A meeting of the S. and W. District was held at St. Mary's, Ealing, on Saturday, May 27th. Although the weather was warm, and the 'go' of the bells not 'great,' the gathering proved a success, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge were rung. A ringers' service, with a short address, was conducted by the Rev. F. J. L. Rees, and much appreciated. In the absence of the Vicar (the Rev. G. J. Sharp) he gave the association a hearty welcome.

The company were entertained to tea by the Vicar and wardens, to whom a vote of thanks was accorded for the use of the bells and their kind hospitality.

DEPTFORD.—At St. Nicholas' Church, on Easter Day, for 11 a.m. service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 44 mins.: J. W. Billing 1, A. J. Ford 2, F. Barnes 3, D. F. Ward 4, G. W. Harris 5, W. H. Daynes 6, G. H. Daynes 7, J. Monzies 8.—For evening service, another quarter-peal in the same method: F. Barnes 2, D. F. Ward 3, G. W. Harris 4, A. J. Ford 5, W. H. Billing 8, the rest as before. Both quarter-peals were conducted by G. H. Daynes.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

GUILDFORD DISTRICT.

A district meeting was held at Cranleigh, on Saturday, May 27th, 37 ringers being present from Cranleigh, Crawley, Dorking, Dunsfold, Ewhurst, Guildford (Holy Trinity and St. Nicolas), and Shere. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. P. Cunningham), and tea was provided in the Church Hut, the chair being taken by Sir Gerald Chadwyck Healey, supported by the Rector, the chairman of the committee, and Ringing Master.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold the summer meeting at Ramore, on August Bank Holiday, subject to the consent of the authorities.

A cordial vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding, to the Rector for conducting the service, and to the organist, was passed.

After the business, four members of the Cranleigh band gave some delightful selections of tunes on the handbells and touches of Grandsire and Stedman were also rung by some of the members present. Ringing on the tower bells was indulged in during the afternoon and evening.

A BRISTOL MEMORIAL.

On Sunday, April 9th, the 6th Batt. of the Gloucestershire Regiment marched to St. James' Church, Bristol, where their commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. F. W. Hek (commanding officer of the Battalion), unveiled the parish war memorial. The tablet, which is erected in the south porch of the church, is of handsome design, in bronze with a border of Devon marble, and contains the names of 109 men of St. James' and a suitable inscription. The service was most impressive, the Bishop performing the dedication. Prior to the service, St. James' Ringers Guild rang the bells half-muffled, but owing to the lack of time a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples had to be abandoned, and the bells brought round at 1,187 changes.

METHOD NOMENCLATURE.

That wonderful compilation of statistics, the Analysis which we published a fortnight ago, will have been studied with interest by our readers, and we hope that the immensity of work which it represents will have been fully appreciated. The details, so carefully collected and so accurately collated, are the labour of more than a year, and the Exercise owes a debt of gratitude to those members of the Committee who undertook the task. It is an exacting business and one which, in normal peal ringing years, calls for a great sacrifice of time and effort. Mr. Arthur King's death is an immeasurable loss, and what it really means to the Committee only those who have shared in the work can judge.

Two points occur in connection with the Committee's analysis and report to which we think we may refer. One was raised by a correspondent this week in connection with the points allotted to Double Norwich Maximus. Are the points allocated to peals on the higher numbers commensurate with the value given for peals on the lower numbers? Speaking generally, we think the twelve bell methods are certainly not too highly rated, compared with the ten and eight bell methods, for, the method apart, it is a well recognised fact that twelve bell ringing is a different 'ropesight' to ten or eight and more difficult to acquire. It might be well if, in the light of the most recent experience, the points allotted were reviewed, and in reviewing them, the opinions of ringers of the widest experience obtained. The present scale was fixed after years of experimenting in values, and it ought not hurriedly to be upset; but there does seem room for a certain amount of revision.

The second point to which we would refer is the naming of the Minor methods. We do not know what induced the Committee to resort to the names of flowers for one section. Perhaps it is that we have already some flower names for old Treble Bob methods; but to further perpetuate this class of title is hardly likely, in our view, to add to the already poor reputation of the Exercise in the choice of name for its methods. What will be the comment of an already mystified public when they read that their local ringers have distinguished themselves by ringing their first extent of Geranium Treble Bob! Such names are neither euphonious nor apt. Admittedly there is a difficulty in selecting a class of names which will not clash with the indiscriminate nomenclature which has gone before, and perhaps the Committee fell back upon flowers as being picturesque as well as being authorised by precedent. There were, however, the alternatives of rivers or mountains, or the far more numerous and still unused county and place names which might have been utilised, to say nothing of other groups which would have sounded less like the nursery. We agree with the Committee that some central authority should be appointed to control nomenclature in future, and so prevent difficulties arising which may extend beyond Minor methods. We also venture the hope that the new authority, if it comes into being, will aim at something different to such things as flowers in the names of methods. Such titles are not dignified.

On Saturday, May 20th, by the Ancient Society of College Youths, after an attempt for a peal at St. James' Leith, 1,136 Bob Major: G. Mann 1, E. Astley 2, W. C. S. Heathcote 3, C. Cleveland Ellis 4, T. O'Hara 5, J. Holman 6, A. E. Wreaks 7, J. E. Sykes (conductor) 8. The attempt for a peal was abandoned on account of the very bad 'go' of the 5th.

At St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, on May 24th, 480 each of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles: J. Holman 1, T. O'Hara 2, E. Astley 3, A. E. Wreaks 4, J. E. Sykes 5, W. N. Ashby 6. The tenor man had never seen a bell rope previous to April 30th last, and rang the covering bell with no assistance, and struck exceedingly well; and, what is more to the point, put the bell in its place.

BRISTOL—AN ANALYSIS.

By A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

In continuing our examination of the construction of a 'lead,' as it appears in a 'method,' we shall find it convenient to express our discoveries in diagrammatic form, thus:—

FIG. 1.

The 'last half-block' should be the 'reflection' of the first half-block. That is to say, if we take a pencil and trace out, by means of lines, the path of each unit (or bell) in the block T L L' T', we shall derive a sort of pattern of threads; and this pattern (hereinafter referred to as 'the design') will be found to be symmetrical about the line M N in the diagram; in other words, if the diagram be folded along the line M N, so that T' L' falls along T L, then every portion of the design in the last half-block T' L' R' H' will exactly fit over every corresponding bit of the design in the first half-block T L R H; from which it may easily be seen that a half-block is sufficient to fix the design of any method. Indeed, further investigation will reveal the fact that with methods of a certain character, a smaller division than the half-block (the quarter-block, in fact) is sufficient to fix their design. In proceeding towards this consideration, however, we have one further observation to make; and, since the half-blocks are similar, we will confine our attention to one; the first half-block. The path of the 'exempt unit' (or treble bell) diagonally across the half-block may be regarded as dividing it into 'below' and 'above' portions; marked as A and B respectively, in the first half-block; and as A' and B' respectively in the last half-block. The disposition of similarity of design should be noted; similar portions of the work being segregated above and below the treble's path; and extending from front to rear at the 'parting' of the blocks; and from rear to front at the parting of the half-blocks. All so-called 'single' methods have this characteristic, which plays a most vital part in the matter of extension.

Now, these portions A and B may, or may not, be similar in design. To determine this factor we must examine carefully the disposition of the component parts of the design about the diagonal line T R. Let us take the first half-block (T L R H) of our diagram, and divide it, by means of dotted lines, into four portions as in Fig 2 above.

The horizontal line E F divides the half-block into 1st and 2nd quarter-blocks; and the vertical line X Y divides the whole block into 'fore' and 'aft' parts.

The point O, where the Treble's path actually meets the crossing of these dividing lines should be specially noted in passing, since it demands very special attention in the matter of extension on all numbers which divide into two odd halves—e.g., 10=5+5; 14=7+7. Now, if the 'below' and 'above' portions (T H R and L T) be similar in design, the disposition of similarity will be found to be as indicated by the parallel system of lettering in Fig. 2; i.e., the fore-part of the first quarter-block (C/D), corresponds with the after-part of the 2nd quarter-block (O/D); and the after-part of the first quarter-block (P') corresponds with the fore-part of the second quarter-block. From which it will be seen that if we regard the quarter blocks as capable of being spun round upon the vertical axis X Y; then, by revolving the 2nd quarter-block through 180 degrees (or half a circle), C'D' will come to rest immediately beneath O/D; and P' beneath P'; whence, by folding the lower part, or 2nd quarter-block (along the quarter-block dividing line E F) over on to the upper part or first-quarter-block E F L T, we shall find that every bit of design in the lower part will fit exactly over every corresponding bit of design in the upper part. Hence, in the case of methods in which we find symmetry about the diagonal line T R, a quarter-block is quite sufficient to fix the design of the method. Such methods are known to us as double methods.

A reference to Fig. 2 will remind us of the fact that the design in the fore-part T X Y H corresponds exactly with the design in the after-part R Y X L; and thus, obviously, the work of each 'part' extends inwards for correspondingly equal distances from the sides (T H and R L) of the half-block. (Note that there is possibility of intermingling of 'fore' and 'after' work, nevertheless.) All double methods have this characteristic, which plays a most vital part in the matter of extension.

There is one further sub-division of the 'block,' to which we shall refer—the action. In plain methods the section will consist of two rows of symbols (or changes); and in Treble Bob methods, of four; the section being defined by the position of the exempt 'unit' (or Treble bell) among the other units (or working bells), as it moves through each successive pair of places from 'lead' to 'lie,' and from 'lie' to 'lead,' in the block. Thus we can fix the position of every bit of design of a method, relatively to the place occupied by the Treble bell; at every step of its path through half-block, quarter-block, or section.

We are now in a position to apply our conclusions in a practical fashion—to the method of Bristol. Since this is a Treble Bob method, each 'section' will consist of four rows of symbols (changes). An examination of a 'block' in this method at once reveals the fact that it is a 'double' method; and thus, as we have already determined, 'the work of the fore and after parts will extend inwards from both front and rear to an equal degree.' In the case of Bristol, however, we are at once struck with a most remarkable and vital fact, namely, that the extension inwards, of the 'fore' and 'after' work in this double method, does NOT involve intermingling of the work. That is, a unit in the throes of its fore-work never finds itself amongst any of the after-work units (or bells), and vice versa. Hence we call these portions, in Bristol, 'Front Work' and 'Back Work' respectively. Further examination of the Bristol block reveals the fact that the 'Front Work' is linked to the 'Back Work' (and vice versa) by means of a portion (extending right across the block), which may be known as the Transition Work. With these essential characteristics before us, we have now to determine whether the example of 'Bristol' originally given to us (Bristol Major—T.B.) is, in itself an already extended form of some more elementary expression of permutation, on these principles; or whether, with the basic form of Bristol in the Major, with a Treble Bob hunt, there are diminutions or reductions—even with a plain-hunt treble bell.

When this matter has been settled, we shall be in a position to proceed with question of extension of the method from the Major to the Royal; and from the Royal to the Maximus.

A DISPUTED CLAIM.

To the Editor.

Sir,—If your correspondent who sent the report of the peal of Cambridge Royal at Loughborough will refer to 'Bell News,' August 17th, 1907, he will find that a peal of Treble Bob Royal was rung at Loughborough on August 5th, 1907, in 3 hours and 22 minutes in which I took part.—Yours truly,

W. PYE.

DEATH OF A HERTFORDSHIRE WORTHY.

AN OCTOGENARIAN RINGER.

There passed to rest on Wednesday, May 3rd, in his 84th year, Mr. John Dennis, of Park Lodge, Knebworth, who had been a member of the Hertford County Association for many years. His love for bells and bell ringing was inspiring, and no less for the ringers themselves, for he was a man who found happiness in serving others, and it delighted him always to prepare the bells for any peal band. The writer recalls the words of the late Mr. Bert Prewett, who described him affectionately as 'dear old Dennis.' These words sum up the man, and would form a pleasing epitaph to his departed memory. Thank God, that whilst there are still those who do great exploits, there are also others who in their day and generation 'abide by the stuff,' and equally do His bidding, adding sweetness to those around by the sincerity of their lives. Such was the life of our departed friend.

For well-nigh half a century he had been an employe on the estate of Lord Lytton, and was greatly respected by the family.

The funeral took place on Saturday, May 6th, at St. Mary's Church, and was largely attended, among those present being the Dowager Countess of Lytton, Mrs. Rainey, Messrs. Bateman, Ferris, Grace, Nash, Lawrence, and many others. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. C. C. Lambert. By a coincidence the Hitchin band had arranged for a peal of Double Norwich, so the bells were muffled, but to the regret of all, after nearly three hours' ringing, a shift course brought the bells to stand. To the members of the family is extended a finger's sympathy.

G. W. C.

block (C/D), corresponds with the after-part of the first quarter-block (O/D); and the after-part of the first quarter-block (P') corresponds with the fore-part of the second quarter-block. From which it will be seen that if we regard the quarter blocks as capable of being spun round upon the vertical axis X Y; then, by revolving the 2nd quarter-block through 180 degrees (or half a circle), C'D' will

LONG PEAL AT OLDHAM.

W. Harrison's 10,176 of Kent Treble Bob Major, rung at Moorside, Oldham, on Saturday week, was the longest length on the bells, and it is believed to be about 90 years since a peal of this length was rung in Oldham. The peal was rung for the jubilee of the dedication of the church, 'go' being called at 8.30 a.m. The first part end came up in 2 hrs. 4 mins.; the second part was rung in 2 hrs. 2 mins., and the last part 2 hrs. 4 mins., the bells coming round at 2.40 p.m.

The ringers were warmly congratulated at the finish of the peal, and were afterwards entertained to dinner by the descendants of the donor of the bells (the late Mr. James Mellodew). The band heartily thanked their hosts for the hospitality. Four of the ringers (Messrs. A. Wild, F. Lawton, H. Barlow and C. E. Platt) belonged to Moorside, and the others were Messrs. I. Schofield, St. Mark's, Glodwick; S. Butterworth, St. Mary's, Oldham; S. Holt, St. Leonard's, Middleton; and B. Thorp, St. Michael's, Ashton-under-Lyne.

WEATHER BEATS RINGERS.

On Empire Day, May 24th, a company of ringers of the district, assisted by the esteemed Master of the Oxford Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), met at High Wycombe in an attempt for Stedman Cinques. In spite of the tropical weather which prevailed, the ringers, favoured with excellent going bells and one of the most spacious and cool ringing chambers in the kingdom, had great hopes of a successful peal; but, alas! in the 8th course it became evident the elements were getting the better of at least one of the men on the heavy end, and in response to a distress signal the bells were called home true at 1,306 changes in one hour: J. Hayes (conductor) 1, J. Gransbury 2, G. Twitchen 3, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn 4, R. Coles 5, J. C. Truss 6, F. Boreham 7, J. Evans 8, F. W. Boxell 9, E. R. Coles 10, S. T. Goodchild 11, J. W. Wilkins 12.

PRESENTATION.

At Eardisland, Hereford, on May 27th, a combined practice was held, when ringing took place in the following methods: Grandsire, Plain Bob and Canterbury Pleasure Doubles and Bob Minor.

A presentation was made to Mr. J. Preece, of Staunton-on-Arrow, of a silver inkstand, in the shape of a church bell, on the occasion of his marriage to Miss O. M. Powell. It was subscribed to by his ringing friends of the Hereford Guild, thirteen towers being included in the list of subscribers. The inkstand bore the following inscription: 'Hereford Diocesan Guild. Presented to Mr. J. Preece, May 11th, 1922.'

Mr. Preece has been captain of the band at Staunton and in honour of the wedding on May 11th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung: W. Davies 1, J. Jones 2, A. Talbot (conductor) 3, J. Stirtion 4, F. Lane 5, J. Miles 6.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Western district was held on Saturday, May 27th, at Chester-le-Street, when upwards of 30 ringers were present. Ringing went on from 3 to 8.30 p.m., with an interval for tea, which, kindly arranged by the lady ringers, was served in the Institute. The touches included Cambridge Surprise, Stedman, Grandsire, Kent Treble Bob and various other methods. The ringers hailed from Whitley Bay, North Shields, Newcastle, Gateshead, Consett, Tanfield and Chester.

RE-DEDICATION OF LONGHOPE BELLS.

REPLY TO THE ALLEGED COMPLAINT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of the 28th ult. was published a letter from Mr. J. Williams, hon. secretary, Forest Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, accusing the 'Barnwood men' of grave discourtesy. As hon. secretary to the Barnwood Ringers, I am in a position to state, that they did not apply for and obtain permission to open the bells of Longhope on the day of re-dedication; therefore, your correspondent's aspersions, however justified, have been cast upon the wrong company. Knowing this, we had intended not to rush into print on the matter, but a letter sent later to our captain asking for the facts, warrants a little effort. I think in vindication of those so accused. I did attend Longhope myself, but as a member of another company, and although not responsible for any arrangements, I think I may safely state the facts, without being accused of 'butting in,' and keeping strictly to facts which, unfortunately, Mr. Williams failed to do.

I was informed, as far back as December, 1921, that the Longhope ringers would be pleased if we would go down to open their bells (incidentally, one of the 'offenders' happens to be a former member of Longhope band). Further communications in similar terms followed in January, March and April, 1922, from the Vicar and another prominent gentleman of Longhope, together with a kind invitation to tea at the Vicarage at 5 p.m. on the 19th April, the day of re-dedication. Arrived there, the bells were raised after tea, three minutes before service which commenced at 7 p.m., were rung for two minutes during service, and the service ended at 8.20 p.m. The opening band then rang a 720 of Plain Bob Minor, two six-scores of Grandsire Doubles, and lowered the bells at 8.55 p.m., which left no time to spare to catch the last train (9.30) for home.

Now for Mr. Williams' demeanour at Longhope. He evidently forgot to mention that he had applied for permission to open the bells, but was told that another band had been engaged previously. This obviously nettled him, as he gave out the impression of having come expressly to cause trouble, for soon after arrival he turned and said to one of our band, 'What business have you chaps got here? I shall want to know something about this.' In fact, he was so aggressive that his manner led one of the Longhope ringers to remark, 'If that is the Association, we're better without it.' Had Mr. Williams been in a better frame of mind, he would probably have remembered things more clearly, as I challenge his statement that a waiting band of anxious ringers entered the tower. I was in the tower the whole of the 35 minutes the bells were rung, and with the exception of one or two Longhope men (not change ringers yet) no other band entered the tower, and although I saw several men peering in, they may have been but interested villagers, as they never attempted to enter. Also, the Longhope men have invited us to pay another visit at Whitsun, and with Mr. Williams' kind permission, we intend accepting their invitation, unless he knows a band that has more right to go there. With apologies for encroaching on your space to such an extent, I am, Sir, yours truly,

ALFRED E. WAITE.

Hon. Secretary, Barnwood Ringers.

MR. HARRY WITHERS IN TORONTO.

GATHERING OF ENGLISH RINGERS.

By PETER LAFLIN.

The ringers scattered about in Toronto are not likely to forget the occasion when Mr. Harry Withers, of England, in general, and Selly Oak, in particular, came to open the new carillon at the Metropolitan Methodist Church in this city. Mr. Withers officially opened this splendid instrument at 10.30 on April 2nd, and at that time and at 12.30, and thereafter every evening from 7 to 8, he played to an audience of thousands at a time, the side streets being literally crammed with motor-cars belonging to people from a distance, all come to hear this masterly performer on bells. The audiences were delighted with favourite hymns, old songs, and popular melodies, sometimes played simply, and again with such a wealth of harmony as to make even ringers, who knew previously of Harry Withers' powers, to wonder; what shall we say, then, of the thousands whose only previous knowledge of bells was the City Hall clock chimings?

At this point one cannot help congratulating the founders of the peal on the purity of tone in this carillon, coupled with the wish that they had hung an octave of them for change ringing.

However, the change ringers were not disappointed. Five or six of them mustered at each performance to give Mr. Withers as near as real ringers' welcome as we could, and, behold, we were rewarded, for almost the first thing on these bells was a course of Erin Caters, well and, we believe, truly tapped on the back ten. This Mr. Withers repeated on another occasion.

On Wednesday evening, April 5th, Mr. Withers tapped us a course of Double Norwich Major on the back eight. As the tenor is 4 tons in A, it sounded noble, but almost too low to believe. What a pity to have to tap it!

The following ringers met Mr. Withers and spent two or three evenings with him, some of us brushing up our handbell practice a bit: Messrs. C. F. White (late Worcestershire), Fryer (Worcestershire), Boylin (Selly Oak), E. N. Howard (Kent), P. Laffin (Norwich and Ipswich), H. J. Burgess (Herts).

The ringing included 180 Bob Minor, a course of Grandsire Triples (several times), 120 of Grandsire Doubles, which was repeated at a party given in Mr. Withers' honour by an interested gentleman, on Wednesday, April 5th. These touches were performed on a set of handbells, produced by Mr. Chas. F. White, who is living just out of Toronto, and had procured a set of 25 (in chromatic scale) to while away his spare time.

At time of writing I am glad to say that Mr. Withers has been engaged to remain one more week by the donor of the bells, Mr. C. D. Massey. Apparently he is not alone in his desire to hear more bell music, for thousands were again listening for their favourite tunes on Saturday, after it became known that Mr. Withers had not left the city.

The letter is unduly long, but ringing sadly needs a boost in Canada. The papers have published columns on the subject of this carillon, and Mr. Withers' photo is known to all, and the founders have their share of the credit. Now, please, let bell founders in general do their best to persuade church authorities in Canada to hang at least one peal for ringing somewhere in Toronto, and not to lay too much stress on carillons, remembering that if the change ringers of England had never exerted themselves, there would not be too much bell founding going on.

We could get a start here now with the whole city awake to bell music if we had only one peal to practise on. We intend as it is to get some handbell practice as we are able, for it was noticeable last week that our efforts to ring in hand were not marked by perfection's wand. I doubt if Mr. Withers himself could say what Messrs. Laffin and White were doing at times. However, we did our best after being out of practice for some years.

As the wives accompanied us on these ringing expeditions and displayed quite a lot of enthusiasm, we should have no trouble in getting recruits, and, in conclusion, let me say that any ringer thinking of trying his luck in Toronto or near by, is asked to make the fact known either through 'The Ringing World' or direct to P. Laffin, 45, Innes Avenue, Toronto, as a direct effort is being made to locate ringers in this city, and get them together a bit more, possibly for handbell practice to keep alive the old spirit which exists between ringers, and which would die in any other company.

NOTICE OF LONG PEAL.

FORTHCOMING ATTEMPT ON THE TREBLE BOB RECORD.

On Whit Saturday, June 10th, 1922, eight members of the Lancashire Association will start for Mr. Gabriel Lindoff's 18,240 of Kent Treble Bob Major at the Parish Church, Mottram-in-Longdendale, Cheshire, starting at 8 a.m.

HEREFORD GUILD.

Staunton-on-Wye is an interesting parish of 2,376 acres situated on the main road between Hereford-Hay, on an eminence overlooking the Valley of the Wye. The view from the churchyard is extensive and very beautiful. The church, which seats 200, is dedicated to St. Mary-the-Virgin, and is built in the Transitional style, with a fine square western tower and spire, containing a ring of six bells (tenor 14 cwt.), which were repaired and rehung in 1873, during the incumbency of the late Canon Phillott, who was Rector of Staunton for 35 years. The registers date from 1677.

The ringing room contains a well-written peal board recording some change ringing performed on the bells in 1876, soon after they were restored—possibly the first extent of Minor in the county, viz., a 720 Kent Treble Bob, and one of Grandsire, the band being Cheltenham ringers, including a youngster of those days—Mr. G. H. Phillott—who rang the 4th, and, no doubt, had coaxed the remainder of the band to visit his father's church.

On a bright May day, in 1922, another gathering took place at Staunton, when some 22 members of the Clifford district of the Hereford Diocesan Guild assembled in response to Secretary Hyett's notice. Service in the church at 4.30 p.m., with an interesting address by the Vicar, the Rev. R. G. M. Ellwood, M.A. and a tea on the front lawn of the New House, served by Mrs. Jones and daughters, were much appreciated by those present.

The Vicar, who is also a practical ringer, took the chair at the business meeting, at which several new hands and two honorary members were elected. The place of next meeting was decided upon viz., Clifford, in mid-August.

Afterwards the tower was again visited, and Minor and Doubles rung, the following towers having representatives of the rope; Burghill, Madley, Clifford, Ainsley, Allensmore, Bredwardine, Kinnersley and Staunton-on-Wye.

Needless to add, the Vicar and organist, Mrs. Jones and family, were all thanked, on behalf of the Clifford district members, for kindnesses given, and at nine o'clock the stack of twenty cycles were free-wheeling to a lower level and homewards.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-day is the anniversary of the first peal rung in America. On June 9th, 1850, a band of College Youths rang Holt's ten-part in 3 hrs. 15 mins., at Philadelphia, Henry Haley being the conductor.

On June 15th, 1851, the first peal of Stedman Caters on handbells was rung. This was at the Osborn Arms, Henage Street, London, the band being John Cox, George Ferris, William Cooter, Mat. Wood and James Dwight. This band except John Cox, rang the first peal of Stedman Triples on handbells, in 1854, and, with Cox and Haley, the first peal of Stedman Cinques in the same year.

Mr. George Pullinger, who rang his first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major on Saturday week, lost his right arm in the war. Although thus handicapped, he is a splendid striker, and long draught does not trouble him.

SKILGATE CHURCH BELLS RESTORED.

The five bells at the fine old Norman Church of St. John's, Skilgate Taunton, have just been restored, the 2nd recast and a new treble added by Messrs. Aggett, of Chagford. The tenor is a fine-toned bell, cast by the Purdue family, and the 4th and 3rd are dated 1609 and 1612 respectively. The recast 2nd was a Roger Sampson bell. The new treble makes the ring into a fine musical peal of six. The bells have all been hung on the most modern fittings, with massive iron frames on steel joists, the bells turning on Messrs. Aggett's patent adjustable bearings.

YE PASSING SHOW.

AMUSING COMMENTS ON CURRENT TOPICS.

BY 'ONCE A BEGINNER.'

Good Mistress Peppery did catch me moping midst a pile of recent issues of a well-known weekly: circulation, alas! a long way short of a million, owing, no doubt, to the penurious straits to which its hapless readers are reduced, that they e'en borrow mine; at which the good Mistress Peppery doth wax wroth with me. I would that she did exhaust her spleen on the borrowers, who do pay nothing; not on my poor defenceless pate, but of that more anon.

She did berate me soundly, and did liken my face to wet week in harvest, and did demand to know for why I did look so mournful; and when I did explain in my most lucid manner that I had been at the study of Euclid, ye good Dame did with much vigour suggest that 'twould be better were I placed in some institution for ye curing of strained mentalities. But I did reason with enforced patience with ye good woman, and did explain that ye good and learned Mr. Euclid must have known more about ye noble art than she did wot of: as he did say in his good axioms that 'things that are equal to ye same thing are equal to one another,' whereat she did laugh heartily at what she did call my poor excuses, and did say that she never hoped to make me see reason and did tell me that as a spouse I was like ye famed egg of ye curate, 'only good in parts.'

But I did point out to her that the 'R.W.' showed plainly that ye writers therein knew ye good Euclid to be in ye right, as in ye recent issues each had shown that he himself was ye one of sense and probity, and ye other man was wrong, though ye other man in his writings did say ye self and same thing; whereat good Mistress Peppery did ask how that could be, when a black cat has white whiskers ye puss could not then be black, and I thereon had to go over ye ground a second time to explain to ye perverse woman that if A did ring a peal of ye method known as Double St. Peter Mancroft of the length of 5,874 changes and turn ye tenor bell into ye changes of ye weight of 27 cwt., and if B did ring a peal of ye same intricate method of ye length of 5,701 changes and turn in ye massive tenor of ye weight of 17 cwt., then ye good Mr. B did claim to have done that which ye good Mr. A had not ye abilities to compass, and that ye hapless A had lost. And, moreover, that if ye good Mr. Y did come and ring a peal of ye grand method concocted by ye good Mr. Fabian of St. Benet's of ye length of 6,009 changes, and did turn in ye tenor behind of ye weight of 30 cwt., then both ye good Mr. 27 cwt. and ye good Mr. 17 cwt. had done ye arduous task of ye dodging of ye heavy weights for naught, and ye good Mr. Y had won ye race by a length, having rung into ye next street. And when ye good Mistress Peppery did ask me to explain my vapourings I did show her how the part can sometimes be greater than ye whole, and that did I multiply ye three feats by ye mystic numeral of three ye result would be ye same as to ye ability; whereon ye good woman did ask me to explain to her where all ye water did come from when ye tide did come up, and did get wroth with me when I did say to her, 'Wait till after Whitsun Tuesday and we shall all have ye answer good and plenty.'

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

TUESDAY'S MEETING AT LINCOLN.

The 29th annual meeting of the Central Council (the second session of the eleventh Council) was held in the historic Chapter House at Lincoln Cathedral on Tuesday, when 56 members were present as follows:—

Ancient Society of College Youths.—Mr. A. A. Hughes.
Bath and Wells Diocesan.—Mr. J. Hunt.
Bedfordshire.—Mr. A. E. Sharman.
Chester Diocesan.—Rev. A. T. Beeston and Mr. W. Bibby.

Royal Cumberland Youths.—Mr. J. Parker.
St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich.—Rev. H. Drake and Mr. C. Mee.
Salisbury Diocesan.—Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Major Hughes D'Aeth, Mr. T. H. Beams.
Surrey.—Messrs. C. F. Johnston and C. Dean.
Warwickshire.—Mr. H. Argyle.
Winchester.—Mr. G. Williams.
Worcestershire.—Messrs. A. E. Parsons and W. Short.
Yorkshire.—Rev. C. O. Marshall.
Honorary Members.—Revs. E. W. Carpenter and C. D. P. Davies, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, Messrs. H. Chapman, J. George, J. W. Parker and H. W. Wilde.

The chair was taken by the President (Canon Coleridge), who opened the proceedings with prayer.

The Dean of Lincoln then extended a welcome to the Council. He remarked that it was a critical time for them in Lincoln, for they were hard up, and one of their towers was in danger. As ringers they would sympathise with the authorities, because, he believed he was right in saying, the very creation of a tower was due to the development of bell ringing. If it had not been for the Christian art in which they were all particularly interested they might never have had any towers. In that cathedral, the first chapel he had the pleasure of helping to restore had been called the Ringers' Chapel, and they would find upon its walls the names of the captains of the ringers from the time when ringing developed, down to the days of the Civil War, when many of their fine old windows and beautiful brasses were destroyed. The record of the names was continued from 1913, when the chapel was restored. He hoped they would be satisfied that it had been taken out of the category of a lumber room, and had been restored for Christian worship. The Lincolnshire ringers had in mind the idea of perpetuating those of their number who had fallen in the war by adding to the peal at the Cathedral, which had been recast in his (the Dean's) time. The only thing he would now like to recast was 'Great Tom,' which, he was told, was out of tune with itself. He offered the Council a hearty welcome to Lincoln.

The President expressed the Council's thanks for the welcome given to them, and for his kindness in placing the Chapter House at their disposal.

Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. A. H. Boughey, the Rev. C. E. Matthews, Major J. H. B. Hesse, Messrs. R. A. Daniel, W. R. Small, P. J. Johnson, W. J. Nevard, A. Paddon Smith, W. Lawrence, J. R. Sharman, G. Bolland, A. Roberts, W. T. Cockerill, C. Edwards, W. Shepherd and W. Storey.

The President explained that owing to an important engagement in London he would have to leave early, much to his regret, as he had not missed a meeting since the Council was formed.

It was resolved that Ald. J. S. Pritchett (who is Recorder of Lincoln) should take the chair on the president's departure, and the President humorously remarked that he felt sure that if the Recorder had known he was to preside, he would have come in his silk stockings and full bottom wig (laughter).

The President made reference to the loss which the Council had sustained by the death of Mr. A. T. King, and the members expressed their sympathy with the widow and relatives by rising in silence.

The Hon. Secretary and Treasurer Mr. E. A. Young presented the financial statement, which showed that the year began with £75 10s. 6d. in hand, and that affiliation fees amounted to £12 2s. 6d., interest on stock to £4 5s. 8d., and sale of publications to £2 13s. 8d. The expenditure was £17 6s. 8d., leaving £2 10s. in hand, and a balance at bank of £74 10s.

In reply to Alderman Pritchett it was stated that there was in addition £100 invested.

The Hon. Librarian (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) reported that during the twelve months 469 copies of publications had been sold, against 419 in the previous year. The profits on the sales were £2 13s. 8d., against £3 17s. 9d., but the reduced profit was due to the increased cost of advertising. With regard to the library, it grew slowly, and he now had the records of ringing news from 1871 to the present date, with the exception of five years—1901, 1902 and 1906 to 1909.

Mr. Chapman said Mr. Samuel Wood, of Ashton-under-Lyne, had all the 'Bell News' from the beginning, which he would be willing to give to the library, and the offer of the copies to complete the collection was accepted with thanks.

The Rev. A. H. Boughey, Mr. H. Chapman, Mr. J. W. Parker and the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson were re-elected hon. members, and it was resolved not to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. A. T. King.

Mr. H. W. Wilde made a report for the Peal Collection Committee, stating that the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson was engaged in the proof and checking of peals of Treble Bob with tenors parted.

It was intimated that the typed copies of the Collection of Treble Bob peals were available for loan to any ringer on applying to the Librarian, and paying postage.

Mr. W. Willson presented a report for the Literature and Press Committee, stating that they were on the alert for any Bill inimical to the interests of ringers which might be introduced into Parliament, and that the committee were prepared to give their assistance to any company where any local attempt was made to suppress change ringing.—The report was adopted.

With Alderman Pritchett in the chair, the Council proceeded to the consideration of the Method Committee's report, made by the Rev. H. Law James, who stated that they had been waiting since 1913 for their work to be published, and suggested that in view of estimates they had received, they might be rewarded for their work by having the collection of Plain Major methods published.

On the motion of Mr. J. Griffin, it was resolved that the printing of these methods be proceeded with.

It was also decided to leave to the committee the responsibility of naming the methods or otherwise.

The Rev. E. W. Carpenter presented the Peals Analysis Committee's report, already published in our columns, and this was adopted, Mr. J. W. Parker being added to the committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. King.

On the report of the Towers and Bellries Committee, the Council confirmed the co-optation of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, who presented the report (already published), and paid a tribute to the splendid work of Mr. E. H. Lewis in connection with the negotiations with the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings.

The report of the Records Committee was presented by the Rev. A. T. Beeston, and accepted. The question of the publication of the schedule of performances was left over until next year.

Alderman Chambers moved a resolution, that it is desirable to establish in the area of each ringing association a Bell Restoration Fund, from which grants may be made for the restoration of any rings of bells within the area when local funds are insufficient to meet the cost.

A suggestion made by the Chairman that the motion be made to read, 'the county and diocesan associations be asked to consider the possibility of establishing in their respective areas such a fund was accepted by the mover, and in this form the motion was carried.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies called attention to certain references in Snowdon's 'Grandsire' to Holt's ten-part and six-part peals of Grandsire Triples, and produced figures to contradict the assertion that in each case the two halves of these peals began at the same place.

On the motion of the Rev. H. Drake, it was resolved that a card of instructions on the care and use of bells suitable for hanging in a tower be drawn up, the assistance of Messrs. C. Johnston, P. Taylor and A. A. Hughes being sought in the matter.

Another motion by the Rev. H. Drake, that every tower should be officially affiliated to some one society and only one, was defeated by a large majority.

The Council discussed a motion that the Standing Committee 'consider the advisability and practicability of proving and recording all new compositions before being rung or published,' but the proposal was defeated.

It was resolved to appoint a special committee in connection with the exhibit upon campanology at the Science Museum, South Kensington, and the following were appointed: Revs. C. D. P. Davies, C. W. O. Jenkyn and E. Banks James, Messrs. E. A. Young, C. F. Johnston, A. Hughes, Pryce Taylor, and E. H. Lewis.

HON. SECRETARY'S PROTEST.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As secretary of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, I feel I must protest against the remarks contained in the last paragraph of your leading article in this issue of 'The Ringing World' of 19th May. You state therein in connection with the question of amalgamation between the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association and the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association that the latter rejected the overtures of the former. This is entirely false. The facts of the case were that representatives of the Yorkshire Association attended a meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association held last year, and the matter was deferred in order that the Yorkshire Association might define the lines of each association and arrange a further meeting. The only result of this was that the Yorkshire Association decided to let the matter drop.

The facts of the case are very different to what you represent in your article and I shall be obliged if you will give as prominent a place in your paper to this correction as you have done to the original remarks. I would add that if and when the Yorkshire Association have any reasonable proposals to put forward as to amalgamation they will as usual receive the courteous consideration and attention of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association.—Yours faithfully,

26, High Street,

North Ormesby.

T. METCALFE,

Hon. Secretary.

We readily publish Mr. Metcalfe's letter, but, in endeavouring in our article to show by an example that two associations could work amicably side by side in the same territory, we were quite unaware that we had misrepresented the position. We may be wrong, but we can see little to complain of, and our readers may judge for themselves how far our article was wide of the mark.

In our issue of November 18, 1921, was the report of a meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, held on October 22nd supplied to us by Mr. Metcalfe himself. In this report it was stated that the President and Secretary of the Yorkshire Association laid their ideas (for amalgamation) before the meeting, the suggestion being that the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association should be cut into two, one part to be called the North-East Division and the other to be called the Cleveland Division.

The Cleveland men offered strong objection to the present proposals, and no resolution was passed.

The report added that the Yorkshire Association's representatives were asked to give the proposed dividing line between the N.E. and the Cleveland Division, and when that was done the Cleveland Association would further consider the matter.

At a meeting of the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association on April 1st, it was unanimously decided that no further steps be taken to bring about amalgamation with the Yorkshire and the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, but that the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association continue to work with the Cleveland Association in the spirit of friendship and goodwill which is so evident amongst its members, and to the best of their ability to further the art of change ringing in this Northern area.

Our reference on May 19th was as follows: 'The Yorkshire Association . . . made overtures for the absorption of the Cleveland Association. This proposal was rejected by the latter, and, only a few months ago, a resolution was passed at a meeting of the Northern District of the Yorkshire Association to drop the amalgamation scheme and continue as friendly rivals in the promotion of the art of change ringing.'—Ed. 'R.W.'

A resolution of which Mr. J. H. Banks (Lancashire Association) had sent late notice, was formally moved by Canon Elsee to the effect that in future no method be named after a county or county town without the consent of the principal ringing association within the area.

The motion, however, did not find favour, and was defeated.

Several places were proposed for next year's meeting, and Salisbury was eventually chosen.

On the motion of Mr. J. Griffin, it was resolved to communicate officially a report of the proceedings of the Council to the affiliated associations, by sending to each a reprint of the summary appearing in 'The Ringing World.'

It was also resolved that the Roll of Honour of fallen ringers should be suitably inscribed and deposited in the library.

The last two resolutions were put forward upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Votes of thanks to the Dean and Chapter and to the Chairman terminated the business.

The members afterwards inspected the Cathedral under the guidance of the Dean.

A collection during the day, in aid of the Cathedral Restoration Fund, realised nine guineas.

In the evening the visitors were the guests at tea of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, and later indulged in ringing on various peals of bells in the city.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Bristol Branch of the above Association was held at Olveston on Saturday, May 20th, about 50 members being present from Berkeley, Iron Acton, Henbury, Stoke Bishop, Mangotsfield, Slouchcombe, Almousbury, Dursley, Thornbury, Stone, Bristol and Weymouth. Several touches of Stedman and Grandsire were rung before service, which was well attended, and at which the Rev. R. A. Whitford officiated.

An excellent tea followed, arrangements having been made by Mr. and Mrs. G. White.—The Master, in a few well-chosen words, moved a vote of deepest sympathy to Mr. Jesse Tyler in the sad loss of his wife, who was well known among ringers.

The Hon. Treasurer (Mr. F. K. Howell) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. Canon Fisher for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. R. A. Whitford for kindly taking the service at short notice.—A vote of thanks was also passed to Mr. and Mrs. White and friends for very kindly arranging tea.

Mr. R. A. Pitcher read a letter from the Rev. Canon Fisher, wishing the members a very successful meeting, and expressing his regret at not being with them.

Mr. C. H. Jennings, of Wyke Regis Weymouth, extended the good wishes of the Salisbury Guild to the meeting, and the sentiments were reciprocated. Mr. Jennings, who is at present a patient at the Aston Court Hospital, near Bristol, being asked to convey them to his Guild.

The bells were again set going, and Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Double Norwich was rung.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.*VISIT TO HISTORIC GREAT BEDWYN.

On Saturday, May 20th, the Marlborough Branch of the above Guild held a meeting at Gt. Bedwyn, an historical but somewhat inaccessible village on the eastern borders of the county of Wilts. Although the former glory of the place has vanished—it was an ancient borough and the scene of many events of national interest—the situation is beautiful, and there are many fine old houses to attract visitors. Wulfhall was the seat of the Seymours and Henry VIII. married Lady Jane Seymour here in 1536. The King visited Wulfhall again in 1539 with his entire Court, so that there have been some stirring scenes in this old-world village.

The Church of St. Mary is a fine cruciform building of the late Norman period, and contains some interesting monuments notably to Sir Adam de Stokke and Sir John Seymour, the father of Lady Jane Seymour. But the bells were the attraction that lured the members of the Guild to this well favoured spot, as their reputation had long been known, but it has been a difficult matter to arrange a meeting there for various reasons. However, on this occasion the difficulties had been overcome, and 16 ringers assembled, the bells being kept going for many hours.

The bells, which go well, were restored by Mr. Thos. Blackburn many years ago, and are well worth a visit, as they form such a grand and historical ring. The first four were cast by Henry Knight in 1671, the glorious fifth by Perdue in 1656, and the noble tenor by Wallis in 1623, the diameter being 52 in., and the reputed weight 28 cwt., the probable weight being 23 to 25 cwt. Altogether they are an harmonious and fine toned peal with the fifth excelling. Larks, the authority on Wiltshire bells, says that for liveliness and clearness of tone they are not to be surpassed by any, and we quite agree.

Several six-courses of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles were accomplished, and a 720 of Bob Minor attempted, but lost in the last part through a shift course.

DEVON GUILD.*PROPAGANDA WORK SUCCEEDING.

A ringing festival of the Devonshire Guild (Exeter Branch) was held at Otterton on Saturday, May 20th. The proceedings commenced with a hearty service in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. E. C. Grimaldi (Vicar). Tea and meeting were subsequently held on the lawn at the Vicarage, amongst those present being Mr. E. Shepherd, chairman of the branch; Rev. E. C. Grimaldi, Rev. J. B. Ball, of Littleham, and 52 members from Ottery St. Mary, Withercombe Raleigh, Littleham, Collaton Raleigh, Topham, Christow, Otterton and Exeter.

Letters were read from the President of the Guild (the Rev. Maitland Kelly) and the district hon. secretary (Mr. N. J. Southwood), both regretting their inability to be present.

Seventeen new members were elected, including the Rev. Canon Boles, Newton St. Cyres; the Rev. F. Knight, Upton Pyne, and the Vicar of Withercombe Raleigh.

The Chairman ably outlined the objects of the meeting, and said that it was held principally for propaganda work, in the hope that it would be the means of spreading the art of change ringing. It was very gratifying to be able to say that the art was being taken up in the country districts with much enthusiasm.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar of Otterton for conducting the service and the incumbents for the use of the bells, were carried unanimously.

Some very good touches were rung on the bells at Otterton, East Budleigh and Collaton Raleigh.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at St. Mary Cray, on May 6th. Some very good ringing was done in Doubles and Minor Methods up to Cambridge Surprise. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. H. Stevenson (Vicar), who also gave an address.

The members then adjourned to tea, kindly provided by the Vicar, and fully enjoyed by the 24 present. Tea over, the hand-bells were produced, and a course of Grandsire Caters and one of Cinques were rung, the latter by fathers and their sons.

The business meeting followed.—The Vicar, who presided, gave the association a hearty welcome. On their last visit he said, the St. Mary Cray ringers did not belong to the association, now they had a good band all of whom were members.

Four new members were elected, and Eynsford was selected for the meeting in July.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address, for his hospitality, and for presiding; also to the organist for his assistance at the service. The tower was afterwards again visited, and a well-struck 720 of Kent Treble Bob, non-conducted, was rung.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

Last week's meeting of the Central Council at Lincoln was, in one respect at any rate, conspicuously successful. Although the fact that the ancient city where the meeting took place was rather far afield for many of the members, and only 56 attended, the business transacted was interesting, and, generally speaking, progressive. There was a long agenda, but, thanks to the businesslike ability with which both the chairmen of the day conducted affairs, the programme was completed with sufficient time to spare to enable the visitors to be shown round the Cathedral by the Dean before they sat down to tea.

The principal part of the morning session was occupied with considering the Committees' reports, and it is good to note that in practically all cases, progress had been made during the year with the work which is entrusted to these bodies. Although the Council, two years ago, went to the trouble of having the collection of peals of Treble Bob typed, and much labour was spent upon the task, only one application for the loan of a volume had been received by the librarian. This volume of peals contains most of what is best in these compositions, and with the large number of Treble Bob ringers that there are throughout the country, we should have thought much greater use might have been made of the collection. The fact that only one call was made for the volume rather goes to prove that ringers have already got sufficient compositions of this character, and except that a number would have purchased copies to add to their existing collection of ringing books, we doubt if there would have been a very large sale if the publication had been printed. In the circumstances therefore, the Council appear to have been well justified in not going to the expense of printing. At the same time, we should like to see more ringers taking advantage of the opportunity of examining the collection, and taking from it any compositions that appeal to them.

For the first time for some years the Literature and Press Committee had something to report. But it was only the persistent energy of Mr. Willson which enabled this to be done, otherwise, apparently, we should have to report that for yet another year this Committee had failed to do any work. The feature which Mr. Willson and the new members are more particularly interested in is that of 'Ringing Defence,' and they have laid the plans which they think best suited to possible future requirements.

As was pointed out by the Secretary of the Salisbury Guild, the important point to remember is that local ringing associations should be very much on the alert to see that any regulations inimical to the use of bells should

Messrs. CHARLES CARR, Ltd.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Bellfounders,

are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Bells of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all lovers of Bell Music.

In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most 'up-to-date' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO THE RECASTING AND REHANGING OF EXISTING PEALS.

Orders may be placed now for delivery at a future date to suit the convenience of clients.

not be introduced into any special by-laws which should be granted to local authorities by the Ministry of Health. Ringers will do well to keep this point constantly before them, as temporary lapses might easily result in bells being included in some arbitrary by-law for the suppression of nuisances.

LADIES' GUILD.
WESTERN DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting was held at Long Ashton, near Bristol, on Saturday, June 10th. There were about 30 members and their friends present. They were made very welcome by the Vicar and the ringers of Long Ashton. Special thanks are due to Mr. Yeo, and to the ladies who so kindly arranged tea in the Church House, to the Vicar for conducting the service, and to Miss Orchard, of Portishead, for acting as organist. The Guild were delighted to have an old friend, Mrs. John Thomas, among them again.

It is hoped to hold an intermediate meeting for practice at Clapton-in-Gordano on Wednesday evening, July 12th, and to arrange the next quarterly meeting in Bath on (if possible) the third Saturday in September.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
EASTERN DIVISION.

A quarterly meeting was held at Rotherfield on Saturday, June 10th, when members from the following towers attended: Brighton (St. Peter's), Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Mayfield, Rotherfield, Leves and Tunbridge Wells. Mr. Frank Bennett, of Brighton, and Mr. H. Parkes, of Mersham, Kent, were also present.

The bells, which are a very fine peal, by Mears and Stainbank, were put in motion by 2.30 p.m., and good practice was had in methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to Double Norwich Major. Divine service was held at 4.30 p.m., a short address being given by the Rector (the Rev. A. F. Thornhill, M.A.). The collection was in aid of the Sussex County Diocesan Bell Restoration Fund. Afterwards 27 sat down to tea in the War Memorial Hall, and the business meeting followed.

Mr. W. D. Smith having been voted to the chair, the following new members were elected: Messrs. W. Smith, Reg. Holden, W. Rogers, Stanley Saunders, F. Holmwood, C. Brasier, junr. (of Rotherfield), and Mr. Harry Parkes, of Mersham, Kent, as a non-resident life member. The election of Mr. Elwin Charman was also confirmed. It was proposed by Mr. A. R. Miles, and seconded by Mr. Ross, that the next quarterly meeting be held at Waldron, and this was carried unanimously.

Mr. G. W. Stokes (the hon. secretary) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector (the Rev. A. F. Thornhill, M.A.) for the use of the bells and his address at the service, and also to Mr. Brasier for the trouble he had taken in arranging the meeting.—This was supported by Mr. A. R. Miles.—Mr. G. H. House proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. W. D. Smith for presiding at the business meeting.

Mr. Smith, in responding, stated that he was pleased to see that the Eastern Division had come forward and initiated the Sussex County Bell Restoration Fund, by making a collection at the service that day, especially so as it had been moved as a resolution at the recent Central Council meeting that it was desirable to establish a Bell Restoration Fund in each ringing association area. He was more than pleased to see that the members had somewhat anticipated this.

This terminated the meeting, and the members then returned to the tower and enjoyed further touches on the fine ring of bells.

FALSE PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to have to give notice that the peal of Bob Royal, rung at Beccles on June 3rd, 1922, and published in the 'Ringing World' last week was false.

I should also like to warn other conductors that the peal, by Henry Dains, in the C.C. Collection, Section II., No. 21, is the false composition, and would advise them to mark same.—Yours faithfully,
EDWIN R. GOATE.

Smallgate, Beccles.

'SURPRISE' MEETING.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In your issue of May 26th, I see report of a 'Surprise' meeting at Sevenoaks on May 20th. I read this with great interest, and would like to see the idea carried out by other associations. It cannot fail to lead to a more general practice of the Surprise methods. I consider the idea a good one.—Yours truly,
'WEST RIDING.'

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting was held in Northampton on Whit Monday, June 6th.

The proceedings opened at 10.30, when the Vicar of St. Giles, the Rev. — Trehear, unveiled a tablet in St. Giles' belfry, which recorded the successful ringing of four peals, being one each of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, one of Plain Bob Royal, and one of Kent Treble Bob Royal, all of which were conducted by Mr. W. Rogers of Northampton.—The Vicar said how pleased he was to come into the belfry and take part in anything that was of interest to the ringers. He thanked them for their work in ringing for the services; he said he wished it were possible to have the bells rung for every service that took place in the church.

Divine service was held in St. Giles' Church, when the Vicar preached a very suitable sermon. A collection was taken for the Belfry Repairs Fund, which amounted to 17s. 10d.

Lunch followed at the Cinema Cafe, Market Square, at which (in the absence of the Rev. H. E. Fitzherbert, President of the Association) the Rev. J. P. Friend, Rector of Collingtree, presided. Others present were the Rev. J. C. Hichens, vice-president of Gullsbrough; Rev. J. White, Pitsford; Mr. W. T. Wilson, treasurer of the Association; Mr. D. J. Nichols, general secretary; Mr. E. Barber, and K. Turner, district secretary; Mr. Drage, Long Eaton; Mr. A. King, Luton; Mr. W. Malins and Mr. J. W. Chandler, Rugby; Messrs. A. Markwell, C. Herbert, and J. Herbert, Woburn Sands. A company of about 50 was present.

An apology was received from the Rev. H. E. Fitzherbert, who was unable to be present as he was away on his holidays.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Rev. J. P. Friend, Rector of Collingtree, was elected president. Mr. D. J. Nichols and Mr. W. T. Wilson were re-elected general secretary and treasurer respectively. Mr. M. Hobbs and Mr. J. Saddington were re-elected auditors.

The general secretaries reported that the financial position of the association had improved to a considerable extent, owing to the increased subscription, which has now been in operation for a full year, and the accounts shows a profit on the year's working of £12 19s. 2d., which, he thought, was very satisfactory. He hoped the members of the various districts will give the committee their most earnest support in their endeavour to place the association on a sound financial footing.

The Belfry Repairs Fund is still increasing, and now shows a balance in hand of £28 4s. 10d.

The number of towers in union with the association is 67, an increase of four on last year. There are now 496 members, an increase of four since last year, being 43 honorary and 453 ringing members.

Forty-eight peals have been rung during the year being an increase of three from last year.

A grant of five guineas was made from the Belfry Repairs Fund towards the restoration of Peterborough Cathedral bells.

A similar grant of three guineas was also made to Grafton Underwood, a small parish in the Kettering district.

The Rev. H. J. T. Eacott, Vicar of Desborough, was elected an honorary member of the Association.

A vote of thanks to the retiring president (the Rev. H. E. Fitzherbert) for his services during the past year, was unanimously carried.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting of the association in Northampton next Whit Monday.

The President moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of St. Giles for conducting the service and preaching such an excellent and practical sermon; also to the clergy of Northampton for placing the bells of the various churches at the disposal of the ringers during the day.

Touches were brought round in all the standard methods, and some very good ringing was enjoyed by mixed companies.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY.

At the annual meeting, held at Chesterfield on May 6th, 60 ringers were present from 21 towers. The bells were rung during the time available: 3-4.15 and 7-9; and nearly three hours were occupied with a service (at which the Assistant Secretary gave an address), tea, and the business meeting. The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson read the lesson at the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (Canon Shaw).

At the meeting, Mr. Tarlton of North Wingfield, took the chair, as president, for the last time after nine years, and he was supported by the hon. secretary (Mr. Sam Thomas) also about to resign, after holding office for eight years for a second time, and having helped other secretaries in the years between.

Mr. Thomas reported 25 towers affiliated with the society, nearly 250 members, less or more; an average attendance at meetings of 45, a marked improvement among the young members, which seems likely to be continued; 24 peals since May, 1921, in 11 different methods in 11 different towers. In closing this, his 9th report, he gave some sound advice. As one of the old ringers who had worked with enthusiasm for the church in the cause of the belfry, he impressed upon the younger members to insist upon good conduct in the belfry.

The balance sheet showed a small deficit of a few shillings. The expenses included one unusual item, and the subscription had never been increased. The deposit amounted to £16 0s. 7d.

The Secretary spoke of the death of Mr. William Warburton, who was an active member a few years ago. The last time they saw him at a meeting was in March, 1921, when he wore the expression of one who was bearing his suffering with fortitude.

Canon Shaw remarked upon the enthusiasm of the ringers; he thanked them in the name of the Church for the work they did. Their work he said, was appreciated, although not obviously. People expected to hear the bells at the usual times, and when they did not hear them, they immediately asked 'why this silence?'

The places for meeting each month were announced. The methods rung before the company separated included Kent Treble Bob Royal, Stedman Caters, Yorkshire Surprise Major, Double Norwich, Grandsire Triples and Bob Major.

On Saturday June 3rd, the society had a most enjoyable meeting at Ecclesfield. Here is the 'Minster of the Moors,' a beautiful church of the latter part of the 15th century, with a spacious belfry. With the clear and bracing air of the moors, with howling on the parson's lawn, with two clergy with the party, and promising to be honorary members, with ringing many methods, with the sight of the hills around, and of that beautiful church fronting a semicircle of verdure on the heights towards the south, reaching out with its view of the valley towards the north-east and the vast expanse of the brown moors to the north and north-west, the members found the pleasure of this meeting as great as ever.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.*MR. SEAMER'S RETIREMENT.

The half-yearly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Ewerby, near Sleaford, on Saturday, May 27th, and was well attended by members from Lincoln, Grimsby, Gainsborough, Stow, Brantston, Sleaford, Heckington, Surfleet, and the local band. Although unavoidable delay was caused through a funeral, the splendid peal of ten bells (which were originally put in by the late Earl of Winchelsea) peaked out in Grandsire Caters, Stedman Caters, Cambridge Royal and Treble Ten. Service was held at 4.30, at which the Ringing Master gave a most inspiring address, and the lesson was read by the president of the branch.

After full justice had been done to the splendid tea provided by the proprietor of the Finch-Hatton Arms, the business meeting was held under the presidency of Mr. F. F. Linley. Upon a show of hands, Gainsborough was chosen as the place to hold the annual meeting (due notice of this meeting will appear in 'The Ringing World').

Mr. H. L. Pask, of Lincoln, was appointed branch secretary in place of Mr. J. W. Seamer, of Grimsby, who had resigned. — Mr. Seamer was specially thanked for his long and faithful services as secretary for a period of at least 15 years.

Hearty votes of thanks were also given to Mr. W. Dickenson, Heckington, for making arrangements for tea and for having the bells ready, to the Rev. W. A. Thomas for the use of the bells, to those who provided the excellent tea, and to Mr. Linley for kindly taking the chair.

The meeting was most successful and enjoyable, and will long be remembered by those who had the privilege of taking part in it.

LONG PEAL CELEBRATED.

On Whit Sunday, the 30th anniversary of the 1688 of Oxford Treble Bob, upon the bells of St. Mary's Church, Debenham, by eight Suffolk men, several members met and rang touches of Oxford and Double Norwich, the first touch, 672 Oxford, by J. Smith 1, W. C. Ramsey 2, W. G. Crickmer (conductor) 3, W. J. Groome 4, J. G. Ramsey 5, D. Collins 6, G. S. Rowe 7, J. C. G. Haggart 8, 448 of Double Norwich by the Debenham company, 672 Oxford, with A. S. Wightman, tenor. Messrs. Collins and Crickmer rang in the long peal, 1392.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. A. H. Pulling, of Guildford, is the first conductor to call Mr. John Carter's Odd and Even Bob Peal on handbells. This was accomplished on Saturday last after three previous attempts of 1hr. 10mins., 1hr. 40 mins. and 2hrs. 10mins.

Mr. Pulling is one of the most accomplished handbell conductors in the country, and he expresses the opinion that this peal is not so difficult to conduct as the Odd Bob Peal, although he conducted the Odd Bob at the first attempt, and the Odd and Even Bob at the fourth.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have just completed the re-hanging of Wandsworth Church bells, where they have utilised the old timber frame, and have made a most successful job. This, together with such restorations as those at Horsham, Billingshurst, Stafford, Maidstone and Hereford, all of which frames had previously been condemned, shows what can be accomplished with old timbers under careful treatment.

We learn that the restoration of the peal of 12 at Sheffield Cathedral will be completed in two or three weeks' time, and Taunton (12) will, it is hoped, be ready within about three months.

A peal of six at Great Crossby have just recently been re-hung in new framework by the Whitechapel Foundry.

Although he expressed the willingness to resign to admit new blood to the office, the members of the Essex Association have unanimously re-elected Mr. C. H. Howard as master for the ensuing year.

Owing to a trade dispute, we shall be unable to accept anything for publication which reaches us after Tuesday morning in each week. Will secretaries, who have notices to publish please make a special note of this?

Readers of the 'Ringing World' will regret to learn that the Editor has had a breakdown, and, under medical orders, has left home for a course of treatment. During his absence we hope our readers will forgive any shortcomings in connection with the publication.

THE DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

The annual gathering was held on Whit Monday at Ilfracombe, and just over fifty ringers attended from Bampton, Combe Martin, Dulverton, Exeter, Ilfracombe, Kelly, Littleham, Ottery St. Mary, Nottingham, Shute and Withycombe Raleigh. There was half an hour's ringing at the Parish Church prior to the service, which was conducted by the Rev. H. M. Johnson (Vicar of Ilfracombe), who gave an interesting address. The attendance at the service was excellent, and showed that there is the right spirit among the members. Luncheon was served at 1.15 at 45, High Street, and was succeeded by the general business meeting, which was presided over by the Rev. H. L. Pigott (Vicar of West Down).

The President of the Guild, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, spoke, and proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for allowing the meeting to be held at the Parish Church and for giving them so kindly a welcome.

The officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, and the name of Mr. S. M. Hutchinson (Shute) was added to those of honorary members' representatives. A welcome addition was made by the election of the Combe Martin band.

It was agreed to adopt the 'Form of Service' submitted to the meeting, and to hold the next annual meeting at Cullompton, subject to the necessary permission being granted. The tower of SS. Philip and James' Church unfortunately was not open for ringing owing to illness quite close to the church, so a few members motored the four miles to West Down.

In the Ilfracombe churchyard there can be seen two gravestones set up against the wall of the church, containing a list of the names of ten centenarians who died between 1784 and 1913. Someone who was going round the churchyard a short time ago was heard to remark, 'What new sect is that?'

The absence of the general secretary (Rev. D. S. Powell) was much regretted, but he was on his way to attend the Central Council meeting at Lincoln.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the above Society was held on Saturday, May 27th, at Guiseley. During the afternoon a peal of Bob Major was attempted, and brought to a successful result.

The business meeting was held at 7 p.m., the President (Mr. Peacock) being in the chair, supported by members from Bradford, Bolton Salby, Leeds Parish Church, Idle, and the local company.

It was agreed, on the motion of the President, that the Society should revert to the former practice of attempting a peal during the afternoon at all meetings, but to start not later than 3 p.m.

The usual votes of thanks were passed, and afterwards the bells were kept going until 8.30 p.m.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

In presenting a statement on behalf of the Peal Collection Committee, Mr. H. W. Wilde pointed out that the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson was engaged in checking and proving the peals of Treble Bob Major with tenors parted. This work took up a lot of time. He (Mr. Wilde) thought it would be interesting to know from the Librarian whether the typed copies of the Collection of Treble Bob peals had been made use of.

The Hon. Librarian (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) said only one application had been received, and that was from Bristol. He would like it understood that ringers had only to make application and pay the postage, which was about 1s., to have the loan of one of the copies.

The Rev. H. Law James thought the question was, was the Librarian prepared to receive a copy of a peal and see if it was in the Collection or not. When he (the speaker) prepared the Lincoln Diocesan Guild report every year, he received compositions for insertion. Perhaps he got a peal of Treble Bob, said to be composed by Mr. Somebody. He would go through Snowden, and through this and that, and would be unable to find it, and yet, when he looked at the peal, it was as old as the hills, though he could not find it anywhere. Could they go to the Collection and see if it were there?

The Librarian: I do not see why the Peal Collection Committee should not have a copy in their possession.

This suggestion was acted upon, and the Librarian authorised to part with a copy to the Chairman of the Peal Collection Committee.

RINGING DEFENCE.

The following report of the 'Literature and Press Committee,' under the heading of the 'Ringing Defence Committee,' was submitted by Mr. W. W. Willson, who recalled the fact that a year ago the Ringing Defence Committee was appointed and incorporated with the Literature and Press Committee. It was intended that the report should have been published before the meeting in 'The Ringing World,' but owing to the lethargy of certain members of the committee it had taken him twelve months to get four letters, and then the last of them was too late to permit the report being published before the meeting. He would suggest, if the Council were spending any money, that they should lay in a stock of ginger (laughter). The report was as follows:

Those who follow the deliberations of the Central Council will know that a committee of five, incorporating the Literature and Press Committee, was appointed to watch the interests of ringing and to meet attacks which may from time to time be organised against church bells. The following represents the opinions of the committee as to the course to be taken:—

(1) Legislation.—To request a member of the House of Commons to watch our interests is impracticable, as no member's seat is permanent. Your committee will, however, always be on the alert should any Bill inimical to our interests be brought in. In such case, before the Bill passed its 'Committee stage,' we should circularise each Association secretary, who would then send a protest in the name of his Association, to the sitting Parliamentary members for the area covered by the Association, with a request to oppose the Bill, or a particular clause in the Bill. Your committee will be prepared for any contingency, and seeing that between the first or second reading of the Bill, and its Committee stage, a considerable period elapses, ringers need be under no apprehension that a surprise measure can be sprung upon the Exercise.

(2) Attacks in the Press.—It is not desirable as a rule to answer every discontented objector to bell ringing; but in cases where the local company have reasons to think that an attempt is being made to suppress change ringing, this committee will, if requested, use its influence in the ringers' interests with the authorities responsible. In such instances, the secretary or captain of the tower should state the case concisely to the Secretary of the Central Council, and the Committee will then assist the company to fight their battle so far as it is possible to do so.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards thought it would interest the Council to hear of the way in which one objection was dealt with recently and that without any intervention on the part of the Committee. It was a parish in which it had been the custom not to ring the bells for practice between the months of May and October, although they were always rung on Sundays. Some young and energetic spirits came on the scene and obtained leave to practise during the summer months. One evening the Vicar was stopped by an elderly inhabitant who complained about this additional ringing. He said in his young days the bells of that church were never rung for practice during the summer, and such thing ought not to be. Just as he was ventilating his grievance a charabanc passed. 'You see a good many of these go through the village now, don't you?' said the Vicar. 'Yes,' replied the old man. 'You didn't see many of them in your young days, did you?' said the Vicar. 'No, we didn't,' was the reply. 'You see,' said the Vicar, 'you have to move with the times. You can no more stop the bells being rung in the summer than you can stop these charabancs going through the parish,' which effectively silenced the 'complaint.' Nor was that all, on the following Thursday the Vicar appeared in the belfry for the first time since he had been in the parish, and took a rope with the ringers for he was a ringer himself (applause). That was the kind of spirit the Council wanted to encourage. As to any possible legislation in Parliament, the thing to be watched before all else was the granting by the Ministry of Health of any additional powers to local authorities. It was when local authorities had extensive and indefinite powers given them, to deal with whole classes of what they considered nuisances, that the danger arose. It was a modern fashion to decree that cocks should not crow and it did not need a very great stretch of imagination to conceive that they might add to that that bells should not ring.

Mr. G. P. Burton said the scheme the Committee had outlined was about all that could be expected of them. It was impossible to watch all the Press. Often the Press attacked them in a subtle way, and recently a gross libel on ringing appeared in one of the daily papers, which stated that the cracking of the tower at Lincoln Cathedral was caused by the bells, when, as a matter of fact, there were no bells at all in the tower. That was the kind of thing that it was very difficult, if not impossible, to correct.

On the motion of Mr. A. L. Coleman, seconded by Mr. W. A. Cave, the report was adopted.

CANON COLERIDGE'S HONOUR.

At this stage, Alderman Pritchett took the chair, and said he highly appreciated the compliment that was paid him by electing him as temporary chairman. He was sorry they were to lose their President for the day, but he had had conferred upon him a great honour in Freemasonry, and he was going to London to receive that honour, or the insignia of it at the hands of the Duke of Connaught (applause). Canon Coleridge had been appointed Provincial Grand Chaplain of the Mark Masons of England (applause). Their President had said that he (the speaker) was an important man in the City of Lincoln. He believed theoretically he was second to the Mayor, and before everyone else. As a modest individual he did not lay stress on that, but if he could in any way lay claim to represent the City of Lincoln, in the absence of the Mayor, and on behalf of the City, he gave them a most cordial welcome. Had the Chapter House not been available, and had they applied for the use of the Council Chamber, he believed they would have got it. That too, was a venerable building, and had they met there he was sure the Mayor would have been present to welcome them (applause).

PLAIN MAJOR METHODS TO BE PRINTED.

The Rev. H. Law James, on behalf of the Methods Committee, reported that they were generally still in the same position as they were last year, but they had moved on in one way. He had got a letter from Mr. Lewis regretting that he could not be there, and stating that he had an estimate for printing the Plain Major Methods, and the estimate was just about £20. They had been waiting, he believed, since 1913 to print these methods. They had done their work, and now that the price had come as low as it had he thought they might be rewarded by having the methods printed. They could sell them at a shilling a copy and make a profit.

Mr. J. Griffin seconded. He said the matter had been before the Standing Committee that morning, and they recommended that the tender of 'The Ringing World' to print 500 copies each of the Collection of Plain Major Methods and the Collection of Little Methods be accepted. The Standing Committee had come to the conclusion that the work done by the Methods Committee should receive recognition by the publication of the Collections. The Committee had every confidence that members of the Exercise would take these copies, and eventually the Council would be reimbursed.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards seconded.

The Rev. H. Law James asked whether the Committee were to name the methods before publication, or to do as was done when the Minor methods were published, leave them without names and allow those who rang them to name them.

The Chairman suggested that the Committee should take the responsibility, and name them or leave them without names as they thought fit.—The motion was carried.

CONFERENCE REPORTS.

The honorary secretary, Mr. E. A. Young, of 155, Rushey Green, S.E.6, will be much obliged by the return to him of copies of the report of the conference of the S.P.A.B. and the Council. Several copies were placed upon the side table at Lincoln, for inspection of members, but not for distribution, as they are required for further circulation and amendment.

RE-DEDICATION OF LONGHOPE BELLS.

One often hear the figurative expression 'Mountains formed out of molehills,' and after all it is a thing very easy to accomplish, and so with reference to the above controversy I am very anxious that it should remain a molehill, as there are indications that it would not take very long to grow into a mountain, seeing that there are statements on either side which are flatly contradictory, and, therefore both cannot be true. Neither of the parties, however, had notebooks in hand at the time, hence neither can be too sure as to what was said, but there is a principle involved about which I want to say a word or two.

I have had the opportunity of discussing it with both sides, and after hearing both explanations, I think the matter may very well be allowed to drop. There appear to have been four distinct indiscretions, and I think if I enumerate them, it will turn the whole incident into an object lesson, which will be to our good, and which will, I hope, prevent any recurrence of a similar nature.

1. The Barnwood ringers, after having obtained permission to reopen the bells, would have been wise if they had taken the precaution to notify the branch secretary of the fact; as it goes without saying, that he would naturally desire to have all the information possible with regard to the opening or reopening of any peal of bells in his district.

2. The branch secretary having discovered that his own application for a branch opening was too late, would have been wise to have allowed it to remain at that, and left the matter to be dealt with at the branch meetings.

3. The Barnwood ringers, knowing that other ringers were out in the churchyard would have been wise to have allowed as many of them as possible to take part in the last short touch and the lowering.

4. The branch secretary, although labouring under a feeling of bitter resentment, would have been wiser not to have displayed his feelings in the presence of the local men, as the impression given is not the true spirit of the fraternity.

It will thus be seen that the whole thing is summed up in two indiscretions each, and now that we have had the benefit of the object lesson, I consider the matter should drop. Yours faithfully,

A. ALLAN BENNETT,

Hon. Branch Secretary.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION MEETING AT KING'S LYNN.

A general meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Branch of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association was held at King's Lynn on Whit Monday, when, by kind permission of the Rev. Canon J. C. Vawdrey, Vicar of St. Margaret's and St. Nicholas' Churches, King's Lynn, the fine ring of ten bells of the former church and the ring of eight of the latter were placed at the disposal of the members. Also, by kind permission of the Rev. H. S. Radcliffe, Rector of Gaywood, and Rural Dean of Lynn, the ring of six bells of St. Faith's, Gaywood, were open to the use of the members.

Luncheon was served at the Globe Hotel, and amongst those present were the Rev. Canon J. C. Vawdrey, the Rev. H. S. Radcliffe, Messrs. G. P. Burton, F. R. Borrett, G. Hawes, J. W. Eldred, T. Fitzjohn, A. L. Coleman (general secretary), and fourteen representatives from the King's Lynn district.

The general business meeting was held in the Archdeacon's Chapter Court in the Church of St. Nicholas, the Rev. Canon J. C. Vawdrey presiding, in place of the President (the Dean of Norwich), who was unavoidably prevented from attending the meeting.

The Chairman read the letter that Mr. A. L. Coleman (general secretary) had received from the Dean, expressing his great regret at being unable to be present at the meeting, and conveying his best wishes to the members for a successful meeting.

The General Secretary, Mr. A. L. Coleman, said that it was with deep regret he had to announce the great loss the King's Lynn district had sustained by the death of the late Mr. J. W. Sedgley, who had been a staunch and loyal supporter of the Association in the King's Lynn district, the late Mr. J. W. Sedgley having been a member of the Association for thirty-two years. He had been elected on September 23rd, 1890, and was for twenty-one years district secretary for the King's Lynn district, from 1890 to 1911.—A motion of sympathy and condolence was passed to the family of the deceased, which the secretary was instructed to forward to Mrs. Sedgley.

The following election of members was ratified, viz.: The Rev. S. Martin-Jones (Vicar of Wymondham), T. Hammond, F. Oswich, R. Pilgrim, W. Cousins, and J. Crisp.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of King's Lynn and the Rector of Gaywood for the use of their Parish Church bells, and a vote of thanks was also accorded to Mr. J. W. Eldred for his services in having the bells in order.

The Secretary announced that the August Bank Holiday meeting would be held at East Dereham on Monday, August 7th.

APPLETON LONG PEAL.

Dear Sir,—A reply to Mr. W. Willson, re the Appleton record peal, appears necessary, and as no officer of either society or the conductor seem to trouble, I shall endeavour to answer it in the fairest and straightest terms possible.

First of all, 'W. W.' seems to be ignorant of all circumstances, and has thrown himself into print without first finding some suitable and correct basis upon which to form his opinion. The main obstruction was to settle on a definite time, as two of the London ringers were undecided when they could fix a date.

The reason for not previously publishing the composition, I am not in a position to state; but I do know that Mr. Bert Langdon gave the figures away to the Rev. Canon Coleridge and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn before the attempt, and it had passed through many hands before the peal was accomplished.

The mainstay of Mr. Willson's remarks is the question of 'weight.' The Loughborough peal is in modern fittings, and the tenor—to take a ringer's expression—could be rung with a piece of string, while Appleton bells will, in a few years' time, be absolutely unringable. The 9th is in the original bearings of 119 years ago, and had 'W. W.' known that the tenor lubricators did not work, and that Mr. Fred White slogged away with dry bearings for six hours I feel sure his opinion would differ and his opinions never have appeared. Your correspondent asks which is the easier to ring, 30½ cwt. or 14½ cwt.? I am certain that a man with the experience of Mr. Willson ought to know better than to raise such a question. He decidedly ought to know that a heavy and true struck ring of bells, with, of course, good striking, is far easier than a light peal which hang on one's wrists. Therefore, I claim that there is comparison, and the Loughborough peal beaten by merit.

The Wigston long peal of Double Norwich is brought up. The previous record was attained at Kidlington, Oxon, with a tenor of 25 cwt., and 'W. W.' has—contrary to his present remarks—beaten it at Wigston with a tenor of about the same ratio as Loughborough to Appleton. I am, therefore, at a loss to understand why, under these circumstances, he has ventured to make the remarks he has.—Yours faithfully,

A LONDON RINGER.

RE-DEDICATION OF WANDSWORTH BELLS.

RESTORATION OF A LONDON SUBURBAN EIGHT.

The bells at the above church were re-dedicated on Thursday, the 8th inst., by the Bishop of Kingston, at the conclusion of the confirmation service. These bells, a musical peal of eight, tenor 15 cwt., were cast and erected by the Whitechapel Foundry in 1842. A good deal of scheming was evidently necessary to get them all hung on one level, for the bearings on one side of the 3rd and 4th are fitted into upright posts to enable the treble, 2nd and 5th and 6th to swing clear, and the larger bells had to be hung very short. They were also very 'odd struck,' and have been practically unringable for many years.

The framework has been strengthened with tie bolts and angle plates, and some of the joints made good, and the bells have been re-hung with new gudgeons and ball bearings. The 'go' is now perfect, and the Whitechapel Foundry (Messrs. Mears and Stainbank) were on Sunday last congratulated on the excellence of their work, after a peal of Stedman Triples (recorded in the peal columns) had been successfully accomplished under the leadership of the 'record peal' conductor. The greatest enthusiasm was displayed by the parishioners in the ringing, as it is many years since the bells have been properly heard, and the members of the band were deservedly complimented on the excellence of the striking.

After the peal, the ringers were entertained to tea by the Vicar and churchwardens who are most anxious to get a half-pulley band organised. The cost of the restoration has been generously borne by Mr. W. Faulkner, of the firm of Messrs. Faulkner, tobacco manufacturers.

This work is an interesting example of what can be done to an old frame under skilled workmanship, and the same firm have in hand similar work to the eight bells at Lambeth Parish Church.

COLLEGE SINGLE DOUBLES.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I notice in 'The Ringing World,' June 9th, the record of a peal of Doubles in seven methods rung 'in hand' at Ludlow, Shropshire, and I see that College Single is one of the seven. I should like to ask if the conductor of that peal would kindly let me know what College Single Doubles are, and how the calls are made. I am acquainted with College Single Minor; but I fail to get Doubles on that principle. There may be a College Single Doubles; but I have not heard of such before, and, being interested in the different methods of Doubles, should be glad of a little information on College Single.—Yours truly,

J. HAMMOND.

A RECORD PEAL OF TREBLE BOB.

The attempt for the new record length Treble Bob Major last Saturday at Mottram-in-Longdendale was successful. Ringing started at 8.30 a.m., at about 27 changes to the minute. The pace varied very little throughout the day, and the bells came round at 7.43 p.m. Numerous ringers were outside the tower at the finish, and warmly congratulated the band upon their success.

The composition by Mr. Gabriel Lindoff is the longest length yet composed in the method, viz., 18,240, and Mr. Lindoff had the satisfaction of calling the peal himself.

METHOD NOMENCLATURE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I say that I thoroughly agree with your remarks on nomenclature. The names of many of the methods recently published are thoroughly bad, such as 'Victory,' 'Princess Mary,' 'Wait and See.' The last is simply villainous. 'Premier' appears to make claims, which will not generally be conceded, good as the method undoubtedly is. The only safe plan is to select the name of some town or village, preferably a fine sounding name like Marlborough or Sandringham.—Yours,

J. ARMIGER TROLOPE.

NEW METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Barber accuses me of making statements which I cannot substantiate. I think the boot is on the other foot. When I said I had rung peals of Bristol with the 8th 12th courses at home, I never said the extent. He made the remark that I should have been nearer if I had said 12 leads. It needs no two opinions as to which is nearer 12 courses (78 leads) or 12. As regards his 'bounce' about the Whitley Bay band from treble to tenor saying that the back work of Bristol is monotonous, I question very much if this band authorised him to make such an assertion. I have rung a lot more Bristol with some of this band than he has, and I have never heard any of them mention it. If they did say so I am very much surprised, and it has taken them a long while to find it out, or they would not have rung so much of it. Again, why is the back work more monotonous than the front?

As regard my opinion about musical methods, I consider my opinion as good as his. Mr. Barber talks about Erin, Duffield, Dublin Complex and Forward being musical, I should like to know where it comes in. They remind me of the chorus of a song being repeated without the verses. I notice when he rings these methods he always calls them, otherwise he would never ring them, as he is the only person they appeal to. To any ordinary conductor they should present no terrors, for anyone who could not call them ought to pack up.

When a man, who rings such methods as these where there is only 40 odd changes in a course and nothing intricate in them, tells you that the back work of Bristol is monotonous, I will leave it to the Exercise to judge what his opinion is worth on the subject.—Yours,

W. PYE.

TWO STEPS FORWARD.

We referred in our last issue to some of the subjects dealt with at the Central Council meeting at Lincoln, and turn this week to the work of two of the Committees which deserves to be specially brought to the notice of the Exercise. At long last the years of labour of the Methods Committee is to be given the light of publicity, and two companion volumes to the existing Collection of Minor Methods are to appear. We urged the Council seriously to consider the publication of the Collection of Plain Major Methods which the committee completed just before the war began, and which was first held up because of the priority which it was thought ought to be given to the Collection of Peals of Treble Bob. With this obstacle removed by the decision to place typewritten copies of the Treble Bob peals in the Library, only the question of being able to print at a reasonable cost stood in the way, and it is a wise step that the Council have taken to now issue the Collections of Plain Major Methods and the Little Major Methods. Not only is it giving practical recognition to the labours of the Committee, but it should be of great benefit to the Exercise at large by providing eight-bell men, who are at present tied down to the stereotyped methods of old, with an opportunity to practise something new, and something which, within the class of methods dealt with, will provide scope for all capacities. The Collection of Minor Methods has done a great deal to raise the standard of six-bell ringing, and there is every reason to believe that the publication of the Major methods will, in due course, have the same effect upon eight-bell ringing. At any rate, it will remove any excuse there may be for men who, for various reasons, have to confine their efforts to plain methods, not to widen their experience and their practice. At the same time the Committee will now have some encouragement to go ahead in compiling the Collection of Treble Bob methods.

One of the best pieces of Committee work done during the year has been by the Towers and Belfries Committee, which has been able to come to grips with the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, that body which hitherto has been something of a bugbear to bell founders by the limitations which in many cases it induced authorities to place upon restorations. The Society has now, we believe, been brought to see that the scientific principles of bell engineering, such as have been advanced by the late Sir Arthur Heywood, and so scientifically dealt with by that expert engineer and ringer, Mr. E. H. Lewis, strengthen rather than endanger a tower, and an agreement between the Council and the Society is likely to have far-reaching effects, not only in removing friction in the future, but of furthering the cause of ringing by getting the weight of the Society on the side of scientific bell hanging in the many cases in which its influence is cast in the scale. What the actual agreement of the Conference is, is not yet for publication (it awaits confirmation by the Society); but sufficient was said at the Council meeting to show that the figures on the subject of strains and stresses which Mr. Lewis had prepared could not be disputed by the experts called in by the Society, and if that by itself be accepted, it is a long step towards the settlement of a much-disputed question.

APPLETON LONG PEAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I had no intention of entering into any correspondence on this subject, as I had no wish to say anything to belittle the Appleton peal, but as your correspondent who signs himself London Ringer tries to belittle the Loughborough peal, and has not the courage to sign his name, I think he deserves to be pulled up.

Now I am not going to try and stuff your readers with a lot of fairy tales, but plain facts, which no living being can truthfully dispute. First of all, I ask your correspondent if Appleton bells go so bad, why was such a place selected? There has been a large number of long lengths rung there; in fact, most of the Oxford Guilds record lengths have been rung there, yet the bells go bad. We heard the same yarn about Kidlington, the rocking tower, making the bells drop. I visited this place a few years ago, and was surprised to find they went splendid. I also measured the tenor, and I should say she is barely 23 cwt. Your correspondent says F. White slogged away at the tenor for six hours, with dry bearings. As the lubricators did not work it is not necessary to have such things. I have rung most of my long peals without them. Probably greased bells do not require them; the speed is not sufficient. Probably some novice might believe him when he says the tenor bearings were dry for six hours, but it's no use telling a ringer of my experience such a yarn. No human being after ringing 6½ hours could slog for another six hours. I have done a bit of pulling in my time, so I know what it is; and, again, the time the peal was rung in is sufficient proof that there is nothing the matter with them. The time works out at 2 hours 54 minutes 5,000, which means that the bells were rung low down. You cannot ring bad-going bells low down over such a distance, and as regards his remarks about light bells hanging on your arms, they would not hang on your arms at the pace they were ringing; in fact, no tenor is held long enough to hang on your arm. He says it is easier to ring a 30½ cwt. tenor than a 14½ cwt. I wonder what he would say if ever he succeeds in turning St. Paul's Cathedral tenor in, and someone, say, rang the same peal at Shoreditch, less than half the weight, and claimed it to be the biggest performance. And as regards his remarks about ringing Loughborough tenor with a piece of string, he will probably be surprised to hear that when the record peal was rung she was hung in plain bearings. The Appleton bells have been in the hands of the White family for a number of years, and they have overhauled them.

In conclusion, I may say that I have never openly expressed my opinion as to which is the greatest performance of the two, but I am the same opinion as a good many others, that the Loughborough peal as a performance has not been beaten. Compared with it Appleton is only a handbell peal.—Yours,

W. PYE.

BOURTON-ON-THE-WATER.

A branch of the Stow and District Bell Ringers has been started, which is affiliated to the Gloucester and Bristol Association, and they held their first meeting on Saturday, June 10th, at Bourton-on-the-Water.

The following towers were well represented: Stow, Bourton, North-beach, Great Rissington, Wych Rissington, Upper Slaughter, Lower Slaughter and Todenham.

The bells were set going at 3.30. A short service was held in church at 4.30, conducted by the Rector (Canon White), and the address was given by the Rev. F. C. Champion (Vicar-Designate of Powick, Worcester). Canon White kindly entertained the members to tea, and the usual business meeting followed.—Canon White, the President of the Branch, took the chair. In a few remarks, the President welcomed the members to Bourton, and referred to the good progress of the branch, and said how sorry he was to lose his colleague and secretary to the branch, and hoped that the branch would prosper.—The Secretary (the Rev. F. C. Champion), in reply, said that he was sorry to give up this interesting work, and he felt sure that he would be able to find a good man to act as secretary before he left to take up his work at Powick.

After welcoming new members, etc., the business concluded, and the bells were set going again to various methods.

RINGERS' WEDDINGS.

On Saturday, June 3rd, the marriage was solemnised at St Nicholas' Parish Church, Deptford, between William Herbert Daynes, eldest son of Mr. George H. Daynes (churchwarden of St. Nicholas'), and of Mrs. Daynes, 66, Ashburnham Grove, Greenwich, and Emma Louisa Boon, of East Greenwich, eldest daughter of Mr. Richard Boon. The Vicar (the Rev. T. W. Pitman) officiated, and the service was fully choral, Mr. Charles Brown being at the organ.

The bride, who wore a silver grey costume, with hat to match, was attended by Miss Alice A. Daynes and Miss Edith M. Daynes, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mr. Sydney E. Daynes was best man.

The bells were rung both before and after the service by the combined companies of St. John and St. Nicholas, Deptford, both of which the bridegroom is a member. After the reception, the happy pair left for Eastbourne for the honeymoon.

A ringers' wedding of unusual interest took place at St. Augustine's Church, Rumney, on Whit Monday, when Mr. Arthur Young was married to Miss Hilda Howells, both of whom are members of the local band.

The Rev. D. J. Davies officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in grey crepe de chine, with hat to match. She was attended by the Misses D. and A. Howells (sisters) and Miss M. Young (sister of the bridegroom). The reception was held at the bride's home, and later the happy pair left for Cheltenham, where the honeymoon is to be spent.

The bells were rung after the ceremony, and also fired by the local ringers.

The bride offered her services as a ringer during the dark days of the war, when the local band was crippled owing to several members joining H.M. Forces, and became so enamoured with the Exercise that she has been loth to give it up. Mr. Young has but lately joined the band.

To show their appreciation of the bride's faithful service, her fellow ringers presented her and her husband with a fruit set, the band also wishing them long life and happiness and a speedy return to their places in the belfry.

Miss Josephine L. Williams, the youngest daughter of the genial and popular hon. secretary of the North Forest Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, was married to Mr. William J. Harvey, of the Saddlery, Cinderford, at Newent Parish Church on Whit Monday afternoon. Miss Williams being one of the local ringers, it was only fitting that her colleagues should immediately the ceremony was over strike out the bells, and after some three-quarters of an hour's ringing the ropes were handed over to old ringing friends of Mr. Williams from Gloucester and Newport, who had specially mustered to honour one of the most enthusiastic members of the Association. The bells were kept going at intervals throughout the day.

A marriage unique in the sense that the principals are bell ringers at the Rotherham Parish Church, was solemnised there on Wednesday, June 7th, when Miss Winifred May Hague, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hague, of 16, Godstone Road, Rotherham, and Mr. Thomas Colin Ryder, youngest son of Mr. and the late Mrs. Ryder, of Templeborough were joined in the bonds of holy matrimony. The Vicar (the Rev. Canon Allen) officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in silver lace draped with grey georgette, and had a hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. There were four bridesmaids. The two elder ones, Miss E. King and Miss D. Hague, were attired in Cambridge blue crepe de chine, embroidered in pink, and black crinoline hats, whilst the two junior bridesmaids, Misses P. Hague and M. Scott, wore petal dresses of white crepe de chine and mob caps, and carried baskets of sweet peas. Each bridesmaid wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. C. R. Wright acted as best man, and Mr. L. Scott was the groomsman. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a kit fox fur wrap.

Immediately after the ceremony the bell ringers executed a merry peal. The bride's parents held a reception at the Gerard Road Schoolroom, where about 80 guests were entertained. Numerous wedding gifts were received, including a mahogany oval mirror from the staff of Messrs. Owen and Dyson, Ltd., and a tea service from the Rotherham Parish Church bell ringers. The honeymoon is being spent at Torquay, the bride travelling in a navy blue coat dress and fur wrap.

Miss E. K. Parker, of London, representing the Ladies Guild of Church Bell Ringers; Miss Olive Lumley, of Leeds; Mr. Albert Ward of Derby, and the energetic secretary of the North Notts Association (Mr. H. Haigh), were amongst the honoured guests.

An attempt was made for a peal of Stedman Caters, composed by Mr. A. Knight, Chesterfield. The company standing as follows: Messrs. B. A. Knight (conductor), C. Harrison, R. Harrison, S. F. Palmer, J. W. Chown, H. Thorpe, W. Allwood, W. Bugar, J. Thorpe and T. Lea. But after ringing half-way the peal was abandoned owing to the extreme heat and the bad going of the tenor, which requires the attention of the bell founders of this famous peal of ten.

All the ringers were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. C. Hague at the reception rooms, and delighted the company by ringing Grand sire Caters and Cinques, and various touches in other methods during the evening.—Mr. F. Willey was entrusted with the toast of the day, of proposing the health of the bride and bridegroom, and trusted they would be given health, happiness and prosperity, to go the full sixty courses, representing sixty years of married life together, and fulfilling the maxim of measuring their own happiness by the amount they give to other people.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

The ringers of St. Wilfred's, Standish, with their wives and friends, visited Morecambe by charabanc on Whit Monday, June 5th. The party left Standish at 8.30. The first stop was Seorton and the bells were soon going to Grand sire Triples, and a well-struck touch was brought round. Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob followed. After lowering the bells in peal, the party started for Lancaster. After dinner, the party wended their way to the Parish Church, St. Mary's, where the ringers gave the visitors a welcome. The bells, a fine peal of eight (tenor 31 cwt.) were soon going to Grand sire and Bob Major. Morecambe was reached at 3.30. The ringers wish to thank the incumbents of the towers and the friends who met them for the use of the bells, and the kind reception given to them. The return journey to Standish was safely accomplished.

The ringers of St. Giles', Willenhall, Staffs, had their annual outing to Llangollen on Whit Tuesday, accompanied by their wives and friends, the Vicar (the Rev. T. H. P. Hyatt, M.A.) and daughter. The Parish Church was visited, and its fine peal of eight bells were soon going to Stedman Triples; afterwards, call changes for the learners, so that all could have a pull. Arriving at Shrewsbury on the return journey we were welcomed by Mr. Chas. Lilley and the local ringers. Stedman Cinques was tried, but was not successful, it being the first attempt for several of the band. Afterwards Stedman and Grand sire Caters and Triples were rung. The band are greatly indebted to Mr. Davies, of Llangollen, for getting permission to ring; also to Mr. C. Lilley and the Shrewsbury ringers, who kindly arranged to meet us.

C. W.

The Bonvilstone ringers took their annual outing by charabanc on Saturday, June 10th. Miss Facey joined the party at Runney, and at Newport the Association hon. secretary, Mr. J. W. Jones, also joined the party. On arrival at Penhow, the Rector readily consented for the bells to be rung. A halt was made at Chepstow for luncheon and sightseeing, and a ring on the fine peal of eight, these, too, by Evans. Tintern was visited next, and after going through the fine old Tintern Abbey a return was made to Chepstow for tea. On the return journey a visit was paid to Caldicot, where hangs a musical and good-going ring of eight, and after these had been sampled a move was made for Magor, where there is a ring of six. The bells were raised, and were soon off into Doubles, and afterwards a few 120's were lowered. Opportunity is now taken to thank the incumbents and the local ringers at all places visited for their kindness in granting the bells, and for the welcome received.

On Saturday, June 17th, the Barley bell ringers held their annual outing, and with two members of the Barkway band, visited several towers in Hertfordshire. A touch of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung on the Barley bells at 8 a.m., and then Barkway was visited, where touches of Kent Treble Bob Major and Stedman Triples were successfully brought home. A move was then made to Anstey, on a peal of six, but as they need the attention of a bell hanger, the 'go' of the back bells being bad, only Plain Bob Minor was brought home, though Kent and Woodbine Treble Bob Minor were attempted. After dinner, at Puckridge, a move was made to Standon on a nice peal of six, with a tenor of 17 cwt., where Cambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob Minor and Plain Bob Minor were brought home. Braughling tower was the next place to be visited, where a touch of Kent Major was brought home on the famous bells, though Grand sire Triples failed to be rung. Aspenden was the last place to be visited, after bringing home a touch of Grand sire Triples. The ringers wish to thank the clergy of the various churches for the use of the bells.

A FALSE COMPOSITION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Owing to some careless blunder on my part, the composition of the 18,000 Treble Bob is false. I, therefore, withdraw peal, and offer every apology to those who rang in it. I have also to thank Mr. J. W. Parker for so kindly pointing this out.

UNVEILING CEREMONIES.

The annual meetings of the Association of Church Bell Ringers for the dioceses of Gloucester and Bristol took place on Whit Monday, June 5th. The management committee transacted business in St. Thomas's Church Room, Bristol, at 10.45, under the presidency of Mr. H. T. Howell, the Master. At noon there was a short service in the crypt of St. Nicholas' Church, and it was attended by members from all the districts of Bristol, and from Swindon, Dursley, Wotton-under-Edge, Chow Magna, Bridgwater, Chedzoy, Stroud, Cheltenham, Thornbury, Painswick and Weymouth. The clergy present were the Revs. T. J. Bowen, A. J. Day, M. E. Thorold, and T. C. Fowler. The Rev. T. J. Bowen gave a short address.

Immediately after the service, the clergy, members and Dr. Alexander went to the Church of St. Mary-le-Port, where the Rector (the Rev. A. J. Day) unveiled a peal board.

Mr. Frank Howell, of Thornbury (treasurer) asked the Rector to accept the board on behalf of the Association, and expressed the hope that it would be handed down through the ages.

The Rector said he had great pleasure in accepting the board, and they could rest assured that anything that was committed to the charge of St. Mary-le-Port would have ample care bestowed upon it.

After the ceremony, short touches of the same method were rung by the same ringers with one exception. P. O. Cave, B.Sc., Bristol University, having gone to Southampton, Miss Brown took his place, and Mr. H. T. Howell (Master of the Association) was at the treble.

SUPERFLUITY AND POVERTY.

A general business meeting was held in St. Philip's School during the afternoon, under the guidance of the Master. A satisfactory report was presented and unanimously adopted. Thanks were given Mr. Edgar Guise (hon. secretary) for his valuable services to the Association.

Some items in the financial statement were discussed, and the balance sheet was referred back for redrafting. The following officers were re-elected, Mr. H. T. Howell (Master), Mr. Edgar Guise (hon. secretary), Mr. F. K. Howell (hon. treasurer), Mr. Albert Wright (hon. peal secretary).—A motion to rescind the resolution of 1912 limiting the number of representatives on the Central Committee to one, was carried nem. con., and it was decided that after this year the representatives should be two—Messrs. W. A. Cave (Bristol) and Mr. B. Bishop (Swindon). Thanks were passed to Mr. Sidney Loxton for providing a peal board for Berkeley, and to Mr. Burchell for auditing the accounts.

The Rev. T. C. Fowler (Redfield) proposed a vote of thanks to all incumbents for the use of rooms and bells, and suggested that the Association might do a good work in using their influence to have some of the superfluous bells of the city removed to the suburbs. At present the bells were confined to too small an area, while there were practically no rings in the suburbs. The vote was cordially adopted.

A FAMILY OF RINGERS.

St. Thomas' Church and lawn (City) were the places of the next functions. In the ringing chamber of the tower has been affixed a memorial board recording the last peal in which Edward Abraham, a member of the Association, took part prior to his going to the war, where he was killed.

There was a large assembly in the ringing chamber at the ceremony, including Messrs. G. Spurrier and G. E. Ford (churchwardens). The hymn, 'O God, our help in ages past,' having been sung.

Mr. H. E. Green (hon. secretary of St. Thomas' Guild of Ringers) remarked that, with the sanction of the Vicar and churchwardens, the Guild had set up a peal board in memory of one of their former members who had been killed in the war. He asked the Vicar to accept it and Mrs. Bower to unveil.

Mrs. Bower having removed the Union Jack that covered it, short touches of Grandsire Triples were rung.

The Rev. W. G. Bower, the Vicar, remarked that there were several thoughts and feelings in their mind. The first was of respect and sympathy with the family and relatives of the one whose memory was commemorated by the board set up. He belonged to a family closely connected with St. Thomas', and more intimately with its bells. The father and brother carried on the tradition of the family, being members of St. Thomas' Guild of Ringers. He trusted that the memorial would keep alive that spirit which would stimulate them to take part in the glorious warfare against sin and evil for which he whose memory they perpetuated laid down his life.

After a fresco tea on the lawn peals were rung on handbells.

Later in the evening the Rev. M. E. Thorold, an ex-Master, unveiled in St. Stephen's tower a tablet bearing the subjoined inscription:—Bristol. The Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association (St. Stephen's Guild).—On Tuesday, May 9th, 1922, in 3 hours and 12 mins., at the Church of St. Stephen-the-Martyr, a peal of Clifton Surprise Royal, 5,000 changes (tenor 21cwt. in E): Jesse B. Tyler 1. Edwin J. Ridler 2. Edwin J. Brown 3. Alf. E. Reeves 4. Richard Clark 5. Wm. H. Thomas 6. William Knight 7. Henry Fring 8. John A. Burford 9. Wm. A. Cave 10. Composed by Gabriel Lindoff. Conducted by John A. Burford.

First peal rung in the method which is an extension of Bristol Surprise Major by the Rev. E. Bankes James. It is desired to associate the names of two former members of the band with this peal, G. Condiok, junr. (London), and P. W. Cave, B.Sc. (Southampton), who took part in earlier attempts.

The coming of visitors from near and far was signalled by their 'sampling' the bells of Christ Church, St. Nicholas', Redcliff, St. Thomas', St. Philip's, St. James', St. Michael's and St. Stephen's.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The rehanging of the peal of six at Bingham, Notts, with the addition of two trebles to make, is being carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who also have in hand the rehanging of the peal of eight at Youlgrave, Derbyshire.

There was one member of the Central Council who set out to attend the meeting, but failed to reach Lincoln, at any rate before the meeting closed.

This was the Hon. Secretary of the Devon Guild, who started from Plymouth to travel by way of the Lake District and Edinburgh, but a motor breakdown on a Scotch moor delayed him a full day. Hence his absence from the meeting.

With reference to an inquiry recently in this column as to whether Mr. Herbert Holmes, of Market Deeping, was the first ringer to ring ten Minor methods in his first peal, Mr. J. Heckingbottom, of Denton, writes that Mr. Harry Bardsley rang the third through a 5,040 in thirteen methods (nine of which were spliced), on February 7th, 1920, and this is his only peal up to now.

The report of a peal at Gaywood, Norfolk, on May 27th, has been sent in without the name of the conductor. May we again suggest to those who send in peal reports that when they write out their particulars they should do so with a copy of 'The Ringing World' before them, so that they may see exactly the information to give and the form in which to give it. It would save many delays and errors.

While returning from the meeting of the Winchester Guild, at Whitechurch, on Saturday, Mr. G. Williams had a slight mishap, the free-wheel of his cycle gave out. Mr. P. Cave, B.Sc., gallantly came to the rescue, and towed him home, a matter of some 12 miles, which was safely reached without another 'shift course'. The sight of one cyclist towing another caused considerable amusement along the route.

The peal of Superlative at Loughborough Bell Foundry on June 10th, and reported in our last issue, should be credited to the Midland Counties Association.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The Whit Monday meeting of the above Association was held at Darlington, on June 5th, and was favoured by ideal weather. The bells of St. Cuthbert, St. John and Holy Trinity, being available for ringing, were soon going to the tune of Stedman, Kent and Grand-sire.

The committee meeting took place at the Fleece Hotel. Ringers were present from Darlington, Chester-le-Street (including Miss Donnison, who had the honour of being the first lady member of the Association to ring a peal), Newcastle, Gateshead, Sunderland, Bishopwearmouth, Newburn, etc.

After dinner, the general meeting was held, Mr. Wm. Story (president) occupying the chair. — A hearty vote of thanks was carried by acclamation to the Vicars and wardens of the three towers for the use of their bells, and also to the towerkeepers for having all in readiness.

The following members were then elected: Performing members: Mr. Sheraton and Mr. Loadman Donnison, of Chester-le-Street, and Mr. F. W. Lupson, of Holy Trinity, Darlington. Honorary performing member: Mr. George A. Pickering, of St. Nicholas' Cathedral, Newcastle. Honorary member: Dr. F. Hylton Jackson, Rector of Chester-le-Street.

Mr. W. Story then addressed the meeting, and stated that the reports covering the period from 1914-21 were now ready, and could be obtained from the secretary (Mr. B. C. Dixon) for one shilling per copy. He stated that the ringers' memorial was getting on rather slowly, but that a design was in preparation, and that it was hoped to have everything ready for the unveiling to take place during the next annual meeting at Newcastle. The whole party adjourned, including Messrs. Percy Johnson, Fred Salmons and F. Cotterill, to the towers to indulge in some more ringing. The Yorkshire invasion was the direct cause of some splendidly - struck touches being brought round. After tea, further ringing was indulged in.

ESSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. SUCCESSFUL MEETINGS AT CHELMSFORD.

The 43rd annual meeting of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday, and passed off very successfully, there being a representative gathering of ringers from all parts of the county. At the previous annual meeting, held at Walthamstow, a resolution was unanimously adopted to revert to the old custom of holding the annual meeting of the association always at Chelmsford, and this action was fully justified on Whit Monday. In addition to being the centre of the diocese, Chelmsford is easily reached from the suburban and rural parts of the county, and in addition it is the home of very fine bells, chief among the local peals being the Cathedral twelve, while the neighbouring villages have excellent rings of eight all easily approached. There can be no doubt Chelmsford is the popular meeting-place for Essex ringers, and they rallied in strong force on Whit Monday. At the previous annual meeting, when the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre resigned, after many years' service from the office of secretary to the association, the Master, Mr. C. H. Howard, J.P., Braintree, also suggested he might consider the question of retirement, and would welcome any other member who might have the confidence of the Association being put forward for the office of Master. The matter had been seriously considered during the year, with the result that a general consensus of opinion was shown among the members that there was no one else who would carry out the Master's duties so well as Mr. Howard had done during his thirteen years in office, and at the business meeting Mr. Howard was unanimously re-elected to the post. It was clearly shown that Mr. Howard had proved himself a most popular Master of the Association; by his personal interest he had inspired the members with a high ideal of the work of the Association and the result of his efforts has been shown in the officers of the Essex Association being recognised and consulted by incumbents and church officials in the county upon matters relating to bell improvements throughout the diocese. The culminating feature of the last year's work of the Essex Association was the fact that for the first time the membership was raised to over one thousand — a record very largely due to the influence the Master has exerted. It is small wonder, in view of such an accomplishment, that the members in the annual meeting should unanimously re-elect Mr. Howard as Master, although he explicitly stated that he would welcome any other aspirant to the office, and would continue his personal interest in the Association just the same.

Proceedings commenced with service in the Cathedral, conducted by Canon Lake, Rector of Chelmsford, the ringers' form of service being used. The lesson was read by Mr. C. H. Howard, J.P., Master. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. G. Neill, Vicar of Great Baddow, from the Epistle to the Galatians: 'The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace,' etc. The preacher said the object for which creation was called into being was to produce music, and a great song of praise and thanksgiving to the Creator; everything was in perfect harmony, and there was no jarring note. In church bells more intellect was used to produce harmony, and no more pleasant music could be heard than that of bells ringing out their message on a quiet evening. As the harmony was carried from some distant church it must be a great blessing to those who heard. The history of bells was something like the history of man; they must be passed through the furnace, and be refined. The ministry of the bells was hidden and unseen, and so was some of the finest work that had ever been done in the world. Those who made most noise and brought themselves to the fore, generally failed when they seemed to have succeeded; but those who were in the background, and perhaps not seen, did the finest work. Whether in the belfry or elsewhere, the ministry of the bells was to draw people from temptation. Prayers were offered for the ringers who fell in the war, and the service concluded with the hymn, 'Hark, on high the joyful music.'

The annual meeting followed at the Shire Hall, the Master presiding, supported by Canon Lake, the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, Mr. F. J. Pitstow, Saffron Walden, hon. secretary, and the district officers and auditors. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read, a member called attention to a decision that peals tapped on hand-bells were not to be recognised by the Essex Association, but he said reports were still appearing in 'The Ringing World' under the heading, 'Essex Association of peals tapped by an Essex Ringer.' The Master replied that the Association had decided that tapped peals were not to be recorded in the peal book, but as Mr. Morris was a member of the Association he had a perfect right to publish them under the heading of the Association if he wished.

The Master then read his report for last year as follows:—

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

Gentlemen and Brother Ringers,

With an increased membership and an improvement in our financial position, we can congratulate ourselves upon another successful year's work. A considerable number of names have been removed from our list, on account of death and non-payment of subscriptions.

But in spite of this the total membership stands at 1,021. Thus, our ambition to reach a total of 1,000 for the Forty-second Annual Report is an accomplished fact.

The income from all sources for the year £63 14s. 1d. shows a large increase due to raising the subscription from 1s. to 1s. 6d. per member, but our expenditure has been exceptionally heavy; £44 3s. having been expended for the War Memorial, and the cost of printing Annual Report absorbed an unusual percentage of our income, but I am pleased to state that we have been able to make a very considerable saving in this item for 1921, which will have an appreciable effect in our balance sheet for the present year. The offer of Mr. Thomas Faulkner, to write up the peal book, has also helped us in keeping down expenditure, for which we tender him our sincere thanks. Although we have somewhat depleted our balances, a glance at the figures will show that we may reasonably expect by the end of the present year to be able to replace a very considerable sum, if not all, that we have drawn from the reserve fund.

We have to deplore the loss, by death, of the Rev. J. Bowen and W. Nocton, Esq., honorary members, and Messrs. A. Shuttleworth, T. Cranfield, E. Radley, H. Flanders and W. H. Doran, the two latter were very regular attendants at our meetings. We shall miss their cheery faces and assistance.

Thirty-nine peals have been rung during the year, although less in number than the previous year, the standard of quality is high, as follows: Cambridge Surprise, Maximus 1—the first in the County. Stedman Cinques, 1; T. B. Royal, 1; Stedman Caters, 1; Cambridge Surprise Major, 4; Superlative Major, 1; Double Norwich Major, 1; T. B. Major, 8; Bob Major, 2; Stedman Triples, 4; Grandsire Triples, 2; Surprise Minor, 1; Minor 8 and Doubles, 4.

The fine old ring of eight bells at Finchfield has been rehung, quarter turned and the frame strengthened. They are now in good ringing order. The ring of six at Springfield has been thoroughly overhauled, and the tenor at Braintree has been rehung. The ring of six at All Saints', Maldon, is being recast, and two trebles are to be added to complete the octave.

Ninety-eight towers are now in union with the Association, among our latest recruits are Holy Trinity, Barking Road, a young band practically self-taught. Wivenhoe and Epping Upland have also joined.

The dedication of the war memorial to our fallen members by the Bishop of the Diocese in the Cathedral was a very imposing and impressive service, and was attended by representatives of the Association from all parts of the county. The large congregation included the Mayor and Mayoress of Chelmsford and relatives of the deceased. The Memorial takes the form of a Portland stone tablet with names thereon of the fallen, erected immediately above the doorway of the staircase leading to the ringing chamber, and will stand for all time as a record of those members of our Association who laid down their lives in the Great War. It will be a fitting reminder to future generations of their duty to God, King and country.

The annual gathering at Walthamstow was not so largely attended as usual, due to the unavoidable postponement caused by the miners' strike. The address in church was given by the retiring honorary secretary and treasurer, the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, after thirty years' service. At the meeting which followed his long service to the Association was suitably recognised by the Master, who reminded those present that the Association had risen during Mr. Eyre's period of office from small numbers to the proud position it now occupies, which was very largely due to Mr. Eyre's excellent work. The best wishes were expressed by those present for his happy retirement. The Association will for some years feel the effect of Mr. Eyre's influence and the part he took in the services and business meetings.

We are fortunate in securing the services of Mr. F. J. Pitstow, of Saffron Walden, as successor to Rev. H. T. W. Eyre. Mr. Pitstow is an excellent and well-known ringer, and for years has taken a practical interest in the Association and its work. Another important feature of the meeting was the unanimous decision to revert to our old custom of holding the Annual Meeting at Chelmsford.

District meetings have been held at Galleywood, Bentley by South Weald, Chelmsford, Mistley, Great Bentley, Wivenhoe, Kelvedon, Stebbing, Earls Colne, Feering, Sible Hedingham, Barking, Havering-atte-Bower, Waltham Abbey, Wendens Ambo, Saffron Walden, Hunston and Roydon, and have been generally well attended. A pleasing result of these frequent meetings is that they have stimulated the interest of the clergy in our work, and have been the means of bringing about many necessary rehangers and improvements. It is very gratifying to find that officers of our Association are now generally consulted when repairs and improvements are contemplated, which is proof that the Association is recognised by Church authorities as carrying out the functions for which it was originally founded, to extend the art of change ringing and belfry reform.

While we congratulate ourselves upon the high position we have attained, there is still scope for further extending our work by missionary enterprise to secure towers not yet affiliated, and where change ringing is practically unknown. We must not be content to rest upon our laurels, but go forward to obtain greater results in the future.

ROCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921.

THE CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY

CARISBROOKE, 1921

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921.

My report would be incomplete, if it did not include reference to the faithful services rendered by the district officers and auditors, without whom it would be impossible for us to carry on our work with such satisfactory results.—Yours faithfully,

CHARLES HOWARD, Master.

The report was adopted, and a vote of thanks was accorded Mr. T. Faulkner for writing up the peal book.—Upon the proposition of Mr. T. Faulkner, seconded by Mr. Caleb Penn, Mr. C. H. Howard was unanimously re-elected Master of the Association.

Mr. Howard said he appreciated the renewed confidence shown in his re-election for the thirteenth year as Master of the Essex Association. At the same time he should be quite willing to retire in favour of anyone else whom the Association should wish to appoint. Mr. Howard said he had never asked anyone to nominate him as Master, but on the other hand he had asked several members to allow him to nominate them. Among the many public offices he held none gave him more pleasure than that of Master of the Essex Association, and he looked upon his re-election as a vote of confidence (applause). He had seen the Essex Association rise from very small things to the proud position it occupied that day, with over a thousand members (applause). He joined in 1885, and with one exception had since then attended every annual meeting. His interest had been long continued and pretty deep, and whether he continued as Master or became one of the rank and file, he would continue to take the same interest in the Essex Association (applause).

The Master proposed the re-election of Mr. F. J. Pitstow as hon. secretary, and said he came of a very well-known family of ringers, and had always shown interest in the work of the Association.—Mr. W. Pye seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.—Mr. Pitstow suitably replied. Mr. T. Faulkner retired from the office of auditor, and was thanked for his past services. Mr. G. A. Black was re-elected auditor, and Mr. G. W. Faulkner appointed in place of his brother; the peal committee was re-elected. The Rev. A. B. Mills, R.D., Harwich, was elected an hon. member of the Association.—A suggestion was made that the peal book of the Association should be kept at Chelmsford Cathedral, but Canon Lake said there would be certain responsibility, and the question was adjourned.—It was agreed to transfer Brentwood from the South Eastern to the South Western Division, and Epping Upland from the South Western to the North Western Division.—It was decided to invest the funds of the Association in the names of Messrs. T. Faulkner W. J. Nevard and the Master, as trustees.

The Master reminded the meeting that the Association owned a considerable amount of property, consisting of peal books, handbells, etc., which also should be held in safe keeping by the trustees. But as the Association had no proper receptacle for keeping these, the question was referred to the general committee to consider and report to the next annual meeting.

The President, the Lord Bishop of Chelmsford, presided at the luncheon, supported by Canon Lake and officers of the Association.

The Bishop of Chelmsford thanked Canon Lake for all he had done, and welcomed the ringers for their annual festival at Chelmsford. The festival could not be held in a better place, for Chelmsford and district had been second to none in the county. Ringing had begun to show progress after the war, and was now taking its full place in church life throughout Essex. The Bishop said wherever he went in the diocese he was always sure of a welcome peal from the ringers (hear, hear). The joy of bells should be emphasised, for there was nothing so helpful in guiding the spirit and soul in the aspiration for joyful expression of thanksgiving as church bells (applause). When bells were well rung at a certain distance from the hearer, there was nothing more charming in the world. The ringers were doing part of the church's work in helping to bring men and women to God.—Canon Lake suitably replied.—In the afternoon and evening there was ringing by bands at Chelmsford, Writtle, Wiford, Gallywood, Great Waltham, Springfield, Broomfield and Boreham.

SKILGATE CHURCH BELLS, TAUNTON. DEDICATION SERVICE.

On Whit Tuesday, at the fine old Norman church tower of St. John the Baptist, a very interesting ceremony took place in the midst of a crowded congregation. The service commenced with a Confirmation service, followed by the opening of the restoration of the new treble bell and peal of five bells. The service was fully choral. The Lord Bishop of Bath and Wells, after the dedication, gave an address on the bells. The new treble being given as a war memorial by the parish, the opening peal of the bells were muffled. The peal was rung for 30 minutes, after which the bells were silent for 30 minutes; then the bells were unmuffled, and the peal was continued by the Morebath Guild of ringers most satisfactorily. Following this, ringers from Dulverton, Brushford, Chipstable, Raddington Skilgate, Morebath, and numerous ringers from the West of England, all expressed their highest opinion of the easy 'go' of the bells; also the workmanship, the design of the iron frames, and patent adjustable bearings. Sole invention of the famous bell experts, Messrs. Aggett and Sons, Bell Works, Chagford.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the above was held at Shenley on Saturday, June 3rd, when over 100 members attended, representing the following towers: Bletchley, Beachampton, Bradwell, Checheley, Calverton, Emberton, Fenny Stratford, Great Horwood, Great Breckhill, Great Linford, Linslade, Loughton, Maids Moreton, Milton Keynes, North Crawley, Newport Pagnell, Old Wolverton, Stony Stratford, Simpson, and the local ringers. Other visitors included the Master of the Guild (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, the Guild secretary (Mr. E. T. Hibbert), and Messrs. A. D. Cullum and Essex, of Caterham. The bells were open from 2.30 p.m. for ringing. Service, which was fully choral and well attended both by ringers and parishioners, was held at 3.30 p.m., the address being given by the Rev. L. Moxam, of Newport Pagnell, which was very instructive and interesting. After service, the Rectory grounds were at the disposal of the members, where tea was being provided on the lawn. After tea, the business meeting was held, the Secretary reading the minutes and report of the balance sheet, which showed an appreciable balance in hand, and which was accepted as quite satisfactory. The first unpleasant duty that had to be done was to elect a new chairman in place of the Rev. J. R. Vincent, who had held the position for so many years; also that the yearly venue would have to be removed to pastures new, which all the members would very much regret. After a short discussion, the Rev. L. Moxam, of Newport Pagnell, was elected as chairman, and the meeting-place for the next annual meeting was kindly offered by him to be held at Newport, which was accepted. Mr. W. Sear was again elected as secretary and treasurer.—The Chairman expressed his appreciation of the services rendered to the branch by their secretary, and hoped that he would continue to carry on, and also expressed his thanks to the secretary for attending that meeting, when they all knew so well under what conditions he was attending, i.e., the recent sad bereavement in the loss of his wife.—The Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) expressed his satisfaction on the satisfactory progress of the branch, which was in a very healthy condition, and a most pleasant meeting to attend. He also had to say how sorry he was to think that the branch was losing so valuable a friend in the Rev. J. R. Vincent, after so many years connected with the branch. A few detailed remarks as to the general business of the Guild and the Central Council was listened to very attentively, and which was interesting.—Mr. R. T. Hibbert expressed his views on the progress of the branch, which was very encouraging and stimulating to all who cared to take heed.—The Chairman said that before the meeting closed he wished to mention that a few days previous to the meeting he had the pleasure to visit the Bishop of Buckingham, who the members would all know and remember being amongst them last year, and only owing to his very serious illness that kept him away, and it was his wish that the chairman should convey to the meeting a message from him, and that was 'he sent them his love,' and he would propose that this meeting send him a telegram to wish him a speedy recovery, which was done.—The usual vote of thanks was given to all those who had assisted to make arrangements to make the meeting a success, which brought a very pleasant meeting to a close.

The methods rung during the afternoon and evening ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Minor. W.S.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION

The Halesworth District held a meeting at Wenham on Saturday, June 10th, about 30 members being present, and 18 towers represented. The bells, a pretty ring of six, were kept going from 2 p.m. until 4.45, when an adjournment was made to the Parish Room for tea, kindly provided by the Rector and churchwardens. A business meeting followed presided over by the Rector (the Rev. W. N. Matthews).—Captain A. E. Reeves gave a report of the Central Council held at Lincoln on the previous Tuesday.

The Rector then said he had received some letters from the Rev. H. Drake, explaining the new Association for Suffolk, and he would like to know what the members thought of it. A long discussion then followed.—The Chairman then said he would take a vote on the subject. This being done, every member in the room voted in favour of remaining as they were. Not one present could see the need of another Association.

A VISIT TO SMARDEN.

The Sturry band visited Smarden on Saturday, June 3rd, and included H. Smith (Wickham), the brothers Hadlow, C. Holman (Horne), and friend Unwin from Canterbury. The party were met at the tower by J. Shingsby and Phil Hodgkin from Headcorn.

Several touches in standard methods were brought round, and after tea Grandsire Triples were indulged in. The tower bells were then set going to Kent Treble Bob, of which a 720 was rung.—Phil Hodgkin then informed the company that he required one more 720 to complete his 500th. This was scored to Plain Bob Minor. We are told that 'Phil' has the calling and the ringers' names of each one. He was heartily congratulated on his achievement. The ringers wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Rector for the use of the bells.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual general meeting was held on Saturday, May 13th, in St. Nicholas' Parish Hall, Brighton (by kind permission of the Vicar), the Master (Mr. J. Thornton-Rickman) in the chair, supported by representatives from the following towers: Bolney, Brighton (St. Peter and St. Nicholas'), Croydon (St. Peter), Eastbourne (St. Saviour), Heane, Henfield, Hurstpierpoint, Lindfield, Pulborough, Seaford and Shoreham, together with some independent members. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, passed and signed, and a discussion took place on the revised rules, which were approved with a few alterations. It was decided to adopt the Central Council's scale of points for peals.—The report and balance sheet were presented and passed, both showing good progress during the year, and it was further agreed that in view of the continued need for economy no fares should be paid to members attending divisional meetings during the coming year. Messrs. Oliver Sippetts and W. G. Hart were elected auditors, and Mr. York Bramble peals secretary, the other officers being re-elected.

A substantial tea was served at the Imperial Hotel at 5 p.m., and the service was held in St. Nicholas' Church, a short address being given by the hon. general secretary (the Rev. Cecil H. Clarke).

A vote of thanks to the Vicars of St. Nicholas' and St. Peter's for the use of the bells, and to the Vicar of St. Nicholas' for the use of the Parish Room, was carried by acclamation.—The peals secretary's report indicates that 69 peals were rung on tower bells during 1921, registering 543 points. Salehurst won the Warner challenge bell with 86 points, with Brighton (St. Peter) second (44 points); Eastbourne (St. Saviour) and Lewes (Southover) bracketed third (30 points). The standard of ringing throughout the Association is being well maintained.

RINGING IN SCOTLAND.

On Saturday, June 17th, six of the Glasgow Cathedral band journeyed to Alloa to ring at St. John's Church. The party were met on arrival by Mr. Ellis, of Edinburgh, an old friend, and the local ringers. 720 of Plain Bob was got through, and then 480 of the same; then about 480 Stedman Doubles and three leads of Kent. There were rung some courses on a fine though dilapidated peal of handbells by Blews, 1871. On the following evening, at Glasgow Cathedral, was rung 720 Stedman Doubles by J. B. Sykes 1. T. O'Hara 2. E. Astley 3. J. Holman 4. A. G. Tucker 5. N. North 6. W. N. Ashby 7. G. Hague 8, the last three taking turns of 240 changes, each as covering bell. The trip to Alloa did good, as the local band had never heard of 'The Ringing World,' so we left them the current copy, and pointed out to them where they could get books on ringing, and the address of the Birmingham firm who would rehang their bells.

LESSON OF THE MOTTRAM PEAL.

The announcement that the long peal of Treble Bob at Mottram was false, provides yet another instance of the fact that composers, however eminent, are not infallible, and in this case there is also the source of regret which must be experienced that such a great physical feat of ringing for more than eleven hours should go for naught. No one, we are sure, is more annoyed over the contretemps than Mr. Lindoff himself, and yet the blame is wholly his. Composers are naturally jealous of their productions, and particularly when they have secured a record length. As a rule, there is also a desire in the case of the latter to keep it as private as possible until it has been rung, largely in order that the band who propose to make the attempt shall not be robbed of the 'spoils of victory' by others stealing a march upon them. All the circumstances of a record peal, therefore, tend to keep the composition away from the light of publicity until it has been rung, and the catastrophe of ringing a false peal is all the more irritating when the length is as much as that at Mottram, which, the Appleton peal excepted, would have been the greatest number of changes rung on church bells, as well as being the record length of Treble Bob.

Few ringers, we imagine, have a greater knowledge of Treble Bob composition than Mr. Lindoff, who has spent years in investigating the method, and yet, with all his knowledge, he fell into error. Treble Bob Major is well known to be tricky in its composition, and was looked upon as having been worked out to the extent of the method in the 16,800, which constituted the previous record. The addition of the considerable number of over 1,400 changes is such a big jump that special precautions were necessary to test its accuracy, and we can hardly believe that these were not taken by a man of the experience of Mr. Lindoff. However that may be, the peal was false. Whether, had the composition been true, the performance would ultimately have been admitted, is another question which we believe would have been raised, but as the composition was wrong there is nothing further which need be taken into account. The ground upon which the performance becomes invalid, however, is one which is a matter of regret, because it was an avoidable cause.

There is, of course, an obvious remedy against the repetition of such a failure, namely, to have every record composition checked by a second competent composer before it is rung. Any feeling there may be that such a course would lay the original composer open to have his figures 'pirated' can be at once dismissed, for the honour of the person to whom the figures were submitted would be more than sufficient to insure no betrayal of confidence. No one can insist upon a composer submitting his figures to another person, but, in the light of the Mottram experience, prudence points to this step being taken; indeed, we imagine no band in future, going for a record length in any method until they are assured that the truth of the composition is vouched for by some competent person in addition to the composer.

fine peal being left with regret. Many thanks are due to the Rev. H. Topham, Rector of Middleham, and Mr. — Topham, of Middleham Hall, for welcoming the visitors. The handbell ringing on the lawn stirred our host to produce a fine peal of handbells, which were carefully stored away. Tuesday afternoon saw the various members leaving for their destinations, the kindly labours of Mr. T. Maude in arranging the outing being much appreciated, while the untiring efforts of Mr. H. Parrish, on behalf of the party for their entertainment, made the outing one of the most pleasant yet undertaken.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.
WORKSOP PRIORY COMPANY.

The annual outing by motor charabanc, on Whit Monday, was arranged by the leader of the Priory ringers, and the company visited Stow, Willingham and East Markham. A halt was made for lunch in a picturesque little spot by the roadside. The journey was continued to Stow, where the Rector and his wife and children were in readiness to greet our arrival. Several touches and one 720 of Kent Treble Bob was tapped off, our lady ringers handling their ropes and ringing in good style. The famous Lincoln Minster could be seen from the top of the tower. The next stop was Willingham, where the party were met by the Rector and steepkeeper. Here they found one of Taylor's new rings of six, tuned on the Canon Simpson principle. As the bells had not been rung for some considerable time, owing to scarcity of ringers, the oil can had to be applied, especially to the tenor. Some good ringing in touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire Doubles, Kent and Oxford were accomplished, the ladies again acquitting themselves admirably. An interesting chat on bells, ringers and church matters generally, with the Rector, steepkeeper and friends, occupied the party until the time of departure for East Markham. Some good ringing was executed at East Markham, and a fine rise and fall in peal brought the ringing to a finish. The day was beautifully fine. The company consisted of the Priory ringers, wives and sweethearts, Mr. J. H. Brothwell of Treeton; Mr. C. Crawford of Laneham; and arrived home at 9.15. The company's thanks are due to Mr. A. Howe, the incumbents and steepkeepers of each parish for making the outing an enjoyable success.

AN IDLE TRIP.

On Whit Tuesday, the local company of Holy Trinity (Idle Parish Church) had a charabanc outing up the Aire Valley. Leaving Town Gate at 9 a.m., a good run was made to Giggleswick, where the bells were placed at our disposal (a ring of six), and soon set up in peal, and rung in the following methods: Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor. Lunch was partaken of at Settle. After lunch the tower was visited, where a nice-toned peal of eight in readiness were soon going in to changes of Plain Bob Major, Double Norwich and Grandsire Triples; but owing to the state of the bells, the 7th especially, coupled with the heat, for the day was gloriously warm, nothing successful was accomplished. Gargrave was reached at 4.45, the party being met by Mr. John McKell, who extended a hearty welcome on this their first visit. The tower was visited, and a short touch of Double Norwich rung. Three of the local men also joined in short touches of Double Norwich and Grandsire Triples. On arrival at Skipton, a fine peal of 8 (both for tone and 'go') were sent up in peal, and rung to the old song, Kent Treble Bob. The party take this opportunity of offering their best thanks to the respective incumbents for the use of the bells; also to the local companies for having everything in readiness.

WEEK-END IN YORKSHIRE DALES.

On Saturday, June 4th, a party, consisting of Messrs. T. Maude, G. B. Bolland, F. W. Dixon, T. B. Kendall, H. Oddy, Mr. and Mrs. F. Salmons, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ambler, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fearnley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cotterell, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Johnson, and Mr. W. Pearson, visited the Yorkshire Dales. On the outward journey a call was made at Northallerton, where a peal of eight were found, but the 'go' of the bells was far inferior to the tone. After lunch a start was made for Bedale to try the peal of eight (tenor 24 cwt.), but on arrival, the tower presented a woeful state of neglect, and appeared out of keeping with the rest of this splendid building. This Church of All Saints is a fine example of a fortified church tower. The bells are a mixed peal, the tenor dating from 1631, the sixth and seventh 1625, the founders being unknown, while the two trebles are of a much later date, and were presumably cast by Messrs. Warner. The hospitality of one of the local ringers was accepted, with many thanks, a few touches on handbells leaving our temporary host well satisfied. Middleham-in-Urodale, the week-end headquarters, was reached in the evening, and after tea the fine peal of eight in the Parish Church, cast by Taylor, 1904 (tenor 18 cwt.), was rung, the splendid tone and 'go' of the bells being much admired. On behalf of the Rev. H. Topham, Rector of Middleham, Mr. H. Parrish extended a hearty welcome to the party. Sunday found the bells at Middleham rousing the inhabitants at 6 a.m., and touches in various methods were also rung for the mid-day service. On Sunday afternoon Grinton was visited, but here a rope had to be spliced and fixed before the handy peal of six could be rung. To our regret, the 'go' of the bells at Richmond was very bad, and very little ringing satisfied the visitors. After tea, the return journey by motor to Middleham occupied the rest of the evening. Catterick and Darlington were visited on Monday, the beautifully-kept ringing chamber and light peal of eight, at the former place being much appreciated. At Darlington the party were accorded a hearty and courteous welcome by the meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Association, and the various churches and bells were tried in varying methods. Tuesday once again found Middleham bells ringing a farewell touch, this

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

A quarterly meeting of the above was held at Chiddingstone on Saturday, May 27th, and although the attendance of members was not so numerous as usual, a most enjoyable and instructive afternoon and evening was spent. Ringing commenced about 3 o'clock. At 5 o'clock the usual service was held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. C. Salmon), and Mrs. Salmon presided at the organ.

The Rector presided at the business meeting, supported by the Rev. C. Sampson (curate) and Mr. G. Hale, one of the churchwardens.

The Rector warmly welcomed the members, and said he was glad to see so many young members present, as it gave great promise for the future.

The minutes of the annual district meeting were read and confirmed.—The District Secretary made a feeling reference to the loss the district had sustained in the death of Mr. G. H. Stonestreet, of Tonbridge, and said that he had written to Mrs. Stonestreet, expressing the sympathy of the members. This was approved of by the silent vote of the members standing.

Eight new practising members were elected, and one election confirmed. The Rector of Sevenoaks was elected an hon. member.—Mr. F. White suggested that someone should be appointed to act as Ringing Master at the meetings. He said it was quite possible that young members at the meetings were desirous of practising a certain method which they had looked up, but were nervous of pushing forward, and, therefore, did not get an opportunity. He thought that if there was someone to whom they knew they could apply, it would give them a better opportunity of practising these methods. After some discussion, the District Secretary suggested that the district representatives on the Central Committee for the time being should act in that capacity.—This was seconded and carried.

Votes of thanks to the Rector and Mrs. Salmon for the use of the bells, for arranging and conducting the service, and for presiding at the organ, and to the Rev. Sampson and Mr. George Hale for their attendance, and to Mr. A. Longley for making arrangements, were passed, to which Mr. G. Hale replied, concluded the meeting, and the members adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. SOUTHERN DIVISION.

A meeting was held at Tickhill, on Saturday, June 17th. The towers represented being All Saints', St. Mary's, and the Cathedral Sheffield, Rammoor, Ecclesfield, Wortley, Doncaster, Arksey, Rawmarsh, Rotherham, Handsworth, Bolsterstone, and Norton.

At 5 o'clock, a short service was held in the Church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. H. E. Booty) officiated, and gave a very interesting address. The business meeting was held immediately after tea, the Vicar kindly taking the chair, supported by Mr. Willey, vice-president.—The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed, and Messrs. W. H. Dale, H. Wagstaffe, J. Channings, H. Barnes, of Tickhill, and A. Mitchell and G. Tuke, of Rawmarsh, were elected as members of the Association. In view of the annual Commemoration Dinner to the past officers of the Yorkshire Association taking place in Leeds, in September, it was decided, after some discussion, to abandon the September meeting of the Southern District, and to hold the December meeting at Rotherham, if the necessary permission can be obtained.—Mr. Willey urged all who possibly could to attend the annual dinner.—Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and his address, and to the local company for the excellent tea provided, were carried.—The Vicar, in replying, said how very pleased he was at seeing so many present, and the Association need never be without a place to hold a meeting. 'You will always be sure of a welcome at Tickhill, and come as often as you like,' concluded the reverend gentleman, a remark greeted with loud applause.

After tea, visitors were privileged to inspect the old ruins of the Castle and the beautiful grounds belonging to it, these being at their best, with the roses a special attraction. Handbell ringing was indulged in in various parts of the grounds. Grandsire Caters and Bob Major were rung, and as a special item a plain course of Keg and Kegmeg. This is a Sheffield speciality, and permission to ring it can be obtained from any of the Cathedral company. Methods rung during the afternoon and evening included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Treble Bob and Bob Major and Double Norwich.

EASTERN DISTRICT

A quarterly meeting was held at Sherburn-in-Elmet, on Saturday May 27th, by kind consent of the Vicar, the Rev. P. Bone, M.A., and the bells were kept going to various methods from 1 to 9 p.m.

A bountiful tea was kindly provided by the ladies of the parish, to which some 30 members sat down, representative of towers at Beverley, Hemmingbrough, Hull, Pontefract, Selby and York.

A short business meeting followed, presided over by Mr. W. Pearson (Pontefract), in the absence of the vice-president.

Mr. G. Bryce, of Selby, was elected a member of the Association. An invitation from the Vicar of Hatfield (the Rev. F. Meridith Brooks) for the next meeting was unanimously accepted.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Rev. P. Bone (who was unavoidably absent) for the use of the bells, to the ladies who kindly waited at tea, and to the local company of ringers for their excellent arrangements.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

Whit Monday, on which the Hereford Diocesan Guild of Bell Ringers held their annual festival, called together the greatest number of ringers yet assembled in this county. It is computed that at least 100 attended the preliminary service in the Ladye Chapel of the Cathedral, and that, approximately, 150 sat down to dinner at the Spread Eagle Hotel. These were representative of some 25 towers. The Master of the Guild, Mr. J. G. Buchanan (Clyde House, Hereford), was unfortunately absent, a circumstance greatly regretted. The clergy present at some part of the day, or throughout the whole, were the hon. secretary and treasurer, the Rev. G. W. Turner (Madley), the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson (Vicar of Hopcote, Salop), a great authority on handbell ringing; the Rev. R. A. Lyne (Upton Bishop), the Rev. Preb. Warner (Lugwardine), the Rev. H. E. Wall (Diocesan Missioner), and the Rev. T. O. Charteris, Burghill.

The towers where peals were either rung during the day or at the disposal of the ringers, were: St. Nicholas, 10—12; Cathedral, 11—12, 6.30—8.30; All Saints, 3.30—6 (Hereford); Holme Lacy, Burghill, Lyde, Allensmore, Lugwardine.

At the Ladye Chapel service the singing of the bell ringers, as became members of their profession, was markedly harmonious. The Rev. H. E. Wall played the dual part of organist and preacher.

The Rev. G. W. Turner presided at the dinner, when a brief toast list was disposed of. Following 'The King.'

Mr. P. Lane proposed the Bishop and Clergy. They were blessed, he said, with good clergy in the diocese. In his own district they had in Mr. Richardson a most able exponent of the art of handbell ringing. He wished that the clergy could give them more help in practical ringing (applause).

Prebendary Warner regretted the Bishop's absence, that his lordship might reply to the toast himself. They all admired the Bishop. The clergy as a whole, greatly appreciated the work done by the bell ringers.

Mr. C. Edwards proposed 'The Preacher.' His sermon had been excellent. In reminding them of the high claims of the bell ringers' calling, he had given them his views straight from the shoulder. They tried to respond, and were making headway in the art every day (applause).

Mr. Wall said the Guild was held in the highest possible estimation throughout the diocese. That he knew from direct contact with some 300 parishes. It was a joy to him to take part in their festival. Physically he was not strong enough to take an active part in bell ringing, but he had studied the subject, which was to him one of deep interest (applause).

Other toasts were 'The Guild' proposed briefly by Mr. Duncan (Much Marcle), and responded to by the Chairman. The Guild, he said, was growing and growing healthily. One defect was the fact that the public did not seem to be aware of the great claim which the bell ringers had on them. They wanted more honorary members. He hoped they would have more next year.

The 'Ringing Master' was proposed by Mr. Hyett, and responded to by Mr. Edwards.

A very delightful course of Grandsire Caters was given on the handbells, by: Mr. A. Talbot, 1 and 2; Mr. P. Lane, 3 and 4; Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, 5 and 6; Mr. Chas. Edwards, 7 and 8; and Mr. W. H. Williams, 9 and 10.

Mr. Hyett, for twenty years a member of the Guild, in a few words expressive of his deep personal regard for Mr. Edwards as Ringing Master, and in acknowledgement of his valuable services as Master and trainer, asked the chairman to present to Mr. Edwards on behalf of the Guild, a golden bell badge, with bar duly inscribed. This had been contributed to by the members of the Guild.

The Chairman said it was the first he had heard of it. The ringers could evidently keep a secret. He added his appreciation to that of Mr. Hyett, and on behalf of the Guild, asked Mr. Edwards to accept the badge with a small cash balance for Mrs. Edwards (applause).

Mr. Edwards said he could not find words to express his thanks. His work had been a labour of love. He was deeply gratified for the gift, and thanked them also for their gift to his wife (applause).

The re-election of officers for the coming year then took place. The Bishop was again elected president, and the vice-presidents en bloc. Mr. Buchanan was with enthusiasm re-elected Master of the Guild; Mr. Turner, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. C. Edwards, Ringing Master and district secretary. The committee was also re-appointed, with the addition of Mr. J. Preece (Staunton-on-Arrow) and Mr. H. J. Taylor (Hereford). The accounts were presented and passed.

Mr. Clark and Mr. C. Edwards were re-elected representatives on the Central Council.

Mr. Edwards made a very feeling speech concerning the absence of a suitable roll of honour of fallen bell ringers for erection in All Saints' Church. The memorial bell, with the list in the ringing chamber, recorded the names of the 60 odd men who had paid the great sacrifice, but in the church below there had not yet been placed a permanent Roll of Honour. It must be done, and was simply a question of ways and means.

A discussion followed as to the most suitable form — brass, emblazoned parchment, or oak tablet similar to that for the All Saints' parish fallen. The matter was left in the hands of a small committee to decide and report; the cost to be defrayed by a levy on the Guild. With over 600 members the money ought to be easily obtained.

It was decided that for next year Hereford should again be chosen for the festival. With its many churches in the city and district, and its accessibility to the county, it was felt to be the best venue.

Methods rung during the day were Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman, Treble Bob, Cambridge Major, and various Minor methods.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting was held at Northallerton on Whit Monday, members attending from Middlesbrough, Stockton, Darlington (St. John's); Ripon, Sharow, Wath, Thirsk, Northallerton, W. Hartlepool, St. Oswalds, Shildon. A committee meeting was held at 11 a.m., a good deal of business being got through. Divine service was held at 12 a.m. in the Parish Church, which was well attended by the ringers and friends, being greatly assisted by several of the choir. The Rev. — Hill officiated at the organ, and the service was conducted by the Rev. M. Thompson, Vicar of Northallerton, which was greatly appreciated. Dinner was presided over by the Rev. A. Simpson, in the absence of the President (the Rev. J. L. Kyle), who was away from home, and was supported by the Vicar of Northallerton the Rev. — Hill, senior curate; Vice-Presidents W. Pick, Sharow; J. Stolt, Thirsk; J. W. Passman, Middlesbrough; and the secretary.—The Rev. A. Simpson, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Northallerton for conducting the service and address, including the Rev. Hill and choir, also for the use of the bells.

The Vicar, replying, welcomed the association to Northallerton, saying how pleased he was to be able to do anything towards forwarding and assisting the work.—The secretary's report showed that there was considerable improvement in the ringing throughout the association during the year. The balance sheet showed a balance in hand of £32 2s. 6d. The next item was the election of president for the year. The Rev. J. L. Kyle, who has been president since 1915, has on previous occasions said that he thought it would be better for the working of the association if a ringing president could be found. Not that he wanted to be out of the job; he was only too pleased to be amongst ringers and do whatever he could to further the work of the association. After some discussion the name of the Rev. A. Simpson was proposed, seconded, and carried unanimously, to be president.—A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. J. L. Kyle, the late president, for presiding over the association for the last seven years, and that a letter be sent to him in the terms mentioned, and to inform him that he had been made a vice-president. The vice-presidents and secretary were re-elected. The meetings arranged by the committee for the year are: September meeting, Darlington (St.

John's); Easter Monday, 1923, Catterick Bridge; annual meeting, 1923, Thirsk.

Several items of interest were gone into, which were of great importance to the association, including that a report of the work be printed, bringing the work up to date.—A hearty vote of thanks was proposed to the Rev. A. Simpson for so ably presiding over the meeting. The ringers then returned to the tower, and kept the bells going to Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob Major.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Gloucester Branch was held at Coln St. Aldwyn's, on Thursday, June 15th, and was fairly well attended, members being present from Cirencester, Fairford, South Cerney, Down Ampney and Coln St. Aldwyn's. The bells, a light peal of eight (tenor 8½ cwt.), were raised about 4 o'clock, and kept going till 5.30. The business meeting followed, and the chairman of the branch (Mr. H. C. Bond) presided. Two new members were proposed. Tetbury was chosen for the next quarterly meeting, practice meetings to be held at Chelworth and Rendcombe.—A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells concluded the business part of the meeting. The tower was again visited, some of the members obtaining a good practice on eight bells. During the afternoon and evening touches of Canterbury and Bob Doubles, Bob Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were successfully brought round.

A quarterly meeting of the Gloucester Branch was held at Hasfield on Saturday, June 24th, when 19 members turned up from the following towers: Gloucester, Barnwood, Maisemore, Sandhurst, Great Witcombe and Hasfield. Ringing commenced at 3.30, and at 4 o'clock a service was held in the church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. E. Dodd), who, in the course of a very fine address, extended to the visitors a most cordial welcome.

Following the service, the company were invited to the Rectory for tea. The business meeting immediately followed tea, at which the utmost harmony and goodwill prevailed.

The Rector having been voted to the chair, the Hon. Secretary (Capt. A. A. Bennett, C.A.) read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were duly confirmed, and arising out of which he reported that although the Longney ringers would not join the association, he had succeeded in obtaining permission for a meeting to be held there on July 22nd, and he hoped that the result would be that the Longney men being impressed by the spirit of the fraternity would reconsider their decision. Other less important business followed, and concluded with a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and his family for their generous welcome and hospitality.

PEAL ANALYSIS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Rev. E. W. Carpenter, in moving the adoption of the Peal Analysis Committee's Report, referred to the great loss which the committee especially had sustained by the death of Mr. A. T. King. They felt they had sustained an appreciable loss. Proceeding, he said, the Council would notice that in the first part of the report certain things were missing, which they had been accustomed to include in former years. Mr. King spent a very great deal of time and labour in getting out particulars, for instance, of the Grandsire Triples peals that were wrong, that he had not done for the past year when he was called away, and the committee did not think they could undertake the work at the time, and indeed they felt it was rather a work of supererogation. He did not know whether the Council would like to have these particulars in future, and he would also like to know whether the committee considered it was necessary to continue the long table of the number of peals wrong year by year, since 1881. The committee thought if they gave the figures for the past two or three years it would be sufficient.

Another alteration which they had made in the arrangements of the Analysis was to divide the tower bell peals from the handbell peals. It has facilitated the binding up of the paper, and it also showed more clearly what had been done in the way of handbell ringing.

POINTS FOR PEALS.

The Rev. H. Law James suggested that the Council should relieve the committee of the great waste of time of calculating the points for peals. They were no good, and only gave the committee a lot of work.

