1 Who we are

- 1.1 The Central Council of Church Bellringers is a charity registered with the Charity Commission for England & Wales (Registration 270036) and in this Privacy Notice the terms “we”, “us”, “the Central Council”, or “the Charity” all have this meaning.
- 1.2 There is a legal duty on all organisations to handle Personal Data appropriately. The Central Council processes small amounts of Personal Data in pursuit of its charitable objects and for these purposes we adhere to the General Data Protection Regulation (referred to below as the “GDPR”), which came into force on 28th May 2018.

2 Your Personal Data

- 2.1 Personal Data is information which concerns (or is about) a living individual who can be identified directly or indirectly. This can be by the information alone or by referring to other available data which, when used in conjunction with the information, identifies the individual.
- 2.2 This Privacy Notice sets out what Personal Data we record, how we use it and whether it is shared. It also sets out the procedures we have established to enable you to exercise control over the way we manage any Personal Data which relates to you.

3 Why we use Personal Data

- 3.1 We use Personal Data in pursuit of our charitable objects to advance the practice, heritage and appreciation of bell ringing for the public benefit of both church and community. This includes maintaining membership lists, offering help to those seeking information or advice regarding bellringing and associated matters, providing publications and services related to bellringing and maintaining information relating to past and potential donations.
- 3.2 Where necessary, we also use Personal Data to meet our statutory obligations.

4 What information we collect

- 4.1 If you are a Council member, or a nominated contact of one of our member societies:
 - a) We will record your name, contact details and membership status. In addition, we may record details of the society which you represent and any communications between us.
 - b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest, to collect subscriptions or other fees, keep records of your attendance or contributions at our meetings and to communicate with our member societies on the business of the Charity.
 - c) We may share your name and a record of your attendance and any contributions at our meetings with other members, the Charity Commission and with the public via our websites and reports. We will also, with your express consent share one or more electronic addresses, postal addresses or phone numbers at which you can be contacted.

4.2 If you are one of our office-holders, employees or volunteers, or have registered your interest in teaching or supporting other ringers:

- a) We may record your name and contact details, details of your work, and any communications between us.
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest (and where necessary to meet our statutory duties on the basis of Legal Obligation), to maintain our accounts and record details of your role and work with us.
- c) We may share your contact details with the media, the public, the Charity Commission, and third parties interested in bell ringing where necessary to meet statutory requirements or to enable you to be contacted in connection with support/services for which you are responsible.

4.3 If you have used our services or ordered a product from us:

- a) We may record your name, contact details, details of our service to you, your payment, or the product which you have ordered. We may also record any communications between us.
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest (and where necessary to meet our statutory duties on the basis of Legal Obligation) to maintain our accounts and deliver the service or product which you have requested.
- c) We will not share your Personal Data for any other purpose without your express consent.

4.4 If you have made a donation to us:

- a) We may record your name, contact details, details of your donation and if you completed a Gift Aid declaration we will record information required by HMRC. We may also record any communications between us.
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest (and where necessary to meet our statutory duties on the basis of Legal Obligation) to maintain our accounts and acknowledge your donation. We may also contact you by email or post about other ways in which you can support our work unless you ask us not to.
- c) We will not share your Personal Data for any other purpose without your express consent.

4.5 If you have visited our website or used our services:

- a) We may record pseudonymised data relating to your activity for our own statistical purposes and, with your consent we will set cookies on your machine in accordance with our Cookie Policy (see Section 8 Our use of cookies).
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest to ensure that your experience, and those of others visiting our website is as straightforward as possible.
- c) We will not share your Personal Data for any other purpose without your express consent.

4.6 If you have registered your wish to learn how to ring or to be kept informed of our work and other news related to ringing:

- a) We may record your name and contact details together with any correspondence between us. We may also record your date of birth (if under 18) and other relevant information which you entered at the time of registration.

- b) We use this data on the basis of Consent to send you newsletters and other information relevant to our work and connect you with other organisations which can help you achieve your objectives.
- c) We may with your express consent share your contact details with the officers of the Association of Ringing Teachers (Registered Charity 1156971), the Ringing World Limited (Registered Charity 287182) or our member societies so that they can put you in contact with other ringers or towers who can offer you tuition or support your interest in ringing.

4.7 If you represent a supplier, public body or other organisation relevant to our charitable objects

- a) We may record your name and contact details together with any correspondence between us and details which are relevant to our charitable purposes. We will obtain this information directly from you, from the organisation which you represent or from other publicly available sources.
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest and solely in pursuit of our charitable objects.
- c) We may share your contact details with the officers of our member societies or other organisations working with us. We may also, with your express consent share publicly one or more electronic addresses, postal addresses or phone numbers at which you can be contacted.

