OBITUARY

MR. JOSEPH STANIER

Mr. Joseph Stanier, a member of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, and for 25 years captain of Madeley, Shropshire, ringers, died on March 22nd. He had been a ringer at Madeley for 56 years and was also a very active church worker, both as a member of the parochial church council and as a sidesman. He conducted his first peal, off the tenor, in November, 1933, when all the other ringers were making their first peal attempt; he also took part in many peals for the Hereford Guild.

The funeral took place on March 25th, when the Madeley band of young ringers rang half-muffled before and after the service, which was attended by Mr. Harold Thomas, Ringing Master of the Hereford Guild, and Mrs. Joan Bennett, secretary of the Bridgnorth Branch.

NOTTINGHAM MEMORIES OF 40 YEARS AGO

THERE are events, sometimes great sometimes small, capable of turning the mind back over a great number of years and sending the fingers running hastily over diaries and other records to recapture something of the past. Such an occasion is the retirement of Mr. Frederick A. Salter from the post of Ringing Master at St. Peter's, Nottingham, and it has led us to the pleasant occupation of looking over notes of our doings in and around the beautiful Midland city some forty years ago.

The two centres of greatest activity, perhaps, were St. Peter's Church in the city, and Beeston, some four miles away. At the former there was an excellent general practice on Thursday nights and facilities for a peal once a month. At the latter there was a Sunday service band advanced enough to be ringing Surprise methods for Matins and Evensong and having a record of peals in all standard methods up to Cambridge Surprise. There was little serious handbell ringing.

In the years 1923 and 1924 we were notably reinforced by the arrival of Fred Salter and Frederick S. Bailey (the latter, of course, one of the famous Bailey brothers of Leiston), and progress in the city was made at an increased speed. At St. Peter's, ringers like George West, Frank Bradley and Laurence Chadburn were always ready for peals, and from far out at Long Eaton the two stalwarts Dick Drage and Joe Bailey were usually available for any enterprise; and so, with some of the Beeston men, there was promising peal-ringing material, and some good performances resulted. A peak performance, one that indeed stood out at this time, was the accomplishing of 5,024 London Surprise Major on October 11th, 1923, on the bells at St. Peter's, conducted by that fine ringer Albert Coppock. It was the first in the method in the city of Nottingham and it was rung by a mixed band from the city, from Long Eaton and from Beeston.

Some interest now began to be shown in handbell ringing, and an earnest start was made by meetings in the watch-repairing shop of William A. Janes, a queer upstairs lair over a strange shop in the quaintness of Castlegate. Here we practised Bob Minor and soon rang a peal of it, the first handbell peal to be rung in Nottingham. One or two more peals of Minor followed and then we were joined by Fred Salter and Tom Kirkby and went in for Bob Major and Grandsire Caters. Several peal attempts followed but although we persevered we never succeeded in getting the desired peal of Major. Quarter peals were scored and once we rang nearly halfway for the peal, but final success eluded us. It was the departure from Nottingham of Mr. Janes that brought our handbell enterprise to a close, but we remember with affection the little old den in Castlegate, the strange old dark stairs, the quiet kindness of Billy Janes, the happy hour with the bells and the hospitality of the bar parlour of The Royal Children next door.

At this time the Beeston band was maintaining the reputation it had built up over the years. Since the days of Reuben Clifford the company had gone ahead with an enthusiasm and driving power created and sustained by one fixed aim, and that was to ring a peal in the standard methods up to London. In this matter they progressed slowly but surely, from Treble Bob to Stedman, from Stedman to Double Norwich, from this to Superlative and Norfolk, and then, after great tribulation, to Cambridge. To the Beeston band, who started from humble beginnings, who had no tutor and no outside help, and no brilliant conductor to correct mistakes, these struggles meant much, and each successive stage in their progress was marked by joy and an exhilaration absent from so much of our easier peal ringing today.

One cannot but look back with affection to the Beeston men of forty years ago. William Clifford senior and junior were father and son and the old man was over seventy when he studied Cambridge for his first peal in the method, and seventy-six when he rang in the final triumph of a peal of London. Kindly Alfred Moss and the gentlemanly Charles Dicken, white moustached and tall-collared, and never known to say or do an unmannerly or unkind thing; Arthur Lowe, much travelled and an authority on the location and merits of country inns, a philosopher full of wise saws, and always likely to trip up in London when he was fifths-place bell! Percy Price was tall, lean and powerful, an earnest ringer and one of the finest handlers of a heavy bell in the Midlands. And with us, until almost the last success, was Albert Coppock, an excellent musician, a competent ringer and a very capable conductor. In 1924 he left Beeston tower to become Ringing Master at Lenton, and the burden of serious conducting was assumed by Percy Price.

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN AUSTRALIA ?

THE main story in the current issue of "Ringing Towers" deals with the re-dedication of Bendigo bells. These bells were recast at Whitechapel to a lighter weight (tenor approximately 18 cwt. against 20 cwt. 3 qr. 9 lb.). A new steel frame was placed in a concrete ring 18 feet lower in the tower. On the day before dedication a few ringers assembled to try the eight bells, but one Bendigo lad, who had not rung for more than two years, could only remember the muscle power needed—the result, one cracked and one broken stay. The broken stays were replaced at 10 p.m.

The dedication was by the Bishop of Bendigo, and W. F. W. concludes his report: "As the organ faded the bells could be heard pealing and exulting, free at last of worn-out fittings, free for ever of a lurching tower, singing with overtones the like of which had never been heard before."

GREAT ADVENTURE II

On September 8th Tom Lock's party of British ringers arrive in Perth at the commencement of a four weeks' west to east tour of Australian ringing centres. It is not yet known what the size of the ringing party will be, or its composition, but we understand that before long a "closing date," as it were, would be set and those who have expressed a firm interest will be asked to commit themselves.

Roughly the plan is that the first week-end will be spent in Adelaide, the second in Hobart and Melbourne, the third and fourth in Sydney. Victoria and New South Wales country centres will be visited on week-days, as will Maryborough.

HOLY TRINITY, HOBART

This tower provides a feature story and also an amusing one. Some years ago a leak developed in the Trinity tower roof. The churchwardens disclaimed responsibility by saying it was the ringers' job. The drips became annoying until someone had the brilliant idea of leaving the sixth bell set, which caught the drips. Next there was the problem of baling out the bell before ringing.

After some time, Phil, a man of ideas, decided to examine the roof and found a broken joint, which he said he would mend. He went up with fire pot and fuel and the soldering gear and soon had the break mended. Then, to his consternation, he discovered that the heat from the pot had set fire to a rafter. He dashed down the ladders and into the church, where he spotted some water near the font in readiness for a baptism. Grabbing the ewer he rushed back and flung the contents on the blaze. Fortunately that extinguished the fire. Commenting afterwards on the use of that particular water, Phil said: "Any port in a storm."

The mainspring of this rather remarkable band, however, was Frederick S. Price, and his indomitable courage and unquenchable optimism sustained us in our grim struggles with London Surprise and urged us on to final victory. Many were the attempts for this peal, and many were the disappointments, but there came at last that great day, January 31st, 1925, when Percy Price called "That's all" at the end of a good 5,024, and we all ran to the veteran of 76, William Clifford, to offer him our congratulations. Many peals have followed this one, but few have given such joy and satisfaction. It marked the peak of Beeston ringing, a height from which it rapidly declined. For those who at this time strive to raise the standard again, we would remark that Beeston rose to fame from very small beginnings; it can do so again.

These rambling recollections arise from pleasant thoughts of Mr. Fred Salter and the lovely city of Nottingham. We trust that he, too, may find joy and profit in the remembrance of those far-off times. E. C. S.

A RINGING WEEK-END IN PARIS

Friday, March 26th, saw about a dozen members of the University of London Society and a lady friend congregating at Victoria (some arrived at the correct time) to take advantage of British Rail's cheap (£4 10s.) trip to Paris for the France-Wales rugby match. However, nothing was further from our minds than rugby just then.

We boarded the train about midnight at Newhaven, quickly grabbing our seats in the lounge. When the boat started, Richard, Robert and Alan were seen scurrying off in the direction of the deck with handbells. This was supposedly a peal attempt, but a combination of icy-cold wind, spectators and flash-bulbs upset concentration to such an extent that although four separate 720's were rung, there was no success; even a quarter peal fired out in the last course.

We had not much success, either, in getting a compartment together in the French train, but most people managed to grab an hour or so's sleep before arrival at Gare St. Lazare at 7.30. We went for breakfast to a little bistro across the road, where we ate delicious rolls and drank coffee, which was 2/6 per cup, but Tony somehow only had to pay 7d. for a glass of vin blanc.

Our first destination was Pont Neuf, under which we saw Philip, Edward and Nick started on a handbell peal on a set of thimble-sized bells. Despite the attentions of a large dog which snapped viciously whenever Edward called his bobs, this was brought round in two hours and one minute. Across the river, Robert, Richard and Tony were not having the same success, however, but eventually managed a quarter in 28 minutes.

While the ringing was going on the rest of the party went sightseeing to the Eiffel Tower, the Arc de Triomphe and the Cathedral of Notre Dame. The whole party was to have met at Notre Dame to go to lunch, but the quarter peal band had other ideas. They eventually arrived, 45 minutes late, having ascended and rung what was believed to be the first touch in the Eiffel Tower, and having narrowly escaped being run down by a Parisian taxi, only to find that the others had left.

After lunch, the peal ringers went dining and window shopping, eventually splitting up to enable Edward to try (unsuccessfully) to telephone some "oiseau" he had met on a previous visit to Paris. The quarter ringers eventually met up with the saner members of the party at Sacré Cœur, from where there was a glorious view of Paris. One or two even had enough energy to climb the dome. From there we walked the few yards to watch the artists of Montmartre at work. One particular artist, whom we watched produce a most glorious portrait of a very attractive girl, disappointed us all when he said "Tweenty-faav francs, please," in a broad American accent.

When we all reunited (successfully this time) at Notre Dame, we found that Edward had a posy in his hand and a John Lennon hat on his head. When we had humoured him he told us that he had got through to his girl, but wasn't sure whether she would join us for dinner, which we were to have in Montmartre, to the music of an "orchestra." She did, but to our horror (and Edward's) she had brought a man with her. However, he turned out to be her cousin.

We said "au revoir" to Paris at 11.20 p.m., this time managing to get a compartment together. Sleep was the main object; Edward was bent double; Alan was stretched out along the luggage-rack, nearly falling off once; and Nick, Robert and Karen were hanging out of the windows trying to cool their parched tongues (tiredness has some strange effects). The boat journey back was cold and foggy.

At Newhaven the Customs nearly had Richard's camera, but let him through in the end. Everyone slept all the way to London, where we split up, vowing to make this an annual affair (British Rail permitting). Most went home for more sleep; others went for breakfast at Victoria; and one or two had even enough energy to ring at St. Paul's or Cornhill. R. E. J. D.

EAST GRINSTEAD & DISTRICT GUILD

Annual General Meeting

ON March 13th the Guild held its annual general meeting at Edenbridge. A change of venue had been made owing to there being no facilities for tea and meeting at Coleman's Hatch. Arrangements for ringing had been made at Cowden and Edenbridge during the afternoon until service time at Edenbridge. The service, conducted by the Rev. D. Bartleet, was well attended, with the Rev. J. Collins (vice-president), of Hever, reading the lesson. The choir, led by Mr. Beck, the organist, rendered an anthem and again the well-known Ringers' Hymn was sung by the congregation. Over 70 members and friends sat down to a tea in Church House, where the now traditional spread had been prepared by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leigh with the help of wives and mothers of members of the Edenbridge band. After tea the business meeting was held with the Rev. J. R. Missen (president) in the chair.

We were pleased to welcome several of our vice-presidents, and Mr. B. E. Jeffrey thanked them for their support and interest in the Guild. The report and statement of accounts for 1964 were taken as read, and it was noted that two peals had been rung for the Guild including some first-pealers. Eight new members were elected and welcomed into the Guild by the president. The following officers were elected: President, the Rev. J. R. Missen; chairman, Mr. B. E. Jeffrey; vice-chairman, Mr. J. E. Warner; secretary, Miss M. A. Ladd; hon. auditor, M. R. D. Divall.

A NEW TREASURER

Mr. C. W. Hancock could not stand for re-election as treasurer as he would probably be moving from the district in the next few months. The news was received with regret, and Mr. Hancock was thanked for his loyalty and for doing this job so efficiently during the past five years. Mr. Hancock said that he would miss the Guild meetings very much and the friendship of the members. Mr. Colin Osbon was elected his successor. Changes in the committee were the election of Miss E. Tester, Mr. F. I. Hairs and Mr. G. Fry. Mr. and Mrs. S. Jenner did not seek re-election.

It was decided to hold an outing in October with Mr. C. A. Bassett as organiser, and a dinner in 1965 with Mr. E. J. Ladd as organiser, the 1965 one being a huge success.

The news of loss of three former members of the Guild in 1965—Mr. S. Russell (late of Rotherfield), Mr. G. Apps, a founder member (Cuckfield) and Mr. L. Tidy (of Limsfield Chart)—was received with regret, the members standing in silence as a mark of respect.

Mr. B. E. Jeffrey said how pleased he was to see so many members attending the Guild meetings each month and hoped the Guild would go from strength to strength, there being over 100 paid up members on the books at this time.

Mr. B. V. Collison thanked the Edenbridge ringers, the Rev. D. Bartleet and their helpers for entertaining the Guild in such a splendid manner.

After the meeting ringing was enjoyed at Edenbridge and Hever until 8.30 a.m. M. A. L.

A DEVON OUTING

The first of a series of outings for 1965, organised by Mr. A. L. Bennett, was held on February 24th, when accompanying him were the Misses S. L. Dowell and M. Russell. Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Bould, Messrs. A. Caffry, K. E. Fursdon and R. A. Southwood. A pleasant time was spent at Dean Prior Parish Church, and after tea at a local cafe a short time was spent ringing on the five at Littlehempston, where the ringing chamber is in a dilapidated condition. Another ring of five at East Ogwell, near Newton Abbot, concluded the day. Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob Minor and call changes.

OBITUARY

MR. GEORGE PERRIN

With regret we announce the death, suddenly, on March 21st, of Mr. George Perrin, who for many years had acted as judge for contests of the Halifax and District Association. Apart from this Association he was also a member of the Barnsley & District Society and the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Mr. Perrin, who was 78, had been nearly all his life a service ringer, being associated with the following towers: Saddleworth, St. George's and St. John's, Mossley, and Friezland. He was always of a cheerful countenance and good humour, but could hold his corner in an argument, especially about ringing, and good striking in particular.

The funeral service was at Friezland, Yorks, and the burial at Saddleworth on April 1st. Towers represented were Meltham, Huddersfield, Saddleworth, Bradford Cathedral, St. George's, Mossley, St. John's, Mossley, and Friezland.

God called "That's all" and "Stand" and he obeyed, as he always did. A. F.

MR. FRANK C. W. KNIGHT

THE news of the death on March 31st of Frank Colston Winter Knight at the early age of 48 will be received with very deep regret by all ringers and others who knew him.

Born at Lyminge, Kent, Frank studied music—his greatest passion in life after ringing—at Trinity College of Music, and later received a Doctorate in Music from Harvard University, U.S.A. Later he taught successively at Hove Grammar School, both in Surrey. While at Farnham, he frequently rang with the Guildford band under the leadership of the late Alfred Pulling.

After the war he taught successively at Brentford, Orpington, Finchley, Folkestone, Canterbury, Ramsgate and Winchester. In each place Frank took an active part in local ringing; while at Orpington he did very great work in reviving ringing on the fine octave at the Church of the Annunciation, Chislehurst, and was responsible for introducing the late John L. Morris (and through him the present Kent County Association peals secretary, Mr. I. H. Oram) to ringing.

At Winchester he held office in the Cathedral band, and was for a short time captain at St. Lawrence-in-Thamet, Ramsgate. During this time he presented a cup to be awarded for a striking competition in the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association: the first competition for this cup is, it is understood, to be held shortly. In addition to his ringing activities, Frank was organist at a number of churches during his life, particularly at Chilham and Minster-in-Thamet, Kent, where he did sterling work in choir training.

The First Peal for their University

Generations of ringing undergraduates of the University of Sussex will honour this picture. It is of the band that rang the first peal for the University, one of four Minor methods, at Washington, on February 17th. The ringers, from left to right, are: Raymond J. Talbot, Michael J. Bew (conductor and hon. secretary of the University Guild), Catherine M. Powell, John C. Baldwin, Terry G. Williams and Peter J. Came.

The funeral service took place at Lyminge Parish Church on April 3rd, and was conducted by the Rev. G. H. Luckett, Rector of Lyminge, assisted by the Rev. C. Hartley Bird, Vicar of St. Lawrence-in-Thamet, and the Rev. P. N. Bond, a personal friend of long standing. Our sympathy goes out to his mother and family, and we pray that his soul may rest in peace. P. N. B.

AN APPRECIATION

MANY ringers will mourn the passing of Mr. Frank C. W. Knight, whose death is reported this week.

Our paths first met when he took up an appointment as master at Farnham Grammar School at the end of the last war. He had already learned to handle a bell but knew nothing of change ringing and it took a lot of cajoling by the late A. H. Pulling and myself to persuade him away from tenoring behind. Once started, however, he showed great enthusiasm and was soon teaching a band of his schoolboys to ring the heavy Farnham eight. Also, being a fine mathematician, he was soon composing, albeit sometimes producing peculiar methods with a double treble bob hunt.

As an accomplished pianist (when he got going on "Polonaise in A" the room shook) and church organist, he was much more concerned with perfect striking rather than complicated methods, and when he was in the band it was usually a joy to ring. The most perfect piece of precision striking I ever heard was his playing of a course of Grand-sire Trioles which he had written out as a piece of music for the piano.

Frank possessed a many-sided character and was full of novel ideas. One we worked out between us was for a ringing school—which came to naught because it was in advance of its time. He told me that it was he who gave A. J. Corrigan the fundamentals upon which the "place notation" book was based. He organised the "Kent tours" just after the war, and it was on the first of these tours that I made the acquaintance of Ronald Dove—and so "Dove's Bellringer's Guide" was born. Frank was the inventor of the best collective noun yet devised for ringers—a "dandle" of ringers. He asked me to print some sheets to record his peals and, following his suggestion that they might be made more widely available, my series of "Ringers' Record Books" was marketed.

When he left our district he went from strength to strength, taking part in several record peals, including ringing the tenor to the 12,663 Stedman Cinques at Oxford and ringing in the 12,740 Bob Royal at Prittlewell. He also gained quite a reputation as a ringer of heavy bells. He represented the Cumberland Youths on the Central Council for three years. In 1957 he became a Doctor of Music; then in 1958 his health broke down and he did no ringing until July, 1963, just before moving to Winchester to take up an appointment as mathematics master at Winchester County School for Boys. Our last meeting was when he brought some friends from the Winchester area to join us in ringing a peal (his own composition) of Bob Major at Aldershot.

Our sympathy goes out to his dear mother, who survives him. W. H. V.

Letters to the Editor

WANTS A SHILLING "R.W."

Dear Sir,—I agree wholeheartedly with Mr. C. Woolley's letter in a recent issue of "The R.W." Providing we have permission to ring bells, the cost is precious little compared with other pastimes. Without "The R.W." how could we be kept informed about our friends and achievements, particularly the record grabbers?

During the 1920's Mr. Woolley refers to, a soldier's pay was 2s. "per diem." "The R.W." therefore cost one-eighth of a day's pay and quite often those three hours were spent on sentry duty outside the royal palaces in London in the sweltering sun, but it was threepence well spent.

In these days, a car is often the forerunner of ringing. Petrol prices, also those of many other things we could do without, have increased. Shortly there will be 25% extra on postage. We have no option but to accept it, and we shall.

With regard to the sometimes two pages of quarter peals and the Gratefully Acknowledged column, I consider them as being the Editor's begging bowls, and I cannot understand why so may peal ringers have their quarters published unless they want other ringers to be continuously reading their names.

Most of us remember the thrill of our first quarter peal, but in my view the inclusion of a young person's age is such that it is of no news value outside the local band. If initial efforts by these people have to be in print, why not do so in the church magazine where the Confirmation candidates and accomplishments of the choristers are mentioned.

How much actual work are some of us prepared to do for a shilling? We have never had it so good and we must be prepared to pay for our wants.

I would like to see:

- The cost of "The R.W." increased to one shilling.
- The publication of quarter peals fixed at 4s. per 30 words as the Guilds' notices are.
- The Gratefully Acknowledged column banned. The publication of copy should be proof of payment.
- "The R.W." freed from its chains of charity.—Yours faithfully,

H. GUMMER.

Devizes, Wilts.

DURHAM VILLAGE TOWER'S PLIGHT

Dear Sir,—Some months ago you published an appeal for funds to help raise money for our three bells to be restored and to have three more added to make a ring of six.

The ringers and myself have once again approached the Church Council and have been told they are sorry they cannot give us permission to start an "official" fund to raise the £1,800 we need as there is more important work to be done on the church itself.

I, as tower captain, have 19 youngsters who are able to ring and are also learning the art, and, as I said, we have only three bells.

They have a fund of their own and have collected £40, and they are still hoping for a good Samaritan.

May I say that we are very grateful for all the letters we get inquiring about our progress.—Yours faithfully,

THOMAS JOPLING.

St. Mary-the-Virgin, Shincliffe.

CENTRAL COUNCIL COLLECTION

Dear Sir,—Although it has probably already been noticed, I would nevertheless like to point out that Extent No. 34, given for plain methods of Group H in the Central Council Collection of Minor Methods, has been misprinted; the first two calls in all six parts should be singles, and not bobs as shown.—Yours faithfully,

S. HUMPHREY.

Wollaton.

BELL INSCRIPTION TRANSLATION

Dear Sir,—A non-ringing friend has asked me if I can find out for him something concerning a bell inscription in Witherstock Church, Westmorland. It appears that the inscription reads:

"Dulcedine Vocis Cantabo Tuo Noe.
I.B. 1670."

The "Noe" is rather puzzling. It is true that the Vulgate uses the Latin Noe for Noah, but it is hardly likely that the bell would be required to sing the praises of the builder of the Ark! It is more likely, as has been suggested, that the word is short for "Nomine," in which case a free translation could then run: "With sweetness of voice I will sing in Thy Name."

Any information about this bell, its founder, its present uses, and anything of interest, would be welcome, and may interest readers of our journal. If any correspondent can send me advance information (to the address below) I shall be grateful.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

DEPENDENCE ON FRED PRICE

Dear Sir,—Please allow me to point out that in your very nice account of Mr. Fred Price's career as a teacher of bellringing at the Washington Cathedral, you have made an error in copying the testimonial given to him by the National Cathedral School. This declaration, contrary to the usual custom, is one of Dependence, not Independence. This was our way of emphasising the debt that the school owed him and our sorrow at taking leave of him.

There were many ways in which we depended on Fred Price—the girls for his teaching, the staff for his friendship, and all of us for the example of his character. This is a relationship from which we do not ever want to cut ourselves adrift!—Yours sincerely,

KATHERINE LEE, Principal.

ELIZABETH FRY, Vice-Principal.

ROPES—THANKS!

Dear Sir,—May I, through the columns of "The Ringing World," express my grateful thanks to the following towers who so magnificently responded to my appeal for bell ropes:

Kirby Wiske, Yorkshire;
Woodchurch, Birkenhead, Cheshire;
Walton-on-Thames, Surrey;
and an anonymous short-draughted tower whose unknown representative left a pile of bell ropes on my doorstep. I very much hope this tower will identify itself.

Also grateful thanks to Isleworth, Middlesex, whose offer I have not had to take up—Yours sincerely,

TONY CLAYTON (Rev.).

Tooting Graveney, S.W.

HOLY SATURDAY

Dear Sir,—Once again "The Ringing World" carries the announcement of a meeting to be held on Holy Saturday; with 51 other Saturdays in the year I would have thought every Association would be able to arrange its programme without intruding into Holy Week, and how any incumbent can give permission for several hours of secular ringing on the day after Good Friday passes my comprehension.—Yours faithfully,

EDWARD G. CAPLE.

Clevedon, Somerset.

STEDMAN TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—There are no doubt a number of young conductors of Stedman Triples who would like to be able to compose and prove some short musical touches in this method, and for their benefit I send a few examples. They should aim at getting pairs of bells which give musical changes, such as 46-74, etc., behind. I think the following very good, and with one exception they contain 11, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, THE BELLS OF OXBOROUGH

The Sad Story of the Fall of a Church

BY DAVID L. CAWLEY

THE county of Norfolk is notable for its 750 churches which still stand and for the 250 which have gone to decay. It is a county of glorious churches like Salle and Walpole St. Peter, of glorious towers like those in Norwich, and magnificent bells such as those at St. Peter Mancroft and St. Nicholas', Great Yarmouth. Alas, it is a county of many unringable bells—many possibly not as unringable as they are reputed to be. Three of these unringables hang in churches possessing the only three mediæval stone spires in Norfolk. Firstly, we have the lovely chiming five in the 315ft. high tower and spire of Norwich Cathedral. Secondly, the chiming six of Snettisham, rehung by Taylors in 1958, with the ancient sanctus bell, in a really lovely tower with 175ft. high spire. Thirdly, we had the six at St. John the Evangelist's, Oxborough, near Swaffham.

This lovely building, situated near the famous Oxburgh Hall, dominated the surrounding countryside with its 156ft. high spire. Containing work of all three periods of Gothic, it was notable for its fine panelled oak roofs, its rood screen and ancient benches and, loveliest of all, the Bedingfield Chapel and tombs, separated from the south aisle by a beautiful screen of terra-cotta work of the Renaissance period.

The slender tower with its stone spire carried bells at an early date, and in 1582 we find that Stephen Tonne of Bury St. Edmunds cast the No. 4 (and possibly the No. 5 bell). Augmentation went on and in 1858 the Norfolk bell historian, John L'Estrange, visited the tower and recorded the inscriptions on the then ring of five bells, as follows:

Treble: + Omnia fiant ad gloriam Dei 1610. (Weight in 1962, 5 cwt. 1 qr. 6 lb.).

Second: 10 DR 1636.

Third: + Te per orbem terrarum sancta confitetur ecclesia + patrem immensa maiestatis. (5 wt. 1 qr. 13 lb.)

Fourth: John Wortley and John Blomefield Churchwardens 1808. (7 cwt. 2 qr. 2lb.)

Tenor: O christe rex gloria es eu thomas draper me fecit 1586.

There was also a clock bell without inscription. Originally the third also bore the words:

De bvri sante edmundi stefanvs toni me fecit. W.L. 1582. Prior to recasting by Dobson in 1808, the inscription on the fourth was: Venerandum tuum verum et unicum filium.

The second and treble were by John Draper. In 1867 the bells were rehung by John Warner and Sons, of Cripplegate, the second and tenor recast and a new treble added. These were inscribed as follows, and the weight are those of 1962:

New treble: Cast by John Warner and Sons, London, 1867. 5 cwt. 1 qr. 17 lb.

Old 2 (3rd): Same. 5 cwt. 2 qr. 5 lb.

Tenor: Cast by John Warner and Sons, London, 1867. Glory be to Thee, O Christ. 11 cwt. 0 qr. 4 lb.

During a storm in 1870 the mediæval stone spire was struck by lightning. Things remained in a fairly precarious state until the following year, when it was decided to rebuild the spire, which was done. However, the weight of the new stone spire caused a problem, and it had been mentioned that on occasions when the bells were rung the structure swayed violently. By the 1920's there was no ringing at all. The writer has spoken to ringers who saw the bells at about this time, and it would appear that the fittings were not in good order. Not long after the end of the war it is believed that the Parochial Church Council were warned that the foundations of the tower were unsatisfactory. When it is remembered that the tower was lofty and rather slender, built of flint rubble, it is perhaps not surprising that there should be trouble.

"At 10 a.m. on Wednesday, April 28th, 1948, the tower and spire collapsed," wrote the Rural Dean in the Register of Services, "bringing down most of the nave roof and south arcade shortly afterwards." The church was ruined apart from the three chancels and the Bedingfield screen, already referred to. The bells remained where they fell, some cracked or broken. It was the beginning of the end. One of the Regional Books, "Breckland," describes the departed glory of Oxborough Church, finishing by saying "tossed high on the rubble lies an immense bell where it fell on the day of the disaster, its rusty clapper beside it." Later the rubble and the ruins of the tower were cleared away, leaving the walled-up chancels and a portion of the aisle, the former of which is the only portion left for services. The bells were dug out and after reposing at the home of a churchwarden were sent to the keeping of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

By 1962 it became apparent that, in a village with a population of only 160, of whom half were Roman Catholics, and possessing six badly damaged bells with nowhere to hang them, it would be unrealistic to try to raise the money required. In that year a faculty was obtained for the sale of all the bells, broken and otherwise, to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Unfortunately, the only bell of antiquarian interest, the No. 4, had been smashed in pieces. From the metal sold, the foundry provided a bell of 14in. diameter, which is hung in the ancient sanctus bell turret over the chancel arch which has been blocked. So at least a tiny proportion of what was lost has been returned, so that the bells of St. John's, Oxborough, will never quite be silent for ever.

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD

On March 13th ten members of the S.U.G.C.R. and two ringers from Southampton set off in a minibus for a day's outing in London. Unfortunately, due to unexpectedly heavy traffic, the journey took longer than anticipated, and we had to forgo the planned visit to the Whitechapel Bell Foundry in the morning.

After lunch near St. Paul's Cathedral we started the afternoon's programme by ringing at St. Vedast's, Foster Lane. From there we went to nearby St. Lawrence Jewry (these bells were much enjoyed). We were joined during the afternoon by two members of London University Society and three other visitors, whose help was greatly appreciated.

Our next tower was to have been St. Olave's, Hart Street, but the Master of London University Society had unfortunately forgotten that we were coming. The Rector was out, and as keys were not available we were denied access to the church and bells. However, this gave us time for a welcome tea break at Fenchurch Street Station.

We then made our way down the East India Dock Road to All Saints', Poplar, where, after some initial difficulty with raising the tenor, Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal were rung. The final tower was St. George the Martyr, Southwark, where some of the best ringing of the day took place on the very pleasant eight.

Ringling ranged from rounds to Grandsire Caters and included Cambridge Major and Minor, Kent, Double Norwich, Stedman and Plain Bob. We felt the day had helped all our members, including beginners. The Guild is grateful to Peter Joyce for arranging the outing, to the incumbents and ringers who met us, to the visitors who joined us and to Mick Thomas, of Southampton, who so expertly drove us to and from our destinations.

The meeting, on a wet March 20th, was held at Tewin—and although several cars went on a round trip of the nearby countryside, most of them eventually found the church. Ringing took place on the six until the service, and afterwards a long convoy of cars made its way round the lanes to the cafe where tea had been arranged. The business meeting was held back in the church, Mr. Geoffrey Dodds being elected chairman.

The Misses J. Stone and D. Parrott, from Harpenden, were elected full ringing members, and D. Keen and P. Avis probationary members. C. Hewitt was transferred from probationary to full membership.

It was arranged that, unfortunately, stiletto heels would not be allowed in the hall at Harfield at the annual general meeting on April 24th.

The District outing is to be held on July 19th, and the car rally on October 2nd.

A vote of thanks went to the Rector and the organist, and the meeting was closed. Evening ringing took place and ranged from rounds to Surprise Minor.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Members of London University inquire for details of peals rung on the Continent of Europe.

The ringer of the seventh in the peal at Pontefract on March 13th (page 221) was David Smith, and not as printed.

Mr. Christopher M. Richards, who rang in a quarter at Cuddleston, will, after Trinity ordination, join the staff of St. Mary Redcliffe.

Congratulations to the University of Sussex Society on scoring their first peal. Another peal attempt will be made before the end of the academic year. The University now has a regular Tuesday evening practice at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Brighton.

The four boys ringing the front bells at Shebbear College, North Devon, had only started to ring Kent about a week before. A quarter in the method was successfully attempted and the only touches rung had been three leads. The 720 went through almost without a hitch. Cambridge is the next goal.

According to "Ringing Towers," Mr. Philip M. Gray is going (or has gone) on a business trip to Australia. He hopes to meet as many of his constituents as possible. (He is representative of the Australian and New Zealand Association on the Central Council.)

Mr. E. W. Jones, captain of Madeley ringers, informs us that the quarter peal at Ryton on January 9th was not the first quarter on the bells, as there was a quarter rung for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II on Coronation Day by J. L. Stanier 1, H. Tranter 2, T. S. Wilkes 3, D. Evans, of Madeley, and H. Douglas, of Dawley. Madeley's quarter in memory of Sir Winston Churchill was rung on January 24th and not January 23rd as stated.

TRIPLES PEAL FOR RUGBY VICTORY

The peal of Stedman Triples rung at Bridgend on March 13th was especially arranged to celebrate Wales' victory over Ireland at Cardiff Arms Park earlier that day. Most of the members of the band were at the game and immediately it was over they all travelled to Bridgend for the peal. (Actually two members were so held up in the crowds that they arrived only just in time to start.)

No consideration had been given to the possibility of Wales not winning, but in the case of this unlikely event the peal would probably have been rung half-muffled.

EASTER IN CORNWALL

Two parties of ringers are spending Easter week in Cornwall—one from Sussex, the other the Oxford University Guild. In his parish magazine the Rev. A. S. Roberts writes: "We wish them a pleasant holiday as they make the music of bells, which is really a rhythm of tones."

Apart from the Vicar, Carbis Bay has 12 ringers and four beginners. There is also Mr. F. B. Ditcher, late of Ranmoor, Sheffield, who is now living in Lelant and helps every Sunday. Later this year Margaret Gallop is going to Sheffield to train as a nurse.

COMING-OF-AGE AS RINGER

This Easter Mr. Herbert I. Pitman, of Canford Magna, Dorset, achieves 21 years as a ringer at one church. To mark the occasion a quarter peal of Old and Plain Bob Doubles, called by his 12-year-old daughter, was rung on March 27th, and he was presented with "The Sound of Bells" and a record token from the ringers, also a peal card from the Campanology Society of Canford School.

Mr. Pitman was taught to ring by Mr. William Dunning, whose 87th birthday was on March 28th) and learned methods from Mr. W. C. Shute. He has been captain for 18 years, starting with a band of learners and keeping the tower active ever since.

His wife is a ringer, and their two younger children, aged ten and seven, are learning.

R.A.F. MEN—LOOK OUT FOR CHRIS

A promising member of the Chobham, Surrey, band, Chris Hill, has left to begin a career in the R.A.F. He will be missed not only in his own tower but in the Chertsey District, where he has been very active. With seven peals and 33 quarters in the book, he can be sure of a welcome at most towers near where he is stationed. His first station is Swinderby, Lincs. We wish him all the best, both in his new job and also amongst Service ringers.

ROMANTIC TOWER

A quarter peal attempt at Horsell, Surrey, for the wedding of local ringer Bryan Priestley, came to grief near the end. Horsell ringers are well in the marriage news, three of them being wed in three weeks.

2,145 PEAL RINGERS ALREADY THIS YEAR

Mr. John Hunt and Miss Gillian Hussey submit the following details of leading peal ringers for 1965 up to and including March 26th:

Leading men tower bell peal ringers: Michael J. Fellows 19 (3), Martin D. Fellows (19), D. John Hunt 16 (12), J. Alan Ainsworth 16 (6), George E. Fearn 16 (1).

Leading lady tower bell peal ringers: Gillian M. Hussey 16, Susan Funnell 14, Jennifer M. Taylor 12.

Leading handbell peal ringers: J. Arthur Hoare 7, Brian J. Woodruffe 7 (7).

Number of tower bell peal ringers to date, 2,145.

Number of handbell peal ringers to date, 64. Figures in parentheses are number of peals conducted.

CHERTSEY'S GOOD TURN

The question posed by Mr. Tom Page to the Guildford annual general meeting: "Who is going to travel 20 miles to ring rounds on ten bells?" was effectively answered on March 28th, when ten ringers from the Chertsey District travelled to St. Nicolas', Guildford, to ring for the 8 a.m. service. The Rector had specially asked for the bells to be rung. The ringers left home at 7 a.m.—and enjoyed it!

"IPSE DIXIT"

"We have not got a good tenor ringer at Dorking," said Mr. A. P. Cannon while adjudicating the striking competition of the Sussex Association at Burgess Hill.

SLOUGH RINGER MARRIED

On Mothering Sunday (March 28th), Miss Pamela Jarvis, who has been a bellringer at Slough Parish Church for the past 11 years, was married to Mr. Kenneth Marson, a chorister at Holy Trinity Church, Windsor, at St. Mary's Church, Langley Marish, Bucks. She was given away by her brother, Alan, who once learned to handle a bell but whose employment in Paris prevents his continuing the art.

The service was choral, the bridegroom's fellow choristers and organist providing the music, which included Purcell's "Bell" anthem, "Rejoice in the Lord alway." Many of Miss Jarvis's ringing colleagues attended the reception held at the Church Hall, and rang a quarter peal (which appears in the quarter peal columns) following the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Birmingham, also a ringer, and daughter of the Slough belfry captain. A very pleasant gesture during the reception was the recognition of Mothering Sunday by the bridegroom, who presented bouquets to Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. Marson and the bridegroom's landlady, with whom he had lived for the past eight years. At the conclusion of the reception the bride placed her bouquet on her late father's grave in the churchyard adjoining the hall.

After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Marson will take up residence at Dedworth, Windsor. Pamela has been a very loyal member of the Slough band, and has rung a number of peals up to and including Surprise methods. She will be sorely missed at Slough.

LONG LENGTH OF YORKSHIRE

Congratulations to Mr. Martin D. Fellows and his band of Worcestershire and Districts Association ringers in ringing 11,520 Yorkshire Surprise Major at Hanbury on March 27th in 6 hours and 6 minutes. This was the longest length for the Association on tower bells and exceeds the previous record by 1,344 changes. The latter was 10,176 Double Oxford Bob Major rung at Brierley Hill on December 27th, 1909, conducted by the late Robert Matthews.

SYDNEY NEWS

Friends of Mr. Tom Goodyer, the well-known leader of Australian ringing, will regret to learn that he was admitted to hospital for minor surgery on Sunday, March 28th, but he is hoping to be back ringing by Easter. A speedy recovery, Tom!

It is anticipated that within two or three weeks the seventh bell at St. Mary's Basilica, Sydney, which has been out of the frame for some months past with axle trouble, will be restored to service. Triples and Major will then be heard again across the city. Our correspondent informs us that a new set of ropes has been ordered.

TWO 70-YEAR-OLDS

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Dunster on March 27th was in honour of two veterans reaching their three score and ten years—Arthur R. Tudball's birthday being on March 27th and William A. J. Knight's on February 19th. Both took part in the peal, William A. J. Knight conducting. The peal was also a compliment to Arthur, who is secretary of the Dunster Deanery B. and W. Association, on completing 50 years as a ringer at Dunster Church. The occasion was fittingly celebrated afterwards.

TOO OLD AT 18!

This was the case at Canford Magna, Dorset, on Mothering Sunday, when the young ringers took over the belfry for the annual Mother's Day service. They were pleased this year to be able to reduce the age limit from 21 to 18.

In charge was 12-year-old Sandra Pitman, performing her duties like a veteran.

GOING TO LLANDUDNO?

Mr. John F. Astbury will remember his 21st birthday at Llandudno, when he called a quarter peal at Holy Trinity Church in which there were six quarter peals. Llandudno hope this coming summer to welcome many visitors at service ringing on Sundays and practices on Wednesdays. Their help will be most useful.

MRS. HAZELDEN'S 90th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Hazelden, widow of Mr. A. C. Hazelden, of Guildford, would like to thank all the friends who sent her cards for her 90th birthday, on March 30th, and the Guildford Diocesan Guild for such lovely flowers. She also wishes to thank the ringers who attempted a peal at St. Nicolas', Guildford, on her birthday. The Rector visited her in the evening to take her greetings and to tell her that the bells were ringing merrily. She entered the Royal Surrey County Hospital on Monday (April 5th).

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

St. Mary Magdalene, Holloway, for many years known as the Chapel of Ease, dates from the early part of the 19th century and has a ring of eight bells with the tenor weighing 20 cwt.

It was at this church that the North and East District met on March 20th for their monthly meeting. From 3.30 p.m. the bells rang out to a variety of methods to suit all tastes under the guidance of Mrs. H. G. Hart.

The Vicar, the Rev. R. E. Simpson, welcomed the ringers to his church and conducted the Association's Form of Service. The basis of his short address was taken from a remark made by one of his small daughters, "Are you pleased with me?" and left a thought with us all that we could ask the same question of our Master.

Following the service, a visit was made to the Crypt, where sandwiches, cakes and tea were soon disposed of by the 30 or so ringers present.

Before returning to the belfry for further ringing, Mr. H. G. Hart thanked the Vicar, Mr. Ron Wood who accompanied at the piano during the service, the ladies who had provided the excellent repast, and those two Holloway stalwarts, Dorren Deverell and "Dick" Newman, for making local arrangements. E. H. K.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Meeting at Chilton Foliat on March 20th, the Marlborough Branch was unfortunate in that the weather proved unkind. The attendance up to tea time was very sparse indeed but things improved afterwards when visitors arrived from Wootton Bassett, Marlborough College, Wells, Pilton (Somerset), Devizes, Bromham, Newbury and Thatcham.

Those at tea were the guests of the Rev. R. Unwin and Mrs. Unwin, and thanks were expressed by the Rev. R. Keeley (Branch Ringing Master) for a beautiful spread. He also paid tribute to the local tower captain (Mr. K. Cooke) for his help in arranging the meeting.

In the circumstances the main items on the business agenda were deferred until the April meeting, which it is hoped will be at Mildenhall. One item discussed, however, concerned the possibility of organising a party to attend the annual Guild Festival at Sherborne on May 8th. The idea is to be explored further.

PROGRESS AT REDCLIFFE

The quarter peal of Cinques rung for Evensong at St. Mary Redcliffe on March 21st was the first by St. Mary's Guild. In it, five members scored their first of Cinques and all can now look forward to greater efforts. It marked the consecration of the Church of St. Martin, Que Que, Rhodesia, this church being a gift from St. Mary Redcliffe in thanksgiving for the restoration of the tower, which is now nearing completion.

THE VICTORY

WHY do we ring peals with the footnote "In Memoriam A.B." when the Sunday ringing proclaims that Jesus Christ is risen? I have never asked myself this question before, but writing an article for the Easter number of "The Ringing World" made me pause and think about it. Certainly, the peals show our respect for our friends who have died and our sorrow at their death; but it does not alter the fact that when the bells ring out from our church towers on Sunday mornings they are proclaiming the good news that Jesus Christ is risen, and that this event is the turning point in history. Perhaps then our footnote might read: "God be praised, He gives us the victory through Our Lord Jesus Christ" (1 Corinthians xv, 57, New English Bible)—followed by the names of those for whom the peal is rung.

The reason I would use this footnote is that it reminds us of those things which are important for our Christian belief in the Resurrection; that it is Jesus Christ who wins the victory, that the victory is given to mankind and that we can share in the victory.

In the first place we are concerned with what happened on that Easter morning. The stories in the Gospels all stress that the tomb was empty and that Jesus appeared to His followers on many occasions during the next few weeks. This is the historical evidence that we have. But what to me is equally important is the profound change that took place in the lives of the disciples. Their witness is not only that they could vouch for the empty tomb and that they saw Jesus after His Resurrection, but that they were different people. Whereas at the time of the Crucifixion they ran away, after the Resurrection they are prepared to speak quite openly about their faith in Jesus Christ. What we know of the first Christians points to a "before" and "after" the events of Good Friday and Easter Day. The turning point in their lives is the victory of Jesus on the Cross which is proclaimed by His Resurrection.

What is the Victory that Christ gains? It is that which is foreshadowed in Gethsemane when Christ faces the agony of His coming Crucifixion and chooses the will of the Father. The victory over the temptation to choose a course less than that ordained by God; whereas the disciples escape the choice by running away. It is the victory also over the power of death which seems to be the final end, the ultimate separation from God and all whom we love; but Christ is raised up by the Father. The separation is not real. So the glorious assertion of Easter morning is that Christ has conquered the power of sin and death.

The effect on the disciples is quite dramatic; they are "changed" men and women. Not surprising when we remember that Jesus has promised to all His followers that this would be so. "I am the resurrection and I am life." (John ii, 25, New English Bible.) What Christ achieves by His Death and Resurrection is given to all His followers who trust in Him. It is not a victory for Christ alone; it is a victory which is shared with all mankind.

But most important of all, I suppose, is the question—how can we share in this victory of Christ? What does it mean as far as we are concerned? What do we make of the sayings of Jesus which suggest that we already have the chance of eternal life, that we have already passed from death to life? How do we share the experience that the disciples knew—this experience of passing from death to life?

Perhaps, as the disciples did in the beginning, we all too easily keep our distance from Good Friday. We preserve it as an historical event far removed from us and so never accept that daily we come up against the Cross. For like the disciples at that point our tendency is to run away, to escape and to avoid; whereas Christ faces up to all that life brings to Him—disillusion, pain, suffering, evil—because He comes to win a victory. The other thing we want to avoid, of course, is death, because this seems to us to be the final separation from all whom we hold dear and from all that we want to cling on to. But isn't it true that when we "cling on" to people and things, wanting them to remain the same, finally they lose their vitality and wither away. Perhaps the better way is to let the old relationships with people, the old memories die, so that they can be replaced with new, more mature relationships, with new, living experiences which rise up to replace those that have died.

In a very real way we are faced with our Gethsemanes and our crosses every day; but we also face the possibility of our resurrection to new life because of what Jesus Christ does for us on the Cross.

CHANGE RINGING AT NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL

By R. A. Yeates

IN the centre of Newcastle, near to the station and the river, is the ancient Parish Church of St. Nicholas. The fortress of Newcastle was founded by Robert, William the Conqueror's son, in 1080. In 1091 Osmund, Bishop of Salisbury, founded St. Nicholas', the first church in the expanding little town. This church was burnt down in 1216 and a much enlarged new one erected. In about 1450 the magnificent lantern-steeple was added. In 1882 the Diocese of Durham was split and St. Nicholas' became a Cathedral. Today, although it is still officially a parish church, the population living nearby is negligible.

The first bell known to have been installed in the Cathedral was by William Dawe of London between 1385 and 1418. Two more were added in the early 15th century and the present tenor in 1593. In 1615 and again in 1622 the tenor was recast at Colchester, the respective weights being 28 cwt. and 32 cwt. In 1658 yet another bell was placed in the tower, probably by John Hodshon of London. The ring of five was augmented to eight in 1717, the bells being cast by Phelps and paid for by Newcastle Corporation.

FIRST CHANGE RINGING

The first change ringing recorded on the bells was on February 7th, 1754, when "Newcastle's team of bellringers" rang 2,520 changes of Plain Bob Triples in 1 hour 36 minutes. "The first time that ever was done in Newcastle, the whole peal being thought impossible because of the bad going of the bells." In April, 1754, halfway through a peal attempt, the tenor cracked and was sent to Lester and Pack of London, weighing on return 36 cwt. On April 10th, 1755, a peal of Plain Bob Triples, the first in the tower, was rung in 3 hours 13½ minutes. In 1791 the 5th was recast at Whitechapel.

Just before this (1788) a ring of eight had been made up at nearby Gateshead. This seems to have resulted in the foundation of the "Union Society" of ringers of Newcastle and Gateshead. Unfortunately no records of this Society besides peal boards have been found. A list of peals rung by them, apparently including some not on boards, is found in the first annual report of the Durham and Newcastle Association (1878). Grandsire Triples was rung to peals at St. Nicholas' in 1808, 1809, 1842 and 1848. Peals of Grandsire were also rung at Gateshead, Hexham and All Saints', Newcastle. A quarter peal of Stedman has also been mentioned. Shortly after 1850, however, the Society collapsed.

Although a further peal was rung in 1852, this collapse is attributed in an 1897 "Bell News" to the death of George William Dods-worth, a farmer. He is described as "leader and patron" of the Society. He died in 1850 at the age of 30, a few months after calling a peal at Gateshead. Two days before his demise the death occurred of Robert Balmbrach, the conductor of the 1848 Hexham peal. No doubt this also accelerated the decline into call changes.

In 1875, at a time of revival of ringing throughout the North-East, the Society rang a 720 at St. Andrew's, Newcastle, which was said to be the first in the city for 16 years. In 1876 a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at North Shields, conducted by Thomas Denton. He had done some ringing with the College Youths in London. On the foundation of the Durham and Newcastle Association in 1877-1878 the Society joined, now calling itself the "Old Society."

BELLS CLOCKED FOR ROYAL VISIT

In the period 1878 to 1892 the Cathedral bells seem to have lapsed into very poor condition. A number of members of the Society rang frequently with the good change ringers at St. John's. However, little change ringing was done at the Cathedral. On the visit of the Duke of Cambridge to Newcastle in 1887 three of the bells were clocked; the first four were rung to call changes. At this time the tenor was never rung and the seventh rarely. The next year the Society severed its connection with the Association.

In 1892 all this was changed. A ring of ten (tenor 37 cwt. 2 qr. 17 lb in D flat) was made up by Taylor's; the main contributors to the cost were Newcastle Corporation and John Hall, J.P. Of the four oldest bells in the tower three were kept, outside the ring; the oldest was sold to an antiquarian and placed in Langley Castle, Northumberland. The Association was not invited to the opening. In the correspondence relative to this in the "Bell News" some facts emerge. Of the ten ringers at the Cathedral eight had rung peals: Thomas Denton, Edward Wallis and Sergeant Power seem to have been ringers of considerable experience and ability. However, they were for the most part elderly men, did not encourage learners and held no regular practice. The root of the trouble may have been that, unlike St. John's ringers, they were paid.

All the same, from 1892 to 1903 a different order was established. Due to the presence of a number of ringers from St. John's a very good Sunday band was maintained, complex methods rung and local peals achieved. This happened particularly when St. John's bells were closed from 1900 to 1902. However, the efforts of the St. John's ringers seem to have aroused resentment. In 1903 there were five former St. John's men at the Cathedral. Two of them received notice to quit; two resigned because of this; one left for other reasons. It is stated in the "Bell News" of that time that this was the work of some unspecified person who acted as "contractor" in the employment of ringers and was presumably a ringer himself.

From 1903 to 1912 the pre-1892 order was re-established. Although a little change ringing was done in the early part of this period, call changes became the rule. The leading ringers were a family named Pigg. In 1912 they had a dispute with the Cathedral Chapter, perhaps about the low standard of ringing. C. L. Routledge, of St. John's, was asked to form a band of unpaid ringers, the official reason being that the Chapter had run out of funds with which to pay the call changers. When the new band rang the bells for the first time the Vicar was asked by several of the congregation if the bells had been altered in any way as they sounded so much sweeter than before!

AN OUTSTANDING BAND

Routledge did not teach any new ringers for the Cathedral; it was just that now that the St. John's band began ringing at the Cathedral as well. At the time St. John's had an outstanding band. Among the ringers was the brilliant conductor, the late W. H. Barber. The band was improved moreover in the next few years by the presence of ringers working at the Tyne on war munitions.

In 1914 the Cathedral Society decided to augment the bells to 12. After some money had been raised, however, the bells were given outright by Mr. and Mrs. Lister Newcombe. Later in the same year a flat sixth, "the Dixon bell," was given by Miss Alice Dixon, the sister of one of the ringers. In 1918 a peal of Stedman Cinques was rung by a local band. This was followed in 1924 by two peals, one of Grandsire and one of Stedman Cinques. This very high standard was kept up until about 1930. Then Caters rather than Cinques became the rule. The actual standard of ringing remained, however, excellent. The trouble was that no one (except the verger's son) was ever taught at the Cathedral. Usually ringers became attached to the Cathedral on moving into the area, or moved from other local towers. Also the average age of the band increased. In 1945 C. L. Routledge died and the late Joseph Keen, once of North Shields, became Ringing Master. The deterioration has continued until the recent teaching of some boys by the Ringing Master, Mr. G. S. Deas.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

March saw the Guild's first quarterly meeting of 1965, which was held at Pembroke. Here the bells were in use for an hour and a half before the service, which was conducted by the Rector.

After an excellent tea, for which Pembroke is noted, a short business meeting was held. The Rector taking the chair. The meeting opened with a short touch of Grandsire Triples on handbells.

New members were elected from Cardigan, Pembroke and St. Florence. The highlight of the meeting was the reading of the draft proposals to be considered at the annual general meeting. Some of these were of a highly controversial nature, and if the way they were received is any pointer then the annual should be very lively. Anyway, we are looking forward to the annual general meeting at Carmarthen in June. Afterwards we returned to the tower, where Triples, Minor and Doubles methods were rung.

PHILIP GRAY VISITS HIS CONSTITUENTS

PHILIP GRAY is currently attending the Commonwealth Mining and Metallurgical Conference, a peripatetic affair meeting in various centres all over Australia. This has given him the opportunity in what spare time he can snatch from a full business programme, to visit the ringers of the Australian and New Zealand Association he represents at meetings of the Central Council—his constituents, as he puts it.

Philip began by losing a number of peals—one of Grandsire Triples at St. Paul's, Melbourne, and an undisclosed number "in hand" in Sydney. Then things began to improve. He conducted a peal of Bob Major in Melbourne on the front eight of the rehung twelve and last week-end he conducted a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide.

For this he flew from Surfer's Paradise in Queensland, via Sydney and Melbourne, on the Saturday, March 27th—a jaunt of some 1,300 air miles. Saturday, 28th, found both Philip and the Archbishop of Canterbury at the Cathedral. After the Choral Eucharist, at which His Grace celebrated, the peal began and some 3 hours and 25 minutes later it came round. By calling Parker's Six-Part on this occasion, Philip has now conducted all the Parker family of Grandsire Triples peals.

After refreshment and service ringing for Evensong, we deposited our C.C. representative at the Adelaide airport, 23 hours after his arrival, for a flight back to Melbourne—and on to Hobart the following morning. Philip returned to Adelaide on April 4th, when he was able to ring at the Town Hall. After that he goes to Melbourne again for a projected peal of Caters or Royal.

Philip can come back to Adelaide any time he likes. Quite apart from anything else, he was heard on two occasions to refer to our Taylor octave as "the finest heavy eight in the world"! W. B. P.

SUFFOLK GUILD

At the annual general meeting of the South East District, held on March 13th, attendance fully justified the arrangements made by the Ringing Master, Mr. Howard Egglestone, who deployed the ringers so that the younger ones were extended to their full capacity, and the more experienced used to give confidence.

The service, somewhat delayed through the Vicar's enthusiasm for football as well as ringers (he played for Ipswich in their amateur days), was accompanied at the organ by Mr. Oldfield and indicated that ringers can sing as well as ring. The address was given by the Rev. B. Haste.

An excellent tea, served in the Village Hall by Mrs. Margaret Egglestone and helpers, was followed by the business meeting. Arising from the minutes, Mr. G. W. Pipe, Guild Ringing Master, commented on the situation confronting some newly elected members in their own tower. One of the conditions imposed on the band was that ringers should attend every service for which they rang, irrespective of any other service attended. They were unable to observe this condition, but the Vicar was adamant, so a band of loyal church people were unable to use their talents and the bells were consequently not rung.

Despite the chairman's (Mr. G. R. Goodship) appeal to look for new talent, the officers were re-elected with one exception, Mrs. Winifred Lockwood being elected the new secretary. The meeting was pleased to have Mr. E. Pearce, the retiring secretary, with them, looking fit and well after being in hospital.

MASHONALAND DIOCESAN GUILD

Central African Provincial Guild Formed

THE final annual general meeting of the Guild was held in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, on March 14th, and was followed by a special meeting which amended the constitution and converted the Guild into a Provincial one. This in turn gave way to a meeting of the Provincial Guild, until at last tea time was reached, and finally some ringing. Five representatives from the Que Que band were present, and they took the chance of ringing rounds on eight and ten bells, call changes, and of plain hunting on five, all of which they did with great competence considering that their normal ringing is confined to four slow-going bells.

Ringing then continued with a touch of Bob Major and was finally rounded off with a quarter peal of Bob Triples for Evensong, the first quarter on the major eight in the tower, and, of course, for the Guild.

In his annual report the Master (Mr. J. R. Milford) gave evidence of the achievements of the last few months since Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blagrove arrived in September. He commented on the impressive speed with which Mr. Blagrove taught newcomers to handle bells on their own and the coolness with which he rings one tower bell in each hand and keeps another six errant ringers in place.

The Master reported three quarter peals, including the first of Minor, the first on eight bells, and one half-muffled in memory of Sir Winston Churchill, and also one peal, on the day of the great service of thanksgiving for the completion of the nave of the Cathedral. This was the first peal for three members. Call changes on ten bell are now rung frequently in Salisbury, and touches of Bob Triples and Bob Major are rung fairly often, but he thought that the standard of striking and the amount of paper work done between practices left something to be desired.

Finally the Master looked ahead to the end of the golden Blagrove era, and the dangerous possibility that Mr. Colin Stevenson being lost at the same time by having to look for work: he underlined the need for a band by that time who can correct their own mistakes when ringing, and are ready to welcome and systematically instruct newcomers to the towers. He said: "It is inevitable that many will start to learn and few become accomplished change ringers, but the only answer is enthusiasm, perseverance and patience from teachers and ringers alike, and a tradition of regular service ringing."

The remaining business included the treasurer's report, showing an unspectacular state of solvency, and the election of officers (Master, Mr. J. R. Milford; secretary/treasurer, Mr. K. S. Cross; librarian, Mrs. B. Mason; committee members, Messrs. F. T. Blagrove, C. Stevenson, H. Earle and Miss F. Pellatt).

The special general meeting then amended the Guild constitution so that it is now the "Central African Provincial Guild of Bell Ringers." It thus covers 485,000 square miles and includes one ten-bell and one four-bell tower.

Trustees were then appointed under the amended constitution. The Dean of Salisbury (the Very Rev. G. French Beytagh) was elected as honorary vice-president in recognition of his outstanding help to the ringing in Central Africa, and Mr. S. Eking, of Salisbury, was elected to honorary life membership of the

QUARTER PEALS AND SKITTLES AT BRIDGWATER

RINGERS from Bridgwater and North Somerset joined in a most enjoyable afternoon's ringing, followed by a social evening in the Bridgwater area on March 27th. Quarter peals, including one for the "married couples," had been arranged, and after a short pull at West Huntspill for those who had not rung there, the party split up to make their various attempts at the towers allotted.

General ringing had been arranged at St. Mary's, Bridgwater, from 5—6.30 p.m. and the belfry soon assumed the look of a meeting as the various bands returned from their afternoon's exertions. We learned that three of the four attempts were successful.

The ringing over, the company adjourned to the Crooked Chimney at Pawlett, where a total of 34 ringers and their wives enjoyed an excellent dinner, served in most pleasant surroundings.

The final venue of the evening was the Manor House Hotel nearby, where the traditional skittles match took place, and although in the later stages the stickers-up were not averse to "arranging" some rather surprising scores, it was obvious that Bridgwater were decisive winners.

A most enjoyable time was had by all, and it remains only to thank Mr. Cecil Clarke, of Bridgwater, for all his hard work in giving us such an enjoyable day out.

Appended are the quarter peals:

Cossington, Somerset. — 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Valerie Stone (first quarter) 1, Monica Horseman 2, Audrey Short 3, M. J. Stone 4, M. J. Horseman (conductor) 5, R. D. Short 6.

West Huntspill, Somerset. — 1,260 Doubles (four methods): G. Davis 1, L. Derrick (conductor) 2, T. G. Phillips 3, C. Kortright 4, W. J. Lott 4, H. Hardwidge 6.

Woolavington, Somerset. — 1,296 Cambridge Surprise Minor: C. T. Clarke 1, G. H. Pullin 2, P. J. England (first of Cambridge) 3, G. H. Marchant 4, E. T. Lee 5, J. Brain conductor) 6.

A SPRING DAY IN "SUNNY" SUSSEX

AT the typical Sussex village of Balcombe, the Northern Division of the County Association held a very successful quarterly meeting on April 3rd. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and continued until time for service, which was conducted by the Rector, who in his address welcomed the ringers and thanked them for all the work they were doing for the church.

After a short but pleasant walk to the Village Hall, the ringers found a splendid tea awaiting them, kindly provided by that local stalwart Mr. A. E. Laker, to whom the meeting tendered their grateful thanks. A short business meeting followed, with handbells concluding the visit to the Village Hall. Back at St. Mary's Church, ringing continued until 8.30. Several visitors from outside the county were given a hearty welcome, the outstanding one being that evergreen "back-ender" Reuben Sanders, who rang the seventh to a perfectly-struck touch of Stedman Triples, the rest of the band being made up of several of his old friends, all over the age of 60, their total ages adding up to 545 years. F. I. H.

Guild. Finally, plans to ring a farewell peal for the Dean, and to appeal as widely as possible for contributions towards the other two bells for the Que Que tower, were discussed. J. R. M.

Letters to the Editor

MR. WOOLLEY DISSATISFIED

Dear Sir,—Since I figure in your leading article of April 2nd, I think I might be allowed to reply. Your answers fail to satisfy me, and I trust that you, and others who may be interested, will refer back to my letter in your issue of March 26th.

I must say, with all respect, that your arguments seem intended to confuse rather than clarify. Whether "The Ringing World" paid for itself before the war is irrelevant. My point is that ringers were ready to pay 3d. in those days, so should be ready to pay its equivalent (one shilling or more) in these more prosperous times. If the price before the war was inadequate, it should have been more, and today's price should be higher still.

Very many readers are sending donations. Why? Is it merely to ensure that their own reports are published, or is it through a genuine desire to see the paper solvent and able to carry on? If the latter, as I firmly believe, then they would surely be ready to pay a little more for the paper and save the present wasteful procedure with small postal orders. Why not ask them? Let us know exactly what the paper would cost per copy without any donations or having to batten on certain advertisers for space, and find out how many readers are willing to pay.

To end on a lighter note. Your leader states: "Weddings in weekly newspapers are often charged for and an additional charge is made for an illustration." While I do not doubt your word, I decided to discover the local custom, so I inquired of our two Watford papers. From both I had a most emphatic (almost indignant) "No!" No charge, not even with an illustration, though one of them was kind enough to point out that if I engaged a professional photographer the sordid fellow might demand something. I asked the first if they sent their own reporter. He said no, but if I would just fill in a form they would write the report from that. I gathered he wanted it done at once; he was most pressing. I was more wary with the second, but he was most anxious to know when and where the ceremony was to take place; he asked again and again. It was all rather embarrassing. Fortunately all this was done over the phone, or I would surely have been driven to commit bigamy.—Yours sincerely, Busbey Heath. C. W. WOOLLEY.

EXISTENCE VITAL

Dear Sir,—I agree most heartily with your front page article "And Some Were Ditched" in the April 2nd issue. There is certainly nothing derogatory in charity, especially if it helps to keep "The Ringing World" serving the Exercise, and every ringer will surely realise how vital is the continued existence of this weekly newspaper to the art of change ringing. The publication in "The Ringing World" of forthcoming meetings must save the various ringing Guilds and Societies pounds which would have been spent in postage each year.

How unfortunate that more have not followed the lead given by the Oxford Guild in making an annual donation to the funds of "The Ringing World."—Yours faithfully, Linslade, Beds. ALAN W. JEFFS.

P.S.—From now on your "Gratefully Acknowledged" column will occupy a lot more space, I'm sure.—A. W. J.

PEALS OF DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—I agree with Mr. J. D. Atkinson and Mr. E. A. Barnett that there is no reason why the Council should refuse to recognise peals of Grandsire Doubles containing Mr. Brian Price's 240's when it does recognise Mr. Morris' and my 240's. I consider that Mr. Price's 240's are quite as good and I am at a loss to know why they were not included. I should certainly support a proposition that they should be passed at the next Central Council meeting if it is brought forward.—Yours faithfully, A. J. PITMAN. Leamington Spa.

MORE ABOUT DOUBLES PEALS

Dear Sir,—My answer to Mr. E. A. Barnett ("The Ringing World," April 2nd, page 228) is Yes.

At the beginning of the 18th century the goal of ringing the extent of Triples was a challenge to both the composer and the performer, and the Exercise soon discovered that this length was sufficient to rank as a worthwhile achievement, but at the same time well within the limit of practicability. If the extent on eight or more bells had been insisted upon, few peals on such numbers would have been rung (in fact only one has!), so it seemed natural to take the extent on seven as an arbitrary but nevertheless ready-made yardstick for a peal on higher numbers. (It is interesting to reflect that it could be—and I believe once was—a moot point whether a peal should consist of at least 5,040 changes, rather than 5,000—which although round is an arbitrary number, whose roundness stems from the quite irrelevant fact that we have ten fingers. If we had had twelve fingers, and counted in twelves, 5,040 would be written 2E00, which is a round number (even non-mathematical ringers will no doubt appreciate that E stands for the "digit" eleven), while 5,000 would be 2X88 (where X stands for ten), and I imagine that peals of less than 5,040 would never have been countenanced.)

But once we come to fewer bells than seven we are in trouble, as repetition is inevitable, if we are to preserve comparable lengths. It seems clear that we must have complete extents, with perhaps 240's or 1,440's that bring up rounds at handstroke (although apparently this last requirement is not insisted upon), and since there is no point in going beyond the 5,040 changes, that has been agreed upon as the proper length for a peal of Doubles or Minor, I would agree that it is pointless to add a touch. We are therefore led by more or less inevitable steps to the accepted definition of a peal of Doubles or Minor which I quoted, in essence, in my previous letter. But there is no absolute inevitability about it: it is, after all, a definition, i.e., something laid down arbitrarily (albeit with good cause). And as I understand the definition, there is no such thing as a peal of 5,100 Doubles, so Mr. Morgan should not have claimed one; but that his band did ring a peal of 5,040, which he could have claimed.

Suppose a band goes into a tower and rings a touch of 60 Doubles to get the feel of the bells; and then (a) they set their bells, and after a few moments embark upon 5,040 Doubles, or (b) at the end of the 60 ring a few rounds and then start on the 5,040, or (c) go straight into the 5,040 at the conclusion of the 60. Which of these would count as a peal? Certainly the first. I would say all three. Mr. Barnett would, I imagine, disallow (c), but perhaps not (b) (but would three blows of rounds be enough, and if so why not one?). (Of course the possibility of a breakdown in the 60 cannot arise here—except in case (a), where all parties would agree it wouldn't matter!) I have also been asked, if an attempt for a peal of Doubles broke down in the twelfth extent, could one claim a quarter peal of 1,320? Of course we are not so fussy about quarters; and I think the answer would have to be Yes; although I do not imagine that any self-respecting band would bother to make the claim (except perhaps in a case where it would have been somebody's first quarter, on the principle that a quarter of a loaf is better than no bread).

One might criticise Mr. Morgan for attempting to ring a length of 5,100 Doubles, and for claiming a peal of that length having done so; but I still feel that the only correct interpretation of the definition of a peal of Doubles entitles his band to claim to have rung a true peal of 5,040.

A poser in return for Mr. Barnett: Would 14 consecutive extents of Minor count as two peals, or none?—Yours sincerely,

A. R. PARGETER.

Sampford Peverell, Devon.

WHAT IS A PEAL?

Dear Sir,—The correspondent who sent in the details of the peal in 23 Minor methods claimed to be rung by the U.L.S.C.R. at Biggin Hill on March 3rd omitted to mention their 24th method—"Firing." Obviously one cannot expect perfect striking all the time and complete freedom from trips in the ringing of peals; otherwise the number rung would be drastically curtailed, but surely ringers must set themselves some minimum standard of what is acceptable. This standard would have to be varied slightly if the peal was being rung by a band of experts or if the band included one or more attempting their first peal, but our sights should not be set too low. The young gentlemen who rang in this performance are undoubtedly going to be amongst the future leaders of our Exercise, and although much of their striking was of a good standard, I feel that they should examine their consciences in the near future and think: "Did we really ring what we claim—5,040 changes?"—Yours faithfully,

H. MICHAEL WILLIAMSON.

UMPIRE'S REPORT ON PUTNEY PEAL

Dear Sir,—I umpired the silent and non-conducted peal of Holt's Original rung at Putney on April 3rd. I am pleased to confirm that it was absolutely rung silent and non-conducted and with conviction throughout. Every "lead" was checked and found correct, and I congratulate the band on their achievement.—Yours faithfully,

LOUIS HEAD.

OBITUARY

MR. FRANK C. W. KNIGHT AN APPRECIATION

IT would seem a hard thing to write an appreciation of someone whom one has known for barely two years. Yet the writer of this feels no compunction in so doing, for in that short space of time he has been able to perceive the very great qualities of Frank Knight, whose untimely death took place on March 31st.

Frank's example in ringing is one of which any ringer might have been proud. Although he rang only about 140 peals—not a high number by modern standards—his chief glory was in the number of people he taught to ring and in the number of people who, though they might be ringers of several years' standing, came to be better ringers through him. He was a painstaking and tireless worker in this respect and there are many ringers in his own county of Kent, and elsewhere, who will testify to this. And yet he still had time to devote himself to composition, in which field he excelled himself many times, and in his younger days, to method construction. Although he favoured the simpler methods as being more musical, he was an expert in no small way in the field of the construction of Surprise methods. His greatest practical achievement was ringing the 30-cwt. tenor of Christ Church, Oxford, to the record peal of 12,663 Stedman Cinques on August 21st, 1946, in 8 hours 47 minutes. Yet he in no way despised ringing lesser peals with little-known bands and in the simplest of methods. There was no false humility there, and therein surely lay the key to the high regard in which he was held.

In 1959 a sudden coronary thrombosis all but ended his ringing career. For four years he was able to devote himself to his other interests, foremost among them being music. He was a most accomplished musician, in which sphere he had graduated and later became a Ph.D. He was well read in many other subjects besides, and particularly on religious subjects. It is sad to think that his return to ringing in 1963 was to end so soon. In 1964 he was appointed captain of the fast-waning band of St. Laurence's, Thanet, and in no time at all he was training a large contingent of young ringers. In October of last year he was appointed Ringing Master of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association, and announced that he was presenting to the District a trophy to be awarded annually at a striking competition. It is sad to think that when the first competition is held the donor of the trophy will not be there to see it presented. His natural generosity and hospitality was always expressing itself in this and other ways.

At the funeral, when one heard the passage from Job—"We brought nothing into this world and it is certain we shall take nothing out"—one was inclined to reflect that one may leave much behind, for good or for evil. We thank God for what Frank Knight has left behind—the challenge to become better and better ringers. Though Frank, with his ever-present smile and ready humour, has left us we can still say, with Job again, "The Lord gave, the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord." D. L. C.

MR. HERBERT LANGDON

An outstanding personality in London ringing, Mr. Herbert Langdon, died on April 7th, aged 84 years. He was the youngest of four ringing brothers and the son of a well-known London ringer, Henry Langdon.

He was taught to ring by his brother William at St. Giles', Camberwell, and later rang at Lambeth, Chelsea, Fulham and St. Margaret's, Westminster. In 1900 he became a College Youth and in February of that year first rang at St. Paul's. This was the start of an active association with the Cathedral Society which lasted 58 years. For 10 years he was a substitute ringer, and then in 1910 he was elected to full membership of St. Paul's Guild. He succeeded Mr. W. T. Cockerill as conductor in 1938 and held this office until his retirement in 1958.

Mr. Langdon was also associated with Westminster Abbey bells and was the only survivor of the band who rang in the opening touch when the bells were augmented to eight in 1919. His first peal, Holt's Original, was rung at St. George's, Camberwell, in 1899, and was conducted by Mr. G. E. Symonds. His peal total was 549, of which he conducted 237. Mr. Langdon was the conductor of the 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton in 1922 (a record). He had also conducted Carter's odd bob peal of Stedman Triples and rang this composition to a silent peal on handbells. Herbert Langdon was in the forefront of ringers of his day, honoured and respected by all who knew him. By profession he was a shipping agent.

MR. WILLIAM ARTHEY

Mr. William Arthey, of Ardleigh, near Colchester, died on March 30th, aged 86. He had worked as a roadman and postman in the village, besides being steeplekeeper and a ringer at Ardleigh Church for over 40 years.

One Sunday in 1954, while ringing in a touch of Bob Major for Matins, he had a stroke and collapsed. For the ensuing 11 years he was paralysed and speechless, but he had managed to convey to his family that when he died he hoped a fully-muffled peal would be rung at his funeral.

Unfortunately a peal could not be arranged on a Monday afternoon, but a fully muffled quarter peal of Bob Minor was accomplished by: F. C. Southgate (74) 1, Susan Wenden 2, Mark Hughes 3, A. W. Cole (80) 4, F. H. Erith 5, P. G. Erith (conductor) 6.

MR. GEORGE NORTHWAY

Ringing in Southern Hampshire is poorer by the sudden death during an operation at Southampton Chest Hospital on January 20th of Mr. George Northway. He was only 25 and entered hospital the previous Wednesday and came out at the week-end to attend the annual meeting of the Southampton District.

He learned to ring at Romsey Abbey and rang there until his marriage in 1962 to Miss Gladys Kitcher, of Eling. Not long after moving to Eling the condition of the frame became a cause for concern and it was decided to rehang the bells in a new steel frame. He was largely responsible for the collection of several tons of waste paper which helped towards raising the money for the job. By this time he had been elected captain and was re-elected again only a few days before his death.

Because of his health he had rung only seven peals, a half peal and 82 quarter peals. He organised many outings, usually four a year.

His funeral on January 27th was attended by many friends of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild from as far afield as Fareham and Fordingbridge, also Mr. and Mrs. White, from Warminster. He was laid to rest while slow rounds, half-muffled, were rung on the bells.

The first quarter peal on the rehung bells, Grandsire Doubles, was rung to his memory, and also quarter peals at Romsey and Fawley. Peals of Stedman Caters at St. Mary's, Southampton, and of Spliced Surprise Major at St. Michael's, Southampton, were also rung in memoriam.

Every sympathy is extended to his widow and to his parents. May he rest in peace.

J. H.

COALBROOKDALE, SALOP.—On Mar. 28th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles (4, 6, 8 covering): T. Owen 1, W. S. Crawford 2, B. Lloyd 3, G. Rich 4, R. Evans 5, R. Owen (first quarter) 6, A. S. Bayley (cond.) 7, W. Norcott 8. In memoriam Joseph L. Stanier, of Madeley, whose funeral took place on March 25th. Rung as a token of sympathy and esteem for valued friend and ringer.

120 MILES FOR A QUARTER PEAL

ON Sunday, March 28th, a day tour to St. Paul's, West Maitland, was arranged for Graeme Heyes, of St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne. Six Sydney ringers completed the party and met at St. James', Turramurra, for morning service ringing, with attempts at Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

Soon after 10 a.m. we started on our 120-mile run northwards. David Langdon (All Saints', Parramatta) flew off in his modified Sprite ahead of Jack Cummins' (St. Mary's) Holden, and eventually reached Maitland half an hour ahead of schedule. The Holden suffered a burst tyre en route.

After lunch at the Aussie Cafe (the name didn't influence us, as we had already passed the Paragon!) we drove to the campanile at St. Paul's and were welcomed by local ringers Sid Hedges and Tony Farmer. The St. Paul's team has suffered from ringers leaving the district and there are now only four regular ringers. However, we soon had Sid and Tony ringing plain hunt. Sid felt confident about ringing the treble to a quarter peal of Grand-sire Doubles, and this was duly rung, conducted by Enid Roberts.

As we emerged from the tower, Sid's wife, Win, drove in the gate with a load of delicious afternoon tea. The effects of 90 degree-plus weather and the prevailing drought conditions at Maitland made us very appreciative of the Hedges' hospitality, and we consumed great quantities of tea, coffee and orange juice. Refreshed, we decided to attempt a quarter of Cambridge Surprise Minor, conducted by William Waison, and this, too, was unsuccessful.

As darkness fell we said farewell to our hosts, David and Graeme disappeared rapidly south in the Sprite, and the remainder of us followed at a more respectable pace. An unplanned venture on to an unsurfaced road caused a second blow-out, and we passed within a mile of the glow of a bush fire near Gosford, but by half past ten we were all safely back in Sydney after a most successful day tour. W. G. K.

ACROSS DORSET

A WEEK after the snow of the first day of spring, Saturday, March 27th, provided glorious sunshine to display what must surely be the best of Dorset countryside as a party of itinerant ringers described a north-south line across the county.

The ringing at some ten churches commenced at Childe Okeford, continued to Iwerne Courtney and at both these towers members of the local band welcomed us. The six at St. Martin's, Bryansstone, preceded lunch and we raised the bells for their own band to ring for a wedding.

Pimperne opened the afternoon's proceedings and was followed by Winterbourne Whitchurch, where the Vicar left the televised "Grand National" to open the tower for us. Everything comes from Birmingham—even this tower's bell frame! Passing Milton Abbey, we came to Hilton, which, along with Haslebury Bryan, gave us an easy task. Not so the next six, at Buckland Newton, which required great efforts to ring to say nothing of those required to raise the bells.

Problems, too, were experienced at the mighty 19 cwt. five of Sydling St. Nicholas—long draught, heavy—but these were small compared with the difficulty of finding precisely what part of the bell the chiming apparatus was attached to!

Martinstown, alias Winterbourne St. Martin, has a splendid little 8 cwt. ring which, when we had found the treble, provided a fitting end to the tour. I. C. S.

'BELFRY GOSSIP'

With the peal of Stedman Caters at Worsley on March 27th, Mr. Peter Wycherley has rung peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

We regret to learn that Mr. John R. Ketteringham is in the Louis Lloyd Ward of St. Mary's Hospital, Paddington, W. He was due to have an operation last week-end and expects to be in hospital for some time.

Mr. Frank T. Blagrove, now at Prince Edward School, Salisbury, Rhodesia, hopes to go to Kilifi, Kenya, this Easter. It is 1,700 miles away and a dirt road for most of the journey.

The two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. K. Lawson had a listening role when a quarter peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Ormesby, Yorks, for the Confirmation service, as they were candidates. Afterwards they commented favourably on the ringing.

The quarter peal of Plain Bob Major at Ewell on March 28th was rung on the eve of the birthday of Peter Munday. It was his first attempt as conductor. His father, Mr. C. W. Munday, is the new general secretary of the Guildford Diocesan Guild.

Mr. F. J. Lewis, of Cirencester, was afraid he would have let the side down in the quarter peal rung at Holy Trinity, Watermoor, on March 25th for his 84th birthday. He, however, rang in a touch of Stedman before the quarter started.

Exuberant with their peal of nine Spliced at Knowle on April 3rd, two of the band took the wrong train home. The rest of the band have yet to be convinced that their motive was not to advertise their achievement to the rest of Gloucestershire.

According to the "Church Times" an 18th century bell in St. Michael's Church, Hallam, Notts, which for over 50 years has been cracked and silent, has been recast and rehung at the request of Sir Stephen Gibson, a former parishioner. Also renovated and rehung is a smaller bell reputed to date from the 12th century.

TOWER CAPTAIN'S WEDDING

A peal of Surprise Minor was rung at St. Mary's, Addington, Surrey, on March 27th, by friends of the bride and bridegroom following the wedding of the tower captain, Mr. Andrew Macve, to Miss Katharine Guy, of St. Mary's, Lewisham.

Andrew has been largely responsible for the building up of the Sunday service band to a Surprise Minor standard during recent years and he will be greatly missed. Quarter peal attempts before Evensong are a regular weekly occurrence, 34 having been rung, largely by the Sunday service band in 1964, most of them being conducted by Andrew. The peal ringers included the best man, a bridesmaid and an usher.

The local band wish Andrew and Kate every happiness in their new venture.

A TEN FOR SYDNEY

The Sydney Press report that the ring of ten bells for St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Sydney, will be installed ready for ringing by November 30th this year. At present the stonework on the south-west tower is being repaired in readiness for the bells.

WORK VOUCHER PROBLEM

Mr. Walter G. Knight, of 20, Warrangi Street, Turramurra, New South Wales, is anxious to come over to "the land of bell ringing." He has his fare for the return trip but wants to gain some experience in advertising and also ring some bells.

The U.K. Information Office has suspended the application for work vouchers indefinitely. He asks if any reader can help him to obtain the all-essential work voucher—in other words, offer him employment.

A DOUBLE SILENT

Mr. Donald G. Clift, of Cardiff, was privileged to take part in the peal of Holt's Original rung strictly silent at St. Mary's, Putney, on April 3rd, and in consequence has now been lucky enough to ring the composition silent on both handbells and tower bells. From investigations he has made it would appear that the only other ringer to accomplish this was the late Challis F. Winney. In endeavouring to establish if this is correct, Mr. Clift asks anyone with information to the contrary to notify him.

A SUSSEX WEDDING

A band of seven Kent ringers and one from Sussex, by kind invitation of Mr. W. Arthur Riddington, rang a peal of Rutland Surprise Major at Upper Beeding on April 3rd for the wedding of Trevor Anthony Cracknell to Mr. Riddington's second daughter, Wendy. The band also rang the bride in and out of church. After the peal the band were entertained, in the usual Riddington manner, by the bride's father and mother.

ST. SIDWELL'S, EXETER

In the 1942 blitz the Church of St. Sidwell, Exeter, was destroyed and the 10 bells in the church crashed down. The church now considers that there are better uses for £60,000 than building a new bell tower to the restored church. The one bell retained from the original ring will be sounding again soon and the others, except one stolen, are to be sold.

M.R.I. IN WHITSTABLE BELFRY

M.R.I.—Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence—is now almost the password of the Anglican Communion. When, after the Toronto Conference, we were urged to look again at our giving with the stern warning "None of us lives to himself; The Church that lives to itself will die by itself," the Church of All Saints with St. Andrew, Whitstable, Kent, decided to translate words into action and to raise enough money to build a church in Willowvale, South Africa. The ringers also took up the challenge and have collected £60 for a bell. This has now been cast and it is to be dedicated at Whitstable on May 2nd. It will be on view some time beforehand. Owing to structural difficulties it is a small bell, weighing about $\frac{1}{2}$ cwt., and it is inscribed as follows:

John Taylor and Co. Founders.

Whitstable to Willowvale 1965.

Glory be to God.

It will certainly be better than the pieces of old railway line in normal use as "bells" out there, writes David L. Cawley.

IN A GOOD FRIDAY FILM

A B.B.C. West Region film unit visited the Old Church, Uphill, on April 4th during ringing in connection with the restoration appeal shortly to be launched. As well as shots of the bells and the magnificent view from the top of the tower, they filmed and recorded plain courses of Bob Minor, and several ringers separately, including visitors Gillian Webb, of Lichfield Cathedral, and Ann Durent, of Crayford.

It is expected, writes Mr. P. John Hall, that the film will be used in "Points West" on, most inappropriately, Good Friday.

A LADIES' GUILD STALWART

The Ladies' Guild has lost one of its great stalwarts by the death of Miss Elizabeth Foulk, who was interred at Duffield Cemetery, Derby, on March 30th. One of her notable performances was turning in the tenor to the first all-ladies' peal of Major at Handsworth, Sheffield, in 1925. Mr. Denis R. Carlisle, of 85, Derby Road, Risley, Derby, would be interested to hear of any ladies who rang with Miss Foulk in that peal.

THE LATE MR. F. C. W. KNIGHT

In the report of the passing of Mr. Frank C. W. Knight a line was unfortunately lost. The report should read: "Later he taught successively at Hove College and then at Kingston and Farnham Grammar Schools."

WHAT WAS REALLY SAID

Mr. A. Patrick Cannon writes:

Dear Sir,—With reference to the comment in "Belfry Gossip" under "Ipse Dixit." I fear I have been misinterpreted! I did not say "We have not got a good tenor ringer at Dorking." What I said was "We do not have a good tenor ringer only at Dorking," meaning that all our men who can ring the tenor can also ring "inside." I was mentioning how useful the "tenor ringer only" was in the old days to bands all over the country. They always helped to maintain a good beat, so important for ringing odd-bell methods.

THE STEEPLEKEEPER

"The Irish Bell News" has an ever-useful editorial on "The Steeplekeeper." His duties are listed as follows: "Seeing that the bell frame is kept painted, all bolts and nuts are tight, bearings properly lubricated, ropes are examined and moved up or down to lengthen their lives against fraying at the garter hole, clappers are checked, greased, and see that none are loose, gudgeons greased, and to see that broken stays are replaced and that renewals are proper fits and secure with the requisite bolts, and the tower and ringing room are kept in a clean and tidy state. One who carries out these duties religiously can be classed as a good steeplekeeper."

The article also describes his opposite number: "The steeplekeeper who 'knows everything' yet does not maintain the bells in proper order, who refuses to take advice and keep the door to the belfry under lock and key at all times, is a menace to his church and the bellringers. Occasionally ringers come across such people, who get very offended if their attention is drawn to an obvious fault in the bells. Nobody knows everything, even as he gets older he still has something to learn. The taking of advice is a great asset to any steeplekeeper, and good steeplekeepers will listen to wise words and give them, too."

THE LATE CANON C. CAREW COX

AN ANALYSIS OF HIS PEALS

CANON COX rang altogether 136 peals, of which he conducted 54. These were rung in 85 different towers in 25 counties of England and Wales and for 22 Associations. He learned to handle a bell at Stockland, Devon, in 1902 and rang his first peal at St. Paul's Hammersmith, on December 17th, 1904, which was Grandsire Triples, conducted by Thomas Langdon. His last peal was at Lyme Regis on December 19th, 1957. Details: Minor.—Treble and Plain Bob 1, Plain Bob 5, Cambridge 2.

Triples.—Grandsire 18, Stedman 37.

Major.—Plain Bob 18, seven each of Kent, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge. Bristol 2, Lyme 2, and one each of Oxford T.B., Yorkshire and Rutland.

Caters.—Grandsire 3, Stedman 14.

Cinques.—Stedman 3.

A peal of Bob Royal at Wimborne in 1921 later proved to be false. Forty-one peals were rung for the Salisbury Diocesan Guild and 16 for the Warwickshire Association.

Canon Cox's first peal as conductor was Holt's Original at St. Nicholas', Chiswick, on April 1st, 1907. He called this composition from every bell and was in the band which rang it "silent" at Christ Church, West Bromwich, in 1909. He was also in the peal of Stedman at Gateshead in 1908, when W. H. Barber called Carter's Odd Bob "blind-folded." Other peals of note are the first peal of Stedman Caters by ten clergy at Warwick in 1910, the first peal on the restored ring at Sherborne in 1934, the first peal for the newly-formed Clerical Guild, which he conducted in 1938 at Knebworth, Stedman Cinques on the old 12 at Bow, and the first peal of Lyme Surprise Major, which he conducted in 1951.

HERBERT LANGDON, LONDON

OLDER members of the Exercise will be saddened by the news of the passing of Herbert Langdon on April 6th. He had been ailing for over three years and although severely handicapped by his own and his wife's illness, he doggedly carried on his business as a shipping agent from his home at Tooting. Towards the end he was unable to lie down in bed, and had to sleep in a chair because of the choking effects of severe catarrh. A few days earlier he had been removed to hospital but he died suddenly soon after his admission.

One by one these giants of the past are gradually slipping away from us, and we are all the poorer for their loss. Bert Langdon was one of the most colourful personalities the Exercise has ever known and his ringing career was remarkable. Born on September 2nd, 1881, in London, the son of a well-known London ringer, Bert was the youngest of three ringing brothers. Thomas, the eldest, and William each achieved considerable distinction in ringing, but Bert, who had been taught to ring by William, very soon outstripped them both.

His first experience of change ringing took place at Chelsea and Fulham, and later he migrated to St. Margaret's, Westminster, where he became conductor. In 1900 he became a College Youth, and in February of that year first rang at St. Paul's Cathedral. Evidently the Guild ringers of that day were impressed by his first effort, and he was appointed at once as a substitute ringer and served as such for ten years.

In 1910 he was elected to full membership of the St. Paul's Cathedral Guild, and in all rang continuously at St. Paul's for 58 years. He succeeded W. T. Cockerill as conductor in 1938. During his career he associated with such great ringers as Matt Wood, James Pettitt, W. T. Cockerill, W. Prime, Sam Joyce, H. Springall, Ted Horrex, C. Burden, T. Benney, W. Tanner, A. B. Peck, Bob Newton, J. Oxborrow, J. W. Golding, Challis Winney, G. N. Price, the Pasmore brothers and many others, with all of whom he rang many peals. His first peal was rung at St. George's, Camberwell, in 1899. It was Holt's Original, conducted by that wonderful stalwart, still with us, George E. Symonds, who also conducted his next three. His fifth peal was Stedman Caters, at Beddington, conducted by Harry Barton, who had taken a great liking to this promising youngster.

Bert never kept a record of his peal performances, but research by Len Stilwell and Edwin Jennings discloses that his total was in the region of 550, of which he conducted 238. His conducting of Thurstans' four-part was masterly and one could not but conclude that he was completely conversant with the "tune" from start to finish. He would conduct from any bell; indeed it was in the field of Stedman that he most distinguished himself.

The 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton in 1922 was his longest length, and he declared that throughout that remarkable performance he never had to correct any fault or mistake—he just called the bobs and singles!—and all that after starting in early morning after no breakfast. Bert also conducted the unfortunate long length of 12,675 Stedman Cinques, composed by Harry Miles, which afterwards was found to be false. He was extremely proud to have conducted Carter's odd bob one-part of Stedman Triples and to have taken part in the performance when this peal was rung on handbells strictly silent. He was closely associated with George N. Price in many remarkable achievements on both tower- and handbells.

He was an honorary member of the Westminster Abbey band, having been connected with it since the time the bells were augmented to eight.

As is customary with Westminster Abbey ringers, his body was received there at 5.45 p.m. on April 12th, and a short service was held in St. George's Chapel. The body remained there until 8.30 the following morning, when it was taken to Streatham for cremation.

During the last seven or eight years he did no ringing, but he maintained a lively interest in all that was going on in the field of ringing, and now we have lost another valuable link with those wonderful men of the past. We shall miss him, but we shall never forget him, and his sterling character, his ringing ability and his fairness will always be remembered by all who knew him.

To his widow, the whole Exercise will send out its heartfelt sympathy, and she may find some consolation in feeling that her sorrow is shared by his countless friends, not only in London, but also in all parts of the country.

JAFUS.

FUNERAL OF MR. HERBERT LANGDON

On a cold, bright April evening, a knot of ringers gathered outside the cloisters of Westminster Abbey, to take part in a service that has grown sadly familiar. Within four years Alfred Peck, Horace Belcher, Richard Deal, and now Herbert Langdon, had all been carried here to lay overnight in the chapel of St. George. Together with St. Paul's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey ringers there were old friends who had travelled to London for the service, Arthur Davis, Bill Hibbert and Frank Smallwood.

It was seven years ago that he had slipped quietly out of ringing circles, but one still recalled him clearly; sharp, bright eyes, stooping shoulders, bowler hat tilting forward, and the small battered attache case that he carried everywhere.

Among many notable contemporaries he had been outstanding, both as a ringer and a personality. He was a remarkable conductor of Stedman, and achieved many fine performances in this method. His services to London ringing will probably remain unequalled: forty years at Westminster Abbey, and nearly sixty years at St. Michael's, Cornhill, and St. Paul's Cathedral, where he was conductor for twenty years.

The coffin was carried in, and the procession formed and moved off slowly, the ringers following two by two, round the cloisters and along the nave to the small chapel. Here the funeral service was said, and, at the end, a course of Stedman Triples was rung on handbells by Frank Smallwood, Harold Pitstow, Philip Chalk and Michael Chilcott.

Then we left him, in the quiet Abbey, and went out into the evening, with our memories of a man who we were glad to have known.

OLDEST BELLRINGER RETIRES

MR. WILLIAM OSWALD TALBOT (86), of Sunset Rise, Meanwood, believed to be the oldest bellringer in Leeds, and the longest-serving ringer at St. Michael's Church, Headingley, has retired because of failing health. For 64 years, twice every Sunday, he has climbed the 56 steps to the belfry to ring one of the eight bells.

"The finest bells in Leeds," he says. "Better than the Parish Church. The smallest weighs 5 cwt., the biggest over a ton. I have rung them all in my time."

Since he moved to Meanwood 13 years ago, Mr. Talbot has travelled to St. Michael's by motor-cycle. He has rarely missed a service, except for sickness and holidays, since he first joined the team at St. Michael's in 1901.

"I first started ringing," he told the "Yorkshire Evening Post," "when I was 13 in my native Worcestershire. 'I came to Leeds in 1900 as a commercial traveller.'"

In 1901 St. Michael's had a fine team of ringers, and new members were always ready to join. Today it is a different story.

"You can't train a ringer in 25 minutes," said Mr. Talbot. "Young people today won't give their time to master the art. We now depend mostly on visitors to Leeds. Students at the University who have rung church bells at home help us quite a lot."

"Not everybody loves the bellringers," says Mr. Talbot. "They sound nice a long way off but close at hand they can be disturbing."

When the bells of St. Michael's go on too long, people phone the Vicar to see if he can have them stopped.

"Quite understandable," says Mr. Talbot. "For instance, if you are trying to get a baby to sleep when the bells start, it is bound to make you angry."

"Yorkshire Evening Post" report.

Steeple Keeper Found Dead

Steeple keeper and verger at Wadhurst Parish Church, Sussex, Mr. J. Newick was found dead lying in the south aisle when Mr. C. A. Bassett went to lock up the church after the Wednesday practice on April 7th. An obituary report will appear in our next issue.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 21

PETER JOHN JOYCE
The Guildford Diocesan Guild

WITH the dedication of the Guildford Cathedral bells so near it seems appropriate to have yet another of the Guildford Guild's youngsters contributing to this series.

Peter John Joyce was born on September 21st, 1945, at Farnborough, Hants, where his father had been a ringer for over 20 years and where his mother also learned to ring.

Peter was educated at the Church School of St. Peter and Farnborough Grammar School. Hard work at these two schools won for him ten "O" levels and four 'A.' His reward for this excellent achievement was a place at Southampton University, where he is reading mathematics.

Peter was 13 when he started to ring and was taught by his father and Mr. R. H. Mills, the vice-captain of St. Peter's, Farnborough. Although at that time all towers in the district were fully manned and the bells were being rung regularly, opportunities for peals and advanced ringing were few and far between. This situation changed considerably some two years ago due to the invasion to the district by the well-known Kippin family and other skilled and enthusiastic ringers. During the last two years Peter has enjoyed taking part in many peals and quarter peals at Farnborough. The most notable was a peal of 14 Spliced Surprise Minor rung on November 10th, 1964, and conducted by Chris Kippin. The peal, the last before augmentation to eight, is believed to be the greatest number of Spliced Surprise Minor methods rung there, and, in fact, in the south of England. The peal fulfilled one of Peter's ringing ambitions—to take part in a peal with his father, who last took part in a peal 15 years ago.

Peter's first peal was on March 5th, 1961, at Frensham, when he rang the second to four Minor methods conducted by Mr. Tom Page. During the last two years his total has increased rapidly and is now nearing 45, and includes the following:

Minor.—Plain Bob 1, London Surprise Minor 1, four methods 3, five methods 2, six methods 1, seven methods 5, Spliced Surprise Minor—10 methods 1, 14 methods 1.

Triples.—Grandsire 2, Stedman 1.

Major.—Plain Bob 4, Double Norwich 1, Cambridge Surprise 2, Yorkshire 8, London 3, Bristol 2, Spliced Surprise in four methods 1, Yorkshire Surprise Royal 1.

From his early ringing days Peter has been one of the most regular Sunday service ringers at Farnborough and is greatly missed now that he has gone to Southampton. Of the 40 successful quarter peals rung at Farnborough he has taken part in the majority and conducted many, and hopes to ring his first peal as conductor in the near future.

Like most ringers he has a story to tell in connection with his ringing activities. It happened on a ringing tour in Herefordshire, when he and another unfortunate had a disagreement with a certain landlady, who turned them out of the house on a cold and very dark night to fend for themselves. Fortunately they were taken in at the local inn for the remainder of the week, and all ended well except that they had to pay a second bill for lodgings, as they had already paid the not too friendly landlady in advance.

Peter is interested in handbell ringing and in addition to methods has taken part in tune ringing at Christmas time for various charities. Congratulations to you, Peter, for a fine record, and to the Guildford Guild who are doing such a good job among the youngsters.

