of the system devised in the Notts-Derby area, and that whereas hitherto the team with the least number of faults has won the contest with the new set-up each team starts with a set number of marks—say 200 or 300—and marks are deducted for each faulty blow or change, so that the team wins who at the end has the highest number of marks. Moreover, the system includes, I understand, bonus marks for method difficulty, e.g., teams ringing "Delight" methods receive 10 or 20 marks, and teams aspiring to "Surprise" 30 or 40 marks!'

'Sounds interesting.'

'Very!' said the Professor.

DEDICATION

ST. KATHERINE'S, MERSTHAM

Sunday, January 31st, was an exceptionally fine winter's day, and a number of ringers and friends took advantage of the good weather to attend the dedication service in St. Katherine's, Merstham. Now augmented to eight, the bells will give added strength to the Southern District of the Surrey Association both by their presence and by the addition to the Association of new ringers who will learn there.

Before the turn of the century there were five bells with a tenor reputed to be 14 cwt., then a new treble bell was added to make the ring to six. Up till last year they have remained so. Even in the old days they were noted for their hard going, and it was not surprising that after 1945 a depleted band found it difficult to encourage learners. The movement of the tower at the old belfry floor level could be likened to a ship labouring in a heavy sea. The condition of one of the two large oak beams that supported the bells and braced the tower was more alarming. At one end a penknife blade could be pushed easily into the wood. Another contributory factor to the tower's instability was the height of the bells. The position of the frame is now much better. The level of the bells has been lowered, so as to gain more strength from the church walls. Six steel girders brace the tower below the bell frame, and the bells are now rung from the ground floor in full view of the congregation.

Ringings commenced under the direction of the tower captain, Mr. Alec Cheasly, and continued until 4.30 p.m., when all adjourned to the Church Hall for a magnificent tea. This was capably organised by the tower secretary, Miss Beryl Searle, helped by the ladies of Merstham. The District Master, Mr. T. Bird, on behalf of the company of 50 present, proposed a hearty vote of thanks. Ringing continued in many methods until the service. The final touch was Stedman Triples, rung by A. P. Cannon 1, A. Bull 2, C. H. Cook 3, W. Dunn 4, T. Bird 5, J. Euston 6, K. G. Game 7, A. Cheasly 8.

The church was filled to capacity, and the service, conducted by the Rector, Rev. J. H. Biddell, commenced with a favourite hymn of Sir Winston Churchill, followed by a memorial prayer. The lessons were read by Mr. Constant and Mr. Lachelin, relatives of the two departed in whose memory the two new trebles were given. During the singing of the hymn after the third Collect, the Rector, churchwardens, captain of the tower, representatives of the families of those in whose memory the two new bells were given, the architect and representatives of the bell-founders, Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and the builders' firms assembled in the tower for the dedication of the bells.

In his sermon the Rector said how happy he was to see so many ringers from far and wide at this great moment in St. Katherine's history. It was a glorious thing when a new ring could peal out calling us to worship and reminding those who for reasons of heart or mind could make no willing response. He retraced the initial steps towards the work of restoration of the tower and bells, how the plan for rehanging the old six was amended through the generosity of the Lachelin and Constant families. He was doubtful that so much would have been achieved but for the interest of Mr. Douglas Hughes. The Rector made an appeal for ringers and teachers from other towers. After the service 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung by A. P. Cannon 1, A. Bull 2, D. Atfield 3, W. Dunn 4, T. Bird 5, A. Streeter 6, K. G. Game (cond.) 7, C. H. Cook 8.

OBITUARY

MR. J. MACBETH

Nayland is on the Essex and Suffolk border and the birthplace of Challis F. Winney. On February 13th four of us from Suffolk and two from Essex attended the church to bid farewell to John Macbeth. His membership of the Boy Scouts commenced in 1911, and he was honoured with the rank of A.D.C. For many years he struggled to maintain service ringing when everything was against him, a small village containing few youngsters and very bad going bells, no experienced ringers living near who could help and, in his own words: "I know so little myself I cannot help them much."

He regularly undertook on his cycle the tedious up hill and down dale journey to Wormingford with his pupils, and never left this tower without thanking Ted Leggett and his ringers for their help. He had great admiration of those who mastered change ringing, and it was a proud day when Donald J. Mills asked him to ring the treble to a peal of Plain Bob Minor at Wormingford in 1957. This was his only peal, but he rang many quarters, and he considered it to be amongst his proudest moments when his daughter was ringing an inside bell with confidence.

Nayland bells are stored at the foundry, £1,400 being needed to reinstall them and when John realised that his days on this earth were numbered he said to his Vicar: "I shall never hear our bells again."

As the cortege left the church all of us ringers, Boy Scouts and British Legion members must have had the same thoughts: "We will remember him" by seeing that those things for which he worked so hard are carried on. L.D.M.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Biggleswade District

Even the bitterly cold north wind could not mar the attendance at the meeting of the Biggleswade District at Clifton on February 13th. During the afternoon 37 members and friends were present, and with the arrival of more ringers after tea, numbers swelled until at one point as many as 60 people could be counted in the church. The local tower captain and ringing Master for the meeting, Mr. G. Mayers, had a hard task to satisfy everyone.

Mr. P. Rogers played the organ at Evensong, which was conducted by the Rector, Rev. F. Hall. Mr. P. Mehew took the chair at the short business meeting which followed a sumptuous tea prepared by the local ladies.

Ringings during the evening ranged from rounds for the less experienced to London Surprise Major, and included the special method St. Clement's College Bob Major. Next meeting: Old Warden, March 13th. A.R.A.

BARNSELEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The same team of officers was re-elected at the annual meeting of the Barnsley and District Society at Barnsley on February 13th. viz., Noel F. Moxon, president; Harold Chant, treasurer; James W. Buxton, secretary; vice-presidents, J. W. Moxon, A. D. Birch and H. Mann; auditors, C. Moxon and P. Carbutt. Three new members—Claire Skelehan and C. Earnshaw (Kirkburton) and Mr. H. L. Roper (Selby)—were elected, and Mr. Roper was called upon to propose the vote of thanks. The Society has now badges on sale for 3s. 9d.

Canon A. P. Morley conducted a short service with Mr. Noel F. Moxon as organist. Next meeting: Kirkburton, March 13th.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

LEATHERHEAD DISTRICT

Before the commencement of business at the A.G.M. of the Leatherhead District at Leatherhead on February 6th, those present stood in silence as a token of respect to the Guild general secretary, Mr. S. T. Russell, who had died suddenly on the previous Wednesday.

At the service which preceded the meeting, the Vicar reminded members that the day was the anniversary of the Queen's Accession, and he combined parts of the Accession Service from the Book of Common Prayer with the Guild's own form of service. The Vicar based his address on the responsibility of Queenship.

The District Committee's report showed that £270 had been collected in the District for the Guildford Cathedral Bells Fund.

The following new members were elected: The Misses Shelagh Hards, Susan Cuthbert, Denise Liddicott and Mr. Michael Edwards (Marrow) and Mr. Tony Skilton (Ashted).

Mr. David Herschell, who was recently featured in the "Up and Coming Youngsters" series, was elected District Master and Miss Adrienne Gibson District secretary. Mr. Herschell thanked the members for electing him, and paid tribute to Mr. A. P. Cannon for the work he had done on behalf of the District during his Mastership.

The new Master announced that a District striking competition for six-bell bands would be held at Leatherhead on May 8th.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

East Devon Branch

A quarterly meeting of the East Devon Branch was held at Broadhembury on February 13th. The service was conducted by the Rev. V. R. A. Cowper, and afterwards tea was taken at a local inn. Mr. John Sage (chairman) conducted the business meeting and extended a warm welcome to all.

Members stood in silence as a tribute to the memory of Mr. Charles Woodley, a past chairman of the branch, who died suddenly earlier in the day.

Six new members were elected, and Guild certificates were presented to Martin Pring and Geoffrey Casely, both of Hemyock. After giving a brief but most interesting talk on Broadhembury bells, the chairman thanked the Rev. Cowper and the local ringers for their efforts in making a successful meeting. Methods rung during the meeting were Grandsire Stedman, Plain Bob, Single Oxford and Cambridge.

MILES GRAYE III

Dear Sir,—Being an East Anglian, born at Stoke-by-Nayland, I was naturally very interested to read T. A. Bevis' article on Miles Graye, the bell-founder. Could Mr. Bevis tell us who Miles Graye III. was and where he fits into the picture?

The Rev. W. C. Pearson's book on 'The Principal Rings of Bells in the Eastern Counties' lists various bells by Miles Graye III., notably the tenor at Hadleigh, Suffolk, date 1680; the 5th at Clare, 1661; 4th at Sudbury All Saints, 1671. Also three bells in Essex, the latest date being for the 6th at Great Bentley, 1683. All these dates come long after the original foundry was taken over by Richard Bowler, and after Miles the younger had given up, according to Mr. Bevis' accounts—Yours faithfully, Stockport.

Faults in New Leeds Church Proposals

Dear Sir,—Mr. Fred L. Fleetwood writes this week (February 12th) regarding a proposed new church near Leeds. While it is pleasing to know that the authorities are considering having a ring of bells I sincerely hope that they will think again before adopting the plan of tower which Mr. Fleetwood explains. If ever there was an example of 'how it should not be done' this is it! To leave the tower open on one side would expose frame and fittings to the full effects of the weather. A snowstorm with drifting might even gum things up completely and make the bells unringable for a time. Bells so exposed would sound very hard and harsh and, reflected by the walls and the flat roof (? concrete), would beat down most unpleasantly on to the incoming congregation. Anyone living nearby on this side would have a very justifiable cause for complaint. To fill this wall with glass would keep out the weather, but would not control the sound. I have heard bells in towers where the windows have been glazed; the sound is very little reduced in volume, while the tone of the bells becomes more harsh and metallic. I think it is the worst possible material to put anywhere near bells.

The whole scheme is in direct contravention to the advice of the Central Council. I would advise Mr. Fleetwood to study the C.C. Handbook on the Installation, Preservation and Repair of Bells, particularly the section on sound control, and bring this to the attention of the authorities and the architect.

In the leading article ('Ringing World,' January 1st) Mr. Norman Chaddock described the steps recently taken to ensure sound control at Rotherham. To do this in an existing tower may be a difficult and expensive business. But all these advantages may be had in a new tower at little or no extra cost.—Yours sincerely,

C. W. WOOLLEY.

Bushey Heath.

P.S.—Mr. Chaddock might be interested to know that an almost exactly similar job to the one he describes was carried out at Bushey about a year ago. Old bricks from a demolished greenhouse in the Rectory garden, a quantity of old timber and some old roofing felt left in the churchyard by a firm who had been relaying part of the church roof were used. The results were very satisfactory.

Long Length of Yorkshire Surprise Major Attempt

Dear Sir,—I wish to give notice that by kind permission of the Rev. J. C. Cunningham an attempt will be made to ring 11,520 Yorkshire Surprise Major at St. Mary's Church, Hanbury, Worcestershire, on Saturday, March 27th, 1965. Ringing will commence at 1.45 p.m. and, if successful, the peal will be credited to the Worcestershire and Districts Association

Easter Monday Peals

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. E. H. Martin's letter (page 108) I feel sure that almost everyone taking part in the two peals mentioned knows the unforgettable fact that the Ely Diocesan Association is holding its A.G.M. in Cambridge on Easter Monday.

I understand that permission has not been given for the evening ringing at Great St. Mary's, not because of the peal attempt there in the morning, but because it might affect the number of visitors climbing the tower to see the city (at 7 p.m. on Easter Monday!!!).

In reply to the second paragraph, it is obvious why this situation has arisen, as the tower captain (the same for both the R.C. and Great St. Mary's) is not a member of the Ely Diocesan Association, and is not interested in it or its members; therefore, we get a deadlock, which will not be resolved until negotiations are under way.

Action is called for, so let us sit back and observe this spectacle.—Yours sincerely,
'DISCONTENT.'

The Marbury Peal

Dear Sir,—I think Mr. F. R. Morton has misunderstood the purport of my letter.

A peal of 5,100 changes may well be discounted, but if, in the Marbury peal, a blow in rounds was clearly struck, both at the beginning and end of 42 six-scores, I believe this performance rates as nothing less than a peal of 5,040 changes—and, personally, I know of no rule or regulation which may invalidate it as such.

The fact that 60 extraneous rows—whether changes, queens, titmums or anything else—are added afterwards cannot in any wise detract from a peal of 5,040 changes which has already been accomplished.—Yours sincerely,
TOM BUTLER.

Marbury—More Advice

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. F. R. Morton's letter (page 108) on the Marbury peal, we are told that the peal was withdrawn 'because' of the 60 changes rung at the end.

From this statement can one assume that 42 extents had been rung and then another 60 changes, starting from and ending in rounds, constituted the performance of 5,100 changes?

If so, then it seems to me that the fact that the ringers went on to ring an additional 60 changes after completing a true 5,040 is beside the point.

A peal of Doubles must start and end in rounds and consist of 42 extents in between. Did the first 5,040 changes of the Marbury performance fulfil these criteria? If they did, then I would suggest that a peal was rung! Are the efforts of the ringers of this peal to be invalidated because the conductor did not call, 'That's all,' when 5,040 true changes had been rung? If so, then I am glad that ringing peals of Doubles is not one of my vices!

May I suggest to Mr. Morton that, if his first 5,040 changes constituted a true peal, he resubmits his band's efforts at Marbury as a peal? If, however, he pushed an odd '60' into the middle of the performance, then he has no option but to leave things as they are.—Yours sincerely, ROGER SAVORY.

Not the Author

Dear Sir,—Re the letter in "The Ringing World" of February 2nd, 1965, page 92, concerning St. Andrew's, Newcastle, I wish to point out that I am not the author of the said letter. Could it be a mistake by the compositor?

I left London ten years ago, and I did not reside in N.I. I do not know the church in question.

Maybe the real author will register his realisation of the mistake made.—Yours faithfully,
R. H. BEGRIE.
Crowthorne, Berks.

Two Questions Answered

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. P. G. K. Davies' inquiry whether the composition on page 104 of 'The Ringing World' is the first in five standard methods to contain all the work in a regular three-part, doubtless it depends on what one means by 'standard.' However, if Pudsey has as good a claim as Bristol, the following five-method arrangement may be of interest; I put it together on July 3rd, 1951:—

5,088 SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR
E. A. BARNETT
23456	B W H
24536	— YSPYCSS
52436	— SPYCLCP
43526	— LCLPPLL
54326	— YLCLYCY
35426	— CYPSSSP
35264	x — LLLS
23564	— PSSYSPS

Twice repeated. Contains 1,152 Superlative. 1,056 Cambridge, 1,056 Lincolnshire, 960 Pudsey and 864 Yorkshire, with 128 changes of method and all the work of the five methods.

As regards Mr. G. K. Dodd's request for a peal of Bob Major with singles only, these are not difficult to obtain and probably you will be inundated with them. But I think the following may be worth putting forward as an example:

5,088 BOB MAJOR
E. A. BARNETT

25364	S	SS	S
23564			S

Rung on August 24th, 1936.

Twice repeated. This has the 36 4-5-6 course-end combinations.

So far as I can recall, neither of these compositions has been inflicted on anyone before.

—Yours faithfully,
Crayford, Kent.

E. A. BARNETT.

Thank you

Dear Sir,—I feel I must write to thank you for producing such an excellent 'Sir Winston Churchill Memorial Number.' I for one and, I am sure, a great many more, appreciate the immense amount of work you have put into it.

It must have been a colossal job sorting out the memorial peals from the others, as there are 118 of them and 14 other peals, besides numerous quarter peals.

I am afraid a lot of us take it for granted when the postman drops our journal in the letter box every Thursday morning with almost unfailing regularity, and once again very many thanks for all you do to give us such a splendid paper every week of the year.—Yours sincerely,

Woking

ERNEST R. WARNER.

Not Accepted by Guild

Dear Sir,—A handbell peal of Plain Bob Major was rung on May 27th, 1964, at 105, Nottingham Road, Spondon, Derbyshire, and credited to the Southwell Diocesan Guild. We cannot accept this peal as two of the band are not members.

The address was wrongly published as 105, Borrowash Road. This address does not exist.—Yours faithfully,

H. POYNER, Peal Secretary.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

The winter quarterly meeting of the Leicester Diocesan Guild was held in the Syston District on February 13th. During the afternoon the bells at Thurstaston, Rothley, Wanlip and Birstall were available for ringing. A ringers' service was held in the recently enlarged Church of St. James-the-Greater, Birstall, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. A. Lander. This was the first time that a general meeting had been held there and an unusually large number of ringers and friends attended despite the one-day bus strike.

Over 140 sat down to tea prepared by Mr. J. Morley, Mrs. Smalley and other Birstall ringers. The business meeting followed. After the president had thanked everyone for the success of the day, he welcomed Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish (president and treasurer of the Coventry Diocesan Guild). The meeting then stood as a token of respect to Mr. H. Broughton (Leicester Cathedral), Mr. A. J. Cooke (Leicester, St. John-the-Divine) and Mr. G. Hadfield (Hugglescote), who had died since the last meeting.

The committee had decided to transfer the two trustees, Mr. C. Harrison and Mr. J. P. Fidler, both of Loughborough (and Messrs. John Taylor and Co.) and Mr. H. O. Over, of Hugglescote and until lately chairman of the Loughborough District, to the list of Honorary Life Members in recognition of their many years' service to the art of ringing.

The following had been nominated for the general offices, the elections to take place at the annual general meeting: President (one required), Mr. B. S. Payne (Barrow-on-Soar, a vice-president); and Mr. A. E. Rowley (Ibstock, a former treasurer). Vice-presidents (two required), Mr. J. E. Adams (Leicester, St. Margaret); Mr. J. H. Cook (Asfordby, and chairman of the Melton Mowbray District); and Mr. P. L. Taylor (Loughborough, a vice-president); general secretary, Mr. B. G. Warwick, of Leicester; treasurer (one required), Mrs. B. G. Warwick (treasurer), and Mr. J. M. Jelley (Leicester Cathedral); peal secretary, Mr. R. H. Cook (Asfordby); trustees (two required), Messrs. C. Harrison and J. P. Fidler (Loughborough).

Notice was given of the following alterations and additions to rules which would come before the annual general meeting: Rule 5 (a), line 3, after "to elect the officers" to insert "with the exception of the president, who shall be elected every third year." Proposed by D. Manship, seconded by F. K. Measures.

Notice was given of alterations of rules dealing with the president, who it is proposed should be elected every third year and the office be vacated if absent from three consecutive committee meetings: ceases to be a member of the Guild if by notice in writing he resigns his office.

FORTY-TWO NEW MEMBERS

Seven non-resident and 35 resident members were elected, viz.: Non-resident: J. H. Fielden, G. E. Thoday, P. S. Bennett, G. Penny, C. M. Press, E. Deakin and J. Pearson. Rosemary Brooks (Great Bowden), J. Hunting and Mrs. Jelley (Leicester Cathedral), C. P. Davis (Houghton-on-the-Hill), T. Natt (Aylestone), J. H. Billson, C. Billson, Anne Hughes, G. Pickwell, D. Seal, D. Mee and J. R. J. Angell (Markfield); B. Nixon, Joyce Pickering, C. Baliol-Key, Gillian McKay, Josephine Flint, Christine Flint, N. Davis (Thurcaston); Phyllis Turner (Birstall); P. Chambers (Barrow-on-Soar); Mrs. D. J. Niblett (Syston); Rebecca Coates (Shepshed); Valerie Greaves and R. Wilson (Loughborough); G. Geary (Croft); A. Faulkes and T. Wykes (Hinckley); Mrs. R. Burrows, L. Burrows, Keith Isaacs, Kevin Isaacs and D. M. Brown (Sapcote); C. Castell, Leicester All Saints'.

Mr. Jack Adams reported that the Ernest Morris Memorial window will be completed within the next three months, and the Vicar had agreed that the dedication service should be held on a Saturday, so that ringers would be able to attend. The date will be publicised in "The Ringing World."

The secretary announced the arrangements for the annual general meeting, which would be held in Leicester on April 24th. The service would be in the Cathedral, and the Rev. R. J. Hunting (Vicar of Sibley and an honorary member) had agreed to preach.

The Guild Striking Competition would be held at Queniborough on May 15th; entry form to be submitted by May 1st. The judges are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish and Mr. J. P. Fidler.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. P. J. Staniforth showed the 50-minute cine film which he took while on his visit to the U.S.A. to open the bells at Washington Cathedral. A collection for the general fund realised £7 13s.

Anonymity

Dear Sir,—I have read Mr. Worrall's letter with much interest, and although I am normally against too protracted correspondence on one issue, I believe that this is one which will bear further scrutiny.

First of all, I would point out that I had no intention of discussing the points raised by our unknown correspondents; my letter was purely a protest against the increasing, and apparently indiscriminate, use of the pseudonym. Neither did I accuse the writers of hypocrisy, only of a certain lack of courage.

Indeed, I most firmly believe that every man has a right to his own point of view and the right to state it publicly if he so desires. Let me take Atheist as an illustration. He has probably given a great deal more, and deeper, thought to the question of religion than many of the rest of us, blindly believing in what we were brought up to believe. He has reached an honest conclusion, and should be respected for it. But why—and this is the important point—does he feel it necessary to keep his identity a secret?

I am reluctant to believe any man a hypocrite. But it seems to me that Atheist must take one of two courses. Either he is open about his views—and if he does not mind his friends knowing, why should he object to a lot of strangers, whom he will probably never meet?—or else he hides them. And if he hides them, does he enter a church and behave there like a Christian? For if I were attending the service at, say, a meeting, and Atheist were in the same church intoning the Lord's Prayer, I'm afraid I would certainly call that hypocrisy.

Now, Mr. Worrall presents a point of view which I had not previously very seriously considered; that the fear of ostracism is a very real and well-grounded one. He has suffered from it himself; I don't understand why, but not being in possession of the facts am not qualified to comment. However, I bow to his superior knowledge, and this brings us to a second point.

It is a very disquieting thought that a person who writes to a paper mainly concerned with the Christian Church should feel compelled for this reason to shelter behind a nom-de-plume. It is a severe reflection on the rest of us. Are we so narrow-minded that we cannot allow our fellows to hold their own opinions on religion, government and the price of "The Ringing World"? It is not a Christian principle to ostracise a man because of his opinions. It is not broad-minded or tolerant or even humane. It is worse to pick on one man who has expressed (showing some degree of courage, I agree) the views held by more of us than care to admit it; nobody can deny that there are many ringers who do use the bells simply for their own pleasure and not for any divine purpose. Now, if the attitude of a whole section of the Church has led a man to believe he would be badly treated if his opinions became generally known, I suggest that it is time we reviewed that attitude. It is not one calculated to convert even a vacillating atheist.—Yours faithfully, Tavistock.

Ringers in and around Falmouth, Cornwall, might be interested to know that 'The Sound of Bells,' by Edgar C. Shepherd, can be obtained from Falmouth Public Library.

Mr. G. Dodd thanks readers who have sent him compositions of Bob Major with all singles. An attempt to ring one of them has already been arranged.

The four ringing towers in the borough of Harrow were each represented in the peal rung at St. Mary's, Harrow-on-the-Hill, on February 1st. Sir Winston was not only a schoolboy at Harrow, but was the borough of Harrow's first honorary freeman.

The quarter peal of Bob Royal at Brighton on January 30th was the hundredth peal for Miss Angela Grainger. The conductor (Mr. M. J. Bew) has now conducted six quarter peals, one each of Doubles, Minor, Triples, Major, Caters and Royal.

Mr. W. J. Rawlings informs us that the peal he rang at St. Paul's Cathedral on the day of the State funeral of Sir Winston Churchill was his 101st. His 100th peal was rung at the Commonwealth Institute on November 14th, 1964 for the birthday of H.R.H. Prince Charles.

The peal rung at West Clandon on February 13th as a welcome to the new Rector, the Rev. Peter Taylor, came within a few days of the funeral of the general secretary of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, Mr. Stanley T. A. Russell. He was remembered by the ringers participating.

Mr. John Hunt writes: The place notation of Mauretania Surprise Major, first rung at Knowle, Bristol, on January 25th, should read: x 38 x 14 x 58 x 16 x 12 x 38,14,56,34,78. The notation published in 'The Ringing World' of February 19th was in fact that of Lyme Surprise Major. Mauretania is No. NZ 209 of Shirley Burton's collection, and the conductor is grateful to Mr. Burton for pointing out the error.

First of Minor in Scotland

Members of the Sunday Service band at St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh, all of whom are resident in Edinburgh except Mr. Martyn Marriott, who is at the University for 30 weeks in the year, have rung at Alloa the first peal of Minor for the Association. Scotland has no ringable rings of six, so Alloa was the only reasonable choice of tower, as all the other rings of eight are far too heavy for a peal to be rung on the back six in comfort. Two of the band scored their first peal, one her first of Minor, and it was the most number of methods rung to a peal for all the band.

After the performance the ringers were greeted by the local captain and ladies who had prepared a huge tea, and so ended a very successful afternoon. 'We are all proud of the performance, rung by a local band in a local tower, even if that tower is 34 miles away,' writes Mr. Marriott.

Epsom Misfortune

On January 30th, a peal of Plain Bob Royal was lost after 2hr. 55min. at St. Martin's, Epsom, being only 20 minutes from the end. The deeply muffled bells were rung by five people from St. Martin's, Epsom, and five from Epsom Common, and was to have been in memoriam for Sir Winston Churchill. Also if it had been successful, it would have been the first peal for Mr. Geoffrey Stevens, who rang the treble extremely well, and the first of Royal for the other ringers. The conductor, Mr. David J. Horschell, had to stop the attempt as two bells had crossed over. However, another attempt is planned in the near future.

Cup Winners Married

Two active members of the Southwell Diocesan Guild who have many friends throughout the country, Miss Christine Froggatt and Mr. Brian Mills, were married just before Christmas at Shelford, their home tower. They brought distinction locally by being in the band which won the coveted Crawford Cup in 1964, and also both took part in the first peal of Minor in 27 methods for the Guild.

Through unforeseen circumstances the peal attempt which had been arranged was not possible, but a quarter peal of 1.440 Minor (Single Oxford and Plain Bob) was rung at nearby Cotgrave by Graham Smith (first quarter) 1. Susan Meredith 2. S. Dutton 3. Doreen Bradley 4. F. Bradley (cond.) 5. B. Buswell 6.

Darryl of Northenden

Behind the brief announcement of the quarter peal at Northenden, Manchester (page 112), there is a story of devotion to our art. About a year ago this band for one reason or another lost four of their best ringers, whom they could ill-afford to lose. These included the belfry leader, Miss Darryl Gillespie, although the youngest member (at the time only 16) took over a depleted band and with much hard work kept them at it. As ringing had been confined to Doubles, the quarter of Plain Bob Major was an encouraging achievement. The band are hoping that before another young ringer goes to college they will ring a quarter of Kent T.B.

Big Send-off from Washington

Immediately before Mr. Fred Price's departure from Washington for England, a tea party was held in the ringing chamber of the National Cathedral. Sarah Irwin, one of the girls in the National Cathedral School for Girls, composed this lyric, which was sung by some 20 or so of Mr. Price's students. 'Mr. Price did a wonderful job here,' writes Mrs. Alice W. Shurdiff in forwarding the lyric.

TO MR. FRED PRICE

Good rounds, good striking and a good course of Grandsire;

Talking and cookies and tea by a warm fire;

Dark purl sallies and full ten-bell rings;

These are a few of our favourite things.

Hunting and coursing and dodging and snapping;

Right pulls and wrong pulls and muffles tapping;

Watching the world like birds high on the wing;

These are a few of our favourite things.

When your 'plane leaves for old England

And we're feeling sad,

We'll think of a few of our favourite things,

And then we won't feel so bad.

Climbing stone staircases, running elevators;

Hoping that someday we'll ring Stedman

Caters;

Christmas, and New Years and Saturday rings;

These are a few of our favourite things.

Studying methods, and wishin' and hopin'

That we'll be the ones to ring open;

Watching the bells as they turn in full swing;

These are a few of our favourite things.

When your 'plane leaves for old

England

And we're feeling sad,

We'll think of a few of our favourite things,

And then we won't feel so bad.

Blewbury Peal Time

With the peal of Stedman Triples at Blewbury, Berkshire, on February 13th, Harry Wells, formerly tower leader at Nettlebed, Oxon, rang his first peal for over nine years.

The writer has the feeling that the time of 2hr. 35min. taken for the peal would not meet with the approval of a certain lady ringer from Suffolk, now resident at Westminster College Oxford.

From Nottingham to Louth

Holme Pierrepont ringers are sorry at the impending departure for Louth, Lincs, of Mr. James A. Heaps, who conducted his first peal on January 25th (see page 123). For about three years the band had been trying to get him to stand in a peal, but until last week without success. Mr. Heaps is churchwarden at Holme Pierrepont and also headmaster of the Church school there. He has been ringing for many years.

Northleigh Progress

We have received an encouraging report concerning the progress made at St. Mary's, Northleigh, due primarily to the encouragement of Mr. David Smith and others who spent many frustrating hours over a long period, in getting the band off call changes on boards to method ringing. So enthusiastic are the ringers that the first ever peal board is now in the tower and two more are being prepared.

Two young ringers, Peter Holden and James List, have progressed from Plain Bob Doubles to Surprise methods and visit other towers to gain additional tuition and experience. Peter rang his first peal as conductor last month. Both of these ringers have younger sisters who ring, and it is hoped that they will follow in their brothers' footsteps. There is also a reasonable tune ringing handbell team in the tower whose services were in great demand at Christmas. Method ringing on handbells is also progressing.

Two Firsts, Two Fifties

On Saturday, February 14th, Mr. R. Nalliah joined the Wentworth ringers for ringing for the morning service. Mr. Nalliah, who is a dental surgeon, is one of the latest recruits to the Wentworth band. Priory to Evensong on the same day another member of the Wentworth band—Mr. T. Cairns—rang his first quarter peal. This quarter peal was the fiftieth quarter of Doubles for two members—Mr. Alec Beaumont and Mr. A. King.

Another Band is Blossoming

The first quarter on the restored bells at Caddington, Beds., was rung on February 12th with two members of the new band who started learning about a year ago on the treble (the tower captain) and the tenor. There were no ringers at all in the parish when the bells were rededicated, and the Vicar had to ask for help in training his many volunteers. They now ring Plain Hunt Doubles for Sundays, and are learning to hunt the treble through Grandsire on Fridays. The departure of the Vicar to Kempston deserved a special effort, hence the two "senior" ringers in this their first touch.

Corrections

The peal of 5.040 Minor rung at Barrowby, Lincs (February 12th issue) contained four extents of Kent Treble Bob and three of Plain Bob, not as printed.

The ringer of the fourth in the peal at West Wickham for the Kent County Association (page 120) should read D. Paul Smith.

The 5.003 Grandsire Caters at Isleworth on January 30th was a composition by Gabriel Lindoff, conducted by Mr. Frank B. Lufkin.

The peal of Stedman Triples rung at St. Andrew's, Cambridge, by the Cambridge University Guild on January 30th in memory of Sir Winston Churchill, was the first Guild peal in which a member of Churchill College has rung.

HEMISPHERICALS, TUBES & TING-TANGS

By CLAUDE RUSH

SUFFOLK is one of the counties rich in bells—240 rings of five or more and beaten only by Devon, Somerset and Yorkshire.

Considering this, it is remarkable that, in this county, in an area roughly rhombic in shape lying to the south-east of Ipswich and bounded by that borough, the tidal waters of the rivers Orwell and Deben, and by the sea, there is only one tower with as many as five bells and these are chimed by wall ropes only.

Yet there are 17 parish churches (12 of them village churches) with one or more bells which range in age from less than 50 years to several centuries—29 bells altogether and not one of them rung full circle.