Mr. T. H. Beams said to drop the points would be to eliminate the only thing by which they were able to compare the standard of ringing in different parts of the country. The report upon the analysis was then adopted.

UNNAMED MINOR METHODS.

The Rev. E. W. Carpenter then referred to the question of the naming of unnamed Minor Methods. He said the Council would remember that last year the librarian was asked to receive names up to a period of six months from the last meeting, but he appeared to have gone on receiving them for some time after that. The committee found that there would be so much difficulty in going back over the names that they thought the simplest way out of it was to take the librarian's list and give names to those unnamed methods that were left. They had also looked into the names given to the methods by members of the Methods Committee when the collection was published, and they could not agree with them. In several instances they had called attention to the name given to No. 9 of Plain Method, called by the committee 'Stedman Slow Course,' but that name many years before was given to quite another method. Then, too, some of the methods had two or three, and one had at least four different names, and they felt it would be a most excellent thing to have some committee, either their own or some other committee appointed for the special purpose of going into the whole question, and see if they could not decide what were the original names that should appear in the Collection. If they had the permission of the Council to go into the matter, they would like to add to their committee the name of Mr. J. W. Parker, who, he was glad to say, was ready to serve, and they would be only too pleased to have him on it (applause).

The Rev. H. Law James (chairman of the Methods Committee) said the name of Stedman Slow Course to No. 9 was obviously wrong, and both names were circulated among the members of the committee before being printed. This mistake was never found out. He had no objection to the Analysis Committee taking over the naming of methods.

Mr. G. P. Burton said in view of the extraordinary names which had been given to new methods in the past, he hoped that only the committee would be allowed to name them in the future.

The Librarian (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) apologised to the Council for having overstepped his instructions with regard to receiving names for methods, and stated that he absolutely overlooked the fact that the Peals Analysis Committee were to be the authority after the end of six months from the last meeting. He had received a large number of claims which the committee are to go through and settle once for all, and he thought the best means of doing so would be to meet round the table, and not to conduct it by correspondence (hear, hear).

The Rev. E. W. Carpenter pointed out that there was one practical difficulty to their meeting round a table. One member resided near Southampton, another at Sunderland, a third in the extreme east of the country, and another in the west.

The Chairman: We have some excellent round tables in Birmingham.

The Rev. A. T. Beeston called attention to the fact that the committee suggested that a central authority should be established, to which inventors of methods should send the names they proposed.

to give to such methods, and that that central authority should decide whether the suggested name should be the name to be given to it, as they would then be able to see that the name was not borne by any other method. The confusion existing in the nomenclature of Minor Methods was likely to extend to the Major; in fact, a beginning had taken place, as they saw when a claim to the name of 'Lancashire Surprise Major' was made for a peal rung in Lancashire. When, however, it was pointed out that a method published in 1907 already bore the name of Lancashire Surprise, the band readily consented to change it to Northampton. He mentioned that fact to show that the tendency to confusion was likely to extend to Major Methods, and he hoped the Methods Committee would undertake the naming of the methods which they were now authorised to publish.

The portion of the report relating to the naming of methods was then put to the meeting, and carried, and Mr. J. W. Parker was added to the committee.

THE TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE.

The Towers and Belfries Committee's Report, which has already appeared in 'The Ringing World,' was presented by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, whose co-option on the committee was confirmed by the Council. Mr. Jenkyn said the conferences between the Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings were well attended, and were extraordinarily interesting. It was no detriment to anyone else who was present to say that the man who absolutely gathered everybody round him, and brought light out of darkness, was Mr. Lewis. He came with his figures and his personality, and tackled every objection in his quiet and convincing way. He placed his figures on the table and invited the other society to produce someone to test them. They found someone who was a great mathematician and engineer, who went through Mr. Lewis's figures and found they were absolutely correct. Their opinion of Mr. Lewis went extraordinarily high, and there had never been such good feeling between the society and that Council as existed at the present. He did not think the society ever had before such ideas of what might be done in hanging bells in ancient towers as they had at present (applause).

The Hon. Secretary, Mr. A. E. Young, said he attended every one of the meetings, and could fully bear out everything Mr. Jenkyn had said, while Major Hesse had written that the committee had thoroughly justified itself in the very fine work it had done this year.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies said he had had a letter from Mr. Lewis, which contained one important sentence. Mr. Lewis wrote:—'The main object for which the committee was set up is to my mind accomplished—the main object being, of course, to try and get a settlement to which both sides could agree—but I imagine it would be useful to continue the committee for the alternative purpose, and particularly with reference to the new diocesan bodies, which will be universal in the near future.' He thought Mr. Lewis was very wise in advising that the Towers and Belfries Committee should be conducted so that they might watch those new diocesan bodies, and consult with them when they were asked for their advice, or when they thought it would be good to give it.

The adoption of the report was proposed by Canon Elsee, seconded by the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore.

The Hon. Secretary stated that copies of the statement arrived at the conference were on the table for perusal, but they were not yet for publication, as they had not yet been approved by either party.

The Rev. H. Drake pointed out that the Council's pamphlet on 'More of Church Bells' was out of print, and asked whether it would not be advisable to get this committee to bring out a new edition, bearing in mind the new information that was presented in the report of the conference.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said it was understood that a revision of the pamphlet was necessary, and it might be a good thing for the committee to take it in hand.—The report was adopted, and the Chairman congratulated the committee upon the very useful work it had done.

THE WORK OF THE RECORDS COMMITTEE.

The Rev. A. T. Beeston presented the report of the Records Committee, whose terms of reference were 'that the Central Council compile and keep up to date an official list of the first peal, and the longest length in each method, and on each number of bells.' In the last report, the committee recommended the publication of the schedule of first performances and greatest lengths, in order that the details given might be examined, and the inaccuracies pointed out but after considering the cost, the committee felt unable to proceed without the Council's knowledge of the amount and definite instructions to do so, especially in view of the prior and heavy call upon the funds of the Council for the publication of other matters. In this connection they were, therefore, marking time until they learned the Council's will, meanwhile they had gone on with the necessary research work they had done.

They had been or were now in communication with the secretaries of all the Affiliated Associations, and the result was embodied in a revised schedule. They had thought well to include in it the findings of the late Jasper W. Snowden, and in consequence the list was considerably lengthened. The original terms of reference had required them to register all record performances up to date. There were a few additions to the list of progressive lengths, and appreciable progress had been made in new methods, or new variations of old methods. The work still remained incomplete; the committee believed records of performances might be found in places of which they were as yet unaware. Quite recently they had learned that such records had appeared in the old periodicals, 'Bell's Life' and the 'Sporting Magazine.' It was not, therefore, unlikely that some of the records the committee had already registered might require correction in the light of future discoveries. Mr. Daniell and Mr. Trollope had research work in hand for the committee at the British Museum. The committee wished gratefully to acknowledge their assistance; also the kindness of Mr. Davies in lending one of his volumes of 'Church Bells.' They were further indebted to those honorary secretaries of associations who had examined and returned the lists submitted to them.

It was agreed that in view of the fact that there were still other particulars to add to the schedule, that the printing of this schedule should stand over for another year.—The report was adopted.

BELL RESTORATION FUND.

Alderman Chambers moved the following resolution:—

'That it is desirable to establish in the area of each ringing association a Bell Restoration Fund, from which grants may be made for the restoration of any rings of bells within the area when local funds are insufficient to meet the cost.'

He said the necessity for such a fund had been pressed upon him on several occasions. It would be very desirable to have such a fund available for the larger restoration work that had to be undertaken. In every parish where there was a ring of bells there ought to be some fund provided locally for keeping the bells in order. They had a notable instance of this at Duffield, and one could only wish that the same sort of thing could be done in other places. They did not, however, find enthusiasts like the late Sir Arthur Heywood in every part of the country. In the absence of that it might be possible to establish a bell repair fund, apart from the general fund of each of the associations. At the last two meetings of the Midland Counties Associations he had been asked as president to make special appeals—last year for St. Martin's, this year for two peals of bells in Derby—and it did seem that some further help might be forthcoming if they had any central fund upon which they could fall back. Last year, the President had pointed out that the Council had always refrained from interfering with the business of local associations, and that practically every association had a fund of this kind, or was ready to make grants, and he did not see that the Council could give instructions. With all deference, he (Alderman Chambers) did not think anyone suggested that it would be a matter of instructions, but merely a recommendation from that Council that should receive consideration at the hands of the various associations. He thought it was a mistake to assume that most associations had repair funds. They had in a few cases, but he should say certainly not half of them had such a fund of that description available. In remote country districts and sparsely inhabited neighbourhoods it was very difficult indeed to carry out any important work of restoration, and he thought the supply which he proposed would be in the right direction.

Mr. W. Willson, who seconded, said the ringers were out the church bells, and it was their place to contribute something towards their restoration.

Mr. A. E. Parsons said he thought this matter was a domestic affair, and not one for that Council to legislate upon. There were already societies which have their own funds to carry on this work, and they were really doing good work. If the Midland Counties Association felt disposed to institute a similar fund, they could get some helpful information from the societies who already had them, and amongst them, he was pleased to say, the Worcester Association was one.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies suggested as an amendment that the opening of the resolution should read: 'That Diocesan and County Associations be asked to consider the advisability of establishing in the area of each Ringing Association,' etc. He said he entirely agreed with the spirit of the motion, but he thought the amendment was the more desirable form for it to take.—Mr. F. Hopgood seconded.

Mr. James George said that there were good peals of bells in the towns as well as in the country districts that required restoration work, and where it would end he did not know. He was afraid that such a scheme as proposed would lead to a good deal of selfishness and dissatisfaction, although he agreed that if it could be properly carried out it would be a good thing.

Alderman Chambers intimated that he was prepared to accept the amendment proposed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies.

The Chairman said he was glad of that, because he was going to point out that supposing they passed the resolution they had no power to compel it being carried out. It might be disregarded, and the Council would then look rather foolish in passing a resolution which they could not enforce. Ringers were never backward in contributing to bell restoration funds, and in Birmingham they had done a good deal, having contributed considerably to improve the peal of bells at St. Martin's. He had found that ringers always gave to the best of their means. He would like at that point to make a practical suggestion, and that was before they adjourned for luncheon that they should make a collection towards the restoration fund of Lincoln Cathedral. They had been favoured by the Dean and Chapter with the use of that magnificent Chapter House, and they sympathised deeply with the Cathedral authorities in their efforts to preserve that noble edifice in its integrity, and to check the first signs of decay a large sum of money was required, and subscriptions were not so handsome as one would have hoped. Every little helped, and he appealed to the members of the Council to contribute towards that noble object.

Canon Elsee said he greatly questioned whether the resolution proposed by Alderman Chambers, would be of great practical benefit. They all sympathised with those who had spoken about a Central Fund, but as a matter of fact he thought that such a Central Fund would produce too small an amount.

The Chairman: It is not proposed that there should be a Central Fund.

Canon Elsee said he was thinking of a Central Fund for a diocese of a county. The amount gathered by ringers in such an area would make up but a very small part of the cost of the restoration of a ring of bells, or of increasing a ring of bells. One could not oppose the loan, but he greatly doubted if it would have any great practical benefit. It seemed to him in the case of bell restorations that the real sources of income came with local feeling and local interest, and if a Central Fund for an Association did anything it would be very little.

Mr. G. P. Burton endorsed the views of Canon Elsee, and said they ought to be careful before putting forward anything which would add to the burdens of Associations.

The Chairman said they had got quite a harmless resolution, which merely invited local Associations to consider whether the matter was expedient. Any argument upon the subject had better be put at the local Association meetings.

The motion as amended was then put to the meeting and carried.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A very successful meeting was held at Berkswell on Saturday, June 17th. Ringers were present from Allesley, Birmingham, Chilvers Coton, Coventry, Exhall, Nuneaton, Stoke, and the local band. A short service was held in the church, conducted by the President, Canon Back. Upwards of 50 members and friends were present during the afternoon and evening. Tea was kindly provided by the President and Mrs. Back.—Mr. A. Roberts (Ringing Master) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the President and Mrs. Back for their continued hospitality towards the members of the Guild, and so long as Canon Back was willing to act as president, he felt sure he would always be elected.

Mr. A. Wilkerson (hon. secretary) seconded the vote of thanks, and endorsed the Ringing Master's remarks, which, needless to say, was carried with acclamation.

The President, replying, said how pleased Mrs. Back and himself were to see such a good number of members present. It was a gathering they were both accustomed to look forward to with pleasure, and he hoped it would continue for many years to come.—In the course of his remarks, the President referred to the enthronement of the new Bishop of Coventry in the Cathedral on July 15th, which was the date of the annual meeting, and thought it would be a good thing if the Guild would hold its meeting at Coventry this year, and also to be represented at the enthronement.—Mention was made of the fact that there were no bells to ring in Coventry, and on the suggestion of the Hon. Secretary it was decided to put back the annual meeting to the 22nd July, at Warwick, if it could be arranged. At the same time it was decided for the Guild to be represented at the enthronement, and the President promised to apply for tickets. The methods rung during the day included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, London and Cambridge Surprise, Double Stedman Slow Course, Kent Treble Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford and Plain Bob.

DUDLEY & DISTRICT GUILD.

The quarterly meeting of the above was held on Saturday, May 27th, at Sedgley Parish Church, when upwards of 50 members from various towers were present.—The Rev. Dr. Swindell gave a very inspiring address at the Guild service, and also presided at the business meeting, which followed the tea.—A resolution was moved, and carried, that the subscription for ringing members be reduced from 1s. to 6d. per year, as and from the annual meeting, held on March 4th. The next quarterly meeting will be held at Wombourne.—Mr. Goodman (Ringing Master) moved that the best thanks of the meeting be given to Dr. Swindell, the organist, the ladies who prepared the tea, and to Mr. B. Fullwood for their services, etc., in making the meeting such a success.—Dr. Swindell, in reply, on behalf of the ladies, the organist, and Mr. Fullwood, said it was a pleasure to have such a meeting, and gave a hearty welcome to come again. He also gave permission for the quarterly peal of Stedman to be attempted at Sedgley Church.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN DIVISION.

A quarterly meeting of the above Division was held at Billingshurst on Saturday, June 17th. A goodly number of members attended from the following towers: Brighton, Chiddingfold, Cranleigh, Warnham, Heone, Portsea, Shipley, and members of the local band. Ringing commenced at 2 o'clock, and the following methods were rung: Grand. sire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Superlative and Cambridge Surprise. Major. The party adjourned for tea at the King's Head Hotel, after which the business meeting was held, the Rev. R. O. Johns presiding.—It was proposed to hold the next quarterly meeting at West Grinstead in September.—A vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. R. O. Johns for presiding, and for granting the use of the bells. The members then visited the belfry, and the bells were kept going in various methods till eight o'clock.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A quarterly meeting was held on Saturday last at Bedwas. The bells, a ring of six, with a tenor about 10 cwt., all of Bayley, of Bridgwater, were raised soon after three o'clock, and kept going until 4.30, when a service was held, conducted by the Rector, a former hon. secretary and treasurer of the association, the Rev. Connop L. Price, M.A. The address given was most encouraging to all the officers and members of the association. Tea immediately followed the service at the Rectory, which had been kindly provided by the Rector and Mrs. Price.

Following the tea, the business meeting was proceeded with, and various items dealt with, including a short report from the representatives that attended the Council meeting at Lincoln. New members were elected, and the place chosen for the next monthly meeting was Abergavenny, this being the only place proposed.

The business closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector and his wife for the exceptionally kind manner in which all were met and provided for, and also to Miss Thomas for kindness at the tea tables. Ringers attended from such distant places as Hay and Llanelly, Breconshire, and from Swindon, and the meeting was described as most successful.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very successful combined practice, attended by members from North Stoneham, Portsea, Portsmouth, Southampton (St. Mary's), Swanmore, Upham, Wickham, and the local ringers, was held at Curdridge on Saturday last. A goodly number were present, and the bells were rung up to 5 p.m. A short service was held in the church at 5.30, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. W. E. Slatter), at which the ringers attended. At the conclusion, he said how pleased he was to welcome the Guild to Curdridge. By his kind permission ringing was resumed at 6 o'clock, and continued till 7.30, when the bells were lowered. Throughout the day some good practice was had in all the standard methods, and also Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise Major.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH AND WEST DISTRICT.

A meeting was held at Sunbury-on-Thames on Saturday, June 17th, when 40 ringers were present. Several touches were rung, from Grandsire to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, before and after tea. Tea was served in the Parish Hall, with the Rev. F. D. Thompson presiding, supported by the vice-president, Mr. Tom Beadle.—The Rev. Thompson welcomed the association to Sunbury, on behalf of the Vicar (the Rev. P. Sydnay), followed by a ringers' address and business meeting.—The usual vote of thanks was accorded to the clergy, the vice-president, the Sunbury ringers for their kind services, and to all members and visitors for their attendance and support.

THE LATE MR. HARRY FLANDERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have received the following further amounts towards the fund opened on behalf of the widow of the late Mr. Harry Flanders, viz.: Mr. F. A. Milne, 5s.; Mr. J. George, 2s. 6d.; Mr. W. A. Pye (2nd donation), 2s. 6d.; Mr. Maurice Smith, 2s. The total received is £3 18s., which amount has been handed to Mrs. Flanders, who wishes me to convey to all who have so kindly helped, her very grateful thanks for their assistance in her time of need. I hope that all who responded to the appeal will also accept the thanks of Mr. A. Pye and myself, for their generous and timely help.

—Yours faithfully,

C. T. COLES.

WEDDING BELLS AT WRAGBY.

On June 1st, at Holy Trinity Church, York, Mr. Frank Atkinson, of Wragby, and Miss Helen Belcher, of York, were married. A well-struck 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung on the Wragby bells by Messrs. G. Harrison, J. Brewin, W. Jackson, J. Adams, J. Hewitt and A. Adams.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The bells at Holy Trinity, Burnley, and Kirkham, Lancs, are being rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

The peal at Tarporley, on May 27th, was rung in 2 hours and 49 minutes, not 2 hours, as printed in June 9th issue.

The peal at Coalbrookdale, on June 17th, was rung in three hours and two minutes, not four hours and two minutes, as printed in June 23rd issue.

Two change ringers wish to know whether there is any ringing to be had in or near Douglas, Isle of Man. Please forward any information to 'Ringing World' Office, Thanking you for the same.—Yours, 'INTERESTED.'

WHO IS THE OWNER?

Dear Sir,—I give below the composition of a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, which appears in the 1913 report of the Kent County Association under the name of W. Pye, and in the 1920 report of the Gloucester and Bristol Association the same peal is given under the name of John A. Burford. I think it is well to have the authorship established for future records.

ST. SIDWELL'S CHURCH BELLS, EXETER.

The ring of ten bells (tenor 23 cwt. 3 qr. 2 lb. in D) in the tower of the Parish Church of St. Sidwell, Exeter, have been completely overhauled and adjusted, and re-equipped for ringing purposes. For some years, and even before the great war began in 1914, some of the bells were hard to manipulate, and the abnormally dry weather of last year, acting on the stout old oak frame containing the peal, emphasised the necessity of giving attention to the whole combination. The matter was taken in hand by Mr. E. Shepherd, the Ringing Master, of St. Sidwell's Society, and chairman of the Exeter District of the Devonshire Guild of Ringers, with the result that a contract was completed with Messrs. T. Doble and Son, of Taunton, whereby they had to fit all the bells with new gudgeons and bearings, strengthen the wooden cage with vertical bolts, secure true balances for the bells, and repair the set-offs carrying the frame. This work having been completed, a trial of the bells took place the other evening. Several touches were rung and the result was an expression of general satisfaction with the way in which the contract had been carried out. The peal is one of the most highly appreciated in the West of England, and its availability for ringing, under improved conditions, will afford all campanologists keen satisfaction. It may be added that Messrs. Doble and Son have recently rehung the six bells at Kelly (the home of the President of the Guild of Devonshire ringers), and have overhauled the rings of six at Lamerton and Lew Trenchard, putting them in good ringing order. They have also received the order to rehang the six bells at St. Petrock's, Exeter.

PROOF & RECORD OF COMPOSITIONS

Among the motions which the Central Council considered was one proposing, in effect, that all new compositions should be officially proved before being rung or published, and that the Council should keep a record of all compositions. Unfortunately, the proposer was not present to put his arguments before the Council, and his deputy advanced the motion in such a non-committal fashion that it had little chance of passing from the outset, and in the end was negatived. All the criticism seemed to turn upon the first part of the resolution, with regard to the proof of peals, and that, of course, was not surprising. If the Council were to set up a committee to prove all the compositions which are produced, the unfortunate committee (if anyone could be found to serve upon it) would be loaded with an almost impossible burden, for every Tom, Dick and Harry who could string together sufficient course-ends would be submitting their efforts. In our view, a man should not attempt to compose peals until he understands, and can put into practice, the means of proof. There is no credit in putting together, say, twenty-four course ends of Superlative and having to get someone else to ascertain their accuracy. It is another thing to get them checked when the peal has been proved, but to provide machinery for proving everybody's compositions would be to encourage ignorant or lazy individuals to cast the real labour of composition upon other shoulders.

Very different, however, was the second reference in the motion, which, curiously, received little or no attention. What is badly wanted is a record of all compositions in all methods, so arranged that, with little trouble, it would be possible to say whether any peal, supposed to be new, had been previously obtained. There are, we believe, many compositions rung as the product of modern composers which were obtained years ago by others, and the Rev. H. Law James supported this view when, discussing the Treble Bob peal collection, he said he frequently got hold of figures which, while he was unable to find them in the various books, he knew were as old as the hills. As time passes this kind of thing will increase, unless there is some means of checking new productions with existing peals, for, however honest a composer may be, he cannot be expected to give up his claim unless figures can be brought to prove a prior right. Moreover, such a record would preserve many good compositions which, as things now are, are rung and then lost sight of. As the years go by it would become of more and more value, it would preserve to the composers who have gone the rights which justly belong to them, and it would form a reference to which new composers could turn with advantage and profit.

Makers to St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey, Imperial Institute, Canterbury, Edinburgh, St. Albans, Lincoln, Durham, Peterborough, Melbourne (Australia), Rochester, Dublin St. Patrick's, Manchester and Worcester Cathedrals, etc.

Admittedly the initial labour would be a big one, but far and away less exacting than, for instance, working out and proving all the Treble Bob Major methods, which task is not unlikely to be assailed in the near future. At the same time, it must be realised that the longer it is put off the more difficult it will become, not only on account of the larger number of peals to be dealt with, but of the extra labour involved in bringing together the old compositions. This work is one which, we believe, would prove of great importance to the Exercise—increasingly so in years to come—and it is one which we hope the Council will seriously consider.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.
THE ST. CLEMENT'S YOUTHS.

This young society celebrated their first year by having an enjoyable outing together on June 17th, at Chislehurst. Amongst the party was the president, the Rev. W. H. Bickford, who was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Pennington Bickford. The party were welcomed at Chislehurst Church by the Vicar, and a move was made for the 'ringing-bay,' for the bells are rung off the church floor. Here several touches were indulged in by the 'oldsters,' and some call changes by the youngsters.

The party, now augmented by Mr. Groombridge, senr., and one or two of the local ringers, adjourned to the Bickley Hotel for tea. Chislehurst may be famous for its fine situation and charming woodlands, but its hall-mark is undoubtedly its caves. After a few tunes on the handbells, the party moved off, and presently each armed with at least a lantern, adventured into the great cave. A very interesting perambulation was, however, brought round in about 40 minutes. Despite the risk of a flashlight photo (by that well-known ringer, Mr. H. P. Harmon) and of ringing a course of Stedman Triples, in front of the 'Druids Altar,' the party emerged safely again to outer daylight and reported all present.

The excursion was well organised by the Master, Mr. E. Alex Young, and the secretary, Mr. W. Sergison.—Thanks were cordially expressed to the Vicar and local ringers for their kind welcome. The 'Youths' also (literally this time) were pleased to have with them those older but more famous 'Youths' upon whose precept and example they set so high a store.

ST. IGNATIUS-THE-MARTYR'S GUILD, SUNDERLAND.

The members took their annual trip on Wednesday, June 21st, and the party, numbering 21, included lady friends. A halt was made at Richmond for dinner, and the party afterwards journeyed by motor charabanc to Reeth and Muker, the famous 'Buttertubs' being visited.

On the return journey a short stop was made to examine the fine old church at Grinton, near Reeth.

After tea, the captain, Mr. J. W. Parker, in a happy little speech, expressed his pleasure that the first trip under the new arrangement had been so successful. He thanked the churchwardens for their assistance, and welcomed the visitors, the Rev. G. D. John and Mr. Stanley Rileson.—Mr. H. Dixon (churchwarden) and the visitors replied, and the secretary read a letter from Mr. Drury (Vicar's warden), expressing his regret that he and Mrs. Drury were unable to come owing to absence from home.

NUNEATON SOCIETY.

On Saturday, June 24th, the members of the above society, with friends and relatives, including Mr. J. H. White and Mr. O. J. Hunt, of Coventry, had their annual outing to the Lutterworth area, permission having been previously obtained to ring the bells of Bitteswell, Gilmorton and Monk's Kirby Churches. Bitteswell was reached about 2.45. Owing to a case of serious illness near the church, permission to ring had to be withdrawn. Proceeding to Gilmorton, which was reached about 3.45, the party were received and given a hearty welcome by the Rector, the Rev. S. G. Lloyd. During the time the ringers were in the church the ladies of the party accepted and enjoyed the invitation of the Rector to walk round the Rectory garden. The ringing here included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Double Norwich Court Bob Major and Superlative Surprise. In thanking the Rector for his kind permission to ring, the visitors remarked on the handy little peal of bells he possessed. The party were assured by the Rector it was a real pleasure for him to give permission, especially as the band knew how to ring them.

Lutterworth was next visited, but owing to a garden fete taking place in the Rectory grounds ringing could not take place.

Monk's Kirby was reached, and after tea the bells (dubbed by a ringer of some repute as the best in the country) were soon pealing forth in Grandsire Triples, followed by Stedman Triples Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major, all of which were successfully brought round. The falling of the bells in peal brought the tower ringing to a close, after which the handbells were brought into use until time arrived to 'pack up,' Nuneaton being reached safely about 10.15 p.m.

The ringers take this opportunity of thanking the various incumbents for the use of their bells, and also several friends who helped by their presence and assistance to make the outing a complete success.

On Saturday, July 1st the ringers of Bishop Ryder's, Birmingham, had their annual outing to Kinver. Permission to ring having been obtained from the Vicar, the party were met at the tower by H. Lee, one of the local band. The bells were raised in peal, and kept going for more than two hours. Touches attempted in the following methods were brought round: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, London and Bristol.

Several members of the Worcestershire Association, with their wives, joined in with the Ryders.—The Rev. Canon G. E. Badger, who presided at the tea, briefly welcomed the visitors and referred to the fact that their own bells were now out of order, and hoped that they would soon be restored again.—Mr. J. George also welcomed the visitors, and thanked the Vicar of Kinver for the use of the bells.—Mr. A. E. Parsons, on behalf of the non-Ryders, expressed his thanks for the opportunity given them of joining with the Ryders.

HITCHIN SOCIETY.

The Hitchin ringers held an outing on Saturday, June 24th, the members of the company, with their wives and friends about 20 in number, making a tour by charabanc, and visiting some of the towers in Bedfordshire. Starting at 11 a.m., the first call was made at the village of Old Warden. The bells (6) were raised, and a short touch of Oxford Treble Bob was brought round. The next place to be visited was Cardington, where touches of Double Norwich and Bob Major were rung. A halt was made at Bedford for dinner. No ringing was available owing to the serious illness of the Canon.

Woburn was visited next, and here they met members of the Bedfordshire Association, who happened to be holding their summer ringing festival. It was only possible to ring a course of Double Norwich, which was just sufficient to find how splendid the bells go there. At Leighton Buzzard the party were met by Mr. Nicholls, of the local band, who had most kindly arranged tea. After tea the tower was visited, and after touches of Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob on the back eight, the party succeeded in getting a course of Bob Royal on the full number. Dunstable was the last call, and a most enjoyable time was spent on this splendid ring of eight, and touches of Double Norwich, Stedman and Kent Treble Bob were brought home, in addition to a course of Superlative.

The ringers desire to thank the clergy of the various churches visited for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Sharman, hon. secretary of the Bedfordshire Association, and to Mr. Nicholls for kindnesses rendered in the course of their meeting.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual summer festival was held at Woburn, on Saturday, June 24th, and proved most successful. Members were present from Bedford St. Paul's and St. Peter's, Bromham, Clapham, Eynsbury, Turvey, Stagden, Luton, Linslade, Tring, Aspley Guise, Hasborne, Crawley and Dunstable.

The bells, a magnificent ring by Mears and Stainbank, were kept busy from 2.30 in a number of methods, from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major, London being rung for the first time at one of these meetings. The striking in the Surprise Major methods was excellent, and shows what promising young ringers there are to be found in the country districts. At 4.15 a short service was held, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. V. G. White).—Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar and organist, and for the local men for the arrangements they had made, and were passed with acclamation.

Barton-le-Cley was selected for the next meeting, on July 15th, provided the necessary permission is granted. The tower was again visited, and further ringing took place until 8 p.m.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD. STOCKPORT BRANCH.

Barbage, an outpost of the Guild, was the scene of a branch meeting, on Saturday, June 17th. About 60 members and friends were present.

The Rev. J. Hewitson (Vicar) conducted the service and preached a most impressive sermon, at the commencement of which he gave all a most cordial welcome.

The usual business meeting followed, with Mr. J. H. Jackson in the chair.—Mr. W. Gordon, on behalf of his brother springs expressed their hearty appreciation of the cordial welcome extended to them, and their thanks to the Vicar for his address.—In his reply, the Vicar said he thought it was he who ought to move a vote of thanks to the ringers for coming; and he hoped they would not let so long a time elapse before they came again, the last meeting being in 1913.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and passed, one new member being elected, and Northenden fixed as the place of the next meeting.

The Hon. Secretary reminded the members of the forthcoming annual festival to be held at Lymm on August Bank Holiday.

Ringling commenced at 2.30 p.m., the bells are a handy ring of six (tenor 10 $\frac{1}{2}$  cwt.), by Taylor, and the methods ranged from Grandsire Doubles, by 'Ye Belles of Ashton,' to London Surprise, by 'Ye Beaus of other places.'

CAMBRIDGE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The peal of Cambridge Royal in last week's 'Ringing World' was composed by me in 1910, and rung at St. Stephen's, Bristol, on September 3rd, 1912.—Vide Gloucester and Bristol report, No. 907.

H. LAW JAMES.

A CORRECTION.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies desires to point out that the report of his motion, at the Central Council meeting, should read as follows, viz.: 'Produced figures to prove that the two halves of the ten-part do not, and that those of the six-part do begin at the same place.'

COOMBE-IN-TEIGNHEAD BELLS.

The peal of six bells at Coombe-in-Teignhead, near Teignmouth, has this week been restored and hung on modern fittings, including patent adjustable bearings, by the well-known West of England firm, Messrs. Aggett and Sons, Bell Works, Chafford. The bells were tested on Friday evening by the firm and the Coombe Guild of Ringers, and all were well pleased with the improved tone of the clappers and 'go' of the bells. The opening service of these bells will take place on July 20th, at 3 o'clock. Ringers are welcome.

Messrs. Aggett are commencing this week the restoration of the peal at Slapton, near Kingsbridge.

FALSE COMPOSITIONS IN C.C. COLLECTION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I shall be glad if you will kindly point out that the following peals in the C.C. Collection are false:—

- No. 167. Bob Major, by Henry Dains.
- No. 21. Bob Royal, by Henry Dains.
- No. 21. Bob Royal, by Henry Dains (Variation).
- No. 1. Double Oxford Major, by Henry Dains.
- No. 2. Bob Major, by John Carter, will run only 4,032 changes, and not 8,064, as stated in the Collection.
- Double Norwich, Section 3, Group 2.
- No. 30. 5184 by Henry Dains, is true as 5,184, but if reduced to 5,072 will repeat at the 4th lead.
- No. 73. 5,120, by Henry Dains, is true as 5,120, but if reduced to 5,008 will repeat at the 4th lead.
- No. 65. 5,040, by W. Royle, is false, as published in the Collection, and should read as follows:—

5,040 by W. ROYLE.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In reply to Mr. Page, in your last issue, concerning the authorship of the 5,040 Cambridge Royal, I composed this peal in 1908, and called it at St. Sepulchre's, Holborn, on January 29th, 1911. The figures appear in the Middlesex Association report of that year.—Yours truly,

W. PYLE.

NOT WORTH PRINTING?

To the Editor.

Sir,—I have the Council Treble Bob Collection on loan. It contains several peals—new to me—without the second in sixth's at course end, which I appreciate. The committee have spent a lot of time and trouble in compiling it, and I am sure all who examine it will be grateful to Miss Parker for typing it.

But I think the circulation of the collection will show it is not worth printing.

1 to 39 are old five part peals, or practically so, and I should think everyone has enough of them.

40 to 59 are three part peals of no merit.

57 to 59, with seven courses in a part, and 99 to 109 with the same and more, part the tenors altogether too much.

100 is 5858, 101 is 5952, 134 is 6720, and 135 is 7968, and I do not suppose anyone will ever ring them or any similar.

I am sure all conductors are grateful to composers, but it is no use publishing peals that will not ever be rung; and if the Central Council will start on a good Treble Bob Peal Collection—which is wanted—they had best have a conductor to edit the collection.—Yours truly,

FRED R. BORRETT.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Central Division was held at Cuckfield on Saturday, June 24th, by invitation, the numbers present being 31. The Edmington ringers, who were on their outing to Brighton, also joined in the ringing in the afternoon. At 4.30 a short service was held in church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon C. W. G. Wilson). A collection was taken for the benevolent fund, and amounted to 7s. 2d. Tea (which had been provided by the kindness of local friends) was much appreciated. The usual business meeting followed, and the election of Mr. Alec. Richardson (Tunbridge Wells) and Mr. W. E. Maulden (Framlingham, Suffolk), as non-resident members, was confirmed.—Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for his kind invitation to Cuckfield, the use of the bells, and his instructive address; to the organist; and to all those kind friends who had provided tea, and the ladies who waited upon them. The tower was again visited until about 8 o'clock. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire to Surprise. The following towers were represented: Balcombe, Bolney, Brighton (St. Peter's), Crawley, Cuckfield, Hurstpierpoint, Lindfield, Southover (Lewes), Twinham, and independent members.

RECORD LENGTHS, &c.To the Editor.*

Sir,—It is a great pity to think so much of your valuable space should be utilised for letters which amount almost to personal, and which have no interest whatever to the average reader of 'The Ringing World,' the tone of some of them being very painful reading, and quite contrary to the friendly feeling that exists generally amongst brother ringers.

To mention only one—Record peals I have always understood was a performance to eclipse in length a previous record; therefore, why all this quibbling about weights of tenors?

When a band is intent on ringing a record length, if I know anything about it, they choose the best going ring available, be they heavy or light; therefore, it would be much more interesting to the Exercise at large if those who think the present record, 21,363, at Appleton, is not to their satisfaction (instead of trying to belittle it) to get a tower and band and ring a longer length.

I am not a long peal ringer, but will guarantee, if attempted, it will be on a tip-top going ring, but my little experience teaches me that the lightest bells are not always the easiest.

West End, near Southampton.

GEORGE WILLIAMS.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A mid-week practice meeting of the North and East District was held at Finchley on Thursday, June 22nd, about 20 members attending from Willesden, Hornsey, Gospel Oak, Walthamstow, etc. The bells were made much use of from shortly after 7 o'clock until 9.45, amongst the many methods practised being Plain Bob Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Double Court and Cambridge Surprise Minor and Stodman Doubles. The next meeting of this series will be held at Northaw, on Thursday, July 20th, and members are reminded of the meeting to take place at Willesden on Saturday, July 8th, at which it is hoped a good muster will be present.

CHERITON.

Ringers going to Folkestone should visit the picturesque little church of St. Martin's, Cheriton, where they will find a peal of six (tenor  $7\frac{1}{2}$  cwt.), and a hearty welcome by the band of local ringers.

Practice is on alternate Wednesdays and Thursdays, and the writer had the pleasure of assisting the local men with several touches of Plain Bob Minor, including 720 in the method on Thursday, 29th June, in 25 minutes, by the following: F. Slingsby 1, H. Beal 2, G. L. Joyce 3, A. Higgins 4, S. Baker 5, C. Turner 6. Conducted by C. Turner, of Dover.

THE APPLETON LONG PEAL.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—It seems to me, and I think to some others, that Mr. Pye misses the main point of long peal ringing. From his letter one would imagine it to be merely a matter of physical endurance. This, of course, is necessary, but to my mind the great point in a long peal is the mental endurance of both the conductor and the ringers for so many hours. A long peal is, in my opinion, as nearly superior to an ordinary 5,000, as one of Mr. Morris' 'tapped' London Surprise peals is to a peal of London, rung by eight men.

I have no wish to enter into a paper war, and have said all that I intend to say.—I am, yours truly,

GEORGE H. PHILLOTT.

MARRIAGE OF MR. H. D. L. PATERSON.

On the occasion of the marriage of Mr. H. D. L. Paterson with Miss Vera Kinneir, at Holy Trinity Parish Church, Brompton, London, S.W., on Thursday, June 29th, the bells of the Parish Church, Swindon, were rung during the afternoon and evening in touches of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Superlative by E. Bishop, C. J. Gardener (conductor), S. Palmer, R. W. Hyner, G. W. Townsend, W. G. Lancaster, H. A. Hearl, A. Bond, A. E. W. Smith and J. H. Shepherd.

The bride's father and grandfather before him, have been partners in the leading firm of solicitors in the district, and have taken prominent parts in the affairs of the town, on many occasions filling the office of churchwardens, and have always been strong supporters and generous benefactors to the church.

FALSE PEAL OF BOB ROYAL.To the Editor.*

Sir,—A few weeks ago you published a letter from a reader re false peal of Bob Royal in C.C. Collection. That peal, when found to be false (after being rung) was fully published in 'Bell News.' It is a pity it has been overlooked. In case the following peals have not been duly noted as being false I am sending particulars which I hope you will be good enough to publish. They are all in Snowden's Double Norwich Book, and are all the compositions of H. Dains.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

HOLT'S PEALS OF GRANDSIRE TRIPLES.

When the Council resumed after the luncheon interval it proceeded to consider the notice upon the agenda, 'to call attention to a point in Holt's peals of Grandsire Triples.' The Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who had put this matter on the agenda, said it referred to Holt's ten-part or six-part peals, and some comments in the second edition of Snowden's 'Grandsire.' It was only recently these comments had come to his notice, as he had been in the habit of using the first edition, and had not seen the second edition. In Mr. Thompson's paper it was stated 'We now see at a glance that the former (the ten-part peal) is symmetrical about the dividing line, and that the latter (the six-part) is not so. We do not see anything wrong on page 78, and do not understand the criticisms on page 165.' Page 78, explained Mr. Davies, contained a table of the calling of the two halves of Holt's ten-part drawn up by Snowden, and on page 165, he (Mr. Davies) showed where the starting points of the two halves were, and added that his explanation served to clear up the little mistake into which Mr. Jasper Snowden had fallen, which consisted in thinking that the two halves started from the same place, whereas the first half started from a point marked A, and the second half from B (and not from the same point). He wanted to try and make this matter plain, and had written out the actual changes for the Council's inspection. It was not a matter of opinion, but a matter of fact. Where he thought Mr. Thompson got wrong was that he used symbols. He said, 'Let a load of Grandsire equal X,' and then went on to play with X, the end of it being that the X came out upside down (laughter). It was not the first time he had found a mathematician in error. They treated symbols as if the symbols were the things themselves. He suggested before the discussion went further that the figures he had copied out should be passed round for examination, and the matter debated at a later stage.

This course was adopted, and later the Council returned to the subject.

Mr. J. W. Parker said the extent in Triples with two hunts could always be rung direct where the lead ends or division ends were even, and in composing a peal in two halves they generally composed it direct; but in joining the halves by singles (or other means) as in Stedman Triples, immediately they went from one half to the other they began to ring the second half backward, although they got exactly the same changes. He believed, however, in Grandsire Triples when they got out their two half peals they could not reverse one of the halves, because if they did the plain places would come first, and the bob places would come after. The effect was that they would get quite different changes. Holt's singles did not reverse the half peals, but simply shunted on to another even lead-end by making a single change only instead of a triple change. If that were the case, why did Mr. Davies in his figures show the first half going one way and the second half going in the opposite direction if the second half were not the reverse?

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies said what Mr. Parker had brought forward was no doubt an interesting question, but it was absolutely different to the question which he (Mr. Davies) had brought forward, which was a question of fact: Did the two halves of Holt's ten-part start from the same place, or did they not? He maintained that they did not.

The Rev. H. Law James said Mr. Davies and Mr. Parker were both right, although it looked on the face of it as if they were contradicting each other. If they used Holt's singles the bob places came up in reverse order. It was perfectly true, if they did what Mr. Parker said, and called an ordinary single, that the changes would run up backward from 132 to the last single. The bobs would be made after the treble led, and the plain places when the treble came to lead: the changes would run up backwards in the second half peals, and the bobs would be in the same order, and he was very anxious to ring a peal like that (laughter).

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies: What method would the last half be? I say it would not be Grandsire.

The Rev. H. Law James: Then if you stand on your head on the table you are not Mr. Davies? (loud laughter).

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies: I should very soon be a sick Mr. Davies (laughter).

No resolution was passed, and the subject then dropped.

THE USE AND CARE OF BELLS.

The Rev. H. Drake moved:—

'That the Council draw up a card of instructions on the Care and Use of Bells suitable for hanging in a Tower.'

His object, he said, was to provide concise instructions for those in charge of bells who were not in the habit of taking care to keep the bells in good condition. His suggestion was that the Council should draw up a card of instructions for the care and use of the bells, so that it could be hung in the belfry, just as they now found ecclesiastical insurance societies' cards hung upon organs. People ought to be made to understand that it was really a criminal thing to 'clock' a bell: and that the public ought not to have to suffer the ringing of a single bell for too long a time. A single bell ought not to be rung for more than three minutes, although it was often the practice to ring a single bell for ten minutes. It was on account of the annoyance which people got from this kind of thing that they objected to ringing altogether, and objected to change ringing. If the Council could do a sort of missionary work in this way it might be the means of getting more bells hung in the churches. Often people did not trouble about getting more bells because it had never been put into their heads, but if they had a card hanging up where it could be seen, they might sometimes think about having a peal of bells introduced into their church, and the bells would be kept in better order. He proposed that the Council draw up such a card and hang it in every church in the country where there were bells.

Canon Elsec, who seconded, emphasised the desirability of warning those responsible for bells of the danger of 'clocking,' and said that concise instructions, clearly printed, would be of service in many towers.

The Chairman (Alderman Pritchett) suggested that if the resolution found favour it should be amended, so that the Council instruct the Standing Committee or some other committee to draw up the card of instructions.

Mr. W. Willson said this was a matter more for individual associations. The Council would have to print some ten thousand cards for all the churches in Great Britain, and saddle themselves with great expense. Why should they do so? The associations could deal with this matter better than the Council. At the same time he appreciated the spirit in which the motion was brought forward.

Mr. A. E. Parsons said he did not take it the Council were to bear the expense. The motion was simply that the Council draw up a card of instructions. It would, he thought, be for the Council to issue them.

Mr. Willson: If the Council assumes the authority it will have to bear the expense.

Mr. W. A. Cave said there was already an excellent card of instructions, drawn up by one of the bell hanging firms, which was left in every tower where they rehung the bells. He thought it was a question for the bell founders, and he thought it would mean business for them.

Mr. James George asked why the Council should interest themselves in the one-bell question at churches they never went into!

The Rev. F. L. Edwards said one of the principal ideas was to get uniformity throughout the country. The cards issued by the different founders only got into the towers where rehanging or restoration took place. The value of the resolution before them was that it should interest the towers throughout the country. He suggested that the resolution be altered to the effect that the Standing Committee be instructed to make a draft of such instructions and submit it to the next meeting, when they could discuss the question whether it was advisable to take any steps for its printing and distribution in conjunction with the different Guilds and Associations.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who supported the resolution, said the speaker who referred to their requiring ten thousand copies was very wide of the mark. He thought a thousand copies would last them three or four years. He believed the bell founders would be glad to see issued a card which had the authority of the Council. The Council could very well charge for the cards, and so reimburse themselves.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn suggested that the three bell founders who were members of the Council should draw up the card. They were experts, and their advice would be most valuable.

Mr. C. F. Johnston said the bell founders would welcome a move on the part of the Council to try and impress upon church authorities that they should keep their bells in proper order. He had no doubt the founders interested would be willing to lend a hand in framing the instructions.

Mr. Pryce Taylor said his firm had for years issued a card of instructions with regard to the use and care of bells. They, however, only reached the towers where they carried out restorations.

The Chairman thought it would be most useful to have a card issued under the auspices of the Council which could be hung in towers where there were peals of bells. He thought the draft might be settled by the Standing Committee in consultation with the three bell founders.

The resolution was carried, with two dissentients.

AFFILIATION TO ONE SOCIETY.

The Rev. H. Drake next moved:—

'That every Tower should be officially affiliated to some one Society, and only one.'

This resolution, he said, was a corollary to the previous one, and the reason he had proposed it was that each association should be responsible for the towers in its area where there was no ringing. At present, associations only had to do with churches where there were ringers, and what they ought to do was to get into touch with the authorities of the towers where there were no ringers. He believed the whole country could be mapped out so that each association had a certain number of towers to look after. Perhaps he had not worded his resolution in the best possible way, for the Editor of the 'Ringing World' seemed to have put a wrong interpretation upon it. It was not in his mind that each tower where, at the present time, there were two associations ringing should decide which of these associations should be considered the official association of that tower. What he desired to see was that towers not affiliated to an association should be looked after by the association in whose area they stood. With regard to those towers where there was no ringing, or only one bell, and where only one association covered the area there would be no difficulty. Where there were two associations he suggested they could meet and map out the areas for which each should be responsible. If a card on the care and use of bells was to be hung up in the towers, each association would be responsible for seeing that it was in the towers in its area. Such a scheme would also be useful to enable associations to keep a look out for proposals to install tubular bells, and in cases where there was a question whether a tower was strong enough to hold a peal of bells, the authorities would know to what organisation they could appeal.

Mr. C. Mee seconded.

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, having pointed out that nothing had been said about towers with two, three, four or five bells, expressed the opinion that associations could not interfere in towers which were not in union with them. They must come into union before an association could have any locus standi at all, otherwise the parson might tell them he did not want their interference.

The Chairman said he hardly thought this was a resolution it would be wise to carry, because they could not enforce it. Inconvenience might arise as to what association a tower belonged to. It occurred some years ago in his own tower at King's Norton. The tower used to be in the Worcestershire Association, but ten years ago King's Norton was taken into Birmingham, and when the diocese of Birmingham was formed the ringing association became the Birmingham Diocesan Guild. The question then arose, were they to subscribe to Birmingham or continue their subscription to the Worcestershire Association? The resolution before them was, he thought, impracticable. They must allow these things to adjust themselves as best they could.

The motion on being put was defeated by a large majority.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern Division was held at Ripon, on Saturday, June 17th, and by kind permission of the Rev. C. M. Owen, Dean of Ripon, the beautiful bells of the Cathedral were kept going throughout the day. The meeting was well attended, ringers being present from Leeds, Bradford, Thornaby, Scarborough, Saltburn, Tanfield, Sharow, Pickering, and members of the local company.

The Cathedral is a noble Gothic pile full of historic interest and architectural charm. Adding to the numerous pleasures of the day was a full choral service in the nave of the Minster. The Dean gave a helpful and inspiring address, and wished the ringers good luck in their work.

A business meeting was held in the Cathedral hall, the Rev. E. Drage, vice-president, being in the chair.—In addressing the meeting, the Chairman spoke of the friendly way in which Mr. Single and his band had welcomed the visiting ringers in their tower. Later in the meeting Mr. Single was enrolled a member of the association.

It was decided to give notice of a proposition, to be brought up at the annual meeting of the association, stating that June, and not January, should be the date of the annual meeting of the Northern Division.

Malton was the place chosen for the next meeting, in October, and it was proposed that the quarterly meetings of the Northern Division be held on the third Saturday in the month so as not to clash with the meetings of the other Divisions of the Association.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Dean, Mr. Single, and members of the local band, for their kindly welcome.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

BRIDGNORTH BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the above branch was held at Worfield, near Bridgnorth, on Saturday, June 10th. Members and a few friends, numbering about 30, attended. The following towers were represented: Bridgnorth, St. Leonard's and St. Mary's, Quatt, Stockton, Worfield and Coalbrookdale. The methods rung were Grandire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

After tea the meeting was held, and the Rev. J. Roper, of Quatt, presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read and signed.—A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar (the Rev. A. E. Barrow) for the use of the bells.—It was decided to hold the quarterly meeting at Quatt early in September.—A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Burrows for the splendid tea.—The meeting also expressed great pleasure at seeing their Ringing Master Mr. J. Overton, with them, also Mr. W. Saunders, of Coalbrookdale, after their long turn of illness.—The ringers then adjourned to the tower, where ringing continued to 7.30.

WOTTON-UNDER-EDGE AND DISTRICT BRANCH.

The usual monthly meeting of this branch was held at Berkeley on Saturday last. Over 40 members attended from the following parishes: Berkeley, Dursley, Olveston, Thornbury, Wotton-under-Edge, Stone, Coaley, Stinchcombe, St. James', St. Phillips' and St. Thomas', Bristol. The Master of the Association, Mr. H. T. Howell, was present. Amongst the visitors were Mrs. R. J. Wilkins, Mrs. W. A. Cave, Miss A. Brown and Mr. C. H. Jennings, of Wyke Regis, hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. The bells (10) were made good use of during the afternoon and evening. Methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Bob Royal and Cambridge Surprise Major. Special service was held, the Vicar (the Rev. H. C. Armour) conducting. After the service, the Vicar unveiled a peal board in the tower recording a peal of Grandsire Caters rung by ex-Servicemen overseas members of the association. Before unveiling the board, the Vicar said he wished to thank those who took part in the peal for honouring their fallen comrades, by ringing the peal. Also he wished publicly to thank Mr. Sidney Loxton for so generously presenting the board to the association, and he was very pleased to have it placed in the tower. The board records the following:—'Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.—On Saturday, August 20th, 1921, in 3 hours 11 minutes, in this tower, a peal of Grandsire Caters (5,039 changes) was rung by overseas ex-soldier members selected from branches of the above association: W. A. Cave (Bristol) 1, Charles H. Auston (Gloucester) 2, Jesse B. Tyler (Bristol) 3, Fredk. Oakhill (Wotton-under-Edge) 4, Sidney R. Hicks (Cirencester) 5, Henry Smith (Stroud) 6, Alfred G. Hanniss (Gloucester) 7, Sidney M. Loxton (Cirencester) 8, John F. Ballinger (Cheltenham) 9, William Ireland (Stroud) 10. Tenor 24 cwt. Composed by John Carter. Conducted by William A. Cave (past Master). First peal upon the ten bells. The two trebles were given by members as a memorial to their brother members who fell in the great war, 1914-1918.—Vicar, Rev. H. C. Armour.'

After tea, the Vicar presided over a short business meeting.—Votes of thanks to the Vicar for granting the use of the bells, and for his remarks in the tower, were proposed by Mr. W. A. Cave, and seconded by Mr. F. Oakhill.—The Vicar, in responding, said he was always pleased to welcome the association to Berkeley, and remarked how pleased he was to see so many young members amongst the company.—Mr. C. H. Jennings, of Weymouth, in responding to a vote of thanks to the visitors, said he was pleased to be able to be with them that day, and assured them that if any of them were visiting his district he should be most pleased to give them a good time.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting was held at Monk Bretton, on Saturday, June 17th. The bells were rung in a wide variety of methods, from 2.15 till 8.45 p.m.—The Rev. Father Mercer (Vicar) attended the business meeting, and addressed the members on the religion of the bells, his soul-stirring words being greatly appreciated.—A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for his address, and the hope was expressed that such meetings would be held more frequently. A similar vote was accorded to the ladies and Mr. Richardson, the local captain, for the arrangements made for the visitors. Wortley was chosen as the next meeting-place, to be held on Saturday, July 8th.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, June 17th, a peal of Stedman Triples was attempted at Christ Church, Jarrow-on-Tyne, but was lost after 24 hours, owing to the 5th bell slipping her rope. It is about two years since the two trebles were added and the bells rehung, but they were never a satisfactory job. Mr. Brewis, the leader of the local ringers, with his good wife and daughter, very kindly provided tea, and the band tendered their warm thanks to their kind host and hostesses.

WESTERN DIVISION.

A meeting of the above Division was held at Tanfield, on Saturday, June 24th, twenty members, including two ladies, being present from the following towers: Consett, Darlington, Chester-le-Street, Gateshead, Houghton-le-Spring, Newcastle Cathedral, and Tanfield.

Good practice was made in Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Triples, and Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major.—The Rev. A. W. Lister, curate of Tanfield, was in the chair.—A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of Tanfield (Canon Archdale) for the use of the bells and for his kindness in throwing open his garden, and for his kindly hospitality to the older ringers. Also hearty thanks were tendered to Mr. Harry Tyson, divisional secretary, for his trouble in making arrangements for the meeting.—Regret was expressed that Mr. Lourey, of Newburn-on-Tyne, the divisional vice-president, was unable to be present.

CAMPANOLOGY AT ANSTON.

BOY'S REMARKABLE FEAT.

Anston bell ringers have always set before them a lofty ideal, and on Tuesday, June 13th, they added yet another triumph to their already commendable record by ringing Mr. W. Allwood's 'principle' with 81 bobs.

The most remarkable feature in this event, however, is the fact that this peal was conducted throughout by Gordon Turner, aged 12 years. The boy's father is a ringer, and occasionally the boy has visited the tower with his father, and in this way seems to have acquired a complete mastery of the technique of ringing. He has previously conducted some of the simpler peals, such as 'Anston Surprise,' 'Silver Star,' 'Anabel's London,' Cambridge Surprise, etc. The conducting of this 'principle,' however, is an extraordinary feat for one so young, and we heartily congratulate the boy on his performance, and the Anston campanologists on having discovered such a prodigy. We append the peal as follows:—

5,040 STEDMAN TRIPLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I shall be obliged if you will kindly insert the following composition of Stedman Triples in 'The Ringing World':—

Although it is arranged in six parts, no doubt it will be found perhaps the most difficult peal of Stedman Triples yet obtained (with two singles only) to conduct, as it contains 585 calls, and there is no fixed bell home at each course end.

The bobs are chiefly even with a sprinkling of odd bobs.

Thanking you in anticipation.—Yours faithfully,

A. J. PITMAN.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Middlesex County Association Peal Books have been removed from St. Andrew's, Hillingdon, to St. Mary's, Acton.

The St. Mary's, Acton, Guild, gave another exhibition of 'Method Ringing' to a packed and appreciative audience at St. Paul's Church Hall, Ealing. A wish was expressed that they would pay another visit.

We are glad to learn that Mr. W. Willson, of Leicester, who has been ill with congestion of the lungs, is now recovering.

The ringer of the 7th in the peal of London, at Oxhey, was William G. Whitehead, not White, as stated in last week's issue.

Shipway's five-part peal of 5,120 Bob Major is false and there are several false peals in his book. Also the first peal of Stedman Caters rung by the College Youths (first ever rung, see Clavis) is false.—A. Knights, Chesterfield.

'STEDMAN SEXTUPLES.'

THE BIRMINGHAM 14-BELL PEAL.

The handbell performance at Birmingham, where the first peal on fourteen bells was rung on June 24th, is not only unique, but is an achievement worthy of more than passing notice. Hitherto peals on twelve bells have been accepted as the limit of practical ringing, and, so far as tower bells are concerned, for the very good reason that this is the maximum number available in any one belfry. This restriction has not applied to handbells, but the limitation has been tacitly accepted, and it has been left to the band at Birmingham to break away from precedent.

Even for a company so well up in Stedman Cinques as this band is, the extension to two more bells is not an altogether easy matter, for while the method presents no difficulty the placing of the bells is the important thing, and to get a good beat and good striking is not quite the simple thing it may at first appear. For this reason the Analysis Committee of the Central Council will have carefully to consider the points to be awarded. The difficulties of 'rope sight' in going from ten to twelve are acknowledged to be greater than in going from eight to ten. The jump from twelve to fourteen is proportionately greater still, and this will doubtless be recognised by the committee when allocating the points.

As to the name that has been given, we think the designation is correct. The words Doubles and Triples are used for methods with continuous Double and Triple changes. On nine bells there are continuous quadruple changes, and on eleven quintuple changes, and although we use a corruption of French words ('Caters' and 'Cinques') in place of these expressions, 'sextuple' follows in the mathematical sequence, and should, we think, be used.

With regard to the peal itself, the composition of which we give below, it was splendidly rung, and it was not unfitting that the performance should have taken place in the historic belfry of St. Martin's where so much history in the Stedman method has been made. The ringing was faultless, and the long turning course of 228 changes in the middle was perfect. Altogether, the achievement is one upon which the band are to be congratulated, and upon which they may well pride themselves.

RECORD LENGTH TREBLE BOB.

Dear Sir,—Regarding the unfortunate happening in connection with the Mottram Peal, which all true ringers will deeply regret, in your article on the subject there is a little oversight, inasmuch as Mr. E. Timbrell himself lengthened his 16,800 by ten leads about 1907.

However, my object in writing to you is to put before the Exercise a peal which I composed some years ago. At the Central Council meeting, held in Newcastle-on-Tyne, in 1913, I was asked by a member to endeavour to obtain the longest length of Treble Bob for a well-known conductor, who desired to ring the record.

Working on a different plan to Mr. Timbrell, after a considerable amount of hard work, I succeeded in putting together 17,280 changes, which so far as I know is the greatest number obtainable. This was in the hands of the conductor in January, 1914, and has been in his possession ever since. Not having heard of it since 1915, and in view of recent events, I feel justified in now placing my peal before the Exercise, and the figures are given below.

17,280 TREBLE BOB MAJOR.

234567	M.	In.	Out.	5ths.	W.	H.
374562	1		1	1
567432		1	1	2
674523	Out.	4ths	and	Out.	1	2
473526	2	1	1		2	2
742536	2					2
45623	2	1	1			1
476532				1
367542	1					1
24653		1	1		2

Four times repeated.

As often occurs when two men are working towards the same end, Mr. Lindoff's composition is produced from exactly the same true courses and leads as the above peal.—Yours faithfully

JOSEPH W. PARKER.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR CO-OPERATION

The Central Council has on various occasions in the past dealt with the question of the care and use of church bells—a matter which obviously should be one of its first considerations. It was brought back to the subject by a resolution at the Lincoln meeting, and so vital a matter is it to the interests of ringing, that anything is to be welcomed which helps to keep it constantly before those who are responsible for the upkeep of bells. A pamphlet on 'the preservation of church bells' was one of the publications issued by the Council, although this is for the time being out of print, and recently a circular was issued with a view to interesting Church authorities in the promotion of change ringing and the proper use of bells. The Council has not been lacking, therefore, in efforts to promote the due care of this valuable part of church property, but time brings constant changes, and the well-cared-for belfry of to-day may be the neglected tower of the not distant future. A more or less regular reminder of the importance of keeping bells in order is, consequently, not unnecessary, and the method by which it is now proposed to approach those responsible is by the medium of a card of instructions on the care and use of bells. For the moment the Council's action is to be limited to the drawing up of these instructions, but at the next meeting it will have to consider how these instructions may be dealt with to serve their purpose best.

To print a number of cards and dispose of them at a few pence each to those who apply for them will certainly not achieve the end which ought to be aimed at. If they are left to be thus distributed, the cards are likely to make their way only into those towers in which there are already men interested in ringing and, incidentally, in the publications of the Council. It is far more important that they should go into the belfries where the interest in bells and ringing is less developed; in fact, the best results would be achieved if these instructions, when drawn up, could be distributed broadcast, as, we imagine, was in the mind of the mover when he put the motion on the agenda. Here, of course, the question of expense enters, and this, with the means of turning the issue of the card to best account, will have to be dealt with by the Council when the instructions have been drawn up.

It seems to us, however, that this is a matter in which the affiliated associations might well co-operate with the Council. Every tower in which bells can be put or kept in order is a distinct gain to an association, for it is one of the most important steps in bringing in those belfries not already in membership and in helping to keep those which are. Where associations are thus likely to gain, they ought to be ready to share the cost with the Council, as well as giving their assistance in other ways. The towers which it should be the aim specially to reach in this case are those where the bells are at present neglected and un-rung, and, in bringing these instructions for the care and use of bells before those responsible—instructions be it remembered which will bear the stamp of the highest authority—the associations will have a rare opportunity of introducing some valuable propaganda work. But in this, as in other things, it is necessary to take a wide view and not to miss the opportunity of what might be a useful piece of work, by restricting the distribution of these cards only to those towers which may apply and pay for them.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

BRAINTREE, ESSEX.

On Saturday, July 8th, the members of St. Michael's Guild of Ringers had their annual outing. Travelling by charabanc they visited several towers in Suffolk. Bures was first on the list. Here there is a heavy ring of six recently rehung by Mr. A. Howell, and are in good going order. Touches of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob were successfully brought round. Assington, the adjoining village, was soon reached, possessing a nice church with a musical ring of six (tenor about 10 cwt.). The bells were soon heard to the best effect to the tune of Oxford Treble Bob and Double Court. Journeying onwards, Boxford was reached about 11.30, where many friends were met from Helmingham and Ottery, who were also on their outing, and were already in the tower trying their hands on the bells, a good ring of eight, but go very heavily and hang the back way round in the following order: 1 2 4 3 6 7 8 5. A course of Kent Treble Bob and a touch of Grandsire, in which Mr. H. Stone, a local ringer, took part, sufficed at this tower. The next halt was made at Hadleigh, where lunch was taken. It is general knowledge among ringers that Hadleigh possesses one of the finest rings of eight (tenor 28 cwt.) in the county, and our expectations were more than fulfilled. Mr. Thomas Reed had everything ready, and excellent touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major were rung. Proceeding to Higham, Mr. Featherstone met the ringers, and had the bells, a very musical ring of six (tenor 9 cwt.), raised ready for ringing. The bells go remarkably well, and can be rung at any pace, a touch of Oxford Treble Bob being brought round in handbell time. A touch of Double Court was next accomplished at about 30 changes to the minute, and met with approval. The Vicar visited the tower, and expressed his appreciation of the ringing, and Mr. Featherstone cycled on to get the ring of six at Stratford St. Mary raised ready for the party. Touches of Oxford and Kent and Double Court finished the ringing for the day. Dedham was the place arranged for tea, at 5.30 p.m. The church was visited and the tower admired, and regret expressed that no attempt is being made to strengthen this beautiful structure to make it possible to ring the fine peal of eight which have been silent, from a ringers' point of view for over fifty years. Permission had been given to ring at Langham, but had to be abandoned. Leaving Dedham at 7 p.m., home was reached at 8.15 p.m., after one of the most enjoyable outings the Guild have ever had. The best thanks were expressed to the incumbents of the various towers for the use of the bells, and to Messrs. Stone, Reed and Featherstone for making the arrangements, and hearty welcome received.

LINCOLN CATHEDRAL SOCIETY.

The members of the above society, along with Messrs. Marcon and Pask (of St. Peter-at-Arch), E. Lloyd (of St. Botolph's), and Master 'Gay' Clifton, had their annual outing on Saturday last. Travelling by motor through Bransford, Blankney, Donnington, Ruskington, and Haverholme Park to Ewerby, where the peal of ten bells (tenor 15½ cwt. in D, a wonderful bell for the weight) were soon set going to Stedman Caters and Double Norwich Major. After lowering the bells a start was made for Heckington, which was reached about 5 p.m. The church, a most magnificent one, was visited, and the bells (a good peal of eight, tenor 20 cwt. in E flat) were soon set going to Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Major, Cambridge Surprise, etc., in which some of the local ringers took part, also Mr. Norman E. Snow, of Sleaford (whom the society were most pleased to see both at Ewerby and Heckington).

The return journey was made via Sleaford.—The best thanks of the society were due to the incumbents of Ewerby and Heckington for the use of the bells, and to the ringers of both towers; also to Mr. W. Dickinson, of Heckington, for the admirable arrangements he made for the tea. Lincoln was reached just before 11 p.m., after a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon's outing.

CHORLEY SOCIETY.

On Saturday, July 1st, the Chorley ringers visited Blackpool and Bispham. Permission had been received for the use of the bells at Holy Trinity, South Shore, and All Hallows', Bispham. Holy Trinity tower was the first tower visited, where the party were met on arrival by Mr. Rowcliffe, the chief ringer.

The bells, a nice light peal of six, by Meads and Stainbank, were soon going to Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob, touches of which were successfully brought round.

The party next visited Bispham Church, where they were met by the Vicar, who gave them a cordial welcome.

The bells here are a very musical peal of eight, by Meads and Stainbank, with patent buffers on the clappers. Touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were accomplished here before lowering the bells.

The ringers take this opportunity of offering their best thanks to the respective incumbents for the use of the bells; also to the local companies for having everything in readiness.

ST. THOMAS'S GUILD, SOUTH WIGSTON.

On Saturday, July 8th, the members held their annual outing. A start was made from St. Thomas's Church at 1.30 p.m., by charabanc, proceeding via Blaby, Whetstone and Narborough, picking up Messrs. C. H. Webb and H. Briggs, who joined the party later, to Sharnford, where handbell ringing was commenced. Monks Kirby was reached, and here the party mounted the tower, and set this fine peal of bells off into changes, touches of Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Double Norwich Court Bob Major being successfully brought round. After tea, a start was made for Rugby, where they were met at the church by Mr. J. Fenton and other members of the local band.

The fine old bells were soon set off into Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major until about 8 p.m., when the party adjourned to a room which Mr. Fenton had kindly arranged for them to spend a social evening. The party arrived safely back at St. Thomas's Church, South Wigston, after a most enjoyable outing. Thanks were accorded to the incumbents for the use of the bells and the friends who helped to make the outing a complete success.

CAERPHILLY SOCIETY.

The above ringers journeyed to Bristol on July 1st for their annual outing, being augmented by two members from Bedwas. On arriving at Newport two more were added to the company, Mr. J. W. Jones and Mr. C. Gredy. Bristol was reached, and the party proceeded to St. Philip's for a pull. After ringing for about an hour St. Stephen's was next visited, the party being joined by Mr R. Newton, of Liverpool, and several of the Bristol men. The following churches were also visited: St. James', St. Matthew's, St. Peter's and St. Thomas's.

Thanks were due to Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, and Mr. P. C. Williams, of Bristol, for making the arrangements; the Bristol ringers for giving the party such a fine welcome, and also the various incumbents for the use of their bells. Methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

Saturday, July 1st, was a memorable day in the annals of the North Notts ringers, when over 70 members, with their wives and sweethearts, visited Edwinstowe (the capital of the Dukeries). The towers represented were Barlborough, Cuckney, Harworth, Tuxford, Tuxford, Ordsall, Gainsborough, Tickhill, Warsop, Edwinstowe and Worksop, whilst members from kindred associations were present from Alfreton and Killamarsh and Sutton-in-Ashfield. During the afternoon and evening, touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire Doubles, Kent and Oxford, Duke of York, and other methods, were rung by mixed companies, the sound of the bells drawing a large concourse of people from the forest to the church to hear and witness the intricacies of change ringing, who remarked how neatly and truly the ladies handled the ropes. Tea was served at the Church Institute, under the supervision of Miss Mitchell, with a band of willing workers, and was presided over by the Vicar of Edwinstowe (the Rev. F. C. Day-Lewis).—The business meeting followed, and the Vicar, in a brief address, gave a hearty welcome to all. He was delighted, he said, to see the room so full of keen enthusiastic church workers, bell ringers and friends.

The members of the annual meeting were read and confirmed.—Two new members from Edwinstowe and Barlborough were duly enrolled.—The next place of meeting, which was decided for August Bank Holiday, to be held at Harworth, was changed to Sutton-on-Trent, where the hon. secretary was taking over a band of ringers on July 8th to open a new ring of six bells put in by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough. It was announced that at the village sports held on that day the proceeds would be given in aid of the Bell Fund, and the North Notts ringers would compete in the tug-of-war. The Vicar and ringers had expressed their willingness to join the association, and one more tower would become affiliated to the association.—A comprehensive vote of thanks was passed to Miss Mitchell for providing tea, and also to the Vicar of Edwinstowe for presiding over same and for the use of the bells.—The Vicar suitably replied, and afterwards gave a most inspiring address in the church at 6.30 p.m. Ringing was afterwards kept up until 8.30 p.m.

NORTH MOOR (OXON.).—On Saturday, July 8th, at North Moor (Oxon.), a 720 of Grandsire Minor: Harry White 1, G. Holfield, junr., 2, G. Holfield, senr., 3, W. Hibbert 4, R. T. Hibbert (conductor) 5, Richard White 6.

GREAT STAUGHTON, HUNTS.—On June 21st, for practice, 720 of Plain Bob Minor was rung by the following band: N. Smith 1, D. Smith 2, F. W. Lack 3, T. H. Townsend 4, T. Townsend 5, Alfred Bowell 6. Conducted by A. Bowell. Mr. A. Bowell hails from Ipswich, Suffolk. The rest belong to local bands.

WIGSTON, ALL SAINTS'.*RURAL DEAN INSTITUTED AND BELLS DEDICATED.

Two interesting events took place at the Parish Church of All Saints, Wigston Magna, on Saturday.

The Bishop of Leicester instituted the Vicar (the Rev. T. W. Wright, M.A.) as Rural Dean of Gartree Second Denary. There was a large congregation, and the Bishop, in his address, gave an historical sketch of the work and office of a Rural Dean, dating as it does from the sixth century, and the present-day necessity of fellowship with neighbouring parishes. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. J. Adams, A.K.C., the lessons being read by the Rev. A. R. Blackett (Rector of Carlton Curbieu) and Canon E. S. B. Fletcher (Kibworth). Other clergy present included the Revs. B. G. D. Clarke, C. W. Weston, R. L. Greaves, B. C. F. Andrews, Eoston Jones, and W. N. Westmore, who acted as chaplain to the Bishop. The Urban District Council was represented by Councillors A. H. Broughton (chairman), J. E. Rawson, Eli Bulley, and Mr. E. F. Bulh (clerk). The Free Church Council was represented by Mr. A. H. Broughton (president).

The Bishop of Leicester also dedicated a new peal of bells installed in the tower of the church. The bells were recast and rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. From a ringer's point of view the work leaves nothing to be desired. The bells have been hung according to the latest principles, and all perfectly tuned. The actual weight of the largest bell is 16 cwt. 11 lb., and with clapper and other necessary fittings it weighs over a ton. The total actual weight of the whole peal is 61 cwt. The date on each of the old bells has been carefully preserved and inscribed on the new ones, viz., 1st and 2nd 1906, 3rd 1874, 4th 1702, 5th 1824, 6th 1804, 7th 1682, tenor 1906, and the whole bear the date 1922. The 4th and 7th bears the inscription in Latin, 'Ihs Nazarens Rex Iudeorum filii Dei miserere,' which means 'Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews, Son of God, Have Mercy.' The tenor also shows the name of the present Vicar and churchwardens (Messrs. F. Harrington and S. Laundon). The cost is about £1,000—a large proportion of which has yet to be raised.

After the dedication ringers standing as follows rang the opening peal of Grandsire Triples: T. Humberstone 1, A. Briers 2, W. H. Humberstone 3, A. Roe 4, J. Carter 5, A. E. Stanyon 6, W. Brewin 7, F. Lloyd 8.

After the service tea was provided at the Vicarage for the guests, and for members of the Church Council, choir, ringers, sidesmen, and other friends. During the evening the tower was visited by ringers from Loughborough, Manchester, Leicester (St. Martin's and St. Margaret's), and touches of London, Cambridge, Superlative, Surprise, Stedman, Grandsire, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, and Bob Major being successfully brought round, all being agreed that the 'go' and the tune are excellent.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

Owing to the Vicar of Boldmere being absent from home, the meeting of the Guild, which was to have been held there, was held at short notice at Perry Barr, and there was rather a poor attendance.

The bells are a ring of eight, by Taylor (tenor 13½ cwt. in F sharp)—very handy. The 'approach' to the belfry leaves something to be desired, however, as it is by means of an almost perpendicular ladder about 20 feet high, placed in the porch in full view of anyone entering or leaving the church. The bells were kept going to the tune of the standard methods and Cambridge Major during the afternoon and evening.

Tea was followed by the business meeting, at which the Presiding Ringing Master, Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett, took the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting having been duly confirmed, the Chairman said he wished to congratulate the members who rang the peal of Stedman Sextuples on what he considered was a marvellous performance. It was an honour to the Guild, and he was particularly proud to think that local men had scored the first peal ever rung on 14 bells. Every member would be equally proud of them. He hoped that handbell ringing, which had now reached such a pitch of perfection amongst them, would never again be allowed to lapse, and become a lost art.

Formal business being disposed of, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar (the Rev. G. Watts Read, M.A.) for the use of the bells, and to Mr. George Mitcheson, the local captain, for having everything in readiness at such short notice.—In replying, Mr. Mitcheson said the St. Martin's Guild was always welcome at Perry Barr, and he hoped they would come oftener. The local ringers are the fortunate possessors of a truly magnificent peal of twelve handbells (tenor 17 cwt. in A), and a good touch of Stedman Cinques were rung by the following: P. O. Ladin 1—2, A. Walker 3—4, T. Miller 5—6, J. F. Smallwood 7—8, J. E. Groves 9—10, W. J. Morris 11—12.

More tower and handbell ringing followed, and, later on, the local cricket team having won its match, forces were joined, and a pleasant social hour passed all too quickly.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION AND LONDON DIOCESAN GUILD.

The North and East District of the above association met at Willissen on Saturday, July 8th, in very unsettled weather, and consequently the attendance suffered. Some excellent ringing was accomplished in the more advanced methods.

A short service was held at 5 p.m., when the Vicar (the Rev. J. Dixon) gave an address. After tea, followed the usual business meeting.—A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for his address at the service, for the use of the bells, and also for presiding at the meeting. Thanks were also accorded to Mr. R. Kilby and the local ringers for the excellent arrangements they had made, and to the ladies who had so kindly prepared tea.—The Vicar replied to the vote of thanks with a few words of cordial welcome, whilst Mr. Kilby also acknowledged the thanks of the members.—The Vicar afterwards expressed a desire to become an hon. member of the society, which the hon. secretary promised to see to at the next meeting. Some Stedman Caters on handbells were rung, but the two courses attempted did not 'come round,' the ringer of the trebles getting a bit mixed.

Afterwards the tower was again visited, and several methods, including Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise, were rung.

BELL RESTORATION FUNDS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed in your columns to enter a mild protest against the Central Council resolution, as amended by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies—'That Diocesan and County Associations be asked to consider the advisability of establishing in the area of each ringing association a Bell Restoration Fund,' etc.? This seems to suggest that no such funds are in existence. I was going to protest at the meeting, but the chairman, wishing, I suppose, as recorder, to get through the business in record time, failed to see that I wished to speak. As a matter of fact, several associations have what we call a Belfry Repairs Fund. The Kent County Fund has been in existence for no less than 27 years. In its early days the grants made were little and few; but since its first inception we have been able to assist local effort to the extent of over £100, and we look forward to doing more in the future. It is absurd to ask us at all events to 'consider the advisability,' etc.

FRED. J. O. HELMORE,

Hon. Sec. and Treasurer, Kent County Association of Change Ringers.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Kettering District was held at Isham on Saturday, July 1st, about 30 members being present. A service was held at 4.30 p.m., conducted by the Rev. E. J. Atkins.

Tea was followed by the business meeting, at which the Rev. E. J. Atkins presided (in the unavoidable absence of the Vice-President, the Rev. C. H. L. Hopper, Vicar of Weekley), supported by Messrs. D. J. Nichols, general secretary; F. Barber, secretary of Wellborough District; and R. F. Turner, the district secretary. The election of officers and committee was as follows: Vice-president, Rev. C. H. L. Hopper; district secretary, Mr. R. G. Black; central committee, Messrs. R. F. Turner and Jos. Saddington; district committee, Messrs. S. Burditt, M. Hobbs and G. Blaxley.—It was regretted by all that Mr. R. F. Turner was resigning the secretaryship, an office he had held for several years, and during which time he had done much good work in the district.—It was decided to hold a special ringing meeting at Thorpe Malsor and the next quarterly meeting at Weldon.—Mr. D. J. Nichols proposed a vote of thanks to the officers and committee for their services during the past year.—This was seconded by Mr. W. T. Wilson.—Messrs. E. M. Atkins and D. J. Nichols gave a report of the Central Council meeting at Lincoln.—A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. E. J. Atkins for the use of the bells, conducting the service, and for presiding at the meeting, and also to the ladies who provided such a splendid tea.

COLLEGE SINGLE DOUBLES.

Dear Sir,—In Mr. D. T. Matkin's reply to my letter, re College Single Doubles, he gives a plain lead and a bob lead of what he calls College Single Doubles. I fail to see how it can be College Single Doubles, as there is no College Single work in the bob lead whatever. What his College Single Doubles are really is Plain Oxford Bob Doubles, of which I will give a plain and bob lead.

24135
42315	51342 Bob
43251	15432
34521	14532
35412
53142	41352
51342	43152
15342

Now I think Mr. D. T. Matkin will agree with me that there is more Oxford Bob than College Single in his method, inasmuch the work will extend to Oxford Bob Minor, while his College Single Doubles won't extend to that method of Minor. The only difference between his method and mine is that the leads are vice versa.—Yours truly,

J. HAMMOND.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

THE PROOF OF PEALS.

Mr. A. E. Parsons proposed:—

That the Council consider the advisability and practicability of proving and recording all new compositions before being rung or published.

He said he personally took neither a positive nor negative position with regard to the motion, which emanated from the secretary of the Worcestershire Association (Mr. Newman), who had asked him to propose it. They had false peals composed and published, sometimes even by experienced men, and if his proposal could be carried out, it would eliminate that trouble with regard to forming a record of the peals. There might be some difficulty, at the same time he thought steps which the Council had taken that day were in the right direction. To have the compositions on record would, he believed, be of great assistance to students, and might save a great amount of wasted labour and discouragement. With regard to the practicability of putting the proposal into operation, he must leave that to the Council. It might be that various experts would undertake the proof of the various compositions sent to them, perhaps for a small fee to be paid by the composer. As to the record, he did not know how the Council would deal with that.

Mr. W. Short seconded.

The Chairman suggested that the resolution be amended to read, 'That the Peals Collection Committee be instructed to consider,' etc.

A member asked if this was not already part of the work which the Peals Collection Committee had been doing for the past 25 years.

Mr. C. T. Coles said in spite of what the Peals Collection Committee had done, there were still false peals rung. There was a peal rung by the association, which he had the honour to represent, as long ago as 1907, which was published in the annual report for that year, and although 600 copies or more were distributed and came into the hands of a number of competent composers and conductors, it was not discovered to be false until a few weeks ago. Whether they could get all peal compositions proved before being published or rung he did not know. It would be a big thing to undertake, but he hoped something might be done, because it was a disappointment to find that peals that had been rung had turned out to be false.

Mr. J. Parker said the best thing for a composer to do was to get his peals rung and then publish them. As Mr. Hattersley once said, 'somebody will soon prove a peal for you if you have rung it' (laughter).

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies said if he were going to call a new peal he should prove it before he called it, and if he could not do it himself he would ask someone to do it for him.

Mr. H. W. Wilde said it would be an enormous task to prove all the peals that were continually being brought out. The Peal Collection Committee, he thought, only undertook to prove the peals for the Treble Bob Collection, and not all the peals that were published. His experience had been that peals by some of the great composers were rung 30 years ago, and had not been discovered as false until recently. That applied to some of the simpler methods as well as the more difficult. He came across a peal of Double Norwich rung in Liverpool ten years since, the falseness of which had not been pointed out until a few days ago. There were instances of false peals rung bearing the names of the most famous composers—Henry Johnson, for instance. There was a good deal to be said in favour of the matter being considered by a committee, and they might pass a resolution suggesting that no peal should be rung unless it had been submitted to the committee of the Council. The great difficulty had already been pointed out; upon whom should the task of proving the peals devolve? It would be a very great task, and would be imposing on somebody a great burden. Still that would not prevent the committee from considering the matter.

The Chairman said he could speak with feeling upon this matter. He once composed a new and original peal of startling brilliancy, and he got it rung at St. Martin's, Birmingham. He conducted it himself, and published the figures. In the next issue of the paper no less than five letters appeared denouncing the peal as false (laughter). He had not tried to compose one since (laughter). He would have been glad to be spared that humiliation by knowing to whom he could have submitted the composition before he called it.

Mr. T. H. Beams asked if the proposer would accept the addition of two or three words, to make the resolution apply to methods and new compositions.

The Chairman: It is very much widening it. Had we not better have one thing at the time?

Mr. Parsons: I prefer to confine myself to the motion on the agenda.

Mr. C. T. Coles said he would urge associations, where they had published a false peal in their reports, to take pains to mark them as false in any existing copies which they had, otherwise there was the danger of the peals being rung again by conductors who sent for old reports in order to get fresh compositions to call.

Mr. James George said the ringing of false peals was a serious thing, and he urged the Council to do anything that was possible to reduce the risk.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said it seemed to him the question of proving peals was nothing to do with the Peals Committee. If anyone wanted to start for a peal of the truth of which they were not certain, they should get someone to prove it beforehand.

Mr. J. Parker said the proposal would make conductors lazy. They ought to prove the peals or get them proved.

The Rev. H. Law James said ever since he had been Master of the Lincoln Guild he had taken the trouble every year to prove every single peal before it was printed in their report, and he guaranteed there was not a single false peal right the way down. He thought the resolution was unnecessary.

On being put to the meeting, the motion was defeated.

PROPOSED SCIENCE MUSEUM EXHIBIT.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. E. A. Young) moved:—

To move that a Committee be appointed in connection with the new exhibit upon Campanology, at the Science Museum, South Kensington.

Mr. Young said he was pleased to be able to report that as a result of a number of visits and considerable correspondence, the authorities at the Science Museum at South Kensington were prepared to allow them to provide an exhibit representing the art and science of campanology (hear, hear). The authorities would give them a case, and a certain amount of wall space. The department, however, had no money to give them; and it was for the Council to see that the case was properly filled. If they did not fill it properly and worthily they would do themselves no good, but harm, and at the same time show a lack of appreciation of the kindness of the authorities. In exhibiting in the museum they would have around them some of the finest exhibitions of science, and they must make a good show to compete favourably with those most excellent exhibits. The time had now arrived when his work should be supplemented by a committee, and he asked the Council to appoint such a committee.

Various names were submitted, and the following were eventually appointed: Revs. C. D. P. Davies, C. W. O. Jenkyn and E. Banks James, Messrs. E. A. Young, E. H. Lewis, C. F. Johnston, A. A. Hughes, and P. Taylor.

Mr. G. P. Burton asked what the scope of the exhibit was to be. Was it to be archaeological or mechanical?

The Chairman said it was not to be an antiquarian exhibit in any sense. The object of the exhibition was to show the progress of modern science, so far as it concerned the modern aspect of campanology.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies said the main object was to show visitors to the museum what change ringing really was, and how bells were hung in order to be maintained in change ringing.

The Chairman: Having appointed an excellent committee we cannot do better than leave the matter in their hands to arrange the best exhibition in their power.

The Chairman said notice of a resolution had been received, but not in time to be placed on the printed agenda. It was from Mr. J. H. Banks who intimated his intention to move 'that in future no method be named after a county or a county town without the consent of the principal ringing association within the area.'

Canon Elsee said that as Mr. Banks was not present he would formally move the resolution.—Mr. H. Chapman seconded.

Mr. C. T. Coles said it had been the general understanding in the past that a band ringing a peal in a new method should have the privilege of naming it. He thought the Council should stick to that procedure. Fortunately or unfortunately, the Council had no means of enforcing their decisions, and they could not stop a band giving a new method any name they liked. He thought the procedure in the past had been satisfactory, and that they might leave it as it was.

The Chairman said he must confess he did not see what the resolution aimed at. Why should not the composer of a new method call it what he liked? The resolution had been formally moved out of kindness to the absent proposer, but he would advise the Council not to accept the resolution without some good reasons in support of it.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said he thought the correspondence which he had received on the names of six bell methods might throw some light on it. As far as his recollection served him a band rang a Minor method, and called it Lancashire without the knowledge of the secretary of the Lancashire Association, and he had rather a difficulty in getting the name altered when it was found that Lancashire Major was already in existence.

The motion was put to the meeting without further discussion, and defeated.

SALISBURY FOR THE NEXT MEETING.

The question of the place of next meeting was then discussed by the Council, and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies moved that the meeting be held at Cardiff, pointing out that as Lincoln was to the north and east of the Midlands, Cardiff would make a very good 'pair' by being in the opposite direction of south and west.—Mr. J. Griffin seconded.

Mr. J. Hunt, on behalf of the Bath and Wells Association, invited the Council to Bath, where they had, he said, plenty of bells, plenty of good water (laughter), and very good railway facilities. He was instructed to say that the association would do everything it could for the comfort and convenience of the members.—Mr. W. A. Cave seconded.

Mr. T. H. Beams proposed that the Council should meet at Salisbury. It was only a few years ago the Council was at Gloucester, and Bath was within about 30 miles of that city. He strongly urged the claims of Salisbury, and said the Council would receive a great welcome from the Salisbury Guild. It was all very well to go to big ringing centres, but the Council had to do a little missionary work. They could help the Salisbury Guild, which was a struggling association working in a rural area, and only those who worked in it knew what a difficulty there was in carrying on.—The Rev. F. L. Edwards seconded.

Mr. W. Bibby proposed Chester, which, he said, had been before the Council on more than one occasion. — The Rev. A. T. Beeston seconded.

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore proposed Hereford, and this was seconded by Mr. W. Short.

Mr. J. W. Jones said he did not think they would get the bells at Hereford on the day following the annual meeting of the Hereford Guild. With regard to Cardiff, his association (the Llandaff and Monmouth) had not discussed the matter of inviting the Council there at all, and for that reason he did not support Mr. Davies' motion. If they would drop Cardiff this time he would see what they could do for a future meeting.

Cardiff was, therefore, withdrawn, as were also Chester and Hereford, but the Rev. A. T. Beeston proposed Plymouth, which the Council had several times considered visiting.—Mr. J. George seconded.

On being put to the meeting, Bath received 15 votes Salisbury 23 and Plymouth 5. Salisbury was, therefore, declared the selected place, and Mr. Beams promised the Council that nothing should be lacking in the local arrangements to make the visit a pleasant one.—Major Hughes D'Aeth, as Master of the Salisbury Guild, also assured the Council of a hearty welcome. He believed the visit would give a great filip to campanology in their diocese.

OFFICIAL REPORTS.

Mr. J. Griffin said the Standing Committee had that morning considered the various suggestions that had been put forward in the 'Ringing World' of the previous week, and recommended the Council to issue a report of that meeting to the various societies affiliated to them. They suggested that the report should take the shape of a leaflet printed from the 'Ringing World' with, of course, an official communication from the secretary. The committee felt that, although the proceedings were reported through the 'Ringing World,' for the real recognition of the Council it was necessary that the official communications pass through the association secretaries. The expense would not be great, because it was understood their secretary would be able to take advantage of the summary of the proceedings which the 'Ringing World' published on the Friday following their meeting.—The Rev. E. W. Carpenter seconded.

Mr. C. T. Coles said he took it the idea was that the associations should have the opportunity of discussing any matters brought before the Council. With the present-day pressure of business at annual meetings, it would be almost impracticable to find time for such discussions, and he thought they would have to come up at branch meetings. He hoped, therefore, there would be sufficient leaflets distributed to enable association secretaries to send them on to their branches.

The motion was agreed to.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR.

The Rev. Canon Elsee said one other suggestion had been made in the 'Ringing World,' and that was that the roll of honour of ringers who fell in the war, that was read two years ago at Northampton, should be preserved in a more permanent form than the list which at present the Librarian had. Whether it would be too costly to write on parchment—which would be the worthiest and most permanent form—he did not know, but the Librarian had suggested to the Standing Committee that if that were not possible, the list might be written in a fair hand in durable ink into a book. He, therefore, moved that the Librarian make inquiry into the cost of writing the names on parchment, and if the cost appeared to be too great, that the names be written out in book form so that they might be preserved for the future.

Mr. J. Griffin seconded.

The Chairman asked if it would not be well to leave the matter with instructions to the Standing Committee, to engross these names in such manner as they thought most convenient. They could rely upon them doing it satisfactorily.

After further discussion, it was left to the Librarian to ascertain and report the cost of writing the names on parchment.

Mr. A. Coleman said he thought before the engrossing took place the list should be revised. Since he sent the list of the members of his association, there had been several more to add, and one who was reported dead was still alive.

VOTES OF THANKS.

The Chairman then proposed a vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the Chapter House for the meeting, and to the Dean for his kindness in other ways. He thought the Council had expressed gratitude in a very practical form, for they had collected the handsome donation of nine guineas for the Cathedral Restoration Fund (applause).—The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman was accorded, on the motion of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and Alderman Pritchett, in replying, said they had had a most harmonious and practical meeting. They had done good work, and had had a pleasant gathering in that ancient city and cathedral (applause).

This concluded the business, and the Council rose about 4.30 p.m.

The members were afterwards conducted round the Cathedral by the Dean, who explained the many points of interest in the ancient building in a most delightful style. A master of history, he introduced a rare humour, and those who followed him through the building from the cloisters to the Ringers' Chapel, enjoyed a most delightful and instructive hour.

Subsequently the majority of the members availed themselves of the kind invitation to tea extended by the Lincoln Diocesan Association, and later enjoyed ringing on the bells of various city churches.

BOSBURY, HERTFORDSHIRE.

On June 21st, for the marriage of Mr. H. E. Lane and Miss H. Shaw, 720 of Plain Bob Minor by: J. Foster 1, F. Stinton 2, F. Foster 3, A. Morris 4, E. W. Turner (conductor) 5, E. Spencer 6.—On July 1st, on the return to Old Court of Mr. and Mrs. Lane, 720 Oxford Bob Minor by the same band. The first 720 in either method on the bells by a local band.—For morning service, on July 2nd, 240 Kent Treble Bob: J. Foster, F. Stinton, F. Foster, E. Price, E. W. Turner (conductor) and E. Spencer. Also 240 Grandsire Minor: A. Hawkins, F. Stinton, E. Price, E. W. Turner (conductor), F. Farmer, A. Morris.—On July 9th, for morning service, on the visit of the Bishop of Hereford, 720 Oxford Treble Bob: G. Lewis, J. Lewis, E. W. Turner, C. Bowers, D. Horne (conductor), G. Jordon. Taking part in other touches on the above dates also were Messrs. F. Hawkins and W. Parker.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual general meeting of the Guild was held at Winchester on Saturday, the 1st inst. Representatives from the following towers were present: Bishopstoke, Havant, North Stoneham, Portsmouth, St. Mary's, Southampton; Portsmouth, Twyford, Wickham, Winchester Cathedral, Christchurch, Andover, Basingstoke, Bramley, Oakley, Overton, Aldershot, Godalming, Guildford (two towers), Sherborne, Worplesdon, Woking, Bagshot, Chertsey, Farnborough, Hersham, Yateley, Yorktown and Newport (I.W.).

The officers were re-elected, with the exception of the recorder of peals, Mr. T. W. Fairley, who wrote resigning, on account of advancing years and failing eyesight. Mr. Fairley's resignation was regretfully accepted, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to him for his past services. He was unanimously elected an hon. life member.

After the general meeting, the members attended evensong at the Cathedral, when the preacher was the Rev. Canon Braithwaite, a patron of the Guild. The service was followed by tea in St. Maurice Hall at 5 p.m. During the day, ringing took place at the Cathedral (12) and St. Maurice (6), Winchester.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the above Society was held on June 24th at Tong. The bells were rung in the evening, and several touches of Treble Bob Minor were brought round.

The business meeting was held in the tower, Mr. G. Bolland in the chair, supported by members from Birstall, Low Moor, Holbeck, Lightcliffe, Headingley (St. Michael's), Leeds P.C., and the local band.—It was decided that the arrangements for the peal attempt at Rothwell be left in the secretary's hands.—Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar and local company for the use of the bells and kind arrangements.—Mr. Bolland responded, bringing the business to a close.—Afterwards further ringing took place on both tower and handbells.

DENTON, MANCHESTER.—On Tuesday, June 20th at St. Anne's Church, 720 of Violet, 21 bobs: *Harry Swindells 1, *Chas. Clayton 2, W. Wilde 3, A. E. Marshall 4, *W. Wolstencroft 5, J. Heckingbottom (conductor) 6. * First 720 in the method.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of June 9th, a letter was published from Mr. T. Metcalf, with reference to a visit paid by representatives of the Yorkshire Association to a meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association at Ormesby on October 22nd of last year, for the purpose of urging some kind of amalgamation of the two associations. In order that it may be quite clearly understood what actually happened at that meeting we would point out that, after the representatives of the Yorkshire Association had stated their case, and invited co-operation, the only resolution moved was to the effect that the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association should remain as at present, or, in other words, it was a resolution declining any co-operation. The chairman (the Rev. J. Kyle) stated that he would rather not put the resolution to the meeting, and intimated that if delegates from both associations would meet at Carlton some week-end, a satisfactory solution of the problem might be reached. The President of the Yorkshire Association (the Rev. O. C. Marshall) said that he would be very glad to fall in with this plan, but beyond that the meeting made no further suggestion, and there the matter was left. If Mr. Metcalf is under the impression that the representation of the Yorkshire Association undertook to take the next step, we trust that he will realise that a misunderstanding exists on the point. We certainly felt that we had done all that we could, and that the members of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, as represented at that meeting, were not willing to meet us half-way. Should, however, we be mistaken in this, we shall be very glad if Mr. Metcalf would write to us direct, in order that the position may be cleared up and, as we hope, that the cause of change ringing in this district may be benefited.—Yours very truly,

Rev. O. C. MARSHALL, President of the Yorkshire Association.

P. J. JOHNSON, Hon. Secretary.

A BIRMINGHAM FESTIVAL.

On Sunday, May 21st, 5,000 Roman Catholics demonstrated their faith in the streets of Birmingham in connection with the celebration of the feast of the translation of St. Chad. The bones of St. Chad, Bishop of Lichfield, apostle of the Midlands, and now titular saint of the Birmingham Metropolitan Cathedral, have found a shrine at the Cathedral of Birmingham, which bears the saint's name. By a rescript of the Holy See the feast has been raised to primary rank in the ecclesiastical calendar. This feast was not solemnised during the Reformation until 1919, when it was revived, and its pageantry has grown in magnificence and size each succeeding year.

The ringing during the day comprised 720 Bob Minor in 27 mins.: W. G. Ellis 1, E. Mullins 2, C. Mackenzie 3, J. Porter 4, T. Kelly (1st 720) 5, T. Miller (cond.) 6.—For Pontifical Vespers, Johnson's 1,008 Grandsire Triples, in 35 mins.: W. Hunt 1, T. Miller 2, W. G. Ellis (conductor) 3, J. Porter 4, C. Mackenzie 5, E. Mullins 6, T. Kelly 7, T. Fearick 8. An extemporaneous touch of about 700 Grandsire Triples conducted by T. Miller, and the firing of the bells, brought the day's celebration to a close.

SURPRISE RINGING IN THE WEST.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the band here, I beg to withdraw claim to first Surprise Method ringing by a resident band west of Bristol, also to offer apologies to our Carhampton friends. In explanation, I should like to say inquiries were made from ringers that have been in close touch with ringing in the Bath and Wells Association for the last 25 years, and no one knew of any Surprise Method having been rung. It does seem, however, from Mr. Stacey's letter that we can claim the first 720 of Surprise by a resident band west of Bristol.—Yours faithfully, J. HUNT.

Taunton.

WALTHAMSTOW.—On Monday, June 26th, at the Church of St. Mary, Walthamstow, a quarter-peal of Erin Triples was rung in 50 minutes, with the bells half-muffled, as a token of respect to the memory of the late Field-Marshal Sir H. Wilson, who was interred at St. Paul's Cathedral the same day: A. Mason 1, G. B. Lucas 2, C. T. Coles (conductor) 3, J. C. Adams 4, J. H. Wilkins 5, F. C. Maynard 6, H. Rumens 7, R. Maynard, seunr., 8. Composed by G. Astbury.

HIGH HALDEN, KENT.—On Thursday, June 22nd, 720 Plain Bob Minor: Mrs. Baker 1, H. Baker 2, L. Honess (conductors) 3, C. Tribe 4, B. Baker 5, H. Parkes 6. First 720 by ringers of 1, 2, 3 and 5.—Also a 720 by C. Tribe 1, L. Honess 2, H. Baker 3, E. Burgess 4, B. Baker 5, H. Parkes 6. First 720 by E. Burgess.

LUTON, BEDS.—On Thursday, June 22nd, for practice, a quarter-peal of Cambridge Surprise Major (1,280 changes), in 50 mins.: A. Smith 1, T. Blackburn 2, B. Wilson 3, C. Rollings 4, H. Wood 5, F. Hunt 6, T. Kendall 7, E. A. Goodenough (conductor) 8. All members of the local band.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

MORE COUNCIL TOPICS.

Just before the Central Council met at Lincoln, we took the opportunity of making in this column three suggestions, which we thought the Council might well adopt, and it is gratifying to find that they all commended themselves to the members. The desirability of publishing the collection of Plain Major methods has already been referred to. Another matter upon which the Council, at the recommendation of the Standing Committee took action, was that of placing upon permanent record the names of the ringers who were killed or who died in the war. The exact method by which this shall be done is not definitely settled, but unless the cost should prove to be unduly excessive it is probable that the names will be engrossed upon parchment. The Council having decided that a permanent record shall be placed in the Library, we hope the suggestion of Mr. A. L. Coleman will be acted upon, and a careful revision of the names made before the list comes finally to be written. Sufficient time has now elapsed to enable the record to be made an accurate and complete one, and Association secretaries should take early steps to see that the names they have already sent in are carefully revised. Another point might also be borne in mind by the Council, and that is the desirability of avoiding the duplication of names in the case of ringers who belonged to more than one Association.

The third, and as we think, the most important of the matters in which the Council adopted our suggestions, was the decision to communicate officially to the affiliated Associations the business transacted at the Council meetings. As we have more than once pointed out, there was no definite channel of communication between the central body and the organisations which send representatives. In some cases the representatives were called upon to report upon the Council's doings, in others there was no such proceeding; while, where an Association for some reason was unrepresented, there was no means of obtaining a direct report. There was, certainly, the record of the proceedings published in our columns, but this, of course, was in no sense an official communication. We are glad, therefore, that the Council has decided to take the action we recommended, and for the future it is to be hoped the various Associations will more fully recognise that they have a very direct interest in the Council.

The various decisions taken by the central body will now come before every affiliated body, and if, as one member pointed out, the agenda of the annual general meeting of an Association is too crowded to admit of consideration of the Council's report, it can very well be delegated to the district meetings, where more opportunity might be found for discussing the report. At the same time, those who find their annual agenda too much congested to enable the Council's report to be considered as a whole, and who have therefore passed it on to the districts, should take care to see that those subjects with which they ought to concern themselves find a place in the business of the general meeting.

Umpire: GEORGE JORDAN.

First peal in the method to be tapped on handbells. Performed to celebrate the centenary of the Parish Church.

BARNESLEY & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A monthly meeting was held on Saturday, 15th, at Wortley, near Sheffield. Many members from various districts attended, in spite of incessant rain. The methods rung numbered 23, probably a record for the association at one meeting. Tea was kindly arranged by Mr. W. Wooller. The usual business followed, with votes of thanks. An invitation to meet at Crofton, on Saturday, August 12th, was accepted.

ALL SAINTS', FEERING.

On Saturday, July 1st, the ringers of All Saints', Feering, accompanied by the Vicar (Prebendary A. E. Dalton) and Mr. W. Lewis (organist), Mr. W. Elliott (Kelvedon) and Mr. E. W. Beckwith (Coggeshall), held their first annual outing. Leaving Feering, by motor brake, the following places were visited: Rayne (6), Stebbing (6), Felstead (8), Great Bardfield (6) and Finchingfield (8). Short touches were rung at each tower to enable all to have a ring at each place. After dinner Dunmow was visited. Tea was partaken of at Finchingfield, and several touches were brought round. Mr. J. Sheppard, of Swindon, also met the party at Rayne. The party take this opportunity of thanking the various incumbents for the use of the bells, and also Mr. W. Smith, of Dunmow, for the arrangements made.

ST. MARY'S, SOUTHAMPTON.

On Wednesday, July 5th, the ringers of St. Mary's, Southampton, together with their wives and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. George Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Ryves, of Curdridge, had their annual outing to Brighton. On the way stops were made at Chichester and Arundel. At Arundel an attempt for a touch of Stedman was made, but owing to the 3rd rope slipping wheel, it had to be abandoned. The bells were lowered. Brighton was reached by lunch time. After tea, the ringers were met by Mr. K. Hart and friends and proceeded to the belfry of St. Peter's, Brighton, and with their help, touches of Stedman Triples, Bob Major and courses of Grandsire Caters and Cambridge Surprise Major were brought round. The ringers wish to thank those who did so much to make the outing a success, especially Mr. Keith Hart and company, who turned out in the rain to meet them, and helped with the ringing.

GRIMSBY SOCIETIES.

Grimsby St. James' and St. Andrew's ringing societies once more joined forces for the annual outing. It was decided to visit the Dukeries, and on July 6th a party of 33, including wives and friends, journeyed by charabanc to Gainsborough. The ringing arrangements included visits to the towers at Retford, Workson and Newark. Upon arrival at Retford, the party were met by Mr. Haigh and Mr. Segar, and soon the bells were going to Grandsire and Stedman Caters. Workson was next visited, where dinner was provided followed by ringing at the Priory Church. Stedman Triples were brought round, and Double Norwich got going, when a broken rope closed the proceedings. The next portion of the drive was through the Dukeries. Newark was reached, and, following tea, ringing commenced, Grandsire Caters being brought round. Little time was available for the use of Newark's very fine peal of ten. The party are grateful to Mr. Haigh, Mr. Segar and Mr. Thrale for conducting the ringers to their several towers, to those who had all the arrangements in hand, for the success of the day's outing, and to the clergy for the use of their bells.

ST. MARY ABBOTS, KENSINGTON.

On Saturday, July 1st, the ringers of St. Mary Abbots, and wives and friends, left High Street, Kensington, by charabanc at 7 a.m. for the City of Oxford. A stop was made at Henley, Oxford being reached about 11 a.m. The party made for Christchurch College and Cathedral, being met by Mr. H. Miles. Up into the old belfry they made their way, where the fine peal of twelve were soon swinging to Stedman Cinques and Caters, which was thoroughly enjoyed, and created a keen appetite. After lunch the party went to New College, being welcomed by Mr. Finch, and touches of Treble Ten and Stedman Caters on this lovely peal of ten was topping. Mr. Payne kindly met us at Merton College. The belfry forms a gallery above the chapel, and is quite a unique experience to ring under such extraordinary conditions. Stedman Triples and Double Norwich were successfully brought round on this heavy eight. The library of the college was visited, and to this day some of the old books are still chained to the shelves. Some were brave enough to venture still higher, and climbed to the top of the tower to enjoy a good view of the city; 4.15 had arrived, so a start for Dorchester was made, where Skipper Garrard had tea at the George waiting for them. The party then crossed over to Dorchester Abbey, where they found a magnificent peal of eight bells, which were soon rolling to Stedman Triples, Kent Treble and Superlative, while others were able to admire the very ancient interior. Those who have heard them will, we feel sure, be constrained to murmur with Poe: Barnes (with the alteration of one

How sweet the swells of Dorchester Bells!

The best thanks of the party are tendered to Mr. Miles (Oxford), Mr. Payne (Merton) and Mr. Finch (New College), and to the local friends at Dorchester for their efforts in making the outing so enjoyable, and, lastly, to the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, for obtaining the necessary permission to ring.

WYKE REGIS SOCIETY.

On Saturday, July 8th, the members held their annual outing. A trip was made by charabanc through Wimborne, Lyndhurst, the New Forest, to Bournemouth.

A start was made at 7 o'clock, and Sturminster Marshall, the first stopping-place, was reached just before nine. Touches were rung on the fine peal of six. A brief halt at Wimborne, to look over the Minster, was made. Ringwood was then reached, where, after a touch of Grandsire, the party were kindly entertained to light refreshment by the Vicar (the Rev. Binney). Lyndhurst, in the New Forest, was next visited, and lunch at the Stag Hotel was successfully brought round. At Christ Church the party were met by some of the local ringers, and touches of Grandsire (not Calers) brought round. Tea at Beale's Restaurant, Bournemouth, was very acceptable. The older members of the party proceeded to St. John's, where permission to ring had been obtained. They were met by Mr. Bennett, Mr. Townsend (Poole), and a very pleasant surprise, Mr. W. A. Cave and Mr. P. W. Cave, who were visiting Bournemouth. This peal was much appreciated, and touches of Stedman and Grandsire were rung. A start was then made for home, which was reached after a most enjoyable day, notwithstanding the inclement weather. Regret was expressed that Mrs. Jennings (secretary) was unavoidably absent. The Guild wish to thank the respective incumbents for the use of their bells, and also the local ringers, who had everything in readiness.

RUSHEY AND OXHEY SOCIETIES.

For the third year in succession, the combined outing of the above societies took place on Saturday, July 8th, the place visited being Reading and district. Leaving Bushey at 8 a.m., stops were made at Oxhey and Watford, the party being joined by Mr. O. E. Read (people's warden at Bushey) and Mr. W. H. L. Buckingham, ex-President of the Herts Association, the early pioneer of ringing in this district. Slough was reached, after a pleasant drive, and the Church of St. Mary, with its fine tower and spire, was immediately visited. Mr. Leader had the bells in readiness, a handy ring (tenor 17 cwt.), which were soon going to touches of Grandsire, Stedman Triples, courses of Superlative, and London Surprise Major. An interesting feature of this church is the Futurist windows in the west end, stated to be unique in this country. The party then proceeded to Reading, via Maidenhead and Twyford. Mr. R. V. Rumball here joined the party, as guide, philosopher, and friend. Dinner was served at Burden's Restaurant, the plates being kept 'in-course' throughout, although a large amount of 'shifting' was done. The next move was to St. Mary Butts, with its peal of eight heavy bells (tenor 28 cwt.). A wedding was being solemnised, and the happy couple were rung out with a course of London Surprise, followed by Superlative and Stedman Triples.—The Vicar entered the belfry, and gave the members a cordial welcome, with a happy little speech. St. Giles', with the useful peal from the Whitechapel Foundry, the tenor weighing 15 cwt., was next visited, Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise being rung. The well-kept ringing chamber could be greatly improved by more ventilation. The party then visited St. Lawrence, with its fine peal of ten bells (tenor 24 cwt.). Here they found Mr. W. H. Newell, aged 84, awaiting them as keen as ever. Mr. E. P. Duffell then joined us, and further strengthened the party. Touches of Stedman Calers and a course of Bristol Surprise on the back eight concluded the ringing. Tea was very welcome after an arduous afternoon. The Rector of Bushey (the Rev. G. M. Hall, M.A.) joined them. After tea, Mr. H. Simmonds kindly obtained the use of Caversham bells, this tower not having been previously available, where touches of Stedman Triples, Cambridge and London Surprise Major were rung. The return journey was made via Henley and Marlow, a convivial half-hour being spent at Beaconsfield, all agreeing that a most enjoyable day had been spent. The best thanks of the party are due to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, the tower keepers for having everything in readiness, and other friends who kindly assisted.

THORNHAM MAGNA.

On Saturday, July 15th, the band of ringers, connected with Thornham Magna Church, held their annual outing. In spite of bad weather, Worthingworth was reached early in the morning, and a course each of Oxford, Kent and Double Norwich Major were rung. Stradbroke was next visited, and courses of Kent were rung, and a touch of Bob Major. Wingfield was reached, and courses of Kent, Cambridge, London and College Exercise were brought round with the local band. At Fressingfield a touch of Kent and a course of Bob Major, Oxford and Cambridge were rung, while at Weybread the company rang courses of Oxford, York and Durham Surprise. Alburgh was next visited, where Oxford and Double Norwich were rung. At Redenhall the party rang a touch each of Double Norwich and Oxford, and a course of Cambridge. After having tea at Harleston, Starston was reached, where courses of Hull, Bournemouth, Wells and Oxford were brought round. The last tower to be visited was Pullham Market, and here the party rung a touch of Double Norwich and courses of Kent, Superlative and Cambridge. The company wish to thank the Rectors, and others, of the various churches, who made the outing such a happy and enjoyable one.

BECCELES COMPANY.

On Saturday, July 15th, twelve members of the Beccles company, accompanied by Mr. D. Hayward, of Yarmouth, held their outing. In spite of very wet weather, Beccles was left at 9.15 a.m., and Framlingham was reached at 11 o'clock. After some delay, touches of Oxford, Plain and Stedman, were brought round, and then a start was made for Eye, where, after a hearty luncheon, half-muffled touches were rung as a token of respect to the late Mr. F. Day. After this the band left for Palgrave, and was grateful to Mr. C. More for having everything in readiness for them. The bells were soon going to Plain and Stedman, followed by an unsuccessful attempt for Double Norwich. The company went on to Diss, where, after tea, touches of Kent, Plain and Stedman were brought round. A start was then made for home, after a very successful and enjoyable outing.—The best thanks of the band are due to the officials for permission to ring at the various churches, and the local ringers who assisted them.

ST. JAMES' GUILD, MANGOTSFIELD.

On Saturday, July 15th, the members and friends, accompanied by the Vicar, held their annual outing. A start was made from St. James' Church by charabanc. The party proceeded via Keynsham to Wells, where a halt was made, and a visit was paid to the fine Cathedral, and other places of interest. The company then enjoyed an excellent lunch. They then proceeded to Glastonbury, where they were met by Mr. Trim and Mr. Marsh, of Street, who had the bells of St. John in readiness for them. Touches of Grandsire Triples were brought round, and Street was then visited. Here the company enjoyed an excellent tea, after which they paid a visit to the Parish Church, where some of the local ringers were met. The bells were soon going to a few good touches of Grandsire Triples. The party wishes to thank the Vicars of St. John, Glastonbury, and Street, for the use of the bells; and Messrs. Trim and Marsh for the enjoyable time spent with them. A start was made for home, and the company enjoyed a happy journey and a delightful outing.

ST. JOHN'S, LEYTONSTONE.

The above company resumed their annual two-days' outing for the first time since pre-war days. The train was taken for Colchester, and during the journey touches of Bob Major on the handbell, soon brought us to Colchester, where we were met by that well-known ringer, Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, who, with his son, conducted us round with two motor-cars for the two days' tour.

Great Horkeley was soon reached, and operations commenced. The Church of All Saints contains a peal of six bells, which were soon going to 'Beverly Surprise'—the 720 coming round at 8.15. The 720 of Cambridge was rung; then we went on to Little Horkeley, where hangs a very light ring of five. Several 120's Grandsire were rung. This is a very ancient and interesting old church, in a side chapel, of which was noticed three effigies of Crusaders, carved in wood.

Next on the list was Wormingford, where we had a ring of six (tenor about 12 cwt.). 720 each of Ipswich and York Surprise was rung before proceeding to Bures. The Church of St. Mary contains a sweet-toned ring of six (tenor 21 cwt.), rehung by Bowell, of Ipswich last year, and go well. 720 each of London and Wells Surprise was rung, after which we adjourned to the Swan Hotel for dinner. The repast over, a move was made to the historical church at Neyland, the ring of six there going a bit lumpy (tenor 16 cwt.). 720 Durham Surprise was rung, but Carlisle was lost.

St. Mary's, Stoke, was next visited, and proved to be a tough job, the ring of six (tenor 25 cwt.) going anything but well. However, 720 Lincoln Surprise was rung, time not allowing for more than 240 Cambridge, as our pilot was after keeping us strictly to programme.

After tea, at Stoke, we made our way to Polstead, where 720 London and York Surprise was rung. After this, our next place was headquarters, the Gunn Inn, Dedham, where Mr. W. Sterry (a ringer) had made splendid provision for our stay. Local ringers were there to welcome us, among whom one of our band recognised his father; and a very good time we had with handbells and other amusements before supper and bed.

Sunday morning we were early astir—preparations having been made to ring at St. Mary's, Langham, for 8 o'clock service. Soon the sweet-toned ring of six were going to London Surprise, Mr. E. Smith calling it from the tenor, while his father rang the treble, believed to be the first in the method on the bells. 720 each of York and Cambridge were rung (in which the local men rang the treble) before returning for breakfast.

Stratford St. Mary was on the list for 11 o'clock—a grand ring of six (tenor 18 cwt.) were soon going to York, but Lincoln was lost. Some of the party paid a visit to the quaint old Bell Cage of East Bergholt, and it proved well worth the visit. The great pity of it is that this grand ring of five bells (tenor 28 cwt.) should remain on the ground for so many years, instead of being in a lofty tower.

High St. Mary was visited before dinner, and a very good 720 of Norwich was rung, Durham being lost when 20 changes from home, after two had shared in the conducting.

Dinner and touches on handbells brought round the time for leaving Dedham.

We concluded with St. Peter's, Colchester, and for evening service a good touch of 576 Supercatative Surprise and 588 Stedman Triples on the grand ring. This brought our ringing to a close.

Our best thanks are due to Mr. Nevard for his splendid arrangements, and to Mr. Sterry for making us so welcome; to all the local ringers for meeting us and having the bells ready; also to the various clergy and church authorities for so readily granting us permission to ring.

RECORD LENGTHS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In his letter on this subject, Mr. Phillott refers to what I have overlooked. I have overlooked nothing. Mr. Phillott is the person who overlooks; I seldom overlook anything. Any fair-minded man must admit that physical endurance, coupled with mental endurance, must be a greater strain than mental endurance alone. During my long experience I have never seen a ringer collapse under mental strain, but I have seen many do so under physical strain, which is sufficient proof that physical strain is the most trying. With regard to Mr. Phillott's 'dig' about Mr. Morriss' tapped peals of London, if he had any wish to say anything in the matter he had the opportunity when it was being discussed, and should have said it then.

Mr. Williams talks about recent letters containing painful reading. There was nothing to pain him in what I have said, and he is not helping to mend matters. He has been more fortunate than I have, and has not been subjected to so much unfair criticism. You cannot be friendly with folks who won't let you. I take Mr. Williams' opinion on long lengths for what it is worth. He has never rung a long length, and, therefore, is not in a position to express an opinion. Skill will always overcome tricky small bells, but it requires both skill and strength to ring big ones. I would remind Mr. Williams that I am not the person who started quibbling about weight. I merely stated facts, which will stand more battering than forts.—
Yours truly, W. PYE.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at Worsley on Saturday, July 15th, and was well attended by a large company of ringers. The church contains a good peal of bells, in splendid going order, and were kept ringing till the time of the business meeting. Mr. P. Derbyshire, leader of the local ringers, took the chair, and gave a hearty welcome to the visitors, saying how pleased he was to see such a large number present.—The minutes of the last meeting were passed as read, on the proposition of Mr. H. Chapman, seconded by Mr. H. Shuker.—Christ Church, W. Didsbury, was selected for the next meeting-place, on Saturday, August 12th.—Votes of thanks to the Vicar, church officials, local ringers, and the chairman, closed the business.—Further ringing took place, the methods ranging from Plain Bob to Cambridge Surprise.

PRESTON BRANCH.

The annual meeting was held at Leyland St. James, on Saturday last, and was well attended. The bells were soon going to Treble Bob methods. Then followed the business meeting, with Mr. J. T. Miller presiding.—The Branch Secretary stated that he did not wish re-election, but the question of a successor was left over till the next meeting. In regard to the annual social it was decided to hold the same at Chorley, subject to the necessary permission being granted. The proceedings closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and local ringers for the use of the bells. In the meantime a pressing invitation had been received from Leyland Parish Church ringers to ring on their bells recently overhauled by Messrs. Taylor. The bells of St. James' were lowered, and the party proceeded at once to the Parish Church. These bells were raised and set going to Kent Major, followed by several touches of Stedman and Grandshire. The bells are in fine condition, and Messrs. Taylor can be congratulated on their excellent work.

POLITE LETTER WRITERS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I am glad that a ringer of Mr. George Williams' repute has called attention to the tone adopted by some of your correspondents towards each other in what ought to be polite and friendly controversy. He finds it 'painful reading,' and I agree with him. But is it not also a trifle ridiculous? After some of the letters in question, I have felt rather like the gentleman who, after an hour spent in Lord Macaulay's company, said, 'I wish that I could be as cocksure of anything as Macaulay is of everything.'

IMPORTANT RESTORATIONS.*BELLS OF ST. MARTIN'S-IN-THE-FIELDS.
SHEFFIELD AND TAUNTON TWELVES.

The famous old peal at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Square, is to be thoroughly overhauled and rehung. The work has been entrusted to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and will be one of the biggest and most important restorations carried out in London since the war.

This is the third peal of twelve to pass through the Whitechapel Foundry recently. Sheffield Cathedral bells are approaching completion, and the erection of the peal at Taunton, where two trebles have been added to the old ten, has been commenced. Some serious obstacles have been met in the case of the Somerset tower, and at one time it was feared that, after all, the two extra bells would be hanged. Happily, however, wiser counsels, backed by scientific knowledge and practical common sense, have prevailed.

NEW PEALS OF EIGHT.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry, are making new peals of eight for the Parish Churches of Alnham, Cornwall, and Blackhill, Co. Durham.

They are also completing the work on the new octave at Combe Martin, where the opening is to take place next Wednesday (July 26th).

On Monday, the peal of six at Bradfield, near Sheffield, are to be reopened.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.*SUTTON-ON-TRENT, NOTTS.

Thursday, July 6th, was the day for the reopening of bells at All Saints' Church, an event which had been looked forward to by ringers. For many years the 'go' of the peal of five bells, by Harrison, of Barton-on-Humber, 1825, and which have been hung in the tower of All Saints', had been very bad, owing to the swaying of the old frame and timbers which supported them, and the bell very much out of tune. The whole of the tower has been cleared, except a few oak beams in fairly good condition, a new iron H. frame for eight bells put in, and all the old bells recast and made into a ring of six. The weights and notes of bells, along with inscriptions on same, are as follows:—

- Treble 3 3/4 cwt. E. The Faith Bell. G. H. C. Bartley, M.A., Vicar, 1922.
- 2. 4 1/2 cwt. D. All Saints' bell.
- 3. 5 1/2 cwt. C. St. George of England.
- 4. 6 1/2 cwt. B. The ringers' bell. E. A. Midwinter, J. W. Neep, 1922.
- 5. 8 1/2 cwt. A. G. H. C. Bartley, M.A., Vicar. J. E. Gregory, H. Rogersou, Churchwardens, 1922.
- Tenor 12 1/2 cwt. G. J. Harrison, founder; Samuel Pennington and William Buttery, Churchwardens, 1825.

The work of recasting and rehanging the new peal was entrusted to Messrs. Taylor's, of Loughborough.

The bells are tuned on Taylor's re-enforced harmonic principle and the 'go' of them are perfect, and, combined with their excellent sweetness and purity of tone, leaves nothing to be desired, except the two additional bells, to complete the octave, for which the frames are fitted. The work reflects the highest credit on the well-known firm.

The opening ceremony at 7 p.m. was attended by a large number of people from the parish and surrounding district. The preacher was the Rev. H. Hayward, M.A., Vicar of Brandon, Durham, late chaplain to H.M. forces, supported by the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. C. Bartley), and others. The dedication peal was a short touch of Rob Minor by a band of ringers selected by the hon. secretary of the North Notts Association (Mr. H. Haigh, of Worksope), and hailed from the following places: Worksope, Retford, Ordsall, Doncaster, Treoton and Lougham, and included Miss Ivy Barker. The bells were rung in the following methods until 9.45 p.m. (when they were lowered in peal): Main Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Single Court and Canterbury Pleasure. The ringers were afterwards entertained to supper by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Midwinter, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to them for their generous hospitality.

August Bank Holiday will be an open day for ringers of kindred associations, when the village sports will be held, in which the ringers will take part. The proceeds will be in aid of the Bell Fund.

READING.—On Whit Monday, the London County Association attempted a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Lawrence's Church, but owing to the intense heat, failed after 21 courses, in 1 hr. 27 mins.; C. P. Winney 1, T. H. Taffender 2, I. G. Shade 3, A. J. Neale 4, H. H. Mance, junr., 5, J. R. Gammon 6, E. Brett 7, J. Bullock 8, 11, Mance, senr., 9, F. E. Dawe (conductor) 10. Tenor 24 cwt. in E.

CAMBRIDGE ROYAL COMPOSITION.*To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I see the Rev. H. Law James tries to claim the 5,040 Cambridge Royal, published by Mr. Page in your issue of 30th June. I have had this peal since 1908. It came about in this way. We were to attempt the first peal of Cambridge Maximus at Ipswich, and the difficulty was to find a composition. My brother and myself, therefore, got out a proof scale, and I produced the following peal. We rang half of it at Ipswich in 1909. Afterwards, Mr. James published it, and I told him I had had it some time. He said I was entitled to claim it. I fear he has a bad memory, as he now claims what is a variation of the same peal, with the calling commencing at the last course. Below are the figures of the original peal:—

M	W	H	23456

I called this composition, and the one published by Mr. Page in 1911, and both appeared in the Middlesex Report for 1911. I fail therefore, to see how Mr. James can claim either of them. They have both been rung a good many times under my name by various bands.—Yours truly,

W. PYE.

WHO IS THE OWNER?*To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—If the Rev. H. Law James claims the composition of Cambridge Surprise Royal, published in the 'Ringing World' on June 30th, 1922, to be No. 907 in the 1913 issue of the Gloucester and Bristol Report, then Nos. 907 and 342 (the latter to be found in the 1900 issue of the Gloucester and Bristol Report, and rung at Gloucester on February 8th, 1899) must be the same, because one is simply a variation of the other. If this is so, then Mr. James becomes the author, but if it be proved otherwise, then Mr. W. Pye can claim the authorship, which includes the peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus rung at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, on January 13th, 1918, and which was also No. 907, as stated above.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN A. BURFORD.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The South and West District of the above Association met at Twickenham, on Saturday, July 15th, at the kind invitation of the Rev. Prebendary H. P. Prosser, Vicar. The bells were rung until 5 p.m., after which a short service was held. A most inspiring and welcome address was given by the Vicar, who said how great a pleasure it was to hold a service which displayed the true spirit of associating themselves to the worship and ringing in church work. After service the members and friends adjourned to the Parish Room, where between forty and fifty sat down to tea, kindly provided by the Vicar. After tea the business meeting was held, at which the Vicar presided accompanied by the churchwardens and the vice-president (Mr. T. Beadle).—The Hon. Secretary having read the minutes, moved that the tower should be affiliated to the association. — The Curate proposed that all the local ringers, himself included, should become members. The proposal was unanimously carried.—A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar, churchwardens, choir, organist, and the steeplekeeper, who so kindly put his shoulder to the wheel.—Afterwards, the Vicar responded, on behalf of himself and other co-workers the members again visited the tower, where methods between Grandsire and Superlative were rung. Thus ended a most enjoyable half-day, everyone being well pleased at the kindness shown by all local ringers to the visitors.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The members of the Southern District met at the Parish Church, Beddington, on Saturday last. About 30 were present, and a pleasant afternoon and evening were spent, the favourable weather adding success to the meeting. The bells were soon going in the various methods from Grandsire Caters to Cambridge Surprise Royal.

After tea, the bells were rung again till 8 p.m., when the business meeting was held in the vestry, Mr. H. Mance being voted to the chair.—Four new members were made from the district.—A vote of thanks was accorded the Rector and Mr. A. J. Trappitt for the use of the bells and arrangements.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.*WELLINGBOROUGH DISTRICT.

By kind permission of the Rector (the Rev. W. Frift), the annual meeting of the Wellingborough District was held at Irthlingborough on July 8th. The bells were kept going to various methods, amongst them being Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative Surprise and Stedman Triples.

A short service was held in the fine old church, conducted by the Rector, who heartily welcomed the members, and gave a very interesting address.

About 32 members enjoyed an excellent tea, kindly provided by the local ringers and lady friends. The business meeting then took place, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: The Rev. W. Frift, vice-president; Mr. F. Barber, secretary; Mr. G. Basford and Mr. W. Perkins, central committee; Messrs. F. Jones, C. Farey and H. Tyler.—The Secretary then offered, on behalf of the association, the heartiest congratulations to the four young members of the Irthlingborough band who rang their first peal, a peal of Kent Treble Bob, on June 24th.—The Rector then presented each one of them with the certificate of the association, which is given on the occasion of a member ringing his first peal.

The General Secretary (Mr. D. J. Nichols) gave a report on the work of the Central Council held at Lincoln, at which he was a delegate, and also gave a summary of an official communication issued by the Council.—Wilby was chosen as the next place of meeting.—The Secretary asked the meeting to endorse the proceedings which had taken place in regard to two of the Yardley-Hastings band, who had formally been proposed and seconded since the last meeting. He also said how delighted he was to welcome the Rev. W. Frift as their vice-president.—Votes of thanks were heartily accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells and for his address, to the organist, to the local ringers, and the ladies who helped with the tea.

NORTHAMPTON DISTRICT.

The annual meeting was held at Collingtree on Saturday, June 10th, when over 40 members enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. Some of them enjoyed ringing on the fine-tuned peal of five. Others, by kind invitation of the Rector, spent a quiet hour in the Rectory garden. Evensong was conducted by the Rev. J. P. Friend, and the Rev. J. White presided at the organ. A collection for the Belfry Repair Fund amounted to 9s. 2d. Tea was served in the Village Institute, and was followed by the meeting. The officers were elected for the following year: Vice-president, the Rev. J. White, Pitsford; committee, Messrs. Law, Soden, Clark, Dean and Faulkner; secretary, Mr. S. J. Lawrence. The next quarterly meeting will be held at Cogenhoe on September 23rd.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the above Association was held at Melbourne on Saturday last. The bells of the Parish Church were (by kind permission of the Vicar) placed at the disposal of the ringers after two o'clock. After tea, a general meeting took place. Ald. R. B. Chambers (President of the Association) was in the chair, and amongst those present were Mrs. and Miss Chambers, the Rev. E. T. Harcombe (Vicar of Melbourne), Messrs. Pryce Taylor and Pervin (Loughborough), H. E. Norman (Leicester), Braines (Derby), and White (Nottingham). A number of new honorary and ringing members were elected, and a general discussion followed.—Apologies for absence were received from Messrs. W. Willson, of Leicester (indisposed) and A. C. Wright (Darley Dale), who was kept away by a business engagement.—The next quarterly meeting will be held in September, at Wigston Magna, near Leicester. The association will then have the opportunity of ringing on the new recast ring of eight. It may be mentioned that Mr. Pryce Taylor officiated as hon. secretary.

A PUZZLE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Can any of your readers explain the following, which was handed to me by someone outside the ringing circle? I give it exactly as it was given to me:—

720 Bob Minor.

Call bob every time 2 and 4 lead and every time treble leads, and the tenor behind without the 5th. Call single when treble lead and 5 and 6 are behind; call extreme when 1 and 2 are before and tenor not behind.

This 720 was rung for the first time at Sandiacre for evening service, May 7th.

Extremo 23654

Yours faithfully,

Staveley.

A. E. PARSONS.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.*PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT.

A well-attended quarterly meeting was held on Saturday last at East Meon, where the old Norman Church of All Saints contains a fine peal of eight (tenor 19 cwt.). The bells were fully used, both before and after tea, the following methods being rung: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major. Members were present from Gosport, Havant, Portsea, Portsmouth, Petersfield, Wickham, East Meon. Visitors from Southampton, Bishopstoke and North Stoneham, Mr. C. S. V. Wilkins, of Cambridge University, and Mr. F. E. Dawe (London), were also present.

The company was well provided for, and full justice was done to the meal, after which the business meeting was held.—Two full members were elected, and it was also decided that the annual meeting of the district should be held at Alverstoke on November 11th next.

The committee's report was read, and unanimously adopted by the district.—An important resolution was next placed before the members, on which depends the future welfare of the district. This was also adopted, the district secretary having instructions to forward it to the general secretary.

Mr. E. J. Harding, senr. (district secretary) and Mr. F. W. Rogers (representative on the Central Committee) informed those present that owing to recent events they would like to give notice to the district that they would cease to be members of the Central Committee after the annual meeting in November next. The business concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. A. S. Crawley) for the use of the bells, and to Mr. H. Blackman for having everything in readiness, after which the members returned to the tower.

SOUTHAMPTON.

A meeting for combined practice was held at St. Mary's Southampton, on Tuesday, 11th July. Ringers from several towers were present, including the Master, Mr. George Williams, Mr. Cave, of Bristol, and his son, Mr. P. W. Cave, now a member of St. Mary's band. Touches of Stedman Triples and Bob Major, a course of Double Norwich, Court Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Superlative, Cambridge, and London Surprise, were brought round. The course of London was the first ever rung on the bells. The ringers were: C. E. Wilkins 1, P. W. Cave 2, G. Pullinger 3, J. W. Faithful 4, W. Cave, senr., 5, D. C. Williams 6, W. Tucker 7, G. Williams 8.

STAFFORD.—At St. Mary's Church, on Sunday morning, July 9th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in 45 mins., by: W. G. Curtis 1, W. H. Jones 2, W. C. Wilson 3, F. Sear 4, G. Booth 5, F. V. Haggis 6, J. J. Taylor (conductor) 7, J. Warrilow 8.

CHICHESTER.—On Sunday, July 9th, for the morning service, at the Cathedral, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (720 changes) was rung in 49 mins.: H. D. Falconer 1, Miss E. M. Burnett 2, W. H. Falconer 3, F. B. Tompkins 4, G. Marshall (1st quarter) 5, W. Ticehurst (conductor) 6, J. H. Blake 7, M. Heffer 8. Arranged for Miss Burnett, and was the first quarter as conductor.

ABINGDON.—At St. Nicholas' Church, on Sunday, July 9th, for morning service, 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor: P. Dyke 1, J. Honev 2, A. E. Lock (conductor) 3, G. Candwell 4, Mrs. A. E. Lock 5, E. Humphrey 6.

PAULTON, Near BATH.—On Sunday, July 9th, for morning service, at the Church of Holy Trinity, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles, consisting of 1,260 changes: Miss G. Smith 1, Miss E. Eram 2, W. Maggs 3, F. Flower (conductor) 4, W. Rosewell 5, E. Godwin 6.

LYE, STOURBRIDGE.—On Sunday, July 9th, at Christ Church, for the Sunday Schools festival, 720 changes of Bob Minor, with 6-8 covering, was rung by the following: F. Wiley 1, S. Cook 2, A. Chapman 3, Thos. H. Hodgkiss 4, C. W. Cooper 5, Jabez Wiley 6, A. Wooldridge 7, David Fletcher 8. Conducted by Mr. A. Wooldridge. All the above are members of the local band, with the exception of the ringer of the 5th, who is a member of the Stourbridge band.—Also, for evening service, 504 of Bob Triples, assisted by Messrs. J. Bass and William Gibbs, Wollaston, and after evening service, a further 720 of Bob Minor was rung in the following order: F. Wiley 1, S.

Cook 2, C. W. Cooper 3, A. Chapman 4, Thos. H. Hodgkiss 5, Jabez Wiley 6, A. Wooldridge 7, D. Fletcher 8. Conducted by Mr. A. Wooldridge. Great credit is due to the local ringers for the way in which these touches were rung, as they have only recently taken up change ringing again after a lapse of about 12 years and is the longest touch in any method by the ringer of the treble. The bells in this tower are the lightest peal of eight in England, and the 'go' of them being very tricky, it is not, by any means, a bad performance.

LAVERNHAM.—On Sunday, July 10th, for morning service, 840 Stedman Triples: S. H. Symonds (conductor) 1, F. Turner 2, W. R. J. Poulson 3, L. Poulson 4, F. Mortlock 5, W. Payers 6, F. Poulson 7, A. Symonds 8.—For evening service 408 Stedman Triples: F. Leeks 1, M. Symonds 2, F. Mortlock 3, S. Smith 4, F. Turner 5, F. Poulson 6, W. Payers 7, W. R. J. Poulson (conductor) 8.

PICKERING, YORKSHIRE.—At St. Peter and St. Paul's Church, on Sunday, July 9th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob, by the visiting ringers from Birstall, Leeds: G. Britton 1, H. Robinson 2, W. Clark 3, W. Rhodes 4, J. Kellet 5, S. Gibson 6, E. Crowther 7, H. Peel 8.

ST. STEPHEN'S, EALING.—On Sunday, July 9th, for morning service, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: H. A. Folkard 1, J. E. Walsen 2, H. Belcher 3, W. H. Hollier (conductor) 4, F. Stevens 5, H. Coulson 6, A. Harding 7, E. Harris 8. Mr. F. Stevens hails from Llanbradach, Glamorgan.

NORBURY, CHESHIRE.—On Sunday, July 9th, for morning service, 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor: J. Fernley, junr., 1, J. Fernley, senr., 2, W. Fernley 3, H. Hallworth, junr., 4, J. P. Fidler (conductor) 5, J. W. Hartley 6. The 'hobs' in this extent are made when the treble is in 6th's place, and is the first so rung.

GLASGOW.—On Sunday, July 9th, at St. Mary's Cathedral, for evensong, 960 Stedman Doubles: J. E. Sykes 1, T. O'Hara 2, E. Astley 3, W. N. Ashby 4, A. G. Tucker 5, N. W. S. North 6.

FEERING, ESSEX.—On Sunday, July 2nd, for morning service, 720 Bob Major: G. Mayes 1, J. C. Newman 2, R. Fisher 3, P. Langstone 4, J. Sadler 5, G. Heyward 6, C. Rogers 7, W. Keeble (conductor) 8.

KELVEDON.—On July 2nd, for evening service, 720 Plain: E. Dale 1, F. Dale, junr., 2, W. Keeble (conductor) 3, J. Elliott 4, E. Bone 5, W. Elliott 6.

DARLINGTON, DURHAM.—On Sunday, July 2nd, for morning service, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor: F. Atkinson 1, G. W. Park 2, W. Cooke 3, C. S. Burden (of London) 4, F. Cooke 5, W. N. Park (conductor) 6. First 720 as conductor.—Also for evening service, 360 London Surprise Minor: C. S. Burden 1, F. Atkinson 2, W. Cooke 3, W. N. Park 4, F. Cooke 5, G. W. Park (conductor) 6.—On Sunday, July 9th, for morning service, 504 Oxford Treble Bob Minor: G. W. Park 1, F. Cooke 2, W. Cooke 3, W. N. Park 4, F. W. Lupton 5, Chas. Todd (conductor) 6; and for evening service an attempt was made for 456 of London Surprise, which came to grief after ringing 336 changes.

WORKSOP.—On Whit Sunday, June 4th, for evening service, 279 Grandsire Triples: H. Jordan 1, Miss Ethel Winrow 2, G. Gabbittas 3, W. H. Johnson 4, G. Hardwick 5, H. Haigh 6, J. T. Wilson 7, E. Clark 8.—Also on Sunday, July 2nd, 504 Grandsire Triples: H. Jordan 1, H. Haigh 2, Miss Amy Taylor 3, W. H. Johnson 4, W. Roberts 5, A. Johnson 6, E. Clarke 7, G. Hardwick 8.—Also on July 9th, 336 Bob Major: H. Jordan 1, Miss A. Taylor 2, G. Gabbittas 3, A. Johnson 4, H. Haigh (conductor) 5, G. Hardwick 6, J. T. Wilson 7, E. Clarke 8. These are the longest lengths rung by the two ladies, and were rung with less than 20 hours' practice on the bell ropes.

PINCHBECK, Lincs.—On Sunday, June 25th, for the annual memorial service, 720 Double Court Minor: W. H. Sutton 1, A. Ground 2, W. Worthington 3, E. J. Haynes 4, J. Curry 5, G. Ladd (conductor) 6. First 720 in the method by 1, 2, 3 and 4.

BILLINGSHURST, SUSSEX.—On a recent Sunday, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung: V. Corden 1, P. H. Doick 2, R. Wood 3, J. Burdfield 4, P. Charman 5, A. Feist 6, W. Stanford (conductor) 7, F. Brooks 8.

TONBRIDGE, KENT.—For morning service, on the occasion of the visit of the Dean of Durham, 630 Grandsire Triples: F. Ballard 1, C. Cooke 2, A. Denton 3, G. Smithers 4, A. Richardson (conductor) 5, W. Wolfe 6, W. Steed 7, J. Draper 8.

RAWMARSH, Near ROTHERHAM, YORKSHIRE.—For afternoon service, at the Parish Church, on the occasion of the visit of the Bishop of Sheffield, and dedication of a children's window (which was subscribed for by a large number of children in the parish), a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,360 changes), in 47 mins.: A. Mitchell 1, F. C. Wilson 2, A. Firth 3, G. Tuke 4, A. G. Stocks 5, T. Cooper 6, H. Mortimore 7, E. Liversedge 8. First attempt and longest touch by Thomas Cooner as conductor. First quarter-peal by G. Tuke, ringer of the 4th bell.

'PERFORMANCES' AND 'RECORDS.'

The long peal at Appleton has been the centre of much controversy by those who would compare its merits with the previous Loughborough record, and in private debate as well as in published correspondence sides have been taken according to the point of view of the speaker or writer. In this issue we publish a letter from 'Once a Beginner,' which contains what is, we think, a well reasoned argument, and goes deeper into the pros and cons than any previous correspondent. He points out the difference between what he terms a record performance and a record peal, the performance having relation to the physical side of the achievement, as against the length of the peal as a record. Everyone, we think, will agree that, judged in this way, the Loughborough performance stands unbeaten, while the Appleton length cannot be disputed as a record in the number of changes. It has not yet been pointed out what, we think, is in justice due to the band, that the men who rang the peal at Appleton have made no claim to anything. There was not a single footnote about length, or time, or anything else added to the report of the peal in our issue of April 28th, so that all the controversy has been raised from outside.

The two peals stand individually upon their merits, and unbiassed ringers are able to make their own comparison fairly upon the various points at issue. At the same time, what is it that is officially recognised? Not weight of metal, not length of time. So far as official statistics are concerned, all that counts is length. A five thousand at Bow or York counts for no more, officially, than a five thousand in the same method at, say, Painswick. Over and over again it has been pointed out that the official records can recognise none of the many points which, apart from the method and number of changes, go to the merit of a peal. These records for what they are worth (and we have noticed that with some ringers they are considered valueless or otherwise according to the question at issue) provide a scale by which all peals are judged. No one claims that scale to be perfect, but by it the Appleton peal will be appraised as a greater peal than that at Loughborough. The only thing that will really put an end to the question is a longer peal than 21,363, rung on bells as heavy, or heavier, than Loughborough. Such bells are not readily available for record breaking, and as time goes on they will doubtless become less so. It is not likely that the record will long stand where it does at present, if the bells can be found; but those who will beat both the Loughborough 'performance' and the Appleton 'record' have no mean task before them.

DEATH OF MR. ARTHUR PILGRIM.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Arthur Pilgrim, of Ely, who held the office of district secretary in the Ely Diocesan Association for some years. He was parish clerk at St. Mary's, Ely, for about half a century, and at that church numerous men, including many of the Ely Theological students, learnt the art of ringing under his tuition.

Mr. Pilgrim was buried on July 14th.

DEATH OF MR. FREDERICK DAY.

A SUFFOLK BELL HANGER.

There will be general regret felt in the Exercise, especially in Norfolk and Suffolk, at the news of the death of Mr. Frederick Day, who died at his residence, Wellington Road, Eye, on Saturday, July 8th, in his 69th year. Mr. Day came of an old Eye family, being the son of the late Mr. George Day; and was associated with him for many years in the firm of George Day and Son, church bell hangers, which was established in 1802, the firm being well known throughout the country. Mr. Day was an original member of the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association of Ringers, his election dating back to its foundation, in 1877. He was also, from 1893 to 1919, secretary of the Eye district, and a member of the Ely, Royal Cumberland Youths, Gloucester and Bristol, Essex, Hereford, and other associations, and was Master of the Eye company, and a sidesman of the Parish Church. Sympathetic, sincere and helpful, the deceased was liked by everyone who came in contact with him, either in business or private life.

The deceased never seemed to recover from the shock of the death of his eldest son, Sergt. George E. Day, of the 5th Suffolks, who was killed in the great war on August 12th, 1915, in the landing at Suvla Bay, Gallipoli. He leaves a widow, three daughters and one son, Mr. Hubert J. Day, who assisted him in the business.

The deceased had a fine record of 118 peals, and rung on all numbers from six to twelve bells, and of his total 95 were rung for the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, his first association peal being rung on Easter Monday, March 29th, 1880, and his last on July 6th, 1914. It is interesting to note that this was also the late Sergt. George E. Day's last peal before the great war. The event of his ringing career was that of ringing the tenor to the peal of 10.272 changes of Kent Treble Bob Major at St. Mary's, Debenham, on October 16th, 1880.