NORVING.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The meeting of the Mansfield District on March 27th was held at Warsop and, as always, a very pleasant day was had by all. Most disappointing though to the local company, and particularly the ladies, was the poor turn-up for tea. Anyone who has attended previous meetings at Warsop will know just what preparations had been made. In view of this it was decided that meeting notices will in future appear twice.

The District chairman presided at the business meeting, where Mr. R. Hardy was accepted as a new ringing member. During the service which followed, the Rev. J. G. P. Habgood extended a cordial welcome to all.

Interesting and varied ringing took place during the afternoon and evening in a freshly decorated ringing chamber which is a credit to the efforts of the Warsop ringers. A pleasure, too, on this occasion, was the presence of "Jafus" throughout the whole proceedings.

Next meeting, including the District round of the Crawford Cup—Selston, May 22nd.

D. J. B.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD

Ringling in general was of a good standard at the practice meeting of the Central District at Wilby on March 20th. Ringers came from Lowestoft, Kessingland, Thetford, Diss, Ipswich and surrounding villages.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Biggleswade District

When the Biggleswade District met at Arlesey on April 10th, many people were surprised to find the bells going better than they expected—probably due to a very recent oiling.

The Vicar, the Rev. E. B. Edgell, conducted a short but interesting service after which the 33 ringers present adjourned to St. Peter's Hall for an enjoyable tea prepared by the church working party.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. L. M. Bywaters announced final arrangements for the district outing on May 15th and the possibility of holding a car treasure hunt on the afternoon of May 8th, preceding the evening meeting at Henlow, was discussed. Members were also reminded about the A.G.M. to be held at Bromham on May 1st.

The ringing throughout the evening was, as in the afternoon, of a reasonably good standard and covered a wide range of methods.

A. R. A.

SHALFORD, SURREY.—On April 2nd, 1,280 Spliced Surprise Major (Bristol, Cambridge, London, Rutland, Superlative and Yorkshire, with 31 changes of method): Rhoda Housden 1, Patricia Laycock 2, Pamela Gough 3, Jessie Kippin 4, F. W. Housden 5, Elizabeth Stevinson 6, C. H. Kippin 7, R. C. Kippin (cond.) 8. First quarter of spliced for 2, 3 and 6. Rung to mark the 21st birthday of Miss Susan Hord.

OBITUARY

MISS ELIZABETH FOULK

For 50 years a familiar figure at meetings and ringing functions around Derby, Miss Elizabeth Foulk died on March 26th. Without doubt the most faithful ringer any church of bellringing association could wish for, her passing is deeply grieved by many friends.

During the 1914-18 war, when there were few men available for bell ringing, Mr. Sidney Dawson taught Miss Foulk to ring and she proved an apt pupil. A founder member of the Derby Diocesan Association, she had also been a long serving member of the Midland Counties Association and the Ladies' Guild. About a year ago her doctor advised her to give up ringing and it was only then that her ringing associates realised that she was not so young. She was in fact 79.

Although very humble about her ringing, Miss Foulk was a very advanced ringer, being capable of ringing methods such as London and Bristol Major, and she very rarely made a mistake because she would not ring a method until she had learned it thoroughly first.

As a peal ringer Miss Foulk was not prolific but she did ring several peals, and the programme of which she was most proud was when she turned the tenor in to the first all-ladies' peal of Major. This was Bob Major at Handsworth, Sheffield, in 1925.

The interment took place at Duffield Cemetery on March 30th, and the following members of the Derby Diocesan Association were present: Walter Steen, Gordon Halls, George Clift, Denis Carlisle, David Marshall, David Parkin, John Dodd, Fred Stone, Burley P. Morris, Mrs. Marriott and Mrs. Jones.

A course of Grandsire Triples on handbells was rung over the grave, and immediately after the ceremony the bells of Duffield Church were rung slowly and half-muffled to Stedman Triples and Duffield Major.

MR. FRANK C. W. KNIGHT
ANOTHER APPRECIATION

I would like to add my tribute to the late Frank C. W. Knight, so admirably expressed by P. N. B. and W. H. V. It was with great regret I read of his death, as I had known him since 1945. Before he went into hospital for his serious operation in January, I had a sad letter from him, in which it was obvious he knew his end was near. He asked to be remembered to his ringing friends and sent good wishes.

As has already been mentioned, Frank was a born enthusiast and a good organiser. He was never happier than when teaching beginners and ringing peals in the simpler methods. He was a very good tenor ringer and amongst those he had "turned in" to peals were Manchester Town Hall and St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, as well as ringing Southwark Cathedral "behind." But for his ill health from 1958 until his death, there is no doubt he would have taken part in many more good peals on the heavy end. The Exercise will be the poorer without him, and I mourn his death.

GETTING AN ESSEX FIVE TO RING

By J. E. Eyre

(Master of Ringers, St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney)

ON Sunday, April 4th, the ancient ring of five bells at Navestock, in Essex, rang out for the first time for many years. This was the result of no small amount of work on the part of the young band from St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney.

Navestock, with two Miles Graye bells, two dating from c. 1450 and one "M. and S." 1860 is listed by Dove as unringable, and is also a "virgin" tower, not having a peal to its name. With the exception of the treble, the bells are very heavy going (tenor 10 cwt.). There is a long rope draught and due to a loose clapper the second bell strikes mute unless ringing "wrong-side."

The sound of the bells is pleasing, though unusual. Although the tenor is G as Dove states, the bells are certainly not in the major key of G and the variety of workmanship in casting the bells can be noticed in the differing tones of each. As near as can be determined they seem to be in the key of F, with the third bell being B flat.

There is still a great deal to be done to the bells and work will continue after Easter. The Roll of Honour of those who have put in many hours of hard work on the bells with little visible effect on their appearance is as follows: John Baker, Jeff Eyre, Colin Harris, Murray Henderson, Robert Hill, George Lambeth, Brian Meek, Megan Owen, Allan and Grahame Todd.

The Rector of Navestock, the Rev. Norman Motley (who is also Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill) to show his appreciation invited the young band to ring for Evensong at Navestock and have tea with the villagers afterwards.

The invitation was readily accepted and in addition to ringing for the service, at which the Archdeacon of Southend preached, the St. John-of-Jerusalem Handbell Choir gave a rendering of two well-known hymns, which was greatly appreciated.

Thanks go particularly to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Adams (Mr. Adams was at one time a ringer at Epping Upland) for supplying the tea and transporting the ringers to the station.

SCHOOL SOCIETY TRAVEL BY AMBULANCE

[An account of an outing by members of the King's School Society of Ringers at Worcester, written by a boy who learned to ring in January of this year.]

ON February 25th twelve members of the King's School Society of Crange Ringers, Worcester, and two masters set out from Edgar Tower on an outing to three towers in the county—Earls Croome, Ripple and Strensham. A retired ambulance, affectionately known as the "School Bus," provided the transport.

On arrival at Earls Croome one or two enthusiasts proceeded to thump out a tune on the chimes, but our leader, Mr. P. Cattermole, soon stepped in and removed the hammers. After a few pulls in the rise our leader exclaimed: "No, they're not off," and after performing damped simple harmonic oscillations on the end of his rope, went and fiddled with the ropes a bit more, after which the bells were raised without hitch. A touch of Stedman Doubles preceded call changes rung by beginners like myself. I found some difficulty in getting used to the bells as they are a light ring on ball-bearings, a sharp contrast to the 16 cwt. six at St. Swithun's, where I am learning to ring. After this the experts showed how to ring Bob Minor. The back five were rung down in peal and the ringing finished with "catch them in Queens" on the six.

Having embussed we proceeded to Ripple. The bells here are vintage Rudhall and of excellent tone. With the help of Mr. Charles Haylings, the churchwarden, the bells were rung up and a touch of Kent Treble Bob rung. Later Stedman and Grandsire were rung and a truly superb lower in peal rounded off a good session. After ringing, our leader insisted that we should inspect the transitional arcade and the 12 misericord seats in the church.

At Hanley Castle we muffled the bells as a token of respect to Sir Ronald Lechmere, who had died recently. Because of the half-muffling no Minor was rung. Call changes were successfully rung while our leader wandered round the church and on his return five bells were lowered in peal. Having collected the one muffle which was ours we descended from the tower and set out for Worcester.

The outing was great fun and I am thoroughly glad that I took up ringing—even if I don't know why I did.

20 MILES TO RING ROUNDS ON 10

BELLS or CHERTSEY'S GOOD TURN

Dear Sir,—You stated in "Belfry Gossip" (page 248) that my question was effectively answered by ten ringers from the Chertsey District who obliged the Rector of St. Nicolas, Guildford, by ringing for one morning service. I assume from "The Ringing World" the band rang 30 minutes of enjoyable rounds!

As the bells of St. Nicolas are silent week after week, may I suggest the Chertsey District send a band to ring 30 minutes of rounds for the 8 a.m. service every Sunday, say for the next 12 months. I will then agree that the question I posed at the annual general meeting (several others remained unanswered) has been effectively answered.

In the meantime I remain of the opinion that, say, six of the Guild's "top brass" will not more than once travel 20 miles (plus) to ring rounds for 30 minutes with four ringers capable of only rounds—not even on Guildford Cathedral's new ring of ten.—Yours sincerely,

TOM PAGE.

4. Highfield Gardens,
Aldershot, Hants.

P.S.—Most ringers have done a "good turn" at some time or another without having to broadcast it.—T.P.

Note.—The ringing was heard by the Editor—it was not rounds.

WHAT ABOUT IT, WALES?

Dear Sir,—From time to time we see some peculiar footnotes to peals in "The Ringing World," but the one attached to the peal of Stedman Triples at Bridgend on March 13th must surely take the biscuit. Are we really supposed to believe that the peal was actually arranged to celebrate Wales' victory over Ireland at Rugby football?

If it was, the band must have some wild ideas on the correct use of church bells. A peal attempt for Saturday enjoyment after a Rugby match, yes, but for the reason stated, oh dear no, Mr. Edwards.

As for the comments on the subject in "Belfry Gossip," if we must read that warped sort of humour, sir, I suggest you start a new column headed "Belfry Rubbish"!—Yours sincerely,

ROBIN H. ROGERS.

NOTTINGHAM MEMORIES

Dear Sir,—Reading the leader in the current issue of "The Ringing World" revived happy memories of my life in the lovely city of which it is said: "Robin Hood paid frequent visits to annoy the Sheriff."

I was born in Nottingham some 86 years ago—the 27th of this month. I joined the St. Mary's band in 1902. Bishop Baynes was Vicar. F. Dunell organist. G. Hudson verger, and the ringers were as follows: William Lee (Ringing Master), Albert Lambert (Assistant (Ringing Master), William Smith, John Harts-horn, F. Lee, Jack Sheldon, S. Baker, Walter Shipman, Rev. Mr. Powell, A. Cox and myself. In 1907 I retired to join the band at St. Peter's, which possessed eight bells: the two trebles were added in 1918 by H. R. Cobbin as a thankoffering for his recovery from a serious illness.

The ringers were: Jack Hickman (Ringing Master), H. R. Cobbin (Assistant Ringing Master), William Pinder, B. Bellamy, G. Johnson, Dick Clark, T. Burnham, F. Knibbs, Frank Johnson, E. Olliver, Alf Barrett, Adolf Roberts (of Stoke Coventry) and occasionally Jimmy George (of Rugby) and the Rev. F. E. Robinson.

It was most amusing to see Albert Connock rush for his coat when "Stand" was called to join the choir at a nearby Congregational Church. I have a large photograph of St. Peter's ringers taken in 1911. Shortly after, I left the district.

ADVICE TO EDITORIAL COMMITTEE

Dear Sir,—What is Mr. Gummer's authority for his proposition that we should pay one shilling for "The Ringing World"? Why not two shillings or even five shillings? Perhaps he wanted to be nice and agree with Mr. Woolley that the journal should cost more.

Nevertheless all this twittering about price increases and charities should be a clarion call to the Editorial Committee that all is not well with Messrs. Woolley and Gummer. Although it is difficult to estimate how far their views are echoed by ringers elsewhere, there is a growing tendency towards the view that "The Ringing World" must be made to stand on its own financial feet.

The leading article "And Some Were Ditched" told how last year "The Ringing World" made a profit because it accepted voluntary peal booking fees. Presumably the recent price increase ensures that the journal will make a profit without the aid of pecuniary contributions from readers—or does it? The article stated that "The increase of one penny in the selling price enables the committee to meet with confidence the addition of five per cent. in production costs that became operative this year . . ."

Does this mean that the price increase represents the five per cent. increase in production costs, in which case the "little extras" are still needed for there to be a profit on the journal or does the increase ensure that the journal will stand alone without the "charitable" support of its readers? We are not told whether the present price not only covers production costs but also ensures that there will be a comfortable profit margin next year.

On balance, it is highly probable that the "little extras" will still be needed, and this state of affairs is, as our two learned writers point out, not very satisfactory. There is no doubt that the present system of frequent and inadequate price increases plus reliance on voluntary contributions is far too haphazard and unbusinesslike and while it continues we shall hear of "The Ringing World's" struggle for survival accompanied by nattering letters from disgruntled readers.

The inevitable retort to all this will be that the Editorial Committee is being kind to its readers by endeavouring to keep prices down and by preventing the introduction of a peal booking fee. This is a doubtful argument. Why should a few faithful volunteers be burdened with the upkeep of "The Ringing World's" profit margin? This is exploitation by those who do not contribute to the "Gratefully Acknowledged" column and is grossly unfair.

Having worked out production costs and expected profits necessary to keep the journal in business, the committee responsible should then decide how to achieve these ends in a true entrepreneur-like fashion; either by realistic price increases to readers or by more advertising in the journal or by charging peal and quarter peal ringers for the space they use, or by any other suitable means. The solution to these problems is not as easy as Mr. Gummer would like us to believe; certainly it is not a simple matter of increasing the price to one shilling and leaving it at that. For all he knows, a shilling might not be sufficient, while four shillings for a quarter peal publication might enable "The Ringing World" to shelter one or two larger newspapers under its umbrella. There are many factors to be considered; for example, should the users pay extra cost (if any), or should the readers, or both? How will they react to the increases? Should there be more and varied advertising? These are just a few questions.

The answers lie in the hearts of those who read "The Ringing World." Any ringer with sufficient common sense to realise that without the paper the Exercise would disintegrate will be only too pleased to do whatever is necessary for its economic safety and independence. In the meantime the Editorial Committee must be bamboozled, if the vernacular will be excused, into adopting some definite policy; so far it has been content to sit on the fence and throw down random and less than sensible declarations.—Yours faithfully,, MICHAEL R. MEADOWS.

Wentworth, Yorks.

Note.—The penny increase was expected to provide for additional labour charges and reasonable advances in postal charges provided income from peals and quarter peals is maintained at the present level. Some Associations, like the Bath and Wells and the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, make a peal levy. If the principle of the payment of 6d. a rope was accepted by Guilds and Associations for peals and quarter peals published, the income would be adequate for normal expenditure. It must not be overlooked that the journal has reserves to meet over a year's production.—Ed.

IN PRE-WAR DAYS

Dear Sir.—The financial state of "The Ringing World" has never been solid. On two occasions before the last war collections were made to help the proprietors to keep the paper going; the late Tom Gofton and Bill Barber took the North; James George and Albert Walker the Midlands; Tom Coles and Bill Pye took London and the South; and on each occasion over £300 was collected.

Now that the paper is run by the Central Council I feel it is time we put it on a paying basis.

The charge for our journal should be at least 1s. per week, and a booking fee should be charged for quarter peals and peals. Quarter peals to be 6d. per ringer, and peals should be charged for at 1s. per ringer.—Yours faithfully,

E. W. PYE.

Saffron Walden, Essex.

EASTER EVEN

Dear Sir,—No doubt many will respect Mr. Caple's objection to ringing meetings on Easter Even (or Holy Saturday) from the one fact alone that most parishes are far too busy on this day to cope with all the additional arrangements necessary on such occasions. It seems, however, that the ringing of bells need not be discouraged on Easter Even when so much is or has to be done. My "English Churchman's Kalendar" has the following interesting note:

"April 17. EASTER EVEN. Evensong is not one of the Easter Day Services, for the general rule that every great festival has its first Evensong is here suspended. The service has a mixed character; the church is decorated, the altars are vested in white, the bells are rung; but the crosses and images are not unveiled till after Evensong, and incense is not used."—Yours sincerely,

A. S. ROBERTS (Rev.).

PEAL OF OXFORD T.B. MINOR

Dear Sir,—I was interested in the 5,040 T.B. Minor on page 192 of the March 12th issue, by E. C. S. Turner. Could I ask a few questions about it?

(a) Is it possible to use part of this as a quarter peal?

(b) Is it possible to have a 1,260 one-part of Oxford T.B. rather than a 720 and a touch to make up the length?

(c) Is the peal or part of it true to Kent instead of Oxford?

(d) Are there equivalent sorts of compositions in other methods?

(e) All this poses the wider issue—what exactly is allowable in Minor peal ringing and for quarter peals of Minor?—Yours sincerely,

ANDREW J. SALISBURY.

Upminster, Essex.

Handbells at Stradbroke, Suffolk, 1914-1919

By Claude Rush

WHERE did the majority of those 60 or so bells go to? I know that an octave of them is in the ringing chamber of All Saints' Parish Church there; it was presented to the church by the widow of a former owner of the bells. But where are all the others?

As a boy from the age of 11, during the Great War and for a time afterwards, I was a member of the band. There were about a dozen of us, all boys, between the ages of, say, 11 to 19.

The bells belonged to Herbert Bayles, who was our tutor and conductor. He was one of the village's saddlers and also verger for 47 years, which post he took from his father when his father died. This was previously held by his grandfather and so the family had served in this capacity for nearly a century.

Herbert was born in 1861 and lived until he was 75. When I first knew him, in 1909, he had a flowing moustache and was of pale complexion and slight build. His time was completely taken up by four activities: (i) work as a verger, steeplekeeper and clock-winder; (ii) harness-making; (iii) delivery of telegrams (no telephone there then) in Stradbroke and some of the parishes adjoining; and (iv) writing out with blue and red pencil in large figures on sheets of cardboard which he hung on an easel, the handbell tunes, and tutoring his team of ringers whose performances I am afraid were never of exceptionally high standard!

Sometimes he would be writing out these tunes in his saddler's shop near the church, humming to himself to get the right figures for the notes, with me leaning over watching and listening, when a farmer would come into the shop for some item of harness repairs. As soon as the door-latch was touched he would shoot his pencils and paper under the counter and grab awl, needle and waxed thread with a "Er . . . Good morning" to the caller as though bells were furthest from his mind, whereas, I am sure, they were really always foremost. Then, as soon as the caller had gone, out again would come the pencils and paper for a resumption of the tune to be practised the next time the ringers met.

DEATH KNELL

While writing of Herbert Bayles in particular, I ought to mention here that, when ringing the church tenor for a death in the village or some notable person beyond its boundaries, he was most careful that only 12 blows should be struck in the hour. He would get another ringer to help him raise the ton bell; then he would put his watch near the window and every five minutes for an hour he gave one blow, setting her alternately at back and hand with much preparation each time. Then he lowered her. But while waiting he recorded the occurrence with lead pencil on the limewashed wall of the window aperture. As an example his ringing of the death bell for my father was something like this: "Rang the Death Bell for ex-Sergt. Harry Rush for one hour at 5 p.m., 23rd November, 1920."

The wall here was covered with scores of these records. Tollings for Queen Victoria and King Edward VII were among them, fully-muffled in their cases, I believe. He also drew in red, black and blue pencil one or two particularly wonderful sunsets he had witnessed from the ringing chamber while waiting for the time for the next blow. Unfortunately—I think it is very sad—a "clean-up" of the chamber not more than 20 years ago has included the complete obliteration of all those items.

A "TWO-HANDER"

Now, to return to handbells. Of these 60 bells the largest was a presentation bell with inscription on its waist. It was an E flat and getting on for a foot across its mouth. The clapper ball was large and round, shod with felt where it struck the bell. The bell was a "two-hander," and when not in use it hung on a nail in a beam in the ceiling of Herbert Bayles' living room. If one pushed the clapper on to the bell the boo-oo-om went round and round for half a minute. I cannot remember anything of the inscription, but vicars of Stradbroke then and a few decades earlier were Dr. Tate and Canon Ryle, who later became Bishop of Liverpool, I think. One of those names might be on the bell and so give a clue to establishing where that particular bell is, and perhaps where many of its mates are, today. It would be interesting to hear of them. The smallest bell was about the size of an egg cup. Once I saw Herbert Bayles in Stradbroke Queen's Head drink a tot of whisky from it, then ring it and, gently raising it, say: "Now d'you listen to it!"

As Christmas approached and until well into January, the band went forth, semitones hung on hooks on belts with shoulder straps. We performed at various points in the village roads, in public houses and private ones, too. We walked, cycled or went by horse-drawn vehicle to neighbouring villages, including Hoxne, Horham, Wilby, Worlingworth and Fressingfield, where the Suffolk bell historian, Dr. J. J. Raven, had been rector.

THE REPERTOIRE

We played the well-known carols, some hymns, "John Peel," "The Lincolnshire Poacher," "The Vicar of Bray," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Comin' Through the Rye," "I'll Tak' the High Road" and "Auld Lang Syne"; also, as it was war-time, "Tipperary," "There's a Long, Long Trail," "Pack Up Your Troubles," "K-K-K-Katie" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

The Bayles family numbered four—father, mother, daughter and son. The first three are dead. The son, also Herbert, now well over 70, I suppose, if still alive, went London way. If he should hear of this article, he could probably say what happened to over 50 of the bells, especially the booming E flat double-hander. I would love to know.

GREAT ADVENTURE II.

Dear Sir,—With just over four months to go before the tour in Australia commences, many things that have been planned now need to be definitely decided upon. The first matter of major importance is to what extent can the provisional programme be fulfilled, and this depends on the number and content of the party. Our friends on the other side of the oceans must know very soon. It is apparent from the present number going on this trip that the programme will have to be somewhat curtailed, and so anyone who is still "thinking it over" must decide without further delay and let me know.

It is planned to be away for four or five weeks from the first week in September. We hope the tour will include New Zealand, and so ringers from this island have a unique opportunity. I am disappointed to the extent that, so far, we shall not be taking a twelve-bell band, but I would ask anyone with suitable capabilities to take part in this "tour of a lifetime." Three or four more in the party would even benefit all in expense, as we could enjoy some concession in the travelling fare.

The following are those who will be going: Rev. M. C. C. Melville (King's Lynn), Mr. and Mrs. S. Burton (Leicester), Mr. and Mrs. T. W. White (Guildford), Messrs. A. P. Cannon (Dorking), J. L. Garner-Hayward (Coventry), T. J. Lock (North Mymms), A. G. Mason (Orrington), C. W. Pipe (Grundisburgh), L. Stilwell (Worthing), and W. Williams (London), and Miss A. Horsford (Twickenham).

You will see from "The Ringing World" issue dated April 9th that a closing date and other details are expected, so I will make the last day of this month as the closing date for inquiries.

Jim Pipe is leaving here before the main party, calling at places in the U.S.A., then to Japan, Hong Kong, Manila, Singapore and Perth. After the tour to return via Djakarta, Bangkok, Rangoon, Calcutta and Delhi. He wonders if others would be interested in this. Mr. and Mrs. Burton are going by sea.

I might add that my recent invitation to any society or individual to forward a contribution towards the "extra" expenses, and as a gesture of goodwill, has received a steady response, but I have no doubt many of the generous kind have yet to send their gift in one form or another.—Yours faithfully,

T. J. LOCK.

P.S.—Mr. Philip M. Gray, who will soon be returning from a business trip to Australia, writes that everybody out there is looking forward to our visit very much and it is the main topic of conversation with all the ringers he has met.—T. J. L.

was rung a good deal in the Barnsley area.

EVENING STAR (I)

x 34 x 16 x 12 x 36 x 12 x 1 2nds 56342.
No name in C.C. Collection, 1907. (The Evening Star in this publication was Coventry.) Was Darfield Exercise in William Woodcock's notebook, and Catliffe according to the Wath-on-Dearne band.

EVENING STAR (II)

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mrs. Hazenden (of Guildford) had an operation in the Royal Surrey County Hospital, Guildford, on April 13th, and is very seriously ill.

The choir at All Hallows' Church, South Cerney, Glos, have rung their first quarter of Cambridge Surprise Minor. We expect with six pairs of musical ears it was a most worthy performance.

In the memorial peal to the Rev. E. H. Grimston at Arundel on February 27th (see page 252), the ringer of the sixth was David D. Smith and not as published. Our correspondent sends his apologies to David.

Highclere, Hants, latest quarter peal is Peter Furness, who has recently earned the right to be called a teenager. The band congratulate him on his performance at East Woodhay.

Mr. T. R. Flint, of Workop, who adds to Mr. Edgar Shepherd's "Nottingham Memories" in our issue of April 9th, also rang at All Saints' Church where Joe Woolley was captain. On leaving Nottingham he went to Warsop and, among his pupils was Mr. H. T. Rooke.

For the quarter peal of Grandsire Caters rung at Solihull for Evensong on April 4th it was an unexpected pleasure to welcome Mr. Jack Pryor, Brian J. Woodruffe and Penelope J. Welch from South Wales, who arrived just before ringing commenced. We thank W. Leeson, V. W. Rigg and G. E. Fearn for so kindly standing down.

A thoughtful act by Mrs. Carew Cox, widow of Canon C. Carew Cox, was to ask us to forward the outstanding numbers of the late Canon's subscription to an old age pensioner who could not now afford our journal. We were most happy to oblige and are forwarding them weekly to a Chichester resident. We have a number of pensioners in similar circumstances on our list.

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM SOUTH WALES

The Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association is on the crest of a wave. The annual report for 1964 reveals that never before has the Association rung 50 peals in a year, and they are all on tower bells. While Swansea and Brecon beat them in actual numbers, with about a century of handbell peals, the list is a creditable one with three of Cinques, two Royal, seven Caters and 12 Major. There were also some individual honours with Mr. and Mrs. D. J. King ringing their 150th together and David his 50th for the Association. Mr. D. G. Clift reached his century and Mr. T. M. Roderick his 175th. Leading conductor and peal ringer was Mr. N. W. H. Simon, son of the President, who is now sharing his peal activities with Bristol University.

Mr. Jack Pryor, the hon. secretary, makes a point about the progress of young ringers, stating: "The general standard of ringing continues to improve and it is pleasing to note the increasing number of young ringers now ringing some of the more advanced methods. The popularity of the practices where these methods are rung indicates the keenness of the members to improve their standards; some travel many miles to these practices."

The decision of the College Youths to visit Newport, Cardiff and Llandaff for their annual provincial meeting was in honour of their Master, Mr. Jack Phillips, who in 1931 was Master of the Association. In his letter of thanks for the welcome, Jack stated: "It was a highlight of my life to return again to my happy hunting ground of bell ringing." At the end of Mr. Phillips' year of office a good peal was rung at Newton Nottage, where he made his first attempt at change ringing by handling the tenor behind Grandsire Doubles.

Another first during the year was the ordination in St. Woolos' Cathedral of Mr. R. C. Lucas. In the memory of the Rev. I. J. Richards, the hon. treasurer, he is the first official of the Association to be ordained.

HEREFORD CATHEDRAL SCHOOL SOCIETY

Since the Hereford Cathedral School Society has restarted two years ago, great progress has been made by its members. The peal of Minor at Peterchurch on April 6th is another step forward in the progress of the Society, which began with a quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles in July, 1963 and a peal of Doubles the following December. Many of the Society's ringers make Hereford Cathedral their regular tower, and it is in no small part due to the tireless efforts of Messrs. G. T. Cousins and A. T. Wingate that members of the Society have been able to progress so far, seven members of the Society having between them a sum total of 44 peals.

The Society is also in contact with the ringers at King's School, Worcester, having met last autumn at Ledbury for an afternoon's ringing. It is to be hoped that members of the Society while not forgetting their duties to the Hereford Guild and their own towers may long continue to ring together as a united school band.

MR. BRIAN G. WARWICK

Popular secretary of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, Mr. Brian G. Warwick, wants to relinquish his office in 1966 and accordingly in the Guild's annual report asks for a volunteer to come forward and take over his work. The reason is that more of his time is being taken up with musical activities since accepting the position of organist and choirmaster at the Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Knighton, a church with a high musical tradition.

This has also meant that Brian ceases to be a Sunday service ringer as Knighton has only one bell. As our quarter peal columns have revealed he has been associated with St. Thomas', South Wigston, since 1953. Five years ago he started a band of ringers from scratch and they quickly reached the stage of attempting a quarter peal every Sunday evening and have rung all local peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples. Their farewell peal to Brian was Plain Bob Major.

ALL FOR A BIRTHDAY

Hartest, a picturesque Suffolk village, originally had a ring of five bells cast by Darbie in 1661. In 1953 Taylor's recast the cracked second bell and rehanging the ring in a steel frame with an empty pit for a future treble. Thus they remained till Arthur W. Rolfe gave the greater part of the money towards the new treble, inscribed: "Arthur Rolfe gave me. 1963."

And so it was fitting that a peal should be attempted there to mark his 78th birthday (April 15th). "Just for fancy" he wanted a band of ladies to do him the honour on April 10th. Unfortunately flu prevented Mrs. Mills from ringing and Don Mills kindly rang in her place.

The peal in six minor methods however, came to grief but a good quarter was rung in 40 minutes. Afterwards Mrs. Vinten entertained the ringers to a much welcome tea which was greatly appreciated. To A. W. R. we offer our congratulations and wish him many years of happy ringing.

A "DAWDLE"

The word Mr. Will Viggers intended to use in his appreciation of the late Mr. Frank C. W. Knight was "dawdle" not "dangle" of ringers. He adds: "Anyone who has seen ringers wandering along from the service to the tea at meetings will recognise the apfness of the word." It is regretted that our reading department took a different view of his handwriting.

HANDBELL CALL TO SERVICES

During the absence of the six Whitchurch (Devon) bells, which have been taken to Loughborough for repair and retuning, the bellringers will use handbells to call parishioners to Sunday services, said the Vicar (the Rev. A. R. Gerry) at the annual parochial meeting on April 8th.

ONE OF THE FRIEZLAND SIX

Mr. George Perron, who died recently, was one of the Friezland ringers who took part in making the recording of these bells, an extract from which record is incorporated in Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd's book "The Sound of Bells." To his memory an attempt was made at Saddleworth on April 4th to ring 1.320 Oxford Treble Bob Minor, fully muffled. Unfortunately this came to grief more than halfway, through the breaking of the third rope.

The band consisted of: Jack Smith (Friezland) 1, Jack Hulme (Saddleworth) 2, William Herbert Nield (St. John's, Mossley) 3, Robert Stell (Saddleworth) 4, Arthur Farrand (Friezland) 5, Alfred John Bennett (Friezland) 6. Mr. Joseph Burgess acted as umpire.

NEWSPAPER'S BELLS GIVEN TO CHURCH

Marston Parish Church, Bapchild, Kent, has now installed a ring of five bells, the gift of the "News of the World." The bells had previously hung on the roof of the newspaper's offices in London and were unused.

In the presence of a congregation that filled the church, the Assistant Bishop of Canterbury, the Rt. Rev. Kenneth C. H. Warner, performed the ceremony of dedication. Assisting in the service was the Rector, the Rev. Arthur Luman.

PRIORITY BY AMBULANCE

King's School Society, Worcester, went for an outing in a retired ambulance affectionately known as the "School Bus." The vehicle had its advantages as two policemen mistook it for an ambulance on official duty and stopped all traffic to allow it to pass through the rush hour traffic converging on Worcester Bridge.

MEWSLADE COURT BOB MINOR PEAL

The committee of the Surrey Association met on April 7th to consider the objection to the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor rung at Limpsfield Chart on Saturday, December 19th. Mr. W. Parrott, the hon. secretary, informs us it was resolved "that the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor rung at Limpsfield Chart on December 19th, 1964, be accepted by the Association." The objection, therefore was not upheld.

VETERAN LOSES PEAL AT VERY END

With just over a course to go and after three hours of good ringing, a peal of Oxford Major was lost at Bingley, Yorks, on April 4th. Ringing the treble at 82 years of age was Mr. E. H. Simpson, a Bingley ringer. The peal was being attempted to mark his 55th wedding anniversary, also to mark his granddaughter's 21st birthday and the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Schofield and was specially arranged for a Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Bruce Grainger, curate at Bingley, was one of the unsuccessful ringers. Mr. H. B. Schofield, of Bradford Cathedral, informs us that it is hoped to make another attempt in the near future.

CHANGE RINGING ON TELEVISION FROM NEWCASTLE

By DENIS A. BAYLES

(Hon. General Secretary, Durham)

IN November last year in an interview on B.B.C. television's "Look North" programme, Miss Jennie Armstrong complained about the interference with the curfew by peal ringers at Morpeth's Watch Tower and she said that the public did not understand or appreciate change ringing. I immediately wrote to the B.B.C. and suggested that this statement should be seen as a challenge to them to do something to enlighten the public about change ringing. A discussion followed in which the idea was favourably received but action was deferred until filming conditions were more favourable.

Discussions were resumed in March and filming was arranged for Saturday, March 27th, at Newcastle Cathedral. This tower was chosen because it has a spacious ringing chamber, a compact arrangement of the ropes in its "middle eight," audible and good quality bells and, last but not least, people in charge who are good friends. The B.B.C. team was most co-operative and took great pains to ensure a successful outcome. The final result was seen on Thursday, April 8th, in the North East and Cumberland version of "Look North," with an item on change ringing lasting about seven and a half minutes.

Mike Neville gave a topical lead into the item by referring to the reports in the local Press of the divergent views about the bells of Houghton-le-Spring, where the patrons of the Golden Lion could not abide the sound, but those of the Red Lion liked the sound so much that they had sent £5 to help to keep the bells ringing! George House reported for the B.B.C. and gave an introduction outside Newcastle Cathedral with Stedman Triples in the background. As he concluded, the camera moved up the tower to the ringing chamber window to bear out his remark on the need for good lungs and good legs in any prospective ringer at this cathedral. He entered the ringing chamber somewhat breathless as the bells ran round and came over to introduce me as secretary of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, using a peal board as his teleprompter for our full title. We talked about the two ways of making a bell sound and I demonstrated chiming and ringing, in each case shots being given of what was happening in the bell chamber.

To demonstrate change ringing, the plain hunt on four bells was rung twice and I gave a commentary on this. I remained out of view at this stage and the camera retained a steady view of only the first four bells. The treble was made conspicuous by having a lady ringer, Miss Iris Thomson, while Messrs. K. Arthur, J. Crowther and W. Davidson manned the other three. Before ringing commenced I emphasised the two important points—(i) the two distinct strokes, handstroke and backstroke, and these were demonstrated by the treble, and (ii) that all bells complete one stroke before any proceed to the next stroke. I pointed out that although eight bells were in use, only the four in view would be changing their order and the unseen 5, 6, 7 and 8 would retain their order throughout. (The four covering bells helped the striking and slowed the action slightly for the commentator.)

I returned to the fifth for a final chat with George House, the main topic being the names of methods. Then George thanked us all and left us to resume ringing. For a short item the plain hunt on seven was selected and some of this ringing was heard while shots of ringers, moving ropes and swinging bells were seen in turn on the screen.

The item ended with the emergence of George House in the street below, where he pointed out that twelve ringers starting at that time could ring continuously on the twelve bells until about 2003 A.D. before all the possibilities would be exhausted. He reassured those who do not like bells by passing on the ringers' admission that they themselves would be exhausted much sooner.

Many people who saw the programme have commented very favourably on it. The majority of the comments that I have heard were from people who are not ringers and from these comments it would seem that the objective of trying to give the general public some insight into the mysteries of change ringing had been achieved.

I am very grateful to all those who co-operated in this venture—the B.B.C., the Newcastle Cathedral authorities and my fellow ringers, including those who were only heard and not seen. In the early discussions Mr. Alder, of the B.B.C., emphasised the desirability of physical demonstrations rather than too much talk or diagrams if interest were to be maintained. While we tried to adopt this idea we did not appreciate quite how far this thirst for demonstration could go and I hear that we sadly disappointed one young viewer in Chester-le-Street. It was not enough for him to hear about the disastrous consequences of keeping hold of the sally, he wanted to SEE THEM!

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S SOUND POSITION

GUESTS of honour at the annual meeting of the Kent County Association, held at Canterbury on Easter Monday, was Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, K.C.M.G. and Lady Knatchbull-Hugessen. Sir Hugh's father was the Rev. R. B. Knatchbull-Hugessen, the founder of the Association, who was the general secretary from 1880-1889.

The meeting was largely attended and the service was held in the choir of the Cathedral. The Archdeacon of Canterbury (the Ven. A. Sargent) prefaced his sermon by a welcome to the Association from the Dean and Chapter. The lesson was read by the general secretary (Mr. P. A. Corby).

During the service the following deaths which had occurred since the last meeting were remembered:

Practising members.—L. Cook (Harrietsham), A. Dunk (Stockbury), W. Everett (Ashford), H. R. French (Canterbury), E. Harrington (Hever), W. F. Jenkins (Canterbury), J. W. Unwin (Canterbury), F. Watts (Burmarsh), J. Wallis (Maidstone), A. F. Wellington (Tunbridge Wells), F. C. W. Knight (Ramsgate). Non-resident.—E. M. Atkins (Teignmouth), L. Fidler (Hitchin), W. Hodgetts (Bushey), A. A. Hughes (Whitechapel), A. R. Macdonald (Poole), F. W. Rogers (Portsmouth), H. T. Wilson (Brentwood).

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

The luncheon was served in the Drill Hall, and there were many distinguished guests for the chairman (Mr. John Willis) to welcome. These included the Dean (the Very Rev. I. H. White-Thomson), whom he recalled was for some years Vicar of Folkestone and while there was a very good friend of the ringers. Although the Mayor was unable to attend, he had sent a very good substitute in the Sheriff of the City (Cclr. Wilson) and Mrs. Wilson. Others welcomed were the Archdeacon of Canterbury and his sister Mrs. Moule, the Precentor (the Rev. Guy L'Estrange), Canon and Mrs. A. H. Waddams, Mr. Stephen Crisp (deputy organist), Rev. F. Mason (principal of Christ Church College) and Mrs. Mason, the Archdeacon of Maidstone and Mrs. Strutt, Dr. G. Templeman (vice-chancellor of Canterbury University), whose daughter is a ringer, and Mrs. Templeman.

The Dean, who replied to the welcome, said he knew a little about ringing and used to see a good deal of the ringers at Folkestone. It was a great work bellringers did and he was glad to see that so many ringers reached old age. Despite the years, they were still able to get into the belfries and ring for hours. He was talking to a ringer in the belfry who said he was ringing in 1904. It was wonderful to think that some young people sitting in front of him had 65 years of steady ringing ahead of them.

Replies were also made by the Sheriff and Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen.

BUSINESS MEETING

The business meeting followed, and apologies were received from Messrs. B. F. L. Groves, T. E. Sone (in bed with bronchitis), G. H. Spice, A. Fry and the Rev. S. M. Evans (recovering from influenza).

In the secretary's annual report the membership of the Association was given as 1,193 resident, 72 associate; towers in union 164, not in union 51. Districts membership was: Ashford 225, associates 32; Canterbury 286, 28; Lewisham 176, 3; Maidstone 157, nil; Rochester 187, 9; Tonbridge 162, 3.

RESTORATION WORK

"A most heartening increase in this most important sphere," commented the report. Cuxton Church had a very satisfactory six, the old five having been rehung and a treble added. Excellent reports had been received of Pluckley, where the six had been recast, rehanging in a new frame, and a new ringing room provided. Both jobs were completed during the year by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who now had in hand the rehanging in a new frame of the six and the addition of two trebles at East Malling, and a similar job at Brabourne. In addition work was in hand on a new frame at Ashford, although it was not proposed to add new trebles at the moment.

Mr. John Willis, the popular chairman, who told the meeting: "Easter Monday is a great day for me and many of you."

At Mersham, where the founder, the Rev. R. B. Knatchbull-Hugessen, was Rector, the bells had been sent to Whitechapel pending the restoration of the tower, after which a new bell frame will be installed and the eight bells retuned and rehung. At Sevenoaks an order had been placed for a new iron frame, the sixth to be recast and the remainder tuned. This work could commence in July.

The F. M. Mitchell memorial, which will take the form of a bronze tablet to be placed at the base of the tower at Milton-next-Gravesend and the investment of a sum of money to provide interest for the purchase of bell ropes for this church, was still open for further donations. A generous contribution had been received from the Ancient Society of College Youths, of which Mr. Mitchell was Master in 1932.

PLEA FOR LESS EXPERIENCED

Mr. P. A. Corby concluded his report with the following general comment. Membership had remained steady after the serious decline reported last year. The Association still had a great purpose to fulfil and must have the support of every ringer in Kent. In these days of easy transport and greater affluence, a great deal of ringing activity was organised independent of the Association. This in many ways was a good thing, but the temptation must be avoided for more experienced ringers to concentrate exclusively on their own pleasure ringing to the complete neglect of the needs of the less experienced. "Our aim and purpose must be to ring the bells of all our churches regularly, Sunday by Sunday. We can achieve this best by strengthening our fellowship through the Association."

Mr. Corby moved and Miss M. Andrews seconded the adoption of the report. A protest was entered by Mrs. Robbins: "We cannot adopt a report we have not read." Nevertheless, the majority present voted for adoption.

Presenting the accounts Mr. B. M. May said the income and expenditure account showed a balance carried forward of £201 11s. 8d., against £177 8s. 5d. From the Benevolent Fund four grants aggregating £40 and Christmas gifts of £14 had been made and the balance reduced from £253 14s. 1d. to £217 5s. 1d. Belfry Repair Fund at £238 2s. 3d. had made grants of £20 to Cheriton, Cuxton and Pluckley. The assets of the Association at market value on December 31st were £1,209, with £31 15s. 9d. in the Tenterden Bell Fund. He moved the adoption and Mr. A. S. Richards, honorary auditor, seconding said there was £14 to £15 to be added as interest.

Mr. C. T. Hillis questioned collections and donations of £47 standing in the account of the Maidstone District and £32 from the Rochester District. It was explained that these arose from the summer rally and dinner. The report was then adopted.

PEAL SECRETARY'S REPORT

Mr. Ian H. Oram, the peal secretary, reported 143 peals in 1964, which were four less than last year. There were no twelve-bell peals, and two rung outside the county, of which one was the only handbell peal. St. John's, Erith, and Frindsbury headed the list of towers with nine peals each. Three royal births were honoured by two peals each, and one peal was especially named and rung for the 90th birthday of Sir Winston S. Churchill. There were 37 conductors headed by Bernard F. L. Groves, with 28, followed by Stanley Jenner and the peal secretary both with 19.

The adoption was moved by the peal secretary and seconded by Mr. Stanley Jenner.

Mr. C. T. Hillis said he noticed that first pealers were down by two. Of the 26 first pealers, 15 were from the Ashford District, where there was an increase. He suggested that there was something seriously wrong in other Districts. He thought they should "buck their ideas up" with regard to first pealers. It was all right concentrating on new methods, but they must bring their first pealers along. The report was adopted.

Over the elections Mr. Hillis had a comment. He took exception to Canon N. M. G. Sharp, Vicar of Ashford, being elected a vice-president personally. The vice-presidency was conferred on the Vicar and not the individual in the same way as the other dignitaries. Other non-clerical vice-presidents elected were Messrs. E. A. Barnett, A. G. Hill, B. J. Luck, E. S. Ruck, G. H. Spice and J. Willis.

The retiring officers were re-elected with thanks for their services: Mr. P. A. Corby, honorary secretary; I. H. Oram, peal secretary; B. W. May, honorary treasurer; and A. S. Richards, honorary auditor.

ONE DAY RINGING SCHOOL

The general secretary reported that the arrangements were in an advanced state except that they were still looking for one more lecturer. The response was stupendous and they had to restrict the entry to 85. There were to be three lectures on elementary subjects—learning change ringing, learning a method and practical demonstrations. Also a lecture by Mr. Waddington on building up and maintaining a Sunday service band. In the evening there would be general ringing at Leeds, but in view of the large numbers they would get another tower. It was also suggested that a panel of people should be formed who would go about the Districts talking about change ringing.

A ringers' rally was being organised by Mr. L. Mitchell at Rainham on July 10th, and the numbers would be limited to 150. A dinner was being organised in the Rochester District at Sittingbourne by Mr. Mitchell and helpers. Tickets 13s. 6d.

Under other business, the Rev. Peter Robbins suggested that consideration should be given to new arrangements for the annual meeting. A meeting in the afternoon would be followed by service and tea. He thought it would be better than the present arrangement for Easter Monday. The chairman promised consideration by the committee, and the secretary said he would send notice of the proposal to District secretaries so that it could be discussed at District level.

In the votes of thanks the chairman especially mentioned the services of Mr. T. Phillimore, honorary secretary of the Canterbury District, who was responsible for the arrangements and a presentation was made to Mrs. Phillimore. The concluding vote of thanks was to the chairman proposed by Mr. E. A. Barnett.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Higher Subscriptions and Peal Fees

THE Ely Diocesan Association held its annual general meeting in the Cambridge District on Easter Monday. From 12 o'clock onwards members and friends toured the villages and rang at Sawston, Meldreth, West Wrating, Great Wilbraham, Orwell, Horningsea, Ickleton, Bottisham, Duxford (where more than 60 rang), Bourn, Whittlesfield, Cherry Hinton, Foxton, Haslingfield, Stapleford, Melbourn Little Shelford, Harston and Trumpington. The weather was varied, brilliant sun, snow, sleet and hail, and a violent wind with occasional lightning and thunder. The Rev. D. Maddox conducted the service at Trumpington, and over 100 sat down to an ample tea in the Village Hall.

The Rev. D. Maddox took the chair for the business meeting. Canon A. L. Woodard and the Bishop of Ely had sent their apologies. Elections: General secretary and treasurer, H. S. Peacock; peal secretary, G. Pearson; auditor, A. J. Davey. Mr. T. R. Dennis wished to resign after an outstanding record of service. He has been general secretary, 1912-13; Central Council representative, 1914-29 (broken only by war service); auditor from 1921 to the present meeting; and treasurer, 1927-29. The Central Council representatives are J. G. Gipson, E. H. Mastin, D. F. Murfet and H. S. Peacock. Rule 9 was altered to read that these representatives should, as far as possible, be one from each District. The vice-presidents are W. W. Cousins, W. J. Ridgman and T. R. Dennis. The Diocesan Committee consists of these officers together with R. F. Baker, E. W. Bullman, M. W. Carter, C. Cousins, H. Foster, B. Horrell and M. R. Reed.

The "Boundaries Commission" recommended the rearrangement of two towers in different Districts, March to the Wisbech District, and Swaffham Prior to the Ely District, and this was approved. As expected, the next item was the most controversial—the committee recommended an increase in subscriptions.

THE LAST INCREASE WAS IN 1946

After considerable discussion, under topics ranging from improvements in the annual report District secretaries' expenses and Central Council representatives' expenses to birth certificates, it was decided that the resident members' subscription should be 3s. instead of 2s. 6d., non-resident life members' subscription to be 10s. instead of 5s., and the peal booking fee increased to 1s. per rope. These alterations would come into effect in 1966, but peal fees are to be paid direct to the peal secretary, not to the District secretaries and this comes into effect immediately.

The next A.G.M. will be in the Wisbech District on Easter Monday. Local elections and votes of thanks completed the meeting, and members adjourned to ringing at Trumpington, St. Andrew's and St. Benet's, Cambridge, and Chesterton.

Letters to the Editor

ST. SIDWELL'S, EXETER

Dear Sir,—The news that the tower is not to be rebuilt and the bells sold comes as a great shock to the writer, who was born in the parish, baptised and confirmed in the church, was a chorister, bellringer, chimier and church worker in the 19th and present centuries.

The Shepherd family were builders (opposite the church) and from our front windows the church tower could be plainly seen, where for 118 years a Pack and Chapman octave called faithful people to service. In 1891 Mears and Stainbank added two trebles, making a fine ring of ten, the tenor scaling 23 cwt. 3 qr. 2 lb. The 1942 blitz cut the tower in half, and my uncle, Edwin Shepherd, who was "churchwarden emeritus," was in favour of restoration, but not by using explosives. However, the remaining half was demolished by explosives and soon the cry was: "Exeter will rise again." During many visits to my native city, "Ever Faithful," one willingly subscribed to the restoration fund, but now I read that "the church considers that there are better uses for £60,000 than building a new bell tower to the restored church." The tower was dedicated and formed part of the church, and those who decided on the better uses for restoration money would do well to have second thoughts before being retrograde. St. Sidwell's with one ting tang! Oh no!

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES BACKWARDS

Dear Sir,—Could you please give me your advice on a peal we are going to attempt shortly?

We are going for a peal of backward Grand-sire Triples, which has only been rung once, years ago, at Midhurst, Sussex. We are starting with the last change of a peal and working back. The bell in the hunt will make 3rds to come out (bob) and the bell that is 4-5 up will double dodge 4-5 up and go in the hunt, etc. (Bell in hunt courses in front of treble.)

Our problem is whether a peal starting at backstroke is valid. Starting this way all leading will be right.

If we start at hand, all leading will be back and hand, which will be rather difficult for a whole peal.

Perhaps you could let me know which way the Midhurst ringers started and which way would be correct for reversing the method.—Yours sincerely,

IAN W. HALL.

Kettering, Northants.

APPEAL NOT IN VAIN

Dear Sir,—The smiles are back on the faces of the boys of St. Wulfram's Secondary Modern School, Grantham, for they now have a set of 15 handbells (G—C plus two F sharps and one B flat).

A Nottingham paper's editor saw our appeal in the Diocesan Leaflet, sent along a reporter and photographer, published our tale of woe and as a result we now have an almost new set of bells on long-term loan from a Mrs. Proctor, of Nottingham.

Once more the school corridors resound with the sound of "Evans bells" and with new hearts, new bells (three more than the returned set) and new tunes, the boys look forward to many happy hours of ringing. —Yours sincerely,

V. P. EVANS.

Grantham.

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL

Dear Sir,—Congratulations to Rodney Yeates on his interesting account of the early history of bells at St. Nicholas', Newcastle upon Tyne.

I regret he made no mention of the vital role which the Newcastle Cathedral Guild of Change Ringers has played during the 53 years since its foundation, and is still playing, in being the Guild to whose practices aspiring ringers over a wide area come to learn good ringing and striking. In my experience of the past 16 years I know that if the ringing has not been good at the Cathedral those in charge have fully realised the fact.

Rodney also criticises the Cathedral Guild for the small number of people who have been taught the elementary stages of ringing. This is a matter open to discussion and I would welcome comments concerning whether it should be incumbent upon a Cathedral Guild to train its own band or whether it should rely on experienced ringers who move into the area and by honouring ringers from other churches in the diocese by inviting them to join the Cathedral company.—Yours sincerely,

J. ALAN AINSWORTH.

Halesowen, Birmingham.

SPlicing WITH FIRING!

Dear Sir,—Judging by his letter to "The Ringing World" (page 260), Mr. H. Michael Williamson is obviously not aware that this method called "Firing" is being spliced with everything these days! Most peals include a few leads of it while some others consist entirely of the method with the exception of a few things called "rounds" at the start and finish of the "peal."

This peculiar method is much in evidence at meetings up and down the country—in fact it is rung nearly all of the time at these gatherings, also on outings and/or tours; people actually look it up I believe.

I hope Mr. Williamson will not feel offended if I point out to him that it is not considered to be quite "nice" to question this method called "Firing"; neither is it considered decent to raise the question of the standards of striking. You simply must not do it, old man!!

You see, Mr. Williamson, the whole idea is to start off with rounds (as many as you like) then you crash and bang around for about three hours, get the bells back into rounds and say "Stand"! And there you are—one true and complete peal; nothing could be easier really.—Yours, etc.,

Bethersden, Kent.

WILFRED W. RING.

P.S.—By 1965 standards it is considered to be the correct thing to make a mistake as soon as possible after the conductor has said "Go"—in some areas a prize is presented to the lucky first offender!—W. W. R.

OXFORD BOB TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—I have been racking my brains finding Q sets and am blur-eyed with P blocks vainly trying to discover a peal—or even a quarter peal—of Oxford Bob Triples. I would be grateful if readers would oblige me with a true full extent. An original one would gain from me similar admiration to that which the Exercise had for John Holt.—Yours hopefully, almost frustratedly,

EDWARD MARTIN.

Market Harborough.

LONG LENGTH ATTEMPT AT BIRMINGHAM

Dear Sir,—At the request of the Provost of St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham, the Rt. Rev. George Sinker, the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham will attempt to ring a long peal at St. Philip's Cathedral as part of the celebrations to mark the 250th anniversary of St. Philip's being made the Cathedral of the Diocese.

The attempt will take place on Saturday, May 15th, 1965, starting as soon as possible after 8.30 a.m., and will be for 33 courses of Cambridge Surprise Maximus in an endeavour to pass the record of 29 courses set up by the Lancashire Association at Ashton-under-Lyne on August 5th, 1929.

The band will consist of ten members of the regular St. Philip's peal band, Messrs. Shallcross, Purnell, Goodman, Fellows, Fellows, Fearn, Eisel, Border, Barron and Ainsworth, and Messrs. Jones and Smith from Cheshire.

Mr. Roderick W. Pipe has produced the following composition, and has kindly agreed to act as umpire; Mr. Peter Border has checked the composition.—Yours sincerely,

J. ALAN AINSWORTH,

Ringing Master.

INSTRUCTIONAL ARTICLES

Dear Sir,—The three articles by Edgar C. Shepherd published on September 18th and 25th and October 2nd, 1964, were fascinating and most instructive. They have taught me a tremendous amount about Grandsire and inspired me to "have a go" at conducting. No doubt this applies also to very many other ringers.

Could you please discover two other authors to produce similar articles on Plain Bob and Stedman? At suitable intervals, of course, to allow the information to be absorbed.—Yours faithfully,

G. J. L. READ.

Knightsbridge.

Note.—Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd has promised us a series on Stedman.—Ed.

MR. WOOLLEY'S QUESTION

Dear Sir,—Everyone has a right to his own opinions; but I should now like Mr. A. W. Jeffs to explain why he considers it better to donate 10s. (as he has done), rather than to include this amount in his annual subscription? He will now have paid £2 12s (the equivalent of 1s. per copy), which, if done by all, would, I believe, make the paper solvent. I trust Mr. Jeffs is a postal subscriber.—Yours sincerely,

C. W. WOOLLEY.

Bushey Heath.

Note.—And instead of 5,600 readers there would be less than 5,000 if another 10s. was put on the subscription forthwith.—Ed.

Cowbridge Grammar School on Tour

OUR two cars bore modest placards, back and front: "This car carries the Cowbridge Grammar School Bellringers..." the temptation to turn the establishment into a "Grabber School" for the week having been resisted. There were eight of us all told: Old Boy Paul Evans, now of Birmingham University; Ellis Thomas, David Barrington, Chris Ricketts, Paul Morgan, John Alexander, Robert MacPherson and myself. It was the morning of Wednesday, April 7th, and we were off on our band's first ringing tour.

The destination was Birmingham, but we had two towers to visit on the way—the six (10 cwt.) of Redmarley D'Abitot and the six (10½ cwt.) at Wychbold. After a raise here we rang an extent of Wychbold Doubles, a plain course of Kent, 120 Stedman and some call changes. This was a fairly representative cross-section of our ringing during the tour when not reinforced by local ringers.

Our host and benefactor for the tour was the Rev. David Sansum, Vicar of Stechford, who is, of course, a ringer himself. The way he coped with the invasion (four boys, for example, camping in his drawing room!) was a marvel, a proof of his kindness and of the camaraderie of the Exercise; the same, incidentally, may be said of the friendly welcome we received everywhere.

Thursday, April 8th, was a full day. We began with the six (10½ cwt.) at Castle Bromwich, the last bells to be recast by Gillett and Johnston. At Kingsbury the 16 cwt. six have a long draught, and a microphone system operates to make the bells audible below. In case of bad striking one is advised to switch off! Luckily this was not necessary. We were joined here by David Ingram, of Aston, son of the Master of the St. Martin's Guild, and he, like David Sansum, was a most welcome addition to the band during the tour.

The 12 cwt. six at Shustroke are tuned as the inside bells, 2 to 7, of an eight. After lunch came the first eight of the tour, at Coleshill (13 cwt.). Unfortunately our ringing on this anti-clockwise octave with the blue sallies reached only a poorish standard. At Bicken Hill (six, 9½ cwt.) the tenor could not be freed from its chimer, so we rang Doubles on the front five.

The light eight (6½ cwt.) at Packwood were a most pleasant surprise. For the first time ever, all eight of our School band stood in for a raise together. Something clicked; the raise was wellnigh perfect. Then, with David Sansum in, we rattled through some touches of Grandsire Triples and courses of Bob Major. After some good call changes we ended with a creditable lower and a "catch in Queen's" which was Queens. Then came the fine 16½ cwt. six at Berkswell, where the ropes come down behind the organ: what a pity these bells at present lack a full local band. The light six (5½ cwt.) at Barston ended the afternoon.

The evening brought us a wonderful and unexpected climax to the day. David Ingram asked us to the practice on the glorious 25 cwt. 12 at Aston, and in that great swaying tower with its historic peal boards going back to the 18th century we all had a pull; and our three boffins, Paul, El and Chris, actually had a bit of Plain Bob Royal.

Friday, April 9th, began with the (in our opinion) best, and best-going, bells we have ever struck—the 12 cwt. eight of Tanworth-in-Arden. Here again our raise was good, and we particularly like the memory of Tittums struck fast and true in call changes afterwards. Two 10 cwt. sixes, at Lapworth and Wootton Wawen, followed, then the heavier (14 cwt.) six of Aston Cantlow. The fifth at the last-named tower, dated 1410, was an old bell even when William Shakespeare's parents-to-be were married in this church. The afternoon's two towers, Snitterfield (six, 16 cwt.) and Honiley (five, 6½ cwt.), were separated by a visit to Stratford-on-Avon for tea. We also rowed up and down the river in a large boat, with El, Chris and David ringing touches of Bob Minor on our handbells.

That evening, while waiting for our order in a Chinese restaurant in Birmingham, we formally instituted the Cowbridge Grammar School Society of Change Ringers, open to past and present members of the School, with Ellis Thomas as its first Ringing Master.

We had done well for ringing already, but on our way home on the Saturday we were invited to join a day's outing to the Cotswolds, organised by David Sansum, and we enjoyed ringing with his party at Winchcombe (six, 12 cwt.), Toddington (six, 6½ cwt.), Stanton (a hard-working 11 cwt. six), Broadway (six, 18 cwt.), Dumbieton (six, 11 cwt.), Childswickham (six, 12 cwt.) and lastly Hinton-on-the-Green (a very pleasant 10 cwt. eight). The last course of the day was Cambridge Major, in which El and Chris took part.

Our gratitude and thanks go to incumbents and ringers who met us and to Paul Evans for his organising and David Sansum for his hospitality.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION

Dedication of Memorial Tablet

On April 11th a short service was conducted by the Dean of Llandaff in the ringing chamber of the Cathedral to dedicate the memorial tablet to those members who lost their lives in the two world wars.

The original tablet was installed in the Cathedral in 1920 but had to be removed during the recent rebuilding as the Cathedral was badly damaged by a land mine in World War II. The Association decided to add to the memorial the name of John Bloxham, of Cadoxton, who lost his life while serving with the R.A.F. during World War II.

Both the design of the additional stone-work and the execution of the work was carried out by a ringing member of the Association, Mr. Trevor M. Roderick, of Porthcally, mainly at his own expense.

In addition to members of the Association, the service was attended by the mother, sister and other relatives of John Bloxham.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual General Meeting

TRURO Diocesan Guild held its annual general meeting on March 27th in Truro. Welcoming the company, the chairman, Mr. Alan Carveth (Guild president), reminded them of the objects of the Guild as laid down in the rules, namely:

(a) The promotion of a spirit of loyalty to the Church by the ringers and a reverent feeling for their sacred office;

(b) A spirit of brotherhood amongst the ringers of all churches in the diocese;

(c) A recognition of the belfry as being an integral part of the Church;

(d) Advancement in the art of ringing;

(e) Recognition by the Church authorities of the ringers as a band of church workers.

The secretary, the Rev. A. J. Vincent, conducted prayers, and silent tribute was paid to the memory of Messrs. W. G. Hiscott (a vice-president), A. Hitchens, A. Couch and J. Green, who had died since the last meeting.

After apologies had been received and the minutes signed, the secretary read a letter of thanks from the secretary of the Central Council for the hospitality of the Guild when the Council met in Truro at Whitsun. The design of a long-service certificate and the nature of proficiency awards were approved. The treasurer, Mr. S. Robinson, reported a favourable balance in the general fund despite the expenses incurred in entertaining the Central Council, and the accounts were formally adopted.

The Ringing Master, Mr. D. Burnett, and the Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. W. C. Boucher, reported on the Guild's activities in 1964, drawing attention to the success of the various festivals, the Council meeting and the unity of the Guild. An important event had been the ringing of the Guild's first 12-bell peal, Grandsire Cinques, at Buckfast Abbey. Mr. D. Docking, the peal secretary, reported a total of 30 peals including a first on eight bells as conductor and several first peals.

All the Guild officers were re-elected except the Rev. A. J. Vincent, who did not seek re-election due to pressure of work. He was thanked for his services by the president and was appointed a vice-president. Mr. A. J. Davidson (Tyneholme, Barrack Lane, Truro) was elected to succeed him as general secretary. It was agreed to accept the invitations to hold the Summer Festival at Manaccan on July 7th and the 1966 annual general meeting at Callington.

Lt.-Col. C. F. Jerram, a vice-president, moved that Branch secretaries be urged to place notices of festivals in "The Ringing World" and to notify vice-presidents of such festivals. This was agreed to. The Guild accepted with gratitude Col. Jerram's offer to present the Guild with a copy of "The Sound of Bells."

An excellent tea was provided by the lady ringers of Truro, after which the ringers kept their hands in at Kenwyn and on the rehung Cathedral bells.

SUFFOLK GUILD

The spate of weddings requiring ringers on April 10th resulted in the attendance being smaller than usual at the quarterly meeting of the N.W. District at Newmarket. The presence of Messrs. G. W. Pipe, A. Beckworth and R. Whittle was a great help to ringing, both in the afternoon and evening. An interesting service was conducted by the Rev. K. Child and the organist was thanked for his stirring tunes.

At the meeting, five new ringing members were accepted. Mrs. Janet Rogers, a recent bride from Yorkshire, was warmly welcomed and three young Rougham ringers were elected (Mervin Rose, Derek Rose and Johnny Bull). Young Derek (aged 11) rang his first 720 last week. Mr. A. Deering, of Freckenham, was also elected a member.

There was some discussion about publicity in the hope of fostering more interest in ringing and obtaining recruits.

No meeting was fixed for May as it was hoped that Mendlesham's new treble bell would be dedicated that day and the Rougham ringers' outing was in June, but evening practices would be arranged for other evenings than the second Saturdays.

More ringers joined in the evening ringing and methods included London and Cambridge Surprise, Stedman, Grandis, St. Clement's, Kent, Double Court and Plain Bob.

Mr. G. Pipe proposed the vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist, Mr. A. Balham (District secretary) and the Newmarket ringers.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Chesterfield District

Some 25 members and friends from ten towers were present when the monthly ringing meeting of the Chesterfield District was held at Scarcliffe on a rather showery April 10th. Under the supervision of the District Ringing Master, Mr. C. J. Hughes, a wide variety of Doubles methods was rung before tea on the pleasant 10 cwt. five, which were augmented from an old three in 1962.

Following an excellent tea, the Vicar (the Rev. D. Prewer) gave the company a special welcome on the occasion of their first meeting there. A brief discussion took place at the meeting about the Association annual general meeting in Derby on April 24th. Messrs. F. Riley and B. Field (Scarcliffe), K. Saxton (Bolsover) and C. Longden (unattached) were elected members.

The final of the Association's striking contests will be held at Horsley on May 22nd. The District chairman, Mr. D. Cooper, closed the meeting with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, local company and ladies for providing the tea. Further ringing was then enjoyed at Scarcliffe and later at Bolsover.

Next meeting: Clowne, May 8th—Ringing Contest. M. P. P.

ESHER RINGERS IN EAST ANGLIA

APRIL 10th, the first Saturday in the financial year, was selected by Esher bell-ringers for their fifth annual outing. A prompt start was made at 8 a.m. in miserable weather. The coach having already picked up friends from Horton and Hersham on its way from Staines, the organiser found that he had forgotten to allow for his own three children, so with raincoats, handbells and spare ropes (to guarantee that no ropes would break at the towers to be visited during the day) the coach was filled to capacity.

Good time was made through London to the first tower, Barkingside, a pleasant light eight in a fairly new church (1933). While the non-ringers in the main walked to Gants Hill roundabout for coffee, the remainder soon had the bells going to Stedman. Several other methods were rung and we finished with half a course of Yorkshire with one of the local ringers, which unfortunately went wrong in the fourth lead and "Stand" had to be called. We said goodbye to the Vicar, due to whose labours the bells had been installed over the years since the church was built, and had another long run to the small village of Felsted. Here we did not do justice to the bells.

At Braintree, en route for Great Tay, we were held up in heavy traffic, consequently we were a little late and could not spend as much time as we would have liked with this easy-going medium-weight octave.

An excellent lunch was served at the White Horse, East Bergholt, by Mrs. Rose, and as we left the inn we could already hear the famous bells of St. Mary's, East Bergholt. Local ringers met us. These bells are rung without ropes and wheels in a bell-cage in the churchyard. We went inside and looked at the five bells (tenor 25 cwt.) and then, when we had all stationed ourselves outside again, watched them ring call changes for some ten minutes in amazement. The changes were called by hand signals and the striking was well nigh perfect; we wished we could always ring on five bells of that weight as perfectly with ropes and wheels. We inquired how long it took to learn, and were told as ringers we should be capable of learning in three months, practising a couple of hours a week.

Reluctantly we moved on to Higham, where Walter Bailey met us, and Cambridge Minor, amongst other methods, went with a swing. The rain had stopped and the sun came out when we went on to Stoke-by-Nayland. The Rector (the Rev. Mark Wells), a theological college colleague of our Rector, is having the church completely renovated, and a very fine job it will be when it is finished. The bells, a heavy eight (tenor 22 cwt.), certainly compare very favourably with Lavenham, but what has happened to the seventh? It is so slow at hand as to be unbelievable; as a result, although a capable striker always rang the seventh, the other ringers found it difficult to estimate the gap and the striking was not as good as we would have liked.

Approaching Assington, we watched the sky darkening as a storm approached. St. Edmund's Church, Assington, is on the top of a small exposed hill in the middle of a field, the nearest road being a good 400 yards away. As we arrived so did the storm and though everyone tried to be Robbie Brightwell we were all very wet by the time we reached the church. By the time we left the rain had stopped and we could pick our way slowly and carefully over the muddy puddles.

We had tea at Bures before ringing on the fine anti-clockwise eight of St. Mary's Church. Double Norwich was among methods rung and we finished with Yorkshire, which we did manage this time with the help of Mr. Mills. Then a long run to Fryerning, where after ringing for half an hour on the delightful six we adjourned to the Woolpack to fortify ourselves for the journey home. Esher was reached at 10.30 p.m. Our best thanks to incumbents and the ringers who met us, especially those at East Bergholt. J. F. M. M.

OBITUARY

MRS. A. C. HAZELDEN

Mrs. Lucy Hazelden, widow of Mr. A. C. Hazelden, of Guildford, died very peacefully in a sleep on April 22nd. After suffering much pain for some months, she entered hospital at the beginning of April. An internal operation was found necessary, but she died nine days later.

A native of Kent, Mrs. Hazelden came to Guildford in the 1890's. There she met Charles Hazelden, who also came from Kent, attracted by the good ringing to be found at St. Nicolas' in this days.

Before the first war, Mrs. Hazelden took up handbell ringing, and rang four peals before she turned to tower bells to help when more men left for active service. At this time she and her husband belonged to Holy Trinity, Guildford. After the war they transferred to St. Nicolas', where they were active members for some 40 years, till age made it impossible to climb the belfry stairs.

When women came forward to take the place of men ringers during the 1914-18 war, Mrs. Hazelden did all she could to encourage them, often cycling 10 or 20 miles to ring with one of the pioneers in her own tower. In 1919 she formed the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild, and was its first secretary, and later she was vice-president for several years. Mrs. Hazelden was also a founder-member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild in 1927.

She had a record of 60 peals rung. The first was Holt's Original on handbells on November 14th, 1914, conducted by A. H. Pulling, and the last the same in January, 1944, in answer to a challenge from A. H. P. to see if she could still do it! There were 23 handbell peals, and on tower bells two of Royal, eight Caters, 16 Major and 11 Triples.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazelden were the first married couple to ring both handbell and tower bell peals together. They rang in the first peal by four married couples, with Mr. and Mrs. R. Whittington, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, at Epsom Common in 1920. In November, 1829, they rang in the first peal in which every member of the band was celebrating his silver wedding that year (Mrs. Hazelden was the only lady and it was her and her husband's 50th peal together). The same band rang for their 30th wedding anniversaries in 1933; and would have repeated the performance five years later but Mr. J. S. Goldsmith had to break the circle as his wife died before the date fixed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazelden celebrated their diamond wedding in 1963, and he died 50 days later. She lived to keep her 90th birthday at home, and among the many greetings a beautiful spray of flowers from the Guildford Diocesan Guild gave her special pleasure, as did the peal attempt. She was greatly interested in all the ringing news to the last.

MR. STANLEY W. COPLING

With deep regret we report the passing of Mr. Stanley W. Copling, of Loddon, Norfolk, on March 30th, at the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital, after a very short illness. He was 64 years of age.

Stanley became a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association on June 1st, 1925, on which day he rang in his first peal, one of Minor in seven methods at Hapshipburgh. He had an unbroken membership of the Association from then until his death, and in all took part in 239 peals, many of which were rung on the well known Redenhall bells, and it was at this tower that he first met the lady, Miss Alice Chaney, who was to become his wife.

He was a quiet, unassuming personality, dedicated to the art which was his only hobby. He seldom refused a request to help neighbours in ringing for services or to teach beginners, and cycled many miles in all kinds of weather for this purpose.

Many ringers attended the funeral service held at Loddon Church on April 3rd, conducted by the Vicar, Canon C. R. Ninham.

MR. HERBERT LANGDON APPRECIATION

On Monday, April 12th, with sadness but with pride, I mustered with many well-known ringers at Westminster Abbey to pay my last respects to Herbert Langdon. There were, to my knowledge, at least two others at the service who knew and had rung with him for over 50 years, and although superlatives are often misused, I feel that if I used a sporting term it would be correct to say Langdon was one of the "all greats." For years he was the centre of London ringers, especially with the College Youths, and he was undoubtedly a law unto himself, and although having perhaps extremist ideas over some things, he was nevertheless a lovable and kind man.

All the years that I knew him I never knew Bert tell a deliberate lie, although we often used to laugh at his long explanations so as to avoid a direct answer. He would never say "This is all" unless perfectly satisfied a peal was legitimate. He was one of the last of the College Youths who were ringing before the First World War; the only one I can think of now in London is Ernie Fenn. It is remarkable to think that the conductor of Mr. Langdon's first peal, George Symonds, is still with us, and he must share my feelings over the passing of so great a ringer.

His name will live in the Exercise. R.I.P.
W. H.

MR. J. NEWICK

With the death of Mr. Jack Newick the ringers of Wadhurst, Sussex, have lost a good friend. Jack learned to ring in 1947, when he became verger, and although over 50 years old he progressed enough to ring an inside bell and stood in a couple of quarters.

Indifferent health and church duties soon caused a semi-retirement from the belfry, but he remained a faithful and efficient steeple-keeper, and will be best remembered in Wadhurst for the impeccable way in which he kept the church and churchyard.

On April 7th Jack's bicycle was in its usual place when the ringers arrived for practice, but as he had not appeared when the bells were lowered, I went to lock up the church and found him lying dead in the south aisle.

On Tuesday, April 13th, he was buried with full parochial honours and in the evening the local band rang the bells half-muffled to his memory.

MRS. ADA WALL

The death occurred on April 14th at the home of her sister, of Mrs. Ada Wall (formerly Wolstencroft), youngest sister of the late Walter W. Wolstencroft.

She joined the band of lady ringers at St. Peter's, Auston-under-Lyne, formed by her brother in 1915. She was a regular ringer at St. Peter's for many years and rang several peals.

At the Armistice in November, 1918, she rang the fourth bell at St. Peter's as a member of the only complete band of lady ringers in the country to ring on that occasion.

As the cortege entered the precincts of the church a touch of Grand sire Triples and the "whole pull and stand" were rung by former colleagues of his early ringing days.

Following the interment a course of Grand sire Triples "in hand" was rung at the graveside by Messrs. Walpole, Barrett, Goate and Goodman.

An in memoriam quarter peal of Plain Bob Major was rung by: G. Howlett 1, I. Margetts 2, N. P. J. Cossey 3, G. Walpole 4, H. Fuller 5, E. R. Goate (cond.) 6, R. Bickers 7, H. Barrett 8.

Stanley was a good friend and a dedicated member of the art. We shall miss him and we offer our sincere sympathy to his widow, daughter Janet and her husband, Tony Roberts.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Ely Diocesan Guild has decided to increase the peal booking fee to 1s. per rope. There was only one in opposition—a leading peal ringer.

We have received news from Australia that Mr. Jack Cummins, of St. Mary's Basilica, Sydney, rang his 200th quarter peal at Burwood on April 11th.

Mr. Frederick Sharpe is attending the St. David's Guild annual competition at St. Florence on May 8th and is bringing his handbell ringers to give a recital that afternoon.

Comments a reader sending a quarter peal with a 6s. postal order: "This is not a 'charitable contribution' but a donation towards expenses. Increased price is not the solution as the time comes when this curtails sales."

A tip to road users, especially Central Council members. Avoid coming through Baldock on the A.1 and A.505. Mr. J. S. Dear, of 47, Park Drive, Baldock, is pleased to send alternative route details in a s.a.e. Despite this, visitors are welcome at Baldock Church.

The peal on the excellent eight at Ely on Easter Monday was specially arranged as a compliment to Mr. J. W. Pickett, the tower captain, and his wife on their golden wedding anniversary. The band would like to thank Mr. Pickett for his most generous hospitality. The band also greatly appreciated the excellent meal that he had laid on for them after the peal.

LATE NEWS

ANOTHER 1,000 PEALER

Mr. Peter Border, of Coventry, rang his 1,000th peal on April 22nd at Birmingham Cathedral by calling 10 courses of Cambridge Maximus with 10 singles. He is the 28th ringer to gain this distinction.

ST ALKMUND'S, DERBY, TWO-DAY INQUIRY

There have been frequent references in our columns to the demolition of St. Alkmund's Church, Derby, to make way for a ring road and its erection on a new site acquired by the Corporation, nearer the centre of the parish in Kedleston Road. The Parochial Church Council have lodged an appeal against compulsory orders and demolition and the hearing of their case was recently the subject of a two day inquiry by the Ministries of Housing and Local Government and Transport. It was then stated that the Bishop, the Archdeacon of Derby, the Vicar of the parish and the diocesan officials were in favour of demolition.

An independent objector, Mr. W. T. West, said that he thought it was shocking and horrible that the guardians of the oldest established church in the town should not only fail to oppose its demolition but advocate it.

A petition, bearing about 750 names, deploring the decision to pull down the church with its fine ring of bells and organ, was presented by Mr. Neville Grimshaw, a sidesman and P.C.C. member, who said that Mr. John Betjeman, in a letter to him, had described St. Alkmund's as "a handsome church." Mr. Grimshaw regarded the demolition as "vandalism and sacrilege," and would mean the desecration of the graves of many once prominent citizens of Derby.

The Vicar (the Rev. Hector Bywater) said the church had a capacity of 450, yet only about 15 communicants and congregations of upwards of 50. It was far too large nowadays, and an estimate of the amount required on repairs for the church had been £50,000. The decisions of the Ministries will be announced at a later date.

BEDESMEN AT CANTERBURY

The ancient office of bedesmen, instituted in 1540 by King Henry VIII, has been revived in Canterbury Cathedral and four have been admitted. The statutes prescribe that there should be 12 bedesmen, "poor men, depressed by poverty and afflicted by penury, or crippled and maimed by war, or worn down with age." As far as their infirmities allowed, they were to be at divine service every day, to attend prayers and wait upon priests when about to celebrate. They were to help light and put out lights in winter, and if strong enough ring the bells. The bedesmen wear black gowns, and also carry white staves of office.

EXCAVATIONS AT WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL

Morgan's Magazine, the journal of the Morgan Crucible group, has an interesting article on the excavations last year, in the precincts of Winchester Cathedral, of a 10th century bell foundry. The article originally appeared in the Foundry Trade Journal. The team of experts who made the investigation was led by Mr. Martin Biddle, and among them were Messrs. D. W. Brown (Morgan Crucible Company), Douglas Hughes (Mears and Stainbank) and Frederick Sharpe.

The site has been dated 970 A.D. The presence of "burnt" clay and fragments of bell metal encouraged further investigation which was most fruitful. The clay formed part of the cope of a bell mould. Winchester had bells in the 10th century, and these were associated with St. Ethelwold. Probably this spot was where the bells were cast.

CREATING A SENSE OF OCCASION

Concerned at the poor attendance at Derby District meetings, a new policy has been worked out, explains Mr. G. A. Halls, the District chairman, in "Belfry News." He is hoping to introduce a sense of "occasion" at District activities based on the following five points:

(i) Saturday meetings to be held less frequently, in fact every other month is the aim.

(ii) Evening meetings will take the place of the cancelled Saturday meetings. But attention will be paid to the attractiveness of the tower and its accessibility.

(iii) Quarter peals for those who warrant it are to be arranged.

(iv) To continue with specially organised outings such as those to quarterly meetings in the Peak District.

(v) Inexperienced ringers to be given more encouragement to participate in activities. Here we depend on the more experienced ringers to engender enthusiasm and to use persuasion to bring them into the scope of the Association activity.

RINGERS RECEIVE MAUNDY MONEY

Maundy money was distributed this year by H.M. the Queen at Canterbury Cathedral. The recipients included four veteran Kent ringers, viz.: Messrs. J. Stockbridge (St. Dunstan's, Canterbury), H. S. Humphrey (New Romney), E. Woolley (Hothfield) and F. Boorman (Stockbury).

Another recipient was Mrs. Mary Ann Dobbie, of Milton Regis, Sittingbourne, who is 100 years. She is grandmother of Mr. Walter Dobbie, the secretary of the Tonbridge District of the K.C.A. Her doctor thought it was inadvisable to make the journey to Canterbury Cathedral. The bounty, we understand, has been sent to her.

LIFE RINGING MEMBERSHIP

Leicester Diocesan Guild is anxious to encourage life ringing membership for a single sum of five guineas. So far the total amount in the fund is £54 13s. 6d., which includes Defence Bonds and cash at bank.

With the subscription remaining at the present rate, a member aged 20 would save £5 15s., aged 30 £3 5s. and aged 40 15s. If the subscription increased the saving would be automatically larger.

The advantages to the Guild are that the money invested provides interest equal to a member's subscription and also provides the Guild with some financial stability.

WORK NEEDED AT DENBY

An inspection of the fourth and fifth bells at Denby, Derbyshire, has revealed that the plain bearings are very badly worn and the bells are in need of rehousing on ball bearings. Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, have confirmed this and have made proposals for carrying the work out. The iron frame has space for two more trebles and it is hoped that advantage will be taken of the overhaul to augment to a ring of eight by the addition of two trebles. According to "Belfry News" a P.C.C. meeting is to be held to decide on whether to go ahead with the proposals and means of raising the money.

FINDING RINGERS FOR GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL

Guildford Guild are making progress with their arrangements for ringing the ten bells at the Cathedral, which will be dedicated on Monday, May 17th, at 8.15 p.m. Until a resident band is formed and trained, all members of the Guild capable of ringing 10 bells reasonably well are invited to apply for membership of a Cathedral Society, and volunteer for Sunday service ringing. Times for ringing will be at 9 a.m. for the Sung Eucharist at 9.45, and following that for Matins at 11.15. There will also be ringing for Evensong from 5.45 to 6.30.

Applications for membership should be made to Mr. C. W. Munday, general secretary of the Guild, of 37, Bradford Drive, Ewell, as soon as possible. Applicants should state how often they are prepared to attend, e.g., weekly, fortnightly, monthly, and if they are prepared to ring for all three services or mornings or evening. They are particularly anxious to get bands fixed for the first three Sundays (May 23rd and 30th and June 6th). If more members volunteer a selection will be made so volunteers should not attend on those days unless specifically asked to do so.

SERVICE AND OPEN DAY

Eighty seats have been allocated to the Guild for the dedication service. These are in the gallery in the south transept. Members who cannot obtain tickets for the service from their parish master builder or incumbent are asked to apply to the general secretary with a stamped, addressed envelope not later than May 7th. In the event of applications exceeding the allocation tickets will be distributed as widely and fairly as possible.

The following Saturday (May 22nd) is to be an open day with the bells available from 11 a.m. until 5.45 p.m., when Evensong will be held in the Cathedral at 5.45. A meeting to form the Cathedral Society will be held that day in the belfry at 2.30 p.m., and those who have made applications for membership are invited to attend. A secretary to the Cathedral Society will be elected at that meeting. Practices will be held every Friday from 7.30 to 9 p.m. and a Surprise Royal practice will be held on the second Friday of each month. There will be a practice at St. Nicolas' Church, Guildford, on May 1st from 6.30 to 9 p.m.

CLERICAL GUILD AT NOTTINGHAM

This week the Clerical Guild are in the midst of their annual ringing week which is centred on the Fourways Private Hotel, West Bridgford, Nottingham. The peal attempt was fixed for Thursday, April 29th, at Greasley.

Acceptances for the week have been received by the honorary secretary, Preb. J. H. B. Andrews, from the following: The Revs. N. F. D. Coleridge (Tatworth), K. C. Davis (Tadley), Canon K. W. H. Felstead (Southampton), D. E. Ford (Porthcawl), J. B. T. Homfray (Staverton), R. N. Longridge (Okeford Fitzpaine), C. J. B. Marshall (Long Sutton), I. J. Richards (Llanarth), P. T. Robbins (Charing), Canon F. A. Sanders (Overton), J. Shephard-Walwyn (Westleigh), R. D. St. J. Smith (Darley), H. F. Warren (Exford), E. B. Wood (Mapledurham), and for part of the time D. G. Goodman (Chilwell), M. C. C. Melville (King's Lynn), Canon A. G. G. Thurlow (Norwich).

Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Wood and Miss Homfray will accompany the party.

"MORE THAN HAVING A BASH"

By THE REV. F. F. RIGBY

In his message as Master to the Gloucester & Bristol Diocesan Association

I OFTEN wonder what are the basic requirements of Christianity. Obviously the first requirement is that Christians should seek God.

The next requirement was given by a friend of mine who, when lying in hospital, said to me: "I've come to the conclusion that only people matter." Having time to think, he stumbled on a great truth. The most important part of God's creation are human beings.

But we can't stop there. Human beings begin to make and use things. In the simple worship of the Upper Room, Jesus used a cup of wine. There is no evidence that I know of that he used a plate for the bread. Yet we now use cup and plate or chalice and paten, for the service of Holy Communion. So the things that we use in worship tend to increase in number. We now use churches for our worship. I suppose we could hold services outside, but this would not be very practicable in our climate. We could manage without music, but I for one wouldn't like this. We could manage without bells, as in fact people in other countries do.

We could manage without all sorts of things, but life would be duller without them. Architecture, art, music, literature are all used in Christian worship and the more human beings love God the better these become.

So, too, with our bells and change ringing. Christianity would still go on without them, but the sound of bells when rung in a rhythmic and ordered manner has inspired both poet and musician. None of your clanging and jangling for English people, but the orderliness of changering which in some small way reflects the orderliness of God's creation.

Such orderliness in ringing is not created without much thought and the practice of the necessary skills. Many in our Association know how true this is. I believe, with them, that for the proper development of change ringing, more time should be spent outside the tower thinking about it than is given to actual ringing in the tower.

It will not do, as I once heard a ringer say, "to have a bash." The beauty of any creative art, including ringing, does not come in this way. The development of skill in ringing comes only with living with it and dreaming about it. The good ringer knows that without me telling him. It is my hope that more will learn the truth of this.

So my message to you is simple, but I say it with all seriousness. Let there be more thinking and there will be better ringing.

RINGING CREDITS IN HERTS

MR. G. W. CRITCHLEY in his presidential address to the Herts County Association concluded that on balance during the year the Association had realised a "credit" as regards ringing, if not financially. The peal secretary's report elaborates these credits. Peals totalled 133—an increase of 30 over 1963 and more than double the 1962 total. Out of 526 resident ringing members and 27 probationary members, 14 "first peelers" is not a high proportion. Four members, however, conducted their first peal and there were 31 conductors.

This is an Association that does not allow handbell ringing to lapse. There were 48 peals "in hand" and these included "even bell" methods up to Plain Bob Maximus. The latter peal was the first rung "in hand" for the Association and was Mr. Walter Ayre's 450th peal as conductor. Mr. Gerald Penny was the leading peal ringer for the Association with 53 and also the leading conductor (31).

Financially, the year was not so good with an excess of expenditure over income of £35. The Association, however, is not in a pauper condition as investments total £265 and cash in hand or at the bank £75 8s. 8d. To run the Association cost £200 last year. So, apart from income, reserves give more than a two-year cover. From the next financial year, annual subscriptions are to be 5s. with 2s. 6d. for those under 16 years of age. At the present time a peal booking fee of 6d. a ringer taking part is imposed, and this produced £19 19s. Mr. Woolley wanted this abolished and the subscription raised to 7s. 6d. This would add probably £100 to the income, while peal ringers who rang more than eight peals would be "sitting pretty." The Association would not wear this one, and we are not surprised.

One item from the committee's report had escaped the vigilant eyes of "The Ringing World" representatives—and Herts have a very good bunch!!! It is the theft of the bells from the tower at Layston ("Dove" gives five with a tenor of 10 cwt.). The report emphasises that vigilance is necessary where there are bells which are neither rung regularly nor adequately protected.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS

The third session of the 25th Council (68th annual meeting) will be held in the Town Hall, Northampton, on Whitsun Tuesday, June 8th, 1965, at 10 o'clock.

Will members please sign the Roll and be in their seats by 9.45 a.m.

E. A. BARNETT,

26. Iron Mill Lane, Hon. Secretary.
Crayford, Kent.

SEVEN PEALS IN ONE DAY

SEVEN peals were rung at the Loughborough Bell Foundry Campanile on Easter Monday. This was the first occasion that seven peals have been rung in one day by the same band, the previous record standing at five. The original plan for these attempts was to ring eight peals, but the number was reduced to seven in order to avoid complaints from people living close to the foundry. This meant that a 5.30 a.m. start would be sufficiently early, instead of 3 a.m.

The band met at the Kings Head Hotel between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m. on Easter Sunday and everybody managed to get to bed before 11 p.m. We were awakened at 4.45 a.m. and had tea in bed before riding down the road for a quick peal of Bristol before breakfast! Actually at 2 hours 18 minutes this was the slowest peal of the day. We returned to the Kings Head for breakfast and found that the hour allowed was not a minute too long; we all had good appetites!

At 9 a.m. we were back at the foundry for a peal of London, which set the pace for the day. With all the band being used to the bells, we found that fast ringing kept everybody on their toes, both with respect to method ringing and striking. The band changed round immediately after completing the peal of London, and we started for Superlative, which gave no trouble. On completing this peal we had a walk into Loughborough for a "pie and a pint," as all the cafes were closed.

The first 5,088 of the day came in the form of George Baker's peal of Rutland. We were now only one peal short of the existing record of five peals, which has been rung twice before, incidentally. The "equalising" peal came in the form of Lincolnshire, before we retired for some food.

The local fish and chip shop had now opened, and this was the obvious source for our meal, and also the opportunity for a sit down. Yorkshire provided the music for the sixth peal and proved to be the quickest peal of the day. We had now established a new record and nobody really felt like ringing the final peal, which was Cambridge. However, the peal was duly rung in 2 hours and 18 minutes, the same time as the peal of Bristol, which started the day.

CUMBERLAND & NORTH WEST-MORLAND ASSOCIATION

OVER 40 ringers were present at the annual meeting of the Cumberland and North Westmorland Association at Penrith on Easter Monday, when membership was reported to be at the highest level for some time. The service was conducted by Canon R. B. Bradford, and the lesson read by Mr. R. W. B. Wetenhall (Cockermouth).

The president, Canon W. R. M. Chaplin, presided and a membership of 115 (89 adults and 26 juniors) was reported. There were 23 new members, and Irton and Penrith were added to the tower list.

It was decided to increase the annual subscription from 2s. 6d. to 5s. to create a larger balance and enable the Association to give more financial support to any tower needing help with repairs.

Elections: President, Canon W. R. M. Chaplin; secretary, Mr. J. W. Brownrigg (Keswick); treasurer, Mr. G. Tembey (Egremont); auditor, Mr. C. Heelis (Appleby); ringing secretary, Mr. S. Richardson (Whitehaven); Central Council representative, Mr. G. McKay (St. Bees); Branch secretaries, Mr. C. Forsyth (Carlisle) Eastern, and Miss D. Gibson (Arlecdon) Western; Branch Masters, Mr. J. W. Brownrigg (Eastern) and Mr. L. Boumphey (Workington) (Western). Miss J. Gowing (Keswick) and Mr. G. Nelson (Penrith) were appointed to fill vacancies on the committee.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION

THE 72nd annual general meeting was held in Cardiff on Easter Monday, attended by about 90 members and visitors. The bells of Rumney, Whitchurch, Llandaff Cathedral and St. John's, Cardiff, were available before the service in St. John's Church, conducted by Canon Thomas, assisted by the Rev. R. C. Lucas, a ringing member who was ordained during the war. Tea had been arranged in the rather cramped space of St. James' Guildhall by Mrs. Pryor and her band of helpers.

At the meeting members stood in silence to the memory of John Davies (Cardiff), Percy Stafford (Caerleon) and George Monk (St. Mellons), who had passed on.

The reports of the hon. secretary and hon. treasurer had already been circulated to each member and adopted. Due to the unavoidable absence of the treasurer, the Rev. I. J. Richards, his report was submitted by the secretary.

Mr. David J. Llewellyn, of Porthkerry, was elected Master and installed in his office by the retiring Master, Mr. J. James. The secretary, treasurer and auditors were re-elected. It was decided to use a shortened Form of Evensong at future Association meetings instead of the Association's Form of Service.

A motion from the Association's Management Committee that Messrs. F. Hannington and A. J. Pitman be made vice-presidents of the Association in recognition of their work and the credit they have brought on the Association, and that all members who have been in continuous membership for 50 years should be appointed honorary life members of the Association without payment of further subscriptions was carried unanimously.

A CENTENARY

Mr. L. Bainham, of Newport, drew attention to the fact that December 5th, 1965, was the centenary of the birth of J. W. Jones, secretary of the Association for 46 years, and a very generous offer was made by Mr. Don Clarke to make a bookcase to house J. W. Jones' collection of books and "Ringing Worlds." The meeting accepted this offer and decided to have "The Ringing Worlds" bound as a memorial to this stalwart of the Association. It was decided to hold the next meeting on Easter Monday, 1966, at St. Woolos' Cathedral, Newport.

The secretary invited the members to submit ideas for the design of a new badge.

The meeting accorded a very sincere vote of thanks to Mr. Trevor M. Roderick for his work in connection with the restoration of the memorial tablet in Llandaff Cathedral.

Dr. T. P. Edwards mentioned that Mr. J. Lovett, of Pentre, was celebrating his 43rd wedding anniversary on that day and the secretary was instructed to convey the good wishes of the meeting to Mr. and Mrs. Lovett. Joe Lovett was a member of the old band at Pentre who taught themselves to ring and became the first tower in Wales to ring Surprise methods.

Despite the amount of business carried out the meeting was completed in some 37 minutes under the very able chairmanship of Canon Thomas. At the conclusion of the meeting votes of thanks were accorded to Canon Thomas and all who had assisted in ensuring the success of the meeting.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD

Two new members — Miss S. Russell and Mr. N. George (both of Titchfield) — were elected at the quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth District held at Alverstoke on April 24th. The Rev. C. Target conducted the service, Mr. W. Cope directed the ringing, and a fine tea was provided.

Next quarterly meeting, Shedfield, July 17th, a week earlier. Next practice meeting, Havant, May 29th.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S LIVELY A.G.M.

Debates Over Finance Motions

THE choice of Hatfield as the venue for the annual general meeting of the Hertford County Association on April 24th proved very satisfactory, it being the first time in the history of the Association that an annual meeting had been held there. A number of towers were open for ringing during the day to cater for the large number of members and visitors attending. During the service in Hatfield Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. J. A. Preston, three leads of Kent Treble Bob Royal were rung on handbells by Kathleen Baldwin 1-2, Julia Fellows 3-4, Christopher Woolley 5-6, Walter Ayre 7-8 and Roger Baldwin 9-10. The lesson was read by the senior Past President, Mr. Walter Ayre, and a collection for the St. Albans District Bell Fund realised £8.

After an excellent tea, provided by the local ringers in the Countess Ann Primary School, the President, Mr. G. William Critchley, opened the meeting by welcoming the large company of over 160; particularly the visitors, many of whom were regular attenders at the Association's annual meeting. Mr. Critchley briefly reviewed the activities of the six Districts and concluded that on balance during the year the Association had realised a "credit" as regards ringing, if not financially. The long list of nine resolutions were all connected with the financial aspects of the Association and promised a long and lively discussion. Mr. Critchley praised the St. Albans District, who were hosts at this meeting, for leading the way in the Association's activities, particularly with the innovation of social functions which helped to foster a closer fellowship amongst ringers both within and between the respective Districts. Much of the credit for their success was due to the efforts of Mrs. Coburn who had recently had to relinquish her post as District secretary. The president concluded by urging all members to support their District Officers who worked harder than most members realised to further the interests of ringing in their respective areas.

Apologies for absence were received from Mrs. C. A. Agg, Messrs. G. W. Debenham, H. S. Bonnett, C. E. Evans and C. A. S. Harwood. The President also announced that a greetings telegram had been sent to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Southam, who were married that morning in Hastings. The meeting stood in silence to the memory of the following members who had passed away during the year: Rev. J. E. Preece (Associate), Dr. F. S. Poole (Abbots Langley) and Messrs. L. Fidler (Hitchin), J. E. Rootes (Bushey), J. Banfield (Apsley), J. Cole (Northchurch) and C. F. Sayer (St. Peter's, St. Albans). Mr. C. W. Woolley paid a short tribute to the late Mr. Rootes.

DEFICIT OF £35

The meeting quickly disposed of the formal business of accepting the minutes and reports of the various officers. Only the Treasurer was called to account for the relatively large deficit of £35 in the year's balance sheet. The following new members were elected: Ringing members—Marjorie Carpenter and Mary Taylor (Bushey), D. C. Green and Miss S. P. Tibbetts (North Mymms); Non-Resident Life Members—A. M. Mann, M. J. Uphill, A. R. Patterson, R. A. Ward, D. Bennett, R. Piron and Mrs. C. Harris.

Mr. Critchley then invested his successor, Mr. Brian M. Barker (Kings Langley) with the presidential badge of office, and the meeting heartily applauded a vote of thanks to Mr. Critchley for his efforts during his year of office. All the officers, with the exception of the Treasurer, were re-elected. Mr. Slade, who did not seek re-election, was thanked for his work as Treasurer and Mr. H. Collings was elected to take over his duties.

Members then turned with eager anticipation to the various resolutions, the first of which sought to limit the cost of the annual report by restricting peal reports to single line entries. This was justified on the basis of publication in "The Ringing World" and a complete record in the Association's peal book. Speakers against the resolution felt that it would lower the standard of the report for the sake of a lower subscription. The motion was lost.