Felixstowe, a popular and growing seaside urban district at the mouth of Harwich Harbour, with some 17,000 people, is included in this area and here there are five churches with bells totalling but six:—

SS. Peter and Paul, with stumpy tower, has a 1627 Miles Graye (chimed sometimes).

S. Mary, Walton, with small tower, a 'Sancte Johannes ora dio nobis' ('clocked').

S. John Baptist, tower and spire about 150 feet, built 1914 by Mr Ernest Geo. Pretymann, of Orwell Park, as a memorial to his relatives—a 7 cwt. Taylor in A of about 1920, hung dead and 'clocked' electrically—much used.

S. Edmund, turret, one small bell, believed to be the 4 cwt. Taylor cast 1895 for S. John's—parent church, chimed.

S. Andrew, two bells somehow fastened to the nave parapet. For services one of these is rocked sufficiently to make sound but this is far inferior to a blacksmith's anvil. The proposed, somewhat elaborate tower here (not yet embarked upon) planned, but not moving at present.

Now this is the position in the rural parishes in this area:—

Brightwell—S. John Baptist, one bell of 1657, swing-chimed.

Bucklesham—S. Mary, one Miles Graye of 1623, swing-chimed.

Falkenham—S. Ethelbert, four bells—two 1666 Darbies and two 1728 Gardiners. Have not been sounded in any way for years.

Hemley—All Saints (do not confuse with S. Peter, Henley, that ringing tower), one Gardiner bell of 1714, chimed.

Kirton—S. Mary, one bell, chimed. Rector says, 'sounds awful!'

Levington—S. Peter, three bells, at least the tenor from Stephen Tonniss', Bury St. Edmunds, foundry. Swing-chimed (one in each hand and a stirrup).

Martlesham—S. Mary, three bells—two ancient and one Miles Graye recast. The inscription on this now reads 'Miles Graye made me 1631, recast 1963 in memory of George Alexander Bolton Bell. R. B. Calder, Rector, B. R. Thomas and L. Finch, Wardens,' chimed.

Nacton—S. Martin, five bells—a 1625 Miles Graye and a 1662 Darbie. Three bells were added about the turn of the century. The five are chimed by wall ropes but can be heard very little either inside or outside the church. The stumpy tower has three very small louvred windows.

Newbourne—S. Mary, one bell, a 1621 Miles Graye, recast 1885, chimed.

Trimley—S. Martin, one bell.

Trimley—S. Mary, one bell. Both chimed. These are the two churches in one churchyard beside the main road nearing Felixstowe.

Waldringfield—All Saints, one bell of 1714, apparently a Gardiner, chimed.

So it can be seen that there are plenty of ting-tangs hereabouts. What a district!

But we have a set of eight tubes, by Taylors, I believe, in S. Mary's, Walton. They are chimed quite a lot but are in a poor state now—they need a thorough overhaul.

However, as though to compensate in some way, in an elaborate red brick campanile about 60 ft. high at Orwell Park, Nacton, formerly the residence of Mr. Ernest Geo. Pretymann, M.P., D.L., J.P., now a boys' school, there are 16 hemispherical bells by Mears and Stainbank, 1871, installed for Colonel Tomline who then lived at the hall. The total weight of these is 46½ cwt., their weights range from ½ cwt. to 9½ cwt., diameters from 16 inches to 42½ inches, and thickness of metal from about ½ inch to 1½ inches.

The notes are interesting, and are apparently in the key of C sharp. From treble to tenor they are: G sharp, G, F sharp, F, D sharp, C sharp, C, B, A sharp, G sharp, G, F sharp, F, D sharp, C sharp, F sharp. So they range over more than two octaves, but there is a drop of five notes between the 15th and the tenor, for the clock hour bell, I expect. They are deeper-sounding than church bells proper of the same diameter. In fact a note on hemispherical bells which I took some years ago from a Mears and Stainbank booklet of about 1900 reads—'a bell of 40 inches diameter would weigh about 10 cwt. and sound note G an octave deeper than that of an ordinary shaped bell of the same diameter.'

These bells are hung in three stacks and they take up the whole area of the bell chamber: one could not walk round them, but, to get amongst them, would have to crawl under one stack and come up in the middle.

The chiming machine is by Messrs. Lund and Blockley, of Pall Mall—Imhoff's patent (German).

Shall we ever have a ringing octave this way? The not-yet-built tower of S. Andrew's, Felixstowe, might provide the answer one day, though I know that Mr. John Oldham, of Messrs. Taylors, visited S. John's, Felixstowe, in 1919, preparatory to the installation of the one bell there and at that time noted that the tower would take a lightish ring of eight.

The residents of Felixstowe—as a body—know nothing about bells and ringing, but we have at least four peal ringers and some others less proficient residing here with no opportunity for action. Until recently I doubted if we had a set of handbells in the town, but I know of two now, and of course there may be more. But what a miss those ringing church bells are to those folks who have lived with them in days gone by!

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Annual Dinner, 1965

WITH 13 towers open, the Oxford University Society annual dinner day on February 6th provided plenty of material for the tower grabber. As this year the dinner fell on one of the Oxford Society's ringing days more towers than usual were open.

The day began with two peal attempts. At Appleton, 5,040 Yorkshire Surprise Royal was rung in 2 hours, 39 minutes, by a band made up of past and present officers of the O.U.S. They were: A. N. Stubbs (ex-Master), Hilary F. Pardoe (secretary), P. A. Brand (treasurer), B. Wakefield (Master), D. A. H. Bennett (ex-treasurer), M. R. Ashmore (ex-Master), N. J. Martin (ex-Master), D. T. Darby (ex-secretary), F. J. Nelson (ex-Master), J. L. Camp (conductor and ex-Master). An attempt for a peal of Minor at Berrick Salome was lost.

Back in Oxford, ringing began at Carfax tower and St. Aldate's. Oxford Society ringing at New College also attracted visitors for what would probably be their last chance to ring on the bells before they are taken down and rehung. After lunch the heavy and unusual eight at Merton College proved to be much more popular than the 4-cwt. eight at St. Ebbe's. But the highlight of the afternoon was the ringing at Magdalen College. The ten bells have just been rehung, and for most people this was their first opportunity to ring there since the rehanging. Consequently this was the most popular tower of the day. Unfortunately ringing had to be seriously curtailed because of a choir practice in the chapel. The final ringing of the day was on the heavy six at St. Mary the Virgin's, and once again the 27-cwt tenor remained the champion.

The dinner was held in the dining hall of Jesus College at 8 p.m. An expertly drawn up seating plan enabled the 75 guests and visitors to find their places with ease. Congratulations to the dinner committee.

After the loyal toast, Mr. J. W. Thorp, of the Oxford University Society, by means of several limericks and Shakespearean misquotations, proposed the toast of 'The Church.' In reply, the president, Canon C. Elliot Wigg, referred to a letter he had received from an irate military gentleman complaining about ringing, which said that if it wasn't for the support given by the Church, the ringing of bells would have been banned long ago.

Mr. G. R. Mordaunt, of the Oxford University Society, then proposed the toast of 'The Visitors.' Among those he introduced was the guest of honour, Mr. R. B. Meadows, Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, replied for the visitors.

The final toast, that of 'The Society,' was proposed by Mr. S. C. Walters, Master of the Cambridge University Guild, who, having been banned from telling his story of a lovesick Dalek, found himself giving a discourse on how to fill up the front pews of a church. In reply, Mr. B. Wakefield, the Master, after first saying that the Oxford University Society reminded him of a hive of bees, told the company that despite its many activities the O.U.S. managed to find a 'time and place for everything.'

With the speeches over, a move was made to the College bar, where activities varied according to taste. B.W.

DEDICATION

FARNBOROUGH, HANTS

The two trebles, recently cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for Farnborough Parish Church, were dedicated at Evensong on February 14th. These two bells were in the sanctuary, and during the service the Rector (Canon B. Hutchinson), assisted by officers of the tower, dedicated them.

The large congregation at this memorable and inspiring service included many ringers, and representatives from Aldershot, Farnham, Ash, Hawley, Yorktown, Godalming and Woking. Taking part in the service were Mr. G. S. C. Joyce (tower captain), Mr. R. H. Mills (vice-captain), Mrs. C. H. Kippin ((secretary), Mr. D. A. R. May (Guild Master) and Mr. T. Page (Farnham Dist. Ringing Master).

After the service, refreshments were served in the Church Hall, and the churchwarden (Mr. R. Peters) gave an interesting talk on the history of the church and tower. The Rector then presented Mr. Joyce with a framed photograph of the church, inscribed:

'Given to Sydney Joyce by members of the old Parish Church, Farnborough, at the dedication of the two bells, which complete the eight. His outstanding leadership as captain of the tower, constantly supported by his wife and son, has been an inspiration to us all.'

Mr. Joyce, in accepting the gift, spoke in appreciative terms of the help and support given by the various contributors to the bells fund, mentioning particularly the Rector and his wife, who had been at all times exceedingly helpful and had given one of the bells themselves.

Mr. D. May congratulated the Rector, his wardens and the ringers of Farnborough on their great efforts and welcomed the new octave to the Guild. There were a good number of ringers—good ringers—at Farnborough, and he hoped they would find enjoyment in ringing the eight bells—the lightest eight in the Guild—and help others less fortunate and not so experienced as themselves.

During the following week the bells would be hung in the tower and it was intended to try them out on the following Friday, prior to the first ringing for church services on the Sunday following.

DEATH OF CANON CHARLES CAREW COX

POET, PRIEST, BELLRINGER

The passing of a great man marks, in many ways, the passing of an era. C. Carew Cox has been a leading name in the ringing world for over 50 years. His career began in the early years of the century in London, where, among his first few peaks, he conducted Holt's Original, a composition he has used on many occasions. When he first came into the Salisbury Diocese in 1914 his ability both as ringer and tutor were soon to be known. For many years he was chairman of the West Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild of Ringers and for 21 years he was Master of the same Guild—a record. He took the office in 1940 and had the immediate task of piloting the Guild's fortunes through the world war. In 1961 the Guild paid him the fitting compliment of electing him president in succession to the Earl of Shaftesbury. Perhaps he will be best remembered for the band he founded at Lyme Regis.

In reference to stalwarts of the Guild, Canon Cox often would call them 'giants.' Now the Guild he loved and served so well pays its tribute to the one who, in affection, might well have been called the greatest giant of them all. The S.D.G.R. had its Office revived and enriched by him with ringers' hymns of his own composing. The present strength of the Guild is due to a large extent to his inspired leadership.

Readers of 'The Ringing World' will remember the leading articles from the pen of Canon Cox at the great festivals of the Church year. Until very recent years he was an active president of the Guild of Clerical Ringers, an office he held up to his death.

Some of us knew him as their parish priest. He served as curate of Stratford-on-Avon from 1907 to 1914, when he went to Symondsburry in Dorset. From there he went to West Moors and in 1927 became Vicar of Lyme Regis. To one who for the latter part of his ministry, the lasting impression was not of one who tried to be this or that 'type' of parson, but a faithful Father-in-God to all his people. He was an enthusiastic supporter of the Franciscans, whom he often entertained in his home. In 1951 he was made a Canon of Salisbury Cathedral.

I hope I may be allowed a personal note. In a letter to me on the eve of ordination, as well as giving his blessing and good wishes, he even deprecated the failures of his own ministry. That this thought should still be in my mind is, I believe, significant. True greatness is always clothed with humility.

To Mrs. Cox the Exercise extends its deepest sympathy.

May he rest in peace.

ROGER KEELEY.

AN APPRECIATION

The passing to higher service of Canon C. Cox creates a gap in the Exercise which will not easily be filled, and we shall remember him for his piety—he was a good priest—for his very fine leading articles written on the great Christian festivals and especially for his tremendous enthusiasm for our art.

I first met him when he was a young curate at Shotton, near Stratford-on-Avon, over 50 years ago. The Warwickshire Guild had just been formed and he took part in many of its first performances. Some that come to mind are the first peal of Treble Bob Major at Bedworth, and the first peal of Stedman Caters at Solihull, both of which he conducted. I remember one peal of Minor which he conducted at Claverdon, in which John Pinfold, then a rather fat boy in knickerbockers, took part.

Canon Cox used to cycle every Friday from Shotton to Stoke-in-Coventry to attend our weekly practice, and always dropped in at my house for tea. Both he and his cousin, E. V. Cox, possessed boundless enthusiasm and would travel anywhere to promote the art. They were both very fine men—now, alas, gone from us, but we shall always treasure their memory and be proud to have associated with them.

Other pens will doubtless describe Canon Cox's work in the South, but in the Midlands he will never be forgotten by the older generations and we thank God for his great example to us all.

JAFUS.

'C.C.' AND THE CLERICAL GUILD

On October 11th, 1910, the Rev. C. Carew Cox and his cousin, the Rev. E. V. Cox, rang in a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Mary's, Warwick, the fifth recorded clerical peal. They rang three more clerical peals together before the First World War. They were both in the first peal rung for the newly-formed Clerical Guild in 1938, which 'C. C.' conducted. His last peal for the Guild, again as conductor, was in 1950.

In 1946 'C. C.' was elected president of the Guild in succession to Canon G. F. Coleridge. He attended every one of the 21 annual ringing weeks so far held, and was looking forward to being present at Nottingham this year. He had become the centre around which the meetings revolved. While he was the unquestioned and unassuming leader of the party, he also had something of the position of the father of a family, and the members who meet this year will feel in a sense orphaned without him. They will ever remember him with affection.

MR. GEORGE APPS

With deep regret the ringers of Holy Trinity, Cuckfield, report the passing of Mr. George Apps on February 10th at his home in Chatfield Road. He was 79 years of age.

George first started ringing under the instruction of his father-in-law, Mr. William Gibson, and he learned to ring at Cuckfield, where he became a tower member for the rest of his life. He rang his first long length in 1910 and his first peal in 1911 to Parker's 12 part Grandsire Triples. Although an enthusiast, he was not a prolific peal ringer and it is estimated that he took part in about 50 successful peal attempts in various Sussex towers.

Widely known and respected throughout the Exercise, he was an active ringer and never reticent or reluctant to express his opinions. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, a founder member of the East Grinstead and District Guild, and in his day both captain (1925-34) and secretary (1944 until his death) of his tower. He served as a Royal Engineer in World War I and in civilian life was a self-employed plasterer by trade. He was as widely known for his work in plastering as he was for his abilities in ringing. He retired in 1956 at the age of 70.

The funeral service, held at Cuckfield on February 16th, was attended by relatives and close friends. Half-muffled ringing followed in the afternoon and the evening and Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung by members of the tower band and by other close ringing friends.

In memoriam, an 'open' quarter peal of 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung before Evenson on February 21st by the following ringers: R. Johnson 1, Miss R. A. Stevens 2, S. Upton 3, J. W. Jeffery 4, R. Durnford 5, J. Herbecq 6, F. S. Godsmark (cond.) 7, E. Brett 8.

He was a good friend, a dedicated bellringer, and our tower is the worse for his loss. G. R.

REV. ALBERT JAMES

The sudden death on February 4th of the Rev. Albert James, Rector of Tredunnock, Monmouthshire, has come as a great shock to his parishioners and many friends. More especially, the ringers of Gwent will remember his keen interest in the bells of his ancient little Church of St. Andrew and for the warm welcome which he always had for visitors.

In the years following his induction at Tredunnock in 1951, the six bells were barely ringable. With his permission and encouragement a complete overhaul of the frame and fittings was carried out in 1962, and he himself spent many hours in the tower helping with the work. After arranging a special thanksgiving service for this restoration he set himself the task of forming a team of learners and also learned to ring himself. It is a fitting tribute that due to these efforts the bells have been rung for almost every service since.

On February 20th members of the team which rang the first peal on the bells after 'the restoration joined together with a local ringer and an officer of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, in a thanksgiving quarter peal for the life and ministry of the Rev. Albert James.

SWANSEA, GLAM.—On Feb. 7th, 1,380 Grandsire Doubles (1, 2 leading): N. Jones 1, J. M. Roberts 2, H. Charles 3, R. Dobbins 4, J. T. Williams (cond.) 5, D. J. Williams 6, Ch. Insp. T. Willis 7, T. Thomas 8. Rung half-muffled in memoriam D. L. Griffiths, churchwarden.

Record Attendance at Derbyshire Association Dinner

ALTHOUGH it was only in 1962 that the venue of the Sir A. P. Heywood Memorial Dinner was first changed from the Corporation Hotel at Derby to the much larger Midland Drapery Restaurant, it was soon obvious that an even larger place would be needed to cope with the ever-increasing numbers. Unfortunately, as there was nowhere else suitable in Derby, this meant moving elsewhere, and so for the first time this year's dinner (the 13th) was not held in Derby but at the Odeon, Chesterfield, on February 20th. There was, however, no doubt as to the success of the venture as over 230 members and friends were present—100 more than last year. Prior to the dinner, ringing was enjoyed on the grand 25-cwt. ring of ten at Chesterfield Parish Church, with its famous 'crooked spire.'

Supporting the president, the Provost of Derby and Mrs. R. A. Beddoes on the top table were the Mayor and Mayoress of Chesterfield (Councillor and Mrs. E. C. Hancock), the Archdeacon of Chesterfield (the Ven. T. W. Ingram-Cleasby), the guest speaker (Mr. F. Sharpe) and the Rector of Darkey Dale and president of the Lancashire Association (the Rev. D. St. John Smith) and Miss A. Smith.

SURVEYED OVER 2,000 CHURCHES

Following the loyal toast, the president said they were immensely grateful to Mr. Sharpe for coming to the dinner, as in addition to being a former president of the Central Council he was one of the foremost authorities in the world on bells and ringing.

Thanking the Provost for his welcome, Mr. Sharpe said that proposing the toast of 'The Church and the Exercise' was almost like proposing his own health, as he was a member of both. One thing he had noticed during his survey of over 2,000 churches was the much greater interest in church buildings nowadays, with fabric restorations being very much on the increase. Unfortunately there did not seem to be a corresponding increase in church life, one reason for this being that the clergy seemed to be far too involved with committees and other organised time-wasters than being hard at work amongst the rank and file.

With regard to the Exercise, Mr. Sharpe said although there was no other aspect of church life in which young and old mixed so readily as in the belfry, many ringers did not realise that the art of campanology embodied many other different arts.

First, there was the art of the bellfounder, the province of few but of interest to many, particularly as there was, in certain circumstances, almost 900 different ways of tuning a single bell. Then there was the art of the musician and, coupled with this, the ringer's art in balancing a bell, with as little as one-sixteenth of a second making a vital difference.

The art of engineering also was involved, both in the installation of chimes as well as swinging bells, whilst another art was that of the carillonneurs, who considered themselves ringers and disliked being pushed out of it. And then, of course, there was the art of ringing both tunes and changes on handbells, the former being immensely popular in America, with over 2,000 ringers attending the annual handbell convention.

AN OFFICIAL VOICE

In conclusion, Mr. Sharpe paid tribute to Sir Arthur Heywood, whose memory they were honouring that evening, as he was interested in every type of art connected with bellringing. Not only that but due to his wonderful foresight in the formation of the Central Council, that body could now speak on behalf of all Associations as an official body of the Church.

The toast of 'The Visitors' was proposed Mr. D. R. Carlisle, the peal secretary, who paid a special welcome to the president's wife (Mrs. Beddoes). Mr. Sharpe, the Archdeacon of Chesterfield, the Mayor and Mayoress and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooper. Mr. Cooper, he said, was for many years general secretary and a former vice-president of the Association until he left the county a few years ago, also Chesterfield District secretary, and as such was no doubt very proud of this splendid gathering.

Replying on behalf of the visitors, the Mayor of Chesterfield said both he and his wife were very pleased to welcome the company to Chesterfield and had been very impressed by everything they had seen and heard although until now he had to confess he didn't realise there were as many ringers in the world, let alone in Derbyshire! He hoped the Association would go from strength to strength and that its members would continue to ring out messages of joy and peace all over the world.

The formal part of the evening over, the entertainment began with a selection of tunes on handbells by the Bolsover company, after which the Chesterfield District Male Voice Choir sang one or two witty songs about various ringers.

'THE MOST NOBLE ORDER'

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the insignia of the most noble order of Capita Magnissimus to the most worthy belfryman of the year in the Association. After a lengthy preamble in which the 'crimes' of this year's contenders were reviewed, the medal was presented to Mr. C. Hughes, the Chesterfield District Ringing Master.

The citation was as follows: 'It may come as a surprise to many that one so young as Chris Hughes has been chosen as the first man from the Chesterfield area ever to receive this coveted award. Originally a man of simple upbringing you were, until a few years ago, one of the illiterate Hughes of Chesterfield. By your own efforts you have changed from signing your name with a cross to a Chris.'

'And now because of your brilliant articles to "The Belfry News" you are an envied and famous man. Your first article, entitled "Through the Drinking Glass," was very reminiscent of "Alice in Wonderland" and was no doubt influenced by your recent experiences at an Association committee meeting at Matlock.'

'Your next article, on the subject of Ringing Masters, was acclaimed both far and wide, and "The Belfry News" office was inundated with letters of praise for it. Yourself, unaware of your meteoric rise to fame, had also written a letter to the Editor, completely dissociating yourself from the article on account of one or two minor alterations. This was rather a setback for you as the plaudits which should have fallen on you had to be reluctantly accepted by the Editor instead.'

'You write under the pen-name of "Tombstone," and no doubt this refers to the granite-like structure of your brain. However, because of your literary success, and as you are a ringer from Old Whittington, we suggest a far more appropriate pseudonym for your future articles would be "The Half Wit from Old Whit".'

'Your efforts at composing peals have not gone unnoticed and are worthy of mention, particularly as your ability to splice courses of Ashbourne College Bob with several glasses of whisky and soda breaks new fields as well as all the rules.'

'In presenting this medal to you, Chris, the Association not only honours you but the whole of the Chesterfield District and not least your own band at Old Whittington, who with great fortitude and determination have aspired to such fame as to win last year's District striking competition despite your many efforts to the contrary.'

Dancing was then enjoyed until shortly after 11.15 p.m.

THE COMPANY

In addition to those mentioned supporting the president on the top table, others present included Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. A. Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ashby, Mr. and Mrs. P. Attwood, Mr. and Mrs. D. Astridge, Mr. and Mrs. W. Barwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. D. Camm, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD Marlborough Branch

A silent tribute to the memory of Canon C. C. Cox, president of the Guild, was paid at the meeting of the Marlborough Branch at Ramsbury on February 20th. The meeting heard with regret that Mr. T. A. Palmer, of Aldbourne, the Branch hon. secretary, was ill with influenza. Mr. G. Newman, who presided, was asked to convey to him sympathy and 'get well' greetings.

Visitors were present from Marlborough College, Enford, Devizes and York Minster and a pleasant afternoon and evening's ringing was supervised by the Rev. Roger Kealey (Ringing Master). The Rev. A. Bennett conducted the service, with Mr. W. Lowe as organist, and Mrs. P. Smythe and helpers were responsible for a splendid tea.

LETTERS

'Mauretania' Surprise Major

Dear Sir,—I was most interested to see the publication on page 138 of 'The Ringing World' of the first peal of a method named 'Mauretania' Surprise Major, rung in Bristol recently. Can we expect Mr. Hunt to provide us next with 'Volunteer', 'Ship' and 'Artichoke' Surprise Major?

If the idea catches on, perhaps from Liverpool we shall have 'Pig and Whistle' Surprise Major: the possibilities are endless.—Yours sincerely, Hemel Hempstead, Herts.

A. R. KENCH.

P.S.—I think these methods ought to have extensions, preferably to midnight.—A. R. K.

Dear Sir,—Please note that the method given as 'Mauretania' Surprise Major, rung at Knowle, Bristol, on January 30th, was first rung at Lyme Regis on March 31st, 1951, and is correctly named Lyme Surprise Major. The peal is reported in 'The Ringing World' dated April 20th, 1951, and the method appeared in the issue of July 6th, 1951.—Yours sincerely,

GEORGE W. MASSEY.

Frome, Som.

Note.—We thank Mr. John R. Mayne, Mr. E. W. Tipler and other readers for pointing this out.—Ed.

Doubles Peals

Sir,—The argument must be of interest to all Doubles ringers, not least those who are trying to break away from the dreary repetition of Grandsire. For if it be correct that a peal must consist of 42 six scores, it automatically rules out the 240's and any other variation.

I have always taken it for granted that a peal was a peal if it consisted of every possible change, repeating 42 times. It can be 42 repetitions of the same calling, which is enough to drive anyone mad with boredom, especially the conductor, and yet cannot consist of something much better worth while and which will keep the conductor awake. That is to split your opening 120 between the beginning and the end and varying the split for each quarter; thus you begin your 120's with varying changes, your peal begins and ends with rounds and you have all the necessary changes.

I have never rung a peal of that nature, but I have rung and conducted quarters on the same principle, splitting the odd change between the beginning and the end. And it has never occurred to me that they were not quarters. It is far more interesting and keeps a beginner team awake.

It is also far more worth while than drumming out a succession or BBPSS, and it makes the normal 10 callings far more interesting. Anyway, what about the 240's if each 120 has got to begin and end with rounds.

University of London Society Dinner

THE 20th annual dinner of the Society took place at Church House, Westminster, on February 13th, after a full day's ringing. Towers open were St. John-at-Hackney (8) and St. Leonard's, Shoreditch (12) in the morning, and, after lunch, St. Giles', Cripplegate (12), St. Vedast's (6) and St. Giles-in-the-Fields (8).

A company of 73 sat down to a very fine meal, after which the president (Mr. David Martin) proposed the toast to 'The Queen and the Church.' He brought to the attention of those present that during the previous week the Rev. A. Powell-Miller had celebrated his golden wedding, an announcement which was greeted with loud applause.

Mr. Clarke Walters, Master of the Cambridge University Guild, proposed 'The Society' in an entertaining way, wisely deciding not to remember any more Dalek stories, but instead seized upon the topic of St. Valentine, whose anniversary was, of course, the next day. He recounted many traditions and legends concerning St. Valentine before inviting his fellow visitors to honour the toast.

The Master of the University of London Society, Mr. Richard Humphries, replied. He recounted the activities of the Society during the past year, both social and ringing, of which the latter had varied from rounds to 8-Spliced Surprise Major at St. Olave's, and at Southwark Cathedral Stedman Cinques and even Cambridge Minor on the back six 'for a little "light" entertainment.' On the subject of tours, the Master said that the 1964 summer tour had been a great success, but the Whitsun tour had again received poor support. He gave notice of the 1965 summer tour, to be held in Devon and Cornwall from July 3rd to 10th, with, at the moment, a 'short' list of some 80 towers.

Dr. John Armstrong, in proposing 'The Visitors,' welcomed especially Canon Mortlock (Rector of St. Vedast's), the Rev. M. Dean (Rector of St. Olave's) and Mrs. Dean, and the Rev. A. Powell-Miller (former Rector of St. Olave's) and accused them of being present under false pretences, as all were members of the Society anyway. He welcomed also the Masters of the Ancient Society of College Youths and the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths (also a member) and those from the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Sheffield and Southampton, and the secretary from Bristol (representing the Master).

Mr. Rodney Meadows, Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, replying, clarified the policy of the College Youths concerning the election of new members, and said there had been a tightening, because 12-bell ringing can only improve if the ringing is good. He made reference to the members supplied by the University of London Society, and went on to say that the University had possibly the better eight-bell ringers, but the College Youths could probably show them a thing or two on 12.

This being the end of the formal proceedings, the president invited the company to adjourn to the lounge.

THE COMPANY

The president, accompanied on the top table by the Master, Canon Mortlock, Rev. and Mrs. M. Dean, Rev. A. Powell-Miller, Messrs. R. B. Meadows, D. Beresford, Miss J. Beresford, Messrs. S. C. Walters, B. Wakefield, J. E. Chapman, D. B. Williams, Miss Y. Edwards and Mr. R. W. Powell.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Witney Branch Dinner

The second annual dinner of the Witney and Woodstock branch was held at the Masonic Hall, Witney, on February 5th. There were representatives from ten towers and friends, making a jolly party of 75. The branch chairman, the Rev. P. Wilkins, was present with his wife, and said a few words after the dinner concerning ringing, and roast beef of old England! The rest of the evening was most enjoyably taken up with dances and games very ably organised by Mr. R. Clow.

Extending the Scope

Dear Sir,—Re my inquiry for great-grandfathers to ring a peal, I have only heard from two, Mr. George Symonds, of Ipswich, and Mr. George Seth, of Bedford, and now wonder perhaps if there are any great-grandmothers who are ringers and would complete a band.—Yours sincerely, Tonbridge, Kent.

W. ROGERS.

Peal at Burford

Dear Sir,—Reference the peal rung at Burford, Oxon, reported on page 122 of 'The Ringing World' and comment on page 136 in 'Belfry Gossip.'

The peal was in fact rung on January 30th, 1965, in a time of three hours and two minutes, and not as published. The attempt was specially arranged as a tribute to the memory of Sir Winston Churchill. — Yours faithfully,

D. KAY ADKIN.

Witney, Oxon.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The peal rung at Flookburgh (page 138) was 5,040 Plain Bob Minor and not Major.

An attempt for a half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples at Stoke Poges on February 3rd was lost three minutes from the end.

We regret to record the death on Saturday of Mrs. J. Frank Smallwood, after a long illness borne with great fortitude.

A talented member of the Horace Day band of the 1920's, Mr. Joe Landan, tower captain at St. James', Deeping, Lincs, died on February 10th, aged 67 years.

Albrighton, Salop, ringers regard Dr. Legg, the retired local G.P., as the tower's best friend. He has recently presented a new set of ropes and with these the tower band rang a quarter peal for his 84th birthday.

Fourteen-year-old Wendy C. Wallace, of Addington, Surrey, who has been ringing for 15 months, has 18 quarter peals to her credit, several of which are Spiced Surprise Minor in up to 12 methods.

The Hillingdon supper held at the Golden Lion, Hillingdon, attracted a record attendance of 91. The most popular of the social items was the welcome return of Mrs. A. A. Hughes to render several tunes on her fine handbells to the accompaniment of Mrs. T. J. Lock at the piano.

A member of the famous Ashford, Kent, peal band, Mr. William C. Marshall, of Bethersden, died on February 17th, aged 60 years. The funeral service at Smarden on February 23rd was attended by many people and afterwards six close friends rang a quarter peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor. A memoir will appear next week.

Some Quarters will be Ditched

The pressure on our space arising from the death of Sir Winston S. Churchill has been abnormal. The influx of peals and quarter peals has been the heaviest since the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. To enable a true balance to be maintained, it will be necessary to withhold from publication some of the scores of quarter peals which have been received. Priority for insertion will be given to those supporting our 'Gratefully Acknowledged' column or ordering additional copies.

First to go will be those rung a month or so previous and handbell quarters. The page of quarter peals will naturally be maintained as we regard this as an important feature of the journal.

No Peal for his 75th Birthday

Birthday peals for Mr. Len Stilwell have been elusive this year. An attempt for Painswick Surprise at Horsham on February 20th came to an abrupt halt after three leads through a rope breaking, and three days later, at Findon, where seven Minor methods were attempted, there was a general mix-up about the third 720. With both these churches Len has a long association and he stood in both attempts. He carries his 75 years lightly, and his total of 35 peals last year tells its own story.

A Loss to South Wales

Tower captain at Bedwelly Parish Church for the past four years, and also churchwarden, Mr. A. Ryan Price has been transferred from South Wales to Mangotsfield, Bristol. At Bedwelly he laboured under great difficulties, but with the help of his devoted wife, Eileen, he taught and trained a band from scratch and they hope to ring their first quarter peal of Bob Doubles on Easter Sunday. On their departure on February 11th, Mr. and Mrs. Price were presented with an inscribed barometer by members of the Bedwelly Church band. They take with them the very best wishes for their future from all bellringers in this part of Glamorgan.

