ARRESTED AND RELEASED

A most enjoyable (men only) outing was held on October 9th by the Bristol City Branch. Ringing at Bradford-on-Avon and Bath Abbey included London Major and Yorkshire Royal before the party adjourned to the Grove Hotel for a "Rugby Club style" social evening. Those who know Bristol ringers will probably guess which one of our Branch officers had the misfortune to be arrested by the Bath Police on his way back to the coach. He was, however, soon released when he had convinced them that he was not the suspicious character they were looking for.

A WORCESTERSHIRE IDYLL

Upton-on-Severn, a delightful half-timbered town, was the venue for the Western Branch at its meeting on September 11th. The bells, originally cast for the tower of the old church which remains in ruins on the river bank, now hang beneath a fine lofty spire in the 19th century church. A very pleasant eight, mainly by Rudhall, the bells were rung to standard methods during the afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rector and the organ played by the Precentor of Worcester Cathedral. At the meeting several new members were elected and in the evening some good ringing included Cambridge Major. P.C.

CHESTERFIELD DISTRICT IN EAST RIDING

DESPITE the rather poor response from certain towers, the District's third annual outing—to the Beverley-Hull area of Yorkshire—proved one of the best yet with a splendid selection of bells, two really good meals and beautiful weather. Following a quick run round the district to pick up ringers from Chesterfield, Clay Cross, North Wingfield, Scarcliffe, Bolsover and Staveley, good time was made up north so that the first tower, Goole, was reached on time.

After meeting our former District secretary, Mr. A. B. Cooper, and his wife, a pleasant hour was spent ringing the easy-going 15 cwt. eight before journeying on to Howden, where one of the finest eight in Yorkshire was enjoyed. The heavy six at Kirk Ella were the first bells tried after lunch in Hull, and as this is where Mr. Cooper now rings we were very much on show.

Although it took some time to get used to the, by contrast, very light six at Walkington, some of the best ringing of the day was obtained here before adjourning to the nearby Church Hall for tea, which had been prepared by the local band. Having done justice to a magnificent spread we made our way to the last tower, St. Mary's, Beverley, where the grand 35 cwt. ten were a joy to ring, a course of Double Norwich on the back eight going quite well. After a short look round the nearby Minster the homeward journey was started. Chesterfield being reached shortly before midnight.

Thanks are extended to all tower captains and clergy of the towers visited and to Mr. Cooper for making almost all the arrangements.

MRS. EDITH FLETCHER

An Appreciation

Having known Mrs. Fletcher, and as one grew older to know her and affectionately call her "Edith," one could only admire and respect her both inside and outside the belfry. As stated in the "Obituary," Mrs. Fletcher was the founder—and I say this in its truest sense—of the Ladies' Guild. She worked tremendously hard in the early years to see ladies "accepted" in the belfries of our churches, and when she gave up the position of secretary she was proud to hold the position of president, knowing that almost without exception this was now the case.

Her outstanding achievements in the ringing chamber as Edith Parker and later as Edith Fletcher have not really been rivalled, as one rarely finds a lady capable of ringing the heavy bells and conducting the peals. This, of course, Edith did many times.

One of my proudest moments being in her company—although no doubt sad for her—was at the dedication of the new peal board at St. Clement Danes' to mark the occasion of the peal of Stedman Caters rung by an all ladies' band and which had been destroyed during the war. I was asked to take her place with the rest of the band as she was not well enough to ring. I really felt honoured.

No doubt others more eloquent than I will have more to say of her untiring work for the Central Council at the side of her husband. They were for many years at the "hub of the Exercise" and will long be remembered for all their efforts. To George, everyone will join with me in extending our heartfelt sympathy and hope that thoughts of his many friends will help him in his time of loss.

JILL STANFORTH.

NEW VENTURE AT WITHERCOMBE RALEIGH

As a result of a suggestion made earlier in the year, Evensong at Withercombe Raleigh on October 10th took the form of a ringers' service. The eight bells were rung, from five o'clock, to rounds, call changes, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob by ringers from various towers. Shortly before the service was due to commence, the Vicar (the Rev. J. P. Henton) climbed the tower steps to welcome the encouraging number of ringers present.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, and members of the local band read the lessons and acted as sidesmen. The organ was most ably played by Mr. Nigel Shepherd, also a member of the local band. In place of the anthem there was handbell ringing, including "Whittington's" on ten from the back of the church and Grandsire Doubles from the front. During the following prayers the Vicar dedicated two peal boards.

More ringing took place after the service, the bells being lowered at eight o'clock. Mr. Frank Mack's light ring of six was then available. The Vicar hopes that this will become an annual event, and for the benefit of ringers who may be on holiday in the Exmouth area full details will be announced in "The Ringing World."

EAST GRINSTEAD DISTRICT GUILD

Surrey and Hampshire were visited by East Grinstead District Guild this year.

The good octave in the sturdy tower at Farnham was put to good use until the ball of the tenor clapper fell off. After some Minor on the front six we were away to Odiham to "enjoy" rock and roll on the six bells. New ropes, with extra long tail ends, beat even the experts and the only one to get joy was the organiser, the hasty exit putting his timetable right. Some good ringing was had at St. Michael's, Basingstoke, but up the road, at All Saints', Caters was something to remember.

The sun was shining and the gliders were aloft at Lasham as we made our way to Alton. Everyone enjoyed the fine eight, the highlight being a superb course of Yorkshire. After tea we set out for Petworth with its good Gillett eight. It was surprising how fast these bells could be rung, although London Major was a bit hesitant. All too soon our time was up and the day ended with the usual stop for refreshment and excursion round country lanes to get everyone home. C.A.B.

THEY RANG OUT THE GOOD NEWS

After their wedding at St. Michael's Church, Yorktown, on October 9th, Miss Gwendolen Edith Marshall and Mr. Robert Ernest Williamson ascended the belfry to ring out the good news. Both are popular members of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. This was followed by 1,260 Grandsire Triples by Miss C. Williamson 1, R. Bath 2, D. Elsmore 3, M. Church 4, R. Clist 5, W. Parker 6, T. Page (conductor) 7, F. Farr 8. There was 30 minutes general ringing before the service, at which the Rev. A. W. Franklin officiated, and during the signing of the register Miss Gloria Lias (a ringer) sang Psalm 23.

Gwendolen was married in a dress of white nylon over silk with a train and a short three-layered veil held by a headdress of roses and lilies of the valley. Five of her nieces were the bridesmaids, and Mr. David C. Williamson the best man. After the reception at the Hawley Hotel the couple left for their honeymoon touring England and Scotland.

TRURO GUILD'S AUTUMN FESTIVAL

Over 70 ringers attended the autumn festival of the Penzance Branch held at Camborne on October 16th, when other towers open were Crowan, Gwinear and Tuckingmill.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon G. F. Sandfield, and the ladies provided a delicious and ample tea. At the short business meeting a minute's silence was observed for Mr. W. H. Southard, of Truro Cathedral, a vice-president of the Guild, and Mr. Willey, an active ringer in the Helston area.

LIFE AT PETERSFIELD

Petersfield bells have had a silent period but Ken Tipper was not inactive during this period—recruiting and training youngsters. Two 12-year-olds have now rung their first quarters and there are at present six more young people learning.

AND SHALL TRELAWNEY DIE?

By CYRIL A. WRATTEN

THANKS to Parson Hawker's famous lines, the name of Trelawney and its association with Cornwall is well known to generations of school boys and girls. And although few could tell you just what Trelawney had done to deserve his fame. And I wonder how many Cornishmen today could say what association the name has with change ringing in the Duchy? For association it has, and a strong one, too, although the name is that of a later Trelawney than Hawker had in mind.

"Here's twenty thousand Cornishmen Will know the reason why"

Harry Reginald Trelawney was the second son of Sir William Salusbury Trelawney, Bart. He was born on December 12th, 1826, at Harewood, which lies in a loop of the River Tamar just outside Calstock in eastern Cornwall. He started his education at Ottery St. Mary, in Devon, and it was while he was there that he learned to handle a bell. Later he went to Westminster and from there he went to the Royal Military College at Sandhurst.

In 1845, at the age of 19, he joined the Army, subsequently serving in the 36th Regiment and in the 6th Inniskillen Dragoons. Throughout the love of ringing which he had acquired while at school in Devon remained with him, and a brief sketch of his life published in the early 1880's records that

"... and so very early in life he learned to be proficient in handling bells; as he proved one day, when his regiment was quartered at York, by going into the belfry of the Minster and raising the tenor single-handed."

Eight years later, in 1853, he retired from the Army but without completely severing his connection with it, for the same year he was appointed Adjutant of the Royal Cornwall Rangers. (He became the regiment's Colonel some 20 years later.) His ringing at this time was still limited to what "Church Bells" used contemptuously to call "ups and downs and rounds and rounds," but in about the year 1863 a copy of Hubbard's "Campanalogia" came into his possession. This opened a new world to him. The intricacies of scientific change ringing fascinated him, and he at once set out to master them.

With no help other than that to be found in the pages of Hubbard's book he succeeded by sheer perseverance in teaching himself and the local band to ring a six-score of Grandsire at Calstock. This would probably have been in 1864 or 1865, and was thought to be the first change ringing in the county. The band continued to practise regularly, and on June 24th, 1866, Trelawney and four of the local men, aided by William Banister, from Devonport, rang a 720 of Grandsire Minor on Calstock bells.

Not content with his increasing proficiency on tower bells—or perhaps inspired by his success—Colonel Trelawney induced his wife and his four children to take up change ringing on handbells with him. Each morning they practised regularly for half an hour, each ringing two bells. And again success crowned their efforts.

On January 28th, 1869, the Rev. H. T. Ellacombe, then Rector of Clyst St. George, gave a lecture on "Bells and Ringing" at the Athenæum in Exeter. Sir Stafford Northcote took the chair, and the hall was crowded. To illustrate various aspects of the talk, the Rev. Mr. Ellacombe had the assistance of "The Harewood Band"—in other words, Colonel Trelawney and his family. Four of them started by ringing a touch of Grandsire Triples, following this by a plain course of Stedman Triples. But the highlight of the evening was a course of Grandsire Cinques rung by

Edith Trelawney (aged 13)	3-4
Beatrice Trelawney (aged 14)	5-6
Mrs. Trelawney	7-8
Colonel Trelawney	9-10
Harry Trelawney (aged 10)	11-12

Even today, nearly a hundred years later, with change ringing flourishing throughout the country and with many ringing families in the Exercise, this is a feat it would be hard to equal. (Perhaps the nearest would have been the Johnson family at Hinton-on-the-Green just before the First World War, but I don't know that even they aspired to ringing Cinques.)

In 1870 the Trelawneys moved from Harewood to Poltair, near Penzance, where the Colonel was able to continue his ringing on the new eight at St. Mary's. In November of the following year the "Penzance Society of Scientific Change-ringers," together with Colonel Trelawney and his family, paid a visit to Plympton St. Mary in Devon, where they rang touches of Grandsire Triples on the heavy eight.

"Much joy and satisfaction were evinced" (says the "Church Bells" account) "by the more intelligent of the population at this unusual occurrence (scientific change ringing being but little practised in the district), which was greatly enhanced in the evening by a handbell entertainment at the Parish Schoolroom by the same band, in conjunction with one from Devonport under the direction of Mr. W. Banister, before a fashionable audience, who by their oft-repeated applause manifested a high degree of joyful gratification. These social meetings contrast very favourably with the unseemly gatherings of prize-ringing contests, and reflect the utmost credit to the promoters, Colonel Trelawney and J. Woolcombe, Esq."

Under Colonel Trelawney's leadership, the band at St. Mary's progressed, and in 1873 rang a half-peal of Grandsire Triples on their bells. However, the Colonel apparently rang few full peals, probably because of the difficulties entailed. One I have, however, been able to discover was on September 13th, 1866, when he rang the 6th at Lewisham to 5,040 Grandsire Triples. Another member of the band was his friend William Banister.

When Colonel Trelawney died and what other achievements he added in later years I do not know. He was doubtless instrumental in the formation of the Truro Diocesan Guild in 1897, having been able to see the effects of Troyte, Ellacombe and Banister's work in forming the first of the county Guilds in Devon 23 years earlier. Perhaps someone with closer connections with Cornish ringing than I have will be able to fill this intriguing gap.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

QUEENSLAND — A Social Triumph But No First Peal On Bells

THE eight tourists who, on September 29th, made the 750-mile journey to Maryborough, Queensland—a plane journey to Brisbane and a second to Maryborough—had undoubtedly a social triumph and the night spent in this town of houses on stilts and galvanised iron roofs was one to be remembered. The public interest was widespread. Appropriately, "The Maryborough Chronicle" carried a banner "A Touch From Across the Sea" to a three-column article which focused attention on the party. In 1934 Maryborough was left in the cold; because of this the visitors were doubly welcome.

Waiting at the airport were Messrs. E. Yurel, L. Brittle and E. M. James and we were at once transported to St. Paul's Church to bow to the demands of Press and television. As we ascended the detached tower a television man, perched at the top of the stairs, took individual pictures of ringers. Shots were also taken of the ringing and a somewhat perilous business of the bells revolving.

The afternoon was spent at a sugar cane factory, viewing the whole process from cane to sacks of sugar being removed by rail. The preliminary ringing gave evidence that the bells would require attention before a peal could be attempted. The nine bells were cast by Mears and Stainbank in 1888 with a tenor of 21 cwt. 4 lb. Accordingly, Pat Cannon, Wilf Williams and Mark Damerell made a special visit to the tower. Pat and Wilf worked on the tenor, which had not been rung for two years. It was on ball bearings but was not true to the frame and one of the bearings moved as it revolved. Mark greased the others, which were in a fair condition.

The Rector (Canon L. W. Grayson) and the churchwardens arranged a dinner at 6 p.m. at the Hotel Central. This was a sumptuous repast and a speech of welcome was delivered by the Mayor (Ald. R. Stafford), to which Mr. T. J. Lock replied. It was not until 7.25 p.m. that a departure was made from the dining hall to the tower for the serious business of the day. The heat had given way to a cool evening.

PEAL STARTED AT 7.40 P.M.

Again there was a bevy of Press and more television cameras to greet the ringers and outside a crowd had assembled to hear the ringing. Among local ringers who fraternised were Messrs. D. and E. Hurford, N. Turner and Mrs. A. Vollmerhouse. Finally, at 7.40, a start was made on a peal of Plain Bob Major. The company stood: Len Stilwell 1, Arthur Mason 2, Anne Horsford 3, Rev. Malcolm Melville 4, T. J. Lock (conductor) 5, Mark Damerell 6, Wilfred Williams 7, A. P. Cannon 8. Some 12 courses were rung with a good beat and then, after 55 minutes, a miscall occurred and Tom reluctantly called "Stand." A touch of Stedman Triples followed.

Eight different families entertained the ringers, who assembled at the church the next morning and were conducted to the airport, where farewells were said.

Those left at home spent a very pleasant day on the beaches of the North Peninsula, being entertained by Margaret Goodyer, Enid Roberts and Sue Wright. In the evening they attended the practice at Parramatta after being the guests to dinner of Ralph Clark and Sandra.

A SLIPPED ROPE

October dawned, and with every hope of making a good start the team motored to Parramatta, about 15 miles out. These bells were cast in 1860 by Mears and Stainbank, the tenor being 10 cwt. 1 qr. 5 lb. This is a popular church for weddings, and the ringers devote the whole of the proceeds of wedding fees to the Bell Fund. The object is the recasting of the six and the addition of two more bells. The attempt was Minor in four methods (Cambridge, Oxford, Kent and Plain Bob) and a very good start was made.

Towards the end of the sixth extent when that "in the bag" feeling was beginning to develop, Tom Lock, who had selected the difficult fifth bell, had the mortification of the rope slipping the wheel. It hung tantalisingly in the air and would not come down. Participating in this gallant failure were Anne Horsford 1, Ralph Clark 2, A. J. Lancefield 3, L. Stilwell 4, T. J. Lock 5, A. P. Cannon (conductor) 6.

Two trips were arranged for the others. One was to the Blue Mountains, a beauty spot of worldwide fame which thrilled all with their grandeur, and the other was to the Jenolean Caves, which rank as one of the principal tourist attractions in Australia and were discovered in 1838.

TWO GOOD RINGERS FOR TASMANIA

Mr. Frank J. Leë, of Newcastle Cathedral band, who is a professional engineer of Jesmond, and Miss Elaine Murcott, of St. Paul's, Whitley Bay, who is editorial secretary to the Durham and Newcastle Association, photographed after their wedding at St. Mary's Church, Monkseaton, on September 4th. They are to make their home in Georgetown, Tasmania, in November.

The bride did Trojan work to bring up to date the Association's peal book, which was some 300 peals behind. She is a prominent member of the Newcastle peal band and has rung some 80 peals, mostly Surprise. A peal attempt of London was lost on the day of the wedding, but a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung later.

TOM LOCK TELLS HIS STORY TO THE MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION

Although St. Augustine's, Kilburn, still has five years to go before reaching its centenary, this beautiful church is an outstanding example of the architecture of the Gothic Revival at its best and has been called "the Cathedral of North West London." Despite the erection of blocks of modern flats in the near vicinity, the tall imposing spire can still be seen from many angles.

The highlight of the North and East District meeting at this church on October 16th was a resumé by Mr. T. J. Lock of his experiences on Great Adventure II to Australia and New Zealand, which were most interesting and instructive.

Nearly forty ringers took part in the ringing during the afternoon and evening, although only just over half that number sat down to tea.

Following the service, conducted by Father Palmer, a short organ recital was given by Mr. Douglas Birkinshaw, a pleasure appreciated by all present.

At the business meeting reference was made to the passing of Mrs. Edith Kate Fletcher, an honorary member of the Association, and following a few words from Mr. Alick Cutler members stood in silence in tribute to her memory. E. H. K.

THE HESSE WEEK-END

The annual get-together to mark the memory of Major J. H. B. Hesse was held at Wrington during the week-end of October 15th and 16th.

A peal attempt of Plain Bob, conducted by the Rev. R. O. Fry, was unfortunately miscalled at Yatton on Friday evening, whilst the peal of Grandsire Caters at Wrington on the Saturday was lost after just after an hour's good ringing.

Mrs. Hesse was hostess to the ringers at the tea which followed, and in his vote of thanks Mr. H. J. Sanger asked the company to remember three ringers who had died recently—Mr. H. A. Price, Mr. J. T. Dyke and Mr. A. Reeves, the latter two having rung many peals with the late Major Hesse.

The company included the Rev. B. Lee, Messrs. J. Baker, J. Brain, L. Derrick, H. W. Knight, W. Kingcott, E. Naylor, G. Prescott, H. J. Sanger, S. Smith, F. Sandy, W. Rice and M. White. J. B.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

St. Albans District

The odd-struck eight at Old Welwyn provided quite a challenge when the tower was open for the District meeting on October 16th, but methods up to courses of Surprise Major were quite recognisable during the afternoon. The local cafe could not cater for us before 6 p.m., so the business meeting was held after the service.

The Association president took the meeting, which was held in the belfry. Peter Morely, of Hatfield, was elected a new member. The meeting on November 20th will take the form of a day's course with four lectures, followed by tea and an open evening meeting, and the meeting on December 18th is to be at Radlett. The District dinner is at St. Michael's Manor, St. Albans, on December 4th, and tickets are now available from all committee members. J. A. F.

The Washington Peal

This superb new 12-inch L.P. record marks a great occasion: the famous inaugural peal of the Washington Cathedral bells by a specially-invited team of English ringers, recorded by Douglas Hughes. In a playing time of 40 minutes, The Washington Peal records the highlights of a complete peal of 5,000 changes of Stedman Caters rung on the new bells two days after their dedication, before an estimated audience of over 10,000 people. Other tracks include the team's first rehearsal on the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as their handbell ringing of Grandsire Caters. The record's laminated sleeve contains a written history and account of the English team's visit to the United States.

The Clappering of A Bell

F. H. KING, J. W. McCLENAHAN
and B. D. THRELFALL

A BELL is said to ring "right" when, at the end of a revolution, the clapper catches up the bell, strikes on its leading edge and remains there. Conversely, ringing "wrong" means that the bell catches up the clapper, the latter striking the trailing edge of the bell and remaining there. In this article both are assumed to mean that a bell will not change over into the other type of ringing, but will continue to ring "right" or "wrong" for more for one or two blows.

It is usually better to ring bells "right"; the clapper strikes once, positively, without bouncing; there is no chance of its changing sides if the bell is bumped slightly on the stay; and since the striking is usually adjusted to be even when a bell is "right," if rung "wrong" it can make it considerably odd-struck.

By considering the mechanics of motion of the bell-clapper system, equations can be derived connecting the weights of bell and clapper and the various physical dimensions of the system. Three members of the Cambridge University Engineering Department have collaborated in considering this mechanical system; in producing an electrical analogue of the system on an analogue computer, this analogue being checked by experimental work on two actual bells; and finally in reducing the results to an easily-usable chart.

Several factors, initially considered, were discarded as having little or no effect on "right" and "wrong" ringing; bearing friction, the pull on the rope, the odd-struckness of the bell and the amount of swing—provided, however, in this case that the bell is reasonably well up. Ringing up and down has not been considered. In fact, for a good approximation, three measurements only need be made on a bell to determine whether it will ring "right" or "wrong," or both, or neither, when up.

The first measurement— r —is the distance in inches between the axis about which the clapper swings from the axis about which the bell swings. It can be simply made in the tower, as follows: From some convenient level—say the belfry floor—with the bell down, measure vertically to the centre of the clapper pin and from the same level vertically to the centre of the bearings. If both these measurements are made in inches, the difference between them is r . Note that if the clapper axis is above the bell axis when the bell is down, r is taken as negative.

The other measurements required are the times in seconds for a small swing of both clapper and bell. To do this, time, say, ten consecutive small swings of bell or clapper (by small is meant 10 degrees or less on either side of the vertical) counting the swings when bell (or clapper) swings past the vertical in the same direction (being careful to start timing from 0, not 1!). For each of these two times—let us call them t_1 and t_2 for bell and clapper respectively—multiply them by themselves and then by 9.77 to give two quantities b and c , so:

$$b = t_1 \times t_1 \times 9.77$$

$$c = t_2 \times t_2 \times 9.77$$

These are the lengths, in inches, of the simple pendulums having the same times of swing as bell and clapper respectively.

Now having these three quantities, r , b and c , form two ratios A and B from these, such that A is r divided by c , and B is b divided by c . These are both numbers; and the relationship between them is shown on the diagram*. A being marked horizontally between $A = -0.3$ and $+0.5$, and B vertically between 0 and 2.2.

It will be noted that, on this diagram, certain areas are hatched downwards from left to right: bells giving quantities of A and B for points in these areas will ring only right, and similarly for the areas hatched downwards from right to left and for the area cross-hatched. In the blank area, the bell will ring neither right nor wrong: in practice this means that the clapper will fall one way or the other, but waits in the middle for some little time before doing either!

Two examples may serve to show the method: first an experimental bell as hung by a foundry.

c : 16.3 sec. for 10 swings, so $t_2 = 1.63$ secs.

and $c = 1.63 \times 1.63 \times 9.77 = 26.0$ inches.

and $b = 1.76 \times 1.76 \times 9.77 = 30.1$ inches.

Hence, $A = r/c = 4.75/26.0 = 0.081$;

$B = 30.1/26.0 = 1.15$.

Referring to the diagram, this point, marked as X , is in the cross-hatched area and this bell will therefore ring "right" or "wrong"—this was borne out in practice.

Second, a bell which was hung by one of the authors. Here, the dimensions led to the point Y on the diagram in a region where the bell would ring only "wrong"—a fact which he had already discovered the hard way! But modification can now be sensibly attempted: B must be reduced, and one way this can be done is by counterbalancing the clapper, so increasing its time of swing and increasing c . This will also decrease A , but cannot make A less than 0 provided r remains positive.

Grateful thanks are due to Professor Sir John Baker, for permission to undertake the investigation and for financial assistance, and to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, for the loan of an experimental bell.

WEDDING BELLS

Dear Sir,—Like Mr. Len Fox at Stepney, we secured a considerable increase a year or two ago in the fees payable for ringing for weddings at St. Clement Dares', partly for the reasons he mentions, that it is not easy to find people willing to give up a large part of Saturday for the purpose (there is, of course, no local band and all concerned live in the suburbs or beyond), and we hoped to reduce the number. But it has made no difference, we still get about 20 a year to ring for and I am very grateful indeed to those who cheerfully come along whenever possible.

In fact I wonder whether the greater charge the more worthwhile people think some things are! At Crayford new fees for the services of the organist and choir as well as for the bells are being introduced next month, but the Rector told me that as far as the two first-named are concerned (we don't normally ring for many weddings) the demand seemed to be increasing rather than otherwise. —

Yours faithfully,

Crayford.

E. A. BARNETT.

UNIVERSITY OF WALES SOCIETY

Summer Tour

THE Society's summer tour began on Wednesday, September 22nd, on a somewhat unsatisfactory note with a peal attempt of Plain Bob Triples at Whitchurch lasting about 50 minutes. To cheer ourselves up and to fill in the time, we were successful in our attempts at a "grab" at Prees, where we had half an hour's ringing on the pleasant six.

We then returned to Whitchurch to find our accommodation and the rest of the party, including Derek Elderkin (who soon became one of us), but were sorry to find that John Cornelius could not join us. Our evening's activities included handbell ringing, further ringing at Whitchurch, eating Chinese style and visiting a local hostelry.

Saturday began with a ring at Holt, the only Welsh tower of the tour, and continued with a succession of eights—Farndon, Eccleston, St. Mary-without-the-Walls and St. Mary-on-the-Hill, Chester, Christleton and Tarporley. Unfortunately we could not do justice to the beautiful bells of Eccleston, but were more successful at Tarporley, where some good Double Norwich was rung. Tarporley was considered by many to be the best eight on the tour. The evening was spent at The Hollies, good food, followed by handbells.

Friday was a more eventful day. Alsager Church was found after a short hunt and was well worth visiting. At Church Lawton we were joined by a local ringer who acted as a stabilising influence, enabling a good course of Yorkshire to be rung. However, disaster (financial) almost overtook the Society here, as the secretary's handbag, containing funds, was lost, and only regained by fishing for it with the aid of the belfry's electric fire plug. After lunch we visited Congleton and Holmes Chapel, where we were joined by Peter Else, who remained with us for the rest of the tour. The day finished at Crewe on the bells of Christ Church. The disappointments of the day were forgotten by the good ringing here.

Saturday began at Wistaston, where we rang before a wedding, and calls of bobs and singles were interspersed with "Is she coming?" Four good towers followed—Nantwich, Audlem, Market Drayton and Hodnet; and we were thankful to have Neil Bennett with us to improve our ringing standards.

Unfortunately that evening some of the party were suffering from 24-hour flu (or plague of such-like nature) and during the next two days several were "stricken" and did not really feel up to ringing, although they each managed to ring at all towers on the programme. By now we were ensconced in Shrewsbury and we took advantage of the Lichfield Diocesan Festival to visit St. Chad's and St. Mary's.

After lunch on Sunday and before service ringing at Oswestry we decided to attempt another tower grab, at Bicton, where we were warmly welcomed by the Vicar.

Monday's ringing was on three good sixes, which was probably just as well since our numbers were now depleted. We had enjoyable rings on the light sixes of Stanton-on-Hine Heath and Moreton Corbet, and fittingly concluded the tour with Clive, the heaviest six in Shropshire, which go very well.

Thanks are due to all who made the tour a success, including tower captains and incumbents, and also our drivers. D. M. B.

C.C. President at Peterborough Guild Dinner

THE 1965 annual dinner was held at the Angel Hotel, Peterborough, on October 16th. During the afternoon various towers in the vicinity were open for ringing, although only a small number of ringers took advantage of this hospitality.

The president (Canon G. F. Turner) was in the chair and he was supported by the Chancellor of Peterborough Cathedral (Canon J. L. Cartwright) and Mrs. Cartwright, the President of the Central Council (Canon A. G. G. Thurlow), Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Staniforth, the Master (Mr. J. H. Bluff) and Mrs. Bluff, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Daw, Mr. B. Austin and Mr. E. Billings.

The toast of "The Church" was proposed by the Master of the Guild, who expressed the great debt that ringing owed to the Church and listed some of the things about ringing which made it attractive as a branch of church work—the companionship it engendered, the ability it had to be enjoyed both intellectually and scientifically, and the fact that it drew its devotees from such a variety of people. He concluded by emphasising that ringers should have a deep attachment to the Church and it was their duty to see that bells were rung properly for service.

In his reply Canon J. L. Cartwright explained that ringers had helped to bring an element of beauty into the Church's worship because the sound of bells encouraged a deeper feeling of religious awareness in its listeners, especially at times of rejoicing and thanksgiving.

Canon A. G. G. Thurlow proposed the toast of "The Peterborough Diocesan Guild" with a very entertaining speech. His amusing stories illustrated all the dangers inherent to those who have speeches to make. He congratulated the Guild on its officers, making special reference to the excellent way they had organised the recent visit of the Central Council. In conclusion he spoke about the useful work that is undertaken by the Council, in particular "The Ringing World" and the work of the Towers and Belfries Committee.

The president (Canon G. F. Turner) responded and said how pleased he was that the dinner was being held this year in his native town. He agreed with the opinions of the proposer concerning the officers of the Guild and singled out the good work of the general secretary (Mr. E. Billings), on whom had fallen the bulk of the arrangements for the Central Council's visit.

Mention had been made of the bells of Peterborough Cathedral, continued the president, and he expressed the hope that something definite could be suggested to enable these bells to be rung again. He stressed how fortunate the Guild was in having so many young, keen ringers.

The toast of "Our Guests" was proposed by Mr. B. Austin, and how much the cause of ringing owed to the activities of the three was acknowledged by Mr. P. J. Staniforth, who spoke of his many close connections with the Peterborough Guild, saying that he did not feel a guest at all as there were so many of his friends at this gathering.

A very successful evening was brought to a close by the showing of three films—"Ringing the Changes," "Ringers Required" and "Washington Cathedral Tower and Bells."

OBITUARY

MR. REGINALD LUCAS

The band at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Warsop, have lost, through the death of Reg Lucas, one of its most regular and conscientious Sunday service ringers. After a short illness, he died on October 19th, aged 52.

He was not a prolific peal ringer, but an excellent striker, and a first-class method ringer. There was nothing he enjoyed better than a well-struck quarter peal. Of these he stood in a large number, in many different Minor methods, including London Surprise. On a number of occasions he rang with the Warsop team in cup contests.

On the day of his funeral, October 22nd, 1,260 Single Oxford Bob Minor was rung half-muffled by R. Spencer 1, Miss A. C. Rooke 2, Miss I. Cooke 3, J. T. Rooke 4, F. Cooke 5, H. T. Rooke (cond.) 6, followed by the whole-pull and stand 52 times. On the following Sunday 1,440 Norwich Surprise Minor was rung half-muffled.

Sympathy is expressed to his widow and brother-in-law, Mr. Fred Flint, and the members of the families.

MR. L. W. STEAD

St. Mary's, Southampton, ringers were shocked when gathering for their practice on October 15th to hear of the sudden death of their hon. secretary, Mr. L. W. Stead, in hospital the same afternoon. Les, as he was known to his ringing friends, was recovering from a ligament operation and had been expected home within a few days.

His ringing interest lay primarily in loyal service to St. Mary's, and to St. Nicholas', North Stoneham. He was a former chairman of the Southampton District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

Mr. Stead was a regional Trade Union official. His work, often involving ironing out trade disputes, irregular hours and frequent attendance at conferences, doubtless placed more strain on him than we realised.

Before Evensong on the Sunday following his death, the Rector gave permission for the local band to pay their tribute by ringing a quarter peal to his memory. K. S. B. C.

MR. GEORGE F. SPERRING

With deep regret we record the death of Mr. George F. Sperring at Chester Royal Infirmary on October 9th. He was 58 years of age.

He was taken ill suddenly in January of this year and although he had undergone two operations there were hopes of a complete recovery, but unfortunately complications set in after a third, which proved fatal.

While George did not progress in advanced methods, he was a very reliable ringer in the standard methods and was an excellent striker. He was for many years a loyal member of the band of St. Mary-within-the-Walls under the captaincy of his father, the late Mr. R. Sperring. He later transferred to the Cathedral and St. Mary-without-the-walls company, showing the same devotion and loyalty. He rang his first peal in 1924, but kept no record of his performances. He estimated, however, that he rang in the region of 200 peals.

He had been a member of the St. John Ambulance Brigade for 35 years and had risen to the rank of superintendent, and in consequence was ideally suited for the position he occupied with the City of Chester Ambulance Service.

The funeral service was held at All Saints' Church, Hoole, Chester, on October 14th, conducted by the Rev. J. A. Burrows, at which ringers from the towers in Chester and Dodington attended. In addition, members of the City Ambulance Service and the St. John Ambulance Brigade were present.

We in Chester have sustained a severe loss of one who was always ready to co-operate and had been most generous in making transport available for meetings, peal attempts and outings. Our deepest sympathy is extended to his widow, son and relatives. J. W. G.

CIRENCESTER RINGERS' OUTING

Cirencester ringers, together with friends, journeyed westward to the Ross area for their autumn half-day outing. The first tower was Weston-under-Penyard, which is situated on top of a hill overlooking the Wye Valley. At St. Mary the Virgin, Linton (another good light ring) we were intrigued with the half-muffled effect, especially on the front when the bells were being raised. Upton Bishop, a pre-war Taylor ring, are a little odd-struck. Ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge Minor.

Tea was eaten in the coach en route for Ross-on-Wye. We did not easily find the correct pace for the majestic eight, but with the help of friends from Hereford Cathedral we were able to ring Double Norwich and a good touch of Erin Triples.

The last tower of the day was Mitcheldean (a good light eight rehung by Taylors in 1964). Here we rang Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major, finding that it was necessary to ring fast to get the best from the bells.

Our thanks are due to all those who made their bells available for us. E. M. B.

BISHOP ASKS FOR £5,000 FOR CATHEDRAL LIFT

THE Cathedral bells and the approach to ringing chamber were the main themes at the annual dinner of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, held at Newlands Corner Hotel, Guildford, on October 23rd. The president, the Bishop of Guildford, who was accompanied by Dr. Alix Reindorp, was much concerned at the lack of foresight in not providing a lift to the ringing chamber and made an appeal for £5,000. It was stated that only one of the residentiary canons, Canon A. C. G. Oldham—who was present with Mrs. Oldham—would climb the stairs to the belfry. The Dean also refused. With the Bishop sat the Master (Mr. D. A. R. May) and Mrs. May, Mr. F. E. Collins was toastmaster, and Mr. J. F. M. Maybrey Master of Ceremonies for dancing that ended the evening. During the meal the president took wine with the ladies and also the oldest ringer present (Mr. T. W. White). The Master took wine with his officers and also with the Past Master present (Mr. C. W. Denyer). An apology was received from Mr. Albert Harman.

Proposing the toast of "The Church and the Ringing Exercise," the Master said that they both had similar problems—to keep the young people interested. At one time there were plenty of young people and old people in the Church, but nobody between 25 and 45. The same age problem occurred in ringing. He was giving up the Mastership of the Guild this year and he had been looking round to find someone between 30 and 40 to carry on what was a wonderful job.

CATHEDRAL RINGING

Regarding the Cathedral bells they had managed to ring for three services each Sunday and the ringing had been of a fair standard. They also held a weekly practice. Frankly, he thought they were doing too much. He did not think they had the people to ring for all three services on a Sunday. This meant 20 ringers Sunday by Sunday, and if they came once a month it meant they needed 80 names. Mr. Ponting, the secretary, had difficulty in finding the people and it often meant the same person Sunday by Sunday. The time had come to review the situation and they were proposing to call a meeting of all interested on November 9th. He thought the final solution would be a trained resident band.

As regards the ringing chamber they would need some fires for the winter months and he hoped that the boxes of books which came from Farnham Castle would eventually be removed and that they could install some bookcases and their own books. If only they could get rid of these crates of books the place would not look so dowdy.

The Bishop, in reply, said the remarks about the ringing chamber would be dealt with by the Dean and Canon Oldham, the Chaplain to the Cathedral Society. Dr. Reindorp said he was not Bishop when the Cathedral was planned and the tower built else he would have insisted on a lift being provided to the tower. The lift of Westminster Cathedral was a substantial source of revenue. He agreed with the Master that a notice board was necessary in the belfry and he hoped that it would be executed by craftsmen and be worthy of the Cathedral.

Congratulating the Master on giving up the office after only four years, the Bishop said he felt that such offices should go round. In the Church they had people holding office far too long, particularly churchwardens. He commended the principle employed in Canada, where a person was people's warden for one year and then Rector's warden the following year for 12 months only.

"I want to congratulate you from the bottom of my heart," he said. "that the bells are complete and ring out Sunday by Sunday to the countryside around. It is a glorious sound, although the louvers are only half open." The Bishop also congratulated Jill May, the wife of the Master, on ringing a bell at the dedication service, instead of a big burly ringer. It was a great night in the history of the Cathedral when those bells rang out for the first time, calling people to worship. The Bishop hoped that in 1968, when the university was established, it would be able to provide some ringers.

The toast of "Continued Prosperity of the Guildford Diocesan Guild" was proposed by Canon Oldham, who said in three parishes he had got bells out of the church and put them back again and on each occasion the Guild had supported him through thick and thin. He could well remember when the belfry, in some cases, was cut off from the ordinary life of the church. The ringers would go up and ring and then come down but they did not go into the church. The time had come when that sort of ringer went the way of all flesh.

INCUMBENT'S DUTY

The Canon said he also remembered the first lady going into the belfry and how it shocked the congregation, who thought that ringing was not becoming for her sex or good for her figure. He felt it was the duty of every incumbent in the Diocese to be a frequent visitor to his tower and make contact with his ringers. It was a great joy to him that many of the ringers after ringing at the Cathedral came down and sat in the ringers' pew for the service.

Mr. C. W. Munday, the Guild general secretary, replied, and also proposed a toast to the memory of John S. Goldsmith and other officers and members of the Guild. He said it might interest the company to know that 32 years ago the Guild took steps towards providing bells for the Cathedral by resolving to transfer from the Guild's general fund one guinea annually toward providing a ring of bells for the Cathedral. In 1962 Major Bragg suggested that each of the four Districts should be responsible for providing a bell. In two years they had collected over £800 and were then in a happy position of closing the fund.

DISAPPOINTED

Unfortunately, they had been a little disappointed with the bells. They had heard that evening about the glorious noise and they hoped that a little more could be done to control it. These bells were not as easy to ring as they should be; there were four bells in a straight line. He knew there was a reason for this. There were one or two points which they would be pleased for Canon Oldham to attend to.

The Guildford Diocese was formed in 1927 and it was John S. Goldsmith who acted as organising secretary for three months before the Guild was formed. Forty-three towers were represented at that meeting on December 31st, 1927, when the Guild was inaugurated and he was elected the first secretary, a post he held for many years. It was sometimes said that a tower needed twice as many ringers as its bells. In the Guildford Diocese they had 450 bells, but only 550 members. A lot of them from outlying parts found it difficult to get to Guildford by 9 o'clock for Sunday ringing.

Referring to losses by death, Mr. Munday said they all remembered with gratitude the special work of Charles Hazelden in founding the Guild library and hoped that the Cathedral would be regarded as a suitable place for it. Stanley Russell, their general secretary, had died during the year, and also William J. Beeson, of Cranleigh, who had rung many peals for the Guild and attended the inaugural meeting. John S. Goldsmith would be remembered in three ways. The sanctus bell at the Cathedral was in his memory; he founded their weekly paper, "The Ringing World"; he did more for the Guildford Guild than any other man and served as its secretary from its foundation until 1936.

BISHOP'S GIFT

The Bishop said he would like to see an appropriate plaque in the belfry of the Cathedral recording the dedication and those who rang on that occasion. As president he would like to give from some secret coffers he had the sum of 20 guineas to mark this historical occasion. He would like the plaque to be made by craftsmen in the diocese and to be completed by December 25th.

Bouquets were presented to Dr. Alix Reindorp, Mrs. Jill May and Mrs. Oldham by the Misses Kathie Williamson (Aldershot), Sally Parrott (Christ Church, Epsom) and Sally Hooper (St. Martin's, Epsom). A touch of Grandire Triples was rung by Major E. H. Bragg 1—2, K. Williamson 3—4, Tom Page 5—6, W. G. Viggers 7—8.

The concluding toast, that of "The Organising Committee," was proposed by the toastmaster. These were Mrs. Jill May, Mr. J. F. M. Maybrey and Mr. P. G. Sherwood.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The Monmouth Branch held a very enjoyable meeting at Blaenavon on October 9th with some 60 ringers attending, representing 14 towers.

The Blaenavon tower captain, Mr. Gorden Jones, was unavoidably absent, but all visitors to the church and tower were warmly welcomed on his behalf by Mr. David Frumin.

Ringings were under the direction of the Branch Master, Mr. Lionel Jones, who catered mostly for the large number of learners present.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. T. E. Davies, himself a ringer and a member of Blaenavon band. David Frumin read the lesson and Mr. Harris was the organist. Tea was waiting in the nearby Methodist schoolroom and Mr. Reuben Clench thanked the ladies who had so kindly prepared this.

A very long business meeting followed with many interesting and varied points of view arising.

Eleven new members were elected—these being four from Blaenavon, one from Caerleon, three from Usk and three from Chepstow. It was interesting to note that all eleven new members were ladies.

Badge patterns were displayed, having been submitted by Miss Anne Tippins, of Abergavenny, and Miss Sheila Salkeld, of Chepstow.

Next meeting: Ebbw Vale, January 8th, 1966.

A BRIDE FROM CONSETT

Miss Marjorie Pearson, of Christ Church, Consett, band, Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, and Mr. Brian W. C. Street, Egremont, of the Cumberland and North Westmorland Association, smile at the photographers after their wedding at Consett, while the bells were merrily ringing out Grandsire Triples.

Essentially a ringing wedding, Miss Wendy Askew was the bridesmaid, Mr. Leslie Boumphrey the best man, and Messrs. M. and R. Pearson and B. Allan ushers. After the reception ringing was resumed, the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Street, and Mr. Roger Wetenhall joining local ringers in short touches.

TAYSON'S TRAVELLERS

FOR the sixth year Taysom's Travellers journeyed to Devon for the annual week-end. The party consisted of David Barnett, Terry Milsom, Barbara and David Burt, Karen, Jean and Alan Lee (Twerton-on-Avon), Rita and Bill Lampard, Derek Smith, Brian Metcalfe, Elizabeth Webb (Warmley), Barbara Dench (Corston), Hugh Evans (Bristol) and Henry Taysom (Frampton Cotterell). Lustleigh was reached on October 15th about 10.30 p.m.

The next morning we were pleased to welcome Mr. Aubrey Bennett, who had been out for over two hours in order to reach Lustleigh by 9 a.m. The first tower was Gidleigh, where we were warmly welcomed by the Rector and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Scott, whose son, the Rev. John Scott, is a well-known ringer. We were now able to welcome Mrs. Margaret Bould and Derek Jewell, who stayed with us until lunch.

Next on the list was Throwleigh, where we got mixed up with the local foxhunt. Henry's imitation of a hunting horn made the hounds very restless and got a very black look from the Master of the Hunt. After we had satisfied the hunt we were not members of the Cruel Sports League we proceeded to look for the key to the vestry, from which a vertical ladder gains access to the ringing room. This was duly found and we enjoyed the six restored by Gillett and Johnston in 1937.

Belstone, the next call, has an excellent six (tenor 5½ cwt.) rung from the ground floor—Kent Treble Bob was the best touch. At Okehampton we were met by the Vicar and the captain, Mr. C. E. W. White, who was Mayor of Okehampton last year. The bells are a very good octave.

After lunch a pleasant time was spent at Sowton, where we found a first class five restored by J. Taylor and Co. in 1961: we added Fortune and St. Colomb to our Doubles methods. On to Bridestowe, where the local captain had just finished putting on the ropes for us, as the tenor has been repaired and the bells out of action for over a month—the bells were a joy to ring. Lydford followed and there we found another good six.

In Tavistock we found one of the octaves that are in the "superb" class—a ring restored by Taylor and Co. in 1925. Some of the best striking that we have done together resulted. Over Dartmoor to the last tower of the day, Holne, with a good five that need striking. A good supper was enjoyed at Buckfastleigh and we returned to Lustleigh.

Sunday saw us at Lustleigh Church and we rang for Matins and rang, by invitation, a quarter peal in the afternoon. Listening was a call change competition judge, Mr. Brewer, from Alphington, Mr. Sercombe, from Ideford, and Mr. Mark German. They seemed very pleased with our Doubles—the local ringers do not care for Minor as they cannot follow the tenor so well. On our way home we had the pleasure of ringing at Rockwell Green—restored by Taylor and Co. in 1907. This was the 60th tower that we have rung in together on these week-ends.

We thank Mr. Bennett for his excellent choice of towers and all Devon friends for their kindness. A. F. L.

SLEAFORD AND GRANTHAM DISTRICT OUTING

Five towers in Staffordshire were visited by the Sleaford and Grantham District ringers during their enjoyable outing on October 16th. These were Rolleston (8), Uttoxeter (8), Marchington (6), Tutbury (6) and Newborough (5). A good standard of ringing was maintained and thanks are accorded to Mr. Edgar Cole (the organiser), incumbents and those who met the party. E. A. C.

The ringer of the treble in the peal of Yorkshire Maximus at Aston (page 695) was Malcolm E. Wade, and not as printed.

Mr. Wilfred Williams, who conducted a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus at Christchurch Priory on October 16th has now rung 60 different tenors to 12-bell peals.

The time taken in the peal of Bob Major at Market Harborough (page 710) was 3 hours 57 minutes, and not as printed.

Derby Diocesan Association are arranging at week-end course at Lea Green, Matlock, from November 12th to 14th. Details from Mr. B. J. Marshall.

"To confirm the interest of the ringers," so read a footnote to a peal of Doubles at Hertford in which there were five first peals and one first of Doubles.

The peal rung at Whitley on September 25th ("R.W." page 696) was for the Yorkshire Association by members of the Selby and District Society.

Mr. A. P. Cannon corrects the reference to Mr. Robin Turner on page 702 of "Great Adventure." Robin called a peal of New Cambridge at Sherborne: it was Pat Chapman who then called the tenor.

After a lapse of seven years of absence from peals in the Leicester Diocese, J. Frederick Milner has made a welcome return with a peal of London at Claybrooke. The band congratulate him and look forward to many more.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. R. Waterman, of High Halden, Kent, on their golden wedding. A quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung on October 23rd on High Halden bells, where Mr. Waterman is a ringer, conducted by G. Stewart. It was the first "inside" for J. Spree and M. French.

The Rector of Bideford, Devon (Rev. T. D. Davies), writes expressing thanks for the peal to mark the centenary of the church. He asks that no more peal attempt requests be made for 1966 as enough have been allocated and that requests for peal attempts in 1967 not to be sent before next September.

LIFE SAVING ACT

At the meeting of the Northern Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association at Aylsham on October 23rd congratulations were extended to the Association's Ringing Master, Mr. F. C. Goodman, on his daughter Janet's life saving act a few days previously. Janet jumped into the river at Thorpe St. Andrew and rescued a lady from drowning. While he had a good report from his doctor, Mr. Goodman is still refraining from ringing.

NOTHING LIKE IT AGAIN

From a Sydney newspaper following the peal at St. Mark's, Darling Point:

Sweet the song of bells when the right man rings them. But some ungrateful ears tire when they go on for 2½ hours, as they did from St. Mark's, Darling Point, on a Sunday, with the English bellringers at the ropes.

After a second hour a resident phoned the Rectory to speak of her shattered Sunday peace.

"But this is unique," they told her. "We shall hear nothing like it again."

"I hope not," she snapped.

BELL RINGING IN GUERNSEY

A number of pupils at Elizabeth College, Guernsey, as well as two masters, have been learning to ring at the Vale Church. Progress has not been rapid, mainly due to the noise in the ringing chamber, which makes call changes very difficult and fault correcting almost impossible, but they have progressed from rounds to "set changes" and are hoping soon to progress to plain hunting. This year has seen the visit of two bands—the first since 1959. Maybe one day we will have a meeting.

INSTRUCTION COURSE AT WALSALL

About 20 ringers from nine towers in the Archdeaconry of Stafford attended at the belfry of St. Michael's Church, Walsall, on October 18th to hear the first course of instruction devised by Messrs. P. G. K. Davies and M. W. Fairey for the purpose of instructing both learners and those who would like to teach the art of change ringing. All present were impressed by the quality of the course and the obvious efforts to make it interesting and practical.

SOUTH BUCKS RINGERS' WEDDING

Full ringing honours were paid to Roger G. Hazell and Gillian N. Smith after their wedding at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Hughenden, on October 2nd. Roger is tower captain of Lane End and a regular visitor to Hughenden, where Gillian is a member of the band and also sings in the choir. For the wedding service the bells were rung before and after by members of the Hughenden and Lane End bands. In the evening Hughenden ringers rang a peal and Lane End ringers a quarter peal on their respective bells.

The Vicar, the Rev. S. A. C. Dickens, officiated, and the bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white nylon dress and long veil.

DEAN STOPS EXETER CATHEDRAL PEAL

A peal attempt for Bob Maximus at Exeter Cathedral on October 23rd was stopped after 25 minutes by the Dean, who sent an apologetic message via the tower captain. Apparently there had been a clash of dates and the bells were interfering with the delicate work of organ tuning. The organ has been completely rebuilt and is shortly to be rededicated. The band consisted of Martin C. Press 1, Margaret A. Bould 2, Colin Reeves 3, Martin F. Lock 4, Anthony J. Davidson 5, Rev. A. S. Roberts 6, Frank D. Mack 7, Alan R. Pink (cond.) 8, Thomas J. Lock 9, Alan Carveth 10, Philip Mehew 11. D. Ray Bould and Robert A. Southwood tenor. Approximately 2,600 miles were travelled for this attempt.

BARSHAM BELLS PEALABLE

A quarter peal is recorded on the bells of Barsham, Suffolk, a subject of recent correspondence and the first on the bells for several years. Ranald Clouston, the Suffolk Guild's technical adviser, visited the bells and declared them safe, and a quarter peal was rung a week later for confirmation. Although the bells could hardly be described as in excellent condition they went well during the quarter and according to J. B. Pickup are quite pealable.

A PENZANCE CENTURY

The "Western Morning News" of October 22nd in its "100 Years Ago" column records: "Opening of church bells at Penzance on Tuesday week is to be a high day at Penzance. A peal of eight bells is to be opened at St. Mary's Church by the Woolwich Amateur Change Ringers, who are said to be the most accomplished ringers in the kingdom."

Lt.-Col. Jerram writes: "I wonder what the old stoney ringers of Cornwall in those days thought of the 'most accomplished ringers.' Even little more than 50 years ago when I asked the Charles Church, Plymouth, ringers to the opening of a ring in S.E. Cornwall, they were bored after ringing Minor and they were certainly very accomplished indeed."

STAFFORD'S NEW RECTOR

Stafford ringers gave their new Rector, the Rev. Ivor D. W. Knowles, a fine reception by a quarter of Stedman Triples for his induction service, at which the Bishop of Lichfield officiated. The State's recognition of the Church was indicated by the presence of the Lieutenant of the County, the Deputy Mayor and Town Clerk of Stafford, the Lord Mayor and Town Clerk of Stoke-on-Trent and the Earl of Harrowby. A quarter of Stedman the previous evening was lost in the last few minutes.

THE RETURN OF THE NATIVE

The peal rung at Folkington, Lincs, published this week, was arranged for Mr. W. R. Wetenhall, of Cockermouth, Cumberland, who was on holiday in Lincolnshire, and he much enjoyed meeting old friends after many years. Mr. Wetenhall resided in Stamford in the 1920's and was an active member of the late Mr. H. Day's Surprise band. The Folkington peal was also Mr. C. T. H. Bradley's 100th for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

MR. RODNEY B. MEADOWS LECTURES AT OLD SCHOOL

The annual "Fourth Centenary" lecture at King Edward VI School, Southampton, was delivered recently by the Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Mr. Rodney B. Meadows, who took as his subject "The English Art of Change Ringing." The chairman, Canon K. W. H. Felstead, introduced the lecturer by referring to his short though distinguished career at the school.

Before a select audience, Mr. Meadows proceeded to give a most effective exposition of the subject in stylish language laced with gentle humour. The lecture was illustrated by slides, photographs and tape-recordings, and a copy of the text will be bound with others in this series and placed in the school's Select Library. The audience included local ringers.

AFTER THE TANKARD A TOUR

Bramford, Suffolk, ringers have recently presented their captain, Neville Whittell, with a tankard to mark his 100th peal. Now we learn he has taken this band on an extensive tour of North East Suffolk, visiting Blythburgh, Southwold, Wrentham, Somerleyton, Lowestoft, Pakefield, Bungay, Ringsfield, Barsham and Halesworth.

At Barsham the Rector heard his bells for the first time and at Pakefield Mr. Clouston, who had joined the party earlier, set himself up in style with folding chair and hamper, writes our correspondent.

WHO WERE THEY?

Mr. Alan A. J. Buswell sends us a cutting from "The Portsmouth Evening News" concerning their "80 Years Ago" feature. This records that "a bell-ringing family opened their campanological entertainment at the circus in Bow Street, Landport, Portsmouth, and gave very great satisfaction to the audience. Their manipulation of the 152 sweetly-toned bells was skilfully accomplished. In all there are eight performers." Mr. Buswell asks if any reader can give further information of this party.

RINGING TO CONTINUE DESPITE INSULTS

Mr. J. Hedgcock, Ringing Master of St. Thomas', Ecclestone, St. Helens, writes complaining about vehement and insulting complaints regarding the bells of St. Thomas' and inaccurate statements in the local Press.

Despite this, he assures readers that ringing at St. Thomas' will continue as normal, i.e. Fridays 7.30-9 p.m., Sundays 10-10.25 a.m. and 6-6.25 p.m. Other ringing functions such as visiting parties on tour at week-ends and Branch meetings will continue. Ringers are also welcome when ringing is in progress.

"We are considering sound control and only the financial situation prevents this being adopted. If this is not adopted the P.C.C. and clergy are ready to go to the Law Courts if necessary in defence of the right to ring their bells."

SOME COMMEMORATION

On the occasion of the annual commemorative Snowdon Dinner a peal of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods (London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative) was rung silent and non-conducted at Penistone.

LOSSES AND GAINS IN THE LAST 30 YEARS

By Canon Gilbert Thurlow, from an Address given to the Autumn meeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at St. Paul's, Wokingham.

SINCE I last worshipped here in 1938, changes then unimaginable have affected us all. It is worth noting them, and our place and that of our art in them. Hitler, Hiroshima and the Bishop of Woolwich meant little in the mid-30s; the British Empire seemed likely to endure for many years and we were still one of the world's greatest powers.