With regard to his professional career, the following are a few of the noted rings of bells hung by Mr. Day; St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich (12), St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich (12), Bury, St. James' (10), Bury, St. Mary's (8), Lavenham (8), Leiston (8), Framlingham (8), Ross, Herefordshire (8), Monmouth (8), Clun, Shropshire (8), Birmingham (11), Prestbury, Gloucestershire (8), Barking, Essex (8), Pulham St. Mary (8), St. Margaret's, King's Lynn (10), Aylsham (10), Stonham (10), and many others.

The interment took place on Thursday, July 13th, at Ely Cemetery. The first part of the service was held at the Parish Church, the cortege being met at the west door by the surpliced choir, and the Vicar (the Rev. J. P. Oakley) and the Rev. A. H. Parker Smith (curate), who acted as cross bearer. Mr. F. W. Bray presided at the organ; the hymns, 'Days and Moments' and 'On the Resurrection Morning,' were sung, and the Psalm, 'The Lord is my Shepherd,' was chanted; the choir rendered very impressively the anthem, 'I heard a voice from heaven,' and at the conclusion of the service the Nunc Dimittis was sung. The mourners were: Mrs. Day (widow), Mr. Hubert J. Day (son), Miss Day, Mrs. Audiss and Miss Dorothy Day (daughters), Mrs. Garlick (sister), Master Fred Day (grandson), Mr. C. Audiss (son-in-law), Miss A. Murton, Mrs. James and Miss Hilda Dade (cousins). Others present included: Mr. F. W. French, Mr. E. O. Read, the Rev. F. J. H. and Mrs. Damant, Mr. J. A. Armstrong, Mr. E. A. Oryon, Mr. A. H. Burrows, Mr. F. Day, Mr. W. Tuffs, Mr. O. Oakes, Mrs. Cann, Miss Maude Tacon, Miss Woolnough, Miss Self, Miss Wallis, Mrs. Poppy (Stoke Ash), Mr. and Mrs. Weatherall, Mr. J. Crisp, Mr. Potter, Mr. G. Murton, Mrs. Bilham, Mr. A. E. Bilham, Mrs. Rush, Mr. W. Ford, Mr. W. Woods, Mr. F. Saunders, Miss Gidney. The Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association was represented by the following members: Mr. Arthur L. Coleman (general secretary), Mr. F. R. Borrett, Mr. W. Ireland, Mr. W. C. Duffield, Mr. J. Souter, Mr. C. J. More, Mr. A. J. Berry, Mr. S. Moule, Mr. F. Callum, Mr. W. Rose, Mr. E. F. Poppy, Mr. E. Youngs, Mr. W. Cutting, Mr. F. Brunning, and other members. The oak coffin bore the inscription: 'Frederick Day, died July 8th, 1922, aged 69 years.'

After the committal, Messrs. J. Souter, E. F. Poppy, W. Rose and W. Ireland rang a touch on the handbells over the grave, and, later, muffled touches were rung on the bells of the Parish Church, followed in the evening by a muffled peal of Bob Major. Four members of the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association of Ringers (Messrs. E. Youngs, W. Cutting, F. Brunning and E. F. Poppy) acted as bearers. Among the flowers were wreaths sent by the Eye and Thornham companies of ringers.

At St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on Tuesday, July 18th, 414 Stedman Caters: Claxton 1, Miss H. Bil 2, Miss F. Bil 3, J. Brettell 4, R. Hardy 5, D. T. Potter 6, F. Davey 7, G. H. Cross 8, F. R. Copeman 9, Capt. Dale 10.—Also 845 in the same method by: Miss H. M. Durrant 1, Miss H. Bil 2, Miss F. Bil 3, G. Claxton 4, R. Hardy 5, B. J. Howelin 6, G. Mayer 7, F. R. Copeman 8, G. H. Cross 9, P. H. Davey 10. These touches, conducted by G. H. Cross, were rung half-muffled as a just token of respect to the late Mr. Frederick Day.

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. ANNUAL MEETING AT WELLS.

The annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association was held in Wells, Somerset, on Saturday, July 8th, when there was a large attendance of ringers, many towers being represented, including Taunton (St. Mary's and St. James), Bridgwater, Frome, Wedmore, Mark, Wells, Chewton Mendip, West Pennard, Leigh-on-Mendip, Long Ashton, Bristol, Corston, Midsomer Norton, Radstock, Shepton Mallet, Bath, Glastonbury, Cheddar and Ilminster. Mr. A. Walker, Ringing Master, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, and Mr. J. Thomas (Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, bell founders, London) were also present. The local arrangements for the gathering had been very efficiently made by Mr. Walter Farley. The members attended the afternoon service at the Cathedral, the preacher being the Rev. E. S. C. Lock, Vicar of West Pennard, who founded a short address on the words, "For we are members one of another."

The visitors were afterwards conducted round the Cathedral.

Following a tea the annual business meeting was held. The Master of the Association (the Rev. Claud C. Parker, Rector of Corston) presided over a large attendance.

A REVIEW.

The Master, in a review of the year, said it was a great satisfaction to hold their annual meeting in the Cathedral city, and they were grateful to the Dean and Chapter for the facilities given them, and especially to Mr. Walter Farley, to whose energy and careful arrangements its success was mainly due. It was a disappointment that circumstances had prevented the Bishop, their President, from being present. They respectfully offered him their congratulations on his appointment, and expressed the hope that he would take as keen an interest in their association as his predecessor, the late Bishop Kennion. They could assure him that his Lordship would find in the association a very loyal body of church workers. There had recently been a meeting of the Central Council at Lincoln, which gathering was attended by Mr. Hunt, of Taunton. It was suggested at that meeting that a fund should be formed by each association to assist in providing and restoring bells in poor parishes, but he personally thought they might find it doubtful whether the amount that could be granted to any parish would be sufficient to make the formation of such a fund worth while. Turning to the affairs of their own association, the most important event was the restoration this year of a full annual report. Owing to the war and consequent financial difficulty, it had been impossible for the last six years to have an annual report printed, but he hoped for the future they would have one every year, as in pre-war days. The lapse of so long a period had made the task of their secretary one of exceptional difficulty, especially as all the returns from the towers had not yet been received. The association was recovering from the effects of the war, and was making real progress. The number of members and towers had increased and they were able to put on record a moderate list of peals. He urged district secretaries, to whom they owed so much, to seek to recover lapsed towers, and all members to great activity in the coming year, especially in the recruiting and training of new members. In regard to the financial position, they had in the last few years seen their reserve gradually diminishing, but this year there was a satisfactory increase. This was due to several reasons. First there was the special means taken to increase their income. The grants towards providing tea at the meetings were withdrawn, and secretaries were only allowed to expend a third of the subscriptions for local expenses. An affiliation fee of 2s. was required from every tower. The last provision resulted in a sum of £8 being received; but inasmuch as many towers sent in 5s., and one at least 10s., and as there were 106 towers belonging to the association, there must be a considerable number which had failed so far to comply with this provision. The hope expressed was that the affiliation fee should be paid by an application to the incumbent, churchwardens, and parochial church council, and he asked that such application should be made by all towers. He was certain that it would rarely be refused, in view of the great advantage to a parish of the ringers being attached to the Diocesan Association. These provisions had undoubtedly helped them to increase their reserve, but they had to recollect that an additional economy was effected by only printing the Master's report, and the balance sheet last year. Nevertheless, the balance sheet on the whole was a favourable one, and the members might think it wise to continue another year without any further expedient for increasing income. The details of the year's working was as follows: Members, hon. life, 6; hon. members, 79; performing members, 882; non-resident life members, 150; non-resident ringing members, 7; unattached, 49. Meetings had been held at Bath, Dulverton, Long Ashton, and Ditchat during the year, whilst 18 peals had been rung, viz., Grandsire Caters, 2; Bob Major, 1; Stedman Triples, 4; Grandsire, 3; Doubles in four methods, 1; three methods, 1; two methods, 2; Grandsire Doubles, 4. They would notice that there were 49 unattached members. The reason why members were unattached were variable and for the most part justifiable, but at the same time most of them would agree that it was desirable where possible that every member should be attached to some tower. He was glad to see that there was variety in the list of peals, and he hoped next year's report would record not only an increased number of peals, but also of methods. He trusted that under God the association would continue to make progress and fulfil its useful purpose during the coming year in the diocese (applause).

On the motion of Mr. Taylor (Ilminster), seconded by Mr. Holmyard (Midsomer Norton), the Master's report was adopted.

BALANCE SHEET.

Mr. E. Burgess (hon. secretary and treasurer) presented the balance sheet, which showed that during the year the reserve had increased from £67 ls. 7d. to £86 16s. 8d.

The Master, in moving the adoption of the financial statement, extended thanks to Mr. Taylor for auditing the accounts. He considered it distinctly creditable that their association had been able to get through trying times so well. Their thanks were due to Mr. Burgess, who had conducted the affairs of the association with such economy that they had been able to increase their reserve.

The Rev. J. E. W. Honeywill (Leigh-on-Mendip) seconded the motion, which was supported by Mr. Taylor, who pointed out that they would in the immediate future have to find £20 for printing the annual report, whilst their stock of stationery was low, and would soon need replenishment.—The motion was carried.

RINGERS' MEMORIAL.

Mr. Burgess also presented the accounts relating to the fund for providing a memorial to Somerset ringers who fell in the war, and which tablet had been erected in Bath Abbey.

The Master congratulated Mr. Burgess upon the energetic and successful manner in which he had carried through the memorial scheme.

It was unanimously decided to grant an honorarium of £10 10s. to the secretary and treasurer for his services.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Bishop is president of the association, and the three Archdeacons of the Diocese and Preb. Boyd were re-elected vice-presidents, with the addition of the Rev. J. E. W. Honeywill.

Mr. Taylor proposed the re-appointment of the Rev. Claud C. Parker as Master of the Association.—Mr. T. Griffin (Radstock) seconded, and the re-election was approved by hearty applause.

The Master, in acknowledgment, said he had been the Master for many years, and whilst he felt a change was desirable, he particularly desired to see the association embarked upon a successful career after the war, and for that reason he would be pleased to continue in the office for another year.

Mr. Holmyard proposed the re-election of Mr. Burgess as hon. secretary and treasurer, and said if they searched the diocese they could not find a better man.—Mr. Maddock (Taunton) seconded, and the motion was unanimously carried.—Mr. Burgess said he would be pleased to do the best he could for the association for another year.—Mr. Taylor was re-elected auditor, and Mr. A. S. Bore (St. James', Taunton) was elected a member of the association.

The meetings of the association were fixed to be held at Burnham, Corston, Ilminster, and Yeovil (annual meeting).

Mr. Hunt mentioned that arrangements had been made to increase the number of bells in the tower of St. Mary's, Taunton, to twelve, and suggested that one of the quarterly meetings should be held at Taunton so that members might be able to try the new bells.—Mr. Coles (Bridgwater) deprecated the idea of interfering with the approved sequence of meetings. The association decided to adhere to the original programme in regard to meetings.

Mr. Hunt, as a representative of the association at the Central Council meeting at Lincoln, gave an interesting resume of the proceedings.

The Master proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. E. S. C. Lock for his sermon, the Dean and Chapter for affording the association facilities in regard to the annual meeting at Wells, the Dean for his address to them after the service, Canon Davis and Canon Alcock for showing them round the Cathedral, and to Mr. Walter Farley for making the local arrangements.—The vote having been heartily endorsed, the Rev. E. S. C. Lock and Mr. Farley replied.

After the meeting various members visited the towers of the Cathedral and St. Cuthbert's, and enjoyed short touches. Two courses of Stedman Caters were also rung on the handbells by Messrs. E. Brown (Bristol), A. Walker (Birmingham), J. Thomas (London), J. Hunt (Taunton), J. T. Dyke (Midsomer Norton).

WITNEY, OXON.—On Whit Monday, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: Rev. R. C. L. Newhouse 1, M. Smith 2, J. Butler 3, J. Monk 4, R. G. Rice (conductor) 5, G. F. James 6, N. Spindlow 7, R. Keen 8. It had been intended to attempt a peal, but owing to unavoidable delays two of the band could not arrive in time. The band represents eight different parishes: Buckland, Banbury, Hagbourne, Witney, Harwell, Blewbury, Ducklington and Southleigh.

Repeated.

In this peal there are no bobs, Oxford places being made at lead ends 1, 3, 5. The 7th and tenor are never in the slow, the course is reduced to one of 160 changes. The peal contains the 60 course ends.

The real is reduced to 5760 by adding a call at 1 and 5 in the 14th course of each part, which brings up the 26th and 56th course ends respectively. It is reduced to 5120 by omitting the call at 1 in the 11th course of 1st part, which brings up the course end 64235 and adding a call at 1 and 5 in the 14th course of 2nd part, which brings up the 56th course end 43256.

First rung as a 5120 at Eckington on July 22nd, 1922. Conducted by the composer.

FALSE COMPOSITION.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—I beg to inform you that the peal of Double Norwich Major rung at St. John the Baptist, Tuebrook, Liverpool, on Feb. 27th, 1908, is false. Recently (if I am correctly informed) Mr. H. W. Wilde turned up this particular composition, and found that in the reduced form (5,072) which was rung repetition occurs; in its original form (as a 5,184) it is quite true.

I can only say in extenuation that at the time I had not thought to question the truth of the author's (the late John R. Pritchard) compositions, and offer my sincere apologies to the surviving members of the band who took part.—Yours faithfully, J. MARTIN.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Biggleswade District was held at Clifton on Saturday, July 8th. The ringing during the afternoon and evening included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major and Bob Major. Members and friends were present from Hitchin, Dunstable, Barton le Clay, Bedford, Turvey, Walthamstow, Biggleswade, Northill, Sandy Roston, and the local company.

At the business meeting which followed tea, provided at the Vicarage, Mr. G. P. Lucas, of Walthamstow, was elected a life member, and Roston was chosen for the next place of meeting.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Bishop for the use of the bells and providing such a splendid tea (to which 22 sat down); to the ladies and churchwardens for assisting at the tea; and to the local company for having everything ready.—Mr. Revitt, in responding, said what great pleasure it gave the Bishop and churchwardens to welcome so many ringers from so many different towers. He hoped the time would not be long before they paid another visit.

During the evening, several touches of Plain Bob were rung for the benefit of learners.

COLLEGE SINGLE DOUBLES.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—Will you please allow me to point out both to Mr. Hammond and Mr. Matkin that the figures they each publish are not Doubles at all? Three changes in every lead are Singles which would, of course, mean at least 38 out of the 120. Also, the eight blows behind are inadmissible. In conclusion, I would advise each of these gentlemen to stick to Snowdon's standard methods, wherein the best collection of Doubles is to be found.—Yours faithfully, Walton-le-Dale, Lancs.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are recasting four of the bells at St. Mary's, Lambeth, and rehanging the whole peal. The church first had eight bells in 1723, and the inscription on the treble records that 'these eight bells and frames and all appurtenances were new made, and a considerable weight of metal added to the old bells. A.D. 1723.'

The inscription adds: 'The cost near 250 pounds was defrayed by the gifts of many gentlemen and other inhabitants of this parish.' The distinction between the gentlemen and the other inhabitants is amusing.

There were bells at St. Mary's, Lambeth, more than four hundred years ago, for in the churchwardens' accounts for 1514-15 is a record as follows: 'Item for the fastening of iij belles yt wer lowese in the stoks & a stei to the gret bell lijs.'

The Whitechapel Foundry's connection with them is an ancient one, for the following appears in the accounts for 1586-87, the bell founder being obviously Robert Mot, the first of the long line of proprietors: 'It, to Mote for ye bell bringinge home and for ye clapper and bawdricke xvjs. viijd.' and, in 1598-99: 'Item paid to Mr. Mote's man for bringing ye greate bell clapper from Whitechappell to Lambeth, vjd.'

There are other items paid to Mr. Mote, including in the year 1599-1600. xiiijli. xis. viijd. for a new bell.

Even in those days they used mats in the belfry, for in 1604-5 there is an entry: 'Item payed for matts for safegarde of the bell ropes, xvijjd.'

The bells now to be recast are the 2nd, 4th, 7th and 10th.

A village fete, in aid of the restoration fund of the parish church bells, is to be held at Sutton-on-Trent on Bank Holiday. Among the events will be a ringers' tug-of-war, and we hope there may be seen many doughty teams at the rope ends. This is an event in which ringers ought to excel, although they will doubtless find the hand-stroke much better than the back stroke for this purpose.

The Hertfordshire ringers have made a ringing raid into Buckinghamshire, three parochial companies of change ringers from St. Albans, Tring and Bushey, visiting Beaconsfield, Slough and Windsor during July.

All Saints' tower, Boyne Hill, Berks, is an unfortunate one. When the first octave of bells was put up the 7th fell from top to bottom of the tower, passing through a circular opening in the groining of the ceiling of the ground floor with only an inch to spare. The bell fell quite plump, and was not injured in any way. The steeple caught fire some years afterwards, and melted the bells, which necessitated a new peal. They have not been rung for several years past, and are now in the hands of the bell hangers. Last week the 5th bell fell into the pit, the chain by which it was suspended having snapped. The 'hanger' had only just vacated the pit, and was standing on the framework at the time.

Yesterday was the jubilee anniversary of the first peal in Ireland. This was Holt's Original at Christ Church Cathedral, Waterford, and there were some famous old ringers in this band of College Youths: W. Cooter 1, J. Pettit (conductor) 2, J. R. Haworth 3, G. A. Muskett 4, C. Lee 5, M. A. Wood 6, A. Hayward 7, W. Greenleaf 8.

On July 30th, 1792, the then longest peal of Grandeira Major was rung at Aston by St. Martin's Youths. The length was 7,552.

Last week we recorded a peal rung at Southover, Lewes, on Saturday, July 15th, in celebration of the birthday of Mr. R. J. Dawe and his father. We regret to record that Mr. Dawe, senr., who had been ailing for some time, died on the following day.

The Midland Counties Association meeting announced for Newark next Saturday, will be held instead at Mansfield.

A peal of Cinques, at Waltham Abbey, Essex, on Saturday evening, and a peal of Major in Worcestershire on Sunday afternoon, is the latest bustle of Mr. James George.

CAMBRIDGE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—If Mr. Pye will read my letter again, he will see that I simply stated that I had composed the peal in 1910; in the same issue he stated that he had composed it in 1908; to my mind, that settles the matter, and I did not write to you because I do not see the use of using up your valuable space unnecessarily; with me silence gives consent.

Mr. Burford is mistaken in thinking that Nos. 907 and 343 in the Gloucester and Bristol report are the same; 343 is a perfect five-part reduced, and 907 is not.—Yours, etc.,
H. LAW JAMES.
Surrey.

THE RECORD PEAL.

'LENGTH' 'TIME' AND 'PERFORMANCE.'

To the Editor.

Sir,—It would be as well if your correspondents, when they write on this subject, would first of all take each case on its merits, and not try to compare the peal they have in mind with peals which obviously come in another class. It is impossible to compare the Loughborough peal with the Appleton peal as a 'performance.' The Loughborough peal set up three distinct records, viz., the greatest number of changes; the greatest length of time, and the heaviest weight of metal rung to a long peal by one set of men, and Mr. Pye is correct when he says that the peal as a 'performance' has not been beaten. But the 'time' has gone, and the number of changes has gone with it. So we have to look at the matter from two points of view.

Are we to understand that to beat a record peal we must pick out bells of equal or heavier weight and 'go,' and ring a longer length? Because, if so, the Wigston peal did not beat the Kidlington peal; neither did the Painswick peal of Grandsire, Cinques beat the Ashton peal of Cinques; nor did the Painswick peal beat the 'Bull Ring' peal. Neither did the Ashton peal of Royal beat the Shoreditch peal, nor did the 18,800 at Mottram beat the Debenham peal. If a band rang 18,000 of Treble Ten at Evesham, how would it compare with the Loughborough peal? We must, therefore, come to the conclusion that Mr. Willson was wrong when he said that the Appleton peal could be beaten at Loughborough Bell Foundry. The number of changes and the time could be exceeded, but the peal 'as a performance' could not be beaten there. So it seems as though we must stipulate that rules be laid down, as in all other sports; weight for age, and handicaps for tried long pealers. It will be easy for Mr. Pye to let the Loughborough peal stand as a 'performance,' for he has no necessity to beat his own 'performance.' If he picks a peal of ten, with a tenor of 15 cwt., and rings a 22,000 of Stedman Caters, he will then have beaten the Appleton peal in time, number of changes 'and as a performance.' To beat the Loughborough peal all round, 19,000 will be required at Evesham, or 22,000 at Evesham to set up a combined record in regard to time, number of changes and 'performance.' But 19,000 of Royal would not beat the Loughborough peal of Caters, even if rung at Loughborough. It would merely set up a new record, for how can a Royal record beat a Caters record?

All the squabbling in the world will not wipe away the fact that the Appleton peal men have rung the greatest number of changes, and the longest time (if it is only a few minutes longer) ever rung by one set of men, and I don't remember having seen any claim put in by them to anything else but that. No 'performance' was mentioned in their footnote. No excuses should have been made for that or any other long peal as regards the 'go' of the bells. The peal as rung should stand on its merits. Excuses may be all right as crutches, but they are a bad pair of legs for anything to stand on.

As regards the compositions of these, or any other peals, it has been suggested that all compositions be submitted to a committee for proof. Now, if the gentlemen who write on this subject would only use the modicum of grey matter which their parents had vouchsafed unto them in the way it was intended to be used, they would never suggest such things; for if a committee was formed these very gentlemen who write on this subject would, indirectly, elect as a committee the only persons available who are fitted for the work of proving these peals, viz., the composers themselves. It is proved that these gentlemen, who have the best of intentions, are only mortals like ourselves; for there are very few composers who have not issued at some time or other a false composition, and even the committee appointed by the C.C. to deal with the proving of the peals that were intended for publication were so frail that some of them allowed false compositions to be issued to the Exercise in the C.C. publications, to say nothing about passing over peals of merit and the inclusion of countless compositions which have 'nowt abahit 'em,' and when asked why they had included so many of their own compositions, replied that 'they could not see anything better.' Some of us quite realise that the statement that 'they could not see' is all too true. However, until the Exercise comes under Soviet rule, and God spare us from that, we shall never compel any composer to submit his compositions to a committee before they are rung. He will bestow his good work, the jewels of his thoughts, created by years of patient study and application to that which is his hobby, where he likes; and the Exercise, if it is wise, will be content to let it rest at that, unless we want to wipe out the very splendid rivalry which exists among composers, and which indeed has existed since the first peal was composed.

In conclusion, may I point out to the 'Great Ones' of the Exercise that no one has a sole monopoly of the fount of knowledge? The said great ones may have amassed a greater store of knowledge than their humbler brethren. No doubt, all of us in our time have tried 'to teach our grandmother how to suck eggs'; and found out to our cost that, although we knew that 2 and 2 made four, she knew that as well as we did. The possession of a great amount of knowledge alone is not sufficient to raise any individual to the top of the tree. It is the striking personality which commands a respect for his ability to put to judicious use, for the good of the community, his immense store of knowledge which raises a man to the 'upper rooms' at the feast, leaving the humbler brethren content to worship at his shrine. But woe betide him if his followers find that their idol has only feet of clay after all. I know that a certain humble member of the Exercise was once on the edge of the desert at Sidi-bel-Abbas, and during the awful silence which comes in the hour before dawn, remarked to a camel driver how impressive the silence was. The reply he got was 'the voice of silence speaks louder than any voice,' especially the silence which precedes the day of great things.—Yours sincerely,

ONCE A BEGINNER.

'A LONDON RINGER'S' REPLY.

Dear Sir,—Had I any suspicion when I wrote to you about the Appleton record peal that it would be replied to by Mr. W. Pye my letter would never have been written. I quote from experience, and it is under the exceptional circumstances that I have allowed myself to be drawn into this again.

My letter did not contain anything, either directly or indirectly, to belittle the Loughborough peal in any respect. Therefore, Mr. Pye's accusation is entirely misplaced, and he could have saved the uncomplimentary remarks I have heard from various ringers in respect of the tone of his letters.

I may say the object of my letter was to contest Mr. Willson's remarks, which would, if not replied to, give a false impression to those of the Exercise who were without knowledge of the conditions that actually existed, and it jarred on my nerves when explanations were not forthcoming.

Taking into consideration the nature of previous controversies, I am rather confident that Mr. Pye does not care to see any of his numerous records beaten, especially the Loughborough peal. He will, no doubt, for argument's sake, differ from me, but why doesn't he recognise the Appleton peal? Mr. Willson did not think the Appleton peal as good a performance as Loughborough. But why, then, did he say, 'It will come unstuck if given a place suitable'?

I am in absolute agreement with Mr. George William's letter, and I am glad when I see a gentleman of repute back my statement in respect of light bells.—Yours faithfully,
A LONDON RINGER.

MENTAL FAILURE.

Sir,—In his letter respecting 'Record Lengths,' in your issue of July 21st, Mr. W. Pye says: 'I have never seen a ringer collapse under mental strain, but I have seen many do so under physical strain, which is sufficient proof that physical strain is the most trying.' Has Mr. Pye never known peals or touches come to grief owing to mistakes on the part of one or more ringers? If he has, I would ask, what is this but mental failure? In my opinion there are many more ringers who could sustain the physical strain of a peal, of whatever length, than there are those equal to the mental strain. In ringing generally mental failure is common, while physical collapse is very rare.—Yours faithfully,
G. A. PECK.

Saltburn-by-Sea.

SPORTING ETIQUETTE.

Dear Sir,—As an ordinary ringer may I be allowed to make a suggestion re the long peal controversy? Firstly, I think for leading ringers to write such letters as some that have appeared on the subject is setting a very bad example to the Exercise, and not giving a very good impression to those who may have just begun to take an interest in ringing.

In cricket, for instance, when Prince Ranjitsinhji, C. B. Fry, Hobbs, and others have broken records, the sporting Press has not been flooded with letters from previous holders of such records, such as the late Dr. W. G. Grace, E. M. Grace, etc., claiming that the feats were not done on such big grounds or against such good bowling, or such things as that.

Surely there should be some etiquette amongst first-class ringers, as there undoubtedly is with the majority.

The long peal band at Appleton is to be commended for not being drawn into a controversy in such bad taste. Perhaps Messrs. Pye, Willson and Co., will go and beat the 21,363 at Appleton; doubtless they would be made welcome there. It is only six miles from Oxford Station. G.W.R.—Yours,
'A COMMON OR GARDEN RINGER.'

Sir,—I do not remember that I have ever troubled you with correspondence before, and it would be an excellent thing if some others followed my example.

I have never met Mr. Pye, and am unwilling to believe him as conceited as his letters to your paper make him appear. He has made himself a wonderful reputation at the end of a rope, but is rapidly spoiling this by his peunmanship. Let Mr. Pye stick to his rope, where he is an acknowledged leader, and leave newspaper correspondence to those who have the training for it.—Yours, etc.,
HOWARD FREERORN.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

ESSEX RINGERS IN KENT.

On Saturday, July 15th, the Woodford and Loughton companies had their annual outing, and were accompanied by Mr. G. F. Margetson and Mr. H. T. Scarlet, and other friends, the party numbering 28. Starting from Loughton at 8 a.m., a lovely ride, by charabanc, was enjoyed. At Erith, Kent, ringing took place at St. John the Baptist's and Christ Church. The next place of call was Northfleet, and then the party went on to Milton-next-Gravesend, where, after several touches on the bells, dinner was partaken of. On the return journey Swanscombe was visited, and afterwards Dartford and Crayford. During the day touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich Major were brought round. A most enjoyable day was spent, and the ringers wish, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank their Kent friends who helped to make the outing a complete success.

A TRIP INTO SALOP.

The ringers of St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, had their annual outing on Saturday, July 15th, starting from St. Peter's Church by motor charabancs at 12.15 p.m. for Bridgnorth, which was reached after an hour's delightful run. The party, numbering 23, were met by Mr. John Overton, the genial captain of the Bridgnorth band, and the bells of St. Leonard's Church were soon going merrily to Stedman Triples, nicely struck with successful results. A plain course of Double Norwich Major was brought round, but some of the party being novices in this method the striking was none too good. After a short touch of Grandsire Triples and a touch of Bob Major the bells were dropped, and a start was made for Coalbrookdale by way of Much Wenlock, a very ancient and interesting place, said to be 'one of the oldest boroughs in the country.' After a look round the ruined Abbey the party continued their journey by way of Buildwas. This was really the prettiest part of the journey. Going down some very steep hills, the valley opened up before them in all its splendour, with the beautiful green foliage of the trees lining the hills on either side, 'surely one of England's beauty spots.'

At Coalbrookdale the visitors were welcomed by the locals (who, on seeing them approach, struck into a touch of Stedman Triples, the striking being excellent). After joining in further touches of Stedman, an adjournment was made to the Commercial Hotel, where an excellent knife and fork tea, laid out in first-class style by the host, was enjoyed. Following another short visit to the tower, the party restarted for Shifnal at about 6.30, where they arrived about 7.10, and had about 45 minutes' ringing, Bob Major being the method. After cooling the engines they started for home, which was safely reached at exactly 9 p.m., giving the Birmingham friends who accompanied the party time to catch their trains.

Thus ended a very enjoyable and successful outing. The company wish to thank all the friends who met them at the respective places; the incumbents for granting the use of the bells, without which a ringers' outing would be spoilt. The whole of the party voted it an ideal outing, and hoped for a repetition at some future date.

THROUGH THE FYLDE DISTRICT.

On Saturday, July 15th, the annual outing of the Penwortham (St. Mary's) Society was held, when a tour of the Fylde district of Lancashire was made. After a good run in delightful sunshine (for St. Swithun was in gracious mood), the party first stopped at Great Singleton, where they were met by Mr. Mapp, of the local band. The bells were raised, and touches of Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Court were rung. Probably the most notable feature about Singleton is the beautiful condition of the churchyard which speaks volumes for the amount of good work which must be spent on its care.

At Poulton-le-Fylde, the unveiling of the war memorial was taking place, and on completion of the ceremony the local ringers invited the party to ring a 720 in celebration of the occasion, which offer was gladly accepted, and a well-struck extent of Kent Treble Bob Minor brought round.

A rollicking ride over the potholes to Cockerham then followed, and the male portion of the party were quite ready for the tea which awaited them (the ladies had made emergency arrangements at Poulton). After tea, it was pleasant to linger on the hillside and to see the view across the bay to the mountains of Furness and Cumberland beyond, out of the cluster of which Black Combe, the Langdales and Coniston Old Man, stood in grandeur, mute reminders of time. A move was then made to the tower, where touches of Plain Bob and Oxford Single Minor were rung: an attempt at a 720 of Double Court, however, proved unsuccessful.

Then the return and all that it means. The party wish to take this opportunity of expressing their thanks to the Vicars and ringers of the various churches visited for permission to use the bells and for having everything in readiness to make the trip a success.

CHELMSFORD DISTRICT RINGERS' EXCURSION.

On Saturday, July 15th, the annual outing of the Chelmsford district of the Essex Association took place, ringers from Boreham, Broomfield, Chelmsford, Springfield, Widford and Writtle, taking part. Leaving Chelmsford at 7.30, picking up a party of nine at Writtle, including the church organist, St. Mary's Parish Church, Harlow, was the first objective, and here the party were met by Mr. Tucker. The bells were raised and soon going, but ringing had to be curtailed owing to the stranding of the second rope. At the next place, Sawbridgeworth, Mr. Tarling was in waiting, and each ringer had a touch upon this heavy ring. After about an hour a move was made to Saffron Walden, where the travellers were welcomed by Mr. F. J. Pitstow, general secretary of the association. After dinner a move to the fine old tower, where Stedman Triples, Caters and Grandsire Cinques were brought round. Then on to Finchingfield, by way of Thaxted, where a call was made to view the church, but not to ring. Finchingfield was reached in time for tea, and ringing took place afterwards, Bob Major, Treble Bob, Grandsire and Cambridge Surprise being brought round on the fine going bells. The last place for ringing after a splendid country ride was Sible Hedingham, where Mr. L. Wiseman and several of the local company were waiting. The bells were used in Cambridge, Stedman, Treble Bob and Double Norwich, some of the local company joining in. At 9 o'clock a move was made for home. The company wish to thank the various incumbents for the use of their bells, and to the local ringers who were kind enough to meet them, and especially Mr. F. J. Pitstow, who made the excellent arrangements for the dinner and the towers.

ST. ALBANS CATHEDRAL SOCIETY.

On Saturday, July 15th, St. Albans Cathedral Society made a charabanc tour through South Bucks. The party left St. Albans at 9 a.m., and made their first call at Denham, where the bells were found to 'go' very heavily. Riding through delightful scenery including Burnham Beeches, they next reached Slough where they were met by Messrs. Leader, Fussell, and others, who joined in ringing Stedman Triples and Superlative Surprise Major. Touring via Maidenhead, Great Marlow was reached, where luncheon was enjoyed by all. The visitors were met by Mr. J. C. Truss and others, the belfry was visited, and touches of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Superlative were brought round. The next place on the programme was High Wycombe and its twelve-bell tower. Here Mr. R. Coles awaited the travellers, and assisted in ringing a course of Stedman Cinques. A touch of Stedman Caters was also successfully brought round, and then a course of Double Norwich on the back eight brought the visit to a close. After tea, a ramble through the town was followed by a further move to Woodburn, where several of the local ringers were met, and further ringing indulged in. The last place of call was Beaconsfield. Here the party were met by several of the local band, and Mr. C. A. Bennett, who was a probationary member of St. Albans Cathedral Society some years ago. Ringing included touches of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major. The journey was then continued, and home was reached at 11.30 p.m., after a most enjoyable day. The best thanks of the members are due to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, the towerkeepers for arrangements made, and other friends who kindly assisted.

NEWBURY MEN IN EAST BERKS.

The St. Nicholas' ringers, Newbury, devoted their annual holiday to a tour of towers in East Berkshire. The first call was Wokingham, and very soon the bells of All Saints' were tapping off Grandsire Triples. Going on through Bracknell and Ascot, and after a delightful ride through the Great Park, Old Windsor was reached. Here the party were met by Mr. Harman, who had charge of the arrangements in the Royal Borough. Stedman and Grandsire were the methods tried on the delightful peal, and some nice touches were brought round. The next move was to the Castle, Mr. Harman having previously obtained permission for the party to visit the State Apartments and Royal Mews. After dinner, a move was made to the Parish Church, where several of the local ringers welcomed the Newburians. About half an hour's nice ringing completed a most enjoyable and interesting time. At Farnham Royal the party were welcomed by Mr. J. J. Parker. Further ringing took place here, and then the excursionists set off once again through beautiful country, and Burnham, famed for its beeches, was reached in time for tea. More ringing at the village church, and it was time to start on the return journey. Passing through Maidenhead and Twyford, a call was made at Sonning, where the last ringing of the day took place on a grand peal of eight recently rehung in a steel frame. Ringing completed, a start was made for home, which was safely reached after a most enjoyable excursion. The ringers wish to thank the various incumbents for the use of the bells, and the foremen at the towers for having everything in readiness.

SHEFFIELD CATHEDRAL BELLS.

THE REOPENING.

It was decided a few months ago, that the peal of twelve bells in Sheffield Cathedral should be thoroughly overhauled, and this commission was entrusted to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the White-chapel Foundry, the founders of the peal. The original 7th and 10th bells were cracked, consequently these were recast, and the whole peal have been put into proper tuning notation, and rehung with modern fittings, whilst the old oak frame has been considerably strengthened.

In order to meet the wishes of the Cathedral Vicar, it was arranged that the dedication ceremony should take place before he left Sheffield to take up his new duties as Bishop of Coventry, consequently this event took place on Sunday morning, July 2nd. The Bishop, with his attendant clergy and churchwardens, visited the ringing chamber, where the dedication of the two recast bells was carried out, the choir singing appropriate hymns on the adjoining leaden roof, after which the bells were rung for service.

The ringers' 'official' opening took place on Saturday, July 22nd, when there were visitors from the local towers, and also from Chesterfield, Bolsover, Worksop, Rotherham, Manchester and Derby.

Ringings which commenced shortly after 3 p.m., with various touches on 8, 10 and 12 bells, and a course of Superlative Surprise Major on the back eight (tenor 40 cwt.), showed to a marked degree the great and effective improvement wrought by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

After a substantial tea at the Exchange Restaurant, ringing was indulged in until 8.30, after which an adjournment was made to the local headquarters, where social intercourse and handbell ringing, consisting of plain courses and touches of Grandsire Triples, Caters, and Cinques, Stedman Triples and Caters and Bob Major, brought to a very fitting close an enjoyable and red-letter day in the history of the Cathedral bells.

There is no doubt at all that the firm of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have worked wonders with the old peal, and in the opinion of those well qualified to judge, there is in Sheffield not only a fine peal of twelve, but also a very musical front eight for Triples and Major peal ringing.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A Guildford district meeting was held at Cobham on Saturday, July 15th, and was well attended by ringers from Clandon, Cobham, Cranleigh, Godalming, Guildford (St. Nicolas and Holy Trinity), Ockham and Shere. A service was held in the church conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon Grane), who also gave a capital address. Tea was served in the Institute, presided over by the Vicar, about 30 sitting down. A business meeting followed, at which the Ringing Master (Mr. A. C. Hazelden) presented his report.

The usual vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the church and bells, and to the organist for presiding at the organ. Many touches were rung during the afternoon and evening on the six bells.

PEAL TABLETS AT STAVELEY.

Two peal tablets have been erected in St. John the Baptist's Church, Staveley, one commemorating a peal of Bob Major rung on November 3rd, 1919, for the 77th birthday of the Rector (Canon Molineux) and his 32nd anniversary at Staveley; and the other a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major on August 3rd, 1920, in honour of the conferring of knighthood upon Dr. Josiah Court, J.P., of Staveley.

They have been affixed one each side of the tower archway in the church, where they can be seen by people outside of the ringing fraternity. The tablets are of Welsh slate, with letters carved and gilded, and are a credit both as to design and execution to Mr. C. G. Jones, of Rugby, with whom the order was placed.

THE WRONG BELL.

The following amusing story was recently told by a clergyman: During a summer holiday I took a Sunday's duty for a brother parson. Just before the service began I asked the churchwarden if there were any notices to be given out.

'You might just rub it into them about the Bell Fund,' he whispered. 'It's going pretty slow. Only twenty pounds so far.'

I rubbed it in all right. I pointed out that 'sweet chiming bells' were a great asset to a church. They stirred consciences, revived memories, and made the air fragrant with the call to worship. I urged the congregation to support the Bell Fund, and I thought I had done pretty well, despite the fact that I sensed an atmospheric change. People coughed, smiled, whispered.

Said the warden after the service, 'Ye-es,' sir, what you said was all right—in its way. Unfortunately the Bell Fund was not to get any more bells. It was to help the widow of Mr. Bell. He was organist here for twenty years.'

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.—Ledbury District.—A meeting will be held at Eastnor, near Ledbury, on Saturday, August 5th. Bells (6) 3 p.m. Church service at 5 p.m. Tea and business meeting at the Somers Arms after service.—Richard Thomas, Dist. Hon. Sec.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

A SUNDAY TRIP.

On Sunday afternoon, July 16th, six members of the Stanton-on-Hine-Heath band cycled to Edmond, where they were met by Mr. Rodenhurst, of Hodnet. They found a handy ring of six bells with a tenor of about 10 cwt., rung from the ground floor.

Owing to the bad weather, one of the band failed to turn up, and Minor could not, therefore, be attempted; however, a well-struck 720 of Grandsire Doubles was rung by H. Clay 1, W. Lycett 2, E. V. Rodenhurst (conductor) 3, S. France (first 720 on a bob bell) 4, W. Clay 5, H. Edwards 6. The party were afterwards entertained to an excellent tea by Mr. Morris, wife of a local ringer.

For evening service, another 720 was rung, conducted by W. Clay, with T. Lycett on the tenor. The band wish to thank the Vicar for the use of the bells, for altering the time of children's service so that the band could ring; also Mr. Morris for having the bells ready. It was intended to ring at Chetwynd after service, but this had to be abandoned owing to the weather.

STEVENTON, BERKS.—On Wednesday evening, July 19th, at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes), in 50 mins. being ten and a half six-score called differently: R. C. Smith 1, J. Nobes (conductor) 2, F. W. Bunce 3, J. L. Betteridge 4, A. P. W. Fletcher 5, A. Breakspear 6. This is the longest length ever rung on the bells, and by all the band, who are the first local company to attempt method ringing. They began in 1921.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*ROCHESTER DISTRICT AND THE WAR MEMORIAL.

The quarterly meeting of the Rochester District of the Kent County Association was held at Rainham, on Saturday, July 15th, and was well attended. The association service was held in St. Margaret's Church, conducted by the curate-in-charge, the Rev. W. Walton, and the organist and choir brightened the service by their voluntary attendance. Over 30 members listened to an interesting address by the Rev. W. Walton, who spoke of the fine work that ringers were doing for the church, but reminded them that often they called people to the House of God and neglected to go themselves.—A collection at the close for the Association War Memorial realised 10s. 7d.—Tea followed in the Church Hall, and was admirably served by Mr. F. Ockwell, one of the local ringers. The Rev. W. Walton presided, supported by Mr. Coomber (churchwarden) and Mr. Bone (organist).

The business meeting which followed was of short duration, the principal business being to decide the place for the annual district meeting, and Sittingbourne was unanimously chosen for October 7th.

The District Secretary reminded the members that the subscription cards to the war memorial were slow in coming in, as during the past three months he had only received two—Swanscombe 23s. and Sittingbourne 10s. He urged members to do their best and hurry on with the lists, as he did not wish the district to be all behind.

On the proposition of Mr. F. M. Mitchell (district secretary) a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the curate-in-charge, and the churchwardens for the use of the bells, to the former for his address to the organist and choir for their attendance.—The Chairman, in responding, said he was sorry the bells could not be rung at the appointed time, owing to the funeral of one of their oldest inhabitants.—Messrs. Coomber (churchwarden) and Bone also responded.

Methods up to Superlative were rung during the afternoon and evening, and the six-bell enthusiasts took advantage of a 'pull' at Hartlip, where Cambridge, Oxford and Plain Bob were rung.

In addition to the district members, visitors attended from Ashford and Canterbury districts.

LETTER-WRITING.

Recent correspondence in 'The Ringing World' seems to have raised embittered feelings in some quarters and resentment in others, and, from one or two letters which have reached us, it appears advisable that our position should be explained. Our columns have always been open for the free expression of opinion on subjects relating to ringing, and that they should be thus available to those who wish to air their views is in the best interests of the art. Frequently a correspondence arises out of some perfectly innocent remark or comment, sometimes it springs from other causes in which, as in the case of the Appleton peal, a deliberately challenging argument is put forward. In either event, it is only fair to give both sides a hearing, for one cannot be given without the other, except at the risk of a charge of being unfair. That some writers adopt a more aggressive attitude than others is not the fault of the Editor, and those who complain would be surprised to see the amount of 'censorship' that is sometimes used. Again, there are some who imagine that, because letters appear upon a subject in which they are not specially interested, the correspondence is likewise of no interest to others. But here they are mistaken. The Editor of a paper gets the broader view, and knows that, whatever the subject, there will always be a section of readers who will follow it with interest. The great drawback to correspondence through the Press is that some people cannot resist the temptation to discuss personalities instead of principles, and while it is this which makes for embittered feeling between parties, it is not always easy to exercise a controlling hand, without robbing a letter of its point. We are not apologising for anything which has passed the editorial pencil, but we want our readers, and particularly those few who complain, to realise that when there are two parties to a warm controversy, it is not so simple as it may seem to keep the writers to soft words.

At the same time we want to point out to correspondents who seek the hospitality of our columns, that their arguments will carry more weight when confined to combating statements or proving principles than when personalities are introduced. The latter lead nowhere, except to weaken respect for the writer and bring him into disrepute as a debater. Fair, honest discussion and criticism brings enlightenment and spreads knowledge, and there is no reason why a man should not show himself to be in his letters, as in his life, a gentleman. We are constrained to write thus in order that there may be no misapprehension as to our position. We cannot shut out a writer merely because he has a habit of saying unpleasant things, or a subject because it does not interest every reader; but while ringers have the use of our columns we have the right to ask them to conduct their correspondence with due regard to the ethics of public letter-writing.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

There was a large gathering of ringers at Oxford on Saturday week, when the Diocesan Guild Festival was held. No less than 66 towers were represented by 166 members. A service was held in Christ Church Cathedral, at which the Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) officiated, assisted by the Rev. C. Williams, the Precentor, who expressed the regret felt by Bishop Shaw at his inability to be present owing to indisposition. The preacher was the Rev. H. J. Green, of Christ Church.

At the business meeting, held in the Chapter House, the Master presided, supported by Canon Coleridge (President of the Central Council), the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis (treasurer), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (hon. secretary), the Revs. W. J. Palmer (Easton), J. T. Fox (Great Milton), E. M. Thorp (Bucklebury), E. H. W. Leachman (Blewbury), and others. Apologies for inability to be present were received from the Archdeacon of Berkshire, the Rev. E. Sedding, the Rev. G. Littledale, Mrs. W. Poie Routh, Messrs. E. Dickens and A. J. Wright.

Canon Coleridge, proposing the re-election of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn as Master of the Guild, alluded to the services he had rendered to it, and the proposition was heartily applauded. The Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, who Canon Coleridge said would be 80 next year, was re-elected treasurer, and Mr. R. T. Hibbert secretary. The usual honorarium of £20 was voted to him.

There were two vacancies on the committee caused by the resignations of Canon Newhouse, and Mr. J. Kerte, who has become secretary of the Chipping Norton branch. Messrs. W. Hibbert, sear, (East Isley), and J. W. Wilkins (High Wycombe) were appointed to fill the vacancies, and the old members—Messrs. G. Candwell, G. Holfield, E. Humphrey, J. J. Parker, W. Newell, E. Webb H. Sear, J. Evans, A. D. Cullum and J. F. Barlow—were re-elected.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE APPLETON BAND.

Canon Coleridge presented a report on the work of the Central Council meeting at Lincoln, and tendered his congratulations to Mr. George Holifield and the Appleton ringers on their achievement in ringing 21,363 Stedman Caters in 12 hours 25 minutes (applause). There had been no previous opportunity of expressing their feelings collectively on the subject, and he felt they would like to offer their sincere and hearty congratulations to all concerned. He moved that an entry should be made on the Guild minutes to this effect. He did not hear the whole of the peal, as he lived the other side of the county, but he was there half-way through, and had the pleasure of congratulating each ringer as he left the belfry, when they were greeted with hearty cheers by every inhabitant of Appleton, particularly his old friend and contemporary, George Holifield (applause).

The Master said he heard some portion of the peal, and could testify to the excellence of the ringing.

It was agreed to make an entry on the minutes, as suggested by Canon Coleridge.

The Master said he had the pleasure the previous evening of unveiling a tablet commemorating the feat.—Mr. Holifield acknowledged the congratulations.

The Master also reported on the deliberations of the Central Council. He mentioned, as librarian, that he had a complete series of publications from 1871 to the present day, with the exception of six years, but the missing volumes had now been supplied. He spoke of the close watch which was being kept on Parliamentary business to prevent the inclusion of any clause in a Bill which was likely to interfere with bell ringing.

THE PLACE OF MEETING.

Mr. W. J. Wilkins (High Wycombe) introduced the following motion from the East Berks and South Bucks Branch annual meeting: 'That this meeting views with alarm the decision to again hold the annual festival at Oxford, believing that it is not conducive to the best interests of the Guild for the festival to be held continuously in one centre. Further, that a ballot be taken of the whole of the towers in union, as to the advisability of holding the annual festival consecutively in the three Archdeaconries of Berks, Bucks and Oxon, the foreman of each tower to be responsible for the forwarding of result of ballot to the General Secretary.' He said for the committee to recommend Oxford as the meeting-place for the festival was apt to create a feeling that the remainder of the Diocese was not being treated fairly. Why should Oxford have preference, and the claims of Berks and Bucks be ignored? Such a decision was not in the best interests of the Guild. First of all, there was the social point of view to be considered. There were members living in far-off corners of the diocese who found it impossible to attend the festival if it was held in Oxford. All should have the opportunity of attending. He recalled the meeting at Wantage, and suggested that alternate meeting should be held in Oxford, High Wycombe, and Reading.

Mr. R. Coles (High Wycombe), seconding the motion, said the resolution had the support of the whole of his branch. It was impossible for some members to attend the festival when it was held in Oxford. He had to start early, and travel by charabanc to get there.

The Rev. W. J. Palmer (Easton) appealed for support of the Master of the Guild. Oxford was their Cathedral City. Let them continue to visit it and carry away the lessons offered by the place.

The Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis said when the Guild was young it was necessary to go to such places as High Wycombe for missionary work but now they had branches everywhere, and were advised to hold their annual festival in their Cathedral City.

Mr. Cullum hoped the motion would not be carried, and spoke in favour of meetings in Oxford.

Mr. Mayne (Beaconsfield) said the general opinion of his branch was that a ballot should be taken on the matter.

Mr. Sear said there were two branches in Bucks, and so far as High Wycombe was concerned his members could not attend.

The Secretary of the North Bucks branch agreed with this view.

The Rev. E. M. Thorpe (Bucklebury) said such a motion was a reflection on the Guild officers.

The motion was lost, only 13 voting for it.

FINANCES.

The Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis presented the accounts, which showed a balance of £58 15s. 2d., as against £47 19s. 9d. It was agreed to vote the following tower restoration grants: Beeton, £3 3s.; Bledlow, £2 2s.; and Sympson, £3 3s. It was agreed to hold next year's festival in Oxford. The Master, the treasurer, Canon Coleridge, Messrs. A. J. Wright, A. D. Cullum, and the secretary were appointed a committee to revise the general rules of the Guild.

The Secretary reported that 144 new members had been elected, and there were 54 new probationers, the largest number for any one year.

Dinner was served in Christ Church Hall, when the preacher, Dean and Chapter, and others were thanked for their assistance to the Guild.

During the afternoon the bells of New College, Merton College, Carfax, St. Giles' St. Ebbe's, St. Mary Magdalen, All Saints', St. Aldate's, Holywell, Ifley, Headington churches, and Kidlington, were at the disposal of members who made full use of their opportunities.

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCES.

EAST CROMPTON.—At St. James' Church, on Tuesday, July 11th, 672 Treble Bob Minor, being 144 Oxford, 72 Kent, 72 Duke of York, 96 Violet, 96 New London, 96 Woodbine, 96 Merchant's return; B. Whitehead 1, G. R. Turner 2, W. Oates 3, H. Oates 4, C. Howarth 5, J. Butterworth (conductor) 6.

HOLY TRINITY (Barking Road, London).—On Friday, July 14th, for practice, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor, in 25 mins.: George L. Joyce (conductor) 1, A. Webb 2, T. E. Vincent 3, E. D. Smith 4, A. P. Angel 5, A. Hall 6. First in method by 2, 3, 5, 6, to whom great credit is due. This band are practically self-taught first in plain bob, then Kent, and now turn their attention to Oxford; they are all young men, and have no experienced ringer to help them other than visitors—an example to other struggling bands.

FOULTON-LE-FYLDE.—On Saturday, July 15th, at the Parish Church, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor: B. A. Knights 1, H. S. Robinson 2, E. W. Hutchinson 3, J. R. Taylor 4, W. Taylor (conductor) 5, J. Gornall 6. Rung on the occasion of the unveiling of the war memorial.

SPLICED TREBLE BOB.To the Editor.*

Sir,—Will you grant me space to put Mr. C. Severn right re the above? I notice by the footnote of his peal at Eckington on July 22nd, he is under the impression that is the first peal of Major on the plan of Kent for plain leads and Oxford leads in lieu of bobs. If he will look in 'The Ringing World' for June 12th, 1920, he will find the record of a peal rung at St. Helen's, Worcester, on June 5th, as a 5,120 of Worcester Treble Bob, conducted by myself.

This method (including a peal) was sent by the Rev. B. B. James to Mr. J. B. Sykes, who was then in Worcester, during the summer of 1919, unnamed and unringed. We rang the method first in August of that year as a 720 of Minor at St. John's, and named it Worcester Treble Bob. It was our intention to ring the Major, but Mr. Sykes being called away it was hung up for a time. We did eventually ring the first peal. Subsequent opinions seemed to indicate that it was a spliced method, and as such it is recognised.—Faithfully yours,
37, St. John's, Worcester. W. PAGE.

THE TREBLE BOB EXTENT.*MR. E. TIMBRELL'S PEAL.

In our issue of July 7th, Mr. J. W. Parker pointed out that in 1907 Mr. E. Timbrell extended his peal of 16,800 Treble Bob Major by ten leads, and a correspondent sends us the figures of this peal, which remained the longest composition in the method until Mr. Parker obtained his 17,280. The following is Mr. Timbrell's peal:

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The opening of the lightest peal of twelve tower bells in the country took place on August 4th, 1819. This was the ring erected by Mr. John P. Powell, at Quex Park, Thanet. The bells were cast at the Whitechapel Foundry, and have a tenor of 15½ cwt.

A contemporary writer, recording the event, said: 'The interest of the scene was considerably enhanced by its having no parallel, that of a gentleman erecting in his park a tower with spire in front of his noble mansion and placing therein a peal of twelve bells solely for his amusement and to attain the art of change ringing, having an eminent tutor for the purpose, who, in patronising this manly art, has evinced a considerable ability in this very abstruse science.'

The opening was carried out by bands representing the Cumberland and College Youths. The former rang a peal of 5,213 Grandsire Cinques, in which George Gross and William Shipway took part, but the College Youths did not attempt a peal. They contributed alternately to give touches of about an hour's performance, on that and the following day, which closed the never-to-be-forgotten treat to the amateurs of the manly art of ringing.

The first peal of Grandsire Royal was rung at Painswick on August 6th, 1815. A peal rung at Aston in the previous year had turned out to be false.

Another anniversary next week is that of the first 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples. It was rung on August 7th, 1899, at Drayton.

The long peal at Appleton has been permanently recorded in the tower, the record being engraved on a slate tablet. This work has been carried out by Mr. O. G. Jones, of Rugby.

Two Lancashire rings are in the hands of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who are rehangings the eight at Colne, Lancs, and adding two trebles and rehangings the old six at Bacup.

Rutlip, Middlesex, bells are also being rehung by the Whitechapel firm, and the 4th, 5th and tenor are to be recast.

The peal at Hartlebury recorded last week was Mr. W. Short's 250th as conductor, not 350th as sent in in the report.

The bells at Shoreham, Kent, have been overhauled by Messrs. Groombridge and Palmer, who have strengthened the frame, rehung the bells, and greatly improved the clappering and rope circle. They have made an excellent job of the restoration.

The Bailey brothers, of Leicester, have just made another record by ringing a family peal of Cambridge Surprise on tower bells. Further interest is added to the peal from the fact that it was Mr. G. F. Bailey's 300th, and a remarkable list he has, too. Out of the total he has conducted no fewer than 275, including every Surprise peal and every peal of Stedman from Triples to Cinques.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The by-meeting of the Canterbury district was held at Ospringe on Saturday, July 29th, and was attended by about 25 ringers, representing the towers of Ashford, Brabourne, Newington, Ospringe, Sittingbourne, and Tunstall. Touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Treble Bob Major were rung. A short service was held, when the Vicar (the Rev. C. F. Hodges) welcomed the members in a very helpful address. Those present were afterwards entertained to an excellent tea, provided by an anonymous lady, on the Vicarage lawn.—In replying, the Vicar said that he hoped shortly to become a bell ringer himself.

LEWISHAM DISTRICT MEETING.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham district was held at Shoreham, on Saturday, July 22nd. Touches in various methods were rung during the afternoon. The members then adjourned to 'Ye Olde George Inn,' where Host Humphrey had prepared tea, to which 33 sat down. The business meeting followed, Mr. W. J. Jeffries presiding.

The District Secretary informed the members of the reason why the meeting had been transferred from Eynsford. He received a letter from the Vicar on Thursday afternoon to say an ex-soldier had died close to the church, and the funeral was at 3 p.m. on Saturday, so he thought the bells should not be rung. Mr. T. Groombridge, junr., saw the Rev. H. R. D. Madge, who readily consented to the members having the use of his bells, but owing to an engagement he could not arrange a service.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. T. Groombridge, junr., for his services.—Three new members were elected, and two elections in towers confirmed. Dartford, Bromley, Woolwich and Erith were proposed as the place for the annual district meeting, Woolwich being selected.

The district representative was asked to bring forward at the next committee meeting the suggestion that the pre-war arrangement of reports be again carried out.

The district secretary was instructed to write to the Rev. H. D. Madge, and convey their most hearty thanks for granting the use of the bells.—This concluded the business, and the tower was again visited.

A DEVONSHIRE RING.*NEW PEAL OF EIGHT AT COMBE MARTIN.

The dedication of the new peal of bells at the Parish Church of Combe Martin, Devon, took place on Wednesday afternoon, July 26th, and was followed by a fete and bazaar in the Rectory Grounds. Unfortunately rain militated against the success of the fete, which had to be abandoned about 4.30 p.m.

Originally the bells were four in number. In the year 1827 they were recast into six at Buckland-Brewer by John Taylor, of Oxford. Now they have been again recast into eight by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and hung in a cast-iron frame on massive steel girders. The bells turn on ball bearings, and the clappers are fitted with buffers. Great credit is due to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for the prompt way in which they have executed the work, the old bells having been removed from the tower only in the first week in April last.

The dedication ceremony was performed by the Rev. Maitland Kelly, president of the Devon Guild. The opening peal was rung by the senior ringers of Combe Martin. A young band are at present learning change ringing on handbells under the instruction of Mr. A. H. Hayward. Their ambition now is to score a peal of Doubles on the tower bells by next spring. There were ringers present at the opening from London, Swindon, Minehead, Bampton, Ilfracombe (Parish Church and SS. Philip's and St. James' Church), West Down, Berry-Narber, Arlington, Goodleigh, George Nympton, Barnstaple, etc.

After the opening peal, a well-struck 350 Grandsire Triples was rung: J. H. Shepherd (Swindon) 1. A. W. Brighton (London) 2. G. Stacey (Minehead) 3. A. A. Hughes (of the Whitechapel Foundry) 4. F. Reed (Ilfracombe) 5. Rev. E. V. Cox (Bampton) 6. A. H. Hayward (Combe Martin), conductor, 7. J. Richards (Ilfracombe) 8.

Following this, touches were rung of Grandsire, Stedman and Treble Bob Major by the same band, together with the Ilfracombe Parish Church ringers, and when the time came for these to disperse the bells were kept going by ringers from neighbouring towers until 9.30 p.m.

The bells are a grand ring for their weight, the tenor being 10 cwt. 21 lb. in F sharp. Everyone who heard them expressed the greatest admiration for the tone of the bells, and all who handled the ropes greatly praised the 'go.'

BRADFIELD BELLS REOPENED.

The ancient Parish Church of Bradfield was filled to overflowing on Monday, July 24th, on the occasion of the reopening of the bells. These have been renovated on modern lines, and a new steel frame installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The service was performed by the Lord Bishop of Sheffield, assisted by the Rev. B. Pollard, M.A., Rector, and the Rev. B. F. Sheppard, M.A., of Sheffield Cathedral. The service was followed by tea in the Schoolroom, at which about 300 were present.

Ringers on the tower and handbells was fully indulged in by members from All Saints', Rammoor; St. Maries, Bolsterstone, Rotherham, Ecclesfield, Stannington, the Cathedral, and the local company, and was highly appreciated.

LADIES' GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Horsell, Surrey, on Saturday, July 29th. Ringers, 18 in number, were present from Aldershot, Bagshot, Cranleigh, Farnborough, Finchampstead, Guildford, Horsell, Sandhurst, Seale, Shere, Walton, and Worplesdon. Ringing in various methods took place during the afternoon, and tea was served in the Institute.—The Vicar (the Rev. Norman Pares) apologised for being unable to hold the service at 4.30, owing to an important meeting, but the ringers attended evensong at 6 o'clock.—It was decided (if possible) to hold the next quarterly meeting at S. Nicolas', Guildford, on January 13th, 1923.

MIDLAND DISTRICT.

The Midland district held a quarterly meeting on Saturday, July 22nd, at Chilvers Coton, the birthplace of George Eliot, to whose memory the treble bell is dedicated. The visitors were met by Miss Clarke, Mr. Argyle and his son, and others, including the old curfew ringer, who had been wheeled to the church purposely to see the lady ringers. The bells were kept going merrily during the afternoon, and service was held, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. M. A. Dodds). Afterwards the visitors proceeded to Nuneaton where tea, kindly arranged by Mr. Wilkerson, was waiting. Quite a large party sat down, and the business meeting subsequently took place, Miss Pigott being elected to the chair. Miss Gladys Dodds was elected a ringing member, and Mrs. Harry Mason an honorary member. Kinver was chosen for the next meeting, which will be the annual.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar and all the local ringers for their kindness and help.

DEDICATION OF BELLS AT SALFORD.*LANCASHIRE'S NEW PEAL OF EIGHT.

'Ye Ancient Parish Church of the Sacred Trinity, in ye Royal Borough of Salford,' was the scene of a very interesting ceremony on Sunday, July 23rd, when the dedication took place of a peal of eight bells, which are to all intents and purposes practically a new ring, inasmuch as five of the old peal of six have been recast, and two new trebles added to complete the octave.

There was a short service in the afternoon, conducted by the Lord Bishop of Manchester, who performed the dedication ceremony. Then the ringers of St. Thomas' Church, Pendleton, took the ropes, and set the bells going to the tune of Grandsire Triples, ringing being carried on until 5 p.m., and again after evensong until 9 p.m. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman, Treble Bob and Superlative Surprise Major, touches being brought round in all the methods, under the able leadership of Messrs. J. W. Washbrook and H. Chapman, Mr. Johnston, of the Croydon foundry, and Mr. Keller, of the old band of six bell ringers, taking part in the ringing. Ringers were present from several of the Manchester churches, also from Ashton-under-Lyne, Bolton, Eccles and Walkden.

The old peal of six bells had, owing to their bad condition, been in disuse for a period of twelve years. Now it is pleasing to note that Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of the Croydon Bell Foundry, have brought about a great change by the recasting, and the addition of the two new trebles, tuned to a very musical pitch. The 'go' of the bells is splendid, they having been rebung in a new frame with modern fittings. A climbing apparatus has also been installed. The general expression of all the ringers present was that the bell hangers had carried out their work in a very able and efficient manner.

The music of the bells was very much appreciated by some hundreds of the parishioners, who listened round and about the church for several hours.

There now lies with Mr. Keller a herculean task in training up an entirely new band. He has some 14 or 15 young men volunteers, and any ringers from the neighbouring churches who can give a helping hand will be welcome at the tower any Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

The following items may interest not only campanologists, but the outside public, especially churchmen. The late Rector (the Rev. J. W. Rideout), whose heart and soul was in the above work which has just been carried through, unfortunately did not live to see it completed, he having died rather suddenly in Leeds, much to the regret of his parishioners.

Humphrey Booth, who founded Booth Charities in 1630, built the sacred Trinity Church in 1634. The church was consecrated by the Bishop of Chester on May 20th, 1635, and Humphrey Booth died July 23rd, 1635. The peal of six bells was installed 1748, the body of the church was rebuilt in Doric architecture in 1752, and the organ by Schultz, London, in 1790. The church was reopened, and a new organ and electric light installed in 1896.

The Booth's charity consists of a small plot of land purchased in the year 1630, and in the year 1640 brought in a rent roll of £20 per annum. To-day the rent roll of the land exceeds £17,000 per annum which is disbursed among the poor of the borough and the hospitals. The only monument of Humphrey Booth is the Gothic tower of the church. At the foot of his tombstone we read: 'Love his memory, imitate his devotion.' W.B.

DEATH OF MR. BEN CHORLEY.*A PIONEER OF CHANGE RINGING AT GUILDFORD.

Members of the Exercise who knew Mr. Ben Chorley of Guildford, will regret to hear of his death, on Wednesday, July 26th, after many months' suffering from a painful malady. Deceased joined the Holy Trinity Society, about 1895, when the company could only ring call changes, and it was through his efforts that Mr. C. Willshire was in 1899 appointed instructor, and change ringing was introduced. The writer does not know Mr. Chorley's record of peals, but he had rung peals in a number of methods up to and including Superlative Surprise inside, and he rang the treble to the society's first Surprise peals, London, Bristol, Cambridge and Guildford. As a striker he was second to none.

It was fitting, after his years of service that he should receive the ringers' last tribute at his funeral. Prior to the service in Holy Trinity Church on Saturday last, the bells were fully muffled, and the whole pull and stand was rung. At the graveside a course of Triples was rung on handbells, and in the evening a fine peal of Stedman Triples (the deceased's favourite method) was brought round at Holy Trinity Church on half-muffled bells.

SOLUTION OF A PUZZLE.

Mr. Richard Mackman, of Spalding, writes: 'In reply to A. E. Parsons, the puzzle he refers to is a peal called "Dixon's Variations." As I remember ringing it several years ago, it is Plain Bob ringing. Mr. Parsons does not give the calling correctly, as there is not a bob every time (treble leads).'

THAT APPLETON PEAL.

By W. WILLSON.

It was no fault of mine that the doctor forbade me to get up. Returning strength brought back the old desire, and when I read the correspondence in 'The Ringing World,' it dawned upon me that my opponents were belabouring Mr. W. Pye with thick sticks, and showering upon him blows that should have been aimed at me—the miscreant who initiated the trouble. However, I am back in the arena, and ready to joust. My battle-axe, thanks.

It is sometimes instructive to turn to what one has said or written and see if any wrong statement has been hastily made, and if so, to make the 'amende honorable.' There is nothing derogatory in that. I have read the correspondence over again, and I find nothing to withdraw. Let me deal first with the letters of 'Loudon Ringer.' That gentleman stated that I rushed in, being ignorant of the facts.

In your issue of June 16th, pp. 379, he says: 'The 9th is in the original bearings of 119 years ago, and had W.W. known that Mr. F. White slogged away for six hours with dry bearings, his opinions would differ.'

They wouldn't.

I don't think any ringer in the world could ring for six hours on dry bearings. They would be irretrievably ruined before six hours had expired, and the ringer ditto. Now about those 119-year-old bearings. I find in the late Rev. F. E. Robinson's book the details of Appleton bells. The 7th is dated 1818, the 3rd 1859. Up to 1901 there were only eight; when the 9th and tenor were cast and added to make ten by Mears and Co., a firm scarcely likely to use ancient scrap iron for new bell bearings. Verb. sap.

The letter of 'Once a Beginner' is most interesting, and there is only one point to which I take exception. It is that 'W.W. is wrong in saying that the Appleton peal could be beaten at Loughboro' Bell Foundry.'

I think that I fully qualified the sentence. If it is to be assumed that Appleton has beaten Loughborough, what follows? Appleton tenor is 14 cwt. Loughborough is 30½ cwt.—more than twice the weight. Loughborough Foundry ring has a tenor of 6½ cwt. If 'Once a Beginner' will glance at the ratio I think he will admit that I was not very far wrong in my assertion. In discussions such as these one is apt to be misquoted.

I notice in the Editorial of July 28th, this sentence: 'The only thing that will really put an end to the question is a longer peal than 2,363 rung on bells as heavy, or heavier, than Loughborough.' This is totally misleading. If a peal longer than the Appleton one is rung on a weight as heavy as Appleton it must supplant the previous performance.

I notice the usual crop of letters from those ringers who deplore the style of some of your correspondents' literary efforts. I must confess that in my opinion some of these 'protest' letters are nothing but cant. I don't know whether they include mine in their strictures—and I don't care—but this I know, these highbrow purists ought to try their own efforts in Fleet Street, when they would discover that the twentieth century requires something more robust than the standard of the parish magazine.

I agree that no writer should be personal—if it can be avoided. There are many spheres where it is unavoidable, and the Editor of a journal can generally be relied on to wield the blue baton fairly, but for the acme of personality, commend me to the letter signed 'Howard Freeborn.' It should be borne in mind by these critics that the greatest geni the world has ever seen have not been men of University education. A man may not be able to speak or write the King's English correctly, he may call a lie by its proper name, and be honest about it. The polite letter-writer, like the Rt. Hon. Mr. Winston Churchill, would call it a 'terminological inexactitude!'

The letter of Mr. G. A. Peck betrays a want of knowledge of long peal ringing. As a rule no conductor of a long length would start with a novice in the band. I have seen and experienced myself the first faintness that comes after the first five or six hours. It comes again sometimes about the ninth or tenth hour. That is the critical time. One ringer in the Wigston peal was beaten after ten hours. Mental fatigue follows as a natural course, but I submit that on a heavy ring a man's reserve strength is used up far sooner than on a light one, and though I may be prejudiced, I fail to see how anyone can come to any other conclusion.

It was not on weight alone that I 'groused' at the Appleton peal. The ringer who sent the account to 'The Ringing World,' Mr. Edgar Humphrey, who heard only the last two hours, hits the nail on the head when he says: 'First, I think it was unfortunate that, probably owing to short notice, so few ringers were present from a distance, only about a dozen besides twice as many locals being in the village. Moreover, I think it was a pity that some competent ringer was not engaged and provided with the peal figures . . . and so furnished the Exercise with a reliable witness of this great performance.'

There you have it. Would any branch of sport admit a record unattested? If so, tell me. It is not that you suspect the performer. I do not suspect this peal, but both the College Youths and the Oxford Guild know that peals have been faked in the past, and may be again.

It should not be within the conductor's power to cut out or introduce blocks foreign to the composition, and the temptation would not occur if someone else held the figures. The Central Council is about to tabulate all records, rung outside its official knowledge, and on the bare word of the performers who claim the record. I hold, that unless the Council compels record lengths to be rung under its government, it leaves the gate open for any chicanery, and will ultimately render all such records worthless.

Our reply to Mr. Willson's comment upon our article is that, 'if a peal longer than the Appleton one is rung on a weight as heavy as Appleton it must supplant the previous performance,' then the Appleton peal supplants Loughborough, with which view neither he nor we agree, so far as the physical achievement is concerned. The conditions which Mr. Willson names would supplant the Appleton peal, but they might still leave open the question whether the Loughborough performance had been beaten.—Ed. 'R.W.'

ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING.

The first annual meeting of this association was held in the Abbey House, Bury St. Edmunds on Saturday, July 15th. A large number of ringers were present from Bury, Horingey, Foxearth, Lavenham, Ixworth, Long Melford, Cheyington, Bungay, Mildenhall, Cambridge, Ufford, Chelworth, Illey, Newmarket, Forham All Saints, etc.

A short service, which all attended, was held in the Cathedral. The Right Rev. Patron, the Bishop, being unavoidably detained by another engagement, an address was given by the President. He spoke of the message of the bells as being one for everyone. Even in a foreign land, where the language was strange, one felt how universal was their appeal.

Afterwards, through the kindness of the President (Archdeacon Farmiloe), tea was provided at his house, and the meeting followed.

It was agreed to re-elect all the officers and committee, and the committee was authorised to draw up the annual report.

It was also agreed, on the proposition of Mr. S. H. Symonds, that a letter of condolence be sent to the widow and family of the late Mr. F. Day, of Eye.

Thanks were also voted to the chairman for the tea, and to the clergy who had allowed the use of their bells.

THE GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL REPORT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having read Mr. Burford's and the Rev. H. Law James' letters we are informed that the composition of Cambridge Surprise Royal, published in our report (1921 issue) belongs, undoubtedly, to Mr. William Pye. May we ask your assistance in requesting holders of reports issued 1914, 1921, 1922 and 1913, to revise their copies so that peals No. 907, 915, 1065, 1084 and 1136, are credited as being composed by Mr. William Pye, the composition being numbered 907, but set out as 1065. I am sorry that Mr. Burford's name is lost to the composition, because we know him to be the last person to claim credit for what he has not done, and we are quite sure in this instance that it is a case of two composers travelling the same path.

In our 1922 report the composition of Stedman Triples, No. 1154, stated to be composed by the Rev. E. B. James, was composed by Mr. John Carter in 1905. The Rev. E. B. James has given up the claim of this, and so it should read as being composed by Mr. John Carter. We appreciate very much the Rev. E. Bunke, James' action in pointing this out to us so early on.

In conclusion, I should like to point out to all members of this association the enormous task involved each year in issuing our annual report, and that if there is any item incorrect it is the duty of the member to notify me at once, not wait until another report is issued and then talk about it. If members will only point out these errors we shall give them attention.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR GUISE,

Hon. Sec., Gloucester and Bristol Association.

FALSE PEALS IN C.C. COLLECTION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In addition to the peals that are false and kindly pointed out by Mr. G. H. Cross in your issue of July 7th, the following should also be struck out as false:—

Double Norwich, Sec. 3 Group II.
No. 54, 5,088 by H. Johnson, 1867 (Snowdon's Treatise), is false at course ends.

No. 158, 5,088 by Dr. A. B. Carpenter is false; but the same peal given under No. 162 by James Hunt, with 8 at 1 instead of 6, is true. Nos. 159 and 161 which are given over the names of E. Wichtman and F. Hoppoel respectively, are the same composition call for call, but started in a different place. Who is the rightful owner?

24, Coventry Street, Leicester.

ERNEST MORRIS.

CUMBERLAND COMPETITION WINNERS.

EGREMONT BAND CELEBRATE THEIR SUCCESS.

An interesting event took place in the Masonic Hall, Egremont, on Friday week. The ringers of St. Mary's Church, Egremont, had been successful in winning the association's competition shield on Easter Monday last, and to celebrate that occasion a social evening was arranged. A company of about 50, including the ringers' wives and sweethearts, together with the churchwardens, assembled. The first item was to present the medals to the ringers. The Rector took the chair, and in an interesting speech, gave the history of the bells. He then called upon Mr. J. D. Baxter to present the medals to the ringers. In a humorous speech, Mr. Baxter congratulated the ringers on their success. He had had some experience in these competitions, he said, and years ago his hand won on five occasions. He was proud to say that the present conductor was an old pupil of his who had left him far behind in the art. He was sorry that his business prevented him from taking an active part with the ringers at the end of a rope, but he was still interested in the art, and was watching closely the progress they were making. He concluded by urging them not to be content until they had mastered the more intricate methods.

An excellent supper was served by Mrs. J. B. Douglas and her willing staff.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector, Mr. Baxter, and all who helped to make the evening a success. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing, cards, etc., and a very happy time was spent.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

A WEEK-END IN THREE COUNTIES.

Saturday, July 22nd, dawned wet and chilly, but later on 'the Clerk of the Weather' altered the conditions, and things looked brighter, and, as had been previously arranged, eight of us found ourselves outside the tower of St. Peter's Church, Glasbury-on-Wye, Breconshire, together with several 'locals' and others from the adjoining parish of Talgarth. Among the latter was Mr. L. S. Griffiths, whose name a few years ago was frequently in the pages of 'The Ringing World.' After words of welcome, a chosen few ascended the belfry steps to attempt a peal of Grandsire Triples in honour of the wedding of Miss Ursula M. E. Devereux (younger daughter of the Hon. R. C. Devereux, of Trogyod House, Glasbury, and 26, Bruton Street, Mayfair) with Captain F. A. V. Copland Griffiths, M.C., of the Welsh Guards, which took place at the Wellington Barracks on Monday, July 17th. The bells are far from being the best in the county, and could not be got into a good swing, and after 1 hour and 7 minutes' ringing a change course occurred, and brought the attempt to an end. The band was: J. P. Hyett 1, J. W. Jones 2, A. Mathews 3, E. Mathews 4, W. Evans 5, O. Powell 6, C. Edwards (conductor) 7, J. Jones 8. Tea was provided at the Harp, after which a social hour was spent with the handbells, and when parting time came it recalled the remark I heard one of the stalwarts make, that 'after all, peal ringing is not everything.'

On Sunday morning some of us were early astir, as Glyro, with its peal of five, had to be reached by 10 o'clock, and at least one of the party had over three miles to do, the walker's bus being the only conveyance. With the rain coming down straight, I for one did not envy him his undertaking. However, shortly after 10 a.m. the bells were raised in peal, and Bob Singles and Doubles rung until service time, when they were again lowered, and this Radnorshire village left behind. Passing through the town of Hay, Breconshire, the party visited St. Mary's, Cusop, in the county of Herefordshire. There was no chance of a touch here, there being only two bells hung in a turret, and the object in view was to visit the scenes of the recent Armstrong tragedy. After dinner Clifford was the venue, and here a peal was attempted as a thankoffering to Mr. L. Blakstad, of the Priory, Clifford, for his generosity in providing a magnificent reredos for St. Mary's Church as a parish war memorial. The peal was successful, and the bells coming round at 6.18 were lowered in peal for service. The ringers then adjourned to the Priory for tea, having been previously invited by the kindness of Mrs. Blakstad. Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, on behalf of the ringers, expressed thanks to Mrs. Blakstad for her kindness, and to Mr. Blakstad for the beautiful reredos he had placed in the church.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS RINGERS' TRIP.

The annual outing of the ringers of St. Peter's Church, Tunbridge Wells, took place on Saturday, July 15th. Touring in a well-appointed motor-car, Goudhurst and Frittenden were visited in turn, and ringing on the bells at each place was indulged in. At Staplehurst a substantial tea was awaiting the party.—Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and Churchwardens of St. Peter's Church for supplying funds for the outing, to Mr. W. Latter for organising the trip, to the incumbents of the various churches for giving permission for the use of the bells, to the steeplekeepers for having the bells in readiness, and to Mr. F. E. Pope for arranging for tea. The tower was then visited, and the beautiful peal of bells, which have been recently overhauled, were set going in various methods. Later the ringers set out for Marden, which was reached about 8 o'clock, and touches on this nice peal completed the ringing. Home was reached about 10 p.m., after an enjoyable trip.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Grimsby district, held at Waltham, was fairly well attended by members from the various towers connected with the district. At the service, the Rector (the Rev. W. Horn) gave an address. Tea and a business meeting followed, presided over by the Vice-President (the Rev. H. T. Parry), supported by the Rector, and the Rev. Dr. Cockin, Vicar of Thornton Curtis. The bells (six) were made good use of, various touches being rung.

On July 15th a meeting was held at Ulceby, the five bells were rung in various methods, and a service was held. Tea and meeting took place in the Schoolroom, and was most enjoyable.

BELL RESTORATION FUNDS.

The proposal that was before the Central Council at the last meeting, recommending the various Associations each to inaugurate a belfry repairs fund, has already come under the notice of some of the county and diocesan organisations. There are many who have no such fund from which to assist bell restoration work; but there are, of course, several Associations who have for years had their special funds for this purpose, or who have made a practice of granting sums of money out of the general resources. For example, at the Oxford Guild meeting, only a week or two ago, a sum of eight guineas was voted, and restoration schemes in three parishes will benefit. The Kent Association is another organisation which contributes annually to similar undertakings, and Central Northants, among some few others, also has a special fund. The object of the resolution which the Council adopted was to obtain a wider adoption of a scheme of this character to help in the work of bell restoration.

The objection to the proposal which occurs to many minds was voiced by the Master of the Bath and Wells Association at the recent annual meeting of that organisation, when he said he 'thought they might find it doubtful whether the amount that could be granted to any parish would be sufficient to make the formation of such a fund worth while.' Failing the practice adopted by the Oxford Guild of voting donations out of the general funds, we think that, however small an amount an Association could raise and disburse in a year, the effort to establish a special fund would be well worth while. There are various means by which such a fund could be assisted, and there are many reasons why an Association should be in a position to help in bell restoration work where the necessity arises. First and foremost it is a means of showing that the ringer's interest in bells is not merely a selfish one, and that the objects for which an Association works include the preservation and improvement of bells as well as the preservation and improvement of the ringer's office.

It was never the intention that an attempt should be made to raise large sums of money. Such an idea would be ludicrous. The desire behind the proposal, as we understand it, is to make the formation of these special funds general among Associations, so that from time to time the ringers of a county or diocese can give practical help in cases in need of assistance, and at the same time show that they have a collective desire to assist in restorations. A large general fund for the whole country being out of the question, by far the most effective way of running such a scheme is through the County and Diocesan Associations and Guilds, and we cannot believe that ringers, when they consider the subject carefully, will fail to see the desirability of adopting the proposal made in the Central Council meeting. The payment of grants by those societies who already recognise the advantages, not to say the responsibilities, of giving such help, is proof that the thing can be done, and all those organisations who do not already make a point of contributing to bell restoration work ought seriously to consider the subject. To cast it aside merely because the amount available would not be large, is to shelve it on a very poor pretext.

Fear had everything in order, and ringing on the nice little ring of eight bells, with a 15 cwt. tenor, was enjoyed. Only a short stay was possible here, as Bradford-on-Avon was to be the next stopping place. There the excursionists were met by Mr. Stafford. The eight bells of the Parish Church, with a 33 cwt. tenor, were soon in full swing. As the party left the belfry they were met by the Vicar, who expressed a hope that, although short, the visitors' time had been enjoyable in the tower. He pointed out an old Saxon church about a thousand years old, and which had been practically lost sight of for about two hundred years, through having been hidden by newer buildings which had been erected around it. These have now happily been removed, and the old church is now used for daily services during the week. Leaving Bradford-on-Avon, headway was made for Chewton Mendip, where, as at the other towers, everything was in readiness for the visitors. Mr. Tucker welcomed his 'brother strings,' who found a most beautiful ring of eight bells, with a 24 cwt. tenor (practically a new peal from the Loughborough foundry and tuned on the five-toned principle). Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung, and a touch of Bob Major brought round. The bells 'go' beautifully, and the tone is of excellent quality. Wedmore was the next place to be visited, where a heavy peal of eight hangs in the tower of the Parish Church, the tenor reputed to be 39½ cwt. The visitors were not very favourably struck with the 'go' of these bells, which require a little too much of the manual exercise to make it enjoyable, while the noise in the belfry from the two tenors is almost deafening. Therefore, only a short stay was made here, and, after tea, a start was made for Burnham-on-Sea, but, as time was getting on apace, the ringing here was abandoned, and only a short stay made, the time being spent in the company of some of the local ringers. The homeward journey began soon after nine, Taunton being reached about 10.30. Thus ended a most enjoyable outing, and from a campanological point of view, the best the Guild ever had. The ringers wish, through the columns of 'The Ringing World,' to thank the incumbents of the various churches for the permission to ring, the kind friends who gave up their time to meet them, and all others who helped to make the outing such a splendid success.

VISIT TO ROMSEY.

On Saturday, July 29th, the ringers of St. Mary's, Alverstoke, held their annual outing at Romsey, and, by the kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. A. J. Robertson) and vice-captain (Mr. F. Paskins), they were able to use the Abbey bells. Several short touches of Grandsire were rung between 3 and 5 p.m., and, after tea, a 504 Grandsire Triples was successfully brought round: H. Nobes 1, C. Barron 2, W. Wheeler 3, F. Barron 4, F. Nobes 5, A. Noble 6, E. Noble 7, Q.M.-Sergt. Webb 8.

SELWORTHY, SOMERSET. — On Saturday, June 10th, at the Parish Church, touches of Bob Minor, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor were rung by the local band, the five brothers Arscott, Mr. W. Hoyle, of Minehead, and J. H. White, of Coventry. The above touches being arranged for J. H. White.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

A SHEFFIELD GUILD IN NORTH NOTTS.

On Saturday, July 8th, the St. Mary's Guild, Handsworth, Sheffield, held their first annual outing, when about 28 ringers and friends went for a short tour in North Notts. Worksop was the first place of call, and here the party was met by Mr. H. Haigh, the genial secretary of the North Notts Association, and they soon had the bells going in Plain Bob and Grandsire Triples. The next tower visited was Ordsall, where the party found an easy going ring of six, on which Bob Minor and plain courses of Kent were brought round for the 'youngsters.' After a course of Grandsire Triples, and three courses of Bob Major on handbells, a visit was paid to East Retford, where eight of the party had their first pull on ten, and a course of Grandsire was rung. It had been intended to visit the neighbouring tower at West Retford, but this had to be cut out of the programme. On the return journey a call was made at Blyth, where there is a fine old church with a ring of six, on which Grandsire Doubles were brought round, with the assistance of one of the local ringers. Not even the unfavourable weather could damp the spirits of this young and enthusiastic guild, and though the ringing was not of the class one would expect from old hands, a good deal of experience was gained on bells that do not 'go' quite so well as their own.

This opportunity is taken to thank the incumbents of the various churches for the use of the bells, Mr. Haigh, of Worksop, and the ringers at the other places of call, also Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Barker, who all helped to make the outing such an enjoyable affair.

TWO DAYS' TRIP TO BEDFORDSHIRE.

The members of Westminster Abbey and St. Stephen's, Rochester Row, towers had for their annual outing an excursion, which, as usual, extended over two days. The party of 16 proceeded by the 7.35 a.m. train on Saturday, July 8th, to Leighton Buzzard, and amused themselves on the journey down with touches of Stedman Cinques on the handbells. Mr. Nichols, of Leighton, was waiting to welcome the company, and a charabanc conveyed them to the Plume of Feathers Hotel, which was made the headquarters for the two days. After an excellent breakfast, a ringing tour to Bletchley, Woburn, Luton and Dunstable was undertaken. At Bletchley Mr. H. Sear met the party, and escorted them to the tower, and soon the bells were sending out their music to a well-struck course of London and touches of Stedman, etc. These bells are in a rather bad condition, but great efforts are being made by the local ringers to raise sufficient money so that they may be put in order. At Woburn, the company were met here by the brothers Herbert. The fine bells pealed out right merrily to Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and London Surprise Major, and then an adjournment was made to the Magpie Hotel, where dinner was served, and gave great satisfaction to all. After having rested awhile from their 'labours,' a few wended their way back to the tower for another pull on this grand eight, and they seemed so loth to leave that the secretary had to dispatch a messenger to them, with a threat of going on and leaving them behind unless they speedily returned. This had the desired effect, and the party left Woburn at 3 p.m. for Luton. The first part of this journey was through the lovely estate of the Duke of Bedford. Luton was reached about 4 p.m., and here Messrs. Goodenough and Blackburne met and welcomed the visitors. Touches in various methods were successfully accomplished, although the weather was very unkind round about this time, which did not in the least damp the spirits of the party, who, after bidding adieu to old and new friends, turned their faces towards Dunstable. Here Mr. Sharman was their guide, and had made arrangements for tea. After a welcome meal, the party visited the tower, where they were given a great welcome by Canon Baker, who escorted the party over his fine and historical church. Climbing a 40-rung ladder, they found themselves in the ringing chamber, and put in strenuous practice in various methods, including Double Norwich, Cambridge and London Surprise Major. It gave them great pleasure to ring a touch with Canon Baker, and it is hoped he was as much pleased as they were. As this was the last call of the day, it took a little longer to oil up the motor, etc., but all things have an ending, and at last the car glided off on its way back to Leighton, where supper was waiting. Afterwards a call for order was given, and the party were informed that an initiation of several present into that great and solemn order of 'Tom Tits' was to take place. With due solemnity the Grand Master of the Order performed the ceremony, with the assistance of the worthy secretary. Unfortunately, for business reasons, the Deputy Grand Master had to return to London before this part of the proceedings was reached.

The programme for Sunday consisted of ringing at Linslade 9.45—10.30 a.m. and 5—6 p.m., Leighton Parish Church 10—11 a.m. and 2—3 p.m. At the Parish Church, Leighton, Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal were rung, and at Linslade Grandsire and Stedman Triples and London Surprise Major. At intervals during the day the handbells were brought out and some excellent practice took place.

Time waits for no man, and at last the excursionists had to understand that outings do not last for ever (only in memory). After bidding adieu to all friends, they caught the 6.50 train for Euston.

The company take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents of churches visited for their kindness in granting the use of the bells, and for their personal welcome; also the various leaders and local ringers for their kind reception, and in having everything ready. Last, but not least, they thank Mr. Nichols for so kindly placing his services at the disposal of the party for the two days.

AMONG SUFFOLK TOWERS.

On Monday, July 17th, the Debenham Company visited a number of towers in South-West Suffolk. Starting from home at 7.30 a.m., the party proceeded by motor bus to Stowmarket, where they were met by Mr. W. Souter and others. Touches of Cambridge and Treble Bob Major were rung, and then the party proceeded to Lavenham, with its magnificent tower and its famous tenor bell. Mr. A. Symonds had everything in readiness, and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and Stedman were the methods indulged in. Some of the more ardent spirits climbed to the top of the tower, but as the day was wet and misty the view was not so good as it would otherwise have been. Proceeding to Sudbury for dinner, the party were joined by Mr. David Elliott, who acted as guide when they subsequently visited the towers of St. Gregory and All Saints'. The peal at the former church are in excellent going order, but make far too much noise in the ringing chamber, while the latter, although a grand toned peal, go rather too heavily for anything beyond short touches, a course being about enough at a time—anyway, the writer found that 224 Double Norwich on the tenor was rather more than he wanted. Touches of Cambridge, Superlative Treble Bob and Stedman Triples were also rung, with the assistance of Mr. Elliott. The next objective was Hadleigh, which was reached about 6.15 p.m., and, after tea had been partaken of, some good touches of Kent, Cambridge and Stedman were rung. Mr. T. Reed met the visitors here, and took part in one of the touches. The 'go' of the bells is first class, and they are a fine toned peal. Debenham was found to be still in the same place at 11.30 p.m., and all voted the outing to be a most enjoyable one. The thanks of the ringers are due to the clergy of the various churches for granting permission to ring; also to the tower keepers and the local men, who so kindly met them and helped to make the tour the success that it was.

STOWMARKET RINGERS' DAY OUT.

The Stowmarket Company had their annual outing on Saturday, July 15th. Leaving home by charabanc at 8 a.m., they proceeded to Halesworth, where they were met by some of the local ringers. There is a nice ring of eight bells (tenor 20 cwt.), but they are hung in a remarkable way, the ropes falling in the order of 1 7 2 6 4 5 3 8. Despite this handicap to visitors, however, several touches were brought round. A move was then made to Leiston, where a capital lunch was enjoyed at the White Horse Hotel. At the tower the party were met by one of the celebrated brothers Bailey, who was unfortunately kept at home through a family bereavement, the other members of the company being on their outing. Several touches were brought round. It had been intended to proceed to Ufford, where the Rev. H. Drake had kindly given permission for ringing, but as time was getting on it was found necessary to abandon this tower, and tracks were made for Debenham, where Mr. E. E. Grimes had arranged tea at the Lion Hotel. Afterwards ringing was indulged in, with the kind help of Debenham friends, several touches being brought round on this fine peal of bells, where the then record peal of 16,603 Oxford Treble Bob was rung on June 6th, 1892. The methods rung during the day were Bob Major, Oxford, Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire.

The company wish to thank all the incumbents for granting permission to use their bells, and all, especially Mr. E. E. Grimes, who helped to make the outing such a pleasant one.

AMONG HEAVY BELLS IN SOMERSET.

On Saturday, July 22nd, St. James' Guild, Taunton, had their annual outing. Accompanied by a few friends, they left Taunton in a charabanc at 7 a.m., and after a run of about thirty-five miles, reached Shepton Mallet, where Mr. Richards was awaiting their arrival. The Parish Church bells, a fine peal of eight, with a 26 cwt. tenor, were quickly rung up in peal, and several touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples brought round. A move was then made for Frome, and during the journey a lovely avenue of lime trees was passed through, but the opportunity of enjoying the open country was somewhat marred by rain. On reaching Frome, Mr. Bishop had everything in readiness, but a short delay in the raising of the bells was caused by a wedding which was taking place, but as the happy pair left the beautiful church the bells were sending forth their joyful music to the tune first of Grandsire and then of Stedman Triples. The tenor is 35 cwt.

The bells having been run down, lunch was partaken of at the George Hotel. Tracks were then made for Beckington, where Mr.

ST. MARY'S, LAMBETH.

COST OF ANCIENT RESTORATIONS.

The restoration of the bells at St. Mary's, Lambeth, led us recently to give brief extracts from the old parish accounts relating to the bells. The churchwardens' books of those far-off days contain many other entries concerning the bells which will interest ringers. The bells had to be rung when the kings visited the parish, and for a sin of omission when Henry VIII. went to Lambeth on one occasion in 1517-18, the authorities had to pay, for we read:—

Item paid to the yema amynner for defaultt off the ryngynge off the bells at the Kyngs comynge. ijs. iiijd.

The steeplekeeper in those days seems to have been paid two shillings a year, not a large sum even in that time of large money values, if the work was onerous—which, perhaps, it was not.

1554-57. Item paid to Wilim Smyth for lokyng to the beles and greasyng the bell stocks for on yere. ijs.

In 1584 the recasting of the bells was undertaken, and at a vestry meeting on May 17th, when this was agreed to, £9 3s. was received from a 'benyvolance gathered towards the new castyng of the belles.' £18 appears to have been paid for recasting the four bells, and later on there appears the entry:—

It, for our diner churchwardens bellfounder and other honest men of ye parishe at ye paiement of ye money receyvinge of his bonde for the strenght of ye sayd belles in warrantie for a ycare and a daye. vjs. viiij.

In 1571-72 twelve pence were paid 'for ringing at the overthrowe of the tourcke.'

A similar sum was spent in 1579-80, 'on the bell founder in wine and beere when he came to give his advice in mending the bell clappers,' and this kind of thing seems to have been a general practice at that time. If it is not continued to this day, the bell founders have reason to regret the lapse of a good old custom. And so have his men, as will be seen from some of the extracts that follow:—

1586-87. It, for makeinge ye men drinke when they brought home ye Bell and other honest men with them. xxjd.

The tenor of the new ring gave some trouble afterwards, for 'the oled greate belle that was broken in the teymes of Roger Winslo Richard Tharpe and John Lucas being churchwardens in the year of our lorde 1598 did containe in waighte xiiij C one quarter and xxij li.' 'The newe greate bell that now ys in the stepell do waye xv C a half and xxi li.'

Item also for new castenge careinge hangeng and all other charges to be allowed and he to have a xs, the hundred. viij. li.

Item also yt was agreed that he should have for the over plusse of mettell that he put into the bel viiij. pound so thereas was put in more then was in the old bell hi one hundred and xxvij li. iiij li. xiis. viij.

In 1599-1600 the parish paid £6 2s. 1d. towards the charges for the 'greate bell,' and 11s. more was received 'of my Lordes grace towarde the same bell,' so the Archbishop dipped his hand into his pocket to help.

The tenor came down again in 1602. On the 8th September 12 pence was paid when 'the great bell was pulled downe to laborers that did help to make them drinke.' A carpenter was paid when he 'tooke off the wheeles and altered the frame,' and, then comes the information that 3d. was 'payde for ij (two) peny nayles that mended the wheeles that were taken asunder.'

The tenor came home on the 14th November, but on March 30th, 1603, it was once more removed, for 2s. was 'payed to them that did helpe to take downe the greate bell.' There are recorded sundry payments to Mr. Moet (sometimes spelt Moate) for his work. In 1609-10 the 'great bell' was again recast, and apparently more metal was put into it. Once more appear items for 'bread and drinke upon the bell founders' and 'bread and beere at the hanging up of the bell.' Yet again did the tenor come down, and in the same year, too, a broken gudgeon being apparently the cause, for these three entries appear:—

Item for taking down and hanging up agayne of the great Bell. ls.

Item for Breade and Beere at the taking downe of the Bell. xd.

Item for newe hanging agayne of the great Bell and a new Godgen the old bing broken. xxis. vjd.

After this, all seems to have been well with the tenor, but the third was recast in 1613. Apparently the work was not paid for until 1617, when £1 13s. 4d. was 'payde to Phillipp Walton an olde debt being for the hanging up of the third bell in 1613,' and £4 'payde to Walter Barton for an olde debte oweinge to Carter the Bell founder for castyng of the third bell.' By the way, in 1613 ls. 6d. 'was spent in victualls when wee went to see the weight of the 3rd bell being put out to be newe cast.' So these worthies of ancient days did not neglect creature comforts when going about business connected with bells, and ringers to-day maintain the custom, albeit generally at their own expense.

THE WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

DIVISION OF THE COUNTY INTO DISTRICTS.

The fifteenth annual general meeting of the Guild was held at Warwick on July 29th. The bells of St. Mary's (10) were open for ringing at 2.45 p.m., and members were present from Allesley, Coventry, Exhall, Leamington, Nuneaton, Rugby, Stoke and Warwick. A disappointment occurred with regard to the service in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. C. A. H. Russell, Rector of Whitnash, had promised to take the service, but at the last moment was unable to do so on account of a family bereavement. The time was too short to make other arrangements, and the service had to be dispensed with.

The business meeting was held in St. Mary's Hall, the President, Canon Back, presiding. He was supported by the Ringing Master and about 30 others.

The Chairman referred to Rule 2, which mentions 'That the position of patron be reserved for the Bishop of the Diocese,' and moved that the secretary be instructed to write to the new Bishop of Coventry to obtain his consent to act as patron of the Guild.

The Hon. Secretary, Mr. A. Wilkerson, read a report of the Guild's activities during the past year, and, on the motion of Mr. H. Argyle, seconded by Mr. J. H. White, a unanimous vote of thanks was accorded him.

THE GROWTH OF THE GUILD.

The Secretary, in his report, stated: Quarterly meetings were held at Southam in October, Erdington in January, and Solihull in April. Monthly meetings at Brinklow in August, Exhall in September, Monks Kirby in May, and Berkswell in June. The meetings, on the whole, were well attended, especially those at Monks Kirby and Berkswell. During the past year 40 new members have been elected, viz., One honorary (Rev. J. K. Taylor, Stoke Golding), 10 non-resident members, and 29 ordinary ringing members. These include the newly-formed bands at Exhall and Monks Kirby. The total membership of the Guild now stands at 268: made up by hon. members 7, hon. life members 8, non-resident ringing members 84, and resident ringing members 169.

Thirty-three peals have been rung, against 15 last year, and a pleasing feature is the fact that the increase has been in the higher methods. Twenty-nine were rung on tower bells and three on handbells. Special mention should be made of the two peals of Stedman Caters in hand, and Mr. Frank Perrens and the Coventry men, including some of the Allesley Band, deserve the heartiest congratulations of the Guild, by ringing the first for the Guild, and the first handbell peal in the City of Coventry. Mention must also be made of the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung at Nuneaton on July 6th last, this being the first peal in this intricate method for the Guild by an entirely local band. The total number of peals rung by the Guild to date is 225. Eleven members have scored their first peal for the Guild during the year, the youngest ringer being Fredk. Sanders, of Exhall. Seven have rung their first in various methods, and four their first for the Guild. There have been 16 conductors during the year, and the peals comprise: Stedman Caters on handbells 2, Cambridge Surprise Major 2, Superlative 1, Kent Major 1, Double Norwich 3, Bob Major 1, Stedman Triples 8, Grandsire Triples 1, Minor in seven methods 6, Minor in four methods 4, Minor in one method 3, Doubles on handbells 1: total 33. Since the last annual meeting the late Ringing Master, Mr. James George, has successfully rung his 700th peal, and the secretary was instructed to send him a letter of congratulation from the members of the Guild. Mr. H. Argyle, your representative on the Central Council, attended the Council meeting at Lincoln on Whit-Tuesday on your behalf, and to whom your thanks are due. Your thanks are also due to the Ringing Master, Mr. A. Roberts, who, I believe (with one or two exceptions when he was very seriously indisposed) has attended all the meetings during the year, and, with tact and ability, has directed the ringing on each occasion; also to Mr. O. J. Hunt, who, in addition to his duties as auditor, acted as secretary on the occasion with skill and satisfaction. We again gratefully acknowledge the support received by the Guild from the clergy, in granting permission for ringing, and entertaining the members, especially the President and Mrs. Back, but it is still a matter of regret that a large number of towers in the county are not affiliated to the Guild, and here I would like to thank the Rugby men for their efforts at Monks Kirby, the Nuneaton band for similar efforts at Chilvers Coton, and Mr. J. H. White for his help at Exhall; also any others who have endeavoured to assist the Guild in any way that has not been brought to my notice.

DISTRICTS TO BE FORMED.

A long discussion took place with regard to dividing the Guild into districts, and ultimately it was decided to do so, the following gentlemen accepting office as hon. district secretaries: Mr. F. Ashbourne, Warwick District; Mr. J. B. Fenton, Rugby District; Mr. F. E. Pervin, Coventry District; and Mr. T. W. Chapman, Nuneaton District. The meeting unanimously decided to ask Mr. Bernard Witchell to take over the Birmingham area in Warwickshire.

The President, Canon Back, and the Ringing Master, Mr. A. Roberts, were unanimously re-elected, and the rest of the officers were duly re-elected en bloc, with the exception of Mr. A. J. Hessian, of Rugby, and Mr. H. Reader, of Chilvers Coton, members of the committee, their places being taken by Mr. H. Argyle and Mr. J. B. Fenton respectively.—On the motion of the President, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the officers for their services during the year.

Nuneaton was selected for the next quarterly meeting in October, Dunehurh for the monthly meeting in August, and Whitnash for September.—Seven new members were elected.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar (Canon Llewellyn Wood) for the use of the bells, and to the President, for presiding, were unanimously passed, and brought a rather long meeting to a close.

The ringing at St. Mary's included Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Superlative Surprise Major and Duffield Royal.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

It was a happy thought of the South-West District of the Middlesex Association to hold a mid-week meeting at Richmond (Surrey) on Wednesday, August 2nd, permission for which was kindly granted by the Vicar.

It was the first meeting of the Middlesex Association at Richmond, and was well attended by members from all parts of the district.

The bells are a useful ring of eight, and there are a number of very old peal boards in the tower.

One board records that in the year 1741 a complete peal was rung of 5040 'Richmond' Triples, evidently by the local band of that time, who seem to have been taken by a spirit of emulation.

Another very old board records a peal 'with as many 7ths as 2nds and as many 5ths as 4ths, and bobs called before and behind alternately.'

The Vicar was thanked for the use of the bells, and, this meeting being so successful, it is hoped that it will become an annual affair.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Essex Association was held at Ardleigh on Saturday, July 29th, when about 40 members (representing 15 towers) were entertained to tea by the kindness of Mr. W. E. Neuth, following a service, conducted by the Vicar, Mr. R. W. Stannard, the district secretary, thanked the Vicar and Mr. Neuth, and also read a letter from the esteemed District Master, Mr. W. J. Nevard, who had met with a serious accident the day before. The Secretary, who referred to Mr. Nevard as the 'grand old man' among ringers of North Essex, loved by all, was instructed to write expressing the members' sympathy with him, and wishing him a speedy recovery.

MR. C. F. BAILEY'S 300 PEALS.

With a peal of Cambridge Surprise rung by eight brothers, Mr. C. F. Bailey, of Leiston, completed his third century.

CAPTAIN FOR 40 YEARS.

Captain of the local band at Chipping Barnet for over 40 years, Mr. J. Sumpter has just celebrated his 70th birthday. On July 28th, at St. John's Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in 47 mins. in honour of the event: S. Casley 1, F. Chandler 2, C. Dale 3, H. J. Eldred 4, W. Soer 5, F. A. Milne (conductor) 6, R. Sturgeon 7, G. Herbert 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The new ring of eight bells installed by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. at Alrewas, near Burton-on-Trent, are to be dedicated and opened to-morrow (Saturday) at 5 p.m. The peal has a tenor of 12 cwt.

At St. Clement Danes Church, Strand, to-morrow, Mr. Arthur D. Barker, hon. general secretary of the London County Association, is to be married to Miss Gladys Bateman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bateman. Miss Bateman is a well known ringer, and is assistant general secretary of the London County Association. The ceremony is to take place at 11 a.m., and the good wishes of the Exercise will go out to both the bride and bridegroom.

The 12th of August is the anniversary of a peal of Grandsire Caters rung at St. Margaret's, Leicester, in the year 1776. In a book, which belonged to one John Martin, who took part in the peal, the following quaint record is preserved: 'August ye 12th. 1776. On Monday, Being his Royal highness the Prince of Wales Birth Day, it was observed by the Leicester Rangers, who rang this peal of 6,012 Grandsire Caters in the Tittoms, which took in performing Four Hours and Twenty Minutes, which we can safely say that a peal of such L 12th never was performed so Compleat By Never a Society in this Kingdom, it Being the first Attempt Ever made for the same and was rung on those much esteemed peal of Ten Bells of St. Margaret's, Leicester, the Tenor of which weighs 29 hundred 3 qrs.' Then follow the names of the ringers, there being two men to the 'tonnor.'

'To celebrate the glorious victory obtained by Lord Wellington over the french at Salamanca' a peal of 5000 Oxford Treble Bob Royal was rung at St. Michael's, Coventry, on August 17th. 1812. Coventry bells are, of course, no longer hung for ringing, having been taken down in 1885. Could not the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council, which is doing some most valuable scientific work, by some means look into the position at St. Michael's?

The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus was rung at St. Mary le Tower, Ipswich, on August 15th, 1908, and the first peal of Double Norwich Major in Wales at Rhyl on August 13th, 1883. The latter was rung by the Burton-on-Trent men.

The fine peal of eight at Ashburton Church, Devon, has just been overhauled by Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, to the great satisfaction of all concerned.

The peal of six bells at the grand old church at Landulph, Cornwall, will shortly be under restoration, and put into good ringing order by Messrs Aggett. The bells are to be hung on the firm's patent adjustable bearings. They have also in hand the restoration of the peal of six bells at Stoodleigh, near Tiverton, Devon.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

AMUSING INCIDENT AT ANNUAL MEETING.

A record attendance of members and friends assembled at Lichfield on July 29th, for the annual meeting of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, and among the towers represented were the following: Barton-under-Needwood, Bilston, Birmingham (St. Martin's), Bloxwich, Bradley, Burton-on-Trent, Bushbury, Cannock, Coalbrookdale, Coseley, Coventry, Darlaston, Erdington, Kingswinford, Lichfield, Norton Canes, Nuneaton, Pelsall, Penkridge, Rushall, Shrewsbury, Stafford, Swindon, Tamworth, Tipton, Walsall, Wednesbury, West Bromwich, Willenhall and Wolverhampton. The three peals of bells were kept going merrily during the afternoon and evening. An amusing incident occurred at one tower, where a certain band of six rang some Bob Minor. 'This is a rummy lot of bells,' said one, when the ringing was done. Band No. 2 had a touch in the same method, and, at the finish, came to the same conclusion as did Band No. 1. Band No. 3 managed a six-score of Grandsire Doubles, and the same state of mystification prevailed until the ringer of the 'treble,' through a brain-wave, pulled his bell off singly when the mystery was cleared up. Each band had been using the tenor as the treble, treble for second, etc., with the fifth as tenor! This may seem a little 'far-fetched,' but the truth is vouched for by two who were taking a part in it.

After attending evensong in the Cathedral a move was made to Lloyd's Restaurant, where a substantial tea was provided, about 140 sitting down. The general meeting followed, presided over by the Rev. Preb. Paice, Vicar of St. Mary's. The statement of accounts showed a very fair balance in hand, and it was resolved that the report and balance sheet be printed.

The officers were re-elected, with the exception of the Ringing Master (Mr. W. Fisher), who resigned, the vacancy being filled by the election of Mr. T. J. Elton, of Walsall. A vote of thanks to Mr. Fisher for past services was unanimously passed, to which the retiring Ringing Master suitably responded.

Twenty-eight new members were enrolled, and the following places were selected for the coming meetings:—Kinver in September, Christ Church, West Bromwich, in January, 1923, Cannock in April, and Lichfield (annual) in June.

THE APPLETON RECORD LENGTH.

[C. H. Horton.

The above group comprises the ringers and composer of the peal of 21,363 Stedman Caters, rung at Appleton, in 12 hrs. 25 mins., on April 22nd. The photograph was taken outside St. Paul's Cathedral, by Mr. C. H. Horton, on the first opportunity the band had of meeting since they rang the peal.

PEAL TABLET UNVEILED.

The ceremony of unveiling the tablet recording the long peal at Appleton was conducted by the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild on Friday evening, July 21st, the eve of the Guild Festival. A short service was held in the little village church at 6.30, attended by the churchwardens, ringers and several interested friends. The Rector was unfortunately absent, being abroad on his holiday.

The Rev.-Cyril Jenkyn gave a brief address, in the course of which he said that the outstanding features of the peal were, first, the fact that it was the longest composition ever rung by men standing at their ropes without relief, and, secondly, the high character of the ringing throughout the whole day. For the gifts that were required for such an achievement they offered thanks and praise to God.

The Master then led the way to the ringing loft, which, in the presence of all who could be accommodated, he unveiled the tablet.

It is of dull slate, inscribed in silver lettering, and is fixed on one of the splayed sides of the west window, the only available place. In addition to the ordinary details, the inscription on the tablet adds: 'This is the longest peal rung by one set of men.'

The service concluded with the grace.

A quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters was then rung by a band composed of members of the families of Holifield and White, with the Master of the Guild.

RICHARD HIMSELF AGAIN.

BY 'ONCE A BEGINNER.'

Dear Editor,—Yesterday good Mistress Peppery did catch me in the back shed, furtively trying to convert her best copper coal scuttle into a knightly helm, and to devise a shield from the dust bin lid, and did descend on mine head like a cyclone, and demand to know the reason for such warlike preparations. I did refer her to the 'R.W.' and told her that, as William was out a' jousting, it behoved me to put my pate in a state of defence in case he chanced our way. But ye good woman did inform me that it would be more suitable to my tastes were I to emulate ye good King Cole and call for pipes, bowls, etc., and did explain to me that the panoply of war does not go well with an ascetic complexion like mine, and that the article which had caused me such trembling would not do so again, as she had been busy filling my pipe light jar. So I am again abased and retire crestfallen.

Let me hasten to say that no one is more sincere than I in congratulating 'W. W.' on his recovery. We can't spare such as he from our fold, and let me also hasten to say that I agree in toto with 99 per cent. of his article. I will dissent it.

Let us take 'bearings' first. Now, I have spent the whole of my long and blameless career sticking things into bearings from two feet in diameter to nearly zero, so I think I know what a bearing is capable of, and I agree with 'W. W.' that any luckless wight would have required at the end of six hours' dry slogging merely six bits of wood. 'W. W.' quotes your Editorial of July 28th. He noticed this; so did I notice it; and it is quite correct. The only thing that will put the baby to sleep is a peal of Stedman Caters not less than 21,364 changes in not less than the time occupied by the Appleton Peal, on a ring of bells with a tenor weighing not less than 30½ cwt. That, and that only, will scoop the pool. You see, it was not the Appleton band itself that set the ball a-rolling. They raised no quibbles re weight and time. So, 'Tis theirs not to make reply.' They did, verb. sap. Apologies; I'm again abased.

I do not want to go over old ground, but it is an incontrovertible fact that the peal of Appleton, with all its faults of short notice, and no specially appointed umpire, contained, firstly, more changes than the Loughborough peal. Secondly, its conductor was a man of well-known probity; and I defy contradiction when I say that the two longest peals yet rung contained the two conductors in the kingdom who are most ready to call stand when a suspicion of fault occurs. It is a record as to number of changes and length of time, but not in weight of metal. The Loughborough peal always has been, and is yet a record performance on weight of metal, but it is no longer the peal, par excellence, that it was. More changes have been rung. Again, verb. sap.

And I now come to the only point I don't like in the letters of Mr. Pye and Mr. Willson. They neither of them mention that fact, viz., the greater number of changes. I know William Pye, and I don't criticise his letters or the way they are written. I just look at what he wants to say from an impartial point of view. The words he uses when he puts his views on paper come in with the joint, not with the sweets, and viewed from an unjaundiced aspect, are more filling and to the point than the iced pudding. But one has to add the seasoning, as it were. Loughborough peal is still the greatest performance in the history of ringing. Appleton is now the longest peal yet rung.

The record is divided. Let us, instead of spilling ink and making bad blood, put it together again. Like 'W. W.' I notice the usual crop of letters. They are really the harmless bacilli which come in the train of the germs of all big diseases, and are just about as innocuous. So be like me, William, lean on your Mistress Peppery. Mine is an ever-present help in time of trouble. 'W. W.' you should forgive the poor writers who are too personal, you know they drift into personalities when they really filled their 'plumes reservoirs' with the best of intentions, but don't discourage them. Who knows, perhaps Elder Haggard got his practice for the higher methods in the columns of the old 'B.N. and R.R.'

'W. W.' is correct when he deplors the short notice given for the Appleton peal. Rules must be carried out, if only for the sake of the performers themselves, and they, themselves, indirectly made these rules. Yes, 'W. W.' you did qualify your remark re beating Appleton at the Bell Foundry, and you were not the only prominent ringer who made the same remark. You may have qualified your remark; but if 15 cwt. does not beat 30 cwt., 6½ cwt. can't beat 15. If it can, there is a peal at The Lye. Make two trebles and go there. The whole thing amounts to this: length or number of changes is one thing; weight of metal or 'performance' is another. The two combined is a greater record. Length, as a record, can be rung anywhere, but for stunts, well, go to Exeter if you can unlock the bells again.

In conclusion, may I submit, Mr. Editor, that you are correct when you say that everyone has a right to voice his opinions in your paper? but I think they would spend their Sunday afternoons to more pleasurable advantage laughing at good Mr. 'W. W.' and my very unworthy self girding at one another's opinions, than in penning the vitriolic effusions we do see from time to time.

Put back the coal scuttle and dust bin lid, good Mistress Peppery. 'Fiddlers Three' is ye next turn on. Your hand, 'W. W.' to kiss.

THE QUESTION OF WEIGHT.

Sir,—It is more than pleasing to hear of the 'recovery' of Mr. William Willson, and I sincerely hope that he will soon be as fit as ever, but I must advise him to use something more modern and substantial than a battle-axe!

I am sorry for the error re Appleton 9th. As a matter of fact, I was under the impression that two trebles were added and not two tenors, but I think we may take the late Rev. Robinson's book as correct.

This matter of weight is absolutely misleading. Mr. Willson has already done the selfsame thing, and now, when other members go and beat his best performance, he runs into print and criticises their record. You, sir, will no doubt remember the conditions under which the Wigston peal of Double Norwich was rung. Mr. Willson, the composer and conductor, attained the record with a tenor of 14 cwt. Mr. Washbrook did not 'grouse,' because his performance at Kidlington, Oxon. was with a tenor of 23½ cwt. There seems to be no basis for Mr. Willson's argument, and I have no desire to carry this further.—Yours, etc.,

LONDON RINGER.

RINGERS' ROLL OF HONOUR.

In connection with the decision of the Central Council to place in the Library a permanent record of the names of the ringers of this country who fell in the war, the following letter has been issued to Secretaries of Associations by the Hon. Librarian.

Great assistance will be rendered to Association Secretaries if Secretaries of bands will send in revised lists of their members who made the great sacrifice, so that the roll may be accurately and finally settled.

Broadlands, Grosvenor Road, Caversham, Reading.

Ringers' Roll of Honour.

Dear Sir,—A resolution was passed at the last Central Council meeting at Lincoln to the effect that a list of church bell ringers who fell in the Great War should be prepared from those lists which were read out by the president at the Council meeting at Northampton in 1920, and that the names of such ringers should be suitably written on parchment, and given an honoured place in the library of the Council.

It is important that this list should be complete and accurate, and that a ringer's name should not occur more than once in the list. Will you, therefore, be good enough to revise the enclosed list, and to return to me, as soon as possible, the results of such revision, bearing in mind the following points:—

1. Names should be given either in print, or in imitation printing capital letters.
2. A note should be added to a name, if it is known or believed that the ringer was a member of other associations, together with the names of such associations.

This is for purposes of reference only.

Thus—

SMITH, Cpl. W. H., Rifle Brigade (also College Youths and possibly Devon Guild).

You will, I am sure, understand that it is only by the co-operation of each Association, through its secretary, that a worthy record can be obtained.—Yours truly,

(Signed) C. W. O. JENKYN.

DEATH OF AN ASSOCIATION SECRETARY.

Members of the Exercise will regret to learn of the death of Mr. J. Johnson, of Stoke, who passed away on August 2nd after many months' illness. He had been hon. secretary of the Stoke Archdiocesan Association for the past 15 years, and was held in high esteem by the members.

The funeral took place on Saturday at Dresden Church, and ringers were present from Stoke, Leek, Burslem, Tunstall and Longton. The service was conducted by the Rev. B. Grimwood (Rector of Keele) who is the clerical secretary and treasurer of the Association.

TREBLE BOB AT GILMORTON.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I inform the band who rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Gilmorton, Leicester, on Saturday, July 29th, 1922, that the first peal of Treble Bob Major was rung on these bells by members of the Warwickshire Guild on December 27th, 1910, conducted by Mr. J. B. Fenton, and was, I believe, the first peal of Major on the bells.—Yours, etc.,

A. ROBERTS.

Stoke, Coventry.

DEATH OF SIR EDWARD MALINS.*A FRIEND TO ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.

The death occurred at Birmingham on July 23rd of Sir Edward Malins, the distinguished physician, who passed away at the age of 80 years. Throughout a long and active career he was closely identified with the life of the city. In his profession, he specialised in obstetrics. For many years he was a Professor of the Medical School attached to Birmingham University, and he signalled the termination of his official connection with the University in 1912 by a gift of £1,000 to the University funds. Sir Edward filled many important posts in connection with medical societies, and was a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, London. In 1919 the King conferred upon him the honour of Knighthood in recognition of his services to the profession of medicine and of his public work. Sir Edward was a Justice of the Peace for the County of Warwick and the City of Birmingham, and was for many years actively engaged in educational and social work. He had also been President of the Birmingham Conservative Association. A staunch Churchman, he was for many years identified with St. Philip's Church (now the pro-Cathedral), and served as churchwarden under Bishop Bowlby, Dr. Knox, Canon Carnegie and Bishop Hamilton Baynes.

It was in his capacity as churchwarden that Sir Edward came into touch with the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, and he was always a welcome guest at the annual Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner. At these gatherings he frequently proposed the toast of 'Church and State,' and his speech was always of a fresh and instructive nature, delivered in a style which scarcely betrayed his advancing years. On the last occasion an amusing incident occurred. Sir Edward was a keen collector of coins, and to illustrate a point in his speech he brought with him one of the old 'godless' florins (those minted without the letters F.D. in the inscription). Instead of holding up this coin, however, Sir Edward exhibited an ordinary penny, and when, to the amusement of the company, the Chairman afterwards humorously pointed out the error, Sir Edward was with difficulty persuaded that he had made the mistake. Indeed, it is doubtful if he was ever totally convinced of the error.

Sir Edward Malins was keenly interested in St. Martin's Guild, and it was no fault of his that St. Philip's bells were not recast during his churchwardenship. On the Sunday evening following the last Johnson Dinner, despite his eighty years, he climbed the belfry steps of St. Philip's and stayed to watch the ringing and exchange a friendly word with the ringers, who included several visitors to the city.

Sir Edward Malins was a man of great intellect and engaging personality, but a life of great activity spent in the service of the public has now closed. Sir Edward died of cancer, but he bore his sufferings patiently and manfully, and it was typical of his character that he should tell those around him in his closing days that he should die a happy man, and thanked God for having enabled him to spend a happy and useful life, free from previous illness.

The funeral service took place at St. Philip's Cathedral. The Bishop of Birmingham officiated, and among those present were Ald. J. S. Pritchett, Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild. The interment was at Edgbaston Parish Church.

On the previous Sunday evening (July 30th) a muffled touch of six courses of Stedman Caters (in the inverted tittums and handstroke home position) was rung at St. Philip's in memory of the deceased gentleman by: J. E. Groves 1. J. E. Smallwood 2. T. Russam 3. M. J. Morris 4. A. Walker (conductor) 5. J. George 6. E. Mansell 7. T. H. Reeves 8. J. Neal 9. G. H. Yendall 10. This was followed by three courses, in which J. Wells and A. E. Norman took part.

On Tuesday, August 1st, a half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at St. Martin's.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A most successful meeting of the above society took place at Campsall on Saturday, July 22nd. Over 40 members were present, representing 12 towers. The methods rung during the day were: Grandsire, Stedman, St. Clement's, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich. Tea was partaken of in the park, the tables being spread beneath the trees. The Rev. W. Able Turner presided at the business meeting, and was heartily thanked for his services and for the use of the bells.

Some courses of Grandsire were rung on the handbells, and a group photograph of the visitors was taken. The Vicar conducted the party round his gardens and also round the extensive grounds of Campsall, the latter by kind permission of the squire, Mr. G. Cooke-Yarborough.

The tower at Campsall was built about 1166, and is a splendid example of Norman work. As one enters the churchyard the beautiful west door of the tower strikes the eye as being the most interesting part of the tower. There is a ring of eight bells, the octave having been completed about 43 years ago.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Mrs. Day and family return many thanks to friends of the ringing world from far and near, who have shown such great respect to the memory of the late Mr. F. Day by presence at funeral, sending letters of sympathy and floral tributes, and by muffled peal ringing, especially in East Anglia.—Wellington Road, Eye, Suffolk.

AN OXFORDSHIRE TRIP.

The St. Giles' Society, Reading, had their annual outing on Saturday, August 5th, when ringers and lady friends, numbering 28 in all, left Reading at 7.30 a.m. by charabanc for Bampton, Oxon, an ancient market town in an agricultural district. It was the birthplace of John Phillips, a poet of the seventeenth century, well known as the author of 'The Splendid Shilling.' The party arrived about 10.30, and were very agreeably surprised to find an old and faithful friend, Mr. John Monk, from Witney, awaiting them, he having come on purpose to be their guide during the day. The church of Bampton, a fine old building of much interest, dates from the Early Norman or possibly the Saxon period. The beautiful peal of eight bells (tenor 25 cwt.), the 'go' of which leaves nothing to be desired, were soon going to the tune of Stedman Triples, and this was followed by touches of Grandsire, Bob Major, Oxford Treble Bob and Double Norwich, which were successfully brought round, the striking being excellent. After this, dinner was very much appreciated, the long drive having whetted the appetites of the excursionists.

Witney, of blanket fame, was then the objective, and was reached after a pleasant drive of six miles. A move was soon made towards the church, another most beautiful building; with a fine peal of bells, tenor 18 cwt. Here again some very good touches were rung, including Grandsire Stedman and Bob Major. Mr. J. Monk explained all the points of interest in the church, and there were to be seen some splendid marbled peal tablets in the ringing chamber, recording peals of interest. After tea, the party proceeded to South Leigh, which was reached after a pleasant ride of about four miles. Here is a splendid light ring of eight (tenor 10 cwt.), by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, which are rung from the ground floor. The tone of them, for a small ring, is much to be admired. Here again some excellent touches were rung. The conducting during the day was shared by Messrs. J. Barnes, jun., R. N. Runham, L. T. Osborne and A. W. Osborne.

Taking to the motor again, the party set out for home, and at Eynsham had to part with their 'old friend John,' whose company they regretted to lose. He was accorded a hearty cheer for his services, and then the car sped on through Oxford to Reading, which was reached about 10.30 p.m. The weather was perfect for a ringing tour, and the party wish, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' to thank all the incumbents and ringing friends for placing the bells at their disposal. And last, but certainly not least, Mr. Monk, who really did more towards the day's enjoyment than anyone.

THE RINGERS' 'ROLL OF HONOUR.'

No time has been lost by the Hon. Librarian of the Central Council in taking steps to make the Ringers' 'Roll of Honour' accurate and complete, so that it may eventually be engrossed and placed in the Council's Library. As will have been seen from our last issue, a circular has been issued to Association Secretaries asking for revised lists, and these are already being sent in. The object of the roll is to place on permanent record the names of those ringers who gave up their lives in the war, and much of its value will lie in its accuracy. For that reason the Librarian has asked for certain particulars of the men, but, as at present proposed, it is only intended to insert in the list the names of the fallen. In a matter of this kind, which involves a considerable amount of labour, and is certainly not devoid of difficulties, we hesitate to suggest anything beyond what those who are responsible for the work believe to be practicable, but we hope at any rate that the parish or tower, to which each of the fallen men belonged will be added after the respective names. This would make the roll a much more complete record, for it would enable future generations not only to read a list of names, which would convey little except by its length, but would serve to identify the men who went out from our belfries to return not again.

We are not unmindful of the difficulties which may be involved in carrying out this suggestion, but we think our readers will agree with us that the cause is more than worthy of the necessary effort. The Council's roll of honour will be the only list comprising the names of the fallen ringers of the whole country and, while the work is being undertaken, it is highly desirable that it should contain sufficient information to identify the men with the parishes in which they served as ringers. In any event, a list cannot be correctly compiled without reference to tower secretaries and we do not think Association officials, in a matter of this kind, will begrudge the extra work which may be necessary to transmit the additional information to the Librarian. The greatest trouble arises with those local secretaries who cannot be stirred up to send any information at all, and these will increase the difficulties of making the roll complete whether the name of a parish is added or not. Moreover, information is already asked for which will enable duplication of names to be avoided as far as possible, and the amplification of the details in the manner we suggest would be of great assistance in this direction. It would certainly add to the interest and value of the roll. We hope it is not too late for this suggestion to be considered and acted upon if found to be feasible. We believe that it is practicable and that the Association Secretaries would willingly give their aid.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The peal of six at Forton, Salop, are being rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who are also rehanging the eight at Ruilip, Middlesex, and recasting the 4th, 5th and tenor.

The second peal of Stedman Caters on record was rung on August 23rd, 1788, at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, by the Royal Cumberland Youths, in whose peal book it is recorded as 'a true peal of 5,184 Grandsire Caters on Stedman's principle, in 3 hrs. 47 mins., being the second peal ever performed in that method.'

Mr. F. E. Dawe set the seal to a unique performance on Bank Holiday, when, by calling a peal of Stedman Caters from the tenor at Epsom, he completed a peal of Stedman as conductor from every bell from treble to tenor in Triples, Caters and Cinques. There are few, if any, other ringers who have done this on lower bells. The peal was rung immediately after an attempt which came to grief half-way.

It is interesting to recall that the peal of Cinques which Mr. Dawe conducted from the tenor was the first peal of Stedman Cinques rung with the conductor as tenorman. This was the noteworthy bachelors' peal rung at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, in 1889.

Mr. Dawe's peal list also includes peals of 5,555, 6,666 and 7,777 Stedman Caters, together with the first peals of Stedman Caters at Canterbury and Hereford Cathedrals.

Royal Cumberland Youths are visiting Quex Park on September 2nd and 3rd, and any member of the society will be welcome. The train leaves Victoria at 3.20 p.m., week-end ticket 13s. 9d. return.

Lancashire Surprise Major, originally published by Mr. Arthur Craven in January, 1907, and reproduced in 'The Ringing World' on July 22nd, 1921, has now been rung in a peal for the first time.

It will be recalled that last year a band at Oswaldtwistle, Lancs., scored the first peal of a Surprise method published by Mr. T. Law, and called it 'Lancashire.' When it was pointed out that a method under this name was already in existence, the title was changed to Northampton Surprise, by which it is now recognised.

The Oswaldtwistle ringers, however, were not to be denied the privilege of scoring the first Surprise peal under the name of their own county, and they have now the pleasure of putting to their credit a peal in Mr. Craven's method, six of the band (including Miss Ellen Shaw) who took part in the Northampton ringing also in the Lancashire. Both peals were conducted by Mr. James Houldsworth.

H.M. cruiser 'Raleigh,' which was wrecked in a fog in the Straits of Belle Isle last week, included among her complement two ringers. One, Major C. F. Ferram, R.M.L.I., C.M.G., D.S.O., whose home is at Penwerris, Cornwall, is well known in many towers in England, and the other, Mr. W. A. Cooke. Both these gentlemen interested themselves in any bells that were within their reach during their cruise in American waters, and took part in ringing the old year out at Vancouver, and also in a peal attempt the next day.

In our columns this week are a large number of peals rung prior to August 7th. Had the conductors thereof shown more enterprise all these could have appeared in our last issue. Verb. sap.

A BOLSOVER CENTURY.

Mr. John Flint has just rung his 100th peal on the bells of Bolsover Parish Church, and this century includes the following methods: Plain Minor, 7 Treble Bob Minor methods, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Forward Major, Double Norwich Major, Superlative Surprise, New Cambridge Surprise, Yorkshire Surprise, Norfolk Surprise, Peterborough Surprise, London Surprise and Bristol Surprise Major.

BELFRY REPAIR FUND.

SALISBURY GUILD ACTION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It may interest you and your readers to know that I have begun acting on your suggestion of bringing the decisions of the Central Council before branch meetings. At a recent branch meeting of the Salisbury Guild, held at Shaftesbury, I mentioned the principal points of the Lincoln session, and recommended collections at Guild services to form a nucleus of a Belfry Repair Fund. This expedient was put into practice on the spot, and £1 6s. was the result. When ringers engage in their corporate acts of worship, the occasion is eminently suitable for giving proof of that unselfish spirit and devotion to the common good, which you endeavour to inculcate in your very sound leading article on this subject. —

LONDON RINGERS' WEDDING.

MR. A. D. BARKER AND MISS G. E. BATEMAN MARRIED AT ST. CLEMENT DANES.

On Saturday last the following announcement appeared in some of the daily papers under the heading of 'Bells Wedding March':—A romance of 'bells' will reach its culmination to-day when two bell ringers, Miss Gladys Elsie Bateman and Mr. Arthur David Barker, will be married. Mr. Barker is the general secretary of the London County Association of Change Ringers, and Miss Bateman is assistant secretary to the Association. In honour of the wedding the bells of St. Clement Danes will ring out many chimes, including two "wedding marches." Both the bride and bridegroom have been ringing the bells at the church every Sunday for months past.

Accordingly, it was a great day in the history of the London County Association, as it concerned two of their best-known and most respected members. At 10.30 the following assembled and rang four courses of Stedman Caters: F. E. Dawe 1, T. H. Taffender (conductor) 2, T. W. Taffender, junr., 3, I. G. Shade 4, W. G. Matthews 5, W. H. Theobald 6, H. Belcher 7, T. Walker 8, H. Mance 9, A. J. Neale 10.

The wedding ceremony took place at 11 a.m., and was fully choral. The Rev. W. Pennington-Bickford, Rector, and Hon. Chaplain to the Association, officiated, having kindly returned to town from his holiday at the seaside to tie the 'nuptial knot.' The bride was given away by her father, Mr. W. Bateman, and was attended by her sister, Miss Norah Bateman, as bridesmaid, Mr. Cecil C. Mayne acted as best man.

The writer overlooked asking some of the ladies present to describe how the bride was dressed, but is nevertheless in a position to say that she looked very charming in cream-coloured attire, with orange blossoms, and carried a magnificent shower bouquet of white carnations and other beautiful flowers.

Many ringers, as well as relatives, were present to witness the ceremony, the Ladies' Guild of which Miss Bateman is a prominent member, being well represented by the President, Mrs. Frank Hairs, the hon. secretary, Miss E. K. Parker, together with a large number of lady ringers from South Bucks, including Miss Cooper and Miss Gudgeon, of Fulmer.

A special wedding hymn, composed by the Rector, was sung, and as the procession passed down the aisle of the grand old church, the magnificent organ was heard in Mendelssohn's well-known 'Wedding March.' Now followed what the general public always appreciate and look forward to with much interest on these occasions—some well-struck rounds, and the bells were accurately 'fired' three times for twelve blows each, the 'openings' being faultless.

Another touch of four courses of Stedman Caters and the bells fired once more, during which time the men in blue outside the church piloted the wedding party through the sightseers and across the busy Strand to Carr's famous restaurant immediately opposite. Here the wedding breakfast was served in princely style, the guests numbering about 40.

So much interest had been created by the event that the Press Association sent representatives to take photographs of the ringers at their ropes in the belfry, and also of the bridal party at table.

After the wedding cake had been 'attended to,' the Rector, in a few well-chosen remarks, proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom, at the same time mentioning that although his name was 'Barker' in real life, he (the speaker) had found him the very reverse to that! Also, as they were both skilled ringers they would consequently know how to control their 'clappers' during their journey through life (laughter).

At the request of the ringers and Rector, Mr. F. E. Dawe voiced their good wishes in a felicitous manner, saying when he first started peal ringing, well over 40 years ago, there were no lady ringers. They were not even thought of in one's wildest dreams, yet that day they had Mrs. Hairs and Miss Parker, and others present, whose ringing abilities had elicited the admiration of all throughout the length and breadth of the land. Miss Bateman had proved herself an expert, and by her unassuming manner and gentle disposition had won respect everywhere, and was endeared to all. As for 'Arthur,' he (the speaker) had known him many years as a true Churchman, a clever ringer, a true friend, and, above all, one of nature's gentlemen. He knew that all present and absent joined him in wishing the happy pair health and prosperity, and every blessing he could reasonably wish them.

Mr. T. H. Taffender (Master of the London County Association), Mr. W. G. Matthews (hon. treasurer), and Mr. T. Walker, also supported all that had been said, each in a very pleasing and most appropriate speech, and expressing thanks for the festivities provided.

Mrs. Frank Hairs, as President of the Ladies' Guild, in a very neat little speech, offered congratulations. She hoped to still see the bride's name on the peal list, and that her activities in ringing would be as great in the future as in the past.

The bride suitably thanked all present for their kind expressions of goodwill and the bridegroom also expressed his gratitude. He said that as he and his newly-wedded wife were both conductors they would, during their career, be able to 'conduct one another'! A touch of Stedman Caters on the handbells by Mrs. Frank Hairs 1-2, T. H. Taffender 3-4, Miss E. K. Parker 5-6, F. E. Dawe 7-8, and T. W. Taffender, junr., 9-10, brought the proceedings to a close. It was here that an emblem of good luck appeared, in the shape of a black kitten—no doubt attracted by the bells—which insisted on a personal introduction!

Although little sun was seen during the day, all were thankful the rain kept out of the way, and with the best wishes of all assembled, the happy couple left for Exeter, where the first part of the honeymoon is being spent.

After their departure a well-struck peal of Stedman Caters, with the 6th in second's place, was rung at St. Clement Danes.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

DEPARTURE OF MR. B. C. DIXON.

The quarterly meeting was held at Hexham, on July 29th. The bells of Hexham and Corbridge were available, but the latter were not made good use of owing to the inconvenience of getting to Corbridge from Hexham. The Abbey bells, however, were kept going to the tune of Kent Treble Bob Minor and Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major, some 30 taking part in the ringing. A party of 23 sat down at the Abbey Hotel to a right good knife and fork tea, the other members cycling on to Fourstones to spend the week-end.

A letter of apology was read from Mr. B. C. Dixon. He conveyed his sincere regret for absence, and also for his having to give up his duties as joint secretary on account of his having taken up an appointment in Spain. He hoped the Association would go on and prosper, and that good accounts would reach him of its progress at his new home in Cartagena.

Mr. Story voiced the sentiments of all present, in saying how sorry they were to lose Mr. Dixon, pointing out the work he had done for the Association, and how he would be missed. He wished him, his wife and son every happiness and success in the new sphere of life, and promised him a right royal welcome back amongst them when his three years' sojourn in Spain is over.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY &amp; IPSWICH ASSOCIATION

MEETING AT EAST DEREHAM.

A general meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Branch of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association was held at East Dereham on Bank Holiday, when, by kind permission of the Rev. William H. Macnaughton-Jones, Vicar of East Dereham, the ring of eight bells of the Parish Church were placed at the disposal of the members. The luncheon was served at the King's Head Hotel, the Rev. W. H. Macnaughton-Jones presiding, in the absence of the President of the Association (the Dean of Norwich), who was unable to attend the meeting—Mr. A. L. Coleman (General Secretary) explained that the Dean had written to him to say that an important meeting was taking place that day at which his presence was greatly wanted, and, therefore, he would be glad to be excused from attending the meeting.

The Chairman proposed the toast of 'The King,' which was heartily responded to, after which the general business of the meeting was transacted, the Chairman being supported by the general secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman), and the following members of the committee, Messrs. W. L. Duffield, J. Souter, G. T. Peggall, and representatives from East Dereham, Gressenhall, Norwich, North Elmham, Wymondham, Reepham, Thurston, Shropham, Diss, etc.

On the motion of Mr. A. L. Coleman, the following were elected members of the Association: The Rev. W. H. Macnaughton-Jones, the Rev. Percy E. Hall and Mr. Edward R. Hill, hon. members; Messrs. W. J. H. Hooton (Cambridge) and Mr. J. W. Jones (Newport), non-resident life members; Roland Newson, performing member.

The General Secretary announced that the following had been elected previous to ringing peals, viz., Messrs. Bertie S. Newson, William H. Joiner, Joseph Brettell, George Brown, Fred Wigmore, Jack Pilgrim, David Elliott, William Riches, Bertie Gogle.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of East Dereham for presiding over the meeting and for the use of the bells of the Parish Church.—The General Secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman) moved a vote of thanks to Messrs. O. F. Harrold and B. Whiteside for their kind help and assistance in the arrangements for holding the meeting. This concluded the business, and the members then adjourned to the belfry, joined by late comers. There was a total attendance of over 30 members.

AN INQUIRY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A short time ago the bell ropes at our tower were renewed, but, by some mistake, the sallies are white instead of coloured. Could you, or some of your readers, advise us on the possibility of colouring the sallies ourselves, without causing them to deteriorate?—Yours faithfully,

AMATEUR.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD. ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT LYMM.

The official weather prophecy for Bank Holiday promised: 'some rain.' That prophecy was amply fulfilled. Noah surely never looked out on a worse morning. Cheshire ringers may have slipped briskly from their beds, but judging from the attendance at the annual 'do,' must have returned to bed again. Those who ventured forth by cycle to Lymm no doubt wished they had gone by boat instead for the rain poured down pitilessly.

Service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. E. Maddox), and a very forceful address was given by the Rev. W. R. Ingham (Vicar of Middlewich). The general meeting followed immediately after the service.

In the unavoidable absence of the Master, Mr. T. Ashworth, of Bowdon, was voted to the chair.

The annual report and balance sheet were submitted by the hon. secretary (the Rev. A. T. Beeston).

Mr. W. Gordon expressed a desire to give, in a form suitable for framing, 500 copies of the portrait of the late Mr. C. J. Bowen-Cooke (a past Master), which offer was gratefully accepted.

Mr. H. Fairclough, of Stretton, was elected to the Mastership.

On his re-election as hon. secretary, the Rev. A. T. Beeston expressed an earnest desire to be relieved of his duties at the end of the next twelve months, and requested that during the intervening time efforts should be made to secure a suitable successor.—With the exception of the filling of one or two vacancies, the other officers were also re-elected. After fixing Hyde as the place of the next meeting, the proceedings closed with the usual votes of thanks.

As the newly elected Master was not present at the meeting, at the time of his election, he took the opportunity at dinner to express his thanks for the honour conferred upon him.

During the afternoon the 'whole pull and stand' was rung as a mark of deepest respect for the late Vicar of Grappenhall (the Rev. H. V. Pigot), who passed away on the previous Thursday. He had granted permission to ring on his bells on the occasion of the meeting, but in view of the sad circumstances they remained silent.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION. A BANK HOLIDAY WASN'T OUT.

A meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Sutton-on-Trent on August Bank Holiday. Fifty ringers and friends from kindred associations had intimated their intention of being present for tea, but with a downpour of rain only 19 put in an appearance, including four ladies from Worksop. Village sports and a gala, with a cricket match and fishing competition, a ringers' tug-of-war, etc., were to have been held in the afternoon, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the new bell fund, but the weather was wretched in the extreme, the fields and roads being quickly flooded, with the result everything had to be postponed, except the campanology. The music of the bells pealed out from early morn to close of day over a large and flooded area; all honour, therefore, to those 19 who attended from far and wide. The ringers came from Anston, Treeton, Worksop, Gainsborough, and the local company. Those who braved the elements were not disappointed, from a ringing point of view, as no fewer than six methods were rung during the day, including Oxford and Kent, Stedman, Cambridge Surprise and London Surprise, but Plain Bob Minor would not go for 'nuts,' and, like the weather outside, was a veritable 'wash-out.'

The following members rang a 720 of Cambridge Surprise, and also a 240 of London Surprise, the first on the bells: W. Platts 1, H. Haigh 2, H. Stenton (conductor) 3, J. H. Brothwell 4, S. Smith 5, C. F. Fowler 6. The quality of the ringing was good during the day, and the conducting was shared by Messrs. Stenton, Fowler and Haigh.

Tea was provided in the Village Institute, presided over by the Vicar, after which the general business meeting was held, when ten new members were elected from Sutton-on-Trent, including the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. C. Bartley) as vice-president. Harworth will be the next place of meeting, in September, particulars of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

The Secretary, in moving a vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding, and for the use of bells, and Schoolroom, which, with a comfortable fire, had been placed at the disposal of the visitors, said how sorry all the ringers were the weather was so unpropitious, thus spoiling their chance of raising money towards the cost of the new peal of bells. He gave notice that he would raise the question at the next meeting at Harworth of making a grant from the association funds, in the same way that grants were made to Misson and East Markham in 1895 and 1896.—The Vicar briefly acknowledged the motion, and thanked the ringers for turning out of their homes in such unpleasant weather. They had made him a vice-president that day, and his band of ringers members of their association; he hoped to do his best for them as an official, and he would like to see them all again at Sutton as soon as they conveniently could arrange to come.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

KENT RINGERS' TRIP.

The annual outing of the Queenborough ringers took place on Saturday, July 28th, when, accompanied by the Vicar and Mrs. Castle, Mr. Churchwarden Richards, and other friends, they set out by charabanc via Sittingbourne to Trymham, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Nye, Mr. and Mrs. Tumber, and Mr. E. Tumber. After a pleasant run to Canterbury a halt was made for breakfast, and then the party proceeded to Littlebourne, where two short touches of Bob Minor were successfully brought round. The 'go' of the bells was found to be all that could be desired. Traveling via Sandwich, Deal was the next objective, and there the company sat down to a splendid lunch. Afterwards they were met by Mr. J. Spooner, of Deal, and, accompanied by the Vicar, were conducted to St. Leonard's Church, where they were met by the Rev. Bowser and the local ringers. Short touches of Oxford Bob and Plain Bob were rung. Afterwards a pleasant run via Sandwich and Richborough brought the excursionists to Ramsgate, where tea was partaken of. The homeward journey was made via Sarre and Canterbury, and Queenborough was reached at 11.15 p.m., after a most enjoyable day. The ringers take this opportunity of thanking the vicars of the respective churches for the use of the bells, also the secretaries of the local bands for the arrangements made.

