    # EDWIN AND OLIVE BARNETT

    By Canon Gilbert Thurlow

    (President of the Central Council)

    THE Exercise is served today by a large and increasing number of brilliant personalities. Outstanding amongst these is Edwin Barnett, who, with Olive his wife, has rendered such signal service as Secretary and Treasurer of the Central Council during these last fourteen years.

    As a ringer, his career has been remarkable, indeed. First and foremost, like his father and grandfather before him, he has devoted himself to his own parish church. Saint Paulinus, who proclaimed the Gospel in Kent many centuries ago, must surely rejoice at the way in which the bells of his church at Crayford, rung by the Barnetts and their fellow ringers, proclaim it today. Teddy's father has rung there for sixty-five years, and his grandfather rang there for forty-three years.

    Teddy Barnett, born in 1918, rang his first peal at the age of eleven. When he was twelve he conducted a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major. By the time he was thirteen he had rung peals of Surprise Major in the four standard methods, and had conducted a peal of Cambridge Major from a working bell. How proud his grandfather must have been of him on that day - the last peal in which Grandfather rang. At fourteen he was ringing peals of Spliced Surprise Major and Cambridge Royal. At fifteen he was conducting peals of Yorkshire and Pudsey, and at seventeen he was calling peals of Bristol. He conducted the first peals ever rung of Painswick, College and Pulford Bob, Erith, Little Bob Royal and Canterbury Pleasure Triples.

    On handbells he was equally brilliant and his peals include 6,240 and 13,664 Double Norwich, which is the record. In the field of composition he has distinguished himself by producing many fine compositions, and his knowledge of the subject is immense.

    During the last war he served in the R.A.F. and at its conclusion was attached to the Air Ministry. Illness has curtailed his peal ringing activity, but he is still as active as possible in this direction. Meanwhile his services to the Exercise were developing in other directions. He was elected to the Central Council in 1945 as Kent County Association representative, and served on the Biographies, Methods, and Peals Collection Committees.

    Apart from this brilliant record - well summarised by Jafus in a previous 'Ringing World' - I, like all Central Council members, have reason to be deeply grateful to Teddy for his work as Secretary to the Central Council. This involves a wide variety of activities. Inquiries about every kind of topic connected with bells and ringing constantly come to him directly or eventually, and invariably receive an expert and courteous reply. There are from time to time financial questions demanding a balanced opinion such as an experienced financier would give. In so varied an institution as the Exercise, there can easily arise questions involving differing personalities, and opposing views each backed by apparently adequate data; all seem to receive a balanced judgment uncoloured by personal feelings.

    Teddy is invariably helpful to diocesan and county association secretaries and members during the year previous to the Council meeting in their territory. His bearing all through the Council meetings, of both the Standing Committee and the full Council, and during the other Whitsun events, is most helpful to all concerned. He is never ruffled, never without an answer adequate in itself yet without attempting to dictate opinion - what a town clerk he might make! Even after the President had made an unusually inane remark followed by "I was only trying to clarify the issue" his calm was unruffled. Mailing and minute keeping form a huge task, kindly shared by others.

    In all this and much more, he is most ably assisted by Olive - whom he married in 1942, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs and granddaughter of the late Frank Bennett. She has made a major contribution to the success of his work as Secretary, and her knowledge, charm and tact amply match his. Their daughter Jean is following splendidly in the family tradition.

    Secretarial activities these fourteen years have meant that they cannot "enjoy" Council meetings as fully as those who can spend Whit Monday and the nearby days ringing and meeting old friends. Whilst the work is carried on in future years by another splendid couple, we look forward to seeing them gaily going about, unfettered by secretarial cares.

    ## Central Council Tributes to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barnett

    Mr. Frederick Sharpe, Immediate Past President of the Coumcil:
    Few realise the enormity of the duties of a secretary of the Central Council, all of which have been carried out so admirably and with such apparent ease by Mr. E. A. Barnett for so many years. He was a great tower of strength to me during my term of office as president, and 1 am glad of the opportunity to express my sincere gratitude for all the help so willingly given by both Teddy and Olive
    Mr. John Freeman, vice-president of the Central Council:
    I first met Teddy Barnett in 1947 and since then we have become good friends. When we have visited eaci other's home, peal attempts have been arranged and it says mucn for his prowess as a practical ringer (about which he is singularly modest) that in about 20 attempts, both in the tower and " in hand,' there has been only one failure. Teddy was powerless to do anything on that occasionI missed a bob!
    Mr. F. E. Perrens, hon. librarian:
    When Mr. E. A. Barnett became the Central Council's honorary secretary in 1952 I feel certain that he was determined to maintain the high standard of efficiency set by his predecessor, Mr. G W. Fletcher, and that he has done most successfully throughout his 14 years in office.
    Although I have been a member of the Central Council for many years, it is only since I have held office and so had the opportunity of seeing much of the secretary's correspondence that I have realised what a tremendous amount of work is entailed. The Council and the whole Exercise owe a great debt of gratitude to Mr. Barnett and also to his wife who, I am sure, has rendered valuable assistance.

    Mr. W. B. Cartwright, legal adviser to the Central Council:
    It is only when one comes into close contact with a person that one is able to appreciate his worth. I have met Teddy Barnett on many occasions when dealing with legal matters on behalf of the Central Council and have always found him most co-operative and helpful and it has always been a great pleasure to work with him.
    Mr. J. F. Smallwood, life member, former convener of "The Ringing World " committee:
    When, some 15 years ago, Albert Walker and I decided to nominate Teddy Barnett as secretary in opposition to the recommendations of the committee appointed to find a successor to George Fletcher, we felt that he was eminently suitable for the job, and his work has shown that we were well justified in our action. He has carried out his onerous duties with efficiency and dignity and has enhanced the prestige of the Council. His attractive wifc. Olive, has also endeared herself to all members.
    Mr. Harold N. Pitstow, convener of the Broadcasting and Television Committee and honorary auditor to the Comncil:
    I have been associated with Teddy Barnett almost entirely in the work of the Central Council, and chiefly as auditor of the Council's accounts. Here I was able to see the very methodical and accurate way in which he worked. The audit has always been made as easy as possible by the orderly manner in which books and documents were presented.

    MR. EDWIN A. BARNETT, Retiring Secretary and Treasurer.

    Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd, convener of Literature and Press Committee:
    I feel that this occasion gives me an opportunity to express my deep appreciation of Mr. Barnett's advice and practical help in the production of "The Sound of Bells." But for him the project would never have been conceived, and without his patient examination of a vast number of recordings we should never have made a satisfactory disc.
    Mr. N. Chaddock, convener of the Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee:
    I first met Teddy Barnett in a peal in Rotherham in 1936, again in Crayford in 1943.

    In the years he has encouraged me in my branch of Council uork my early impressions of him have remained. Always efficient and unflurried. We shal! miss his calmness and clear judgment but, I hope, continue to enjoy the sincere courtesy which he and Mrs. Barnett have always extended to us.
    Mr. Douglas Hughes, honorary treasurer "The Ringing World":
    I was dismayed at last year's Council meeting when Teddy Barnett announced his intention to retire from office, for in our association with Council affairs over the last several years both he and Olive have always been so ready with help and advice.
    The whole Exercise is indebted to them for 14 years of unselfish devotion to ringing affairs.
    Mr. G. W. Pipe, convener of Overseas Committee:
    I chiefly remember Edwin Barnett's work during my seven years in Australia. He has always been very enthusiastic about overseas activities and it was due in no small measure to his interest in ringing outside Britain that we were able to appoint an Overseas Committee.
    I know, too, of the many letters he used to deal with from these territories before the committee was formed!

    Mr. Walter Ayre, chairman of the Peals Analysis Committee:
    As a long-serving member of the Council I should like to pay a personal tribute to the work of our retiring honorary secretary Teddy" Barnett.
    I have served on committees since 1933, so have had somewhat to do with the secretaries during that time. To "Teddy" this was an unwanted job, thrust upon him. This he tackled with sincerity of purpose, enthusiasm and efficiency; kept hard at it by a very capable, hard-working assistant-his charming wife. As 2 convener I found out he could be a hard taskmaster, for if the report failed to reach him by the correct time, well-I had to do the duplicating myself!!
    I am sure my committee will join with me in wishing them both the best of luck in the future, with many thanks for all their work.

    Mr. Kenneth Arthur, Durham and Neweastle Association:
    "Depositum Custodia" was the motto of an R.A.F. unit to which Teddy Barnett and I were both attached for a time during the last war and that precept I think aptly sums up his service to the Central Council. He has truly been a worthy custodian of the reputation of this organisation with its ever-widening infuence.

    He has not spared himself in his official capacity to support the work of member Guilds and Associations and I recall with pleasure his attendance at the 80th anniversary celebrations of the Durham and Newcastle Association in Durham Castle in 1957. The man and wife team of Teddy and Olive, with their personal charm and quiet dignity, has contributed largely to the success of all the Council meetings I have attended and I feel privileged to have met under their direction.

    Mr. P. M. J. Gray, Australia and New Zealand Association representative:
    During Teddy Barnett's secretaryship the strength of ringing overseas has grown and the Council's attention to it has developed correspondingly. The rapid growth of International Outlook in ringing has been remarkable and Teddy has done much to foster it as a frequent correspondent to America, Canada Australia and New Zealand. Africa and many other places His handling of Foreign Affairs has been attended by the same ease and grace as his handling of Home Affairs.

    ## Mr. F. E. Dukes, hon. secretary The Irish

    Association:Ted Barnett was of tremendous assistance to us in lreland. The way in which he was able to assist the writer with information and advice before and during the Central Council's visit to Ireland in 1958 stamped him as a firstclass administrator. This is confirmed in the manner in which he prepared and handled the business for all Council meetings. At all other times he was a wise counsellor and a true friend. Best wishes from his Irish friends in his well-earned retirement and our gratitude for all his help and advice to us in the past.

    Mr. C. Kenueth Lewis, convener of the Methods Committee:
    I am glad to be able to pay tribute to Mr. Barnett and in particular I would refer to our work in presenting the present edition of Rules and Decisions. His tepchnical knowledge coupled to his wide acquaintance of history and persorial details of many celebrities made our task most interesting to me.

    ## Warm Appreciation of a Meticulous Secretaryship

    ## Mr. Dennis Beresford, Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths:

    At Council meetings a standing feature, which will have impressed most members, has been the efficiency of the secretary with his meticulous preparation, attention to detail and knowledge of the Council's Rules and Procedure. The standard of performance which he has set for himself as secretary is exactly that with which he approaches practical ringing, where only his highest personal standard is good enough.

    At the many functions to which he has been invited, by virtue of his office in the Council, he has done much to enhance the dignity of his position by his scholarship and detailed knowledge of ringing and ringing history.
    We are deeply grateful for his efforts, and in this Society (Cumberland Youths) are particularly proud of his achievements.
    Mr. T. J. Lock, convener of the Biographies

    ## Committee:

    Tom and Kathleen Lock have known Edwin A. for many years, remembering especially the youngsters' peal of Spliced Surprise Major at Crayford (average age 22 years) in 1935 and a peal for their wedding in 1938, when he assured them "I have booked April 23 rd , 1988"!
    Mr. A. D. Barker, senior member of the Central Council:
    Having known four of the five previous secretaries of the Central Council, three of them as personal friends, perhaps I may be allowed to write a few lines about Teddy Barnett, especially as he is the third member of a wellknown ringing family with whom I have rung over the last 60 years-Edwin senior, Long Teddy and Young Teddy

    To follow a line of giants of the Exercise. on a iask of such magnitude as secretary of the Central Council. was not easy, but he has achieved it with distinction and success, and the members will all be sorry that he has decided to relinquish the post.
    Mr. Vernon Bottomley, president of the Yorkshire Association, nominated as honorary secretary of the Council:
    It is to be hoped that members of the Council will not expect Teddy Barnett's outstanding qualities of cheerfulness and patience to be inherited by his successor.
    Mr. R. S. Anderson, convener of "The Ringing World " Committee:
    Although a member of the Central Council during the whole period of Mr. Barnett's term as our honorary secretary, my personal contacts with him were not frequent until I was appointed convener of "The Ringing World " Committee.
    I would. however, for myself and members of the committee, pay tribute to the competent way he has carried out the many and varied duties of the office he is now vacating. Mr. Peter J. Staniforth, Leicester Diocesan Guild:
    Teddy " Barnett to everyone in the Ringing Exercise is a walking "book of knowledge," his meticulous care in putting everything in the right place is akin to that other love of his, namely cricket. Just as he can recognise fluency in a batsman. we have been pleased to witness this guidance in him as secretary of the Council.

    ## SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD West Dorset Branch

    Netherbury Church. which stands on high ground overlooking the nicturesque village. was the venue for the West Dorset Branch meeting on April 16th. The Vicar, the Rev. P. May. conducted the service and loral lady ringers prepared tea in the Village Hall.
    At the business meetinn tributes were paid tn the late Mr . W. J. Bailey, a member of Beaminster tower for 40 vears.
    Forthcoming events: Combined meeting with Crewkerne Branch. Broadwindsor. May 21st: quarterlv. Hawkchurch. June 11th: practires. Thornermbe June 8th. Askersivell June 22nd, South Perrott July 13th. J. D.

    MRS. OLIVE BARNETT,
    The Assistant Secretary.

    ## Mr. P. A. Corby, hon. secretary Kent County

    Association:I have known Teddy for 31 years, was best man $a^{+}$his wedding and godfather to his daughter, Jean. As a frequent visitor to his house, where he and Olive have ever made ringers welcome, I have seen at first hand the care and skill they have devoted to the affairs of the Council. As a practical ringer he has few equals on tower- or handbells, and but for a period of ill-health would have achieved even more in this field. He has a wonderful knowledge and experience of the technical side of ringing which, with a fine sense of history and a phenomenal memory has equipped him superbly to guide ringing affairs, although his modesty and natural charm have tended to divert attention from the massive contribution he has made to the well-being of the Exercise. He deserves our thanks.

    ## LUMLEY

    "Boy Scout, are you willing to learn for one shilling
    "To ring? Said the Scouter, "I will."
    (With apologies to Edward Lear. "The Owl and the Pussy-Cat.")
    A novel feature of the ringing course held at Lumley Castle, Chester-le-Street, on March 26th, was the presentation of a "bob-a-job" Boy Scout as a "guinea pig" for the class in the training of belfry recruits. Scout Stephen Hall had never entered a belfrv hefore but after 40 minutes of intensive, specialised tuition he was handling a bell solo in creditable fashion and had become a prospective probationer for the local tower.

    The attendance of 46 members was in sharp contrast with last year's record total of over 100 but this had its compensation in smaller and more tractable classes. Three streams of study were provided for on this occasion: Elementary Grade I for rounds beginners progressing to first steps in change ringing, with Peter Rock and Fred Hodgson as tutors: Elementary Grade II for "plain hunters" progressing to elementary method ringing, tutored by Ted Hudson and Roger Chicken; and an Advanced Grade for the more experienced ringer wishing to study a systematic method for the instruction of recruits, with Kenneth Arthur and Denis Bayles as demonstrators.

    Mrs. J. S. King, president of the Ladies Guild :
    As a Central Council member for the last 12 years I have always admired "from afar" Mr. E. A. Barnett's interpretation and command of this most arduous office and feel very sorry that he is unable to continue.
    In my opinion he is the most perfect secretary; he has always had the affairs of the Council "at his finger tips" and has conducted himself and the business in hand with quet dignity and charm. I feel sure he has been a great comfort and support to the various presidents. No tribute would be right or complete without words of thanks to Mrs. Barnett, who has shared so wholeheartedly and graciously her husband's work for the Central Council.
    Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson, member of Editorial
    Committee, "The Ringing World ":
    Teddy and Olive Barnett have each the inestimable advantage of coming from wellknown ringing families. They have each built so well on this foundation that in their own right ihey have fully earned the high regard of the Exercise.
    I know personally how conscientiously all their work for the Central Council has been carried out and, in another capacity, how well Teddy has organised the ringing at St. Clement Danes' since it came into the care of the R.A.F. Following a number of peals, especially handbell peals, I can testify to his ability as a conductor and to his almost perfect style and striking. His invariable courtesy, tact and helpfulness are recognised by us all.

    ## Mr. John Willis, chairman of Kent County

    Association:When "E. A. B." was appointed secretary the Kent Association rejoiced. One of their most talented young men had attained high office.

    Now "E. A. B." is retiring we can still regard him with pride No one could have shown more efficient devotion to duty.
    Mr. W. F. Moreton, secretary of the Yorkshire Association:
    Mr. Barnett's friendliness when I first met him at the Exeter Council meeting was typical of the secretary we have been so fortunate to have, and it has been shown by him and his wife, especially to Yorkshire ringers at their annual Snowdon Dinners.

    ## CENTRAL FUND FOR BELL

    ## RES TURATION

    Dear Sir- - The suggestion made by Mr. D. E. R. Knights in your issue of April 29th that there should be a country-wide bell restoration fund administered by the Central Council was also made by Mr Alan Pink in a letter to me just over a year ago. It was considered by the Standing Committee at Northampton, but the general view was that problems of administration would be very great, even if $1 t$ were possible to get such a fund going.
    I am sure this is right. As a member ot the committee of the Kent County Association. which has had a Belfry Repair Fund for over 50 years, I have taken part in a good many discussions on applications for grants from towers in the county in which there has been extreme difficulty in reaching agreement on the amount to be given: so much so in fact that I have begun to wonder whether the best thing would not be to wind up the fund altogether.

    That is of course a domestic matter, but the point I want to make is this: If the committee of one Association can so away feeling, as has happened to me, that tower $X$ has heen unfairly treated compared with tower Y, how would those administering a centrallyrun fund be in a position to determine the relative needs of a tower in Devonshire as against one in Durham? Has the first, on which $£ 10,000$ is being spent on a complete restoration but which is in a large and wealthy parish. a greater claim than the second. for which $£ 500$ is needed in a village of a few hundred people, many of whom are Nonconformists anyway? One might think the latter, but it then emerges that the wealthy parish has raised large sums only recently for other essential tasks and those responsible fear that local support will not unnaturallv be slow in forthcoming: there has always been a strong local band there and the authorities value highly the ringers' efforts, whereas things ate very different at the other tower. This is the sort of problem to which we in Kent haven't really found a satisfactory answer. which makes it the more certain that justice could never be done as between Devonshire and Durham
    This would not matter so much if money were forthcoming on the scale suggested by Mr. Knights, when grants could be suhstantial. but I question if it would be. It there are less than 6.000 ringers ready to pay three shillings a month for "The Ringing World," is it likely that 20.000 would contribute a very similar sum to a bell restoration fund? Perhaps 2,000 would-for a time. tion fund? Perhaps 2,000 would-for a time. Then, as is happening with the Christian Stewardship scheme in my own parish. contributors would fall away and the amount available for distribution would be derisory in comparison with the number of claims.
    There is no doubt that in these days ringers ought not to shrug off all responsibility in these matters, hut I am certain that a central fund is not the answer--Yours faithfullv.

    Hon. Secretary. The Central Council.

    ## ESSEX CHURCH BELLS

    Dear Sir, - I have recently ohtained a conv of "Essex Church Bells" bv C. Deedes and H. B. Walters published in 1909 in Aberdeen. together with the original prospectus dated 1907. It appears from the nrospectus that publication was limited to 250 coDies. would be interested to know how manv of these copies are still in existence. Would those possessing codies please notify me. together with any interesting information as to how they obtained them? Yours sincerely, U. W. WILDNEY.

    ## CENTRAL COUNCIL MOTIONS

    Dear Sir,-I would like to comment upon the motions to be put to the Central Council at Bath on Whitsun Tuesday (" Ringing World," page 274)
    (a) "Non-resident membership fees. The word "favours" makes this proposition almost acceptable, but I think that all affiliated Societies are no doubt capable of managing their own affairs in a fair, honest and economic manner.
    (b) Peal Fees. Surely the proposal stated in "The Ringing World" is quite meaningless and cannot be submitted as such to the meeting of the Council-how can ". . . the names of those taking part in peals reported in . The Ringing World, be not published . ..? Should the proposal not read reported to "The Ringing World"?
    However, the acceptance of even a revised proposal of this nature could lead to a ludicrous and possibly an invidious state of affairs In that case, should the refusal of one "offender' to pay preclude publication of a peal as a whole (which would be unfair to the rest of the band), or should the refusal merely preclude the printing of the name of the "offender "? One could then envisage a 12 hell peal rung by one "good boy" only, as sisted by 11 blank spaces!
    (c) Annual Donations by Societies. I am of the firm opinion that "The Ringing World" should be maintained solely by charging an economic price per copy. It should be evident that any such donation by all affiliated Societies would be merely an indirect method of increasing the basic cost per copy to each member of those Societieswhether that member takes the paper or not!
    For example ("Ringing World." page 290) The donation of $£ 21$ from the Gloucester and Bristol Association, from (one assumes) 110 members, amounts to approximately $4 \frac{1}{2}$. per capita! It would certainly ease the task of Association secretaries, treasurers and auditors were we all to pay 1 s . per copy, and I am sure it would make life easier for you as Editor
    1 would add that whilst this letter is not written on behalf of my own Association, it does reflect the general feeling of opposition to all three motions which was shown at our annual meeting recently.-Yours faithfully,

    ## Hitchin, Herts

    PHILIP MEHEW.

    ## THE ORIGIN OF TENOR

    Dear Sir, - I, like many others, have often wondered why the lowest bell in a ring should be called tenor and not bass, and on several occasions have been asked that question. Although Mr. Wilby says he has never heard of a satisfactory explanation, he proceeds to provide one on page 292.
    It reminds me of several years ago when a small band of us were trying to learn Grandsire Triples on handbells. (Perhaps $\mathbf{M r}$. Harold Marcon, now at Loughborough, will remember.) One of our ringers liked to ring the tenor so that he only had one working bell to think about, bur very often forgot to put in the covering bell.
    A visiting aunt (a teacher) was looking on and asked if she could ring this bell, and with a bit of practice did it quite well. Next time she came to visit she was asked if she would ring the tenor again; she replied "No, I would rather ring the bass, then I can come last every time." - Yours faithfully.

    Scothern. Lincoln.

    ## CENTRAL COUNCIL RINGING ARRANGEMENTS

    Dear Sir,-I have had sufficient response for a coach tour to be arranged on Whit Monday for Council members and friends. This tour will therefore follow the Southern Route as given in "The Ringing World," and a lunch has been arranged. The cost of the coach will be approximately 15 s . (less if well supported) and lunch will be 11 s .
    The Southern Tour will not now be available to "own transport" users and these are asked to take the other two routes. Any uho wish to join the coach party should get in touch with me if they have not already done so.-Yours sincerely,

    JOHN H. GILBERT.

    ## COMPOSITION OF 1966 STEDMAN TRIPLES

    Dear Sir.-In reply to Mr. Miles' letter in The Ringing World " in which he questions the homing course of my "date touch" of 1966 Stedman Triples, I would like to set out the six-ends of this course to clear up any doubts there might be. The calling positions are the standard ones used in the Ringers' Diary.

    Rounds occur at the second change of the last six. Whilst on the subject of date touches it might be worthwhile mentioning that a date touch of Stedman Triples is impossible for next year, 1967, unless a non-standard start is made to the changes. If a standard start is used, then rounds will have to appear as the third change of a quick six. The two pre vious rows will then be 2135476 and 2314567 . which are, of course. the two rows rung at the start of a standard course in the method.

    Perhaps an expert in the field of composition in this method would like to prepare a touch using a non-standard start, for example in the middle of a "slow" six. The possibilities are endless.-Yours sincerely,

    ## IN MEMORY OF MR. G. J. CAESAR

    Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. John C. Eisel's letter, it seems to me that the footnote to the peal rung at Chigwell on March 12th is a perfectly legitimate one. Notwithstanding the fact that it was rung three days too early, it seems to me that the gentleman in question is quite worthy of our remembrance and that, contrary to your correspondent's statement, he did nothing hut good for the inhabitants of this island.-Yours faithfully,
    B. R. DOUGLAS.

    ## Southwell Guild's Good Year for Restorations

    THERE was a very good attendance at the 20th annual general meeting of the Southwell Diocesan Guild held at Southwell on April 30th. During the afternoon the president, the Bishop of Southwell (the Rt. Rev G. D. Savage) was in the Minster and spent some time chatting to members. He also attended Evensong conducted by the Provost (the Very Rev. H. C. L. Heywood) but was unable to attend the business meeting owing to a previous commitment.
    The business meeting, which followed an enjoyable tea prepared and served by members and friends of the Newark District in the Trebeck Hall, was presided over by the Guild chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter. He opened the meeting by extending a warm welcome to all members and visitors present, including the president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, Mresident B . Payne, and Mr. and Mrs. Joho Segar, now resident at Skegness.

    A minute's silence was observed for six members who had passed away since the last annual meeting, namely Mr. E. D. Priestley (North Collingham), Mr. M. Ward (St. Peter's, Nottingham), Mr. E. C. Thrale (Newark), Mr. A. T. Whitworth (Ruddington), the Rev. D. A. G. Brinn (Kirkby-in-Ashfield) and Mr. R. Lucas (Warsop).
    The annual report having been in circulation for some time, it was resolved to take all the reports as read.

    ## PEALS TOTAL 111

    The Peal Committee reported that 111 peals had been rung during the year, a decrease of 10. Nineteen members rang their first peal. and five conducted their first peals. It is interesting to note that only nine of the $=0$ who rang their first peals in 1964 have rung peals for the Guild in 1965, and only four of the nine who conducted their first peals in 1964 also conducted peals in 1965. There were 29 different conductors and 136 ringers, 108 of whom are resident members. The leading conductor was Mr. G. A. Dawson (29), followed by Mr. W. L. Exton (20).
    Three half peals were rung during 1965 . and quarter peals number 134. Kirkby-in-Ashand quarter peals number from Holme Pierrepont (20) and Gedling (14).

    The retiring officers were thanked for thenr services to the Guild during the past year and re-elected to serve again for 1966.

    One new vice-president, the Rev. C. J. Young (Kirkby-in-Ashfield) and three new ringing members $\mathbf{H}$ Mabbott and $\mathbf{D}$. Neale (Newark) and P. Elkington (Balderton)-were unarimously elected. The Rev. D. Leaning (Warsop) was appointed chaplain to the Mansfield District
    A proposal to amend the Guild Rules, 10 give the hon. general secretary 14 days notice prior to the annual committee meeting instead of one month's notice prior to the annual general meeting of all nominations and amendments to rules, was proposed by J. C. Clarke and seconded by Mrs. C. W. Reed. This was carried, there being one vote against.

    CENTRAL COUIICIL SOING TO NOTTINGHAM
    The hon. general secretary reported that the Central Council had accepted the Guild's invitation and would be holding their annual meeting at Nottingham in 1967. In consequence of this the annual general meeting of the Guild in 1967 would be held in the Bingham District.

    Advance notice was given of a proposed ringing festival and dinner/social, this to be held at Derhy on September 16th, 1967, and to be organised and run by the Guilds and Associations which originally comprised the old Midland Counties Association.
    Under the heading "Any Other Business," Mr. H. T. Rooke said that a peal had been rung at Warsop the previous Wednesday as an 87 th birthday compliment to Mr R. I. Flint. The hon general secretary was instructed to write and send the Guild's congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Flint.

    ## WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH  DIOCESAN GUILD  Basingstoke District

    When the Rev P. W. R. Kennedy, Vicar of Heckfield, was a curate at St. Mary's, Southampton, he learned to ring. Being now incumbent of a church with bells he has, with an enthusiastic captain, assembled a band of ringers. Hence it was decided that the Basingstoke District would hold their spring meeting there.

    After the afternoon ringing the Guild Office was taken by the Vicar, who in his address drew an analogy between a Christian returning to the Faith and a ringer returning to the Exercise.
    A traditional sumptuous tea enabled the ringers to live up to their county nickname! The business meeting was conducted by the District chairman (Canon F. A. Sanders). Four new members (Peter and Timothy Mart and Richard J. Wilson of Basingstoke, and Miss Hamblyn of Yateley) were elected, and discussion of the proposed District boundary revision was aided by the attendance of a member of the Boundary Commission.
    A presentation was made to Mr. J. Chesterman, who recently retired after 21 years as District secretary, having, as the chairman observed, followed in the footsteps of, inter alia, the distinguished ringer the Rev. C D. P Davies.

    ## OBITUARY

    ## mr. Fernley g. pearson

    The death has occurred under tragic circumstances of Mr. Fernley G. Pearson, aged 29.

    On Easter Saturday, when returning from a motor cycle scramble, the motor cycle combination he was driving was in collision with a car at Gara Bridge, between Plymouth and Dartmouth, and he was fatally injured.

    Fernley learned to ring at St. Saviour's, Dartmouth. Last year he married Miss Christine Dodridge a member of the newly-formed Devon Branch of the Ladies' Guild, and went to live at Ebford, near Exeter. Both he and his wife became regular members of the Clyst St. George band. Fernley was a very keen ringer and with his wife regularly attended branch and practice meetings, where he will be greatly missed.

    ## MR. JACK PETCH

    With deep regret we record the death of Mr. Jack Petch, of Boston, Lincs. After 15 months of a very painful illness he passed away at his home on April 7th at the age of 51 .
    Jack first learned to ring at Wisbech and came to work in Boston at the age of 23 . Joining the Boston ringers, he soon found himself a great asset to the tower. A good back-ender and a good striker, his place will be hard to fill.
    A large number of ringers and friends attended the funeral service in Boston Stump. He was liked by all who knew him. The deepest sympathy is extended to his widow and son.

    ## MR. HARRY M. WHITE

    St. Michael's, Bishop's Stortford, Herts, has lost its oldest ringer by the death on April 26 th of Mr Harry M. White. He was 79 and had been a ringer for over 60 years. He was also associated with the choir for marly years, which he joined at the age of 12 .
    Harry learned to ring as a pupil of the late Henry James Tucker and rang a few peals He always enjoyed an occasional quarter. A devoted servant of the belfry, he had been a former secretary and took a pleasure in arranging the annual outings. Many of the peal boards in the belfry were his handiwork and were made at his own expense. Well liked by everyone. he could always be relied upon to give a helping hand.
    For the funeral service at St. Michael's Church on May 4th the bells were rung fully muffled The committal service was at Enfield Crematorium. As a fitting tribute to his memory the bells were rung half-muffled to 1.260 Grandsire Triples, those taking part being: K. Westwood 1, R. Hayden 2, H. Watts 3. F. Bird 4. P. Warboys 5. A. Richardson 6, D. H. Kingston (cond.) 7. D. Hutley 8. Well done, thou good and faithful servant.

    ## SUFFOLK GUILD

    The Central District quarterly meeting at Stradbroke on April 23 rd was attended by District members and visitors from a wide area. Ringing in the afternoon was followed by a short service of welcome conducted by the Rev H. K. Florance. Tea was taken at the local cafe, followed by the business meeting. Ringing continued throughout the evening.
    quarterly meeting at Barkine has been postponed for one week to July 30 th.

    ## BELFRY GOSSIP

    Congratulations to the six who rang their first quarter peal at Holme Lacy, Herefordshire, on April 27th.

    Mrs. Angela Newing and John Norris arranged a successful week's tour, despite the rain, in Derbyshire, starting on April 16th. Headquarters were at Matlock.
    A performance without parallel in the art of handbell ringing was the peal of 5,120 Spliced Surprise Major in 25 methods rung by the Bushey band on May 2nd and 3rd. We understand that this was the zenith this intrepid band set themselves. They deserve warm congratulations on their achievement.
    Nottingham University had a most successful day exploring the towers of Rutland on March 19th. "Bob" of Uppingham was the organiser, and after ringing there the Rev. and Mrs. Woodward provided the 13 thirsty ringers with quantities of tea and biscuits.
    The Ancient Society of College Youths' "Out of Town " meeting at Gloucester was most successful, some 70 members attending the business meeting These came from Yorkshire, Lancashire. Birmingham, Bristol. Kent, Bedford, South Wales and over 30 from London.
    Mr. A. P. Cannon is the new Master of the Surrey Association in succession to Mr. F. E. Collins, At the annual general meeting on May 7th it was decided to invite the Central Council to Croydon for its 1968 meeting and to hold its next annual meeting at Guildford Cathedral, the headquarters of the Guildford Diocesan Guild.

    ## RANG FOR PARENTS 70th WEDDING

    ANNIVERSARYThe peal rung at Rogate, Sussex, on May 4th, was specially arranged to mark what must be a very rare occurrence. Mr. and Mrs. E. Munday, of Rogate, were celebrating their 70th wedding anniversary and their only surviving son, Mr. Jack Munday, was one of the participants in the peal, this being the tower in which he learned io handle a bell. Mr. E. Munday was a churchwarden of St. Bartholomew's, Rogate, for 20 years and was succeeded in that position by one of his sons and, currently, by a grandson.

    The members of the band were most hospitably entertained to supper by Mr. and Mrs Munday after the peal, and were interested to see the very many messages of congratulation which had been received including those from H.M. the Queen, the Lord Chancellor and numerous dignitaries of the Church.

    ## BELLS FOR SALE

    According to the "Manchester Evening News "the three bells at St. Mary's Church Haughton Green, Denton, are for sale. They weigh four, five and six cwt The Rector, the Rev. David Smethurst, states: "We plan to sell them for the highest price we can get. As scrap they are worth about £150." Our Rhodesian friends might be interested.

    ## ROCHESTER STRIKING CONTEST

    St. George's, Gravesend, with 14 faults, won the striking contest of the Rochester District held at Shorne on April 23 rd . Closely behind them were Halling ( 15 faults) and Eastchurch (24). Other competitors were Frindsbury. Tunstall. Northfleet. Newington and Rainham. Mr. H. E. Audsley, of Crayford, and Mr. M. L. Howe, of Maidstone, were the judges and the winners received a cup donated by Mr. Edward Beer.

    ## SOUTHWELI HAD 63 FOUNDER MEMBERS

    To mark the 20th anniversary of the foundation of the Southwell Diocesan Guild a ringing festival and dinner will be held at Newark on June 11th. The Guild was founded in 1946 with the splitting into three of the Midland Counties Association. At the end of the first year Southwell Guild had a membership of 231 , representing 37 towers in three Districts. Membership has now reached 484 with 63 who can claim founder membership. Two additional Districts have been bership. Two additional Districts formed and there are 66 towers.

    DEVON RINGERS IN TAUNTON ARFA
    Mr. Aubrey Bennett organised a successful day's tour for members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers in the Taunton area on May 7th. The help of Mrs. E. S. Powell and Mr. A. H. Reed, who were with the party, in arranging the tour was much appreciated.
    Towers visited were Sampford Arundel; Bradford-on-Tone, where a well-struck sixscore of Stedman Doubles was tape-recorded: score of Stedman Doubles was tape-recorded:
    Bishops Hull; Norton Fitzwarren; Staplegrove: West Monkton: Ruishton: Holy Trinity, Taunton, where the bells were found to be a novelty: and Ashbrittle.

    The lunch interval was spent at the Cross Keys Hotel, Norton Fitzwarren. The ringing was in Doubles and Minor methods.

    From Barking, Suffolk, we have received encouraging news Regular practices started encouraging news last October and there are four married couples who ring regularly for services. Dr. S. Harrison writes thanking Suffolk Guild friends for their help, as without them the band would not have been able to progress as it had.

    The following poem, written by a villager after the augmentation to six by Alfred Bowell, might interest ringers who have visited the tower.
    One evening when I rambled
    Across Mount Lay for choice
    I stopped and listened to the bells.
    My dears, you have a different voice Since to the founders you have been."
    Therr melody was grand and gave a charm As it echoed around the Ladies' Walk Then on to Bungeon's Farm.
    You are the voice of the past, I cried, For their tone was strong and good.
    And then I rambled on again
    Until I in God's acre stood.
    Then from the tower the bells rang out No uncertain sound they gave.
    And then I wished the dead could hear As stood I near a grave.
    Ring out ye bells of Barking.
    Over meadow, field and tree,
    For when you ring you still will bring
    Old memories back to me.
    Just one more thing I wish to add
    And think you will agree,
    That Barking without bells and rooks
    Can never, never Barking be.

    ## CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD

    At the annual general meeting held on April 27th in Clare College the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President. W. J. Ridgman (Queens'): treasurer. B. D. Threlfall (Trinity): Master, S. P Darvili (Downing) ; secretary, E. N. Thomas (St. John's) ; librarian, R. H. Youdale (Emmanuel).

    ## 25 YEARS LATER

    Behind the quarter peal rung as a silver wedding compliment to Mr . and Mrs. K. Martin, at Hemingford Abbots: there is the story of a war-time disappointment. The bride was then, owing to Government restrictions, denied wedding bells, although she was an ardent church worker. Her father, grandfather and brother-in-law were then members of the local band.

    ## HIS FIRST OF YORKSHIRE

    The oeal of Yorkshire rung at Rayleigh on May 7th enabled Frank May to realise a long ambition, for althongh having rung several quarters in the method he had never been successful in his attempts for a peal. On this occasion the peal very nearly never started, as owing to a computer breaking down one member of the band was unable to leave work in time to reach the tower for the scheduled start. However. Jim Laker is to be thanked for coming to the rescue at 15 minutes' notice and very ably ringing the treble, thus enabling Frank to score his peal of Yorkshire.

    ## FAREWELL AT MAIDSTONE

    On Thursday, May Sth, the All Saints' ringers said a sad farewell to their captain, Leonard Mannering, on his retirement to Folkestone. He was presented with a clock. suitably engraved, for his past services to the tower, and Mrs Mannering was given a box of chocolates. Len has been the captain for the past 15 years and will be difficult to replace. He joined the band in 1917, when at this time his father was the captain. The new captain, who was elected at the meeting, is Thomas Cullingworth.

    TWERTON RINGERS WERE WELCOMED
    In their day's tour in West Somerset on April 23rd Twerton-on-Avon ringers were welcomed by local ringers in eight of the nine tc.wers visited which, our correspondent considers, added to the enjoyment of the day
    Bishop's Lydeard bells were better than anticipated although "the tower rolls." Comhe Florey bells (6) were described as a lovely ring in a lovely church with an equally lovely setting. West Bagborough bells were quite tough to ring, and Crowcombe bells ( 6 , anticlockwise) are a majestic ring needing careful striking. Long draughts were experienced at Over Stowey and Nether Stowey, and the Rev. I. F. W. Awre and his daughter. Rosemary, ioined in the ringing at the latter tower There were two fine rings at Holford and Watchet, and the tour ended on the pretty five at Sampford Brett.

    ## "THE CHIEF COUNTY FOR RINGERS"

    By Gwilym Salmon, Hon. Secretary Bath and Wells Diocesan Association

    $\mathbf{I}^{\mathbf{n}}$making its way to Bath for its 1966 meeting, the Central Council will be following in the footsteps of visitors from times immemorial. Indeed, tradition has it that Bath was the "Aqua Sulis" of the Romans in 863 B.C. The attraction was, of course, the Hot Springs which still provide half a million gallons of water every day, all at a temperature of 120 F .

    Much later, during the era of Beau Nash, the city became a meeting place for society. It became fashionable to have a house in Bath as well as in London. Not only did people go to cure their aches and pains-they also went to be seen, to entertain and to find suitable sons-in-law. It was in this period that Bath prospered. In a city full of beautiful buildings and churches the Royal Crescent and the Circus are architectural gems. Built in the 18 th century both are perfect examples of Georgian grandeur. Lansdown and Camden Crescents, two other such terraces, afford magnificent views over the city. The Abbey was started in 1499, superseding a Norman Cathedral that provided the link with Wells, just twenty miles away. The See of the Diocese was established at Wells in the year 900 but was transferred to Bath in 1077 when this Norman Cathedral was completed. In 1139, as work on Wells Cathedral progressed, the Diocese was given the title of Bath and Wells, the Bishop later moving back to Wells to live in a moated palace where his successors have remained to this day.

    In saying "Come to Bath" the Association is therefore asking you to come to the Bath and Wells and that, in effect, means "Come to Somerset." Apart from a small area of Dorset around the village of Trent the Diocesan and County boundaries coincide. Somerset has much to offer. Compare the calm of Bath and the serenity of Wells with the gay holiday atmosphere of Minehead and Weston-super-Mare. the ruggedness of Mendip and the impressive cliffs of Cheddar and Burrington with the quiet lanes of the Vale of Blackmore and Taunton Dene. Go to the Isle of Avalon around Glastonbury with its associations with King Arthur and on to the rolling hills of the Quantocks, the Brendons and the splendour of Exmoor. Christianity first came to Britain at Glastonbury. It was not so long ago that the sea extended inland beyond this point and it is said that Christ, as a boy, set foot at Pitton, only five miles away. when he accompanied Joseph of Arimathaea on a trading trip. The last battle fought on English soil was cruelly decided at nearby Sedgemoor and, just a little further on, Alfred burnt the cakes.

    Much of the splendour of the Somerset churches is due to the flourishing wool trade that existed around the 15 th century. The accent has changed now to dairy farming but it is on record that, as recently as 100 years ago, the tenor bell of Wells

    Cathedral was tolled all through the night to guide the shepherds down from Mendip for the annual fair. This fair is still held although it has removed to the isolated village of Priddy at the top of the hill. The old world charm of Mells and the sudden appearance of Batcombe or Chewton Mendip as you drop from the hills linger long in the memory as do the splendid towers of the two Episcopis on the Somerset plain. One could dwell at length on this subject but suffice to say that we are proud of the towers and the glorious bells that are our heritage and we sincerely hope that you, as Council members and friends, will make the best possible use of them.

    The Diocesan Association was founded, like the Council, in 1890. The first annual report states that the inaugural meeting was held at Highbridge with a ringing festival following at Taunton. By January, 1891, there were 194 members of whom 23 were honorary. Performing membership today stands at 1.759 and says much for these pioneers who worked so hard. Of these men, to whom we owe so much, Mr. John Pugsley, of Minehead, is still with us.

    Change ringing flourished, even in the early days. Several peals were rung and it is interesting to note that all the early performances were of Grandsire Triples. It was some time before a peal of Doubles crept in and, strangely, this was followed by a peal of Bob Triples. The Bath and Dunster areas set the pace but it was not long before a capable band grew up at Taunton. A natural and friendly rivalry developed over the years between Bath and Taunton. Both bands made notable strides and it became something of a race as the Bath men endeavoured to ring a peal of London before the Taunton people scored their Bristol. Another band that developed in the 1930's was the well known "Wednesday" band that met in Central and North Somerset, setting a tremendous standard in striking and dedication.

    Many personalities have emerged over the years but. surely, the late Mr. J. T. Dyke stood head and shoulders above them all. Mr. Dyke was General Secretary of the Association from 1926 until 1953. Such was his capacity for the job that, when he handed over the reins, his work was divided between three others. His name and deeds were legion in the Diocese and he was viewed in awe by the youngsters of the day. It was he who organised the "Wednesday" band referred to earlier. Mr. Dyke served the Central Council well for many years. He was associated with the preparation of the Beginners' Handbook, he took an active part in the work of "The Ringing World" Committee until ill health forced him to retire and was an Honorary and eventually a Life Member.

    A few years ago the Association took serious and drastic steps to get its silent bells ringing. All parochial Church Councils with rings of bells were asked to pay an annual affiliation fee of not less than 10 s . 6 d . Over 200 councils have responded. With this additional income the Association is able to make realistic grants to restoration funds and an advisory service, in the capable hands of Mr. H. J. Sanger, is used extensively.

    Come, then, to the Bath and Wells and be welcome for, as John Betjeman so aptly says. "Over orchards and elms and willows, wherever you are in Somerset, you can hear church bells for this is the chief county for ringers."

    # BATH & ALL SOMERSET'S HEARTY WELCOME

    ## Central Council's Visit "An Honour and a Privilege"

    ## FROM THE MASTER OF THE BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION

    The visit of the Central Council to Bath at Whitsun has been eagerly anticipated by the Bath and Wells Association ever since the " Ringing World" informed us that our invitation to come to Somerset had been accepted. Such a visit is always an honour and a privilege for the host Association, and Bath and Wells is no exception in this. I would therefore like to extend a sincere and hearty welcome to the Council on behalf of all our members.

    The Bath and Wells Association was founded in May, 1890, with the object of "recognising the true position of ringers as Church Workers, encouraging ringing for Divine Service and cultivating the art of Change Ringing," and for just over 75 years we have striven to give practical expression to these objects. It will be clear from this that we are wholly in sympathy with the aims and objects of the Central Council, and that you have our support in all that you are trying to do for the Exercise.

    We feel we have much to offer to members of the Council in Bath and the surrounding countryside, and we have tried to make arrangements which will ensure an enjoyable and worthwhile visit. Bath is a truly noble city with many centuries of civilised history, going back to Roman times and beyond. It is also splendidly equipped for such a conference as yours. In addition, there are many fine towers within easy reach and in beautiful surroundings.

    Given reasonable weather, therefore, it should be possible for you all to have an interesting and enjoyable week-end. In the unlikely event of your ringing proving too exhausting, or your business too wearisome, you can always "take the waters" of Bath, and go home rested and refreshed.

    Welcome to you all.

    > Henry Warren,
    > Master, B. & W.A.

    THE REV. H. F. WARREN, Master of the Association.
    The Rev. Henry Warren was born in 1921 and has lived all his life in Somerset. He was ordained in 1948, and after serving a curacy at Weston-super-Mare (where his ringing made considerable progress under the care of George Prescott) he moved to his present parish, Exford, in 1953. During his time there he has been instrumental in having the six bells recast and rehung.

    He is one of a family of eight sons and, like most of them, he was taught to ring at Binegar by his father, the Rev. W. M. K Warren, also, at one time. Master of the Bath and Wells Association. Mr. Warren has rune four peals, but for some years health reasons have precluded anything longer than quarter peals. He is married and has two little boys, whom he hopes to teach to ring in due course.

    ## THE GENERAL SECRETARY

    Mr. Gwilym Salmon, the general secretary, and Mr. Eric Naylor, the hon. treasurer, have done much of the " on the spot "preparations for the Central Council visit.

    Gwilym has been ringing some 20 years and started in 1946, shortly before his National Service. Upon his return he took up change ringing and he owes much for his early progress in the art to Mr. Percy Hull, of Dinder, near Wells.

    His first peal, Grandsire Doubles, was rung at Ashcott in 1951, for the Festival of Britain. The same year he became secretary and leader of the Wells Society. His peals total about 160 with just 100 for the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association.

    He became treasurer of the Diocesan Association in 1957 and general secretary in 1960 . A bank official, Mr. Salmon is employed by the Westminster Bank at their Quenn's Road, Bristol, branch.

    ## RECORDS MARK THE 75th ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION

    R INGERS filled the Quire of Wells Cathedral for the service that preceded the annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Association on Easter Monday. The service was conducted by the Archdeacon of Wells (the Ven. I. J. de Bouley Lance) assisted by the Master (the Rev. H. F. Warren). The lesson was read by the Dean of Wells (the Very Rev. D. Edwards) and the address was given by the Bishop of the Diocese. In a tribute to the work of ringers, the Bishop said that we had gathered together to renew. review and reshape. Developing these themes. he referred to the broadcasting of Evercreech bells on Sunday mornings and, speaking of the young people he met in ringing circles, thought that many incumbents would be well advised 10 build their youth fellowships around their belfries. A collection amounting to $£ 10 \mathrm{l} / \mathrm{s}$. was given to the Cathedral to assist with every-dav expenses.
    Lunch followed at the Y.M.C.A. Hall, where the Master welcomed the Bishop, the Dean. the Archdeacon and the Vicar of Wells. (the Rev. R. MacIntyre). Reference was made to the fact that the Association went to each Branch in turn and that it would probably be 11 years before a similar visit was made to Wells.

    In opening the business with prayer, the Master asked members to stand in memory of the following who had died in 1965: Miss Emm, Messrs. B. Bond, J. T. Dyke, A. Lane, C. Pearce, H. Price and W. E. Stiles. Visitors were welcomed from Bristol. Berkshire, Middlesex and Sussex.