A Kent Bellfounder

Mr. John Hilton deserves congratulations on adding to the series of booklets he has published and printed with the life story of Joseph Hatch, the Ulcombe bellfounder. This foundry was started in 1599 by Thomas Hatch, who died two years later, to be succeeded by Joseph, then a man of 38. The crowning triumphs of his foundry were the recasting of the fourth bell of the Arundel ring at Canterbury Cathedral in 1624, and in 1635-6 being entrusted with a major recasting at the Cathedral. Although in semi-retirement, he supervised the recasting and rehanging of the complete ring of bells. He died in 1639 and is buried in Broomfield Churchyard.

Interest is added by illustrations of bell-casting supplied by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The book is priced 1s. 9d. post free from J. Hilton, 19, Lonewood Way, Hadlow, Tonbridge.

His 2,000th Peal

The Exercise at large will join us in congratulating Mr. George E. Fearn, of Birmingham, in ringing his 2,000th peal on February 25th. This was a peal of Superlative Surprise Maximus rung at St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham, where George has rung approximately 450 of his peals.

We feel certain that this memorable occasion will be the main topic at the Henry Johnson dinner, on Saturday, which George, as part of his duties as hon. secretary and treasurer of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, organises with praiseworthy efficiency. The company will expect the chairman, Mr. Frank E. Haynes, to submit an appropriate toast so that his great achievement may be duly honoured.

George is the king-pin of Birmingham ringing today. Apart from being secretary of the Guild he is tower warden of St. Martin's, Birmingham, and also ringing master of Birmingham Cathedral.

Worth Waiting For

All interested in Surprise ringing will want to possess the Central Council's latest production, 'A Collection of Surprise Methods in Place Notation,' price 4s. post free from Mr. R. F. B. Speed, 88, High Street, Hillmorton, Rugby. The collection includes all peals of Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus published in 'The Ringing World' up to May 29th, 1964, together with the date and place of the first performance, i.e., London Surprise Major, 17-11-1835, St. Andrew's, Norwich. For beginners there is a detailed explanation of place notation. The tables of lead head codes and notes on bobs are an essential adjunct to a work of this description. The Methods Committee consists of Messrs. Frank T. Blagrove, C. Kenneth Lewis and John R. Mayne, who will be congratulated at Northampton next Whitsun on adding a most valuable work to the Central Council's publications.

Fellows to the Fore

Inadvertently, the name of Mr. Martin D. Fellows, of Stourbridge, was omitted from the notice of an attempt to ring 11,520 Yorkshire Surprise Major at Hanbury, Worcs, on March 27th (see page 148). All will wish this intrepid young ringer, who, with his brother, has done much for the Dudley and District Guild, every success. If scored, the peal will be for the Worcestershire and Districts Association.

Four Firsts at Castle Cary

There has been a stirring of the wind at All Saints' Church, Castle Cary, Somerset, where the local band has rung its first peal for many years to mark the 75th anniversary of the foundation of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. Tony Higdon, who conducted, had the satisfaction of seeing four of the band score their first peal.

Down Beverley Way

Former stalwart of the Derbyshire Association, where he was general secretary and also a vice-president, Mr. A. B. Cooper has found opportunities for service in his new home at Kirk Ella, Hull. At St. Andrew's, Kirk Ella, he has completed a year as Ringing Master and now has further responsibility as hon. secretary and treasurer of the Beverley and District Ringing Society. In this post he succeeds Mr. K. Kirk, who has been elevated to the presidency of the Society. Mr. D. S. Johnson continues as Ringing Master, but his assistant is now Mr. R. Ducker in place of Mr. R. D. Gibson.

The Beverley Society, with a membership of 169, had 28 new members last year. Sixty quarter peals were rung in 1964 (best ever), in which 60 members participated, and 16 peals, the best for many years. Of the 35 members who took part, 16 were ringing their first peal. Both Wakington (where Miss J. Gray received the Albert Sellers Memorial Cup for the tower making most progress) and Huntington rang their first peals—an excellent achievement, reports the Ringing Master.

With so much vitality, it is sad to learn that Hull University is quiescent, comments the report. 'A deathly hush—or could it be work?—appears to have overtaken the ringers at Hull University. We have failed to locate a correspondent for a contribution to this year's report. We keep hoping that Hull will eventually join other universities in forming a ringers' guild—what about it?'

Different Ages of Man

During 1964 St. Patrick's Cathedral Society, Dublin, rang quarter peals to compliment members of their Society on silver, ruby and golden wedding anniversaries and to one member who had become engaged to be married.

America's Interest in Gnosall

Mrs. E. Marion Key, of Gnosall, Stafford, has received a long and friendly letter from Miss Nancy Tufts stating that she has followed the progress of the St. Lawrence's junior handbell ringers of Gnosall with great interest. We hear that these talented juniors are going on from strength to strength and have now five groups in various stages of proficiency. They have bookings as far ahead as November.

Ringing School in Kent

A one-day ringing school is to be held at Leeds, near Maidstone, on May 1st, organised by the Kent County Association. Among the subjects on which lectures will be given are learning and teaching elementary change ringing; ways of learning standard methods; how to maintain a local band; conducting and elementary composition; ringing under control. This is a new venture as far as the Association is concerned and the committee hope for enthusiastic support from young and old.

A SUSSEX WEDDING

REV. C. P. GORDON CLARK—MISS T. E. OLDHAM

Curate at Haslemere for the last two years and a member of the local band during that time, the Rev. C. P. Gordon Clark was married on February 20th at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Copthorne, to Miss Thalia Elizabeth Oldham, daughter of Comdr. and Mrs. F. W. Oldham, of Providence, Copthorne Common, Crawley.

Several Haslemere ringers attended the choral service followed by Nuptial Communion, the singing being led by a small Haslemere choir. The bells at Copthorne being hung for chiming only, a quarter peal of 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung at Haslemere on the Sunday following to mark the happy event by: E. G. Venton 1, F. Bowden (conductor) 2, Mrs. K. E. E. Bowden 3, Ian Weatherley 4, Mrs. E. Weatherley 5, A. Betsworth 6, H. Gauntlett 7, R. G. Burford 8.

LEADING PEAL RINGERS OF 1964

WHEN it is considered that 3,668 ringers rang peals in 1964, it is obvious that peal ringing is not confined to a meagre few, but embraces the cream of the Exercise. Of this number, 228 rang over 25 peals and the individual records published in the last two numbers embrace 252 names.

The honour of being the leading peal ringer of the year goes to Brian J. Woodruffe, who is engaged on research at the University College of Swansea. His total of 150 peals in one year is the highest of any living ringer, and it is very near the record of the late Harold J. Poole. The total was bolstered by ten different handbell peals, mostly Minor and containing many firsts. But Brian also had a good year on tower bells with 49, and these included conducting the record long length of 23,072 Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Llanfeigan on July 11th. The previous year he figured in the extent of Plain Bob Major and also 21,600 Spliced Treble Bob Minor in 60 methods. His peal total is around the 600 mark—nearly 200 on handbells—so he has already won a niche for himself as a ringer of distinction.

South Wales will join us in congratulating J. Arthur Hoare on passing his century with 119 peals. He is a veteran of ringing, starting some 56 years ago. J. A. H. holds the secretaryship of two Guilds—the Swansea and Brecon and also the Railwaymen's. For several years a handbell company has been meeting regularly at his home, and there was a "ready made" team for Brian Woodruffe to fashion to his 100 different methods attempt. Arthur Hoare's total of peals is nearly 200, with 112 on handbells.

The third member of the trio was Hazel Way, tower captain of Sketty and a past Master of the Swansea and Brecon Guild. She is the third lady (with 107 peals) to exceed 100 peals in a year. The other two are Mrs. Marshallsay, who was also a handbell enthusiast and rang many, and the late Mrs. Harold Poole, who in 1955 rang in 119 peals, all on tower bells. The late Mr. and Mrs. Harold Poole are the only couple to ring 100 peals together in a year.

The presence of John R. Mayne, the Master of the Middlesex County Association, in the fourth position with 93 peals gives a sense of satisfaction to the Home Counties. John's list is one of distinction both in tower (60) and in hand (33). In all, he conducted 76 peals. Perhaps his greatest achievement of the year was in conducting a handbell peal of 5,120 Spliced Surprise Major in 20 methods. He has certainly one of the best lists of different Surprise Major methods.

From the Birmingham and Worcestershire area comes a strong representation as leading ringers. George E. Fearn, the secretary of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, rang more tower bell peals than any other ringer during the year, and with 89 made a big contribution towards his 2,000 peals reached last month. The two brothers Martin D. and Michael J. Fellows, of Stourbridge, have made tremendous strides during the year, frequently being included in the Thursday peals at Birmingham Cathedral. Also in the Birmingham list is Roderick W. Pipe, 82 (conducted 48), a member of the talented Grundisburgh family; J. Alan Ainsworth, Ringing Master of St. Martin's, with 77; and Susan Funnell, last year's leading lady ringer, also with 77. Leading tower bell conductor of the year was Peter Border, of Coventry, with 49 out of his 74 peals. The news of Peter's 1,000th peal can be expected within a month or two.

The Bristol contingent is headed by John Hunt with 76 (conducted 35). Two Cambridge ringers are also prominent—George E. Thoday (76) and Kenneth J. Hesketh (74); Gerald Penney (74) leads the Hertfordshire ringers, R. Kingsley Mason (73) those of Leicestershire and Jack L. Millhouse (71) those of Lincoln. The presence of the name of the Rev. Malcolm C. C. Melville, Master in 1964 of the Southwell Diocesan Guild, with 62 peals, is of interest. We understand he passed the best year's total of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson.

The preparation of these lists has entailed a vast amount of work for Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taylor, and we are sure the great majority of our readers will thank them for their painstaking and exacting labours which present a true picture of peal ringing in England today. We have never before been able to publish a complete list because of the lack of co-operation of a small section—some wilful and others too occupied with other things to prepare details in time for publication.

Representations have been made to the Editor from a small section of prominent ringers, all residing in the same county and one a president of his Association, for their records to be excluded. They take the view that it is an infringement of their private life and is not for the benefit of the Exercise. We disagree. The Central Council has set up an elaborate machinery for the recording of peals and annually calls attention to meritorious performance. We maintain by the publication of peals and quarters peals ringing is removed from the abstract to the personal. Our Guilds and Associations in their reports call

CANON C. CAREW COX

The ashes of the late Canon C. Carew Cox were interred in the Churchyard of St. Michael the Archangel, Lyme Regis, on Saturday, February 27th.

During the simple graveside service, conducted by the Vicar of Lyme, the Rev. J. H. A. Charles, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells which belonged to the late Canon Cox, by four members of the Lyme Regis band: H. G. Keeley 1-2, C. W. Powell 3-4, G. S. Morris 5-6, Mrs. C. W. Powell 7-8.

Immediately prior to the interment a peal of Stedman Triples was rung "open" by request, on the bells of Lyme Regis Parish Church, which the late Canon had worked so hard before he retired as Vicar of Lyme to have recast and converted from a very mediocre ring to the present fine light ring of eight. G. S. M.

MRS. SMALLWOOD

The many ringing friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smallwood will learn with deep regret of the sudden death of Mrs. Smallwood on February 27th at their home, 5, Stanton Close, Darley Dale. Mrs. Smallwood had been in failing health throughout the winter, but at the end she passed suddenly but peacefully away, sitting in an easy chair for a rest while preparing the dinner in her home. Bereaved are Mr. J. F. Smallwood and two married daughters.

The funeral took place quietly at St. Helen's Church, Darley Dale, on March 4th, with the Rector, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, officiating, and was followed by interment in the churchyard. At the funeral the Derby Diocesan Association was represented by Mr. B. P. Morris (general secretary), Mrs. G. Richardson (secretary, Peak District Branch) and Mr. M. P. Phipps (secretary, Chesterfield Branch). Also present were Mr. G. H. Paulson (tower captain) and other members of the local band, and representatives from the neighbouring tower of Matlock.

Immediately after the interment the bells were rung half-muffled to two courses of Bob Major by the following: Rev. R. D. St. John Smith (conductor) 1, P. D. Taylor 2, Ann M. Smith 3, Mrs. G. Richardson 4, G. H. Paulson 5, M. P. Phipps 6, B. P. Morris 7, R. H. Bullen 8.

MR. W. C. MARSHALL

Many Kent ringers are sad with the news of the passing of Mr. William C. Marshall ('Bill') to almost everyone) on February 17th at his home at Betersden. He had been ill about six weeks and was 60 years of age.

"Bill" was taught to ring by his grandfather at Smarden and rang his first peal (Grandsire Triples) at Headcorn, Kent on January 10th, 1923, conducted by Fred Macey.

He did not do much peal ringing until 1947, when he joined the Ashford peal band. He loved good ringing and had plenty of it with them under the leadership of Mark S. Lancefield. His striking was of a very high order. A plain man in every respect, he was at times very outspoken, but he had a heart of gold and was always willing to help anyone from the highest to the lowest in the land. He loved his wife and four children, and theirs was truly a house with love in it.

A special constable for many years and on the War Reserve, he was on permanent police duty at Ramsgate from 1940 to 1946, where things became hectic with bombs and shells, but he took it all in his stride, emerging unscathed. A member of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, he rang a few peals with them out of his approximate total of 130.

The funeral service took place at Smarden on February 23rd with nearly 100 people in attendance, including an escort of 20 police officers and 30 officers from Aldington Detention Centre, where "Bill" was lately employed.

Immediately following the service, 1,272 Cambridge Surprise Minor was rung by six of his close ringing friends: W. W. King 1, Violet Relf 2, J. V. Richards 3, F. G. Huckstepp

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 20

ALAN D. ELSMORE
The Guildford Diocesan Guild

In the last number of this series the Guildford Diocesan Guild was represented by a youngster from Epsom. A journey across the diocese brings us to Farnham, where the Guild is represented by yet another promising youngster, determined to follow the fine example of those members of the Guildford Guild already mentioned in the last number of this series.

Alan D. Elsmore was born at Farnham, Surrey on August 2nd, 1945. In 1956 he completed his first years of schooling and went to the Farnham Grammar School.

During the next five years he gained for himself five "O" level G.C.E.'s. In September, 1961, he started work as a technological apprentice at the British Aircraft Corporation factory at Weybridge, and is now studying for a "Higher National Certificate" in metallurgy with good prospects of taking Institution examinations in the near future.

When Alan was 15 his brother Dudley persuaded him to take up ringing. This he did, his tutor being that well-known and ever active member of the Guildford Guild, and former Ringing Master, Charles Denyer.

Alan made very good progress, scoring his first peal on April 14th, 1962. This took place at Farnham and was conducted by E. John Wells.

This modest youngster does not give many details concerning his ringing performances, but merely states that he now has a total of 18 peals plus, which includes Stedman Triples and Yorkshire Surprise Major. He is interested in conducting and looks forward to the day when he can conduct peals. Alan is also very interested in handbell ringing and would be pleased to add a few peals 'in hand' to his collection.

An amusing incident was witnessed by this youngster when a course of Cambridge Surprise Major fired out in the middle. The young ringer who caused the trouble blamed a member of the fair sex, who, he alleged, 'winked at me so I dodged with her, but shouldn't have.'

Alan is a member of the Guild's Executive Committee and, with Mr. Denyer occupied with churchwarden duties, is tower captain at Farnham. He is also a member of the Society of Roving Ringers, with whom he has enjoyed two very interesting tours.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Lady Master for North and East District

Some 50 ringers, representing 16 towers, attended the annual meeting of the North and East District at the Church of St. John the Baptist, Barnet, on February 13th, where ringing in a variety of methods took place during the afternoon and evening.

Evensong was conducted by the Rev. David Smith, who welcomed the Association to Barnet and from whose remarks it appeared he was quite conversant with our art. Miss England and her catering committee were responsible for an excellent tea, following which Mr. H. G. Hart took the chair for the business meeting.

The secretary's report stated that the average attendance at the six District meetings was 34, whilst joint meetings had been held with the Watford District of the Hertford Association and the S.W. District of the Essex As-

MR. JOE LANDAN

Last week we briefly announced the death of Mr. J. O. Landan, tower captain at Deeping St. James, Lincs, on February 10th, aged 67.

Mr. J. Haw writes that Mr. Landan was a member of the famous band of Mr. Horace Day's and took part in the then record peal in 32 Surprise Minor methods at Glinton in 1936.

He loved "Jimmy" Deeping's fine ring of six, particularly liking to ring on the heavy end and was an excellent striker. Joe was a most regular attendant for Sunday ringing, his last appearance being to ring half-muffled on the Sunday of Sir Winston Churchill's passing.

The funeral was on February 15th at Deeping St. James' Priory Church, and ringers present represented a wide area.

In the evening an in memoriam quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung half-muffled.

sociation. Twelve ringing and 27 non-resident life members were elected during the year. A pleasing note was that eight new members had joined from Barnet and that the bells of that church were ringing regularly for Sunday services. Fifteen handbell peals of Spiced Surprise Major—ranging from two to 20 methods—were recorded by John Mayne and his band—truly a remarkable performance. Quarterly peals for Sunday services were reported on.

All the officers, with the exception of Mr. Alick Cutler (Master), who did not seek re-election, were re-elected to office for a further 12 months. The new Master is Mrs. H. G. Hart, of Harrow Weald, the first time in the history of the N. and E. District that a lady has held this high office. Other elections were: Chairman, Mr. H. G. Hart; Deputy Master, Mr. T. G. Hawkins; secretary, Mr. E. H. Kilby; assistant secretary, Mr. D. T. C. Smith; auditor, Mr. J. R. Mayne; committee representatives, Messrs. D. E. R. Knights, C. F. Neal and S. G. Peck.

Mr. T. J. Lock, in thanking Mr. Cutler for his services to the Exercise in general over a number of years, said he joined the Association in 1920 as a member of the Edmonton band and rang his first peal—Stedman Triples—in December of that year. [It was a pleasure to note that the lady who rang the treble to that peal (Mrs. Tomlinson) was present that afternoon.] He was elected Master in 1938 and therefore had held office for 25 years. Mr. John Mayne also spoke of Mr. Cutler's work.

The following were elected members of the Association:—Ringing: Miss E. English, Miss C. Errington and Miss L. Errington (Hackney), J. Beetlestone, I. Campbell and W. Harwin (Finchley), R. Luxon and P. Twigg (Enfield), J. Elliott and Mrs. D. Elliott (Harrow), W. Gates (Southgate) and Miss Anne Sellers and M. J. Naylor (Willesden). Non-resident life members: Alan Paul and Roger W. Smith (Rothersthorpe, Northants). E. H. K.

M.U.G.'s WEEK-END TOUR

ON the evening of February 5th, members of the Manchester University Guild set off for a ringing week-end in the Sheffield and Peak District of Derbyshire areas. New Mills (8) was the first tower, and seven members arrived by 7 p.m. A start was made with Cambridge Minor on the back six of this easy-going eight until the arrival of a local ringer enabled Major to be rung. We were eventually joined by two more 'Mugs.' Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Cambridge Major followed, but we descended the tower with the feeling that our striking had not done justice to the bells.

The base for the week-end was Leam Hall Youth Hostel, near Hathersage, a few miles south-west of Sheffield. The path leading up to the hostel was an Everest-like hill and we were gasping for breath and for our beds when we reached the hostel.

On Saturday we joined the Northern Universities' meeting at Sheffield and, despite our navigator, managed to find all the towers. We would like to thank the secretary of the Sheffield University Guild for organising such an enjoyable day. Evening ringing was at Sheffield Cathedral, but certain of our number were lured by the attractions of a lightning Polygold tour to go over to Killamarsh, where the Sheffield and District Association were meeting.

Sunday morning saw us ringing the pleasant octave at St. Peter's, Hope, for morning service, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman were successfully brought round. Outside the church some rather unkind asides were heard about the remarkable likeness of some of the more grotesque gargoyles to certain members.

We drove down the Snake Pass for lunch at the Snake Inn, but the fine views of the hills were rather spoiled by the mist and low cloud. Chapel-en-le-Frith was the tower for the afternoon, and here a plain course of Killamarsh came round, as did a touch of Spliced Cambridge, Surfleet and Beverley. Then, replenished with food from a nearby cafe, we set off for Burbage, near Buxton, where we joined the local ringers for service ringing. A really enjoyable hour was spent here.

Guided with the infallibility that only comes of long experience, we reached a pleasant hotel at Kettleshulme in which to laugh over the events of the week-end and to debate future outings. Thanks to all who helped to make such a successful week-end. C. R. C.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Fifteen towers were represented at the Hinckley District annual general meeting at Hinckley, in addition to visitors from four other Guilds. The Vicar (the Rev. E. W. Platt) conducted a short service, and afterwards 48 sat down to a tea prepared by the Hinckley ringers.

At the meeting a lively discussion took place on the future of the monthly meetings as these had been rather poorly attended over the past year. Incumbents and tower captains had been written to by the District Committee asking for the views of all affiliated towers, as a proposal was on the agenda to limit the meetings to three a year. By a large majority it was decided to continue the monthly meetings.

The following officers were elected: Mr. F. K. Measures, chairman; Miss Valerie Watts, secretary-treasurer; Messrs. T. C. Belton and G. Pickering, committee; and Mr. Christopher Sturgess and Mr. John Watkins, Ringing Masters.

NORWICH DIOCESAN

ASSOCIATION

Eastern Branch

During the service, conducted by the Rev. D. Holt (Vicar) at St. Nicholas' Church, Great Yarmouth, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Eastern Branch on February 13th, a peal board was dedicated. The president of the Association read the lesson and Mr. B. Angurin played the organ.

Members stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mr. F. C. Sayer, of St. Albans, who had died since the last meeting. Mr. Sayer was an unattached ringing member of the Branch and formerly lived at Barsham, Suffolk.

Election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, Miss D. E. Lidbetter; secretary, Mr. N. P. J. Cossey; Ringing Master, Mr. S. F. High; Standing Committee, Mr. A. E. Crowe and Mr. T. J. Brock; Branch Committee, Messrs. A. W. Bird, C. Bailey, J. Forder, J. B. Gorrod and P. Kindred. Miss N. Toone and Mr. S. Toone, both of Gorleston, were elected ringing members.

Dates chosen for meetings in 1965 were approved as May 22nd (Norton Subcourse), September 4th, December 4th, with February 12th for the Branch annual meeting.

Tower restoration work at Carlton Colville is to commence in March and is to cost over £1,100. This will enable the bells to be rung again after being silent for 12 months.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rev. Holt, Mr. B. Angurin, Mr. Stratford, Mr. P. Newstead, Mr. A. May and the ladies for a splendid tea.

Next meeting (practice): Halvergate and Reedham, April 3rd. N. P. J. C.

Southern Branch

The annual meeting of the Southern Branch was held on February 6th at Thetford. Ringing preceded the service, which was conducted by the Rev. H. Mumford, with Mr. N. Watson at the organ.

About 30 members and friends sat down to tea, which was followed by the business meeting. Officers elected were as follows: Dr. P. Johnson, chairman; Mr. H. Fuller, Ringing Master; Mr. C. F. Philippo, secretary; Messrs. F. C. Arnold and N. Watson, Standing Committee; Messrs. F. Roper, Dr. D. Heighton, L. W. King, T. R. Simmons and H. Dixon, Branch Committee.

The chairman thanked the Rector for the use of the bells and for conducting the service; also Mr. H. Fuller for making arrangements for the meeting.

Next meeting: May 15th, at Bunwell.

attention to their leading peal ringers and conductors, and a man's peal total and often lists invariably accompany a ringer's obituary report. When a person's performances are of such a character to warrant publication almost weekly then the details become public property. In Wisdens the record of every cricketer who bowls a ball or bats in first-class matches is published. Why not ringing?

THE LADIES' GUILD

Central District

As a token of respect for Sir Winston Churchill, the six bells at St. Michael's, Wood Green, were rung half-muffled on January 30th, when the annual general meeting of the Central District was held in this tower. An all-ladies' touch was rung immediately prior to the service conducted by the Vicar, Preb. John S. Aldis.

Tea was provided by the local ringers. A word of thanks must go to two 'Mums,' who produced a spread of home-made cakes and hot mince pies. In usual Central Council tradition, the gentlemen got on with the washing up while the ladies held their business meeting. Miss Joan Spreadbury and Mrs. T. J. Lock were re-elected as District secretary and vice-president respectively. The District committee for the coming year is: Mrs. H. G. Hart, Mrs. E. Savory, Mrs. R. Fardon and Miss S. E. Smith. Mrs. Hart and Miss Smith will also represent the District on the Central Committee. Miss Sylvia Brackell and Miss Penny Halliwell were elected members.

The District has accepted an invitation from the Southend and District Guild to join them for their annual ringing day on June 19th.

Next meeting: May 29th, Reading. Next year's A.D.M.: January 29th, Edmonton. J. S.

SUFFOLK GUILD

South-West District

About 60 ringers attended the quarterly meeting at Cavendish and this enabled the Ringing Master to cater for all tastes from Plain Bob to Spliced Minor.

Before the commencement of the business, tribute was paid to the late Mr. J. C. Macbeth, of Nayland. A long and detailed discussion took place on the question of installing equipment, especially oil-fired furnaces, where they interfered with the ringing. A resolution was unanimously passed that the executive committee consider the suggestion that any installation of this nature applied for in the future be refused by the church authorities.

Concern was also expressed on the local Press reports that the very heavy expenses incurred to repair the towers at Nayland and Stanstead were due to damage caused by the bells. Can parishioners be expected to raise money for the bell restorations with this false impression implanted on their minds?

Jeremy Dingwall, a 12-year-old from Bures, was elected to membership.

Next meeting: Stoke-by-Nayland, May 22nd.

North-East District

The annual meeting of the North East District was held at Beccles on February 20th, when ringing on the 10 ranged from rounds to Cambridge Royal. Among the visitors were the general secretary and Ringing Master of the Guild.

At the business meeting, officers elected for 1965 were: Chairman, Mr. R. W. Bickers; secretary, Mr. T. N. S. Bailey; Ringing Master, Mr. E. R. Goate. Five new members were also elected.

Next meeting: Framlingham, May 15th (please note amended date).

LLANBLETHIAN, GLAM.—On March 1st, 1,320 St. David's Doubles: P. Morgan (first quarter) 1, I. Davies 2, D. Barrington 3, C. Ricketts (first as cond.) 4, E. Thomas 5, R. MacPherson 6. First in method for all and on the bells. Rung by the Cowbridge Grammar School band for St. David's Day.

Conductors and Calling

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read Miss Angela Grainger's congeries of incantations used by conductors and I certainly would not call her a square for insisting on correct pronunciation of the various technical terms ("Ringing World," page 132). On the other hand I do not think that all conductors who use the variants mentioned are just being modish or gobbledegookish and I would not go so far as to pronounce their diction as deplorable. Perhaps the word "deplorable" is a little too harsh in this context and would be justified only in cases of deliberate or conscious disregard for pronunciation.

It is arguable that some conductors perform in a state of automatism. The mind is turned solely to questions of composition, method and perhaps striking. Physical acts such as ringing the bell and "calling" are performed without conscious regard. Hence such persons are often unaware that they are uttering less than intelligible sounds and they have an answer to Miss Grainger's charge.

Of course, nothing in the aforesaid applies to those who pick other men's flowers or deliberately mispronounce words.

In any society such as the ringing world there is bound to be a certain degree of non-conformity to the accepted rules of pronunciation. The best solution is to take these idiosyncrasies with the traditional pinch of salt. Furthermore, with all due respect to Miss Grainger, I consider that it might be somewhat priggish to suggest that "up and coming" conductors should be taught the correct use of English.—Yours faithfully,

Wentworth. MICHAEL R. MEADOWS.

In Self-defence

Dear Sir,—In self-defence, if for no other reason, may I reply to the letter "Grabbing is Here to Stay," which you published.

In the first place I am not in any sense of the word a "tower grabber," and in the second place I do not visit other towers with the "sole aim" of improving my skill. In the third place, I did not suggest or imply that the elimination of the "grabbers' list" would strengthen the Exercise, and in the fourth place I am at a loss to know how Mr. Sawtell—whoever he may be—comes to think that he knows so much about me and my habits!!

Your correspondent seems to have completely missed the point of my letter, and I apologise if this is because I did not express myself with sufficient clarity. The attitude towards visiting other towers which he expresses—scoring first, and all other considerations second—is surely wrong, and one can only hope that it is not as widespread as one is sometimes led to believe. The name "grabbing," far from being "unfortunate," is exactly descriptive of this attitude.

Why, I wonder, does Mr. Sawtell think that those who visit rough and unwanted rings—for the selfish purpose of scoring—deserve recognition in "The Ringing World" or anywhere else? If we were going to start giving recognition left, right and centre (God forbid) then surely it would be right to begin with the tower captains and instructors up and down the country, to whose hard work and patience the Exercise and, more especially, service ringing, owe so much?

Mr. Sawtell asserts that few need encouragement to improve the standard of their own ringing, but in my limited experience the reverse is the case. And surely the best way to become a proficient change ringer—and thereby an asset to the Exercise—is by visiting a few towers regularly rather than a great many just once.

Most of us enjoy visiting other towers from time to time, whether for service ringing, practice, at an Association meeting, on an outing or for a peal, but I trust that this does not make us "tower grabbers."—Yours faithfully,
Leigh, Surrey. CHRISTOPHER DALTON.

Miles Graye III

Dear Sir,—Mr. Laffin is quite correct to say that there were three Miles Grayes who were bellfounders. Deedes and Walters in "The Church Bells of Essex," pages 86 to 104, give a full account of the documentary and other evidences of them and Richard Bowler.

Mr. Bevis is wrong to say that Richard Bowler succeeded Miles Graye I. Bowler's bells are dated between 1587 and 1604, and there is evidence given by Deedes and Walters that he had Miles Graye I as an apprentice in 1598. They list some 30 bells by Bowler then remaining; among his best products are the fourth and sixth at Lavenham cast in 1603.

Miles Graye I was bellfounding from 1600 to 1648. In 1629 there is evidence that a Miles Graye Junior was working as a founder; he appears to have assisted his father in the period 1622 to 1637, and also to have cast bells on his own account in the period 1632 to 1642. He was not thought by Deedes and Walters to have cast bells after 1642 and probably died in 1666. Miles Graye I was also assisted by William Harbert as foreman in the period 1618 to 1628 and some bells bear his initials and even his full name.

A number of bells cast between 1633 and 1646 in addition to the usual formula "Miles Graye Made Me 1633" have an M scratched in the mould before casting and appearing before the date or on the waist. Deedes and Walters considered that this may well be an indication that Miles Graye II had some hand in the casting. They were unaware of bells bearing the M cast after 1637, but I have found bells in Suffolk cast as late as 1646 with it; on the Stradishall fourth cast in that year the mark is OM. So Miles Graye II may have worked later than 1642.

Miles Graye III was born in 1628 and was founding from 1649 to 1686, in which year he died. His inscriptions are uniform in design but different and not so pleasant as his predecessors. Tonally his bells do not reach their high standards.

It seems probably therefore that bells cast in the period 1600 to 1648 and not bearing the initials WH or the M are the work of Miles Graye I. Into this class comes the Lavenham tenor, cast 1625, weighing 21 cwt. 0 qr. 7 lb., which includes canons and argent, and a note a quarter semitone sharp of D flat (A 440 cycles/sec.), a quite remarkable bell now in the Loughborough Foundry.

The only remaining ring of five or more bells in this class is the five heavier bells of the six at Bramford, near Ipswich, cast 1632. The tenor here has been cracked by an Ella-combe hammer and because of this rarity factor this bell is being sent to Denmark to be repaired by welding.

British experience in welding bells has not been satisfactory, but the Danes have had much better results. A year ago the Little Hallingbury, Essex, tenor, cast about 1400, was welded in Denmark after being cracked in the soundbow. The tone of this bell was fully restored, and remains so to this day. As this bell is hung dead, the Bramford tenor was selected as a bell worthy of preservation, which is regularly swung in a full circle for repair by welding.