A TRIP INTO STAFFORDSHIRE.

On July 29th, the King's Norton (Birmingham) company had their annual outing. They were accompanied by Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., Churchwardens Moore and Botley, and Messrs. A. Mortiboys, H. Withers, and a few other friends. A start was made at 8 a.m., and the party proceeded by motor charabanc to Shenstone, where they found a light ring of eight. Touches of Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major were successfully brought round.

A short run of four miles, then brought the excursionists to Lichfield, where a halt was made to inspect and admire the splendid west front of the Cathedral. Permission to ring had not been obtained, as the time of arrival coincided with that of the morning service.

The next objective was Burton, an ideal place, from a ringer's point of view, in more senses than one. The Parish Church was visited, and touches of Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge brought round on this splendid going ring of eight.

St. Paul's was next on the list, and the party were met by Mr. J. Swinfield, who had everything in readiness. The bells were soon going to the tune of Stedman Caters, Cambridge and Double Norwich. All who rang on this peal were impressed with the splendid tone and 'go' of the bells. In the belfry they appear to be rather poor, but heard outside they are magnificent. Records of the past performances of the Burton men adorn the belfry walls—performances which placed them in a most prominent position in the Exercise. Now, alas! Grand sire Doubles is the order of the day. It seems a great pity that such a stronghold of the art should have fallen so low. Is it because our Burton friends have made the mistake of neglecting to bring on the 'young 'uns,' or simply through bad luck?

After an hour's ringing, the party adjourned to St. Paul's Institute, where lunch was waiting. Mr. Swinfield had been responsible for the arrangements here, and he had carried them out with his characteristic thoroughness.

Alderman J. S. Pritchett, in the course of a few remarks, expressed the pleasure it gave him to be with the party, and on their behalf thanked Mr. Percy O. Luffin, who had made all necessary arrangements, Mr. Swinfield for his kindness in looking after their comfort at Burton, and the clergy at both St. Modwen's and St. Paul's for so readily granting permission to ring.

Churchwarden Moore said he also was pleased to be with the ringers on their outing, and hoped they would continue to invite him as long as he remained in office. He was with them last year, and was so delighted with the splendid day he had then that he had brought the other churchwarden this year.—Mr. Swinfield replied briefly, saying he was always pleased to do his best for visiting ringers.

The party then boarded the charabanc, and another short run brought them to Overscale, where they were welcomed by the Rector (the Rev. H. E. Worthington). The bells at this church are a revelation as to what can be done with a light peal—the tenor being only 9 cwt. They are a beautiful little ring, being perfectly tuned and hung on the latest lines. Some of the party found the bells at the front end far too easy-going at first, but soon had them under control, and a course of London Surprise Major was attempted, but lost in the last lead. Cambridge and Stedman were more successful and the bells were lowered reluctantly.

Netherseale was the next place to be visited, and here a moderate peal of eight, which are hung the wrong way round were found. After ringing a few touches the party were invited by the Rev. H.

E. Worthington (who is also Rector of Netherseale) to take tea on the Rectory lawn. They are greatly indebted to this gentleman and his wife for their kindly welcome and hospitality.

Measham came next on the list, and a capital peal of bells was found there. London, Cambridge and Double Norwich were brought round in fine style, and a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung, with a few of the local ringers taking part.

The final place to be visited was Ashby-de-la-Zouch, and after a few touches the bus was headed for home, via Tamworth, King's Norton being reached at 10.15 p.m.

The company wish to thank all who assisted in making this outing such a complete success. J. F. S.

VISIT TO BROUGHTON-IN-FURNESS.

On Saturday, July 29th, six of the Dalton ringers, with two of the Barrow St. James', and Mr. F. Willey, spent a very pleasant afternoon at Broughton-in-Furness. The bells were raised in peal, and a good touch of 1,050 Grandsire was rung: Miss E. M. Stuart 1, F. Willey (conductor) 2, G. Jackson 3, J. Williams 4, A. Stedman 5, T. Metcalfe 6, W. S. Forshaw 7, J. Burrows 8. Also a well-struck touch of three courses of Bob Major, three of the Broughton ladies taking part: Miss Addison 1, T. Metcalfe 2, J. Williams 3, Miss B. M. Stuart 4, Miss D. Addison 5, Miss E. Butterfield 6, F. Willey (conductor) 7, J. Burrows 8. Several short touches of Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples followed, with W. Clarke and F. Willey as conductors. The ringers take this opportunity of thanking the Vicar for his kind permission for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Barker for having the bells in such good going order.

SOUTHGATE RINGERS' OUTING.

The first annual outing of Christ Church Society, Southgate, since the war took place on Saturday, July 22nd, when a trip was made into Essex and Hertfordshire. A start was made about 2.20 p.m. by charabanc, and a nice run brought the party to the Church of St. Mary Magdalen, Harlow Common, where the bells, a ring of eight, were raised, and short touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples rung. Resuming the journey, the party arrived at Sawbridge-worth, and were met by one of the local ringers, Mr. W. Tarling, also Mr. H. J. Tucker, of Bishop's Stortford. After a splendid meal tea, a move was made to the tower of the church, which contains a fine peal of eight, tenor about 25 cwt., one of the best in Hertfordshire, and here touches in various methods, including Cambridge Surprise were brought round, Messrs. Tucker and Tarling taking part. On the return journey a halt was called at the Church of St. John, Epping, where the modern peal of eight, cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, were raised, and touches in various methods, including Cambridge and London Surprise, were rung. This concluded the day's ringing, and ended a very enjoyable outing.

The band take this opportunity of thanking the local ringers who met and made the party welcome to their towers, also to the various incumbents of the three churches visited for kindly granting permission to ring on their bells.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

EAST BERKS AND SOUTH BUCKS BRANCH.

On August Bank Holiday a very happy gathering of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild took place at the Parish Church, Boyne Hill, to celebrate the re-opening of the bells. These have recently been restored, and by kind invitation of the Vicar (the Rev. W. S. Mahony, M.A.) members of the branch met to ring on this beautiful peal of eight. Ringers were present not only from the county towers, but from many parts of England, and various touches were brought round in fine style. A service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar, and a most inspiring address was given by the vice-president of the branch (the Rev. W. S. Riddlesdale, M.A., Vicar of Bray). After service, tea was provided in the School Room adjoining the church, when about 80 sat down.

At a business meeting which followed, the Secretary put forward the scheme of the Branch committee for the division of the Branch for the purpose of secretarial duties, and after discussion it was adopted unanimously.

A report was given of the proceedings of the annual festival held at Oxford, and the meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the Rev. W. S. Mahony for his kind invitation, to the Rev. W. S. Riddlesdale for presiding at the meeting, to the organist for kindly officiating at the service, to Mr. L. W. Copey for making all the necessary arrangements for the meeting, and to the ladies who so kindly assisted at the tea.

Afterwards ringing was again indulged in and some excellent handbell music was provided in the School Room. The proceedings terminated about 9 p.m., after a very successful day.

A FALSE PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The peal of 5,120 Treble Bob, composed by me and appearing in the Midland Counties Report of 1920-21 (No. 2,599), I regret to say is false. Kindly allow me to apologise to all those that took part in ringing this peal twice. It was rung at Lenton on May 8th, 1920, also at Duffield on Sept. 11th, 1920. I am sorry I have not found the false place before. E. C. GOBEY.

23, Shaw Street, Ilkeston.

ROMNEY MARSH AND DISTRICT GUILD.

A TOUR IN SUSSEX.

The annual outing of the above society is usually well attended, and the tour into Sussex on Saturday, August 12th brought together two charabanc loads of ringers and friends. The Master (Mr. C. W. Everett), the hon. secretary (Mr. H. Balcomb) and Mr. C. Tribe had charge of the travelling arrangements, and Mr. G. Billenness undertook the duties of securing the various towers required for ringing. One charabanc started from Ashford, Kent, and travelled via Tenterden, Rolvenden, Hawkhurst, Robertsbridge, and on to the first stopping place, Battle. The second charabanc commenced picking up at Appledore, and proceeded to Battle by way of Tenterden, Northiam, Staplecross and Whittington. After ringing Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major at Battle, Pevensey was the next objective, and this light ring of six were soon set going to Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles. A walk across the fields took the party past the historic Pevensey Castle, and on to Westham Church. Here they found a very musical peal of six, and the company thoroughly enjoyed ringing Doubles and touches of Minor. The incumbents of these two six-bell towers favoured the ringers with their presence, and were heartily thanked for placing their bells at the disposal of the members.

Leaving Westham they speedily crossed the marshes to Eastbourne. Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung on the light eight at Christ Church, Mr. A. C. Pankhurst kindly meeting the party, who also had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Mr. S. Wade, of Southgate. On leaving the church, Mr. Keith Hart, of Brighton, and a party, were waiting to relieve the Kentish men of the bells, and they learned that a peal of Stedman Triples was to be attempted. A number of the party subsequently visited St. Mary's, being welcomed by two of the local ringers. Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major constituted the ringing, and later several of the members wended their way back to the vicinity of Christ Church, and listened to the excellent striking of the peal of Stedman. Tea was partaken of at the Leaf Hall Restaurant, and in the evening a call was made at Hailsham, where Mr. C. J. Matthews welcomed the company. Here Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung, and a start was made on the homeward journey about eight o'clock. Thanks are due to Mr. G. W. Stokes (Eastbourne) and Mr. G. Penfold (Pevensey) for assisting in the ringing arrangements.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Saturday, at Stony Stanton, Leicestershire, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in 44 mins., by Miss Stella Disney 1, Fred Wilson 2, Harry Wright 3, Chas. Briggs 4, F. Cotton 5, Harry Briggs 6, Harry Webb (first quarter-peal as conductor) 7, Wm. Briggs 8. This was a wedding compliment to Miss L. Hunt, of Sapcote, and Mr. Tom Atkins of Stony Stanton, who were married at St. Michael's, Stony Stanton, earlier in the day. Mr. Atkins is a much-respected member of the M.C.A., and also of St. Michael's band of ringers. During the time this quarter-peal was in progress the bells at Sapcote were also going to the tune of Bob Minor. The ringers from both churches afterwards met at Sapcote, where a most excellent spread was provided by the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, and an enjoyable evening spent with handbells etc. The ringers wish to take this opportunity of thanking Canon Disney, of Stony Stanton, and Canon Moose, of Sapcote, for the use of the bells.

PROGRESS IN RINGING.

An old subject upon which advice is so often tendered at meetings and in association reports, as well as in our columns, is that of raising the standard of methods rung by average ringers. Over and over again men have been urged to aspire to higher things in the way of method ringing, and there is very little that is new to be said upon a matter so frequently brought to the notice of the Exercise. And yet the theme is one that stands in need of constant repetition. There are too many men who remain content to ring what they already know and make no effort to accomplish anything beyond the simplest methods. There are, for instance, quite a large number of ringers who have reached the Treble Bob stage, who do not seem sufficiently enthusiastic to go on to the Surprise methods, and yet they must be interested in the art, or they would never keep pounding away at Kent or Oxford.

In these days it is difficult to find an excuse for bands who, having mastered a method to the extent of being able to ring frequent peals, do not set out to learn something more advanced. The stages by which a company can best progress must be governed by circumstances, but there ought, for example, to be little difficulty on the part of those who have mastered Bob Major to go on to Treble Bob or Double Norwich, or for those who know these two last-named methods to proceed at a step to Superlative or Cambridge Surprise. It can be done with perseverance and a little enterprise, and, during the winter that is before us, we hope to find that many bands will make a determined effort to raise the quality of the methods they practise. The question of progress rests largely with the man at the helm, if the metaphor may be permitted in connection with the belfry. Careful handling of his men and the skilful steering of the company through the difficulties and disappointments that often attend efforts to progress, will stamp the able 'skipper' as a man of resource and ability, and make him a true leader of his band. The winter season is the time when a conductor should be found rallying his ringers round him, coaching them, or, if their difficulties are also his own, at any rate encouraging them in the task of mastering new methods.

There are cases where the limitations of the band are fixed by the limitations of the conductor who is not always ready to admit the claims of others to occupy his place—for the old idea of keeping the young ones down still prevails in some towers. Where it is obvious that a so-called 'captain' is standing in the way of the advance of his band, either through negligence or ignorance, progress demands that he should be removed—if he cannot otherwise be induced to resign. No band that has the opportunity of practising ought to be content to stand still in regard to method ringing.

On Thursday evening, August 17th, at Leyland Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 46 min., by J. Watkinson (conductor) 1, F. Rigby 2, P. Watkinson 3, *J. H. Gartside, junr., 4, H. France 5, S. Watkinson 6, E. Watkinson 7, J. Harrison 8. *1st quarter-peal away from tenor. This is the longest length on the bells since they were overhauled by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and was rung as a welcome home to the Vicar of Leyland, Canon Staker Hunt, after his marriage. The ringers of 2nd and 4th hail from Chorley, and the rest are local men.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*EASTERN DIVISION MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Waldron, on Saturday, August 19th, members attending from Brighton (St. Peter's and St. Nicholas'), Chiddingly, Cuckfield, Eastbourne (St. Mary's, All Saints' and St. Saviour's), Hellingly, Heathfield, Mayfield, Shoreham and Westham, together with the members of the local band. Ringing was indulged in until 4.30, when a service was held, the address being given by the Rector, the Rev. Canon Humble-Crofts. Afterward, 35 members sat down to tea at the Memorial Hall, and a short business meeting followed, Canon Humble-Crofts presiding. Mr. Leonard J. Hodson, of Salehurst, was elected as a hon. life member, on the motion of Mr. G. H. Howse, seconded by the Hon. Secretary (Mr. E. Stokes). The place for the next quarterly meeting was discussed, and on the proposition of Mr. G. H. Howse, seconded by Mr. A. R. Miles, Christ Church, Blacklands, Hastings, was unanimously decided upon.

There being no further business to transact, Mr. J. T. Rickman, the Master of the Association, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, his address at the service, and also for so kindly consenting to preside at the meeting.—The motion was supported by Mr. W. D. Smith, and the Rector, in reply, said how pleased he had been to welcome the Association that day.

The members again returned to the tower, where the bells were kept going until 8 p.m. in methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to Superlative Surprise Major, and taken altogether it was a most enjoyable meeting.

MR. F. E. DAWES RECORD.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I see in Belfry Gossip last week that Mr. F. E. Dawe has conducted peals of Steadman Triples, Caters and Cinques from every bell. It also says few, if any, other ringers have done it. I achieved this in February, 1905, and have repeated it since, and it would not surprise me if there are one or two others who have done it. —
Yours,
W. PYE.

BARLBOROUGH RINGERS' 'DAY OUT.'

The Barlborough company had their first annual outing on Saturday, July 29th. The party, including wives and friends, numbered 33. Leaving home by charabanc at 8.45 a.m., they proceeded to Norton Cuckney, where there is a lovely ring of six bells, and these were soon put into a touch of 360 of Kent Treble Bob, which was tapped off in splendid style. The ringers were congratulated by the Vicar, who was there to meet them, and gave them a hearty welcome. They then proceeded to Edwinstowe and rang touches of Kent and Oxford, with Bob Minor for the younger members, being assisted by Mr. Jack Moss, one of the Bolsover band, who happened to be working at that place. A move was next made to Newark, where a capital lunch was partaken of at the Oldham's Cafe. Proceeding to Sutton-on-Trent, where the bells have recently been recast and rehung, and have a perfect 'go,' the excursionists soon set the peal swinging to Duke of York, of which a 720 was rung, this being the first 720 in a Treble Bob method on the bells, and also the first 720 rung by the band, viz., R. Reece 1, G. Ashby 2, P. Morris (conductor) 3, H. Kirk 4, W. Sturman 5, P. Hibbard 6. A move was then made to East Markham, where the bells were found in rather poor going condition. Ordsall was the next call, and here 240 Oxford and Kent Treble Bob were successfully brought round. The party had tea at Retford, and then turned towards home, which was reached after a very pleasant day's outing, which was favoured with splendid weather.

The ringers wish to thank all concerned for the use of the bells at the different places visited. During the day touches of Violet, Duke of York, Kent Treble Bob, Bob Minor, Oxford Treble Bob were rung. The secretarial duties were carried out by Mr. W. Sturman (secretary of the band).

BELGRAVE RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, July 22nd, St. Peter's Society, Belgrave, accompanied by the choir, had a charabanc trip to Belvoir Castle. After going through the Castle, the party proceeded on to Bottesford, where an excellent tea was served, after which the ringers proceeded to St. Mary's belfry, and, with the help of three of the local band, set the beautiful toned bells going to the tune of Grandsire Triples. A touch of 630 change, was rung by H. L. Smith 1, J. R. Jackson 2, R. Barrow 3, A. W. Ward (conductor) 4, C. Blakey 5, J. Pole 6, H. Reeves 7, H. Sibson 8. Ringers of 2, 4 and 5 belong to local bands. The ringers wish to thank the local band for the use of the bells.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The five bells at Lubenham, Leicestershire, have recently been rehung, tuned and quarter-turned by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.

In sending a report of a peal of Treble Bob, rung at Grundisburgh, Suffolk, on August 13th, Mr. G. A. Fleming writes that the composition was taken from Snowdon's 'Treble Bob,' Part 2, page 85, where it is given as 5,088, but upon examination proves to contain 5,120 changes.

To-morrow is the anniversary of the first peal of Grandsire Triples, which was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on August 26th, 1718. John Garthorn was the composer, who, 'with long study and practice, have perfectly discovered those intricate methods which were hidden from the eyes of all the ringers in England,' Grandsire Triples having been 'Ye study of ye most ingenious men of this Age who delight in the Art of Variations,' but whose 'projections have proved errors until it was undertook by John Garthorn.'

On August 26th 1751, John Holt took part in a peal of Double Bob Major at St. Mary's, Hillingdon.

On August 27th, in the previous year, Benjamin Annable conducted a peal of 'Bob Major St. George' at St. George's, Southwark.

Ten years ago, on August 27th, that fine old stalwart of the College Youths, Matthew Wood, of Bethnal Green, died in his 88th year, and on August 31st 1918, Bertram Prewett, one of the finest of ringers in this generation, was killed in action.

Ten years ago, on the 31st inst., the 19,738 Stedman Caters, which is the handbell record, was rung at Guildford.

On August 31st, 1888, the first ten-bell peal in Scotland was rung, viz., a peal of Grandsire Caters, at St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh.

In the 'Sunday Times' of Sunday last, a paragraph quoted from the issue of ninety years ago, describes the 'New church of St. Dunstan's, Fleet Street.' It says: 'The structure is of brick, of an octagon form, finished with beautiful Kilton or Rutland stone. The tower is about 50ft. in diameter at the base, and this part of the building is a fine specimen of the chaste Gothic style. The principal entrance is at the bottom of the tower, fronting Fleet Street. On the front of the tower will be worked, just above the door, the arms of His Majesty and those of the City. In the tower will be placed eight excellent bells, preserved from the old church.'

Presumably the eight bells from the old church did not find their way into the new steeple, as from the list of bells which have been supplied by the Whitechapel Foundry, it appears that a new peal of eight, with a tenor of 19 cwt., was erected in the Fleet Street church in 1832. This church was one of those which the Bishop of London's commission proposed to remove, with the exception of the tower.

Of old-cottage style, and described as 'the meanest church in Essex,' that known as St. Nicholas, at Hazleigh, is now being pulled down, having been declared unsafe. It was built in the sixteenth century at the expense of Edward Alleyne, the actor, who founded Dulwich College.

The nave is only 26ft. long, while the porch stands just 6ft. high. The old iron chests, just removed, contain the ancient parish registers, which commence with baptisms in 1575. In a turret is one bell on which is inscribed 'Thomas Mears, of London, fecit, 1793.'

The report of a peal rung at Shoreham, Sussex, on July 22nd, which did not reach us until Monday last, has been sent without the time. It is always advisable for conductors to check their reports with those which appear every week, in order that they may assure themselves that all essential details are included. Four other defective peal reports have reached us this week, but in those cases we have been able to communicate with the conductors.

The peal rang at Wrotham on August 5th was not the first peal of Bob Major on the bells. Mr. Sene writes that Mr. I. Emery conducted a peal of Bob Major there on July 13th, 1912.

THE GIFFORD MEMORIAL.

The following further subscriptions have been received towards the memorial to the late Mr. W. W. Gifford. Contributions should be sent to Mr. L. Harris and Mr. F. W. Romaine, joint hon. secs., Britford, Salisbury.

Amount previously acknowledged, £15 14s.; Rev. Goodchild, Berwick St. John, 5s.; Berwick St. John's company of ringers, 5s.; Netheravon company, 10s.; Donhead St. Mary's company, 10s.; Romsey Abbey company, 8s.; Mr. G. Noice, 2s. 6d.; Mr. W. Spender, 7s.; total, £27 15s. 6d.

RING OF TWELVE FOR CHESHIRE.

PROPOSED AUGMENTATION OF MACCLESFIELD BELLS.

From the information given at the annual meeting of the Chester Diocesan Guild, regarding augmentation and restoration work in the diocese, Macclesfield Parish Church is to have a ring of twelve bells. For fourteen years the tenor has been cracked. Now it is to be recast, and two new bells added, and the whole are to be hung in a new frame. Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, are to carry out the work.

NEW BELLS AT ALREWAS.

PEAL OF EIGHT OPENED.

Alrewas Parish Church is now in the proud possession of a melodious ring of eight bells, which will send out their music o'er the countryside for many generations to come. Up to some months ago there hung in the tower six bells in a dilapidated timber framework, which was a source of danger when the bells were rung, while all the fittings were worn out and unfit to carry the bells with safety. Then the bells themselves contained such grave defects, and were so discordant in their harmonic tones that they fell very far short of being a musical peal. The conclusion was, therefore, arrived at that the only satisfactory restoration would be to recast them into a musical and pleasing peal, and after a great deal of consideration it was eventually decided to make the bells into a ring of eight. This work was placed in the capable hands of Messrs. Taylor and Co., of the famous Loughborough foundry, and the result, now that the work is completed, and the bells ringing forth in their rejuvenated state, is a beautifully sweet and pure-toned peal of bells. The effect of this perfectly tuned peal is simply marvellous when compared with that of the old ring and can only evoke admiration from all who hear its music.

The tenor weighs over 12 cwt., and the total weight of the eight bells and their fittings, etc., is over 10 tons. The fittings are of the latest modern design, and contain all those improvements which have been introduced by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in recent years, including the patent ball bearings in which the bells revolve. The framework which carries the bells is very strong and massive, being constructed of cast iron on stout steel foundation girders, all designed so that the strain placed on the tower by the swinging of the bells is reduced to the minimum.

INSCRIPTION ON BELLS.

Each bell bears an inscription, the old inscriptions on the six original bells having been most religiously reproduced on the recast bells.

Treble.—W. A. Webb, Vicar. 11. A. Kent, Clerk, 1922.

2nd.—J. W. Brierley, G. H. Lord, Churchwardens, 1922.

3rd.—God save His Church, 1711. Recast 1922.

4th.—John Yeld Clark, 1711. Recast 1922.

5th.—Joseph Smith in Edgbaston made me 1711 Recast 1922.

6th.—Mr. Matthias Langley, Vicar. John Kirkland and William Stayley and Henry Kent, Churchwardens, 1711. Recast 1922.

7th.—My mournful sounde: doth warning give:
that heere, men cannot allways live, 1711.
Recast 1922.

Tenor.—J. Taylor and Co., Bellfounders, Loughborough, Leicestershire. W. Inge, Vicar. Edwin Sellick, Jos. Reynolds, Churchwardens, 1876.

I was given in 1876 by William Thomas in his 45th year of being parish clerk.

Tenor bell recast 1922 by consent of next-of-kin. A. Bryne, his niece.

The opening of these bells took place on Saturday, August 12th, when they were dedicated to the glory of God, and in pious memory of the Rev. W. A. Webb, for 32 years Vicar of the parish. The bells were handed in the name of the subscribers, to the priest-in-charge, the Rev. F. B. Alcock, by Mrs. Webb, widow of the late Vicar, who then placed them into the care of the churchwardens, Messrs. G. H. Lord and H. W. Brierley.

The Rev. Prebendary Paice, Rural Dean, formally dedicated the bells, after which the Alrewas ringers rang a short touch. The service was continued with evensong, and the Rural Dean gave a very appropriate address.

After the service was over, the bells were rung by ringers from Derby, Burton-on-Trent, Birmingham, Loughborough, Cannock and Alrewas.

The church, it is interesting to note, dates back to the year 822.

FIFTY YEARS A RINGER.

At Barrow-on-Humber, on Saturday, August 12th, a half-muffled quarter-peal of Doubles, being four six-scores of Bob Doubles, and 64 of Grandsire in 50 mins., was rung for Mr. W. Crowder, senr., 50 years ringer at that church who was buried that day: Sam Wood 1. A. W. Hoodless 2. E. Dannatt 3. W. Goddard 4. W. Ayre (conductor) 5. C. Bilton (1st quarter) 6. Also 720 Bob Minor: S. Wood 1. W. Ayres (conductor) 2. E. Dannatt 3. A. W. Hoodless 4. — Moulson 5. W. Goddard 6. All except C. Bilton and — Moulson were from Barton.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM MARKS.

A LINK WITH PAST LEATHERHEAD RINGERS.

Members of the Winchester Diocesan Guild and the Surrey Association will regret to learn of the death of Mr. William Marks, of Leatherhead. The deceased had been ailing for some time past, and had done very little ringing during the last twelve months. On Sunday morning, August 13th, he had been for a walk round the churchyard, and, returning about 9.30 a.m., in the absence of his wife, rested awhile in a chair, where he passed quietly away from heart failure.

Born in 1850, Mr. Marks had lived in the town all his life. He had been connected with the Leatherhead band of ringers since he was 18 years of age, his father and grandfather having both been ringers before him. The latter, James Marks, took part in a 6,528 of Oxford Treble Bob Major as far back as 1795, and also rang in the 10,080 in the same method in 1808, and, with two of his sons, took part in a 5,184 in 1829.

Mr. Marks remembered his grandfather quite well, and could tell many stories which had been handed down of the doings of the ringers of Leatherhead and district in the old times when there was a good Treble Bob band at Leatherhead. The deceased had taken part in a great many peals, mostly of Grandsire Triples and Grandsire Caters, of which latter he had composed and conducted many himself. His ability as a composer of Caters was of no mean order, but his natural modesty would not permit him to publish any of his efforts. He often drily remarked that it was not 'composing,' but 'compiling.' On the death of Mr. S. Brooker, in 1894, he took the lead and remained captain of the Leatherhead company up to the time of his death.

He was one of the oldest and staunchest members of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, which he joined in 1880.

A joiner by trade he worked for one firm all his life. He was possessed of a marvellous memory, being able to measure up details of his own work, and, carrying no notebook, to keep measurements in his head, and go days after to the bench and set the work out. He was a man beloved by all for his uprightness of character, and lived, as he died, 'at peace with all.'

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, August 19th, at Leatherhead Churchyard. Four of his fellow ringers acted as bearers. As the cortege left the church for the grave, the bells were rung deeply muffled in rounds. After the committal, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells over the open grave by Mrs. Hazelden, C. Hazelden, W. Melville and J. Hoyle. Afterwards the whole pull and stand was rung on the back eight of the church bells 71 times, corresponding with deceased's age. Three courses of Grandsire Caters followed. Ringing friends attended from Ewell, Epsom, Ashted, Guildford, and Dorking, in addition to the local band.

Many floral tributes were sent, including one from the Guildford district of the W.D.G., one from the Dorking company, and one from ringing friends at Ashted, Ewell, Epsom and Leatherhead.

On Sunday morning, August 20th, for Divine service, with the bells deeply muffled (the tenor open at back), a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung as a tribute to the memory of a departed friend: T. Newnham 1. W. Messam 2. E. Hull 3. H. Boxall 4. A. C. Otway 5. G. Marnier 6. A. Dean (conductor) 7. A. H. Winch 8.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL.

JULY 22nd, 1922.

In fairer ground lot could not fall
For ringers to hold festival,
Than where her stately towers are seen,
Oxford, of English cities green.

Where should they for devotion come,
Like loving children seeking home,
But to their own Cathedral, dear
For many memories year by year.

Cheered and refreshed by praise and prayer,
When the Guild's business needs their care,
The Chapter House, with ages hoar,
Opens for them a welcoming door.

Honoured indeed their festival!
Honour yet more—in Christchurch hall,
'Mid the great spirits of the dead
Upon the walls empictured.

At the long tables, row on row,
They feast and ere to ringing go,
Rise to the toast of Church and State,
Who make and keep old England great.

THE CONSTRUCTION AND EXTENSION OF BRISTOL.

By A. YORK BRAMBLE.

In his previous articles relating to this subject, which appeared on pages 229 and 357, Mr. York Bramble examined the construction of a lead as it appears in a method and analysed a lead of Bristol in the light of this investigation. In the following article he sets out to prove that Bristol Surprise in its basic form is to be found in the Major, and that pure extensions can only be obtained on numbers which are multiples of four.

In the first part of our discourse we put forward three considerations: (a) What is 'method'? (b) What is 'extension' of method? (c) What differentiates extension as between 'single' and 'double' methods? The first and last of these questions have already been dealt with; but with regard to the second, we said that first of all we must find out whether that which we want to extend is in itself already an extension, or not, of something yet more elementary; and also that an investigation, on the lines to be indicated later, would give up the answer to that question. Let us now proceed with such an investigation in the case of Bristol.

The original example of the application of the author's 'principles of construction' in this case is found in Treble Bob Major form. Now, in the course of our preliminary considerations, we have already determined two facts about Bristol. They are:—

(1) That it is a double method, and that, therefore (as in all double methods), 'the fore and after parts comprise work which extends inwards from the sides of the block for equal distances.'

(2) That while this work in the fore and after parts of double methods may intermingle (e.g., as in Double Norwich and in Superlative), yet in Bristol this is never the case; the work here being so clearly divided in that way as to be called, appropriately, 'front work' and 'back work.'

Now further investigation will reveal: (3) That the character of the 'design' of the work of the fore and after parts is such that, with a Treble Bob hunt, it will apply only on even groups of symbols; and that to apply it to odd groups (and still avoid intermingling of fore and after parts), necessitates variation in the character of the design (i.e., introduction of something really foreign to the method); and the violation of one of the conventions in method construction—the introduction of three consecutive blows in one place.

(4) Therefore, since the number of symbols in the fore and after parts of the Bristol method (Treble Bob hunt) is always an even one, the extension or reduction of the method on various numbers is such that the size of the 'parts' (fore and after) remains the same for every group of consecutive two, from 4 (or Minimus) upwards, thus:—

Group:—	A.		B.		C.
No. of Symbols or Bells:—	4	6	8	10	12	14	Etc.
Fore and after parts respectively contain:—	2+2	2+2+2	1+1	1+1+1	6+6	6+6+2
(Even groups.)

Now the reader's first observation will probably be that under the brackets containing 'stars,' the numbers, when added, give a total which is short of the parent number by two. Precisely. But if we include these two 'left-outs' by adding one to the fore and one to the after part, we shall then have odd groups instead of even; and we should find ourselves in the dilemma indicated under (1) above.

But what, asks the investigator, 'will these unfortunate "orphans" do?' The answer is clear: finding themselves together in the middle of the change block, there is only one thing they can do; they dodge together until the bells leaving the fore and after parts invite them to step in and take their respective places.

(5) Hence, since the extension (or reduction) of the Bristol method (with a Treble Bob hunt) takes place on quantities expressed in the following progression: 4, 8, 12, 16, 20, etc.; the compass of expression next below Major and Royal (B group above) would be that of Minimus and Minor (A group above), in which the fore and after parts would comprise two-bell work; and this (as we shall more clearly see later) is impossible with a Treble Bob hunt.

And thus we have proved, by means of these five conclusions above given, that with a Treble Bob hunt, Bristol is in its basic or elementary form in the Major.

Before we proceed to the question of actual extension of the Treble Bob form, from the Major upwards, it may be interesting to note, in passing, that while the Major is the lowest form of expression of what we may now call the principle of Bristol, with a Treble Bob hunt, yet it is capable of expression in more contracted forms with a plain treble hunt. Space does not admit of our detailing the deductive process which will give us these contracted expressions, nor of showing how it is that with a plain hunt the progression of extension proceeds smoothly from Minimus to Minor, and thence to Major, Royal, Maximus, etc.; and not, as with a Treble Bob hunt, in groups of pairs. We may just add, however, that in the Minimus we have simply plain hunting; the Bristol Bob giving us the extent of 24 changes. In the Minor, all five working bells do simply what we know as 'the Slow' in Stedman; and in the Major we have a change block, in which every change is found in the Treble Bob Major change block, thus:—

2143	6587
2413	5678
4231	5768
2435	1786
2345	7168
3254	7618

Etc.

Now it will be remembered that in the early stages of our investigations we said that, in proceeding towards our conclusions we must be careful to test, step by step, the generalisations deduced; even to the extent of their restricted application when the working of the treble bell is modified from Treble Bob hunt to plain hunt; and, indeed, we shall find that the generalisations, at which we have already arrived, are comprehensive with regard to these expressions of the Bristol method with a plain hunt, as now given.

Having determined, then, that with a Treble Bob hunt the basic expression of Bristol is found in the Major, we are now in a position to analyse a change-block of Bristol Major; with special reference to the positions of the complexities of the working units, relative to the path of the exempt or regulating unit (the treble bell). As we have already seen, it will be quite sufficient for us to examine only a quarter-block (since it is a double method), as given below:—

In this quarter-block the vertical line divides the fore part from the after part; and the middle horizontal line marks the point where the regulating unit (the treble bell) has completed just half of its journey through the quarter-block. We shall hereafter refer to this line as the 'mid-quarter-line'; for it appears in and marks a vital point in the development of the quarter-block of Bristol on any number of units.

We are now ready to establish the actual details of the principles of construction of Bristol with a Treble Bob hunt. First, let us take the fore part of the quarter-block. Here we find practically nothing but dodging; the only variation being that at the parting of the 'sections,' in order to accommodate the progress of the treble bell along its Treble Bob hunt-path, the bell it has just dodged with, and the bell it will next dodge with, both make a place at the same time; all other bells in the fore part continue their dodging; and this holds good for the fore part of the first quarter-block of the method on any number of units. (It should be noted that in the Major (Treble Bob) there is only one section-parting in the quarter block; and that it is coincident with the position of the mid-quarter line.)

Now in the after part we find plain hunting pure and simple, the mid-quarter-line playing its vital part, in that it divides the direct plain hunting above, from the retrograde plain hunting below; the interruptions in the plain hunting (at the change over from direct to retrograde), occurring along this mid-quarter-line; and this holds good for the after part of the first quarter-block of the method on any number of units.

Before we apply our conclusions to the actual business of extension, however, it will be as well to note—(a) One or two facts of inter-relationship in the 'design' of the complete change-block. (sometimes called the 'shunts.') (b) A point of vital importance, in what we may term the 'middle-dodging' position of the Treble, in all Treble Bob methods on numbers dividing into two odd halves (e.g., Royal into 5 and 5—odd). (c) Whether or not the method recently published as 'Bristol Royal' is at variance with what the basic principles (which we have now established) will give us.

This done, we can produce, and leave, with every confidence, the true extensions to Royal and Maximus.

QUALIFYING 120's.

On Monday, August 14th, at Newton St. Cyres, Exeter, 240 Stedman Doubles: Mrs. A. D. Barker 1. A. D. Barker 2. W. S. Lethbridge 3. J. C. Oke 4. F. J. Davey 5. F. H. Gardner 6.—Also 120 Grandire Doubles: F. Weeks 1. W. S. Lethbridge 2. F. J. Davey 3. F. H. Gardner 4. A. D. Barker 5. G. Luxton 6.—Also 120 Grandire Doubles: Mrs. A. D. Barker 1. R. Bray 2. A. D. Barker 3. F. H. Gardner 4. F. J. Davey 5. W. S. Lethbridge 6.—Also 120 Grandire Doubles: A. D. Barker 1. J. C. Oke 2. G. Cole 3. F. H. Gardner 4. W. S. Lethbridge 5. G. Luxton 6.—Also 120 Grandire Doubles: W. S. Lethbridge 1. Mrs. A. D. Barker 2. J. C. Oke 3. A. D. Barker 4. G. Luxton 5. F. J. Davey 6. The above were the first 120's by F. Weekes, R. Bray, G. Cole and G. Luxton, and qualified them as change ringing members of the Devonshire Guild. The whole conducted by A. D. Barker.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

BRISTOL.—At St. James' Church, on Sunday, August 20th, for morning service, 1,260 Grandsire Triples, in 50 mins.: G. Way (longest touch) 1, E. Guise (conductor) 2, G. Pearce 3, C. Walton 4, A. Pearce 5, W. Hunter 6, H. Way 7, E. E. Wallace 8.

BARNES.—At the Church of St. Mary, on Sunday, August 20th, for evening service, 1,260 Stedman Triples: R. Mackrill 1, H. Barrett 2, H. Stevens 3, H. Dyas 4, F. Skevington 5, H. Cook 6, C. Hunt (conductor) 7, J. Willmott 8. Also rung as a compliment to the second daughter of Mr. H. Barrett on her 21st birthday.

PETERSFIELD, HANTS.—At St. Peter's Church, on Sunday, August 20th, for morning service, in 50 mins., a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: S. Pocock 1, A. Butler 2, G. Barnes 3, G. R. Newton (conductor) 4, W. Butler 5, A. J. Garrett 6, W. J. Read 7, H. Mells 8. Arranged for G. R. Newton, who hails from Diverpool.

ERITH.—At St. John the Baptist's Church, on August 20th, for evening service, 504 Stedman Triples: W. Smith 1, F. Groves (Woodwich) conductor, 2, D. Harvey 3, J. Lowrey 4, F. Cullum, senr., 5, J. Morton 6, A. Morton 7, W. R. Middleton (first 504) 8.

DUNSTABLE, BEDS.—At the Priory Church, for evensong, on August 20th, 560 Double Norwich Court Bob Major: G. Heley 1, Canon Baker 2, A. V. Good 3, E. M. King 4, F. Baldoock 5, F. Ramsey 6, J. B. Marks 7, A. E. Sharman (conductor) 8. Longest length of Double Norwich by an entirely local band. — Also two Grandsire Triples, with P. Ward and A. G. Matthews for Canon Baker and F. Baldoock.

CLARE, ESSEX.—On Sunday, August 20th, for evening service, 504 Stedman Triples: G. Wiffen 1, H. Cooper 2, B. W. Pettitt 3, C. Moore 4, J. Ford 5, A. Shufflebotham (conductor) 6, A. Saunders 7, A. Richold 8.

NEWBURY, BERKS.—On Sunday, August 20th, for evening service, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: C. Poole 1, E. Smith 2, C. Pearce 3, A. Bird 4, W. A. Dorney 5, S. Quintin 6, H. W. Curtis (conductor) 7, H. Smith 8 (rung in 45 minutes). First quarter as conductor. A. Bird and H. Smith are from Thatcham.

EXETER.—Devonshire Guild. — On Sunday, August 13th, at St. David's, Exeter, for morning service, 504 Stedman Triples: Mrs. A. D. Barker 1, A. D. Barker (conductor) 2, F. H. Gardner 3, C. Carter 4, J. C. Oke 5, W. S. Lethbridge 6, F. J. Davey 7, S. Milton 8. — At St. Michael and All Angels, Heavitree, for evening service, 504 Stedman Triples: Mrs. A. D. Barker 1, W. S. Lethbridge 2, A. D. Barker (conductor) 3, F. R. Gardner 4, J. C. Oke 5, F. J. Davey 6, J. R. Sandover 7, F. Rogers 8.

SOUTH SHORE, LANCASHIRE. — On Sunday evening, August 13th, for service, at the Parish Church, 720 Bob Minor: G. Drake (Brighouse) 1, A. Beaumont 2, C. Gaultier 3, H. Kirk (Barlborough) 4, J. Rawcliffe 5, A. Atkinson (conductor) 6. The treble and the 4th ringers were on a visit to South Shore, and obliged the local company by taking part.

OSWESTRY, SHROPSHIRE. — On Sunday, August 13th, for morning service, 588 Grandsire Triples (taken from Holt's Ten-Part): T. Marshall 1, R. Martin 2, R. Edwards 3, J. Hughes 4, H. T. Hughes 5, W. B. Kynaston 6, R. T. Evans (conductor) 7, E. H. Kynaston. — For evening service, 503 Grandsire Triples: R. Edwards 1, R. Martin 2, J. Hughes 3, H. T. Hughes 4, H. Jarman 5, W. B. Kynaston 6, R. T. Evans (conductor) 7, G. Beaton 8.

FOLKESTONE.—On Sunday, August 13th, for evensong, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 46 mins.: J. Coppins 1, N. Hope 2, Miss E. Jarvis 3, A. Binfield 4, B. Bridges 5, S. Binfield (conductor) 6, T. Farley 7, W. Knight 8.

PLYMOUTH, DEVON.—At Emmanuel Church, on Sunday, August 13th, for evening service, after meeting short for Triples, 720 Bob Minor, in 27 mins., with tenor covering: W. Price 1, W. Rundle 2, W. Hobbs 3, A. Kentfield 4, H. Burner 5, J. Woodley (conductor) 6, S. Symons 8.

BUCKLEY, FLINT. — At St. Matthew's Church before evening service, on Sunday, August 13th, in 46 mins., a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes): C. W. Bragg 1, A. H. Jones 2, E. Shone 3, P. Roberts (first quarter-peal) 4, S. Birks 5, C. H. Jones 6, E. Messham (conductor) 7, Wm. Bellis 8. The ringer of the treble hails from St. Alphege Church, Solihull.

ACTON, MIDDLESEX. — On Sunday, August 13th for morning service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), from 'Holt's Original,' in 45 mins.: M. England 1, S. D. Breeze 2, Miss I. Hastie 3, Robt. Fardon (conductor) 4, H. G. Wincote 5, C. A. Brown 6, E. W. Coulson 7, A. E. Smith 8. — For evening service, an attempt for a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples failed, with only two courses to complete. Arranged and rung as a birthday compliment to Miss I. Hastie.

BEESTON, NOTTS.—For evening service, on Sunday August 13th, 1,280 Double Norwich Major: F. S. Price 1, *E. C. Shepherd (Solihull) 2, W. A. Jones 3, A. B. Moss 4, J. C. Dicken 5, W. Clifford, junr., 6, A. Coppock (conductor) 7, P. Price 8. * First quarter-peal in the method.

LITTLE STAUGHTON, BEDS. — On Sunday, August 13th, for evening service, 600 Grandsire Doubles: H. Bosworth 1, N. Smith 2, R. Gray 3, T. Townsend 4, T. H. Townsend (conductor) 5. Rung with the bells half-muffled, as a token of respect to the late Thos. Franklin, an old ringer. After service, 720 Grandsire Doubles with the bells open: H. Bosworth 1, N. Smith 2, R. Gray 3, T. H. Townsend 4, T. Townsend (first as conductor) 5.

SALEHURST, SUSSEX. — At St. Mary's Church, after evening service, on Sunday, August 13th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 46 mins.: Jas. Goodsell 1, F. Morgan 2, W. Hoad (conductor) 3, C. Creasey 4, T. Booth 5, T. Hoad 6, E. Mills 7, A. Lightfoot (Liverpool) 8.

CIRENCESTER, GLOS. — On Sunday, August 6th at the Parish Church, for 9.30 service, two courses Grandsire Caters: E. Jefferies 1, F. W. Bond 2, H. Lewis 3, W. G. Cook 4, W. Trueman 5, A. W. Bond 6, L. A. Wilson 7, H. C. Bond 8, J. J. Jefferies 9, J. Hayward 10. — At Watermoor, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes): F. W. Bond 1, J. E. Waters 2, W. G. Cook 3, A. W. Bond 4, W. Trueman 5, L. A. Wilson 6, H. C. Bond (conductor) 7, J. Hayward 8.

BOURNEMOUTH.—On Sunday, August 6th, for evening service, at St. Peter's, 742 Grandsire Triples: C. Loveall 1, G. Williams (conductor) 2, H. Goodenough 3, A. Medd 4, C. Forst 5, M. Angel 6, J. Bennett 7, E. Garrett 8. Longest touch by ringers of the 3rd and 4th. Messrs. Page (Worcester) and Wilson (Dublin) also took part in touches for morning service.

HITCHIN, HERTS.—At St. Mary's Church, on Sunday afternoon, August 6th, for the opening of the local war memorial, 736 Bob Major, with the bells half-muffled: H. Else 1, H. E. Day 2, O. Cannon 3, R. Croft 4, G. Wolfe 5, L. Fidler 6, G. Croft 7, W. J. Croft (conductor) 8. — For evensong, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,264 changes), in 52 mins.: H. Else 1, Miss K. Willers (first in the method) 2, O. Cannon 3, W. J. Croft 4, G. Wolfe 5, H. E. Day 6, L. Fidler 7, G. T. Croft (conductor) 8. Miss Willers belongs to Trumpington, Cambs.

RAWMARSH.—At St. Mary's Church, on Sunday, August 6th, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,344 changes), in 49 mins.: A. Mitchell 1, F. C. Wilson 2, A. G. Stocks 3, E. Liversedge 4, E. Panminter 5, G. Take (first as conductor) 6, B. Ingle (first quarter) 7, H. K. White 8.

MARKET HARBOROUGH.—On July 30th, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 42 mins.: S. Richardson 1, W. Wallington 2, T. B. Smith 3, E. S. Cotton 4, F. Wallington 5, A. Manning 6, W. Hector (conductor) 7, W. Meadows 8. — For evening service, 504 Stedman Doubles, 7-6-8 covering: E. S. Cotton 1, W. Wallington 2, A. Manning 3, Fred Wallington 4, W. Hector (conductor) 5, Frank Wallington 6, S. Richardson 7, W. Meadows 8.

GREAT STAUGHTON, HUNTS. — On Sunday, July 30th, for morning service, 720 Bob Minor: G. Franklin 1, N. Smith 2, F. W. Luck 3, H. Bosworth 4, T. Townsend 5, T. H. Townsend (conductor) 6.

BRIDGNORTH.—On Sunday, July 23rd, for morning service, 504 Grandsire Triples: W. R. Twist 1, W. H. Jones 2, J. Hopkin 3, W. Clifford 4, O. Norman 5, A. A. Jones 6, W. Davis (conductor) 7, E. Plummer 8.

ST. STEPHEN'S GUILD, BRISTOL.

On Bank Holiday, St. Stephen's Guild, Bristol, had their annual outing. Leaving Bristol at 8 o'clock in the morning, by charabanc, they journeyed to Bradford-on-Avon, where they were met by the Vicar, who conducted them over the church and the old Saxon chapel, and gave a most interesting description of the ancient building. The helfry was visited, and touches of Stedman Triples and Cambridge Major were rung. Proceeding to Trowbridge the visitors were met by Mr. Sam Hector, and made straight for the Parish Church, where touches of Stedman, Double Norwich and London Surprise were brought round, after which dinner was partaken of, and a move made for Westbury, where the very fine peal of eight (tenor 35 cwt.) was soon going to Stedman Triples and London Surprise, with a touch of Grandsire for the local ringers. The tone of these bells is beautiful, and the 'go' everything that could be desired.

Moving on again, Warminster was reached shortly after 5 o'clock, and short touches of Stedman and Cambridge Surprise were rung at the Parish Church. After tea a start was made for Beckington where a nice light little peal of eight was found, and touches of Stedman Triples rung. Time only allowed a short stay here before a start was made for home, Bristol being reached, through the beautiful valley at Limply Stoke and Bath, at 10 p.m., after a most enjoyable day's outing.

The Guild wish to thank, through 'The Ringing World,' the Vicars of the various churches for the use of their bells, and Mr. Hector and friends for having the bells ready for them.

AMONG THE NOTTS VILLAGES.

BY A CHEERFUL WRITER.

Saturday afternoon was a good day for ducks and ringers. As a famous ringer somewhere near Bolsover has been heard to say, 'You may as well be ringing a peal on a wet Saturday as anything else.' So a cheerful band set out by motor from Mansfield, and there was no 'grousing,' even though it was August 12th. The motor filled up at 1.30, and we picked up a venerable and much-respected member of various associations near Woodhouse, who remarked that he was hungry as soon as he got in! Away we sped to Edwinstowe, but did not stop. We had been there before in the days when six cart ropes hung from the ceiling. Otterton, with one large bell and four gongs, did not detain us, and we soon reached Ossington Hall. Here is a small private church, delightfully situated in the gardens, with a light peal of six, about 7 cwt. They take some handling, but are a lively little peal, and various touches were brought round. Lady Elinor Donison came in for a few minutes, and said she was delighted to hear the bells, as they are very rarely heard in changes.

They were presented about sixty years ago by a former Speaker of the House of Commons. The parish clerk directed us carefully to Sutton-on-Trent. Just as we were leaving he thought perhaps after all we had better go another road, as he had heard a bridge was washed away. We rather thought the same as he! Sutton has a new peal which are as perfect as they well can be. The re-opening was described recently, and they certainly are a pleasure to ring on. One day they will make a grand eight. All too soon we had to leave and express our cordial thanks to the local men for coming to meet us. The wooden stairs are rather steep, and the grandfather of the party didn't trouble to use them all; perhaps he thought he was stepping into the 'cage'; at any rate he descended to the bottom with more haste than dignity.

Along the great North Road we splashed towards Tuxford; five members remarked they were famished, but the leader begged them to have patience. The Vicar kindly said we could ring as long as we pleased—the honour of this remark we discovered later. Fortunately for one member, you ring in this church from the ground-floor. The tenor is 16 cwt., and not a bad bell, the third seemed about forty when pulling off; it needed a good man to raise her, and two more to inspect the bearings before the bells went off to Kent and other methods. Once more, thanks to the local men for their presence. We hear an instructor is coming every week; we hope he is a powerful man who likes a bit of work after tea!

We proceeded towards Kirton, who sold their bell years ago for eight Harington tubes, and thence to Perlethorpe in Thoresby Park. The band was absolutely ravenous, and the leader had difficulty in making them walk at a decent rate up to the Vicarage (where they had been invited to tea) lest they should be mistaken for a pack of wolves. We were received with hospitality such as is rarely met with in these days, and settled down to a long touch, which was silent. The Vicar's daughter can ring a bit herself, and certainly she kept 'rounds' going with the plates in fine style. The course-ends came in rapid succession, and it was some time before the leader felt he could 'stand' without being unpopular. We went across the park to the church, with a nice little peal about thirty years old. The turret stairs are very narrow, and we saw one member going up sideways, but didn't like to make any remark, as we had already spoken to him about the room he took up in the motor. Here the local men came to watch and see 'how it's done,' and a good 720 was brought round. A moulder (treble), a sanitary inspector, a miner (conductor), a guard, a chauffeur, and a parson on the tenor: it sounds a mixed band, but one touch of Treble Bob 'makes the whole world kin'—sometimes.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and Mrs. Cardew, after which handbells were produced out of their bag, which had caused some confusion earlier in the afternoon by our miner mistaking it for a snap-bag. Several members seemed afraid of their wives, so we returned in good time, very pleased with our outing, and firmly resolved to have another.

MITCHAM SOCIETY IN KENT.

The Mitcham Society, Surrey, held its 64th annual excursion on Saturday, July 29th. The members, accompanied by the clergy, churchwardens and friends, met in the Mitcham tower at 6 a.m., and after ringing two short touches on the bells set out for Westerham. Having appetites sharpened by the morning ride, breakfast was heartily enjoyed.

The Vicar of Westerham, the Rev. Canon Boyd, kindly met the ringers, and described the architecture of the church. Touches were rung on the fine peal of bells, and after viewing the hero of Quebec's Statue, the party made their way to Edenbridge, stopping on the way to enjoy the beautiful view from the top of Crockham Hill. On reaching Edenbridge, the party were welcomed by the Vicar, the Rev. H. O. Edwards, and ringing on this musical peal was much enjoyed, the time passing all too quickly.

At Tonbridge the party were greeted with the ringing of the bells, for the town was celebrating the anniversary of its famous school. The local ringers kindly handed over the ropes, and a short touch of Stedman Triples was brought round.

After partaking of a most enjoyable luncheon, Horsmonden was the next place of call. Words fail to fully describe the beauties of this delightful rural spot, the home of Mr. J. A. Lambert, who has been a member of the Mitcham Society for nearly 30 years. After enjoying the view from the tower of the church and other items of interest, particularly the quaint ringing chamber, tea was served amidst ideal surroundings. The party was loth to leave, but, being warned by the Master (Mr. J. D. Drewett) that it was time to go, tracks were made for home, Mitcham being reached about 10 p.m., with the pleasantest impression of a never-to-be-forgotten day.

The party take this opportunity of thanking all those who helped to make the day so enjoyable, not least Mr. J. D. Drewett for his most excellent organisation of the excursion.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Allow me to point out to Mr. Ridgway and the ringing Exercise in general, that the figures he publishes as 'Look' Surprise in your issue of August 11th are over 20 years old. I published them in February or March, 1907, as 'Lancashire' Surprise. By a curious coincidence I received by the same post as my copy of 'The Ringing World' containing the figures a post card from Mr. Houldsworth, of Oswaldtwistle, saying that they had been successful in ringing the first peal of this very same method, upon which I congratulate them.

The method is the twin sister to Bristol, and is just as worthy of the public recognition that Bristol has received. Appended are the figures of Lancashire Royal, a method on the top stave of the ladder, along with Bristol Royal. I am sure the time is not far distant when such methods will be practised on the larger numbers of bells.—Yours truly,

ARTHUR CRAVEN.

A NEW TRIPLES METHOD.

By A. J. PITMAN.

The following will no doubt be found interesting to those who are looking for a musical Triples method, in which the extent can be obtained without having to use a lot of consecutive calls or singles. The peal containing never more than two consecutive calls; therefore, the bells are not kept dodging behind too long.

OUTINGS AND TOURS.

At this time of year, when the holiday spirit is abroad, it is to be observed in the doings of ringers just as much as among other classes of folk, and outings and tours are a feature of ringing activity. Some of these excursions are strenuous affairs, and a big mileage and many towers are covered in a single day, for the advent of the motor charabanc has added many joys and a far wider range of action than was formerly possible. Before this modern coaching system was introduced, a ringer's 'day out' was usually limited in scope to the capacity of a pair of horses, or, if they would seek more distant fields, it had to be by means of the railway train, and there is little pleasure to be had from the hours spent in this mode of travel. But the boom in the petrol-driven coach has changed all this, and to the pleasures of a day in the open air is added the opportunity of covering much new ground. And while these trips are carried out, first and foremost in the spirit of pure enjoyment, they also serve another good purpose, in that they extend the brotherhood to be found in the Exercise, and often introduce ringers to fresh towers, thereby giving them a wider experience than they could otherwise obtain, for it must not be forgotten that many who take part in these excursions have exceedingly limited opportunity of doing any ringing outside their own tower.

Ringings tours extending over a week or more are of a different character to these day excursions, and are usually of a much more serious nature. On these tours peals are generally the sole aim of those who participate, and if ringers care to spend their holidays in this strenuous way, that is no concern of other people. The Cambridge University Guild tour last year, however, struck a somewhat different line, and, while some peal ringing was indulged in, the excursion was not organised solely to that end. Many towers were visited where only touches were rung, and we can well believe that there is equal pleasure to be got out of a trip of this kind, for there is more leisure to enjoy the other things that go to the making of a holiday as well as peal ringing. We should like to see more tours organised with the object of extending interest in the art—missionary tours, as it were, carrying change-ringing to places where it is seldom, if ever, practised, and seeking to arouse interest in the scientific ringing of church bells. In this connection we recall the unobtrusive but valuable efforts of the late Mr. William Gifford on many of the tours in which he took part. He was never happier than when, the bells being rung by his friends, he could gather some of the local ringers round him outside the church, and, in his inimitable way, expound to them the importance of good striking and of open leads, the advantages of method ringing, and kindred subjects. He was a 'missionary' par excellence, and the Exercise would be the richer for others of his type.

A VISIT TO BRIDGNORTH.

On Saturday, July 22nd, the ringers of SS. Peter and Paul, Aston, Birmingham, held their annual outing. Starting from Aston at 1 p.m.
by charabanc they proceeded by Wolverhampton for Bridgnorth, which was reached after a delightful run lasting two hours. The party, numbering 22, were met by the genial captain of the Bridgnorth band (Mr. Overton). The bells of St. Leonard's Church were soon going to Stedman and Grandsire Triples, after which short touches of Bob Major and Treble Bob were brought round. The bells having been lowered in peal, the party paid their respects to a most excellent meat tea. A little musical entertainment followed, and was greatly enjoyed. The remainder of the evening was spent in looking around the town and castle grounds, and at 7.30 a start was made for home via Kidderminster. At Hagley an hour's stop was made to cool the engine, and home was safely reached about 11 p.m., at the end of a most enjoyable and perfect day.
The best thanks of the party are due to Mr. Overton and to the incumbents for the use of the bells.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

A quarterly meeting of the above was held at Staplehurst on Saturday, August 12th. No doubt the fact that the annual outing of the Romney Marsh Guild took place on the same day prevented some members from attending, but about 25 ringers assembled, and a very pleasant and instructive time was spent.

The usual service was held, which was attended by several of the parishioners, in addition to the members, and was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. S. Clementson). After service, the members adjourned to the Parish Room, where an excellent tea was kindly provided by the Rector, who, with Mrs. Clementson and other ladies, attended to the wants of the members.

The business meeting followed, the Rector presiding.—At the conclusion of this, votes of thanks were passed to the Rector and Mrs. Clementson and all the other ladies for the various parts they had taken to make the meeting so successful.

The Rector, in replying, extended a hearty welcome to the Association, and said it gave him and all the ladies the greatest pleasure to meet them.

The members then adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

THE 'OXFORD' GUILD FESTIVAL.*ANOTHER VERSION.

O City of Spires and Churches,
Of gay and high-flown flags,
Whose love for law and order
Is shown by frequent 'rags.'
In thy high and lofty steeple,
Where crowned, the 'meat safe' stands,
Is a tough and mighty problem—
To haul thy callied strands.

Thy Chapter House, tho' grim and stern,
Wherein 'some' ringers meet,
When weary with their journey down,
Provides a 'standing' seat.

Art thou the only place that boasts
Those famed beyond recall?
Dost oils and paint the right bestow
Of 'open door' for all?

A change is often good, we're told;
In absence, hearts grow fonder;
A 'shift course' made to Berks or Bucks,
Our head ones well should ponder.

It's sentiment that often clogs
The wheels of true progression;
Beware of sticking in a rut,
And thus prevent secession.

Dear Sir,—I am exceedingly sorry, and apologise to Mr. Craven for publishing the above method under another name. Before forwarding same on to you, I tried all the available avenues open to me to see if the figure had been produced before, only to learn that at that time my friends had no knowledge of having seen them published previously. I, therefore, withdraw any claim to them.—Yours, etc.,

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Surfleet ringing week was a huge success, with a 'bag' of fourteen peals, and only three failures. All were rung in Surfleet—two on the tower bells and eleven 'in hand.' These ringers made as little trouble of handbell peals as they did of eating their dinner—and we are told they did both very well.

Peals have been rung under many extraordinary conditions, but the proverbial 'bun' must surely be awarded to the handbell peal which figured in the events of Friday last, the ringers being in bed in their night attire.

We are not told whether they were all in one bed, or in separate beds or in double beds, but of one thing we can be very certain—the ringers were not asleep.

According to our correspondent it was 'not a soft job.' No doubt the beds were softer than the task. We wonder how soon the light was put out after the bells 'came home,' or whether the ringers required another supper. Perhaps it was early breakfast they had, as the peal came round at a quarter to one in the morning.

Friends of Rupert will be pleased to hear of the interesting announcement made during the ringing week at Surfleet.

What the 'interesting announcement' is they are left to guess.

The ringer of the treble in the peal of Superlative Surprise Major at Brighton on August 9th was Charles H. Page, not Henry Page, as published.

Mr. George Baker, of Brighton, writes that the Triple's method published last week by Mr. A. J. Fitman, is a very old discovery of Mr. J. W. Parker's. In its proper form it has coursing order division ends.

There were three 'first peals' in a 5,008 of Bob Major at Handsworth, Yorkshire, on Saturday, and this makes a total of eleven members of the Sunday Service band (including two ladies) who have learnt to ring since December, 1920, and have now taken part in peals. This is a fine record, but, we are told, there are several others of the 'chicken' showing good promise.

A ringing tour in North Bucks and the borders of Bedfordshire is being arranged for September 9th to 16th, and an interesting programme is promised those who have decided to join the party.

The report of a peal of Stedman Caterers at Cullumpton, Devon, has been sent without the number of changes.

RINGERS AT BOWLS.

ENJOYABLE MEETING WITH BOLTON POLICE.

On Saturday, August 26th, the members of the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association accepted an invitation of the Bolton Borough Police Athletic Club to a game of bowls on the ground of the latter, Bromwich St. Bolton.

A large number of ringers and wives turned up, from which a team was selected, but the Police proved to be the victors, although there were some very close games. In four games the ringers only lost by one point each.

After the match tea was provided, and the green and pavilion placed at the disposal of the ringers. Four-handed games were the general issue, and some keen games followed.

When darkness prevented further play, all retired to the pavilion, and brought the day to a close with songs, handbells, and piano selections, every one voting the proceedings a great success.

A vote of thanks was passed to the police for the kind invitation they had extended to the ringers, and the hope was expressed that the time was not distant when they should have the pleasure of meeting again.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Hatfield on Saturday, August 19th, by permission of the Rev. F. Meridith Brookes M.A., the Vicar, who is also an honorary member of the Association. The ancient church of St. Lawrence contains a handy peal of eight, with a tenor of 20 cwt., and good use was made of the bells by the visitors.

A short service was held, at which the Vicar delivered a most helpful homily. Tea was afterwards partaken of in the Barn Room, where between 30 and 40 members sat down, representative of towers at Doncaster, Hull, Selby, Thorne and York.

A short business meeting followed, the Vicar being in the chair, in the unavoidable absence of the vice-president, Mr. A. E. West. The following ringers from Sherburn-in-Elmet were elected as members of the Association: H. Gill, H. Bradley, G. Wilson, J. Bradley, G. Thornton, and E. Wrigglesworth.—It was decided that the next meeting be held at Goole in November.

The customary votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for kindly allowing the use of the bells, and for the address at the service, to the ladies for serving at the tea tables, and the local company for assisting to make the meeting the success it was.

PITFALLS IN METHOD EXTENSION.

To the Editor.

Sir,—When will the experts begin to realise the futility of treating individual methods as though they had no relation to change ringing as a whole? They will glibly tell you that a hydra-headed monster like London Surprise has nothing in common with Kent Treble Bob, but the ordinary practical ringer knows better. He may not be able to explain his knowledge, but he is perfectly sure there is a real unity in all change ringing. Thus it happens that when the expert experiences a consuming desire to find an extension of London Major, or the like, he takes the poor thing, picks it to pieces, patches it up and tacks it together again, and finally he holds up for your admiration a gawdy patchwork article which he labels London Royal or Maximus. That the effect is usually grotesque is only what might have been anticipated. Had he studied method construction on first principles, some pitfalls at any rate he must have avoided.

One fatal defect of the practice which I am venturing to criticise consists in the impossibility of distinguishing between what is essential and what is accidental. Mr. Bramble's article in your current issue affords more than one instance of this. I will deal here with one point which illustrates the need for the study of general principles, as opposed to the adoption of special rules for some selected method.

He assumes that because Bristol Major is a double method any extension of it to Royal or Maximus must also be double. This is a very plausible idea; but deeper examination shows that whether a given method happens to be single or double on a given number of bells is purely accidental and of no real significance.

Let us consider an analogy, taking as simple an instance as possible for the purpose.

123456	12345678	12345678
214365	21436587	21436587
241356	24135678	24135678
423165	42316587	42316587
243615	24361857	24361578
426351	42638175	42635187
462531	46283715	42635817

(A) is Double Court Minor, a double method as its name implies. (B) and (C) are two equally legitimate extensions of (A) to 8 bells. (C) which happens to have the same figures as Double Norwich Court Bob Major is double, while (B) is not.

In view of a prevalent misunderstanding as to the lead ends to be expected in an extension, it is worth noting that those of (A)-(B) are 56342, 5738264, 573920486, 5728, etc., of (A)-(C) are 56342, 8674523, 860492735, 8604, etc. So it does not necessarily follow that if the first lead end of the Minor be 56342, the Major must inevitably be 5738264. Also there are an unlimited number of true progressions, of which (A) is the first term; in other words, the number of true extensions of (A) is infinite.—Yours, etc.,

Holbeton Vicarage.

WHITE AND COLOURED SALLIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent would be well advised to leave the sallies white, as they are. To dye them he has a mixture of two classes of material to deal with, the wool being of 'animal fibre' and the hemp of 'vegetable fibre.' In each case the method of dyeing is different. It is usual to use an acid base for the one, and a saline base for the other. Whilst an acid base would be acceptable to the wool, it might burn and destroy the hemp. Any attempt to dye the sallies would only result in staining the rope for several inches above and below the sally through absorption, which would look unsightly. Also there is the risk of the colour applied 'bleeding out,' if not properly fixed, and staining the hands when used.—Yours, etc.,

E. A. RIDGWAY.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Bedford District was held at Elstow on Saturday last. Mr. C. W. Clarke presided, and members were present from Bedford, Cranfield, Kempston, Clapham, Turvey, Sandy, Roxton, Clifton, Thurlough, and the local company.—It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Wootton on Saturday, Sept. 30th, if the bells are available, and notice will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

The methods rung during the day ranged from Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

A hearty vote of thanks, passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, brought the meeting to a close.

A WEEK'S HOLIDAY?

PEAL RINGING GALORE.

On Saturday, August 19th, ringers from various parts of the country began their annual pilgrimage to that delightful spot in Lincolnshire known as Suifleet. Weird and wonderful were the methods used for transport, 'combinations' and 'solos' were common terms among certain of the fraternity, while others adopted the more orthodox train as their means of conveyance, but such is the uncertainty of human life, that even these poor mortals had to rely on the rubber bus to convey them, with their goods and chattels, from the station to their destination.

It was noticed that the baggage preponderated over the personnel, for one couple carried so much that it appeared as if they intended to settle down and end their days in that quiet old-world village.

The first item on the programme was a peal of Cambridge Royal on the tower bells. This was accomplished successfully, and was regarded as a good omen by the company for the rest of the week. This peal was a performance worthy of note, inasmuch as it was the conductor's 300th peal, and four rather promising young ringers were piloted through their first in the method.

On Sunday afternoon a peal of Plain Bob Ten was rung. There was nothing extraordinary about this, except the fact that the 'president' very graciously condescended to umpire the peal for the band. It may be said that this duty was carried out remarkably well (at times).

Monday was singled out to be the red-letter day of the week, as mine host's birthday chanced to fall on this day. Four peals 'in hand' comprised the programme. The first, which commenced at 5 a.m., was brought round before breakfast in great style. The second attempt, Stedman Caters, was not so successful, breaking down soon after the half-way had been passed, but as the remaining two peals were brought round, Rupert still had three peals rung in honour of his birthday, which should be enough for any ordinary person.

As no excursions could be arranged to other places, the rest of the week was spent in trying to ring some handbell peals, some of which were successful.

Friday evening a star turn was fixed up in the shape of a peal rung in bed. This may sound a lazy way of ringing, but it can be safely said that this is not the soft job it looks to be on paper.

On Saturday morning the company received the surprise of their lives, the nature of which the writer is not at liberty to divulge at present. Be it sufficient to state that the announcement was stimulating enough in its effect to induce those present to ring a further three peals in honour of the auspicious event.

This brought a most enjoyable week to its conclusion, although it was regretted by all that a peal of Maximus and Cinques could not be attempted. Owing to the harvest being in full progress at this period, the band could not get in enough practice to warrant a start being made with any sporting chance of success.

When the company began to disperse it was noticed that however much baggage they arrived with, they had all contrived to collect a bit more before taking their departure, one item alone, a bag, requiring five hefty fellows to hoist it in position on the top of that old tub, the 'rubber bus.'

'THE NATIONAL TRADES UNION OF BELL RINGERS.'

WHY THE SCUNTHORPE RINGERS 'STRUCK.'

The ignorance which exists outside the Exercise with regard to bell ringing and bell ringers' organisations is often commented on, but the following from the 'Sunday Chronicle' of August 6th leaves us breathless. We wonder who has been 'pulling the leg' of this reputable newspaper upon the subject of a Bell Ringers' Trades Union?

'The bell ringers at the Scunthorpe (Lines) Parish Church, acknowledged to be nine of the best ringers in the county, are on strike.'

'Some time ago the men joined the National Trades Union of Bell Ringers 97 per cent. of whom are paid for their services. In most of the towers throughout the country the minimum rate is £3 per bell per year, and the unanimous opinion of the Scunthorpe ringers is that their work should be suitably acknowledged.'

'The Church Council was approached, but that body, whilst appreciating the services rendered the church by the ringers in the past, has decided that no payment shall be made.'

'As a consequence, the good people at Scunthorpe will, for the first time for many years, have no bells to remind them of the approaching hour of service to-day.'

WEDDING BELLS.

On Thursday, August 24th, at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Ringwood, Hants, for the wedding of Mr. J. R. Middleton (late organist and choirmaster of the above church) and Miss Westcott, 910 Grandsire Triples: W. Johnson 1. E. Hendley 2. E. Green 3. G. Brown 4. F. Whitfield 5. F. Collins 6. W. Cheater (conductor) 7. E. Bradford 8. This is the longest touch rung by the band.

A DAY IN THE MIDLANDS.

A REPLY TO THE EDITORIAL ARTICLE.

Laurence Sterne once said it was the duty of every man before he died 'to build a house, to plant a tree, to write a book, and to have a son.' Excellent achievements, but if he had lived in Bolsover, and run up against a certain campanological star, he would probably have added the words 'and ring a Surprise peal.' When the aforesaid star walks into the belfry in summer-time and says, 'Oh, for a day on ringing bent,' his friends have learnt, by experience, that there's something brewing (besides the usual sort of thing ringers are labelled with). So it came about that a motor loaded up in Derbyshire town at 7.45, under the leadership of a certain gentleman, whose name begins with F. We call him an expert, but he stoutly denies it, and says he never writes snorting letters to 'The Ringing World,' which is one of the qualifications, apparently. With this exception, there were no cracks on board, except at the back of the seat occupied by a Palterton man.

One of the Bolsover clergy accompanied the band, and as he is new to the district, it was quite a 'Surprise' tour for him as well as for us. The sun was breaking through the mist, when Mansfield was reached (the market-place looks best in a fog), and the motor stopped to pick up another clerical ringer who was taking one of his rare and well-earned holidays (though he soon found out there was not going to be much holiday about it). A little further on the motor picked up that Derbyshire veteran, Mr. T. Bettison; we found him under a railway arch (doesn't sound very nice, but it's true, and we presume he hadn't slept there). Rumour has it that he could ring more methods than he had years, a short time ago; but time waits for no man or his ringing, and we believe age is leading, hand and back, just now, and he sometimes says work is getting tired of him, but we know ringing isn't. We were soon speeding over Byron's 'Bleak hills of Annesley,' and arrived at Eastwood at 9 a.m. Here Mr. Gobey, of Ilkeston fame, met us, and we ascended the tower, a landmark for miles round, to try the fine peal of eight (tenor 19 cwt.). The bells are a little noisy inside, but have a grand tone for the weight, and are a pleasure to listen to. They were soon going to Double Norwich, Oxford, and Superlative, after a little preliminary booming by our big gun on the tenor. He told us off early, so that he wouldn't have to mention it again. Our gun is of the old-fashioned sort, which always did want good striking with a flint on the box before it would go off.

Working by a strict time-table the party soon arrived at Basford, where hangs the new peal which, for its weight, stands second to none in the Nottingham district. Here Mr. Sievier led us up the tower, and left us in possession for about an hour, during which Stedman, Kent, Forward Major, Norfolk and Cambridge Surprise were successfully brought round. We found quite a crowd assembled in the road outside, though we were not sure whether they thought there was a wedding or whether they just came to admire our music—we hope the latter. A short run brought us to Bulwell, where hang a mixed peal with two new trebles (tenor 16 cwt.). Here Mr. Jennison kindly welcomed us. They need a little elbow-grease at the back end, but we had brought a good supply, and Double Norwich, Bob Major and Superlative were soon accomplished.

Our next tower was Ilkeston, and our road led us through Strelley, one of the prettiest villages in the county. The Strelleys, of Strelley, were living at the manor house in the time of Henry I., and their fine alabaster tombs are in the chancel. There is a very ancient bell here, but the antiquarian of the band was not allowed to investigate, and threats were made by the veteran that he would be tied by a string if he tried to escape. Advised by a chorus of sixteen to avoid the duck pond, our driver set us down at the Broad Oak (a good name, too: they draw it off the wood there), and 'snap' packages were produced in the open-air.

At Ilkeston we were joined by Mr. J. F. George, and the fine peal (tenor 20 cwt.) were soon raised and rolling along to Kent Major, followed by Norfolk and New Cambridge. The belfry and peal leave nothing to be desired, and it is always a pleasure to ring here, though the market people have their own ideas about peals on Saturdays. Four miles further lies Heanor, like Eastwood, on top of a hill. The tenor is about 17 cwt., but the peal is not of the same quality as its neighbour. After short touches of Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge, we proceeded to Ripley. Here the first touch was a long one, at Hutchinson's Cafe where Mr. W. Jacques appeared, but eventually the more energetic members made a move to the tower with a peal of eight (tenor 17 cwt.). Mr. Fred Hill joined us in the belfry, and like some generous landlords, told us to call for what we wanted, so we did, and Norfolk, New Cambridge, London and Bristol sounded forth from the floor above as required. We still had Alfreton to cope with, so bade farewell to Ripley, and after an 'in and out quick' with the motor were ringing up at our last tower. The man on the seventh had made a solemn vow that he would ring up the seventh in seven towers, and he kept his oath; another made a similar promise for the tenors, but we released him of his vow after two towers and three blisters. The tenor weighs about 17 cwt., and the bells are not too easy to hear, but Double Norwich, Forward, Superlative and Grandsire (the old Derbyshire favourite) were quickly polished off.

It was now 8 p.m., and after twenty-three touches in thirteen methods we felt if anyone asked for more he would be a glutton. No one made any such request, but on the way home a facetious member asked if they could fix him up a quarter of rough stuff at Mansfield, if he came early Sunday evening. The veteran gloomily replied he could have some of that any time without special arrangement. No further adventure took place except that the horn gave out, and we couldn't lend the driver our trumpets, as we'd left them all at home (we don't believe our leader has got one); however, someone volunteered the useful advice, 'Thou pinch it thard, lad.' Perhaps he came from Yorkshire.

We wish to take this opportunity of thanking the clergy and ringers at the various towers for receiving us so kindly, which we much appreciated, and last, but not least, we thank him, whose initials are J. F., who took so much trouble to arrange the outing—you have three guesses, reader, as to his name. We heard him whispering final advice into a bachelor's ear, as the motor disappeared in the darkness, that 'a ringer should only marry a ringer's wife, that is, one who likes her husband out on Saturdays.'

WESTON-SUPER-MARE RINGERS' EXPERIENCES.

On Tuesday, August 8th (thanks to the kindness and appreciation of a local lady), the ringers at Weston-super-Mare Parish Church were entertained to their annual outing, the rendezvous chosen being Dunster and Minehead. The party boarded a charabanc at 8.30 a.m., the weather then being fine. The route taken was via Bridgwater, Nether Stowey, Holford, Williton, Washford, etc. The meteorological conditions were good until Holford was reached, when a heavy thunderstorm was experienced, and those of the party who occupied extreme outside seats (notwithstanding the hood being up), experienced a thorough drenching, no less volens. No doubt those who were fortunate enough to occupy centre seats, heartily agreed with Emerson when he stated that 'Everything in life has its compensations.' The journey was not without one or two exciting incidents, due to the culpable negligence of 'road-hogs,' but happily no accident occurred to mar the outing. When about half of the journey had been covered a slight contretemps occurred (through no fault of the driver), the charabanc getting partly ditched, owing to the soft state of the road after the heavy rainfall, but in ringers' parlance a 'whole pull right' was made, thanks to the friendly driver of an adjacent steam roller who connected his 'toy' with the 'ringers' by means of a stout chain. Shortly after, a rather exciting incident occurred (in these days of rapid motor transit unfortunately only too common), and which might have had a fatal ending; a reckless motorist in the rear of the charabanc making a 'sandwich' dive between the ringers and an on-coming motor at a furious pace. A serious accident seemed inevitable, but the culprit's motor grazed the wheel of the 'char,' narrowly missing the other motor, and proceeded on its way.

Dunster was reached at about 12.30, the campanologists making at once for Dunster Parish Church, where an hour's ringing was indulged in, consisting of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Bob Major. The party then proceeded on to Minehead, and here they adjourned for luncheon at the leading restaurant, after which they climbed to their next objective, the Minehead Old Parish Church. The view from the tower of this church was much appreciated, it being greatly enhanced by 'King Sol' putting in an appearance. This church possesses a splendid peal of ten bells, and an hour's good music was rendered from them, two fine touches of Stedman Triples being the principal feature of the performance. Minehead was left at 4.30 p.m. for Bridgwater, where tea was partaken of, after which the party proceeded to the sacred edifice of St. Mary's Church. Here, again, the hand rang touches for upwards of an hour. St. Mary's possesses one of the finest peals in the country, as many are aware. The homeward journey was commenced at 9.30 p.m. (the weather being good), and was enlivened by songs and choruses, the 'boys' being in high spirits, and Weston-super-Mare was eventually reached at 11.15 p.m. It was unanimously agreed that, in spite of the wet, the outing was one of the most enjoyable in the annals of local campanology.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Grimsby district of the Northern Branch of the above was held at Barton-on-Humber, on August 19th. There was a good attendance of members, who made use of the bells in various methods. Service for the ringers was held in the old church of St. Peter, dedicated in the time of King Offa.—The Vicar, in his address, gave a short history of the building.

Tea and meeting followed, the vice-president being in the chair, supported by the Vicar.

Eight new members from Burton Stather were elected and welcomed to the Guild. The Vicar of Barton was also elected, as well as a member from Barrow.—Votes of thanks to the chairman, the Vicar, and Mr. A. W. Hoodless for the arrangements for tea and ringing, concluded a pleasant meeting.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Winchester District was held at Diben on Saturday last. The bells of Diben and Fawley were available. Those at Diben were kept going during the afternoon to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob, Double Norwich, Kent, Superlative, and Cambridge Surprise Major. Tea was held at the Church Room, kindly arranged by Mr. W. Chambers. Mr. Geo. Williams (Master) presided, and members from Bishopstoke, Southampton, North Stoneham, Portsea, Cuxridge, Ringwood, and the local band were present, as well as Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon.

Mr. Williams proposed a vote of thanks to the Rectors of Diben and Fawley, which was carried.

Further ringing took place at Diben, and a party of six cycled to Fawley, some seven miles away, with Mr. Shepherd in command. The annual meeting of the district will take place at Romsey on November 4th.

GUILDFORD DISTRICT.

A very successful combined practice of the Guildford District was held at Godalming on Saturday last, ringers being present from Chiddingfold, Guildford (Holy Trinity and St. Nicolas), Godalming, Haslemere, and Shere. Good practice was made in various methods, including Grandsire, Stedman, Plain and Kent Treble Bob, and Double Norwich. It is hoped to arrange more of these practices in the near future.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South and West district was held at St. Peter's, Staines, on Saturday, August 19th. Ringing commenced shortly after 3 p.m., and was followed by a short service, conducted by the Rev. J. Huxley Williams, who in his address welcomed the Association to St. Peter's, on behalf of the Vicar (the Rev. F. Marriott), who entertained the members to tea in the Parish Hall after service.—The Rev. J. Huxley Williams presided at the business meeting which followed, and was supported by the Ringing Master (Mr. C. S. Bird).—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for his kind hospitality and for allowing the members the use of the bells and Church Hall; to the Rev. Huxley Williams, the Ringing Master, the organist, and Mr. J. Preston for their kindly assistance to the Association.

A vote of thanks was also accorded to the Vicar of St. Mary's for the use of his bells after tea, and the steeplekeeper, Mr. S. Greenwood.

Over 40 ringers attended, and the methods rung varied from Grandsire to Cambridge.

A GATHERING IN SOMERSET.

A meeting of old friends took place in Somerset during a recent week-end. On August 12th the first five of the party met at the Parade, Taunton. They were Messrs. J. H. B. Hesse (Haslemere), J. Thomas (London), J. Tyler, P. Merson and J. Hunt (Taunton), and they proceeded by taxi to East Lyng, where the five bells were raised in peal, and six-scores of Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman were tapped off. At St. Benedict's, Glastonbury, the little party met Mr. J. T. Dyke, and Cambridge Surprise and Kent Treble Bob Minor were brought round. Away again, the party next called at East Pennard, where they were met by the genial Vicar, who rang Bob Minor with them. Cambridge Minor and Stedman Doubles were also rung before going on to Ditchat, the object of the day. Here, after lunch, Messrs. W. Farley, of Wells, and A. H. Pulling, of Winchester Guild fame, brought the band up to eight in number, and a splendid peal of Stedman Triples was 'bagged.' After an excellent tea, all except Mr. W. Farley went on to Queen Camel to try the most excellent peal of six in England. The tenor is really one of Purdue's jewels, weighing 36 cwt. 2 qr. Cambridge Minor, Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles were rung on this noble peal, and a touch of Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples on the handbells at a house 'within the meaning of the Act,' concluded the programme. Taunton was reached just after 10 p.m., after a day that will be remembered for a long time by those who took part in the trip.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.*PRESTON BRANCH EXPLORES NEW GROUND.

A very successful meeting of the Preston Branch was held at Scorton on Saturday, August 19th. It is remarkable that no meetings have been held at this tower before, but the Preston branch intend to return to the place now that they have explored it. A party of 30 ringers and wives made the journey from Preston by charabanc, and the more fortunate ones came in their own cars and sidecars, while several made the journey on push bikes, two in particular doing 30 miles each way. The bells were raised soon after 3 p.m., and at once set going to Stedman Triples, followed by touches of Treble Bob and Double Norwich. Tea necessitated three relays owing to the limited accommodation, but the needs of all were amply satisfied by Mr. R. Exton, the verger and head ringer at Scorton.

The business meeting followed tea. Mr. Taylor, of Penwortham, presiding. Mr. E. R. Martin tendered his resignation as branch secretary, which was accepted, and a vote of thanks accorded to him for his past services.

Mr. W. Taylor was appointed in his place, and also to serve on the general committee of the Association.

Several matters relating to the annual social were discussed, and a full report of the recent committee meeting at Preston was presented by the retiring branch secretary.

The usual vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and local ringers at the close of the proceedings.

Further ringing then took place till 8 p.m., when the bells were lowered in peal, and the charabanc was headed for home.

For the information of intending visitors it may be said that the bells are a splendid ring by Messrs. Warner, the tenor being about 19 cwt. in E. The circle is rather spoiled by the clock case, but the 'go' is good, and the village is within easy reach of Blackpool, Preston and Lancaster.

SUCCESSFUL GATHERING AT OSWALDTWISTLE.

A most successful and enjoyable meeting of the Blackburn Branch was held at Oswaldtwistle, on Saturday, August 26th, when ringers from the following towers in the branch attended: Blackburn, Parish and St. Michael's; Burnley, Parish and Holy Trinity; Padiham, Accrington, Church Kirk, Rishton; Mr. R. Deal, of Manchester, and Messrs. Taylor, Penwortham, with members of the local tower.

Ringing commenced at 2.30 p.m., and the bells were kept going in various methods till 5.15. Touches were brought round in Grand-sire, Bob Minor, Violet, Grandsire, Bob Major, Kent, Stedman, Double Norwich and Superlative.

An excellent tea was provided in the School Room, after which the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Thornley).

The rest of the evening was spent in a social manner. Songs were beautifully rendered by Miss B. Houldsworth and Mr. J. Tomlinson, whilst Mr. Lofthouse, of Blackburn, gave instrumental selections which delighted everyone. Dancing was indulged in, and all voted the gathering a most enjoyable one.

NEWBURY RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, August 12th, Newbury ringers, by the kind invitation of Capt. Borguis, of Oaklands, Curridge, had a splendid outing, visiting towers in North Berks. A start was made at 8.45 a.m. from Newbury, by charabanc, to Curridge and Chieveley, to pick up Capt. Borguis, the Rev. Attlee, and the renowned 'Tommie'. Thence to Hermitage, Bucklebury, Bradfield and Pangbourne on to Stratley, the first place of call, which was reached at 11.30 a.m. The bells were soon got going to Stedman and Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor.

Lunch was served at the Swan Hotel, and the health of the Captain was proposed and drunk by the company.—The Rev. Attlee stated he had been told if ever he wanted a good outing to get in with the ringers. He was pleased he had done so, and he would never say 'no' again to an invitation.

The captain replied that as he had had such a good time with the ringers on their outing to Windsor he thought it only right to have another one, and he hoped there would be many.

After lunch, Goring tower was visited, and the bells kept going for half an hour. Then on over the hills to Blewbury with its ring of eight, where the visitors indulged in Grandsire Triples for an hour. Passing through Hagbourne, Didcot, and Appleford to Abingdon, where tea was partaken of, they visited St. Helen's, with its peal of ten bells. Grandsire Triples, and with the help of some of the St. Helen's band, Caters were attempted.

The thanks of the company are tendered to the foremen of the tower, visited, and to Captain Borguis for such a successful and enjoyable outing.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION HALESWORTH DISTRICT.

A district meeting was held on Saturday last, at Halesworth, 25 members attending from Beccles, Bungay, Framlingham, Ipswich, Badingham, Loddon, Thornham-Magna, Laxfield, Peasenhall, Kessingland, Henham, Wrentham, Chediston, Wissett and Halesworth. The visitors included Mr. Cyril Johnston, of the Croydon Bell Foundry.

By kind permission of the authorities, the bells of the parish church (8), and also those of Wissett and Chediston (6), were available during the afternoon and evening, and were made good use of by the ringers, touches in several methods being brought round.

Tea was provided at the Swan Hotel, after which the bells were kept going for the remainder of the evening. The day was fine, and a most enjoyable time was spent by all present.

LORD HENNIKER ELECTED A MEMBER.

A meeting of the Eye district of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury, and Ipswich Diocesan Association was held at Thornham Magna, members attending from Bungay, Debenham, Kelsale, Ipswich, Wenhamston, Pulham and Wetheringsett, in addition to the local company. Through the kindness of Lord Henniker, tea was served in the Schoolroom, his Lordship presiding, supported by the Rev. E. F. Bingley and Messrs. E. F. Poppy, W. Rose, E. Youngs, and E. Evans (branch secretary).

Lord Henniker, in opening the proceedings, expressed regret at the absence of the District Honorary Secretary (Mr. H. Day), owing to the death of his father, Mr. F. Day, of Eye, who was for many years secretary for the district, and proposed that the Branch Secretary convey a message of condolence to Mrs. Day and family. —This was carried, members rising in their places.

The Rev. E. F. Bingley welcomed the members to Thornham, saying what pleasure the sound of bells gave inhabitants of villages, as well as bringing home to them, whether in glad moments or the more solemn moments of life, what bells stood for.

In proposing Lord Henniker as an honorary member, the Branch Secretary said he felt it an honour that practically the last official business he should do for the Association before leaving the county was to propose his Lordship as a member of the Association, and it would give pleasure to the officers, as well as members, to see his name in the annual report.

Mr. E. F. Poppy proposed that the thanks of those present be accorded the clergy who had placed bells at their disposal, to his Lordship for presiding, and to the ladies who had so kindly waited at table.

DUDLEY & DISTRICT GUILD.*PLEASANT MEETING AT WOMBORNE.

A quarterly meeting of this Guild was held at the beautiful and picturesque village of Womborne, Staffs., on Saturday, August 19th, and was favoured with an ideal summer afternoon, members from the various towers in the Guild availing themselves of the opportunity of being present. The bells were at the disposal of the members, from 2.30 until the service, which was conducted by the Rev. H. L. Langley (Vicar), who also gave a homely and inspiring address, in which he extended to the Guild a hearty welcome to his church and parish.

After service, the business meeting took place, at which the Vicar presided. Apologies were announced from Mr. Harry Mason, Mr. Arthur Spittle, and the secretary.—Several new members were added to the roll, including the Vicar, who was pleased to have his name put forward as an honorary member. The next quarterly meeting was fixed to take place at Darlaston, the date being left with the secretary and Rector of Darlaston.

At the close of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of Womborne for so readily granting permission to hold this meeting at his church, also for conducting the service, for his address, for presiding at the meeting, and for the use of the bells; to the organist for the musical portion of the service, to the local ringers, especially Mr. T. Thorpe, for making the necessary arrangements, for the ringing, and to all who had assisted in any way in making the meeting such a happy one.

The Vicar returned thanks for all concerned, and said it was a pleasure to him to be able to meet the members of the Dudley Guild, and he hoped they would visit Womborne again. It was incidentally mentioned that it was just eight years since their last meeting at Womborne, and the Vicar expressed the wish that it would not be eight again before they paid Womborne another visit.

It was proposed to ring the quarterly peal for the Guild at Womborne during the ensuing quarter.

The hope was expressed that many more members will attend the monthly practice of the Guild at St. Thomas' Church, Dudley, when the belfry is open to all ringers from 7.30 p.m. on the first Monday in each month.

A REFERENCE SYSTEM.

Recent events have again emphasised the necessity of having available some system of reference by which the author of a method or the composer of a peal can ascertain whether he is the first in the field with his production. A method which turned out to be Lancashire Surprise has just been published again under another name by Mr. Ridgway, who had produced it without any knowledge of its prior publication, and who, as his letter last week explains, had tried all available avenues open to him to see if the method had been obtained before. Then there was Mr. Pitman's Triples method, which had long ago been worked out by Mr. J. W. Parker, but which had not been previously published. Here, within a week or so, are two instances which show the need for some central reference to which composers can go for information. It has been due to the want of these facilities in the past that some of the Minor methods have been rung under three or four different names.

What applies to methods applies also to peal compositions. A recent case in point was the peal of Cambridge Royal, which had been rung with the names of Mr. William Pye and the Rev. H. Law James as composers. It is only when some accident brings to light the fact that the productions of two or more men are the same thing that the real title to authorship can be decided; indeed, we have seen how it is possible for it to remain in dispute even when it is clear that one or other of the claimants must be in the wrong. Our contention is that the Central Council should file copies of all methods and the figures of all peals that are in existence, so far as they are obtainable, so arranged that they may be accessible for reference. The subject was before the Council at the last meeting, but, being involved with a resolution that proposed the proving of all peals before they are rung or published, this part of the motion did not receive the consideration it deserved, and was defeated largely, if not entirely, because it was coupled with a proposal which the Council looked upon as impracticable. If methods and peals were classified—the classification on the lines of the Council's publications might not, and, in the case of peal compositions, certainly would not be the best way of doing it—any composer could at small trouble find out whether what he had got to give the Exercise had been previously obtained. It would be a source of satisfaction to the conscientious man, and save a good deal of heart-burning among those who know that peals which they have long since found are being claimed by composers who have come on the scene at a much later date. This is a matter in which no time should be lost. Delay will only add to the labour and the difficulties of the task of setting up the file, and even now it will be a big undertaking.

BOLTON BRANCH.

On Saturday last, the Bolton Branch held a very successful meeting at Leigh Parish Church, over forty members being present, with visitors from Manchester and Wigan branches. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and Bob Major were brought round.

The business proceedings were presided over by the vice-president, Mr. J. Potter, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at West-houghton.

Nominations for the positions of President, Ringing Secretary and Treasurer, were discussed, and it was decided to nominate the present holders.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the ringers for their hearty reception.

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCES.

ALDERSHOT, HANTS.—At the Parish Church, on Wednesday, June 21st, on the occasion of the presentation of the Charter for the new Municipal Borough of the town of Aldershot, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 43 mins., by members of the Winchester Diocesan Guild: C-Sergt. G. Gilbert, R.E. 1, Miss A. Fisher 2, Miss B. Mills 3, Miss H. F. Mills 4, A. J. Croucher 5, R. J. Hasted 6, R. Hasted (conductor) 7, G. Peto 8. The ringers of the 6th and 7th batt from Farnham, the rest belong to the local band.

HAWKHURST, KENT.—On Thursday, August 17th, after the fortnightly Thursday evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: Mrs. H. Baker (Frittenden) 1, H. Baker (Frittenden) 2, T. E. Sone (Linton) 3, H. Head (Staplehurst) 4, G. Billenness (conductor) 5, J. Head (Staplehurst) 6, B. Baker (Frittenden) 7, F. Chapman 8. Composed by A. J. Pimman. This is the first time a lady ringer has taken part in a quarter-peal at Hawk-hurst, and it was rung at the first attempt.

LIVERPOOL.—On Tuesday, August 15th, at the Church of St. Nicholas, a quarter-peal of Stedman Caters (1,299 changes), in 55 mins.: W. Davies 1, W. J. Bowden 2, W. Fisher 3, *C. S. Benwell 4, F. Hammond, junr., 5, A. Lowe 6, J. Martin (composer and conductor) 7, *S. F. Barnes 8, E. Canuce 9, C. I. Davies 10. Specially arranged for Mr. Bowden (Edmonton) and Mr. Lowe (Beeston, Notts). * First quarter-peal of Stedman Caters.

PERRY BARR, STAFFS.—On Monday, August 14th, at St. John's Church, in 44 mins., a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: W. Cooper 1, G. T. Mitchison 2, James George 3, M. Watts, Read 4, F. W. Rushworth 5, O. Davis 6, R. O. Ingram (composer and conductor) 7, H. Cook 8. Rung to celebrate the 18th birthday of the conductor, the whole of the band congratulating this promising young ringer. Except Mr. James George, all are members of the local band.

HAYES, KENT.—On August 14th, 720 Kent Treble Bob and 720 Oxford Single Bob: J. Grandfield 1, H. Reader 2, J. Hack 3, O. Gilbey 4, H. Brown 5, J. Brown 6. Conducted by O. Gilbey and H. Reader respectively.—On August 21st, 720 Merchant's Return, standing as above. Conducted by H. Brown.

LUTON, BEDS.—At the Parish Church, for a wedding, on August 22nd, two quarter-peals of Stedman Triples: H. Walker 1, A. King 2, T. Blackburn 3, T. Kendall 4, C. Rollings 5, B. Jarman 6, L. A. Goodenough (conductor) 7, A. Rookwood 8.

OSWESTRY, SHROPSHIRE.—On Thursday, August 24th, for evening, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 45 mins.: T. Marshall 1, R. Evans 2, J. Hughes 3, W. B. Kynaston 4, H. Jarman 5, R. Edwards 6, E. Jones (conductor) 7, Miss Hilda Orchard 8. Arranged for Miss Orchard, of Portishead, Som., and rung as a birthday compliment to W. B. Kynaston.

ALFRED BOWELL,
CHURCH BELL FOUNDER,
IPSWICH.

CHURCH TOWER AND BELLS DESTROYED.

A fire broke out at Croughton Church, Northants, on Monday, the tower being completely burnt out, and the bells destroyed.

The church, which was recently restored at a cost of several thousand pounds, is partly Norman and Early English.

On the wall of the chancel is a Jacobean monument of John Clarke, who died in 1603, while the carved ends of some of the oak seats are noteworthy.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A well-attended meeting of the above Society was held on Saturday, August 26th, at Calverley. In the afternoon an attempt was made for a peal of Treble Bob Major, but came to grief through a rope slipping the wheel. Afterwards the bells were rung to Stedman, Double Norwich and Treble Bob.

The business meeting was held in the tower, Mr. Popplewell being in the chair, supported by members from Rothwell, Bolton, Shipley, Pudsey, Headingley, Armley, Leeds Parish Church, Idle, and the local band.

The company for the peal attempt at Idle was selected.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the local company for their kind arrangements. This concluded the business, and further ringing then took place.

REV. H. LAW JAMES' 300 PEALS.

The Rev. H. Law James has just completed his third century of peals, and few ringers, we imagine, can claim so great a variety of methods in such a collection:—

QUICK SIX TRIPLES.*A NEW METHOD WHICH DESERVES ATTENTION.

There is such a dearth of higher Triples methods, that something new, which would be really worthy of practice, should be welcomed by the Exercise. In our issue of August 25th we published a new Triples method which Mr. A. J. Pitman, of Port Talbot had evolved. As subsequent information goes to show, the same method in a better form, in that it keeps the division heads in coursing order, had been previously obtained by Mr. J. W. Parker, of Sunderland, who, however, had not published it, merely for the reason, we believe, that a peal is not possible without a call which has five bells lying still. Mr. Pitman's peal contains two Holt's Singles to achieve this end, with Stedman bobs for the rest of the calls. Mr. Parker produced a peal containing Holt's Singles only, and remarkable for its simplicity.

For the benefit of our readers, we give the method in the form that Mr. Parker produced it, and in which form it is more likely to commend itself to ringers. It is a method which, we believe, will be found more difficult than Stedman to ring, and deserves the attention of those who are looking for something fresh. Mr. Pitman's composition also runs true to form.

AN EXCELLENT PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Being away from home, I could not write last week regarding Mr. A. J. Pitman's new Triples. As Mr. George Baker kindly took the trouble to point out to you, I have had this method and the extent for some years. However, Mr. Pitman is the first to publish it, and his peal is an excellent one.

Knowing something of the difficulties to be overcome and the care required, before such a peal can be completed, I can sincerely congratulate him on discovering the extent of Triples in such a method, and can vouch for the truth of the peal.

In writing this I am chiefly concerned, now that it has been published, that the method should be taken up by the Exercise, for it is certainly worthy of attention. In the way it is put before us by Mr. Pitman, it not only appears irregular, but it is stated so briefly that but few conductors will be able to follow the calling. To obtain perfect regularity the plain course should commence at the middle of the six, where seventh's place is made, when the position of the twin bobs will be much clearer.

As there is a great need for good Triple systems, I venture to suggest that, with your permission, Mr. Pitman should give us a further exposition of this method. A peal with Holt's singles only, 46 being the minimum, appears to be worthy of consideration.—Yours sincerely,

JOSEPH W. PARKER.

We should be glad to fall in with Mr. Parker's suggestion to publish a further exposition of the method.—Ed. 'R.W.'

BERKHAMPSTED BELLS.*APPEAL FOR A NEW RING.

'An Old Bell Ringer' has written to the 'Berkhamsted Gazette,' appealing for a new ring of bells in the Parish Church. He writes: 'May I, through the medium of your columns, call attention to the fact that it is high time that the bells of St. Peter's, Berkhamsted, were replaced by a new set worthy of the old church. Here we have the finest old church for miles around, in the centre of a very pretty old-time town, where thousands of people, in the course of a year, are called to church by a peal of bells which really are a disgrace to our fine old parish church. All around are much smaller and less important churches which have a peal of bells with a very sweet tone and which are a delight to hear, fit to grace the finest churches in the country. Yet an ancient and historical old church like St. Peter's has a peal of bells out of tune, and the sixth bell cracked to such an extent that for some considerable time now it has been unsafe to ring it. According to my opinion bells are placed in the tower of a church with the idea that when they are ringing for a service they sound so sweet and beautiful that people are drawn by them to the more beautiful service of God inside the church. But the bells of St. Peter's far from being sweet and delightful to hear soon get on one's nerves, especially those people who live quite near to the church. Although it is a big and expensive item to hang new bells, cannot something be done by the people of Berkhamsted to remove any cause for complaint in respect of the finest old building in this ancient and historical old town?'

PRESENTATION TO LEWES RINGER.*SECRETARIAL SERVICES RECOGNISED.

At a special gathering of ringers at Southover Church, Lewes, Sussex, on Tuesday of last week, a presentation was made to Mr. Charles Errey, in recognition of his services as secretary to the local Guild for eight years. In addition to the local men there were several visiting ringers present, and some good touches in various methods were brought round.

When ringing ceased, the Rector and President of the Guild (the Rev. G. M. Davies) presided over the gathering, supported by the following vice-presidents: Capt. R. C. Souter (churchwarden), Alderman B. V. Verral, Messrs. O. T. Lloyd and J. T. Glandfield.

Mr. J. T. Glandfield explained that the meeting was called to do honour to the long and valuable services rendered to the Guild by their old friend, Mr. Charles Errey. It would be remembered, he said, that at the last annual meeting Mr. Errey felt bound to resign from the office which he had held for eight years. The Guild were indebted to him for his good work. Frequently during the war Mr. Errey was the only one to ring for Sunday services. He (the speaker) had the privilege of being closely associated with Mr. Errey during many years, and could testify to his sterling worth and to his wholeheartedness in carrying on the best traditions of the Guild.

Capt. Souter, Alderman Verral and Mr. C. T. Lloyd bore testimony to the valuable services which Mr. Errey had rendered to the Guild, and expressed their pleasure at being associated with others in the testimonial to him.

The Rector endorsed all that had been said previously and testified that he had always found Mr. Errey steadfast and reliable. They were all sorry to lose him officially, but glad to know that he would be at hand to assist when required. He had not known him as long as the others present, but he was very glad to have the pleasant duty of handing him the little mark of appreciation which the members of the Guild (both ringing and honorary) had placed in his hands.

The Rector then handed a gold bell watch pendant to Mr. Errey, the inscription on which read: 'Southover Church Bell Ringers' Guild, Charles Errey, Hon. Sec., 1914-22.'

Mr. C. Errey, who replied in a few well-chosen words, said he much appreciated their kindly thought, and he valued and would always keep their gift in memory of his many happy years of association with the Guild.

The Rector was heartily thanked for taking the chair and making the presentation, on the motion of Mr. R. J. Dawe (captain), seconded by Mr. J. Steadman.

TOUR THROUGH HERTS, BUCKS & BEDS.

Through the kindness of the Vicar and churchwardens, the ringers of the Parish Church, Luton, had their annual outing on Saturday, August 19th. The weather was perfect, and a start was made by motor at 9.30 a.m., by way of Harpenden, St. Albans, Watford, Rickmansworth, and Uxbridge. St. John's, Hillingdon, was reached at 11.45 a.m., a quarter of an hour after scheduled time, due to the rough roads between Oxley and Denham Corner. A visit was made to St. John's Church, and the ringers were welcomed by Miss N. D. Williams and Mr. J. J. Pratt. Wending their way up the ancient oak staircase, the belfry was reached, and the bells, a nice peal of ten, set going for about an hour to Stedman and Grandsire Cater, and Bob Royal. St. Andrew's, Uxbridge, with a light peal of eight, in good going order, was the next place of call, Mr. Hancock having everything in readiness. Touches of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major were brought round in fine style.

Tracks were then made to the Chequer, Hotel, where an admirable lunch was partaken of, and greatly enjoyed, after which the charabanc was again boarded for Beaconsfield via Gerrard's Cross. The visitors were welcomed at the belfry by Mr. Buckland and Mr. Cecil Mayne, the writer not having met the latter gentleman for about 13 years. The methods rung on this fine peal, hung with roller bearings by Messrs. Meats and Stainbank, were Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major, one of the locals, ringing his second course of Cambridge Surprise faultlessly. Bidding Beaconsfield friends adieu a drive of two hours through some of the finest scenery in Bucks, via High Wycombe, Princes Risboro', Wendover and Halton Camp (one of the members having a very vivid recollection of this neighbourhood during the great war) was enjoyed, and Tring was reached at 6 p.m., Mr. Reeves, a very keen campanologist, meeting the party. Tea at the George Hotel was well served by Host Burton, after which the tower was visited, and the grand peal, with tenor about 26 cwt., set to the tune of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major.

At 8.30 p.m. a hasty good-bye was said to the Tring ringers, and tracks made for home via Dunstable, Luton being reached at 10 p.m., after a most pleasant time. This opportunity is taken to express the ringers' best thanks to the incumbents of the various churches for their kindness in allowing them the use of the bells, and to the various friends met with on the trip for having everything in readiness, and for their kind welcome.

A PEAL OF STEDMAN TRIPLES.
IN FOUR-BOB SETS.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—I shall be glad to know through 'The Ringing World' whether the following composition of Stedman Triples (in four-bob sets) throughout and only two singles) has been obtained before, and if so, to whom it belongs? Thanking you in anticipation.—Yours faithfully,

A. J. PITMAN.

STOKE RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, August 26th, the ringers of Stoke-on-Trent visited Broughton, where the beautiful peal of bells have been recently hung. The party left Stoke by charabanc, and reached Broughton after a lovely ride. On arrival at the church they were met by the local ringers and Mr. Weatherby, of Market Drayton. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung, after which the visitors made their way to the Church Room, a party of 26, including the locals, sitting down to tea, generously provided by the Vicar. After tea change ringing on the handbells was greatly appreciated. Subsequently there was further ringing on the tower bells with the local men before the party returned to Stoke, after having had a most enjoyable outing. The best thanks are due to Mr. Lawton (who first learned the art of change ringing at Stoke) and the local ringers for having everything in readiness, and to the Vicar for the use of the bells.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Congratulations are due to young Frederick Howson, who, at thirteen years of age, has rung his first peal, a 5,040 of Minor in two methods, and on a 'bob' bell. It is quite a good performance.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have been given the order to rehang the peal of eight at Crayford in a new iron frame, the whole cost of which is being generously defrayed by Mr. G. Evans, a former churchwarden for nearly forty years, and whose family increased the peal from five to eight in 1876 in memory of their father.

There was an error in our recent reference in this column to the first 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples having been rung at Drayton. Mr. Joseph Griffin reminds us that the first performance of this peal without a conductor was at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, on Nov. 20th, 1886.

Mr. J. E. Davis writes, with reference to the footnote to the peal at Isleworth, rung on Saturday, August 26th, that he conducted a peal of Double Norwich there on September 29th, 1906. The accuracy of the footnote, however, depends upon when the bells were last rung.

Mr. J. E. Sykes, that missionary of ringing, who has been for some time past in Scotland, writes to say that 'steeples' still live. He found it in far-off Stirling, for on visiting East and West Churches, where there is a ring of four bells, all from Whitechapel, he was charged a fee of 2d. He sends us the ticket which he received in exchange for his coppers, and it is printed 'Royal Burgh of Stirling. Tower of West Church. Admission 2d.' Oh, those Scotsmen!

Mr. Sykes says that he left the current copy of the 'Ringing World,' the first one ever seen, in the tower.

We feel we must also print his postscript: 'Congrats. to Rupert. What a lot he has missed!'

Nothing too large and nothing too small can be put, in the way of a ringing job, before Mr. James George. That man who, approaching his 70th year, delights in as many hours on a heavy tenor as the ringers of the other bells will oblige him with, has just rung to a peal the smallest bell hung for ringing—the treble at Lye, where the tenor is only 3½ cwt. The treble is not much more than a good-sized tea cup.

The first commemoration dinner organised by the Yorkshire Association is to take place at Leeds on Sept. 23rd. Those who intend to be present should write for tickets without delay to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. P. J. Johnson, 90, Blackman Lane, Leeds.

It is interesting to note that another peal has been rung at New College, Oxford, where the present ring of ten was completed 212 years ago.

Michael Darbie recast the old five bells into a peal of eight in 1655, and Abraham Rudhall made them into ten in 1712. In 1703 he had recast the 4th upon which the inscription, 'Manners makes man,' had been placed.

Whether there was special need to impress that proverb upon the residents of Oxford at that period we do not know, but the inscription, 'Manners maketh man,' was placed upon each of the two new trebles in 1712, and again on the ninth, when it was recast in 1723.

In 1815, the greatest number of changes ever rung in the University of Oxford was rung at New College, a 10,008 of Grand sire Caters.

Records of some of the ringing at New College in early days found their way into the diaries of Heame, the Oxford worthy. Of one peal, a 6,876 of 'Cator changes,' he wrote that he had heard from good judges that 'take it altogether 'twas a glorious performance. For tho' there were two very great blunders and some other bad ringing, yet considering the length of the peal, it was admirable ringing, such as can hardly be matched, unless it be by the Londoners, it being a thing as it were next to impossible to go through such a long tedious work without faults.'

Then he records the names of the ringers and their occupations: 1, Heame, the Taylor; 2, Mr. Vickers, second Butler of New College; 3, Mr. George, the Taylor; 4, Mr. Guy Terry, Pot-ash maker in St. Clements; 5, Mr. Yates, second Cook of Magdalen College; 6, Mr. John Broughton, Barber; 7, Mr. Richard Smith, Glover; 8, Mr. Barnes, second Cook of Christ Church; 9, Mr. Arthur Lloyd, of Holywell, Carpenter and Bell Hanger; 10, Mr. Nicholas Bonwell, who shews Great Tom.

We also read that 'the ringers were much caressed when they had done, and were handsomely treated or entertained at New College.' We are not told whether last week's peal band were much caressed and feasted, when they finished their peal of Treble Ten.

On September 10th, 1741, the Crowfield Society, in which Theodore Ecclestone was the moving spirit, rang at Coddenhurst, Suffolk, 'a compleat peal of Five thousand and forty of Gathrine's Triples, being the first true peal that ever was prickled with two Doubles only.' This was, of course, Garthorn's peal of Grand sire Triples.

Theodore Ecclestone, who rang the treble in the peal, had an estate at Crowfield, and gave the bells at Coddenhurst and Stonham Aspill.

PROTECTION OF ANCIENT TOWERS. THE THREATENED CITY CHURCHES.

A very interesting volume to antiquarians is the 45th annual report of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, which has just been issued. The work done by the society since its foundation in 1877 has been in many directions extremely valuable, although, in the light of modern knowledge, those interested in bells and bell hanging have had cause to differ from the views expounded by the society in some specific cases.

As we have already mentioned in connection with the proceedings of the Central Council, there is now the prospect of an agreement being reached between the society and the Towers and Belfries Committee. The report drawn up by the committees of the two organisations is not yet ready for publication, as it is waiting confirmation by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. The Council have accepted the proceedings of their committee, and in the new report of the society it is recorded that 'During the past year the society has been in conference with the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers on the vexed question of bell hanging in old towers.'

Among the notes on many of the cases dealt with during the year the following extracts will be of interest to ringers and those connected with bell restoration.

BALSHAM CHURCH TOWER, CAMBRIDGESHIRE.

'This is a case,' says the report, 'which shows the usefulness of the society to those in charge of Parish Churches who are in difficulties as to what should be done for their preservation. Balsham church tower, with its grey walls and mellow stone buttresses and windows, is a very fine piece of thirteenth century work. It is, however, built on clay, and the old builders omitted to widen out the bottoms of the walls sufficiently to distribute the great weight of the tower safely over this none too secure foundation. Soon after the tower was finished, as it would seem, settlements took place which caused the walls to crack and the western arch between the tower and nave to spread.

'Some three hundred years later, Elizabethan masons not only strengthened the walls, but also added massive stone buttresses, eight feet wide and four feet thick, and this work seems to have more or less effectually stopped any further settlement.

'During last summer, however, the custodians of the church thought there were again signs of movement in the tower; and, becoming concerned for its safety, they came to the society for advice.

'After a careful survey, the society gave the Rector and churchwardens a report on the tower's condition, with detailed recommendations as to the works required for its security. This report stated that the recent mischief did not arise from any settlement of the foundations, but as a matter of fact had had its origin in the undue stresses imposed on the ancient walls by the ringing of the church bells. Of these bells there are six which, excepting one by Tonne—a well-known founder of Henry the Eighth's time—were probably cast in the first twenty years of the seventeenth century. They are hung in a high bell cage, of the same age as themselves, the oak timbers of which are for the most part still quite sound. The joints of the timbers have, however, worked loose, with the result that, when the bells are rung, the cage sways. Moreover, the stout beams supporting the cage transmit the momentum of the swung bells directly to the ancient walls, and concentrate the stresses thereon at the points where the beam ends rest, so that at these places there is a definite tendency for the masonry to become disrupted.

'The remedies recommended are to strengthen the bell cage by strong iron bolts, and to distribute the stresses from the beam ends over the walling by constructing in the thickness of the masonry immediately below the beams continuous bonding courses extending round the inside of the tower. Other works include the repair of cracks in the walls; the recovering of the tower roof with cast lead, and the reconstruction of the gutters behind the parapets in asphalt on a bed of concrete to be laid on the wall tops.

'The Rector and churchwardens have been most appreciative of the society's help; and the necessary work is going to be done.'

LONDON'S CITY CHURCHES.

The report contains some strong comments upon the suggested removal of churches in the City of London, and quotes the resolution passed by the National Assembly on February 7th, on the motion of the Bishop of London, directing the setting up of a committee 'to prepare a measure making provision for the union of benefices, and, if the committee thinks fit, for the removal of churches situate within the Metropolitan Police District and the disposal of their sites.'

The committee of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings point out, in the report, that while the motion undoubtedly embodies a formula which would enable many excellent and much-needed reforms in Church administration to be given effect to, quite unmistakably the terms of reference would enable the special committee so to cast the proposed measure, presumably a Bill to be put before Parliament, that the destruction, not only of City churches, but also of other ancient churches within the Metropolitan Police District, extending from Hatfield to Ewell and Epping to Watford, which might be regarded as having outlived their usefulness to the Church, could be determined upon and put into execution at the sole discretion of the Church Authorities, without let or hindrance.

'It is, therefore, of singular importance,' adds the society's report, 'that all who have regard to the preservation of these national historic buildings should be thoroughly well advised of what is afoot. Unopposed measures such as this have a way of finding themselves on the Statute Book before the general public is even aware that powers are being sought. In this instance the importance of watchfulness and of timely opposition to any measure which would give to the Church power in its absolute discretion to demolish any of the ancient buildings in its care, are of paramount necessity because of the attitude of the Bishop of London, and of his advisers towards them.'

Commenting on the Bishop's attitude, the report says: 'Although the Bishop of London sees, of course, clearly enough that by selling the sites of the City Churches a very large sum of money could be got with which to extend the Church's activities, it is little short of amazing that he should apparently have no perception of the enormous loss which the destruction of its ancient historic churches would entail. It follows, therefore, that he can, up to now, have no conception of the blighting cloud of obloquy which, when the loss was realised, would most inevitably descend upon those who had advocated or lent themselves to so dubious a means of raising money. Nor can he have any prevision of the great damage to the Church's prestige which would presently follow, together with the consequent disaster to the Church's aims and aspirations.' The report adds: 'That the Bishop can have but scant sense of the true value of the historic monuments of the Church has recently been clearly displayed by his action in the case of his own palace at Fulham. There, in the last few months, in the face of protests from this society, he has filled in the well known moat—the last which remained in London—a moat which, he it noted, had been kept in order by each link in the long chain of his predecessors in the See extending from the seventh century. What confidence, then, can be reposed in the Bishop or in his advisers as conservators of our priceless national relics? It is significant that the Diocese of London is one of very few which still have no Advisory Committee.'

This question of the City Churches is one of special interest to ringers, for several of those that it was originally proposed to abolish contain historic rings of bells. It was the subject of a resolution at the Central Council meeting at Northampton in 1920, when the Council resolved, 'That an appeal be sent to the Bishop of London's committee, urging the desirability of preserving all towers in the City of London in which there are notable rings of bells.' Several members urged the inclusion of a reference to the churches as well as the towers, but it was felt that to do so would be going outside the province of the Council, however strongly the members individually felt on the matter.

At the meeting in the following year it was reported that the resolution was forwarded as directed by the Council but that all that could be ascertained was that the Bishop of London's committee had gone out of existence.

The report of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings shows that the danger of losing the towers may soon appear again, and in this matter the Council may join their forces with the society in protesting against the destruction.

SPADE WORK.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I venture to thank you for your excellent article on ringing tours. I can fully testify to the good they do to the cause of change ringing, and the pleasure they give not only to those who take part in them, but to the ringers who live in the localities where they are arranged. They are a means of illustrating change ringing in its best form and in its various methods, and they also afford an opportunity of bringing together ringers who otherwise would never meet each other. But there is one thing which they fail to do, and that is render any assistance in what we may term the spade work of change ringing, i.e., teaching bands or individuals in the preliminary stages of the art. No one expects that those who take part in these tours can find time to do this, but my object in writing is to suggest that individual ringers might render valuable help in this way, and I rejoice to read in your paper that there are some who are willing to do so. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barker have lately been spending their holiday in Devon, and instead of ringing peals have visited various towers, not only in Exeter, but in the countryside around, ringing touches, and helping bands to get through their first six-score of Grandsire Doubles, and our thanks are due to them for so doing. Mr. A. W. Brighton has for many years rendered valued assistance to a great many bands in Devon and Cornwall in this way, and I am confident if other ringers who come West will do the same the cause of change ringing will be greatly forwarded. If they will write to me or to the Rev. E. Powell, Holbeton Vicarage, Plymouth, arrangements can be made for carrying out this object.—Yours faithfully,

Kelly House, Lifton, Devon.

THE CALL OF THE BELLS.

The bells hang silent in the tower,
The ropes beneath lack skill and power,
And yet the bells are calling.
No bells are heard from anywhere,
Silence and peace breathes o'er the hour.
And yet the bells are calling.

The ringer's heart receives their call,
Altho' his duty should forestall
The bell, he hears a-calling.
He cares not for the world and all
Those things that other men extol,—
He hears the bells a-calling.

He hastens to the old grey tower,
And brings his fellow ringers there.
To set the bells a-calling.
To call their neighbours there to share
In praise and thankfulness and prayer,
They set the bells a-calling.

They seek the ropes with eager hand
And with uplifted hearts they stand
To set the bells a-calling.
Their call is heard o'en all the land,
As it e'er was in old England:—
Her sweet church bells a-calling.

The ringers feel a happy thrill,
When bells echo from hill to hill
The bells that are a-calling;
For in their hearts there lingers still
The thought that now they do God's Will
To set the bells a-calling.

WHO'S 'J.F.'?

To the Editor.

In your current issue we had a most delightful pen picture of 'A Day in the Midlands.' By all accounts the day was 'FINE.' Still, there is a shadow of doubt, when one reads of the party sheltering under Strelley Broad Oak. But that's not the question, to the point 'who's J.F.'?

We begin to conjecture. Let us start from the fountain head, 'i.e., Bolsover.' Let us track down, if possible, this mysterious individual, who has been dubbed with these abbreviations, 'J.F.'

Clutching my antiquated copy of Kelly, I vigorously turn up Bolsover, only to find a trinity of cognomens which begin with the consonant 'F.' These appellations are respectively FOGG, FURNISS and FROST.

Fog, 'Fogg'! Why study that name? There's no fog mixed up with the ringers at Bolsover, so that clears away the FOGG. Next we've 'FURNISS.' Still we are no nearer, although to take the Bolsover men on ringing matters they're 'Hot' enough, and that's that! Then we in our conjectures arrive at the name of 'FROST.' That puts the 'Tin Hat on Kelly,' he was certainly no Frost to organise a day's outing, so picturesquely described.

The writer who has set up guessing seems to have an idea that this 'J. F.' is an expert. Can we obtain a clue from that source? No, I see nothing in that, only that 'J. F.' is expert in judging good bells from bad 'uns! for proof, see the towers he selected for a day's outing, which was unquestionably a very 'Musical Rendezvous!' But back to the conjecturing business. Having found nothing in Kelly to elucidate these evasive yet familiar initials, in my determination to trace him I turned still further back to pre-historic records. No, not the slightest trace is to be found in the Bronze Age. What shall I do now? Methinks as a final effort I'll try the preceding, or Neolithic period. At last! a most important clue turns up, and I found not the slightest difficulty in connecting the 'J' to 'JOHANNIS,' that's John. Then I piece the 'F' to 'FOSSILIS,' that's Fossil. By placing the two together we get 'John Fossil.' No, that cannot be the name, because an old Fossil could not be so genial a gentleman as 'J. F.' is. No, that's not him! But wait, hush! I'm inspired with still another 'striking' name. Let's consider, shall us? Ah! why should I be so stupid? I've got him fixed now, sure enough. It's—It's old 'DOMINE JOHANNES PYRITES TEMPLUM CAMPANI PULSATOR DE BOLSOVER,' so that has settled that, and that! Another guess, please.

Now let me have a consoling word with the antiquarian, whom 'that SAXEUS-hearted Sir John' would not permit to inspect the Medieval BELLE at Strelley CHURCHE.

Friend, you have my sympathy, but you want to go 'backward,' they want to go 'FORWARD.' Never mind, I'll look her up for yer next time I'm in the neighbourhood of Strelley. Will that console yer? I'll tell you whether her Dainty mouth is out of all proportion with her height, and whether her waist is proportionate and cylindrical; whether she's got a hemispherical crown, and a graceful curve of the lip. So there, DOMINE JOHANNES, that's that, without any string attached!

Apart from this little act of cruelty, I really don't think Sir John has got such a SLICEUS heart after all! or why should he have stopped the bus to give a wandering parson a lift? or go so far out of his way to pick up 'Poor old Betty's son'? He also showed his kindness when he could not 'GO BY' a perambulating bipe he found roaming about in a wood to the east, about 9 a.m.

Now let's turn to the place where they found GEORGE II. The writer says there's 'a fine peal, tenor 20 cwt.' That's news! Have they got another new peal? I know they soon wear 'em out there; it's a fact, they had two new peals of eight in less than a decade. No, don't believe it, that glorious tenor is only 17 cwt., and she, along with her harmonious sisters, have such a happy knack of deceiving even good judges! It's the volume of concord they breathe out that does the trick. They are not afraid to speak out for themselves, are they, eh?

Then the writer goes on to say 'The belfry and peal leave nothing to be desired.' Now, 'that's another unsolicited.' Thanks! but, I'm not having that! I say most emphatically they want another pair of trebles, to make 'em TEN! When that becomes manifest, I have a kind of sneaking idea that a further pleasure will be piled upon that which already exists. And that's that! Have another day in the Midlands, but of your charity leave the string at home; give the archaeologist a free hand to revel amid the dirt and grime of past centuries; give him a chance to collate some information so that he may write 'his book.' No doubt he would have found a 'Superlative Surprise' in the old bell at Strelley, which I believe is reputed to be coeval with the fabric. However, in spite of the weather, have another day and 'GO FORWARD' to Colston Bassett, but be cautious of the road, my hearties. I've known the bus wheel come off.

IRENEUS PISTOR.

A NEW THEORY.

The discussion of method construction and extension must inevitably crop up from time to time, otherwise we should have no progress in that branch of the art. It is an advanced phase in the theoretical side of ringing, and not every ringer is able to follow the involved arguments and the diversified views which are expressed. Nevertheless it is essential that those who are in a position to examine these complicated subjects should have the opportunity of putting forward their opinions, and that others should be able to criticise them. Eventually, by this means, perhaps, the Exercise will be put into possession of definite formulæ for method construction and extension, just as the researches of the past have produced certain definite lines upon which peal composers must work if the wish to grapple successfully with their task, and not grope blindly about for something which may or may not eventually turn out to be a true five thousand.

In a letter, dealing with method extension, which appears in another column, the Rev. E. S. Powell introduces a question which we do not think has ever before been dealt with in print and that is the application of the 'Q-set' in connection with method construction. This entirely new departure opens up all sorts of possibilities, and we believe it is Mr. Powell's opinion that if it can be established that methods are built upon Q-sets, as compositions are, the eventual consequences will be incalculable. Just as peal composition was systematised by Mr. W. H. Thompson's researches so will method construction be systematised. All experimental search for extensions on empirical lines will become out of date, the investigation being turned to an examination of the Q-sets. Indeed, Mr. Powell's view—and it is entitled to the utmost respect—is that all problems of method construction would be revolutionised by acceptance of the theory.

The proof of the existence of Q-sets has not yet been given, but the best argument for accepting them, as at least affording a useful working hypothesis, lies in the fact that they do actually fit in with what little is known of method construction. For example, in Mr. Powell's opinion, the Q-set theory affords a sound logical argument why the numerous productions last year, claiming to be London Royal, should not be entitled to that name. That the rivals eliminated one another was obvious, but no one has been able to explain how or why. The Q-set does so automatically. Many of those who experiment in method construction will, doubtless, disagree with Mr. Powell's contentions; but the Q-set has come upon the scene, and will deserve very close investigation before it is turned down. It opens up an avenue of really important research, to which the best minds of the Exercise should devote themselves.

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

Let the Music of the Bells celebrate Peace.

Messrs. CHARLES CARR, Ltd.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Bellfounders,

are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Bells of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all lovers of Bell Music.

In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most 'up-to-date' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

The handbell peal was rung in the conductor's grounds amidst beautiful scenery and surroundings.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.
GUILDFORD DISTRICT.

A district meeting was held at Aldershot on Saturday last, and was attended by ringers from Farnham, Godalming, Guildford (Holy Trinity and St. Nicolas), Sandhurst, Shere, Worplesdon, and members of the local company. The bells were available at three o'clock, and were kept going in various methods till five, when a service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. G. Ireland). The address was given by the Rev. A. Partridge, of St. Augustine's, North Town, Aldershot. The Guild service was used, and Miss Benham presided at the organ.

A substantial tea was generously provided in the Church Room by the Vicar, who presided, a company of about 35 being present. The Vicar welcomed the ringers, and expressed his great pleasure in seeing so good a number there, and gave a general invitation to hold meetings there as often as it could be arranged.

A business meeting followed, presided over by the Ringing Master (Mr. A. C. Hazelden). One compounding member and four probationers were elected.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the church and bells, and for providing the tea, to the Rev. A. Partridge for his excellent address, to Miss Benham for playing the organ, and to the lady ringers who assisted with the tea.

A move was then made for the belfry, when further ringing was indulged in till nine o'clock.

PEALS THAT ARE RUNG

AND WHO SHOULD PROVE THEM.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Good Mistress Peppery did come upon me yestere'en studying a ponderous tome by one Master Benjamin Thackrah, wherein is published a composition of Treble Bob Major ye footnote to which declares ye peal 'false in every course,' and ye goode woman did enquire of me why I did bother with false peals when I did possess so many ye truth of which was known.

So I did explain that as ringers were curious creatures and did ring firstly for their own pleasure; and, secondly, to give others pleasure; and lastly to give trouble to as many as had not ye ear for goode musick, and as we rung to please ourselves, we could just as well ring what we liked, if it were false.

Whereat ye good woman did enquire if there was not a rule laid down by ye goode Council which did prohibit us from doing so, upon which I had to explain that, in my humble opinion, the rule did not prohibit us from ringing a false peal if it did tickle our fancy so to do, but did prohibit us from foisting ye peal onto ye annals of ringing as a true peal. I did hasten to assure ye good woman that I had more than a little sympathy with ye goode Councilors on ye subject, though I did not belong to ye circle.

At which ye goode ladye did exclaim, 'Peppery, if you were elected to serve on the noble Council your reputation is such that you would be asked to apply for the "Campauological Chiltern Hundreds" long before your term had flown one session.' Ye goode woman must know me, not wisely, but too well. So I did e'en explain that my sympathies were with ye Council of ye wise ones, because of ye letters from ye gentlemen who would e'en throw all ye labour of proving peals onto ye Committees of ye Council, ye reason being that some few rotaries of ye noble art having rung false peals, and these said false peals having been published in ye reports of sundry Associations, ye said reports did lose prestige by handing down to posterity a record which was not wholly true. So ye several gentlemen did try to fix ye work on to shoulders which were not entitled to bear ye said work of proving all ye peals rung. Whereat goode Mistress Peppery did demand to know what ye Committees of ye said Associations were doing to allow false peals to appear in yeer reports, and that each member of each Association should, in her opinion, do his little best to lighten ye labour of ye Council. That ye peals which are rung are first sent to ye Chief Scribes of ye Guilds and then allowed to be published in yeer Reports is not ye fault of ye Council, neither could ye Council alter ye fact, is obvious, ye Composers of ye peals should not be compelled to publish yeer peals before they are rung, but ye Committees of ye Associations should be held responsible for ye truth of yeer reports. It is possible for a peal to be proved, first, by ye composer, second, by ye bob caller, third, by ye Committee of ye Association that it is rung under, and, fourthly, by ye Committee of ye Council, and still false peals escape notice.

At which ye goode woman did say that she could see that one such as I could neither end nor mend it; but the Council, 'twas certain, had enough to do without any more, that is, if all its members were fully employed. If they are not, perhaps some of them would volunteer the work of collecting ye file of all peals in all methods to put before ye final Committees of ye Council, one man to take one method.

ONCE A BEGINNER.

STEDMAN TRIPLES WITH FOUR-BOB SETS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Replying to Mr. A. J. Pitman's inquiry, I composed peals of Stedman Triples with 4-bob sets only and two singles, in 1906. The peal which he publishes was first rung in the October of that year, and was published in the 'Bell News' of December 22nd, 1906.

The bob blocks are exactly similar, the only difference in the two compositions being the placing of the single.—Yours faithfully, Sunderland.

JOSEPH W. PARKER.

NOT FOR GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Being unaware at the time of the rule as to the election of new members to the Gloucester and Bristol Association, two handbell peals, rung at Bristol on August 15th and 16th, were published under the heading of the Association when we were not entitled to do so. The peals can, however, be credited to the Winchester Diocesan Guild.—Yours, etc.,
A. H. PULLING.

BISHOP STORTFORD.—On Thursday, August 31st, at St. Michael's Church, Bishop Stortford, 1,575 Stedman Caters: H. J. Tucker 1, F. Bird 2, W. T. Prior 3, W. Prior 4, H. Dew 5, T. Jordan 6, E. J. Pitstow 7, T. Watts 8, F. Dench (conductor) 9, W. T. Ayre 10.

SAFFRON WALDEN.—On Saturday, Sept. 2nd, at 45, High Street, on handbells, 1,488 Bob Major: F. J. Pitstow 1-2, A. E. Pitstow 3-4, A. T. Ayre (conductor) 5-6, F. Dench 7-8.

ILKESTON RINGERS' FIRST OUTING.*HOW 'KEEP SMILING' SAVED THE SITUATION.

Ilkeston ringers' outing was arranged for Saturday, Sept. 2nd, but on September 1st two of the band felt something like a conductor when he has missed a hot in the last course of a peal, for one of the motors which had been engaged had got out of control. Every other car in the district seemed to be engaged, and it was not until 7 p.m. that these two ringers found 'Keep Smiling' standing in the garage. After telling a good tale they managed to secure her service, and then it was the turn of hunters to smile, but on condition they arrived home at 8.30 instead of 9.30, as the car had yet to fetch a party home afterwards. Ringers, to the number of 24, met at the time stated on the 2nd, not knowing the previous trouble, and started on a trip through the Leicestershire Hills, calling at Loughborough, where, by the kind permission of Messrs. Taylor and Co., they paid a visit to the bell foundry, the inspection being most interesting, and much appreciated by all. After viewing the several peals in the tuning and fitting shops, the ringers found their way to the foundry tower, where Stedman was on the programme. Forward and Kent were also brought round. Permission could not be granted for a pull at the Parish Church, as Cambridge Royal was in progress. But here the party were quite content to hear this most noble peal of ten being well struck, while the ladies, who had wandered off, were hunted up. Then the party made their way on through the Leicestershire forests and hills, the trip to Hugglescote being very much enjoyed by all except 'The Queen of the Valley' and 'Keep Smiling,' which got very well warmed. Hugglescote was reached a few minutes behind time, but not too late for the long course which was waiting for them at the Castle Inn. Here they were met by Mr. E. W. Rands. After dinner the ringers made their way to the tower, the bells being up ready. Here a most amusing incident happened when the man at the seventh rope thought he was on the treble, and after his 'Look to, treble's gone,' the bells went off 76543218. However, the mistake was soon righted, and a nice touch of Stedman was tapped off, also a course of Plain Bob. Ashby-de-la-Zouch was the next objective, but owing to 'Keep Smiling' being anxious to reach home only a course of Stedman and a short touch of Treble Bob, besides ringing up and down in peal, was accomplished. These are a very fine peal, with nice ropes, which spring a lot. After thanking the local ringers for meeting them and making arrangements, the visitors made their way towards home, reaching Ilkeston at 8.50, safe and sound. This was the first outing of the kind for this party, who are looking forward to the next, and they wish to thank all those who helped to make the outing a success.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.*To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. James's remarks on the demerits of Lancashire Surprise Major, may I ask him if there is not more fault to be found with our rather cramped ideas of all the essentials which are necessary to form a really first-class method? There is no doubt that Lancashire is, as I stated, the twin to Bristol. If one looks at the following illustrations, he will find that one is practically the reverse of the other in each quarter lead, which, in a double method gives the whole of the work (the second quarter lead is a reverse of the first), which brings to treble to the whole pull behind, the full treble lead being completed with repeating the work backwards.

I have made no claim that it is in any way superior to Bristol, personally I prefer the latter, but, if we must really find fault, that method also has its faults, as there is a certain monotony in the sameness of the positions right throughout a peal, which is increased somewhat with the use of the lengthening lead.

In Lancashire we have a greater variety of positions turn up, and, as in Superlative, a few might not be particularly musical. The bulk of them are exceptionally so, and give an especial charm in their variety.

Regarding Mr. James's remarks on my reference to Bristol Royal, and his assertion that there is no such thing, and never will be, I must say we differ much. My extension is a perfect and true one; Mr. James's is not, and I can point out why, but as I am sure other gentlemen will take the matter up, I will leave the task in the hands of some better exponent with the pen.—Yours truly,

ARTHUR CRAVEN.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

This is our 600th number, and it is, perhaps, not uninteresting to note that every front page article that has appeared has been written by the Editor.

Week by week, in good health or in bad, this task has been accomplished without a break from the first number to the present.

In such a long series, it would have been impossible to please all our readers all the time, much less have we expected everyone to agree with all the opinions which have been expressed. But what we have tried to do has been to give our readers something to think about and talk over.

In this we hope we have succeeded, and if we have done that much the labour has certainly not been in vain.

The first peal rung by the Society of St. Martin's Youths was rung at St. Philips', Birmingham, on Sept. 16th, 1755. It was a peal of Bob Major.

On Sept. 17th, 1896, the 11,328 London Surprise Major (then the longest in the method) was run at Drayton, where the Rev. F. E. Robinson was Vicar for so many years.

The London County Association's outing, arranged for last Saturday, had to be cancelled at the last moment.

We record another good performance this week on the part of a youthful ringer, Walter F. Whitehead, having, at the age of 14, rung his first peal of Superlative Surprise on an 'inside' bell, at Market Harborough.

The bells of All Saints' Maldon, Essex, which have recently been recast, two trebles added, and fixed in a steel frame by Mr. Bowell, of Ipswich, will be dedicated by the Bishop of Barking on Wednesday, Sept. 27th, at 8 p.m.

With reference to the peal of Double Norwich at Isleworth, mentioned in this column last week, Mr. T. Beadle sends us the information that the bells were reopened on October 25th, 1903, so that Mr. J. E. Davis' peal there in 1906 has prior claim to being the first peal in the method after the rehangings of the bells.

The bells were cast by Lester and Pack in 1767, and bear quaint inscriptions typical of those in fashion at the time. On the sixth, for instance, is the couplet:—

Ye Ringers all that prize your health and happiness.

Be Sober, Merry, Wise, and you'll the same possess.

While the sixth informs us that 'Musick is Medicine to the Mind.'

The Rev. E. W. Carpenter writes explaining the inscription on some of the bells at New College, Oxford, to which reference was made in this column last week. The words, which should be 'Manners makyth man,' are the motto of William of Wykeham's two colleges at Oxford and Winchester.

Mr. George C. Collins, the Kent cricketer, who was the only bowler to take ten wickets in an innings in a county match this year, is a member of the Kent Association, being a ringing member of the Milton-next-Gravesend band, and has, so far, rung four peals of 5,040. All ringers offer their congratulations.

The peal at Cullompton, Devon, recorded last week, was not the first peal on the bells, as stated in the footnote, but the first peal in the method. The weight of the tenor is 19 cwt. 2 qr. 4lb., and not 22 cwt.

WEDDING BELLS.

The peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's, Birmingham, and the peal of Stedman Caters at Solihull, were specially arranged and rung as complimentary peals to Miss Louisa Phyllis Bratton, eldest daughter of Mr. T. J. Bratton, late of Shrewsbury, on her marriage to Mr. Herbert Stanley, of Edgbaston, Birmingham the ceremony taking place on September 6th at St. Augustine's Church, Edgbaston. The reception was held at the George Hotel, Solihull. The bands tender their thanks to Mr. T. J. Bratton, who kindly provided refreshments after each peal.

HELPFUL VISITORS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I entirely agree with the remarks of the Rev. M. Kelly in your last issue regarding the help which could be given to bands by ringers staying in a town or village for a short time. But there is a point which must also be borne in mind which he does not mention. I refer to the silent help given to bands by those who, from time to time, visit various towers while on holiday. There are many bands who have derived great benefit out of these silent visits from ringers who are anxious to help others in the art, and many a ringer in both town and country will testify to the painstaking efforts on the part of these voluntary helpers. These visits are not usually heard of in your paper, but the Exercise is greatly indebted to those who visit these towers, wherever help is needed, and who do not seek any reward excepting the satisfaction of knowing that some good may possibly result.—Yours faithfully,

W. SHEPHERD.

THE Q-SETS OF METHOD CONSTRUCTION.

To the Editor.

Sir,—It was at one time a well recognised practice of certain advocates when they had no case to blackguard the attorney on the opposite side. Mr. Bramble adopts the more amusing plan of laughing him out of court. Both methods have certain obvious disadvantages, the latter especially when the laughter is so boisterous as in this case that no breath is left to answer the question whether B in my last letter is a true extension of A. If Mr. Bramble thinks he has answered it I would point out that classification is not the same thing as construction.

In one point I am in full agreement with him. What is needed is construction and not purely destructive criticism, and the former I will endeavour to give. Where I join issue with him is his opinion 'that the whole fabric of the science of ringing rests upon one or two arbitrary conventions.' That it is a contradiction in terms to use the word science in this connection need not be pressed at the moment.

Sixty years ago had you asked a typical expert of the period how Holt's original was produced, and what laws governed the introduction of the bobs and singles, he would doubtless have said something to the effect that 'for the production of our permutations or changes there are no fixed laws.' He would have laughed out of court any idea of obtaining 5,040's of Grandsire Triples other than by trial and error, i.e., composition was simply experimental—similar, in fact, to our present experts' practice in extension of methods. Had anyone been rash enough to suggest to that Mid-Victorian expert that a logical or scientific mind found it difficult to conceive how a 5,040 (i.e., an extent) could just grow like Topsy, he would have received the contemptuous retort that ringing is not a real science like chemistry. And that answer would doubtless have received popular assent, because the effort to get down to the basis of things and explore the mysterious and unknown paths of pure reason involves, detached thought and the readiness to scrap prejudices, both of which are repugnant to the ordinary mind.

Thanks to the researches of Thompson and others, it is now universally recognised that the calls used in the production of round blocks and extents are inevitably related together in groups to which Thompson gave the name of q-sets. These q-sets dominate the composition so absolutely that on the one side it is impossible to obtain a true extent if you introduce calls contrary to their dictates, and, on the other, once the treatment of the various q-sets is determined, the composition is evolved mechanically and without further effort.

There is a close analogy between an extent and a plain course. The extent is the full number of changes in the method obtained by means of bobs and singles. The plain course is the full number of changes obtainable in accordance with the laws under which the method is produced. And just as the bobs and singles employed to obtain an extent are not independent, but are grouped together in q-sets, so it is universally recognised that the operations which produce the plain course from the principle on which it is based must at least produce something of symmetry. The law that a plain course must consist of as many divisions as there are working bells, and that each of these divisions must be alike is a recognition of this supremely important fact. Or to put it in another form as the calls by which the extent is produced are governed by certain q-sets, so also must there be q-sets concerned just as vitally in the construction of the method itself. This application of q-sets to method construction fits in with all we know of the subject, and appears to be inevitable, although up to the present it has totally escaped general recognition. That a simple analytical proof of their existence is so far not available is not surprising.

If the fact be accepted, what is the consequence? Each method, whether it be Plain Bob or London Surprise, has its own q-sets, and in a very real sense the method can be said to consist of its own special q-sets. Thus it follows that if you can discover the q-sets that belong to any particular method, the production of that method on any number of bells becomes from that moment a merely mechanical piece of work.

I must not take more space now in justifying the statement that the number of true extensions of a method is infinite. Suffice it to say that the words were used advisedly, and the term infinite in its strict mathematical significance.—Yours, etc.,

Holbeton Vicarage, Plymouth.

E. S. POWELL.

REV. MAITLAND KELLY'S 80th BIRTHDAY.

At 8 a.m. on August 21st, the bell ringers of Kelly, Devon, rang two touches of Grandsire Doubles, in honour of the 80th birthday of the Rev. Maitland Kelly, President of the Devon Guild, and a member of the Central Council. Mr. Kelly went out himself to the belfry, and rang with them another touch.

Afterwards the whole band were entertained in the house with light refreshment.

EXTENSION OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is altogether useless trying to argue about extension unless you know what extension really is. Men take a method, analyse it, find out what they consider its important features, and then try and reproduce them as closely as they can on a higher number of bells. They treat each method on its own, and without reference to other methods, and for all the arguments they give us, their style of working is purely experimental. What one man thinks the important features of a method, another man will hotly dispute, and naturally no two men arrive at the same result. The selfsame man will one minute gravely tell us something as an important truth, and the next minute something the direct opposite.