    ## READJUSTMENTS IN SUNDAY RINGING

    The Master, in his review, spoke at length about a new development in the life of the Church that was affecting ringing by the growing popularity of the Family Communion and the shifting of the emphasis of the main service from Matins at 11 a.m. to this service. usually held at 9 or $9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. This rpsulted in a readiustment of ringing times and he was extremely disturbed to hear of two cases where bands had refused to ring. "We must remember that the arrangement and the timing of services is a matter for the incumhent and his P.C.C. and. as members of the Church, we should accepi their decisions loyally, even if it means the reorganisation of our Sunday habit."
    Mr. G. Salmon, the general secretary, reported progress in Surprise ringing. three Branches now holding regular practices. Youth was getting special attention at Bath and people from all parts of the Diocese was taking place in Wells the following week-end. Of all the activities that would be pursued. more names had been submitted for the bell ringing group than any other. Instruction continued in several towers. although the Association was sorry to lose the services of Mr. John Owen in this connection Bridgwater Branch reported that four towers previously silent were now ringing.

    To mark the 75th anniversary of the Association in 1965. members had asked that a commemorative dinner he held Unfortunately the booking of a hall had heen left far too late. A sub-committee had been formed and a hall had been booked for 1966.
    The secretary referred to the deaths of Dyke had been secretary of the Association from 1926 until 1953 and its position today was largely as a result of his drive and example. Mr. Price had been a well-known figure at Yatton and in the Chew Branch and his outings were an institution.
    The secretary closed his remarks by stating that he had now left the Diocese and might well move further afield. In the circumstances he felt that he should now give formal notice of his intention not to seek re-election. if not this year then certainly at re-election, if Easter, 1967.
    1.759 PERFORMING MEMBERS

    Presenting the balance sheet, the treasurer (Mr. E. Naylor) reported a new record of 1,759 performing members. Towers that had paid an affiliation fee of not less than $10 / 6$ numbered 209. For the second year running the general fund had shown a greater expenditure than income. The rising cost of the report was causing concern and the committee had revised the layout. This was an experiment that would test the balance sheet us well as members' reactions to the change from the traditional style and, if not successful, a rise in subscriptions must be inevitable Affiliation fees transferred to the Bell Fund amounted to $£ 137$ 16s. and a donation had been made from that fund to Banwell. The balance of the Beil Fund was $£ 303$ 13s. 3d. and that of the General Fund £207 12s. Ild. The approximate value of investments was £333.

    Mr. H. J. Sanger, the Diocesan Adviser on the Care of Bells, spoke of visiting 11 towers during the year. In addition. three towers had been dealt with by correspondence Much had been done and he was particularly pleased with the work now being carried out at Banwell. Mr. F. Sharpe had been called in in 1964 and his recommendations were being followed. This was in some ways contrary to the original advice of the architect and the Association was most grateful to Mr Sharpe for so successfully making his point Mr. Sanger concluded his report by drawing members' attention to the state of their belfries. He said that action taken promptiv and the seeking of guidance from the right quarter could go a long way towards keeping the bells ringing.

    ## PEAL RECORD

    The request for commemoration peals for the 75th anniversary, stated Mr. G. W. Massev (peal secretary), had resulted in a record of 111 peals. Of these. 17 had been rung specifically for the anniversary. Two were of 5,075 changes, one being as Wells Cathedral by invitation of the Dean, and the other at Evercreech rung by officers of the Association and specially composed by James Topp Quite by coincidence, peals had been rung inf 75 towers during the year.
    Ringers participating in peals numbered 296, 42 had takẹ part in their first and 146 their first in a new method. There were 45 conductors, although only four of these were new. Leading peal ringers were $D$. J. Hunt with 20 and T. A. Cross with 19 D. J. Hunt was also leading conductor, having called 13 peals. George Prescott had called 11. The overall total of peals rung for the Association was 3.152. Of personal milestones reached, Mr. Prescott's 200th peal for the Association deserved special mention, as he joined a very select band headed by the late J T. Dyke.
    The Rev Dr. F. Pollard moved the adoption of the reports "en bloc " and thanked the officers for their work. Mr. L. Derrick seconded and the motion was carried with acclamation.
    The meeting then passed on to the election of officers, the following being elected for the ensuing year: Master, the Rev. H. F. Warren: general secretary, Mr. G. Salmon:
    treasurer. Mr. E. Naylor; Diocesan Adviser on the Care of Bells. Mr. H. J. Sanger: assistant adviser, Mr. W. H. Kingcott : peal secretary, Mr. G. W. Massey; auditor. Mr. S. A Read Messrs. J. Gilbert, A. Reed, H. J. Sanger and the general secretary were elected as Central Council representatives for the next three years.
    Referring to the forthcoming meeting of the Central Council at Bath, the general secretary said that they were greatly honoured that the Council had accepted the Association's invitation. This would be its first ever visit to Somerset and he hoped that all would make the Council most welcome.
    Under any other business. Mr. W. A. Osborn asked if any tangible memorial had been decided for Mr. Dyke. The treasurer replied that a donation of $i 55 \mathrm{~s}$. had been given to the restoration fund of Downside Church, where Mr. Dyke was buried, and Mr. Beck spoke of a pair of inscribed candlesticks that had been placed on the altar.
    The Central Council representatives were voted their usual $£ 20$ expenses, and it was decided that the expenses incurred by the Master in attending the meeting at Bath be pard, Mr. Reed proposed and Mr. S. G. Coles seconded that the secretary be given an honorarium of $£ 15$.

    A week-end course in ringing was mooted by Mr. Gilbert. He realised that the Association had a very heavy year before it and that it might not be feasible at this time but he did consider that such a course should be borne in mind for the future.

    ## PEAL BOOKING FEES

    Mr. Heymann reminded the meeting that last Easter Mr Massey had announced his intention of proposing an alteration to the rule concerning peal booking fees. As yet nothing had been said and he wondered what had become of the proposition. Mr. Massey stated that he had decided not to proceed, as he felt that he was in the minority.

    A question concerning peal ringing in Lent drew forth considerable comment. Mr. Sanger, in associating peal ringing with personal pleasure, felt quite strongly that ringers should abstain. Although there was no rule, such ringing should be firmly discouraged. The Rev. C. Marshall felt that it was purely a matter of self-discipline, while Mr. Osborn thought that it was really up to the incumbent concerned Mr Massey argued $\mathbf{M r}$. Sanger's point. saying that all ringing should be to the glory of God. He reported, as peal secretary, that a large number of peals had been rung in Lent this year although a high proportion of these had been by visiting bands.

    Mr. R Dean. of Ilton, thanked the Association for the grant of $£ 50$ made to his tower's augmentation fund last year and reported on progress made.
    In thanking all who had helped to make the day such a success Mr. Massey referred to the most impressive service at the Cathedral and the welcome received. He spoke of the able way in which the Master had conducted an arduous meeting and thanked all incumhents and tower correspondents who had mare their bells available.

    Tea followed and members then dispersed. Every tower in the Glaston Branch was open at some time during the day.

    ## "Method Structure in Change Ringing"  (See advertisement page.)

    "This is really quite a monumental piece of work. The writer knows (and states quite plainly) what he wants to do, and his procedure is relentlessly logical.

    Y-B makes out an excellent case for a more exact terminology
    "The amount of thought. research and labour must have been sustained and urged on by a very sincere belief in the need for such a work and in the line of approach.

    It is certain that any student applving himself strictly to the study of Chapters I to VII will have a very comorehensive know ledge of the foundations of change ringing. "Never. I venture to say, has such a determined effort been made to focus the whole difficult subject in the confines of one book."

    Edgar C. Shepherd
    I must compliment the author on the very clear and concise way in which he has presented a most difficult subject. To me the explanations are perfectly lucid. I consider he is to be congratulated on producing first-rate text book.

    ## Letters to

    MOTIUNS BEFORE THE CENTRAL COUNCIL
    Dear Sir,-I am sure, Mr. Editor, that you will be as gratified as I am that two of the three motions to be considered by the Central Council at Bath are evidence of the wish of the members of the Council to help "The Ringing World ", with its linances. They should produce interesting debates, but they are presumably published now (" Ringing World," April 29th, 1966), with the Agenda, so that ringers may think about them and express their views to their representatives.
    I don't feel very strongly about the proposal in motion (b) that names of peal ringers be not published except after payment to "The Ringing World" of 6 d . for each person taking part, except that I doubt whether it is worth all the time and effort involved. At the present rate about $£ 12$ a week could be hoped for. But I suspect that the enthusiasts who arrange and conduct peals would in the end get left so often with paying the whote of this, in' addition to postage, telephone charges, Association booking fees, peal cards. contributions to the tower fund, etc., that the number of peals rung each week would drop. What happens if some of the tand pay and some won't? Does the peal get published with gaps? Who deals with the number of small amounts sent in and the inevitable correspondence about them? And what happens to you. sir, when one gets printed without the cash? If "The Ringing World " Committee has to pay for all this there won't be much change.
    But I am more concerred with the principle behind motion (c)-inviting affiliated Societies to contribute not less than three guineas for representation annually towards the cost of maintaining " The Ringing World."
    Is it necessary? The accounts for 1965 will show, as you foreshadowed recently, that it is not necessary at present. To ask people for money when it is not necessary is likely to get a very lukewarm response.
    Is it enforceable? Definitely not. On the contrary, any Association which wishes to contribute can do so, and certain of them already do. As with the individuals who also send consributions, acknowleged weekly in "The Ringing World," I believe that the greatest value of this is the thought that those contributors really feel that the paper is their paper, and of their own volition thev want to help it.
    What would be the effect on the Council? Certain Associations might well decide that. to reduce this call on their funds, they should reduce their representation on the Council. Would this be a good thing? I doubt it, and so. I know. do others. And would not the Council lose favour, so hardly won over many years, by telling Associations what to do with their funds?
    I suggest. sir, that if and when "The Ringing World" reaches the stage when its income and expenditure get out of balance and its reserves are depleted, the Council. which owns it, will have to provide the necessary funds from its other pockets, if necessary replenishing those pockets by increased subscriptions for membership. or increased prices of its publications Happily. thanks to the efforts of a valiant few, those days are a long way ahead. The finest way to ensure that they never arrive is, I suggest. a 10 per cent. increase in circulation. If members' efforts and Associations' efforts were directed to this end. this should easily be practicable. -Yours faithfully.

    ## RHYTHM IN RINGING

    Dear Sir,-I read carefully Mr. Wilfrid Moreton's article "On Teaching Rhythm " (se ." The Ringing World,' October 3rd, 1958) before writing my own "On Teaching Rope sight ("The Ringing World," March 18ih 1966). I think Mr. Moreton's suggestions ex cellent, and felt that my article was comple mentary rather than in any way contradictory to Mr Moreton's, because Mr. Moreton was dealing with rounds and call changes and was dealing with plain hunting. By dealing with one aspect of change ringing 1 did not wish to imply that teaching rhythm should be ignored: far from it!

    Teaching entirely by rhythm presupposes a good band and would be similar to teaching a blind person. It would be interesting to know of the progress of blind ringers. Those I have met have not progressed far, though their striking is good if the other bells are in the right place! Also I doubt whether many average good ringers ring entirely by rhythm -how many of our Surprise peal bands could ring their peals blindfold? The rop-class ringer can, but this is a far cry from the average learner. I doubt whether much progress can be made in change ringing without ropesight, so that it is at least "a key to all method ringing" if not "the key."

    Does Mr. Moreton think that it is a good idea to have ringers face the wall (or blindfold) at some stuge in their training so that they ring entirely by ear? I would suggest that this should be tried after they have achieved ropesight, and not as a means of achieving it, though I doubt whether any but the most able would manage. I think also that the method of teaching ropesight which I advocated (following a certain number of bells) by its emphasis on position would more easily lead to ringing by rhythm (when the place must be noted) than the other methods which I was criticising for other reasons.Yours sincerely,

    ## PEALS IN ANNUAL REPORTS

    Dear Sir,-The cost of printing the annual report is generally the largest financial burden with which most Associations have to cope In most cases the list of peals rung for the Association forms a substantial part of the report.
    In an attempt to cut the cost of printing reports and at the same time provide ad ditional income for "The Ringing World," would it be possible to operate the following system?
    (i) Standardise paper sizes used for report printing.
    (ii) "The Ringing World" press print a list of peals rung for a particular Association during the year, using the same type as was used to print the peals in "The Ringing World."
    (iii) Each Association buy a printed set of peals from "The Ringing World" at the end of each year to bind with locally printed sheets to form the final report.

    Perhaps we could have some comment from those acquainted with the economics of printing.-Yours faithfully, Chaddesden, Derby.

    ## AN OLD BELL DISCOVERED

    We regret we have been hoaxed again over
    "An Old Bell Discovered." Mr. A. R. Agg, general secretary of the Hertford County Association, informs us that there is no Gerald M. Fitzburgh connected with ringing in Hitchin or the surrounding district, nor is there such a name in the local telephone directory. It has, however, enabled a very large number of readers to point out the lack of vigilance on the part of the Editor. Some have done this very wittily. M. Peterson, of Loretto School, writes that the discovery was a primitive type of bird trap used for catching gulls or boobies. Now that the trap door is open he will find if he looks in again that a booby from the Guildford area has been successfully caught.

    ## ANOTHER EXAMPLE

    Dear Sir, - I would be grateful if Mr. Gerald M. Fitzburgh, of Hitchin, would come and assist with another difficult inscription.

    Outside Merryfield House, my old home, there is a large stone with an iron ring on the top. The stone is reputed to have come from Italy, and it inscribed "Toti Emul Esto." Mr. Fitzburgh will need to bring an old rope with him.-Yours faithfully,

    FIRST HEARD OVER 30 YEARS AGO
    Dear Sir,-In reply to the letter re old bell on page 308 of "The Ringing World," I can assure Mr. Fitzburgh that his find is far from unique and is of no antiquity or value. Metal Ltensils, bearing similar inscriptions, have been "found" widespread over the country in recent years-the first 1 heard of one was over 30 years ago. I would suggest that he applies to his local sanitary inspector for the interpretation of the inscription. I am sorry to note his ignorance of his native lan-guage.-Yours truly.

    ## IN 1946 AT THE ISLE OF WIGHT

    Dear Sir, -The letter about the discovery of an old bell reminds me that in October, 1946, " Hampshire Chronicle" published a letter by Mr. I. P. Standing, of The Willows, Otterbourne, Hants, who had found a bronze vessel on the sea shore on the Isle of Wight with a similar inscription. He said the inscription was low Latin and though not readily interpreted could mean "Except to the wise I hold not emptiness."
    After some research, however, I think a better version would be "The wise will fill me."-Yours faithfully,

    JOHN HILL.

    ## THE 1958 EXAMPLE

    Dear Sir,-It would seem that you, sir, are as fond of the occasional leg-pull as is the editor of the "Hampshire County Magazine." During the course of 1958 this magazine published a letter describing the original discovery of the receptacle mentioned by Mr. Fitzburgh. when it was washed up on Highcliffe beach and caught the eye of a correspondent on April Ist. After close inspection he assigned it to the role of a Roman cooking vessel, and suggested two possible translations
    (a) "Except to the wise I hold not empti(b) "Except being emptied of wisdom, I hold not.'

    Yours faithfully,

    ## LETTERS-Continued

    SOMETHING FOR BEGINNERS
    Dear Sir,-I have recently compiled and had printed a pocket notebook for the use of the boys in our Society here. In content it resembles the Ringers' Diary but contains only such information as I have found relevant and useful. I have compiled the notebook with the following aims in view :
    (i) To provide our boys with a tough booklet of good quality material which will last them the full term of their membership here.
    (ii) To provide easy reference to charts of those methods which I have found most instructive.
    (iii) To provide incentive for advancement by the compiling of personal records.
    The notebook is in no way designed to replace verbal instruction, only to supplement it, which is why I have not included many points which I have found best imparted by word of mouth at practice and which look damnably technical in print It is for the beginner just progressing from rounds and although geared specially to our needs here i. might prove useful to beginners in general and school societies in particular-Yours faithfully, JOHN L. QUEEN.

    ## 1,966 STEIDMAN TRIPLES

    Dear Sir.-Mr. Martyn Marriott has corresponded with me about the date touch by him whech was published in "The Ringing World" on February 4th (page 88). We did not want to send a lnt of figures to "The Ringing World" but the touch appears to be in order.

    However, in my opinion, the notation of the Homing Course was rather odd; and I submit that, to the less experienced conductor of Stedman Triples, the method of setting out this course would have been clearer if it had followed the lines of Going off Courses, Turning Courses and Homing Courses given for Stedman Caters or Cinques when they are of abnormal length.

    This particular Homing Course would then read:

    3 . $4 \cdot 5 \cdot 8 \cdot 9 \cdot 10 \mathrm{~s} \cdot 12 \mathrm{~s} \cdot 14,15 \cdot 16 \cdot 18,20$
    Rounds at the second row of the last six.

    ## JARROM SURPRISE

    Dear Sir,-I should be interested to know how Jarrom Surprise Minor came by its name, as it is the current spelling of my name in Leicestershire. If composed by a Jarrom I should like to know which one is a ringer. I have, I think, all the Leicester family, which is the oldest branch, back to 1580 , and a prohability which is near certainty back to a Geraum of Digeaewro (Diseworth) of 1206.

    The spelling has not only varied over the centuries, but even between hrothers. four of whom in the 16th century called themselves Jarram, Jarom, Jerome and Jerram respectivelv! So I' hope the ringing expert of Leicester, if he exists, will not feel hurt if I claim him as a "cousin"! Perhaps someone will let me know.

    at this tower. With the help of many friends too numerous to mention this brilliant youngster progressed rapidly and about a year after his first lesson he scored his first peal. This was when he rang the treble to a peal of seven Doubles methods at Kistingbury on November 11th, 1961, conducted by George E. Roome.

    In just over four years Roger's peal total has reached 140 Of these he has conducted two single-method Doubles peals, the first being St . Nicholas Doubles at Stamford-onAvon on December 7th, 1963. An ambition to take part in a peal of eight-spliced standard methods has already been fulfilled.
    Roger's collection of peals includes 15 single-method Doubles (13 of which were first in the method). 60 (I.P.C.) Doubles methods, 34 Spliced Surprise Minor methods and 14 Spliced Surprise Major methods (all record performances for the Peterborough Guild). His single-method peals include London and Pudsey , Surprise Royal and 16 different Sucprise Major methods.

    This excellent record for one sn voung does great credit to the Peterborough Guild and the many friends who have helped him in so many different ways and of these perhaps Alan and Graham Paul should receive special mention. An interesting point in this story is the fact that a "Paul" has taken part in practically all of Roger's peals.
    Well done, Roger and the Peterborough Guild. May the success of both continue for many years!

    ## Julius Casar Commemoration

    Dear Sir-We write in response to the letter of Mr. Eisel, on page 260, concerning the in memoriam peal for G. J. Cæsar.
    Mr. Eisel's suspicions are confirmed by the conductor, Mr. R D. Bailey, that it was in fact Gaius Julius Cæsar in whose memory the peal was rung. We wish to make it quite clear that so far as we are concerned. the first thing we knew about the motive of the peal wals when we saw it in "The Ringing World." As theological students and ordinands, we deprecate the idea of ringing for this purpose which, we regret to say, was premeditated.
    At the same time we beg to differ with Mr. Eisel that Mr Cæsar's visits to this country were hardly occasions for rejoicing. One only has ta look at his achievements in bringing civilisation to Gaul to realise that had he not come we-and Mr. Eisel-might still be wearing woad. Perhaps Mr. Eisel might have pointed cut that the wording should have been. strictly speaking. "In Memoriam C. Iulii Casaris."
    We assume that Mr. Eisel objeets, as we do. from religious motives, but we feel that one of the worst things a churchman can do is to appear appalled over trifles, particularly those which do not concern him.-Vale,

    ## Central Council invited to Croydon

    in 1968THE highlight of the Surrey Association's annual general meeting on May 7tn was when the meeting voted unanimously in favour of inviting the Central Council to the London Borough of Croydon for theit 1968 meeting. Mr. W. Parrott told members that a number of plans had been made. Accommodation would be provided by a new hotel now under construction and the Fairfield Halls would be provided free of charge by the Croydon Council for the meeting.
    Held this year at St. John's, Croydon, the annual general meeting attracted over 80 ringers from a wide area. The service was conducted by the Rev. C. Henderson and the organ played by Mr. Stevens, the father of the new tower captain there.
    The committee's report commented on the number of quarter peals rung in 1965-a re cord number, 226. Attendances at District meetings had been disappointing, especially in the Southern District, where there was a 30 per cent. decline. The treasurer, Mrs. K Chilcott, reported that the balance on Genera Account had dropped by $£ 5210 \mathrm{~s}$. 9 d ., mainly due to the purchase of a duplicator The Belfry Repair Fund now stood at $£ 2404 \mathrm{~s}$. 11 d and a collection taken later realised a further C 4 ls .

    The Association library was reported to be in a poor condition as a result of dampness in St. John's, Redhill, tower. Mr. K. Game advised members that the best way to avoid more damage was for them to borrow the books more often. Only one book had been on loan during the year. The meeting agreed to the library being moved to Kingston upon Thames. Thanks were expressed to Mr. W E. Oatway. who kindly presented the library with a bound copy of the 1965 "Ringing World."

    After the election of new members, the election of officers for 1966 was attended to Mr. F. E. Collins handed over the chair to Mr. A. P. Cannon, and he thanked the members for his last year of office. He had been connected with the Association for over 40 years, in which time he had seen many changes, He welcomed the influx of younger ringers into the Exercise and congratulated them on the standards thev were attaining Officers elected were as follows: Master, A P. Cannon: hon. secretary, W. Parrott: hon treasurer, Mrs. K. Chilcott; hon. assistan secretary, C. H. Cook: auditor. M. V. Chilcott : and liaison officer to the Guildford Guild, W. H. Jackson.

    Mr. Cannon thanked the retiring Master for the immense amount of work he had done for the Association in conducting tower

    ## OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

    A feature of the quarterly meeting of the Bicester and District Branch at Bicester on April 30th, attended by the Master of the Guild (Canon C. Elliot Wigg), was the number of school-age recruits who were elected to membership. These were from Middleton Stoney (four), Ludgershall (four) and Brill (two). Recruits are always required, and those interested should contact local ringers or the incumbent. The reopening of Middleton Stoney tower was also announced.

    The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon W. H. Treble). Mr. F. Sharpe read the lesson and the Rev. J. W. Larter preached an excellent sermon. Mr. C. Smith was organist. Tea was served by Mesdames was organist. Tea was served by Mesd.
    Hunt, Blackman, Purnell and Baggett.

    ## Mr. Christopher Mew's 100 Peals

    With a peal at Cranford on May 7th, Mr Christopher F. Mew, of Putney, completed his century of peals. The variety is indicated by the following list: Minor 1 (conducted 1). Minor 26 (22), Major 49 (20). Royal 3 (1), Doubles $4(3)$ Triples 12 (8, three silent), Caters 5 (2) ${ }^{\text {T }}$ Total 100 (conducted 57 ), three Caters
    surveys and encouraging high ringing standards. The venue chosen for the 1967 annual general meeting was Guildford Cathedral.
    The first motion on the agenda concerned the amalgamation of the posts of secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Chilcott proposed this because she felt that there was too much duplication and this could be avoided. Mr. N. Bagworth seconded and the motion was carried unanimously. Mr. N. Steere proposed and Mr. W. H. Jackson seconded that committee members elected in January at the District's annual general meetings should be allowed to join the retiring committee at their meeting prior to the May annual general. The motion was carried. It was proposed to raise the non-resident life membership subscription to 10 s., but after lengthy discussion the meeting voted overwhelmingly against it. Mr. W. H. Jackson proposed that a dinner be held in 1966 or 1967 at which members could have an opportunity to meet socially. Mr. N. Steere seconded and advised members to vote for this only if they intended to attend the dinner. The voting showed that members were in favour of a dinner being held, and it was left to the committee to decide when and where it should take place
    Finally, in view of the number of changes that had been made in the rules in recent years it was proposed that a new edition be printed: the meeting agreed. Members then listened to a striking competition between the Northern and Southern Districts. Mr. A. P. Cannon adjudicated and the winners were the Northern District by 49 faults to 71 . He congratulated the participants on the high standard of ringing.

    ## BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

    For the annual meeting of the Bedfordshire Association at Maulden on May 7th 11 towers were open during the day for ringing spread over a period of seven hours, with plenty of methods to suit everybody

    After an excellent tea the company was welcomed at the business meeting by the president, Mr E. A. Ruston, who was re-elected president. There was an addition to the vice-presidents-Mr. H. B. Whitney, in recognition of his work connected with the annual report over many years. Mr. A. Smith was re-elected general secretary and treasurer. Mr. P. Mehew peal secretary, Mr. J. Long librarian, Mr. C E. Jeffries auditor, Mr. H. D. Harris and Mr. A. J. Smith trustees. Messrs. A. E. Rushton and J. H Edwards were elected as Central Council representatives. Leighton Buzzard was selected for the 1967 annual general meeting. After discussion, the Boundaries Committee's recommendation to equal out the number of towers in each District was carried. It was proposed on behalt of the General Committee that any member over 65 years of age could, if he so wished, Day a reduced subscription of not less than 2 s . 6d. The meeting felt that most people would wan to continue with the full subscription. but it might help in some circumstances.
    Small committees were apnointed to look into the investing of the Belfry Repair Fund; formulate rules for a striking competition: and for enlistment of a band of peonle willing to help any Association church with the maintenance of its bells and any other aspect of campanology.

    The three motions before the Central Council were discussed. It was felt that each Society should have enough conscience to keep non-resident life membership fees within a reasonable limit, and this motion should not. therefore be necessary. Regarding "The Ringing World." it was felt that the paper should not be subsidised hut an all-out effort be made to get more readers, especially postal subscribers.

    The vote of thanks was proposed by the president, who thanked the clergy for the use of their bells, Mr. M. J. Lockey and the ladies of Maulden for tea and arrangements, and the officers for their work during the year.

    ## COLLEGE YOUTHS VISIT  GLOUCESTER

    THE Ancient Society of College Youths were fortunate in the weather for their annual out of town" meeting, which this year was held in Gloucester on May 7th in bright sun shine for most of the day. In the morning members gathered from all over the country in the beautiful old-world little town of Painswick, where the 12 fine bells were put Painswick, where the 12 fine bells were put to good use in a variety of methods. This was followed by an excellent lunch at the Spread Eagle Hotel, Gloucester, at which 52 mem bers and friends were present.

    Ringing at Gloucester Cathedral was unfortunately curtailed when the clapper of the sixth bell broke; but we were kindly permitted to ring instead on the eight bells at St. Mary-de-Crypt. Tea was generously provided by Mr. Leslie Barry, and then some 70 members and friends crowded into the vestry of St. Mary-de-Crypt for a short business meeting presided over by the Master, Mr. J. D. Rock.

    The Master welcomed members and visitors mentioning especially Mr. C. Rouse, the sec retary of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, and said how pleased he was to see such a large attendance. He expressed the thanks of all the members to Mr. Leslie Barry for having organised the day so splendidly, and thanked also the incumbents and captains of towers in which they had rung, and the Dean of Gloucester for having given them permission to ring

    During the meeting tributes were paid to the iife and work of John Pinfold, and members observed a short silence. Mr. C. Rouse welcobed the College Youths to Gloucester on behalf of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. He said how pleased he was that the Society had come to Gloucester and expressed the hope that members had had an enjoyable day. In conclusion, the Master said that it was clear that everyone had enjoyed coming to Gloucester. "When we have found a good place to have an enjoyable meeting." he said. "why shouldn't we stick to it? Speaking informally. I hope you'll invite us to Gloucester again in a few years' time.

    The day finished with more ringing at St Mary-de-Crypt and Cheltenham. To attend this most enjoyable meeting, memhers came from Yorkshire. Lancashire. Birmingham, Bristol. Kent, Bedford, South Wales with over 30 from London.

    ## LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY

    Concern was expressed at the annual general meeting of the Leeds and District Societty by the secretary (Mr. Ian North) at the poor attendance at most meetings, although membership numbers were good. This was evident that day by only 20 turning un on a sunny afternoon at St. Chad's. Headingley, with afternoon ringing at Chapel Allerton. However, full advantage was taken of the bells with touches of Minor, Triples and Major
    New and old members whose membership has lapsed will be welcome at the next meeting at Baxley on May 28th

    ## Mr. Harold Chant new Barnsley President

    Mr. Harold Chant, who for 36 years has been hon. treasurer of the Barnsley and District Society, was elected president at the annual meeting at Barnsley on May 14th. Mr. Christopher Moxon is the new treasurer and Mr. J. W. Buxton continues as hon. secretary.
    South Kirkby was in the news. Five members from this tower were elected to membership, an evening meeting is to be held there on June 18th to help them, and it is likely to be the venue for the shield contest. A trip to London is being arranged by Mr. Eric Stainrod. Mr. A. D. Birch presided, and Mr. C. Moxon proposed the vote of thanks.

    ## OBITUARY

    ## MR. JOHN PINFOLD

    The news of the death of John Pinfold, at the age of 76, came as a great shock to the members of the St. Martin's Guild.

    John commenced to ring when a boy at Emscote, near Warwick, where his father was a ringer. When John was still in his teens, the celebrated ringer John D. Matthews, a Drinter by trade, went to live in Warwick, and it was from him John received early fuition in change ringing.

    John Pinfold also became a printer, but found it necessary to travel to Birmingham each day (a distance of 25 miles) to find suitable employment in the trade. The difficulties of travelling and the time occupied therein were factors which caused John to give up ringing for some 16 years, and it was not until the war-time ban on ringing was lifted that be returned to offer his services to ringing.

    By this time John had moved to reside in Birmingham and quickly became one of the foremost peal ringers in the St. Martin's Guild. To learn a new method was no trouble to him, and his ringing was most reliable. He seldom made a mistake and he was a good striker.
    John filled the office of Ringing Master of the Guild for several years with infinite tact and efficiency, and earned the respect of every member. He was a most punctual member of Birmingham Cathedral and St. Martin's Sunday service bands, by whose members his regular presence will be greatly missed.

    At the funeral service, which took place at Lodge Hill, Selly Oak, the Worcestershire Association was represented by Mr. W. B. Cartwright, and the following members of the St. Martin's Guild were present to pay their last respects to a good friend and a fine ringer: Messrs. N. J. Goodman, B. D. A. Woolley. H. H. Fearn and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fearn.

    ## CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

    T
    THE annual festival of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at Oxton, Birkenhead, on May 14th. Despite coinciding with the Cup Minal, which was of particular interest to Wirral people, some 80 ringers were present for lunch and 120 for tea. This year it was decided to reintroduce a full-day festival, which was the custom a number of years ago. The day was perfect for the occasion and ringing in the morning was enjoyed at Eastham, Bromborough, Port Sunlight and Bebington. Non-ringers visited the beautifully preserved village of Port Sunlight.

    Lunch at the Parish Hall, Oxton, comprised grapefruit. chicken main course, fruit flan, cheese and biscuits and coffee-all for Ss. The annual meeting followed and lasted from 2.07 to 3.08 ; a reduction in time of over 50 per cent. This year the officers were given a vote of confidence in that they were all reelected, with an additional post of Press reporter, which has been in existence for the past il months but needed to be ratified by the meeting.

    The date of the annual dinner and dance was given as October 15 th and will be held this year at Bowdon Assembly Rooms. A promise was made that speeches would be cut to a minimum.
    The meeting ratified the motion put forward by the Standing Committee for discussion at the Central Council this Whitsun. Discussion also took place on the other motions on the Central Council agenda. so the representatives know the general feeling of the sentatives know the gen Guild on these motions.

    ## CATHEDRAL BELLS APPEAL

    The general secretary, Mr. Henry O. Baker, presented the report on the Guild's effort towards the Cathedral bells. So far the Guild has raised $£ 540$ of the $£ 1,000$ that is being guaranteed. Members were urged 10 raise the remaining $£ 460$ as soon as possible. They were warned that when the Guild's effort was completed. they were being made responsible for organising the general appeal throughout Cheshire for the remaining money. No definite figure could be given for this amount at present.
    It was reported that educational courses held so far had been exiremely useful and would be continued. A donation of $£ 5$ was approved towards the cost of repairs to bell fittings at Northwich tower. The design of the Master's badge was agreed upon with one minor alteration.
    The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Mr. Alex Martin and the Wirral ringers for their excellent arrangements.
    Ringing was then enjoyed at Oxton, Bidston and Woodchurch. The service was held at St. Saviour's. Oxton, at 4.30 p.m. and the preacher was the Very Rev. E. H. Patey, Dean of Liverpool, who gave a very interesting sermon (despite the fact that he was wondering what the Cup Final score was!). Tea followed.
    The Master of the Guild, Mr. John Worth. asked if a "full-day festival " should be held next year, and those present were unanimously in favour. In 1967 the meeting will be held at Macclesfield. Ringing continued after tea at St. Saviour's, Oxton, followed by handbell ringing outside the local, and then the journey home, those "from the hills" the journey home, those "from the hills arriving home at midnight.

    ## BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

    Despite the Biggleswade District's misfortune in not being able to hold an outing, the evening meeting at Henlow proved to be a great success, with an attendance equalling that of many full meetings.

    Mr. L. Bywaters catered for all tastes as Ringing Master, with plenty of rounds for the many young people who have started ringing from Potton. Biggleswade and Northill

    Next meeting: Potton, June 11th.

    Two well-known Sydney ringers, Sue Wright and Clare Masefield, are on a working holiday in New Zealand, reports "Ringing Towers." Mr. Simon Humphrey has completed the circle as conductor at Wollaton Church, Notts, with a quarter peal of Merton and Morning Star Treble Bob on April 24th.
    Correction.-The footnote to the peal of Doubles rung at Audlem (page 313) should be: Conducted by Frank R. Morton, and not as printed.

    The footnote to the peal of York Maximus at Walsall on April 23rd should read: First of York Maximus by all the band except the ringers of 6 and 11.
    The Hertfordshire Association are inviting the Central Council for 1971, and not as was inadvertently stated in "Belfry Gossip" on page 311.

    A reward for their enthusiasm in their efforts to progress in method ringing was when the local band at Eling, Hants, rang their first as a band of Minor (Little Bob).

    Barnet ringers, by their quarter peal of Grandsire on May 1st. scored three first quarters and two firsts of Doubles. A happy day for Roy Adcock. who was celebrating his 21st birthday, and also for the conductor, Mr. P. M. Cuckson.

    All Saints', Parramatta, N.S.W., rang for 144 weddings in the year ending March 31 st. They raised $$ 1,600$ during the year and the halfway mark in the tower's fund for recasting bells is now behind them. Boh Ferris is still cantain, with Ralph Clark as his deputy.

    Only six ladies attended the Eastern District of the Ladies' Guild at Grundishurgh on May 14th. If this non-attendance trend continues serious consideration will have to be given to dishanding the District, although membership is continuing at almost the same leveh

This was his only parish as Vicar, and he visited it on March 8th to be presented with a gold pectoral cross by the churchwardens on behalf of the people of Eynsham.     ## STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY STRIKING CONTEST

    Six teams entered for the first eight-bell striking contest promoted by the Society and held at Christ Church, Coseley. The judges were Messrs J. Alan Ainsworth and Charles Webb of Birmingham, and in addition to the actual striking a proportion of the marks was given for a good rhythm. The test piece was either a plain course of Grandsire Triples (selected by five teams) or a bob course of Plain Bob Major.

    The Salisbury Diocesan Guild at its annual festival and general meeting at Dorchester on May 14 th elected Mr. W. C. West, of Melksham, Wilts, as the new president of the Guild.
    Having reached the age of $71, \mathrm{Mr}$. West decided to give way to a younger man after having been associated with the secretary and treasurer's department for 25 years. The first nine years he served as assistant secretary and then for 16 years was general secretary.
    Another appointment from which he has resigned is that of one of the Guild's Central Council representatives, a position he has held since 1945. The Rev. Roger Keeley succeeds him. The new general secretary is Mr. J. T. Barrett, 120, Gerrards Green, Beaminster, Dorset.
    The Editor would like to acknowledge his indebtedness to Mr. West for the mutual understanding and helpfulness that has existed since their first meeting at Norwich, when they were both, so to speak. "new boys."

    ## BRAMFURD'S WELDED TENOR REDEDICATED

    At Evensong on Ascension Day the welded tenor bell at Bramford, Suffolk, was rededicated, the work having been carried out by Mr. Nielsen, of Vejle, Denmark. Of the 300 or so bells he has welded this is the first to be used for English change ringing. There is another bell in England he has weldedthe tenor at Little Hallingbury-but this is hung dead for chiming only. Unhappily it has recently cracked again.

    The back five at Bramford are probably the only complete ring from the foundry of Miles Graye I cast in 1632. They are considered tonally superior to most others cast in the same period. When the tenor cracked it was decided that rather than recast such an historically important bell. it was worth while experimenting with welding. The cost of repair will be upwards of $£ 250$. Ahout $£ 18$ duty was charged. The ringers opinion of the bell is "splendid." Time alone will tell whether this is a satisfactory method of repair.

    ## 21st ANNIVERSARY PEAL

    The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung ai Melksham, Wiltshire, on May 7th, was arranged to mark the 21st anniversary of the peal of Grandsire Doubles at North Bradley. on May 8th. 1945, to proclaim the termination of hostilities in Furope. On that occasion three of the Yorkshire band rang their first peal, viz.: F. S. Slatford, L. E. Hitchins and E. J. Hitchins. D. E. Lee, ringer of the treble. also rang his first peal in 1945-Plain Bob Minor, in the same tower.

    Mr. E. J. Hitchins, the conductor, would like to associate with the peal the names of Mr. P. W. J. Harding, tower captain at North Bradley, who taught these four, then schoolboys, to handle a bell and ring methods, Mr. Ronald Harding and the late Mr. A. Roy Harding, who took part in the two 1945 peals.

    ## A COUSIN TO GLASGOW

    Regarding the peal of Clyde Surprise Royal rung at Ashton-under-Lyne, Mr. Neil Bennett (the conductor) informs us that the name was chosen because of the method's similarity to Glasgow Surbrise Major. It is not, however. an acceptable extension of the latter and hence the name of Glasgow could not be used.

    In 1965 a ringing venture was mooted by Geoffrey K. Dodd and other Winchester Guild ringers to attempt peals at the four Twyfords, With favourable answers, it was planned to attempt Twyford, Leics, on April 30th and the following three on May 7th. Then came a bombshell. Permission for Twyford, Berks, was withdrawn as permission had been given to another band. (Their attempt lasted only 20 minutes!)

    Some compensation was permission to make an attempt at Loughborough Bell Foundry on April 30th. But to reach there for a 9 a.m. start the car had to leave at 4.45 , picking up en route. A peal of Bob Royal was rung in just over three hours, probably not quite up to the Leicester times for the hells. In the afternoon two attempts were necessary for the Leicester Twyford peal. Cambridge was stopped by one of the lady cleaners to enahle her to get her mop from the ground-floor belfry, and a peal of Minor in two methods rung.
    A week later the band met at Twyford, Hants, at $8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and a good peal of Bob Major was brought round in 2 hours and 50 minutes. The last peal here was rung 21 years ago, before the bells were rehung. At 2.30 pm . that afternoon the long draught at Twyford, Bucks, was being tackled and, despite two interruptions, another good peal was scored in 2 hours and 50 minutes, which was thought by the local captain to be the first on the bells. And so with a 100 ner cent. success and the promise of a peal at Twyford, Berks, later in the year, we feel well satisfied with out week's ringing, writes G. K. D.

    ## GRANDSON'S GOLDEN WEDDING COMPLIMENT

    On the four bells at St. Mary-le-Wigford Church, Lincoln, a quarter peal of Bob Minimus in which his grandson. Kevin, took part, was rune on May 8 th in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert I. Mingay, of Grimsby. Mr. Mingay was a well-known ringer, being attached to St . Andrew's, Grimsby, for 25 years, but had not been able to ring for 25 years.
    Kevin had his first lesson in handling a hell on February 1st and his grandfather expressed doubts as to whether he would be sufficiently competent to ring the quarter. This challenge only increased his determination and at the end of the quarter he was congratulated on reaching the standard in so short a time. A peal attempt on May 7th in honour of the occasion at Grimsby was also successful.

    ## RANG ON HIS 80th BIRTHDAY

    Mr. Chris Spiers celebrated his 80th birthday on Sunday, May 1st. hy ringing for morning service at St. Mary"s Church. Horsell. Woking, where he has rung regularly, apart from the war time, for 44 years. Previously he was ringing for 20 years at East Meon. Hampshire. where he learned to handle a hell. thus completing 64 years in the two belfries. A peal was rung in his honour on the day before his birthday by some of his friends in the Guildford Diocesan Guild and, on the actual day, in his own tower. a quarter peal of Doubles. The ringers of Horsell presented him with a copy of "English Cathedrals."

    ## "OVER TO YOU"

    Sermon by Canon Gilbert Thurlow,
    President of Central Council at the rehallowing of the bells at Rougham, Suffolk, May 14th, 1966.
    John 20: 21. "As the Father sent me, so I send you." am so grateful for the invitation to this church today, in this, the diocese where I first learnt to handle a bell and to ring rounds.

    A newish book by the Bishop of Guildford, Dr. Reindorp, is called "OVER TO YOU." It is about their new Cathedral. Now the Cathedral is built, it stands as a challenge to all concerned to use it for God's glory and their own joy and peace.

    When the Dean of Westminster preached at the 900 th anniversary of the founding of Westminster Abbey a few months ago he began simply with the words "AND NOW WE FACE THE FUTURE."

    These three brief sentences are like three mighty strokes on a bell. Challenging all who hear - Over to you; and now we face the future; as the Father sent me, so I send you.

    There has been, time and time again in this ancient parish, a day when "Over to you" was the order. Maybe a thousand years ago Saxon men built a church here and it became the place where men began to proclaim the Christian faith here, the place where men began to come to dedicate their lives to the service of God and other people. Then seven hundred years ago a stone church was built. "Over to you" it was again! A grand building, commanding that people see how grand a thing is the Christian life.

    Then, at last, five hundred years ago those two splendid men, John Tillot and Robert Drury, built this tower. They hung in it a bell cast, perhaps, by John Bird of London about 1415. Three others were hung there also and again the order was "Over to you." So they repeated in their way what Christ had done in His way. They left people a life to live as ringers, and they left them bells to ring. "Now we face the future" was the thought in their hearts as they left their personal share in the history of this place completed. And the future was faced, courageously as ever. Many sad, depressing things happened. Our great Abbey nearby at Bury St. Edmunds, to which this church of Rougham belonged, was reduced to ruin.

    The ancient services were done into the then modern English - what a blow to the people who didn't like change and new ideas!

    Then wicked Will Downing came, perhaps, and smashed up lovely windows which Rougham people had erected and treasured. Never mind! They faced the future with courage.

    William Manning, your churchwarden in 1661, got John Darbie of Ipswich to cast you two bells. He cast you another in 1678. Then you were so pleased with yourselves when you got Tom Osborn of Downham to cast your new tenor in 1790 that you put the words Venite Exultemus on it - words to remember every time you sing Matins.

    Other worries came. Napoleon. Hitler. Each time there were people who thought all was coming to an end and there was no future to face, and "Over to you" and Jesus" words at Easter were going to lead us nowhere. But here we are! All's going wrong today as usual! We are wasting money seeking the moon when we cannot run the earth properly. Our humanists vigorously plug the idea that Christianity is played out and that, because they don't happen to believe it, it should not be taught.

    Far fewer people come to church now that there are easier things to do. "Why ring bells or repair and play the organ or bother about the choir when you can sit in an armchair with television?"

    So the devil deceives his dupes. But there's a vast amount to say on the right side, just as much as at any time since Rougham first had a church. The church is becoming reunited more sincerely than it has been these last thousand years. The Church is looking outside itself to the people around, far more than it has for generations past, to see how it can serve them even though they don't believe the Gospel. The Church is bringing its worship and men's everyday life together more sincerely than it has for centuries. All sorts of new ideas keep appearing. in the way of giving publicity to the Church's faith and life. The very failure of a world apart from Christ to live in peace is a tremendous testimony to the Gospel as the one means of lifting men's hearts to the one true way to live.
    "Over to you"! Your renewed bells await your ringers. Whenever a ringer leaves this place look upon it as a challenge to get another one to take his or her place. The bells are here again and you can't ring them by pressing a button - thank God! You can only do it by getting (Continued on page 355)

    ## SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

    ## Annual General Meeting and Festival

    ## at Fordington St. George

    B
    ETWEEN 150 and 200 ringers from all parts of the far-flung Diocese of Salisbury converged on Dorchester and its nearby Church of Fordington St. George on May 14th, on the occasion of the Guild's Annual Festival.

    Some 14 towers throughout Dorset were available for ringing and full use was made of these facilities.

    The magnificent Church of St. George was practically full for the Guild service, which was conducted by the Vicar (Canon E. B. Brooks). Attending the service was Mrs. E. L. Hedger (Deputy Mayoress of Dorchester). Miss Evelyn Kingman kindly acted as olganist and the lesson was read by the Master (the Rev. R. Longridge). Robed clergy present included (in addition to the Vicar and the Master) the Revs. R. G. Chaffey Moore, Roger Keeley, R. H. L. Clarke and the Ven. E. Seager (Archdeacon of Dorset). The chairman of the Dorchester Branch (the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth) was in the congregation

    A stirring address was given by the Archdeacon, who said that bells, service and worship had been connected since earliest times. They were also part of the English scene, and though silent through years of persecution, in later times rang out to call people to church. He made a powerful appeal to ringers to ring for the glory of God and not for personal ambition, and live their lives as a harmonious peal both in a parochial and a wider sense.
    A collection was taken and given to the Edwards Memorial Fund, Due to a misunderstanding, the traditional touch on the hand bells had to be omitted. and this was the occasion of some regret. A further disappointment was when it became known that the scope of ringing at St. George's was somewhat scope of ringing at St. George's was somewhat limited owing to a crack having developed in the tenor. The service, however, was most impressive and none could have left without a feeling of enhanced fellowship and brotherhood.
    A meat tea was served in the splendidly appointed St. Osmund's School, at which Ald. E. L. Hedger and Mrs. Hedger (Deputy Mayor and Mayoress) were guests of honour.
    The annual meeting followed with the Master as chairman. The Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth, as chairman of the host Branch welcomed the company, and the Master introduced Ald. Hedger, who gave a civic welcome to the Branch. He was thanked by the Rev. Brinkworth, who also paid tribute to Canon Brooks and his helpers, as without their co-operation the meeting could not have been held. Mr. Dukes briefly replied.

    Minutes of the last meeting were read by the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. W. C. West) and unanimously approved. The company stood in silence in memory of those who had passed away during the year. In his report, Mr West noted the steady advance in the quality of peal ringing, and suggested that more time should be given to instructing new conductors, of whom there was a scarcity throughout the Guild area. A statement of accounts showed that despite an expensive year there was a surplus on working of $\mathrm{f6}$. It was adopted unanimously with thanks to the hon. auditors (J. S. Weeks and C. F. Andrews).

    ## INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP

    To the great regret of all, Mr. West then announced his wish to retire from office after 16 years as general secretary, having previously completed nine years as a Branch secretary. Paying tribute to him, the Master said "the measure of his success as general secretary is that during his reign-an inflationary period if ever there was one-the subscription has only increased by Is., the membership has increased to well over 1,000 , the Guild reports have continued to be issued free to every member and a satisfactory balance maintained in the bank." On behalf of the Guild Mr.C. W. H. Powell (chairman of the West Dorsei Branch) presented Mr. West. with a cheque for $£ 32$ 10s, as a mark of with a cheque for e 32 gratitude and esteem. Mr. West as matably replied.