Here we are as ringers and members of the world-wide family of the Christian Church, who believe in God as Christ revealed Him, who are bound together in a close-knit world-wide fellowship of service and loyalty to Christ. As such, it is worth while assessing what is our place as people whose self-chosen contribution to life is to proclaim the Christian good news to the best of our skill as we carry on a great and ancient tradition into the present day world.

What have we lost in the last 30 years? A great deal, obviously. But so much of what we have lost is the kind of thing which our Lord warned us not to value overmuch. Britain has lost power; the Church has lost in numbers; many people have lost their faith. But our Lord warned us against worrying about such losses. He did not value world power as the world understands it.

Perhaps a greater loss is the change in the sense of community. Years ago the community was the parish, centring on the church and, in the village at least, uniting all types into one family in which the nobility, the clergy, the people, all knew each other. Today the community is for most people the trade union, which in theory is splendid, but which in practice can be the fortress from which each group defies the rest. Once most people could hear the bells; today they hear the wireless instead. Then we had unity without uniformity; today we have uniformity without unity.

But think instead what we have gained these 30 years. The Christian faith is, I think, far more realistic than it was then. Hitler and Hiroshima taught us that at best man risks being a hopeless failure when he relies on his own power alone, and that at worst man can easily degenerate to the jungle beasts from whom he is descended. The Bishop of Woolwich has made available to everyone the thought of modern philosophers, who can see that Christianity can be purified, modernised and strengthened by modern knowledge.

Our greatest gains these 30 years have surely been in our new understanding of the Church—what it is and how it worships? Thirty years ago the Church was largely looked on as the parsons' audience; today it was seen more clearly as the family of Christ in each place, the family closely knit with Christ and with our fellow Church members throughout the world. Today it has a greater sense of unity than perhaps ever before, partly through the work of Popes John and Paul, partly through its getting together in face of Hitler and other anti-Christian leaders, partly through humanitarian work which Christians everywhere are sharing.

And all this tremendous development, this story of gains and losses, of change, of sin and suffering, and power and hope, is ours to proclaim each time we mount the tower and ring the bells. The moment we pull off there rings out a glorious medley of human achievement—bells cast perhaps at Wokingham 500 years ago, or at Whitechapel or Loughborough last week. Bells tuned and hung and maintained and improved and rung by innumerable people through the ages, in towers built and maintained and rebuilt in an incredible variety of ways through 1,400 years.

For those who have the imagination to think beyond what their ears hear and their minds analyse, all this that I have talked about is there. It is a thrill to listen to ringing, to analyse the method or composition being rung. It is perhaps an even greater thrill to go deeper and think what our bells are doing to proclaim faith and truth older than the hills, traditionally yet constantly developing and growing and being renewed through crisis after crisis, things of this changing world, yet allied to the eternal Power which reigns above all and changes not.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

Archbishop Dines With Ringers

OF the various quarter peals rung at Sydney, the one which has an historic significance was the first on the bells of St. Andrew's Cathedral on October 2nd. 1,260 Plain Bob Royal was rung by the following: A. G. Mason 1, W. M. Rowe 2, Enid L. Roberts 3, S. Burton 4, Rev. M. C. C. Melville 5, W. M. Damerell 6, T. J. Lock 7, T. W. Goodyer 8, A. P. Cannon 9, C. W. Pipe (conductor) 10. The Press were in attendance and next morning all Sydney rejoiced in the picture of Arthur Mason with his arms above his head at backstroke and a cheirubic smile of happiness on his face.

One of those helpful quarters to Sydney ringers was rung at Turramurra on October 1st, when Tom Lock conducted 1,440 Kent Treble Bob from the treble. Others ringing were Anne Horsford 2, Jenny Smith (first quarter 3), J. Rainsford 4, Ken Stacey 5, A. J. Lancefield 6.

Of the handbell ringing, perhaps the most meritorious was 1,800 Plain Bob Royal at St. Mary's Basilica on September 30th by T. J. Lock 1-2, Enid L. Roberts 3-4, W. Watson 5-6, T. W. Goodyer 7-8, Rev. M. C. C. Melville 9-10.

The service quarter at St. Paul's, Burwood, on the Sunday, of 1,280 Double Norwich Court Bob Major was recorded in full and worthy of the honour. Ringing: Shirley Burton 1, John Fryer 2, Rev. M. C. C. Melville 3, T. W. Goodyer 4, W. M. Damerell 5, L. Stilwell 6, T. J. Lock 7, A. P. Cannon (conductor) 8.

The ringing on the Sunday of St. Andrew's Cathedral bells gave great pleasure to the church authorities. Touches of Cambridge Royal, Stedman and Grandsire were rung. At the service the Dean thanked the English ringers and stated that it was the first occasion that the bells had been rung for service. He hoped that after Christmas the bells would be rung by their own ringers each Sunday.

LOSSES REDEEMED

Great satisfaction was felt that the earlier losses at St. Mark's, Darling Point, and Randwick were redeemed. The first was on the Saturday morning at St. Jude's, Randwick. The peal of Yorkshire was the first of Major on the bells and the first of Surprise in New South Wales. It was a great pleasure to the English band to have Enid Lloyd Roberts and Willie Watson in the band, as they had been assiduous in daily ferrying the party from Beauregard Hotel, Elizabeth Bay, across Sydney and beyond. This is Willie Watson's own tower, and the method was his first of Surprise. Willie is in his third year at Sydney University, and if ever he visits England and has the opportunities he could well become a leader of the Exercise. The steel bells at Randwick, by Vickers, are contemporary with those at Maitland of a similar type. The church celebrated its centenary this year. The last peal was rung here in 1953.

The peal at St. Mark's, Darling Point, on the Sunday, was accomplished in 2 hours and 26 minutes, an average of 34 changes a minute. There was no intention at the start to ring a quick peal; but the bells settled into a fast beat and this was maintained. It gave great satisfaction to Arthur Mason as it was his 500th peal, and this had eluded him twice. This was the third eight-bell peal on the bells, the first being rung by the Great Adventure I party in 1934. It was, however, the first of Major.

N.S.W. DINNER

The visitors were the guests of the N.S.W. Association at their annual dinner at the Church Hall, Parramatta, on October 2nd. The function was attended by about 100 ringers and friends and the guest of honour was Archbishop Gough, Primate of Australia. Mr. T. W. Goodyer, president of the Association, presided, and Mr. W. M. Rowe, vice-president, proposed the toast of "The Visitors."

In his reply, the Archbishop said there were two particular reasons why he was pleased to be with them. The first was that this was a great year for the Cathedral as they had installed their own bells, and he would like to thank the ringers for their assistance. It was a great joy to have the bells through a generous donor who gave them in memory of her husband. He thought they were the first ten in Australia, and their chairman had told him that they might even be the best ten in the world.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, BURWOOD, where the Rev. Malcolm Melville preached at a ringers' service.

The other reason was to welcome fellow Pommies, and they needed the help of any of them if they should remain in Australia. One of the visitors reminded him that he preached a sermon some two years ago to the Essex County Association at its annual meeting when he was Bishop of Barking.

Bell ringers, like clergy, would never be universally popular. Most people liked bells from a distance, but when they were on top of one they could be objectionable. When at Cambridge his rooms were near Great St. Mary's Church and he found it impossible to study on a Monday night when the weekly practice was held. Despite this, he had some very lovely memories of English bells, particularly some in Devonshire. Bells had a very real service to perform for the Church in calling people to worship, and it was a great joy to many to hear their message Sunday by Sunday.

Mr. Goodyer gave a toast to "Great Adventure II," which was warmly received. He reminded the assembly how "Great Adventure I" came to Australia in 1934 for the centenary of Melbourne Cathedral and rang a peal there. Many years later George Pipe and Tom Lock had the idea that a Great Adventure II was overdue. This was finalised and now they had the party with them. Some of them had been household names for years; they now knew them and had to adjust themselves accordingly. In the ringing of some of the peals they had had their eyes opened. The pleasant way they had put themselves out to help beginners was appreciated; they had been able to learn a lot from them.

Mr. Goodyer gave an individual welcome to each of the guests and coupled with them Mr. Albert Lancefield, of Ashford, Kent, who had rung in every State in Australia.

Tom Lock, after expressing gratitude for the friendly and hospitable welcome received everywhere, said what they could boast of was that in England they had better rings of bells than in Australia; nevertheless they had gained a great experience and some of them would not stop talking about this Great Adventure for a very long time.

Pat Cannon was requested by a unanimous wish to present the Association shields. That for Doubles was won by St. Jude's, Randwick, and received by John Fryer, and the senior one by St. Mary's Basilica. Pat recounted some of his experiences as a judge at striking competitions.

Cecil W. Pipe also proposed a toast to the New South Wales Association.

Many of those present had travelled many miles to attend the function. John Martin, formerly of Horsell, Woking, had motored 280 miles from Tamora, where he is working in a radio business. He sent his best wishes to friends in the Guildford Guild. Another was Mr. J. B. Watts, of Tamworth, also over 200 miles. He has a sister, Miss Nancy Watts, living at Luton.

A MEMORABLE SERVICE

The Association held a service the following day at St. Paul's, Burwood, to mark the visit of Great Adventure II. The Rector, the Rev. R. A. O'Brien, extended to the visitors a most cordial welcome. The lessons were read by Mr. W. M. Rowe, conductor at St. Paul's tower, and by Mr. R. W. Bampton, captain. Two ringers' hymns were incorporated. The Rev. M. C. C. Melville gave a most appropriate address.

Afterwards supper was served in the Parish Hall by the St. Paul's Women's Guild. The service left a lasting impression on those of the party who were present.

AN APOLOGY

We owe an apology to our Sydney friends, especially to those connected with St. Andrew's Cathedral. The illustration published with Ross Bampton's excellent report of the dedication of the bells on page 721 was of St. Paul's Church, Burwood, and not of the bell tower of the Cathedral.

The Washington Peal

This superb new 12-inch L.P. record marks a great occasion: the famous inaugural peal of the Washington Cathedral bells by a specially-invited team of English ringers, recorded by Douglas Hughes. In a playing time of 40 minutes, The Washington Peal records the highlights of a complete peal of 5,000 changes of Stedman Caters rung on the new bells two days after their dedication, before an estimated audience of over 10,000 people. Other tracks include the team's first rehearsal on the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as their handbell ringing of Grandsire Caters. The record's laminated sleeve contains a written history and account of the English team's visit to the United States.

PRICE 26/6 including post and packing.

SPIT OUT THE SOUR GRAPES, MR.

RING—Ladies' Conductor

Dear Sir,—I think some of the remarks made by Mr. Wilfred Ring in his letter ("Ringing World" page 704) should not go unanswered.

I have never had the pleasure of ringing with Mr. Ring and therefore do not know whether he is capable of call changes or Spliced Surprise, neither am I in a position to criticise his ringing nor he mine.

In the ladies' peal attempt at Cheriton recently I was the conductor, and would like to point out that the striking was not shocking. If it was so painful to your ever open ears, Mr. Ring, why did you stay on to the bitter end?

We can all walk round an art gallery and criticise works of art, but shouldn't we first think, "Can I do better myself?" It is always easier to criticise and destroy than it is to create. This rule should also be applied to ringing. I enjoy good ringing with good ringers, but I can gain pleasure from ringing with learners too, although the striking may not be perfect—if they are giving of their best, it is the most one can expect. Bear this in mind, Mr. Ring, and try to help people along at the next meeting instead of lurking outside.

I am hoping to attend the Ladies' Guild meeting at Charing this month. I hope you will be there too, Mr. Ring; perhaps we can bash our way through a plain course of Plain Bob together.

Finally, Mr. Ring, my advice is—take your tongue out of your cheek, spit out the sour grapes, and confine your stirring to the Christmas pudding.—Yours faithfully,

ELIZABETH CHAPMAN (Mrs.).

Canterbury, Kent.

ARCH-STIRRER EXPOSED

Dear Sir,—I have just recovered from being startled into a decline by the remarkable effusion of your correspondent, Wilfred W. Ring (page 704). Having named names he must incur the pack-drill.

This self-confessed arch-stirrer, who has eaten my salt, capped my quotations, and rung at rare towers I've got him by peals, now bites the hand that has hitherto gently restrained him from rushing headlong to his doom. You may judge the worth of the completely unprovoked attack on my injured innocence when I say that this viper in the bosom is so diabolically clever, so fiendishly cunning that he has even been known to pay his subscription twice just to confuse the District accounts! Which brings me to the Ladies' Guild. After all my well meant efforts to get him off with our more eligible lady ringers, I shudder to think of the wrath about to descend on his devoted head from all those outraged Jaels who are everywhere discarding the lordly dish and reaching for the mallet! In extenuation of their peal attempt at Cheriton I would say, however, that one of the ladies concerned has since told me (almost) that she wasn't going to count it anyway.

Sir, at this the eleventh hour, I beg, nay, I challenge Wilfred W. Ring to stop lurking alone and palely loitering round our unsuspecting towers, to emerge from the monastic calm of Chestnut Avenue, and show us just how easy it is at our next District meeting at Charing (with Chota Chart available) on November 20th. When I add that it is to be held jointly with the Ladies' Guild, Galahad Ring will, of course, find the challenge irresistible. So book early.—Yours faithfully,

CRAWFORD T. HILLIS

(Hon. Secretary, Ashford District, K.C.A.).

TOM LOCK'S ENGLISH TOUR

Dear Sir,—Reading the report of Tom Lock's English tour, I observed a comment to the effect that a peal rung at Wisbech brought a strong protest from the local museum curator. Unfortunately, that protest did not end there.

It is not generally known that the tower of St. Peter's Church, Wisbech, has undergone substantial reconditioning, during which the bells were not rung for over two years—a period in which inhabitants became familiar with consistent silence.

The peal not only caused the curator to protest, despite the fact that only one louvre remained open, but in addition the local Press resounded for three successive weeks to the feelings of several people who live and work in the vicinity of the church, and who were not at all pleased with the ringing of the bells for over three hours. One letter resembled a petition against the bells being rung, and was signed by several objectors.

It does seem a little strange that the peal was allowed almost immediately after commencement of ringing activities by the local ringers, who understandably are not finding things all that easy in the way of recruiting and teaching after so long an enforced absence from the belfry.

This instance signifies to me that before any peal is arranged—particularly in an area consisting of professional offices, etc., the day, the time, and careful thought as to the likelihood of serious public criticism ought to receive consideration by organisers and clergy alike.

By ringing this peal touring bellringers have certainly not advertised the finer merits of their art to those who were obliged to listen, and in the process, considering all circumstances, have more than likely jeopardised efforts of the local company and the branch of the Association concerned.—Yours faithfully,

TREVOR A. BEVIS.

March, Cambridgeshire.

TWO ROPES WANTED

Dear Sir,—In replying to the letter of Mr. R. H. Dukes (page 723) I am killing two birds with one stone. There is nothing "improper" about appealing for old ropes, indeed I think it is improper that perfectly good ropes should be allowed to go idle. Some of us in Cardiff have renovated Merthyr Tydfil bells, but here two ropes are missing. The local P.C.C. are not prepared to spend the money on new ropes until they are sure that interest in the bells justifies the expense.

If we can get two old ropes to last us long enough to teach a band at the tower then we could reasonably approach the P.C.C. for a complete new set of ropes. So, if anybody has two redundant ropes in reasonable condition I would be glad to refund their postage if they send them to the address below. Improper? I doubt it.—Yours faithfully,

G. STICKLAND.

St. David's College,
Lampeter, Cardiganshire.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY WERE FIRST

Dear Sir,—The footnote to the peal at Trumpington on page 732 is incorrect because a peal of 8-spliced was rung there on March 5th, 1960, by the Cambridge University Guild.—Yours sincerely,

JAMES R. TAYLOR.

Whitchurch, Bristol.

WEDDING BELLS IN AUSTRALIA

Dear Sir,—The recent correspondence on wedding ringing has been read with great interest here. Several towers in Sydney ring for a considerable number of weddings during the year. At All Saints', Parramatta North, during the financial year April 1st, 1964, to March 30th, 1965, we rang for 112 weddings. From April 1st, 1965, to October 23rd, 1965, the bells have been rung for 72 weddings, with the busiest period of the year to come. It is expected that the total for the year will exceed 120.

The ringers at All Saints' are not paid for ringing at weddings as for the last 18 months all fees received have been put into funds. The aim of the Society is to raise sufficient money to enable the present ring of six (tenor 10 cwt) to be rehung with the addition of two new trebles. The need for this can be seen by the fact that a peal by the visiting English ringers recently failed due to mechanical failure. The members of the band have already raised over £1,000 towards this objective.—Yours faithfully,

RALPH L. CLARK.

Merrylands, N.S.W.

FIRST PEAL AT CHALGROVE

Dear Sir,—In your issue of October 29th a peal at Chalgrove Oxon, is published, claiming to be the first peal on the bells.

For the sake of the records may I state briefly that I conducted a peal in seven methods on these bells on February 25th, 1939, which, on information from the late George Gilbert, who took part, was claimed as the first.—Yours sincerely,

TONY PRICE.

Sunbury-on-Thames.

ADVICE SOUGHT

Dear Sir,—I am hoping to take up bell ringing again after a lapse of fifteen years, but have to overcome the disability of having lost the use of my right arm.

It would be a great help to me if you or your readers could let me know of someone who has overcome this problem.—Yours faithfully,

D. R. POPE.

Herefordshire.

UNIVERSITY OF KEELE SOCIETY

Keele Parish Church stands on rising ground, a stone's throw from the gates of the university campus, but until 1963 its bells (an 8 cwt. ring of six) hung silent except for a peal by a visiting band or an occasional meeting of the North Staffordshire Association.

Two years ago a handful of students learnt to handle the bells with the help of Philip Gay, the only experienced ringer in the university, and the Rev. Basil Peel, a local ringing priest. They rang regularly on practice nights and with the help of ringers from local towers, were able to begin plain hunting. A year ago the band began ringing for Sunday services. Everyone put a great deal of hard work into keeping the band together and, even when getting to the tower meant a dark walk through mud and sometimes snow, the bells were rung regularly.

Keele has been lucky this year; several experienced ringers have come up to the university and revolutionised our call change and plain hunting band. Now, on Sundays and Mondays, a variety of Doubles and Minor methods resound over the campus and our learners have a real opportunity to make progress with a strong band around them. The Society was christened at the beginning of this term and given a traditional send-off in the "Sneyd Arms," the local hostelry, which stands conveniently opposite the church.

Worcestershire and Districts Meet C.C. President

THE annual dinner of the Worcestershire and Districts Association took place at the Co-operative Hall, Worcester, on October 23rd, a company of 143 being present. This was the highest attendance since 1960 (156).

Before the proceedings began, the Master, Mr. W. B. Cartwright, gave the assembly the apologies for absence of their president, the Dean of Worcester. Supporting the Master on the top table was Mr. J. D. Johnson, vice-president, and Mrs. Johnson; the Association's chaplain, Rev H. L. Davies, and Mrs. Davies, and Canon G. C. B. Davies, of Worcester Cathedral.

The guest of honour was the president of the Central Council of Church Bellringers, Canon A. G. G. Thurlow, who proposed the toast of "The Worcestershire and Kindred Associations." He said how pleased he was to be there that evening and he recalled earlier visits to Worcester, first with the Clerical Guild and later with the Universities Association.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S WORK

He had been told that members might like to hear of some of the work of the Central Council. This, said Canon Thurlow, was conducted chiefly through its various committees, some of the important ones being the Methods Committee, the Records Committee, the Towers and Belfries Committee and so on. The last-named was a committee which bellringers should consult when restoration of bells and towers was being considered. Its members were well qualified to give independent advice and their services were free.

With regard to the toast he was about to propose, Canon Thurlow said he would like to couple with it the name of Mr. M. J. Fellows, who was to respond. Mr. Fellows was a young man whose ability was really well known.

Replying, Mr. Fellows thanked Canon Thurlow very much, first of all for accepting the invitation to come to the dinner and then for the kind remarks he had made. The Canon had spoken about bell restoration; this was a subject with which he (the Canon) had plenty of experience having been responsible for the restoration of rings of bells in Norwich and Great Yarmouth. If only he could do something to augment the five bells in Norwich Cathedral (loud "Hear, hear" from Canon Thurlow).

On behalf of the Association, Mr. Fellows welcomed all visitors that evening, especially those from Kent and Leeds, and any others there might be.

A WORCESTER INVITATION

The toast of "The Chairman" was proposed by Mr. D. Beacham, general secretary of the Association. He said that Mr. Cartwright had given invaluable service to the Association over the years, and also to the Central Council, whose honorary solicitor he was. With regard to the Council, Mr. Beacham hoped that in two or three years' time it might be possible for the Council to hold its annual meeting in Worcester.

The Master of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, Mr. W. B. Cartwright, discusses with Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, the menu at the Association's annual dinner. Mr. M. J. Fellows is listening to the gems of wisdom.

In reply, Mr. Cartwright thanked Mr. Beacham for what he had said about him, but he felt that the toast should really be in reverse since it was the general secretary who, in the end, was responsible for a lot of the work that went into producing an event such as this.

Following the speeches a course of Grand-sire Triples was rung on handbells by P. Cattermole 1-2, J. C. Eisel 3-4, M. J. Fellows 5-6, M. D. Fellows 7-8.

After the interval, entertainment was provided by B. C. Ashford, P. Ashford, W. H. Cooper and A. W. Glazzard, who rang tunes on handbells. There were songs by Joyce Cunningham, accompanied at the piano by Ray Haines, and Ron Pardoe, comedian, produced plenty of laughter with his two quite different acts. Magic in the ringing chamber was performed by Seff Saye.

Earlier in the day members had had the opportunity of ringing the bells of the Cathedral and All Saints' Church. D. B.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

The October meeting of the Marlborough Branch at Chisledon was entirely successful. In the absence of the Vicar, the service was conducted by the Rev. Roger Keeley (Ringing Master). Tea at the Youth Club Centre was provided by Mesdames L. Love and Wiltshire and Mr. and Mrs. R. Court.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Proceedings at the quarterly autumn meeting of the Derby Diocesan Association at Staveley started with a minute's silence to the memory of Mr. E. C. Gobey, of Ilkeston, who had died that day. A ringer of over 70 years' standing, Mr. Gobey was especially noted for his compositions in the Treble Bob field, where the Ilkeston variation of Kent and Oxford was his brainchild.

Reporting on the work of the bell repair consultants, Mr. G. A. Halls said the year continued to be one of their busiest, with a record number of 11 requests for help or advice having already been dealt with. Recent cases included Derby, where four of the six bells had now been rehung on ball bearings by local labour; Kingsworth, where the possibility of installing rope guides was being investigated, and Edensor, where sound control was being tackled. A grant of £25 had been made towards the cost of rehanging three bells at Chellaston.

Mr. D. R. Carlisle announced with regret his resignation as editor of "Belfry News" owing to pressure of work and that the next issue would be his last. The chairman (Mr. F. Adams) and Mr. J. F. Smallwood both paid tribute to his very fine work.

Jasper Snowdon Commemoration Dinner

THE above function, held at Rotherham Co-operative Restaurant on October 16th was the 33rd annual dinner of the Yorkshire Association and proved to be one of the largest gatherings of ringers and friends that has ever taken place in the county, as some 190 people attended. Good rings of 8, 10 and 12 bells were available during the day in the Sheffield and Rotherham area, and at 6.30 p.m. the company gathered for an excellent meal.

Guests included the Right Rev. John Taylor, Bishop of Sheffield, and Mrs. Taylor, and several other clergy, and the chair was ably taken by Archdeacon C. O. Ellison, who was in good form, enlivening the evening with his witty and good humoured remarks.

Following the loyal toast a course of Grandshire Caters was rung on handbells by W. E. Critchley, W. F. Moreton, J. J. L. Gilbert, R. Pipe and N. Chaddock, and the Bishop of Sheffield then addressed the company briefly and extended a welcome to the visitors. He recalled being a member of a university ringing society for two years, in his youth, learning the elements of change ringing and visiting surrounding towers. Although he had since been preoccupied with other matters, he was glad to have acquired an understanding of the art and of what is owed to the bell ringers in our churches. He said he was pleased to see so many young people taking ringing with the seriousness which it deserved. He then proposed the toast of "The Visitors."

The Ecclesfield handbell ringers then delighted the company with a fine performance on their 169 handbells, recently put into new condition at the Whitechapel Foundry. Their items included "Swanee River," "Tango," "Elizabethan Serenade" and "Bells of St. Mary's."

ADVOCATED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

Mr. E. A. Barnett proposed the main toast of the evening, "Jasper Snowdon and Past Officers of the Yorkshire Association." He said that though many people were aware of Jasper Snowdon's achievements in the practical and literary folds few knew that the decision on whether or not to aim for a weekly paper for ringers was left to him, such was his standing in the Exercise. Thank goodness he was in favour of the project, so that there had been for 84 years a weekly paper of some kind for ringers.

After mentioning a few past officers, no longer with them, Mr. Barnett referred to two who had recently given up office, Horace Morley, after 33 years as Eastern District secretary, and John J. L. Gilbert, secretary of the Southern District for 27 years, both old friends of his for some 30 or so years.

Mr. Barnett forecast that the Snowdons' pre-eminence in ringing would still be honoured in 100 years time and concluded by quoting from a speech by the Rev. C. C. Marshall at the first Snowdon dinner, viz.:

"As one looks back what strikes one is that the characteristic of the work of these men was thoroughness. They undertook as an outside interest in their lives this art and they fostered it as a definite part of the life of their church. It is the kind of example we want to remember. Are there today, giants comparable with these giants of old? The Association calls for united action and unselfish work: the Exercise calls for acute brains and persevering effort. The best way to honour the memory of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and these other men is to go from this gathering determined to devote ourselves ever more and more to the Association which they founded and the art and science which they loved."

PRESENTATION TO MR. GILBERT

Mr. Barnett's reference to the work of two living Yorkshire Association past officers was coincidental, for unknown to him a presentation was about to be made to Mr. John J. L. Gilbert, in recognition of his work as Southern District secretary for 27 years.

In acknowledging the privilege of making this presentation Mr. Norman Chaddock, vice-president, thanked Mr. Gilbert sincerely for his services, expressed pleasure that he would remain active in the district and wished John and his wife health and happiness and some benefit from a slight reduction in his many ringing commitments. In presenting Mr. Gilbert with a Parker 61 set and a cheque he remarked that perhaps Mrs. Gilbert ought to have the cheque!

The Ecclesfield handbell ringers then resumed their scintillating performance for some 15 minutes, concluding with a selection from "Orpheus of the Underworld." The company were still unsatiated and after cries of "More, more," they continued, concluding with a selection of wartime hits, which the older ones present sang lustily.

The chairman wound up the official proceedings suitably, expressing thanks to the organisers (Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert and Mr. N. Chaddock) and Mr. Michael King proposed a toast to the chairman.

The rest of the proceedings were progressively more and more informal as guests paid their respects and compliments on a grand evening and departed, leaving two notable Bradford and Rotherham families toasting each other, but disputing the relative merits of the two finest rings of 10 in Yorkshire. N.C.

MR. GEO. E. BONHAM'S PEAL WEEK

On the first Monday in September Mr. Geo. E. Bonham started a successful peal week mainly in Northamptonshire, but rung for the Ely Diocesan Association. Of the 12 attempts, six were successful and two lost by a broken rope. Because of the late arrival of one of the band, a quarter was substituted at Raunds and on Tuesday it was a real disappointment when Yorkshire at Burton Latimer was lost within sight of the end because of a broken rope.

A miscell on Wollaston's excellent six brought Wednesday's attempt to an untimely end. A consolation quarter was then rung. A couple of courses at Irchester was sufficient to induce the band to change from Cambridge to Plain Bob Major, where a peal was brought round in 3 hours and 6 minutes. At attempt in seven Surprise Minor methods was lost at Isham through a broken rope, and it was a disappointment to lose Lincolnshire at Tichmarsh on probably the best bells of the week.

Philip Mehew, on Friday afternoon, considered the ringing at Higham Ferrers as not worthy of the bells and called "Stand." Plain Bob was a successful alternative. Stephen Ivin joined the party on the Friday to conduct Bristol, but unfortunately the ringing was not up to the bells, so after an hour's patchy ringing "Stand" was called. George is thanked for a well-arranged week on some beautiful bells. For details of peals see this issue.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ringers of St. Michael's, Sittingbourne, were hosts to the 70 members attending the annual meeting of the Rochester District there on October 16th, an excellent tea being provided in King George's Field pavilion.

The Rev. Stanley Evans, Vicar of Bredgar, was elected chairman, and Miss W. Austen, of Halling, elected a member. Mr. L. Mitchell, secretary for the past three years, resigned through pressure of work, and Mr. Terry Barton, of Tunstall, was elected his successor. District representatives are Messrs. F. J. Cheal and D. S. Osenton, and Ringing Master Mr. B. Trill, of Cliffe.

Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. L. Mitchell, Mr. L. Crouch (retiring Ringing Master), the Vicar for conducting the service, and Mr. S. B. Dobbie, captain, and other members of St. Michael's for their hospitality.

The meeting carried a resolution by Mr. S. Rayfield asking that at future annual meetings of the K.C.A. the report be read to all members present.

OBITUARY

MR. E. C. GOBEY AN APPRECIATION

Mr. G. S. Valentine writes:—
I would like to pay a sincere tribute to an old friend, the late Ted Gobey. When working at Ilkeston on the old Midland Railway, I received a very warm welcome from Ted (the captain) and the Ilkeston ringers. I rang with them, work permitting, until the 1914-18 war. After demobilisation I did not return that way and it was some years before I saw him again, and his son, Fred. The warm welcome was still there and I was lucky enough to ring with them on several visits. I would like through your kindness to pass my sincere sympathy to Fred and his sister, the Ilkeston ringers and Mr. G. Fletcher. I hope to meet them again, but one never knows.

JOSEPH T. DYKE AN APPRECIATION

Many of us at the funeral of Joe Dyke must have thought that it was much as Joe might have wished. Sad hearts maybe—but not visible grief, we could not wish him to linger on after life became a real burden. It was a great tribute to his life and work that some 70 ringers and friends came to see him laid to rest near his home; this alone was cheer and comfort to Edith, his wife, and the family mourners.

He had brought prestige and honour to our Association, and to those of us fortunate enough to be regarded as his friends. Joe greatly assisted in raising ringing in the West Country from Grandsire to Surprise, and in later years could watch it happily go from strength to strength.

It was fitting that Ronnie Beck and Ted Chivers, with their boys, should ring the first peal to his memory. As I listened to it, it sounded a worthy tribute. A hundred memories came back—those peals of Minor in the old days, the first peal of Major at Sherborne, riding on the back of the old Ricardo Triumph side car outfit, and all the happy times that went with these events. In later years there was the pleasure of being able to talk with him; we were fortunate that, because of the complete selflessness and devotion of Edith, his wife, and Dorothy, a neighbour, Joe could be "at home" to his friends.

The sympathy and gratitude of Joe's friends will be theirs; may they now be comforted that they were able to "give and not to count the cost," and labour and not ask for any reward. W.H.C.

MR. G. ST. J. PALMER

A regular service ringer and chorister at Solihull, Graham St. Johnston Palmer died suddenly at the home of his parents at Walton-on-Thames, Surrey, on October 27th, aged 21 years.

Last January he conducted a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples at Solihull, where he and his sister, Jill, learned to ring. On October 31st the bells of Solihull were rung half-muffled in memory of a promising ringer who was held in high esteem.

CHELTENHAM NEWS

The Cheltenham Branch has had two successful meetings this autumn. There were 22 members present to ring the six at Willersey, and it was very encouraging to see more young people present. The meeting at Elkstone on October 6th went well and, considering the fog, the attendance was good. We hope this is going to set the pattern for future meetings.

Branch members were able to make up a band to ring the Dumbleton bells on two occasions recently—for the incumbent's 25th anniversary of his priesthood and the Harvest Festival. A bit of M.R.I.! Helping each other out.

The Branch was saddened by the passing of Mr. Frank Pandry, of Prestbury, in September. He had been a ringer here and tower captain for many years. The bells were rung half-muffled for his funeral. May his soul rest in peace. J.H.

WITH two successful tours behind him, Mr. C. Barrie Dove excelled himself with this year's tour in Herefordshire and South Wales (writes R.W.S.). 1,200 miles were covered and 125 towers visited during the 10 days which started on Saturday, August 21st.

No fewer than 16 towers were on the programme for the first day, the best being Ledbury, despite the rope of the second being missing. Not satisfied, some of the party found time to look in at a meeting at Newent before going to Ross-on-Wye for the first night.

Service ringing on Sunday morning was at Ross (24 cwt.) and Bridstow (8 cwt.), where the service was attended. Other towers visited were King's Caple, Sellack and Holme Lacey. Monday took us into the Forest of Dean, there being some good ringing on the 15 towers. Roy Ward rang in his 1,500th tower at Tidenham.

The party was strengthened on Tuesday by the arrival of Miss Doreen Edwards (Crewe) and Keith Taylor, Howard Thomas and James Belshaw (Birmingham), and proceeded into Wales. Grosmont, the first tower, has an unusual ancient octagonal central tower with stone spire. The ringing chamber ceiling started to disintegrate when London was attempted! We retreated. Lunch was taken at Monmouth, and the ringers were summoned to church by a hunting horn borrowed from a local hostelry. Eleven towers in all were visited that day, but two deserve mention—the fine 10 at Chepstow and the eight at Caldicot.

Incidents of note on Wednesday were the recently rehung steel bells at Bassaleg that "go" well, the unexpected invitation to tea by the Vicar at Llanbadach, the glorious eight at Bedwelty (half-muffled because of a local death) and the finest bells of the tour at Ebbw Vale. Merthyr disappointed—no rope on the 7th and the tenor unringable because of broken bearings.

Aberdare, Pentre and Pontypridd were included in Thursday's programme. Tea was at Barry Island, and the last tower was Llantwit Major. The first tower on Friday was Cowbridge, thought to have the only intact eight by Evan and William Evans. The eight at Bridgend were a delight. Aberavon, Neath and Cadoxton were some of the calls before reaching Swansea. St. Mary's, Swansea, was reserved for Saturday morning and the day finished at Haverford West. To quote our correspondent: "We don't know whether it was the bells or us, but when we rang rounds on this heavy going 19 cwt. eight they lowered themselves."

Ringing started on the second Sunday at St. David's Cathedral—a fine building and a wonderful surrounding countryside. Cardigan was a highlight of the tour, being Barrie Dove's 2,000th tower—to celebrate a fine touch of Cambridge was rung. A quarter of Grand-sire and Bob Doubles was rung at Llandeilo, and the night was spent in Brecon.

Included in Monday's agenda was a quarter peal attempt at Llanfeigan (eight, on which many long lengths have been rung). The ringing chamber was, however, infested with bats, and the nerve racking swooping soon put an end to our efforts. At Llangattock we followed in famous footsteps as we understand Wilfred Williams rang his first peal—Grandsire Doubles in 1922. A fast quarter of Southrepps Doubles was tapped out smartly at Llanbedr Ystradyw. This was our last night and Keith and his guitar kept us entertained until the small hours.

Next morning, while enjoying the 20 cwt. six at Weobley, the tenor clapper snapped in half. Howard Thomas, who was ringing the bell at the time was seen to circle the belfry in ever decreasing circles, but escaped unhurt. The last tower of the tour was Pencomb. Here we said our goodbyes and thanked our organiser for all his hard work.

THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

The October general meeting of the Society, at which eleven new members were elected, took place in St. Olave's Church Hall on the 16th, after ringing at St. Leonard's, Streatham, Clapham Park, Bishopsgate and St. Clement Danes.

The meeting decided that the summer tour, 1966, should be held in Ireland, the date still to be fixed. Those persons interested should write to the secretary, Robert Dennis, Commonwealth Hall, Cartwright Gardens, W.C.1, stating date preferences.

Anthony H. Smith resigned from the committee, and Richard O. Humphries was elected steepkeeper in his place.

The ladies were thanked for the excellent tea, and Mr. Jack Euston for his help with the ringing arrangements. R.E.J.D.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The annual dinner of the Derby Diocesan Association will be held at Chesterfield on February 19th.

Correction.—The peal of Grandsire Triples at Warfield, Berks, was rung on September 18th, and not August 18th, as submitted.

The 700th anniversary of the Duchy of Lancaster was commemorated by a peal at Scorton on October 30th rung by members of six branches of the Lancashire Association.

Members of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Mary-le-Bow on October 23rd.

The quarter peal at Burstow (page 739) was rung for the 65th birthday of Mr. L. Penfold, who taught the band to ring, and not as stated.

The peal of Stedman Caters at Prittlewell by the University of London Society of Change Ringers was the 100th peal together for Alan and Diana Frost, the 25th together for Richard Humphries and Anthony Smith, and Graham Elmes' first on ten.

Congratulations to David Phillips and his young colleagues who were successful in ringing the quarter peal at Caerleon. This was David's first quarter as conductor, quite a commendable achievement after only just over 12 months' ringing and at 15 years of age.

Mr. T. R. Butler, of Orrell Park, Liverpool, has had two grandsons born within a fortnight and they have both been welcomed by separate peals. The christening was a joint affair at St. John's Church, Walton, Liverpool, the ceremony being performed by the curate, the Rev. P. Goodrich, who is one of the fathers. Mr. Butler is churchwarden here and he hopes that both boys will be ringers.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT QUORN

Recently a disastrous fire at St. Bartholomew's, Quorn, Leics, has put the bells out of action for some time. The first apparently started in the choir vestry under the belfry. Although five fire brigades fought the blaze at one point flames twenty feet high were shooting out of the top of the tower. Although the bells did not fall it is feared that some of them may be cracked by the action of heat and water. Quorn is a favourite tower for outings, as it is on the main road near Loughborough—organisers, please note!

IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA

A tape recording of the Stedman Triples rung for Great Adventure II at Perth Cathedral was played at the wedding of two of the Perth ringers—Bunny Warren, who learned to ring at Hammerwood, Sussex, and Norma Bailey—which took place at Kojonup Methodist Church.

Brian Cox and Ron Russ recently drove across from Adelaide to spend a few days in Perth. The trip resulted in a quarter of Bob Triples, which was in honour of the wedding. A newcomer, also in the quarter, was Tim Gregory, of Crawley, Sussex, who is a great help to the band. With the aid of the two Adelaide ringers first in Stedman Triples were rung by Merilyn Chambers, Michael Page and Leith Reynolds. Another visitor in Perth is Bill Moorey, a Guildford man, who is taking a leisurely look at Australia. Mr. and Mrs. Paling arrived safely at Fremantle on October 17th and, according to Basil Potts, Perth ringers are looking forward to their company.

BEHIND THE BIRSTALL PEAL

The story behind the peal we publish this week at Birstall, Leics, is interesting. Three years ago the extensions to the church were completed and the Vicar asked for a peal attempt to be made. This is a ground floor ring and the new building attracts many visitors which proved too much of a distraction! A second attempt was made on the first anniversary of the rededication—again unsuccessfully. The attempt on the eve of the second anniversary was a case of third time lucky!

It was also a farewell peal for Roger I. Kendrick, who has since left to take up an appointment in Bury, Lancs. Unfortunately too the Syston District chairman (Mr. Geoffrey M. Brewin) has left to take up an appointment in Cambridge. The peal was also to have been a 21st birthday peal for Michael G. Godwin, and he was unable to ring at the last minutes—his place was taken by Fred Faulkner, of Segrave (a three bell tower!), who rang the light treble very well!

AUBREY BENNETT'S 1965 PROGRAMME ENDS

The last of a series of outings for the year, organised by Mr. A. L. Bennett, took place on October 30th, with ringing at St. James', Teignmouth. After lunch the venue was Buckfast Abbey, where Father Paulinus joined the party and a pleasant hour was spent, the two sons of Mr. Will Myers having their first opportunity to ring these bells. A social tea interval followed.

AN OPPORTUNE VISIT

Ringers at St. John's, Hanley, are scarce and the prospects of bells for the wedding of Mr. K. Peter Jones and Miss Maureen Woolrich, two local ringers, on October 16th seemed obscure. Fortunately the day coincided with the outing of Mr. Howard Howell's band, of Willenhall, and they had the bells going to Kent T.B. Royal, Grandsire Caters and Plain Bob Royal, but the too prompt arrival of the bride cut short a touch of Stedman Caters.

The choral service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. Alan Bond, and the wedding ceremony by the Rev. Patrick Yenall, previously of Hanley, who journeyed from York for the occasion. The bride was attended by Miss Gillian Coates, and Mr. David Jones was his brother's best man.

A MARCH WEDDING

Mr. David Feek and Miss Megan Butler were married recently at St. Wendreda's Church, March. David is an enthusiastic ringer at March and is well known in the Wisbech District of the Ely Diocesan Association. Megan participates in activities of the church choir. Several ringers attended the ceremony and a quarter peal was rung by a mixed band of March ringers and ringers from Walsoken. Members of the Wisbech and Ely Branches of the Association will join in wishing David and Megan best wishes for the future.

"WIND-ASSISTED" PEAL!

Cowbridge Grammar School Society's first peal of the current school year, Plain Bob Minor, at Llanblethian on November 1st, conducted by 14-year-old Chris Ricketts, was rung by a band which included two other 14-year-olds, one of 13 and another of 16. This was the first of Minor on the bells and for the Society, also Chris's first of Minor as conductor. (Incidentally, he was recently interviewed on the B.B.C. on the Welsh Home Service programme "Good Morning, Wales" in connection with his ringing activities.) The peal was also the first to be rung in the associated parishes of Cowbridge and Llanblethian by a resident Sunday service band.

The evening of November 1st, when the peal was rung, was extremely stormy. On returning triumphant to school, Chris was greeted by a friend in the dormitory with the words, "You can't claim that peal, you know—it was wind-assisted!" I. D.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Eleven towers were represented at the Bingham District meeting at Granby on October 9th. The Vicar, the Rev. Pickworth Hutchinson, gave us a cordial welcome and conducted the service, at which a Lincoln ringer was organist.

Fixtures ahead: November meeting, Holme Pierrepont; dinner and social, Wharton, December 10th (tickets available 17s. 6d.); annual meeting January, Radcliffe-on-Trent.

PENWORTHAM HAS A MODERN RING

After four months of silence, the recast bells of St. Mary's, Penwortham, Lancs, rang out to several methods following their hallowing at a service of thanksgiving, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. F. Rees). Declaring that it was a day of great rejoicing, he offered prayers of thanksgiving for the return of the bells, the skill of the craftsmen, bellfounders and ringers.

In his sermon the Archdeacon of Lancaster (the Ven. C. H. Lambert) stressed the difference between the material and the spiritual by two points. In the former, all was lost, but in the latter all belonged to God. "Let the bells ring out the bad and ring in the good."

Penwortham's original ring of five were cast by Abraham Rudhall in 1712, a sixth bell was added in 1858, and augmented to a ring of eight by the addition of two treble bells in 1926.

Completely recast this year by Mears and Stainbank, who were represented by Mr. A. E. Lewry, Penwortham St. Mary's now possesses a modern ring of eight, with a tenor of 8 cwt. in A. R. P.

DIRECTORSHIP FOR CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD RINGER

Mr. P. K. Williamson, M.A., A.M.I., Chem.E., head of Courtauld's Department of Chemical Engineering, has been appointed a director of Pinchin Johnson and Associates, Ltd., the Courtaulds paint subsidiary company. It was while he was reading for the Mechanical Science Tripos at Trinity College, Cambridge, that Mr. Williamson started bell-ringing and through ringing met his wife, whom he married in 1956. He has rung in hundreds of towers all over the country, but at the moment his activities are mainly restricted to the village church. He lives in a 180-year-old house at Stoneleigh, Warks.

Mr. Williamson joined Courtaulds Chemical Engineering Section in 1946, after taking a post-graduate course at Imperial College, London. He became head and a director of the Chemical Division in 1964. Early last year he spent five months in Russia helping to start up a viscose tyre cord factory. His many friends in Cambridge University Guild will congratulate him on his new appointment.

ANOTHER ADVENTURER TELLS HIS STORY

The Rev. Malcolm Melville gave an interesting talk on the travels of the "Great Adventurers" in Australia and New Zealand to the Northern Branch meeting at Aylsham on October 23rd. There was a large attendance.

The Vicar (the Rev. F. B. Evans), in his welcome to the Branch at the service, spoke highly of the art of bell ringing and said he hoped that the ringers who had been endowed with this gift would use it as a service to God, and not just as a pleasant pastime.

At the business meeting Miss P. Holmes (Sussex) was elected a N.R.L.M. and Mr. M. Lee (Hethersett) a ringing member. Owing to a sad report that Wymondham Abbey bells would not be ringable for an indefinite period it was decided to hold the annual Branch meeting at Higham on January 15th.

WARNING

Lately there has been a disruptive element present in the Exercise. Laughter has been heard in ringing chambers up and down the country, and it is feared that there are a growing number who ring for enjoyment and as a service to the Church. What has happened to the stern mental discipline, the rigorous training, the all-male prerogative, the dignified correspondence? Who belongs to this breakaway group of iconoclasts? How are we to recognise them and eject them from our towers?

THE ART OF COARSE BELL-RINGING

Coarse Bell-ringer n.—One who can handle a bell and learn a method, but is unable to combine the two.

Coarse Bell-ringers, male or female, are easily recognised, being friendly, extrovert, and never the tower captain. They are invariably dressed unsuitably for ringing. The men wear tight waistcoats, limiting movement to three inches in any direction; or large, loose trousers and shirts in need of anchorage. The ladies wear shift dresses that rise alarmingly, or precariously balanced hipster skirts. (Serious ringers' clothing permits free and vigorous movement, yet is apparently glued to the body.)

It is not yet known why Coarse Bell-ringers are attracted to the Exercise. Perhaps they come to meet other ringers, with a view to arranging a coarser rendezvous elsewhere, or because they want an excuse for consuming the rivers of beer that are every ringer's right. Children are never Coarse Bell-ringers; the type first develops at about seventeen years old, by which time the infant beginner is either ringing spliced Surprise, or has been permanently discouraged.

To cover his inadequacies, the Coarse Bell-ringer takes refuge in Bellmanship. This is best defined as: "the knack of convincing everyone that you are the only one who is right, when they, and you, know you are wrong." The basic principles of this black art have been kept secret, but recently a beginner's textbook fell into our hands, and we can now expose this commendable practice.

In case of emergency in mid-touch

1. Disregard all shouting. It is best to stare fixedly ahead, with perhaps the slightest suggestion of a tolerant smile for the weaknesses of others. If this is too difficult, looking at each bell in turn, as though carefully following your coursing order, will also be effective.

2. Every so often, look pointedly at a bell, and hold your own bell up over it. This will immediately convince the other person that he should have dodged with you.

3. Never be tempted to say: "I'm in 3-4 now," or anything similar. There may be someone who really is in 3-4.

4. When the conductor has finally called "stand," set your bell slowly and carefully, saying: "Yes, it certainly is oddstruck." During the ensuing discussion of who went wrong where, sit down quietly and engage someone in earnest conversation; with any luck they'll forget you before you next come up.

So, watch out all you campanologists, Coarse Bell-ringers are on the loose. There may be one at your next practice (if you haven't got five in the band already).

E.Z.

UNIFORMITY WANTED

A correspondent, who after many years has spent much time in trying to instruct beginners, makes a plea for uniformity in ringing nomenclature. So much, he contends, is incomprehensible to them and to many readers of "The Ringing World." He asks the Central Council, as the body elected by ringers themselves, to lay down once and for all the approved method of writing out peals, compositions, methods, etc., and the meaning of signs, etc. Why should X mean a dozen totally different things?

Take the layout of methods. X means all bells change; 34 means that those in 3rds and 4ths lie still. The beginner gets that and at once a considerable part of the paper becomes intelligible till next week he meets—34. The instructor now explains that — is the same as X after having spent some time previously telling him that it means a bob.

Our correspondent writes:

"One picks up the paper with a view to explaining what is meant in the layout of a new composition, and you find the headings the normal B, M, W, etc. Without going into detail one explains that they are the positions at which the calls are made. But immediately underneath that composition is another of an allied method, with totally different headings. Even if one knows oneself or can guess what they mean, the only explanation one can give is that that is the way that particular composer writes it out. The following week there is a layout of an entirely different sort, which so far has defeated me, let alone try and explain it. By this time one's audience has come to the conclusion that nothing means anything at all and you can put down what you like, make a noise on the bells and call it a peal! So one tries to interest them in something else."

Perhaps the new comprehensive textbook of Mr. W. G. Wilson's, which is due for publication at the end of this month, will give a lead and a guide in these matters, which for the sake of clarity and ease should be universally adopted.

328th Anniversary Dinner

College Youths are Secular but they need Support of Church

Replacement of British Bells would cost £23m.—Ringers Urged to Appreciate their Value.—Tributes to Mr. Chilcott, the retiring Secretary.—New Members from Canada and Australia.

FEW recent Masters of the Ancient Society of College Youths have had such a wide experience of provincial ringing as Mr. Rodney B. Meadows, who presided over the 328th anniversary dinner at the Bridge House Restaurant, London Bridge, on November 6th, and recognition of this and his popularity in the Exercise was forthcoming from the large attendance of country members.

The Central Council was represented by the president (Canon Thurlow) and also its general secretary (Mr. E. A. Barnett). It was Mr. John E. Chilcott's last dinner as secretary of the Society and tributes were paid to his efficient service by various speakers. The customary touch of Stedman Cinques was rung on bells originally the gift of the late Mr. W. H. Pasmore, which had been renovated and augmented to 18 by the brothers William and Douglas Hughes in memory of their father, the late Mr. Albert A. Hughes.

The Master was escorted to his chair by the senior steward, Mr. J. D. Rock, and the junior steward, Mr. A. J. Frost. Other officers present in addition to the secretary were Messrs. C. G. J. Watts (treasurer), E. G. Fenn and J. F. Smallwood (trustees).

The loyal toast was followed by the Master proposing "The Church." Mr. Meadows said old accounts made it clear that change ringing, which began to flourish in England some 350 years ago, was at first entirely a secular art. The custom of ringing for Sunday services is more recent than is generally supposed. The Ancient Society of College Youths, which we regard as a nationwide Society, remains essentially a secular Society. No body of ringers is more devoted and efficient in the Sunday service ringing which it undertakes to perform at the London towers, but Society activities generally do not centre on this and we are not affiliated to any Diocese.

The Master is not obliged, strictly in performance of his duties, to attend a church service more than once or twice during his year of office, perhaps not at all. It is therefore a salutary exercise for him, and a long-established custom, that he should propose the toast of "The Church" at this dinner.

If I now avoid making some of the usual comments on our relationship with the Church, this is not because they are not important, but because they have been made—and well made—many times before both at this and other dinners. We all know that Church and ringers depend on one another: but really our side has much the better of the bargain.

BELLS NEED THE SUPPORT OF THE CHURCH

If asked which was the best ring of eight bells in the City of London, many would no doubt choose St. Lawrence Jewry, which some of you will have been ringing today. A strong rival to these fine bells would be the post-war Taylor eight hung in St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, which are not available for ringing and probably never will be. The tower stands complete with bells but no church to support it, and without this the bells cannot be rung.

MR. RODNEY B. MEADOWS
The Master, 1964-65

Bells without the church are as nothing, or next to nothing.

In the life of this country, bellringers enjoy a remarkable licence. It has been said that the most patient and defenceless audience is a church congregation when the sermon is being preached. They cannot answer back and it is extremely difficult to get away. There is an even more patient and defenceless audience. I mean the people who live within half-a-mile or so of a church where there are bells. The licence for ringers to broadcast, at full volume, two or three times a week, depends entirely on the long custom of ecclesiastical protection. Any other broadcasting instrument, operated at comparable decibels, would be stopped at once by the police. If the Church ceased to be a Church, ringing would not be tolerated for a month longer, perhaps not even a week.

BELLS VALUE—£23 MILLION

The modern world has been brainwashed into seeing all issues expressed in financial terms. George Orwell once wrote, "Money is what God used to be." I have been doing a few calculations, based on the knowledge that there are some 5,200 rings of five bells or more in this country. If one values these bells and fittings at up-to-date prices, that is to say the replacement value, or what it would now cost if they had to be installed all over again, their capital value comes to some £23,000,000. I shudder to think that the Church Commissioners, financial wizards that they are, may one day start toying with these figures and wondering what else they could be doing with the money. Ringers should appreciate the value of the ecclesiastical furniture with which they are allowed to play. My speech has been expressed in somewhat materialistic terms. The only satisfactory relationship of ringers with the Church is that they should be part of it. For any ringer who regards the relationship as a kind of bargain or working partnership, it may be a little chastening to consider for a moment which party stands more in need of the other.

Canon Gilbert Thurlow, who replied, said the Church is not what those who usually plan this toast think it is. It is first and foremost the people of God, the ecclesia, the crowd. We can't avoid being God's people, whether we acknowledge Him or not. All come from God and return to God—Christian, humanist, Communist, alike. The Church's founder came to show everybody what they are—God's people. He knew most wouldn't respond, but He knew it was worth it.

So the Church is narrowed down to those who set themselves apart for Christ by baptism. Even here there is a sharp distinction between those whose loyalty increases and those whose loyalty decreases. Too many baptised C. of E. become loose hangers-on and have the odd idea that the Church is like the theatre, to which people come when inclined. The greatest thing the Church is doing today is recovering truth that it is a family or army, a band, as ringers would say, to which loyalty is members' first charge.

ALL FOR ALL

Christian division has turned the choice of Church into a hobby in the eyes of the man in the street. When the Church is one again, "joining Church" will again mean "recognising what we really are and acting on it." Worship has become, in the ordinary man's eyes, an escapist hobby. When dockers, miners, car workers and all of us see that all we do can only succeed when done as people, all together, each for all and all for each, then we'll stop going down the drain and we shall live as never before, and the Church will be God's people united in God.

Proposing the toast of "The Ancient Society of College Youths," Mr. E. A. Barnett, hon. secretary of the Central Council, said it was a great honour, because he believed it was the first occasion that it had been proposed by one who was a member of a body who were referred to as "the other lot." "I propose this toast, not only as a Cumberland but one who is secretary of the Central Council and one who takes a deep interest in ringing history, and the history of your Society is of great interest. At times I have made certain mental reservations of what is said at this dinner, but those who have studied ecclesiastical history will realise that it is not uncommon for people to have reservations one way or another."

FOUR SECRETARIES

What was unique, said Mr. Barnett, was that he had known their last four secretaries—Mr. Chilcott, Mr. Peck, Mr. Cockerill and before him Mr. Richard T. Woodley, who was secretary in 1887. He met him many years later and rang a peal with him at Lowestoft. (Continued on next page)

COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER (contd.)

The only remark he made which stuck in his mind was about the Rev. C. A. Clements, whom Mr. Woodley said could swear before he became a parson.