Peals at Hyde

Dear Sir,—For about two years I have been compiling a record of peals rung at Hyde, Cheshire. I now have a list of about 205 peals but I still lack the complete details of a few of the peals rung during 1853/4/5/6. I would welcome correspondence from any of your readers who have a knowledge of any peals rung during those years. I would then supply the dates. Also I know of a peal of Bob Major on June 24th, 1908, but I have no further details.—Yours faithfully,
Hyde, Cheshire. ALAN F. SCHOLFIELD.

Plain Bob Major (all Singles)

Dear Sir,—Further to the request by Mr. Geoffrey K. Dodd re peals of Bob Major containing all singles, the peal of 5,184 by W. E. Bason quoted by John Weaver (February 12th, page 109) was also rung by the Leicester Diocesan Guild at Thurstaston, Leics., on February 16th, 1963, conducted by Mr. A. James Poyner. I enclose a peal of 5,056 by Peter C. Wright, given to me by him many years ago, which to the best of my knowledge has not yet been rung. It is a two-part containing 160 singles and many will be of interest to Mr. Dodd.—Yours faithfully, Leicester.

Mr. Bert Sutton

Dear Sir, — After practically 20 years as Ringing Master at the Parish Church of St. Mary, Bert Sutton is leaving Scarborough to take up residence in York.

I know he has been thanked locally for all his work during that time, nevertheless I feel sure that St. Mary's ringers past and present will endorse these few lines.

Since leaving Scarborough in 1951, I have always felt an attachment for the tower where I learned to handle a bell and where my father still rings. Many changes have taken place since that team was assembled and taught in 1945 under the leadership of Mr. Sutton following his demobilisation from the R.A.F., and I know some of the setbacks and disappointments that have thwarted them since that time. The one thing that has always kept them together and the bells ringing has been the enthusiasm and personality of their captain.

He will be missed there by the many seasonal visitors to Scarborough and by the church both at St. Mary's, where he has been a member of the Parochial Church Council, and at St. Lawrence's, Scalby. Here he was largely responsible for pressing for the new ring of six and solely responsible, as instructor, for ensuring they would be rung.

Scarborough's loss will be York's gain, and at the Minster I trust he will have many years of ringing, which he deserves.

Good luck and best wishes to Mr. W. Fay, who now takes over at St. Mary's. I look forward to ringing at Scarborough again soon, and I think one evening of my holidays in future may be spent in York.—Yours sincerely,

D. J. BEACH.

Greasley, Nottingham.

JOINT MEETING AT ARKSEY

The two most pleasing features of this joint meeting of the Yorkshire Association (Southern District) and the Doncaster and District Association, held at All Saints' Church, Arksey, on February 27th, were firstly, meeting the new Vicar (the Rev. T. J. Hazell) for the first time, and, secondly, enjoying a good tea and knowing that, at the same time, the organ fund had benefited from the proceeds to the tune of £7.

Over 50 members and friends attended and enjoyed ringing on the eight bells, whose bearings were kept in good trim by genial host Mr. Ernest Cooper. Ringing was also enjoyed on the fine eight at Doncaster.

The Vicar took the chair at the Southern District's business meeting at which five new members were elected—John Laughton and Leonard Venables (Adwick-le-Street), Tom Cairns (Wentworth), John Hartley and Alan Friskney (Sheffield University). It was decided that the annual meeting be held at Boksternstone on May 15th and to include Wortley for ringing. A collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised the sum of £1 16s. 6d.

The hon. general secretary of the Association, Mr. W. F. Moreton, announced that a festival of the Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies was to be held at Wakefield on June 12th, when many towers would be available for ringing. J. J. L. G.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Under the direction of Mr. Tom Page, an evening practice meeting of the Farnham District was held at Bagshot on February 27th, about 40 ringers taking part. In the truest sense, all four Districts of the Guild were represented, together with members of adjoining Guilds. At one time there were 21 persons packed into the small ringing chamber, and although the outside temperature was near freezing, no artificial heat was required, the back enders giving visible signs of the warmth within. All were well catered for, ringing varying from rounds to Surprise Major, and the bells were kept going until 9 p.m. A really successful evening. R. B.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Most of St. Albans District managed enough courage to attend the Wheathampstead meeting on February 20th and tackle the long draught, although only the more experienced members attempted to ring the treble, which lacked a stay for a good deal of the ringing. After a service, tea was held locally.

Mrs. Amy Coburn took the chair at the meeting. It was announced that Radlett had formally requested to join the St. Albans District, and the tower was accepted and warmly welcomed. The invitation from Tewin to hold a meeting there on March 20th was accepted. As the third Saturday in April was Easter Saturday and the annual general meeting was being held in the district the following week, it was decided not to hold a District meeting that month. A vote of thanks went to the Rector and organist and also to the Wheathampstead ringers for the tea. Ringing in the evening included Spliced Surprise Minor. J. F.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

West Lindsey Branch

St. Martin's Church, Blyton, where the West Lindsey Branch held a meeting on February 27th, has some unusual features, among them being the collection of flags of various nations hanging above the nave arches. Access to the ringing chamber is by a well-worn left-handed stairway. The ring of five certainly takes some handling, but when heard from outside the bells are quite pleasant.

The service in the recently-restored side-chapel was conducted by the Rev. F. G. Calthrop, who, in his welcome, told the ringers how much he enjoyed hearing the bells. Tea in the Parish Hall was most welcome, and the lady supplying hot cups of tea was kept very busy.

Mr. C. H. Baker, vice-president, presided at the business meeting, and an apology was received from Mr. G. E. Feirn, the Branch Ringing Master. Mr. R. Brown, of Haxey, was elected a member. The usual votes of thanks were proposed from the chair.

Next meeting: Haxey, Isle of Axholme, May 15th. T. A. G.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Rochester and District

The 70-odd ringers who attended the Rochester and District quarterly meeting at Rainham on February 6th were commended by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Clifford) for their fine singing at the service. Rainham ringers and friends kindly gave a sumptuous tea.

The Vicar was voted to the chair for the short business meeting, when Mr. and Mrs. B. Sayers were elected members of the Kent County Association. Mr. F. J. Cheal reported on the committee meeting of the Association, and Mr. L. Mitchell proposed the vote of thanks. Ringing in the afternoon and evening on the fine ring of eight was under the watchful eye of Mr. L. Crouch, District Ringing Master. F. C.

FIVE SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR

Dear Sir,—The first course of the composition of five Spliced has been omitted from the figures published on page 148 of the issue of February 26th, and to avoid confusion perhaps you would repeat the details as under.

E. A. BARNETT.

BEVERLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

There was the highest attendance for many years at the Society's annual general meeting, held at Beverley on February 13th, when 69 ringers were present. The ten bells at the Minster were rung during the afternoon, before the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. B. Bull). In his address, Mr. Bull spoke of his impressions following upon a visit to Washington Cathedral (including the ringing room, via the lift!) during a recent exchange of pulpit with the Rector of Virginia Beach, and ended with the exhortation: "Do take encouragement. You may be out of sight in the belfry tower, but you are never out of our minds, nor of our gratitude."

At the annual business meeting, Miss A. C. Sellers, the youngest daughter of the late Mr. Albert Sellers, a founder member of the Society, presented the cup in memory of her father, a former president, to Mr. K. Kirk, captain of St. Andrew's Church, Kirk Ella, the tower judged to have done most for the advancement of ringing in the Society's area during the previous year.

The committee's report showed that the average attendance at the monthly meetings of 1964 was 47. Twenty-eight new members had been elected, and the total membership was 169, representing 35 towers.

Mr. D. S. Johnson, the Ringing Master, in his annual report, stated that 1964 was probably the best on record. Sixteen peals had been rung for the Society, with 35 members taking part, and 16 ringing in their first peal. Sixty quarter peals had been rung, with 62 members taking part, and nine ringing their first quarter, as well as a large number ringing their first in a particular method. Mr. Johnson commented that all the towers need more recruits and that more should be done to help towers that are silent or struggling. He suggested a meeting of tower captains to pool ideas, and pointing out that the teaching of beginners is an art in itself, added that advice on this point should be available to tower captains and, where required, lessons and demonstrations should be given.

The annual report had again been printed in booklet form, with reports from the various towers and details of peals and quarter peals rung. Miss J. Gray and Mr. N. Castle (Walington) were warmly thanked for their efforts in preparing and producing the report.

Mr. K. Kirk was elected president in succession to Mr. H. Parker, with Mr. N. Castle being re-elected vice-president. Mr. D. S. Johnson was re-elected Ringing Master, with Mr. R. Ducker as his deputy to succeed Mr. R. Gibson. Mr. A. B. Cooper was elected hon. secretary and treasurer to succeed Mr. K. Kirk, and Miss J. Gray was re-elected assistant secretary. The committee of Messrs. I. Booth, J. Parker, C. R. Robinson, J. Singleton and A. Taylor was re-elected.

Evening ringing on the bells of St. Mary's Church ended a most successful meeting. K.

ALPHABETICAL INDEX OF MINOR METHODS

Compiled by H. CHANT

Introductory Note.—The information in the following annotations has been collected from various sources over a number of years. It is impossible to compile a complete list, as some methods have different names in different parts of the country; further, there must be methods somewhere that have evaded me. Omissions, therefore, there must be, and errors, too. I should be grateful for any additional information about the methods and their origin in order that the lists may be made as comprehensive as possible; also, I would be indebted to anyone for pointing out any errors that may be detected so that these can be rectified and the tables made accurate as well as informative.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The peal for the memorial service to Sir Winston Churchill at Lincoln Cathedral was the 100th peal on the bells by the Ringing Master, Mr. John Walden.

Darlington in the past has been the scene of notable achievements. The present age is represented by a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung at St. Cuthbert's Church on February 27th, both silent and non-conducted.

The late Canon C. Carew Cox, while at Durham University, was a member of the band which rang at Gateshead, in 1908, Carter's odd bob peal of Stedman Triples, conducted by W. H. Barber, from an "inside" bell while blindfolded. He was the last survivor.

The Editor thanks Mr. K. Kirk, of Willerby, Hull, for his kind message to himself and staff on relinquishing his office as hon. secretary of the Beverley and District Ringing Society. An excellent spirit of co-operation has existed with the Beverley Society during the six years of Mr. Kirk's secretaryship which has added to the pleasures of being editor.

Tomorrow (Saturday) the Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths and 11 past masters will attempt a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Cripplegate. There is only one previous occasion when the Master and his past masters have rung a peal—that was Stedman Caters at Stepney, when Group Captain J. S. Mason was Master.

At the Henry Johnson dinner last Saturday it was announced that a long length of 16,368 Cambridge Surprise Maximus will be attempted at St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham, on May 15th, to mark the 250th anniversary of the church and its 60th year as Cathedral Church for the Diocese of Birmingham. Mr. Alan Ainsworth will conduct and the band will consist of ten of the regular Cathedral band and two others from London. The start will be at 8.30 a.m. Last Easter Monday a long length at the Cathedral was lost.

"Would Not Let Pass Unchallenged"

We like ringers who are prepared to challenge public statements unfair to the Exercise. Mr. Albert E. Garbett, of Stafford, is one. He writes: "The only reference made in the 'Daily Mail' funeral supplement to the ringing was written by Vincent Mulchrone. I quote: 'The clash of bells shouted that Churchill was gone for ever.' I was so annoyed that such excellent ringing should be described as a 'clash of bells' that I wrote to the 'Daily Mail' in protest. The music of the bells in their muffled sequence of changes was a fitting climax to a most impressive service."

From 1881 to 1965

This week in our handbell section we record the first peal on handbells of Stedman Triples to be rung by the Cambridge University Guild. Mr. V. Nutton informs us that Stedman Triples was first practised on handbells by the Guild, single-handed, on August 31st, 1881, and double-handed on April 4th, 1890. The first touch was rung on June 12th, 1890, and the first peal attempt made on May 25th, 1906. The ringers then were: H. S. T. Richardson 1-2, Rev. A. H. F. Boughie 3-4, Rev. H. Law James 5-6, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn 7-8 (cond.). The attempt lasted for 3,600 changes. Numerous attempts have since been made by various bands. On the last Guild week three such attempts failed, only one exceeding the length of a quarter peal.

Good News From Finedon

Since the rehanging of the eight bells in August last year at the Parish Church of Finedon, Northants, remarkable progress has been made. The membership of the tower is now 14; nine have now rung peals. Four have rung their first, thanks to Mr. D. G. Pearson, who is studying the art of conducting.

The first-pealers would like to thank Mr. Murray Coleman, of Rothwell, the conductor, for his help and guidance.

Farnham's Recast Bells

In the "Surrey Archaeological Collection" Vol. xii, which has just been published, there is a learned article on St. Andrew's Church, Farnham, which must have involved much research on the part of the writer, Mr. A. R. Duffy, A.R.I.B.A., F.S.A.

When it comes to bells, he writes: "The west tower contains a notable series of bells by R. Phelps, of London, cast in 1723 (Nos. 1, 4, 7) and 1735 (No. 6) with two additions by T. Mears, of London, made in 1820 (No. 5) and 1830 (No. 8). All these were recast in 1959, whether necessarily is now impossible to confirm."

We feel there is no lack of evidence as to the wisdom of this course, and if he had inquired of Mr. Charles Denver (churchwarden), with his long experience of Farnham bells, he would have reached a definite conclusion. To suggest that confirmation is impossible after only five years, when faculties are not granted lightly, is somewhat incomprehensible.

Mr. Bert Sutton Leaving Scarborough

In ringing circles Scarborough is always associated with Mr. "Bert" Sutton. The news of his impending departure to York, where he works, has been received by the ringers of St. Mary's and St. Lawrence's, Scalby. For 20 years "Bert" has been Ringing Master and tower keeper at St. Mary's and has also been responsible for training the keen and enthusiastic band for the new bells at Scalby. For St. Mary's, Mr. William Fay is the new Ringing Master and tower secretary, and Mr. Stephen Wright is his deputy and tower keeper.

A farewell social for "Bert" and his wife was held on February 18th at St. Mary's Parish House. The Vicar opened the proceedings by mentioning the sadness of saying farewell to a well-loved and respected friend. As St. Mary's bells were rung so regularly, people were apt to "take them for granted." There had never been any cause for complaint, which in itself was a compliment to Mr. Sutton's leadership.

At the Vicar's request, Mr. Fay presented Mr. Sutton with a beautiful silver tankard appropriately inscribed, as a farewell gift from the ringers of both churches in appreciation of his services to make their ringing so enjoyable. Mr. Fay concluded by saying he did not think he could fill "Bert's" shoes so expertly, but he was sure the bells would go on ringing, come what may, and he would do his best to ensure this.

Miss Kathleen Duck, the captain of the Scalby team, also thanked Mr. Sutton for all his efforts in training all the ringers at Scalby, help without which it would not have been possible for the team to be in such a healthy position.

During the evening handbells were rung and light refreshments provided. Afterwards, the new tankard was aptly "christened" in the appropriate place. E. P. K.

Hope Not Abandoned Yet

Although a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at Truro Cathedral as long ago as May 29th, 1931, by eight members of the Cathedral band with the help of Thomas G. Myers and the late Charles R. Lilley, from Plymouth, no 10-bell peal has yet been rung in Cornwall by a completely resident band. Other 10-bell peals have been rung but there has always been one or more in the band from outside the diocese and county. It seemed appropriate that this should be remedied by the first peal on the rehung Truro bells, and it appeared to be a great likelihood when a peal attempt for Bob Royal on February 20th had lasted three and a half hours. With less than two courses to ring, the conductor (Alan Carveth) had to sav "Ring rounds"—two bells had shifted! An attempt by the same band two weeks before lasted two hours and ten minutes.

In This Issue

This is a vintage issue for 12-bell peals with peals at Exeter Cathedral, St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, Painswick and five at Birmingham Cathedral. Ten-bell peals have been rung at Derby Cathedral, Beddington, Maidstone and Tewkesbury Abbey.

An Authoritative Text Book

We notice in the spring and summer book list of Messrs. Faber and Faber a book of great interest to our readers, "The Art of Science of Change Ringing on Church and Handbells" by Wilfrid G. Wilson. Commending the publication, the announcement states:

"Change Ringing" has been written to meet the widespread demand for a fully comprehensive, up-to-date and authoritative text book on the subject. Over the years a succession of bellringers has learned the elements of their art from Col. Troyte's "Handbook on Change Ringing," which was originally published in the early 19th century and of which copies are now almost unobtainable. Mr. Wilson's book is intended to be a successor to Troyte's, but it covers much more and in much greater detail. It will be welcomed by all who practise and all who are beginning to learn the art of bell ringing, and will widen still further the circle of enthusiasts.

The book has eight pages of illustrations from photographs and some live drawings. The price will be about 55s. The foreword has been written by Frederick Sharpe, F.S.A., past president of the Central Council.

Smethwick in the News

Politically, the accent is on Smethwick. But it is also in ringing news. Fifty-eight years ago it was the birthplace of Mr. George E. Fearn, the ringer of 2,000 peals. His brother Henry was also born there. Mr. Frank E. Haynes, the chairman at this year's Henry Johnson dinner, was a master at the Grammar School until his retirement to Cambridge (he still, however, teaches) and pupils at the school were Mr. Peter Bordon and Group Captain Stanley G. Mason. Another prominent native is Mr. Sidney O'C. Holloway, who was born, bred and taught to ring there and now provides pills and physic for its inhabitants!

Where Co-education Started

The quarter peal at Steep, Hants, on February 21st, was rung to celebrate the 100th birthday of John Haden Badley, founder of Bedales School, the first co-educational school. The band included two Old Boys, two present boys, the captain of Warnford ringers and the District secretary. The band wish to thank Miss Cicely Roberts for making the arrangements and for entertaining them to tea afterwards.

Sex Wrong

Darryl Gillespie, of Northenden, who was mentioned in this column last week, is not a girl but a boy! We apologise to Mr. Gillespie for our wrong assumption from the item submitted and wish him and his band every success. The quarter referred to should read Plain Bob Minor.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

The West Dorset Branch held its spring meeting at Bradpole on February 27th, when seven towers were represented and visitors from Yeovil, Yeminster and Hampreston were welcome. The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. O. L. Willmott (Vicar of Lodors), who gave an interesting address. An excellent tea was provided by the local ringers and lady helpers.

At the business meeting our chairman, Mr. W. C. Powell, gave a moving tribute to our late president of the Guild, Canon Charles Carew Cox, a former chairman of this Branch, for his life as priest and bellringer. The meeting stood in silence and paid this last respect to one whom we all held in deep and abiding affection.

A coach to enable members to attend the Guild festival at Sherborne will be arranged.

Next meeting: Burton Bradstock, April 24th. Practice meetings: Corcombe, April 7th; Askerswell, May 12th. All subject to confirmation. J. D.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

At the A.G.M. of the South-West Branch, held at Plympton St. Maurice on January 30th, the ringers stood in silence to the memory of Sir Winston S. Churchill, and Mr. W. G. Hiscott, who had been a member of the Branch from 1901-1964. The bells were rung half-muffled during the afternoon.

After 19 years as Ringing Master, secretary and treasurer Mr. T. G. Myers decided to resign from these positions on health grounds. The following officers were elected: Auditor, H. O. Thomas; Ringing Master, D. R. Bould; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. M. A. Bould; chairman, H. H. Thomas; General Committee, J. P. Sims, D. F. Wheeler and D. R. Bould.

It was also decided that the positions of chairman, auditor, Press officer and Ringing Master be limited to a period not exceeding three years.

A STALWART OF THE WORCESTERSHIRE

MR. JAMES R. NEWMAN, of Kempsey, lay secretary of the Worcestershire Association for 30 years, died in hospital on February 23rd at the age of 84.

First elected a member in 1902, his active ringing years were with the Cathedral band. He was never a big peal ringer, having rung 53 and conducted 11, his last being an officers' peal of Stedman Caters at Bromsgrove in the early 1920's. In later years, force of circumstances and a slight physical infirmity prevented much actual ringing, but he more than compensated for this in the time given and work for the Association.

After only three years of membership, and still a comparatively unknown man, he was elected as lay secretary in 1905; an election which might have proved a risk, but was a field in which he excelled. At that time, being largely rural in character, the Association consisted of only a few select bands, but was rich in having a number of shrewd, far-seeing men. One recalls such names as Parsons, Mason, Matthews, Short, Salter, Knowles, James, Bill Johnson and others, but it was Jim Newman who welded them into the team that laid the foundations of the Association as it exists today. Perhaps their biggest task—completed without difficulties and opposition—was the division into Branches and more workable areas in 1911. Jim Newman's own personal contribution was a meticulous care and attention to every detail and a beautiful copper-plate handwriting.

Retiring in 1935, for his services he was elected a "Freeman of the Association," a signal honour which had been suggested and initiated by the then Dean of Worcester a few years previously, and also a vice-president.

In public life he had also given sustained continuity of service. He had been a member of the Upton-on-Severn R.D.C. for 45 years, 26 of them as chairman, and for this he was awarded the M.B.E. He had also been a member of Severn Stoke Parish Council and treasurer of Kempsey Parish Church. His wife predeceased him some years ago and he leaves no family.

The funeral took place at Kempsey Parish Church on Friday, February 27th, and was attended by representatives of all organisations with which he had been connected, and following the service the bells were rung half-muffled. J. D. J.

THE RINGING WORLD

I AM not a bellringer. But one thing I have discovered during my three years at Cambridge University is that if you get two or more ringers together in a room all normal conversation comes to a sudden end, and a bellringers' dialogue about towers, ringing nights, bell weights (you know the sort of thing I mean) immediately ensues.

For the next three hours.

Even apart from this I had always been a staunch opponent of the ringing world. I didn't mind Sunday ringing so much—at a distance (the walk from Granchester to Cambridge by the river being very pleasant with distant bells)—but weekday practice nights were unbearable. Especially if you were trying to concentrate for an essay on "The epistemology of Descartes" in close proximity to a bell tower. Cambridge is blessed not with one but four towers, three of which are very close to each other and to my college—indeed to almost all the colleges. Practice nights, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, were occasions on which you closed your books, left your vibrating room and escaped to a cinema at the far end of town.

However, as a result of two happy experiences in December of last year, I came to revise my opinion of both ringing and ringers.

I was due to go for an interview in Bristol University and a friend who is a ringer offered me a lift down. But—there was a condition. He would have to call at a church in Bedford for a peal on the way. Not relishing this condition one bit, but happy to be saving train fares, and even happier not to be hitching in terrible weather. I decided to take the risk.

I have never been in a bell tower before and quite possibly will never do so again, but sitting in St. Paul's tower at Bedford, in spite of the freezing cold of a December evening, was a fascinating experience. Three and a quarter hours later I heard my first Yorkshire Surprise Royal and had admired the intensive concentration of ten men ringing 5,040 changes.

But although the skill and technical accomplishment of the ringers made a great impression on me, this was exceeded by the friendliness and remarkable "family feeling," if I may put it that way, which I found to exist in the ringing world and which I was to experience further in Bristol. For here I discovered that a bellringer at the university, hearing that we were coming for interview, although she did not know us personally, had invited us for tea. It seems to me that this friendliness and community feeling which ringers have is something rare in our society and something that should be carefully maintained. It is a pearl of great price.

So I revise my opinions of bellringers'. I admire your skill; but above all I admire the remarkable fellowship that you enjoy.

ALAN BILLINGS.

Emmanuel College, Cambridge.

THE HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER

THE TOAST OF THE EVENING WAS GEORGE E. FEARN, THE 2,000 PEALER

CONTINGENTS from the Lake District and Newcastle upon Tyne were among those who attended the 77th annual Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner at the Imperial Hotel, Birmingham, on March 6th. The occasion was not so much a reverence for the past but to honour the present and in particular Mr. G. E. Fearn, the hon. secretary of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, on ringing 2,000 peals. But it was not merely this great achievement but the spirit he had introduced into Birmingham that those present desired to honour in an appropriate toast. This was admirably summed up by an old colleague, Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd, in a letter to the chairman, Mr. Frank E. Haynes, in which he wrote: "George has brought to Birmingham ringers and ringing a unity that it has never before known in the whole of its long history." This sentiment was heartily endorsed.

Welcoming the company, the chairman said their gatherings had not been quite so large in the last few years as they used to be, and they could understand it as there was now a ringers' dinner almost every Saturday. At one time there were only four in the ringers' calendar — the Henry Johnson, the Bristol, the College Youths' and the Snowdon dinners. The social side had developed among their young people enormously; there were many more dinners and many liked such gatherings to be of a more informal character than their own dinner; nevertheless he felt that the Henry Johnson occupied an important place in the campanological calendar.

Among those would have liked to be with them that night was their vice-president, Mr. Frank Smallwood. He was sure they were all sorry to read of the passing of Mrs. Smallwood; and another apology was from Edgar Shepherd.

THE CHURCHILL OF RINGERS

Henry Johnson to the majority of ringers was one of the names of ringers in the past. He did not propose to go into a long speech concerning him, but thought it was sufficient to say that he was one of the outstanding ringers of Birmingham. He was honoured by the whole country, and from far and wide people contributed to the memorial erected to him. It seemed that he occupied in his day the same position as Sir Winston Churchill did among statesmen of his time.

As he proposed the toast, he thought of other famous ringers of Birmingham. First of all was Albert Walker, who was for so many years the leading 12-bell Stedman Cinques ringer in the country. He also thought of George Swann, who was an expert in his own field of Stedman Triples, and of Morris J. Morris, who had outstanding ability as a composer and, in the somewhat limited field which composers of his day had, he achieved no little distinction. Birmingham had indeed been fortunate, but there were still ringers there whose names would be remembered from time to time along with those he had mentioned.

The toast was drunk in silence.

Mr. David Beacham, hon. secretary of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, said it was an honour to him to represent his Association on this occasion and propose the toast of "Continued Prosperity to the St. Martin's Guild." They were so close neighbours of St. Martin's Guild that in places their boundaries overlapped. He discussed this overlapping with a friend, who told him that they got a lot of goodwill from these towers, which was very true.

GEORGE FEARN'S FIRST PEAL

No doubt that later on that day reference would be made to the great achievement of their worthy secretary in ringing 2,000 peals. It, however, gave him great pleasure to announce that his first peal was rung at Stone, in Worcestershire—a peal of Grandsire Doubles

MR. FRANK E. HAYNES
This year's chairman

on Boxing Day, 1928. The relationship between their Association and St. Martin's had been very good. The first peal of Cinques for his Association was rung at the Bull Ring, conducted by William Short. In recent times St. Martin's Guild had revisited Worcester Cathedral, and there was another occasion when five of the ringers joined seven of theirs in a Bull Ring peal.

In the matter of peals their Guild was exceedingly prosperous. They had only to look at "the Taylor list" and for tower bell peals George Fearn was at the top and the next were the two Fellows, who were also associated with the Worcestershire Association. He was very glad that two ringers of Bristol had compiled that list. It showed that peal ringing was not confined to a few, because the total was 3,600. Some years ago he had an idea of collecting these statistics but he never got down to it. This was at the time when there was correspondence in "The Ringing World" which tried to divide ringers into two categories—peal ringers and Sunday service ringers. In his opinion there were no such categories. All the peal ringers he knew were Sunday service ringers, but all the Sunday service ringers he knew were not peal ringers.

He sometimes wondered what attracted ringers to Birmingham. There was the high standard of ringing, there was its industry, the University, and the ladies of King's Norton. In the history of Treble Bob, Snowdon refers to Birmingham somewhat contemptuously as "the hardware town," but he (Mr. Beacham) always looked forward to his trips to Birmingham and ringing there whatever Jasper Snowdon might think.

Introduced by the chairman as "among the most brilliant ringers attracted to Birmingham," Mr. Alan Ainsworth, the Ringing Master of the Guild, replied to the toast. He said among the attractions of Birmingham were George and Henry, and that was a cause of the prosperity of the Guild. Their quarterly meetings had been fairly well attended, but he had a big surprise when over 60 people turned up for a practice meeting at Castle Bromwich, a six-bell tower. There was evidently a demand for this type of meeting, which was an innovation of the last three or four years.

The tower to show the most development was Perry Barr, under David Purnell. Erdington Abbey was another good tower, but unfortunately the authorities were unable to give them any time in the week for practice.

PEAL FAILURES

Peal ringing was flourishing in the Guild, and perhaps most of them would think that they were successful in every peal attempt, but at least 25 peals were lost during 1964 and 15 at St. Philip's Cathedral. The most notable failure was the attempt on Easter Monday, when a mixed band came to a conclusion after 11,000 changes of Cambridge Maximus. Provost Sinker had asked the St. Martin's Guild to ring a long peal to mark the 250th anniversary of St. Philip's Church and the 60th anniversary of St. Philip's being made the Cathedral of the Diocese. On May 15th ten of the regular Cathedral band and two from London would attempt 31 courses (16,368 changes) of Cambridge Maximus. It would start at 8.30 a.m. and continue, if successful, to 8.30 p.m.

Another notable event was George Fearn's visit to Washington to open the bells of Washington Cathedral. When he came back he was bubbling over with the news of his experiences. They had had trouble with clappers breaking and they might have noticed a gap of 10 or 12 weeks in their peals at St. Philip's. A new clapper had been made by Mr. Taylor, and since then there had been no trouble. The annual general meeting last January had been one of the most lively in recent years and, judging by the discussion, next year's would be more lively. As for the future, they envisaged more Saturday evening practices and a striking competition in the summer, when all towers would be invited to take part. He assured Mr. Beacham that they were not content to rest on their laurels but would continue for progress in the years to come.

The Rt. Rev. George Sinker, Provost of Birmingham, proposed the toast of "The Visitors." He said the problem had been propounded as to what attracted people to Birmingham. He had been there for three years and each year he loved it more and more. He must remind them that this was a subject of a competition in the local Press some years ago. The first prize was a week's holiday in Birmingham and the second prize two weeks' holiday!

It had been a joy to him to hear the bells of the Cathedral rung and he was distressed at the failure of the peal attempt last Easter Monday and hoped that on May 15th they would have a better chance of success. Might he make a suggestion? That this year they attempted Oxford Treble Bob Maximus instead of Cambridge Maximus.

Mr. Paul Taylor said the last big occasion he was called to perform in public was at the dedication of the Cathedral carillon in Washington. The Provost asked him to read the lesson. It was the usual lesson at dedications about the trumpets sounding, which he knew by heart. To his surprise the American Bible was different. He commented on this to the Provost, who said the last Englishman to read a lesson there was Mr. Harold Macmillan, who insisted on having his own Bible.

The speech was followed by Miss Muriel Reay presenting a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Sinker.

THE 2,000 PEALS

The great moment of the evening came when the chairman rose to honour Mr. George E. Fearn on ringing 2,000 peals. Mr. Haynes said Mr. Edgar Shepherd, in his apology for absence, had written what he would have liked to have said in desiring to associate himself very sincerely with the congratulations that would doubtless be offered to George Fearn on his splendid achievement.

The letter goes on: "There are many of us who have rung with him in a great number of his peals and will recollect with gratitude the privileges we have enjoyed by reason of his constant help and encouragement. Indeed, his compelling enthusiasm has often led us into enterprises we should never otherwise have considered, and I am sure numbers of my old friends will agree that it is in the main due to him that we have been able to enjoy ringing in the higher methods.

"One other important fact is worthy of note at this time. George has brought to Birmingham ringers and ringing a unity that it has never before known in the whole of its long history."

The chairman added that Mr. Shepherd was very interested in the history of bell ringers and had written numerous articles and conducted considerable research into the activities of Birmingham ringers. He would say what Mr. Shepherd said was absolutely true.