    A résumé of Branch activities was then given by the Master, who reinforced the hon. secretary's appeal for the training of more conductors.
    The election of officers resulted in the Rev. R. Longridge being unanimously confirmed as Master, and to fill the office of president, vacant for a year since the death of Canon Carew Cox, the choice fell on Mr. West, who was elected with acclamation. Obviously moved by the unexpected honour, he promised moved his best to follow in the patho of his illustrious predecessors. Mr. J. T. Barrett was elected as hon, secretary and treasurer, and Mr. F. Slatford was confirmed as assistant hon. secretary, the committee being re-elected en bloc. Messrs. C. Knight, H. Burry and G. Amor were elected as hon. life ringing members.
    A grant of $£ 15$ was made to Compton Bassett and one of $£ 5$ to Horsley for repairs to their bells and belfries.
    There was a long discussion on the advisability of obtaining different quotations for the supply of badges. and a suggestion by the Calne Branch of forming a catering committee for future meetings. On show at the head of the table was a massive flagon given to St. Peter's (Dorchester) ringers in given to St. Peter's (Dorchester) ringers in 1676 by one Edward Lester. no doubt for their liquid refreshment. Its home now is in the Dorchester Museum, being brought out on this special occasion.

    In concluding the meeting the Master thanked Mrs. Brooks and her helpers for preparing and serving the meal, and everyone who had assisted in making the day such a success. The journey homewards was broken for ringing at many a lovely old church whose towers were still open for the enthusiast, and the smiling Dorset countryside echoed with their music until a late hour. So ended another memorable festival.
    W. A. E.

    ## TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

    Over 70 ringers attended the spring festival of the Penzance Branch held at Phillack on May 14th. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. M A. Thomas, and afterwards the ladies of the church provided a very ample tea, for which we expressed our thanks.
    The business meeting followed, with the presentation of iong-service certificates. It has been suggested that the autumn festival be held on October 8th, possibly in the Helston area. Other towers open were Carbis Bay, Gwinear and Lelant.

    ## MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

    THE president, Mr. B. Worthington. made the long journey from Ponteland, Northumberland, to attend the annual meeting of the Midland Counties Guild at Burton-onTrent on May 7th. He congratulated the Guild on another successful year, and in thanking the officers said one of the most hard-working was Mr. G. H. Lane, of Kingsbury, Warks, and another who could not be thanked enough was Mr. J. W. Cutton, the devoted Guild secretary.
    The secretary in his report spoke of the loss the Guild had sustained by the deaths of Miss Foulk (Duffield) and Mr. K. Taylor (Coleshill). Twelve resident and eight non-resident members joined during the year, the total membership being 16 honorary and ' 124 ringing. Thirty-five peals were rung. two members ringing their first. Mr. D. P. Jones was the leading conductor with 18 peals, and the hon secretary the leading ringer with 36 , followed by R.J. Clifton, 29. Leading non-residents were Mr. A. E. Rowley (32), G. R. Edwards (20) and D. S. Pont (20).

    ## 1966 OFFICERS

    Mr. B. Worthington was re-elected president: the Rev. W. V. G. Griffiths. Vicar of Burton, vice-president; Mr. R. A. Welton, chairman: Mr. G. H. Lane, Ringing Master; Mr. J. W. Cotton, hon. secretary: Mr. J. H. Brittan, hon. treasurer. Standing Committee: Messrs. J K. Smith (Winshill), G. L. Roobottom (Sud bury), D. P. Jones (Church Gresley) and Mr. W. J. Leach (Burton) together with the officers of the Guild.
    The meeting concluded with the president proposing a vote of thanks to those responsihle for the tea. the vice-president for so willingly conducting the service and his appropriate address in which he said the art of ringing took a lifetime to perfect, and many people appreciated the ringing of bells, not least among them those who were ill. infirm or otherwise prevented from attending the services of the church. The Vicar of All Saints (the Rev. J. M. Innes) was also thanked for the use of the modern ring (tenor 21 cwt .) in his church before the service.

    The evening ringing was at St. Modwen's.

    ## KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

    ## Lewisham District

    The meeting of the Lewisham District on the recently rehung bells of St. Mary the Virgin's. Hayes, on April 23rd, attracted 48 members and friends to the excellent tea provided by Miss Hilda Oakshett, Mrs. Smith and helpers. The Rector (the Rev. F. Mitchell) preached an interesting sermon at the service and also presided at the meeting, when nine practising members and one non-resident member were elected. Ringing ranged from rounds and call changes to London and a course of Downe Minor.

    Next meeting: Shoreham, July 23 rd.

    ## Ashford District

    At the detached tower at Brookland on Romney Marsh said to be built from timber washed up in the 15th century, the Ashford District held a successful meeting on May 7 th attended by 40 ringers. The Rev. Mr O Connor conducted the service and a sumptuous tea was arranged by Mr. G. Velvick Evening ringing was at New Romney (8) but some visited " a collector's piece" at Fairfield (3).

    ## LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION  Bell Repair Fund Inaugurated

    THE hosts for the annual general meeting of the Lancashire Association, held at Westhoughton on April 30th, were the Bolton District and they carried out their duties splen-didly-even the weather was kind, with glorious sunshine all day. There was plenty of good singing available from 11 a.m. onwards and eventually all converged on Westhoughton.

    The new president (Canon A. Hodgson, of Goosnargh) preached at the service in St. Bartholomew's Church. In a "down to earth" address he reminded the congregation that they could not successfully separate the secular from the spiritual. All their activities, even a drink at the local, should be to the glory of God. He also implored the ringers present to remember the outside world when they rang peals.

    About 150 sat down to ea and the presiden was in the chair for the annual meeting. In his opening remarks he referred to the passing of Mr. Peter Crook, who always extended the welcome when the Association came to the Bolton District. Good wishes were received from a former president, the Rev. F. F. Rigby, who is now Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

    ## NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

    The newly-elected vice-president, Mr. Nicholas M. Newby, of Kirkby-in-Furness, who has been a member for 40 years, sook his place. He succeeds Mr. C. Crossthwaite, who was given a really hearty "thank you" for his work. The general secretary, Mr. F. Reynolds was returned unopposed, and the representatives to the Central Council are now Messrs A. Capstick, C. Crossthwaite, J. P. Partington and F. Reynolds
    The various reports and the balance sheet. which showed assets of $£ 7704 \mathrm{~s}$. 2d., the excess of income over expenditure during the year being $£ 118$ los 4 d ., were accepted without comment. The recommendation of the committee that a bell repair fund be started was also accepted. Arrangements have been made also accepted. Arrangements have been made and Station Hotel, Preston, on October 29th

    ## POINTS FROM THE REPORTS

    The general secretary's report gave the following losses by death: Mrs. A Hague (Blackpool). Joseph Jackson (Bispham). James Marsh (Aughton), Thomas Meicalfe (Dalton), Harry Partington (Heywood). Canon Rimmer (formerly of Ulveston) and Thomas Sayer (Ribchester). Thanks were expressed to the Branch secretaries for their sterling work, and particularly encouraging was the increase in activity in the Lancaster Branch
    The Ringing Master (Mr. J. P. Partington) stated that 164 peals ( 12 on handbells) were rung during 1965. consisting of Maximus 7, Cinaues 4. Royal 8. Caters 11, Major 71, Trinles 19. Minor 29 and Dothles 3. Two-hundred-and-six resident members 122.3 per cent.) took part and 37 rang their first peal. Leading conductors were Derek Butterworth 26. Cvril Crossthwaite 17, and leading peal ringers Derok Butterworth $$ 1$. Cyril Crossthwaite. P J. Crossthwaite 43. Tudor P. Fdwards. Margaret E. Fort. Jeffrey Kershaw, Richard S. Starkie 28.
    An unusual feature was the ringing nf the first neals on the bells at two churches. At I iverpool Cathedral a neal of Grandsire Cinaues was rune in January and a peal of Maximus in November. The other church was St. Mark's. Preston. where the bells were installed in 1874 Two long lengths were rung-hoth onf Yorkthise Surprise. at Acerington-the 17.248 being the longest peal yet rung for the Association.
    Prnceedings concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to all concerned in the success of the meeting. Several towers were open and ringing was carried on until auite late. Altogether a wery enjoyable meeting.

    The Rector of Market Deeping (the Rev. David E. Davies). in a letter thanking those who rang at his church for the Parish Flower Festival. states: "We always welcome visiting teams and are most pleased to offer them any facilities."

    ## CANON THURLOW AT ROUGHAM (SUFFOLK)  REHALLOWING

    THERE was hardly a vacant seat in the spacious Church of St. Mary, Rougham. near Bury St. Edmunds, on May 14th at the rehallowing of the bells after overhaul by Messrs. Caylor of Loughborough.
    The Vicar, the Rev. J. E. Jarrold, has been at Rougham but a few years and in that time has been active in getting general repairs and renovations carried out. It is such a parish as Rougham where these things might easily slip behind because the church is large and the parish scattered; in fact the only buildings near the church are the rectory, the school and two coltages, the maill centres of habitation being well away.

    ## GROUND FLOOR RING

    The six bells have been put back in the same frame, which was put in by George Day and Sons, Eye, Sutiolk, in 1895 . All have been retuned, the pre-Reformation bell (4th) one-eighth turned and fitted with a new cast iron canon-retaining headstock at a cost of around $£ 700$. The actual hanging was done by Arthur Fidler. Local builders have put in almost a new floor under the bells and new trap doors.
    Ringing is from the ground floor so it is a long draught, as the tower is large and tail as if it should have eight bells! While the bells were at the foundry Mr. John P Fidler was televised with them and quite a lengthy film was later broadcast by the BB.C.
    Described by partakers as "marvellous." tea was provided at the nearby school, then came some handbell ringing and the service. Leslie Wright, lately District chairman and now District Ringing Master, and Richard Rose, former District Ringing Master, met everyone at the door. The service was of familiar pattern and the lesson was read r:y George Pipe, Guild Ringing Master

    For the actual rehallowing. Mr. Wright handed a rope to Captain David Armstrong. one of the churchwardens, who handed it to Canon Gilbert Thurlow. and he, after prayer. handed it to the Rector. Then a course of Plain Bob Minor was very nicely rung by the church's ringers The address was given by Canon Thurlow and appears on the front pare of this issue.

    ## EASY TO RING

    At the end of the service an extent of Grandsire Doubles was rung. then hands of ringers from far and wide followed in nuick succession to try the bells out. Mr. Wright heing in charge. Canon Thurlow took a rone for a touch and afterwards expressed his pleasure 3. the way his bell hehaved. Other ringers. too, remarked on the ease of ringing I. Was good to see Andrew Beckwith. the general secretary of the Suffolk Guild. hack again with rope in hand after his spell in hospital.
    Inside and outside the church the bells sounded well. echoing the description of Rougham's then five bells as given in White's "Suffolk" of 1883-"sweet-toned.
    Though all concerned have done so well in get done what has been done and are to be highly congratulated. the general appearance of the church and its surroundings. and the sound of its hells. just beg for two more trebles-it is a real set-up for an octave Perham we shall see this cne day-let's hope it will $n n t$ he very long. The active band of ringers deserve it.

    CLAUDE RUSH
    The Holme Hale and Necton band of ringers on Mondav, May 16 th. rang a quarter peal of Boh Doubles, half-muffied, as a tribute to the late Rev. L G. Dennis, for seven years Rector of the combined parishes of Nerton and Holme Hale. Mr. Dennis had always been most helpful to both local and visiting ringers.

    THE RAILWAYMEN'S GUILD

    ## Presentation of President's Badge

    THE tenth annual meeting of the Guild was held at Newcastle on Tyne on May 7th and, considering the distance members had to travel, the atteddance was good. All regions were represented. The ringing programme was very well organised und the ringing was up to standard.

    During the business meeting, held in the Cathedral library, Mr. S G. Martin, secretary of the Joint Committee, British Railways Stalf Association, presented the Master's badge of office. This is in the form of a pendant, with a gold tinish, and suspended from a ribbon collarette. Mr. Martin, referring to the Joint Committee's unanimous agreement to this gift, mentioned the committee's new approach to the various activities within the Association, and also that more help for the cultural side of the members was being anticipated.

    Members stood in silence as a tribute to the late Mr. W. Hollands.

    ## ELECTION OF OFFICERS

    Mr. F. Hodgson, of Darlington, was elected Master of the Guild, and Mr. J. A. Hoare reelected secretary and treasurer: Mr. J. E Brough and Mr. F. R. Morton were re-elected auditors Regional Masters elected: London Midland, Mr. S. Foskett, Nottingham: Western. Mr, W. B. Kynaston, Swindon: North Eastern. Mr. B. Sutton. York: Southern. Mr. C. A. Bassett. Wadhurst ; Eastern, Mr. F. A. Staveley. Doncaster
    It was agreed that the elected Master of the Guild should take on the office after the general meeting. The proposal that the office be held for two years was lost.

    As the Guild accepted the rules of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, in full, it wa, proposed that the hon. secretary should apply for affiliation to the Council.

    The Guild will visit Reading for the 1967 annual general meeting some time in April or May. and Brighton for the autumn meeting. Six new members were elected

    Mr. Martin was asked at the next Joint Committee meeting to express the thanks of all members for the generous gift of a badge to the Guild
    J. A. H.

    ## ESSEX ASSOCIATION

    The South Western District's meeting at Havering-atte-Bower on Cup Final day was part of the programme for the fioral weekend. Ringing ispirations finished about 4 p.m. when the clapper of the fifth crashed. It was a case of retiring to the village green and ringing handbells and listening on the transistor to Wembley. Permission to visit the difficult fivs at Navestock was ohtained. Technical men found that the tenor hre might easily part companv with the wheel. For those wishing to try their strength it was rounds on 1.2 and 4.
    Minimus with the tencr covering was rung for the service at Havering. This was comhined with a musical evening. There were the Barkingside/Walthamsenw handhell band and a local guitar group. Dennis Fllisdon qave an introductory halk on Grandsire hefore his hand reeled off pwo courses of Triples. There was soup and rolls in the Village Hall before taking leave of our very kind hosts, writes our correspondent.

    ## C.C.C. ADVOCATE CENTRAL RESTORATION FUND

    Dear Sir,-I am sorry to hear that the Standing Committer of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers thinks that Mr Knight's suggestion of a central fund for bell restoration presents too many administrative difficulties to be practical. I find it difficul to belreve that ringers would be so jealous and so parochially minded as to make such a fund impossible. I fully appreciate the difficulties which Mr. Barnett has found with the Kent repair fund; but I wonder whether some of these have sprung from the very fact that this is a local affair and would be diminished rather than increased if it were organised on a national level. Obviously any repair fund must face the sometimes invidious task of deciding between the relative claims of different parishes; but the experience. for in stance, of the Historic Churches Preservation Trust would seem to show that it is a good deal easier for a central committee of national standing and prestige to weigh the various claims objectively than it is for a local committee, which is inevitably more subject to local pressures and suspicions

    This is a matter of some urgency. In the past, bell ringers have been able to take it for granted that the very expensive equipment of their craft would be provided without cost to themselves; and parishes have been able and willing to do this in return for the henefit they have received They are still willing: hut they are becoming less and less able. for they are hard put to provide the necessities of worship, and are having to forgo luxuries, however desirable. The continued popularity of bell-ringing is evidence of the great pleasure it gives to those who practise it; and I am sure that they would be willing to make some such small contribution as $\mathbf{M r}$. Knight suggests to ensure its continuadnce.-Yours faithfully.

    ## SIR ARTHUR HEYWOOD'S RAILWAY

    Dear Sir,-In his interesting account of Sir Arthur Heywood on April 22nd Mr. E. C. Shepherd refers to his well-known isin gauge light railway at Duffield Bank and the number of visitors it attracted during and after its construction. Among these were the Duke of Westminster and his agent, who wanted a more convenient means of transporting coal, building materials, etc., from the railway station to Eaton Hall some two or three miles away. After much persuasion Sir Arthur agreed to construct a similar line for them
    In the late 1920's or early 1930's I read this ir, one of my son's "Meccano Magazines," which gave a long and interesting description (almost a specification) of the Eaton Hall line and the two engines (one of which was named "Katie"), also the ingenious methods Sir Arthur employed in laying the track, which had to cross several streams and three roads.

    When the Central Council met at Chester in 1925 many members visited Eaton Hall and were given trips on the line by the late Mr.
    H . W. Wilde H. W. Wilde.

    Unfortunately the Eaton Hall Light Railway no longer exists and I saw in (I think) "Country Life" a few years ago that "Katie" and her sister were acquired by the Ravenglass and Eskdale Light Railway.-Yours sincerely,

    10, King's Close. Crayford.

    ST. PHILIP'S CATHEDRAL IS AMONG THE 500-PEAL TUWERS
    Dear Sir, - I notice on page 325 that the " 500 th peal at St. Mary's, Willesden, was recorded in December and this number was only exceeded by the towers at Crayford, Erith and Loughborough Bell Foundry." May I be allowed to correct this statement? Wel over 500 peals have been rung in the tower of Birmingham Cathedral. In fact Mr. George E. Fearn has recently recorded his 500 th peal in this tower and he has by no means stood in all that have been rung there.
    I believe the first recorded peal at St. Philip's is the first one in the peal books belonging to St. Martin's Guild. This was a peal of 5,040 Bob Major, rung on Monday, September 16 th, 1755 , by the Society of St. Martin's Youths in 3 hours and 57 minutes.

    The band stood as follows: John Thompson 1, Joseph Thompson 2, William Thomp son 3, John Archer 4, Abraham Fletcher 5, Samuel Brooke 6, Humphrey Peck 7, Andrew Peak, William Smith, 8
    A fair number of peals were recorded et St. Philip's between this peal and the commencement of Mr Fearn's 500. in the tower -Yours faithfully,
    A. M. REAY.

    Northfield, Birmingham.

    ## EXPERIMENT WITH YURKSHIRE

    Dear Sir,-I was interested in Mr. Humphrey's experiments with Yorkshire in his letter to "The Ringing World," May 13th, page 308, but unfortunately the first peal is false. It contains the courses with course heads 53246 and 36542 , which because of the f.c.h.'s 36254 and 42653 are false with each other in iwo places, the 2nd and 3rd leads
    I should be interested to know if the other peal has been checked and, if so, how it was done, because it seems to me that the number of f.c.h.'s with the tenors parted must be very large. I was pleased to see that Mr. Humphrey has since published a true peal of Yorkshire containing 100 roll-ups.-Yours sincerely

    ## OBITUARY

    THE REV. BRIG. D. V. KENNEDY
    The picturesque Cotswold village of Broadwell, near Stow-on-the-Wold, is mourning the loss of its popular Rector, the Rev, Brigadier D. V. Kennedy. Ordained in 1956, he served his title at Stow-on-the-Wold and in 1960 was appointed Rector of Broadwell. He was most popular as Rector and the Church of St. Paul saw several great improvements, notably the new heating installations and the restoration of the five bells in 1963, when they were rehung and retuned. He was an honorary member of the Stow-on-the-Wold Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association.
    As a mark of respect and last tribute, the Stow-on-the-Wold Branch rang the bells halfmuffled for Sunday morning service on March 15th. The following day a memorial service was held, which was followed by 720 Grandsire Doubles rung with the bells half-muffled by G. R, Harper 1, L. C. Dowdeswell 2, V. W. Rigg 3, L. Joynes 4, A. Shillam (conductor) 5.

    ## Mr. D. H. BENNETT

    The sudden death on May 1st of Mr. D. H. Bennett, captain of the Talgarth, Brecon, ringers for the past 15 years, was a great shock not only to his own tower but to the Swansea and Brecon Guild "Dai," as he was known to a wide circle of friends, was a founder of the Guild, which he represented on the Central Council from 1939 to 1950 . He was secretary and treasurer of the Northern District and the last office he held was treasurer of the Guild.

    At the funeral all Districts were represented, and the bearers were the Talgarth ringers. The bells were rung half-muffled by members from Swansea, Brecon, Glasbury and the Hereford Guild. A peal was rung on the Talgarth bells on Sunday, May 8th. J. A.H.

    ## HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION  St. Albans District

    The St. Albans District held their meeting on May 21st in Kimpton, and during the afternoon methods up to London and Norwich were rung on the six bells. A short service followed, led by the Rev. K. Martin, and about 30 ringers sat down to tea in the hall.
    New members elected at the business meeting were G. Pettit, N. Woodward and R. Read Radlett), Julian Duggan (St. Peter's, St. Albans) and N. Blamire-Brown (Tewin). The secretary reported the anonymous gift of a District peal book A short list of rules governing these peals was approved. Miss Julia Fellows was nominated to write up the peals, and it would be helpful if conductors could confirm peals with her after they are rung.
    The District's plan of practice meetings was discussed, the first meeting having already been held at South Mymms. Mr. Graham Sillis thanked the District on behalf of South Mymms and assured them it had certainly been a help to their band in particular. The next meeting is at Essendon on Tuesday, June 7th.
    Under "Any other business" Mr. Geoff Dodds, the Central Council representative for the District, asked for opinions on how the District fels to the motions to be debated at the Central Council meeting. One surprising fact that came to light is that practically every member of the District took "The Ringing World " instead of the usual trend of one copy per tower.

    ## NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

    Four of the local ringers were elected members when the Southern District met at South Lopham for the first time on May 7th. About 40 members and friends enjoyed ringing on the fine old six recently restored after many years of silence. Mr. A. Foreman was congratulated on his work in training a local band. It is largely due to him that these bells have been rung for a service every Sunday since their dedication last June.

    The Rev. S. Collins, Rector of Bunwell, conducted the service as the Rector (the Rev. C. Beevers) had just returned from hospital. Mr. Nolan Golden (president) read the lesson.
    Next meeting: Pulham St. Mary.

    ## THE LADIES' GUILD

    The Devon Branch at its meeting at Liskeard, Cornwall, on May 7th, decided that local members at future meetings should wear a name badge in order that visitors might know whom to ask for assistance.
    Mrs. Boobier presided and the news was received with deep regret that Mr. Fernley Pearson (husband of Mrs. Christine Pearson, a local member) was killed in a road accident on Easter Saturday A letter of sympathy and a wreath were sent.

    Seven new members were elected. The October meeting will be at Exeter and not Bideford Evening ringing was at Menheniot (6).

    ## ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

    A warm welcome was received by the Guild from the Vicar (the Rev. W. G. Gibson) and ringers of St. Peter's, Sowerby, at its meeting on May 7th. The hill-top village resounded to the ringing of Stedman, Plain Bob, Cambridge and Woodbine, as did the church itself with the hearty singing at the service. The presence of Mr. Cyril Sutcliffe, a founder member of the Guild and previously a staunch ringer at St. Peter's, was noted with pleasure.

    New members elected were Messrs. Michael Holmes and Alan Bennett (Kirkheaton) and Stephen Lumb (Sowerby). At Mr. Lord's invitation an extra meeting at Bradshaw was arranged and the Vicar of Kirkheaton gave invitations to his tower on May 21st and Whit Tuesday.

    ## SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

    A positive measure of the keenness and enthusiasm now prevailing in the Marlborough Branch was shown on May 21 st, when the monthly meeting was held at Pewsey. Over 30 members attended, this being the largest gathering for some time. Ringing was under the direction of the Ringing Master (the Rev. R. Keeley) and the Guild service was conducted by the Rector (Canon E. S. Wakefields.
    Tea was served by ladies of the parish, who were thanked by Mr. F. Read (vice-chairman). Ringing was resumed after tea in most of the standard methods

    ## WITH ANGELA IN DERBYSHIRE

    Headquarters for the 1966 Week, which started on April 16 th, were at Matlock, but there had been ringing on the journey up at Sheepy Magna, Leics, and Burton-on-Trent. Sunday was a full day- 8 a.m. Communion, Matins and lunch at Lichfield, where in the afternoon we joined the Cathedral band for service ringing, and Evensong at Matlock with service ringing.
    Rain, sleet and snow made conditions unpleasant on Monday. Places visited were Eyam, where a hiker joined us for Grandsire Doubles, Dore. Hope (first course of method of the week, Dronfield Surprise Major, rung here), Castleton, with its attractive lamps and homemade sallies, and Tideswell. the Cathedral of the Peak, covered with two inches of snow.

    Duffield Major was rung at Duffield on Tuesday and the afternoon and evening spent in Derby, the day's ringing ending at the Cathedral practice After ringing at Fairfield. Buxton, and Chapel-en-le-Frith on Wednesday, the day was free. Some climbed Kinderscout (2,088 feet) and others " hagged " Manchester Town Hall. The meritorious performance on Thursday was Bristol on the heavy eight at Youlgreave and there was good ringing at Wirksworth and Alton, Staffs.

    Friday proved another wet day with ringing at Ashover and on the delightfut six at Clay Cross, where we enjoyed good striking. The beautifully restored church at Bolsover and joining the local practice at Chesterfield to ring a course of Cambridge Royal are other memories. Ilkeston and Loughborough Parish Church were Saturday's towers.

    Among those who visited us during the week were Peter Small. Christine and Edward Mould. Judith Atkinson, Jane Blacker, Frances Fairbank and John Dodd. Our thanks go to Angela Newing and John Norris for arranging the tour, and local ringers and clergy for their welcome to Derbyshire.
    S. G. R. and N. J. W.

    ## St. David's Guild's Competition

    Eight teams took part in the annual competition of St. David's Diocesan Guild at St. Florence, Pembs on May 7th, when Mr Frederick Sharpe was again the adjudicator. Each team had to raise the bells, ring 120 changes and lower in peal.
    Mr. Sharpe thought the standard of ringing was not so good as in past years and the rise and fall were the undoing of most teams. He suggested that the competition might consist of method ringing if only to improve the standard of striking

    The competition was won by Llanelli assisted by two borrowed ringers ( 33 faults); St. Florence, who had been ringing less than two years, were second ( 35 faults): and Tenby (40) third: Pembroke entered two teams and also Cardigan and there was a "scratch" team.

    ## ST. LUKES (CHELSEA) TOUR

    BY 10 p.m. on Saturday, April 16th, eleven ringers had converged on the Linden Hotel, Shrewsbury, our headquarters for the annual week's ringing tour, this year held in Shropshire.
    On Sunday morning we joined the local ringers at St. Mary's and then St. Chad's. In the evening the time of service coincided so we split into two bands for ringing and rounded of the day by building up our strength in the Dun Cow, opposite the hotel.
    The tour, organised by Miss Veronica Dupre and Mr. Michael Wycherley, was planned to cover the county and by $9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$ or Monday we were heading northwards through pouring rain to Prees (a pleasant easy-going six), where we were met by that old friend of "Ringing World columns, that old friend of " Ringing World" columns,
    E. V. Rodenhurst. It was still raining when we arrived at Whitchurch (a heavy-going eight. hung high up in a very tall tower). Those who rang the 7th here suffered a galeforce breeze coming through the now empty shaft for the flag-pole. After lunch we moved on to Ellesmere (a peculiar sounding eight) and finally to Oswestry (the best eight of the day).

    Tuesday was another cold, wet day but, nothing deterred, we set off for Condover, which has one of only two complete octaves in the county by Briant of Hertford. The cross-country run to Westbury proved the downfall of one car load, which returned to Shrewsbury to point itself in the right direction. However. once assembled in the warm belfry, we rang for about half an hour. Worthen was the next tower (a light six), and finally Berriew, Montgomeryshire, our only ring in Wales The fast, light eight were much enjoyed and it is interesting to note that the local ringers number about 30 . which for such a small place is remarkable

    ## MOMENTOUS LUNCH

    The weather changed to snow on Wednesday. Coalbrookdale (the only other ten in the county) was the first stop. and here some of the Shrewsbury ringers joined us. Afterwards we found St. Leonard's. Bridgnorth there is a beautiful eight here. Lunch proved to be momentous, not only from the gastro. nomic point of view, but also because "Jafus ". was nearly captured hy a sprightly local lady getting ready to celebrate her 80 th birthday! We left them toasting each other in champagne and went to ring at St. Mary's. By now the weather had cleared un and we were abl: to enjov the beautiful countryside on the way to Church Stretton (8) before returning home.
    On Thursday. cheered by the sunshine, we headed for Clive Here the magnificent. thundering Taylor six ( 254 cwt ) were raised singly, and a quarter of Bob Minor was lost. Stanton-on-Hine Heath bells (a light six recently rehung) were put to good use, however. After a splendid lunch in the village pub we carried on to Hornet, with its easy going eight, and Market Drayton, where the bells go beautifully, though the sound has a hahit of disappearing !
    Rain set in on Friday morning as. after collecting "E. V R." we moved south to joined us here, having iourneyed up from joined us here, having iourneyed up from though the climh ( 137 steps) is tough, the hells are worth it. Thev need ringing carefully, however, and we did not do iustice to them. After lunch we moved on to Stnkesay (a light six which furn over slowly). Clun was our last tower and here we scored a quarter peal of Stedman Triples.
    Backed by a large contingent of Shrewsbury ringers and the Stimsons from Leicestershire. we set off on Saturday for Atcham (a light ground-floor six which go well but have a long draught). Our next ring was on the eight at Wellington, and then we drove to Dawlev ( 6 ), where we had lunch hefore ringing. On then to Madeley, which possesses a nice little eight which can be tapped along.

    Our final ring of the tour was at Much Wenlock (a delightful eight). The last evening was mosi pleasantly spent in the company of the Shrewsbury ringers.

    Methods rung on the tour included Grandsire Doubles to Cinques, Plain. Bob Minor to Royal, Kent T.B. Minor to Maximus, Oxford T.B. Minor and Major, Cambridge Minor and Major, Yorkshire and Superlative Major, St. Clement's, Double Court Minor and Double Norwich.

    Our very grateful thanks are due to the clergy and the local ringers who met us and, above all, to the Shrewsbury ringers who entertained us most hospitably.
    M.R.W.

    ## OUTINGS IN BRIEF

    The finest bells experienced by 14 members from Si. Mary's, Scarborough, and St. Lawrence's, Sculby, on their first outing of the year (April 23rd) were at Norton-juxta-Malton Other towers visited were Kirby Moorside. Hovingham and Helmsley. A violent thunder storm greeted the party at Scarborough.

    Organised by Barrie Hendry, All Saints: Harpole. Northants, ringers spent a day in North Bucks on May 7th. Best ringing was at Linslade. The Norman architecture at Stewkley was much admired and the fine eight enjoyed. A few hair-raising moments occurred at Winslow through the ropes hitting the low beams.

    The Axbridge Branch of the Bath and Wells Association had most enjoyable day on May 7th at Dartmouth. The steamer was boarded at Totnes and Dartmouth was reached via the River Dart. Ringing was at St. Saviour's, St. Petrox's and St. Clement's. Dartmouth. High tea at Babbacombe preceded a journey along the coast to ring at St. Michael's. Teignmouth.

    Nottingham University Society last term had an outing into Rutland. Included in towers visited, Was Uppingham, the home tower of "Bob," who organised the day. Thanks were accorded to the Rev. and Mrs. Woodward, who provided quantities of tea and biscuits for 13 thirsty ringers. Billesdon was an amusing lower with six ropes placed extremely close lower with six ropes placed extremely close together and two more in other corners Ringing also took place at Melton Mowbrav (Leics), Oakham, Preston, Glaston, Ashby-Folville and Sileby

    ## COWBRIDGE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

    SIX members of the Cowbridge. School
    Society went on this year's ringing tour of the Banbury area. These were Old Boy Ellis Thomas, now of the Cambridge University Guild, the present Ringing Master, Chris Ricketts; David (" Ken ") Barrington: Robert MacPherson: Paul Morgan and myself. We were joined by two guests, Miss Susan Harber, of Howell's School. Llandaff and Llandaff Cathedral, and Miss Catharine Havard, of Penarth County Grammar School and Sully. Last year we wanted to call ourselves Cowbridge "Grabber" School, but this year it seemed that "Glamour " might be better! We hired a self-drive minibus and, on Tuesday, April 12 th , set out for Sulgrave, Northants. and the excellent Manor Guest House run by Mr. and Mrs Argent there, our base for the tour.
    On the way up we rang at two towers, Brockworth, near Gloucester ( $6,13 \mathrm{cwt}$ ), and Bourton-on-the Water (8, $12 \frac{3}{\mathrm{c}} \mathrm{cwt}$.). At the latter, with local ringer Mr. Phillips standing in, we managed Grandsire Triples successfully. One of the nigh spots of the tour came that evening, when we joined the flourishing local band at Adderbury for practice night. Here the beautiful church and lower have a glorious ring of bells ( $8,24 \mathrm{cwt}$.) well worthy of thelr setting. We were most kindly welcomed and took part in the rise, in call changes, in Yorkshire Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples. Plain and Little Bob Major and in the fall.

    After Adderbury we almost thought that the rest of the tour would be an anti-climax, but this was not so. On each of the next two days we had eight towers. all good bells, some really excellent. some a test of our handling capabilities. At all the towers we hegan and ended with a rise and fall in peal. The methods we rang were: Doubles-Stedman, Plain Bob. Grandsire. Reverse Canterbury and St. Nicholas; Minor-Cambridge Kent, Kent and Oxford and Plain Bob; and where we had local ringers standing, the methods referred to above plus Oxford Boh Triples, Grandsire Caters and Plain Bob Royal.
    The Society's second annual dinner was held that evening at a Banbury Chinese restaurant. (N B., if you can handle a bell you can handle chopsticks.) Then on Friday. April 15th. we were, with regret. wending our homeward way. We had two towers-the first was Burford ( 8 , $17 \pm$ cwt.) where, with local ringer Mr. W. J. Dixon, we did some of the best ringing of the tour on bells which. in the modern idiom, are "fab": finally at Caldicot. Monmouthshire, the incumbent. the Rev Roy Hallett, and iwo of his band joined us for ringing on the rather difficult but good eight ( 13 cwt ). The last fall of the tour, a good "catch in Queens." and it was all over for this year.
    We sincerely thank all incumbents for granting us the use of their bells. and the local ringers who met us. We thank Chris Ricketts also for his splendid slanning and organisation which made such a full programme viable.

    IOLO DAVIES.

    ## Frome Branch's Striking Competition

    Participants in the first striking competition promoted by the Frome Branch, and held at Binegar by Dermission of the Rev. Martin Langley on May 14th. ranged in age from 12 to 85. Ten teams from six towers competed and eight considered it safer to keep the tenor in sixths place for the test piece. though the first team to perform did not realise that the tenor was wrong stroke until the second attempt had started. Considerable concentration by all teams resulted in $1 \frac{1}{2}$ hours of good striking, after which an excellent tea was served in the village hall.

    The judge, Mr Albert Tyler, of Bristol, nlaced the "top three teams as follows:-
    Frome "B" 21 faults, Chilcompton " $A$ " and Midsomer Norton 27. Proposine a vote of thanks. Mr. G. Massey especially mentioned the competition committee. Mr. Rnn Beck and Mrs. Horseman, who assisted Mr. Max Heymann in making the day a memorable one for the Branch. All present felt that this successful function should be repeated next year.

    ## BELFRY GOSSIP

    Mr. Wilfred Williams has now rung a 12 . bell peal in 60 different towers.
    Mr. G. R. Parker is the new secretary of the Central Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

    When Robert E. J. Dennis rang his 25th peal for the University of London Society on May 21 st it was his 25 th with Timothy Pett.
    There was a strong Australian flavour about the North Mymms outing as the party included Margaret Goodyer, Jennifer Murphy and Ron Russ until tea time.
    St. Mary's bells, Lichfield, are not now considered safe for ringing and will not be available for the Archdeaconry of Stafford Society's annual general meeting on June 18th.
    The quarter at Beddington on May 8th was an alliance between the Chilcotts and the Parsons. Each family supplied two brothers with their respective wives.
    The Royal Society of Cumberland Youths have another jewel in their diadem of suc-cess- the first peal of eight-spliced rung silent and non-conducted.

    Mr . J. Brannan writes that the long length of Bristol rung at Mottram on April 16th was incorrectly given as 5,088 . It should have heen 5,120 , since the composition is an irregular three-part.
    The seven male members in the peal at Bolsover on May 13 th would like to congratulate the lone female ringing her first peal. Linda Shaw is very small in stature, but very big hearted, and rang perfectly.

    Mr. Walter Ayre conducted the peal at Barton-on-Humber as a welcome to the daughter of Michael and Roseann Crowder. This peal makes the fifth generation of the Crowder family for which he has rung a peal.

    SHEBBEAR RINGERS VISIT LIVERPOOL The first team from Shebbear College, North Devon, had a very successful week-end trip to Liverpool on April 29th-May 1st, the main objective being the Cathedral bells. On Sunday morning the party attended the Battle of the Atlantic Commemoration Service and in the afternoon ascended the belfry, where ringing and sightseeing proved quite an experience. Some had the privilege of ringing the 82 cw . tenor and there was a detalled comparison between it and that of Exeter Cathedral. Three of the party joined in a course of Plain Bob Maximus.
    On the Saturday there was ringing at Much Woolton. Knutsford (where a set of handbells was collected) and Wallasey. On the long trek home service ringing took place at Penkridge, Shebbear being reached at 1 a.m.
    This is a busy term for the Society, which now has 50 members. Numerous quarters and two peals are planned: an outing in the Torbay area on June 26th; a fete on July 21st; and other fund-raising activities to enable the much-overworked bells at St. Michael's, Shehbear, to be rehung within the next 12 months.

    ## NOTTINGHAM UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

    At the annual general meeting of the Nottingham University Society on May 11th Mr. Paul L. Taylor was unanimously re-elected honorary president and also the three vicepresidents. The committee for $1966-67$ session will be: Master and chairman, I. V. J. Smith: secretary, D. R. McLean; treasurer. Miss A. Harris: steeplekeeper, J. G. Hallett. It was afterwards realised that a precedent had been created in the Society's history, as the committee consists entirely of Sussex ringers.
    It was decided that in future the annual dinner be held on the last Saturday in February.

    ## "YORKSHIRE" AMBITION FLLFILLED

    Mrs. F. W. (Margaret) Goodyer, on holiday to see her parents in this country, will now be able to return to her home in Australia having fulfilled a ringing ambition, to ring a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major: this was accomplished at Harrow Weald. Although it was a "long awaited" peal. a broken rope and a broken clapper stopped her only two previous attempts.

    ## TOWFR CAPTAIN LEAVES

    With much regret the ringers of Essendon, Herts. said goodbye to their tower captain, Mr. Fred Bamford. He was indeed a pillar of the Church, having been a ringer and chorister since 1923 and verger since 1941. He has now left for Cromer, Norfolk, and the whole District join in thanking him for years of devoted service and wishing him farewell.

    ## UNIVERSITY OF BRISTOL SOCIETY

    At the annual general meeting held on May 17 th the following officers were elected for 1966-67: Master, N. W. H. Simon: secretary, Miss P. Bligh-Cheesman; treasurer. M. A. Gilbey: tower secretary, M. G. R. Zobrl.

    All correspondence should be addressed ta the officer concerned at: The Students' Union, Queen's Road, Clifton, Bristol 8 .

    ## NEW RECORD IN SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR

    A new record in Spliced Surprise Major was established at Stratton Sc. Margaret, Wilts, on May 21st with a peal in 64 methods, conducted by Anthony R. Peake. Mr. John R Mayne was the umpire for this great performance and the whole of the ringing was recorded. Members of the band were Elisabeth A. G. Bowden 1, Edward R. Venn 2 Michael J. Hobbs 3, Brian Bladon 4, Anthony R. Peake 5, James R. Taylor 6, Victor Griffin 7. Peter Bridle 8.

    ## GOOD NEWS FROM REDRUTH

    For over 52 years Harold Seymour and his brother Stanley have been ringing regularly at St. Euny's Church, Redruth. Cornwall, and the 40 th wedding anniversary of Harold and his wife was an occasion for ringing. A quarter of Grandsire Doubles was successfully accomplished by the Sunday service band with the addition of the conductor.

    We hear that good progress is being made with method ringing at Redruth and it is not exceptional to have over 20 learners in the ringing chamber on practice nights.

    ## VICAR STOOD GUARD WHILE FIRST PEAL PROGRESSED

    The first peal on the bells of Mitcheldean. Glos, since their rehanging by John Taylor and Co. two years ago, was accomplished on May 14th. Prior to that the bells had been unringable for 25 years, the last peal being rung in the mid-30's.
    So anxious was the Vicar (the Rev. E. W P Ainsworth) that the first attempt on the new hells should be a success that he "stood guard" in the churchyard throughout the ringing ready to receive any complaints from parishioners on the spot

    The Vicar has learned to ring in the last two years and the local captain was a member of the band. After the peal the band were very hospitably entertained at the Vicarage by Mr. Ainsworth.

    ## TACKLING A SUFFOLK UNRINGABLE

    Hadleigh Modern Secondary School gave a performance entitled "Citv and Countryside " on May 14th in aid of the restoration of Kersey, Suffolk, bells. About $£ 2,000$ is required to restore these bells, which are a six with a tenor of 14 cwt . and are classified in "Dove's" as unringable. Previous to the school's effort $£ 400$ had been raised. The village is holding another festival.

    ## "THE TUNING UP*

    Writing to express appreciation of Bernard Groves' handling of the 32 cwt . tenor 10 London Major at All Saints' Maidstone (not 22 cwt. as given on page 331). Mr. W. A Riddington, writes: "What better way couid there be for getting "tuned up" for one's wedding on July 23rd."

    Will the Peals Analysis Committee and the Surrey Association kindly note that no peal was rung at Immanuel Church. Streatham, on May 8th, as reported on page 347.

    ## CONGRESS OF CARILLONNEURS

    About 20 carillonneurs were reunited in Bloss on May 4th and 5th for their first congress since 1956. They were of several nationalities-French, Dutch, Belgian, with three delegates from the U.S.A., including Professor Percival Price, of Michizan University.

    Blois was chosen for its central position on the Loire, and for its Basilica of Notre Dame de la Trinite, with a fine carillon of 48 bells. This church dates from the end of the last war (consecrated in 1949) and the carillon is said to be one of the finest in Europe, an achievement of the Paccard foundry of Annecy (Haute-Savoie). In the 50 -metre high tower there are 44 fixed bells, tuned chromatically, plus the four bourdons (heaviest 5,600 kilogrammes), which are swung electrically for services. Monsieur Delapierre, the carillonneur, gives concerts every Sunday hetween April and November.

    Welcomed by local dignitaries, and very comfortably lodged in the local hostel, these carillonneurs met to discuss their own particular problems with regard to their form of the campanological art-casting and tuning., differences in keyboard, etc. In addition, there were four concerts, given by carillonneurs from Paris, Dunkirk. Dijon. Pontmain, Seclin, Amsterdam and Malines (Belgium). which included sacred music, local compositions and works of Beethoven. Bach. Dvorak, Schumann and Grieg.

    As one who had formerly known only the milies of change ringing, I found it a wonderful experience to widen my horizons in this way, and to find that the ringing world is much larger than we in Britain tend to think. Also. it was very gratifying to see how much these neople already know about our way of ringing bells, and they were very interested to learn more ahout it with the aid of my lape recordings.
    N. A.C.

    ## ANOTHER IORKSHIRF, TUNE-RINGING SCHOOL

    Another Yorkshire school to take up tune ringing is Hunshelf Secondary Modern Schonl. Chapeltown, near Sheffield, who are using the old set of about 50 bells belonging to adjacent Ecclesfield Grammar School. Their team of five girls and five boys practise twice weekly. the tunes being written out in a number and letter system.
    Their first public performance was last December, but recently they have been verv active providing musical interludes between scheol plays on May fith and 7th and again at the official opening of the school on Mav 14th. despite the absence of three members at Wembley

    ## LIKE FATHER

    Another young ringer to find his way into the quarter peal columns is Keith Scudamore, aged 10 years. the son of P.-Sgt. W. F. Scudamore. of Cirencester, where he is a regular Sunday service ringer. He first learned to handle a bell at Lydney at the age of eight, und is now found frying his hand in methods uD to Caters. His first quarter was in Doubles on Easter Sunday, and he has now set his sights on a peal before his 11th birthday.

    ## RECORD-BREAKING BATH

    FIGURATIVELY speaking, a roseate hue seemed to spread itself over the many and varied activities of the Central Council at Bath this Whitsun. The first visit to the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association in 75 years seems almost incredible when the richness of Somerset in towers and mellow bells is remembered. There seemed to be pent-up in the warmth of the welcome and hospitality 75 years of goodwill. No wonder the Council of 1965 will go down to posterity as a record-breaking gathering. The attendance of 158 members at the Council meeting eclipsed last year's figure of 140 ; peal ringing was fantastically successful with 13 scored out of 14 attempted by Tuesday; and where in the country could the final social gathering be held against such an historic background-a hall overlooking a Roman bath with its turgid brown water!

    The happiness of this gathering, blessed by the sunniest week-end of this year, was no haphazard achievement but the outcome of careful planning. The Master, the Rev. H. F. Warren, who lives some 70 miles from Bath, had three trusty lieutenants to share in detailed arrangements. They were Mr. Gwilym Salmon, the general secretary, who lives at Wells; Mr. Eric Naylor, who started ringing at Rainham, Kent, in 1944, and has lived at Bath since 1951 and upon whose shoulders fell the on-the-spot arrangements at Bath; and finally Mr. J. Gilbert, who dealt with peals and towers. We should like to reiterate the thanks expressed to them publicly at the meeting.

    But 1966 will be remembered as the end of an epoch. For 14 years Mr. Edwin A. Barnett has been secretary to the Council: now he is no longer in office. He inherited from Mr. G. W. Fletcher a model set-up of procedure which he has adhered to. Within this period there has been a mellowing of outlook. The Council seems to have departed from a "Thou shalt not" attitude to ringing generally, with due regard to basic principles, and recognises to the full that Guilds and Associations are masters of their own affairs. This was to he seen in a motion before the Council of endeavouring to have a uniform nonresident life membership subscription. The idea was completely out of favour. There has been no irritating bureaucracy emanating from the Council during Mr. Barnett's régime and absence of that sharpness in debate that rankles and pierces beneath the skin. Apart from his trained approach to secretarial duties, Mr. Barnett has served as a watchdog of the Exercise, never hesitating to write to improve public relations. The three years' freedom from office are richly deserved, and there is no question that at the end of the new triennial period, when a change in leadership occurs, his name will not be passed over lightly.

    Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bottomley received a hearty welcome when they mounted the platform to act as observers to the role they have been elected to play for the next three years. We think it is to the advantage of the Exercise that a major office of the Council should be held in the North of England. Yorkshire and Lancashire have worthily shared in the big advance in ringing during the last three or four years. We admire the courageous way they are endeavouring to stimulate interest by the creation of the Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies, thus bringing about a unity and friendship towards the parent body. There is talent in the North that could well be employed on a national level. The present generation might well produce some Jasper Snowdons to give a lead to the present age.

    Overseas activities were given due prominence at Bath in two ways. Mr. F. T. Blagrove, who has recently returned from Salisbury, gave a survey of ringing conditions today in Africa, and secondly there was the presentation to the Council of a very handsome book entitled "Australia, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Inside is inscribed:
    "Presented to the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers by St. Paul's Cathedral Society of Bell Ringers. Melbourne, Australia, as a token of our appreciation for the visit of a team of English bell ringers during September, 1965, on the tour known as Great Adventure II. May the friendship and enthusiasm created by this visit endure, and may the future bring many more Great Adventures to us both."
    The gift was handed to the president by Mr. T. J. Lock. It was indeed a pleasure to hear Canon Thurlow congratulate Mr. Lock on the success of Great Adventure II and listen to the applause of the Council. Another overseas incident was the ringing of a peal at Crewkerne by members of the Australia and New Zealand Association of Bellringers. Change-ringing has now a chain of friendship encircling the world.

    The meeting was a long one, necessitating an evening session. The main topic was "The Ringing World." This will be reported upon in full in our next issue, which will be one of 24 pages.

    ## The Central Council Bathed in Sunshine at Bath

    ## FIRST VISIT TO BATH AND WELLS IN 75 YEARS - RINGING AND BEER - BIGGEST EVER ATTENDANCE - CANON THURLOW RE-ELECTED FOR FINAL PERIOD - MR. VERNON BOTTOMLEY WELCOMED INTO OFFICE - TANGIBLE APPRECIATION OF MR. AND MRS. BARNETT'S WORK

    THE happiest memories will be associated with Bath in the annals of the Central Council, where the 69th annual meeting was held on Whit Tuesday. A smiling Somerset countryside greeted the members as they toured a county rich in towers on the Sunday and Monday.

    Proceedings on the Tuesday started with Holy Communion at Bath Abbey, which was largely attended Bishop E. J. Wilson, Assistant Bishop, was the celebrant and he was assisted by Canon A. G. G. Thurlow. Preb. Geoffrey Lester, Rector of Bath Abbey, and the Rev. H. F. Warren, Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association.