He thought many of them knew that it had not always been the practice of their Society to hold their annual dinner in London. At the end of the last century the Society used to go to country places where they had an interest and members. In 1887 the dinner was held at the Bell Inn, Crayford, Kent, on August 4th, and "Church Bells" reported that it was the 242nd anniversary dinner and that it was attended by many members of the Society from various parishes in the vicinity.

In coupling Mr. John Chilcott's name with the toast, Mr. Barnett said: "It was with very great regret that I learned that your secretary is giving up office in the next few days and I would like to say 'thank you' to him for his unflinching courtesy to me at all times."

A WELL-OILED MACHINE

Endorsing this tribute to Mr. Chilcott, the Master said it was a delightful experience to be Master of their Society, as one was supported by a well-oiled machine. John Chilcott was nine-tenths of that machine and he would be very difficult to replace adequately.

Mr. Chilcott in his reply, which took the form of an annual report, said although he did not invite Mr. Barnett so that they could indulge in "back-scratching," that gathering did enable them to show appreciation of Mr. Barnett's valuable services during the 14 years he had been secretary of the Centrad Council. (Hear, hear.)

Their attendance that day was 217 members and friends and was nearly their capacity. He congratulated Mr. George Symonds on ringing a peal on his 90th birthday, and Mr. E. G. Fenn, who was attending on his 90th birthday.

Apologies had been received from Bishop Wand, the Archdeacon of London, Messrs. E. T. Floyd-Ewin (Registrar of St. Paul's), Frederick Sharpe, Henry Hodgetts, A. York-Bramble (over 50 years a member), Harry Miles, John Brain, Henry Bagot (who writes that the College Youths in Australia were proposing to hold a dinner that day) and Andrew Pearmain.

Forty-five new members had been elected during the year, including three Izards, grandsons of Mr. E. W. Izard, of British Columbia, four from Melbourne and two each from Adelaide and Sydney.

MASTER AND PAST MASTERS' PEAL

Peals reported since the last dinner totalled 25, viz: Stedman Cinques 9 (that at St. Paul's created more interest than any other he had taken part in; one at Cornhill was in memoriam Herbert Langdon); Stedman Caters 3: Surprise Maximus 4 (included one by the Master and Past Masters of the Society. The one lost was better than the one rung, as afterwards 14 Past Masters were entertained at the George at Southwark); Stedman Triples 3: assorted Major 4 (including London at Waterford); Bob Minor 1: Grandsire Triples 1.

LOSSES BY DEATH

The company stood as those who had died during the year were remembered. The list included six who had been members for 50 years, viz: Harry Sear (1898) Bletchingley; F. Stedman Poole (1903) Cambridge; Canon C. Carew Cox (1905) Bridport; Herbert Langdon (1900); Alfred G. Arnold (1888) Beddington; Alfred Reeves (1900) Bristol.

Others were: Herbert C. Edwards (1943) Stoney Stratford; Laurence J. Williams (1931) Church Kirk; William G. Hiscott (1928) Liskeard; Stanley T. A. Russell (1942) Ash; Leonard A. Tidy (1952) Limsfield; George Apps (1948) Cuckfield; Walter Lewington (1950) Tilehurst; George Perrin (1955) Frieze-land; Frank C. W. Knight (1963) Ramsgate; George H. Cross (R.S.C.Y.); John Lloyd (1956) Brierley Hill; Horace Edwards (1913) Capel; Arthur G. Rose (1937) Parkstone; Joseph T. Dyke (1922) Chilcompton; Mrs. Edith K. Fletcher (Ladies' Guild).

The usual Sunday activities had taken place during the year plus week-day ringing at St. Giles', Cripplegate, and great credit was due to Jack Phillips, who organised this. The Exeter meeting was cancelled late in the day because the Cathedral bells were not available, and it was impossible to arrange an adequate ringing programme. They had a pleasant day at St. Ann's, Stamford Hill, in July, for the 100th anniversary of the dedication of the six bells. A quarter peal was rung as was done at the dedication in which the then Master, George Shury, took part.

Another event was the election to life membership of the Central Council of Mr. J. Frank Smallwood. "Long may he enjoy life membership of the Council."

TWO PRACTICES EACH TUESDAY

A reorganisation of their practice rota had taken place. They had now two practices going on on a Tuesday night and some weeks there were two 12-bell practices at the same time, which illustrated the condition of the College Youths in London. Next year's country meeting would be arranged by Mr. Leslie Barry at Gloucester on May 7th. An interesting programme would include ringing at Cheltenham and Painswick. The next annual meeting would be held on November 5th, 1966. A new rule book had been published and Mr. W. T. Cook had rewritten the history of the Society. Copies were available for members to purchase.

The handbells they were using that evening belonged to William H. Pasmore, who died in 1956 and left them to the Society. Those bells had been restored and increased to 18 by the brothers William and Douglas Hughes in memory of their father, the late Mr. Albert A. Hughes. They were dedicated by the Archdeacon of London last September. He expressed the thanks of the Society to the brothers Hughes for their gift.

The toast of "The Visitors and Kindred Ringing Societies" was proposed by Mr. A. J. Frost, the junior steward, who spoke with affection of the kindness that had been extended to him by London ringers when he came among them as a young man ten years ago. The College Youths were very pleased that next year they would provide ringers with two other Societies to ring for the 900th anniversary of the Abbey. They were pleased to have with them the Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill, as he and his wife had entertained them on a number of occasions in the vestry.

To Mr. Dennis Beresford he extended a special welcome as the Master of "the other Society," and they were pleased to have with them members from Oxford, Derbyshire, Bristol, Lancashire and other places. In the gathering that night there were between 40 and 50 kindred Societies represented.

The Rev. Norman Motley, Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill, replied and assured them that the clergy were very grateful to their ringers. He concluded: "Thank you for asking us; thank you for ringing. God bless you, and keep on ringing."

ROVING RINGERS' DAYS

The Rev. Roger O. Fry, Rector of Portishead and a former secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, said the many diocesan and county Associations represented that night showed the high regard they had for the Ancient Society. First of all he would like to pay a tribute to the retiring secretary. He knew John very well and remembered the days when he and his brother toured the country with the Roving Ringers. They had seen him ring at Exeter, Buckfast and Wrington and at the excellent out-of-town meetings he had organised at Bristol and Cardiff. He wished him and his charming wife every happiness in the future.

Mr. Fry also spoke of his long association with the Master in Bristol and Bath. He remembered when he lived in Bath that he regularly came to their practice meetings at Twerton.

"THE FRAGRANT MEMORY"

As is customary, the toast "The fragrant memory of Masters of 300, 200 and 100 years ago" was drunk in silence.

The toast was proposed by the Master, who said the Master elected in 1665 was Godfrey Wildbore. He had no information about him except that he joined the Society in 1659 and was elected a steward in 1662. The Rules then stipulated that the Master and stewards (of which there were perhaps as many as four) should be "able and willing to bear the expense" of the annual feast.

There was no record of the name of the Master elected in 1765, but in 1865 George Salisbury Shury was elected for his fourth year of office. He was a ringer at Kensington and elected a member in 1850. He rang the treble to about a dozen peals with the Society, mainly the treble to Grandsire Triples and Caters.

Concluding the evening, the Master said he was delighted that so many of his old friends had come up to London for the dinner—friends with whom he had spent many hours of ringing in the Midlands, Bristol, Oxford and Cheshire.

The customary touch of Stedman Cinques was rung by William T. Cook 1-2, Wilfred Williams 3-4, Michael V. Chilcott 5-6, John Chilcott (conductor) 7-8, Philip A. F. Chalk 9-10, Michael P. Moreton 11-12.

Letters to the Editor

OLDEST RING BY ONE FOUNDER

Dear Sir,—It was interesting to read of the ancient ring of six at St. Swithun's, Worcester, referred to by Mr Paul Cattermole (page 722). I am unable to think of an older six, but there is here in the City of London a complete ring of five at the Church of St. Bartholomew-the-Great, all cast circa 1510 by one Thomas Bullesden. Although the total age here is only 2,275 years, the true age of each bell is 455 years; I am told that this is the oldest complete ring by one founder. The bells hang in a massive frame of quite remarkable design and construction, out of all proportion to the size of the bells (tenor approximately five cwt). It is interesting to note that two of the trio at St. Bartholomew-the-Less, hard by, dating from c. 1400 and c 1440 are the oldest bells remaining in the City, but these unlike the bells of their magnificent neighbour, are very dilapidated. — Yours sincerely,

DAVID L. CAWLEY

King's College, W.C.

NO MISCALL—NOT UP TO STANDARD

Dear Sir. — In order to get the record straight, may I make it clear that the peal at Yatton for the "Hesse Week-end" was not miscalled; it was allowed to run round at the half-way point because I did not consider that the ringing was up to standard, and this I explained to the band at the time. Your contributor, who was not in the band, was misinformed.—Yours sincerely,

R. O. FRY.

Portishead, Bristol.

LIFE OF BELL ROPES

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read the letter on bell ropes by Mr. R. H. Duke (page 723) in which he states that properly maintained ropes will last ten years. I have just spliced one, less than one year old, after quite a lot of upping and downing.

Can I ask him, or someone as knowledgeable, to contribute an article on getting the best out of our ropes, and if castor oil or French chalk helps at all on the rubbing spots?—Yours sincerely,

JOHN ROYAL.

ALDERNEY SURPRISE MAJOR

Dear Sir,—I am indebted to Mr. A. Cutler for pointing out to me that the peal of Alderney rung at Putney on October 23rd, 1965 ("Ringing World," page 751), is not the first peal in the method. Although not claimed as such, the first peal of Alderney was rung at St. Ebbe's, Oxford, on October 20th, 1964. I am sorry that I omitted this from the supplement to the Central Council book, which was published as part of the last Records Committee report ("Ringing World," July 2nd, 1965, page 449). This omission is no doubt the reason for the present mistake. Perhaps your readers will amend their records and I will add this correction to next year's supplement.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN R. MAYNE.

RINGERS' DIARY

Dear Sir,—Despite several rises in production costs and a rise in postage, we have kept the prices of the Ringers' Notebook and Diary stable for some years, partly by changing from stiff to limp covers and partly because of gradually increasing sales.

Now, due to further rises in printing costs and postage, we find that the prices must be increased by 6d. to 6s. 6d. with plastic cover and 8s. with leather cover, post free, with the usual 3d. per copy reduction for orders of six or more.

At the same time we have taken steps to improve the quality, particularly by providing wider margins to the pages and more space for Saturday entries. We also hope that we have correctly forecast the demand for the 1966 edition and will be able to satisfy all requests for copies.

May we ask customers, please, not to send their orders before seeing the advertisement, which will appear in this paper shortly

THE BELLS OF INDIA AND PAKISTAN

Dear Sir,—A day or two ago I was giving a talk on bells to a Church Men's Fellowship and, after mentioning the big bells of the world and the East in general, a questioner asked in particular for information on the bells of India. Apart from generalities, I am afraid I was stumped. I have to go back to this group for a further talk in a few months' time and I promised to give something of a picture then.

Can somebody help me, please—India and Pakistan?—Yours sincerely,

LEARNERS AND MEETINGS

Dear Sir,—I would like to take up a point from J. E. Spree's letter, leaving aside the Kent question, except to wish good luck to the "Lurker": long may he do so if it will make more ringers aware of their cars.

As to whether "Meetings" are practices, I am trying to cudgel this Branch (Stroud) into accepting that they are nothing but, and must be conducted as such, with every bit of concentration on new, and especially junior, members: this in an effort to counter the non-existent legacy of past generations, and their negative attitudes to recruitment.

The few new members now appearing must, from the word go, be imbued with an awareness for constant attendance and to reserve the one Saturday a month, when our limited talent is pooled in the endeavour to better Sunday ringing, which—remember?—is the prime object of Guilds and Associations.—Yours, etc.,

EDWARD CRIBLEY.

"RINGERS REQUIRED"

Dear Sir,—Although this film was amateur made, it has achieved success in professional film festivals and has been transmitted throughout Britain and Canada on television.

If therefore any ringers seek a film, whether it be for a special function where entertainment is desired, or for recruitment and demonstration, or for public relations (no one outside the fraternity understands why learners need to make the "noise" they do on practice night!) then this film is ideally suited.

I must say that the machinations of the Central Council and its Education Committee are quite beyond me as they are to many others in the ringing fraternity. The recent Great Adventure II to Australia apparently received no endorsement whatever from the Council as one example, and "Ringers Required" has likewise received no mention whatever, yet at the Central Council's meeting in Cardiff one was amused to hear how the "ignorant" proposed that the Council should sponsor a similar film! The only recommendation made there was that this film was the best "yet" that had been offered. Might I suggest that the "yet" might last this century unless the Council has £5,000 to spare! It is not of course too late for the Council to show its endorsement of "Ringers Required" if it wishes to do so.—Yours sincerely,

THE TRELAWNEY FAMILY

Dear Sir,—Mr. Wratten's article is very interesting. In suggesting that their course of Grandsire Cinques "in hand" has probably never been equalled by any family since, he probably overlooked one by the late Mr. J. W. Washbrook and his four sons (Mr Washbrook ringing 7, 8, 9 and 10), which Mr. J. G. Nash, of Hornsey, recalled in these columns about a year ago.—Yours sincerely,

E. BARNETT.

The Washington Peal

This superb new 12-inch L.P. record marks a great occasion: the famous inaugural peal of the Washington Cathedral bells by a specially-invited team of English ringers, recorded by Douglas Hughes. In a playing time of 40 minutes, The Washington Peal records the highlights of a complete peal of 5,000 changes of Stedman Caters rung on the new bells two days after their dedication, before an estimated audience of over 10,000 people. Other tracks include the team's first rehearsal on the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as their handbell ringing of Grandsire Caters. The record's laminated sleeve contains a written history and account of the English team's visit to the United States.

PRICE 26/6 including post and packing.

The Sound of Bells

Here is the definitive book on the art and the history of ringing. Written by Edgar C. Shepherd, it will delight experts and novices alike. PLUS an E.P. record of different peals (some from famous cathedrals), carillons and hand bells. PRICE 26/6 including post and packing.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

The Last Day At Sydney

AS regards ringing, there were two objectives before the tourists on Monday, October 4th—to see if the bells of St. Benedict's (R.C.) were ringable and to ring a peal at St. Mary's Basilica, where the 1934 Great Adventurers were successful.

St. Benedict's presented a picture of neglect and the bells were very rough. To everybody's surprise, a course of Cambridge Surprise Minor was successfully brought round. The tenor of 16 cwt., in the opinion of Pat, went like a bell of 38 cwt. and the ropes were in a poor condition. A weird effect was produced by the third, which was rung by the man standing on the top of a four foot cupboard. The Cambridge was rung by Rev. Malcolm Melville 1, L. Stilwell 2, R. Clark 3, T. J. Lock 4, W. Watson 5, A. P. Cannon 6, and unquestionably it was the first on the bells. Plain Bob was also rung. The church authorities were interested in the visit and permission has been granted to effect improvements. There are no resident ringers here, the bells being rung on an average of once a year.

The bells of St. Mary's had been placed at the disposal of the ringers between 1 and 5 p.m., but the actual time was not generally known. After a leisurely lunch, the band arrived at the Cathedral about 1.45 p.m. and an hour was spent among the bells and in rope adjustments. Cambridge Surprise Major was started by L. Stilwell 1, W. Williams (conductor) 2, Miss E. L. Roberts 3, J. Fryer 4, W. Watson 5, C. W. Pipe 6, T. J. Lock 7, A. P. Cannon 8. After ringing about two courses at about 2.30 to the minute, a message was brought to the band that there was a Mass at 5 p.m. and that activities would have to stop at that hour. A halt was called and it was decided to go for a quarter of Cambridge. This was not achieved. In the evening, Monday being St. Mary's practice night, there was more ringing and touches of Bristol, London and Lincolnshire were highlights of a successful evening.

£1,000 FROM WEDDINGS

Also in the afternoon some went to Parra-matta to ring for a wedding. St. Paul's is a noted church for marriages. The band here are ambitious; they want the six recast, a new frame, and two trebles added. The cost holds no fears. Money received from weddings is donated to the Bell Fund and in 15 months over £1,000 has been raised! There is no denying that the bells, upon which a number of peals has been rung, warrant drastic action.

A farewell supper social started at Enid Roberts' flat about 9.30 p.m. Champagne was provided by Arthur Mason to commemorate his 500th peal. Eats were supplied by Enid, Sandra Clark, Sue Wright and Marilyn Milson. Canon Thurlow's message of good wishes was played and also recordings of Leicester Cathedral bells (half-muffled), Evercreech and the time signal, North Mymms and Harrow-on-the-Hill bells. Time passed rapidly and while the elderly retired about midnight, it was after 3 a.m. before the more virile members were ready to "call it a day."

A cavalcade of cars assembled before 10 a.m. at Beauregard Hotel to take the party into the city and afterwards to the airport. Fast friendships had been made and Sydney ringers regretted that the "Great Adventure" had come to an end as so much in the way of ringing had been unfulfilled. But New Zealand was calling and in 3½ hours the 1,400 miles had been traversed and we had landed at Wellington, the capital, alas without ringable bells at the old Cathedral, but a carillon in a detached tower in the centre of the city. The change of planes could have been avoided as there is a direct service between Christchurch and Sydney. Opportunity was taken for a sightseeing tour by taxi.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM

The first striking competition organised by the officers of the St. Martin's Guild, held at Handsworth, attracted more ringers than is usual at a quarterly meeting. The high standard of ringing encouraged by the competition seemed also to raise the standard of the open ringing which took place after the meeting. New members elected included P. Gay (Perry Barr), R. J. Weekes and J. W. Belshaw (Yardley), R. Inman, R. Liggins and J. Pettigrew (Aston), R. Hutchings and Miss M. Hutchings (Knowle) and F. Cole (Erdington Abbey). The following tower elections as life members were duly ratified: Miss H. A. Arrowsmith (Bearley), D. E. Rothera (Hendon), A. H. Smith (Biggleswade), J. G. Gipson (Royston), R. S. Starkie (Rochdale) and C. M. Press (Walton-on-Thames).

It was formally proposed that the Henry Johnson Dinner should be held at the Imperial Hotel on March 5th; and it was decided to invite Mr. John Chilcott to take the chair at this function.

The judges of the striking competition were Messrs. P. Border and R. W. Pipe; and the band with the least number of faults was Erdington Abbey, who rang a good touch of Stedman Triples.

Notices of motion were received for alteration of rules at the annual meeting, the first to allow for a trophy for competition winners, and the second for a Guild member's badge.

The next meeting (annual): St. Martin's on January 1st.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

The Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Enville, which has Norman nave arches but a modern Somerset-style tower, was the destination for the meeting of the Society on October 16th.

Enville is an attractive country village, although only a few miles from the Black Country, and its inhabitants have heard eight bells from the church since Taylor's recast the sixth and augmented the ring in 1876. There was originally a ring of six bells by Abraham Rudhall Junior of 1718, but in modern times, 1938, the tenor has been recast and all bells rehung by Mears and Stainbank. This newest bell weighs 13½ cwt. in E.

Members brought their own tea, and the service was conducted by the Rev. C. H. Barker, of nearby Swindon, who has been a member of the Society since 1913 and was for many years hon. clerical secretary.

Towers are asked to forward their subscriptions as soon as possible to the hon. treasurer; annual reports are now available.

Next full meeting at Wednesbury on January 22nd (provisional); an eight-bell striking competition on April 30th; six-bell competition on June 11th. C. M. S.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

St. Albans District

All twelve cars managed to find their way to Nomansland Common on October 2nd for the District car rally, but several drivers lost points on questions on the Highway Code and cars. Sheets of directions and questions were handed out and soon the cars were heading across country towards Hemel Hempstead. All was well until a misprint caused confusion—it must have looked amusing from the air to see the same cars going round the Hemel Industrial Estate looking for a non-existent bridge! Once past Hemel it was still across country looking for clues.

Those who got completely lost or ran out of time eventually had to open their envelopes to find that the destination was Chenies. All arrived safely—even if some only just made tea! When the results were announced, Ged Penney and Eric Edmondson were first with high marks. Steve Darvill and crew came second, and Geoff and Betty Fost and boud third. Thanks went to the organisers, Jonathan Chamberlain and Geoff and Joyce Dodds for an enjoyable day. The District managed to get to Rickmansworth for an hour's ringing after tea.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD
North Lindsey's Joint Meeting

A very successful joint meeting of the North Lindsey Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and the Beverley and District Society was held at Burton-on-Stather on October 2nd. The attendance of ringers from the East Riding of Yorkshire, 25 in all, was most satisfactory and several of the Lincoln Guild members very kindly provided car transport from New Holland and return for 15 people who crossed the Humber by ferry. This gesture was much appreciated.

The light ring of eight bells was rung from 2.30 p.m. to a large variety of methods, and the Branch Ringing Master, Mr. M. Crowder, ensured that all present had an opportunity to ring.

The Lincoln Guild form of service was used, and the Vicar (the Rev. W. T. Armstrong) complimented the congregation on the enthusiasm of the singing. In place of the sermon he read amusing extracts about ancient bells and ringing customs from a book written by an author under the pseudonym "Bob Major." The lesson was read by the Rev. F. Ross, of Hessele.

Some 62 people enjoyed tea in the Church Hall and before the short business meeting Mr. J. Bray, Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, whose death had been reported earlier in the week. Mr. Bray also extended a very hearty welcome to the members of the Beverley Society. Mr. Kirk, president of the Beverley Society, responded and had a special word of thanks for those who had provided transport from and to New Holland, to Mr. Barnes and the local ladies who provided tea.

DEDICATION

BENTLEY COMMON

St. Paul's, Bentley Common, was one of three churches within a three-mile radius of Brentwood possessing a ring of five bells until October 17th, when, at Matins, the Archdeacon of Southend dedicated a new treble bell to make a light ring of six.

A good congregation, including a number of ringers, nearly filled the church for the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. D. O. R. Parry. The Archdeacon preached the sermon, which was relevant to bellringers.

For the dedication ceremony the new bell sounded seven times and immediately after the service, as the congregation were leaving the church, the Sunday service band rang their first courses of Plain Bob Minor in public.

From then on the bells were available for general ringing with a break for an excellent cold chicken lunch provided by the local band and lady helpers. At the end of the lunch the Tower Master, Mr. R. J. Brown, made an amusing speech, detailing how the money had been raised by jumble sales, sales of work, beetle drives, etc., and expressing sincere and grateful thanks to all who had contributed in one way or another towards the augmentation of the bells. Special thanks were expressed to the secretary of the Bentley band, Miss B. Fisher, without whose hard work it would have been impossible to have had the new treble installed this year.

Mr. H. Turner, Deputy Master of the Essex Association, and Mr. C. Willmington, Master of the South-Western District of the Essex Association, suitably replied.

The bells were kept going continuously throughout the afternoon by various visiting ringers, and the general opinion was that Mears and Stainbank had done a good job and the bells are now a nice light handy ring of six.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION Northern Division's Striking Competition

The wind at Cowfold on October 30th held up the start of the striking competition. The judges' listening post was to have been in the schoolroom, but with the wind in the south-west the sound of the bells was on the wrong track, so a move was made to a car on the other side of the church. Here the main road traffic proved to be too much. Another move was made to the inside of the church, and here the bells could hardly be heard. Finally, the judges settled in the porch, where the sound was better but the wind and cold a lot worse!

Once started, the competition was kept going smoothly by the organiser, Mr. G. Francis. Danehill were the first in the "ring," followed by Cuckfield, Horsham, Withyham, Crawley, Balcombe and Warnham. The striking throughout was a credit to all the bands, and the query was raised as to why the striking at the usual monthly meetings was of such a poor standard compared with the ringing which had just been heard.

The competition ended, a short service was held (taken by the Vicar), after which tea was served in the Village Hall, where justice was done to a splendid meal provided by the ladies of several of the Divisional towers. The judges' verdict gave Warnham as the winners and Danehill a very close second.

The judging was in the very capable hands of Mr. E. A. Barnett and Mr. G. Cecil (a past Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths and the Sussex County Association), who were duly thanked for their services and for the valuable advice offered to the bands. E. L. H.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN Cary Branch

To mark their recent marriage, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. M. Hill, of Ditchat, were presented with a cheque at the Cary Branch meeting at Charlton Horethorne on October 23rd. Mr. Hill is the Branch Ringing Master.

Members stood in silence in memory of the late Mr. Joseph T. Dyke. The Branch chairman, the Rev. G. S. Robinson, conducted the service, and he, the local captain and the ladies who had prepared tea were thanked by Preb. O. H. Skipwith.

Chew Deanery Branch

Instead of floral tributes, donations were invited towards the fabric of Downside Church in connection with the passing of Mr. Joseph T. Dyke, and for this purpose a retiring collection was taken at Portishead, where the Chew Deanery held its quarterly meeting on October 23rd. The Rector, the Rev. Roger O. Fry, who succeeded Dr. Dyke as general secretary of the Association, conducted the service. Four new members from Portishead and seven from Publow were elected.

November practice meeting, Nailsea; annual, Yatton (provisional).

A LINCOLNSHIRE OUTING

A party of ringers from North and West Lincolnshire visited towers in four counties—Rutland, Leicestershire, Nottinghamshire and South Lincolnshire on October 9th.

Exton belfry was found to be sadly neglected, and at Empingham (a pleasant-toned six) Norwich was attempted. Local ringers greeted the party at Wymondham, where the tenor was rather a handful. A packed lunch followed.

Numbers were reinforced at Bottesford, where Grandsire and Double Norwich were rung. The best kept belfry of the tour was Whatton-in-the-Vale — "homely and comfortable." After tea at the Chequers Inn, Denton Church, under the shadow of massive Belvoir Castle, was visited. The bells here are badly in need of repair. Ringing ended at Barrowby and refreshments were provided at the Rectory by the Rev. Mr. Gaymer-Harris and his wife, formerly of Gainsborough. Mr. John Underwood is thanked for arranging such an enjoyable outing.

OBITUARY

MR. FREDERICK FRENCH

Mr. Frederick French, of Bourne, Lincs., an old South Lincolnshire ringer, died on October 27th at the Butterfield Hospital, Bourne, aged 73. Although his health had not been good for some years, it was only recently that he had to relinquish ringing.

He learned to handle a bell at an early age at Market Deeping, where he was born. For 45 years he was a railway signalman, mainly at Bourne. A good churchman, he was closely linked with Bourne Abbey as a ringer and chorister for over 40 years, and was also verger and steeplekeeper for the last 15 years. He rang approximately 100 peals, mostly Surprise Minor, including one of 28 methods under the able leadership of the late Mr. J. W. Lake.

Ringers from Thurlby, Rippingale, Folkingham and Bourne attended the funeral service at the Abbey Church conducted by the Rector, Canon Lawrence. As the coffin left the church for cremation, the Abbey bells, which he loved so well, rang out half-muffled to a quarter peal of Minor. Fred will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Sympathy is extended to his widow. C. T. H. B.

MRS. EDITH K. FLETCHER

The ashes of Mrs. Edith K. Fletcher were laid to rest in Yarmouth Churchyard by Canon Gilbert Thurlow on October 29th. Her name will be recorded in the Book of Remembrance in St. Nicholas' Church, Yarmouth.

MR. WILLIAM AMBLER

Ringling at Queensbury, Yorkshire, had reached a low ebb by the end of the First World War but a young ringer, returning to his native village from the armed forces, collected a band of men of his own generation and, with little or no outside help, taught them the mysteries of change ringing. His name was William Ambler (affectionately known as "Billy"), who for many years was the driving force which kept ringing at Queensbury at a high standard. Not a prolific peal ringer, judged by present day numbers, he rang 171 peals—81 of which he conducted. A performance of which he was particularly proud was a peal of Bob Major, rung on April 7th, 1923, by the band he had taught. It was his first as conductor and their first by six of the band.

Some 14 years ago, however, a chest complaint put an end to his practical ringing but he never lost interest in the art; he was happy with his books and occasionally he struggled up the tower steps to watch his pupils at the ropes. He died on November 4th. The funeral service was held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Queensbury. At the close of the service and before the cortege left for the crematorium a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by John Ambler, Vernon Bottomley, William Barton and Sam Longbottom. The tower bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service by ringing friends from neighbouring towers.

Although he was a martinet in the tower and forthright in expressing his views, Billy was highly respected for he had a kind and generous disposition. He served for two separate periods as secretary of the Western District of the Yorkshire Association with a total service of 12 years. So popular was he that when ill-health caused him to retire finally in 1951 the members of the Western District presented him with a gold pocket watch as a token of their esteem and as a mark of appreciation of all the work he had done for ringing and for the Yorkshire Association. W. B.

ST. FLORENCE, TENBY, PEMBS.—On Oct. 27th, 1.260 Grandsire Doubles: M. Roberts (age 10, first quarter) 1. K. Salisbury (age 12, first quarter "inside") 2. A. Johns (first of Grandsire) 3. M. E. Lewis (first of Grandsire) 4. Rev. R. W. Thomas (cond.) 5. C. Johns (age 12, first quarter) 6. First quarter peal on the bells by an all St. Florence band since their dedication in March, 1964.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. R. J. Purnell writes that his claim for most methods for the Salisbury Diocesan Guild referred to Doubles. The omission is regretted.

A new Doubles methods/variations record has been set up by the band conducted by George A. Dawson, of Carlton, Nottingham. At South Collingham on November 8th a peal of 135 methods/variations was rung. As a preliminary they rang on November 4th at North Muskham one of 126 methods/variations.

Mr. K. S. B. Croft, of Southampton, has been awarded a schoolmaster studentship at Trinity Hall, Cambridge, for the summer term. He will thus be able to resume his active association with the Cambridge University Guild.

Normal ringing has been resumed at St. Peter's, Dorchester, Dorset, on Sundays at 10.15 a.m. and Tuesdays at 7.30 p.m. Applications from visiting bands to the Rector.

The peal at Aughton, Lancs, on November 10th, to welcome the new Rector, the Rev. Leslie Eyres, coincided with the 30th anniversary of the first peal on the bells. His hospitality afterwards was much appreciated by the band.

Mr. G. E. Bonham asks us to state that the peal at Trumpington on May 22nd was Capt. Marybelle Nissly's first peal of Major "inside."

METHOD STUDY

From the Oxford Guild the following true story arrives:—

THE MINIMUS CONTEST

The Vicar of Bamber Priory, the Rev. F. J. Thackley, commenting on the visit of some 60 ringers to the Priory to see if a team could master the bells, writes: "They were charming people and obviously enjoyed every moment of the afternoon; indeed, when a rope broke and had to be spliced, far from being angry they treated it as the highlight of their day's fun. I do not know what it is, but there is something special—and very pleasant—about campanologists."

GOSPORT OPEN DAY

Following closely on the lines of the Open Day held at Chute Forest, Wiltshire, on June 27th, the Open Day at Gosport was again held on a Sunday afternoon; October 31st was a popular date even if the weather was wet.

Ringing from 2 p.m. until 3.15 p.m. was under the direction of Philip Murduck, and ringers came from a wide area to ring and join in the service held in Holy Trinity Church.

As the Vicar was away, a visiting incumbent conducted the service, which was attended by about 50 ringers. Further ringing followed, the highlight being a course of Cambridge Surprise Major.

It is hoped that the bells will now be kept going by regular visits so that local interest may be maintained in forming a regular team. G.D.

STEDMAN TRIPLES

Dear Sir, — You kindly published seven touches of Stedman in "The Ringing World" of April 9th, which I trust were appreciated by conductors having a liking for musical changes with 74 and 46 behind. I have now a further two in which I have given preference to ringers who like even bobs. I have not seen any published with the above qualities on this plan, so I am passing them on.—Yours faithfully,

A. J. PITMAN.

Queens and Tittums,

ST. CUTHBERT'S, EDINBURGH, TO HAVE 10 BELLS

The Presbytery of St. Cuthbert's Church, Edinburgh, have passed plans for the installation of two new treble bells to augment the fine ring of eight to ten. The reason behind the augmentation proposal is to provide a light ring of six, as the many ladies in the band find the back bells heavy for them to ring for any length of time. The contract has been placed with Messrs. John Taylor and Co., but it is too early to state when the job will be completed. In a quarter of Triples reported this week four of the tower's ladies rang. This was in honour of the important appointment of the minister, Dr. R. Leonard Small, as the new Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

AN OLD BLUE

Dear Sir,—In reply to R. W. H. Hayes (page 723) I would like to say that I am an Old Blue. I was at Christ's Hospital, Hertford, from 1954 to 1961, and although there was no possibility of ringing during term-time, I knew several girls who were interested in ringing. I learned to ring at North Ockendon, Essex, and am now a member of the band at St. Andrew's, Hornchurch.—Yours sincerely, (MISS) K. MURPHY.

Upminster, Essex.

THE WASHINGTON PEAL

Highlights of the Washington peal of Stedman Caters rung by a band of ten English ringers, who flew across the Atlantic specially to ring for the opening of the Cathedral bells, are now preserved for all time. Record Books have placed on the market a 12in. L.P. record, which lasts 40 minutes, of parts of the peal and also comments by Mr. Douglas Hughes about this enterprising journey and recordings of their rehearsal at St. Giles', Cripplegate, and of their handbell ringing.

Recently at a lunch at the Russell Hotel, London, the publishers of Record Books met Mr. Douglas Hughes, Mr. John Chilcott (the conductor of the peal) and Mr. E. A. Barnett (secretary of the Central Council) and others interested in the production to give the new venture an appropriate send-off.

Since then an initial order of 100 copies of the record has been received from Washington and from other parts including Calgary. Details are advertised in this issue.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

It was the privilege of the Archdeaconry of Halifax Guild to welcome the joint council of Ringing Societies to its first meeting at St. Stephen's, Lindley, on November 6th. To Mr. P. Birkett's greetings and good wishes Mr. E. Hudson, of Ripon, replied. The Revs. C. Coatham and F. Winderbank conducted the service and Mr. A. W. Bond provided tea.

The new learners' band at Lindley was wished every success and appeals for help on practice nights were made by most local towers. Advance notice of the Ringing Festival to be held at Beverley on May 21st was given by Mr. D. Smith.

The very good ringing of Surprise methods was little changed by the fixing of Mr. Bond's silencers, which enabled ringing to continue until 9 p.m.

Method for next meeting: Double Norwich.

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

At the business meeting of the Ancient Society of College Youths held on November 9th, the resignation of John Chilcott as secretary was received with great regret, and tributes were paid to the outstanding services he has rendered to the Society during his period of office. His resignation has become inevitable because of increasing business commitments.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: Master, Mr. John D. Rock; secretary, Mr. James G. A. Prior; treasurer, Mr. C. G. J. Watts; senior steward, Mr. Alan J. Frost; junior steward, Mr. Philip A. Corby; trustees, Mr. J. Frank Smallwood and Mr. Ernest G. Fenn; librarian, Mr. William T. Cook. The address of the new secretary is: 21a, Fieldhouse Road, London, S.W.12.

Group Captain J. S. Mason and Messrs. W. Williams, C. G. J. Watts and W. T. Cook were elected Central Council representatives.

At the next business meeting of the Society, which is to be held at the Rising Sun, Carter Lane, E.C., at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, December 7th, it is hoped to make a presentation to John Chilcott in recognition of his work. J.S.P.

WEDDING BELLS FOR MR. W. ERIC CRITCHLEY

The Doncaster ringers rang a quarter peal on November 4th at St. Mary's Church, Campsall, in honour of the wedding of their Master, Mr. W. Eric Critchley, to Miss Dorothy Stocks. Mr. Critchley has been a member of the Central Council since 1951, representing the Yorkshire Association, and his ability is recognised by his appointment as convener of the Peals Collection Committee.

TWO BISHOPS CONSECRATED AT CHESTER

At the Chester Diocesan Guild dinner the Bishop of Chester expressed the hope that as many bells as possible would be rung on Sunday, November 7th, the occasion of the consecration by the Archbishop of York in Chester Cathedral of the first ever Bishop of Birkenhead (Canon Eric Mercer, former Rector of St. Mary's-within-the-Walls, Chester) and the new Bishop of Stockport (the Rev. Gordon Street).

The bells of Chester Cathedral are unringable. To commemorate this double consecration two peals were attempted at Chester that day. At St. Mary's-within-the-Walls a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung in 2 hours 58 minutes by a representative band from the Grappenhall Branch. The other attempt, at St. Mary's-without-the-Walls, was not successful. An attempt for a peal of Bob Major was lost after two hours and 15 minutes.

Another peal was rung at Port Sunlight, and among the quarters received were those at Birkenhead and West Kirby.

A MODERN TEXT BOOK AT LAST "Change Ringing" by Wilfrid G. Wilson

THE need for a modern text book on change ringing fit to put into the hands of the latest recruit and acceptable to the progressive ringer has been felt by instructors for a long time, particularly during the last twenty years as the Exercise re-established itself after the war and the ban on ringing. The wait has been worthwhile, for Faber's invitation to Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson has resulted in a volume on the theoretical and practical aspects of our art as valuable as any yet written.

"Change Ringing—the Art and Science of Change Ringing on Church and Hand Bells" is a modern book. Open it at any page and this impression is immediate. Clearly great attention has been given to the typography, and this attractive work will earn the praise the publishers deserve; the figures of the methods described and of the compositions included are particularly clear and well spaced. It is interesting that most text books on ringing are instigated by ringers—the Snowdon series, Powell's Handbook and the Central Council publications—indeed when else has a ringing publication not owed its origin to a ringer? This is the best production I have seen, without any doubt.

Mr. Wilson's clarity of thought and lucidity are well known and fully evident here. It is surely not a coincidence that he was a pupil of the late J. Armiger Trollope, a prolific contributor to "The Ringing World" and its editor for some years as well as being the author of text and history books on campanology. His mantle has well and truly fallen on Mr. Wilson. The author, with his long experience of teaching and lecturing, appreciates the difficulties pupils find, and he anticipates them in explanations which are deceptively short.

This book will not replace Snowdon's "Grandsire" or "Stedman," nor any treatise on one method. But its comprehensive nature is something new: few topics connected with change ringing, if any, are omitted. The first chapters deal with the mechanics and handling of a bell, illustrated by photographs, the elements of change ringing and the Plain Bob method. Then, before the chapters on the other standard methods, come chapters on transposition and coursing order. "Conducting" comes much later in the book but it might well have been placed earlier, with the methods it chiefly covers, especially as Mr. Wilson favours the coursing order system of conducting. A minor criticism here: the value of learning by heart the coursing orders of part-ends and other landmarks in a composition is pointed out in the sections on Grandsire and Cambridge, but is not stressed in that on Plain Bob. But the advice "Learn the order of the bells in fifths place" is very valuable. The section on conducting Stedman Caters and Cinques is surprisingly brief: it would surely have been worth while including the figures of a course with the bells in the tittums position, for example, with the working bells omitted, to show that there IS a coursing order in the middle of the course worth learning, especially in Cinques, and to show how the coursing order of the working bells is altered.

Between chapters on place notation and internal falseness is one on Surprise methods. Some nine Minor methods are given in full leads, nine in notation, but Minor ringers may be disappointed that these are the only Treble Bob Minor methods in the book apart from Oxford and Kent, and that there is next to nothing on Spliced Minor. Leads of the six most popular Surprise Major methods and the notation of eight others are included, together with false course ends and incidence of falseness. This information is but one example of the cohesion to be found throughout the work, for the author has two chapters on false courses, one on their detection, the other on their definition: he acknowledges the help of Mr. C. K. Lewis and Mr. M. Hodgson with this subject. Certainly the student has a concise introduction to the theory of proof and composition of Treble Bob methods, but it is a pity that space could not be found for a study of the process of composition.

There is an excellent chapter on simple composition and proof, which is concerned almost entirely with Plain Bob Major, and rightly so, but the budding composer will need more help for Treble Bob methods than that given. Perhaps, after all, Mr. Wilson is right in letting the student help himself at this stage. Not everyone will agree, by the way, with the statement in the section on the nature of rows that in Plain Bob Major "you can only get half the possible total by bobs alone." Bobs in this method at 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 14 produce 12346578 (a row normally found in peals after an odd number of singles) at the handstroke of the 15th lead—little if any practical use, but demonstrating the possibility that most of the rows can be obtained by bobs alone. There is surely an analogy here with Holt's Original?

In the chapter on method building the reader is asked to experiment by cutting up a course of Plain Bob Minor into its half leads—an admirable way of teaching—but curiously the words "reverse" and "double" are not explained. The examples given of the possible variations of

NEW ZEALAND'S ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME

A LUCKY PEAL

Christchurch ringers had come in force to the airport, headed by Nelson Sloan, the local organiser, and Ray Idle, the tower captain. All the party were booked for Croker's Hotel. The evening was spent in making new friends. Nelson Sloan was last in England in 1959 and he has the happiest of recollections of his tour. Ray Idle is from the Kettering area and first came to New Zealand in 1950 and was in England in 1957. His wife is a Desborough girl and they were married in 1959. Another to meet us was Alan Summerell, of Kingston Seymour, and the following morning he conducted the non-peal ringers around Christchurch, visiting the beautiful Botanical Gardens and the banks of the River Avon and also the Museum with its very fine section of New Zealand birds and other treasures.

The peal party assembled at Christchurch Cathedral at 9.30 a.m. to be met by radio, television and Press. These preliminaries took the best part of half an hour. Tom gave a very good interview, only to be told at lunch time that the batteries were not connected; he obliged the next morning. Both Pat Cannon and Anne Horsford featured in Press interviews and Wilf Williams on the radio. The party were televised ringing in the preliminaries.

It was very nearly ten o'clock when a start was made on a peal of Plain Bob Major. Ray Idle, who conducted a peal of Grandsire Triples the previous Sunday, was included in the band. There was a shaky two minutes quite early, but it was generally regarded as a good peal, being accomplished in 3 hours 20 minutes. The tourists had their share of luck. Arthur Mason was on the third, and this rope, carried by pulleys almost horizontally across the tower. Afterwards it was discovered that the rope was only held together by one strand. Pat Cannon conducted H. Tucker's composition and it was the first peal of Bob Royal in New Zealand. Among ringers who came to listen were Dr. Bennett, who at one time held office with the College of Campanology, and Captain Cleaton Stevens, R.N.Z.N. (ret'd.).

On one side of the Cathedral Square is the imposing "Press" building. Eight of the bells were given by the Rhodes family, who established "the Press." New Zealanders are prone to write letters of protest over the bells (there were some over Sunday's peal), but in view of this gift "the Press" are allies of the bells although probably the chief sufferers. The English visit, however, was welcomed generally. The eight are a Taylor ring, the other two bells being the gift of J. B. Miles of London. The bells were cast in 1881.

Christchurch Cathedral was designed by Sir Gilbert Scott. The Queen has twice visited the Cathedral, as have also the last two Archbishops of Canterbury—Dr. Fisher in 1950 and the present Archbishop this year. Dr. A. M. Ramsay was very complimentary to the Cathedral choir, which he stated was "the best in the Southern Hemisphere." Mr. L. C. Terrell has been verger here for 30 years and mentioned that the cathedrals at Oxford and Canterbury are both represented in the coat of arms. The Dean (the Very Rev. W. A. Pyatt) came into the tower to welcome the ringers before the peal.

CHRISTCHURCH CATHEDRAL

WAR-TIME GIFTS

In the afternoon Tom Lock and the Editor paid a visit to Mr. George H. Claydon, of 73, Ottawa Road, Christchurch, who is now 85. George has been associated with Christchurch Cathedral since 1910 and was for many years Master of the Society. He learned his ringing at Sutton Coldfield and in his early life was associated with St. Martin's Guild. During the war George sent a food parcel to the Editor, which was distributed among the ringers at Holy Trinity, Guildford. In his thanks Tom told the donor what he had done. George replied: "I intended the parcel for you and not to be shared" and promptly dispatched another. A joiner by trade, George became a master builder. He was active until last year, when he had a stroke. The visit gave him great pleasure.

That afternoon there was ringing at St. Paul's Church, Papanui (a light five cast by Warners in 1880). Ray Idle is training six boys and a girl here. The bells are musical and easy to handle and are admirably suited for learning the rudiments of the art. Later that afternoon we had tea at Diocesan House and met the Bishop of Christchurch (the Rt. Rev. A. K. Warren).

An evening practice with local ringers followed. Now ringing here is Mrs. Barber, formerly of Glasgow, where her father was Master at the Cathedral and now lives at Morecambe, and her brother is at Workington. The belfry is rich in interesting portraits and groups. There is one taken in December, 1934, of the Great Adventure party that went to Australia—W. H. Fussell, W. Linter, J. Hardcastle and another of the jubilee of the Society in 1931. In both those years Mr. Claydon was Master.

Ringing today is Mr. J. Dunn, whose great-grandfather rang for the opening of the bells. Oldest active members are Dave Sloan (1917), Nelson Sloan (1919), the latter having been secretary of the Society for 30 years. Trevor Whitty also welcomed the 1934 visitors. The Society now has 15 active members. Len Stilwell met an old friend from Balcombe, John Gardner, with whom he had rung a number of peals.

Practically all the company attended Evening song at the Cathedral. In our honour the choir sang the bell anthem. The day was the 42nd anniversary of the wedding of the Editor and Mrs. White. By a coincidence the organ voluntary was improvisations on a hymn sung at the wedding.

MAORI GIRLS ENTERTAIN

The Dean and Mrs. W. A. Pyatt gave a reception and social at their residence, which was attended by local ringers and visitors. Maori schoolgirls did action songs in costume, and the bellringing feature on television was watched. Honorary membership of the Christchurch Society was conferred on the tourists. Canon Thurlow's greeting to overseas ringers was played, together with recordings from a number of English towers. Mr. T. J. Lock presented the customary gifts, and Mr. Idle in reply said the Cathedral Society now realised how well the bells could be rung. They had had an uninterrupted record of service for 84 years and they strove to retain it. Before leaving, a warm expression of thanks was passed to our hosts, and recordings of impressions were given by selected members.

The next morning the Society ferried us to the airport. Before parting, Nelson Sloan produced the Union Jack presented to Christchurch Society by Mr. W. H. Fussell, and this was appropriately photographed. Somehow the party took with confidence to the Christchurch Society worthy to uphold change ringing in New Zealand.

COVENTRY COLLEGES' GUILD

The Coventry Colleges' Guild was founded on October 27th at a meeting held in the Coventry College of Education. The purpose of forming the Guild is to provide a common meeting ground for students in Coventry, the present qualification for membership being membership of the College Union of the University of Warwick, the Lanchester College of Technology or the Coventry College of Education.

The constitution of the Guild was drawn up in outline and the 18 members present elected the following officers for 1965-66: Master, F. Shallcross; Deputy Master, Maryl R. Cross-thwaite; secretary, S. C. Walters; Treasurer, T. M. W. Weedon.

The Guild suffers at present from lack of a suitable tower for practice, and the weekly practice at Allesley is held on silent bells. In spite of this the attendance is usually very good, and the standard is gradually improving. Visits to local towers are being arranged on Saturday mornings, and this gives the Guild an opportunity to ring on open bells. It is hoped that service ringing will be undertaken when the standard of ringing is sufficiently high, subject to a suitable tower being found.

Any students in Coventry who are interested in joining the Guild should contact the secretary at 64, Anchorage Road, Sutton Coldfield. S. C. W.

Coventry Cathedral Bells To Ring Again?

THE Coventry Diocesan Guild held their bi-annual dinner at the Lockheed Canteen, Leamington Spa, on October 9th. No ringing had been arranged for this occasion. After an excellent dinner the president, Mr. A. H. Beamish, who was in the chair, gave a welcome to all present and hoped they would have a pleasant evening. He was supported by the Provost of Coventry Cathedral, the Very Rev. H. C. N. Williams, the Rev. and Mrs. Graham Smallwood, Dr. Corydon-Budge, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Perrens and other officers of the Guild with their respective wives.

The toast of "The Guild" was proposed by the president, who in his speech referred to a Holy Communion service broadcast from Coventry Cathedral at a time when he was incapacitated and unable to attend his own church. This gave him the opportunity of taking part in that service although he was in his own home. That service was taken by the Provost, who was their guest of honour.

He referred to the healthy state of the Guild, and in particular to the number of young people who were giving excellent support to ringing by their regular attendance at service ringing and meetings.

Replying, the Provost said that he thought the reason he had been invited to this dinner was to give him the opportunity of saying what was to happen to the bells of their Cathedral. The reason that nothing had been done was because of the many calls on their finances at this stage of the Cathedral development. He was now prepared to consider having the bells made into a pealable ring once again, providing the necessary money could be raised, and suggested that the Guild might make itself responsible for raising it. He pointed out that one very important factor in having the bells ringing again was the question of noise control, as the Cathedral was surrounded by public buildings which were in constant use during the week. He had been assured that the noise could be controlled satisfactorily, and he trusted that this was so.

NATIONAL APPEAL

He said that he regretted that the bells could not have been hung for ringing in time for the consecration of the Cathedral, but he had so much to contend with at that time that he could not possibly face up to another project, although he realised that that was the right time to have had them done owing to the tremendous interest that was then being taken in the new Cathedral development. However, he was sure that if a national appeal was made the money would be forthcoming. He thanked them for inviting him and giving him the opportunity to address them.

"Our Guests" was proposed by the general secretary, Mr. J. L. Garner-Hayward, and responded to by Mr. R. S. Anderson, convener of "The Ringing World" Committee, who made special reference to "The Ringing World," reminding those present that it was their paper, and it was up to them to support it, not only by purchasing a copy but supplying news items. He said that the present circulation was about 5,600, and it ought to be double that number.

Mr. F. W. Perrens in his vote of thanks said how pleased he was to hear the Provost's remarks about the Cathedral bells, and thanked him for his presence with them. He thanked also those who had had the responsibility of organising the dinner as he was sure that everyone had enjoyed the evening.

Entertainment was provided by the Chilvers Coton ringers' choir, the Kenilworth Three, a course of Stedman Caters and the film of the creation of the Coventry Cathedral, which was much appreciated by all present. This brought a very pleasant evening to its close.

KENT/SURREY JOINT MEETING

On November 6th a very successful joint meeting was held at Edenbridge between the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association and the Southern District of the Surrey Association. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. after the belfry prayer of the Kent County Association had been read.

The service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. Bartleet), was attended by over 40 people. The choir, of which many Edenbridge ringers are members, sang an anthem.

After the sumptuous tea in Church House, prepared by Mrs. E. C. Leigh and her helpers, the resident District secretary, Mr. W. H. Dobbie, welcomed the Surrey Association on what was, as always, a popular occasion in their calendar. Mr. T. Bird, Master of the Southern District, replied. Mr. Dobbie thanked the Edenbridge ringers for their hospitality and in conclusion expressed his hope that there would be a good response to the collection for the Tower Bell Fund, as they were now anticipating a major overhaul of the bells.

THE STORY OF ASHFORD BELLS

By NICHOLAS J. DAVIES

THE early history of Ashford and its church lies largely within the realms of obscurity. When the Danes overran the tract of country stretching between Appledore and Great Chart they destroyed the church of the latter place, demolished homes and slaughtered the inhabitants. Survivors of the massacre at Great Chart migrated to the spot now known as Ashford, and there is every reason to think that a church was erected in the midst of their rustic dwellings. Of the present building, the Normans gave it its cruciform shape, while the 13th and 14th centuries saw the re-fashioning of the aisles and windows. In this state it would have been well known to the Lady Elizabeth, Countess of Atholl. She died in 1375 and lies beside her third husband, Mallweyne, of Ashford, under one of the most famous and beautiful brasses in Kent.

Almost a century later the church came under the influence of its most famous benefactor, Sir John Fogge, treasurer of the Royal Household of Edward IV and a sheriff of the county. It was while he was Knight of the Shire that he restored and endowed the church, and also founded a college of priests. Sir John also encased the old tower and raised it to its present height of 120 feet. In poetry of design and beauty of proportion it still has few rivals in South East England.

JOSEPH HATCH'S WORK

Bells are first mentioned in 1552, when there were five large bells and a sanctus bell in the tower. We may accept the fact that these were probably given by Fogge in 1475 along with books, altar plate, vestments and other valuables, and that they almost certainly remained until 1620. In that year at least three of the bells were recast by Joseph Hatch, of Ulcombe, who added a treble to make six (the second ring of six in Kent, the bells at nearby Wye having been made six in 1594). This was during the incumbency of John Wallis, whose son, Dr. John Wallis, was destined to become the famous Oxford mathematician. Whether he discussed the matter of the hanging of the bells with Hatch is not known, but it seems a strange coincidence that Hatch decided to hang the bells in the middle storey of the tower, where they would exert less stress, and the six rope holes in the embossed tower ceiling show that the bells were rung from the ground floor with a 40ft. rope draught! In 1633 and 1652 the two remaining mediaeval bells were recast by Joseph and William Hatch, and the ring remained untouched until 1762.

In 1762 two trebles, cast by Lester and Pack, of Whitechapel, were added, and the whole ring rehung in a new oak frame in the upper storey of the tower, the bells being rung from the old clock chamber. The augmented ring was opened amidst great rejoicing on Monday, March 14th, 1763 (a board in the ringing chamber still records the occasion), and on the following day a band from Leeds (Kent) under the leadership of the famous James Barham rang a peal of 5,184 Oxford Treble Bob Major in 3 hours 23 minutes. A local band was quickly trained, and they rang their first peal (Bob Major) in Dec., 1765.

LONG LENGTHS

In November, 1795, the tenor, being cracked, was sent to Whitechapel, where it was recast by Thomas Mears. The new bell, weighing 23½ cwt., came back in February, 1796, and was a maiden bell. It was during this period that the Ashford ringers really began to achieve distinction. They had already rung 6,000 Bob Major in 1792, and they went on to ring 6,720 of the same method in 1812. The zenith was really reached in January, 1830, when a peal of 10,304 Bob Major was brought round. It was conducted by John Friend, of Hythe, and the tenor was rung single-handed by Richard Carreck for 6 hours 25 minutes (the same band went on to ring 13,440 Bob Major at Hythe).

In 1878 it was reported in the vestry minutes that the sixth bell was cracked in the crown, but no action was taken. In 1885 it was decided to replace the clock and chimes. The original clock had been set up in 1688, and the chimes added a century later, being cleverly constructed by a local builder. The copper face of the old clock was turned into jugs, and the 4ft. hour hand is still preserved in the church. The new clock and chimes were supplied by Gillett and Johnston, the latter playing a selection of 14 hymn tunes and popular melodies; two semitone bells were also added at this time to enable the National Anthem to be played on suitable occasions.

TROUBLE WITH THE TOWER

In 1898 the bells were obviously in bad repair, although the frame was quite sound. In this year the cracked sixth was recast and the canons removed from the remaining bells, which were rehung with new fittings throughout. The work was carried out by Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the tower remained in good order until 1924. In this year the tower was found to be slightly cracked in two walls and an increase in tower movement was evident. Stitching of the walls was carried out, the bell-frame anchored more securely to new supporting beams, and the bells rehung on ball bearings by Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon.