A few months ago Mr. Bankes James, writing about London Surprise, told us that there are two kinds of extension, 'Oxford Extension' and 'Cambridge Extension,' and the first is altogether wrong and inadmissible. Last week, writing about another method, he calmly throws this all overboard, and gives us an 'Oxford Extension' as true Bristol Surprise Maximus. It won't do. If there is such a thing at all as extension there must be one law, one rule, for all methods alike. And there is such a law, based on the fundamental nature of ringing itself, which will give you impartially correct extensions, and differentiate sharply between what is a method and what is not.

To understand it you must study what a 'q-set' is, and also realise that the only relationship between the variations of a method on different numbers is that of a mathematical progression. Every true extension is a true progression, not only of the number of bells and the lead ends, but also of every bit of work, and of every individual row.

But it does not follow that every true extension of a method is entitled to be called by the same name as the original.—Yours truly,
J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

QUICK SIX TRIPLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—When I produced this method I had no idea that it had already been obtained, and I congratulate Mr. J. W. Parker on having discovered it so long ago.

With the hope, however, that it will be taken up by the Exercise, and with your kind permission for a further exposition, I have rearranged my peal to suit the form adopted by Mr. Parker, which has regular division heads, also to simplify the calling of same. I have also a 5,040 containing the minimum number of Holt's Singles (46), which will be found below.

By the way, peals or touches can also be arranged by using pairs of Stedman singles instead of bobs.—Yours faithfully,

A. J. FITMAN.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at Brookfield on Saturday, Sept. 9th, and was poorly attended, it being 5.30 before ringing commenced with a touch of Grandsire Triples for one of the local ringers. Other ringers then arrived, and Stedman was rung after this, but owing to other business some of the members had to leave early. This left the company short-handed, so the business meeting was held.

Flexton was selected for the next meeting, on Saturday, Oct. 7th. Further ringing afterwards took place. No doubt the bad going of the bells was responsible for the poor attendance. The ring is much in need of repair.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A quarterly meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association was held at Merthyr on Saturday last, and proved one of the best gatherings of the Association. The bells, a fine ring of eight, by Messrs. Taylor and Co., were available during the afternoon, and were rung in the standard methods. Service was held, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. I. Richards Pugh, who had the assistance of one of the curates, the organist and surpliced choir. The address was most appropriate. Ringers attended from Llandaff, Cardiff, Newport, Penarth, Humbery, Pontypridd, Caerphilly, Bedwas, Whitechurch, Aboravon, Pentre, Aberdare, Brecon, Llanelli, etc.

Immediately following the service, tea was served in the School-room, kindly provided by the Rector and churchwardens.

The business meeting followed, at which the customary business was transacted, including reception of instructors' reports, election of new members, etc., at the close of which the usual vote of thanks was accorded all concerned for their kindness.

The Hon. Secretary, before the meeting broke up, pointed out to the Rector that the ringing chamber was not quite in keeping with the beautiful church and vestry, and suggested that it be made to appear more like these parts.—The Rector, in reply, said he wished to make no apology. He was quite sure all that had been said was quite correct, and although he had been there eighteen months they had and were spending several thousands of pounds on the other church in the parish, but as this was a matter which he considered twenty-five pounds would put right, he promised that if the Association would again visit Merthyr, say in three months' time, it would be found that all was in order.

The next meeting is to be at Abergavenny.

MIDDLESEX RINGERS IN BUCKS.

On Saturday, Sept. 2nd, the ringers at St. Stephen's West Ealing, Middlesex (strengthened by several ringing friends from London) held their annual outing, and spent an enjoyable day, visiting several towers in Bucks. A start was made at 9 a.m. from Ealing by charabanc to Farnham Royal, Burnham, Beaconsfield and Slough. Farnham Royal was reached at 10.25, and the party were met by Mr. J. J. Parker, who escorted them to the tower, and soon the bells were pealing out merrily to touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples for about 40 minutes. On arrival at Burnham information was received that ringing could not take place then on account of a funeral, but Mr. G. Alder promised the company a pull later in the day, so, after a short stay for oiling, a move was made for Beaconsfield. Here Mr. R. Buckland, who had made arrangements for lunch, met the party, and conducted them to the Plough Inn, where a splendid spread was waiting, and to which justice was done. After resting awhile from their 'labours,' the company made their way to the tower of St. Mary and All Saints' Church, and the bells were set going to well-struck touches in various methods for about an hour. Afterwards the car was turned towards Slough (via Burnham for a few touches). On arrival at Slough the first order was tea, which was ready at Mr. Lidstone's Restaurant. After having satisfied the inner man, the party made their way to the tower of St. Mary's, and were welcomed by Mr. G. T. Leader. Some well-struck touches of Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich were rung here. As this was the last call it took a little longer to oil up, etc., but at 8.40 p.m. the car glided away from Slough on its way back, Ealing being reached at 9 p.m.

The band wish to take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents of the various churches visited for so kindly placing the bells at their disposal, and also the various leaders for their welcome and for having everything ready. It is worthy of mention that as the day advanced so the standard of ringing improved, and the last touch of the day (Double Norwich) was considered by all to be the best. It may be interesting to some brother ringers to know that during the day four of the party were initiated into the Solemn Order of Tom Tits by the Deputy Grand Master.

P. E. C.

NEWPORT RINGERS' OUTING.

The ringers at All Saints' Church, Newport, Mon., held their annual outing on Saturday, Sept. 2nd. Journeying by charabanc, they first visited Llangibby, where hangs a ring of eight in good going order. After various touches, it was 'right away' for Monmouth, where they found the genial veteran Councillor Tom Jones waiting for them. The bells were raised, and several touches rung. This was followed by lunch, and after a short stay, a move was made to St. Briavel's, where there is a good going eight. This tower stands well on the top of a hill, overlooking the famous Wye Valley. After ringing, Chepstow was the next and last tower on the programme. On the way from St. Briavel's to Chepstow a halt was made on the top of the cliff immediately above the famous horseshoe base in the River Wye—a sight never to be forgotten. The bells of Chepstow Parish Church were soon afterwards off to the tune of Stedman Triples, which concluded the ringing for the day. Opportunity is now taken to thank those at the different churches for their kindness.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT GRESFORD.

The half-yearly meeting of the above Association was held at Gresford, where there are eight bells, on Saturday, September 2nd, about 30 members being present from Gresford, Buckley, Wrexham, Rhyl, Portmadoc, Oswestry, Chester, Eccleston, Pulford and Ellesmere (Salop). Owing to a misunderstanding, the minute book and agenda did not arrive for the meeting, so, with the exception of the proposal of four new life members, no business was done.

The Master proposed that the business portion of the meeting be postponed until the annual meeting at Llandudno, on Whit Monday next. This was agreed to, most of the members being anxious to get back to the tower.

The bells were kept going to touches of Stedman, Treble Bob and Grandsire, and a proposal for Double Norwich after tea.

An excellent and substantial tea was provided in the School Room, to which ample justice was done.—Mr. A. J. Hughes proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the provider of the repast, and the motion was received with applause.—Mr. Hughes told the gathering that on several previous meetings of the kind at Gresford the Association had always been warmly welcomed and indulged, but he thought that the spread of which they had just partaken eclipsed all previous ones.—The Vicar of Gresford, in reply, said that he was really afraid he was unable to say quite who were the providers of the tea, but he had no doubt Mr. G. Williams, who was one of the oldest members in the Association, and who had discreetly left the room, was the chief person responsible. He (the Vicar) would always be very pleased to welcome the members of the Association to Gresford; and he solicited the opportunity of receiving the Association at an annual meeting.

The service was well attended, the Vicar officiating. The organist, after service, voluntarily gave the members a treat with an appropriate organ recital. The Vicar piloted the historians round the church, fully explaining the numerous details of interesting history which are associated with Gresford Church.

The Wrexham ringers, with one exception, were absent, indulging in a week's holiday at Blackpool, the contention being that the meeting was to be the second week in September, and not the second of the month.—The Hon. Secretary, who sent a representative, was away on holiday in the Isle of Man. Nevertheless the meeting was very enjoyable, and a distinct success. The best thanks of the Association are due to Mr. George Williams, the veteran of Gresford, for having everything prepared, and to the Vicar for conducting the service and extending such a hearty welcome. The vice-president (the Rev. T. Lewis Jones, of Glanada, Bangor) was unavoidably absent.

TRIP THOUGH HANTS & WILTS.

On Saturday, September 2nd, the North Stoneham ringers had their annual outing, travelling by charabanc, under the very able conductorship of Mr. George Williams. Several towers in Hants and Wilts were visited. East Tytherley (with its fine ring of eight, by Taylor and Co.) was the first tower. Here the party were joined by Mr. J. H. Shepherd of Swindon, who unfortunately had to leave early in order to attend a meeting at Gillingham, Dorset. The party afterwards proceeded to St. Martin's, Salisbury, and enjoyed ringing on the fine old peal. Proceeding to Downton, a splendid tea was partaken of at the Rectory, very generously provided by the Rector of North Stoneham, and his brother, the Rector of Downton. After tea a visit was paid to the tower, with its heavy ring of six (tenor 25 cwt.), by Mears. The last place of call was Sherfield English, with its very musical light ring of eight by Taylors. Home was reached about 10 p.m., all agreeing that a very enjoyable day had been spent. The methods rung during the day were Grandsire Doubles, Bob and Kent Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major.

The best thanks of the party are due to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, and other friends who kindly assisted.

RINGING AT SOUTHPORT.*To the Editor.

Sir,—I was staying in Southport a few weeks ago, not far from Emmanuel Church, which possesses a ring of eight by Messrs. Taylor and Co. I made inquiries as to what ringing was done at that tower and the practice night, hoping that I might have heard the bells, or possibly have taken a rope.

As far as I could make out, in consequence of the objection to the noise on the part of a few persons who live near the church, these fine bells are seldom or never rung; and my informant added, that the objectors threatened, if they were rung, to get 'an injunction from the town authorities to stop the nuisance.' Perhaps the local ringers may be able to throw light on the situation, but it seems a pity that these bells should be silent.—Yours, etc.,

Rho. K.

J.F. RUN TO EARTH.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In your last issue but one, reference was made to a mysterious ringer whose initials are J. F., and again this week the question is asked, Who's J. F.?

My attention was focussed on this query because I think I have run J. F. to earth (I ought to have been a detective instead of a potter. It is quite evident I have missed my vocation).

If I have the right man, he organised an outing from Bolsover last June to Alton, Staffs, where I had the good fortune to witness his organising powers (he is a veritable Kitchener), through the kind offices of a very dear old friend of mine, Mr. T. Bettison, of Mansfield Woodhouse, who, in your correspondent's racy description of 'A Day in the Midlands' is referred to as 'The Veteran.' Now this J. F. is a mortal terror to a ringer who lolls about half-heartedly—in fact, is as hard as his name. No, not bell-metal, but another substance of which we use a vast quantity in the pottery trade, namely, 'Flint.' There, I've done it, and I may as well go the whole distance.—Mr. John Flint, of Bolsover, I have been amongst ringers whose apathy in the belfry makes one positively ill to see them. Now this isn't J. F. this time. On the contrary, you can fairly see his enthusiasm bubbling over, and it permeates the whole atmosphere wherever he happens to be, and carries everything along with it. I say it is very refreshing to meet a ringer of this type. More power to his elbow, and may his like never decrease is the sincere wish of Milton, Staffs.

J. E. WHEELDON.

WINDSOR PARISH CHURCH RINGERS.*AN OUTING IN SURREY.

The members of the Windsor Parish Church Association held their annual outing on Saturday, September 2nd, when a most enjoyable day was spent in a tour by charabanc in the Surrey hills.

A start was made from the Parish Church about 8.30 a.m., the ringers being accompanied by Churchwardens Burns and Bartlett. The first stop was at the Church of St. Lawrence, Chobham, where the party was welcomed by the Vicar and the steeplekeeper. Ringing took place from 9.30 to 10.15, some very musical touches being rung to the delight of the inhabitants. A start was then made for Guildford, but the party had not proceeded very far before a halt was made for refreshments at Worplesdon Corner, where some excellent photographs of the excursionists were taken by Messrs. Burns and Stilwell. At Guildford the party was met by Mr. and Mrs. Weatherby and Mr. C. Hazelden, the well-known Guildford ringers. The company inspected Holy Trinity Church, which contains many famous tombs, etc. A move was then made for the tower, where some excellent ringing was indulged in. Touches of Grandsire, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples were rung in fine style and the band were heartily congratulated by the local ringers upon the excellent striking. The next objective was Rammore, near Dorking. The road from Guildford to Rammore is noted for the splendid views of the countryside, and the hills are remarkable. For a time it was in doubt if it was possible for the motor to negotiate the miniature mountains, but it responded in fine style to the relief of the passengers. Magnificent views were obtained to the delight of all.

Rammore was reached soon after 1.30 p.m., and luncheon was partaken of at the Post Office Tea Rooms, an excellent spread being provided by the steeplekeeper (Mr. Tom Smith), the menu including rabbit pies and salad, apple tarts, etc.

After luncheon, Mr. Churchwarden Burns proposed the toast of the steeplekeeper, Mr. Thomas Smith, stating how pleased he was to be with the ringers that day, and expressing his appreciation of the ringers of the Parish Church. Continuing, Mr. Burns stated he was sure the Rector (the Rev. Hamilton) would have been delighted to have been with them, but unfortunately it was impossible this year, but they hoped to have the pleasure of his company next year. Mr. Bartlett, in a few well-chosen words, also expressed his thanks to the ringers, and hoped to be with them on many future outings. In replying to the toast, Mr. Smith expressed his thanks for the kindly way in which the toast had been received. He recalled how, for over one hundred years, only the very elementary stages of ringing had been taking place at the Parish Church, but two years ago campanology was taken up seriously. The present band was formed, and since that time the greatest possible progress had been attained. Not only was it a surprise for Windsor, but they now had the name of being one of the finest bands of Sunday ringers in the county, not particularly for the methods rung, but for their excellent striking. Only that morning he had been informed that the band was the best that had visited the district, and it was very gratifying to him to know that their progress had been so noticeable. He welcomed the churchwardens there that day, and thanked them for the interest they had shown in the ringing. He hoped that the same interest might still be continued, so that the band might make further progress. Continuing, Mr. Smith thanked Mr. Stilwell, the very popular conductor, through whose efforts ringing had made such advancement in Windsor, also all the ringers who had so ably supported him during the year.

Mr. Stilwell, in reply, said how pleased he was with the progress that had been made, and how delightful it had been to instruct such a willing band of men. When change ringing was first introduced two years ago, he was then the only conductor, but since then several had taken it up, and now he could rest assured that should at any time he be away there was always someone who could take his place. He reminded those present of the severe loss the band had sustained in the death of Mr. Charles Farr, who last year was with them on the outing, and who now had joined the great majority. No one had taken a greater interest in the band than Mr. Farr, and no greater tribute could be paid him than the fact that he died practically in harness, as it was immediately after ringing for Sunday service that he collapsed and died.

After luncheon, ringing was indulged in at the Church of St. Barnabas, Rammore, where the party was met by Mr. Churchwarden Dobson. Some excellent touches were brought round, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Weatherby, who joined the party from Guildford.

After tea a start was made for home. A halt was called at Dorking, where arrangements had been made to ring, but unfortunately, owing to being 30 minutes over the arranged time, the steeplekeeper was found to have left, and so the party continued the journey very disappointed. However, someone cheerfully suggested a halt on Cobham Common, where refreshments were partaken of, and several members went for a moonlight stroll on the heath. Windsor was reached about 10 p.m., after a very enjoyable day. The ringers wish to take this opportunity of thanking all the subscribers to the fund which made this outing possible, and appreciate greatly the kindly interest shown them.

BELLS, CARILLONS, CLOCKS.

OUR SIX HUNDRED.

We feel much encouraged by the many congratulatory letters which have reached us upon the issue of our six-hundredth number, and by the complimentary tone in which numerous correspondents have written upon the articles which have appeared on this page. The reference which we made last week was rather casual, but the interest in the information seems to have been very general. It has not always been an easy task to fill this corner of the 'Ringing World,' for ringing is not a subject which presents new issues and fresh phases every week; but the 'feature' has been maintained throughout the series, and has proved of interest, and sometimes of profit, not only to individual members of the Exercise, but to many ringing organisations. We write this in no spirit of egotism, and it is gratifying to know that our efforts, which have been consistently made to direct attention and focus opinion upon matters affecting ringers and ringing, have been appreciated.

As we mentioned last week, the design behind these weekly articles is to make ringers think. That is not always an easy matter, and still more difficult is it to induce movement into the corporate doings of ringing organisations, but persistent effort has sometimes brought visible results. Our desire has been to see the art advanced along every line open to it, to see the status of the ringer raised still higher, and to see the position of associations strengthened and extended until they become the centre round which all ringing activities revolve. How far we have helped towards these ends we cannot say. Had it not been for the long disturbance caused by the years of war, much more might have been accomplished; but we believe we may take some credit for a share in the recovery which ringing made when the men began to return to the belfries.

The position of a writer of articles such as these is not always an enviable one. Every reader is a potential critic, every dissatisfied critic is ready to belabour the unfortunate author of these comments. One thing, however, we feel confident of. However much individual ringers may have disagreed with us, we have not, so far as we know, made a single enemy by anything that has been written in this column. We have tried to be fair and frank, and one complimentary note which we have received from a well-known London ringer gives us special pleasure: 'Congratulations on the courage of your opinions—600.' Had we always written to please, and succeeded, it could not have given us so much gratification. Our object has been to bring ringers to realise their oppor-

Messrs. CHARLES CARR, Ltd.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Bellfounders,

are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Bells of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all lovers of Bell Music.

In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most 'up-to-date' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO THE RECASTING AND REHANGING OF EXISTING PEALS.

Orders may be placed now for delivery at a future date to suit the convenience of clients.

tunities of increasing their own and their association's efficiency, and thus raise the standard of ringing. We do not claim that we have been infallible, but even if our views have occasionally been unacceptable, we believe we have created a wider interest among ringers in many questions which previously they passed over, with little or no thought. This will continue to be our aim, and the expressions of goodwill which have reached us from all quarters upon our six-hundredth number are an incentive for the future.

HARWELL BELLS TO BE REHUNG.
EFFORTS IN AID OF ANCIENT BERKSHIRE PEAL.

It has been decided to raise funds to rehang the bells of Harwell Parish Church, Berkshire, and, if possible, augment the existing peal to eight.

The present bells are a very fine ring of six, the tenor being 4ft. 11ins. in diameter, in the key of E, and, therefore, weighing approximately, 18½ cwt. They were all cast at Reading between the years 1590 and 1615, the second and fifth by Joseph Carter, and the remainder by his nephew, William Yare. Thus they form a very old ring. The tenor is an exceptionally fine-toned bell, and the whole ring may be heard distinctly for miles round.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert has heard them in East Ilsley Churchyard, quite six miles away across the Berkshire Downs.

The late Rev. F. E. Robinson said he had often listened to them in the vicarage garden at Drayton, four miles away in the opposite direction, and Long Wittenham people have testified to hearing them in their village six miles away to the east.

The bells were rehung in 1887, but the same frame was used, and at the present time there is imperative need of restoration.

Although only possessing six bells, inhabitants of the village have rung many peals on 8, 10 and 12 bells all over the country, even in Scotland and the Isle of Man. A committee has now been formed, consisting of the Vicar, wardens, and Messrs. E. M. Bosley, E. Cox, W. Hitchman, C. Hitchman, S. G. Lay and R. G. Rice who are determined to do their utmost to see the thing through. An entertainment was held on August 18th, with a packed 'house,' a feature being handbell selections by the five brothers White, of Appleton, and numerous other items, including comic songs by another change ringer, Mr. A. V. Gibbs, of Wantage.

On September 2nd, a six-a-side football tournament and fete were held, and proved a great success. The clerk of the weather, after a wet week, decided to shine on the effort, and so successful was it that it will doubtless become an annual event.

A prominent feature has been the ready response made by the villagers, both ladies and gentlemen, to render all assistance, and all teas, prizes for competitions, etc., at the fete, were provided free, so that, owing to their generosity, the amount cleared was made much larger than would otherwise have been the case.

The next event will be an organ recital and sacred music in the old church, with its fine organ, on October 5th, by a party from Wallingford, under the direction of Mr. Wunley, organist of St. Mary's Church there.

With the villagers all working so hard, it is hoped that others interested will back them up, and any donation, however small, will be gratefully received by the hon. secretary, Mr. R. G. Rice, Harwell, Stevenage, Berks.

PETERBOROUGH RINGERS VISIT LONDON.

On Saturday, Sept. 9th, the ringers of St. John's Parish Church, Peterborough, had their annual outing. Leaving Peterborough at 6 p.m., London was reached by 7.45. Unfortunately all the band were unable to travel together, two coming by later trains. The morning was spent in looking round the city, and among the places visited were the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey.

The first tower visited was St. Saviour's Cathedral, Southwark, where the bells were being rung for the wedding of one of the ringers, and where the party were welcomed by their old friend, 'the man of few words,' Mr. W. A. Alps, who promptly invited them to 'take hold' for a touch of Grandsire Triples on the beautiful toned back eight. This was followed by a pull on the twelve, assisted by a young lady visitor, this being the first time any of the Peterborough band had had a ring on the maximum number.

After picking up the late-comers they proceeded to Deptford, where they were met at the ancient Church of St. Nicholas, the mother church of Deptford, by Mr. G. H. Daynes, captain of the band and churchwarden, who gave them a good description of the historic parts of the church. Visiting the belfry, containing a handy peal of eight, touches of Grandsire and Stedman were brought round, Mr. Daynes taking part.

Returning to London Bridge, by way of the Old Kent Road, the visitors were met at the tower of St. George's-in-the-Borough, High Street, by Mr. Taffender, and well-struck touches of Grandsire Triples (419), Stedman (504) and Kent Treble Bob Major (288) were successfully brought round, Messrs. Taffender and Alps standing in. The bells, which are a lively peal of eight, were then lowered in peal.

This concluded the ringing for the day, and the band take this opportunity of thanking the Vicars of Deptford and St. George's for the use of the bells, also Mr. Daynes and Mr. Taffender for having everything in readiness. Peterborough was reached at midnight, all agreeing that they had had a very enjoyable and successful outing.

DEATH OF DANIEL HEAP.*ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE RINGER FOR 60 YEARS.

It is with regret that we record the death of Mr. Daniel Heap, which occurred on Sept. 7th, at the advanced age of 78 years. The deceased gentleman, who had been ailing for some time, was the oldest member of the Ashton-under-Lyne Society, having been a ringer upwards of 60 years. He had not done any peal ringing for a number of years, but was very regular in attendance for service ringing.

The funeral took place at St. Peter's, Ashton-under-Lyne, on Sept. 9th, and was attended by a numerous body of ringers, some of whom carried the remains to the grave. A course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells, after the committal by James Shaw 1-2, J. Mellor 3-4, Allan F. Bailey 5-6, Ben Thorp 7-8, Sam Booth 9-10. The company adjourned then to the belfry of St. Peter's, and rang a touch of Stedman Triples with the bells muffled.

After tea the twelve bells at the Parish Church were rung, with muffled clappers, in various touches during the evening. The bells were also muffled on Sunday, and on Thursday a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Caters was rung.

The deceased was of a very genial disposition, and his presence and kindly advice will be sadly missed by his brother ringers at St. Michael's.

CASTLE CAREY RINGERS' TRIP.

On Saturday, Sept. 2nd, Castle Carey ringers, accompanied by a few friends, held their annual outing. Starting by charabanc at 12 noon, West Lydford was the first tower visited, and after a few touches a move was made to Baboary. Here a new treble has recently been installed, bringing them to a handy ring of six. The only drawback is the noise in the ringing chamber, which, it is hoped, will soon be remedied. Several six-scores were brought round. The journey was then continued to West Coker; the run down the Fosse Road, in ideal weather, being much enjoyed by all. On arrival, a splendid meat tea was found waiting at the Castle Inn, to which full justice was done. A move was then made to the belfry, and the bells, a light ring of eight, were raised in peal, and after about an hour's ringing were lowered again. They were much admired for their tone and 'go.' Afterwards, the 'locals' were entertained with the handbells until the time for departure home. The thanks of the company are tendered to the incumbents for the use of the bells at the towers visited.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The monthly meeting of the Crewe Branch was held at Tarporley on Saturday, Sept. 16th, and was very well attended.

The new Master of the Guild, Mr. Fairclough, of Stretton, was present, also ringers from Crewe, Tarporley, Ightfield, Frodsham, Nantwich, Stretton, Warrington, Alford, Eccleston, Bunbury and Davenham.

Ringings commenced at 3 o'clock, with touches of Bob Triples, Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble, Bob Major, Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise.

Tea was very kindly provided by the Rev. Canon Hughes.

At the meeting, after tea, the Master took the chair, and proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. Canon Hughes for providing tea, and also for the use of the bells. He also congratulated the Tarporley ringers on their well-kept belfry.

ELLAND OCTOGENARIAN'S BIRTHDAY TOUCH.

On Sept. 8th a date touch of 1,922 changes of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at St. Mary's Church, Elland, Yorks, in honour of the 80th birthday of Mr. John Hollas, who has been a member of the Elland band of ringers for over 60 years. The following took part: Jas. Barraclough 1, Albert Walker 2, T. Shaw 3, Albert Armistage 4, Edgar Carter (conductor) 5, Willie Frith 6, John Hollas 7, Allan Carter 8. Mr. Hollas is considered to be the father of the Elland band of ringers, his two brother octogenarian ringers, Messrs. Joseph and Savile Brearley having removed to Blackpool. Mr. Hollas is hale and hearty, and his many friends wish him many happy returns of the day.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the North-Eastern Division of the Essex Association was held at Goldhanger on Saturday, Sept. 9th. The Rev. F. T. Gardiner officiated at the service, and afterwards invited the 28 members from eleven companies to partake of a bountiful tea on the rectory lawn.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Rev. Gardiner, who was supported by the Master (Mr. C. H. Howard) and the secretary (Mr. R. W. Stannard) it was suggested that the next meeting be held at Harwich, if arrangements can be made, at the end of the year. Thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and also for entertaining the members concluded another very successful meeting.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We desire to thank the many readers who have sent us their congratulations upon completing our 600th issue. We should have liked to give extracts from some of these communications, but space—and modesty—forbid.

That famous old London ringer, Matt. Wood, of Bethnal Green, who died in 1912, was born on September 22nd, 1826.

Sept. 22nd, 1894, was the date of the first peal of Double Norwich Caters rung at St. Stephen's, Bristol.

Exactly a hundred and seventy years ago next Monday a peal of Bob Triples was rung at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, John Holt took part in this, and it was the last recorded peal which he rang for the Society of Union Scholars. Just afterwards he joined the College Youths.

The conductor of the peal of Double Norwich, at Isleworth on August 26th, writes that he doubtfully added the footnote by request, and in view of the fact that the rehangings took place in 1903 Mr. Davies' claim does not need argument.

The Cambridge University Guild has rung the first peal of Cambridge Court Bob Major, and thus put another interesting 'first' to its credit. The peal was rung on handbells at Surfleet. The author of the method is Mr. George Baker, and we publish the figures in another column. It is a method which may appeal to ringers looking for something fresh with a plain hunt.

Another lady has now to be added to the peal conductors, Miss Annie Brown, of Bristol, having called a peal of Grandsire Triples.

The peal at Thurstaston is noteworthy in that G. Stedman Morris rang his first peal in any method 'inside' by ringing 2nd to Kent Major, without having previously struck a blow in the method away from treble. By strange coincidence he is but 14, and born on the same day as W. Whitehead, who was noted last week as having rung his first peal of Major on the 2nd to Superlative. These two young Leicester ringers should go far in the art if their keenness continues.

Essex ringers will welcome the return to their peal ringing ranks of their esteemed Master, Mr. O. H. Howard, whose name figures this week in a peal for the first time for ten years. The strain of work during the war compelled Mr. Howard to give up peal ringing, but we hope to see him appearing in future in this sphere, as far as his many public appointments will allow.

RINGING AT SOUTHPORT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I formed one of a party of Yorkshirers who visited here some 10 years back, and had the privilege and pleasure to hear this fine peal. Since then I have on several occasions revisited the tower, and elicited the same information as your correspondent, 'Rho K.' I fully endorse his opinion it is a pity that the bells remain silent, perhaps to suit the whims and fancies of a few objectors, and beg to suggest that the said objectors remove further away from the church and locality.—Yours,

T. M.

P.S.—I have this morning heard the peal of eight at Christ Church.

PROBABLY AN EMPTY THREAT.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I don't think it is at all certain that an injunction can be obtained to restrain the reasonable ringing of parish church bells. I have not access to a complete legal library at the moment, but as far as I can discover there are two main cases on the point. In 'Soltan v. Deffeld,' an injunction was granted to restrain the persistent tolling of the bells of a Roman Catholic Church, but it was pointed out that this building was not a church, in the eye of the law, and could not claim the same privileges as a parish church in the matter of bell ringing—which seems to suggest that in the case of the Church of England the decision would have been different.

This was followed by 'Handman v. Holberton,' where an application for an injunction against bell ringing was refused by the Court.

So the threat of the Southport residents might be found rather an empty one.—Yours obediently,

H. W. F.

THE EXTENSION OF BRISTOL.

To the Editor.

Dean Sir,—In an article that appeared in your columns about a year ago, I gave a simple definition of the difference between an Oxford and a Cambridge Extension, and pointed out that the Oxford Extension was produced by adding to the number of dodges in any place, as was done by Shipway in his extension of Double Oxford.

In Bristol Surprise Major the longest dodge that takes place is one row short of a double dodge. In the extension to Maximus I cannot find any dodging that is longer than that, nor can I find any new style of work that is not contained in the Major; so that I fail to see how it can be called an Oxford Extension, or that I can be accused of 'throwing overboard' my former convictions.—Yours truly,

E. BANKES JAMES.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. ASHFORD DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING. PRESENTATION TO THE HON. SECRETARY.

The annual meeting of the Ashford District of the Kent County Association took place at Tenterden on Saturday. The grand ring of eight (tenor 30 cwt.) is in itself sufficient to attract a large attendance, but on this particular occasion there was a very pleasant ceremony to be performed, which greatly conduced to the bringing together of a representative gathering of members, not only from the Ashford district, but from other parts of the county, the towers represented being Appledore, Ashford, Benenden, Brabourne, Canterbury, Frittenden, Hawkhurst, All Saints', Maidstone, Mersham, Rolvenden, Smarden, Stoue-in-Oxney, Tenterden and Willesborough.

The Vicar (the Rev. J. A. Babington) conducted the service, the Association's form being used, and one of the ringers, Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., of Canterbury, presided at the organ.

The Vicar invited the company to tea at English's Tea Rooms, with the reverend gentleman in the chair.

Following the repast, came the business meeting. The first item was the presentation of a cheque, value £10, to the Hon. Secretary of the district, Mr. Chas. Tribe, of Tenterden, and a few sentences on Mr. Tribe's change ringing career, perhaps, will not be out of place. The writer started ringing in 1899, and from that year onwards has been in close touch with Mr. Tribe's change ringing activities. In early life, Mr. Tribe resided in West Sussex, and had the advantage of coming under the leadership of that masterpiece of instructors and conductors, Mr. George Williams. Later, his calling took him to the most eastern part of Sussex, the 'Ancient Town' of Rye. Here, toward the close of the last century he introduced change ringing. Subsequently he moved over the border into Kent, and resided at Wittersham, where a very dilapidated peal of five hang, and after a short stay he took his departure for Tenterden, where he has been the leading light of change ringing, to the writer's knowledge, for over 20 years. In that time no one knows the amount of time and work Charles Tribe has put in for the Kent Association. Apart from giving instruction in his own tower, ringers at many churches in the neighbourhood have reaped the benefit of his advice and assistance. The members of the Association soon found that they had a great enthusiast come among them in Charles Tribe, and it was not long ere they recognised his services by electing him on the committee. Then, about 1907, Mr. A. A. Manning, of Hythe, resigned as hon. secretary of the district, and on what better shoulders could the 'mantle' fall than on those of Charles Tribe? For 15 years he has given unbounded satisfaction, and it was felt by the members of the district that they should recognise his untiring energies and devotion to duty on their behalf. Messrs. C. W. Everett (Ashford) and C. W. Player (Stone-in-Oxney) were the organisers of the testimonial and subscriptions came in from the following towers in the Ashford District: Ashford, Appledore, Biddenden, Brabourne, Cheriton, Great Chart, Folkestone, Frittenden, Headcorn, High Halden, Hythe, Kingsnorth, Mersham, New Romney, Rolvenden, Smarden, Stone, Tenterden, Willesborough, Woodchurch and Wye. Ringing friends, 'outside' the district from Benenden, Canterbury, Charing, Hawkhurst and All Saints', Maidstone, also kindly contributed, and over £29 was raised. A collection before the tea augmented this sum to £10, and the Vicar, in commencing the business, said a very pleasant duty devolved upon him. He has been asked to read out a notice to the effect that a cheque, value £10, be presented to Mr. Charles Tribe in consideration of his valuable services given free as hon. secretary of the district, as a token of their respect and esteem, by the following affiliated towers in the district, and a few friends outside. Then followed the list of towers already mentioned. Continuing, the reverend gentleman said he could not add much, but they all in Tenterden knew what Mr. Tribe had done for bell ringing. Some years ago, he (the speaker) remembered reading a statement of one of the greatest generals the world had ever known: 'He who commands an army must give his whole mind to the task, and think of nothing else.' He (the Vicar) considered that Mr. Tribe, in respect of his bell ringing duties, had been equal to the greatest general that ever lived, and he had much pleasure in presenting him with the cheque on their behalf (applause).

In response, Mr. Tribe, who was received with loud applause, confessed he knew nothing about the testimonial. It would have been one of the last of his thoughts, and words failed to express his thanks and gratitude to them all. It was nice to know that what he had done had been appreciated. He had done his best, and could say that he felt he had done his duty. He thanked them all from the bottom of his heart, and he would endeavour to carry on in the future although he could see that the time was coming when he would have to give up the work. He again thanked them heartily for what they had done for him (applause).

Mr. Tribe's allusion that he might have to give up some time is due to failing sight.

Messrs. Robert Butcher (Rolvenden), Percy Farrance (Sellindge) and Stanley Saxby (Hawkhurst) were elected members, and on the proposition of Mr. C. W. Player, seconded by Mr. H. J. Balcomb, Mr. Tribe was unanimously re-elected hon. secretary.

Mr. E. Cheesman (Brabourne) proposed, and Mr. H. C. Castle (Ashford), seconded that Messrs. G. Paine (Mersham) and P. H. Pierce (Brabourne) be re-elected district representatives on the association committee.—These gentlemen met with the members' unanimous approval.

Places for meetings were appointed as follows: Headcorn in February; Hythe in the summer, and Appledore for the annual meeting. An extra meeting is also to take place at Biddenden, probably in November next.

On the proposition of Mr. Player, seconded by Mr. George Johnson (Appledore), a very hearty vote of thanks was unanimously passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, conducting the service, and for his hospitality, to which the reverend gentleman suitably replied.

The bells were made good use of during the afternoon and evening. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major being practised.

MR. TRIBE'S THANKS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly allow me a little space in 'our paper' to most heartily thank all those subscribers who so kindly contributed toward the liberal and useful testimonial presented to me at the meeting on Saturday last. I tried to thank those who were present, but at such a time, when it comes so suddenly on one, words fail adequately to express one's feelings, and so I feel I must thank again those who were present, and those who were absent. I can assure them all, both promoters and subscribers, that such a tangible token of their respect and esteem is very greatly appreciated, and makes one feel that one can buckle on one's armour and enter into the fray again with renewed zeal and vigour.

C. TRIBE, Hon. Sec., Ashford District.

SALTASH RINGING FESTIVAL.

At the Church of St. Nicholas, Saltash on Monday, Sept. 4th, a great ringing festival was held, 19 sets of ringers taking part. The visitors were all entertained by a local committee, which included Dr. Grenfell (Mayor), Messrs. Dawe, Frost and F. Jago.

The prize-winners were as follows: 1st, St. Clear (1st band); 2nd, Landreath; 3rd, Talland; 4th, St. Veep (1st band); 5th, St. Endellion; 6th, Botusfleming (1st band); 7th, Lanlivery; 8th, St. Martin's (1st band). Other ringers represented St. Kew, Menheniot, St. Mabyn, and numerous other towers.

Saltash bells were restored and hung on patent adjustable bearings, some 10 years ago, by Messrs. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford, and the ringers, who took part in the festival were highly pleased with the 'go' of the bells.

EDENBRIDGE RINGER'S DEATH.*MR. TOM WALLIS'S DEVOTED SERVICES.

A tragic incident put an end to the outing of the Edenbridge ringers, as briefly recorded last week. The party had left home in the afternoon to make a tour through Chiddingstone, Penshurst, Speldhurst and Tonbridge, and among the band was Mr. Thomas Wallis, who has been connected with the church practically all his life, and has been a ringer for 40 years. At Chiddingstone a short touch of Stedman Triples was attempted, but after a course had been rung, Mr. Wallis, who was ringing the 6th, asked the conductor to stop. The bells were immediately set, and the ringers went to Mr. Wallis's assistance, he being in a state of collapse. He was conveyed down the stone staircase to the church entrance, where he was placed in a chair. He was obviously suffering from a bad heart attack, and although all that was possible was done for him, Mr. Wallis passed away in about ten minutes.

Dr. Pennell, who had been summoned by telephone, could only pronounce life extinct on his arrival. The police were communicated with, but as Dr. Pennell had been attending Mr. Wallis for some time for heart trouble an inquest was not deemed necessary. An ambulance was obtained, and the body was conveyed home by his sorrowing brother ringers. The news soon spread, and general sympathy has been expressed in the town.

Mr. Wallis, who was 60 years of age, and who leaves a wife and one daughter, was the eldest son of the late Mr. Thos. Wallis, and had resided in Edenbridge all his life. He joined the church choir in 1875, and remained a member up till the time of his death. From his early days he loved voluntary work, and when quite young carried out repairs to the organ and the old peal of six bells. The wooden frame often required attention, and only a few ever knew the amount of time and labour he spent in the church. Without doubt, says a local newspaper, he was the most popular figure in the town.

FORTY YEARS A RINGER.

He had been a bell ringer some 40 years, and was ever ready to assist at any school frolics, and any indoor entertainments. He was responsible for the stage work and decorations at jumble sales for charity.

An accomplished bell ringer and a well-known and popular member of the Kent County Association, his loss will be felt by many ringers in the county. He was a most genial companion, and always extended hospitality to brother ringers who came from a distance, being a general favourite with all. As recently as February 28th he took part in a peal of Stedman Triples, on the occasion of the Royal Wedding, and the local band would have tried for a peal on his 60th birthday on June 17th, but his health would not permit. Only on the Wednesday in the previous week he accepted the invitation to join the Westerham ringers on their outing. He took part in about 25 peals, chiefly Stedman Triples and Treble Bob Major. In 1896, when two new bells were added at Edenbridge Church, making a peal of eight, he took a keen and active interest in the work entailed by the additions, being on the committee. His general knowledge was of great value, but being of a retiring disposition no one knew the extent of this work.

On Sunday morning his brother ringers rang with the bells half-muffled 504 Stedman Triples and 336 Grandsire Triples, and for evening service 518 Grandsire and 336 Stedman, and one could scarcely realise how difficult was the task on this sorrowful occasion.

Mr. Wallis was passionately fond of music, being nearly all his life a member of the Town Band, and playing with them on the Thursday previous to his death. He was also a member of the String Band, being an accomplished violin player, and many young people have been instructed by him.

For many years he carried out the duties of hon. secretary of the local Conservative Association, and at the time of his death he was secretary of the local Court of Foresters.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT OF THE CHURCH.

On the Sunday morning the Vicar (the Rev. H. O. Edwards), in the course of his sermon, said: Yesterday afternoon there passed beyond the veil to higher service one well known to all of us who worshipped regularly in this church. I refer to Tom Wallis. There is no figure in this church and parish who will be more missed, and our feelings as we see his vacant seat bear eloquent testimony to the place he had made for himself among us. From childhood he had been a member of our choir, and one of its most faithful and regular members, very seldom being absent from his place on Sunday mornings or evenings or special week-days. He was a member of our Parochial Church Council, and local Branch of C.E.M.S., and one of our most accomplished ringers, and devoted to our beautiful peal, and it seems fitting that it was while he was on a ringing tour that he should be called. The end came quite suddenly just after he had finished ringing a peal in Chiddingstone Parish Church side by side with his friends and fellow-ringers of this parish. He loved his Church. He loved serving her, and his end came in the House of God, where so many hours of faithful service had been passed. Cannot we think that he would have wished it so? Whatever work he undertook, whether it was in connection with the choir, the belfry, or any charitable organisation, he did it thoroughly and cheerfully, and could always be depended upon to be at his post, and we cannot but be poorer for the loss of so steadfast and upright a life. He has left behind him near and dear ones to mourn their loss, and I know that to them the deep sympathy of all is going out. Let us pray that God may give them the strength and faith to bear their heavy cross, and for him who has passed out of our sight that he may rest in peace and hope and rise in glory.—Appropriate hymns were sung.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 5th, amid manifold tokens of respect, business being almost entirely suspended and blinds drawn en route. The bearers were members of the Town Band and the bell ringers, and the whole of the Town Band were present in uniform. Among the family mourners were Mrs. and Miss Wallis (widow and daughter), Mr. and Mrs. E. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. A. Wilson, Mr. W. Wallis (uncle), M. J. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. P. Smith (Oxted), Mr. T. Wallis (nephew). Others present included: Count Riccardi Cubitt, Mr. F. Playfoot and Mr. W. S. Fox (churchwardens), Mr. T. Cooling, Mr. W. Ashby, Mr. A. Grundwall, etc. (members of the Church Council), Capt. J. N. Prior, Co-Sergt-Major F. White (representing 'C' Co., 4th Battalion Royal West Kent Regiment), Mr. J. W. Baddiley, Mr. A. Martin, Mr. J. Hooker, Mr. W. Knight, Mr. T. Martin, Mr. E. Sparrowhawk, Mr. R. Marchant, and representatives of the local Court of Foresters, Rev. D. Smith, Mr. C. Cheal, Mr. W. Taylor, Mr. H. Cheal, Mr. A. H. Barrett, Mr. W. Mitchell, Mr. S. Sparrowhawk, Mr. A. Lewis (Westerham), Mr. Bull (Brasted), Mr. T. Groombridge (Chislehurst), hon. secretary Lewis-ham District Kent County Association.

On arrival at the lych-gate the cortege was met by the Vicar and full choir, and on entering the church the organist (Mr. W. L. Weaver) played 'O Rest in the Lord,' and at the conclusion the Dead March in 'Saul.' The choir sang a favourite hymn, 'There is a blessed home.' At the graveside the choir sang the hymn, 'Jesus, Lover of my soul,' and the band, conducted by Mr. W. Weaver, played a favourite air of Sullivan.

Immediately after the service, 1,000 Stedman Triples were rung with the bells half-muffled, and in the evening the whole pull and stand was effectively rung by the local band, and short touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples concluded the mournful ceremony.

Floral tributes were sent by his sorrowing wife and daughter; Ned, Lou and family; all at Lingfield Road; Lizzie and Agnes; Fred, Mary and the boy; George, Kitty and Flossie; Cousins at Oxted; Edenbridge Church Choir; Edenbridge Trade; Church of England Men's Society; Edenbridge Unionist Association; Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Edwards; Lady Rogers; Colonel and Hon. Mrs. Spender-Clay; Edenbridge Town Band; Edenbridge and Haver Bell Ringers; St. Mary's, Westerham, Ringers; 'C' Co., 4th Royal West Kent Regiment; Mr. and Mrs. A. Martin; John Stupples; Mr. and Mrs. Cloke; Mr. H. G. and Miss Whitehead; Mrs. Ray; Miss Ellis; Mr. J. L. West; Mrs. Kingsland; Mr. and Mrs. Rowe; Mr. and Mrs. Gateland; Mr. and Mrs. E. Sparrowhawk; Mrs. Seymour and Mrs. Bishop.

DEVONSHIRE RINGERS' OUTING.

The ringers of St. Michael's Church, Chagford, held their annual outing with Messrs. Aggett, Widecombe-in-the-Moor, where there is a nice peal of six, hung some years ago by Messrs. Aggett, and which go splendidly, was first visited, and the party went on to Buckfast Abbey, where, after an inspection, the grand peal of twelve bells were set going for an hour, some excellent ringing being accomplished. This fine peal were also hung by Messrs. Aggett, and the 'go' is all that can be desired. Leaving Buckfast, the party steered for Dartington, not a great distance from Totnes. Here the peal of six was set in motion, and with the exercise of some strength, the visitors managed to achieve good touches. Going on to Paignton a stop was made at Dellers' Cafe, where ducks and green peas were attacked. The next move was to Cockington, a light peal of six, where the visitors were met by their late Rector, the Rev. Studdy, who showed them the tower, and Grandsire Doubles were rung, the bells being lowered after an hour and a half's good ringing. The party were then kindly entertained to tea by the Rector and Mrs. Studdy. After thanking the hosts and visiting the grounds, the ringers returned to Torquay, where a most enjoyable evening was spent, a move for home being made at 10 p.m. The ringers wish to thank all those whose kindness, goodwill and hospitality enabled them to spend such an enjoyable day.

HEREFORD GUILD.

A very successful combined practice was held at Leominster on Sept. 9th, when members were present from the Hereford, Leominster and Presteign, Bromyard and Ludlow districts. The methods consisted of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Grandsire Caters. Of the latter, two excellent touches were brought round, viz., 352 and 560, those taking part being Messrs. C. Edwards, P. Lane, D. Watkins, A. Talbot, A. Tomkins, I. and A. Probert, H. Symonds, W. S. Evans, J. Preere, F. Arrowsmith, — Cook (Cardiff), and A. R. Elkins (Tring).

RATBY.—At St. Philip and St. James' Church, on Sunday, Sept. 3rd, for morning service, 720 Oxford Bob Minor: C. Priestnall 1, V. Wade 2, W. Ball 3, P. Ingram 4, T. Chantrell 5, C. Allsop (conductor) 6. The first 720 on the bells by a local band.

COMBE MARTIN BELLS.
DEVON'S NEW PEAL OF EIGHT.

On Saturday afternoon, Ilfracombe Parish Church ringers paid a visit to Combe Martin Parish Church, where there is a fine new peal of eight bells. Mr. E. J. Harding, of Portsmouth, who, with his son, was on a visit to his native place, joined the visitors, and they were met at the church by Mr. J. G. Sanders and Mr. A. H. Hayward, of the local company. Ringing commenced with a 350 Grandsire Triples by G. Bowen 1, R. Dadds 2, F. J. Reed 3, E. J. Harding, jun., 4, A. H. Hayward (conductor) 5, E. J. Harding, senr., 6, J. Richards 7, W. Slocombe 8.

Following this a well-struck quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in 50 mins., by G. Bowen 1, R. Dadds 2, F. J. Reed 3, A. H. Hayward 4, E. J. Harding 5, E. J. Harding, senr. (conductor), 6, J. Richards 7, W. Slocombe 8. This is the first quarter-peal rung on the bells since they were recast from six into eight, and rehung with all modern improvements by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

Afterwards round ringing was indulged in, Mr. J. G. S. Sanders, one of the oldest local ringers, and Mr. S. J. Harding, of Berry-harbour, father and grandfather of the two Portsmouth visitors, taking part. Two fathers, two sons and one grandson thus rang together.

Before lowering the bells another 350 Grandsire Triples was rung by the same band, conducted by F. J. Reed.

After the bells had been lowered a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by J. G. Sanders 1, R. Dadds 2, E. J. Harding 3-4, E. J. Harding, senr., 5-6, A. H. Hayward 7-8. It is interesting to note that Mr. Sanders has only taken up change ringing within the last twelve months, and great credit is due to him for the manner in which he has grasped the art. The young band, at present being instructed by Mr. A. F. Hayward, rang their first 120 on tower bells on Thursday evening, August 31st.

Before parting, Mr. Harding and his son entertained the band to tunes on handbells. The visiting ringers wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Rev. R. Seymour for the use of the bells, and they highly praised the tone and 'go' of the new peal.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Bristol Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Marshfield on Saturday, September 2nd, a good number of ringers being present, including Messrs. T. F. King and H. W. Brown, of Bath. Touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob was rung before service, which was held at 4.30, the Rev. L. O. Asplin officiating, and the Rev. T. C. Fowler (vice-president) reading the lesson.

Mr. W. Lewis kindly made arrangements for tea at his residence, and the business meeting followed.—The Rev. T. C. Fowler accepted the invitation of Mr. H. T. Howell (Master) to take the chair.

Two new members were elected (Messrs. R. C. Seagen and A. E. Parker).—The next meetings were arranged as follows: Dyrham on September 30th; Henbury, October 21st; Almondsbury, Nov. 25th; Brislington, Dec. 16th; and the annual meeting of the branch at Christ Church, City, on Saturday, January 29th, 1923.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and officiating at the service, to the Rev. T. C. Fowler for taking the chair; also the organist and organ blower; and to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis for arranging tea. The tower was again visited, and further good practice on the bells ended a very pleasant meeting.

EXHALL RINGERS' SUPPER.
PRESENTATION TO INSTRUCTOR.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 14th, the St. Giles' Society of Exhall held their first supper and concert at the Bell Inn, Exhall. The venture proved very successful and enjoyable, about 30 members and friends being present.

During an interval the president (the Rev. Frank Melville, M.A.) made a presentation, consisting of a valuable pipe and pouch, to Mr. J. H. White, of Coventry. The gift was from the ringers, who thought the present would remind Mr. White of the many happy hours he had spent amongst them, instructing the newly-formed band.—Mr. White suitably replied, and said the gift came as a great surprise, as he was always ready to give a helping hand.

The rest of the evening was spent in harmony, the artists being E. Bircher (pianist), Bros. Dick and Harry Clarke (entertainers on the banjo, etc.), G. Bates (mandoline), Mr. J. Dewis and Mr. Rathbone.

RINGER'S DAUGHTER MARRIED.

A pretty wedding took place on Sept. 16th, at the Parish Church, Rayne, when the daughter of Mr. H. Redgwell was married to Mr. Frank Pauley, of Bocking. In honour of the occasion the Stebbing company of ringers, assisted by Mr. A. Shuffelbotham, of Braintree, rang the following 720's: Plain Bob, Double Court, Cambridge Surprise, Double Oxford, Oxford Treble Bob.

Q-SET PRINCIPLES IN METHOD CONSTRUCTION.

A letter upon this subject from Mr. A. York Bramble is unavoidably held over.

ILL-INFORMED CRITICISM.

Much of the criticism to which bells and ringing are subjected by the public is ill-informed, but happily one seldom finds such misleading statements made by a person in an official position in the Church, as that reported to have been made by Prebendary Farrer, at a meeting last week of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Board of Finance. In another column we quote the statement attributed to him, and have no hesitation whatever in saying that in almost every particular Prebendary Farrer is wrong. It would be interesting, therefore, to know upon what he bases his sweeping assertion. In the first place, to attribute the cause of churches falling into disrepair to the bells is ludicrous. If, in some isolated instances, the towers have shown signs of dilapidation and the cause has been traced to the bells, it is because the responsible church officials have neglected their duty and, instead of maintaining the bell frames, have allowed them to decay and thus to damage the walls, or, if they have been attended to, have left them to some inexperienced carpenter or blacksmith, who has probably inserted wedges. We know of no case where, when a reputable firm of bell hangers have been called in, their work has caused the fabric of the tower, much less that of the church, to fall into disrepair.

But stranger still is the statement that towers were only built to hold four or five bells, and that church authorities who want to augment their peals do not go to an architect, but to a bell hanger, who crams in as many bells as he can without regard for the building. One only needs to apply common sense to the history of the development of bells to know that the six, eight, ten or twelve bells of to-day, hung with scientific precision, are a totally different proposition to the old four or five heavy and rudely hung bells of centuries ago; and further, we doubt if Prebendary Farrer can quote a single instance of an important addition to the bells at any church in his diocese in the last fifty years where expert opinion has not been called in when there was any doubt as to the stability of the tower.

The one example which Prebendary Farrer quotes—apparently in general support of his accusation—is an unfortunate one for him. He says: 'There is one church in this diocese that has ten bells already and they want twelve. Really there ought to be some moderation. Church towers ought not to be expected to stand a strain for which they were never built.' The only tower in the diocese of Bath and Wells where 12 bells were contemplated was Taunton, and Taunton not merely 'wants' twelve, but has already got them. Moreover, there has never been a case more closely investigated as was this Taunton addition, and the Diocesan Advisory Board, who were at first against the proposal, were eventually convinced of the safety of the scheme, which also had the approval of the Diocesan architect. The original ten bells at Taunton weigh approximately six and a half tons, the two new trebles weigh about twelve cwt., but the modern methods of hanging the peal by slightly 'tucking up' some of the bells, have more than compensated for the extra weight, while the tower has actually been strengthened by the new frame. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and there is less movement in the tower with the twelve bells ringing than there was when there was only ten.

The 'moderation' for which Prebendary Farrer appeals should really be exercised by officials speaking in public. Their words carry far, and in this case the statement has gained widespread publicity through the county and London press. It is not easy to scotch an impression thus created, and it may do great harm. We hope Prebendary Farrer's attention will be called to the error of his statement, and suggest that here is a case where the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council might step in, so that Prebendary Farrer and all associated with the management of the diocese of Bath and Wells, may be made acquainted with the real facts.

THE EXTENSION OF BRISTOL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In extending Bristol, Mr. Bankes James has added exactly the same places as Shipway did in extending Double Oxford.

In the Minor of the latter 4th's and 3rd's become 4th's and 3rd's, and 6th's and 5th's in Major; 4th's and 3rd's, 6th's and 5th's, and 8th's and 7th's in Royal; 4th's and 3rd's, 6th's and 5th's, 8th's and 7th's, 10th's and 9th's in Maximus, and so on, in regular progression to infinity. In the Major of the former 4th's and 3rd's and 6th's and 5th's become 4th's and 3rd's, 6th's and 5th's, 8th's and 7th's and 10th's and 9th's in the Maximus, and so on in regular progression. In both cases it is this extension of place alone that produces the equivalent lead end on all numbers. That the extra dodging produced by the extra places is hidden in the Bristol is nothing to the point. The 'whole turns' have no more to do with the lead end than the 3-4 places of Kent have. Omit them, and you have the extra dodging fully revealed.

So far as Mr. James' extension is a correct one, it is just because he has extended it as Shipway did Double Oxford.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD.

The O.U.G.C.R. held its annual ringing week this year in Lancashire. The headquarters were at the Diocesan Retreat House in Bolton, and the arrangements, which were on the same plan as in the last two years, were made by Canon Elsee, Vicar of St. George's. The following towers were visited: Monday: Holy Trinity, Bolton (a peal of Double Norwich), St. George's, Bolton; Tuesday, Horwich (peal attempt), Deane; The Saviour's, Bolton; and Manchester Town Hall; Wednesday, Whitworth (peal attempt), Rochdale, Milnrow and Heywood; Thursday, Stand, Prestwich, Middleton and Manchester Cathedral (a peal of Grandsire Caters); Friday, Hoghton (a peal of Little Bob Major), Brindle, Samlesbury, Tarleton, Croston and Whittle-le-Woods. There were thus only five peal attempts (of which three were successful), but no fewer than twenty towers were visited.

THE LATE MR. T. WALLIS.

Our readers will hear with regret that the widow and daughter of Mr. Tom Wallis, of Edenbridge, who, as reported in our last issue, died under such tragic circumstances, are through no fault of his left almost totally unprovided for.

At a meeting called to consider what could be done in these distressing circumstances, at which representatives from the various public bodies were present, a committee was appointed to organise the collection of a fund from which a small sum weekly could be paid to Mrs. Wallis, at any rate to tide over the present.

The representative character of the meeting testified in the strongest way to the services which Mr. Wallis had rendered to the place, and to the esteem in which he was held, and we do not feel we need emphasise this claim upon the many ringers who knew him. Contributions may be sent to Mr. J. Steady, Clothing Stores, Edenbridge, Kent.

SONNING DEANERY RINGERS AT CROYDON FOUNDRY

On Monday, Sept. 11th, members of the Sonning Deanery Branch availed themselves of the kind invitation of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston to visit the foundry at Croydon. Meeting at Wokingham, they travelled by charabanc to Sandhurst, where others were taken aboard, and thence to Croydon. Arrived at the foundry they were met by Mr. Johnston and Mr. Dean. Lunch was kindly provided for the party, during which tunes were played on the carillon in the foundry tower. Afterwards the party were shown over the works, seeing bells in every stage of production, including a carillon of 27 bells, which the firm is sending to Canada, and upon which Mr. Johnston struck tunes and chimes. Some most interesting things were seen in the clock-making departments, which emphasised the reputation this firm possesses, while a visit to the top of the tower was made, where a good view was obtained of the district. Tea was then partaken of, and Mr. Dentry, the branch secretary, thanked Mr. Johnston and Mr. Dean for their kindness, and for giving them such an enjoyable time.—Mr. Johnston replied, and said he hoped they would pay them another visit.

The return journey was made, and Wokingham reached about 8.45 p.m., when a touch of Stedman Triples on All Saints' bells concluded a very pleasant day.

Ringers forming the party came from All Saints', Wokingham (including Miss V. Robinson), Twyford, Hurst, Waltham St. Lawrence, Binsfield, and Sandhurst. Great praise is due to the combined practice committee, and especially to Mr. Jos. White, who made the arrangements.

10,848 BOB MAJOR.

By E. MULLINS.

54632 — 3

53462 — 2

Repeat four times, with 5th's and 4th's instead of M in 2nd and 3rd parts; and W, S at H instead of the last two courses of the 5th part; bringing up the half peal end, 32456.

This is the composition which Mr. E. Morris proposes to 'tap' on handbells on Saturday, October 7th.

ACCIDENT TO MR. BEN GOUGH.

The ringing friends of Mr. Ben Gough, of Princes End, Tipton, will regret to learn that a serious accident befel him on the night of Saturday, Sept. 18th. He had been paying a visit to the veteran Midland ringer, Mr. Wm. R. Small, of Great Bridge, during the early part of the evening, and together they went to St. Martin's Parish Church, Tipton, to listen to the finish of the peal of Kent Treble Bob Major. After extending his congratulations to the band, Mr. Gough wended his way home via what is known locally as Summer Hill Bridge. The roads in this particular area in recent years have been 'swagged' by mining operations, and just at this particular spot are very dangerous to pedestrians in the dark. Mr. Gough accidentally stepped into a hole, which held him by the heel of his boot, and caused him badly to twist his left ankle. The accident is to be regretted, as his absence from the ringing world will be keenly felt. All who know him will wish the genial 'Ben' a speedy recovery, and trust he will soon be about again amongst his brother ringers with all his wonted interest and enthusiasm.

OXFORD SOCIETY'S OUTING.

On Thursday, Sept. 14th, the Oxford Society had an outing which took the form of a charabanc trip to Reading via Abingdon, Dorchester, Henley and Shiplake. The party left Oxford at 9.15 a.m., and Dorchester was reached in about an hour. After inspecting the historic old Abbey, the bells were set going to Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. The party then proceeded to Henley, where touches of Stedman and Double Norwich Major were rung. The next stop was Shiplake, where a most enjoyable lunch was served at the Plough Inn. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, M.A., M.C. (Master of the Oxford Guild), honoured the company with his presence at lunch, and continued with them during the afternoon. In Reading the party visited the towers of St. Giles', St. Mary's and St. Lawrence's, where Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Major, Kent Treble Bob Major and Royal were successfully brought round. After finishing at St. Lawrence's Church, the party left for home via Streasley and Wallingford, Oxford being reached at 8.30 p.m. The weather was dull, but this did not materially affect the day's programme, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The members of the party greatly appreciated the kindness extended to them by members of the towers visited, and this contributed largely towards the success of the outing. They also wish to thank the incumbents of the various towers for the use of the bells.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A new peal of six for Peckham, near Canterbury, are being cast at the Whitechapel Foundry, and the firm are also adding two trebles to increase the ring at Stanmore, Middlesex, to eight.

At Thames Ditton, Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have rehung the peal of six, and they are also rehangings the six at Hampton, Devon.

Mr. James George has sustained another bereavement by the death of a sister—the third member of his family to pass away within the last two years, one being Mr. W. H. George, of Eastleigh. Of a family of nine brothers and sisters, only two now remain.

William Shipway was born at Bath on September 29th, 1760.

Henry Bagley, the son of a blacksmith, and the first of the Northamptonshire bell founders, was baptised at Chacombe on October 2nd, 1608.

The first peal of Bristol Surprise on handbells was rung by Messrs. G. R., W. and E. Pye and W. Keeble at Romford on October 1st, 1907.

On October 1st, 1793, a peal of 15,360 Bob Major was rung at Aston, conducted by Joshua Short.

A 'silent' peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (the first on record) was rung at Liversedge, Yorks, on Oct. 3rd, 1863.

Mr. Albert Walker, the Deputy Ringing Master of St. Martin's, Birmingham, rang his 150th peal of Stedman Cinques on Sept. 13th. Of these he has conducted 55. This is a remarkable achievement even for a ringer in such a centre of twelve-bell ringing as Birmingham.

On Saturday, October 7th, Mr. A. T. Morris, of Harwich, who has 'tapped' such a large number of peals, will attempt a 10,848 Bob Major at 5, King's Head Street, commencing at 2 p.m. sharp. Any ringers who wish to be present should communicate with Mr. Morris as soon as possible. The figures of the peal are available.

Mr. Tom Russam was the referee of the handbell peal of Stedman Cinques rung at Birmingham on September 7th. This was omitted from the report.

The report of the peal of Stedman Caters, at Ewerby, Lincolnshire, should read: First peal of Stedman Caters by ringer of 9th, 50th peal by ringer of 4th. The ringer of the 2nd was Holden, not Holmes.

Messrs. Groombridge and Palmer are rehangings the peal of six at Freiston and the ring of five at Algakirk (both near Boston, Lincs), the work including new gudgeons and bearings and general overhauling.

There are many lady ringers in the West of England who do not yet belong to the Ladies' Guild, and the district secretary, Miss E. Smith, of 25, Somerset Street, Kingsdown, Bristol, will be very glad to welcome them as members.

A PEAL OF 12 FOR EXETER.

Just as we are going to press we hear that two new trebles are to be added to Exeter Cathedral's magnificent ring, to make a peal of twelve.

The new bells have been offered by Mr. Arthur Thomas, a well-known resident of Exeter, and have been accepted by the Dean and Chapter.

It is hoped that the bells, which will be a crowning glory to the grandest peal in the world, will be installed before Christmas.

LADIES' GUILD.

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS POSTPONED.

The quarterly meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held on Saturday last, at St. Mark's, Bath, and was much enjoyed by a good company of ringers, including a band from St. Mark's, Swindon.

As, unfortunately, only six members of the Guild were present, it was considered impossible to hold the annual business meeting for the appointment of officers for the ensuing year, and this was postponed until the next quarterly meeting, which it was decided should take place in Bristol, as being most central, early in December, and that the present secretary make arrangements.

One new member, Miss Ethel Pacey, of Rumney, Cardiff, was elected.

The Ladies' Guild is much indebted to the Vicar and ringers of St. Mark's for their kind welcome.

LATE NOTICE.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. — The next quarterly meeting will be held at Abergavenny, Mon., on Saturday, Oct. 7th. Bells (8) available. Church service at 4.45. Tea and business meeting to follow.—John W. Jones, Hon. Sec., 29, Barrack Hill, Newport, Mon.

A PREBENDARY'S NONSENSE.*WHAT A FINANCE BOARD WAS ASKED TO BELIEVE.

A remarkable accusation with regard to bells was made last week by Prebendary Farrer at a meeting of the Board of Finance for the Diocese of Bath and Wells, at which the Marquis of Bath presided, and the Bishop of the Diocese and the Bishop of Taunton were among those present. Having commented upon the fact that the committee had only been able to make comparatively small grants to parishes that had to raise large sums, and that further large claims for church maintenance were expected, he added:

One of the causes, I may almost say curse, of our churches falling into disrepair, are the bells. Our towers were never built to hold an enormous number of bells. They were built to hold four or five, and now in some parishes there is a race to see how many bells they can cram in. They do not go to an architect, but to a firm of bell hangers, who put as many bells as they can without regard for the building. There is one church in this diocese that has ten bells already, and they want twelve. Really, there ought to be some moderation. Church towers ought not to be expected to stand a strain for which they were never built.

Bell founders and ringers know how to appraise such nonsense, but it is a serious matter when a statement of this kind goes forth to the world as the considered opinion of a member of a Diocesan Finance Board. Prebendary Farrer was unlucky when he alighted on the Taunton augmentation to illumine his case, as we endeavour to show in our leading article.

ONE THOUSAND PEALS.*MR. GEORGE WILLIAMS' ACHIEVEMENT.

Mr. George Williams, the present Master of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, whose name for more than a generation has been almost a household word among ringers, has just achieved a distinction shared only by three other members of the Exercise. On Sept. 16th, at Wraybury, Bucks, he completed his one thousand peals, the only other ringers who have as yet reached that number being the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, Mr. William Pye (Master of the Middlesex Association), and Mr. I. G. Shade, of Greenwich.

Few ringers have done more spadework in the teaching of beginners than has Mr. Williams, and the majority of the peals which he has rung in the simpler methods have been in assisting young ringers in their early efforts.

Mr. Williams was born at East Meon, Hants, on May 7th, 1857, and was first introduced to a bell at the age of twelve, when residing at Droxford. Here he used to chime for service, and sometimes with an uncle and two cousins rang the four bells at this church. In the neighbouring parish of Soberton he commenced ringing Grand-sire Doubles, but as the only method employed was that of learning the work of a bell all through, Mr. Williams became tired of it, and left the bellry for the pastimes of cricket, bicycling (in the days of the old high ordinary) and volunteering. With the formation of the Winchester Guild in 1879 and 1880, better opportunities for ringing presented themselves, and Mr. Williams was drawn back to the tower. He rang his first peal—Grandsire Triples—on January 7th, 1884, at Soberton—the first peal by the Winchester Guild in Hampshire. The next year he removed to Reigate, and afterwards to Fareham (where he was appointed instructor to the Guild). Next he moved to Midhurst, where the Sussex Association made him one of its instructors. Many hands in Hampshire and Sussex owed their start in ringing to his aid, and when he left Fareham he was presented with a nicely bound volume of the Shipway reprint, while on leaving Midhurst his services were recognised by the gift of a handsomely written and bound peal book.

After his departure from West Sussex, Mr. Williams lived in Brighton for 16 years, and it was during his connection with the St. Peter's Company that Sussex was raised to a proud position in the ringing world, a position for which the enterprise of the Brighton band was largely responsible. The band were pioneers in Surprise methods outside London, Cambridge and Superlative, and they rang peals of New Cumberland, Oxford, Bristol, Gloucester, Westminster and Norfolk Surprise Major. Mr. Williams was their principal conductor, and to his ability they owed a large share of their success.

In 1893, Mr. Williams was elected hon. sec. of the Central Division of the Sussex Association, which post he held until he left Brighton in 1905, when his great services to the Association were recognised by the presentation of a handsome silver tea service suitably engraved, and his election as a life honorary member.

After taking up his residence at West End, Southampton, Mr. Williams joined the North Stoneham band. Here he has done much to raise them to the forefront among Winchester Diocesan ringers, after being largely instrumental in getting the peal increased from six to eight. Mr. Williams' knowledge and enthusiasm were soon made use of by the Guild, and he served for some years as general hon. secretary before being elected to the position of Master.

It was on one of the annual peal ringing tours which Mr. Williams has made in various parts of the country that he completed his 1,000 peals, the list of which is appended.

THE YORKSHIRE DINNER.

The first commemoration dinner, organised by the Yorkshire Association, to the memory of the late Jasper Whitfield Snowden and past officers of the Association, was held last Saturday at the Griffin Hotel, Leeds, and was a great success. The proceedings were attended by visitors from all parts of Yorkshire, and from London, Surrey, Loughborough, Birmingham and Newcastle. There was ringing during the afternoon at various churches, and a company of 117 sat down to dinner.

A fuller report of the proceedings will appear in our next issue.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.*GRATIFYING EXPANSION OF EXETER BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting of the Exeter District of the Guild of Devonshire ringers was held at Honiton-Clyst on Saturday week, when members, to the number of 30, were present from St. Sidwell's and St. David's, Exeter, Topsham, Withycombe Raleigh, Newton St. Cyres, Cheriton Fitzpain, Honiton-Clyst, Sowton and Christow. Service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. H. B. Clarke (Vicar), who gave a very impressive address, and Mrs. Clarke very ably presided at the organ.

Tea was subsequently partaken of in the Institute, and was followed by the business meeting. Among those present were the chairman of the district (Mr. E. Shepherd), the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. N. J. Southwood) and assistant secretary (Mr. J. C. Oke), the Rev. H. B. Clarke, and the Rev. N. H. Arundel (Cheriton Fitzpain).

One of the most gratifying features of the meeting was the number of new members proposed, which speaks volumes for the work now being carried on in the interest of change ringing in the district. It is hoped that this will be an incentive to other bands to join the Guild, take up the art, and receive the help given by the Guild. The following are the bands who were proposed: Poughill, Rev. N. B. Gurney, hon. member and 4 associate members; Otterton, Rev. Grimaldi, hon. members and 9 associate members; Kenn, Rev. Vining, hon. members and 8 associate members; Cheriton Fitzpain, Rev. N. H. Arundel, hon. member and 5 associate members; Honiton-Clyst, 1 associate member.

Four members who had qualified were awarded the Guild certificate.

The Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the excellent arrangements made, and to Mrs. Clarke.—The Vicar, in reply, said it gave him the greatest pleasure to welcome the Guild to Honiton-Clyst, and he hoped they would pay a further visit in the near future.—The Vicar proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman.

The bells, a fine peal of eight, were kept merrily going during the afternoon and evening, and some nice touches brought round.

Q-SET PRINCIPLES IN METHOD CONSTRUCTION.To the Editor.NO BEARING UPON INTERNAL ROWS.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Powell really must excuse our 'ordinary mid-Victorian' minds in that they were led into misinterpreting his remarks, ancient the gaudy bit of patchwork as being intentionally humorous. But his pursuance of this mixed method of argument in last week's 'Ringing World,' wherein two distinct issues are set in conflict, calls for prompt reply in all seriousness. Space here is far too valuable to be occupied in quibbling over particular meanings of words employed in connection with ringing. But every ringer knows that by the 'science' of ringing is understood that phase which is distinctive from the practical side of it—the art of the thing. Our question, at the time of Mr. Powell's entry into the arena, was simply that of method construction and extension, particularly as it related to Bristol; and as explained in the earlier sections of the article, method construction deals solely with the design of a change-block itself; that is, the arrangement of changes between lead-head and lead-end. Now 'Q-set' is a term which was coined by the late W. H. Thompson to express the relation between certain rows of changes which occur in methods at the parting only of the leads; and in principles at the parting only of the divisions; that is to say, the principles of the Q-set theory, relating as they do to composition (as embracing the junction of leads or divisions into courses, and of courses into extents and peals), have no bearing whatever upon method designing, which constitutes the arrangement of rows within a lead or division and that alone. Indeed, composition in any given method can only begin where method construction leaves off; and unfortunately Mr. Powell's last letter confuses the two distinct issues. Now it was to the former that we referred, when we spoke of 'the fabric'; and although Mr. Powell now suggests otherwise, we are fully alive to the fact that this fabric, in itself, is constructed 'scientifically' in the true sense; and that it abounds in theorems and laws; as has been amply demonstrated by Heywood, Thompson and others. But let us get down below this fabric; on what does it rest? Why, sir, it rests on something which, as we explained in our last letter, is evolved from one or two arbitrary conventions; something, for the production of which there are no fixed laws whatever; and that something is the change block; more often called a 'lead' in a method, and a 'division' in a principle; and this fact becomes all the more clear when it is remembered that except for the limitations imposed by the few conventions above mentioned, the scope of the designer, in building his block, is unbounded.

One of his limitations is that his lead-heads and lead-ends must be of the normal coursing order; and once this is established the composer, stringing together the leads into courses by means of varied call-positions, follows the principles of the Q-set theory; and this brings about inevitably the association of leads when extension is entered upon. At this juncture it is worth noting that Mr. Powell, in raising the question of the Q-set principle, is only adding a stronger plank to my platform, since it serves to illustrate that association of leads is vital—a fact which Mr. Powell strove, in his first letter, to disprove. On the other hand, it is at once evident, to anyone who looks at the matter even superficially, that in the field of composition, things could not 'just grow, like Topsy'; they must be tended and cultivated carefully in the early stages; and then their subsequent growth proceeds under the government of the laws as defined by the Q-set theory. But there is a particular Q-set governing composition in every different method whose lead ends are arranged in varied order.

One thing should be borne constantly in mind by all theorists; namely, that in the ringers' court, as constituted by this invaluable paper, all cases should be conducted in terms which cannot mislead or confuse any one member in its public benches. To this end, we would point out that every member of a Q-set (in methods at least) has the treble bell at lead; and thus it is that any attempt to treat the interior rows of a change-block as members of a Q-set, results in nothing else but another patch in that cloak of mystery which some theorists are prone to throw over the whole matter.

And so, sir, do we find ourselves in a position in which we can make a bold and incontrovertible statement: The Q-set theory, since it deals solely with the rows found at the parting of change-blocks, cannot have the slightest bearing upon the inside rows of a change-block; and since the business of method construction is confined to the arrangements of these inside rows (the 'head' and 'end' rows of any block being fixed by convention) the Q-set principles can never have the slightest effect, either one way or the other on method construction and extension.

No, sir, the actual truth is that apart from the observation of the given conventions the designer may freely exercise his will in building a change-block, certain 'shunts,' of course, producing certain inevitable results within the block. There yet remain to be formulated the principles governing these latter; and it is these principles which some misguided theorists would have the Exercise believe to be of the Q-set order. Frankly, sir, is not that too absurd?—Very truly yours,

A. YORK BRAMBLE.

Q-SETS REQUIRE CLEAN PROOF SCALE.

Dear Sir,—The Q-set is of such a nature that if you do not violate it, it will produce the extent of the changes. It follows from this, that every method which follows the Q-set rule must have a clean proof scale, even with the tenors apart. Why will people keep on wasting your valuable space by rushing into print before testing their theories?—Yours, etc.,

Surfleet.

H. LAW JAMES.

DEATH OF AN OLD ESSEX RINGER.

On Tuesday, Sept. 5th the death occurred at High Street, Kelvedon, after a short illness, of Mr. H. Elliott, who had until recently been a ringer at the Parish Church for about 50 years, and had also been employed in Felix Hall gardens for 54 years. He was laid to rest on Friday, Sept. 8th, amid every token of respect, and in the evening a date touch of Bob Minor, with the bells half-muffled, was rung by E. Dale 1, F. Dale, junr. 2, W. Keeble (conductor) 3, J. Elliott 4, E. Bone 5, W. Elliott 6. The number of calls used (69) was the same as the age of the deceased ringer.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*A DELAYED ANNUAL REPORT.

A quarterly meeting of the Central Division was held at Barcombe on Saturday, Sept. 16th. This meeting was on the programme for 1914-15. Barcombe, situated a few miles from Lewes, has six bells, and this is the first meeting the Association has held there. Although the number present was not great, some spade-work was done, and it is hoped, progress made. Ringing commenced at about 2.30, and continued until 4.30, when a short service was held in church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. W. Farrar), who also gave a very interesting address. Afterwards all adjourned to the Rectory, where a splendid tea had been provided.

The business meeting followed, the Rector presiding, and being supported by the Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman).—The Rector opened the meeting by giving the Association a most hearty welcome to Barcombe, and gave for a motto, 'I'll try.' The business was mostly of a routine nature, and the election of the following non-resident members was confirmed: Messrs. R. Sanders (Stepney), H. W. Clark (Cubitt Town), W. Perkins (Irthlingborough), W. B. Cartwright (Birmingham), H. Markwell (Tunbridge Wells), H. A. Edwards (Asherwood, East Grinstead).

Discussion arose as to when the report would appear, and disappointment was expressed that it was not yet published. The following resolution was passed: 'That this quarterly meeting respectfully express its regret that the annual report of the Association is so very late in appearing this year.'

The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, his address, and for his kind hospitality; also to the organist and the ladies who waited upon the visitors at tea. The jovial manner in which the Rector welcomed the Association was remarked by all.

The tower was again visited until about 8 o'clock.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.*FURNESS AND LAKE DISTRICT BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Furness and Lake District Branch was held at Ambleside on Saturday, Sept. 2nd. Members from Broughton-in-Furness, Dalton-in-Furness, Kendal, Ulverston and Silverdale, attended, and had a smooth passage on Windermere Lake.—The Rev. J. B. Bolland (Vicar) presided, and warmly welcomed the visitors. Dalton-in-Furness was the place chosen for the next half-yearly meeting, and Kirkby-in-Furness for the next half-yearly ringing meeting.

Before and after partaking of the hospitality provided by the local ringers, the 20 members present, including six ladies, rang touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major.

It was agreed that efforts be made to increase the membership of the Branch.

SOUTH WALES RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, September 16th, the Rumney Guild visited Bristol for their annual outing. The boat trip from Cardiff was much enjoyed, and by the time Bristol was reached everyone had gained a keen appetite. Afterwards the band adjourned to St. Michael's, where they were heartily welcomed by Miss Smith (the local secretary) and other ringers. Several touches were rung, and then tracks were made for the city, where a most pleasant time was spent in various ways.

Later in the evening the party took charabanc to Weston, and from thence reached Cardiff by boat. Rumney was eventually safely reached, everyone voting it had been 'a grand day.' The ringers wish, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank the Rector of St. Michael's for use of bells, and also those who helped to give them such a pleasant time.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

AN ABANDONED MEETING.

The meeting that should have taken place at Cogenhoe on Saturday last, was unavoidably cancelled on the preceding Thursday, which prevented stopping intending visitors by notice in 'The Ringing World.' Each tower in the district was notified of the fact, and it was also advertised in the 'Northampton Chronicle,' but perhaps all members did not see this notice. If any members went to Cogenhoe and were disappointed, the hon. secretary (Mr. S. J. Lawrence) hopes they will forgive.

The Rector of Milton (the Rev. B. E. Evans) has kindly asked the Association to hold a meeting at Milton, and also given cordial invitation to all members and friends to tea (see notice on another page). As this will be the first visit to Milton it is hoped members will make a special effort to attend, and give encouragement to the young band who are making great strides in the art of campanology at that tower. There are frequent buses from Guildhall Road, Northampton. Fare 5d.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT ORSETT.

A quarterly meeting of the South-Western Division was held at Orsett on Saturday last, members attending from Barking, Brentwood, Bentley, Romford, Leytonstone, Stanford-le-Hope, and Gravesend. Ringing commenced at 3.30, and touches of Plain Bob, Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, Wells and London Surprise Minor, were brought round. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. W. Eisdell), who also gave an appropriate address. An excellent tea, arranged by Mr. A. Keeling, the genial steeplekeeper, was partaken of at the Whitmore Arms, at which the Rector presided, supported by Mrs. Eisdell.

At the meeting which followed, two honorary members, three probationers and two ringing members were elected.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting (annual) at St. Saviour's, Walthamstow.—Mr. E. Butler proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and the kind welcome extended to the members, also to Mr. A. Keeling and other friends who helped to make the meeting a success.—Messrs. Wightman, Morris and Plummer, of Woodford, gave a selection of tunes on the handbells, which was much appreciated. After a course of Grandsire Caters on handbells, the visitors returned to the tower till 8.30, when all made tracks for home to the tune of Triples and Bob Major, and another selection on the handbells in the bus. The meeting was one of the best held for some time.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

BRIDGNORTH BRANCH MEETING.

The quarterly meeting of the Bridgnorth Branch was held at Quatt on Saturday, September 9th, and was well attended by members from St. Leonard's and St. Mary's, Bridgnorth, Stockton, Coalbrookdale and Quatt.

A short service was held in the church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. Roper), the Guild form being used. Both before and after service the bells were kept going. Tea was partaken of in the Parish Room, kindly provided by the Rector.

The business meeting followed, the Rev. J. Roper presiding.—Six new ringing members were elected, including the Rev. James Stewart Jobling, the new Rector of St. Mary's, Bridgnorth.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting at St. Leonard's, Bridgnorth, on Saturday, December 2nd, 1922.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for his kind hospitality, and to Mrs. Garbett for her kindness in waiting on the visitors.—The Rector, responding, said he was only too pleased to do what lay in his power for ringers, and ringing generally.

A short musical programme followed by St. Leonard's handbell ringers on the Green outside the Parish Room, and was greatly appreciated by all. The ringers then adjourned to the belfry, and ringing continued till 7.30. Five ringers qualified for certificates, and the methods rung were Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor, this bringing to a close a very enjoyable and instructive meeting.

MANCHESTER.—At St. Philip's, Hulme, on Friday, Sept. 8th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 50 mins.: Miss E. Tonge 1, A. Bailey 2, J. Hall 3, F. Page 4, W. H. Shaker 5, J. Wilson 6, R. F. Deal (conductor) 7, W. J. Bradshaw (first quarter-peal) 8.

THE OXFORD GUILD TOUR. PEAL RINGING IN BEDS AND BUCKS.

By W. H. F.

Preparations were begun rather late for our expedition in September, consequently several well-known men were absent, and we were not favoured by the ever-welcome company of a clergyman. Some two or three apologies for absence by old members compelled the organiser to seek 'fresh blood' to make up the full party, for, after securing the kind co-operation of the respective clergy and foremen of towers to be visited, it would never do to 'close down' at the eleventh hour.

The peals list compares very favourably with those of other years—when George Williams, of Brighton, and his stalwart men were a byword in 'Bell News' days—because the first seven attempts came off straight from the handstroke. Bucks alone was to have been the limit of our wanderings for the metal, but the county of Bedford has an up-to-date honorary ringing secretary, and his encouragement relieved the writer of much trouble, and made a happy beginning to our week's tour by three good days—and don't forget the nights, in Bed—fordshire. Perhaps in the form of a diary it would be better to offer my notes of the seven days' proceedings which may be of some interest to those readers who have enjoyed similar holidays in the past. Programmes, with instructions and details as to bed, board and travelling, had been sent out in advance to all concerned, yet the man who prepared them was the first to be marked up 'absent.'

Dunstable.—Rev. Canon W. W. O. Baker, Rector; Mr. G. W. Healey, foreman.

Ten men were to have met here on Saturday, Sept. 9th, at 3 p.m. Eight of them met, and rang the peal. The other two were kicking themselves for an hour or two on the station platform at Knebworth, having passed the junction at Hatfield for Dunstable. We—the two Bills—took the opportunity of seeing Hatfield Church and Lord Salisbury's tomb, and arrived at Dunstable Church at six o'clock, in time to hear the last hour of some good ringing. Mr. Tom Blackburne (of Blackburne and Greenleaf's fame), Mr. A. Edwards (Boreham), and several local ringers, joined us in front of the beautiful Norman west elevation of this ancient priory church and offered congratulations to the peal hands. Canon Baker, who usually takes a spell with the ringers here, was away on holiday, and, although a Bedfordshire band rang 3 hours and 10 minutes last spring for a peal of Cambridge Major, these men—sportsmen, I might add—raised no objection to our party attempting the same method. Not long ago a certain Lincolnshire Vicar was ringing the tenor to a peal of Major at this church. The tenor box is beside the trap door in the floor, which is reached only by means of a long dangerous old rung ladder. The curate, taking duty for evensong, climbed the ladder to ask the ringers to cease for 20 minutes; but when the trap door began to lift, the reverend conductor jumped heavily on to it, and resumed his place on the box. His identity might be discovered from the curate's exclamation of surprise, 'Oh! lor', James.' Tea at 7 p.m. in the High Street was enjoyed to the sound of a well-trained brass band, and the 8.12 train to Leighton Buzzard boarded.

Leighton Buzzard.—Rev. G. F. Hills, Vicar; Mr. J. Nicholls, foreman.

'The Plume of Feathers' offered us accommodation, and we were most homely here—thanks to Bertram Studley—with a room all to ourselves. Our members were divided in the morning, some going to Linslade Church to make up their morning band, and others to Leighton tower, less than a mile away. All Saints' Church is wide and spacious, having two transepts of similar proportion, with a central tower and spire (all in stone). The ringing room is consequently very large. Touches of Caters and Major were rung for Divine service at 11 a.m., assisted by Mr. A. Edwards, Foreman Nicholls, and Mrs. E. Brownsworth, the last of a war team of ladies taught by Mr. Nicholls and Mr. Bonfield, the local conductor, who, alas, has had to give up tower ringing on account of ill-health. Our grandfathers in the Exercise realised that one must feed well to work well, and this applies to ringing, especially when there's a week of it. The luncheon at 12.30 consisted of boiled leg of mutton—a favourite dish of the late Mr. W. W. Gifford's, who did some mighty work at the 'big end' in his day—in the tower?

Linslade (Bucks) and Leighton Buzzard (Beds), divided by the River Ouse, are now merged into one since the L. and N.W.R. made a station at the former parish. Linslade old church, now in ruins, is two miles away, surrounded by one or two old farmhouses. The modern church at Southcott made use of the bells from the old tower in its present ring. It was so badly planned that the ringing room possessed no window or ventilator until the Vicar, the Rev. W. B. Mahony, had two put in before leaving for Boyne Hill, Maidenhead. Mrs. L. Lydekker, wife of the present Vicar, is a daughter of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, and both she and the Vicar evinced much interest in our visit. The foreman, Mr. J. Vickars, and Mr. J. Sears, 'yes, uncle,' to the Brothers Sears, of Bletchley, added their congratula-

THE LEEDS GATHERING.

Yorkshire has been the home of many pioneers of ringing, and, for a century past, there have sprung up from time to time in the county men who have made a name, either for their researches or their practical work. It is to a Yorkshireman that the present generation of ringers owes more, probably, than to any other individual, for the standard text books of to-day are the works of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon. He adopted a method of explaining the mysteries of the art which has enabled thousands of ringers to make their first step in change ringing, and for this reason he stands pre-eminent among writers upon the subject. His name is known wherever change ringing exists, it is revered in the county of his birth, where there are still many who enjoyed personal contact with that man of athletic frame, unbounded enthusiasm and active mind. He was one of the founders and the first president of the Yorkshire Association, and it is fitting that, in establishing an annual gathering of ringers in the North, to correspond in type with the functions held in London, Birmingham and Bristol, Yorkshire ringers should seek to associate with it the memory of Jasper Snowdon.

Other great names in ringing, like those of the Hattersleys and the Lockwoods, now gone to their rest, have been household words in Yorkshire ringing circles; and the debt which the Association owes to these departed giants, will now find expression at the annual gathering which was so successfully initiated on Saturday week. The dinner at Leeds drew men from all over the broad county and a good sprinkling of visitors from outside. It was a most enjoyable function, and after such an admirable beginning, will doubtless grow into one of the most important social gatherings for ringers in the Kingdom. There has been nothing of the same kind previously north of Birmingham, and there was ample room for such a function in that part of the country. Yorkshiremen will, naturally, be always ready to do honour to those departed friends with whom they have had such close and endearing ties, but the opportunity of paying homage to the memory of men like Jasper Snowdon and Charles Hattersley will appeal to many, far beyond the borders of the county. Their work was universal in its scope. Ringers, wherever change ringing is known, have benefited, and will continue to benefit, from the result of their ungrudging labours; and it is good to know that not only have old companions the opportunity of gathering together to keep green the memory of such men, but that, if it is continued, this dinner will serve in the years to come to remind future ringers of what has been done by some of their predecessors in the past to extend the art and spread knowledge.

THE OXFORD GUILD TOUR.

By W. H. F.

Sunday evening was spent in a visit to a prominence — Tunnell Hill—midway between Old and New Linlade, commanding fine views of the Dunstable and Luton district. Towards dusk we were to be found preening our fine feathers at 'The Plume' round the supper table, preparatory to taking to our feather beds, fortified by the arrival of Mr. J. H. Shepherd.

Leighton Buzzard, Monday, Sept. 11th.—The church entrance gates form one side of a rectangle, with the High Street opposite, and commanding business premises on either side. The Golden Bell brought a group of men together near its doors at 10 a.m., the hour of assembly; not to enter it, but to visit the post office adjoining so that distant friends and relations might have local view cards. Residents unaccustomed to Monday groups of men in their square guessed that their bells were to be set ageing, and afterwards spoke favourably of the performance here. The Golden Bell, a gentle reminder of bygone days—of Moses and his outer garment—served a good purpose in recent centuries. One of its private rooms was wont to be used for choir practices, to the accompaniment of a viol or clarionet, presided over by the Vicar. We wondered if they had in those days to clear their throats so frequently as the bell ringers are credited with the habit.

Before starting to ring it was mutually agreed by those visitors who did not belong to the Bedford Association to apply for the privilege of membership. This was formally proposed by Mr. Sharman, and seconded by Mr. Novard, and the necessary fee for seven men handed over. Judging by the peal boards in the belfry, and the fact that a good many of the local men belong to it, this district would appear to have been one of the happy hunting grounds of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, London, and it was only on booking up our Royal that I found the majority of the team to-day were also members. At an adjacent village, called Hockcliffe, is a garage named 'The Dug Out,' needless to say, run by one of the little army of contemptibles, and at 3.30 we were supplied by a vehicle which held our party—excepting two members, Hart and Williams, who cycled—and we left the town with 'three plumes up.'

Woburn.—Rev. W. V. C. White, Vicar. Mr. S. A. Avis, foreman. We duly arrived here safely—via Hockcliffe, with its pretty church and set of pre-Reformation bells—in good time to begin preparations for our fourth attempt. Met by the Brothers Herbert, and several local ringers, we received favourable comments upon the Stedman accomplished here. The church is a most beautiful modern building erected by the Duke of Bedford in the grounds of his park. Kept scrupulously clean, the condition of the belfry and its approaches equals that of the chancel. The large bell—55 cwt., cast in 1868—was re-used with the ring of bells from the old church to make the present grand octave in 1910. The Simpson tuning is absent, and the architects wisely adopted an old process when putting in a 'plaster' ceiling to the ringing room. The peace, the comfort of ringing here can only be appreciated fully by those who have rung at Woburn. District change ringers are meeting here in good numbers for 'Surprise' practices, and Mr. Editor will be asked to publish a local peal of 'London' in the near future.

Bletchley.—Rev. F. W. Bennett, Rector. Mr. H. Sear, foreman. We reached the town of Bletchley in time for supper, and dividing our forces between the Eight Bells and the Park Hotels, as one house could not accommodate us all, our numbers having been augmented by the arrival of Mr. Jas. George, of Edgbaston. The brothers Harry and Walter Sear joined us for a chat and final arrangements for the stay of two nights, and we were indebted to Walter, hon. secretary of the North Bucks Branch, for much assistance in this end of the county. The handbells were brought out before going to bed, and an octave used; it would have been uncourteous to Mine Host of the Eight Bells not to have done so. Bletchley Church bells are out of repair, and in deference to the wishes of the Vicar, the strong restoration committee, and the local ringers, the peal question was abandoned. St Mary's Church is approached through a fine avenue of very ancient yews, and is built of stone, mostly in the Perpendicular style, some portions being early 12th century. There is a fine embattled western tower with clock and eight bells. The peal was renovated at a cost of £125 in 1893, the tenor bell, 18 cwt., being recast.

Olney, Tuesday, Sept. 12th.—The Rev. H. Beacham, Vicar. Mr. Frank Boswell, foreman. A very bright morning, too much so to last. We went out with an enjoyable view of the valley of the River Ouse, and returned in the dark and a drizzle, with a couple more peals to our credit. In Domesday this ancient place was called 'Olnei,' and consists of one long main street and a market-place midway. Near the railway station the town has much grown, its prosperity being due to the boot and shoe trade. The stone spire is 185 feet high. The trebles to complete the octave of bells were added in 1903 from a bequest of £250 by Thomas Eyles for this purpose. A very fine Perpendicular roof was destroyed in about 1800, for the sake of its lead, which was sold to pay for repairs. William Cowper, the poet, on leaving Huntingdon, resided here 1767 to 1788. According to tradition the poet composed his ballad of 'John Gilpin' whilst living at Olney. We had an interesting chat with the Vicar, examined the fillet holes and the gudgeons of the bells, etc., and raised the peal whilst waiting for the cyclists. Mr. Hart was delayed at Newport by brake trouble, several constables having been much interested in his motor bike on the highway for two days past, but Mr. Hart did not know Inspector Callaway was a 'Slough' (slow) man, like Keith himself, when he is calling Thursans. During the peal I noticed our 'bantam' weight, Mr. Williams, was occasionally off his feet a few inches. My own bell 'went' when it was pulled—there was no need to say 'pull it,' or pulling—but it refused to come back if my neighbour George was anywhere near. Mr. Brooks, a confectioner in High Street, provided a hot lunch, and we were not exactly dry, although the peal was not ended till long after 'closing' time. We all sincerely hoped that Brooks would never run dry, and came away smiling at 3.40 p.m. The only resemblance to a 'pussyfoot' was our organiser, who endeavoured to leave Olney without paying the bill.

Newport Pagnell.—Rev. L. Moxon, Vicar. Mr. F. C. Tompkins, foreman. News of an abandoned attempt recently, owing to a bad going bell here, did not comfort anyone. After 20 minutes' going to Superlative we found the peal running well, and one of the best performances during the week was brought round. This peal of bells was new in 1911, most of the expenses being borne by the late Mr. Fred Taylor. Had the local ringers thought fit at the time, the ring could have been made up to ten. Mr. Taylor, who died in his 83rd year, was a great lover of the bells (chimes were originally instituted in 1887, when there were nine bells). He would always have the windows of his house open on ringing nights so that he might hear them better, even up to the last.

DEATH OF A COALBROOKDALE RINGER.

On Monday, the 18th Sept., the sad news reached Coalbrookdale that Mr. Herbert Bailey had passed away at the Ministry of Pensions Hospital, Orpington, Kent. The deceased, who was 31 years of age, was one of the Territorials for several years previous to 1914, and when war was declared he at once volunteered for active service. He was drafted to Hong Kong, and from thence to India. While there he contracted fever, which developed into a severe nervous breakdown. He was eventually invalided home, but up to the time of his death never fully recovered.

Mr. Bailey joined the Coalbrookdale ringers in 1907, when the band were at a very low ebb. It was about this time that a real effort was being made to raise the standard of change ringing at the tower, and the first peal of Grandsire Triples to be rung by a complete Coalbrookdale band was rung on July 17th, 1909. Mr. Bailey rang the treble to this peal. He rang six peals in all, four of Grandsire and two of Stedman. One of the Grandsire peals was rung half-muffled to the memory of the late King Edward. He was a most regular and consistent ringer of the band till joining up for war service.

Mr. Bailey was buried at Orpington on Thursday, Sept. 21st. During the afternoon the flag was at half-mast on Holy Trinity Church, Coalbrookdale. As a mark of respect to his memory, his old colleagues met on Wednesday evening and rang, half-muffled, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 46 minutes: Bert Rixom 1, R. Evans 2, J. Hanley 3, L. Hewitt 4, R. Jones 5, W. Saunders 6, J. Garbett 7, A. Garbett 8. Composed by John Carter, and conducted by William Wase (first quarter-peal of Stedman as conductor). Also 1,008 Grandsire Triples, in 37 minutes, composed and conducted by W. Lago. A very fine course of Grandsire Caters was also rung, double-handed, on handbells by Messrs. Rixom 1—2, Wase 3—4, Lago 5—6, Saunders 7—8, Bayley 9—10. It is interesting to note that twelve local ringers were present on this occasion, all remembering how many happy hours their deceased brother ringers had spent amongst them. Mr. Bailey, besides his work as a ringer, also did much to brighten the ringing chamber of Coalbrookdale.

A SUNDAY PRACTICE MEETING.

A useful practice meeting, arranged by Mr. J. Larter, was held at Cratfield Parish Church, Suffolk, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 17th. Thirteen ringers attended, representing eleven parishes, viz.: G. A. Wightman and J. Gardner (Cratfield), C. Parnell and G. Baxter (Beccles), J. Larter (Henham), J. Hall (Framlingham), W. Emery (Laxfield), J. Garrett (Badingham), J. Jolly (Bramfield), W. Kerrison (Wissett), J. Ford (Brampton), E. Cook (Stoven), A. Lee (Halesworth).

Touches of Kent, Oxford and Worcester Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Double Court Minor and Stedman Doubles were rung, conducted by J. Hall and J. Larter, and finishing with a 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor, conducted by A. Lee. Six of the company then journeyed to Halesworth, and took part in short touches of Kent Treble Bob and Bob Major and Grandsire Triples for the evening service.

NEW BELLS AT GREASLEY, NOTTS. NEW PEAL OF EIGHT OPENED.

Greasley Parish Church is now in proud possession of a fine peal of eight bells, which, from the ideal position of the church, will send out their melodious sounds over the lovely countryside for many years to come. Up to November of last year there hung in this tower, on a wooden framework bearing the date 1699, a peal of five bells. Through the course of time the framework had become dilapidated, and on calling in expert advice it was deemed unsafe to ring the bells. The Church Council agreed to rehang and refit the peal, and placed the work in the capable hands of Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough fame.

Through the generosity of Mr. C. W. Phillips, of The Grange, Eastwood, a new bell, in memory of his mother, was given, augmenting the peal to six. The bell experts of Loughborough advised the recasting of the old treble and second to make a good peal. After a great deal of consideration by the Council, and several visits to Loughborough, it was decided to recast those two bells. Mrs. Hanson, of 'Cloverlands,' Kimberley, kindly defrayed the cost of recasting the old treble, and the church arranged for the recasting of the second.

The peal was further augmented to eight by the addition of two new trebles, given in memory of their brother, the late John William Fryar, by the generosity of the Misses Fryar.

The old 3rd bell did not give satisfaction to Messrs. Taylor, and a visit to the bell foundry by a representative body of the Church Council was paid. On hearing the bells tapped it was agreed to recast this—the 3rd—bell, the cost of which has been borne by a person who, at present, wishes to remain anonymous.

Now that the work is completed and the bells are ringing forth in their rejuvenated state, there is no doubt that they are a beautiful, sweet and pure-toned peal, the effect of which can only evoke admiration from all.

The fittings are of the latest design, and contain all those improvements which have been introduced by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in recent years, including the patent ball bearings in which the bells revolve. The framework carrying the bells is very strong and massive, but at the same time neat, and a great improvement on the unsightly old wooden framework. It is constructed of cast iron on stout steel foundation girders, all designed so that the strain placed on the tower by the oscillation of the bells is reduced to a minimum.

THE BELLS.

Two of the old bells bore inscriptions, and these have been reproduced on the recast bells. These and other inscriptions are as follows:—

- Treble.—To the glory of God and in loving memory of John William Fryar of this parish. Died August 19th, 1915.
- 2nd.—Same as the treble.
- 3rd.—To the glory of God this bell was given by C. W. Phillips in memory of his mother, 1922.
- 4th.—Recast 1922. By Mary Ann Hanson, of Kimberley.
- 5th.—G. Hedder, of Nottingham, made me 1793. Recast 1922.
- 6th.—Dulcis O Sisto O Males O Vocor O Campana O Gabrielus O William O Founder.
- 7th.—John Taylor and Co., Founders, Loughborough, 1869.
- 8th.—Same as 7th.

The opening of the bells took place on Wednesday, September 27th, and the church was packed to its utmost capacity. The Lord Bishop of Southwell dedicated and blessed the bells. After the dedication and blessing a few rounds were rung on the new peal. The service was then continued, and the Bishop gave a most appropriate address.

After the service the bells were rung by a mixed band, including several local men, the first touches being conducted by Mr. J. E. Hobbs (Greasley), 252 Spliced Treble Bob Major and 112 Bob Major, conducted by Mr. E. C. Gobe, followed.

On Saturday, September 30th, the bells were available for ringing from 2.30 until 9, and over 50 ringers assembled to enjoy the new peal. Mr. A. Coppock, of Beeston, acted as Ringing Master, and fulfilled his duties most efficiently. At 4.30 the ringers present were photographed by Mr. Hunt, and following this a short service was held in the church. Mr. Coppock contributed a solo, and the service was much enjoyed. Tea was then served in the Parish Room, and everyone did full justice to a fine spread, kindly given by the Vicar and his sister.—Mr. Coppock proposed, and Mr. Flint, of Bolsover, seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and his sister for their hospitality, and also one to the ladies for their work.

A course of Grandshire Cafers was rung on handbells by Rev. F. R. Wilkinson 1—2, A. H. Ward 3—4, A. Braines 5—6, J. Oldham 7—8, J. Hunt 9—10. The belfry was again visited, and some well-struck touches rung. The company present came from Bolsover, Beeston, Cotgrave, Derby, Mansfield, Arksey, Selston, Ilkeston, Breaston, Sutton, Swanwick, Basford, Bulwell, and the local ringers. The touches rung ranged from Grandshire Triples to London Surprise. All who rang greatly admired the peal, their musical qualities and the 'go' being excellent.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION. MEETING AT HARWORTH.

Harworth is a township, and situated two miles E.S.E. of Tickhill, and 2½ miles W.S.W. of Blyth. It is principally the property of Viscount Galway, who is lord of the manor. The church, dedicated to All Saints, is an ancient fabric, with a tower in which are six sweet-toned bells (tenor 10 cwt.), a new treble having been put in in 1893. The church was built about the 12th century, except the chancel, which was erected in 1672. In repairing the building in 1828, an arched recess was discovered in the wall, with a cupboard containing a garland, a cribbage board, and several other articles of a more sacred character. At the same time a handsome cross was found in the churchyard, and is now placed above the east window. In 1856 the interior was repewed and furnished with a new pulpit and reading desk. There is accommodation for about 200 people. In the churchyard lies an ancient stone coffin. The Church of 'Harewade,' with the Chapels of Serleby and Morton were granted by King John to the Church of Roan, with many others, as part of the Chapelry of Blyth, but in the 6th year of Edward VI.'s reign they were granted to the Earl of Shrewsbury.

It was at this picturesque spot that the North Notts ringers assembled on Saturday week, in response to the kind invitation of the Vicar (the Rev. R. D'Arblay Burney), and to welcome the initiation of the Harworth ringers as members of the Association.

The day was gloriously fine. Business duties kept some faithful members away, but the muster nevertheless was a good one, some of the most enthusiastic arriving on 'Shank's pony.' Thirteen towers were represented, viz., Anston, Barlboro', Blyth, Harworth, Shireoaks, Tickhill, Gainsboro', Tuxford, Lancham, East and West Retford, Ordsall, and Workop, and there were also non-resident members present. Anston tower was well represented, Mr. Turner bringing with him his most promising and enthusiastic son, Gordon, aged 11 years, who conducted most of the touches and 720's from Treble Bob to Surprise. It was a pleasant surprise to a large concourse of onlookers in the tower to hear the shrill treble voice calling out the bobs so accurately, and pointing out errors to those who made mistakes. He conducted very cleverly indeed, and it is hoped that more will be seen of him at the meetings now that he has been made a member of the Association.

At 5 p.m. the ringers were met at the new Institute by the Vicar and Mrs. O. Revill, and her staff of assistants, who had prepared an excellent meat tea, to which 40 sat down.

The Vicar subsequently presided over the business meeting, and in the course of a neat little speech, gave a most hearty welcome to all. He said that was a day looked forward to by him, a day of gladness, and one to be proud of. He quite willingly joined the Association as a vice-president about ten years ago, at the solicitation of the present hon. secretary, and now he rejoiced because his ringers had fallen into line, and added another tower to the Association (applause). He also thanked the hon. secretary for what he had done in providing them with an instructor, and looked forward to good results. He spoke of the good work the Association was doing, as it brought people together, who might never have met otherwise. Speaking of Harworth, he said all would have noticed the great change and alteration which was taking place, and the population was rapidly increasing. He was afraid the tower would not stand the peal being increased to eight bells, so they would have to be content with six; but several good ringers were coming amongst them, one of whom was present at the meeting.

Two new members were elected, Master Gordon Turner, of Anston, and Mr. William Russon, of Shireoaks.

The next meeting will be held at Anston in November. The Secretary brought forward the question (of which previous notice had been given) of making a grant to the Sutton-on-Trent Bell Restoration Committee, on account of the most trying period through which they passed on August Bank Holiday, when the Sports and Gala Committee were giving the proceeds for the new bells, and when everything was a complete 'wash-out,' the deluge causing the fête to be a miserable fiasco.—Mr. Haigh proposed, and Mr. Stenton seconded, that the sum of £5 be granted, and it was unanimously carried.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for presiding over the tea and meeting, and for the use of bells.—The Vicar suitably responded, and this concluded the business.

The ringers attended evensong which followed, and the bells were again utilised until 9 p.m. The following methods were rung: Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford, City Delight, Duke of York, Violet, Killamash, Kitchener, and Cambridge and Wells Surprise, the last of the day being a 720 of Kitchener Surprise, conducted by Gordon Turner. H. Haigh 1, W. Platts 2, H. Stenton 3, H. Turner 4, S. Smith 5, C. F. Fowler 6. The bells were lowered beautifully in peal by the Harworth ringers. Afterwards one or two toasts were honoured, and ringers' birthdays celebrated, and another red-letter day was added to the Association's record.

MANSFIELD.—On Sept. 10th. 504 Stedman Triples: C. Carr 1, Rev. R. F. Wilkinson 2, J. Bleby 3, A. Dent 4, F. May 5, H. Allsop 6, T. Bettison (conductor) 7, C. Randall 8.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*WESTERN DIVISION MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Western Division was held at West Grinstead on Saturday week. It was most successful, and despite the threatening weather members were present from the following towers: Brighton, Billingshurst. Heene Shipley, Horley, Slinfold, Hove, Itchingfield, and the local band. The meeting was also favoured by the presence of the Master of the Association (Mr. J. Thornton Rickman). Some very good courses and touches were rung during the afternoon, including the following methods: Violet, Woodbine, Kent, London Scholars, Carlisle, Cambridge and London Surprise.

At 5 o'clock the party adjourned to the Burrell Arms, where an excellent tea was provided.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rector of West Grinstead (Canon Irton Smith) presided. The following new members were elected: Messrs. Alfred Rice and Edward Mills, of Itchingfield, and Canon Irton Smith was elected an hon. member.—It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Chichester.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for granting the use of the bells, and for presiding.

The members then made their way back to the tower, where various methods were rung until the time arrived to depart by bicycle and train to their various destinations. It is always a pleasure to hold a meeting in that part of the county, members being always sure of ringing a variety of methods, and thanks are due to Mr. H. Turrell for making the necessary arrangements for the gathering.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Biggleswade District was held at Old Warden on Saturday, Sept. 16th. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., with Plain Bob. Fourteen sat down to tea, members being present from Biggleswade, Sandy, Northill, Roxton, Polton, Bedford, and Turvey.

Mr. W. Inskip, of Polton, presided at the business meeting, and referred to the great loss Polton ringers had sustained by the death of Mr. W. Compton, who for many years had been a member of the Association.—A vote of condolence was passed by all present, standing.

One new member was elected, and Northill was chosen for the next meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and Mr. J. Vintner for having everything ready, was passed, and the tower was then again visited, the bells being kept going till 8 o'clock. The methods practised were Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Woodbine, Double Court Bob, and Grandsire Doubles, for the benefit of the young members.

A most pleasant meeting of the Bedford District was held at Wootton on Saturday, Sept. 30th. Mr. F. Webb presided, and members were present from Bedford, Woburn, Turvey, Cranfield, Roxton, Clifton, Elstow, Clapham and Kempston.—It was proposed to hold the annual district meeting at Bedford on Saturday, November 18th, for the election of officers, etc., and notice will appear in due course in 'The Ringing World'.—A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells brought a good meeting to a close. The methods rung during the afternoon ranged from Stedman Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.*NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Emberton on Saturday, Sept. 9th, when a fairly representative gathering of members attended considering that the tower lies very wide, in the extreme north of the branch. The following bands were represented: Bletchley, Beachampton, Calverton, Newport Pagnell, Stony Stratford, Olney, and the local ringers. The bells were set going at 2.30 p.m., and later a service was held, when an address was given by the Vicar of Emberton (the Rev. C. B. Hulton). The chairman of the branch (the Rev. L. Moxon, of Newport Pagnell) also attended. Tea was held in the School Room, and had been prepared by the wives of the ringers. Full justice was done to the good things provided.

After tea, the Secretary reported that there was no special business to be transacted, and after a few questions had been asked, and satisfactorily answered by the secretary, the Rev. C. B. Hulton was elected an honorary member of the branch, with two more ringing members from Olney.—The Secretary proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. C. B. Hulton for kindly allowing the meeting to be held, also to the ladies for providing the tea, etc.—The motion was suitably responded to, and an adjournment made to the towers of Emberton and Olney. The methods rung on the six and eight bells were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Major, Plain Bob, Double Court, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The first peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on October 6th, 1788.

On October 6th, 1849, died William Booth, of Sheffield, born in the year 1783. He was the grandfather of the late Mr. C. H. Hattersley, and rang 3-4 to the first handbell peals of Oxford Treble Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, the Major being the first 'double-handed' peal ever rung. That was in 1811.

The first 'clerical' ten-bell peal was a peal of Stedman Caters rung at St. Mary's, Warwick, on October 11th, 1910.

The new peal of twelve at Taunton will be opened at 3 p.m. on October 21st.

In the only triangular tower in England, All Saints', Maldon, Essex, there now hangs a peal of eight bells. Formerly there were six, but Mr. Alfred Howell, of Ipswich, has added two trebles and rehung the whole in a massive steel frame. The dedication took place last week.

There are now a limited number of the Central Council's publication upon the preservation of bells to be obtained from the hon. librarian, the Rev. O. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham. These copies are the surplus from those placed in the hands of association secretaries for sale, and ringers desirous of obtaining a copy are advised to make early application. The list and prices of the Council's publications will be found in an advertisement.

Mr. George Baker, of Brighton, is just recovering from an operation for appendicitis, and ringers will wish him a speedy return to health.

Mr. C. H. Jennings, who has done so much splendid work for the Salisbury Guild, in the Dorchester Branch, is still at Ashton Court Hospital, Bristol, where he has been for many months suffering from the effects of the late war.

The attempt by Mr. E. Morris, of Harwich, to tap 10,000 of Bob Major on Saturday next, has had to be abandoned for the present. On Sunday he slipped and fell on the belfry steps, and so badly bruised his back that he has had to keep his bed for two or three days. Curiously enough, a few moments before the accident, Mr. Morris had warned two probationers against slipping on the steps.

600 PEALS.

The peal of Stedman Cinques at High Wycombe, rung during the Oxford Guild tour, was Mr. James E. Groves' 600th peal, of which no fewer than 161 have been rung on twelve bells. These include 147 Stedman Cinques (including the record of 11,111), of which Mr. Groves has conducted 64; 2 Erin Cinques (conducted 2), 5 Grandsire Cinques (conducted 1), 1 Grandsire Maximus, 1 Forward Maximus, 3 Kent Treble Bob Maximus and 2 Cambridge Surprise Maximus.

THE NEW BELLS FOR EXETER.

A THANKOFFERING.

Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have been entrusted with the contract for the two new treble bells which are to be placed in Exeter Cathedral to complete the ring of twelve.

As we mentioned in our last issue, the bells will be the generous gift of Mr. Arthur Thomas, a well-known tradesman of Exeter. Some time ago he was seriously ill, and he has offered the bells to the Dean and Chapter as a thankoffering for his recovery. When considering what form his thankoffering should take, Mr. Thomas saw a reference to the Exeter Cathedral bells in the 'Devon and Exeter Gazette,' and at once decided that, if the offer were acceptable, he would present two extra bells to the Cathedral. He communicated his intention to the Bishop of Crediton, who placed the matter before the Chapter. Naturally before the offer could be accepted, the Chapter were anxious to ascertain whether the tower was sufficiently strong to stand the addition of the two bells. Mr. Harbottle, architect to the Chapter, reported that he could assure them that the tower would be strong enough, and it will be a source of delight to all lovers of the Cathedral, as well as to ringers generally, that the Chapter were able to accept Mr. Thomas's splendid offer.

The existing bells at Exeter is, as is well known, the heaviest peal in the world hung for ringing, the tenor 'Grandison' being 72 cwt. in B flat. The new bells will, therefore, be F natural and E flat. It is hoped that the augmentation of the bells will give a further fillip to the local bands, and to the Devon Guild in general.

PEAL BOARD 'OPENED.'

At St. Michael's Parish Church, Bishop's Stortford, on Thursday evening, September 28th, on the occasion of the opening of a peal board to commemorate a peal of Grandsire Caters rung on June 3rd, 1914, the same band, with one exception, rang 1,277 Grandsire Caters in 50 mins.: W. T. Prior 1, F. Bird 2, W. Prior 3, H. M. White 4, H. J. Tucker (conductor) 5, T. Jordan 6, T. J. Watts 7, W. W. Tucker 8, H. Dew 9, P. Springham 10.

YORKSHIRE COMMEMORATION DINNER.

INTERESTING GATHERING AT LEEDS.

The first annual dinner to honour the memory of the late Mr. Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and past officers of the Yorkshire Association, was held at the Griffin Hotel, Boar Lane, Leeds, on Saturday, September 23rd, and was a great success. A company, numbering 117, sat down to a splendid repast, visitors coming from all parts of the county. The Association was also honoured by the presence of the Newcastle Cathedral ringers, Mr. J. Oldham (Loughborough), Mr. C. Dean (Croydon), Mr. J. W. Rowbotham (London), representing the College Youths, and Mr. J. F. Smallwood (St. Martin's, Birmingham). Ringing took place during the afternoon at the churches at Headingley, Far Headingley, Armley and Hunslet, the visitors entering heartily into the proceedings, which left no doubt of their desire to make the day a memorable one in the annals of the Association.

After 'The health of the King' had been proposed by the President, and duly honoured, a well-struck course of Stedman Caters was rung on handbells by Messrs. J. R. Kemp, J. Cotterell, P. J. Johnson, W. Barton, J. Ambler.

Mr. McKell, of Gargrave, then proposed 'The Church and State.' Mr. McKell said the good old Church of England is worthy of all our support and devotion, and he thought they all felt that their art and science were sanctified by connection with her. As a body, ringers were not deficient in loyalty either to Church or State.

The Rev. C. Elsee, Vicar of St. Outhbert's, Holbeck, responded, alluding to the fact that his brother, Canon Elsee, was President of the Lancashire Association. He said he had often been struck by one curious little fact: in England our bells are pre-eminently connected with the Church; in Belgium, on the other hand, they were connected with the State, being hung in the famous town halls. The bells in England have always spoken of the great ideal of Church and State, and it was noticeable that 400 years ago, when the monasteries were, so to speak, on their last legs, they seemed to think they might possibly save themselves by putting up belfries. At both Kirkstall and Fountains the tower was the latest addition to the building, and at Bolton, as everyone knew, the monks only got half-way before the Dissolution, and there it stands to this day.

The President then read a list of apologies for absence from ringers at Gloucester, Chester, Birmingham and London; also a message from the Vicar of Leeds: from Mrs. Snowdon, who expressed great interest in the Association, and issued a cordial invitation to members to visit her at Cartmel. She also alluded to the continued success of the Snowdon series of ringing books. The President said he was sure he would be carrying out their wishes if he wrote to Mrs. Snowdon, expressing the cordial hope that she and her daughter may long enjoy health and prosperity. The President also asked, on behalf of a Norwich correspondent, for news of a portrait of Hubbard, the Norwich ringer, who died in Leeds in 1881.

JASPER WHITFIELD SNOWDON.

The President then rose again to propose the toast of the evening, 'The memory of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and the past Officers of the Association.' 'Upon me has devolved,' he said, 'the hardest task, and as so often happens it is the most responsible and honourable. I appreciate deeply the honour which has befallen me of being President at this our first dinner, and of putting into words the payment of respect to the memory of our founders, the great men who have passed away, especially Jasper Whitfield Snowdon. I have always felt that when the Association asked me to be President in succession to William Snowdon and to Jasper Whitfield Snowdon, no greater honour could have been paid, and I have also been sorry that no one could have been selected more fitted to carry on the tradition of great names in the annals of change ringing. As you know, my title is not as an expert ringer. But you have chosen me, and during the eleven years that I have held the office I have found members most kind and the officers most helpful. It is my dearest wish to uphold the great traditions of the Association to the best of my ability. First in the list of names of those to whom it is our purpose to-night to do honour must, of course, come Jasper Whitfield Snowdon, a name which must go down to posterity in the ringing world, for our science of change ringing owes more to him than to anyone else. May I remind you of some of the salient points in his career, which are known to many, some indeed of those present having been personally connected with him, including Mr. Rowbotham, of London, who rang his first peal next to him at Sheffield; our old friend, Jim Barracough, George Bolland, our Vice-President, and our old and valued friend, John Whitaker. Jasper Whitfield Snowdon was born at Ilkley, the son of the Vicar of that place, in 1844. In Ilkley, then a small moorland village, were sown the seeds of that strength and gentleness and openness of mind which were his chief characteristics. He was educated at Rossall, where his character began to show itself in his untiring efforts to overcome difficulties, especially in climbing and swimming. Like many boys, he was not particularly assiduous in his studies, but he became gradually attracted to problems in mathematics and engineering. He very early attempted to join the ringers at Ilkley, and was put in the way of learning. But the method of teaching was not one to be recommended, nor did it appeal to him. It consisted in learning by heart a plain course and a 720, and then going up and ringing them. He gave up the attempt for some years, and took to walking and athletics, for he was gifted with great physical strength and a desire to excel. Not till 1870 did he again make an attempt to master the real intricacies of the Exercise. He started the Ilkley Amateur Society. So quickly did he progress that he very soon became highly proficient in change ringing, and in probing its intricacies and mathematical problems. He rang his first peal in 1872, seven Minor methods, conducting himself. At this time, through the following of his example, there arose a desire to start an Association, and meetings were held to discuss the proposal at Bradford, York, and finally at Leeds, at which Mr. W. H. Howard, of York, took the chair.

THE FOUNDING OF THE ASSOCIATION.

'The first meeting of the Association was at Birstall, my own old Parish Church in 1875, and Jasper Whitfield Snowdon was elected as President. It is hard for us to realise the untiring work and devotion to the interests of the Association, and the still more important work in the science and art of change ringing. He gave to both the best of his mind and energies. The Association has progressed until it is what we see to-day, and its success is almost wholly due to this one man. Now as to his peal ringing. He rang in his short ringing life 129 peals, his last being at St. Lawrence, Pudsey, in 1884. It is interesting and encouraging to know that he also made 127 fruitless attempts. His greatest performance was at St. James', Bolton, Bradford, a 10,000 of Kent Treble Bob Major on Saturday, November 16th, 1878. I may perhaps here tell how he spent a little holiday once in walking from Leeds to London in five days, arriving in London about one o'clock, and catching the three o'clock train to take him back. It is, of course, in the literature which he left that he chiefly excelled, and it is for that that his name will live. We need to remember that the art of change ringing is very ancient and very English. We hear of a Westminster Guild of Ringers in the time of Edward the Confessor. By the middle of the XVth century change ringing was pretty well known, but not very scientific. The really scientific study of the art can be traced back to the middle of the XVIIth century, the Ancient Society of College Youths being founded in 1637, and the first treatise, that by Fabian Stedman, appearing in 1667. But it is not till we come to Jasper Whitfield Snowdon that we get our most complete treatises, and, which is most important, the easiest to comprehend. Anyone who knows his books will certainly agree to this. In 1878 he published Part I. of the "Treatise on Treble Bob," and the 2nd part later in the same year. In 1879 came "Rope Sight," in 1881 "Standard Methods," and in 1884 the well-known book on "Double Norwich Court Bob." His last work, left in manuscript, was the treatise on "Grandsire." It is for all this that we desire to voice our respect for his memory. The esteem in which he was held was shown in the 10th year of the Association's existence at a great meeting held at Sheffield, where there were present over 300 members. The remarkable scenes of enthusiasm when he came forward to receive the presentation will never be forgotten by those who were present. Very soon afterwards he was stricken with illness, and he died in the fever hospital in Leeds on November 16th, 1885. He was buried in Ilkley Churchyard, the service taking place in the church where he had been baptized and married, and in the town where most of his life had been spent. I should like to quote to you the lines on his tomb:—

"Year by year, the bells so softly
O'er the graves shall music pour,
Where the dust of saints is garnered,
Till the Master comes once more."

In Ilkley Church in his memory we placed the ringers' window, of which the predominant idea is praise, and I think we may say that Jasper Whitfield Snowdon's one desire was to praise his Maker through his abilities. William Snowdon, in his account of his brother's life, says, "thus passed away the merriest, brightest and most upright of men." He was a man full of the joy of life, full of merriment, straight and upright in all his dealings, devoid of all shams, and he gave of his best to his life's work.

OTHER VETERANS.

'William Snowdon succeeded his brother in the presidency, and held office for twenty-five years. Nothing better shows the spirit which he brought to the work than the fact that throughout the whole period he never missed a meeting, either general or committee. His name will go down to future generations as the finisher and editor of his brother's book. He was a genial man, extremely painstaking, showing great zeal for the Association which he loved very deeply. He died in 1916, five years after relinquishing the presidency, and was buried at Cartmel. I was glad to be able to be at the funeral, and shall never forget the beauty of the scene in that grand old Priory Church.

William Horner Howard was born in 1821. He was one of the most respected of veteran ringers. He began ringing in very early life, and he remained connected with York Minster to the end. He was one of the prime movers in the establishment of the Association, was elected Vice-President at the first meeting, and held office till his death. He was one who could not fail to inspire respect and love. He was a man, godly, true and upright, as were all the men who so truly laid the foundation on which our Association is built.

The next names I shall mention are those of the brothers Hattersley, of Sheffield, Charles Henry and Tom. Charles Henry, who was born in 1844, began ringing at the age of 19. As a peal ringer he had many notable successes, and rang in 200 peals, many of them composed and conducted by himself. His greatest achievement was in 13,041 Stedman Caters at Cheltenham in 1888, in 8 hours 20 minutes; at one stage for a period of five hours not a word was spoken by way of correction. He was a great composer, and left behind him compositions in almost every method. As a man he was remarkable for the combination of a genial and kindly disposition with the most entire integrity and uprightness, and a hatred of all shams and slipshod ways, whether in business or in the Exercise. He died in 1915, and was buried at Ecclesall, a course of Grandsire Caters being rung over his grave by a little band, representing his own district of Sheffield, the Yorkshire Association, Lancashire and the College Youths.

Next I come to James and Tom Lockwood, father and son, whom we remember especially for their knowledge of and composition in Treble Bob methods. They were ringers at Otley, and afterwards at Leeds Parish Church, sterling men of great ability, who gave themselves to the advancement of the art.

Charles Jackson was one of the founders of the Association, most zealous as both steward and trustee. He rang over 300 peals. His great interest was in Grandsire Triples. He was a keen and accomplished ringer and an engaging personality.

Robert Tuke, who died as the result of an accident in Philadelphia, William Whitaker, the first secretary, who has recently died; J. H. Harcastle, whose son is one of our stewards; Ben Copley; William Stamthorpe, my own old tutor, and Robert Binns, are other names which we gratefully think of. As one looks back, what strikes one is that the characteristic of the work of these men was thoroughness. They undertook as an outside interest in their lives this art, and they fostered it as a definite part of the life of their Church. It is the kind of example we want to remember. Are there to-day giants comparable with these giants of old? The Association calls for united action and unselfish work; the Exercise calls for acute brains and persevering effort. The best way to honour the memory of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and these other men is to go from this gathering determined to devote ourselves ever more and more to the Association which they founded, and the art and science which they loved.

Mr. Marshall resumed his seat, amid enthusiastic applause, after speaking for an hour.

KINDRED SOCIETIES.

Mr. George Bolland, Vice-President, then proposed the toast of 'Kindred Societies.' There was in his pocket, he said, a letter from Jasper Whitfield Snowdon, written 40 years ago, asking him to take part in an officers' peal at Drighlington, and also one from Charles Henry Hattersley, who was one who never went on a holiday without remembering to send to his friends a card with a bit of ringing on it. They were glad, he continued, to see represented that night the Ancient Society of College Youths, who on more than one occasion had welcomed them to London, and made it a deal harder to get away than it was to get there. Also the Surrey Association, with whom they spent one of their happiest times; the Midland Counties; Birmingham and Newcastle and Durham, who gave them a great welcome when they visited them (applause). — The toast was drunk with enthusiasm.

Mr. Rowbotham, of the College Youths, who replied, said he was an old member of the Yorkshire Association who migrated south many years ago. The Ancient Society, which he represented, asked him to express their very good wishes. Mr. Rowbotham added that he was taking part in a practice when the news came of Mr. Jasper Snowdon's death. 'We rang no more that night,' he said; 'it caused consternation and heartfelt grief. I had the honour of representing my society at the unveiling of the ringers' window, which I hope to see again to-morrow.' Most of the names mentioned by the president were members of the College Youths, and it was one of that society who said to him of Mr. Snowdon, 'No man has done more for change ringing.'

Mr. C. L. Routledge, of Newcastle, also responded. He said, when the annual outing of the Newcastle Cathedral Guild of Ringers was being discussed, a member drew attention to the notice of that function, and he could assure them that there was no more discussion (applause). He met Mr. Snowdon once as a lad. He used very often to go down to a house in Pilgrim Street, where Mr. Francis Lees used to conduct handbell practices, and after the tunes were over he used to join in a course of Grandsire Doubles or Triples. It was on one of these evenings that Mr. Snowdon walked in unexpectedly. He was on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Archer, and usually mentioned that he had just walked over from Durham. When he died, all of them seemed to feel that a blackness had fallen on the ringing world. In the Durham and Newcastle Association they had always had a very brotherly feeling for the Yorkshire Association, whose methods they had closely followed. They had managed, as an Association, to survive the war, and were now making good progress. He just wanted to say how sorry they were not to be able to ring a peal at Bradford Cathedral, and the more so because of the sad cause. He would like to say how deeply grateful they were for all the excellent arrangements made for their comfort during the week-end. He thanked Mr. Bolland very much for his kind words, and could assure him he would have quite as hearty a welcome at Newcastle next time as he said he had when last he visited them.

In the absence of Mr. Willey, Vice-President, who had to leave early, the Secretary, Mr. Percy Johnson, proposed the toast of 'The Bell Founders.' Bell founding, he said, had reached a very high pitch of excellence, and they had moved very far from the day when it used to be said in a district that one bell of a particular founder was quite sufficient. They owed the bell founders a great debt, if for nothing more than for the rigid frame. They were honoured with having with them representatives of two great firms, Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. In no art that he knew of were the makers so bound up with the performers as in theirs. He hoped that they would go on making more improvements, both in bells and frames, but will stop short of the point of producing a bell which would ring itself (laughter and applause).

Mr. Dean, of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, replied. His chief, Mr. Johnston, had asked him to convey his good wishes, and desired to be remembered to his many Yorkshire friends. He believed they all felt that the managers of that gathering were to be very heartily congratulated upon the result of their work (applause).

Messrs. J. R. Kemp, P. J. Johnson, W. Barton and J. Ambler, here rendered a course of a Double Norwich on handbells, which was heartily applauded. Songs were contributed during the evening by Messrs. W. Birdsall, J. Townend, J. E. Carter and P. J. Johnson, these being much appreciated by the company.

A vote of thanks to the chairman and officers, proposed by Mr. Cordingley, seconded by Mr. Dean, and responded to by the Chairman, brought a pleasant and memorable evening to a close.

BRISTOL RINGERS' LONG TRIP.

The annual outing of St. James' Society, Bristol, was a very enjoyable affair. Starting from St. James', Barton, at 8 a.m., the charabanc made the first stop at Corston, about nine miles from Bristol. Touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung on the light peal, with tenor of 9½ cwt. Bradford-on-Avon was the next stop, and the scenery en route was much appreciated. Arriving at the Parish Church the party found their friend, Mr. Stafford, waiting to show the way to the ringing chamber. The fine peal of eight were soon going, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. The Parish Church of St. James, Trowbridge, was next visited, the bells being a very good peal with a 24 cwt. tenor. The visitors indulged in touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, also a course of Cambridge Major. A touch of Stedman, with some of the local ringers, concluded the ringing. Lunch having been partaken of at the Parade Cafe, a move was made in the direction of Westbury, where Mr. Hart had everything ready. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, also a course each of Plain Bob and Cambridge Major were rung. A visit was made to the belfry to inspect the bells and frame. The tone and 'go' of this heavy peal will give pleasure to all who have the privilege of ringing them. The next item on the programme was a visit to Longleat House, which amply repaid the visitors for the walk up the drive and the discomforts of a wet afternoon. Continuing the journey, their next stop was at the George Hotel Frome, everyone being quite ready for the good tea which had been prepared. After tea St. Mary's Church, Wanstrow, was visited, the peal of six were soon going to Grandsire and Stedman. A six-score of Grandsire Doubles, with one of the local ringers, concluded the ringing. The next move was to Shepton Mallet. On arrival at the Church of St. Peter and Paul, Mr. Richards was quite ready for the visitors. Touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich were rung, with Mr. J. W. Pemberton, of Birmingham. A touch of Grandsire Triples with Mr. Richards concluded the ringing for the day. With hopes of having more time for ringing on the next occasion, the last stage of the journey commenced, and home was reached at 10.45 p.m., after a most successful outing. The society wish to thank the incumbents of the churches for giving permission to ring, and all the local ringers for their hearty welcome.

WESTBURY BELLS.*SUCCESSFUL WORK NOW CONCLUDED.

The final public meeting in connection with the restoration of the Westbury Parish Church bells was held on Tuesday, Sept. 19th. The Vicar (the Rev. E. C. Alexander) presided, and said that the occasion marked the closing of a great work. It was felt that the whole parish should have the opportunity of hearing the statement of accounts read, after 33 months of effort. The bells, now one of the finest rings of eight in the country, were recast by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the tenor is a bell of 35 cwt. The cost of the work was raised by donations: Rev. John Kaye, £100; Mr. A. W. Bane, £70; Capt. J. Callaway, £52 6s.; Mr. W. H. Laverton, £45; the Maby family, £28 10s.; church bellfries, £15 6s. 6d.; others, £637 0s. 7d. Grants: White bequest, £350; Marlborough Charity, £102; Westbury ringers, £45 0s. 10d.; Salisbury Board of Finance, £30; Ecclesiastical Commission, £50; Westbury Urban District Council, £10; balance War Memorial Fund, £10; Leigh Church Finance Committee, £5. Bazaar and fetes, £252 5s. 5d.; socials and plays, £127 17s. 4d.; dances, £51 17s. 3d.; whist drives, £46 12s. 7d.; organ recitals, £19 13s. 5d.; special collections in church, £50 19s. 1d.; boxes, £33 0s. 7d.; sale of buttonholes and miniature bells, £99 19s. 1d.; rummage sales, £36 13s. 11d.; bank interest, £74 4s. 5d.; contra current account, £48 12s.—Total, £2,392 8s.

The principal item in the expenditure was the sum of £2,063 to Messrs. Taylor and Co., and, after meeting other expenses, there remained a balance of £1 1s. 1d.

The Secretary (Mr. E. H. Arnold) expressed his gratitude to all helpers, and spoke of his great delight that the work had been brought to a successful conclusion. He should never forget the joy it had been to him to have been able to do something for the dear old church he had known for 25 years. It was no light task for the helpers, and he wished particularly to thank Mr. Braund, the secretary of the Ringers' Guild, Miss Harries and the school children, the clergy, collectors, churchwardens, members of Executive Committee, and the General Committee, and the ladies, for the help he had received in organising 'Bell Days.' That was something to remember. Another interesting point was that the work had been carried out under three Vicars, viz., Rev. W. H. M. Clarke, the Rev. A. S. Bryant, and the present Vicar. The Rev. C. E. Matthews, a member of the Central Council, had visited the tower, and expressed the greatest satisfaction with all he saw.

A unanimous vote of thanks to the secretary was proposed, seconded and carried.

The Chairman admitted that, before coming to Westbury, he had heard of the work to be undertaken, and had been sceptical of its being carried through. He thought the result of the work done by the secretary, the Executive Committee, General Committee, and of Westbury people and friends was amazing.

Mr. J. S. Marks and Mr. A. E. Holloway (churchwardens) each thanked the secretary and all in any way connected with the work, and others also briefly praised the work accomplished.

Mr. J. S. Marks (Vicar's warden) then asked Mr. Arnold to accept a cheque for £15, subscribed by those who recognised what the duties involved. He was sure every moment of spare time must have been taken up; all felt that Mr. Arnold had been the backbone of the movement. His best efforts had been put into it, all because he cared for, and loved, his church, and so, under God's blessing, the work had prospered. He understood that Mr. Arnold was desirous of obtaining a sideboard, and when he had got it the churchwardens wished to put an inscription upon it, recording the splendid work he had done.

Mr. Arnold said he assured them all that he had neither looked for, nor worked for, such praise and kindness. He felt honoured enough in having his name inscribed upon the tenor bell. 'Arnold' would be known in the Westbury bellfry for long years after he had left this earth. The sideboard would be something to hand on to his children. 'Thank you' was really all he could say.

REOPENING OF ANGERSLEIGH BELLS.*BISHOP OF TAUNTON TAKES PART IN RINGING.

The Church of St. Michael, Angersleigh, has a very nice peal of five bells, and these have recently been rehung in entirely new fittings, the three back bells being provided with ball bearings. The bell frame has been strengthened, and bolts put in to give a rigid foundation. The work has been admirably done by Messrs. T. Doble and Son, the Taunton bell hangers.

On September 29th, the Bishop of Taunton performed the opening ceremony, and rang the fourth bell in some good rounds. After an excellent address by the Bishop the local band gave an exhibition of 'Up 1, down 2.' Then five members of the Bath and Wells Association from Taunton lowered the bells in peal, rang them up again, and brought round several 120's of Doubles in good style, again lowering in peal.

The genial Rector (the Rev. Horspool) invited the ringers to refreshments at the Village Hall, where the opening of the bells was celebrated by a dance. Needless to say, the young people thoroughly enjoyed themselves.—The Rector thanked the visitors for their exhibition of change ringing, and expressed the hope his band would take it up.—The thanks were acknowledged and useful hints given to the local men upon how to make a start in the right direction.

VISIT TO LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRY.

The ringers of St. Andrew's Society, Rugby, spent a very enjoyable time on the occasion of their annual outing, which this year consisted of a visit to Loughborough.

The weather, so disquieting for such functions of late, was ideal for the occasion, and the journey was made by rail, a circumstance which presented to the one railwayman of the party, the opportunity of expounding the advantages of this mode of transit, an opportunity which was gladly seized, for, by the time the destination was reached, the travellers knew all about the 'non-stops,' whose mileage per hour was made to compare very favourably with the time records established in the recent aerial race, and, but for arrival at Loughborough, it is fairly certain they would also have learned that they could loop the loop.

Like all such parties to the noted ringing town, the visitors first wended their way to the bell foundry, to which they had received the usual kind invitation from Mr. Taylor, and were conducted round the works by Mr. Pryce Taylor. These were both very interesting and edifying, for in addition to seeing several old peals now being recast, the party were privileged to inspect the bells now being made for the carillon which is to be erected as the Loughborough memorial to those who fell in the war, and which, when completed, will probably constitute the best set of bells in the country. The largest bell, which Mr. Denison Taylor is himself presenting to commemorate the memory of his nephews who were killed, was seen in the mould, and the magnificence of this was acclaimed by experienced craftsmen of the party. After a visit to the bell tower and the foundry carillon (where the one modest member of the party excelled in the tune of 'Blue Bells of Scotland'), the company sat down to a very substantial tea inside the works, where, to their great delight, they were joined by ringing friends from Oldham (Lancs), and also by their old but ever-young friend, James George, of Rugby, with emphasis on the 'Rugby,' even if he does now reside at Birmingham. Next the party proceeded to the Parish Church, where touches of Superlative, Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire were rung by mixed bands of Loughborough, Oldham and Rugby. On the journey home the railwayman came 'unstuck,' for the 9.4 express came in much nearer 10.4. Someone suggested engine trouble, but whatever the cause the party had a 'forced landing' at Rugby, and that with every hope of an outing just as pleasant next year.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South and West District was held at Norwood Green, on Saturday, September 23rd. Although it was a wet afternoon, over 20 members attended to ring on the peal of six. A service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Thomas Parker), who, in his address, welcomed the Association to Norwood Green. He also paid a great tribute to the late Rector (the Rev. — Macdonald, M.A.), who, after many years of labour, was rewarded by being able to place the peal of bells in that tower, and to-day, after many years, those bells were still pealing forth, thanks for the great work he did for that parish. After service, tea was served in the Church Hall, presided over by the Rector, and the business meeting followed. The chairman was supported by the Ringing Master and Mr. Beadle (vice-president). Thanks were accorded to the Rector, organist, steepkeeper, and others.

The meeting expressed regret at losing an active lady member, Miss Norah G. Williams, of St. John's, Hillingdon, who is leaving the district, and will be greatly missed. Her good work for the Association was acknowledged by a vote of thanks, and good wishes were expressed for the best of luck when she goes to her new abode.—Miss Williams, on rising to acknowledge the thanks, was received with applause.

The bells were set going again until 7.30, when the ringers went to Heston. The company was increased to close on 40, and several methods on eight were rung, and a most pleasant meeting closed with thanks to the Ringing Master for arranging for Heston bells.

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting was held at Burnham-on-Sea on Saturday, Sept. 23rd, when 11 towers were represented. The bells were raised in peal soon after 3 p.m., and kept going in various methods until 4 p.m., when the Guild service was held in the Parish Church, the Vicar of Burnham (the Rev. Preb. G. L. Porcher) officiating, and giving an address.

After the service, a short business meeting was held in the Church Room, at which the Master (the Rev. C. C. Parker) presided, supported by the Vicar and two churchwardens.

Two honorary and two performing members were elected.

The next meeting is to be held at Corston, on December 16th.—The Rev. C. C. Parker proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Preb. Porcher for arranging the service and officiating, and for the use of the bells, also to the churchwardens for their kind welcome.—Mr. Board (churchwarden) replied. The bells were kept going during the rest of the evening.

BELLS, CARILLONS, CLOCKS.

INSTRUCTIONAL WORK.

Encouraging reports of progress made by some of the Associations have been appearing lately with gratifying frequency, but it is in those districts and among those organisations who do the most effective spade work that the best results are seen. In South Wales, for instance, where that very live society, the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, leaves no stone unturned to spread change-ringing and sends out numerous instructors, excellent progress is recorded, and only on Saturday two complete bands were brought into union as the outcome of the practical aid which the Association offers to the towers in its area.

Most Associations provide for sending out instructors, but this is one of the directions in which far more might be done than is actually the case. Some of the Associations which profess thus to cater for bands who desire to learn change-ringing, do not send out, officially, a single instructor a year. The excuse may be that no one has applied for assistance in this direction, but more opportunities might be found for this valuable work if only the Associations themselves would seek them, instead of waiting to be approached. More often than not the ringers at unaffiliated towers are unaware of the facilities which might be given them for learning method ringing, and we should much like to see among Associations a vigorous campaign started to bring in the numerous companies which can still be found outside the organisations. As a rule these bands know little or nothing of method ringing, and one of the greatest inducements that could be held out would be that of offering an instructor. We believe that many more unaffiliated bands could be brought into union with a little more persistent and systematic effort.

One other phase of this question may be mentioned here. Where instructors are sent out they are too often limited to teaching the most elementary methods, the argument apparently being that once a band has been given an insight into how to ring Grandsire or Plain Bob, all that is required has been done and the band should be competent to go on by themselves. To our mind this should be only the beginning. Why should not competent instructors, who should instruct in conducting as well as in ringing, help a band along to Stedman and Double Norwich, for instance? There are too many bands who get no further than the plain methods, but who, with the help of a qualified instructor, might go on to a much higher standard of ringing. This question is one which might well be reviewed by Associations, which should bear in mind that the old idea that a ringer who does not make his own opportunities is not worth encouragement, can no longer prevail if ringing organisations are to fulfil their real part in the general scheme of things.

Composed by C. MIDDLETON. Conducted by EDWARD JENKINS.

First Surprise peal by all except the ringers of the treble and 6th. First peal in the method in the county by a resident band, all the above being practice and service ringers at this church. This peal was rung as a tribute to the untiring efforts put forth in the past by Mr. W. Bibby, and of Mr. Jenkins in the present, for the advancement of change ringing in this district. The great feature of this peal was the splendid striking throughout. It is suggested that this may be the first instance of father and two sons ringing their first Surprise peal 'inside' together.

FIVE COUNTIES IN ONE DAY.

LEATHERHEAD SOCIETY'S SUCCESSFUL OUTING.

'Where's the outing this year, Winchy?'

'Oh, I'll fix up a trip into five counties this time.'

'Go on! it's impossible.'

'All right, then. "Wait and see."'