    The business meeting was held in the Pump Rooms. The Mayor (Ald. R. Purdie) gave an official welcome, and the Assistant Bishop and the Master spoke respectively on behalf of the Diocese and the Bath and Wells Association On the platform Canon Thurlow presided and with him were the vice-president (Mr. J. Freeman), the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. E. A. Barnett), the assistant hon. secretary (Mrs. Barnett) and the hon. librarian (Mr. F. E. Perrins).

    The president said it was a great privilege to meet in this ancient city, which was not quite so old as "The Ringing World" implied.

    The Mayor (Ald. R. Purdie) said he had come along that morning to bring them the greetings of the City of Bath which was part of the Diocese of Bath and Wells. Its ringing society was some 75 years old. which he understood was the same age as their Association. In those 75 years that was the first occasion the Central Council had been to Bath. That morning they saw Bath in all its golden glory in the midst of a smiling Somerset.

    ## RINGING AND THE COMMUNITY

    The Mayor said he believed that in some countries they overdid this bell ringing busiress, particularly in the Mediterranean, where life was intolerable; sometimes in this country it occurred with the continuous solitary note of a bell. As far as the ringing of bells was concerned there was something uplifting when the bells spoke and when those bells identified themselves with the life of the community. He thought that if their ringing was identified with the life of the community it would help them in their aims. He thanked the Council and the ringers of the Bath and Wells Association for their service to the community and hoped that it would not be another 75 years before they came to Bath again.
    Bishop E. J. Wilson. the Assistant Bishop of Bath and Wells, in giving the greetings of the Lord Bishop, said he thought they could gather from his address at Wells on Easter Monday of the affection and pride with which he held belis. He also welcomed them in the name of the incumbents of the diocese, which extended to the whole length of the county of Somerset, and, as they knew, Somerset was richlv endowed with solendid towers, as was Norfolk, the county of their president.
    The Bishop said he was pleased to see from "The Ringing World" the large number of towers in Somerset in which they had done their job and it must have cheered the hearts of many to hear the bells.

    In his lifetime there had heen a considerable change in their belfries. As a small boy he seemed to remember the close association hetween hell ringers and heer, and at times there was beer in the helfries. But now they had their sisters, aunts and nieces in their belfries and that had been a very real step forward, with ladies now occupying prominent places in the fellowship and sorority of the ringing world.

    "Having been abroad for the best part of 20 years, when I returned 10 years ago what struck me was tha bell ringing had become a youth movement, particularly in Somerset, and it is very encouraging to see the large number of boys and girls in the towers of the diocese." Their work and craft seemed two-fold-to remind people of the claims of God and worship in the community life and their responsibility for furthering fellowship in the Church. It was when one read their journal one realised the responsibility ringers had for furthering the fellowship of the Church. This was seen by the welcome they gave to visitors and the concern they showed in young people, which was a good piece of social service.

    ## BIRTHDAY GATHERING

    A welcome on behalf of the Bath and Wells Association was voiced by the Master, the Rev. H. F. Warren, who said he would like to make it clear that the connection between ringing and beer had not ceased, except that it was not in the belfries-but ringing was still thirsty work.
    Mr. Smallwood expressed surprise that the Council had never been to Somerset, particularly as they had one of the giants of the Exercise in the late Mr. Joe Dyke. That very day was their birthday, as they were horn on May 31st, 1890 . In connection with the Council's visit he would like to thank Messrs G. Salmon. Eric Navlor and John Gilhert for their work in making the arrangements. He wished them a successful meeting and hoped it would not be another 75 years before they came again.

    ## ELECTION OF OFFICERS

    MR. VERNON BOTTOMLEY the new hon. secretary and treasurer.

    ## THE PRESIDENT

    The hon. secretary reported that there was only one nomination for the office of president for 1966-69, Canon A. G. G. Thurlow. proposed by Mr. F. Sharpe and seconded by Mr. N. Golden. He declared Canon Thurlow elected as their president.
    Canon Thurlow said he was exceedingly grateful to his proposer and seconder and the Council, who in their wisdom had not proposed and seconded someone else. "I had better repeat, as I said at great length when 1 was elected. that I shall not be standing in 1969 because of the unwritten rule which we arrived at."

    ## THE VICE-PRESIDENT

    Mr. John Freeman, who was proposed by Mr. Walter Ayre and seconded by Mr. J Bray, was elected vice-president. There was no other nomination. Mr. Freeman thanked the Council.

    ## NEW HON. SECRETARY

    The president said, as they would see, Mr Barnett retired and was not seeking re-election. The exceedingly important matter of electing a new hon. secretary and treasurer had been given a great deal of consideration, and after much care the name of Mr. Vernon Bottomley was put forward. No other proposal was submitted. Mr. Bottomley was proposed by him (the president) and seconded by Mr. Freeman, and it gave him the greatest possible pleasure and relief in announcing possibe prom the end and clearing up of that meeting Mr. Vernon Bottomley would be the new secretary and treasurer of the Council.
    The election was greeted with applause and Mr. Bottomley thanked the Council.
    The president said it would be quite impossible to let the Barnetts go without saying something all too brief and all too inadequate to voice their feelings as to what they had done in their official capacities. He was not going to make a long speech because he felt " would be improper and also because one assumed everyone read "The Ringing World" and they had read some sincere and warmhearted tributes. Perhaps it would be best if he expressed on his own behalf and theirs how very warm was the regard in which they held them. No question had ever been too foolish not to get a good answer.

    ## TANGIBLE RECOGNITION

    Even secretaries did not know everything. - We thought we ought to do something of tangible recognition to appeal to your hearts and other portions of your anatomy. Teddy once promised to share his worldly goods with Olive. 1 think if Olive accepts this handsome handbag and looks inside it, there will be something to share and hand to Teddy."
    The president then handed the bag to Mrs. Barnett, who opened it, looked inside, and handed an envelope to Mr. Barnett. The retiring secretary, when he looked at the cheque, visibly expressed pleasurable surprise. Mrs. Barnett looked equally surprised and very pleased, while delight in the ceremony was expressed by the warm applause of the Council.
    Mr. Barnett, in reply, said it was difficult to find words adequately to express their gratitude. " May I thank you all for the very kind gift to my wife and the generosity you have shown towards me I would also like to thank those who have been kind enough to express appreciation in 'The Ringing World of our efforts over the past 14 years.

    - Firstly. I should like to say it was a very great privilege to have been secretary of the Council. We hope to be of service to the Council and the Exercise in the future but we would like a period to taste our liberty before we again become your serrants.
    "During the period of office we have got to know very many members of the Exercise, which we count as a privilege. For the future it is less likely that we shall muke so many acquaintances: there are, however, a number of people here who we are meeting for the first time.
    "Lastly, may 1 wish all the very best to Mr. and Mrs. Bottomley in the years that lie before them. I am quite sure they will do a splendid job for the Exercise; I know they will have your support
    Mrs. Barnett also thanked the Council and said she had enjoyed knowing people and receiving their friendship They would now be able to get rid of a monstrosity in the form of a large steel cabinet which had taken up a corner of their dining room. She felt that the room would have to be redecorated. Mr. F. W. Perrens was re-elected hon. librarian. having been proposed by Mrs. D. E Colegate and seconded by Mrs Staniforth. He promised to do his best for the next three years.

    ## ELECTION OF HON. MEMBERS

    The president announced that Mr. J. P. Fidler and Mrs. Marshall were not seeking re-election Messrs. D. Hughes, H. N. Pitstow, L Stilwell. P. L. Taylor, T. W. White and J. Willis were open for re-election and he suggested that three of the four vacancies be filled. leaving one in case of emergencies. Th retiring members were then re-elected on the proposition of Mr. F. Sharpe, seconded by Mr C. K. Lewis. New members elected were Mrs. Jeanne Bottomley, proposed by Mr. Eric Critchley and seconded by Mrs. Barnett: Mr. Frank Haines, proposed by Mr D . Hughes and seconded by Mr. F. E. Collins: Mr J. Garner-Hayward, proposed by Mr. F. E. Perrins and seconded by Mr. J. F. Smallwood.
    M-. H. N. Pitstow and Mr. Douglas Hughes were re-elected hon auditors, proposed by Mrs. P. J. Staniforth, seconded by Mr. P. A. Corby.

    ## Tributes to Faithful Servants

    The Council stood while the following members and past members, whose deaths had bea, reported since Whitsun, 1965, were reported:-
    Canon J. D. Pearson (died October, 1963), Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, W. H. Southeard, E. caife, A. Paddon Smith, P. Crook, S. H. Symond, G. L. Hewitt and D. H. Bennett. Mr. F. W. Perrens, in a tribute to Mrs.
    Fletcher, said ine had known her for the past 50 years and said if she had been asassociated with the same tower as he was in his early ringing days she would have been debarred from entering. Slerch was the opinino of many of the clergy and ringers a church was not the place for ladies. Fortunately Mrs. Fletcher was not debarred from the tower and in a very short time she hecame a very competent ringer on ail numbers of bells, both tower- and handbells. She was also a very capable conductor.
    Mrs. Fletcher came on the Council in 1915 as the representative of the Ladies Guild. She did a tremendous amount of committee work and, as they knew, her husband was secretary of the Council for 21 years and they could well imagine the amount of worix that involved. "With the passing of Mrs Fletcher this Council loses a most devoted worker and many of us lose a very sincere friend.'
    Another tribute to Mrs. Fletcher came from Mrs. J. King, the president of the Ladies Guild, who said that in 1912, when only 20 years of age, Mrs. Fletcher formed the Ladies Guild. She was a brilliant ringer and conductor and was treated as an egual by men. but sine wanted equality for all lady ringers and for their voice to be heard in ringing affairs.
    And so the Ladies' Guild came to he formed and wonderfully organised by her. She was at times both its president and secretary and maintained a burning interest in its a aftairs throughout some s years. Her to the Guild, but it made us think of the wonderful example her life can he to us alt."
    Mr . C. W. Pipe, in a reference to Mr. Stedman H. Symonds, who was captain at lavenham. said he was a very kindly man and was famous for Stedman.
    Mr. D. Burnett, in a tribute to Mr. W. H. Southeard, said he was the first member of the Truro Guild to be a member of the Central Council. He took a great interest in the Cathedral and was warden for many years, "We have lost a wonderful worker for ringing in the diocese."
    Mr. J. F. Smallwood spoke of his memories of Mr. Joseph Dyke. He descrihed him as a man of few words but a man of action, and everybody who knew him formed a high opinion of his style at the end of a rope.
    He was well loved in these parts and while He was well loyed in these parts and while secretary of the Eath and Wells Diocesan Association got round the county and enthused youth. "A great man and we all loved him."
    Mr. P. L. Taylor spoke with gratitude of Mr. Colin Harrison, who taught him much about ringing. For nearly 40 years he was with them at Loughborough.

    Mr. Cyril Crossthwaite. who had known Mr. Peter Crook for 30 of his 80 years, said he thought it was true to say that his whole life was devoted to ringing, and the last peal he took part in and conducted was to celebrate his 60 years of ringing.

    Mr. G. E. Fearn paid tribute to a predecessor of his as secretary of the St. Mar-tines Guild-Mr. A. Paddon Smith, who for tin's Guild-Mr. A. Paddon Smith, who for secretary. His good influence, would last for many years to come. he said.
    Mr. E. Hudson referred to Mr. Tom Metcalfe. wh, was for 40 years the kingpin of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association.

    ## Central Council's Progress in Past Fourteen Years

    HON. SECRETARY AND TREASURER'S REPORT
    FOR the first time for many years there has been a reduction in representative mem bershop, both the Shropshire Association and the Suffolk having dropped one member. Against this, the Stafford Archdeaconry Societv has added one.

    Numerous inquiries about the Barron Bell Trust and the Duke of Edinburgh's Award continued to be made. Most of the latter were in connection with the question of assessment in which 1 could in general only repeat advice given in the "Handbook of Pursuits" issued by the Award office, which I would recommend those interested to obtain.

    During the year Mrs. Winifred Turner kindly assigned to the Council the copyright of J. A. Trollope's "London Ringers and Ringing," which she presented to the library some years ago after the death of her husband. Mr. Ernest C. S. Turner. I am most grateful to Mrs Turner for this gesture and to Mr. W. B. Cartwright for arranging the legal formalities. Mr. Cartwright also gave valuable advice on the form of agreement for hire of the Washing ton Cathedral film.

    ## LEFT THE COUNCIL

    The following have now ceased to be members of the Council and we offer our thanks to them for their past services: J. P. Fidler (1951-66) and Mrs. C. C. Marshall (1945-66) hon. members: J. W.     London: G. Benfield (1957-65), Yorkshire.

    To end this, my last report, on a personal note, there are a number of people 1 would like to thank: First and foremost my wife, without whose help, encouragement and, when necessary. prodding me into activity, i could never have carried out the joh; secondly, Mr. W. G. Wilson. who undertook in 1952 to see that the meeting papers were typed and duplicated and. With the active help of Miss C. L. Groves, has done so ever since, therebv saving the Council considerable expense and myself much anxiety : thirdly, Mr. J. F. Smallwood for his confidence in nominating me as your secretary, and Mr. F. E. Haynes for seconding in the absence of the late Mr.
    Albert Walker. Lastly, a whole host of people who have heloed in many ways-making arrangements for Council meetings, assembling these papers. discussions over lunches and assistance on meeting days are some which come to mind, and of course I must not forget those actively concerned with the work of the Council and with "The Ringing World.

    ## PERSONAL IMPRESSIONS

    Perhaps 1 mav be allowed a few personal impressions. I hoae it would not be presumptuous to say that the Council has gone forwards rather than hackwards during the nast 14 years. though I would certainly not claim the credit for all this. There does. however, seem to be much less general criticism but this is not to say there is no room for improvement. I have always been very much a traditionalist have always been very much a traditionalist Council is little different now from what it became when my predecessor introduced a much more businesslike approach on taking office 35 years ago. A new look at some of its ways is probably overdue. I did at one time feel that it was too big, but came round later to the view that, within reason, the more people who can feel they have a part to play in its affairs, the better both for the Council and the Exercise generally.

    This could come about in another way-the greatly increased turnover of membership in recent years. Of the present Council only 37 of the 164 representative members were members when I took office. In some ways this is all to the good; nevertheless there are merits in continuity but it is no doubt difficult to achieve a satisfactory balance.
    One other noticeable change has been the marked aversion during the past ten years or so to rational discussion of matters concerning basic principles of charge ringing. This is probably a reaction to the disproportionate amount of time which, both between the wars and for some years afterwards, the Council devoted to such matters, but I feel that the pendulum has now gone too far in the opposite direction. This was very noticeable at the 1964 meeting at Truro, when two motions put forward by representatives of the Durham and Newcastle Association were not, in my view, treated seriously and the Council was gnilty of gross discourtesy to those concerned.
    GREAT DEMAND FOR PUBLICATIONS
    Against this there has, however, been a much greater appreciation of the Council's responsibilities for the welfare of the Exercise generally The activities of the Sunday Service and Education Committee leading to the now well-established system of day- and week-end courses are a notable example. I confess to being doubtful at the outset of the value ot this committee but am glad to have been proved wrong. Then, as is well known, sales or publications have increased enormously: in all, some 5,918 copies last year compared with 1.271 in 1952. The Beginners' Handbook of which almost 20,000 copies have been sold since it first appeared in 1959 is, of course. the best seller we have ever had. That there is at the present time a greater demand for publications on ringing than ever before is clear from the interest shown by commercial publishers recently, an interest from which forh they and the Exercise have profited. My greatest regret is that no adequate history of change ringing exists. A sub-committee formed in 1957 to consider whether the compilation of such a history could be undertaken by the Council unfortunately did not recommend this. I think this was a wrong decision, but as the original idea was mine no doubt I am prejudiced!
    From a financial point of view the Council has in effect become a small business, a far cry from 1931. when total receipts were £55, profit on publications £2, and the accounts were audited on the morning of the meeting. The capital account now shows a balance of some $£ 10,500$ compared with $£ 1,877$ when I became treasurer. Again 1 do not claim the credit for this except for having tried to encourage the issue of as many publications as possible. and the investment of as much of "The Ringing World's" money as could be spared-a suggestion which incidentally came from Mr. F. E. Dukes at the 1953 meeting and which met with some opposition in the early years. The Council is fortunate in that my successor will take a keen interest in its financial affairs. May I conclude by wishing him as happy a term of office as I have had. (Signed) E. A. BARNETT.
    Mr. E. A. Barnett proposed and Mr. W. Ayre seconded the adoption.

    Mr. A. V. Davis took exception to the opinion expressed by the hon. secretary that at Truro two notices of motion put forward by representatives of the Durham and Newcastle Association were not treated seriously and the Council was guilty of gross discourtesy to those concerned. He thought it would be better expressed as with some levity but not gross discourtesy.
    The report was then adopted. the president thanking Mr. Barnett for the painstaking way he had compiled the report.

    THE MINUTES
    The minutes as published in " The Ringing World " of March 25th were adopted on the proposition of the hon. secretary, seconded by Mr. F. W. Perrens.

    ## THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

    The University of London Society's 22nd annual general meeting was held at St. Olave's Hall, London, on May 14th. The meeting was preceded by ringing at St. George's-in-the-East. St. Dunstan's. Stepney, and St. Olave's. Hart Street, where the service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. Maurice Dean. After a sumptuous tea prepared by the ladies of the Society, the business meeting took place with the president, Mr. David Martin, in the chair.

    After the reading of the minutes and correspondence, five new members were elected and welcomed by the president. In his report the Master. Mr. Roger Powell, mentioned the generally poor standard of turn-out on Sunday evenings. He referred also to the good ringing at St. Vedast's on Sunday mornings and reported that during the year 14 peals had been rung, including $n$-spliced Surprise Minor, Yorkshire Royal and Stedman Caters, The secretary-treasurer, Mr. Robert Dennis, reported the success of the annual dinner and of the annual tour, mentioning that the Society is now well installed in the "Tiger." and that four members had become engaged. He further reported a protit of $£ 20$ over the year, but anticipated heavier expenses during the coming one.

    The meeting then proceeded to the election of officers, the Master thanking each one in turn for the work he had done for the Society during the past year, and Dr. Denis Layton for his work in one capacity or another over the past 20 years. Dr. Layton was retiring as vice-president. The officers for 1966-67 are as follows: President, David J R. Martin (King:s): vice-presidents, Philip Gray, Alan Thirst: Master, Timothy G. Pett (U.C.) : secretary, David L. Cawley (King's): treasurer, John Pladdys (King's); Central Council representative. Alan Frost; auditor Peter Layton; committee, Robert Dennis, Roger Powell, Chris Starbuck.
    After discussion of matters of lesser importance, the chairman closed the meeting at 7.40.

    ## SUSSEX CUUNTY ASSOCIATION

    ## Membership Drive During Coming Year

    THE 81st annual general meeting of the Sussex County Association was held at Southover, Lewes, on May 14th. Ringing arrangements were made by the Southern Div: sion Commitlee
    The outstanding feature of the meeting was the formation of a robed choir of 25 ringer (12 men, 12 ladies and one boy) drawn from various churches in the county. A short choir practice, taken by the choirmaster, was held hefore the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. E. S. Hurd) assisted by two ringing clergy, the Rev. I. Paton (Danehill) and the Rev. P. L. Scott (Withyham).

    Approximately 175 ringers and friends sat down to tea, an increase of over ten on the previous year, in the Church Hall, arranged and catered for by the committee of the Southern Division under the expert guidance of the Elphicks. The meeting was honoured by the presence of the Mayor of Lewes. Councillor A. C. Barher, and the Mayoress. who were welcomed by the Master, Mr. R. V. Johnson

    The business meeting followed, presided over by the Master of the Association, who welcomed the Vicars of Southover. Danehill. Withyham and Isfield. Messrs. Pat Cannon and Davis from Surrey and colleagues of the East Grinstead and District Guild. Among the apologies was one from Len Stilwell, who unfortunately had some business to attend to a? Windsor and was missing his first annual general meeting for some years with much regret.
    The chairman asked those present to stand in silence as a token of respect for those who had passed on during the vearMr. George Apps, secretary of Cuckfield for 25 years, and Mr. G. J. Killick, of Ditchling, a member for many years.

    The minutes of the 80 th annual general meeting were read by the general secretary: the Divisional reports, already accepted bv the various Divisions, were accepted en blor
    The treasurer (Mr. W Leslie Weller). in his report, mentioned an increase in subscriptions of $£ 17$, the payment of two years
    "Ringing World" charges. a grant of £25 to Billingshurst and a profit for 1965 of approx.mately $£ 40$. Next year the affiliation fee will disappear (this was $£ 70$ for 1965), therefore every effort must be made to increase the present membership. which had fallen from 787 in 1964 to 588 in 1965
    The secretary, in his report. asked all ringing members to make a special effort to bring back the members of towers who, at the moment, did not support the Association. Membership must be increased if the report was to be kept at the present standard

    It was agreed that the treasurer should look into the position of investments in War Stock with a view to transferring to Unit Trust.

    ELECTION OF NEW MEMBERS
    Nine new members and three non-resident members were elected. Mr. A. E. Laker, of Balcombe, was elected an honorary life ment-ber in recognition of his many years of service to the Association
    The president, the Bishop of Chichester. and all the vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc, as were the Master, general secretary, peal secretary, treasurer, auditors and trustees.
    The following Central Council members, elected by their Divisions, were ratified: Mrs. F. 1. Hairs. Messrs. R.W. R. Percy, V. Sheppard and W. Leslie Weller.
    The following recommendations from the General Committec were agreed by the eeting:-
    Peal fees to be sent to the hon. peal secretary by the conductor of the peal and not to the treasurer.
    A general committee meeting will be held on the last Saturday in October and the first Saturday in March every year.
    The draft "Form of Service" be sent to the Bishop for approval.
    It was agreed to hold an Association dinner during 1967 , to be arranged by the general committee.

    It was suggested that a week-end ringing course be arranged at Lodge Hall. near Puihorough, by a committee headed by Mr. G. Francis and Mr W. Leslie Weller.
    Mrs. R. J. Osbon inquired whether a microphone could be used at future annual general meetings as owing to the increase in attendance it was difficult to hear what was going on.
    Mr. George Francis mentioned that the motions before the Central Council could have far-reaching effects on the Association and members should be given some idea of how to vote.

    Mr. George Pullinger suggested that they should leave any decisions to the good counsels of members to weigh up the various points of views raised and vote to the best advantage of the Association.

    The chairman mentioned that the collection at the service was $£ 88 \mathrm{~s}$. 3d., and would be given to the Sussex Churches Campaign.

    CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. A. R.

    ## PEAKE'S BAND

    Dear Sir,-I would like to offer heartiest congratulations to Mr. Anthony R. Peake and his band on their fine performance in ringing the record peal in 64 Spliced Surprise Major. I have followed with great interes their progress as they made their way throug the various compositions of mine. finally equalling and now surpassing the record of 53 methods which was established in June, 1955, by my band of the Yorkshire Association. I know from personal experience the long hours of study which a performance of this nature involves
    I am pleased, too, to include the name of Mr. John R. Mayne insomuch that he, too, has conducted the peal in 53 methods. Perhaps the new record of 64 methods might not stand for almost 11 years this time. -Yours sincerely,
    W. ERIC CRITCHLEY.

    Doncaster

    Dear Sir,-May I, as one who has been privileged to ring in some of their more modest peals of Spliced Surprise Major. congratulate Anthony, $R$ Peake and his band on their record achievement at Stratton on May 21 st . I am sure the band would be first to say that it was primarily to Tony's initiative and leadership that such an attempt was possible
    A special feature of this record is that, apart from peal attempts, the band does not normally ring together. It speaks very highly therefore of the way each member did his homework !-Yours sincerely,

    ROGER KEELEY.
    Marlborough, Wilts.

    ## MINIMUS IN AFRICA

    Dear Sir,-I was delighted to see the quarter peal. published recently, from Que Que, Rhodesia; congratulations to the band of ringers.

    For the record. a 1,272 of Bob Minimus was rung at Cape Town on May 10th, 1960, and appeared in "The Ringing World" in October that year. It was rung in despair at meeting short, knowing full well that four meeting short, knowing full well that four tory next door! But even Minimus failed to move them.-Yours sincerely, Brighton.

    VICTOR SHEPPARD.

    ## PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD PRESIDENT RETIRES

    The 1966 annual meeting of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held in the Daventry Branch on May 21st, 12 towers being open for ringing during the afternoon and evening. The Guild service was held in the Church of the Holy Cross, Daventry, and the retiring president, Canon G. F. Turner, was the preacher

    After an excellent tea, the annual business meeting took place in the Abbey Buildings, Daventry, with the president in the chair. Canon Turner began by welcoming the many visitors and then the company stood in silence for a few moments in memory of those Guild members who had died during the past year. The secretary (Mr. E. Billings) stated that already this year the finances of the Guild were in a stronger position than last year, mainly due to the tower affiliation scheme and the peal levy.

    When the 1965 annual report was adopted it was decided to withdraw from the Guild's records a peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Oakham in January, 1965, as the ringer of the second was not a paid-up member of the Guild.
    Canon G. F. Turner resigned from the presidency of the Guild and the Rev. Ernest G. Orland was elected to this office. The other Guild officials, Mr. E. Billings (secretary and treasurer). Mr. J. H. Bluff (Master) and Mr. G. F. Roome (auditor), were all reelected.

    The summer festival was arranged for September 3 rd at Bozeat, the annual dinner for October 22nd at Northampton, and, next year's annual general meeting for May 6ih at Rothwell.
    The retiring president (Canon G. F. Turner) and Mr. Pattick I. Chapman (a former Master) were elected life honorary members of the Guild. Representatives of elght Branches spoke in appreciation of Canon Turner's good work for the Guild during his nine years in office, and the Master (Mr. J. H. Bluff) spoke of Mr. Chapman's work as Master and in connection with the restoration and augmentation of Daventry bells.
    On behalf of the Guild, Mr. Roger W. Smith presented a well-filled wallet to Canon Turner as a token of the Guild's appreciation of all his effort and work, and a young lady member of the Guild (Miss Katharine M. Thorley) presented a bouquet to Canon Turner for Mrs. Turner. Canon Turner expressed his deep regret at having to retire because of the increased pressure of work.
    There followed a general discussion on the three motions on the agenda at this year's Central Council meeting and all those who spoke were against all the three.
    The meeting ended with an omnibus vote of thanks, which was proposed by Mr. R. H. Daw and seconded by Mr. E. C. Buckby.

    ## HANDBOOK, 1956

    Dear Sir,-A printed leaflet indicating the additions and amendments that have been made to the Rules and Decisions of the Central Council since the publication of this Handbook has been prepared and, for the benefit of those who already have a copy, is now available from the undersigned on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope. Yours faithfully,
    F. W. PERRENS.

    ## YORKSHIRE RINGING SOCIETIES' RINGING FESTIVAL

    The second annual ringing festival of the Joint Council of Yorkshire Ringing Societies was held in the area covered by the Beverley and District Society. Towers available were Walkington, Pocklington, Hessle, Kirk Ella, Beverley Minster, Sutton-on-Hull, St. Mary's, Beverley, Cottingham and Market Weighton.
    The service in the Minster was attended by approximately 200 ringers and friends and the Mayor and Mayoress of Beverley (Mr. and Mrs. T. Leak). The Rev. M. P. Hirons preached and the order of service was that of the Beverley and District Society.

    During the singing of the 150 th Psalm four of the Beverley and District members rang a handbell touch, and the collection was divided between the Minster's cost for the service and the appeal for Christian Aid Week.
    Tea was served in the Memorial Hall and 150 sat down to an excellent meal, and afterwards Mr. Edward Hudson, the chairman, welcomed all present. He also thanked the organisers-Mr. David S. Johnson and Mr. Kenneth Kirk-and their fellow workers on the sub-committee for a good job well done. The festival, he said, was as successful as the first one at Wakefield, the tea had been beautiful, and especially the local custom of apple pie with cheese, and caused laughter by quoting: "Apple pie without the cheese is like a kiss without the squeeze." He thanked the Minster authorities, the Rev. M P. Hirons for his sermon, the boys of the choir and the organist. Welcoming Mr. Vernon Bottomley as the newly elected president of the Yorkshire Association, and Mrs. Bottomley as the treasurer. he wished Mr. Bottomley success in his nomination to be the secretary of the Central Council.
    Further ringing then took place on the bells available in the area.

    ## EAST KENT RINGING SCHOOL

    Ringers from the Ashford, Canterbury and Maidstone Districts forgathered on May 21 st at the delightful Church of St. Martin Cheriton, for instruction from the county's experts at the one-day ringing school.
    Prayers in church conducted by the Rev. C. Munt were followed by an excellent talk from Mr. A. Waddington on raising and maintaining a local band. The company of 60 then adjourned to the Church Hall for the first lecture on elementary conducting by Dr. Donald Niblett. The final session of the morning, instruction in rope splicing (given by Mr. A. Berry), proved popular, everyone attempting a splice for the purpose of a competition. This was judged by Mr. B. J. Luck, and prizes (quarter's subscription to "The Ringing World") were awarded to Mr. L. Sweatman as an expert and to Mrs. B. L. Marks as a beginner.

    Practical sessions after lunch in bell control and simple method ringing took place at Cheriton and Newington under the patient instruction of Messrs. B. Groves, M. L. Howe, N. J. Davies and P. Carter. Also during the afternoon Mr. G. Evenden gave an interesting talk, with first-class visual aids, on belfry maintenance, followed finally by more advanced instruction on conducting oy Dr. Niblett.

    After a sumptuous tea prepared by the ladies of Cheriton band Mr. J. Willis thanked all whose hard work had contributed to the day's success.

    ## SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

    ## Newark District

    The meeting and District round of the Crawford Cup contest, held at the Church of All Saints, Coddington, on May 21st, proved to be a great success on all events.

    The customary fine weather for this event again prevailed, and the small churchyard seemed to be crowded with people listening to the ringing. For the first time since the District was reduced in size four years ago, four teams entered and all rang Minor. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley once again acted is judges with their usual meticulous care. Balderton were placed first with $88 t$ faults, and Newark and Sutton "A" tied with 104 faults, but Sutton incurred a penalty of 10 for failing to set one bell at the end, and reduced to third place. The younger members of Sutton " B" team made a commendable effart with 137 faults.
    The Vicar, the Rev. P. Wright, conducted a shortened Evensong and afterwards between 50 and 60 people sat down to a very enjoyable tea prepared by local ringers and friends. A lovely iced cake had been given to the Coddington ringers and, with the permission of the Vicar, it was agreed to raffle it off, and the proceeds were shared between Coddington Bell Fund and the Guild Bell Repair Fund. It was obviously all fixed, as the District chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, won the cake I
    No less than 13 new ringing members were elected at the business meeting, eight from the newly-formed band at North Muskham, and five from Coddington. Mr. H. H. Selby, of Coddington, was elected a vice-president.

    The general ringing which followed in the evening covered a wide variety of standards, and was accomplished with much enthusiasm.

    The hospitality of Coddington and its ringers is much appreciated. B. N.R.

    ## ROCHESTER (K.C.A.) DISTRICT'S WEEK-END TOUR

    The second annual week-end tour of the Rochester District took place on April 29th to May 1st. The evening of the 29th was spent in travelling to Abingdon, where the night was spent.

    Leaving Abingdon in the morning (complete with a banner), we travelled the short distance to Eynsham (six bells), where we were impressed by the local band's successes in striking competitions. Then on through the lovely Gloucester countryside to the six at Great Barrington. This concluded the ringing for the morning. A coach journey then followed through more good scenery to our next tower (a stop for refreshment being made on the way) at Minsterworth. Unfortunately the bells are very noisy and, with long ropes, we were unable to do them justice. We then jouneyed further west to the six at Littledean and then through the Dean Forest to the and then through the Dean Forest to the splendid eight at Monmouth. It was a pity to leave these bells but time was pressing.

    After obtaining tea we travelled through some more wooded countryside to have a quick look at Tintern Abbey, and on to the ten at Chepstow, where although we only rang call changes and Grandsire, the ringing was the best of the tour, and finally on to our last tower of the day at Usk, where we were pleased to see the work put in by the local ringers. We then travelled to our hotel at Hereford.

    Sunday was mainly a sightseeing day, but it started by some members skipping breakfast to grab All Saints' and then moving on to the official tower at St. Nicholas', where the ringing was followed by a said Communion. We then journeyed homeward via Stratford, stopping for lunch next door to Anne Hathaway's cottage. Following lunch, we arrived at Home Farm to find that there are now 15 bells: however, we only rang the back six, and eventually five. after we managed to break the rope of the treble. Time came to leave, and we headed for the last tower, at Deddington, where we rang Kent Treble Bob Major.

    ## MR. W. H. WILSON

    From Dublin we record with regret the death on May 14 th , at the age of 77 years, of Mr. William Harry Wilson, president of the St. Patrick's Society. Mr. Wilson learned to ring in 1907 at the Cathedral, under Gabriel Lindoff, joining the band which laid the foundation of change ringing in Ireland During a long and active ringing career he had served the Church, and St. Patrick's particularly, humbly and faithfully. Until ill-health prevented him climbing to the beliry several years ago he was a regular Sunday service ringer.

    He was a competent change ringer, accurate striker and ever-willing guide to beginners. For his services to ringing he was elected an hon. life member of the I.A.C.R He had rung 17 peals.
    "Willer" was a kind man, most meticulous in keeping the Society records when secretary for many years; keenly interested in life in general, he was excellent company and a rare judge of malt. Outside the belfry his great interest lay in Freemasonry, being a P.M. of the Craft and P.K Royal Arch. Before the burial service, conducted by the Very Rev. Dean Armstrong, the bells of the Cathedral were rung half-muffled to Minor, and in the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung as a last token of respect to a great lover of the Exercise by T. H. Wilson 1, R. A. Vere Hodge 2, W. T. Farrell 3, Helen M. Huber 4. C. J. Reede (cond.) 5, C. A. Lewis 6, R 1. George 7, H. H. Brown 8. The same composition was rung to celebrate Mr. Wilson's golden wedding in 1964.

    ## BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN  ASSOCIATION

    The May meeting of the Taunton Branch was held in particularly happy circumstances at North Curry. The charming village with its beautiful old church, the warm and friendly welcome from the young Vicar, the sunny afternoon and the bountiful tea at the Ange] all combined to make it a memorable occasion.
    At the business meeting six new members were elected from the local tower, where the Vicar, the Rev. M. D. Lewis, himself a ringer, is getting together an enthusiastic team of men and boys. Mr. Gordon Baldam, of Lyng, was also given a cordial welcome as a new member of the Branch.

    Ringing was much enjoyed and varied from rounds to Kent Treble Bob Major and Stedman Triples, one or two particularly good touches bringing out to the full the fine tone of this rirg of eight with a tenor of 17 cwt .

    ## SOUTHWELL GUILD

    Twe meetings were held by the Bingham District during May-on the 7th at Willoughbv to coincide with the gift day, and on the 14 th at Cotgrave for the District round for the Crawford Cup.
    Ten new members were elected at Willoughby and the next meeting was fixed for Gedling on July 9th.

    Mr. H. Rooke judged the contest, when the ringing was generally good. Gedling : 46 faults) and Shelford (49) go forward to the final. Other competitors were Whatton (66), Holme Pierrepont (68) and Radeliffe (93).
    The dedication of a new treble, augmenting the bells at Willoughby to six, was performed on May 8 th by the Rev. A. H. Hayward, a former Vicar, in the presence of Mrs. H. Millard, the donor. Ringers from Holme Pierrepont and Puddington rang and at the close of the service were joined by Mr. Paul Taylor,

    In connection with the rehallowing of Rougham bells (page 355) mention should be made of the work of Mr. Cyril Hancock, the District chairman, who spent hours with Mr. Arthur Fidler in getting the bells down and replacing and painting them.

    ## BELFRY GOSSIP

    A family peal took place at East Ilsley, Berks, on May 21st, when five Hibberts and three Chilcotts rang a peal of Stedman Triples.

    The dedication of the new ring of bells at Easthampstead takes place next Saturday, June 11 th, at 3 p.m.

    The Society of Biddenden Youths would like to remind all their friends that the tower will be closed for redecoration from June 12th-16th inclusive.

    Missed from the Central Council was a familiar figure-Mr. J. T. Dunwoody, of Northern Ireland. The seamen's strike prevented him from making the journey.

    Mr. Alfred E. Rushton, president of the Bedfordshire Association, is entering St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London. for an operation in a few days' time. Our good wishes will accompany him
    Instead of putting flowers on graves the people of Brown Edge, Staffordshire, have provided new pews of fine figured Japanese oak. The reseating was commemorated by a peal on the bells.
    The Farnham District at its quarterly meeting at Ash. Surrey, had a silent remembrance to Miss Mary Bragg, of Aldershot, who died of injuries in a road accident a day earlier.

    The quarter peal rung at East Retford on May 25th revived an old custom, discontinued 50 years ago, of ringing on Mayor-making day. The Mayor responsible is supposed to have said: "I didn't ask them to ring for me-why should I pay them?" At this the ringers took umbrage. The present generation of ringers makes no financial condition

    ## COMMONWEALTH DAY

    WINDSOROne of the traditional ringing days at Windsor Castle is May 24th, Commonwealth Day. Participating in the ringing were Mr . Walter Knight, of surramurra, Australia, and Mrs. Jean Dunham of Vancouver, Canada. Mrs. Dunham, better known as Miss Jean Broomfield, one of the late George Gilbert's splendid young ladies band at Burnham, Bucks, was on a short visit to her parents. She had not touched a bell rope for just She had not touched a bell rope for just on 15 years, but on May 21 st accompanied the Slough bellringers on their outing to Portsmouth and Chichester. She very soon found her touch and by the end of the day was quite proficient again. She rang 50 peals before emigrating to Canada, and it was a pity that her short stay did not permit of a peal being arranged.
    She did, however, prior to ringing at Windsor Castle, take part in a quarter peal of Plain Bob Major at Windsor Parish Church together with Walter Knight, specially arranged for this Commonwealth occasion. Mr. Frank Blagrove, of Windsor, had landed in England only the day before from Salisbury Rhodesia, and the band deeply regretted his inability to stand in at such short notice. The quarter appears on the appropriate page.

    ## YORKSHIRE REVEALS ITS METTLE

    The peal of Spliced Surprise in nine methods, rung at Penistone on May 22nd, is helieved to be the first all-the-work peal of that number of methods to be rung strictly silent and non-conducted by a resident band of the Yorkshire Association.

    Three of the "inside" ringers especially are to be congratulated on this performance. as none of them has yet conducted a peal of Spliced Surprise. They are Mrs. Jeanne E. Bottomley, Frederick A. Munday and Stuart Armeson. The band has now rung Mr. Pitman's peals in four. five, six and nine methods.

    ## A NORTH WEALD TRIBUTE

    ## FROM THE NEW HON. SECRETARY AND HIS ASSISTANT

    We are very grateful to the president for his thoughtfulness in not calling upon us formally to acknowledge our respective elections at the Bath meeting. On such occasions a few previously well-chosen words carefully rehearsed in front of the mirror invariably fall flat and those spoken spontaneously make one feel hot and cold for weeks afterwards.

    We would, however, like to take this opportunity of thanking the Council for the very cordial reception it geve to us and of saying how we wish we could share the confidence thus expressed. We have been encouraged and heartened by the many offers of assistance we have received and we shall endeavour to take only reasonable advantage of this goodwill. We hope you will all be forbearing during the transition period.
    We hope, too, that people will not hesitate to make themselves known to us: if necessary for the second and subsequent times. One of us has attained the age when the remembrance of faces is difficult and of names well nigh impossible and it is not always practicable for the other to hiss an irritable reminder!

    JEANNE and VERNON BOTTOMLEY.

    ## MR. FRANK LUFKIN RETIRES

    Mr. Frank Lufkin, the well-known Essex ringer, retired last week from the Essex Fire Service after 28 years' service. Born at Prittlewell, he started ringing in the Parish Church there at the age of 17, and his peal total has reached 654. He has a number of long lengths to his credit, including 22.400 Plain Bob Major at Kirby-le-Soken, which is the greatest number of changes rung on church bells. He has also in his portfolio the record of Bob Royal, 12,740 changes, and 18,000 Minor.
    Since 1945 he has been a member of the Central Council. He was Association peal secretary for 11 years, Master of Prittlewell tower for 25 years, and Master of the NorthEast Essex District for three years.

    ## SOMERSET VILLAGE'S FINE FFFORT

    For 40 years the bells of St. Peter's Church, Ilton, had been lying idly on the floor of the tower, having been lowered when the tower was rebuilt soon after World War I., "If I come, these won't stay there long," commented the Rev. H. E. A. Jackson, the present Vicar, on his first visit in 1961.

    There existed a small bell fund of $£ 139$, raised mainly when the nearby R.A.F. station was in operation. On this small fund it was decided to rehang the bells; Messrs. John Taylor were commissioned to do the work at a cost of $£ 1.544$. The four old bells dating from the early 1600's were rehung with modern steel fittings, the old canons being retained. These were dedicated by the Bishop of Bath and Wells on Whit Sunday. 1963.
    In the meantime a small but enthusiastic hand of ringers was formed from scratch and it was decided to increase the ring to six, and just a year later the Bishon came again to dedicate the new trebles. The total cost was $£ 2.171$, and of this $£ 1.707$ had to come from this village with a population of under 70n. Now comes the happy news that all the money has been found and Ilton bells are ringing again as they were nearly four centuries ago.

    ## SONNING STRIKES AGAIN:

    Competing in the Sonning Deanery Branch of the O.D.G. is certainly not one-sided, as was proved by Sonning winning the seventh annuat striking contest held at Twyford on May 2lst
    Perhaps it was a case of "the seven year itch" for this band won the very first competition. In striking back to the fore they produced some excellent Doubles ringing Fenough to make the ground searching listeners scratch the church path gravel as they wandered and wondered about their own chances.

    Runners-up, Easthampstead, rang with rhythm to a highly commendable tenor turned in to Minor. Hurst " $A$ " team came a very close third with the standard of Stedman that invariably gets them a place. The results for the statisticians were Sonning 26 faults, Easthampstead 33 and Hurst "A" 35.

    Major Bragg and Mr. Viggers adjudicated in their usual efficient manner, giving valuable advice and accurate comment, as has been their consistent record during their service to this Branch over the last seven and five years respectively.

    In their opening words high praise was given to the Binfield team for their keenness as novices. Entering the contest for the first time, the Twyford tower was also a "first" for the entire team. A band with this sort of enthusiasm will no doubt be heard again and their example should be noted by the towers who did not enter a team yet have capable ringers
    The Rev. Harcourt Trevor, Branch chairman. gladly seen in good health again, thanked, on behalf of the members, the organisers and helpers of this enjoyable event in our ringing calendar

    Beneficial ringing and friendly rivalry have brought to this Branch a standard (now carried by Sonning to the Guild Competition) which improves each vear, thus establishing the wisdom and forethought of those who instigated striking competitions.

    ## CHEW DEANERY BRANCH STRIKING

    COMPETITIONThe Rev. J. G. M. Scott, of Clawton, Devon, made the long journey to act as judge for the fourth annual striking competition held at Kingston Seymour on Mav 21 st . The test piece was 120 changes of Doubles or Minor. Teams were confined to reqular Sunday service bands and towers which normally combine forces on Sundavs were allowed to enter a joint team.
    Five towers, including one newcomer to the competition, competed, plus a scratch team made up on the spot from the spectators. This latter team, of course, was not competing.
    After tea in the village hall. Mr. Scott opened his comments with details of Devonshire call change competitions and incidentally demonstrated his fine command of the Devonshire dialect! Kineston Seymour, on their own ground, but with no previous exnerience of comnetition ringing, were nlaced first with 104 faults. Nailsea with Backwell a close second with 103 faults. then third Wraxall (15). fourth Portbury (17) and fifth Yation ( $18 \frac{1}{2}$ ). The scratch team had $14 \frac{1}{2}$ faults.
    Mr. Scott and his churchwarden conavigator were warmiv thanked for untertaking a 240 -mile round trip on 01 rr hehalf.
    M. J. H.

    ## THE CHALLENGE

    LIKE an innocent babe the Editor went to Bath. His mind was at rest. Despite the vicissitudes of 1905. including his visit to Australia and the changing of offices and printers, there was a substantial financial balance on the year's activities and the year had been one of progress. Furthermore "The Ringing World" was on the verge of achieving the ambition of Mr. J. Frank Smallwood. the previous convener, of having a capital a/c of $£ 10.000$. The Committee Inoked older since Northampton, but they seemed content and anticipated another year of "hard work" on behalf of the Exercise.

    Disillusionment followed the presentation of the report by Mr. R. S. Anderson. He has an anatytical mind; charges and costs of the different departments and types of circulation had been worked out on a percentage basis and were clearly presented as a chairman would to the shareholders at a company meeting. This had been before the Standing Committee the night before and their recommendation indicated that they were satisfied with the report and the competence of the Committee and wanted them to carry on with the addition of Mr. D. A. Bayles.

    It soon became evident at the Council meeting that the critics were organised. The spoiesman was Mr. G. W. Pipe and he had armed himself with some 20 suggestions and criticisms, which were not revealed but were to be sent to the new Committee. The criticisms were not financial but expressed dissatisfaction with contents. format and quality of paper used in printing. The front page illustration, the silhouette of London towers, which was the pride of the founder, the late Mr. J. S. Goldsmith. apparently was viewed with disfavour as a relic of a forgotten age. A few years back the Committee wanted a change and promoted a competition, but loyalty to tradition was so pronounced that any thought of change was dismissed.

    Another idea explored was to have a tinted cover with a block of a tower each week. The cost however was regarded as being beyond the compass of the present selling price; it would represent the profit on 2,500 copies.

    From a number of speakers there was an appeal for a brighter "Ringing World" and better articles. The difficulty of size is that after 16 the next step is 24 pages which adds £50 to the printing cost of the issue and also extra postage. Because of the cost these big issues are limited and this number is only the second in 1966. There is no question that, judging from the attitude of the Council, bigger issues will have to be more frequent.

    None of the critics attempted to define what they meant by a brighter newspaper. "The Ringing World" comes within the definition of a technical journal and is the only weekly paper devoted to change-ringing. Many of the technical articles have a limited appeal and are as dry as dust to more than 75 per cent of the readers. The "musts" in the publication are peals, a representative number of quarter peals (which are good for circulation). compositions, reports of the proceedings of the 60 affiliated bodies. social news of the big family of ringers, augmentations and dedications, obituaries and letters. probably the minst popular feature. Special articles on churches, technical subjects and tours are limited by space.

    As we see it, the outcome of the meeting was a challenge to the Editor to produce a better paper. to spend more on illustrations and to use the blue pencil. Brightness is only achieved by concentrating on main features. (Dctails of pub crawls. which many tour writers regard as the brightness of a ringing week. are already eliminated.) What Alf and Harry did is of ao interest to the urdinary reader. They certainly cannot emulate "What Katic did." the joy of generations of schoolgirls.

    More than one speaker boldly expressed the view that a circulation of 10.000 was easily within our grasp. That is the challenge. But it will not be achieved unless each of the 158 members present at the Council meeting devotes his or her energies to finding new readers - not borrowers of the family copy. It would be reached if everyone who rang a peal or quarter peal tnok the journal. We treat people who order copies of "The Ringing World" with the quarter they participate in on the same plane as those who send donations. They are building the most valuable of things - circulation. Secondly, we are always pleased to send voucher copies to those who can place them advantageously. and secure new readers.

    The potential from new entrants is large. Last year the sales of "The Beginners' Handbook" exceeded 3.000 copies and this gives an indication of growing interest. The biggest bridge to be surmounted is to persuade the young ringer that he is not merely a member oi his tower but one of the great family of ringers. Knowledge of this great family can only be gained through "The Ringing World." Above all. we must endeavour to keep the present price stable. An increase to one shilling would mean a drop of 1.000 in circulation.