The tower now possessed a very good ring of bells that attracted the admiration of many visiting hands, and 34 peals in methods up to Spliced Surprise Major were rung up to 1964, bringing the total of peals up to over 60.

However, in the autumn of 1963 the warning signs appeared again, with an appreciable increase in tower-sway. Reports by Mr. Ranald Clouston and the church architect confirmed the presence of active cracks, due entirely to the stress of the swinging bells on the thin tower walls.

After a meeting between church officials, bellfounders and the architect, it was unanimously agreed that the tower should be restored and the bells hung at a lower level, and the bells were eventually removed from their resting place of two centuries in January of this year. Two concrete ring-beams were installed to strengthen the tower, and the girders of the new two-tier ten-bell frame were firmly anchored to this base. Meanwhile the bells have been slightly retuned and one of the semitones which was cracked has been recast. (These bells are hung stationary outside the main ring.) The whole has been carried out very skilfully by Mr. Harry Parkes, of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The bells now hang once again at the level where they were hung by Hatch in 1620, but the modern use of sound-deadening material has enabled the old ringing chamber to be retained.

REHALLOWED

The bells were rehallowed in the presence of a large congregation of ringers and parishioners at Evensong on October 3rd by the Rt. Rev. N. E. Clarke, Assistant Bishop of Canterbury, and an hour's ringing was enjoyed by visitors and local ringers after the service. Everyone spoke very highly of the rehanging and we were glad that Mr. Hughes and Harry Parkes could be present to receive congratulations for a first class job.

The people of Ashford have always been grateful to Sir John Fogge for the great heritage of their church and tower. It is now their turn to show that it will not be lost through their neglect and they have already raised £8,000 towards the cost of £11,000 for tower repairs. Repairs to other parts of the fabric will, however, bring the final expenditure to £25,000. Those who have rung at Ashford will realise that our fine church has been handed down to us through the loving care of those who have worshipped here through the centuries, and we hope that they will help us in our duty today to see that it is preserved for those who may come after us. Any contributions, however small, sent to me at 91, Faversham Road, Kennington, Ashford, Kent, would be greatly appreciated and acknowledged.

The Washington Peal

This superb new 12-inch L.P. record marks a great occasion: the famous inaugural peal of the Washington Cathedral bells by a specially-invited team of English ringers, recorded by Douglas Hughes. In a playing time of 40 minutes, The Washington Peal records the highlights of a complete peal of 5,000 changes of Stedman Caters rung on the new bells two days after their dedication, before an estimated audience of over 10,000 people. Other tracks include the team's first rehearsal on the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as their handbell ringing of Grandsire Caters. The record's laminated sleeve contains a written history and account of the English team's visit to the United States.

THOSE NAUSEATING ADDRESSES

Dear Sir,—As one who was privileged to listen to the most stimulating address given by Canon Thurlow at Wokingham, I must thank you for publishing a digest of it, thus enabling me to absorb it at a more leisurely pace and allowing your readers who could not hear it to have the benefit of its wisdom.

It was most refreshing to hear a first-class sermon about a subject other than bells from the lips of one well versed in all bell matters in contrast to the dreary, repetitive addresses about bells from local incumbents who have no knowledge of bells or bell ringing. One gets thoroughly bored with hearing the local parson trot out with regularity (and the usual crop of inaccuracies) what he has obviously mugged up for the occasion from some encyclopædia or book about bells. He endeavours to grope his way through a subject much too vast for a short address and about which he has neither knowledge nor experience. Can it be wondered at that many ringers who do support Branch practices boycott the services?

May I plead with Branch secretaries when arranging the service at a practice meeting to suggest to the local Vicar, if he is to conduct the service, that he keeps right away from the subject of bells, unless he is himself a ringer. Many a ringing layman would achieve far more—but that would, I suppose, mean that the Bishop would have to be approached to give the man permission to preach the Gospel!

The best sermon I ever heard at a Branch practice was given at Chesham, Bucks, by a Church Army captain (not a ringer), who apologised for having to deputise for the incumbent.—Yours faithfully,

W. BIRMINGHAM.

Stoke Poges.

RINGERS AND MEETINGS

Dear Sir,—If the correspondence generated by Mr W. W. Ring's letter is intended as a joke, I think it is rather a laborious one, and in rather poor taste. If, on the other hand, it is serious, I am sure it can only be doing harm and ought to be discontinued.

I do not wish to be involved in this controversy, but I should like to question a view put forward by Mr J. E. Spree in his letter. He criticises ringing at meetings at which participants are attempting things for the first time, and maintains: "Meetings are not practice nights."

I would say that one of the great values of meetings is that they do provide opportunities to ringers to attempt methods, etc., for which there is no chance in their own tower. Several of the young ringers in my own (six-bell) tower have had their first experience of ringing new Minor methods, Triples and Major at meetings, and we are now not far short of having a band capable of ringing a peal of Bob Major—almost entirely through experience gained at meetings.

I agree that it is of tremendous importance that a high standard of striking should be urged, and that the Ringing Master at a meeting should feel strong enough to regulate the composition of the band catching hold at any time, but I hope that ringing meetings will never become the preserve of experts giving demonstrations of perfect striking, but will always provide the opportunities to progressive-minded ringers in a district to widen their horizons and increase their experience.—Yours faithfully,

PETER T. ROBBINS.

Charing Vicarage, Kent.

MR. T. J. LOCK'S OTHER TOUR

Dear Sir,—The letter of your correspondent Mr. T. A. Bevis, in the issue of November 12th has challenged me to pen a reply. In the first instance, I acknowledge and respect the remarks he has made, and accept that his motives are quite sincere. So I trust that I may create a likewise impression.

In planning a ringing tour I always seek advice from local Association officers (including the purchase of an annual report), and am guided by their information. If my party goes on tour in any territory without prior knowledge of such people, then it is a regrettable omission on my part. In drafting out the ringing programme I make a provisional list of towers against which I note practice nights, market days and early closing days. A road map is then referred to and, with the list and noting whether each tower is in a town or a village, I choose the routes which generally cause the least amount of travelling. I always prefer to address my applications for the use of bells to the local correspondent or captain and for him or her to approach the incumbent of the church, and I word such applications in the best manner I am able; in other words, never to create an impression of having any right or privilege.

In the recent tour referred to, I would like to tell Mr. Bevis that we received a very cordial and warm welcome to Wisbech and that careful thought was given to local inhabitants, even to the extent that most of the peal must have been rung after normal office hours and finished before bed-time. Would Mr. Bevis know whether the curator at Wisbech likes or dislikes bells? Moreover, your correspondent should know that the Press often enjoy the exposure of complaints and prolong the matter as far as may be convenient to them. Regarding the last paragraph of the letter, if Mr. Bevis is persistent I would like to take him up on his conclusions as I just cannot agree with them.—Yours faithfully,

T. J. LOCK.

Hatfield, Herts.

S.O.S. FOR BELL ROPES

Dear Sir,—The response to my appeal for bell ropes for Bamber Priory has been terrific. Offers of ropes have come from towers all over the South of England, Canterbury, Northampton, Alvechurch, Birmingham, St. John's, Hackney, Hughenden, Standlake and Milton Malsor, whilst ropes have been sent from Chobham, Thurcaston and Duffield.

I have written personally to all these good Samaritans, thanking them for taking pity on an isolated tower with insufficient funds to pay for ropes of their own, and due to the generosity shown they will have the satisfaction of knowing these bells can be rung once again, reminding local inhabitants of the true purpose of the bells.

In answer to Mr. Dukes' letter, if he had visited the church on the Open Day and seen for himself its position up a rough old farm track, he would realise why the P.C.C. would not go to the expense of new ropes; the new slider we fitted has not yet been paid for. The set of ropes they now have will last them many years, and perhaps by the time others are needed a different state of affairs may be in evidence there. I sincerely hope so.—Yours sincerely,

GEOFFREY DODD.

Highclere, Hants.

RINGING OR CHIMING?

A Question from Canberra

Dear Sir,—I should like to pose the question: Do we in fact "ring" changes or must we say that we are "chiming" changes? So that the question can be fully understood I will set out hereunder the procedure we adopt.

We have a set of eight bells which are hung for chiming by the pulling of ropes hung vertically four inches apart on a type of console attached to the wall. The bells, incidentally, were made by John Taylor and Co. and were presented in September, 1964, by Viscount De L'Isle, the then Governor General of Australia, as a memorial to his late wife. The tenor weighs 13½ cwt.

Owing to the impossibility of remembering complete touches we have written the various methods on a series of roller blinds, starting at the bottom of the blind, writing four changes across and then repeating the method four changes at a time up the blind. For ease in reading, the numbers one to four are in red and the others in black. Our repertoire at present is limited to the plain course in Stedman Triples, Double Oxford, Double Norwich, London Surprise and Superlative Surprise. We are about to embark on some longer touches in various methods.

On September 18th last, to mark the first anniversary of the dedication of the bells, Geoff Watson (aged 14) and I rang without pause the plain course of Double Oxford twice, Double Norwich four times, London Surprise twice and Superlative Surprise once. This took us 51½ minutes. I perhaps should have pointed out that it takes two to ring our way—one ringing bells 1 to 4 and the other 5 to 8.

We are most anxious to start on handbells, and would like to obtain, by whatever means possible, a set of 12 handbells—preferably secondhand. Perhaps there are some not now required that some Association or parish would let us have at a reasonable price.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN WATCH (Lt.-Col.).

FAMILY PEALS OF CINQUES

Dear Sir,—Your leading article of November 5th was most interesting and cleaned up a long-standing curiosity of mine in the name of "Trelawney."

I first came across this name on a village pub at St. Budeaux, near Plymouth, which I visited on several occasions when on holiday in Devonshire; then the name occurred again in that famous racehorse that won so many big races; and now I learn that the name belonged to a notable Cornish family of bell-ringers. A course of Grandsire Cinques was certainly a worthy performance by members of one family, especially in the year 1869, on handbells.

This brought to my mind another notable bellingring family, namely the Goftons, of Monkseaton, a holiday resort on the coast of Northumberland, only a few miles from Newcastle on Tyne.

This family rang a peal of 5,007 Stedman Cinques on handbells in 3 hours 11 minutes as follows: James E. Gofton 1-2, James A. Gofton 3-4, Thomas E. Gofton 5-6, R. Alder Gofton 7-8, Richard A. Gofton 9-10, William L. Gofton 11-12.

This was on December 9th, 1921. The first four are brothers and the last two are sons of R. Alder Gofton.

On November 3rd, 1920, the four Gofton brothers rang a peal of London Surprise Major on handbells, which was the first ever peal of London rung by four brothers; truly a remarkable performance.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN ANDERSON.

DISGRUNTLED AFTER 50 YEARS' RINGING

Dear Sir,—Letter "Lurking Around Kent" (page 704, by Mr. Wilfred Ring) and the replies thereto aroused my interest because of my experience when living for five years in the Canterbury district.

I retired to Kent determined to occupy my time in my only interest, "change ringing," and was prepared to go anywhere within reason to assist at either service ringing or practice. I was enthusiastic and I hope not unduly aggressive. I had been used to the high standard of ringing of Leicester and London and was not unaware of my own weaknesses. I found the state of ringing in the area absolutely appalling. Walmer, Deal, Ash, Wingham and Canterbury Cathedral were all of the same appalling standard, arising mostly from the same fault, lack of bell control.

I found the teaching of learners left wholly to persons who themselves had no idea how to handle a bell. It hurt me to see good material spoiled; a doctor at Ash, the Rector at Wingham, both would have been good ringers had they been properly taught, and numerous others. There was no dearth of learners, the membership of the District was going up by leaps and bounds. The District meetings were excellent social events but useless as ringing meetings. Out of a District membership of some 150 it was impossible to pick eight who could be relied upon to strike even a touch of Grandsire reasonably well; even bell ringing was out of the question. I could not resist on occasion offering a little friendly advice. That is when the trouble started.

"We can refuse you permission to ring." I was told by the District secretary at Canterbury. A grossly insulting letter from a Cathedral member and the cold shoulder, as only Christians, particularly Church of England, know how. For four years I walked two miles each way twice each Sunday to ring for service, often only four bells in rounds. I regularly attended morning service. Not once in all those years did any member of the congregation ever speak to me. No wonder people do not go to church. They were all busy "grinding their own axe."

I resolved, when I left Kent, never to enter a church again, not even for burial, as I think it wrong to ring church bells and not sometimes attend service. There are many I know who have no such qualms. I had perforce to give up ringing. It was a terrible strain to me. I had devoted all my spare time for 50 years to ringing and it took me several years to overcome the urge. I am completely weaned now, thank heaven, and have no interest whatever in either Church or ringing except to read "The Ringing World" to keep in touch with old friends. I have taken the paper regularly since the very first issue and the "Bell News" before that. Now that most of my ringing friends have ceased to be I am afraid I shall have to give up the paper at the end of this year. Ninety is too much.

W. BOTTRILL.

CRITICISM JUSTIFIED

Dear Sir,—In view of the recent correspondence concerning the Ladies' Guild peal attempt at Cheriton, Kent, I feel that the criticism is justified.

I was ringing the seventh and came very near to setting my bell once or twice. The way I felt the next day made me wish I had done so. I only continued to ring in the hope that the ringing would improve. — Yours sincerely, Tenterden.

IN SNOWDON'S "ROPESIGHT"

Dear Sir,—Re Mr. Humphrey's letter (page 722) similar extents of Plain Bob Minor were published in Snowdon's "Ropesight," and there given as the compositions of J. F. Penning, of Safron Walden. They included extents with 42 singles and with the maximum number of calls (46).

Mr. Penning was a contemporary of Nathan J. Pittsow and did quite a lot of work on the composition of peals of Grandsire Triples before the appearance of Parker's 12-part peal. This latter peal, of course, superseded most of the earlier compositions and they and their authors are now largely forgotten.—Yours faithfully,

H. TURNER.

Shenfield, Essex.

HANDBELL RINGING

During the last few years the Ashton-under-Lyne Grammar School handbell team has had an annual outing to tune-ring with other schools in different parts of the country. On October 19th it was their turn to be hosts to these other schools. A minibus brought 15 ringers from the New Parks Boys' School, Leicester, and the Humphrey Perkins School, Barrow-on-Soar, Leicestershire, under the leadership of Mr. Michael White, while two cars travelled across the Pennines bringing nine ringers from Ecclesfield Grammar School, Sheffield, under the leadership of Mr. W. Mitchell.

After lunch at the school the Parish Church was visited, where the tower-bell ringers, assisted by a few local ringers, rang rounds on the 12 and a course of Grandsire Caters. This was followed by rounds and courses of Plain Bob Major and Grandsire Triples on the eight at St. Peter's, after which everybody returned to the school for the main purpose of the visit, that of tune ringing.

Perhaps the most interesting part of this was the contrast in style between the local and Sheffield ringers and of the Leicestershire ringers. The former ring from specially arranged music, picking their bells up as required while the latter ring "four-in-hand" style using a number rotation. After hearing how tunes such as "Grandfather's Clock" and "Green Hills of Tyrol" should be played, the teams interchanged to hear how they should not be played! Two hours quickly passed and after sandwiches, cakes and tea the visitors left on their long journeys home after expressing their thanks to Mr. Partington and his ringers for all the arrangements made to make the "get-together" so enjoyable and successful.

the triple dodge in Yorkshire seem not only "less practicable in ringing" but also, in three cases, unsymmetrical. (A triple dodge needs eight rows, too.)

"Splicing Plain (Major) Methods" is an intriguing chapter and it completes the theoretical part of the work. Not least of the practical instruction not so far referred to is that on change ringing on handbells. The author favours the "relationship" system of learning double-handed change ringing rather than the "two blue line" one, and shows how a method can be rung by having a knowledge of the construction of it and of the position of the treble. Since he points out that this system would be simple, for the person who started his tower bell ringing by it, why doesn't he at least mention it in the earlier chapters? I know of more than one good ringer who learned to ring changes on tower bells using a handbell system, and one of the obvious advantages is that the importance of the ear and of rhythm is stressed rather than that of the eye.

Lastly, there are peal compositions for many of the methods dealt with (touches and quarter peals are generally included in the chapter on the particular method), a section on "Definitions"—selections from the Central Council's Handbook—and "The Organisation of the Exercise and the Duties of a Ringer," a fitting conclusion to the work, and indicative of the author's concern for much more than change ringing.

Here is a book to be recommended most strongly. If its price (63s.) seems high it must be remembered that it is not a paper back but a very handsomely bound volume which will outlive most of its contemporaries on ringing matters. There are two suggestions for those who do not want a copy of their own to start with (I think they will want their own soon enough): Get a copy for the tower library, or ask the local public library to buy it. A demand from several residents should be effective.

Congratulations to both author and publisher!

BARNSELY DISTRICT SOCIETY

Holmfirth, near Huddersfield, has one of Yorkshire's silent eight-bell towers and when the Barnsley and District Society met there on November 13th an appeal was made to local people to take up the art. If any were forthcoming the Society would give all the help they could. An excellent tea was served by ladies, who were also holding their sale of work.

Mr. Noel F. Moxon presided at the business meeting, at which Michael Platt (Saddleworth) was elected a member. It was announced that the hon. president, Canon Morley, of Barnsley, was retiring this month and towers were asked to send donations for a present. Messrs. E. Peace and C. Moxon reported on the Yorkshire Joint Council.

Next meeting: December 11th, joint with the West Yorkshire Association, at Dewsbury, when nominations for Barnsley officers will be received.

College of Campanology

CHANGE OF POLICY

TWO points of change in policy are noted in the bulletin of the College of Campanology: (a) The function of the College in regard to the three types of ringing course that the College initiated, and which are now generally being arranged locally, has become mainly advisory rather than organisational—a natural development in the circumstances. (b) The rendering of "annual returns" has been suspended, these having served their purpose in showing that the results of the work of the College, both at home and abroad, justify the continuation of that work.

Ringing Courses.—The three types of course that the College introduced are:—

- (1) The one-day instructors' course.
- (2) The week-end residential "all grades" course.
- (3) The three-monthly serial course for beginners.

The value of these courses has been proved, whether organised by the College or by local Societies in conjunction with local education authorities. Members can still promote College (advisory) aims in this respect by making it known in their district that the College will continue gladly to give advice on running these courses, as may be required. College Leaflet "C" gives detailed information.

Latest Summary.—Correspondents (local representatives 20; Tutors 36; Examiners 12; College Officers or Members in 35 counties in Great Britain, Northern Ireland and Eire; also in Southern Rhodesia, Tanganyika, U.S.A., Australia and New Zealand. Affiliated Schools of Ringing 5; Learners instructed 736; Beginners helped 542; Locations or centres of instruction active 16. Courses run by the College and/or individual Members 48. Recommendations to promote College activity 213. Talks (not courses) including broadcasts given on ringing subjects 163. Special efforts for Sunday service ringing (specified in College Constitution), now general among active members. Tower inspections and reports 143. Efforts by individual Members and Officers during the last "reported" year include over a dozen varied activities to advance the work of the College generally, and to assist neighbouring towers.

Publications.—As is known, a main objective of College activity is the compilation and publication of a "Ringers' Manual of Reference," in nine "parts." Part I has run through two editions—the second being entirely revised. Only about a dozen copies of this "standard" work in "Bell Handling and Control" remain unsold. Part II, "Method Structure in Change Ringing—an introduction to its Technology and Theory," has been in course of preparation for many years and is now ready to go to print. Part III, "Practical Method Ringing," is under way. It is not a major treatise on methods, but seeks to show the pupil how to acquire the art of method ringing, and the instructor how to draw up a progressive plan of advancement from one method to another. For learning details of design of specific methods, other works must be consulted. It is hoped to publish Part III next year. As to the remaining six Parts, promises of written contributions have been made, but one contributor of part of a particular script has since died. Written contributions are invited from those who might feel disposed to submit them. Even outline notes, for editing, would be very helpful. These remaining Parts are entitled as below, and until publication is effected alternative publications are recommended as indicated:—

Part IV.—Handbell Change Ringing." (Alternative—Central Council publication: "Change Ringing on Handbells.")

Part V.—"Composition and Proof." (Alternative—Miscellaneous articles in "The Ringing World," Jasper Snowdon Series, and some Central Council publications.)

Part VI.—"Calling and Conducting." (Alternative—Central Council publication: "On Conducting.")

Part VII.—"Historical—Bells, Towers, Ringing Records." (Alternative—"History and Art of Change Ringing" by the late Ernest Morris. Out of print but in some libraries.)

Part VIII.—"Belfry Maintenance." (Alternative—Central Council Publication: "Preservation and Repair of Bells.")

Part IX.—"The Art of the Carillon." (See public libraries for alternatives.)

Patron.—Members will probably have noted that the office of Patron has hitherto remained vacant. After some nine years' steady activity, it seemed fitting to approach a dignitary of the Church. Accordingly, an invitation to accept this office was extended to the Bishop of Portsmouth (the Rt. Rev. John H. L. Phillips) and he has graciously accepted the invitation.

Principal Officers.—President, Harry Miles; Vice-President and Senior Chaplain, Canon G. Thurlow; Assistant Hon. Chaplain, Rev. M. Melville; Hon. Consultants, Frederick Sharpe and R. Clouston; Principal, A. York-Bramble; Registrar, Mrs. Edna Jones; Bursar, Surgeon/Captain A. Lawrey, R.N. (ret'd); Press and Public Relations (office vacant); Governors (President and Vice-President ex-officio, with 12 others), A. L. Bennett, Prof. R. J. Brocklehurst, R. Clouston, Miss Marie Cross, G. Dodds, F. Dukes, A. Lawrey, C. W. Pipe, A. J. Pitman, F. Sharpe, R. I. Shepherd and A. York-Bramble.

Place of the College in the Exercise.—In endeavouring to interest ringers of varied attainment in the work of the College one is sometimes asked—"What good reason is there for joining the College?" Frankly, the answer is—"None at all, unless you are prepared to work in one or more of the several ways that further the declared objects of the College, as set down in the College Constitution, in Part I of the Manual, and in various leaflets issued by the College." This answer might well be followed up by the further question—"Are not ringers' associations and guilds doing this?" To which the reply is—"Yes, but only in part." Perhaps the three more important of these objectives are:

1. Raising the standard of tuition in bell-handling and control.
2. Building up "area" Panels of Tutors and Testers in the attainment of proficiency in elementary change-ringing.
3. Aiding in the production and distribution of the "Ringers' Manual of Reference." (Nine Parts.)

In a tour of some towers one can be surprised, if not shocked, at the exhibition of poor bell-handling, with consequent impairment of control. This is traceable, of course, mainly to lack of competent instruction, there being little organisation in some Associations for the training or guidance of instructors and the setting up of standards to which they should work.

Applications for College membership are invited.

ELSTOW, BEDFORDSHIRE

Organised by Miss M. Pettitt, the annual outing of the ringers of Elstow, Bedfordshire (John Bunyan's tower) took place on September 18th, when Northamptonshire and Leicestershire were visited.

First stop was at Cottesbrook, a village of great charm, where the bells of All Saints' were a pleasure to ring. The noble tower of St. Mary's, Lutterworth, contains a very handy ring of eight and these were followed by the heavier octave at Hinckley. Further ringing at Ibstock was followed by a delightful ride through the lovely Charnwood Forest to Barrow-upon-Soar, where another fine ring of six gave satisfaction.

The party are indebted to the ringers of Barrow-upon-Soar for an excellent tea. At Wanlip the best ringing of the day took place on a very fine light ring of six.

The leisurely journey home was broken for refreshment.

HERTS AND ESSEX SOMERSET WEEK-END

THE Ted Rochester (Sawbridgeworth) week-end was another result of Audrey and Ron Short's kind preparation and the "surprise" that can now very often be expected awaited us at Gillingham: Brigadier Young joined us and with him was Mr. Smith from Leatherhead.

The Rochester/Goodman contingency spent Friday night at Cann Lodge Hotel, Shaftesbury, drifting on Saturday, and via a nostalgic inspection of Mere, into Gillingham.

Gillingham (8, 27 cwt.: "Dove" 25 cwt.). We were met by Mr. J. Ralph. A good rise and fall were our best efforts here. (Some of the party had travelled during the night.)

Bruton (6, 25 cwt.). A stately performance of London Minor restored our status quo and was remembered throughout the week-end. To those who collect spectacular churches, St. Mary's, Bruton, has a fine Greek Corinthian altar setting. This, with the rest of the chancel and roof, is eye-catching white touched with blue. The whole is freshly and heavily gilded.

Castle Cary tower is in splints, so we stopped in the town only to regale handsomely at Asher's Cafe.

North Cadbury (6, 19 cwt.) was a most satisfactory replacement for Castle Cary. Mr. W. Osborne, who welcomed us, was the consulting engineer to the Bath and Wells Association and his own bells here showed professional treatment.

Ditchat (8, 24 cwt.). Here we rang Grandsire Major at Brig. Young's suggestion. It is very simple but richly harmonious.

Evercrech (10, 21 cwt.). Our ten-bell highlight. After Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal and tea at the Bell, opposite, time was filled in on handbells.

Shepton Mallet (8, 25 cwt.). We were joined by two Brent Pelham learner ringers, John and Angela Keats, halting on their plover to Wales. They rang their first rounds ever away from their home (six-bell, 8 cwt.) tower.

Croscombe (6, 17 cwt.) was a good finish. We were feeling the strain by now. This must rank as one of the noisiest little towers, packed in amongst the houses, short draught, no noticeable insulation, and heads about 12 feet below the lips of the bells.

Wells, the Red Lion, was the next port of call. It is in process of restoration—an interesting ancient building.

On Sunday, towers were St. Cuthbert's (8, 27 cwt.) for morning service, this was the Keats' second tower for their collection and their round-ringing was a credit to them. They left our party after this tower but their faces were glowing. The week-enders took part in Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire Triples and three leads of Superlative (for Ted).

The Cathedral (10, 56 cwt.), the heaviest ten in the world. The ringing chamber is surprisingly small and unspectacular for such an imposing ring. It was good to see so many keen young people doing their willing utmost on bells of a powerfully independent character.

Andover. St. Mary's 15 cwt. eight are a lovely ring but we were too tired to do justice to them. The Evening Grandsire and Stedman Triples were unfortunately very rough.

Audrey and Ron Short have our greatest thanks for their painstaking work in making the arrangements.

YORK AREA HALF DAY

Ringers from Bradfield and Wentworth, in South Yorkshire, joined others from Stockton-on-the-Forest and St. John's College, York, for a half-day tour on October 24th. Failing to find the key at Wistow, the party pushed on to Tadcaster (8, 21 cwt.), and the ringing was much enjoyed.

After a picnic tea, a warm welcome was received at Bishopthorpe (4, 14 cwt.). Mr. Frank Horner met us at St. Stephen's, Acomb (6, 11 cwt.), and the cramped ringing space proved to be quite a challenge. The last tower was Stockton-on-the-Forest (4, 5 cwt.), and despite the fog home was reached safely.

VETERANS REASSEMBLE AT BISHOPSGATE

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD STRIKING COMPETITION

Despite the disappointment of having the entry for the Guild striking competition halved by last-minute withdrawals, the committee decided to carry on with the fixture. The result was a most enjoyable contest at St. Michael's, Southampton, on October 30th, when over 70 members sat down to tea prepared by the ladies in St. Michael's Hall.

Immediately after tea Mr. C. H. Kippin gave to the company a full report of his afternoon's judging with comments on each team's performance. St. Mary's, Southampton, who rang Grandsire Triples, were the winners with 169 faults and will hold the Alliston Cup for the year. The remaining results were: Fareham (Grandsire Triples) 199 faults; Eling (Grandsire Doubles) 245; Ringwood (Stedman Triples) 276; Alton (Grandsire Doubles) 278.

The Master of the Guild, Canon K. W. H. Felstead, presented the cup to St. Mary's captain, Mr. John Faithfull, amid applause. He commiserated with last year's holders (Ringwood), who, after an immaculate start, sustained a trip about halfway through from which they never fully recovered. Mr. Kippin said the standard of ringing that afternoon was good and that competition ringing was improving and becoming more popular. He hoped that there would be a larger number of teams competing next year. Thanks were accorded to Mr. Kippin for acting as judge, to the ladies for preparing the tea, and also to the Vicar for the use of the bells. After tea there was ringing on St. Michael's bells in methods ranging from Grandsire to Bristol Surprise Royal. A.V.D.

TORRE, TORQUAY

The ringers of Torre, Torquay, held their annual outing on Saturday, October 23rd, when they were accompanied by friends from Babbacombe, Buckfastleigh and Whitchurch (Tavistock). Cornwall was the venue and the towers visited were St. Stephen's-by-Launceston, South Petherwin, St. Thomas', Launceston, Lawhiton, Linkinhorne (one of the best for the afternoon), Callington, St. Mellion and St. Nicholas', Saltash. The route across Dartmoor to Launceston was very much enjoyed. Tea was partaken at Callington, and thanks are due to Mr. K. E. Fursdon for the excellent arrangements made.

John Euston sends us a picture of this year's veteran gathering to add to a comprehensive series extending over many years. Almost traditional, this gathering took place at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, where the Rector the Rev. Stanley Moore extended his usual warm welcome and thanked those present for their loyal service to the Church—it went into thousands of years, as the average age of those present was 74. A solemn moment was when the Rector read out the list of those who had "passed on" during the year—gaps in the ranks most difficult to fill.

Mrs. Davis and her helpers provided the usual good tea. In the vote of thanks to the ladies and the Rector mention was made of absent friends, some of whom were at other meetings and outings, some too ill to come and others who could not afford the cost.

Mr. Euston concludes: "We can thank Tom Lock and all the party of Great Adventure II for what may prove to be the best 'goodwill mission ever.' Two of the veterans—Arthur Mason and Len Stilwell—can be seen in the back row, and we give our best thanks that they all returned safe and well."

"FILLING IN" THE POLDEN HILLS

On October 9th ringers from Worpleston, Crayford, Lichfield and Ghana (past members of Durham University Society) and some from Somerset gathered at Westonzoyle for a tour arranged under the above heading. The historic church was studied prior to ascending the tower, where Cambridge was successfully rung on these glorious bells. Over the aerodrome to Middlezoy, where the absence of the tenor was more marked than we expected. Here we had the best striking of the day, ringing from a card headed "Bob Singles Part One," which we know as Plain Bob Minimus! This should be an interesting ring when the tenor is put in order. Next was Keith Prime's tower at Ashcott, where tea was available in the Church Hall. The large ringing chamber at Shapwick was a joy to see and the bells were a joy to ring. Oxford Treble Bob being the height of our achievement. Over the hill to Moorlinch, where London (among other things) was mutilated.

We recrossed the Somerset and Dorset boundary at Shapwick Station and continued to Meare's tricky ring, where Horace Toogood fulfilled a long-standing ambition by pulling up the tenor for the first time, having learned to ring here years ago. Keith Prime turned it in to St. Clement's.

Our thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Prime, incumbents and those who freely provided transport. P.J.H.

BRIDGWATER RINGERS UP THE CREEK!

On September 25th members of the Bridgewater Branch of the Bath and Wells Association went on their first Branch outing to the River Dart. Fortunately, we were blessed with fine weather, despite almost continual rain the day before. Several hazards were encountered before we finally arrived home at 10.30 p.m.

The first occurred when we were trying to find the picturesque village of Cockington, near Torquay, the first tower of the day. After our coach had been successfully backed down a steep and narrow hill, the driver found the road so narrow as to be impassable. Inquiring the way, he was told: "Well, you could go that way," pointing to the road we had just backed out of! Eventually we arrived, to be greeted by a lady who was patiently waiting with the keys. "Ah," she said with a smile, "we know that you cannot bring coaches right into the village, but visitors don't! (Future visitors—you have been warned!)"

Half an hour of ringing followed and then it was on to Brixham, where we found the ringing chamber so spacious that our non-ringing friends were able to come in and watch us "perform." Some, however, preferred to remain downstairs to put sixpenny pieces into the slot of a working model of the church!

We crossed the Dart by ferry at Kingswear to Dartmouth and then boarded the "Cardiff Castle," which went straight back across to Kingswear before proceeding up the river. This trip the highlight of the day, was very enjoyable.

A break for tea came when we arrived at Totnes. Although tea had been booked at a cafe, they seemed to be surprised at our arrival, and one or two offers of help were eagerly accepted. One young man (married less than a year) disappeared into the kitchen with the proprietress to cook his own cheese-on-toast, whilst a certain policeman made a charming "waitress."

The third and last tower was Pinhoe, another elusive village. Darkness had descended when we left the church and we made straight for home, stopping only for refreshments.

Our thanks to the organisers for arranging such an enjoyable outing. We look forward to another adventure next year. V.S.

HESSLE, EAST YORKS.—On Oct. 31st, 1.20 p.m. Plain Bob Minor: R. Sharp 1, R. Horton 2, R. Jordan 3, V. Beaumont 4, R. Hawtree (cond.) 5, Rev. F. Ross 6. For Patronal Festival Evensong.

OBITUARY

MR. COLIN HARRISON

The news of the sudden death of Mr. Colin Harrison at his home in Woodhouse Eaves, near Loughborough, on November 8th, will be received with regret by a very wide circle of friends who had come in contact with him at the Bell Foundry and in ringing circles. He was 68 years of age. On two previous occasions he had given his friends concern for his health, the first being when he had to give up ringing at the Parish Church, which to him was a part of his life.

Mr. Harrison joined the staff of Taylor's Bell Foundry in 1928, when he took up the appointment of assistant manager, a position he held until his retirement, only two weeks before his death. He will be remembered by many people, ringers and non-ringers alike, as for many years, especially before the war, practically every Saturday afternoon was spent either ringing, attending meetings or showing visitors round the Bell Foundry.

Mr. Harrison started his ringing career in Sheffield at an early age, his father, Mr. Robert Harrison, being a well-known Sheffield ringer. It was only natural therefore that on going to Loughborough he should join the Loughborough Parish Church bell-ringers, and he was their Ringing Master from 1934 to 1955. He rang 261 peals ranging from Doubles to Cinques and Minor to Maximus; his last peal, which he conducted, was the 1,000th peal on the Bell Foundry bells. It was in 1963 that Mr. Harrison had a serious attack of coronary thrombosis, from which he never completely recovered.

The funeral service and cremation was at Loughborough on November 11th and among a large congregation were representatives of Messrs. John Taylor and Co, the Leicester Diocesan Guild, the Parish Church and fellow Masons. During the service a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on his own handbells by Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Staniforth and J. Jelly for the Leicester Guild, Mr. H. Marcon for the Bell Foundry, and Mr. L. W. Stevens for the Parish Church.

To his memory a quarter peal of Stedman Caters (his favourite method), conducted by Peter Staniforth, was rung with the bells half-muffled at the Parish Church on the following Sunday evening. Welcomed among the band was his son, Geoffrey Harrison. A half-muffled peal was rung at Hathers on November 13th to his memory and with sympathy for his wife and son.

AN APPRECIATION

Colin was a member of a ringing family and when he came from Sheffield to Loughborough he brought with him the conscientious duty expected of a Sunday service ringer—that he should give of his best to service ringing. To many he will be remembered as their guide and informant on the occasion of their tour of the Bell Foundry, where one would realise his excellent memory for facts and details. He was a member for many years of the old Midland Counties Guild and then the Leicester Diocesan Guild, of which he was a trustee until his death. L. W. S.

DERBY ASSOCIATION HOLD TOWER CAPTAINS' COURSE

Writing on the Derby Diocesan Association's course at Lee Green Youth Centre, Mr. Norman Chaddock, who was a guest lecturer, writes that it was an instructive two-day course for tower captains. The officers of the Derby Association are to be commended on the great efforts being made to encourage progress in the towers in their area, and the course was one of their many efforts in that direction.

"I was impressed by the friendly spirit amongst those present and the careful preparation which had been made by the organisers. We also had the pleasure of enjoying ringing on a delightful ring of eight nearby and the use of an attractive hostelry after our other energies were exhausted. It was a profitable week-end for all of us and will remain a happy memory for many years to come."

MR. W. H. HOLLANDS

The sudden death on November 5th of Mr. William H. Hollands, following a collapse while working at Gillingham Railway Station, is mourned by members of the Rochester District of the Kent County Association and at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London, where he was a sidesman and churchwarden at the time of his death. He was 62.

Born at Upchurch, where his father was blacksmith and also a ringer, he was for 47 years in the service of the Southern Railway, being for many years an express driver on trains between Ramsgate and London. At the time of his death he was foreman at the Gillingham Depot. "Bill" was a man of fine stature and an excellent tenor man. While at Ramsgate he rang at St. Laurence, Thanet, for ten years, and then moved to Rainham to join St. Margaret's band. Other towers he joined in later years were Rochester Cathedral and St. Martin-in-the-Fields. He was a strong link with the Railwaymen's Guild in his part of Kent. The sympathy of the many friends is extended to his widow and family.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. James Clifford, Vicar of Rainham, at the Medway Crematorium, on November 11th. Besides family mourners and fellow workmates there were present friends from St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Mr. C. A. Bassett of Wadhurst, Ringing Master of the Railwaymen's Guild, and Messrs. F. J. Cheal and C. E. J. Norris, representing the Rochester District.

To his memory a half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Margaret's, Rainham, that evening by Mrs. F. C. Cheal 1, Mrs. D. R. Wraight 2, G. Kenward 3, C. E. J. Norris 4, F. J. Cheal (cond.) 5, B. Sayers 6, R. E. Finch 7, W. Wood 8.

MRS. DOROTHY I. JACKSON

Scothern, Lincs, has lost a valued ringer and church worker by the sudden death on November 8th of Mrs. Dorothy Irene Jackson, aged 63. The previous day she rang for service.

Mrs. Jackson learned to ring in the early 20's and was one of the oldest members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. She had been a Sunday School teacher and member of P.C.C.

To her memory a quarter peal of Minor was rung half-muffled on November 14th, when some of her favourite methods were included.

RAMBLING AND RINGING

The Maidstone District's "Ringing Ramble" attracted 25 walking and talking ringers. The towers visited were Harrietsham (8), Hollingbourne (6) and Leeds (10), the day ending with a barbecue at John Betts' home at Harrietsham. Practically the entire route was by footpaths and tracks and provided some new and delightful views of Kent. The Pilgrims' Way along the Downs and the path through Leeds Castle were particularly pleasant parts of the journey. The organisers and Mr. and Mrs. Betts are sincerely thanked.

A WEEK-END IN CORNWALL

For the second year in succession Yeovil ringers have joined with Cornish friends in holding a ringing week-end, and they reached their base, "Parc Behah" Guest House, at Coverack, on the Lizard, on October 22nd.

Assembling next morning at Ludgvan were Mr. and Mrs. Coward, Derek Beaufoy, John Cornelius, Wilf Boucher and the "Launceston Lads," Brian Vince and Penny, Ted Langley, Tom Setter and Roger Fox.

After Ludgvan, towers visited were Gulval, Penzance, Paul, Madron, Towednack, Zennor and finally Sennen, where, after ringing, "The First and Last" Inn attracted most of the party before going their separate ways. Service ringing on Sunday was at Gwennap, and after lunch in Launceston two more towers were visited—Lewannick and South Petherwyn. Our route home took us across Dartmoor and as we crossed the border into Somerset we knew our week-end was almost over.

Gerry Coward, our organiser, Wilf Boucher and all tower captains and incumbents are sincerely thanked. J. C.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Michael Sutton, of Rodbourne Cheney, rang his first quarter on November 5th, seven days before his 12th birthday.

After a period of 13 months, Mancroft 12 rang out again on Sunday, November 14th, the work having now been completed by Messrs Taylors, of Loughborough, of replacing the broken H-section of the 11th.

The peals on the same day, November 13th, at Landewednack and Sennen by Mr. Alan Carveth's party, were rung in the most southerly and westerly towers in the British Isles respectively.

Bishop's Cleeve, Glos, had a day of celebration on November 7th, when a quarter peal in four Doubles methods was rung. It not only marked the dedication of the new organ but was rung by the new band trained by Miss Anna K. Sadowska, the average age of which is 15½ years.

Questions might be asked concerning the footnote in the South Collingham peal of Doubles, which is given as Simon Humphrey's 50th peal whilst ringing. It was the 51st he took part in as he conducted a peal at Loughborough whilst standing out.

Mr. D. P. Elsmore gave notice at the nomination meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Guild at Aldershot on November 13th that he would not be standing for re-election. Nominated for the post are Mrs. Beryl Simpson and Mr. J. Collier.

The United Kingdom Provident Institution is holding its 125th anniversary exhibition in London. On view is policy No. 1, held by Robert Warner, twice Master of the Bellfounders' Company, who founded the Institution in 1840 as a challenge to those who claimed that the teetotaler was a greater risk as an assured life than one who did not abstain.

HIS 21st BIRTHDAY

David Herschell, Ringing Master of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, celebrated his 21st birthday on October 30th by calling his first peal of Royal at Guildford Cathedral. When the District met at Merrow later in the day double congratulations were extended to him. Highlights of the ringing were Cambridge and London Minor in the afternoon at Merrow and London Major at West Clandon.

The Rector (the Rev. A. E. Ford) conducted the service, and tea was served in the Church Hall. At the meeting the general secretary (Mr. C. Munday) reported difficulty in re-ordering badges as the present supplies had ceased to operate. The meeting agreed that the small gilt badge was the most popular and that it would be more economical to purchase just one type.

A DIAMOND WEDDING FROM DEVON

For some years hon. secretary and treasurer of the North East Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, Mr. C. G. Dymond and Mrs. Dymond, of Silverton, Devon, celebrated on November 4th the 60th anniversary of their marriage. The happiness was shed by a quarter of Grandsire Doubles rung by Mrs. C. Coombes 1. A. G. Selvey 2. H. Ransom 3. J. R. Hutchings 4. W. R. Richards (conductor) 5. F. S. J. Down 6. Mr. Dymond has been a member of the local band since 1932. He is now 82 but still manages to ring for Sunday service.

LADIES' PROFITABLE MEETING AT BRIDGEND

At the happy autumn meeting of the South Wales District at Bridgend on October 23rd most of the ladies present attempted and learned some change ringing of value to them.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Tom Jones, and Mrs. Evans was organist. All were asked to remember the life and example of Mrs. E. K. Fletcher and suitable prayers were led by the Vicar. Members of the Mothers' Union very kindly gave the tea. These ladies were sincerely thanked by Mr. Trevor Roderick. Mrs. Coles, vice-president, thanked the Vicar and Mrs. Evans.

At the business meeting congratulations were expressed to Mrs. Lucas on her marriage, and to Miss Penny Welch on her engagement. New members elected were Mrs. Stella Clench, Mrs. Eileen Hughes and Miss Sarah Byford (Usk). Miss Louise Pewtner (Chepstow) and Miss Jane Griffiths (Bedwellty).

Next meeting (annual): Monmouth, January 29th (provisional).

ANOTHER UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Another University Society has been formed—the University of Essex Ringers' Society, which has 20 members, of whom 16 are beginners. The founder and president is Mr. Brian Downie, whose home tower is Aston, Birmingham. Other officers are: Vice-president, Mr. John Mattingley, Linton, Maidstone; secretary, Miss Antoinette Willets, Llandaff Cathedral; treasurer, Miss Penny Fleming, a newcomer to ringing.

Practices are held on Thursdays at St. Peter's, Colchester, under the direction of Mr. H. Millatts, the local Ringing Master, and the president. Hopes are entertained that the first quarter and then the first peal will not be too long coming.

WILFRID G. WILSON

Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson was selected by Faber and Faber to be the modern Troyte, and his product, "Change Ringing," is offered to the Exercise today. It is a book that will be passed from generation to generation and is a necessary text book for all public libraries.

A Londoner, as a schoolboy he came in contact with J. Armiger Trollope at Christ Church, Ealing. To him and the late Ernest Turner, Trollope imparted much of his knowledge of ringing and throughout this work there is evidence of this remarkable man's conclusions and deductions. As an author of ringing text-books Wilfrid Wilson has served a profitable apprenticeship in ways other than financial. His "Notes for Beginners" went into 3,500 copies and was then incorporated into the Central Council's "Handbook for Beginners," which maintains an annual sale of about 1,500. Another success is "On Conducting," a Central Council publication. Since 1959 he has been a member of the Editorial Committee of "The Ringing World."

Wilfrid is in great demand as an instructor and lecturer at courses, and recognition of his work in this direction came with his election as a vice-president of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. At one time associated with the Middlesex County Association, which he represented on the Central Council from 1936 to 1948, he has of late directed much of his energies, apart from his first love, the captaincy of Christ Church, Ealing, to the London County Association. With this body he has served as treasurer and he succeeded Mr. Taffender as Master, and he is one of their four representatives on the Central Council.

His working life has been spent with the London County Council in the clerk's department and with its successors in matters of planning—for he was on the Planning Committee maintaining a blue line to keep procedure to a recognised pattern.

THE MEETING POINT WAS CALGARY

There was an international flavour about the half-peal of Doubles at Calgary, Alberta, on November 6th, which is claimed to be the longest length rung in Canada for 20 years. Pat Laycock, formerly of Guildford, who is teaching at Edmonton for a year, came specially for this peal attempt and met her past pal, Wendy Nichols, of Sydney, who happened to be temporarily staying at Calgary. Two local men, Judge E. R. Tavender and J. A. Musselwhite—were ringing their longest length and they were sustained by Miss J. Midgley, formerly of Plymouth, and J. M. Simpson, the conductor, who was an enthusiastic peal ringer in the Grantham area. The failure to get a peal did not deter a pleasant evening, during which a tape recording was made about the band and the bells.

FOUNDER REMEMBERED

Eight members of the Ladies' Guild met at Harrow Weald to honour the memory of Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, the founder of the Guild. The tower chosen was one where she had rung several peals. Here she called the first peal after the bells were augmented to eight, and here, too, she called a peal of Kent Treble Bob to celebrate the silver jubilee of the Ladies' Guild. The date of the peal rung to her memory, November 12th, would have been her 74th birthday.

BATS IN THE BELFRY

Bats in the belfry at Llanfeigan, Breconshire, have previously been mentioned in our columns. Their presence was the cause of a family peal failure on October 23rd and "Stand" was called after 1½ hours' good ringing! The band consisted of the two Stephens brothers of Ebbw Vale, their three daughters and three sons-in-law. It is hoped to arrange another attempt in the spring, when the bats may have migrated.

HIS PUPIL DAYS REMEMBERED

On the same day as Mr. J. D. Rock was elected as Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths a compliment was paid to him in the tower where he learned to ring—Eardisland, Herefordshire. His instructor in those distant days, Mr. I. Evans, called a quarter of Grandsire Doubles, the band standing: S. Daniels 1. L. T. Mainwaring 2. P. Powles 3. F. R. Harris 4. I. Evans 5. G. Arnett 6.

DEVON OPEN DAY

Whitchurch, Tavistock, Devon, has now its bells back from John Taylor's of Loughborough after an absence of eight months and the bells go beautifully, reports our correspondent. An opportunity to test them will be afforded on November 27th, when an open day will be held. The local company has been holding regular weekly practices at different towers during the interim with an average attendance of 14. Such keenness among beginners is most encouraging.

CONDUCTOR WELL PLEASED

The peal of Plain Bob Minor at Hemington on November 13th was the conductor's (Mr. Alan F. Lee's) 140th peal and he had not rung many peals to heat it, as only three minor method trips occurred. The peal was the first of Minor for the ringers of treble, second and third and only their third peal. It was the second peal for the ringer of the fourth.

The heavy six at Northill were rung to some less familiar Minor methods during the meeting of the Biggleswade District on November 13th with Mr. C. D. Mann as Ringing Master. At the service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Jones, the District secretary, Mr. K. Fleming, read the lesson. After the business meeting, 85-year-old Mr. W. Wagstaff, of Ickwell, recounted an amusing ditty.

Next meeting: Blunham, December 11th.

"We are very short of ringers—not enough to keep the bells going."

"You can't get people interested and even if somebody does start they soon give it up."

HOW often have we heard those sentences quoted in towers all over the country. Yet nearby, there are towers bursting with members. It is suggested that towers with too few members, or those which are unable to keep new recruits, have only themselves to blame. Moreover, in most cases it is laziness or selfishness, or both, on the part of the resident members.

Most ringers will agree that:—

- (a) In an undermanned tower, the constant calls for regular service ringing, weddings, and other functions and practice nights are a severe tie, often clash with personal affairs and usually result in only a few bells being used or, worse still, no ringing at all.
- (b) Ringing, and all that happens in a belfry, is a closed book and a mystery to the general public.
- (c) Learning to handle a rope and ring—more or less—in rounds is relatively easy, but that ringing methods and attaining accurate striking is difficult and can lead to frustration and disillusion unless there is maximum of encouragement, help and co-operation from all the experienced members.
- (d) Ringing is a fascinating and rewarding hobby and generates its own enthusiasm.

Examine these four points in detail. With the best will in the world we cannot all, at all times, be available for all ringing occasions. Illness, absence from home, inescapable social duties alone will prevent appearance at the belfry. And the best of us suffer from sheer personal disinclination at times. But supposing there were at least two members per bell? Then surely there would never be a lack of numbers. And since casualties do happen and numbers must be kept up, there should be some trainees in the pipeline. It is suggested therefore that every tower might well aim at having a basic minimum of members—15 for six bells, 20 for eight bells and so on. With these numbers available captains could always be sure of meeting every call with a full set of bells.

"Wonderful," you will say, "but how do we get these numbers when so few are interested or come forward?" Why should they come forward? Whoever takes any interest in bells? Somehow, when bells are wanted badly—weddings for example—they are available. We go to all sorts of lengths and ruses to meet urgent demands. It is like electricity, always there at the flick of a switch, but nobody asks how it gets there, who produces it or to what lengths the C.E.G.B. goes to get and train the necessary staff. How does the C.E.G.B. get its staff? It advertises, publicises, invites the public into its showrooms and exhibitions, visits schools and colleges and, by devious means, entices the public to have a look and get interested, and once it gets its hooks on to suitable material it goes to endless lengths to maintain its interest, train it and hold on to it.

Do we, as ringers, do anything like that? A few towers hold open days and get a recruit or two, but the majority are too lazy to bother. Have you ever seen an advertisement in a local paper or a poster at a church function inviting people to visit the belfry on a practice evening? How many tower captains have visited the local school to give a talk or to try and make ringing a school activity? Even more elementary, if somebody is interested how do they find out more? How many churches display the name and address of the captain or details of practice nights? It seems that very few of us try very hard to arouse interest. Perhaps we are just selfish and want to keep the available ringing time for ourselves.

Many will remember that delightful article "Ringingitis or Galloping Belmania" in "R.W." No. 2756, Vol. LX—the story of someone who had never even thought about ringing until he visited a tower and became a convert. We all have a large circle of friends and acquaintances—why not take it in turns to invite one friend along to "see what goes on" and even perhaps to "have a go"? One wonders how many visitors would then contract ringingitis. It is certain that if all of us bestirred ourselves just a little, almost all belfries could have a more than adequate membership. Just as Mahomet had to visit his mountain, so it is up to us to get out and find our recruits. Let us open our book to the general public.

Having gained our recruits what is going to happen to them? No doubt the unfortunate captain will be expected to, and will, cope with the early tied practices and handling exercises. Later the other members will help with rounds. It is at the next hurdle that so many towers fall down. In some towers the captain and one or two enthusiasts are expected to cope with trainees for the first half hour or so. The rest arrive that much later and expect, from then on, to take over all the ringing. The pupil stands and looks hopeful, finally loses hope and interest and goes, or perhaps at odd periods he gets a few rounds thrown to him like a bone to a dog. A good captain will always ensure that plenty of experienced ringers are there from the word go. Also that all the members join in to help the pupil right through the evening. At regular intervals bring in the pupil on only four or six bells or keep the back ones covering. Don't expect him to try and cope with all the bells. It may be fun for the other seven or more ringers, but the pupil gets lost, bewildered, ashamed and finally disheartened.

Perhaps tower captains could well take an honest and dispassionate look at the records over the last year or so. How many recruits have stayed on and how many dropped out. If too many have left, take a good look at the training methods. Are you being fair to the pupils? Are you and the members perhaps being too selfish? Has the whole tower joined in a combined team effort? If not, you know what to do.

These are just some random thoughts on what can be done to ensure that all the bells in a tower ring whenever the church wants them; how we might get more ringers; and above all, how we can keep them. Implementation will put a load of extra work on the captains, but if the tower works as a team much of that load can be shared. It could introduce many more to the fascination of ringing. Above all, it would point a finger at any tower which still produced those two opening quotations.

GREAT ADVENTURE II

IN NORTH ISLAND—THE CHARM OF HAMILTON

THE party was reduced to 11 at Christchurch as Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Burton were later in the day meeting their son-in-law preparatory to a long drive of 280 miles on the Friday to the south of the island. It was a short hop to Wellington and a taxi ride enabled some of the party to gain a very favourable impression of the Commonwealth Capital.

Hamilton was a relatively short journey and the air "field" was very different from the concrete expanses associated with the larger airports. There was a brief wait for the cars to convey us about five miles to the town, this service being performed by Mr. C. A. Caldwell, who has done so much for Hamilton ringing, and two lady assistants. There is a restful charm about Hamilton despite its wide main thoroughfares and parking meters for 3d. a quarter of an hour. The Commercial Hotel was well furnished with spacious lounges and dining room, and this was our headquarters. Within a few minutes we were again in the cars to be conveyed to the Church Hall just below St. Peter's Cathedral, where a typically English tea was awaiting us and we were welcomed by the Dean (the Very Rev. Clifford G. Palmer).

We had heard much of the bells of St. Peter's Cathedral of the Waikato Diocese, and we were not disappointed. The tenor of 20 cwt. 2 qr. 8 lb. was provided in 1931, but the eight was not completed until 1950, all the bells being cast by Mears and Stainbank. One of the bells was the gift of the Hebrew congregations of Auckland and Christchurch and another by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. A. Caldwell. The steel frame was designed by Mr. Caldwell, and Ken Chandler, son of the then Dean, was responsible for putting the bells in.

The ringing chamber is of great beauty and was panelled by Mr. Caldwell personally, the work taking about six months. Rimu wood, which has a fine polish, was used. There is a balcony on one side and the belfry bookcase contains bound volumes of "The Ringing World" from 1950. The first peal on the bells—Plain Bob Minor—was rung on October 22nd, 1950, conducted by Albert Lancefield, on the day following the dedication.

In the practice that evening we were joined by Mr. C. W. Martin, of Cheltenham, who is spending a year in New Zealand. The Ringing Master is Mr. David McAdam, and his wife, Pamela, also rings. The Editor and Mrs. White spent a pleasant evening with them and Mrs. Eileen (Mary) Bailey (née Foot), who formerly rang at Battle, Sussex. Five of the party made the 40 mile journey to the Waitomo caves, one of the wonders of the world, where millions of glow-worms "shed a celestial radiance to the glassy waters below."