Mr. Woolley, in proposing the second resolution, advocated a fully economic subscription of the order of 7s. 6d. and the abolition of the peal booking fee. The latter he regarded as a tax on peal ringers, citing the increase in non-association peals as an indication of the reaction against such levies. After considerable discussion the motion was lost.

The next resolution, again proposed by Mr. Woolley, sought to establish a new central bell fund from which really substantial grants for bell restoration could be made. Mr. Woolley pointed out that the average donation of £10 to a restoration fund represented 5d. per head of membership. He thought that an income of 10s. 0d. per member would enable grants of £200 to be made which would provide a significant incentive for restoration work to be initiated. The President pointed out that this was a departure in principle from the conception of a voluntary bell fund. The motion was lost.

THE SUBSCRIPTION

For the third time in recent years the meeting was asked to raise the annual subscription to 5s. 0d. and, since the proposal had been discussed in detail at district meetings, it was quickly put to the vote and carried.

Considerable discussion on the subject of the financial resources of younger members and old-age pensioners led to the acceptance of a subscription of 2s. 6d. per annum for members under 16 years of age. The non-resident life membership subscription was raised to 7s. 6d., an increase in proportion with the ringing member's subscription. Finally two attempts to increase the peal booking fee were resisted so that Mr. Woolley's "tax" on peal ringers remains at 6d. per member taking part in peals. All the increases will take effect in the next financial year.

The customary votes of thanks to all who had co-operated in the excellent arrangements concluded an exciting and controversial meeting. As it was too late for further ringing, members dispersed to continue the debates in other surroundings. On reflection the standard of debate, the number of young members taking an active part in the proceedings and the sense of determination and purpose promise well for the future of this Association.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND WEST NOTTS ASSOCIATION

IN spite of the cold and windy weather, with showers of snow, the annual meeting was held on Easter Monday at Ashover, Derbyshire. Ringing commenced shortly after 3 p.m. and continued until 4.30 p.m. when a service, including several ringers' hymns, was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. P. G. Norman, who in his address welcomed the ringers and spoke of their service to the Church.

Cups of tea were provided in the Church Hall followed by the business meeting with the President (Mr. Bryn Richards) in the chair. As a token of respect a silent tribute was observed for an old member, Mr. Percy Weston, of Denby, who died last August, aged 77.

The balance sheet was formally approved and the following officers elected: President, Mr. Bryn Richards; Secretary, Mr. T. H. Radford; Treasurer, Mr. R. Mason; Joint Ringing Masters, Messrs. C. Bleby and A. Harrison; Auditors, Miss T. Staples and Mr. S. E. Denby; Executive Committee, Messrs. F. Adcock, W. Riley and W. Swain. An old stalwart of the Association, Mr. J. W. Price, was elected a life member. Seven new members were elected.

The jubilee shield, which is awarded annually for progress in change ringing and attendance for Sunday service ringing, was presented by the President to Mr. A. Harrison, captain of the winning tower, Kirkby-in-Ashfield.

Mr. F. Adcock in thanking the Rector mentioned the really enjoyable way in which the service was conducted.

Afterwards ringing continued until 8.30 p.m. Methods rung included Plain Bob, Little Bob, Kent and Double Norwich, Grandsire and Stedman Triples.

Next meeting, Blackwell, May 15th.

FORMER TOWER CAPTAIN MARRIED

On Easter Tuesday Mr. David Pearson, the former tower captain of Huntington, was married to Miss Ann Macphail in his home church. David has been a ringer and chorister at the church for some 13 years and latterly he has been crucifer.

The last three years have seen a dramatic revival in the fortunes of ringing at Huntington. Ringing was intermittent for many years up to 1962, when the bells were declared unsafe. It was a year before they were restored and during this time David played a major part in training a young Huntington band at Stockton-on-the-Forest and Esrick to ring on the restored bells.

The hallowing of the bells on October 5th, 1963, was an important occasion for the Huntington ringers and under David's captaincy there has been a steady improvement in the standard of ringing, culminating in the first peal by the local band for the Patronal Festival on November 1st, 1964.

Huntington has provided several new members to strengthen the York Minster Society, and David was a member of the band which rang the first peal on the present York Minster bells last year.

The local band rang a quarter peal of 1,320 All Saints' Doubles before the service, the ringers being: Andrew N. Pearce 1, Jennifer Pearce 2, Susan E. Thompson 3, Christopher J. Groome 4, A. Colin Banton (conductor) 5. A number of friends from the Minster rang the bells after the service.

David and Ann are going to live at Haxby—about three miles from Huntington. We wish them much happiness in the future and we hope that they will maintain their long association with Huntington Church.

ALL LADIES' FIRST PEAL OF MAJOR

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Denis Carlisle's inquiry about ladies who took part in the first peal of Major ever to be rung by an all-ladies' band (Handsworth, Sheffield, January 7th, 1928), I believe all those who took part, except Mrs. Foulk, are still alive. The conductor of the peal, Miss Mollie Davenport, who was married to the late Rev. E. S. Powell, still renders valuable service to the Exercise in the distribution of that excellent publication "The Ringer's Handbook."

On February 11th, 1950, I had the pleasure of ringing in a "Married Couples" peal (Kent Treble Bob Major) at Handsworth with Mrs. Ryder and Mrs. L. Hayward (née Noel Cawthorne), both of whom rang in the first ladies' peal of Major.

Another "All Ladies' Peal" of Bob Major was rung at Handsworth on May 4th, 1957, by an entirely different band. This peal was conducted by Miss Elizabeth Bate (Handsworth) and Miss Elizabeth Wardill (Rotherham) rang the tenor.—Yours sincerely,

NORMAN CHADDOCK.

WANTS CHURCHILL SPECIAL EDITION

Dear Sir,—May I make a suggestion that, in view of the amazing response by the bell-ringers of this country to Sir Winston's death, a special copy of "The Ringing World" be issued for a suitable price containing a list of peals and quarter peals that were rung in memoriam.

In addition to a picture on the front page, relevant articles published at the time of his death, such details of the honouring of his 90th birthday, and earlier articles referring to him might be included.

Lady Churchill could be presented with a specially bound copy of this publication by a member of the Central Council. In this way we could show her and remind ourselves how much we, as ringers, and members of the Free World owe to the "Grand Old Man."—Yours faithfully, COLIN H. COOK.

Merstham.

Note.—The Editorial Committee would want a philanthropist to finance it.—Ed.

DOUBLES METHODS

Dear Sir,—On referring recently to the mine of information published in "The Ringing World" during the summer of 1964, under the title of "A collection of Doubles Methods," by Messrs. G. K. Dodd and R. H. Jones, I wonder if this is available as yet as a separate publication, even if only in duplicated form?

There is a point which somewhat mystifies me however: on p. 514 of the July 31, 1964 issue, special attention is drawn to the effect that Kennington (Plain Bob using Reverse Canterbury bobs) and Southrepps (Reverse Canterbury using Plain Bob bobs) cannot be rung with the tenor as observation bell, but we are then asked to note well that Folke and Cadbury respectively are the result of doing just that.

If the tenor is used as observation, say in Kennington, obviously you have to start in the middle of the bob (i.e., a Reverse Canterbury start) before proceeding to ring Plain Bob again at the first plain lead, but this amounts to nothing more or less than ringing "Kennington" under the same conditions as with 2nd, 3rd or 4th observation.

Why should another name be necessary? Is it a question of traditional usage going back into Doubles history, or is it someone's device for augmenting the number of different things alleged to have been rung in a peal? I have been in several peals where Kennington and Southrepps were rung with tenor observation as above but we have never claimed to have rung Folke or Cadbury, and I think it would have been rather pretentious to have made such a claim. Can anyone offer any elucidation upon this point?—Yours faithfully,

DEREK P. JONES.

Burton-on-Trent.

AN APPROPRIATE OCCASION

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Robin H. Rogers' letter on page 276 as to a peal being rung in honour of Wales winning the triple crown in Rugby football.

Does Mr. Rogers realise that Wales winning the triple crown was a national honour to every Welshman, and that over 55,000 people were at the game, which was afterwards televised all over the country to over ten million people. It was the first time Wales had won the triple crown since 1953, and all Cardiff and Wales went gay that night, and I therefore think it is quite in order to ring a peal for the occasion.

As to Mr. Rogers' remarks that we are supposed to have believed that the peal was arranged for the occasion, I can assure him, even though I wasn't a member of the band, that the peal was arranged after Wales had won their first two matches.—Yours sincerely,

RAYMOND J. HOSKING.

Neath, Glam.

RINGING ON HOLY SATURDAY

Dear Sir,—The Rev. A. S. Roberts is, of course, correct when he says that liturgically, Holy Saturday services are of a mixed character, but I would suggest that when his Kalender sanctions the use of bells on that day, the reference is to the canonical ringing of a bell or bells to call the faithful to worship, an entirely different matter to the ringing of peals or the holding of meetings; I would also deprecate his corollary that the amount of work in which incumbents and parishioners are engaged at this time is sufficient reason to discourage such activities, rather is it a matter of principle on the proper observance of Holy Week.

It will I think be found that throughout Western Christendom church bells are silent from Palm Sunday to Easter Day (apart possibly from a service bell) and certainly they are not rung, either in the continental manner or as we do in this country, on Good Friday and Easter Even.

The majority of affiliated Associations accept this but each year there are exceptions. I have discussed the question with scores of incumbents and I have yet to find one who was not appalled at the idea of entering into the convivialities of a monthly or quarterly ringing practice on the day following Good Friday.

Perhaps it is a matter upon which the Central Council might give a recommendation, or even a directive.—Yours faithfully,

EDWARD G. CAPLE.

Clevedon, Som.

OXFORD T.B. MINOR

Dear Sir,—In reply to one or two of the points raised by A. J. Salisbury in his letter in the issue of August 23rd:

(i) Touches may be "spliced" together by putting one in the middle of another—this has to be done with care, so a 1,260 could be made up from 720 plus 540.

(iii) In reply to (a) and (c) I think the best thing is for Mr. Salisbury to get busy with pencil and paper and find out for himself—by which means he will learn far more than by just being told.

(iv) While on the subject of Minor, I should like to take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Chant for his excellent index of Minor methods, much of which is published for the first time.

"BREATHES THERE A MAN WITH SOUL SO DEAD...?"

Dear Sir,—Only a dead-souled Englishman could doubt the sincerity of the Bridgend band who celebrated the Welsh XV victory at Cardiff with a peal.

To a Welshman, his religion, his sport and his art are inseparable and the boundaries between them as indefinable as fresh air. He will sing hymns at a match and use parables from the game to preach a sermon in chapel next day. In scoring a try he uses God's gifts, and in ringing his bells he praises God for those gifts.

The game is over and we've won, boys. Thank God we didn't lose at home; a whole nation would be mourning. We've won, and I'm crying for joy, so let's celebrate, boys—let's ring a peal.

ERNEST MORRIS MEMORIAL WINDOW

Dear Sir,—The dedication of the "Ernest Morris Memorial Window" has been fixed for Saturday, May 22nd, at 3 o'clock.

The service will be conducted by the Vicar, Canon E. N. Ducker, and the dedication by Canon F. Pratt, a former curate of St. Margaret's and an old friend of Ernest's.

We hope that there will be a good gathering of ringers, who will be welcome to join in the open ringing after the service.

Whilst writing, may I acknowledge with grateful thanks the following contributions received since my last letter: G. S. Morris £2 2s., J. Fenton £5, Mr. and Mrs. N. Chaddock £1 1s., T. R. Flint 7s.—Yours sincerely,

GORDON A. OLLIFFE.

MURSTON BELLS HUNG DEAD

Dear Sir,—With reference to the note in "Belfry Gossip" concerning the new "ring" of five bells at Murston, near Sittingbourne, Kent, I regret to say that the bells are hung dead for electric chiming only. The bell chamber of the low tower of the church still contains the original single bell, the five being hung above the roof of the tower, presumably in the open, although I have not been able to inspect them. I understand that attempts were made locally to persuade the authorities to have the bells hung for ringing, but obviously without success.—Yours sincerely, Gillingham, Kent. PETER N. BOND.

OBITUARY

MR. E. C. THRALE

Mr. Edward Charles Thrale, of Newark, died on April 9th, aged 83. A good all-round sportsman, Ted, as he was affectionately known, will nevertheless be remembered chiefly for his long service at Newark Church.

Ted was a man of great personal charm with an unrivalled knowledge of Newark. By trade a stonemason, he left behind him as evidence of his skill substantial restoration work in the Parish Church and a wealth of exquisite lettering. He had a creative talent and could carve a figurehead or gargoyle as occasion arose. In the Great War he served in the infantry.

He learned to ring at Newark in 1896 and was Master of the band at the Parish Church from 1909 to 1949. From then, until increasing infirmity prevented him climbing the formidable staircase, he was a frequent attendant.

He did all things well and insisted upon good striking and regular attendance. The ringer who neglected his primary duty as a service ringer had short shrift from him. He gave of his best and expected others to do the same. Although an expert conductor of Stedman and Grandsire and a fluent ringer of all the usual standard methods, he rang only one peal, his chief interest being in maintaining a good and regular standard of ringing at the Parish Church. He was a member of the Cumberlands.

On the evening of his funeral a well-struck quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung half-muffled at the Parish Church in tribute.

HERBERT LANGDON

A Memory

Dear Sir,—Your moving tribute to the late Herbert Langdon, in particular the imposing list of past leaders of his day, which included Harry Barton, brings back to mind the time when Herbert visited this island with Alexander Young, Challis Winney and George Fardon, which led to the restoration of William Rayner's tomb in Arretton churchyard.

In speaking of Harry Barton, Herbert said to me: "Harry Barton made me call my first bob at St. John's, Waterloo Road," which bears out the great liking each had for the other.—Yours, etc., W. UPTON.

The passing of my old friend, Bert, at the age of 84, is a true and personal regret to me, for I first met him in Waterloo Road in December, 1900. During the next three years it was a pleasure to meet him for peals, quarter peals, service ringing and even call changes at various London towers. He lived at Camberwell with his mother and he was a safe ringer and conductor with good striking the highest aim. My last peal with Bert was 48 years ago at Mr. Cockerill's residence and the band was: C. F. Winney 1-2, W. T. Cockerill 3-4, W. Shepherd 5-6, Bert Langdon 7-8, J. N. Oxborrow 9-10; umpire Edwin Horrex. Bert would not conduct and Mr. Winney declined, so I was voted the guest conductor. Truly Bert was an outstanding personality and a true gentleman.

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

TWO MARPLE RINGERS MARRIED

In bright sunshine, the doors of All Saints', Marple, being open during the service giving a glorious view of the Cheshire Plain, Miss Pamela C. Baker, of Failsforth, and Mr. Alan McFall, of Marple, were married on Saturday, April 3rd. A peal attempt earlier in the day came to an abrupt end after 1½ hours. In the ringing for the service the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Derek Yates, joined for a short time before taking their places in church.

The bride wore a full-length gown of white satin trimmed with pearls, with a pill box headdress also similarly trimmed. She was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. Jordan. The bridesmaids, the Misses Ann and Gail McFall (nieces of the bridegroom), wore full-length turquoise-blue dresses of fine wool, with lace collars matching their lace bonnets.

The reception was held at the Glendale Restaurant, Marple. The happy couple were given a rousing send-off and were accompanied for a time on the first half of their journey to Stratton, near Bude, where they spent their honeymoon.

Until their house in Marple is completed they will be residing in Failsforth. The rearranged peal (Superlative) was successfully rung on the following Wednesday at St. Peter's, Ashton-under-Lyne. R. B. S.

DEDICATION

SCOLE, NORFOLK

In January, 1963, Schole Church, Norfolk, was destroyed by fire. The remaining bell was sent to a foundry to be tuned as part of a new ring. The five new bells and the original one were dedicated by the Bishop of Thetford, the Rt. Rev. Eric Cordingley, on April 6th, which was seven months after he had re-consecrated the church.

Several members of the Norwich Diocesan Association were present including Mr. F. N. Golden, president, Mr. H. W. Barrett, general secretary, and Mr. Charles Goodman, the ringing master. Members of the Suffolk Association also attended.

Six members of the South Norfolk District, led by Mr. Harry Fuller, of Thetford (the ringing master) who rang the treble, rang in the opening touch. The others were: R. Churchill 2, A. C. Harrison 3, C. Catchpole 4, W. Barrett 5 and F. C. Phillippo (district secretary) 6.

The Bishop told the large congregation that he was there to complete the job he started in September last year. He also spoke of the skill required in bell ringing and hoped that many young people would come forward to learn the art.

Scole needs ringers. Mr. H. A. J. Mowle has been elected ringing master and practices are held on Wednesday evenings.

DEREHAM DISTRICT IN BEDFORDSHIRE

A party of 40 people participated in the Dereham and District outing into Bedfordshire on Easter Monday and, despite the blizzard en route, enjoyed themselves.

Burwell (a light eight) was the first stop and the pattern adopted by Mr. George Adams, the Ringing Master, throughout the day was introduced. This consisted of rounds at each tower for beginners to start with and a course of Surprise to finish, whilst methods in between included Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Plain and Little Spliced and Kent Treble Bob. Before luncheon at Bedford there was ringing at Biggleswade and in the afternoon at Bromham and Turvey.

We returned to Bedford for tea and then visited St. Peter-de-Merton, where the light trebles caused some difficulty. We were all a little dubious about our capabilities on the ten bells at Mildenhall, Suffolk, but these easy-going bells produced some of the best ringing of the day. A touch of Stedman Caters, three leads of Kent and a touch of Plain and Little Bob Spliced were struck very well and we finished with a half-course of Yorkshire on the back eight. As a consolation to the Doubles ringers we called at the Five Bells at Brandon to quench our thirst before finally setting off for home. Our congratulations to Mr. Kevin Hohl on his efficient organisation.

MR. ALBERT PLOWMAN

The Peterborough Diocesan Guild has lost an old member by the death on April 22nd of Mr. Albert Plowman, of Wellingborough. Aged 78, he had been in poor health for 12 months.

A regular churchgoer, his last service ringing was on February 28th. He attended most of the Wellingborough Branch meetings, being on the Guild Central Committee from 1934 to 1950, and the Guild annual general meetings until prevented by illness. He was most happy when calling a touch of Stedman Triples, his favourite method. The funeral service was on April 26th. A. B.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Kent County Association's annual report contains 43 compositions rung during 1964.

The composition on page 263 has an incorrect title. It should read 5,088 Sedgley Surprise Major. Our regrets.

We learn that Mr. Derek Astridge is leaving Derby shortly to undergo a course at Leeds University. He will be away about a year.

Needing new muffles, two Burbage, Derbyshire, ringers organised at their respective homes a coffee evening and whist/beetle drive.

Mr. W. Clamp has been appointed captain at St. Mary's, Melton Mowbray. For his and Mr. O. Homewood's benefit a quarter was arranged at Kirby Bellars on April 22nd.

There was a good introduction to Grandsire Caters at Leighton Buzzard on April 21st. Mr. Alfred E. Rushton, who conducted, had five "firsts" of Grandsire Caters in the band.

The memorial peal to Frank C. W. Knight at Petham, Kent, was rung open at his request and had a first pealer in the band, which it what he would have appreciated.

The band who rang the peal at Chepstow would like to record the peal as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. Lovett, of Pentre Rhondda. Mr. Lovett is a former Master of the Association, and the peal was rung on the occasion of their 43rd wedding anniversary.

The band who rang a handbell peal on Mr. Edwin Barnett's 80th birthday, which occurred on the Wednesday in Holy Week, are grateful to Peter Beresford for coming at a moment's notice because of Mrs. Olive Barnett's temporary indisposition. He said afterwards that it was 16 years since he had taken part in a handbell peal of Plain Bob on the trebles.

TOWER SPLIT BY LIGHTNING

St. Paul's Church, Irton, South Cumberland, was struck by lightning on Easter Sunday afternoon and the tower was split in two. Mr. John Walker, of Kirkland, and his two sons, who had sheltered in the church porch, had a miraculous escape from being hit by large pieces of falling masonry. Sizable pieces of stonework were found as far away as 50 yards from the church.

Irton has eight bells with a tenor of 16 cwt., and has one of the strongest ringing bands in the Cumberland and North Westmorland Association, having 12 members. While the tower is insured, repairs will be very costly and it is possible that the bells will be out of order for 18 months.

A TEST for A "TESTER"

During the peal of Lincolnshire at Erith on April 23rd, a mouse came down the rope of the third, hit the ringer, Olive Tester, on the forearm, scuttled across the floor and up another rope to disappear again. The band felt that Olive was to be congratulated on avoiding giving rise to one of newspapers' favourite clichés, "women screamed."

RINGING COURSES

We learn of two successful Easter holiday ringing courses at Buxton Manor, Cheshire, attended by Mr. Norman Chaddock, and at Hereford Training College, with Messrs. Wilfrid Moreton, Wilfrid Wilson and Michael Hatchett.

The Grantley Hall course has been fixed for July 23rd-25th. Mr. Chaddock informs us that he will "tailor" the course to suit the needs of students with choice of elementary or more advanced lectures or individual or small group tuition.

CUMBERLAND SECRETARY'S HEIR

Members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths have been congratulating their secretary and Mrs. Sibson on the birth of an heir. Andrew was born on the birthday of the late Henry Johnson (March 26th), and to have the same natal day as one who was honoured by the ringers not only of Birmingham but the whole country is indeed a distinction to the youngest of the Cumberlands. The complimentary peal was rung by the Society at St. Anne's, Highgate, on April 10th and was Bristol Surprise Major.

LINCOLNSHIRE BELL IN WEST INDIES

A bell, formerly belonging to St. Andrew's Church, Woodhall Spa, Lincs, has been given to the new Church of Christ the King in the Bahamas, West Indies. The suggestion for the gift was made by the Rev. William Bishop, headmaster of St. John's Church College, Nassau, when he was staying in Woodhall Spa in the summer of 1963.

A SILENT EASTER

There were no Easter bells at Great Hallingbury, Essex, reports "The East Anglian Daily Times." Although £700 has been spent on maintenance of the bells in the last two years, the Rector is without a band of ringers.

HAD AN AFRICAN TOUR

Just over two years ago Mr. J. Couzens, of Saffron Walden, was fortunate enough to be sent to South Africa on business. During the few months he was there he rang several times at St. Mary's, Woodstock, where he was most cordially received. The bells, which "go" reasonably well, are kept ringing by a faithful few, while some boys are (or were at the time) also being taught. It was planned to teach a band here for the new ring to be installed at Cape Town Cathedral.

On his way home he called at Salisbury Cathedral where he was again warmly welcomed by an enthusiastic company. "Ringers in this country," Mr. Couzens adds, "can scarcely appreciate how hard it must be to keep a band going where rings of bells are hundreds of miles apart and visits to other towers almost impossible. Ringing visitors are few and far between. I strongly recommend anyone who has the chance to call upon fellow ringers abroad whenever the opportunity offers."

ASTON'S VICAR AN ARCHDEACON

Many friends will join us in sending congratulations to Canon F. F. G. Warman on his installation as Archdeacon of Aston and Canon Residentiary of Birmingham Cathedral. A warm friend of ringers, the Archdeacon has presided at the Henry Johnson commemorative dinner. His vicarage, when Vicar of Aston, adjoins the Villa football ground. The controversy over the peal to commemorate the success of Wales in Rugby football reminds us that Canon Warman sanctioned a quarter on Aston bells in honour of Aston Villa's Cup victory a few years back.

TELEVISED

Ringers of the quarter peal at New Romney on April 21st appeared on Southern Television the following day. Some excellent shots were shown of the tower, the bells and the ringers, who included 84-year-old Mr. H. S. Humphery, captain of New Romney, and recipient of the Queen's Maundy Money the previous Thursday. The quarter was for his 84th birthday, and to celebrate 70 years of ringing.

CORRECTIONS

Peal Stedman Cinques, Kingston-upon-Hull (page 266) was Geoffrey Paul's first of Stedman Cinques as conductor; John Hobson's first of Stedman Cinques; John R. Pratchett's first of Stedman Cinques "inside"; Peter A. Sharp's 200th peal and not as published.

Peal Kirkby Lonsdale (page 266). Kent Treble Bob Minor should read First of Minor in the method by all the band and on the bells. The date should be March 27th and not the 13th.

Peal Melling (page 218), First on the bells for 33 years.

A FIRST FOR ALL THE BAND

A creditable performance took place at St. Nicholas' Church, Sturry, Kent, where the Easter ringing was the first peal (Plain Bob Minor) by all the band. Conducting was shared by Martin E. Harrison and Roger Bulton.

A WASHINGTON QUARTER

The visitors to Washington last June will note with pleasure the quarter peal of Grand-sire Doubles which was rung on the back eight. There were three visitors participating—Miss Jennifer Murphy, an Australian girl from St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, who is working in Washington; Mr. R. McClenahan, who was associated with Mr. Andrew Hudson in the publication of "Right Place Surprise Methods"; and Mr. John Owen from South Wales. Messrs. McClenahan and Owen were in Washington for the day and they rang covering bells. Despite the fact that it was Easter Day, 15 telephone complaints were received! The striking was fairly good.

Mr. Rick Dirksen, whose son Richard S. conducted, has been teaching the girls of the Whitechapel Guild since Mr. Fred Price left in February, and he reports that five of them have been working closely with himself for a quarter peal of Doubles (Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob) to be rung on the school's commencement day in June.

CAPTAIN FOR 34 YEARS

A very familiar figure, burly and jovial, is missed at St. Peter's. George John Appleton, the village blacksmith who had been captain of the tower at the Church of St. Peter-in-Thanel for 34 years, has retired. He was a loyal churchman and a keen ringer. Although he was one of those who felt he could never master change-ringing, the bells and the belfry were part of his life.

BRAILLE WATCH TO RETIRING CAPTAIN

Appreciation of more than 50 years as a bellringer was marked at Spalding Parish Church on Easter Sunday, by a presentation to Mr. Jack Ames, who recently resigned his position as captain of the tower because of failing eyesight.

Before Evensong, the Vicar, the Rev. D. G. Jakeman, on behalf of the ringers, presented him with a Braille pocket watch.

FAMILY RING AT FUNERAL

At the funeral service at Chediston, Suffolk, for Mr. Benjamin Walter Rogers, a well-known breeder of Suffolk punches, relatives rang the six bells of the parish church half-muffled. They were his sons Harold, Frank and Allan, Mrs. Harold Rogers and Christopher and Patricia Rogers.

Afterwards an in memoriam quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung by John Carter 1, Mrs. Harold Rogers 2, Patricia Rogers 3, Terence Page 4, Christopher Rogers 5, Harold Rogers (cond.) 6.

"Belfry News" recently heard of an engaged couple who asked the Vicar of North Wingfield if they could have only four bells rung at their wedding instead of all the eight as that was all they could afford.

The Non-Association peal rung at King's Lynn (page 266) had an incorrect dedication given to the church. This should read "the Church of St. Margaret."

ST. MARY-LE-TOWER, IPSWICH, APPEAL

WITH some temerity I approach the front page of "The Ringing World" with such a mundane topic as an appeal, especially when we are usually regaled with leaders from such distinguished pens as those of E.C.S., R.B.M., W.S., The Professor and others. Added to that, asking for money in any form is not the most pleasant aspect of one's ringing activities. However, the Editor has kindly allowed me to do this, and I trust that readers will not only hear me out but in actual fact not dash to the peal columns quite so quickly! I write of St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, the civic church of the County of Suffolk.

I am a Suffolk man and proud of it, but I have to admit in the face of the Exercise that, delightful though our county is, and thriving its county town, we tend in many respects to be backward and perhaps a little narrow in outlook. This unfortunately is particularly so in the case of Ipswich, its churches and its bells. Let me cite an example. In 1957 a restoration appeal was launched for £25,000 for St. Mary-le-Tower—its fabric, organ, interior decorating, heating and lastly, bells. Ipswich is a wealthy industrial town, and yet, despite efforts by committees and individuals alike, even after seven years the target half-way mark has only just been passed. It is estimated and virtually confirmed that a maximum of £500 per annum (equivalent to 1d. per head per annum) is all that may be expected to be added to the fund. A quick calculation soon shows that at this rate it could be another 20, yes 20, years before the goal is reached.

To those of us interested in the welfare of this particular church this news is nauseating enough, but when one realises that of the projects mentioned the restoration of the bells comes last on the list, then the picture looks very black indeed.

St. Mary-le-Tower as a 12-bell ringing centre needs no introduction. It would be fair to say that up to 1939, outside Birmingham and London which have for 200 years been bastions of 12-bell ringing, especially Cinques, Ipswich was second to none in its penetration and success in the Maximus field. From the earlier peals of Treble Bob and "Norwich Twelve" to the first peal ever of Cambridge S. Maximus in 1908 (in which Bill Pye journeyed down from London to take part), through a whole galaxy of methods, this tower has been a byword in achievement and standard. Hundreds of famous ringers visited us for a peal, often their first, of Stedman Cinques or Cambridge Maximus, and from its band sprang composers and conductors of the highest order.

However, in those days of limited travel and rings of 12, Ipswich bells were considered no doubt quite a good ring. And tragic too, though certainly not uncommon, was the unhappy fact that few beginners were taught there, and if one wasn't able to ring Cinques or Maximus then one wasn't apparently made very welcome. Added to this, despite prolific peal ringing no provision was made to keep the bells up to scratch.

So today, and let us be quite open about the fact, St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich figures amongst the three worst twelves in the country. At least seven of the ring need recasting, the whole ring retuning and rehanging in a new frame. This work must be done, and for Ipswich and Suffolk ringers generally and for the ringing Exercise at large I feel it must be done in the very near future.

Readers will quite justifiably feel that if this is the case then the matter rests squarely at the door of Ipswich people themselves. Unfortunately they are right, but try as they may the Restoration Committee seem unable to step up the annual revenue, and try as I may my efforts to point out the necessity and value of a good ring of bells and the urgent need for their repair have been in vain. Quite recently as a final thrust, but in no way committing the ringing community, I intimated that the Suffolk Guild would endeavour to raise £1,000 as an approximate one-fifth part of the cost of renovating the bells.

My first thought in an endeavour to reach this figure was to circularise all Suffolk Guild members. This has just been done. Next to approach all Associations through the medium of this article. Many of these supported me most generously when I appeared from Melbourne (now the proud possessors of a first-rate 12), but one is rather reluctant to encroach upon Guild funds when so many local rings need attention.

A third thought is this: Many ringers all over England have rung a peal at St. Mary-le-Tower and many would like to ring one when the bells are restored. May I ask these people to subscribe £1 (one pound) or whatever they feel they can best afford? To those individual members of Associations outside Suffolk who would also like to contribute, I can assure them that their donation will be gratefully received and acknowledged personally. May I also give the assurance that any moneys sent will definitely be appropriated to the Bell Fund and that a first-class job will be undertaken.

A small committee within the Suffolk Guild is being formed to organise various fund-raising functions, but at the same time we want to show the church that we are backing their cause as Christians and active church workers.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL DISCOVERIES

Possible reconstruction of method of 10th century bellfounding at Winchester, the trench at XY was approximately 17-ft long. The drawing on the right is a copy of the turret in the Chatsworth Benedictional of St Ethelwold which may show these very bells REFERENCE was made in a recent issue to the interesting discoveries at Winchester Cathedral of a bell foundry site beneath the Cathedral floor. Through the kindness of "The Foundry Trade Journal" we are privileged to publish the above illustration giving a possible reconstruction of the foundry. The burnt debris discovered probably represented a trench-furnace underneath the original bell-mould. This had served to melt out the wax pattern and bake the mould.

The probable method by which this mould was made and cast was recorded in the first half of the 12th century in "De Diversis Artibus" by Theophilus. His description is roughly as follows: First, the founder took a length of squared dry-oak about eight inches longer at each end than the height of the bell, pointed at one end, tapered along its length and circumferentially grooved at the opposite end. The oak shaft was held horizontally by its pointed end being inserted in a hole in a supporting structure, the grooved end resting in a V of an upright which enabled the whole shaft to be rotated by means of a cranked handle attached to the grooved end.

The founder then took wet clay and built up a thin layer around this crude "arbor" and allowed it to dry. He then built up successive layers of clay allowing each layer to dry in turn before applying the next, until he had the shape of the inside of the bell he intended to cast. This clay core was then smoothed to exact shape by rough stone, as it was rotated.

LOST WAX PROCESS

Meanwhile, sheets of wax, the desired thickness of the bell, had been prepared by means of placing wax between two pieces of squared wood lying on a smooth wet surface. The wax was then rolled out by a roller running along the top of the two pieces of wood. The wax sheets were slightly warmed and applied to the outside of the core, building up the pattern of the bell. When the wax pattern was of the correct shape, any inscription necessary was applied to, or incised in the surface of the wax.

Then a layer of levigated clay was applied to the outside of the wax pattern and allowed to dry. Successive layers of clay as before were next applied to the outside of the pattern to form the bell cope. When a predetermined thickness had been achieved, a corset of steel bands was wrapped around the cope to reinforce the assembly, followed by several more layers of clay. The tapered shaft was then withdrawn and part of the clay core scooped out as "lightening" to permit easier contraction of the bell after casting. The hole through the pattern was filled in with wax, in which was embedded the anchoring end of the iron hook on which the bell clapper was later to be suspended. At the same time, wax patterns for the "cannons" (ears on which a bell is hung) were fitted to the top side of the bell, together with patterns in the same material to serve as running systems, etc.

The bell mould at the Winchester site was probably erected mouth downwards over the trench (lined with reused Roman tiles) which has been discovered. A retaining wall was then built around the mould and filled in with rubble and clay. The fire was lighted to melt out the wax and bake the mould and core. It is thought that perhaps the metal-melting furnaces, of which no trace remains, were then erected on banks of earth at a higher level and the molten metal allowed to run down troughs into the bell mould. The resultant casting would then be probably de-cored at the earliest opportunity, because of the rigid construction and consequent danger of cracking. The debris excavated at the site probably chiefly came from the ancient cope and core.

It is known that there were bells at Winchester in the 10th century and an interesting drawing of them is in existence in part of an ancient illuminated manuscript associated with St. Ethelwold of Winchester, who was said to be a bellfounder. This manuscript shows an open campanile in which are suspended four bells, and it would not be too far-fetched to imagine that this site represents the spot where St. Ethelwold cast these very bells.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY

The annual general meeting of the Cambridge University Guild was held on April 28th in Professor Moule's room, Clare College.

The following were elected officers for the year 1965-66: President, William Ridgman (Queens'); treasurer, Brian Threlfall (Trinity); Master, Ken Darvill (St. Cath's); secretary, Charles Hobson (St. John's); librarian, Robin Shipp (Peterhouse); steeplekeeper, Stephen Darvill (Downing); auditor, Dr. C. M. P. Johnson (Selwyn); Central Council representatives, Brian Threlfall and Dr. C. M. P. Johnson.

The president thanked the retiring officers for all they had done during the past year. F. C. H.

ST. MARY-LE-TOWER APPEAL—contd.

Please give me whatever support you can donations payable to St. Mary-le-Tower Bells Fund will be placed in a separate bank account and after consultation perhaps invested in a Unit Trust. A bound book, "The Friends of St. Mary-le-Tower Belfry" is being donated and all donors will have their names recorded in it. Thank you all in anticipation. My address is 8, Lansdowne Road, Ipswich, Suffolk. GEORGE W. PIPE.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

Pleasant incidents during the meeting of the Marlborough Branch at Mildenhall on April 24th were the unanimous election of Mr. A. North as a life member of the Guild in recognition of his long and faithful service and the presentation of a certificate of proficiency to Miss Fuller by the chairman (Mr. G. Newman).

The past year was reviewed by the hon. secretary (Mr. T. A. Palmer), who reported a membership of 78 and the accounts slightly more favourable than a year ago. The running of a small bus to Sherborne for the Guild annual meeting was discussed and the next two meetings suggested were Collingbourne Kingston (May) and Aldbourne (June).

The Rector (the Rev. E. G. Courtman) conducted the service and was host to the company for tea. The Rev. Roger Keeley was Ringing Master.

Dorchester Branch

The spring quarterly meeting of the Dorchester Branch took place at Cattistock on April 24th, the eight bells being available during the afternoon and evening.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth), who is also the Branch chairman. Tea was served in the Savill Hall by lady helpers to ringers and friends.

Subject to consent, fortnightly practices will be held at Bere Regis (May 22nd), Charminster (June 5th), Abbotsbury (June 19th) and St. Peter's, Dorchester (July 17th).

Next quarterly meeting at Piddlehinton on July 3rd.

UNIVERSITY OF WALES SOCIETY

A belated report of the University of Wales Society's rag week tour from February 12th to 14th in the Vale of Glamorgan has now reached us. Some 23 members and friends participated, the first tower being Llanfeigan. During the following day ringing took place in eight towers and included Yorkshire Surprise Major.

A very enjoyable dinner in a Cardiff restaurant preceded the annual general meeting at which the proposed Welsh Colleges Society was discussed, but as the Training Colleges were not represented the matter was postponed. Miss Diane Bird was elected secretary and a special meeting is to be held at Bulth Wells and Bronllys for the election of Ringing Master. Through the kindness of local bands, Sunday service ringing was at St. John's, Cardiff, and Llandaff Cathedral.

DERBY DIOCESAN'S ANNUAL

Subscription to Include Contribution to Bell Fund

A RECORD number of nearly 100 was present when the Association's 19th annual general meeting was held in Derby on April 24th. Ringing during the afternoon took place on the pleasant octave at St. Alkmund's and the ten at the Cathedral before the annual service in the Cathedral, conducted by Canon W. James, the lesson being read by the Diocesan Youth Chaplain, the Rev. T. H. Canfield.

After an excellent tea in St. Michael's Church Hall, the business meeting began with the president, the Very Rev. R. A. Beddoes (Provost of Derby), in the chair. In his opening remarks he paid tribute to the memory of Miss Elizabeth Foulk, of Duffield, who, in addition to being a founder member of the Association, was also a long-serving member of the Midland Counties Association and the Ladies' Guild. The Provost was particularly pleased to welcome Mr. J. Frank Smallwood and on behalf of the company extended to him sincere condolences on the sudden loss of his wife.

Congratulating the Association on another year of progress, the chairman warned members against slackening off now that the Association was running so successfully. This, he said, they must not do at any price or else they would soon find themselves back in the doldrums, which would be a great tragedy.

A record number of 406 (390 ringing, 16 honorary) was reported by the general secretary (Mr. B. P. Morris), who gave a special welcome to the new band at Baslow. With regret he recorded the deaths of Messrs. B. Greator (Wirksworth) and P. Weston (Denby), together with Provost Ham of Derby, a former Association president.

OUTSTANDING PEALS

The report of the peal secretary, Mr. D. R. Carlisle, showed that of the 59 peals rung last year, Major ringing was still the most popular (30 peals), with 20 of these being Surprise. The most outstanding peals were 4-Spliced Surprise Major and "silent" Yorkshire Major. Both Dronfield and Derby Cathedral were to be congratulated on ringing peals of Bob Major and Grandsire Caters with their Sunday service bands. Messrs. G. Halls and L. Goodall were the leading peal ringers with 22 peals each.

With regret, the general treasurer (Mr. J. C. Woolley) reported a loss of £4 over the year. Although it seemed commendable that £10 or 12½ per cent. of the total receipts from ringing subscriptions (£80) was received in voluntary donations, he regretfully added that the larger percentage of members only paid the minimum subscription. He was very pleased, however, to report that out of a total membership of almost 400 only eight subscriptions (i.e., two per cent.) were unpaid.

In contrast, the Bell Repair Fund, to which 73 Parochial Church Councils had subscribed, was in a healthy financial position with a balance of almost £270. During the year technical help and advice had been given to Charlesworth, Sandiacre, Risley, St. Alkmund's, Derby, Trusley and Baslow, with grants having been made towards the new ringing room at Bolsover (£20), improved lighting at Derby Cathedral (£2) and the new floor at Clowne (£4).

Moving their formal adoption, Mr. D. R. Carlisle said they were immensely grateful for the large amount of work and the great deal of care that had obviously gone into the various reports and balance sheet. Several alterations to rules were then considered, the first being that bell consultants should be appointed by the General Committee and not as at present by the Districts. After a short discussion this was carried.

As the next two motions, to allow the Bell Repair Fund secretary to also act as special consultant on bells to the Diocesan Advisory Committee and to create an official post of Association Education Officer to organise ringing courses, only served to regularise the position at present, they met no opposition and were also carried.

BELL FUND AND SUBSCRIPTIONS

The next alteration to rule was more controversial, namely, to raise the subscription of adult members to 6s. 6d. and junior to 4s., and that from the income from this source 15 per cent. would be paid into the Bell Repair Fund. Explaining the reasons behind the increase, the treasurer said that in his opinion the increase from subscriptions should cover all expenses, but this did not happen as the average expenditure per ringer (4s. 10d.) was much higher than the average income per ringer (4s.). This meant that the reserves were continually dwindling and had dropped by £20 over the last three years.

With regard to the Bell Repair Fund percentage, Mr. Woolley said that apart from the Parochial Church Council subscriptions, the only other income was from collections at quarterly meetings. As a result the active members who attended all meetings contributed four times whilst non-active members got away scot-free. Although most of the company were in favour of Mr. Woolley's sentiments and appreciated the basic need for an increase, the 15 per cent. levy proved to be a bone of contention. After a lively discussion it was decided to accept the increase with the proviso that the General Committee should decide what percentage of the income should be transferred to the Bell Repair Fund.

The officers were re-elected en bloc, viz: President, the Very Rev. R. A. Beddoes (Provost of Derby); general secretary, Mr. B. P. Morris; general treasurer, Mr. J. C. Woolley; peal secretary, Mr. D. R. Carlisle; trustees, Messrs. F. R. Lowe and H. Taylor; Bell Repair Fund secretary, Mr. G. A. Halls; and treasurer, Mr. J. B. Stennitt.

Several new members were elected and a collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised almost £5, and the meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Provost, the Cathedral authorities and local company, together with the ladies for catering so well. Further ringing then took place at the Cathedral and also on the light eight at St. Peter's. M. P. P.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The Farnham District did well to organise two meetings in one week. On Easter Monday about 30 ringers tried the long draught eight at Yorktown, where some good ringing was accomplished in spite of a broken stay.

The recently-dedicated eight at Farnborough were available on the following Saturday and some of the younger ringers from heavier rings soon found the light bells difficult to handle. The Rector (Canon H. B. Hutchinson) conducted the service, and tea, provided by local lady members, was free for those who had notified. The excellent meal was much appreciated. Ringing up to Spliced Surprise continued until 9 p.m.

WIVELISCOMBE HAS NOW BELLS TO BE PROUD OF

On Palm Sunday the bells of 'St. Andrew's Church, Wiveliscombe, Somerset, were hallowed and rededicated by the Rt. Rev. D. J. Wilson, Assistant Bishop of Bath and Wells. He was attended by the Master of the Guild, the Rev. H. F. Warren, and the service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. C. S. Chamberlain.

Two of the bells had been recast and the remainder retuned and provided with new clappers by Messrs. Mears & Stainbank. The enthusiastic band of ringers at Wiveliscombe provided £25, which the Guild augmented by £35. But the largest contribution came from Mr. H. V. Young, who a few years back left Leatherhead to retire to Watterrow, the village of his boyhood. He generously gave £400 and the month of the dedication of the bells coincided with the 50th anniversary of his election as a member of the Bath and Wells Association. The other £200 was the gift of the Vicar.

An open day was held at Wiveliscombe on April 24th and was well attended although the weather was very unkind. During tea, provided free by the wives of local ringers, a recording of the bells was played. Firstly, the bells were heard in rounds and changes before and after receiving attention at the foundry. Then each bell was heard singly six times before and after so that an exact comparison could be made. All agreed that they had not realised how poor the bells were and how great an improvement had been accomplished, with many thanks to the founders. These bells, with a tenor of 16 cwt. 2 qr. 18 lb., now have a very good tone. Six of the bells were cast by Bailly and Street of Bridgwater in 1751, and the treble and tenor by Pannell Bros. of Cullompton in 1829, when the present church was completed—the old one having been pulled down. The seventh was recast by Warner of London in 1882.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Attending the annual general meeting of the Witney and Woodstock Branch at Yarn-ton on April 24th was Mr. George Clarke, of Clanfield, whose 80th birthday fell on the following day. Appreciation of his 60 years as a ringer was expressed; he rang his first peal in 1907!

A membership of 132 was added to by the election of eight new members. Seventeen peals (including four for Sir Winston Churchill) and 26 quarters were rung during the year. Certificates were presented by Miss Marie Cross. Officers elected were: Chairman, Rev. P. Wilkins; vice-chairman, Mr. D. Smith; secretary, Mr. E. D. Patching; Ringing Master, Mr. D. Floyd; treasurers, Mr. A. Cantwell and Miss S. Cantwell; Guild Committee, Messrs. A. Cantwell and D. Floyd.

The Vicar (the Rev. A. C. Adcock) conducted the service, during which the choir sang an anthem and Nicholas Hare was organist. Ringers' wives and friends provided an ample tea in the Legion Hut.

Looking ahead: Ringing Competition, Standlake, September 25th; autumn meeting, Langford, October 23rd.

Ringing was later enjoyed at Kidlington, Woodstock and Cassington.

Correction.—The peal at Jarrow (page 281) was not Stephen J. Pardoe's first peal, but first peal on tower bells.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES BACKWARDS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Hall's letter in your issue of April 30th draws attention again to an interesting possibility. There can, of course, be no objection to the bells going into changes at backstroke so long as no violation is done to the method. The recognised start would appear to be:

1234567 at handstroke

1325476 is then treated as the lead end, and at the end of the peal or touch the last row before rounds will be 2143657 (if the bells come round at a plain lead) or 2135476 (if the bells are to come round at a bob).

Mr. Hall may note, too, that it is possible to start as follows:

in which case the bells must come round with a single.

Some years ago Mr. Frank Lufkin called a peal of Grandsire Caters going off into changes at backstroke, thereby securing a 5,040 at hand; and in April, 1946, Mr. Daniel Matkin conducted at Walsall a 5,000 of Lindoff's that started off at backstroke. To add to the fun, in this case, the bells went into changes in the interior of a six, and Mr. Matkin may remember the difficulty he had in explaining to us all how we set off, and also may recall how that very competent Stedman Cinques band had to have four starts!—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

Warminster.

SECOND PLAIN BOB PEAL IN AFRICA

Dear Sir,—The peal of Major at Salisbury, Rhodesia ("Ringing World," p. 281) is claimed as the first of Plain Bob in Africa. I think that Canon Ridout's efforts over the years ought not to be forgotten; as early as 1909 in Johannesburg, 720's of Bob Minor were being rung "in hand." At St. Margaret's Mission, on March 6th, 1930, Canon Ridout conducted a peal of Bob Minor "in hand," and repeated the performance on May 7th, vide "The Ringing World," April 11th, 1930.—Yours sincerely,

V. SHEPPARD.

Brighton.

NO TRIPLES COLLECTION

Dear Sir,—The reason for Mr. Martin's difficulty about Oxford Bob Triples is that the 1935 Triples Collection was sold out in 1948.

In 1954 I attended the Central Council meeting and asked for news of a new Collection. The president called for a show of hands. From memory, I think the voting was—for a Collection, 11; against, 0. A year later the report of the Methods Committee was very brief but included thanks to me for the work I had done on Spliced Triples, some of which can be found in the leaflets I gave to the librarian and are still in stock. It is evident the Methods Committee has no intention of publishing a new Collection. It would be interesting to know who decides these matters, the Council or the members of a small committee. A vote by the Council of this year's meeting may not be the same as in 1954. But this is beside the point. Printing was cheaper 11 years ago.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN SEGAR.

Skegness.

A QUESTION FOR COMPOSERS

Dear Sir,—For some time I have been interested in "other" Triples methods such as Oxford Bob, Double Oxford and Court, etc. I have wondered many times why it is that extents cannot be obtained by use of the standard Grandsire bobs and singles and, instead, the Holt's bob single must be used. Surely in methods with a Grandsire start such as Oxford Bob, Double Oxford and St. Clement's it would work out. Perhaps some of the experts would be happy to enlighten me.—Yours fraternally,

ROLAND BENISTON.

Coalville, Leics.

"THE RINGING WORLD"

Dear Sir,—My sympathies have been very much with Mr. Woolley in his criticisms of "The Ringing World's" dependence on charity. I wonder if the assumption that postal subscribers would drop from 5,600 to 5,000 if the postal rate was raised to 1s. per copy is correct. Perhaps a sample survey would show if this is so.

Personally I would rather pay an increased subscription than give donations for quarter peals. I regarded the threat of ditching quarters not accompanied by a donation as a form of blackmail, because there is no formal understanding that any payment is required. It might be better if there was such an understanding.

Long may "The Ringing World" flourish but not by underhand means.—Yours faithfully, MICHAEL C. E. HODGE.

Fitzwilliam House,
Cambridge.

Note.—The understanding is generally recognised by quarter peal ringers. Judging from a "stop list" of over 100 subscribers who did not renew at the beginning of April, the Editor does not share the optimism of reader Hodge.

MINOR METHODS

Dear Sir,—With reference to the section on page 294 of "The Ringing World" of the Index of Minor Methods compiled by Mr. Chant, the peal in 1749 in which Francis Goodwill was first rung took place at Brandeston Church, Suffolk, and in the same peal the method mentioned immediately above it (Francis Genius) was also rung (presumably for the first time), the other methods being London, Cambridge, Oxford Treble Bob, Court Bob and Grandsire Bob.

Both methods were no doubt named after the ringer of the third (Sam Francis) and there is a note on the peal board which states that they were both "composed by this Society."

My younger daughter and I have a personal interest in the above peal as we are almost certainly distantly related to and probably direct descendants of the ringers of the second and fourth (Thomas Bradlaugh senior and junior), and not long ago we had the privilege and pleasure of taking part in ringing for Sunday service when on a visit to Brandeston, where members of the Bradlaugh family still live.—Yours faithfully,

A. C. B. (BRADLAUGH) PEARCE.

Sevenoaks.

Note.—Mr. J. Booker, of 378, Easebourne Lane Midhurst, offers Mr. Martin a composition. He points out that Backward Grandsire Triples could not have been rung at Midhurst as there are only six bells. Other readers are thanked for their letters on this subject.—Ed.

THE RINGERS' HANDBOOK

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to say that I shall have to put up the price of "The Ringers' Handbook." It is, unfortunately, a familiar tale. For some years I have managed to absorb the rising costs of paper, printing, packing and postage, but now the increased postal rates which come in on May 17th make this no longer possible. From that date the prices will be as follows:

6-bell edition, 3/9 each; six for £1 1 0.
8-bell edition, 5/6 each; six for £1 11 6.

All Post Free.

Yours faithfully,

MARY POWELL.

MIDDLESEX ANNUAL AT SOUTHGATE

A VARIETY of topics was discussed at the 63th annual general meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild held at Southgate on May 1st. These included the preservation of old Guild reports, the insurance of the library, ringing broadcasts and the increase of subscriptions.

The president, the Rev. G. C. Taylor, who gave the address at the Guild service, presided. He was supported by Mr. T. J. Lock, hon. secretary; Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, hon. treasurer; Mr. J. R. Mayne, Ringing Master; and Miss R. M. Foreman, hon. assistant secretary.

The meeting opened with an act of remembrance of those members who had died since the last meeting. These were the Bishop of Willesden (the Right Rev. G. E. Ingle), Canon C. C. Cox, Messrs. E. M. Atkins, H. Broughton, A. A. Hughes, F. C. W. Knight, W. Linter, A. McDonald, J. E. Rootes, F. W. Rogers, S. T. A. Russell, W. Sparrow, J. W. Unwin, L. J. Williams and H. T. Wilson.

The Master (Mr. J. R. Mayne), in his report, said the same problems faced them year by year: the constant task of rebuilding bands by teaching and the preservation of high standards among the more experienced ringers. Although some aspirations were decaying in many fields of activity, they should strive not to lose them in their own art.

GIFT TO LIBRARY

Emphasising the importance of the preservation of early reports, the Master said only three complete sets of reports existed in the library at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, with the general secretary and at St. John's, Hillingdon. The first of these had been bound in six volumes and was the gift of Mr. Frank T. Blagrove. He appealed to members for copies of early reports.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Blagrove for his generous gift, and after discussion the General Committee was instructed to see to the insurance of the library.

The accounts presented by the hon. treasurer (Mr. F. W. Goodfellow) showed an excess of receipts over payments during the year of £10 5s. and assets of the Association amounting to £282. The accounts were adopted.

The hon. treasurer, on behalf of the General Committee, submitted amendments to rules increasing members' subscriptions to 5s. per annum, except members at school, whose subscriptions would be 2s. 6d. Non-resident members' subscriptions would be 7s. 6d.

Attention to the inadequacy of the present subscription was called by the hon. auditor, Mr. Maurice Hodgson, in a letter which stated that 20s. in 1947 was now worth only 12s. The amendments were approved and will operate from January 1st, 1966.

62 NEW MEMBERS

The hon. secretary (Mr. T. J. Lock) read his report, which stated that a pleasing feature of the activities of the two District secretaries was to welcome 62 new ringing members, particularly P. D. Dawson-Taylor, a New Zealander now resident in Edgware; 35 non-resident life members, and Frederick Smith.

of Hillingdon, as an honorary life member. Virtually new bands had been formed at Barnet and Bedford.

Personal congratulations were extended to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goodfellow on reaching an aggregate total of 80 years' service as ringers at St. John's, Hillingdon; to Reuben Sanders for ringing in a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Margaret's, Westminster, on the eve of his 90th birthday, on the same bell as he rang his first peal of Stedman Caters 56 years previously; to W. Langley, who had rung at Monken Hadley and for 40 years rang the tenor, in celebration of his 84th birthday. T. Collins, a ringer at Ruislip for 60 years, had retired from the tower. W. H. Coles gave a broadcast on the B.B.C. Home Service and had been approached to make a second broadcast.

TWO FINE RECORDS

A total of 81 peals was rung, being nine more than last year; 58 were on tower bells and 23 on handbells. A record was twice established for Spliced Surprise Major on handbells of 18 and 20 methods. John R. Mayne was the composer and conductor of these two very fine records. The peal of Chartwell Surprise Major at Harrow Weald was specially named and rung as a 90th birthday compliment to Sir Winston Churchill.

The president asked if the B.B.C. could be persuaded to give a lecture demonstration on ringing.

Mr. A. W. Coles supported such demonstrations. From the Central Councils reports they knew that ringing had been treated by the B.B.C. as an "effect" rather than a craft. Their records were in the effects library. He hoped to do his little bit towards altering this by being concerned in another broadcast on Tuesday, May 18th, at 4.45 in "Home This Afternoon."

Officers elected were: President, the Rev. G. C. Taylor; Ringing Master, Mr. J. R. Mayne; hon. treasurer, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow; hon. secretary, Mr. T. J. Lock; assistant hon. secretary, Miss R. M. Foreman; hon. librarian, Mr. G. A. Parsons; hon. auditor, Mr. M. Hodgson. Elected to the Dinner Committee were Messrs. W. H. Coles, C. H. Neal, F. W. Goodfellow and Miss R. M. Foreman.

Two other amendments to rules were agreed, viz., resident ringing members for three consecutive years removing from the area of the Association may qualify forthwith as life members without further subscription, and ringing members on completing 50 years' membership shall become honorary members.

Mrs. Lock raised the question of the Association making a contribution towards the gifts Great Adventure II to Australia was making to towers visited. Upon Mr. W. H. Coles' suggestion the sum of £5 was agreed to.

The chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. M. H. MacLeod, Vicar of Southgate, for conducting the service and the use of the bells, to the incumbents of Enfield and Wood Green for their bells, to Mr. S. G. Peck for making local arrangements, and Mrs. Richardson and helpers for the excellent tea.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION ELECT A NEW PRESIDENT

HOSTS this year at the A.G.M. were the Wigan Branch, and they organised a first-class afternoon. Ringers moved in during the early afternoon and the spacious tower at Ormskirk was soon filled.

A large congregation heard Canon A. Hodgson, the incoming president, read the lesson, and the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith gave his farewell sermon.

The annual meeting followed tea, and in his opening remarks the president said what a great deal of pleasure he had had during his 14 years of office.

On the item of election of officers, the president declared Mr. J. P. Partington re-elected as ringing secretary and Mr. J. F. Wood re-elected as treasurer. He then declared Canon A. Hodgson elected as president and vacated the chair in his favour.

Canon Hodgson thanked the Preston and Furness Branches for their nomination and said how much he appreciated the honour conferred on him. His first duty was to make a presentation of an umbrella and a dozen cut-glass liqueur glasses to the retiring president, who thanked the meeting for a well-kept secret.

LOSSES BY DEATH

The general secretary (Mr. F. Reynolds), in his report, stated that the following members had died: Life ringing members, W. W. Larkey, Everston; Ernest Porter, Great Crosby; Joseph Hall, Miles Platting; Charles Mallinson, Colne; Ernest Taylor, Rawtenstall; Charles Sharples, Blackpool; Laurence J. Williams, Church. Ringing members, Charles Blackburn, St. Helens; Fred Blackledge, Brindle; Charles Howarth, Haslington; James Taylor, Haslington.

The ringing secretary reported 157 peals rung for the Association in 1964. This did not include four peals published in "The Ringing World" as rung for the Lancashire Association but for which peal fees had not been paid as yet (February 22nd, 1965). These were Bristol S.M., Hornby, September 12th; 1964; London S.R., Worsley, December 5th, 1964; Cambridge S. Max., Oldham, December 6th, 1964; and Stedman Caters, Manchester Cathedral, December 12th, 1964. The 157 peals consisted of Maximus 7, Cinques 2, Royal 12, Caters 1, Major 75, Triples 12, Minor 35, Doubles 9. Four of these—three Minor and one Major—were on handbells; nine of them were firsts for the Association.

One hundred and seventy-three resident members (18.6 per cent.) took part and 24 rang their first peal. Fifty members shared the conducting, four their first as conductor. Leading conductor was J. Ashcroft, 19. Leading peal ringers: R. J. Parker 43, P. J. Crossthwaite 35, Margaret E. Fort and R. S. Starkie 33, J. H. Fielden 31, C. Crossthwaite 29 and J. P. Partington 28.

On behalf of the meeting Mr. N. M. Newby proposed thanks to all concerned with the success of the afternoon, particularly Mr. D. Jones and Mr. R. Kenrick, of the Wigan Branch.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Record Peal Total

MORE than 90 members and friends attended the 19th annual general meeting of the Southwell Diocesan Guild held at Retford on April 24th. A most enjoyable tea was served by North Notts District in the Ebsworth Hall. The bells of Ordsall, Babworth, East and West Retford were put to good use and Sung Evensong was held in the Church of St. Swithun, East Retford, conducted by the Bingham District Chaplain, the Rev. F. Stepheni.

The business meeting was presided over by the Guild chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, who extended a warm welcome to all members and visitors.

A minute's silence was observed for seven members who had passed away since the last annual meeting, namely, Mr. H. Smith (Gamston), Canon R. Leeper (Southwell), the Rev. S. M. I. Salt (Gamston), Mr. J. W. Wilson (Sutton-on-Trent), Miss G. Pritchett (Balderton), the Rev. F. W. H. Jessup (Ramp-ton) and Mr. M. S. Ward (Nottingham St. Peter).

HIGH PEAL TOTAL

The Peal Committee reported that 120 peals had been rung during the year, the highest number of peals rung by the Guild in any year, far surpassing the 74 rung in 1958. Altogether 110 resident members contributed to the 120 peals, 23 of these ringing their first peal. Conductors numbered 35 (again a record), W. L. Exton leading with 16 from J. R. Pratchett (12), M. W. Harrison (9) and H. Poyner (9). There were nine first peals as conductor, namely, Ruth Blackshaw, W. N. Browne, Margaret E. Chilton, G. A. Dawson, Jane Dowse, M. W. Harrison, C. R. Larkin, R. D. Marsh and F. W. Midwinter.

First peals on the bells have been scored at Wilford and Woodborough, and first performances for the Guild include the first of Minimus, Basford Delight and Gainsborough Little Bob Major. The number of Doubles methods rung in a peal has risen from 19 to 45, Minor from 23 to 27 and Spliced Surprise Major from three to ten. Quarter peals rung during the year, mainly for Sunday service, number 155, with Holme Pierrepont leading with 51 from Warsop (19), Gedling (13) and Sutton-on Trent (9).

The hon. general secretary (Mr. W. L. Exton) reported a membership of 469, an increase of nine. He stated that the standard of ringing had improved but that 12-bell ringing would need a lot more attention before the Guild could claim that it possessed a good resident 12-bell band.

AUGMENTATIONS

Coddington bells (five) are now in the bell foundry and are to be rehung in a new frame for six with the possible addition of a treble bell. Nottingham St. Peter's bells are also to be rehung in a new frame for 12 (now to be augmented to 12). Shelford hope shortly to place an order for a new treble to complete the ring of six, and Upper Broughton hope to add a treble to the existing four.

The hon. treasurer's report and accounts revealed a small loss on the year's working. The Bell Repair Fund stands at £130 17s. 5d., an increase of £24 4s. 1d., a donation of £10 having been made towards the cost of repairing a broken wheel at East Markham. The collection for the Bell Repair Fund taken at the meeting realised £5 3s. 6d. The chairman reported that the committee had approved a donation of £25 each towards the restoration at Coddington, Sturton-le-Steeple (rehanging and augmentation to six) and Sutton-cum-Lound (rehanging of three bells in a new frame for six).

The chairman outlined a new scheme to augment the Bell Repair Fund by writing to all the Parochial Church Councils in the Diocese suggesting an annual donation, in order that the present donation of £25 might be substantially increased. He appealed to ringers to play their part by increasing their own donations, and so ensure the success of the scheme.

DAN S. PONT
The Leicester Guild

AMONG the up-and-coming youngsters in the Leicester Guild is a brilliant young ringer whose name has frequently appeared in the peal columns of "The Ringing World" during the past two years.

Dan S. Pont, son of a Finnish mother and an English father, was born in Helsinki, Finland, on May 4th, 1949. He started his schooling at Woodhouse Eaves Junior School. Last year, at Barrow-on-Soar Grammar School.

One new vice-president, the Rev. F. Pearce (West Retford), five new ringing members, Miss M. Pearce, Miss S. Holland, Miss I. M. Mayfield, Miss P. Mellor and Mr. A. Simpson (all Ruddington), and one new non-resident life member, Mr. J. Smalley (Rawmarsh), were unanimously elected.

All the retiring officers were thanked for their services, and with the exception of the vice-chairman, the Rev. M. C. C. Melville, who is now residing in Norfolk, were re-elected for another year. The Rev. F. Stepheni (Cotgrave) was elected vice-chairman. Five nominations for the four Central Council delegates were received, and on being put to the vote the following were elected to serve for the period 1966-68: Messrs. J. D. Clarke, W. L. Exton, H. Poyner and H. T. Rooke. The chairman expressed the thanks of the Guild to the two retiring members, Messrs. B. M. Buswell and D. H. Rooke.

HIGHER SUBSCRIPTIONS APPROVED

The second amendment, moved by Mr. H. T. Rooke, on behalf of the General Committee, concerned finance and read as follows: "To amend such rules as necessary to increase ringing members' over 16 annual subscription from 3s. to 5s. with effect from January 1st, 1966, and to increase the non-resident life members' from 5s. to 10s., and the peal fee from 6d. to 1s. with effect from April 24th, 1965." A lively discussion followed. Mr. F. Salter inquiring whether the committee had considered the possible reduction in income due to the loss of membership caused by the increase. Mr. D. A. Whetton and Miss S. Poppleston supported the motion, while Mr. A. Jewitt, although in agreement, thought the increase in subscriptions ought to be 1s., not 2s. Mr. H. T. Rooke explained that whilst an increase in peal fees might carry the Guild for a year or possibly two the committee were looking forward to increases in both printing costs and increases in postal charges and did not want to have

he was successful in gaining no fewer than eleven G.C.E. "O" levels, and is now studying chemistry, physics and maths for "A" level with a view to going on to University in due course.

Dan started ringing lessons at the early age of 11 at the Church of St. Paul, Woodhouse Eaves, under the watchful eye of Mr. Roland Stockwell and Mr. Frank Chambers. At about the same time he was being given handbell lessons at school by his Scripture master, Mr. B. Stedman Payne. In a very short time he was taking part in regular service ringing an alternate Sundays at St. Paul's, Woodhouse Eaves and at St. Mary-in-the-Elms, Old Woodhouse.

Dan made very rapid progress and just before his 13th birthday scored his first peal. This was when he rang 5-6 in a handbell peal in four Doubles methods at Barrow-on-Soar on April 12th, 1962, conducted by B. Stedman Payne. Already he was studying conducting and just over a year later he scored his first peal as conductor — Plain Bob Minor on handbells again at Barrow-on-Soar on October 11th, 1963. This remarkable youngster has already taken part in some 60-odd peals ranging from Doubles to Royal, both on tower- and handbells.

Last year Dan was honoured by being elected a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and it is not surprising to learn that his chief ringing ambition now is to become a proficient 12-bell ringer and to have the privilege one day of taking part in a peal at St. Paul's, London. The progress of this brilliant youngster and others like him will be watched with keen interest by the whole Exercise.

In conclusion, Dan expresses his deep gratitude for all the help and guidance he has received from the Rev. Malcolm Melville, enabling him to make such rapid progress in the fields of campanology. NORVING.

to return to the meeting next year and again ask for more. Various suggestions regarding the possible omission of peals from the annual report, etc., were put forward and opposed, the motion finally being carried by 62 votes to nine.

Two additional proposals were next considered: the first that the Guild should hold a ringing festival and dinner, to mark the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Guild, during the summer of 1966, and the second, that the Guild should invite the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers to hold its annual meeting of 1967 in the Diocese of Southwell, probably in Nottingham, to mark the 21st anniversary, were carried unanimously.

The comprehensive vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. S. W. Fossey. W. L. E

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

For the first time in the tower's history an all-ladies' touch was rung at Holy Trinity Church, Queensbury, on May Day during the meeting of the Guild. Susan Greenwood, aged nine, rang the treble, and Anne Raynor, a little older, was on the second. The Vicar (the Rev. D. M. Buikie) conducted Evensong, and the tea was well in keeping with the high standard set up by the local band and their ladies. They were thanked by Mr. A. Senior.

During the business meeting, presided over by the Rev. G. Gunthorpe, it was decided to meet at Emmanuel Church, Shelley, to start the Guild's activities during the joint council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies' Festival at Wakefield on June 12th.

CHURCH GRESLEY, DERBYS.—On April 16th, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: S. Edmonds 1, D. P. Jones (cond.) 2, D. Eames 3, J. A. Ball 4, D. Perry 5. Rung fully muffled, for Good Friday family service.

SELBY ABBEY FIRST OUTING

At last, Easter Tuesday morning arrived and the Selby Abbey ringers congregated in the Market Place at 8 a.m., together with essential handbells, "Standard diagrams" and food. Everyone was a little apprehensive as to the standard we would attain on our first outing, especially considering the average age, apart from one member, was only 18.

Familiarity with our own heavy bells made it difficult for the younger members to handle Collingham bells competently. We certainly did not do justice to the octave at Wetherby, and by now our Ringing Master was becoming quite frantic. However, six-bell towers seemed to be more to our taste and a touch of Kent was brought round, but some well-struck Cambridge was lost at Kirk Deighton.

After a packed lunch, ringing vastly improved at West Tanfield and Wath, with enjoyable touches of Kent and Oxford Spliced, Wath Delight and Plain Bob being brought round. The strain of a long day's ringing began to tell at Sharow and only Little Bob Major was struck well.

We were greatly refreshed by an excellent tea at Ripon, and this certainly showed itself in the standard attained at Kirby Hill. Thanks are due to all who combined in making a most memorable day. A. G.

BROMHAM, BEDS

For their annual tour this year, on April 24th, the Bromham ringers chose East Anglia.

Ringing started at Earls Colne, where, despite the springy ropes, a fair standard was achieved. Ardeleigh was our next stop and here a good course of Yorkshire was rung. After lunch at Ipswich the tuncful ten at Stonham Aspal was tapping along to a well-struck touch of Kent.

At Eye, the remains of a castle stand opposite the lofty flint tower of the Parish Church, the bells of which pealed majestically over the picturesque town. Tea at Diss was followed by ringing at St. Mary's Church. Ringing concluded at Thetford, after which there was a refreshment halt at Cambridge, bringing a very enjoyable day to a fitting end.

In addition to thanking incumbents and ringers who met us, special thanks are due to Dereck Hammond for arranging such a splendid outing. C. S.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Chew Deanery Branch

A "five-star" tea was provided at the local Women's Institute Hall, Backwell, on April 25th, when the Chew Deanery Branch held a quarterly meeting. The Rector (the Rev. J. T. George) conducted the service and presided at the business meeting. The secretary asked for entries without delay for the striking competition at Dundry in May. Twenty-two members promised support for a dinner to mark the 75th anniversary of the Association and warm approval was given to a joint meeting with the Frome Branch if arranged.

July quarterly meeting, Ubley; June practice, Wraxall; and annual Corporate Communion, Backwell (if arrangements for breakfast can be made).

Cary Branch

When the Cary Branch met at Henstridge on April 24th, congratulations were extended to Castle Cary ringers on their peal to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the Association. A report on the Association's annual meeting was presented by Mr. D. M. C. Hill (Ringing Master), who also outlined the plans for the Branch's autumn outing in the Dunster area.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. H. Swingle), who was assisted by the Branch chairman (the Rev. G. S. Robinson). They and the ladies who prepared tea were thanked.

MR. TOM SOUTHAM AND MISS AYRES MARRIED

The wedding took place on April 24th at Christ Church, Blacklands, Hastings, between Miss Margaret Ayres and Mr. Thomas Southam. This was a real ringers' occasion, as Margaret rings at Blacklands and Tom at St. Peter's, St. Albans, and Hertingfordbury and is also former president of the Hertford County Association and secretary of the St. Albans and Eastern Districts.

Margaret's bridesmaids were Christine Ayres (her sister), Marion Bean, who rings at Haslingfield, and Sally Robinson, who rings at Cirencester. Edward Bright, former Master of the Manchester University Guild, played the organ, and the best man was Eric Edmondson, of Hatfield. The bells were rung after the ceremony by the local band. Ringers were also present from St. Albans, North Mymms and Hatfield.

It was regretted that Margaret's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Beamish, of Chilvers Coton, were not able to be present as they were away on a tour of the Holy Land.

The happy couple left after the reception for a honeymoon in Ireland, and they are going to make their home in Harpenden.

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD

Six enthusiastic members of the Guild, accompanied by a friend and a past member, had a day's ringing in Surrey on April 10th. Ringing took place at Ottershaw, Chertsey, Weybridge, Otlands Park and Hersham before a somewhat tired company arrived at Walton. Here the new springy ropes left us completely exhausted. Sufficient energy was found later to ring on the light five at Shepperton. After all this we were only too pleased to relax and enjoy the splendid tea provided by the mother of the organiser—Alan Luxford. R. V. K.

WORCESTER AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION

Held in Worcester on Easter Monday, the annual meeting of the Worcestershire and Districts Association attracted a fair crowd of members and visitors despite the cold winds and showers. The day began with a service at All Saints' conducted by the Association's chaplain, the Rev. H. L. Davies, Rector of Old Swinsford. Instead of an address the congregation heard a touch on handbells by Miss S. Jackson 1-2, J. C. Eisel 3-4, D. Beacham 5-6, and M. D. Fellows 7-8.

The business meeting in College Hall was presided over by the president, the Dean of Worcester, the Very Rev. R. L. P. Milburn, who, in spite of the cold temperature in the hall, expressed a warm welcome to all present. Before getting down to the main items on the agenda, the meeting stood in silence as they remembered colleagues who had departed during the last year, namely, James R. Newman, of Kempsey (general secretary from 1905 to 1935); J. J. Jeffries (Worcester Cathedral); W. Lewis (St. John's, Worcester); and Harry Wyre (Cradley).

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT

After referring to the financial position, Mr. D. Beacham, in his report, stated that paid-up performing membership had fluctuated around the 500 mark for some years—though this year it was down to 459, and costs continued to rise. The annual report cost over 2s. and there was insufficient left from the 2s. 6d. annual subscription to cover the remaining costs.

For many years the Association had held very successful annual dinners but last year the attendance fell very considerably to 80—a large drop from the 130 of the previous two years. This was a most disappointing result for the committee responsible for organising the dinner. . . "Let us hope that this function will continue and regain some of the support which it has had in the past."

Peal ringing had increased considerably and the total of 84 peals was the highest number for some years. Congratulations were offered to 14 first-pealers and to John Whittall, who called his first peal as conductor. The first peals of Worcestershire Surprise Major and Sedgley Surprise Major were rung during the year.

An important item on the agenda was the recommendation of the Central Committee that the subscriptions be increased from 2s. 6d. to 5s. annually for senior members, and from 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. for junior members. The general secretary and treasurer explained that for some years the General Fund had been kept solvent only by being subsidised from Branch collections. The time had now come to put finances back on a proper business footing. The biggest drain on funds was the cost of printing the annual report, which would be nearly 3s. per copy this year. The meeting approved the increase in subscriptions, commencing January 1st, 1966, without dissent.

Under election of officers, all officers and committee were re-elected. The Dean pointed out that Bishop Stuart's impending resignation would leave a vacancy in the list of vice-presidents next year.

Any other business brought about discussion on the question of the Association's "Annual Peal" and peals at the Cathedral.

During the afternoon ringing took place on the bells at Powick, Malvern Link, Welland and Hanley Castle; also St. John's, Worcester, and Claines. Following tea at the Deansway Restaurant, a large crowd, which must have numbered nearly 100, packed the Cathedral ringing chamber for what seems to be the highlight of Worcester annual meetings. Further ringing at All Saints' concluded the day. D. B.

WIVELISCOMBE, SOMERSET.—On April 24th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: H. V. Young 1, W. J. Knight 2, G. Sparks 3, G. Maidment 4, H. Purchase 5, W. Nurcombe 6, H. Casley (cond.) 7, H. Gale 8. First quarter peal on the rededicated bells.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The peal at St. Paul's, Bedford, on April 19th was the 99th on the bells, and also Peter Border's 999th peal.

With the peal of Ditchat Surprise at Willesden, Mr. Dennis Knox has rung peals in 100 different Surprise Major methods.

We have received news from Australia that Mr. Jack Cummins, of St. Mary's Basilica, Sydney, rang his 200th quarter peal at Burwood on April 11th.

The Rev. A. D. St. J. Smith, of Darley Dale, is the new president of the Clerical Guild in succession to the late Canon C. C. Cox.

Mr. Bernard D. Sims, of Handsworth, inquires as to the composition of Farnfield Bob Doubles rung to a peal of Farnfield on April 3rd (page 267).

Wishes for a full and complete recovery to the well-known Oxfordshire ringer, Mr. Harry Floyd, and his wife, were expressed at the annual meeting of the Witney and Woodstock Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Yarnton on April 24th.

A peal tour was held in the Rutland area at Easter, during which eight peals were rung for three different Guilds. The highlight of the week was a peal of Minor in seven methods at Deeping St. Nicholas, rung silent and non-conducted.

The peal at Thurcaston, Leics, on April 20th, was the third attempt for a birthday peal for William Stedman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Poyner, of Retford. Mr. B. Stedman Payne writes that this will mean a birthday peal next year for his other godson, John Stedman Brewin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brewin, of Wellington, Salop, who rings at Wrockwardine.

WHITCHURCH PEAL ATTEMPTS

Altogether there are eight places in England and Wales called Whitchurch with rings of bells, but to ring peals on all of them over one week was too big a task for the Hampshire band that pealed three of them over the five days around Easter. Originally five were the target but with the removal of the Devon bells to the foundry, and Whitchurch, Bucks, being unringable, only four were attempted and all nearly came off.

Whitchurch, Hampshire, proved straightforward, a good peal of Bob Major being scored despite a change of conductor at the last minute due to a heavy cold by the original.

The big job was Winterbourne Whitchurch, a heavy five near Dorchester, Dorset, with a tenor of at least 16 cwt. and the bells immediately overhead. Eight methods, six of them rung in 720's, seemed ambitious but we went ahead with our object. With 600 changes to ring and 2½ hours of good five-bell ringing behind us, a slipped wheel on the tenor with the rope disappearing through the hole brought the attempt to an end. It was hard luck for Phil Murduck, who had worked hard to strike the tenor, the only consolation being that the last attempt here lasted only a quarter of an hour before the band gave up.

Refreshments at the Rectory afterwards helped to drown our sorrows and with a short ring at St. George's, Dorchester, met by Canon Brooks, who made us most welcome, we met again at Whitchurch Canonicorum and made up for the morning disappointment by ringing a good peal of Grandsire Triples on the fine octave, this being the 25th peal on the bells.

The first attempt at Whitchurch, Oxon, on the following Wednesday evening, had to be finished by 9 p.m., so the Treble Bob we had planned to ring was altered to Plain Bob, and the fast time of 2 hours and 30 minutes was recorded to another good peal, completion being soon after 9 p.m.

Although not a 100 per cent. success, we were well satisfied with our efforts and have in mind the Twyford for the next attempt of its kind, but this will have to wait until the Hampshire Twyford become available for peals.

REEDS IN THE NEWS

We welcome back to the peal columns Mr. Colin W. Reed, who has recovered from his recent operation. The peal, at Balderton, on May 1st, was a comoliment to Miss Gillian Holmes, daughter of Mr. P. Holmes, a local ringer, on her marriage to Mr. John Thomas Sloan.

Ringing in the same peal was Mrs. Beryl Reed, and this made her the first person to complete the circle to peals of her home tower. Has any other lady had the privilege of being the first person to "circle a tower" to peals?

NOT RESPONSIBLE

Mr. Alan Ainsworth denies that he was responsible for writing that the long length attempt at St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham, is for the 250th anniversary of St. Philip's being made the Cathedral of the Diocese. He desires to make it clear that it was part of the celebration to mark the 250th anniversary of St. Philip's Church and the 60th anniversary of St. Philip's being made the Cathedral of the Diocese. The error of missing a line from the copy is regretted.

THE BELLS OF ST. MARY'S (Oxford Style)

One, two, three, four, five, six—
The bells go pacing round;
It's rarely one may hear
A graver, sweeter sound;
And, changing, still unchanged
Their rhythm they maintain.

One, two, three, four, five, six,
Measured, and firm, and plain,
Now that it's eight o'clock
Peace reigns for evening prayer.

One, two, three, four, five, six
No longer fills the air;
And yet the inner ear,
Which loves to play such tricks,
Insists, I still can hear
One, two, three, four, five, six.

RINGING IN A HIGH KEY AT GNOSALL

In honour of the wedding of Miss June Mary Key, eldest daughter of two prominent Gnosall ringers, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Key, the bells of St. Lawrence's Church, Gnosall, were rung to a quarter peal of Grandsire, which, according to the report in the local paper, consisted of 1,000,260 changes! The bride is a member of the teaching profession. She was trained at Hockerill College, Bishop's Stortford, where the bridegroom, Mr. James McNaughton, is a tutor. They are making their home at Fyfield, Essex.

ANDREW FROM HUNTINGTON

Congratulations to Andrew Pearce (13), of Huntington, who in the last fortnight has rung three very good quarter peals—including his first, at the first attempt. The youngest of three in his family who are ringers, he is away at school during term time and his only opportunity for ringing is at holidays. Unfortunately an attempt to ring a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Huntington with Andrew on the treble was unsuccessful. Nevertheless, well done, Andrew! We hope to hear more of your progress very soon.

A SALOP GOLDEN WEDDING

The golden wedding anniversary this Easter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lycett, of I. Brookfields, Longford Turner, Market Drayton, Salop, was appropriately celebrated by a quarter peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major on the bells of the Parish Church. Now 76 years of age, Mr. Lycett had to give up ringing through ill-health some years back, but he completed his 50 years as a service ringer. He attended with his wife to hear the ringing for the anniversary.

Mr. Lycett was born at Shawbury. For 11 years he was captain of the ringing team at Stanton and then for 14 years he was captain at Hodnet. His association as a ringer with St. Mary's, Market Drayton, exceeds 25 years. Mr. and Mrs. Lycett have a family of two sons and three daughters, 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A daughter and her husband are visiting them later this month from Canada.

CLAPPER THUMPS DURING OUTING

Ringers of St. Mary's, Scarborough, and St. Lawrence's, Scalby, had an unusual experience on their first half-day outing held on May Day. At two of the churches visited the clappers parted company with the bells. The first tower was Kirby Moorside, where an inspection revealed that the threads on the bolt through the headstock had worn off and the split pin had either sheared or had been non-existent. The other tenor to give trouble was in the five at Wykeham, where in the middle of a 120 of Grandsire the loud thump was again heard and the cause of the trouble was identical as at Kirby Moorside.

Other towers visited were Middleton, where during ringing a steady flow of dust descended on all below, necessitating the production of headgear ranging from pixie hats to Cossacks, and Pickering, where a picnic tea took place in the Vicarage grounds. Some found the bells here difficult to ring well. It was an enjoyable and to some an exciting outing—a transistor set keeping the company in touch with the great event of the day, the Cup final at Wembley.

DURHAM VILLAGE WANTS SOME BELLS

Shincliffe Village, County Durham, has at long last received full permission to go ahead and raise the £1,800 required to repair and augment its bells. A committee has been formed to launch the appeal. Typical of local interest is the activity of one of the village pubs, where a pile of pennies has been started. The secretary, Mr. T. Jopling, of 8, Willow Tree Avenue, Shincliffe Village, informed us that despite local interest, outside help would be needed and he would be very grateful for any assistance.

RINGING IN PARIS

The members of the University of London Society certainly made a day of it "The Ringing World," April 9th) and the account makes interesting reading. They may wish to read of an earlier escapade by some of their earliest members. Search out "The Ringing World" for November 12th, 1948 (page 488), where they will find the Eiffel Tower has already been "snatched." The 3in. x 4in. "pealboard" recording the 120 Grandsire Doubles, on the wooden panelling, may by now be painted over, writes Geoffrey Dodds.

"WILD BELLS—MYTH"

In the spring issue of "C.W.M.," which is published by Rowntree and Co., Ltd., of York, C. J. Groome of the Marketing Department contributes an interesting article, "Ring Out Wild Bells," with special references to towers in the York area. Pictures are given of the awestruck author gazing at the massive Great Peter in the north-west tower of the Minster. This bell weighs nearly 11 tons. The bells at Huntington Church are shown in the "up and down" positions. Concludes the author: "In short, change ringing is a pursuit which offers an unusual combination of mental and physical exercise, and far from being "wild bells" they are the result of a most exacting discipline." Well spoken, Mr. Groome!

SINGLES IN SURPRISE MAJOR

By JOHN SEGAR

THE Central Council has a ruling on the use of singles in Treble Bob methods. It is: "Singles may be used only when a desired result cannot be obtained by bobs." They have been used recently to improve the music of London Surprise and I forecast an increasing use for another reason. To explain what happens at a single, the terms lead-head and lead-end will have to be used. The row of rounds is the head of the first lead and is a plus row. London Surprise Major has 14628375 for its first lead-end and this is a minus row.

	A	B	C
ends	14628375	14623857

A single causes a sidestep from the end of A to the end of B. The lead B is then rung backwards as far as 12847653. A single here causes another sidestep, this time from head to head of C. From this point the changes come up normally, that is, forward until there is another single. It is necessary to know something about lead B. It is the fifth lead of course 3654728.

Similar treatment of all the leads in the plain course provides the seven scales for all methods with a lead scale of 4263857 and seconds place.

3	3 325467
4	4 462537
5	5 1 725436

London Surprise Major has 28 false course heads. Seven of them are exactly the same as the singles above. If I may be permitted an absurd statement, the position becomes clear. If a peal has many true and false courses the singles will be just right to connect the true to the false. More sensibly, every single brings up a false course. They can be used only if they bring up a true lead of a false course. Some methods do not suffer from this disadvantage and it is possible to use singles to compose or extend record lengths. Commencing to look into this recently I have added over a thousand changes to one of my own record lengths by using ten singles. Another group of scales is required to return from a backward lead to a forward one as from B to C.

DARTMOUTH, DEVON.—At St. Clement's. Town-stal, on March 21st, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Carolyn Goss (first quarter) 1, Phyllis Kellond 2, Violet Goss 3, Rosemary Kellond (first quarter) 4, A. C. Goss (cond.) 5. For Evensong and as a compliment to Christine Dodridge and Fernley Pearson, married the previous day.

OXFORD TREBLE BOB

Dear Sir,—I hope this will answer some of the questions put by A. J. Salisbury about the one-part peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor by E. C. S. Turner.

It is not possible to obtain a one-part 1,260, or any other 1,260, of Oxford Treble Bob Minor. However, a 1,272 is quite feasible.

4	I	O	W	H	23456

—	—	2	—	—	34256
—	2	—	2	—	45236
—	2	—	2	—	23456

If a calling for an extent of a plain method, containing singles, is used for a Treble Bob method of the same group, a 1,440 is produced, which, if it ends in a single, may be tripled as in the Rev. E. Banks James' 2,160's, giving 4,320.

The one-part peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor will still be true if rung to Kent.

A very large number of equivalent arrangements are possible (but not necessarily practicable!) for any method. The following 5,040 is suitable for group H methods, such as Barham Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise. It contains 108 bobs and comes round six times at backstroke and once at hand.

N.B.—There must be six plain leads between adjacent bobs marked x.

I, too, would like to know what is permissible for Minor peals. Must all seven rounds occur at backstroke? For plain methods, would fourteen 360's, with a single halfway and end, be allowed?—Yours faithfully,

S. HUMPHREY.

SHERBORNE, 1965

IN the great Diocesan Associations the Annual Festival is, as it were, a gathering of the clans. Throughout the year the Branches conduct their business and meet for their practices and discussions, and for the period are virtually self-supporting. But once a year comes the family reunion, with a survey of the things done and left undone, of losses and gains, a look to the needs of the future, and a rededication to the service of God and His Church.

Here the past and the future meet and are linked, for, as it has been said, there is no present, only things for ever going by and things for ever coming. This wonderful chain of things that has been and things to come, this partnership of young and old, this handing on of the torch of life and endeavour, came forcibly to our minds this year as we travelled through Dorset and joined the Festival of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild at Sherborne. Everywhere and at all times during the day there were, to the seeing eye, manifestations of this companionship and partnership of old and young, of things incredibly ancient linked progressively to new life and things of the future.

We found it in the charming villages with the delightful names, Marnhull, Sturminster Newton, Compton Abbas, Childe Okeford and many others. Here the Norman cable work of the font was ringed with primroses of Easter; there the recumbent figure of some old knight lay grey behind the blue of the grape hyacinth of this new year; and on the lectern the Authorised Version and the New English Bible in perfect accord and mutual support. And in tower after tower, right down to the ultimate goal of Sherborne, the young rang with the old, and tiny offerings of fuel to the great Torch were thereby made.

And so to Sherborne and the Abbey, and the thoughts of that great Scholar of Malmesbury, Aldhelm, Bishop of Sherborne in 705 A.D. A greatly learned man, a stout Christian capable of wielding a flashing spiritual sword, and a poet of forceful expression. His description of a storm on the Cornish coast is one (says Helen Waddell) "which the Northumbrian Swinburne would be hard put to it to beat." Steeped in the wisdom of his time and its past, he was almost aggressively modern. Was it not he who stood on the bridge clad as a minstrel, singing scraps of the Gospel to secular tunes, if haply he might attract some men and women to the worship of God? So, surely, it was no ordinary thought which inspired the plaque on the wall of the new St. Aldhelm's School, which shows the Bishop sitting between a boy and a girl of this age, each child clad in the simple everyday costume of work and play. Aldhelm would have loved this school.

In this splendid building we held the annual meeting, and the Master spoke movingly of our late president, that great Christian gentleman and untiring servant of the Church of God and all that made for worship. This absence of Canon Cox seemed, by some strange and lovely twist of fancy, to bring him very much into our presence; and so much could we still find him near to us that it seemed natural to leave his chair vacant and to take no steps to fill his place.

The focus and very centre of the Festival was the service in the Abbey, its prelude an almost immaculate touch of Stedman Triples on the noble eight, and as Office Hymn before the Magnificat a course of Grandsire Caters rung on handbells at the chancel arch. As that great gathering of ringers raised their voices in a glorious swell of sound we could lift our eyes to the marvel of the fan tracery of that wonderful chancel roof, and could fancy, in the springing of vaultings, innumerable young trees growing from these ancient walls, spreading branches and gracefully uniting to perform their own function and their part in worship.

"Holiness unto the Lord." So, the Archdeacon told us in his address, the prophet Zechariah proclaimed that the bells on the horses would hold as their inscription in the Day of the Lord. "And every pot in Jerusalem," said the Holy Man, "shall be holiness unto the Lord of Hosts." Nothing is too mean (as George Herbert said) to offer worship and praise to God, and this, it would seem to us, was where Archdeacon Maddock's peroration led us. The ultimate function of the bells lies in the worship and praise of God, and as we pass the Torch from the old to the young this must be the burden of our valedictory message, just as it must be the fundamental of our teaching.

So we come home with pleasant and impressive pictures: of Ronald Marlow handling the great bell with consummate skill in the Cambridge 3-4 places; of the great crowd of eager youngsters of both sexes anxious to ring something on the heaviest ringing eight in the world; and above all, of one lonely young boy, hovering rather timidly in the shadows, hoping to get at least a few moments of rounds. And embracing all, the marvel and majesty of the great Abbey interior, the comradeship and the singing, and the perfect unity of young and old in this moving rededication. It is fitting that this occasion follows so soon upon the Great Resurrection Festival with its new promise, its new hope and its new call to service.

SUFFOLK GUILD HAS ITS PROBLEMS

Officers Combating Reverse Trend

THE Suffolk Guild was fortunate in having a fine day for its annual general meeting at Ipswich on May 1st. Throughout the afternoon and evening the bells of seven of the town's churches were rung to a wide variety of methods. Evensong at St. Lawrence's Church was conducted by Mr. Lawrence R. Pizzev (a theological student and an Ipswich ringer) with Mr. George W. Pipe (Ringing Master) reading the lesson. In an address pertaining to ringing, the Rev. W. H. Donnan retold his own recent experience on a bell rope after the stay had broken on the tenor bell of his parish church at Tannington, and his rather early heavenward ascent! A collection for the Guild's Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £3 15s. The ladies of the South-East District had prepared a splendid tea in St. Lawrence's Hall, which was enjoyed by 90 members and visitors.

THE GOOD AND THE BAD

The business meeting was presided over by the chairman (Mr. John W. Blythe), who welcomed visitors from Norfolk and Essex. The Ringing Master, in presenting his report, regretted the general decline in ringing throughout the diocese and the present state of the bands at the leading centres, i.e., Bury St. Edmunds, Debenham, Hadleigh, Helmingham, Ipswich, Leiston, Stowmarket and Sudbury, left much to be desired. He offset this by congratulating the beginners at the following towers: Beccles, Blythburgh, Bures, Ashbocking, Bramford, Blenley, Rushmere, Rougham and Oulton, whose example had set a most encouraging reverse trend. The striking competition had now proved a most popular event in the calendar and was held at Buxhall. Eight teams entered and the shield was won by a representative band from the South-East District.

Seventy peals had been recorded, an increase of 14 over 1963, with six members scoring their first peal. Congratulations were extended to C. W. Pipe and R. E. Lester for their 400th and 300th peals respectively for the Guild. Also to James Bennett on his 1,300th peal and George E. Symonds on scoring six in his 90th year! Quarter peals also totalled 70 in a variety of methods.

The general secretary presented his report and stated that the posts of chairman and report editor had been created during the year and the constitution of the committee enlarged. A big drop in membership to 327 from 412 in 1963 was reported, but the increase in the annual subscription and the abolition of compounding towers were given as contributory factors in addition to the general decline. A week-end course of instruction providing for the needs of prospective instructors had been held at Belstead House, Education Centre, Ipswich, and was attended by about 20 members. Lecturers Norman Chaddock, Ranald Clouston and Wilfrid Moreton were thanked, in addition to the organiser, Leonard Last. The financial statement revealed a satisfactory position. The balance in the General Account had increased to £164 14s. 4d. and the Restoration Fund balance stood at £113 17s. The secretary concluded his report by thanking members for past support and looked forward with confidence to a greater furtherance of the Guild's work.

TECHNICAL MATTERS

The technical adviser presented his report, which showed that a further ten inspections in Suffolk towers had been carried out, bringing the total to 276. Noteworthy items were the weighing of the Lavenham tenor at the bell foundry, which for many years had been recorded as 23 cwt. It had now turned the scales at 21 cwt. 0 qr. 7 lb. in D flat, truly a remarkable note for this weight. Also the removal of the octave at St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, to the Loughborough foundry following the partial disintegration of the tower. It was regretted, however, that no date was known for these bells' return. An experiment with welding was to be undertaken with the tenor at Bramford. In conclusion, the technical adviser said he had been reappointed to the Diocesan Advisory Committee for the Care of Churches by the Bishop and offered his advice and services in connection with bells and their hanging.

Mr. George E. Symonds presented the report of the Pearson Handbells Trustees and gave details of the bells on loan at present.

The adoption of the aforementioned reports were all moved by the respective officers concerned, seconded and carried. The chairman expressed thanks to all the officers for their hard work during the past year.

The officers of the Guild were all re-elected as follows: Patron, Mr. R. A. Vestey; vice-presidents, the Ven. T. R. Browne, Messrs. Bert Chilvers, Charles E. Fisher, Cecil W. Pipe, H. Claude Rush, Charles J. Sedgley and George E. Symonds; chairman, Mr. John W. Blythe; Ringing Master, Mr. George W. Pipe; general secretary and treasurer, Mr. Andrew T. Beckwith; report editor, Mr. Roger L. K. Whittell; hon. auditor, Mr. J. W. H. Preaster; hon. technical adviser, Mr. Ranald W. M. Clouston; Pearson Handbells trustees, Messrs. George E. Symonds and Roger L. K. Whittell.

Under any other business, the chairman said the General Committee had approved the establishment of a Guild library and asked all members if they would like to donate any books relating to ringing to the formation of such a library. A start had been made by Mr. Edwin Goate kindly offering to present a copy of Raven's "Church Bells of Suffolk" in memory of Charles Sayer, of Beccles. The Bishop's indisposition through illness was mentioned by Mr. C. W. Pipe, and the secretary was asked to write expressing the Guild's best wishes for a speedy recovery, and also to Charles E. Fisher (vice-president), who had been in poor health of late. The Ringing Master said the response to his circular letter appealing for donations towards the St. Mary-le-Tower Bells Appeal had been very encouraging to date and he thanked those who had generously given to the appeal.

The business was closed with votes of thanks, and ringing was resumed until well into the evening. A. T. B.

SOUTH WILFORD PEAL

Regarding the peal of Antelope Doubles rung at South Wilford (page 317), Mr. G. A. Dawson submits the variations used, all derived from an Antelope Plain Course.

Wilford.—Bob, Antelope; Single Grandsire. Shelford.—Bob, Antelope; Single Grandsire with 5th, 4th, 5th.

Holme Pierrepont.—Bob, Grandsire, 5th, 4th, 5th; Single ditto.

Sutton Bonington.—Bob, Grandsire, 5th, 4th, 5th; Single Antelope.

Lowtham.—Bob, Grandsire, 5th, 4th, 5th; Single Grandsire.

Shipstone.—Bob, Grandsire; Single Antelope. Worthington.—Bob, Grandsire, Single Grandsire with 5th, 4th, 5th.

Blackwell peal.—In the peal of Doubles at Blackwell (page 299), Mr. E. A. Harrison gives the following explanations:

Castle Hill.—St. Martin with Bob, Plain Bob and Single Old.

Boar Hill.—Winchendon Pl. with Bob, Plain Bob and Single Old.

Cliff Hill.—St. Martin with Bob, Plain Bob and Grandsire Extreme.

Nest Hill.—Winchendon Pl. with Bob, Plain Bob and Grandsire Extreme.

Kirkby.—Reverse St. Bartholomew Plain Course with Shipway's Place P.L. as a bob.