    Lastly, remember that the Editor's decision is final. The Committee can give a directive and make suggestions, but it is the Editor who has to fit everything in and decide what

    ## REPORT OF "THE RINGING WORLD* COMMITTEE

    Although when this report is being prepared the accounts for 1965 are not completed, it is understood that the figures will once more show a surplus. A detailed analysis is not: however, possible and must await the meeting of the Council.
    The year has not been uneventful in that further changes took place at the printers culminating in a removal of the Editor's culminating in a removal of the Editor's office back to Onslow Street, Guildford. These changes placed a heavy burden on Mr White but he has throughout ensured the regular weekly despatch of copies.
    Continued pressure by wholesalers on our publishers left them with no alternative but to seek a reduction in their price to us. During negotiations zertain suggestions were made to them, particularly concerning the despatch of copies direct from the printers This angle is being explored by the publishers, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made along these lines it is hoped that our price can be maintained.
    Wages in the printing trade were last increased in January. 1965, and we are grateful to our printers, who throughout the year refrained from passing on to us any of their additional cosis. We have, however, now been informed that an increase in their charge is inevitable.

    ## NO CHANGE IN PRICE

    Your committee have decided that the price of "The Ringing World "will not be raised at least during 1966, except that if postal rates are raised it may be necessary to pass on such increase to new subscribers. The printers have intimated that a further review of costs and charges will be necessary at the end of 1965 but your committee hope that if costs are further increased these can also he absorbed.
    During the year your editor took part with others in a visit to Australia. New Zealand and the United States of America, and we are grateful to Miss Y. Eloie. to Mr. H. C. Aldhous and not least to Mrs. Lucas for carrying on in his absence. Many have expressed anpreciation of the report of the rour by Mr. White published over a period in "The Ringing World."

    Your committee aro grateful to all. including the Associations who send contrihutions to "The Ringing World" and offer them our sincere thanks. Your committee also wish to thank the retiring secretary, Mr. F. A. Barnett, for the help he has given them rver many years and wish him and Mrs. Barnett many more happy years, especially in our Exercise.
    Annually repeated, but nevertheless $\sin$ cerely, your committee once more place on record their apnreciation of the services ren. dered to "The Ringing World " hv Mr. T. W.
    White and Mrs. Luras at Guildford, by Mr. White and Mrs. Luras at Guildford, hy Mr.
    Jeater for his work on the accounts. by Mr. Roper for his compilation of the index. and all who throurhout the year. either as readers or contributors, have helped the paper.

    ## THE DEBATE

    Mr . R. A. Anderson, presenting the report, said if they examined the Income and Expenditure Account they would find that, is with all businesses today. expenditure wis increasing. Printing costs were slightly higher, hlock prices were higher, wages and salaries were up. postage had increased. The fee they paid their auditor was higher, hut those who had any knowledge of husiness would know that for a turnover of over f 10.000 the fees were remarkably low.

    Of the present circulation of 5.600 , nostal copies were 2,700 and those sold through the newsagents just under 3,000 . This position was reversed in the case of income-puhlishers sales being 36.7 and postal subscrihers 63.3 per cent.

    The net income from investments had in. creased and they would notice that there had been a shifting in the investments. They had now money in a building society and money invested with Brighton Corporation, both of which were trustee securities. They had also taken the advice of their accountant where money had been invested in hjgh income unit trust.

    ## SELECTIVE EMPLOYMENT TAX

    The surplus of income over expenditure had increased. They had taken steps to cover the increase in printing charges in 1965 and these did not occur. This was due to the munificence of the printers and he would like to place on record their gratitude to their printers in not passing on this charge. There was, however, an increase this year and it operated from March. The increase was loughly 3.3 per cent on printing cost. In a full year it would cost $£ 400$. and the current year just over $£ 210$. This would he refiected in the accounts next Whitsun. There was one possible increased charge-the Selective Employment Tax. At the moment from the beginning of September, "The Ringing World" would be liable for the tax, but unless further orders were issued they would be able to claim that back in full in February.
    The present circulation was ahout 5,600 and represented an increase compared with a year ago of about 120 to 130 . He was not going to plead poverty. They had some money that had heen gathered by the judicious operating of funds by his predecessor and they had to thank him that "The Ringing World account was in a good position today:

    Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded
    The secretary stated that the Standing Committee recommended the adoption of the report and accounts, also the re-election of the conmittee and the addition of Mr. D A. Bayles.

    ## ${ }^{\circ}$ NOT SATISFIED

    Mr. G. W. Pipe said he would like to start by expressing his and their warm thanks to the editor and to the convener of "The Ringing World "Committee, who had put in a tremendous amount of work.
    He could not help feeling that "The Ringing World" report resolved itself into the financiul aftairs of the journal and was concerned purely with the financial side. He thought it was time that they looked at the other side than the actual accounts, Many people were not really satisfied with the contents. He did not want to make a comment like that without some serious thought. It was poorly laid out and the quality of the paper used was also very poor.
    Mr. Pine concluded by saying that if some constructive thought was given to the layout of the paper he was confident that the number of subscrihers could be doubled. He had a series of 20 suggestions and criticisms which he would ask "The Ringing World" Committee to consider (apnlause).
    Mr. Dennis Beresford (Society of Roval Cumberland Youths) said he would like to supnort wholeheartedly what George Pine had said. They wanted a new committee with original ideas. They did not criticise the men concerned with "The Ringing World " hecause they had had a most difficult job in the nast hut thev wanted a committee of people like George Pipe. with extremelv constructive ideas people like Vernon Bottnmlev to provide a financial hackground, and Edpar Shenherd to serve on the committee to give it the scholarship that was necessary. These suggestions were not intended as criticism of the editor, for whom he had the highect regard. What he wanted was a dynamic committee behind him. If they develoned slons these lines ther could expect "The Ringing World" to adopt forward-looking attitude (applause).

    The Rev. John Scort said he came up by train and he went to the station bookstall at Exeter and there was nothing to suggest that "The Ringing World" existed. He would like to back up what had been said if anything was done about it. Two years ago Vic Shepherd levelled some criticism ahout the front page of "The Ringing World," but his observations were not taken seriously. No praise could be too high for the editor, but a larger committee was needed.

    ## NOTHING FOR YOUTH

    Mr. Norman Chaddock said he found he could get youth to take ". The Ringing World "for a quarter- or a half-year. Thev then ceased becuuse there was little in "The Ringing World " to interest them. Over the years "The Ringing World" Committee had been working ir a financial strait-jucket. He would ask the committee not to worry about loss even if it amounted to a thousand o two if it could increase the sale of the paper. There was something like $£ 8.000$ of $£ 9,000$ in reserve so they could continue. He suggested that the editor did not recuive sufficiently good contributions.
    A member suggested that the committee were mean in their approach. They had some very fine writers. Why should they not give a small honorarium to some of the people to encourage more good articles? Mr. T. W. White, the editor, in reply, said he had not seen the 20 suggestions of Mr . C. W. Pipe, but some time ago Mr. Pipe sent him some suggestions which were sent to the convener and every one of these suggestions had been previously thought of and considered by the committee.

    ## PEALS CONTROL SPACE

    The position of ". The Ringing World " today was that it was governed by peals. These had to be published, and in a heavy peal-ringing year like the past other feature articles had to be relegated. As editor he had been serionsly criticised for publishing the Collection of Doubles Methods as a waste of space and of no interest to readers. waste of space and of no interest to readers.
    But it was a best seller. He had been greatly worried that adequate attention had not been given to compositions-very few of the many suhmitted were published.
    In considering the contents of the journal they had to remember there were (x) As: sociations affiliuted to the Central Council and each of these had a right to have reports of their proceedings published, even if abhreviated One way of brightening "The Ringing World was to have more attractive advertisements and the introduction of display announcements of meetings added touch of brightness. It must he remembered that "The Ringing World" had a limited field for advertisements, but in its own field found this in regard to sales of ringing hooks: in one case three-quarters of their sales came through "The Ringing World" and vet their charges for advertisements were the lowest.

    Dont think that hrightening the paper will double the circulation. It will not,"
    One leading ringer gave him the figure One leading ringer gave him the figure 6.000 as the maximum that would re received. There was a great difficulyy in holding subscriptions and he knew that in that rom there were members of the Censcriptions to lanse! Despite that there was an upward trend.
    Dr. D. F.. Sibson said Mr. White had answered some of the points but he had hlamed neal ringers for the shortace of snace. If there was not ennugh room the size of the paner should he increased and the price increased accordingly. He thought the editor had taken a very conservative viewthisy should be athle to increase their circulachange throughout the years. Why not maks ar effort to make it more presentable?

    ## AD HOC COMMITTEE

    Mr. John Freeman (vice-chairman) said he had listened with interest to the ideas expressed and it appeared that there were two

    has 20 suggestions for improving
    "The Ringing World."
    distinct camps. On the one hand they had critics who wanted a more dynamic committee and on the other hand there was a committee with day to day experience. He was not sold on the idea that mproving the cover would increase the circulation. He still liked the present form but they should not disregard the ideas of the critics.

    For many years the report of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was in a set form. It was decided to alter it and this was done by a special committce with satisfactory results. He suggested that an ad hoc committee should he formed of the present committee and some of the critics to examine the position and present their views to the Councll.

    The Rev, John Scott seconded and Canon K. W. H. Felstead gave the proposal his

    Mr. R. A. Anderson, convener of "The Ringing World" Committee, said the committee was the servant of the Council and would abide by the Council's decisions. There were two or three points he would like to make. The first was on circulation and price. He would like to remind the Council that few years ago the price was raised by ad. to $8 d$. At that time the circulation was over 6,000. With "The Ringing World at 8 d , the circulation dropped by 1,000 . He knew neople had said if the price of "The Ringing World" went up again they would drop it and they heard that day that certain members of the Council had not renewed their suhscriptions-well, perhaps they were now getting it through their newsagent or another source.

    The question of layout had been raised Some years ago suggestions were asked for designs for a new front page. They had some very good designs hut they were all rejected by the Council. It had heen sugfested that the size of the paper be increased. The difference in cost between a 16 -page and 24 -page issue was $£ 50$. He did not think the funds avalable would extend to one such issue a week. The net income from investments was $£ 68$ and the amount of donations was $£ 676$. givine a total of $£ 934$ against a surplus of $$ 1,047$.
    Mr. Brian D. 7 hrelfall (Cambridge Unfversity) asked if it would he possible 10 confine the paner to postal subscribers. Was there any legal ohiection?

    Mr. W. B. Cartwright (Worcester and Districts): If you give me the contract I will do it (laughter).
    Mr.J. F. Smallwood said the committee had tried to serve the Exercise and do its hest. Some of the sugestions made that dav made him smile. The committee had been hit by continuous rising prices and had been hound hand and foot. All sorts of ideas had been suggested and they were uncertain of adopting them as they feared they would not come out the right side. They could find plenty of means of disposing of the balance they had built up. The solution of a better "Ringing World" was with the Exercise. He did not agree that 6,000 was the limit. He always maintained that a circulation of 10,000 could be obtained if they backed up the committee.
    With regard to the format he must admit that he did not like it but it had been forced on them. There was a time when they could have five peals to a column; now they had reached eight peals.

    ## NO KINDERGARTEN STUFF

    He would like to see it brighter. With reference to the suggestion that beginners were not catered for, how did they propose they do so? They were well catered for by the Publications Department, and they could not put in a lot of kindergarten stuff. Btginners were important. but he did not think a series of elementary articles running through the paper, which would have to be repeated year by year, was the answer.

    I make no apologies for what we have done; we have worked hard. Please rememher the solution is that you get the circulation and then you can spread the news over in a bigger and brighter paper.

    Mr. W. T. Cook (Ancient Society of College Youths) supported Mr. Freeman's suggestion of an ad hoc committee. It might be that the committee would find it was not able to do much to improve the journal. The committee might feel that the picture which had been on the front since ". The Ringing World" was founded in 1911 should remain. He hoped there would be many critics and then they might get something done.

    The president proposed that an ad hoc committee be appointed with the vice-president as chairman. He suggested that the vice-chairman invite certain members of the Council to work with "The Ringing World Committee on an ad hoe committee and to report to the Central Council next year.
    Mr. A. D. Barker (London County Association) seconded the president's suggestion.

    Mr. P. A. Corhy (Kent County Association) asked if the president had in mind Motions $14 b$ and 14 c . Would it not be wise to discuss these proposals lirst?

    The President: If the ad hoc committee was formed it could look into these motions.

    Mr. F. E. Dukes (Irish Association) held that "The Ringing World" Committee should be elected first.

    Mrs. P. J. Staniforth (Ladies' Guild) thought members of the ad hoc committee should be voted from the floor
    Mr. J. Freeman considered that the ad hoe committee should not interfere with "The Ringing World " Committee. He agreed with the ad hoc committee being voted from the tloor of the house.

    The Rev. J. Scott (Guild of Devonshire Ringers) proposed, and Mr. John Worth (Chester Guild) seconded, that the present "Ringing World" Committee with Mr. Dennis Bayles be re-elected.

    Mr. D. Beresford proposed Mr. G. W. Pipe and Mr. R. F. B. Speed be elected to the committer
    The president then suggested an adjourn. ment for lunch so that the position could be talked over and, if possible, claritied,

    OPPOSITION TO AD HOC COMMITTEE:
    Mr. R. F. B. Speed (hon. member) was the first speaker after lunch. He strongly disagreed with an ad hoc committee and thought the approach should be to modify the committee as it stood. He did not think it would do any good to have a large number on the committee-it was not practicable. He would not like to see the committee re-elected with additions as there were some he would like to see on and others he would not. He proposed that members be voted on individually and not by a block vote.
    Mr. F. B. Lufkin (Esser Assnciation) was against an ad hoc committec. There was a lot said with which he disagreed but there was one thing they agreed on-that there was a large measure of dissatisfaction. The consmittee did need some new blood. Much the committee had done was very good and they knew the facts but they needed some new members with new jdeas.
    "AIL FOR 'THE RINGING WORLD""
    Mr. P. J. Staniforth (Leicester Diocesan Guild): Let's all be for . The Ringing world " and not against ic
    Mr . Harold Rogers (London County Association) wanted to make four points. First of all he was delighted with the discussion. There were some ?. (mo trade and technical journals and they had to look at the position as they had. Many had said $\%$ We must change our format have a new look and a new policy." Whatever they did with the election of the committee he would like to see a complete proposal for dealing with "The Ringing World" within six months. They could not afford to ignore the financial position: they must work within their limits. I: the commitree were sufficiently formard with their proposals in six months they should have a meeting of the Council either in London or Birmingham. If they had a"Ringing World" report it should come from the committee and not just signed by the convener.
    Mr. Leslie Weller (Sussex Association) seconded Mr. Speedis proposal.

    Mr. R. S. Anderson corrected Mr. Rogers. The report. he said, was that of the committee and not the convener.

    Th clarify the position the president took a vote on the formation of an ad hoc commitree. There were only nine votes for it and an overwhelming matiority against.

    ## NFW COMMITTEF

    It was then decided that the committee should consist of six members and they should he elected individually. The following were rhen nominated: Messis. D. Beresford, W. G. Wilson. R. S. Anderson. G. W. Pipe, J. I: Smalluood. I I. Hair Mrs. P. J Staniforth, Mr. D. Bavles, Br. C. M. P. Johnson and Mr. P'. Gray. A ballot was demanded and Messrs, W. Aire and t . Naylor elected icllers with assistants from the Bath and Wells Association. Later it was imnounced that the follouing had been elected: Messrs. I'. G Wilson. Gi. B resford, R, S. Anderson. G. W Pipe. J. I. Smallwood and D. Basles. Mr. Anderson was appointed convener.

    ## Motions Unacceptable  NO SIXPE:NCI - NO NAME

    On behalf of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers the Rev. J. G. M. Scott proposed and Miss B. M. Boyle seconded

    That the names of those laking part in neals reported in "The Ringing World" he not published except after payment to *The Ringing World of not less than sixpence for each pervon taking part in the peal.'
    Mr. Scolt, in moving the motion, said that peals certainly were news and must he iublished. He suggested that "The Ringing World " should print the record of peals, hut only the names of those who paid. The national Prew dropped names-they were not published. The Records Committee only puhlished the neals: there were no names. Mr. Mehew, in his letter to "The Ringing World * asked: "What happens if one ringer refuses to pay? " Mr. Scott's reply was that he could

    Mr . G. Dodds held that names were definitely news.

    Mr. T. W. White asked if the mation was carried. how could the prenent reports with two or three blank spaces in peals. Could they imagine a record length being rung without the names heing published?
    tight people voted in favour and the motion was heavily defeated.

    DONATION TO "RINGING WORLD"
    Mr. A. V. Disvis (Winchester and Ports mouth) moved: "That this Council invites all affiliated Societies to contribute al sum of no: less than three guincas per representative annually cowards the cost of mazntaining The Ringing World.
    He thought the motion. Which was in invitation to help, would encourage the conimittce to produce a new and better " Ringing World.: He was amazed to read a lettel discussing this motion in "The Ringing Warld" befoie it had been hefore the Council, and he wondered if it was the right thing to do. He did not think the views of Mr. Wilfrid $G$. Wilson were the views of the committee. He put forward the motion with the object of interesting Associations in " The Ringing World.

    Canon Felstead described it as a private member's motion. For years "The Ringing Would "had heen in a precarious state and this might do away with voluntary donations.

    Mr. P. A. Gray liked the idea of involving Associations in The Ringing World * hit felt that the running of the iournal should he left to the new committee. He proposed that the Council pass on to the next husiness and this was agreed to.

    THANKS TO MR. F. 1. HAIRS
    Mr. W. Dobbic moved that the Council express its thanks to the retiring member of "The Ringing World" Committee-Mr. 1. Hairs. He had heen a member of the committee for 15 years and had worked very hard for it. He would aho like to congratiilate Mr. and Mrs. Hairs on their golden wedding anniversary. They rang on that date a peal of Siedman Caters " in hand." conJucted by the vice-president of the Counctl. They rang a similar peal on their wedday. conducted by the late A. H. Pulling.

    ## BROADCASTING AND TELEVISION COMMITTEE

    ALTHOUGH there was reference in the report for 1964 to the broadcast of the hells of St. Paul's Cathedral in January, 1965 , it is fitting that mention of this should be made here. First-class ringing on one of the finest rings of twelve in the country was a worthy tribute to the great statesman for whose funeral it was performed.
    In August the Home Service of the B.B.C. took a leaf from the book of the Light Programme and introduced its Sunday morning programme with bells. Recordings of four different churches were used and were selected from those made at different time for the Christmas Bells Programme. This was a welcome indication that these recordings are being preserved by the B.B.C., a point on which we had never been assured. On more than one occasion when visiting Broadcasting House we have suggested that these recordings should form the nucleus of a "Bells Library" and be used in turn to introduce the Sunday programme, and we like to think that it is this suggestion that has borne fruit.
    Great Adventure II was offered good publicity through both radio and television. There were several interviews of individual members of the party, and quite a number of the members were televised at the Church. of St. Lawrence Jewry. London, just prior to their departure, when Tom lock told viewers where and why they were making the trip.

    ## CHRISTMAS BELLS-A CROSS SECTION OF RINGING

    The Christmas Programme served up its variety of bells and ringing and some good ringing was heard, especially from the cail change ringers of West Down. It must he remembered, however, that this programme i: not intended as an exposition of highclass ringing on the best rings of bells, out as a cross-section of the ringing which is to he heard from churches up and down the land for the Christmas Festival, and we may be sure that all gave of their best. . As in previous years, the B.B.C. invited this committee to select the towers for the programme. and the convener was invited to assist in the editing.
    "In the correspondence which ensued in "The Ringing World" the point has been made again that as the hells are pre-recorded and then are "put over" by the commentator as though they were ringing at the time of the broadcast the programme is false and contrary to the spirit of Christmas, and therefore should be stopped. We sympathise with this view (although not to the extent of sfopping the programme) but we must be realists. The B.B.C. will not incur today the very big expense of live broadcasts on Christmas morning, and if we want this programme of hells at all (and it is the only one of its kind that we get in the course of the year) we must he content with pre-recordings. We always hope that the helis are being rung for the recordings by the ringers who will he at the ropes on Christmas morning. The practice of prerecording religious and other programmes is very common in B.B.C. work today.
    The report from the Scottish Region tells of an item before a meeting of the Presbytery of Edinburgh towards the end of the vear which intrigued the Press reporters so much that it was the only item of business from the meeting to be included in the Press report. It concerned an application by a church in Edinburgh. St. Cuthbert's. which had a plan to alter the number of bells in the ring. As a result of this interest by the Press hoth B.B.C. and S.T.V. included in their newsflashes an interview with a ringer to explaic what was involved. A report that a contract had been placed with bellfounders reached the office of "The Ringing World" and was published under "Belfry Gossip," out it is uncertain what progress has been made.
    In Ireland the bells of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Christ Church Cathedral and St, George's Church, Dublin, St. Mary's, Limerick, St. Mary's, Doneraile, and St. Nicholas', Carrickfergus, have been broadcast on both Radio Eireann and B.B.C. networks, and have put up performances which are very creditable to Irish ringing, The Irish Association is particularly proud of the Christmas broadcast from Carrickfergus.

    ## INCUMBENT RESPONSIBLE

    From the Midland Region we hear of complaints from several churches that services have been broadcast without including the bells ringing beforehand and some of the protests have been addressed to the B.B.C. We have broached this subject on more than one occasion and the reply we get is that this is a matter which rests with the incumbent of the church concerned. He is allotted a specified time for the broadcast and it is up to the local ringers to persuade him to allow one or two minutes of this time for the bells. If they succeed in that they might prevail upon him also to get the name of the captain of the ringers to he printed in the "Radio Times" together with those of the preacher and organist.
    During a peal ringing tour in Octoher George Fearn was interviewed in South Wales by the B.B.C. and this was broadcast on the Midland Region in Jack de Manio's programme "Today." On the same day Nicholas Simon, of Llandaff, also was interviewed and this was heard on the Welsh Region.

    ## NORTH REGION INTEREST

    Bells have been heard in the North Region on several occasions preceding services broadcast by Commercial Television, and the standard has varied considerably from very good to very bad. On April 8th an item on "Change Ringing "was televised hy the B.B.C. in its "Look North" programme from Newcastle, and this was described in detail in "The Ringing World "at the end of that month.
    During the summer tour of the Universities Association in this area in August. Tyne-Tees Television gave a short report from the belfry of SS. James and Basil's. Newcastle. Shots of ringing were shown and Denis Bayles was interviewed.
    Cleator Moor was the tower selected from this region for the Christmas programme, and the advice we offered on the positioning the microphone and checking for balance was acted upon with good results. for the first recording was by no means satisfactory
    The West Region reports that several rings have been heard prior to morning service on Sundays and include I.iskeard. St. Siephen 4 Bristol. St. Marv's, Southampton, Cannington and Trowbridge.
    On October 10th eight members of the Devonshire Guild set up a new record for the South-West by ringing 10.240 changes of Plain Bob Major, and the band was filmed by B.B.C.
    In July. from St. Paul's. Yelverton. the filming of a bell as it left to be carried to Borneo on the aircraft carrier "Eagle" was covered by the B.B.C. The bell was given to the church originally by a retired admiral, but had not been used for 16 years. Both these films were seen on television.

    At Cardiff the B.B.C. recorded and filmed some ringing and interviewed the tower captain, Mr. Thomas Yeomans, for a broadcast on New Year's Eve. From this region we heard the bells of West Down at Chrictmas, and Wales was represented by Talgarth.

    ## EAST ANGLIA ITEMS

    Items of news from Fast Anglia include the interviewing of Oliver Barnard by both Anglia and B.B.C. Television regarding Stowmarket bells and their restoration. The order for this work to be done has been placed.

    Cecil Pipe was interviewed on Anglia Television prior to his departure for Australia for Great Adventure 1I, and his son George talked about ringing overseas. Work on the new light six at Scole was also shown on B.B.C. Television.

    The B.B.C. made for television a film about "The Fens" and included in it shots of the ringers and bells of St. Andrew's Church, Sutton, in action. The bells were needed to indicate the old custom of raising the Flood Alarm.

    At Leighton Bromswold, Hunts, on Whit Sunday, the bells were rung for morning service at which the sermon was preached by the Lord Bishop of Ely, who afterwards went into the belfry and rang the 21 cwt . tenor to rounds. All this was seen and heard on B.B.C. television on the following evening.

    In the London Region, W. H. Coles arranged and compered a very good programme on radio featuring Mrs. A. A. Hughes playing tunes in her inimitable way, the Ottery St Mary handbell ringers ringing tunes. Stedman Cinques lapped by the Appleton band, Spliced Surprise "in hand" by john Mayne's band. handbell tune ringers from America and a talk on the making and tuning of handbells by Mr. Oliver, the tuner at Whitechapel Bell Foundry.

    From Canada we learn that the Benedictines of Westminster Abbey, Mission City B.C. rang Grandsire Caters for Christnai over C.B.C. This was in conjunction with a programme of Gregorian Chant. Father i) instan Massey, O.S.B.. is the Ringing Master there.

    ## H. N. PITSTOW (Convener). Saffron, High Street, Banstead. Surrey,  D. A. BAYLES. J. DUNWOODY, G. E. FEARN,  H. J. SANGER  A. G. G. THURLOW. R. S. WILSON.

    Mr. H. N. Pitstow (hon, member) moved the adoption. He said there was a slight inaccuracy in the second paragraph-one of the recordings was not selected for the Christmas broadcast. There was also a reference that the B.B.C. was retaining the records of Christmas bells. This was not quite correct : they were retaining those that could be used From the dast broadcast the B.B.C. were considering the permanent retaining of Carrickfergus and West Down recordings,
    Mr. D. A. Bayles (Durham and Newcastle) seconded and the report was adopted.
    Mr. W. Ayre proposed the re-election of the committee as follows: Messrs. H. N. Pit stow. D. A. Bayles, J. Dunwoody, G. E. Fearn. H. J. Sanger, Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow and Mr. R. S. Wilson.

    ## Big Development in Week-end Courses

    ## EDUCATION AND SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING COMMIITEE

    THE report of the Education and Sunday Service Ringing Committee staten:1. Theological Collegen. Although some very effectivo work has been done, the drive, started a few years ago to ensure that a lecture on Church Bells and Bell Ringing should be given in as many theological colleges as possible each year or two yearn. seems to have been less productive during 1965. The convener has difficuly in geiting replios from some correspondents concerned It is well worth persisting with this work as it can bear valuable fruit in future years. A muitable person who could continue 10 malntain old confacts and develop new ones would be wolcome on to this committeo.
    II. Wock-end Courson. In addition to the fifth annual course organised by the convener and Mr. Moreton at Grantley Hall, this committee has agsisted at, or given adviee in the organisation of several other week. end couries. The sixth week-end residential course at Grantley Hall, Ripon. Yorkshire, will be held from Friday, Novemher Ith to Sunday. November 13th, 1966, There wili be two parallel courses, one for instructor and one for beginners. Mr. Sharpe, Mr, Moreton and Misa Crasa assisted at a sufcensful course organined by the Oxford Ould at Charney Manor In Bersshire last November. Other courses are beins planned for 1696 by several Associations.

    One-Day Coursem. These are becoming increasingly nopular and attract large attendances ( 50 to 100). We have given heln and advlie with several of these during tho year and welcome further requests for data and advice concerning day courses.

    V. The Washington FIIm,

    This was obtained last August and has been in great demand and given much pleasure to hundreds of viewers, as evidenced by letters of appreclation from borrowers. At the moment of writing this report the film has Juat been scen through by the convener and is in excellent condition for sound and vision. Because of possible postal delays and the need to check the film after each loan, hiring can normally only take place on a fortnightly basis. There are exceptions. The film, which coit $£ 38$ ss. 6d., is now almost half paid for, and if it continues 10 recelve careful handling should prove a financial asset to the Council.
    It has also proved a financial asset to at least ono hirer, who reported: "Everyone enjoyed the film very much, and a collection to cover the cost of heating the hall turned out to be es 8s"

    During the seven months previous to thla report the film has been loaned out 16 times in 15 different countles. Properly handled, It should last several years.

    ## NORMAN CHADDOCK (Convener), 17. Herringtharpe Grove, Broom, Rotherham.

    ## F. SHARPE

    W. F, MORETON,
    M. R. CROSS,
    F. B. LUFKIN

    The adoption was moved by Mr. N, Chaddock (Sheffleld and District). who asked for nermission to proceed with the "Tutors" Handbook."     Mr. W, F. Moreton seconded.
    Mr. H. Rogers ald the committec was not the first body to think about a manual for instructors - it was being considered nationally Most certalnly this was a very definite requirement. It might not be possible to put it in book form by the next Councll meeting but they should be able to sece the manuscript and perhaps in a restrictive form.

    Mr. Chaddock promised this and the report was adopted.

    Mrs, Staniforth, Messrs, Chaddock, W, F. Moreton, F. Sharpe and Miss M. R. Cross were elected to the committee.

    ## METHODS COMMITTEE

    Mr C. K. Lewis: You will be relieved to knnw that have nothing to report.

    The President; Would Mr. Blagrove like to second nothing?

    Mr. Blagrove formally seconded.
    Mr. G. Dodds (Herts County Association) said he noticed that a new edition of Plain Malor Collectlon was to be printed. Could it include Doublo Change methods and true extensions to Rnval and Maximus?

    Mr., Lewis sald this had been considered by the committee.

    The report was adopted
    On the proposition of Mr. Sharpe, Mr Lewis and Mr. Blagrove were re-dected, MF. Blaprove thought the Council should thank Mr. J. R. Mavne for his hard work. He thought it was right to say that the Collection of Surprise methods was hv John Mavne. They owed him a great debt of gratitude fhest. heari.

    Mr. R F B. Speed moved that Mr, Stonhen Ivin (Oxford University Society) be added to the committee and this was agreed

    ## NO DICTATION TO GULLDS

    There were three notices of motion, the first relating to non-resident life members subscriptions. The other two, relating to "The Ringing World," are reported following the debate on page 388.

    The first, proposod by Mr. C. K. Lewis and seconded by Mr. John Worth (Chester Diocesan Ouild) read: "That this Council favours all affiliated Socleties fixing the rate of their non-resident life membership subscription at a figure which does not exceed one and a half times the resideni members subscription."
    Mr . Lewis sald there was a big variation. and high non-resident pubscriptions guve rise to many non-Association peals.

    Mr. Philip Gray asked how many nonAssociation peals wore rung last year,
    Mr. Walter Ayre replied that thero were 82.
    Mr. N. Diserens (Oxford Diocesan Guild) said they must keep In mind the relative position of non-resident members. In the Oxford Guild non-residents had fult rights and that justified a higher subscription than in a Guild where non-residents had no right.
    Mr. W E. Critchley (Yorkshire Associse tion) said that he was rather surprised that Mr . Lewls was wasing ime on this matter. He must know it was a waste of time as no Guild was going to be dictated 10 .
    Mr. D. Carlisle (Derhy Diocesan Association) also appealed to the Council to reject the motion. Don't penalise keen youngsters. he implored.
    The vote was then put and the motion was heavily defeated.

    ## Outstanding Publicity Event-Great Adventure II

    THE outstanding event of the year which received publicity was undoubtedly "Great Adventure II," states the Literature and Press Committec. The party of ringers led by Mr. Toin Lock were royally received almost everywhere they went. They were interviewed over many hours and their photographs appeared in many papers. The visit created wide interest in the Press. Before the arrival in Perth there was a page in the local paper devoted to bells and tinging. At Melbourne an carly breakfast at Ballarat was necessary to keep a Press appointment and the local Ballarat daily gave a front page picture of the tourists being received by the Mayor Similar treatment was meted out at Bendigo. A Roman Catholic weekly published in Melbourne produced a photograph of Mr. Wilfred Williams and, on account of his association with St Paul's, he was frequently interviewed by various journallsts.

    Tom Lock, the leader of the party, had to suffer long interviews, mostly late Into the night The morning and evaning papers at Sydney, Maryborough, and Christchurch, New Zealand published wellainformed afticles and accounts of the tout.

    The "Church Times" usually contalns references to bells. One such notice made mention of the belis in the Loughborough Bell Foundry. Others paid attention to young ringers, References were made to the "Great Adventure II" and the Central Council meeting at Northampton. The "Church Times," being a widely read paper, should be supported by contributing articles and Items of interest for publication.
    The newspaper references received have prodiced some interesting and well-informed material. For example, Leslie Geddes-Brown in the "Northern Echo "cannot understand why a church should be urderstaffed in the belfry. She considers bellringing is fun and relates her experiences since she learned to ring bell while still at school. In the "Bolton Journal" Mr. Peter Crook (now deceased) was featured and a photograph shows him with the model of a church bell bequeathed to him by the late Canon Elsee The "Young Topics" column of the "Daily Telegraph" got down to handbell ringing and described bands of handbell ringers in the various parts of the country.
    Captain Marybelle Nissly, of the U.S. Air Force, monopolised a page in the "Stars and Stripes." She is photographed at the rope of a bell and is seen polishing one of her collection of handhells. Marybelle's introduction to bells occurred when she was associated with the W.A.F. Band.

    Miss Ida Grehan's article in the "Irish Times" related what she saw and learned during a visit to the Fountain Head Bell Foundry in Dublin. She raised a query as to whether women had entered the bellringing preserves of man. This brought a letter from the general secretary of the Irish Association which revealed the part of the fairer sex in the field of campanology.

    ## FEWER COMPLAINTS

    We are pleased to note fewer complaints about ringlig. The most promment was in relation to the Selly Oak Parish Cliurch bells, when a resident complatined in the local Press about a weekly practice. Several replies were published and the general conbensus of opinion was very much attalnst the complaint.
    In trade magazineg there was quite a spate of articles. "The Church and School Equipment News" presented a suggested design for a modern lower. A model of this beil tewer was on display at the CASEX exhibition at Earls Court in June. The Church Bells of Rotherham were featured in the "Phonix Gazette." Rowntree's mag. zlne "C.W.M." contained an article by C 3. Groome of the Marketing Department, and the two pages devoted to ringing and change ringing reflected the author's knowledge of the art. Leslie E. Wclls" article, "Message of the Bells," in the "Standard Review", dealt with the history of bells from enrliest time to the present day. Bell casting and tuning were touched upon and the article concluded with a description of ringing and change ringing. Altogether it was a wellawritten concise and informative essay.
    "Bell Ringing Delights" by Mary Freer was produced in the "Chelmsford Gardeners" Magazine." This paper is printed for cis. culation amongst members of the gardeners club only. The notes describe Miss Freer's experiences us a ringer and her attitude to ringing as hobby An article on Winchester Cathedral making references to its bells appeared in "Morgan's Masazine."
    During the year the "Irish Bell News." "The Belfry, "Ringing Towers" and "Overtones" maintained production and appeared regularly.

    ## PUBLICATIONS

    Publications during the year were greater than previously and a sumsmary of them is appended:-
    "Handbook of Crandsire Caters; my Edgar C. Shepherd.
    "Collection of Surptise Methods."

    - Joseph Hatch-The Ulcombe Bellfounder.
    "First Book of Bells," by Helen G Fletcher.

    The Theory of Change Ringing," by A. W. T Cleaver.
    " Change Ringing-the Art and Science of Change Ringing on Church- and Handbells," by Wilfrid G. Wilson.

    Mr. Wilson's "Change Ringing?" which is a s'accessor to Colonel Troyte's Handbook on Change Ringing." contains the author's previous work, which was published as the ". Beginners' Handbook." The new work covers a wide field and should take its place on every ringer's bookshelf.

    The amount of material received is less than in the previous year and it must be appreclated that our task is not madc easier by the lack of information about bells and ringers which may be published from time to time. We once again appeal to the various Assoctations to forward to us copies of newspaper cuttings and other references to the art.

    We again express our thanks to all who kindly forwarded to us the material upon which this report is prepared

    ## EDOAR C. SHEPHERD (Convener), 46, Manor Gardens, Warminster Wiles.

    FRED E DUKES.Mr. E.C Shepherd proposed and Mr F. $E$. Dukes seconded the adoption of the repoft.

    The Rev. J. G M. Scott called attention 10 "The Guardian" giving a half-page review of Mr. Wilson's book "Change Ringing."

    The committee was re-elected

    ## JOHN CARTER RINGING MACHINE

    On Aprll 14th the trustees spent a day with the machine and traced a minor fault which had given trouble, and corrected it. Following this, touches of London, Cambridge. Plain Bob and Stedman were successfully rung.
    On December 17th the machine was demonstrated to a party of ringers from Redditch, and on December 18th the first meeting to instruct four candidates interested in becoming demonstrators. At the end of the day just hefore the Museum closed a further minor fault developed, but there was insufficient time available to remedy it
    It is hoped to continue the meetings ef these demonstrators to ensure continuity. and it is anticipated that at the next meeting this minor fault will be corrected.

    In all other respects the machine continues to work satisfactorily.

    ## DOUOLAS HUGHES,

    ## FRANK E HAYNES

    Mr. D Hughes moved the adoption of the report and Mr. F. E. Dukes seconded. The report was adopted and Messrs. D. Hughes and F. E. Haynes were re-elected to the committee.

    ## PEALS COLLECTION COMMITTEE

    The collection of Major methods is now ready for printing and will be avallable shortly. It was found that the proving of the peals, particularly the Spliced Surorise. took rather longer than was at first anticipated The committee would welcome suggestions for further publications which might be considered desirable.
    W. E. CRITCHLEY (Convener), 28 Brompton Road, Sprotborough Park, Doncaster. Yorks, G. E. FFIRN. A J. PITMAN. R $\vec{F}$ B. SPEED. Proposing the adoption of the report. Mr. W. Eric Critchley (Yorkshire Association) suid apart from underlining the request for further publications he had nothing to add. Mr. R. F. B. Speed seconded and the report was adopled. The committee was re-elected en bloc on the proposition of Mr. W F Moreton, seconded by Mr. N. Golden.

    ## Peals Analysis Committee Reports Big Increase

    THE peal totals for the year 1965 once more show an increase and the figures, including, late arrivals up to "The Ringing World" issue of March 11 th, give 3,222 for tower bells and 273 for handbells, an increase of 171 on 1964 . One cause of the increase in the tower bell peals was the sincere expression by our fraternity of the great affection of the nation for that fine old gentleman Sir Winston S. Churchill on the occasion of his passing to higher service.
    This year the Oxford Guild has attained the " head of the list" with the Lincoln Guiid close behind. The first eight are as follows:

    |  |  | Tower | Hand | Total |
    | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
    | Oxford Guild | .. | 202 | - | 202 |
    | Lincoin Guild | $\cdots$ | 177 | 17 | 194 |

    | Gloucester & Bristol | 128 | 3 | 131 |  |
    | Peterborough Guild | 121 | 1 | 122 |  |

    Peterborough Guild $121 \quad 1$
    The Analysis breaks down as follows:

    |  | HANDBFLLS |  |  |  |
    | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
    | Maximus | -. | 3 | , | $+1$ |

    | Doubles | .. * | 17 | 13 | $+4$ |
    | Minimus | . |  | - | - |
    |  |  | 273 | 268 | $+5$ |

    Any 1965 peals published after this will not be included in our report.

    A most gratifying, encouraging sign for the future is in th. total of first pealers-644; with 99 making their first appearance as conductor.
    The Australian Tour produced 15 peals during which valuable assistance and advice was given to our friends "down under."
    A few points from the various Associations,
    Bath and Wells: Three times we have four first peals and first as conductor; first-pealer ver 60 .

    ## W. AYRE (Convener), The Old School House, Leverstock Green,  Hemel Hempstead, Herts K. W. H. FELSTEAD H. L. ROPER.

    Mr. Walter Ayre, in moving the adoption of the report, made two corrections. In the Swansea and Brecon Guild there were five peals of Caters instead of five peals of Royal, and one peal of Triples rung for the Peterborough Guild was now transferred to Non-Association. In the meritorious per formances he called attention to the peal of Cambridge Maximus at Exeter and Mr. Peter Border's magnificent effort on the tenor. Also the first peal of Maximus outside Great Britain, at Melbourne. In the outstanding performances there should be recorded the seven peals of Surprise Major rung at Loughhorough in seven different methods with seven different conductors.
    The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead (Winchester and Porlsmouth) seconded the adoption.

    The committee was re-elected on the proposition of Mr. F. E. Dukes, seconded by Mr. A. D. Barker.

    ## Central Council Sales Reach Record Figure HE large increase in the sale of publica-

    $T^{\text {H }}$tions reported last year has been maintained and the income therefrom has now reached a record figure of over $£ 400$, reports the hon. librarian. This is mainly due to the continued increased demand for the "Beginners' Handhook " and for the very promising start with the sale of the "Collection of Surprise Methods," which became available early in the year.
    The increase of postal rates during the year has naturally led to an increase in expenses. but this has been offset to a degree by the fact that there has been an increase in orders for larger quantities. It would be helpful if more could be done in this direction by Associations purchasing quantities of the more popular publications to sell to their members at their meetings, and so ease the burden of distribution.

    We tender our thanks to the donors for the following additions to the library: " Bellringing in the Schools of Today " by Michael King: "Bells and Their Use as a Means of Christian Education" by W. R. Denton: copies of "Spliced Triples" per Mr. J. Segar: conies of "Irish Bell News" per Mr. F. E. Dukes.
    In conclusion I have to report the sad news that Mr. R. F. B. Speed intimates that he would like me to arrange for someone else to take over the sales section of the library. Due to increased business and family commitments and the continuing increase in sale of publications. Mr. Speed finds that he cannot spare the time demanded by the work involved. We shall be sorrv to lose the valuable help Mr. and Mrs. Speed have given for the benefit of the Exercise during the past eight years and no words of mine can adequately express our thanks to them. We are indeed most arateful for the enormous amount of work they have done for us.

    ## FRANK W. PFRRENS.

    Hon. Librarian.
    68, Warwick Avenue, Coventry.
    Mr. F. W. Perrens in moving the adoption of the report said he would like to emphasise the help given by the Association in pur* chasing quantities of publications for sale to their members.
    Mr. C. K. Lewis seconded.
    The President: May I very warmly, in the name of all, underline the last paragraph of our very grateful thanks to Mr. and Mrs.

    Speed for their work in connection with the sale of publications.

    Supporting the president, Mr. G. Dodds asked if some of the smaller publications which were out of print could be reprinted.

    Mr. J. F. Smallwood asked, in regard to stocks purchased by the Association, were they on sale or return or was there payment in advance?

    Mr. Perrens: I think I should mention cash. What I know of the finances of most Associations today. I am certain they could afford to take a reasonable number and pay for them.

    Mr. H. L. Roper said he had had experience of hawking Central Council publications. Some did not go very well. Could he have an assurance that the librarian would take them back?

    Mr. Perrens: We are only too willing to accommodate anyone who has a surplus that he cannot sell.

    The report was then adopted.

    ## Bellfounders will be Extremely Busy

    ## Foreshadows Towers and Beliries Committee

    THE work of the Towers and Belfries Committee for 1965 again constitutes an alllime record. Advice on tower and hell restoration was given in a total of 118 churches. an incrase of seven more than in 1964. Lari jear it was noted that the great increase in requests for advice was octasioned hy the architects' reports in connection with the second cycle of inspections carried ous under the Quinquennial Inspection of Churches Measure, and this year's work has increased for the same reason. On many occasions the convener has been hard pressed to deal with the dav to day correrpondence in connection with these requests and reports.

    As in former years. this report is compiled from statistics sent to the convener by individual memhers: and of the 118 requests for advice 27 were dealt with by correspondence. Members of the committee visited 91 churches.
    The churches where advice was sought may he analysed qeographically thus: Bedfordshire 1, Berkshire 13. Buckinghamshire 11. Cambridge1.3. Essex 2. Glouccstershire 2, Hamnshire 1, 1.3, Essex Herefordshire lancardshire 1, Lincolnshire 2, Middleqex Norfolk 2. Northamptonshire 7. Oxfordshire 12. Shrobshire 1, Somerset is. Staffordshire 1, Surrey 4, Sussex 1, Warwickshire 2, Wiltshire 1. Worcestershire 1. Yorkshire 1.
    Total for England 112 Australia 3. New Zealand 1. Southern Rhodesial 1, United States of America I: 118.
    It is impossible to cemment in detail on individual towers in a report such as this and it should be rememhered that each full report on hells, gear, tower and acoustics normally lakes from six in eight typed pages. An ianalysis of the reports submitted reveals the analysis of the reports submitted reveals the following:

    Thirteen parishes sought advice on augmention. an increase of three ahove those in the previous year.
    The number of towers seeking advice on he recasting of hells decreased to 14 in 1965 , he recasting of hells decreased to 14 in 1965.
    Sixty-one churches sought advice on rehanging or were advised by nembers of our committee to rehang completely their bells, an increase of eight above the previous year.

    ## MAINTENANCE ESSENTIAI

    The number of churches seeking advice on reptir or maintenance increased to 82. An increase in this section of our work is alwas, a matter of satisfaction, for if more routine maintenance were done many rings of helis maintenance were done many rings of helis wotAd not deteriorate so rapidly. These inquiries have trehled during the past three years.

    Inquiries regarding fower oscillation and request, for advice where extensive damage had been done to masonry increased to $4 ?$. of more than in 1964 . and requests for advice on sound control increased in 43 .
    Somerset agan headed the list of inquiries, with Berkshire and Devonshir: under the headine of Diokeses, Oxford takifirst place with 36 requests for advice on bell revenration.
    The committee met in convider in further detail the nroposed new book on bell towers, bell hanging and maintenance of bells and gear. It wats resolved to recommend that two books he printed: the first to deal with hell towers and hell hanging and : weDalate hook on hell maintenance. The contsener regrets he has heen unable during the past few month to derots as much time to this as he hoped. owine chiefly to his wife's serious illness, and to the tremendous volume of inquiries and corresnnndence regarding inanertions and renorts. 65 of which were dealt with he him. He has also aiven 23 leetures to members of diocesan, architectural and profinsional nrganisations. parochial church councils. youth organisations and in adult educafion colleges. It is evident that there is growing interest in all matters connected with hells and ringing, and our bellfounders and bellhangers will be extremely busy in the coming years.

    ## TOWLRS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE

    Mr. F. Sharpe (life member) said the committec was different from other committees in that its work was done by individuals which was afterwards analysed. The committee had been extremely active and he would like to give anpreciation of his colleagues in the work they did. Mr. Barnett had pointed out they had run into some expense but that no committec had done more for less monev than the Towers and Belfries Committee and that the expenditure referred in was for two years' committee mectings. The committee recommended that instead of one they produce two hooks. They had a sum of £soll, hut as " The Restoration of Bells " was practically out of supply they should like it to contain a chapter from the main book
    Mr. J. Sanger (Rath and Wells) seconded and paid tribute to the tremendous amount of work Mr. Sharpe did for the committec. They had occasion to call him in for a difficult job in Somerset and they owed him as deht of gratitude.

    Mr. Harold Rogers: I would like to endorso very wholeheartedly what Mr. Sanger has sitid. Most of you feel very distressed in hear that Mr. Sharne's wife is seriously ill. We all know how she supported him while he was in the chair. I nropose that we send her a message of goodwill from the meeting. (hear, hear).

    Mr. R. F. B. Speed said there was going to be a new book on the preservation and repair of hells. The present hook, revised three years ago, was to be reprinted.

    Mr. Sharpe: How many copies are left?
    Mr. Sneed: About two dozen.
    Mr. Sharpe: I think the committse will have to think of this in slightly different terms. It will be reprinted within two or three months.

    The report was adonted and the present committee re-elected with the addition of Mr. Trevor Roderick, who was proposed hy Mrs. D. King and seconded by Mr. İ. I?. Collins.

    # Comprehensive Survey by Overseas Ringing Committee

    ONE of the things that started off the idea of the Overseas Report was the increase in the anount of travelling undertaken by ringers abroad on business, holiday or as emigrants ; likewise Commonwealth and American friends visiting our shores. As well as this, a faint hope (as it was in 1959!) that one day perhaps another " Great Adventure" might take place either to Australasia or the Americas.

    Nineteen-sixty-five saw such a tour and what excellent reading it made. Previous reports have dealt fully with bells, etc.; we feel these should now be well known. "Dove's Guide" is now as up to date as present information will allow and we are happy to state many intending travellers abroad requiring details of fowers contact us for the necessary addresses. We welcome this and have a quite thick file the Exercise's disposal.
    We commence our report by once again conveying to ringers in Britain-greetings from fellow ringers around the world.