Cambridge Surprise Major was selected for the peal attempt the next morning. Tom Lock gave his customary interview and promised with Anne Horsford to visit the television studio in the afternoon. The Bishop of Waikato (the Rt. Rev. John T. Holland) came and wished the ringers success in their venture. It was a good peal and was conducted by Tom Lock, the time taken being 3 hours 5 minutes.

Before the peal the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. McAdam climbed the steps to the ringing chamber and, to the delight of the company, presented two packets of raisins to Pat Cannon. A memory of 15 years ago was revived; Malcolm Melville was wrongfully accused for perpetuating the incident.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL, HAMILTON

While the peal was in progress Mr. Caldwell motored Mr. and Mrs. White around this attractive city with a beautiful river and lake with velvety lawns at the water's edge. Clumps of arum lilies—regarded as weeds—were to be seen near the river. Hamilton is a university city and is planning a new building. Among its more recent buildings is the theatre, seating 1,250 people, which was built by voluntary subscription and is self supporting. It has a spacious stage.

There was a cheer from below the hill on which the Cathedral stands when the bells came round—whether of congratulation or relief we know not. In close proximity was the Supreme Court of Justice, and before the start Mr. Caldwell obtained from them permission for the peal to proceed.

The ringing chamber panelled in rimu wood by Mr. A. C. A. Caldwell, personally. It took him six months to complete the wood-work in this beautiful room.

The peal band were ready for lunch and they were the guests of Mr. Caldwell at the Swiss Restaurant. Barely an hour was left for sightseeing before it was time to collect our bags and be motored by our kind friends to the airfield. Anne had promised to sew on two buttons for Malcolm. The journey to Auckland was only 35 minutes by air. A humorous request was made for the journey to take a little longer so that Anne could complete her task. It was finished well within the time limit.

We said "goodbye" to Anne at Auckland. She had hired a car for the week and it was at the airport, but not the make she had ordered. Malcolm gave her a lesson on manipulating the gears. Ahead of her was a journey of approximately 300 miles—no light undertaking on a strange road with a somewhat imperfect map. The story of the drive to visit her uncle and relatives has yet to be told. Another member of the party, Mark Damerell, also had an uncle in New Zealand, and he met Mark at Hamilton Airport. This accounted for Mark's exclusion from the peal.

At Auckland we boarded the Qantas plane that took us to Nadi, in the Fiji Islands, where in the early hours we spent an hour ashore and then continued our journey across the Pacific to Honolulu. It was a hot morning and it seemed to sap one's energy. American health formalities were completed here; Customs having to be passed at San Francisco. Few of the party wandered beyond the confines of the transit halls, and the return to the plane and continuation of the journey towards home was really welcome. An air of home-sickness seemed to prevail.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The autumn meeting of the Bridgnorth Branch was held on November 6th at the unspoilt village of Worfield, which has a very fine parish church and graceful spire. Mr. Alan Jones, the Ringing Master, supervised the ringing, and the service, with address, was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. G. C. Thompson), a former ship's officer and naval chaplain.

SUFFOLK GUILD

The Central District's annual general meeting was held at Earl Soham on October 23rd. The Ringing Master, Mr. R. E. Lester, was re-elected; the posts of chairman and hon. secretary were reversed, Mr. L. E. Last now being elected chairman, and Mr. H. W. H. Leather hon. secretary. The committee was re-elected.

Support by Central District members was very poor; thanks are due to visitors from outlying districts who helped to swell the numbers and make the meeting a success.

Ringing was enjoyed at Earl Soham during the afternoon, followed by a short service taken by the Rev. Mr. Foster, and an enjoyable tea at the Falcon Inn. Evening ringing was at Brandeston. H. W. H. L.

DINNER-DANCE AT WINDSOR

SOCIAL life is prominent in the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the fourth annual dinner and dance, held at the Thames Hotel, Windsor, on November 20th, was supported by a company of 126. These included the Branch president, the Bishop of Buckingham (the Rt. Rev. G. D. Savage) and Mrs. Savage, the Branch chairman (Canon Eric Perkins), the Master of the Guild (Canon C. Elliot Wigg) and Mrs. Wigg, the Rev. S. W. Doran (Bray) and the Rev. John Grover (Cookham).

The hall had been attractively decorated by Mr. E. Gosling, who with Miss Doreen Hague, the Branch hon. secretary, were responsible for the arrangements.

After an excellent meal and the loyal toast, the Branch chairman said these dinners and dances were the brilliant idea of one man (Mr. E. Gosling) and they had proved to be very worthwhile. He welcomed the Bishop, the Master of the Guild and other clerical colleagues, also Mr. T. W. White and Mr. Walter Knight, an Australian visitor who had been ringing at St. Mary's, Slough.

Canon Wigg presented a certificate to St. Mary's, Amersham, who came second in the Guild striking competition, and this was received by their conductor, Anthony Fortin. The chairman presented certificates for the Branch striking competition, which was also won by Amersham with Hughenden (conductor, David Cornwell) and Lane End (Colin Hagger) being the runners-up. Mr. George Gibbs was thanked for framing the certificates.

The Bishop of Buckingham, in proposing the toast of "Our Church Bell Ringers," said as their president he felt he should present his credentials as this was the first time he had met them. He thanked the Branch most sincerely for allowing his wife and himself to be present.

"I can say I know a little about change ringing and my skill in this noble art has been confined to places in the Diocese of Oxford.

I first learned to ring such a thing as change ringing when I came to Oxford and was inveigled to go to St. Thomas' Church. I found it interesting and not hard physically.

The Bishop said his next experience was at a theological college and they rang at Drayton St. Leonard's, and there were broken stays right, left and centre. He remembered that one of their number, who was now an Archdeacon, got the rope round his neck and it was only the foresight of one of the party, who got nold of the rope above him, that prevented a casualty.

While a naval chaplain during the war, he remembered when his ship was in the Indian Ocean they had on board Sub-Lieutenant A. R. Pink, who was now an outstanding personality in the Diocese. Wherever he went he took with him a little box, and he remembered him producing his handbells and putting them through it.

He had always been fortunate as a Vicar or Rector to have towers with good bells. At one tower the village blacksmith was a ringer and made him a crook, not that he had any gift of looking forward. But the Bishop added that he used this lovely crook Sunday by Sunday. He wanted to thank the Bucks ringers for ringing so nicely when he visited their churches.

Concluding, the Bishop said that was not the place to preach a sermon but to thank them for everything they did in their art. "Go on teaching this noble art to the younger generation and see that the towers are always manned for calling people to worship and in ringing out praises to God."

Mr. T. W. White replied and gave a brief résumé of ringing in Australia and New Zealand, in which he mentioned the generous hospitality those who took part in Great Adventure II received, and that Sydney ringers this month had rung a peal of Surprise and two quarters of Surprise. They could now produce a very capable band at Sydney.

Dancing followed to Don Humphries' Band.

LIFE OF BELL ROPES

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. John Royal's letter from Kenilworth, I can only say that the rope he refers to as having to splice after less than a year's wear must surely be a poor rope or there must be some roughened surface on the wheel or in the garter hole that has chafed and frayed it.

The surface of the wheels of bells should be checked for absolute smoothness all the way round and any pulleys the rope runs over should be checked to see that they rotate properly and that the surface of the pulleys is also smooth. Any roughness found anywhere should be rubbed down. Even the slightest roughness will cause chafing of the rope, particularly in the garter holes. Fillet holes should also be checked.

The best ropes to be recommended are four-strand ropes, which are considerably superior to the three-strand ones, as they last longer and are much stronger.

In these days to help make ropes last longer leather sleeves can be obtained to put on the ropes where the wear occurs at the garter holes. If these tend to slip, then adhesive tape can be used to ensure they are kept in position. As a second best, adhesive tape can be wound round the rope where most wear takes place.

To harden the rope where the wear occurs and so lengthen the rope's life I would suggest rubbing in wax. I have not tried French chalk or castor oil as Mr. Royal suggests, but this may also help. Whatever method is adopted there would still be the need for adjustment up and down occasionally. For bells that may be exposed to the elements—and there are some, too—I would suggest the ropes be treated with some rope preservative.

In my own tower we have two sets of ropes at present for the eight bells. The old ropes are 11 years old and have only been spliced twice and are in use most of the time, and the new ropes are used for special occasions such as meetings, etc., also peal attempts (one hears too often of peal attempts being lost owing to a broken rope).

R. H. DUKE.

Tower Captain and Towerkeeper,

Dear Sir,—We find that rubbing with Russian tallow is very effective. The life of our ropes averages 10 years. I would also advise moving the ropes up and down a few inches occasionally.

GUIDE BOOK TO COMPOSITION

Dear Sir,—I wonder if you could find space in your columns to put a correction I have found necessary in "A Guide Book to Composition"?

Page 27, para. 4, should read: "We know the relationship between rounds and Y to be the same as that between the false lead-head/end and X."

G. B. THOMPSON.

Chorlton-cum-Hardy,

AGAINST ADJUSTMENTS

Dear Sir,—I have found that there are four chief places at which wear of bell ropes occurs (assuming, of course, that the guides are in alignment). Two places are above the ringing chamber roof and two below.

Above: (1) The most wear naturally takes place at the hole through which the rope passes into the groove of the wheel. To minimise the wear here I have sewn round the rope a double thickness of drill or light canvas for a length of about three inches either side of the hole. Lubricate the rope at this point with castor oil and make sure that the hole itself has no sharp edges.

(2) See that the pulleys revolve freely and keep them oiled. I have found a pulley seized with a groove worn into it by the rope.

Below: (3) The rope should be protected from abrasion where it hits the floor. Soft mats are best for this purpose, but coconut matting is fatal; it will cut through the strands in no time.

(4) Stop ringers from "fiddling" with the adjustment of the length of the rope-ends. Adjust them for the ordinary ringer and keep them at that. Jabbing the strands apart with a marline spike damages them and starts a potential weakness; and for some unknown reason the original point where the end was tucked away seems to have been weakened.

Finally, I have found that there are two kinds of rope available. One seems to be made from short lengths of yarn, and another with long fibres. The latter takes longer to settle down, but I prefer it as it gives a better service and splices more easily.—Yours, etc.

Willesborough, Kent.

W. P. GARNER.

ONE-ARMED RINGER

Dear Sir,—Mr. D. R. Pope, of Kington, may well be encouraged to hear that Mr. Fred Hannington, of Cardiff, suffered the loss of his right arm in an accident shortly after the first world war. Since that time he has been a most regular ringer at St. John's, Cardiff. Fred's advice to Mr. Pope is to try on a ring of bells with a short length of rope and not to loop the tail end round his wrist in any way but to hold it in the normal manner. A little practice gives confidence.

In addition Fred is a very highly-skilled tapestry worker, and for 17 years served his Association as general secretary.

I am sure that all ringers will join me in wishing Mr. Pope every success in his efforts to overcome his disability.

M. J. P.

THE MYSTERIOUS X

Dear Sir,—I support your correspondent who would like the Central Council to deal with the mysterious symbol X. There was a resolution before the Council in 1956 condemning the wrong use of this symbol. It was proposed by me and seconded by Mr. P. A. Coroy. The total show of hands was greater than I have seen on some occasions, indicating considerable interest in this subject, with more against than in favour. I am not now eligible to try again. Another awkward question to be asked by a young student is "What is the difference between FCH and FCE?"—Yours sincerely, Skegness.

JOHN SEGAR.

THE FILM "RINGERS REQUIRED"

Dear Sir,—The misleading statements which are likely to create misunderstanding and ill-feeling, which Mr. A. J. Collins makes in his letter headed "Ringers Required" in "The Ringing World" of November 19th, page 766, cannot go unchallenged.

After opening with a 12-line free advertisement in our Central Council journal he goes on to say that the machinations of the Central Council and its Education Committee are beyond him and refers to Great Adventure II and his film as instances.

Now the Central Council Education Committee has never at any time had anything to do with any aspect of Great Adventure II or any decision made by the Council concerning it.

As convener of the Education Committee, however, I was in 1961-62 involved in a great deal of work investigating the pros and cons of the Council itself producing a film on bellringing and my full report thereon appeared on page 409 of "The Ringing World" of June 22nd, 1962. I still have a file of correspondence, etc., about that investigation, including one or two letters from Mr. Collins, the contents of which he has perhaps forgotten. The Council decided not to undertake at that time the making of a film.

One of the reasons given was that Mr. Collins, who learned of my investigations and had himself secretly produced an amateur film on bellringing, requested that efforts to start another project be dampened down.

Mr. Barnett and I arranged for his film to be shown to members of the Central Council at Cardiff in 1962, the Council undertaking to bear the cost of projector hire, and the local Association bearing the expense of having a suitable room available for the purpose. Mr. Collins thus had a very influential audience for his film in that many of these representatives went back to the Associations and recommended the hire of his film on some future occasion.

The Council at that meeting commended his film and decided to refrain from competing with it.

Mr. Collins made it clear at that time that the film would be made available through sources that he would arrange, and that he "was not exactly willing for amateurs to get hold of it" (his £35 print) "and strip off all the perforations."

As numerous hirers well know, Mr. Collins made his film available through the Grass-hopper Group at 30/- per day.

It is not intended to criticise his film or photographic skill and he is to be commended (as he was at Cardiff in 1962) for producing an amateur film on this subject.

Mr. Collins has never asked this committee (nor, so far as I know, the Council) to take over the responsibility of handling his film.

Of what, then, is he complaining? If he is now dissatisfied with his present arrangements, which he himself made, and wishes the Council to take over this work or help him in some way, his method of approach is rather odd and, to say the least, ungentlemanly and tactless—Yours, etc..

N. CHADDOCK,

Convener, C.C. Sunday Service
Ringing and Education Committee.

The Washington Peal

This superb new 12-inch L.P. record marks a great occasion: the famous inaugural peal of the Washington Cathedral bells by a specially-invited team of English ringers, recorded by Douglas Hughes. In a playing time of 40 minutes, The Washington Peal records the highlights of a complete peal of 5,000 changes of Stedman Caters rung on the new bells two days after their dedication, before an estimated audience of over 10,000 people. Other tracks include the team's first rehearsal on the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as their handbell ringing of Grandsire Caters. The record's laminated sleeve contains a written history and account of the English team's visit to the United States.

PRICE 26/6 including post and packing.

The Sound of Bells

Here is the definitive book on the art and the history of ringing. Written by Edgar C. Shepherd, it will delight experts and novices alike. PLUS an E.P. record of different peals (some from famous cathedrals), carillons and hand bells. PRICE 26/6 including post and packing.

THE ROVING RINGERS' TOUR, 1965

ON Saturday, August 21st, the little town of Bletchley, Bucks, concentrated on surviving heavy showers of rain, little expecting that an even heavier shower of 25 Roving Ringers, tested old-stagers and welcome newcomers, was about to descend upon it. The Rovers had this year decided to blaze a trail through six counties, no less, and in Bucks, Northants and Warwickshire, in Worcestershire, Gloucester and Oxfordshire we left behind conquered towers, broken bicycle parts, thriving landlords and despairing youth hostel wardens.

As we passed on this first day through Stony Stratford, where there is a church which is very lucky to have any bells now, since other parts of the church were wickedly destroyed by fire, and through Towcester, we stuck to familiar paths like Stedman and Plain Bob, Grandsire and the A.5. There were those who embarked upon Erin and Cambridge, as there were also those who braved a steep short cut. But the ringing came round satisfactorily and the cycling also achieved its end as we arrived at Green's Norton to see the usual sight, comforting by virtue of its familiarity, of Fred Ellis, with his bike upside down, mending a puncture. The tour had truly started!

Green's Norton has a pleasant six and we rang them for morning service, refreshed by what John Slater repeatedly assured us was a "nourishing and filling youth hostel breakfast" and rejuvenated by a happy session in the adjoining playground (see photo). If we are honest we will admit that the roundabout was probably not designed for half a dozen sadists to spin the poor chap on it until he was ejected—bruised and nauseated—into the surrounding mud; but it supplied innocent amusement for Rovers on the prowl and satisfied the blood-lust.

Despite the magnificence of Y.H.A. food, the ten miles to Daventry reshaped our appetites, and the one place in the whole town which offered anything to eat was invaded as by a swarm of locusts. We were impressed by the bells of Daventry and as we progressed through Grandsire Caters and Plain Bob Royal to Stedman and Cambridge, I think we did the bells justice. It was even worth facing the drizzle to hear them outside.

By Monday we had heard the rumour that it was National Accident Week and decided that our party of 25 should be able to make a substantial contribution thereto. It was left to Rosemary to start us off by slipping and damaging her ankle to an extent which was still unknown by the end of the tour. Bob ("The Wrecker") Ashman was biding his time.

THE RINGING FLOURISHES

Meanwhile at Warwick (St. Nicholas') Double Norwich Court Bob Major submitted reluctantly and with noisy protest to our efforts to get it round. However, Yorkshire was much more docile and we led the bells smoothly through an enjoyably rhythmical course. At Redditch in the afternoon some of our less experienced members tried to tame Cambridge with commendable success, especially considering it was a first attempt for two of them. We must not fail to mention here the welcome appearance at the evening's festivities, after the ringing at Chaddeley Corbett had finished, of an old member of the Society, David Beacham. The company in the Swan that evening was so large and lively as to draw surprised comment from the wife of the warden of Chaddeley's hostel.

Tuesday dawned grey in contrast to our spirits. At Stoke Prior it would only need to have been a little darker for the bells justly to remind us of "things that go bump in the night." At Bidford-on-Avon we found some choice bells and descriptions to match. From John Slater's corner of the tower we heard the mumbled conviction that the second had masonry bearings, whilst John Brain, after ringing the treble, declared that it was mounted in quick-setting concrete.

WEDNESDAY, DAY OF TWELVES

The middle of the week had arrived and Evesham, Tewkesbury and Cheltenham heard the sound of Stedman Cinques, a sound which swells majestically on the bell tower's worthy twelve. A tribute must here be paid to our Master, George Evenden, for the way he organised the touches for the younger members and enabled those who did not feel at home on twelve to find their way through Stedman Cinques.

As evening sauntered towards us, Cleve Hill loomed like a malevolent ogre far above. But appropriately daunted, we walked and walked, then walked a little farther beside our halting bicycles; and eventually we reached the well-earned refreshment and the hostel at the top.

Our contribution to National Accident Week started on Thursday. It is nice to have a scapegoat. Well, rain, Bob Ashman and ungracious Fate comprise a formidable trio whom we might like to blame. Perhaps it was not Bob's fault when a car cut him close and his pedal scraped a neat line of paint off the side. Nor next day, when he was riding cheerfully along and one handlebar was found to be no longer attached to his bicycle. Nor was it discovered (I hope!) who was at fault when Andrew Slade and Roger Ashmore found themselves in a messy heap in front of a still messier heap of mangled bicycle. How justified were the oft-quoted words, once apparently heard from an eminent Somerset Rector, "Get off the road, you lout!" Still, it was all trade for the local bicycle shops. A little ingenuity even managed to cope with a full-scale blow-out in Adrienne's back tyre.

Such were our troubles. How pleasant, then, to be able to continue ringing in spite of everything at Swindon Village (more "things that go bump in the night"), to press on to Prestbury, Charlton Kings and Leckhampton, where a ladies' touch of Bob Major was successful, on Thursday. Then to have the pleasure on Friday of ringing at Watermoor, Fairford and Burford.

REINFORCEMENTS RALLY

The week-end brought many old members in and made a party totalling about 40 at The Elms, Ifley. As if the bells were giant magnets, the ringing on the way into Oxford at Witney and Eynsham gradually attracted the new arrivals. Merton College's precarious balcony supported the full party and thus was completed Saturday's ringing. The luxuries of the hotel were bliss to the hostellers, and the dinner and meeting proceeded successfully.

The party was still a goodly size on Sunday at All Saints' and St. Ebbe's on Magdalen College's splendid ten and at the Cathedral. A trip to Appleton to ring for Evensong made an enjoyable excursion, and the day's ringing finished at St. Mary's, the prodigious six that sound so far afield.

Monday's ringing on Abingdon's ten, at Dorchester and Wallingford brought to a close another very enjoyable tour. For the excellent arrangements we owe our thanks to John Cobb and are also grateful to all incumbents whose permission to ring we gained, M.R.A.

OBITUARY

MR. J. A. HERBERT

The many friends of Mr. Jim A. Herbert, of Luton, will receive with great regret the news of his death, which occurred on November 7th at the age of 58.

He first learned to ring at Hadleigh, Suffolk, the place of his birth, and after settling in Luton in 1935 he joined the local band, of which he remained a regular member until his death.

The funeral service was held on November 11th at Luton Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar, and attended by the local captain (Mr. H. Wood) and a large number of ringers, including two from Harpenden, where Jim was a frequent visitor. The Bedfordshire Association was represented by the president, who read the lesson. Cremation followed.

In the evening 1,259 Grandsire Caters was rung with the bells half-muffled, by the local band as a tribute to the memory of a loyal comrade.

AN APPRECIATION

Those who were so fortunate to enjoy the privilege of Jim Herbert's friendship will find it hard to believe that this very staunch character has left us.

It is just 30 years ago that Jim left his native Suffolk and settled in the busy industrial town of Luton. He never lost his love for the beautiful county of his origin, but that did not prevent him being loyal and faithful to the place of his adoption, and in the 30 years he served Luton Parish Church as a bellringer he was regular in his attendance and earnest about his work as an officer of the church. A. E. R.

MR. LESLIE C. W. HUNTER

For 36 years Leslie Charles William Hunter, popularly known as "Les", was tower captain at Shalford, Surrey, and during that time, by hard work and devotion to the cause, he was successful in keeping in being an efficient change ringing band there who, even if not renowned for the multiplicity of methods rung, were famed throughout the area for their accuracy in striking. In 1936, through his efforts, the rather bad-going and non-melodious six at Shalford were recast and augmented to eight, an eight now noted for their musical qualities and "go."

To the great grief of all who knew him Les died on November 19th at the age of 57 after an illness that had for years made itself manifest and which to a great extent had curtailed his ringing activities.

He could claim to be a founder member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, had served for years on the Executive Committee and acted as auditor for a long period. He also recently served the Guildford District as Ringing Master for a period of two years. Les had been associated with Shalford Parish Church all his life, serving as chorister from boyhood and in later years as a member of the Parochial Church Council there.

At a memorial service held in the Parish Church on November 24th, following cremation earlier in the day, there was a gathering of fellow ringers, fellow workers in the office of the Collector of Taxes, where he had been employed since leaving school, members of his family, relatives and friends, and in his address the Vicar (Canon W. R. Horth) referred to Les's sterling qualities, his devotion to Shalford bells, his service to the Church in other capacities and his great sense of loyalty, friendliness and regard for others, his gifts as a leader and his willingness to help his fellow man.

Les leaves a widow and son and a great company of fellow ringers, fellow workers, fellow churchmen and friends to mourn him. G. L. G.

AN APPRECIATION

Over the past few years the Guildford Diocesan Guild has lost many of its established characters and now in the death of Leslie Hunter it has suffered another tragic blow. He started his service to Shalford Parish at a very young age as a choirboy and then learned to ring on the heavy six bells. During the next 40 or so years he watched the augmentation to eight and the constant training that is necessary to maintain an eight-bell band. He had been captain of the tower for 36 years and served the Guild in various capacities. He learned the more advanced methods with the late A. H. Pulling in Guildford and maintained at Shalford the precision striking he learned there.

It has always been a pleasure to visit Shalford whether one has been an unknown learner or an established ringer—the welcome was always warm and sincere. Les was truly a gentleman and instilled enthusiasm and unity in all with whom he came into contact. The happiness of his band, their annual family holiday together and the full ringers' pews were a constant reminder of the way he worked. He will be greatly missed by all, and our deepest sympathy is with his family and friends at Shalford. D. A. R. M.

MR. KEITH TAYLOR

With deep regret we report another loss to the Colehill belfry, Warwickshire, by the tragic death of Keith Taylor, killed on the road when returning from ringing practice at Kingsbury on November 12th. He was interested in many of the neighbouring towers and their ringers and he will be greatly missed, especially by some of the younger members of these bands.

Twenty-seven ringers attended the service at Yardley Crematorium on November 18th, and the following towers were represented: Coleshill, Kingsbury, Knowle, Yardley, Tamworth, Sheldon, Great Barr and Burton-on-Trent.

At Coleshill that evening 1,260 Bob Triples was rung, half muffled, by Miss R. Morgan 1, Mrs. D. Bennett 2, D. L. Lloyd 3, D. L. Hooper 4, L. L. Willis 5, E. H. Hill 6, G. Lane (conductor) 7, A. Ensor 8. This was followed by 1,260 Doubles, half-muffled, by Miss L. Deebank (first quarter) 1, K. Lane 2, N. Attaway 3, J. Belshaw 4, M. Edwards (conductor) 5, N. Ensor 6, H. Walker 7, H. Williams 8.

The Kingsbury ringers paid their tribute in their own tower on November 19th, when 1,260 of Plain Bob Minor was rung, half-muffled, by K. Cummings (first quarter) 1, N. Richards 2, N. Attaway 3, R. Farmer 4, K. Richards 5, G. Lane (conductor) 6.

All three quarters were preceded by a silence, and prayers were said.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Godfrey, of Pulborough, have left for Ghana. They will be out of England for 18 months.

Miss Jean Dale, of St. Albans, rang her first peal on her new set of Dutch handbells. These are believed to be only the second set in this country made by Petit and Fritsen.

Mr. J. E. Jeater has received a postal order for 12s. in an envelope posted at Gloucester on November 22nd. He awaits instructions as nothing else was included in the envelope.

Mr. George E. Bonham calls attention that during his peal week a peal was rung at Brafield-on-the-Green and not Bradfield-on-the-Green. See page 765.

Mr. Noel D. Deam, of Marston, Oxford, fulfilled on October 16th a long-standing ambition by equalling the then record peal of 42 Doubles methods conducted by Mr. Alan R. Pink in this tower.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung half-muffled at St. Neots, Hunts, on November 13th, has particular significance, as the bells were recast and hung in an iron frame in 1919 in memory of the parishioners who gave their lives in the 1914-18 war.

A friend of a group of Southwell Guild ringers is Mrs. Drury, of Swinderby. For six years they have rung a peal in honour of her birthday, which on November 9th was her 82nd. Despite the ringers' request not to bother, she insisted on giving them a really good supper. Comments our correspondent: "She is one of the few who get pleasure in giving as well as receiving."

WASHINGTON RING FOR PRINCESS MARGARET

The ringers of Washington Cathedral had the great honour, writes Richard S. Dirksen (Bellmaster) "to ring for H.R.H. Princess Margaret on November 16th, following a short service for her in the Cathedral. Rounds and call changes were rung on the Cathedral's ten (33 cwt.) as the Princess left the building and entered her limousine. Then, as her car drove away, a touch of Plain Bob Minor was rung on bells 1, 2, 3, 6, 8 and 9 with tenor behind.

"In the opinion of a number of educated listeners, the striking was superb, and the Bob Minor rung on those bells, though perhaps slightly unorthodox by Central Council standards, was a beautiful sound indeed.

"The Washington Press, refusing to be educated, commented '... and as the Princess descended the stairs, the Cathedral's ten-bell carillon broke forth.'

"I can only repeat how great an honour we felt it, to ring for English royalty, and how pleased we were to have the opportunity to welcome Princess Margaret 'in her native tongue,' as it were."

A record of these bells and also interviews with the band that rang at their opening is advertised on page 817.

SYDNEY'S SUCCESSFUL RUN

The Sydney ringers have had a successful run of late. Quarter peals of Cambridge, Lincolnshire and Superlative have been rung at St. Mary's Cathedral and St. Jude's, Randwick. Following these there was a half-muffled peal of Lincolnshire at Randwick on Remembrance Sunday. A peal of Minor has also been rung at Turramurra.

BELLS IN INDIA

Dear Sir,—In answer to the query by Mr. Claud Rush re "Bells in India and Pakistan," I was stationed in Delhi from 1914 to 1917 and from there visited many cities in India.

The only ring of bells I know of was in the English church at Poona. I was with the late Mr. Frank Green and we tried to get a band for a quarter peal but before this materialised we were moved to Bombay and Palestine.

I often wondered if they had been rung before then or since. We had enough for Grandsire Triples in our battalion, 1/4th Wiltshire Regiment, but were never able to ring.

We visited Bethlehem whilst in Palestine, but as you all know now the bells were only hung for swinging headstock high.—Yours truly,

W. C. WEST.

Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

THE CURATE'S PRANK

For a long time a resident West Cumberland band has been trying to ring a peal of Surprise Major. This area is not blessed with many opportunities or many ringers. On November 20th at Cockermouth the band was within sight of success. Two hours and 35 minutes of excellent ringing had taken place when, with only two and a half courses to go, the lights went out!

"Luckily nobody was injured and we clattered to a standstill," writes L. B. "Immediately afterwards we made inquiries and discovered that it was the assistant curate who had switched off all the lighting to 'play a joke' on the women who were cleaning the church. We did not laugh!"

MAXIMUS PEAL AT LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL

An historic achievement in the art of peal ringing was the first peal of Maximus on the bells of Liverpool Cathedral on November 20th. It was Cambridge Surprise Maximus and was accomplished in the excellent time of 4 hours 16 minutes. To the conductor, Mr. Joseph Ridyard, and his Cathedral band drawn from Merseyside, the warm congratulations of many friends will be extended.

The peal was in honour of the retirement of the Bishop of Liverpool, the Rt. Rev. Clifford Martin. When the Central Council had its memorable meeting at Southport in 1959, Dr. Martin gave a most cordial welcome. He is not without practical experience of ringing, as he learned to handle a bell while at Plymouth, being a pupil of Mr. Tom Myers, and received his certificate of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers.

The Bishop attended the dinner given by the Lancashire Association on the evening previous to the Council meeting. He told the story that at one tower he rang they asked him which bell he would like. He replied "No. 5." After he had rung they put a little tablet inscribed "The Bishop's Bell."

PROMOTION FOR PORTISHEAD RINGER

Portishead tower is the poorer by the loss of Police Sergeant Fred Sandy, who is moving to Yeovil on promotion to inspector. Portishead bells are out of action at present while the clappers are being rebushed, and so a farewell quarter peal of Stedman Triples was rung at the neighbouring tower of Wraxall by a representative band. Inspector Sandy's eldest son, Robert, has recently started to learn to ring, and they go with the best wishes of the Portishead band for their future in Yeovil.

OXFORD GUILD ORGANISE LEADERS' COURSE

Adequate support was forthcoming for the tower leaders' course at Charney Manor from November 5th to 7th. There were 28 people of vastly differing ages and ability present and the strength of the organisation lay in the adroitness of the very able tutors in adapting to the different standards of all their pupils. The tutors, to whom we are very grateful, were Messrs. F. Sharpe, W. G. Wilson, W. F. Moreton, M. Hatchett and P. J. M. Gray. A vast range of subjects was covered, including the history of bells, the technique of bell-control, the science of composition, the ringing of handbells, tower maintenance and the part played by the Guild.

Miss Marie Cross is sincerely thanked for organising the course, and the Society of Friends, the owners of Charney Manor, for being so hospitable.

MIX-UP OVER TWO FIELDENS

Correction.—In regard to peals published on page 782, the ringer of the eighth at Leyland, the treble at Walton-le-Dale and the tenor at Adlington should be John H. Fielden, and not J. Henry Fielden as published. The error is regretted.

The footnote to the peal of London Surprise Major rung at St. Thomas', Heptonstall (page 784) should read: "Rung in the octave of All Saints' on the octave of St. Thomas'." Mr. J. Henry Fielden also asks us to state that he did not ring in the peals at Adlington, Leyland and Walton-le-Dale on page 782. These peals were rung by John H. Fielden.

NORTH BERKS' FIRST DINNER

One hundred and twenty ringers and friends met in Hagbourne Village Hall on November 19th for the first annual dinner of the North Berks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. Towers represented included Abingdon, Appleton, Aston Tirrold, Blewbury, Cholsey, Hagbourne, Harwell, North Moreton, Radley, Stevenage, Wantage and West Hendred, and guests included the Rev. H. J. Pickles, the Rev. G. R. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wilkins. Canon C. E. Wigg, Miss M. R. Cross and Mr. F. Sharpe were also invited but unfortunately had to decline.

The toast of "The North Berks Branch" was proposed by the Rev. Martin F. Gibbs, the Rural Dean, who recalled some amusing eccentricities of Bishop Sheddin; Mr. Alfred H. Webb, the Branch Ringing Master, replied. Mr. Claude Corderoy, the Branch hon. secretary, proposed the toast of "The Guests and Friends," and the Rev. G. R. Wells made a well-received musical reply. Mr. Kenneth Leach, the Branch vice-chairman, proposed votes of thanks to those who had organised the dinner, and to Messrs. Bees Catering Service of Oxford for an excellent spread.

After the dinner the assembly was entertained by the Appleton Handbell Ringers (Alf Webb, Harry White, George Bishop, Cliff Garlick and Miss Peggy East) and the evening concluded with enthusiastic community singing. So successful was the evening that it is hoped to make it a regular annual event.

THE DEVON ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting was held in the Diocesan Board Room, Exeter, on November 20th, when some 40 towers were represented.

After the routine business had been transacted and Mr. E. J. Cole, of Ashreigney, re-elected hon. secretary, the choice of towers for the 1966 festivals was made as follows: April 23rd, Bovey Tracey (eight-bell); May 7th, Stokenham (six-bell—south); May 21st, Bickleigh (six-bell—north); June 11th, St. Budeaux, Plymouth (six-bell—final).

Mr. Bartlett reported briefly upon his attendance at the meeting of the Central Council at Northampton and the welcome which he had found there and announced that he hoped to arrange the usual June six-bell competition by invitation at, subject to permission being formally obtained, Blackawton. The festival held at Bridford last summer resulted in almost £60 being handed to the P.C.C. to help in the repayment of a loan from the Historic Churches Preservation Trust.

DISS POPULAR WITH NORFOLK RINGERS

The Southern Branch visited Diss, always a favourite tower for a meeting, on October 30th. As usual, there was a large attendance, well over 50. A warm welcome was received from the new Rector (Canon E. L. Corbell), who conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. S. Collins (Rector of Bunwell).

At the business meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Nolan Golden, president of the Association, Canon Corbell was elected an honorary member.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rector, organist and Mr. A. G. Harrison, who made all the arrangements for the meeting.

Branch annual meeting: February 5th, at Saxlingham.

AN HISTORIC PEAL

IN recent years there are three peals which will go down to posterity—the extent of Bob Major at Loughborough, the peal of Stedman Cinques which followed the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill and the peal of Stedman Caters at Washington Cathedral rung by a selected team of English ringers who crossed the Atlantic by air for this memorable event.

Through the initiative of Mr. Douglas Hughes, a tape recording was taken of the various stages in the Washington peal from the preliminary meetings to excerpts of ringing during the peal itself. From these tapes, Record Books, Ltd., have made a twelve inch long playing record entitled, "The Washington Peal," which is available at 26/6d.

The value of this record is two-fold. From an historical point of view it will enable future generations of ringers to assess the scene, the bells and ringing and, furthermore, to hear the voices of the band, men who, masters of their craft in 1965, will probably in 50 or 100 years time be held in veneration and toasted at such gatherings as the College Youths' anniversary dinners. (And what would many of us today give to hear say the voice of Jasper Snowdon or the Rev. F. E. Robinson speaking after say a failure of Appleton!). The other is that the audible presentation of the scene supplements and heightens the pen picture told so vividly by George W. Pipe in "The Ringing World" of June 17th, 1964. To all associated with ringing it has high interest value.

The record opens with a touch of Grandsire Caters on hand-bells, rung when the Washington ringers met for the first time on March 14th, 1965. The second half of this two minute piece of track is good rhythmic ringing.

Mr. Douglas Hughes now enters the record and introduces in turn the ten ringers. This homely chat occupies 14 minutes and we regard the personal background as essential if a true picture is to be presented.

The scene changes to St. Giles', Cripplegate, with the ringers at practice. Mr. Hughes talks during the ringing of the environments of St. Giles' and the echo effect experienced in English towers.

The second side of the record is devoted to proceedings in America, and opens with the Dean, who has recently been in London, giving the Washington prayer which unfortunately is affected by interference. Recordings of the peal of Stedman Caters are taken from both inside and outside the ringing chamber and the eleven minutes recorded from the outside are from a ringing point of view the highlight of the record. The concluding five minutes of the peal are devoted to the peal of Cambridge Royal at Groton School.

This record should certainly be preserved in the library of the Central Council and among the archives of Washington Cathedral.

LONDON'S OLD BELLS

Thoughts inspired by two recent letters to "The Ringing World" by Messrs. Cattermole and Cawley.

The bells of St. Bartholomew-the-Great, Smithfield, are always called England's oldest complete ring. But in reality they are Dissolution. The other five heavier bells went almost certainly only five of the ten bells which were in the Priory before the to St. Sepulchre, Holborn, where they have since been recast into the present unringable ten. The remaining five are generally said to date from 1510. But this cannot be very accurate. It is merely the sole surviving date we have for their founder, Thomas Bullisdon—the date when he cast a bell for St. Mary-at-Hill.

Are the two bells at St. Bartholomew-the-Less the oldest in the City as Mr. Crawley suggests? I think not. I believe there were at least three other runners for this title. But first I think we can be a little more accurate than the date c. 1400 that Mr. Cawley suggests in his letter. The larger bell (the tenor of the ring) bears the shield of Robert Crouch, who was founding to our knowledge between 1439 and 1450. The other bell (the second of the ring of three) is older. By its shield it was cast by John Langthorne, who operated between 1379 and 1405.

The three bells that I would now like to enter for "oldest City bell" are all out of their towers. The first one has been recently much in the news. This is a 15th century Flemish bell which hung in the 15th century tower of All Hallows, Staining, with five sisters, until the body of the Church was demolished in 1870. In 1890, its five 17th century companions were recast for the Grocers' Company by Mears and Stainbank to form the six at St. Paul's, Homerton, Hackney. The Flemish bell was preserved in the Grocers' Hall. It is a very beautiful casting and its inscription tells us that it was cast in 1458.

Number two for the claim of oldest bell is really a sly intruder. In 1933 the three bells of the ruined Church of Avenbury, in Herefordshire, were purchased by St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe, and hung in that tower. After the Blitz they were examined and all found to be cracked. The oldest bell has been preserved in St. Andrew's. It's one of the famous "royal-head" stop bells, a very fine casting from the Worcester foundry between 1415-20 under monastic supervision.

Lastly, the bell which I believe should bear the prize. This formerly hung in the Rolls Chapel which was demolished in the late 19th century to make way for extensions to the Public Record Office. It is now inside the Office. It is a very long-waisted bell and must be 14th century at the latest and very possibly earlier. This, I should say, is London's oldest bell.

We arrive then at something like the following:

Rolls Chapel Bell	c. 1300
St. Bartholomew-the-Less, 2nd	c. 1379-1405
St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe	c. 1415-1420
St. Bartholomew-the-Less, 3rd	c. 1439-1450
Grocers' Hall Bell	1458
St. Bartholomew-the-Great, 5 bells	c. 1500

GREAT ADVENTURE II

The Journey Home included a Peal at Groton

WHEN we said goodbye to our friends at Hamilton at 5 p.m. on Friday, October 8th, we all realised we were bound for home. Ahead of us was the crossing of the Pacific and the Atlantic Oceans, and also the United States but, incredible as it may sound, we landed at London Airport at 7 a.m. on Monday, October 11th, and out of that time spent more than 30 hours at Groton, sleeping, relaxing and ringing a peal. The answer to this conundrum was that we gained 24 hours when we crossed the date line.

Most of us beforehand anticipated that the crossing of the Pacific would be tedious, but it was not so. We said our farewell to Auckland and New Zealand at 8.30 p.m. travelling by Qantas Airlines. Nadi, the big airport of the Fiji Islands, was reached shortly after midnight and we spent an hour in the roomy transit hall, refreshments being served by tall, skirted Fijians.

On the journey to Honolulu forms for entry into the United States had to be filled in to the satisfaction of a critical air hostess and even the so-called brainy ones of the party were requested to do their "homework" again, to the delight of the non-scholastic.

ON AMERICAN SOIL

For some inexplicable reason, when we landed at Honolulu we were conscious that we had landed on foreign soil. Although only 9.30 a.m. it was oppressively warm. The health authority were polite and firm, and there were no difficulties with the customs officers. While we had a break of an hour and a half before resuming our travel, the airport was too distant from the town for any sight-seeing. Somehow we felt limp: content to sit about until we took our place in the queue to enter the bus to drive us to the distant Qantas. Perhaps what lingers in memory was many nationalities travelling with a preponderance of bemedalled American troops. A few of the honoured guests were wearing garlands.

Darkness had fallen when we reached the gigantic airport of San Francisco, which is 17 miles from the city. The expeditious way heavy cases were dealt with on a circular conveyor belt and the exit doors that opened as one approached them were new to many of the party. No custom difficulties were encountered.

Leaving Len Stilwell and Arthur Mason to watch the luggage, the remainder, guided by Malcolm Melville who had been to San Francisco before, boarded the coach to the city. Bright lights and skyscraper buildings and a maze of streets were the first impressions. It all had an air of mystery. Malcolm introduced us to the cable car that clattered with much noise and the continuous sounding of a warning gong up and down steep hills. Having crossed Sydney bridge a number of times we wished to see the famous bridge of San Francisco across the sea. It was longer than Sydney's, but the density of traffic was not so great and in the night light the Australian masterpiece seemed to be more exciting. Two taxis were commissioned for the journey. On the way to the city terminal Mark Damerell left us to have a second ride on the cable tram, probably clinging to the side and getting more excitement from the journey than his staid and elderly companions.

We had time for supper when we reached the airport—a light affair, as another heavy meal was served soon after the 'plane set off on its long journey across America, although it was after midnight. Arthur Mason, however, put the rest of the company to shame by having his shoes cleaned before leaving. We watched him perched high as a coloured man demonstrated that if you cannot shine at one end you shine at the other.

About 5.30 a.m. we touched down at Chicago and stretched our legs; shops at the airport were open.

ENCHANTMENT

Just before 10 a.m. we were at Boston, the airport being on a flat peninsula jutting out to sea. Russell S. Young gave us an all-smiles welcome; besides his car he had the school bus. The drive to Groton, over 40 miles was, after the city had been left behind, one of enchantment. Eights were paddling in the river opposite Harvard. The autumn tints of the well-wooded New England countryside were of great beauty and here and there nestling among them would be white-wooden houses with expansive porches. Most of the route was on a dual carriageway. Occasionally one met a roadside fruit and vegetable stall with masses of pumpkins.

Groton School is a community on its own, away from the village and set among extensive grounds. Houses are provided for married members of the staff and there is a roomy habitation known as the Parents' House, where our party were accommodated. It was intended to attempt a peal that afternoon, but the band was travel-weary, and it was postponed until Sunday immediately after morning service.

Lunch was taken with the school and immediately afterwards we were able to have a short ring. The tower might well have been transported from Somerset. It has a lofty dignity and is regarded as one of the most beautiful Gothic towers in America. The ringing chamber is very pleasant.

ONE PREVIOUS PEAL

The old eight at Groton were shipped to Whitechapel in March, 1962, and recast into a lighter ring of ten, with a tenor of about 18 cwt. as against 22 cwt. They were hung in a new steel frame. The "go" of the bells is excellent and their tone good. Only one peal had previously been rung on the bells by the ten who made the journey to Washington for the opening of the Cathedral bells last year.

Practically all the English visitors went to bed for an hour or two that afternoon, but while it was still light parts of the school were visited and admired. The school was joined that evening by two coachloads of girls for a college dance. At the same time there was a two-hour cinema show, for which Mr. Russell Young was also responsible. The majority of our party were in bed by 10.30, but two or three were motored to the village for a nightcap at the counterpart of the local at home.

An hour's ringing preceded 11 a.m. chapel. Mr. Russell Young's brightest joined in various touches and some of them tackled Stedman Caters for the first time. The experience was most encouraging and it was likely that Caters will soon be rung regularly at the school.

The peal was timed to start at the conclusion of morning chapel, sandwiches being provided for our seven peal ringers and Warren Morley II, who was selected by Mr. Young to complete the band. It was after the door was locked in the traditional style that the method was selected—Double Norwich Court Bob Major, the bells going into changes at 12.37 p.m. Warren had not rung the treble to Double Norwich before, and his record so far as anything beyond a short touch was a quarter of Stedman Doubles. Before starting he was given a tip or two to help him in his hunting. It was a big risk, as an easier alternative would have been for him to ring the tenor or even "inside" to Stedman. Warren quickly felt at home and there was some good ringing; the peal being scored in 2 hours and 56 minutes. Thus Warren, at the age of 16, became the first Groton boy to ring in a peal in the school tower. Two other boys—Oliver Edwards and John R. Chandler—rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Upham, Hants, last year, and in 1961 Samuel Parkman Shaw rang in a peal at Pulham Market, Norfolk.

A DEFAULTER

At lunch that day to the school the headmaster, the Rev. Bertrand Honea, called attention to the peal attempt then in progress and wished the ringers every success. He also mentioned the honour conferred on Warren in being the first Groton boy to stand in a peal attempt in the school chapel. But Warren should have been wearing a white coat and serving at table. In the excitement of being selected to participate in the peal he had neglected to obtain permission to be absent, and it was a matter for school-boy speculation as to whether the appropriate punishment would be administered or in the honour he had brought to the school it would be overlooked. The peal had the distinction of being the first of Major on tower bells in America.

To Tom Lock the peal brought great pleasure. Not only was it a successful conclusion to an historic tour but his 900th peal. Groton was Len Stilwell's 250th tower for a peal and he had "circled" to peals in 30 towers. After the peal the question was asked, how many citizens of the United States had rung peals? The late Mrs. Shurcliff, who was a

This superb new 12-inch L.P. record marks a great occasion: the famous inaugural peal of the Washington Cathedral bells by a specially-invited team of English ringers, recorded by Douglas Hughes. In a playing time of 40 minutes, The Washington Peal records the highlights of a complete peal of 5,000 changes of Stedman Caters rung on the new bells two days after their dedication, before an estimated audience of over 10,000 people. Other tracks include the team's first rehearsal on the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as their handbell ringing of Grandsire Caters. The record's laminated sleeve contains a written history and account of the English team's visit to the United States.

PRICE 26/6 including post and packing.

STANDARDS WANTED FOR SURPRISE RINGING

Dear Sir,—Why does the Exercise continue to accept as standard methods certain Surprise methods which in fact are grossly sub-standard?

Fairly recently there has been a great increase in the number and complexity of the methods rung to peals. For better or for worse, space-age technology and more especially our modern educational system are having an appreciable effect on campanology today. The average ringer is more knowledgeable and probably more able than his counterpart of three decades ago.

We are accustomed to change in all aspects of our daily lives, so we should not find it too much of a wrench to give up some of the old traditional standbys in favour of methods better suited to fulfil the necessary requirements of a standard method.

What are these requirements? Standard methods are rung frequently on practice nights, at meetings and to peals. They should therefore have a musical plain course, a large variety of compositions should be available, and they should not be of such a degree of complexity that they stand little chance of coming round when attempted by an average band at a meeting. None of our present selection fails on the last point. I would like to examine the others in more detail.

I do not wish to try to lay down the law on what constitutes a musical method. Most people would agree that a change such as 75684123 (London) is more musical than 64382157 (Lincolnshire). So many of our standard methods have nothing worth listening to below the treble. Above the treble, I suppose "Cambridge up" is preferable to Pudsey, and suitably combined with music below the treble it can produce a good method, e.g. Yorkshire. Nevertheless, it is not the best available.

With regard to variety of compositions, our standard methods are an average bunch, with two notable exceptions: Bristol (better) and Cambridge (disgusting). Surely the fact that we continue to ring an unmusical, unworkable method such as Cambridge is due to apathy rather than intent? It was this assumption that provoked me to embark on this letter.

Why should our standard methods be other than the best our ingenuity can devise. We have no reason to suppose that ringing will not be as popular a thousand years hence as it is today; indeed, with increased leisure time it will probably be more popular. Unless something constructive is done, the standard methods of today will be the standard methods of the future. This is a depressing prospect; two middles, two wrongs, three homes, ten million times repeated.

There are many better methods than Cambridge, Pudsey and Lincolnshire (for example) and we certainly have the bands to ring them. Can we not democratically decide on our standard methods now that we are in a position to do so, and reject our hidebound traditions?—Yours faithfully,

P. J. WYCHERLEY

Timperley, Cheshire.

VALUE OF RUSSIAN TALLOW

Dear Sir,—Regarding "Life of Bell Ropes" (page 776), I would advise Mr. John Royal to use Russian tallow in the garter holes and also a spliced rope; it will help to stop dry rot. Castor oil is very good for bearings. Russian tallow is very cheap, a pound will last two years or more.—Yours sincerely,

E. P. INSKIP.

Bhomham, Beds.

"A GLORIOUS 46 YEARS"

Dear Sir,—The letter of Mr. W. Bottrill (page 795), which is aptly headed "Disgruntled After 50 Years' Ringing," appears to show that your correspondent has had a "chip on his shoulder," if only a small one. Apart from one or two instances, Mr. Bottrill's ringing career has been singularly most unfortunate. I cannot claim to have had such a bad time; indeed, taking all in all, I have had a glorious 46 years of ringing.

I attribute my success to being attached to three "Christian" towers during my lifetime, where in each case all the ringing potential was, and is in my present tower, drawn from the church. We work very closely with the other organisations of the church, such as the Choir, Bible Class, C.E.M.S., Youth Club, etc., and the congregation I find is extremely friendly.

At present I am privileged to be the appointed captain of St. James' tower and from time to time the congregation are invited to visit the ringing chamber to see for themselves. It does no harm and, in my case, a "power of good." I have always been "Church of England" and I have yet to meet an "axe-grinding" churchgoer. Regrettably, it is true, that there are many non-church-going ringers, some holding office in Associations' branches, yes, and even captains of the towers. This ought not to be and should be remedied. Perhaps this may have been the cause of Mr. Bottrill's experience. And although he claims to have been weaned from the church and its bells after 50 years, I am sure that it is not to the point of "no return."

That the church and its bells in Luton await him is a certainty, where possibly a current "Ringing World" would be on loan to him.—Yours truly,

R. BEALE.

Taunton.

LADIES AT CHERITON

Dear Sir,—As the ringer of the tenor in the Ladies' Guild peal attempt at Cheriton, I write in reply to Miss Violet Relf and in support of the conductor, Mrs. Chapman.

As one certainly inferior in skill and experience to Miss Relf I hesitate to question her judgment but I do feel her criticism is, at this point (five months after the attempt), unnecessary and certain to cause bad feeling.

Mrs. Chapman has already stated that she was satisfied with the performance and the knowledge that the band had done their best; if this best is not good enough for Miss Relf it is a great pity. Four of us in the attempt are under 20 with few peals to our credit and would have welcomed a constructive criticism either from Miss Relf or from the conductor if she had found criticism necessary. Disappointment after the peal attempt was keen and discouragement now can only serve to embitter. I must also add that if Miss Relf had felt the seventh to be too much for her to manage I am sure one of our number would have changed with her, thus allowing her to ring a lighter bell.—Yours faithfully,

RACHEL J. SINDEN.

AN OLD BLUE RECALLS

Dear Sir,—Mr. R. W. H. Hayes and any other Old Blue ringers may be interested to know that I was at Christ's Hospital, Horsham, from 1945 to 1952. At that time, as now, I counted W. Leslie Weller as my closest friend, but whereas he went to a day grammar school and was able to devote some of his time to learning to ring, such extra-mural activities were frowned on at my boarding school. This, despite the fact that we lived at Itchingfield, a bare mile from Christ's Hospital. I doubt if there are many Old Blue ringers who rang while at "Housie," though I do recall one or two who came to Monday evening practices sometimes about three years ago; I wonder if they are still ringing.

To return to the Itchingfield ringers of my schooldays, my father, as Rector, was instrumental in restarting the ringing there. Predominantly youthful, the enthusiasm was great and I well remember the envy I felt when they set out for their first week-long tour of South Wales—by bicycle! At the peak of their efficiency in their late teens, this little five-bell tower with a tenor of 6½ cwt. could boast a competent Surprise Major band, and the standard of service ringing was very high.

In 1956, at Christmas, I came out of the Forces and visited Leslie Weller as the band were preparing to go out ringing carols on the handbells, so I went along to hold their music. From then on I had no option but to join them and learn to ring, and at the hands of George Francis and Leslie Weller (now Masters of the Northern and Western Divisions of the Sussex County Association) and the strong band then at Itchingfield, I was fortunate to make good progress. Another member of the band was "Bunny" Burroughs, whom I married in 1960; anybody else dating a girl who is ringing Cambridge Major while he is struggling with rounds has my sympathy, but it is worth persevering with!

The marrying bug was nearly Itchingfield's undoing. George Francis and Leslie Weller married girls and moved to Warnham and Billingshurst respectively. Barwell Dibben went to Canada and came back for just long enough to snatch away our secretary, Shirley Richardson. This kind of wastage went on over a few years but was matched by recruiting, and by 1962 ringing was very buoyant with a completely changed band, although the standard was not much above Plain Bob or Grandsire. Jim Nelson and I were joint Masters, and Mrs. K. Hoare had the dual advantage of being a very able secretary and of bringing the other four members of her family to swell our numbers.

The cycle is coming round again though. This spring Fred Weller (Leslie's father), who had been tower captain throughout, gave up ringing at Itchingfield, the valuable Hoare family moved to Pewsey, Wiltshire, and my wife and I moved to Pulborough, so halving the strength of the band. Ringing continues, and we trust that a third band will soon be thriving. I'm sure they will be glad to see any ringers visiting the district, as they have a nice little ring of bells with a cosy ringing chamber, and are worth a visit.

This has strayed rather from the subject of Old Blue ringers, but they may find it of interest as Itchingfield is the nearest tower to Christ's Hospital.

In closing, I wonder if there are any frustrated ringers in Ghana and Nigeria, as my company has sent me, Bunny and our little son to West Africa for 18 months. If so, we hope to make contact.—Yours faithfully, member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, was probably the first. Others mentioned were Dr. and Mrs. Dickenson and Mr. Warren Sturgess, the first Ringing Master at Groton, and finally Captain Marybelle Nissly, of the American Air Force, who returned to America this year after learning to ring with the Ely Diocesan Association, and also the four boys associated with Groton.

CHRIS M. GODFREY.