WILTSHIRE BELLS OF 1880 RUNG FOR FIRST TIME

MANY readers will have read with interest the account in "The Ringing World" by Mr. R. Russ of the efforts of Australian ringers to make the bells of the Town Hall, Adelaide, ringable after a silence of many years.

A similar project was recently carried out in isolated Chute Forest, Wiltshire, some seven miles from Andover. The church, a comparatively modern one built in brick with a shingle spire, was erected about 1880 by the wealthy Fowle family, and is approached by a muddy farm track.

At the same time, six bells were hung in a timber frame in the small tower, bells 2, 4, 5 and tenor being on one level with No. 1 and 3 hung above. A massive clock case in the centre of the ringing chamber hid bells 5 and 6 completely from 1, 2 and 3, with No. 4 hidden from them all.

It is my contention—and this was supported by the Vicar in 1958 on my first visit there—that the bells, although hung for ringing, were never rung. An elaborate chiming apparatus was installed with handles in the church, and pulley wheels over the holes in the belfry ceiling.

A challenge to this effect was published in "The Ringing World," and never disputed, in September, 1958. It was, therefore, with a feeling of jubilation that, after a long fight, permission was at last granted by the new incumbent, the Rev. G. M. Neill, previously of Great Bedwyn, to try to put the bells in order.

This, however, proved to be a bigger job than either of our two previous local unringables—Sydmonton and Hurstbourne Priors. Four successive Sunday afternoons were spent on the task in an endeavour to have the bells ready for Easter morning service. But by the previous week only five of the bells could be rung in rounds, these being Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5 and 6, the fourth bell still needing attention.

After a further five hours' work, mainly on wheel repairs, the fourth was finally raised, and with the bells fully muffled were rung in rounds by: M. Goss, Mrs. M. Green, G. Dodd, A. Green, G. Evans and Mrs. G. Dodd, and then, after a brief interval for removal of the clock case, the first changes consisting of a plain course of Grandsire and Bob Doubles were rung.

The final triumph came on Easter Sunday, when seven ringers from the towers of Highclere and Burghclere made a rush journey over to Chute after ringing at two Communion services at their churches. The bells were rung fully open for the first time for the Easter service. Members of the congregation were most appreciative of our efforts, and although we could not stay for their service because of getting back to ring for our own, we are sure that their day was made all the more memorable for hearing the bells for the first time. The chiming apparatus had been broken since the war.

Negotiations are under way for an open Sunday so that ringers can come and ring these bells and join in a service of thanksgiving with local residents.

Provisional date, June 27th, but watch for a notice in "The Ringing World." G. K. D.

The first peal rung on these bells is reported in our peal columns.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION Biggleswade District

Mr. L. H. Bywaters, the local tower captain, was Ringing Master when the Biggleswade District held an evening meeting at Henlow on May 8th. It was well attended and methods rung ranged from rounds in Cambridge, London, Primrose and Norwich Surprise. Some very good striking was obtained on the pleasant easy-going 14 cwt. six.

Next meeting: Roxton and Great Barford, June 12th. A. R. A.

GUILD OF CLERICAL RINGERS

Nottingham, 1965

THE annual ringing "Week" of the Clerical Guild was at a well-chosen centre, Nottingham. Apart from the weather, which was vile for late April, the arrangements worked excellently. We had a good hotel, well-varied selection of bells and were warmly welcomed wherever we went.

Inevitably the gathering this year began under the shadow of the death of our late president, Canon C. C. Cox. He had done so much for the Guild that some almost felt that he was the Guild. This shadow of the past was reinforced by the fact that we stayed in West Bridgford, for so many years the parish of Canon Wilkinson, a founder member and stalwart of past days. We rang at the church there, with its very effective device for silencing the bells, and we had our Corporate Communion in the same building where the reredos and altar rails are a memorial to Canon Wilkinson.

"AGGIORNAMENTO"

This splendid word was used by the late Pope John in opening the Vatican Council. Roughly, it means a new look. It is appropriately used to describe what is happening to the Guild of Clerical Ringers. As the Rev. R. D. St. J. Smith rightly said at the beginning of the annual meeting of the Guild, the best tribute we could pay to Canon Cox would be to carry on the work of the Guild to which he gave so much. From taking the chair as senior vice-president, Mr. St. John Smith was speedily translated to doing it as the newly-elected president. The members rightly acclaimed this election; the new president is a man who combines great ringing ability with genuine sincerity and the Guild is fortunate in having such a worthy successor to Canon Cox. Among the other signs of aggiornamento were the election of eight new members and the presence of the Revs. D. E. Ford, R. Keeley and R. O. Fry at the meeting. The last two rang in a memorial peal to the late president. With their help and that of Canon A. G. G. Thurlow the success of the peal was virtually assured. Fittingly called by the new president, it was brought round on the excellent eight at Greasley in the fast time of 2 hours 42 minutes. Reverting to the annual meeting, among other business was the election of Canon K. W. H. Felstead as vice-president in addition to Canon B. T. Sheppard and of the Rev. J. B. T. Homfray to join with the Rev. I. J. Richards to form the committee with officials. Again the choice of a younger man looked to the future rather than the past. In one election, however, aggiornamento was out of the question! No one could replace Prebendary J. H. B. Andrews as secretary and treasurer of the Guild. His blend of imperturbable efficiency and impish humour is unique.

FAMILY MATTERS

Another sign of the changing times is that the ringing week is becoming more and more a family affair. Wives and one sister have been for years a feature of "those present." This year we had Longbridge minor and Robbins minor with us all the time, and the daughter of the president for two days until school claimed her. The keenness of these younger ringers is good for the future and their presence added to the social character of the week. This is, of course, always part of the object of the exercise and extends beyond the towers in which we ring. It was, to a slight degree, lessened by the fact that so far as our hotel was concerned, we were, like Gaul, divided into three parts, sleeping in three different houses. One of these had a real fire alarm in the middle of the night. In an adjoining flat some furniture caught fire, producing volumes of acrid smoke. This aroused some of the sleepers and "Action Stations" was called and the fire brigade rung up. It was all something of an anti-climax because the fire was well out by the time the engine arrived but no doubt the incident will long be remembered by Wood minimus, who was brought out of bed for the occasion. The hotel had no bar and so refreshment was found at the Trent Bridge nearby. Here, one night, the locals were heard speculating on the identity of the body of husky men who advanced to the bar. One theory was that they were policemen but this gave way to the assurance that they were members of a choir when our worthy secretary, complete with the clerical collar lacking in the others, joined the party. Fancy not guessing they were ringers!

Another family took a hand at Sutton-on-Trent. There the Misses Burchnell gave a very warm welcome to the visitors. Canon Felstead produced, as is his wont, a list of peals rung in the tower. (Incidentally, how on earth does he find time to do this in addition to his many other duties?) Normally, the locals are interested and often surprised to find how many peals have been rung in their own tower. On this occasion our charming hostesses replied: "Oh yes, we have rung in all but one on your list." Then, just to show what they could do, they joined with the more skilful performers in a first-rate course of Yorkshire, some of the best ringing of the week.

THE RINGING

In the words of many District meeting reports, this ranged from rounds to London Surprise. There were several courses and one good touch of Double Norwich and quite a lot of Cambridge, both Minor and Major. At St. Mary's, Nottingham, we failed to do justice to a good ten, and a course of Boh Royal was fittingly described as more an exercise in perseverance than in ringing. At Basford everything went wrong from the rise to the fall but even so a band of ladies assembled outside the tower for a wedding (?). At Aspley, on a pleasant six, the Rev. P. T. Robbins kept some enthusiasts ringing a mixture of St. Simon's and Brayford, which is his own speciality, so making them late for lunch in the hall, where tea was kindly provided to wash down our packed meal. Stedman was rung in good measure and Grand sire for the less talented. Southwell Minster delighted those who did not know it and the building was well matched by the new twelve there. Grand sire Cinoues was successful but clerical Stedman failed. So the days went quickly by and all too soon we came to Shepshed, the last tower. Here Oxford Bob Triples, which had failed miserably at West Bridgford and Sutton-on-Trent, was triumphantly brought round. A final lower in good style and away we went. The sun shone and the M.1 lay ahead. So, full speed for our parishes in many parts of England and Wales, with happy memories of an excellent week and resolve to come again next year—which, we hope, will be in Sussex F. A. S.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

Annual General Meeting

THE annual general meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held at Berkeley on April 24th. In spite of several important items on the agenda, the attendance was somewhat smaller than of late, there being about 120 members and five visitors present. All of the retiring officers, with the exception of Mr. Eric Sutton, the hon. peal secretary, were re-elected: there was a ballot for Mastership, the Rev. F. F. Rigby being re-elected. Mrs. M. A. Wratten was appointed peal secretary after some amusing exchanges between the treasurer and the Master, and a question of whether or not Mrs. Wratten had either a typewriter or a secretary. It appeared that the Master did not realise that the candidate for the job was the wife of the treasurer. All reports were accepted as printed, and the Association is now well on the way to full financial recovery, though there has been another drop in numbers of members.

After some discussion, the draft of a new set of rules, prepared by a sub-committee over the last three years, was adopted; these rules will take effect from January 1st, 1966. The main difference will be that the Management Committee will be reduced in size and have greater powers to make proposals and take a fuller part in the running of the Association. It will now be also possible to alter subscriptions as required without alteration of the rules.

Mr. Eric Sutton had made a brave effort to get the peals written up, but with a backlog when he took office, and an increasing number of peals being rung, the task had become impossible. The members present decided that with the exception of the record multi-Minor peal at Castle Eaton, no more peals are to be written, but all are to be printed in full in the annual reports in future, copies of which are to be bound.

After 25 guineas had been voted to Mr. Eric Sutton, the balance of the Peal Fund is to go to the General Fund and will be used to cover additional costs of printing the reports. An attempt to have the peal booking fee reduced from 1s. failed.

The Association service, at which the Rev. W. F. Burlton, chairman of the Wotton Branch, preached, was well attended, and five members of the Wotton Branch took part in the service touch; four of the younger members acted as sidesmen and collected £6 17s. 2½d., which is to be used towards the cost of painting the frame at Berkeley.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Canterbury District

THE first annual striking competition of the Canterbury District for the trophy presented by the late Mr. Frank C. W. Knight was held at Great Mongeham on May 8th. It was disappointing to find only two teams competing—Whitstable and Canterbury Cathedral. Whitstable, who rang All Saints' Doubles, were placed first by the judge, Mr. J. R. Cooper, with 63½ faults, and Canterbury Cathedral (Plain Bob Minor) were a close second with 65½. A ladies' band rang 360 Plain Bob but they were not an official team.

Mr. Phillips had gone to a lot of trouble in making everything just right. The bells are perfect for a striking competition.

Letters to the Editor

GREAT ADVENTURE II

Dear Sir,—In my recent letter, which you kindly published in these columns, on the tour to Australia, I mentioned that we may be able to enjoy some concession in the travelling fare. I now have a letter from the Passenger Agency stating that providing at least 15 persons form a group travel party, then a 30 per cent. discount would be applicable on the round world air fare. This would make a fare of £336 each—a considerable saving which I sincerely hope will influence more people to join in this tour. A closing date for inquiries was made but, knowing that our Australian friends would like to see the arrival of a large party, this date will be extended to accommodate this new situation.—Yours faithfully,

T. J. LOCK.

Hatfield, Herts.

EXETER TENOR RUNG SINGLE-HANDED

Dear Sir,—Would you please allow me, through the columns of "The Ringing World," to congratulate Peter Border, who on Saturday last rang Exeter Cathedral tenor (72½ cwt.) single-handed to a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus. The ringing was of high standard throughout and was a superb performance by Peter and his fellow back-enders.

The Cathedral ringers are indeed proud to enter yet another outstanding event in the records of performance on Exeter Cathedral bells.—Yours faithfully,

N. MALLET.

Heavitree, Exeter.

Dear Sir,—As one of some two dozen or more keen listeners, I was privileged to hear what must be one of the greatest achievements in 250 years of change ringing. We heard a magnificent peal of 5,280 changes of Cambridge Maximus rung on the heavy 12 bells of Exeter Cathedral. Throughout the peal the tenor, Grandison, was placed with great accuracy by Mr. Peter Border single-handed. The whole band worked together well and it is without question the best 12-bell ringing that many of us have heard at Exeter.

Congratulations to the band and to Peter in particular for this worthy historic performance. — Yours sincerely,

FRANK D. MACK.

Exmouth.

RINGING ON HOLY SATURDAY

Dear Sir,—I feel I must join Mr. Caple in the way he has hit out at ringing in Holy Week and especially on Holy Saturday. The Rev. A. S. Roberts has by a rather subtle means tried to say all is well, but I am sure even he would agree that the Collect for Easter Day and thereafter is specifically prohibited from being used on Easter Even, therefore it is obvious in the context of Holy Week that the Church's message of its Risen Lord must not be proclaimed until Easter Day.

Personally, I do think that if, as ringers, we wish to witness—as surely our church bells should be doing—to the Risen Christ, no better way could be found than by a week of silence and then on Easter morning, as early as you like, let the joyous message ring forth as loud and as long as is humanly possible.

In the world of to-day, where God and the Church mean almost nothing to very many people, we should, as ringers, and, I trust, members of the Christian Church, witness in a way which is unmistakable and may indeed have a profound effect on many a wayward soul.—Yours faithfully

R. C. LUCAS (Rev.).

Rumney, Cardiff.

COLLECTION OF DOUBLES METHODS

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Derek Jones' letter (page 308), inquiries have been made regarding the printing or duplicating of "The Collection of Doubles Methods" by G. K. Dodd and R. H. Jones. In any case nothing will be done until Part D has been amended. Much information has been received since the publication of "The Collection" and this has to be "sifted." Any information regarding names, composition and callings would be gratefully received.

In "The Collection" Reverse Canterbury with a Plain Bob bob is called Southrepps. To ring Southrepps one starts as for Reverse Canterbury. If the tenor is called observation with this start, the bells will come round before 120 changes have been rung. Starting as for Plain Bob and then ringing Reverse Canterbury, the tenor may be called "observation" to give 120 changes. As written in "The Collection" information regarding the different start is not given—hence the reason for saying that the tenor cannot be called observation.

Southrepps has many other names—e.g., Stoke, Castle. These names refer to Southrepps no matter which bell is called observation. To distinguish (I suppose) the calling with the tenor as observation, the name Cadbury was given to it. Cadbury refers to one particular calling. Many ringers asked me for the composition of Cadbury. It was not another name for Southrepps (as is Castle) but the name of a particular calling. Considering these requests I decided to add the information to "The Collection" in such a position as to make it easy to find—the bottom of the group which referred to the "parent method"—Folke, Tredington (Reverse St. Bartholomew), Thrumpton (Fortune) and Preston (Northrepps) are names given to a particular calling of the "parent method"—the calling of which can be obtained only by having a different start from that of the method whose plain course forms the basis of the method.

Several ringers have asked for information regarding Alvaston and Shardlow. Alvaston is another name for Norfolk, and Shardlow for Broadwas.—Yours sincerely,

ROY H. JONES.

Marston, Oxford.

A BISHOP WHO RANG WITH BERT LANGDON

Dear Sir,—Last December, whilst teaching change ringing at Washington, I was contacted by a secretary at the College of Preachers and informed that Bishop Higgins, of Rhodesia, wished to meet me, and the meeting was arranged in the Cathedral belfry. Bishop Higgins had been "born within the sound of Bow bells," had been taught to ring, and before leaving for America at the age of 16 had rung a peal of Grandsire Triples conducted by the late Herbert Langdon.

Although I had not rung a peal with the late Mr. Langdon, I knew him very well for many years prior to 1939, and the Bishop was amused at a story of how a quarter peal of Stedman Caters for Sunday Evensong at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, had failed. Challis Winney had called the bobs, but he had to "make this all" when the bells failed to come round. Some good-humoured Cockney fun was poked at Challis as we left the tower, with Bert Langdon doing most of the quizzing. Challis—then over 80 years of age—could take no more and, in a violent outburst, silenced his tormentors.

I had promised to convey the Bishop's good wishes to his friend of long ago, but, alas, this was not to be.

Before leaving the belfry the Bishop pulled up, and rang the treble—the first time he had touched a bell for nearly 50 years.

FRED PRICE.

CATHEDRAL RECRUITING

Dear Sir,—I would like to comment on the usual method used by Cathedrals in obtaining new members, i.e. (1) using the ability of good ringers moving into the area; (2) using ringers formerly from other local towers. I know well that this method has been applied successfully in some cases; I think, however, I was reasonable to criticise it at Newcastle simply because it was unsuccessful there. The great advantage of it is that if successful it ensures that the ringing at a Cathedral is of a worthy standard.

The disadvantage of (1) is that it relies far too much on chance. Perhaps Newcastle is not so much of a centre as, perhaps, Birmingham, Leicester and London. The disadvantage of (2) is that it annoys any band to have its best member moving to the Cathedral. I believe I am right in saying that the mechanism of removal to the Cathedral has never been at Newcastle what Mr. Ainsworth states; I don't know about other places. Ringers have moved from other towers to Newcastle Cathedral, not as a reward for outstanding services, but simply because they were reasonably able and wanted to be Cathedral ringers.—Yours faithfully,

R. A. YEATES.

Newcastle upon Tyne.

CATHEDRALS SHOULD TRAIN OWN BANDS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Alan Ainsworth invites comments on his remark that Cathedral companies might "honour ringers from other churches in the diocese by inviting them to join the Cathedral band instead of the Cathedral band training its own ringers."

Presumably this would be so as to have their services to ring on Sundays instead of them ringing at their own churches.

This is only another way of poaching ringers, a practice which leads to the depletion of nearby service bands.

No doubt the invitation would only be extended to highly skilled ringers, i.e., the very ones most needed to maintain service ringing at their own church.

It is not just the loss of an odd ringer now and again which would have a detrimental effect on such nearby bands, but the fear that once a ringer reaches a certain standard there is danger of losing him, with the obvious harmful effect on progress.

Except in special circumstances such as a new installation, as at Guildford, where help of neighbouring churches is needed whilst a Cathedral band is trained, Cathedral and major churches should train their own ringers.

Often they are much better placed to do so than are lesser churches.—Yours, etc.,

"FAIRPLAY NEEDED."

HENRY JOHNSON'S BIRTHDAY

Dear Sir,—May I, too, offer congratulations to Derek and Jane Sibson on the birth of their son and heir, Andrew. I should like, however, to point out a discrepancy in the published dates ("Ringing World," May 7th, 1955) of the late Henry Johnson's birth date—March 26th in "Belfry Gossip," and March 28th in the Tottenham peal footnote. As I have always believed that I shared Henry Johnson's birth date, which is February 28th, hoping that in certain quarters I may be forgiven for doing so.—Yours truly,

FRANK E. DARBY.

Croydon.

TRURO GUILD OF RINGERS

The spring festival of the Penzance Branch was held at Madron (8) on May 1st. Over 80 ringers attended, and the service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. D. Cox.

The ladies provided a delicious tea, which was followed by a short business meeting.

Other towers open were Gulval, Ludgvan and Paul. M. C.

A CHESTER RINGING MASTER MARRIED

The wedding took place at Buckley Parish Church on May 8th of Mr. Geoffrey Parting, of Dodleston, Chester, and Ringing Master of the Chester Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild, and Miss Nancy Lloyd, ringer at St. Matthew's Church, Buckley, Flint.

The bells were rung prior to the service, the bridegroom joining in the ringing, and after the service, following the customary firing and Queen's, an attempt for a peal of Grandsire Triples was made by members of the North Wales Association and the Chester Diocesan Guild. Unfortunately this had to be called to a stand after 1½ hours' ringing owing to the indisposition of a member of the band. However, a quarter peal of Stedman Triples was afterwards rung to celebrate the happy event by the following: Miss B. A. Carter 1, F. R. Evans 2, B. R. Millward 3, D. E. Collins 4, M. H. Hodgkinson 5, D. H. B. Millward 6, J. W. Griffiths (conductor) 7, J. W. Bull 8.

Prior to leaving the church the bride and bridegroom were photographed in the ringing chamber by the Press and the event received mention in the B.B.C. Welsh News Service.

The ringers were afterwards entertained to tea by the bride's father, and Mr. D. H. B. Millward proposed a toast to the bride and bridegroom for a happy married life.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

After ten years' service as hon. secretary and treasurer of the East Devon Branch, Mr. W. Webb, of Honiton, did not seek re-election at the Branch annual meeting at Honiton on May 8th. He was sincerely thanked by the chairman (Mr. T. Sage) and Mr. K. Clarke. His successor is Mr. R. Woodley. Other elections were: Chairman, Mr. Sage; vice-chairman, Mr. J. Arbury; Ringing Master, Mr. C. Turner. A short talk on Honiton bells was given by the chairman and votes of thanks were passed to the curate, who conducted the service, and the organist.

Next annual meeting: Sidmouth, May 14th, 1966; quarterly meeting, Hemyock, October 9th.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

Twelve towers accepted the invitation of the Barnsley District Society to meet at Kirkheaton on May 8th. At the business meeting, with Mr. Noel F. Moxon in the chair, it was agreed that the Ringing Festival at Wakefield on June 12th of the Joint Council of the Yorkshire Association should take the place of the next meeting. Other fixtures: Outing, June 26th (names to Mr. C. Moxon); Shield Contest, July 10th.

Mr. R. Senior, on behalf of local ringers, welcomed the Society; they also provided cups of tea.

CAMBRIDGE MAXIMUS AT EXETER

MAY 8th is a date already established in history as a day associated with victory, and the 20th anniversary of the ending of the war in Europe saw another conquest which has made ringing history, namely, the ringing of the first peal on the bells of Exeter Cathedral, in which the tenor bell was turned in "single-handed." Only once previously has the bell been rung by one man, and that was to a peal of Stedman Caters, with William Pye on the tenor, when the bells were a ring of ten.

The band, drawn from many parts of the country, met at the Cathedral at 3.30 p.m., and set about raising the bells. "Grandison," the 72½ cwt. tenor, was pulled up by four men, and the strap-rope was duly removed. After some trial rounds and the adjustment of ropes, the bells went off into Cambridge Maximus at 4 p.m. A steady beat was established straight away at just under 20 changes per minute, and the first course-end came up 28 minutes later. With the prospect of some four hours' ringing ahead, the band settled down to enjoy these magnificent bells, and the peal was successfully accomplished in 4 hours and 26 minutes.

A number of ringers were listening outside all through the peal, some having come quite considerable distances, and any comment on the quality of the ringing is best left to them, but as one who was privileged to be inside the tower may I say that at no time during the peal was there any outward indication that Peter Border would not complete the length. He showed complete mastery over the bell from start to finish, and evidence of this exists in a tape-recording made by J. R. Taylor, of Bristol.

In conclusion may I, on behalf of Mr. Wilfred Williams, who organised the attempt, and also on behalf of the rest of the band, thank Mr. Fred Wreford, the Cathedral Ringing Master, for having everything ready for us on arrival, and also say a word of thanks to those kind ringers who came into the tower at the end of the ringing and assisted with the lowering of the bells.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD West Dorset Branch

The newly-appointed Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Fidler, gave a warm welcome to the West Dorset Branch when they met at Burton Bradstock on April 24th. Following the service, three lady members provided an excellent meal in the Reading Room.

Two members—Messrs. George Whitmore (Lyme Regis) and Tom Gunning (Beaminster)—were proposed for honorary life ringing membership.

Next meeting: Evershot with Melbury Osmond, June 26th. Practice meetings: Whitechurch Canoniscom, May 24th; Hawkchurch, June 9th; Beaminster, June 22nd.

OBITUARY

MR. GEORGE H. CROSS

An outstanding personality in the Exercise, Mr. George H. Cross, died peacefully at his home at Pinney's Cottage, Chardstock, Axminster, Devon, on May 10th, after a long illness. He was 71 years of age. A Norfolk man, Mr. Cross spent much of his life in the London area before retiring to Devon in 1954.

He learned to ring at the Church of St. John-de-Sepulchre, Norwich, a city which has given many noted men to ringing, including the late Mr. J. A. Trollope. Before leaving Norwich he was Master of the famous 12-bell tower at St. Peter Mancroft.

Coming to London in the 1920's, Mr. Cross joined the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths in 1927, he being then Master of the St. Clement Danes' Youths. In 1936 he was elected to the Mastership of the Cumberlands and he held this office for 17 years, there being a break of only one year. His ability and leadership attracted many well-known ringers to St. Martin-in-the-Fields. When he retired from the Mastership in 1954, members presented him with a silver salver, the presentation being made by Mr. F. E. Hawthorne, the senior steward, who succeeded him as Master. Mr. Cross presented to the Society his copies of "The Ringing World" from 1928 to 1953, which were specially bound.

Mr. Cross gave long service to the Central Council, being first elected as representative of St. Clement's, Youths in 1929 and serving for five years. With the Mastership of the Cumberlands he represented that body from 1935 to 1955. For many years he lived at Barneshurst, Kent, and he served the Kent County Association for a time as auditor.

His peals numbered over 600 and he was a conductor of note. To his memory are a number of compositions. In 1946 he took part in a programme of ringing presented by the B.B.C. His severance from London ringing on his retirement was keenly felt by his many friends. In the West Country he attended several ringing meetings, with the late Prebendary E. V. Cox.

The sympathy of the Exercise is extended to his widow, Marjorie, who has rung some 80 peals, and to his son and two daughters.

The funeral service was at Chardstock last Saturday afternoon.

MR. JOHN JEYNES

With sorrow, the ringers of Christ Church, Ebbw Vale, record the death of their oldest ringer, Mr. John Jeynes, on April 20th, at 86 years of age.

He came from Lynton, Herefordshire and was affectionately known as the "father of the ringers." A most faithful and regular churchgoer, he had been a member of the local band ever since the installation of the bells. He had rung many quarter peals. Very quiet and sincere, Mr. Jeynes was respected by young and old alike and will be greatly missed in the tower.

On the Sunday following his death a half-muffled quarter peal was unfortunately unsuccessful. His grandson was on the treble attempting his first quarter.

Canon Cox Remembered at Salisbury Festival

THE annual general meeting and festival of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was held at Sherborne, Dorset, on May 8th and attracted a good attendance. Lying almost at the centre of the large Salisbury Diocese, it provided a most convenient meeting place, and members were present from practically all the branches. Some 25 towers in and around Sherborne, in the North Dorset Branch, were open for ringing and full use was made of the opportunities during the permitted hours.

The meeting was at St. Aldhelm's C. of E. School, the Rev. R. Longridge (Master of the Guild) presiding. Supporting him were Mr. W. C. West (hon. secretary), Mr. F. Slatford (assistant hon. secretary), Mr. McCormick (chairman of the Sherborne U.D.C.) and the Rev. R. G. Chaffey Moore (chairman of the North Dorset Branch). Opening the proceedings, the Master welcomed the chairman of the District Council, who in his turn extended a warm and sincere welcome to Sherborne on behalf of the town. A similar welcome was also given by the Rev. R. G. Chaffey Moore.

After the confirmation of the minutes, Mr. West submitted his annual report and statement of accounts. The former noted the regretted loss of Mr. R. H. Duke, who had resigned as hon. secretary of the Dorchester Branch after many years of devoted service, and welcomed Mr. John Slade in his place. The biggest blow to the Guild had been the passing of the revered figure of Canon C. C. Cox, for 21 years Master of the Guild and latterly its president. Several peals had been rung to his memory with, by express wish, the bells left open.

An increased balance in hand of £7 12s. 6d. on the year's working was noted with satisfaction, and the secretary's action in realising £100 of 3½ per cent. Bonds and re-investing at 5 per cent. was unanimously approved. The report and accounts were accepted nem. con.

A moving tribute to the late Canon Cox was given by the Master and all stood in silence for a brief space. It seemed as if the benign presence and spirit of the late president hovered over the meeting and indeed the feeling persisted throughout the day. Others remembered who had passed away during the year were Messrs. F. R. Haines, J. Goddard, C. Perry, E. Mould and S. G. Pound.

A résumé of Branch activities was given by the Master, and the elections followed. These resulted in the Rev. R. Longridge being unanimously re-elected as Master, Mr. W. C. West as hon. secretary, Mr. F. Slatford as assistant hon. secretary and Mr. C. F. Andrews and Mr. J. S. Weeks as auditors. Mr. W. C. West expressed a wish not to stand for the Central Council again after 21 years' membership, and the Rev.

Roger Keeley was unanimously chosen in his stead. The other representatives are Messrs. G. Harding, G. S. Morris and J. T. Barrett. Mr. A. North, Mr. E. P. Bailey, Mr. A. Winters, Mr. A. Tom Gunning, Mr. W. Hart and Mr. V. C. Perrett were elected life members with acclamation.

The resignation of the Guild librarian, the Rev. W. Uphill, was received with regret, and tribute was paid to his past services. Mr. R. Longridge, of Okeford Fitzpaine, Dorset, is his successor.

A grant of £15 was made to the Wootton Bassett tower in aid of its restoration plans, and a useful and businesslike meeting concluded.

The festival service was held in the famous Abbey Church, conducted by the Vicar, Canon T. B. Wingfield-Digby. A service touch of Stedman Triples was rung by: E. C. Shepherd 1, G. W. Harding 2, E. W. J. Harding 3, D. Nibbs 4, H. G. Keeley 5, N. J. Knee 6, Rev. R. Keeley 7, J. Marlowe 8. During the service a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by H. G. Keeley 1-2, C. W. Powell 3-4, G. S. Morris 5-6, E. C. Shepherd 7-8, Mrs. C. W. Powell 9-10.

An eloquent address was given by the Archdeacon of Sherborne (the Ven. David R. Maddock, M.A.), tracing the mention of bells from earliest times.

Two hymns written by Canon Cox for the Guild were sung and also one which was especially requested at his funeral, but which unfortunately had to be omitted at that time. This was "Immortal, invisible, God only wise."

A bountiful meat tea was thoroughly enjoyed in St. Aldhelm's School at 5.30 p.m., at which over 100 sat down, and ringing was then resumed until 9 p.m. W. A. E.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Rochester District

A HANDSOME silver cup has been given by Mr E. J. Beer for a competition for Sunday service ringing in the Rochester District to be held later in the year at Rodmersham. At the District's quarterly meeting at Ash-by-Wrotham on April 24th, details of the competition were announced by Mr. George Butcher, and Mr. Beer was thanked for his kind gift by Mr. L. Mitchell and Mr. G. Butcher. Seven new members were elected and there was a discussion on the holding of annual meetings of the Kent County Association on Easter Monday.

Mr. L. Mitchell proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector (the Rev. S. W. Baker) for conducting the service and presiding at the meeting, the organist (Miss C. Meadway), to Mr. J. V. Muller (captain of Ash) and the ladies for providing tea.

Ringling was under the direction of Mr. L. Crouch, District Ringing Master, and a course of Grandsire Cinques was rung "in hand" after tea.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION Northern District

Cup Final fever caused a later start than usual for the monthly evening meeting, which was held at Walkern, the first time for many years, on May 1st. Despite showery conditions, a good crowd gathered to sample the rather quiet six, and experts and learners alike were able to satisfy their demands before the evening ended in the usual way.

We in the Northern District would like to thank the president of our Association, who travelled a fairly large mileage to be with us, and we look forward to seeing him at our other meetings throughout the year. J. K. O.

THE HEREFORD RINGING COURSE

WARM springlike weather greeted ringers arriving in Hereford on the evening of St. George's Day for the third week-end Ringing Course to be held at The Training College until the afternoon of Sunday, April 25th. The course was organised by and under the direction of Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton, a vice-president of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, and the instructors were Mr. Michael Hatchett, Mr. F. Sharpe and Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson. Mr. Austin T. Wingate was responsible for the local arrangements.

Hereford is fortunate in having a number of energetic teenagers who have attended the previous courses. They seem to grow noisier with each successive course, but they, together with founder members from other Associations, do much to assist newcomers to settle down quickly. The amenities of the College and the excellence of the food were superb, in fact some people were heard to remark that there was too much time spent in eating and drinking!

who have attended courses at Hereford. He commenced on Friday evening with a lecture which was illustrated with slides, on bells, and, in particular, Hereford bells. He is at present engaged on a survey of the Herefordshire towers and he very soon had his audience wishing they had been able to accompany him on some of the visits to the more interesting places he described. Only one-fifth of the towers have been visited as yet, but already it is apparent that Herefordshire is unique in the number of old and interesting bells it possesses. A 13th century bell which formerly hung in a church at Brockhampton was on view, and a Sanctus bell cast by a local Hereford founder, John Finch, in 1629.

AN AMERICAN BEGINNER

One of the enrolment forms received was endorsed: "I am a beginner." No one realised just how much a beginner until after the first practical session. However, local resources proved equal to the occasion, and Mrs. Asta Almond became the first American to learn to handle a bell at Hereford Cathedral. Before the course ended she was able to attempt her first rounds.

Last year suggestions were put forward for a complete group on tunc ringing, but as so often happens only one application was received, and this was not from any of the people who had made the request. However, sufficient volunteers were forthcoming and Mr. Sharpe was able to achieve a certain amount of success with this group.

The progress made by the Hereford teenagers can be judged from these courses. This year they were in the advanced group, and their instructor was Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson, who dealt with Surprise Major and gave an introductory talk on ten-bell ringing. The beginners were under the care of Mr. Michael Hatchett. Practical sessions were held at the Cathedral, three eight-bell and five six-bell towers, and Sunday service ringing took place at the Cathedral and All Saints'.

Was it worth it? This is probably best answered by repeating one of the last questions asked before farewells were said—"Will there be another course next year?" Once again 40 people had met together bound in their common interest in ringing. They had worked together, discussed their own particular difficulties, exchanged views about bells in their own towers, listened to others who were talking about their own bells, and about ringers and ringing in its many forms. All had made new friends during the week-end in Hereford, many of them will no doubt return in the future, all will be welcomed if they do. All of them would be returning with at least some of their problems solved, and better equipped to meet future problems.

Thanks must be expressed to the instructors for the careful attention and patience shown to all. The Hereford Ringing Course, 1965, is now a memory, but already thoughts are turning to the course for 1966. G. T. C.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Despite inclement weather, the quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch at Mulbarton was well attended; the service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. C. J. H. Sanderson. Messrs. C. H. and L. Kiddle, the Rev. H. M. A. Crawshaw (Garveston), Messrs. D. R. Staveley (Thurton), H. Tinsey (Wramplingham), A. B. Warnes, F. Draper, A. Cator, (Mulbarton), Paul S. Royd-Jones, Jonathan A. Royd-Jones, W. Sawyer (Gresham School) were elected members.

The president (Mr. Nolan Golden) asked members to consider the possibility of a week-end ringing course at Morley College some time during 1966. He also congratulated Mr. C. Moore, who has completed 30 years as Ringing Master at Hethersett.

The chairman (Mr. G. Sayer) thanked the Rector, Mrs. Valiant for playing the organ, the Adcock family and all who provided and assisted with the tea.

Surrey Association Honour Mr. F. E. Collins

MAY DAY is an important date in the year for many an organisation, not least the above Association. Although the weather still reminded one of the previous month, many ringers converged on Reigate, mostly from Kingswood and Redhill, whose towers were open before the service which was to be held at St. Mary Magdalene's, Reigate. The Association service was conducted by the Rev. N. J. Stowe, the theme of whose address being "The Message of the Ropes." He showed how ropes were associated with three things in the Bible—repentance, rebuke and release from sin. The organ was played by Mr. Harding. Tea was taken by the company of about 100 members in the recently completed Church Hall opposite. Mr. A. P. Cannon, the Master, presided at the meeting.

Mr. J. W. Parrott, the secretary, presented the report, stating: "1964 was a year of steady progress, for which we are grateful to all who have made it possible. The year brought distinction to the Association in two ways. Our Master, Mr. A. P. Cannon, rang his 1,000th peal, and we extend to him our congratulations on this unique achievement in joining the select band. There are few ringers who ask for and receive as much leg-pulling as our Master and we tend to overlook the sterling work he does in encouraging young ringers. Perhaps only Ernest Morris of the four-figure peal ringers has had as many first peal ringers in his peal. A 1,000th peal is a great occasion, so is a first peal!"

The secretary had been elected to the Biographies Committee of the Central Council. In 1964 Mr. F. E. Collins retired as Northern District Master after serving in that capacity since 1945 apart from the three years he served as General Master. He had also represented the Association on the Central Council since 1945 and had served on its Towers and Belfries Committee since 1952.

HIGH TURNOVER OF MEMBERSHIP

Membership had increased during the year and stood at 381, chiefly due to an increase in the Southern District. The turnover of members remained high, nearly 25 per cent., but this was perhaps inevitable with the very large number of young people in the Exercise. Only one member died during the year, and they paid their respects to Mrs. Norah Shorter of Walton. Truly a pioneer of ladies' rights to become ringers and a stalwart for the Association, she served as secretary of the former Western District.

Another increase was reported in the peal total for the year. All 48 were on tower bells but five were rung outside the county. The total was made up as follows: Cinques 1, Royal 4, Caters 6, Major 15, Triples 5, Minor 15 and Doubles 2; 137 ringers took part, of whom 73 were resident members. There were 16 first-pealers, and they congratulated Miss J. Geiringer, K. Game, A. R. Millidge and W. J. Muntin on calling their first peals.

Quarter peals showed a small decrease but the total was still high at 192 in 31 towers. They welcomed Battersea to their list of towers with members and wished Mr. R. Cooles every success in his efforts there. They were sorry to report that ringing at the two Wandsworth towers had stopped, which put an end, for the time being, to the excellent work done there by Mr. M. Uphill. Benhilton and Betchworth were out of action and Kingston was planning a major overhaul. Merstham had been augmented to eight.

Mrs. M. V. Chilcott presented the treasurer's report. She stated that 1964 had been a successful year. The accounts were in a healthy state and the Belfry Repair Fund now stood at £203 4s. 2d. Leatherhead had been granted £20 towards the restoration of their bells.

After the election of 17 resident and non-resident ringing members the Master (Mr. A. P. Cannon) proposed Mr. F. E. Collins as a vice-president of the Association in honour of the many years he had served them as an officer and representative. This received unanimous approval. The Master then invited Mr. Collins to take the chair for the remainder of the meeting.

In taking his new place, Mr. Collins thanked the members for their kind gesture. General officers for 1965 were elected as follows:—Master, F. E. Collins; honorary secretary, W. Parrott; assistant secretary, A. G. Clark; hon. treasurer, Mrs. K. E. Chilcott; auditor, M. V. Chilcott; liaison officer to Guildford Guild, F. E. Collins. The election of the three members to be the Central Council representatives for the 1966-69 session provided some excitement. The first ballot placed Mr. A. P. Cannon and Mr. W. Parrott at the top, but the third member had to be agreed after a second ballot, there being a dead heat for the third place. He was Mr. Alan Streeter.

The chairman proposed that the 1966 annual general meeting be held at St. John's, Croydon, it being his last year in the county. The meeting unanimously adopted Mr. Collins' proposal.

MORAL STAND

Mr. F. H. Cook proposed "that a selection of ringers' prayers be composed, printed, and circulated to towers, and that tower captains be requested to read one before or during service ringing." His proposal was seconded by Mr. G. West. Mr. A. Patterson objected, regarding the matter as one for the tower captains' discretion, not the Association's. Mr. W. Parrott replied that it was the Association's duty to take a moral stand. "We should lead, and not follow others like sheep," he said. The motion was carried.

There was unanimous approval to a motion by Mr. G. West making the proposer of a new member responsible for the initial subscription.

Mr. W. Parrott proposed that "no peal shall be recorded as being rung for the Association unless all members of the band were properly elected members of the Association at the commencement of the peal. The conductor of the peal shall send to the general secretary of the Association within two weeks of the ringing of a peal for the Association the same information as is sent for publication to 'The Ringing World.'" Where a composition was rung for the first time the details should also be sent to the general secretary.

Under any other business the secretary stated that Mr. D. West had resigned his post as Association librarian. The committee thanked him for his services and nominated Mr. K. Game in his place. The library remained at St. John's, Redhill. It was proposed to send a list of all books in the library to every tower, and he appealed to members to help bring it up to date by donating new publications and thereby leave their names for posterity. Mr. W. F. Oatway had once again kindly presented a 1964 bound copy of "The Ringing World."

Mr. R. Davies asked about the writing up of the peal books. The hon. secretary replied that Mr. Leyton was now working on 1951 and was progressing steadily. Mr. A. Streeter suggested that in view of the duplicator having to be hired at a cost of over £5, one should be purchased. The matter was referred to the committee. Mr. F. E. Darby asked about the possibility of instituting a peal secretary. This was heartily endorsed by Mr. Parrott, and here again the chairman asked if the committee might decide on this. The meeting agreed.

The collection for the Belfry Repair Fund amounted to the record figure of £5 11s. 7d. The chairman then formally moved thanks to all who had helped make the annual general meeting most successful. He especially thanked Mr. and Mrs. Streeter and their helpers for the glorious tea, and all members of the Southern District for their hospitality.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Harry Gaylord, of Yeovil, Somerset, has now rung the Stedman family from Doubles to Cinques.

Messrs. Taylors, of Loughborough, have promised to repair the damage of the bell frame at St. Peter Mancroft before the end of the year, and to have the 12 ringing again.

Mr. Bert Gogle, of Norwich, entered the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital and has had the operation on one of his eyes. We wish him well.

The band who rang the quarter peal on April 22nd at Melbourn, Cambs, would like to thank Miss J. Sanderson for standing in at five minutes' notice.

Mr. James R. Lawson, carillonneur of the Riverside Church, New York, is giving regular recitals at the New York World Fair on the Belgian village carillon containing 41 bells cast in Holland by Eijsbouts Foundry.

Mr. Edwin Barnett writes: "I realise that with advancing years one's memory tends to become less reliable, but surely I am right in thinking that Henry Johnson's birthday (see page 312) is February 29th, not March 26th."

Corrections: The weight of the tenor at Tenterden is 27 cwt. 3 qr. 23 lb. in D (page 315). First peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major at Erith was on July 8th, 1955 (page 315). Mr. T. E. Sone writes: "My old friends Bert and Fred were also in it."

Mr. J. A. G. Ball, of Fareham, Hants, has been at Greenwich Naval College for five years and has been a great help to the local band. He will be leaving shortly, and was glad to have the opportunity of ringing in a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Alfege's Church on May 8th.

GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL DEDICATION

The dedication of the ten bells at Guildford Cathedral took place last Monday evening, the Bishop of Guildford (the Rt. Rev. G. Reindorp) officiating in an impressive ceremony. The tone and "go" of the bells received many favourable comments and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have made a most satisfactory job. Appropriately, Mr. Harry Parks, who hung the bells at Washington Cathedral, hung these bells with Mr. Lewry; they are of the same weight as the well-known American ring and came off the same drawing board.

After the dedication the opening touch of Stedman Caters was rung by a band selected from the four Districts of the Guild, consisting of H. N. Pittow (Banstead, head ringer at Westminster Abbey) 1, C. W. Denyer (Farnham, vice-president of the Guild) 2, F. W. Housden (Shalford, Guild librarian) 3, S. G. Ponting (Milford, Central Council representative) 4, C. W. Munday (Ewell, Guild secretary) 5, T. Page (Aldershot, Master Farnham District) 6, D. A. R. May (Old Woking, Master of Guild) 7, F. E. Hawthorne (Thames Ditton, Master, Chertsey District) 8, C. H. Kippin (Farnborough, Guild treasurer) 9, R. G. Collins (Chobham, secretary Chertsey District) tenor. The Master conducted.

An open day will be held next Saturday, May 22nd, from 11 a.m. until 5.45 p.m.

A peal attempt will take place on Sunday, May 30th.

CELEBRATING THE FESTIVAL

The Cecil Arms public house at St. Stephens-by-Saltash, Cornwall, was granted its first all-day drinking licence for an open bellringing festival on May 8th.

Fourteen teams of ringers competed. The Botus Fleming team had what the organiser, Mr. L. G. Hodge, called "the highest standard of ringing for many a year," and gained top honours with the Morval and Lansallos teams in second and third places.

Before the festival a service was conducted in the church by the Vicar, the Rev. S. A. R. Guest.

TOM MYERS IS PEAL RINGING AGAIN

The band which rang the peal at St. Germans would like to welcome Mr. Tom Myers back to the peal columns after an absence of 19 months due to his long illness. We hope it will be the first of many similar peals.

We would also like to associate the peal with Harry and Rene Stacey, who were celebrating their 20th wedding anniversary on that day.

NOT A SILENT EASTER

The report of "The East Anglian Daily Times" that the bells of Great Hallingbury, Essex, were silent this Easter is incorrect (page 312). Mr. Douglas R. Hutley, of Carfield Lodge, Hadham Road, Bishop's Stortford, writes refuting this. His letter states: "I have been a ringer at St. Giles' Church, Great Hallingbury, for 38 years and can assure 'The East Anglian Daily Times' that the bells were rung for the evening Easter service by two ringers from St. Michael's, Bishop's Stortford, one from St. Mary's, Stansted, my wife and myself. After the service, Canon Grant, Vicar, shook hands and thanked us for a very good half-hour's ringing!"

ASPIRATIONS

Gone are the days when plain methods sufficed,

My thoughts are of Cambridge, or Surfleet, or Spliced;

I ring endless courses of Kent in my head, And work out the bobs and the places in bed;

To ring Double Norwich I keenly aspire, A short touch of London's my earnest desire;

I fancy conducting a Stedman six-score, I fancy conducting a few methods more;

In spite of all this I repeatedly find That when ringing Bob Doubles I'm dodging behind;

Or at a plain lead causing chaos and din, By omitting the 3-4 and running straight in!

Yet gone are the days when plain methods sufficed;

My thoughts are of Cambridge, or Surfleet, or Spliced.

E. M. B.

A GOOD EASTER TOUR

The highlight of Mr. J. Martin-Thorley's Easter peal tour, which included successes of four peals for the Lincoln Guild, three for the Peterborough Guild and one for the Yorkshire Association, was a peal rung silent and non-conducted at Deeping St. Nicholas. Of this peal he writes: "I can vouch for the correctness of the silent peal—all the bobs and singles were made correctly. No indication was made to any ringer and the only word spoken was 'Go' by the treble ringer, the bells being lowered immediately after the last extent." The peal was one of Minor in seven methods.

WILLIAM HODGE

When asked to write a short epitaph in verse, a schoolboy ringer of St. Albans produced the following (no reference is intended to any ringer known to himself or otherwise):

Here lies the body of William Hodge Who, whilst ringing Grandsire, forgot to dodge.

He felt so ashamed that, when they "came round,"

He quietly collapsed and fell to the ground.

L. B.

MR. E. C. THRALE

Mr. Ernest H. Masten, of Downham Market, sends us the following tribute to Mr. E. C. Thrale:

"The foundation of my ringing career was well and truly laid when I joined the Newark-on-Trent band as a probationer in 1924. My rapid progress and enthusiasm was almost entirely due to the patience of Ted Thrale.

"From struggling with Grandsire Doubles to Stedman Caters was achieved in a very short time, and for two years I was able to appreciate ringing with a band of ringers for whom only the best was good enough. Thanks, Ted."

ALAN PEAL

Grateful thanks are due to Alan W. Payne, from Over, Cambs, who stood in the "Alan" peal at St. Clement's, Ipswich, at the last minute. This was intended to be an all-Suffolk residents' peal.

NORTH TIDWORTH BELLS

The sympathy of Hampshire ringers goes out to Sergeant Julian Smith, stationed at Tidworth, Wilts, who, previous to the induction of a new incumbent, had worked to put the bells in ringable condition so that they could be rung at the induction service last November.

On October 21st six ringers from Longparish and Highclere received permission from Dr. Oliver, priest-in-charge, to oil the bells and fit a new treble rope, after which the bells were raised for the first time this century and rung for an hour, the rope circle falling 1, 3, 2, 4, 5.

The "go" was quite good considering the long years of silence; however, it has since transpired that a week previous to the service, on the architect's advice, the bells were regarded as unsafe and can be chimed only. This, of course, the ringers dispute.

The present Rector and churchwardens will not allow any ringing, so it appears that all Sgt. Smith's work was in vain and the bells will probably remain unringable once again for another 50 years.

FAN WORSHIP

The report of the third week-end course at Hereford contains this cryptic reference: "The popularity of a certain instructor who was engaged elsewhere was responsible for the Leighton Buzzard party being reduced to half of the usual strength. This has, however, been duly noted and it is hoped that he will be available at Hereford next year."

ROPE FEE AT ROTHERHAM

At the last annual meeting of the Rotherham Parish Church ringers, in agreement with the Vicar and churchwardens, it was decided that a rope fee of 2s. per ringer would be payable for peal attempts. This could be waived in special circumstances. We also acknowledge from this tower a donation of two guineas towards "The Ringing World" funds. There is evidently at Rotherham the spirit of giving and not just receiving all the blessings that come our way.

FOUR YEARS AFTER

THE addition of a new ring of ten bells to English ringing is a significant event and it is more significant when it is part of the appurtenances of the nation's newest Cathedral at Guildford. Interest is also added to this new ring by the bells being a facsimile of those of Washington Cathedral, which were dedicated nearly a year ago, and their opening ringing by ten English ringers made a deep impression on both sides of the Atlantic.

To many living in the Guildford Diocese the presence of a ring of bells of the highest quality in the Cathedral within four years of consecration seems hardly believable. That the Cathedral should have bells worthy of the building has always been an aspiration of the Diocesan Guild. When the Cathedral consisted merely of a crypt chapel it was members of the Guild and a few friends who provided the memorial bell to John S. Goldsmith, the founder of "The Ringing World." It was just a tinkling treble but it could be heard in the valley below, where Guildford Corporation have a housing estate, and beyond in Onslow Village. Many of those who were present at that dedication are no longer with us. We think of Alfred H. Pulling and A. Charles Hazelden, and both of them will be personally identified with the Cathedral—Alfred by a memorial bell and Charles by the Guild Library, which it is hoped will eventually be housed in the spacious ringing chamber. The Goldsmith bell now has a solemn duty: daily it is heard during the celebration of Holy Communion in the Lady Chapel.

Even before the Goldsmith bell the thoughts of the Guild had been on these bells. Almost from the laying of the foundation stones there had been an annual token grant to the Guild's Cathedral Bell Fund, which from time to time was augmented by other gifts. Hopes of an early completion of the Cathedral were blighted by the 1939 war. Work was at a standstill, and even when peace came at last Bishop Macmillan's decision, endorsed by the Diocesan Conference, to suspend building operations because of the acute housing shortage, lost almost another ten years. Public opinion was eventually galvanised into action by a challenge to the diocese either to build or pull the gaunt edifice (as it then was) down.

But in the interval costs had soared. What would have cost about £250,000 was now £1,000,000. Money came in consistently, although not at the rate of Coventry Cathedral, until about two years ago an appeal was made for a big final effort to raise £300,000 over five years. Throughout these money-raising appeals there was a silence about bells; no indication was given by the Appeals Committee. The Guildford Guild, however, did not adopt a passive attitude. Advantage was taken of the passing of Mr. A. H. Pulling to launch an appeal to provide a bell; there was also another bell giving commemoration, the life of a mother of a bellringer, and the architect, Sir Edward Maufe, became interested, firstly in designing appropriate ringing and bell chambers, and then in the bells themselves. Probably no ringer did more to keep alive the spark of bell interest than the Master of that period, Mr. C. W. Denyer.

The appointment of Dr. George Reindorp, former Provost of Southwark, as Bishop of Guildford, brought a staunch ally to the Guild, but he approached the question in an unorthodox way. Something like £10,000 additional was needed to provide the bells, and he placed this responsibility on the shoulders of the Guild and expected the task to be fulfilled in 18 months! The Guild Executive, then under the chairmanship of a young Master, Mr. D. A. R. May, was nonplussed, and informed the Bishop that the raising of such a sum was beyond the capabilities of the members of the Guild if they were to be loyal to the Christian Stewardship demands of their respective parishes. As an alternative they suggested, and it was accepted by the diocese, that each of the four Districts should be responsible for one bell. To this there was a loyal answer from each District.

The enthusiasm of the Guild and its backing by the Bishop—although no mention of bells was included in any appeal literature—had fruits in other directions. More individual donors were forthcoming and finally Brigadier and Mrs. Derek Schreiber, of Box Hill, Dorking, as a thankoffering for the recovery of their daughter after a serious motor accident, gave a handsome donation that met the cost of the two tenor bells. The order was given personally by the Bishop to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank with an imperative demand for completion by May 17th, the fourth anniversary of the consecration of the Cathedral.

The task has been worthily fulfilled. With no little pride, members of the Guildford Guild looked down from their reserved seats in the south gallery to the crossing below, where was enacted the solemn service of dedication, and heard the Bishop's pronouncement to the Dean: "Receive these bells that we now solemnly set apart from all profane and unhallowed uses as a sacred trust committed unto the Chapter of this Cathedral and take care they be ever and only served in God's service and for his glory."

Impressive Dedication] of Guildford Cathedral Bells

With ceremonial dignity, the new ring of ten bells of Guildford Cathedral was dedicated on May 17th in the presence of a vast congregation, which included H.R.H. the Duchess of Gloucester with her lady-in-waiting, Miss Jean Maxwell-Scott. The ceremony was timed to coincide with the fourth anniversary of the consecration of the Cathedral, and incorporated in the service was the dedication of the Chapter House, the South Garth and the organ casing.

The long aisles enabled the picturesque dignity of the various processions to be seen in a perfect setting. The mitred Bishops, the richly-ornate copes of the Cathedral dignitaries, the dress uniforms of the Deputy Lord Lieutenant and other officers, the long files of surpliced clergy and lay-readers gave colour to the proceedings. The Bishop of Guildford met the Duchess of Gloucester at the West Door and escorted her to a special seat at the entrance to the choir.

DINED WITH BISHOP

Her Royal Highness had previously had dinner with Bishop G. E. Reindorp and Dr. Alix Reindorp and with them were Brigadier Derek Schreiber (hon. treasurer of the Cathedral Fund) and Mrs. Schreiber and their daughters, Lady D'Arcy de Knayth and Miss Susan Schreiber. It was through the Brigadier's munificence that what seemed like the task of a decade enabled the bells to be provided within a few weeks and the tenor and ninth are their special gifts.

Two other personalities present call for special mention. Guildford Cathedral was started as far back as 1931, and throughout this long period there has been only one architect—Sir Edward Maufe. Lady Maufe, his wife, is head of the Broderers' Guild, responsible for tapestries, robes and kneelers (all hand-made with individual designs). The biggest single gift to the Cathedral—the Chapter House—was from Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Waites, who were also present.

The welcome was given by the Dean (Bishop George Clarkson) "to give thanks to God for His continued blessing upon us, for the skill of our craftsmen and the zeal of our workers. . . . This was followed by the 150th Psalm sung to Stanford's setting. Lt.-Col. W. W. Dove, of Dove Bros., builders of the Cathedral, read the lesson. The dedications of the Chapter House, the Garth and the organ casing were first completed.

The dedication of the bells took place at the entrance to the choir. A rope had been let down from the ringing chamber, and this was handed by Brigadier Schreiber to the Dean as signifying the handing over by the donors of the bells. On behalf of the Chapter, the Dean accepted the gifts and asked the Lord Bishop to dedicate them. The prayers preceding dedication included one for the ringers: "Grant that all who shall minister to Thy service by ringing them may be filled with reverence and continue in holiness of life"; and another for "those whom we love but see no more," during which the thoughts of many ringers were with Alfred H. Pulling and "Margaret," the mother of a Guildford ringer.

As the actual dedication took place there was a pause after "the Father," again after "the Son," and finally of "the Holy Ghost." During these pauses the seventh bell—the ringers' memorial to Alfred H. Pulling—was tolled three times by Mrs. Jill May, the wife of the Master, thus enabling the women bell-ringers of the Diocese to have a representative in the ringing for the service.

COME

Dr. Reindorp based his sermon on Revelations xxii: "And the Spirit and the bride (the Church) say, Come. And let him that heareth say Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."

The Bishop said there were many who with the tinselled pleasures that passed for life

GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL BELLS. — The ten bells of Guildford Cathedral inside the brick tower. The frame is made of jarrah wood, which is noted for its hardness. When Messrs. Mears and Stainbank first visited the belfry they were very disturbed about the acoustics. The echo in the belfry was very alarming, but fortunately there has been time to have the concrete roof surfaced with acoustic material, which has eliminated the echo and thus enhanced the clarity of the bells.

had a deep thirst for the water of life. How many of the half-million people of the Diocese were like that, and also how many more of the half-million who would move into the Diocese in the next 15 years?

The bride was the Church and she said "Come." Did the Church attract people today? Christianity, yes. Christ, yes. The Church, no. Their Cathedral was dedicated to God's Holy Spirit, and their bells, symbols from the early days of Christendom, rang out in thankfulness and joy and said to all people, come to the things of God, come to the love of Christ, for which their Cathedral existed. In answer to the prayers of many, the Cathedral had become the Mother Church of the Diocese. Great services had been held there, great music had been given, and also there had been great silences. People had come there from all over the world to share in the beauty of the Cathedral and to derive inspiration.

As their Bishop, he asked them corporately and individually to finish the task of building the Cathedral. The end was in sight. "Before the new university comes to join us on Stag Hill let us make sure our Cathedral stands gloriously free of debt. It will say to the 3,000 university students and 400 staff, Come, for the Spirit says to him that hears our bells and our music. Come."

The service concluded with the singing of the Nunc Dimittis to the setting in G by Stanford.

The bells did not start ringing until the organist, Mr. Barry Rose, had concluded his voluntary. The Duchess waited with the people outside to hear the bells before leaving. The opening ringing was disturbed by the flashes of Press photographers anxious to secure action pictures and also by the ropes, which were tested for length at the preliminary practice the previous Thursday, contracting with the showery weather, which necessitated hands in loops for some of the band. A second start was necessary on the touch of 393 Stedman Caters, but confidence was soon restored and the beauty of the bells was forthcoming. There was a very good lower in peal, the tenor being rung by Mr. Alan Ainsworth, Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, who for two years lived in the Diocese.

Mr. William Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hughes were present at the service and afterwards they received congratulations from diocesan officials and ringers on the tone and "go" of the bells. Two who were with the party at Washington were among those listening—Mr. John Chilcott and Mr. Frank C. Price.

The band consisted of Mr. H. N. Pittow (Banstead) 1, C. W. Denyer (Farnham) 2, F. W. Housden (Shalford) 3, S. G. Ponting (Holy Trinity, Guildford) 4, C. W. Munday (Ewell) 5, T. Page (Aldershot) 6, D. A. R. May (Old Woking, conductor) 7, F. E. Hawthorne (Thames Ditton) 8, C. H. Kippin (Farnborough) 9, Roy Collins (Chobham) 10.

SUBSCRIPTION INCREASE FOR BEDFORDSHIRE

THE Bedfordshire Association held its annual meeting in Bromham Village Hall on May 1st, when over 60 resident members were present. The main point on the agenda was the amendment of Rule 6 concerning subscriptions, and the proposition before the meeting was to increase these. Taking each clause in turn, it was agreed by the majority to increase ringing membership to 5s. per annum (under 16, 2s. 6d.); life resident membership to five guineas; honorary membership for a fee of not less than 5s. per annum. Non-resident membership is to remain as at present, 5s. for life.

A proposition to revise the District boundaries was also agreed upon. It was decided to form a committee who would look into the matter, and arrange for suitable areas to be exchanged.

The next annual meeting is to be held on May 7th, 1966, in the Maulden/Silsoe area.

The officers elected were: President, Mr. A. E. Rushton; general secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. S. Smith; auditor, Mr. C. E. Jeffries; librarian, Mr. J. B. Long. Two additional vice-presidents elected at this meeting were Messrs. A. J. Smith and M. J. Lockey.

Ringling arrangements were well supported both by members of the Association and also by visitors. Eleven towers were open during the course of the day from 10.15 a.m. to 8.45 p.m.

A service was held at St. Owen's, Bromham, conducted by Mr. D. G. Mabey, the Vicar (the Rev. T. D. Evans) giving a short address. Tea prior to the business meeting was in the Village Hall, Bromham—an excellent spread prepared by Miss K. Rivett and helpers.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

"The Ringing World" Debate

THE annual general meeting of the Association was held at Rotherham on May 1st. Nine towers, besides the Parish Church, were open for ringing during the day and were well used. A short service was conducted by the Vicar of Rotherham (the Rev. A. Hollis), who also gave the brief but admirable address. Tea in the parish rooms was served by the wives and mothers of the local ringers.

Archdeacon C. O. Ellison presided at the business meeting, which was attended by the disappointingly small number of 70 members. Several important matters arose from the minutes of the previous meeting. The president reported on the progress made with the new membership card, which would replace the old certificate of membership. The proof of one design had been rejected and he was asking the S.P.C.K. to submit another. New badges would have to be ordered fairly soon; these are now given to new members.

The General Committee had been asked to consider whether the Association should make a donation to the funds of "The Ringing World" and it had decided to recommend that no gift be made. Mr. N. Chaddock then made a proposition that £5 be given this year. He said that many ringers were thoughtless about "The Ringing World" and of its usefulness to them and to ringing associations. The Yorkshire Association had the notices for this very meeting at a small price. Mr. Chaddock went on to emphasise the value of the articles and compositions in the paper and concluded by saying that a donation need not be given every year. Mr. C. Moxon seconded the proposition.

At this point Mr. E. Hudson said he thought the motion to be out of order, since the committee had discussed the matter. The general secretary disagreed and the president then allowed a debate. The president said that he agreed with the views of Mr. C. Woolley recently expressed in "The Ringing World." Mr. H. L. Roper said he was sorry to hear this—the view, that is, that "The Ringing World" should stand on its own feet. He thought the paper could not stand on its own feet since it was produced largely by voluntary effort. The editor, he said, was paid—but not much. He asked what was wrong with charity. Mr. Woolley had forgotten the voluntary effort.

INVESTMENTS COULD BE IMPROVED

Mr. V. Bottomley opposed the proposition. "The Ringing World" finances could be much healthier, he said, if the investments were better ones. At the moment they were bad investments and the suggestions he had made at Central Council meetings for improving them were not accepted. The Editorial Committee could increase charges if necessary. He thought, too, that the Association would get tired of being the only one making a donation.

Mr. W. E. Critchley did not agree with the proposition either. He thought that the service of "The Ringing World" had dropped in quality. The way peals were written out had changed at least twice in the last year and were frequently not in order with regard to their date. Further, he thought it would be unfair for some people to be subsidising others. He did not like the fact that some quarter peals were not published because there was no donation with them.

Mr. J. Seager said that the meeting should accept the committee's recommendation, and the motion, when put to the meeting, was lost.

Mr. C. Groome proposed a vote of thanks. He liked to come to Rotherham, where ringing was as it should be, and where there was great hospitality. He thanked in particular Mr. N. Chaddock, who had been responsible for the arrangements, all the incumbents of the churches, especially the Vicar of Rotherham, the ladies who served tea, and the organist. Mr. C. Moxon seconded this proposition, which was carried with acclamation. Mr. N. Chaddock replied.

The president next presented the annual report. He said he did not propose to read out what was already in the hands of most of those present, and referred briefly to one or two points. He regretted the extracts from the rules had not been printed in the report, as planned, and congratulated Mr. E. Hudson on being elected chairman of the Joint Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies.

HIGHEST PEAL TOTAL

Mr. W. E. Critchley reported on the peals rung during 1964. The total of 217 was by far the largest the Association had had. He mentioned especially the peals by local bands at Walkington and Huntington, and also the peal of Bob Maximus at York Minster by the York Minster Society.

Mr. V. Bottomley, in presenting the balance sheet, said that income from subscriptions was up, which tallied well with the fact that membership was up; 625 members had paid for 1964.

The president concluded this part of the business by thanking the hon. auditors, Messrs. W. Barton and J. W. Gibson, and the report was formally adopted.

Most of the rest of the business was concluded speedily. Mr. F. W. Moreton was re-elected general secretary. The next general meeting was arranged for September 18th at Selby, to coincide, it is hoped, with the rededication of the bells at the Abbey. Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert reported progress with the Snowdon dinner on October 16th in Rotherham, but with ringing in Sheffield. New members elected were Thomas Cooke, Rohilla M. Cooke, Ernest Pannell (Darlington), Christopher Easton, Michael Pickup, Audrey Davies (Scalby), Andrew Pearce (Huntington), Margaret Donovan (Thrybergh), Paul Brookes (Rotherham), Philip Dilks (Sheffield) and three non-residents — Christopher Hughes (Chesterfield), Joy Watkin (Wigston Magna) and David Baxter (Irnham).

The proposition that there be an assistant peal secretary was agreed to and Dr. T. D. Spencer was elected to this office. Another proposition that the Association have a librarian was referred to the committee.

This full agenda was completed before 7 p.m., at which time the parish rooms had been booked by some "pop musicians."

WINCHESTER DISCOVERY

Dear Sir,—It is a great pity that the illustrator of the paper on the Winchester Cathedral discovery did not show the correct section of a Saxon bell instead of the form used by the founders of the modern Swiss cow bell.—Yours sincerely,

GEORGE P. ELPHICK.

BRITISH MUSEUM BUY A CHINESE BELL FOR £28,000

LAST month the sale room correspondent of "The Times," in reporting on an auction of part of the collection of the late Adolphe Stoclet, of Brussels, for £108,095, mentioned that a world-famous bronze bell would soon be seen in the same rooms. Always interested in such things, I sent for the catalogue. This had a colour photograph of the bell as the frontispiece and another in black and white of the detail of the crown as well as some details of its history.

The bell belongs to the Wei Hui Chime, of which four other members are known, and are considered to date from about 482 B.C. The treble, height 14 inches, was formerly in the Berlin State Museum; the second and tenor, heights 19½ and 26½ inches, are now in the Fogg Museum of Art, Cambridge, U.S.A.; the third, height 21¼ inches, is the one under review; and the fourth, height 23½ inches, is in the Museum van Asiatische Kunst, Amsterdam. It is of course possible after all this lapse of time that there were more than five bells in the chime when first cast.

The Stoclet bell was auctioned on May 11th at Sothebys and was eventually knocked down for £28,000 to the British Museum. Clearly this record price reflects the considerable importance of the piece and the quality of the workmanship.

In plan, the bell is of pointed oval section tapering towards the flat crown and with almost the whole outside surface profusely ornamented. In the centre of each side is a vertical panel enclosing four dragons with foliate tails. On each side are groups of five alternating horizontal bands of dragons and bosses. The latter are in the form of curled lizards devouring birds and the bands are separated by a rope twist ornament.

By the mouth and shoulder are continuous bands of decoration. The flat crown is also ornamented and has two free standing confronted dragons which form a type of argent for suspending the bell.

On the view day I was, unfortunately, unable to see the inside of the bell or to assess the musical properties. It seems that there was never an internal clapper and the bell was struck on the outside with perhaps a horizontal timber beam suspended from two cords. The outside has a brownish patina over most of the surface due probably to being buried for many centuries in the ground until some 50 years ago.

Though some of the decoration may have been finished off after the bell was cast, the quality of the work is very high indeed and in only one zone is slight porosity to be seen. The evidence is that the lost wax process was not used, but instead a clay mould was made in sections and clamped together.

Now this most interesting bell is to stay in this country there may be a further opportunity to see how the founder did his work. He was of course casting this bell and the others in the chime some 1,400 years earlier than the Winchester founder whose moulds have been recently discovered.

It is not clear whether the treble formerly in Berlin survived the last war, and a peal of 5,040 changes of Doubles on them would not seem to be immediately in prospect.

Letters to the Editor

THEOLOGICAL ASPECT OF PEALS

Dear Sir,—Like your correspondent Mr. Robin H. Rogers, I am very uneasy about the peal rung at Bridgend to commemorate a victory in some sporting event by, I am told, a Welsh team. I cannot believe that bells in a church were ever envisaged as a means of celebrating such an occasion, rare though it may be; they are dedicated to the glory of God, and the least one can say about this peal "dedication" is that it was in very bad taste. Moreover I consider the comments about it in "Belfry Gossip" were in even worse taste and should have merited the Editor's censorship. If the peal had been rung in a secular tower there would have been some excuse for it, but to say, as your correspondent did in an apology, that sport and religion in Wales are inseparable is little short of blasphemous. Did the clergy throughout Wales (in churches of all denominations) solemnly offer prayers the previous week for victory, and equally solemnly the day after, prayers of thanksgiving? And what about the churches in the country of the losers?

I would ask that all peal ringers think very seriously about the theological aspect of their peals before they dedicate them to this, that and the other. No one can quarrel with a peal rung to mark an event in the Church Kalender—a Festival, a Saint's day, an anniversary of the Church, or some important occasion with doctrinal connections. Nor can one take exception in "In Memoriam" peals to commemorate an anniversary of service to the Church. It is very doubtful though if a peal should ever be rung as a "Birthday Compliment" to anyone, especially if that person is ringing in it. If it is necessary to mention such a thing as a birthday, it would be more meaningful to say "Rung to mark the birthday of . . ." or, better still, "Rung on the occasion of the birthday of . . .". Every peal rung on the bells of a church must primarily be rung to the glory of God and as a witness of the life of His Church. Can we, as Christians, Church members and ringers, who should know the right thing to do, set an example in future peal dedications and restrict them to events and circumstances strictly connected with the Church? After all, there are plenty of ecclesiastical events if any reason is needed.

I would like to suggest that guidance be given by the Central Council in the whole matter of peal dedications, and that it should be discussed at an early meeting. I would also like the Editor to have full power of censorship so that we shall never again have to read such nonsense as was inscribed at the end of the Bridgend peal, which can only bring discredit on those responsible and denigrate the peal ringing section of the Exercise.

—Yours sincerely, D. J. NEAL SMITH.

BATH AND WEST SHOW

Dear Sir,—Many ringers will be aware of the fact that the new permanent site of the Bath and West is situated on the outskirts of Evercreech. It has therefore been arranged that the bells of St. Peter's will be available to visitors to the Show, each evening (June 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th) from 7 p.m. or at other times by arrangement with the undersigned.

Also, as no doubt some members of the Central Council will be making their way to Northampton on the Saturday, the bells will be available to any of them who may like to pay us a call; it would of course be advisable to make personal arrangements to ensure a sufficient number being present at any one time.

So far as the Show is concerned, there will be demonstrations of handbell ringing each day, and Mr. Frank Mack's light ring of six bells will be set up at the entrance to the chapel in the Church Pavilion. — Yours sincerely, HARRY SANGER.
Rockyville, Evercreech.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BIRMINGHAM RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I wish to congratulate the band who rang the long peal at the Cathedral Church of St. Philip, Birmingham, on May 15th.

I was fortunate enough to hear the last hour and a half of superb ringing and a perfect finish. We in Birmingham should be proud we have such an expert band of change ringers who possess the stamina and quality combined with endurance which is called for in a peal with so many changes.

Once again wishing our ringers all the luck in the near future, on ringing their completion of a fine peal.—Yours truly,

R. H. MANSELL.
Handsworth, Birmingham.

TRADITION OF FIRING BELLS

Dear Sir,—Your correspondents concerned about firing in peals might be interested to learn that this is not a new phenomenon. In a description of Portsmouth in 1729 Stephen Martin Leake, Lancaster Herald and afterwards Garter King of Arms, comments:

"There is but one church in the town, a very old building, but it has a very good tower and chimes, and in the upper part is a room where a man lives to give notice of all ships that appear off the harbour, which he does by striking a bell as many times as there are ships. They have a good peal of eight bells, which were brought from the church in Dover Castle by the interest of Sir George Rooke, one of their members. They are said to be the first ringers that struck their bells in slams (as they call it), that is, together at one stroke like a volley of muskets, which they do in the middle of a peal, as often as they please, without breaking off the peal; and this they do upon rejoicing days in imitation of huzzas or volleys."

ROGER B. MORRIS.

SPLICING WITH FIRING

Dear Sir,—Reading the amusing letter by Mr. Wilfred W. Ring in "The Ringing World" (page 292), I felt I must add my comments on this question of striking, for although Mr. Ring's letter was written in a facetious vein there is a great deal of truth behind what he says.

I feel that our standards in bell ringing are similar to our standards in most things these days. We have come to accept inferior quality as the norm rather than the exception. The number of people who take a pride in producing things of very high quality seems to get less year by year.

I sometimes wonder, with regard to ringing standards, how much is the fault of those of us who take it upon ourselves to teach others to ring. How often do we see a beginner pushed into round-ringing, or even attempting plain hunting, before he or she can handle a bell properly, or trying to ring one of the more advanced methods before mastering the simpler ones?

In my opinion too much importance is placed on whether a person can "ring" Cambridge, London, Yorkshire, etc., rather than on whether he can strike his bell.

Let us aim first for perfection in our striking, even if it means spending a much longer period on the more mundane things like rounds, call changes and the simpler methods!

To quote George Herbert, "Who sweeps a room as for God's laws, makes that and the action fine."—Yours sincerely,

HAROLD HAYNES.

EARLIEST OCTAVE IN ENGLAND

Dear Sir,—Having followed with interest the correspondence some time ago on the subject of early rings of eight bells, the same was brought to mind recently on reading "History of London Ringers and Ringing" by J. A. Trollope (part of which was reprinted in "The Ringing World" of December 21st, 1945, page 520). The paragraph in question runs (I quote):

"Robert Mot's most notable ring (if we can trust the evidence) was eight bells for St. Andrew's, Holborn, with a tenor weighing 28 cwt. There is in the British Museum a manuscript letter dated June 8th, 1852, written by Christopher Sachs, who was at that time employed at the Cripplegate bell foundry. In it he says that he "was shown a curious old book written in very quaint character on vellum, in which is an account of the cost, etc., of a peal of eight bells cast in 1578, the tenor 28 cwt. 2 qr. 7 lb., and a list of those who subscribed for them and the building of the church."

He then goes on to say that he could find no other reference to this book, which apparently disappeared long ago, and mentions that the date on the (then) Sanctus bell was 1578, the same date as the supposed octave.

It would be interesting to know whether the manuscript referred to is still in existence, and whether, more recently, anything has come to light to confirm its authenticity. If the truth of the document is corroborated, it would seem that this ring is a clear 24 years older than the ring put up at Bishops Cannings, Wiltshire, in 1602, usually described as the earliest octave in England.

In connection with Robert Mot and his predecessor at the Whitechapel Foundry, there is a convincing argument in "Church Bells of Essex" that the identity of the latter founder may be ascribed to one Robert Doddes. However, a recent search through the churchwardens' accounts of Wye, Kent, brought to light Robert Doddes' name again in connection with the casting of four bells for that church in 1572/3. This date is two years after Mot is known to have established himself at Whitechapel, and the fact that Doddes was at this time managing a foundry did not take over on the death of Doddes, as may have been originally thought. The 2nd bell at Preston-by-Faversham, Kent, is dated 1575, and although Stahlschmidt ("Church Bells of Kent") could find no identification of the founder, the character of the inscription strongly resembles those of Doddes' specimens found in Essex. In 1581, however, we find the first mention of the prolific foundry of the Hatches at Ulcombe (a village bordering on Lenham) and the possibility that Thomas Hatch served his apprenticeship with Doddes now seems a distinct possibility. — Yours faithfully,

NICHOLAS J. DAVIES.

RINGING IN HOLY WEEK

Dear Sir,—My friend Mr. Caple is not quite correct in stating that ringing is completely suspended during Holy Week "throughout Western Christendom."

I have just returned from a ringing tour in Ireland, and at least one cathedral and one parish church recorded ringing before several of the Holy Week services, and it would appear to be customary to do this in the Church of Ireland.

Whilst we have no tradition of ringing after Palm Sunday in the Church of England, a clear distinction should be made between ringing for service and ringing for pleasure.

I am sure most of us would agree with Mr. Caple that meetings or practices are out of place during Holy Week, but if the Rector asks his band to ring for any of the services, even half-muffled on Good Friday, on what grounds could we, as ringers, object? None. I am sure.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN BRAIN.

SUSSEX ASSOCIATION'S GOOD YEAR

A VERY good year was reviewed at the annual meeting of the Sussex County Association held at Chichester on May 8th. Financially, the Association was sounder, a willingness on the part of incumbents to allow bells to be used was noted and an increased number of peals were rung.

The service was held in the Cathedral at 3.30 p.m. and taken by the Archdeacon of Chichester in the absence of the Bishop, who was dedicating a church at Hove, and the Dean, who was indisposed.

Tea was held in the Council Chamber at the County Hall, when over 160 ringers and friends were present.

The business meeting followed, presided over by the Master, Mr. R. V. Johnson, who welcomed the Archdeacon of Chichester, the Vicar of Danehill, the Vicar of Withvham and members of the East Grinstead and District Guild.

The members were asked to stand in silence in respect of those members who had died during the year: Messrs. S. A. Paice (Horsham), H. Stoveld (Bosham) and Chipper (Wessex Tarring).

The Master's printed report mentioned that the standard of ringing had steadily improved and the number of methods rung much increased. Some of their "up-and-coming" young ringers were moving to University or elsewhere. Mr. Peter Romney, hon. peal secretary, and Messrs. Ian Smith, John Norris and Bernard North, who had held office in their respective divisions, had been a great success. Their thanks and best wishes to them as they moved forward on life's way.

The secretary (Mr. R. W. R. Percy) in his report said they were now in their 80th year and since the Association had been formed it had had eight Masters, 10 secretaries and 13 treasurers. Of these, one secretary and four treasurers were in office only one year.

THE WIND OF CHANGE

At the 80th birthday dinner the secretary of the Central Council spoke of the wind of change that was beginning to blow in their churches. Times and conditions of services were altering and they must be prepared to align themselves with them. During the past 12 months he had noticed the willingness of incumbents to permit the use of their bells; opportunities now awaited them in towers where there was very little ringing.

If the present system of affiliation were amended and individual membership fees substituted, it would be possible to include details of all the towers in the Association's report, but of course only the names of the actual members would be included. The present set-up of rules made it difficult to print the report in time for the annual general meeting (although they had not yet failed). He hoped to see them amended to be more helpful to general secretaries of the future by divisional annual meetings in October or November, which would enable balance sheets to be available in January, thus giving the treasurer and auditor more time to carry out their duties. Over the past two years the paying of subscriptions—whether affiliation or individual—had been somewhat chaotic but he was certain they would all be better and happier with an individual subscription.

The hon. treasurer (Mr. W. Leslie Weller) reported a good year, which was due to towers paying an affiliation fee as well as a member's subscription. Divisional expenses were down, but they must bear in mind that the previous treasurer had not made any payment to "The Ringing World" for 1964; this had now been done.

The peal secretary reported 93 peals rung during the year—the sixth highest in the history of the Association. Mr. L. Stilwell had rung his 750th peal.

The president, vice-president, Master, treasurer, secretary and auditors were re-elected. Mr. Peter Romney, the peal secretary, had moved to Dorset, and Mr. John Norris was elected to this post.

AFFILIATION FEE ABOLISHED

After some discussion a proposition was carried by 64 votes to 52 that from January 1st, 1966, the affiliation fee be abolished and an individual subscription retained.

A report of the committee revising the form of service was presented by the Rev. Mr. Scott. A rough draft would be sent to each division and finally to the Bishop for approval.

A recommendation from the committee: "That the grant to churches for bell repairs be increased from £5 to a maximum of £25. any grant must be approved by the General Committee," was accepted by the meeting. Following this, a grant of £25 to Billingshurst was agreed to and the committee are to consider the application for a grant to Upper Beeding.

Details of an appeal by Billingshurst to raise the whole of the cost of restoration of their bells was given. The generous support of all ringers was asked for.

The general secretary asked for guidance for the Central Council representatives regarding two motions to be submitted at Northampton—the payment of 1s. for each person taking part in a peal before publication in "The Ringing World" and that the Council recommends affiliated territorial Associations to discontinue the election of non-resident life members or their equivalent. The representatives were asked to vote against both motions. In connection with "The Ringing World," an appeal was made for more ringers to take the journal through the post.

Attention was drawn to the annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild to be held at Eastbourne on July 3rd and the support of members was requested.

Two members received special recognition—Mr. Peter Wood was elected a vice-president for his 18 years' service to the Western Division, and Mr. H. Gravett, who had completed 60 years as a ringer at Burgess Hill and still attended for service and practice ringing, was elected an honorary life member.

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD

A supper of bread and cheese, pickled onions and beer preceded the annual general meeting of the Southampton University Guild on May 1st. The Master (Mr. M. D. Trigg) reported good progress during the year with 11 quarters (four firsts as conductors), the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major for the Guild, a summer tour, successful annual dinner and frequent day outings.

Officers elected were: President, Canon K. W. H. Felstead; Master, Mr. M. D. Trigg; Vice-Master, Miss H. Walters; secretary and treasurer, Mr. P. J. Joyce. The summer tour will be around Tiverton, Devon, during the first week in July. All correspondence for Guild to Mr. P. J. Joyce, c/o J. C. R., The University, Southampton.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD Bridgnorth Branch

An encouraging feature of the spring meeting held at Madeley on May 1st was the number of young learner ringers who attended and they were afforded every facility. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Lord), who also took the chair at the business meeting. Before the commencement of this meeting, members stood in silence as a tribute in memory of the late Mr. J. Stanier, for many years captain of the Madeley ringers.

Thanks were expressed to Mr. Fred Jones, the present Madeley captain, for his assistance with the arrangements for tea. Ringing was under the direction of the new Branch Ringing Master, Mr. Alan Jones, of Bridgnorth.

OBITUARY

MR. GEORGE H. CROSS

Members of the Kent County Association will be saddened by the death of George H. Cross. Although so well known as the Master of the Cumberlands, his work for the Kent Association must not be overlooked. He was for many years on the committee of the Association as honorary auditor and his advice and assistance in financial matters were most useful.

He was an outstanding conductor and practical ringer on both tower- and handbells. He once said, not in any boasting way, that he thought it possible to ring two handbells to any method to which one could ring a tower bell, and in his case it was probably true. He was a prolific composer, and whereas some of his work was criticised, not unjustly, for lack of originality, he produced many compositions of great practical value.

Although exiled from his native Norfolk, he never lost the slow speech and casual manner associated with East Anglia. In his case these characteristics belied a keen brain and great natural ability. He was wonderful company with a dry sense of humour and kindly but unflinching wit.

His wife came from Chislehurst, in Kent, and after their marriage they lived for many years at Barnehurst and both took part in many peals in the Lewisham District of the Association and beyond. They moved to Somerset on his retirement and were greatly missed by a wide circle of friends in the county where they had lived so long. Great sympathy will be felt for Mrs. Cross and their son and two daughters in their bereavement.

P. A. C.

AN APPRECIATION

May 1, as one of the older Cumberlands in the Lincoln-Newark area, say how much we mourn the death of our great friend and late Master, George H. Cross.

It was to George and his St. Martin-in-the-Fields band's great sincerity during their pre-war visits to Lincoln and Newark that the seeds were sown for the present stronghold of the Cumberlands in this area.

For me personally, I shall always be most grateful for the advice and instruction given to me when I was so often welcomed to his home during wartime visits when we entered the Port of London. For so much of the ringing I've enjoyed since those days, I have only this great man to thank.

To the family we offer our deepest sympathy. May his soul rest in peace. J. L. M.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Competition

In the drizzling rain, and at Tenby, not St. Florence, as advertised, the St. David's Diocesan Guild held its annual competition on May 8th. Bands were entered from Tenby, St. Florence, Pembroke, Llandilo, Cardigan and Llanelly.

The test piece was to ring six bells up and stand; to ring 120 of any Doubles method, and then, after standing again, to ring the bells down. As in previous years, Mr. Frederick Sharpe was the judge.

After tea, at St. Florence, Mr. Sharpe gave a helpful analysis of the ringing. The placing was: 1 Tenby, 2 Llanelly, 3 Cardigan.

The Master of the Guild then introduced Mr. Sharpe and his famous band of handbell ringers, and the recital which followed was a much looked-forward-to item of the competition. Mr. Sharpe always includes one or two Welsh hymn tunes, and is pleased when the listeners spontaneously join in the melody. Too soon the recital ended, and votes of thanks were accorded to Mr. Sharpe and to his band by the Rector of St. Florence, and by Mr. Scudamore, captain at Llandilo.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD

A.G.M. and Dinner

THE 18th annual general meeting of the Manchester University Guild was held on March 9th in the University Union, and the following officers were elected for the session 1965/66: President, Brian A. Tomlinson; Ringing Master, David J. Baker; secretary, Stephen Taylor; treasurer, Miss Margaret Whitehead; committee members, John Gander (steeple keeper) and Clive Colton.

The annual dinner was held on March 13th at the Mitre Hotel amid congenial surroundings and a happy atmosphere.

The toast of "The Church" was proposed by Mr. Clive Colton and the reply was given by Mr. Fearnheugh. The toast of "The Visitors" was proposed by the secretary, Mrs. Mary Jones, who welcomed representatives from the Durham, Liverpool, London, Nottingham and Sheffield University Societies and all the life members of the Guild who were present at the dinner though not now resident in the Manchester area.

The reply was given by Mr. Dave Marshall, the Master of the Durham University Society, who produced the one genuine laugh of the evening among a series of groans at unfunny stories, with his hair-raising tale of immoral practices in Durham. The toast of "The Society" was proposed by Mr. Philip Erith, of the London University Society. The reply was given by the Master, Mr. David Baker, who cheated by giving a speech which was substantially a repetition of his report at the annual general meeting. He remarked on the fact that the Guild had an excellent record for the past year of four births and three marriages, and announced that the most significant event of the year was undoubtedly the change of pub, which had met with general approval. The standard of ringing had been maintained in spite of the loss of so many members at the end of last year, and he looked forward to an equally happy and successful term of office for his successor. (Mr. Baker was re-elected at the annual general meeting.)

The evening concluded in the normal manner, with idle chatter, excessive alcohol consumption and handbell ringing.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Chesterfield District Striking Competition

Chesterfield District's third annual striking competition, held at Clowne, on May 8th, was certainly the best yet with an attendance of over 70 members and friends. Due to the record entry of nine teams, including a last-minute one from Sheffield University—"Brand X"—it took almost two hours for the teams to ring the test piece of 240 changes, and as a result everyone was more than ready for the excellent tea waiting in the Rectory Barn.

The results of the competition were: 1 Old Whittington (Oxford T.B., 246 points); 2 Dronfield "A" (Oxford T.B., 228); 3 Bolsover "A" (Cambridge Minor, 221); 4 "Brand X" (Plain Bob, 214); 5 Old Brampton (Grandsire Doubles, 158); 6 Staveley (Plain Hunt, 147); 7 Bolsover "B" (Plain Bob, 124); 8 Barborough (Plain Bob, 121); and 9 Dronfield "B" (Plain Hunt, 63).

Presenting the Old Whittington team with the District Shield, Mr. A. Mould (Derby) congratulated them on a fine performance, particularly as this was the second year in succession they had won. With Dronfield and Bolsover, they will now go forward to compete in the Horsley Cup at the Association's final on May 22nd.

Following the election of Miss V. Dorricott and Mr. F. Farnsworth (Staveley), Mr. S. Margerrison (Old Brampton) and Mr. G. Pears (Clowne) as new members, Mr. S. Lawrence, captain of the winning team, concluded the meeting with comprehensive thanks.

Next meeting: June 12th, North Wingfield.

M. P. P.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

THE University of London Society held its annual general meeting on May 8th. The afternoon's ringing began at Poplar, where a late start was necessitated by rope and stay trouble. The bells are a difficult ten to ring and drop nicely. The eight of St. Mary's, Bow Road, proved rather more manageable. These bells are incredibly loud outside and it is easy to sympathise with the howling mob which greeted the last peal band to visit there. Ringing activities concluded at St. Vedast's, where a service was conducted by Canon Mortlock. Tea was provided in St. Olave's Church Hall and was followed by a business meeting attended by 20 members and four visitors.

In his report the Master, Mr. Richard O. Humphries, remarked on the increase of members attending regularly on Thursdays and Sundays and the continued improvement in the standard of methods rung—seven and eight Spliced Surprise Major being quite common on practice nights. The realms of 10-and 12-bell ringing had been entered with a practice at Southwark Cathedral on the second Wednesday of the month. Seventeen peals had been rung, ranging from Plain Bob Minor "in hand" to Cambridge Royal and Yorkshire Maximus. Eight quarter peals had been scored on Sunday mornings at St. Vedast's.

In her report, the secretary (Miss Y. Edwards) mentioned the well-attended tour in Shropshire and South Wales and outings to Loughborough and Paris.

Eleven new members were ratified. The president and vice-presidents, respectively David J. R. Martin and Philip M. J. Gray. Denis N. Layton and Alan F. Thirst, were re-elected. Last year's treasurer, Roger W. Powell, was elected Master, and it was decided to combine the posts of secretary and treasurer, Robert E. J. Dennis being elected to the office. (Both Master and secretary reside at Commonwealth Hall, Cartwright Gardens, W.C.1, and are at Imperial College.) Alan J. Frost was elected Central Council representative, and Peter R. Layton auditor: committee members, Yvonne Edwards, J. Susan Smith and Anthony H. Smith.

Richard Humphries called for support for the summer tour in Devon and Cornwall and asked those interested to get in touch with him. The annual dinner will probably be at the Church House on February 12th. Discussion ensued on the cost of an annual report and the committee were instructed to report their findings on this and finance generally to the Society's general meeting on October 16th. Votes of thanks concluded the proceedings.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Stephen P. Darvill, of St. Albans, has completed the Stedman family from Doubles to Cinques.

Mr. A. Bishop, of 12, Worple Avenue, London, asks for the notation of Cogenhoe Delight Minor.

"The Ringing World" has now a reader in the Solomon Islands. Is this our most distant outpost?

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffiths was marked by a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Claverley. The band offer their warm appreciation for the hospitality given them after the peal.

The peal at Llandaff Cathedral on May 8th was the first peal of Surprise Royal in South Wales by an entirely resident band. The treble ringer, W. James Goodfellow, has now "circled the tower" at Llandaff.

A correspondent wonders what the footnote to the "Rugby" peal at Bridgend would have been had Wales been defeated. Presumably, it would have been rung fully muffled, or probably lost in sympathy!

Miss Judith Corby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Corby, completed her first 25 peals by ringing her first peal of London "inside" at Bromley Common on May 15th. Judith, who is 14, has rung her peals on 25 different bells.

St. Peter's, Brighton, will miss Bernard Stone, who is moving to Oxford. His attention to the bells and work for the Sussex Association has earned for him the gratitude of many friends who wish him well in the future.

Another member of that well known Guildford Guild ringing family, Martin Denyer, has rung his first quarter peal at the first attempt. Martin, who is only 12 years old, rang the third to Plain Bob Minor at Ash; a good achievement after only one year's ringing.

AN ESSEX GOLDEN WEDDING

May 22nd was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carrott, of Upminster, Essex, and their many friends in the Hornchurch district send their heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

Jim is a member of the band at Hornchurch, Essex, and learned his ringing at Cubitt Town, in the East End of London. Later he moved to Northfleet, where he was a member of the band for 25 years, being secretary for 17 years. He came to Hornchurch in 1932 and has been a regular member of this band ever since. The usual cliché—the last of the old band—applies very well to Jim, but although the last of the old band he is most regular and most punctual of all, and always willing “to have a go.”

Long may it be so. Jim, and our heartiest congratulations and best wishes to you both.

A WIDOW'S INTERPRETATION

We acknowledge in our appropriate column a posthumous contribution of £2 from the late Mr. Ted Russell, a dear friend of ringers in the Redhill area, who died in April, 1963. Some months ago when his widow was going through his belongings she found some of his emergency supply tucked away in a pocket of one of his suits. She was most anxious to dispose of this money in the way her husband would have wished, and knowing his deep interest in “The Ringing World” she felt she could do no better than send it as a donation towards the upkeep of the journal.

A NEW LOOK AT SALFORD

Those who visit the Church of the Sacred Trinity, Salford, the church of the University of Manchester Guild, will find a pleasant surprise. The dirty, flaking yellow and maroon walls have been transformed to those of white and light blue. The redecoration took 12 hours hard work by four Guild members and a friend. Work at times was precarious. Only two 12 foot ladders were available and a ceiling 20ft. high had to be tackled. The ladders were tied together with an old bell rope and this held satisfactorily.

Work finished at midnight when new ropes were attached resplendent in their blue, green and white sallies, the colours of the University. Mr. David Baker writes expressing thanks to the church for the new ropes and publicly acknowledges the hard work of John, Mike, Roger and Stephen.

BEST MEETING FOR YEARS

Not often is it thought that a Stroud Branch practice deserves a mention in “R.W.”, but the Bisley meeting on May 15th proved such a one when, after it, remarks like “... best meeting for years...” were to be heard.

The amplifier with new speaker relaying the two trebles—hung much nearer heaven than their six brethren (or should that be sisters)—was working admirably and this fine eight attracted 25 to tea and, in all, nearer 50; some from as many miles away.

Pity it is that more from the Branch were not present to draw benefit from such visitors, as much local striking, if not diversity of method, needs to be improved. What is an Association if we do not associate? Thank you, Bisley, and thank you visitors. E.C.

THE THIRD GENERATION

The third generation of the Myers family, of Plymouth, were elected members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers by the meeting of the South West Branch at Walkhampton on May 8th. They were Malcolm and Graham Myers and they were proposed by their uncle, Mr. T. G. Myers. Their late grandfather, Mr. George Myers, began his ringing some 80 years ago, and was captain of St. Andrew's from 1912 until his death about five years ago, when he was succeeded by his son, Mr. T. G. Myers. There are now five members of the Myers family ringing at St. Andrew's—these two young men, their father, Mr. W. Myers, and their two uncles—Messrs. T. G. and Fred Myers. The chairman, Mr. H. H. Thomas, remarked that Malcolm could well have received his Guild certificate, as that morning he rang a treble excellently to Grandfire Caters.

Walkhampton, about two miles from Yelverton, is the gateway to some of the most barren yet wonderful parts of Dartmoor. Normally from the tower a grand view of the surrounding countryside is possible but on this day the view was blanketed out by a dense fog and visibility was limited to 50 yards. Older residents recalled that on V.E. Day in 1945 similar conditions prevailed, but this did not damp a very successful meeting. We thank our new press secretary, Miss Sylvia Sims, for ferreting out these details.

BASINGSTOKE GOLDEN WEDDING

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Balaam was celebrated by a peal at St. Michael's Church, Basingstoke, on May 8th, and also as an appreciation of Harry Balaam's work as a ringer in the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

Starting to ring at Southgate in 1903, he has visited many towers in the course of his journeys around the county and Surrey.

In the Great War he was very seriously wounded and lost an arm. Despite this severe handicap he persevered with ringing and today is a very good conductor and a stalwart for good striking. Since his retirement he has been a member of the St. Michael's band, Basingstoke, where he is a tower of strength to local ringing and an example of perseverance, friendship and goodwill to all who meet him. J.C.

NOT ONE TRACK MINDS

Ringing bells is not the only field in which the young ringers of St. George's Jesmond, Newcastle, excel. On May 3rd they took on the youth club at St. George's at skittles, table tennis, darts and tiddlywinks and won by 162 points to 127. Their success was marked by the presentation of a cup to the Ringing Master, Andrew Craddock.

250 YEARS AFTER FIRST PEAL

The peal of Plain Bob Triples rung at Carbis Bay and published on page 352 has neither date nor time. These were Sunday, May 2nd, in 2 hours and 49 minutes. This was the actual 250th anniversary of the ringing of the first recorded peal. During the ringing the Vicar conducted the normal children's service and was able to explain the reason. At the conclusion of the peal the band hurriedly dispersed to their home towers for normal Sunday evening ringing.

TULIP TIME AT SPALDING

Ringers' Sunday at Spalding coincides with the last tulip Sunday and the week-end of the parade of decorated floats, when many visitors throng the town. A large number visited the church and took the opportunity of viewing Spalding from the top of the tower; the proceeds of approximately £30 going towards the new Church Hall Fund. After Evensong, when one of the lessons was read by vice-captain and steeplekeeper Bernard Tyrrell, a number of parishioners attended a ringers' “At Home.” Mr. Paul Taylor had kindly travelled from Loughborough to give a commentary on a film depicting the making of a carillon.