    ## AUSTRALIA

    The highlight of course was the tremendously successful Great Adventure II led by Tom Lack towards the end of the year. It will go down, as did the 1934 vistt, as one of the nost memorable occasions in ringing hisRinging World.

    Consequently A.N.Z.A.B. ringing received a preat boost and this has been reflected in their later performances. Eighteen meals were rung in Australia in 1965 as follows: Minor, two to seven methods 5, Grandsire Trinles 2, Boa Major 3, D.N.C.B. Major 1. Cainbridge 3, Yorkshire 2, Lincolnshire 2. Plain Bah Royal and Kent Maximus 1. An outstanding local effort wats the peal of Lincolnshire Major conducted by W. D. Watson. There were 99 quarters in a variety of methods including several of Surprise, Sydney and Adelaide setting the pace.

    ## LEADING PEAL TOWERS

    Dear Sir.-Miss Reay Is quite right about Birmingham Cathedral. Someone does not read "The Ringing world "! In my article on page 664 last year 1 mentioned not only that St. Philip's had passed the 500 peal mark but had also passed Crayford's total and had separated Erith and Crayford, which had held the lead between them for at least 30) years, as far as church towers are concerned
    At the moment (up to and including May 13th issue) I make the respective totals of the leading towers as follows: Erith 648, Birmingham Cathedral 564 , Crayford 530 , Willesden SOS. The Bell Foundry's cotal is 1.167.-Yours sincerely, Southampton.

    I wonder if any of your readers could identify this bell, as the present owners would like to pass it on to the Walker family.Yours truly, H. RUMENS. Salisbury.

    ## PEAL FEES FOR CHURCHES NOT " RINGING WORLD

    Dear Sir.-The rather pathetic excuse by Mr. G. Massey regarding the peal booking fee spoilt the reading of the account of what appears to have heen a very successful meating of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association (page 332).

    As far back as December, 1964, the question of is booking fee of levy was raised at Taunton, and carly in 1965 an absurance was given that in 1966 the peals secretary would take steps to have it abolished.
    It is a thousand pities that Mr. Massey did not test the real feelings of the moeting. It wilf be remembered that this peal booking fee was introduced several years ago 10 help ". The Ringing World "through its financial crisis. Presumably the crisis is still with $1 t$ : if so it is time that those concerned should sity so.

    No one douhts the efficiency of all who help to produce our journal and judging by its present stundards it is extremely well organised-second to none, I should think. 1 believe it is worth a great deal more, as its present price is ridiculously low and quile unrealistic. I am not against voluntary subscriptions, on the contrary. At quarter peals, tours, etc, I have ofren been the instigator of whip-rounds and collections for "The Ringing Warld," hut I dislike intensely beng foresd to contribute to something I have already paid for, whatever its price.
    1 think it is time that all Associations should get together and impose a levy on all peal ringers-the proceeds to go to the churches where the peals were rung. It is time that our pleasurable hohby should be paid for, but to the right place, where in most cases it is badly nceded to purchase new ropes.- Yours truly,
    R. BEALE.

    ## CORRECT NAME

    Dear Sir.- The correct name for the method rung as Glamorgan Delight ("Ringing World," June 3 rd , page 364 ) is Hatherop, this belng the name given to it when it was included in a handbell peal of Spliced Minor at Stration St. Margaret. Wilts, on November 9th, 1964. Yours faithfully.

    ## MISS MARY E. A. BRAGG

    The death of Mary Bragg in tragic elrcumstances at the end of last month was trow mendous shock, and brought grief and dis: tress to her family and many friends. After lunch on May 25 th Mary was returning to her work as a logobax operator with a firm of munufacturing chemists, when she was knocked from her bicyclo as a molorist opened the door of his car. She fell heavily, bitting her head, sustuining a fracture of the base of the skull. Although everything poesible was done at Farnham Hospital, where she was conveyed by ambulance, Mary died at 1.15 next morning without regaining consciousnews.
    The second daughter of Major and Mrs. F. J. Bragg, of 20, Church Hill, Aldershot, Mary was 19 years of age last September, Of a lively and generous disposition, she was extremely popular with everyone, taking part in many activities, but muinly those comnected with her parish church, of which her family are loyal supporters, Sunday Sehool teacher, bellringer hospital choir, St. Michael's Cells Group-these and many other soclal events always found Mary in the midst-alway happy, always helpful. She had, in the words of her Vicar, the precious gift of making herself indispensable. The evening hefore her accident was spent collecting for the Save the Children Fund.

    A regular uttendant at Sung Eucharist, she took part in bellringing for morning and evening service on most Sundays. A member of a well-known bellringing family, she was taught to handle a rone hy her grandfather. the late Mr. W. Denyer, at St. Michael's. In addition to her parents and sister, two brothers. Rubert and James, are left in hereavement, and the sympathy of the whole Exercise is extended to them in their sorrow

    The requiem funeral service at Aldershot on June 3 rd was attended by some 200 relatives and friends. The Master of the Guildford Guild (Mr. P. Smart) was among the many bellringers present, and half-muffed ringing took place hefore and after the service. quarter peal was also rung in the evening and a peal is to be attempted later.

    The Vicar of Aldershot, the Rev. T. H. Dart (himself a bellringer), was the celehrant at the service, assisted by the Rev. Michael Sellars A full choir was present. In his address the Vicar spoke of the happy llfe that Mary had enjoyed and of the meaning of Christ's resur rection to the active Christian. The intermen took place in Aldershot Cemetery, the Rev Michael Sellars pronouncing the committal sentences, and Mary was laid to rest beside her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Denver. The wealth of flowers gave some indica tion of the sympathy and love in which Mary's family is surrounded, and a memorial fund has already been opened with the object of placing something in the Children's Chapel at St. Michael's Church.

    ## WHITJUN AND SPRING OUTINGs'  EAST RIDING RINGERS  TOTTERNHOE OUTING

    The East Riding Ringers were favoured with most glorious weather for the outing to North Notringhamshire and Lincolnshire on Whit Monday. The party of 45 was made up from Cottingham, Goole, Hessle, Hornsea, Howden, Kirk Ella, North Ferriby, Selby and Sutton-on-Huld and, with good co-operation from all concerned, the first tower, Gamston, was reached almost exactly on time. Harold Denman, active for many years in the North Nottinghamshire area, had been most helpful with suggestions for the cour and was waiting to meet the coach. At Sutton-on-Trent several of the older members were pleased to renew acquaintances with the Misses Burchnall.

    A picnic lunch was enjoyed in the grounds of Newark Castle and many of the young ladies would have found bikinis more appropriate for their spell of sun-bathing on the lawns. Mr. Raithby (who also assisted with arrangements) and Mr. Hooper met the party at Newark Parish Church and although plans to ring for a wedding had been postponed it was decided to go ahead with a prearranged touch of Grandsire Caters, conducted by Charles Hobson, which proved to be some of the best striking of the day.
    For the afternoon ringing the two light sixes at Coddington and Barnby-in-the-Wi:lows were rung at the same time, the coach and cars ferrying members of the party between the towers. The sign at the local hostelry in Barnby, The Willows, also included the notice " If your wife drives you to drink get it here.
    An excellent meal was fully enjoyed at the Newcastle Arms, Tuxford. but the consumption of tea by the young Hessle contingent was affected to some extent by the lack of competition from their leader, the Rev. Fred Ross, who was unable to be away from his parochial duties. At this tower ringing continued until about $7.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and all seemed very pleased with the variety of bells rung during the day.

    Community song shects were available for the return journey but the singing tended to lack the "gusto" normally provided at social functions by Ronald Ducker and David Johnson and the piano accompaniment of Keith Goldthorpe. The duties of Ringing Master were shared by Graham Smith, Ian Booth. Charles Hobson, Howard Palmer, Mr. Kirk and David Johnson.

    ## WILLINGDON, SUSSEK

    Willingdon. Sussex, ringers had their fourth annual outing on May 7th, starting at 8 a.m. Surprise was expressed to find Bodiam ropes padlocked to the well. A visit to the captain's house found that he had just returned from an all-night fishing expedition. Cambridge Minor was rung at Pluckley, and a broken stay at Lenham limited ringing to Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire.

    After a pienic lunch we were met by the Kent veteran. Mr. W. Gosling, at Boxley and allowed to climb to the top of the tower and enjoy the very fine view. At Meopham the fields gave way to hops and apple orchards and the tower showed signs of a vast programme of repair work, parts of the walls gramme of repair work, parts of by concrete beams. With Mr. R. L. Sills' help a fine course of Cambridge Major was brought round at Wrotham, the highlight of the day.

    The last tower was Mereworth. The evening meal at the Castle Hotel. Tonbridge, concluded a very successful day. Our grateful thanks are due to incumbents and tower captains.

    The 16 th annual outing of the ringers of St. Giles', Totterrhoc, Beds, took place on May 14th, when a visit was made to the New Forest.

    So popular has this event become that for several years it has been necessary to engage two large coaches, and nearly 80 people were aboard when the two luxurious monsters took the road promptly at $7 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and proceeded through beautiful Buckinghamshire and Berkshire to Hampshire, where we found and Berkshire to Hampshire, where we found the New Forest looking unusually fresh and lovely.

    Ringing took place at Romsey Abbey, Ringwood, Lymington, Brockenhurst and Alres ford, varying from rounds to London Surprise, and a high standard of ringing was maintained throughout the day.

    Jack Scott, who has organised the Totternhoe outing from its inception, has a flair for finding interesting and beautiful churches, with good bells, and beautiful scenery, and this year he excelled himself! It would be invidious to select any ring of bells among those we so enjoyed on this happy day for special mention-all were excellent.

    For those who care to look around Eng land's beautiful churches (and that includes us all. hope), this trin provided a rare feast, from the great old Abbey at Romsey to the exquisite blend of two distinct periods at Lymington: hut most striking of all. perhaps. was the little Church of St. Nicholas. Brockenlourst, which stands among the leafv glades of the New. Forest. Here is no great cathedral, but in the peaceful atmosphere of this beautifully-tended country churchyard this tiny church. so serene in its gracious simplicity. seems to speak with the authority of all Creation, as it tells of man's devotion from its medirval beginnings to the present day.

    Sincere thanks to incumbents and to those who met us and made us welcome, to our drivers, to Jack Scott for his excellent arrangements, and finally to our fellow adverturers for their congenial company and their punctuality.
    A.E.R.

    ## HEADCORN, KENT

    Members and friends from the Church of SS. Peter and Paul left Headcorn at nine nclock on Whit Monday, their first call being at Charing, where some Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandsire were rung. The next tower was at Chilham, where unfortunately only seven of the eight' bells could be rung owing to the second being out of action. Efforts here were not worthy of comment, and rounds for beginners was notably more successful than attempts for Grandsire and Plain Bob. Owing to the heat of the day some of the ringers visited the "local" for some refreshments.
    The next ston was at Canterbury, where lunch was erjoyed by everyone at the Queen Elizabeth Restaurant.

    The party then made for St. Stephen's. Hackington, where some poor courses were hrought round. After a pleasant ride through the country, ringing was on the eight at Faversham and then at Tunstall. Here, with Faversham and of Mr. Terry Barton, the best ringing of the day took place

    Tea was enjoyed in the village hall at Tunstall. and thanks must be given to Miss Jean Vidler and helpers for providing such an excellent spread. The last tower of the day at which the visitors called was Lenham, where a good course of Plain Bob Major was rung.

    On the whole it was a very enjoyable day and it was wonderful to see Mr. Harry Baker, of Frittenden, who was accompanied by Mrs. Baker, in such good form. It was very unfortunate that Mr. George Grant (previously Headcorn captain for many years) could not come on the outing owing to illness.

    ## OSSETT, HORBURY AND ROTHWELL JOINT OUTING

    With a long journey before them, ringers and friends from Ossett, Horbury and Rothwell made an early start on May 14th for their annual outing, this year into the Lake District. Going by the A.1, a stop for morning coffee was made at Leeming and lunch was taken at the Royal Oak Hotel, Keswick.

    After lunch a few minutes' journey brought the ringers to St. Kentigern's Church, Crosthwaite, in the churchyard of which is the grave of Robert Southey. Parts of the present building date back to the 12th century, but the alterations and renovations on the outside are far from being a work of art. However, the bells ( 8 , tenor 14 cwt.) helped to remedy the feeling of dismay, and various well-struck touches were accomplished under the organisation of Miss Pat Lockwood.
    From Crosthwaite, via Thirlmere and Grasmere to Ambleside, where Mr. 1. North acted as Ringing Master and, through no fault of his. the standard of ringing was not up to the pitch of perfection which one likes to hear-a great pity, since the bells ( 8 , tenor 32 cwt.) have a fine tone when heard some distance from the tower, though the sound in the ringing chamber would belie this.
    Following tea at Ambleside, the next halt was at Hawkshead-a charming village (in spite of the drizzle with which we were greeted) of narrow streets and nooks and corners. with a delightful old church dominating the scene from the hillside. The ringers, this time in charge of Mr. R. Brown, produced some good touches of Major and Minor methods on a grand light cight (tenor 8 cwt .).
    For part of the day the party was joined hy Mr. T. Duffin (at one time a member of the Ossett tower) and his wife, who now live near Kendal.

    The journey home via Settle (where a halt was made for refreshments), Skipton and Leeds was completed by 11.30 . Thanks must Lo to Mr. 1. Slack for the careful planning which made the outing such a success. E.N.

    ## A WHIT MONDAY OUTING

    On a gloriously hot day in May, made especially for sun bathing not ringing, 14 ringers from eight different towers, including Cheltenham and Birmingham, assembled at Eddington, a picturesque village in Wiltshire. The rounds here were noticeably better than the Bob Minor, owing to the "go" of the bells. At the next three towers. at Corsley, Hemington and Norton St. Philip, an assortment of Cambridge, Spliced Minor and Kent was rung and at Wellow in excellent course of Camhridge.
    Following lunch came a mishap at Melksham, where ringing was held up by the loss of a stay. Reverse Canterbury Minor was the highlight of the next two towers, at Holt and Hilperton.
    The climax of the day was at Bradford-onAvon, where a course of Bob Minor was rung by special request, and at Trowbridge the most that could be attempted was Cambridge Major and Grandsire Cinques.
    Grateful thanks are acknowledged to the clergy, local ringers and the organiser.

    Various members expressed thanks for the ground-level belfry at the Society's meeting held at Batley on May 28th. It was most pleasant to ring a touch and to sit outside on such a sunny afternoon while others performed.

    After an interesting and very amusing afternoon an excellent tea was provided in the school, to which justice was done. A short meeting was held and before long members were back in the belfry enjoying a varietv of methods.
    Next meeting: East Ardsicy, June 25th.

    ## Chesterfield District

    Over 40 members and friends were present when the fourth annual striking competition of the Chesterfield District was held at Old Brampton on May 14th. Under the supervision of the District Ringing Master, Mr. C. J. Hughes, this year's entry of six teams, which included a mixed team of under 21 . year-olds, each rang their test piece of 240 changes or its equivalent before the time came to adjourn for tea.

    After a short business meeting the judge, Mr. D. R. Carlisle (Sandiacre), announced the results, which were as follows: 1 O!d Whittington " A " (Oxford T.B.), 252 points; 2 Old Whittington ${ }^{-1}$ B" (Oxford T.B.) 202: $\frac{3}{3}$ Old Brampton (Grandsire Double), 196; 4 Bolsover (Plain Bob). 190; 5 Staveley (Plain Bob), 146:6 Under-21 team (Plain Bob) 120.

    As no tower is allowed to hold the District Shield for more than two years in succession, the runners-up, Old Brampton, were accordingly declared this year's winning team, who together with Old Whittington will represent the District at the Association final a. Horsley. The shield was presented to the captain of the winning team, Mr. J. Arkwell, by Mr. Carlisle.

    Next meeting: Creswell (8), June 11th. Special methods: Double Oxford and Yorkshire.

    ## Springtime in Monmouthshire

    The delightful little village Church of St. Dingat, Dingestow, was chosen for the Monmouth Branch meeting on May 14th. Although only five fine bells hang in this tower. a company of some 50 ringers gathered to try them.
    Three of the bells appear to have been cast by John Palmer II, of Gloucester, in 1656. the third was cast by Evan Evans, of Chepstow, in 1701, and the treble is a Taylor bell added in 1914, when the others were rehung.
    The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Philip Morgan, and Mrs. C. S. Smith played the organ. Members of the Mothers' Union kindly prepared tea in the Village Hall and these ladies were sincerely thanked by Mr. Tom Stephens.

    Before the business began, members rememhered with prayer the late Mr. Philip Trew, of Lower Machen. New members elected were Miss Sally Guest (Usk) and Masters William and Richard Shore (Chepstow).

    The six bells at Cwmearvan were also available and during the evening attracted nine visitors from Herefordshire. The Rev. A. W. Sneyd warmly greeted all who gathered in his church, expressing to them his delight at having the bells ringing out over the scattered farmsteads, hamlets and woodlands of his parish.
    Beautifully green rural Monmouthshire, carpeted with bluebells, bright sunshine, warm welcomes and many old friends all combined to make a happy day, the kind of day that lingers long in the memory.

    ## REFLECTIONS ON BATH COUNCIL MEETING

    ## By P. A. CORBY

    TTHERE seems to be fairly general agreement that the meeting of the Central Council at Bath in 1966 was a better and more useful meeting than Northampton in 1965. At the same time, however, there is considerable scope for further improvement, particularly in the Council is to retain and increase the respect it ought to have ffom the Exercise.

    It was very interesting to talk to one or two members who were attending their first meeting. After many years one has become accustomed to feeling at the meeting that the proceedings are purely formal and that everything has been cut and dried at the Standing Committee. It was therefore something of a jolt to hear this opinion expressed by a new member. In fairness, of course, this is only an impression, since, as the debate on "The Ringing World" showed, the Council can summon up a mind of its own, and is by no means always inhibited by the recommendations of the Standing Committee. At the same time, however, one wonders if some variation of the procedure could be introduced that would help to remove this feeling of repression.

    I was astounded to hear the proposition from two speakers that it was not quite the thing that readers of "The Ringing World" had had the temerity to comment in the correspondence columns on the terms of a proposition that was to come before the Council. What an extraordinary attitude this was, and for good measure one speaker actually used the expression "sub judice". Surely the Council should be only too delighted that non-members are sufficiently interested in its proceedings to let us have the benefit of their knowledge and experience, particularly when the item complained of was a forlorn attempt to bring sense out of nonsense.
    One could not escape the feeling that the time has come for the Council to take a long cool look at the extent to which the social side is being allowed to obtrude on the time that ought to be devoted by the Council to its formal business. It is certainly an unforgettable experience to spend a glorious summer week-end in a beautiful and historic city like Bath, set in the matchless countryside of Somerset. with its endless supply of wonderful churches. and their splendid rings of bells. To anyone with any sense of history, the Roman Baths called for a visit, but this was surely something that visitors should have expected to find their own time for during some other part of the week-end. To interrupt the Council meeting at $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. when the afternoon session had hardly had time to warm up was an unwarranted intrusion on the serious business of the day, particularly as the civic reception was to be as early at $4.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. The Council surely needs to have available the whole time up to say $6 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. if justice is to be done to the business. In the event, the proceedings up to 4 o'clock were an undignified scramble, and the attempt to revive a proper atmosphere after tea was pitiful. Perhaps these were some of the factors which contributed to the failure to give an opportunity to the new secretary to say even a few brief words to the Council on his appointment. Obviously no discourtesy was intended to him, but he is a man to whom the Council will in due course have cause to be most grateful, as it has to his illustrious predecessor, and he should have been received more graciously at his first meeting in his new and onerous office.

    Perhaps the most disturbing feature of the Council's affairs from a long-term point of view is its willingness to continue year after year with "the mixture as before". At a time when there is a greater representation of able younger men than ever before. it is perplexing that the various committees should continue to fail to look round for fresh blood so that younger men are settled in office before the selection that nature itself imposes has time to take its own inexorable effect. It was left to the editor of "The Ringing World" to have to draw attention to the greater need to be prepared for emergencies that are likely to beset the elderly in this transient world. Obviously, the weekly production of "The Ringing World" is a more exacting requirement than the fulfilment of the duties of the Central Council committees, but the principle is the same.

    Because of the necessity at Bath to make the business fit in with an over-tight programme of events, there was no time for the Council to give proper consideration to the somewhat perplexing question of what should now be the day for the meeting of the Council in view of the new legislation altering the date of the spring bank holiday as it is now to be called. The Council seems, almost by default, to accept a continuance of the custom of holding the meeting on the Tuesday after the bank holiday, even though this is a working day for the vast majority of the population. Social customs and conventions have changed considerably since the early days of the Central Council, and the five-day week has been very widely adopted. In any case those people who are not free from work on Saturdays are no more likely to be free on Tuesdays.

    Is there not a case, therefore, for considering the possibility of holding the meeting on Saturday, with the Standing Committee on Friday night? If the meeting were still held at the bank holiday week-end, the ringing arrangements and social activities could be carried over to the Sunday and Monday, much as at present. There would be a double advantage, as I see it, in that the business would no longer come as something of an anti-climax at the end of a pleasant week-end, and those people who might be reluctant to take precious days from their annual leave from work would be able to come just for the meeting and could hurry home afterwards.

    It will no doubt be said that the clergy would be put to inconvenience, but they are surely now accustomed to living like the rest of us rather than as country squires and hunting gentry, and for once a year, if they really were unable to find someone to take Sunday duty for them, they would have to go home after the meeting on Saturday night. The rest of us have become used to long night journeys on the Tuesdays of Central Council meetings. and have been ready to start work bright and early on Wednesday morning - certainly early enough, had we been clergy to take an eight oclock service.
    It would be interesting to have the views of the readers of "The Ringing World", particularly non-members of the Council who might become members under such revised conditions. If there were likely to be sufficient support for such a change, I would be happy to move an appropriate proposition at next year's meeting in time for arrangements to be made accordingly for the meeting at Worcester the following year.

    ## 25 Attempts for New Record of Spliced Surprise Major

    THE idea of attempting to ring A. J. Pitman's seven to thirty Spliced Surprise Major plan was first conceived by Tony Peake following the successful completion of a peal in nine methods at Stratton St. Margaret on January 30th. 1965. It was eventually decided to meet every first and third Saturday of the month and we started with 12 names, some of the band participating in both attempts.
    The first convenient date turned out to be March 27th and, in the meantime, the peal plan was typed, photo-stat copies obtained (by courtesy of a well-known Bristol firm) and circulated amongst those concerned. New Gloucester and Cray, two methods which were to stay with us, right until the end of the series, were the additions to the standard nine and our first peal was thus scored at Olveston, Glos, in three hours and five minutes Our tenor man for the day expressed great satisfaction at hearing "That is all" in view of the " go" of his bell coupled with the long dodging of both new methods.

    A long gap of almost three months followed. due to previous commitments already made by several of the band, before we : gain met and rang what was considered to be our first real step on the ladder-a peal in 14 methods at Marshfield, Glos. All of the band were friends of the late Carolyn Vibert, and this deal was dedicated to her memory. Two weeks later we met for, and rang, 16 methods at Andover, Hants, beating the Association record we had set at Marshfield; one of our members now retired to build a garage!
    Holidays, incorporating Cyril Wratten's peal week, put our next attempt for 18 methods back to July 31st. However, despite the break, a good peal was rung at what was to become one of our favourite towers, Longney, Glos. The peal was duly celebrated in the usual way with moderate liquid refreshment and hot (?) pasties at the local inn.

    ## FIRST FAILURE

    After successfully ringing four peals straight off we encountered our first failure at Kingham, Oxfordshire, on August 7th, when attempting 20 methods. Perhaps we could put i: down to the heat on this beautiful Saturday afternoon or nervousness due to Jim Taylor's wife, Jenny, being outside the tower recording our efforts At least the four parts we had rung on this occasion stood us in good stead for our next meeting on September 4th at Aldermaston, Berks, where a good peal was scored: another of our members left us here, to take up writing books !
    At Bitton, Glos, on October 2nd, a not very good peal in 22 methods was rung, the bells being rather hard to strike when full concentration was required for the new methods Edinburgh and Ripon; but we made up for this by ringing our first 25 -method peal at Stratton St. Margaret 14 days later. This peal was especially noteworthy, it being Brian Bladon's 500th, Victor Griffin's 175th, and a welcome to Jim Taylor's twin daughters. horn two days prior to the peal. The first Saturday in November brought with it our second failure of the series when, after 2 hours and 50 minutes' ringing at SS. Philip and Jacob's, Bristol, the conductor decided that Watford was greatly improved with sevenths at the half-lead, the ringer of the third, bowing to the conductor's superior knowledge, gave way and promptly crossed over with him.

    ## BEST PEAL OF SERIES

    Undaunted, we redeemed ourselves the following day by returning to Longney and adding one more method to the plan. A good peal in 28 methods was rung despite the appearance of a local ringer who entered and remained in the ringing chamber for the whole of the last part and the noise of the central heating system being stoked up for Evensong. The gem of Somerset, Chewton Mendip. was our next venue on November $20 t h$, and this produced possibly our best peal of the series. In view of the fact that peals at Chewton are highly treasured it was decided to play safe and attempt the "standard 25." and with Brian on the tenor a brisk, confident peal was rung on these fine bells in 3 hours and 10 minutes.

    With the 25 -method peal rung during October our target for the year had already been reached. We were now used to handling the large number of methods and with the Critchley peals being mentioned as a follow-up the band was reviewed and settled on eight "inside" ringers. To finish the year an attempt for 30 methods was arranged at Stratton St. Margaret on December 18th but unfortunately Lis Bowden fell ill with tonsilitis and we therefore rang, at one day's notice. John Mayne's composition of 14 spliced.

    After wasting so much time we unanimously decided to give the 30 -method peal a miss and ring John Mayne's 32 -method arrangement. The band met on January lst at St. Mary-de-Crypt, Gloucester, fully expecting this step to be too great after such a long hreak. However, with everyone's homework fully done, a good peal was rung to start the New Year in the right vein, despite potential distraction when the Rector entered the ringing chamber during the third part to wish us all a happy New Year. Thirty-two was rung twice more, at Stratton St. Margaret on January 15th, to give all the band an opportunity to ring the peal, and at St. George's. Bristol, on University Dinner Day, enabling, John Mayne to conduct his own composition.

    ## ERIC CRITCHLEY'S PLAN

    By this time copies of Eric Critchley's plan, together with method notation, had been distributed (by the courtesy of the same Bristol firm) and at our first attempt 36 -methods was rung at Longney in 2 hours and 47 minutes on February 5th. This was the largest jump of the series incorporating the learning of 12 new methods (plus a fresh composition for our conductor) and everyone was well pleased with our effort on this dismal, wet afternoon. Following this peal yet another tenor king faded away with Edward "Teddy Bear" Venn requesting a smaller bell in future attempts. (Rumour has it that the 11 pull dodge and long places in Derwent proved to be too much for him!) To get used to the new plan a further peal of 36 was rung at Stratton St. Margaret on Fehruary 19th, breaking the Oxford Diocesan Guild record.

    With the influence of Longney tenor still on him Ted went down with 'flu for the 42method attempt at SS: Philip and Jacob's, Bristol. on March 5 th and consequently a peal in 12 methods was rung in its place. The third Saturday in March found us at St. Mark's. Swindon, where we rang 48 methods (the 42-method peal being by-passed) in 2 hours and 46 minutes. None of the band were very satisfied with this peal, the bells being rather hard to hear inside the fower and Peter Bridle experiencing a little difficulty with the tenor rope towards the end. The peal was duly celebrated with bags of Lesley Bladon's deliciously unforgettable malt loaf 1

    EXISTING HAND-WOUND

    ## RECORD EQUALLED

    Our next step was to equal the record set at Conisbrough in 1955 and, with the five new methods easily absorbed, a good peal in 53 methods was rung at Longney on April 2nd. Further celebrations took place afterwards in the shape of bacon, egg, beans and chips eight times at Joe Lyons', Gloucester.
    We were pleased to welcome John Mayne once again on April 23rd, when he conducted another peal in 53 methods for us at Kirtlington, Oxfordshire. Our first attempt lasted approximately two and a half leads before Mick Hobbs set his bell and then proceeded to ring the third from a "box"-regrettably John could not now claim that he had rung the 53 without previous practice! The following week we journeyed to Bourton-on-theWater, where an additional attempt had been fitted in. and rang Critchley's 32 -method peal.

    Our final meeting before the record attempt was at Bitton on May 7th. The bril liant sunshine and the hunt for the tower key before we started seemed to put the band in a somewhat humorous frame of mind and a rather light-hearted peal in 53 methods was rung in just under three hours. After quenching our thirst at the White Hart the band splt! up to wait, with eager anticipation for a fortnight to pass before meeting again at Stratton St. Margaret for what was hoped to be the fruition of our efforts-a peal in 64 methods.

    ## CONFIDENT AIR

    May 21 st dawned wet and dismal but a confident air was prevalent throughout the band when, at 2.15 p.m., we assembled outside the tower. John Mayne had kindly consented to act as limpire for the record attempt and, with composition in hand, he bade us good luck as we completed the trial rounds. No adjustments were necessary to any of the ropes and so with Peter Bridle's tape-recorder tucked away in a corner, "Go Malmesbury " was called at 2.30 p.m exactly.

    The first two leads seemed to lack our usual polish but within a very short space of time we had the 8 cwt. ring of bells nicely tapping round, the first part end coming up after 56 minutes. This part contained nine of the eleven new methods which we were all ringing for the first time and, with this mile stone passed, we tended to relax slightlv However, a sharp word from the conductor brought us to our toes and an excellent second part was completed at 4.18 p.m. in $52 \frac{1}{2}$ minutes. Smiles all round as Framley Was called at the beginning of the third and final part and it seemed no time at all before we heard Maulden being rung for the last time, the bells coming into rounds at 5.10 p.m.

    The conductor was congratulated by the whole band and the umpire on putting up such a fine performance, each call and change of method being in exactly the correct place. and the tape-recorder which had recorded the whole 2 hours and 40 minutes' ringing was switched off and the spool could then be added to the other four peals which had been recorded during the series.
    Our final analysis stands as follows: Twenty-five attempts (two failures). setting 16 records for three Associations: the average age of the oand being $27 \frac{1}{t}$ years. Our thanks are due to the many incumbents who made these attempts possible and especially the Rectors of Longney (the Rev. G. R. K Moule) and Stratton St Margaret (the Rev. R. G. Bryant). who gave us the use of their bells as often and whenever required. Also sincere thanks to the hushand. wives and girlfriends for putting up with our mutterings for the past 12 months.

    ## THE BAND

    Elisabeth A. G. Bowden (nee Grime) treble.-Age 30, commenced her ringing career at Breadsall, Derbyshire, during 1952, where she rang her first peal (tenor behind) in 1953. At present a full-time housewife. she was previously catering manageress for British Oil and Cake Mills, Avonmouth. She came to Bristol in 1958 and has now rung 222 peals from Doubles to Maximus, and rang "inside" to all the peals working up to the ecord (including 53 methods three times).

    CENTRAL COUNCLL PROCEDURE
    Dear Sir, - l wish to comment on the existing procedure at meetings of the Cientral Council.
    At Bath this year an enormous amount ot work was done by otticials of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association and of the Council to ensure trips and peals for all (including ron-Council members). social evenings, civic welcome and reception. There is no question but that it was well organised and much appreciated. This traditional organisation, however, left obviously inadequate time for the Council meeting itself. Discussion of the three motions was pushed into an extra onehour session after the civic reception and before the social evening. This is hardly likely to encourage Council members to put forward motions for serious and lengthy discussion.

    Fully 13 per cent of the meeting time available was wasted by two items:-

    1. The presentation of new members to the president. I could not see that this item served any useful purpose.
    2. Loss of members through death. Thirty minutes was spent on this Item. Surely it should be sufficient that members have the list of deceased members in their papers and that the president ask them to stand in memory. Obituaries of all the deceased should have been published previously in the Council's own official journal, "The Ringing World."

    In the president's own words ("Ringing World" leading article, June 3rd, 1966): "Over to you; and now we face the future."
    To face the future it is necessary frequently to reassess and reconsider present conditions. For example, take the date of the next Council meeting. To choose the date for next year's meeting at Nottingham to be the Tuesday following the spring bank holiday mainv because of the better availability of city rings on the Monday is to approach the question in an odd way. As many Council members have to take part of their annual leave to attend the meeting on Whit Tuesday, is it not time that the day of the meeting should be arranged for the convenience of the majority of members, with social and ringing events as additional items?

    I understand that Whit Tuesday is the traditional meeting day because it suited the large numbers. of clerical gentlemen who were members in the early years. Since the Monday following Whit Sunday seems unlikely to be a statutory holiday after 1968, and with the decline in the number of clerical members. the time appears opportune to consider changing the meeting day to a Saturday or to the actual Monday of the spring bank holiday.

    Has there to be a civic welcome and reception? Has dignity always to be maintained by holding the meeting in some astheticallv pleasing Georgian, Norman, Gothic, etc. hall with indifferent acoustics? Well equipped and spacious halls are not always available under civic or Church auspices, but in many cities there are suitable lecture/conference halls in universities, schools or hospitals and the ringing fraternity now contain a high proportion of people connected with these places who could investigate such possibilities.

    A wind of change of dissatisfaction was evident at Bath, among the Council members if not in the Standing Committee, when Messrs. Beresford and Pipe were added to "The Ringing World "Committee. Possibly at this

    ## STEDMAN CAIERS AND CINQUES

    Dear sur,-While working out some touches recentiy 1 came across a coursing order methoo of conducting Dieaman Laters and Cinques. It is so simpie that 1 am sure it must be tairly well known, but 1 nave never met it yet rernaps some leaders might say if there are otner pernaps simpler ways

    Consider the working dells (usually 2345). From the course end 21436 ) the working bells go up in the order 425. C.A.B transposition gives 542 tor a bob at 5 (in Caters), 524 tor a single. lo obtain the coursing order around the bob at 16, the middle bell of the three returming from the bob at 5 , the 4 th in this example, is replaced by the working bell not aftected by the bob at 5 namely the 3rd. The transposition is, of course, the same for the bob and single at 16 The middle bell is replaced as before to obtain the coursing order at the next 5 .
    I would be very interested to know what techniques are used by some of the wellknown Stedman conductors, and if they are at all similar to the above.-Yours faithfully,

    ROBERT E. J. DENNIS.

    ## ST. PETER'S, DORCHESTER, DORSET

    Dear Sir,-Recently there have been a r:umber of visiting ringers who are under the impression that practice night ringing at St. Peter's, Dorchester, is held on a Monday at 7.30 p.m. I know that it appears in "Dove's Guide," but this is wrong. Practice ringing is held on Tuesdays at $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. and has been for the last seven years.

    Ringing will not be held on Tuesday, June 28th but will be held on Wednesday, June 29th, at $6.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. for the patronal festival service.
    I might add that St. Peter's, Dorchester, is one of the yery few and far between towers that has a notice on the tower door showing the next time of ringing. If a few more towers had such a notice as this, visiting ringers would avoid further disappointment.Yours faithfully.

    ## FIXED DATES POLICY

    Dear Sir,-Since I took over the secretaryship of the Barnsley District Society in 1956, our joint meetings with ohe Southern District of the Yorkshire Association have always been on the second Saturday. This year the Yorkshire Association want the meeting on the third Saturday. At our shield contest on June 11th the question of acceptance was put to the vote. It was decided to stick to the rules. If the Barnsley District Society doesn't change the date to August 20th to join up with the Southern Yorkshire Association I shall not take the secretary's bag back to my home, as our meeting is at Royston on Saturday, July 9th! Love will find a way.-Yours etc.

    ## TUTURS' HANDBOOK

    Dear Sir,-To meet growing demands, the Council at its recent meeting approved the preparation of a new Council publication written specially for the use of tutors and instructors and emphasising the teaching aspects of bell ringing from the stage of bell control to the stage of elementary change ringing. (See Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee Report.)

    The material for this publication could conveniently be divided into two or more stages, such as teaching and perfecting bell control, teaching ropesight, teaching rhythm and striking, teaching elementary method ringing. It will then form a companion to the existing *'Beginners' Handbook.

    In order that as wide a range of ideas, experience and techniques may be included as is possible, I shall be grateful if all those who have a knowledge, interest or experience in this aspect of ringing will write to me, sending any information they consider likely to be useful.
    I shall be grateful, too, if Association officials will encourage known expert tutors in their area to contribute in this way.
    Possibly $1 t$ might be even more useful if such contributions were sent to the correspondence columns of "The Ringing World," which could act as a useful forum, stimulating thought, discussion and interest along these lines. I should then pick up the material via "The Ringing World." Those who prefer, however, could write direct to me. Naturally there will be a good deal of similarity in ideas and teaching methods, but no doubt many varied and successful techniques will also be brought to light.-Yours sincerely,

    ## THE LATE MR, W. H. WILSON

    Dear Sir,-The news of the death of Mr. W. H. Wilson, of Dublin, was sad indeed. He was the last of a wonderful trio, all devoted admirers of "Gabe" Lindoff, the other two being Tommy McMorran and Joe Atkinson, and they certainly knew how to entertain ringers from "across the water."

    A firm Loyalist (he had no time for the rechristening of Queenstown and referred to it as "Kob-Aitch"), he was also typically Jrish. When driving myself and another ringer across Dublin at a furious rate we shot over a cross-roads and an approaching car refused to give way, neither would Mr. Wilson. Though a crash seemed imminent, the cars pulled up an inch from each other. Down went windows and a real slanging match ensued. Eventually Mr. Wilson drove away and, turning to us, spluttered, "There's no courtesy on the roads these days!'
    On another occasion we had difficulty in finding accommodation because of the Irish Cup Final in Phonix Park. "Bill" instructed us to go back to a certain hotel, and if rooms were still not forthcoming to say "Mr. Wilson will be very annoyed." Feeling rather foolish we did so and lo! there was a room on the top floor but the management had felt that we would not like to be so high up! A man of charm and dignity, he had that impish touch which endeared him to us. Ycurs faithfully.

    ## 64 Spliced Surprise Major

    Peter Bridle, tenor.-Age 22. was educated at the Grammar School, Weston-super-Mare, and is now working as a physical chemist at the University of Bristol Research Station, Long Ashton. He started ringing in 1959 and rang his first peal in 1961 at Bristol Cathedrai. His peal total is at present about 175 , and this would most likely have been more if it had not been for a serious cycling accident in 1964, which resulted in a fortnight's unconsciousness and a fractured skull. Shortly after this he became interested in compositions, and is responsible for several well-known ones -mainly featuring other ringers.

    ## UMPIRE'S NOTE

    Dear Sir ,-As û̀mpire of the record peal of Spliced Surprise Major in 64 methods rung at Stratton St. Margaret on May 21st, I would like to offer my congratulations to the band, and especially the conductor, Mr. A. R. Peake. The peal was excellent and without incident, and I checked every call, every change of method and every lead-end throughout. The only restraint on this band will be the time necessary to obtain compositions in a greater number of methods.-Yours faithfully,

    JOHN R. MAYNE.

    ## SELBY AND DISTRICT OUTING

    Whit Monday was again chosen for our outing, ringing starting on the pleasant wellgoing octave at Kildwick. Due to traffic conditions Skipton was reached 25 minutes late and St. Clement's Major was the best ringing here. After lunch came the heavy six at Ben tham, which were difficult to hear. At Kirkby Lonsdale, in its fine setting, the raise and cease were the best ringing.

    Finally came Sedbergh and, before ringing, tea was taken at the Bull Hotel. A good touch of Stedman was rung after a good raise and some members of the school society joined in the touches. Special thanks to Les Woodhead for so ably arranging the tour, and also to tower captains and incumbents
    D. J. S.

    ## SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Mansfield District

    The Mansfield District eliminating contest for the Crawford Cup was held at Cuckney on May 28th. The three teams involyed finished comfortably in time for the service, which was taken by the Vicar, the Rev. R. H. Hack.

    An excellent tea had been prepared by the ladies of the parish, and afterwards came the judges' report presented in an exceedingly competent manner by Mr. P. R. Humphrey who had been assisted by Mr. S. Humphrey. The result was: 1 Warsop " B " team. $129 \frac{1}{\mathrm{k}}$ faults: 2 Warsop " $A$ " team, 1324: 3 Greasley, $282 \frac{2}{8}$. The methods rung were Plain Bob Minor, Oxford T.B. Minor and Grandsire Doubles respectively.

    Next meetings: Evening practice, Crich (Derbys), June 18th; District outing, Lincolnshire, July 2nd: Sutton, with Mansfield Woodhouse, July 23 rd.

    ## THE "PIKESTAFF

    EIGHT ringers from the Berkshire-Hamp shire border area spent the Whitsun weekend camping and ringing peals near Yeovil On the Friday six of the eight, calling themselves "The Pikestaff," met at Stourton, Wilts, for a peal before going on to the camping site. The church is in a natural beauty spot and many tourists watched the ringers at work in the ground-floor belfry. A good peal in four Minor methods was rung and the camp was pitched that night at Sparkford Somerset.

    The following morning at South Cadbury a peal of Stedman Doubles was attempted. Due to a mass attack of mental telepathy in the fourth extent, all five ringers were convinced that they were ringing their "last whole turn " and so the peal came to an abrupt conclusion. As compensation a peal of Grandsire was started but a miscall produced a false extent. The band left the tower and returned with the local tower captain to his home for a few pints of Somerset cider. While there our host and his wife rang a course of Grandsire Doubles on handbells. This produced the best striking of the whole week-end!
    Saturday lunchtime saw the arrival of the final member of the group and without delay a peal was started at Preston Plucknett. A good peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung on these loud-sounding bells, although a local inhabitant (a "qualified musician") thought otherwise and suggested that $2^{\frac{3}{2}}$ hours was an excessive time for bells to be rung. The day was successfully concluded with a well-struck peal of Kennington Bob Doubles at Stoke-sub-Hambdon. After anly 20 minutes the treble ringer found that all the tucks in the tail-end of his rope had come out. This left him with 12 feet of single rope below the sally. Ringing with seven coils in his left hand remedied the situation and $2 \frac{1}{2}$ hours later won him the congratulations of the rest of the band His only comment was It's a good job it's my left hand and won t affect my chances of holding a pint!"
    With three peals under their belts the Pikestaft " found service ringing at Babcary on Whit Sunday morning a pleasant change. The Holy Communion service over. the bells were put to good use by ringing a tine peal of 12 Doubles methods, although the conductor is convinced that the rest of the band only knew 10 methods. He bases this assumption on the amount of conducting found necessary in the extents of St. Nicholas and Winchendon Place! On Whit Sunday afternoon the happy band started for a peal of Kent and Oxford on the good bells at Ash-inMartock. However, the entrance of a seventin person into the ringing chamber during the second extent caused a lapse of concentration and the peal was lost Following a spell of sunbathing a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung. After the service the camMers returned to Sparkford to spend their last night in the open

    ## PEAL EXCURSION

    The bells at West Lydford on Whit Monday morning were, in our estimation, the best of the tour. Unfortunately the peal there was lost at an early stage. This was the only disappointment of the week-end, as the peal would have been the first in the method for two ringers and the first as conductor. The week-end ended on a note of triumph in the afternoon with a fine peal of Bob Minor at Haselbury Plucknett.
    The week-end was a great success, with five peals and a quarter scored. The " Pikestaff" consisted of Christine Hassell, Jillian Pike. Mike Holbrook, Mike Smith, Mike Church, Cliff Garlick, David Wilcox and Roger Pike.

    ## S. and W. District

    On June 4th the six-bell towers at Stanwell and Bedfont were the venue of the S. and W. District's first Saturday meeting since March. $I$ : is indeed fortunate that in both towers the bells are loud in the ringing chamber; one can at least continue to hear them as aircraft take off from adjacent London Airport.

    At the business meeting it was decided to make all newly-elected resident members eligible for a gift copy of the Central Council's "Beginners" Handbook." Two new mem-bers-T. M. Burby and T. J. White-from St. Mary's, Twickenham, were elected. It was agreed that the present arrangements for evening practices were working out well, and the idea of additional practices devoted purely to Surprise ringing was suggested and enthusiastically received. The secretary agreed to try to find a tower suitable for the purpose.

    The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the Vicars of Stanwell and Bedfont, and to the Bedfont ringers for the really excellent tea they provided

    ## OUR BUSINESS HAS BEEN RECENTLY RECONSTRUCTED AND OUR RESOURCES STRENGTHENED

    The Accumulated Experience of four Generations is behind all our Clocks

    They're ringing the bells at Kentisbeare,
    On a Saturday afternoon;
    And over the fields,
    Delightful to hear,
    Rising and falling,
    Now distant, now near,
    Tinkling and tumbling,
    And trembling clear,
    Melting, mingling,
    Merging in air,
    Floating and fairy-like, falls on the ear
    The music of bells for a boon.

    And I am digging my garden-ground,
    On a Saturday afternoon;
    I stop and straighten
    My back at the sound,
    And light up my pipe
    And have a look round;

    And my great-great-grandfather l'll be bound
    When he was a-digging
    This same old ground,
    Would have stopped and stretched his back at the sound
    Of Kentisbear's rhythmical rune.
    And maybe my grandson, in his prime,
    On a Saturday afternoon,
    While digging this plot,
    Or putting on lime.
    Trimming or weeding.
    (Or just wasting time),
    Will suddenly hear
    The same silvery chime
    Come up round the hillside,
    Seeming to climb;
    And likely he'll start to fashion a rhyme
    From Kentisbeare's magical tune.

    ## ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

    The second annual striking competition in the Ely District was held at Willingham (6) on June 4th. The winning team was Histon, ringing Plain Bob Minor ( 59 faults), with last year's winners, Fordham, coming second (Kent Treble Bob, 70 faults). The other teams were Ely (Plain Bob Minor, 85 faults), Chatteris (Plain Bob Minor, 105 faults), and Wilburton (Plain Bob Doubles, 115 faults).
    This year the judges were Mr, W. W. Cousins (Terrington St. John) and the general secretary of the Ely Association, Mr. Harold S. Peacock. Mr. Cousins, who was also one of the judges in the previous competition, remarked that the standard of ringing was higher this year.

    ## LADIES' GUILD  South Wales District

    The presence of a party of boys from Cowbridge Grammar School with Mr. Iolo Davies added to the success of the South Wales District spring meeting at Whitchurch, Cardiff, on May 21 st. Everyone was welcomed and "looked after" by the tower captain, Mr. William Dare.
    The Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Winton) took the service, and Miss Gwen Bidgood, a local ringer, read the lesson Tea was kindly arranged by Mrs. Bidgood. Three new members were elected-the Misses Marilyn Evans and Gillian Armstrong (St. Mary's, Swansea) and Christine Hopkins (Whitchurch). Congratulations on her recent marriage were extended to Mrs. Llewellyn (nce Penny Welch).

    ## ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

    TH
    E annual general meeting of the St. David's Diocesan Guild was held in glorious weather at the Cathedral on June 11th, when approximately 46 members were present representing St. David's, Tenby, Pembroke, St. Florence, Cardigan, Llanbadarn Fawr, Carmarthen, Llanelli, Llandeilo and Burry Port.
    The bells were rung from 2.30 to 4 p.m., followed by the meeting in the Lady Chapel presided over by the Dean of St. David's.
    After the opening prayer we stood in silence remembering Mr. B. H. Rees of Burry Port, hon. auditor since 1945 until his death earlier this year, and Mrs. Mary Buckland, Cathedral librarian, former bellringer and tower secretary at St. David's.
    The Master, the Rev. Russen Thomas, presenting his report, welcomed all present and paid tribute to the work of the late Mr. Rees, and Mrs. Buckland. He emphasised the importance of continually striving to improve one's standard of ringing and said that all work for God must be of the highest quality and that the leaders and older members of towers should encourage the young people to be punctual and frequent in their attendances by setting them a good example.
    The Ringing Master, Mr. P. C. Rogers, reported that six peals and 27 quarters had been rung during the past year, and he hoped that the increase in peal ringing activities would continue. Attendance at monthly practices had been good, but every effort must be made to improve striking. The bells of the Cathedral were heard for a few moments, ringing rounds, prior to the St. David's Day service, which was televised.
    The secretary, Mr. A. C. Warburton, commended the booklet which has been compiled to commemorate the 21st anniversary of the Guild. It may be obtained at any tower in the diocese, priced at 2 s . 6d., and contains a short history of the Guild's activities, etc.
    The treasurer, Mr. A. F. Walters, reported that the finances were stable, although subscriptions were slow to come in, about three towers being still outstanding Major Pateman, Central Council representative, regretted that he had been unable to attend the Central Council meeting and proffered his resignation.
    The officers of the Guild were all re-elected for a further term of office, and Mrs. Rogers was elected Press secretary in place of Mr. M. E. Lewis, who was not seeking re-election. Certificates were then presented to Llanelli, St. Florence and Tenby, who were first. second and third respectively in the annual competition.
    After a very heated discussion, a notice of motion was narrowly accepted. by 13 votes to 12 , to amend the competition test piece to 40 rounds. stand. 120 changes, stand, 40 rounds, stand. Another notice of motion amending the number of "outsiders" which a team may pick to complete its band from two to one only was accepted.
    An excellent tea was provided in the College Hall. after which members attended Cathedral Evensong.
    We then returned to the campanile to conclude an enjoyable day by ringing until 9 p.m.