Accordingly, on the day arranged, a party left Leatherhead at 8.10 a.m. Owing to a slight misunderstanding this was 40 minutes behind scheduled time, and in addition to that, after travelling three miles, down came the rain. Of course, that meant more delay, as the covering of our charabanc had to be adjusted. The company didn't seem downhearted; in fact, we had quite a happy crew aboard. In addition to the Leatherhead men there were the two Jacks from Ashted, Jack from Ewell, and Jack from Dorking (not a bad hand for poker—four Jacks). After making all snug, away we went, and arrived at Bagshot (our first stop for ringing), nearly one hour late. Here we were met by a charming young lady ringer (Miss Mabel Nye), who, in her father's absence, welcomed us to Bagshot. As we were late we decided not to make a long stay, so two courses each of Bob Major and Double Norwich had to suffice. Miss Nye took part in the Bob Major, and we were convinced that she could show a good many gentlemen how to handle a rope. Leaving Bagshot, we made tracks for Bracknell, in the next county (Berks). Here, finding ourselves in a civilised part of the country, where the licensed houses open at 10 a.m., we stopped for a quarter of an hour, and availed ourselves of the privilege of a glass of bitter and a crust of bread and cheese, at a reasonable hour of the day. The next stop was Caversham, in the next county for ringing, where we arrived soon after 11, and were met by Mr. H. Simmonds, of the local band. Here we indulged in Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman, Treble Bob and Double Norwich, on this handy little ring until everyone was satisfied. Leaving here, we were at St. Lawrence's, Reading, in a few minutes. Here, as at Caversham, everyone had gone to Oxford for the Guild's festival, so we did not see 'father.' Being close to the market place we decided not to be 'greedy,' and only rang two short touches of Grandsire Caters. Lunch at the Popular Cafe was the next order, and everyone did justice to the good things provided. Soon after 2.30 we were off once more, Farnham Royal (Bucks) being the next objective. Here we were met by our old friend, Mr. J. J. Parker, and soon had these merry little bells going to Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman. Then, being reinforced by Mr. W. Henley, we just managed to tap off a decent course of Superlative. We were loath to leave Farnham, but a meat tea was waiting at the Three Fishes at Sunbury-on-Thames at 5.30, and strict time, if possible, was the order of the day. Bidding farewell to our Farnham friends we put a jerk into the old machine, and hauled up at the Fishes right on time. Here, notwithstanding the mid-day lunch, most of us wanted another plate of cold beef, and there was plenty to have and to spare. They evidently know what sort of trenchermen ringers are at the Fishes, for they put a right good covering of meat each time on the plates. Next we moved for the church. Here we met the local captain, Mr. W. Warne, who welcomed us to Sunbury. We soon had these lovely bells up and set them going to Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Double Norwich. With the assistance of Mr. A. Diserens we rang a good course of Superlative. Before leaving we all climbed up into the cage on top of the tower, and were charmed with the view. Some merriment was caused by some of the party whose occupation keeps them on the ground floor of a workshop, being so careful as not to go near the railings and look over. Whereat the building trade operatives volunteered to climb over; upon which the workshop men covered their eyes with their hands, not daring to look. Leatherhead was eventually reached at 9.30, and the ringing in five counties in one day was an accomplished fact, viz., Bagshot (Surrey), Caversham (Oxon), St. Lawrence, Reading (Berks), Farnham Royal (Bucks) and Sunbury-on-Thames (Middlesex). The party wish to thank the various clergy, through the medium of this paper, for the use of the bells, and also the kind co-operation of local ringers which made the outing a success.

THE OXFORD GUILD TOUR.

High Wycombe, Wednesday, Sept. 13th.—The Rev. E. M. Molyneux, Vicar. Mr. R. Coles, foreman. To reach this town we had to make a prolonged journey over four railway companies' lines, changing at three junctions, which gave us the opportunity to make use of the handbells for others to see and hear that 'changing' was part of the change ringers' life. Leaving Bletchley at 10.10 we were met at Wycombe by Messrs. Boreham and Evans, and escorted to our quarters, 'The Frogmore,' where the cyclists, Messrs. Shepherd, Hart and Williams, and the Bull Ring couple, Messrs. Groves and Walker, reported themselves for a good hot dinner. At 4 p.m. everybody made for the bell-loft at All Saints', and here we found Messrs. Coles and Hayes busy doing the needful doctoring. Good old 'Rugby' also arrived via Euston and Paddington, he, being a semi-director of one of the companies, was able to do the journey quicker that way with less changing. The Vicar had kindly advanced evening service by half an hour to oblige us. We rang a touch for it, and afterwards the Vicar came up and wished the band success, offering the Guild's prayer before 'Go—Stedman Cinques' was called by the Ringing Master of the Birmingham Stedman Association. When 'that's all' came up the Vicar 'came round' to personally congratulate us, as also did Messrs. Markham, Goodchild, and other Wycombe ringers who heard the peal. Under the shadow of this tower stands The Black Boy. In a small room adjoining the bar, for about twenty minutes before the hour of closing, some twenty ringers endeavoured to cram in half a lifetime of reminiscences and friendly ringers' secrets with a hum-note resembling the Stock Exchange Hall on a busy morning. We adjourned to the Frogmore to supper, some fourteen ringers sitting down, and then the Bucks' 'hum-note' began again and lasted till early morning. I learnt that our 'Isaac' had just completed 48½ years' regular service with the South Metropolitan Gas Company, and was retiring on a pension well earned. When I also state he is one of those men who are never absent and never late you will understand the retirement is deserved. Add to this record his list of 1,190 peals as a little pleasurable sideline or hobby, and who can put his life's work into the shade?

Gazing on the faces of the well-known men gathered around me, I noticed that we had several who were surely creeping up the peal ladder, to mention only four of them—Groves 600, George 700, Hart 800, and Williams 900, and upwards. Men of this breed are no longer chickens in the Exercise. The very lines on their faces seemed to reveal diagrams of 'whole' and 'half-turns,' or '8-7-8-thirds-6-5-6.'

Hughenden.—Rev. J. Cuthbert Lucas, Vicar. Mr. A. G. Janes, foreman. One peal for Thursday, 14th, was proposed, but to suit the Birmingham men we were very kindly allowed the use of this tower all day long, so that the two teams of our party might each try their fortune. This church stands out in a beautiful park, two miles from Wycombe, far from the 'madding crowd,' who in their turn reproach the bell ringers for their maddening bell ringing. The speed of the morning's attempt was very quick, and at 2 hours 40 minutes came 'stand' from the conductor, who was not quite sure which course he was in, or if 3-4 had changed work. The band was Messrs. Nevard, Hart, Fussell, Williams, Sharman, Sippetts, Walker and Groves (conductor). The church was inspected, as well as the resting-place of the late Lord Beaconsfield with several mementos of him. By command of the late Queen Victoria, his banner and other insignia of the Garter from the Earl's stall in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, was placed over the seat formerly occupied by him in the chancel. A quiet walk back into Wycombe for lunch, and an afternoon's rest followed. The Birmingham trio were duly despatched under the care of Mr. Fred Walker, and it was with regret we left Mr. George—rather indisposed—to return home, but we have since heard of his improvement in health; possibly due to the comforting 'Wycombe Jacket' provided for him in direct opposition to the regulations of the Frogmore Hotel. After tea a picturesque walk through the park, and the completion of Middleton's 'Cambridge' was effected, whilst Messrs. Mayne, Nevard, Fussell and Evans listened to the 'coarse' ends, which indeed were 'fine.' The last-named ringer is a Central councillor for Bucks, with a long record of successful Surprise ringing and peal conducting at Hughenden for nearly 40 years. As rain prevented outdoor occupation we four sat in church and rang handbells. The Beaconsfield Arms received us 'openly' till closing time, and we went to our temperance beds, through the rain, still without a blank day to record.

Woodburn.—The Rev. A. E. Baynes, Vicar. Mr. J. West, foreman. Friday, Sept. 15th.—A bright cheerful morning, Wycombe's market day, and going about the busy town, I occasionally met one or two men of the 'out of work' type looking for the Black Boy. Our motor-bus to Woodburn left at noon, and on reaching there we had luncheon at the Welcome Tavern. A prompt start for Superlative Major at 2.30 ended just short of two hours' ringing. The ringing room is very noisy, and it was impossible to understand the conductor's instruction to an erring member. Uncertainty as to our next attempt, by reason of six p.m. evensong, was removed by the organiser's perseverance in seeing the foreman and Vicar, and obtaining permission for another attempt after service at 6.30. Even then doubts existed if three hours would enable the band to score and catch the 9.30 bus onwards. The refreshing tea at the Welcome helped us to 'go for it' with a 'good heart,' and putting on speed at the quarter-peal end we accomplished both the peal and bus journey afterwards, not even stopping to 'Sippetts' after leaving the tower. Almost at the end of the peal our veteran hand was trying to leave the slow-work, this caused a bad six or two; and added to the noise of the bells. Woodburn bells were restored at a cost of £2360, in commemoration of the Coronation of King Edward VII. In the church are brasses to John Goodwin and his wife, and Pernel, who built the tower, A.D. 1488. A list of Rectors and Vicars exists from 1216. The 6th bell was cast in Dublin by Murphy. Tom Tolladay, of the St. James' Society, London, rang his last peal here, and a very ancient half-timbered house facing the churchyard—now no longer licensed—was the scene of many a gathering of early pioneers of change ringing in the county. Seated in an easy-running motor-bus we had had time to recover our wind a little, and reaching Maidenhead at 10 p.m. thought the 10.3 train was late to oblige us, but it turned out to be a goods, and all our haste and good Isaac's trotting uphill to the station were of no avail. Even then we reached the Reindeer Hotel at Slough before 11 p.m., as a train not scheduled came along half an hour later, and took us up. With most comfortable quarters, and the attentions of a real landlady, we went to bed at midnight, and more than one man fell off to sleep with the booming of Woodburn tenor still in his ears, and the kindness of the Vicar in mind.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

The annual general meeting was held at Isham, Northants, on Saturday, September 30th. The attendance was not very large, but a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Ringing took place in the afternoon, and a variety of methods was rung. A short service was held, at which the Rector gave an address.

After tea in the Schoolroom, the business meeting was held. In the absence of the President, Mrs. E. M. Atkins was voted to the chair.

The Secretary presented the balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of £8 9s. 7½d.

One ringing member and one honorary member were elected.—Miss D. Atkins, of Isham, was elected President for the year.—Miss Parker was re-elected as honorary secretary and treasurer.

It was decided to hold the next general meeting in London.

No other important business was brought forward, and after votes of thanks to the Rector for his address and the local ringers for making all arrangements, the meeting concluded.

MIDLAND DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Midland District was held at Kinver on Saturday, Sept. 30th. A large party left Birmingham for that place in very hopeful spirits; in fact, they might have called themselves a band of hope. All were hoping it would keep fine; one or two optimists were quite sure it would; but, alas! on arriving at the end of the journey, one of the Midlands' beauty spots, it was found that Kinver had not 'gone dry.' Needless to say, the ringers, ladies and gentlemen, made their way to the church, and soon had the bells going merrily. What a good thing it is ringing does not have to be abandoned on account of the weather!

Service was held in the church, the Guild form being used. The Rev. T. A. Cooper-Slipper officiated, but was not able to join the party at tea, which was waiting for them at a cafe in the village, and to which 40 sat down. Before the gentlemen left, and before the business meeting began, a hearty vote of thanks was proposed to the gentlemen ringers for their kindness, courtesy, and the support they always give the ladies at these gatherings. Their willingness to help the lady ringers at all times is thoroughly appreciated.

Mr. A. Walker, Mr. J. E. Groves, Mr. J. F. Smallwood, Mr. W. Kent and Mr. White were among those present.

The gentlemen having taken their departure to the church, the business meeting was conducted to the sound of the bells. Miss Pigott was voted to the chair, and the election of officers for the coming year took place.

Mrs. Groves wished to resign the secretaryship, but was overruled and re-elected. Miss Pigott and Miss Foster were re-elected on the committee. Mrs. White (Coventry) and Miss Johnson (Evesham) were elected in place of Mrs. Holbrooke and Mrs. Preston.—Miss A. and Miss R. Johnson, of Evesham, were elected ringing members.—Letters of apology were read from Miss Johnson and Miss Bennett.

Edgbaston Old Church was selected for the next meeting, if permission can be obtained; if not, Harborne, the meeting to take place fairly early in January next.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. T. A. Cooper-Slipper) and to the local ringers, brought the meeting to a close.

It was still raining when the visitors left.

NOTTS RINGERS' EXCURSION.

On Saturday, Sept. 16th, the ringers from Cotgrave and Radcliffe-on-Trent, Notts, held their outing, the destination being Thoresby and Perlethorpe. Permission had been obtained by the Rector of Cotgrave (the Rev. J. P. Hales) from Earl Manvers for the party to be taken round Thoresby House. A start was made at 12.45, but unfortunately before Newark was reached a burst tyre delayed operations. When Newark was eventually reached, the party was joined by Mr. A. J. Chamberlain, of Southwell. While a new cover was being fixed the party had a look round the fine old Parish Church and the Castle. On getting away again, the handbells were set going to tunes, and passing through Ollerton more delays occurred in finding the right road, one stop being caused by running into a cul-de-sac.

Mr. T. Spencer (brother of F. Spencer, of Radcliffe) was waiting for the party on their arrival, and regretted that the time for showing the party round was restricted. The noble earl, too, had been waiting, asking several motorists if they were the Cotgrave party. However, the visitors were taken through the magnificent house, a treat which was fully appreciated, and then through the grounds and gardens. Arriving at Perlethorpe, the tower was visited, and the fine old ring of bells by Mears and Stainbank (tenor 6wt. 14lbs.) were set going to 240 Bob Minor and 720 Single Oxford, in 21 mins.: G. Nowell 1, W. E. White 2, W. White (conductor) 3, F. Spencer 4, A. J. Chamberlain 5, T. Squires 6; also 216 Bob Minor. A few rounds were also rung for two very promising young ringers, L. Webster and J. P. Hayes. Time being all too short and some misunderstanding having arisen about tea, the party decided to return to Newark, where they had an excellent spread at Oldham's Cafe. After a stroll round the market and two plain courses of Grandsire Triples in the motor by A. J. Chamberlain 1-2, W. White 3-4, W. E. White 5-6, T. Squires 7-8, the return journey was made, a most enjoyable time having been spent, despite the disappointments. The best thanks of the party are due to Earl and Countess Manvers, and others, who contributed to the day's outing.

ICKLETON, CAMBS.—On Thursday, August 24th, at the Parish Church, 720 Bob Minor: S. Brookes 1, R. Clements 2, P. Webb (conductor) 3, A. Lilley 4, A. Baynes 5, F. Griggs 6. Also 792 Kent, 144 Oxford Treble Bob: F. Bowtell and J. Webb taking part. — On Thursday, August 31st, 720 Oxford Treble Bob: P. C. L. Brookes 1, R. Clements 2, P. Webb 3, A. Baynes (first in the method) 4, W. Flitton (conductor) 5, A. Lilley 6. Also 360 Kent, on handbells, with F. Bowtell 1.

A WEST WILTS TRIP.

On Saturday, Sept. 9th, the St. Philip and Jacob's Guild (Bristol), together with friends, held their annual outing. The party, numbering 28, left Bristol at 1.25 p.m., by motor coach, for Trowbridge, where the first halt was called for a ring on the peal of eight at the Parish Church. Here the party were met by Mr. Sam Hector, who had everything in readiness, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich were brought round on this good-going peal. The next call was Westbury, where Messrs. Arnold and Hart were waiting. The new ring (by Taylor), tenor 35 cwt., were raised in peal, and one touch was rung before an adjournment to the local hotel, where an excellent meat tea was waiting. This was disposed of in true ringers' style.

After a course of Grandsire Caters on handbells, a group photograph was taken, and the party once more visited the tower, where touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge were rung. The Vicar came into the belfry while ringing was in progress, and extended a welcome to the visitors. This, needless to say, was much appreciated. The excellence of this fine peal was the cause of much comment, and it was with reluctance that the journey was resumed.

Warminster was the next and last ringing objective, and here, on arrival, Mr. White was found waiting with a welcome, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich were rung.

Some excitement was caused on the return journey, owing to the driver losing his way, but with the assistance of a compatriot of the road, he was directed rightly to Bath, where a stop was made, presumably to allow the engine to cool! Tunes on the handbells, excellently rendered, and songs, kept the party alive until Bristol was safely reached at 11 p.m. The trip was a most successful one, and opportunity is here taken to thank the incumbents of the churches for permission to ring, and those friends who so kindly had everything in readiness.

PULHAM RINGER'S DEATH.

The death has occurred, at Pulham St. Mary, Norfolk, of Mr. James Tann, for many years one of the local band. He had rung about 90 peals for the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association.

On Saturday last the bells were rung, half-muffled, as a last token of respect. A touch of 238 Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung by F. Borrett 1, A. Roope 2, J. Allen 3, R. Whiting 4, C. Cutting 5, C. Baker 6, F. Roope 7, C. Roope 8; and 672 Double Norwich and the whole pull and stand by C. Cutting 1, A. Roope 2, F. Borrett 3, C. Baker 4, H. Piercy 5, E. Whiting 6, F. Roope 7, C. Roope 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

On October 14th, 1850, a 7,020 Stedman Caters was rung at Aston, composed and conducted by Henry Johnson.

A 6,000 of Treble Bob Royal was rung at Shoreditch by the College Youths on October 19th, 1766.

The first peal of Treble Bob Major ever rung 'with the 120 course ends' was accomplished by the Cumberland Youths on Oct. 20th, 1794. It is described as Union Treble Bob, and was composed and conducted by George Gross, senr. William Shipway and Malachi Cannon, who was generally at the heavy end in some of the Cumberlands long peal, took part in this performance.

On October 20th, 1751, a peal of Grandsire Cinques was rung at St. Bride's, Fleet Street. John Holt took part in this.

The peal of Treble Ten rung during the Oxford Guild tour, at Leighton Buzzard on September 11th, was not the first peal of Royal on the bells. The Cumberland Youths rang a peal there in the same method on May 23th, 1910, conducted by Mr. Frank Bennett.

The Doncaster and District Society now numbers 185 members, from 36 towers.

A defective report of a peal of Stedman Triples rung on Sept. 29th, conducted by Mr. J. W. Washbrook, has been sent in, and we shall be glad if our correspondent will supply the name of the town where it was rung, and state under what association (if any).

Particulars will be found in our notice columns of the arrangements for the opening of the peal of twelve at St. Mary's, Taunton, on October 21st.

A band of veterans (all over 70 years of age), members of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, are to attempt a peal at Pulham on Saturday, October 14th.

October 16th is the anniversary of the 10,176 Grandsire Major rung on handbells at Birmingham in the year 1883.

Mr. John Carter has returned to London after his summer sojourn in the Isle of Man.

The peal of Bob Major rung at Feering on Sept. 30th, and published in our last issue, should be credited to the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, and not to the Norwich Diocesan Association, as published.

NEW PEAL OF SIX IN LEICESTERSHIRE.

DEDICATION OF HALLATON BELLS.

On Saturday, Sept. 23rd, the recast and augmented peal at the Parish Church, Hallaton, Leicestershire, was dedicated by the Ven. Archdeacon of Leicester (the Rev. McNutt). The service was preceded by ringing the back five to Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles, and a good congregation assembled. During the service, which was attended by clergy from Medbourne, Tugby, Stonton, Wyville, Alexton, Bloston, Great Easton and Shrewsbury, the choir and clergy proceeded to the tower, where the Archdeacon took the treble rope in hand and dedicated the new bell, also rededicating the recast ones. He then handed the rope to Mr. Ernest Morris (of St. Margaret's, Leicester), who raised the bell in their presence. After further prayers for the ringers, the choir and clergy retired to the chancel while 'rounds' and 'queens' were rung on the whole six bells. The Archdeacon then gave a striking and most interesting address on bells—chiefly taking their history, legends, etc., from North's Bells of Leicestershire—and dwelling especially on the motto of the old 3rd bell (now reproduced), 'Peace and good neighbourhood.'

At the conclusion, the first 720 Plain Bob was rung by H. Kendall 1, J. Grocock 2, R. H. Bartram 3, F. Bindley 4, J. J. Jackson 5, E. Morris (conductor) 6. Tea was provided for visitors, and ringers assembled from Belton, Melton Mowbray, Billesdon, Desboro', Kirby Muxloe and Leicester. Afterwards touches of Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Bob, Double Court and Doubles were rung.

The whole of the work which includes recasting the front four of the old five, adding a new treble, rehangings the whole on ball bearings in a new steel and iron frame, was defrayed by a grant out of the Isabella Stebbing Charity, and was carried out in an admirable way by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co.

On Saturday (October 7th) the first 5,040 was rung on the new bells. The bells are thus inscribed:—

- Treble (rose pattern all round) on waist: 19 (Taylor's mark) 21.
- 2. Thomas Norris made me 16FF R.G. I.B. (rose patt.).
- 3. Thomas Norris made me 16FF (rose patt.).
- 4. Peace and good neighbourhood, 1772 (rose patt.).
- 5. Thos. Gibbins, Churchwarden. Edwd. Arnold, 1772 (rose patt.).
- Tenor.—Thos. Gibbins, Churchwarden * (leaf) Edwd. Arnold, St. Neots, Peelt 1772 (2 leaves) *

On the waist of 2, 3, 4, 5, is Taylor's mark and 'Recast 1921.'

LLANDAFF & MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT ABERGAVENNY.

A quarterly meeting was held on Saturday last at Abergavenny, when a large representative assembly attended from Llandaff, Cardiff, Newport, Whitchurch, Rumney, Llanfrecchfa, Bedwellty, Llanelly, Swindon, Llangattock, Blaenavon, Trevechin, etc. The tower, probably the largest in the diocese, contains a ring of eight bells, tenor about 18 cwt. The building is a fine old Priory Church. It contains a number of ancient monuments, and is full of interest. Ringing commenced about 3 o'clock, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. M. E. Davies, M.A.), whose address dealt with the origin of bells and ringing. At the conclusion of the service he explained the various architectural and historical points of the old church.

Tea, which had been very kindly provided in the Church Room, followed, and before the business meeting commenced a little hand-bell ringing was indulged in.—The Vicar took the chair, and at the outset said how pleased he was to welcome the association to Abergavenny.

Arising out of the minutes, the Hon. Secretary read the reply from the Vicar of Abergavenny to a letter sent to him to use his influence to introduce change ringing into his tower. For the information of those not at the meeting the reply was to the effect that the letter and contents would not be forgotten, but the time for the adoption of the suggestions made was not yet.

Instructors' reports were received, and there were good reports from several towers, especially Bedwellty, where it is more than gratifying to find all changes have been dropped, and they are now practising and ringing Grandsire. A feature worth recording is that the whole of this band—a dozen of them, with their Rector—came by charabanc to attend the meeting.

New members were elected, including the whole of the Bedwellty and Abergavenny ringers.

Some thirty years ago an effort was made to introduce change ringing into Abergavenny. It went well for a short time only, and afterwards drifted back again to call changes. It is pleasing that again the effort is to be made, and it is hoped it will succeed. The Vicar is very keen on change ringing, and is doing his utmost to bring his tower in line with the others in the diocese.

The next meeting is the annual, and will be held at Llandaff in December.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, the local ringers and the ladies for their exceptional kindness and hospitality, was passed, and replied to by the Vicar and one of the wardens.

This brought the meeting to a close, and the bells were again requisitioned and rung in different methods until time for departure. In every sense the meeting was a huge success.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED AT CORSTON.

On Saturday, Sept. 30th, the Rector of Corston, near Bath (the Rev. O. C. Parker, Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association), unveiled in his tower a peal board recording the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung there on September 2nd, and duly recorded in 'The Ringing World.' In his remarks, the Rector referred to the special character of the two records of peals now in the tower, as on the first is recorded the fact that it was the first ever rung with father, mother and son taking part (the late R. J. Wilkins, and his wife and son), and the second, that it was the first Surprise peal for the Association in which a lady had taken part. He hoped that his own band would gather some of the enthusiasm shown by the band there that evening, especially by coming over for that little ceremony in such awful weather.

Mr. J. Davey, sleepkeeper, spoke of the pleasure it was to many of the inhabitants to hear such good ringing as that on the occasion of the peal. One man in particular who generally was much against the ringing of the bells had told him that 'he liked it when it was ringing like that.' The following band then rang Brooks' quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: A. Reeves 1. W. A. Cave 2. F. G. Leaker 3. A. Stowell 4. E. J. Brown 5. R. Taylor (first in the method) 6. Miss A. Brown (conductor) 7. Mrs. E. J. Brown 8. It was Miss Brown's first attempt to call a quarter of Stedman, and the band hope it will not be long before she succeeds in calling a peal in the method.

An old man (probably over 80) was in the railway waiting-room when the Bristol ringers returned to the station. He had walked from Bath. After a time he asked the ringers if they had heard some bells ringing a little way off the main road.

'They sounded lovely. I don't know, perhaps, it was being out in the country, but I never heard any ringing like that in Bristol,' he said.

He was an interesting old chap, and had, in his young days, been acquainted with a man who was something of a ringer. He had heard that they could ring as many as a thousand different changes.

Mr. Cave told him the party were ringers, and enlightened him in many ways. He helped to pass a dreary wait pleasantly.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Lancashire Association was held at Preston on Saturday, Sept. 30th, and was attended by a representative gathering of members from all parts of the county. The Parish Church, where the service was held, contains the old colours of the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment, and upon the walls are bronze memorials doing honour to the memory of the officers and men of this famous regiment. In addition to the Parish Church bells, five other rings were available, and were used during the afternoon.

At the service, Canon Morris (Vicar) was the preacher.

Tea followed in the Church Schools, and was provided by the ringers and friends. Over 100 sat down, and, for once in a way, nearly 90 had sent in names.

The business meeting was held in another part of the schools, presided over by Canon H. J. Elsee, President. The committee's report was read by the secretary, and the balance sheet was also presented.

The committee's report stated that the number of members was 1,450. The income amounted to £56 16s., while the expenses were £80. The annual report, which had been enlarged, accounted for a lot of the difference, while advantage was also taken of the opportunity to complete unfinished diagrams. Mention was made of several members whose deaths occurred during the year, and of a tablet put up to the memory of one of the Manchester Cathedral ringers who died while conducting a peal there. The peals rung during the year numbered 96, but as the year ended on August 31st this number did not tally with the C.C. Analysis.

A few questions were asked and answered, and both were then adopted.

As there was only one nomination for each office vacant, the nominees (the holders) were re-elected and thanked for past services, to which they replied.

Two resolutions were discussed. One, relating to the appointment of a recognised authority to give advice on church bells, was accepted, and Canon Elsee was chosen to act temporarily. The other, regarding a Bell Restoration Fund, was lost by a big majority.

After some close voting, Kendal was chosen for the next annual meeting.

The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the various clergy, the organist, choir, and ringers for their services in various ways, also to the ringers who rang a course of Caters in church immediately after the Blessing, which was much appreciated by all present.

This proved one of the best meetings the Association has held, and it might have been better if the railway fares were not so 'stiff.'

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The October meeting of the above Society was held at Conisborough last Saturday. About 20 members were present, representing some twelve different towers. The fine ring of eight bells, which undoubtedly are best in the Doncaster district, were rung at intervals from 3 o'clock until 9 p.m., the methods including Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich Court Bob Major and College Single. Tea was partaken of in the Parish Room. The Vicar of Conisborough presided at the business meeting, at which it was decided to hold the next meeting at Hatfield.

Miss K. Jackson proposed several new members, who were duly elected. Among these were Mr. A. Knights and 'J. F.'

After some discussion it was decided that in future all teas provided at meetings of the society should be paid for at the standard rate of one shilling and sixpence per head, the tea to consist of meat sandwiches, cakes, etc. It is hoped that this will do away with any dissatisfaction there may be, and all criticisms and discussions on the merits or demerits of the different teas that have been provided at meetings.

In proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the local band and ladies for providing tea, the Hon. Secretary referred to the progress which the Conisborough ringers had recently made, and appealed to the Vicar to allow them to ring the bells on Sunday mornings instead of chiming them as at present. In reply, the Vicar said he could take a hint, and would see what could be done in the matter.

CERTIFICATES OF QUALIFICATION?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of Sept. 22nd there is an account of a festival at Saltash, at which prizes were presented to various bands. In connection with advancement in ringing, would it not be a great incentive to beginners (and others also) to have gradations of certificates or medals to denote how far they had advanced in the Exercise? i.e. for a peal or plain course, as arranged by the Central Committee.

As matters stand, a change ringers' certificate is obtainable by a mediocre performance on six bells. Learners are usually very keen, but after getting their change ringers' certificate many seem to lose interest. Further awards would provide a constant incentive to further endeavour, and also provide a guide to a ringer's powers when making up teams.—Yours faithfully,

Bath.

Q-SET PRINCIPLES IN METHOD CONSTRUCTION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It would be difficult to take Mr. Law James seriously, were it not that ignorance such as he reveals of the nature of q-sets appears to be fairly general among the experts. They seem to regard them as an unexplained and inexplicable juggle with figures, and the wider berth they can give them the better they are pleased. This surely must be the origin of a letter containing at least as many gross errors and palpable mis-statements as it includes lines. Mr. James may be glad to learn that a conductor who calls 3 bobs in consecutive leads does so in obedience to q-set authority just as much as when he calls 143 bobs and 2 singles in Holt's One-part. I would remind him that a charge of wasting space is a double-edged weapon. There has been a sufficiency of illogical writing about extension in 'The Ringing World' during the past few months.

To come to Mr. Yorke Bramble. He at least gives reasoned argument for the faith that is in him. At the same time, perhaps, he will allow me to say that in his reply to me a good deal of what he writes has the appearance of begging the question. But I do not suppose for a moment that this is intentional. Thus he complains that I confuse two issues. I do nothing of the kind. He, of course, regards construction and composition as two separate kinds of operation, unlike one another in character, indeed having nothing in common. On the contrary, I state explicitly my belief that construction and composition are essentially the same thing. In other words, I believe that ringing is a real science, and is consequently bound together in a homogeneous whole as any true science must be. He and those who think like him deny that there is a science of ringing at all, though some of them, through lack of logic, may fail to grasp the necessary consequences of their theories. True, Mr. Bramble employs the term 'science'; but he does so as he frankly confesses in an unnatural sense. Does he really think that to employ technical terms loosely is an aid to clear thinking and an antidote to the hypothetical cloak of mystery?

However, the point on which he apparently lays most stress in his letter is the perfectly astonishing idea that q-sets are only concerned with division or lead-ends. It is true that the term was coined by Thompson, whose investigations so far as I know were confined to Grandsire Triples—a method in which internal falseness cannot occur. In Snowden's Grandsire (pp. 171 ff.) there is an analysis of peals on the three-lead course plan, by means of which the truth of the composition is tested, seemingly in a way quite independent of the q-set. And all the time the q-set is there below the surface dominating the very pretty and convenient artifices employed by Mr. Davies for those compositions. Carrying the argument further to methods without a true proof scale, what does Mr. Bramble imagine Snowden's Natural and False Course-Ends to be if they are not q-sets? So much for his bold and incontrovertible (sic) statement.

But important as this is in its bearing on the subject, it is in a sense only a side issue. Let us confine ourselves to the single question put by me: Is there, or is there not, a harmony running through all change ringing such as that to which Thompson gave the name of q-set in the composition of peals of Grandsire Triples?

Let us consider what would be likely to happen if one of our experts were to ask some independent investigator to examine the plain courses of half a dozen assorted methods and report on their construction. Perhaps I may be allowed to assume him to be a mathematician, though any other type of mind trained to think logically would do equally well. This mathematician would quickly grasp the fact that change ringing from its nature consists of a form of relative motion. He would then notice that in most of these methods, and in particular in all that we call regular or legitimate, this movement produces a particular coursing order at each division or lead end (our old friend, the Bob Major Lead End). He might also find out that the Coursing Order exists, though probably in a veiled form, in the other (irregular or illegitimate) methods at some fixed point in each lead or division. On asking for an explanation of this general similarity he would be told that the Exercise had invented certain arbitrary definitions. 'Well, then, show me an example of a method produced independently of these arbitrary rules and free from the characteristics I have observed.' When he found there were none such forthcoming, he would decline to believe that there was any arbitrariness about it, and that, on the contrary, there must be some fundamental natural law underlying the resemblances he had been able to trace in all the methods brought under his notice. 'You profess that apart from the observance of the given conventions the designer may freely exercise his will in building a change block. You will find it as difficult to persuade me that what you call a convention can be violated as to abolish the tendency of a stone thrown into the air to fall again towards the ground.'

If it came to his ears that in the process of extending the plain course of a method to obtain a round block of any size whatever, there are certain governing factors—not arbitrarily imposed, but inherent in the very nature of change ringing—he could not but be struck by the similarity of these q-sets to what he had learnt by his observations of the various plain courses.

Is there any conclusive logical reason, he would ask, why each method should not have its own constructional q-sets in the same way as in any given method each composition has its q-sets operating in a particular way? If there be no such impossibility, this alone would indicate to a logical mind the values of accepting the idea tentatively at least as a working hypothesis.

I can imagine our mathematician wondering how such a common-sense suggestion should have escaped notice, and apparently he quite new to the experts, and he would be surprised that it should never have been thought of before. But in answer to the suggestion that logically 'composition in any given method can only begin where method construction leaves off,' it is worth noticing that perhaps the greatest intellect ever given to the study of change ringing recognises no distinction between the production of the so-called plain course, and that of the touch or peal. His phraseology is the same in both cases.—Yours, etc.,

E. S. POWELL.

Q-SETS THOROUGHLY TESTED.

Dear Sir,—I do not know why Mr. Law James always accuses his opponents of 'rushing into print,' except perhaps that it is a harmless habit of his. As a matter of fact, the theory of q-sets, as applied to Method Construction, has been tested more thoroughly than almost any similar theory in ringing. It has also the advantage over Mr. Bramble's theories that it is founded on fact and truth, and not on mere fancies, or as I suppose that gentleman would say, 'Conventions.'—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Northern Division was held at Great Bardfield on Saturday week. A short service was held in the Parish Church, the Vicar, the Rev. K. E. Cartwright, giving an excellent address.

A tea and meeting followed in the Parish Room, ringers being present from Stebbing, Dunmow, Great Bardfield, Stisted, Rayne, Felsted, Braintree, and Sibbie Hedingham, supported by the Vicar, Mr. T. S. Smith, J.P., churchwarden, and Mr. C. H. Howard, J.P., Master of the Association.

The retiring District Master, Mr. H. F. Cooper, Stisted, was thanked for his services, and Mr. W. H. Dyson, Braintree, was unanimously elected District Master.—Mr. B. Redgewell, Wethersfield, was re-appointed district secretary for the tenth year, and hearty congratulations were sent to him from the meeting upon his recent marriage.—The Rev. K. E. Cartwright was elected an hon. member.

During the afternoon some of the ringers visited Finchingfield, and by permission of the Vicar, the Rev. H. Jordan, rang touches of Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob, Mr. T. Wollard, of Finchingfield, taking part. Touches of Kent Treble Bob, Woodbine and Cambridge Surprise were rung upon the Bardfield bells, and courses of Triples and Caters upon the very fine toned handbells belonging to the Parish Church.

It was decided to hold the next meeting early in 1923 at Bocking.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

PULHAM MARKET, NORFOLK.—On Sunday, October 8th, for morning service, 928 Superlative Surprise: F. Borrett 1, C. Baker 2, J. Allen 3, R. Whiting 4, A. Berry 5, H. Piercy 6, E. Whiting 7, C. ## MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT WIGSTON.

There are two Wigstons, one Wigston Magna—the other, Wigston (or South Wigston) Minor; notwithstanding that the place was made famous by the long lengths rung there. In 1901, Harrison's 10,176 of Treble Bob was the first Major peal on the bells. In 1904, 11,008 and 17,104 Double Norwich were accomplished, but at the other Wigston members of the Midland Counties Association held their quarterly meeting in the Church of England School, on Saturday week. Alderman R. B. Chambers, of Derby, presided over an assembly which included ringers representing Leicester, St. Martin's, St. Margaret's, St. John's and St. Saviour's; Rugby, Nuneaton, Loughborough, Derby, Stoney Stanton, Stoke Golding, Sheffield, Croft, South Wigston and Wigston Magna. The Rural Dean of Wigston, the Rev. T. W. Wright, and the Rev. T. W. Weston, of South Wigston, were elected honorary members, and several new members were enrolled.

The tower bells of Wigston Magna and South Wigston were placed at the ringers' disposal and touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, Cambridge Surprise, Superlative Surprise, and London and Bristol Surprise were successfully brought round. The 'go' of the bells, which were recently rehung, was deemed to be excellent. Tea was provided by the ladies' committee.

LEICESTER DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of the Leicester District was held at Thurcaston on Saturday, Sept. 23rd. The meeting had been arranged for Anstey and Thurcaston, but owing to the death of the Vicar of Anstey (the Rev. J. Kerry Williams), ringing was confined to Thurcaston. There was a very poor attendance, but touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich, and also Cambridge Minor were rung.

The business meeting was held in the vestry. Mr. J. Harris taking the chair in the absence of the local vice-president (Mr. E. Morris).—The annual meeting was fixed for January 16th, at St. Peter's, Belgrave.

Mr. W. Willson moved that a vote of sympathy be conveyed to the relatives, friends and co-workers of the late Vicar of Anstey, who for many years had been well known and respected by members of the Association.—This was seconded by the chairman, who spoke of the deceased gentleman in terms of appreciation and respect.—The motion was carried by the members standing in silence.—A vote of thanks to the Vicar of Thurcaston for the use of the bells brought the meeting to a close.

THE LATE MR. W. W. GIFFORD.

The fund for the provision of a memorial to the late Mr. W. W. Gifford will be closed at the end of October, and those desirous of contributing should send their donations without delay to Mr. L. Harris, Britford, Salisbury, or Mr. F. W. Romaine, 41, Green Croft Street, Salisbury, joint hon. secretaries. Amount previously acknowledged, £17 15s. 6d.; Salisbury Diocesan Guild (Devizes Branch), £2 5s. 6d.; Mr. M. Stewart, 2s. 6d.; total, £20 3s. 6d.

MALDON'S NEW BELLS.*ERECTED IN THE ONLY THREE-CORNERED TOWER.

The Church of All Saints, Maldon, which possesses the only triangular tower in England, has just had its peal of bells recast and augmented to eight by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich. Previously there were six bells, and the four smallest each contained one line of a quaint rhyme, which has been reproduced on the new bells. The old framework and beams had done duty for centuries, and when removed were found to have decayed to a condition which had rendered them positively dangerous. The new tenor is 1½ cwt. heavier than the old, and the weight of the peal is 51 cwt. 1 qr. 25 lb., the metal for the two new trebles having been obtained from the old bell which hung in St. Peter's tower. All the old inscriptions have been reproduced, and on each bell there also appears the names of the present Vicar, the Rev. I. L. Seymour, M.A., the churchwardens, Mr. F. H. Bright and Mr. E. T. Baker, J.P., Mayor of Maldon, and the bellfounder, Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, together with the date of the recasting. The remainder of the inscriptions are:—

No. 1.—This bell was cast A.D. 1922, from the bell taken from St. Peter's Tower, which was presented by the Rev. Thomas Plume, D.D., in A.D. 1899.

No. 2.—Ditto.

No. 3.—When three this steeple long did hold.

No. 4.—They were three emblems of a scold.

No. 5.—No music then but now shall see. 1707.

No. 6.—What pleasant music six will be. H. P., 1707. Hugh Browne, Captaine Robient Bailifes.

No. 7.—Thomas Blackburne and Jermy Norton, Chwardens, 1770. Pack and Chapman, of London. Feit.

Tenor (12 cwt. 2 qr. 2 lb.).—The Rev. William Williams, Rector. Richard Ward and Jonathan Crosier, churchwardens. Thomas Mears, of London. Feit, 1799.

The dedication took place at an impressive service on Sept. 27th, and was performed by the Bishop of Barking, who, preaching from the text, 'Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say rejoice,' said it was only right that an ancient borough like Maldon should in its parish church have a proper peal of bells. Incidentally he remarked that the three old bells dated from about 1600, and that three more were added in 1700. It spoke well for the workmanship of those days that there was no record of any renewal or repairs being done since that time until the present. The parishioners and donors had reason to rejoice at the work they had accomplished. The cost amounted to £540, the greater portion of which had been raised, and it would be a great thing if they could wipe off the remainder that day. After eloquently dealing with the occasions both of joy and sorrow when the bells are rung, his Lordship spoke of the labour of the ringers, which he feared was not properly appreciated by the people.

During the service a few rounds were rung by the local company, viz.: H. J. Mansfield, F. Chalk, W. J. Brinkley, A. J. H. Peake, W. G. Mansfield, Miss A. E. Waldoock, R. L. Orth and C. Tabor.

After the service, the ringing included 558 Oxford Treble Bob by H. J. Mansfield, J. H. Waldoock, J. D. Buckingham, A. J. H. Peake, F. W. Edwards, R. L. Orth, W. Lincoln (conductor), F. Chalk.

The whole work has been most satisfactorily carried out by Mr. Bowell, who has produced a very nice peal, which are tuned on the Simpson principle, and are carried on a massive iron and steel frame.

It is interesting to note that the initials H. P. on the 6th stand for Henry Pleasant, an old East Anglian bell founder, who had his foundry at various times at Colchester and Sudbury.

A YOUTHFUL COMPOSER.

Although only 15 years of age, Robert Hardy, of Norwich, has composed a peal of Double Norwich Major, which was rung at Wyndham on September 21st, and has taken part in twenty-four peals in twelve towers. His peals include Stedman Cinques 1, Kent Treble Bob Royal 3, Stedman Caters 2, Superlative Surprise Major 2, Double Norwich Major 11, Double Oxford Major 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Oxford Treble Bob Major 1, Stedman Triples 1, Bob Major (on handbells) 1.

The composition referred to is as follows:—

FRIENDLY RIVALRY IN SUFFOLK.

A very satisfactory year of progress was recorded by the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association at the annual meeting. A growing membership, despite heavy losses from death and other causes, a marked activity in the districts, and the largest aggregate of peals among the associations of the country, all go to make up a gratifying result. The 'fly in the ointment' has been the failure to come to an arrangement to induce the newly-formed St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association to join forces with the older organisation, but it is recorded as a source of satisfaction that the East Suffolk members have remained loyal to their society. This course was only to be expected in towers which, for more than forty years, members have owned allegiance to their old Diocesan organisation. Indeed, we should have been surprised if, all the while the Association professes to cover that area, there had been any serious secession.

The position of Suffolk has been rather different from that presented to existing ringing organisations by the formation of other new dioceses. Two Associations, neither of them taking its title from Suffolk, covered the county so far as ringing affairs were concerned, and there was a fairly clear demarcation of their boundaries. The new diocesan arrangement cut into the districts of both Ely and Norwich Associations, and while the former gave up any claim upon West Suffolk, in order that a new diocesan organisation might be formed, Norwich took action in the opposite direction, and sought to absorb the whole county. On the other hand, the new society has aspirations of its own, and desires to unite all Suffolk towers in one Association. That this course is the one which commends itself to the diocesan authorities seems emphasised by the title which the Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich chose for the new Association, and the fact that he has resigned his position as one of the patrons of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association. And now we have the anomaly of two societies in Suffolk using, so far as that county is concerned, the same title. This curious state of affairs may some day lend itself to a better and less confusing solution; but, in the meantime, the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association, while regretting the absence of fusion, expresses a hope that the two organisations may live side by side in friendly rivalry. This ought not to be difficult, for there are many instances to be found in which ringing associations overlap one another's territory, and yet dwell in peace and harmony. All that is needed is that both sides 'play the game,' and do not endeavour to undermine the allegiance of members in the opposite camp by methods of a doubtful kind.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. ROCHESTER DISTRICT'S SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The annual meeting of the above district was held at Sittingbourne on Saturday, October 7th, and was attended by a thoroughly representative gathering. It was pleasing to note the 'young blood' of the district taking interest in these meetings, and they turned up in force. In the absence of the Vicar, who was away on mission work, the Rev. M. Allen, curate, officiated, and the organist was also present, and enlivened the service. A collection at the close realised 11s. 2d., and helped to swell the Association War Memorial Funds.

Tea was served at Cremer's Restaurant, and 44 members sat down. The business meeting followed, Mr. W. Haigh, Gillingham, being elected to the chair.

Three non-resident members, Messrs. A. H. Pulling (Guildford), G. W. Seere (Guildford) and C. H. Dobbie (Surrey), who had been proposed previous to peal attempts, had their election confirmed, and one new practising member was elected.

The District Secretary presented his annual report and balance sheet. In the former he reported that Sunday ringing was being fully maintained, and in the matter of peal ringing the district was not behind, as some good peals were recorded. At their district meetings they had been entertained by the Rev. Campbell Ward, at Swanscombe. The membership showed a slight falling off, owing to the large band at Haling last year, which numbered 24, falling down to three. Bell restoration was going ahead in their midst, as Gravesend were hoping shortly to have their peal of eight recast and hung in a new steel frame. Mr. Bowell had put in a frame for six at Chalk, and rehung the present three, which was a step towards getting six at that tower. Cliffe bells were shortly to be overhauled by Mr. Bowell, and rehung, and it was hoped that this peal of eight would be ringable by Christmas. Their old friend, Mr. Haigh, of Gillingham, automatically ceased to be a member of the general committee, and he was sure the district could not let the occasion pass without expressing their keen appreciation of his valued services for a great number of years. Their share in the County War Memorial was slowly, very slowly, going ahead, and he was pleased to report that that day their total had reached £10, and urged the members to hurry on with their collecting cards. Their balance sheet, including the day's expenses, showed a balance in hand of £12 10s., and he commented on the fact that they only mustered four hon. members in their district, which was a very poor total. On behalf of the Association he thanked all for their support, feeling assured it would be continued.

On the proposition of Mr. Shellock (Chatham), a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the secretary for his report and balance sheet.

The Chairman said that having heard such a report he was bound to propose the re-election of their secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell, which was unanimously agreed to.

Mr. W. Haigh, who had so faithfully served the district on the committee, was sent back to that body, as district representative, to accompany Mr. W. Spice (Tunstall), the other representative.

Northfleet was chosen as the place for the next meeting, to be held on Saturday, January 13th, 1923, and to conclude the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the curate for conducting the service, to the organist for his accompaniments, and to the chairman for presiding.

The tower was again visited, and during the day touches in various methods up to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise were rung. After the meeting Tunstall tower was well patronised by six-bell enthusiasts. The bells were lowered in peal on the district's last meeting of the year, all expressing the hope that next year would be even more successful than the one they were finishing.

TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

A quarterly meeting of the above was held at Westerham on Saturday, Oct. 7th, and was attended by about 40 members. Some good practice was obtained in the various standard methods. The usual service was held, conducted by the Vicar (Canon Boyd), who gave a most interesting address, in which he traced the history of the ancient church, and pointed out the features of the sacred building. Unfortunately the Vicar was unable to attend the tea and business meeting, but his churchwarden (Col. Bonham Carter) kindly filled his place.

The District Secretary made a feeling reference to the loss the district had sustained in the sudden death of Mr. T. Wallis, of Edenbridge, and read a letter he had received from Mrs. Wallis, in reply to a letter of condolence he had sent on behalf of the members of the district. The secretary's action was approved, and the members signified their sympathy and respect by standing in silence for a few moments.

The District Secretary subsequently made an earnest appeal on behalf of the fund which is being raised for the widow and daughter of the late Mr. Wallis, whose activities during his lifetime were recorded in 'The Ringing World' of Sept. 22nd. A collection realised £2.

On the question of a tower for the annual district meeting, Tunbridge Wells and Sevenoaks were proposed.—On being put to the vote Sevenoaks was selected.

The usual votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar, Colonel Bonham Carter, and to Mr. G. B. Selby, and the rest of the local band for the respective parts they had taken in arranging and carrying out such a successful meeting.

The members then again adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

INSTRUCTIONAL WORK.

To the Editor.

Sir,—You are right in urging the importance of providing instructors for change ringing, and in your view that more might be done, and with greater energy, in this direction. But it is only fair to the Associations to remember certain difficulties which in practice hamper the best intentions. The first is that of finding competent instructors. Many good ringers, with all the will to help, cannot teach others. They lack the infinite patience and sympathy with ignorance which a good teacher should have, in class room or in belfry; they cannot 'suffer fools gladly'; and they are too often impatient of results. The visits of such men to a young band may result in disappointment rather than encouragement. Another difficulty, felt more perhaps in country places than in towns, is that of securing regular attendance and perseverance on the part of learners, and their impatience of correction.

'No man,' it has been well said, 'will make a good ringer who cannot stand being told that he is wrong'; and when this happens, neither the instructor nor the Association which sends him is to blame.

There are also difficulties of cost, of distance, of communication with remote districts, and so forth; but where there is a will to overcome these, a way can be found. The real difficulty, as with most machinery and with any scheme for benefiting others, lies in the human element—in the man behind the machine, in the agent for carrying out the scheme, and in those whom it is intended to benefit; and so it is with instructional work among ringers. Such work deserves every encouragement, and all the energy that can be put into it; but it is not so simple a matter as it seems on paper.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Gainsborough, on Saturday, Sept. 30th, when members to the number of 70 were present from the various towers connected with the branch. A short service was held in the Parish Church, at which the Rev. H. T. Parry, of Bigby, gave an excellent address.

Tea was subsequently partaken of in the Co-operative Hall, and was followed by a business meeting presided over by Mr. F. P. Linley (President of the Branch), who was supported by the Rev. Canon Standon (Vicar of Gainsborough), the Rev. H. T. Parry (Rector of Bigby), the Rev. R. Bond (Rector of St. Peter-at-Archies, Lincoln), members of the committee, and the hon. secretary.

Several new members were elected, and Market Rasen was chosen as the place for the half-yearly meeting.

The President gave a most interesting address upon the history of bells.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for arranging the service, also to the Rev. H. T. Parry for his address, brought the business meeting to an end.

Some excellent ringing, both in the afternoon and evening, took place upon the magnificent peal of eight, which hang in the tower of the Parish Church.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.

The third annual meeting of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Hawley on a recent Saturday. Ringing commenced shortly before 4 o'clock, and was continued until 4.30, when the Rector (the Rev. Glennie) conducted the Guild service. Afterwards the party, consisting of eleven ladies and ten gentlemen, made their way to the Parish Room, where a splendid tea had been prepared by some of the lady members of the church.

At the business meeting it was proposed by Mrs. Hazelden, and seconded by Miss A. Fisher, that Miss H. Mills should remain as secretary.—It was decided, if possible, to hold the next annual meeting at Rammore.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Glennie, and to all who assisted in giving the ringers such a good time, was passed.

The belfry was then again visited, and more touches rung, including a course of Grandsire by the following members of the Guild: Miss Avenell (Worplesdon) 1, Miss B. Mills (Aldershot) 2, Miss Wood (Bagshot) 3, Miss A. Fisher (Aldershot) 4, Mrs. Melville (Guildford) 5, Miss E. Fisher (Dorking) 6, Miss Nye (Bagshot) 7, Miss H. Mills 8. The towers represented were Guildford, Aldershot, Bagshot, Yateley, Farnboro', Worplesdon, Sandhurst, Hawley, Dorking and Camberley.

A TOUR THROUGH CHESHIRE.

On Thursday, Sept. 21st, twelve good men and true from Liverpool arranged to meet at Woodside, Birkenhead, for a motor trip round the south of Cheshire, but at the appointed time one was found to be 'dodging the column.' He was eventually discovered consuming cigarettes, watching the policemen on point duty. When all were aboard, the party started on the great adventure. After a good run they reached Bunbury, the first call. Here is a good ring of eight (tenor 14cwt. 3qr. 11lb.), by Mears and Stainbank, and a well-struck touch of Stedman augured well for the day's enjoyment. Touches of Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob were also rung. Going on to Tarporley the party found a very handy peal of eight (tenor 10 cwt.), also by Mears and Stainbank. The bells were soon ringing merrily to Stedman, and afterwards, Superlative having failed, Oxford Treble Bob was rung instead. Then came the great call of the day—dinner. The party were welcomed by mine host of the Rising Sun, who surpassed himself in the sumptuous and substantial meal he placed before them. The trusty steed having then been wound up and fed, the party sped on to Wistaston, where there is a light ring of six (tenor 6 cwt. 0qr. 6lb.), by Gillett and Johnston. Touches of Stedman Doubles and London Minor were rung. When on the road again the erstwhile trusty steed put the 'wind up' the company by slipping a nut. Upon examination, however, this proved far less serious than feared, and Crewe was reached, where conclusions with that excellent ring of 10 (tenor 20 cwt.), by Gillett and Johnston, were tried, and a most creditable touch of Stedman Caters rung, followed by Grandsire Caters and Kent Treble Bob Royal. Then, augmented by one of the Crewe ringers (who kindly acted as guide as far as Sandbach), the excursionists proceeded to the 'piece de resistance,' that fine old ring of eight at Barthomley. Here is one of Taylor's masterpieces, as fine a ring of eight as one would ever hear (tenor 13cwt. 1qr. 14lb.). Met by the Vicar (the Rev. — Skene), a genial gentleman, who breathes goodwill to everybody, they were shown some interesting objects round the church, particularly the fine Norman arch. Well-struck touches of Stedman and Plain Bob were brought round, and then the party had to hurry along to Sandbach, where tea was waiting for them. Afterwards, in the tower, where there is a handy peal of eight (tenor 16 cwt.), various touches were rung. It was now getting dusk, so it was regretfully decided to leave out Middlewich and Over, and the steed was turned towards the port of Chester, and thence to Birkenhead. Thanks are tendered to the respective Vicars and steeplekeepers for granting permission and seeing that everything was ready, and to those friends who met the party at the various places.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*MEETINGS THAT CLASH.

A quarterly meeting of the Western district of the Hertford County Association was held at King's Langley on a recent Saturday, and was one of the most successful meetings since the district was formed. Ringers to the number of 23 attended from Berkhamsted, Hemel Hempstead, Bushey, Oxhey, Croydon, Tring, Hatfield, and the local tower. The methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Kent and Plain Bob Major.—The Vicar (the Rev. J. P. Haythornthwaite) conducted a short service in the Parish Church, and gave a very interesting address, which was much appreciated by those present. Tea, which was served in the Church House by the wives of the King's Langley ringers, was followed by the business meeting, the Vicar presiding.

Before proceeding with the business, the Secretary asked that a hearty vote of thanks be given the Vicar and the local ringers for entertaining the association with a splendid tea.—This was accorded by acclamation.

The Vicar was elected an honorary member of the Association, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Hemel Hempstead on the first Saturday in December.—On the proposition of Mr. W. Ayre, the hon. secretary was asked to arrange with the secretaries of the Watford and St. Albans Districts so that the meetings do not clash, as had happened recently.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and his address, to the organist, and also to the ladies for assisting at the tea table.—This concluded the business, and the helphy was again visited.

5,088 BRISTOL SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The 5,088 of Bristol published in the current issue by F. Bennett was composed by me some years ago. I have passed the figures on to various conductors from time to time, among whom, if memory serves me, are R. Matthews, S. Grove and T. J. Salter.

Perhaps if this meets the eye of any gentleman who has them among his collection, he will be good enough to corroborate my statement.

I have always regarded this as the best peal obtainable in the method.—Yours, etc.,
Smethwick.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

There ought to be a suitable commemoration next Thursday of the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal ever rung, for it is exactly a hundred years ago on the 26th that the All Saints', Wakefield, Society, rang the peal upon their own bells, Joseph Tobbs, of Leeds, being the only outsider in the band.

The peal, it is recorded, was composed and conducted by William Woodhead, and the composition is preserved. It is in three parts, with a middle and wrong in every course, and a bob at home at every fifth course-end. Strictly, of course, the plan is Annable's.

In the annals of the Wakefield Society it is stated that it was 'the first peal ever attempted in the above difficult method by any set of men in the kingdom, which will be a standing laurel for the society for ages to come.'

Here, then, is an opportunity for present-day Cambridge Surprise Royal men to celebrate an interesting centenary.

Holt's Original was rung at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, London, on Oct. 23rd, 1791, and until recent years it was believed that this was the first occasion the peal was conducted by one of those ringing in the peal. Investigations have now shown that this was done at Saffron Walden on Christmas Day, 1753, and again on New Year's Day, 1754.

On the anniversary in 1884 of the peal at St. Giles', the College Youths rang the composition 'silent' at the same church.

On October 25th, 1731, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, and was the first in the method. It was proclaimed and recorded in the picturesque language which was customary at the time, but proved to be false.

On October 24th, 1807, a peal of 15,120 Bob Major was rung at St. Paul's, Oldham, in 8 hours 46 minutes.

In 1891, on Oct. 24th, a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on the Curfew Bells at Windsor Castle, by the Cumberland Youths, conducted by George Newson. A peal had not been rung on the bells for more than a hundred years.

On Oct. 26th, 1837, a 7,325 Grandsire Cinques was rung at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields by the St. James' Society, and on the same day in 1867, 6,240 Cumberland Exercise Major (composed by Sottenstall) was rung at Liversidge.

A correspondent, J. J. J., writing with regard to the Leatherhead outing recorded last week, says: 'I suppose dear old Winchy was fast asleep when he passed two eight-bell towers—Hawley and Yateley—in Hampshire, and thus missed making a 6-county trip!'

Mr. R. Geater, captain of St. Peter's band, Tiverton, writes to point out that the recent peal at Babbacombe was not the first in which a lady had taken part in Devon. About fifteen years ago Miss Elliott rang the 3rd through a beautifully struck peal at Tiverton, where the tenor is 28 cwt.

'Once a Beginner' writes that he notes in the last issue a peal of Surprise at Frodsham, in which a father and two sons rang their first peal of Surprise together. 'Now, to settle any further arguments like this or the one when dear old friend Tom of Kidder and Tom O'Kent claimed to be something or other, how about Father Banister and his six sons at Woolwich? How many did they ring? I know that a lot of them were in the second peal of London ever rung.'

It is an interesting fact that these seven Banisters with a tenor man rang peals both of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and, as 'Once a Beginner' points out, father and several sons were in the first peals of Superlative and London which they rang. The College Youths peal book between 1843 and 1851 might give us further information.

Mr. George Williams writes to thank his many ringing friends for their kind letters of congratulation upon his 1,000 peals. They have been so numerous that he has not yet had time to answer them all.

'A local' peal of Grandsire Triples has been rung at Mangotsfield, Gloucestershire, in which there were five 'first peals.' These five ringers only learnt to pull a bell after the ring was opened in May, 1921, and are to be congratulated upon their progress.

Last Saturday a peal of Stedman Cinques was attempted at Sheffield Cathedral to celebrate Church Congress week. Unfortunately it came to grief in the last few sizes, after 3 hrs. 57 minutes' ringing! What luck!

The peal of Minor at Bridstow, on October 3rd, was rung in 2 hrs. and 45 minutes—not 3 hrs. and 45 minutes, as printed last week.

A well-known ringer who took part in the Oxford Guild tour in Beds and Berks, and travelled by motor-cycle, has had to pay two police court fines for technical offences while on the road. Probably railway fares would have proved cheaper under the circumstances.

Mr. Ben Gough, of Tipton, is, we are pleased to state, making great progress after his recent accident, and hopes to be at business in the course of a few days. He wishes to thank his numerous friends, both near and far, for their kind letters of sympathy, and also the many visitors who called to see him at his home.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association held its annual general meeting at Ipswich on Wednesday, Oct. 4th. The rings of bells at St. Mary-le-Tower (12), St. Margaret's (8), St. Clement's (6), St. Matthew's (5), St. Lawrence (5), St. Mary's, Bramford (6), and All Saints', Sproughton (6), were, by kind permission of the incumbents, open for the use of members throughout the day. Divine service was held in the Church of St. Mary-le-Tower, conducted by the President of the Association (the Dean of Norwich), and the sermon was preached by the Venerable A. R. Buckland, M.A., Archdeacon of Norfolk.

Luncheon was served at the Ipswich Co-operative Hall, the President being in the chair. Supporting him were the Venerable Archdeacon of Norfolk, the Rev. W. C. Pearson, Mr. Charles E. Borrett (vice-president), Mr. Arthur L. Coleman (general secretary), Messrs. H. J. Day, F. R. Borrett, C. E. Fisher (district secretaries), Mr. S. R. Roper (Croydon), Mr. E. P. Poppy, Mr. J. Souter, and forty other representatives from Norfolk and Suffolk. Letters of apology were read for non-attendance from the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Thetford, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Wood, Canon Douglas-Hamilton, Capt. A. E. Reeves, Mr. G. P. Burton, and Messrs. G. E. Symonds, C. S. Tullihill, and George Wilson.

The toast of 'The King' was proposed by the Dean of Norwich, and duly honoured.

The Venerable Archdeacon of Norfolk proposed 'The Association, which was responded to by Mr. Hubert J. Day.

BISHOP OF ST. EDMUNDSBURY'S RESIGNATION.

The President read a letter from the Lord Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, resigning his patronage of the Association, stating there was a new Diocesan Association for St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, of which he was president, and that it would be vain to attempt any effective contact with both. Therefore, under these circumstances, he ought to resign his connection with the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, which he regretted extremely parting from.

Mr. Arthur L. Coleman then read the 41st annual report for 1922 (the 45th year of the Association). In this it stated that the committee were gratified to be able to congratulate the members on the steady progress that had been made since their last annual meeting. During this period their membership had increased, and 190 peals were accomplished by their members. Many of these peals were excellent performances, and indicated the progress and intention of their members to ring the higher and more intricate methods. Seventy-four members had been elected during the year, but they regretted the loss of ten members by death, and 28 by resignation and lapsed membership. There now remained a total membership of 1,070, as against 1,022 last year. Deep regret was expressed at the heavy toll, by death, amongst the few remaining original members of the Association, viz., the Rev. Edmund Charles Hopper, M.A., Mr. Frederick Day, Mr. James Skinner, Mr. Robert Hutton and Mr. Thomas Sadler. The Association again occupied the first place in the Central Council's Analysis, with a grand total of 189 peals, and with a total value in points of 3,338. The average of points per peal was 17.65, this being 1.761 points above the average value per peal by all Associations. Three branch meetings and two district meetings had been held by the Norwich Diocesan Branch, and two branch meetings and twelve district meetings had been held by the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Branch.

THE SUFFOLK DISCUSSION.

The report reviewed the unsuccessful efforts to federate the Association with the new Suffolk Diocesan Association under its 'scheme of Federation,' which, after careful deliberation, was rejected by both the Standing Committee and by the two branches of the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association. It was satisfactory that this somewhat complicated controversy had, at least, had a happy issue, in so far that the Norfolk and East Suffolk members still remained firmly united, and that both branches were now embraced in one Association covering the two Dioceses, the Norwich Diocese and the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocese. The only regret was that the founders of the new Suffolk Diocesan Association did not see their way to throw in their lot with them, and that as a result there were now two Associations at work in the Suffolk Diocese. It was hoped they would continue as good neighbours and friendly rivals.

The President said they had hardly reached their ante-war figures, but they were not far off. Considering all the difficulties, a total membership of 1,070 was very creditable indeed, and they had accomplished good work.—The report was unanimously adopted.

The General Secretary and Treasurer submitted an estimated balance sheet for the year ending December 31st, 1922, which showed that there would be a deficit of £25 (approximately) owing to the heavy expense in printing the peal records in the annual reports.

The President stated that the Standing Committee had that morning carefully considered the Association's financial position, with the view of reducing the large expenditure on the reports, and that they recommended as a temporary measure only, the tabulation of the 'peal records' as being the only means of making a substantial reduction of expenditure without destroying the general feature of the annual report, so that the deficit could be wiped out.—The report was unanimously adopted.

All the officers were re-elected.—The President proposed, and the Secretary seconded, the Rev. Canon F. J. Meyrick, Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, as an elected member of the Standing Committee, vice the Rev. E. C. Hopper, deceased.

The General Secretary announced with regret the resignation of Mr. James Motts as district secretary for Ipswich, and paid high tribute to his services, covering a period of 44 years.—The Dean of Norwich moved, and the Rev. W. C. Pearson seconded, that Mr. James Motts be elected a vice-president of the Association, in recognition of his great services to the Association.—This was carried unanimously.

THE IPSWICH BRANCH SECRETARYSHIP.

The General Secretary read the names of twelve life members (non-resident) for ratification, and the nominations of sixteen members for election.—These were all duly elected.

Mr. William B. Duncan was elected district secretary for the Aylsham district, and Mr. Frederick C. Lambert, district secretary for the Halesworth district.—The announcement that Mr. Charles E. Fisher had withdrawn his resignation as district secretary for the Woodbridge district was received with gratification by the meeting.

The General Secretary said that the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Branch had not met to appoint a branch secretary, but hoped soon that the branch would be successful in finding a member to take office in place of Mr. Edward Evans, resigned. The annual report expressed regret at Mr. Evans' resignation on leaving Ipswich, he having held office from the inception of the constitution of the Association into two branches, and eulogised the work that Mr. Evans did in organising the Suffolk Branch. The thanks of the Association were due to him for guiding that branch through a complicated and difficult period with success.

The General Secretary said he had received a letter from the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, librarian to the Central Council, asking for a careful revision of the Association's 'roll of honour,' as published in the annual report for 1919, for the preparation of the Central Council Ringers' Roll of Honour of Church Bell Ringers who fell in the great war. The names were to be written on parchment, and given an honoured place in the library of the Council. It was important that the list should be complete and accurate, and he (Mr. Coleman) hoped that members would send in to him any corrections or additions without delay.

Votes of thanks were moved to the Ven. the Archdeacon of Norfolk for his eloquent address at the service, the incumbents for their kind permission for the use of the bells, and to Miss Baldwin for presiding at the organ at the service that morning. A very successful and enjoyable meeting then terminated.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

PROPOSED 'ARMISTICE DAY' RINGING.

By kind permission of the Rector, the Rev. C. F. Westacott, a quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough District was held at Wilby on Saturday, October 14th, members being present from Finedon, Irthlingborough, Wellingborough, Great Doddington, Earls Barton, Easton Maudit, Thrapston, Yardley, Hastings, Great Addington, and the local ringers. The bells, a light peal of five, were kept going during the afternoon and evening to Stedman, Grandsire and Bob Doubles.

A short service was held in the beautiful little church, conducted by the Rector, who gave a very interesting address, and appealed to those present to be loyal and true to the Association, and make themselves more worthy of their calling.

The party then made their way to the Church Room, where 29 sat down to a splendid tea, kindly provided by some friends at Wilby, and which was heartily appreciated.

The business meeting followed, and in the absence of the vice-president, through illness, the Rector presided, and extended a very hearty welcome to the members. He hoped to see a larger number of them the next time they came to Wilby.

The Secretary said that a suggestion had been made to alter the annual meeting from Whit-Monday to some other date not yet fixed, and invited those present to express their opinions upon it. The majority, however, saw no reason for making an alteration.

The Secretary also appealed to the members to do their best to carry on the good work begun so well last year in the ringing of the bells muffled on Armistice Day, and said that no doubt there would be many peals rung this year, as it fell on a Saturday. He hoped, however, that if peal ringers were drawn from other places they would so arrange that their own towers were not neglected.

Votes of thanks were heartily accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells and for his address, to the donors of the tea, the organist and the lady helpers. This brought a very enjoyable and successful meeting to a close.

THE OXFORD GUILD TOUR.

Wraybury.—The Rev. L. F. Hake, Vicar. Mr. J. Burley, foreman. Saturday, Sept. 16th.—Early astir and a promise of a fine day, the band turned out prompt and fit to take motor at 9.30, the vehicle being generously supplied by an old friend of the Slough ringers, Mr. E. Sargeant, parish clerk. Engine trouble made some delay, but it enabled Mr. Evans to reach us, he having missed his train from Wycombe, and taxied over rather than be out of the finish. We were met by the Vicar, and Mr. Churchwarden Mann, formerly of Sittingbourne (both practical change ringers), the former offering up prayers. Some little fitting had to be done to the 4th slider and stay, and a full examination was made all round before starting upon our 'one thousand up.' At 2.30 p.m., the fourth man ever to have completed 'his thousandth' peal had the satisfaction of crying 'this is all' to a good performance. When you begin to feel an aching void in the lower regions, it doesn't help one to find the man who had been instructed to prepare a birthday lunch for the party, ringing beside you. The man who should have rung had no such instructions, and so we had to wander about a little before Mr. Burley could find us some food. The Perseverance Inn rewarded us, and brother Bill paid the bill to the tune of 'Britons never, never, Nevad shall be slaves.' That homely meal, taken not far from Runnymede, where King John was forced to sign the Magna Charta, will not for long be forgotten by the dozen men present. Of the band—in the order they stood—the number of peals to their credit totalled as follows: Treble, 1,193; second, 499; third, 230; fourth, 47; fifth, 200; sixth, 234; seventh, 800; and tenor, 1,000; or a grand total of 4,203 peals in all. Wraybury Church, dedicated to St. Andrew, is supposed to have been built by King John. It is in the Early English style, with later additions. There are ancient brasses, 1512 and 1588. Earlier registers are supposed to have been destroyed by fire, for the present ones date from 1734. On an adjoining estate is a portion of King John's hunting-box, now a farmhouse, and on Magna Charta Island may be seen the massive oak table upon which King John is said to have affixed his seal, the original document being still preserved here.

Old Windsor. — Rev. J. Russell Napier, Vicar. Mr. J. Gutteridge, foreman. We were reinforced here by the arrival of the South Bucks twins, Messrs. W. Henley and W. Welling, and were visited by the Vicar. We settled down to some good London Surprise Major, but its successful ending was not to be, and at 7 p.m. we adjourned to high tea at the Wheatheaf Hotel, on the invitation of Mr. Fussell to celebrate an annual event. The team in the tower were Messrs. Jenkins, Fussell, Mayne, Henley, Evans, Welling, Hart and Williams (conductor). They were joined at the tea-table by the other tourists, who had made a flying visit to Windsor Castle and the Royal Chapel. We recrossed old Father Thames in a G.W. railway carriage via Eton, not as we came into Berks—by old-fashioned ferry boat at Wraybury loaded with ten hefty peal ringers in one load. Ten o'clock saw the party taking supper at the Reindeer, Slough, well satisfied with their ups and downs and rounds of the tour, tired but happy.

READING RINGERS IN TAUNTON DISTRICT

On Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2nd and 3rd, St. Mary's Society, Reading, held their annual outing, when they visited Taunton and district. On arriving at 12.15 they were met by an old friend, in the person of Mr. J. Hunt, who had made all arrangements, and who conducted the party to their headquarters, Poole's Restaurant, where the inner-man was quickly satisfied. After this two taxis conveyed the visitors to Wiveliscombe, where there is a fine peal of eight (tenor about a ton), and Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob were rung. The visitors then went on to Milverton (tenor 19 cwt.), where the same methods were rung before adjourning to the White Hart Hotel for tea. Afterwards, some of the party tried their hands at skittles, but without much success. Proceeding to Norton Fitzwarren, where there is a light peal of six, Grandsire, Stedman and Treble Bob were rung, but this part of the programme had to be hurried over, as an invitation had been received from Mr. John Thomas to ring on the fine peal of twelve at St. Mary's, Taunton. This was much enjoyed. The rest of the evening was spent at the Wood Lane Inn (kept by Mr. Joe Maddock, one of the local ringers) with handbells and other music.

On Sunday morning the party were at St. James' Church at 9.45, the bells having been placed at their disposal till 11 o'clock. Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Double Norwich were the methods. After service the visitors rang at St. George's, Wilton, a very light peal of six, and at 3.50 started on their journey home, arriving in Reading at 9.15, after one of the best outings the society had ever had. The members comprising the party were Messrs. J. Swain, F. Hoggood, A. Watmore, J. Goodenough, W. A. Webb, A. Jeffery and C. Giles, and they desire to thank, through 'The Ringing World,' all those who assisted to make the trip such a success, especially Mr. J. Hunt, who looked after them 'like a father.'

A NEW BELL BUFFER.

TRIAL AT WARFIELD.

Dedicated to St. Michael, and gay with the decorations of harvest festival, the season of Michaelmas was kept up at Warfield Parish Church by the pealing of the pretty octave of bells at this remote Berkshire parish on Saturday afternoon and evening of Sept. 30th. By kind invitation of the Vicar (the Rev. Clifford Toogood, M.A.), tea was provided at the Brownlow Hall, some 15 ringers sharing the joys of the teacup, a smoke and a chat.—Mr. A. J. Harman (hon. secretary of the East Berks Branch of the Oxon Diocesan Guild) thanked the Vicar for his reception and presence in the chair, also for his thoughtfulness in asking the ringers to come and hear the effect of a set of 'bell buffers' recently fitted to the clappers. Ringers in the district always enjoyed coming to Warfield, and he hoped local men would come in to the Windsor practices whenever possible; they would be very welcome. The introduction of this aid to the vibration of the bells was due to a holiday at Ashbourne, Derbyshire, spent this summer by the Vicar, who was much impressed by the tone of the peal of bells there, and the enthusiasm of Mr. R. E. Sadler in advocating this buffer, which is made by a firm claiming to be the originators of the bell buffer at a local works and duly patented.

The tower was visited after tea, and further touches in the standard methods rung till 9 p.m., conducted by Messrs. Welling, Harman and Henley.—Members present included Messrs. Farr, Smith, Knight, Copley, W. W. Cross, Crofts, Fussell, Bateman, Harman, Henley, Welling, a few of his boy scout team, Mr. Higgs, J. Brant, junr., and several of the local ringers.

The first touch of the afternoon was a well-struck 600 of Grandsire Triples by the Windsor Parish Church company, conducted by A. J. Harman. Those not ringing wandered round the fields picking blackberries and listening to the added hum of what is a really full-toned octave by Mears and Stainbank (without any aids to resonance), the tenor being 13½ cwt. only. It ought to be mentioned that when the tower was restored the windows opening on all four sides of the bell loft were filled up with stone and cement (excepting the tracery of the Gothic heads), so that too much confusion of sound exists in the ringing room, however pleasant the result to those who hear the bells outside.

In the circular describing this invention the statement:—'The bell buffer itself in no way corresponds with any previous invention under the name of "Clapper Buffer," although its duties are the same'—appears to need some explanation. This is the fourth invention during the past 40 years to be placed before the Exercise, and in all probability it will meet with the fate of similar previous inventions. At Mr. Fussell's suggestion a touch was rung with the buffers taken off Nos. 2, 3, 5 and 7 bells, leaving 1, 4, 6, 8 (as chords), with the buffers fitted, and this was found to be an improvement to the sound in the ringing room.

ACTON RINGERS IN BUCKS.

A most enjoyable time was spent in Bucks by the ringers of St. Mary's Parish Church, Acton, on the occasion of their annual outing. They left Ealing Broadway Station on Saturday, Sept. 16th, by the 2.35 train for Denham, where a pleasant stroll across the fields to the village, with its very ancient buildings—much admired by all—brought them to the Parish Church of St. Mary's. The tower contains a fine toned heavy peal of eight, rung from the ground floor, and the bells were soon pealing forth in Grandsire Triples, the 'go' being so bad that nothing higher was attempted. After 'falling' the bells in peal, train was taken to Beaconsfield, another old-world town, where Mr. Buckland was waiting for the party. Soon this glorious peal—recently rehung—was swinging to the familiar strains of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob Major. The company then adjourned to the Saracen's Head, where a real ringers' tea was awaiting them, and full justice was done. Time pressing, a move was made to the station for the 7.6 train to High Wycombe. Here was the 'star turn' for the lofty and spacious tower of the Parish Church of All Saints contains a magnificent peal of twelve bells, and some of the visitors had not previously rung upon this number.

The party was met at the church door by Mr. Ralph Coles and Mr. Goodchild, and strengthened later by Mr. Wilkins, who extended to them a welcome. The bells were raised in peal, and several courses of Grandsire Caters, Stedman Caters and Kent Treble Bob Royal were accomplished. All gathered in the churchyard just before 9 p.m. to hear the chimes which play mechanically a hymn on Sundays, and a secular piece on week-days, at 12 noon, 3 p.m., 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Strange to say, the tune was 'Home, sweet Home,' so taking the hint, the party made for 9.30 train, after a glorious day's enjoyment. The best thanks of the society are tendered to those who met them, and to the incumbents for their kind permission to ring.

Hunt (conductor) 7, J. Newman 8.

CERTIFICATES OF QUALIFICATION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the letter under the above heading, I may say that some months ago the Midland Counties Association appointed a sub-committee to consider whether it was possible or desirable to inaugurate a system for the granting of certificates of merit for progress in method ringing. I think the report of this sub-committee will be of very considerable interest to ringers generally, and it is encouraging to find the idea is being considered in other centres.—Yours faithfully, A. C. WRIGHT.

Hon. Sec.

THE LATE MR. TOM WALLIS.

Mr. J. W. Steddy, Edenbridge, Kent, acknowledges with thanks the following donations towards the fund in aid of the widow and daughter of the late Mr. T. Wallis, who are left totally unprovided for: Mrs. C. H. Hattersley, Sheffield, 5s.; Edenbridge ringers, £2; district meeting at Westerham, £2; Kent County Benevolent Fund, £3. As the fund will be closed early in November, will intending subscribers kindly forward same early to J. W. Steddy, High Street, Edenbridge, Kent?

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD IN YORKSHIRE. A PLEASANT OUTING.

It was not a difficult matter for the members of the Newcastle Cathedral Guild to settle the venue of their annual outing this year, as it was unanimously agreed to attend the first annual commemoration dinner to the memory of the late Jasper Whitfield Snowden and the past officers of the Yorkshire Association, to be held at Leeds.

Accordingly, nine members of the Guild met in Central Station, Newcastle, on the morning of Saturday, Sept. 23rd. The journey through to Leeds passed very quickly, various ancient arts and practices being indulged in, with profit to 'the novice.'

The party were met at Leeds by their cheery friend, Mr. P. J. Johnson, hon. secretary of the Yorkshire Association, who skilfully guided the visitors through the intricacies of the Leeds stations, and saw them safely into the Bradford train.

It was the intention to attempt a peal on the bells of Bradford Cathedral, but in this the visitors were disappointed, owing to the death of the wife of the Bishop of Bradford. Mr. James Cotterill, Mr. Broadley, and others, saw that the Newcastle party came to no harm, however, for they safely conducted them to various homely establishments, where their liquid and solid requirements were amply satisfied. They had also, thoughtfully, arranged for the use of the fine peal of eight bells at Northowram. A very good attempt at a peal of Double Norwich unfortunately came to grief, after about 2½ hours' ringing.

A rush back to Leeds, almost late for the dinner, was made. A very enjoyable evening was spent, and many old acquaintanceships were renewed, including that of Mr. Jas. R. Kemp, one of the Guild's own members.

Sunday was a busy day for all, ringing at Leeds Parish Church in the morning for service; visits to Kirkstall Abbey and the 'Vesper Gate,' occupied the time before dinner. Roundhay Park, with 'Jimmy' as guide, was the afternoon enjoyment.

After tea, parties were made for a visit to St. Michael's, Headingley, and to St. Chad's at Hunslet.

'The Novice' and 'Dick,' with the expert 'W.H.B.' were delighted with the visit to Headingley, and to have the privilege of meeting John Whitaker, and the other gentlemen of the band there. The other party also had an excellent time at Hunslet, and the visitors would here like to thank their friend of old, Mr. Jimmy Kemp, and Mrs. Emmerson, for the kindly and thoughtful way in which they provided for the wants of the inner-man during the evening, an action which was very much appreciated.

The tit-bit came on Monday. A visit to Birstall, arranged by Mr. Percy J. Johnson and Mr. Jas. Kemp, enabled the visitors to ring a peal of Double Norwich at this fine old church. The party were delighted with these bells, and thoroughly enjoyed the ringing. They desire to thank the Vicar for so promptly and kindly allowing the use of the bells at such short notice. The Guild wish to place on record the kindness with which they were received on all hands—at Leeds Parish Church, where they were made very welcome indeed; the trouble the Bradford friends took in view of their disappointment at the Cathedral, and also the special care they exercised over 'the Novice' at Northowram, while the rest of the band were peal ringing. Their thanks are also due to Mr. Albert Jagger and his comrades at Northowram; Mr. Percy J. Johnson and 'Jimmy,' who took them entirely in hand during the week-end, and made many thoughtful arrangements for their welfare.

A GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION.

An interesting event occurred at Deane on Thursday, Sept. 21st. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregory on that day attained the 50th anniversary of their wedding, and in honour of the occasion a peal of Stedman Triples was attempted. This, unfortunately, came to grief owing to a change course, after 2 hours' ringing. However, another attempt was made on Saturday, Sept. 23rd, which also failed owing to the 6th rope breaking in the 5th course from the end, to the great disappointment of the band.

After this the ringers and their wives adjourned to the Stag's Head to partake of the hospitality of the happy couple, a first-class tea having been provided by Mrs. Dickenson. This was followed by a 'sing-song,' songs being sung by Messrs. E. Catsforth, T. Barlow, and T. Barlow, junr., and a recitation given by Mrs. Gregory. Mr. R. Williams contributed a concertina solo, and Mr. T. Barlow, junr., acted as accompanist.

Whilst this was in progress another attempt was arranged for Monday, Sept. 25th, which was happily successful. The best thanks of the party were given to Mr. and Mrs. Gregory for their hospitality, coupled with the hope that they would see many more years of married life, and that Mr. Gregory would ring many more peals.

It is not often that a man rings in his golden wedding peal, as Mr. Gregory did, and the band would be pleased to receive information as to similar occurrences.

THE LESSON OF TAUNTON.

Slowly, but surely, the number of rings of twelve bells are increasing, and the latest addition—Taunton, opened last Saturday—is not only a welcome one, but stands out as a striking example of a triumph of constructional engineering in connection with modern bell hanging. St. Mary's Church possesses a very fine tower, but the movement of the steeple when the old peal of ten was ringing was such as to influence the Advisory Board of the Diocese to recommend refusal of the application to increase the peal to twelve, and thus the promoters of the scheme met with a serious obstacle when the Chancellor refused the faculty. Calling in an expert architect and practised ringer in Mr. G. H. Phillott, the Committee obtained a professional opinion which eventually convinced the Chancellor that there would be no risk to the fabric if the work was placed in the hands of competent bell-bangers; and Messrs. Mears & Stainbank, whose contract was accepted for the work, have provided a splendid illustration of how the present-day bell-hanger can actually, in carrying out an augmentation, strengthen a tower instead of weakening it. The cross-braced girder foundation anchored into the walls and carrying the bell frame has given the tall tower a stability which it never had in the past, and when objections are raised in other places to increasing the number of bells on account of a supposed risk to the tower, Taunton can be pointed to as a classical example of what can be done when a firm of experience and competence is called in.

As to the bells themselves, they are of a useful weight, and should thus be a great centre of progressive work in that part of the country. Heavy peals of twelve are often a handicap to beginners upon this number on account of the additional difficulties of ropesight caused by the big bells having to be pulled off in changes in front of some of the little ones they are striking over, but on a peal with a tenor just under 30 cwt., this disadvantage is much minimised. Hence Taunton should prove an ideal place—when management of the seventy-five feet draught has been secured—for Somerset ringers to make their initial acquaintance with twelve-bell ringing. We hope the new peal will afford opportunities for many West-Country ringers, as well as the Taunton men, to become proficient upon twelve, and that it will give a really good fillip to change-ringing in Somerset. There is room in that county for a much wider extension of change ringing, particularly in the higher methods, and with the Taunton men entering upon their new possession with increased zest, it is hoped an even greater activity than now prevails may be manifest in other towers in that area.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION. PRESTON BRANCH ACTIVITIES.

A very successful meeting of the Preston Branch was held at Samlesbury on Saturday, October 14th, about 25 members being present. The towers represented were Chorley, Eccleston, Hoghton, Leyland St. James, Preston Parish, Penwortham, Walton-le-Dale, Whittle-le-Woods, the local band, and visitors from Blackburn. The methods rung during the afternoon were Little Bob, Kent Treble Bob Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major, Stedman and Grandsire being the Triple methods. One regrets that the striking was not all that could be desired. The cause is that many, and this applies in a few cases to the older hands, do not appear to be listening to the sound of their bell, or, perhaps, cannot distinguish its sound from the other bells. Another cause is that many, again including some of the older hands, will persist in giving close leads at hand stroke and further aggravating the trouble by keeping slightly open at back stroke. It is quite impossible to maintain a regular beat if one or two are giving irregular leads, the natural consequence being that the striking is poor and irregular, thus greatly magnifying the difficulties of a new or intricate method.

The Vicar (the Rev. T. W. Broadhead) was present at the meeting, and invited the members to come and ring a muffled touch on the eve of Armistice Day. His invitation was accepted, and a quarter-peal of Stedman is to be attempted.

Mr. A. Woodhouse, who presided, invited the branch to tea at the Walton-le-Dale meeting, in November, when they hope to unveil two peal tablets recording peals rung in honour of two Walton church-workers of long standing. He wishes it to be a record meeting for the branch.

A Branch peal book has long been talked of. Mr. D. Sanderson offered to make one and present it to the branch. His generous offer was unanimously accepted.—The usual votes of thanks terminated the meeting.

LAVENHAM MEN AND SUPERLATIVE.

At Lavenham, on Saturday evening, for practice, a 672 of Superlative Surprise Major was rung by A. Symonds 1, M. Symonds 2, F. Leeks 3, W. R. J. Poulson 4, F. Mortlock 5, F. Turner 6, S. H. Symonds (conductor) 7, F. Poulson 8. This was the first touch in the method on the bells by a local company; also for the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association since its formation.

CERTIFICATES OF MERIT.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Your correspondents are not alone in their views on the above subject. It was one of the practical points I put forward over 20 years ago. Now, another generation begins to see that something of the sort is necessary. As Mr. Wright has pointed out, the matter is now under discussion by a special committee of the Midland Counties Association. I quite agree that there ought to be one or more diplomas of merit in the same manner as those of 'Associate' or 'Licentiate' of a College of Music. The grading may cause some dissension if done by individual associations, as it can be logically argued that a man who can call Holt's Original or a one-part peal of Stedman Triples is equal to any Surprise ringer. At the same time there is to-day a deal too much of peal piling in the lower methods. A ringer may boast of his 200 or 300 peals—largely Doubles and Minor—the whole bunch of which would not equal a solitary peal of London, and the cure for this, I think, would be for the Central Council to issue diplomas, franked by each affiliated society. — Yours very truly,
WILLIAM WILLSON.

'FORM AT A GLANCE.'

Sir,—In reference to ringers' badges, etc., I would suggest a medal in bronze, silver and gold, for Plain, Treble Bob and Surprise peals, the medal to vary in size according to weight of bell rung for the first peal; also a bar might be added to denote lengths above 5,000; a chevron to be worn for every peal rung. Think of the man with a thousand or so! Then for the convenience of conductors making up teams, perhaps the Editor would compile a small handbook entitled 'Form at a glance.' As to anyone who rang 25 per cent. of peals in any one method he should be suitably 'crimed.' Thus should we know and be known.—Yours,
T. H. VALLANCE.

AN OCTOGENARIAN RINGER.

Mr. J. Whitaker, the veteran Yorkshire ringer, has just celebrated his 80th birthday, and in honour of the event a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Major (1,280 changes) was rung at St. Michael's, Headingley, Leeds. Mr. Whitaker rang the treble, and received the good wishes of the band, as he will those of the Exercise: J. Whitaker 1, G. Robinson 2, R. Thomas 3, H. Williams 4, W. O. Talbot 5, W. Wood 6, H. Lindsay (conductor) 7, P. J. Johnson 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. E. H. Lewis has been elected President of the West of Scotland Iron and Steel Institute for two years, an honour upon which he will be heartily congratulated by his friends in the Exercise.

Up to the present about £440 has been collected towards the cost of recasting and rehanging the bells of Haslemere, Surrey. A sum of about £700 is required, and Major Hesse, to whose initiative the proposal for the restoration is due, is actively engaged in raising the money.

It is interesting to note that Haslemere was the last 'inspection' carried out by the late Mr. John Taylor, of Loughborough. The contract will be placed with Messrs. Taylor and Co.

Among the ten-bell towers in London it is seldom that peals are rung at St. Luke's, Chelsea, or St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington. By a coincidence a peal of Stedman Caters was rung at each of these churches on Saturday.

Taunton is the 40th tower (including St. Patrick's, Dublin), in which there are twelve bells hung for ringing.

The older he gets, the more vigorous seems to grow that 'youthful' veteran, James George, of Rugby, Birmingham and England. His latest escapade, within a month of his 69th birthday, is to ring the tenor (53 cwt.) to the fastest peal of Cinques yet rung on the famous Bow bells. There can be only one higher pinnacle; and that will be to turn Exeter Cathedral into a peal of Maximus, after he is 70!

Two Kent ladies, Mrs. H. Baker (Frittenden) and Miss Rose Thomas (Mersham) stood side by side on Saturday last in a peal of Grandsire Triples at Appledore, Kent, ringing the treble and second respectively. It was Mrs. Baker's first peal, and the first by Miss Thomas with an inside bell. Appledore bells are light (tenor 12½ cwt.), with a long draught and no guides. The ladies, however, controlled their ropes excellently, and listeners to the peal described the ringing as very good indeed. We congratulate the ladies on their highly creditable achievement.

There are 'speed merchants' in the tower as well as on the road, apparently. Last Saturday a peal of Cambridge Major was rung at the Loughborough Foundry in 2 hrs. 22 mins. Surely Middleton's composition has never been got through in such quick time before, at any rate on tower bells!

Walter P. Whitehead, the very youthful Leicester ringer, rang his first peal in the method in this performance, and, in the words of one of the band, was on top of his task from 'go' to 'this is all.' This boy is a remarkable ringer for his age, and the speed of the peal alone vouches for the fact that there were no trips. A single slip at this pace puts an end to any attempt.

On October 28th, 1837, Henry Dains was born at Tibbenham.

A peal of 9,120 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Holbeck, Leeds, on October 28th, 1876.

On October 29th, 1827, a peal of 6,011 Grandsire Caters was rung in 4 hours 10 minutes at the Parish Church, Bromsgrove. It was composed and conducted by Richard Pearce.

The first handbell peal (Oxford Treble Bob Major) was rung at Sheffield on October 30th, 1811. On the same day in the year 1749 a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Dartford, Kent, by the parish ringers.

A 7,002 Grandsire 'Quaters' was rung at the Church of St. Mary-the-Great, Cambridge, on October 31st, 1791.

November 1st is an interesting anniversary, for on that date in the year 1878 St. Paul's Cathedral bells were opened.

FATHERS AND SONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I am afraid your correspondent, 'Once a Beginner,' is labouring under a great delusion. Neither I nor my son claimed to have rung the first peal of London Surprise, in which father and son took part. When the peal in question appeared in print, my son wrote saying we had accomplished that several years previous, and also quoted other Surprise peals we had rung together. He forgot to mention the Banister peal, although aware of it.

There is, I think, one peal we can claim to be the 'first' which father and son took part in, and that was our first in the method on twelve bells, viz., Cambridge Surprise Maximus, rung at Waltham Abbey, 11th June, 1921.—Yours truly,

THOS. GROOMBRIDGE, Senr.

THE W. W. GIFFORD MEMORIAL.

Contributions to the fund for the memorial to the late Mr. W. W. Gifford have been received as follows: Amount previously acknowledged, £21 16s.; the Ancient Society of College Youths, per Mr. W. T. Cockerill, £2 15s.; Mr. Thomas Haslam (Kendal), 5s.; total, £24 16s. This fund will be closed at the end of October.—L. Harris, Britford, Salisbury; F. W. Romaine, 41, Green Croft Street, Salisbury, hon. secretaries; J. R. Jerram, Church House, Salisbury, hon. treasurer.

TAUNTON BELLS.

THE NEW PEAL OF TWELVE.

Another addition to the twelve bell towers of the country was completed on Saturday by the dedication of the two new trebles which have been added in the magnificent steeple of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Taunton. Among West Somerset ringers it was a red-letter day, the memory of which will long remain. The work has been carried out after surmounting many obstacles, the first and by no means least being the refusal of a faculty. The Chancellor of the Diocese was willing to grant a faculty for the rehanging in a new frame of the old peal of ten, but the committee were not prepared to accept this as final. They called in Mr. G. H. Phillott, of Cheltenham, who is not only an experienced ringer but also an eminent architect. He examined the tower and reported favourably upon the proposal. Further application, backed by this expert opinion, was then made, and eventually the faculty was granted. A committee was elected to carry out the scheme, and included, in addition to the clergy, Messrs. J. R. F. Lightowers, R. L. Cozens and C. Hiscock (churchwardens), H. A. Jeboult (organist), P. Brown, T. Doble, J. Burge, Stenlake and J. Hunt. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have added further to their great reputation.

A FINE ENGINEERING JOB.

The augmentation of the 'ringing' peal from ten to twelve was effected by recasting the smallest of the four 'half tone' bells used in the carillon, to take its place as the second in the twelve, and the addition of a new treble. This bell is the gift of Mr. Henry Joseph Van Trump, and the inscription is:—

To the Glory of God and in loving memory of

Harry Van Trump,
William Albert Fowler,
William Fudge,

Sidney Archibald Phillips,

Members of the St. Mary's Guild of Ringers, who gave their lives for their Country in the Great War, 1914—1918.

This bell was presented by Henry Joseph Van Trump.

The twelve bells are all hung on one level in heavy cast iron framework, mounted on a foundation of steel girders. The foundation girders are in two tiers, one set spanning the tower east to west, and the other north to south. The girders are anchored into the four walls, both sets being bolted together, and heavily cross-braced, forming a very effective tie to the tower. The bells are hung with the most modern type of fittings. The smaller nine bells hang in ball bearings in totally enclosed dust-proof housings, and the larger three bells are in roller bearings similarly housed, the headstocks being of cast iron.

Prior to this restoration, the 'go' of these bells had never been satisfactory. It is, however, gratifying to know that every bell now goes perfectly, and the movement in the tower, which had always been a marked feature, is considerably less than it was. This is the more pleasing, as being further proof that first-class modern bell hanging is advantageous to a tower. The reduction of strain upon the tower is apparent by the much reduced oscillation, and in place of uneven 'go' in the bells, they now run perfectly.

In the opinion of those qualified to speak on the subject, the restoration is a very fine engineering job, and with regard to the trebles, the people are delighted with them. They blend well in quality of tone with the old bells, and can be heard splendidly, so that the whole peal make an exceptionally fine twelve for the weight.

The weights of the two new bells are: Treble 5 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb., 2nd 6 cwt. The tenor is 29 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb., in C sharp. There are now 15 bells in the tower fourteen of them being used in the carillon.

THE DEDICATION.

The dedication was performed by the Rev. C. C. Parker, Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, Prebendary Corfield, Vicar of St. Mary's, and the Rev. S. W. Payne, curate, also taking part in the ceremony. The service was choral, and immediately after the formal dedication the twelve bells rang out in rounds, handled by S. Wyatt, F. Chedghey, H. J. Creed, E. Lloyd, A. Wyatt, P. Merson, E. Wyatt, J. Burge (conductor), A. Tout, F. Sadd, J. Hunt and W. White. The service below then proceeded, and the ringers returned to take their place amongst the congregation. The Rev. C. C. Parker preached an appropriate sermon, dwelling on the use of the bells, and appealing to all ringers to try their best when at the bell ropes, and to work together as one on behalf of God's House.

The service over, twelve members of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, eleven from Bristol, and J. Hunt, of Taunton, rang 1,047 of Stedman Cinques: F. Leaker 1, W. A. Cave (composer and conductor) 2, A. Reeves 3, E. Guise 4, R. Clark 5, C. Gordon 6, E. Brown 7, H. Pring 8, W. Knight 9, J. Hunt 10, J. Burford 11, H. Howell 12. The critics outside passed very favourable comments on the ringing, which was 'clean,' with good striking, considering the 75ft. of rope. The Bristol men fully upheld their reputation as twelve-bell ringers.

A move was then made to the School Room for tea, 127 sitting down. Prebendary Corfield presided, supported by the Rev. C. C. Parker and the churchwardens of St. Mary's. Amongst those present were Mr. E. E. Burgess, secretary, Bath and Wells Association; the Rev. E. V. Cox, Vicar of Bampton; the Rev. F. L. Edwards, hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild; Mr. E. Guise, hon. secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association; Mr. P. Williams, Bristol district secretary; Mr. A. Walker, Ringing Master, St. Martin's, Birmingham; Mr. W. C. Hunt, Nottingham; Mr. A. W. Brighton, Mr. J. Waghorn, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barker and Mr. A. A. Hughes (of Mears and Stainbank), London; Mr. G. H. Phillott, Cheltenham; Mr. E. Bishop, Swindon; Mr. C. H. Jennings, Salisbury Guild; and ringers from the following places: Taunton (29), Martock (1), Bridgwater (6), Milverton (5), Ilminster (8), Trull (4), Pitminster (5), Chipstable (1), Bristol (30), Exeter (6), Thorverton (1), Minchhead (3), Stogumber, etc.

The Vicar extended a hearty welcome to all, and had a special word for those who had come a long way. He was delighted to see so many present, and expressed a wish they would all come again. The speaker amused the company with some anecdotes, and concluded by hoping that everyone would have a good time and get home safe.

Mr. A. Walker (Birmingham) replied for the visitors, and said how delighted he was to be there to have a hand in the opening of this fine peal of twelve, which he considered, for their weight, were second to none he had heard. In his opinion, an excellent job had been made by the bell hangers.

Mr. J. Hunt proposed a vote of thanks to the churchwardens and the committee who had done so much to bring the augmentation and restoration to a successful issue, and included in the vote Mr. H. J. Van Trump for his generous gift of the new treble, with his son's name, and those of three other fallen ringers.

Ringings were again indulged in, the twelve being rung in rounds by several bands, while some tried Grandsire Cinques, Stedman Cinques and Bob Maximus. St. James's eight were also kept going to various methods, including Cambridge Surprise Major, and brought an eventful day to a close.

Special services were continued on Sunday, and in the ringing which took place Mr. A. A. Hughes, Mr. A. Walker and Mr. J. Waghorn took part. The bells were raised in peal, and a course of Stedman Cinques was just pushed home, and rounds of 'queens,' etc., followed. Canon Morrow, of Clifton, was the preacher, and he delivered a powerful sermon. Prebendary Maynard was the preacher at evensong.

A word of praise must be given to the vergers for putting everything in order, even to draping the ringing room with flags. Any ringer desiring to ring at St. Mary's should send a card to Mr. J. Burge, 32, Greenbrook Terrace, Taunton.

PREBENDARY FARRER'S MISCONCEPTIONS.

MAJOR J. H. B. HESSE'S REPLY.

No time has been lost in calling Prebendary Farrer's attention to erroneous basis of the statements he made at the Bath and Wells Diocesan Board of Finance, alleging that damage is done to churches by bells, and to which we referred in our issue of Sept. 27th. The following letter to the Prebendary is from Major J. H. B. Hesse, who is a member of the Central Council's Towers and Beltries Committee:—

'It often occurs when a ring of bells is undergoing restoration, that a suggestion is put forward to increase them from 6 to 8, 8 to 10, or 10 to 12, and the first question the Church Authorities ask is "Is the Tower strong enough?" and it is quite a natural question to ask.

'An architect may be called in—and generally is. If he knows anything about ringing, and understands bell hanging from the engineering point of view, one may be sure to get a fair answer as to whether the tower is sufficiently strong, or not; but, on the other hand, if he knows nothing whatever of ringing, or of bell hanging, he will generally advise that the number of bells be not increased.

'For the sake of argument, take a ring of eight bells with a tenor of 30 cwt. hung in a timber frame, the bells fitted with timber headstocks, and going badly, the framework moving with the motion from the bells, and the bells hung well out of their headstocks with long old-fashioned canons. Added to this, a considerable movement noticeable in the tower, which has been pronounced just safe for these eight bells, and no more. The time arrives for these bells to be rehung, and it is proposed to increase them to ten. In such an instance, it can be done with perfect safety, providing the authorities employ a first-class firm to do the work, the reasons being as follows:—

'A modern metal bell frame, if properly designed and built, helps to support the tower, whereas the old timber frame does not. The metal frame is mounted on steel girders which run north to south and east to west; each end of the girder is anchored into the wall, and all the girders are horizontally cross-braced, with the result that no one wall can take any strain independent of the other three, i.e., the load is equally distributed over the four walls. The headstocks are made of cast iron, instead of wood, and the bells are tucked higher into the stocks, i.e., more weight is placed above the line of the gudgeons. This means a very great deal less strain on the tower. Now, if this peal of eight with a 30 cwt. tenor were all rehung by a first-class firm, with two smaller bells added to make ten, the strain on the tower would be a great deal less than when there were only eight bells hung in the old-fashioned way. The writer has in mind a ring of six bells with a tenor of 37 cwt., which were rehung about twelve years ago, with the addition of four smaller bells to make ten. The work was carried out in a first-class manner, and the movement in the tower is now very small indeed compared to what it was when there were six bells only, because, prior to the restoration and augmentation, the old six bells were hung in the old-fashioned way in a timber frame which oscillated considerably, and the bells fitted in wooden headstocks and "hung out." There are many other instances the writer could give.'

PRESTON, STIFFOLK.—On Saturday, Sept. 8th, 720 St. Clement's Minor: S. H. Symonds (conductor) 1. F. Turner 2. F. Leeks 3. A. Symonds 4. K. Whittle 5. H. D. Lister 6. First 720 in the method on the bells, and first attempt in the method by the 2nd, 3rd, 5th and 6th.

HEADCORN BELLS RESTORED.

A FINE KENT PEAL.

Through the kind exertions of Mrs. Gatehouse and a grant from the Kent County Association, the Vicar and Church Council of Headcorn undertook the restoration of the church bells, upon the recommendation of the captain of the local band. The work has been successfully carried out by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich. The treble, 2nd and 4th have been recast, and the 7th and tenor rehung, while the bearings of the 3rd, 5th and 6th have been cleaned, and all the bells fitted with Mr. Bowell's new oil boxes, which are a very great improvement on the old plan.

The re-dedication was performed by the Archdeacon of Maidstone. The hour fixed for the service (7.30 p.m.) was rather late in the day to get many visiting ringers, but Mrs. Gatehouse (now of Biddenden), and her son, Captain R. A. O. Gatehouse, of the Indian Army, at present home on leave, assisted in the ringing after the service. Mrs. Gatehouse rang the 2nd bell, for the recasting of which she was responsible. She also rang the treble to a well-struck 120 of Grandsire Doubles, with 7, 6, 8 covering.

There have been several visitors from the Ashford district, also from the Tonbridge and Maidstone districts, as well as the Ospringe ringers from the Canterbury district, all of whom were pleased with the 'go' and tone of the new bells. The parishioners and ringers of Headcorn especially are very pleased with the possession of such a fine ring of bells, which are among the best in the kingdom.

In addition to the old inscription reproduced, the treble bears the words: 'Rev. Clement P. Dale, Vicar. Recast by Bowell, of Ipswich, 1922.'

The new inscription on the 2nd is: 'Te Deum Laudamus. Recast in memory of the Rev. Arthur Gatehouse, Vicar 1912-1917, by his widow and a few friends. Philip Hodgkin, captain of ringers. Recast by Bowell, of Ipswich, 1922.'

No. 4 (a maiden bell) recast by Bowell, of Ipswich, 1922.

All the old inscriptions have been reproduced, the treble and 2nd having been founded by Lester and Pack, 1766; and the 4th by R. Phelps in 1714.

CANTERBURY PILGRIMS.

On Saturday, September 23rd, the ringers of St. Mary's, Prittlewell, and one or two friends—in all 19 strong—thoroughly enjoyed their annual outing. As last year, Kent was favoured with their patronage, the objective this time being Canterbury. A start was made from Southend for Gravesend at the early hour of 6.30 a.m. A charabanc had been chartered to pick up the party at the Clock Tower, Gravesend, at 8 a.m., and shortly after that hour the 'Happy Band of Pilgrims' were en route for Rainham, which was reached about 9 a.m. A halt was called, and in a short while the bells were going to touches of Stedman, Norwich, and Bob Major. Everyone having had a pull, and the interesting old church, with its wonderful old oak chest, its painted ceiling and its curious brasses having been admired, the 'progress' continued.

Faversham was the next stop. Again all had a 'go' at some method or another on the bells and a short stay was made for light refreshment! Tragedy nearly overlooked the party here, for when the ringing was over one 'Pilgrim,' who is keenly interested in bells, slipped up above to have a look at them, and on returning to the ringing chamber found himself locked in, for the others had gone, not knowing he was there. He immediately started a course of 'Stoney' on his own, but didn't get far before he was liberated.

Canterbury was reached in good time, and after a preliminary glance at the Cathedral, the band adjourned to The City Arms for dinner. Ringing was not due to start before 4 o'clock, so the spare time was spent by most in the Cathedral, viewing the crypts, and hearing the graphic account of Becket's murder on the actual spot where the crime was committed. Then, piloted by Mr. Andrews, a most obliging and painstaking guide, the long way to the belfry was undertaken, and after a somewhat hazardous climb to the top of the tower to see the big clock bell and admire the extensive view, some none too good ringing was indulged in. The ringers were all pleased to have Canon Helmore present, and stand in with them for a touch. About 5 o'clock, after bidding good-bye to The City Arms, and the genial and kindly host and hostesses, a reluctant start for Gravesend via Sittingbourne was made. After enjoying a splendid tea at the latter place, the tower was invaded. Here excellent touches of Double Norwich and Stedman were rung, and the 'Highbrows' indulged in a course of Superlative. Followed the long run to Gravesend through the night, including a stretch of six miles, where lanterns marked where the road was being widened. Indeed, the lanterns stretching ahead, made quite a fairy-like scene.

Gravesend was reached about 9.45 p.m., in plenty of time for the last train home to Southend. The day was enjoyed by all, and the ringers wish to thank their Kentish friends for the welcome and hospitality extended to them. They were greeted and made welcome everywhere and it is no wonder that Kent is the favourite ground of the Prittlewell band when they decide the venue of their annual outing.

DEATH OF FORMER STAFFS SECRETARY.

The death occurred suddenly at Coseley Staffs, on October 16th, of the Rev. James Arthur Price (Vicar). For three or four years he acted as clerical secretary and treasurer of the society for the Archdeaconry of Staffs, and was an hon. member for ten years. He was also an hon. member of the Dudley and District Guild, and was beloved and esteemed by all the ringers with whom he came in contact.

The deceased gentleman, who was Rural Dean of Himley, preached for the harvest festival at Brierley Hill on the evening before his death.

He was a real 'ringer's Vicar,' and always ready to encourage and receive ringers in a most cordial manner. He will be greatly missed by the Coseley band, as well as in the parish and district in which he worked so ardently and successfully.

The body was taken on Thursday evening into the church in which the reverend gentleman had laboured for the past ten years, and placed in the chapel. It was preceded by members of the choir, and followed by the wardens and sidesmen, a short but impressive service being afterwards conducted by the Rev. L. J. Lamplough. Friends remained in attendance the whole night, and on Friday morning solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated.

The funeral took place on Friday afternoon. The members of the Coseley District Council and the Education Committee (of which the reverend gentleman had been a member) walked in procession from the Council House to the church, which was filled in every part by sympathisers. The chancel was one mass of beautiful floral tributes, one containing the message, 'From the last congregation to whom he ministered at Brierley Hill.'

The service, which was choral in character, was conducted by the Bishop of Stafford (Dr. Crawford), Archdeacon Graham (Stoke), with whom deceased was once a curate, and the Revs. L. J. Lamplough and C. S. Cook.

The attendance included people of all classes, and many local bodies were also represented.

A muffled peal was rung in the evening.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

The annual meeting of the South-Eastern Division was held at Fryerning on Saturday, October 14th. The handy ring of six bells were kept going from 3 p.m. until about 9 p.m., the methods rung including Cambridge Surprise. This was the first meeting held at this tower since the new treble was added about two years ago. A few months ago it was decided to have a new frame, and the work was carried out by Mr. Bowell, of Ipswich. A steel frame has been put in, and the bells were taken away and retuned. This has made a vast improvement both in the tone and 'go' of the peal.

Service was held at 4.30, and a good number of parishioners, as well as the ringers, attended. The address was given by the Rector (the Rev. Canon S. L. Brown).

A splendid tea was provided by the Rector in the Parish Room, and the local ringers' wives acted as waitresses.

At the business which followed, Mr. A. Edwards and Mr. W. Lincoln (retiring Master) were proposed for the office, and Mr. A. Edwards was elected by 12 votes to 8.

Mr. O. Pease and Mr. P. Timson (retiring secretary) were proposed for secretary. Mr. P. Timson was re-elected.—Mr. A. Edwards proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the retiring Master for his 10 years' past services.

Two new ringing members were elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting in the new year, at Boreham, and a by-meeting at Maldon on Saturday, November 4th, as the bells of All Saints' have been made into a peal of eight by Mr. Bowell.

Mr. W. Lincoln proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for making the ringers welcome, to the organist, and to the ladies for their services at tea.

The ringers afterwards returned to the tower, while some brought touches round on the handbells, and others proceeded to Ingatstone, a heavy peal of five, and rang touches of Stedman and Grandsire. Members present represented Boreham Broomfield, Bentley, Chelmsford, Ingatstone, Maldon, Springfield, Writtle, and the local company.

'MATHE-LOGICS' AND A CHALLENGE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—One has nothing but admiration for the skipper who sticks to his sinking ship; and Mr. Powell has at least succeeded in calling forth an expression of support; even if, as the only one, it comes from our old friend, the 'echoist,' on the opposition benches. But I challenge the production of data (resulting from the so-called 'tests'), which will demonstrate the application of strict Q-set principles as the true foundation of method construction. The truth is that Mr. Powell himself, in the concluding statement in his latest letter, has knocked the bottom out of his whole argument; since he has there arrived at a conclusion which is the very recrudescence of ours. But we will refer to this later.

Without wishing to appear as one applying the cold douche of ridicule, I cannot help expressing that I am reminded, by Mr. Powell's references to mathematics and logic and by his line of argument, of a certain [small-ill]-logical process of school-boy days, whereby those who could not follow the more involved algebraical fallacy generally used for the purpose, attempted to demonstrate that all numbers are equal! It ran something like this:—

1 cat has 1 tail.

And 0 cat has 2 tails (No! of course not!)

*(Adding up) 1 cat has 3 tails.

But, 1 cat has 1 tail [By hypothesis].

3=1 (And so on ad lib!) [Q.E.D.]

Now, if Mr. Powell's 'independent investigator with the mathematical mind' would care to honour me with a little of his attention, I will gladly show him that his supposed request for 'an example of a method produced independently of these arbitrary rules and free from the characteristics which are observed,' can actually be met. In which case that investigator would (presumably) thereupon retract all he has been made to say in Mr. Powell's letter.

And now for that unfortunately-chosen concluding statement in the letter, namely, that a certain authority 'recognises no distinction between the production of the so-called plain course and that of the touch or peal.' Quite so! We are all agreed on this, and why? Because the production of a plain course from change blocks is not method construction, it is composition, as we have previously insisted. The linking together of change blocks (leads or divisions), by means of varied place making positions and dodgings, at the junctions, is composition pure and simple; just as varied call positions lengthen or shorten courses. But method construction is confined entirely with the manufacture of the change block. Mr. Powell cannot realise that composition can only begin where method construction is completed; but an analogy with brick-making and house-building should make the position clear to the most prejudiced mind. The wall of the house (the touch or peal) is composed of courses of brick-work or stone (the courses of changes); and these courses of brick-work or stone are formed by joining blocks (of brick or stone) together by means of mortar (the place making and dodging at the junction of change blocks). All this is performed by the bricklayer or stonemason (the composer of touches or peals); and he cannot lay a single brick until it has been made for him. Now, is the bricklayer concerned in the very least degree with the actual making of the bricks at the brick kiln? No, for this is the job of those in the brickyards; i.e., the method builders, who construct the change blocks in ringing.

And just as the bricks must have uniform exterior measurement, so does the method builder conform to the given conventions of 'lead-ends in coursing order,' etc.; and that is all. But Mr. Powell would tell us that the bricklayer is most anxiously concerned in (in fact, is actually responsible for) the manufacture of the bricks themselves, so closely does he suppose the two operations to be related.

No, sir, the truth is, perhaps, that we should be attacked because of our attempt to enjoy a progressive conservatism in these matters, rather than a retrograde radicalism.—Yours truly,

A. YORK BRAMBLE.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

A quarterly meeting was held at Kinner on October 14th, and a very pleasant afternoon and evening were spent. Favoured with beautiful weather, the drive through the pretty country was much enjoyed. A fairly good muster of members and friends assembled, and made good use of the handy ring of eight bells. During the afternoon the 'Black Country veteran' (Mr. W. Rock Small) put in an appearance for a short period, but had to leave early on account of his inability to get about in the dark. He, however, had climbed the high hill whereon the church is situated—and this is no mean feat for one who is verging on 83 years of age!

A service was held in church, conducted by the Rev. T. A. Cooper Slipper (Vicar), who also gave a helpful address. Tea was provided at the White Hart Hotel, at which the Vicar was unable to be present on account of prior engagements. When tea was over, some returned to the tower, while others enjoyed a short time in social intercourse. This was indeed a pleasurable outing.

The next meeting is provisionally arranged to take place at Christ Church, West Bromwich, on January 6th, 1923.

THE DAY OF REMEMBRANCE.

Falling this year upon Saturday, 'Armistice Day' provides a great opportunity for peals in celebration of the anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in 1918, and, doubtless, there will be many bands who will avail themselves of the occasion. The day which saw the end of the great clash of arms in Europe is one which will remain a vivid memory with the present generation, and, as it marked the triumph of our arms, after more than four years of fierce warfare in which our sword was drawn for freedom and right, we may well celebrate the anniversary of such an epoch in the world's history by the joyous pealing of our bells.

But 'Armistice Day' as an occasion for rejoicing occupies on the 11th November only a secondary place in the thoughts of most British people. Primarily do their minds revert to those brave sons who fought and died, and hence it is as 'Remembrance Day' that this anniversary occupies first place in the hearts of the public. Last year ringers in hundreds of towers throughout the country joined in commemorating the day, first by muffled ringing, as a tribute to the fallen, and then, in many cases, an 'open' peal or touch to celebrate the triumph of the nation on the field of honour. The suggestion is made that a similar course shall be followed next week, and we imagine that in a majority of the towers the proposal will be acted upon.

From among the ranks of the ringers who went out in such large numbers to bear their share in the great adventure, approximately one thousand laid down their lives; and 'Remembrance Day' would be a specially appropriate occasion upon which those who now occupy the belfries, and grasp the ropes that once these departed heroes handled, could collectively honour the memory of their old comrades. In some areas the ringing is being properly organised, to ensure that it shall be general, and also, which is important, that where mixed bands are made up for peal attempts, individual companies shall not be so depleted as to deprive them of the opportunity of taking their proper part in the general ringing. This is, of course, a necessary step, for it might easily happen, where towers are not overmanned, that the absence of a couple of ringers might make impossible the effective use of the bells. 'Remembrance Day' is emphatically one of the days in the year when the bells ought to ring in every steeple in the country, and we hope that it will be possible this year. If it be only rounds that are rung it matters not so long as the ringers give of their best. It should be done even at the sacrifice of personal convenience, for what is this compared with the sacrifice made by those men who came not back? The memory of the dead should first be honoured, whatever else may be contemplated in the way of celebration, and if this be done the ringers may rest assured that in this they will be giving fitting expression to the feelings of those who will hear the bells.

THE PEAL AT EDINBURGH.

Bards have sung that 'All good gifts around us come from Heaven above,' but the writer never realised until last Saturday the time of the year at which good gifts are sent. On arriving, however, in St. Cuthbert's belfry, 'neath the shadow of Edinburgh's glorious castle, no one could have failed to realise that in and close around the month of October was the appointed time for the arrival of the best of 'good gifts.' In the first place the peal was a beauty from start to finish, the second of Bob Major to be rung in Scotland; 'twas the first peal of Major in Scotland in which a lady has taken part. It was the first peal of Major by the treble ringer. It was Miss Whitson's first peal and first attempt, and great credit is due to her for the masterly style in which she finished her work. It was rung as a birthday compliment to the following five members of the band and two old friends: Miss Whitson (October 18th), Messrs. Astley (Oct. 21st), Cleveland-Ellis (Nov. 6th), Heathcote (Oct. 18th), Sykes (Oct. 24th). And to Joseph Broadley (Oct. 25th), of Bradford, and ex-Sergt. Joseph Williams, of Newent. So who will say that October is not the season for good gifts? CHANTICLEER.

CERTIFICATES OF MERIT.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Although I have given very little assistance myself I have always considered your correspondence column to be one of the most interesting (occasionally amusing) features of your journal, and as a member of the Sub-Committee of the Midland Counties Association dealing with the above matter, the letters from Mr. Willson and Mr. Vallance are appreciated by at least one of your subscribers.

The suggestions by Mr. Willson will certainly have to be very carefully considered, while the fact of such an experienced ringer having put forward a similar idea previously will give the committee a certain amount of confidence they are not chasing a shadow.

Mr. Vallance goes further, and actually appears to have a concrete plan in his head!

I might repeat here that the committee of the M.C.A. was appointed to consider whether the matter is 'possible' or 'desirable'; therefore I am sure any further suggestions of any nature will be welcomed by those interested.—Yours faithfully,

A. C. WRIGHT.

'AN UNFAIR STATEMENT.'

Dear Sir,—In the current issue of 'our paper,' under the heading 'Certificates of Merit,' appears a letter from Mr. Wm. Willson, in which he says: 'A ringer may boast of his 200 or 300 peals, largely of Doubles and Minor—the whole bunch of which would not equal a solitary peal of London'—a most unfair statement, and one which cannot be allowed to pass without comment.

I take it that the writer is one of those who, on coming to the end of 'Eight Bell Peals,' passes on to the reading matter, considering 'Six and Five Bell Peals' as being of no consequence. I will, therefore, refer him to the leader of June 14th, 1912, and to the peal list for December 2nd, 1921, page 734, in which is recorded a peal of Treble Bob Minor in 24 methods, in seven true extents, and would ask him to find out its value in points, as allowed by the Central Council, then compare it with the points allowed for London.

What encouragement is it to Minor ringers who, doing their best with the bells at their disposal, have their efforts belittled, and who again, may I ask, is entitled to a 'Certificate of Merit,' he who is nearly always ringing with a good band or he who goes about the countryside giving a helping hand and willing to stand in with a band of novices, giving encouragement rather than discouragement?

—Yours very truly,

28, Grove Street, Hazel Grove.

JOHN P. FIDLER.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

BISHOP OF COVENTRY AS PATRON.

The quarterly meeting held at Nuneaton on Saturday, October 21st, may be classed as one of the most successful in the history of the Guild. Members were present from Berkswell, Chilvers Coton, Coventry, Croft, Exhall, Grendon, Hinckley, Leicester, Lichfield, Stoke-in-Coventry, Stoke Golding, Stoney Stanton, and the local band. The bells were raised shortly after 3 o'clock, and were soon sending forth their music in Stedman Triples. They were kept going in various methods until 5 o'clock, when the Guild's service was taken in church by the Rev. Stanley Morris, curate of Attleborough, and Vicar-designate of Wolvey, who also gave the address. The Rev. H. B. Dawson, curate of Nuneaton, kindly presided at the organ.

After service a meat tea was provided in the Parish Room by kind permission of the Vicar (Canon Deed), between 20 and 30 sitting down, including the president, Canon H. C. A. Back, M.A. The president being unable to stay for the business meeting the chair was occupied by the Ringing Master (Mr. A. Roberts).—The Hon. Secretary read a letter from the new Bishop of Coventry, in which he said: 'I shall have much happiness in acting as patron of the Guild of Church Bell ringers, and hope that the Guild is very flourishing. Anything I can do to serve it will be a pleasure.'

Leamington was selected for the next quarterly meeting, in January, 1923.—Three new members were duly elected.

The Chairman moved a hearty vote of thanks to Canon Deed for the use of the bells and the Parish Room, to the Rev. Stanley Morris for officiating at the service and for his able address, also to the Rev. H. B. Dawson for presiding at the organ.—Mr. H. Argyie, senr., seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.—The Rev. S. Morris replied.

A vote of thanks was accorded the ladies for their kind assistance at the tea.

The tower was again visited, and the ringing was exceptionally good, every method attempted being successfully brought round. The touches included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Duffield, Double Norwich and Bob Major, London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise.

A convivial hour was spent in the Queen's Head Hotel, during which the handbells were brought into use in various methods, while the tune ringing by Messrs. H. Briggs and C. H. Webb was much enjoyed. Thus concluded a most successful meeting and friendly gathering.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

'Name' peals are not uncommon in these days, but it is interesting to recall the first of these, which was rung by the Royal Cumberland Youths at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on Saturday, Nov. 3rd, 1796. The ringers were all Williams, and it is surprising to find that in those far-off days, when facilities of locomotion were so limited, that eleven ringers boasting all the same Christian name could be got together.

The peal was a 5,129 Grandsire Caters, and it is recorded in the tower as 'the first peal ever rung on any bells by any society, the members being all of one name.' The band was William Whitehead treble, William Richardson 2, William West 3, William Stephens 4, William Gibson 5, William Shipway 6, William Brown 7, William Court 8, William Tyler 9, William Castle and William Rigby tenor. The peal was called by William Shipway.

This number of ringers of one Christian name in a peal has only been once exceeded, and that was when twelve Johns rang a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Giles', Cripplegate.

On November 5th, 1737, as recorded in the annals of St. Peter's, Sheffield, 'was rung on eight bells at this church a peal of 6,048 changes of that intricate method called Cambridge Surprise in 4 hours and 18 minutes, by the following persons, viz.: R. Owen treble, G. E. O. Wylde 2nd, Samuel Willey 3rd, William Lee 4th, Charles Fletcher 5th, John Hill 6th, Samuel Dutton 7th, Thomas Babb 8th. The weight of tenor 33 cwt. The above is the first peal of this method ever rung in the country.'

This composition has not been handed down to us, but it is beyond question, we believe, that the peal was a false one. In any event, the ringers evidently did not know of a 5,152 Cambridge which had been rung in 1783, at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, London.

The first peal of Superlative was also rung on November 5th. This was at Huddersfield in the year 1821.

We have always looked upon Mrs. George Williams as the first lady peal ringer, for 30 years ago she rang the trebles to a handbell peal of Grandsire Triples. The 'Bury Post' of Nov. 5th, 1788, however, records a handbell peal of Bob Major rung at Nowton, in which the tenor was rung by a girl of 13. We have no further information than this, and wonder whether any of our readers can give us further particulars.

On November 8th, 1888, a peal of 6,720 London Surprise Major, then the longest length in the method, was rung at Bury-on-Trent.

The first eight-bell peal at Coddensham was rung on November 9th, 1742. And on the same date in the year 1800 the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major in Liverpool was rung.

The ringer of the 7th, in the peal of Double Norwich at Oswaldtwistle was William Barnes, not William Riling, as printed.

At an informal meeting held recently, the members of the belfry of St. John the Baptist, Hillingdon, presented Miss N. G. Williams (upon her leaving Hillingdon to take up her residence near Bath) with an ivory-fitted dressing case, as a token of appreciation of her work as local secretary.

In connection with the opening of the peal of twelve at Taunton it is interesting to recall that the former ring of ten was dedicated on June 25th, 1885. The ringing for the service was carried out by a specially selected band, and after a luncheon in the City Buildings the first peal of Caters in Somerset was rung on the bells.

The band contained some well-known names, being made up of Joseph Field 1, Thomas Payne 2, A. F. M. Custance 3, William Finch 4, Samuel Hounslow 5, Charles Hounslow 6, Rev. F. E. Robinson 7, Rev. C. D. P. Davies 8, James W. Washbrook 9, William Wakelin 10. The peal was composed by Henry Johnson, and conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson. It was rung under the auspices of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

The inquiry was made in our column a fortnight ago for any instance of a ringer taking part in his own golden wedding peal, as Mr. Jos. Gregory, of Deane, Bolton, had done on Sept. 25th. Mr. R. C. Loveday, of Thrapston, Northants, writes that Mr. W. J. Gilbert rang the 3rd to a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Raunds on February 25th last, in celebration of his golden wedding.

AN APPRECIATED GIFT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On Saturday morning last the postgirl brought to my door a box containing a miniature set of mining tools, each part being stamped with the initials J.F., a letter enclosed and signed 'Ireneus Pistor.' I wish sincerely to thank the donor of the gift, who still wishes to remain in the dark, and shall prize them in remembrance of our happy day in the Midlands. When I arrange another such outing I will give 'Ireneus Pistor' Iko-cum-Sheffield an invitation to join us.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE ROYAL CENTENARY COMMEMORATION OF AN INTERESTING EVENT.

The centenary of the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal did not pass unmarked on Thursday of last week, and it is pleasing to record that two attempts were made for the same composition as that rung at All Saints', Wakefield, on October 26th, 1822.

At All Saints', Worcester, the peal was successful, but at St. Stephen's, Bristol, the attempt failed through a broken rope. The same composition was being rung, but unfortunately one lead after the first part and the treble rope came down and put an end to the ringing. However, as our correspondent remarks, 'it is better to have tried and lost than never to have tried at all,' especially as the failure was not due to the ringers.

The peal of a century ago is recorded in the belfry records at All Saints', Wakefield, as follows:—

On Saturday, the 26th day of October, 1822, nine of the society of ringers of this church, with Joseph Tebbs, of Leeds, succeeded in accomplishing a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, comprising 5,400 changes, in three hours and thirty-five minutes, being the first peal ever attempted in the above difficult method by any set of men in the kingdom, which will be a standing laurel for the society for ages to come. The above peal was composed and conducted by William Woodhead. The band as stationed:—

Mark Blackburn	Treble	James Gill	Sixth
Joseph Sugden	Second	Joseph Gill	Seventh
Joseph Tebbs	Third	Thomas Netherwood	Eighth
George Pickering	Fourth	William Woodhead	Ninth

THOSE DELUSIONS.—OCTOBER BREWED.

Dear Editor,—First of all let me hasten to assure good Tom O'Kent that I labour under no delusions, though I will admit that often have I tarried at ye hostel known as Ye Tiger hard by ye Common of Chiselhurst to such a late hour and to such goode purpose, that goode Mistress Peppery has in ye past, of ever blessed memory, given me so many pieces of her minde that I marvel at ye bounteous store of this product that goode Dame Nature did bestow upon ye best of spouses, not to mention ye generosity of ye Goode Mistress in such matters on my endeavouring to convince her that I had passed ye evening in ringing with Good Tom O'Kent and his merrie men. Then did ye goode woman also say that I suffered from delusions mixed with a generous proportion of Nut Brown (oh no, not shag). However, to our muttons. Good Tom O'Kiddor did claim that he was the first father to ring a peal of London with his son, Good Tom O'Kent, or his son, did reply that they had done that years ago, and like many more of your correspondents they omitted to mention that they knew it had been done before. So leaving people to infer that they laid a prior claim. I passed the remark on reading this letter that I was very surprised at Tom for omitting to give the honour to the Banister family, as I knew he had rung under the peal board in Woolwich Tower, which records the second peal of London ever rung. He must have seen it scores of times. I rang with him there a quarter of a century ago; and rang my first of Stedman and London under that 'vermillion' board.

I did note with pleasure ye varied suggestions for certificates for various stages of proficiency in ringing, and did discuss ye subject with goode Mistress Peppery, who did, as is her wont, brighten up my bemused ideas and did point out to me that ye goode Editor did provide us, week by week, with ye best of diplomas as to our respective merits, and did sound ye loud trumpet at every step forward which we took in ye art, even unto ye course on handbells over our mortal remains, though ye goode woman does oft affirm that 'ruins' will more fitly describe mine. And when I did suggest that as an added attraction 'wound stripes' should be granted for tough jobs, like Matfelon at Whitechapel, and a torpedo badge to indicate when one had shipwrecked a peal by having to 'give it up,' ye goode woman did remind me that I generally got shipwrecked coming home from a peal, so that I should never be able to wear 'em all at once. However, if ever I arrive home with another certificate, smash it o'er my pate she swears she will.

I did then refer to ye discourse on Q-sets, and did read ye problem of ye cat and its tails at which ye goode woman did say that, even were it true, ye cat was short on change compared with ye ringing fraternity after a peal, and she did affirm that she was in agreement with good Mr. Trollope when he had said, some time gone, that no one had a right to claim anything as his own, and that the house that Jack built theory was very good. But even then the brickmakers would have been hard hit as method builders if someone had not invented some clay.—Yours sincerely,

ONCE A BEGINNER (IN DELUSIONS).

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

ALLIANCE WITH NEW GUILDFORD DIOCESE DISCUSSED.

A meeting of the Central district was held at Clapham Park on Saturday last, when ringing on the fine peal of eight was much enjoyed by a representative gathering from the towers in the district, including members from Ewell, Leatherhead, Croydon, Streatham, Mitcham, Beddington, and the local band, which includes several ladies, who are making good progress.

At the business meeting after tea, the Master, Mr. J. D. Drewett, presided, and among other business, the matter of an alliance with the new Guildford Diocese was discussed, and a resolution carried approving the same, and inviting the old Winchester members to form a Guildford district of the Surrey Association.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and the lady members who had arranged the tea, was carried unanimously.

In connection with the question of the amalgamation of the towers in the new diocese of Guildford with the Surrey Association, we understand the proposal originated out of a communication received from the secretary of the Guildford District of the Winchester Guild, in which towers now in the Guildford District but actively affiliated to the Surrey Association, were invited to a meeting to consider—

(1) Whether it is advisable to form a new Guild for the new Diocese of Guildford, or

(2) To try and come to an arrangement with the Surrey Association and combine the two ringing societies in Surrey to form one Guild or Association with an alteration of name, say, the Guildford Diocesan Guild and Surrey Association, or vice versa.

(3) Any question which may arise from the above.

The discussion on the question at the Surrey meeting was taken part in by, among others, members from Leatherhead and Ewell, two of the towers which would be affected, as they are at present in the Winchester Diocese.

The members welcomed the proposed alliance, but could see no reason for an alteration of title. They, however, invited the Guildford members to form a Guildford district of the Surrey Association.

The towers in the Central District of the Surrey Association which are also in the Winchester Diocese are Dorking, Leatherhead, Ashstead, St. Martin's and Christ Church, Epsom, Ewell, Ranmore and Banstead.

There are other towers in West Surrey similarly situated.

Consideration of the subject between the Mid-Surrey towers and the Guildford District of the Winchester Guild is to take place at a meeting at Leatherhead to-morrow.

ARMISTICE DAY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I again appeal to my fellow ringers throughout the country to do their best to carry on and extend the good work begun so well last year on Armistice Day in the ringing of muffled or half-muffled peals and touches?

No doubt there will be many peals rung this year, but I do hope that if peal ringers are drawn from other places it will be so arranged that their own towers are not neglected.

This is an occasion on which we as a body can show our gratitude for all our lads did for us, and in doing so, I feel sure we are expressing the gratitude of the vast majority of our fellow countrymen. It will also show that we still 'remember' those we loved and lost.—Yours faithfully,

Wellingborough.

F. BARBER.

THE PEAL AT APPLEDORE.

Of the band in the peal at Appledore, Mr. and Mrs. H. Baker and Mr. B. Baker reside at Frittenden in the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association, and Mrs. Baker is the first resident lady ringer in that district to ring a peal. Miss Thomas comes from Mersham, Messrs. Tribe and Burgess from Tenterden, Johnson from Appledore and Billenness from Hawkhurst. The peal was rung on the 38th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Lushington, Appledore. Mr. Alfred Johnson is captain of the Appledore ringers. The peal was also rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. George Johnson, whose birthday was on the previous Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson kindly entertained the company to tea and supper at their residence, Veness House, Appledore.

BROKEN ROPE SPOILS MEMORIAL PEAL.

On the occasion of the opening of the Lych Gate War Memorial and unveiling of the roll of honour at Crofton Parish Church, on Saturday, Sept. 23rd, an attempt was made to ring a muffled peal of Minor, the methods comprising Kent, Killamarsh, City Delight, Arnold's Victory and London Scholars. During the ringing of the last method, the breaking of the fourth rope brought the attempt to a sudden termination, which was the more unfortunate, as the band had got almost to the end of the complete peal. The ringers were: W. Green 1, J. T. Chamberlaine 2, G. Hunt 3, T. Hilton 4, A. Pantlier (conductor) 5, A. Gill 6.

THE SHORT-COURSE SYSTEM.

By JOSEPH W. PARKER.

It is generally admitted that, in the case of methods with a plain hunt or a treble-bob hunt, the plain course is too long. There is too great an interval between the course-ends, and, with two or three exceptions, leads can, with advantage, be left out. There is nothing new in this idea, for peals of Bob Major with bobs at 5th's and 4th's perfectly illustrate the principle of shortening the course.

Such peals are not popular because, being regarded as parting the tenors, their good properties are overlooked.

The present article is to draw attention to the fact that Plain Bob and other methods, from Minor to Maximus, with a shortened course, may be regarded as a different system, i.e., methods with three hunts.

Take any method which has 32 after the treble at the first hand-stroke lead-end, say, as in Bob Major, 13254768. If eight's place is made the bells come round, if second's place is made it is Plain Bob. If, however, fourth's place is made, the result is 12357486, giving a method with three hunts coming home every lead, and five working bells retaining their coursing order. Thus, in effect, five bob-leads of a method become a plain course of the short-course variation, and, to obtain peals, second's place must be substituted for fourth's at a bob, and a plain lead becomes a bob lead.

To put it more clearly, it is better in such methods to learn the bob work as part of the course, and when a call is made, to do the work of a plain lead.

Composition, of course, must meet the need of such altered conditions.

In Plain Bob the three hunts all do the same work, but in others,

Twice repeat the first 10 courses, followed by the last 12 courses.

while the Treble or Primary hunt will always have a plain or Treble Bob path, the work of the two secondary hunts may vary from this, the work of these two always being a reflection one of the other.

It is not necessary, however, to confine the scope of the system to existing methods, or to the first lead end 12357486, for the short-course of Plain Bob has as its lead-ends the following:—

12378564
12366745

Then the first lead-end of a short-course method may be any one of the first four without sacrificing regularity. Further, it is quite legitimate to vary the work of the secondary hunts from that of the treble; as a matter of fact, unless two bells lie still behind, it must be done in the case of Treble Bob.

This system gives to the Exercise the means of increased interest in ringing, as the secondary hunts vary the monotony of a method, a greater number of the more musical changes may be obtained in a touch or peal, and there is further scope for method building and composition.

The methods and peals appended show in some measure what may be done in this direction.

It must be remembered that in ringing existing Treble Bob methods on this plan the proof is varied, and a method with a clear proof scale may be false if the course is shortened.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The September meeting of the Northern District was held at Royston on Saturday, Sept. 30th. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Harrison), who gave a very interesting address. Tea, followed by business meeting, took place at an adjoining restaurant.

The Vicar presided, one new member was elected, and the usual vote of thanks was accorded.

The meeting was honoured with the presence of the President of the Association, who unfortunately arrived too late to occupy the chair. Ringing both on the tower bells and handbells ranged from Cambridge Surprise to Plain Bob, and was kept going until 9 p.m.

The church stands almost at the junction of two Roman roads, among the chalk downs. The one is called Ermin Street, and the other Icknield Way, which begins about Weymouth, and terminates on the Norfolk coast. The church has much of the 13th century architecture, and adjoins the remains of a priory which was founded in the 12th century.

EXCURSION TO WINDSOR.

On Saturday, Sept. 23rd, the progressive little band of ringers at Purley, Berks, together with the choir and clerk, held their annual outing, accompanied by the Rev. Mrs. and Miss Pring. Starting by charabanc at 11.30, in fine weather, they proceeded to Windsor, via Reading, Wokingham, Bracknell and Ascot. On reaching Windsor Great Park a halt was made, and luncheon partaken of and thoroughly enjoyed.

Resuming the journey, Windsor was reached at 1.30. An interesting and most instructive visit was made to the Castle. Unfortunately for the ringers, owing to important business, one of the band was unable to be present, so that ringing anticipated could not be indulged in. The homeward journey was made via Slough, Maidenhead, Twyford and Reading, Purley being safely reached at 8.15. Many thanks are due to the Rev. and Mrs. Pring, Major and Mrs. McAndrews, and other local ladies and gentlemen for their generosity in providing for such an ideal outing, which was greatly appreciated by all.

ST. MARTIN'S SOCIETY, LEICESTER.*ENJOYABLE VISIT TO KETTERING.

The annual outing of the above society for 1922, on October 7th, will rank as one of the most successful and enjoyable of a long series. The venue selected was Kettering, and shortly after 2 p.m. the party of about twenty ringers and friends reached that town after a commonplace and uneventful journey by train. Met by Mr. D. Nicholls, a stalwart of the Kettering band, a bus was found patiently waiting their convenience, and trucks were made for Rothwell, where the magnificent peal of eight were soon raised and set going to the tune of London, followed by Bristol, Cambridge, Superlative, Double Norwich and Stedman Triples, all of which were successfully brought round. Much interest was also displayed in the fine church, with its famous crypt. The bells are a splendid ring by Taylor, and the tone and go leave nothing to be desired. Reluctantly, Rothwell was left for the return journey to Kettering, where ample justice was done to a fine repast. Afterwards the bells of the Parish Church were taken possession of, and Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal were negotiated in good style, several of the local ringers taking part. This peal of ten are in fine going order, but the trebles cannot be heard to advantage in the belfry, a point possibly more noticeable to strangers.

The visitors were doubly fortunate in having a private room reserved for their comfort, after ringing had ceased at the church, and a most enjoyable evening was spent, the handbells being requisitioned both for change and tune ringing, in which Mr. S. Cotton and Mr. G. Cleal, of silent handbell peal fame, once again gave of their best. In the vocal part of the entertainment several old artists, after a time, came 'out of their shell' with distinction. The party were very pleased to welcome Mr. R. Richardson after a peal exploit in the neighbourhood.

Mr. Nicholls expressed the great pleasure it had given the ringers of the district to receive the visit of the Leicester ringers, and he paid a high tribute to the quality of the ringing, in which the young mascot of 14 acquitted himself with great credit, accomplishing successfully London, Bristol and Cambridge Royal.

The very best thanks of the visitors are due to Mr. Nicholls for the thorough arrangements he had made for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors, which it is hoped to reciprocate when a fresh peal is obtained at St. Martin's, the present condition of the bells being such that no enjoyment would be derived by any visitors. It was a real pleasure to have the opportunity of ringing on bells in such direct contrast. Thanks are due to the Vicars of Rothwell and Kettering for giving the Leicester ringers this opportunity.

Ten o'clock arrived all too soon, and the party leisurely made their way to the station to catch (according to the secretary) the 10.50 p.m. to Leicester. On reaching the station a few minutes prior to 10.30 it was found that the last train was due out at 10.30, the 10.50 being a train that set forth from Leicester! He had evidently enjoyed himself to the extent of desiring to commence the whole proceedings over again. Anyhow there were no stragglers, and all managed to get safely aboard, unanimous in their expression of having had a good day.

A PEAL AT ST. BRIAVEL'S, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

On Saturday, October 14th, members of the Hereford Guild made their second journey to St. Briavel's, Glos., in search of a peal of Grandsire Triples. The Bridstow detachment cycled to Ruardean, where they picked up four of the local band, including two Bishops (without gaiters). The transport had been arranged for by Ex-Sergt. Williams, whose absence, through illness, was keenly regretted. On the party being loaded up in the motor it was observed that none of the company on this occasion had their hair standing up. Being a beautiful autumn day, the journey through the Forest of Dean was much admired. As the roads here have some very sharp right-angled turns they required considerable skill and care on the part of our Jehu. St. Briavel's stands on a hill, and is a notable landmark from the railway between Monmouth and Tintern. The peal of eight are the easiest going bells to be found in a day's journey. After commandeering the services of Mr. Coates, the local foreman, the bells were set going in good style, the half-way single coming up in 1 hr. 23 minutes. All went well until the last part, when some of the band 'got the wind up,' and caused trouble. However, the 'skipper' rose to the occasion, and kept a firm hand—or voice—with the result that disaster was averted, although some had visions of a third journey to St. Briavel's.

One wished that these bells were at Bridstow, but, after all, reflected that perhaps it was best for them to pursue their steady work of call changes, Grandsire Doubles, etc., as at Bridstow they might get twisted about in Treble Bob, and all sorts of Major methods, perhaps even in that abomination—London Surprise. So we said good-bye to them.

The return journey suffered somewhat from the fact that on a previous journey 'Jack' had used up all his store of anecdotes, but in spite of this drawback the Bell Hotel was safely reached, and the 'ecclesiastics' duly deposited.

EALING RINGERS' FIRST OUTING.

The first outing of the band of St. Mary's Parish Church, Ealing, was a complete success. The ringers and friends left Ealing Broadway at 1.20 p.m. for Reading, which was to be the scene of activities for the day. A course of Grandsire Caters on handbells was brought round en route, but Bob Major could not be managed, owing to frequent interruptions of passengers passing through the corridor, and the boisterous spirits of the party. On reaching Reading the party made their way to St. Giles. Mr. A. W. Osborne, the genial foreman, welcomed the ringers, and the bells were raised in peal, but owing to nervousness or 'the holiday spirit' this could not be called exactly a success. However, touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Double Norwich Major were rung. A move was then made to St. Mary's Church, where Mr. J. Swain extended a hearty welcome. The heavy bells were soon set going to the tune of Stedman Triples, Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major following. On vacating the tower, rain was falling, and the restaurant was quickly sought. Here tea was waiting, and the ringers did ample justice to the meal. After tea, further handbell ringing took place, much to the delight of the waitresses. Time flies, and when Caversham was reached, the party were behind scheduled time. However, with Mr. E. J. Menday and other local ringers, the bells of St. Peter's were soon tapping off well-struck changes. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent and Cambridge Surprise Major were the methods. A pleasing alteration in programme became necessary, as an old friend, Mr. J. R. Mackman, had invited the band to supper, and the tower was left at 8.30 p.m. A short but enjoyable time was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Mackman, and some ringing on the host's splendid handbells took place. This occupied more time than was anticipated, and a hasty stampede to the station was the result. The London train was waiting, and everybody boarded it safely. Ealing was reached at 10.15 p.m., where the party dispersed in heavy rain, damp but cheerful. The ringers wish to thank the incumbents of St. Giles' and St. Mary's, Reading, and of St. Peter's, Caversham, for the use of their bells; Messrs. Swain, Menday and Osborne, and other local ringers, for their kind assistance; and Mr. and Mrs. Mackman for giving the party such an enjoyable supper. Special thanks must be accorded to Mr. A. W. Osborne for arranging tea and other items. F.W.G.