A 10 MINUTE STORM

After some refreshments the peal band packed and were photographed. Then came the farewells to Groton and Mr. Russell Young, and another master motored us to Boston Airport. We were in good time, and after the preliminaries of luggage being weighed were settled, we went off in groups for a light meal. The journey home was by Pan American and after being airborne about an hour we encountered a storm. In consequence the captain postponed the serving of dinner for about 10 minutes, and by that time normal travel conditions prevailed. Few of the party really slept that night—thoughts were very much on home and when we heard the captain announce we were travelling over Ireland there was happy relief. A light breakfast of cake and coffee was served and then below us were the twinkling lights of Bristol and later Swindon.

Promptly, according to schedule, we made a smooth landing at 7.10 a.m. All of the 27 landings that most of the party made were smooth (Len Stilwell, Mark Damerell and Pat Cannon made 29 as they had a second journey to Adelaide). The passage through the customs was expeditious. Our leader was welcomed by Mrs. Lock, his son and Miss Ruth Foreman, Mrs. Cannon was waiting for Pat, Mrs. Damerell for Mark and the Editor and Mrs. White were escorted back to Guildford by their son, Mark. Throughout the tour a fine spirit of comradeship prevailed and a reunion in February is now eagerly awaited.

GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL

Six months having elapsed since the consecration of Guildford Cathedral bells, a meeting was held on November 19th to appoint the officers of the Cathedral Society and to discuss ringing arrangements for the future. The Dean (Bishop George Clarkson) graced the meeting with his presence and the chair was taken by the Guild Master, Mr. D. A. R. May.

It was decided to request the Ringing Masters of the four Diocesan Guild Districts to be responsible for organising the ringing for one Sunday each month. This and the help of visiting ringers should guarantee good service ringing. On the question of a resident band for the Cathedral the Dean said he would prefer to have a Cathedral band but he realised that the training of one would be a lengthy process. To this he agreed to ask for recruits to learn to ring and the Society promised to teach them. Some felt that the bells should always be rung by Diocesan ringers. The Dean assured the meeting that all ringers would always be welcome even if a resident band could be formed.

Practices at the Cathedral will continue to be held on Fridays, their frequency depending on the support forthcoming. The Dean generously offered 12 extra practices a year, these to be arranged in consultation with the Dean and Chapter. The Dean volunteered the information that his telephone ear was rapidly becoming deaf so ringers need not fear that complaints would silence the bells.

As soon as the boxes of books are removed from the ringing chamber a thorough cleaning will be undertaken with the aid of an electric polisher which the Dean authorised. In addition, electric heaters are to be purchased.

Cathedral Society officers were elected as follows:—

WRATTEN'S WRINGERS' WEEK-END, 1965

WRATTEN'S WRINGERS' annual peal week based on Cheltenham has now become a regular event and so has the reunion week-end in the autumn, but its location varies from year to year. A new member, Ted Venn, was deputed to arrange this year's week-end in Oxfordshire from November 12th to 14th.

This year various members were unable to attend for reasons ranging from monetary through mechanical to matrimonial. Those who were able to come enjoyed (?) the first really cold snap of the winter; the writer accordingly noted with relief that his advancing years and evident fragility entitled him to the hotel's only hot-water bottle.

Proceedings started on Friday evening at St. Ebbe's Oxford where we found ourselves forced to ring 8-Spliced as Ted Venn hadn't looked up anything else to call. John Hunt managed to keep the 4½ cwt. tenor up for the 2 hours 24 (or was it 25?) minutes. Ted needed to get through all the bobs and changes of method he had learned, most of which he called in the right place.

At Churchill on the following morning we found George Thoday waiting for us, having driven from East Anglia in time to arrive half an hour early at the church. Belgrave was the method here and, apart from an occasional extra dodge from someone trying to splice Yorkshire in to the composition, this presented little difficulty on the easy-going and tuneful eight.

After a quick drink and a meal it seemed appropriate on the eve of Remembrance Sunday that we should visit Sir Winston Churchill's last resting place at Bladon. And so the three cars drew up by this small country church on its little rise above the busy road, with the older houses of the village clustering close around, and with its view from the foot of the tower across the fields and through the trees to Bleinheim Palace. We stood for a moment in silence by the simple grave before retracing our steps to the cars and passing on our way.

The tower for the afternoon's peal, Great Milton, was approached with some trepidation, as nobody seemed to expect an easy task here. Cambridge had been chosen for safety, so Ted elected to call it, and Victor Griffin was placed on the tenor. The result was a surprisingly fast peal, on bells that proved to be both sonorous and ill-struck. Mr. Allen, who had met us and had rung his first peal at Great Milton as long ago as 1902, was delighted at our success—which was, incidentally, the 50th peal by the Wringers.

Service ringing on Sunday morning was at Oxford Cathedral—where a complete set of new ropes was a little disconcerting—and at various other city towers. We were unlucky in our efforts to get a ring at St. Mary-the-Virgin's and at Merton College after lunch. At the former a half peal was in progress, and at the latter the belfry key was unaccountably missing.

We were no luckier with an attempt for a peal of Surprise Minor on the half-muffled bells at Northleigh—the conductor missed a bob just before halfway and thereby gained the doubtful fame of being the first to lose a Wreunion peal. As we had promised to ring for Evensong, he was given an opportunity of redeeming himself by calling a "peal" of call changes. The closed hand-stroke leads for "Sixty on Thirds" proved tricky, as did an extent of Bastow Little Court that followed. We finished with ringing perhaps more suitable for Remembrance Day—whole-pull Bob Doubles and a six-score of Stedman, George Cousins adding a touch of finesse to the former by ensuring that a clip at handstroke was "echoed" by a clip at back.

And so into the cold to make our various ways home, with another week-end behind us and the prospect of the 1966 week ahead. Our thanks go to Ted for making the arrangements so well (we might even let him do it again sometime), to Peter Heritage for standing in the Saturday peals to fill a sudden vacancy, and above all to the various incumbents and Ringing Masters who allowed us to use their bells.

ANDOVER DISTRICT STRIKING CONTEST

The annual contest of the Andover District for the Aird Cup was held on the six bells of Barton Stacey on November 20th and despite a very wet day teams from four towers competed.

The draw for first place was made by Kingsclere "B," next came Andover, who were followed by the much favoured Kingsclere "A." The holders of the cup for four years, Burghclere, were next in line, and it seemed that luck was not with them, as they had to make a second start. The last team to compete was Longparish, who also had some trouble when one member of the team failed to arrive. After a hasty conference of team captains it was agreed that Longparish could borrow a ringer to complete their team. This was duly done and brought the contest to a close. The judge, Mr. R. F. Crook, Ringing Master of the Andover District, announced the results, and the Longparish team were delighted to hear that they were the new holders of the Aird Cup. The judge's comments on the winning team were: "A very good performance, with only 18 faults." In second place came Kingsclere "A" with 24 faults, then came Andover (42), Burghclere (43), Kingsclere "B" (48).

General ringing followed under the direction of Mr P. Murduck and the afternoon ended with a service conducted by the Rector. After tea in the Village Hall Mr. Crook commented on the contest and said that the standard of ringing had been very high, and he hoped that more towers in the area would enter next year. The Rector then presented the cup to the Longparish captain, Mr. F. Tonge. The pleasures of the contest were completed when Mr. Tonge filled the cup with a "celebration beverage" and passed it round.

GUILD OF MEDICAL RINGERS

The tenth annual meeting of the Guild took place in London on November 20th. The extreme misery of the weather did not prevent a good attendance—though it could always be better—and some of the ringing was amongst the best the Guild has enjoyed. We began on the six of St. Vedast's, Foster Lane, where most things went well except a touch in Spliced Plain Minor methods.

St. Giles', Cripplegate, now almost hedged in by large new buildings and contractors' hoardings, is difficult to find. The hour spent here went quickly and, in the main, melodiously, and we left only because we were due to appear at St. Mary-le-Bow. We were met here by several members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, to whom we were and are most grateful, for the 12 are not amongst the most easy for the uninitiated. Ringing here included a course of Grandsire Caters by doctors only—or almost—the Master's daughter kindly obliging on the treble.

The annual general meeting in the evening was preceded by an excellent meal at the George in the Borough, to which 25 sat down. At the meeting the secretary was able to report a good and active year, and from the variety of suggestions for the future it would appear that 1965-66 will be just as interesting. With the election of two new associate members the full strength of the Guild is now 66. It could, of course, be greater, for not only are there other ringing doctors and medical students, but no doubt nurses and others working in the medical field as well.

The officers were returned unopposed, viz. C. G. Roworth, president; D. J. Neal Smith, Master; and D. R. Gullick, secretary. However, broad hints were dropped about a change next year.

After the customary vote of thanks, proceedings closed with the emergence of handbells. These were still going when I left for home—and very well, too.

D. L. G.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Newark District

Despite the wintry conditions there was a good attendance for the meeting of the Newark District at North Muskham on November 20th.

A shortened Evensong was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. H. Snow, at which he said how pleased he was to welcome the Guild officially, and to see so many.

A blazing fire and the customary buffet spread soon warmed everyone up in the Newcastle Arms, and the business meeting, though short, was very lively.

Mr. J. W. Raitby, the Guild treasurer, said that £50 had been donated towards the cost of rehanging the five bells at Coddington, and the rededication service of these and the dedication of the new treble had taken place the previous Monday. Several ringers had been present.

The meeting was closed after a comprehensive vote of thanks, and further ringing took place until 8 o'clock.

Ashford District

About 70 people were present for the service and tea at the meeting of the Ashford District, held jointly with the Kent Branch of the Ladies' Guild at Charing on November 20th.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev P. T. Robbins. Mr. D. Maskell was the organist and the choir was in attendance. The Vicar prefaced his address by saying that Charing was one of the 15 founder towers of the Kent County Association, and that this was the first meeting of the Ashford District there since it had been reunited with that District, to which it belonged many years ago.

An excellent tea was enjoyed in the neighbouring Church Hall and was kindly given by the Charing ringers and friends. At the short business meeting which followed, the chairman, Mr. J. Willis, welcomed the Ladies' Guild and the many distinguished visitors. Mrs. Mitchell responded. Five new members were elected to the Association.

During tea, a sinister-looking parcel, addressed to Mrs. D. A. Chapman, was smuggled in from Bethersden, containing what, at first sight, looked like a hand grenade, but on closer inspection turned out to be a small Christmas pudding from Wilfred W. Ring, in appreciation of her efforts in "The Ringing World," page 760.

On behalf of the visitors a vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Lyn Garraway to all those who had contributed to making the meeting such an enjoyable one. After a course of Bob Royal on the handbells the gentlemen adjourned to the tower, and later to Little Chart, where the bells were also kindly made available, leaving the ladies to hold their own meeting. But none of them could be persuaded to divulge what sanctions they proposed to apply against the treasonable, illegal, independent declarations of those Bethersden cads! C.T.H.

JOINT MEETING AT ENFIELD

An excellent time with good ringing was enjoyed by the N. and E. District members of the Middlesex County Association and the S.W. District of the Essex Association at St. Andrew's, Enfield, on November 20th.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Christopher Lamb with Mr. Eric Pask accompanying at the organ. This was followed by tea in the Church Hall and was of the usual high standard when members of the local band are responsible for its preparation.

Mr. H. G. Hart welcomed the Essex Association, and Mr. C. Willington, Master of the S.W. Essex District, suitably replied and noted that visitors were present from Yorkshire and Lincolnshire.

Mr. J. D. Duggan, a stalwart of the St. Andrew's band, is shortly leaving the district for St. Albans, and the chairman wished him every success in his new sphere in Hertfordshire.

The bells of Christ Church, Southgate, were put to good use for an hour in the afternoon. E.H.K.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

When the North West Branch held its annual general meeting at Westleigh on November 13th the Ringing Master, Mr. C. Sangwin, arranged a variety of ringing extending from call changes to Cambridge Minor. The Vicar, the Rev. J. Shepherd-Wilwyn, conducted the service, at which the Guild president, Preb. J. H. B. Andrews, preached.

The business meeting followed tea in the Church Hall. All the officers were re-elected and nine new members admitted. Next year's meetings are at Chittlehampton, July 30th, and the annual meeting at Bridgerule on November 12th. Thanks were expressed especially to ringing friends from Plymouth, Launceston and the president from Chittlehampton.

The evening's ringing was on the eight at Bidford.

MR. ARTHUR J. YORK

The death occurred suddenly of Mr. Arthur J. York on Monday, November 22nd, at the age of 87. He had been a ringer at Holy Trinity Church, Rothwell, Northamptonshire, since 1896, and although he only rang three peals during his long connection with the tower, his greatest contribution to the art of bellringing was his regular Sunday service ringing over this period of 70 years, and by this he will be most remembered. He leaves a widow and son.

A peal attempt failed after an hour's good ringing but a well-struck half-muffled quarter peal of his favourite method, Grandsire Triples, was rung on November 27th by the following ringers: Miss J. Clipstone 1, G. Wright 2, Mrs. M. Coleman 3, John Mitchell 4, B. Austin 5, James Mitchell 6, M. A. Coleman (conductor) 7, E. Storey 8.

May he rest in peace.

B. A.

MR. PETER DAVIS

With great regret we record the passing of Peter Davis, of St. Peter's Church, Croydon, on November 24th. Although his health had not been good for 12 months and actual ringing at times proved too much for him, he kept up his connections and continued to do all he could for St. Peter's tower, of which he was the leader.

He learned to ring at West Wickham, Kent, and came to Croydon in 1947, when he joined St. Peter's Church. Peter was not a prolific peal ringer and did not make a study of the higher methods. He enjoyed more the social side and a quarter peal occasionally for Sunday service. He was one of the stalwarts on whom the Exercise largely depends, regular and punctual for Sunday service ringing, regular at practices and always willing to help and teach learners, with whom he showed remarkable patience. For a period he served the Surrey Association as assistant general secretary.

At the funeral service on November 29th the Association was represented by ringers from his own tower and the neighbouring tower of St. John's who, together, later in the day, rang a half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Caters to his memory.

Peter will be a sad loss to St. Peter's tower and will be greatly missed in the District.

F.E.C.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Southern District

The November quarterly meeting was held at Thorne (8, 14½ cwt.) on November 20th. Ringing from call changes to a course of Superlative preceded the excellent tea taken in the Church Hall.

At the business meeting mention was made of the Yorkshire Council of Ringing Societies' Festival, which is being held on May 21st, the District's usual date for their annual general meeting. It was resolved that members of the District who did not possess one of the old membership certificates could have one if they asked the secretary before the next meeting, which is to be held, all being well, at Ecclesfield on February 19th.

Further ringing took place and it was good to see the young members of the local band present. M.K.

NEW DOUBLES VARIATIONS

Dear Sir,—The Doubles variation employing a Reverse St. Bartholomew plain course and a Shipway's P.L. as a bob, which Mr. G. Dawson used in his peal on November 4th at South Collingham and called "X" has been named previously. It was rung in a peal at Blackwell (page 299) and given the name "Kirkby Doubles." In fact the explanation of variations rung in that peal was printed directly beneath a similar set of Mr. Dawson's own explanations.

Could we please, sometime, have explanations of the numerous names of variations which have appeared over the past year which were not in the collection printed through the summer of 1964?—Yours sincerely,
Manchester, E. A. HARRISON.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. William Dixon, Ringing Master at St. Oswald's, Guiseley, and a ringer there for over 55 years, has now "circled the tower."

Some good work in Spliced Minor is being done by the Essex Association. A peal in 100 methods was rung at Stisted on November 26th.

Mr. George Vickers, the tireless secretary of the Southern Branch of the Lincoln Guild, has been laid low by pneumonia. His friends send all best wishes and hopes for a speedy recovery.

From the "Irish Bell News" we learn that Fred E. Dukes met with an accident to his crippled ankle and was on two sticks for some weeks. We all trust that Fred has now fully recovered.

Dr. P. J. Perry, of Henderson Hall, Newcastle upon Tyne, is joining the Department of Geography, University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand, in January. We feel certain he will receive a warm welcome from the Cathedral ringers.

Mr. K. R. Holton writes that the claim for the first quarter peal of Doubles at Upper Boddington, Northants (page 809) is incorrect. The first quarter on the bells was rung on September 12th, 1953, by C. L. Catlin 1, M. Angela Carter 2, K. R. Holton 3, M. J. V. Chown (conductor) 4, H. S. Cloke 5.

EXCLUDED FROM HERTFORD COUNTY RECORDS

Dear Sir,—The peal of Stedman Caters rung at St. Peter's, St. Albans, on Saturday, May 15th, 1965, has not been included in the records of the Hertford County Association, since the belfry election of non-resident life members did not conform with Rule 4 of the Association.—Yours sincerely,

CHRISTMAS BELLS

For 25 minutes, immediately after the 9 a.m. News on Christmas morning the Home Service will be broadcasting seven rings of bells from various parts of Britain followed by the bells of the Church of the Nativity, Bethlehem.

The bells are being recorded by B.B.C. Outside Broadcast engineers and arranged into a complete programme to be introduced by Ronald Fletcher of the B.B.C.'s announcing staff.

The bells selected are:—

St. Paul's, Bedford.
St. James', Paisley.
St. Gwendoline's, Talgarth, Brecknockshire.
St. Nicholas', Carrickfergus, Co. Antrim.
St. Calixtus', West Down, Devon.
St. John's, Cleator Moor, Westmorland.
St. Nicholas', Great Yarmouth.
Church of the Nativity, Bethlehem.

RINGERS AS QUEEN'S GUIDES

When, on November 26th, Alison Brown was presented with her Queen's Guide badge, she became the fourth member of the Stoke Bishop (Bristol) band to gain this high and rare distinction in the past four years. The others are Susan Carter, Valerie Vincent and Gillian Thomas. Valerie's elder sister, Jonthia, also came close to receiving the award but passed the age limit just too soon. These girls are, in fact, the only ones of their company to gain the distinction, so the moral seems to be: "If you want to be a Queen's Guide, become a bellringer." P. G.

YOUTH AND AGE

The quarter peal of Grandsire Triples rung at St. Peter's, Petersfield, on November 20th, was to honour the 80th birthday of Mr. N. H. Bassett, who has been a member of the tower for some 40 years, during many of which he has been steeplekeeper. Five members of the Guild of St. Peter's took part and the quarter peal was conducted by his son.

The treble ringer, Ronald Tipper, son of St. Peter's tower captain, rang this his first quarter of Triples at the first attempt and made a good job of it. The lad is 13 years old and previously had rung only two quarter peals, both of Doubles.

PEAL MILESTONES

Mr. George E. Fearn, the popular secretary of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, has been passing milestones recently with his 200th peal of Maximus and 300th of Royal. His 300th peal of Royal was the 300th peal for Michael J. Fellows. Details:

Maximus.—Cambridge 121, Yorkshire 33, Londinium 6, Pudsey 6, Superlative 8, Lindsey 3, Lincolnshire 3, Prittlewell 3, Belgrave 2, Solihull 2, Albanian 2, Kent T.B. 2, Plain Bob 2, one each of Spliced—two methods, nine methods, 12 methods—Birmingham, Pontefract, Lyddington and Lambeth. Total 200.

Royal.—Cambridge 140, Yorkshire 76, London (No. 3) 30, Pudsey 9, Lincolnshire 6, Solihull 4, Sliced (two methods) 3, Spliced (three methods) 2, Oakham 2, Prittlewell 2, one each of Rochester, Selby, Pontefract, Langley, Staffordshire, Harborne, Warwickshire, York, Birmingham, Painswick, Aldenham, Lindsey, Albanian, Rutland, Belgrave, Saltley Delight, Kent T.B., Little Bob and Plain Bob 8. Total 300.

RINGING FOR DIAMOND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hughes, of 19, Evesham Road, Norton, Evesham, Worcestershire, celebrated their diamond wedding recently. Now 81 years of age, Mr. Hughes has been ringing at St. Egwin's, Norton, for 65 years and is the tower captain. The occasion was marked by ringing by his own band and the following day a peal was rung at Norton by members of the Worcestershire and Districts Association to mark the happy event.

READING UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

On November 24th a minibus and two cars transported members and friends of the Society to local Berkshire towers for an enjoyable half-day outing.

Pangbourne, Bradfield and Midgham were visited before tea, and after an excellent meal provided by the Master's mother in Thatcham Church Hall the party moved on to Shaw. To conclude the evening they joined the Thatcham band for their weekly practice, and this proved most enjoyable.

Ringing ranged from rounds for learners, and Cambridge Minor to Plain Bob Major, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples at Thatcham. M. A. W.

A QUOTE FROM BELLS

A ringer has kindly pointed out the appropriate reference to bells in the notes of the Bible Reading Fellowship for the last week of November in illustrating the struggle against evil. The reference goes:—

"If you have ever been in a belfry when the bells are being rung you will know that in that confined space the sound of the bells is too much for your ears, and you only hear noise. Similarly, in this life we are so near to conflict that we see only the struggle; in the spiritual sphere, which we call heaven, the music is heard and the conflict is seen in its triumphant sense."

PEAL BOARD MEMORIAL TO CANON WILKINSON

During a bellringers' service at St. Giles', West Bridgford, Nottingham, on November 21st, a peal board was dedicated in memory of Canon R. F. Wilkinson.

The peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on March 4th, 1961, to mark the retirement of the Canon from the chairmanship of the Southwell Diocesan Guild and on his retirement as Rector of the parish. Five of the original eight ringers were able to attend—William Midwinter, William Exton, Harold Stevenson, Brian Mills and Wilf Ratcliffe, who is tower captain and steeplekeeper at St. Giles'.

The lessons were read by Mr. Midwinter, chairman of the Guild, and Mr. Else, who is a ringer at West Bridgford. The peal board was dedicated by the Rev. A. B. Jordan, a lifelong friend of the Canon and vice-chairman of ringers. The sermon by the Rector, Rev. F. E. Worwood, outlined the history of the bells, whose rehanging and augmentation to eight was the work of the Canon. He also thanked Wilf Ratcliffe for all his hard work.

Several other ringing friends, Sid Adams and Roy and Jane Blackler, joined in the Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Bob Major which were rung before and after the service. P. M.

DANEHILL "ANNUAL"

Ringers came from all parts of Sussex and beyond for the fourth annual ringers' service at All Saints' Church, Danehill. The Vicar, the Rev. I. Paton Horter, conducted the service, the lessons being read by Mr. R. V. Johnson, Master of the Sussex County Association and Miss Peggy Butcher of the Danehill ringers. Handbells were twice introduced into the service. A course of Bob Major was rung by Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dobbie, and Grandsire Caters by a band of resident Sussex ringers.

Local ringers afterwards served refreshments in the Memorial Hall to about 80 guests and good use was made of the handbells. The Master thanked those responsible for the excellent arrangements. The co-operation of Mrs. Hairs, the Northern District secretary, in making these services a memorable date in the ringing calendar is much appreciated.

SUCCESSFUL COURSE AT WOLVERHAMPTON

About 50 ringers from as far afield as Enville and Kingswinford met at Wolverhampton on November 8th for the second course of instruction organised by P. G. K. Davies and M. W. Fairey. The main idea of the course was to instruct tower captains and instructors in the correct way to handle and teach learners. Many of the ringers were learners and beginners, and so the course was especially helpful to them. The response was excellent and the general opinion is that the course has fulfilled its object, as well as meeting the need for a course of this type. The next stage in the instruction programme is a course on elementary change ringing at Wednesbury on December 8th, to be repeated at Willenhall on December 13th.

GOFTON PEAL

Mr. John Anderson informs us that the ringer of 3-4 in the peal of Stedman Cinques (see page 794) was Joseph A. Gofton, and not as printed.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

Congratulations tinged with regret were extended at the annual meeting of the Marlborough Branch at Marlborough to Mr. R. A. Inglis, of Marlborough College, who is going to Cambridge University very shortly. He has been a tower of strength to the Branch, said Mr. A. Palmer (the hon. secretary) in his annual report. During the year ten meetings and the annual outing had been held.

The Rev. Roger Keeley, Ringing Master, reported that six peals and ten quarters had been rung—a considerable advance over previous years. With a good proportion of young people in the Branch he looked forward to a successful future. Ten new members from Aldbourne, Marlborough and Chisledon were elected. The chairman (Mr. G. Newman), the hon. secretary and the Ringing Master were re-elected. Mr. Fred Read, of Aldbourne, was elected vice-chairman in place of Mr. Lee, and the Rev. R. Keeley to the Guild Committee following the resignation of Capt. J. D. Mansfield-Robinson.

The chairman thanked the Rector for his address, and all who had helped in the arrangements, especially the tea hostesses. Ringing continued at St. Mary's until 8 p.m.

HISTORY OF A KENT TOWER

A very readable short history of the bells of Cranbrook Church, Kent, has been prepared by M. A. Legg and is being sold by John Hilton, of Haulow, Tonbridge, for 1s 10d. (See advertisement on Notices page.) The records of these bells go back to between 1525 and 1530 and there is a connection of 350 years with Whitechapel Foundry.

At times the ringers were at loggerheads with the Vestry. In 1746 the steeple needed repairing and the Vestry, through lack of funds, postponed the work for a year and ordered the bells not to be rung. It appears that the Vestry was defied, as the churchwardens' account shows that 1s. was paid for a warrant for the ringers and 5s. for a journey to Maidstone with the ringers. By some means a compromise was reached, for another item that year in the accounts reads "gave the ringers for not ringing 5s."

The work of Cranbrook ringers is appreciated. Daniel Leane, a farmer, who died on January 24th, 1935, left £100 to be invested and the interest to be used for the payment for an annual dinner for the bell-ringers of St. Dunstan's Church, Cranbrook. Owing to inflation, an annual dinner is no longer possible but the author records that the event is held when the interest is adequate and the one he attended proved to be a most enjoyable occasion.

OUTING

TWERTON-ON-AVON

On November 6th the Twerton-on-Avon ringers, joined by friends from Batheaston, Bath and Warmley, had the pleasure of a day's outing in glorious weather, ringing in famous towers and some not so well known.

West Camel set us off to a good start, the five being very pleasant to ring and to listen to outside, but very noisy inside. On to the famous 37 cwt. six at Queen Camel; nine took part in the grand rise in peal and all the bells went up right stroke. Some slow Minor, including Cambridge, was really enjoyed.

Trent is situated in North Dorset but comes under the Bath and Wells Association and the bells were augmented to six in 1953 for the Coronation by J. Taylor; the back five are still on plain bearings but although a trifle noisy are really worth a visit.

We have always wanted to ring at Sherborne Abbey, as our oldest ringer at Twerton (Edmund King) learned to ring here in 1901. The local band, who had been ringing for a wedding, joined in some Triples. We followed this up with some Bob Major and a course of Cambridge Minor on the back six rung at about the "five-hours-for-a-peal pace."

We found the tall tower of Corton-Denham with the aid of the moon, and after a search for the "key-owner" found boards with call changes written on them on the floor in front of each bell. The five are a little off-key but are very easy to ring.

The last tower was North Cheriton, where Preb. Skipwith had kindly left the lights of the church and churchyard on. The first ground-floor ring—five bells that go very well.

Ringing for the day ended with an excellent fall—the average age of the band being 14 years.

CHRISTMAS

How silently, how silently,
The wondrous gift is given!
So God imparts to human hearts
The blessings of His heaven.
No ear may hear His coming
But in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him, still
The dear Christ enters in.

THESE familiar words from the Christmas hymn sum up one of the truths about God's coming into our world—that, when He comes, He comes quietly, without any fuss and almost unnoticed. When Jesus was born, there was no great commotion; his birth took place in the stable of an inn, somewhere in "the little town of Bethlehem." A few shepherds came down from the hillside where they had been looking after their sheep. Beyond that, little notice was taken.

Later, Jesus grew up in the same quiet atmosphere: the carpenter's shop at Nazareth, the unknown thirty years of preparation for his ministry of teaching and preaching. When eventually, He comes on to the public stage, it is around the shores of Galilee—hardly the place to catch the public eye. Even then, so often He wanted to avoid publicity by withdrawing into the quietness of the countryside or by asking people whom He had healed not to talk about it too much. Jesus seemed to be afraid that people might follow Him for quite the wrong reasons, that they might want to belong to His "set" because He was someone to be reckoned with in the world. And even when He is crucified, it is not a very spectacular event; He hangs on a cross along with two others. His executioners numbered Him among the transgressors and this emphasised again the ordinariness of the situation. Even His death was not deserving of any special circumstances.

Thinking about Our Lord's life and teaching, we can see that so much of it was concerned with the homely and the ordinary, with the same kind of situations that we have to face. His home at Nazareth and the devotion of His mother speak to us of family life. His friendship with the twelve disciples reveals the same kind of joys and sorrows that we experience in friendship—companionship, enjoying meals together, being let down, misunderstandings, forgiving and being forgiven. On his journeys, He met so many people on this same ordinary level—the sick who wanted to be healed, the anxious and worried who needed the assurance of love; the hungry who simply required a meal before they set out for home; thousands of people who came to listen to the stories taken from the ordinary life which they knew. In all His dealings with people, Jesus was meeting them at their level.

Surely, this is what Christmas is about—God getting down to our level, to the lives of people, to lives which are ordinary, very much routine, sometimes dull and monotonous, but always full of situations in which we can know the love of God. It is a great temptation for us to think that God comes into the world with a great "bang" and that, therefore, He's not going to use us and our little lives because we are so insignificant. We might be tempted to compare ourselves with people who have a bit of influence and authority and come to the conclusion that God is much more likely to use them rather than us. If we give way to that temptation, we miss the meaning of Christmas—that, because God comes to share human life we must expect to find Him entering in at every point where we are ready to receive Him. This seems to be the meaning of something Jesus said to His disciples when He was talking to them about His second coming. "When I was hungry, you gave Me food: when thirsty you gave Me drink: when I was a stranger you took Me into your home: when naked you clothed Me: when I was ill you came to My help: when in prison you visited Me... anything you did for one of My brothers here, however humble, you did for Me." In other words our concern for other people involves us in a meeting with Jesus: He comes to share in our friendships: He knows our anxieties and sufferings: He sees our need to forgive and be forgiven. When we give or receive love, we are treading in His footsteps. It is into this ordinary world, the world in which we live, that Jesus comes at Christmas: and not only then, but whenever we shall receive Him.

O holy Child of Bethlehem,
Descend to us, we pray:
Cast out our sin, and enter in,
Be born in us today.
We hear the Christmas Angels
The great glad tidings tell:
O come to us, abide with us,
Our Lord Emmanuel.

Miss Angela Grainger Married at Brighton

THE ringing world is a small one, and it became a little more close-knit on November 20th with the wedding of Angela Grainger and Peter Newing, both of whom have many ringing friends throughout the country.

Angela began ringing at home in Woburn, Bedfordshire, and continued while at Bristol University and at the Sussex Royal County Hospital, Brighton, as a medical physicist. Peter comes from Littlebourne, near Canterbury, and is well known by ringers from Kent to Durham, where he did his degree and theological training. He was ordained in Gloucester Cathedral in September, and is now curate at Blockley, near Moreton-in-the-Marsh in the Cotswolds.

The marriage service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon J. N. Keeling, at St. Peter's Parish Church, Brighton, and Holy Communion was celebrated by the Rev. R. O. Osborne, former Vicar of Woburn. The bride was given away by her brother, the Rev. Bruce Grainger, and attended by two small bridesmaids, Jane and Amanda Sefton-Ullmer. The best man was John Baldwin, a ringing colleague of the bridegroom in Kent and of the bride in Bristol and Brighton. The bride wore a long dress of nylon organza and carried red roses, and the bridesmaids wore short dresses of red velvet with swansdown headbands and carried posies of white flowers.

A quarter peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at St. Peter's immediately before the service, and a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung there in the evening.

WATFORD DISTRICT OUTING

On a recent foggy Saturday morning a coach load of ringers (including a record number of learners) and friends headed west for a day out. Driver Don Bartholomew coped well with the conditions and was eventually rewarded by the sun's appearance.

After coffee in Marlborough we continued to Bradford-on-Avon. We liked the 30 cwt. eight here and if our ringing resembled the curate's egg, at least the good parts were good, including a half-course of Cambridge. Regrettably, there was no time for more as a bride was at the church door. Lunch at the Green Tree Cafe was first class, after which a quick look at what we could see of this fascinating stone town.

Melksham's pleasant eight sounded well to Grandsire, Stedman and Yorkshire, and for the second time we rang a bride to church. We were pleased to meet the Melksham ringers, assembling to ring her away. At Urchfont in the quiet downlands we enjoyed ringing and listening to the unusual and, we thought, rather majestic 21 cwt. eight. (For the writer, this place stole the show!) Upavon's really grand six went well to everything we tried, and tea prepared by the local ringers in the Village Hall was greatly enjoyed. Despite a broken stay (which just "came off" in someone's hand!) some of the best ringing of the day was on the excellent eight at our last tower, Thatcham. A most successful outing made possible by Geoff Seaman's able organisation, the people who met us and fed us, good bells, good weather and a timetable that really worked. Many thanks to all concerned. R. G. B.

RECORD ATTEMPT FOR YORKSHIRE SURPRISE MAJOR

Dear Sir—I wish to give notice that, by kind permission of the incumbent and local ringers at Accrington, an attempt will be made to ring 17,248 Yorkshire Surprise Major on Saturday, December 18th. Ringing will be conducted by Neil Bennett and will commence at 8 a.m.

The following ringers will take part: Neil Bennett, Jeffrey Brannan, John H. Fielden, Basil Jones, Alan McFall, Robert B. Smith, Giles B. Thompson, Brian J. Woodruffe.

The composition is by Richard J. Parker and is appended.—Yours sincerely,

ROBERT B. SMITH.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Mansfield District

The Mansfield District meeting, held at Kirkby-in-Ashfield on November 27th, was a "great little meeting" well supported by our "regulars." The Kirkby ringers were excellent hosts and the young ladies were congratulated on preparing a most enjoyable tea in spite of the bakery strike.

During the business meeting a moment's silence was observed in respect to the late Vicar, the Rev D. A. G. Brinn, also to Mr. R. Lucas, of Warsop. K. Hill, R. Braddow and Miss J. Wood, of Kirkby, were elected ringing members.

The fine bells were used extensively in the interests of beginners at various stages, with rounds, "Original," Plain Bob and Grandsire, but a mysterious three-score of Double Grandsire and an extent of Stedman rounded off an extremely pleasant meeting.

Next meeting: Mansfield, District Annual, January 22nd. D. J. B.

The Great Adventure through Australian Eyes

"RINGING TOWERS" for November has a complete coverage of Great Adventure II compiled by Editor W. B. Pitcher from reports by Basil Potts (Perth), Helen Henderson (Melbourne), Warne Wilson (Ballarat), Bill Robinson (Bendigo), John Smith (Hobart), Ivan Page (Canberra/Yass), Tom Goodyer (Sydney), Nelson Sloan (Christchurch) and Athol Caldwell (Hamilton).

Commenting on the visit the Editor writes: "Apart from the speed of their passage, we in Australia and New Zealand surely have no regrets and we hope and believe that this applies also to the Great Adventurers of 1965. For a great adventure it was, and a notable event in the history of bellringing on this side of the world. We had 11 accomplished ringers, and the charming wives of two of them, in our midst for almost five weeks, and it was our good fortune that included in their number were several whose reputations as outstanding figures in the Exercise was well established. For them it was a brief and hectic journey to the other side of the world to gain first hand knowledge of Australian and New Zealand ringing, to ring in all ringable towers—and perhaps to score on some particular tenors or in some particular towers.

For us it was indeed a notable event; one which will always hold a special place in our memories. It was a great pleasure to have the party with us, to entertain them in some of our homes and, of course, to ring with them. Practice times in most places were all too brief, but it was highly instructive to see the way the Great Adventurers went about things, to see their attitude to ringing, the way they dealt with difficult bells and to learn from them some aspects of belfrymanship (not in the Rodney Meadows sense!). They were also ready to give us the benefit of their knowledge and experience and the amount of encouragement we received is incalculable.

Another difference between this and the previous tour is that today ringing in Australia and New Zealand is much more advanced than in 1934 and many of us were able to stand in with our visitors as equals to standard methods and beyond, with a resultant greater appreciation. There were few peals on eight bells or more that did not contain one Australian or New Zealand ringer in the band. Many of them, Jim Pipe in particular, were full of technical know-how, and one thing which quickly became evident was that our store of technical knowledge with regard to the bells themselves and their fittings is rather too slender. A direct result of this realisation is the commencement of a series of articles on steeplekeeping . . .

Of the friendships formed we need say little, except that if the strength of the ties can be measured by the amount of talk they will surely never be severed. This is as we hoped it would be. The fine spirit of fraternity prevailing between Australia and New Zealand towers now reaches much further afield and our interest in and understanding of matters pertaining to ringing and the spirit in which it is carried on in the Ringing Isles has been widened and deepened; and we think that the obverse is also true. The value of Great Adventure II to all who were associated with it cannot yet be estimated. The contacts made and the friendships formed will reach into the future. Ringing on this side of the world is at a stage where the visit has benefited us enormously and we shall not be surprised if some day we are able to look back and discern that certain worthwhile developments originated in the visit of 1965 of Tom Lock and his party on Great Adventure II.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD Bicester and District Branch

Ludgershall, Bucks, has now an excellent ring of five, with a fourth cast by Richard Keene in 1658, thanks to the work of Mr. F. White, of Appleton. Because of this the Bicester Branch held its first annual meeting at Ludgershall on November 27th and enjoyed the ringing. The stairs to this tower are only suitable for the very slim; in consequence recruits will be taught on Piddington bells.

The Rector, the Rev. D. Wheaton, conducted the Guild service, and the lesson was read by Mr. F. Sharpe, with Mrs. Burnell as organist. Officers elected were: President, Canon W. Henry Trebble; vice-presidents, Mr. F. Sharpe and the Rev. D. Wheaton; hon. secretary, Mr. C. H. Kinch, Mesdames East and Faulkner were thanked for providing a first-class ringers' tea.

"CHANGE RINGING"

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed a little space (this time) to thank publicly Mr. Wilfrid Moreton for his review of "Change Ringing"? He had very clearly spent much time and trouble and used his expert knowledge both of ringing and of teaching over the task and has, like any honest reviewer, not shirked criticism.

I know, of course, that much was omitted—had the book included all I would have wished, its price would have been ten guineas and it would not have been published. As it is, it is longer and more expensive than the original intention of the publishers.—Yours faithfully,

WILFRID G. WILSON.

London.

ROPEMAKER'S VIEW

Dear Sir,—Mr. Duke's letter in your issue of December 3rd sums up very well the causes of wear in bell ropes, particularly at the fillet hole, for which there appears to be no cure. The only point with which I cannot agree with him is with regard to four-strand ropes; the breaking strain is less than a three-strand of equivalent diameter—I quote from Messrs. Wright's ropes leaflet on ropes in general.

From my experience the average life of a bell rope is six to eight years, but a lot depends, of course, on the amount of use, how many pulleys or guides the ropes pass through, and the climatic conditions.

I recently had a repeat order from a customer who has had his previous set for 19 years, but this is exceptional.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN NICOLL.

Ferndown, Dorset.

AN ANSWER TO A "DISGRUNTLED" RINGER

Dear Sir,—I think one should always restrain from making any undue criticism, but when a person "leads with his or her chin" then he or she should fully expect it to be hit.

I refer to the letter written by W. Bottrill ("Ringing World," page 795). He will surely receive a barrage of "punches" from the Canterbury area of Kent.

Mr. Bottrill says of himself "... I hope not unduly aggressive."—I wonder!!! Mr. Bottrill also says of himself that he offered "... friendly advice."—I wonder!!! Mr. Bottrill was told that he could be refused "permission to ring."—I wonder why!!! Mr. Bottrill says that he received "a grossly insulting letter."—I wonder why!!! Mr. Bottrill also claimed that not once in four years "did any member of the congregation ever speak to me."—I wonder why!!!

From the above points one can only assume that Mr. Bottrill will have us believe that he was always right and everybody else wrong.

In this particular area of Wiltshire there is an abundance of keen youngsters eager to learn the ancient art of change ringing. Some grasp it far more quickly than others, nevertheless they are all treated as human beings and not as pieces of machinery.

The only conclusion one can draw from Mr. Bottrill's letter is that he should fully examine his own limitations as a person and human being, because at the moment they outnumber the limitations of the Canterbury and district ringers by about 20 to 1.—Yours faithfully,

J. A. ABBOTT.

Seend, Wilts.

"HELP YOURSELF, PLEASE"

Dear Sir,—It is not laziness or selfishness on the part of the resident members that results in the shortage of ringers. I have examined the four points made by Group Captain Read. My views are:

(a) No band; no ringing at all.

(b) Agreed.

(c) Learning to handle a rope and ring more or less in rounds is not relatively easy. That is why many learners leave us. Give all the encouragement and co-operation, and you cannot make them stay with you.

(d) Agreed.

We have a very young and keen captain in Mr. Robert Lindsell, of Braintree. In the last four years he has been at the tower at 7 p.m. on Mondays for practices. In all, about 25 or more have been to learn, but some left after a year when able to ring a course of Plain Bob Major; only two of our old company are left who are able to ring. Of all the learners, no boys have stayed, but we have five very good lady ringers, two of whom can ring Surprise when we get help. We have eight bells. If all learners had stayed we should have had three companies. It is all right to talk about giving a pupil a few rounds—where are the other older ones coming from to help them? We have lost in the last few years a Surprise band, including my eldest brother, L. W. Wiffen. Our captain, Mr. R. Lindsell, could well take an honest passionate look at the records of his pupils with, after months of hard work only a few left. It is up to individuals to help themselves. —

Yours truly, ALBERT WHIFFEN.
Braintree, Essex.

VICAR BEST RECRUITING AGENT

Dear Sir,—Group Captain Read's article in last week's "Ringing World" (page 813) has prompted me to write supporting his cause. In his questions as how to encourage ringers to start, I have discovered that the best advertising agent is the Vicar. At Merstham, the bells were rehung and augmented to eight and the ringing level was moved down to the ground floor.

We faced two problems. Firstly, how could we raise a band to ring eight bells when we often had difficulty to find enough to ring the six? The Vicar's answer was to announce at all his services for a month during the rehanging of the bells, that ringers were wanted. The second problem was, what would the congregation think of having the bellringers on the ground floor? Events have shown that this has met no opposition. In fact, while the ringing is in progress prior to services, an interested group of people gather round to watch.

Youngsters came forward to learn at an amazing rate, and the experienced core of half a dozen ringers had a great deal of hard work in teaching them. There are now over 20 ringers capable of ringing rounds and call changes, and others still waiting to learn. Progress is being made in method ringing but the lack of enough trained method ringers slows the pace of advancement a little. Our tower captain welcomes learners and experienced ringers alike.

The answer, therefore, to Group Captain Read's letter seems to be to ask the Vicar to canvass support for the bellringers: the response should soon be forthcoming and of the right material to found a strong and reliable band.—Yours sincerely,

COLIN H. COOK.

Merstham, Surrey.

A STEEPLEKEEPER EXPLAINS

Dear Sir,—With reference to your correspondent's letter in "The Ringing World" of November 19th, re the life of bell ropes, I certainly agree that with care and attention bell ropes should last at least ten years. When John Royd speaks about ropes requiring splicing after only one year then something certainly requires to be done.

I think I can speak with a bit of experience as I was towerkeeper at one church for 27 years and at another for over nine years—and this is my method for looking after the ropes. In all I had four new sets—and I always treated them with linseed oil and tallow. Warm the tallow and mix in with the linseed oil to make it workable. Then rub the mixture into the ropes—starting just above the sally, and continue right to the end of the rope—giving an extra bit of attention to the part which is continually running through the wheel hole—and also to the portion of the rope which is exposed to the weather. This mixture should be well rubbed in. I have found this to be most helpful in obtaining the longest possible life from the ropes.

Of course the ropes should be continually inspected for wear—and if, as John Royd says, wear is noticed in the first year, then it would appear that something is wrong with the pulley or the wheel hole, and these may require attention. When I have noticed any wearing of the ropes, I have usually obtained a small roll of "Cling Fast" tape from one of the sports outfitters' shops and wound about a 6in or 9in. length round the worn portion—and this has usually extended the life of the rope considerably.

Of course a lot depends upon the quality of the ropes, as this can affect the length of the rope's life—I have always believed in getting a good quality rope from a recognised ropemaker—the last set I had cost £43 for a set of ten.

However, I am sure if John Royd will try the method which I have always used, he will extend the life of his ropes very considerably.—Yours, etc.,

E. H. SIMPSON.

Shipley, Yorks.

A BRISTOL COMPOSITION WANTED

Dear Sir,—I should like to offer a word of congratulation to those members of the Central Council Methods Committee who have been instrumental in producing the "Collection of Surprise Methods." It is a very good and useful publication.

Whilst in print, I should like to ask if readers know of any two-part (or even one-part) compositions of Bristol with only 45 to 50 bobs (fourth's place) and other similar qualities to the following three-part:—

4.992 BRISTOL
By H. DAINS
23456	M	B	W H
32654	x	1	2
36524		1	2
36245	x		1

By calling the third course of any one part 2M 2W 1H, the number of changes is brought up to 5,120.

This composition has only 4, 5 and 6 in sixth's (except for having three there between M and B in the fourth course of each part). It uses the "M-B" piece of conjuring only three times in all; and it has over 100 C.R.U.s (102 to be exact).—Yours faithfully,

OBITUARY

MR. A. PADDON SMITH

Birmingham has lost an outstanding public servant and ringer by the death of Mr. Arthur Paddon Smith on December 7th, aged 84 years. He was Lord Mayor of Birmingham in 1950 and during his year of office rang a peal of Stedman Cinques "in hand" in the Mayor's Parlour. In his younger days he was secretary of the St. Martin's Guild for 20 years and a C.C. representative for 40 years.

The funeral service was at St. Mary's Church, Handsworth, on Saturday, Dec. 11th. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

MR. WILLIAM PHILLIPS

The news of the passing of Mr. William Phillips, for over 50 years a member of the Cathedral Church of St. Woolos, Newport, and for many years Deputy Master, will be received with deep regret by the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, with whom he was an active member and at one time auditor.

Mr. Phillips was a Devonian by birth—West Down—and often spoke highly of the ringers and their standard of ringing. Six of his nephews, who acted as bearers, had travelled from North Devon. Members of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association rang the bells half-muffled to touches of Grandsire Caters and Triples before and after the service, which was conducted by the Dean of Monmouth, the Very Rev. R. Ellis Evans.

Truly 50 years' service is to be admired and a fine example to others. Whilst not a prolific peal ringer, he rang many; he was devoted to Sunday service ringing and regular at practice. His example and record will always be remembered and respected by those who were privileged to make his acquaintance.

P. R. M.

MR. JOHN WALE

The untimely death on November 21st of Mr. John Wale, after a short illness in hospital came as a great shock to members of the Leicester District of the Leicester Diocesan Guild of Bellringers and ringers at Blaby Parish Church, where he was a greatly respected honorary member. He was 55.

Mr. Wale was known to the ringers of Blaby as a dynamic man who gave his whole self to what he knew to be right. Although never wishing to take credit for the restoration of the five bells at Blaby in 1961, Mr. Wale was a prime mover of the work, and it was through his untiring enthusiasm that a young, enthusiastic team of ringers now exists. He was a life member of the Leicester Diocesan Guild and for a short period a committee member of the Leicester District.

As superintendent of the Blaby Church Sunday School Mr. Wale had to curtail his ringing activities in order to give his attention to the rapidly expanding Sunday School. Nevertheless, whenever the ringers wanted any advice Mr. Wale was only too willing to help.

In his address at the funeral, on November 25th, the Rector (the Rev. J. R. H. Prophet) mentioned Mr. Wale's activities in the church and expressed grief at not having many more happy years of serving God, together with Mr. Wale.

MR. ALBERT E. SCOTT

The Southern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild has suffered a great loss in the death, on November 23rd, of Albert ("Tubby") Scott, of Morton, at the age of 72.

A native of Morton, Albert had been a ringer at the Parish Church for over 50 years. He had taken part in 163 peals. A close personal friend of the late Horace M. Day, he took part in many of the Spliced Surprise Minor peals which Horace conducted, including the then record peal of 32 methods in 1936.

When ringing recommenced after the war he continued taking part in peals of Spliced Surprise conducted by Horace Day and later by Cecil Wade, a peal in 29 methods being rung at Morton in 1955. He was particularly proud of his 100th peal—Cambridge Surprise Major at Edenhall in 1953, conducted by Philip A. Corby.

Of a quiet and modest disposition, Albert was known as a first-class striker and a notable six-bell tenor man. Until prevented by ill-health, he had regularly attended the Saturday evening practices held in the Bourne District and most of his ringing friends, together with many from Morton, attended his funeral at St John the Baptist Church on Saturday, November 27th, following which he was interred close to the tower.

After the burial Morton bells were rung half-muffled. Finally six friends with whom he had rung peals rang a quarter peal of Single Court and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

MR. W. V. WEBB

For over 60 years Mr. Walter Vincent Webb, better known as "Walt," served as a chorister, ringer and member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild in four parishes. He was ever constant at practice and at church for service and ringing.

Walt was born at Blewbury, Berkshire, in 1894 and it was here that he started his ringing career under the steady guidance of that other faithful servant of the Exercise, the late Fred James, assisted by Tom East, of East Hagbourne. In 1914 he enlisted in H.M. Forces and was soon overseas on active service as a sergeant in the 4th Battalion of the Royal Berkshire Regiment.

On his safe return from the war he continued in the choir and ringing until 1922. He then moved to East Hagbourne, where he married the sister of another well-known ringer, Jim Butler. At Hagbourne Walt served in the choir and tower for another ten years. His next move was to Wallingford, and he again joined the choir and ringers at the nearby village of Brightwell.

For the last 25 years Walt spent a happy life at Sutton Courtenay with his beloved wife and daughter and grandson. He continued to enjoy a full life in the choir, tower and garden up to last July, when ill-health took the upper hand and he was only able to ring once on the bells after they had been rededicated. After weeks of severe

REDEDICATION

ALL SAINTS', CODDINGTON

All Saints', Coddington, Notts, saw the culmination of a long dream when the bells were restored and rededicated by Bishop Mark Way on November 15th. Originally, five bells were housed in the squat stone tower but for many years these have been in poor condition and difficult to ring. Great credit is due to the local band who have rung the bells regularly despite the poor "go."

It was long felt that the old wooden frame should be replaced by a modern steel frame and the bells rehung with modern fittings with a new treble bell to complete the ring of six. An appeal was launched and within a comparatively short time from one source or another the whole of the money was raised and Bishop Mark Way had the pleasure of rededicating the bells in the knowledge that they were free of debt. The Barron Bell Trust generously gave the new treble, the Southwell Diocesan Guild contributed £50 from their Bell Restoration Fund and money in large and small amounts trickled in until the full amount had been raised.

After the dedication, Bishop Mark Way handed the ropes to the five local ringers, John Kirton, Derek Kirton, Derek Tysie, Miss Jean Moore and Mrs. Joyce Phillips, who, with Mrs. Beryl Reed, the local District secretary of the Southwell Guild, rang the first rounds on the bells. Later, visitors from the Southwell Guild rang various touches and all pronounced the "go" of the bells excellent.

With a tenor of approximately seven cwt., the Southwell Guild has a fine new ring of bells, very similar to the sister church at Barnby-in-the-Willows. Assistance is forthcoming and plans are in hand to help train the local band in the art of change ringing.

illness he died at his home on St. Andrew's Day, November 30th, at the age of 71.

The funeral took place at Sutton Parish Church on Thursday, December 2nd, when the Vicar paid a great tribute to Walt's wonderful love and devotion to his church and family.

Half-muffled tributes were rung in the evening on the bells at Blewbury, Hagbourne and Sutton Courtenay. We thank God for a life so full of love and devotion to his home and duty.

AROUND ERIN IN TWO MINIBUSES

MANCHESTER University Guild's summer tour was in the Republic of Ireland and most of the party met at Holyhead on Friday, August 27th. The rendezvous was the foot of Nelson's Pillar, Dublin, 12.30 on Saturday, and here assembled 17 people, 10 being members of the Guild. Transport was provided by two minibuses.

The afternoon was spent buying provisions for the week. The first ring was that evening at St. George's, Dublin, where we managed a passable course of Bristol before retiring to Dublin Youth Hostel for the night.

A tour of Dublin towers was arranged for Sunday, starting at St. Patrick's Cathedral and followed by the nerve-racking ring at St. John the Evangelist R.C. Church. Here we climbed the iron staircase to a great height, in full view of the congregation, to find at the top an anti-clockwise ring of 10 and another English party on their last day in Ireland. We had great difficulty in ringing anything well, and quickly adjourned for lunch. Christ Church Cathedral followed and here we fared only slightly better than at St. John's.

The party divided for the afternoon, some preferring the hospitality of Tony Vere Hodge, who showed us round Trinity College, to a swim in the sea at Bray. An uneventful night was spent at Knockree Youth Hostel except for John Pilkington, who found his blankets inhuman.

On Monday we drove over the Wicklow Mountains to ring on the seven at Bray—they would have been a nice ring of eight if the tenor clapper had not fallen out the previous week. The second ring of the day was Arklow. Unfortunately some of the party had to leave early to arrange accommodation at Arthurstown before ringing at Waterfield Cathedral. As it was, a number had to sleep on the floor at Arthurstown Youth Hostel owing to lack of beds.

PEAL ATTEMPTS LOST

Two peal attempts had been arranged for Tuesday—Yorkshire at Kilkenny and Minor at Doneraile, 60 miles further on. At Kilkenny, where the bells were barely audible outside, but could be heard inside, the attempt came to grief after 2 hours 35 minutes. No sound was coming from the church when this party arrived at Doneraile, but a note read: "The key is in the pub, the nearest." It was, in fact, the second pub, with a happy band of bellringers who had given up their peal attempt after three false starts. That night was spent in the palatial youth hostel at Cork, with hot water for those who were prepared to pay 1s. for the privilege.

The next morning we had a good ring at the Church of Ireland Cathedral, Cork. Because we lost our way we could only spend 20 minutes at Blarney Castle, where the ladies of the party kissed the Blarney Stone; the men declared they were not superstitious and refused. We rang after lunch on the nice six at Bandon. That night was spent at Killarney.

Different routes were taken on Thursday to Limerick, one via Kerry and the other more direct through Tralee. An hour was spent ringing at Mount St. Alphonsus before going to the Church of Ireland Cathedral, where we were locked in, but eventually found a key to a small door at the rear. The night was spent at Mountshannon, where all managed to get a roof for the night.

There was no ringing the next day. Lunch was at Galway, where the recently consecrated Cathedral was visited, and the night in Roscommon—some in accommodations, others in a minibus in a field, and Roger Shea in his own tent. It was raining most of the way to Drogheda on the Saturday. Here we met Mr. Fred Dukes, who had kindly arranged the towers for us, and many joined the Irish Association. Five-Spliced was rung in the tower and a 720 on handbells in the churchyard before returning to Dublin. The crossing to Holyhead was rather rough but we did try to cheer our fellow passengers by ringing handbells; they, alas, did not seem to appreciate our good intentions.