    ## LEICESTER GUILD STRIKING COMPETITION

    Earl Shilton have won the Leicester Guild striking competition, held at Oadby on May 14th. Five teams entered. They rang Grandsire Doubles and had $47 \frac{7}{3}$ faults.
    Other placings were: St. John-the-Divine, Leicester (Stedman Doubles) $50{ }_{3}^{2}$ faults: $\begin{array}{lll}\text { Leicester (Stedman Doubles) } \\ \text { Aylestone (Stedman Doubles) } & 53 \text {; Oadby }\end{array}$ (Plain Bob Doubles) 86 ${ }^{\frac{3}{3}}$; South Wigston (Grandsire Doubles) 105.
    The judges were Messrs. T. C. Belton. G. M. Brewin, and J. M. Jelley. Mr. Belton. when summing up. said that although the faults were high this should not discourage teams. Special mention was made of Oadby, the band having started from scratch during the last two years.

    ## BELFRY GOSSIP

    Mr. Frederick Sharpe informs, us that his book "The Bells of Radnorshire" is now sold out.
    The new hon. general secretary of the Leicester Diocesan Guild is Mr. A. James Poynor in succession to Mr. Brian Warwick.
    The peal attempt at Exeter Cathedral on June 4 th was stopped after $2 \frac{1}{3}$ hours when Mr. Robert B. Smith realised that he would not be able to put the tenor bell in its correct position if ringing continued.
    Mr. Philip Walker has represented the Oxford Diocesan Guild on the Central Council for some years and should not have been recorded on page 371 at a new member. Mr. W. Butler was a new member with Messrs. N. J. Diserens and F. C. Price.

    Martin Turner (aged 13), who rang the treble to the quarter peal of Grandsire Triples at Kidlington on June 8 th is a grandson of W. F. Judge and was taught to handle a bell by Wilf Godwin, of Wolvercote, where he rings for Sunday service.
    Mr. R. N. Marlow, who conducted a peal of Superlative at Curdridge. Hants, on June Ith. writes that great credit is due to Miss Catharine Maundrell on the way she rang in the peal. It was almost a tripless performance and she had never struck a blow in the method before.
    Manaccan Parish Church bells, now at Loughborough. are to be rededicated on July 2nd by the Archdeacon of Cornwall. According to "The West Briton" Darishioners are summoned to worship by a bell suspended on a fig tree, which grows out of the church wall, rung by 11-year-old David Blampied.

    MISS MONICA COLLINS SPENDS PART OF HONEYMOON AT RINGING FESTIVAL
    At least four congratulatory peals were rung for the wedding of Miss Monica Collins, formerly of Guildford but for the last seven years an Australian resident doing most of her ringing at Melbourne and Adelaide. The ceremony on June 4th was at St. Matthew's Church. Broadford. The bridegroom, Mr. John Martin, lived in Horsell, Surrey, before going to Australia. He is a radio and television technician and shares the bride's keenress for ringing.
    The Rev. J. R. J. Price, who was a friend of the Collins family when a curate at St. Nicolas' Church, Guildford, and is now Rector of Broadford, officiated at the service. The bride was given away by Mr. John Roper, Ringing Master at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, and wore a short frock of white wool lace, with shoulder-length veil and carried a spray of white orchids. Miss Gayle Eltringham was bridesmaid and Mr. Bill Robertson best man.
    Guests at the wedding included many ringing friends from St. Paul's and St. Patrick's Cathedrals, Melbourne, Bendigo. Ballarat and Adelaide, South Australia. Mr. John Roper was toastmaster. During their honeymoon the bride and bridegroom attended the annual ringing festival of the Australia and New Zealand Association of Bellringers, which was held in Sydney during the Queen's birtnday week-end.
    They are making their home at 7. Graham Street, Quarry Hill, Bendigo, Victoria, and the bride will resume her former duties with the Victorian Social Welfare Department. For the last two years she was stationed at Adelaide working as a welfare officer for the Northern Territory Welfare Branch.

    ## APPOINTED A READER

    The annual festival and admission service of the Readers Board for the Diocese of Derby was held in th: Cathedral Church on Mav 21 st . Among those newly appointed to the office of reader was Mr. Frnest Paulson, B.Sc., whe is a ringer at St. Helen's Church, Darley Dale. where his father, Mr. George H. Paulson, is tower captain.

    As a token of their good wishes the ringers at St. Helen's have presented Mr. Paulson with the blue scarf which is the badge of office of a reader.
    An attempt for a complimentary peal at St. Helen's was ill-fated. The first attempt had to be cancelled owing to the sudden illness of two of the band, and a second attempt was made through a miscall after more than an hour's good ringing.

    ## WENTWORTH RINGFRS "OUT AND

    The ringers of Holy Trinity. Wentworth, near Rotherham. have been visiting other towers instead of practising at home which is partly due to two peal attempt failures in a week. Two " silent" towers were chosen-Hoylandswaine (6) and Wortley (8)-and on both occasions the Vicar met the party and expressed delight at hearing the bells rung again.
    The tower was well represented at the Yorkshire Council's festival at Beverley and. after enjoying a first-class festival tea, they had their own "private" festival tour. visiting Sutton-on-Hull (6), Swine (4, 18 cwt .) and Rise ( 5,9 cwt.).

    ## BRIMPSFIELD, GLOS.

    The quarter peal at Brimpsfield, Glos, on May 21st brings to notice at ring of four which may well be of interest to "Ringing World" readers. writes Miss E. M. Bliss. Apart from the fact that the ropes were rather too long, we found that the bells went quite we!l and it seems that, although they have not attracted visiting ringers, they have been rung until recently by a local band.
    The Rev. H. T. Ellacombe in his" Church Bells of Gloucestershire" lists the bells as follows :

    2: IB H. W. & I G* ANO DOMINI 1657.
    3: IHESUS FILIUS EEI MISERERE MEI * Inverted letter.

    Robert Norton's stamps and letters, with his cracked M .
    In his paper "The Church Bells of Gloucestershire" (The Transactions of the Bristol and Glousestershire Archæological Society, Vol. XVIII), H. B. Walters states that the first must undoubtediy be of Elizabethan date and that T. G. was probably working at the time of the Reformation,
    c. $1520-1550$, $n$, c. 1520-1550. In my copy of the paper a marginal note in the author's handwriting suggests that T. G. is probably Thomas Jefferys of SS. Philio and Jacob, Bristol, whose will is dated 1549 .
    Walters also states that Robert Norton (Exeter, c. 1420-1460), or another founder working with him, possessed a series of capitals, which are frequently found in Devon and Somerset, and occur in Gloucestershire on the Brimpsfield and Horton tenors. marginal note here says that Brimpsfield tenor is by the same founder as Dorchester, Oxon, seventh. The present ring has a modern treble dated 1910.

    ## HONOLR FOR CLAVERLEY TOWER CAPTAIN

    Included in the list of the Queen's birthday honours was the name of Mr. Ernest Drew, who is awarded the British Empire Medal for his services to the Post Office in Claverley since 1927 . Mr. Drew, who is well known in West Midland ringing circles, is the popular and highly respected captain of the Claverley band. Under his leadership the bells at Claverley have only failed to ring for one morning service during the last 20 years.

    ## ST. LEONARD'S, STREATHAM

    Streatham ringers, accompanied by friends from Wimbledon. Worcestershire and Nottingham and later, joined by David Hughes and party from Liss had a good outing on June 4th. Two Guildford towers were first visited-Merrow and the Cathedral, where Cambridge Royal proved a little too ambitious but Grandsire and Stedman Caters went well. The fine octave at Petworth and lunch at Midhurst preceded tackling Chichester Cathedral bells, where the party were unable to ring anything impressive. At Bosham the ringers enjoyed entertaining most of the visitors attending the flower festival.
    Double Norwich and Yorkshire went well after tea at Petersfield. Alresford bells were also enioved. The best ringing was, however, reserved for the last, at New Alresford, where near-perfect Superlative and Bristol rounded off a good programme.
    Sincere thanks are offered to incumbents and those who met the party.

    ## PEALS TO TAKE BACK TO SYDNEY

    The peal of Quedgeley Surprise Major rung at Olveston, Glos, on June 6th was especially arranged for Mrs. Margaret Goodyer, who is on holiday in England from Sydney. Australia. This was only her second tower-bell peal but she rang throughout like one with many more peals to her credit. Before she returns to Australia next month she is aiming to ring a peal of Yorkshire (where she was born). Quedgeley (where her parents live) and Turramurra (where she rings in Sydney). She has only Turramurra to go now. By a coincidence. Olveston is the only tower in Britain where her husband rang a peal when he was here briefly in 1956. Finally Margaret was pleased to ring a peal with the Bristol ringers, as she learned to ring in Bristol-and there is no roistaking the class, either!

    ## A RAINHAM WEDDING

    Miss Cynthia Elizabeth Naylor the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Naylor, of the well-known Kent ringing family and niece of Mr. and Mrs. E, Naylor, of Bath. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barton. of Borden, and Mr. and Mrs $\dot{F}$ J Cheal, of Rainham, was married on Nay 28th at St. Margaret's Church, Rainham. to Mr. Charles Macgregor, of Scotland. There was appropriate ringing by the local band before and after the service, and a quarter peal by friends, also on the bells.

    ## SOLIHULL PRESENTATION

    Before ringing the quarter peal at Solihull on June 5 th the ringers presented Wilfrid G . Wilson's book, "Change Ringing," to Mr. Vincent W. Rigg in recognition of his long and devoted service to that tower as bellringer and as tower secretary until he left Solihull last October on retirement from business and moved to Moreton-in-the-Marsh.

    ## ANOTHER SUCCESS STORY

    To mark the 102nd birthday of Mrs. Elizabeth Fulcher, the Barkingside, Essex, band recently rang a quarter peal of Bob Doubles. This in itself was a good achievement, for just over a year ago the local band only consisted of five members and three of these could only ring rounds, but as a result of a recruiting drive seven new members from the Youth Club were taught to handle a bell, and thanks to the help of three young stalwarts from Walthamstow, who helped out on Tuesday practices, were also taught change ringing, with the result that only one "outsider" had to stand in this latest effort.
    The band are very keen and are moving on to Triples and Major, and the next step hoped for is a quarter peal with an entirely local band.

    ## LINCOLNSHIRE FLORAL FESTIVALS

    The ringers at St. Mary's, Stow, would welcome any visiting bands at the Corringham Rural Deanery Festival of Flowers on July $15 \mathrm{th}, 16 \mathrm{th}$ and 17 th , and also at St. Martin's, Blyton (five miles from Gainsborough) on June 25th and 26th The theme of the floral arrangements at Blyton depicts a Lincolnshire village and famous Lincolnshire figures-St. Hugh and the swan, the poet Tennyson and Katharine Swynford. Visiting teams should write to Mr. A. L. Denton, Stow Road, Stur-ton-by-Stow, Lincoln.

    ## BENEVOLENCE, AND OTHERWISE

    THE PLEA by Mr. D. E. R. Knights in "The Ringing World" of April 29th and the succeeding letters from Mr. E. A. Barnett and Miss Scott serve to remind us that from time to time serious thought is given to the possibility of co-operative assistance in the matters of tower maintenance and bell restoration, to be administered by the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers. As Mr. Barnett points out, this idea is by no means new, nor is it the only one that the Council has been asked to consider. In the very early days of the Council's existence there came, from time to time, suggestions for mutual aid for ringers, and the tentative explorations and gropings after some line of approach to a controlled Benevolent Fund were always brought to a standstill by the apparently insurmountable difficulties of administration. It was ordained that Mr. William Willson of Leicester should, just 60 years ago, raise the subject so earnestly, so vehemently, and so offensively, that not for many years did anyone give more attention to the matter.

    In "The Bell News" of March 31st, 1906, Mr. Willson outlined a scheme for a Benevolent Fund to assist ringers out of work or in distress. It depended, in essence, on the assumption that twenty thousand ringers would consent to subscribe one penny per week, bringing in the sum of $£ 83$ to be available for distribution. The sum today seems ludicrous, but at the beginning of the century it was, of course, a substantial amount. The difficulties were acknowledged and fairly met by Mr. Willson, and the plan, as it stood, seemed worthy of examination.

    But alas! Mr Willson had destroyed his plan even as he launched it: for he prefaced his exposition with a violent attack on the Council as a body and on individuals by implication too strong to be ignored. His charge was that the ringers' parliament was spending too much of its time on useless theoretical polemics, and was degenerating into a group of faddists. "What profit is it." he writes, "whether bob leads start in the middle of nothing or end nowhere?"; or thus, "What gain is there to anyone or anything whether 'London' is marvellous or surprising?"; and so to this remarkable but far from conciliatory query: "Who but a fool would waste his time o'er the pedantic bores who make the annual meeting of the C.C. a dumping ground for their theoretical fads, and an exhaust valve for their superfluous oratory?" Then after presenting some examples of what he considered useless topics for argument he summed up thus: "This is the amalgamated wisdom of a handful of dogmatic cranks who, in the words of a certain statesman 'intoxicated with the exuberance of their own verbosity', and their self-importance, have the colossal impudence-only equalled by their superlative conceitto dictate to the ringers of England what they shall or shall not ring!"
    Now allowing for all things-the enthusiasm Mr. Willson had for his cause, the well-known radical streak in his nature, the recklessness of his methods on occasions, and the accepted wearisomeness of some of the Council debates -it must be agreed that this language was not suited to the introduction of a serious motion nor a right and proper form in which to refer to the work of a number of educated and hard-working investigators. The essay brought forth (as was expected) a number of letters. Canon Papillon, Master of the Essex Association, in a quiet and measured letter, sympathised with the scheme but deplored the lack of civility in the method of approach. R. A. Daniell expressed astonishment that "a composition so unreasonable and illogical should appear above the signature of a person of his ability." And the sturdy John Jaggar asked for an apology to the whole Council. The hardest hit appeared to be Mr. J. A. Trollope, leader of the Methods Committee, whose lengthy communication was devoted to a defence of the work of himself and his colleagues and to a counter-attack on Mr. Willson's knowledge and ability. The main contest in the weeks that followed was between Mr. Willson and Mr. Trollape, and the exchanges were far from courteous. With contributions from other members of the Exercise, such as J. F. Penning, W. Keeble and C. D. Potter, the correspondence continued vigorously for some weeks. conveying in the main surprise and regret at the quality of the language used in argument and counter-argument. It was wel! suited to Mr. Willson's fighting nature, and doubtless he enjoyed it to the full. But the cause he snught to promote was lost to sight, and by the middle of June the matter ended.
    Cui bono? Why did this remarkably able Leicester gentleman launch such an amazing and unprovoked attack, he, who at that very time was writing so tender and heartfelt an appreciation of the deceased William Wakley? No one seemed to be any the better off for all the bitterness and ill-feeling aroused by the thrusts and counter-thrusts, and the only benefit was to "The Bell News", the circulation of which rose suddenly during this period of unrest. Have we here a clue to Mr. Willson's true motive?

    ## By TREVOR A. BEVIS

    Should the tenor bell and parish church clock strike together, a death will occur in the Minster precincts. (Ancient Peterborough tradition.)

    E AST ANGLIA has four principal churches, Peterborough, Ely, Norwich and Bury St. Edmunds. Of these, one cathedral-actually a large church elevated to that position in recent years-Bury St. Edmunds, possesses a pealable ring of bells. From the centre of Norwich rises a slender spire crowning a Norman central tower, much reproduced by advertising agencies. The sturdy, unusual Norman tower at Bury St. Edmunds portrays a fraction of the magnificence attributed to the most influential abbey of mediaval England, at which was initiated the beginnings of Magna Carta. Ely probably cherishes the finest and most unusual towers, delicately rising above the Fens, adding lustre to a famous church, likened to a ship in fult stil on a golden sea.
    Peterborough's spirelets seem lost amid a symmetrical mixture of arches and gables, said to be the finest of their kind. Here on the edge of Fenland stands one of Europe's grandest Norman/Early English monuments, having its roots in the seventh century, within the meadow homestead anciently called Medehampstede. The cathedral owes its practically untouched appearance to Henry VIII. Despite callous events at the Dissolution, the King thought so much of Peterborough Minster that he made it a cathedral with a diocese. removing it from the gentle administration of John Chandler, the last abbot, "a man of peace who loved to sleep in a whole skin, and who desired to die in his nest."

    The cathedral has known troublesome times. It was attacked by Danes, desecrated by that famous Fenland warrior, Hereward the Wake, and a generation later was burned to the ground. In 1117 John of Sais began the great edifice we now see, and it continued in its capacity as an abbey until the middle of the 16 th century. Salient feature is the West Front. imparting to the beholder a sense of something both rare and exquisite. For seven centuries this remarkable frontage has presented a medley of song and poem in stone to those who enter beneath the massive and dignified portals.

    ## HENRY PENN

    Immediately to the rear of the left gabled archwav rises a linna-led tower containing five bells-all that is l.ft of a noble ring of ten. The surviving bells were cast in 1709 by Henry Penn, Peterborough's one and only bellfounder of note, who is throught to have had his premises on the east side of Bridge Street, adjacent to the River Nene. Penn had an unfortunate end. He suffered a seizure while mounting his horse at St . Ives, following his acquittal from the Assizes in connection with alleged inferior workmanship in the eight bells he had cast for that town. It has been recorded that Penn's death "was no loss; he was a vile man and gave trouble wheresoever he was concerned." Nevertheless he was generally a good founder.

    ## The bells are inscribed:

    (1) TE DECET HYMNVS RICH RYNOLDS LL.D. PRAEB. HENRY PENN FVSORE. 1709 (Dia. 39 ins., approx. 11 cwt.) (2) PSALLAM DEO MEO QUAMDIV SVM BALL PRAEB . 1709 (Dia. 42 ins., approx $12 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.)
    (3) MAGNIFICATE DOMINVM MECVM JOHN EVANS PRAEB. HENRY PENN FVSORE 1709 (Dia 45 ins., approx. $15 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.)
    (4) (This bell was recast in 1831.) A long list of names is inscribed, including that of Herbert Marsh, then Bishop of Peterborough. (Dia. 48 ins. approx. 19 cwt .)
    (5) PACEM TE POSCIMVS OMNES CONCORDIE RES PARVAE CRESCVNT 1709 RICHD. CVMBERLAND EPO (Dia. 563 ins., between 30 and 36 cwt .) (D)

    ## INTERDICT AND BELLS

    First mention of bells at the monastery was recorded in the early 13th century. Pope Gregory IX (1227-1241) granted bells to the monks of Peterborough. These were rung, in addition to usual offices, for anniversaries and obituaries of abbots. It is interesting to note that "whenever the country should be placed under an interdict the monks of Peterborough might sing their service to themselves within the church in a low voice, but with doors shut and without the ringing of a bell."
    The bells were augmented in 1250, when Johannes Caleto- 30 th ahbot-gave one to the Church, inscribed, JON DE CAVX ABBAS OSWALDO CONSECRAT HOC VAS

    A few years later Richardus de London (later 32nd abbot) erected "" the great steeple, wherein the bells hang." giving two bells which were named "Les Londres."
    As required by authors of the Dissolution, an inventory of the cathedral's effects was made. dated November 30th, 1539, 31 of King Henry VIII. References to bells appear thus:
    " In the Chappel of Low:
    Item . Infirmary Chappel.
    In the Chappel.

    Item
    Item in one little bell.
    he two steeples of the Monasthe Front. Bells 10, and in several ether places of the Houses, Bells 4 ,'
    The writer would assume that the majority of the 10 bells mentioned in this inventory were contained within the north-west tower. Almost indiscernible from the main gateway, the south-west corner, 700 years old, is built upon unsettled foundations. A third stage was intended but was abandoned. It is doubtful whether more than two or three bells were hung in this tower, for it must be considered that additional weight would prove detrimental to the structure. Even so, cracks are still appearing in its walls, and strengthening rivets are splitting.

    The four Infirmary bells were probably sold soon after the inventory, had been taken. but the " grand ring of ten " was allowed to remain. Soldiers of the Commonwealth amused themselves during their stay in the city, but annoyed inhabitants by continually jangling the bells. it has been wrongly stated that Cromwell's men took down the clappers from the bells and sold them together with the brass plucked from the tombs. The truth is this: the Cathedral bells being misused, inhabitants took away the clappers when convenient and hid them in the roof of the church on purpose to free their ears of irritating and frequently intrusive jangling.
    Various items appertaining to the bells are recorded in the Accounts Book of Dean and Chapter, the following being a selection:
    1548: To Smith for a Bell Clapper at the Cross Altar, 1d
    1629: Carpenter: To Mansfield Woodfyne, 8 daies worck abowte the repairing the bells, xiijs. viijd.

    ## HEAVIER THAN EXETER BELLS?

    Ten "great bells" continued to be rung until 1709 in which year they were removed. These bells arouse speculation, for they were evidently of ponderous proportions. It is sobering when one considers that a tunable ring of ten (tenor over 30 cwt .) was cast from the metal of four great bells with very little addition The complete charge of founding, hanging, etc., was defrayed by parting with the six smailer bells-if one can call them small: to the founder (Penn), who gave a benefaction of £50 towards adorning the high altar. It is quite probable that the weight of the original ten before 1709 exceeded that of the present ring of bells at Exeter Cathedral.
    Penn's ring of ten occupied the north-west tower. They were rung for only a few years, fear being expressed by architects that vibrations endangered the West Front. In 1831 the ninth bell (present fourth), which had cracked, was recast, and on the 15 th of April in that year the top five were taken down and sold to Dobson of Downham Market. Norfolk. It seems that Peterborough's loss was Lincolnshire's gain. for this founder of good renute is said to have cast a new ring of six hells from Peterborough's five, for Witham-on-the-Hill.

    ## THE LADIES' GUILD

    A quarterly meeting of the Western District was held at St. James'. Horsefair, Bristol. on June 11 th, when members were delighted to welcome the president of the Guild, Mrs. J. King, and her husband.
    In the absence of the Vicar the Guild service was conducted by Canon W. Kingsley Martin, who gave an unusual and memorable address. Although there was not a large gathering of members, several ladies were able to have their first attempt at Grandsire and Stedman Caters on the pleasant ten. One new member was elected-Mrs. M. Jones, of Midsomer Norton.

    The next quarterly meeting: Kelston, on September 10th: practice meetings, Colerne and Hemington on July 13th and August 15th respectively.

    ## LEICESTER GUILD HAS NEW SECRETARY

    Mr. BRIAN G. WARWICK, who for the past ten years has been general secretary of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, did not seek re-election at the annual general meeting of th Guild on April 16th, There were two nominations for his successor-Messrs. J. E, Cooke, who obtained 42 votes, and A. J Poynor, who had 62 and is now in office.
    Ringing look place during the afternoon a: St. Margaret's and the Cathedral. Evensong, conducted by the Provost of Leicester, with a sermon preached by the Bishop of Leicester, was held in the Cathedral. Tea prepared by by Mrs. P. J. Staniforth and her helpers followed
    The president, Mr. B. S. Payne, opened the meeting and distributed seven certificates to new members. The minutes of the last quarterly meeting, held at Loughborough in February, were read, approved and signed.

    ## COMING-OF-AGE PLANS

    The hon. general secretary announced that for the "coming of age" of the Guild in 1967 there would be a ringing festival based at Derby on September 16 h , 1967. A social evening was being arranged after the annual general meeting. The chief guest and speaker at the annual dinner on October 28th, 1967. would be the president of the Central Council, Canon Gilbert Thurlow.

    The general report gave the Guild membership on December 31st as 540, but about 30 more had since paid their subscriptions. The February, 1965, quarterly meeting was wei! attended, and Mr. P. J. Staniforth showed the film he took whilst in America. The first Guild striking competition was held at Queniborough, Aylestone being adjudged winners. On May 22nd the "Ernest Morris Memorial Window was dedicated at St Margaret's, Leicester, by the Rev. Canon F. W. Pratt. The veterans' reunion was held at Colcorton on May 29th.
    The treasurer's report showed that a loss of $£ 818 \mathrm{~s}$. 2 d . uas suffered in the General Fund. The Bell Repair Fund, althougn making its biggest grant-one of $£ 50$ to Hathern-made a profit of $£ 237 \mathrm{~s} .11 \mathrm{~d}$.

    The peal secretary's report showed that the year's peal total was the smallest in the history of the Guild-only 95 peals being rung90 peals less than in 1964. Although this was a reduction of nearly 50 per cent., the number of people (residents) taking part had only been reduced by 19 ( 123 as against 142) Only two people rang 25 peals or over for the Guild-Roland H, Cook (28) and Malcolm E. Wade (25)-as against ten the previous year.
    These reports and the auditors' report were all adopted, and the election of five nonresident members and ten ringing members was confirmed.

    ## ELECTION OF OFFICERS

    The president, B. S. Payne, vice-presidents, J. H. Cook and P. L. Taylor, treasurer, J. M. Jelley, peal secretary, $R \quad H$. Cook, were returned unopposed. Mr. J. P. Fidler and Mrs. P. J. Staniforth were elected as trustees. The retiring auditors-Miss S. E. Chesterton and Mr. W. J. Root-were re-elected.

    The next quarterly meeting is to be held on July 9th at Market Harborough. After a few minor questions were dealt with the meeting was closed. Further ringing took place at St. Jobn-the-Divine, Leicester.

    MORE ABOUT" "UNRINGABLES"
    D URING the Whitsun holidays it was decided to "take a look" at some alleged "UR's" along the Suffolk-Norfolk bordes It was therefore on a bright and hot day that a small party left Bramford at $9.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Elmham St Margaret's was the first call. A key miraculously appeared from somewhere and the bell hangers went aloft. A reasonabik clean belfry was found and a quick look showed little apparently wrong, apart from one or two decaying wheels and missing staysenough to rule out any ringing immediately Some attention now could save a major repair in this tower and the "experts" thought that these bells could be made fit to ring with some hard work
    A mile away was another five, Elmham st. Cross', a twice refusal to the writer as "unringable." Here the tower door stood open and again a clean belfry was found. A look here found excellent wheels. stays and bearings. The bells were rehung approximately 1900 and there is obviously little wrong except for one missing stay. A search of the village found a churchwarden who, after being there six years, had not heard the bells rung, so permission was readily given by him to ring After a thorough ciling and splicing of one rope the bells were pulled up and found to go well and sound excellent-the experts even giving them a pealable rating.

    Marking off St. Cross' in "Dove," something entirely different turned up-the miniature three (tenor 2-3 cwt.) at Ringsfield Permission was given by the Rector to "do what we like and stay as long as we like." A 3-bel! tower was a fresh experience for most of the tower was a rresh experience for most of the Looking up the map, Weybread appeared Again permission was given to ring with a warning about the second rope slipping the wheel. A quick look at this unusual frame and fittings showed that the second stock had been repaired but the wheel was loose. However, little difficulty was found. but the bell needed "ringing.

    Next on the list, Brockdish, a "twice refusal here as unringable," but in between the two refusals a peal was reported! However, a visit to the Rectory gave the same story. "unringable." The belfry being locked. nothing could be done, so a move was made to Scole Here permission was given for a short ring as the new tenor had not yet been dedicated This light six sounded and went excellently

    Further along came some different in weight. at South Lopham. These bells were recently restored with a new tenor of 21 cwt . Permission was here given to ring, and these fine belis were enjoyed for half-an-hour before the local practice began.

    Time was now getting short, so on the way back to Ipswich a call was made at Wyverstone (three bells). A quick look upstairs showed a mediæval "king post" frame for four bells. The three bells had obviously been rehung in the last 50 or 60 years, having excellent wheels, stocks, pulleys, etc However, nothing could be cone at that late hour so putting this tower on the list for next time, putting this tower on the list

    During the day the Bramford Rector's son wrote up one hundred towers in Suffolk after only two years' ringing, and the writer brought his Suffolk total to 191, this including two threes and four fours.

    ## THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

    Change in Presidency
    A RCHDEACON C. O. Ellison, who has been president of the Yorkshire Association for 19 years, resigned from this office at the an nual general meeting at Ripon on April 30th He was not able to be at the meeting, but in a letter of apology he wrote of the kindness and support he had received from the officers and members of the Association, and that he hoped to keep in touch with all his old friends in the future. Mr. J. A. Brown, the vice-president of the Northern District, spoke of the work the retiring president had done, and then declared Mr Vernon Bottomley elected as the new president. Mr. Bottomley thanked members for the great honour he felt in being elected to this office.

    Mr. W. E. Critchley was declared re-elected peal secretary for the next three years and Mrs. Jeanne Bottomley treasurer for one year

    The presentation of the report for 1965 was made briefly, since, as the president said, most members had it in their hands. There was no formal adoption of it, but any questions members wanted to ask about it might be put at the September meeting.

    Four new members were elected: Miss Jean Moxon. of Wetherby; John Thomas, of St. Chad's, Headingley: Ándrew Talbot-Ponsonby and Stuart Burns, of Leeds University.

    ## REDRAFTING OF RULES

    The secretary gave notice that he would propose the revision and redrafting of the rules and the president reported that a sub-committee had been asked by the general committee to do this.
    An invitation to hold the next meeting at Bridlington Priory on September 17th was gladly accepted, and it is hoped that there will be ringing at Nunburnholme and Flamborough as well.

    Mr. Arthur Bashforth gave some information about the Snowdon Dinner, which is to be held at the Catterick Bridge Hotel on October 15th The secretary intimated that he would like the place and date of the 1967 Snowdon Dinner to be fixed in good time, so that details could go into the Ringers' Diary, so the Rev. F. Ross proposed that it be held in Hull or Beverley. The meeting was in favour of this proposal
    A vot = of thanks to the cathedral authorities, to the incumbents of the churches visited and to the local organiser, Mr. Ted Hudson, was proposed by Mr. M. Thurmott and seconded by Mr. D Smith
    The business in the cathedral library was followed by evening prayer in the choir and by tea in the Cathedral Hall, at which the Dean of Ripon was a welcome guest. Mr. H. Walker expressed the thanks of the company to the ladies who had so kindly and ably prepared tea
    Five 6 -bell towers had been made availableas well as the fine ten and eight at Ripon and Sharow-and the 80 or so members present enjoyed ringing at them throughout the day.

    ## Letters to the Editor

    "A PROFESSIUNAL OPINION ON •R.W. '
    Dear Sir,-1 read with professional interest the tirade of criticism levelled at the general appearance and production of ": The Ringing World." The suggestion, it is understood after analysis, materialises in the opinions: improve the presentation and the quality of con tributions to the newspaper.
    As a printer, I would like to congratulate Mr. White on his ability in dealing with material received, and the difficult and unen viable task of measuring-up and laying-out various articles and full-heads in a manner which, in my opinion, on the whole suits the size and character of "The Ringing World The dimensions of this newspaper are such that little more can be achieved in the way of typographical art. Three columns are eassly and quickly put together. Triple entries have not the flexibility of six or more columns. In any case, to include double and triple columns tapering into single column matter, with panels and the like, would involve a great deal of extra, vital time, viz.: in changing moulds on linotype machines. Type would take longer to make-up in formes. All this for the sake of, shall we say, dramatic presentation-virtually impossible in a paper this size-adds more to expense That sort of thing is for larger papers-scope is obviously there.

    A new front-page head design may improve the outer appearance, but the old design, I think, conveys just about everything in the career of a ringer. In any case it is not the head-design of a newspaper that sells. By way of some improvement generally, perhaps a more striking headline type could be employed, and standing blocks (art work) used, i.e.. Readers' Views. All full-heads of large or medium size could begin with "drop or double-line letter. Italic intermediate heads centred or fush-left would help break up matter: furthermore. reports of major importance might acquire more "colour" should firsi paragraph be set in black. Illustrations are of course, desirable. and have a great selling potential, but photogravure and indeed all art work is a very costly business.
    A "brighter" newspaper is largely determined by quality of material received - not necessarily by printing on better quality newsreel. The tendency nowadays in modern newspaper production is to present news in bright concise manner-the "snappier" the betterand not go on at great length. Local newspapers find that the inclusion of a youth page pays dividends-so do women's fashions! With regard to youth and "The Ringing World," perhaps a page written by young people for young people can be considered. It is a difficult proposition Just how many in a meagre circulation like ours are interested in sending material other than reports of meetings, ourings, peals, etc.? Precious few, by my ex perience. Contributors and correspondents do not like to see their work cut down.

    We cannot hope to see a permanent reporter employed by our newspaper, nor can we expect to compete in well-displayed, organised competitions within its pages for new cars! One has to be dead crafty to sell anything nowadays-and that goes for newspapers, too! Perhaps the critics would like, in future, to put on their walking boots and tread over unexplored acres sniffing out news-just for the love of it. Minding other people's business is the life-blood of newspapers. That attitude is the essence of real journalism and ultimately breeds a brighter newspaper. Local correspondents are indispensable. But they perform their task with little or no knowledge of the trials and tribulations of press work. One thing is certain, it is not possible to educate them to the required standards of a bright newspaper. Promises of news items are legion. but many are broken. Without unlimited tinancial resources and ample staff, it is unfair to expect our editor to achieve miracles in a newspaper which cannot even light my firc.
    One suggestion: in an attempt to advertise
    "The Ringing World " to the fullest extent, a free mention should be made in every Annual Report and in other minor circulations pertaining to the ringing of bells.

    To the Editor assistant and printers, thanks for the work achieved on very limited hori-zons.-Yours truly. TREVOR A. BEVIS.

    March, Cambs.

    ## ANOTHER EDITOR'S SUGGESTIONS

    Dear Sir,-As the editor of a trade paper with a circulation of 6,000, I should like to pay tribule to the immense amount of work which you do to ensure the accuracy and comprehensiveness of "The Ringing World."

    I fully appreciate the painstaking effort that must go into juse checking the names in peals. and I can well imagine that, particularly for 24 -page issues, you will have burned the midnight oil on many occasions.

    Your biggest problem in any attempt to "brighten" (which I take mostly to mean more space and less type on each page) must be the limited number of firms you can approach for advertising. May I suggest that, following the debate at Bath, you now have a very strong case for greatly increasing your rates to regular advertisers? 1 know you would be loath to do this when they are probably already very generous, but if the result would be to increase circulation they would see the logic of it.

    I disagree with Mr. Anderson when he forecasts that "The Ringing World" would be liable for the Selective Employment Tax. Printing and publishing are classified as manufacturing industries and you should therefore get full repayment plus the premium of 7 s . 6 d per week (These details have been published siace Bath.-Ed.)
    I am sure, however, that the best hope "The Ringing World" has is for readers to help increase the circulation, and if this were done it would allow room to experiment. If the Exercise really wants a better paper, ringers will respond by getting new readers. If they don't, they can't blame anyone but themselves.Yours sincerely,
    B. W. ASHURST.

    Leeds.

    ## WINCHESTER BOB CATERS

    Dear Sir.-I note in "The Ringing World " (page 405) that the composition of Winchester Bob Caters, by A. J. House, used " 3 rds place under the treble after the lead-end " as bobs, as also used for Double Norwich Caters. But Winchester Bob has a "lead-end" 3rds place as in Grandsire and Oxford Bob, so why not use normal "Grandsire" bobs? Perhaps there is some good technical reason for not doing so. Would Mr. House or someone please explain? -Yours sincerely. GEOFFREY DODDS.

    St. Albans.

    ## DOUBLES COLLECTION INTEREST

    Dear Sir,-In your reply to criticism of the "R.W." at the C.C. meeting, you stated that you had been seriously criticised for publishing the Collection of Doubles Methods as waste of space and of no interest to readers.

    Well, there are readers and readers. If you have a cross-section of readers in any technical paper you have to have a cross-section of articles, as 1 know as a former editor of a regimental magazine.

    As must happen, there is a great deal in the "R.W.' which leaves me cold and the greatest interest I have found as a 5 - and 6 bell ringer (mainly) was the Collection of Doubles Variations. If I was so unfortunate as to have to go to hospital with a broken leg, the one thing I would take with me would be that collection, plenty of squared paper and a pencil! It is fascinating to write out the various ways by which the same results can be obtained.

    Your critics have, 1 think, forgotten that there are little country towers struggling to progress beyond Grandsire or Plain Bob. What better interest could there be than to look up a method (variation) with a name associated with their district or perhaps even the name of their own church?

    That 1 am not alone in thinking this colle:tion well worth the space is seen in your peal columns, where increasing numbers of Doubles variations have been rung since your publication.

    I might as well say that a whole page of 8 to 10 -bell compositions ( $p .405$ ) is of no value. They are to me, and increasingly so in that they are each in a different "language." But 1 do not doubt that they are as fascinating to those who understand and can ring them as the Doubles are to me!

    I wonder if you are right about the limitation of advertisements. After all, we all have to eat, to mention but one source of adver-tisement.-Yours. etc

    ## DABBLING IN COMPOSITION

    Dear Sir,-After reading the chapter on simple composition and proof in Wilfrid Wilson's book and that on "Changes on Eight Bells" in "Ropesight," I put pencil to paper and began to compose. I finally arrived at the appended peal of Plain Bob Major, which contains the sixth the extent each way in 5-6.

    I wonder if any of your readers could confirm its originality, or else crush my newfound ego and name the original composer.--Yours sincerely, EDWARD C. STEELE.

    "UNFAIR CRITICISM" OF BATH AND WELLS A.G.M.
    Dear Sir. -As the prime-mover in raising the issue referred to by R. Beale ("R.W.", p. 403). I consider that it is our duty to bring the true facts to those members of the Bath and Wells who were not at the A.G.M. Although 1 would not have acted as Mr. Massey did, I can only deplore this attack upon one whose considerable efferts on behalf of our Association are appreciated by a great number of our members.

    George Massey acted correctly in bringing this matter firstly to the committee. He no doubt thought, as I would have done, that the Branch secretaries and the rest of the committee would have the pulse of their members on this subject. The committee. he found, were against the idea. so he dropped his resolution. He had also in mind that every tower would have to be circulated as a change of rule was envisaged, and he had in mind that the cost of this would not be warranted if, as he suspected. the members generally would not be in favour. That the committee did not know the feelings of quite a number of members is a pity, but it certainly isn't Mr. Massey's fault

    In levelling adverse criticism at the peal secretary, Mr. Beale points out that Taunton Branch were expecting some action at the last A.G.M. Why then was there not a resolution from the Taunton Branch that this matter be placed on the agenda if the feeling was so strong? And why, when I got up to raise the issue. was I not supported by a mass of Taunton members all eagerly waiting to voice their opinions? If indeed they intended to raise the issue at all they were leaving it a bit late in the meeting to do so.

    So really. Mr. Beale, even when all the facts are known, your adverse criticism of a most democratic worker is unfair. and as you weren't there and did not have the facts it is most unwarranted.
    Now here is something that is worth thinking about: a proposition from the floor, correctly seconded, that this matter be discussed at the 1967 A.G.M. was not accepted by the chairman, although it was in order under Rule 11 which allows four weeks' notice for intended alterations to rules. The proposition allowed a year's notice, which should have been long enough. Now I wonder why we are having so much difficulty over this?-Yours sincerely.
    Bath. Somerset.

    ## HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION  Eastern District

    Ringing at the Eastern District meeting at Benington (8) on Saturday, June 11th, ranged from rounds to Cambridge Major. A short service was conducted by the Vicar, and this was followed by tea in the Church Hall.
    Mr. Peter Searles, the District secretary, opened the meeting by welcoming the county president, Mr. Kenneth Dunstan, who kindly president, Mr. Kenneth Dunstan, who kindly took the chair. New members elected were Miss B. Bagguley (Hertford) and Mr. R. Falder (Aston).

    ## A German Girl's Comments on a Ringing Tour

    Mr. M. King, of Wentworth. Yorks, writes:-
    Recently I have received an account of a German girl's experiences in the Easter tour undertaken by bellringers of the St. John's College, York, Society. This was during Easter Week in Warwickshire, Worcestershure and Gloucestershire. She writes:-
    When I accepted the invitation of one of the members of the St. John's Callege Bellringing Society to accompany them on this year's ringing tour I did not know what was letting myself into. Being a foreigner, I was entirely strange to the sort of bellringing practised in England. Of course, our church towers have bells too, but usually it is a single one to indicate the time. So 1 was most surprised to learn that there are towers with six, eight or even 12 bells. When I first ascended to a ringing chamber I wondered why the ropes were so thick: it was only afterwards that I learned that the big and heavy bells wanted strong ropes. The sallies puzzled me too; I soon realised that they were not for fancy but to protect the ringer's palms. I noticed that they usually had the union jack:s colours-red, white and blue. Was it only accidental? I don't think so.
    I had the opportunity of admiring the belfry at York Minster and at Powick. I was dulv impressed by the enormolis size of the bells and their wheels and the deafening sound the produced when rung. Ever afterwards 1 was horrified by the thought of what would happen if the stay broke. I imagined the ringer being pulled up into the belfry. That is why I never dared to touch a rope-I only sat watching the ringers. Thus I had time to studv the wooden boards on the walls which told about the number of changes being rung and the people who did it. I was surprised to learn that the pieces of "music" were composed especially for the sake of bellringing.

    I had heard quite a number of new words as well, like "peal." "quarter peal." tenor. treble. sally. etc, which are. of course, verv confusing and maddening for a foreigner. Ay the time I had discovered their meaning and got used to them the tour was almost over.
    I can't recall all the 23 towers, but some of them I still remember, for example :-

    St. Bartholomew, Edgbaston.-Here I was rather uncertain about the bellringers as it was the first tower Harborne.-I couldn't understand why one of them shouted at his friends. I didn't think he was kind!

    Grimley.-A local ringer told us that the tenor had been cast in 1483

    Hanbury.-I admired the tower made of red sandstone
    Bewdley.-Here I first experienced a "rocking "tower. I expected it to collapse sooner or later, and though I told myself not to be silly, i persuaded my friend to leave and fied downstairs, petrified.
    Badsey-where a polythene curtain separated the ringing chamber from the church. "We look like ten bellringers in a polythene bag ${ }^{\prime \prime}$

    The church which impressed me most was Pershore Abbey. It is beautifully situated in the middle of a soft, fragrant lawn. There was no ringing chamber, only a sort of cage at the top of the tower. Here I almost fainted when I looked down.
    St. Mary the Virgin, Cheltenham.-Here. after having joined a morning prayer, we found 12 lovely bells.
    1 also remember St. Mary, Elmley Castle, where one of the ringers got a terrible shock when her bell had no stay, thus causing it to pull the rope swiftly upwards.
    The only thing I disliked about bellringing was the temperature in the ringing chambers. By the time the ringers had finished I was frozen stiff, and I could not help thinking that your churches should have overhead heaters to keep the chill away. The weather did not help matters, constant gusts of wind and sleet were followed by frost and several inches of snow. Unfortunately the minibus carrying us around broke down in the snow at Bishop's Cleeve, so we rode in draughty country buses from tower to tower.
    These were, however, the only drawbacks of our tour. The company of the bellringers was very enjoyable-they were somehow difterent from otirer people. I have often wondered if bellringing was only a hobby for them or if they practised i: for the honour of God. I noticed that some of them sacrificed every minute of their spare time. They neglected everything else and strove for perfection
    At the moment I am listening to a taperecording of church bells and handbells which one of the ringers kindly sent me. and 1 have looked at photographs of the towers we visited, recalling in my memory the perhaps most peculiar but very enjoyable week 1 bad in England

    I even hope to be able to accompany the ringers on next year's Easter tour.

    BIRGIT HOFFMANN.
    Dortmund-A plerbeck,
    West Germany.

    ## UNION BOB

    Dear Sir,-Our Socrety has recently been ringing a variety of Doubles methods, and we are rather puzzled at the use of the term - Bob' for the calling in the method known as Union Bob in the C.C. Collection of Doubles Methods and in the 1966 Ringers" Diary. The calling changes the position of just two bells (those in $4 / 5$ ) with work which is essentially the same as that done at a single in Stedman Doubles. We grant that Union is not a principle and that the call causes the same places to be made as it does in Plain Bob Doubles-but there the coursing order of three Doubles-but bells is altered.
    Mr. W. G. Wilson, in his excellent book on change-ringing. gives straightforward reasons why the call in Stedman Doubles must be a single: surely the same reasoning should be used to make the call in Union a single.Yours sincerely.

    # ANZAB Annual Meeting-Bill Pitcher New President

    THE fifth Annual Festival of Ringing of the Australia and New Zealand Association was held in Sydney on the holiday week-end of June 11 th- 13 th. It was well attended and for the second year running representatives of five member branches were present. Apart from the host ringers of New South Wales. there were 22 from Victoria, three from Soutb Australia, two from Tasmania and one from Western Australia. In addition we had the pleasure of the attendance of three ringers from St. John's, Brisbane, as well as three from Canberra and one from Armidale. This Bath in miniature was once again a resounding success, and the task of organising a meeting spread out over the eight ringable Sydney towers. not exactly close together, must have presented many problems to the hosts: but so well was it done that this was not evident.
    For many visitors, the start of the weekend's ringing on the steel bells at St. Jude's, Randwick, was in the nature of a tower grab as until last June they had been silent for about four years. The first touch contained representatives from all five branches and required three attempts, due to the clapper of the third showing a marked tendency to whisk the second's rope out of sight. Another first for many was on the new Taylor ten at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, where all enjoyed the bells and the well-appointed ringing room. For those who had not been to Sydney hefore, a hrief ring at St. Benedict's. with a mellow-sounding but almost-impossible-to-ring six, completed a full bag of eight. Anv Sydney meeting is more or less a travelling one, and we should not like to have to count the miles driven by the hosts in transporting ringers between the city. Randwick, Burwood. Darline Point. Parramatta and Turramurra. It was all obligingly done and provided opportunity for uninterrupted talk, gossip or whatever.

    ## THE COUNCIL MEETING

    The Council meeting followed an excellent dinner at Julie's Restaurant in the city on Saturday evening. Julie's is not exactly expansive, and after the meal the 51 diners had to vacate the dining room for the street while tables were removed and the chairs rearranged. The meeting was chaired by Hervey Bagot. at the end of his presidential term, and showed the same tendency as in the nast to get hogzed down in orocedural wrangles. A committee was established to examine the constitution and perhaps in future years more time can he devoted to other matters. The Badge Committee was instructed to go ahead with nroduction and badges should soon be available at 75 c . A discussion on publicity produced some good ideas. The treasurer renorted a healthy state in the finances, though the "Ringing Towers" report. while revealing a steady circulation of over 200 conies, showed a slight loss (14c.) and it was decided to raise the subscription rates slightly. The "Ringing Towers" Committee was congratulated on its work.
    In his president's report, Hervey Bagot commented that the past vear had been an exciting one for A.N.Z.A.B and for ringing, and instanced the visit of the Great Adventure II partv. He went on to stress that good. tuneful bell music should be the constant aim and that the achievement of this required enthusiasm. discipline and attention to detail. The election produced more changes than in previous years and the office-holders for 1966-67 are largely South Australians. Bill Pitcher is the new president as well as continuing as editor of "Ringing Towers "" and as peal secretary. Richard Jolly succeeds Graeme Heyes as secretary and has Philippa Lamphee as his assistant. Ken Minchinton remains the treasurer. The venue for the next festival and Conncil meeting is Ballarat/Bendigo in June. 1967.