LAVENHAM RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, September 23rd, through the kindness of the leading church people, an enjoyable day's ringing was spent in Essex by the Lavenham ringers. Starting from Lavenham Church at 8.20, Haldstead was reached by 9.30, the party being received by Mr. A. Wiffen. Touches of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Kent Major were successfully brought round. Bocking was next visited, where touches of Stedman, Oxford and Forward Major were rung. Mr. A. Shuffeleotham, who kindly welcomed the party, took a rope in two touches, and also acted as pilot to Braintree Church, where a hearty welcome was extended by Mr. Charles Howard, Ringing Master of the Essex Association. Here the mascot of the party (Stedman S., junr.) had to be carried on his father's back up the ladder, about 30 feet high and nearly upright. A touch of Double Norwich came to grief. The party then adjourned to a splendid dinner, after which touches of Grandsire Triples and Double Norwich were brought round. Then came a six miles' run to Coggeshall, where, according to programme, Grandsire Triples, Kent and Double Norwich were rung. After bidding farewell and success to some well-known brother ringers, who were waiting to attempt a peal of Double Norwich, the journey was resumed to Earls Colne, which was reached about 4.45. Here Stedman and Forward were brought round, the latter being the first on the bells in the method. After refreshing the innerman, tracks were made for Sudbury St. Gregory, the last tower on the programme. Here at 6.30 the party were met by the local company and Mr. J. Lee, of London, Stedman and Forward, Kent and Double Norwich, in which Mr. J. Lee, Mr. D. Elliott, of Great Henny, and the local company joined, were brought round. Home was reached about 8 p.m., after a splendid outing. The ringers wish, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank the clergy for the use of the bells, the ringers who received them, and the friends who so generously contributed towards the cost of such an enjoyable outing. The handbells were much used whilst travelling.

THE LATE MR. T. WALLIS.

In connection with the appeal on behalf of the widow and daughter of the late Mr. T. Wallis, of Edenbridge, Kent, Mr. J. W. Steddy acknowledges with thanks the following: Previous list, £7 5s.; Mr. W. Stead, 7s. 6d.; Mr. W. H. Fussell, 2s. 6d. ### PAID SERVICE RINGERS.

The report of the annual meeting of the Fylde Branch of the Lancashire Association makes sad reading. 'Nothing but disappointment and discouragement' in the past and little promise for the future. Such, in brief, is the condition of affairs as presented by the Hon. Secretary, and it is so unlike Lancashire that, had we not got the statement upon the word of the chief official of the Branch, it would seem incredible. The Lancashire Association is a big and influential organisation, and, doubtless, when the existing state of things is fully realised, there will be a determined attempt to help the handful of loyal members who, in the face of so much apathy, have been endeavouring to keep the Association's flag flying in that quarter of the County Palatine.

It is, however, not a simple matter to rouse lethargic ringers, and the task of creating anything like enthusiasm is formidable. Ringers, as a whole, are a difficult body to move, and it needs constant effort to stir them into any activity beyond their own well-defined groove. The work of waking up a branch which has reached a stage of apathy, such as seems to prevail in the Fylde, is one, therefore, in which the local officials will need all the co-operation that the parent organisation can give. As to the cause of this lack of interest, the Secretary quite bluntly, and, probably, very accurately attributes it to the fact that at, apparently, every tower the ringers are paid. Although the sum may not be large, it is the only incentive which the men of Fylde can find to induce them to attend to their duties in the belfry.

Except where men are put to actual out of pocket expenses in order to reach a tower to ring for service, we think it is a great pity that ringers should be paid for fulfilling this Sunday office. The true spirit of advancing the art for the art's sake is, unfortunately, too often killed on account of it, for the men concern themselves only with registering their attendance, and care little or nothing for what the ringing consists of, so long as the bells are rung. Moreover, payment often creates another obstacle to progress. Paid ringers, especially those who take no interest in method ringing, are disinclined to admit new men. All the while they can hang on to the 'spoils of office' they see to it that no one comes in to share with them, and in this way they put up another barrier to the advancement of the art. The problem of how to deal with cases of this kind is not an easy one to solve, and if this cause is really at the back of the apathy of the Fylde district, the Lancashire Association will have no easy work to change the state of affairs in the towers near Blackpool. If there is any other reason, it would be well to get to the bottom of it, and in any event it should be worth while interesting the incumbents of the various churches in the effort at revival.

VISIT TO HAMPSHIRE TOWERS.

On a recent Saturday eight members of Winchester Diocesan Guild met at Privett, Hants, to attempt a peal on those beautiful bells, but met with disappointment. The Rev. C. D. P. Davies, an old and valued member of the Guild, had charge of the parish for the week-end, the Vicar of Privett having exchanged with Mr. Davies, so that the latter gentleman could have the pleasure of ringing on his fine bells. Five members from Portsea, Messrs. Harding, senr. and junr., Rogers, Stone and Taylor, made the journey by rail to Petersfield, and then had a beautiful six-mile walk to Privett Church, whose spire can be seen for miles around. Mr. G. Pullinger and Mr. P. W. Cave, and the reverend gentleman, with those mentioned, comprised the band. Soon after the bells were raised, Mrs. Davies, who was in company with another lady, quickly climbed the stairs, and informed the ringers that the organist had met with an accident, and had severe concussion of the brain. This necessitated abandoning the attempt, much to the regret of all. Lady Nicholson, on whose estate the church stands, was also disappointed, having stopped with Mrs. Edge, to listen to the ringing. After consultation, it was decided to proceed to East Meon in the hope of getting permission to ring. One of the cyclist members rode on to see the Vicar of East Meon (the Rev. A. S. Crawley), the 'young uns' preparing themselves for another four-mile walk, whilst the two 'old crows' were following in the Rector's van. Lady Nicholson failing to get a motor conveyance. On arrival at East Meon, the walking contingent met the cyclist, who said that the Vicar would be delighted to allow the ringing to take place. This news gave them a good appetite for tea, and a visit to a local 'cafe' soon rid the landlord of extra food. Meanwhile the 'old crows' were having an exciting experience in the trap, and, with the Rector's wife, had to get out and push it up the hills, and going down to steady the conveyance from excessive speed. Half-past six saw all in the belfry ready for the fray, and a well-struck peal of Stedman Triples was completed by 9.45 p.m. Someone remarked 'that there was only a quarter of an hour to go,' so we went 'out quick,' and after hurried refreshment, at the hospitality of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, another preparation was made for a five-mile walk to Petersfield, in company with Mr. Cave, who had given up hopes of getting to Southampton. The 11.52 train from Petersfield landed the party at Portsmouth in the early hours, but as the clock had to be put back, it was a consolation to all concerned. Nevertheless all were up and ringing for the 9.30 service at St. Mary's, Portsea, and another service at 11 a.m. Handbell ringing occupied the dinner-hour, and two courses of Grandsire Caters were rung by P. W. Cave 1-2, W. Tate 3-4, F. W. Rogers 5-6, T. R. Taylor 7-8, E. J. Harding, senr., 9-10, and also Stedman Triples. Further touches were rung in the evening at Portsea, which completed a most enjoyable week-end's ringing. Thanks are due to the Vicar of Privett for his permission to ring, and also the Vicar of East Meon, whose ready consent was greatly appreciated by the ringers.

YE O. B. J.s OF RINGING MERIT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Willson observes in his letter on 'Diplomas of Merit' that the grading may cause some discussion, if done by individual associations. It will. As no two associations will grade alike, it will cause a little trouble to graded ones, who like the gentleman who is going to be magician enough to turn Exeter tepor 'into' a peal of Maximus, belong to about 40 associations, if they are condemned to wear all their grading marks at once. By the way, are they to be tattooed? What an art gallery one would become, and who is to pay for these wonderful diplomas? The culprit, one would presume, as association finance at the present day is not capable of keeping pace with all the drains on the exchequer. And is not the annual report a very sufficient diploma as to first peal in so and so methods, and first time to call a 'Ganny Gunter,' etc.?

Really, a practical scheme of diplomas can't be worked at 1s. or 1s. 6d. per head per annum. But if it is a diploma for striking that Mr. Willson requires for his colts, he should take them to a Halifax and District cup contest, and then get their names on the cup. That will be sufficient as to that, for they would require to have their ears at the contest, and not leave them at Leicester. Judge Broadley is fast approaching his half-century of contests, and I know he would be proud to give the cup to St. John's company for a change.

I believe there is one association which gives a medal to every member who scores his hundred for them. That is a very nice recognition of service to the association, but they do not quibble about what the hundred is made of. Doubles or London Major—it matters not, for no doubt the said association has sense enough to realise that eight men who could all ring London Major would never go into a tower and ring peal after peal of Bob Major merely to get the medal. I have looked carefully through the five and six bell peals published during the last three weeks, and I fail to see a single instance where a peal worth more points could have been rung. I note in your current issue a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Collingtree, and for the life of me I cannot see that the patron saint of that place could have discovered a way whereby Mr. Willson could have rung a quarter of London Major on the same bells with the same band (and Columbus knew a thing or two about discovering ways and means), even though good Mr. Willson jostled into the tower with his battle-axe and all. Now I can ring London, and could do so 20 years ago. Once I was asked to go and call a peal in Breconshire in a six-bell tower, and on arrival I found that no one of the band had rung a 720 of Minor, and could only ring one method, Plain Bob. I shall want a lot of persuading that I could have got those men through anything else but Plain Bob, and I claim that that peal was worth more in points to those men than a peal of Double Norwich would have been to me if all the band had rung a half-dozen in the method.

And now, good Mr. Willson, I ask you, on behalf of the five and six bell ringers whom I am proud to call friends of mine to give us a very good and very lucid explanation of your reasons for saying that the whole bunch of two or three hundred peals of Doubles and Minor are not worth, either to the men who rang them or to the Exercise, one solitary peal of London Surprise Major. And please bear in mind, good Mr. Willson, that ringers ring to please themselves that which suits them at the moment. They do not ring peals to please the eye of the disgruntled portion of the readers of the 'Ringing World.' I ask you for this because your reasons, when given, would be a magnificent formula for a scale of diplomas.—Yours very sincerely,

ONCE A BEGINNER.

'UP TOWER.'

'Whur be gwine to, my purty maid?'
'Bo gwine up tower, kind sir,' she said.
'Why for be gwine up tower?' said he;
'Be larnin' Grandsire Triples,' said she.

'Good sakes alive, wot's they?' said he;
'The simplest method en seb'n,' said she.
'But thee cassin't ring they bells,' he said;
'Do practise on handbells,' replied the maid.

'I don't understand they contraptions,' he said;
'They'm fine to larn wi', replied the maid.
'But got no ropes, they ain't,' said he;
'Us can pull tower bells, when we'm minded,' said she.

'Wull, if 'ee can ring, why larn?' said he;
'But us can't ring nowt w'out practice,' said she.
'But thee zed thee could, thee vullish maid';
'Girt gowk, why, thik beain't ringing,' she said.

FRICITION AND LUBRICATION.

NOTES ON THE EFFICIENT LUBRICATION OF BELLS.

No other subject occupies the time and attention of the average steeplekeeper so much as the 'go' of his brazen pets. The following article may seem superfluous to those steeplekeepers who are in the engineering trade, but it will prove to be of special interest to those who are not connected with engineering, etc.

The object of lubrication is to diminish the friction between revolving, rolling and sliding surfaces. This decrease of friction is attained by the use of lubricants, such as oil, grease, etc., which have the effect of separating the surfaces in contact in such a manner that in well lubricated surfaces, as, for example, a gudgeon and bearing, a film of oil is interposed between the gudgeon and bearing.

Without going into the theory of friction and lubrication, it may be helpful to the reader to review the various laws appertaining thereto.

1. The frictional resistance becomes independent of pressure when the surfaces are well lubricated.
2. Under the same condition of lubrication the frictional resistance varies directly as the speed.
3. Frictional resistance also depends on the temperature.
4. Frictional resistance depends little on the nature of the surfaces in contact under a flood system of lubrication.

Most of the oils in use are mineral, obtained during the refining of petroleum, shale, etc. Other oils of higher specific gravity are of the animal and vegetable classes. In the animal category are tallow, lard, and sperm oils, and, in the vegetable, olive and castor oil, all of which have varying degrees of viscosity.

In choosing oils for the lubrication of bells it is essential that due account be taken of the degree of viscosity. Mineral oils have a very wide range of viscosity. It also follows that the viscosity of a given lubricant varies according to the temperature to which it is subjected. Thus in summer an oil may have a low degree of viscosity, and in winter a very high degree.

Bearings in which bells hang can be divided into three classes.

1. Plain bearings, without lubricators.
2. Bearings fitted with gravity lubricators.
3. Ball and roller bearings.

In the first class, to use a lubricant with a low degree of viscosity would be sheer waste, because it would soon run out of the bearing and become useless. A mixture of lard and castor oil, Stauffer's lubricant, or petroleum jelly, will be found to be most efficient if used for this type of bearing. The use of tallow as a lubricant for this class should be condemned, because it has a destructive effect upon the metal. This destructive effect is caused principally by the formation of acids, which is accelerated by the presence of moisture or other oxidising agents.

In the second class, oil is caused to run from the lubricators on to the bearing by the force of gravity. It is evident that if a lubricant with a low degree of viscosity is used, the flow of oil will be too great, and if a lubricant is used with a fairly high degree, the rate of flow will not be big enough. Therefore, the happy mean must be chosen. Mineral oils of not too low viscosity will be found to be the best for this class. Olive oil and castor oil are all right for use during summer, but should not be used during winter, as they solidify in very cold weather.

Ball and roller bearings require very little lubrication, and this only at long intervals. Stauffer's lubricant or petroleum jelly will be found to serve very well in this case.

Most of the leading bell founders supply special lubricants to suit their different designs of bearings, and their instructions on the subject should be followed as closely as possible. H. W.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

CHIPPING NORTON DEANERY BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the above branch was held at Burford on Saturday, and was favoured with weather that was all that could be wished for. The fine old peal of eight were set going at 2.30 to a fine short touch of Grandsire, which was the local branch secretary's first attempt to call Triples. This was followed by other ringing, in which several beginners took part. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. T. Emmeris), who gave a very interesting address to ringers. Tea was provided at the Lamb Hotel, and was followed by a business meeting, the towers represented being Ascott-under-Wychwood, Chipping Norton, and Shipton-under-Wychwood, with visitors from Ilmington and Stretton-on-Fosse, and the ever-welcome Master (the Rev. O. W. O. Jenkyn, M.C.), and Guild secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert).

The following officers were re-elected: The Rev. W. J. Palmer, chairman; Mr. J. Keyte, branch secretary and treasurer, and the Guild branch representatives.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Burford for his welcome, and Mr. H. Miles proposed a vote of thanks for their attendance to the Master and Mr. Hibbert, who both voiced their pleasure at being present.

Ascott-under-Wychwood was chosen for the spring meeting. The ringers then returned to the tower for further ringing.

ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

NORWICH SECRETARY'S REPORT DENIED.

A meeting for the Archdeaconry of Suffolk was held at Ufford on October 28th, the Rector of Ufford presiding. After tea, provided in the Church Room by Mrs. Drake, the minutes of the last meeting were read. To them was annexed the scheme of federation drawn up by Mr. A. L. Coleman (hon. secretary of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association) after that meeting. Great surprise was expressed that Mr. Coleman should have put forward such proposals, none of which were acceptable to anyone; and also that he should have tried to father them first on Mr. Fawcett, then on Mr. Drake, and finally (see 'The Ringing World' for October 20th, p. 665) on the new Diocesan Association, the more so as not one member of that association had said a single word in any way supporting any scheme of joint working for the two societies. It was resolved unanimously: 'That this meeting being informed that the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association have never had anything to do with any scheme of federation, declares that the attribution of one to them in the report of another association is not in accordance with facts.'

In a discussion on the great number of cracked bells in the diocese, reference was made to a case where new bell ropes had been cut, and the cut ends tied to the clapper in order to allow of the bells being struck at a great rate, and the following resolution was passed with enthusiasm: 'That this meeting requests the president and patron to take steps to stop the increasing practice of "clocking" or "nibbling" bells, by which so many valuable bells are being cracked.'

It was also resolved: 'That the old custom of properly raising a bell for a death should be revived in every parish.'

The meeting closed with thanks to the ladies and Mrs. Drake for the tea.

The statement in our issue of October 20th was as follows: 'The report (of the hon. secretary of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association made at the annual meeting) reviewed the unsuccessful efforts to federate the association with the new Suffolk Diocesan Association under its "scheme of Federation," which, after careful deliberation, was rejected by both the Standing Committee and by the two branches of the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association. It was satisfactory that this somewhat complicated controversy had, at least, had a happy issue in so far that the Norfolk and East Suffolk members still remained firmly united, and that both branches were now embraced in one association covering the two dioceses, the Norwich Diocese and the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocese. The only regret was that the founders of the new Suffolk Diocesan Association did not see their way to throw in their lot with them, and that as a result there were now two associations at work in the Suffolk Diocese. It was hoped they would continue as good neighbours and friendly rivals.'

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES BROADCASTED.

HANDBELLS BY WIRELESS.

On Tuesday evening, October 31st, what is believed to be the first broadcasting of change ringing on handbells by wireless took place at the residence of Mr. Goodall, Bassett, Southampton. The ringers were Messrs. G. Williams, D. Cecil Williams, John W. Faithful and Percival W. Cave, who were procured at extremely short notice.

Upon arrival at the house the ringers ranged themselves in a circle near to the small hut in which all the transmitting and receiving apparatus is kept and rang a 'practice' course of Grandsire, while Mr. Goodall tried different positions of the microphone for the best sound effects.

This, and other preliminaries, being settled satisfactorily, the concert started punctually at 7 p.m. with a touch of Grandsire Triples by J. W. Faithful 1-2, D. C. Williams 3-4, G. Williams 5-6, P. W. Cave 7-8.

A move was then made to the drawing-room, where songs were contributed by Mr. Horley (of Southampton), and a couple of piano-forte solos by Mr. P. W. Cave.

At the close of the concert, which had lasted about 50 minutes, Mr. Goodall asked all 'listeners in' to write to him and report on how they received the concert. He was especially keen on hearing how they received the ringing, and went out to his receiving set in the hope of picking up a report by wireless telephony from the amateur station at Salisbury.

In this he was successful, and 'Salisbury' said they had received all of the concert perfectly, and considered it the best Mr. Goodall had transmitted. Several amateurs, known to the writer, were also successful in receiving the concert, and all said the ringing sounded very clear, although unfortunately marred in one or two cases by 'jamming' by a neighbouring spark station.

Before leaving the house, Mr. Goodall invited the party to inspect his set, and succeeded in tuning in a concert from Whittle, near Chelmsford, much to everyone's delight. Altogether the evening was a very interesting and enjoyable one, and it is hoped that another similar concert will be given in the near future.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.*BAD EFFECTS OF 'PAID' RINGING.

The annual meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at St. John's, Blackpool, on Saturday, October 28th. As usual, the meeting was poorly attended, only four members, besides the local men, putting in an appearance. The ringing included Grandsire, Stedman, Treble Bob and Little Bob.

At the business meeting, the Secretary gave a brief account of the year's working. Ten meetings had been held. The attendances averaged ten members to each meeting, and out of these ten members St. John's, Blackpool, could claim five. The art of change ringing was at a very low ebb indeed, the one bright spot on the outlook being St. John's, Blackpool, a little interest being also shown by two members from St. Anne's-on-Sea. Two attempts to score a peal with the St. Anne's members had come to grief, but they were hoping the third try would be successful. It was very rare that any members from other towers ever attended a meeting, except the one held at their own tower. Both old ringers and learners showed a lack of interest in change ringing. If one might hazard an opinion, it appeared to be the sole aim of the majority of ringers in the Fylde to ring (sometimes) for Sunday services to draw their salary, and let all other ringing matters take care of themselves. Was it because they got very well paid that things were so lax in change ringing affairs? One tower was paid at the rate of £5 per bell per annum, and in none of the towers of the Fylde, so far as could be ascertained, were there any paid less than 50s. per bell per annum. There were three ex-secretaries in the branch, and not one of them had attended a meeting. The meeting at Singleton was the only one where there was any ringing after tea. Perhaps this was because the Vicar had kindly provided a free repast to all who attended. The outlook for the future was far from encouraging; in fact, one member asked the question if it was worth while continuing the meetings when nothing but disappointment and discouragement were met with on every hand and at almost every tower.

The Secretary said his term of office had expired, as he only accepted the post for twelve months, but as there was no one willing to undertake the post he offered to continue for another year.

A vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. J. Tipping, the Branch Ringing Master, in his serious illness.—Mr. A. Hague was elected Deputy Ringing Master for the year.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the two six-bell towers in Lytham.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South and West District was held at Acton on Saturday, October 28th, and was attended by over 40 members, from 16 towers. A service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. S. De Sausmarcz, M.A.), who welcomed the association to Acton.

After service, tea was served in the Church Hall, presided over by the Rector, and supported by the churchwardens, and Messrs. C. H. Shakespeare, R. H. Holloway, and the Ringing Master. At the business meeting which followed, with Mr. Shakespeare in the chair, thanks were accorded to the Rector, churchwardens, organist, choir-boys, Messrs. C. H. Shakespeare, R. H. Holloway, J. W. Fruin, and others, who assisted.—The Rector acknowledged the thanks on behalf of himself and his colleagues.

The bells were set going again till 9 p.m., when a successful meeting closed.

A VISIT TO BOLTON-ON-SWALE.

On Saturday, October 14th, a party of ringers, representing the belfries of St. Cuthbert's, Holy Trinity and St. John's, Darlington, and St. Michael's, Heighington, had a very pleasant outing to Bolton-on-Swale, Yorks. On arrival at the church they were met by the Vicar (the Rev. Montague Thompson), and the churchwardens, who extended a cordial welcome to them. The tower contains a nice ring of six bells, by Warner and Sons (tenor 11½ cwt.), which unfortunately are not rung through lack of ringers, a chiming apparatus having been installed. The bells were raised, and 120 Stedman Doubles rung. Several courses of Grandsire Triples were also rung on hand-bells on the Village Green and in the Church Institute, where a splendid tea was served. After tea a return was made to the tower, and the bells were set going to a well-struck 504 of Kent Treble Bob Minor, followed by 720 Bob Minor for the visitor from Heighington (W. Oliver), who rang the 4th. A 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung, which was the first in the method for F. Johnson, who rang the 2nd, and also for Mr. C. S. Burden, of London, who rang the tenor and first 720 of Oxford, as conductor, for W. N. Park. A six-score of Stedman concluded the ringing, and bells were lowered in peal. The ringers comprising the party were Messrs. T. Clark, C. S. Burden, W. D. Lister, G. W. Park, F. Johnson, W. N. Park, W. Oliver, A. Coates and A. Hunter, and they wish to thank the Vicar and churchwardens, and their ladies, for their hospitality in providing tea, and also for the use of the bells.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Messrs. Groombridge and Palmer are rehangng the peal of eight at St. Nicholas', Sevenoaks, Kent.

Mr. Wm. Taylor, of Southwold (late of Leiston) rang in his 'golden wedding' peal (Kent Major), at Southwold on October 13th, 1906. The same composition was rung muffled to his memory at Leiston the day he was buried (Nov. 21st, 1912).

Mr. William Rock Small is another who had the honour of ringing in his golden wedding peal. This was at Tipton on Saturday, Feb. 8th, 1913, when Mr. Small rang the third to a peal of Stedman Triples.

Eight veterans of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association, all of them over 70 years of age, rang a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major at Pulham Market on Saturday week. Particulars of the performance, however, had not been received up to the time of closing our columns for press. We hope to give the details with a photo of the band next week.

St. Clement Danes, Strand, is famous for its church music as well as for its bells, and ringers visiting London on Saturday will find that, following half-muffled ringing from 2 till 3 p.m., Mozart's 'Requiem' will be rendered with full orchestra. On Sunday afternoon, at 3.15 p.m., Rossini's 'Stabat Mater' will be performed. Particulars of the ringing on Saturday and Sunday will be found in our notice columns.

At a very large number of towers to-morrow the bells will be rung half-muffled in connection with 'Remembrance Day.' It is to be hoped that at no belfry where there is a company of ringers will this opportunity be passed by.

Mr. William Newell, of Reading, celebrated his 84th birthday on Wednesday, and is still active in ringing.

Mr. William Rock Small, the Tipton veteran, will be 83 on Sunday. Rheumatism, however, prevents him taking part in his favourite pastime, but he has a record which many may envy. He has rung 333 peals on 8, 10 and 12 bells.

Mr. Small's first peal (Treble Ten) was rung at Wednesbury on April 29th, 1866, the band being all natives of the town, and Mr. Small is the sole survival of that company.

Ringers throughout the Exercise will extend their congratulations and good wishes to both these fine old English gentlemen and 'brother strings.'

In connection with Mr. Small's birthday it is hoped to attempt peals in honour of the event in his favourite method (Stedman), both at Wednesbury (his birthplace) and at Tipton 'Pepper-Box' (the church where he has been a sidesman for many years) on the eve (Saturday) of his anniversary, the juniors at Tipton, and the seniors at Wednesbury.

'Congratulations to George of England,' writes 'Once a Beginner'; 'but on again reading your current Gossip, I am prepared to bet James a new bat that he never will succeed in turning Exeter "into" a peal of Maximus, even a Lloyd George couldn't.'

Among the early peals of Treble Twelve was 5,136 Oxford Treble Bob Maximus at Southwark, rung on November 10th, 1766, by the Society of Royal Cumberlands.

One of those rare old peal boards, whereon are recorded the figures, as well as other particulars of a noteworthy performance, is to be found in Huddersfield tower, and it gives the details of a 10,080 New Treble Bob Major (what is now known as Kent) rung on Nov. 13th, 1820.

Huddersfield in those days had a band who did great things, as things went then. The first peal of Superlative, as we recorded last week, was theirs. Cambridge and New Cambridge Surprise, Violet Treble Bob Major and Treble Bob Triples, were rung, and the first peal of Halifax Treble Bob, which, however, turned out afterwards to be false.

The first peal of 'Real Double Norwich' was rung at Woolwich on November 16th, 1848.

Jasper Whitfield Snowden died on Nov. 16th, 1885.

SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATION.

On Saturday, October 28th, several members of the Kent County Association and the Romney Marsh Guild accepted the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, of Howland House, Mersham, to celebrate their silver wedding. Meeting at the church at 3 o'clock several touches of Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples were rung till 5 p.m., when all adjourned to Howland House, where an excellent tea awaited them, about 20 sitting down. After tea a very pleasant evening was spent with change ringing on handbells, and songs and recitations. The 'Health of the Host and Hostess' was proposed, and all good wishes for the future extended to them, the hope being expressed that they may be spared to celebrate the golden number.—Mr. Thomas fittingly responded.—Some of the visitors accepted the invitation to stay the night, and rang Grandsire Triples for the Sunday morning service.

THE PEAL OF STEDMAN SEXTUPLES.

HISTORIC FIRST PERFORMANCE CELEBRATED.

A very interesting social gathering took place in Birmingham to celebrate the first peal ever rung on 14 bells, viz., 5,055 Stedman Sextuples, in 3 hours and 35 minutes, on handbells retained in hand by seven members of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham on June 24th last, which peal, with the composition, was duly recorded in 'The Ringing World.' A goodly company had been invited to meet, first in St. Martin's Church to hear touches of Stedman Sextuples rung by the peal band. Amongst those present in the tower were Messrs. J. Carter, W. Kent, J. George, F. Smallwood, J. White, T. Russam, A. Walker, P. O. Laffin, G. F. Swann, J. E. Groves, A. E. Norman, M. J. Morris and T. Bratton, and Mr. Albert Parsons, of Old Hill. General regret was expressed at the absence of the Presiding Ringing Master, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., B.C.L., who had a Masonic function to attend and could not possibly be present, but sent his very best wishes for an enjoyable evening.

Two courses of Stedman Sextuples were rung on handbells by T. Russam 1-2, A. Walker (conductor) 3-4, P. O. Laffin 5-6, G. F.

Cliff who rendered 'The Diver' in his very best style, the chorus being taken up 'again and again' by the whole company present. Selections on the handbells by Mr. E. Mansell's trio, with piano accompaniment, was also encored.

During the course of the evening, the Chairman said how very pleased he was to be present and take part in celebrating such an historic performance, and at having been privileged to hear a touch of Stedman Sextuples rung on 14 handbells earlier in the evening in St. Martin's tower with the bells in diatonic order as rung for the peal, and also another touch with the octave note to the 7th and tenor as substitute for the treble bell. He had, however, an open mind as to which was the better from the musical point of view, and hoped to hear more of it later, as in a touch with two courses only it was sometimes difficult to judge, and as in the case of from 10 to 12 the extra bells to 14 had to be got used to. But he was pleased to hear from those who heard the peal, especially the referee, that the peal was rung faultlessly, and that the music was grand.

Mr. Albert Walker, in responding, thanked the chairman for his

Swann 7-8, J. E. Groves 9-10, A. E. Norman 11-12, M. J. Morris 13-14. The extra bells required were in diatonic order, that is, assuming the tenor bell to be Key C, the treble bell is top B. Later, at Mr. A. Parsons' suggestion, a further touch was rung, using as a treble bell top C in place of B. Those who have a piano can illustrate this for themselves.

Afterwards the peal band, composer and referee were photographed, and a move made at 6.30 p.m. to the Guild's headquarters, the St. Martin's Hotel. Here the company was joined by Messrs. A. Paddon Smith, T. Reeves, G. Walker, G. Yendall, H. Withers, E. Mansell, A. T. Scrivens, and several others, and all sat down to an excellent meat tea, beautifully prepared and laid out by Host Spring and his good lady, who had excelled themselves in providing and doing everything possible to make everyone comfortable and happy.

After tea more friends, male and female, joined the company, which totalled 60, and with Mr. Albert Parsons unanimously voted to the chair an excellent programme of music was carried out, those who contributed being Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davies, Mr. A. Walker, Miss E. Knowles and Miss W. Walker, Messrs. V. Walker, H. Withers, G. Walker. Special mention must be made of Mr. Arthur very kind words, and to the company for their presence. He said that 14 bells being just one short of the two octaves, the order of the bells to be used in the peal had been carefully thought out. With different bells tried away from the diatonic scale there seemed to be something lacking, and it was decided to follow precedent and add trebles in the natural order as from 8 to 10, 10 to 12, and so 12 to 14, and they were all unanimous that was the proper thing to do.

A further touch of Stedman Sextuples was attempted during the evening, but unfortunately came to grief in the last course, the aforesaid 'diver' having done its work. Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to all those who had contributed to the success of the evening, and the proceedings terminated with 'The King.' A. W.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. A. T. KING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A letter of which the enclosed is a copy, is being addressed to the members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, asking for their subscriptions towards a fund which is being raised with the object of erecting a memorial to the late President of this Association. The letter gives full details of the scheme, which my committee hope will give general satisfaction.

Feeling that the very large number of friends of the late Arthur T. King will be glad to have an opportunity of identifying themselves with this memorial, my committee desire me to ask you to be good enough to insert the letter in 'The Ringing World.' As is well known, Mr. King's activities on behalf of ringers were not confined to the members of the Middlesex Association. For many years a member of the Central Council, he served on the Peals Analysis and other committees, and gave unstintingly of his time and energy. On no occasion could it be said that he was unwilling to give his best towards furthering the interests of ringers generally.

The sub-committee appointed to carry out the memorial schemes will, therefore, be glad to receive subscriptions from any of the late Mr. King's friends who may wish to join with the members of this Association in erecting these permanent records of their great appreciation of him, and trust the response will be a general one.

Thanking you, sir, for the space for this and the enclosed letter, Yours faithfully,

C. T. COLES.

Joint Hon. Sec., M.C.A. and L.D.G.

49, Wood Street, Walthamstow, E.17.

The letter above referred to, which is signed by Messrs. T. Beadle and F. A. Milne (District Vice-Presidents), and Messrs. C. T. Coles and W. H. Hollier (hon. secs.), is as follows:—

'In accordance with instructions received at the annual general meeting, your committee have considered the proposal to erect a memorial to the late Arthur T. King, who was for many years President of this Association, following on a long and faithful term of office as hon. secretary, during which the Association made its greatest progress.

'After careful consideration, it has been decided that the most fitting way in which his connection with this Association should be permanently recorded is by the erection of a marble or stone tablet in the Parish Church at Barnet; and, should funds permit, by placing a small tablet or peal-board in the belfry at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, recording the half-muffled peal rung on the day of his funeral. The main reasons which have prompted these decisions are that it was as a ringer at Barnet that our late president first became connected with the Association, and that he was for many years lay reader at that church. It is, therefore, considered appropriate that his connection with Barnet, as well as with this Association, should be recorded. It is also considered that as the half-muffled peal rung at Upper Clapton on March 30th was the only peal rung on the day of the funeral of our old friend, it is most fitting that this should be placed on record in the belfry.

'With these objects in view the necessary permission has been sought for and obtained from the Rectors and Parochial Councils of the two churches concerned, and your committee now appeal for your financial support to enable them to carry out the proposed schemes.

'A small sub-committee, consisting of the undersigned members of the Association, has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the work to be completed, and any of them will be glad to receive subscriptions, which will be duly acknowledged in "The Ringing World."

'A liberal response to this appeal is hoped for, so that the memorial to our late president may be a fitting one.'

BLACKROD BELLS RESTORED.

On Saturday last the bells of Blackrod, Lancs., were opened after renovation. This church stands on a very high hill, commanding a fine panoramic view of the Fylde district.

The six bells, with a tenor of about 12 cwt., were cast in 1786 by Chapman and Mears, of London, and have been going badly for the last few years. Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have now rehung them with modern fittings in an iron frame.

A special service was held, at which, after the blessing, the bells were rung for a few rounds by the local band. The Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee (President of the Lancashire Association) gave an eloquent address on the history, use and message of the bells, leaving a very deep impression on all who heard him.

A tea was provided for the visitors, at which the Vicar (the Rev. R. W. Gordon) took the opportunity to thank the ringers for the help they had given that day. Afterwards an exceedingly well struck 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung in 27 minutes by representatives of the Lancashire Association, viz.: George Pincott (Bolton Parish) 1, Joseph Leatherbarrow (Newchurch) 2, Ben Knights (Chesterfield) 3, Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee (Bolton St. George's) 4, John Potter (Walkden), conductor, 5, Ernest Cutsforth (Doane) 6. Subsequently the bells were kept going in various methods, and everybody voted the work done by the Loughborough firm a first class job.

FIRST PEAL OF CATERS IN SOMERSET.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—'Belfry Gossip' this week states that the first peal of Stedman Caters was rung at St. Mary's Church, Taunton, by members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild on the occasion of the opening of the peal of ten on June 25th, 1885. On page 53 of his book, 'Among the Bells,' the late Rev. F. E. Robinson says:

A band of the Oxford Guild visited Taunton, Somerset, on June 25th, 1885, at the opening of the augmented peal of ten bells, the trebles having been made by Messrs. Taylor, and the tenor, a grand bell, by George Mears and Co., cast in 1861. We rang a peal of Stedman Caters (5,079 changes), in 3 hours and 22 minutes. The peal, however, turned out to be false, and was, therefore, excluded from the Guild report, but meanwhile one of the band, without my sanction, sent it to the 'Bell News' for publication. I failed in my duty by not publicly retracting it at the time, but the matter cropping up again seven years afterwards, I then made amends by the following letter in the 'Bell News' of March 26th, 1892, headed 'A Lenten Confession':—

'Sir,—The present season being the proper time for penitential acts, I write to acknowledge my error in the matter of ringing at St. Mary's, Taunton, in June, 1885. Having sufficient reason for denying it a place as a peal in our Guild report, I ought also to have disowned it when it appeared in your paper under that description. This, however, I failed to do, and for this neglect of duty I now express my regret.'

I believe after the Rev. F. E. Robinson made this confession he always refrained from peal ringing during Lent. The first peal of Stedman Caters in Somerset was rung on Wells Cathedral bells, on November 4th, 1891, in 3 hours 57 minutes, by F. White 1, G. H. Phillott 2, C. Houslow 3, T. Blackburn 4, the Rev. H. A. Cockey 5, the Rev. F. E. Robinson 6, W. W. Gifford 7, J. Hinton 8, R. T. Hibbert 9, J. W. Washbrook and W. Greenleaf 10. Composed and conducted by J. W. Washbrook. I hope, sir, you will find space for this, as it will once and for all settle this question.—Yours, etc.,

Taunton.

JAMES HUNT.

The particulars, which we gave last week, were extracted from the 'Bell News,' but the withdrawal, which came seven years later, was overlooked. Mr. Hunt informs us that the College Youths, Exeter and Taunton men, rang the first true peal on the ten (Grandsire Caters), and the first peal of Stedman Caters was rung by local men.

SOMERSET CHURCH TOWERS.*REV. C. C. PARKER REPLIES TO PREBENDARY FARRER'S ALLEGATION.

The Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association (the Rev. C. C. Parker), who is Rector of Corston, contributes to the current issue of the 'Diocesan Gazette' an appeal for the encouragement of bell ringing, and expresses doubt concerning the recent allegation (made by Prebendary Farrer) that church bells are responsible for the disrepair of towers. Mr. Parker adds: 'I think such instances are exceedingly rare, while, on the other hand, there would be little difficulty in finding many cases where the addition of bells has been accompanied by the strengthening and thorough repair of towers. In my own parish there was a large bell hung in a frame in a dilapidated condition, and when rung a menace to the walls of the tower, but now, with eight bells hung in a scientifically built frame, and the tower repaired, there is practically no danger of damage to its stability.'

Change ringers, the Rector of Corston continues, are far from being indifferent to the care of the tower. He concludes by observing: 'I regard it as a grave error to discourage in any way the enthusiasm of change ringers. Their associations have raised the morale and tone of ringers throughout the country, and their work has been a true work for God and His church. If for the glory of God and the exercise of greater efficiency in their art, a band of ringers seek with their incumbent to increase the number of their bells, all honour to them; their aim should not be lightly condemned or thwarted. The church towers of Somerset are the glory of Somerset, but the bells are the glory of the towers, and the more beautiful we can make them to the ear, as well as to the eye, the more will their value be enhanced.'

The letter which Major J. H. B. Hesse addressed to Prebendary Farrer, showing how modern bell hanging can strengthen a tower, instead of leading to damage of the fabric, has brought a very nice reply. It points to Prebendary Farrer having become really interested in the right direction, and he is now studying Sir Arthur Heywood's book, 'Bell Towers and Bell Hanging.'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.*DEVIZES BRANCH VISIT WESTBURY.

A quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Westbury on Saturday, October 7th, and was well attended by ringers from Bristol, Frome, Weymouth, Salisbury, Wells, Chippenham, Swindon, Melksham, Trowbridge, Bradford-on-Avon, Devizes, Warminster, Holt, Bratton, Keevil, Rowde and Westbury. The massive peal (tenor 35 cwt.) was rung at 2.40, and the bells kept going in various methods till 4.40, when the company assembled in the church for the Guild service. This was conducted by the Rev. C. F. Burrell, as the Vicar, the Rev. E. C. Alexander was unable to be present. The grand old church was beautifully decorated for the harvest festival services on the morrow, and the Guild service, following the deep music of the bells, was most impressive.

Tea, to which nearly 50 sat down, was followed by the business meeting.

The Chairman (Mr. C. D. Heginbotham) extended a hearty welcome to the visiting ringers.

The Secretary reported that £2 5s. 6d. had been collected in the branch, and forwarded to Mr. L. Harris, Salisbury, towards the W. W. Gifford Memorial Fund, and 10s. had been received that day, which would make a total of £2 15s. 6d.

One new life ringing member, Mr. H. J. Scammell, of Frome, and two ringing members, Messrs. P. Chapman and W. G. Holloway, of Westbury, were elected to the Guild.

The next three meetings were decided upon as follows: Rowde and Bromham, on Nov. 4th; Bradford-on-Avon, Dec. 2nd; and the annual at Devizes on Jan. 6th.

The Chairman reported that the course of instruction in change ringing granted by the Guild to the Bratton ringers was completed.

—Mr. B. Cook, secretary to the Bratton company, said they were well satisfied with the course of instruction given, and they all very much appreciated the kindness and care of the instructor, Mr. S. J. Hector, Trowbridge, as a result of which they rang their first 120 Grandfire Doubles unaided for harvest festival services the previous Sunday.

Mr. C. H. Jennings, Sec., Dorchester Branch; Mr. W. A. Cave, St. Stephen's, Bristol; Mr. A. W. Seviour, St. James', Bristol, each thanked Mr. Heginbotham for his welcome, and expressed their pleasure in being present at such a successful branch meeting, and in being enabled to ring on such a fine peal of bells.—Mr. F. Romaine and Mr. C. Mountford, of the Salisbury branch, also expressed the hope that their own branch would soon wake up, no meetings having been held for a very long time.

The Rev. C. F. Burrell was heartily thanked for conducting the service, and the Vicar for the use of the bells, etc., to which the Rev. Burrell suitably replied.—The ringers adjourned to the tower, and some good touches of Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandfire Triples were rung.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*NORTHERN DIVISION.

By the kind permission of the Rev. A. J. Walker, Vicar of Malton, the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association held their quarterly meeting at Malton on Saturday, Oct. 21st. Although the meeting was not a very large one, the visiting ringers made good use of the privilege afforded them, and during the afternoon and evening the fine peal of eight bells were kept going in various touches of the more popular methods. A short service was held in the church, at which the Rev. A. J. Walker, who is an honorary member of the association, addressed the ringers, extending to them a hearty welcome to the tower, and expressing his appreciation of the work of bell ringers.

Tea was provided at Clark's Cafe, followed by a business meeting, presided over by Mr. Bourne, churchwarden of the Parish Church, Scarborough, in the absence of the Rev. E. Drage, Vicar of Pickering, and vice-president of the association.

Armistice Day, being this year on a Saturday, it was decided that a peal be attempted at the Parish Church, Scarborough, in commemoration of this event.

The visiting ringers greatly regretted the absence of the Malton ringers, both at tea and the meeting, as they had hoped, by holding the meeting at Malton, to elicit their help and gain their interest in the work of the association.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Rev. A. J. Walker for his kindly welcome and the ready help he is always ready to extend to the ringers.

PRESENTATIONS AT GLOUCESTER.*DEPARTURE OF CAPT. A. A. BENNETT.

A well-attended meeting of the Gloucester and District Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held on Saturday week in the parish of St. Mary de Lode. Proceedings commenced with a short service in the church, at which Captain A. A. Bennett, of the Church Army, late hon. secretary of the branch, gave a very helpful and appropriate address, based on Genesis i. 1.

Following the service the company adjourned to St. Catharine's School Room, where a capital tea had been provided by Mrs. Bennett and friends, to which those assembled (40 in number) did full justice. At the business meeting the chairman of the branch (Mr. Walter B. Wood) presided, and after various routine matters had been disposed of, the Chairman announced that the special object of the meeting was to say farewell and bid godspeed to Captain and Mrs. Bennett, who were shortly leaving to take up a fresh sphere of work in New Zealand. They did so with very great regret, for their presence among them would be very greatly missed. The Association, however, would ever remember their kindly and genial influence, and more especially the splendid and successful manner in which Captain Bennett had furthered the interest of the branch during his term of office. He (the chairman) had the greatest possible pleasure in asking Captain Bennett's acceptance of a watch, suitably inscribed, and Mrs. Bennett's acceptance of a book of 'Sketches of Old Gloucester,' remarking that although the gifts were small, many of the subscribers being only working men and some out of work, they conveyed the heartiest good wishes of the members of the Association.

Captain Bennett, in returning thanks on behalf of Mrs. Bennett and himself, said it came as a very great surprise to know that their small services had been so greatly appreciated, but the knowledge of this fact gave them the greatest satisfaction, and they would always remember in the far-off country to which they were going their many happy associations with the Gloucester ringers.

BLETCHLEY RINGERS' OUTING.

The ringers of St. Mary's, Bletchley, had their annual outing on Saturday, October 14th, in the neighbourhood of Reading. Mr. R. T. Hibbert, the hon. secretary of the Oxford Guild, had made the arrangements in his district, and met the party of twelve upon their arrival at the Biscuit town at 10.30 a.m. Caversham tower was the first objective, and here the visitors were greeted by the Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), and other Caversham ringers, viz., Mr. A. D. Cullam, Mr. Menday and Miss Davis. Several touches were rung, and then the party adjourned to dinner, an ample meal which had been provided by Mr. and Mrs. Hibbert, and over which the Master presided. The afternoon was occupied by a car run to Sonning and Shiplake, at both of which villages ringing was indulged in, and places of note visited. After tea, at Caversham, another visit was paid to the tower, and touches in various methods, including Superlative and Cambridge Surprise, were rung. After a social hour with local friends, train was taken at 10 p.m., and Bletchley reached at 1.15 on Sunday morning. Thanks were extended to Mrs. Hibbert, who was responsible for the catering, and to all those who helped to provide such an enjoyable day.

DEATH OF A BICESTER RINGER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. R. Neal, who was for many years a ringer at Bicester. Deceased was an active member of the band until a 'stroke' prevented him taking any further part in ringing. Afterwards he moved to Birmingham, where he died. His body was brought to Bicester on Friday week for interment on the following day, and at the service a course of Triples was rung over the grave by F. Neal 1—2, E. Hims 3—4, B. Cox 5, J. Grimsley 6, E. A. Clifton 7—8. After the service a touch was rung on the bells, which were half-muffled, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Triples were rung by E. A. Clifton 1, R. Elkerton 2, J. Grimsley 3, F. Neal 4, B. Cox 5, F. Sharpe 6, E. Hims 7, T. Clifton 8.

A STEP FORWARD.

The Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association came to an important decision at their annual meeting, when a resolution was passed binding the Association to accept the rulings of the Central Council. As far as memory serves, this is only the second resolution of the kind which has been passed, a similar rule having been introduced by the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, when the constitution was drawn up a few months ago. This action on the part of affiliated societies is a step in the right direction, in forming a stronger link between the central body and those organisations by which it is elected.

Hitherto the Central Council has been a body too detached to be looked upon by the County and Diocesan Associations and Guilds as a really paramount authority in ringing affairs, and it was only three or four years ago, that an effort was made to ascertain from the associations whether they were prepared to accept the decisions of the Council as binding. Of those who expressed an opinion, the majority were against taking this line, largely because the Council would have no practical way of enforcing its views. And by that line of argument, they were right in the attitude which they took up. On the other hand, so weak was the connecting link between the Council and the associations, that more than half failed to take any action upon the matter, which, after all, was an important one. That the decision not to give the Council powers which it could not enforce would have been reversed, had all the affiliated societies come to a decision, is hardly to be supposed, but the action which the two associations above mentioned have taken, opens up the question from an entirely different standpoint.

If all the societies were to come to a like decision, and of their own volition resolve to accept the Council's rulings as final and binding, remembering all the while that the individual organisations themselves elect the men to make these decisions, then much will be done to make the Council the real force in ringing that it should be. The Council ought to be in reality, instead of merely in name, the central authority to deal with ringing matters and the final Court of Appeal in questions of dispute. That it is not so accepted universally is because there has been no binding tie between them, and also because, it must be assumed, the associations have not sufficient confidence in the men they elect. If the other organisations will follow the lead which has now been given, and individually undertake to accept the Council's decisions, it will give the central body that prestige and authority which it ought to hold, and impose upon the associations the responsibility of electing to represent them their best men and those in whom they have confidence.

THE SUGGESTED 'FEDERATION' IN SUFFOLK NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY AND IPSWICH SECRETARY'S REPLY.

The general secretary of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, Mr. Arthur L. Coleman, asks us to print the following copy of memorandum addressed to him in a letter dated January 3rd, 1922. This memorandum is signed by the Rev. Francis L'Strange Fawcett, and endorsed by the Rev. H. Drake. Mr. Coleman adds that further comment appears unnecessary upon the statement that appeared in the report of the meeting of the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association in our last issue:

COPY OF MEMORANDUM.

RE S.D.A. SCHEME OF FEDERATION.

Points suggested at the meeting of the Suffolk Diocesan Change Ringing Association held at Stowmarket, on Saturday, December 10th, 1921:—

- (1) Two separate associations for Norfolk and Suffolk, i.e.,
  - (a) One for the Diocese of Norwich
  - (b) One for the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich.
- (2) The Norwich and Ipswich Association to hand over their East Suffolk members to the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association.
- (3) The Norwich and Ipswich Association to change their title or * revert to their old title, the Norwich Diocesan Change Ringing Association.

* I am not sure that I mentioned the word 'revert'—but if your association was once known as the Norwich Diocesan Change Ringing Association, and later on added the East Suffolk and Ipswich Branch—then certainly 'revert' is the correct word.
- (4) The two associations to federate and hold at least one yearly and friendly meeting.
- (5) Representatives from the Norwich and Ipswich Association and from the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association shall be appointed and meet to go into details re 'Federation' as per the motion passed at the meeting of the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association on December 10th, 1921, at Stowmarket.

Note.—The Deanery of Lothingland, in the county of Suffolk, not being in the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, is not included in the operations of the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Change Ringing Association.

(Signed) F. L'STRANGE FAWCETT,

Vicar and Rural Dean of Stowmarket.

(Signed) H. DRAKE, Rector of Ufford.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the N. and E. District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, held at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, on Saturday, November 4th, was attended by over 30 members, who were given good and varied entertainment, and appeared to greatly enjoy the outing. Ringing commenced shortly after three o'clock, and touches in several methods, including London and Cambridge Surprise, Stedman and Double Norwich, were indulged in until 5 p.m., when a short service was held.—The Vicar, the Rev. O. R. Dawson, who gave the association a hearty welcome, addressed the ringers on the subject of their services to God. He urged his hearers to give of their best, both in ringing and in all things.

After the service, tea was served in St. Matthew's Schools, followed by the usual business meeting.—The Chairman (Mr. F. A. Milne) drew the attention of the members to the proposed schemes for a memorial to the late President of the Association.—The Hon. Secretary read the letter which was being circulated amongst the members (and which has already appeared in 'The Ringing World'), and asked for the best support that was possible to be given. The chairman very generously headed the subscription list with the sum of £5, and it is to be hoped that members and friends of the association will do their utmost to enable the committee to carry out the proposed schemes in their entirety.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Stanmore on December 16th, if the bells, which were being augmented to eight, were finished by that date. Failing that, Cubitt Town was chosen.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rev. O. R. Dawson for his address at the service, and for the use of the bells; also to the Rev. T. G. Pearson, curate-in-charge at St. John's, Hackney, for his permission for the bells at that church to be rung.

Thanks were also given to Mrs. W. J. Kemp and friends for so kindly arranging tea; and to the local ringers at Clapton, and Mr. H. A. Alford at Hackney, for having the bells in readiness.

A visit was paid to St. John's, Hackney, after the meeting, and good use was made of the bells at that church, touches of Stedman and Treble Bob and courses of Bristol and Superlative Surprise being rung.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The anniversary of two first peals at St. Giles', Norwich, occurs to-day. On November 17th, 1760, the first peal of Imperial Treble Bob Major was rung on these bells, and immediately after the peal was finished, John Webster, the ringer of the 6th, dropped dead.

In the year 1835, on the same day, the first peal of London Surprise was rung on these bells.

Forty years ago to-morrow, the Burton men rang 7,200 Double Norwich at Beeston, Notts. This, at the time, was the record length in the method.

The first peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Martin's, Birmingham, was rung on November 19th, 1758.

On November 20th, 1886, at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, the first 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples was rung.

One of the first 'family' peals was rung on November 20th, 1809, when eight Tebbits scored a peal of 5,208 Oxford Treble Bob Major.

Mr. Benjamin Foskett, the 'father' of the Cumberlands, is another ringer who took part in his own golden wedding peal. This was Stedman Cinques at Shoreditch. The veteran has rung several peals since then, and is still 'going strong.'

As a feat of concentration and endurance, Mr. A. T. Morris, of Harwich, has added to his reputation by tapping 10,848 of Bob Major in five hours two minutes.

Mr. P. Nuttall, of the Parish Church, Bolton, completed 40 years' service as a ringer there on Sunday week.

The first peal at Ludlow, Salop, by a local band was rung for Armistice Day. The nearest approach to this performance was in 1889, when all but one of the ringers in the peal were Ludlow men, the conductor being Mr. J. E. Groves, of Birmingham.

The first peal of London Surprise in the city of Worcester was rung on Saturday, and is a noteworthy performance. It was the first peal in the method by all the band with one exception, and is another evidence of the enthusiasm of the company there, under the Master of the Worcestershire Association. It was first attempted in honour of his 61st birthday on Sept. 23rd, and at the conclusion of Saturday's performance several interested listeners congratulated the band upon their success and the good quality of the ringing.

North Wingfield bells, which have been overhauled and hung on ball bearings by Messrs. Taylor and Co., who have also recast the tenor, were opened on Saturday.

On Armistice Day also, the six bells at West Hallam, Derbyshire, which Messrs. Taylor and Co. have recast and hung in a frame for eight, were dedicated.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have recast and augmented to eight the bells at Moretonhampstead Church, Devon. They are to be dedicated on Friday evening, Nov. 24th.

Two troubles have been added, two bells recast, the whole eight hung in modern fittings at Bingham Church, Notts. The work was carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and the bells were dedicated on All Saints' Day.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have also completed the rechanging of Durham Cathedral bells.

The report of a peal at Pentre Rhondda has been sent without the name of the conductor.

ST. MARTIN'S-IN-THE-FIELDS. FAMOUS BELLS RESTORED.

On Saturday last the bells of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Square, London, were reopened after rehauling, and by common consent the church now possesses one of the finest equipped peals of 12 in the country. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and the Whitechapel firm have made a really splendid job of this famous peal. The bells were heavily corroded, and have been cleaned off and the bells tuned. They have also been rehung with entirely new and modern fittings in a cast-iron frame work on a steel girder foundation, of similar type to that just completed at St. Mary's, Taunton. The twelve bells are now hung upon one level, and the even clappering was remarked upon. The tenor at St. Martin's is 30 cwt, 1 qr, 20 lb.

The reopening on Saturday was a very quiet ceremony. The Rector (the Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard), accompanied by the churchwardens and architect (Mr. E. Brantwood Maufe), ascended the tower, where the Rector offered the Dedictory prayers. Then followed two courses of Stedman Cinques by a band of the Royal Cumberland Youths, conducted by Mr. John D. Matthews, Master.

The Vicar welcomed the ringers back to the tower, and said how greatly the message of the bells had been missed by all during their compulsory silence.

The Master, on behalf of the society, thanked the Rector and the churchwardens for the great interest they had taken in the work of the ringers, and for having the bells put in such fine order. He added they could not help feeling, with such a Rector behind them, that they really were an essential part of the church, as indeed they should be.

Ringings took place up to 5 p.m. in various methods, and visitors to London over the week-end were offered the use of the bells for Sunday evening service.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' ANNIVERSARY DINNER.

A RECORD GATHERING.

The Ancient Society of College Youths celebrated their 285th anniversary on Saturday with a gathering which proved a record in numbers. During the afternoon ringers assembled from many parts of England, and enjoyed the opportunity of touches on several peals of bells in the city. A company of 160 assembled in the evening at the Talbot Restaurant, London Wall, and partook of a splendid repast. The chair was taken by the Master (Mr. George R. Fardon), who was supported at the head of the table by Canon Coleridge (President of the Central Council), Canon Haldane (Southwark Cathedral), the Rev. J. H. Ellison (St. Michael's, Cornhill), the Rev. H. J. Fynes-Clinton (St. Magnus), the Rev. Frebendary Isaacs (Cripplegate), the Rev. B. S. Simpson (Stepney), the Rev. W. Pennington Bickford (St. Clement Danes), the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Mr. W. T. Cockerill (hon. secretary), Mr. E. A. Young (hon. secretary, Central Council), and Mr. W. Skitner (St. Paul's). Among those also present were Messrs. H. J. Walton (vice-chairman), A. A. Hughes (treasurer of the society), J. O. F. Bayley and W. E. Garrard (stewards), C. F. Winney and Walter Prime (trustees), Major J. H. B. Heshe (Haslemere), Capt. F. A. Yorko, Mrs. Wilkins and Mr. A. E. Wilkins, Messrs. W. A. Cave (Bristol), A. I. Smith (hon. secretary, St. Martin's, Guild, Birmingham), A. Walker, J. E. Groves and J. F. Smallwood (Birmingham), C. H. Howard (Master, Essex Association), G. Bowen (Ilfracombe), W. Wakley (Exmouth), J. W. Jones (hon. secretary, Llandaff and Monmouth Association), R. T. Hibbert (hon. secretary, Oxford Diocesan Guild), and members of the Caversham band, C. Dean (hon. secretary, Surrey Association), Pryce Taylor (Loughborough), F. Smith (Royal Cumberlands), J. Carter (Honor Oak), J. T. Dyke (Midsomer Norton), J. D. Harris (Portsmouth), W. T. Pates (Cheltenham), J. Wyatt and J. Hoyle (Ashted), T. Beadle (vice-president, Middlesex Association), W. J. Nevard (Great Bentley), J. Thomas and W. J. Hazell (Edmonton), T. Groombridge and T. Groombridge, junr. (Chislehurst), G. N. Price, E. C. Goldsmith, J. S. Goldsmith, W. D. Smith (Eastbourne), G. Hoad (Reigate), T. Faulkner and members of the band from Barking, Essex, and ringers from many of the towers in London and the suburbs.

After dinner the toast of 'The King' was enthusiastically honoured.

The Master proposed the toast of 'The Church.' The Church, he said, was still pursuing the work which it had carried on for centuries past. The Church was responsible for their position to-day without it, he feared, they would be little better than savages. From their infancy it taught them the sacred scriptures that ruled and governed their lives, taught them right from wrong, and imprinted on their minds those true Christian virtues of faith, hope and charity, making them better children, better parents, and giving them brighter homes. The Church was also responsible, in a great measure for their commercial education; had it not been for the early activities of the Church their education would not have been what it was to-day. The Church, too, was responsible for some of their most beautiful buildings; their abbeys and cathedrals, some of which had stood for a thousand years, and still remained monuments of history, wisdom, strength and beauty. The Church had unquestionably been the pioneer of civilisation, education and architecture. They (the ringers) were proud to have among them that night so many clerical representatives of the Church (applause).

RINGERS AND PAROCHIAL COUNCILS.

Canon Coleridge replied to the toast. He pointed out that that night they were keeping the 285th anniversary of their society, but the Church went back sixteen hundred years beyond that. It was a very important thing for them to remember that one great society, which their Lord and Master founded in the days of His flesh upon earth, had been instinct with life from the year 33 up to the present time, and, according to His promise, would be instinct with life to the end of all time. The Chairman had spoken of what the Church had done, and it was quite true. If there had been no Church in all probability there would have been no Parliament; certainly the Church housed the Parliament for a great many years when Parliament was first set up. It was responsible for their early education, and he trusted the Church would have a hand in education to the end of time (hear, hear). Many of them knew that great changes were impending whereby what was known as the dual system of elementary education was to be exchanged for one system. They (the ringers) all knew what they did in the towers, but he wanted to know what they as ringers were doing on their parochial church councils? This was an important thing nowadays. What happened when a certain matter with regard to ringing occurred in the Parochial Church Councils' Measure before the National Assembly? There was only one man in all that Assembly who was competent to squash the proposal, which was that ringers should be appointed by the parochial councils instead of by the incumbents. That one man was Canon Baker, President of the Bedfordshire Association (applause). He was ready to do it, but fortunately there was a layman, Lord Phillimore, who upon other grounds succeeded in squashing that iniquitous proposal (hear, hear). So far as he (the speaker) knew there was not now a practical ringer in the National Assembly. Canon Baker was no longer a Proctor for his diocese, and whether he might be elected, or was even going to stand for election as Proctor, he did not know. It would be a serious thing for ringers if they were not represented in the National Assembly. Whose fault would it be? They might say that the members of the National Assembly were elected by the Diocesan Conferences. That was quite true, but who elected the Diocesan Conferences? The Ruri-Decanal Conferences, who in turn were elected by the Parochial Church Councils. Therefore, he said, it was important that every Church tower should be thoroughly represented upon these Parochial Church Councils. Many things would crop up in every parish where there were bells which would want settling, and were certain to be settled in the wrong way unless there was a ringer present. If they were properly represented in the Parochial Councils they might be properly represented in the Ruri-Decanal Conferences, the Diocesan Conferences and the National Assembly. By the establishment of the Church Councils the Church, he believed, was becoming stronger than ever she was (hear, hear). That was his experience as Rural Dean. The Councils had done great things in a short time. What was the first thing they did in his own parish? They said, 'Vicar, you don't get enough screw.' He replied, 'Well, I don't' (laughter). In the first twelve months they increased the value of the living by £40, and they were going to increase it by another £40 by the end of May (hear, hear). They said to him one day, 'Look here, Vicar, you gave out the wrong text on Sunday.' He said, 'Yes, I did. I am getting old, and I can't see in the Church' (laughter). 'Exactly,' they said, 'and we must have a better light. We can't have electric light, but we can put in gas. Will you ask for the money?' Accordingly he preached two sermons on the subject. In the morning he took his text, 'We look for brightness, but behold obscurity' (laughter). His evening text came most appropriately in the Psalms for the day, 'They have eyes and see not' (laughter). He could not very well add, 'They have noses and smell not,' for the oil lamps smelt abominably (laughter). He asked them for £68, and he got ten shillings more than that, and it was because the Parochial Church Council asked for it. Now they wanted to improve the heating. He mentioned this to show what a Parochial Council could do. The Parochial Councils, well represented from the ringing point of view, could do great things, not only in the body of the Church, but in the tower as well (applause).

GOOD FELLOWSHIP AND GOOD RINGING.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn submitted 'The Ancient Society of College Youths.' It was, he said, when he was eighteen years old that he first joined that society. He had heard about it far away in the country village when he first began ringing as a mere lad, but he did not know what a really great society it was until he went to Cambridge and was told about it by Mr. Boughey and other friends who were members. They put him in the way of joining, and in due time he received his certificate, which still hung in his study at home—that certificate depicting a lovely lady reclining on a cloud, with her elbow on a bell and looking in imminent danger of falling into the Thames below (laughter). Then when he became ordained and went into the Oxford Diocese he found himself among members of the College Youths, and there was a very strong link between that Diocese and the Ancient Society, a link which had been cemented more strongly during the year by ringing together the longest peal that had ever been rung on any number of bells (applause)—on April 22nd, 21,363 changes in 12 hours and twenty-five minutes. With regard to that, he had to say that he heard a considerable amount of the ringing, and the ringing, as Canon Coleridge could bear him out, was of a very high character throughout (applause). That society, continued Mr. Jenkyn, went back a very long way. It was founded in 1637, in the days when the great Laud, who first of all was Bishop of London and then Archbishop of Canterbury, and he wondered whether it was as the result of the atmosphere of the time was so keen upon his disciplinary measures, ecclesiastical and moral, that this society was, as it were, brought to its birth. It contained, as they knew, on its books or in its archives, many good rules that had to do with discipline, such, for instance, as that which said they must not pick a quarrel with anybody in the clubroom, unless they paid sixpence. If one proved refractory he could be expelled. He (the speaker) could understand that in those early days his going would be somewhat hastened (laughter). The society had stood for good fellowship, and when he said it 'had stood,' he meant that it stood now, and, he believed, it always would stand for good fellowship (applause). As librarian of the Central Council, it was his privilege to keep and safeguard various documents of interest to the Exercise at large. He was looking over some the other day, and he found an account of what was known as the Rambling Club of Ringers, most of whom were members of that Ancient Society. Their hobby was to visit certain towers. They did not seem to go very far afield, though they once had a voyage to the Isle of Sheppey. These outings were described in more or less humorous strain. On one occasion they rang 720 Morning Exercise on the biggest bells at Christ Church, Spitalfields. That was on Friday, December 27th, 1734, and after they had done their ringing they adjourned to some hostelry and there partook of supper. They had always described the suppers at greater or less length, and this one was described at great length. The principal dish was two legs of mutton, stuffed with pickled herrings, the recipe for cooking which was fully set out. This was read by Mr. Jenkyn and caused great amusement. Continuing, the speaker said the society 'not only stood for good fellowship, but it also stood for good ringing (applause). That did not mean that no member of the College Youths ever rang badly (laughter). What was a good ringer? He was thinking that out to himself the other evening on his way back from one of the long expeditions to one of their country branches, which he had the privilege of making with one well known to them, Mr. Tom Hibbert. On these expeditions they sometimes went for miles and talked, and sometimes went for miles and didn't talk (laughter). Then, he supposed, they thought. The definition which occurred to him of a good ringer, was a ringer who knew when he made a bad blow and wanted to kick himself for doing it (applause). Proceeding, he said he would have said something that evening with special reference to holding that gathering on Armistice Day, but there was an Memoriam toast on the list, and he would, therefore, leave the subject in other hands, except that he would like to make mention of one member whom he was privileged to meet once or twice overseas, and whom he saw and walked with not many days before he was killed—he referred to Frederick Hardy. He took part in the first three peals which he (Mr. Jenkyn) had the honour of ringing for that society. The speaker added that when a thing was suggested to their thoughts it was characteristic of human nature that certain names, or at least one name, came prominently before them. If they talked of cricket, an old stager like himself thought immediately of the name of Grace, if it was poetry he began to think at once of Tennyson, and when they thought of the College Youths, although there had been many great Masters, and there was a good succession of Masters still to come, the name that always suggested itself to him was the name of Cockerill (applause). He seemed to him (the speaker) to be the very embodiment of all that the society stood for (hear, hear). He was a man whom they all admired for his ringing, whom they admired for his great powers as a secretary, and whom they admired, perhaps most of all, as a man (applause).

The toast having been honoured, a fine course of Stedman Cinques was rung on handbells by Messrs. A. P. Smith, A. Walker, J. E. Groves, J. F. Smallwood, J. Thomas, and W. A. Cave.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD. MAYORAL WELCOME TO RYE.

Between twenty and thirty members of the above society attended the November meeting at Rye, Sussex, on the first Saturday in the month. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Curd and their daughter kindly entertained the party to tea at Thompson's Bakery. The members had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of the new Vicar (the Rev. Canon J. Fowler), who presided at the tea and business meeting. The Mayor of Rye (Councillor J. L. Deacon) was also present, and owing to the Vicar having to leave early, occupied the chair at the latter portion of the business meeting.

Great Chart was selected for the December meeting, to take place on the first Saturday in the month.

The Vicar extended a hearty welcome to the members, and the Mayor addressed the meeting at some length, his speech being of a very interesting and instructive character.

Mr. J. B. Bennett added a few kindly words of welcome on behalf of the Rye ringers, and the speeches of these three gentlemen emphasised the cordiality of the reception of the Guild in the ancient town.

Great applause greeted the announcement that the Vicar and Mayor had decided to give their patronage to the society.

Very hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar and Mayor, and to Mr. and Mrs. Curd and their daughter for entertaining the party.

Good practice in Grandsire, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Stedman was obtained on the bells of the Parish Church. Ringing also took place on the following morning, for Mr. and Mrs. Curd further extended their kindness by entertaining three of the party for the week-end.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION. AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The 45th annual meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held on Saturday, October 28th, in Newcastle. All the bells in Newcastle and St. Mary's, Gateshead, were kindly placed at the disposal of the ringers for the day by the respective Vicars. Owing to the committee meeting at noon, the service in the Cathedral at 1 o'clock and dinner at 2 p.m., followed by the general meeting, which lasted until after 5 o'clock, very little ringing could be indulged in, however, until the evening.

The Vicar of Newcastle (the Rev. Canon Newsom) conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. F. L. Cuttall, Vicar of Whitley Bay. A very interesting and instructive address was given by the Rev. Canon Boor, Vicar of St. George's, Jesmond.

Dinner was served at the Collingwood Restaurant, 89 sitting down. Mr. Story (the president) was in the chair, and was supported by the Vicar of Newcastle (Canon Newsom), Canon Boor, the Rev. H. S. Stephenson (Rector of Gateshead), the Revs. H. Beirff (Vicar of Wylam), G. Hinchliffe (Vicar of All Saints', Wye), F. L. Cuttall (Vicar of Whitley Bay), the Rev. A. Simpson, President of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, Mr. W. Ellis, the Cathedral organist (who kindly presided at the organ at the service), Messrs. C. L. Routledge, G. W. Park, J. W. Parker, W. Newton, of St. Thomas', Stockton (who, with Mr. T. Stephenson, of the same tower, is the oldest member of the association, having been elected in 1877), E. E. Ferry, hon. secretary, and many other well-known ringers, representing a large number of towers.

Letters of apology for absence were read from Mr. T. R. Richardson, of St. Michael's, Bishopwearmouth, regretting none of their ringers could attend, also from Mr. Bert Horton, and a 'phone message from the Rev. C. F. Knyvett (Vicar of Benwell) to say he was sorry three weddings prevented his being present. A paragraph from a letter from Mr. B. C. Dixon wishing the association a good meeting was read by Mr. Richards, to whom the letter was written.

After 'The King' had been duly honoured, Mr. Story, in a suitable speech, proposed the toast of the Bishops and clergy of the two dioceses, and thanked Canon Newsom for conducting the service, Canon Boor for the address, and Mr. Ellis for presiding at the organ. Canon Newsom, in responding, said how glad he was to welcome the association to the Cathedral. He said he was very sorry he had to wait two years before he could do so again, for he wished the annual meeting was held in Newcastle each year. He assured the association of a hearty welcome at all times.

Canon Boor, in a happy little speech, thanked Mr. Story for the kind words he had used, and referred to the days when he was Vicar of St. John's, Darlington. St. George's bells, he said, were always at the disposal of the association.

A vote of thanks to the Vicars and wardens for the use of the bells was proposed by the chairman, and carried by acclamation.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. E. E. Ferry) then presented the balance sheet, which showed a credit balance of £8 10s. 11d.; and read his annual report. Reference was made in this to the loss the association had sustained during the year, by the death of two respected members, Mr. J. G. Green and Mr. A. Dalton.

SUNDAY SERVICE AND PEAL PERFORMANCES.

The Sunday service ringing returns showed that Whitley Bay came first with 2,396 points; St. Ignatius, Sunderland, second with 1,996 points; Newcastle Cathedral third with 803 points. Of the six bell towers Holy Trinity, Darlington, took first place with 295 points; Newburn second with 274 points, and Benfieldside third with 254 points. Whitley Bay were congratulated upon their brilliant ringing throughout the year, practically the whole of the ringing having been in the methods of London, Cambridge, Bristol and Premier Surprise.

Another achievement was the peal of real Double Superlative Surprise Major rung at St. Ignatius, Sunderland, the first ever accomplished. It was composed by Mr. J. W. Parker, and conducted by Mr. W. H. Barker, four of the brothers Gofton taking part. Twenty-seven peals had been rung by the association during the year, mostly in Surprise methods.

The President moved the adoption of the report and balance sheet.—This was seconded by Mr. C. L. Routledge, the motion being carried by a show of hands.

Mr. C. Todd proposed a vote of thanks to the retiring officers.—Mr. Bird seconded, and the motion was responded to by Mr. Story.

Mr. W. Story was unanimously re-elected president.

Mr. Routledge proposed that the secretaryship and treasurer'ship be divided, and proposed Mr. E. Ferry be elected secretary, and Mr. A. M. Hall be elected treasurer.—This was seconded by Mr. J. Anderson, and carried.

The vice-presidents were unanimously elected as follows: Northern Division, Mr. G. Holmes; Eastern, Mr. R. Parkinson; Southern, Mr. G. W. Park; Western, Mr. E. Lowery.

The district secretaries for the various districts were next elected: Northern, Mr. J. E. Gofton; Eastern, Mr. G. S. Taylor; Southern,

GARGRAVE, YORKS.—At St. Andrew's Church, a peal of Stedman Triples was attempted. All went comfortably to the 30th course, when a slight 'misunderstanding' upset the arrangement: G. Horner 1, W. H. Birtwhistle 2, J. Bazeley 3, W. Bradley 4, J. McKell 5, Dr. H. Wales (conductor) 6, C. Langstroth 7, H. Birtwhistle 8.

UTTOXETER, STAFFS.—On Saturday, Nov. 11th, short touches were rung with the bells half-muffled, for service. Afterwards an attempt for a peal of Grandsire was lost through a change course, after ringing 2,520 changes: E. Green 1, G. Elliott 2, J. Buxton 3, E. Roberts 4, F. Oliver 5, C. Smith (conductor) 6, G. Lewis 7, G. Burrows 8.

STAFFORD—At St. Mary's Church, in 1 hour and 16 mins., a date touch of Grandsire Triples (1,922 changes): W. G. Curtis 1, W. F. Wilson 2, J. Warrilow 3, G. Booth 4, W. H. Jones 5, F. V. Haggis 6, J. J. Taylor 7, Z. Baker 8. Composed by F. Dexter, and conducted by J. J. Taylor. Rung with the bells half-muffled.

WITHAM, ESSEX—At the Parish Church, with the bells half-muffled, 720 Woodbine, Treble Bob, 720 Double Court, 720 Kent Treble Bob, and 240 Oxford Treble Bob, the following ringers taking part: W. Butler, E. Bright (conductor), W. J. Butler, H. Dorking, A. Chalk, A. Evers, V. Glass, W. Mellin.

NORTON, STAFFS.—At St. Bartholomew's Church, a date touch (1,922 changes) was rung in 1 hour 6 minutes, in the five following Treble Bob methods: 720 Oxford, 360 each of Violet, Woodbine and Kent, and 122 of Cambridge Surprise: H. Wibberley 1, J. W. Walker 2, F. Triner 3, J. E. Wheeldon (conductor) 4, G. E. Lawrence 5, J. Walley 6.

Other touches will be reported in due course.

CENTRAL COUNCIL DECISIONS TO BE BINDING.

Mr. Routledge proposed a resolution that the association binds itself to accept and abide by all decisions of the Central Council, and that no peal in an illegitimate method be recorded in the association peal book, and that the resolution be embodied in rule 15 of the association. He said the Council had been doing useful propaganda work for over 30 years, and yet ringers and associations of ringers still went on their own sweet way, ignoring its decisions, instead of looking to the Council for the lead in all matters relating to scientific ringing, etc. He would almost go as far as to hope that at some future time the Council would have an arbitration sub-committee to decide such questions as overlapping of territory and the exact definition of areas, and that they would do something to secure the ringing and conducting of only the very best compositions, from a musical point of view. Mr. Routledge hoped this resolution would, if passed, help other associations to come to a similar decision, and make the Central Council paramount in all ringing matters.

The resolution was seconded by Mr. R. Richards, supported by the President, and carried unanimously.

The hon. auditor and peal referees were all unanimously re-elected.—Ten honorary members, including the Vicars of Benwell, Whitley Bay, Tynemouth, Corbridge, All Saints', Wye, and the Rector of Rothbury, and Vicar of Bishops Auckland, and 15 ringing members were elected.

For the forthcoming year it was announced that the meetings would be held as follows: Pre-Lent, Newbourn; Whit Monday, Rothbury; August, Bishop Auckland and Shildon; October (annual meeting), Darlington.

The various bells in the city were kept going during the evening to the tune of London Surprise, Double Norwich, Stedman Triples to Cinques, etc.

THE SEPTUAGENARIANS' PEAL.

NOTEWORTHY PERFORMANCE BY NORWICH ASSOCIATION VETERANS.

A unique performance, as we briefly announced last week, has been accomplished by resident members of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association, at Pulham Market. On October 28th, eight veterans, all of them over 70 years of age, rang a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major, and it is probable that the aggregate of their years is the greatest of any eight-bell peal band. In any event their performance is a noteworthy one, for these sprightly young men can total up more than 577 years between them! The peal was rung at the second attempt, and it was one upon which the ringers will be able to look back with pride, for it was splendidly struck. Indeed one has only to look at the names to realise that these men climbed the belfry in his kindness of heart to give us a welcome and express good wishes for success, which we much appreciated. But later on we found it was not to be that day. With nearly two hours gone the treble rope slipped wheel, and could not be recovered in time to save the peal. Not in the least dismayed, the order was to meet again on the 28th.

Descending from the tower, a good old friend and brother ringer, Mr. Frederick Borrett, of Pulham, who has taken a keen interest in the meeting, kindly invited us to dine with him, and we much appreciated and enjoyed a good old English dinner.

On Saturday, October 28th, all turned up again to time, and by 2.25 a well-struck peal of Oxford Treble Bob had been rung. Again our good friend, Mr. Borrett, kindly entertained us, and we desire to know how to ring Treble Bob. It is interesting to note that two of the band (Messrs. D. Collins and R. H. Brundle) are two of the five survivors of the peal of 16,608 Oxford Treble Bob rung at Debenham in 1892.

Seated: G. Murton, 77 (Dye), 4; D. Collins, 74 (Worlingworth), 3; R. Whiting, 72 (Pulham Market), 2; W. Ireland, 70 (Diss), treble.

Copies of the photo can be obtained from Mr. F. R. Borrett, Pulham Market, for 1s. 3d.; additional copies by same post 1s. 1d. each.

The following account, by one of the veterans, will be read with interest:—

The word came round to the writer thus: 'Bob, they are going to ring a boys' peal, I think they want you.'

'Boys' Peal,' said I, and I caught the twinkle of the speaker's eye, so I added, 'Yes, certainly I will make one.'

When I arrived home, from a good peal of Stedman Cinques at Chelmsford, I found the note awaiting me, 'Can you make it convenient to meet at Pulham Market on Saturday, October 14th, for a peal, all over 70 years of age?'

I replied, 'If all's well, I will be there.'

At 9.45 that morning I found myself amongst dear old friends. Two only I did not know, but we were soon 'old pals.' At 10.30 we reached the tower. Brother David had driven 18 miles by road, picking up his old friend, George Murton, at Eye. When we were ready to start, the Rector (the Ven. Archdeacon A. R. Buckland) thank him for his hospitality and the kindly interest he took in the meeting. We also desire to thank the Rector for permission to use the bells.

After the peal, Mr. Fred Smith walked home, a distance of 6½ miles.

ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A very successful district meeting for the Archdeaconry of Sudbury was held at Sudbury on Saturday, November 4th. A large number of ringers were present, and they kept the bells of St. Gregory and All Saints' Churches ringing in excellent touches during the afternoon and evening.

The business meeting was held in the Vestry of St. Gregory's Church, when the Rev. R. Garrett Johnson presided, supported by the Rev. W. Stote, Vicar of All Saints'.

Ringers from the following places took part: Sudbury, Clare, Glemsford, Cavendish, Lavenham, Long Melford, Hedingham, Coggeshall, Biddeston, Feering, Great Tey, Earls Colne, Greenstead Green, Belchamp Walter, Braintree, Foxearth, Polstead, Chelmsworth.

PROGRESS IN THE MID-DEVON BRANCH.

A very successful quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Newton Abbot on Saturday, November 4th. Ringers were present from Swindon, Exeter, Plymouth, Tavistock, Christon, Cockington, Dartmouth, Buckfastleigh and Paignton.

An unfortunate delay was caused at Highwick owing to a funeral taking place, but as soon as word 'go' was given from the local steeplekeeper, the bells were raised in peal, and some well-struck touches of Grandsire Triples brought round.

A splendid tea was provided at Messrs. Thomas and Son's Cafe. —The President, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, addressed the meeting in complimentary terms, and said what a pleasure it was to him to come to the branch meeting and to hear of the good progress being made. He was delighted with the splendid striking he had heard at Highwick, and he hoped in the near future to hear 'higher methods' equally well struck.

The Rev. C. S. Powell, Guild secretary, also expressed the great pleasure it gave him to attend the branch meeting, and hear of the good progress.

Mr. E. Shepherd gave his usual words of encouragement and advice to the members, and referred to the recent peal at Babacombe. He congratulated the members who took part, especially Mrs. Gover, who, he said, rang splendidly, and finished as fresh as anyone, if not more so.

Mr. C. Austin proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Shepherd for the interest he took in the branch meetings, and this having been carried, brought a most successful meeting to a close.

St. Mary Church was chosen for the annual meeting in January.

RINGERS AND PAROCHIAL COUNCILS.

Speaking at the College Youths' dinner, Canon Coleridge, the President of the Central Council, touched upon a subject of real importance to ringers when he urged that they should take steps to secure representation upon the Parochial Church Councils. When these bodies were first formed we took the opportunity of pointing out that, wherever there was a peal of bells, efforts should be made to secure the election of a ringer upon the Council, and we believe, in a number of cases, this was done. We doubt, however, if this was anything like general throughout the country, and Canon Coleridge's reminder upon the matter is a timely one. Although ringers still remain subject to the authority of the incumbent, the reasons for their representation in the Parochial Councils are manifold. Not least is it necessary in order to emphasise the fact that ringers are a body of churchmen, carrying on a work as definite as are, say, the choir.

In these days when there is a much wider recognition of this fact than there used to be, it may be thought that such emphasis is not required. But just as a straw shows which way the wind blows, so an incident, brought to light this week by a correspondent who is, we believe, a Churchwarden as well as a ringer, indicates that the ringer is still sometimes forgotten, even among those highly placed in the Church. In an official leaflet dealing with a week of Intercession in the diocese of Canterbury, there is a request that the people should remember in their prayers the clergy, the choir, the sidesmen, the churchwardens and the Council. The bell ringers are not mentioned. It is only a little thing, perhaps, but it points to the fact that, despite all we are told when we are preached to at meetings, there is still the risk that ringers and the work that they do may be overlooked.

There are other reasons why ringers should be represented on the Parochial Councils. In many churches it is, unfortunately, only too true that visits of clergy or churchwardens to the belfry are few and far between, and it is, therefore, necessary that the needs of the belfry should be kept as much before those responsible for its upkeep as those of the rest of the church assuredly are. Although much has been done to improve the ringing chambers in a great number of churches—thanks chiefly to the efforts of the ringers themselves—there are still belfries the condition of which is a disgrace. In every such case of neglect, it is not only desirable, it is the absolute duty of the ringers to take steps to bring this before the Parochial Council, and the most effective way to do it is to get one of their number elected to the body. Here, then, are two of the important reasons for securing representation. It is, moreover, quite certain, as Canon Coleridge pointed out, that many things connected with the belfry will crop up from time to time, and the only way of assuring a satisfactory decision is by the Council having at least one among their number who can give them practical advice. We hope Canon Coleridge's reminder will not pass unheeded, and that in all cases where ringers are now unrepresented, serious steps will be taken to remedy the omission.

NEW DERBYSHIRE PEAL. BELLS DEDICATED AT WEST HALLAM

On Saturday, November 11th, the opening of the new peal of bells at West Hallam, Derbyshire, took place. The old peal of six bells had been considered unsafe, and very badly out of tune, and the whole were, therefore, recast and rehung in an iron frame for eight. At the same time Westminster clock chimes were added, the restoration having been undertaken as a war memorial. The work was placed in the hands of Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and was carried out in a way which reflects the greatest credit upon the firm. The new peal are a very nice musical ring, and something for the parishioners to be proud of. The dedication service took place on the afternoon of Armistice Day, the ceremony being performed by the Bishop of Derby, who set the clock going, in order that it might chime and strike the hour of three. The bells were chimed by six of the local band while the Bishop and clergy returned to their places for the conclusion of the service.

Subsequently six members of the Ilkeston band raised the bells in peal, and rang a well-struck 720 of Kent Treble Bob: J. H. Niffe 1, E. C. Gobey (conductor) 2, C. J. Baker 3, H. Straw 4, H. Harrison 5, J. F. George 6.

A tea and social was held in the Schoolroom in the evening, at the invitation of the Rev. A. E. Wicks. After tea, the eight handbells, which had been supplied by the bell founders as part of their contract, were brought out, a few courses of Grandsire Triples being rung with the help of Mr. R. Richardson, of Surfleet, and Miss A. Parkins, who arrived just before tea.

The ringers returned to the tower, and kept the bells going in Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise, and a 720 of Double Court was also rung, Miss A. Parkins taking part in most of the touches. The conducting was shared by Messrs. R. Richardson and E. C. Gobey. Other ringers were present from Derby (A. H. Ward), Silston and Ilkeston, also Mr. Denison Taylor from the Loughborough Foundry. Everyone was delighted with the tone and the 'go' of the bells. The Rector spent most of the evening in the tower, and brought several visitors, including Mrs. Wicks.

The Rector said the only complaint he had heard was that they were short of the other two trebles to complete the octave. He hoped, however, they would be coming very shortly.

THE INSCRIPTIONS.

The inscriptions on the old bells have been reproduced, including the inverted word 'his' on the 4th. To the treble, 2, 4, 5 and 6 have been added 'Recast 1922 by J. Taylor and Co., Loughborough.'

The new tenor is 9 cwt. 1 qr. 6 lbs. in G, the old tenor having been 8 cwt. 2 qrs. 23 lbs.

Treble.—Bless ye the Lord all ye His Hosts. In memory of the Rev. Charles John Newdigate. Given by the congregation, A.D. 1878.

2nd.—Gloria in Excelsis Deo. In memoriam, Caroli Johannis Newdigate, A.D. 1876. Fratrum et Sororis Donum.

3rd.—Recast to the memory of Elizabeth Williamson, 1922.

5th.—GOD SAVE THE CHURCH, 1618.

6th.—Laudate Nomen Domini. In memoriam, Caroli Johannis Newdigate, A.D. 1876. Fratrum et Sororis Donum.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S 'ROLL OF HONOUR.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I, through your columns, touch on two matters of interest to the Exercise.

(1) Ringers' Roll of Honour.—I have now corrected returns from the secretaries of just over half the number of ringers' associations. Realising the difficulty and work that such returns entail, I do not wish to be unduly pressing. I merely wish to point out that until all returns are in my hands I can get no further in the preparation of the roll.

Can someone give me any information as to the Irish Association?

(2) Library.—I have now available a record of ringing from 1871 to present date, except for 'Bell News,' 1906, January 27th and Sept. 8th; 1907, March 9th.

Can someone supply these?—Yours truly,

Broadlands, Caversham.

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN.

THE ARTHUR T. KING MEMORIAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As there appears to be some misapprehension as to what was in the minds of the sub-committee appointed to deal with the above, when they issued their appeal, I would like to point out that the primary object is to erect a memorial tablet in Barnet Church.

The sub-committee hope that this will be generally understood, and that there will be a generous response to their appeal, so as to secure that a memorial worthy of their late president may be erected.

Several subscriptions, already received, will be duly acknowledged in your paper at an early date.—Yours faithfully,

C. T. COLES, Hon. Sec. to the Sub-Committee.

One of those rare old peal boards upon which is recorded the figures, as well as other particulars of a noteworthy performance, is to be found in West Ham tower. This gives the details of a 15,121 of Bob Major rung in eight hours and 40 minutes by the Society of Eastern Scholars, on Monday, November 25th, 1737: Jn. Braby 1, Thos. Hart 2, Bob Goodyer 3, Jno. Bradshaw 4, Tho. Bennett 5, Jon. Long 6, Fra. Popham 7, P. Mainwaring 8.

Subject to correction, we believe this to have been the longest length ever rung at that early date. In March of the same year a 12,603 Grandsire Caters was rung at Norwich, and in April a 12,006 Grandsire Caters at Painswick, but the West Ham peal is the first 15,000 of which we have any knowledge.

Another early peal at West Ham was a 5,400 Oxford Treble Bob Royal rung by the Royal Cumberlands on Nov. 27th, 1758, and is recorded as being 'the greatest performance ever completed in this method on ten bells.' 'Samuel Wood called bobs,' and it is interesting to note that he and Francis, who also rang in the peal, were members of the family from which sprang that famous old London ringer, Matthew Wood, of Bethnal Green.

On November 27th, 1729, a peal of 6,204 Grandsire Cinques was rung at St. Michael's, Cornhill, and as far as records go this was the only successful peal rung by that old society, the London Scholars.

W. D. Crofts, who in his day was a ringer of great repute in the Midlands, died on November 29th, 1909, aged 67 years. He rang his first peal in 1765, and his last on November 11th, 1793. Of the 29 peals which he rang, he conducted 26, and included in his list were peals of 6,012, 8,046 and 10,260 Grandsire Caters. Other methods in which he rang peals were Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Royal, Double Bob Royal and Oxford Treble Bob Major and Royal.

On November 25th, 1799, a peal of 6,006 Grandsire Cinques was rung at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, by the Union Society.

The first peal of Treble Bob Triples was rung at St. Peter's, Huddersfield, on November 25th, 1821.

After a period of twenty-six years, Mr. William Lomas has, through failing health, reluctantly resigned from the position of hon. secretary to the Sheffield Cathedral company. This office was also held by his late father for a similar number of years. Although giving up the reins as an official, Mr. Lomas will remain an active ringing member, and still retains the good wishes of the company for his future health and happiness.

Mr. Sidney F. Palmer has been appointed his successor, and attention is directed to our notice columns as to details with regard to ringing affairs at the Cathedral.

Mr. James George, of 'England,' will be 69 next Monday. He had 3 hours' practice last Saturday with the 'little 'un' at 'Wedgbury' previous to turning the Southwark tenor in next Saturday to Kent Maximus. Since his last birthday he has rung his first two peals of London Surprise Major with a working bell, and rung Bow tenor to a peal.

The man that rang the Wednesbury tenor last Saturday is over 70 years of age. When is J. G. going to ring that one to a peal?

Two new trebles have been added at Wicken to make a ring of eight. The whole peal has been hung in a new frame upon the existing oak beams, and the old bells have been overhauled. The work was carried out by Mr. A. Howell, of Ipswich, and the bells have been dedicated by the Bishop of Leicester.

The ringer of the 5th in the peal of Minor, at St. Botolph's, Lincoln, on November 11th, was William Bettles.

BELL RINGERS FORGOTTEN.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In our diocese of Canterbury there is to be, from Nov. 26th to December 3rd, a week of prayer for the Church, and for all those who work in the Church. In the pamphlet of suggestions which has been issued, several departments of church workers are mentioned for intercession, viz., the choir, sidesman, churchwardens, the Council, and, of course, the clergy, but one fails to find the least word of reference to the (as some in their modesty term us) humble bell ringer. Now, sir, it may be that the once despised servant of the Church has at last raised himself to the exalted position of perfection that no prayers are now necessary—or is it that his work is not deemed by high authority to be of sufficient importance to be included in an intercession? Perhaps if he made a little more noise it might be.—Faithfully yours,

Elham,
A. CASTLE.

THE LATE MR. TOM WALLIS.

Mr. J. W. Steddy, Edenbridge, Kent, acknowledges with thanks donations towards the fund in aid of the widow and daughter of the late Mr. T. Wallis, who are left totally unprovided for. Previous list £7 5s.; Lewisham district meeting, per Mr. Groombridge, £1 4s. As the fund will definitely close on Nov. 30th, will all intending subscribers kindly send at once?

THE SUGGESTED FEDERATION IN SUFFOLK

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Coleman states that I 'endorsed' a memorandum, of which he sends you a copy, which appears printed with my name 'signed' at the foot. These epithets cannot both be correct; in fact, neither are. I only put my name to the document in order to affix some strong reservations. What right has Mr. Coleman to let my name appear unreservedly, when I attached lengthy reservations to it? How can any sort of business be transacted if one's intentions are to be so flagrantly perverted as this?

Moreover, in the body of this memorandum there is printed a 'note' in the first person. Who is this person? It is obviously not I who would have written it. Why, then, is my signature put at the foot, when I never attached my name to it? Apparently it is a private note between Mr. Fawcett and Mr. Coleman. At any rate I know nothing about it, and have never authorised my signature to be attached.

My signature was attached to the reservations (at Mr. Coleman's request, by the way), in order to make it clear that I was quite opposed to all the proposals, but that if the other two members of the sub-committee were agreed, I would not press my opposition.

Some weeks later Mr. Fawcett told me that he had not drawn up the memorandum, but that it was entirely the work of Mr. Coleman: he also had only signed it at Mr. Coleman's request, and did not agree with it. As Mr. Coleman knows that I repudiated this memorandum as soon as I knew that he had fathered it on me at the committee meeting at the beginning of this year, and as I told him he must not use it unless his signature appeared on it, why does he mention it in his report, and now insert it in your columns?

The statement upon which Mr. Coleman says 'further comment appears unnecessary' was that no member of the new Diocesan Society had supported these proposals. To prove that they have, he publishes a tinkered document to which are attached the disputed signatures of two persons, who have both since repudiated the use which he has made of this document, and one of whom was not even a member. I say without any hesitation that there is no foundation for the statement which appears in Mr. Coleman's report. If that objectionable statement appears in the printed copies of the report, it will be untrue and actionable, and every member of the Norwich Society will be involved.—Yours, etc.,

HERBERT DRAKE.

CONFUSION OF NAMES.

Dear Sir,—The handbell peal of Bob Major rung at Lavenham on Thursday, Oct. 19th, 1922, should be recorded for the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association, and not the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, as published.

It is a great pity, and unfair, that the Norwich and Ipswich Association should still use 'St. Edmundsbury' in their title, after being unsuccessful in their attempt at winning St. Edmundsbury territory and ringers over. The word is meaningless in that title, and will give rise to such trouble as above correction, also to the Peal Analysis Committee.

It is hoped that the N. and I.A. will revert to their old title, and give up that territory which 'they have not won,' thereby showing the friendly spirit voiced at their last general meeting, and more strongly 'cementing' that brotherhood existing between Norfolk and Suffolk 'brother strings.'—Yours truly,

S. H. SYMONDS.

P.S.—The foregoing is the general opinion of the ringers of the St. Edmundsbury District Branch, St. E. and I.D.A.

THE SEPTUAGENARIANS' PEAL.

Mr. Philip Hodgkin, of Headcorn, Kent, writes: It was very interesting to read of the veterans' peal at Pullham Market, in which the performers were all over 70 years of age, but I find in looking over the peal book of James Barham, of Leeds, Kent, there is a peal recorded by a still older band, although they were not all over 70 years of age. The record is as follows:—

On Tuesday, January 1st, 1795, was rung at home (Leeds, Kent), 5,040 changes of Bob Major, in 3 hours 12 mins. by

	Age		Age
Samuel Grayling	82—1	James Hunt	70—5
Thomas Barham	70—2	Thomas Lacy	65—6
Abraham Barham	77—3	James Barham	67—7
William Davis	65—4	James Freeland	86—8

The whole making 582 years.

This peal completes the hundred rung at several places by James Barham.

The Pullham Market band, adds Mr. Hodgkin, will, therefore, have to ring a peal in another year's time to beat this performance.

PAID SERVICE RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—You are certainly correct, when you say that the report of the annual meeting of the Fyde Branch makes sad reading, but I am very much afraid that many other areas besides Fyde could tell the same tale of apathy. But cannot we also see in this report the glimmer of a glorious dawn, for it takes no small amount of moral courage on the part of the secretary to state so boldly in his report what he considers to be the root cause of this apathy; and though we have shirked it, many of us ringers know in our hearts that this is one of the two great obstacles that are to-day standing in the way of real progress in our noble art. It is certainly up to the ringers themselves to remove these obstacles from our path. And, Mr. Editor, I would go even a step further than you, and say that even out-of-pocket expenses, incurred for service ringing, should be part of the self-sacrifice a ringer makes for his church, for at the most, it only means some small luxury occasionally sacrificed, and placed in the light of the sacrifices made by our forefathers, is really too trivial to be mentioned. Is it not the first duty of a ringer to place his talent at the feet of the giver?

And this leads to the other great obstacle in our path, which is, the churchmanship of ringers. How many of the thousands of ringers in this country of ours are taking a real active part in the work of the whole church? Are not too many of us satisfied to do a little in the ringing chamber, and leave the rest to take care of itself? Do we really give our service in the tower to the praise and worship of God? Is there not more of the selfish pleasure our art affords us than there should be? Does it really take a second's place, making worship the primary object of our art, the proud position of the lead?

I am certainly convinced that if we ringers would only shoulder more of our own responsibilities, take an active part in the work of the whole Church, see that we had full representation on her councils, a far better spirit of fellowship would be maintained, and we should hear no more of these continual quarrels between ringers and clergy, or councils; for, working together for the common cause of Christ, they would each realise the other's difficulty, and by mutual self-sacrifice and forbearance work together for the good of the whole.

In conclusion, allow me to offer my thanks to the secretary of the Fyde branch for placing the matter boldly before the eyes of the Exercise, and I trust that my old friend, his deputy Master, will support him with all the power behind him. He, too, has had the worries of secretaryship. They have a cause in front of them well worth the fight; and that the ringers of the whole country, who have their hearts in the work of the church, will rally to their ranks to hasten forward the glorious dawn, when the pure voice of the Church shall sound over hill and dale thrown out by bands of a true Christian brotherhood—is the hope of

A HUMBLE SERVANT IN THE ART.

NORTH WINGFIELD'S NEW TENOR.

REMEMBRANCE DAY DEDICATION.

On Saturday, November 11th, the parishioners of North Wingfield were delighted to again hear their bells, which had been silent for four months. The whole peal has been overhauled by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. All the bells are now on ball bearings, the clappers have been rebushed, and pulley wheels renewed. The tenor bell has been recast at the expense of Brig-General Jackson, in memory of his son who was killed during the late war. The church was filled to its utmost capacity for the dedication ceremony, at which the Ven. Archdeacon Crosse officiated. He first dedicated the tablets which had been placed in church in memory of the men of North Wingfield, Tupton and Egston. Afterwards the choir and clergy proceeded to the tower, and the new bell was solemnly dedicated. General Jackson ascended the tower with the parish clerk (Mr. T. Allibone), and sounded the tenor the first few strokes, after which it was raised by the parish clerk. The hymn, 'Let our bells ring from the steeple,' was sung by the choir and congregation. The organist, Mr. Butlerworth, had harmonised the old tune 'Stuttgart,' and bell effects were beautifully brought in on the organ.

A public tea was held after the service, to which over 200 sat down. The clergy present were Ven. Archdeacon Crosse, the Rev. A. J. B. Ellerton (Rector), the Rev. O. J. Boden, a former Rector, who read the lesson, the Rev. R. E. Tinsley (curate), and the Rev. R. V. Dodd, of Tupton, Mr. A. Knights (Chesterfield) and many others. The bells were kept merrily going until 8 p.m. by mixed bands, one and all being highly satisfied with the beautiful tenor and the 'go' of the bells.

The old tenor was brought to North Wingfield in 1820, when the new ten were put in the crooked steeple at Chesterfield. It bore the date 1611, and was cast of George Oldfield. The previous tenor was dated 1749, and was cast by Daniel Hedderley, according to the church registers.

The new bell bears the old inscription, with the following added: Recast 1922. In memory of Geoffrey Laird Jackson, captain, Rifle Brigade, killed in action near Arras, April 9th, 1917. — A. J. B. Ellerton, Rector. T. Allibone, parish clerk.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER.

THE YEAR'S DOINGS.

Mr. Cockerill, who was cordially received, responded to the toast of 'The Ancient Society of College Youths,' and said expressions of regret for absence had been received from Mr. J. S. Pritchett, Mr. E. H. Lewis, Mr. Stainer, and Mr. R. A. Daniell, while a telegram had been received from Mr. C. S. Burden, from Darlington, conveying best wishes to the 'Master and all ancients and friends doing honour to our beloved society.' During the year, continued Mr. Cockerill, 68 practices had been held, which 118 members had attended at some time or other. The members made during the past year numbered 34, and they had lost, by death, Mr. W. W. Gifford, Mr. F. Hayes and Mr. S. Howe. The number of peals rung was 35, viz., Grandsire Triples 5 (3 on handbells), Grandsire Caters 1, Bob Major (on handbells) 1, Treble Bob Minor 1, Treble Bob Major 1, Treble Bob Royal 1, Double Norwich Major 2, Stedman Triples 5, Stedman Caters 12, including one rung that day at Stepney (applause), Stedman Cinques 4 (one on handbells), Cambridge Royal 1, London Major 1. Mr. Jenkyn had mentioned the long peal at Appleton, and several who took part in the peal were present in the room that night (applause). He thanked them very sincerely for the kind way they had honoured the toast.

IN MEMORIAM.

An impressive feature followed, when, at the request of the Master, the company rose in remembrance of the men who laid down their lives in the war. No speech was made, but the Master read the following lines, written by Mr. J. Rowbotham, in memory of the illustrious dead, and particularly of the members of the society who fell:—

They have passed away,
Those stalwarts of our art,
Who, by their love and labour,
Toiled incessantly,
Probing the mysteries of Campanology.
Their ring was true, in every chime,
Their works shall stand, like monuments,
For all time.
Let those who follow, though unseen,
Cherish their works, honour their names,
And keep them ever green.

In those silent graves, over there,
Our brother Youths lie sleeping.
They died that we might live in peace;
Their souls are in safe keeping.
All honour them, though their lives are o'er,
Their names shall live for evermore.

KINDRED SOCIETIES.

The Vice-Chairman proposed the toast of 'London and Provincial Ringing Societies,' and expressed the pleasure of the members at seeing so many friends present that evening from north, south, east, west and the Midlands, and it said much for the interest in change ringing that so many friends should be gathered together in one centre. He would like to mention as a matter of special interest the augmentation of the peal at St. Mary's, Taunton, from 10 to 12 bells. It was a matter of gratification, and they would all look forward with added interest to the doings of their friends in the west. They also welcomed friends from the Royal Society of Cumberland Youths, who had just re-opened their bells at St. Martin's, their headquarters. They also had representatives present from the London County Association, who were still progressing in their activities from the foundations laid by the St. James' Society. He had to couple with the toast the names of Mr. Young and Mr. Howard. Mr. Young, as they all knew, was secretary of the Central Council, and did a very valuable work in that connection. Mr. Howard needed no introduction, for, when they mentioned the Essex Association they instinctively thought of Mr. Howard, the Master (applause).

Mr. Young, who first responded, expressed the pleasure it was to the members of kindred societies to be present upon the anniversary of that fine old society, the College Youths. The lesser Associations operating in the London area were, he felt, doing excellent work in feeding the two larger societies. In conclusion Mr. Young mentioned the newest of these organisations, and one with which he was connected, the St. Clement's Youths, on whose behalf, as well as for the other London Societies, he thanked the College Youths for their kind reception.

Responding for the Provincial Societies, Mr. Howard said his own association held the Ancient Society in great reverence. His connection with the Essex Association went back to 1885, when in Braintree they had a band of expert six-bell ringers, all members of the College Youths, and in looking through the College Youths' peal book that evening he had come across a peal rung in 1884 by Braintree ringers in 14 Minor methods. Mr. William Dyson took part in that peal, and four of the ringers were alive to-day. Mr. Howard recalled the help which the then young Essex Association received from the College Youths. To-day he was pleased to say the Essex Association had secured its place among the change ringing societies of England, and they were in the proud position of having over a thousand members (applause). When he joined the Association there were only two eight bell towers in the neighbourhood of Braintree, now there were nine or ten. Only a few years ago Essex could not boast of a single twelve bell tower, to-day they had three. Continuing, Mr. Howard said he had always had one object in view in ringing. He was not a great peal ringer, but he had always tried to raise the standard of ringers, and no one had helped him more than the clergy. At one time the clergy were even suspicious when the association went into a parish, but now they were welcomed, and the clergy looked upon them as a valuable body of church workers. He happened to be not only a member of the Parochial Church Council, but secretary of the Ruri-Decanal Conference, and a member of the Diocesan Conference, and when the matter to which Canon Coleridge had referred came before the National Assembly he mentioned the matter to Conference, urging that ringers should remain under the clergy. They had always got on well together, and the ringers did not want better masters (applause).

Mr. T. Faulkner proposed 'The Visitors,' in felicitous terms, and Canon Haldane, who first responded, said he felt he was only returning the many visits which the Society had paid to him at the Cathedral. They were always glad to see them there (hear, hear). He was careful how he put that (laughter), because last year, when he paid them a compliment which was perfectly true, and told them that people who had heard them ring had said to him 'Why doesn't everybody ring like that?' it got into 'The Ringing World' and his ringers read it. They could imagine what happened after that (laughter). On this occasion, therefore, he did not want to make any suggestion that the College Youths were any better than the Southwark ringers. When, later, it devolved upon him to get a fresh body of ringers he went straight to the College Youths and asked them to find him the best man they could to train a new band, and he was pleased to say they were making great progress under a well-known member of that society, Mr. Newton (applause). He was very grateful to the society for what they had done for the ringers at Southwark.

The Rev. W. Pennington Bickford also responded, and remarked that while he had not aspired to be Master of their Ancient Society, he happened this year to be a Master in another Ancient Society, the Society of Free and Accepted Masons, and was Master of his own parish lodge. The Rev. Pennington Bickford referred to the assistance which he received from Mr. Young in connection with the formation of St. Clement's Youths at his own Church, and the help which was given to them by many members of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Mr. C. H. Horton gave 'The Press,' and, referring to the early days of ringing, said that all that the Exercise was able to secure was a little corner in 'Bell's Life,' which was a sporting paper. Then came that famous little organ, 'Church Bells,' after that 'Bell News,' then 'Campanology' and 'The Bellringer,' and now they had 'The Ringing World.' It was a paper of great advantage to ringers, and he was sure everyone appreciated the work that was done by the journal in the interests of change ringing. The only thing they had to wish was that they could have a larger paper at a smaller price (laughter). They had with them the Editor of the paper, who had done everything that man could do to increase interest in change ringing generally, and he was sure that that society and all interested in ringing wished Mr. Goldsmith and his paper the greatest success and long life (applause).

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith acknowledged the toast, and remarked that Mr. Horton's wish for a larger paper at a smaller price would be realised as soon as a sufficiently large number of ringers by their support made it justifiable (applause). It should be the aim of all ringers to do their utmost to spread the knowledge of the art and to strengthen the bonds of that brotherhood to which they were all so proud to belong, so that when the time came to say 'This is all,' they could feel satisfied they were leaving the Exercise a little better than they found it. This was the aim which he had in 'The Ringing World,' and which would continue to animate its conduct in the future (applause).

The speeches were interspersed with musical items of a very enjoyable nature. Songs were sung by Mr. Harold Judd, Mr. Percy Judd, L.R.A.M., A.R.A.M., Mr. H. Castell and Mr. W. H. Judd. All were encored, and Mr. W. H. Judd had an uproarious reception for his most amusing topical song, 'Ringing Reminiscences.' On more than one occasion this title has covered entertaining verses, but this year the 'mixture' was even better than ever. A feature of the programme was the handbell selections of Mrs. A. A. Hughes, who rang 'Friend o' Mine' and 'Love, could I only tell thee' upon some very sweet-toned bells in a most delightful way. It was quite a remarkable performance, and needless to say, was vociferously encored.

'Auld Lang Syne' brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

FAMILY PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was somewhat amused at 'Once a Beginner's' article on delusions, in which he appears to infer that I am guilty of trying to filch the honour due to the Banister family.

I must ask him to get rid of this 'delusion' at once, for in my letter to you at the time, I claimed nothing beyond the fact that I rang a peal of London Surprise Major with my father on a certain date, not thinking at the time of the Woolwich peal, but a letter I sent a few days after, calling attention to the Banister activities in bygone days, appears to have miscarried, as it was not published.

I would also like to ask 'Once a Beginner,' if he was so surprised at my statement that we had rung such a peal, that he could not pull himself together sufficiently to write you about that peal of which he knew so well, for had he done so, surely one of our letters would have caught your eye, and the matter would have been settled there and then, instead of dragging along all this time, to be finally disposed of to the accompaniment of personal digs, which have, more than once in the past, produced in your correspondence columns, a spirit which should be foreign to a body united for the purpose of advancing our art in general, and confined to specialists in throat-cutting for footnotes.—Yours faithfully,

T. GROOMBRIDGE, Junr.

DEATH OF MR. W. J. ALLEN.*PASSING OF A WELL-KNOWN NORTHAMPTON RINGER.

We deeply regret to record the death, at his residence, 10, Talbot Road, Northampton, of Mr. William John Allen, one of the best known and most respected Northampton ringers. The sad event occurred on Sunday morning, November 5th. Mr. Allen contracted double pneumonia, and despite all that skill could do, and the unremitting care of a devoted wife, he passed away within a week. The sympathy of the Exercise will go out to Mrs. Allen and family in the heavy bereavement they have suffered.

Mr. Allen first learnt to ring at St. Edmunds, where he stayed for a short time, afterwards joining St. Peter's Society, and subsequently, in 1900, the All Saints' ringers, when he made rapid progress as a ringer and conductor. He rang his first peal in 1902; his first of Stedman in 1906, which he also conducted, at St. Edmund's, Northampton. It was also the first peal of Stedman in Northampton by a local band. He conducted the only peal of Cambridge Major rung in Northampton, at All Saints' in December last year. Altogether he had rung 77 peals in the following methods: Doubles 2, Minor 16 (conducted 3), Grandsire Triples 2, Stedman Triples 18 (conducted 10), Bob Major 7 (conducted 2), Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Double Norwich 5, Superlative 14 (conducted 8), Cambridge Major 1 (conducted 1), Grandsire Caters 3, Stedman Caters 2, Bob Royal 2, Kent Treble Royal 2, Cambridge Royal 1, Erin Triples 1. He was appointed foreman of All Saints' bellry on the Tuesday he lay ill; but, alas! he never fulfilled the office.

Deceased was most regular and punctual in his attendance for Sunday ringing at All Saints', ever ready to help at other towers when not on duty at his own; always ready to help to make up a band for a peal, being an able conductor, a very good striker and a safe ringer. He will be very much missed, and his loss to All Saints', Northampton, and to the other towers in town and county, cannot be measured.

The funeral took place on Thursday, November 2nd. The service at mid-day was at All Saints' Church, when there assembled many ringers and friends, including Messrs. S. Lawrence (district secretary), F. Wilford, F. Hopper, J. Metherall, B. Soden, W. Gammage, A. Moore, W. Moore, W. Parker, W. G. Farey, Mrs. Waldoek (representing Mr. Grant, treasurer of the All Saints' ringers), Mrs. Eales, Mr. Wilford, son, Mrs. Oxley. The cortege was met at the west door by the Vicar (the Rev. Geoffrey O. Lunt, M.A., M.C.) and the Rev. O. St. M. Williams, B.A., curate. The coffin was borne in to the church by four of the deceased brother ringers and two of his fellow-workers: Messrs. H. Blundell, W. Farey, H. Rainbow, J. Dean, E. Malpas and A. Underwood. The mourners were the widow and other members of the family. The service was taken by the Vicar, and the lesson was read by the Rev. O. St. M. Williams.

The interment took place at Kingsthorpe Cemetery, where the committal prayers were said by the Rev. O. St. M. Williams. There were a large number of floral tributes, including wreaths from All Saints' bellry, and ringing friends of Northampton.

Touches were rung with the bells half-muffled in the evening. At All Saints' Church the whole pull and stand was rung, also 168 Grandsire Triples by H. Blundell 1, A. Robinson 2, S. J. Lawrence 3, L. Farey 4, F. Wilford 5, A. Moore 6, W. Farey 7, W. G. Farey 8. A course of Stedman Triples and a course of Superlative were also rung. Messrs. Moore (Daventry) and Stewart (Northampton), who took part, were old ringing friends. At St. Edmund's Church the whole pull and stand was rung 42 times, representing the deceased's age, also various touches, the ringers being T. Tebbutt, J. Metherall, F. Hopper, W. Rogers, J. Hensman, W. Gammage, S. Burton (Leicester), J. Mackay and B. O. Soden.

At St. Giles' Church, two courses of Grandsire Caters and three of Stedman Caters were rung by W. Rogers, H. L. Key, W. Sibley, J. Metherall, B. O. Soden, F. Hopper, J. Hensman, S. Burton, G. Flavell, J. Freeman, E. James and A. Monk.

On Saturday a half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Edmund's.

Mrs. Allen and family desire to express thanks to all those who assisted in the ringing, and those who sent floral tributes and messages of sympathy to them in their sad bereavement.

RINGING AT 84.

To commemorate the 84th birthday of Mr. Wm. Newell, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters was rung on November 8th, at Reading, Mr. Nowell ringing the 8th. For a man of his years the performance was remarkable, the striking and handling of his bell being an example to many a younger ringer.

Mr. Newell has been associated with St. Lawrence's tower for many years, and still does all that is necessary to keep the bells in good going order, while he also is an outstanding example of regularity and punctuality in attendance.

The quarter-peal of 1,349 changes was rung in 55 minutes by Miss M. Mackman 1, A. Osborne 2, S. E. Davis 3, F. Hopgood 4, C. Giles 5, A. Sweetzer 6, A. Wiggins 7, W. Newell 8, J. R. Mackman (conductor) 9, A. Lovejoy 10. First quarter-peal by ringers of treble, 5th and tenor.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Winchester District was held at Romsey on Saturday, November 11th. The Abbey bells were available during the afternoon and evening, and were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob, Double Norwich, Kent, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major. Tea was held in the Churchroom, the Vicar of Romsey being present.

At the business meeting afterwards, with the Rev. W. E. Colchester in the chair, Canon Braithwaite being unable to attend, the balance sheet was adopted. This showed a balance with the treasurer of £8 and balance in hand £1 12s. 2d.

The retiring officers were re-elected, viz.: Chairman, Canon Braithwaite; secretary, W. T. Tucker; Central Committee, W. Andrews and J. W. Faithfull; auditor, G. Smith.—The Chairman proposed, and Mr. Andrews seconded, a hearty vote of congratulation to Mr. Geo. Williams, Master of the Guild, upon being the first official of the Guild to achieve the great distinction of ringing his 1,000th peal.—The motion was carried by acclamation, and Mr. Williams briefly replied.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Southampton on November 3rd, 1923, and quarterly meetings at New Alresford in February; Lockerley and East Tytherley in May; Thursley in August.

Amongst those present at the meeting were the Rev. N. C. Woods, general secretary; Mr. George Williams, Master; Mr. E. J. Harding, secretary, Portsmouth district; Mr. C. W. Clarke, Bedford, and members from Alton, Bishopstoke, Curdridge, Porsea, Bournemouth, North Stoneham, Southampton, Winchester, and the Abbey band.

A vote of thanks was passed to the District Secretary, and also to the Vicar of Romsey for the bells and room for the meeting.

WHY NOT A REFERENDUM?

To the outsider it looked, at one time, as if the lion and the lamb were going to lie down together in Suffolk, and that everything was for the best in the best of all possible worlds; but recent developments now make it appear that this is very far from being the case. The friction between the two associations has increased, rather than otherwise, by statements made in the last few weeks, and it is quite certain that good relations cannot be restored until, at least, there is a better understanding between all concerned. The confusion which exists between the names of the two organisations, and the inconvenience to which it may give rise, is but a secondary consideration; the real point of disagreement is that of territory, and it will be a matter of regret if this question cannot soon be settled. The issue as it stands at present seems to us to lie between the endeavour of the old Norwich Diocesan Association to embrace West Suffolk, and the desire of the new St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association to bring within its sphere of influence East Suffolk, which, until the division of the diocese took place, formed part of the former Diocese of Norwich.

As the Rev. H. B. Woolley puts it, in a letter elsewhere in this issue, the desire of the East Suffolk men to retain their allegiance to the old association is perfectly understandable, and, in accordance with the policy of 'self-determination,' of which we hear so much in these days, the new Suffolk Society must recognise the right which these ringers have to settle their own destiny. At the same time the view of the looker on is that the Norwich Association endeavoured to 'jump the claim' in West Suffolk, and that it is unfair to hold on to that area unless they can show justification, as indicated by affiliated towers, for so doing. The solution of the present impasse is not at all easy, but that is no reason why those concerned should not overcome the difficulty. Once the question of territory is agreed it will not be hard to adjust the respective titles, but a mere amendment of names, without a definition of areas, will not remove the difficulties which underlie the present position.

It is hardly likely that any proposal that could be offered would meet with general acceptance on both sides, and it will be a question of give and take if an amicable settlement is to be arrived at. One hesitates, therefore, to make a suggestion, but it might be worth while to take a referendum of the ringers in the county of Suffolk, so that a really definite knowledge may be obtained as to their views? It ought to be possible to frame some agreed questions, the answer to which would be the basis of a settlement. The existing state of affairs neither encourages the advance of the Art nor promotes the spirit of brotherhood.

MR. W. R. SMALL'S BIRTHDAY.

Mr. William Rock Small's 83rd birthday was fittingly celebrated on Saturday, Nov. 11, when, although two peal attempts failed a gathering of ringers assembled at the Britannia Inn, Tipton, and another at The Three Tuns, Wednesbury, to enjoy the hospitality of the veteran Black Country ringer. At the Wednesbury gathering Mr. James George presided, and extended the good wishes of the ringers to Mr. Small. They and all his friends hoped Mr. Small would continue in good health and spirits for many years to come. He thanked him for his kind hospitality and welcoming old friends. He had known Mr. Small between 30 and 40 years, and although he had been very active in his ringing in the past, he was unable now, on account of advancing years, to take such an active part, but he manifested as keen an interest as ever.

Mr. J. Jagger, Mr. B. Horton, on behalf of the younger generation of ringers, and Mr. T. H. Reeves added their congratulations, and referred to the sterling character of the veteran.

Mr. Small's health was enthusiastically drunk, and votes of thanks were accorded to the caterer and the chairman.

An enjoyable evening was spent. Full amends for the lost peal at Wednesday was made on Saturday week, when a peal of Stedman Caters was scored.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.*ANNUAL MEETING OF PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT.

Nothing could have been more appropriate than holding this meeting at Alverstoke on Armistice Day, for on Nov. 11th, 1919, these bells were dedicated and opened as the parish war memorial. The ringing until 3 p.m. was half-muffled, when the muffles were removed, and the bells rung until 5 o'clock, at which hour a short service was held in the church, the Rector (Canon G. Landon) officiating.

An excellent meal awaited the company at the Brodrick Hall, and afterwards the business meeting was held. Apologies for absence were received from the two representatives, Mr. H. J. Smith, and also Mr. F. W. Rogers (who was attending the College Youths' Dinner the same evening).—The Chairman (Mr. W. Tate) commented on the need for members attending meetings and supporting their officers.

The next item was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Mr. W. Tate (chairman), Mr. E. J. Harding, senr. (district secretary), Messrs. H. J. Smith and F. W. Rogers (representatives on the Central Committee).—Eight members and one probationer were elected, and Wickham and Shedfield were chosen for the next quarterly meeting, the date being left to the discretion of the district secretary.

The usual votes of thanks were accorded the Rector, steeplekeeper and organist, the members also congratulating Canon Landon upon his recent appointment as Honorary Canon of Winchester Cathedral, and upon being chaplain to Gosport's first Mayor.

During the day, members, to the number of 35, were present from Alverstoke, Curdridge, Fareham, Gosport, Havant, Portsea, Titchfield, and also Mr. G. Williams (Master), the methods rung ranging from Grandsire Triples to Double Norwich.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*LEWISHAM DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District of the Kent Association was held at Woolwich. The bells were raised soon after 3 p.m., and touches in various methods were successfully accomplished. Nearly forty were present at the service, at which the Rev. A. N. Pickering (Rector) officiated, and gave an appropriate and enlightening address.

An adjournment was made to the Parish Hall, at the Rectory, where a bountiful tea, kindly provided by the Rector, was awaiting the ringers, and thoroughly enjoyed.

The business meeting followed, the Rector presiding.—The Rector then read an appeal on behalf of the widow of the late Mr. T. Wallis, of Edenbridge, and 23s. 6d. was collected.

The election of Mr. J. H. R. Freeborn, of Amersham, Bucks, and Mr. H. Wood, of Leyton, Essex, previous to peals, were confirmed. Greenwich was selected as the place of the next meeting, in January.

The District Secretary then read his annual report, which was adopted.

Mr. T. Groombridge, senr., was re-elected district secretary, and in returning thanks for their confidence, informed the members that it must be the last time, as he found it impossible to carry out the duties.—The Rector threw out a suggestion for an assistant, and Mr. H. Audsley, of Crayford, was unanimously elected to the post.—Messrs. J. J. Jeffries and I. Emery were re-elected district representatives, and in acknowledging the compliment, said they should be pleased to bring any suggestions members had to make before the general committee, which was meeting shortly.

A proposal to alter Rule 12 was lost by a considerable majority.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for the use of the bells, for his address, also for presiding, and also to him and Mrs. Pickering for their generosity in providing such a bountiful tea, which had been so thoroughly enjoyed.—The motion was carried, with applause, and the Rector thanked the members. He assured them it had given him and Mrs. Pickering very great pleasure.—This concluded the business, and the tower was again visited.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, hon. librarian of the Central Council, writes that he has received from Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, the copies of the 'Bell News' for which he made request. This completes the Council's file of ringing journals from 1871 to the present date.

At the Guildford District meeting of the Winchester Guild, on Saturday, a collection for the Haslemere Bell Fund was made, and realised thirty shillings. Major Hesse wishes to thank the members for the donation which was the more welcome, as it was initiated by ringers unconnected with Haslemere.

Mr. William John Sevier, of Sncinton, Notts, and formerly of Gloucester, who was familiarly known as 'The Prophet,' will be 58 years of age to-morrow. His friends in many parts of the country will extend their hearty congratulations. Mr. Sevier has assisted in the past in the foundation of several ringing societies.

In connection with the peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Gateshead last Saturday, it is interesting to note that on November 18, 1794, a peal of the same composition was rung in this tower in 3 hours 15 minutes by the Union Society of Newcastle and Gateshead. This peal was rung by five Newcastle and three Gateshead ringers, whilst the recent peal was rung by four Newcastle and four Gateshead men.

In another column we refer to the bicentenary of one of the first peals of Grandsire Triples ever rung. Just 190 years ago to-day another in the same method was rung at St. Aiphege, Greenwich. Very few had been rung in between. Snowden records only four, one at Cambridge, two at Kettering and one at Dover.

The second one at Kettering (rung in 1731) was interesting, from the fact that it is thus recorded, 'Since it was asserted our first performance could not be rung in less than 3 hours and a half, for an experiment and before skilful judges, on ye 12th of April, 1731, ye whole peal of 5040 was completed at 30 changes each minute, in 2 hours and 48 minutes.' There were record breakers even in those days.

The first peal of Royal on handbells was rung at Sheffield on December 3rd, 1811. It was Oxford Treble Bob, and was rung by the men who, a few weeks before, had rung the first peal ever performed 'in hand.' The peals were rung at the house of Mr. William Booth, who took part in them, and who was the maternal grandfather of the late Mr. Charles Hattersley.

On December 4th, 1803, the first peal of Stedman Triples by the College Youths, was rung at St. Mary Abbots, Kensington.

Stedman Triples had, of course, been rung long before, and on December 6th, 1731, the company at St. Michael Coslany, Norwich, rang a composition by Edward Crane, who called the peal. 'This peal contains 5,040 Triple Changes, 2 Doubles only excepted, and is allowed by all judges of the art to be the most Ingenious Peal that till now has been composed.'

Next Tuesday evening the recast peal of ten at St. Nicholas', Brighton, are to be dedicated by the Bishop of Lewes. The old ring had a tenor of 15 cwt, 3 qr, 21 lb. in F; the new peal will have a tenor of 17½ cwt. in E. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have carried out the work, and hung the new peal in an iron and steel frame.

Several of the old bells were from Rudhall's foundry, having been cast at Gloucester in 1777. The ninth was recast in 1812, and the 5th in 1891. The trebles were added in 1888, and converted the peal into the first ring of ten in Sussex.

In connection with the recasting, it is intended to revive the ancient custom of giving a name to each bell. Each will also have a short motto (in addition to having the old mottoes reproduced), so that every bell will ring out its call to praise and prayer.

The foundation of the church goes back into the mists of antiquity, and there have been rectors or vicars of St. Nicholas from Saxon times. The ancient tower of the old Parish Church of Brightelmston was for centuries, until obscured by the growth of modern Brighton, a landmark for sailors navigating the Channel.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION'S ANNUAL DINNER.

The Worcestershire Association makes a point of an 'annual' peal. Many other peals are rung during the year, and the various branches organise official 'quarterly' peals, but there is one authorised each year by the association in annual meeting assembled.

The peal this year was arranged at Badsey, and was rung on Saturday, as recorded elsewhere. It was intended, originally, to ring Oxford Treble Bob, but owing to the band being unable to meet for practice, Plain Bob had to be substituted.

To mark the event, a tea and 'social' had been arranged by the local company. The Vicar (the Rev. W. C. Allsobrook, R.D.) and Messrs. J. Sladden and J. J. Pethard (churchwardens) were present, and congratulated the band upon the musical qualities and striking of the peal.

TWO HUNDRED YEARS AGO. BICENTENARY OF A STROUD PEAL.

Exactly two hundred years ago next Monday, viz., on December 4th, 1722, one of the very earliest recorded peals was rung. This was at Stroud, Gloucestershire, and, so far as reliable history is concerned, was probably only the second peal of Grandsire ever rung. The first was at Norwich in the year 1718.

The Stroud peal is recorded, on a tablet in the belfry, as follows: 'December 4th, 1722, in this place was rung the whole peal of Grandsire Triples, containing 5,040 changes, performed in 3 hours 17 minutes, by these whose names are underwritten: Richard Soyd 1, Samuel Essington 2, Thomas Little 3, John Sander 4, Thomas Jogler 5, Thomas Marsh 6, John Gardner 7, James Chene and Richard Bridges 8.'

What the composition was, there is nothing to-day to tell us. The authors of 'The Clavis' and Shipway suggest that all peals prior to Holt's were false, but many peals were rung before John Holt came on the scene, and, in the absence of figures, it is impossible to condemn all these early peals. Indeed, the first peal rung at Norwich, composed by Garthorn, was demonstrated fairly conclusively by the late Mr. Jasper Snowdon to have been true, and, until the contrary is proved, we are entitled to accept these other peals as true also.

The bicentenary which occurs next Monday is an event that deserves to be fittingly commemorated.

CONFUSION OF NAMES. A CHALLENGE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I see that Mr. S. H. Synmonds complains in your issue of Nov. 24th that the adoption of the title 'St. Edmundsbury' by the Norwich Association has led to a mistake in reporting the Lavenham peal rung on October 19th, and that it is likely to cause further trouble in the same direction. His complaint receives striking confirmation in the same issue, as in reporting the peal of Grandsire Triples at Lavenham on page 741, your compositor has again fallen a victim to the similarity of titles!

I have the greatest respect for the Norwich Association, and can quite understand their old East Suffolk members wishing to remain allied to a body which has such a splendid ringing record. In West Suffolk, however, the case is altogether different, and I for one cannot see that the Norwich Association has any right there 'de facto' or 'de jure.'

Surely the time has come to challenge the Norwich Society to make good its claim to 'St. Edmundsbury' by holding a meeting at Bury St. Edmunds under its present title. If it can do this with the consent of the Ecclesiastical authorities there, and the use of the towers of the Cathedral and St. Mary's, the local Diocesan Association may as well throw up the sponge; but if not, and I think 'not' is the more likely alternative, it is to be hoped that our Norwich friends will see the necessity of receding from an impossible position, persistence in which would ultimately forfeit the respect of many of its well-wishers.—Yours, etc.,

Long Stanton.

H. B. WOOLLEY.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

PRESENTATION TO YORKTOWN DISTRICT SECRETARY.

On Saturday last the annual meeting of the Yorktown District of the Winchester Guild was held at Chertsey. Previous to ringing, the Ringing Master placed a laurel wreath on the war memorial on behalf of the Yorktown district. The following towers were represented: Bagshot, Camberley, Egham, Farnborough, Hersham, Otlands Park, Walton-on-Thames, West Ham, and the local band.

The Guild's form of service was conducted in church, and the Rev. W. E. Colchester (of Winchester), hon. treasurer of the Guild, gave a helpful address. Tea was afterwards served at the Church Room by Mrs. H. R. Stevens and wives of the local ringers.

At the business meeting the Rev. J. Smith (Vicar) presided. A presentation was made by the Vicar to Mr. G. Miles, the hon. secretary, who, much to the regret of the members of the district, has been compelled to retire after 17 years' service, as he was leaving for Brentwood, Essex.—The Vicar (Rev. J. Smith) and Mr. W. Shepherd both spoke in eulogy of the work of Mr. Miles, who suitably thanked the members.

The following officers were elected for the year 1923: Hon. secretary, Mr. J. B. Hossy; Ringing Master, Mr. H. J. Chaffey; representatives, Mr. W. A. Woodrow, Mr. H. J. Chaffey; auditor, Mr. H. R. Stevens.—Four new members were elected.

The following places were chosen for quarterly meetings: Egham, Hawley and Otlands Park, the annual meeting to be at Yorktown.

Mr. W. Shepherd and Mr. E. Nye spoke on the division of the Guild, arising out of the division of the diocese, and the matter, which was to be discussed among the members, is to be brought forward again at the next meeting.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for presiding, to the Rev. H. A. West, organist, and to the Rev. W. E. Colchester for his address at the Guild's service.

MIDDLESEX SURPRISE ROYAL. THE FIRST PEAL OF 'WAIT AND SEE.'

The first peal of Middlesex Surprise Royal has been rung by the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild. This method is the discovery of the Rev. E. Bankes James, who published the figures in 'The Ringing World' on February 17th last, under the heading of 'Wait and See.' It is a very musical method, and, having a clean proof scale, peals without the little bells long in sixth's place are fairly easy to obtain, although a peal with the sixth at home for 12 courses appears to be an impossibility in a 5,040 without parting the tenors. The composition called at St. Magnus-the-Martyr on November 20th, contains eleven courses with the 6th at home, and the figures are appended.

For intricacy this method ranks amongst the foremost, and is calculated to keep the safest ringer on the alert. It was rung at the first meeting for the peal after an abortive start.

The band desire to associate Messrs. A. Mason and W. Miller with the method, and regret that the former was prevented by illness from being in the peal. They wish him a speedy and complete recovery. Mr. Miller acted as reserve on several occasions during the period of practice. The band also wish to acknowledge their indebtedness to the St. Mary's, Walthamstow, Society, for the several opportunities afforded them of practising the method.

STEBBING RINGER'S LONG SERVICE.

A NOTEWORTHY RECORD.

The company at St. Mary's Church, Stebbing, Essex, have a remarkable record of long service and unity as ringers. Mr. E. Hynds, the senior member, has been a ringer at St. Mary's for about 50 years. Messrs. E. Claydon, A. Barker and J. T. Barker have 45 years each to their credit, Mr. H. P. Emery 35 years, and Mr. H. C. Young 23 years.

Four of these ringers, namely, Messrs. E. Hynds, E. Claydon, A. Barker and J. T. Barker (with Mr. H. Gowers, who was then a member of the company) rang a peal of Doubles (5,040 changes) on Stebbing bells on Queen Victoria's Jubilee, on June 21st, 1887. It was rung in 16 methods, and was started at 6 a.m., the conductor being E. Claydon. In commemorating the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria, 1897, five members of this company, namely, Messrs. A. Barker, H. P. Emery, J. T. Barker, E. Hynds and E. Claydon, rang a touch of Doubles of 3,130 changes, in nine methods, 3,130 being the number of weeks contained in Her Majesty Queen Victoria's long reign of sixty years. This was rung on June 26th, 1897, and conducted by J. T. Barker.

The Stebbing bells were augmented to six in 1902, and since that time many of the standard methods have been rung, including Cambridge and London Surprise. These six men have been ringing regularly for Sunday service and practice up to last September, when Mr. Hynds retired through failing health. All are long-standing members of the Essex Association Change Ringers. During their service there have been five different Vicars of Stebbing.

THE GIFFORD MEMORIAL.

MARBLE TABLET TO BE ERECTED.

A meeting of subscribers from various places was held in St. Martin's vestry, Salisbury, on Saturday, Nov. 18th, the Rev. I. G. Cameron (Rector) presiding.

It was unanimously decided to erect a marble tablet in the east wall of the belfry tower in memory of the late Mr. W. W. Gifford, and a drawing of the tablet was submitted and approved.

Mr. L. Harris, hon. secretary, produced the accounts, and it was found that about £1 more would be required to cover all expenses.

Great regret was expressed that the assistant secretary, Mr. F. W. Romaine, was unavoidably absent on account of having met with an accident whilst cycling to St. Martin's Church for ringing on the previous Sunday morning. He came into collision with a motor-car, and sustained a compound fracture of his right leg. His ringing-friends will wish him a speedy recovery.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.*RINGING IN THE FYLDE: HELP FROM PRESTON BRANCH

The monthly meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at St. John's and St. Peter's R.C., both six-bell towers, on Saturday, Nov. 18th. There were quite a good muster of local ringers along with the 'faithful few' from Blackpool. Several members paid a visit to the Ringing Master, Mr. J. Tipping, who a few days previously had been brought home from hospital where he had had a foot amputated, upon the advice of the medical attendant, on account of a diseased bone. They found him very cheerful and looking forward to the time when he will be able to take his place again in the parish church belfry.

Ringing began at St. John's, where there is a light ring of six in poor going order. The belfry is very small and rather noisy. After a few short touches, the ringers went to St. Peter's, where there is another light ring of six in excellent going order. Four of the ropes are on one side of the tower, and two on the opposite side. The ringing chamber is on the ground floor, and probably the arrangement of the ropes was to allow of a clear passage for the clergy to and from the church and presbytery. It makes ringing somewhat difficult, especially to the stranger who rings the second or third. It speaks well for the enthusiasm of the ringers in the past, that they have been able to ring 'broken-lead' Treble Bob methods as well as most plain methods.

At the meeting, the Secretary reported having had a communication from Mr. Taylor, secretary of the Preston Branch, relating to the state of apathy shown in ringing matters throughout the Fylde. Mr. Taylor, who was present, said the Preston Branch were prepared to do all they could to help, and suggested having a combined meeting of the two branches at Kirkham, in January, providing it met with the approval of the Fylde members.

The members agreed to hold a combined meeting at the end of January, the secretary being requested to make arrangements for tea to those who sent in their names.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Taylor for attending, also to the clergy for the use of the bells, brought a good meeting to a close. A little more ringing was indulged in at St. John's, after which the members dispersed.

SURPRISE RINGING PROGRESS.*SOME FIRST EXTENTS.

Practice in some of the higher methods is gradually extending, and the following are among recent noteworthy performances.

At Allesley, Warwickshire, on Nov. 1st, the first 720 London Surprise Minor by all the band and on the bells: C. Aylett 1, F. Pervin 2, H. Summers 3, J. Taylor 4, F. Pervin 5, J. H. White (conductor) 6.

At Aldrington, Sussex, on October 17th, 720 Canterbury Surprise Minor, the first in the method by all the band, and the first on the bells, was rung by R. S. Cherryman 1, W. White 2, F. Trustier 3, A. Cherryman 4, A. White (conductor) 5, G. Steele 6.—On Nov. 14th, the first 720 York Surprise Minor by all the band, and on the bells: R. S. Cherryman 1, R. Stradwick 2, F. Trustier 3, A. Cherryman 4, G. Steele (conductor) 5, A. White 6.

On Nov. 9th, at Market Deeping, 720 Primrose Surprise was rung by H. M. Day (conductor) 1, J. J. Juntun 2, W. Tilley 3, A. Riggall 4, J. Landon 5, W. A. Day 6. This was the first 720 in the method by all the band. A peal in nine methods was attempted, but came to grief in the Cambridge Surprise, through a change course.

The first quarter-peal of London Surprise Major in the County of Notts was rung at Beeston on November 20th, and in addition, was the first in the method by all: W. Clifford, junr., 1, A. Coppock (conductor) 2, W. Clifford, senr., 3, A. B. Moss 4, J. C. Dicken 5, W. A. James 6, F. Blood 7, F. S. Price 8.

At Norbury, Cheshire, on Nov. 16th, for practice, a spliced 720 in five methods, namely: Abbeyville, Croyland, Cambermere, Vale Royal and St. Werburgh, was rung by J. Fernley, junr., 1, J. P. Fidler 2, W. Fernley 3, W. W. Wolstencroft 4, J. Fernley, senr. (conductor), 5, J. W. Hartley 6, and a spliced 720 Oxford and Kent (without 'bobs') composed by H. W. Wilde: J. Fernley, junr., 1, J. W. Hartley 2, W. Fernley 3, W. W. Wolstencroft 4, J. Fernley, senr. (conductor), 5, J. P. Fidler 6. These were the first spliced extents in the methods for the ringing of the 4th.

The first six-score of Bob Doubles by a band of beginners is a notable event in any belfry. At Bedwas, Mon., where there are three bells dated 1744, and three dated 1769, the local company have rung their first 120 on tower bells: A. G. Martin 1, A. Martin 2, A. E. Slatter (conductor) 3, G. H. Martin 4, A. J. Hurford 5, R. Ridout 6. Afterwards, on the same evening, they rang 360 in the same method.

OF TO AUSTRALIA.

At Denton, Lancashire, a 720 Kent Treble Bob was rung on Sunday evening, October 15th, for service by H. Bardsley 1, C. Clayton 2, D. Wilde 3, W. Wilde 4, H. Ellis 5, J. Heckingbottom 6, previous to the departure of Mr. David Wilde, who left for Australia on Saturday, October 28th. On Sunday, Oct. 22nd, the ringers presented Mr. D. Wilde with a fountain pen as a token of their appreciation of his services during the long period of his association with the band.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION*PROPOSED 'TAX' ON PEALS.

A district meeting was held at Wymondham on Saturday last, about 20 members being present from Wymondham, Norwich, Great Yarmouth, Fakenham, North Walsham and Hethersett. The bells of St. Mary's were available from 2 p.m., and they were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Oxford, Kent and Double Norwich.

A business meeting was afterwards held in the School Room, at which the Rev. S. Martin Jones kindly presided. At this meeting the proposed taxing of peals was discussed, and the members present were unanimous that by the payment of 1s. for each peal rung, the enthusiastic ringers were being penalised for endeavouring to keep the art alive. Several suggestions were made, and it was decided that these be forwarded to the general secretary to be brought up at the next quarterly meeting.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, also for so kindly presiding at the meeting.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.*THE WAR MEMORIAL.

The design of the ringers' memorial is now complete, and will shortly be engraved upon the brass.

The Hon. Secretary, Mr. E. Ferry, 16, Gordon Avenue, Gosforth, Newcastle, will be much obliged if members will kindly scrutinise the 'Roll of Honour' which will be found below, and should any error or omission be found, kindly let him know as soon as possible.

NOTICE.*TO THE CLERGY, RINGERS, AND ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

In consequence of the closing down of the Firm, with whom I have been employed as Church Bell and Musical Handbell tuner for upwards of 40 years, in succession to my father (Mr. H. W. Haley), I have decided to carry on the handbell business, and, therefore, respectfully beg to solicit your patronage.

I shall be pleased to execute any orders, however small, at reasonable charges, and guarantee satisfaction.

Prices for new bells, repairs, etc., will be furnished on application.

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

To celebrate the election of the Lord Mayor, Alderman William Bramble, D.L., J.P., of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, a touch of Stedman Cinques, consisting of 631 changes was rung at the Cathedral on Nov. 9th. Alderman Bramble was the last chairman of the Benwell and Fenham Urban District Council before its incorporation with the city and county of Newcastle-upon-Tyne in November, 1904. In business in a large way at Benwell the new Lord Mayor is a native of Beamish, Co. Durham. He was Sheriff of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 1915, is Deputy Lieutenant for the county of Northumberland, J.P. for Newcastle, vice-chairman of the Northern Counties Permanent Building Society, and a great authority on the history of Benwell, a spot where one of the old Roman stations was situated.

REMEMBRANCE DAY RINGING.

STOWMARKET, SUFFOLK.—Several touches of Grandsire Triples were rung with the bells half-muffled. Also 1,008 Bob Major with bells open: W. Welham 1, H. Copeland 2, T. Sparrow 3, S. Sparrow 4, T. RINGWOOD, HANTS.—At the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, a short touch of Grandsire Triples, with the bells half-muffled, followed by 1,470 Grandsire Triples, with the bells open: W. Johnson 1, E. Hendley 2, E. Green 3, H. Goodenough 4, E. Whitfield 5, E. Collins 6, W. Cheater (conductor) 7, E. Bradford 8. Longest touch by ringers of the 1, 3, 5, 6 and 8. Also longest touch as conductor.

A NOTTS AUGMENTATION.

BINGHAM CHURCH BELLS DEDICATED.

All Saints' Day, 1922, is a day which will be remembered long by the inhabitants of Bingham, Notts, when the bells of the ancient Parish Church of All Saints' were reopened, and the two new trebles dedicated by the Archdeacon of Nottingham (Ven. the Rev. W. J. Conybeare). The bells, originally a peal of six, very much out of tune, and very heavy going, have been rehung with entirely new fittings by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of London; they have also been tuned, and two have been recast, so that with the addition of the new trebles they now make a very melodious and sweet-toned ring of eight.