OTHER THINGS BESIDES PEALS

At the time he was resident in Birmingham, continued Mr. Haynes, he had often tried to get George to make a speech, but that night he could not get out of it, but they had to wait until he had rung 2,000 peals for him to get on his feet. "I am sure we all admire his achievement very much, particularly as we remember that while he has been ringing 2,000 peals he has taught a large number of people to ring. He has repaired an unlimited number of bell ropes, as one of the things he rather fancies himself as a judge is the lifetime of a bell rope. He will examine a rope just before the start of a peal and will say: 'It will just about last out'—and it did. He has not only been secretary of the Guild for 17 or 18 years, but also served as tower warden and tower keeper of St. Philip's and St. Martin's and is a leading light in their Guild. George is the second bell-ringer to ring 2,000 peals, the other being Ernest Morris, and all being well the day will not be long delayed when George will be the kingpin of bellringers."

A toast to "George, the 2,000 pealer," was drunk with enthusiasm.

A BIG SURPRISE

Mr. Fearn, in reply, said the toast had come as a big surprise to him, as it came from their chairman, who for the last 30 years was his fellow prisoner in crime in peal ringing. Two thousand was just a number; it was no different from 100, and no one could achieve that without the backing and strong support of a good many first-class ringers, and that had always been his good fortune to encounter.

The other essential was that one should have a tower that was free for peal ringing on a certain night of the week, and there again they had been most fortunate in having the tower of Birmingham Cathedral, and also they had a Provost who was very fond of bells and ringers. He thanked them for the way they received the toast.

The toast of "The Ringing World" was proposed by Mr. Sidney O.C. Holloway, who said he was born and bred and learned to ring at Smethwick, and had been a reader of "The Ringing World" for 35 years.

196 CHURCHILL PEALS

The Editor, in reply, said the audited accounts would show that the step taken to increase the price from 8d. to 9d. was justified. At the present time they were about 80 light in their number of postal subscribers. The ringing for the passing of Sir Winston Churchill had been the heaviest since the Coronation and so far had amounted to 196 peals and 487 quarter peals being received. He paid a tribute to the work of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor in preparing the personal peal analysis for 1964, which was an amazing revelation of the extent of peal ringing and that it was not limited to a few.

The Master (Mr. Richard C. Ingram) proposed the health of the Master, and Mr.

Haynes, in reply, recalled that he came to Birmingham on the first Sunday in September, 1929, and, rather terrified, went up the steps to St. Martin's belfry bearing a letter of introduction from the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, a fine tenor ringer. This he presented to the captain, Mr. James Rose. He stood in a touch of Cinques and afterwards Paddon Smith came up to him and said: "If you keep on trying you might make a good 12-bell ringer!" Except for holidays, he rang for morning service for 35 years. One of the things he missed at Cambridge was the Stedman Cinques of a Sunday rung at St. Martin's. The chairman said he was at Cambridge University with Chris Woolley, Stephen Wood and Wilfrid Hooton. They met on a Friday night for handbell ringing and within a fortnight of starting with them he rang in a peal of Plain Bob Major.

During the evening a touch of Stedman Caters was rung by John Anderson 1-2, F. W. Perrens 3-4, R. W. Pipe 5-6, J. L. Millhouse 7-8, F. E. Haynes 9-10.

THE COMPANY

The chairman was supported by Mr. R. C. Ingram (the Master) and Mrs. Ingram, the Rt. Rev. George Sinker and Mrs. Sinker, Canon F. F. Guy Warman, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fearn, Mr. F. W. Perrens, Miss N. Price, Mr. P. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. S. O'C. Holloway, Mr. Alan Ainsworth (Ringing Master), Mr. F. E. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish (Nuneaton), Mr. and Mrs. P. Border, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Group Captain J. S. Mason (Bushey), Miss M. Reay, Mr. H. H. Fearn, Mr. R. W. Pipe and Miss G. Schofield.

Messrs. A. W. T. Cleaver (Bristol), E. N. Harrison, F. Lee, J. E. Anderson and the Misses M. E. Murcott, J. Sweeny and I. Thomson (Newcastle upon Tyne), Messrs. B. C. Ashford, D. Beacham, C. W. Cooper, R. Chance and J. Stanier (Worcestershire Association), Mr. and Mrs. N. Harding (King's Lynn), Mr. J. Millhouse, Miss B. Millhouse, Miss A. Bateson, Messrs. G. Paul and G. R. Parker (Lincoln), Messrs. V. W. Rigg, T. J. Warner, A. Crabtree and G. Palmer (Solihull), Mr. and Mrs. P. Handley and Miss C. Stockdale (Kendal), Mr. D. Vincent (Cheshire), Mr. and Mrs. R. Niven, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. A. Woolley.

DEDICATIONGADDESBY, LEICS

The lovely old Parish Church of St. Luke, Gaddesby, in the heart of Leicestershire, was filled on March 7th at Evensong for the dedication of the new bells by the Rt. Rev. R. R. Williams, Bishop of Leicester.

The three old bells, together with three new trebles, have been hung in a new frame by John Taylor and Co., this having been generously paid for by Captain Ross Wilson, of Gaddesby. After the third Collect the donor, churchwardens, the Vicar (the Rev. Ian Phelps) and the Bishop proceeded to the belfry, where the new bells were dedicated. They were then rung up in peal and rung in rounds by the following officers of the Melton District: J. H. Cook, Mrs. M. Stimson, M. T. Stimson, Miss B. Smith, W. Clamp and R. H. Cook. After the service, touches of Minor were rung. Mr. J. P. Fidler and his son Arthur were present to represent the bellfounders.

SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS

The long-awaited Collection of Surprise Methods has now been published by the Central Council and congratulations are due to the Methods Committee for their painstaking work and for the clear, concise and accurate presentation of their matter.

To older ringers it will bring memories of the early endeavours in this field, and younger ringers will note with interest the rapid development of Surprise Major ringing in the 20th century.

Prior to 1901, when that queen of methods, Bristol, was first rung to a peal, only Superlative, London, Cambridge, New Cambridge, Gloucester and Norfolk had been rung. In those days the producing, composing and ringing of a new method was a considerable achievement, and new methods appeared only very infrequently. Some were variations of those mentioned, such as Southgate (Superlative) and Premier (Bristol) but there did follow some really good methods, including at least three which are now standard: Yorkshire, Rutland and Pudsey. Even so, the total number of new methods pealed in the 25 years up to 1926 was only 18—less than one per year.

The next development came around 1930, when expert bands—notably those in Suffolk and Hertfordshire—began to ring peals in new methods almost as fast as they could be produced. The number of new methods so rung grew with increasing speed until the outbreak of war and "the ban," by which time some 110 more had been added to the list. But neither composers nor ringers were content with any method that came out of the computer (in those days human, not electronic). They demanded good music, regular coursing pairs, and freedom from false course heads, and no doubt many hundreds of methods produced on paper were rejected because they lacked those qualities.

This brings the story up to the post-war years, and the phenomenal increase which can only be called a "Surprise Major Explosion" and which has led to the urgent need for this Collection, both for the record of what has been done, and for the avoidance of the duplication which was becoming so frequent.

NEW MINOR METHODS

Dear Sir,—Two queries arise out of Cyril Wratten's letter in the issue of February 12th:

(a) The naming of Plain Minor methods to fit in with the names of their "parent" Triple methods; (b) The ringing of Minor Methods with 56 places made without the treble being involved.

I will deal first with query (a). The methods were not deliberately renamed because:

(i) I was not aware of these Triples methods.
(ii) Even had I been aware of them, the published names would still have stood since I do not accept the extension principle of Plain Bob Minor + Hunt bell = Grandsire Triples as being of any progressive merit. I should like to know how many of the Triples methods which Mr. Wratten cites have been pealed. (Apart from Stansted College, Morris' "istory and Art of Change Ringing" quotes none of these.)

There are several points arising out of the above. There is no case for renaming the methods we have rung, especially as the type-study principle of Plain Bob Minor + Hunt = Grandsire Triples itself involves a change of name. For any renaming to take place it must be established firstly that Plain Bob Minor + Hunt bell = Plain Bob Triples. This would, of course, be unacceptable because we already have a different Plain Bob Triples based on a different principle. St. Clement's and St. Simon's confuse the issue further. I think it can be justifiably stated that if a method is to have a double-hunt then it must have a double-hunt on all numbers of bells, even or odd. Thus St. Clement's Major should be, if the idea is adhered to, as follows: 38.18 x 18 x 38 x 38 x 38 x 38 x 18 x L.H. = 18 2463857.

No further comment!

Secondly, perhaps someone will point out the merits of double-hunt methods for me, since they seem to have no value for progress to other methods, they possess neither musical nor compositional qualities, and they cloud the extension issue. In fact methods such as Grandsire are more or less a waste of three bells, tenor included. It will take a strong argument to convince me and many other ringers, too, that such methods possess qualities unobtainable in single-hunt methods or in Major methods. I might point out here that not all music in ringing is produced with the tenor bumping, or being dragged along behind, as is often the case.

I have digressed a little, or perhaps too much, from the issue under consideration, so now to return to query (b) and methods with 56 places. Mr. Wratten's incidental remark on this topic is quite uncalled for without further justification. If he had stated reason or reasons why he seemingly disapproves of methods with 56 places, then his last paragraph would have been of some value. As he hasn't given any evidence in the case against the use of 56 places, I will try to provide him with "food for thought" or "tips for his arrows," according to the way he looks at this problem.

Methods with 56 places (i.e., 5ths and 6ths without the treble) are as yet few and far between, and I suppose this is because 65s at backstroke cannot be avoided. This objection might be acceptable if only plain courses of the methods were rung, but, if extents or peals are the significant factors, then this question must be seen in another light. Mr. Wratten must surely know that there are regular methods which can't fail to produce 65s in an extent, and moreover, the C.C. Collection indirectly indicates which these are. It is more than obvious that the question is one of personal tastes and the objection to 65s is for some ringers the traditional "thing to do." Following on from this, one might object to 65s at backstroke in 1-2 and prefer only 56s on the ground that they sound better and are easier to ring. I wonder if many ringers have ever considered whether a method like Double Norwich, to take an obvious example, would sound better if it had 78s at backstroke rather than at hand?

Nicholaston Bob Minor, the method quoted by Mr. Wratten, has 65s in the plain course. So what? Does one ring methods solely for what the plain course produces? Is it immaterial what places are made in 5-6 when 5 and 6 aren't there together? Are there any reasons for not accepting 56 places? I leave these questions for someone else to answer.

Of the nine methods given in place notation by Mr. Wratten, four have been pealed although three have not yet appeared in print. The fourth, the so-called "contraction" of St. Bride's Pleasure Triples, was rung last November at Langland Court. The unnamed methods we hope to ring in due course.—Yours sincerely, Swansea.

BRIAN J. WOODRUFFE.

DOUBLES—CENTRAL COUNCIL'S RULING

Dear Sir,—The reply to Mr. C. F. Jerram's query ("The Ringing World," 1965, page 165) regarding the callings of peals of Doubles may be found in the "Decisions of the Central Council." The relevant section requires that peals of Doubles shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in (i) true and complete 120's; (ii) round blocks of two or more 120's, provided that each of the 120's is itself a true and complete round block; (iii) Morris's and Pitman's 240's; (iv) combinations of (i), (ii), (iii) or any two of them.

The position is thus far clearly defined, but an interesting point arises in that 240's other than the two mentioned are not at present allowed. In "The Ringing World," 1962, page 152, Mr. B. D. Price published two 240's of Grandsire Doubles, with the claim that, together with Morris's and Pitman's, these were the only 240's obtainable in which each change occurs both at handstroke and backstroke. If this claim be correct, there would seem to be no logical reason why the Central Council should continue to refuse to recognise peals of Doubles in which Mr. Price's callings are used.—Yours faithfully,

J. DAVID ATKINSON.

Macclesfield.

HER HUSBAND'S BOB

Dear Sir,—I do sympathise with Miss Grainger ("Ringing World," page 132).

Just after I was married my husband took me to my first bellringing practice. I sat in a corner of the belfry and watched, fascinated. Suddenly my husband yelled "Ba-a-a-rb"! Thinking this was to bellringers what "fore" is to golfers, I ducked, then looked anxiously up waiting for the bell to fall. Nothing happened, and I settled down again to watch and listen. Again he called out "Sin girl." As the only female present, I felt somewhat embarrassed, but as none of the ringers batted an eye, I hoped that if I pretended I hadn't heard the incident would be forgotten.

The end of the story is obvious. I became a ringer and learned to treat these odd commands with as much nonchalance as the rest of the band.—Yours faithfully,

MARGARET WRIGLEY.

St. Julians, Malta.

EASTER MONDAY PEALS

Dear Sir,—It seems surprising that there has been no comment from the organisers of the two peal attempts at Cambridge or the tower captain concerned! Perhaps it is not too late; but in the meantime we can only hope that they will have the good grace to postpone their arrangements until a more acceptable date.

Whether or not this action will result in the two towers being made available to the Ely Diocesan Association for their annual general meeting is another matter, but to ring peals on that day would certainly be a very unfriendly act towards the Association.—Yours faithfully,

ROSEMARY J. PALMER

Fordham.

"MAURETANIA SURPRISE MAJOR"

Dear Sir,—Through the medium of your columns I would like to thank the following people for pointing out the error in the place notation of the method rung at Knowle, Bristol, on January 30th: Mr. G. W. Massey, Mr. A. R. Peake, Mr. C. A. Wratten, Mr. J. R. Mayne, Mr. E. W. Tipler, Mr. S. Burton and Mr. J. R. Ketteringham. It has been an education to me to learn who keep records of methods rung and could come in very useful on some future occasion.

The notation was, of course, published incorrectly and the amended figures can be found in "Belfry Gossip" of the February 27th issue.

As for Mr. Kench's letter, I can only say that I was horrified when I discovered that the names he mentions are names of British public houses—really! Whatever will people suggest next? Apparently it did not enter Mr. Kench's head that the next method we name could be "Lucetania" or "Queen Mary" Surprise Major. Actually, we intended for a special reason to call it "Mauritania," after a State in French West Africa, but, unfortunately, spelling was never my strongest point!—Yours sincerely,

D. J. HUNT.

Whitehall, Bristol.

HULL UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Sir,—After making quite sure of the meaning of the word "quiescent" I feel I must defend the above non-existing Society.

During the session 1962-1963 Hull University had five regular Sunday ringers. Since the Students' Union will only recognise a Society with a minimum of 20 members, such a Society could not be formed. Attempts were made, in vain unfortunately, to obtain the use of our own tower. (St. Mary's, Lowgate, aren't really unringable!)

This session now only sees one regular Sunday ringer, and whoever "fails to locate a correspondent . . ." wants shooting!

Hull University. M. C. F.

LEADING CLERICAL PEAL RINGER

Sir,—The leading clerical peal ringer of 1964 still has some way to go to exceed the Rev. F. E. Robinson's best year total. He nine times exceeded 62 (every year, in fact, from 1902 to 1907). Three times he reached 86 and once, in 1906, he achieved 92. I should think it is unlikely (and I am sure Leslie Paul would think it undesirable) that any of us ringing clerics today will ever exceed the Rev. F. E. Robinson's yearly totals, or, indeed, his gross total of 1,261 peals.—Yours faithfully,

P. T. ROBBINS.

Charing Vicarage.

A POINT OF ETIQUETTE

Dear Sir,—Owing time is upon us and the letters of advice to organisers published in "The Ringing World" seemed to me sound and, if followed, will leave little to be desired by those responsible for giving the kind permission to ring at the various towers.

However, it is not always the organiser who is the leader of the party, and from experience I pass on a thought for the latter.

Usually one or more of the "locals" meet the visitors with a welcome, thus surely it is etiquette to offer a rope in at least one touch, even though they may not be of the "standard" of the visitors. More often than otherwise this offer will be refused in view of the fact that it is a visitors' day, but at least the locals will not feel snubbed.

I write as an organiser, a leader and a local.—Yours sincerely,

H. A. PRICE.

Yatton, Bristol.

P.S.—The register idea of organisers would be completely unworkable.—H. A. P.

OBITUARY

CANON C. CAREW COX

AN APPRECIATION

From W. C. West,
Hon. Secretary, Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

The Salisbury Guild has suffered a grievous and irreplaceable loss in the passing of its president which will be felt for a long time. The ringer in the far-off country tower as well as in the towns who usually attended the annual festival and hung on to every word he said, will miss him; he was always very generous in his advice and encouragement, whether to a rounds ringer or experienced change ringer; he knew them all and was highly respected in return.

At a memorial service held in Lyme Regis on February 26th the Rev. R. L. Higham paid a great tribute to the Canon, speaking of his faithfulness, his strength of character, his implicit faith in the teaching of the Church, and how he used to draw the love and respect from all with whom he came in contact. Continuing, he spoke of the crushing blow of personal sorrow and loss sustained by his wife; they had been sending to her from their hearts their deepest sympathy in her hour of grief.

QUARTER PEALS

Bull (first of Stedman) 5, B. D. Price 6, N. G. Kne 7, P. Roydon 8. First quarter of Stedman Triples by band residing locally.

MR. BERNARD S. FISHER

The death occurred at the Gresham House Nursing Home, Olney, Bucks, of Mr. Barnard S. Fisher, at the ripe old age of 95 years.

Born at Weston Underwood, he learned to ring when quite young. On moving to Olney, where he worked in the boot and shoe factory, he joined the local band. A founder member of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, he rang about 26 peals.

The funeral service took place in the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, and interment was in the local cemetery.

In the evening the bells were rung half-muffled to his favourite method—Grandsire Triples. M. C.

MR. L. A. TIDY

Limpsfield Chart, Surrey, was the home of Leonard Arthur Tidy, tower captain at St. Andrew's Church. Now he has gone to his rest, after a life-span of almost 83 years. His death on March 1st occurred only six days after that of his wife, Ellen.

Mr. Tidy enjoyed the distinction of being the only parishioner to have held office continuously at St. Andrew's—where he and Mrs. Tidy were married in June, 1914—since its consecration in 1896. Already in the choir at the time the foundation stone was laid, he was successively choirboy, chairman and ringer. By 1911 he was vice-captain of the resident band, which altogether rang 202 720's in that year. He became tower captain in 1913 and remained actively so until January of this year. An able conductor, he kept no personal record of peals rung but regularly took part in peals locally and with visiting bands.

The funeral service for Mrs. Tidy was on February 26th; for Mr. Tidy on March 6th. On both occasions the church was thronged with relatives and friends, many of whom last met in June last year on the happy occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Tidy's golden wedding anniversary. The Rev. P. M. Haynes, addressing the bereaved family on February 26th, referred to the wonderful and lasting legacy of happy family life, bequeathed to them by Mrs. Tidy, who was a loyal member of the Mothers' Union. Many friends, ringing and otherwise, have come to feel that they share in this legacy because of the warmth of interest and friendship which was characteristic of both partners.

On March 6th the funeral service for Mr. Tidy was preceded by half-muffled ringing. Other ringers from further afield joined members of the resident band in the tower as the cortege began its journey from the church to the Surrey and Sussex Crematorium.

R. W. S.

MR. J. GORDON

Jim's sudden passing on March 3rd in his 49th year, probably of little consequence to present-day ringers, came as a shock to those privileged to remember and to really know him. His loyal service to the Exercise and in particular to Hagbourne, albeit a short span of time, knew no parallel.

Not to be discouraged by the war-time ban on church bells, Jim mastered change ringing entirely by handbell practice, making in his own words a "shocking mess of things" when the time came to handle a tower bell. We well remember, too, the manner in which he impeccably ironed out that shocking mess to a perfection crowned by calling Holt's Original.

Jim took leave of ringing some ten years ago for various reasons, sort them out as we will, but he left by a front door which he knew to the last remained ever open for his return. We were so sure of that return. As it is, thanks for happy memories, Jim.

GEORGE.

MR. G. C. WOODLEY

The sudden death of Mr. Charles Woodley, of Woolbrook Farm, Sidmouth, Devon, on February 13th, came as a great shock to his family and his ringing friends in East Devon. Although 82 years old, he was extremely active and regularly attended Sunday ringing and practice nights at Sidbury—in fact he was ringing on the Sunday before his death and only a month ago took part in a quarter peal.

Charlie started ringing some 70 years ago in his native village of Talaton, but came to live in Sidmouth in 1900, where he learned method ringing by walking to Harford on practice nights—some four miles each way. In 1904 he returned to Talaton and was subsequently responsible for forming a change ringing band there in the early 1920's.

Once again he returned to Sidmouth, this time for good, in 1929 and remained unattached until 1938, when he joined the Sidbury band. For 12 years he represented the Guild of Devonshire Ringers on the Central Council and was chairman of the East Devon Branch from 1953 to 1962, when on his retirement he was elected a vice-president of the Guild.

Fortunately the name Woodley will not be lost in East Devon ringing circles, for his son, Reg, and daughter-in-law—to whom we extend our deepest sympathy—are carrying on the good examples set by Charlie in promoting change ringing coupled with good striking (he was a stickler for good striking) in East Devon. C. C. T.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Sixty members and friends representing 13 towers attended a service and the annual meeting of Hereford District held at St. Nicholas' Church and Institute, Hereford, on February 13th.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. F. W. Heath, and the organist was Mr. G. Bailey. At the business meeting, presided over by the Vicar of Peterchurch, the Rev. J. C. De La Tour Davies, the secretary, Mr. R. G. Powell, reported there were 102 ringing members.

Officers elected were: Ringing Master, Mr. T. Woods (Hereford Cathedral); joint Assistant Ringing Masters, Mr. M. Powell (Kingstone) and Miss J. Caligari (Credenhill); secretary, the Rev. H. C. Sell (Fownhope); auditor, Mr. J. Worsey.

As far as is known, 17-year-old Miss Caligari is the first lady Assistant Ringing Master and the youngest in the history of the District. Four new members were elected to the Guild.

REPORT AS TO MEMBERSHIP

The hon. secretary reported that 60 Societies were affiliated with 165 members. The rules provided for 24 honorary members and there were seven life members, making a total possible membership of 196. There were five vacancies among honorary members and two among representative members. All subscriptions had been paid.

APOLOGIES FOR ABSENCE

Apologies were received from Messrs. H. O. Baker, T. A. Bevis, E. Billings, L. G. Brett, P. I. Chapman, J. W. Clarke, Miss D. E. Colgate, Mr. J. R. Cooper, Miss M. R. Cross, Messrs. J. T. Dyke, E. H. Edge, J. H. Edwards, J. P. Fidler, G. W. Fletcher, Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, Messrs. N. Golden, F. E. Hawthorne, F. E. Haynes, A. A. Hughes, R. Leigh, Mrs. C. C. Marshall, Messrs. D. H. B. Millward, G. McKay, T. G. Myers, R. H. Newton, C. W. Ottley, A. J. Pitman, T. H. Radford, F. W. Rogers, G. Salmon, D. J. Smith, L. Stilwell, C. G. J. Watts, J. J. Webb, W. C. West, R. St. C. Wilson, H. Windsor and A. T. Wingate.

PRESENTATION OF NEW MEMBERS TO THE PRESIDENT

The following were presented: Messrs. T. Darch and H. Pidler (Devon Association), J. F. M. Maybrey (Guildford Guild), P. Morgan (Hereford Guild), J. P. Partington (Lancashire Association), W. L. Weller (Sussex Association), A. J. Davidson and A. Locke (Truro Guild).

ELECTION OF LIFE MEMBER

Mr. A. A. Hughes was elected, proposed on behalf of the Standing Committee by Mr. F. W. Perrens, seconded by Mr. J. F. Smallwood.

ELECTION OF HONORARY MEMBERS

The retiring members, Mr. G. W. Pipe and Mrs. R. F. B. Speed, were re-elected, and Mr. F. A. White was elected, on the proposition of Mr. F. E. Dukes, seconded by Mr. F. Sharpe.

It was agreed that Mr. John Betjeman be approached with a view to becoming an honorary member.

LOSS OF MEMBERS THROUGH DEATH

The president reported the death of the following members and past members of the Council, the assembly standing in silence:—

Messrs. A. C. Hazelden (1930—63); E. H. Lewis (1908—63, president of the Council 1930—57); D. Ogden (1963); W. Rose (1946—56); H. Stalham (1954—62); T. H. Taffender (1900—63); and Canon R. F. Wilkinson (1929—37). Tributes were paid to the memory of all the deceased.

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING

The minutes as published in "The Ringing World" of March 20th, 1964, were adopted on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. F. I. Hairs.

REPORTS

These have been published in "The Ringing World" as shown:—

HONORARY SECRETARY AND TREASURER

(May 29th, 1964, page 355)

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. W. Ayre.

HONORARY LIBRARIAN

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. F. W. Perrens, seconded by Mr. F. Sharpe. It was agreed that "Village Bells" should not be reprinted.

BALANCE SHEET AND ACCOUNTS

(June 5th, 1964, page 370)

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

TRUSTEES OF THE CARTER RINGING MACHINE

(May 29th, 1964, page 355)

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. D. Hughes, seconded by Mr. G. S. Morris.

STANDING COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. F. I. Hairs. The secretary reported that Mr. D. Hughes had been co-opted to the committee under Rule 12 (ii).

"THE RINGING WORLD" COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. J. F. Smallwood, seconded by Mr. R. S. Anderson. Mr. Smallwood informed the members that he had retired as convener of the committee and that Mr. Anderson had taken over.

Mr. J. E. Jeater, who for many years had kept the accounts of the paper, was introduced to the meeting amid applause. Mr. Jeater expressed thanks for his reception.

The secretary gave notice on behalf of the Standing Committee under Rule 7 (ii) that the election of Mr. Smallwood as a life member under Rule 7 (i) (b) would be proposed in 1965.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING AND EDUCATION COMMITTEE

(June 5th, 1964, page 373)

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. N. Chaddock, seconded by Mr. F. B. Lufkin.

LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE

(June 5th, 1964, page 374)

TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE

(June 5th, 1964, page 372)

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. F. Sharpe, seconded by the Rev. J. G. M. Scott. It was agreed that the committee could spend up to £500 on the production of a comprehensive book on the preservation, etc., of church bells.

BROADCASTING AND TELEVISION COMMITTEE

(June 5th, 1964, page 371)

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. H. J. Sanger, seconded by Mr. D. A. Bayles.

BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. W. H. Viggers, seconded by Mr. J. Willis. Mr. W. Parrott was added to the committee. It was noted that Mr. T. J. Lock had become convener.

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. W. Ayre, seconded by Canon K. W. H. Felstead.

OVERSEAS RINGING COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. G. W. Pipe, seconded by Mr. A. V. Sheppard. It was agreed that the terms of reference of the committee should be:—

"To keep in touch with and report to the Council on the activities of ringers and ringing outside the British Isles; to provide all possible information and assistance, when requested or when thought desirable, and when practicable to establish contact with visiting overseas ringing."

Mr. G. W. Pipe gave a report on the Washington visit.

PEALS COLLECTION COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. W. E. Critchley, seconded by Mr. G. E. Feirn.

METHODS COMMITTEE

Adopted on the proposition of Mr. C. K. Lewis, seconded by Mr. F. T. Blagrove. It was agreed to refer the method rung to a peal as Burslem Delight Major to the Southwell Diocesan Guild, requesting them to ask the conductor to change the name as it was not a correct extension of the Minor.

RECORDS COMMITTEE

Adopted as amended on the proposition of Mr. F. T. Blagrove, seconded by Mr. J. R. Mayne.

AMENDMENT OF RULE

Rule 9 (Meetings of the Council) was amended by substituting the words "at a previous meeting" for "at the previous meeting" on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett on behalf of the Standing Committee, seconded by Mr. F. I. Hairs. This was to permit meetings being arranged more than one year ahead if desired.

MOTIONS

(a) Proposed by Mr. D. A. Bayles, seconded by Mr. K. Arthur:

"That this Council shall no longer recognise as regular any even-bell method on six or eight bells which has four places made between successive rows on more than one occasion in the half-lead."

A proposition by Mr. R. S. Anderson, seconded by Mr. F. I. Hairs, that the matter be referred to the Methods Committee for investigation and report was not carried. The motion was lost.

(b) Proposed by Mr. D. A. Bayles, seconded by Mr. K. Arthur:

"That this Council investigate and report on the possibilities of systematic nomenclature for methods."

After discussion the Council proceeded to the next business on the proposition of Mr. J. Freeman, seconded by Mr. W. E. Critchley.

(c) With the permission of the Council the following motion not on the Agenda paper was proposed by Mr. A. D. Barker, seconded by Mr. W. Ayre, and carried:

"That this Council urges all ringing associations to press for proper insurance of all ringers, preferably under a group accident policy."

PLACE OF THE NEXT MEETING

Invitations had been received from the Coventry and Peterborough Diocesan Guilds to visit Coventry and Northampton respectively. It was decided by a majority to accept the invitation to Northampton.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mr. C. K. Lewis reminded members of the Standing Committee's recommendation in 1963 that ringers should mark the forthcoming retirement from Parliament of Sir Winston Churchill.

VOTES OF THANKS

On the motion of the president, the thanks of the Council were expressed to the Mayor of Truro, the Bishop of Truro and the president of the Truro Diocesan Guild for their welcome; to the Dean of Truro for the use of the Cathedral for the Holy Communion service; to the president, the hon. secretary (the Rev. A. J. Vincent), the Ringing Master (Mr. D. Burnett) and other members of the Truro Diocesan Guild for local arrangements; and to local incumbents and towerkeepers for the use of the bells.

After the meeting the members were the guests of the Truro Diocesan Guild at tea.

THE LADIES' GUILD

The annual meeting of the Devon Branch was held at Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, on February 27th. Good ringing was enjoyed and included method and call changes. The service was conducted by the curate.

The meeting was held at St. Budeaux Church, where there was ringing in the evening. Five new members were elected. Visitors came from Truro.

It was proposed that meetings should be held at Lymington and Littleham on July 10th, and Launceston on October 9th, all subject to permission.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Some very good ringing was enjoyed at the Bingham District's well attended meeting at Orston on February 13th. The service was taken by the Rev. L. G. Levette (Vicar), who gave an interesting talk on the bell and the pomegranates. Tea was served in the Church Hall. The Rev. F. W. Stephens presided. Two new members were elected—Mr. J. Johnson and Mr. M. Jefferson (Orston), and Mr. G. Dexter (North Luffenham) was proposed a non-resident life member. Mr. B. Box was transferred from Bottesford to Whetton, and Mr. R. Larkin from Bingham to Pierrepont.

Next meetings: Cotgrave, March; and Cropwell Bishop, April.

LOAN OF ROPES WANTED

Dear Sir,—I am in the process of trying to restore the bells of a London church. I have now reached the stage where I must try and ring the bells. Alas! The church has only one rope and I must have seven others before I can get any further. It would be quite unfair at the present stage to ask the church authorities for seven new ropes—the bells may finally prove unringable. In my travels around the county I have seen many old secondhand ropes. I would like to appeal to readers of "The Ringing World" to spare one of their old secondhand ropes. Without the ropes the bells must remain for ever unringable. Please do what you can.—Yours sincerely,

TONY CLAYTON.

78, Franciscan Road,
London, S.W.17.

P.S.—I am quite willing to pay for the carriage of any ropes sent, but would prefer not to!—T.C.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Christopher T. Osenton rang his 50th peal on the bells of All Saints', Frindsbury, on February 27th and completed the circle to peals for the fifth time.

Through a typographical error it was suggested in our front page article last week that Mr. Brian J. Woodruffe had only rung ten different handbell peals. Ten times ten would be nearer the mark. The error is regretted.

"I would like to praise a few men who take turns to cheer me every Sunday morning by ringing the local church bells. This simple service brings to many the joy and purpose of living"—T. H. Graham, Alnwick, Northumberland. ("Sunday Citizen.")

The peal of London Surprise Major at Wincanton on January 23rd received at the time a special mention in our "Gossip" column. It now transpires that this took place exactly 30 years after the previous "residents' band" peal in the method on January 23rd, 1935.

St. Peter-at-Gowts (Lincoln) band could not let the 84th birthday of an esteemed member, Mr. C. Popple, pass unnoticed. While he rang for Matins on March 7th he did not feel well enough to attempt a quarter in honour of the birthday, but he is assured that his friends wish him many more happy years in the tower.

