

SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION (founded 1932)

Version A (possibly unofficial)

Based on thistle shape. Cupronickel with mauve, green and white enamel 30mm x 24mm

Vertical brooch fastening with plain reverse No manufacturer shown

Version B

Circular, brass with blue and white enamel Bell on Scottish flag 19mm diameter

Brooch fastening with plain reverse No manufacturer shown

'Geoffrey Evison, who had travelled down from Dunkeld, Perthshire, the day before to attend the Festival, has recently designed a badge for the Scottish Association, and an order has now been given for the badges to be made.' 'The Ringing World' 17.x.1975 p856

'In 1979 the suggestion was made that we have an Association badge to identify ourselves. Most members now wear their badges on every possible occasion.' Scottish Association report 1982-3

'Purchase Badges £135.47' Scottish Association report 1987

Version B (2006 recast)

Style: As above but in cupronickel

Brooch fastening with square pattern on reverse Manufactured by 14c Publicity 02476667440