The church was filled to overflowing with parishioners and friends for the ceremony. Most of the clergy from the neighbouring parishes were present, and walked in the procession with the choir, the actual dedication taking place at the end of the second lesson. The Archdeacon, himself a practical change ringer, gave a most eloquent address on the subject of sympathy, and explained to his hearers how wonderfully the message of sympathy in its various aspects was conveyed to all around by the voices of the bells.

After the dedication the bells were rung in rounds for three minutes while the procession of clergy and choristers returned to the chancel, the sound within the building being very pleasant, and the tone of the bells much admired.

At the close of the service the bells were rung in changes for an hour by a band gathered from neighbouring towers by the Rev. G. J. Sturton (Vicar of Orston). Touches of Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were brought round, those taking part being Messrs. Walter and W. E. White (Colgrave), A. Mackears (Long Bennington), A. W. Ward and J. W. Kirtan (Bottesford), S. Proctor (Grantham), F. Spencer (Radcliffe), Rev. G. J. Sturton and H. Clouston (Orston), together with Mr. Albert Hughes, of the Whitechapel Foundry.

When the bells had been lowered in peal, all adjourned for supper to the Chesterfield Arms, where a sumptuous repast had been kindly provided by the Rector (the Rev. H. R. M. Hutt) and the Church Council. After the removal of the cloth a convivial time was spent with toasts, songs and handbell music, about 100 guests being present.

The old peal of six were a mixed lot, and tradition asserts that the second, which was undated, was placed in the tower to commemorate the victory over the Spanish Armada. The founder, Francis Wates, died in 1600. Of the rest, the tenor, inscribed 'All ye that hear my mournful sound, repent before ye lie in ground,' was cast by George Oldfield. The former 4th was cast in 1662, the founder's initials P. H., appearing on the bell with the inscription. 'God save the Church.' Thomas Hedderley cast the fifth and third in 1743 and 1774 respectively, and the former treble, which bears no name of founder, was dated 1730.

The two new bells, in addition to the founders name and date, are inscribed:—

Treble (5 cwt.): The children of Bingham gave me. 'Suffer little children to come unto ME.'

2nd (5½ cwt.): H. R. M. H. gave me. 'Ring out the false. Ring in the true.'

The tenor is 15½ cwt. in E flat.

DIPLOMAS OF MERIT.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Your correspondent should not jump to conclusions. He is wrong in assuming that I condemn all Minor peals. I do not, having rung many myself. The first in seven methods by the M.C.A. was called by me in 1894, and once I walked 34 miles to get a band through a 720. (It is true that Mrs. W. W. thought I was at business, but this is strictly confidential, and must go no further.)

I may mention that I have both in the Press and on the platform, extolled the multiple method ringer, and frequently expressed my opinion that a band struggling through their first peal of Grandsire are worthy of more encouragement than a Surprise company who ring the same peal week after week. It was not of these I was thinking. Let that be clearly understood. The Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor merchant is my bete noir. He is not chained by the leg to his six-bell tower, nor condemned to one method.

The remainder of this letter is dedicated (without permission) to that champion leg-puller, the Peppery professor, otherwise 'Once a Beginner.' His pungency is delightful, and though I fancy I see his portentous wink, I will have at him. Surely the condiment has disorganised his digestion of facts. To-day, anybody can possess a certificate of membership. It means nothing but membership, and the novice who can just manage to steer the treble through a six-score of Doubles—or even ring rounds—is put upon the same plane as he who has reached it may be by years of work—the top of the ladder. I put it to any sensible person: Is it just?

'Once a Beginner' asks: 'Who will pay for a diploma?' Well, who pays now for the certificate? There would necessarily be a fee to cover its intrinsic value, and any ringer would be glad to pay it. Further, if it is not necessary in change ringing, why is it so in music? To say that the report of an association is diploma enough is hyperbole. Is a newspaper cutting of a concert diploma enough for an artist? It is true that an organist without a degree may render a Fugue or a Sonata equal to a Mus.Doc., but the man who can write L.R.A.M. or F.R.C.O. bears the hall mark. The sole object of the diploma idea is to raise the status of change ringing and give the ringer at the bottom an ideal to aspire to. While it is true that higher methods are more popular than formerly, it must not be forgotten that peals are far more numerous than hitherto, and quantity is the main objective. As a newspaper Editor once said to me, 'You bell ringers think of nothing but self-advertisement. A cornet player does not send me word every time he plays a tune.' Any hon. secretary will agree that a very large percentage of members only retain their membership for the report of peals to see the score.

'Once a Beginner' pounces upon my statement that 200 peals of Doubles and Minor are not worth a solitary peal of London. I can see him rubbing his hands with glee and saying to Mistress Pepys (junior): 'I have got him down now.' Well, he hasn't. I shall get out easily. Although 100 peals of Doubles, in points, may outnumber one peal of London, I would like to see the ringer who would consider himself the superior of the 'London' ringer. I also rang London more than twenty years ago, and I reckoned it washed out a lot of Minor rubbish (steady there with the brickbats!).

Does Master Peppery think a vain repetition of the same thing adds to its glory? I don't. What would we think of a singer who wanted to sing the same song several times at the same concert? It amounts to the same thing. In the last report of the M.C.A. (1921-1920) there were 18 of Grandsire Doubles. Of 59 peals of Doubles and Minor there was only ONE in seven methods. I venture to think that even Pepys (junr.) would prefer to ring a peal of London or Arundel Surprise than 100 of the other sort. So, assuredly will the ringers who take part in them some day if they ever arrive at the top. If they are satisfied with the old routine they will never arrive.

This is the gist of the diploma idea. Place the Surprise methods in the 'first-class' category. It follows that the Editor would then also classify them in the peal columns, and those who were not there would strive might and main to get there.

Now I ask 'Once a Beginner,' would such inducement be a good or a bad thing? No flowers by request.

W. WILLSON.

RINGERS' BADGES.

Sir,—After reading the correspondence on this subject I am still unconvinced of the value of diplomas for peals, when seven good men and true can easily get a passenger through; I've been one myself. At the same time, to my mind, Tom Brown, who has rung Stedman Doubles with Bunkum-on-the-Ditch band, has done as much as John Jones, who rang Stedman Cinques with St. Martin's, Birmingham.

No, sir, the only diploma any good is 'First in the method by all the band.' This does denote progress. How many can the 'cracks' wear? Truly does the poet say: 'Some men are born great, some acquire greatness; others thrust it on themselves.' These are not concrete ideas; nor yet 'Derby Brights.' To the best of ringers, the best is sufficient reward.—Yours, etc., T. H. VALLANCE.

A 'TAX' ON PEALS.

An interesting subject was discussed at a district meeting of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association the other day, namely, a proposal to put a 'tax' of one shilling upon the ringers of each peal. What the actual suggestion before this Association is we have no knowledge beyond the bare statement that appeared in our last issue, but the matter is one which ringers generally have an interest in. Among associations who keep specially written peal books, it has been in the past the general practice to charge a 'booking' fee, for the collection and payment of which to the society the conductor is generally held responsible. These peal books originated in days long before the modern ringing organisation came into existence, and form some of the most valuable and often the only records we have of the performances of bygone days. When, within the last half-century, there came a more or less wholesale formation of territorial associations, the practice of entering peals in specially kept books was adopted by a good many; but the value of these records was discounted by the publication of annual reports, in which the peals were printed. As a result some associations have decided, on the score of redundancy as well as of economy, to drop the writing up of peal books.

In these days, however, another factor enters into the question. The number of peals rung has so vastly increased that if any of the leading peal-ringing societies now kept their peal books written up, without a booking fee, they would find serious inroads made upon their funds. In the same way many societies are finding that the cost of reproducing a large number of peal records in their annual report is inflating the printing bill to such an extent that the question of omitting some of the details has had the serious consideration of more than one society. There are, in most associations, some members who take the view that, as the peal records are responsible for a considerable part of the expense of the reports, those who ring the peals should help to provide a share of the cost. It is true that this would penalise the enthusiastic peal ringer, and there is much to be said against such a 'tax.' On the other hand, there are the finances of the association to be considered, and if the income will not meet the expenditure on account of the cost of the reports, it is a question whether a 'booking fee' should be instituted, and the peal ringers bear something of the expense they have created, or whether the general body of members should pay a larger contribution. Such a position, where it arises, needs very careful consideration before a decision is taken, for on the one side it may prove a serious handicap to peal ringing, or on the other, it may cause grave discontent among the non-peal ringing section of a society.

PROPOSAL FOR BELL RESTORATION FUND.

A most successful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Goole on Saturday, Nov. 25th, and was attended by about 30 members, from Hatfield, Howden, Hull, Poutefract, Selby, Snaith, Sutton and Thorne, the bells being kept going to the various standard methods during the afternoon. Service was held at 4 p.m., the preacher being the Vicar (the Right Rev. Bishop G. D. Iliff, D.D.), who delivered a most able and thoughtful address. It was hoped that the Bishop of Sheffield would have spoken, but unfortunately at the last moment he was unable to be present.

A sumptuous tea was afterwards partaken of in the Church Schools. The business meeting was held immediately afterwards, under the chairmanship of the Vicar, supported by the vice-president (Mr. A. E. West), the Rev. E. F. Ladds and the Rev. T. Milner (curate), and the two churchwardens, Messrs. J. A. B. Milner and H. S. White, were also present.

It was then decided that the next meeting, which will be the annual, shall be held at York.—Two new members were elected to the association, viz., Mr. Arthur Cryer (Selby) and Mr. J. Thompson (Howden).

The following resolution was brought forward, and carried unanimously: 'That the association consider a scheme for a Bell Restoration Fund, by making collections at the general and district meetings.'

Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and his splendid address, to the organist, to the ladies for serving at the tea tables, and to the local ringers for their excellent arrangements.

This brought the meeting to a close, members adjourning to the tower for further ringing.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. William E. Garrard, who has been elected as Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths for the present year, has been a well-known figure in London ringing for many years, and has been one of the mainstays of the St. Mary Abbot's Guild, Kensington.

From a letter which we have received from Mr. F. J. Cole, of Natal, South Africa, we learn that a young band is pegging away at Grandsire in that distant part of the world. Progress is naturally slow, but hopeful. Mr. Cole's company consists of all young men, who, until a year ago, had never seen a bell.

Mr. G. H. Cross writes that the peal which he recently conducted at East Dereham was not the first of Kent Treble Bob on the bells. A peal in this method was rung there on May 21st, 1901, and Mr. Cross has to thank Mr. E. F. Poppy for the information.

At the annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild to-morrow, the bells at Exeter Cathedral will be available to 6.30 p.m. This should be a great attraction to visiting ringers.

To-day is the anniversary of the 'five ones' of Stedman Caters rung at Fulham by the College Youths on Dec. 8th, 1883, in 7 hours 12 minutes. Although that was nearly forty years ago, six of the band are still in the ranks of active ringers, the oldest survivor being Mr. Ted Horrex.

The first peal (Stedman Cinques) at St. Paul's Cathedral was rung on Dec. 10th, 1881, and of the band that took part Mr. Horrex is, we believe, the last survivor.

A record which stood for nearly 80 years was set up on Dec. 9th, 1833, when the Painswick Society rang, in 6 hours 50 minutes, 10,224 Treble Bob Maximus. It was not until 1911 that this was exceeded by a peal of 12,240 in 8 hours 39 minutes, at Ashton-under-Lyne.

On Dec. 10th, in the year 1793, the Junior Cumberland Society rang a peal of 5,111 Grandsire Caters at St. Sepulchre's, Snowhill.

The peal rung at South Wigston, and reported in our last issue, was composed by Arthur Knights, and not F. Robinson, as stated.

WHY NOT A REFERENDUM?

Dear Sir,—With reference to your interesting article in this week's 'Ringing World' I must confess that I do not see how a referendum would help matters in East Anglia. The crux of the whole situation is the creation of the new diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich. This deprives any association outside that diocese of any claim to the title of 'Diocesan,' as far as the county of Suffolk is concerned. This is a most important consideration for anyone who has an understanding of ecclesiastical affairs. It was recognised at once by the Ely Diocesan Association, which promptly relinquished its claim to West Suffolk, and is equally operative with regard to the Norwich Association, whether recognised or not. For better or worse, the whole of Suffolk with the exception of the north-east corner, is now included in the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, and by that very fact is cut off from any 'Diocesan' connection with Norwich. It is, of course, possible, and, as I have said, quite comprehensible that the old East Suffolk members who have grown up, as it were, in the Norwich Association, should wish to continue their connection with that deservedly flourishing society, but they must sooner or later come to understand that it is no longer a 'diocesan' connection. How can it be? Ringers cannot vote themselves out of one diocese into another, and as a fresh generation of incumbents and ringers arises in East Suffolk the influence of the diocese is bound to make itself felt more and more. Otherwise, a district could belong to two different dioceses at the same time, which, as our old friend, Euclid, would say, 'is absurd.'

If the Norwich Association would only recognise this fact, which must be patent to every unprejudiced churchman that it is not, and never can be, the 'diocesan' society in any diocese but its own, one can imagine that it might be possible to formulate some scheme by which the two diocesan associations in East Anglia could work together in harmony and mutual helpfulness. But the preliminary necessity for any such federation is the recognition of the complete independence of the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, and its right to organise itself under its own Bishop. Any claim from Norwich to be a 'St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich' Diocesan Association is inherently weak, in that it violates this fundamental principle of diocesan organisation, and however strong the Norwich Association may be at the moment, it is bound eventually to end in failure, and thwart the very object for which it is made.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

The following officers have been elected for the year: Master, Mr. W. E. Garrard; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. A. Hughes; senior steward, Mr. R. T. Hibbert; junior steward, Mr. P. E. Clark; trustees, Messrs. C. F. Winney and Walter Prime; hon. secretary, Mr. W. T. Cockerill.

DIVISION OF WINCHESTER DIOCESE.

NEW RINGERS' GUILD PROPOSED.

The annual meeting of the Guildford District of the Winchester Guild took place at Guildford, on Saturday, Nov. 25th, and was well attended, members being present from Aldershot, Chiddingfold, Clandon, Cranleigh, Dorking, Farnham, Godalming, Holy Trinity and St. Nicolas, Guildford, Haslemere, Mottis, Shere, Witley, Woking, Worplesdon, etc. The bells at Holy Trinity (8) and St. Nicolas' (10) were rung in various methods during the afternoon, and a service was held in St. Mary's Church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Canon E. C. Kirwan). The Guild service was used, and an address was given by the Rev. C. E. C. LeRoy, Rector of Chiddingfold.—A capital tea was partaken of at the Star Hotel, 84 sitting down.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Walter Harrison occupied the chair, and was supported by Canon E. C. Kirwan, Canon G. F. Coleridge (President of the Central Council), Major J. H. B. Hesse, Mr. N. Vincent, Mr. J. J. Jones, and others.

The hon. secretary (Mr. E. Raddon) presented his report, which showed a substantial balance to be forwarded to the general treasurer.—The Ringing Master's report was also read and adopted.

The election of officers resulted in Mr. E. Raddon being re-elected secretary; Mr. A. C. Hazelden, Ringing Master; Messrs. J. J. Jones and R. Whittington, representatives on the Central Committee; and Mr. W. H. Tunnell, honorary auditor. Mr. W. R. Melville was re-elected chairman of the district committee, and the places selected for the meetings during the forthcoming year were: February, Farnham; April, Chiddingfold; May, Ewhurst; July, Ashted; September, Woking, and the annual at Guildford.

An important discussion then took place on the division of the diocese, and how it would affect the Surrey districts of the Guild.—The Chairman, in dealing with the matter, said, when the division actually took place, he hoped the ringers would have decided upon a scheme to solve the question of the division of their Guild.

The question was discussed from the ringers' point of view, Canon Kirwan and Canon Coleridge taking part, and the majority were in favour of forming a new Guild for the whole of the new diocese of Guildford.

A sub-committee was appointed, consisting of three clergy and six laymen from different towers to confer with members of the York-town district, and the towers in the Dorking and Leatherhead areas, with a view of formulating a scheme, to be submitted to all the towers in the proposed new diocese, and with instructions to report at the annual meeting in November, 1923.

The usual vote of thanks to the chairman, the Rector and organist, was passed, after which the company enjoyed a 'social' arranged by the Ringing Master. The Cranleigh ringers also gave selections of tunes on handbells to the great delight of the audience.

DIPLOMAS OF MERIT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—If Mr. Willson is so anxious to raise the standard of ringing and the morale of ringers (either through the press or on the platform), he would do better to keep to the subject of diplomas, letters, etc., and not get into personalities, which are quite outside the point at issue. It would give greater encouragement to the 'bete noire' he is so anxious to wipe out, if he would go and help them to ring the London and other 'Surprises' at towers only possessing five and six bells. These number over 200 per cent. more than the towers with a higher number of bells, and whilst they remain as such, so will Doubles and Minor be rung.

It is impossible to form a standard covering the whole range from five to twelve bells inclusive (if such a scheme is wanted), and it would be far better to keep 5, 6, 8, and so on, in separate classes, as they in no way coincide.

In my humble opinion, the ringer who earns the 'O.M.' [I doubt if any want it] is the one who has rung on all numbers, and is willing to do so at any time, and not those who isolate themselves with a particular band, or set of methods, or class. In conclusion, I would ask Mr. Willson when writing to stick to plain English, as his remarks on 'bete noire' [which means a black beast and a bugbear] is insulting, and condemns the whole object in one sentence.—Yours truly,

ERNEST MORRIS.

WEST COUNTRY RESTORATIONS.

The peal of six bells at the fine old church at Landulph, Cornwall, have been restored. The bells are now hung on modern fittings, with patent adjustable bearings, by the famous West of England experts, Messrs. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford. The bells were tested last week by several sets of ringers, who were highly pleased with the improvements and 'go' of the bells. Messrs. Aggett are commencing this week the restoration of the peal of six at St. Budeaux, Plymouth, which are to be completed by Christmas; also of the peal of six at Bisington (Devon).

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

SPLENDID SERVICE OF SOUTH ANSTON RINGERS.

One of the most interesting meetings in connection with the North Notts Association was held at South Anston on Saturday week. The church contains a good going ring of six bells (tenor 12 cwt.), out very much out of tune. There is also a band of ringers with an enviable reputation who can ring methods from Plain Bob to London Surprise, and with an average of 35 years' service, all of whom are choirmen, sidesmen, communicants, or hold other church offices. It was at this home of good six-bell ringing that the association met under most favourable climatic conditions. It was a gloriously fine autumn afternoon, without a cloud in the blue sky, and the picturesque villages of North and South Anston, crowning with their red roofs the steep hills on either side of the valley, through which runs the stream forming the head waters of the River Ryton, presented a very pleasing view to those members who stood in the churchyard listening to the bells which were swinging merrily in well-struck touches of different Treble Bob methods. There was a fairly good attendance of members, and several from kindred associations, and the absent ones missed a very pleasant day's outing, and an equally social gathering. The following towers were represented: Anston, Harthill, Barborough, Killamarsh, Shireoaks, Ordsall, Tree- ton, All Saints', Sheffield; Rotherham, Hoylandswaine and Work- sop. The Anston ringers were in attendance to welcome the visitors, with their keen and enthusiastic youngster, G. T., whom the writer succeeded in getting through his first 120 changes with a bell. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Kent and Oxford, Killamarsh, Sandal, Violet, London Scholars, Duke of York, London, Cambridge and Wells Surprise.

The Anston ringers and clergy had arranged a short service, a suitable address being given by the Vicar (the Rev. Robt. Hodgson). A 'knife and fork' tea was provided in the clubroom of the Square and Compass, and the business meeting followed.

The Secretary (Mr. H. Haigh) gave notice of a desire of the Retford ringers for a meeting at that place in January, 1923, but as Work- sop was considered the most central and convenient, the latter place was chosen.—Mr. W. Stubbley, of Sheffield, was elected a non-resident life member.

The Hon. Secretary proposed a hearty vote of thanks be accorded to the Vicar (the Rev. Robt. Hodgson) for use of the bells, for presiding over the tea and meeting, and for his inspiring address to the ringers; also to the organist, and to the host and hostess for their excellent catering.

The Vicar, in reply, said he was always delighted to welcome the ringers to Anston, and to hear the bells rung to intimate a great festival of the church. Another way in which a peal of bells was useful in a parish was that they created a new department of willing ministry to God. A good peal of the bells rung in the right spirit created a new ministry, and he was pleased to say from knowledge which he obtained that the status of the church bell ringers had reached a high standard. He was highly delighted with all the kind words that had been spoken of him by the hon. secretary, and complimented him on the precise report given of the Hanworth meeting. The hon. secretary had reminded him of the necessity of increasing the peal from six to eight to complete the octave to keep company with the only two peals of ten and eight at Retford and Work- sop respectively, and also to encourage his own band of ringers to take up eight-bell ringing, as they had now reached the height of their zenith on six bells. He hoped to have the bells rehung with new fittings, and returned as speedily as possible, and hoped further that the two additional bells would follow.

The bells were kept going until 9.15 p.m.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Western District of the Hertford County Association was held at Hemel Hempstead, on Saturday last, and was fairly well attended by members and friends from Apsley, Berkhamstead, Croydon, Edmonton, Harpenden, King's Langley, Tring, St. Albans, Watford, Whitwell, Isle of Wight, and the local tower. During the afternoon and evening touches of Kent and Oxford Treble and Plain Bob, Grandfire and Stedman Triples were brought round. A service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the curate (the Rev. A. Brooke-Westcott), the Vicar (the Rev. A. E. Robson) being unable to attend. Tea, by kind invitation of the Vicar, was served in St. Mary's Hall, and was followed by the business meeting, at which the curate presided.

The tower elections of Messrs. H. and W. Lear and J. Mead, of Bleckley, and K. G. Edwards, of Calverton, were confirmed.—Northchurch was selected for the next place of meeting, on Feb. 3rd, 1923.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and the splendid tea, also to the curate for his address and presiding over the meeting.—Thanks were also given to the caretakers of St. Mary's Hall for the kind way they looked after the ringers' comfort at tea. This brought the meeting to a close. The tower was again visited, and further touches rung.

WICKEN CHURCH BELLS. DEDICATION OF NEW TREBLES.

On Wednesday, November 8th, the Bishop of Leicester visited Wicken to dedicate the new treble bells, which have just been hung in the church tower to make a peal of eight.

The bells have been hung on a new framework of steel girders fixed to the existing oak beams already in the tower. At the same time the old framework has been bolted and strengthened, and all the bells have been taken out, overhauled and readjusted, and the clappers refitted. The work has been carried out by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, at a cost of over £200, and the parish now has a peal to be proud of.

The service of dedication took place in the evening, when many ringers from neighbouring villages showed their interest by attending with a large congregation of parishioners. The service began with the hymn, 'Hark, hark, my soul,' sung in procession, followed by the Lord's Prayer, and Psalm cl. A short lesson from Numbers (chap. x.), telling of the making of the silver trumpets for the gathering of the congregation, and to be blown 'in the day of your gladness and in your solemn days,' which trumpets, as the Bishop pointed out, were the earliest predecessors of the bells of to-day, and were used for the same purpose. The lesson was followed by the Cantata and the Creed, and then the choir and clergy singing 'Angel voices ever singing' proceeded to the tower screen, where the Bishop, after offering prayers for God's blessing upon the ringers and parishioners, upon those who are called by the bells to worship, and upon those for whom they shall ring their passing from the world, solemnly dedicated them 'to the greater glory of God's House and to the honour of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost.'

Whilst the congregation stood, the ringers rang 16 rounds before the choir returned to the chancel singing 'Whens'er the sweet church bell peals over hill and dell, may Jesus Christ be praised.' The Bishop then gave a most interesting address, tracing the origin and use of bells in Christian service from earliest times, mentioning the earliest records of their use in the Church of England, and so following their history down through the centuries to the present time.

It was altogether a very glad and bright service of thanksgiving. The following rang during the service and afterwards: Messrs. G. Green, L. Smith, T. Read, J. Roberts, F. Case, H. Birdsey, G. Cooper, A. J. Green, and ringers from Stony Stratford, Calverton, Passenham and Leckhamstead.

On Sunday, November 12th, 1922, for morning service, 168 Grand-sire Triples: H. Birdsey 1, A. J. Green 2, T. Roberts 3, F. Case 4, L. Smith 5, G. Cooper 6, T. Read 7, G. Green 8.—For evening service, the first part of 100's Ten-part peal: H. Birdsey 1, A. J. Green (conductor) 2, T. Roberts 3, F. Case 4, L. Smith 5, G. Cooper 6, E. C. Lambert 7, T. Read 8. All are local ringers except E. C. Lambert.

PAID SERVICE RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—Your comments on above are true and just, but this matter requires more treatment even to aggressiveness.

Is it not insufferable and beyond all bounds of reason that ringers who receive payment shall by their actions deny progress to those that are not paid? Take a case in point. I know one ringer who has rung longer in a band than any other member without payment, and with what result? For years past little beyond 120 of Grandsire Doubles has been rung. Literature is banned from the tower; not one member belongs to an association, and all this at a tower containing a handy ring of eight in a town of 60,000 inhabitants. This unpaid ringer has stood his corner at all times where social and charitable matters have obtained in the company, and yet they seem to say and mean it too: 'You may come at our pleasure, but not at yours. If you want practice nights pay us; we cannot waste our time in such strenuousness.' Is it not time that associations recommended the clergy to act in these matters. If the parson does not do his duty he is quickly told to do it. The doctor may be paid something for his acts of mercy. The lawyer can be paid if he chooses, but the parson seldom and too often, never. This spirit of apathy, canker would be a better word, denies many a ringer that spirit of enjoyment that should be his, and certainly would be but for the want of a little more sense and justice. —Yours, etc.,

CHARLES DALTON FOTTER.

BOYS' QUARTER-PEAL.

At St. Mary's Church, Acton, Middlesex, on Sunday, for afternoon service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes), taken from 'Carter's Old Bob' peal, was rung in 42 minutes by the following band, whose average age is 17 years: A. H. Fulwell (age 16) 1, Robt. Fardon (18), conductor, 2, A. M. Stacey (16) 3, C. W. Roberts (18) 4, H. G. Wincote (18) 5, W. Rushon (16) 6, F. W. Goodfellow (17) 7, H. J. Hunnisett (18) 8. This was the first quarter of Stedman by ringers of the 1st, 3rd and 8th, and the first quarter in the method as conductor by Robert Fardon.

NEW PEAL FOR MORETONHAMSTEAD. A DEVON RESTORATION.

Congratulation was the keynote of the address given by the Bishop of Exeter at St. Andrew's Church, Moretonhampstead, on Friday, Nov. 24th, on the occasion of the dedication of the peal of eight bells 'to the glory and service of God and in remembrance of the men of Moretonhampstead who gave their lives in the late war.' There was a crowded congregation, including friends of various religious denominations. After the address the Bishop of Exeter, together with the Rector and Messrs. A. Blackmore and M. S. Cox, the two churchwardens, proceeded to the western tower, and formally dedicated and handed over the peal to the Rector's safe keeping. The local ringers then rang a few rounds on the bells, which proved to be a very musical peal. The tenor is about 15 cwt. A representative band of the Devonshire Guild (Exeter branch) rang 504 Grand-sire Triples: W. J. Southwood 1, W. Drake 2, T. Bartlett 3, W. Leithbridge 4, F. J. Davey (conductor) 5, C. Glass 6, W. Richardson 7, F. Gardner 8, after which a touch of Stedman Triples was rung with Mr. J. Sheppard, of Swindon, as conductor, and Mr. Pyall, of Christow, ringing the tenor.

The following is the inscription on the bells:—

1.—When I call, follow me all.

2.—God save the King.

3.—God preserve the Church.

4.—Prosperity to this parish.

5.—James Pynes, D.D., Rector. James Pynes, gent., and Nicholas Lightfoot.

6.—Mears and Stainbank, Whitechapel Foundry, London. In loving memory of Elias and his wife Betsy, late of Lynacott, by their children, 1894. Mora Vestrea Vita Mea. Rev. W. C. Clark, Rector.

7.—In memory of the great war, 1914-1918. I am the voice of life. I call you come and pray.

Tenor.—Remember the men of this parish, who in the great war, 1914-1918, endured all, gave all. Live thou for England, they for England died.

The name of Pennington, as founder of the first five, and the date 1762 are preserved. In addition there are on the bells the names of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who have recast and rehung the bells, and of the present Rector, the Rev. S. D. Dewey, and Messrs. A. Blackmore and M. S. Cox, the churchwardens, with the date 1922.

The work has been admirably done by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of the Croydon foundry, and reflects great credit on the Croydon firm. The tone and quality of the bells are much admired, and they are hung in a steel and iron frame of splendid workmanship. The cost of the restoration has been considerably over £1,000, and the whole has been cleared off, except a few pounds which it is hoped will be raised by Christmas.

DEATH OF A ROCK FERRY RINGER.

The death occurred on Nov. 10th of Mr. John Thomas Howarth, a much-respected member of the band at St. Peter's Church, Rock Ferry, Cheshire, at the age of 70 years. The end came very suddenly. He arrived home from business apparently in his usual health, and had partaken of his evening meal. A short time afterwards he went upstairs prior to going out, but when he reached the top of the stairs he fell forward and expired almost immediately, the cause of death being heart failure.

The deceased joined the Rock Ferry band in January, 1918, and took part in the first quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles rung on the bells by an entirely local band, on May 1st, 1921. He had taken part in two quarter-peals of Grandsire Doubles, and also in a 720 of Plain Bob Minor, and was very regular and punctual in his attendance.

The funeral took place on Nov. 14th, the first portion of the service being held in St. Barnabas' Church, Rock Ferry, as St. Peter's Parish Church was closed for restoration. The interment took place in Bebbington Cemetery. There were many floral tributes, and amongst them was one from his fellow ringers at Rock Ferry.

The following touches were rung in the evening, with the bells half-muffled as a tribute of respect by his fellow ringers at St. Peter's, Rock Ferry, 720 of Grandsire Doubles: F. Banton 1, W. Dean 2, R. Fitzsimmons 3, E. Hughes 4, H. Martin (conductor) 5, H. Young 6.

On Sunday, Nov. 19th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes): F. Banton 1, W. Dean 2, H. Martin 3, E. Hughes 4, J. Cooke (conductor) 5, H. Young 6. Deceased is the first member the band has lost by death since the recasting and augmentation of the bells in 1914.

THE PEAL AT SHEFFIELD CATHEDRAL.

The first peal on the bells at Sheffield Cathedral since they have been rehung and returned by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank was rung on Saturday. It was the second attempt, the first having failed in the homing course, after ringing 3 hours 57 minutes, and all the bobs had been called. The peal was rung by the Cathedral Company of Sunday Service ringers, a performance that has not been equalled at this tower for over twenty years. It was also rung in honour of the 78th birthday of Queen Alexandra.

SALOP ARCHIDIACONAL GUILD.

ST. CHAD'S BELLS 'NOT AVAILABLE.'

A well-attended meeting of the Salop Archidiaconal Guild was held at Wellington, when ringers from Birmingham, Worcester, Shrewsbury, Ellesmere, Stanton, Coalbrookdale, Hadner, Malinslee, Sheriff-hales and Wellington, were present. After ringing during the afternoon, the Rev. F. Tennison (St. Alkmund's, Shrewsbury) presided over the business meeting, at which a letter was read stating that the bells of St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, would not be available for the annual meeting. The meeting addressed a letter to the Archdeacon expressing regret, and hoping that he would find it convenient to alter his decision. Failing this, it was decided to hold the annual meeting at Wellington, the most central tower in the area.

Malinslee and Dawley were selected for the next monthly meeting. The company then adjourned to the Y.M.C.A. Cafe, where an excellent tea was provided. Before leaving, two courses of Grandsire Caters were rung on the handbells. The company then returned to the tower, and some very nice touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob and Bob Major were rung. To close a very pleasant meeting a touch of Stedman Caters was rung on the handbells.—A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the vicar for the use of the bells, and the local band for making the arrangements for the meeting.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION. PRESTON BRANCH.

About 50 members of the Preston branch met at Walton-le-Dale, on Saturday, November 11th, for the purpose of unveiling two peal tablets of slate on oak backgrounds, beautifully designed and of excellent workmanship. One recorded a peal of Minor in seven methods rung in honour of Mr. Robert Woodhouse, who has taken an active part in church work, both in the choir and as churchwarden for upwards of half a century; the other recorded a peal, also in seven methods, to mark the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson. Mr. Robinson has been sexton and a ringer for nigh on 60 years. All three were present, and took part in the proceedings of the afternoon.

During the afternoon a short service was held, at which Canon H. J. Elsee, President of the Association, gave an address, immediately after which as many as possible ascended to the ringing chamber where the Vicar (the Rev. W. Askwith) unveiled the two tablets and dedicated them.

Ringers and friends then adjourned to the Schoolroom, where an excellent tea was provided. The Vicar gave a hearty welcome to all present, and spoke of the long service and devotion to church work of the two gentlemen in whose honour they had gathered. — Mr. Woodhouse replied.

Votes of thanks were tendered to all who had so bountifully provided for the ringers, and especially to the ladies for their services and presence.

A short meeting to discuss the affairs of the branch was then held, the President occupying the chair.

The desirability of trying to arrange a combined meeting with the Fylde branch was discussed. Several spoke in favour of the proposal, and it was eventually unanimously agreed that the secretary should write to the Fylde branch and try to arrange such a meeting, suggesting Kirkham and January as a suitable place and time.

Congratulations were tendered to the band who recently scored a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Whittle-le-Woods, especially to those who accomplished their first peal, and to the conductor who hails from a six bell tower.

During the afternoon and evening various Minor methods were rung, including Cambridge and London Surprise. The next meeting is the annual social at Chorley, notice of which will be given in due course, and the officials would like to see members of the association from other branches, with their wives and friends, especially those of the adjacent branches of Blackburn, Wigan and Bolton, to which Chorley is easily accessible. The only condition is that they send notice of their intention of being present in good time.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Bedford District was held at Bedford on Saturday, November 18th. A short service was attended by the members in St. Peter's Church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. E. Gilbirt). Arranged by Miss D. Steel, tea followed in St. Peter's Hall.

At the business meeting, Mr. E. Herbert, of Woburn, was voted to the chair, and members were present from Turvey, Harrold, Clapham, Bromham, Kempston, Roston, Sandy, Clifton, Woburn, Willington, St. Paul's and St. Peter's, Bedford, and Thurlough. The secretary's report was presented, and four members of the committee were re-elected, Mr. P. Inskip, of Kempston, being elected in place of Mr. L. Orpin, who is in France.

After some persuasion, Mr. H. L. Harlow again undertook the secretaryship, and was cordially thanked for his past services.

Amongst the visitors were Miss Robinson (daughter of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson), and Mr. C. Dean, of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Croydon.

A vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, his address, and for the use of the hall, also to the ladies for waiting at the tea tables, and to the chairman, brought the meeting to a close.

The bells were kept going during the evening, various methods from Doubles to London Surprise being rung.

BAGSHOT. — On Tuesday evening, Sept. 12th at St. Anne's Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 46 mins., by members of the Winchester Guild (Yorktown branch): Miss Margery Wood 1, J. Corbett 2, Miss Mabel Nye (conductor) 3, E. Barlow 4, C. Barlow 5, Q.M.S. G. Gilbert, R.E., 6, P. Nye 7, H. Hunt 8. The ringers of the 4th and 5th hail from Sandhurst, 6th from Aldershot, 8th from Yorktown, the rest were members of the local band. This is the first quarter-peal by the ringers of the 4th, 5th and 8th, and the first conducted by Miss Nye. It was rung as a farewell to the conductor, who is leaving the district.

POOLSTOCK, LANCS. — On Saturday, October 7th a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung, after meeting short for Double Norwich, by B. A. Knights (conductor) 1, E. Jenkins 2, E. Cutsforth 3, T. B. Worsley 4, J. H. Riding 5, T. Barlow 6, R. P. Deal 7, W. Busby 8. First quarter of Stedman by tenor man, whose age is 70 years.

STEPS TO THE HIGHER METHODS.

The letter of a correspondent which we publish in another column, asking for advice as to which Surprise method is easiest for a band to start upon and how long it should be before the first plain course is rung, opens up an avenue for a wider discussion than that which strictly applies to the questions raised. Here is a company able to ring Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major. They desire to go on to Surprise ringing; what are the proper stepping-stones? It is quite certain that here is ground upon which ringers will be not all of one mind. The limited number of methods practised until recently, made the choice a very restricted one, and Superlative and Cambridge were practically the only route by which one could reach the higher level of London or Bristol, the former being still looked upon as the limit of intricacy in Major ringing.

Nowadays, however, there is a wider range of methods, and it is probably only the innate conservatism of the Exercise that retains in general practice Superlative as the first stage after Double Norwich and Treble Bob. We are not going to say that this method and Cambridge do not form the best steps of progression, but, while ringers of only a generation or so ago, had to rely solely upon these, ringers of to-day have a more varied choice of pathways to fame. There is an opening for some accomplished and unbiassed exponent of the art to write a treatise upon the subject of campanological progression, showing alternative routes from Plain Bob to London Surprise. The shortest may not necessarily be the easiest, for all ringers are not of equal ability. There are some men who need weeks of practice before they can thoroughly grasp a strange method, others who are gifted enough to start confidently for a peal with only a paper study of it. Our point, however, is this. The usual stage from Double Norwich to Superlative, with the change from regular coursing which is involved, or to Cambridge, with its omitted dodges and other pitfalls for the beginner, is too much for some ringers, and forms a stumbling-block to progress which they never surmount. It may be lack of confidence, it may be want of ability, but, whatever it is, there it is.

What we want is a treatise which will enable the least gifted to proceed step by step without difficulty to the higher methods, and such a thing is possible now, when there are quite a number of good methods available between the two extremes. It is not always a simple matter for a man who is a competent ringer, able to assimilate a new method with ease, to put himself in the place of a less able man and realise the difficulties which he finds in venturing into new fields. To many ringers who have done quite well, up to a stage, there is a very wide and a very real gulf between Double Norwich and Treble Bob and the Surprise methods, and it is for that reason we have said that Associations ought seriously to consider the question of sending out instructors to help bands with higher methods, just as now some of them send out men to teach Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Ashford District was held at Biddenden on Saturday, Nov. 25th, about 30 members attending, including a strong contingent from Brabourne. Touches in the four standard methods were brought round, the striking being 'par excellence.' The Rector (the Rev. Collis) officiated at the service, and tea was served at the Red Lion Hotel, the Rector presiding.—In reply to a vote of thanks, he gave a cordial welcome to all, and hoped they had found their newly restored peal satisfactory, both as to tone and 'go.'—It was worthy of note that three lady members of the district took part in touches of Grandsire Triples, viz., Mrs. Gatehouse, Mrs. Baker, Miss Thomas. The members were sorry to miss their old friend, Mr. L. Honess. There were signs that he is sadly missed and wanted, as he did so much for the cause at Biddenden, where there appears to be no Elisha to take his place, but it is hoped Biddenden's loss will be Wingham's gain.

BIRTHDAY RINGING.

At Wooburn, Bucks. on Saturday, Dec. 2nd, an attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples was made, but unfortunately, after about 20 minutes' good striking, the peal failed. The ringing had been arranged for a birthday compliment to A. Hoing and F. Boxall. A quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,264 changes) was afterwards rung by A. Hoing 1, J. W. Wilkins (composer and conductor) 2, G. Twilchen 3, F. Boxall 4, E. Markham 5, E. R. Coles 6, J. Blackmore 7, C. Mayne 8. First quarter-peal by the ringers of 6th, 4th and treble.

LADIES' GUILD.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT BRISTOL.

The quarterly meeting of the Western Branch of the Ladies' Guild was held at St. Michael's (City), Bristol, on Saturday, when there was a large attendance, including Miss E. K. Parker (general hon. secretary), and visitors from Devizes, Cardiff and Burnham-on-Sea, twenty towers being represented. During the afternoon touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Minor were rung. The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. G. Arrowsmith), and immediately after the visitors adjourned to the Boys' Club for tea.

The Rector said how much pleasure it gave to them in St. Michael's to welcome the members of the Guild and their friends, and he hoped they would all come again.—Mr. W. A. Cave, on behalf of the Guild, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector, and to the organist and choirboys for their services.

During the evening a large number visited St. Philip's and rang touches of Cambridge, Stedman and Double Norwich.

Miss Parker presided at the business meeting, and expressed her pleasure at being with them in Bristol once more.—The secretary and committee of four were re-elected, and Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Wilkins were chosen to represent the Western District on the general committee.

Miss Parker said she very much hoped that representatives of the district would be able to attend the next annual general meeting, which would probably be in London in July.

Portishead and Mangotsfield were both proposed for the next quarterly meeting, and, Mangotsfield being chosen, it was left to the secretary to arrange this if possible on either the first or second Saturday in March.—One new member was elected, viz., Miss Nellie Moulding, of Stratton St. Margaret's. Miss Williams, who has lately come to live in Bath, was given a hearty welcome to the district.

KELVEDON RINGER'S DEATH.

The Kelvedon, Essex, company have lost by death one of their young members, Mr. E. J. Dale, who passed away at the age of 20 years. The funeral took place on Saturday, and on Sunday evening, at St. Mary's Church, 720 Boh Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled: G. Mayes 1. W. Keeble (conductor) 2. G. Hayward 3. J. Elliott 4. L. W. Wiffin 5. W. Elliott 6. This was followed by 360 in the same method, with E. Bone 5, and the ringing concluded with the 'whole pull and stand' rung twenty times. Much sympathy is felt with the deceased's family. His father and brother are ringers at St. Mary's Church.

MEDIAEVAL BELLS AND THEIR FOUNDERS.*A BELL LECTURE TO SHEFFIELD C.E.M.S.

At the meeting of the Handsworth (Sheffield) branch of the C.E.M.S. on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 3rd, when about 50 members and friends attended, a paper on Mediaeval Bells and their founders was given by Mr. A. T. Baker, who dealt with the subject in a very interesting and comprehensive manner, the lecture being illustrated by a number of sketches of old bells, founder's marks, shields, crosses, stops, types of lettering, and decorations. He described the evolution from the long-waisted hemispherical bell of the 13th century, to the more compact form of bell in the 20th century, pointing out that this change came about very slowly and unobservedly from the 14th century, and had been achieved almost unconsciously. It was undoubtedly caused by the introduction of scientific change ringing, for which bells of present form were more adapted than the old long-waisted bells.

Mr. Baker showed how an approximate date could be given to bells without inscription or other distinguishing marks, and explained how, by a knowledge of the various marks used by the Metropolitan and provincial mediaeval founders, we may with safety attribute a bell to its origin, and obtain an approximate date of founding. The style of type used on 13th, 14th and 15th century bells, respectively, Roman, Lombardic, and black letter, were excellent criteria in allocating bells to their proper period, though overlapping caused some little trouble to the uninitiated. For example, at Whiston, where there are two genuine mediaeval specimens, cast by John Danyeld, of London, and royal bell founder (1450-1461), these bells proudly displayed the royal coat-of-arms. On the other hand, confusion sometimes existed, as in the 4th at Thrybergh, which bear the royal head stamps used by John Rufford, of Toddington, who was appointed bell founder to Edward III. in 1367, but this bell was cast by Henry Dand, of Nottingham, in 1586, who seems to have used any of the old stamps that had come into his possession from his predecessors, for on this same bell was also the shield of the last of the mediaeval founders in Notts, i.e., Mellows. The chief tell-tale characteristic, however, was the initials of Dand, 'H.D.', in fine Lombardic capitals, which goes to prove conclusively which of the three was the actual founder. The speaker also went on to show how Dand's work was probably mistaken for pre-Reformation more than any other founder's, owing, no doubt, to his habit of using any scrap of mediaeval alphabet, etc., that he could lay his hands on to 'decorate his bells.'

The lecture was greatly enjoyed by all present, and proved the important part bells had played in our church for many generations, and the priceless value of some of these old relics.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A two-hundredth anniversary is a rare occurrence in the history of change ringing—we have not yet got to the period when bicentenaries are frequent—and it is interesting to hear that the early Stroud performance was commemorated by a peal in the same method. But for the attention called to the anniversary in these columns, we believe the event would have passed unnoticed.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus on Saturday completed a very interesting sequence for the Heriford County Association, which has now to its credit peals of Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus in this method. Can any other association claim a similar performance? We have doubts.

As will be seen from our notice columns, the Middlesex Association meeting at Stanmore, which was to have been held on Saturday, has been postponed. It had been intended to hold it in conjunction with the reopening of the bells, which have been increased from six to eight, but it now appears that one of the old bells was found to be cracked, and is to be recast, so that the dedication could not take place on the date fixed. It is hoped that the work will be completed before Christmas.

The order to recast and hang in a new cast-iron frame, the peal of eight at Gravesend, Kent, has been placed with Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. Congratulations to Mr. 'Ted' Hadlow, who has been successful in collecting £400 towards the Restoration Fund. It is hoped to have the new peal in by Easter.

In the effort to set up record lengths, one of the earliest twelve-bell achievements, was at St. Saviour's, Southwark, where on Monday, December 15th, 1735, a peal of 8,008 Grandsire Cinques, 'being the longest peal that has ever been done on 12 bells,' was rung in 6 hours 25 mins. There were three men to the tenor, and Benjamin Annable called the bobs.

At Christ Church, Spitafields, where there are now only eight bells, a peal of 5,886 Stedman Cinques was rung on Dec. 15th, 1806. The peal of twelve perished in the fire that destroyed the church.

The first peal in South Africa was rung at Woodstock on Dec. 15th, 1904.

A peal of Canterbury measure Major was rung for the first time on December 17th, 1888, at Warnham, Sussex, where in the following March a 13,440 in the same method was rung.

On December 19th, 1853, the first peal of Stedman Triples ever rung double-handed, was accomplished at the 'Three Kings,' Clerkenwell, by John Cox 1-2, Thomas Powell 3-4, H. W. Haley 5-6, Thomas Brittan 7-8. It was witnessed by 19 members of the College Youths and the Cumberlands, but the composition was afterwards, we believe, condemned as false.

The six bells of Benington, Lincs, are rung for both services on Sundays by six members of the same family, consisting of Mr. J. W. Lakin (father), three sons and two daughters, one aged 14 and the other 12 years. The girls have only been taught to handle a bell during the last six weeks, but ring rounds and queens quite creditably, and, as the father and brothers are change ringers, no doubt we shall hear more about them in the future.

A dinner to honour the memory of William Doubleday Crofts, who was a pioneer of change ringing in Nottingham, and who died in 1809, is to be held in Nottingham on January 27th.

A peal of Stedman Caters, the first on the bells, was rung at St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpool, on Tuesday week. The previous peal in the method in Liverpool was rung at St. Peter's Church on March 13th, 1888. The peal last week was the more noteworthy from the fact that it was the first in the method by all the hand. The bells have never had an enviable reputation, but the peal was excellently rung.

A curiosity about the old bells at St. Nicholas' Church, Brighton, which Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have just recast, was that the 7th was a heavier bell than the 8th. They were both cast by Thomas Rudhall at Gloucester in 1777, the 7th being 9 cwt. 0 qr. 4 lb., and the 8th 8 cwt. 3 qr.

We understand the two new bells for Exeter Cathedral have already been cast at the Loughborough Foundry, but it is doubtful if it is possible to get them open before Christmas.

PAINSWICK RINGER'S CENTURY.

Mr. Frank Cole completed his one-hundredth peal on Saturday, December, 9th, 1922. He has rung all the bells at Painswick to a peal. He also rang the tenor to the first peal of Bob Maximus on the bells, and took part in 6,335 changes Grandsire Cinques in 4 hrs. and 24 minutes, another of 7,325 in 5 hours, and the record of 13,001 Grandsire Cinques in 8 hours 45 minutes. By a coincidence he rang his one-hundredth peal on the same bell as his first. His peals are: Grandsire Doubles, 8; Triples, 38; Caters, 25; Cinques, 14; Bob Minor, 5; Major, 4; Royal, 3; Maximus, 2; Stedman Cinques, 1.

BRIGHTON'S NEW PEAL OF TEN.*REVIVAL OF AN OLD CUSTOM.

The dedication of the recast peal of ten bells at St. Nicholas Church, Brighton, took place on Tuesday in last week, and the tower is now in possession of a very fine ring.

The bells, which have all been recast on the 5-tone Simpson principle, the tenor having been increased in weight to 18 cwt., note E, have been rehung in a steel and iron frame with new fittings throughout, including ball bearings to the gudgeons and rope rollers and screw cap greasers to the clapper tops. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who have carried out the work in a characteristically efficient manner, are to be congratulated on the 'go' of the bells, while the perfect musical tone is much appreciated.

Following an old custom, the bells have been named, and old inscriptions have been reproduced upon them.

Treble: GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEO.

2nd: GABRIEL. Ave Maria.

3rd: MARY. Magnificat.

4th: ST. JOHN. In principio.

Fear God, Honour the King.

5th: ST. PETER. Tu es Christus.

Peace and Good Neighbourhood.

6th: ST. PAUL. Gratias Deo.

7th: ST. GEORGE. Pray for England.

8th: ST. WILFRID. Pray for Sussex.

9th: ST. RICHARD. Pray for this Diocese.

Tenor: ST. NICHOLAS. Pray for our Children. Pray for our Sailors. Pray for this Town.

I to the Church the living call.

And to the Grave do summon all.

It is interesting to note the origin of the three last names. St. Wilfrid brought the Gospel to Sussex in 681. St. Richard was Bishop of Chichester, 1245. St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, 325, is the patron saint of children, of sailors, and of the church, which for centuries was the parish church of Brighton (formerly Brightelmston) until this dignity was transferred to the more modern and larger church of St. Peter.

THE DEDICATION.

The dedication service on St. Nicholas' Eve was preceded by even-song, and an address by the Bishop of Lewes, who told of the message of the bells. 'And what a message they have for this modern town of Brighton!' said his lordship. 'It is splendid that the bells should share in the revival of Church life, for I am old enough to remember when belfry and ringers were often a scandal to the Church.' All that is changed to-day, but the bells still have their message. In this church of the saint of the sailor, the children and the poor—the oldest landmark in Brighton—the bells have looked down through the ages. They have looked down through the centuries upon the little fishing village that has grown into a modern town of pleasure—aye, of pain, too. No doubt when Brighton was attacked in 1513, and again in 1545, the bells of St. Nicholas rang out the alarm to call the people from the countryside. They also called the old fisherfolk to prayer and worship, and shared in the joys and sorrows of the Brighton of that day. A city set on the hill cannot be hid, and for all time St. Nicholas will stand as the old historic church of Brighton, and as she bears witness to the faith of ages, so must the lives of those who worship there bear their witness too. 'God give us grace to echo back the message of the bells—glory to God on high, and on earth peace and goodwill to men.'

The opening touch was rung by the St. Nicholas Society: W. Palmer 1, A. York Bramble 2, R. Stredwick 3, H. Rann 4, F. Tindall 5, G. Ades 6, F. Bennett 7, F. Palmer 8, C. Palmer 9, J. Jay 10; and after the service the bells were rung by visitors from various parts of the country, the methods including Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Treble Bob Royal.

The following day, being St. Nicholas' Day, a peal of Stedman Caters was attempted, but came to grief after two hours' good ringing. The ringers were: W. Palmer 1, J. Jay 2, R. Stredwick 3, H. Rann 4, G. Ades 5, Cyril F. Johnston (Croydon) 6, F. Bennett (conductor) 7, A. J. Turner (Lewes) 8, C. Palmer 9, G. Bleach 10; and in the evening further ringing took place by the local company and visitors.

MANCHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS.*PROPOSED RESTORATION AND RECASTING.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester branch of the Lancashire Association was held at the Town Hall, Manchester, on Saturday, December 2nd, when a large body of ringers was present. The methods rung included Cambridge Surprise Royal.

At the business meeting, Mr. J. W. Washbrook, senr., was voted to the chair, and strongly impressed upon those present to go in for good striking, as nothing appealed to the public outside more than to hear bells well rung.

The Cathedral was selected for the next meeting, on Saturday, January 13th, but it was pointed out by Mr. W. C. Bridgeford that, owing to the bells going badly, they were on the point of being rehung and possibly recast. It was, therefore, proposed that, failing their being available, the meeting be held at Miles Platting.

Votes of thanks to the authorities, the local ringers, and the chairman, brought the meeting to a close, and touches on the handbells were indulged in till a later hour.

A 'TAX' ON PEALS.*THE NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY AND IPSWICH ASSOCIATION'S POSITION.

When the article in our last issue on the above subject was written, we had not before us any particulars relating to the circumstances which led up to the discussion of the subject at the district meeting of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association. By the kindness of the hon. secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman) we have since been furnished with a copy of a circular issued to the members of the association. The reasons advanced for suggesting a charge of a shilling per peal were put forward on the very grounds which we discussed in our article, viz., the large increase in the number of peals which throws a heavy financial strain upon the association in printing the records in detail in the annual report.

The committee of the association have decided to retain the present form of printing peals in the annual report, but to meet the deficit on the accounts which is likely to result the decision to impose the charge was come to. The circular announcing the decision concludes:—

'At the moment it is left to the good feeling of men who have rung peals, whether they pay for those already scored this year, but after the receipt of this circular we hope they will help us in the way indicated, by supporting us in the liabilities we have accepted in continuing the printing of peal records as hitherto.'

THE WAY TO SURPRISE RINGING.*To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I should like to ask your advice about the taking up of a Surprise method. I suppose it would have to be either Cambridge or Superlative. Now, which of the two would you consider to be the easier for an ordinary company, who ring for two services on each Sunday, have a weekly practice, and who already ring Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major? After deciding on which method to aim at, there would be at least some written instructions handed to each member to digest at home before anything could be done in the belfry. Now, specially, I want to ask, how long should it be, after receiving what instructions can be given, before practice is attempted; and how long ought it to be, after this first practice, before the first 'plain course' is achieved?

Any advice that can be offered will be gratefully received by
WILLING TO LEARN.

Opinions will probably differ as to which is the easier method to learn, Superlative or Cambridge, although the former is the one usually first tackled. Personally, we think there is very little to choose. Each has its difficulties and pitfalls for the beginner, and especially for a band comprising men entirely new to Surprise ringing. Our advice, for what it is worth, is, fix upon one—no matter which—study not only the work of one bell, but the manner in which the work of each bell fits with rest; in other words, get a knowledge of the whole plan of the method.

As to how long it should be before practice begins, and before a plain course is achieved, that, surely, is a matter which depends entirely upon the human factor; upon the mental capacity, and the keenness of the ringers. If they mean business, a week's study, and, say, a couple of evenings' practice ought to see them through a course, if they will apply all their knowledge of Treble Bob, and especially of Double Norwich to the fresh method, and not look upon it as a thing which has no relation to that which they have rung before.—Ed. 'R.W.'

A LONG DELAYED ACHIEVEMENT.

Some of the bells at Ringwood, Hants, date from 1763, but the first quarter-peal on the bells by a local band has only just been rung. This was Grandsire Triples, on December 5th, and it was rung in 48 minutes by W. Johnson 1, F. Green 2, G. Street 3, E. Hendley 4, E. Whitfield 5, E. Green 6, W. Cheater (conductor) 7, E. Bradford 8. First quarter-peal by the ringers of the 2nd and 3rd (age 16).

WHY NOT A REFERENDUM?

NORWICH CLAIM TO OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF SUFFOLK RINGERS

To the Editor.

Sir,—Your correspondent, the Rev. H. B. Woolley, in his letter in last week's issue, entirely misrepresents the case. 'Norwich' does not, of course, claim to be the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association; but the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, which is a union of two separate diocesan associations—the Norwich, and the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich—does claim to be entitled to style both its branches diocesan.

And what right have the Suffolk members of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association to this title? The right, that they embrace in their diocesan branch the majority of the ringers of that diocese. In your interesting leading article of the 1st inst. you suggested a referendum, of which Mr. Woolley apparently is afraid. For all practical purposes, that referendum has already been taken. It suffices to take the membership rolls of the two associations concerned to see how overwhelming a majority of the ringers in Suffolk claim allegiance to the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan branch of the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association.

If Mr. Woolley's plan of sorting up ringers into separated diocesan organisations were to be admitted, it must be applicable elsewhere than in Suffolk. Thus it would follow that such well-known associations as the Yorkshire, the Lancashire, the Midland Counties, the Durham and Newcastle, the Gloucester and Bristol, to take the leading examples, would have to be dismembered. And what would happen to London ringers? To what diocese would they belong?

Another point. There is in your correspondent's letter the assumption that by some means the Norwich Diocesan branch has acted arbitrarily in imposing its will on the members of the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich branch. A little reflection would have shown him that there could indeed be no such compulsion. Membership of any association rests entirely on a voluntary basis, and it must, therefore, be presumed that the individual ringers who have elected to belong to the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich branch of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association know their own business. All decisions that have been taken, and all resolutions that have been passed, as regards Suffolk, have been constitutionally carried at their own branch meetings in Suffolk, and, therefore, must be taken to represent the wishes of the majority of the Suffolk ringers.—Yours very truly,

G. P. BURTON.

DIPLOMAS OF MERIT.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I am puzzled to understand the hysterical letter in your last issue over the name of Ernest Morris, 24, Coventry Street, Leicester. When the writer of it has recovered, I will be glad to learn where the 'personalities' occur in my previous letters. Neither your readers of adult age, nor myself, require to be taught the literal meaning of phrases to be found in any dictionary. To accuse me of being 'personal,' and in the same breath advise me what and what not to do, betrays the fact that as far as he is concerned 'a little knowledge is a dangerous thing.' Whoever advised him to 'butt in' in this foolish fashion may have been 'his flatterer, but not his friend.'

Either he is incapable of understanding humorous colloquialism, or the abnormal desire to see his name and address in print on every conceivable opportunity impels him to attract attention to himself by a worn-out device of 'personality' where none exists.

This is a discussion of a possible policy where 'personalities' have no part, but if any feel that the cap fits their particular heads, they would be foolish to 'give themselves away.' If Ernest Morris, or anyone else, can add to the discussion pro or con, they should do so by argument, but parrot cries are simply a waste of good postage stamps.

—Yours, etc.,

W. WILLSON.

December 10th, 1922.

GOOD WORK ITS OWN REWARD.

Dear Sir,—When I opened my copy of the 'Ringing World' this morning, I really was most awfully bucked to see all the splendid diplomas it contained for various members of the art and science which we profess. Not to mention my own particular award of merit: yes, there it was; all newly done in gilt and adorned with sugarplums, with 'a present for a good boy' on top like my birthday cakes used to have. I really was delighted to discover that I had so many good qualities and so many implied compliments. Coming, as they do, now I have reached the 'sear and yellow leaf' stage (and the white heather has long bloomed on my hilltop), makes me wish I had entered for my Diploma long years ago. William, accept my gratitude; but why 'no flowers,' my friend? I had thought that distributing largesse in the garland and laurel wreath line was your long suite just at present. However, I tender my humblest if I am wrong. William, you didn't specify in your letter (page 679, date Oct. 27th) that you did not include the multiple method peals. You should have been explicit, then we shouldn't have had a chance to infer things. All honour to you, or anyone else, who goes a long distance to help a young band; and if you did say you were 'on business,' was it not the truth? And very good 'biz' at that. Now, if you just tip me the wink, on the strict Q.T., of course, who is your pet 'flea that troubleth' in the Bob Minor line? He shall be boiled in oil, and his head shall adorn the top brick of the Willson keep and for ever grin defiance to those who dare to please themselves and go ringing to perpetrate more peals in one method only. It really is disconcerting, after a good supper, to have the thought flash across one's mind that perhaps in one's own parish someone might be foisting upon the society, which is one's own particular pride, his 100th peal of Plain Bob Doubles, an it were in order to get someone through his first peal is no excuse. However, that is no reason why diplomas should not be issued to those who are so vainglorious as to wish to pay for them. But we cannot class ringing with music for this purpose. The great inspiration of ringing is its service to the church, and I believe it should be done with no thought of reward, and if diplomas were granted for various stages in ringing, and our good Editor sorted out the wheat from the tares, giving Surprise a front seat, it would cause more strife still, and it would to some extent do away with that equality which should exist in our ranks. No, good Mr. Willson, let us do our ringing with no thought of reward other than the knowledge of good work well done. I don't remember that the Master in His charge to His disciples mentioned anything about the diplomas they were to acquire. Nor did the widow ask one when she dropped her mite into the plate. Were ringing not an adjunct to the worship in our church, and were our experts billed to appear in so and so town as concert stars are, then I should agree with Mr. Willson, give 'em all they want in that line. But I don't agree that diplomas will encourage young ringers to aspire to the top of the tree. I believe that 90 per cent. wish to get there now, with no thought of reward. The other 10 per cent. are not an ornament to the Exercise. I believe that the very best diploma any man could have is for his fellows to say of him, when he has gone to his rest, that he did his utmost to bring others up to his own standard, and did not scorn the humblest methods as a means to a glorious end. I do not think, nor have I ever said, that vain repetition of a thing adds to its glory. It cannot do; it is the great reason why the thing is repeated time and again that is the peculiar glory of ringing. It is not merely the intricacy of the method which is the attraction. There are many who put their heart and soul into Plain Bob Minor because they love the sound of their bells and the service they are offering. No, William, you can't place the Surprise methods in the 'first class' category; you can't place them anywhere but where they have already placed themselves. They are an easy first now. I note, with pleasure, your remarks re the 59 peals of Doubles and Minor rung by your association in 1921-22. I should have thought it was a sure sign of progress, and that someone was at work among the hedgerows. I noted that the Surprise peals were also in evidence, and good young blood ringing 'em, but you are on the spot, and should be able to put the house in order if any one man can. But I shouldn't discourage those six bell towers, their membership counts for more than a little to all societies, and are the backbone of more than one. Anyhow, you have my good wishes in the work before you, and should you succeed in substituting for the peals of Minor you object to, others in seven Surprise methods, I will be first to say you have earned the highest honours the M.C.A. can bestow. But if you are the real heartwhole ringer I take you to be you won't want a paltry thing you can hang on your wall. Your reward will be in the approval of your compeers. Real ringers do not want paper puffs. Would-be-but-can't ringers are not entitled to such notice. Only those puffed up with conceit would take them up. The real stuff lets its actions speak louder than the diplomas on the parlour walls.—Yours merrily,

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.*BLACKBURN BRANCH MEETING.

Saturday last was a red-letter day in the Blackburn Branch of the Lancashire Association, when a meeting, held at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Blackburn, was made noteworthy by the unveiling of a peal tablet in the ringing chamber. It contains the record of first peals rung by the local company in five different methods, viz., Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee, Vicar of St. George's, Bolton, and President of the Lancashire Association, the Rev. E. Hanson, Vicar of St. Michael's, and the Rev. H. C. Barathy (curate) also taking part in the ceremony.

Canon Elsee, in a short address, paid a high tribute to the work of the local company, and also spoke very encouragingly to all present, putting special stress on the importance of good striking and of all ringers giving of their very best for Sunday service ringing.

On the invitation of the Vicar and ringers, tea was partaken in the Church Institute, an excellent meal being served to between 60 and 70 ringers and friends.

The business meeting was held afterwards, the Rev. E. Hanson presiding, supported by the Rev. Canon Elsee, the Rev. H. C. de Barathy, Messrs. Sharples and Blackshaw (churchwardens), Mr. J. H. Banks (ringing secretary of the Lancashire Association), etc.—The Rev. E. Hanson spoke of the great interest taken by Canon Elsee in the association, and also of his kindness in coming from Bolton to unveil the tablet.—Mr. A. Tomlinson, on behalf of the local ringers, thanked Canon Elsee for the tribute he had paid them, and for his goodness in coming to perform the ceremony. He also thanked the Rev. E. Hanson, the Rev. H. C. Barathy, Messrs. Sharples and Blackshaw for the kindly interest they had taken in the proceedings. He also said how grateful they were to the visitors from other branches who had come over and helped to make the day so enjoyable.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Accrington on Jan. 13th.

A little more ringing was indulged in before the members dispersed. No less than 13 towers were represented at the meeting.

GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.*FOREST BRANCH SECRETARYSHIP.

The annual meeting of the Forest Branch was held at Westbury-on-Severn on Saturday. The bells, a beautiful heavy peal of six, were raised at 3 p.m., and kept going till 4.15, when service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Kelley). A splendid tea was afterwards partaken of at the Lion Hotel, the Vicar being in the chair, and 25 ringers, including two ladies, were present. Mr. Colchester Wemyss and Mr. Cadle were also present.

The business meeting followed, at which the Rev. A. Kelley was elected president for the ensuing year.—Mr. J. Williams, who had held the secretaryship for several years, notified the meeting that he should like to relinquish that office if anyone else would take it on, and Mr. Walter Gleed, of Westbury-on-Severn, was unanimously elected to fill the office.

It was decided to appoint an assistant secretary, the district being a very large one. Mr. J. Williams offered to fill the post and look after the northern part of the district.—This was carried, and Mr. Williams was thanked for his past services.

The usual votes of thanks concluded a very successful meeting. The towers represented were Westbury, St. Michael's, Gloucester; Littledean, Blaisdon, St. Briavels and Newent.

Will ringers kindly note that the new secretary's address is Westbury-on-Severn, near Newnham, Gloucester?

EXETER BELL RESTORATION.

The bells of St. Petrock's Church, Exeter, have been restored as a parochial war memorial. On Sunday week they were reopened and dedicated, together with a handsomely designed marble tablet, containing the names of the twelve men from the parish who gave their lives in the war. The tablet is also inscribed: 'To the Glory of God and in ever-loving and grateful remembrance of the men of St. Petrock's and St. Kerrian's who gave their lives for right and freedom in the great war, 1914-1918, this tablet was erected and our ancient bells restored.' The dedication was performed by the Sheriff of Exeter (the Rev. Canon D. McLaren), and the tablet was unveiled by the Mayor.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, a short touch was rung on the restored bells, some of which date back to the reign of Henry V. The 'Last Post' and 'Reveille' were sounded by buglers of the Exeter Cadet Battalion, and the service, which had been very impressive, concluded with the National Anthem and the Benediction.

The work of restoring the bells has been very satisfactorily carried out by Messrs. T. Doble and Sons, of Taunton, to the entire approval of the bell committee, and of the ringers, who, after the conclusion of the service, rang several six scores of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, the bands representing the local towers of St. David's, St. Sidwell's and Heavitree. Every hope is expressed that a new band will soon be forthcoming to take over the tower and bells, as they are a nice light ring. Tenor 5½ cwt.

The new ropes were given by Mr. W. J. Southwood, of Exeter.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very successful meeting of the Ludlow district was held at Tenbury on December 2nd, those present including the Diocesan Ringing Master (Mr. Chas. Edwards), the District Ringing Master (the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson), local ringers, and visitors from Bredebury, Bromfield, Kimbolton, Ludlow and Staunton-on-Arrow. On arrival at the belfry the visitors were met by the Vicar (the Rev. E. F. Wintonington Ingram), who extended to them a hearty welcome. Good fortune favoured the company, as in addition to a bright service (with organ accompaniment), and an address full of interest and encouragement, the Vicar entertained the party to an excellent tea in the Parish Hall, with local ladies to wait upon their needs.

While the tables were being cleared, courses of Grandsire Triples and Caters were rung upon the Rev. Richardson's sweet-toned handbells.

The Vicar presided at the business meeting, and stated that he would gladly become an honorary member, and the district secretary reported that the Bromfield and Tenbury ringers had decided to join the Guild in the New Year.—It was proposed by Mr. C. Edwards, and carried, that the annual district meeting take place at Bromfield on January 20th next.

After a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, lady helpers, organist and Tenbury ringers, the company again adjourned to the tower, when touches of Oxford and Plain Bob Minor, Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles were indulged in.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of this Guild was held at Bilston on Dec. 2nd, when members from various towers, and including five lady ringers from Smethwick, kept the bells going in various methods till five o'clock, when the Vicar (the Rev. G. C. Ford) conducted service, and gave an inspiring address.

Tea and meeting followed, and Mr. George England occupied the chair.—Four new ringing members were elected, and Dudley was chosen for the next meeting, which will be the annual.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar, organist, and ladies, who had arranged for comforts of the ringers by providing a splendid tea. It was also resolved to send a letter of congratulation to the veteran ringer, Mr. W. R. Small, upon attaining his 83rd birthday.

CHIPPENHAM BAND'S FINE PROGRESS.

At Chippenham Parish Church, for evening service, on St. Andrew's Day, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 42 minutes: E. Perry 1, E. Trueman 2, W. Hulbert 3, C. Lovelock 4, L. Ambrose 5, S. Wiltshire 6, F. Lambeth (conductor) 7, H. Powell 8.

Since the Armistice, the above band, together with R. Pearce and A. Dale, all local and Sunday Service ringers, have learned to ring Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Double Norwich, and are now tackling Superlative, to be followed by Cambridge in the New Year. They have no help from outside, and their progress speaks volumes for their keenness and perseverance.

LONDON.—At St. Olave's, Hart Street, on Wednesday, Nov. 29th, 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor: W. H. Hewett 1, F. Hairs 2, C. W. R. Grimwood 3, C. V. Ebberson 4, J. A. Trollope 5, R. Sanders (conductor) 6. First 720 of Cambridge by all.

BELLS, CARILLONS, CLOCKS.

TWELVE-BELL PEALS.

Close upon the completion of the peal of twelve at Taunton, and even before the new bells to be placed in the Cathedral at Exeter to increase the ring to the highest number, have been opened, comes the announcement that Macclesfield is to have a peal of similar number. The rings of twelve thus continue steadily to mount up, and the latest addition will supply the first in the county of Cheshire. This year Leicester and Taunton have been completed, Exeter put in hand and Macclesfield decided upon, not a bad record for one twelvemonth, especially if the complete restorations at Sheffield and St. Martin's-in-the-Fields be added. This is an evidence of increasing interest in bells on the part of the public and of Church authorities, for it has to be remembered that the augmentation and restoration of rings of the lower numbers have been going on in equally encouraging manner.

But with this growth of rings of twelve, there is a noticeable absence of twelve-bell peals, when it is remembered that there are already forty twelve-bell towers in this country. A cursory glance through the pages of 'The Ringing World' shows that up to last Saturday 34 twelve-bell peals on tower bells had been rung since the beginning of this year, and of that number no fewer than 19 were rung in and around London, while, of the remainder, four were rung at Painswick and three at Birmingham, leaving only eight, spread over six towers, for all the rest of England! Is this, one may well ask, a really satisfactory record? The bulk of the peals in the London district was rung by three companies, with, of course, slight variations of personnel, and that, subject to the same qualification, leaves only nine other bands of twelve-bell ringers to score peals in practically a whole year. Yorkshire with five twelve-bell towers, rang one peal; Lancashire with three, rang none at all. Nor can the poor result throughout the country generally be attributed to the fact that in many places the bells are unpealable. Local conditions, over which ringers have no control, may have done something to prevent peals in some places; but there must be other causes, to be found among the ringers themselves, to account for the state of affairs which this brief survey reveals.

There is work for many Associations to do in the new year if they would bring twelve-bell peal ringing to the level it ought to be. Where the bells are at fault, every influence should be brought to bear to get them restored. Where it is the ringers who are the stumbling-block, tactful assistance, encouragement or advice could be offered. We realise the difficulties in these matters, but no association ought to rest until it is able to claim at least one peal a year on the bells of every twelve-bell tower in its area. In only fourteen towers (six of them in or near the Metropolis) have twelve-bell peals been rung this year. That in itself is proof that something should be done, and if the associations, who are more particularly interested, cannot move, who can?

'INJUSTICE TO FIVE AND SIX BELL RINGERS'

To the Editor.

Sir,—I quite expected Mr. Willson to get out his battle-axes and slay me, but not in the way he attempted. There is no need for 'cap-fitting' to answer his letter on page 795. The personality I meant in my previous letter was that of 'W. W.' himself, for the first part of his letter on page 765 simply iterates what he has rung; where he has walked; what he is now doing; and this is quite outside the diploma scheme. You, sir, very wisely cut out one paragraph from my letter which showed my meaning perhaps too plainly.

Regarding the word 'bete-noire,' two private writers have pointed out my error in taking the literal meaning of the word, but also tell me such words are merely the stock-in-trade of the cheap journalist and hack writer.

I am quite able to uphold and state my own views without a prompter such as 'W. W.' insinuates, but to answer a ridiculous letter such as his on page 795, is impossible. There is no sense or argument in it. As far as self-advertisement is concerned, I think he knows more about that than I do.

I simply pointed out (without flowery language) his injustice to our less fortunate brethren with only five and six bells to practise on, and my 'hysterical' letter was the result of being so surprised at his attitude, when I possess documents he himself wrote supporting my views in the past. They make very bad reading against his present attitude.

I have received during the present week many letters of protest against such injustice to the five and six bell ringers, from which, did space and time permit, I would give extracts, but Mr. Willson or any other ringer can see them if they care to. It may be said why don't they write to the 'Ringing World' 'direct,' but it must be understood that most are ringers in country villages who feel themselves not up to such a standard of education as Mr. Willson's, to carry their letters through the Press.—Yours sincerely, ERNEST MORRIS.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

'A right merrie Christmas' to all our readers.

When we referred the other day to the anniversary of the first peal at St. Paul's we said Mr. Ted Horrex was the only survivor. We are glad to be able to say that there is still another member of the band who is alive and meeting the society: Mr. W. Tanner, who rang the eighth.

Mr. Tanner is living at East Ham. He is the one remaining member of the band that rang the first peal in Scotland, Grandsire Triples, at Dundee in 1873.

Forty-five years ago to-day the first peal by the Lancashire Association was rung.

The Christmas holidays have always been a favourite time for long peal attempts and several records, some of them afterwards broken, have been made during the Yuletide festival. Here are a number of noteworthy performances:

December 26th, 1831, 15,168 Kent Treble Bob Major, at Elland, Yorks, in 8 hrs. 43 mins.; 1885, 8,064 Double Norwich Major at Leiston in 5 hrs. 4 mins.; 1894, 9,312 Superlative Surprise at Crawley, Sussex, in 5 hrs. 20 mins.; 1910, 9,728 Superlative Surprise at Clent, Worcestershire, in 5 hrs. 52 mins.; 1901, 11,111 Stedman Cinques, St. Martin's, Birmingham, in 8 hrs. 2 mins.

December 27th, 1904, 17,104 Double Norwich Major at South Wigston, Leicestershire, in 10 hrs. 35 mins.; 1909, 10,176 Double Oxford Bob Major at Brierley Hill in 5 hrs. 55 mins.

One of the earliest peals of Treble Bob on record, of which the composition has been preserved, was rung on December 27th, 1718, by the Society of Union Scholars, at St. Dunstan's Church. It was described as Union Bob, and was what we now know as Oxford Treble Bob.

Thirty years ago, on Boxing Day, 1892, the first peal of Double Norwich was rung in Hampshire. This was rung on the back eight at Christchurch Priory Church, and later in the same day the same band rang another peal in the same method at St. Peter's, Bournemouth.

Youth honouring age was the underlying feature of the peal at Old Windsor on December 13th. Five boys (two of 15, two of 16 and one of 17) took part in a peal by the Sunday Service band to honour the 74th birthday of another member, Mr. J. Guttridge. And there were six first peals!

It is seldom that the services of an umpire are requisitioned for a tower bell peal, but in ringing the Rev. H. Law James' short-course seven-part peal of Stedman Triples at Bushey, which, after many attempts, was successfully brought round on Saturday, the band had a competent ringer to check the calls and the course ends.

Reference to the figures will show that an unscrupulous conductor could 'wangle' his part in the business, and the Bushey men, and particularly the conductor, were determined there should be no opportunity given to anyone to reflect upon their performance—wherein they are to be congratulated.

About ten attempts were made before the peal was rung, the last failure, about a fortnight ago, being in the last course, when the conductor, who admits that he 'got the wind up,' made a miss call.

'All ringers are welcome, and their efforts will be appreciated by the villagers,' is a note appended to the information that applications for permission to ring at Almondbury, Huddersfield, should be addressed to the Vicar (Dr. Longford). The bells are one of the best peals in the district, having been recast and rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in 1919. The first peal has just been rung upon them.

Two of the foundation members of the Lancashire Association, Messrs. J. H. Garlside and J. Marsden, were present at a social gathering of the Preston Branch on Saturday week at Chorley, where, nearly fifty years ago, the formation of the association took place.

Ringers visiting Brighton will be welcome at St. Nicholas' Church, where the recast peal of the ten bells have just been reopened. There is ringing every Sunday at 9.30 a.m. and 6 p.m., and on Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m.

ST. BUDEAUX CHURCH BELLS.

The peal of six bells at the Parish Church of St. Budeaux, Plymouth, have during the last few weeks been under expert restoration. Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons have put them in perfect ringing order, and hung them on their patent adjustable bearings. The work was tested by ringers from various Plymouth Churches on Wednesday of last week, and all were highly pleased with the easy 'go' of the bells and their improved tone, the bells having been quarter turned.

Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons are commencing the peal of six bells at Isington, Devon, within the next few weeks, and are carrying out work at many other towers in the West of England.

RUISLIP BELLS.*A MIDDLESEX RESTORATION.

The re-dedication of the bells at Ruislip Parish Church, Middlesex, 'to the glory of God and in honoured memory of 34 men of the parish who gave their lives for God, King and country, in the great war,' took place on Wednesday, Dec. 13th. The dedication was performed by the Very Rev. the Dean of Windsor, and before the address, the ringers' hymn, 'Lifted high within the steeple,' was sung.

The bells have been in a very bad state for the past ten years, and practically unringable, and the well-known firm of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have now put them into first-rate order. The work done includes a new steel girder foundation below the old oak frame, the recasting of 4th, 5th and tenor, tuning the whole peal and rehanging on new gudgeons and ball bearings, and new clappers with buffers. The tenor is 12½ cwt. in F sharp, and from the volume of sound and mellow tone might easily be taken for a much heavier bell. No comment need be made on the 'go' of them, except that when they were rung everyone wanted to pull harder than required.

Before the service the local band rang the bells to call changes, and immediately after the service, by the kindness of the Vicar and ringers who placed the bells at the disposal of a band of change ringers, a touch of 336 Grandsire Triples was rung by G. H. Gutteridge 1, F. W. Goodfellow 2, J. J. Pratt (conductor) 3, E. Hancox 4, P. Jones 5, W. Henley 6, H. H. Chandler 7, W. Honor 8, followed by three courses of Stedman Triples (E. Hancox, conductor), and in which Messrs. A. A. Hughes and A. R. Macdonald took part. With Kent Major and more Grandsire, the bells were kept going till 9.50 p.m. The ringing chamber is on the ground floor, and open to the church, and the ringing attracted a lot of attention, the opening to the belfry being crowded both before and after the service.

At the conclusion of the ringing a move was made to the reading room, where a plentiful supply of sandwiches, cakes, coffee and other drinks, were provided for the ringers, through the kindness of the churchwardens, who extended to the visitors a hearty welcome, and thanked them for the help they had afforded; also for the opportunity they had given them of hearing the bells in change ringing, and expressing the hope that their own band would take it up.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Luton district took place on Saturday, Dec. 16th, at Dunstable, members being present from Luton, Leighton Buzzard, Linslade, Tring, Houghton Regis, Husbome Crawley, Harpenden, with a good muster of the local band. The bells were kept busy during the afternoon and evening in a number of methods from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Surprise Major, the president (Canon W. W. C. Baker) having the satisfaction of ringing a first class course of Superlative Surprise at his first attempt.

The business meeting took place after tea, Mr. A. King (vice-president) being in the chair, owing to the president having to take evensong.

The officers were re-elected.—A proposition of Mr. E. J. Hobbs: 'That a quarterly peal should be attempted by the branch,' lead to an interesting discussion. Various members expressed their views, and it was decided to attempt Grandsire Caters at Leighton Buzzard, some time before Lent.

The next meeting is to take place at Leighton on January 13th so that members will have good opportunity for ten bell practice.

The usual votes of thanks were passed, and the tower again visited.

A 'STRIKE' OF 25 YEARS AGO.

Under the heading of a 'Quarter of a Century Ago,' the 'Ere-sham Standard' gives the following extract from its issue of Dec. 18th, 1897:—

'The threatened railway strike fades into insignificance in face of the tidings from Ilmington. The bell ringers have struck. And although up to the time of writing the military have not been called out, the circumstances of the strike have caused considerable excitement. On Friday there was a temperance lecture in the school-room, and the noise of the bells upset the nerves of the lecturer. A messenger was sent to the belfry with a request that the ringers should cease their labours. Ringers, maybe, are thirsty men, but I should not like to suggest that it was owing to any lack of sympathy with the subject of the lecture that they considered the action of the lecturer intemperate. That they resented the interference was apparent on Sunday when the ringers declined to perform their usual functions and a solitary bell, tolled by the sexton, chimed for service.'

'Strikes,' caused through the interference of outside people, often occurred at Ilmington years ago, we are informed.

TWO PEALS TO BE REOPENED.

The five bells at North Farnborough, which have been rehung with new fittings in a metal frame, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, are to be opened on Sunday next at 11 a.m. by the Bishop of Winchester.

ANOTHER PEAL OF TWELVE.*MACCLESFIELD BELLS TO BE RECAST AND AUGMENTED.

Another peal is to be augmented to twelve. We are informed that it has been decided that the ten old bells at the Parish Church, Macclesfield, Cheshire, shall be recast and two trebles added, the tenor to be about 28 cwt. in D. It is expected that the bells will be ready by Easter.

WHAT DOES DIOCESAN MEAN?*To the Editor.

Sir,—Besides the local and personal interest aroused by the Norfolk claims, there are some points which are of general interest. Such are the claims made by the Norwich Association to:—

- (1) Annex new territory.
- (2) Maintain a monopoly.
- (3) Create a Diocesan Association.

The position is this: none of the ringers in West Suffolk wish to belong to the Norwich Association. All the ringers in East Suffolk wish to remain members. As East Suffolk is very much larger than West, it follows that the great majority of Suffolk ringers belong to the Norwich Association. No one has taken any steps to withdraw them from that association; nor has anyone even suggested it, except Mr. Coleman in the extraordinary scheme he drew up and published in your columns.

A Diocesan Association has been started by the West Suffolk men, under the auspices of the Bishop, and all the Diocesan Authorities; and some of us in East Suffolk wish to belong to it as well as to the old association. This action has been resented, and we are told that the old association has always had a monopoly in East Suffolk; and that, as they have the majority of Suffolk ringers, the minority ought not to belong to any other association in the county. In support of this they have added the words 'St. Edmundsbury' and 'Diocesan' to their name.

When these matters have been discussed, the Norfolk ringers have always given as their reason, that the Norwich Association is at the top of the analysis of peals, and that they ought to make their position there secure. Is this cricket? It seems to me that it is a matter which other associations ought to decide, and not the interested competitor; and most of all the Central Council, as long as it is responsible for the analysis.

If the old association is right in annexing St. Edmundsbury by the scratch vote of a tiny committee meeting, without any notice, it could equally casually annex Ely and Chelmsford, and, perhaps, with better reason. Does the Exercise generally think that an association should add to its title the name of a town where it has no members, and has never held a meeting, and never will? What is the difference between this and false pretences, or fraudulently enrolling members or recording peals?

A society which takes the title of Diocesan tells everyone that it is the society which the Bishop, and other Diocesan Authorities support; and people join that society solely because it is guaranteed by their Bishop. Our Bishop has plainly told the Norwich Association that there cannot be two 'Diocesan' Associations in one Diocese; that he has his own association in this diocese; and as the old association have not withdrawn their false step in assuming the name of his diocese, he has resigned his membership.

Usually a diocese is considered to be a number of churches under the rule of a Bishop. It is hardly a geographical area ruled by a few laymen in a neighbouring city. Yet the Norwich Association claim to set aside our Bishop when they do not agree with him. Three or four of them actually expelled me from their Committee because I fell in with the Bishop's wishes about the time for holding a meeting.

A diocesan society further means that it is a society of church workers doing their work under the clergy. In what way has the Norwich Association altered its procedure in this direction since its assumption of diocesan obligations? Not only is this self-styled Diocesan Association unable to find a secretary, but at its last meeting at Ipswich the single clergyman from Suffolk had not any of his brother clergy to associate themselves with him; while the dignitaries who were brought in from Norfolk were given the uncomfortable impression that they were not wanted in this diocese.

The position has been rendered very difficult, but so far no harm has been irretrievably done to the old association. If it will resume its old position of a lay society for change ringing, I am sure it will meet with as much support as of old. At present it is very difficult to us clergy to sanction our ringers belonging to a society our Bishop has left: which acts under what looks very like a fraudulent title, and which records peals under an appearance of false pretences—in a church of all places.

H. DRAKE.

Ufford Rectory, Woodbridge, Suffolk.

This (Friday) evening the peal of eight at Otley, Yorkshire, are to be reopened. The bells have been recast and rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon.

HANDSWORTH RINGERS AT DINNER.*HAPPY GATHERING AT SHEFFIELD.

The second anniversary of the St. Mary's Guild of Ringers was held in the Church Schoolroom, Handsworth, Sheffield, on Saturday week. The admirable arrangements made by the Guild, coupled with the excellent catering of Mr. and Mrs. Turner, of the Old Crown Inn, made the gathering extremely enjoyable.—The President of the Guild (the Rev. W. A. Baker, Rector) presided over a party of 46, exactly half of the company being members of the Guild. Among the visitors were the Rev. J. F. Amies (Chesterfield), Miss Butcher (Richmond), Miss I. Barker (Retford), and Miss Allan (Derby), etc. Immediately after dinner the toast of 'The King' was honoured, followed by an excellent course of Grandsire Caters, on handbells, by Master J. Taylor (age 13) 1-2, Mr. W. Taylor 3-4, Mr. H. Wilson 5-6, Mr. W. Godden 7-8, Mr. F. Cardwell 9-10.

The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by Mr. F. Cardwell, who spoke of the work of the Church, pointing to the magnificent Cathedrals and parish churches which were, he said, a tangible sign of what the Church had done in the past. Concerning the present, he went on to say, that if it were not for the work of the Church, England would soon be in the same chaotic state as that in which Russia found herself to-day (applause).—The Rev. W. A. Baker responded.

Mr. A. T. Baker submitted 'Success to St. Mary's Guild.' It was, he said, a great honour to be entrusted with the toast of the evening, and he went on to compliment Mr. F. Watkinson and the Guilds on their success in the past, which was unprecedented at all events in that district. Unquestionably, further successes would follow, from the very fact that Mr. Watkinson had planted what he (the speaker) considered 'the ideal standard' in the tower at Handsworth, for the ringers were elected with the consent of the incumbent, and were recruited from the east end of the church, and not from the street corners (applause). Success, continued the speaker, was bound to follow a Guild who rang for what they could put into the ringing, and not for what they could get out of it (applause).

The toast was enthusiastically honoured, and Mr. W. Taylor, who was cordially received, responded. He remarked that although the Guild had made rapid progress, he considered it was entirely due to the unflinching efforts of Mr. Watkinson (applause).—Mr. J. Garth, hon. secretary to the Guild, proposed 'The Visitors,' in very felicitous terms, and this was acknowledged by the Rev. J. F. Amies, who, in a very racy speech, thanked the Guild for the very kind and hospitable manner in which they had been entertained (applause).

During the evening a large Christmas cake, surmounted with a silver bell, was drawn for. Miss Muriel A. Baker had the good fortune to obtain the highest score, and, as the Rector (who is the very heart and soul of geniality) humorously remarked, Miss Baker took the cake.

The speeches were interspersed with musical items, Mrs. W. A. Baker, wife of the Rector, acting as accompanist at the piano. The Rector contributed a song, 'No. 1'; Messrs. J. and W. Taylor effectively rendered 'Convent Bell'; the Rev. J. F. Amies contributed two songs, 'Sally and I in the daylight,' and 'Simon the Cellarer'; the Misses Irene Liddgett, E. Lakin and Dixon also rendered some delightful songs. Miss Maria Liddgett gave a pianoforte solo, 'Rock of Ages,' and Miss Muriel A. Baker rendered violin solos, 'Dreams' and 'Andante.' Mr. H. Buckler contributed a monologue very effectively, and Miss Allan, of Derby, recited 'Death or Glory,' both being received with loud applause. 'The Alpine Waltz' and 'Callers' Herring' were rung on handbells by Mr. W. Taylor, Miss Eva Hopkins and Master J. Taylor, and the performance reflected great credit on the contributors. Touches of Grandsire, Bob and Forward Major were also rung upon handbells by four of the Guild. These exhibitions were enthusiastically received, and showed what progress the Guild is making all round. Quite a feature of the evening's entertainment was the fact that, with the exception of the Rev. J. F. Amies, Mr. J. Taylor and the Misses Allan and Dixon, the artistes are all members of the Handsworth Guild.

Later in the evening the youngsters indulged in games, while the older folk did a little 'tripping,' which brought to an end a very enjoyable gathering, the proceedings concluding with the National Anthem.

RECORD PRACTICE GATHERING AT ACTON

On Thursday, Dec. 7th, thirty ringing friends turned up to the usual practice at St. Mary's Church—a record number for an ordinary weekly gathering at this belfry. The towers represented were Bath, Watford, Willesden, Stanmore, Tottenham, St. Clement Danes, and Ealing. After 1½ hours spent in ringing touches in various methods, the opportunity was taken of piloting three friends through their first quarter-peal of Double Norwich in 42 minutes: #H. Wincote 1, F. Goodfellow 2, *Miss Norah Williams 3, G. R. Fardon 4, H. Kilby 5, G. Kilby 6, *E. W. Coulson 7, J. A. Trollope (conductor) 8.

DEVON GUILD.*SPLENDID PROGRESS BY EXETER BRANCH.

The third annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers was held at St. David's, Exeter, on Saturday, December 9th. The proceedings opened with a service at the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. E. Burkitt), who gave an impressive address. Tea was subsequently provided in the Parish Institute, and among those present being the President of the Guild (the Rev. Maitland Kelly), the chairman of the branch (Mr. E. Shepherd), the secretary and treasurer (Mr. N. J. Southwood), the assistant secretary (Mr. J. C. Oke), the Archdeacon of Exeter (the Ven. F. A. Sanders), and the Revs. J. B. Ball (Littleham), E. B. Cox (Bampton), K. A. Lake (Heavitree), B. C. Bennett (Alphington), C. E. Burkitt (St. David's), E. S. Powell (general secretary of the Guild), F. H. G. Knight (Upton Pyne), H. B. Clark (Honiton Clist). Letters of apology for absence were read from the Lord Bishop of Crediton, Canon McLaren, Canon Boles, the Revs. T. Bell Salter, S. G. Bassett Pike, E. G. B. Weber, S. D. Dewey, E. C. Grimaldi, F. Robson, Miss Sanders and Mr. S. Hull. A letter was also read from the Dean and Chapter granting the use of the Cathedral bells, the use of which is always much appreciated.

Mr. E. Shepherd expressed great satisfaction at the large gathering, which was a record for the branch, and especially at the presence of the Archdeacon of Exeter, and so many other clergy.—The Rev. Maitland Kelly congratulated the branch upon the instructional work accomplished during the last twelve months in the surrounding district.

On the motion of the chairman, the Rev. C. E. Burkitt was thanked for conducting the service, and Mr. F. G. Bradford for presiding at the organ.

The treasurer's report showed that there are 37 hon. members against 23 last year; 16 bands, numbering 150 members, against 12 bands, numbering 97 members. The subscriptions were £12 7s., an advance of over £4.

Mr. J. C. Oke, in the secretary's report, said it was very gratifying to find that excellent progress had been made during the year, the growth being largely due to the splendid efforts of Messrs. Shepherd and Southwood, both of whom had spent a great deal of time in going to the various towers throughout the district, enlisting the sympathy and help of the clergy and ringers. He also drew the attention of those present to the fact that their thanks ought to be given to the men who had given their time to instructing the different bands. Successful quarterly meetings had been held at Thorverton, Otterton and Honiton Clist, and all were well attended. He expressed indebtedness to the Press, naming the 'Devon and Exeter Gazette,' the 'Express and Echo' and 'The Ringing World,' for their kindness in publishing reports of the meetings, and mentioning what valuable help the publicity of the Press was to change ringing.

All the officers were re-elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Alphington on February 10th.

During the tea, Mr. W. Weeks delighted the company (of about 100) with a Devonshire dialect recitation, 'How Jan Stewer filled up his census paper.'

The bells of the Cathedral and various parish churches were rung during the afternoon and evening, and the members were pleased to have with them visitors from Swindon and Ilminster.

RINGERS' SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATION.

On Saturday afternoon, Dec. 9th, as already recorded, a peal of Bob Major was rung at Holy Trinity Church, Guildford, in honour of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Melville, in which both took part. In the evening the Holy Trinity Society were invited, with their wives, families and friends, to further celebrate the event at Brett's Restaurant.

As a silver wedding occurs only once in the lives of most people, it was decided to make the most of this event. About forty persons sat down to tea, at which the Rector of Holy Trinity (the Rev. Canon E. C. Kirwan) presided. After the meal, the Rector made an appropriate speech, and handed to Mr. and Mrs. Melville an engraved silver teapot. He then proposed the toast of the evening, 'The health of the Bride and Bridegroom'—of twenty-five years ago. This was drunk with enthusiasm, and Mrs. and Mr. Melville suitably replied, thanking the company for their handsome present.

Handbells were then brought into use, after which the evening was given up to enjoyment, songs being contributed by members of the party.

Mr. Weatherby, on behalf of the company, then thanked Mr. and Mrs. Melville for their hospitality, and said that he hoped all those present would be able to attend the golden wedding celebrations 25 years hence. Hands were linked, and with 'Auld Lang Syne' a most enjoyable evening was brought to its conclusion.

On Monday evening, Dec. 11th, the actual anniversary of the wedding day, a handbell peal was rung at Mr. Melville's residence, as a finale to the celebrations.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. SOUTHERN DIVISION AT ROTHERHAM.

A very successful meeting of the Southern Division was held at Rotherham on Saturday, December 9th, upwards of 40 members and friends being present, the towers represented being Sheffield Cathedral; All Saints' Sheffield; Ranmoor, Rawmarsh, Doncaster, Arksey, Ecclesfield, Barnsley, Tickhill, Wortley, Wath, Badsworth. Owing to a Consistory Court being held in the church no ringing could be done at the Parish Church, but arrangements had been made whereby the peal of eight at Eastwood were kindly placed at the disposal of the visitors, and various touches in the standard methods were rung. For the same reason the service which had been arranged had to be cancelled.

An excellent tea was provided by the local company, and was very much enjoyed by those present. At the meeting which followed, the Rev. Canon Allen (the Vicar of Rotherham) took the chair. He said how very pleased he was to welcome the association to Rotherham, and was very sorry they could not have the service as arranged. He was used to being among ringers, as he had been an hon. member and vice-president of the Sussex Association for many years. He was at Eastbourne for 17 years, and during that time the ringers at his church only once failed to ring on Sundays, and that was owing to the bell-ringer key being lost. He also remembered eight members of the Sussex Association meeting 32 times for a peal. At the 33rd they were successful, and one man walked five miles for each attempt, which showed that ringers were at least persevering. He hoped he would be able to say the same of the ringers at Rotherham. He would take great interest in them, and try and be worthy of the honour done to him.

The Canon was later in the meeting elected an hon. member of the association.

Owing to a meeting of the general committee of the association at Leeds, the secretary was unable to be present, his place kindly being taken by Mr. G. Clark, a member of the committee. Mr. J. Dronfield, of Wortley, and Master G. Jackson, of Doncaster, were elected members of the association.

The next meeting was fixed for March 17th, 1923, the place to be arranged by the secretary, as no invitation had been sent in.

A committee, consisting of Mr. G. Lewis (chairman), Mr. S. F. Palmer (secretary), Mr. P. Willey (treasurer), and Messrs. C. Harrison, C. Haynes, G. Holmes, W. Bugar and J. Thorpe was elected to make arrangements for the Commemoration Dinner of the Association, to be held in Sheffield in September next.

Votes of thanks of the local company for their splendid tea and hearty welcome, also to Canon Allen for presiding, brought the meeting to a close.

Ringings in a variety of methods was enjoyed during the evening, touches of Stedman and Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal, Cambridge Surprise Major, Double Norwich, and the four standard methods being rung.

SIDMOUTH BELLS RESTORED.

DEVON PEAL REHUNG.

On St. Nicholas' Day, December 6th, the bells of the Parish Church of St. Nicholas, Sidmouth, Devon, were first rung, after being rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, the famous Whitechapel bell founders. The bells were first condemned twenty-five years ago, but no action was taken until April of this year, when a report that the bells were in a very dangerous condition aroused the Church Council to the fact that something must be done at once. In the meantime the bells had got into very bad condition; the clappers were loose, and the heads of most of them were worn quite flat, and some were split, while one of the bells was cracked. The peal sounded quite out of tune, and most unmusical. It was at first decided to have the bells rehung in the old-fashioned way, with wooden headstocks and gun metal bearings, but the advantages of modern bell hanging having been explained to the committee, it was decided to have the peal restored in the most up-to-date manner. The old oak frame, which was found to be in an excellent state of preservation, has been utilised and the bells rehung with iron headstocks, ball bearings, new clappers fitted with clapper buffers, and new fittings throughout. The fifth has been recast with excellent results. The work has been ably carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in their usual efficient manner, the 'go' of the bells being as near perfect as it possibly can be. The improvement in the tone is most marked, and has been the talk of the town.

An invitation was sent to all the members of the East Devon Guild to try the bells, and about 50 availed themselves of the opportunity, among them being some of the ablest ringers in the county. They were unanimous in their praise of the work done.

The ringers were entertained to tea in the Church House by the Vicar and churchwardens, the Vicar expressing a wish that the next association meeting might be held at Sidmouth.

The dedication ceremony was performed by the Vicar, on Sunday morning, December 10th, in the presence of a large congregation, and special services were held throughout the day.

STOCKPORT BRANCH DISCUSS PEAL BOOKING FEES.

The last meeting of the year of the Stockport branch was held at Cheadle on Saturday, and in spite of the murky weather, was very well attended. The service was conducted by the Rector, who gave a hearty welcome, and a most inspiring and interesting address.

After doing justice to a splendid repast, provided by the local company, the business meeting proceeded, with Mr. A. Barnes in the chair, the branch chairman being unavoidably absent. Reference was made to the efforts of the Nantwich ringers to raise the cost of one of the new bells to be placed in their tower, and it was decided to open a subscription list in the branch in aid of this effort, contributions to be sent to the hon. secretary, the Rev. A. T. Beeston, New Mills. All tower secretaries will receive an appeal to collect from members of their own company.

Amongst other matters brought up for discussion was the question of a small booking fee for peals. This was left over for consideration, and is to be brought up at the annual meeting to be held at Reddish early in the New Year.

After the usual votes of thanks had been accorded, further use was made of the tower bells, and handbells were also requisitioned.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

A very pleasant meeting of the Bristol Branch was held at Brislington on Saturday, December 16th. The bells were raised soon after 3 p.m., and several touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob were rung. Service, which was fully choral, was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. S. R. Worters), who gave a very interesting address on the golden bells adorning the high priest's robes. After service, some 32 members, representing 12 towers, were entertained to an excellent tea served in the new Parish Hall.

The Rev. S. R. Worters gave the association a very hearty welcome to Brislington.—Mr. H. T. Howell (Master) thanked the Vicar for the kind invitation extended to the association, and for the very interesting address at the service. He also thanked the choir and organist, and last but not least, the ladies for preparing such an excellent tea (applause).

The tower was again visited, Plain and Treble Bob, Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge being rung, and terminating a very successful meeting.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Linslade on Saturday, Dec. 9th, when a goodly number of members attended, representing Bletchley, Beachampton, Calverton, Fenny Stratford, Stony Stratford, Simpson, Great Brickhill, Newport Pagnell, and the local tower, with a few visiting members of the Beds Association. The address at the service was given by the Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), and, needless to say, was appreciated.

After service the members adjourned for tea, which had been arranged by Mr. Vickers, of Linslade, and about 36 sat down, with Miss A. Robinson in the chair, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn having unavoidably to return home directly after service.

After tea, the secretary reported that no special business had to be transacted, but votes of thanks were passed to the Master for his attendance; the Rev. Lydekker for so kindly having the meeting at Linslade, and to Miss Robinson for taking the chair. The ringers then indulged in further ringing, some going to Leighton, others to Linslade. The methods rung during the afternoon ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Bob Major to Cambridge Surprise Major.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

CHRISTCHURCH DISTRICT.

The annual meeting was held at Christchurch on Saturday, Dec. 9th. Members attended from Bournemouth, Milford, Ringwood, Lymington and Poole, and the local band was well represented. The bells were kept going from 3 to 9 p.m., at intervals, in Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples and Caters, Plain and Treble Bob, and Double Norwich Major. The annual service was held in the choir of the glorious old Priory Church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. W. H. Gay) said the Guild office, and the vice-president (the Rev. C. E. Matthews) gave an address on Romans iii. 8.

A capital tea was served after service at the Corner Cafe, at which 51 sat down, and the annual business meeting followed.

All the district officers were re-elected, and it was decided during 1923 to attempt the following peals: Grandsire Caters at Christchurch; Treble Bob Major at Ringwood; Stedman Triples at Lymington, and Grandsire Triples at Fordingbridge.

Mr. George Williams, Master of the Guild, was present, and the vice-president was in the chair at the meeting.

The usual votes of thanks were given to the Vicar and churchwardens, and to Mr. George Preston, district secretary, for his excellent arrangements.

A TIME FOR GOOD RESOLUTIONS.

Before the next issue of 'The Ringing World' is in the hands of our readers, 1922 will have been relegated to the past, and we shall have entered upon another year. In the twelve months that are just closing there has been, one feels, some very satisfactory progress in ringing affairs, and the Exercise appears to have got well upon its legs again after the set-back of the war. If peal ringing be any criterion, and it is, at any rate, one of the standards by which we may judge, the art is in a thoroughly healthy state. In the year 1921 a total of 1632 peals was rung, up to our issue of Dec. 22nd last we had recorded approximately 1770 peals rung in 1922, so that while there are still to chronicle the performances of another fortnight, including the always busy period of the Christmas festival, the peal total has already beaten last year's by nearly 150, among which several new methods appear. Moreover, except for the two extraordinary peal ringing years of 1912 and 1913, when 2329 and 2359 peals respectively were rung, the total for 1922 will be the best on record. Peals are an indication of ringers' enthusiasm, and increased peal ringing can be taken as an index of growing keenness in the art. To this extent, at least, the year's results are eminently good.

But what of the future? The signs are encouraging, but progress cannot be maintained without work, and the opportunities which are presented to our ringing organisations are great. There are ideals at which all ought to aim, ideals beyond the gathering in of subscriptions (necessary as these are) and the piling up of peal points. There is, for instance, the scope which is offered in the practical encouragement which can be given to struggling bands; there is the need of using every endeavour to get dilapidated bells restored, and where the opportunity presents itself, of putting in a word for augmentation; there is the all-important work of opening-up towers, where the bells are practically silent, and the sometimes difficult, but nevertheless invaluable work of introducing method-ringing into belfries where at present the ringers are content with call changes. In all these directions there is ample opportunity for a forward movement among the Associations, and the more that can be done in this way the greater will be the service which our art can render to the Church.

We should like to see during the year that is coming real efforts made in the ringing organisations to carry out a campaign which should have for its ultimate object the restoration of all the peals of bells in need of attention; the encouragement and assistance of bands so that in every

THE CONSTRUCTION AND EXTENSION OF BRISTOL.

Below is given the concluding article by Mr. A. York Bramble on the extension of Bristol Surprise; the third article having been printed in our issue of August 25th, page 539.

We have now to deal with the three considerations outlined at the close of our third instalment. First, let us see what is the actual significance of our reference to the 'middle dodging position of the treble.' We have already noted that in any double method there is a vertical division in the change block between the fore and after parts of the work. Now it is clear that when a Treble Bob method is expressed on a number which divides into two 'odd' halves (e.g., Royal—into 5 and 5), this vertical dividing line will pass through a dodging position of the treble (e.g., in Royal, the 5-6 position). Now, in the case of any double Treble Bob method in which the fore or after work does not extend beyond the vertical dividing line (e.g., as is shown to be the case in Bristol), it is obvious that no part of the fore or after work could possibly extend into this mid-dodging position; because, in so dodging, the bells would be crossing and re-crossing the dividing line (even if only by one place). Hence it is that when a double Treble Bob method, expressed on a number which is divisible into two even halves, is extended to any number which divides into two odd halves, there is introduced, into the half change-block of such an extension, a 'section,' the character of which is not found in the original; that is to say, a section in which the treble is dodging in the middle of the 'blocks.' Furthermore, the 'design' of this additional section will be as simple as possible, and will not, of necessity, contain any of the special features of the original method. Indeed, in the case of Royal Double Treble Bob methods the character of this supplementary section is almost constant; because, since the bells in 5-6 are dodging together for four changes, there must be a place made among the others in the second and third changes of this section, in order to avoid a repetition of rows; and since we are treating of double methods; any such place must be made on both sides of this mid-treble-dodge; the usual form of this section thus being:— a	b	c	d	e	f	g	h	i

b	a	d	e	c	T	g	f	h
a	b	d	e	T	c	g	f	h
b	a	d	e	T	f	g	h	i

Indeed, this form is unavoidable if places are made at the contiguous section-partings. It will now be realised that such arguments as, 'But there were no adjacent places made in the original,' are futile; indeed otherwise it might as well be argued that there should be no mid-treble-dodge in the Royal of a Treble Bob method, because it is not found in the Major! No, in all cases such as above described, this mid-treble-dodge section fulfils the function of a connecting link in the change-block; and that alone.

Let us now take the second consideration—that of noting some of the facts of inter-relationship in the design of the Bristol change-block. We have, of course, already determined the principles of construction of this change-block; but these facts of inter-relationship are the inevitable outcome of the employment of those principles; and they will, therefore, appear in the Bristol method on any number. The following, then, are some of the more important facts which will be observed:—

- The bell taking off the treble at the head of the change-block, will lead when the treble lies behind; and will be taken off lead by the treble, at the end of the change-block.
- This same bell will also be found leading when the treble strikes (a) its first two blows in the after-part of the block on the way up, and (b) its last two blows ditto on the way down.
- The bell which is behind at the lead-head will be turned from behind by the Treble.
- The bell which turns the bell from behind at the lead-head will make the place behind at the lead-end.
- The bell which is being coursed down by the bell-behind-at-the-lead-head always makes the very first (or inner) 'whole-turn' which is to be found in the after-part of the change-block.
- The 'odd' places which occur at the junction of the quarter-blocks are always equidistant from the vertical block-divider.
- In the first half-block these same place-making bells will always be 'odd' bells; while in the last half-block they will always be 'even.' (This applies only to the first change-block of the plain course in any extension.)
- The last row of any half-block in Bristol will show the bells to be in the same order (except for the altered position of the Treble), as that of the first row, of the same half-block.

Now the foregoing facts do not comprise an exhaustive list of the facts of inter-relationship of the essential features of the design of the Bristol change-block; but they will suffice to illustrate the truth that in following out the principles of construction of the method (as determined in the previous section), these relationships will arise inevitably in the correct extensions on any number. So that while they, in themselves, may or may not be sufficient to determine the Bristol

THE WAY TO SURPRISE RINGING.

HINTS FROM PRACTICAL CORRESPONDENTS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The Ringing World, in its leading article, has often urged ringers to take up the more advanced methods, but there appear to be difficulties. 'Willing to Learn' has greater difficulties than the average ringer, if no members of the tower can ring a Surprise method. Let us, therefore, for a moment stop to consider what are the particular obstacles which prevent a man, who has a fair knowledge of the easier methods, proceeding straightway to Superlative, Cambridge and London.

Why are so many ringers content to stay at Double Norwich? Is it apathy? Is the jump to Superlative too great? Lack of enthusiasm is doubtless operative in a number of cases, but the troubles of aspirants to Surprise honours seem to range themselves into three groups: (1) Opportunity; (2) ropesight, with which may be classed the course-bell fetish; (3) memorising of the method.

I have been told by those who ought to know that the opportunity of getting a course of Surprise is much greater now than it was twenty years ago. Certainly, a ringer in the Metropolitan area, at least, should find no difficulty on the score of lack of opportunity. It is probably a different story in many rural districts, so that this point is a material one in many cases.

I have never seen 'ropesight' defined (although doubtless it has been). I should call it the ability to tell at any time, without actually counting them, how many ropes have gone up or down. With knowledge of the coursing order a ringer need not be troubled a great deal in Double Norwich by the question of ropesight. The bells come to him regularly enough (I exclude the treble). But not so in Surprise—perhaps that is where he gets fogged.

And yet there are several obvious arguments against this. It is not uncommon to find men who pilot their bells through Stedman Caters, even Cinques with ease, but who would be hopelessly at sea in a Surprise method. The coursing order in Stedman is certainly there, but it is by no means obvious, and it is questionable whether anyone notices it in order to find his way about. Of course, the continuous dodging has a steadying effect, and undoubtedly simplifies the method.

Another case in point is that of the treble in Double Norwich. Where are you, then, without ropesight? The bells certainly appear to come up in a more difficult order than they do on an inside bell in, say, Superlative.

It is when your course bell disappears temporarily that ropesight comes into its own. Young ringers have it drummed into them that they must follow their course bell, and they become accustomed, not only to using it as an aid, but to leaning on it as on a prop, with the result that when the prop is taken away they are hopelessly at sea. We see the effect of this in Major methods, when the tenors are parted, or when a bob at M is called towards the end of a peal, when it has been taken for granted that the 6th was at home until the end. To go a step further, it would probably take quite a fair Cambridge Major band to ring at the first attempt that touch with a bob at each lead.

However, the main difficulty rests, I think, in the ability to memorise the method, and what is equally important, to recall it at will. It is, therefore, necessary to arrive at the simplest and best means of doing so. A Surprise method is, I think, ordinarily mastered by learning, dodge by dodge and place by place, the work of one bell through a plain course. This is not always a simple matter, but is fairly satisfactory provided it doesn't resolve itself into a meaningless abracadabra liable to slip the memory at any moment. We all know the story of the man who went to market muttering, lest he should forget the names of the purchases he intended making: Nutmeg, ginger, cinnamon and maize. And we know, too, the mess he got into. It seems just as easy to say '4th's, 6, 5, 6, 3rd's,' as it is to say '3rd's, 6, 5, 6, 4th's.' Of course, the practised ringer has hints to guide him, but we are not dealing with him at the moment.

Instead of this (or, if you prefer it, in addition), it is always practicable to devise a kind of reasoned formula which is less liable to fail than the other. It is essential, in the first place, to split the plain course up into blocks and memorise them. It then only remains to connect them up, taking care that the connecting link is a true index of the work that is to follow. Take Superlative as an example: there are three blocks:—

1. Work with the treble in front or behind, called 'treble work.'
  2. Place-making in 3-4 or 5-6, called 'odd place first (or last),' as the case may be.
  3. Work before or behind without the treble—'five pull dodge.'
- Having done this, make yourself a few rules, thus:—
- (a) Starting with the work of the 2nd, mentally connect treble always with a single dodge, and vice versa.
  - (b) Employ symmetry. Balance the single dodge in 3-4 up, with the odd place last; or, if you don't dodge going up, odd place first balances the dodge in 3-4 down after the place-making.
  - (c) No single dodge going to or coming from 5-pull dodge.

These suffice for the whole method. Translating them into the work of the 2nd, we get: Treble work, single dodge, odd place last, no single dodge, 5-pull dodge (before and behind), no single dodge, odd place first, single dodge, treble work, and so on.

As a general hint, it may be observed that a bell never dodges with the two bells farthest removed from it in coursing order, except at the dodge immediately before the odd place first, or immediately after the odd place last, when it always does so with one or the other; e.g., in the plain course, the 2nd never dodges with the 7th or tenor except as stated. A glance at the diagram will make this quite clear.

Similar expedients may be adopted with other Surprise methods. For myself, I can say I never attempt to learn a method without some such formula. It may sound complicated, but believe me, it is, if anything, the reverse.

ADVANTAGE OF STANDARD SURPRISE METHODS.

Dear Sir,—If the company that 'Willing to Learn' is a member of can ring Stedman and Double Norwich, they should have no difficulty in adding to their list both Cambridge and Superlative. Certainly these are to be preferred, from the point of view, that in most towers where Surprise ringing is the vogue, these methods are among those usually rung, which gives additional opportunities to a young band to get occasional touches when visiting other towers, whereas should they adopt, let us say, Peterborough Surprise, these extra practices would be lost. I doubt if any company are practising the method, even it were so, they are isolated cases only. No, get on with the four standard Surprise methods. When these are accomplished, you will have no need to ask how to ring any Surprise method, they would surely follow if there is still enough ambition left in the company.

Perhaps, the following would help the company in ringing Cambridge. All Cambridge places are Double Norwich places, i.e., far places, and near places connected with a dodge with the treble in between. Now commence ringing Treble Bob, and ring Treble Bob until you strike over the treble, or the treble strikes over you. Should this happen before a dodge, omit that dodge, and the one in the next position also, unless the treble strikes over you in 6-7 for Major, 8-9 Royal, 10-11 Maximus, then omit that dodge, but do one extra dodge behind. Inversely, should you strike over the treble in 7-6 for Major, do an extra dodge behind, and omit the 5-6; but should the treble strike over you, or you over the treble after dodging, then stop and make places. When the set of places are completed carry on with Treble Bob. Now study your diagram.—Yours truly,

CAMBRIDGITTIS.

CAMBRIDGE BEFORE SUPERLATIVE.

Dear Sir,—I read with much interest the letter from 'Willing to Learn,' also your editorial comments. I quite sympathise with those answers, and proceed to Surprise methods. I have had to travel far and wide in my time to get the same, and by sheer perseverance managed to rub along. Of course, it is most necessary to study the method first, either in written explanation or figures, or both, if possible. (Snowdon's standard methods and Earle Bulwer's Glossary being useful books to possess.) Let each aspirant study the path of a working bell through a course, viz., the 2nd, and also note the corresponding position of the other working bells, and, having got the idea clearly fixed in the mind, proceed to write out a lead or two without looking at books or figures; and after that, not before, go to a tower when possible, to try and put your study into practice (too much time is often wasted in the towers in references which could well be done at home or elsewhere). I should preferably recommend Cambridge to start with rather than Superlative, one of the many reasons being that there are no 'odd' places to bother about in the former as in the latter. Other reasons seem evident, which I might quote by drawing out this epistle to an inordinate length, but I forbear. The writer will be still further interested if this topic is debated by other correspondents.

WHAT WAS DONE AT WORCESTER.

Dear Sir,—I have read with very mixed feelings the letter of 'Willing to Learn.' If he is the leader of the band it is mostly of pity, and it is really a wonder his company have rung the four methods he mentions. I think a band with four methods to their credit should not want to ask such questions as he asked. I would like to ask 'Willing to Learn' if he has ever heard of or seen a book called 'Standard Methods'? If not, I would suggest that he at once sends 2s. 10d. to Mrs. Laura Snowdon, Carlisle, Lancashire, for a copy. In that he will find much that will be helpful up to and including London.

'Willing to Learn' describes his band as an ordinary company. That may be, but they have a most extraordinary opportunity for making progress. O ye gods and little fishes, imagine it! The same band ringing the same bells three times a week, and apparently one method at a time. What need to ask the best Surprise method to attempt first, the best way of tackling it, and how long before a plain course could be attempted? If they have learnt four methods, surely that should guide them.

When the revival took place in this city, I sent for, I believe, nine copies of 'Standard Methods,' and they have been of the utmost value during our progress.

Perhaps my methods will not appeal to 'Willing to Learn,' but I will give him an outline of the system adopted here, in learning a fresh method. First, get the band supplied with a diagram and a few figures, say a lead. Then thoroughly learn the work, as per diagram, and also, from the figures, learn how the bells work together. Further, learn the coursing order of the bells, then it will be an easy matter to find out how and where each ringer works with his 'before' and 'after' bells. This, I think, has a wonderful linking effect, and is a very valuable help in picking up trips in touches or peals, as it does not matter where a trip occurs there is nearly always someone on the qui vive to pick it up. It also relieves the conductor of much anxiety. To show this plan has been fairly successful here, I will give a brief account of our work and progress during the last two years and nine months. About Easter, 1920, there was a desire to ring the then unring spliced Treble Bob method, which we named Worcester. This we succeeded in doing the following June. This whetted the appetite for more, and Double Norwich was decided upon, and we rang our first peal in the succeeding August, followed by two others in October (this included bringing on two learners from Doubles and Bob Minor). Next the question of a Surprise method was discussed, and Cambridge resolved upon. By the end of 1920 we had so far progressed in this method to have been able to ring into the last few courses of a peal. On Dec. 31st, we lost one two courses from home; on the next day, January, 1921, we lost one three courses away from the finish, due mostly to excitement. But whatever the disappointment, the question was always asked before leaving the tower, 'where can we try again?' and another attempt was usually fixed on the spot. We eventually rang the peal in February, followed by about eight others out of ten attempts. Superlative was next taken up; this proved easily assimilated, and a peal was rung in October, 1921.

I set out in January, 1922, to ring two more Surprise methods, London and Bristol during the year, and but for the call of cricket, and one or two other causes, we should have succeeded. By the commencement of Lent we had rung into the last course of a quarter-peal of London. Lent stopped all practice. After Easter we had virtually to make a fresh start. Owing to the circumstances just mentioned I had to go out into the byways and country districts, not to bring in the halt and lame, but the energetic and enthusiastic. When I say one had a twenty-miles' cycle journey, another a fourteen miles' journey, and another ten miles to travel, this one often three or four times a week for different causes, it will be understood we did not succeed without effort. We retackled London, and secured the peal after four attempts, on Nov. 11th, followed by another the succeeding week.

This, of course, refers to our eight-bell work only. In addition to that we have, during 1922, learnt and rung the first Surprise Minor peal for our association; also we have learnt and rung the first fourteen method peal for the association, and on ten bells, in addition to Grandsire Caters for the learners, we have, during 1922, learnt and rung Cambridge Surprise Royal (three peals).

Only one circumstance has prevented us from completing the circle in Cambridge Surprise. The city and county of Worcester is unfortunate in having only one peal of twelve bells, and the reputation of these as a cumbersome, badly-going lot, is well known, and quite unsuitable for Maximus ringing.

In regard to our opportunity for practice and Sunday ringing on six bells, we had a weekly practice, and a fortnightly Sunday ring; on eight bells we had a fortnightly practice and Sunday ring; on ten bells we had a monthly practice and a fortnightly Sunday ring. In addition to the above, we have rung Grandsire Triples and Bob Major on handbells, and nearly scored Grandsire Caters. W. P.

AN OFFER.

Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, 23. Longford Terrace, Crumlin Road, Dublin, writes offering to send letters and diagrams on Surprise methods to the band, on receipt of a postcard.

A HALF-PEAL.

At Blewbury, Berks, a half-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung, for practice, on October 24th, in 1 hour 29 mins.: H. Greenough 1, A. H. Webb 2, F. G. James (conductor) 3, C. E. Gregory 4, W. V. Webb 5, B. Corderoy 6, A. T. Busby 7, R. N. Aldridge 8.

At Warnham, Sussex, on Sunday, Dec. 10th, at St. Margaret's Church, 2,520 Court Bob Triples was rung in 1 hr. 25 mins., by Alb. Charman 1, J. Cook 2, W. Hooker 3, P. Charman 4, J. Branch 5, W. Pettifer 6, Wal. Charman 7, Alf. Charman 8. This was an attempt for a peal, but owing to a false start time would not permit the completion soon enough for evening service. The bells were, therefore, brought round at the half-way. A 504 was afterwards rung for service, with G. Branch at the treble.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A new degree, Master of Architecture (M.Arch.), has just been instituted by the Court of Liverpool University. It may be awarded to any Bachelor of Architecture, of not less than ten years' standing, who has designed some building of outstanding merit. As we are all to have degrees, what sort of a method would one have to build before one could swagger an 'M.Arch.'? asks 'Once a Beginner.'

Twelve-bell ringers visiting Shrewsbury will be welcome at St. Chad's Church. Sunday ringing, 10.15 a.m. and 5.30 p.m.; Wednesday, 7.30 p.m.

Thirty years ago next Monday, 12,096 Double Norwich Major was rung at Maidenhead in 7 hrs. 10 mins. by the Oxford Diocesan Guild, which four years before, on Dec. 31st, 1888, had set up a new Stedman Caters record, 15,041 at Appleton.

On the last day of 1867, the longest length of Cumberland Exercise Major was rung at Liversedge. This was a peal of 6,720, and has not yet been beaten.

James Barham rang his one hundredth peal on January 1st, 1793, the total age of the band being 582. Barham died on January 4th, 1818, at the age of 93.

The first peal of Kent Treble Bob Major in Lincolnshire was rung at Gainsborough on January 1st, 1848, and the first peal of Halifax Treble Bob, composed by W. Soltenshall, was rung at Huddersfield on January 1st, 1866.

January 2nd, 1909, was the date of the first peal of Double Oxford Bob Royal, which was rung at Wednesbury.

One of the early long lengths of Bob Major was rung on January 4th, 1784. This was a peal of 14,480, at St. Paul's, Oldham, in 8 hrs. 24 mins.

It is gratifying to hear of another peal rung in Ireland. A peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Patrick's Cathedral is recorded this week, and special interest attaches to the peal from the fact that the ringer of the fifth is the son of Lord Justice Cherry, himself a ringer, and one of the bulwarks of the Irish Association.

CROYDON FOUNDRY'S BIG CONTRACT. FORTY-TWO BELLS FOR AMERICA.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, who last year recast the Royal Exchange bells, and this year put in a peal of 23 at Toronto, have been given a contract for a carillon of 42 bells to be hung in the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York, as a gift from Mr. John D. Rockefeller, in memory of Mrs. Rockefeller.

DURHAM CATHEDRAL BELLS.

The bells at Durham Cathedral, which Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have restored, have now been rehung, but, it is reported, they will not be rung until May, owing to serious defects discovered in the apex of the arch immediately below the vaulting.

It was discovered that huge stones weighing half a ton each had dropped from their place owing to vibration, and were liable to fall at any moment.

Steps have been taken to secure them, and also to repair the transoms of the lantern tower, which are in a serious condition.

VICAR WANTS A 'CHRISTIAN' PEAL.

The Rev. T. Rose Price, Vicar of All Saints', Halifax, in a Christmas letter to his parishioners, wants a 'Christian peal' of bells in place of the present cracked ting-tong that is in use at the church. The Vicar is original in his mode of addressing his big parochial family, and also in the wording of his peal. He addresses them as 'My dear people and children, friends, fellow-workers, fellow-worshippers, fellow-parishioners, and fellow-rascals—some 5,000 of you.'

In the course of this letter he says: 'Many of you must have noticed that your church bell is cracked, quite cracked. Even on Sundays it keeps on saying, in tones most mournful and influenzic, "Stay away—stay away—all of you."'

'Each of you, please, supply the dismal, soul-destroying notes. Quite clearly that cracked, kill-joy of a bell must go—and go double quick, musn't it? A Christian peal must take the place of that heathen cackle!'

to the second, while fifth's and eighth's are made in passing from the third to the fourth.

Consequently in a it will be sufficient to prove the rows with the treble at lead, and a like rule applies to c and d, but in b we must prove all the rows.

Now gather your rows together into pairs, with the treble in corresponding places, putting the + above the + and the - and the - thus:-

	1 5 3 7 8 6 2 4	1 5 3 7 2 8 4 6		3 7 8 5 1 2 4 6	7 5 3 8 1 2 4 6
b	2 4 1 3 6 8 5 7	4 2 1 3 6 8 5 7	d	6 3 2 4 5 8 1 7	6 2 3 5 4 8 7 1
	7 5 1 3 8 6 2 4	5 7 1 3 8 6 2 4		5 8 2 3 6 7 1 4	5 2 8 6 3 7 4 1
	4 2 3 1 8 6 7 5	5 7 3 1 8 2 6 4		1 2 8 3 6 5 4 7
	2 4 3 1 6 5 8 7	7 5 3 1 6 8 4 2		1 2 4 7 6 5 8 3

Now we are ready to write down the false lead ends. I have filled in one (d) for an example. Start with the row 6 3 2 4 5 8 1 7, say to yourself 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8, and, as you say each figure, write down the number that is immediately below it and you get the false lead end 1 2, 8 3 6 5 4 7, in which the row 6 3 2 4 5 8 1 7 will be found again. Then take the lower row, 5 8 2 3 6 7 1 4, and as you say 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8, write down the numbers that are above them, and you get the other false row, 1 2 4 7 6 5 8 3, and 5 8 2 3 6 7 1 4 will be found again in it.

Here is the table entirely filled in.

	1 5 3 7 8 6 2 4	1 5 3 7 2 8 4 6		3 7 8 5 1 2 4 6	7 5 3 8 1 2 4 6
	1 5 3 7 8 6 2 4	1 5 3 7 4 2 6 8		1 7 8 3 2 5 4 6	1 8 7 5 2 3 4 6
	1 7 3 8 2 6 4 5	1 6 3 5 2 7 4 8		1 5 4 7 6 8 2 3	1 5 6 7 4 8 3 2
	7 5 1 3 8 6 2 4	5 7 1 3 8 6 2 4		5 8 2 3 6 7 1 4	5 2 8 6 3 7 4 1
	1 7 3 8 2 0 4 6	1 7 3 5 2 8 4 6		1 2 8 3 6 5 4 7	1 2 8 3 0 5 4 7
	1 5 3 7 4 8 2 6	1 5 3 7 4 8 2 6		1 2 4 7 6 5 8 3	1 2 4 7 6 5 8 3
	4 2 3 1 8 6 7 5	5 7 3 1 8 2 6 4
	2 4 3 1 6 5 8 7	7 5 3 1 6 8 4 2
	1 4 3 2 7 5 8 6	1 8 3 2 7 4 5 6
	1 4 3 2 6 8 5 7	1 4 3 6 7 8 5 2

We have now found all the leads that are false against the plain course, and there are just sixteen of them when we have struck out the duplicates. We have next to find out the course ends, of those courses that are false with the plain course, and have the tenors together.

First go through the false lead ends and mark all the places in which any two bells that course each other in the plain course occupy the same position as they do in any lead of the plain course, and underline them. In the table above they are indicated with the aid of bolder figures.

Now write down the seven leads of the plain course, leaving room below them for the false rows. I have numbered them for reference:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8	1 3 5 2 7 4 8 6	1 5 7 3 8 2 6 4	1 7 8 5 6 3 4 2
1 4 3 2 7 5 8 6	1 8 5 7 3 6 2 4	1 4 6 8 5 7 3 2	1 6 5 4 3 2 7 8
1 7 8 3 2 5 4 6	1 3 2 8 4 7 6 5	1 5 3 6 2 8 4 7
1 4 3 2 6 8 5 7	1 2 5 3 4 6 7 8		6 5 4 3 2
2 4 5 3 6	2 4 3 6 5	5 3 6 2 4
6 5 4 3 2	4 6 2 5 3	3 2 5 4 6
3 6 4 5 2	2 5 3 4 6
5	6	7	False Course Ends
1 8 6 7 4 5 2 3	1 6 4 8 2 7 3 5	1 4 2 6 3 8 5 7	2 4 5 3 6
1 4 6 2 7 3 8 5	1 8 4 7 3 5 2 6	1 6 2 4 5 3 7 8	2 4 3 6 5
1 3 6 8 2 7 4 5	1 2 7 3 8 5 4 6	1 6 2 8 5 7 3 4	2 5 3 4 6
	1 6 5 4 7 2 8 3	1 4 7 2 8 3 6 5	3 2 5 4 6
2 4 3 6 5	1 5 4 6 3 8 2 7		4 3 5 2 6
2 4 6 5 3		6 2 4 5 3	5 3 2 4 6
	2 6 3 5 4	3 2 5 4 6	3 2 5 4 6
	5 3 6 2 4
	4 3 5 2 6

Now take the first row that is marked; it is 1 7 3 5 2 8 4 6 and seven, five, are the bells marked. The tenors are in 7th's and 5th's places in number 2 of the plain course, so transpose this by the scale 1 7 3 5 2 8 4 6, and we get 1 8 5 7 3 6 4 2, which is written down below it, and from which we get the false course end 2 4 3 6 5. Treating all the other marked rows in the same way, you can fill in the whole table as has been done here, and find the thirteen false course ends which belong to this method.

This shows that the method that we have proved is of no practical use, but it serves its purpose as an example, and shows all the dangers that have to be guarded against in working out a proof scale.

DEDICATION OF BLACKHILL BELLS.

The new peal of eight bells recently hung in the small tower of St. Aidan's Church, Blackhill, Co. Durham, were dedicated by the Bishop of Jarrow (Dr. Quirk), on Thursday, Dec. 7th, and proved in every way satisfactory as regards both hanging and tone. The inscription on the tenor, which is in F sharp and weighs 10½ cwt., runs as follows:-

'To the glory of God, and in memory of her parents, John and Margaret Seymour, her husband, Henry Lee, and her son, John Seymour Lee, all of whom are interred in this adjoining cemetery, this peal of eight bells was presented to Blackhill Parish Church by Annie Lee, A.D. MCMXXII. The peal cast and erected by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, founders, London. Jenkin Jones, M.A., Vicar. Jacob Siddell, John George Brydon, Wardens.'

The service was held in the afternoon, the church being filled to its utmost capacity, and the bells, immediately after the dedication, rang out to a course of Stedman Triples. This was followed by a scholarly and appropriate address by the Bishop. The Vicar conducted the service, and the lessons were read by the Vicar of Consett (the Rev. W. C. S. Fielden), and the Vicar of Medomsley (the Rev. A. H. Barr). The Vicars of Leadgate (the Rev. W. H. Covey) and Castleside (the Rev. J. H. Elphick) also took part in the service, which was led by an augmented choir.

After the service, a short touch of Stedman Triples was rung as the congregation left the church. The annual parish tea and entertainment then took place in the Parochial Hall, and the ringers were invited to attend.

Mr. W. Story, President of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, on behalf of the Newcastle Cathedral Guild, presented the Vicar of St. Aidan's with the rope, which the Bishop used in the dedication service, as a memento of the occasion.

An attempt for a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major was made, starting at 6 p.m., but after two hours' excellent ringing it came to grief through a combination of 'trips.' The ringers during the day were Messrs. C. L. Routledge (conductor), W. Story, W. H. Barber, G. Pickering, E. Terry, J. E. Keen, R. Richards, and A. F. Hillier, of the Cathedral Guild, Newcastle; W. W. Sinclair, of Consett, and J. W. Parker, of Sunderland.

A young band, now formed into a recognised Guild, is being taught by Mr. W. Sinclair, and is making good progress.

On the Saturday following, December 9th, the bells were thrown upon to the Durham and Newcastle Association, and a goodly number attended from Consett, Tanfield, Chester-le-Street, Winton, Newcastle, Benfieldside, etc. Some excellent ringing was done, several touches of Treble Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, etc., being brought round.

A BRISTOL SOCIAL.

A social evening was held at St. Thomas' Church Room, Bristol, on Tuesday, December 12th, and was attended by a large number of ringers and their friends. An excellent programme had been arranged, including a small orchestra, who terminated the programme with a few dances.

A collection was made for a Bristol ringer in straitened circumstances, after a long illness, and realised the magnificent sum of £2 19s. 9d.

METHOD CONSTRUCTION.

The following letter to the Editor has, owing to continued pressure upon our space, been unavoidably held over for some weeks. It is a reply to Mr. York Bramble's letter, headed 'Mathematics and a Challenge,' which appeared on page 885.

Sir,—It is perhaps not necessary to answer Mr. Bramble's challenge as to my right to speak as a mathematician. Brighton, perhaps, possesses a free library, where 'Crockford' can be consulted. Here he has the advantage over me, as I have no means of ascertaining his mathematical or other qualifications other than from the pages of 'The Ringing World.'

It is more pleasant to turn to the points of agreement now reached. The sentence beginning 'the linking together of change blocks' is of doubtful meaning; but if it means anything at all it must imply that Plain Bob Minor (to take a simple illustration) is built up of plain hunting courses by means of a 5-block q-set. Obviously the operations by which (say) Double Court is produced must be of a similar character. He prefers to speak of composition rather than construction, though as he uses the building simile himself he may not object to the term used above. Also if he prefers to regard building with bricks as consisting of composition and not construction, that is his affair.

But what is left of his arbitrary conventions with which he started off so gaily and self-confidently? Composition, it is generally agreed, is not arbitrary, being governed strictly by q-sets. And as, ex hypothesi, composition is to start where plain hunting leaves off, it appears that it is in the method called Original that we have to seek for artificial conventions!!

Anyway, we will start now with Original as our basis. We will be bound by no conventions whatever, as indeed we have no right to be when we are dealing with fundamentals. We simply follow where the bells in their relative movement lead us. If a bell strikes more than two blows in one place, if there be no outward symmetry, if repetition occur, is at present not our business.

(ii)

(a) Is Original, and the bells left to continue their relative movement will return to rounds at the end of 12 changes. Now examine (b). At the point (i) the regular work is interrupted by '3' making a place. What is to happen subsequently? Let it be observed that eventually we hope to see the bells return to rounds as they did in (a). Now the whole point is this. It is physically impossible after that first place is made at (i) for the bells ever again to return to rounds unless '3' makes the second place at (ii), or performs an operation relative to the other bells exactly equivalent to the making of that place. (It is no wonder that Mr. Bramble, for all his bold talk, does not actually attempt to meet my challenge to produce such method. He would find it as easy to prove two halves of a thing together greater than the whole.) This is a fact of enormous significance, and it seems to me ridiculous that the experts, as they so often do, should treat these two places made by '3' as independent, and having no relationship with one another. It is, perhaps, unnecessary to add that (in accordance with q-set principle) each of the other working bells must in turn perform the same operations as '3' before the bells can return to rounds in a plain course. To put it another way the pair of places are constituent parts of a single operation or shunt, the effect of which is nothing else than to move the 3rd from before to behind the treble in coursing order. The only significance of the dodging which takes place meanwhile by some or other of the bells is in conformity with this operation.

Let it be observed that here is an exactly parallel instance.

123456	123456	Once the first pair of places in 3—4
214365	213465	has been made it is impossible to re-
123456	124356	cover the coursing order, and subse-
214365	214365	quently return to rounds unless the
241635	241635	second pair of places on the same bells
		(or the exact equivalent) be made.

Here is a few lines we have the kernel of the whole matter, and it will be well to give Mr. Bramble an opportunity to criticise this before carrying the argument further. Let him point out the cloak of mystery with which he has repeatedly charged me with covering myself, and let him demonstrate where lies the liberty, of which he boasted, to do as he liked, and where are his arbitrary conventions. But I beg his pardon. All this has apparently been abandoned. If he waxes funny and sarcastic we shall know what to expect. It is his pleasanter fashion of following the practice mentioned by Rosalind: 'Very good orators, when they are out, they will spit.' Seriously though, is it not the wise thing to recognise as axiomatic statements something like the following?—

(1) All methods are produced from the principles on which they are based by means of shunts.

(2) A shunt consists of an operation (or operations) which leaves the bells with the exception of the hunt or hunts in the same coursing order as they were in before it began to take effect.—Yours, etc.,

E. S. POWELL.

WHY NOT A REFERENDUM?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Burton's letter in your issue of December 15th suggests some interesting questions. It will, I think, be news to most of us that the 'Norwich, etc.' Association is 'a union of two separate diocesan associations.' Mr. Burton's 'St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association' is something of a mystery, an association of mushroom growth, created apparently for the purpose of being united to Norwich!

I have no 'plan for sorting up ringers into separated diocesan organisations,' and I am quite aware that there are at least three or four diocesan associations, each of which includes two dioceses; but there are special difficulties in the way of doing this in East Anglia. Mr. Burton claims, and justly, for his association a great majority of ringers in the county of Suffolk, but unfortunately for his case all or most of his eggs are in one basket, his majority is in East Suffolk, and Suffolk, as the dual name of the diocese implies, has two very distinct divisions. Our Norwich friends never seem to be able to realise that in Suffolk 'east is east and west is west.' I am not going to say that 'never the twain shall meet,' but for the purpose of a referendum each would require separate treatment; there would have to be a referendum for East Suffolk, and a referendum for West Suffolk, and it rather looks as though East would 'go Norwich,' and West would 'go St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich.'

This consideration will help to make my next point clear. Mr. Burton complains that my letter assumes that the 'Norwich Diocesan Branch' has acted arbitrarily in imposing its will on the members of the 'St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Branch.' Here again we must distinguish between 'St. Edmundsbury' and 'Ipswich.' The 'branch meetings' of the Norwich Association, which Mr. Burton tells us, were held in Suffolk, at which 'decisions have been taken' and 'resolutions passed,' were seemingly all held in the eastern part of the county; certainly none of any importance were held in the neighbourhood of Bury St. Edmunds. It follows that 'the individual ringers' of that town and neighbourhood must be presumed to have no wish to join 'the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan branch of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association.' Is it fair, then, that the name of their district should be brought into the title? According to Mr. Burton, 'membership of any association rests entirely on a voluntary basis'; there is certainly no 'voluntary basis' for the title of St. Edmundsbury thus used, and the action of Norwich in including it must be held to be arbitrary and unjustifiable.

Another difficulty in Mr. Burton's case is the term 'diocesan.' This word implies that the organisation so called has the sanction of the Bishop, who is the administrative head of the diocese as such. Now it so happens that the Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, doubtless with the very best intention of giving to his ringers that countenance and help which we are so frequently reminded that the clergy ought to give, has taken a hand in forming an association for his own diocese under the title of 'The St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association.' It is, of course, open to any ringers in the diocese to form or belong to other ringing associations, but what is to be thought of ringers who deliberately run an 'opposition show' and call it by the same title as the Bishop has already given to the diocesan association—the word 'diocesan' included? Surely this is not what might be expected of loyal Churchmen anxious to obtain recognition for their diocese. It appears, on the contrary, to be 'asking for trouble.'

Long Stanton.

H. B. WOOLLEY.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL OF THE PRESTON BRANCH.

The second annual social of the Preston Branch of the Lancashire Association was held in the Institute adjoining the Parish Church of St. Lawrence, Chorley—the town which saw the formation of the organisation—on December 9th, and, by its success, established the fact that in the future, this ceremony will form one of the features of the year's programme.

During the afternoon the towers of both the Parish and the Roman Catholic Churches were open for ringing, and though the bells of the latter place are getting out of order for want of use, full advantage was taken of the opportunities thus offered. Ringers and their friends had assembled from Brindle, Eccleston, Leyland, Penwortham, Preston, Samlesbury, Standish, Walton-le-Dale and Whittle-le-Woods, and, in addition, the branch was honoured by the presence of the vice-president (Mr. Potter) from Bolton. In consequence of so large an assembly, the methods rung covered a fairly wide range, and touches of Minor Methods, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative were rung.

At tea, which began the social side of the evening, about 150 persons sat down and all were loud in praise, not merely of the scale on which it was provided, but of the admirable manner in which it was organised. Afterwards, a short whist drive was held, and then came the feature of the evening—a presentation to the retiring branch secretary (Mr. E. R. Martin), in token of the appreciation with which his colleagues have regarded his work since 1909. This took the form of a ringers' pendant as a personal gift to Mr. Martin, and of cutlery as a joint gift to himself and Mrs. Martin. The presentation was made by the vice-president, who spoke not merely to the work of Mr. Martin as branch secretary, but of his personal qualities as a ringer and a friend.

Mr. Martin, in thanking his colleagues, expressed surprise at receiving the gift, which he said had been kept a secret from him (naturally, he had been called into the hunt to keep him out of the way), and assured the meeting that, though he no longer acted in an official capacity, his energies and services were still at the disposal of his fellow ringers.

The Rector of Chorley (the Rev. Dr. Kirkby) was then unanimously elected an honorary member of the association, on the proposition of the vice-president, seconded by Mr. Martin.

The ceremonial portion of the proceedings having been thus completed, the party turned to the enjoyment of the concert which had been carefully arranged for them. It would be invidious to make distinctions, but probably everyone will agree with the writer in saying that the performances of Mr. and Miss Booth on handbells 'topped the bill.' Dances were interspersed between the various items on the programme, and the dancers, if warm, were merry.

Finally came the cry of 'this is all'—but with the reservation—'till next year,' when it is hoped to repeat such a great success.

The thanks of the whole branch are offered to the Chorley ringers and their friends, who so carefully, so considerably and so successfully catered for the needs of all. Just a final word, in challenge to the other branches, 'If you can run so good an affair—well, we'll come and join you.'

DORSET MEN'S FIRST QUARTER PEAL OF STEDMAN.

At Swanage, on December 13th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes), in 50 mins., was rung by *C. Turner 1, R. S. Bastable (conductor) 2, *C. H. Tomes 3, G. F. Haysom 4, †A. J. Haysom 5, W. G. Bishop 6, G. J. Williams 7, *A. Williams 8. Longest touch of Stedman by all the band, and first quarter-peal in the method by a local band, all being regular Sunday ringers. Longest touch as conductor. * Longest touch. † Longest touch on an inside bell. This is believed to be the first quarter-peal of Stedman in Dorset rung by Dorset men.

PROFITABLE PRACTICE FOLLOWS DISAPPOINTMENT.

On Saturday, November 18th, at Kimbolton Church, Herefordshire, an attempt for a peal of Plain Bob Minor unfortunately came to grief, after 1½ hours' good ringing: W. Jaine 1, P. Lane 2, J. Fox 3, F. Jaine 4, A. Tomkins 5, A. Talbot (conductor) 6. The remainder of the time was profitably spent in practising Oxford Bob and other Minor methods.