4.8 If you have registered to attend one of your events or meetings:

- a) We may record your name and contact details. We may also record your date of birth (if under 18) and other relevant information which you entered at the time of registration. We may also, with your express consent, record “special categories” of data (as defined in the GDPR) including details of allergies and special health or access needs relevant to your attendance.
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest (and with your express consent in the case of any “special categories” of data) to ensure that our preparations have due regard for your needs and vital interests.
- c) We may share this information with others who are involved with the management of the event or meeting which you are attending.

4.9 If you have participated in conversations on social media websites which we administer

- a) We may record your name and contact details together with your social media posts.
- b) We use this data on the basis of Legitimate Interest (and where necessary to meet our statutory duties on the basis of Legal Obligation) in accordance with that website’s terms of use.
- c) We may share publicly your email address and contact details alongside any social media posts which you have made in accordance with the website’s terms of use.

5 How we process Personal Data

- a) In all cases we process the minimal amount of Personal Data necessary for the purposes described above.
- b) Your Personal Data will be processed by our volunteers and employees. It may also be processed by suppliers providing supporting services (such as printing, specific promotional campaigns and cloud-based computing services).

- c) Member societies of our charity are based overseas as well as in the UK. As a result, to fulfil the purposes set out above we may need to transfer some Personal Data to our volunteers or suppliers who are based outside the European Union. We will ensure that any such transfers are either to organisations or countries offering an adequate level of protection, or that transfers are subject to appropriate safeguards (as defined by the GDPR).

6 How long we keep Personal Data

- 6.1 Unless you request otherwise, we will keep your Personal Data as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes described above. Provided that the impact on your privacy is minimal, we may keep your Personal Data for longer periods to support our charitable purpose to promote the history and heritage of bellringing.

7 Your rights over your Personal Data

- 7.1 Unless subject to an exemption under the GDPR, you have the following rights with respect to your Personal Data: -
 - a) the right to request a copy of personal data which we hold about you;
 - b) the right to request that we correct any personal data if it is found to be inaccurate or out of date;
 - c) the right to request your personal data is erased where it is no longer necessary for us to retain such data;
 - d) the right, where there is a dispute in relation to the accuracy or processing of your personal data, to request a restriction is placed on further processing;
 - e) the right to object to the processing of personal data, (where applicable); and
 - f) the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioners Office.
- 7.2 Where you need to exercise one of the rights shown above, please email or write to us at the address in Section 10 How to contact us below.
- 7.3 You also have a right “to be forgotten” and have your Personal Data removed. Please be aware however that if you exercise this right it may affect our ability to provide services or products to you, to receive donations from you or to inform you of events or news of interest. If you act as one of our members, trustees, employees, suppliers, volunteers or as a representative of one of our member societies, it may only be possible for you to exercise this right over Personal Data :
 - a) which is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was originally recorded; and
 - b) which we are not legally required to retain.
- 7.4 Where you wish to exercise the right to be forgotten, please email or write to us at the address in Section 10 How to contact us below. We will contact those other individuals or organisations with whom we have specifically shared your Personal Data (see Section 4 What information we collect above), instruct them to remove your Personal Data from their records and request from them confirmation that this has happened. To the extent that the law allows, we will ensure your Personal Data is no longer shared with any other person or organisation, although we may not be able to contact the media, the public or third parties who have in the past viewed or copied your Personal Data by virtue of their access to our websites or other publicity materials.

8 Our use of cookies

- 8.1 Our websites use cookies – small text files that are placed on your machine to enable us to provide information to you, to support navigation through the site, to enable other functions which you may select and to provide anonymised tracking data to third party applications such as Google Analytics.
- 8.2 Our websites will always inform you where cookies are employed and our use of cookies is governed by our Cookie Policy, which you may view on our websites. We will only set cookies on your machine if you accept our Cookie Policy and website terms of use.
- 8.3 Our use of cookies is intended to make your browsing experience better, but you may prefer to disable cookies on your machine or to remove cookies which you have previously approved. Further information about how to do this can be found at www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org. You can set your browser not to accept cookies and the above websites tell you how to remove cookies from your browser. However in this case certain functions of our websites may not work.

9 Changes to our privacy policy

- 9.1 We keep our privacy policies under regular review and we may make updates to this Privacy Notice accordingly.
- 9.2 In the unlikely event that we wish to share or use your Personal Data for purposes outside those set out in this Privacy Notice, we will provide you with a new Privacy Notice explaining this new use prior to commencing any processing. We will set out the relevant purposes and processing conditions. Where necessary, we will seek your prior consent to the new processing.
- 9.3 This privacy policy was last updated on 9th January, 2019

10 How to contact us

- 10.1 If you have a concern or query relating to our use of your Personal Data or this Privacy Notice, please in the first instance contact our Secretary, whose contact details may be found on our website at www.cccbr.org.uk.