Alas, for the captain of the ringers, Ron Noon, this busy week-end finally culminated in his being rushed to Boston Hospital early Monday morning with appendicitis. However, he is making good progress and will no doubt be at home before this appears in print!

HAS ARDINGLY THE YOUNGEST BAND?

Last summer a new team of ringers was formed at Ardingly, Haywards Heath, to ring the bells, which had been silent for a number of years. Already the efforts have been televised and received publicity in the local paper, owing mainly to the fact that the team's average age is 14.

Mr. J. Phillipson, the son of the Rector, inquires how this band compares with other young teams and whether it is in fact the youngest team in the country.

BELL DIDN'T BOUNCE

For several months a young learner in the Ely Diocese has patiently attempted to master the art of handling prompted by an increasingly impatient instructor, who impressed firmly upon him never to let go of the tail-end, and would he please desist from continually bumping stays. The inevitable had to happen! A stay broke and the learner, faithful as ever to his mentor's advice, held firmly to the tail-end and allowed himself to be hauled effortlessly in the direction of the ceiling. When his ascent had ceased—his feet dangling eight feet above the floor—the boy looked down inquiringly at his astonished instructor and asked, “What happened?” After he had been pulled away from the rope the boy stated that something was wrong... “The bell didn't bounce!”

UNIFORMITY AT SOUTH MYMMS

An interesting point about the three peals rung at St. Giles', South Mymms, Herts, is that they were all the same time, 2 hours 45 minutes. Two were rung in 1899 and the third on the 8th instant. After a lapse of two years from peal ringing Mr. Stanley Huckle responded to a short notice appeal which was much appreciated.

REBEL TERRITORY?

The Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association has recently recorded the 150th peal rung within the diocese for another Guild. The chief “pirate” Guild has been the Swansea and Brecon, which has a virtual monopoly of the “no man's land” towers of Cadoxton and Neath. On June 12th the L.&M. are visiting Cadoxton for a meeting, perhaps with a view towards pioneering and canvassing of the rebels.

WELCOME TO NORTH-HAM-TUNE

THE town of Northampton displays very little evidence of the rich mosaic of history that lies beneath the veneer of the 19th and 20th centuries. The busy town centre retains nothing of the mediæval huddle that once surrounded the Market Square, and whatever escaped the disastrous fire that swept this part of the town in 1675 is now only survived by the tower of All Saints' Church, incorporated into a building of Classical design. The great castle of Northampton, which in the time of King John served as a Royal Palace and was the scene of Thomas Becket's trial, no longer exists. In the name of progress, what ruins remained were destroyed to make way for the steam engine and once again changes are being made as electricity replaces steam. However, recent excavations have revealed the kitchen suite of what was once one of the largest castles in the land.

Nestled by the walls of the one time great fortress, and symbolic of the permanence of things spiritual amidst the decay and demolitions of centuries, is the Church of St. Peter—a gem of late Norman art. The Church of the Holy Sepulchre, as its name implies, is linked with the Holy Land and is one of the four remaining "round" churches in England. It was built by the Crusaders and, despite the addition of later ages, retains an impressive interior. There are many other churches in the town, but these two far outstrip the others in architectural and historical importance as well as in interest to the visitor. The Church of Saint Matthew (1891), built as a memorial to Pickering Phipps, a Northampton brewer, contains two important works of modern art worthy of a visit, namely, Henry Moore's "Madonna and Child" and Graham Sutherland's "Crucifixion."

The Guildhall, where the Council will meet on Whit Tuesday, is of Venetian Gothic design built in 1861, with additions in the same style in 1889. The facade, resembling a vast tapestry in stone, depicts Danes, Saxons, Normans, kings, queens, nobles, prelates and divines, scholars, poets, merchants and craftsmen, who have all contributed to the pattern of history and progress in Northampton.

The history of Northampton's ringing before the latter part of the 19th century is almost unknown, but there is one recorded event worthy of mention. In 1739, the year after St. Peter's eight bells were cast by Rudhall, a band of College Youths came here and rang a peal of Bob Major, the conductor being Benjamin Annable. As St. Peter's was the first ring of eight in the town, it is almost certainly the first peal rung in Northampton. All the band were London members of the Ancient Society, with the exception of the tenor man, of whom no other record is known, and it has been assumed that he was a Northampton man. In the county and diocese there are a few records of ringing, notably at Kettering, where the first peal was rung in 1729, and at Kings Sutton in the extreme south.

The latter part of the 19th century saw the beginning of organised Associations in this area and in 1924 the Central Northamptonshire Association united with some of the smaller Associations to form the Peterborough Diocesan Guild. Other Associations joined the Guild at various times, until by 1950 the whole Diocese was covered by the Guild organisation.

The Diocese consists of the counties of Northampton and Rutland and their shape is an organiser's nightmare. Even so, the Guild's annual meeting and summer festival are always both well attended. With a predominantly youthful membership and eleven Branches, which annually, with few exceptions, record success and progress, the future of the Peterborough Guild looks assured. But a successful Guild is not formed overnight. Let us, therefore, look back to 1920, when the Council last visited Northampton, and to 1883, when the first organised Association was formed, and over this span of 80 years let us remember the names of some of those who, by their skill in organisation and practical ringing, have built up a tradition of good ringing and good fellowship and the Peterborough Diocesan Guild. Such men as A. Y. Tyler, W. Perkins, D. J. Nichols, W. Rogers, F. Wilford, Rev. E. S. Powell, G. W. Jeffs, T. Tebbutt and R. G. Black (Guild secretary for 25 years). These men really set an example, each in his own special way, which we will do well to emulate.

From 200 belfries and 1,000 ringers we say 'Thank you to those men for our foundation, and to the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers we say "Welcome to Northampton and the Diocese of Peterborough."

E. BILLINGS,
General Secretary, P.D.G.

NORTHAMPTON'S WELCOME TO THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

THE RINGING MASTER

MR. J. H. BLUFF

Mr. Bluff, the Ringing Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, comes from a family with a ringing tradition. He started ringing at All Saints, Stamford, in 1919 being taught by his father, the then captain of ringers, who died in 1926. His uncle followed him but had to give up in 1955, when Mr. Bluff was elected captain. Thus with his father's 37 years' service in the belfry, his uncle's 45 years and his own, a total of 128 years not out is reached. To his regret his grown-up daughter and three sons have not followed in the art.

Mr. Bluff's life has been spent in his native town, Spalding. For the past 18 years he has been a general foreman to a building firm. He served in World War II in H.M. Forces. So far he has rung 176 peals.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD Marlborough Branch

The Marlborough Branch met at St. Mary's, Collingbourne Kingston, in lovely weather on May 15th, and a good number of members were present. Visitors were welcomed from Great Cheverell, Bishops Cannings and Nailsea (Somerset) and Bristol.

Ringing was directed by the Rev. R. Keeley (Ringing Master) and he also read the lesson at the Guild service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. F. Kidd). The company were the guests of the Vicar and the Collingbourne ringers to a bountiful tea in the Village Hall.

Mr. G. Newman presided at a short meeting at which Miss Wakefield and Col. Carruthers were elected ringing members, and the Rev. G. F. Kidd an honorary member. Mr. Newman thanked all who had contributed to the success of the meeting. A collection was taken in appreciation of the hospitality shown and handed to the Vicar for church purposes.

Ringing was resumed at St. Mary's and later at the sister church at Collingbourne Ducis. W. A. E.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

Sixteen towers were represented at the Northern District meeting held at Earls Colne on May 22nd, the Vicar (the Rev. A. S. Holden) officiating at the service.

At the business meeting one honorary and three ringing members were elected. The Master's report on Sunday service ringing showed that while ringing was maintained in many towers, there were still silent towers.

The meeting closed with thanks to the Vicar and all who had helped.

Next meeting: Shalford; provisional date, September 4th. P. L. W.

GOOD RINGING: GOOD FELLOWSHIP

On behalf of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers, I extend a very hearty welcome to the Central Council on the occasion of their Annual Conference to be held at Northampton this Whitsuntide.

We greatly appreciate the work done by the Council in the development of church bell ringing, as a scientific aspect of church work, and I sincerely hope that their meeting on Whit Tuesday will meet with every success.

A comprehensive programme has been arranged during the week-end, when our visitors will, I hope, enjoy some good ringing, and be able to see our Diocese at its very best. It is my sincere hope that this Whitsuntide at Northampton will prove to be one of the best gatherings ever held by the Council. Once again—WELCOME.

J. H. BLUFF,

Master, P.D.G.

ST. LUKE'S (CHELSEA) TOUR

THIS year the Chelsea Ringing Tour extended to the counties of Warwick, Worcester, Oxford, Berks, Gloucester and Hereford. The organisation was in the capable hands of Miss V. Dupré and Mr. Aubrey Lloyd. Headquarters was the Guest House, Mickleton. Four or five towers were visited each day, and some excellent ringing included Stedman, Grandsire, Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise, etc. The places visited were Badsey, Pershore, Upton-on-Severn, Ledbury, Kingham, Ship-ton-under-Wychwood, Great Tew, Hook Norton, Moreton-in-Marsh, Stow-on-the-Wold, Bourton-on-the-Water, Northleach, Evesham, Burford, Witney, Appleton, Bampton, Chipping Campden, Banbury, Deddington, Chipping Norton, Stratford-upon-Avon, Bidford, Salford Priors, Noron, Bretforton and Mickleton. During the week the party was joined by Walter Judge and Geoffrey Hemming. A very enjoyable week was the experience of all who took part, and thanks are extended to those who gave permission to ring and to the two capable organisers. JAFUS.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Some 50 members and friends attended the Southern Branch meeting held at Bunwell on May 15th.

The Rev. S. Collins conducted the service, the lesson being read by Mr. Nolan Golden (president). Tea was provided by the local ringers and was followed by the business meeting, presided over by Dr. P. Jonason (Branch chairman).

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rector organist and ladies who helped with tea. A collection for the Belfry Repair Fund amounted to £3 3s. 6d.

Next meeting on July 24th at Scole, where a new ring of six was recently dedicated.

C. F. W. P.

THE ORGANISER

MR. ERIC BILLINGS

Responsible for many of the arrangements for the Central Council's visit to Northampton is Mr. Eric Billings, general secretary and treasurer of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, who took over the office in December 1961, upon the death of Mr. G. W. Jeffs.

Educated at Northampton Grammar School and now Assistant Work Study Officer with Phipps Brewery, Ltd., Northampton, Eric started ringing in November, 1956, at the age of 18. His home tower is St. Edmund's (8), Northampton, of which he is now captain. Within six months of learning to handle a bell he had rung his first peal from an inside bell. Of his 39 peals to date, seven different Surprise Major methods appear in the list.

Two years (1957-59) were spent in National Service at Aldershot, where he visited many towers in the area. Back in Northampton Eric started his apprenticeship in ringing organisation in 1959 as secretary to the Northampton Branch. His efficiency and enthusiasm impressed the Guild and he was elected to higher office with the passing of Mr. Jeffs. As is only proper, as a Guild secretary he is one of the four representatives of the 1,000-strong Peterborough Guild on the Central Council.

THE ONLY PEAL AT CHUTE FOREST

The success of Geoff Dodd in making the six bells at Chute Forest, Wilts. ringable has already been told. Now A. P. C. sends us the story of the first peal. He writes:

A first-class band was detailed to attempt the first peal on May 9th, and Chris Kippin was so determined to take part and ring the worst bell in the tower that he walked the six miles from Andover in 1½ hours! Before starting, a short touch was rung for our "reserves," Mrs. Gillian Leale and a ringer from Rodbourne Cheney, also Mr. Purnell, of Holt, who has now completed every ringable tower in Wiltshire.

A good brisk pace was maintained and although we had decided at first to ring all Plain Bob, the "go" of the bells was found to be so reasonable after the first 720 that we rang four methods. Apart from the excessive noise (Robin said he could not hear the bells when a call was made!) and no stay on the third, there was nothing unduly difficult and a really good peal was scored.

Our thanks are due to Geoff Dodd for yet another example of his indefatigable energy in opening other "unringable" bells: considering their long silence, it was all rather amazing. Maybe the long rest did the bearings some good!

TO-MORROW'S DEDICATION: THE BELLS OF DAVENTRY

THE Cluniac Priory Church of Our Lady of Charity and St. Augustine was established at Daventry by Hugh de Leycestre in 1090 on land given by Simon de Sentis, Earl of Northampton.

We have no means of discovering what bells hung in the Norman tower of the Priory Church, but we do know that they were the cause of a dispute between the Priory and the parishioners in 1390, for it is recorded that the Prior and the Convent complained that the parishioners rang the bells so often, so early and in such a manner that they were unable to sleep, and less inclined to sing the Daily Offices, having risen at midnight to sing Matins. The parishioners, on the other hand, complained that the Prior and Convent "made chase and rebase through the churchyard with their carts and carriages during the time of Divine Service." The case was heard at Kenilworth Castle by John of Gaunt, who directed that one bell only was to be rung before the Mass, and that the Prior and Convent were to have a way through the churchyard, but that there were to be two locks to the gate, the key of one to be held by the parishioners.

At the Dissolution of the Monasteries, the Priory and its lands, together with 19 other religious houses, were appropriated to the use of Cardinal Wolsey for the establishment and endowment of what eventually became the College of Christ Church, Oxford. The church was partly dismantled and appears to have been left in a ruinous state for several years, though some at least of the conventual buildings were to survive until the early years of the last century.

In 1552 the new Gothic Church of the Holy Cross possessed "ij belle in the steeple and a sanct' bell."

The Bridges Manuscripts in the Bodleian Library, compiled in 1700, record the inscriptions on the five bells which hung in the tower at that date:

Treble: Nicholas Salter, Baylife 1596.

2nd: + Ambrose.

3rd: Be yt knowne to all that doth see that Newcombe of Leicester made mee. 1612.

4th: IHS Nazarenus Rex Judeoram filii Dei miserere mei, 1619.

Tenor: Nichols Salter Baylife of Dantre, the 4th of June, 1596.

The total weight of the bells was 54 cwt. 3 qr. 13 lb.

In 1738 these bells, together with three others purchased from the nearby former Abbey of Catesby, were recast by Thomas Eayre of Kettering into a ring of eight with a tenor of 16½ cwt. The list of subscribers to this restoration, and another connected with the installation of a new chiming machine, is still preserved in the church register.

THE THIRD CHURCH

In 1752, it was decided to demolish the church and to replace it with another of Classical design. The bells were transferred to the new tower in 1754, and this ring of bells, with the exception of the 6th, which was recast by Joseph Eayre of St. Neots in 1764, survived intact until 1907, when the tenor cracked and had to be recast. The same fate befell the 7th in 1915, although this happened in a rather spectacular manner. The bell was being raised in the usual way for ringing, when it broke into two parts.

In 1938 the old wooden frame was strengthened and the whole ring rehung on ball bearings. The 3rd became cracked in

DAVENTRY PARISH CHURCH

1951 and was recast. All the work undertaken in the past 60 years was by the Taylor Foundry, and the present work has also been entrusted to them.

An inspection carried out in September, 1962, revealed that a fair amount of movement of the massive supporting beams was taking place and a new frame was advised. This proved entirely justified when the beams were removed, as the ends which had been embedded in the tower walls were found to be rotten and infested with the death-watch beetle.

AUGMENTATION

The opportunity was taken of installing a frame for ten bells, and it was eventually decided to order the augmentation at the same time. The old 4th was of poor tone and possibly cracked, so it was also decided to recast the bell. The ringers undertook to raise the cost of recasting the old treble and 2nd bells, so there will now be in the tower only two old bells, one each from the foundries of Thomas Eayre and Joseph Eayre, both of which have been tuned in recent times.

Work commenced on the installation of the bells on April 26th, and the dedication and thanksgiving service on June 5th will, it is hoped, signal the start of an era of very much greater opportunity for ten-bell ringing in the Diocese of Peterborough.

The details of the bells are appended and it will be noticed that new inscriptions have been added to the recast bells. In each case, as with that on the 2nd bell, they are taken from the New English Bible, and have been carefully chosen to reflect the feeling of optimism, ecumenically and in the family relationships of the parish. The phrase on the treble is in similar vein, although not exactly biblical, and identifies the ringers with the Parish and People Movement, of which the Rector is the diocesan representative.

THE INSCRIPTIONS

Treble: 4 cwt. 0 qr. 15 lb. Note G. Do nothing separately that may be done together. These bells are restored and augmented to the greater glory of God, 1965. Kenneth Ward, Rector. Patrick I. Chapman, G. R. Dodson, Churchwardens. Taylor, Loughboro.

PEAL RINGING

Peals were very infrequent on the bells prior to 1958, there having been only seven or eight since the first on the bells in 1919. This was almost certainly due to the excessive noise in the immediate vicinity of the church and in 1960 we called in Mr. Frederick Sharpe to advise on some form of sound control. The resulting installation, carried out by the ringers themselves, enabled a great deal more ringing to be done. Indeed, 14 peals were rung on the bells in eight months last year.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

FORTY-FIVE members and friends attended the service and meeting of the Frome Branch at Wanstraw on April 24th. The Rev. Putnam McKay, in welcoming the Branch, reminded the members that the last time the meeting was held in the parish was in 1960. He also remarked that he was leaving for a holiday at his home in the U.S.A. the following Monday but would be returning he hoped, in time for the Association's dinner.

At the meeting, with the Rev. A. G. Durston, the Branch chairman, presiding, a disappointing factor was the failure to elect any new members. A long discussion followed a proposition by Mr. Heymann to hold a Branch striking competition, which was carried by 17 votes to seven. A committee is to present details to the next meeting, at Timsbury, on July 10th.

MORE "CARRY-ONS"?

Dear Sir,—As a one-time Master U.L.S.C.R., I was interested to read of their recent experiences with bells in France. The following is taken from Trollope's "The College Youths" (page 38).

"In 1732 the College Youths visited Kent . . . they took ship and went across to France. When they landed at Calais they rang a course of Grandsire Cinques on hand-bells . . ." This ringing, we may suppose, was single-handed.—Yours faithfully, VERNON J. BENNING.

HOLY WEEK RINGING

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. E. G. Caple's letter on page 308, Mr. Caple is quite right in saying that in Western Christendom church bells are silent from Good Friday to Easter Day. However, there is no reason why bells should not be rung between Palm Sunday and Maundy Thursday. Indeed, according to the rubrics of the Roman Missal, the bells are directed to be rung after the intonation of the "Gloria in Excelsis" at Mass on Maundy Thursday. The bells are then silent until a similar point in the Mass of the Easter Vigil. As the Mass on Maundy Thursday (one only) now is directed to be celebrated in the evening, the silence does not apply to the main part of the day.

Usually, the only semblance of ringing which is permitted is that during the Mass, when some kind of wooden clapper-board is used instead of a bell.

Where exactly the Church of England stands in the matter is difficult to say. As far as I know there is no official ruling in the matter. The Book of Common Prayer gives little direction on the observance of Holy Week, and it would seem that in the interests of propriety there should be no ringing from the evening of Maundy Thursday until, at the earliest, the first Mass of Easter.—Yours faithfully, WILLIAM G. WILSON.
Durham.

PEALS IN HOLY WEEK AND EASTER

Dear Sir,—We join the Rev. R. C. Lucas ("The Ringing World," May 21st) in his disapproval of ringing in Holy Week and his request for ringing "as loud and as long as is humanly possible" on Easter Day, and we suggest that most ringers would agree with this.

However, an analysis of peals rung over Easter reveals the following surprising results. First there were twice as many peals rung in Holy Week as there were on Easter Day, and of those in Holy Week four were rung with apparently complete disregard of the fact. One was rung on Holy Saturday as an engagement compliment, an appalling excuse for a peal on bells dedicated to the glory of God at the best of times, let alone on such a solemn occasion. We were also astonished to see a peal rung on Holy Saturday both "to the glory of Easter" and also as an "In Memoriam"; how the two conflicting emotions can be expressed in one peal on a day fitting for neither seems impossible. We were also at a loss to know what to make of one apparently rung "open" on Good Friday, and especially as it was at the Vicar's request.

Secondly, do we assume that the 20 or so peals rung on Easter Monday, for no stated reason, were rung for the Festival? And, if so, why were they not rung on the Festival itself? There seem to have been only two peals rung on the Monday for the Festival, to which must be added the five on the actual day; thus of over 40 peals rung between Good Friday and Easter Monday inclusive, only about seven seem to have been specifically dedicated to the Festival.

It would seem a pity if the impression that we give by our ringing to the majority of people who have no connection with the Church is one of concern with trivial events rather than what should be regarded by us all as matters of supreme importance.

R. C. B. and K. I. D.

Sturry, Kent.

ABOLITIONS

Dear Sir,—All honour to the Derby Diocesan Association (and particularly their treasurer) for deciding to augment their Bell Repair Fund from the annual subscription. I hope their example will be followed, and in a bigger way. If we really believe that ringing forms a useful part of Church work we should set a good example; for an Association of some 500 members to give no more than £10 (5d. each) towards a job which may be costing thousands simply will not do at all.

Now will some enlightened Association please lead the way by abolishing peal booking fees? This miserable idea—that some should pay more to save the rest a very small amount—runs counter to the whole idea of having an Association, and has eaten into the Exercise like a nasty canker. It is based on the idea—held by those who do not ring peals—that all we do it for is to get our names into print. This is simply not true. We are not small children. We like to see the peal columns in "The Ringing World" so we can see what other people are ringing, and keep up with developments. We continue to keep up the custom of ringing peals for Associations; at one time they seemed to take pride in them. Now one begins to wonder.

I do think we should pay something after peals, quarters and other forms of pleasure-ringing; but all we give should go to the church where such ringing is done. We give our services on Sundays, but no amount of service ringing will buy new ropes or pay for wear and tear. And I do not like to see "The Ringing World" and the Associations competing as would-be beneficiaries.—Yours sincerely,

C. W. WOOLLEY.

Bushey Heath.

P.S.—In answer to your footnote: Increase the price of "The Ringing World" to one shilling, and lose 700 readers, as you predict. The gross receipts would be up by over £1,800.—C. W. W.

OXFORD BOB TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—Having noted inquiries re the above method in "The Ringing World," it may be of interest to some readers to know that I have many touches in the personal handwriting of the late Mr. Stephen Wood, of Bristol.

In all these he uses the 4-5 place single and he told me that a peal can be obtained in this way although I have no figures to prove this. I am almost certain a peal has recently been rung with a 6-7 place single and I will endeavour to get confirmation of this from the conductor.

To save space in our valuable "Ringing World," if anyone requiring touches or a quarter peal would send me a stamped addressed envelope I will gladly supply same.

H. A. PRICE.

Yatton, Bristol.

PEALS AT UPWELL

Dear Sir,—With reference to the peal which was rung at Upwell, Norfolk, on May 1st (page 332), the footnote reads: "First peal on the bells since 1896." This footnote is almost 28 years too late, as the records of the Ely Diocesan Association state that a peal was rung at Upwell on May 5th, 1937, consisting of seven Minor methods. The band consisted of Messrs. S. Flint, A. Bacon, W. Buckenham, W. W. Cousins, C. Cousins and F. Wigmore (conductor).

There is also a possibility that other peals have been rung here by other Associations of which I have no record. Canon Felstead will be able to enlighten us when he resumes his interesting article around the towers.—Yours faithfully,

HAROLD S. PEACOCK.

Gen. Sec., Ely Diocesan Association.

MANCHESTER DISTRICT YOUNG RINGERS

On Easter Monday the Manchester District Young Ringers made their annual sortie, with this year's objective as Shrewsbury and Birmingham. Due to three members of the party not turning up, the coach was some 50 minutes late leaving Ashton. Unfortunately, this meant that the other 36 of us had to forgo the first tower, which was to have been Hodnet. Nevertheless the party took a philosophical view of the situation, and pressed on undaunted to Shrewsbury, St. Mary's (10). Here Grandsire Caters was a little shaky and Cambridge Royal came to grief, but we redeemed ourselves with Kent Royal and Plain and Little Bob, then wiped the slate clean with a good course of London Royal.

After lunch a brisk walk brought us to St. Chad's (12). The general opinion of the bells was most favourable and ringing included Bob Maximus, Stedman Cinques and Grandsire Cinques, finishing with a good course of Cambridge Maximus. The 134 steps, the glass trap door and the bird's nest complete with eggs all created interest in Ludlow, but the bells proved a real handful. It was felt that several ropes could have done with being taken up at the wheel so that elbows could be straightened at hand and back, without having to hold the single rope.

The heavy eight had given us an appetite, so the ham, eggs and chips were most welcome. On now to Birmingham, St. Martin's (12). These bells really are free-wheelers, which is perhaps all to the good, for many of us were feeling the strain of the journey. Grandsire Cinques, Kent Royal and Stedman Cinques were all respectable, although Bob Maximus stood up ignominiously. The day's ringing closed with Yorkshire Maximus. The average age of the party was under 21, and many of the members had their first attempts at London Royal, Cambridge and Yorkshire Maximus and Stedman Cinques.

Our thanks go to the local ringers who met us, and to Neil Bennett, Jeff Prannan and Ronnie Edwards (this year's gimmick was a movie camera) for their hard work in making the day a success. J. A. B.

GUILDFORD & DISTRICT GUILD

For the first time, Leatherhead District at their quarterly meeting at Leatherhead on May 8th held a striking competition; it attracted five entries. Mr. J. Schofield, of Beddington, the judge, regarded the striking as of a good standard, although hesitant, due probably to nerves. Placings: 1 Ashted 2 Leatherhead, 3 Ewell.

After tea and a short business meeting, Mr. H. Pittow was confirmed as District representative on the Guild Executive, and a combined practice was fixed for June 18th at Leatherhead at 7.45 p.m. Ringing after the meeting included a good course of Stedman Caters.

THERE WERE OTHERS

Dear Sir—I wish to correct the footnote to a peal of Minor rung at Upwell, Norfolk, and published in "The Ringing World" on page 332, where it stated "First peal on the bells since 1896."

A peal in six Minor methods was rung there on April 28th, 1926, conducted by Tony Price, with Joseph E. Sykes ringing the tenor.

Also, on May 5th, 1937, a peal in seven Minor methods, conducted by myself.—Yours, etc.

FREDERICK C. WIGMORE.

Wisbech, Cambs.

P.S.—The peal in 1926 was thought to be the first on the bells.—F. C. W.

A.O.B. TIME

Dear Sir,—Although I realise that most annual general meetings of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild are so apathetic that there is rarely 'Any Other Business' to discuss, perhaps in future the organisers would allow more than three minutes for this, just in case someone has something to say.—Yours, etc.

GRAHAM W. ELMES.

Wareham, Dorset.

MEMORIES OF MR. GEORGE H. CROSS

Mr. E. A. Barnett writes:

Perhaps I may add a few lines to your account of Mr. Cross's notable ringing career. Before coming to London he had made a name for himself in and around Norwich, where he rang his first peal at the age of 15, in 1909. By the time he was 17 he had "circled the tower" at his home church of St. John-de-Sepulchre and another early exploit was a peal of Oxford Treble Bob at Saxlingham in June, 1914, by a band of average age 184, then the youngest to accomplish an eight-bell peal. As Master of the St. Peter Mancroft Guild after the 1914-18 war he got ringing going again at that famous church and revived some of the interest in peal ringing in the county.

After moving to the London area he was one of the leading lights in a band which did much to popularise methods like Yorkshire and Pudsey, which we regard as standard to-day but in the 1920's and early 1930's were rarely rung. A skilled handbell ringer, he conducted the first peals of Stedman Cinques, among other methods, "in hand" for both the Cumberlands and the Kent County Association in about 1934, and I believe neither Society has accomplished one since. For the Cumberlands he did much valuable work as Master and as leader of the band at St. Martin-in-the-Fields. In 1939 he took part in a peal of London Major by a band of Civil Servants, which I remember very well, having interrupted a week's sick leave illicitly in order to be in it.

As you say, Mr. Cross took part in some 600 peals, his last, I think, being a handbell peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Crayford in December, 1951. It was strange that such an accomplished ringer should have retired from peal ringing at the comparatively early age of 60.

At the funeral service at Chardstock the Vicar paid tribute to Mr. Cross's love of ringing and the help he had given the local band until illness had compelled him to give up ringing altogether. The bells were rung half-muffled after the funeral at the Vicar's request by a band from Thorncombe, Dorset, and a course of Bob Minor was rung over the grave on Mr. Cross's handbells by three old friends and fellow-Cumberlands—Thomas H. Francis 1-2, Herbert E. Audsley 3-4, and Edward J. Beer 5-6, the two last-named also representing the Kent County Association, of which he was auditor for some 20 years. On the same day a peal of Cambridge Maximus was rung at Walsall by the Cumberlands, and the band regarded it as a tribute to his memory.

Mr. Frank H. Davey, of Norwich, writes: I was grieved to hear of the passing of my lifelong friend, Mr. George H. Cross. I had known George longer than any other ringer: we were schoolboys together over 60 years ago, and choirboys at St. John de Sepulchre, Norwich, where we were taught to ring by the late George S. Mayers, when these bells were installed in 1907-8.

A couple of highlights of his ringing career as I remember them: his conducting of a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major at Saxlingham rung by the youngest Major band till then. The band included the three brothers Duffield — William, Edward and James, all proved and expert ringers, and, by the way, Jim Duffield was the youngest ringer to ring a peal of Major when he was 11 years of age, at Pulham in 1912.

George had rung and conducted over 80 peals. By the time he was 20 he had quite a few compositions to his credit. He joined the Army in 1915 and saw service in Egypt, Mesopotamia and France. On returning to civilian life he threw himself wholeheartedly into ringing at St. Peter Mancroft and, elected Master, soon had a capable twelve-bell band around him. Just a couple of years or so later he arranged a peal of Stedman Cinques at Mancroft, in which he asked me to drum the tenor, he ringing the eleventh and calling it. This was his first of Stedman Cinques as conductor (he had rung a couple before). I remember that the late Charlie Borrett rang the treble and T. H. Taffender the third, four other London ringers taking part. How pleased he was with this peal as it was well struck throughout—without a word spoken.

Another peal he was proud of was "Bristol by George" at St. George's, Bristol, conducted by George R. Pye.

And so another stalwart of our art has been called home. A staunch and valued friend, a magnificent ringer, conductor and composer of my generation, the sympathy of the Exercise goes out to Mrs. Cross and family in their sad loss.

Many years ago George showed me a record book of peals he had rung, all done in Old English style, and by his own hand. I wonder if Mrs. Cross still has this book.

So I must say farewell, George, old friend. May he rest in peace, for I am proud to have known him for over 60 years.

MR. CHARLES A. ANDREWS

Many ringers will regret to hear of the death of Mr. Charles Andrews, of Lawford, Essex, on May 17th, aged 60.

Charlie belonged to a well-known ringing family, and at an early age was taught to handle a bell by his father at Thorington, near Colchester. In 1929 he went to live at Lawford, and with the late George Moss built up a good Minor band at Mistley, where for 25 years he was as regular a ringer as his shift-work would allow. When that band broke up he rang for a few years at Ardleigh, but in 1959 he had a heart attack which put an end to all his activities and since that time he had had to live an extremely quiet life.

A most competent ringer on any number of bells, he rang several peals of Maximus with the famous band at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, when they were at the height of their power. He never kept a count of his peals, but he must have rung over 200. He rang one peal of Bob Major at Great Bentley in which his father, son (Donald), brother (Alan) and nephew (G. Noel Orman) also took part.

Interested in local government, he was for some years parish clerk of Lawford.

He was buried at Thorington a few yards from the tower where he first started to ring. The same evening a half-muffled quarter peal was rung at Mistley to his memory.

PREBENDARY B. PRATT

Prebendary Brian Pratt, Rector of Peter Tavy, Devon, who died on May 11th, was at one time an active ringer, having learned to ring near Woburn. Ill-health latterly prevented him from ringing, but he remained interested and recently arranged the Tavistock Deanery Festival. Visitors were always welcome at Peter Tavy and it was on these bells that a memorial quarter peal was rung on May 17th.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION St. Albans District

The two new towers of the District were open on May 15th. Most of the ringers were able to cope with the back-handed six at St. Paul's, Walden, and methods up to Double Oxford and Cambridge were rung. Evening ringing was at King's Walden.

The District was welcomed by the Vicar (the Rev. R. Mitchell) during the service; he also joined us for an excellent tea at the St. Albans Arms.

At the business meeting Mrs. Amy Coburn took the place of Mr. R. D. Brown as secretary, as he was away. Mr. John Cull took the chair. Mrs. Pam Schofield, of St. Peter's, St. Albans, was elected a full member, and Mrs. M. Harding, Mrs. M. Howell and Mrs. L. Cull, of Kimpton, probationary members.

A report of the Western District ringing course was given and a similar course is to be run by the St. Albans District, the suggested date being November 20th.

Under any other business, the local tower captain, Mr. Denison, thanked the District for coming, reminding us that their practice night is Wednesday, except each Wednesday preceding the third Sunday. The meeting was closed after the usual votes of thanks.

J. A. F.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND WEST NOTTS ASSOCIATION

Some 25 members and friends attended the monthly meeting at Blackwell on May 15th. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and an excellent tea was provided in the Church Hall, but it was somewhat disappointing that only 14 were present for tea.

At a short business meeting, Mr. A. Smithson presiding, Mr. D. W. Bailey and Miss Doreen Land, from Ripley, were elected new members. Thanks to the ladies for providing the tea was proposed by Mr. T. H. Radford.

Ringing continued until 8.45 p.m. under the supervision of Mr. A. Harrison (Ringing Master) and included Cambridge and Norwich Surprise.

Next meeting: Joint with Chesterfield District at North Wingfield June 12th.

Ernest Morris Window Dedicated

A WINDOW likely to rival the ringers' window in York Minster was dedicated in the Prebendal Church of St. Margaret, Leicester, on May 23rd, to Ernest Morris, one of the foremost ringers of this age, being the first to ring 2,000 peals and a writer whose books on bells and the art have an international prestige.

The work of Mr. H. W. Harvey, of York, an artist with a high reputation in stained glass, it is rich in colouring and the five ringers depicted all have character. A grey-haired ringer of the build of Ernest has his back to the viewer. Resolutely he grasps the tenor rope. Another is seen in the process of lowering his bell, and there is also a girl ringer poised with an air of expectancy, probably introduced as a feature of Ernest's ringing career—his love of shepherding people through their first peal.

The caption reads:

"This window was installed by the congregation and by ringers throughout the world to the memory of Ernest Morris, F.R.Hist.S., F.R.G.S., M.R.S.L., ringer and ringing master of this church and author of 'The History and Art of Change Ringing' and other works, who died 28th April, 1962, aged 72 years."

At the top of the two lights is a scroll "How amiable are thy dwellings, O Lord of Hosts." Below is a peep into the bell chamber, showing bells, and below the five ringers the artist symbolises some of Ernest's other interests—St. Margaret's Church, fonts, historic door knockers and horse brasses. With these is a bell inscribed "In memory of Ernest Morris, ringer, campanologist and historian." We hope in a later issue to publish a photograph of this outstanding window.

QUARTER PEAL LOST

There was a large congregation present composed almost entirely of friends. With his widow and daughter, Margaret, were his brother, G. Stedman Morris, of Lyme Regis, and Mrs. G. S. Morris and his sister, Mrs. Mabel Black. Previous to the service the bells were being rung to Grandsire Caters. Unfortunately, after 25 minutes, the rope of the seventh broke, thus preventing the quarter from being rung. The band consisted of G. H. Bray (St. Margaret's) 1, P. J. Staniforth (St. Martin's, conductor) 2, Tom Bent (St. Margaret's) 3, S. Harrison (St. John the Divine) 4, J. E. Adams (St. Margaret's) 5, W. Tenser (St. Margaret's) 6, R. H. Cook (Asfordby) 7, J. Bramley (St. Margaret's) 8, G. S. Morris (Lyme Regis) 9, R. Kingslev Mason (St. John the Divine) 10.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon E. N. Ducker), who also read one of the lessons, the other being read by the Rev. Peter Etchells, a former curate. The choir sang the anthem "Behold how good and joyful a thing it is" (S. S. Wesley). The dedication was by a former curate and personal friend, Canon F. W. Pratt, Canon-Treasurer of Leicester Cathedral and Master of Wyggeston Hospital.

In his address, Canon Pratt spoke of the privilege it was to him to be with them at the dedication of that window to Ernest Morris. "He was one I shall always think of as you who knew him do, as a devout and thoroughly honest servant of God, who regarded his service here at St. Margaret's as a great blessing, and he cherished it. There were many difficult things he had to get over in his service here but his faith never wavered and he loved this church right on to the very end."

CHAIN OF REMEMBRANCE

So it is right that all those who have an interest in the things we have been doing today, especially the ringers, should come together as a great family bound by the chain of remembrance to one who is no longer with us in the flesh but whose glory, I am sure, will be revealed to us, for we must hold fast in these very materialistic days to the ancient faith of our fathers—the resurrection of the dead and the life eternal."

In showing their faith they thought of Ernest and of the church bells calling Christian people to worship although many would not answer. The bells as they rang out called from another world; they were the heralds of the angels. They were a challenge to an unbelieving age to put its faith in things unseen of the Spirit that come from the fountain of God's loveliness. "We thank God for Ernest and those his companions in his earthly years for his skill and sense of mission. May we follow in his train."

After the service, tea was served in the Vestry Hall by Mrs. Staniforth and her helpers. The appeal as far as the ringers were concerned was organised by Mr. G. Oliffe, Ringing Master of St. Margaret's. About £100 is still required to meet the cost of the window.

The congregation present included Mr. B. Stedman Payne, the new president of the Leicester Guild, and Mr. A. H. Beamish, president of the Coventry Guild, also Mr. W. Cecil Dunford, the illustrator of many of Ernest's books.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Newark District

The day of the Newark District meeting and cup contest was fine and warm, as it happened the last day of the mid-May heat wave. Elston was the tower chosen, and although it was hoped that five teams would enter for the contest, unfortunately there were in the end only the same three as last year. However, in summing up, the judges, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley, both felt that the standard of ringing had improved and certainly the number of faults was much less. Sutton "A" team were the winners, with 58 faults, closely followed by Newark with 65½. The younger members of Sutton tower, forming "B" team, made a very commendable effort with 94½ faults.

Three new ringing members were elected at the business meeting—Nicola Renyard (Elston), Sylvia Bremner (Barnby) and Hugh Pierce (Southwell Minster). The new Rector, Canon Evans, was elected a vice-president, and he conducted Evensong and also joined the company of over 40 for tea in the Village Hall.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Between 50 and 60 ringers, coming from as far as Westleigh in North Devon and Stratton in North Cornwall, defied the heavy mist to attend the S.W. Branch meeting at Walkhampton on May 8th. Touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent and Cambridge were rung with Mr. R. Bould acting as Ringing Master for the first time. Mr. H. H. Thomas presided at the business meeting and, acting on the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Bray, of Whitchurch, it was decided to hold the first Branch practice at Shaugh on June 12th with a concentration on Plain Bob and Cambridge.

The Vicar (the Rev. B. K. Braund) conducted the service, and Mr. J. L. Blagg, of Emmanuel, Plymouth, acted as organist. An excellent tea was provided by Mrs. Oldham. Mrs. McCloud and other members of the Ladies' Guild. Further ringing took place in the evening at Meavy.

Next meeting: Kingsbridge, September 25th.

DEVON RINGERS' EXE VALLEY TOUR

Organised by Mr. A. L. Bennett, members of the Devon Guild of Ringers held a day tour in the Exe Valley on May 22nd when, despite adverse weather conditions, a most enjoyable time was spent. Those accompanying him were Mr. D. J. Roberts and children, Messrs. P. A. Lock and friend, G. J. Roberts and H. A. Vaffry (Torquay). Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harvey and family (Topsham), Misses S. A. Dowell (Teignmouth) and Y. C. Porter (Plymouth), Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Bould (Tavistock), Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Myers and family (Plymouth), whilst Mrs. E. S. Powell and two friends from Wellington, Somerset, joined the members in the afternoon. Towers visited were Thorverton (the only octave), Cadbury, Bickleigh, Cadeleigh, Calverleigh, Washfield, Halberton and Sampford Peverell, the last-named being about the best of the day, the ringing concluding with a well struck course of Cambridge Surprise Minor.

The clergy are thanked for the use of their bells and Mr. Bennett for making the arrangements. A. L. B.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

The spring festival of the Truro Branch was held at Gwennap on Saturday, May 15th, some 50 ringers being present.

The Branch president (the Rev. J. R. Jose) presided at the business meeting, and Miss Barbara J. Duck of 1, Benson Road, Hendra, Truro, was elected the new secretary.

Autumn festival at St. Mawgan-in-Pydar, September 18th, and next method ringing practice at Crantock, July 10th.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The steel bells at Randwick, New South Wales, are now ringing again, according to a correspondent.

Correction.—The ringer of the fifth in the peal at Neath on May 10th was Gwyn I. Lewis and not as printed on page 366.

Groton schoolboy ringers are visiting England in July. They will make their headquarters at Leicester during the first week of that month, the visit coinciding with the Leicester holidays.

Organised by "Jenny," a party of London, Surrey and Kent ringers spent a week-end recently in Suffolk with headquarters at Bury St. Edmunds. Who they were we know not except that Dave and Nick drove them round, and according to the report of R. J. T. the week-end was most enjoyable.

A peal attempt in seven Surprise Minor methods was arranged at Buxhall, Suffolk, on May 24th as a 21st birthday compliment to Janet I. Rogers. Unfortunately, due to a fraying rope, this was brought round after the second extent. This left time for another good quarter at nearby Great Finborough.

The East Retford band were disappointed on the evening of May 22nd. After the morning ringing the door at the foot of the belfry stairs had been slammed. The jolt caused the catch on the Yale lock to slip and it could not be unfastened from outside. After some delay a ladder was obtained and an entrance effected from above, but too late to start for the quarter originally planned.

A LOSS TO FINCHLEY

Owing to a reshuffling of Government departments, Mr. Bernard J. Willis, who for the past 15 or 16 years has been captain of St. Mary's, Finchley, and associated with the church as choirboy and ringer for 35 years, is going North. On the occasion of the tower's annual outing on May 15th in the Eastern Counties a unique presentation was made to him in a café at Woodbridge in the form of a "peal board" some 18 inches square and a pint silver tankard subscribed for by his many ringing friends. The peal board reads:

ON SATURDAY, MAY 15th, 1965
AN EXTRAORDINARY PEAL OF FINCHLEY GOODWILL

As an appreciation of long and valued service by Bernard J. Willis, many years captain of the Finchley Band.

M. Cruickshank	1	W. Blake	11
J. Campbell	2	R. Newman	12
J. Beeston	3	M. Carter	13
P. Taylor	4	A. Butler	14
D. Robotham	5	C. Ward	15
W. Harwin	6	G. Parson	16
S. Wallis	7	B. Watson	17
T. Bevan	8	A. Warren	18
A. Richardson	9	F. Barker	19
E. Richardson	10	L. Tubb	20

Conducted by Bernard J. Willis. Tenor 1 pint.

We wish Bernard and his family good luck in their new home, and take great pleasure in giving him this board with this one-pint tenor which everyone has truly chimed today, hoping he will keep it displayed hereunder as a constant reminder of old friends and many happy times together.

Rev. R. W. Matthews, Rector.

Churchwardens:

Messrs. O. Lambeth and K. Campbell.

All those named on the board "chimed" the one-pint tenor by taking from it a sip of champagne.

Bernard, when he left the choir for the ringing room, made rapid progress. It was not long before he was calling touches, and in the space of a few years conducting peals, one of his first being Parker's 12-part of Grand-sire Triples. When Mr. Fred Barker resigned the captaincy of Finchley Bernard was appointed his successor. Fred is now 80 years old but still rings regularly.

During the last war Bernard served in the Fleet Air Arm. Upon his return at the end of hostilities he set to work with others to reform the Finchley band and it was soon ringing regularly on Sundays and holding well-attended practices. A man full of patience, he did excellent work with learners and he will be greatly missed by his ringing pals, who wish him a long and happy life in his new home.

ST. ANDREW'S UNIVERSITY RINGERS' GUILD

At the A.G.M. of the St. Andrew's University Bell Ringers' Guild, held on May 4th, the following were elected officers for the session 1965-66: Ringing Master, David Roberts; secretary, David Martin; treasurer, Paul Scott. D.M.

GIFT OF HANDBELLS TO CHURCH

Under the will of Mr. Francis V. Nash, of Chevél Street, Nuneaton, a ring of 12 handbells (tenor 22 in E flat) has been presented to All Saints' Church, Chilvers Coton, Nuneaton, with a request that they be rung at least once a year during a service. (They had been renovated by Messrs. Taylor and Co. before the presentation.) Sunday, May 16th, was Bellringers' Sunday and the magnificent set was rung for the first time during Evening before a large congregation, including several members of the Nash family. Tunes on a lighter set of 24 handbells were also rung during the service, ringers taking part being: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish, Mrs. V. Dodds, the Misses C. and M. Mason, M. Corcoran and W. J. Day.

As a cadet nurse in Nuneaton's Manor Hospital during the later months of 1964, Miss Christine Mason had discussed the bells and bellringing with Mr. Nash, then a patient, and he had confided to her that he would bequeath his bells to the church. Christine is now a student nurse at the Royal South Hants Hospital, Southampton, but was home on sick leave in time to join in the ringing of the bells. D.E.B.

GREETINGS FROM THE BALKANS

Through Mr. Aubrey L. Bennett, Mr. Arthur Pearson, of Wombourne, who is in the Balkans, sends his greetings. He writes: "Please, when writing to 'The Ringing World,' give its readers my regards and mention my continued interest in the ringing activities in U.K. It is not possible I write direct as my letter to a newspaper would not get through."

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Seventy-five years ago this Whit Saturday a band of ringers from St. Luke's, Heywood Lanes, had an outing to Llangollen, leaving Heywood at 4 a.m. and reaching Llangollen three hours later. On the bells of St. Collen's Church a peal of Grandsire Triples (Holt's six-part) was rung in 2 hours 57 minutes by the following band: A. Rhys James (aged 13, son of the Vicar of Llangollen) 1, John Shepherd (conductor) 2, J. B. Taylor 3, W. R. Barrett 4, John Millett 5, W. H. Walmsley 6, John Harrison 7, James Millett 8. The tenor ringer was the great-grandfather of Mr. J. P. Partington who sends us an extract from the parish magazine of that date, which gave a full report of the proceedings.

COUPLES LIKE A MINOR FIVE FOR WEDDINGS

Weston Favell bells are popular for weddings though not popular with many ringers as they are a minor five, nor to some residents owing to the closeness of the tower. Of recent weddings there have been twin brothers marrying twin sisters, and two bellringing brothers (David John and Andrew Frederick Benfield from Kingsthorpe) marrying two Weston Favell sisters (Linda Mary and Dorothy Carole Wright).

INQUIRY CORNER

A contributor wishes to know if Carter's Principle has been extended to Triples and rung to a peal. If so, were ordinary Stedman calls used at the beginning and end of the full sizes?

AT GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL

There was a big concourse of ringers at Guildford Cathedral for the open day on Saturday, May 22nd. No fewer than 135 signed the visitors' book and there were many who did not. The bells met with general approval but to those accustomed to small belfries the spaciousness was rather overpowering. One prominent ringer took the view that more peals would be lost in the tower than gained. The fears that the tenor would be beyond the capacity of many were groundless. It was a very easy bell to ring.

Among the ringers the youngest was 11-year-old Stephen Munday, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Munday, now of Pudsey. Stephen is a member of the Yorkshire Association and rings with his father at Bradford Cathedral. Mr. Munday was formerly captain of Holy Trinity, Guildford, and his brother is hon. secretary of the Guildford Guild. Only a few months older, but now past her 12th birthday, was Frances Dodds, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Dodds, of St. Albans. Both Stephen and Frances demonstrated their ability by ringing "inside" to Caters.

When Holy Trinity, Guildford, ringers arrived on Sunday morning for service ringing a disappointment awaited them as one of the stays was already broken. Also there was a ringer absent, reducing the ringing to eight bells. A visitor to the belfry was Brigadier Derek Schreiber, hon. treasurer of the Cathedral Council and the donor of the two tenors. After he had left, Mr. Colin A. Hopper remembered him when he was a lieutenant in his company of the Coldstream Guards before World War II.

AN AFTERNOON AT BUCKFAST ABBEY

Organised by Mr. A. L. Bennett, a party of Devon Guild members enjoyed an afternoon's ringing on May 15th at Buckfast Abbey, where they were joined by two of the Community. Ringing on the middle octave, consisting of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Major and Cambridge Minor, was followed by a short organ recital on the splendid Abbey organ by Rev. Father Sebastian Wolff, the regular organist.

After the tea interval evening ringing was at Dean Prior Parish Church, where Mr. T. G. Myers conducted an extent of Plain Bob Minor.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The necessity of bringing the Guild's boundaries up to date was urged by Mr. N. Mallett at the meeting of the Exeter Branch at Alphington on May 15th. The meeting gave him full support. Whiststone were congratulated on their membership.

SALISBURY GUILD A.G.M.

Mr. E. Mould, of Otford, Sevenoaks, calls attention to a Mr. E. Mould being referred to in the report of the A.G.M. of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild as having passed away. This should be his father, Mr. A. E. Mould, who died recently. Congratulating Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd on his front page letter, Mr. Mould writes: "As long as such excellent articles are forthcoming, I feel sure 'The Ringing World' will continue to flourish."

BIGGLESWADE DISTRICT

The annual outing of the Biggleswade District took place on May 15th, when Worcestershire was visited. On this glorious spring day the countryside looked at its best and a feeling of rich joy and promise permeated the scene, with lambs gambolling in the meadows, whilst gardeners watched with special interest the progress of the early potatoes!

First stop was Hinton-on-the-Green, where the light eight were put to good use for about 45 minutes, and here it was very pleasant to renew acquaintance with Mrs. Thomas. At Pershore Abbey, the musical qualities of the excellent, heavy eight were not improved by a powerful accompaniment on the organ. A visiting organist had been allotted an unfortunate period for practice, and the struggle for supremacy between organ and bells was long and furious!

After "striking our colours" we sat down to an excellent lunch before proceeding to the beautiful village of Stoughton, where we had the pleasure of ringing on the bells of both the Parish Church and Mr. Jopp's campanile. Our efforts to master the very light six at the campanile were not too successful in all cases, but Mr. and Mrs. Jopp were very gracious and charming in the role of host and hostess. Another spot of great charm and beauty was Kempsey, where the very fine ring of six gave great pleasure.

Tea was taken at Upton-on-Severn after which the splendid ring of eight made a fitting end to the day's ringing.

Sincere thanks to our organiser, Mr. L. H. Bywaters, to the various incumbents and to all who contributed to the success of this memorable trip, not forgetting our co-operative driver. A. E. R.

... AND THE BABY CAME, TOO

BY ten o'clock on the evening of Friday, April 23rd, 18 ringers and one baby had gathered at the headquarters for Wimbledon's fourth week-end outing—Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire. We refreshed ourselves with coffee and sandwiches—there were no pork pies in sight—and after some chatter Melton was quiet again.

We met again at breakfast and were all ready on time at 9 a.m. to start the day. After a short drive we found Taylor's and were given a short tour before commencing ringing. At first we could not do the bells justice although some Yorkshire and Cambridge Major was rung quite reasonably before we left.

Barrow-on-Soar bells, after the foundry, seemed very heavy and loud, but the men showed their skill by ringing London. The less experienced found these preferable to the bells at the foundry and definitely preferable to the bells at Ashby de la Zouch, a ground floor ring with a long draught.

After an unintentional tour of Ashby we arrived at Bretby for lunch, where the baby, Joanna, came truly into her own. Somebody had been heard to say during the morning that there was a secondary attraction on the outing. The waitresses who served us at lunch would have said there was only one, and the parents were forced to smile amiably whilst a sleepy Joanna was thoroughly awakened by their attentions.

This court having been dissolved, we were to hear just what Taylor's can produce. Duffield and Ilkeston soon cured us of any disappointment we might have felt over the morning's bells and ringing. The ten at Duffield are next to the railway line. So when we had dutifully rung Duffield Royal to satisfy our secretary we were also able to content two others who were able to indulge in two hobbies at once as a train rattled past during Stedman Caters.

Unfortunately we were late at the next tower and all rushed up the steep slope to be greeted by loud "sshings" from the proud parents who had placed the carry-cot outside the church. Only a few minutes later their care became absurd as we started to ring! We had not attempted Ilkeston Surprise, but a good course of Sandiacre was rung at the home tower. Quorn was the last tower of the day and although enthusiasm for ringing was already turning into enthusiasm for dinner, there was some reasonable ringing, including Bristol.

Sunday service ringing was at Melton, where we joined the local ringers. We managed Cambridge Royal and Stedman Caters but we could not do full justice to this beautiful ten. For the rest of the morning ringers might have been seen wandering around Uppingham, where we were to have lunch, in the lovely spring sunshine. After lunch came Gretton, the home tower of one of our members and then Deane, where the beauty of the church's setting brought forth as much praise as is usually reserved for bells. From there we had a long drive down into Hertfordshire to Braughing (8), where it was the lovely scarlet sallies that called forth our admiration. From there it was only a few miles to our last tower, Brent Pelham, but although last it proved to be one of the most enjoyable. Not only are these a very pleasant six, but we were welcomed by our old friends, George and Lil Goodman. Luckily we gave them some good ringing with a touch of Cambridge as well as a course of Durham, before we descended upon them for coffee.

Our thanks to the Goodmans, our secretary, the incumbents and those who welcomed us so warmly. V. R.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The Bingham District had an excellent meeting at East Bridford on May 8th, when five teams met for the District round of the Crawford Cup Contest. The judges—Messrs. P. Humphrey and N. Poplestone—agreed that ringing was better than in previous years. Placings: 1 Shelford (45 faults), 2 Whetton (75½), 3 Holme Pierrepont (105½ + 10 penalty), 4 Gedling (141½), 5 Radcliffe (151). First two meet in final at Burnby-in-the-Willows. The Rev. F. Stephani conducted the service, and Dr. D. Paterson gave the address.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

No. 2825 Vol. LXI

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1965

Registered at the G.P.O. for transmission as a newspaper. 9d.

THE GREATEST OF THESE

"I SEE," said the Professor, "that the subject of the finances of 'The Ringing World' has arisen again. To pay or not to pay!

"And what is your opinion?" I asked, carefully waiting to see which way the cat would jump.

"That," he replied, "I have expressed before. The answer to this problem, if approached with a logical and alert mind, is really quite simple, and can be reduced to a straightforward mathematical formula. Look at it this way: any newspaper or journal depends for its existence on its circulation. Right?"

"Right!"

"If this continues to dwindle then the paper itself is doomed to extinction. Anything that tends to reduce its circulation is, therefore, another nail in the coffin. Now, nothing is calculated to reduce the circulation (i.e. the number of copies sold) more effectively than an increase in price; that is why any newspaper, national or otherwise, regards this step as a last resort. Correct?"

"Correct!"

"Ergo, the number of copies sold is in inverse proportion to the price of the paper once this passes beyond certain prescribed limits. From this it is a comparatively simple matter to obtain an equation, which, in fact, I have done."

And he produced a paper upon which he had inscribed the following hieroglyphics:

$$C = K \times 10^{\frac{1}{P}}$$

P

Where P = Price of "The Ringing World" in pence.

C = Circulation in number of copies.

K = Constant, which varies according to Professor Dodge's tables but is, at present, about 4.95.

"All this may be true," I said, "but I have heard it said that 'The Ringing World' should be placed on a proper commercial footing, and be made to pay for itself."

"There are always people ready to stand on the side lines and offer instructions to the players; people who know more about editing than editors, or about finance than financiers. What is often overlooked is that commercial advertisements in papers and periodicals, a source of income denied to 'The Ringing World,' often bear a large burden of the production costs without which the paper could not function. If we remove all voluntary effort from the running of our paper I should imagine that it would have to cost about 2s. 6d. per copy. We could begin putting the paper on a commercial footing, as you call it, by raising the editor's salary and continue by paying all contributors for articles received and published."

"I would have done very nicely out of that," I remarked smugly.

"On the contrary, I doubt whether any of your articles would have been accepted if they had had to be paid for!"

This was a sobering thought.

"Anyway," he went on, "what is wrong with labour of love? I have noticed that those who contribute least in this direction often make the loudest song about the little they do contribute or the most vociferous complaints about the contributions of others. How many times have I pointed out (and been attacked for doing so) that bellringing is a most privileged hobby, with ringers using the most expensive instruments for their own pleasure, often at less cost to themselves, than in any other pastime of a comparable nature. It is a pity that so many are indifferent to, or fail to acknowledge the existence of, their own paper, but the loyal and faithful remainder realising, as I have demonstrated, that the raising of the price should be adopted only as a last resort, should be prepared to render what assistance they can in other directions, financially or otherwise, and should, moreover, regard their contribution as a great privilege."

"So you would rely on charity after all?"

"Mr. H. L. Roper, at a meeting recently, pointed out that charity is still a Christian virtue. I'm afraid that, in an age when, and a country where, more people are receiving charity than ever before, this is a fact often forgotten."

THE RECORD LENGTH OF MAXIMUS

SATURDAY, May 15th, was a day that had long been anticipated in Birmingham, and now it was upon us. For most people the bright, sunny morning must have been a welcome sight, offering the opportunity of a day at Edgbaston watching the cricket, the first swim of the year or simply relaxing in the sunshine. Not so, however, for the 12 who met outside St. Philip's Cathedral at 8.30 a.m.! The prospect of a day similar to the previous one, when the temperature climbed into the high 70's, was to them disturbing, for it would definitely increase the odds against their success.

However, if anyone had these thoughts they certainly did not show it, for it was a cheerful group that assembled for photographs. Even the appearance of two nurses, which might have been a bad omen, did not dampen their spirits!

At 8.45, after receiving the good wishes of the Master of the Guild, Mr. Richard Ingram, the band ascended the tower accompanied by the three umpires, John Anderson, George Fearn and myself. Up until a week ago George had intended to ring in the peal, but then, unfortunately, he had been forced to withdraw owing to a strained back. Stephen Ivins had kindly agreed to stand in his place.

All reasonable precautions had been taken in the preparation of the bells for the peal, but these could not possibly compare with the precautions taken for the 29 courses at Ashton-under-Lyne in 1929. For that peal the bellfounders had been called in, a new set of ropes, well stretched, had been put on, and "everything done that Mr. Ben Thorpe, the towerkeeper, could think of." For this peal we trusted (not without some confidence) that the bells were in peal-ringing condition, and relied on ropes that had already proved their worth in peals.

The adjustment of the ropes took rather longer than expected, but at 9.5 they pulled off, and one minute later were in changes. The band stood as follows: Bob Smith treble, Martin Fellows 2, Norman Goodman 3, Michael Fellows 4, John Eisel 5, Basil Jones 6, David Purnell 7, Clifford Barron 8, Stephen Ivins 9, Ricky Shallcross 10, Alan Ainsworth 11, and Peter Border tenor.

TENOR RINGER IN TRAINING

No one underestimated the task that lay ahead, but at least they must have had some confidence in their ability to succeed. Nine of the band were regular Cathedral ringers, and the other three all had experience in long peals. Probably the biggest task was Peter's, but he had kept his hand in with a peal of Londinium on his bell just 36 hours before, having first "warmed up" for 44 hours the previous week-end on Exeter tenor, so one could hardly say that he was not in training!

The ringing soon settled down into quite a good beat, and the first course-end came up in the slightly slow time of 22 minutes and 30 seconds. From then until the eighth course the ringing was maintained at a very high standard, and as a consequence the speed increased gradually. Two "65" courses (a favourite in Birmingham) came during this spell, their arrival being heralded by a perfect "1234657890ET" change.

From the 9th course until about the 14th course the striking became a shade unsettled, due mainly to spacing out by the little bells. The graph shows clearly how the time per course increased during this period. It was probably at about this time that the band began to realise the length that lay ahead, even though three hours had been completed; also it was warm; and it was lunch time!

By mid-afternoon the ringing had returned to the good rhythm of the morning, and it may be seen that, as before, the effect on the speed was that it increased and eventually settled to a steady level. The occasional mistake had begun to creep in after mid-day, but usually it was of a minor nature, and did not affect the evenness of the ringing in the afternoon.

The weather by this time was quite warm, though fortunately a fresh wind and the odd cloud helped to keep the temperature down from the level of the previous day. The band did not appear to be unduly troubled at this point, and generally spirits were good. A trip by one of the back-enders still managed to evoke a wink and a smile!

A SHORTENED VERSION

At 6.10 a bob at Middle brought the bells into the Plain Course, and it says much for the band that after nine hours' ringing they were still able to produce some excellent roll-ups. However, fatigue was now beginning to take effect, and for a time mistakes became more numerous. It was probably this as much as anything that prompted Alan to call the shortened version, by omitting the last block of three Homes. At any rate, his announcement "Only three more courses" had an immediate effect on the ringers and the ringing, as the graph plainly shows. It was as if they had taken on a new lease of life; the ringing brightened up considerably, and mistakes all but vanished. Chief instigator of this improvement was Alan himself, who was ringing strongly and with much enthusiasm at this point. Even in the last course he was heard to tell one member of the band to listen to his striking!

At 7.52 p.m., after 10 hours and 46 minutes' ringing, the Ashton record was passed, and at 8.35 p.m. the bells came triumphantly into rounds. The time was 11 hours and 29 minutes—four minutes shorter than the previous record, although two more courses had been rung.

Almost immediately after the bells had stood, the Provost, at whose request the peal had been arranged, came into the belfry to congratulate the ringers and to express his thanks to them. Outside there was a crowd of ringers who had gathered to hear the final stages. Frank Haynes had journeyed up from Cambridge; Ralph Edwards and Roger Fry from Bristol; and there were several from Hertfordshire and neighbouring counties, in addition to a number of local ringers.

Congratulations were showered on the band as they emerged, but whilst these congratulations were duly and gratefully acknowledged, the chief thought in the minds of the 12 was to counter the effects of dehydration which had set in as a result of their labours during the heat of the day.

A FINE ACHIEVEMENT

Looking back on the peal, I have no hesitation in stating that it was of the standard required for a record length. It was a very fine achievement indeed, particularly when one bears in mind that these bells are not easy to ring.

Essentially, of course, it was a team effort, but the ringers of 10, 11 and 12 deserve special mention. These three maintained an unwavering beat throughout the peal and must have been a constant source of inspiration to the rest of the band. Peter, in particular, should be singled out for his handling of the tenor. Added to his turning-in of Exeter tenor the previous week, it completed a truly tremendous "double" in the field of heavy-bell ringing, the like of which will surely not be equalled, let alone surpassed, in the foreseeable future.

Worthy of comment, too, are the performances of Michael Fellows, at 174 the youngest member of the band; Norman Goodman, the oldest member (45), whose previous longest length was 5,280; and Basil Jones, who rang better with one hand than most ringers do with two. For Bob Smith it was also a personal achievement, since he has now rung in the record lengths of Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus.

In conclusion, I should like to thank Messrs. George Fearn and John Anderson for their much-welcomed assistance to me in umpiring the peal.

THE RAILWAYMEN'S GUILD

THE ninth annual general meeting of the Guild was held in London on May 15th, and the record attendance made it very reassuring as to the future of the Guild. Our guest was Mr. Scholefield Allen, M.P., who apologised for arriving late, as no one could tell him where St. Botolph's Hall was.

The ringing programme for the day started at St. Giles', Cripplegate, and then at St. Vedast's. After lunch St. Leonard's, Shore-ditch, St. Botolph's and Southwark Cathedral were visited, and those who arrived on Friday evening rang at St. Luke's, Chelsea. High tea was served in St. Botolph's Hall, and Mrs. Davis and her helpers were thanked for the excellent meal.

The secretary presented the statement of accounts, which showed a loss on the year's workings due to extra stationery. A suggestion in the secretary's report, that the regional Masters should meet annually, between the autumn and the annual general meetings, was approved.

Mr. Charles A. Bassett was elected Master. The officers re-elected were Mr. J. Arthur Hoare, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. W. Bertram Kynaston, Western Region; Mr. Charles A. Bassett, Southern; Mr. Sidney Foskett, London Midland; Mr. Harold Walker, North Eastern; Mr. Rodney Meadows Eastern; Mr. Jack E. Brough and Mr. Frank R. Merton, Guild auditors.

Mr. S. Foskett's proposal of Newcastle on Tyne for the 1966 annual general meeting on April 30th was carried. The autumn meeting is to be at Nottingham on September 25th.

Two new members were elected—Mr. C. Norris an associate member, and Mr. P. Bassett a ringing member.

Increase in subscriptions was discussed after Mr. Jack Thomas moved an increase to 3s. per member per annum. Extra cost of postage, he said, was one reason for the increase. Mr. Vaughan supported the motion. On a show of hands, it was agreed that subscriptions will be 3s. as on and from January 1st, 1966. The increase to apply also to all associate members.

The secretary was asked to obtain particulars of a badge of office and report back at the next meeting. Mr. J. Thomas again brought up the question of an annual dinner, but the matter was not supported.

Mr. Rawlings was thanked for the excellent ringing programme, and also incumbents for the use of the bells. J. A. H.

M.U.G.S. AT THE FAIR

It was raining—the usual Guild weather—when ten members of Manchester University Guild had a day's outing to Cheshire. First ringing was at Great Budworth, where a course of Yorkshire went especially well.

The 30ft. vertical ladder, the means of access to the ringing chamber, caused some trouble at St. Mary-on-the-Hill, but the ringing on this light eight was enjoyed. Not so at St. Mary's Without, where we rang after lunch.

During the few hours free time some made a bee-line for a fair. The Master, having shown his prowess by winning a coconut, one of the girls decided she would like a goldfish, which were also offered as prizes. However, she did not look quite so happy when, a few minutes later, John won one and presented it to her. The goldfish, which was named Gregory, proved to be quite hardy and survived the journey home, and now resides in a bowl in a Manchester landlady's front room!

Evening ringing was at Eccleston (best ring of the day) and Frodsham. Organiser Stephen Taylor and incumbents are thanked. D. J. B.

ADELAIDE'S BELLS

From Adelaide, South Australia, comes news from Ron Russ of a lively controversy which has been raging in the local Press for and against the ringing of St. Peter's Cathedral bells. A finer ring no one could ever wish to listen to, but the area has more than its fair share of antagonists, and severe methods of sound control have to be applied. From a local Press columnist comes the following poem, which has effectively closed the correspondence, and which holds a lesson for the antagonists of bells. To appreciate it, one needs to be aware of the proximity of the River Torrens, flowing between the Cathedral and the city, the municipal golf course and the statue of Adelaide's founder Colonel Light, standing on a hill only a hundred yards from St. Peter's. The author's name is Max Fachen, a non-ringer.

Out across North Adelaide rooftops ring the bells with merry stroke,
Tolling with a strong insistence, tugged by each bellingring bloke.
Spreading outwards through the morning like the ripples of a pool,
Some will smile to hear their music, others run for cottonwool.

Some will lift their heads and listen to the old majestic chimes,
Others write a scolding letter. Poets pen their meagre rhymes.
Swans within their reedbeds fluting, answer to the distant sound,
Rowboats on the River Torrens, disconcerted, run aground.

Still the bells will swing and clamour over boating shed and hut,
Here a scowling golfer mutters. Bells have made him miss his putt.
Babies in their baskets stirring to the sound of iron tongues,
Add their tiny mite of tumult from their new and wondrous lungs.

Housewives close or open windows. Fellows mutter in their beds—
Sleeping in on Sunday mornings, place a pillow on their heads.
Riding high above the treetops comes the ringing loud and clear,
Colonel Light upon his hillside cocks a grave impartial ear.

Can you hear the loud transistor, with its electronic beat,
While the passers-by will scurry on their eager harried feet?
Here a heavy bus is rumbling down the motorridden scene,
Skyward there a jet is shrieking, trailing plumes of kerosene.

While the sounds will mix and thunder, there's a flat, uneasy tone.
Is it time we changed the needle on life's jazzy gramophone?
Tender though our earthly eardrums, brittle are our earthly shells,
I confess I find some comfort when I hear the sound of bells!

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT CUP CONTEST

Five teams competed in this year's contest held at Beighton on May 29th, and judged by Mr. H. Chant, assisted by Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert. Warsop were the winners, with Whittington second and Rotherham third.

It was a most enjoyable meeting and tea, some 50 people being present. Five new members were elected and details given of the outing in the Loughborough district on July 3rd. N.C.

WHEN THINGS WENT "BANG" IN VICTORIA

THOSE Calgary ringers have been at it again! Disturbing the peace in Vancouver and Victoria. Easter Sunday night saw the departure from Calgary of Mike Simpson and the writer for a visit to our Western neighbours. Our route this time took us through the Okanagan Valley, the fruit growing district of British Columbia, where the early blossom looked beautiful in the morning light as we pulled into Penticton for breakfast. Vancouver was reached about mid-day, after some 16 hours travelling.

Our arrival coincided with the visit of Mr. Philip M. Gray, of England, who was in Vancouver on a business trip, and for whom special ringing had been laid on for that evening. We duly met with the other ringers at the appointed hour, and the bells were soon in use. Owing to a rather small turn out, ringing was limited to Grandsire and Plain Bob, with one extent of Stedman Doubles. The proceedings were not helped by the Calgary contingent turning on bright lights and insisting on photographing the ringing, and also making a tape recording. Being no other refreshment house available, we had no alternative but to adjourn the proceedings at 9 p.m., for of all things coffee.

Next afternoon we embarked on the ferry at Tsawwassen for Vancouver Island and Victoria. After supper we met Mr. Izard and the other ringers at Christ Church Cathedral, and this is when things started to go "Bang." Once again the lights were turned on, and the tape recorder was produced, and attempts were made to photograph the bells, but these were short lived as the lights fell over, exploded and set fire to the carpet. This did at least enable us to get on with the business in hand, namely, ringing. Here we made several attempts, and finally brought round a touch of Stedman Triples. Unfortunately, our time here was not long enough to enable us fully to appreciate this very fine ring of eight (tenor 29 cwt.). Next morning, after inspecting the collection of ships bells at the Maritime Museum in Victoria, we returned to Vancouver, and yet more ringing.

Wednesday night is the regular practice night at Vancouver, so once again we spent the evening ringing, but again we were limited to Plain Bob and Grandsire Triples.

That concluded the ringing for the week. Thursday was spent out in a small boat salmon fishing, but without any noticeable success, and on Friday we started on the long trip home to Calgary, taking the opportunity to relax our tired muscles with a couple of swims in the various hot springs en route. J. A. M.

SIX BELLS + SIX TEAMS = SANDHURST

With the precision usually associated with its Military Academy, Sandhurst "passed out" a clear winner in this year's Sonning Deanery Striking Competition held at Arborfield on May 15th.

Six teams in all were able to laze in the sun and in turn enter the cool tower to "do their bit" whilst the two adjudicators, Major Bragg and Mr. W. Viggers, were confined to the vestry to count the faults.

After an excellent tea, Mr. Viggers opened with his opinion of the afternoon's ringing, dwelling briefly but convincingly on two types of ringers—the one who listens and hears and the one who hears but does not listen!

The positions of the "placed" teams were: 1 Sandhurst, 2 Hurst "A," and 3 Easthampstead with 18, 28 and 29 faults respectively.

AN EARLIER COMPOSER

Dear Sir,—The composition of 5,000 London Surprise Royal published on page 372 and attributed to Mr. W. E. Critchley has been in my possession for some years and is attributed to Mr. Frank E. Darby. I feel sure that the composition was rung several years ago at St. Michael's, Southampton, since I obtained it from that exponent of London Royal, Mr. C. H. Kippin.

The peal can be varied in the first three courses and I give below the alternative callings of Mr. Darby's peal.

RECORD OF RECORD PEAL

Dear Sir,—A tape recording was made of portions of the record peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus recently rung at St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham.

I am making arrangements to have a 12in. L.P. (33 1/3rd r.p.m.) record made from the tape recording, which will include the first and last half courses of the peal and part of the middle of the peal. The total playing time will be approximately 40 minutes.

If any are interested in purchasing a copy they should forward £2 6s. (including postage and packing) to me within the next two weeks so that I may place a firm order.—Yours faithfully,

J. A. AINSWORTH.

EARLIEST OCTAVE IN ENGLAND

Dear Sir,—I very much doubt if Robert Mot cast the octave at St. Andrew's, Holborn, in 1578, for Mr. Trollope puts in a proviso: "if we can trust the evidence." Mot established the foundry in 1570 and his earliest known bell was one bearing his name and date 1575, formerly at Danbury in Essex. When I used to ring at St. Andrew's in 1901/2 there was a lot of boasting about the date of the bells, and it was claimed they rang after the victory of Henry V at Agincourt in 1415! I prefer to rely on the 1911 Victoria History of Middlesex (Bell Founders), Vol. 2, pages 165-168, which states that: "In London Mot cast the Sanctus bells at St. Andrew's, Holborn."—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

RINGING IN HOLY WEEK

Dear Sir,—In the six bell tower of All Saints', Hastings, the bells were never rung through the whole of Lent. They were lowered and chimed for all Sunday services, being rung up for early Communion on Easter Day.

This custom was dropped when two trebles were added and change ringing introduced in 1922.—Yours, etc.,
C. A. LEVETT.

Hastings.

A PLEA FOR CALL CHANGE RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I am a regular reader of "The Ringing World" and although not a method ringer I do find many things of interest in the paper. I do feel though that if more space were given to call change ringing a far greater circulation of "The Ringing World" would ensue.

Could there not be some of the best known call changes printed, such as "Queens" or "Royal Occasion" or the many others that are known to some ringers. It would help to create a greater interest in our art.

It is a known fact that method ringers are far and away outnumbered by call change and round ringers. So let's revolutionise "The Ringing World" so that it will appeal to all ringers.

J. R. MICHELL.

Callington, Cornwall.

CORRECTIONS TO GRANDSIRE VARIATION PEALS

Dear Sir,—I am advised by Mr. R. H. Jones that the names are incorrect for some of the variations in the peal at Cropwell Bishop (page 367). It should read:

Forty-two extents (9 bob and single variations), being five extents each of New Grandsire, Ryllsun, Fulmer, Cropwell Bishop, Ferncliffe, Mitre, Donningleigh and Gonalston and two of Lambey.

The peal at South Wilford (page 317) should read:

Forty-two extents (9 bob and single variations), being five extents each Antelope, St. Swithin, Northleigh, Ray, Beckley, Isis, St. Margaret and Oxford and two extents of St. Valentine.

Also that at South Wilford (on page 383) as follows:

Forty-two extents in 16 bob and single variations, being two extents each of Bucknell, S. Collen, Ardley and Snowe; three each of New Antelope, Upton, Gunthorpe, Caythorpe, Netherfield, S. Aldgate, Westleigh, Bulcote, Wheatley and Woodborough; and two each of Uppingham and Woodthorpe.

The errors are regretted.—Yours sincerely,
GEORGE A. DAWSON.

MARCH SAINT WENDREDA

A party of bellringers from March Saint Wendreda held an enjoyable half-day's outing on May 15th. The party, including several learners, revisited churches in Ely district, about an hour being spent at each. Quite good ringing ensued at Sutton, despite the "lumpiness" of the bells, but at Wilburton, although helped by Mr. Markwell and Mr. Yarrow, the party could achieve little.

Excellent touches were brought round on the pleasant, easy-going six at Stretham Church and a rock-garden approach to the fane was much admired.

Tea was obtained at Ely after which the Cathedral was inspected, followed by a visit to St. Mary's Church, where more good ringing was enjoyed in the company of Mr. Pickett (tower captain).

OBITUARY

MR. GEORGE H. CROSS

An Appreciation

The members of the Norwich Diocesan Association offer their condolences to Mrs. Margery Cross and her family and gratefully acknowledge their indebtedness to George Herbert Cross for his contribution to the prosperity of the Association.

Although it is some 38 years since he left the county, he is remembered with great affection and admiration. He was, indeed, a complete ringer, a fine striker, a brilliant conductor and an accomplished composer. He was, too, a splendid companion with a tremendous, kindly sense of humour.

Mr. Cross was born in Norwich on November 9th, 1893, and became interested in ringing when a schoolboy. At the age of 16 he rang his first peal at St. John de Sepulchre, Norwich, on September 30th, 1909, and conducted his first at the same church, a half-muffled peal in memory of King Edward VII on May 20th, 1910. A few months later, the first of many of his compositions was published. On June 18th, 1914, he conducted a peal of Oxford T.B. Major by a band whose average age was 18½. This was the youngest band to ring a peal of Major on tower bells. By the outbreak of the First World War Mr. Cross's peal total had risen to 87, a high proportion of which he had conducted.

It was after the war, having been wounded while serving with the Norfolk Regiment, that Mr. Cross made his capabilities felt. Not only did he revive the fortunes of the famous tower of St. Peter Mancroft, where he became Master, but he put new life into the Diocesan Association as secretary of the Norwich District. His peal-ringing bands vied with those of Pulham and Diss, many young ringers were encouraged and new records made. A 7,136 of Double Norwich—his own composition—was rung at St. Miles', Norwich, on November 24th, 1920, and in 1923 at Aylsham on July 28th the first peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal since the historic peal at Mancroft in 1769 was rung, and this was also his 150th peal as conductor.

The next four years were fruitful ones and the Association continued to flourish virtually under his leadership. In grateful appreciation of all he had done for ringing in Norfolk a gold albert medallion, suitably inscribed, was presented to Mr. Cross on August 30th, 1927. This was, regrettably, a farewell gift, but the donors congratulated him on his promotion. For many years, holidays brought Mr. Cross back "home" and peals were usually rung, including the first peals of Superlative Surprise Maximus and Cambridge Surprise Maximus in the county of Norfolk. Altogether he had taken part in 298 peals for the Norwich Association, 35 of which were handbell peals.

What was Norfolk's loss was certainly the gain of the Kent County Association and the Society of Cumberland's Youths and many. I am sure, connected with these Societies will speak of the sterling worth of George Herbert Cross.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

The Hinckley District held its annual striking competition on the six bells at Sharnford on May 1st. Five teams entered this year—Thurlaston, Higham-on-the-Hill, Leire, Sapcote and Earl Shilton. Sapcote were adjudged the winners, with Earl Shilton coming a close second. The District's thanks are extended to Mr. R. Beniston, Mr. L. Stevens and Mr. B. Warwick, who acted as judges.

WEEK-END TOUR OF NORTH DEVON

FOR their tour this year 17 members of the "Avon Amateurs" set out to enjoy the delightful scenery of North Devon.

The rendezvous was Milverton (8, 18 cwt.), from where we crossed the border and in spite of nearly floundering on the gentle curves of Devon lanes arrived safely at our base for the week-end, Combe Martin.

After a good night's rest and a hearty breakfast we arrived at R. J. P.'s well fought for six, Berrynarbor (10 cwt.). We then plunged into the heart of the holiday country at Ilfracombe (8, 11 cwt. and 8, 12 cwt.), where having cleaned up the town, a brief battle with holiday traffic brought us to the White Horse at Braunton (8, 16 cwt.), where we entertained the company with handbells.

Lunch was at Barnstaple. In spite of D. J. O.'s navigation we eventually found the Parish Church (8, 22 cwt.). The bells are not often rung and the handling reflected this. Bideford (8, 17 cwt.) produced the best ringing on the best ring of bells of the tour.

We sat outside Great Torrington Church for 20 minutes before moving on to the famous eight at Chittlehampton (8, 13 cwt.), where we were impressed by the tower and awed by the prize certificates. The last tower was Chulmleigh (8, 24 cwt.); we were fed at Ilfracombe and watered at Combe Martin, ending the evening with a concert on "Little Hangman."

Sunday morning service at Combe Martin (8, 14 cwt.) was followed by enjoying the glorious views of Exmoor, and later a Devon tea at Watersmeet before a final ring at Lynton (6, 11 cwt.). BOPP.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION

Monmouth Branch

THE Monmouth Branch meeting, held at Nash on May 8th, proved to be a well-attended and enjoyable occasion. Many ringers present were old friends of the Vicar.

Canon Oliver Davies, who was, for a long period, Vicar of Christ Church, Ebbw Vale.

The service was conducted by Canon Davies, who in his welcome recalled the many happy meetings he had enjoyed at Ebbw Vale. The Rev. Ivor J. Richards read the lesson.

A delightful buffet tea was waiting at the nearby Waterloo Hotel, and a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all. Mr. Reuben Clench, on behalf of the company, sincerely thanked Canon Davies for his warm hospitality. Before the business meeting, members stood in silence to remember Mr. J. Jeynes, of Ebbw Vale. A record number of 28 new members were elected from Bedwellty, Monmouth, Caerleon, Ebbw Vale, All Saints' and St. Woolos', Newport.

The Branch Master, Mr. Lionel Jones, was prevented from attending earlier, but fortunately arrived in time to close the business, and ringing on the six bells continued under his able direction until late in the evening.

The next Monmouth Branch meeting: Bedwellty, July 10th.

"LUMLEY," 1965

NOTHING quite succeeds like success, we are told, but it was success which almost caused the undoing of the fourth annual one-day ringing course held by the Durham and Newcastle Association at Lumley Castle, Chester-le-Street, on March 20th. Since its inception, each year has seen an ever increasing number of students attending, and this year a record number of 102 members was registered but disaster loomed when at the last moment it was learned that the castle could cater for only 68 persons owing to staffing difficulties. Some prompt action by the man on the spot, Mr. D. A. Bayles, saved the day, however, and the surplus was found accommodation in a local hostelry.

The policy of a developing curriculum was continued this year and three streams of students were provided for. An Elementary grade was presented in three separate stages covering rope handling and bell control for the raw recruit; first steps in change ringing for the rounds ringer; and elementary method ringing for those at the plain hunt stage. An Intermediate stage was also divided into three stages and covered progressive ringing from Plain Bob to Kent T.B. Minor, Kent T.B. Minor to Cambridge Surprise Minor, and Elementary Conducting. An Advanced grade commenced with a discussion group considering certain topics of interest to local ringing, followed by practical assistance with the Elementary grade and an attempt for a quarter peal of Stedman Triples, the composition of which had been previously studied by all the band.

A new "look" was given to the course by the appearance of new faces on the list of instructors. The "resident" panel of Messrs. D. A. Bayles, E. P. Rock, F. Hodgson and K. Arthur was augmented by the addition of Messrs. T. Cooke, G. S. Deas and E. Hudson to the Elementary grade and K. W. Cheeseman to the Intermediate grade, and their contributions proved most welcome and beneficial.

Introductory sessions for all grades were held at the castle and/or Chester-le-Street belfry and after lunch Elementary grades II and III and the Advanced grade left by special bus for Sunderland, where further lectures were given at Bishopwearmouth Church Annexe and practical sessions took place at Holy Trinity, St. Ignatius' and Bishopwearmouth belfries. Meanwhile the Elementary grade I and Intermediate classes divided their time between the castle and Lanchester, Houghton-le-Spring and Chester-le-Street belfries.

This "schism" continued until after dinner, when a reunion took place in the Pillared Hall of the castle and after a brief discussion of the day's events, including the report of the discussion group, an informal social evening was enjoyed until the calling of "Time." K. A.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

Although within the postal district of the city of Birmingham, members were in the heart of the country on May 8th, when a most enjoyable meeting was held at St. Margaret's, Great Barr. The six bells were put to good use prior to the service, a notable point being that the choir were made up from choirboys and members of the Society who are also choristers.

Notice was given that at the forthcoming annual general meeting, to be held at Lichfield on June 19th next, a proposal would be made to raise annual subscriptions to 5s. each, and 10s. 6d. for non-resident life members. The next striking competition would be at Shreshill on July 3rd, draw at 3 p.m. Committee members were asked to see, if they could not attend any future meeting, that their tower was still represented by other members of their band. Committee meetings would in future start at 3 p.m. and last for one hour only.

New resident members elected were: Miss M. L. Ellwood, Miss A. Bagnall, Miss J. M. Sanders, Miss C. Hadley (Lichfield Cathedral), Miss C. A. Fountain (St. Michael's, Lichfield), Miss M. Smith (Cannock), A. Maiden and R. Lyons (Codsall), together with 14 life members.

To all who worked so hard to make this meeting an undoubted success we extend our sincere thanks. C. M. S.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

West Lindsey Branch

The heavy ring of six in the lofty 500-year-old tower at Haxey were put to good use on the lovely warm afternoon of May 15th during the meeting of the West Lindsey Branch. The special method for the meeting was Old Oxford. The Vicar, the Rev. J. Sims, conducted the service, with a ringer, Mr. T. A. Gilbert, acting as organist.

Mr. C. H. Baker presided at the business meeting. The secretary (Mr. G. L. A. Lunn) reported receipt of a letter from the Bishop's chaplain, stating that Dr. K. Riches would meet the ringers and preach at the Guild's annual service in January. Names were asked for the Branch outing to Loughborough on June 26th. The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. G. E. Feirn who mentioned the Vicar, Mr. J. Underwood and local ringers and the ladies responsible for the excellent tea.

Numbers were swelled on returning to the tower by visiting ringers, who added to the enjoyment of the ringing.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Birds singing and trees bursting with new leaf are recollections of the Kingswood meeting on May 15th. The recently inducted Vicar, the Rev. E. Ashford, conducted the service and local lady ringers provided tea. Methods varied from Plain to Treble Bob Minor and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles with some Reverse Canterbury for good measure.

Next quarterly meeting: Godstone, June 19th.

WOLVERCOTE (OXFORD) WEEK-END TOUR

AT 5.30 a.m. on May 8th, Wolvercote ringers with their wives and friends left Oxford by coach for Devon, their eighth annual tour and so far the best.

On the long journey to Cullompton, everyone was wondering whether this tower would be reached on time. Peter's new portable radio was switched on within minutes of leaving Oxford, thus providing the company with music and amusement. Unfortunately, Cullompton was reached 45 minutes late, and only half an hour could be spared to ring Grandsire Caters and Plain Bob Royal on the lovely ten.

Tiverton was the next tower, and good use was made of the excellent bells before adjourning for lunch at a nearby cafe. The first courses of Surprise were rung at Heavitree, as well as a very good touch of Stedman. Here some of the company met part of the band who were to attempt a peal of Maximus at Exeter Cathedral that afternoon.

A journey through misty countryside brought us to Buckfast Abbey and Bill Symmonds. Tea was taken prior to ringing the 12 bells to Grandsire Cinques and Plain Bob Royal. Totnes, the last tower of the day, was declared by all to have a good old-fashioned ring. It was a short ride to Brixham, where the night was spent.

Sunday morning dawned bright and sunny, and after ringing for morning service at Brixham, advantage was taken of the warm weather by some of the party to walk over Berry Head.

Lunch over, the company journeyed to Paignton, where Bill Symmonds was again welcomed. Babbacombe followed with Bill scoring his first course of Surprise Major at his home tower. Leaving Bill, the company arrived at Clyst Honiton, the last scheduled tower, where the general standard of ringing was low compared with the previous towers. After tea at Ottery St. Mary the local ringers allowed the company to ring on their glorious octave.

The long ride back to Oxford was relieved with a short break for refreshments at Frome, and radio Peter was still broadcasting when Oxford was finally reached early Monday morning.

Thanks are due to the organiser, Mr. Norman Chamberlain, for the excellent tour, and to Bill Symmonds for helping with the arrangements. Local incumbents and tower captains are also thanked. Lastly and most important of all, thanks go to Nobby for his safe driving.

FROM YORKSHIRE INTO DERBYSHIRE

There is no doubt that a sunny day and good fellowship creates wonderful results and encourages high ideals. This was the case when combined forces of Horbury, Ossett and Rothwell ringers made up a coach party on May 15th and visited other towers amongst the lovely scenery of North Derbyshire.

The first halt was at Tideswell, with a stately 14th century church with a well-toned ring of eight. After lunch at Buxton another pleasant hour was spent at nearby Fairfield.

The next call was still in mediæval country at Darley Dale. Here one can quietly stand by the steeple and read the inscription on the largest and oldest yew tree to be known (in a churchyard)—2,000 years. Seeing this tree make one feel small and humble and in turn appreciate our heritage, and at least handle the bells of St. Helen's, Darley Dale, with well-struck touches which fortunately is not hard here to accomplish.

The fourth and final call was at All Saints', Ashover, 12th century church, where the hum of the overtone was pleasant.

Our organiser, Mr. Irvin Slack, is to be commended on a job well done, on what was agreed to be the best ever of our annual combined outings.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Southern District

THE annual meeting of the Southern District on May 15th commenced with ringing on the eight bells of St. Leonard's, Wortley, the picturesque village on the Sheffield-Penistone road and the seat of the Earl of Wharncliffe. Some enjoyable ringing was abruptly concluded after an hour by a broken rope, and a move was made for Bolsterstone, another delightful village high above the reservoirs, and ringing continued here on the bells of St. Mary's. This tower has, for many years, been famous for its generations of the Brearley family and it was a great pleasure to meet three members of this highly respected family.

After an enjoyable tea, the District vice-president, Mr. Norman Chaddock, took the chair for the business meeting. The retiring District secretary, Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert, did not wish to seek re-election this year, and Mr. Michael King, of Wentworth, was unanimously elected in his place. Messrs. J. Seager and T. Tarbatt were re-elected and Mr. N. Donovan was elected to the District Committee, Mr. Tarbatt to continue to serve on the General Committee. Mr. W. F. Moreton paid tribute to Mr. Gilbert for the work he had done for the District during his 27 years in office.

Messrs. R. Plant, of Bradford, and A. Howland, of Rotherham Parish Church, were elected members of the Association. It was decided that the next meeting be held jointly with the Barnsley District Society in Rotherham on August 14th, with ringing at Thrybergh, Eastwood and the Parish Church. A collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised the sum of £1 1s. 6d.

The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. W. F. Moreton and seconded by Mr. N. F. Moxon.

SILSOE RINGERS' OUTING

THE ringers of Silsoe, Bedfordshire, accompanied by a large number of non-ringing friends, had their annual outing on May 29th, and a most enjoyable day it was.

The area visited was the more remote part of Suffolk, when everyone was surprised and delighted to find such "unspoiled" beauty within comparatively easy reach of the busy and populous London area.

The first tower of the day was Horringer (or Horningsheath), a peaceful spot with a handy light eight. Next came the highlight of the day, for at Leiston there stands an ancient Abbey church for wonderful proportions and almost indescribable beauty, the ingenious construction of the roof being reminiscent of the famous lantern at Ely. This architectural treasure stands in the most beautiful surroundings, and, more important from the ringers' point of view, it houses a magnificent ring of eight bells.

Reluctantly we departed from this magic spot and proceeded to the historic town of Aldeburgh, where lunch was taken within sight and sound of the North Sea breakers, after which ringing was enjoyed on the recently augmented eight bells. Leaving Aldeburgh, some 50 good English miles stood between us and our tea, but the journey was broken by a call at Hintlesham, where some good ringing was enjoyed on the light six.

Last stop (almost!) was Stapleford, near Cambridge, where, after ringing, a liberal supply of refreshment, both solid and liquid, was taken aboard.

The hearty thanks of all are extended to incumbents, to friends, both old and new, who met us, to Desmond Brazier for his most competent organisation, and to members of the Silsoe Church choir, whose rendering of the usual variety of songs on the long journey was quite outstanding.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE SOCIETY IN DERBYSHIRE

THE Bellringers' Society of St. John's College, York, now approaching the end of its second full year, held its first ringing tour during the Easter vacation. Twenty-six towers were visited, spread leisurely over five days. The area chosen was Derbyshire, and although the weather was generally poor, excellent scenery and fine bells ensured an enjoyable and successful tour.

The core of ringers consisted of eight past, present and future members of the Society—R. Aldington, P. Dilks, I. Johnson, M. King, A. Miles, G. Pluckrose, R. Smith and R. Joy Watkin. These were joined at various times by other members of the Society, ringing friends and local ringers.

The tour began with the two good eights at Dore and Norton, just outside Sheffield. The pleasant six at Great Longstone and the fine eight at Bakewell followed, and the first day ended at Edensor in Chatsworth Park, where a quarter peal of Doubles was rung.

A highlight of the second day was the well-kept bells at Darley Dale, where, joined by the Rector (the Rev. R. St. J. Smith) and his daughter, we were able to ring our first Kent and Stedman. A quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles at Bradbourne ended the day.

Moving into the Buxton area on the third day, we began with the noisy five at Chelmorton, recently augmented by Taylors, and also rang at Burbage, Fairfield, Taxal and Wormhill. A quarter peal was rung on the Rudhall six at Chapel-en-le-Frith.

On the fourth day, after some enjoyable ringing on the eight at Tideswell, we pressed on to the long-draughted light six at Eyam. On the easy-going six at Old Brampton a quarter peal of Bob Minor folded up about three-quarters of the way through. The two eights at Hope and Castleton provided us with a big contrast. On the pleasant, fast-turning bells at Hope some good Bob Major and Kent and Oxford Spliced were rung. At Castleton the bells were slower turning. Bob Major was going well before the rope on the seventh snapped.

The last day saw us back in Yorkshire. We began at the long-draughted six at Bradfield, where a quarter peal of Doubles in ten methods was rung, followed by a course of Cambridge before ringing down. The next two towers were the eights at Ecclesfield and St. Marie's R.C. Church in Sheffield, the latter being voted the best bells of the tour. Here we rang our best Grandsire Triples and Bob Major and finished with a good touch of Kent. To mark the end of the tour a peal of Minor in four methods (St. Clement's, Kent, Oxford and Plain Bob) was rung at Wentworth.

The Society expresses its thanks to incumbents and people who met the party. After this initial success it is hoped the tour will become an annual event in the calendar of the Society.

BURTON-UPON-TRENT

Mr. John K. Smith organised a wonderful day for the 40 people who participated in the St. Paul's, Burton-upon-Trent, annual outing on May 29th.

Leaving Burton at 7.15 a.m., the first call was Chesterfield, where some very pleasant ringing took place, which was in fact to set the example for ringing at Eckington, Sheffield (Ranmoor), Rotherham (All Saints'), Doncaster and Gainsborough.

The lunch at Rotherham Co-operative Society Restaurant was very well served with the well-known Yorkshire hospitality and the tea at the Doncaster Co-op was also of ample proportions.

This outing will be remembered for the excellent timetable, which necessitated no rushing or any standing about. The day came to a very happy end at 11.30 p.m. back at our starting point. When May 21st, 1966, comes round there will be no shortage of applicants for seats on the coach. Thank you.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The London County Association has dropped from its title North Southwark Diocesan Guild.

From Cuddesdon, even ordinands who ring are due for ordination this Trinity.

We regret that the peal at North Collingham on page 352 was duplicated on page 367.

The Carillon Hotel, Oceanfront, Miami Beach, Florida, publishes a daily feature sheet about the hotel and guests called "The Bell Ringer."

Miss M. Chilton rang her 75th and not her 15th peal at Cropwell Bishop (page 367). This was the first peal in the method for the Southwell Diocesan Guild.

Brentwood, Essex, honoured the birthdays of two of their veterans with a quarter peal on May 9th. They were E. C. Sharplin (81), who rang the treble, and Ernest W. Furbank (78), who was on the fourth.

The ringers of the peal at Long Sutton on May 15th wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Townsend for the excellent tea and the kind hospitality they both afforded the band.

The attempt for the first peal (Grandsire Caters) on the bells of Guildford Cathedral on May 30th failed after 1½ hours' ringing owing to a shift course and the bells running round. A quarter peal was later rung for Evensong. The next peal attempt will be on Sunday, July 18th.

In 1913 a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Harpenden by an "all local" band, the first time this had been possible. The second "all local" peal took place recently, on May 29th, to mark the consecration of the new daughter church in the parish. Taking part in both peals was Mr. Arthur Day. Mr. Leslie Coburn, whose father and uncle took part in the peal in 1913, was also in the band.

HERE'S TO THE MAIDEN

Here's to the maiden whose peals are fifteen;
And here's to the man who's called fifty.
Here's to the flaunting who like to be seen,
But seek, with their subs, to be thrifty.

Toast them with glee!

Between you and me

I'll warrant they'll prove an excuse for a fee.
Down with the furtive, who shrink from our eyes

And would, of statistics, have none, sir.
Down with the expert, replete with Surprise,
Too blasé to publicise one, sir.

This must be checked—

Let them object!

I warrant we'll find an excuse to collect.