On a tour of Europe, an American, Mr. Roger Armstrong, visited Stratton, Cornwall, and recorded the bells. Mr. H. Stacey has just received a card from him stating: "One of the highest pointers of my six months' tour of Europe was the tape recording of Stratton bells; it is one of the outstanding chapters of my visit."

The bells of St. Andrew's, Whitchurch, Devon, which have been unfavourably commented on for years, although of a pleasant tone have been removed to Messrs. John Taylor's foundry at Loughborough. They are to be one-eighth turned, retuned and completely rehung at a cost of £1,500.

PETER CROOK'S 60 YEARS AS RINGER

This week Mr. Peter Crook, of Bolton, completes 60 years as a ringer, having rung over 500 peals. It is hoped to fittingly celebrate this "diamond" occasion with a peal at Farnworth.

Now in his 80th year, Mr. Peter Crook started ringing at Bolton Parish Church in 1905, but after a few years he moved to Deane and rang there. With the installation of the new bells at Holy Trinity Church, Bolton, in 1919, he was invited to join the company. For the past 40 years he has been Ringing Master. He has also been closely associated with the Lancashire Association in various capacities and for two periods served on the Central Council.

It was 27 years ago that Police Sergeant Crook retired from the Bolton Police Force, but he still maintains his connection with the law by his office as usher to Bolton Quarter Sessions. He is featured in "The Bolton Journal" and his photograph appears with a model church bell, which was bequeathed to him by the late Canon Elsee, who was at one time Vicar of St. George's, Bolton. His son and daughters are both ringers and "The Ringing World" was happy to publish from his pen the story of his visit to British Columbia and the monks in Westminster Abbey, Mission City.

RUSHALL NOW IN THE PEAL LIST

The peal of Bob Minor at Rushall, Staffs, on March 6th, is notable in that it was the first for many years in which members of the local band took part. Visitors have been few, and it is to the credit of the ringers of the treble and second that they have reached this standard. Our thanks are due to Sid Larcombe (from Little Aston), who has been a faithful supporter even when things looked really grim, and who was to have rung in the attempt but was prevented by illness. Practice is on Thursday at 7.45. Visitors are always welcome, writes M. S. B.

WANTS CATHEDRAL RECORDINGS

Captain William H. Talbot, of 449, Rathgar Avenue, Suite 3, Winnipeg 13, Manitoba, Canada, who appeals for tape recordings of Cathedrals and other churches, is a Worcestershire man and has been helped in his request by his brother Sidney and brother-in-law and nephews, who are "The Fellows" of Stourbridge. Captain Talbot writes: "For 55 years, since coming to Canada, the greatest thing I have missed are the rings of the Cathedrals and churches. With the availability of portable tape recording machines the rings can be recorded and preserved, and I am trying to get as many recordings of Cathedrals as I can."

LORD MORRISON

With the news of the death of Lord Morrison of Lambeth, it was particularly fitting that he should be remembered in his old constituency, South Hackney. Apart from the special prayers said for him at St. John-of-Jerusalem Church, the young band rang half-muffled both morning and afternoon, as they had done only five weeks previously for Lord Morrison's political rival, Sir Winston Churchill.

FIRST PEAL A LONG TIME COMING

A peal has now been rung on the six bells at Offton, Suffolk, but it has been a long time coming. In 1959 the bells were completely restored and a new treble added. A new band was formed under Mr. G. R. Goodship, who previous to dedication had been teaching recruits to handle at the neighbouring village of Barking. It was decided to ring the first peal with a mainly local band, and Mr. R. C. Lester, of Barking, was invited to call it.

The first attempt was made on the anniversary of the dedication in 1964 and two more unsuccessful attempts have been made, the last being lost through a missed call in the last 360. The band would like to associate Mr. W. Minns and Miss C. Steward, of the local band, with the successful attempt on February 20th, as they had stood in previous attempts.

COLLEGE YOUTHS APPRECIATE

At the business meeting of the Ancient Society of College Youths on March 2nd (to quote a letter from the secretary): "Great appreciation was expressed of the excellent Sir Winston Churchill Memorial issue. It was then agreed that a donation of one guinea be sent to 'The Ringing World' from the Society's fund." The letter and donation are greatly appreciated by the Editor and the Editorial Committee.

CUMBERLANDS ACTIVE

The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths report two notable performances this week—a silent and non-conducted peal of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods, umpired by Mr. P. A. Corby, of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and a peal of Stedman Cinques on the bells of Chelmsford Cathedral. The Spliced Surprise peal was the first silent peal in the method for the Society.

A NOTTINGHAM RETIREMENT

Friends of Mr. Frederick A. Salter will be sorry to know that, owing to ill health, he has resigned as Ringing Master at St. Peter's, Nottingham. His record of service to his tower is second to none. He joined in 1923, became steeple keeper in 1925 and Ringing Master in 1948, never missing a service or practice except for ill-health or the occasional holiday. As a token of their esteem, his friends at St. Peter's have presented him with a cheque. They look forward to ringing with him again as soon as the warmer weather comes. He is always pleased to see friends at 64, Randal Street.

COMBINED TRIBUTE

The peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major at North Bradley as a tribute to the late Canon C. Carew Cox was rung by members of the combined Surprise practice band, which includes ringers belonging to the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association who live in the Bath-Frome area, and members of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild who live in the Warminster-North Bradley-Melksham areas. The peal enabled Mr. Frederick Slatford to complete the circle of the tower three times.

SOMERSET VETERAN RETIRES

Churchill tower has lost the services of its oldest ringer with the retirement from ringing of Mr. George Gilling, on medical grounds. Born in 1884, George joined the Bath and Wells Association in 1905 and a lifelong connection with local ringers led George to all the towers in the area. A mason by trade, George was one of a family of ten, seven of whom are still living, with a total of 538 years to their credit. After serving in World War I George settled at Upper Langford in 1920 and is still there. As a tribute to his work for ringing, a peal was rung at Churchill on February 13th with three local ringers in the band. George is popular among ringers and all his friends hope he will enjoy the social activities of the Branch for many years to come.

NOTTINGHAM TO HAVE A TWELVE

Messrs. Taylors, of Loughborough, have been commissioned to overhaul the bells at St. Peter's, Nottingham, and add two trebles to make a ring of 12. The old and insecure wooden frame will be replaced by one of iron. This work is being done in conjunction with the strengthening of the tower foundations made necessary by road alterations.

RAINHAM'S BIRTHDAY BOOK

There were omnibus congratulations behind the quarter peal at St. Margaret's, Rainham, on February 27th after a peal attempt had come to grief. To Mr. and Mrs. M. Callaway it was a silver wedding compliment, and to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cheal, captain and secretary respectively, it was a seventh wedding anniversary. So many birthdays occur among the ringers and learners that it was agreed to include all in one attempt. A 21st birthday compliment to Miss Diana Southam and a 10th for her sister Helen. In January there were those of the Vicar and the Misses C. Major and C. Hart, and in February that of Mr. P. Thomas, vice-captain.

KINGSTON CELEBRATES

Kingston-upon-Thames tower captain, David Wilkins, and his wife, Elizabeth, had barely announced the arrival of their first-born daughter, Janette, when yet another little girl was born in the area—Joanna, daughter of Ken and Sue Newman. To fete them both, a quarter peal of Spliced London and Cambridge Royal was rung at Kingston Parish Church.

108 STEDMAN TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—I am grateful to Mr. R. G. Blackler for the proof of the impossibility of obtaining a touch of this length, in reply to my recent inquiry, and am glad he has confirmed the finding of Mr. H. W. Fright some 48 years ago.

May I also thank Mr. W. J. Davidson, of Newcastle, for his letter to me on the same subject.—Yours sincerely,

E. A. BARNETT.

SWANSEA & BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD

A very satisfactory meeting was held at Baglan on March 6th and the attendance was surprisingly high, especially after the bad weather experienced during the previous two days. Ringing was of high standard and ranged from rounds to London Surprise.

The Rev. D. Islwyn Lewis (Vicar) conducted the service and in his address gave a warm welcome to the lovely Church of St.
Catherine. An excellent tea was provided by the ladies of the parish, who were sincerely thanked.

The business opened with the Vicar in the chair. The statement of accounts was presented, and the District secretary reported a very unsatisfactory position of the subscriptions received from towers. Some of them, however, have since paid their outstanding subscriptions.

The September meeting will be held at Gorseinon, and an invitation to Eardisland for a joint meeting was accepted; July or August was suggested. Four new members were elected, and the meeting ended with a vote of thanks. J. A. H.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Northern District

The hard-going six at Offley were put to good use, both by experts and beginners, at the Northern District's evening meeting on March 6th. Under the "ringingship" of Eddie Buck, methods ranged from Bob Doubles to Beverley and London. At the conclusion of this most successful meeting, ringers adjourned to the Bull and other similar places to round off a most pleasant evening. J. K. O.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX

A warm welcome was given to the Guild from the ringers of Emmanuel Church, Shelley, at the meeting on March 6th. Mr. J. Buxton, in replying to thanks offered by Mr. J. Leaver and Mr. E. Lord, said how happy he was to have the company to enjoy their bells and beautiful scenery. New members elected were
Mr. C. A. Moxon (Cawthorne), and Miss A.
Rayner, Masters S. Rayner, A. Whiteley and J. Whiteley (all of Bradshaw). Ringing, including Double Court, Double Oxford and London Surprise, was enjoyed until nine o'clock, when another successful meeting closed.

Cambridge Major is the method for the Queensbury meeting. W. M.

BELFRY MAINTENANCE (Lubrication of Clappers)

AN aspect of belfry maintenance of great importance to the chap at the lower end of the rope is lubrication, particularly where the bells or pulleys, or both, are on plain bearings.

It is surprising how serious an effect a dry or bad-going rope pulley can have on the apparent "go" of a bell, especially at the handstroke. Such a pulley acts as a very effective brake, retarding the rope and upward swing of the bell and absorbing the power of the ringer's downward pull wherever there is tension in the rope, and therefore pressure on the pulley.

Should there be no apparent means of lubrication, the pulley spindle must be removed and greased with a light grease. Removal is often effected by unscrewing a wood-screw which fixes the bent over and flattened end of the pulley spindle to the pulley box.

There are several types of covers to the plain bearings in which the gudgeons rotate. One type is surmounted by a square "chimney" with a swivel cap. These are intended to contain a square vertical wick, sheathed in tin-plate, open top and bottom. The wick protrudes about half-an-inch at the bottom and rests on the gudgeon. These wicks should be soaked in machine oil before insertion. They must not be oversize or they will stick in the "chimney." Many steeplekeepers are unaware that this type of bearing should have a wick, and use grease which creates difficulties due to temperature variations and dirt attracted. The bellfounders will supply new wicks very cheaply. All they need is an occasional drop of engine oil.

An alternative is to obtain a piece of nylon foam about 2½" square. Soak it in oil overnight, roll it up like a miniature Swiss roll and insert it in the "chimney" so that it touches the gudgeon. This makes a good temporary substitute for the proper wick.

Some bearings have a saddle-shaped hinged cover, and lubrication is usually effected by plastering grease on the gudgeon or pushing down the old blackened grease, which probably contains enough grit and metal particles to act as a grinding paste, thus accelerating wear. A good way of dealing with these is to thoroughly clean out the bearing and surrounds, then fit a piece of nylon sponge or natural sponge. This should be cut to fit on top of the gudgeon so as to fill the space under the hinged cap. A drop of oil every few weeks will ensure easy "go" with very little trouble to the steeplekeeper.

Other points on the bell fittings require lubrication, an important one being the pin through the clapper staple. A Stauffer grease cup is usually provided for this, though these have a habit of working free. Excessive wear or play at this point has a detrimental effect on the sound of the bell. The bellfounders will, by special arrangement beforehand, often rebush clappers within a week.

If the clappers have had long service and are to be rebushed it may be worth while also having them annealed to reduce brittleness due to years of "hammering." The advice of the bellfounder should be sought first.

Whilst discussing clappers, a word on the oft-discussed question of odd-struck bells may be to advantage.

Providing the bell hangs level, odd-struckness is usually due to the clapper being slightly out of centre, i.e., the distances between the ball and the point of contact being different on opposite sides of the clapper. This can be measured with a flexible rule whilst making sure that the bell hangs naturally. Half-an-inch difference has a tremendous effect. To correct any difference, slacken off the nut on the clapper staple and retighten whilst a colleague ensures that the clapper is central. There is often sufficient play between the square shank of the clapper staple and the hole in the bell and headstock to permit sufficient adjustment to make the bell reasonably even-struck. Sometimes the clapper persists in settling back in the old position slightly out of centre. This may be prevented by removing the clapper and fitting an additional or replacement fibre washer between clapper staple and bell. This washer should be tapered from about ¼" down to nothing and fitted so as to thrust the clapper over in the required direction. Again the bellfounders will supply a suitable fibre washer.

Improvement may sometimes come from rotating the clapper through 180 degrees.

When doing this work, it is well worth while adopting the advice recently given in this journal by Mr. Cooper, of Bolsover, on how to ensure easy replacement of the clapper into the headstock.

Should the bell be out of level, the help of the bellfounders should be sought. It can be checked for level by placing a rigid piece of wood across the mouth of the bell in the direction of swing. Rest a spirit level on top of this wood. Take care that the bell hangs freely and undisturbed whilst checking for level.

MASS TUITION AT WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL

WE doubt if ever before has bell tuition been undertaken on such a scale as Mr. Fred Price, of Southbourne, Bournemouth, did during his time in Washington Cathedral from October 15th to February 14th.

In a report on his achievement, Mr. Richard W. Dirksen, director of Advance Program Washington Cathedral, writes:

'Fred Price taught bell control to 63 persons in his three months in the tower. His method was to start with the bell down and to gradually and safely allow the beginner to accustom himself to the rope. Only one stay was cracked in those many hours of work—eight hours or more each day of six per week—and there was no injury to any ringer during that time.

Patience, a gracious charm and poised conversational ability were the distinguishing qualities of all his work and social contact. His sphere of influence extended into the schools where he chose to take his meals. He influenced many outside the tower, who benefited from his warm personality.

While he was here all three newspapers did lengthy and excellent stories on the work he was accomplishing, and all three reporters were captivated by his manner, and respectful of his lucidity in the difficult description of the activity.

That he offered his services freely and that we were able to accept his offer has advanced the bellringing program without any doubt and to a considerable extent. The hospitable arrangements of the schools and many individuals were also a large contributing factor to a successful program.

It remains only to say that the sixty-plus who learned, the others who tried but found it "not for them," and the many scores of visitors who met him and were enlightened by him, in and out of the tower, will never forget Fred Price of Bournemouth. Nor will they forget his charming wife and sons, who shared the Christmas holidays.'

At the National Cathedral School for Girls, the Whitechapel Guild numbers 19 girls, aged 13 to 15, who were taught bell control and progressed through a plain course of Grandshire Triples. Their immediate goal is a quarter of Grandshire Triples to be rung open at Easter. At St. Alban's School for Boys, 17 have mastered bell control, and half of these are ready for change ringing in the Grandshire method. Ten adults who had acquired some ringing ability before Mr. Price's coming were strengthened in skill and understanding. These are more competent to be the nucleus of a Cathedral Ringing Society. The 17 adults and youngsters from the larger community who learned bell control under the guidance of Mr. Price can continue to be incorporated in the Society.

Before leaving, Mr. Price was entertained to tea by the girls of the Whitechapel Guild and received the following framed testimonial:

MR. PRICE'S OWN STORY

Approached by the Editor, Mr. Fred Price gives this summary of his activities:—

I was astonished to learn that no less than 45 students from the two Cathedral schools wanted to learn to ring, and, in addition, an outside group numbering not less than 20, of whom whom the majority were adults. Arrangements were made for me to teach the schools' students from 9.30 till noon, and from 1.30 till 5 p.m., followed by the adult group from 5 till 6 and from 7.30 till 9.30. On Saturday afternoon, October 17th, I met my first pupils—four girls from N.C.S.; their initial progress pleased me.

Monday, October 19th, saw the beginning of what was probably the four most exacting weeks of my life; all day long, with breaks only for meals, I taught beginners in the first control of a bell, six days a week. The strain of such continuous teaching of beginners is great, but at the end of one month nearly all my pupils were able to rise, ring and set "hand" and "back" and lower a bell unaided. Not one stay was broken, and not even a minor accident to any pupil.

I wrote a "paper" on Grandshire, and also on "hunting" and "coursing," and mimeographed copies were in ample supply for all to take away for "homework." Soon the girls were telling me they understood Grandshire, and the first attempt to ring the method—Triples was chosen to start with because hunting and coursing are not practicable with Doubles—was made on November 21st. Failure to control the bells proved the chief factor in the "breakdowns" with no more than two leads accomplished; nevertheless, I was happy, for these youngsters had not touched a bell-rope five weeks earlier.

Teaching had now become much less arduous, because so many had reached good "control," but I found it very tiring to return to the tower at 7.30 p.m. to instruct for two hours those adults who could not come earlier.

VISIT OF WIFE AND SONS

My family joined me on December 17th, and I did very little teaching until after their departure, on January 4th, but "we three" (John, Roger and myself), Miss Jennifer Murphy (a visitor from Australia) and six of the Cathedral ringers who had been taught to ring either by Harry Parks or the "TEN," and were now getting on well with Grandshire, rang four very good plain courses of Grandshire Caters on Christmas Day. Two attempts were made to ring a quarter peal of Sredman Doubles, with F. Price 1, R. Price 2, Miss J. Murphy 3, J. Price 4, R. Dirksen 5, T. Brusheart 6, the second attempt failing with less than two six-scores to ring.

Tuesday, January 5th, saw a resumption of practices with undiminished enthusiasm, and on January 16th the first plain course of Grandshire Triples—with seven N.C.S. girls I had taught from "scratch"—and myself ringing the tenor (front eight) was successfully completed.

GUILDFORD GUILD AND THE CATHEDRAL

THE main theme at the annual meeting of Guildford Diocesan Guild, held at Holy Trinity Hall, Guildford, on March 13th, was the Cathedral bells and how they are to be rung.

The accounts showed that the Cathedral Bell Fund amounted to £1,012, of which £816 had been paid to the Cathedral treasurer. From the Districts the respective totals were: Chertsey £162, Farnham £242, Guildford £206, Leatherhead £270.

The Master (Mr. D. A. R. May), who presided, congratulated the Guild on raising such a large amount in so short a time. There were three efforts he would like specially to call attention to: Ashted, who had raised £100, raised another £100 by carols last Christmas; Mr. Ernest Warner, on his own initiative, collected £15 at Woking Railway Station by putting up a notice; and Mr. Strudwick, at Send, raised a good sum by the sale of plants.

The negotiations with the Dean, continued the Master, had not gone as speedily as they hoped. He had planned to give them a full picture that day but the Dean and Chapter wanted to meet him and discuss things and they had not been able to fix on Saturday morning; they would, however, have to meet before the bells were dedicated. Details of the dedication on May 17th at 8.15 p.m. were that the organ case and Chapter House would be dedicated before the bells and the service would last until 9.15 p.m. Only a short touch on the bells would then be possible. The Executive Committee hoped to have on open day on the bells the following Saturday so that ringers could try them out.

Mr. T. W. White asked what facilities there would be for ringers to be present at the dedication ceremony. The Master replied that he understood admission would be by ticket and the distribution would be through the Master Builders in the parishes, who would have about five each.

Mr. White urged that in view of the substantial sum raised by the ringers, an application should be made for a block grant of tickets to the Guild of at least 50. If that were not possible Master Builders in parishes should be asked to allocate tickets to their ringers. The Master promised to make representation to the diocesan authorities on these lines.

A CATHEDRAL SOCIETY

On the question of ringing the bells for services, the Master said that the idea of the Executive was that a Cathedral Society should be formed. Anybody who could ring ten bells reasonably well should be invited to join the Society. The Society would elect a secretary who would send out a rota inviting ringers to ring at a particular service. He hoped the meeting would accept the arrangement.

Mr. Ray Clist hoped that this would not mean that any visitors would be turned away. He recently went to Winchester Cathedral; he was not turned away, but had a ring!

A member said that she felt that the band ringing should be the very best possible. A stranger putting in an appearance should not think he had the right to ring.

Mr. W. Parrott said there were about 52 towers in the diocese and they should each of them have the privilege of ringing the Cathedral bells once a year. It was likely otherwise that the Cathedral ringers would be coming from bands in or near Guildford and the position of ringing in Guildford was not an outstanding joy. Were the bells in the three towers in Guildford rung each Sunday?

SOUTHWARK'S EXAMPLE

Mr. Parrott, who is hon. secretary of the Surrey Association, said the arrangements at Southwark Cathedral were that the bells were rung Sunday by Sunday by bands from parishes in the diocese. Even the five ringers at Merstham took part. By this method local bands were incorporated in the life of the Cathedral and it would also help to bind the ringers of the diocese together.

Mr. C. W. Denyer said the Master and the committee were quite capable of handling the matter. This view was accepted by the Guild and it was resolved to leave ringing arrangements with the Master and the committee, a rider being added that the Guild would not recognise a closed shop.

The Master said he was against a closed shop but he wanted to get a weekly practice at the Cathedral. Weekly practices were the time for people who wanted to be trained in 10-bell ringing. They were having practices at St. Nicolas', Guildford, for people who would like to ring at the Cathedral. There was the question of whether the Cathedral Society for Sunday service ringing should be controlled by the committee. In the foreseeable future it was hoped to have a resident band which anybody who could ring reasonably well could join.

Mr. P. Smart commented that the ultimate aim should be a resident band.

In reply to a question, the Master said there were about 100 10-bell ringers in the diocese, which included ringers capable of ringing rounds on ten bells.

Mrs. T. Page: You are not going to attract people from 20 miles to ring rounds.

Mrs. Kippin thought the Cathedral Society was a very good idea. She hoped that when the Cathedral Society was formed it would have the same independence as any other tower.

Mr. C. W. Denyer: The answer to that question is the Dean of Guildford. The Dean is above the Cathedral Society and not the Guild.

NEW SECRETARY

At the opening of the meeting members stood in silence for three members who had died since the last annual meeting: Mr. Stanley T. A. Russell (general secretary), Miss Nora Shorter (Walton) and Mr. Edward Hunt (Yorktown). Mr. C. W. Munday (Ewell), the new general secretary, said he was the fourth

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Biggleswade District

Mr. A. Smith was Ringing Master for the Biggleswade District monthly meeting at Old Warden on March 13th. The church, which stands slightly above the village, contains many old carvings and is often frequented by visitors, but on this afternoon it was the bells rather than the church itself which attracted most attention.

An excellent tea was laid out in the Village Hall by Mrs. Shuttleworth, and at the business meeting which followed Mr. L. Bywaters announced that Worcestershire was to be the venue for the District outing on May 15th.

The large variety of methods rung during the evening included Hereward Bob, the special method; there was also a ladies' touch of Plain Bob Minor.

holder of the office, the first being Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, the former editor of "The Ringing World." It was his idea to form the Guild, and Mr. Munday added that it would be his own idea to maintain the Guild.

Other officers whose nominations were confirmed were: Master, Mr. D. A. R. May; hon. treasurer, Mr. C. H. Kippin; librarian, Mr. F. W. Housden; peal recorder, Major E. J. Bragg. Mr. G. S. Joyce was thanked for his services over many years as badge secretary; his duties were being taken over by the general secretary.

The peal recorder reported that 26 peals had been rung during the year by 99 ringers in 20 different methods. Eleven members rang their first peal and 49 their first in a new method. Mr. R. C. Kippin was the leading conductor with eight peals.

A report on the course at Moor Park College stated that it was "a most profitable and enjoyable week-end." A further course was being arranged for the last week-end in May, 1966.

The meeting decided to send flowers and their best wishes to Mrs. Hazelden on her 90th birthday. The Master was thanked for his services during the past three years by Mr. Denyer, and Mr. P. Smart thanked Mrs. Jill May and her ladies who arranged the tea.

In the afternoon a service was conducted in Holy Trinity Church by the Rev. Colin Semper, who also gave an address, and ringing took place in three Guildford towers.

Rapid progress was now being made, and I was glad I had decided to stay an extra two weeks (to make up for the Christmas break) and leave on February 14th. Many boys and girls were now ringing plain courses of Grandsire Triples, and a "paper" I had written on Stedman was being studied, and during the first week in February many attempts were made to ring the plain course of Triples.

On Saturday, February 13th, with seven N.C.S. girls, and myself on the tenor, a plain course of Stedman Triples was very well rung, and the same seven girls rang in a course of Grandsire Cateters.

This was the culmination of my four months' work, and I was a proud and happy man.

I was to see this belfry once again, for it was planned that a general goodbye should be said in the tower between 4.30 and 5.30 p.m. on Sunday, February 14th, the day of my departure. Thus, after a happy lunch with Wayne and Mrs. Dirksen, accompanied by Canon Welsh (Principal of the College of Preachers) and Mrs. Welsh, we journeyed to the belfry where, in spite of a blizzard, a great throng awaited us. The proposed escort to Dulles was abandoned because of the snow, but as the time for my departure drew near I was accorded "musical" honours. Mr. Wayne Dirksen expressed thanks for what had been done and presented me with an envelope marked "To be opened on the plane," which proved to be a cheque for one hundred dollars.

I wish to pay tribute to the Americans; no one ever had a more enthusiastic company of beginners, and in congratulating them on their progress I would like to say how grateful I am to everyone at the Cathedral for helping me to do this job; it gave me great joy to do it.

Letters to the Editor

"THE RINGING WORLD" AND ITS FINANCES

Dear Sir, — Your announcement headed "Some Quarters Will Be Ditched" ("The Ringing World," March 5th) must raise the question whether these reports are of real news value, or are merely being included for the sake of the money they bring in. If the former, their selection should be made purely on news value; if the latter, in common fairness, all ought to be paid for, and at an equal rate.

If some must be omitted, one can understand it including "those rung a month or so previous" (though the time-lag may not be the contributors' fault). But why handbell quarters?

"Preference will be given to those supporting our 'Gratefully Acknowledged' column . . ." (in plain words, "sending money"), and "ordering extra copies." One can well understand this; it is deplorable. An editor's first duty should be to consider the interests of his readers and select his copy accordingly. He should not be influenced by how much contributors are willing to pay. It is hard to see how a paper which accepts money from all and sundry can adhere to this principle.

During the 1920's, and all through the times of depression and unemployment in the 1930's, the paper sold for 3d., equivalent today to at least a shilling. This fact should have been put squarely to readers, instead of abject apologies, when the price was recently raised to 9d. For some years the committee has been scared to raise the price to the true economic level, through fear of losing readers. It has been a case of "too little and too late." The result is that a new generation has arisen which expects to get the paper at under cost price.

Last year, at a rough estimate, "The Ringing World" received about £500 in donations, an average of just over two shillings per reader. An increase in price of only 1d. (costing each reader only 4s. 4d. extra) would have brought in well over £1,000; and whatever cut the publishing company may make, I cannot believe that they would reduce this amount by anything like one half! Sending money in small amounts is expensive; the poundage on the postal orders used last year cost ringers something like £30.

The majority of people are probably better off than they have ever been but "The Ringing World" continues to behave as if we were still in the throes of severe inflation. The latest expedient, getting advertisers to buy space in the paper and give it back, may produce temporary financial gain; but I think it will do no good in the long run.

A newspaper is vital to the Exercise. I firmly believe that the best legacy the present management can leave to the future is a paper which pays for itself, run on strict business lines and entirely independent of charity.—Yours sincerely,

C. W. WOOLLEY.

MORNING STAR

Dear Sir,—With reference to the Doubles Variation Morning Star (page 109), I should like to point out that on Sunday, June 13th, 1937, I took part in a peal of Doubles at Michaelchurch Eskley (5), Herefordshire, conducted by the late J. P. Hyett. This variation was included in the peal of which we rang 720.

The variation is as follows: Plain Course, being a Plain Course of Reverse Canterbury Pleasure Bob. Bob, an Old Doubles Bob.—Yours faithfully,

J. J. WEBB.

KINGSTON'S SHILLING APPEAL

Dear Sir,—May I ask for space in your columns to announce the launching of "99,000 Shillings for Kingston Bells"?

The anti-clockwise ring of ten at Kingston-upon-Thames is well known to Surrey men, as it is well used by them. Ancient peal boards in the belfry testify to many peals rung there, some by famous men like Washbrook and J. Armiger Trollope. In more recent years, too, the Kingston band was noted for its 10-bell ringing, and is now making conscientious efforts to regain that skill.

Yet Kingston's well worn bells, surprisingly enough, have never in recent generations been one ring—always a hotchpotch of bells from different foundries and different centuries, with ropes from different makers. The old timber frame, locked to the tower on only two sides, has been enlarged and adapted for new bells so often that its old strength has gone and it is more harmful than helpful to the (central) tower these days. As a result, striking at Kingston is a challenge rather than a matter of course. Not many years can pass under these conditions before the tower gives, or ringing is prohibited.

It has therefore been determined by Kingston's band to give the area a really first-class ring of at least ten new bells, all from one foundry and in a new purpose-built frame, so as to lend impetus to the growing local keenness for ringing on the higher numbers. By March, 1970, five years from the launching of "99,000 Shillings," Kingston's new bells will, it is planned, be cast to provide Surrey with a welcome new ten, or even its second twelve. Vigorous plans have been laid for a sustained five-year campaign, and 8,000 of the 99,000 shillings have already been forthcoming. Although not many, Kingston ringers are increasing in numbers and have the energy and determination to carry this project through in the given time.

I am sure that the exciting news of this plan will meet with enthusiasm from all quarters of the ringing fraternity. Will you all send us a shilling (four 3d. stamps) as soon as you read this? If so, we can be halfway to our target in 24 hours! Those who know Kingston, whether from past or present affiliations, may find it possible to give a little more generously, and if so we should be more than grateful.

There will be no reminders; this letter is our sole general appeal. Please act, therefore, now, whilst you are thinking of it. Our treasurer is: Mr. D. M. Wilkins, "Kingston Bells," 66, Lenelby Road, Tolworth, Surrey. Thank you very much.—Yours sincerely,

W. H. JACKSON.

Kingston-upon-Thames.

REV. F. E. ROBINSON'S PEALS

Dear Sir,—Whilst congratulating the Rev. Malcolm Melville on scoring 62 peals in 1964, I must mention that this does not surpass the best years of the Rev. F. E. Robinson, the first person to ring 1,000 peals.

His career during the later years of his life was a most remarkable one. From 1900 to 1907 (eight years) the "Reverend" rang no fewer than 608 peals, making an average of 76 peals per year. And at this period he was between 67 and 74 years of age! His best year was 1906 when, at the age of 73, he rang 92 peals!

It is interesting to recall that at the age of 52 his peal total was only 51! From age 60 onwards to the end of his career in 1908 he rang 826 peals! And in those days peals were very much harder to arrange. Truly an amazing record, especially when it is realised that from the age of 70 to 75 he scored some 437 peals and that many of them were on the seventh to Stedman Triples, some of them quite heavy and not going as well as they do today.

FUNERAL TRIBUTES ON BELLS

Dear Sir,—The widespread ringing of peals which marked the funeral tributes to Sir Winston Churchill provides us with a rare opportunity to survey current practice in the use of muffles.

Without directives from the Church or advice from the Central Council our individual towers have for many years been following their own customs and local traditions in this field of ringing, and in this respect anticipated finding some marked regional preferences; yet the distribution of those who rang fully muffled shows no geographical cohesion.

Of the 200 "in memoriam" peals published (the following figures have been rounded off) 84 per cent. were half-muffled, including those at Bladon and St. Paul's; 10 per cent. of the total were unspecified; 4½ per cent. were rung muffled; 2 per cent. indicated "muffled" but did not say to what extent; and a single peal (½ per cent.) was declared to have been rung "open."