    The formalities dispatched, ringing was resumed for the remainder of the week-end. A barbecue had been arranged for the Monday afternoon, but the skies opened on Sunday night while some 80 ringers and friends were enjoying a very convivial cruise in Sydney Harbour aboard a small ferry, and as it was still raining on Monday morning the outdoor activities were abandoned and the afternoon profitably spent at St. Andrew's Cathedral. Everyone got their share of ringing during the festival, and varied teams and a variety of methods added to the enjoyment-from rounds to Stedman Caters, through the Grandsire and Plain Bob families from 5 to 10 bells, with some Surprise Major ringing in the shape of Cambridge, Yorkshire (an excellent half course) and Bristol (a rather muddly 3-lead touch). One quarter peal was rung-Plain Bob Minor at Parramatta, half-muffled in memory of a previous Rector of All Saints'.

    COMPETITION
    The large contingent from Victoria enabled the Joyner Cup for Interstate Ringers to be competed for. New South Wales won the first round with some good Minor at Turrainurra. but Victoria evened the score the next day with some excellent Stedman Triples at St. Andrew's. In the deciding ring at Burwood on Monday morning the Victorian touch of Stedman broke down. and the cup is thus retained by New South Wales.
    Again the annual gathering of ringers from the scattered towers of Australia has resulted in a week-end of enthusiastic ringing in a most friendly atmosphere The success of the meeting is a tribute to the planning of the Sydney ringers, and the visitors offer them their thanks and appreciation. W. B. P.

    ## ALAN R. PINK'S  WHITSUN TOUR

    THE record Whitsun traffic made some of the party late tor the evening meal at our headquarters on Friday, May 27th, among them Giles Shedden and Ron Russ. The headquarters. in Southbourne. Bournemouth, could cater for our meals, but some members of the party had to be billeted out, including Alan himself. Jim Linnell was later sampling the local brew and sea air, in the company of Chris Clarke and Herbert Alexander, when at an uncomfortably late hour he realised Alan's overnight case was still locked in the boot of his car! We heard next morning that those billeted out had received a pretty frigid reception from their landlady in the small hours.
    At the first tower, Hampreston, Dorset, on the Saturday, we were joined by Christine and Alan Baldock with Chris Rowson from Abingdon Hampreston Church is noted more for the magnificent waggon roof of the nave, which has stood since the 14 th century, than for its bells, a rather nondescript six They served to loosen us up for Ringwood. however, where Bill Cheater met us and made enough for Bristol on this fine octave Ron Marlow met us at Fordingbridge, but there were only enough of us to ring some College Exercise on the back six. The occupants of the "long distance" car arrived somewhat breathless with only 15 minutes' ringing time left ascending the stairs to shouts for a band to lower. The excuse this time was that it had taken them over half an hour to find the car at Ringwood!

    Fortified by a good lunch at the Crown Hotel. Fordingbridge. we enioyed an hour on the rather noisy eight at Cranborne. where among other things Superlative and Double Bob were rung Wimborne St. Giles' bells were also noisy, hut with plenty of music. Our "Car Park Exercise" band were late again. They had apparently been trying to ring the stuff at a ruined church down the road. though whether bv design or navigational error we never did establish. Alan however. was very pleased with the course of Ashtead we rang after he chalked it un on the clock case, and we then set sail for Wimhnrme Minster. The further assistance of Bill Cheater and others enabled us to rine Cambridge Royal on the fine ten. After Herbert Alexander han called a 287 of Grandsire Caters. Noel Waite was mollected from Rournemouth Station, and we dined at headquarters. Then it was time for the entire nartv to descend on Mr. and Mrs. Fred nariv to descend on Mr. and Mrs. Fred handbells Fred hought from Len Stilwell wwere given an airing. their somewhat sreoect "W.D." markinos being the work of William Dunn, circa 1820 .

    DENSE SUNDAY TRAFFIC
    Sunday morning ringing was at St. Peter's. Bournemouth, and St. James'. Poole, though at the latter. despite Reg Rex joining us for the rest of the tour, we didn't muster enough for changes on the ten. After lunch at Wareham any ideas about seeing something of the Isle of Purbeck during free time in the afternoon were put paid to by the dense traffic, so we contented ourselves with viewing the effigy of Lawrence of Arabia in St. Martin's, and strolling on the banks of the River Frome in the warm sunshine. A very pleasant hour was spent on the bells of Lady St. Mary, Wareham, where London was rung with the help of John Blackwood. Evening service ringing was at Christchurch. where we ploughed through a course of Bob Maximus

    Traffic on the Whit Monday morning was strangely thin as we made our way to Lymington. Here disaster was narrowly averted when someone discovered there were two people upstairs mending the clock. Despite our severely curtailed ringing time a course of Lincolnshire was scored before moving to Milford-on-Sea.

    After lunch in Lyndhurst, the narrow, spiral staircase at Sherfield English caused the more portly members of the band including our worthy organiser, a little difficulty found Lockerley bells very loud in the ringing chamber, but produced some good ringing the highlight of which was a touch of spliced Plain and Double Bob. St. Mary's. Twyford, came next, and the tour finished in Winchester. As the Cathedral bells were not available. Dr. J. E. Spice kindly arranged for us to have a short ring on the six at the College.

    A feature of this tour had been some pood rises and falls, a part of our ringing that we tend to pay too little attention to The party extends thanks to Alan for the arrangements. and to all those Hants and Dorset ringers and incumbents who nlaved their part so well. R.K.R.

    ## MR. A. WESTCOTT

    The news of the death of Mr. Alfred Westcott on June 7th came as a shock to all who knew him Although he had done very little ringing since the last war, he was well remembered by all who had been associated with him.

    Among those present were former colleagues from the Plymouth Co-operative Society and a number of old age pensioners. Mr. Westcott was the treasurer of Plymouth Co-operative Old Age Pensioners' Association.

    ## HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

    ## St. Albans District

    THE warm, close weather made ringing an effort on the ten at Hatfield for the St. Albans District meeting on June 18th. The standard of ringing was surprisingly good, considering there were comparatively few members present Some good Stedman and Erin Caters and Kent Royal were enjoyed. A service was held at 4.30 p.m., but it was very poorly attended. Tea was held in the small hall opposite.

    Mr. Geoffrey Dodds was elected to the chair for the business meeting. Mr. D. J. Smith and Miss M Smith, of liatfield, were elected new members. in quick discussion of the successful practice meeting held at Essendon followed The next practice meeting is to be at Harpenden on Wednesday, July 6 th.

    ## SS. MICHAEL AND PAUL, BATH

    Widely-varying rings in Wiltshire and Hampshire were tried during the annual outing of SS. Michael and Paul's, Bath, and their friends on June 18th.
    There was a disappointment at Pewsey, the first tower, where we could not obtain the tower key. A compensation was the fine-toned slow-turning ring at Collingbourne-Kingston (6), where Stedman went well. The light bells of Thruxton (6) were turned well to Minor. Whitchurch's ground floor ring provided the first eight of the day. Afterwards at Andover (8) ringing consisted of Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Major.
    Most of the ringers, at tea time, visited the steam traction engine rally near Andover, which resulted in some arriving late at Wonston. On the light ring with a very good tone Oxford Bob Minor, Stedman and a ladies touch of Grandsire went well. The last tower was at Stockbridge (light $6,7 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.), where the tenor dropped quite surprisingly. The hells were not considered musical, but Kent, Stedman and an unconducted touch of Grandsire were enjoyed.

    The incumbents and Mr. G. J. Hawkins, who arranged the outing, which unfortunately he was unable to attend due to a back injury. are sincerely thanked.

    ## OUTING

    ## CORSTON, BATH

    Assembling at Chipping Campden on May 21st. Corston. Bath, ringers with friends from Twerton and Chew Magna had an enjoyable outing in Gloucestershire villages. Good use was made of Chipping Campden bells, and Moreton-in-the-Marsh bells proved much to their liking. A pienic lunch followed in the garden of a convenient hostelry before going to the picturesque villages of Lower and Upper Slaughter.

    Bourton-on-the-Water provided an attraction for non-ringers, and the journey was through lanes to Great Barrington, where the easy-going six were duly appreciated. During a roadside picnic tea there was an exhibition of formation flying by jets from the Central Flying School at Rissington. Ringing concluded at Northleach, where the bells were much admired.

    ## BELFRY GOSSIP

    The ringer of the tenor in the quarter peal at Milverton on May 23rd was R. M. B. Cullen and not as printed.
    Christchurch, New Zealand, is in the news this week with a quarter of Plain Bob Major, which was the first in the method in Major for the conductor, Mr. C. H. Ward.

    Among the four first pealers at Longparish. Hants, on June 8th, were 14 -year-old Philip Taylor and his father. It was a first peal attempt for both of them.
    Protests have been ventilated in "The Kent Messenger" concerning the recent Saturday afternoon peal at Tenterden which greatly disturbed patients at St. Augustine's Hospital.
    " It was noted with great delight two weeks ago that once again Bill Hibbert is ringing on the "back-end '," writes D. Jewell, of Combe Martin, Devon. "After this fine performance, feel sure that the 7th at Pilton will no longer be a problem for us in October."
    Kent School, which has been very quiet concerning ringing performances, sends us a half peal of Grandsire Doubles. This is certified by Mr. Jeffrey Scott Nicholl, chairman of the Kent School Bellringers' Guild. Congratulations.

    The list of members who had retired from the Central Council (page 372) should have included the name of Mr. Ernest J. Ladd, who retired last March after six years' service. His successor as representative of the East Grinstead and District Guild is Mr. B. E. Jeffrey.

    ## DEDICATION OF EASTHAMPSTEAD

    ## BELLS

    LARGE gathering took place at Easthampstead Parish Church on the afternoon of June 11th to witness the dedication of the recast augmented bells.

    The Bishop of Oxford preached at the service and congratulated the local band for the work they had done both physically and in the organisation of financing the project.
    The collection, teas, on-the-spot donations and raffle for "Change Ringing" by W. G. Wilson (won by Mr. A. J. N. Rance) brought in a further $£ 50$ to the bell fund.

    Tea and ringing until 8.45 p.m. completed the day-altogether too short to enable ade quate renewals of friendship-but a day which will stand out in the memories of all who helped in making it possible-support without which the countryside of Berkshire would be deprived of the beauty of this delightful light octave.
    After a year of silence the local band rang the first quarter on the new bells on Sunday June 12th. The first peal was scored on Monday, June 13th. by local members and repre sentatives of Branch, Guild and donors.

    ## DEDICATED PIONEERS

    Canon Gilbert Thurlow in an address given at Hollesley, Suffolk, on Junc llth, rẹferred to the dedication at Easthampstead as follows: "I received this week a kind invitation to the dedication of the rehung bells, now cight, at Easthampstead roday. I'd gladly have gone ali the way to Berkshire, if your in vitation had not been accepted long before. You see, the triumph at Easthampstead today is the triumph of dedicated pioneers, people of courage and imagination

    I think only a very few months ago Easthampstead ringers discussed with their P.C.C. the need to rehang their bells and increase them to eight. The P.C.C. replied, All right, you ringers, get on with it!' and they did! Whilst too many other parishes find it difficult to rase the money, or can't be bothered. or take the amazing line that somehow the right and proper support of other church activities somehow exonerates them from their responsibility to their bells, whilst occasionally one hears of parishes which even try to convert to other purposes money given specifically for rehanging bells for ringing, the dedicated pioneers of Easthampstead and their many friends have raised the large sum needed in a very short time because they really believed it was worth while."

    ## SHEBBEAR SETS DEVON GUILD A NEW RECORD

    Shebbear College Society must now be among the leading school ringing societies in the country. Their latest achievement is a peal of 14 Doubles methods at Langtree, Devon. on June 12th. which is the greatest number of Doubles methods yet rung for the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, the first for the Society and the first peal on the bells.
    Mr. J. L. Queen informs us that Mr. D. J Roberts, general secretary of the Devonshire Guild, confirmed that the peal set a new record for the Guild. The striking was of a consistently high standard throughout and came as a result of several weeks' hard practice at the methods involved, including unsuccessful quarter peal attempts in some of the methods.

    ## A HANDBELL HALF-CENTURY

    A milestone of achievement took place at 68, Warwick Avenue, Coventry, the residence of Mr, and Mrs. F W. Perrens, on June 15th. That day marked the 50th anniversary of the first handbell peal on 12 in Birmingham, and also that Mr. Perrens, who was ringing 3-4 and conducting, rang his first on handbells in the same composition of Stedman Cinques. We feel certain that his very many friends will join us in congratulating the Central Council librarian on being spared to participate in such an anniversary.

    ## CENTRAL COUNCIL ATTENDANCES

    Mr. E. Billings, secretary of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, who was responsible for the most successful jocal arrangements of the Central Council meeting at Northampton. has called our attention to the injustice dons to that meeting by the inaccurate attendance figure given on page 388 . The true position regarding attendances at recent Council meetings has been :-

    | 1961 | Stoke-on-Trent | 147 |
    | :--- | :--- | :--- |
    | 1962 | Cardiff | 134 |
    | 1963 | Great Yarmouth | 145 |

    ## DUBLIN UNIVERSITY GUILD

    At our last A.G.M. our retiring Ringing Master suggested that we should tour a few local towers and close the outing with a meal, an idea which was realised this term. The quarter peal attempted at Bray of 11 Doubles methods, called by R. A. Vere Hodge, failed as three leads were lost due to lights fusing.
    When the rest of the party arrived two experts went on to Blessington to adjust and splice ropes! Most of the ringers depended on three long-lived cars for transport. Even Aloycus, a renowned old lady, made the hazardous ascent over the Wicklow Mountains. Only one car required pushing.

    After the triumph of ringing two 120 's of Plain Bob Minor at Blessington, even the fittest of us welcomed the dinner at the neighbouring hotel. At the end of the handbell session which followed, several ringers proposed that this outing should be an annual event.

    ## CANADIAN HANDBELL FESTIVAL

    The first Canadian handbell festival was held at Yorkminster, Ontario, at the end of April, promoted by Mrs. Vera Diamond, of Willowdale, Ontario. She directs the Diamond Handbell Choir, the only Canadian membership in the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers; the choir has had the privilege of playing for many churches and clubs throughout Metro, Toronto. Seven visiting handbell choirs participated in the festival, the sacred concert being held at Yorkminster United Church. As the outcome of the festival it was decided to form a Canadian Chanter of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers and Mrs. Diamond has been elected the Chapter's first chairman. Recently she received ten additional bells, completing a three-octave chromatic set.

    THE IMPORTANCE OF THE TENOR
    Dedicating the tenor at Scole, Norfolk, which completed the ring to six, on June 14 th , Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Cen tral Council, emphasised the importance of the tenor bell

    You might," he said, "think it hardly worth while having a special service to dedicate th? new tenor bell, especially as you have had a triumpbant service of dedication of the new bells here quite recently. But there is a very good reason for taking all this trouble over your new tenor, not only be cause it is the largest and the heaviest and most important bell in the tower, but for a greater reason.
    "The tenor is the bell which gives the key of the whole ring. It is the completion of the music. We are familiar with the expression 'keynote.' We say that a speech or a meeting or a celebration had a certain keynote-a keynote of triumph or sorrow or unity or whatever we felt about it
    "It was felt here that the keynote of the ring was not good enough, so the whole ring was, so to speak. incomplete, irritatingly incomplete The five new bells sounded A, G, F, E D. beautifully with all the resources of modern tuning. Then came $C$. not good enough, spoiling the completion of the music, giving a feeling that the climax was a disappointment instead of a triumph. And now you have the triumph of knowing that the keynote of your bells is complete, perfect and satisfying."

    ## A HEREFORD BROADCAST

    Listeners to the Midland Region programme "Midlands Today" on June 6th heard a recording of the bells of St. Margaret's, Wellington, Herefordshire, preceding an interview with Frederick Sharpe, who was talking about his forthcoming book. "The Church Bells of Herefordshire." At the same time listeners to the Welsh Home Service heard Mr. Sharpe discussing his recent book, "The Church Bells of Cardiganshire." Both programmes were recorded in the ringing chamber of St. Margaret's during a day visit to Herefordshire on June 4th.
    Thanks are due to the Vicar, the Rev. W. P. Johns, for granting permission for the recording at a moment's notice, and to the local ringers-Christine and Angela. Julie and her father-who were called upon at teatime to make up a band to ring the bells.
    The programme was repeated on June 15th Mr. Sharpe is shortly to record another proRramme which will be heard in the Home Service in the near future.
    G. T.C.

    ## SIXTY YEARS AFTER

    Thursday, June 9th, was the diamond jubilee of the eight bells at Anstey, Leics, after previously having a very bad-toned, badgoing ring of five bells. One of only two surviving members of the band which rang the first peal on the eight in 1906, Mr. Edward W. Jackson stood outside and listened for almost the entire length of the jubilee peal and afterwards had a ring himself, his first since going to live in Canada 55 years ago.

    Mr. G. Dodds points out regarding his question at the Central Council meeting as to the republishing of out-of-print publications (page 392) that the method he suggested was by use of Xerox, which is cheaper than ordinary printing.

    ## THE BIRMINGHAM HANDBELL TRADITION

    THE recent attempt by the Birmingham men to recapture the Stedman Cinques record has turned, our mind once again to the contemplation of the Birmingham Stedman Tradition, and particularly to the impressive run of handbell peals that began just fifty years ago. Recollection was stimulated and encouraged by the glimpse we had at Bath of the forgathering of J. F. Smallwood, F. W. Perrens, and F. E. Haynes, for these three are the survivors of a brilliant company, one distinguished for a remarkable series of performances, some of them feats that may possibly be equalled but can scarcely ever be excelled.
    For more than a century the Birmingham men were noted for their Stedman and handbell ringing. Chattell and Perks were competent performers "in hand," and so were many of the later St. Martin's Youths. In the year 1888 The Holt Society rang at Aston, which was not at that time in the city of Birmingham, a handbell peal of Stedman Cinques. It was the first half-and-half peal of Cinques to be rung, the second handbell peal of Stedman Cinques to be performed, and it was conducted by that fine old ringer and conductor Henry Bastable. One of the participants in this noteworthy peal was Thomas Russam, and he lived on to provide a link between that fine band and the equally notable company that grew up during the First Great War.

    Fifty years ago this year, on June 15th, 1916, the first handbell peal of Stedman Cinques in the city of Birmingham was rung in the belfry of St. Martin's Church by F. W. Perrens, G. F. Swann, A. Walker, J. E. Groves, J. F. Smallwood and J. George. It was conducted by James E. Groves, and it was rung at the fourth meeting of the band. The referee was Thomas Russam, and thus the tradition was maintained. Tom was a sound exponent of Stedman on handbells and in the tower, and those of us who had the privilege of ringing peals with him in his latter years can testify to his abiding skill and a sureness of touch that never left him.

    By the end of the Great War the Birmingham men were expert ringers of Stedman on handbells, and in the year 1922 they set their sights on an unusual and difficult target. They decided to ring a peal of Stedman on 13 bells, and seeing that they were so well versed in the anatomy of Stedman on the higher numbers, they anticipated no great difficulty in achieving their aim. For the composition of this unusual thing they went, of course, to the versatile John Carter, who produced for them a 5,055 of what he called Stedman Sextuples. It was a half-and-half composition and the opening course had 13 bobs. The turning course was a most formidable piece of work, for the getting of 7890XET to 8709TEX involved the use of twenty calls. It was the only part of the peal likely to cause anxiety. The peal was rung on June 24th, 1922 and the band sat as follows: T. Russam, A. Walker, P. O. Laflin, G. F. Swann, J. E. Groves, A. E. Norman and M. J. Morris. It was conducted by Albert Walker, and he has often related how they neared the half-way turning point with misgiving and how this long and difficult course was rung without the slightest misblow.

    The handbell company was now growing in strength and competence. Percy Laflin was incomparable as a ringer and striker, the youthful Albert Norman, known affectionately as "the Pup", had much of the genius of Swinfield and Poole, and Morris J. Morris was rivalled on the back pair only perhaps by his notable namesake Josiah at Leicester. To these must be added that great lover of Stedman Cinques, Alfred Paddon Smith; and with the coming of Frank Pervin and F. E. Haynes a truly great company emerged.

    For more than ten years handbell peals of Stedman Cinques came in great profusion, and at the meetings of the company it was customary to take turns in acting as umpire for the current peal attempt. Very few attempts failed. On December 15th, 1933 the climax was reached with a really brilliant performance. Agreement on a composition to be rung having been made, six men met, and with the exception of the man reserved for the tenors, each drew from a hat the number of the pair of bells he was to ring. Then, with each man on his merit as ringer and conductor, the peal was rung in complete silence. It was Albert Walker's 100th peal of Cinques on handbells, and the hospitality at 81 Baker Street afterwards was of a perfection to match the ringing that had preceded it. The performers of this fine feat were F. W. Perrens, G. F. Swann, A. E. Norman, A. Walker, F. E. Pervin, and M. J. Morris.

    Other times other manners. Handbell ringing has gone from Birmingham, and a century-old tradition has given place to the founding of another great reputation and the growth of another brilliant company, one highly skilled in the practice of Surprise Maximus. But perhaps the Stedman tradition is only veiled. Birmingham is seeking the Cinques record on tower bells. It may be that in the coming years there will be a return to the old love.

    Should the tenor bell and parish church clock strike together, a death will occur in the Minster precincts. (Ancient Peterborough tradition.)

    For many years regret has been expressed that the bells of Peterborough Cathedral are not rung in the traditional manner. Not unnaturally. city folk were considerably annoyed when the ring of ten, which surely sounded so resonant on the still air, was reduced to the meagre number of five. Not to be outdone, however, despite ominous assertions by leading architects, a gathering of volunteer ringers had an interview with a member of the Chapter, urging restoration of the bells. This gentleman evidently expressed willingness to further the desires of those concerned, but on application to the cathedral architect the opinion was again forthcoming that ringing would very likely endanger the West Front.

    However, it seems that some progress was made despite difficulties. A few years later, in 1399, it was agreed that the five bells be quarter-turned and rehung at a cost of $£ 300$. But again bad luck dogged the ringers' efforts Several people arrived at the Cathedral to ring the bells for the first time after renovation, one, Mr. A. J. Abrams, journeying 28 miles from Chatteris on his penny-farthing. He claimed to be the last person to ring the tenor to an extent of Grandsire Doubles. The wedding of a well-known couple was as good an excuse as any to ring the bells, and word had been passed round far and wide that the five would be ringing that particular afternoon. The attendant of misfortune was not far away and this memorable reopening proved too much for him. Architect and the West Front won the day. For 67 years the bells have remained inactive.

    The present bells-of good casting- occupy the same positions alongside empty spaces for five more. They have never been rung to a peal. Each bell is suspended from a substantial wooden headstock, and has plain bearings. Wheels and stays are in good order. The steel frame is excellent and practically rustfree. In fact, with the exceotion that there are no ropes. one would think that the bells were rung only yesterday. To ring them would require a little grease on the bearings, otherwise everything appears to he in very reasonable condition. The ringing chamber is spacious, and leather ine-holds, despite intentions of vandals, still remain fixed to the floor.

    Argument against ringing the bells seems a little less feasible when viewing the unequal weight distribution-over four tons- wholly directed to one side of the tower. This could, over the years, weaken the structure; perhaps more so than actually ringing bells which have been scientifically hung. To centralise them or, better still, install a light ring of eight, would not, I think, jeopardise the safety of the fabric. In recent years the West Front-major obstacle as far as ringing is concerned-has been very effectively secured by an elaborate tie-rod arrangement. In the past the bells may well have been too heavy for this type of architecture. but one feels that a ring with a tenor not exceeding 15 cwt. hung perhaps 12 feet lower in the tower would do no harm. The tower is solid enough and shows no tendency to slide back. as does its unfortunate twin, 60 or 70 feet away.

    Sympathetic inclinations have been forthcoming from powers that he regarding the possibility of restoring the bells. but the Dean and Chapter are at present heavily committed with urgent restoration work to the fabric. Bell restoration at this stage is therefore looked upon as an expensive "luxury" item. It is hoped that the day is not too far distant when a ring of hells is heard again from the north-west tower of this very lovely building.

    The "old five" have been sounded for curfew at 8 p.m. in winter and 9 p.m. in summer, and on Sundays they are "clocked" for ten minutes before each service It seems ironic, for they are capable of better things.
    Footnote.-The writer desires to acknowledge the co-operation of Canon Cartwright, a Cathedral librarian, and Mr. Brook, head verger.

    ## FARNHAM DISTRICT STRIKING COMPETITION

    The striking competition of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Bentley on June 25th, when nine teams entered. A blustery afternoon at the start turned to rain before half the teams had "done their stuff" and the judge. Mr. Frank Darby, with his lady assistant had to complete their duties under the shelter of a good tree in the churchyard. This was goodhumouredly remarked on by Mr. Darby after an excellent tea, when he announced the results. Placings were: 1 Farnhorough 120 fauls). 2 Aldershot " $A$ " (22), 3 Bentley (23).
    The District Master. Mr. Tom Page, was in command for the evening ringing, a wide variety from rounds to Surprise catering for everybody.

    ## ESSEX ASSOCIATION

    THE 87th annual general meeting of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday, Ringing commenced at the Cathedral at $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and attempts were made to cater for all who wanted a ring before the service at 11 o'clock. This was conducted by the Cathedral Precentor, the Rev. T. Pugh, and the sermon was given by the Bishop of Colchester, a vice-president of the Association.
    The meeting started soon after midday with Mr. R. C. Heazel, Master of the Association, acting as chairman, supported by other officers and approximately 100 memters and friends. Proceedings were carried through expeditiously. Mr. P. J. Eves, the treasurer, presented the accounts and it was pleasing to note that an increase of $£ 1215 \mathrm{~s}$. 10d. in the General Account had brought the total realisable assets of the Association to just under $£ 400$. Grants totalling $£ 45$ had been made to Tolleshunt D'Arcy and Bentley Common out of the Bell Restoration Fund
    The annual report for 1965 (which had been circulated to members) was received for discussion. Criticism of the annual report came from various members and it was pointed out to the Master that a comprehensive check had taken place as to the accuracy of the annual report by two members, and that no less than 118 mistakes had been found. The majority of these mistakes were only small, negligible items but there were some to which the chairman could offer no explanation.

    ## GOOD YEAR FOR PEALS

    The Master, in his report. congratulated alt the younger members of the Association upon ringing more peals, often of an intricate nature, but he asked that wherever they might be ringing due consideration should be given to the incumbent and local ringers.

    The peals secretary. Mr. F. B. Lufkin, in his report, had recorded 106 peals rung. this heing the greatest total since 1961, when 112 were rung A pleasing feature was that the number of methods rung in a peal of spliced had risen to 11 Surprise Major methods and 105 Minor methods, both conducted by J. E. G. Roast. A peal of Stedman Cinques rung entirely by members of the South-Eastern Division at Chelmsford was successfully brought round. The leading peal ringer was James L. Towler, who scored 39, and the leading lady was Miss Lesley Ward, who rang 23. Seventeen members' rang their first peal during the year

    ## ELECTION OF OFFICERS

    Since no other nominations were received, the honorary officers were all re-elected: Master, R. C. Heazel: Deputy Master, H. Turner: hon. secretary. P. W. Saltmarsh; hon. treasurer, P. J. Eves: auditors, F. Goddard and D. J Mayell : trustees. J. Crowley. I. Panton and D. A. S. Symonds.
    It was mentioned that it might not be possible to hold next year's annual general meeting on Whit Monday because the Government was proposing to move the Bank Holiday to another Monday in May. The Master assured the house that the 88th annual general meeting would be held on the official public holiday.
    A vote of thanks was given by Mr. Heazel to all those who had been concerned in the arrangements and who had assisted in the meeting: special mention was made of the members of the South-Eastern Division who were preparing lunch and tea.
    After an excellent lunch in the Cathedral Hall ringing was resumed at towers surrounding Chelmsford until 9 p.m.

    ## BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

    On June 11th the Biggleswade District went to Potton for the first time in many years. The attendance unfortunately was rather low, Potton ringers and our District members making the majority. The business meeting was held before tea in the church. Our thanks to the Vicar for the service and his kind permission to use the bells; and the ladies for the sumptuous tea.

    # KLOKKEN EN KLOKKENGIEIERS (Bells and Founders)

    ## By VICTOR SHEPPARD

    DURING a visit to the Netherlands last winter I was most hospitably received by members of the Dutch bellringing fraternity and given the rare opportunity of ringing at Amsterdam's famous Westertoer. The tower and the church Westerkerk are always spoken of separately, for the ownership of the tower passed to the Municipality during the 18 th century, and performances on the 47 bell carillon or chiming the three bells are by permission of the Mayor; they are consequently concerned with civic and state occasions, and only incidentally with the church services; Christmas was one of these occasions.
    The carillon recital late on Christmas Eve was a musical experience of a high order, and Mr. Ritter's playing on this four-octave instrument brought forth nuances of expression I had never before associated with the bell. While this was going on people flocked into the great church; they came from all directions, by car, by tram. on foot and on the ubiquitous bicycle splashing through the rain; it was a dramatic sight to witness a multitude converging on the Westerkerk until the deacons shut the doors to latecomers. That great gathering sang to lift the roof. Next morning while it was yet dark I returned to the Wester', where at the invitation of Mr. Hans Waarnars 1 was to join the band. As a special treat we were allowed to climb to the upper gallery and watch Christmas Day dawn over the city.

    ## CHRISTMAS BELLS

    Returning past the bells I noted they were by $F$. Hemony ( 24 cwt . and 29 cwt .) and Claud Fremy ( 60 cwt .). Intended for swing chiming they are well tucked up in steel headstocks, indeed the tenor's bearings are halfwas down her waist ; the wooden wheels are made from solid segments and the rope channel merely a shallow groove without side cheeks; there are of course no stays. Most of the draught of 65 feet is taken up by wire rope and only the final 10 feet in the ringing chamber is of sisal rope, one inch diameter! Fourteen young people had assembled and I took the opportunity of speaking for ten minutes on change ringing before we began chiming-this was carried out in complete ignorance of the rudiments of striking-on these fine-toned bells.

    Some days later if was able to visit the village of Aarle-Rixtel and tour Petit and Fritsen's foundry. $P$. and Fritsen, as they are called, claim to be the world's largest and oldest bellfounders, supplying 80 per cent. of America's needs. Petit was an itinerant French founder, in 1660 he settled in the Catnolic south of Holland, and the statue of the Virgin still presides over their largest furnace. The present foundry was erected in 1899, and in 1958 an erecting shop was added. The factory employs 75 people and full use is made of electric welding: headstocks and wheels being fabricated from M.S. plate. The large furnace mentioned above is seldom used, for few bells over 40 cwt. are made now; when it is required the wood fire is lit at 7 a.m. for $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. casting: smaller furnaces are oil-fired.
    One department of this factory is solely concerned with assembling automatic player mechanisms, and a few years ago after a survey of the American market part of the plant was retooled for quantity production of handbells; their output over a range of 49 sizes is impressive. Interesting differences from English handbells are the patent clappei system using a circular leather "tap" washer with a see-saw type spring; the handles of bells over $4 \frac{1}{2}$ inches diameter are reinforced with a metal under-strap; whilst the bell's profile with its machined right-angle shoulder is quite distinctive. The importance of $\mathbf{P}$. and Fritsen to the village economy over three centuries was recognised in 1960 , when the road to the foundry was named Bell Founders Street and in return the Parish Church received a chime of bells.

    ## CASTING DIFFERENCES

    Ten miles from Aarle-Rixtel is the small town of Asten. home of Messrs. Eisbouts' bell foundry. Here I found Mr Andre Lehr their designer and distinguished historian of the subject. In casting tower bells there are again differences from English practice. The core is built upon a turntable while its strickle bnard is stationary. On this core the false bell is made in loam and finished with a thin ( $t \mathrm{~mm}$.) skin of wax; the ornaments and letters, also of wax. are easily attached This foundry's marks are two scene in the style of mediaeval wood carvings de picting the miracle at Cana and the Adoration of the Magi. The cope, a prefabricated assembly of ring sections is now built over the false bell. when baked dry, cope and core are separated and the false bell brushed out. At P. and Fritsen's they provide a by pass for the liquid metal to run in at the bottom o. the mould.
    Eisbouts. who do not make handbells. apply electronic tuning to an accuracy of onehundredth of a semitone. During hoth world wars it was the practice of the Germans 10 take bells for munitions and in this way Holland's churches were widely pillaged. Today the Dutch Historical Bell Commission has power to prevent the destruction of any bell made before 1860 , thus recasting old bells accurs only once or twice a year
    Few towns in Holland are without their carillon in church or secular tower, and many commercial buildings. schools and hotels are enlivened with automatic chimes of nine or twelve bells, similarly any jeweller's shop of repute is glad to advertise itself with a charming melody four times an hour.
    The Dutch society of ringers (N.K.V.) puhlish "Bell and Clapper" (Klok en Klepel) twice a year: it is invaluable for anyone interested in the carillon, there are articles on old founders and new installations throughout the world, notices of meetings, broadcasts and belfry gossio, too. The editor is Rinus de Jong, Dinkelstraat 2. Enschede. Holland. Membership. including all publications, costs 12s. per year.

    ## 21-Team Entry in Devon Contest

    TUCKED away in the rolling countryside of the South Hams, the village of Diptford was, on June 25 th, the scene of the annual invitation six-bell festıval organised by Mr . B. E. Bartlett, secretary of the South Devon Ringers' Association. The team from Modbury was first into the church tower at 1 o'clock and a further eight teams, each ringing the prize peal- 60 on Thirds-were to ring by service time at 4 o'clock. In conducting the service, the Rector, the Rev. L. W. Ford, was assisted by the Association's president. the Vicar of Kingsteignton.
    With the shortest possible interval between peals, the rest of the 21-team entry followed each other into the tower until Plymstock " $A$ " team brought the bells "down at a few minutes after 8.30. There had been no pauso for tea during the ringing. The judging was by Messrs T. G. Daw, C. J. Rice. R M. Elliott and A. Tapper. The George Middleton Shield and certificates were presented by the Rector to the six winning teams: Plymstock "A" team with no more than $9 \frac{1}{2}$ faults. West Alvington "A" (11 $1 \frac{1}{2}$ faults). Down St. Mary (12t). Stoke Gabriel (15), Bigbury (19f) and West Alvington "B" (22 ). Mr. Tapper as spokesman, remarked on the very high standard of ringing reached and the excellent co-operation shown throughout the competition in getting such a large entry "through" in such good time
    The financial side of the festival means that approximately $£ 20$ will be shared between Diptford and Blackawton Churches, the latter needing funds to "waterproof" its tower.

    ## oUTINGS

    ## PENN, STAFFS

    St. Bartholomew's ringers and friends, some 40 in number, enjoyed their annual outing on May 21 st, and for Penn ringers the route was unusual Leaving Penn at about 7.45 p.m., Hinckley was reached at approximately 9.30 a.m., when we enjoyed some fair ringing. Before leaving for Rugby there was a coffee adjournment. The fine ring of eight at St Andrew's, Rugby, was not put to good use. but the weight prevented the Penn contingent from giving of their best.
    After lunch we wended our way. keeping clear of the main trunk roads, to Uppingham, where the ringing was much more satisfactory. Tea was taken at Leicester, and then we rang on the delightful ring at the Cathedral
    Arriving back at Penn at about 11 p.m., it was agreed a good day had been had by all.

    Our thanks to all incumbents and the ringers who met us also to Harry, our coach driver, who has now completed ten years of outings with Penn ringers. C.F W.E.

    ## ST. PAUL'S, BURTON-ON-TRENI

    A teisurely and very pleasant tour took in five of the best towers in the area of the Cotswolds. Double Norwich was rung at Charlton Kings and Bourton-on-the-Water: at Stratford-on-Avon a ladies' band was made up to ring the bells for a short time Last tower of the dav was Ledbury. where a high standard of ringing was maintained. matching the delightful weather. Mr. John Smith was responsible for the efficient organisation.

    ## CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETINGS

    Dear Sir.-I do not propose to reply point by point 10 the contributions of Messrs. Corby and Ainsworth because the time is inopportune to risk being drawn into lengthy correspondence. It may well be that either or borh have as a secondary motive the purpose of ascertaining whether the new broom has more bristles than hair

    Mosl of the features had not been unobserved, and in particular the undesirable consequences of having to conduct the business meeting to an inconvenient timetable.

    Obviously. the Council is unable to tell its hosts when and how they shall entertain but I do hope that in future it will be pos: sible for arrangements to permit the Council to give undivided attention to the whole of the agenda.-Yours sincerely,

    ## VERNON BOTTOMLEY,  Secretary,

    Central Council of Church Bell Ringers.

    ## LOCAL VIEW

    Dear Sir,-1 feel that some local comment is required concerning the "strict" timetable of the Central Council meeting at Bath. It does seem that an impression has arisen that insufficient time was allotted to the afternoon session of the Council and that it was umperative that the business be concluded as expediently as possible in order to enjoy the social arrangements to the full.

    The timetable was agreed after careful study of the programme of recent years and, in fact, the Civic Reception was timed for a quarter of an hour later than those of 1965 and 1964 at Northampton and Truro. It was unfortunate that the meeting took place in a building that was open to the public and that the only room available for the reception was that in which the meeting rook place. Consequently the Spa Director had to insist that the room be cleared at 4 p.m. so that preparations be made. It was his suggestion that members might like to fill in the intervening period by viewing the Roman Baths. It was possible for the business to continue after the reception and the room was available for a longer evening session if required.-Yours faithfully,

    GWILYM SALMON,
    Secretary,
    Bath and Wells Diocesan Assn,

    ## TUTORS' HANDBOOK

    Dear Sir.-The ladder to successful change ringing might be said to contain three main rungs:
    (1) Handling a bell.
    (2) Ringing a tell in time with several others, which involves correctness both (a) in dovetailing with the rest and (b) in leading.
    (3) The basic essentials of change ringing itself.
    One may say that all this is fairly obvious. In the ". Beginners' Handbook," however, whilst (1) and (3) form the main divisions, item (2) is treated as a subsidiary part of (1).

    Considering its importance, would it now be more suitable to make this item a separate section, even though a smaller one? My own observations suggest that it would. Yours faithfully.

    Wilmslow, Cheshire.

    ## MANUAL FOR TUTORS

    Dear Sir,-In the report of the proceedings of the recent meeting of the Central Council it is stated that "There is need for a companion to the 'Beginners' Handbook, catering for the instructor,' and that a Tutor's Handbook was called for. This was realised some ten years ago, and we would draw attention to the fact that such a book, i.e., Part 1 of the Ringers" Manual of Reference, was first published in 1957 and has run through two editions. It deals with "Bell Handling and Control in the Elements of Change Ringing" and is the first exposition of the teaching of the " mechanics " of method ringing, before ringing of the methods themselves is attempted It caters for beginner and tutor alike, and has been used successfully by tutors of this College in teaching up to the stage when method ringing can be readily performed on learning the structure of the method itself.

    At the moment it is out of print, but a steady trickle of enquiries prompts our Administrative Committee to consider a third (again revised) edition. As a non-profit project these publications are a considerable financial responsibility, however, and a firm indication of demand is essential.

    The development of progressive ability to ring methods of increasing difficulty is being dealt with in the projected Pait III of this Manual series-"An Introduction to Method Ringing on Tower Bells." Six other Parts are planned to follow.-Yours faithfully.
    P. and P.R.O.,

    Southsea.

    ## WANTS FRONT PAGE CHANGE

    Dear Sir, - The item "Christmas Card Bells" (page 232) seems an appropriate encouragement to "have a go " at the frontispiece of "The Ringing World." I am of the opinion that the time is overdue for change to something more in keeping with the bells used for change ringing.-Yours faithfully.

    ## ISLE OF THANET WEDDING

    There was a big gathering of ringers at St. Peter's-in-Isle of Thanet on June 11th for the wedding of two popular members of the Kent County Association. Mr. John D. Faircloth, former Ringing Master and "Ringing World " correspondent for the Lewisham District, and Miss Mary Taylor.

    The Vicar, the Rev. T. E. Prichard, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Major H. Taylor, wore a full-length white rose-designed brocade dress and carried a white prayer book and a spray of red rosebuds.
    Mr. Gcofirey Fieiding was best man and Messrs. Ian Oram and Tony Lewis groomsmen. Among the ringers present were Kate and Andrew Macve, who had travelled from Buxton. Derbyshire, and Dave Manger and Jennifer Wright from Chelsfield. The reception at the Grand Ballroom Sun Lounge was attended by about 60 guests. In honour of the occasion a peal was rung at West Wickham. where John was a member of the local ham, where John was a membe band for a number of years.

    ## CORNISH CORRECTIONS

    When the Diocese of Truro was founded in 1877 the jurisdiction of the See comprised the whole of the county of Cornwall, the Isles of Scilly and three parishes in Devonshire, viz.: St. Giles-in-the-Heath ( 5 bells) with Virginstow (1). North Petherwyn (6) and Werrington (8). As from April ist this year North Petherwyn and Werrington have been transferred to Cornwall and that bulge of Devonshire into Cornwall has been eliminated. The line of the Rive: Tamar is the line of demarcation. Thus Cornwall gains a ring of six and a ring of eight to Devon's loss. Owners of "Dove" and peal ringers of the future please note!

    Another correction to be made is that the five tubular bells at St. Peter's, Newlyn, have given place to one new bell of 2 cwt . supplied by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Unfortunately the tiny tower will take no more, otherwise the Vicar, the Rev. H. E. Hosking, might have done better than this, for when Vicar of St. Mawgan-in-Pydar he completely restored the ring of eight there a few years ago

    Yet one more correction. Dove's Directory lists St. Clether as "Unringable." On Whit Monday the peal band from St. Mary's, Launceston, less the three Central Council representatives who had departed for Bath but augmented by Mrs. Carveth, were guided by Alan Carveth to Laneast (a useful and pleasant six) and from there to St . Clether (a ring of five). Both rings come under the care of the same incumbent, who had given permission to ring them.
    On arrival at St . Clether a typed note on the door to the beli-chamber was to the effect that the bells must not be rung until a new frame had been installed, but this must wait for more important undertakings to be completed. The first sight of an almost unused set of ropes was rather surprising. The key was obtained and the bell-frame inspected. Apart from birds having got partly through the wire mesh over one set of louvres, all was remarkably clean and the frame solid and apparently secure with fittings likewise. The bells were rung up singly, and then Alan remained aloft whilst they were rung in rounds. Such is always a moment of suspense, with the fear that tower and belis might momentarily collapse! As all seemed well a six-score of Grandsire was rung, and all that seemed needed was some oil. This will be taken on the next visit.

    St. Clether originally possessed four bells, but the tenor was recast into two trebles to make a ring of five. The present fourth and tenor are pre-Reformation bells. The day ended with a visit to a field called Chapel Park not far from the church, where can be found the remains of an altar and the Holy Well and which is the largest well chapel in Cornwall.

    ## KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

    ## Ashford District

    Ahout 40 people attended the meeting at Appledore on the hot, thundery afternoon of June 11th. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. N. Towse, who gave a very interesting address about the history of the church. Tea was enjoyed at the Village Hall, organised by the Appledore ringers. Mr. J. Willis took the chair at the short business meeting at the conclusion of which a comprehensive vote of thanks was expressed by Mr. Phelips of New Romney.

    Ringing continued until 9 p.m. but was not of a high standard in spite of the presence of the "Lurker" himself.

    ## PIXIES AT OTTERY ST. MARY

    According to legend the pixies who resided at Pixies Barlour at Ottery St. Mary, Devon, during the 15 th century, when the first bells were ordered for the Parish Church, hatched a terrible plot to get rid of those "horrid pieces of copper and tin," for the sound of bells is abhorred by pixies and such folk

    A spell was cast, and the train of horsedrawn wagons bringing the bells to the church was diverted towards the high cliffs overlooking the sea at Ladram Bay. With the first wagon and its precious load about to plunge some 500 feet into the sea, the man leading the horse trod on a thistle and way heard to utter "God bless my soul and St Mary."

    These words were the antidote to the spell apparently, and so at the last possible moment the bells were saved and the pixics defeated. Defeated at least for another year that is until the next Midsummer Day, when they would be able to try again to rid themselves of the sound of bells.

    Each year the local inhabitants have been successful in outwitting the pixies and this year was no exception, although they iried their hardest. At 7 p.m, the bells were ringing merrily but within a few seconds hoards of screaming little folk dressed in yellow and green with funny pointed hats arrived at the church and the bells came to an abrupt stand The ringers, as if under a spell, emerged from the tower one by one and were immediately trussed up and taken away by the pixies to a cave which they had erected in the town square and where they were to be imprisoned for ever. When all hope seemed gone and the townsfolk were resigned to the fact that the bells of Ottery St. Mary would now. be silent for ever, one ringer who was being exceptionally harshly treated by one of the little folk uttered the now famous words "God hless my soul and St. Mary," and so the spell was broken for another year. The ringers escaped from the cave and hurried back to the tower and celebrated their fantastic escane by ringing a quarter peal of Stedman Trides.
    Rumours heard by those "in contact" with the little folk during the weeks previous to their celebrations led them to persuade the tower captain. Charles Turner, to leave the town in order to avoid a nasty experience Normally this man would not let this sort of threat worry him, but even he could not afford to take a chance with the little folk. and it is no surprise that he left early on that very day for his annual holiday

    ## BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN

    ASSOCIATIONThe quarterly meeting of the Chew Branch was held at Clevedon St. Andrew's (8) on June 18th. Ringing preceded the service which was conducted by the Vicar, Preb. T. P Nicholls, and afterwards the company enjoyed a splendid tea.

    At the business meeting two new members were elected from Wraxall. Meetings, subject to permission, were arranged as follows: Quarterly. Nailsea (September): practice, Claptou-in-Gordano (July): joint with Frome Branch Farnborough (August).
    Strong criticism was received that the An nual Report had not yet been received. It was stressed tinat members should have it before the annual meeting to give them the chance to study it beforehand. Excuses for the delay in its production came in for caustic comment

    Further sharp criticism was levelled at the handling of the discussion on Rule 8 (Peal Booking Fees) at the annual meeting. Members pointed out that although the Association supported 'The Ringing World" by sending half the booking fee to the journal, this should not be a rule but subject to the decision of each annual meeting. A resolution to this effect was passed, for submission to the next A.G.M.

    Two Branch members, both from Long Ashton. were singled out for special mention: Peter Brtdle. who had that day taken part in the latest record-breaking peal of Surprise Major in 70 methods, and John Gilbert, for his part in the arrangements for the C.C his part in the

    HE University of Keele suciety's ouling to the Lake Uistrict began on June 17 tn as the pessimists predictid. with a thunderstorm tollowed by torrential rain. Consequently there was i hasty evacuation of the camp tite on the following morning for the warmth and sheiter of a local cafe.
    Starting at Ambleside (8, $32 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.) proved somewhat optmistic: only plain Bob Major came round. the tenor stubbornly refusing to tay up for the remainder.     At Keswick (8, 14 cwt.), the local organist demonstrated his instrument to those incerested, and methods rung here included Stedman. Cambridge and Kent, in which the local Ringing Master joined us. The nex call was at Buwness-on-Windermere (8, 13 wt.), where we rang the only course of Yorkshire of the outing

    ## LECKHAMPTON. GLOS

    Leckhampton. Glos. ringers made the most of a halfday outing on June 11th by a prompt start and good timekeeping.

    The light six at Siddington are very noisy and after a brief visit the coach left the county, and passengers enjoyed typical Wilishire downland scenery en route to Bishops Cannings said to have the first octave in the county. The bells are impressive, although an alarming bump from the tenor is disconcerting.

    Masien's Cafè. Calne. produced a most satısfactory tea. including the traditional Wiltshire cake The bells of St Mary's Church are three times the weight of our home tower, and we were content with standard methods to do iustice to these excellent bells

    Feeling more at home at Malmesbury, we saught up $c$, the organiser's selected methods and rang Oxford Bob Triples and Little Bob Major The six at. North Cernev were last. and touches were suspiciously short when it became apparent that refreshment was very close at hand The final Cambridge Minor was much enjoyed by those ringing and the more tharsty listening