We are grateful to Roger Coley, who organised our end of the tour, and Mr. Dukes and all the Irish ringers who made us so welcome.

BELLS OF INDIA

Dear Sir,—It may be of interest to Mr. Claude Rush re "Bells of India and Pakistan" that the eight bells of Colaba, Bombay, were (while I was stationed at the nearby camp) in 1944 chimed for Sunday services.—Yours faithfully, Bridport, Dorset.

SHALFORD, SURREY.—On Dec. 1st, 1,260 Grand-sire Triples: Nancy Butler 1. Mary Davy 2. P. Saunders 3. W. Enticknap 4. F. W. Housden 5. A. Hunter 6. D. A. R. May (cond.) 7. A. Rooke 8. In memoriam Leslie Hunter, captain of this tower for 36 years.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSN. INCREASE SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association has a rule that its president may not hold that office for more than three years consecutively and so at the last annual general meeting in Darlington Mr. E. P. Rock retired and Mr. W. Tyson, of Consett, was elected as his successor.

Mr. Rock reviewed the last three years and spoke of a happy term of office in which he noted several good things. The courses of instruction at Lumley Castle had gone from strength to strength and the social side had been catered for by the Christmas parties and the revived cricket matches. There had been activity in bell restoration and more was in prospect. Shincliffe, with about 20 ringers for three bells, was a shining example to other towers.

Mr. Tyson's membership of the Association goes back almost 40 years and his father had been a member before him. He was greeted with enthusiasm and Mr. Tyson thanked those who had conferred the honour upon him.

Ringings took place at Heighington and the three towers in Darlington—St. Cuthbert's, St. John's and Holy Trinity. A service was held in St. Cuthbert's conducted by Canon Wansey, assisted by the incumbents of the other two churches.

The business meeting followed tea in St. Cuthbert's Hall. In the election of officers one new trustee and a new editorial secretary were elected in addition to the new president. Mr. N. I. Wright retired because of too many other commitments, and Mrs. Lee, better known until her recent marriage as Miss Elaine Murcott, was about to emigrate to Tasmania. Best wishes were expressed to Elaine and Frank for their future happiness. With the other officers re-elected, the list for 1965-66 is thus: President, W. Tyson; secretary, D. A. Bayles; treasurer, N. I. Wright; Ringing Master, K. Arthur; editorial secretary, K. W. Cheeseman; auditor, F. Ainsley; trustees, J. Anderson and T. Cooke.

Messrs. K. Arthur and D. A. Bayles were re-appointed as the Central Council representatives for the coming three years.

The peal report showed that 49 peals had been recorded during the year, 37 on tower bells and 12 "in hand." Morpeth was the most frequent tower of the 23 that had been used, and Michael Maughan was the leading individual ringer and conductor with totals of 32 and 19 respectively. Andrew Craddock, who rang in 29 peals had also conducted 11 out of the 12 "in hand." Among the 47 ringers involved there were 10 first-pealers. One peal was rung silent and non-conducted.

The Ringing Master and the secretary gave comprehensive reports on events throughout the year.

The treasurer presented the audited accounts. These showed that the overall balance had declined from £93 15s. 7d. to £75 3s. 4d. due mainly to the purchase of a new stock of badges, but the committee thought it desirable to increase income by raising the annual subscription from 4s. to 5s. and the non-resident subscription from 5s. to 7s. 6d. The first part had been passed at the previous meeting and the second part was given effect later that day.

Ten new ringing members and one clerical member were elected.

D. A. BAYLES,
Hon. Gen. Sec.

AFRAID OF LURKERS

Dear Sir,—May I beg a few lines as a call change service ringer for over 50 years. I have been to many District meetings and have heard good and bad, and I do think it would be far better if Wilfred W. Ring dropped into the tower ready to assist any learner in trouble than to stay lurking around outside seeking trouble. We all like good striking and I think we all try to get it. I am afraid that some young ringers will be shy to take a rope in fear of the lurking around and will be no help to service ringing or the Exercise.—Yours sincerely,

REG E. PELLET.

Church, Colaba Bombay, mentioned in our last issue, Mr. F. J. Lewis, of Cirencester, writes that he used to chime them for evening service during 1917-18. "The bells were hung for ringing but the wheels had not been fitted. The Padre told me the tower would not stand the strain. I believe Mr. Pat Cannon visited there during the last war."

"CONVERSATIONS" BY THE BELLS

On November 27th the bells of Caldicott Parish Church, Mon., were rung for the wedding of the daughter of the Methodist minister. There would be nothing unusual about this except that the wedding took place not in the Parish Church but in the Methodist Church. It is believed that this is the first time the bells of the Parish Church have been rung for a service of any sort in the Methodist Church, but the gesture reflects the greatly increased co-operation between the two churches recently. For the past five years a common magazine has been circulating to the extent of some 800 copies monthly.

When the bride's mother was overheard expressing a wish that her daughter should have the bells, the ringers readily responded to their Vicar's request to ring. The Vicar's wife was the liaison officer signalling the exit of the bride and bridegroom from their church. The letter of thanks from the bride's parents hangs in the ringing chamber as a proud testimony to the call of Caldicott bells to all within their sound to unite in worship of God and service of man.

SHENSTONE'S NEW BELLS PEAL

The recent peal of Doubles at Shenstone, Staffs, was the first peal on the new bells, but the last peal in the tower rung for the Stafford Archdeaconry Society was of Grandshire Triples, in March, 1937, when there was a ring of eight. In the early 1950's the old eight were exchanged for three bells from Loughborough, and in 1960 they were augmented to a "minor" five. A local company has rung the bells on Sundays since, and three of them took part in the peal, whose first it was. It is hoped, funds permitting, it will not be too long before the local company will add Minor methods to their present repertoire of Doubles.

ST. DAVID'S GUILD COMING-OF-AGE PLANS

St. David's Guild celebrates its 21st birthday in 1966, and a special meeting of the committee was held at St. Peter's Church, Carmarthen, on November 20th, to consider an appropriate commemoration. It was decided to produce a comprehensive handbook containing a history of the Guild, details of every tower, peals and quarter peals and articles of interest to ringers by well-known personalities of the Exercise. The handbook should be ready by the annual general meeting in September and orders should go to the secretary, Mr. R. C. Warburton. Approximate price, 2/6 to 5/-.

NORTHERN UNIVERSITIES AT NEWCASTLE

Nine universities were represented at the meeting of the Northern Universities in the Newcastle area on November 27th, when the maximum temperature only reached 37 degrees. Ringing covered a wide compass from rounds to Cambridge Royal and Grandshire Cinques. Towers visited were St. Andrew's, Sutherland (10), St. John's (8) and the Cathedral (12), Newcastle. All Saints', Gosforth (10), Fenham (8) and Chester-le-Street (8).

Universities represented: Durham, Hull, Keele, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle, Nottingham and Sheffield.

GNOSALL CHILDREN AGAIN ON TV

The Gnosall St. Lawrence Junior Handbell Ringers, who are well known to viewers in the Midlands, will be making another appearance on the television screen on Christmas Eve. This time they will be seen on A.T.V. at 6.15 p.m. in the "Today" programme.

The filming and recordings were taken in the Collegiate Church of St. Lawrence, forming a most fitting setting. The children were filmed during the playing of three well-known carols, and judging by "still" pictures which have been sent to us by I.T.V., writes B. G. Key, the programme will contain some interesting shots of the east end of this picturesque church while showing these talented youngsters.

THE DIARY

Indispensable to all ringers is "Ringers' Notebook and Diary" and with each new edition there are improvements—corrections made to a false touch and the introduction of new ones. Because of production cost increases, the price has had to be raised slightly —6/6 for a plastic copy and 8/- for leather. The pages this year are a little wider to give better margins. To William Viggers and Maurice Hodgson the Exercise is indebted for a useful companion. When in doubt consult "Ringers' Notebook and Diary."

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY'S NEW OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Oxford University Society on November 30th the following new officers were elected: Master, R. M. Heyworth (University); secretaries, Miss M. A. Welch (St. Hilda's) and A. P. Foster (St. John's); treasurer, W. R. Wharton (Jesus); steeplekeepers, R. A. Yeates (Christchurch) and S. K. Thompson (Hertford).

SUSPECTED TROUBLE AT BOSHAM

The six members of the band who rang a peal at Bosham, Sussex, on November 17th, arrived with several torches, a hurricane lamp, oil lamp and candlestick holders in case there was a power cut. On arrival they found that instead of a power cut the fuses had gone and so the peal was rung using two candles, a hurricane lamp and an oil lamp. Elizabeth Smith can say that she will not forget her first peal.

LIVERPOOL UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

A general meeting of the Liverpool University Society was held on November 19th to complete the election of officers for the session 1965-66. The following were elected: Deputy Ringing Master, D. F. Moore; committee member, J. White.

Miss Julie Lethbridge was elected Fresher representative earlier in the term, the other officers elected at the annual general meeting in May being: Ringing Master, J. J. Fox; secretary, Miss P. A. Freeman, 1, Hillside Road, Grange, West Kirby, Cheshire; treasurer, D. G. Wilford.

The Society is numerically stronger, although not as experienced as in past years. This year's summer tour was in Leicestershire.

A RECORDING FROM CALGARY

A tape recording of Calgary bells has been received by the Editor from Mr. J. M. Simpson, and introduced to him were members of the band who rang in the recent half peal of Grandshire Doubles. These included Miss Patricia Laycock, a Guildford school teacher, and Miss Wendy Nichols, from Sydney. A history of the bells was given by Judge Tavender, who rang the treble. Miss Judy Midgeley, who had been eight years in Calgary, spoke of the difficulties in making progress. The only time Grandshire Triples had been rung, she stated, was when they had visitors from British Columbia. John Muslewhite, who rang the tenor, has not yet reached his 14th birthday; he hopes to go to college to study music.

Mr. Simpson, whose address is 921—18th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alta, Canada, is collecting recordings of bells and asks particularly for Tewkesbury Abbey. Mr. S. G. Ponting hopes to obtain for him recordings of Guildford Cathedral and other bells in West Surrey. Much of the recording was like a fireside chat of ringers, and records such as Brahms' "Lullaby" and "Bless This House" were introduced to give variety in a programme that exceeded 30 minutes.

MISAPPREHENSIONS

The Bishop of Buckingham is the Rt. Rev. G. P. C. Pepys, and he attended the East Berks and South Bucks Branch dinner-dance on November 20th, as president, in succession to the Rt. Rev. Gordon Savage (now Bishop of Southall). Mr. Ernest Gosling was not responsible for the decorations of the hall. The chairman, when he mentioned decorations at the dinner, was referring to the Branch plaque and the Guild and Branch Striking Certificates which Mr. Gosling decorated.

GROTON'S CHRISTMAS BROADCAST

Mr. Russell S. Young sends us three quarters of Stedman Triples rung by the boys of Groton School, Mass. He adds: "We are trying to perfect Stedman Caters now, hopefully for the Christmas broadcast."

"COMPLETED THE CIRCLE" AFTER 20 YEARS

The Warminster and Frome area Surprise Major practice band rang a peal of Yorkshire at North Bradley on November 27th. This enabled Eric Hitchins to "complete the circle" in the tower where he rang his first peal 20 years ago. Another member of the band said it was his first decent peal of Yorkshire, but perhaps it would be wise not to identify him for his own safety.

MR. SINKINS REMEMBERED

Bucks County Health Committee propose to call a new old people's home at Slough "Sinkins House." The reference is to Mr. Sinkins, who developed the Mrs. Sinkins pink, which he raised at Slough, where he was previously a workhouse master.

We, of course, know Mr. Sinkins better as a well-known ringer, at one time at St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington, and later at St. Mary's, Slough, where he did much towards the adding of two trebles to make Slough the only ring of ten in Bucks.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

When the West Dorset Branch held its annual general meeting at Beaminster on November 27th the Vicar, who conducted the service, gave an interesting talk on the bells, mentioning that the present ring of eight was cast in 1765 from the metal of the old five by Thomas Bilbie in a weaver's shed at the back of the churchyard. Local ringers provided an excellent tea.

At the request of the chairman (Mr. C. W. Powell) members stood in silent tribute for Canon Carew Cox, Messrs. E. Bailey, T. Gunning and Mrs. V. Keetch, who as Mayoress of Bridport attended the last annual meeting. The secretary's report stated that membership was 128 ringing (an increase of six) and seven honorary. Symondsburys tower was welcomed to the Branch.

Officers elected were: Chairman, Mr. C. W. Powell; vice-chairman, the Rev. G. V. Syer; hon. secretary, Mr. T. Davis; Ringing Masters, Messrs. H. W. D. Bishop, H. Keeley and F. Knight; committee, Messrs. J. T. Barrett and D. Ellery. It was unanimously agreed that the spring meeting held annually at Bradpole be the Langford-Beams-Cox memorial meeting. A programme of meetings was approved.

WHAT ABOUT CHANNEL ISLANDS?

Dear Sir,—In "Belfry Gossip" on page 799 Mr. Alan Carveth's peal band claim to have rung peals in the most southerly and westerly towers in the British Isles by ringing at Landewednack and Sennen. I would point out that in fact there are three rings in the Channel Islands, a six in Alderney, and a six and an eight in Guernsey, all of which are well to the south of Landewednack. Also, many of the Irish towers (though not all) lie to the west of Sennen, so neither of these claims is correct.

If, however, the band had made the same claim about Great Britain instead of the British Isles, they would have been correct.—Yours faithfully,

ROBERT E. J. DENNIS.

LETTERS—Continued

GRANDSIRE—A WASTE OF TIME

Dear Sir,—In my opinion the method of Grandsire is hopelessly old-fashioned. Surely the ringing of a plain method today should be a "stepping stone" from the plain hunt to Surprise? In which case the beginner is going to derive no benefit whatsoever by being taught to ring a method bearing little or no relation to Surprise. Instruction in Grandsire is merely leading him into a backwater, where he more often than not will become bogged down and remain for the rest of his life. I therefore feel that we should try to forget about the days when Grandsire was the method and think carefully on the "stepping stones" we intend to use for our teaching. The ringing of Grandsire as an even-bell method is totally undesirable to listen to, a bad example for beginners and is no more instructive than chiming.

For these reasons I simply cannot conceive why anybody should wish to ring a peal of such rubbish. The peal of Grandsire Royal at Daventry—by competent ringers, all capable of Surprise Royal—was a sheer waste of bells, time and effort. I sincerely trust that repeat performances will not be forthcoming.—Yours faithfully,

DAVID J. MARSHALL.

MR. RING RECALLS

Dear Sir,—Just like her Bob Major, Mrs. Chapman's letter (page 760) gets off to a very bad start. In it she declares she has never had the pleasure of ringing with me—utter nonsense, madam! My records show that we rang together in a peal of Braunstone Surprise Major at Chilham, Kent, on October 26th, 1957; it may not have been a pleasure for her, but ring together we certainly did (I recall other occasions, too). Crawford T. Hillis also took part in that epic performance oddly enough.

Returning to Cheriton for a moment, it was obvious to me that the ringers of the front five bells had not much idea of striking properly; the fact that the conductor was ringing one of these makes the remainder of her letter look rather silly! Only 6, 7 and 8 were being rung properly (as near as the others would allow).

I most certainly decline Mrs. Chapman's invitation to "bash" my way through a course of Plain Bob at Charing with her, but I'm willing for her to have the Christmas pudding which was sent to me yesterday; with it came a wooden spoon which I am keeping for myself (to stir with—not to eat!). My thanks to the anonymous sender.

Crawford Hillis' letter has treachery written all over it; he has admitted that he is on my side (before witnesses, mind you), he has rested within these portals, sprawled in front of my fire, guzzled my sausage rolls and tea, safe from the stormy blast and the mob howling for his blood without, then, like Brutus of old, he stabs me in the back; I can but cry "Thou, too, Crawford?" He had better watch it or he will find himself deported to Cheriton double quick, there to ring with the Ladies' Guild for the rest of his natural life. (Do I detect a scream of terror from the Willesborough quarter?)

I conclude with some good news. While lurking at Wittersham a few weeks back I heard a jolly good quarter peal of Doubles rung on this awkward-going six. This was by a band of very modest ringers who lay no claim to greatness in our noble art. My congratulations to Brian Johnson and his band on some very good ringing. I only wish Mrs. Chapman had been there to hear how learners should perform! — I remain semper paratus,

WILFRED W. RING.

IN THE FOOTHILLS

By the Rev. J. G. M. SCOTT

ALMOST any visitor to North Devon knows Combe

Martin; no motorist who has ever been there can possibly forget Countisbury and Lynmouth; but once you leave that coastal road you're in one of the least-frequented parts of the county—the Exmoor foothills running up from the lush meadows of the Taw valley to the fearful desolation of The Chains. Here are isolated churches beside lonely farms and neater, more clustered villages huddled round a church on a hillside, places with musical names like Stoke Rivers and Swymbridge, Berrynarbor and Martinhoe, Loxhore and Traveller's Rest. The speech here is distinctly different from other Devon accents, if one's ear is tuned to it; the people are hardy and hard-working; they have to be, or they wouldn't stay alive. This is the part of Exeter Diocese which comprises the Deanery of Shirwell, taking its name, as often happens, from a village which has no other distinction to mark it.

This isn't top-notch ringing country, though there are some good sixes in the area; of the towers in the Deanery only one, Swymbridge, right on the Deanery border, gets into the North Devon Six-Bell; and perhaps that is why, some years ago, the Shirwell Deanery Ringers' Festival came to fade out.

This was a pity, for the local Deanery Festivals are the foothills from which spring the peaks—the Down St. Marys, the West Downs and West Alvingtons and Widecombes of call-change ringing. So it was a lucky chance that brought into the Deanery a parson who though not a ringer is filled with interest and enthusiasm for the art. He was doubly fortunate in finding in Bratton Fleming, his new home, a parishioner who combines a passion for ringing with a passion for traction-engines — and traction-engines are the Rev. Harold Tucker's first and greatest love. With the firm support of George Tribe and the rest of the Bratton Fleming ringers, and the help of the Archdeacon of Barnstaple, who is Rector of Shirwell, Mr. Tucker revived the Shirwell Deanery Festival, and the obvious place for it to go this year was to Bratton Fleming.

About 700 feet up on the slopes of Exmoor, Bratton is one of the larger villages in the area, with a good number of houses nestling round the church. The church itself had a great deal of loving care lavished on it just at the wrong moment in architectural history—the late 19th century—but its towers stands up strong and well proportioned. The bells are a beautiful 13-cwt. six, some by Taylor and some by Mears; they are tunable and mellow, and they go like so many tops.

There wasn't much doubt about how the competition would go as far as the shield was concerned; Swymbridge have been for some years among the best six bands in Devon, and as the competition was limited to towers within the Deanery it would need some very dire shipwreck to keep them out of first place. They made no mistake about it, with a peal which marked 23 faults against the 61½ which was enough to get Shirwell into second place. Goodleigh came third, followed by Berrynarbor, Bratton Fleming, Arlington and last of all the predominantly method-ringing band from Combe Martin, who very sportingly "had a go" though without any experience in competitions.

After the service there was ringing for all-comers, and although, through the Festival's coinciding with the Devon Association's annual meeting, not as many of the real experts came as had been hoped, the standard was in general very high, and the fine bells were kept tapping round to very good purpose.

Whether they involve a competition or not, these local festivals remain a most important element in call-change ringing, and it is to be hoped that the Shirwell Deanery ringers will keep this one going, so that perhaps before long another band from the Deanery may join Swymbridge in the Big League.

AN EXPERIMENT WITH APPROVED SCHOOLBOYS

WE hope that, in a few weeks' time, there will appear in "The Ringing World" a quite undistinguished quarter peal of Bob Doubles. It will read like any other quarter rung in any other country tower throughout the year, and it will bear the footnote "First quarter for the tenor ringer. Rung as a farewell from his fellow ringers on leaving the district." And no one but his fellow ringers will know that the tenor ringer was a boy from an approved school.

The story of this quarter started 18 months ago when our Rector was approached by the headmaster of our local approved school. Could some of his boys learn to ring? The Rector in turn approached our tower captain, who went along to the school one evening and gave a short talk on tower bell ringing. The following week the first six volunteers attended practice night in the company of a master. The first thing which struck me was how adult these 16- and 17-year-olds looked. To begin with they sat and watched us ring call changes and Doubles and then each, in turn, rang a bell "one stroke" with our captain. This, of course, was productive of much merriment on the part of the others, but it also served to give us an indication of who was going to be quick on the uptake. It was obvious from the outset that one lad would quickly master his bell, and it transpired that his brother was a ringer and that Michael had attended practice with him although as a visitor only. After this initial visit followed a month on a tied bell, our devoted captain giving a complete evening a week to these boys on their own. At the end of this time they were ready to be incorporated into the general practice night, and by this time the potential of each lad had started to emerge. Out of our six original boys we had a good cross-section of the characters which grace any tower. There was the "cocky" one, the diffident one, the one who couldn't care less about his handling, the one who would never make a ringer in a thousand years, the nervous one who would have died rather than admit that he was terrified of his bell.

WELL WORTH WHILE

It was argued by some that to teach these lads was a waste of time, since at the very longest they would only be with us for a year. But this charge was soon vindicated when the first of the boys became proficient enough to come and ring for Sunday service. Soon we were having three additional ringers on a Sunday morning (some of the lads who lived close enough went home), and if this had been the only result I personally would have thought that the experiment was worth its while.

These lads were the ideal age to teach to handle a bell, and were soon full of self-confidence. Being first in the tower they were soon pulling a bell up, and we became accustomed to arriving for service and practice ringing to find all the bells "up." Then came the day when Michael distinguished himself by throwing the tenor over—an accident which the other five did not allow him to forget for about a month.

Of course, the inevitable day came when the first boy left us and went "on licence," and one by one the others followed suit, until in January of this year we were left with one boy only from the school. He was the lad who at the outset had been extremely nervous, but as we were able to devote more time to him he blossomed out and became a very presentable handler. He was the first boy whom we asked to be allowed to take to a meeting with us, and he acquitted himself very well on eight bells, having only been accustomed to six at home. Poor Tony, he was quite foxed by all the talk of Bristol and Stedman! Of our original six, two progressed to ringing "tenor covering," and I think could have managed a quarter peal had we been able to arrange one for them. Well, "one little nigger boy"—would this be the end of the experiment? Not a bit; before Tony left us there appeared Bill (with a face like an angel and the disposition of an imp) who in four weeks was ringing rounds confidently on his own. There followed in a few weeks two more lads (one of whom suffered a slipped disc—not from ringing!—after a couple of weeks and so left us). Then another two of identical Christian name, which was productive of much confusion initially.

DISTRICT MEETINGS

In May all were safe as houses on the end of a rope, and we asked if they could all attend a District meeting with us. This was the first of quite a few outings throughout the summer, and we were surprised at how well these lads, juvenile delinquents all, integrated with the other teenagers. It soon became obvious that six had been too many, and that four from the school was a much better number to cope with at a time. Six boys had been inclined to be a bit "cliquey," but four mingled in with our own band very happily. We have a predominantly feminine band, and as you can guess we have had the odd budding romance which has faded as soon as the boy concerned has returned home.

When I take boys back to school after a Saturday meeting I am always asked by their fatherly house master, "Well, and did they behave themselves?" and the answer to date has always been "Yes, of course." They have never been anything but a pleasure to take out for an afternoon's ringing and, although they profess to hate their school uniform, always look neat and presentable in their navy blazers, blue shirts and grey flannels.

Well, the four have now dwindled to one again, and last week the deputy head came to practice to ask our captain if he would take any more boys. He has elected to have three more, and so next practice night we will start again—introducing a lad to the basic skills of handling a bell, and watching him develop and blossom both as a ringer and as a personality.

Our last experienced lad is now ringing "tenor covering" quite competently, and we very much hope to get him through a quarter peal before he leaves us. This will give him a sense of personal achievement and also, we hope, provide a goal for the boys coming after him to attain.

THE FOLLOW-UP

And has it all been worth it—teaching boys who you are aware will only stay with you for a year? I would say "Yes" on three counts. Firstly, the short term one. We gain from this scheme at least three additional Sunday service ringers. Secondly, the long term one. As each lad leaves school I ask him for his address and try to put him in touch with a band near his own home. I am under no illusion about the number who will immediately continue with ringing (to date I think it is only one out of the nine who have gone home on licence), but I say "immediately" advisedly. When these boys return to their normal background the majority of them are going to be afraid that their family and friends will consider church bell ringing "cissy." But what of the future? Maybe in three or four years' time a 20-year-old, more mature and with a mind of his own, will hear the bells go up for service or practice night, and feel once again the attraction of ringing. It is with this in mind that we have tried to take them outside their own tower and show them more of ringing and the people who practise it.

And the third count? A much more subtle one. I am hard put to define it and can only call it "character training." I was asked by one of the masters recently to name the boys whom we have had ringing. He pondered a moment and then smiled and said: "Well, there must be something in this ringing lark; not one of those lads has been in trouble again since leaving school." Of course, this is partly accounted for by the fact that all our ringers are "hand picked" by their house master, and are lads whom he is reasonably certain will behave themselves in company. But in addition to this I cannot help feeling that the voluntary discipline of ringing is good for these lads, as well as giving them a glimpse of an activity which the majority of them did not know existed. We will certainly not see the fruits of this experiment, but if it means one more lad with a little more stability, or one more tower with a regular Sunday service ringer, it will have been worth while.

RESCUED FROM A DUNGEON

Exeter Guildhall's Ancient Bell Visible Again

In the year 1456 William Duke, Mayor of Exeter, provided the city's Guildhall with a bell, which was cast at the Exeter foundry at a cost of £1 13s. 4d. Inscribed with the words "Celi Regina me protege quaeso ruina" ("Queen of Heaven, protect me, I pray, from ruin"), in small black-letter script, the bell was hung in the Guildhall at a cost of 9s., and later had a bell-cote built for it when the building was reconstructed in 1484. Whether it was used simply as an alarm bell is not certain, but an order from the Mayor and Corporation in 1466 commanded "Every inhabitant when the Common Bell is Ronge to come with his Weapon and to attende the Mayor and his officers."

At some time between that day and the present the bell's canons were broken, taking a piece of the crown with them; during the last hundred years it vanished from human ken, until last year an inquisitive ringer, checking up on Ellacombe's "Church Bells of Devon," inquired after it of the constable in the office beside the Guildhall door and was told it was under the floor. The constable very kindly opened a trap-door and procured a ladder, and the ringer going down the ladder to see a bell for the first time in his life, found it alone in a large, dark and very dirty hole, covered in cobwebs.

The town clerk, on being asked why the city kept one of its most ancient possessions in a dungeon, consulted with the surveyor; the surveyor had the bell released from durance vile, removed the ancient bolts which still remained fixed through its crown, cleaned it and had it put in a place where it can be seen if not rung, and where it can tell the "inhabitants" of Exeter that the Mayor and his officers care about their ancient history.

CENTENARY OF A SOUTH WALES PIONEER

DECEMBER 5th saw the hundredth anniversary of the birth of John W. Jones and brought to those who knew him a reminder of the life and work of a figure who influenced change ringing in South Wales for more than half a century.

At his death in 1956 J. W., as he was affectionately known, left all his ringing books, including a complete set of "Ringing Worlds", from the first issue, to the Llandall and Monmouth Diocesan Association, of which he was a founder member and its general secretary for almost 50 years.

To mark the 100th anniversary of his birth, and to perpetuate his memory, it was decided to install a permanent memorial at the Church of All Saints, Newport, where he was leader for 47 years. The memorial planned was an oak bookcase to house his books together with the "Ringing Worlds" which the Association had undertaken to have suitably bound. The bookcase in oak is beautifully made and is the work of Mr. Donald G. Clarke, provided entirely at his own expense, and surmounted by a suitably inscribed plate. It is undoubtedly a labour of love and will be a lasting tribute to the memory of the man who taught him to ring.

At a service conducted by the Vicar and attended by ringers and friends from all parts of both dioceses, the treasurer of the Association (the Rev. Ivor J. Richards) dedicated the memorial and in the course of an interesting address which covered the full range of J. W.'s activities we were left in no doubt of the great part he had played in the advancement of our art in South Wales.

A COUNTY CRICKETER

He was a cricketer of no mean ability, and had played for Monmouthshire. Like another Jones boy much in the news of late, he was a fast left-arm bowler who could bowl lobbs when required, and had done so in a county match. He was also interested in Rugby football, and when Newport and Cardiff were playing either home or away there would be no ringing on those days. At such times he enjoyed entertaining his friends at Newport Conservative Club, and if those two stalwarts Fred Atwell and Charley Greedy happened to be around it was not long before they would be engaged in fierce argument on some topic or another.

He learned to ring at Caerleon during the latter part of the last century, and moving to All Saints, Newport, when the church was being built, found that it had already been decided to install a set of tubular bells, but that was not for him, and the authorities were soon talked into having a proper ring of eight. He remained leader at this tower for 47 years, and perhaps the greatest tribute to his leadership is that he taught and maintained a full band during the whole of that period, ringing twice each Sunday and never failing to attend the morning service. In latter years one could only marvel at the energy he produced to climb the precipitous Barrack Hill to his home, but he was active beyond his years, and his unbounded enthusiasm never allowed him to flag.

He was elected Master of his Association in 1898 and again 50 years later, in 1948. He was general secretary from 1899 to 1945, and his genial rotund figure—the bowler hat and unfurled umbrella—became a familiar landmark at meetings and dedications up and down the country. It was his proud boast that during his secretaryship he did not miss a single Central Council meeting, and as a College Youth he had an unbroken run of attendances at the annual dinner.

During his lifetime he amassed around 600 peals, well over half being for his native Association, but it is certain that he laid no claim to fame, no name synonymous with perfection here, his peals were of the "bread and butter" variety to ensure progress and continuity.

WORK FOR NEW BELLS

He was methodical in everything he did, and undoubtedly his greatest work lay in his ability to persuade church authorities in the course they should take in the provision

NINETY-THREE YEARS JOINT SERVICE

It is hard to speak of oneself. That is why Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beamish, of the Church of All Saints, Chilvers Coton, Nuneaton, Warwickshire, can hardly themselves laud a joint 93 years' service to Coton belfry! This proud fact came to light when, in tribute to their long work for tower and church, they were asked to combine in opening their church's Christmas fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Beamish started ringing at Coton in their youth and stuck to the ropes with conspicuous results. Mr. Beamish, currently the second only lay-president of Coventry Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers, has been captain at Coton from 1950, and is a past Ringing Master of the Guild.

He has rung in 2,000 towers in the British Isles and Eire, and belongs to numerous Guilds, including the Ancient Society of College Youths and National Police Guild (he served as a Police War Reserve).

Together they have built up a handbell tuning band and have been heard on radio.

of bells. It is on record that he was responsible for getting completely new rings of bells installed at Caerphilly, Llanbadoc Pontypridd, Penarth, Radyr, Usk and, in 1913, the fine Taylor ten at St. Woolos', Newport. It was a bitter pill for him when in 1939 the work of augmenting this fine ten to twelve was given to another firm, for he was the complete Taylor fan.

Perhaps his crowning glory came just before World War II, when his advice was taken all the way in the provision of the new bells at Ebbw Vale, for where will you find better? Here, too, he suffered his greatest disappointment, being responsible for the loss of what would have been the first peal of Stedman Triples when the bells were in the last course, but the story of that failure has been told in more colourful terms.

Those who were privileged to ring in the peal marking his centenary, particularly those who knew him, must have felt as I did, that he would have approved it all—the ringing, the opportunity given to the grandson of an old friend to attempt his first peal, the composition (for it was he alone who gave the necessary encouragement to learn and call it) and, lastly, the method, for though Stedman was his first love it was an axiom of his never to despise Grandshire. By his personal example he leaves a feeling of inadequacy, and a conviction that his life's work is a memorial far greater than anything we can erect.

D. G. C.

At Coton they have rung their way through the times of five bishops, six vicars, 22 curates and 12 churchwardens!

Mrs. Beamish served the Coventry Guild for 25 years as honorary secretary and then treasurer. Their only daughter, Margaret, who took to the bells at Coton at the age of seven, is a ringer at Bishopstoke, Hants, and is honorary treasurer of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild. Her husband is tower captain and chairman at their local church.

Mr. Beamish's 91-year-old mother is an honorary member of the Coventry Guild. As president, his ambition is to see Coventry Cathedral bells rehung for ringing, and at the recent Guild dinner he challenged the Guild to find the wherewithal (£7,000) by way of a national appeal.

As befits the length and variety of their service and their dispositions, Mr. and Mrs. Beamish are widely known inside and outside bellringing and enjoy the love and respect of numerous friends everywhere.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION Taunton Branch

Good use was made of the fine ring of eight at Wellington Parish Church when the annual general meeting of the Taunton Branch was held there on December 4th. Some 55 members and visitors were present, the latter coming from the Dunster and Bridgwater Branches, Sampford Peverell and Camborne. The Guild Office was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. R. J. C. Lloyd), assisted by the curate (the Rev. A. J. Eyles), himself a ringer. Wives and mothers of the local ringers had prepared an excellent tea in the Parish Hall, and the Branch chairman (the Rev. D. Morey, Vicar of St. Mary's, Taunton) presided over the business meeting which followed.

Mr. A. H. Reed, the hon. secretary and treasurer, presented the annual report and balance sheet, and eight new members were elected including Shirley North, the eight-year-old daughter of the captain of Wellington tower. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chairman, the Rev. D. Morey; vice-chairman, Mrs. E. M. Williams; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. H. Reed; Ringing Master, Mr. D. North; Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. N. Maggs. Some handbell ringing by the Branch experts preceded further ringing on the tower bells.

FIRST AMERICAN PEAL

Dear Sir,—With regard to your comment that the late Mrs. Shurcliff was probably the first citizen of the United States to ring a peal, Morris ("History and Art of Change Ringing," page 538) says of the peal of Grandsire Triples at Christ Church, Philadelphia, in 1850, that it was rung by seven Englishmen, "an American being engaged to ring the tenor." On page 312 of the same book, however, the tenor is shown as being rung by Richard Dodd and John Davey, presumably both Americans. I am not sure where the names were obtained from, but the other information almost certainly came from the reminiscences of James Hewett, of Gosport, one of the band.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

PILGRIMS AND SCOTLAND

Dear Sir,—I have received many requests to organise a coach or car Pipe's Pilgrims' tour of Scotland in 1966 or 1967, but I know so little of the country that I would be grateful for advice on the ringable bells, names and addresses for permission to ring, beauty spots, routes and hotels.

Information such as the best time of the year for the visit and dates of national events would also be valuable.—Yours sincerely,

CECIL W. PIPE.

"Easta," Grundisburgh,
Woodbridge, Suffolk.

"TOWER CAPTAINS" COURSE

Dear Sir,—One is inclined to wonder if the guest lecturer at the recent event at Lea Green was deliberately misinformed regarding the status of the people attending, and how many actual tower captains were present; certainly not the one from Chesterfield Parish Church.

For this meeting to be held at the week-end including Remembrance Sunday, thereby taking ringers from their own towers when the bells are to be rung muffled, seems to be very short-sighted, especially when the information and knowledge imparted could just as easily have been obtained by asking pertinent questions at any monthly meeting of a Society or Association.

This sort of thing seems to be a case of making much ado about little or nothing.—Yours faithfully,

SAM SCATTERGOOD,
Ringing Master, Chesterfield.

MR. JOHN CHILCOTT'S THANKS

Dear Sir,—May I use your columns in order to thank all those members and friends who associated themselves with the presentation made to me upon relinquishing office as secretary of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

The handsome cigarette lighter I received will be a constant companion and the accompanying cheque will be used to procure some domestic memento which will give pleasure to both my wife and myself.

Gentlemen, thank you all very much. —Yours faithfully,

JOHN CHILCOTT.

Hawley, Camberley.

THE NET AT BREAKING POINT

Dear Sir,—Our belfry was getting short of ringers, through marriage, university, etc. We tried all sorts of ways to get recruits— notices and later a full-page article in the parish magazine, notices given out by the Vicar from the pulpit and at the local Church school. No recruits—and by the spring we were often only able to ring once on Sundays instead of our usual twice.

Finally I wrote a letter of appeal to the local Scoutmaster, Guide Captain and the leader of the Youth Club, advising them that we would be having a special "open" evening at which anyone who was interested could come and watch, ask questions and find out what it was all about. Two turned up—one the brother of one of our ringers, who was going to learn, anyway, as he was now 12, and the other a girl who was very interested but didn't think she had the time as she was taking G.C.E. next year. Another disappointment.

The next day was June 30th, Balance Day for bank clerks, and I was late arriving at practice. I opened the door to find the belfry apparently swarming with strange youngsters. The girl of the night before had approached her headmistress (of a nearby girls' school) and persuaded her to give out a notice at "Prayers" to the effect that our belfry was in danger of falling silent if recruits weren't found. Six girls came along, plus the brother of the ringer, plus the ex-head-choirboy and his sister, plus a friend of a ringer—ten recruits in all.

We started them off on a separate night, with three bells tied, and I have never seen such keenness and competition to learn. One girl dropped by the wayside, but two more girls and three young boys have been added, making 14 learners! All but the two latest recruits can handle their bells competently in rounds, and most of them still insist on coming to the Tuesday tied-bell practice as well as the Wednesday open practice, so I have started them off on plain hunt on handbells—one bell each.

One girl is a Methodist, but as our morning service is early, she is happy to ring for this before going on to her own church. But I did get a bit worried when one evening the Vicar came to chat to the learners (as he quite often does) and remarked to one of the girls that he didn't recall seeing her before. She replied that that was quite possible as she was a Roman Catholic. He smiled and told her that we were all broadminded, and everybody was quite happy—particularly as she assures me that she can ring for both services on Sundays.

However, looking at all these keen youngsters, it can be quite frightening. Am I going to let them down now that they are reaching the stage of change ringing? However are we going to manage to teach this to them all? It is going to be more difficult than the first steps.—Yours, etc.,

RUTH FOREMAN,
Captain, Hendon Tower.

LONDON'S OLD BELLS

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent has omitted the bell at the Hall of the Skinners' Company which appears to be a 12th century casting.—Yours sincerely,

GEORGE P. ELPHICK.

Lewes.

ROPE EXPERIMENTS

Dear Sir,—With reference to the recent correspondence about bell ropes, I would agree with most of what Mr. R. H. Duke writes, except for his paragraph about four-strand ropes.

I would not recommend them, they are more expensive, much harder to splice, I don't think they will last longer, as, in the trade, we reckon four-strand breaking strains to be 11 per cent. less than three-strand.

The following are the strains of most sizes used for bell ropes:

	3-Strand	4-Strand
1½ in. cir., 1½ in. dia.	14 cwt.	12.5 cwt.
1½ in. cir., 7/16 in. dia.	17.5 cwt.	15.5 cwt.
1½ in. cir., 1½ in. dia.	21 cwt.	19 cwt.

I have tried some experiments with different types of rope, where the atmospheric conditions dry the ropes very quickly.

First I used Terylene; this was spliced in about three to four feet below the garter hole; this has been in use for over three years now, without signs of wear. There was some stretch at first, but most of this was pulled out after a few peals.

I am now trying some very lightly steam-tarred Italian hemp for the whole of the top end of the rope, and up to now this is proving quite satisfactory with no more attention other than occasionally moving in the garter hole.—Yours faithfully,

E. N. HARRISON.

Fenham.

SECURING ROPES TO WHEELS

Dear Sir,—To anyone not conversant with securing ropes to wheels I offer my method:

Assuming one is to change a rope from one already hanging, commence downstairs by making a sheet bend knot with loop of old rope and top end of new one, leaving new one coiled ready on a clean floor in such a way as not to kink, then go up aloft. Undo old rope and pull out through garter hole and commence coiling up old rope, bringing the new one with it. Temporarily tie new rope to something handy, afterwards disposing of coiled up old rope by bell chamber door or hatch, away from the dirt.

Feed new rope through garter hole and get comfortably astride the headstock, sitting on one's cap brought for the purpose! Commence pulling up slack rope until companion in ringing chamber signals that the bottom end of sally is on a level with his nose, assuming he is of average height. Bring rope round the bell side of the arm spoke and secure with half hitch around the further high spoke of wheel returning free end back along and above the now anchored rope.

Commence square lashing turns round high spokes, working upwards until with about four feet of rope left free commence frapping turns round the bound work through the "eye," finishing with a running clove hitch. By starting the frapping turns the same side as the half hitch, one will be able to tuck the trailing end down the resultant hollow enabling the last few inches of rope to be brought out from the bottom and be trapped under the rope coming from the garter hole. Ropes fitted like this can be adjusted in a trice with no loss of temper.—Yours sincerely,

Swindon.

MR. T. J. LOCK'S OTHER TOUR

Dear Sir,—I thank Mr. Lock for his reply concerning his tour of the Fens. In reciprocating it is my sincere hope that previous remarks have not been misinterpreted as being opposed to the integrity of the organisers of the peal, nor the ringers of the church at which the peal was rung. I accept that the peal was rung in good faith.

Mr. Lock's admirable explanation of the remarkable plans entailed when arranging tours are, I feel, worthy of emulation. I suppose all prolific peal ringers are, first and foremost, desirous of recording efforts, viz. first in tower, first in method, etc., in the accustomed manner, not that I believe there is anything wrong with that. Some ringers are very considerate and take pains to avoid trouble. Yet there are those who evidently care not at all for encouraging repercussion and hostile public reaction, which can, and has on occasions, descended in one way and another upon the ringers of the church in which a peal has been rung. Even the most carefully planned peal can have degrading trends public-wise, for people are ever becoming increasingly sensitive to what they consider to be unnecessary noise.

If I may, by way of illustration, I would resurrect recollections of a certain arrangement—vastly inferior to Mr. Lock's—by a band of touring peal ringers several years ago, the organiser of whom applied at the last moment to the incumbent, who, incidentally, displayed little or no interest in his bells or ringers, seeking permission to ring a peal. It transpired that the clergyman had no idea that a peal would last in the region of three hours. In this instance the peal, which began without pre-knowledge by local ringers, broke down shortly before its planned termination, and for the following two or three months the church bellringers underwent considerable embarrassment on the occasion of practices and other events and were well nigh obliged to postpone further practices for an indefinite period. Individuals from nearby houses even entered the church in an endeavour to prevent them from ringing. At another church near Fenland a peal was allowed to take place at a time when it was glaringly obvious that to do so would be inviting hot coals on the heads of those concerned. Consequently heavy pressure was brought to bear upon the incumbent, with the result that ringing activities were severely curtailed. These two examples will surely support my assertion that it is a simple thing indeed to jeopardise efforts by local bellringers by ill-conceived consent to long-length ringing of bells when circumstances forbid.

I was particularly drawn to the comment in the write-up of Mr. Lock's Fenland tour, in which the curator of Wisbech Museum "strongly protested." One visualised by that remark an irate man "doing his nut" beneath the clamour of the bells. I may be wrong, but it seems to me this comment was inspired to some degree by a sense of detached amusement. It would, perhaps, have been better to have omitted that from the report. A single objector may not evoke much attention, but I felt that it should be realised by those who participated in that peal that objectors were not confined to the Museum alone.

As an employee of a group of newspapers, one of which received and published several objectional letters, I can assure Mr. Lock that in this instance, as in others, the matter was not prolonged, and that the letters were published as they were received without embellishment, as are all letters, provided they are not unsavoury. The same unbiased attention would be given to any reply on behalf of the ringers and bells. The fact remains there were objectors and all citizens in this land possess the right to criticise, both verbally and in writing.

I have not the slightest doubt that Mr. Lock's party received a most cordial welcome by Wisbech ringers. The writer has, on numerous occasions, been privileged to witness and receive similar attention.

It is not my intention of entering a joust with Mr. Lock or any other person and trust it will not be so, but I cannot help wondering as to how those objectors, some of whom expected the Vicar to apologise, would interpret the message instigated by a branch meeting, when the bells would in all probability be rung spasmodically for four or five hours. It is very doubtful that they would be aware of the difference between bell-ringing and pleasure-ringing for they are now "poised," as it were. It is logical, therefore, to assume that further applications for peal attempts at this church, or any other church in similar circumstances, by touring teams, individuals and by the Association, will receive a thumbs-down indication.

I think any ringer will agree there is a world of difference between the ringing of peals, and "sample" ringing. There are at least two aspects to any problem and I think one does well to bear each and all in mind. Alas, extremes, however creditable in the pursuing of our pleasurable and unique craft, can all too easily give rise to thorns of discontent and hostility in the hides of the uninitiated.

My best wishes to Mr. Lock and his friends and to the ringers at Wisbech St. Peter's Church.—Yours faithfully,

TREVOR A. BEVIS.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Visiting ringers from as far afield as Burton-on-Trent and Heckington (Lincs) were present when the Chesterfield District met at Old Brampton on November 20th. Under the supervision of Mr. C. J. Hughes, ringing to suit quite a wide variety of tastes took place on the pleasant 12 cwt. six.

After an excellent tea in the George and Dragon, a short informal meeting was held, during which Mr. M. Buckmann (Chesterfield) was elected a member. Advance notice was also given of next year's annual dinner, which is to be held in Chesterfield on February 19th, members being advised to make early applications for tickets.

The meeting was concluded by the District chairman, Mr. D. Cooper, proposing a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Old Brampton, the Rev. A. B. Gordon, who was unfortunately in hospital with pneumonia, to Mr. J. Arkwell of the local company for making the arrangements, and to the landlady, Mrs. A. Broadbent, for providing the refreshments. OBITUARY

MR. HARRY IVE

With much regret we report the death of Mr. Harry Ive, a member of the band at St. Martin's, Ruislip, for nearly 50 years. He had a heart attack about three weeks ago and was taken to Hillingdon Hospital, where he died on November 30th.

The funeral was at St. Martin's on December 6th, a large congregation attending. The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service at the church and before cremation at Ruislip.

Harry had rung several quarter peals, but only one peal—Grandsire Triples at Pinner. He was a thatcher by trade and there are several examples of his work on the thatched houses of Middlesex and the surrounding counties. He was also a well-known member of the Ruislip Bowling Club. He will be sadly missed in St. Martin's belfry. May he rest in peace. T. C.

MR. THOMAS METCALFE

With regret we record the death on December 3rd of Mr. Thomas Metcalfe, of Dalton-in-Furness. He was a ringer at Dalton for 65 years and a stalwart Sunday service and practice ringer all his career. He rang 32 peals and conducted one.

A lifelong member of the St. John Ambulance Brigade he was superintendent at Dalton from 1923 until 1948; also treasurer of the same until his death. For many years he was a member of the R.A.O.B., in which he attained the degree of R.O.H. "Old Tom," as he was known, will be sadly missed.

Ringers from a wide area rang Bob Royal and Grandsire Caters for the funeral service and later a peal of Bob Major was rung to his memory with the bells half-muffled. Mr. Metcalfe is survived by two sisters, to whom we offer our deepest sympathy. W. W.

MR. HARRY WAND

With the passing of Mr. Harry Wand on December 4th at Market Overton, Rutland, the Southern Branch of the Lincoln Guild has lost three of its oldest members in six weeks. Harry was at the funeral of his friend, Albert Scott, only the Saturday before he died, and the news of his passing came as a great shock. Although Harry had reached the age of 87, he was still smart and erect, not looking a day over 70.

Most of his ringing was around the Bourne district between 1900 and 1930. He then moved to Market Overton, where ringing was quiet, but he seldom missed a meeting of the Southern Branch, and also attended most of the Saturday night practices.

The funeral service took place at Market Overton on December 8th, the Guild being represented by Mr. L. Blanchard and Mr. F. Hubbard. Cremation followed at Loughborough. In the evening a quarter peal of Doubles at Market Overton came to an abrupt end when a rope broke in the tenth extent. The ringers were five of his friends, W. Marsh 1, C. Wade 2, H. Burill 3, F. Hubbard 4, L. Blanchard 5. C. W.

POLICE GUILD A.G.M. WITHOUT PRESIDENT

FROM the report of the annual general meeting of the National Guild of Police Ringers, held at Hereford on September 25th, we understand that a shadow was cast on the proceedings by the absence of the president, ex-Sgt. C. Willmington. The news was announced during coffee at the Town Hall as guests of the Mayor, Cdr. Sam Beaumont, that three of the members, including the president, had been involved in a car accident near Oxford and would not be able to complete the journey. Mr. Macartney, Chief Constable of Hereford, told the gathering that he had made inquiries with the police at Oxford and that the injuries were slight.

Ringling took place on the ten bells at the Cathedral, where the Guild was welcomed by the Dean, a great-nephew of Sir Robert Peel. Western A.T.V. were present to take action pictures, and it was not easy to ring Grand-sire Caters with a set of arc lights shining in the eyes of each ringer in turn.

There was quite a distinguished gathering at the luncheon at the City Arms, where the guests included the Mayor and Mayoress, the Dean and Chief Constable. Mr. T. Butler, the immediate past-president, deputised for Mr. Willmington and despite short notice did the job exceedingly well.

He also presided at the business meeting and upon his suggestion the meeting decided to send a letter of sympathy to the president and his colleagues. P.C. R. Holt, the secretary, in his report stated that one peal had been rung by the Guild during the year—Grandsire Triples at Farnworth. Membership was now at its highest for several years. Thanks were also expressed to Mr. G. T. Cousins for making local arrangements. The report was adopted and coupled with it was a vote of thanks to the secretary. The audited balance sheet was approved.

The officers elected were: President, Ex-Sgt. Willmington; secretary, P.C. R. Holt, auditor, P.C. E. Francis; Central Council delegate, Ex-P.C. N. Bagworth; committee, Messrs. T. Butler, J. Rawson, G. Amor, J. Smith, N. Bagworth, C. Knight, A. Pearce and W. Dowse.

Eight new ringing members were elected, and Mr. Macartney, the Chief Constable of Hereford, was elected an honorary life non-ringing member.

A spring meeting is to be held in Oxford in 1966. The annual general meeting will be at Lancaster on Saturday, September 24th.

Following the annual general meeting, ringling took place in and around Hereford and was followed by a social evening at the City Arms. It was generally agreed that it had been an enjoyable day despite the bad weather. Forces represented were: Liverpool, Lancs County, Manchester, Metropolitan, Cheshire, Gloucester, Hereford, Leics and Rutland and Somerset.

DERBY ASSOCIATION'S FIRST RINGING COURSE

THE Derby Diocesan Association limited its first ringing course, held at the Derbyshire Youth and Sports Training Centre at Lea Green, Matlock, to tower captains and instructors. The lecturers were Messrs. N. Chaddock, D. J. Marshall, D. R. Carlisle and G. A. Halls.

Following an interesting and, at times, entertaining handbell session on the Friday night, the course proper got under way on the Saturday with a most enlightening lecture on teaching bell control by Mr. Chaddock, at the end of which even the other lecturers had learned a thing or two! In quick succession the value of call changes in teaching and learning plain hunt, etc., were dealt with by Mr. Marshall and Mr. Carlisle before the final lecture of the morning, during which Mr. Halls showed how to write out touches and conduct.

After dinner Mr. Chaddock's next lecture was on the tower captain's duties and responsibilities, most of which provoked considerable discussion, as did Mr. Halls' second talk on conducting, the emphasis being on proof. Many of the points discussed were demonstrated later on the pleasant octave at Crich, but the most outstanding demonstration of the day occurred later that evening when in just over a quarter of an hour Mr. Chaddock had taught the college principal to ring the treble unaided to a touch of Bob Minor!

All too soon the next day's lectures on methods, their structures and ways of teaching and learning them together with the most important but difficult task of achieving good striking, had been and gone and the final lecture on bell maintenance, odd-struck bells and problems of sound control was being delivered by Mr. Halls. After such a worthwhile and successful week-end our grateful thanks are sincerely extended to the lecturers and the college authorities for their forbearance, particularly with regard to the handbells which never seemed to stop ringing!

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The annual general meeting of the Chew Branch was held at Yatton on December 4th, when the Association service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. T. E. B. Wilkes. Tea was served in the Church Hall by ladies from the local company, and the Branch chairman took the chair for the business meeting.

The secretary reported a Branch membership of 1977, a drop of six on the previous year. Subscriptions from all but two towers had been received. The retiring officers were re-elected as follows: Chairman and Ringing Master, H. W. Knight; vice-chairmen, C. Bishop and L. Derrick; secretary, D. G. Yeo; reporter, J. Brain.

Mr. P. Allen, of Ubley, was elected a member. After discussion it was resolved that the dates of quarterly meetings should be changed, as at present the interval between the annual general meeting and the April meeting was too long. The next meeting will now be in March (Wington, subject to permission) and thereafter at three-monthly intervals.

Practice meetings, Barrow Gurney (January) and Winford (February). Striking Competition, Kingston Seymour.

After votes of thanks ringing was continued until shortly after 8 p.m. J. R.

HINTLESHAM, SUFFOLK.—On Dec. 5th, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: D. J. Derrick 1. A. R. Walters 2. S. Christian 3. R. W. Lockwood 4. N. F. Whittell (cond.) 5. F. H. Mussett 6. For morning service.

MORTON, Lincs.—On Nov. 27th, 1,296 Minor (Single Court, Cambridge Surprise): W. R. Marsh 1. C. T. H. Bradley 2. C. Wade (cond.) 3. J. F. Hubbard 4. J. W. Haw 5. C. L. Blanchard 6. In memoriam Albert E. Scott, ringer at this church, who died November 23rd and whose funeral took place prior to the quarter peal.

BELFRY GOSSIP

With a peal of Triples at Warwick on December 4th Mr. Ian C. Maycock completes the Stedman family from Doubles to Cinques.

Owing to increased business commitments, Mr. T. Bird is not seeking re-election as District Ringing Master of the Southern District of the Surrey Association.

Owing to an unfortunate accident necessitating 12 stitches in his left thumb, Mr. Allan J. Butcher was regrettably unable to take part in the quarter peal rung for his daughter's engagement.

Mr. Norman Chaddock has a promising recruit in Miss Tessa Hollis, the 15-year-old daughter of the Vicar of Rotherham, who rang her first quarter of Cambridge Surprise Royal on December 2nd.

"Belfry News" is not to cease publication. In response to the "outcry of protest and regret" it is to be published quarterly and distributed at each quarterly meeting. The new editor is Mr. "Tombstone" Hughes, to whom articles and gossip should be forwarded.

We are asked to state that the Appleton Handbell Ringers do not consist of Alf Webb, Harry White, George Bishop, Cliff Garlick and Miss P. East. The regretted substitution of a bracket in place of a comma in the report of the North Berks' dinner (page 820) creates this wrong impression.

London University Society have established a fine record of service ringing at St. Vedast's Church, Foster Lane, during term time, when there is generally a quarter peal for morning service. Latest we have received are 1,280 Doubles (five methods) on December 5th, and 1,272 Norwich Surprise Minor on December 12th. Both were conducted by R. D.