So let 'em seek silence or let 'em seek fame;
Royal or Ancient, I care not a feather.

Let us reckon them all at a shilling a name,
And let us e'en roast them together.

Down with the lot!

They can pay on the spot—

I'll warrant they'll never go free from a scot.
With apologies to Sheridan's "School for Scandal."

OVER 25 YEARS AS MASTER

The highlight of the meeting of the N. and E. District at Edmonton on May 15th was a presentation made to Mr. Alick Cutler by his many friends in recognition of his services to the District as Master for over 25 years. The presentation, which took the form of an electric shaver, was made by the Rev. Stanley G. W. Knight, Vicar of Edmonton, and Mr. Cutler suitably replied.

May is a popular month for ringing outings and due no doubt to this fact the attendance was not up to the usual standard, but those who did make the journey were recompensed by being able to participate in more touches than is usual at meetings.

Following the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, with Mr. Platt accompanying at the organ, a splendid tea was enjoyed, provided by Mrs. Trudy Newcombe and her helpers. The provisional election of Miss Vanessa Rodrigues as a non-resident life member prior to a peal attempt was confirmed.

E. H. K.

AN ESSEX FIRST PEAL

The peal at South Benfleet, the first on the bells, was rung by members of the Southend and District Guild at the express wish of the local captain, Mr. C. L. Matson. The band were entertained by him after the peal in the local tavern, where it was very pleasing to see the company joined by the two churchwardens and other friends, all of whom took an interest in this first peal on the bells.

WOMEN CHORISTERS AT OXFORD

A feature of the annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild is the big muster of robed choristers that walk in procession behind the Guild's banner. The Dean and Chapter of Christ Church have made a special concession this year to allow robed women choristers to be in the choir. Mr. Frederick Sharpe is hoping for a good response from our chorister-lady ringers so as to fully justify the Dean and Chapter's latest step in the emancipation of women.

FIRST PEAL AT SOUTH BENFLEET

It sounds hardly credible that the first peal has been rung at South Benfleet, as is reported in this issue, as the bells there are very old. According to notes by C. L. Matson, the local captain, in 1949 Messrs. Mears and Stainbank strengthened the frame and restored the bells and cast a new tenor, which has a flat crown and is inscribed "a thanksgiving for victory, 1939-45."

The other five bells are all odd, the fourth being over 500 years old and was cast in the early 15th century by John Walgrave, of London. The tenor, 11 cwt. 3 qr. 14 lb., was cast in 1636 by John and Henry Wilner, of Borden, Kent, and the fifth is of the same century, being inscribed "Miles Graye made me, 1676." The present second is dated 1664 and is by John Hodson, of London. The third is a product of the Whitechapel Foundry and inscribed "Mr. Henry Blewett. Thos. Meers late Lester Pack and Chapman of London, Fecit 1790."

Mr. Matson quotes from Benton's "History of Rochford Hundred" (about 1870), giving the following record: "Upon a board in the belfry is the following: These compleat peals were rung in the year 1794 by us, Wm. Bau-brooke, Jno. Brooks, Jno. Cooper, Wm. Potter and Jasr. Lane or Jno. Pickering. Old Doubles Kents 12, Old Grandsire 15, New Grandsire 25, Dream 12, Antelope 15, Four Cambridge Delights 14, 15, 24 and 25, New Doubles 12, Fortune 12, Gogmagog 15, St. Dunstan's 12, Hudibrass 12, London Doubles 132, Chase 15, Cambridge Journey 15, Two Westminsters 12 and 15."

No trace now remains of this board and Mr. Matson adds that the numbers following the names of the method do not represent the number of "peals" or "extents" rung in the method, but indicate the bells in "the hunt" and "half hunt" and the work done by these bells and the method used.

A HOLLOWAY GOLDEN WEDDING

London ringers will join with us in offering our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Turner, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on May 22nd. The following day a well struck quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on the bells of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Holloway, a church to which "Bert" has given over 50 years' service as a ringer, including nearly 40 years as tower captain.

"Bert" took part in the first peal on these bells in 1909, conducted by the late Richard Deal. He has "circled the tower" to peals three times and assisted many learners, including R. N., our correspondent, in eight-bell ringing. A member of the Ancient Society of College Youths for half a century, he was frequently at Society practices in years gone by, including those at St. Paul's Cathedral.

His ringing activities are now curtailed on account of his 77 years and his health not being of the best, but he will still go along to St. Mary Magdalene's for a special occasion if possible. Old ringing chums, we are sure, wish him and Mrs. Turner a happy and prosperous continuation of their married life.

ONLY CLOUD ON AUSTRALIAN RINGING HORIZON

Headed "The Representative Calls," Mr. Philip Gray, the representative of A.N.Z.A.B. on the Central Council, writes in the May issue of "Ringing Towers" his impressions of Australian ringing today, arising from his recent visit.

"There is only one cloud that I can see on the Australian ringing horizon," he writes. "A lot of the Australian rings of bells are now around 100 years old and are, as a consequence, very difficult, if not impossible, to ring well. You are really handicapped badly by this fact, perhaps more than many of you realise. I know full well that the situation would be far worse than it is if many of you had not put in countless hours already 'up aloft.' Nevertheless, this cannot be a substitute for the major overhauls that are needed. This means money, and a lot of it, and neither churches nor city halls are normally well supplied with that. I would suggest that this is a matter that A.N.Z.A.B. might take up officially and do what they can to bring home the following points to the respective authorities:—

(1) The bells in their towers are valuable. One hundred years hanging in the tower without major attention must inevitably bring the bells to a state of disrepair and perilously close in some cases to a dangerous state. Probably no other part of the fabric of the building has had less spent on it during the last 10 years.

(2) Australian ringing is in a much healthier state than it has been and there is very little likelihood now of rehung bells not being used for lack of ringers. The existence of the A.N.Z.A.B. needs to be stressed, what it stands for and its current strength. This is a relatively new situation in Australia, but it is probably not generally realised."

He also suggests that A.N.Z.A.B. appoints a towers and belfries adviser in each State to give practical advice.

CATHEDRAL SOCIETIES MEET

On May 15th members of the Hereford Cathedral School Society and the Worcester King's School Society of Ringers met at Worcester for an afternoon's ringing. The ten bells of St. John's Church, Claines, were rung to methods including Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal and Cambridge Major. The Societies then attended Evensong at Worcester Cathedral. Tea, preceded by the singing of Grace by Cathedral choristers, was taken at King's School. In the evening the ten bells at All Saints' Church were rung to a variety of methods.

P. C.

Only six peals have been rung on the rehung bells at Uffington but it is just sufficient for Mr. Charles E. Black to "circle the tower" to peals.

Adelaide Cathedral ringers are making progress with Double Norwich Court Bob Major and have rung touches with their own resources. Among those recently ringing their first touches in the method was Mr. Herbert Greenhalgh, formerly of Pendleton, near Manchester, who is now 61. He took up ringing again after coming to Australia about ten years ago.

REFLECTIONS ON NORTHAMPTON

MOST people left Northampton feeling well-pleased with themselves after the Central Council meeting this Whitsun. Fellowship and ringing abounded and the proceedings at the Council meeting were not too onerous and were enlivened by a witty president. The social side was also well planned. The spaciousness of the town hall enabled the civic reception to be held in comfort and the film and screen entertainment at the social was of a high order.

While the Standing Committee was holding a meeting of inordinant length on Monday, discussing among other things whether the recent appeal of Mr. Tom Lock for providing mementoes for host towers in Australia—the subject of a letter to "The Ringing World" and support from the Middlesex Association—Mr. Philip Gray was showing wonderful colour slides of Australian churches and ringers, and telling a story with the practised art of a born raconteur. Had the Standing Committee seen the film, they might have felt more kindly disposed towards Mr. Lock. He had hoped that additional volunteers would have been forthcoming to enable the financial advantages of a chartered flight to be available, but it was not to be. It is not, however, too late to join his party and secure the benefits of these substantial reductions. Similarly, any hopes of help for his memento fund were not forthcoming. He could have made an interesting five minutes of any other business at the Council meeting, when the president was itching to find something to expand the agenda.

The film that followed was of Washington Cathedral festival at Ascensiontide, 1964. It was made with professional skill with background music by the choir and at appropriate intervals bell music. Furthermore, the ten ringers were seen in all their glory; and to Harry Parkes, the only non-College Youth in the party, there was a special cheer, as he was snapped giving a lesson in handling. This film is on loan for a very limited period. No difficulty was experienced in persuading the Council to buy a copy of the film for £40 and recoup themselves by charging an exhibition fee. While not of the type of "Ringers Required," which is one of the best mediums of ringing propaganda to be presented to the Exercise, this is of more general interest. Ecclesiastic pageantry is seen in many facets, of which the bells are one. Another feature of the social was a recording of Exeter Cathedral bells during the recent peal when Mr. Peter Border turned in the tenor single-handed. Many can now testify to the excellence of that ringing. This unique performance was very impressive.

There was one surprise that came at the end of the Standing Committee's ordinary agenda which was reported to the Council: "The committee took note that the honorary secretary would not be seeking re-election next year." Mr. Barnett has served with distinction for 14 years. His surrender of the reins of office marks the end of an epoch which has witnessed the fashioning of the Central Council not as a dictatorial body but as a conciliatory organisation stimulating interest in ringing and ever ready to help affiliated bodies. This latitude was completely foreign to the principles that held sway in the earlier days, but it has given birth to happier relationships between constituent members. A painstaking efficiency and a willingness to travel to bring the Council to the rank and file are valued characteristics of his high regard for the responsibilities of his office.

A small sub-committee has been formed to search for a successor, but the president made it quite clear that there would be no dictatorship. Their recommendation would be subject to the approval of the full Council. Why this suggestion of avoiding dictatorship? When Mr. Barnett was appointed he was not the choice of the Standing Committee. Canon Felstead was favoured by them and, good candidate as he was, Mr. Barnett was the choice of the floor. Not always is the multitude right, but this election quickly carried complete confidence. Because of Mr. Barnett's decision, not everybody left Northampton happy.

Another personal note—this time of a happy strain—should be mentioned. This was the conferring of the Council's highest honour, that of life membership, on Mr. J. Frank Smallwood. His long service on the Council has included the post of convener of "The Ringing World" Committee. There are two special traits in his character—one is that he leaves those he deals with in no uncertainty as to his viewpoint; the other is his courage and determination to carry through what he regards as his right course to adopt. More often than not he is right, and this adds distinction to his service. We feel that his appeal to the Exercise for a larger measure of support for "The Ringing World" is timely. Perhaps, when ill-health forced him to take things easier in regard to "The Ringing World," this marked the end of an epoch. The printing industry has been badly hit by the inflationary process, and loyal and continued support is the best method of obtaining stability. But "The Ringing World" will never succeed in pleasing everyone. The very nature of its contents precludes this. It has its responsibilities as a technical journal; often things are published that appeal to only ten per cent. of its readers. The penalty of being dubbed "dull" has to be faced, but the journal cannot ignore its responsibility of publishing such information.

Central Council's Happy Meeting at Northampton

MAYOR DRIVES ROUND TOWN TO HEAR THE BELLS. — A RECORD ATTENDANCE. — MR. JOHN BETJEMAN AN HONORARY MEMBER. — LIFE MEMBERSHIP CONFERRED ON MR. SMALLWOOD. — BUSY YEAR FOR PUBLICATIONS DEPARTMENT. — INVESTMENT INTEREST. — MR. E. A. BARNETT NOT SEEKING RE-ELECTION AS HON. SECRETARY.

THE 68th annual meeting of the Central Council, at Northampton Town Hall on Whit Tuesday, was marked by a record attendance and a cordial and happy atmosphere prevailed. Nothing was lacking on the part of the officials of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild to provide an adequate programme of social and ringing activities. At 6.45 a.m. the bells of All Saints' Church were raised and a half-hour of good ringing preceded the celebration of Holy Communion, at which the Bishop of Peterborough (Dr. Cyril Eastaugh) was the celebrant.

Later came the formal opening, with three welcomes—from the Municipality, the Church and the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, with the president of the Central Council (Canon Gilbert Thurlow) making the introductions.

The Mayor (Ald. Donald Wilson), in his welcome, said it was some 45 years since the last meeting of the Central Council in Northampton, and in that time many changes had taken place. Northampton was a town steeped in history. At the then Castle the trial of Thomas à Becket took place. In 1675 there was a disastrous fire and practically the whole of the town was destroyed and All Saints' Church was almost demolished. Charles II gave 1,000 tons of timber for the rebuilding of the church, and on every May 29th his statue was crowned with a garland of oak leaves.

MAYOR'S TOUR TO HEAR THE BELLS

The Mayor said on Sunday evening he drove round the town to hear the bells of the borough's churches. He wanted to say that he visited them all and thoroughly enjoyed the bells. He was certain that they, too, enjoyed their ringing. As to the local arrangements, he was sure they were all very grateful to Mr. Eric Billings for the work he had done.

The Bishop welcomed the Council on behalf of the Diocese of Peterborough and said he felt certain that they knew that Northampton was one of the great jewels in the crown of the Diocese. Unfortunately at their Cathedral at Peterborough they could not ring the bells. As he went round the diocese the bells rang out to welcome him and they were always a source of great happiness, and sometimes they were the means of his finding the way to the church, as it was not always easy.

Mentioning that it was a great pleasure to welcome Canon Thurlow, their president, the Bishop said that Gilbert Thurlow was once a pupil of his; that was some 30 or 40 years ago. He remembered he went to Cberamergau and the thing that impressed the Bishop was that he would rush round to see the bells. Canon Thurlow had continued ever since to be an accomplished enthusiast in this unique field of English accomplishment.

UNIVERSAL MESSAGE OF BELLS

What a good thing it was to have their meetings at Whitsuntide. At this time he always thought of the first Whitsun and the apostolic band; of the people hearing them speak in various languages the truth of the Gospel and the full joy of God's goodness to man. Like them, the bells had a universal message and it was understood by all people. It was a privilege to hold their festival at Whitsun. He wished them every happiness in their work and especially in their conference that day.

Canon G. F. Turner, the president of the Peterborough Guild, said he came over 12 months ago with Mr. Eric Billings to see the Mayor and discuss the arrangements. He would like to thank Mr. Billings for his work. Speaking on behalf of the clergy of the diocese and the whole Church of England, he would like to say how grateful they were for the work which was done by the ringers so far as his Guild was concerned; he felt they were a very live body. He wished the Council a very happy meeting.

Another welcome came from the Master of the Guild, Mr. J. H. Bluff. Their aim, he said, was to encourage bellringing as a scientific aspect of Church work. When they went to church for either a practice or service ringing or a peal they were all dependent on each other. In doing the same things at the same time they all expected to be in complete harmony and rhythm with each other. He hoped they all had had good ringing and good fellowship during the week-end.

The president thanked the ecclesiastical and civic leaders for their kind welcome. They were all very grateful, he said.

APOLOGIES

Messrs. J. Betjeman, C. Birkett (National Police Guild), F. T. Blagrove (Middlesex County Association), J. T. Dyke (life), G. W. Fletcher (life), Mrs. G. W. Fletcher (life), Mr. F. E. Hawthorne (Society of Royal Cumberland Youths), Dr. D. N. Layton (University of London Society), Messrs. G. S. Morris (Salisbury Diocesan Guild), T. G. Myers (Guild of Devonshire Ringers), W. A. Osborn (honorary member), T. H. Radford (East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association), G. Salmon (Bath and Wells Diocesan Association), J. Scott (Chester Guild), Dr. D. E. Sibson (Society of Royal Cumberland Youths), Miss H. G. Snowden (Essex Association), Mrs. P. J. Stanforth (Ladies' Guild), Messrs. P. J. Stanforth (Leicester Diocesan Guild), C. G. J. Watts (Ancient Society of College Youths), J. J. Webb (Hereford Diocesan Guild) and W. C. West (Salisbury Diocesan Guild).

Mrs. Hairs said the Council would be sorry to learn that Mrs. Fletcner was far from well. They all hoped that she would soon recover. Edith had been a member of the Council for 50 years and George was hon. secretary for 20 years. She proposed that a letter of sympathy should be sent to her wishing her a speedy recovery. This was agreed to.

NEW MEMBERS

The following new members were presented to the president: Messrs. J. Worth (Chester Guild), D. F. Muret (Ely Diocesan Association), Dr. E. V. Woodcock (North Wales), F. A. White (honorary member), R. Roger Savory (Winchester and Portsmouth).

MR. J. F. SMALLWOOD HONOURED

Honorary life membership for his distinguished services to the Exercise was conferred on Mr. J. Frank Smallwood. The proposal was moved by Mr. F. W. Perrens, who said that by next April it would be 50 years since they rang their first peal together. It was a sad occasion as it was one of those rung for the first president and founder of the Council, who was in office at the time of his death—Sir Arthur Perceval Heywood.

No words of his were necessary to prove that Mr. Smallwood richly deserved the honour he was proposing. He was elected a member of the Council in 1939 and had served the Council faithfully ever since. In 1951 he was brave enough to take on the most thankless job of convener of "The Ringing World" Committee. At that time the finances of "The Ringing World" were practically nil; in fact it was touch and go whether the paper would continue. They had only to refer to the accounts to see the tremendous work he and the members of his committee had done in the past 14 years.

Mr. E. A. Barnett seconded and said: "There is no one in the Exercise today who more richly deserves the highest honour the Council is able to confer on him."

The resolution was put to the meeting and the president announced: "It gives me tremendous pleasure to tell you that by a unanimous vote you have been elected a life member, and I trust you will grace our meetings for many years to come."

Mr. Smallwood, in thanking the Council for a "totally undeserved honour," said he had done what he could to help forward "The Ringing World." "I am afraid we have some difficult times ahead for 'The Ringing World' and it behoves everyone to support the paper. Don't be too critical; remember you are being served by an excellent committee who are putting everything they have got into it and it is a very hard task."

Mr. Smallwood paid tribute to the services in past years of Mr. J. Dyke and the late Mr. Harold J. Poole and asked for full support for the committee in the days ahead. He was still convinced that 5,500 readers was a disgrace to the Exercise; it ought to be 10,000.

MR. J. FRANK SMALLWOOD, who received the Council's highest honour
—life honorary membership.

ELECTION OF HONORARY MEMBERS

The hon. secretary said the Standing Committee recommended that the retiring members (Mrs. O. D. Barnett, Messrs. F. I. Hairs, C. K. Lewis, W. A. Osborn, A. J. Pitman and H. L. Roper) be re-elected. It had come to light that one well-known member of the Towers and Belfries Committee (Mr. F. E. Collins) would after next year be no longer a member of the Council and also that Mr. Brian Austin was in a similar position. It was the wish of the committee that their names should go forward for honorary membership.

Mr. F. E. Sharpe proposed this and said the Towers and Belfries Committee were losing Mr. Clarke, who was retiring, and Mr. Osborn was unable to continue. Mr. Collins had done a tremendous amount of work—he did 18 inspections last year in eight different counties, and he never hesitated to go on long journeys. Mr. Austin was writing a chapter for the new handbook and was a qualified architect.

Mr. John Freeman seconded and the recommendation was confirmed.

MR. JOHN BETJEMAN ELECTED

The hon. secretary said, as instructed at the last meeting, he wrote to Mr. John Betjeman, who replied that he was honoured that his name should be considered for honorary membership. It was some years since he handled a bell and he was then only a call change ringer. Mr. Barnett proposed and Mr. T. J. Lock seconded his election, which was unanimous.

OUTSTANDING MEN IN THE OBITUARY LIST

The Council stood while the following members who had died during the year were remembered: S. E. Bennett, E. C. Turner, F. W. Rogers, Rev. W. M. K. Warren, T. G. Darch, A. A. Hughes, C. Sharples, E. M. Atkins, L. J. Williams, Canon C. C. Cox, G. E. Cross, Frank C. W. Knight, J. R. Newman and G. C. Woodley.

The president paid a tribute to Mr. Hughes. They could remember him, he suggested, under seven headings. First as a bell founder, and the head of a very great bell foundry by which he inherited a very long and honourable tradition. Splendidly he carried on and built on the work of his predecessors. He was also most helpful to clergy and church councils who had little money available to get their bells ringing. Then there was his outstanding work with the Ancient Society of College Youths, in which he held high office. Another was in connection with "The Ringing World." When Mr. Goldsmith died he, with others, took full responsibility and served as treasurer.

Canon Thurlow also mentioned Mr. Hughes' work for education as a governor of the Sir John Cass Institute, as a churchwarden and his hospitality. He was a very great gentleman and it must be a joy to him that his family was carrying on the work to which he had devoted his life.

The Rev. John Scott paid tribute to Mr. Tom Darch of the Devon Association. He was a man of authority who loved bell music, his home and his church. It was his decision that made the Devon Association join the Central Council.

Mr. J. Bray in a tribute to Mr. Stanley Bennett said he was an excellent ringer and a great churchman.

Canon K. W. H. Felstead referred to the passing of Mr. Fred Rogers, a member of the Council for over 30 years and who was an officer of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild for 40 years. In a reference to Canon C. C. Cox, he was known to a large number of ringers and would also be remembered for the excellent articles he wrote for "The Ringing World" at Christmas and Easter.

Mr. Frank Haynes recalled a long association with Mr. E. M. Atkins through Cambridge University Guild, St. Augustine's, Kilburn, and Teignmouth, where he served with distinction as general secretary to the Guild of Devonshire Ringers.

The recent death of Mr. George E. Cross was mentioned by Mr. E. A. Barnett. From his own point of view his greatest achievement was as Master of the Society of Cumberland Youths over a difficult period in keeping the Society together and a band at St. Martin's.

Mr. J. P. Fidler made brief references to the deaths of Mr. E. C. Turner, a policeman pupil of Mr. Harold Poole; Mr. Charles Sharples, who went on the Australian tour; Mr. L. Williams, a well-known Lancashire ringer; and Mr. Tommy Darch, of Torrington, whose ringing was ringing.

Mr. I. H. Oram in a reference to Mr. Frank C. W. Knight said few had a greater knack in upsetting people, but only those who knew him realised how sincere and helpful he really was. He was particularly grateful to him; he always tried to train ringers wherever he went.

Mr. J. T. Barrett, on behalf of the Salisbury Guild, referred to the great work Canon Cox did for the Guild and his knowledge and love of gardening.

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING

The minutes, as published in "The Ringing World" of March 16th, 1965, were adopted on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. F. Sharpe.

Arising from the minutes, the hon. secretary said it would be recalled that the Southwell Diocesan Guild were requested to change the name (Burslem Delight Major), as it was not the correct extension of the Minor. He had received a letter stating that this had been done.

REPORTS

THE HONORARY SECRETARY AND TREASURER

PERUSAL of copies of the more significant letters sent out during 1964 reveals little of outstanding importance. Possibly the correspondence arising from an inquiry I made about participation in the Duke of Edinburgh's Award was the most interesting and probably the most rewarding. That concerning the loss of the account books of "The Ringing World" for several weeks because of a mailbag theft was the most alarming! The rest seems mainly to be internal correspondence, Council meeting matters and answers (sometimes soothing ones) to the usual variety of inquiries from all kinds of sources: Has the . . . Association ever employed paid instructors? Can you organise an exhibit for our Christian Stewardship Campaign? (The Salisbury Guild kindly did so.) Can you tell me about your Council, its aims and objects, for a thesis I am writing? Have you any instructional books to help us ring our bells? (This from Ceylon.) Who is the Patron Saint of bellringers?

The Barron Bell Trust continues to be much sought after and I hope that some at least of those who ask for help from the Trust are able to obtain it.

I am grateful to Mr. Douglas Hughes, the new treasurer of "The Ringing World," for taking over the task of dealing with the Editor's pay and tax matters.

I am very glad to have been associated with Mr. Edgar Shepherd's book "The Sound of Bells," which appeared at the end of the year.

Mr. Wilson and Miss Groves have as usual saved the Council considerable expense by typing and duplicating these papers, and our thanks are once again due to them.

E. A. BARNETT.

The hon. secretary moved and Canon Feltstead seconded and the report was adopted.

THE TRUSTEES OF THE CARTER RINGING MACHINE

THE machine was run on four days during the year and was seen by 67 visitors. Methods rung included Cambridge Surprise Major, Grandsire Caters and Stedman Cinques, but attempts to bring round touches of London Surprise Major, previously successful, failed. The settings have been carefully checked but the time available at the Museum for a thorough check is limited, and some time will be required to trace what is undoubtedly only a slight maladjustment.

It is therefore proposed to withdraw the machine from the Museum during this year for a period of two or three weeks during which time it will be possible to spend time on it during hours when the Museum would not be open for such operations.

DOUGLAS HUGHES,

FRANK E. HAYNES,

Trustees.

Moving the adoption. Mr. Douglas Hughes said that since the report was submitted Mr. Haynes spent a day with him and they traced the fault that had given them trouble so it would not be necessary to take the machine away from the Museum.

Seconding. Mr. Haynes said Mr. Hughes would like to hear of any young man living in the London area interested in the machine.

Record Demand for Central Council Publications

The report of the hon. librarian stated that sales of publications are still increasing and the income therefrom this year is over £40 more than in any previous year. The demand for "Beginners' Handbook" again shows a marked increase, as does also that for "On Conducting"—surely good signs for the future. An added interest in handbell ringing seems to be indicated by an increase this year in the sales of "Change Ringing on Handbells" of over 60 per cent. on the average for the past five years.

1964 has been quite an active year for new publications and reprints, the following having been dealt with: "Beginners' Handbook," "On Conducting," "Four-way Table Minor Methods," "Recruiting Leaflet," "Prayer Sheet," "Change Ringing on Handbells" and "Grandsire Caters." In addition, all the hard work on "A Collection of Surprise Methods" was completed this year and the issue is dated 1964, although it was not on sale until early 1965. Mr. J. R. Mayne and his colleagues on the Methods Committee are to be congratulated on this most comprehensive and valuable work and the thanks of the whole Exercise is due to them. We also thank Mr. J. Segar for presenting us with a further supply of "Blue Line Proof."

I would like to pay a special tribute to Mr. Edward Jenkins, of Oldham, who has spent a tremendous amount of time during the past few years in writing, together with sketches, duplicates of J. A. Trollone's "London Ringers and Ringing." He has already completed eight of the ten volumes, each consisting of 500 to 600 pages. We are grateful also to Mr. Fred Dunkerley for supplying all the necessary material for the job. Mr. Speed has agreed to house the duplicates.

Thanks to the generosity of the late Mr. E. H. Lewis, who left any of his books of interest to ringers, copies of which we had not got in our library, to the Central Council, the library has been enriched by quite a number of books. By the kindness of Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Hooton (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis) I was invited to visit Tring and choose the books from the collection Mr. Lewis left there. We are indeed most grateful to them. We also tender our sincere thanks for the following additions to the library:

"The Sport of Gentlemen" (ringing included) per Mr. A. Warren; "Friends of Exeter Cathedral" (including an article on "The Bells of the Cathedral" per Rev. J. G. M. Scott; "Incidence of Falseness in Right-Place Surprise Major Methods" by A. S. Hudson, J. W. McClenahan and M. E.

Bishop per the authors; "Church Bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark" per the author, Mr. F. Sharpe; "Church Bells of Berkshire" (Part XVIII, per the author, Mr. F. Sharpe; Copies of "Irish Bell News" per Mr. F. E. Dukes.

Each year seems to bring an added burden to the shoulders of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. B. Speed, for our stock of publications, the sales thereof and the financial turnover are all increasing. Added to their difficulties this year has been the work of moving house. We are most grateful to them for doing an important job, one which is most essential for the welfare of the Exercise, and one which must take up a very considerable amount of their time.

FRANK W. PERRENS,
Hon. Librarian.

The Publications Account showed a profit of £94 16s. The stock at the end of the year was £820 2s. 8d. (against £657 8s. 3d.). Sales less discounts were £345 11s. 5d. Purchases during the year were 5,000 "Beginners' Handbooks," £185 8s.; 1,000 "Change Ringing on Handbells," £82 18s.; 1,000 "On Conducting," £59 15s.; 1,000 Four-way Minor Table," £16 15s.; 1,000 "Grandsire Caters," £377 4s.

Interest on the Clement Glenn bequest of £23 2s. 2d. had been spent on 3,000 copies of "What is This?" £17 4s., binding books for Theological Colleges. £5 15s. The fund of investment at cost was £762 18s. 4d. and cash at bank £136 13s. 8d.

Mr. C. K. Lewis seconded and the report was adopted.

THE ACCOUNTS

The Income and Expenditure Account of the Council showed an excess of income over expenditure of £111 14s. 8d. Affiliation fees were £82 10s. 6d., and Profit on Publications £94 16s. Expenses were £65 11s. 10d., the main items being committee expenses £8 18s. 1d., officers' expenses £11 8s. 5d., stationery and printing £11 8s. 5d., postage and telephone £17 4s. 9d.

The Consolidated Balance Sheet showed capital accounts of £8,692 5s. 10d. ("Ringing World"), £845 5s. 7d. (General Fund) and £899 12s. Clement Glenn Fund. At the end of the year cash at bank and in hand was £2,665 17s. Investments at cost were £8,262 18s. 4d.

Moving the accounts except "The Ringing World," which was presented with its committee's report, Mr. E. A. Barnett said these had been audited by Mr. Harold Pitstow. The General Fund Income and Expenditure Account for the first time for some years showed a profit without the surplus from the Publications Account. The value of the office and library equipment had been reduced to £1 and he proposed to leave it at that figure.

As the librarian had said, in regard to the Publications Account they had made a record profit. Since 1959 some 20,027 copies had been printed. With each reprint the price went up and he supposed that cost would eventually overtake the selling price, but as the original idea was to sell at a low price they need not worry too much about this. They had this year the Surprise Methods book. One snag about this was that the General Fund had not the waiting money to meet the cost, but by a certain amount of juggling they met the balance.

In regard to investments and in view of Mr. Vernon Bottomley's comments at the Yorkshire annual meeting on April 20th, he had a letter from "The Ringing World" auditor stating that Defence Bonds were losing their attraction and suggesting that as the Bonds came up for redemption the Council consider placing the money with a building society.

The accounts were seconded by Mr. F. E. Dukes and adopted.

"THE RINGING WORLD" CRITICS GET BUSY

The reception of the report of "The Ringing World" Committee provoked considerable discussion. Among the complaints were the poor return from investment, the need of a brighter paper, delays in deliveries of postal copies and the suggestion that the Editor's choice of publication was influenced by the "Gratefully Acknowledged" column.

The report, signed by Mr. R. S. Anderson (convener) stated: In presenting its report for 1964 your committee first records a change in its convener. After serving "The Ringing World" and the Exercise generally for many years, Mr. J. Frank Smallwood felt the work was becoming rather too much for him and it was to the regret of all that at Truro he announced to the committee that he could no longer continue in the position. It was with great reluctance that his resignation was accepted. Your committee feels sure that the Council will join with it in offering to Mr. Smallwood sincere thanks for all his work, for it is due to his guidance and leadership that the paper not only survives today but that its finances are so well founded. We wish him well and look forward to his valued guidance and counsel for some years to come. Appointed to succeed Mr. Smallwood was Mr. R. S. Anderson, who asks for your support and help in the conduct of your paper's affairs.

This year has been notable in that "The Ringing World" published its first supplement, reporting the successful opening of the Washington Cathedral bells by a band from the "Old Country." The innovation was an outstanding success and the committee's thanks are extended to all who contributed to this noteworthy publication and hope that future special occasions can be suitably commemorated.

BELLFOUNDERS' GENEROSITY

The committee also records with thanks the generous gesture of the bellfounders, Mears and Stainbank and John Taylor and Co., in donating their advertising space for the provision of more news items whilst continuing to pay the charges. Their offer was quite unsolicited and is thus the more admirable. The extra page made available has been of great use to the Editor in providing additional "Belfry Gossip."

The accounts for the year now before you showing a surplus of £444 is an increase of £75 on that for 1963. Whilst income shows a net increase (including investment increase) of £358, expenditure has risen by net £106. Members are however reminded that costs in the current year will be greater on two items, printing and postage. Printing charges were increased as from the first issue in January, 1965, and extra postal charges come into force on May 17th, 1965. After careful consideration and taking into account the loss of sales when last the price was raised, your committee decided to add only 1d. to the charge, making the new figure 9d. per week with appropriate alterations in the postal subscriptions.

Whilst appreciating that it will be necessary to review costs and charges at the end of 1965, your committee hopes that any further upward adjustment can be avoided by additional support resulting in greater income, especially through more postal subscribers. Of our publishing income, 37.4 per cent. is from the publishers and 62.6 per cent. from postal subscribers. This is a worthy achievement and the Exercise is urged to consider that 500 more postal subscribers will materially help in maintaining the present charges.

In conclusion, your committee gives its thanks to the Editor and his assistant at Guildford, to Mr. J. E. Jeater for the accounting, to Mr. Roper for compiling the index and all who in any and every way contribute to "The Ringing World."

Mr. R. A. Anderson, in moving the adoption of the report, said on behalf of his colleagues he would like to be the first to congratulate Mr. Frank Smallwood on his election as a life member. They were more than grateful for the time, work and energy Mr. Smallwood had given to "The Ringing World," and they hoped they would have the benefit of his guidance and counsel for some years to come.

The increase in the price of "The Ringing World" on January 1st was the minimum they felt was necessary, due to the recent price increase in the printing trade, the extra postage to be met from May 17th and the extra National Health Insurance contributions for which they were subject for Mrs. Lucas. The position would have to be reviewed at the end of the year in the light of the year's working. They were basing that on the prospect of a second reduction on the return of their publishers. "The Ringing World," as they knew, was a minor publication and must be a lot of trouble to publishers, and if they want to continue for them to buy at their terms the only answer was for more postal subscribers. They had appealed for years for more postal subscribers; they got 1½d. a copy more from this source. The crux was that 5,500 was a very small proportion out of the 40,000 ringers in the country.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded.

MARKET RATE OF INTEREST

Mr. Vernon Bottomley said if he had known that a report of the Yorkshire Association was to appear in "The Ringing World" he would have taken the trouble to see that he was a bit more accurately reported. The answer the hon. secretary had made seemed to be like closing the stable door. If they must have taxable interest then they ought to have securities that paid the market rate of interest. For some months local authorities had been offering 6½ per cent. on fixed term investments. He had raised this question of surplus cash lying in banks before and he would be surprised if they could not find a few hundred pounds to place with local authorities on seven days' notice. He thought they should examine their Defence Bonds and see if it would not be more advantageous to sell and invest in other securities.

Mr. A. D. Barker complained about committee reports being handed out at the meeting and not sent in advance. He also complained about the state his "Ringing World" arrived through the post, the outside being covered with post-marks and the wrapper often torn. Could they not have larger wrapping paper? He also thought the committee should have somebody with a financial mind to advise them with their investments.

Dr. C. M. P. Johnson (Cambridge University) thought the Council could increase its income by £150 a year by changing its investments.

REPORTS LATE

The hon. secretary said on the question of reports, the resolution of the Council was that reports should be in the hands of the hon. secretary by March 31st. This year the majority of reports were not in by that date and that is why a number were not issued in advance.

In regard to investments, they acted on professional advice. So far as Defence Bonds were concerned they had some 4 per cent. maturing this year and there was no point in disposing of them as they would lose the capital bonus. The first £1,000 worth of five per cent. mature in July and again there was no point in disposing of them. The 4½ per cent. would mature in 1967 and that was something they might consider selling and re-investing. Mr. Barnett again emphasised that they acted on professional advice.

MORE ATTRACTIVE PAPER

Mr. Philip Gray said each year when "The Ringing World" report was presented the Central Council became like a shareholders' meeting. First of all he thought the committee were to be congratulated on making their books balance, but did they regard as part of their duties to discuss how "The Ringing World" could be made more attractive? The report mentioned the sales at 5,500 and the question was how to increase those sales. It was primarily a matter of salesmanship, the method of producing the paper and the news they gathered.

Mr. Anderson replied that the policy of the paper was set out by "The Ringing World" Committee, and it was the committee's responsibility to see that it was made attractive and appealed to the Exercise. Mr. Gray had said it was a matter of salesmanship. Unfortunately it was not quite the case as "The Ringing World" Committee had a certain optimum of income and must budget within that figure. That was why they were asking for increased support. They had only one editor and it was a tremendous job for one person with very little recompense. When the present editor retired the Council knew it would be an extremely difficult job to find a successor. "The Ringing World" employed no full-time or part-time reporters, and Mr. White depended on the material he received.

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott: "I find this complaint of copies arriving damaged very strange. Mr. Barker's travels 30 miles, mine travels 212 miles and arrives in perfect condition. I find it difficult to understand how his copy gets messed up in such a short distance."

POSTAL DELAYS

Mr. G. Dodds thought there would be more postal subscribers if "The Ringing World" would arrive on a Thursday.

Mr. R. S. Anderson said any delay was not due to late posting. They were posted the same time every week; delay was due to postal authorities, over whom they had no control. He lived in Newcastle and worked in Stoke, two miles away. A letter was posted in Newcastle on a Tuesday at 7 p.m. and he did not receive it until 11 o'clock on Thursday morning.

Mr. J. R. Mayne said as far as postal subscribers were concerned they were of great value to the paper and he thought it was criminal in a body like that some did not take the paper through the post. He could not believe they arrived in a bad condition and he had never found it necessary to make a complaint about his.

There had been concern among readers about the economic price of the paper, and was it necessary to have voluntary donations to "The Ringing World"? There might be arguments on both sides. It might be good business to receive money and put in quarter peals, but it must be very difficult to receive a donation and refuse to publish. On the other hand, were they not in danger of establishing a system of bribery by "gratefully acknowledged"? It was quite possible that the selection of items for publication might be influenced by a donation. He thought there was a great danger in such a position. Mr. Mayne also expressed his disapproval of the format employed for peals and said there was an almost unanimous opinion of disapproval of the change.

Mr. Norman Chaddock felt that "The Ringing World" was in a cleft stick and it had been like it for years. The best thing the Council could do was to give full support to "The Ringing World" Committee, who had a big job to do.

Mr. Victor Shepherd thought the introduction of a coloured cover would be an advantage. They had to make it more attractive.

tively produced card should be circulated, giving details of how to become a subscriber. Mr. White replied to a number of points raised. Referring to mutilated copies received occasionally by a postal subscriber, he reaffirmed that all copies were despatched in good condition. However, he would of course be pleased to replace any mutilated copies with a fresh one on request.

In respect of the format of the peals as published in "The Ringing World," he pointed out that under the old format there were approximately five to six peals in one column, while under the new format there were approximately seven peals. This had resulted in a tremendous saving of space, which was his prime consideration.

As to peals not appearing in chronological order, he said that he first put the peals in order of Guilds or Associations, then in order of numbers of bells—12, 10, 8, 6 and 5—and then into date order. There were times when it was possible to save space by transferring a peal to another column. Before adopting this method he consulted peal secretaries and they approved of the arrangement.

Another complaint dealt with was the size of pages in this year's issues of "The Ringing World," and the Editor said that, like many other concerns, the printers had been the subject of a "take-over bid," and as a result different machines were now used for printing the paper. He hoped that the size of the pages would remain uniform from now on.

In conclusion, Mr. White affirmed his interest in the Exercise and in his work as Editor of "The Ringing World," and stated that it was his intention to carry on as Editor as long as he was able, provided the Central Council were prepared to retain him. The report was adopted.

PEALS COLLECTION COMMITTEE

The new collection of compositions in Major methods is complete and should be in the hands of the printer during the course of the next few weeks. It will consist in the main of a revised edition of the previous collection, which is now almost out of print. Attention is being paid to quality rather than numbers of compositions.

The adoption of the report was moved by Mr. Critchley and seconded by Mr. G. E. Feirn and carried.

LATE NEWS
ANOTHER FATALITY

Mr. John Parish, a 23-year-old Mancetter (near Hinckley, Leics) ringer, who received an award for bravery last year, died in a Birmingham hospital after being involved in a fatal accident near Nuneaton.

John was a keen mountaineer and was presented with a bravery award after helping to rescue a climber in the Welsh mountains. As an enthusiastic worker for his church, he was a founder member of the Youth Fellowship, a member of the P.C.C. and Assistant Scoutmaster of the local troop.

From an early age he had been a keen bellringer and was a familiar figure at the Hinckley District meetings.

A young man of this calibre will be sorely missed and we extend to his family and fellow members of his church our sincere condolences at this sad event. T. C. B.

LEADING PEAL RINGERS

Up to the issue of June 11th, 2,827 people have rung tower bell peals and 110 peals "in hand" this year. Heading the list are:—Tower (male): Michael J. Fellows 49 (conducted 5), J. Alan Ainsworth 47 (20), Martin D. Fellows 47 (4), George E. Feirn 45 (1). Eight of the first ten are Birmingham ringers—the nearest rival being Bernard F. L. Groves, Kent 36 (22). Tower (female): Gillian M. Hussey 31, Susan Funnell 26, Ruth M. Blackshaw 20 (5). Handbells: J. Arthur Hoare 29 (2).

MR. BARNETT NOT SEEKING RE-ELECTION

The hon. secretary reported that the Standing Committee considered the agenda in detail and made a number of recommendations that would be placed before the Council. The committee took note that the hon. secretary would not be seeking re-election next year.

The president said everyone on the Council with any idea of administration must be profoundly aware of the work their secretary had been doing these last 14 years and would continue to do this year. He had carried out the work with indomitable courage and tremendous energy, and above all this he had a number of gifts and qualifications for this task. It was almost impossible to envisage such a Council as theirs continuing without Mr. Barnett as its secretary. They would not be surprised to learn that at the Standing Committee many people spoke most movingly and persuasively but he had thought it over very carefully with his dear wife and he would not be open to persuasion so the Council would elect a new hon. secretary this time next year.

They must do their best to elect a most worthy successor. Clearly they must be careful to avoid the dangers of dictatorship and the pitfalls of democracy which it would be unwise to comment on at this stage. What was suggested at the Standing Committee was that the matter of a possible successor be left to a small committee consisting of the vice-president, the secretary, the librarian and himself. It was sincerely hoped that as the result of their deliberations a suitable name would be submitted to them. They were not dictators. The Council was a democratic institution and it would be for the Council to elect its secretary heeding whatever the small committee might submit.

When they elected a new secretary they had to remember that the future of the Council as regarded its efficiency and functioning must depend on whom fell the honour of being the new secretary and treasurer.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded and the report was adopted without comment.

NORWICH.—At St. George Colegate, on May 23rd, 1,320 Plain Bob Doubles: Miss B. M. Payne 1, Mrs. D. Cubitt 2, D. Cubitt 3, D. P. Mortlock 4, M. Cubitt (cond.) 5. For morning service, and a compliment to Jack and Miriam (nee Higdon) Clover, married the previous day.

PRICE'S 240 RECOGNISED

A motion to amend the Decisions of the Council Section D (2) page 20, was moved by Mr. C. K. Lewis. It will read: "Twelve-scores known as Morris', Pitman's and Price's." Mr. Lewis said in 1951 the Decisions were revised and at that time Mr. Price's 240 was not well known. This 240 was similar in build-up to the others and they thought it was only right and proper that it should be included in the Council's handbook.

Mr. E. A. Barnett seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

1/- PEAL LEVY WITHDRAWN

The motion on behalf of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers submitted by the Rev. J. G. M. Scott and seconded by Mr. N. Mallett: "That no report of any peal be published in the peal report columns of 'The Ringing World' unless such report be accompanied by a contribution to 'The Ringing World' funds of not less than a shilling for each person taking part in the peal," was withdrawn.

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott, in making the request, said it would give Guilds an opportunity to discuss it.

A PRACTICAL APPROACH TO OUR PROBLEMS

AN examination and analysis of the collection of articles and news items reveals the interesting fact that emphasis in the past year has been on a practical approach to the problems facing churches, bells and bellringers, states the report of the Literature and Press Committee.

Three important matters have received attention: the care of bells, the importance of recruiting and the question of bells for new churches. The interest shown in these closely-related subjects has been heightened by the allusion to them in speeches and writings by some of the high dignitaries of the Church.

"Venture," the newspaper of the Diocese of Exeter, prints an article by the Rev. John Scott in which valuable practical advice is given for incumbent and ringer on the care of a tower and its precious contents; and other feature articles draw attention to the service that must be given to the bells. The Yorkshire Press showed concern at the lack of recruits for ringing at Sheffield comparing it with the flourishing state of Rotherham ringing. The "Hull Daily Mail" quoted at length the words of the Bishop of Hull, speaking at Beverley. He told members: "Keep up your bell-ringing because it is not only good for the parish and the people but good for you . . . It is part of the whole system of worship and evangelism in our church." The italics of the last sentence is our own, and we make no apology for emphasising this part of the Lord Bishop's speech. The Bishop of Lincoln, speaking at the Lincoln Diocesan Guild's Dinner, enlarged on the same theme, and urged with vigour the rejection of sham bells.

SENSIBLE APPROACH

The feature articles we have read have all had a pleasant and sensible approach to their subject. Ricky Ryan in "The Bicester Advertiser" writes thoughtfully on the young ringers at St. Edburgh's Church, Bicester; and an excellent essay on the ringers of All Saints', Childwall, combines ringing customs and the activities of the local band, and provides with it four instructive photographs. A scholarly article by Kenneth S. B. Croft on the golden jubilee of the bells of St. Mary's, Southampton, has been reprinted as a pamphlet and should assist both the church and the cause of ringing.

From Ireland come a number of interesting articles and features, and among them some reference to Robert B. Smith's tour and Cambridge Twelve at Dublin, an account by D. F. Moore in "The Evening News" of the bells of the Roman Catholic Church of SS. Augustine and John, and "Tatler" in "The Irish Independent" writing of the instructional work of Mr. F. E. Dukes. In addition these "The News of the World" for December 15th reminded us of the world-wide work of the Fountain Head Bell Foundry, Dublin, Ireland's only active bell foundry.

Back in England, "The Western Morning News" of July 3rd printed an attractive article by the Rev. Norman Edwards on some West of England bells, bell inscriptions and rhymes, and the opening words of the essay are significant: "... we have entered upon an era of new churches being built without bells." Following the thoughtful and suggestive thesis on this theme by Mr. Geoffrey Dodds (quoted in our last report) we have, this year, Mr. Brian Austin advocating the provision of light rings of bells in towers of simple construction; and the subject was underlined by Mr. T. A. Bevis in "The Ringing World" of October 23rd. Mr. Austin's article written for the "Ely Diocesan Gazette" was quoted by "Urbanus" in "The Church Times." The writer says "I cannot recall seeing a single post-war church which possesses a bell tower as the term has hitherto been understood." And he goes on to support Mr. Austin and to urge the importance of preserving the art of ringing in churches. "Bat," writing in "Venture," suggests what he calls a Bell Employment Exchange to organise and facilitate the transfer of bells from churches where they will never be rung to towers in which they might be usefully employed.

COMPLAINTS

Among the complaints against bellringers, two in the early part of 1964 deserve attention. The first at Bradford-on-Avon resulted in a considerable correspondence in "The Wiltshire Times and Gazette," which, if inconclusive, resulted in the impression that the complainant had exaggerated the facts of the situation. Another complaint, at Honeybourne in Warwickshire, brought forth an article in "The Birmingham Post and Gazette" and aroused the villagers to a defence of their parish church bells.

A further thought on this matter is prompted by a letter in "The Daily Telegraph" deploring the cessation of the 8 a.m. church bell at Bromley on the grounds that people nearby could not sleep through its tolling. And to conclude this section we draw attention to the outspoken declaration of the Rector of Loughton, Essex, to the building speculators that whatever or wherever they build he will not allow his bells to be silenced. The passage in "The Evening News and Star" quotes the Rector as saying: "It is clearly understood by the developers that St. John's Church has one of the finest peals of bells in the county. I have no intention of silencing them."

Among the school and college activities we are pleased to note in "Tower and Town" continued progress at Marlborough College and "Outlook" reports fully on the good work at Edmonton Grammar School. This Summer issue of the School Magazine also contains an excellent article for the layman by M. V. White, accompanied by a fine reproduction of the membership certificate of The Ancient Society of College Youths.

GENERAL NEWS

Among the general news items the proposed ring of bells for Guildford Cathedral has aroused wide interest and the visit of the English ringers to Washington had great publicity in the Press on both sides of the Atlantic. The Convener's new book "The Sound of Bells" received notice in the Midland and Western papers, and the reviews included one in "The Church Times."

Ringers featured have included the Rev. Roger Keeley in "Town and Tower," David Manger, Ringing Master at Chelsfield, whose work was noted in the "Evening Standard" and in "Spanner," and a number of veterans receiving recognition of long service. Among these we found Messrs. G. E. Symonds and C. J. Sedgley, of Ipswich, Mr. Alec Weeks, of Devizes, and Mr. Tom Collins. The newspaper of the Parish Church of St. Martin, Ruislip, printed a very pleasant article on Mr. Collins and his sixty years as a ringer, accompanied by an equally pleasant photograph.

PUBLICATIONS

New books and publications of 1964 are given below: "Overtones"—this has a new editor and a fresh layout; "The Ringing Towers"; "The Belfry News"; "Irish Bell News"; "A Handbook of Grandsire Caters"; Edgar C. Shepherd, second edition (C.C. Publication); "Complete Collection of Right-Place Surprise Methods"; A. S. Hudson and J. W. McClenahan; "Learning and Teaching Bell Control"; Norman Chaddock; "The Church Bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark"; Frederick Sharpe (one of the most attractive little books that has come our way); "The Church Bells of Berkshire," Part 18: Frederick Sharpe; "The Sound of Bells"; Edgar C. Shepherd.

The "Ringers' Notebook and Diary" appears with such regularity that we now take it very much for granted. It is gratifying to see it in such general use, especially among the younger ringers.

It is with regret that we have to report the suspension of the publication of "The Belfry" and we trust ere long it will again go into circulation.

Letters to the Editor

BELFRY REPAIR FUND

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read Mr. C. W. Woolley's letter, with which I entirely agree, in your issue of June 4th, 1965, and should also like to praise the decision of the Derby Diocesan Association to set aside a proportion of annual subscriptions to its belfry repair fund.

It seems to me to be deplorable that when a tower appeals to an Association for a grant towards the cost of restoration, augmentation or other work on its bells, it receives a paltry gift of £10 or less when it has perhaps paid much more by way of affiliation fees to the Association in the past. One answer to this problem is to raise the subscription of the resident members of the Associations to such a level that reasonable donations could be made, and I would suggest a subscription in the region of 30s. (yes, thirty shillings) per year (except for old age pensioners and school-children perhaps).

It can be argued that the maintenance of the belfries of affiliated towers, though a laudable object, is not and ought not to be the main aim of a territorial association and I must agree. Their main aims ought to be similar to those of the Truro Diocesan Guild (set out in your issue of April 30th on page 293) and all cost, financially, precisely nothing. Hence most of subscriptions levied at the moment are absorbed in administrative expenses and the majority of non-peal ringers subscribe precious little to the funds of Associations, which, in my opinion, is a sufficient argument for the abolition of peal booking fees.

The majority of ringers will no doubt dislike the idea of paying 30s. per year in subscriptions, but, provided they are working for their living, should be able to afford it and should have more bells to ring.—Yours faithfully,

MALCOLM M. POWELL.

Muswell Hill, N.10.

CHRISTIAN SACHS

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent, Mr. N. Davies ("The Ringing World," May 28th, 1965) may like to know that the manuscript in question was written by Christian Sachs, not Christopher; it comprises three sides of quarto paper, with a postscript overleaf, of very tightly packed hand scrawl. There are some rough section sketches of bells; the black ink has faded to brown. It can be found under the British Museum Library reference: Add.33206 f7, 14, 16, 20.—Yours sincerely,

VICTOR SHEPPARD.

Royal Pavilion, Brighton.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM AUSTRALIA

Dear Sir,—The ringers at St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, would like to add their congratulations to the stream that must be reaching Peter Border on his magnificent effort in turning in the Exeter Cathedral tenor single-handed. Ringing in an eight-bell tower with a tenor just over two tons, we know a little of the problems involved, enough perhaps to appreciate what a superb performance it must have been.—Yours etc.,

W. B. PITCHER.

Adelaide, South Australia.

W.I. CHALLENGE

Dear Sir,—As one who keeps in touch with the everyday life of Ambridge I am subject from time to time to propaganda on the way of life in the English countryside. Although this is usually sound common sense and of good publicity value, the recent staging of the Women's Institute activities has hit the jackpot. This very careful scripting of the large range of activities, facts of membership and growth to this golden jubilee year must be the work of none less than a Madame President, in on the ground floor.

My mind immediately retraced the activities of the church of this village over recent years with particular reference to its bells, which would sound to be somewhat fluid, sometimes a light eight, at others a heavy six. Also the ringers themselves, Dan, Ned, Walter and the rest, do not appear to be at all convincing not knowing even how to handle a bell let alone the methods reputed to be theirs. However, the W.I. episode has opened up a new avenue and now it should be possible to discuss in very clear terms practically every aspect of ringing as carried on in the country. Now it will be possible to learn about selection of bands for special occasions, practice nights, the failures and achievements of quarters, the outings, visiting bands, etc., with accent on Guild meetings and even the activities of the Central Council.

We all know of the great shortage of ringers, with tower captains often at their wits end to maintain a Sunday service band, let alone achieve the masterly heights of Ambridge. Surely boys like Anthony William Daniel should be shown the ways of the bell rope. As a keen and successful candidate, much help could be given via the B.B.C. to make such a situation as this the nucleus of a recruiting drive throughout the country. This approach would be of very great assistance to the instructor who far too often spends his time and that of other loyal ringers encouraging pupils with no serious intent.

Surely the door is now open for the Central Council, through the Broadcasting Committee, to get a firm grip on the B.B.C. about this matter. There is now little doubt that unless the authors of this famous story are not shortly taken into the nearest six-bell tower, brainwashed and briefed regarding suitable conversations for a ringing chamber, the Bull and various other vantage points in Ambridge where ringers chance to meet, bell ringing and its skill will be yet another craft lost to the countryside.

LICHFIELD CATHEDRAL

An enjoyable half-day was spent in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire on May 29th by Lichfield Cathedral ringers, augmented by friends from Little Aston and Kingsbury.

The eight-bell towers of Belper, Ripley, Bulwell and Ilkeston together with the sixes at Swanwick and Selston were enjoyed, there being no "rough" bells among them.

OBITUARY

MISS CAROLYN VIBERT

With very deep regret we report the death of Miss Carolyn Elizabeth Vibert, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Vibert, of 3, Nelson Road, Bishopstoke, Eastleigh.

Carolyn, who was 19 years of age, had been on a ringing tour in the Norwich Diocese and she was returning home on Whit Monday in a car driven by Mr. John R. Faithfull, the popular Ringing Master of St. Mary's, Southampton.

The accident happened on the dual carriageway of the A.30 at Water End, Basingstoke. There was heavy rain at the time and it was dark. Mr. Faithfull was driving an A.40 Austin and it was wrecked when struck by a Humber Sceptre which crossed the central reservation on a bend on the London-bound carriageway.

Miss Vibert died in the ambulance on her way to Lord Mayor Treloar's Hospital, Alton. Mr. Faithfull also received very severe chest injuries and is in a critical condition in the same hospital. Mr. Faithfull's daughter, travelling in the rear of her father's car, received only minor injuries and was allowed home after treatment. The 19-year-old Humber driver and his 20-year-old passenger were also treated for minor injuries. The Basingstoke police have issued an appeal for witnesses.

Carolyn was a chorister and bellringer at St. Mary's Church, Bishopstoke. She was a former pupil at Bishopstoke Primary School and Barton Peverell Grammar School, Eastleigh. She was employed in the work-study office of the Condor Engineering Co., Winchester. Her death is mourned by a large circle of friends; according to a correspondent she was the most promising young lady ringer in Hampshire.

The funeral service took place at Bishopstoke Parish Church last Monday afternoon.

MR. JOHN A. BRAGG

Mr. John A. Bragg ("J" as he was affectionately known), ringer at the Parish Church of St. Alphege, Solihull, for nearly 70 years, tower keeper for many years and originally a boy chorister, died on May 28th, aged 87 years.

As a ringer his name did not appear many times in peals, but he loved the bells at Solihull, and what he did not know about keeping them in good order was not worth knowing. He was an excellent ringer, preferring the heavy bells, and had a quick ear for bad striking. One cannot remember him ever being late for ringing, and this together with his regular attendances to ring for services, practices and the curfew, was an inspiration to all who knew him. He taught many to ring, and he made quite sure that they learned to handle correctly.

John Bragg was a carpenter by trade, one of the best craftsmen, and much of his work in oak in the church will be a lasting memorial to him.

On May 31st 1,277 Grandsire Caters was rung half-muffled by the following: W. Leeson 1, Pamela M. Turner 2, Christine McLaren 3, G. E. Fearn 4, V. W. Rigg 5, C. W. Bragg 6, T. J. Warner (conductor) 7, P. D. Warren 8, R. J. Cann 9, A. Crabtree 10.

At the funeral service at the crematorium the following day the Rector of Solihull (Canon Harry Hartley) paid tribute to his long service to the Church, his excellence as a craftsman, and added that his greatness lay in his humbleness. A short touch on handbells was rung before the committal, the ringers' last tribute to one who had been a great servant of the Church and of the Exercise. T. J. W.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. John R. Ketteringham writes thanking all those who wrote to and visited him in hospital.

We regret to learn that Mr. Joe Thornley fractured a leg in Manchester recently. He is in Barnes Hospital, Cheadle, Cheshire and will be out of action for three months, but will be pleased to hear from friends.

Mr. Harold Walker corrects us in our reference to a window in York Minster. It is the Bellfounders' Window given by Richard Tunnoc, who died in 1330, and not the Bellringers' as was erroneously stated on page 378.

Mr. Tom Grice, of Maidstone, has been a College Youth for some 40 years and has long cherished the ambition of ringing a peal for the Society. He was thus delighted with the success of a peal of Stedman Caters at Maidstone on May 29th.

The peal of Kent T.B. Major at West-boughton, Lancs, arranged by Mr. A. Greenhalgh, was the first by a local band for over 30 years. All the band, with the exception of Mr. T. W. Smith, were taught to ring by Mr. Greenhalgh.

BATH AND WELLS CLERGY AT BUTLIN'S

Some 380 clergy from the Diocese of Bath and Wells were at Butlin's Camp, Minehead, recently for a conference with the Lord Bishop, lasting some four days. The Rector of Portishead arranged a quarter peal attempt at Selworthy one afternoon for six of the clerical ringers, and this was duly rung to mark the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. The Master of the Association, the Rev. H. F. Warren, was invited by the Bishop to give a report on the event at the final meeting of the conference, and the news of the band's success was greeted with applause.

ORMESBY RINGER MARRIED

The marriage took place on June 5th of Mrs. Laura Warrior and Mr. Sam Yates. The bride is a ringer at Ormesby, Yorkshire, and is also treasurer of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association. The Vicar, the Rev. H. Marshall, officiated.

The local ringers, assisted by ringers from St. Cuthbert's, Darlington, rang a quarter peal of Stedman Triples on the bells at Ormesby prior to the wedding and greeted the couple as they left the church with Queens and firing (intentional).

Sam was a ringer of no mean ability at one time but has not done any ringing for a considerable time. It is hoped that his new love will persuade him to return to his old love. Ringers and other friends join in wishing them many years of happiness. F. H.

RINGING ORDINANDS

The following ringing ordinands from Cud-desdon Theological College were ordained on Trinity Sunday. We are sure they will be welcomed where there is ringing: Mervyn Banting (Winchester College), David Barton (St. Luke's, Cowley, Oxford), Arthur Brown (St. John's, Princes Street, Edinburgh), James Makepeace (St. George's, Cullercoats), Newcastle), Christopher Richards (St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol). Mr. Banting is returning to the staff where he taught previously.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Farnham District were the hosts when Guildford Guild held their annual summer festival on June 5th. A warm, sunny day enabled the large number of visitors to enjoy the 14 towers which were open at different times from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. Pirbright had to remain closed due to repairs to the tower.

Aldershot was the focal point for the service, conducted by the Rural Dean, the Rev. T. H. Dart, himself a bellringer, and the tea arranged by Miss Nancy Bragg and her helpers.

After the bells were lowered at Frensham, the wag who chimed "Now the day is over" was somewhat premature. Only a few heard it, as Grayshott still had another half-hour to go, but it did express the good humour that had prevailed throughout the day. R. B.

CORRECTION

Turning Course C = S6. 13, 17, 31. This is the only single in the peal.

CORNISH BRIDE FOR SURREY RINGER

Miss Penelope Jean Stacey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stacey, of Stratton, Cornwall, was married at St. Andrew's Church, Stratton, on June 5th, to Mr. Brian G. D. Vince, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Vince, of Milton's Crescent, Godalming. The bridegroom, who is on the staff of Holy Trinity School, Guildford, rings at Chiddingfold.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a full-length white gown of nylon and lace embroidered with rosebuds. Her full-length veil was held in place by a satin and organza rosebud headdress. She was attended by two cousins, Miss Jeanette Stacey and Peter Stacey (page). Mr. Peter Vince was best man to his brother, and Mr. Peter Middleton and Mr. Derek Pearce were groomsmen.

The reception was at the Tree Inn, Stratton, and the honeymoon was spent touring Cornwall.

"OLD TED" 98 ON SUNDAY

On Sunday, June 20th, Mr. E. S. Ruck, of Willesborough, Kent, will reach the grand old age of 98. Since the death of Philip Hodgkin, of Headcorn, in 1941, "Old Ted" has remained the sole surviving foundation member of the Kent County Association, having actually been present at the inaugural meeting in the Chapter House in Canterbury on Whit Monday, May 18th, 1880.

Mr. Ruck, who is now permanently in Hothfield Hospital, had been taught to ring at Mersham by his father and the Rector, the Rev. R. B. Knatchbull-Hugessen, the founder and first secretary of the Association.

At their annual meeting on Easter Monday this year the members had another happy link with their founder, as his son, Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, the distinguished diplomat, now 79 and living in retirement at Barham, near Canterbury, was present with Lady Knatchbull-Hugessen. Sir Hughe and his wife have since become associate members of the Association and have shown great interest in its work, being particularly pleased at the obvious enthusiasm of the large numbers of young people they saw at the meeting.

BROWNSEA ISLAND VISITED

Visitors to Brownsea Island on the Saturday afternoon of the Whitsun week-end were probably surprised to hear the sound of church bells. Those inquiring the reason discovered that the Wimborne Branch was holding a meeting at the Church of St. Mary, Branksea. It is believed that this is the first time such a meeting has been held there, and 50 ringers from both near and far (including visitors from Bucks, Hants, Kent, Middlesex, Northants, Notts, Somerset, Surrey, Sussex, Wilts and Yorks) assembled to ring the delightful four bells. Unfortunately, due to years of neglect, the bells are not in the best of condition, and early on in the afternoon the wheel on one of the bells broke, and members had to be content to ring three bells only.

After the ringing there was time for a brief look around the island and a picnic tea before journeying back across the water to St. James' Church, Poole, where ringing continued until 7.30 p.m. on the ten bells (19 cwt.) Ringing during the day was carried out under the direction of the two Ringing Masters, Mr. H. I. Pitman (Canford Magna) and Mr. R. G. W. Robertson (Wareham).

Next meeting: Wimborne St. Giles and Cranborne on July 17th.

FAIRFIELD'S YOUNG BAND

In reply to Mr. J. Phillipson, of Ardingly, a correspondent from Fairfield, Buxton, informs us that they make no claims to records—that is left to experts. They have a team and a half (12), averaging 11 years 4 months, ranging between 8 years eight months to 13 years 5 months, apprenticeship served, between four and 17 months. Progress: Call changes, good (8); Plain hunt, fair (8); Bob Minor, fair (5); Bob Major, rough (5). One unable to ring rounds as yet, and one just returned from three weeks' courting! Attendance exceptionally good, approximately 80 per cent. for Sunday service ringing. Despite the hair styles, all males.

On the debit side about another dozen lost by the wayside, mostly after a week or two, about five cracked staves (not one sound one), three black eyes and a few grey hairs.

NEW TOWER LIKELY

During their recent outing St. George's, Jesmond, ringers rang at St. John's, Sheldon, where, according to the man who met them, the bells had only been rung about three times since the war. The visitors obliged with a quarter peal of Bob Minor and found the bells surprisingly good. The Vicar showed keen interest by watching the ringing for half an hour and providing cups of tea. Before leaving, he asked if the Jesmond ringers would be prepared to come and ring for special occasions. With the prospects of a peal or two we understand that assent was given.

A correspondent points out that the dedication of the church at Slough is St. Mary, and not as shown in the peal report on page 399.

Mr. R. Jones, of 118, Oxford Road, Marston, Oxford, has prepared a supplement to his collections of 'Doubles' methods which were published last year. We have promised that it will be published when convenient.

BROADCASTING AND TELEVISION REVIEWED

From the regions members of the committee report as follows:

NORTHERN IRELAND AND IRISH ASSOCIATION

Several towers have been featured with service broadcasts on both radio and television. These included Coleraine, Blessington, Carrickfergus, St. George's, Dublin, St. Patrick's Cathedral and Christ Church Cathedral. Drumbo were also featured on Telefís Éireann and a touring party with Drumbo also appeared on television. On two Sundays the general secretary was interviewed on Radio Éireann preparatory to the visits of touring parties in September. A programme on Irish bells was broadcast over the American Network from Texas on St. Patrick's Day.

EAST ANGLIA

The bells and ringers of Stowmarket and East Bergholt were televised. An item entitled "Ring out the 12 Bells" was shown from St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, on the occasion of George Pipe going to Washington, U.S.A., in connection with the Cathedral bells there and he also visited the Norwich studio and took part in a television interview with Jean Goodman on the Washington visit. From Henley, Howard Egglestone's party of church- and handbell ringers were shown on television playing carols. At Hoxne, where the bells have been out of use for some ten years, a tape recording of Thatcham bells is used and these were broadcast to show how easily bells could be heard at weddings where churches had no bells. We feel sure that Council will agree that publicity of this sort for so undesirable a practice is regrettable. At Bramford some publicity was given on television to complaints of excessive ringing which kept the children awake.

NORTH REGION

The bells of Chester-le-Street and Ripon Cathedral were broadcast by I.T.V. and we were associated with the first of these and found Tyne-Tees very co-operative. Miss Jennie Armstrong, of Morpeth, appeared on B.B.C. Television's "Look North," local programme, continuing her campaign against "Insults to the Curfew" by peal ringers and later on sound radio continued the topic.

WEST REGION

Bells have been broadcast prior to Sunday services from Wareham, West Lavington, Dorchester, Christchurch Priory, Wootton Bassett, Cannington and Heavitree. The broadcast from Cannington, their Harvest Festival service, brought the Vicar some 200 odd letters of appreciation, in many cases with particular reference to the bells, and a considerable wave of enthusiasm has resulted, even to the extent of there being a proposal to augment the ring. In August there was an excellent television broadcast from St. Mary's, Southampton, when it was noted that a generous amount of time was devoted to the bells. With the alteration to broadcasting times in September some publicity was given to the bells used to open the Light Programme on Sunday mornings. Shots of St. Peter's, Evercreech, tower were shown on T.V. and an interview with the local tower captain was broadcast on sound radio in the News Magazine Programme. Mr. Edgar Shepherd, author of "The Sound of Bells," appeared on Granada Television in an interview, prior to which handbells were rung by Messrs. E. A. Barnett, T. J. Lock, A. D. Barker and E. C. Shepherd.

LONDON REGION

The tower bell ringing side of the Twickenham and Richmond Musical Festival was broadcast on the B.B.C. Home Service on March 16th. Dr. Neal-Smith, W. G. Wilson (the adjudicator) and F. W. Goodfellow were interviewed and there was also some ringing. Hillingdon were the winners. A most interesting talk was given on B.B.C. Home Service by Mr. W. H. Coles, on his bell ringing experiences, and various recordings, particularly of West Country bells, were included. Mr. H. N. Pitstow was invited to appear in the programme "Information Please" in which he answered questions on bell-ringing put by Franklyn Engleman. The visit to Broadcasting House to record this programme and vet the Christmas Bells Programme gave Mr. Pitstow an excellent opportunity further to improve our relationship with the various members of the Corporation involved.

MIDLAND REGION

In May the Cambridge University Guild were filmed by a unit from a French Television outfit, ringing at St. Mary the Great, Cambridge. A touch of Plain Bob and Little Bob Maximus and a bob course of Stedman Cinques were recorded and filmed.

CHRISTMAS BELLS BROADCAST

The selection of towers for the Christmas Bells Broadcast was again entrusted to the committee. With the exception of East Anglia all our members contributed to the programme—it is hoped that this area will be included next year.

After recordings had been made Mr. Pitstow was invited to assist in selecting the passages to be used in the actual broadcast. This he did, and found the B.B.C. extremely co-operative and in particular he was pleased to note that the producer of the programme was becoming quite knowledgeable about bell recordings. The general standard of ringing was very fair, in some instances good—there was, however, still room for improvement in microphone position. In one instance the wind gave trouble and in others the microphone appeared to be too close to the bells.

Although occurring in 1965, we feel we should mention in this report the passing of that great statesman, Sir Winston Churchill, and on the occasion of his State funeral the broadcasting of the bells of St. Paul's Cathedral. There was considerable contrast in the broadcast as heard on sound radio compared with that on television. The former was extremely clear and well balanced, particularly when the microphone was in the best position, whereas the latter, no doubt due again to the position of the microphone, was far less effective.

TWELVE BELL BROADCASTING

A correspondent in "The Ringing World" sought to discredit the opinion expressed by this committee on 12 bell ringing for broadcasting, using the sound radio broadcast of St. Paul's as an example. We would point out that it has never been disputed that good ringing on the heavier 12's can be perfectly satisfactory. What we have said is that in general 12 bell ringing does not lend itself well to broadcasting and we can find no reason to alter this opinion.

Preliminary talks have taken place with the B.B.C. with a view to putting on a programme on bell ringing in the North and jointly in the London and West Regions a television programme is on the stocks.

A member of the Kent County Association now in H.M.F. Gibraltar was entrusted with the task of putting on a series of programmes for the Forces Broadcasting Service and used recordings of bells for the Christmas programme. Our help was sought in connection with these.

Moving the adoption. Mr. H. Sanger said there would be a new convener during the coming year as Mr. H. Pitstow, of Saffron, High Street, Banstead, was taking over.

The president expressed the gratitude of the Council to Mr. Sanger for his work. The main reason for the change was the large pressure of work his area—Somerset—placed upon him.

Mr. H. Pitstow seconded the adoption and said it was almost impossible to find out all that was going on. He would appreciate all details of broadcasting where it occurred in a tower.

The report was adopted.

(To be continued next week)

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

The third annual striking competition of the Chew Deanery brought eight teams to Dundry on May 22nd. The Branch was fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. John Chilcott, of St. Paul's Cathedral, to act as judge.

The test piece was 120 changes of Doubles or Minor, preceded by not more than 12 whole pulls of rounds. The teams were confined to regular Sunday service bands but towers which habitually combine for Sunday ringing were allowed to enter a combined band.

After listening to the ringing the 53 ringers adjourned to the Parish Hall for tea, where they were soon joined by the judge and his wife (who acted as secretary). Following tea, Mr. Chilcott gave his comments and placings, having first of all explained that he had worked to a quarter fault, half fault and full fault system of marking. He made some helpful remarks about each team's efforts and the final placings were: 1 Wrington, 18½ faults; 2 Yatton, 20½; 3 Nailsea and Backwell, 22½; 4 Long Ashton, 29½; 5 Portbury, 30½; 6 Portishead 35½; 7 Winford and Chew Magna, 43½; 8 Wraxall 48½.

Thanks were expressed to the Vicar, the Rev. E. D. Hutchings, Mr. and Mrs. Chilcott, Mr. Peyton (verger), Mr. and Mrs. Gates for the use of their room, the organising committee and the tea brigade for such a successful and pleasant gathering. Dundry bells were available for general ringing after tea, and Winford and Chew Magna towers were also open.

STAND ON PEWS TO RING

LEIGH, Surrey, bells had their 75th anniversary on May 26th. They are a very fair light six for their date (tenor 8 cwt. 2 qr. 7 lb. in A), and were cast at Whitechapel, reproducing on Nos. 2 to 5 the inscriptions from the old bells, which were by Lester & Pack (1756), William (1687) and Brian (1638) Eldridge, of Chertsey, and Warner (1855).

Both the hanging and the ringing of the bells have been something of a headache from 1890 right up to the present day. The architect of the church extension forgot about the bells and provided a gallery (with a sloping floor) beneath them for the choir and organ. Provision for ringing was eventually made on the ground floor by omitting four or five rows of pews. With the headroom reducing to less than 6½ feet under the third and fourth bells and the main entrance to the church being through the west door, ringing conditions were hardly ideal. Choir boys and girls seemed quite happy to have their sallies bobbing up and down uncased through their seats.

Last year the ringers were at long last allowed to move up into the gallery. Now Leigh is surely unique in that the ringers of Nos. 2 to 5 have to stand actually on the pews. Mr. F. E. Collins, of Croydon, has kindly prepared a plan to improve the situation but it is likely to be some time before this can be implemented.

The bell hangers of 1890 managed to squeeze the six bells into the bellcot on one level by making all but the treble swing north-south in a frame which is three-quarters wood and a quarter metal. With the frame and under-carriage rocking, literally, like a farm-cart and getting progressively looser all the time, the bells never gained much popularity, although three peals were rung on them.

By 1962, however, the belfry had got into a poor state, there was no band and the bells had not been rung for several years. A new band was formed in December that year and at first the bells were swing-chimed. The first problem—that of ropes—came to a head when two of the very tatty set then existing were finally severed by squirrels (Mr. Ranald Clouston had never heard of such a thing). Mr. W. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Foundry, inspected and reported, reassuring the parish that the bells were not positively dangerous and advising what work was (a) necessary and (b) desirable.

Since then a good deal of "do-it-yourself" work has been carried out locally, involving frame-bolt tightening (in 1962 most of the nuts could be twiddled in the fingers), pulley repairs and alterations, proper ceiling bosses, the removal and sale of a quantity of sheet lead which was not doing anything and the reversing of the wheel on the fourth bell. In September Messrs. Harry Parks and Arthur Lewry, from the Whitechapel Foundry, carried out the unenviable job, in very cramped surroundings, of fully reinforcing the under-carriage with a set of metal frames. In October came the fourth peal on the bells and the first since 1930. Leigh now has a ring of bells which compares favourably with many for sound and "go" and a loyal (and quite large) local band of ringers, nearly all in their teens and capable of a high standard of striking. In the quarter peal of Bob Minor rung on May 26th were ringers from Reigate, Nutfield, Battersea and Leigh, their ages ranging from 17 to 71.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Transferred from Puttenham, a meeting of Farnham District was held on May 29th at Worplesdon. The Rector, the Rev. John Hoskyns, conducted the service, and 25 members enjoyed an excellent tea provided by the local ladies. Mr. R. Tickner, of Worplesdon, was elected a new member.

WARNEFORD, HANTS.—On May 26th, 1,260 Doubles (three methods): B. Pink 1, Maureen White 2, Mary White 3, R. A. Stone 4, C. E. Bassett (cond.) 5, T. White 6. A wedding compliment to Derek J. White and Ingrid Bock.

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

Annual Meeting

King Edward Square, Burton-on-Trent, with its monument, municipal buildings, gardens and stately Church of St. Paul in the background, formed a picturesque scene for the ringers attending the 19th annual meeting of the Midland Counties Guild at this church, which is enriched by ringing history.

The Vicar, the Rev. W. Woolley, officiated at the service, and over 40 ringers were present at tea, for which St. Paul's ringers were hosts. The president, Mr. Benjamin Worthington, had made the long journey from Northumberland to be present.

The chairman, Mr. R. A. Welton, in opening the meeting, referred to the success of the Guild's first annual dinner last November and added: These were times of change in the life of the Church and, in general, ringing was more prosperous than at any time since pre-war 1914, though this could not be said of his own district, where too many towers received irregular and inadequate ringing. It was hoped that the gaps could be filled quickly so that the full joys of the ringer's art could be known once more in their local towers.

The president, in his address, said the outstanding landmark was the achievement of the hon. secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton, in ringing his 1,000th peal and being probably the first Derbyshire ringer to do so, as only 26 people had previously achieved this distinction.

The balance sheet was presented by Mr. J. H. Brittan. This showed a balance of over £127 in the general fund and £21 in the bell repair fund, on which there had been no calls.

A comprehensive report was given by the hon. secretary, who gave the Guild's membership as 16 honorary and 124 ringing members. Peal ringing had been fairly satisfactory, but the total of 36 was the lowest since 1957. Three members from St. Paul's, Burton, rang their first peal with Miss J. Toon conducting, which was her first. Mr. D. P. Jones was the Guild's leading conductor with 16, and the leading peal ringers were Messrs. J. W. Cotton 31, R. J. Clifton 19 and D. P. Jones 18. Personal milestones were: J. W. Cotton's 1,000th peal (496 for the Guild) and R. J. Clifton's 100th.

Officers elected were: President, Mr. B. Worthington; vice-president, Rev. W. V. G. Griffiths; chairman, Mr. R. A. Welton; Ringing Master, Mr. G. H. Lane (vice Mr. J. K. Smith); treasurer, Mr. J. H. Brittan; hon. secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton; assistant secretary, Mr. J. K. Smith; auditor, Mr. T. Pryce; Central Council representative, Mr. J. W. Cotton. New members elected were Messrs. C. Wheelton and C. Williams (Stretton) and the Misses Jacqueline Faint and Anita Dymock (St. Paul's).

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD

Mr. D. J. Lewis, whose 84th birthday fell on that day (May 29th), was in the winning band from Cadoxton at the annual ringing competition of the Guild, held at Bronllys, Brecon. At the presentation of the shield "Happy birthday to you" was lustily sung as a compliment to him.

Five bands competed, each ringing two methods. Mr. Leslie Evans was the adjudicator and his placings out of a possible 360 points were: 1 Cadoxton 312, 2 Neath 264, 3 Sketty 261.

Thanks were accorded the Vicar (the Rev. H. J. Phillips) and the ladies for the catering arrangements.

CHARING, KENT.—On May 30th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: Rhian N. Bagshaw 1, Mrs. P. T. Robbins (cond.) 2, D. C. Collins (first in method of Minor) 3, J. L. Anderson 4, Rev. P. T. Robbins 5, P. M. Bradford 6. For Evensong.

GRIMLEY, WORCS.—On May 9th, 1,260 Grand-sire Doubles: N. Underwood 1, D. Roberts 2, S. Abley 3, M. Smele 4, J. Gwilliam (cond.) 5, S. Smith 6.

HARPENDEN

A pleasant day was spent in Essex and Suffolk by Harpenden ringers on May 8th on the occasion of their annual outing. The ideal ringing chamber at Coggeshall provided by war damage repair was noted and ringing of East Bergholt bells by local ringers was enthralling to watch. Well known towers such as Debenham, Eye and Diss were visited, and at Diss, after tea, Mr. A. Day thanked the organiser and all who had helped. Along intricate lanes we made our way to Cotton—a most unusual tower—where the best ringing of the day took place.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S, PENN

On Saturday, May 29th, the St. Bartholomew's ringers and friends toured part of North Wales, which included the beautiful Elan Valley.

Leaving at 7.30 a.m., we were ringing at St. Mary Magdalene's, Leintwardine, at 9.15 a.m. After having coffee and biscuits at Knighton, the route taken was via Rhayader and the beautiful Elan Valley, returning to Builth Wells for a delightful lunch at the Greyhound Hotel (fully recommended; George Fearn should know, his aunt keeps it). The easy-going six at St. Mary's was sampled for 45 minutes.

A mountain road in Upper Chapel took us to St. Mary's, Brecon, where we rang for 50 minutes on the easy-going Rudhall eight. Tea in Brecon before leaving completed our outing for the day.

Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman Doubles and Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob Minor and Major.

We arrived home at about 10.30 p.m., all contented and happy after such a delightful tour with good fellowship. C.F.W.E.

EASINGWOLD DISTRICT TOUR

Ringers from Bradfield, Wentworth, Scarborough, Acomb and Stockton-on-the-Forest met in the afternoon of May 22nd at the small village of Hunsingore near the A.1, just north of Wetherby, Yorkshire. The "silent" ring of six in the over-large Victorian church, although recently restored to a ringable state, was found to be still rough-going and only plain hunts and call changes were rung.

Then up the A.1, at varying speeds, to Brafferton, where the six bells are rung from the ground floor with about 30 feet of unguided rope. Tea was taken at Hovingham where the party were joined by five ringers from St. John's College, York. The six bells in the Saxon tower were rung before a service to mark the centenary celebrations of the day school.

Finally ringing at Easingwold (8), where most of the party experienced Yorkshire tail-ends for the first time. Thus ended a useful tour, which was planned for the "beginners" at the various towers and all of them did surprisingly well considering the "go" of the bells at the towers visited.

A MAY-DAY OUTING

Ringers and friends from Newcastle, Staffs, left at 7.30 a.m. on May 1st for their outing to Loughborough Bell Foundry, where they were shown round the works and tried their skill on the campanile. Ringing was better in the afternoon at Loughborough Parish Church and included a well-struck course of Stedman Caters.

The highlight at Bulwell was a good touch of Kent, and because of a wedding at Lenton, ringers were able to listen on the radio to the Cup Final. Owing to the long draughts some difficulty was experienced in the belfry. Ringing was good on the whole at Stapleford, but at Sudbury little success was achieved on the heavy-going six. P.M.

SILSUE, BEDS.—On April 19th, 1,260 Doubles (Grandsire and Plain Bob): T. R. Lett 1, D. R. Brazier (cond.) 2, T. R. Harris 3, P. J. Lawton 4, T. P. Harris 5, A. Martin 6. A farewell to Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Baldwin.

"The Ringing World" was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

No. 2827. Vol. LXI

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1965

Registered at the G.P.O. for transmission as a newspaper 9d.

C.C., 1965, AND OTHER MATTERS

IT was said of a certain generation that their only monument would be the asphalt road and a thousand lost golf balls. Some latter-day campanological Eliot remotely perched in the lofty gallery of the Guildhall at Northampton—one hopes he might have a good head for heights—would perhaps have found some similarly eloquent phrase to describe the reactions of the Central Council representatives assembled in solemn conclave at the 1965 meeting.

The proceedings remained securely earthbound—perhaps even eggbound—despite the valiant efforts of the president, brilliant as always, to keep the company alive and reasonably awake. "The Ringing World" debate, to repeat Philip Gray's description, was even more like a shareholders' meeting than usual. The desultory attempts to introduce the real things connected with "our paper" produced not a whisper by way of response and we had to content ourselves with the sad goings-on of the G.P.O., who have stored away in darkest Buckinghamshire some elephant-centipede which mysteriously dips its feet in printers' ink and in some remote sorting office picks out with unerring accuracy "The Ringing World" on its way to a particular postal subscriber and so defaces it that with or without his glasses he cannot manage to read a word and perforce must regretfully consign it unread to his wastepaper basket.

His position is more pitiable since others, particularly the clerical members, for whom the G.P.O. no doubt have a special respect and regard, are able to extract every Thursday morning from their letter boxes unsoiled and unspoiled a perfect copy of "The Ringing World," which apparently they peruse undisturbed and undisturbable for the rest of the day and far into the night, with every word well and truly read before the backsliders who have a newsagent's copy are able to catch a glimpse of it even if they should be lucky enough to obtain delivery by Friday morning.

All the other reports, despite the midnight oil expended in their preparation, were for the most part received without comment or thanks, merely a sigh of relief that we could pass on to the next without interruption or undue delay. It may be that the solemn walk to the microphone at the front of the hall proved too awesome, but how sad that no one felt moved by the hours and hours of trudging up and down belfry stairs that had gone into the record number of "cases" dealt with by the Towers and Belfries Committee—that no one could find a condemnatory word for architects who will have superfluous concrete bands in already strong towers, or for designers who plan for strength but ignore acoustics, or for dozens of other practical matters that cause problems everywhere for ringers.

Not a word either for those who collect information from all sorts of unlikely places about better references in the press or on radio or television.

The long awaited motion on the proposed peal tax, debated at length in four-ale bars up and down the country, also proved to be a damp squib. For some obscure reason the proposer withdrew it, apparently because it lacked the blessing of his Guild. One wonders how it managed to reach the Council agenda in the first place. In any case I thought Council members were representatives and not delegates and were thus able to act as free agents.

As for the other motion, it is as well Tony Hancock is not a member of the Council or he might have applied to it his expressive if inelegant description "a load of old cod's wallop." It never became clear what the sponsors were really after but it was evident that whatever it was it will not be well received in Lincolnshire and might well not be popular in Derbyshire and Yorkshire. No one seemed to make the point that numerous non-Association peals would result. Some might think this a good thing but there is little enough control now over the technical aspects of peals and some Associations at least, including my own, do insist on seeing and proving the compositions rung in their name.

When it came to the place of the next meeting one felt relieved that no one proposed Christmas Island, since no one seemed to mind, presumably thinking the beer and the hotels, the peal ringing and the general entertainment would be all right any where. The Council would be advised to become at least half awake when these matters are discussed as Boffin Bay might not provide the facilities and way of life to which they are accustomed.

For a moment it looked as if there might be some eleventh hour fun. Frustrated expressions momentarily appeared on the unusually handsome faces of the platform party when a spokesman, apparently not officially appointed, began to report what had happened "at the Standing Committee last night" in regard to the days and dates for future meetings of the Council. There was a loud remark, it could have been of derision or even just disobedience from the back of the hall. Alas, this pearl of wisdom, for such it obviously was, has been lost for all time and the spokesman was evidently satisfied that no insult was intended since he thanked the interrupter and proceeded to tell the meeting what had been "decided" by the Standing Committee. No fighter for the eternal cause of democracy seemed moved to point out that it was the function of the Standing Committee to recommend and not decide,

There was an awkward moment, too, when we all but failed to record in time before the chairman's final hammer fell our well-merited thanks to him for his conduct of the meeting. One felt that the rest of the platform party, particularly the indefatigable and incomparably efficient secretary and his wife, might also have been included in the thanks, but, alas, it was not to be, and the 68th meeting of the Central Council reached its end to the homely rattle of teacups.

Perhaps some of the new representatives to be introduced to the president next year at Weston-super-Mare or, better still, Bath or Wells, will be forthright rumbustious fellows with a point of view that bursts for public expression. The present lot have proved much too docile, acquiescent and tame. Perhaps the Exercise is right in concluding that the social side of the Council meetings is really something!

Before anyone else says so, I admit I did not have a word to say at Northampton, but then I am only a poor little chap with a thin voice and nervous manner.

INCREASING POPULARITY OF PEAL RINGING

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE REPORT INCREASE OF 371 AND 548 FIRST PEALERS.—YORKSHIRE REPLACE LEICESTER AS LEADING ASSOCIATION.

ONCE again the peals totals have increased, mainly due to the Royal Births and a spate of handbell peals. The grand total is 3,366, with 3,064 on tower bells and 272 "in hand." The handbell peals are up by 31, due mainly to the continuous effort from the Swansea area.

We regret that a peal rung at Thorncombe—Doubles, with three first pealers and the first as conductor—had to be disallowed as there were, presumably, three covers. What a pity!!!

This year we have a fresh leader to our list—the Yorkshire Association—with 215 peals.

Here are those with more than 110 peals:

	Tower	Hand	Total
Yorkshire ..	207	8	215
Leicester ..	166	19	185
Oxford ..	178	3	181
Lancashire ..	156	4	160
Lincoln ..	145	2	147
Kent ..	142	1	143
Hertford ..	85	48	133
Swansea & Brecon	22	100	122
Southwell ..	119	1	120
These contributed 42.14 per cent. of the total.

The Analysis breaks down as follows:

	Tower Bells		Handbells
	1964	1963	1964	1963
Maximus	64	54 + 10	2	2
Cinques	54	35 + 19	1	2 + 1

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCES

There were 548 first pealers with 80 first as conductor. On many occasions we noted peals of Minor and Doubles with three, four and five firsts and first as conductor; also one peal of Stedman Triples with seven firsts; all meritorious. One made his debut as a conductor by tackling Stedman Triples at the age of 57—good show.

Now for some enumeration:—

Cambridge University: First peal of Stedman Cinques "in hand" by all. Silent and non-conducted do.

Gloucester and Bristol: Spliced Minor in 96, 80, 73, 65, 64, 63, 60, etc. methods "in hand"; 10,080 Spliced Surprise Minor "in hand."

Hertford C.: 16, 14, 12, 11, 10, etc. Spliced Surprise Major "in hand."

Kent C.: 37, 28, 25 methods Spliced Minor.

Ladies' Guild: Stedman Cinques.

Lancashire: 24, 21, 20, 17, etc., Spliced Surprise Major.

Leicester: 17, 15, etc., Spliced Surprise Major; 9, 4 Spliced Surprise Major "in hand"; 105, 71, 59, 42, etc., methods Doubles.

Llandaff and Monmouth: 31 methods Doubles.

Middlesex: 20, 18, 16, 15, 14, etc., Spliced Surprise Major "in hand."

Oxford G.: 60 methods T.B. Minor—42 methods Doubles.

Oxford Society: 51 methods Doubles.

Peterborough: 42 methods Doubles.

Southwell: 45, 42 methods Doubles.

Surrey: 43 methods Doubles.

Swansea and Brecon: 10,192 Plain Bob Major "in hand"; 20,160 Double Norwich.

Yorkshire: 36, 32, 28, 27, 21 methods Spliced Surprise Royal.

Non-Association: Double-handed tower bell peal of Bob Major at Balcombe.

We wonder why so many peals are duplicated in "The Ringing World." Whose fault is it? May we again ask those who forward peal reports to "The Ringing World" to ensure that they send in a factual report, not one of "wishful thinking": it would make the efforts of the Editor and ourselves so much easier.

The convener, sobered down by his committee, hesitates to express his opinion of those who ring peals, then forget to send in the report until after the time allowed for our report to be in the hands of the Secretary of the Council. Will culprits please note?

For the Peals Analysis Committee.

W. AYRE (Convener).

The Old School House, Leverstock Green, Hemel Hempstead, Herts.

Mr. Walter Ayre, in moving the adoption of the report, asked for the exclusion of two peals by the Leicester Diocesan Guild which did not comply with the Rules and Decisions of the Council.

Canon K. W. H. Felstead, in seconding, replied to Mr. John Haynes' criticism of the format of peals in "The Ringing World" and said the present style helped the Peals Analysis Committee considerably. Congratulating Yorkshire on becoming the leading peal Association, the Canon said he was told that the peals they had rung would fill two complete issues of "The Ringing World." No doubt they might subsidise them (laughter).

ALL-TIME RECORD FOR TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE

The work of the Towers and Belfries Committee for 1964, stated the report signed by the convener, Mr. F. Sharpe, constitutes an all-time record. Advice on bell and tower restoration was given in a total of 11 churches, 26 more than in 1963. It would now appear that the second cycle of bell restoration work, occasioned by the Quinquennial Inspection of Churches Measure and mentioned in our last year's report, has reached its peak.

Of the 111 requests for advice, 23 were dealt with by correspondence. Members of the committee visited 88 churches.

The churches where advice was sought may be analysed graphically thus:—

Australia 2, Bedfordshire 1, Berkshire 6, Breconshire 1, Buckinghamshire 3, Cambridgeshire 3, Cheshire 3, Cornwall 1, Derbyshire 2, Devonshire 21, Essex 4, Gloucestershire 2, Hampshire 1, Herefordshire 1, Ireland 1, Kent 7, Lincolnshire 1, London 1, Middlesex 1, Norfolk 2, Northamptonshire 5, Oxfordshire 6, Somerset 24, Shropshire 3, Staffordshire 1, Surrey 5, Sussex 1, Yorkshire 2. Total 111.

The inquiries from Australia and Ireland were dealt with mainly by correspondence, although the authorities at Perth Cathedral commissioned a member of the Engineering Department of Perth University to confer with the convener during a visit to this country.

An analysis of the reports submitted reveals the following: Ten parishes sought advice on augmentation or provision of new bells, the same number as in 1963. The number of towers seeking advice on the recasting of bells increased to 18, twice as many as in the previous year. Fifty-three churches sought advice on rehanging, or were advised by members of our committee to rehang their bells completely, an increase of 10 over the previous year.

MORE P.C.C.'s INTERESTED

The number of churches seeking advice on repair and maintenance increased to 58. This again is a welcome indication that more parochial authorities are concerning themselves with this important work. These inquiries have doubled within the last two years.

Inquiries regarding tower oscillation, and advice on this and also on those towers where extensive damage has been done to masonry, have increased to 22. Of these, perhaps the most interesting cases were Magdalen College, Oxford, Wymondham Abbey, Norfolk, and Banwell, Somerset. The greatest increase was in the number of requests for advice on sound control and modification, of which 35 were dealt with in 1964.

Somerset again headed the list of inquiries, with Devonshire second, a tribute to the excellent work done by Mr. H. Sanger and the Rev. J. G. M. Scott. The convener has given over 40 lectures to members of Diocesan Architectural and Professional Organisations, Parochial Church Councils and in Adult Education Colleges.

The committee met early this year to discuss the details regarding the proposed new book on bell towers, bell hanging and maintenance. The subject matter was divided into sections and members are preparing draft manuscripts of these. Progress has not been so rapid as we had hoped but this was unavoidable in view of the increase of over 25 per cent. in the number of requests for inspections and reports on the condition of bell towers and their contents.

Moving the adoption, Mr. F. Sharpe paid tribute to the work of Mr. Sanger and the Rev. J. G. M. Scott in the West Country. They had lost a very capable member by the retirement of Mr. W. A. Osborn, who had been very active in the West of England. He was very old and asked to be relieved. They had also lost Mr. J. W. Clarke, who no longer represented the Chester Diocesan Guild but was on the Chester Diocesan Committee. His place had been taken by Mr. John Worth. Two new honorary members had been made in Mr. F. E. Collins and Mr. Brian Austin. Mr. Alan Frost had been elected to represent the University of London from next year.

Mr. H. J. Sanger, in seconding, thanked Mr. W. A. Osborn for his work. His tremendous knowledge of bells and bell hanging was invaluable to him.

The report was adopted.

SOLIHULL, WARWICKS.—On June 6th, 1,259 Grandsire Caters: W. Leeson 1, Pamela M. Turner 2, G. Palmer 3, G. E. Fearn 4, V. W. Rigg 5, C. W. Bragg 6, R. J. Cunn 7, P. D. Warren 8, T. J. Warner (cond.) 9, A. Crabtree 10. For EVENSONG.

THIRD VOLUME WANTED BY BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

THE BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

In spite of changes in convenership and personnel during the last two years, brought about by death and retirement, this reconstituted committee has continued without being too unduly disorganised.

We miss the industry of our late convener, Mr. A. C. Hazelden, but we are fortunate in still having the unofficial services of our honorary member in retirement, Mr. L. Stilwell, and we are indebted to him.

The Biographies Committee has now been in existence for 30 years and up to 1964 had been led by two conveners—Messrs. J. S. Goldsmith and A. C. Hazelden.

The deaths of the following members and past members have been noted:

S. E. Bennett—Lincoln D.G., 1947. Died Feb. 29th, 1964. (Attended 1 meeting.)

E. C. Turner—Leicester D.G., 1951-53. Died March 25th, 1964. (3 meetings.)

F. W. Rogers—Winchester & Portsmouth D.G., 1933-64. Died June 9th, 1964. (19 meetings.)

Rev. W. M. K. Warren—Bath and Wells D.A., 1937-45. Died June 13th, 1964. (No meetings.)

T. G. Darch—Devonshire A., 1961-63. Died July 4th, 1964. (1 meeting.)

A. A. Hughes—Ancient Society of College Youths, 1915-30. Hon. member, 1931-64. Life member, 1964. Died Aug. 11th, 1964. (35 meetings.)

C. Sharples—Lancashire A., 1951-53. Died September 13th, 1964. (3 meetings.)

E. M. Atkins—Central Northants A., 1921-23. Cambridge U.G., 1927-53. Died Sept. 16th, 1964. (21 meetings.)

L. J. Williams—Lancashire A., 1937-38 and 1951-53. Died Nov. 18th, 1964. (4 meetings.)

Canon C. C. Cox—Salisbury D.G., 1924-29. Died Feb. 19th, 1965. (1 meeting.)