It is interesting to note that at Bristol in two peals, rung on the same day, and with the same conductor, one was half-muffled at handstroke, the other at backstroke. Brighton's three towers gave satisfaction to all tastes: the peal at the Good Shepherd was fully muffled since there are strong objectors in the vicinity, the quarter peal at St. Nicholas' was half-muffled, and that at St. Peter's was rung open at the request of the Vicar.

The great numbers of quarter peals were not annotated and so defy analysis; had this been possible the results would have been more accurate but not, I think, very different.—Yours sincerely,

VICTOR SHEPPARD.

Brighton.

COLLECTION OF SURPRISE METHODS

Dear Sir,—The Methods Committee is to be congratulated on the excellence of the recently published "Collection of Surprise Methods." The clarity, simplicity of style, concise tabulation and, most important, extreme accuracy of the contents make it a model ringing publication.

It is a pity that the terse "rung in Spliced" is all we are told about the first performances of those methods which have not been pealed individually. The date of first performance would have been a useful addition in these cases. The particular choice of symbols to represent the less common Royal and Maximus lead heads is also unfortunate and more likely to cause confusion than the corresponding Corrigan code-letters which have been discarded.

Nevertheless these are insignificant defects in a long-overdue publication which is indispensable to any ringer interested in Surprise methods, and which is available at a price all can afford. No longer can there be any excuse for ringing an old Surprise method under a new name.

Such is the progress of ringing to-day that already nearly 30 Surprise methods have been rung in the ten months since this Collection was compiled.

I hope the Methods Committee will not rest on its laurels but will prepare a supplementary list for publication in the not too distant future. Perhaps the first supplement could also contain, for completeness, the handful of other regular treble bob methods rung which do not qualify for the description "Surprise." There are so few of these that a separate publication clearly would be unjustified, but they do deserve to be preserved in a Central Collection.—Yours sincerely,

GEORGE W. MASSEY.

Appleton March 4th Festival

"EVER the same—yet ever new—changed and yet true, like the pure heaven's unfading blue"—this poem from Troyte's book seems to describe Appleton March 4th Festival.

This year, for some of us, and quite appropriately it seemed, there was ringing the night before at Bladon. A little pilgrimage took place to the last resting place of Sir Winston Churchill, by whose encouragement, faith and example, Appleton March 4th, and other English days of rejoicing, were preserved, we hope, for all time. And so on Saturday another day of the Festival dawned; soon after 10 a.m. the peal was away to the usual smart Appleton pace, at about 11.30 the handstroke—and ringing worthy of the occasion, soon after one o'clock came "This is all." A short stop for refreshment at the Tavern, then the peal band and two otherfortunates retired to see Phyllis and enjoy the wonderful lunch traditionally provided by the "Whites" for the peal band. If you have never been asked to have a second helping of Christmas pudding, by a sweet little Berkshire lady, then you have missed something.

By this time "Mine Host of the Plough" and his lady were trying very hard to get "a quart into a pint cup" and to explain to the guests that proceedings must stop at 3 o'clock or otherwise they might not be able to start the festival at 4 o'clock in the Village Hall. The transition was eventually managed and, to the sound of the village bells (kept ringing all the afternoon), the hall gradually filled up until the 90-odd were there in animated conversation and ready for supper.

The Rector of Appleton, Dr. Tindell-Hart, presided, supported by Sir Basil Blackwell and the Master of the Oxford Guild (Canon Wigg) on either side. Mrs. Wigg is here, too, and how happy and gracious she looks. Here comes the food. How a few Appleton ladies can produce so much out of a kitchen 8ft. by 6ft. is amazing, but they can and do. Fred Sharpe speaks (after the Rector has given us "The Queen"), proposing "The Church." His mixture of the serious and funny was much enjoyed, and the Rector suitably replied, chiding us a little in the process.

Bill Hibbert next, proposing "The Appleton Society." He makes a wonderful job of this, and his completion of 50 years' connection with the Society is received with acclamation. We feel grateful to him for saying what many of us feel about the men of Appleton, who, through the years, brought so much credit upon themselves, and attracted to the Society some of the greatest ringers of the Exercise. Bill's tribute was enthusiastically endorsed by the company, and Frank White, who replied, was duly honoured as one very worthy descendant of a famous family. Frank spoke regretfully about the absence of Fred Messenger, who was unfortunately ill, but cheered us all by mentioning other worthies present. The recovery from a serious illness by Mrs. Lock was mentioned, and her appearance at yet another Appleton Festival was greeted with applause.

Mr. William White, brother of Frank, proposed the toast of "The Visitors," and in reply Mr. Richard Blackwell, elder of Sir Basil's two sons present, expressed the gratitude of those who had come from far and near to enjoy the excellent company.

Then the traditional Appleton songs, including Sir Basil's. With handbells, Frank and his boys can still entertain us as nothing else can, but we were sorry not to hear a proper completion of Stedman Cinques being lapped. Some new friends from Worcester with a beautiful set of handbells gave a rousing performance, and what would Appleton be without Alf Webb's "The Midnight Peal"? Bill Hibbert's "Farmer's Boy" still ploughs and sows, and Bill Coles, busy with tape recorder, seems to record everything except his own Somerset ditty.

As the evening wears on we see that Farmer Sangwin is busy talking to Bill White's niece. John Lott from Chelsea is with Veronica, Roger (of St. Paul's fame) has a charming girl, and all laughing and drinking and enjoying the fun. John Camp has found a little charmer, and Bryn of Bristol is doing well too; Reg of the same city is going strong and we all hope he lasts the time out. Frank White is letting his hair down, and now we usually sing a few hymns; no wonder that the singing is good, as it is conducted by Joe Minty, whose voice enables him to be a member of Magdalen choir, in fact he and his wife are a choir of their own.

Derek, of Combe Martin, is making the best of everything but we notice he is very wary of the opposite sex; he is pleased with himself, having been to Appleton for the first time and rung in the peal—that is something to take back to Devon. And so on until past 11 o'clock, with many fond farewells and then to bed.

Sunday morning dawned bright and five of the old faithfuls left the Plough and made for Christ Church, Oxford. Stedman Caters went well; Walter, very much on form, looked none the worse after his late celebrations.

Back to Cumnor and its dear old church, and then towards home for Bill, with pleasant hours at East Ilsley. No doubt the village stores is the place to go for Sunday tea, especially if you like lardy cake. We were all pleased that Mr. and Mrs. Hibbert with John and Tetch could be at Appleton with us.

BARNESLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY

Fourteen towers were represented at the monthly meeting of the Society at Kirkburton, near Huddersfield, on March 13th, when four new members were elected. The centenary of the bells at New Mill is being celebrated on April 10th, and it was agreed to join up with the Halifax District Association on that day. Other forthcoming fixtures are: Outing, June 19th; Shield contest, July 10th. The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Joseph Burgess, of Friezland.

OBITUARY

MR. AMOS LANE

A ringer at Portishead for about 30 years, Mr. Amos Lane died earlier this month. He learned to ring in his native village of Nailsea and was a capable ringer and an outstanding steeplekeeper, who tended the bells, the tower and also the clock with loving and expert care for many years. He also served as a sidesman.

Mr. Lane's death will be sorely felt at Portishead, as he is quite irreplaceable, and visiting ringers to this tower have good reason to be thankful for his services. Those of us who have left should profit from his example.

An in memoriam quarter peal was rung at Portishead on the day of his funeral (March 10th) and also at Nailsea.

MR. WILLIAM C. MARSHALL

HIS PEAL LIST

The late Mr. W. C. Marshall, of Bethersden, rang 122 peals, of which 109 were for the Kent County Association. Details:

Dinner Day of Cambridge U. Guild

THE annual dinner of the Cambridge University Guild was held on March 6th in the hall of Selwyn College, amid candles and Jacobean oak. The reunions and festivities, however, began on the previous day with the arrival of contingents from Reading and Oxford, eager for Cambridge life.

The night's activities took their toll of the day's peals. The Guild's first band at St. Neots decided to ring Stedman rather than Spliced Surprise but a sprained back among other things, caused the conductor to miscall. Meanwhile seven residents and Geoff Dodds were losing Cambridge at Trumpington, and a visitors' band, losing Yorkshire quickly at Long Stanton, were organising their own tower grab. The last band succeeded in ringing seven Spliced Surprise at Barkway, but at least there was a Guild conductor to ease our consciences. By lunchtime, snow had reached Cambridge, which throughout the week had enjoyed mild sunshine, and where we had heard with amazement talks of snowdrifts and other meteorological disturbances in Bristol which prevented our lady guest and her companions from attending.

After lunch the day's business began in earnest; a few heroes cycled in the storm to Cherry Hinton for assorted Doubles, while others preferred to remain indoors until an appropriate hour. St. Benet's attracted its customary devotees and at St. Mary's there was the usual crowd of non-residents, visitors and prospective Maximus ringers, who contrived a good course of Yorkshire Maximus as well as touches of Cinques. The Catholic Church, with its heavy eight, provided some stimulating courses of Superlative, Bristol and Cambridge, and at St. Andrew's ringing continued until 7.15.

CINQUES WITH LOVING CUP

Dinner was served at 8.30 p.m. when 93 members and friends sat down to an excellent meal. During the passage of the loving cup, with all its due ceremony, a well struck touch of Stedman Cinques was rung "in hand" by S. C. Walters (cond.), K. J. Darvill, J. M. H. Hunter, V. Nutton, B. D. Threlfall and C. H. Rogers, which was applauded at the end. The president, Mr. W. J. Ridgman, following the loyal toast, read out a list of apologies and introduced as the first speaker one of the Guild's most eminent members, the Bishop of Ely (the Rt. Rev. the Rev. E. J. K. Roberts).

Proposing the toast of "The Guild," the Bishop gave a witty review of his campanological achievements, including the ringing of every tenor bell in the Diocese of Portsmouth, and on a newly consecrated ring, still in his cope and mitre. Touching lightly on the circumstances of his election to the Guild—in a field in the Isle of Wight—he passed on to his major episcopal failure, his first broken stay, and though refraining from comment on his junior ministers, the Vicars of Trumpington and of St. Andrew's, he confessed to having no such inhibitions about his fellow member, Canon Thurlow. After praising the joy and universal fellowship of ringers, he found himself agreeing with the saying "It's never too late to learn," and in proposing the health of the Guild he expressed the hope that it would do all in its power to persuade as many as possible to take up and persevere in the art.

FEMALE MEMBERS AND PEALS

In reply, the Master (Mr. S. C. Walters) reviewed the Guild's activities, stressing its successful teaching and its help to local towers. Ringing both at St. Mary's and at St. Andrew's at 9.15 on Sunday mornings meant that he was having difficulty in finding 20 ringers at that time and was considering instituting the office of Chief Whip. The year's peal ringing had included successful visits to Lincoln and Cripplegate for Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Maximus at St. Mary's. Silent Stedman Cinques was rung at High Wycombe, when, in deference to his wish not to lose a peal after travelling so far, an ex-Birmingham Stedman conductor was left behind as not needed: silent Stedman Triples had been rung by the residents, a great achievement, as so many peals were lost with a conductor. Three peals were rung on handbells—Stedman Cinques, Bob Major and, the previous week, Stedman Triples, which had been attempted for nearly 60 years. Seeking an explanation for the Guild's success, he agreed with Mr. Rodney Meadows in attributing it to a lack of female members, such that, at one point in the year, the Guild was mistaken for an all-male Society. As was shown by several insidious references, the Master presumed to include himself in those endeavouring to have the best of both worlds.

The secretary's revised speech in honour of the guests would form an ideal essay subject: "K. J. Darvill's views on inter-varsity co-operation: discuss." After praising the clerical guests and the two octagenarian Cambridge Youths, Messrs. Denner and Pigg, whose sprightliness belied their years, he launched into a eulogy of other universities and expressed a wish to know them better. The two ladies from Reading expressed apprehension at the thought, but Mr. Darvill ploughed on, scattering platitudes, bad jokes and a misquote from Edward Gibbon on his love of Reading.

Replying, Mr. R. V. Humphries, the Master of the London University Society, expressed the thanks of the visitors and remarked at length upon Cambridge-London relations. Like the Guild, his own Society was interested in helping out at local practices—Tuesdays at St. Paul's, Bow—two Past Masters of the Ancient Society were visibly amused!

THE MORNING AFTER

The Guild responded nobly to the secretary's call, in the tower room until midnight, and then in Hugh Bishop's room and elsewhere. Suffice it to say that breakfast was served in King's to about nine people, one still in bed, and that the results were plainly to be seen in the 9.15 ringing. All touches of Cinques at St. Mary's broke down, so it is reported, while Kent Maximus barely survived, and at St. Andrew's eight stalwarts rang call changes. Ringing continued at Trumpington and Chesterton, and 18 members and friends held a communal lunch in one of Cambridge's hostels. After a "performance" of Handel's "Messiah" at Emmanuel, tea and ringing, the last of the Oxford group left us, and after ringing at St. Mary's with undergraduate Cinques, the ladies from Reading were driven off to London, and with them the first arrivals and last departures, the epitome of co-operation, it seems appropriate to end this account of a most enjoyable dinner and a tiring week-end. V. N.

AN EAST YORKS WEDDING

The wedding took place on March 13th at St. James' Church, Sutton-on-Hull, of Mr. Robin Hugh Rogers, of Grafton Regis, Northampton, and Miss Janet Irene Porter, of Sutton-on-Hull. The bride, bridegroom and best man, Mr. Martin C. Paulkes, of Leicester, are well known in ringing circles in East Yorkshire.

Before the ceremony the bridegroom, best man and the bridegroom's sister joined the local band in a touch, and a quarter peal was rung later. The happy couple are to make their home at Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk.

UMPIRE'S REPORT ON CAMBRIDGE PEAL

Dear Sir,—I umpired the silent peal of Stedman Triples rung at St. Andrew-the-Great, Cambridge, on February 19th by members of the Cambridge University Guild.

I am pleased to confirm that the peal was rung strictly silent and non-conducted and that the method was rung accurately and with conviction throughout.—Yours faithfully,

R. W. H. HAYES.

Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge.

LIVERPOOL UNIVERSITY'S FOURTH DINNER

THE fourth annual dinner of the Liverpool University Society was held on February 27th at the Bradford Hotel, Liverpool, when 68 members and friends sat down to an enjoyable meal.

In the morning the Society peal was unfortunately miscalled, thus maintaining the tradition, as the Society never has rung a peal on its Dinner Day. Of the three peals attempted by guests, only one—at Ormskirk—was successful. In the afternoon, general ringing was arranged at Halewood, Woolton, Everton and St. Francis Xavier's.

The Master, Mr. R. S. Starkie, took the chair at the dinner, and having proposed the loyal toast, welcomed the guests. He then proposed the toast of "The Church." In reply, the Rev. C. E. Young, the recently inducted Rector of Liverpool, said that this was the first ringers' function he had attended in Liverpool, and he was grateful to the Society for inviting him. He always liked to hear the sound of the bells and assured the Society that they were always welcome at St. Nicholas'.

Mr. C. K. Cooper, proposing the toast to "The Visitors," mentioned in his warm welcome that they included representatives from Manchester, London, Nottingham, Cambridge and Bristol University Ringing Societies, local ringers and ringers from the Wirral. He also welcomed a large party from Birmingham and ringers from Essex.

THE PARENT SOCIETY

Mr. Cyril Crossthwaite, vice-president of the Lancashire Association, who replied, said the Society was the newest non-territorial Society to be formed in Lancashire. The Lancashire Association regarded itself as a parent Association. He urged members to support the territorial Association and to attend meetings near Liverpool, and by doing this, not to become too self-centred in their ringing. He wished the Society the best of luck in the future and concluded by thanking the members for a good meal on behalf of himself and all the guests.

Mr. David Baker, Master of the Manchester University Guild, proposed the toast of "The Society." He welcomed the Society's participation in the Northern Universities' joint meetings and hoped that these would continue to be as well supported as the last ones had been. Mr. J. J. Fox replied, and reported that the past year had been a bumper year for peals, the Society having rung nine, making a total now of 12. These included the first of Major and the first of Surprise Major for the Society. The summer tour in and around Oxford had been very successful, being ably organised by Roger Shea. He also congratulated Mr. Christopher Cooper, last year's Master, and Miss Edna Ffrith on their engagement.

This concluded the formal proceedings. The rest of the evening was spent informally.

Many of those still in Liverpool next morning rang for service at St. Nicholas' and at St. Francis Xavier's. They were very kindly invited to return and ring for a wedding at mid-day at St. Nicholas'. In the afternoon, by kind permission of the Dean and the Ringing Master (Mr. Joseph Ridyard) we were able to ring the Cathedral bells for Evensong. The ringers applauded when two young ladies rang the tenor to a touch of Grandsire Cinques.

Thanks are due to Ringing Masters and incumbents who so kindly allowed us to ring their bells, and also to all those who helped to make the week-end successful. J. J. F.

BELFRY GOSSIP

On Sunday, March 7th, a memorial tablet was dedicated at St. Paul's Church, Chippenham, to Mr. Charles Lovelock, who was captain of the ringers for 40 years.

Mr. Nelson Elliot had great hopes of ringing in the quarter peal at Merstham on March 7th, but had to return to hospital. If he had rung it would have been his first quarter since 1953. Mr. W. Dunn stood in at very short notice.

A representative band of ringers from the North Staffordshire Association rang at Hanley Parish Church on March 10th on the occasion of the induction of the new Rector, the Rev. A. Bond, B.Sc., by the Bishop of Stafford.

At the Portsmouth District annual general meeting (see February 19th issue) Mr. A. Cope was wrongly reported as transferring to compounding membership. He is, in fact, continuing as a ringing member attached to Titchfield.

The Decca record of the State funeral of Sir Winston Churchill (W.C.F. 101 in two volumes) gives 27 rows of the beginning of the ringing at St. Paul's—which is rounds and takes 1½ minutes to play. The ringing is at the rate of 18 changes per minute. Unfortunately, writes our correspondent, the recording is too short, but the rest of the record is worth buying.

The quarter peal rung at St. Florence on March 6th was a substitute for a peal attempt. The adverse weather conditions prevented three of the band from coming. It afforded an opportunity for Simon Rogers (11 years of age), the son of the Ringing Master of the St. David's Diocesan Guild, to ring the treble to his first quarter. The peal attempt was to have been made on the anniversary of the dedication of the restored ring in 1964.

MR. H. D. HARRIS'S 90th BIRTHDAY

A well loved figure in Bedfordshire, Mr. H. D. Harris, celebrated his 90th birthday on March 1st. Born in Cheshire, he came to live at Woburn at the age of 18, and joined the Bedfordshire Association in 1896. His distinguished career includes vice-president of the Bedfordshire Association, 70 years a bell-ringer, 50 years a chorister, sidesman, vicar's warden and member of the Parochial Church Council. Wearing his usual cheery smile and carrying his 90 years with great dignity and poise, Mr. Harris spent part of the afternoon of March 6th listening to a peal of London (his favourite method) being rung on the bells of Woburn Parish Church in his honour. Later he was entertained to tea by Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Spavins. Miss E. Steel, for many years a friend of Mr. Harris, was present to tender her felicitations, as was the Rev. R. O. Osborne, Vicar of Woburn, and these were joined by the peal ringers, who did justice to the lavish tea so generously provided. Before the party broke up, Mr. Harris took part in touches of Kent Treble Bob Royal and London Surprise Major on handbells.

All those fortunate enough to be present on this happy occasion render sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Spavins for their bounteous hospitality, and wish Mr. Harris many more happy years of retirement. A. E. R.

PETER CALLS HIS DIAMOND PEAL

The peal rung at Farnworth and Kearsley, Lancashire, as a compliment to Mr. Peter Crook after 60 years' ringing, was followed by supper at St. George's Hotel, Bolton. The ringers were entertained in the traditional manner by Peter and his ringer son, Peter junior: another generation. Peter the III, was also present. It is not given to many to call a peal when one has been ringing for 60 years, but this he was able to do and he did it well. Peter had also been featured on I.T.V. to mark the achievement.

Regular Sunday ringing with a couple of practices each week, a full diary, good food and good and young company help to keep Peter in good trim, writes Joe Thornley, and this at 80 is not bad going. Good luck. Peter and may God grant you many more years of faithful service to the Exercise.

SLUGGISH WITH HEAT

No doubt there will be comments on the slow time of 3 hours taken in the peal at Radley. "If we had rung any faster we should have lost it," writes the conductor. "The temperature in the belfry was in the region of 70 to 80 degrees, as the church heating system 'came on' just after we had started!" The main pipes go through the ringing chamber.

A PROMISING TOWER

Mr. Harold W. Eggstone is making good progress with the young band he is training at Henley, Suffolk, and the present aim is to ring at least two quarters a month for Sunday service, thus improving the lads' striking and strengthening the team spirit in preparation for peal ringing.

10,240 LOST AT BUCKLAND-IN-THE-MOOR, DEVON

Members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers were unsuccessful on March 13th when an attempt was made to ring 10,240 of Plain Bob Major at the remote Dartmoor village Church of St. Peter's, Buckland-in-the-Moor. The attempt broke down in the fourth of the 10-part peal after nearly two hours' good ringing.

Ringers were: D. Jewell 1, Margaret Bould 2, M. Lock 3, C. C. Reeves, 4, C. Bryant 5, F. Mack 6, R. Bould 7, N. Mallett (conductor) 8.

It has been decided to have another attempt in October by the same band.

MORE ABOUT SMETHWICK

We went astray with the information relating to Smethwick on page 184. Messrs. G. E. and H. H. Fearn were both born in the city of Birmingham, but lived in Smethwick for about four and a half years. Mr. Frank E. Haynes informs us that Sidney Holloway was a Smethwick boy and a pupil at Holly Lodge in his early years. "Stan" Mason was not at the school, he was an evening pupil of Mr. Haynes at Smethwick Municipal College when he was qualifying for a professional examination. Peter Border was at the Cambridge school at which Mr. Haynes now teaches. He, like Mr. Haynes, is a native of Trumpton.

In case we have "debunked" Smethwick in the eyes of ringers, earlier generations will remember Sam Hughes, who at one time represented the Staffordshire Association on the Central Council; John Jagger of the well-known Burton band and one of the most delightful and interesting characters Mr. Haynes has ever known; and Joe Pigott and his sister, Sarah, noted especially as handbell ringers.

87 AND STILL GOING STRONG

There are few older active ringers in Leicestershire than Mr. Thomas Briggs, of Somerby, and on his 87th birthday on March 9th he received many greeting cards from ringing friends. After the Tuesday night's practice he entertained the ringers to light refreshments at the Three Crowns, and in the course of the evening Mr. Arthur J. Stimson, on behalf of Somerby ringers, presented him with a clock.

The congratulatory quarter, in which he took part, was at Ashby Folville, the following evening, 1,260 Grandsire Triples, rung by T. Briggs 1, Mrs. M. Stimson 2, A. J. Stimson 3, Mrs. D. Day 4, M. J. Stimson 5, J. L. Day 6, R. H. Cook (conductor) 7, J. H. Cook 8.

NO RIVAL TO REV. F. E. ROBINSON

The Rev. Malcolm Melville assures us that in these days of clergy shortage he had no ideas of emulating the massive totals of peals rung by the Rev. F. E. Robinson in the latter years of his life. (He rang 92 when he was 73). Most of Mr. Melville's 54 tower bell peals were rung at the Loughborough Bell Foundry, where a peal can be scored in a little over two hours. An erroneous announcement at the Oxford Guild Festival, where he was referred to as Master of the Southwell Guild, was not corrected at the time. He was only vice-chairman, with Mr. F. W. Midwinter as chairman. The Guild has a chairman instead of a Master.

NEIGHBOURS HELP IN FUND RAISING

The Itchingfield (Sussex) ringers' annual dance and social on February 20th at Barns Green was in aid of the bell fund of the neighbouring tower of Billingshurst, where the bells are to be recast. Over 100 tickets were sold and ringing friends came from as far afield as Brighton and Crawley, as well as large numbers from Warnham, Horsham and Billingshurst.

Mr. K. R. Hoare (secretary) and Mr. Jim Nelson (Master) had the support of all members and in some cases their families, and a most enjoyable evening of games, ball-room and old-time dancing and twisting resulted. Music for the last named was provided by the Fulnars, a beat group made up of four Guild members—Geoff Clements, Peter Francis and Elizabeth and Robert Hoare. Fantastic lighting effects were achieved by Mr. N. Richardson, and the M.C. was Mr. Chris Godfrey.

A profit of £15 resulted. The three towers of Billingshurst, Warnham and Itchingfield are jointly arranging a Caledonian market and barbecue, the provisional date for which is May 22nd. The total cost of recasting Billingshurst bells is over £1,300, and £600 is still required. The three towers hope to have the continued and added support of the ringing fraternity for their fund-raising efforts.

MEWSLADE COURT BOB MAJOR PEAL

An official objection has been received by Mr. W. Parrott, hon. secretary of the Surrey Association, to the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor rung at Limpsfield Chart on December 19th, from Mr. R. C. Stevens, who rang the fourth bell to the peal. He claims that the peal did not comply with Central Council Conditions in that:

(1) During the third or fourth extent a shift or error in the ringing was not immediately corrected (Condition 1a).

(2) Arising therefrom the peal did not consist of true and complete 720's (Condition 3 a, i).

Mr. Parrott informs us that the matter will receive the attention of the committee at its forthcoming meeting, and arising therefrom an inquiry will no doubt be held.

FOUNDERS' DAY AT ROTHERHAM

For Rotherham Grammar School Founders' Day Service boys, assisted by one master (Mr. J. Kershaw) and Mr. and Mrs. N. Chaddock, again rang the bells of the Parish Church. Ringing included Stedman and Grandsire Doubles and Plain Bob Minor with the tenor covering. The back seven bells were rung.

"HAD ALE"

"The Phoenix Gazette" of Rotherham contains an interesting article on "The Church Bells of Rotherham." The article recalls that on February 10th, 1752, a six-bell peal was rung including College Trebles, Oxford Trebles, College Pleasure and Crown Bob in 1 hour 30 minutes and totalled 2,520 changes.

In 1704 the Great Bell was fractured and a committee was formed to consider the purchase of the new bells. The minute book records: "Had Ale when we discoursed about hanging Ye Bell" or "When taking down Ye Bell" or "at receiving of Ye Bell" and again with renewed enthusiasm "Had Ale for the first time Ye New Bell was rung."

VALE OF SOUTH GLOUCESTER TOUR

This tour on February 27th started with only five ringers at Eastington and we were in a similar plight at Elmore and Hardwicke. At Frampton-on-Severn, however, we were met by the captain and with his help were able to ring the 11cwt. six in fine style—although we did not know we were doing this until someone had the bright idea of opening a trap door in the ceiling. Further aid was enlisted from this gentleman, who bravely piled into a vacant Sprite seat and was whisked off to help us at Arlingham, where we were joined by their own captain. The tour had been intended to provide plenty of eights, but in fact only one—Longney—appeared on the final itinerary and ironically, because of our lack of numbers, we were not able to ring them.

Hempstead will be remembered because here our band reached double figures, and thus it was a longer line of cars that proceeded along the tortuous routes demanded by the Gloucester City Fathers to St. Mary de Lode. These bells are rung infrequently and the tower has become a playground for the local vandals, evidence of their visits being tea-making over an electric fire.

A long pause for our own tea, taken in the city, before we sampled the good "go," interesting music and strange mechanical noise of the 13 cwt. six of St. George's, Brockworth.

Distant bells heard from the foot of Haresfield tower told us that we were not the only party in this county that day; we joined our compatriots in filling the night air with the sound of bells.

Good music and ringing at Standish before the tour's "pièce de résistance," the vintage Loughborough four of St. John's, Randwick, and on these notes the tour closed.

AND SOME WERE DITCHED

THERE is hardly a newspaper in this country that does not have more copy submitted to it than it can accommodate. The process of selection varies, but with most issues there are disappointed readers, who look in vain for something excluded. With the passing of Sir Winston Churchill we had an unprecedented demand on our space. The Editor regarded this event as outstanding and he endeavoured to publish every peal and quarter peal submitted relating to the passing of this great statesman, irrespective of whether the directive of the Central Council made at Bournemouth of a fee for peals and quarter peals accompanied the report. This meant that performances for other occasions had to be vetted, but in the process of "ditching" we unhesitatingly gave preference to those towers who had followed this helpful directive to improve our finances and also those of special interest.

Mr. Christopher W. Woolley, eminent ringer and authority on handbell ringing, does not like the present set-up of "The Ringing World" finances. Because the Central Council directive for a booking fee for peals and quarter peals was obligatory he considers, as suggested in his letter in our last issue, that it smacks of charity and that the committee is adopting a cap-in-hand procedure. Not a bit of it; an examination of the conduct of our big nationals and weeklies reveals that there is a constant search for revenue and sales promotion.

He criticises, for example, the purchase of copies for insertion of a quarter peal. Items which have a direct result in sales promotion are continually being inserted in newspapers. Sunday newspapers go to the expense of printing special localised editions with football results of minor matches for one purpose only, sales promotion—to the majority of readers these are of no interest.

An examination of our famous national newspapers is a patent example of extraneous revenue other than from sales or advertising. The lists of names at big receptions are often paid for, similarly the arrival of people in this country. Weddings in weekly newspapers are often charged for and an additional charge is made for an illustration. Our financial newspapers have a special charge for insertion in bolder type Stock Exchange quotations, and the figure is not an obligatory threepence or sixpence a rope, but amounts to many pounds in the course of a year.

Mr. Woolley makes a point that during the period of depression and unemployment in the 1930's "The Ringing World" was courageously sold for 3d. He does not state that throughout those years the loss on the journal was increasing year by year and the debt owing to the printers was considerable. The editor and proprietor was not getting a living out of the journal and had to resort to other employment. "The Ringing World" sales return was very inadequate and the number of postal subscribers was then less than a quarter of what they now are, and this is the best source of sales revenue. To the honour of the Exercise, this debt of several hundreds of pounds due to the printers was paid by the committee of the Central Council that took control when Mr. Goldsmith died. Furthermore, they went to work in a businesslike way by making certain that every penny piece due from notices and advertisements was properly accounted for and all sources of revenue explored.

Experience has shown that every increase in price is accompanied by a loss of sales. In a sense we have been lucky, as the recent increase has so far meant a loss of under 1½ per cent. and this is week by week being reduced by new subscribers. "The Ringing World" last year made a profit but if the journal set its face against accepting a booking fee for peals or quarter peals or other gifts there would have been a loss. The increase of 1d. in the selling price enables the committee to meet with confidence the addition of five per cent. in production costs that became operative this year and probably any change in postal rates for this year.

Is there anything derogatory in charity? There are many publications today that are financed by organisations—political, social, religious and educational. And the fact that a reader sends an appreciative gift is not something to be despised. One journal the Editor is familiar with decided to have its own type-setting equipment. It made an appeal to readers and received a most heartening response that enabled the machine to be installed. The basis of many of the things we treasure most today is to be found in charity. Men have bound themselves to provide hospitals, homes and schools, and even in this age of the Welfare State this is not condemned. Friends of hospitals and schools provide the little extras and so it is with "The Ringing World": the little extras do enable the price to remain stable and not too exorbitant for those not too well off. And to those who give these little extras we make a "gracious acknowledgment."