SEVENOAKS BELLS DISMANTLED

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have started work on the dismantling of the eight bells at St. Nicholas', Sevenoaks, Kent. The bells are to go to the foundry for the recasting of the sixth and retuning of the remainder. They are to be rehung in a new iron frame. This also involves the provision of a new floor under the bells and at the same time the church clock will be converted to electrical operation and some repointing is to be done to the tower. An appeal is out for over £4,000, of which over half has been raised.

In recent years some £40,000 has been raised in the parish for the restoration of the church roof after a disastrous fire in 1948, the provision of a new Rectory, and renewal of the church heating system. Plans were in hand earlier for a start to be made on the work to the bells but this had to be deferred for some two years when an emergency repair to part of the church floor had to be undertaken. Any contributions to the bell fund will be gratefully received by Mr. P. A. Corby, 10, The Close, Montreal Park, Sevenoaks, Kent.

Many ringers in Kent will have seen an article in the Christmas issue of "Kent Life," the pictures for which were all taken a few months ago in Sevenoaks belfry. Ironically, the article talks of the association of bellringing and Christmas and the New Year, but of course the bells in the pictures will not sound at Christmas time until 1966.

FORGOTTEN BELLS

The quarter peal rung on November 21st on the bells of St. Michael's, Linby, Notts, was a credit to the occasion but an even greater credit to Mr. Eric Moss, whose efforts to have the bells rung have been undaunted. For a long time Eric, a non-ringer, has thought that these bells should be rung, and two years ago he set out to investigate the state of the bells and to find ringers. He found a band of ringers at nearby Calverton but, alas, they had to report that the four bells were unsafe for ringing as the headstock bolts and straps were badly corroded and ringing would certainly have finished them off.

As chief mechanical engineer at Linby Colliery, Eric was not discouraged. He listed all the jobs necessary to put the bells in order and with a small group of friends set about the repair work. Many Saturday afternoons were spent making a complete set of headstock fittings, a set of rope pulleys and half a wheel for the third to replace a section rotted by water dripping through the leaking roof.

All the parts were carefully assembled and a ringer was called in to try the bells. After minor adjustments they were made just about ringable in time for the miners' annual thanksgiving service and the quarter peal rung before the service was very well-struck considering the "square bearings" which they had been unable to correct.

Linby bells were recast and rehung in 1823 and rung regularly until the early 1930's. They may have been missed by "Dove" and forgotten by ringers, but at least one group of local residents does not intend to allow them to die.

ST. ALBANS DISTRICT DINNER

A company of 67 members and friends attended the St. Albans District dinner on December 4th at St. Michael's Manor. Roast turkey was included in the menu and Mr. John Cull was the toastmaster.

Following the loyal toast, Mr. Roger Brown, District secretary, proposed the toast of "The Church," to which Mr. Andrew Bradley, of St. Peter's, St. Albans, gave a very lively reply.

"The Association and St. Albans District" was proposed by Mr. Wilfred G. Wilson, who reminded the District that although things are often smooth on the surface, it is far from so underneath. Mr. Brian Barker, president of the Association, replied, and in spite of certain intentions ended up by saying a few kind words about the District!

Mr. Gerald Penney, the District Ringing Master, welcomed the visitors, and then the company heard Messrs. Fred Ellis, Trevor Hawkins and Malcolm Pettit ring some carols on handbells.

The rest of the evening was under the direction of Mr. Martyn Jordan, M.C. for after-dinner entertainment. After Martyn had warmed the piano up and then organised a couple of games, we heard more tunes rung on handbells before joining to sing "Auld Lang Syne."

A hearty vote of thanks was given to all concerned, particularly Martyn, and most of all to Miss Christine Rimmer—without all her hard work this very enjoyable and successful evening would never have taken place.

NOTTINGHAM'S RING OF 12

St. Peter's, Nottingham, church bells have been rehung in a new steel frame by Messrs. Taylor with the addition of two trebles to make a ring of 12. Work in the belfry is almost complete but the installation of the new electric clock and clock chiming apparatus and redecoration of the ringing chamber will take some weeks. There will be no ringing on the 12 until work on the tower foundations is complete. The bells will be dedicated on Christmas Eve.

REDRUTH'S RINGING FAMILY

Six brothers and sisters ring at Redruth Parish Church. They are the children of Mr. J. H. Southwood, whose home is at Redruth Churchtown, almost within the shadow of the tower, states "The West Briton." They are Catherine (21), Margaret (18), Charles (16), each with seven years' ringing experience, James (13) with about three years' experience, Clare (12) two years', and Megan (11) with under one year's experience.

BARTON-LE-CLEY OUTING

It was a cold, windy day when Barton-le-Cley ringers met outside Olney Parish Church for their half-day outing. Six towers in the corners of Northamptonshire and Buckinghamshire which fringe Bedfordshire were visited. Those before tea were Olney, Stoke Goldington and Piddington, and after tea Newport Pagnell, Woughton-on-the-Green and Simpson. Thanks are accorded to Mr. and Mrs. O. Mann for arranging the outing, and all incumbents.

MEMORIAL TABLET TO MR. F. M. MITCHELL DEDICATED

AT SS. Peter and Paul's, Milton-next-Gravesend, there was a goodly gathering of ringers on November 27th for the dedication of a memorial tablet to the late Frederick M. Mitchell, secretary and treasurer of the Kent County Association from 1928 to 1947, treasurer until 1956, and Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths in 1932.

The service was preceded by a touch of 504 Stedman Triples rung by members of the Kent County Association. The Rector, the Rev. K. C. Sturt, conducted the service and, at the request of Mrs. Mitchell, who unveiled the tablet, dedicated it using the following prayer:

"In the faith of Christ crucified we dedicate this tablet to the glory of God and in memory of Frederick M. Mitchell. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

"We beseech Thee O Lord, that all who read the words of this tablet may know that it commemorates one who served Thee in many ways; and that as Thou gavest him the grace so to serve Thee, so Thou wilt give them the inspiration to offer their lives for Thy service, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

As the procession, which consisted of officers of the Kent County Association and the College Youths, Mrs. Mitchell and family and clergy, returned from the west end of the church, where the memorial is placed, the Nunc Dimittis was sung. The Rev. Peter N. Bond offered the prayers and the Rector gave an inspiring address on "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

The service was followed by a touch of 504 Stedman Triples rung by members of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Tea was served in the Church Hall by the kindness of Mrs. E. M. Mitchell, other members of Mr. Mitchell's family and friends.

Short speeches were made by Mr. J. Willis (vice president, Kent County Association), Mr. J. Rock (Master, Ancient Society of College Youths), Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. P. A. Corby (hon. secretary of the Kent County Association) and the Rev. K. C. Stuart (Rector of Milton).

The Kent County Association Committee met after tea but other ringers present visited Swanscombe, Northfleet and Gravesend as well as Milton, and a happy party met at the Mitre, Gravesend, until a late hour.

The tablet was fixed by Mr. G. J. Butcher, and all present were pleased to congratulate him on his labour of love and to thank him for being the inspiration behind a worthy undertaking which culminated in a most pleasant occasion which will long be remembered.

KEELE UNIVERSITY SOCIETY'S FIRST PEAL

To mark the dedication of the chapel at Keele University by the Bishop of Lichfield in the presence of Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret, Keele University Society of Change Ringers rang their first peal—one of Minor in three methods. It was conducted by Philip Gay, who has done much to place the Society on a sound footing.

SWANSEA & BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD

Southern District

In spite of the atrocious weather, over 25 sat down to a very good tea at the Stuart Hall, Sketty, for the annual general meeting of the Southern District on December 4th. Mrs. Whitworth and her helpers had provided for a larger attendance, but there was not much left when all had finished. Mr. Barry Couzens thanked those responsible.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Dudley White, who based his address on the reason for bell ringing Ringing throughout the day was under the guidance of the Ringing Master, and included Surprise.

The business was soon disposed of, with the Rev. Dudley White in the chair. Both the District secretary, Mr. J. A. Hoare, and the District auditor, Mr. T. M. Roderick, were re-elected.

Mr. Michael Thomas expressed sympathy with the Vicar, who is in hospital, and wished him a speedy recovery. Two new members were elected. Votes of thanks concluded proceedings.

Next meeting: Aberavon (subject to permission). J. A. H.

SNOWDON SCHOLARS' REUNION

The Snowdon Scholars' Society of Young Change Ringers held a reunion dinner-dance to celebrate their 20th anniversary on December 4th at the Guildford Hotel, Leeds. Mr. Gordon Benfield, founder president, was the chief guest. He expressed his delight in discovering that the Society was still flourishing and was extremely pleased to see so many old and new faces.

He recollected that the idea to form a Society for people under 25 was evolved at St. Chad's, Headingley, at the time when he and a few of his fellow ringers travelled from tower to tower on bicycles. Explaining the origin of the Society, Mr. Benfield said that after their first meeting a letter was sent to Miss Margaret Snowdon requesting permission to name the Society after the Snowdon family. This was duly granted. Mr. Benfield produced a document he called a Magna Carta. This was the letter to Miss Snowdon and it was presented to Mr. Shaw, president of the Society, to be retained as a memento of the first meeting. He concluded by proposing a toast to "The Snowdon Scholars," wishing the Society a prosperous future.

Miss Olivia A. Marshall replied, with a vote of thanks to the guests and all who had helped her in arranging the celebration.

Dancing and games followed and a very pleasant evening was had by all. O. A. M.,

SURREY ASSOCIATION Northern District

The nomination meeting of the Northern District took place at Putney on November 27th, when over 50 members met in the newly-decorated ringing room for an hour's ringing before the service, which was led by the Vicar.

Mr. Tom Lock judged the Association's second handbell striking competition. Beddington were judged to have the least number of faults, with Croydon and Putney taking second and third places respectively. The young band from Kingston upon Thames, ringing Plain Bob Major, although having most faults, were highly praised by Mr. Lock for a most determined effort.

The endeavours of the local band in overcoming the bread strike resulted in not only providing a good tea, but also being able to give away a fine selection of cut and uncut loaves to those who had been less fortunate. The main business before the meeting was the nomination of officers to serve on next year's committee. A further hour and a half's ringing ended the day, with methods ranging to four-spliced Surprise Major.

Next District meeting: A.G.M., Southwark Cathedral, January 29th.

WELFORD-ON-AVON, WARWICKS.—On Dec. 4th, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: G. Cooper 1, P. Rodenhurst 2, B. Hancox 3, A. E. Marshall (cond.) 4, D. Hancox 5, J. Hancox 6. A wedding compliment to Judith Walwyn and Frederick Butler (ringer) married at St. Peter's this day.

THE GOOD COMPANIONS

IF memory does not deceive, it was some mention in discussion of Albion Treble Bob that led us to take down from the shelf an old and rather well-worn copy of "Standard Methods". The handling and the opening of it after a long period of rather unmerited neglect led to the thought that not many years ago this excellent work would have been found in the hands of most budding and ambitious change ringers. Today we do not seem to see it so much, perhaps because the information it gave and the service it provided are both available more readily in other works, publications not in existence when "Standard Methods" was so widely used.

Today we are fortunate in having at hand and at reasonable price a large selection of text books and instruction books. The Central Council publications alone will provide most things that the learner will need, and the more advanced ringer will find in this collection a good reference library. To these are added the private publications, and it is among these that we find two that have come to be regarded as indispensable. One is the "Ringers' Note Book and Diary" and the other Dove's "Guide to the Church Bells of Britain". Both are remarkable productions.

A diary is, of course, a useful thing to have, especially for bell ringers who are constantly making assignments for meetings and peal attempts, outings and belfry commitments. But a mere diary will not be bought in thousands by ringers; there must be, in addition to the calendars and space for weekly entries, features of popular interest and matter that may be used in the practice of the art of change ringing. From the beginning of their enterprise the publishers were fully conscious of these needs, and their perception and skill have produced a remarkable compendium. The sections on the Central Council and the ringing Associations provide a complete tabulation of the Officers, even down to Branch Secretaries. For the lovers of records and statistics there are the tables of first peals and record lengths, lists of the great bells of Britain, and columns for towers visited and peals rung during the year. And, formidable as it may look, there is quite a lot of fun to be got out of the Ready Reckoner for the Rate of Changes per Minute. One of these days Messrs. Viggers and Hodgson may tell us how this wonderful chart was constructed.

But the great appeal of the "Diary" is undoubtedly the two compilations of methods and touches. Probably the best used and the most thumbed of all the pages are those where the Surprise methods are displayed, the course of their work plotted with a clear line, which, rather unconventionally, commences with the eighths-place bell and not, as was customary, with the 2nd. To see the little book spring so readily from the pocket, and to mark the eagerness, one might almost say the avidity, with which it is studied by the young and enterprising ringer, is an invigorating sight at many a ringers' meeting; and it may well be that the popularity and increased practice of the Surprise methods, and the removal of much of the mystery and dread that wrapped them away from many, are due in no small measure to the "Diary".

Mr. R. H. Dove's Guide has now become so familiar to us that we are in danger of overlooking what an amazing book it is. What the Clerical Directory is to the clergy the Guide is to the bell ringer; it might, indeed, be called the Ringers' Crockford. How this detailed survey of the church bells of Britain was planned and organised, and how all this matter was collected, much from remote parts of our land, must impress the thoughtful among us, and one day Mr. Ronald Dove may find time to tell us the story of the conception and birth of his masterpiece.

For masterpiece it undoubtedly is. It has two main parts, the directory of church bells which occupies nearly 140 pages, and a second section of about 50 pages which gives us a summary of rings of bells, a classification of bells in counties, lists of war losses and post-war losses of rings of bells, and even the transfer of bells from one tower to another. To these are added the carillons of the British Isles and the four-bell rings. The whole book, therefore, makes up what we must regard as the completest guide the Exercise has ever had or is likely to have. Here the visitor to a strange district may fortify himself with a pre-knowledge of the bells and ringers he will find; here the peal organiser will be able to study the weight and conditions he and his band will encounter; and he would who would arrange outing or tour will seek first the "Guide" and the information it holds in readiness for his use.

Here then are two valuable publications, the Diary and the Guide, each unique in its own field. Both are taken into towers in town and country, to be studied, consulted and put to practical use in all ringing activities. And at home, in the armchair, they offer fascinating reading and instruction. Both are cheerful and stimulating friends, and well may they be called the Good Companions.

CAMPANOLOGY

By KATHARINE HYDE

(With acknowledgment to the "East Anglian Magazine.")

When Oi were 15, moi Dad 'e say tew me, "Stedman," 'e say (Oi were called Stedman cos moi Dad 'e wer a-ringing a peal when Oi wer borned), "Stedman," 'e say, "time yew larned tew ring them bells. Dew yew go t' tower come Monday and see t' maister."

Oi can't argue along o' moi Dad, so on Monday Oi cloimbed up tower to see what wur a-doing loike. Arter a minute or two win Oi'd had a look round see, Oi got fair dawzled. T'tower maister 'e troid t' explain what they wur a-doing of. Furst 'e say: "Ketch 'old on't sally" and win Oi ketched old on her round t'waist, she didn't half create. 'Ow wur Oi tew know?

Well, we sorted that one out and 'e told me tew pull on't sally and get t'bell arsey up-pards but not tew break t'stays. Well, Oi didn't roightly loike t'arsk wot 'e meant b'that, so Oi pulled. Dang me, but in a minute, there Oi wur a-bobbling around t'tower trying t'catch t'sally and being clipped over t'earhole by t'other end on't rope.

Arter a few toimes Oi got t'hang of it loike and t'maister say: "Toime yew larnt a bit o' method, bor." That wur worse than ever.

We wur a-ringing some toime when he shouted: "Bob." Oi looked round loike and reminded as how Bob say 'e wur agoing to t'Castle fur a pint, so Oi sez: "'e ain't ear." But that wur wrong. Then Maister say: "Stedman, yew take me now." Oi didn't rightly see as how Oi could, 'e being t'other side of tower, so Oi gave that a miss.

Arter that I wur fair dumfuzzled what with being towld tew pull t' roight, thin a whole wrong, to come in slow and what with dodging up and double-dodging down, Oi wur a-playing ring-a-ring a roses round tower in no toime, so when 'e told me tew go out quick . . . Oi win.

THE CHURCH BELLS

By CHRISTINE INMAN

Far and wide, from tower and steeple,
Calling to the sleeping people,
Up now, quickly, don't delay,
For you must come to church today.

Merrily, merrily, ring they round.
Up to the heavens, down to the ground.
Calling the people, far and near,
The morning songs of praise to hear.

Up in the belfry the ringers gasp,
Tail and sally they firmly clasp.
Bob Major, Kent and all the rest,
The Million changes they know best.

And then the church doors open wide,
The congregation streams inside.
The Minister calmly takes his place,
The bells give up their frenzied race.

The evening service comes, and then,
The bells ring clearly out again.
Sounding out in joyous rhyme,
To tell the world it's Vespers time.

Then down they come to lie in peace,
The ringers in their efforts cease.
'Til practice night the bells will be Hung in the belfry silently.

WARNFORD, HANTS.—On Dec. 5th, 1,380 Doubles (12 methods): Maureen White 1, Mary White 2, R. A. Stone 3, K. G. Waller 4, C. E. Bassett (cond.) 5, T. White 6. An engagement compliment to Moira Banham and Terry Priddle.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 25

ELLIS N. THOMAS

Llandaff and Monmouth Association.

FROM the very active ringing circles of South Wales comes news of yet another brilliant youngster in the name of Ellis N. Thomas, who was born on March 14th, 1946, at Neath, Glamorgan.

At the age of eleven Ellis went to Cowbridge Grammar School as a boarding pupil. Certificates at "A" level in physics, chemistry and mathematics were his reward for eight years' hard work and study at this school. This excellent achievement has gained for him a place at Cambridge University, where he is now reading Natural Sciences.

Ellis started his ringing career at the age of 14 at Holy Cross Church, Cowbridge, his tutor being Gareth Jones a lad of his own age, who was also a boarder at Cowbridge Grammar School and member of the now well known band of school ringers.

This band, which consists mainly of school boarders and one master, rings regularly for Sunday services at Llanblethian and Cowbridge during school terms. It is very interesting to note that the service ringing at Cowbridge is shared by the school band and local ringers.

Whilst at home Ellis's valuable services as a ringer are welcomed and enjoyed by the ringers at Cadoxton, Neath, under the watchful eye of that well known Welsh ringing personality Gwyn I. Lewis, whose privilege it was to conduct the first peal for Ellis, which was when he rang the second to Plain Bob Minor at Cadoxton on April 25th, 1962.

Ellis progressed rapidly and successfully with his ringing and in December the following year "The Ringing World" announced his first peal as conductor, rung at St. Bride's Major, Glamorgan. This was a peal in seven methods/variations. The band consisted entirely of boarders from the Grammar School—five boys and one master, Mr. I. Davies. At the same church on June 6th the following year he conducted a record peal for the Association. This consisted of 31 methods and 15 variations, the greatest number of methods for the Association. All the inside ringers in this peal were boarders at the school.

Ellis, together with several youngsters from the school, was responsible just over a year ago for establishing regular ringing at Llanblethian, near Cowbridge, where the bells had been silent for many years. Provision of ropes presented the greatest difficulty in their task of getting the bells in ringing order, but this was eventually overcome by the kind and generous gift of six new ropes by an anonymous donor. In the same year Ellis and his school band made news at another tower which contained a rough-going light six. This was when they rang a peal of Plain Bob Doubles at Pendoyland, Glamorgan, on July 8th, 1964, conducted by Paul M. Evans.

This is indeed a noteworthy record and deserves a great deal of credit from the Exercise. Congratulations to you, Ellis, and may you very soon accomplish two things—increase your total of some 30 peals to 50, and conduct your first peal of Stedman Triples, NORVING.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Eastern District

The winter quarterly meeting was held jointly with the Beverley and District Society on December 11th, ringing taking place at Kirk Ella in the afternoon with tea and business meeting being held at Cottingham, where also the evening ringing took place.

The novelty of the tea at Cottingham was hot soup to precede salad and an abundant supply of cakes. This innovation seems to be catching in the East Riding at a time of year when it is most welcome.

In case anyone should get the wrong idea from a recent report in "The Ringing World," the Rev. F. Ross was seen to be consuming large quantities of "tea" from a half-pint mug especially provided by the Cottingham ladies!

A warm welcome to the two Societies was given by the Rector before the business meeting, at which seven new members were elected to the Yorkshire Association. A proposition to hold the next quarterly meeting as joint with the Selby and District on April 2nd was carried.

A successful and happy gathering concluded with further ringing at Cottingham. R. D.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

North Dorset Branch

The annual meeting of the Branch took place at Sherborne on December 11th and was attended by 40 ringers, including visitors from Berkshire and Somerset. Ringing on the Abbey bells included Grandsire and Stedman Triples and a course of Plain Bob Major. During the service the Vicar, Canon S. B. Wingfield Digby, outlined the history of the Abbey bells—that formerly they had been rung from the floor, and that there were two extra bells in the tower, the fire bell, now never used, and the sanctus bell, in regular use.

The following elections were made: The Rev. R. G. Chaffey Moore, chairman; the Rev. R. A. Wells, vice-chairman; the Rev. R. N. Longridge, hon. secretary; Ringing Masters, Mrs. M. Godley, Messrs. W. C. Shute, B. Ridout and A. Woods; committee members, Miss H. Julius and Mr. E. Chant. Subject to consents, 1966 meetings would be held at Stourpaine, Maiden Bradley, Yetminster and Mere. R. N. L.

THE RAVING RINGERS' SUMMER TOUR

THE ninth annual summer tour of the Society of Raving Ringers was held this year in Lancashire and West Yorkshire. On Saturday, July 24th, some ten Ravers made their way to Stoke-on-Trent, where an enjoyable hour was spent at St. Peter ad Vincula's. Unfortunately, several of the Hertfordshire contingent had car trouble and were unable to participate in the first two days of the tour.

From Stoke we travelled by minibus along the M.6 towards Skipton, West Yorkshire, our base for the week's tour. On the way up, Chris ("Jim") Clarke demonstrated his driving ability on the motorway by actually overtaking two cars with the minibus and once managed to get into the third lane! At Skipton the party quickly took over the boarding house in which we were to stay and had the first "beer-up" at Appletreewick.

On Sunday morning we learned that Chris Clarke had difficulty in getting into bed the previous night as the "saboteurs" had "apple-pied" his bed. We rang at Gargrave for morning service and went on a sight-seeing tour through Kilnsey Craig. After lunch in Settle we visited very pleasant sixes at Milnthorpe and Heversham in Westmorland. Evening ringing was arranged at Ambleside and afterwards many remained at the service while others roamed along the side of Lake Windermere. Supper that evening was at Kendal.

Monday's programme opened on the pleasant ring at Kildwick, where we encountered Yorkshire tail-ends. An hour and a quarter at Bradford Cathedral was most enjoyable. Methods rung included Cambridge Royal, Stedman and Grandsire Caters. Following lunch in Bradford, we made our way towards Halifax. Haley Hill was visited first and these bells, although pleasant in tone, were not too easy to handle. Then followed the good 12 at St. John the Baptist's, but unfortunately we did not make the most of our visit. However, Grandsire Cinques came round successfully.

PETROL SIPHONED

At Mytholmroyd I was surprised to hear only seven bells ringing and later discovered that one of the ropes had been taken off. Fortunately the incumbent gave us the key to the bell chamber and soon this pleasant eight were ringing once more. Our final tower of the day was Keighley's, and a fast course of Quedgeley was included in our repertoire. These bells go extremely well. Outside Keighley Church Chris Clarke discovered some kind person had siphoned half the tank of petrol from the minibus. While Chris wandered off with Keith Walpole to fetch some petrol the rest of the party spent an enjoyable half-hour in a nearby ale-house. Supper was taken at Anderton's Grill in Skipton.

Tuesday was spent in Lancashire, the visit being arranged by Ted Venn (one of our up-and-coming youngsters). A start was made on the inaudible ground-floor eight at Colne, and following this we rang at St. Peter's, Burnley. Rutland came round nicely but London just would not go. Our journey took us to the tranquillity and charm of Accrington! The easy-going eight here provided us with a new type of tail-end, which we appropriately called the "Lancashire end." Some took lunch in the Chinese way, while Jim Linnell and associates preferred the Whitbread way.

BLACKBURN CATHEDRAL

At Oswaldtwistle we rang our first touch of spliced of the tour on the excellent eight. Darwin provided interest in that the stay on the second was broken. At Blackburn Cathedral we again suffered from a missing rope on the ninth. Finally we managed to raise all the bells and decided to stick to Caters as the tenor proved to be rather a handful. However, we enjoyed our ring immensely. Outside the Cathedral Ted Venn managed to get himself entangled with a "No Parking" sign, much to the amusement of our photographers.

Our final tower on Tuesday was at Whalley where the bells were described by a certain Leeds gentleman as being "out of this world." However, as in all walks of life, opinions vary, although I was personally very impressed with their fine tone. Supper was taken at the Starkie Arms in Clitheroe.

Barry Davis, another up-and-coming youngster, had given up his post as navigator, and our new man, Barry ("Basher") Saunders, succeeded in making an excellent substitute. Unfortunately, that night he made a habit of taking the minibus down a certain lay-by.

Ringling on Wednesday commenced at Ilkley where Spliced Grandsire and Stedman Triples came round nicely. At Otley we found that the short draught enabled us to ring at North Oxfordshire pace. However, other members present still preferred the "Helmdon Beat."

Our first duty on arriving at Harrogate was to stop for lunch. Mike Coleman here managed to break the Society's pork-pie eating record. We were very pleased to ring on the recently installed and delightful 12 cwt. eight at St. Peter's, Harrogate.

The light eight at Collingham were next on the agenda and here the "Collingham Flyers" were quickly inaugurated. Their show-piece was a course of Yorkshire in under four minutes. It was here that we were met by a fine old gentleman who gave us a demonstration of how to ring with rheumatism.

We found the eight at Wetherby to be of average quality and after a short stay made our way to Guiseley, where the locals were waiting for us. This was Barry Davis's 600th tower and he duly turned the tenor in to celebrate the occasion. Fortunately he did not fall through the crack in the tenor box!

Our last tower of the day was Bingley, where the bells were a little odd-struck, but some reasonable Superlative came round. The bed saboteurs were again active, their victims being Jim Linnell and Barry Saunders. These two irate ringers flew up the stairs to punish the three saboteurs. One of these was caught but the other two managed to escape and sought refuge in Jennifer Sceeny's wardrobe.

AT LANCASTER

On Thursday we once more returned to Westmorland and our first tower was at Kirkby Lonsdale, the home tower of one of our members. The weather again changed for the worse but the judge for our annual striking competition managed to survive the down-pour. The Premier Guild contingent were once more declared the champions.

Following Kirkby we again returned to Lancashire, in fact to Lancaster. The ten at the R.C. Cathedral we did not consider to be exceptional: here Father Michael O'Coleman, a well-known clerical ringer, greeted us.

After lunch we rang on the heavy eight at St. Mary's, Lancaster. These are very pleasant but not the best of bells to strike. We were surprised to see that a peal of Bob Major had been rung here in three hours and four minutes, which must have been some feat. The eight at Scorton were "goers" but Jim Linnell found the tenor "too heavy to rise." The eight at Bilsborrow provided an opportunity for good ringing and a fine course of Bristol was included here.

The six at Goosnargh were visited in the evening and here another striking contest was held. At the last tower of the day, Downham (5), a rope broke and so our stay was somewhat curtailed. Meanwhile Chris Clarke had some difficulty with a Lancashire bus driver, who could not "get bus on't patch." Finally with all troubles settled we returned to the Starkie Arms, Clitheroe, for supper.

TECHNICAL FAULT

Friday's ringing commenced at Christ Church, Todmorden. We thoroughly enjoyed the pleasant eight and time was allowed here for the official tour photograph. Unfortunately, due to a technical fault, no photo of suitable quality was obtained. The eight at Shore followed. After a lunch of cheese and pickles in Rochdale we rang at Milnrow, where we included a course of Pudsey. At Healey we were joined by several ringers from a peal tour party. The bells are an extremely fine ring of six.

Whitworth Parish Church is situated at the top of a hill and is approached by an extremely narrow, twisting road. However the climb is well worth the effort and the eight bells are very good. From here we went to Christ Church, Bacup, but unfortunately were not too keen on the tone of the bells. An appropriate course of Oxford T.B. Major was rung. Evening ringing included two towers—the pleasant six at Waterfoot and the odd-struck eight at Newchurch in Rossendale, where we managed a reasonable course of London.

IN AND AROUND LEYLAND

Saturday soon came round and this was to be the last full day's ringing. Clitheroe Parish Church possesses a crooked spire, also it possesses a fine ring of eight. We enjoyed our visit here immensely. The noisy eight at Samlesbury close by the M.6 followed. During a touch here one ringer became entangled with a flypaper. Following a traditional Whittlebury lunch of cheese and pickles, we visited Preston Parish Church, where we were met by Mr Cyril Crossthwaite.

Due to difficulty in finding our next tower our visit to St. James', Leyland, was unfortunately shortened. A full hour's ring was undertaken on the excellent ten at St. Andrew's, Leyland and ringing concluded with a course of Yorkshire Royal.

From Leyland we made our way to Whittle-le-Woods, which is not to be confused with Whittle-le-Bury. Our ringing on the grand eight included a touch of Erin Triples with Ted Venn in control. Unfortunately half an hour later we were still ringing the same touch!

Following a ring on the six at Brindle we went to Walton-le-Dale, where we concluded our ringing for the day. Supper was again taken at the Starkie Arms, Clitheroe.

Sunday, August 1st, was the last day of the tour and our final duty was to ring at Skipton for morning service. We certainly could not have chosen a finer eight on which to conclude yet another successful Ravers' tour.

May 1, on behalf of the whole Society, thank all tower captains and incumbents who met us on this tour, and also Ted Venn and Chris Clarke for making such a fine job of the arrangements.

The company consisted of C. C. Clarke (Master), M. W. Coleman (Ringing Master), Miss G. M. Brearley, B. J. Davis, J. Linnell, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Reeves, G. J. Ridgeway, B. E. Saunders, Miss J. Sceeny, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith, E. R. Venn and K. J. Walpole.

Next year we hope to have our old Master, Ron Russ, back with us from down under. The '66 tour is in Cornwall.

OUTING

THE VALLEYS OF THE MEON AND ROTHER

Mr. J. C. Sawtell with a band of ringers from Battersea, Twickenham and other towers had an outing on November 13th, when 16 towers in and around the valleys of the Meon and Rother were visited.

Included in the programme were a number of four-bell towers, and at Lodsworth the Rev. John Green, Vicar, not only greeted the visitors but rang with them. Lunch was taken at Midhurst and tea at Petersfield. One of the party, Derrick, is shortly going to the West Indies; another, named Anne, has recently been to Australia and she enlightened the band with a not unfavourable comparison of the colour of the village duckpond at Buriton with that of some Australian rivers.

An interesting tower was St. Bartholomew's, Rogate. The little turret here seems hardly sufficient to contain even an eight cwt. six but, once inside, four great wooden columns springing from almost floor level tell a different story. Ringing ended on the pleasing 11 cwt. eight at St. Mary's, Easebourne.

Letters to the Editor

GOOD STANDARD METHODS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Wycherley, in his letter on the quality of standard methods, asks several questions which are much easier to ask than to answer.

His suggestions that worthy candidates to be rung as standard methods should have a musical plain course a variety of available compositions, and be not too difficult to ring seem eminently reasonable, and apply to many existing methods that have already been rung to peals—and yet these methods are seldom rung at practices or at meetings.

Standard methods have been defined as "those methods which a competent ringer may at any time need when he goes to a ringing meeting or into a strange belfry."

There have been many attempts in the past to define what constitutes a good method—certainly Sir A. P. Heywood, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies and J. A. Trollope (to name but a few) have written much on the subject. Yet it is probably true to say that there has been very little change in the repertoire of standard methods in the lifetime of present-day ringers—despite the enormous increase in the numbers of new methods being rung in recent years. True methods such as London and Bristol are more commonly rung than they were (but this is due to an improvement in general standards rather than to any change of popularity), and Yorkshire tends to replace Superlative; but for the rest—Plain Bob Grandsire, Stedman, Treble Bob (declining), Double Norwich and Cambridge still remain.

The reasons for this continuity are many and varied. One, of course, is the inherent conservatism built into the definition of standard methods. Tomorrow's beginners learn the methods that are being rung today and ringers equip themselves with the methods they expect to be rung at the meetings they attend.

But this is only part of the answer. It does not explain why the existing standard methods came to be adopted. I would hazard a guess that this can be accounted for by a combination in varying degrees of the following qualities: simplicity, maintenance of coursing order, musical qualities of the method, abundance of short musical touches, variety and interest in the ringing, and ease of extension to higher numbers of bells.

It would be impossible of course to get a general consensus of agreement amongst ringers on what constitutes a musical method. In any case, the music of change ringing is based on rhythm rather than melody—and so it follows that any method well struck will be more musical than one which is badly struck. But, as I have suggested, music is by no means the only (or even the first) consideration in the popularity poll of methods. Simplicity, Interest (as opposed to monotony), Variety (both in rhythm and work) and Complexity—all play a part. And it would be even more difficult to get agreement on these qualities.

Mr. Wycherley is not the first, nor will he be the last, to condemn Cambridge. It was condemned by the experts at the turn of the century as being everything that a method should not be. Yet it is still—despite its obvious limitations—one of the most widely rung of the Surprise methods. I don't think it is just apathy that accounts for it.

I must point out that I am not criticising Mr. Wycherley's point of view. Indeed, I agree with much that he says, but I feel he is being too naive to suggest that we should "democratically decide in our standard methods" and "reject our hide-bound traditions."

I conclude with a quotation from J. A. Trollope: "Many writers and eminent men have told us in the past what should be good methods and what should be bad ones. Many have prophesied the advent of some new method which was to take its place among the standard ones and almost always the event has confounded the prophet. There is but one safe test, and that is the general experience and tradition of the Exercise throughout the centuries. Not what ringers have written and said, but what they have done and what has resulted from it."

ST. DAVID'S GUILD COMING-OF-AGE

Dear Sir,—It may be of interest to many of our friends to know that 1966 is the 21st anniversary of the St. David's Diocesan Guild. It was formed on September 29th, 1945, at Carmarthen, being a break-away from the Swansea and Brecon Guild. Our firmest friends ever since have been the members of the Swansea and Brecon Guild, and it may surprise many of them to learn that 21 years have passed since we left them.

Surely one of the smallest Diocesan Guilds ever formed, with only 11 towers ringable and four unringable, it stretches from Llanbadarn Fawr in North Cardiganshire to Llandovery in North East Carmarthenshire and down to Llanelly in East Carmarthenshire, taking in the whole of Pembrokeshire. Even today it consists of only 13 ringable towers. It has never been a great peal ringing Guild but nevertheless always an active one, and at the moment has never been more active, with 85 ringing members, 37 probationary and six honorary. Many of the old founder members have passed on, including our late secretary for 15 years C. H. Hawkins, of Llanelly, who, together with Mr. B. Rees, of Burryport, was the mainstay of the Guild in its earlier years. Another founder member was A. P. Cannon, then a staff-sergeant at a local Army camp, and it was he who conducted the first quarter peal (Grandsire Triples) to commemorate the occasion at St. David's Cathedral on September 30th, 1945. The footnote reads: "Conducted by A. P. Cannon—rung by candlelight to commemorate the founding of the St. David's Diocesan Guild of Bellringers at Carmarthen on September 29th, 1945."

Our very great friend of that time, Bishop Prosser of St. David's and Archbishop of Wales, presented the Guild with a shield of a silver bell for competition annually within the Guild. For many of us this was our introduction to Mr. F. Sharpe, who regularly adjudicates our striking competition year after year; a competition which has been held since 1947 and remains ever popular.

I could go on and on with the story of our small Guild but the original idea of this letter was to inform all our friends of our coming-of-age and what an important landmark it is to us.—Yours sincerely,

A. F. WALTERS.

Cardigan.

KINGSTON, DORSET.—On Dec. 7th, 1280 Cambridge Surprise Major: Ruth A. Elmes 1, M. J. Young (first of Surprise Major) 2, J. L. Cloughton 3, P. Keough 4, W. T. Perrins 5, J. W. Blackwood 6, P. MUSIC OF GRANDSIRE CATERS UNSURPASSED

Dear Sir,—May I be permitted to pen a few lines in reply to Mr. David Marshall's letter on Grandsire.

The context of his letter clearly shows an attitude of "because I don't like it, it's rubbish," and whilst I agree with Mr. Marshall when he states that Grandsire is a "back-water" method not leading to higher things, I would point out that this can equally apply to Double Norwich and Stedman, and who would dare decry the beauty of these methods.

To return to Grandsire, however, I consider the music of Grandsire Caters to be unsurpassed where ten bells are concerned, and as for the peal of Grandsire Royal at Daventry, I'm sure the band, although capable perhaps of Yorkshire or London, thoroughly enjoyed themselves in producing what was quite likely an excellently struck peal producing fine music throughout.

I am writing this letter just prior to proceeding to my parish church, where I and seven other competent ringers will be attempting a peal of Grandsire Triples. Providing the ringing is good, I shall enjoy it every bit as much as if we were attempting Spliced Surprise.

Everyone is entitled to his or her own opinion, Mr. Marshall, but please do not decry others who derive great pleasure from such a "base" method.

Finally, I would challenge you to come to Devon, stand in with a call change band and ring as faultlessly as they as, in my experience, there are a large majority of Surprise method ringers who have not a clue as to how good ringing should sound.—Yours sincerely,

ROBERT A. SOUTHWOOD.

Plympton, Devon.

FAMILY PEALS OF CINQUES

Dear Sir,—With Mr. John Anderson's interesting recollections of the performances by the Goffton family, let us ponder awhile on the great feats of the famous brothers Bailey.

In this remarkable family were eleven boys, at least nine of them became ringers. All brothers' peals on tower bells were Bob Major, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge. On handbells Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, Kent Treble Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, Oxford Treble Bob Major and Royal, Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, and Double Norwich.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN G. NASH.

Muswell Hill, London.

PASSING OF AN ANCIENT BELL FRAME

Dear Sir,—The Great Hospital, Norwich, possesses a mediæval frame for four bells. They were taken from it, so it is said, at the dissolution of the monasteries. Henry VIII tried to pillage the Hospital itself as a monastic foundation, but the stout-hearted Norwich authorities withstood the King, and the Hospital still fulfils its function as a home for old people in beautiful and historic surroundings.

The frame is in such a state of decay that it is agreed by the Great Hospital authorities, the architect and the builders that it must be taken down. Its remains are far too large for transfer to a museum, and it is felt that portions will not be worth exhibiting.

Anyone who would like to take full responsibility for its moving from site and subsequent housing could make an offer. I imagine there will be no competition! Any regret at its passing is tempered by the fact that an isometric drawing of it appears in my "Church Bells and Ringers of Norwich."—Yours sincerely,

GILBERT THURLOW.

MR. REUBEN SANDERS AN APPRECIATION

Reuben Sanders was born in the country but for sixty years had been living in London. As a ringer, he was first attached to the tower of St. George-in-the-East in 1906, although very soon moving to All Saints', Poplar. For the last forty years he had been a member of the St. Margaret's, Westminster, band, under the evergreen captaincy of William H. Hewett. The Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild has lost a valued member and loyal friend for, since the early years of this century, Reuben had displayed the assets of a complete ringer by his conduct, quiet personality, punctuality, reliability and team spirit. There was no one to better him for handling and striking a bell, and to him goes a full share of the credit for building up the good name and tradition which this Association enjoys.

His first peal—rung for this Association—was on the treble at Christ Church, Cubitt Town, on August 3rd, 1907, and his last peal—also rung for this Association—was on the sixth at St. Margaret's, Westminster, on January 11th, 1964, and it was rung on the eve of his 90th birthday. This was the last of a series of birthday peals of Stedman Caters which started in 1957. Reuben's peal total exceeded 650 and just over 450 of these were rung for the Middlesex Association. He was one of the "great" heavy-bell ringers as his records at Exeter Cathedral, Waltham Abbey and St. Mary-le-Bow will testify, being mostly under the conductorship of the late William Pye.

He led a long, fruitful and faithful life, and there is no doubt that we have been wiser for his presence and now poorer for his passing. We extend our sympathy to his widow two daughters and their families. T. J. L.

MR. A. PADDON SMITH

The funeral of Mr. A. Paddon Smith, who died at the age of 84 on December 7th, took place at St. Mary's Church, Handsworth, Birmingham, on December 11th. The congregation included the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Birmingham. During the service a course of Grandsire Caters was rung by members of the St. Martin's Guild: J. A. Ainsworth (Ringing Master), F. W. Perrens (vice-president), R. C. Ingram (Master), F. E. Haynes (vice-president), G. E. Fearn (secretary). Afterwards a touch of 408 Stedman Triples was rung in the tower, the band being completed by Messrs. H. H. Fearn, S. O'C. Holloway and B. D. A. Woolley.

Thus another notable ringer who helped to bring distinction to Birmingham and to St. Martin's during the first half of this century has left us. From 1909 to 1929 he was secretary of St. Martin's Guild, and on numerous occasions afterwards he was Master, also a trustee and vice-president. As chairman of a meeting or at the "Henry Johnson" dinner he was first-class, and his speeches were always forthright, eloquent and entertaining. These qualities were perhaps to be expected in one who for many years was an influential member of the City Council and was honoured by being elected Lord Mayor of Birmingham in 1951-2. From the Guild's point of view "Paddon's" year of office as Lord Mayor was noteworthy on two counts: first, we were all entertained to tea at the Council House for the annual meeting, and, secondly, a peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells was rung in the "Parlour," with the Lord Mayor himself ringing the tenors, on Sunday, April 22nd, 1951.

THE LATE MR. A. PADDON SMITH

His many peals included a "century" on the bells of St. Martin's and several in other parts of the country, one being at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside. From 1921-53 he was a member of the Central Council, mostly with Albert Walker as his colleague; according to the accounts their expenses always totalled exactly one pound! After his exertions as Lord Mayor his health deteriorated and he did very little ringing, but in 1954 he rang the treble, presented in memory of his wife, to Stedman Triples at the dedication of the recast ring of eight at Handsworth.

"Paddon" was a splendid ringer, a beautiful "handler" and a perfect striker, who always set a very high standard and expected others to do the same. On Sunday mornings at St. Martin's he especially enjoyed ringing the eleventh, but very rarely indeed on any bell did he make the slightest error in the customary Stedman Cinques which he stoutly maintained to be "the best music obtainable on church bells." He inspired us all to give of our best and although at times his criticisms may have appeared somewhat severe yet his praise was correspondingly generous. A fine photograph hangs in the ringing chamber, seemingly watching over the proceedings as he himself did for so long, to remind the present and future generations of ringers of an outstanding figure of the past. ROTHERHAM, YORKS.—On Dec. 2nd, 1,282 Cambridge Surprise Royal: D. G. French 1, Jessa Hollis 2, Mrs. E. Chaddock 3, R. Tibbets 4, J. Chaddock 5, Kathleen Higgins 6, N. Donovan 7, R. French 8, S. Armeson 9, N. Chaddock (cond.) 10 First of Cambridge Royal 2, 4 and 6.

MR. FRANK C. SMITH

Few ringers may have heard of Mr. Frank Smith, of Langham, near Colchester, but he lived one of those quiet lives that many might envy. His home was a trim thatched cottage overlooking the lovely Stour Valley, and ah his working life he was gardener at Langham Hall. Adjoining the Hall is the church, set in a wood, where John Constable climbed the cobbled tower to paint his picture of Dedham Vale.

Frank was taught to ring here in 1896 by his father and when his father died Frank took over the captaincy of the tower a post he held until his death, after a short illness, on December 14th, at the age of 83.

He was an unobtrusive member of the Essex Association for over 60 years, and always attended District meetings when transport made it possible. The Essex Association honoured him with life membership in 1961. It could be said that his life was the church, as he was also sexton and sidesman and was for a time on the Church Council. But his chief joy was with the bells, and he managed to keep a hand together in a small village—no mean feat. He was buried in Langham churchyard immediately after which the bells were rung half-muffled by the local band F. H. E.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Southern District Nomination Meeting

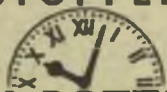

Despite the discouragement on December 4th of bad weather and a good afternoon's sport on TV, Surrey ringers travelled from far and wide to the Southern District nomination meeting at Dorking. Ringing commenced early and Stedman and Cambridge were soon achieved. The Association service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. Roundhill, assisted by the organist Mr. D. Swinburn.

Tea was served in the adjacent Church Hall, and Miss Clear and her helpers were thanked. The District Master, Mr. T. Bird presided at the business meeting, when J. Nicholson (Charlwood) and J. Laver (Redhill) were elected members. Mr. T. Bird announced that he was not standing again for Master owing to increasing business commitments and he was thanked for the work he had done over the last two years. Nominations for 1966 were as follows: Master, A. Streeter; hon. District secretary, K. Game; assistant secretary, I. Wickens; committee (three required), T. Bird, W. Dunn, D. Little and G. West; hon. auditor M. A. Northover.

A collection for the Belfry Repair Fund amounted to £1 9s. 4d and Mr W. Parrott canvassed support from members for advertisers for the cover of the annual report. At a price of £5 per page he thought the cost was certainly competitive.

Mention was made of the three successful practices held at Reigate and these are to be continued under the supervision of the District Master. An invitation to Merstham on January 12th was accepted, and in anticipation of the support it should receive the practice will start at 7 p.m.

The Master closed the meeting with votes of thanks. Ringing continued, including a near perfect plain course of London, C. H. C.

BELFRY GOSSIP

We are planning to publish at an early date a supplement to the "Collection of Doubles Methods" prepared by Roy H. Jones, of Marston, Oxford, and Geoffrey Dodd.

Christ Church College Bellringing Society,
Canterbury, has now been in being three years. This week's quarter peal was to mark the end of final teaching practice. We hope that this does not herald a general departure.

"The Church of England Newspaper" in its issue of December 17th gave a review of Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson's book "Change Ringing" entitled "The Exercise," written by the Editor of our journal.

A peal we liked receiving was that from Wigtoft, Lincs, where four of the band rang their first peal (Minor in three methods).
Congratulations to the conductor, Albert E.
Flatters

After the peal of Yorkshire at Redenhall,
Norfolk, ended, Miss Angela Wright revealed that she had never struck a blow in the method before lest she might be delegated to the treble.
She rang a difficult bell most creditably, writes the conductor, David E. House, to score her first of Surprise Major.

Through a typographical error the Christmas greeting of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Harding was set up as Mr. and Mrs. P. Harding. The error is regretted. The greeting and best wishes for Christmas and the New Year is especially to ringing friends who are members of the Winchester and Portsmouth and Sussex Guilds, and was sent by Mr. and Mrs.
S. J. Harding, of 25, Glamorgan Road,
Catherington, Portsmouth.

"THE BELLRINGERS' HANDBOOK"

For the use of American handbell ringers, Nancy Poore Tufts has written "The Bellringers' Handbook," which is for tune ringers a combination of "The Ringers' Notebook" and the Central Council's "Beginners' Handbook for Change Ringers."

Pages are devoted to personal records—not only the ringing choir but bell director's name, bell choir mother's name, chaperones' or sponsors' names. Blank pages are reserved for schedule of services, programmes and festivals, bell choir events, handbell repertoire and signature piece.

A comprehensive description is given of almost everything appertaining to a handbell, from its fittings (with diagrams) and maintenance, to ringing a bell, the tremulando, volume control, dampening and meetings. A chapter is devoted to the fundamentals of written music with notation reminders for reference. Care, storage and transportation of handbells is another useful chapter as well as general rules of courtesy, common sense and fair play.

Two chapters of general interest are "What every bellringer should know about bells in general" and "Change Ringing." The miscellaneous information seems more varied than the contents of most of our elementary books and includes bell foundries, bell organisations, bell publications, books about bells and foreign terms for bells, i.e.: Belgian, Dutch = Klokken; Chinese = Tsiang-tsiang; East Indian = Ghanta, drilbu; French = Cloche; Gaelic = Clog; German = Glocke; Greek = Kampana, kouthane; Italian = Campana, nola; Japan = Rin; Portuguese = Sino.

"The Bellringers' Handbook" we feel would appeal to handbell choirs in this country. It is published by Harold Flammer, music publishers, 251, West 19th Street, New York 11, N.Y.

YOUTH TO THE FORE

The secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, Mr. M. J. Pryor, and his daughter, Mary Pryor, joined six members of the Cowbridge Grammar School Society for a peal of Bob Major at Penarth on December 11th. Chris Ricketts, by successfully calling this peal, beat Nicholas Simon's record of being the youngest to call Major for the Association. The other two 14-year-olds, John Alexander and Robert MacPherson, rang well also, and Robert, on the fourth, was especially to be commended, as the peal was his first touch of Major.

HUNTINGTON (YORK) GUILD

The coffee evening held at 28, Greenacres, Huntington, on December 10th, raised the sum of £12 2s. 4d. (after deduction of expenses) towards the cost of a set of handbells for the Guild. Thanks are accorded to all who supported the effort so generously, in particular the York Minster Society, who were represented by their president and hon. secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beanland, for their kind hospitality, the St. John's College Bellringers' Society for their skilful demonstration of handbell ringing, and the Guild members who entertained with songs and recitations.

SOUTH MYMMS RINGERS' GUILD

The Archdeacon of Hampstead and Miss Pink were guests of honour at the third annual dinner of the St. Giles' South Mymms, Guild of Ringers held at the Wagon and Horses, South Mymms.

The guests were welcomed by the secretary, Mr. G. W. Sillis, and the Archdeacon responded with a toast to the ringers. He mentioned his liking for bells, although not a ringer himself. The Archdeacon has been instrumental in rehanging the eight bells at his former church, St. John at Hackney.

The loving cup was passed round the assembled company in memory of Joan Bruce Robinson. Mr. R. Owen, captain of the ringers, replied to the toast.

Handbells were then rung. Mr. and Mrs. G. Dodds and Miss B. M. Goodspeed rang a touch of Bob Minor, and the local band rang some carols. An enjoyable evening was had by all.

FIRST PEAL AFTER 91 YEARS

The peal at St. Mark's, Preston, Lancs, on December 9th, was a rarity, being the first on the bells for 91 years. The reason is that the bells are hung as high as possible in a slender tower and in consequence there is considerable movement when they are rung. Handling is rather difficult and they are "definitely not ladies' bells." The rest of the band, therefore, would like to congratulate 16-year-old Jane Reynolds on the way she rang the second bell under these circumstances.

SPICE AT 11

Stephen Munday, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Munday, of Pudsey, who is a member of the Bradford Cathedral band, has taken part in his first peal of Spiced Surprise Major (Lincolnshire, Yorkshire and Cambridge) with 134 changes of method. To accomplish this at the age of 11 places him in the forefront of our young ringers. "Of course, he rang very well," comments the conductor, Vernon Bottomley.

MERTHYR TYDFIL TENOR

For a long time when ringers asked to ring on the 20 cwt. eight at Merthyr Tydfil they were told that only the front seven could be rung as the tenor was unringable—£400 was needed to put it right, they were informed. It was not until October this year, however, that the matter was fully investigated. Three Llandaff ringers travelled to Merthyr and inspected the frame and tenor; no fault could be found and so the bell was tied and rung up, after permission was asked and given. It was found to go very well indeed—as might be expected of an 1896 Taylor bell. Next a practice was held and everyone there was delighted by the tone and handling qualities of the ring. The ring is now in a perfect condition—stays and ropes have been fitted—and a peal of Yorkshire Major is to be attempted on Christmas Eve.

Any visiting bands are welcome, as the more the bells are rung the better; however, peal attempts will be limited, as the tower is very close to a high block of flats.

FIFTY YEARS AFTER

The families of Hibberts and Whites, whose ancestors made much ringing history in the past, came back to Caversham on December 4th, 1965, to mark a special anniversary. It was on this day 50 years before, that Bill Hibbert rang the treble here to Grandsire Triples, his first peal. This had been arranged to celebrate the golden wedding of his grandparents, so it was most appropriate that members of the two families, with friends, should meet here again to ring another peal.

John Chilcott rang the tenor, reminding us of the great friendship which existed between the famous Appleton band and the late Bert Langdon and other worthies of the College Youths. Reg and Bryn added a little West Country colour to the band.

Mr. Lanaghan, Ringing Master, met the party and had everything in readiness, including having the peal book open at the page recording the peal 50 years before.

The anniversary duly marked, with another peal called by young John Hibbert, a short stop was made for refreshments and then a return to Appleton to the usual Saturday practice and it was very stimulating to see the latest Appleton recruits making good progress, and helping to ensure continuity in this famous tower. The company and fare at the Plough seemed better than ever and brought a memorable day to a close.

Sunday duties included the privilege of assisting with ringing at Christ Church, Oxford, and Cumnor later. Back in East Ilsey the warmth of greetings and sharing the family gathering was, as always a reminder of the magic for ringers of the Berkshire Downs. To Bill Hibbert of course it is coming home, and a special homecoming this anniversary.

In the belfry of the village church hang many interesting peal boards; one carried such famous names as the Rev. Cyril Jenkyn, Herbert Landon Challis Winney, R. T. Hibbert—and William Hibbert junior rang the treble!

An opening touch of Stedman Triples for Evensong would have pleased any of those worthies who are no longer with us. How they would have rejoiced with us, too, that 100 years after the wedding of her grandparents here, Patricia was playing the organ for Evensong, another Hibbert in the choir, a ringer and chorister reading the lessons, and a congregation swelled by several of us meeting to give thanks for the pleasure and friendships which perhaps only ringing affords. W. H. C.

DAUGHTERS' QUARTER WITH FATHER

History was made at Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, on December 9th, when the captain, Mr. J. P. Sims, rang a quarter of Grandsire with his two daughters Sylvia and Patricia. "This was without doubt," writes H. H. T., "the first quarter by Plymouth ringers during between 300 and 400 years of ringing in the city, where a father and two daughters took part. There have been other combinations as when the late Mr. G. H. Myers, of St. Andrew's, was alive. He and his three sons rang many quarters and peals together. There have been two brothers, two sisters, husband and wife and other relatives together in quarters at Emmanuel since the last war."

NINETY, AND STILL GOING STRONG

Probably the oldest ringer in Cornwall is Mr. William Wood, of Gulval, Penzance, who celebrated his 90th birthday on Friday, December 17th, and we join in, somewhat belatedly, the many congratulations extended to him by members of the Truro Diocesan Guild.

Mr. Wood, who has been ringing for nearly 80 years, is still an active and regular member of the Gulval band, of which for many years he was captain. He has done much to further the art of method ringing in the county.

LATE NEWS

The attempt for the record length of 17,248 Yorkshire Surprise Major at Accrington on December 18th was successful. The peal was accomplished in 9 hours 6 minutes. Congratulations to all who took part.