Other members whose deaths occurred in previous years and no report made are:

Rev. Pitt Eykyn—Hon. member, 1891-1895. Died July 14th, 1912. (No meetings.)

Rev. J. U. Todd—Bath and Wells D.A., 1891-1897. Died July 6th, 1913. (2 meetings.)

Rev. C. Buston—Winchester D.G., 1891. Died March 25th, 1920. (No meetings.)

Rev. G. de Y. Aldridge—Bath and Wells D.A., 1930-1905. Died May 23rd, 1945. (No meetings.)

J. W. Cornford—Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, 1924-35. Died Dec. 6th, 1962. (No meetings.)

L. W. Wiffen—Essex A., 1936-44. Died Sept. 13th, 1963. (2 meetings.)

Albert A. Hughes, J.P., was head of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, London, and held the positions of honorary auditor to the Council; honorary treasurer of "The Ringing World"; and trustee of the Carter Ringing Machine.

The Council's records indicate there has been a total of 857 members since its formation in 1891, and this number includes 76 reverend gentlemen. In respect of some of these latter members a special effort has been made to bring records more up to date, and this has been successful. Mr. Lock has been a frequent visitor to the offices of "The Church Times" where every help and consideration has been readily given. It is desired to place on record our grateful thanks to the proprietors of "The Church Times" and to members of the staff for their valuable contribution.

With particular reference to foundation members, the following are those of whom we need more biographical detail—F. Ball, Chester Diocesan Guild; W. G. Cross, Eastern Counties Guild; J. Griffin, Midland Counties Guild; C. E. Malim, Waterloo Society; L. Newton, Durham and Newcastle D.A.; A. E. Nunn, Kent C.A. Of those deceased, 382 biography sheets have been filled in with as much detail as has become available.

The Council has two permanent and inscribed albums to contain the biography sheets, and they are now filled to capacity. It is recommended that expenditure be sanctioned for a third and similar volume.

In thanking every one of you who has given help, we still look forward to and in Moving the adoption, Mr. T. J. Lock said it was necessary to provide an additional volume for the biographies, which would cost about £20; the last cost £16 5s.

Mr. John Willis, seconding, said the committee had been in being for 30 years and until 1964 had had only two conveners—Mr. J. S. Goldsmith and Mr. A. C. Hazelden. They had now a new convener and it seemed that this would ensure for him a long life (laughter)

The report was adopted.

LATE NEWS

A life member of the Essex Association, Mr. Charles Button, of Kelvedon, died at St. Mary's Hospital, Colchester, on June 4th. Known throughout Essex and Suffolk, he will be remembered and missed by hundreds.

Education and Sunday Service Activities

1.—THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES

At about half the Theological Colleges satisfactory progress or effective effort regarding annual lectures is being maintained. Colleges included in this section are: Edinburgh; Salisbury; Dublin; Kelham; Worcester; Lincoln; Llandaff; Canterbury; Cuddesdon; Ripon Hall and Wycliffe Hall, Oxford; Bishop's College, Cheshunt; Cranmer Hall and St. Chad's, Durham.

In the remaining colleges, individuals concerned have not been able to report success in securing or arranging for talks on bells and bell ringing. Colleges included in this section are: Lichfield; Lampeter; London College of Divinity; Mirfield; Oak Hill; Wells; St. Aidan's, Birkenhead; Queen's, Birmingham; Westcott House and Ridley Hall, Cambridge; Chichester.

Bound books have been supplied to several colleges during the year.

Hitherto all approaches to various Theological Colleges have been made by some official or member of the Association in whose area the College is situated. It is suggested that, in cases where such efforts have failed, this Committee is authorised to try and persuade the College concerned to permit a lecture. If successful, a suitable local person or the Association concerned could arrange for the lecture to be given. If still unsuccessful nothing would have been lost.

It is suggested that Association secretaries send a copy or copies of their annual report to the Theological Colleges situated in their areas. Some already do this.

2.—COURSES (RESIDENTIAL AND ONE-DAY)

Advice has been given to several Associations about courses in bell ringing and varying degrees of assistance given. The fourth consecutive annual course was held at Grantley Hall, Yorkshire, in September, and a further course at Hereford Training College in April. The Guildford Guild held their first course from July 17th to 19th, and the Durham and Newcastle Association their fourth annual one-day course on March 21st. Recently, week-end courses were held at Hereford Training College and Burton Manor, Cheshire (the Cheshire Guild's first venture). In April the Derby Guild held their first of a series of three courses—this was for beginners. In July they will hold a course for non-ringers, and in November an instructors' course (at Lea Green, Matlock). On May 1st the Kent County Association held a one-day ringing school.

Another course is scheduled to be held at Grantley Hall, Yorkshire, from July 23rd to 25th this year, and other courses are being planned elsewhere.

These courses meet a real need in the Exercise.

3.—BELFRY PRAYERS

Many requests for these were satisfied during the year but this need is now better fulfilled by the attractive prayer sheets produced in co-operation with the President and Mr. F. W. Perrins and now available from Mr. Speed.

4.—WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL

Last year two members of this Committee, in co-operation with the other ringers who went to the U.S.A., carried out an intensive week's training of the Washington Cathedral recruits. Happily the impact of this visit has had far-reaching beneficial effects. A good deal of training material has been supplied to Washington Cathedral by this Committee and the Cathedral authorities in return have loaned colour slides of the Cathedral and its bells, and a beautiful 16 m.m. sound and colour film about the building of the Cathedral, the installation, dedication and ringing of the bells, and the festivities connected therewith on Ascension Day, 1964.

Bell casting, hanging, bell fittings, handling and ringing are extremely well illustrated in this 20-minute film, which provides excellent propaganda for the purpose of church bells and bell ringing. On the several occasions it has been shown in schools, and to members of the public, it has been extremely well received. It might be well worthwhile for the Council to seek to obtain a copy of the film to loan out on request at a reasonable fee. The film could be a useful means of interesting Theological Colleges in bells and bell ringing. Arrangements are being made to show the film to the Council on Whit Monday evening.

Arising from the Washington visit, many of those who went have been called upon to give talks about bell ringing and their experiences, and the convener has given 15 such talks illustrated by tape recordings of the bells and coloured slides or film.

5.—MISCELLANEOUS

Advice has been sought where ringing has been stopped at two towers due to complaints.

We have had correspondence about a scheme for co-operation between one Diocesan Guild and the County Youth Organisation for the recruitment and training of young ringers. Should this bring worthwhile results something might be done to extend this development elsewhere.

Instructional notes and lecture notes have been supplied in response to one or two requests including one from Southern Rhodesia.

Mr. M. King, of Wentworth, Yorks, submitted his study of "Bell Ringing in Schools" and will, in due course, pass this on to the librarian.

The Southwell Guild submitted its annual report, which included a special report on Sunday service ringing in the diocese.

Many inquiries have been received for handbell music and tune ringing "know-how" and these have been satisfactorily answered. One organisation even requested the loan of handbells, and one Methodist Church was loaned a tape recording of church bell ringing for its annual carol service.

Mr. F. Sharpe reports that he has given 40 or more lectures on bells and bell ringing methods during 1964. He has published a book on "Church Bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark," and has a book on "Cardigan-shire Church Bells" in the press.

The Convener has met many requests for his film strip and script on "Bell Control" and, having recently acquired improved facilities, would like to remake this film strip for issue through the Council. It is also hoped to complete work on a general interest film strip about ringing this year.

N. CHADDOCK (Convener),
17, Herringthorpe Grove,
Broom, Rotherham, Yorks.

M. R. CROSS,
F. B. LUFKIN,
W. F. MORETON,
F. SHARPE.

Mr. N. Chaddock moved the adoption of the report and said that one or two of the theological colleges in the second group, where progress had not been good, had moved up into the top group. One was Lichfield, where Mr. Clive Smith gave a lecture and got 12 recruits. In regard to courses, the Suffolk Guild had been missed out. Courses in 1966 included Guildford, Norwich and Hereford, and there was talk of a course in the South-West.

There was a paragraph in the report about the film of Washington Cathedral that they saw the previous night. A copy of the film would cost £40. If the Council could purchase they would soon be recouped of the expenditure.

Mr. B. Bartlett thought advice would be of great value to the two towers where ringing had been stopped.

Mr. C. K. Lewis recommended the Council to purchase a copy of the film for £40 and charge a rent for its loan.

Mr. B. G. Key asked ringers to exercise caution when on tower grabs. One car had been parked almost in front of a porch and an irate householder objected to this and the ringing.

The report was adopted and the expenditure of £40 for the copy of the film approved.

METHODS COMMITTEE

The committee's report, signed by Mr. C. K. Lewis, stated that the Collection of Surprise Methods was now in print and the committee had nothing further to report. He moved its adoption and Mr. J. Mayne seconded.

The hon. secretary said there had been some correspondence about Triples Collections. What was the position?

Mr. Lewis: I have certain material in my possession from Mr. Blagrove and have had some correspondence with him. Something might be done but it would not be so large as the last collection.

SYMONDSBURY, DORSET.—On June 2nd, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: T. Hiller (first quarter) 1. I. Andrews 2. D. Ellery 3. A. Knight 4. M. Hiller (cond.) 5. J. Krstanovic 6. For the anniversary of the Coronation (June 2nd).

Non-resident Life Members to remain

For half an hour the Council discussed a motion: "That this Council recommends its affiliated territorial associations to discontinue the election of non-resident life members," which was submitted by Mr. R. B. Morris, of Mr. B. D. Threlfall (Cambridge University).

Mr. Morris said when he was peal secretary of his Association he came across two peals in which he did not know a single name. It was eight weeks after that their elections were ratified. He knew that peals were rung on the "no peal, no membership" basis. He felt that no Association relied on such income.

Mr. B. D. Threlfall said the motion did not ask the Council to decide anything, but to recommend. Members could therefore safely vote for it without committing themselves to anything. When he was a peal secretary he had the greatest difficulty in getting non-resident life members' fees. They were willing enough to claim the label but not willing to pay.

As things were at present they seemed to regard their peal ringing as a scoreboard and it was ably presented by Mr. Walter Ayre. "I should hate to do him out of a job but I do not think it is a measure of the progress of an Association." He thought that only peals rung by resident members should count.

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott (Devon Guild) said this affected his Guild as much as any in the country as they had many touring parties. It would involve his Guild in some loss of income, but his feeling was that it would suffer that if it meant a loss of absurdity. People in Devon would like to see an end of this custom and call a spade a spade.

Mr. Vernon Bottomley (Yorkshire) said he spoke as a treasurer. Most treasurers, he said, had the utmost difficulty in collecting revenue and controlling the spending propensities of their members. Personally he would not vote for it.

Mr. J. F. Smallwood said he wondered what would happen to him if such action like this was taken by the St. Martin's Guild, of which he had been a life member for the best part of 60 years. He did not think there was anything wrong in this and he considered himself a St. Martin's Guild member. It had been a custom through the history of ringing that if a band visited somewhere else they rang a peal to be credited to that Association. There was nothing wrong or discreditable about it.

Mr. C. K. Lewis heartily supported Mr. Smallwood and said he was proud to be a non-resident member of many Associations.

Mr. G. W. Critchley (Yorkshire) said he was a peal secretary and he supported Mr. Smallwood. He was very proud of the peal of Maximus he rang for the St. Martin's Guild.

Mr. Hartless (Winchester and Portsmouth) wanted things to remain as they were.

Mr. W. T. Cook would prefer to ring a peal non-Association rather than in an area in which he did not live.

Canon Felstead, who regarded himself as neutral, thought it would be better for Associations to review instead of discontinuing the election of non-resident life members.

Mr. John Freeman said the Lincoln Guild last year collected £9 from non-resident members. He saw no purpose in referring it back to his Guild as he would fight like hell against it.

Mr. Morris seconded the amendment.

Mr. A. D. Barker, treasurer of the Oxford Guild, was against. He said he belonged to something like 30 different Guilds.

Mr. A. Davis (Winchester and Portsmouth) said the question was discussed 25 years ago when the proposal of Mr. Colin Harrison, of Loughborough, and Mr. C. H. Kippin was to form one large Association of ringers. He hoped they would keep their small Associations.

Mr. F. E. Dukes said the Irish Association requested him to vote against the motion. Most of the ringers visiting Ireland, even if they did not ring peals, paid the 5/- to join the Association.

After further discussion the amendment was defeated by a substantial majority, and Mr. Morris withdrew his motion.

Lewis, of the Chester Diocesan Guild, and looking very happy in the centre is Mr. G. E. Fearn, hon. secretary of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, and the only living man to have rung 2,000 peals. "The Diary King," Mr. William Viggers, is on the right.

C. C. AND OTHER MATTERS

In the meantime, they say "The Ringing World" wants livening up, so what about an article at least once a month from each of the Council committees about the work they are doing and in more detail the things they are finding out—the articles to be written, of course, by some member of the committee other than the overworked convener.

What about contributions from non-members of the Council on such subjects as the day for the meeting—whether they like Whit Tuesday or "Spring Tuesday," as it will now become. Would they prefer some other day and, if so, would they be willing and able to stand for membership? Do they all think the Council operates on the right lines or could it be improved in some way?

Of course, some years ago, most Associations appointed a "Ringing World" representative. Oh, how I wish that those appointed would stir their bones and send some contributions to "The Ringing World" about, above all, people and their movements and their doings, about restoration work contemplated, hoped for, abandoned, or perhaps sometimes finally carried out, about Association affairs, hopes and fears. Whether they like ringing meetings or prefer courses and schools, indeed anything rather than the eternal silence, relieved only by the outing antics of some obscure Tom who put too much pepper in the fish and chips of some unidentified Dick to the immoderate and near hysterical amusement of some bluff and hearty Harry who appeared to have consumed too many draught Double Diamonds anyway.

A Comprehensive Survey of Overseas Ringing

REPORT FOR 1964

Our 1963 report on overseas activities gave, we trust, an impression of rising interest and some notable achievements; 1964 has shown not only a consolidation of those points but the realisation of many projects and ambitions.

Whereas 1963 was a record one for the number of ringing centres, peals and quarters scored, the calendar of events for 1964 makes quite spectacular reading! When one reads of the two inter-Province trips in Canada, the Washington dedication and Fred Price's four-month teaching programme, the first peal in Southern Rhodesia and the Australian annual gathering in Hobart, Tasmania, it can be seen that the "noble exercise" is well established in the four corners of the globe. Long may it continue and congratulations to those who are doing their stuff in far-off lands.

CANADA

This country has come into its own again and has had a most active year—the best for many a long day. In Victoria under E. W. Izard the Cathedral bells have been rung twice every Sunday plus practice and special services, an enviable record indeed. Membership with a good sprinkling of youngsters stands at 20 and these people have also rung handbells and given lectures for special occasions. Methods include Stedman Triples and T.B. Major. Vancouver under Ted Lee have also done well, thirteen members and ringing Stedman, Grand-sire, Oxford Bob Triples. Bob Major and sometimes St. Clement's. Their highlight was a 700-mile trip over the Rockies to Calgary.

Mission City monastery (Westminster Abbey), standing on high ground overlooking the Fraser Valley matches its fine site with an equally fine ring of ten. These bells are rung to changes every day by the monks, conducted by Father Dunstan, in anything up to Grand-sire Caters. Calgary repaid the Vancouver visit by one of their own to British Columbia in October and rang at Holy Rosary Cathedral and Mission; a great trip it was too. There is nothing more encouraging than to read of this sort of get-together amongst widely scattered ringers and of the untold good that they do. On Easter Day what is believed to be the first quarter ever rung in Alberta was brought round, one member travelling 400 miles to take part.

Now that A. J. Collins has moved to Ottawa (and provided some useful information on Canada) we are hoping to hear something of the ringable octave in Quebec.

U.S.A.

Campanology "hit" the United States in 1964 with a bang, rather like Picasso's work raged in England! It was a "new art form" they said and they meant it.

The Washington dedication has told its own story so we won't make "old hat" of it here. This noble ring implanted the beauty of the sound of bells in literally thousands of people's minds and to those that had the honour of representing Britain on Ascension Day it was an unforgettable experience. The aftermath has been most interesting and Fred Price's mammoth efforts on the first ever almost professional four month course are remarkable indeed. It is estimated that altogether something like 85-100 people have been taught to handle and thus future prospects seem well assured. Groton School continue to ring the chapel 10 and very well they do it. We hope the stimulus provided by last year's visit continues and the prospect of welcoming another school party to England is very encouraging. It may be that some of these boys, after graduating, will find their way to either Boston, Hingham (Mass.) or Chicago, fine rings all of them but without bands.

William E. Howard writes from Kent School, Conn., and again progress is the keynote. For the first time in their 34 year-history the tenor is being "turned in" and Kent T.B. has been added to the Grand-sire and Stedman repertoire. A special invitation is extended to any would-be traveller—"do a Groton on us" they say!

Nowhere are handbells more enthusiastically rung or received than in the United States and these feature very largely in American life—it's nice to think too that most of the handbells come from England.

AFRICA

We have received a very entertaining and informative report from Frank T. Blagrove on Offaires Afriques. There is no doubt that his and Mrs. Blagrove's arrival in Salisbury is a most welcome move.

REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

Woodstock.—The band has been a little depleted here due to people moving on but Sunday service ringing and Monday practice still take place.

Grahamstown Cathedral.—Call changes are rung regularly on Sundays by the band of students from St. Paul's Theological College who, in the absence of anyone of experience, learn from the C.C. Handbook and teach the incoming freshman—all credit to them that there was ringing for Bishop Tindall's consecration. The huge louveres result in objections to the noise and some bricking up is contemplated. Brian Harris from Cheshunt has recently joined the band.

Cape Town Cathedral (10 x 26 cwt. Mears and Stainbank).—The new bells arrived during January and will at first be hung for chiming on ground level, pending the erection of the tower at Salisbury.

Durban, St. Mary's, Greyville.—Bells in good condition. The 10 active ringers persevere with Grand-sire Doubles and with the encouragement of a keen Rector they keep going. Mrs. A. P. Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Blagrove visited here during the year. These people also endeavour to ring at Durban St. Paul's whenever possible.

RHODESIA

Salisbury Cathedral.—At the May meeting of the Mashonaland Diocesan Guild the future seemed difficult, owing to the departure of some of the best ringers—those left were only able to ring rounds. At the November meeting there was excitement due to the presence of Frank and Monica Blagrove. With Frank as tower captain progress has been dramatic, beginning with a quarter of Grand-sire Triples that same evening, a peal of Doubles the following month and two quarters since. With a complement of 16, call changes on 10 are often rung for service. Practice is on Wednesday, 5.30-9 p.m. In March the Guild was re-formed to include Que Que and is now styled "The Central African Provincial Guild of Bell Ringers."

Que Que (4 x 5 cwt., Mears, 1962).—Regular service ringing and weekly practices are maintained and an appeal has been launched to provide two more bells.

REPUBLIC OF KENYA

Kilifi (6 x 2½ cwt., Taylor, 1962).—Six ringers and twelve learners meet for weekly practice and service ringing. Contact has now been established with this most isolated tower who need every encouragement. In October Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hunt visited Kilifi and rang the six bells with four Kenyan boys. Call changes are painted out on long wooden planks and include a plain course of Stedman Doubles!

AUSTRALIA

Not such a busy year as 1963 but one that was marked by three important and thrilling events. Two restorations (the first time that overseas rings have actually been returned for renovation to England) and the highly successful A.N.Z.A.B. gathering in Hobart. Added to this there were three peals and 60 quarters scored in a host of methods, including many of Surprise Minor methods. Peals were Grand-sire Caters, Double Norwich and Bob Major.

Perth is a well established centre now and remote towers like this are going to benefit from the visit of the English tourists in Great Adventure II. Several quarters were rung in 1964 with Sunday service ringing top priority.

Adelaide. The Cathedral band have again done well and a most happy relationship with the Church exists. In addition to their own tower they have been responsible for ringing at the recently made ringable Town Hall octave and providing the necessary encouragement for Walkerville. Of the goodly list of quarters the most notable were Stedman Triples with three firsts and conducted by Bill Pitcher, Editor of "Ringing Towers," Bob Major—the first of Major by a local band (tenor 41 cwt.) and the first ever quarter at the Town Hall.

Hobart. Both St. David's Cathedral and Holy Trinity octaves have been kept going and no doubt the holding of the Australian and New Zealand annual gathering in Tasmania in June did a great deal for Hobart. Several beginners are being taught there. The peals of D.N.C.B. and Bob Major in Hobart at the time of the annual gathering were first class efforts—congratulations to all concerned.

In Melbourne the long awaited rededication of the twelve took place in October. The Cathedral's sympathetic attitude towards such a costly undertaking (shipping the whole ring back to England, etc.) was simply amazing and it is to be hoped that this will be well and truly backed up by the Melbourne ringers coming right to the fore and building up a strong band. The christening peal was a good one—Grand-sire Caters, in which ringers from three States took part. There are ringers in Australia quite capable of ringing up to Cambridge Maximus and Stedman Cinqs—they now have the twelve on which to do it.

During this time Melbourne interest has been kept alive by regular ringing at St. Patrick's R.C. Cathedral, and also handbells.

Bendigo also had the thrill of a rededication, in December—these are now a recast octave by Mears and Stainbank, tenor 14 cwt. in F sharp, and by all accounts a fine job. Keeness is high here so we hope for big things!

Ballaarat. The two eights are regularly rung and the bands are fortunate in having the recent addition to their number of Warne Wilson, an ex-Bendigo ringer. Both Ballaarat and Bendigo share with Melbourne a triangular programme of visits amongst themselves—always enjoyable occasions.

Centres of progress and activity inevitably change and there is no doubt that in the last two years Sydney has become that centre. The variety of methods in quarters, tower- and handbells and for service ringing is commendable indeed. St. Mary's Basilica has scored quarters of Cambridge and Double Norwich Major, Stedman Triples and Spliced Surprise Minor, etc., and some good handbell quarters under T. W. Goodyer's leadership. Regular ringing takes place at Parramatta, Turramurra, Darling Point and Burwood, whilst at Christ Church and St. Benedict's in the city itself, ringing for special occasions.

Other active towers in N.S.W. are Yass and Maitland, the latter being the venue for this year's State annual ring and striking competition.

Canberra, the Federal Capital, has had a Taylor chime of eight installed, but maximum use is made of them in chiming various standard methods.

Maryborough (Q) has maintained Sunday ringing under pretty difficult conditions—not least its remoteness from Sydney some 800 miles to the south.

St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Sydney, is to have a new Taylor ten—the first ten in Australia. All in all Australia presents a very encouraging picture and one which the English tourists next September-October will, we are sure, be keen to foster. May both sides make the most of this exciting venture.

This bright note is tinged with a certain sadness—the passing of four ringers with strong Australian connections. Jean Ireland (Adelaide), Bill Smith (Turramurra) and two of the 1934 English tourists—William E. Linter and Charles Sharples. May they rest in peace.

Overseas Ringing Committee—contd.NEW ZEALAND

Christchurch Cathedral now has an active membership of 14 and several prospective beginners. Ringing has taken place every Sunday up to Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples and Treble Bob.

Papanui (a light five) have their own call change band taught by the Christchurch ringers.

Hamilton again are maintaining service ringing and in 1965 yet another inter-island/State visit is planned—this time by the Christchurch ringers to Hamilton.

Nelson Cathedral in the north of the South Island have, we understand, been left sufficient money for a ringing peal. The C.C. are following this up with advice on installation and what to order, etc.

This rounds off our overseas survey. Every endeavour has been made to delete any inaccuracies and such advice is appreciated. May we ask anyone contemplating an overseas trip and wishing to contact ringing centres to write to either the convener or A. Victor Sheppard, when all information will be gladly forwarded. Also any corrections to our report or additions direct to us please.

(Signed)

GEORGE W. PIPE (Convener),
8, Lansdowne Road, Ipswich.

A. VICTOR SHEPPARD.

Mr. G. W. Pipe proposed the adoption and said that more and more this side of the Council's business was appreciated. A display of photographs of towers overseas was on view in that hall and had been arranged by Mr. Victor Sheppard. The forthcoming trip to Australia was a tremendous thing for overseas ringing and the blessing of the Council went with it. Nothing but good could come of it.

Mr. V. Sheppard seconded.

Mr. P. Gray, representative of the Australia and New Zealand Association said he had recently been in Australia and ringing presented a very encouraging picture. He wanted to bring to the Council the official welcome of the Australia and New Zealand Association, who were looking forward very much to the forthcoming visit. He had been a member of the Council for eight years and this was the first time he had seen his constituents.

Mr. H. Rogers (London County Association) commended the Washington Supplement and thought it would be a good thing if "The Ringing World" could manage two such supplements a year.

RECORD LENGTH—TOWER BELLS

July 120,160 Double Norwich C.B.Maj.,

Swansea & Brecon Dio. Guild.

The above is the report of the Records

Committee, being the first peals in the method and progressive performances which have been published in "The Ringing World" of 1964.

(Signed)

J. R. MAYNE (Convener pro tem.),

170, Headstone Lane,

Harrow, Middlesex.

F. T. BLAGROVE,

E. K. FLETCHER,

L. K. MARSHALL.

Mr. John R. Mayne presented the report on behalf of Mr. Blagrove (in Rhodesia) and said a new departure was an appendix of new Surprise Major and Royal methods to keep it up to date. Mr. T. J. Lock seconded and the report was carried.

The Appendix bringing up to date the Council's Collection of Surprise methods will be published in a later issue.

NEXT MEETINGS

The hon. secretary said that for 1966 there were two aspects. One was the actual date. For 1966 they had received an invitation from the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association to visit Somerset. They had also received an invitation from the Southwell Diocesan Guild for 1967. At the Standing Committee meeting the previous night the view was expressed it was time the Council visited London again. The Standing Committee recommended that the invitation to visit Somerset be accepted and that of the Southwell Guild for 1967, and that the Council express a wish to visit London for its meeting in 1968.

Mr. F. Sharpe moved that the Council visit the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association in 1966 and expresses its gratitude to them for their invitation, and also to the Southwell Diocesan Guild for their invitation.

Mr. Walter Ayre seconded.

Mr. R. S. Anderson said in 1966 the Council meet on Whit Tuesday, and in 1967 on the spring Bank Holiday. He moved this, and Mr. F. E. Dukes seconded.

Canon Felstead said the spring Bank Holiday would enable the clergy to come for a weekend. Was there any objection to a Monday meeting?

Mr. Anderson: It has been invariable for the Standing Committee to meet on the Monday. It would mean that the Standing Committee meet on a Saturday.

Mr. R. Leigh (Lancashire) thought it would be unwise to decide on a date just yet as a number of members did not know what holidays they would have with a spring Bank Holiday. He moved that the date for 1967 be left until next year.

Mr. T. J. Lock seconded, and this was carried unanimously.

Mr. J. H. Gilbert (Bath and Wells) said their Association this year was celebrating its 75th anniversary and in that time the Central Council had never been to Somerset. 'I need say nothing about Somerset bells; we shall be very pleased to see you.'

Mr. J. D. Clarke (Southwell Diocesan Diocesan Guild): It is a pleasure to invite you to hold your meeting in Nottingham, the Queen of the Midlands. Its hotel accommodation is second to none and it is within easy reach of all parts. We have the first backward 12 in the country. The bells of St. Peter's, Nottingham are at present at the foundry and they will be back as a 12. We are delighted that you will share in our 21st birthday.

VOTES OF THANKS

The president proposed a warm vote of thanks to the Mayor of Northampton, the Bishop of Peterborough (the Rt. Rev. Cyril Eastaugh), Canon Turner, the president of the Peterborough Guild, Mr. J. H. Bluff, the Master, the Vicar of All Saints', the other officers of the Peterborough Guild and particularly the general secretary, Mr. Eric Billings, and to incumbents and tower keepers of towers visited.

A vote of thanks to the president for presiding was moved by Mr. Anderson.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Dear Sir,—In two lines in "Belfry Gossip" we read that the London County Association drops from its title its connection with the Church! In this age, when so much is being divorced from the Church, it is sad to note that even a ringing organisation deems it necessary.

How I would have preferred to read: "The London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild drops from its title the words 'London County Association,'" especially as there is now no London County as such.

One could go a step further and hope that one day in the pages of "The Ringing World" we will read that the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild drops from its title the words Middlesex County Association and—who knows—that the two Guilds have united to form the London and Southwark Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers.

For God's sake (meant in its true sense) let's not openly drop our connection with the Church.—Yours sincerely,

C. F. NEAL.

UPWELL PEAL

Dear Sir,—As organiser of the peal of Plain Bob Minor at Upwell, I should like to reply to the recent correspondence.

Firstly, the footnote to the peal is, I feel, a genuine mistake by the conductor, for, as we are all aware, there is a published list of towers where peals have been rung in the annual report of the Ely Diocesan Association.

Secondly, an additional footnote to the peal should have stated that the peal was rung as a farewell (although somewhat belated) to the Rev. A. G. Cope, who has now resigned the living.

I trust this will now make matters clear.—Yours sincerely,

A. K. PHILLIPS.

Emneth, Wisbech.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO GEORGE H. CROSS

Dear Sir,—The recent publication of a number of memoirs to the late George H. Cross indicate the high regard in which he was held by members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, the Kent County Association and his ringing friends throughout the country. As his funeral was held at Chardstock, which is somewhat inaccessible, it is possible that many ringers may have been unable to express the respect to him they would otherwise have done. It has therefore been arranged, by kind permission of the Vicar of St. Alphege's, Greenwich, that the service at the next meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, to be held on July 10th at 4.30 p.m., should take the form of a memorial service to the life and work of George H. Cross. It is hoped that many of his friends, not only members of this Society, will be able to attend.

At the meeting which will follow, it is proposed to discuss the form of a permanent memorial which will be placed in the belfry of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, in recognition of his long service as Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, and his leadership of the band at St. Martin's.—Yours faithfully,

D. E. SIBSON,
Hon. Secretary.

Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.

EASTHAMPSTEAD BELLS

Sir,—May I, through the columns of "The Ringing World," bring to the notice of all readers the present state of the bells at SS. Michael and Mary Magdalene, Easthampstead.

Several weeks ago during practice the tenor broke one of its gudgeons, since which time all ringing has been suspended. For some months the ringers had been looking into the feasibility of recasting the old six bells into a lighter ring of eight with a tenor of about six cwt. This scheme had to be set aside, however, as the church had been charged with raising some £3,000 for a new Community Centre building.

Since this unfortunate incident to the tenor occurred, the original plan has been resurrected as it is considered imprudent to rehang a rather poor tenor to an equally poor ring.

The ringers consider as a compromise that the present six should be recast and rehung in the existing pits leaving to some future time the addition of the two new trebles. The cost of this project amounts to £845 and the work is to be carried out by the Whitechapel Bell Foundry. The ringers have committed themselves to raising this sum of money but to date have only just over £300. It is possible for the new bells to be ready and ringing by Christmas this year should sufficient moneys become available.

I therefore appeal to all ringers and non-ringers alike, wherever they may be, to assist us in making this possibility become a reality. The names of all donors are to be written into a leather-bound book and all donations, however small, will be gratefully received and acknowledged.

May I thank you all in anticipation.

FRANK C. PRICE.

P.S.—Cheques or Orders may be made out either to me or to the "Easthampstead Bell Fund," and forwarded direct to the address as above.—F. C. P.

ST. PETER'S, NORTHAMPTON, BELLS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Billings, in his history of St. Peter's, Northampton, is a little out. It was five years, not one year, before the 1739 first peal that these bells were augmented from four to eight.

All the bells are dated 1734; and if he goes into Leicestershire to the hamlet of Nosely, where in that period Sir Arthur Haselrigg, Bart., held residence at the Hall, as well as the old Haselrigg House in Masefair, Northampton (sometimes called Cromwell House) owned by his predecessor, he will find an account of four bells coming to Northampton (to be broken up apparently by Rudhall) on Haselrigg's orders after the old tower at Nosely fell.

Rudhall cast no other bells in Northampton itself, so these, it seems, must be the four bells now in St. Peter's, which many have thought to be brand new bells, but were in fact recast from Nosely. There was in that old fallen tower five bells, one of which was retuned and recast at Haselrigg's expense and his name thus inscribed, as it also is on the present seventh at St. Peter's, Northampton, where the old four were also recast by Rudhall at the time of the augmentation—1734, not 1739.

LEICESTER VETERANS ENTERTAINED

A FEATURE of the activities of the Leicester Diocesan Guild is its thought for elderly ringers and on May 29th it provided a wonderful reunion at Coleorton in the north-west corner of the county. The church here has a handy eight (tenor 13 cwt.) and stands in the grounds of Coleorton Hall, now a seat of the National Coal Board. The grounds and gardens, with rhododendrons a blaze of colour, were open to the visitors.

Fleets of cars brought the veterans to the church by 3 p.m. and there were some great reunions, such as the two remaining sons of the four fathers and sons' peal at Belgrave in 1925 (the last time they met) and several others who had not met for 30 years. A shortened Evensong was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. C. Burford) and those who were chorists sat in the choir. Singing was with a fervour reminiscent of the Welsh valleys.

A sumptuous spread awaited the party at Coleorton School. Afterwards a very comprehensive vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. T. C. Belton, who was responsible for the arrangements. Those thanked included the Rector, the ladies, Coleorton ringers and the "younger" car owners. Mr. Ernest Bartram thanked the General Committee of the Guild for their blessing on the venture, to which Mr. Paul Taylor (a vice-president) replied. The services of Mr. Belton were acknowledged by Mr. H. Over, and his vote of thanks was carried with acclamation.

The programme included selections by the Earl Shilton handbell ringers, musical items by Mr. and Mrs. R. Lord and the reading of reminiscences and extracts from "The Ringing Worlds" of the 1920's and 1930's. These prompted several "I remembers" and Harry Stoneley produced his miniature handbells, relics of the 1914-18 war. Mr. Paul Taylor gave a lighthearted story of recent happenings at the foundry and at 8 p.m. came "Auld Lang Syne," bringing to a close a memorable day.

The company included Miss H. Shipman, Messrs. J. Butcher, T. Briggs, E. Bartram, H. Churchill, C. Jelly, E. Tinsley, A. Moulds, J. Ward (Melton area), C. R. Belton, H. Stoneley, H. Wright, H. Hollis, J. Herbert, N. Walker, L. Hewitt, H. Wood, J. Buckingham (Hinckley area), G. Broughton, R. Barrow, R. Elkington, E. Geary, V. Geary, T. Isom, William Wood, E. W. Bowley, W. Tanser (Leicester area), F. Bindley, W. Draper, W. Dexter, W. Swan, P. Plowright (Syston area), A. W. Martin, L. W. Allen (Market Harborough area), G. Butler, W. Honner, W. Hickman, H. Over, E. F. Gobey, W. Smith (Loughborough area), J. W. Cotton and W. Curson (M.C.G.). Others in attendance with cars were Messrs. L. Allen jun., A. Ballard, J. Hodgetts, W. Root, H. L. Wykes, J. Kesterton, Joe Beal, G. Wright, J. Jelly, J. Adams, H. Bowley, J. Lawrence, J. Day, M. Stimson and Paul Taylor.

WRINGTON, SOMERSET.—On May 31st, 1,259 Grandsire Caters: Anne Kingcott (first on ten) 1. E. T. Lee 2, J. H. Gilbert (cond.) 3, M. Collins 4, A. E. Cox 5, L. Derrick 6, W. H. Kingcott 7, D. G. Yeo 8, P. Bridle 9, J. Brain 10. Rung to mark the 75th anniversary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, founded on May 31st, 1890.

BELL ROPES

Birmingham University in Yorkshire

THE police, among others, were surprised to see a band of nine students gather outside New Street Station at 10.30 one dull Wednesday morning in April. Using this surprise to their advantage, the nine ringers poured into a minibus and made a smooth getaway, thus avoiding being arrested for loitering.

Mansfield was reached several hours later and here the party was augmented to eleven by the arrival of Alistair Mactadyen and his sister Jo. After a few rounds, a touch of Stedman was rung, then Blyth and Tadcaster followed before crossing into Yorkshire to York, where the tour was centred.

Thursday, the first full day, was notable in that at the third tower, Patrington, we had our efforts recorded by the B.B.C. Northern Station. The entrance to the ringing chamber at Patrington is via a tunnel some 25 feet long, being two feet wide, three feet high and triangular in cross-section. Despite none of our number being of optimum shape, we all managed to reach the ringing chamber and agreed that the bells were well worth the effort. After several more towers we arrived in Market Weighton (6) where, having rung York Surprise, we frequented the nearest fish and chip shop, the whole party by then having become suitably impoverished.

The first tower on Friday was the six at Holme-on-Spalding Moor (a ground floor ring), where we were joined by Steve Barton. Unfortunately the tail ends of the ropes were just out of reach. Deducing that the bells must be set at backstroke by some very tall ringers, our tallest member tentatively pulled at one of the ropes; it came down but unfortunately all the others went up. Luckily at this point the tower key arrived and the ropes were loosened from above. After this unusual start we rang for about half an hour, the "new" method at this tower being Double Oxford.

A WARNING COUGH

North Ferriby was reached about lunchtime. We first located the church, then began to look for somewhere to eat. Began is, unfortunately, the operative word in the last sentence, for about 100 yards from the church the engine of our minibus gave one warning cough, then stopped. All jumped out. The engineers in our company immediately started scrutinising all relevant and some irrelevant parts of the engine with obvious delight; however, their search was fruitless. Attempts at push-starting were miserable failures; we appeared to be stuck.

Half an hour later we were ringing the six in the nearby church feeling much happier. (We bought a can of petrol.) Later that day we were again recorded, this time by the tower master of Hemingbrough, where there is a nice six with a long free fall of rope. The day was completed with the eight at Escrick.

Saturday's events of note were mainly concerned with the ringing (for a change), with Yorkshire at Norton-juxta-Malton and Double Norwich at Bridlington Priory (a heavy eight). Sunday morning saw some of us ringing at the Minster (unfortunately deprived of its tenor with clapper trouble) for morning service. This was followed by a quick row on the Ouse and then Sunday dinner. In the afternoon we rang for the St. George's Day service at the Minster, then we had a ring on the six at Huntington, finishing the day's ringing for Evensong at St. Stephen's, Accomb.

Monday started at Hovingham, where we were interviewed by the local newspaper reporter. Easingwold (a nice eight) has Yorkshire tail ends, which proved confusing to begin with. The incumbent came to join us soon after we had started, and one of our ringers inquired of him where we might obtain a few pies for lunch. Mishearing the question, the reverend gentleman retorted "You are very abstemious, young man," and directed us to an excellent pub. After lunch we visited Thirsk, Wath and Boroughdale, finishing the day on the excellent ten at Ripon Cathedral.

Tuesday began at Whixley, where we rang London Scholars' Pleasure. At Harrogate (which were, in my opinion, the best eight of the tour) we rang a good half course of Superlative. The day continued with three more sixes and two more eights before concluding the tour at Sherburn with another course of Superlative. That evening the whole party had a Chinese meal despite many of us having light wallets.

Our thanks are especially due to Mr. Robert Hardy for organising the tour and driving the minibus. A. J. J.

OBITUARY

MISS CAROLYN VIBERT

The death of Carolyn Vibert at the age of 19, on Whit Monday, was tragic. It came as a severe shock to the many friends she had made. Secretary of the Bishopstoke band, she undertook this and other parochial duties with a cheerfulness which was characteristic of her nature.

Ringling was her chief interest, but she had also been a chorister for a few years. Under the guidance of George Pullinger, Carolyn made progress in the standard methods and stood in her first peal at Bishopstoke in April, 1961, Plain Bob Major, conducted by Tom Chapman. Since then she had rung a total of 65 peals, her last at North Lopham, Lincolnshire Surprise Major, conducted by David J. Forder, the day before her death. An accomplished ringer and a pleasant companion, Carolyn had rung most popular Surprise methods up to London Surprise Royal.

Having a passion for peals and week-end tours, she was a member of a party who had just completed a tour of the Norwich area organised by David B. House. Finishing at Hethersett on Whit Monday morning, the party made their way to Chelmsford for the evening ringing. This was the last time her friends saw her, for, returning home, the car she was travelling in was involved in a head-on collision on the A.30 just north of Basingstoke. Carolyn died instantly.

To her parents and brothers we express our heartfelt sympathy.

The funeral took place at Bishopstoke Church on June 14th, with a private family service afterwards at the South Stoneham Crematorium. Whole pull and stand was rung prior to the service, which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. G. H. Rose. The large number of ringers, friends and parishioners present reflected the high regard all had for Carolyn. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung in the porch as the cortege left by: T. Chapman, Mrs. T. Chapman, R. C. Kippin and D. J. Forder.

Floral tributes came from all sources, her family, ringers, church workers, her fellow workers and management, neighbours and many more. A permanent remembrance in the form of a plaque will be placed in the belfry at a later date.

Ringers present, apart from those already mentioned, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Faithfull, Mr. and Mrs. R. Faithfull, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Thomas, Mrs. T. H. Francis, the Misses L. Cull, R. Kemp, H. Kippin, V. Rowe, J. Thorne, Messrs. M. J. Butler, O. N. Curtis, W. J. Durrant, P. Faithfull, J. Hartless, S. Kirby, B. J. Luff, M. M. Powell, R. R. Savory, M. J. Trigg and Canon K. W. H. Felstead.

After the service a half-muffled peal was rung by a representative band, the composition being that used for Carolyn's first peal. T. C.

STOGUMBER, SOMERSET.—On June 3rd, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: A. Routley 1, P. Watts 2, A. Somerfield 3, R. Penny 4, R. J. Somerfield (cond.) 5, S. Bryant 6. In memory of an old ringer and sidesman. Also on June 5th, 1,440 Cambridge Surprise Minor: W. Smith 1, G. Marchant 2, W. Stevens 3, B. Wyde 4, C. Clarke (cond.) 5, M. Stone 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The bells at Edensor will be available in connection with the meeting at Darley Dale on July 3rd from 7 to 8 p.m.

We regret to learn that Mr. W. Beeson, of Cranleigh, is seriously ill and his health is of concern to his friends.

The peal at Prittlewell on May 23rd (see page 397) was rung to welcome Heather Ann, born on May 5th, the first child for Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Cansdale, the former ringing the second bell in the peal of Plain Bob Caters.

When the Western District of the Ladies' Guild met at Dunkerton on June 12th four new members were elected—the Misses B. Boyle and S. Hallett (Pilton), P. Pickard (Wraxall) and Mrs. S. Lewis (Warmley). A wide range of methods was rung on these very light bells.

Returning from Northampton, Canon Thurlow discovered that his visit to South Lopham to dedicate the rehung six bells had not been advertised in the issue of June 18th. We are asked to emphasise that all ringers are welcome and the bells will be available after the dedication.

If Miss Mary Jones, of Manchester University Guild, will send her address to Mr. David J. Marshall, 1, Hallgarth View, Whinney Hill, Durham City, he will pass his comments to her on her report of the Guild dinner. The editor has been through the Jones list of addresses in an endeavour to pass on Mr. Marshall's communication. He did, however, find a "Marjorie."

MEMORIAL TO MR. F. M. MITCHELL

The Kent County Association and other friends intend to place a bronze memorial plaque at the base of the tower at Milton-next-Gravesend to the memory of Frederick M. Mitchell, for so long their treasurer and secretary, who died in 1960. After months of negotiation a faculty has now been granted and the manufacture of the plaque can proceed. There will be an announcement later of the arrangements for the dedication and unveiling.

GROTON'S VISIT

Mr. Russell S. Young, the master in charge of ringing at Groton School, is in England and is staying with Mr. Frank Price, at 10, Butler Road, Crowthorne, Berks. He writes: "I am in England until July 12th, principally on the Winchester-Oxford-Leicester axis, and would be glad to meet any schoolmaster-ringers who even remotely entertain the idea of teaching in America."

"Another group of Groton ringers will be arriving in two weeks for the third tour. We are looking forward to several weeks of ringing, learning and making friends in the mother country."

LITTLE WALSINGHAM BELLS

East Anglia has many unringable bells, and it is therefore encouraging to hear of hopes for restoration. In his annual report on the fabric of St. Mary's, Little Walsingham, Norfolk, the Vicar (Fr. Alan Roe) expressed a wish to have the five bells retuned and rehung, with the possible addition of a sixth bell. Much work is still needed to be done on the tower, which would cost £4,000, but the bells would certainly be repaired when the money was available.

SALISBURY BRANCH STRIKING COMPETITION

The pleasant light six at Winterslow were perfectly suited to the beautiful weather of May 22nd, when the Salisbury Branch held its third annual striking competition. The newly-appointed Rector, the Rev. W. B. Vernon, welcomed the Guild at the service that preceded the event. After tea in the Village Hall a return was made to the church for the competition.

The result was: 1 Fittleton (Grandsire) 26 faults; 2 Sarum St. Thomas (Grandsire) 43; 3 Damerham (Grandsire) 48; 4 Wilton (Stedman) 59; 5 Salisbury Training College (call changes) 89.

We are most grateful to Messrs. A. V. Davis, L. Cobb and W. Cheater, of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, for their ready help and advice as judges. G. A. T.

ISLE OF MAN BELLS

Mr. Geoffrey R. Marchant, of 137, Downend Road, Horfield, Bristol 7, inquires as to the state of the bells at St. Geram's, Peel, Isle of Man. On a recent visit to the island he was refused permission to look at the bells but the Vicar did mention that he had had numerous similar requests and, concluding Mr. Marchant, "it may be that someone was more persuasive than I."

CHRISTCHURCH PRIORY, HANTS

The first week-end in July will be quite a "Ringers' Occasion" in Christchurch. It is believed to be the first time that the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild have decided to hold their annual general meeting in the Priory town. This meeting is planned for Saturday, July 3rd, and the following day will be observed as a Ringers' Sunday at the Priory Church.

The preacher at the Guild service at 4.45 p.m. on the Saturday will be the Rev. Frankland Rigby, M.A., Vicar of Bromesborough, Gloucester, and Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Guild. Mr. Rigby was formerly a member of the St. Peter's, Bournemouth, band.

At Evensong on the Sunday at 6.30 p.m. there will be some special music and ringers' hymns, the preacher at this service being Canon K. W. H. Felstead, M.Sc., Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild and Rural Dean of Southampton. Visitors will be especially welcomed. Details of ringing times are included in the meeting advertisement.

HANDBELLS THAT SAW ACTIVE SERVICE

A highlight of the Leicester Veterans' reunion at Coleorton was a course of Grandsire Caters rung on Mr. Harry Stoneley's miniature handbells, which he carried with him in the trenches in the 1914-18 war. Harry was still dressed in his Scouting uniform, which has made him a familiar figure for over half a century. He delighted the company with amusing anecdotes, particularly those of the famous Wednesday afternoon band of the 1920's and 1930's with James George and other giants of that era. Other survivors of the band present were Richard Belton, Joseph Cotton and Edward Gobey.

MISBLOW PRODUCES ROUNDS

In a peal of Minor at Offton, in seven plain methods, on June 7th, a misbLOW took place 120 changes from the end. It produced temporary rounds and was immediately corrected. The extent was completed but the conductor (Giles B. Thompson) quite rightly has consigned it to the list of miscellaneous performances. He writes: "I think an interesting dilemma for all Minor ringers is brought to light. Had the same misbLOW been made elsewhere, rounds would not have occurred and the 720 would not then seem obviously false. Thus can anyone honestly claim as true anything on less than eight bells in which there is one distinctly misplaced blow? And further, is anyone less honest if this misbLOW produces temporary rounds?"

Taking part in the performance were: F. James Lockwood 1, Roger E. K. Whittell 2, A. Trevor Hawkins 3, Brian B. Hullah 4, Neville F. Whittell 5, George E. Thompson (conductor) 6. Methods: Thelwall, Childwall, Double Oxford, St. Clement's, Single Oxford, Double and Plain Bob.

HER METHOD CONSTRUCTION KIT

E. M. B. writes telling of her method construction kit for learning methods. "Suppose a Minor method to be under consideration. Six pieces of transparent paper marked with six vertical, evenly-spaced, parallel lines—divided into six sections by horizontal lines in case of T.B. or Surprise. On one sheet mark out the regular hunting path of the treble (preferably a dotted line). The next sheet has the course of the 2nd place bell and the remaining four sheets courses of 3rds, 4ths, 5ths and 6ths place. It is an advantage to have a different colour for each bell.

At the bottom of each sheet is written in the appropriate colours above and below the appropriate vertical line the numbers 1 to 6. The dimensions of the framework and of the numerals must, of course, be identical for each sheet, as they are to be placed on top of one another as required. The sheets may be fastened together, either in natural order or in the order of the duty of any particular bell. Bob and Single construction kits could also be provided on the same lines, extending from one half-lead to the next.

"The course bell, and passing the treble, would be easily demonstrable; and the notion, so easily acquired by the learner, that a method consists of a wayward and capricious blue line thwarted at various points in its career by the antics of various arbitrary numerals (presumably following their own equally capricious blue lines) would have no reason ever to raise its head."

TREVOR BAILEY'S 200 PEALS

Mr. Trevor N. J. Bailey has travelled far to complete his first 200 peals, involving ringing in 30 counties in England and Ireland and for 21 Guilds and Associations. Of his peals, only nine—and all Doubles—were rung "in hand" and all of these he conducted. The total conducted was 32. Approximately a quarter of his peals were on 10 or 12 bells, and in this group Cambridge Maximus heads the list with 12, other Surprise Maximus being Yorkshire 4, Londinium, 12-Spliced and Superlative one each. Royal total 25 (Surprise Cambridge 5, Yorkshire 1, 3-Spliced London 3 and Pudsey 4). There were 34 in Surprise Major, nine methods, being represented. Other Major totalled 29 (Plain Bob 18 and Double Norwich Court Bob 7) and Triples only eight. Significant of his county is 34 Doubles and 36 Minor peals. Altogether it is a very good list.

MAJORITY RULE IN PEALS

The band who rang the peal of Bristol Surprise Major at Colchester on Whit Monday in crediting the peal to the Oxford Diocesan Guild intend no slight on their "host," the Essex Association. As only two of the band are members of the Association, the remainder were prevented from joining by virtue of the majority membership rule. Perhaps Associations with such a rule should consider a change in their rules in view of the loss in revenue which is evidently suffered.

OBITUARY

MR. WARREN S. HORNBOOK

Mr. Warren S. Hornbrook, of Plymouth, who died on June 3rd, aged 73, will be remembered by the older generation of Plymouth ringers. He learned to ring in about 1906, at Charles Church, Plymouth, and rang his first peal in 1911. Before giving up ringing, for reasons of health, he had rung 50 peals and was for a while captain of the Charles Church ringers.

Although he had done very little ringing since the war, he was well remembered by many local ringers, who were represented at his funeral on June 8th by Messrs. T. G. Myers (Plymouth St. Andrew's), A. Westcott (a former captain of Charles Church), W. Collier (Emmanuel, Plymouth) and H. H. Thomas (Emmanuel, Plymouth, and chairman of the South West Branch of the Guild of Devonshire ringers).

MR. ERNEST HOYLE

Had Ernest Hoyle lived another three days he would have reached the 54th anniversary of his greatest ringing performance, the 13,440 Bob Major rung on handbells at Pudsey, Yorkshire, on June 5th, 1911, which was then the record length on handbells. But it was not to be for Ernest died on June 2nd, 1965, at the age of 73, at Guildford, Surrey, where he lived in his retirement.

Ernest Hoyle was one of a young band who learned to ring at Pudsey in the first decade of this century. He was a very able ringer and rang several peals before joining the R.A.M.C. in the First World War. Later he transferred to the R.A.F. and when the war was over he returned to Farnborough to resume as a civilian the work he had been doing in the R.A.F. That was virtually the end of his ringing career for although he visited his "home" tower whenever he was in Pudsey he did little ringing elsewhere.

He is still remembered by some of the older ringers in Yorkshire as one who would undoubtedly have made his mark in ringing had circumstances allowed him to follow the art in which he started so well. W. B.

WEST COUNTRY RINGERS IN IRELAND

THE suggestion of an Irish ringing tour was first mentioned in 1964 but like most ideas born over a friendly pint, a venture of this type takes time to plan, so that "I-Day" was finally fixed for May 1st, 1965.

A party of eleven ringers from various parts of Somerset and Caerleon assembled at Bristol Airport and took off for Dublin. We arrived safely and soon made contact with Mr. and Mrs. Schofield, from Bradford Cathedral, who had flown in from Leeds, and with Eric Lee and Max Heyman, who had preceded the rest of us to pick up two of the three hired cars from Belfast.

The tour opened, fittingly enough, at Fred Duke's own tower, Drogheda (pronounced "Droida"), where we received a warm welcome and enjoyed some excellent touches on these Rudhall bells. The cars returned to Dublin to search for the digs, but not before the Victor achieved the doubtful distinction of having the first puncture. The evening in the city was rather spoilt by persistent rain.

TESTS FOR HEIGHT AND ROPESIGHT

Sunday ringing commenced at St. Patrick's Cathedral, on the grand 12, where many of the peal boards recall the ringing career of that outstanding personality Gabriel Lindoff. Next the anti-clockwise 10 at St. John's R.C. Church, where the completely open spiral staircase is a distinct drawback to those who dislike heights. The rather awkward circle, together with odd-struck bells, tests the ropesight and ability of any band who ring them.

Afternoon service ringing took place on the Murphy bells of Christ Church Cathedral, with methods up to Little Bob Royal, and at St. George's for Evensong. The bells were voted first-class and produced some good ringing, after which the party attended the service.

Bray was Monday's first objective, and the praise that one hears for these bells is well founded. A quarter peal of Double Norwich had been arranged and it was a pity that a rope end came out and proved its downfall. Disappointed, we rang a course of Bristol and departed. The journey to Blessington took us through the Wicklow mountains and gave us our first real taste of Irish scenery. The bells proved a hard-going anti-clockwise six, but the tone is good.

WASHBROOK'S ARKLOW

Lunch followed, then away across the moors to Washbrook's Arklow, with its commanding view of the countryside around. A quarter of Stedman proved successful, preceding yet another wet drive to Wexford. These bells were not on the itinerary but diplomatic approaches were made, and to our delight permission to ring was granted for the following evening.

The first tower on Tuesday was St. Canice's Cathedral in the bustling little market town of Kilkenny. The tower barely rises above the main structure, and if the bells are to an extent noisy outside, they are very quiet and ideal for ringing peals without annoying the public. A pleasant run took us to Christ Church Cathedral, Waterford, situated only a stone's-throw from the quay, and a welcome from the Dean. These are bells of character, hung by Gillets, and general ringing was followed by a brisk quarter of Yorkshire.

We set off on the detour to Wexford unaware that the fates were against us. Some time was spent fitting ropes on the front three bells and inspecting the frame before the bells were raised, but no sooner was Grandsire Caters under way than the tenor clapper snapped. Further ringing was carried on as best possible, but the effect was not the same, and we left the church with a strong sense of having been cheated, and made for the coast and Tramore, our H.Q. for the night.

BLARNEY STONE

Wednesday, May 5th, commenced with a 65-mile drive to Doneraile, and our second six-bell tower of the tour. The trip to Bandon took us across the Boggeragh mountains, and confirmed Geoff Pullin's ability to triumph over the inaccuracies of the map and pilot us safely to our destination. After an enjoyable ring we turned east into Cork, and time was found to visit Blarney Castle. There were those who kissed the stone and received certificates to prove it, and those who did not, who do not require one anyway! At St. Finbarre's we were welcomed both by the Dean and by the president of the Irish Association, Mr. Fred Brogan. Outside the tower the bells sound beautiful, and both parties stayed to listen to the quarter of Plain Bob which was rung and which enabled Eric Lee to register his 1,000th peal.

Thursday's programme bore the hopeful label "Scenic Tour," but once again the fickle weather intervened and the views of Bantry Bay, the Healey Pass and other beauty spots were denied us. The mountain roads are twisted beyond belief and it was a relief to reach Killarney and a faster road to Limerick. We made our way to the R.C. Church of Mount St. Alphonsus, with its detached tower, and rang on what many of the band considered the best ring yet. The tower has an enthusiastic band, who accompanied us to St. Mary's Cathedral afterwards. A quarter of Bristol was lost here with just over a course to ring, and after meeting the Southern District secretary, Mr. F. G. Bingham, a mild celebration was held back at the guest house to mark the end of Phase I of the tour.

ISOLATED BAND

Friday, May 7th, saw the Oxford and five of the party returning to Dublin and home, and ringing a successful quarter at Bray whilst the remainder headed north for Enniskillen. St. Macartan's Cathedral has a fine 10 with a teasing tenor rope and it was a pleasure to join the local company for practice as well as our scheduled visit. We in England do well to remember these isolated centres of the Exercise, where the next tower is 60 miles distant, and where the devotion and loyalty of the band keep the bells ringing.

After an early breakfast on Saturday we set off for Londonderry and its impressive Cathedral of St. Columb. Erin Caters and Plain Bob Royal went well, after which the local ringers joined in ringing on the middle eight. Lunch was followed by St. Patrick's, Coleraine. A drive along the Antrim coast soon brought us to the Giant's Causeway, more than usually impressive under the angry seas whipped up by the gale force winds.

Belfast was our H.Q. for the last three days, and Sunday, May 9th, was spent in and around the city. Morning service ringing was at Ballymena, where the local company were kind enough to give us the freedom of the belfry. Carrickfergus came next, a fine light eight hung in a well-designed memorial campanile. Concentration on the ringing was apt to stray at times, but if towers produce attractive ringers as well as bells, what can you do? After visiting Belfast Castle some excellent ringing was enjoyed on the Taylor ten at Dundela. After finishing the day on the six at St. Donard's, the party attended what turned out to be an inspiring Evensong for local youth organisations.

"PLAYED THE BELLS"

Methods up to Wells were rung at Drumbo on Monday, once we had found the tower. From this point to Lurgan the road was choked with traffic, and we felt we were back in England again! Christ Church contains a fine 21 cwt. eight with rather springy ropes, and the ringing attracted the local Press, anxious for details of the visit. Photos were taken and the reporter was restrained from describing how we had "played the bells" before we set off for Bangor. All went well at St. Comgall's but the tapping of the bells in the last touch of Double Norwich was carried on by loud hammering on the door, which turned out to be an irate tobaccoist, who said it was bad for trade! The afternoon was spent by the sea before finishing the day on the light eight at Hollywood.

The last full day arrived all too soon, when on Tuesday we rang on the eight at Hillsborough, in its attractive park setting, and finally at Rostrevor. In the evening we revisited Hollywood to join their practice, and gave John Lindsay a busy time collecting our subs, to join the Irish Association!

The party broke up on Wednesday, May 12th, to go its separate ways, and it was fitting perhaps that our plane back to Bristol was named "St. Finbarre" and thus kept green our memories of Cork city.

To Fred Dukes and the Irish Association, to the clergy and people of Ireland generally, and to our own organising committee, we express our sincere thanks for a wonderful time and a wonderful welcome which will be long remembered. J. B.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION'S YEAR OF CHANGE

The 86th annual general meeting of the Essex Association of Change Ringers was held in Chelmsford on Whit Monday.

The ringers' service at 11 a.m. in the Cathedral was conducted by the Provost, the Very Rev. G. E. Gordon, and the address was given by the Archdeacon of West Ham, the Ven. J. D. Wakeling. The collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised £7 13s.

The meeting followed in the Chapter House, where the Master of the Association, Mr. R. C. Heazel, welcomed visitors from other Associations, Bath and Wells, Middlesex, Suffolk and the Gloucester and Bristol.

All the officers were re-elected to serve in the coming year.

The Master, in his review of the past year, said that 1964 had been a year of change, when the Association had created separate posts of secretary and treasurer. Although there had been doubts about the wisdom of the move, it was obvious that it had been successful and he hoped that the secretary, Mr. P. W. Saltmarsh, and treasurer, Mr. P. J. Eves, would continue in office for many years to come.

Referring to service ringing, he said that there were still many towers which were silent on Sundays due to the lack of a ringing band. Quite often this was the case where the church itself was not supported. The towers which flourished generally drew their members from the choir.

The treasurer, reviewing the financial position, said that income was down on 1963, and he pointed out that a marginal increase in District membership would be sufficient to rectify this. Partly due to non-recurring expenses, the balance would be low at the end of 1965.

After the meeting, lunch was served in the Cathedral Hall by members of the Association. Various towers around Chelmsford were open during the afternoon and ringing continued until 9 p.m. P. W. L.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Although there was a reasonably good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Biggleswade District on June 12th at the two five-bell towers of Great Barford and Roxton, only five District towers were represented.

Ringings during the afternoon was on the fairly heavy five at Great Barford. At the business meeting, which followed tea in the neighbouring Anchor Hotel, Messrs. K. Fleming and P. Mehew were elected as the two District representatives on the committee to revise, if necessary, the District boundaries.

Those present then went on to Roxton, where during the evening they were joined by a good number of visitors.

Next meeting: Silsoe, July 10th. A. R. A.

"LONDON"

A CORRESPONDENT'S recent letter on the subject of composition and performance in the Royal stage of the London method recalls the increasingly frequent cases of peal-recording and method-reference that are not in accordance with what has been laid down by the Central Council as nomenclature of this method. The younger generation of the Exercise appears generally to be misinformed or uninformed on this matter, while some of the older generation ignore, or neglect to comply with, the requirements of the Central Council as to the calling of London Royal by a name indicating a particular version. It would seem not out of place, therefore, to note the relevant facts.

The London Surprise method has been considered, of course, as one of the more difficult to be rung, and for a long time the achievement of a peal in the Royal stage was regarded as the acme of performance. But, unfortunately, there was grave disagreement as to what should constitute the form of the method in this stage, and by the end of April, 1949, some 16 "versions" had been published:

Serial	Date	Author and Version
1	23 Nov., 1907	G. Lindoff—"Stepney"
2	14 Dec., 1907	H. Law James (No. 1)
3	14 Dec., 1907	E. Banks James (No. 1)
4	25 Jan., 1908	W. Catchpole
5	25 Jan., 1908	H. Law James—"Theoretical"
6	7 Mar., 1908	H. Dains
7	30 Aug., 1915	E. Banks James (No. 2)
8	19 Aug., 1921	J. A. Trollope
9	2 Sept., 1921	George Baker (No. 1)
10	2 Sept., 1921	W. Taylor (No. 1)
11	16 Sept., 1921	W. Taylor (No. 2)
12	19 Feb., 1926	George Baker (No. 2)
13	17 Feb., 1938	George Baker (No. 3)
14	21 Feb., 1949	A. York-Bramble—"U.A."
15	31 Mar., 1949	E. Weatherby
16	29 Apr., 1949	W. Taylor (No. 3)

The investigators of this method endeavoured, no doubt, to produce a pattern which "rings like London" yet conforms with the conventions of method design. But none of these versions (though some are of more merit than others) fully satisfies the requirements.

The more frequently performed version is that generally known, simply, as the "No. 3 Version." This refers to No. 13 on the list and is by the late George Baker, and sometimes referred to as the "Beddington Version," just as his "No. 2 Version" is sometimes referred to as the "Brighton Version" (No. 12 on the list). But, in common with the rest, his "No. 3 Version" has several defects including, outstandingly, a non-conforming pivot. In other words, its half-lead place is in the wrong position. In fact it is in the penultimate position (9ths) under the treble, instead of that required by conditions now laid down by the Council, on the recommendation of the Methods Committee (see "Report on Extension"—page 7, Rule 10), which requirement makes the London pivot place to be in "4ths from behind," i.e., in Royal—7ths place.

The writer's study of this method over many years led to the production of over 60 versions of the Royal stage, each with its correct pivot place, and with an approximate "Blue Line." But the conclusion eventually reached is that there is no possibility of producing a perfect form of London in the Royal stage, as an extension of the Major. These efforts culminated in the evolution of two versions which are, perhaps, of particular interest. The first appears to be the proximate form of extension to Royal, and has been "pealed" under the title of "London Royal—U.A." (It appears as No. 14 on the list above.)

The second of these "ultimate" versions is not an extension of the Major, but is evolved from the characteristics of the London method's design as exhibited in the Minor and Major stages. In other words it can be regarded as the Basic Stage of a method design, which has sub-basic forms in the Major and Minor and an extension in the Maximus. Both the Royal and the Maximus have been "pealed," the former as "Metropolitan Royal" and the latter as "Metropolis Maximus." The last-named is probably the most difficult Maximus form of "solo" method yet produced for ringing.

Coming now to the clearance of the point we raised initially—nomenclature. Any publication of a peal simply as "London Royal"—and several have been so published—has no significance whatever: (a) because, technically, there is no such thing, and (b) because several different versions have been rung, anyway. This dictum is "covered" by the Central Council in its Handbook, 1956 edition, where, on page 26, appears the following extract:

"The Council declines to recognise any method hitherto rung or published as being entitled to the designation of 'London Surprise Royal' unless the words 'Stepney Version,' 'Brighton Version,' or 'No. 3 or Beddington Version' be added."

And arising out of this is a final point. The last-named version, when nominally distinguished at all, is usually referred to simply as "No. 3 Version." This is clearly a misnomer. As the list above indicates, it is not the third but the 13th version to have been published. But it is the third version published by George Baker (see list), and as such it is entitled to be called "Baker's No. 3 Version."

A Belfry for a Modern Church

MUCH thought is being given these days to providing bells for modern churches. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have exhibited at the Church and School Equipment Exhibition a model of a steel tower frame showing how the difficulties of today can be surmounted, and it has aroused much interest.

They point out that an independent tower with integral bell frame can be constructed in timber, steel or reinforced concrete. It may be erected directly on to a concrete floor slab or raised on a stone plinth. Such a structure may be erected above an existing building such as a porch or vestry. With very little additional construction, a simple tower can be designed as part of the west wall of a new church.

While reinforced concrete undoubtedly provides the most rigid and long-lasting framing for a tower, lighter and cheaper materials are available. For example, rectangular hollow section structural steel gives a pleasing appearance, and can be protected by hot dip galvanising. Plastic coated structural steels will also be available shortly.

CANON THURLOW COMMENTS

Commending these new forms of buildings to provide rings of bells, Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, writes:

A light ring of eight bells in the key of E with a tenor of 4½ cwt. and a total weight of only 19½ cwt. requires a space only 12 feet square with subsoil strong enough to carry, say, a two-storey house. No heavily-built tower with thick walls and expensive foundations is needed to carry such a ring. The bell frame and ringers' room below can be accommodated in a scientifically designed light weight framing covered with a simple weather resisting cladding; an architect can surround and surmount it with whatever kind of structure his imagination conceives.

Church bells need never be unpleasantly noisy. This fact should be the first to be stressed when discussing whether to have them. They can be enclosed in suitable and easily constructed materials which soften the sound to any desired degree, and the openings through which their sound emerges can also be fitted with shutters, like those of an organ swell-box, which can be opened when the bells ring for worship, for weddings and for days of rejoicing, and closed when ringing for practice.

The cost of a ring of bells is small compared with that of the church complete. Upkeep is economical. Costly attention is rarely necessary, and no annual maintenance charge is needed. Bells make appropriate and lasting memorials. It would not take long to find eight people to commemorate their loved ones with bells which would ring to their honour, as well as for the wider purpose.

Bells give an exciting chance to those who wish to serve Church and community by ringing them. The art of change ringing, one of our most "English" traditions, is easily learned, yet is interesting enough to provide a lifetime's activity. It is more alive today than ever before. It is practised in the universities, in schools and amongst thousands of all ages in the British Isles, and on an increasing scale in America, Australia and elsewhere.

NEW GRANDSIRE VARIATIONS

Mr. George A. Dawson sends us the New Grandsire variations rung in the peal at Cronwell Bishop. All are from a new Grandsire Plain Lead:

Arnold, bob Antelope, single Antelope S.
Burton Joyce, bob Antelope, single Grandsire S.

Cropwell Bishop, bob Antelope, single All Saints P.L.

Carlton, bob Grandsire with 5th, 4th, 5th, single All Saints P.L.

Epperstone, bob Grandsire with 5th, 4th, 5th, single Antelope S.

Stoke Bardolph, bob Grandsire with 5th, 4th, 5th, single Grandsire S.

Gonalston, bob Grandsire, single All Saints P.L.

Lambley, bob Grandsire, single Antelope.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

North Dorset Branch

The quarterly meeting of the North Dorset Branch at Stourton on June 12th was attended by some 35 ringers, including visitors from Somerset. Before the Office, methods up to Cambridge were rung, while later in the evening the level rose to London. On the whole the striking was of a reasonable standard on the pleasant sounding six and a variety of methods was attempted. At the Guild Office the Branch was welcomed by the Rector (the Rev. P. Tambling), himself a ringer, with Mr. G. Spencer, also a ringing member, at the organ, and the hon. secretary of the Branch (the Rev R. Longridge) also taking part.

Seventeen new members were elected at the meeting, including 10 from Stourpaine tower, which becomes affiliated to the Guild, and whose ringers are keen to learn change ringing.

The general secretary of the Guild, Mr. W. C. West, was present and, in the absence of the Branch chairman and vice-chairman, was voted into the chair.

OUTINGS

LEEDS PARISH CHURCH

An outing to Lakeland is always a gamble in that the success or otherwise depends on the weather, but the optimism with which Leeds Parish Church ringers chose the Lake District on May 29th proved justified. We were favoured with brilliant sunshine and cloudless blue skies.

Seven towers were visited in all, commencing with Cartmel Priory, the most noted monastic church in Lancashire, where the bells, if not equally noted, are at least unusual.

At Flookburgh the tower is undergoing repairs, and ringing on the excellent six at present is performed amidst tubular scaffolding. Resisting the efforts of the local constabulary to direct us to the R.C. Church of the same dedication at Ulverston, the church was eventually found hidden amongst the trees and here the newly decorated ringing chamber added to the pleasure of our visit.

Kirkby Ireleth's light six almost ring themselves and one wondered whether there is any connection between the fact that entrance to the tower is up a ladder through the ceiling of the vestry and the Vicar being a ringer. It was only three miles to our next tower, Millom (Cumberland) across the Duddon Channel, but since amphibious motor coaches have not yet been invented we had perforce to go round by road, a matter of 14 miles.

After the manner of keeping the good wine to the last, our two evening towers, the only eights of the day, Broughton-in-Furness and Hawkshead, were the highlights of the day. Hawkshead's Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Lindsay, made only token resistance when told to get his coat off but we think he enjoyed our Plain Bob as much as we did. And so homewards with the knowledge that wherever we may go another year, we can never go one better than this time.

BOLSOVER, DERBYSHIRE

ACCOMPANIED by friends from Creswell, Chesterfield and Old Brampton, Scarcliffe and Staveley, the Bolsover company visited the Leominster district of Herefordshire for their annual outing. Although both the weather and the meals were, as usual, excellent, the ringing was far from our best, as at almost every tower visited some mishap or other occurred!

The first tower mishap was at Bewdley where, shortly after the 16 cwt. octave had been raised, the treble ringer missed his sally and broke the stay! Although probably due in some part to the long rope draught, it was not the ideal way to start the day's proceedings, and following a short touch of Plain and Little Bob, we hurriedly left before any more damage was done.

Suitably fortified by a good lunch in Leominster, some quite reasonable Cambridge Minor and Stedman was rung on the six at Kingsland before our stay here was also brought to an untimely end by the tenor rope starting to disintegrate in an alarming fashion!

Although the ringing on the excellent octave at Eardisland was much improved, the jinx was still with us however, with 3 and 4 insisting on crossing in Double Norwich each time it was rung. As there seemed to be a rubber stay on the tenor at Wolverley visited after tea, the tenor man had to hold his bell throughout. However, despite this and the amusement caused by one of the clock wires, which looked suspiciously like a lavatory chain, some Kent and Little Bob Minor were rung before moving on to the next tower, Castor, where unfortunately the ropes were all much too long to facilitate good ringing.

Our grateful thanks are due to the clergy and local ringers for making us so welcome, and not least to Alan Keller for organising certainly one of the most memorable Bolsover outings.

PORTSMOUTH, HANTS.—At the Cathedral, on June 14th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Mrs. L. Duguid 1, C. Webber 2, T. R. Taylor 3, G. Love 4, L. Dieuid 5, G. Gammon 6, A. A. I. Buswell (cond.) 7, A. Hoodless 8. The composition contained all singles.

A.N.Z.A.B.'s Annual Festival

THE fourth Annual Festival of Ringing of the Australian and New Zealand Association of Bellringers was held in Melbourne on June 12th to 14th—the Queen's Birthday Holiday week-end. It was decided at the meeting in Hobart last year to apply the above name to the whole week-end, covering the ringing, dinner and the Council meeting.

This year five States were represented. A contingent of 12, representing St. Mary's Basilica, Sydney, All Saints', Parramatta, and St. Jude's, Randwick, came from New South Wales; another of 11, with representatives from St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, and St. Andrew's, Walkerville, from South Australia; a third, numbering three, representing St. David's Cathedral and Holy Trinity, Hobart, arrived from Tasmania, and Brian Lawes turned up from St. George's Cathedral, Perth, to put the views of Western Australia—the first time this State has been able to send a delegate. These inter-State visitors were joined by seven from the Victorian country towers of St. Paul's, Bendigo, and City Hall and St. Peter's, Ballarat. When the 34 visitors were added to the not inconsiderable number of ringers of St. Paul's and St. Patrick's Cathedrals, Melbourne, the answer is a very full belfry, even for the spacious one at St. Paul's. At one stage 46 ringers were counted in the ringing room.

Even in a 12-bell tower such a large gathering presented problems in organising the ringing, but these were ably handled by Enid Roberts, the president of the last 12 months. She was often seen consulting a notebook in which were recorded all the ringers' names as well as the methods to be rung, and everyone got a fair share of ringing. A great variety of methods was tackled, from rounds and call changes for the beginners, through the easier standard methods up to more advanced methods for the more experienced. Ashted Surprise Major was successfully rung, though attempts at London Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal did not come off—there was just not time enough to keep at them till success was attained. Some very good touches of Grandsire Caters were rung—perhaps the best ringing of the week-end—as well as some courses of Stedman Caters and Stedman Cinques, though here as the number of bells increased, so did the uncertainty about who was dodging with whom. Most ringers at one time or another found themselves up the hill at St. Patrick's Cathedral, where the "go" is anything but easy, and the newcomers had the fun of finding out just how odd-struck some of the bells are whilst getting used to the anti-clockwise circle (and the plain green sallies).

ANNUAL COUNCIL MEETING

The dinner at the Franklin Restaurant on the Saturday evening was attended by over 60 people and was a very convivial occasion. At the Council meeting, which began as soon as the eating had finished, the election of officers produced only one change—and that at the top. Hervey Bagot was elected the president for the ensuing year. The other officers, who carry on from last year, are: Graeme Heyes, secretary, with Anne Cowling as his assistant; Ken Minchinton, treasurer; and Bill Pitcher, the peal secretary and editor of "Ringing Towers." Philip Gray was elected A.N.Z.A.B.'s representative on the Central Council for the next three years.

The treasurer's report showed that the financial position is still sound and "The Ringing Towers" report revealed a steady increase in subscriptions and a profit of nearly £3. Under special business, the Badge Committee presented two rather similar designs and it looks as though we shall eventually get a small, neat badge with embossed lettering and no colour. Bill Pitcher told the meeting of the present position of the Great Adventure II plans, pointing out that it was difficult to make final detailed suggestions until the exact number of the party was known. It appeared that almost all towers were available and the ringers ready to spare no pains to make the visitors' stay as enjoyable as possible.

A few queries about what certain clauses in the Constitution really mean presented Madam President with some problems in chairmanship to which she proved more than equal. A long time was spent on deciding whether or not to hold the next Festival of Ringing in New Zealand. A proposed itinerary of a two weeks' tour was presented and Ken Minchinton told the meeting that for a party of 30 the cost would be £150 per head; for a party of 20, about £225. It was finally resolved that the 1966 Festival would not be in New Zealand, and Sydney was finally chosen.

The entertainment on the Sunday evening consisted of a progressive dinner. Nearly everyone turned up at Hervey Bagot's flat for sherry and soup, after which a convoy of 12 cars, marshalled and led by Jack Roper, proceeded in state to the Roper household for the main course and then drove back to Ken Minchinton's for sweets and coffee. Here handbells made their inevitable appearance and Bill Pitcher showed a colour film of how "Ringing Towers" is produced, as well as some scenes of ringing occasions in Adelaide and of the last Festival in Hobart.

On Monday morning an attempted quarter peal of Double Norwich was brought round at 1,024 changes because of shortage of time, and between 50 and 60 people set out for the Belgrave Picnic Park in the nearby Dandenong Ranges for a barbecue lunch. A good appetite, glorious weather, the fresh air, a walk in the sun, an almost tame kookaburra investigating the chop bones, the comradeship, the talk and the laughter made this a most satisfying conclusion to another wonderful ringing week-end. The Victorian Branch is to be congratulated on a fine piece of organisation. W. B. P.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The Mansfield District meeting at Selston on May 22nd included the eliminating round for the Crawford Cup. The contest was very competently judged by Mr. and Mrs. C. Reed, of Balderton. Newark, and the results were as follows: 1 Warsop (Plain Bob Minor) 684 faults; 2 Mansfield (Plain Bob Minor) 1124; 3 Kirkby-in-Ashfield (Plain Bob Doubles) 1451.

Mr. F. Adcock, deputising for the District chairman, presided at a short business meeting when Messrs. S. Harpham, D. Hutchinson and G. Noon (all of Selston) were elected members. Mr. H. Flint thanked the Vicar (the Rev. M. Gee) for conducting the service, those who prepared tea and the local members.

Next meeting: July 24th, Teversall, with Sutton-in-Ashfield.

THE LADIES' GUILD

South Wales District

The spring meeting of the South Wales District at Llandaff Cathedral was a great occasion for Mrs. John Lyes (née Miss Dilly Hulbert). On behalf of the members the vice-president (Mrs. Catherine Coles) presented her with a wedding gift of a matching stainless steel butter dish and toast rack. Mrs. Lyes expressed her delighted surprise with the gift and appreciation of the members' good wishes on the occasion of her marriage.

Mr. Iolo Davies expressed the thanks of the company to Miss Penny Welch and her helpers for the excellent tea. New members elected were Mrs. Jennifer Aldridge and Miss Ann Willetts (Llandaff). Miss Penelope Bounds (Llanblethian) and Mrs. Heather Fisher (Bedwellty).

Members and friends afterwards attended a very beautiful Evensong in the Cathedral. Ringing continued during the evening.

Next meeting: October 23rd, Bridgend (provisional) with Monmouth as an alternative.

DURHAM UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

The annual general meeting of the Durham University Society was held in the Union Debating Chamber on May 10th. The following officers were elected for the academic year 1965-66: Master, Mr. John O. Freeman; secretary, Miss Pauline Kyme; treasurer, Mr. Malcolm Johnson.

The retiring Master reported that the request to open June Week Celebrations with a quarter peal on the Cathedral bells had been turned down by the Chapter, as in their opinion it was not safe to ring on Mondays. The Society decided that the tower must be strengthened for ringing by the Holy Spirit only on Sundays, and that we would attempt a handbell peal in a purf on the river instead.

First peal certificates were presented to six members by the new Master. He was then carried, shoulder high, to the nearest alehouse, where he was forced to purchase the traditional round for the entire Society!

SUFFOLK RINGERS VISIT NORTHAMPTON

A coachload of ringers and friends drawn from various parts of Suffolk spent a most enjoyable day in Northamptonshire on May 29th. We broke the journey at St. Neots, both to refresh ourselves after an early start and to ring at the fine-looking church. It is perhaps ironic that a supposedly helpful rope guide appears to be the chief cause of the tenor's awkwardness here. Most of us agreed that the Restoration Appeal for these bells is both necessary and deserving of support.

Orchester, our second tower, has a fine eight, which we put to good use before going on to Wellingborough for lunch and thereafter to Moulton, where the seventh and tenor were, unfortunately, out of order. We found the front six very worthwhile and hope to return to ring the full eight at a future date. Welford before tea, and Hazelbech after, were, we felt, a fine and suitable climax to a good outing. Our thanks to all incumbents and tower captains concerned, and to Bob Lester for organising yet another fine outing. L. R. P.

Letters to the Editor

RANDOM THOUGHTS ON DOUBLES

Dear Sir,—I have studied Mr. Roy H. Jones' reply (page 344) to my inquiry about the Doubles Collection, in particular Folke and Cadbury, for which I thank him. His letter clarifies the point raised satisfactorily. However, I still do not feel it is desirable to have an alternative name for a method when, due to using a certain observation bell and starting in the middle of a bob, a different start to the normal "plain course" start is necessary to produce a full six-score; in the first place nearly all the names in the lists published last summer will have to have an alternative name provided for a certain calling with a particular observation bell (usually 2 or 5), which will be very confusing; and secondly, while it is general and useful practice to use a new name when a special call is used for producing the 120 instead of the one usually associated with the method, the name being the easiest distinguishing feature for the record, it is really a step further to use yet another name when a particular observation bell is used while still adapting the same "plain course" and "special call" . . . i.e. Folke is really "Kennington" (5th obs.) and it is confusing to call it anything else but "Kennington"; when you ring Folke or Kennington you are ringing Plain Bob with bobs effected in the way that is more usually associated with Reverse Canterbury, so two names are confusing; you are following the same principle whether you have 5th obs. and start off Reverse Canterbury, or some other obs. bell and start off Plain Bob.

Apart from this, Roy Jones makes a good point when stating that the name refers to a "composition"; this is not unusual outside of Doubles, but a lot of ideas applicable to higher numbers should not be applied to five-bell ringing where the limitations of only having five require all the scope possible to achieve variety and interest. I suppose it could be said that the general idea of Doubles ringing with the treble in the hunt and four leads to the course boils down to combining a number of different works above or below the treble in a sequence that produces a true 120. Some of these combinations, e.g. Original below treble with Plain Bob above the treble, have through advantageous qualities and familiar usage, come to be accepted as the well known "individual plain course methods" as I think the phrase has it, while others, such as Reverse St. Bartholomew (a plain course made up of a succession of Grandsire Singles) have appeared to be hybrids. If, however, by some fluke, Grandsire had never been rung in the old days chance would have had it that Reverse St. Bartholomew became the well known "method" and Grandsire the hybrid."

In an effort "for the benefit of the Doubles ringer's soul" and to produce some sort of system out of chaos, the "C.C. Doubles Collection" tried to stick to certain principles and qualities in including their methods (many of which are good, useful ones, like St. Vedast, which would probably not have been practised had they not been published), but actual practice in five-bell towers as a glance at the peal and quarter peal columns shows. Does anything but confine itself to the limited field of the "C.C. Collection," and Roy Jones and Geoffrey K. Dodd have made a noble effort to supplement the lack of printed knowledge of what has been and is being rung in this field. The C.C. have "ridden their hobby horse to the death" when, in order to avoid using a bob that was "derived from another method," abortions like the bob suggested for some of the slow course methods (away from the treble's lead and asymmetrical to it) are advocated. However, the thing goes too far the other way in concoctions like Wychbold Supreme (page 514 of "The Ringing World" 1964), where no less than four different types of lead are used in one six-score, and the "plain course" method only appears on two further occasions out of a possible twelve after the go-off (hardly a case for the C.C. diehard referring to it as "120 Plain Bob (Wychbold Supreme Variation)."

No doubt time will sort the wheat from the chaff in this wide field, but there is much information still to be collected and fields to explore, and further publications like those of last summer to clarify matters can only be regarded as eminently useful.—Yours sincerely,

DEREK P. JONES.

Staplehill, Burton-on-Trent.

"A HANDBOOK OF GRANDSIRE CATERS"

Dear Sir,—Mr. Colin A. Lewis, of University College, Dublin, has been kind enough to point out one or two discrepancies in the above Central Council publication.

On page 12 the last three notes should read:

"89 implies a bob at the fifth lead, causing 8 and 9 to dodge behind."

"98 implies a bob at the fifth lead, causing 9 and 8 to dodge behind."

"78 implies a bob at the sixth lead, etc."

These directions apply, of course, to the Tittum and Handstroke Home positions and are correctly tabulated on page 10. There should therefore be no serious misunderstanding. Nevertheless, the errors are due entirely to my lack of care, and failure to adjust the mistakes when I read the proofs. And I trust I have not added to the difficulties of a notation already sufficiently confusing.—Yours sincerely,

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

Warminster.

OBITUARY

MR. CHARLES BUTTON

The passing of Mr. Charles Button, of Kelvedon, who died at St. Mary's Hospital, Colchester, on June 4th, aged 73 years, was briefly reported in our last issue.

Born in Suffolk, he attended Framlingham Grammar School. He worked at Leiston and learned his ringing in that area. In the late 1920's "Charlie" emigrated to Kelvedon on being employed by the Essex Steam Rolling Association up to a few years before his death.

St. Mary's, Kelvedon, was his tower from then on, and although not a prolific peal ringer, he could always be relied upon as a regular Sunday service ringer and to help with bell maintenance. A few years back the Essex Association conferred on him life membership.

Known throughout Essex and Suffolk, he will be remembered and missed by hundreds. A. R. E.

MR. JOHN WHEADON

Many ringers in Kent will have learned with regret of the death at Wilmslow, Cheshire, where he lived with his son, of Mr. John Wheadon, formerly of Dartford, at the age of 93.

Although born in London (in a house on the site of which County Hall now stands), he lived in Kent for most of his life, learning to ring at the village of Brenchley, where a board in the belfry records a 720 of Bob Minor in 1896, the first by all and by a local band. He joined the band at Dartford in 1903 and there rang his first peal in August, 1905. Forty-five years later he became the first to take part in 100 peals rung on Dartford bells, and he also rang 68 at Crayford. Altogether his total was 365, if I am right in thinking his last peal to have been one in three Minor methods at Wilmslow to celebrate his 82nd birthday, among them an 11,008 of Double Norwich at Erith, one of Bob Major at Deptford in 1952 by a band of octogenarians, of whom he was the last survivor—three others beside himself living into the 90's—and nearly 100 peals of Stedman Triples.

"Jack" Wheadon would not have regarded himself as an outstanding ringer but he was a keen and loyal member of the Dartford band for half a century apart from a short break in the 1920's, when he returned to Brenchley. The Exercise is also greatly in his debt in three ways. It was his firm attitude, to the extent of threatening the authorities with legal action, that prevented money raised for the restoration of Dartford bells being diverted, after the 1914-18 war, to other church purposes; and he was responsible for reproducing on a board now hanging in the belfry there the record of the first peal on the bells in 1749, which was formerly painted on the wall and destroyed when organ blowing apparatus was installed in the belfry. The third is of more general interest. In June, 1921, a report in "The Ringing World" of an augmentation in Bispham, Lancs, credited Messrs. Mears and Stainbank with the invention of clapper buffers, and the following week the late Mr. A. A. Hughes wrote to say that "the principle was originated by Mr. Wheadon sen., the much respected captain of the Dartford ringers. Mr. Wheadon first applied the idea to the old tenor at Dartford."

He subsequently gave me permission to protect and adopt the idea in a slightly different form."

Mr. Wheadon's departure from Kent was greatly regretted but for as long as he was able he kept up his ringing at Wilmslow, where he was much respected by the ringers of the area. E. A. B.

MR. HARRY HODSON

The passing of Mr. Harry Hodson is a great loss to his fellow ringers at St. Michael's, Stone, and also the North Staffs Association, who will miss his pleasant company.

A member of an old St. Michael's family, Harry had been a ringer at the Parish Church for 45 years and was leader for 25 years before he retired. He had been unable to be an active ringer for the past 12 months due to ill-health. He was employed by Joulé's Brewery in the estate department and had worked there ever since the war.

The bells were rung half-muffled in tribute before and after the funeral service on June 16th. The ringers of St. Michael's offer their condolences to Mrs. Ada Hodson and family and gratefully acknowledge their indebtedness to Harry for his devoted service to God in the belfry. A. E. P.

ST. JOHN-THE-DIVINE, LEICESTER

Four new towers in the S.W. Midlands were sampled by the St. John-the-Divine, Leicester, party during their outing on May 8th. The ring of ten at Bromsgrove seemed to have been spoilt by the addition of two trebles, and ringing was mainly on the eight and included Cambridge Major.

Two hours were spent at Hereford. At the Cathedral our ringing was hampered by the loss of view around the circle and by the wooden beams, but nevertheless a half course of Cambridge Royal was rung. The other towers visited were Ledbury and Upton-on-Severn. Tea was taken at Tewkesbury and on the homeward journey a stop was made at Colehill.

Tower captains who met us, Messrs. S. Harrison, B. Brown and J. E. Cooke are thanked for their help in enlivening the party. G. W. M.

500 MILES AND MANY CHANGES

WITH a sense of great expectation, a party of ringers and friends set out from Rougham, Suffolk, on June 18th, on a unique outing planned by Mr. Leslie Wright, of Bury St. Edmunds.

The coach left punctually at 1 p.m. and throughout the 221 miles to Yeovil, Somerset, the weather was perfect. The Highland Guest House, where we were to spend two nights, was reached at 9.15, where we had a comfortable night's rest.

On Saturday morning the coach left at 8.30, picking up five of the party at Hardington Mandeville, where they had spent the night, and reached the first tower at Merriott at 9 a.m. A glorious ring of six was enjoyed in a beautifully kept belfry. Mr. Robinson and his daughter Elizabeth—a keen ringer of 11—were most helpful. Unfortunately it rained heavily as the bells pealed out over Crewkerne. Dr. Penny, who had dashed away from a busy surgery, was there to greet the ringers. The tiny village of Broadwindsor, tucked away in the hills, followed. Mr. Case, the captain, welcomed us and everyone enjoyed the ringing.

Up hill and down dale brought us to Lyme Regis. Lunch was all ready at the Golden Cap Restaurant and Mr. Cuthbert Powell met the ringers at the Parish Church tower. We liked the bells but felt we did not do justice to them. The coast road brought us to Bridport, where Mr. L. Follett was at the Parish Church awaiting our arrival. While the bells were good, the ropes were new and this made ringing difficult. At Beaminster—a run of eight miles from Bridport—a climb of 50 steps to the belfry made the ringing even more enjoyable. . . a lovely eight and a welcome from Mr. A. T. Neech. After tea came Maiden Newton's church, partly Saxon, partly Norman and partly Gothic. Mr. A. Scott met us, but as the belfry floor was weak only six could stand at a time. Evershot—a very beautiful village on the Earl of Ilchester's estate—has some very good bells of a lovely tone. The last call was Thornford, near Sherborne, where the font here occupies the centre of the belfry—perhaps to remind ringers of their baptismal vows. The Rector, who met us, permitted ringing to continue until 9.15. Daylight was beginning to fade as the coach once more drew into the car park of the Highlands Guest House.

It was the wish of the Rougham band to see the last resting place of their former Rector, the Rev. Paul Greaves, who had come to them from Hardington Mandeville, and so on Sunday morning the ringers from Suffolk joined with those of Hardington Mandeville in pealing out the clarion call to worship and, as the Rector stressed later, in his sermon, join in that vital ministry of Christ's Church to which He calls us.

The Rougham ringers thank all incumbents, tower secretaries and captains for the help so willingly given to make the outing the great success it was.

West Sussex Ringers' First Spring Tour, 1965

OVER the past few years the three West Sussex towers — Billingshurst, Warnham and Itchingfield — have been holding three special joint practices a month in addition to their individual weekly practices. This has paid dividends both in the standard of ringing and socially, and it was decided to arrange a week's ringing holiday. David D. Smith was entrusted with the itinerary, Chris Godfrey the transport and accommodation, and W. Leslie Weller and George Francis were the obvious Ringing Masters.

Accordingly, six well-laden cars containing 20 people set out early on April 24th heading towards Whitchurch, Shropshire. En route they visited Balcote Farm, Banbury, where they had difficulty in controlling Mr. Jarvis' extremely light ten. Further on, the tens at Chilvers Coton, Tamworth and Lichfield Cathedral were more to their taste although true justice was not done at Lichfield due to relative inexperience. An object of the tour was to improve ten-bell ringing, as Sussex unfortunately has only three ten-bell towers and no twelves. This aim was achieved, as by the end of the week 13 tens and four twelves had been visited.

On arrival at Whitchurch we found the hotel for the week, the Dodington Lodge, absolutely ideal for a ringing holiday, both for the excellence of meals and the tolerance shown for the inevitable high spirits late at night by the younger members.

LIVERPOOL DISAPPOINTMENT

Sunday can be a difficult day on tours, but when 16 ringers presented themselves unannounced to ring the fine ten at Wrexham for morning service the local ringers gave them an exceptionally warm welcome. Much encouraged, the party pressed on to Liverpool, confident that their homework on Beatles' records would overcome any language difficulties. The Cathedral bells were not available but a compromise was the 12 at Our Lady and St. Nicholas', Piere Head for Evensong.

The tour proper, averaging eight or nine towers a day, started on Monday with Farnold and Pulford. A quarter of Cambridge was lost at Eccleston; this was the only attempt during the week, as it caused complications for the dozen not ringing. Very changeable weather was experienced in the Wirral and the day finished amid wind and rain at St. Mary-Without-the-Walls, Chester.

Tuesday commenced at Tarporley, followed by St. Chad's, Over, where some Bristol went well; no doubt the bells themselves remember the method well from the long length rung in 1945. Later the party were privileged to ring with two members of the record-breaking band at Dunham Massey and Christ Church, Macclesfield, two contrasting tens. After the light bells of St. Peter's, Macclesfield, the twelve at St. Michael's were sampled but the practice night ringing was disappointing after the high standard at Christ Church.

MAGNIFICENCE OF ST. CHAD'S

Despite navigational difficulties, resulting in piecemeal arrival at Cheadle (R.C.), Alton and St. Mary's, Stafford, everybody had a ring. Of the two towers at Bridgnorth, St. Leonard's can be remembered for the steady music of the bells. Distances counted for little that Wednesday, and after a long fast haul to Shrewsbury the ten at St. Mary's were enjoyed. But all the previous towers paled into insignificance when compared to the magnificent twelve at St. Chad's. The easy "go" of the bells belied their weight, and Leslie Weller turned the 39½ cwt. tenor in for a very nice course of Bristol Major. Everybody enjoyed some very satisfactory twelve-bell ringing and appreciated the welcome given by the local ringers.

On Thursday it was a relief not to drive so far. The pleasant ten at Crewe was sandwiched between Nantwich and Barthomley, followed by Audley, Sandbach and Congleton, where David Smith gave an intimate and exclusive interview to a stunning female reporter. The ten at Leek were a bit of a handful but the ringing improved at St. Peter's, Stoke-on-Trent and St. Giles', Newcastle-under-Lyme.

HORSESHOE PASS

En route to North Wales on Friday the party visited Oswestry, whose enormous old tower was like a museum of old ringing prints and pictures and bric-a-brac. To reach Llangollen, Chris Godfrey's car took a supposedly short cut through the mountains, but gradients of 1 in 3½ and cloudy mist ensured that the less adventurous drivers got there first. By midday the sun broke through strongly and an enjoyable couple of hours was spent over a picnic lunch at Horseshoe Pass. Ringing followed at Rhyl, Buckley and Gresford and a course of Lincoln at Malpas was abruptly halted with Mike Wake smothered in yards of rope.

On the last full day some Saturday traffic delays occurred but times were maintained at Hodnet, Wellington and the ten at Coalbrookdale, where some of the best ringing of the tour was had. After a further delay at Madeley due to a funeral it was a pleasure to ring for a wedding at Shifnal, with a good rise in peal as the service finished. The programme ended with some ringing on the very musical bells at Market Drayton, culminating in a well-struck course of London Major.

Before leaving on Sunday most of the party rang for Matins at Whitchurch, but Leslie, George, Eddie, David and Chris returned to Liverpool for the memorable experience of ringing the heaviest ring of bells in the world.

So ended their first spring tour; already plans were being formulated for next year's sequel. Thanks are due to everyone involved in a most successful and enjoyable holiday, not forgetting the staff at the hotel and its proprietor, Mrs. G. C. Still.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Visitors from Birmingham and Northants were among the 30-odd ringers attending the joint meeting of the Bingham and Nottingham Districts at Willoughby-on-the-Wolds on the sunny afternoon of June 12th. The Rector (the Rev. A. B. Hayward) conducted the service with his son as organist. Tea was a picnic on Wysall Rectory lawn and was much appreciated by the many youngsters present.