Magdalen College Bells Rehung Lower in Tower

OUTSTANDING among the beautiful towers and spires in the city of Oxford is the stately tower of Magdalen College, charmingly situated on the banks of the River Cherwell. Many writers have been lavish in their praise of its noble proportions. In the early days of the present century that great campanologist, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, wrote:

"Of all the towers I have seen, with the possible exception of Boston 'Stump' and 'Bell Harry,' Canterbury, there is none which I admire so much as Magdalen College, Oxford. Its beauty does not consist in ornament, for, with the exception of its graceful pinnacles, it is rather plain; but its proportions are so exquisite and its situation so fine that once seen it can never be forgotten." *

Although a delight to the eye from without, all was not well within, for since alterations were made in the 17th century the tower oscillated greatly during ringing. Many writers commented on this, among them the Rev. W. C. Lukis, who wrote in 1857:

"Anyone who has stood in the belfry of the lofty and beautiful tower of Magdalen College, Oxford, when a peal is ringing on its ten sweet-toned bells, knows the way in which a tower is made to sway. To a person of weak nerves it is perfectly alarming, and it is easy to understand how this kind of vibration must loosen the masonry and eventually endanger the building." †

Other serious defects were discovered rather more than a year ago. The steward of the Oxford Society of Change Ringers noticed that rain water had penetrated to the clock mechanism. Investigations revealed that a rain water pipe, hidden behind a casing, was defective, and that it had probably been leaking for a considerable period. The College authorities therefore decided to make a detailed examination of all the structural timbers in the tower. Extensive damage due to dry and wet rot and to death watch beetle infestation was found. It was obvious that a major work of restoration was needed and all ringing was immediately stopped.

At first the College authorities and their contractor contemplated hoisting the bells and their frame intact and inserting a new foundation under the frame following the pattern of the mediæval one. This would have overcome one difficulty but would have done nothing to stop the tower oscillation.

MR. SHARPE CALLED IN

Initially, Mr. E. G. Moore and the writer, who jointly look after this tower, agreed to suggest to the College authorities that, in view of the large amount of work which was necessary, the time was opportune to rehang the bells, and recommended that an expert in this field should be called in to advise. The obvious choice was, of course, Mr. Frederick Sharpe, of Launton, the convener of the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council. Much correspondence followed between the Bursar, Mr. Sharpe and myself before a preliminary meeting was arranged between Mr. Sharpe and the College authorities. At first the College seemed more interested in proving that Mr. Sharpe knew what he was talking about; but having satisfied themselves on this score, they very willingly considered everything he thought should be done.

MAGDALEN COLLEGE TOWER

As every floor in the tower had to be renewed, Mr. Sharpe suggested that all of them should be repositioned, and that the bells should be hung much lower in the tower. He designed a new and greatly improved foundation for the bell frame, which was admirably installed by the College contractor, who then lowered the bell frame on to it. This frame had been renewed in or about 1912 by Mr. Richard White, of Appleton, and was in excellent condition, and his son, Mr. F. A. White, had been engaged to lower the bells to the ground floor while the defective beams and floors were removed and new ones installed. At the same time the clock was dismantled and converted to electric drive. The new ringing chamber now occupies the first floor, which is positioned at a slightly higher level than the former one, and between this and the bell chamber is a new clock room. The bells hang a little higher in the tower than the former ringing chamber floor, and new and improved means of access to the newel staircase was provided at all floor levels.

In due course the bell gear was renovated and the bells rehung hung on ball bearings by Mr. F. A. White. Ninety-nine per cent of the proposals made by Mr. Frederick Sharpe have been carried out, even to the lath and plaster ceiling in the ringing chamber, and the treatment of the tower internally and externally for acoustics. At his suggestion tie-beams and an open "cat-walk" were provided at the former bell chamber level and the whole of this structure diagonally braced to stiffen the building.

On February 2nd, in order to try out the bells, members of the Oxford Society of Change Ringers met at the tower, as did representatives of the College and the contractor. We are all agreed that the final result, both as regards the bells and the new ringing chamber, is excellent. The oscillation of the tower has completely disappeared. We are very grateful to Mr. Sharpe for his interest and the time spent by him on seeing the project carried out in such a satisfactory manner.

AN HISTORICAL NOTE

In conclusion, an historical note might be of interest. The tower was completed about 1504 and the bells were transferred to it from a previous tower which has since disappeared without trace. The ten bells at present in the tower hang in an oak frame made by Messrs. White, of Appleton. They are rather mixed in origin. The treble, second and fifth (1739-48) by Abel Rudhall; third and fourth (1712) by Abraham Rudhall I; sixth, ninth and tenor (1623-41) by Ellis Knight I; seventh by William Dawe, of London, c. 1410; the eighth (1828) by Messrs. Taylor, of Oxford. The tenor is approximately 19 cwt. The seventh is the only survivor of the bells which hung in the former tower.

It appears that at about 1643 there were six bells in the tower. Two more were added in 1712 and a further two trebles, added in 1739-40, brought the number up to ten. The only other alteration was the recasting of the eighth by Messrs. Robert Taylor and Son at their Oxford foundry in 1828.

The bells are considered to be very melodious and are best heard in the nearby Botanical Gardens by the River Cherwell. It is certainly true to say that we in Oxford consider them to be by far the best bells anywhere in the area. PHILIP WALKER.

SURREY ASSOCIATION Southern District

Although March 20th was wet and windy there was a good attendance at the quarterly meeting of the Southern District at Nutfield. The six bells were rung throughout the afternoon and evening apart from breaks for the service, tea and a short business meeting. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. A. Williams, and accompanied by one of the ringers on the organ.

Tea was served at 1, Church Lane, by Miss Kempell and her mother, and was very much enjoyed. At the business meeting the Master thanked them and also the Vicar. Four new members were elected from Kingswood, whose band was there in full force. The secretary reported that negotiations were in hand with the Kent County Association concerning this year's joint meeting. The District Committee had so far supported two practices at the towers of Merstham and Bletchingley respectively, which had proved very successful. Leigh was next to be visited.

The ringing programme included rounds and a touch of Spliced Minor methods, but the most memorable touch was that of Cambridge called by a blindfolded General Master on the tenor.

Next practice meeting: Kingswood, May 15th.

LADIES' GUILD

Western District

A goodly number of members and friends assembled at Stapleton for the annual meeting of the Western District on March 13th. It was the first meeting of the Guild at Stapleton for a number of years and a very warm welcome was extended.

Ringing commenced at 3.15 p.m. The Rector, the Rev. H. G. Wood, conducted the Guild service and welcomed the ladies. This was followed by an excellent tea, prepared by ladies of the parish, nearly 40 members and friends sitting down. The District vice-president, Mrs. Parfrey, proposed a vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the afternoon.

At the business meeting all the officers were re-elected. Much discussion took place on the attendance at meetings, and it was decided to discontinue the December quarterly meeting, at which attendance over the past few years had been poor, and replace it with an evening practice, but to keep the remaining meetings on the second Saturday in March, June and September.

Several towers were suggested for quarterly and evening practice meetings and it was agreed that the secretary should circulate all members with a programme when this had been arranged.

Four new members were elected, viz: Miss S. Jones (Stapleton), Miss A. Kingcott (Wroughton), Miss L. Slade (St. Werburgh) and Mrs. Tamblin (Zeals).

Members then rejoined the gentlemen for further ringing in a wide range of methods until 8 p.m. M. de J.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

Wolverhampton

For the first meeting of 1965 the Society visited St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, on January 16th. After the usual ringing on the twelve bells came the focal point of the meeting—the service. Prior to his address, the Society's president, the Ven. Basil Stratton, Archdeacon of Stafford, dedicated a memorial plaque in the nave of St Peter's to the late Mr. Herbert Knight. Known and beloved by most of the older generation of the Society, Mr. Knight served for 40 years as Hon. secretary and as Ringing Master of St. Peter's. Both Mr. Knight's sister and daughter were present at this service and at the tea following.

In connection with the forthcoming striking competition on April 24th, the hon. secretary announced that "rises and falls" would not be included, and that bands meeting short would not be allowed to "make up" from unattached ringing members.

A survey had recently been made of all peals ever rung for the Society since its foundation. Ringers are asked to notify the secretary of any peals that they may know have been withdrawn since the original publication.

Coseley

At rather short notice, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holden and their helpers put on a splendid meeting for the Society on March 20th. The excellent eight at St. Martin's, Bradley, were rung for an hour, followed by ringing at Christ Church, Coseley. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. D. Starkey, and tea followed.

Committee members were asked to consult their bands for volunteers to help struggling bands for a few weeks running. Any so willing are asked to contact Mr. P. G.

Golder, Mill Lane, Mill Green, Aldridge, Walsall, Staffs, as soon as possible.

Members were asked to watch "The Ringing World" for the whereabouts of the striking competition and next practice meeting, both of which would be on April 24th.

Next full meeting: Great Barr, May 8th.

New resident members elected were: Miss S. Williams (Little Aston), Miss P. Wilding and Miss S. Lloyd (Cannock), Miss S. Parsons and Miss S. P. Fairfield (Tamworth), P. Glover (Shenstone) and G. S. Keay (Gnosall). The ratification of the following life members also took place: J. H. Taylor, E. C. Morrell, J. A. Ainsworth, W. G. Lane and R. Farmer. C. M. S.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Newark District

Despite the miserable weather, there was a good attendance at the meeting held at Sutton-on-Trent on March 20th, including visitors from Yorkshire and Lincolnshire.

Canon R. T. Real conducted Evensong and afterwards joined the company for tea, which was the usual satisfying spread ringers are accustomed to receive at Sutton.

The District chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, presided over the business meeting, during which Mr. J. W. Raithby gave a short account of the progress being made by several boys from Collingham who travelled over to Newark each week for instruction in handling a bell. He said they had learned rapidly and hoped they would be given every encouragement, so that North Collingham would again have a band of ringers.

Two new members were elected—Mr. E. Davies (Newark) and Mr. W. Wilkinson (Southwell).

Next meeting: Elston, May 15th (to include District round for the Crawford Cup). B. N. R.

Letters to the Editor

PEALS OF DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—Mr. J. D. Atkinson raises a valid point in his letter on page 196 in saying that there is no logical reason why the Council should refuse to recognise peals of Grandsire Doubles containing Mr. Brian Price's 240's when it does recognise those which include 240's by Messrs. Morris and Pitman. Such a comment was foreshadowed as long ago as 1937, when the present definition of a peal of Doubles was adopted by the Council at Canterbury. (It was reaffirmed at Bristol in 1955.) In the leading article of June 25th of that year the then editor, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, said: "It is true that at the moment the Council have specifically mentioned only the 'Pitman and Morris twelve scores,' but it cannot stop there. There are other arrangements of Doubles equally adaptable which, if rung, will have to be admitted because they are equally as 'true' in round blocks as those to which recognition has now been given."

In fact recognition of Morris's and Pitman's 240's was very much "ex post facto." The position has hitherto been that the basis of a peal was forty-two true extents, but all along the Council has tacitly admitted peals which included what are known as Pitman and Morris arrangements of Grandsire Doubles—compositions which are not true extents, but are in blocks of 240 changes with each change occurring twice. Inasmuch as these peals have been included in the Peals Analysis every year since they were first rung without demur, the Council has, by its latest resolution, merely 'legalised' what it has hitherto failed to discourage. It was probably this, rather than any belief in the virtues of the compositions themselves, that led the majority of the members of the Council to vote as they did. One wonders, however, if it is really necessary or desirable to enlarge the existing definition. To quote Mr. Goldsmith again: "If it is not possible to ring 5,040 of Minor or Doubles without repetition, it should, at least, be essential that the composite parts should consist of separate and complete extents . . . We cast no slur whatever on the performances that have been rung, but we ask our readers who seriously consider these things to think of the already open door which there is for 'wangling' in Grandsire Doubles and of the much wider breach that is made for the unscrupulous conductor if he is to be encouraged to provide himself with opportunities to juggle with these modern 'arrangements' . . ."

The debate in 1937 is relevant to the recent correspondence about a 5,100 of Doubles which consisted of 42 extents plus an odd 60 changes. The original motion, for which Mr. Wilfrid Wilson was mainly, if not entirely responsible, contained the following clause:

"(2) At the conclusion of 5,040 or more changes, rung in accordance with (1) above (i.e., the present definition of a peal of Doubles), one true touch of any length less than 120 changes may be added."

This clause, however, was opposed by Mr. J. A. Trollope and lost. Mr. Trollope felt that the ringing of odd bits was not only contrary to the principle on which peal ringing should be done but he did not think it was wanted, and his arguments prevailed. In this connection may I (rather belatedly) pose this question to Mr. A. R. Pargeter, who suggested in his letter on page 132 that the additional touch of 60 at the end of a recent peal of Doubles was quite irrelevant and that the band had, in effect, rung a peal at the end of the 42nd extent; what if they had broken down during that 60? Would he still regard the performance as a valid 5,040?—Yours faithfully, Crayford.

E. A. BARNETT.

SMARDEN, KENT.—On Mar. 14th, 1965, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: Sylvia Knight (first quarter) 1, H. Payne 2, Lynne Payne 3, H. Deacon 4, G. Grant 5, B. Johnson (cond.) 6. Rung for Sir Winston S. Churchill memorial appeal service.

250th ANNIVERSARY OF THE FIRST PEAL

Dear Sir,—Many ringers will be aware that the first peal to be scored was one of Plain Bob Triples at Norwich. The 250th anniversary of this occasion on May 2nd this year should not be allowed to pass without some effort on the part of peal ringers throughout the ringing Exercise. I wonder if the original composition could be published so that aspiring bands could attempt to mark the anniversary in a truly proper manner?—Yours faithfully, Exmouth, Devon.

FRANK D. MACK.

EASTER MONDAY PEALS

Dear Sir,—I have read the previous correspondence with interest, but it seems to me that the problem is getting slightly misinterpreted. I agree to a certain extent with your correspondent (page 196) but her attack appears to be on the peal organisers. This is ludicrous! Presumably they requested permission to ring in all innocence of any annual general meeting being held in Cambridge; surely the tower captain concerned should have pointed this fact out. However, he does not appear to have done so, knowing for some time that this was the case.

The "unfriendly act towards the Association" has been carried out by the tower captain, not the peal organisers, thus if anyone has to back down it should be him and none other.

I will suggest he either grants the Ely Diocesan Association permission to ring, or resigns.—Yours sincerely,

G. E. THODAY.

Cambridge.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD AND "THE RINGING WORLD"

Dear Sir,—As you are aware, the Oxford Diocesan Guild since 1959 has made an annual donation to the funds of "The Ringing World." This has been done not only to support the paper but also in the hope that other Guilds and Associations might do likewise. As there has been so little support for the idea, the General Committee of this Guild has decided to recommend the following motion to the annual general meeting in July next:

"That instead of making a donation of £40 to the funds of 'The Ringing World,' a token gift of £5 be made and that the balance, £35, be paid into the Guild's Reserve Fund to accumulate there until such time that there is a pressing need to use it on behalf of the paper."—Yours faithfully,

M. R. CROSS,

Hon. General Secretary,
Oxford Diocesan Guild.

NEW BURSLEM DELIGHT

Dear Sir,—I have been persuaded by my General Committee that the best action for me to take regarding the peal of Burslem Delight Major I called at Attenborough on November 30th, 1963, is to change its name to something else, while making it perfectly clear that this change is not freely offered, but made under duress and with the strongest possible protest.

I therefore wish to call it New Burslem Delight, thus allowing my Guild, which is bound by its constitution to support the Central Council, to at least go through the motions of doing to.

I do this purely out of consideration for my own Guild.

One cannot respect an Establishment which produced a report which is only defensible on the grounds "we agreed years ago that this report is right so it must be right even though no proof of its correctness exists, and so no other point of view can possibly have anything at all to be said in its favour."—Yours faithfully,

H. POYNER,

Peal Secretary,
Southwell Diocesan Guild.

MUSIC IN DOUBLE HUNT METHODS

Dear Sir,—I cannot allow Mr. Woodruffe's letter to pass without comment. Why does he "not accept the principle of Plain Bob Minor + Hunt Bell = Grandsire Triples as being of any progressive merit"? Presumably he therefore accepts the only other possible principle of extension from even to odd bells, which is: Do not add a bell in the Hunt; let even places remain even. Let us therefore extend Oxford Bob Minor to Triples using this method:

x 14 x 16 x 17 x. 2nds place 1.h. 1765432.

The result is a two-course lead with one bell lying behind for eleven consecutive blows; Mr. Woodruffe, of course, may see some "progressive merit" in that, but I fail to. Contrast this method with the beautiful double hunt Oxford Bob Triples.

The present system of extension from even bells to odd seems perfectly logical to me; add a bell in the hunt and change even places to odd. The result is that for 5-6 dodging is substituted 6-7 dodging, for 7-8 dodging 8-9 dodging, for 4ths place 5ths place—and so on. I fail to see how anybody can claim that this system causes difficulties.

The situation is unfortunately complicated by those irregular methods called Plain Bob Doubles, Triples, etc., and Grandsire Minor, Major, etc. These methods were so named in those days when change ringing was in its infancy; when no set of rules for the regularity of methods had been evolved. Of course, a furore would result if Plain Bob Minor (Major, Royal, Maximus) were given its logically correct name—Grandsire—so the names now obtaining will have to stand. However, if the Central Council were to state categorically that Grandsire and Plain Bob are the sole exceptions to the logical rule of extension, the difficulty, I suggest, would be solved.

I am sure I am not the only person to be astonished by the statement that double hunt methods have no musical or compositional qualities. Is not Oxford Bob Triples, for instance, a musical method? I find the triple dodging very pleasant. Can Mr. Woodruffe dismiss Grandsire Caters as a method to be considered musical? By way of contrast I find single hunt Triples and Caters methods dull and arid; multiple dodging is difficult to obtain; while there is no extra bell in the hunt to vary the coursing order.

And surely a 5,040 Triples composition is a difficult achievement and one to be admired as much as any composition of Major?—Yours, etc.,

N. W. H. SIMON.

Stoke Bishop, Bristol.

WELDING BELLS

Dear Sir,—Re Mr. Ranald Clouston's recent remarks on bell-welding. I have met one tower in England where British welders have had success. This is at Walpole St. Peter, a magnificent fenland church, which has a ring of six (tenor 12½ cwt.). Here the treble was found to be cracked in 1919. In 1939 it was sent to Messrs. Barrimar in London and the six-inch crack successfully welded. The bell in question, cast by Thomas Lester in 1747, is of reasonably good tone, and Messrs. Taylor, when they rehung the bells in a new frame in 1950, found no need to recast it.

There are other ways of dealing with cracks; we have the celebrated case of "Big Ben" with a chunk of metal cut out of the soundbow to stop the crack spreading. The Liberty Bell (no longer used) in America is held together by iron rivets. Most extraordinary of all was the attempt to solder "Great Dunstan," the 3½ ton bourdon bell of Canterbury Cathedral. In this case the attempt failed, and in 1762 Lester and Pack recast "Dunstan"—which led to the introduction of a young Canterbury man, William Mears, to the Whitechapel foundry.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID L. CAWLEY.

Hunstanton.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

THE bells of two famous London towers were open on February 13th, the occasion of the annual general meeting of the London County Association, and many members and visitors took the opportunity to ring at St. Mary-le-Bow and at St. Clement Danes'. A member, Mr. W. D. Grainger, took the service and gave a thought-provoking address, and Mr. H. W. Rogers read the lesson. Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by five members.

An excellent tea followed at the George Hotel in the Strand, which was appreciated by the 45 members present. Thanks were given to Miss M. E. Powell and Mrs. C. M. Meyer for providing such good fare. At the business meeting the elections, before peal attempts, of the Misses Pamela Brown, Rosamond Rawlings, Messrs. James Cooke, R. W. H. Hayes, Alan R. Patterson and Michael Wicherley were ratified. Mr. C. J. N. Dalton and Mr. E. H. Kilby were also elected members. It gave great pleasure to the Master to propose the election of Mr. Kilby, of Willesden, who thus carries on the tradition set by his grandfather and continued by those two famous members of W. Pye's band, Harry and George Kilby.

Accounts for 1964, duly audited, were presented by the treasurer, Mr. J. Lott, showing the satisfactory position of an excess of income over expenditure for the year of about £11. In his report, the Master, Mr. W. G. Wilson, said that, although there had been difficulty in arranging some of the meetings, others had been very successful. Members expected their officers to attend meetings and it was only fair that the other members should support them. The 15 peals rung were more than in any recent year and this at least showed a certain standard. Apart from local service ringing, arrangements had continued, under Mr. Meyer, for ringing one Sunday evening a month at Southwark Cathedral and frequently at other London towers. Other members had supported their Master once a month at St. Clement Danes'. Financially the Association was getting stronger, its balance having doubled in the last ten years. He thanked members for their help and was sure that his successor would be equally well supported.

New officers for 1965 were elected as follows: Master, Mr. C. W. Ottley; Deputy Master, Mr. C. M. Meyer; secretary, Miss V. E. Dupré; senior steward, Mr. P. Chapman; junior steward, Mr. R. Mitchell; assistant secretaries, Messrs. D. Hewitt and R. F. Overington; treasurer and librarian, Mr. W. G. Wilson; trustees, Miss Powell and Mr. Lott. The new Master, thanked members for the honour done to him and asked for their support. Details of future meetings will be given at the appropriate times in the "Ringing World." The committee were asked to consider various suggestions for altering the name of the Association, and the meeting concluded with votes of thanks to all who had helped.

"BELLS"

In the "Famous First Books" series, published by Edmund Ward, the latest title is "Bells," a subject which one rarely sees in a catalogue. This is a book for the young seeker after information, and the writer has ensured that a child of nine can absorb the facts and also that a 12-year-old can read the text with interest. Helen Fletcher writes in a refreshing manner which will appeal to teachers who appreciate a "feeling for language."

After an introductory chapter the book traces the history of church bells from the fifth century. The closer connection between church architecture and bells is remembered in a chapter dealing with bell towers.

The complex art of change ringing has been clearly explained, the writer wisely enlisting the aid of acknowledged experts. This also applies to the chapter describing the craft of bell founding.

Christian teaching and folk lore are closely connected with bells of all ages, and in reading the book one feels that the author has delighted in giving them ample space. With chapters on primitive bells, bells for animals and bells at sea the book is a mine of information.

Three three-colour illustrations are artistically produced and are in abundance. Unfortunately the nature of these illustrations makes the book a costly one (11/6 net) and beyond the budget of most class reference shelves. Those who can afford "Bells" will be assured of many interested readers.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Rochester and District Branch

Despite the wintry weather some 50 members and friends of the Rochester District attended a very happy and enjoyable by-meeting at Halling on March 6th. The tower contains a useful ring of six bells, of which good use was made by ringing various methods. The ringers' service was conducted by the Rev. G. H. Adams (Vicar). An excellent tea given by local ringers was enjoyed by all in Halling Workmen's Club, and our thanks are due to the ladies who waited upon this happy gathering. Well done, Halling! Congratulations also to the handbell ringers!!

NORWICH DIOCESAN

ASSOCIATION

Western Branch

The Western Branch annual meeting, held at Swaffham on February 27th, was one of the best attended meetings in the District for many years. At one time 43 heads were counted in the ringing chamber, which, as those who know Swaffham will remember, is fortunately quite spacious. At the same time there were several knots of ringers gathered in the church. Forty-seven people sat down to tea, after which, when the visitors left prior to the business meeting, one realised how few "natives" were among the throng.

Officers elected unanimously for 1965 were: Chairman, the Rev. G. Galley; secretary, C. Tovell; Ringing Master, T. Owen. All of these were felt to have served the Branch very well.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the stirring address given by Mr. Galley, who took the service in the regretted absence of the Vicar, the Rev. J. Burrige. Mr. Galley reminded us forcibly that in the service of the Church it is much better to ring a well-known method well than to ring a more advanced method badly, and that only our best is good enough, both in ringing and in daily life.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Ivan S. Merry, of Higham-on-the-Hill, Leics, wants a touch of Grandsire Triples, not more than 167 changes, containing Queens at a bob, or plain lead.

Mr. W. J. Rawlings kindly stood down when a band ringing at Southwark Cathedral was one short for Maximus. A quarter of Plain Bob Royal was rung.

Mr. George Clift, of Derby Cathedral band, is in Nottingham Eye Hospital recovering from an operation. He is hoping to be out in a week or two's time.

The peal of 5,040 Spliced Plain and Surprise Major rung at Upton St. Leonards, Glos (see page 202), was a composition by Mr. Roger Baldwin and not Mr. P. G. K. Davies, as published through a misunderstanding.

The Rev. Martin Turner, who took an active part in the ringing while at Cuddesdon, is to lead the group of young people who have been commissioned by the Provost of Coventry to help with the work of rebuilding the Church Hospital at Dresden, East Germany.

With Mr. K. Paul Gilliver as Ringing Master, Portsmouth College of Technology Society are making good progress and their first peal is recorded in this issue. The Society has the permission of the Cathedral authorities to hold regular practices there on their own. They have several change ringers as well as half a dozen keen learners.

At a recent meeting of the North Staffordshire Association, held at Biddulph, on March 6th, the chairman (Mr. S. Ryles) requested that a representative from each member tower should attend the next meeting to be held at Audley on April 3rd, to consider the recommendation of the Association's Subcommittee regarding the financial position of the Association. This request was made in view of the poor attendance at recent committee meetings.

SOMERSET TOWER CIRCLE COMPLETED

Mr. John Brain, of West Town, near Bristol, achieved on March 13th a long-cherished ambition to ring in all the ringable towers in Somerset containing five bells upwards. The last two towers were Churchstanton and Ilton, and it seemed as if the fates were plotting against him, as three attempts were made to fix up a trip to these towers.

The first was fixed for January 30th but the date coincided with the burial of Sir Winston Churchill, which obviously ruled out the arrangements. The second attempt was fixed for March 6th but on the Wednesday previous came the late winter blizzard, and travel on that Saturday was out of the question.

The G.P.O. were making quite a profit out of it by now, as new postcards were sent off to the towers together with the others which we were visiting at the same time. The final postponement from March 6th to March 13th proved lucky.

Although there was still quite a bit of snow on the Blackdown Hills, where Churchstanton is situated, and a thick mist surrounding everything, we got through.

Churchstanton bells are a good-going Gillett six and well worth a visit; they are situated only a mile or so from the Devon border. Ilton bells have been augmented to six in the past year and if the tower was not one on which the old Somerset masons had worked their skill, the founders have produced a very pleasant six, which all heard to good effect.

Mr. Brain writes that he has had the good fortune to ring with many friends in the county. In this respect the most enjoyable aspect of the March 13th trip was that it brought together (for the umpteenth time!) his friends Cecil Clarke, Len Derrick and last but not least Michael Horseman. They all share with him the thrill of exploring parts of the county off the beaten track and ringing with as much pleasure on a rough-going five as a good-going eight. Having "completed the circle," so to speak, it will be a pleasure to revisit some of these towers again — Somerset possesses so many good rings that one can't go far wrong in this respect!

COWBRIDGE GRAMMAR SCHOOL— FIVE FIRST-PEALERS

Cowbridge Grammar School ringers have now scored their first peal of Minor. After a set-back at St. Athan on February 27th, when an attempt was lost midway in the last extent, success was achieved at St. Bride's Major on March 20th, the band containing two 13-year-old first-pealers—Paul Morgan and Robert MacPherson. Two others in the band got their first of Minor, and it was Ellis Thomas' first of Minor as conductor.

Earlier, at Baglan, on February 17th, Doubles in seven methods/variations was scored, and this was 13-year-old Chris Ricketts' first as conductor. First-pealers on that occasion were John Alexander (13), David Barrington (16) and Gabe Thomas (19). Thus seven boys at school have rung peals this term, five of them firsts. The band is now tackling Kent Minor, but this is still in a dodgy stage—or should one say not dodgy enough?

A TENOR'S LAMENT

Doh, Sol, Fa, Mi, Re, DOH.
That's the way the bells should go
Ringing out their summons clear
Every Sunday of the year.
Doh, Sol, Fa, Mi, Re, DOH.

Sol, Fa, Mi, Re, DOH.
Number one has gone away;
Now the bells can only say,
As they speak this Sabbath day,
Sol, Fa, Mi, Re, DOH.

Fa, Mi, Re, DOH.
Number two is wed,
Washing-up instead,
Might as well be dead!
Fa, Mi, Re, DOH.

Mi, Re, DOH.
Three is courting,
Bells cavorting.
Three Blind Mice
(Not very nice).
Mi, Re, DOH.

Re, DOH.
Oh, no!
Now four
's No more.
Re, DOH.

DOH, DOH, DOH, DOH.
Woe, woe, woe, woe!
Did five really have to go?
DOH.

MELTON RINGERS CELEBRATE

The Leicester Guild is noted for its strong social sense, and the annual dinner of the Melton District, held at the Ann of Cleves Café, Melton Mowbray, on March 20th, was no exception. The three principal guests were the Rev. A. W. Harrison, of Somerby, who proposed the toast of "The Leicester Diocesan Guild," the Rev. A. G. Lancaster, of Waltham-on-the-Wolds, and Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Burton, from Leicester. The chairman, Mr. J. H. Cook, replied for the Guild. Mrs. Dorothy Day proposed "The Visitors," to which Mr. Burton suitably replied.

A social evening followed the dinner and speeches, organised by Mrs. Day, Miss B. Smith and Mrs. M. Stimson (District secretary). Thanks are due to Mrs. Stimson for the excellent arrangements. It was a most enjoyable evening.

LINCOLNSHIRE SILVER WEDDING

For many years ringing in South Lincolnshire has been ably upheld by Mr. James H. Musson, who lives in the somewhat isolated village of Silk Willoughby. March 20th was his silver wedding anniversary and a band of friends of long standing assembled at St. Denys' Church, Silk Willoughby, and rang a peal of Minor in seven methods. Oldest in the band was Harry Barnes, who rang excellently despite his 77 years. Afterwards Jim and Mary entertained the band to tea at their home, and a toast to their continued happiness was duly honoured.

THE EARL AGAIN

The Earl of Arran has again turned to "The Ringing World" for inspiration for his Wednesday column in "The Evening News" (London). The trouble is the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor at Limpsfield Chart and the submission of Mr. Richard Stevens that the bells changed course in one extent and he did not want his name associated with the peal.

The refusal of Mr. Christopher Mew (the conductor) to bow down to the charge adds fire to the Earl's story and he takes quotes from the letter. "There is already far too much back-biting between various factions of the Exercise . . ." "This accusation is yet another example of the damage which can be done by the finger-pointers"; "The reputations of those in the band will suffer, not to mention that of their home towers."

The Earl comments: "Perish the thought! In the band were such great names as Brian Bull and Alan Bagworth—at all cost they must not be compromised. For the sake of British bellringing, please get together, Chris and Dick and shake ropes. We don't want these ghastly Swiss waving their cowbells at us, do we?"

DISAPPOINTMENT FOR HANDBELL TEAM

For the past six years the boys of St. Wulfram's School, Grantham, have had the use of a set of handbells belonging to All Saints' Church, Branston, near Lincoln. Under the tuition of one of their masters, Mr. V. P. Evans, the boys have reached a high state of proficiency and have given a number of concerts. Branston Parochial Church Council want the bells returned by Easter. An appeal has been made by Mr. Evans in the "Lincoln Diocesan Leaflet" for a set and so far there have been no offers. "The boys are, naturally, very disappointed," comments Mr. Evans. They have grown to love the bells."

ALL IRELAND TOUR

Organised by John Gilbert, John Brain and Max Heymann, an "All Ireland" tour from the Bath and Wells Association will leave Bristol Airport on May 1st. Practically every tower in Eire and Northern Ireland will be visited, as well as renowned beauty spots and places of interest. This is not a peal tour but several quarters will be rung.

At present the band is one short, so if any energetic ringer has a fortnight to spare he is invited to contact M. Heymann, Eagle House, Chilcompton, Bath, at once. The party fly back to Bristol on May 13th.

PITMAN'S GRANDSIRE DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—Mr. J. David Atkinson in his letter (page 196) infers that Pitman's 240 of Grandsire Doubles has every change at handstroke and backstroke. This is not so. Consequently, although there are 24 callings of Pitman's 240, 12 of them bring up rounds at backstroke before the end of the 240. This is why I consider Mr. Price's 240's, both of which have 12 callings, to be better than either Morris's (eight callings) or Pitman's.—Yours faithfully,

J. DAVEY.