The forthcoming programme was reviewed as follows: July, Lowdham; August, Whetton; September, Colston Bassett and Melton District; October, Radcliffe-on-Trent and Ladies' Guild. The District's annual dinner will be at Whetton on December 10th. Evening ringing was at Willoughby and Wymeswold.

OUTING

MANCHESTER RINGERS IN YORKSHIRE

Ringers from Manchester Cathedral and Birch-in-Rusholme joined forces for their annual outing on May 28th into Yorkshire. Pleasant Pennine scenery was traversed on the long run to St. Giles', Pontefract. Good touches of Double Norwich Court Bob Major and Stedman Caters were rung on the mellow toned light ten.

Beverley Minster was reached half an hour ahead of schedule. In spite of the difficulty in handling, due to the long draught, reasonable touches were brought round. The seven-ton Bourdon bell, Great John, was also a source of interest. The good Taylor octave at Howden Minster replaced an earlier ring destroyed by fire in 1931, and ringing here started with a well-struck touch of Kent Major.

Fortified by a steak tea, the party tackled the ascent of 137 steps to the ringing chamber of St. George's, Doncaster. We did not really do justice to the fine 30 cwt. octave. Manchester was reached about 10.30 p.m. Our thanks are due to Dorothy Fearnheugh and Alan Ward for making the arrangements for this successful outing.

A. G. K.

MAULDEN NOT DEPRESSED BY COACH BREAKDOWN

St. Mary's, Maulden, had their annual outing on June 19th and, with the usual friends and visiting ringers from several other Bedfordshire towers, they visited the charming county of Derbyshire. An ambitious programme had been planned and the punctuality of all enabled the party to get away to a prompt start—an organiser's dream!

Duffield, some 80 miles distant, was reached at the scheduled time, 9.30, and the bells were soon going to Grandsire Caters and Yorkshire Royal. At Youlgreave, some delay occurred before gaining admittance to the massive tower but the heavy eight were put to good use, after which came a very enjoyable drive through some of Derbyshire's most lovely scenery to Chesterfield, where, under the famous crooked spire, the excellent ring of ten provided a most satisfactory conclusion to the morning's programme.

Ringing and lunch gave us a scheduled stay of two hours at Chesterfield and our driver took this opportunity to get some repairs done to the coach, which during the journey had shown a tendency to indulge in "rock-n-roll" capers, in fact at times it shook so violently and made such an appalling din, that one passenger was in favour of awarding it the M.B.E. on the spot, or was it the N.B.G.?

The inevitable delay in obtaining the necessary spare parts resulted in the enforced abandonment of the entire afternoon's programme, though we were fortunate in getting permission to ring at Chesterfield for a further period, which did at least satisfy, or partially satisfy, the enthusiasm of the strong ringing party, though nothing could repay the organiser for the care and patience he had bestowed on the task of arranging that part of the programme which could not be carried out. The long wait was a little trying but the whole party simply refused to let such an incident depress their spirits and, indeed, such is the excellence of the beer provided in this part of the country that some even expressed the view that the repair job had been unduly hurried! Eventually the coach reappeared, as good as new and, after a trial run, we all embarked for the long journey home, the miles being shortened considerably by some enthusiastic singing by certain members of the party possessing strong vocal chords and no small musical ability.

Thanks are sincerely given for the privilege of ringing on bells whose sweet music floats over the hills and dales of this northern paradise, for the joy of meeting old friends, for the fine organising of Keith Fleming and for a safe and happy return from a trip which could have proved disastrous.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

St. Albans District

The beautiful weather encouraged ringers to turn up at St. Michael's, St. Albans, for the meeting on June 19th. Some good ringing ranging from rounds to Lincolnshire and London was enjoyed before the service. When the choir practice eventually finished, the service was held, followed by tea in the hall.

At the business meeting Mr. A. Smith, of Wheathampstead, was elected a member. It was announced that the District outing to Guildford was on September 18th, and the secretary, Roger Brown, requested names as soon as possible, August 21st being the latest date. A ringing course had been arranged for November 20th at Harpenden, followed by an evening meeting.

Under any other business it was announced that a cricket match had been arranged against the Western District on August 28th.

July meeting: Kimpton.

March Belles Awed by Tenor

NO BATS HERE! The bevy of belles seen looking at the comely proportions of March St. Wendreda's tenor bell are the town's latest recruits to the art of campanology. Seven years ago a team of lassies rang at March—to quarter peal standard—until work, college and marriage removed them to other parts.

The smiling girls pictured above are all pupils at March High School, and they display considerable enthusiasm for the art with its various aspects in a musical and mathematical sense.

This renewed interest in bellringing activities is most gratifying to March bellringers, particularly Mr. Trevor A. Bevis, for these youngsters bring his personal tally of learners at St. Wendreda's to almost 100 over the past 12 years.

Mr. Bevis has the valuable backing of senior ringers Mr. W. Moore, Mr. A. Palmer, Mr. P. Langton, Mr. D. Feek and Mr. M. Hart. March has always been well favoured in successful recruiting. Despite a dearth of recruits in some parts of the Elv diocese, St. Wendreda's has, over the past decade, maintained a strength of at least 12 ringers to six bells. Just now they total 19, "but," says Mr. Bevis, "it's as well they do not all attend at once!" The learners comprise several young lads.

At practice on Mondays average attendance is 14. The pupils are divided into two sections: one section is taught the rudiments of bell control while the other section occupies a corner of the church practising handbell ringing and studying theory of change ringing. Several learners are becoming quite adept at both, which is remarkable considering the short length of time some have spent at the tower. "In fact," says Mr. Bevis, "we are in the rather unusual position of young people ringing changes double-handed on handbells, before they are adept at ringing tower bells!"

These sessions are followed by an hour's general ringing. The instructor tells us that the idea is not merely to introduce pupils quickly to the art but, more important, to eliminate too much sitting around and allowing boredom to affect them. "Good raw material can be easily lost that way," he says. Wide use is also made of Central Council publications, each learner possessing his or her copy of suitable literature.

The bells are rung regularly on both mornings and evenings of Sundays, and occasionally quarter peals materialise (about 40 of these, from Plain Bob to Cambridge, have been rung on the bells, usually on Sundays, by March ringers in recent years). A few years ago the church team also scored a 5,040 on the bells, the first by a March team since 1819.

"Ringing tours are considered a useful means of stimulating interest," says Mr. Bevis, who adds that loyalty and sense of duty are expected of everyone concerned. "We feel we have a reputation to maintain," he says, adding, "a great sense of brotherhood prevails here, and it is hoped this will continue for a long time."

This Cambridgeshire bellringing society is the oldest organisation in March district, teams of ringers having continued unbroken—except for the war years—since 1800. Oldest belfry records actually date back to the mid-16th century, when the ringers received ale for special exertions!

MRS. ALICE FOSTER

With sorrow, we record the death of Mrs. Alice Foster, a ringer of St. Mary's, Orston, Notts. Mrs. Foster was the wife of the local tower captain, Mr. A. Foster, and assisted along with her family in the service ringing until prevented by a long period of ill-health. The funeral service, held at St. Mary's on June 8th, was followed by cremation at Wilford Hill, Nottingham. Members of the Birmingham District rang the bells half-muffled.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The dedication should be All Hallows', Tottenham, and not as printed, for the peal of Plain Bob Major on page 439.

The eight bells at St. Margaret's, Lee Terrace, Blackheath, have been recast and are now a chime of 16, writes a disappointed visitor.

Miss Frances Dodds, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Dodds, rang her first peal on June 12th at Sandridge. Her father reports that Frances rang very well and her 2 hr. 34 min. test only produced one minute blister.

Would the ringer from Leicester who wrote to the Vicar of Heavitree, Exeter, requesting permission to ring on Heavitree bells from 10.30 to 11.30 on July 9th please contact Mr. W. Mallett, of 61, Butts Road, Heavitree, stating who the visiting ringers are who wish to ring on this date.

Miss Susan Restall, writes Mr. Alan A. J. Buswell, deserves to be congratulated on her first quarter peal at Church Oakley on June 20th. She has only been ringing a very short time, and not being a competent handler, the rope knocked her glasses off. She carried on, seeing the rope as only a blur. Her striking was excellent.

From Nottingham we hear of a commendable example of rapid progress and application at Mundella Grammar School. A quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles was rung on handbells on June 6th in which the conductor had two weeks' practice and the ringer of 5-6 three! Neither is yet able to handle a church bell. The band was: C. P. Starbuck (conductor) 1-2, S. Humphrey 3-4, P. Church 5-6. It was the first quarter "in hand" for all the band.

A BLEWURY SILVER WEDDING

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Corderoy on their silver wedding, which was appropriately celebrated by a peal of Triples on Blewbury bells. The peal enabled Claude to complete the circle of the tower. A member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild since 1931, he is at present the able secretary and treasurer of the North Berks Branch.

Also taking part in the peal was Mr. A. H. Webb, the Branch Ringing Master, who, although he lives in the next village, was ringing his first peal at Blewbury for nearly 40 years. At the conclusion of the peal the band were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Corderoy at their home.

HEAVITREE, EXETER

The ringers of Heavitree Parish Church on June 12th held their annual outing and visited the towers of Kingsteignton (8), Totnes (8), Ashburton (8) and Bovey Tracey (8). Tea was taken at Totnes, which was kindly provided by the Vicar and churchwardens of Heavitree, and we were met at Totnes by Preb. E. Royle, Vicar of Heavitree. Mr. C. Glass, aged 91, past Ringing Master of the tower for 50 years, joined the ringers and rang at Bovey Tracey.

Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman and Erin Triples, Plain Bob and Grandsire Major, Little Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major. Votes of thanks were accorded to Mr. G. Skinner, secretary, who arranged the outing.

ON GUARD DURING PEAL

There are fewer better towers for peal ringing than St. Mary's, Send, Surrey, as there are only three houses near the church. One of the occupants, however, is well known for his endeavours to try to stop peals. When the peal attempt was made on June 16th the Send captain, Mr. Sidney Smith, was kind enough to cycle to the church in driving rain and stay throughout the peal so that he could ward off the intruder if necessary. The band were most grateful. The bells were dedicated 17 years ago on June 16th, also a Wednesday, and heavy rain also fell on that day.

HIS 20th BIRTHDAY

Mr. David Eames has a ringing achievement to commemorate his 20th birthday, when he turned in the 28 cwt. tenor at Hoar Cross. When only 15, he rang this bell as a cover to a peal of Doubles and was then the youngest to peal it; probably he is the youngest to have turned the bell in to a peal. He also gave a competent performance at Beverley, moving the ringing along at a bright pace right to the end on these fine sounding but none-too-easy bells.

GROTON BOYS AT GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL

Eight boys from Groton School, Massachusetts, U.S.A., attended the practice at Guildford Cathedral on June 25th. They had flown the Atlantic that day, and were brought by Mr. Frank Price. Their ringing was confined to rounds, which they rang very well. The practice was attended by some 40 ringers and concluded with a touch of London Surprise Royal.

YORKSHIRE WERE THERE

The Yorkshire Association were represented at the Central Council meeting at Northampton by Messrs. Vernon Bottomley, Eric Critchley and Wilfrid Moreton. We apologise for their omission from our report — their names were in the copy sent to the printers.

2,000 MILES JAUNT

Big distances are travelled to attend the A.N.Z.A.B. Festival of Ringing, which this year was held at Melbourne. A jaunt of some 2,000 miles there and 2,000 miles back (even it is combined with annual holidays) is not bad just to attend a ringing meeting. This is what Brian Lawes, from Western Australia, did, writes Bill Pitcher.

TOO MUCH EXERCISE

Was it through too much exercise that the Friends of the Exercise rang a peal on Mr. Frank D. Mack's miniature bells seated? At any rate they think they have gained distinction by being the first band to ring a peal on tower bells being seated, and that on the lightest ring of bells in the world.

COVERING THE U.K. AND EIRE

The peal of London Surprise Royal (No. 3 Version) at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, enabled three of the band to ring a peal of the method in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, and to have rung the first peal in the method in Wales, Scotland and Ireland. They are Basil Jones, C. Kenneth Lewis and John Worth.

FIRST VISIT

The new band from St. Katharine's, Merstham, Surrey, ventured outside their own tower for the first time on June 16th and joined the practice at St. Mary's, Reigate, at the invitation of Mr. A. T. Shelton. Not only did the youngsters have their first experience of ten-bell ringing but members of the old Merstham band rang Grandsire Triples with the help of the Reigate and Horley ringers. Plain courses of Grandsire Caters were also achieved.

"JACKPOT" AFTER PEAL

The peal rung at All Saints', Newport, Mon. on June 19th is undoubtedly the first of Stedman Triples for many years by a band born and bred in Monmouthshire. That it was rung at the fifth attempt and with considerable conviction is no doubt largely due to the attractive liquid reward offered by a prominent member of the Ladies' Guild. An expensive way, perhaps, of ensuring success, but one which paid handsome dividends in the social evening enjoyed afterwards, and for which the male members of the band extend grateful thanks.
D. G. C.

FIRST PEAL AT HOLLOWAY

We regret that our correspondent was misinformed regarding the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Turner. He writes that the first peal at Holloway was one of Kent Treble Bob Major rung in 1880 by the Society of Cumberland Youths, which was before he was born. The peal in 1909 was the first by a local band.

A CENTENARY AT SOUTH TOTTENHAM

The Ancient Society of College Youths are joining in the centenary celebrations of the opening of the back six bells at St. Ann's Church, South Tottenham, on Saturday, July 3rd. Ringing will take place between 3 and 5 p.m., when a meeting of the Ancient Society of College Youths will be held in the tower. A shortened form of Evensong will be conducted at 5 p.m., to be followed by a high tea in the new hall of the Day School at 6 p.m.

When St. Ann's Church was consecrated on July 29th, 1618, there was only one bell, weighing about six cwt., in the steeple, and this served the dual purpose of being the hour bell for the clock as well as the service bell calling the people to divine worship. In 1865 Mr. Fowler Newsam, the patron and benefactor, placed an order with the Whitechapel Bell Foundry for a ring of six bells, and in June of that year they were hoisted into the belfry. He arranged that the bells should be opened on July 3rd, 1865, with the first ringing at 8 a.m., when the Ancient Society of College Youths, at his invitation, rang 720 Plain Bob Minor.

In 1903 the first peal on the bells was rung — 5,040 changes in five methods. The strange fact remains that although there was a first-class peal band at All Hallows', Tottenham, at that time, there is no record of them ever having visited St. Ann's.

About the turn of the century the Ringrose family took over the belfry and the bells were rung regularly using simple methods up to and during the First World War years. A photograph in the tower shows Mr. Ringrose and his team of lady ringers who rang the bells during the years 1914-18. The outbreak of the Second World War broke up the local band and the tower perforce became neglected and silent.

In 1948 Mr. Ernest J. Rowe "discovered" the tower, and with the active support and encouragement of the Vicar, the Rev. F. J. Finch, efforts were made to re-form the company with the help of the infant University of London Society. Ringing was maintained for some years, being mainly confined to Grandsire Doubles and Plain Bob. The big advance took place in 1955, when Brian Bladon joined the tower with his gift of instruction. Quarter peals were started, and 35 quarter peals were rung in that year. During 1956 some 200 different Doubles and Minor methods were practised.

There was considerable pressure over the years to augment the bells from six to eight. The Church Council had opened a bell fund but it was a slow and uphill task. Things took a new turn when the brothers Edward and Albert Mills left a generous legacy of £400 towards the cost of the new treble bells, and with a grant of £100 from the Barron Bell Trust the total amount needed was available.

The six original bells were sent to the foundry for scaling and retuning and the eight bells were installed and rung for the first time on November 2nd, 1957. Since then the bells have been rung regularly.

Next Saturday the College Youths assemble again at the tower to ring a 720 of Bob Minor and included in the band will be three members of the bell founders—Messrs. T. N. J. Bailey, E. J. Rowe and W. A. Theobald.

THOUGHTS ON A RUDHALL RING

By the Ven. P. C. Eliot, M.B.E., T.D., Archdeacon of Worcester, from a sermon preached at St. Giles', Bredon's Norton, at a thanksgiving service.

AN occasion such as this evening calls for a toast rather than a text; so may I give you one in the hope that you will honour it before the day is out. The toast is inscribed on No. 4 bell up in the tower, but it is what the whole ring is saying to us today—"Prosperity to the Church of England." With the toast I couple the name of the Chapelry of Bredon's Norton—adding how happy your guests are to be sharing this great occasion with you this afternoon.

The prosperity of the Church of England and its effectiveness in every parish depend on the harmony of all its members; we are in the Church as a whole today relearning the lesson that every member of the Church—clergy and people—has his or her individual part to play. The worship, activity and responsibilities of parish life have to be shared between all those who together make up the Christian community, each contributing to the whole his or her particular talents and abilities. Here you are setting us all such an encouraging example. The bells themselves illustrate what I am saying, for in the history of your ring of bells we have this truth illustrated in symbolic form; because in our imagination each bell can be taken as representing a different category of persons who serve your Church life—each bell individually strikes a true note; rung together in order, as we heard this afternoon, the resulting peal produces music of harmony and beauty—and this surely is a token of the real nature of the worship of Almighty God.

Let us then consider your bells more closely. The story begins in 1738. George II had been eleven years on the throne. The Church of England was generally in a bad way. A religious revival had begun in a small knot of Oxford students, whose revolt against the religious deadness of the times showed itself in ascetic observances, an enthusiastic devotion and a methodical regularity of life which gained them the nickname of "Methodists." This very year, 1738, the three leaders moved to London, Whitefield and the brothers Charles and John Wesley. (It is another cause for thanksgiving tonight that as your bells are restored, so too the breach between the Church of England and the Methodists is at last showing signs of healing.)

However dead religion may have been elsewhere, religion was not dead in Bredon's Norton. The Rector, the Rev. Dr. Sutton, was making frequent visits to Gloucester to see Abel Rudhall, the reigning head of the famous family of bell-founders. Now this Mr. Rudhall was only 24 years old at the time and perhaps a little nervous, for he had only been casting bells under his own name for a couple of years. His grandfather, Abraham, the founder of the firm in 1684, had died but recently—he in his time boasted that he had made hundreds of bells "to the satisfaction of them that understand musick and good bells." Abel's father, Abraham Rudhall the younger, had predeceased his father and so your Abel had inherited the "workhouses and appurtenances."

This is the picture for us to imagine—the bewigged Rector and the young bellfounder planning the bells which now hang refurbished in your Norman tower. This is how a contemporary describes a visit to the Rudhalls at Gloucester. (I find it largely unintelligible, but then I'm not a ringer!): "A foundation ringer is one that rings at sight; not many of them. He has picked a ream of changes, the bobs and common hunt. 7 lb. per cwt.

his metal. Tin glass necessary to make sharp trebles. He casts to half a note, which is mended by the hammer. He takes the notes of them all by the blow-pipe." Well, two of the bells, 3 and 5, still carry the names of the minister, the Rev. Dr. Sutton and the bellfounder, Abel Rudhall. It is fitting that our celebrations this afternoon should include a salute to their memory. In the life of the Church they represent the clergy and all physical and manual work for the care and preservation of your Church.

By 1739 the ring was hung—No 2 bell bearing the legend "Peace and Good Neighbourhood." Alas! the call for peace was to be rudely shattered before the year was out. Relationships with Spain were getting worse and worse—dispute about trade was the main cause. The ill humour of the trading classes rose to madness when a merchant captain named Jenkins told at the Bar of the House of Commons the tale of his torture by the Spaniards and produced an ear which, he said, they had cut off with taunts at the English King. Robert Walpole, the Prime Minister, reluctantly gave way and consented to a war against Spain. Ironically enough, that very first year the new bells rang out, the Prime Minister said bitterly: "They may ring their bells now, but they will soon be wringing their hands." The disastrous war of the Austrian Succession followed and, ever since, your bells have seen times of peace and war alternately.

But though No. 2 bell's call to peace may have met with a chequered response, the call to Good Neighbourhood has never gone unanswered. This is so obviously a happy community, centred round the Church—if any proof were wanted it is found in the magnificent combined effort in carrying out the work whose completion we are now celebrating. £1,000 is a large sum for a small community to raise—on behalf of the bells and of the clock may I be allowed to say "Thank you" for this fresh evidence of "good neighbourhood"? And I am sure that the bells will continue to draw attention to the Church as the centre of village life—to put it in the words engraved on the tenor bell: "I to the Church the living call and to the grave do summon all," thus reminding us of our duty to worship God and of our faith in Him Who is the Resurrection and the Life. This bell represents the general body of parishioners who set their watches by your clock, and the great events of whose life, such as baptisms and weddings, take place in this building—and for whom the last rites are paid here "in sure and certain hope of the resurrection."

The tower and bells were not affected by the restoration and partial rebuilding of the church in 1883, except that immediately after the work was completed they were joined by a new treble. The bell, like those commemorating Dr. Sutton and the Rudhalls, rings a personal note. It is inscribed: "In memory of Anna and Penelope Martin (the gift of Mrs. Martin)—Mears and Stainbank, Founders, London, 1885," who still act as your bellfounders. This family lived, I believe, at the Manor House. I am told that Mrs. Martin was a strong supporter of Equal Rights for Women—and indeed was once a candidate for the office of President of the United States! But in my imagination tonight her bell represents the benefactors, past and present, of your church—including all of you who by your generosity and efforts have enabled your ring to be repaired and rehung. And so in your ring of bells all who are concerned with the life of your parish are represented—clergy, those who work for your church, the parishioners who worship here, the neighbourhood in general, and the benefactors past and present, of your church in particular.

Many Topics at Bath and Wells Annual Meeting at Midsomer Norton

ON Easter Monday some 200 members of the Diocesan Association gathered at Midsomer Norton for the annual meeting. Proceedings started with a service at the Parish Church conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. M. Fookes, assisted by the Rev. A. G. Durston, chairman of the Frome Branch, and the Rev. H. F. Warren, Master of the Association. The Bishop of Taunton, the Rt. Rev. F. H. West, gave a most interesting address in which he developed the theme that the present campaign of the Church, "No Small Change," had been carried out by the fellowship of ringers for years. His duties would often take him to remote country parishes and on several occasions he had spotted one of his own parishioners in the congregation. He had wondered why this man should be there and then realised "of course, he is a bellringer."

Lunch, that followed in the Church Hall, was admirably provided by Miss Jacqueline Purnell and the Midsomer Norton ringers.

The Master, in opening the meeting with prayer, asked members to stand in silence in memory of those who had passed away since the last meeting. Visitors were welcomed from Rickmansworth, London, Bristol and Dorset.

In his reports the Master spoke of his visits to 11 Branch meetings and functions during the year. He mentioned in particular a ringers' social held by the Taunton Branch and also the rededication of the restored rings at Bradford-on-Tone and Watchet. Wells Cathedral bells had been put in order and he would like to put on record the gratitude of the Association to the Friends of the Cathedral, whose prompt and generous financial help had made this possible.

DIFFICULTIES OVER INSTRUCTORS

He expressed the committee's concern that in some areas qualified instructors were not always available and he appealed to members to give this matter serious attention. It sometimes happened that several requests for instruction were received from one area and, if the Association did not have sufficient official instructors resident there, a waiting list of people wishing to learn to ring would result. Although these numerous requests were welcome evidence of the interest in ringing, surely it was not a good thing that help should be deferred because they had no one to send.

Occasionally the Master heard of towers where differences of opinion had led to a break-up of the band. Two such cases had recently come to his notice and he had no hesitation in saying that they should never have occurred. "Our ringing should be a bond of union, not a bone of contention. If people get to the stage where they cannot ring together it is a very poor reflection of the way in which they practise the Christian faith. The message of the bells is the message of Christmas. 'Peace on earth and goodwill among men.'"

The general secretary, Mr. G. Salmon, also referred to the problem of instruction, saying that although they had a very capable panel of instructors, it was proving inadequate in certain circumstances. The Association covered a very large area but you could not expect a man to undertake a weekly journey of perhaps 30 miles each way because he was the nearest available.

Mr. Salmon mentioned other ways in which Branches were tackling silent towers and drew attention to the example of Bridgewater Branch. They were organising bands to ring at such towers at times of patronal festivals, etc. Another band, this time in the mid-Somerset area, was also ringing at towers where the bells were formerly seldom heard. Most Branches now met more often than once a quarter and surely these more frequent visits to towers must arouse local interest in the bells and make these churches wonder why they had no regular bells of their own.

MEMBERSHIP OF 1,748

The treasurer, Mr. E. Naylor, reported a record number of 1,748 performing members, and also another record in the total of 216 Parochial Church Councils that had paid an affiliation fee of not less than 10s. 6d. to the Association, but, despite the increased income, the General Fund and Bell Fund showed small deficits over the year. Badges had been purchased and these, when sold, should show a small profit. £16 17s. had been passed on to "The Ringing World," being half of the peal booking fees received.

The cost of the annual report was giving some concern. This year it had risen by £26 and the committee was giving serious consideration to its future form. The treasurer warned the meeting that, unless some way could be found to stop the increase in expenditure, members' subscriptions, which were at the moment standing at 2s. and were probably the lowest of any Association, would have to be increased.

Transfer of affiliation fees to the Bell Fund amounted to £135, and donations and collections to this fund totalled £13. Grants from the fund amounted to £129, the following towers having benefited: Ilton £50, Wiveliscombe £35, Beckington £20, Sampford Brett £10, Holford and Wedmore £7 7s. each. The balance of the General Fund was £228 7s. 2d., and that of the Bell Fund £222 7s. 6d. Investments were valued at £318.

The tower and belfries report was presented to the meeting by Mr. H. J. Sanger, who spoke of the 1,000 miles he had travelled and of the 80 letters he had written during the year. It was certainly no overstatement to describe the year as a busy one; 20 towers had been visited, some several times, and four towers had been dealt with by correspondence.

ALIVE TO SOUND CONTROL

In a brief summary of his work, he mentioned in particular Banwell, where a crack had developed in the tower. Mr. Frederick Sharpe had been called in and his recommendations for the strengthening of the tower and the rehanging of the bells at a lower level were being considered. Several inspections had been carried out in connection with quinquennial surveys. Advice was increasingly being sought on sound control, 1964 having seen eight such inquiries. Of these, six concerned noise outside the tower and showed that ringers were alive to the fact that the bells could constitute a nuisance.

Mr. Sanger made one final point in deprecating the ringing of peals on bad-going bells. He said that peal attempts on such bells or in towers where structural hazards were known to exist should be discouraged at all time, as only harm could result.

The number of peals rung in 1964 was 94, this being the second highest in the Association's history. Mr. G. W. Massey, the peal secretary, in presenting these statistics, said that it was particularly pleasing to note that the list contained a greater proportion than usual rung by resident bands. The peals rung at Sampford Brett and Merriott by the Arscott family deserved special mention, as did a peal at Dinder by an all-ladies' band. This was only the second such peal for the Association, the other being at Portishead as long ago as 1915. A peal of Doubles in 14 methods was a great achievement for the all-local band at Ashcott, and the young band, some of whom are still at school, are to be congratulated.

256 RINGERS RANG PEALS

Leading peal ringers in 1964 were Mr. D. J. Hunt with 16, and Mr. A. F. Lee and Mr. J. R. Taylor with 11. Mr. W. E. Turner, who had conducted all his ten peals, was the leading conductor; 256 ringers participated in peals: 35 took part in their first, and 109 rang something new. Of individual achievements, Mr. Massey drew attention to Mr. L. Derrick's 100th peal and Mr. A. F. Lee's 125th. Two notable first pealers were Mr. M. Heymann, who rang inside to Cambridge, and Mr. M. Collins, inside to Grandshire Caters.

Mr. Massey stated that the peal book had been thoroughly checked and re-indexed. A comparison with "The Ringing World" had been commenced and some discrepancies had been brought to light. One peal had been recorded twice and, after careful inquiries, it had been decided to insert six peals not previously included. The corrected total of peals to the end of 1964 was 3,042.

First peals were rung at Ilton and East Chinnock and now only nine sixes and 40 fives in Somerset had no peals recorded.

The reports were received with acclamation and, on the proposition of the Rev. F. Pollard, seconded by Mr. E. Fisher, were adopted en bloc.

THE OFFICERS

The meeting then passed to the election of officers, the Rev. H. F. Warren (Master), Messrs. G. Salmon (general secretary), E. Naylor (treasurer), G. W. Massey (peal secretary) and H. J. Sanger (Diocesan Adviser on the Care of Bells) being re-elected for the ensuing year. It was felt that Mr. Sanger should have some help and Mr. W. Kingcott, of Wrington, was appointed as Assistant Adviser. The meeting was informed that Mr. D. E. Lee, who had acted as auditor for several years, had left the Diocese and Mr. S. E. Read, of Bath, was elected in his stead. Mr. Lee was thanked for his services.

Mr. Massey commented that several members were not at all happy about the rule that demanded 6d. per rope per peal as a contribution to "The Ringing World." He himself felt that this rule was wrong and that the Association, if it wished to support the paper, could make an annual grant, the amount of which be decided each year. He intended, therefore, to give formal notice that he would make a proposition to this effect at the next annual meeting and that the exact wording would be circulated to all affiliated towers in due course.

Mr. Sanger drew members' attention to the forthcoming Bath and West Show to be held in mid-Somerset. He stated that the Church Tent would devote a section to ringing and he outlined details. A model bell would be exhibited and it was intended that the light ring owned by Mr. Frank Mack be used for demonstration purposes. He appealed to hand-bell bands to offer their services.

WAR MEMORIAL WREATH

Mr. Naylor spoke of the wreath placed annually on the Association's War Memorial in Bath Abbey. He felt that the Earl Haig Fund would benefit to a greater extent if a donation to the fund be made and the wreath dispensed with. This drew considerable discussion and resulted in a decision that a wreath be placed on the Memorial as in the past, and that, in addition, a donation, the amount of which be decided by the committee, be given to the Earl Haig Fund each year.

The Master reminded the meeting that May 30th, 1965, was the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Association and called for members' views on possible ways in which this be noted. Mr. Massey, as peal secretary, asked that commemorative peals be rung, and the Master stated that an invitation had been received from the Dean and Chapter of Wells asking that a peal be rung on the Cathedral bells. In addition, an officers' peal would be attempted at Evercreech, and an attempt was arranged at Twerton, where the first recorded peal for the Association was rung. Mr. D. G. Yeo, on behalf of the Chew Branch, suggested that a dinner be held, and it was decided to inquire at Branch level as to what form the members would like the dinner to take and to what extent it would be supported.

Mr. G. Marchant said that the inaugural meeting had been held at Highbridge and, although the church no longer possessed a ring of bells, it would be appropriate if a service and the dinner be held there.

BATH AND WELLS—contd.

It was decided that the Central Council representatives be given £20 to help defray their expenses and that the secretary be given an honorarium of £15. Mr. H. V. Young proposed that Mr. H. J. Sanger, the Diocesan Adviser, be given an honorarium; this was referred to the general committee.

Mr. J. Gilbert asked if the Central Council could be invited to Somerset and a number of possible venues was discussed. The question of expense was raised and it was generally felt that this should be well within the Association's means.

A request was made that some form of notice be produced for towers affiliated to the Association that would incorporate local details. This was referred to the committee, who would consider possible designs.

The question of peal ringing in Lent was raised by Mr. E. Skipsey, who asked if there was any official ruling regarding this. Mr. W. Osborn replied, saying that there was no rule as such. He recalled that in 1952 Preb. A. J. Hook, the Master at that time, had strongly criticised such ringing and that, over the years, Bath and Wells ringers had respected his views and very few peals had been rung. It was surely a matter of self-discipline and it was certainly not up to the Association to lay down hard and fast rules.

The general secretary then asked if he might be allowed the unusual course of proposing the vote of thanks himself. This was the Association's first visit to the Frome Branch and, once the visit to Midsomer Norton had been confirmed, the Branch had taken the arranging of the meeting right out of his hands.

Mr. Salmon referred to the able way in which the Master had conducted a long and exacting meeting. He also thanked Mr. E. Chivers and Mr. G. W. Massey for arranging the ringing.

The members then dispersed to the many towers open during the evening.

The harmony of the bells is, I am sure, representative of the harmony with which all the individuals of this delightful place live and work together, resulting in a strong Christian community. Yes, strong, but not as an isolated village cut off from its neighbours—for when the bells ring out they will always remind you of your unity with other Christian communities and of the unity of the whole Church of England, indeed of the unity to which we are struggling of the whole Church of God. For the message of your bells is outward-looking. There are no artificial barriers in the sky to stop the waves of sound, and I like to think of their echoes mingling with those from other towers in the neighbourhood, reminding us that the worship and praise of God from thousands of churches join in a single stream of prayer as it ascends to the Throne of Grace.

And so, following the example of the bells, your chapelry will be encouraged to play its part in the life of the diocese and of the whole Church. For the bells themselves remind us all that we all belong to a great company living in a world stretching far beyond our own parochial boundaries. As we all grow together and feel responsible for one another, so the words of the toast that they themselves have given us will be fulfilled—"Prosperity to the Church of England."

Swansea and Brecon Guild Increase Subscriptions

THE 37th annual festival of the Swansea and Brecon Guild was held at Brecon on June 19th and the excellent weather helped in the good attendance. Besides St. Mary's, Brecon, the towers at Glasbury, Talgarth, Llanfeigan and Defynnog were open for ringing. Even-song, preceded by handbells being rung in the nave, was held in the Cathedral, with the Bishop and the Dean of Brecon assisting in the service. The Rev. Herbert J. Phillips gave an inspiring address, the theme of which was based on "Whatever we do, do it to the glory of God."

Through the kind permission of the Dean, and the thoughtfulness of Mrs. James, his wife, a buffet tea was held in the Chapter House. This was a great improvement on the previous year, and the sincere thanks of everyone were amply expressed by the hon. secretary.

The Bishop, presiding at the business meeting, and after welcoming the visitors, said he thought the meeting would wish him to thank the Rev. Herbert J. Phillips for his address. Arising out of the minutes, the hon. secretary said that the letter of good wishes to the Very Rev. D. Edward Jones, for his health and happiness in his retirement, was sent, and the Dean in reply sincerely thanked everyone.

The treasurer, in presenting the statement of accounts, said that he thought the money now in the Bell Restoration Fund should be invested. An amendment, however, to close both the Deposit Account and the Bell Restoration Fund Account and group the total of each account for investment purposes, was carried. The actual investment is to be left in the hands of the treasurer and the auditor. The accounts were then accepted and the treasurer thanked for his services.

The hon. secretary, giving his report, said that there was great concern regarding the position of the Northern District as a part, or an acting part, within the constitution of the Diocesan Guild. No communication of any sort had been received during the year from them. There was still room for restoration and augmentations within the diocese, and they must go on hoping. The ringing competition at Bronllys was a great improvement on the 1964 competition, and Cadoxton, who won the shield, well deserved it. In conclusion, he thanked all the officers for their co-operation during the past year.

At this stage the Bishop officially presented the shield and certificates to the bands concerned in the competition, congratulating each in turn.

In the peals record report, Mr. G. I. Lewis said the year's peal ringing was a great achievement for the Guild, the majority of the peals being rung on handbells. The total included two long lengths, one on tower bells and one on handbells. Four members had now rung 100 peals for the Guild—Mr. G. I. Lewis, Miss Hazel Way, Mr. J. A. Hoare and Mr. B. J. Woodruffe. Mr. Lewis then reported that although he had already purchased extra loose leaves, he would now require a new book. Mr. S. Edwards then moved that a book be purchased when required.

It was reported by the Central Council representative that Mr. A. E. Barnett was not seeking re-election at the next annual general meeting. The meeting was referred to "The Ringing World" for the full report of the deliberations at Northampton this year. Mr. Lewis was thanked for his report.

Mr. M. R. Thomas was elected the new Master of the Guild, and the other officers re-elected were: Mr. J. A. Hoare, hon. secretary;

Mr. D. H. Bennett, hon. treasurer; Mr. S. Edwards, hon. auditor; and Mr. G. I. Lewis, Central Council representative for the next three years.

The notice of motion re increase of subscriptions, moved by Mr. Bennett and supported by Mr. Protheroe, was discussed at length, and after much deliberation the original motion was carried. The exception being that those under 18 pay 1s. 6d. per person per annum, and this applies also to old age pensioners. All others will pay the increase, 2s. 6d. per person per annum.

It was proposed that the annual festival in 1966 be held at St. Mary's, Swansea, alternatively Sketty. The ringing competition is to be held at Cadoxton. The collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised £2 10s.

Three new ringing members were elected, two ringing and one non-resident life member. The business ended with a vote of thanks to the Bishop, not forgetting his son, who was the organist.

Next meeting: Joint, at Eardisland, on July 31st. J. A. H.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

THE annual general meeting of the North Wales Association was held at Wrexham on June 19th, when over 60 members and visitors attended, including some from Walstanton, Leominster and Shrewsbury.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (Chancellor D. E. M. Glynn Jones) and assisted by the president (the Rev. Dr. Alun Thomas). The Vicar, in his address, pointed out some interesting features in the fine 15th century church. The tower is quoted as being one of seven wonders of Wales, and near the west door is the tomb of Elihu Yale, founder of Yale University, U.S.A. An excellent tea was partaken of in the Church House prepared by the wives of the local ringers, to whom a vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. A. Bailey. At the business meeting Chancellor D. E. M. Glynn Jones was elected president for the ensuing year, and the Rev. A. L. Cooke, M.A., Rector of Hope, a vice-president. Other officers elected were: Mr. F. R. Evans, Ringing Master; Mr. W. Cathrall, general secretary and treasurer; Dr. A. V. Woodcock, secretary Wrexham District; Mr. D. H. B. Millward, instructor Wrexham District; Mr. J. Astbury, instructor Bangor District; Mr. W. H. Lewis, auditor.

The balance sheet showed a credit balance of £32 9s. The secretary reported an increase of 60 members over the last three years. This was due mainly to some towers having the bells restored and rejoining the Association. Rhyl was chosen for the next half-yearly meeting in September, and Llandudno for the next annual meeting.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the retiring president, Dr. J. Alun Thomas, who said that he had enjoyed his three years as president and was very impressed by the warmth of fellowship and cordiality among ringers.

The bells were put to good use in a wide variety of standard methods during the afternoon and evening, the duty of Ringing Master being ably carried out by Mr. F. R. Evans.

YOU LUCKY PEOPLE

Dear Sir,—Apparently there is a feeling that some fresh ideas are needed, so I will start the ball rolling.

Many years ago in our village the man who played the big bass violin in the local orchestra stood five feet nothing, consequently he had to transport his instrument on a hand-cart. One Thursday evening as he trundled home he passed a couple of the local ringers wending their way home after practice. As the three met there was some good natured banter from the ringers. The old bass violin player just looked at them and retorted, "Think yourselves lucky you are bellringers."

When you come to think of it ringers are lucky in many respects. Just look about—anglers go around loaded with fishing tackle for which they have paid a goodish bit, musicians manhandle their expensive instruments, cricketers lug their kit, and so one could go on. But what do the ringers cart around? Very little against the foregoing, and yet when it comes to putting their hands in their pocket for increased subscriptions or buying "The Ringing World" that seems to be quite another matter.

There are quite a number of Societies whose "trade paper" has a limited circulation just as "The Ringing World" has, consequently the subscription to these Societies is such that it covers the cost of its own publication. I have no doubt "The Ringing World" Committee would be highly delighted if the Guilds and Societies raised their annual subscriptions sufficiently to ensure that each member received a copy of our own paper each week. I feel sure that the committee would allow the Guild or Society a copper or two for administrative purposes.

Suggestions are frequently called for to increase the circulation, and to increase annual subscriptions by £2 2s. is one, and before anyone starts throwing brickbats, please produce a better idea. J. P. F.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Dear Sir.—Mr. Neal (page 432) must not jump to conclusions. The title of this Association was the "London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers." It is now the "London County Association of Church Bell Ringers." So the connection with a mythical, non-existent North Southwark Diocese has been dropped and emphasis has been given to the fact we are not just change ringers but Church bell ringers. We have shed the part of our title which was unfortunately added some years ago for reasons which were not entirely commendable, and we have amended our older title to indicate that whatever was the case last century, ringers are now connected with the Church.

The recent reorganisation under the London Government Act, 1963, related of course only to local government and its administrative organisation. Whether or no London ringers wish to use this as an excuse to do something about the organisation of ringing in the Metropolitan area is another matter. Many of us would welcome it; some I know would not. Joint meetings of the Associations mentioned by Mr. Neal are now a regular and welcome feature—who knows what they may lead to.—Yours faithfully,

WILFRID G. WILSON.

WORTHIES OF CHARLES CHURCH

Dear Sir,—The recent death of Bill Hiscott and now of Warren Hornbrook, as reported by you, must leave very few of the old pre-1914 band of Charles Church, Plymouth, under that great teacher, Walter Marsh.

The early 1900's were the great days of ringing in Plymouth and Walter Marsh, his son Ernie and the Charles Church band were the most enthusiastic ringers I've ever met.

On Fridays the front six would have clapper stays put on and here Warren Hornbrook, myself and many others learned the rudiments of change ringing. Tuesday was the open day on the ten, and ringers from isolated towers would come in to practise. Amongst these was the Rev. E. S. Powell. A pioneer in composition in the South West, Warren Hornbrook was in 1906 one of Marsh's young hopefuls and he rang in my first peal of Triples just after he had rung his own first in 1910.

I have always thought of that tower as ideal. Walter Marsh always started every practice with a prayer, which didn't prevent him ticking you off good and hearty when you made a slip. I don't think they ever recovered from World War I owing largely to an unsympathetic Vicar and Warren had a hard time. War II finished the bells for ever. When the tower was bombed, the bells were left lying and, in spite of appeals to the Vicar to have them salvaged, were stolen.

With Charles' went St. George's, where we rang every Monday, and Dockyard (8), to which we went on Saturdays when not touring round the countryside. Some of us would ring every day of the week in the days when trains from Plymouth ran literally to every country village. To Mr. Westcott, who must be one of the few survivors, another survivor of those days sends greetings and thanks for all the kindness he received at Charles Church, Plymouth.—Yours faithfully,

C. F. J.

"IS STEDMAN UNIQUE?"

Dear Sir,—From time to time learners have asked me this question when they find Stedman is the only method (principle) they are taught which is not treble-dominated. My reply has been a guarded "It is the only one that is popular, although there have been several others produced."

We are told that Stedman was trying to find a six-score of Doubles without using hunts—that is, a principle in which all the bells do the same work. He did so in fact in "Orpheus," but only by using alternate double and single changes, requiring whole-pull changes on the front. Even in Stedman's time this was unsuitable for ringing.

He would be aware that with double changes alone he could get only half the extent, and presumably he next sought to produce this 60 by a similar principle. To do so he would require a block of 12 rows, symmetrical in itself, and ending with a parting place which would permit the original block to repeat four times to give the required 60. He found the only block of 12 which will do so. That block is the first 12 changes of Stedman Doubles. It can of course be reversed.

There is a choice for the parting place at the end of the block, either 1sts or 5ths. Stedman in his wisdom chose the former, which gives the alternation of the sixes characteristic of his principle. In this form it is possible to extend it to higher numbers, though this does not seem to have been done in Stedman's lifetime. The alternative 5ths place was found by Carter, and the resulting variation named after him.

I think therefore the question can be answered with a definite "Yes."—Yours faithfully,

T. G. HAWKINS.

20 MINUTE SOUND COLOUR FILM OF WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL

Dear Sir,—In accordance with the Central Council's resolution I have taken steps to obtain a copy of the above film on their behalf, and this lovely film will soon be available on loan to Associations at a modest charge towards the expense involved and to provide for replacement after fair wear and tear. Conditions of loan are printed at the foot of this letter.

For the information of those who have not seen the film some details are appended.

The film is a professional production and covers the final building stages of Washington Cathedral tower and includes views of the Cathedral at various stages of building and of the skilled stonemasons at work on various carvings. The Cathedral has been in building for over 50 years, embodies the finest Gothic style traditions and will be the fifth largest cathedral in the world.

Much of the first half of the film is devoted to the casting of the ring of ten bells hung in English fashion, and to the 56-bell carillon and to their installation. There are excellent shots of the bells in action, ringers in training and ringers at work, including the English ringers who rang for the dedication in 1964. Stedman Caters on the 10-bell ring and melodies on the carillon are heard. The choir, orchestra and organ of the Cathedral provide background music from time to time.

The film will be of great interest to ringers at special functions and also very useful to show to non-ringing audiences and church people. It goes on to illustrate all the dedication ceremonies and people connected with efforts to create this glorious Gothic cathedral. The bells and the ringers are given a very high status in the proceedings and the film will therefore be excellent propaganda for public relations between ringers and the public.

PROVISIONAL CONDITIONS OF LOAN OF THE FILM

The film must be returned by registered post, properly packed, on the day after the film is shown (Monday if shown Saturday) to Mr. N. Chaddock, 17, Herringthorpe Grove, Broom, Rotherham.

When confirming a booking, a fee of 25s. must be sent. This includes outward postage. Return postage must be paid by the borrower. If the film is shown on more than one day an additional fee of 10s. per day is payable.

Loan is conditional on an experienced projectionist and an excellent projector being used. Particular care must be taken before each showing to see that the projector gate is free from dust and other deposits.

The borrower must meet the cost of any loss sustained by the Council, by careless handling of the film in use or in transit, by the borrower.

Applications for loan of the film should normally be made by a responsible Association official.

Several requests have been made already for loan of the film and early reservation is advised.—Yours sincerely,

NORMAN CHADDOCK,
Convener, Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee, Central Council.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN LLOYD

Mr. John Lloyd, who died on June 21st, within a week or so of his 72nd birthday, had been a ringer at St. Michael's, Brierley Hill, for nearly 60 years, but his association with bells went even further back than that, as his father was once verger and sexton at Brierley Hill, and from the age of three or four he was taught to "minute" the tenor bell at funerals. His association with the church at Brierley Hill as a chorister, ringer and church worker was continuous from then on, except for a break during the First World War, when he served in the R.A.M.C. He was tower keeper for many years and when anything from ringing room level upwards needed attention it was always left to Jack to deal with.

He was not a prolific peal ringer and did not keep a record of his peals, but it is known he rang 203 for the Worcestershire Association, which with those he rang for neighbouring Associations would make his total around 300. Jack Lloyd, however, will not be remembered for his peal ringing activities, although he was always a very sound and safe ringer, but for the service which he gave to others in teaching beginners, for which he had endless patience and a kindly and friendly manner which put the most nervous of beginners at ease; for this alone he will be sadly missed, not only in his own tower but in neighbouring towers which he visited regularly on their practice nights.

During his career he held office as Master of the Dudley Guild, also of the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire Association, and for many years he was a member of the latter Association's advisory panel on belfry repairs, an office which he resigned only last year.

At the funeral service on Brierley Hill on June 23rd his coffin was borne by four of his fellow ringers—Messrs. B. Lawton, S. Mallen, T. Hemming and C. Skidmore—while the bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service by ringing friends from many towers who came to pay their last tribute to one who had been a great servant of the Church and of the Exercise. Ringers present included R. Allport (Brierley Hill), W. B. Cartwright (Selly Oak, Master, Worcestershire Association), R. Chance (Lye), F. V. Nicholls, C. W. Cooper, W. H. Cooper, A. D. Fellows, M. D. Fellows, M. J. Fellows, J. C. Eisel, Mrs. R. Smith (Stourbridge), F. G. Handley, J. Pagett (Wollaston), A. W. Glazzard, J. Hicks (Hartlebury), R. A. Peakman, Mrs. B. Morgan (Kingswinford), T. Greenhall, A. B. Ellsmore (Halesowen), B. C. Ashford (Clent), K. Salter (Kidderminster), H. G. Bird (East Brent, Somerset), E. Drew, A. Nurse, V. Parton (Claverley).

Later in the day a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung half-muffled on the bells which he had loved and tended so well during his lifetime. C. S.

STEWKLEY, BUCKS.—On June 18th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: G. W. Holland 1, B. Eglesfield 2, G. Edmans 3, M. Jamieson 4, R. A. Vickers 5, A. H. Wood 6, W. A. Yates (cond.) 7, F. Gregory 8.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Eastern Branch

FOR the first time since 1957, the Eastern Branch held its second quarterly meeting of the year at Norton Subcourse. May 22nd was a grand day and attracted some 40 ringers. Both tower- and handbells were rung throughout the afternoon and evening.

The Rev. A. Glendining, Rector of the Raveningham group of parishes, conducted the ringers' service; the lesson was read by Mr. J. Forder, the organ played by Mr. K. Mickleborough and the address was given by the Rev. J. E. Cummins. Miss D. E. Lidbetter (Branch chairman) presided over the business meeting and proposed votes of thanks to the Rector, the organist and the local ladies for the splendid tea.

The following belfry elections prior to a peal at Great Yarmouth on April 24th were ratified: Messrs. P. Chapman, J. Boyack, M. J. Hallett, A. J. House, P. J. Rothera and J. Towler. Members stood in silence to the memories of Mr. S. W. Coplin, of Loddon, and Mr. G. H. Cross, the president (Mr. N. Golden) paying tributes to them. A brief account of the proposed week-end ringing course to be held at Morley College, Wymondham, next year, was also given by him.

Forthcoming meeting: Acle, September 4th. N. C.

ALL SAINTS', CORSTON

On May 31st the ringers of All Saints', Corston, accompanied by friends from Bath and Raheaston, visited six towers, mostly in the Exe Valley.

Despite the inevitable delay at Honiton, the first tower, Newton St. Cyres, was reached on time and the pleasant eight were soon put to good use. At Upton Pyne there was some delay due to repairs to a stay and the time was filled in by the experts' performance on a very tuneful set of handbells. We just had time to sample the easy-going six in the tower before moving on to Bramford Speke. We had been met at Upton Pyne by the Vicar of both parishes, who kindly pointed out a pleasant spot on a bank of the Exe at Bramford Speke for a picnic lunch. Afterwards good use was made of the light and tuneful six before proceeding through the lanes to Silvertown. Here we were met by the tower master, Mr. Selley, and we much enjoyed the very fine eight.

The next tower was Bickleigh, which is on the hillside above the bridge over the Exe, close to the famous gardens looking at their best in the sunshine.

Tea was taken in Tiverton, after which we joined the tower master, Mr. J. D. Upton, for a ring on the grand eight, which we were loth to leave. Before doing so, the tower master, Mr. H. L. Parfrey, thanked the organiser, though even more thanks were due to the member of the band who had had all the drudgery in the way of typing letters, etc.

EAST RIDING RINGERS' ANNUAL OUTING

THE East Riding ringers were favoured with very good weather for the annual Whit Monday outing and in spite of certain difficulties with the seemingly inevitable traffic congestion an extensive programme was enjoyed by the party of 40 ringers, wives and friends. Towers represented were Cottingham, Ferriby, Goole, Hessle, Hornsea, Howden, Hull Holy Trinity, Kirk Ella, Rise and Sutton, and although there was a large proportion of ringers in the learner stage the standard of ringing was reasonably satisfactory all day.

When planning the programme the organiser, Mr. A. B. Cooper, had anticipated that certain notable members of the party would not be available in time for the early start, but the coach actually left Kirk Ella at the appointed time and arrived at the first tower, Doncaster St. George, approximately 30 minutes early, the spare time being occupied with a welcome coffee break. Mr. Howard Scott met the party and many of the learners had their first experience on a heavy eight. Touches of Double Norwich and Stedman were rung well.

The next stage was via Bawtry, Blyth, Worksop, Chesterfield and Baslow, and the organiser's references to the Derbyshire countryside were drowned with choruses of "On Ikla Moor baht 'at." There was some difficulty in finding the key to the Church of St. Peter, Edensor, in Chatsworth Park, but eventually the bells were rung to a variety of Minor methods, whilst the non-ringers visited the Kennedy grave and inspected the impressive village church before partaking of a picnic lunch in most pleasant surroundings.

On the short journey to Bakewell the traffic was literally bumper to bumper and great difficulty was experienced in finding a suitable place to park the coach whilst ringing was in progress at the Parish Church. The bells at Bakewell are very noisy in the tower but go very well and we were happy to conform with the local custom of a fee of ten shillings for visiting ringers.

Owing to the congestion of traffic the party were late at St. Helen's, Darley Dale, but the Rector, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, was waiting, with the bells raised, and an enjoyable hour was spent. We were sorry that Jafus and several other old friends of the organiser were not able to be present. (Congratulations and good wishes, Frank.)

A substantial tea was enjoyed at the Red Lion, Ashover, before ringing at the adjacent Parish Church of All Saints. The bells certainly justified their reputation and were heard to good effect in a well-struck course of Yorkshire Surprise Minor. An amusing incident occurred here when a lady onlooker asked if her young son could have a ring as although he had never handled a bell he was interested in music! The tour concluded on the light six at Clay Cross, where the party was met by Mr. J. W. Price.

The duties of Ringing Master were undertaken by D. S. Johnson, R. Gibson, J. Rank, R. Ducker and A. B. Cooper, and the return journey to Hull was completed shortly after midnight. A. B. C.

Joint Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies

AFTER three meetings between the General Committee of the Yorkshire Association and representatives of nine District Societies in the county, it was agreed to the formation of a Joint Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies.

The Joint Council consists of two delegates from each of the ten Societies, namely, The Yorkshire Association, The Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, The Beverley and District Society, The Barnsley and District Society, The Doncaster and District Society, The Halifax and District Association, The Archdeaconry of Halifax Guild, The Leeds and District Society, The Selby and District Society and the Sheffield and District Society.

The chairman appointed is Mr. Edward Hudson, of Sharow, and the secretary is Mr. Arthur Farrand, of Mossley, Lancashire.

At the inaugural meeting held in the Railway Institute, York, on February 6th, it was decided to organise a Festival of Ringing in the Wakefield area on Saturday, June 12th. The sub-committee formed to arrange the event consisted of Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton, Mr. Irvine Slack, Mr. Christopher A. Moxon and Mr. Trevor Tarbutt.

Twenty towers were open for ringing from 10.15 a.m. until 9 p.m.

A ringers' service was held in Wakefield Cathedral at 3 p.m., the preacher being the Archdeacon of Halifax, who chose for his sermon the text Psalm xlii, 6: "I will sing unto the Lord, because he hath dealt bountifully with me." The sermon was most inspiring and the Archdeacon gave his congregation much food for thought.

During the singing of Psalm 150 a course of Major was rung on handbells and after the lesson the ringers' hymn was sung to the ringers' tune, by kind permission of the Provost of the Cathedral, and much patience by the organist, Mr. Percy Saunders. Two courses of Maximus were rung before the service and two courses of Minor, closed lead, were rung at the end.

About 130 persons then adjourned to the Unity Hall for tea. In a speech of welcome, the chairman, Mr. Edward Hudson, said that the attendance was most encouraging for a first festival.

All Districts were represented, come more numerous than others. "Do's" like this give everyone an opportunity of meeting people from all over the county," he continued, and went on to thank the sub-committee for all the hard work they had done to make the occasion the success it was.

When all had eaten their fill, Mr. W. F. Moreton became the cinema projectionist, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed watching the film made to commemorate the dedication of the bells of Washington Cathedral. These showed scenes of the building of the tower, the casting of the bells in England, the hanging of them in the completed tower, the dedication, and then the full ring being rung by the team from Britain. It's a must for anyone who hasn't seen it.

Afterwards those who had farthest to travel were allowed first go on the 12 at the Cathedral, and arrangements made to fix everyone with a ring on either six, eight, ten or twelve in the vicinity.

It is hoped to arrange another festival, in the area of Beverley, on May 21st, 1966. Mr. David Johnson has been authorised to form his own sub-committee to formulate arrangements, so start saving up—you've had plenty of warning. A. F.

WITHYHAM RINGERS VISIT HAMPSHIRE

The clerk of the weather was in a benevolent mood on June 26th, and the Withyham ringers tender him their grateful thanks for a lovely day for their outing. Leaving Withyham on time, we proceeded to Petworth but arrived a few minutes late through having to join the snake-like queue up the narrow approach to Petworth. Mr. L. Weller made us welcome and after an enjoyable hour here we made our way to Easebourne through Cowdray Park. Here the Rev. B. R. Beasley directed the coach to its parking place and conducted the party through the back entrance to the beautifully decorated church, where a wedding was taking place shortly after our visit. Lunch was at Petersfield.

The Rev. John Hurst met the party at West Meon, where there is no doubt about the bells being heard in the ringing chamber! Shedfield provided some good ringing and Titchfield's (the only six of the trip) were far better than expected. Tea was taken at Lee-on-Solent, and the splendid view of the island and numerous yachts (together with the ozone) well repaid the time spent here.

It was intended to make the journey to Havant via Portsdown Hill, but having several "back-seat drivers," the wrong road was taken and the journey had to be made through the built-up area all the way. Canon Bassett welcomed the party and after a very pleasant time we left for home, travelling via Billingshurst, where the eight bells are out of action, so we had to make do with the "Six Bells"!

It was a day of good company, good ringing, fine weather and up to time everywhere. Before parting, the Rector (the Rev. Peter Scott), who accompanied the party, thanked the organiser, Mrs. Jean Osborn, for her hard work and as a token of appreciation presented her with a small gift. F. I. H.

ST. PETER'S, BRIGHTON

SINCE 1955 our annual outings have been recorded on cine colour film, and it is good to recall visually the personalities taking part and places visited over the years. Inevitably time has taken toll and many old ringers are no longer with us. Such stalwarts as Frank Bennett and Harry Stalham, perhaps names only to the present generation, are brought to life again.

On June 26th this year, more film of Kent was added and, being an especially sunny day, we anticipate good results. Certainly our organiser again discriminated wisely in choice of bells and restaurants, too. Both could be described as excellent.

The first call of the 41-seater coach was on the eight at Cranbrook, followed by that of Wye. Having started our day at 7.45 a.m., we were well prepared to enjoy an early lunch at the Continental Grill in Canterbury at 12.15 p.m. Early afternoon saw us on our way to ring the eight at Ash-next-Sandwich, where unfortunately a rope broke during the last touch. Then over the tollbridge to St. Lawrence-in-Thames (10, 18 cwt.). Here our first delay occurred. Finding the unusual outside ladder entrance securely padlocked, 82 suspicious eyes were directed at the organiser who, promptly producing the Vicar's letter, read like a proclamation "... will be away, but arrangements will be made ..."

The grandfather of the party was then detailed to find the Vicarage and/or the keys. This entailed vaulting over a rather high wall four times, having brought the wrong keys the first time. (Moral—never boast about having a father who could jump a five-barred gate at the age of 65 years!) Despite the delay, ringing included Stedman Caters. Kent T.B.R. and some goodly rounds.

Arriving at Canterbury Cathedral, we were privileged to ring the 12 to Grand sire Cinques after getting the "feel" during preliminary rounds. A second course by our "second eleven" followed. Tea was served at Gales Restaurant, but not before our "grabbers" managed a pull on the six of St. Alphege's.

The Stafford Archdeaconry Society

OVER 130 members and friends attended the annual general meeting of the Stafford Archdeaconry Society, in fine weather, on June 19th in Lichfield.

During the afternoon ringing took place at London and all four Lichfield towers prior to the service held in the choir stalls of the Cathedral. This was conducted by the president, the Ven. Basil Stratton, and the address was given by the new Vicar of Tamworth, who had to apologise for the absence of his own ringers, who had unfortunately chosen this date for their annual outing.

Tea was served in St. Michael's Parish Hall, after which the president occupied the chair for the annual meeting. During the past year over 40 new members have been elected, including ringers from St. Michael's, Lichfield, Rushall and Yoxhall, all for the first time in many years. The four bells of Drayton Bassett are at the Loughborough foundry and are to be rehung in a six-bell frame. Both bell-founders have been asked to quote for improving the bells of St. Michael's, Lichfield.

The Ringing Master reported that several towers appear to have learners interested in progressing with change ringing but there were no competent instructors. He appealed for something to be done about this. Over 50 peals had been rung during the year, the most progressive being the first of 21 Surprise Minor methods, rung by the Little Aston Sunday service ringers. In contrast 13 members rang their first peals and two their "firsts as conductor"; all praiseworthy efforts. Over 70 quarter peals were rung within the Archdeaconry, 11 in memory of the late Sir Winston Churchill, and 20 by the Lichfield Cathedral ringers, 16 being at churches with no ringers, mainly for Sunday services.

The treasurer circulated a detailed statement of accounts, the balances having increased during the year by £17. The two Central Council representatives, Messrs. G. W. Hughes and B. G. Key, then gave a brief account of the recent meeting held at Northampton. A proposal to raise subscriptions was submitted to the meeting and after the anticipated discussions the motion was defeated; all subscriptions remain as at present. The following functions were agreed upon, subject to local approval: September 4th, Gnosall; September 25th, Lichfield Diocesan Festival, Oswestry; October 16th, Enville; January 22nd, Wednesbury; March 19th, Rushall; May 7th, Church Eaton; and A.G.M., Lichfield, on June 18th.

Officers elected for 1965-66 were: Ringing Master, Mr. M. W. Fairey; Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. P. G. K. Davies; hon. treasurer, Mr. J. H. Allen (8, Oriel Drive, Fordhouses, Wolverhampton, Staffs); auditor, Mr. H. Green; hon. general secretary, Mr. C. M. Smith (29, Dimbles Hill, Lichfield, Staffs); assistant secretary, Mr. P. J. Barker (127, Cannock Road, Chase Terrace, near Walsall); badge secretary, Mr. R. M. Hodister; Central Council representatives, Messrs. M. W. Fairey, B. G. Key and C. M. Smith.

New ringing members elected were: Messrs. A. W. Bowler, F. T. Hale, W. R. Simmons, F. Winter and Mrs. J. Simmons (St. Michael's, Lichfield), Messrs. K. J. Whittingham, D. Timmins and S. C. Martin (All Saints', West Bromwich), Miss P. Mears (Bilston), Mr. D. J. Clay (Wednesbury), Mr. A. Jordan (Willenhall), Miss H. Jackson, Mr. A. Kitson (St. Peter's, Wolverhampton), Mrs. D. Eyre (Penn), Messrs. M. J. Ree and N. H. Ree (Stafford).

The president thanked all who had helped make the meeting so successful, in particular the members of Lichfield Cathedral band, who provided an excellent tea. C. M. S.

ST. PETER'S, BRIGHTON—continued.

The last call was the heavy eight at Tenterden, where a course of Bristol Surprise Major produced perhaps the best striking of the day, unless it was the touch of Grand sire Triples at Wye, rung by our "learning" members.

Our grateful thanks are due to the incumbents and our organiser who, as usual, made excellent arrangements. A. W. B.

BELFRY GOSSIP

By ringing the third at Rothwell to a peal of Cambridge Major, Murray A. Coleman has "circled" his home tower.

The peal at Uphill, Somerset, reported on page 435, was conducted by Miss Marjorie Legg and not as stated. Roy Rice rang the fifth bell.

A jinx accompanied Bolsover ringers on their annual outing. At every tower visited something untoward happened, making it "one of the most memorable Bolsover outings."

Miss Gillian M. Hussey will remember her 150th peal rung at North Curry, Somerset, as it was her 125th with her fiancé, Mr. D. John Hunt. May the partnership never tire!

Durham University Society's attempt at a handbell peal in a punt on the River Wear was unfortunately abandoned just short of half way due to an invasion of gnats.

The peal of Stedman Cinques at Ashton-under-Lyne on Sunday, June 13th, was not Christine Andrew's first peal on 12 bells but her first of Stedman Cinques, apologetically writes our correspondent.

Through a misunderstanding a mistake occurred in the report of the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Earls Barton (page 438). The ringer of the fourth was Leonard Stilwell; Cyril A. Wratten rang the sixth.

Unexpected fame was bestowed on Mr. Eric T. Lee in the report of the West Country Tour of Ireland (page 443). It is there stated that Cork was his 1,000th peal. It should have read his 1,000th tower. Our apologies.

C. A. Milward is probably the first member of St. Edward's School, Oxford, to ring a quarter peal while still at school since the 1920's. Rivals in every other field, members of Radley College and St. Edward's School combine to ring together on Sunday afternoons.

IN HOSPITAL

Two Westminster stalwarts are in hospital. "Bill" Hewett, tower captain of St. Margaret's, is in St. Francis' Hospital (Ward B2), East Dulwich, S.E.22, and Reuben Sanders is in St. James' Hospital (Ward 5), Balham, S.W.12. All visitors welcome and inquiries to John Euston, 28, Fairmile Avenue, S.W.16. (STR 2377.)

RADLETT RECRUITS' FIRST QUARTER

The first anniversary of the dedication of the ring of bells at Christ Church, Radlett, Herts, was celebrated by a quarter peal on June 27th. Participating were Brian and Jill Denmark, the first of the new recruits to reach quarter peal standard, and also the Rev. John Black, the senior curate, who has been ringing a number of years and took part in the first peal on the bells. There are prospects of more recruits reaching quarter peal standard and in their training Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Dodds, of St. Albans, have been of great assistance on practice night.

GRANTLEY HALL LECTURERS

The lecturers for the next Grantley Hall Course to be held from Friday night to Sunday afternoon, July 23rd to 25th, are Mr. F. Sharpe, Mr. Wilfrid Moreton, Mr. Nolan Golden and Mr. N. Chaddock. Topics will include bell control, initial instruction, six, eight and ten-bell ringing, proof, conducting, bells, history and maintenance and handbell ringing. There will be practical ringing sessions at four different towers, including the fine ten at Ripon Cathedral. Further details from The Warden, Adult College, Grantley Hall, near Ripon, Yorkshire.

A FLOWER FESTIVAL WITH BELLS

The flower festival at Standlake, Oxon, was accompanied by bells. It was suggested that the bells should be rung all day—and how well the ringers responded! There was a quarter peal rung in the morning and another in the afternoon. Following this a peal was rung in 26 Doubles methods and finally another quarter. Between the quarters and the peal other ringing took place in which visitors from the surrounding district participated. Ringing was virtually non-stop from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. with an hour's break for lunch. Visiting ringers came from Eynsham, Faringdon, Stanford-in-the-Vale, Northmoor, Kidlington, Northleigh and Marston.

25 YEARS LATER

When Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Malings were married at Deddington, Oxfordshire, on June 15th, 1940, the local band were not able to add their greetings in the usual manner due to the ban operating on all ringing.

But 25 years later, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary, a quarter peal of Doubles was rung at the place of their marriage.

Leslie Malings was a ringer at Deddington for many years before his occupation took him to Porthkerry, South Wales, and he did much to help lay the "foundation" of the present band. And it is pleasing to note that two of Mrs. Malings' brothers (William and Joseph Cowley) still ring at the place of their birth, and took part in this quarter.

MISS PAMELA WARREN GOING TO AUSTRALIA

The departure of Miss Pamela Warren, of Hallhurst, Merrow, for Australia next week is a great loss to the Guildford Diocesan Guild and to Merrow tower in particular, where, since 1953, she has been captain and taught over 80 people to ring, including one complete band which could ring Surprise Minor within about two years. Pamela, who is in the hospital service, is taking up an appointment at the Mooropaa and District Base Hospital, Victoria, which is some 70 miles from Bendigo, her nearest tower. A farewell peal was rung at Merrow on July 1st.

A RETIREMENT

To mark his retirement from Guildford Journalism, the Editor of "The Ringing World" was entertained to lunch on July 1st by the directors of the West Surrey Group of Newspapers. Mr. White's service spans 55 years and he was presented with Martin Hurlimann's beautifully illustrated book "English Cathedrals."

VACANCIES

Mr. T. J. Locke has still vacancies in his Great Adventure II tour of Australia, which probably leaves by air on Sunday, September 5th. If he can secure the number for a charter flight there is a saving of £150 on each fare.

WRONG TOWER

When the Precentor of Leeds Parish Church Fr. Finch, was inducted to the benefice of St. James', Habergham, Burnley, several Leeds ringers turned up to ring at the adjoining parish, Holy Trinity, Habergham Eaves. They had assumed that because Mr. R. H. Dove had coined "Doves" he knew it by heart, and so did not need to check it. It is Holy Trinity that is listed with ringable bells and not St. James'.

A WASHINGTON WEDDING

Two pupils and devoted friends of Mr. Fred Price during his stay in Washington were married on June 19th. They were Miss Holly McGavock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randal McGavock Robertson, and Mr. John Putnam Chalmers. Their wedding took place at the Falls Church, Virginia. This is probably the first belfry romance in Washington Cathedral.

GROTON BOYS COMPETE

Among the nine teams competing in the Farnham District Striking Competition on the six bells at Seale on June 26th were two teams from Groton School, Massachusetts, U.S.A., who are participating in a ringing programme devised by Frank Price and John Chilcott. They enjoyed to the full the experience of competition ringing, their "B" team being placed fifth.

When the sixth team was "doing its stuff" two small aeroplanes decided to perform aerobatics and dive bombing almost immediately overhead. The judges, Messrs. W. J. Parker and D. A. R. May, had to abandon their post in the Church Hall, being unable to hear the bells. Their task was completed sitting in the choir stalls. Farnborough were winners with 15 faults and Aldershot "A" and Grayshot runners-up with 28 faults.

CHUTE FOREST BELLS

The story of Chute Forest bells and the first peal there captured ringers' imagination and the open day in this isolated Wiltshire church, dedicated to St. Mary, attracted 80 ringers, and over 30 cars lined the road during the service conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. M. Neill.

Helpers from Highclere and Burghclere were determined to make a success of the gathering. The previous Saturday the belfry and church were spring cleaned, the bells oiled, a new slider fitted to No. 3 bell, and printed direction notices placed at every junction.

Probably the church has never been so full as at least a dozen parishioners joined the ringers and their friends. Mrs. Green brought her own organ to lead the hearty singing of the three hymns. The Rector based his address on bells. He was assisted in the prayers by his lay reader and a former ringer of his from Savernake and Great Bedwyn helped to take the collection.

In the further ringing that followed, the first course of London Surprise Minor on the bells was rung. The following 33 towers were represented: Andover, Burghclere, Longparish, St. Marybourne, Tangle, Woolton Hill, Newbury, Thatcham, Midgham, Shedfield, St. Michael's, Southampton, St. Thomas', Salisbury, Christ Church, Swindon, Hampton, Middlesex, Sandhurst, Berks, Stratton St. Margaret, Wilts, Seale, Surrey, Stoke-sub-Hamdon, Somerset, Cranford, Northants, Freckenham, Suffolk, St. Mary's, Reading, Ottery St. Mary, Devon, Farnborough, Hants, Hambleton, Hants, Holt, Wilts, Cheltenham, Henbury, Bristol, Shrewton, Wilts, Highclere, Rodbourne Cheney, Savernake, Slough and Harrow-on-the-Hill.

An appeal to towers in the area for spare ropes is being made; already Andover has promised some. Can other towers follow suit so that the Highclere spares can be returned? writes Geoffrey K. Dodd, 7, White City, Woolton Hill, near Newbury.

THIRD TIME LUCKY AT WORCESTER

The peal of Grandsire Triples at St. John the Baptist, Worcester, gave great pleasure to the conductor, Mr. David Beacham, as it contained three "firsts." It was a case of being lucky at the third attempt. The first one (Grandsire Triples) was miscalled in the 11th part, and the second, one of Bob Minor, was lost in the fifth extent through a broken rope. The newcomers to peal ringing rang well and the peal was one of which they might be proud.

SPECIALS AND POLICE

Attention was called at the annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association by Mr. H. J. Sanger that special constables were now eligible for membership of the National Police Guild. He asked "specials" in the B. and W. to give the Guild their support. We feel certain that with enthusiasts like Mr. Sanger a marked increase in the Police Guild membership would be possible.

Canon Gilbert Thurlow, the Central Council's president, is prepared to preach at bell dedication services. His address at the South Lopham dedication on June 26th was one of particular appeal to the Exercise.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

A PLEASING and encouraging feature of the May meeting of the Marlborough Branch, held on the 19th at Aldbourne, was the numbers of learners present, who were given plenty of opportunities to master striking on eight bells. Visitors attended from Colerne, Melksham, Wootton Bassett, Bletchley, Urchfont and Swindon.

Interesting facts about the ancient bell foundry at Aldbourne and the Cor and Wells families who carried on the foundry were given by the Vicar (the Rev. P. F. Chapman) in his address at the service. Mr. Colin Ward, of Collingbourne, was the organist. Tea was served in the Memorial Hall, and the company were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Keen, who are both honorary members of the Branch. They were assisted by Mrs. G. Newman and Mrs. A. Palmer, and a vote of thanks to them was proposed by the Rev. R. Keeley (Ringing Master). In appreciation of the hospitality shown, a collection was taken, which, after a deduction of a charge for the use of the hall, was given towards Branch funds.

At the business meeting, with Mr. G. Newman in the chair, the next two monthly meetings were fixed for the Ogbournes and Pewsey in July and August respectively (subject to permission). The annual Branch outing will be held on the last Saturday in September in the Marlow area.

The chairman thanked all who had helped in making the afternoon such a success, and gave a special welcome to Mr. F. Cook, of Chisleton, who has just recovered from a leg ailment. Ringing was then resumed.

THE WORKING OF DEMOCRACY—

Thoughts inspired by the Oxford Guild Annual Festival

WE ARE proud, most of us, to belong to a country that is organised democratically. The will of the people is expressed, through elections, on the principle of one man, one vote, and most of our private organisations are operated on the same basis. This system can work sometimes in strange ways; for instance, a few determined and enthusiastic members of a society can get their own way if the remaining members, whatever their number, are apathetic. But we should be horrified at any suggestion of change from these democratic procedures.

It is interesting to consider some of the events of this year's annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, held in the historic surroundings of Christ Church Cathedral, Chapter House and Hall, reminders of the days when democracy was not so evident as now. The meeting considered a recommendation from the General Committee—itself a body democratically elected to give guidance to the Guild—that the annual subscription for 1966 should remain at 3/6. This recommendation was never formally put to the meeting, with proposer or seconder, but there was some vocal support for a proposal, duly seconded, that the subscription should be increased to 7/6. Also for an amendment, duly proposed and seconded, that it should be 5/-. There is considerable risk in a case like this that an amendment will be carried, though not really wanted, because it is feared that the preceding proposal will otherwise be agreed. But no. A further amendment, helped greatly by the Treasurer's assurance that no increase was necessary, was put forward to leave the subscription unaltered. This was carried by a large majority; so whether by luck or the good working of the democratic system, the recommendation of the General Committee was in fact accepted.

But what happened to a later item? It will be recalled that in the "R.W." of April 2nd it was announced that the General Committee proposed to recommend, in view of the lack of support from other Guilds for the "R.W.", that this year a grant of £5 only be paid directly to the "R.W.", and that £35 be paid into the reserve fund of the Guild and be earmarked to be used for the benefit of the paper when the need arises. Helped again by the treasurer's assurance that the Guild could afford it and, even more perhaps, by some homely remarks which Mr. H. L. Roper had travelled from Yorkshire to make, the meeting agreed, again by a large majority, to vote the full £40 again to the "R.W." As Mr. Roper said, we did not look to see what our neighbours put in the collection before we made our contribution, and we did not keep some of it back in our own bank because some others did not contribute. We gave what we could afford.

Before these contrary treatments of the committee's proposals there had been an election for four representatives on the Central Council, six names having been proposed. At the end of the meeting the names of the four elected were announced. Who they were will be seen in the official report of the meeting, but a democratic election has done again what has happened in ringing circles before and what, on a larger scale, it did to a great Prime Minister in 1945. Mr. A. D. Barker, the Guild treasurer—the man to whom is due more than to any other the fact that the subscription need not be raised, that the Guild can afford £40 every year for the "R.W." and £50 each to several restoration schemes in Guild towers, who was even able to assure the meeting that if desired a printed report could be afforded every year instead of in alternate ones—was not among those elected!

A. D. B. has been a member of the Central Council since 1924 and has represented the Oxford Guild since 1936. The Council can, if it wishes, ensure next year that its longest-serving member is made an honorary member—Council debates will be the tamer without his "bark." But he will no longer represent the Guild he has served so faithfully for so long. Such is democracy and we must accept its results, though sometimes with regret.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL

STORY OF CONTINUED VITALITY.—OVER £3,000 IN GENERAL FUNDS.—SECOND DEPUTY MASTER WANTED.—CHANGES IN CENTRAL COUNCIL REPRESENTATION.—URGE FOR INCREASED SUBSCRIPTION DEFERRED.—£40 DONATION TO "THE RINGING WORLD."

INTO the animated picture of Oxford on July 3rd, with thousands of overseas visitors, was fitted in the Festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild centred on Christ Church, but later heralding its presence from most of the many towers in the city and the surrounding countryside. The programme was true to tradition; at the service in Christ Church the robed ringer-choristers, headed by the Guild's own banner, made an impressive entry. The Master, Canon C. Elliot Wigg, conducted the service, the Deputy Master, Mr. Frederick Sharpe, read the lesson, and the sermon was preached by the Bishop of Dorchester from one of the Psalms for the day: "I will thank the Lord for giving me warning". The Bishop maintained that bellringers and preachers had three things in common, viz., they proclaimed the glory of God, as bellringing was an art, and art expressed to the best of their ability the glory of God; God was the Lord of all life, interested in every detail; what they proclaimed must be lived out in their lives.

The annual meeting followed with the Master in the chair supported by his officers. In his welcome the Master regretted the absence of Mr. T. W. White through sudden indisposition and was particularly cordial in greeting Mr. Russell Young and boys from Groton School, U.S.A., Captain Poyntz (former Deputy Master) and Mr. and Mrs. H. Leslie Roper.

The officers' reports were adopted on the proposition of Mr. F. G. Edmans seconded by Mr. D. Wheeler. The Master made a point that the general pattern of Guild life and activities continued to develop on very satisfactory lines. The innovation of the Guild Striking Competition proved most successful; to those branches that held back he said "Please join in the competition; you will find it most enjoyable and instructive."

MEMBERSHIP DOWN

Miss M. R. Cross (the hon. secretary) gave the total membership as 1,546 (1,463 ringing, 29 life, 54 honorary), one branch had not sent in details of membership and this would give an absolute total of around 1,650. Membership for 1963 was 1,888—the decline being partly due to younger members leaving home for other parts of the world. Fifteen members were lost by death, including Messrs. H. C. Sear, H. C. Edwards, C. G. White and S. J. Orchard. Later in the meeting 262 new members were reported as having been elected during the year. Restoration work had or was being carried out at Magdalen College, New College, Sutton Courtenay, Drayton, Colleshill, Stowe and Northmoor.

The new hon. librarian, the Rev. E. B. Wood, reported that the library was now housed in Mapledurham Vicarage and the books occupied some 20 feet of shelving.

Mr. A. D. Barker's report on finances showed that the general funds of the Guild now amounted to £3,971, of which £1,772 was in the Restoration Fund.

ELECTIONS

Canon Wigg was the only nominee for Master and Mr. F. Sharpe as Deputy Master. Mr. Sharpe considered because of the amount of work there should be two Deputy Masters—a senior and a junior. It was a great advantage for the person who gave advice on church restoration to be an officer of the Guild. He would not let the Guild down but he wanted some assistance.

The Master suggested that a small sub-committee should explore possibilities and find someone suitable.

Mr. Edmans asked that the matter should be on the agenda for the autumn meeting, the Master concurred and Mr. Hunt reminded the meeting that the first question was the alteration of rule, then filling the post. There was applause to Mrs. Rance's suggestion that officers should serve for a limited period. The subject will be on the agenda for the autumn meeting.

Other officers: Hon. general treasurer, hon. general secretary and hon. librarian were re-elected. Ernest Francis and Son, Reading, continue as hon. auditors.

C.C. REPRESENTATIVES

The biggest surprise of the meeting came with the election of the four Central Council representatives. The retiring representatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barker, Messrs. P. Walker and David Smith were renominated. Other nominations were Messrs. N. J. Diserens, Frank Price and William Butler. A ballot took place with Messrs. Alec Gammon and Alan Pink as tellers. The result was declared after the luncheon, with three new representatives: Elected—Messrs. P. Walker, F. Price, N. J. Diserens and W. Butler.

GRANTS OF £50

Grants generally for restoration work were of £50. Regarding Lambourne, Mr. Sharpe said he had vetted the specification and it was now in order. The majority of the population was connected with the racing stables, being Irish and R.C.s. Mr. Lawrenson said they had now got some possible learners and if they helped them there was a possibility that it might become a centre of ringing. £50 grant carried nem. con.

Reporting on Ludgershall, Oxon, Mr. Sharpe said the bells went so badly that the ringers rang in neighbouring towers. The work would cost about £2,000. The previous Friday the people of Ludgershall awoke to find they had no church roof; thieves had stolen all the lead in the night.—£50 agreed to.

Miss Hague read a clear detail of work needed in Old Windsor costing £1,070. They hoped to start the bells next year.—Mr. Norsworthy proposed £50.—Carried.

Sutton Courtenay had rehung bells in a new frame, new fittings and recast tenor. "Very satisfactory," was Mr. Sharpe's report.—£50 granted.

Stowe was reported on by Mr. Sear. The proposal was to rehang bells in a steel frame, new headstocks and wheels, costing £1,500. Over £500 in hand and covenants to bring in £150 per annum. Parish has also to face £1,500 work on the fabric.—£50 granted.

Wingrave and Easthampstead to be submitted to autumn meeting.

SUBSCRIPTION DISCUSSION

When the General Committee's recommendation that the subscription remain at 3s. 6d. was before the meeting, Mrs. Rance felt strongly it should be raised to 7s. 6d.

Mr. A. D. Barker: There is no need to increase the subscription yet. We manage very nicely on 3s. 6d. a year. We can almost afford a printed report every year on this sum.

Mrs. Rance pressed her point by moving a motion to this effect, which was seconded by Mr. Parker. An amendment for a 5s. subscription was moved by Mr. W. Birmingham (so as not to live from hand to mouth), and seconded by Mr. Castle.

Miss Cross suggested an adjournment for lunch, and when the meeting was resumed a second amendment proposed by Mr. Alan Pink was carried: "That the meeting supports the committee's recommendation for this year and refers the question of raising the subscription to the committee for the annual meeting next year."

"THE RINGING WORLD"

There was another debate after lunch over the committee's recommendation: "In view of the lack of support from their Guilds for 'The Ringing World' that this year a grant of £5 only be paid directly to 'The Ringing World' and that £35 be paid into the Reserve Fund of the Guild and be 'earmarked' to be used for the benefit of that paper when the need arises."

Mr. H. L. Roper said he had come all the way from Yorkshire to talk about this. He was distressed when he saw in "The Ringing World" the recommendation because it rather queered his pitch when he was trying to get the Yorkshire Association on its toes to make a similar donation. Unfortunately the Yorkshire meeting was held the day after publication of the recommendation and people on the platform said: "Huh! Your Oxford Guild has got tired of making this contribution." So that was that. They were very good chaps and they might come round to it, but it was very distressing.

Mr. Roper said he did not understand the resolution and asked the Guild as before to give £40 to "The Ringing World."

Mr. A. D. Barker said he was very much in favour of giving £40, and they could afford it. If he had known in advance, they could have had a printed report this year, as they could afford it. They had over £200 in the bank and the Reserve Fund was doing well. There was a secret source of income which he was using to build that fund up and it was not far short of £100.

Mr. W. Butler: When this came up some years ago it was as a temporary expedient. In the five or six years this has been paid to "The Ringing World" it should have by now been able to put its house in order. "This method of doing it shows that we have had them in mind, but we have other people to help as well."

Mr. W. Hunt regarded the £40 donation as "something of a habit." "I think it is time the Oxford Diocesan Guild was not the only Guild that supports 'The Ringing World' in this way. . . . I think we should give the original £40 and that a motion should be put to the Central Council that all Associations should be encouraged to give to this magazine."

An amendment to give £40 was moved by Mr. Roper and seconded by Mr. Barker, and carried.

Mr. W. G. Wilson: On behalf of "The Ringing World," the committee thanks the Guild for this gesture for this reason: If "The Ringing World" has £40 extra income and occasion arises, it can give you another two pages for that money. But it cannot do that with £35 in the bank.

A course for leaders is to be held at Charney Manor from November 5th to 7th. The hon. secretary said it would cost about £4 a head for keep alone. She asked the meeting to give a grant, if necessary, of £15 towards the expenses of another lecturer.—Agreed.

The vote of thanks was proposed by the Deputy Master, who mentioned in particular the Dean and the helpfulness of the verger. Also mentioned were friends from Winslow—the choir and organist and the steward of Christ Church.

THE LUNCHEON

The luncheon was in the hall of Christ Church with the Master in the chair. The toast of "Church and State" was proposed by Mr. Leach and replied to by the Archdeacon of Oxford (the Ven. C. Witton-Davies). David Sturge, of Radley College, proposed "The Visitors," and Warren Motley, of Groton School, in his reply, thanked especially Mr. Frank Price, who had spent many hours in arranging the tour.

Mr. W. Coles, in proposing "The Oxford Diocesan Guild," said he had had the privilege of reading their wonderful report and it contained 55 names of members of the Guild who had served for 50 years and 11 for 60 years—a most remarkable achievement.

The Master, in his reply, said there was a record collection that day for the Guild's Restoration Fund of £9 14s. He was very glad to have established at least one new record on this happy occasion.

Central Council President at Lopham Dedication

A LARGE number of ringers attended the rededication of South Lopham, Norfolk, bells on June 26th and heard a scholarly address from Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, after he had performed the act of rededication.

"We see here," said Canon Thurlow, "many signs of events in which England has shared. This splendid tower speaks so obviously of that great race from the north, the Normans, as we called them, who added England to their list of conquests in 1066, and who were busily building in so many lands great churches, which still stand proudly after nearly 900 years.

"William the Conqueror granted this parish to the Norman Roger Bigod, Earl of Norfolk, and his son, William, built this tower in the time of Henry I. None of our later towers are really more remarkable than this Norman achievement of 850 years ago. The tradition of ringing bells in English churches was already over 400 years old when this tower was built, and Lopham was probably hearing bells from this place when the tower was new—perhaps they rang them muffled when Earl William perished in a shipwreck returning from Normandy in 1119.

EARLY BELLS

"There is no doubt that the unmusical Norman bells were replaced by others, so fine that we are hearing them today sounding as well as when cast 500 years ago. The fifth bears the inscription 'Virginis Egregie Vocor Campana' ('I am called the bell of Mary, the illustrious Virgin'). It was cast probably by William Woodwarde, a bellfounder in London 500 years ago.

"To realise the achievement involved (remember this was long before Caxton brought us printing), it was during that dark time when England was being impoverished by follies like the 100 Years War and the Wars of the Roses, when roads were very poor, and William's new bell had to be brought by sea and river as far as possible and thence by ox-cart with great labour.

"Later Richard Brasyer, of Norwich, sent two bells, each dedicated to the honour of the Virgin Mary. Over two centuries later, Thomas Gardiner, of Sudbury, cast two in 1725 and 1733; the six in 1831 when William Dobson cast the tenor at the Downham foundry. Our friends at Taylor's have just recast this into a splendid new bell.

ART UNITES THOUSANDS

"Sad times came to Holy Church. This place was robbed of many treasures and some incredibly stupid and narrow minded persons had the effrontery to file the words about the B.V.M. off the three oldest bells, so that they can be read only with difficulty. But happier things were happening also. Four hundred years ago the ancient art of ringing was beginning to develop into something far more exciting, the art of change ringing, in which each ringer causes his bell to pursue its own individual path amongst the others, the whole building up into an ever-changing kaleidoscope of sound. The pursuit of this art unites many thousands of men and women, boys and girls, of all types and ages. Long confined to the British Isles, the art of change ringing has in recent years spread in U.S.A., Canada, Africa and Australia, so that we ringers can find friends and fellow ringers in Washington, Vancouver, Cape Town, Melbourne and many other places besides around the world. . . .

"Many today think they have grown up so that they no longer need God. But the truth is that most of these people have merely grown up out of old-fashioned ideas of God. Life demands a reason and a purpose and an ideal as much as ever it did. What we have to realise is that the unseen power is still there, but we must be careful always to proclaim Him in terms which every level of intellect can accept and which keep up to date with developing knowledge. Take an example from our bells. Their sound appeals to the simplest minds yet the musical, mechanical and mathematical intricacies of their tuning, hanging and ringing probe the depths of the deepest intellects. The God they proclaim can inspire the simplest yet humble the greatest today as ever and the voice of many angels still proclaims the throne, the reign of everlasting love."

EDGAR SHEPHERD WRITES OF WARMINSTER OUTING

Our Warminster outing has for some years been distinguished by three things—fine weather, an excellent picnic lunch prepared with loving care by Mr. and Mrs. E. Norris, and an invitation to tea at Haslemere by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Pearson. The first two conditions attended us again this year, but the third was not possible. It was with great regret that we learned of the illness of our kind friend Mr. Pearson, and we were relieved to learn that he is now recovering.

We began our ringing, rather shakily, at Bishop's Waltham, but speedily warmed to some really good striking on this pleasant eight. The following run to Petersfield whetted appetites, and down by the lake, surrounded by a great crowd of witnesses in the form of ducks, sparrows and cheeky chaffinches, we attacked with enthusiasm the spacious fare so genially dispensed by Mr. and Mrs. Norris.

The run into West Sussex was truly delightful, and the ringing at Warnham was of a very high quality. Here, as in all this part of the South, are constant and striking reminders of the great days when Sussex led the ringing Exercise for number and quality of peals. Here we found predominant the name of that fine old ringer and singer, Henry Burstow, a great character, who knew, it is said, 420 different songs and was prepared to sing them on the slightest provocation. He it was too, we have been told, who memorised his methods trudging the Sussex lanes and reciting each blow of the work to the accompaniment of the measured tread of his feet. One could wish that many more today would learn their work so thoroughly.

Tea had been arranged for us at Mary's Cake House, Haslemere. Mrs. Pearson looked in to see us, and Mr. Pearson was able to come out of his house to wave us farewell as we left. Back into Hampshire we found at Ropley a very acceptable ring of six, and a typical village cricket match that overflowed into the village inn just at the time that we did, and we were rather a surprise to the village. Emerging from the general conversation the following was overheard:

Local resident: "Who are these people?"

Landlady: "They are bellringers, but they are very well behaved."

And so back home again, with supper on the moorland above Stockbridge, and a 60-mile run westward to meet the growing night, a great contentment mingling in our minds with gratitude for all that people have done to give us this pleasure.

CLERICAL RINGERS AT CHARING

ARISING from a suggestion during Guild week in April at Nottingham, two clerical peals of Major were organised by the Rev. Peter Robbins for July 1st and 2nd. Unfortunately the president, the Rev. R. D. St. J. Smith, had to go into hospital and had to withdraw from the gathering and Dick Longridge responded to an urgent appeal to make up the band.

Worse was to follow, for as the members converged on Kent a phone call from Southampton brought news that Canon Felstead had been taken ill and could not come. The remainder arrived at Charing around midday on Thursday and, fortified by a sumptuous meal, decided to go for Cambridge Minor at Little Chart instead of Yorksire at Chilham—Stanley Evans kindly standing down. This proved a wise move and a good peal was scored, in spite of the fact that visiting ringers had had a smashing time there the previous Saturday, and that two stays were missing and one severely cracked! The tuneful six at Charing were rung to several methods.

Bed was forbidden, however, until the handbells had been put to good use. Meanwhile a discussion was taking place on better methods of securing clergy for peals. The most popular idea to emerge was the formation of a group ministry of clerical bellringers centred preferably on somewhere like Chewton Mendip! Surprise was expressed that such an obvious reform had not found its way into the Paul Report.

With some difficulty Tony Clayton was contacted, and he nobly agreed to stand in the attempt for Double Norwich at Harrietsham on Friday morning, but this was unsuccessful, and time and the inexorable demands of a funeral prevented a second start. A quarter peal of Stedman was duly rung instead, and the local Press informed of the change of fortune, having unwisely taken details of the "peal" before the start.

Our thanks are, due to Peter and Betty Robbins and their family for their splendid hospitality. This was quite a new venture and many hope that it may become a regular addition to Guild Week.

TOTTERNHOE, BEDS

Two coaches of ringers and friends took part in the Totternhoe ringers' annual outing on the last Saturday in May in the very attractive Kent and Sussex border country.

Westerham, with its historic associations with Sir Winston Churchill and General Wolfe, was our first stop. Climbing out of the valley in which Westerham snuggles, we reached Withyham, where a pleasant touch of Stedman was called round.

Lunch in the spa town of Tunbridge Wells had an added attraction as it was the Round Table's rag day; needless to say the collecting tins were passed round!

Lamberhurst was where we scored our first touch of Surprise London, which went very well. The difficult six at Ticehurst proved a problem as, much to our annoyance, we could not strike the bells at all. Any discomfiture caused at the tower was, however, soon remedied by a marvellous tea at the Bell Hotel.

The last tower was at the really beautiful village of Penshurst, where the rhododendrons and wisteria were at their loveliest. Here a fair day's ringing, greatly overshadowed by the grandeur of the countryside, ended.

Thanks are expressed to the incumbents of towers visited and to John Scott, who always manages to organise a first-rate outing.

THE BELLS OF WALSINGHAM

Dear Sir,—It was most interesting to read in "Belfry Gossip" ("Ringing World," June 25th) of the proposed restoration of Walsingham bells. There are three sets of bells in Walsingham, and all of them are unringable. The famous Anglican shrine church has a chime of nine (tenor 1½ cwt. in C sharp), which can be heard ringing Angelus every day. They hang "dead" in a small brick tower and are fairly pleasant at a distance.

A short walk away is St. Peter's Church, in what is officially Great Walsingham, which is campanalogically most interesting. On the base of the tower stand the three bells installed in the tower when it was first built. They have never been recast and retain their original headstocks. There are no nuts on the bolts securing them; the straps are secured by washers and "feathers," which are thin pieces of metal driven through the tops of the straps to secure them. The tenor has lost one canon-lug (I couldn't find the stump—perhaps it came out with one too few) and has been bolted through the crown—surely a very early example of this. There seems very little likelihood of these three interesting bells being rehung, but they are there for all to see. The treble is inscribed in Gothic type: "Sanctus Georgius ora pro nobis"; second, "+ Willmus"; Siliden : Me : Fecid : +"; tenor (39½ inches diameter), same as second but no terminal cross. Altogether a most interesting mediæval trio.

The bells of which mention is made are those of Little Walsingham. They are a heavy five (tenor about 20 cwt.). As many people will know, this church, one of Norfolk's very finest, was entirely gutted by fire in 1961. The fire stopped at the tower and only the bell ropes went up in flames. The bells hang in two tiers, the four below being in an ancient frame of a type very common in East Anglia and other places in olden times, consisting of four pits round a central watchway. There are substantial cills and heads, except in the S.E. corner, where the head of the fourth pit has been cut away. The vertical members consist of braced centre- and corner-posts. The treble is raised above the others in a separate frame, over the hatchway, as at Godmersham, Kent, etc.

The fittings are all badly weathered; the bells have "feathers" instead of nuts securing the canon-straps, while the frame is badly decayed. Four bells are swing chimed (rather a risky operation judging from the state of the fittings) and one "clocked." The clappers are all in the last stages of wear. The bells must be unique in having brand new ringing ropes of proper type but being totally unringable themselves.

The bells are inscribed:

1 and 2: "Anno Domini 1959 IB."
3: "1675 E T."

Tenor and 4: "Walsingham Parva, July 1 Anno Domini 1691. James Bartlett made me."

The treble and second are by John Brend, and the third by Edward Tooke, of Norwich.

I understand that the bells were rung about 30-40 years ago, but from the condition of the fittings now it is hard to believe. Let us hope that the day is not far off when the strains of Minor will summon present day pilgrims to Walsingham's magnificently rebuilt parish church.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID L. CAWLEY.

Hunstanton, Norfolk.

READING UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

For a day's outing in Hampshire on June 28th, Reading University Society were joined by friends from Southampton University.

The towers visited were Odiham, Oakley, Overton, Whitchurch and Andover, and ringing ranged from call changes to Stedman Triples and Spliced Minor.

The glorious weather helped to make the day most enjoyable and a profitable time was had by all.
